*Don't throw it away;
recycling now law*

BY DENNIS V. CARTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It's time to recycle — at least in Independence Township where a mandatory recycling ordinance took effect Tuesday, Oct. 1.

According to George Anderson, director of the Department of Public Works, the program will go into effect in phases.

"At this point we have some limited facilities in place, but in a week to 10 days, we will be operational," he said. "As of Tuesday, the house-to-house disposal companies will have to offer recycling pickup to their customers."

Once operational, people have the option of taking their recyclable items to the DPW building on Flemings Lake Road, east of Clarkston Road. The facility is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Items that will be accepted include: cans, plastic milk cartons; green, brown and clear glass; newsprint, cardboard; household batteries, car batteries; cordless appliances and motor oil.

According to Anderson, grass clippings and leaves won't be accepted.

Next week's paper will provide more details on the new mandatory recycling ordinance.

25-year edition

Dear Reader,

We have just completed 25 years of publishing The Clarkston News.

Next week you will see a review of each of those years.

The "news" for this quarter century is written in short-hand, or outline, form.

You undoubtedly would have chosen different news items to remind people than we did, but it was our choice this time.

A few things stand out ... the large number of people who served the various elected and appointed government jobs, the decline in school enrollment and tragedies are some of them. However, because there are so many accidents, fires and crimes, few appear in this 28-page edition.

This section is a keeper, and we hope you read, buy extra copies and pass 'em along.

Cat wounded; hunting season dangerous for pets

BY DENNIS V. CARTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With rabbit- and squirrel-hunting seasons now underway, pets risk the fate of being mistakenly shot — or sometimes intentionally shot.

Recently, a Springfield Township resident found

"I think it should be brought to people's attention that there are people out there who do not care what they shoot just as long as they are shooting something."

Shirley Giacalone

her cat, Charlie, wounded from gunshots.

"He was shot at close range with a shotgun," said Shirley Giacalone, the cat's owner.

According to veterinarian Douglas Stacer, Charlie is not expected to live.

"I don't know who would shoot a cat like that."

Lt. Cliff Johnson, DNR

The shooting serves as a reminder that pets should not roam free, particularly at this time of the year, according to a Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) employee.

Lt. Cliff Johnson, DNR district law supervisor, said pets should be fenced in to keep them from being shot by a hunter.

Legally, the DNR can't help Giacalone because people have the right to hunt on private land as long as they get written permission from owners of the property to hunt in the area, he said.

"I would like to have helped her somehow," Johnson said. "I don't know who would shoot a cat like that. But people had a legal right to be out there. I don't know what we could do to help her."

All pet owners should be aware of the danger that lurks when a beloved pet is outside the home, Giacalone said.

"I think it should be brought to people's attention that there are people out there who do not care what they shoot just as long as they are shooting something," she said.

Exhibitionist ordered to get treatment

A Clarkston area man who was arrested after being found nude from the waist down behind the Meijer store in Waterford Township was ordered to report to the Holly Gardens Treatment Center.

Oakland Circuit Court Judge Barry L. Howard ruled last week that Timothy Partlo, 34, should undergo treatment.

According to court clerks, Partlo is on a delayed sentence until Sept. 7, 1992, with a personal bond of $5,000. During this time period, he must undergo treatment. After completion of the treatment, he is to return to jail and then have a hearing to determine if jail time is warranted.

Babysitter charged with molesting 4 boys

A Waterford baby-sitter has been charged with sexually assaulting four boys in their Independence Township home.

Virginia Ellhof, 20, was charged with two counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and seven counts of second-degree criminal sexual conduct.

Last week, Ellhof's preliminary examination was adjourned until 3 p.m. Friday, Oct. 4, before Judge Gerald McNally in 52nd District Court, Independence Township.

According to Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor Jean Gibson, the boys range in age from 5 to 9.

Officials refused to reveal the name of the street where the abuse allegedly occurred because, they said, it would be too easy to determine the identity of the victims through that information.

Bus driver ticketed

A Clarkston school bus driver was issued a traffic citation after the bus collided with a car Sept. 25 on M-15 at Hadley Road, Independence Township.

Neither the driver, Lorri Kaczor, nor the two children in the school bus were seriously injured in the 4:45 p.m. accident, said Oakland County Sheriff's Sgt. Jeff Crockett.

Pharmacists urge participation

Consumers with questions about their prescription drugs don't have to worry about being able to get through to the doctor.

Their best information resource is behind the pharmacy counter.

The state's pharmacists are observing Michigan Pharmacist Week, Oct. 20-26, by urging the public to talk with their local pharmacist and ask them questions.

The theme of the week is "Everyone Wins When You Talk: You and Your Pharmacist—Communicate for Good Health."

Michigan Pharmacist Week is held in conjunction with the American Pharmaceutical Association's national observance. Its purpose is to raise awareness of the health services that pharmacies can provide.

In addition, October is Talk About Prescriptions month.

Professionally trained pharmacists not only counsel on the side effects of drugs and their possible reactions to various foods and other medications, but they also advise the patient on selecting the most effective non-prescription medicines.

These services can save money for the individual consumer and help lower the nation's health care bill by using the proper and most effective use of medications.

The Southeastern Michigan Society of Hospital Pharmacists represents nearly 600 pharmacists, pharmacy technicians and pharmacy students.

The mission of the Society is to foster safe and rational drug use, safe guarding the well-being of the patient.

Bed & breakfast hearing

The question of whether a funeral home can be converted to a bed and breakfast is scheduled for discussion at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 8, at the Clarkston Village Hall.

The Clarkston Zoning Board of Appeals is to conduct the meeting.

The meeting centers on Joan and Floyd Kopietz's request for a use change of a non-conforming commercial property. The couple recently bought the Goyette Funeral Home at 155 N. Main St.

GLITZ stands out because of willingness to satisfy

With all of the sophistication of metropolitan New York, Chicago or Toronto, the Glitz Salon in Clarkston certainly keeps pace. It reflects the talents of the award-winning owner Cherie Barnett who sets the standard.

Very chic and cosmopolitan, most of the clients are professionals or those who want the best and utmost experience when it comes to color, cut and style.

Known as an expert when it comes to color, award winning Cherie Barnett has made a reputation for herself and her salons throughout the area.

This full service salon, designed with striking architectural angles also specializes in nails, make-up and all waxing services. You could spend the day and treat yourself at Glitz which is located in the Independence Pointe Plaza. They also have another location in Rochester.

Known as a big color salon, Cherie is available to meet personally for consultations where she will analyze and give recommendations for color based on lifestyle, career and the amount of time the client wants to spend on their hair to keep it up. "We try to educate our customers on what color would do for them and what kind of styles would look good on them, taking everything into consideration including skin, eye color, bone structure and their entire physical appearance."

Although education for the customer is important, the stylists also are involved in constant education for advanced color and styling to stay on top of forever changing styles. They travel as a salon to all of the major shows and Cherie has been the recipient of the Gold Medal in a world wide competition held in the city of New York. "Color is the one thing that can make the most difference and it is the one thing that most stylists are not prepared to do. I would like to see that change."

"I always knew I wanted to have my own salon but it had to be different," said Cherie. "I wanted to go all the way and have it all. With the backing and support of my husband Nigel, we now have two locations. We thoroughly researched and studied for each one. We are a high-fashioned, fast growing salon, still looking to expand in the future." The success has been phenomenal and each salon is definitely on the move.

Always busy, Glitz stands out because of the willingness of the staff to work with the customers to see that they are always satisfied and happy with the results. They give the customers what they want. For an appointment in Clarkston call 625-1001.

Deadline blues

Julie Campe

It's deadline at The Clarkston News, and I'm only just now writing my column for this week. As a general rule, I try to have my column finished before deadline -- by a few hours at least.

But this week has been hectic. Associate Editor Curt McAllister wed his beloved, Tammy, and they are now in Hawaii. So that means we've had to cover for Curt's time off.

The morning of Curt's wedding, I took photos and interviewed one person for a story to appear next week. Later in the day, I attended Curt's wedding ceremonies.

But I did not compensate for the week's extra workload by working Sunday, as I was beset with illness.

So here it is Monday -- at deadline already, with piles to do before presstime.

A reader just called with a story idea. It seems her son and daughter-in-law live in a Deer Lake area subdivision, and their backyard is visited each day by deer -- two groups, in fact. Now, if we could only capture it on film ...

Oops. I have been "beeped" by the advertising department downstairs. Two of their sales representatives are absent today and they desperately need someone to drive our Monday film, advertising layouts and office paperwork to Oxford, where our paste-up area and printing plant is located.

OK, I'll do it.

While there, I am congratulated for winning awards from the Michigan Press Association (MPA).

Awards? What awards? It is the first I have heard of them. I have not yet read Saturday and Monday's mail.

I return to the office in time for a phone call from our darkroom technician in Oxford.

There has been an accident in the darkroom. She accidentally grabbed the wrong bottle of chemicals while developing eight rolls of film and all rolls are ruined. The images are stripped from the negatives.

The good news: Not all the film was ours; some belonged to another newspaper in our group.

Panic sets in. Which photos are ruined? With Curt absent and our paper rebounding to a larger size after a slow summer, I am counting on Clarkston High School homecoming photos to fill the large newspaper this week.

Reporter James Gibowski spent five hours Saturday covering the pancake breakfast, parade, football game and halftime ceremonies.

His special mission from me: To please get a shot of last year's queen, Denise Livieratos, crowning this year's queen, Denise's sister, Emily Livieratos. James already informed me that he got the shot.

The darkroom technician says she'll call back with a detailed report.

She calls.

The bad news: Six of the eight rolls of film belong to us.

More bad news: None of the photos is any good.

Worse news: From a faded clown and a streaked football player, the darkroom technician deduces that two ruined rolls are, indeed, from Saturday's homecoming festivities.

Better news: One football shot might turn out. One halftime shot might turn out.

Good news: Photos from Friday's homecoming pep assembly at Clarkston High School have not been developed, so she will make sure they turn out.

Sigh.

I decide to read the mail and remember that MPA newspaper contest results are in. Sure enough, The Clarkston News has won a few awards, but we can't release the details until next week -- National Newspaper Week.

What can one say about a whole week devoted to newspapers? I begin to ponder that question, but my computer blinks to me -- time to dig in. It's deadline, after all.

OpinionsLetter to Editor*Speak up now on 1991 budget

At 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 9, the Springfield Township Board will hold a public hearing on the proposed township budget for 1992.

I strongly encourage interested township residents to attend and participate in this hearing, so we can hear from you how you think the township's limited revenues, and your tax dollars, should be spent.

The draft budget includes proposals for substantial changes in some categories from the current (1991) budget. Some examples:

The police budget would increase to $369,000, up from $290,000, to add a detective.

The fire department budget would increase to $242,300, up from $162,100, to purchase a $100,000 piece of fire equipment, which is needed and required.

Parks and recreation would receive $122,000 from general fund appropriations, less than it requested, but up substantially from the $80,000 in the 1991 budget.

There is $147,350 in the budget for development of the Shiawassee Basin Preserve, with most of these funds coming from a state grant.

The Library Board did not request any general fund appropriations for 1992, since the new half mill voted for the library will generate about $97,000, almost $30,000 more than the 1991 general fund appropriation.

Ordinance enforcement work would be expanded, increasing that department's budget by $8,000.

Under elections, $35,000 would be spent to purchase new voting machines.

The public works budget (covering roads and street lighting) would decline to $93,000, down from the current $96,000 budget.

Under fund reserves, $25,000 would be added to the $170,000 already in the building fund, with the eventual goal of building a new library/township hall complex, and $30,000 would be earmarked for the road fund.

Springfield Township is experiencing growing pains, which are reflected in competing demands for available funds by various interests.

As we make this transition, it's important that we learn what you think the township's budget priorities should be. And there's no better time to do that than at the 8 p.m. public hearing on Wednesday, Oct. 9, at the Township Hall in Davisburg.

Guest columnWe will miss her

BY NEIL WALLACE

Last week, Loraine McClish of Springfield died after a valiant battle with some terminal illness. For many years, she had worked as a "community journalist" in Southfield and then in Farmington.

For her, it wasn't really work any more than working as a mother for her six children. She brought the same genuine concern for people, not just their stories, to both "jobs."

It was not uncommon for many folks to start out the paper each week by reading her stories or columns. No matter what the issue, she brought to it a fresh perspective and an easy, natural style. In everything she wrote, it came through clear that she cared about her community and the people whose stories she told.

You could sense the strength she had, and that her children had experienced first hand, in everything she wrote. It is undoubtedly that reserve she drew on these last months.

Those of us who knew her, if only through her "work," will miss her but remember all of the love she gave.

Neil Wallace resides in Independence Township.

Jim's Jottings

Jim Sherman

Here are some excerpts from a small book entitled "Michigan: An Agenda For The '90s." It's a product of The Mackinac Center, a think-tank headquartered in Midland.

In the epilogue of the first volume on "the growth of government" some poignant thoughts are brought out. We quote from this portion of the book:

"Too much attention has been paid in recent years to those who want to put a claim on other people's earnings, and too little attention has been given to those who have to work and earn that income in the first place."

The epilogue continues, "It's important to remember just who pays taxes. The bulk of tax revenue -- federal, state and local -- comes from the broad middle class of citizens. They are neither 'wealthy' nor qualified for many government benefits. They are the unsung heroes of productive, hard-working, taxpaying America."

... "Government should not exist for the sake of itself or for those who live off of it. It ought to be a guardian of every citizen's liberty and a servant primarily of those who pick up the tab and those who may be in genuine distress through no fault of their own."

... "As government bestows more and more benefits on more and more interest groups, those same groups come to believe they are somehow 'entitled' to other people's money."

A copy of the organization's current publications list can be obtained by writing to: The Mackinac Center, Box 568, Midland, MI 48640.

In his radio days, the late Arthur Godfrey used to encourage car drivers to follow trucks if they want to get through cities the quickest way.

If that was good advice from Godfrey, I wonder if truck drivers, when behind the wheel of their car, follow trucks through a town?

It has been my experience that I can get through town quicker than a semi, but they catch and pass me a couple miles later.

--Horse sense is what keeps horses from betting on people.

Months later, Edison keeps loose wires on waiting list

Jim Fitzgerald

Vicki Larson sent me two snapshots of damage done to her Detroit home, on Nottingham, during a windstorm March 27. Just beneath the roof overhang, a large, jagged strip of lumber was torn away from the house and sort of flaps in the wind. Three power lines are attached to this loose strip, pulling on it, but power has not been interrupted.

"This damage was reported to Detroit Edison April 1," Larson wrote. "They came out that week and said they would place us on their repair list. They said it would take 30 days. As of today (105 days later), we are still waiting."

"During our weekly calls, when we are able to reach someone, we are assured we are still on their list. Meanwhile, we continue our prayers that these wires do not come down and harm anyone or anything."

After that same March storm, power was off for 52 hours at the Detroit home of Victoria Stanley, on West Outer Drive. She told me that when Edison workers finally showed up, one of them told several residents "they were so long getting there because Edison refused to let them work overtime." At a certain exact time they have to leave, even if they're only halfway done with a job.

Stanley was angry enough to phone Edison and ask to be reimbursed for freezer food ruined when the power went off. "They told me they weren't responsible for what happened in our refrigerator. So I said I'd deduct the money from our electric bill. They said they'd sue me."

Stanley insists she'll withhold enough money to cover the food and "go to court" if necessary.

Moving right along to the worst storm ever, on July 7, the one that made a mere 52-hour power disruption look like a brief pause in the dark. How about 104 hours? I heard from several Edison workers who claimed it didn't have to be that long.

"Edison is lying when it says they're doing everything possible to restore power as fast as possible," said one worker who wanted his name withheld to protect his paycheck. "I belong to a crew trained to repair storm damage, but we weren't called to work the night of the storm, and the next day we were assigned to do piddling machine maintenance that had nothing to do with the storm. It's an outrage, and you should tell people about it."

And so on and on and on.

I received so many complaints because readers remembered that, earlier this year, I wrote three columns detailing beefs of several Edison line workers. They said it used to be that Edison moved quickly to restore power, but not anymore. Instead, they said, a few crews merely string yellow tape around spitting, arcing wires, and leave fire-fighters and cops - at taxpayers' expense - to protect the public from injury. Repair work, they said, is done later, on straight time rather than overtime, and it often takes days to do restoration work that used to take hours. Several fire fighters and police officers seconded the charges, adding they had more important things to do than guard downed wires.

Edison management pleaded innocent, telling me: "When we determine that restoration will take longer than 24 hours, it is ineffective to have crews work 24 hours straight and then sleep during the productive daylight hours. Safety is, of course, a prime area of concern."

"In some instances police and fire departments stand by wire-down locations as part of their commitment to protecting public safety. Detroit Edison appreciates their assistance, although we do not depend on it or request it."

That was in early May, two months before the Mother of all Storms prompted the Public Service Commission to say it will investigate Edison's response to storm damage. I don't know what the PSC will discover. I do know what I've discovered: Edison has an awful lot of unhappy employees and customers.

But what the heck! The customers can't buy electricity anywhere else, and the employees probably can't find comparable jobs anywhere else.

Nice tribute

Dear Julie Campe:

What a beautiful tribute you wrote to and for our father and husband, George Gray.

My family and I are so grateful for all the prayers and kindness shown to us at this very distressful time.

I was a widow with three children when we met, just after he was discharged from the Navy, having served on the U.S. Birmingham for four years during World War II.

After dating for six months we were married May 3, 1947. We had three more children and had 44 years together.

George always told me "You can do anything you set your mind to," so I will try to live up to this in memory of him.

Thank you again.

Janice Gray and families

Much support

To the wonderful friends and neighbors who were so supportive to me and my family during my husband George's long stay in the hospital and finally his death.

All of your prayers and cards were of great comfort to us.

We would like to say "Thank you" for your attendance to the beautiful memorial service and staying after, just to help all of us and give us your support.

We wish to thank neighbors, my card group and the ladies of the Church of the Resurrection who served the beautiful buffet after the memorial service.

Thank you again.

Filling and fun

We want to thank all the people, parents, coaches and teams who showed up at the Homecoming Pancake Breakfast, and also the parents, friends and neighbors who attended the '50s and '60s Hop for Mom and Pop.

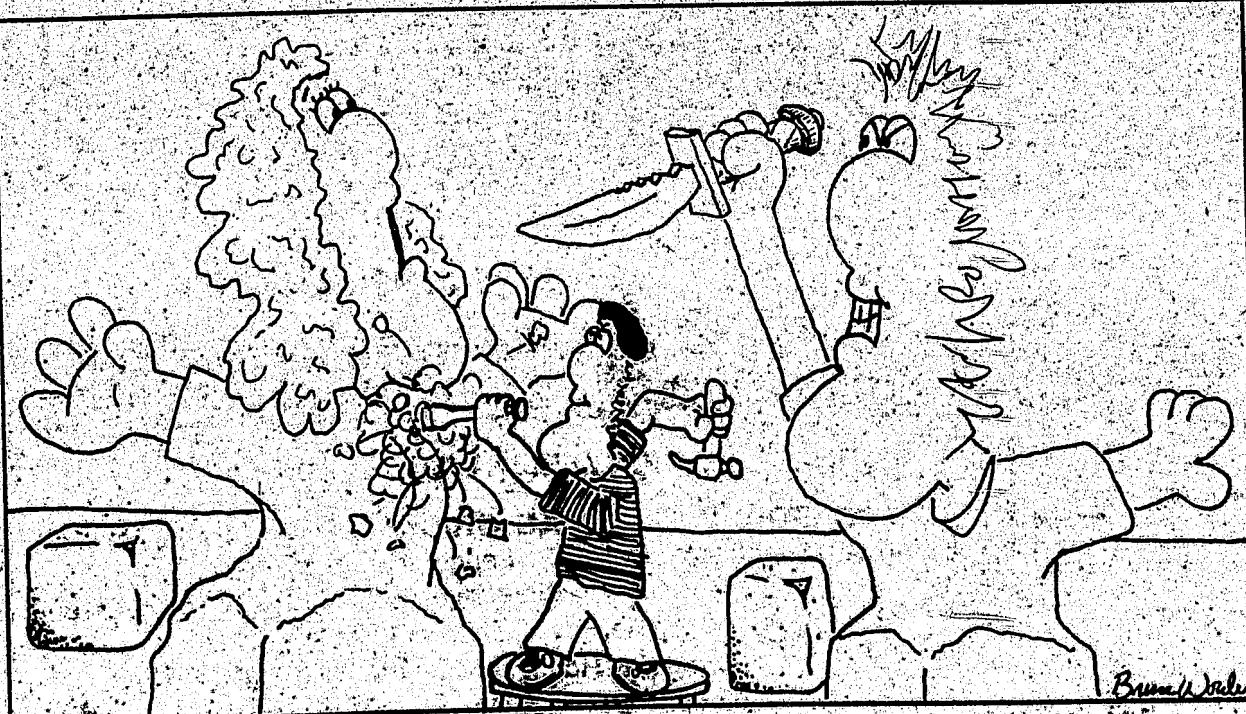

Both were fund-raisers for the new Athletic Field Building. Everyone who attended had a filling and a fun time.

A special thanks to all our members who worked on both and to the Clarkston Athletic Department, along with Paul Tungate, Jan Eby and Dave Tinkis for donating prizes.

We would also like to thank a local grocery store and meat company for helping with the cost of the breakfast. We are looking forward to next year.

Reporter's Notebook

Fox Corp. has posted a "for sale" sign on its property zoned multiple north of Maybee Road, west of Sashabaw Road.

The development company — which brought Lancaster apartments (behind the Kroger's shopping center) on Dixie Highway, Independence Township, to the area — had planned to build luxury apartments with exercise facilities on Maybee Road.

But the economy stalled the project, company officials told the township planning commission recently. Though the property is listed for sale, the company requested an extension of its final site plan, which the commission granted.

The company plans to proceed with its apartment-building plans, economy permitting, but if it receives a good offer on the property, it will consider selling, officials told the planning commission.

As business people, they have to keep their options

Hearing on special land use for tower

A tower for county radio communications is the purpose of a special land use request before the Independence Township Planning Commission Oct. 10.

The hearing is set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the township annex, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston.

Oakland County and Motorola, Inc., request the special use permission for 18 acres at the Department Public Works on Flemings Lake Road, east of Clarkston Road.

If approved, they plan to construct a 400-foot-high self-supporting Pi Rod Communications Tower and a 12-foot by 24-foot control building, which will support the Oakland County Radio Communications for Oakland County entities.

open, they said.

Independence Planning Commission Chairman Brent Bair noted that Dart Properties, Inc., received approval for phase II of its apartment development on Sashabaw Road, near Pine Knob Elementary School (between Waldon and Maybee roads).

Phase II will complete the L-shaped Hidden Lakes complex by connecting the property to Maybee Road, east of Sashabaw Road.

Apparently, that means that phase I of the project is filled and that the demand is there for more housing. Maybe that's an indication that the economy in the area is picking up.

Sashabaw Junior High School ninth-graders in Sue Kiser's GATE class said they miss Ashley Ball's column. Ball, now a 10th-grader, wrote a weekly column for The Clarkston News and even won a statewide newspaper award for her efforts.

The CHS sophomore is too busy to write this year, she said. The Sashabaw ninth-graders, however, said they used to read Ball's column every week — faithfully — and loved it. They hope she decides to write again. (So do we.)

Anthony Palazzola, a 1980 Clarkston High School graduate, is busy continuing his university studies following extensive physical therapy. The Independence Township resident was paralyzed in a plane crash in 1986 at Pontiac-Oakland Airport. He and former CHS Principal John Kirchgessner were flying a small airplane when they collided with another plane. Kirchgessner died in the crash. Palazzola still is paralyzed but is determined to succeed, according to his wife, who says her husband is as charming and hardworking as ever.

What do you remember most about homecoming when you were in high school?

"The enthusiasm as a spectator. I remember all the flowers on the floats. It's been a long time since homecoming." Gordon Romig.

Ivy Hall Montessori school licensed and open

BY DENNIS V. CARTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With licensing accomplished, the Ivy Hall Montessori school began classes Sept. 19.

Based on the Montessori style of instruction, the school applied for its license in July of this year from the Department of Social Services.

The school has also received a certificate of occupancy from Independence Township.

At 8055 Ortonville Road, 1/4 mile north of I-75, the school is open to children ages 2 1/2 through 6.

According to program director and head teacher Scott Niederuecke, Montessori revolves around a system of education that is a philosophy of child growth and a rationale for guiding such growth.

Teaching practices at the school are based on the philosophies of Italian Maria Montessori, a world-famous doctor, scientist and educator around the turn of the 20th century.

Niederuecke, an instructor with Montessori schools for four years, said the school has two other Montessori instructors on the staff, with the three of them having a combined 12 years of experience.

Curriculum at the school covers such subjects as math, reading, geography, science, drug prevention, current events, art, music, gym and foreign language.

Part of the requirements for the school's license is that the student-to-teacher ratio be as follows: ages 2-3 must have one teacher per 1 to 10 students; age 5, one teacher per 1 to 12 pupils; and age 6, one teacher per 1 to 15 pupils.

"By design, we are going to keep the teacher-to-student ratio at 1 to 9. We have found that number is best, and the parents of the students are happy with the ratio. Right now we're at about 1 to 2," said Niederuecke.

It usually takes about 6 to 9 months for a school to get its license, but Ivy Hall managed it in just three.

"We worked really hard and were able to meet the requirements like enough square feet, fenced-in playground and having a clean place in a short time. It has really worked out well for us so far," he said.

At present, the school has eight students in class who will be instructed by using materials that vary from colored blocks of all sizes and geometric shapes to globes with textured surfaces.

"We've found that the student learns more efficiently through a progression of successes," he said. "Our teaching materials enables them to enjoy learning and become more independent."

The school will run five days a week with morning and afternoon sessions available. The cost of the school is based on how long the student stays during the day.

Exchange student finds a home

Navi Lamk has found a home for the school year.

The foreign exchange student from Columbia will be a part of James and Sandra Conlen's Robertson Court, Clarkston, home for a year.

The teen-ager attended Clarkston schools for the first few weeks of the school year, while Ken Simmons of Youth For Understanding exchange program searched for a home with teen-agers within walking distance of the school.

The Conlens, who have teen-age sons, John and Matthew, are happy to have him, they said.

Animal clinic expansion OK'd

Furry companions of Independence Township residents soon will have a modern, shiny office to receive health care and beauty treatments.

The Independence Township Planning Commission voted unanimously Sept. 26 to approve the final site plan for an expansion and renovation of an animal clinic.

The approval was subject to minor conditions, said commission Chairman Brent Bair.

Veterinarian Bruce Harlton, who currently operates North Oaks Animal Clinic on M-15 near Dixie Highway, plans to remove 815 square feet of his existing building and add 3,035 square feet to the remaining 815 square feet. In all, his new clinic — to be called Clarkston Animal Medical Center — will have 3,850 square feet.

The new space will be used for a veterinary clinic and grooming facility, and construction is to take place while Harlton continues to conduct his veterinary practice on site.

Harlton also plans a second phase, which calls for the construction of a 3,444-square-foot building to be leased as office or retail.

His .88 acre needed approval from the Zoning Board of Appeals because it did not conform to the township's requirements of area, width and setbacks for parcels zoned planned shopping center. The ZBA approved the project in May.

The front landscaping and safety path are to be constructed in conjunction with the widening of M-15 in that area, which is to consolidate the entrances to the veterinary property.

Battery collection bustling

JIM REED picks up another load of used household batteries. To date, the Independence Township Leadership's Team project has collected more than 1,000 pounds of used batteries, which would otherwise have been a significant source of groundwater contamination. "It's been an incredible success, so we are going to continue and hope that we can persuade the township to make used battery pickup a part of their mandatory recycling program," said Reed. The drop-off sites include: Rudy's Market in the Village of Clarkston, Kroger's on Dixie Highway, True Value Hardware on M-15, Damman Hardware on Dixie Highway, Country Value Hardware on Main Street and Food Town on Sashabaw Road.

Business briefs

Promoted to vice president

David C. Patterson

David C. Patterson has been named vice president of management information systems, according to President John Zrno of Allnet Communication Services, Inc., Bingham Farms.

Patterson formerly was director of Allnet management information systems.

In his new position, Patterson will be in charge of long-distance communications systems and database operations for Allnet, which is one of the nation's largest long distance carriers.

"Dave Patterson has an enviable track record at Allnet and before that at EDS and GM," Zrno said. "He is the type of person we are counting on for leadership as we develop new products and services to better serve our customers."

Prior to joining Allnet in 1989, Patterson was manager of business planning and development for the Detroit office of Electronic Data Systems Corp. (EDS). He was in charge of market research activities and business plan development to support the launch of new EDS products and services for automotive suppliers. He also served as manager of consolidation and planning for EDS.

Patterson, who holds an MBA in finance from Wayne State University, Detroit, worked with General Motors Corp. from 1972 to 1984. He was director of advanced development when he left GM for EDS.

Patterson and his family live in Clarkston.

Allnet Communications Services, Inc., maintains sales and technical offices in more than 60 cities around the country.

Special artist

A new art and framing business on Sashabaw Road will be hosting artwork by nationally acclaimed artist Terry Redlin.

The Artful Framer at 6505 Sashabaw Road, Independence Township, will be carrying Redlin's first signed and numbered limited edition Christmas piece.

Familiar Redlin vignettes appear in the print entitled "The Pleasures of Winter." The horse-drawn sleigh carries a family along a country road; the setting sun backlights a stately home and village church; mallards fly across the frozen landscape.

"We're excited about this new limited edition," says Regenia Leechy of The Artful Framer. "The open editions have been immensely popular because they evoke such strong memories."

Redlin's vision is one of "romantic realism," a master storyteller, says Regenia.

"Our American heritage is his favorite topic," she says.

The Artful Framer also carries a selection of the artist's open and limited prints.

New home operators

As of Sept. 30, Lutheran Social Services of Michigan stopped operating the Indianwood AIS Home in the Clarkston area.

Reach Alternative Community Homes, Inc., took over the home, effective Oct. 1.

They're award-winning advertising creators

Clarkston resident Craig Mungons and Holly resident Gary Topolewski walked away with top honors at the 17th annual Caddy Awards for their work on a 60-second TV commercial created by Campbell-Mithun-Esty (CME) for Chrysler Corp.'s Jeep Division.

"Everyday Life" not only won Best of Show but also won Best of Category for television automotive advertising and an individual Gold award. The 30-second version also received a Gold.

The award-winning spot, which contrasts the sights of the country with the sounds of the city, was created by Topolewski, executive vice president and acting creative director. It was produced by Mungons, vice president and executive producer.

This year, only 15 Gold were awarded to a field of more than 1600 entries. CME won four of those, more than any other agency, as well as six Slivers and 25 Merit awards.

Another Holly resident, John Keenan, was also honored with a gold award for the 1991 Jeep Book, a product catalog for the Jeep brand, for which he was creative director.

Powerhouse Gym opens in Independence Township

BY DENNIS V. CARTER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

From strength training to cardiovascular training, the new Powerhouse Gym is designed to benefit high school students or senior citizens.

According to Thomas Vestevich, one of the partners who opened the gym Oct. 1, the facility is directed to the community in general.

"Our programs are individually designed for each person," he said. "The program they get set up on will be determined by the results they are seeking. Someone the Clarkston area was selected for a new gym because the community needed the facility.

"Clarkston is a progressive community, and we found there was a need for our type of facility in this area," he said. "We selected this location because it provides good access for the people in the community."

To equip the gym, they invested about $1 million, said Vestevich.

"We make sure that we have all of the state-of-the-art equipment to fully service the people who work out here," he said.

That means more than 25,000 pounds of free weights along with Star Trac Treadmills, Stairmasters, Lifecycles, Cybex circuit equipment, and many other types of equipment — plus tanning booths and saunas.

To accommodate busy, working residents, the gym is open 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

A bonus: free lockers and towels are provided.

Vestevich said he has always been interested in the health field and has been directly involved with it for the last 15 years.

"We have worked hard to grow with the industry, and we feel we have made improvements in the way industry has grown," he said.

Some people who consider working out in a gym are afraid that they will be pressured to join or pressured to get others to join, but according to Vestevich, this won't happen at Powerhouse.

"I feel that putting pressure on someone is the best way to have them get a sick feeling their stomach," he said. "We do not believe in that type of high pressure to join our club. We don't pay our people on commission. If you want to join, we would love to have you. If not, that is your decision."

Wolves in step for first GOAL soccer title

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A 2-1 victory over Brandon has put the Clarkston varsity soccer team in the hunt for its first-ever league championship.

Goals by Scott Rooney and Aaron Phillips and some tough defense sparked the Wolves to the win against the visiting Blackhawks Sept. 30.

"We needed that one," said first-year Clarkston coach Dan Fitzgerald.

Both Clarkston and Brandon sported 4-1 records after the match. Barring any upsets, the two teams will square off for the GOAL title Oct. 14 at Brandon in the league finale.

Last year, the Wolves finished in the cellar of the GOAL.

Fitzgerald credits much of the turnaround to confidence.

"More than anything they're confident," said the coach, whose team upped its overall record to 10-2. "They're feeling pretty good about themselves now."

The Wolves and Blackhawks were scoreless after the first half.

But Rooney broke that tie early in the second half by scoring his ninth goal of the year. He weaved his way through Blackhawk defenders for 40 yards before scoring the unassisted goal.

Rooney eventually didn't finish the match because of some bumps and bruises.

"He's a marked man," said Fitzgerald about the quick junior forward who has been frustrating many defenses this season. "He's been taking a beating, getting kicked."

With about 20 minutes left, Phillips, with an assist from Jeremy Delaney, increased that lead to 2-0 with his sixth goal of the season.

Brandon scored with about 10 minutes left, but the Wolves and goalkeeper Mike Miller held off any further Blackhawk threats.

Clarkston 5, Flint Powers 1
(Sept. 28 at Flint Powers)

Flint Powers led 1-0 but the Wolves scored five unanswered goals in a non-league road victory.

"It was our best game, all-around."

CLARKSTON and Waterford Kettering were scoreless for most of the match on Sept. 26 at the Clarkston field, but the Wolves ended up scoring the lone goal for a 1-0 win over the Captains.

said Clarkston coach Dan Fitzgerald.

The hosts opened the scoring 10 minutes into the match.

But five minutes later, Clarkston countered with two quick goals.

Jeremy Delaney knocked in his sixth goal of the season on a penalty kick.

A few minutes later, Phillips controlled a loose ball bobbled by the Powers' goalkeeper and passed it to Rooney for the go-ahead score.

Rooney made it 3-1 in the second half with another goal, this time assisted by Ryan Noll.

The Wolves went ahead 4-1 when Devin DuPree scored off a Rooney assist. Actually, there were about five passes that led to the goal, which was described by Fitzgerald as "the nicest goal all year."

Chuck Schoen scored the final goal after being assisted by Pat Forbes.

Scott Strasburg tended the net for the winners.

Clarkston 1, Waterford Kettering 0
(Sept. 26 at Clarkston)

Good things come for those who wait. Scott Rooney decided he had waited enough as he knocked in what proved to be the match's only goal with about seven minutes left in the final half.

Ryan Noll sparked the goal with his assist.

"Everybody thought the ball was going out of bounds but he (Noll) crossed the ball to Rooney who headed it in," said Clarkston coach Dan Fitzgerald.

The coach liked the way his team waited for its break.

"We played smart and were patient, until we got our chance," said Fitzgerald.

Goalkeeper Mike Miller earned the shutout.

Clarkston's defense again was stingy. The Wolves have given up only 11 goals in the past 12 matches.

Clarkston 4, Waterford Mott 2
(Oct. 9 at Waterford Mott)

Goals by Devin DuPree and Jeremy Thompson broke a 2-2 tie for a Clarkston GOAL victory.

Wolf Scott Rooney, after dribbling much of his way downfield, opened the scoring with an unassisted goal.

Rooney later cross-passed to teammate Ryan Noll, who found the net for a 2-0 lead.

But the host Corsairs knotted the score before the half by converting on a penalty kick and a goal kick.

After intermission, DuPree didn't waste much time in getting the Wolves back on top. Five minutes into the second half, he knocked in a corner kick off the foot of Jeremy Delaney.

Delaney again assisted on another corner kick, this time the goal being headed in by Thompson.

The Corsairs were shutout by goalkeeper Mike Miller and the Wolf defense in the second half.

Wolves come down to earth in 2nd half

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Bad teams panic.
Good teams adjust.

Clarkston's varsity football team, unable to get its aerial attack off the ground in the first half, switched to a running game to turn back a pesky Waterford Mott squad, 28-3.

The victory increased Clarkston's overall record to 4-0 and its Greater Oakland Activities League mark to 2-0. The Wolves will next host defending GOAL champs Lake Orion (2-0 in the GOAL) Friday at 7 p.m.

The Wolves only led 7-3 at intermission during Saturday afternoon's sunny homecoming game. Clarkston quarterback Dugan Fife, who was sacked four times, continually heard footsteps in the first half as the Mott defense slithered through Clarkston's offensive line.

But the Wolves, aided by a few Corsair turnovers, ran away with the game in the second half. That running attack was led by Dan Griffiths and Eric Ryan.

"Maybe they forgot about Dan Griffiths," said Clarkston head coach Kurt Richardson about the senior halfback who ran for 120 yards on 15 carries. Griffiths scored one of the touchdowns and Ryan plunged in for the other three.

And don't forget about the Wolf defense. Richardson, who said his defense "came of age" in the game, certainly didn't forget their efforts.

"The defense hurt them by not letting them score before the half," said Richardson.

After Ryan ran for a 4-yard touchdown in the first quarter (Matt Smith kicked the PAT) and after Jeff Cardinal brought the Corsairs close with a 35-yard field goal, Mott threatened to take the lead as it reached the Clarkston 13-yard line with 57 seconds left before intermission.

But an illegal procedure penalty moved Mott back five yards. And Wolf outside linebacker Craig Garnett sacked quarterback Jeff Dropps for 10 more minus yards.

Mott ended up trying to kick a 44-yard field goal, which fell short.

While Mott rarely let the Wolves get any decent field position in the first half, the situation was reversed in the second half.

On the first series of the second half with Mott starting on its own 22, a quarterback sack by Garnett and teammate Elbert Stumph, a 5-yard Mott penalty and a 6-yard punt by the Corsairs gave the Wolves the ball on the Mott 18-yard line.

Four plays later, Ryan ran in for a 1-yard touchdown. Smith's PAT gave Clarkston a 14-3 advantage.

The Wolf defense held Mott on the following series of downs and Clarkston again took over in Corsair territory.

A 40-yard pass from Fife to Luke Fedio set up another 1-yard TD by Ryan. Smith's PAT increased the lead to 21-3.

With the help of a quarterback sack by Jeff Tyrrell and Stumph, the Wolves stopped Mott on four downs for a third straight time.

At that point as the fourth quarter began, runs by Fife and Griffiths again brought the Wolves close to paydirt. Griffiths then closed out the game's scoring on a 4-yard touchdown. (Smith kicked the PAT).

Mott's only first down in the second half occurred late in the game on a Wolf penalty.

Fife finished the afternoon by completing 11 of 24 passes for 140 yards with one interception. He also ran for 11 yards on nine attempts.

Fedio caught four passes for 80 yards and Jon Wymiemko grabbed five passes for 47 yards. Dave Smith caught one pass for 11 yards and Justin Tappero had one for two yards.

In addition to Griffiths and Fife, Ryan rushed for 14 yards on five carries, Brian Davis carried once for nine, Tappero once for three and Steve Black once for two.

Defensively, Davis led the Wolves with 12 tackles. Garnett brought down 11 Corsairs and Stumph had nine.

Matt Smith also intercepted a Mott pass.

Golfers fifth at county, still first in GOAL

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston varsity golfers won the Koresky Classic, had their best finish in 15 years at the county meet and continue to be the team to beat in the Greater Oakland Activities League.

Clarkston 5th (tied) at the Oakland County Golf Tournament
(Sept. 30 at Pontiac Country Club)

Clarkston tied for fifth out of 45 teams in the annual Oakland County Golf Tournament, played under mild but windy conditions.

Jim Chamberlain, who has been coaching the Wolves for the past 15 years, said about his team's efforts, "I can't think of a team that played better than this at the county."

Clarkston finished with a 333 team total, tying with Rochester Adams and placing 12 strokes behind county champ Rochester.

Jason Jarvis led the Wolves with an 82 on the par-72 course, freshman Jayson Buchmann stroked an 83 and Pete Luster and Derek Bildstein each had an 84.

Chamberlain said some of his golfers were a little disappointed with their games, but the coach said, "I'm not real unhappy with the scores."

Other teams to finish above Clarkston were runner up Birmingham Brother Rice (323) and Troy and Bloomfield Hills Andover which tied for third with 330s.

Chamberlain noted that Brother Rice was the only team that finished ahead of Clarkston that will compete against the Wolves in the upcoming regionals. The top three teams in each regional qualify for the state finals.

"That was real encouraging for the kids," said the coach, who is first concerned about wrapping up the GOAL title (the league meet is Oct. 8) before the regionals (Oct. 11).

Clarkston 1st at the Koresky Classic
(Sept. 27 at Hartland Glen)

The Wolves topped Fenton by seven strokes to win the 10-team Koresky Classic golf tournament at Hartland.

Each school fielded three teams of two golfers in better-ball style of play over 27 holes.

Clarkston finished with a 340.

Clarkston's team of Derek Bildstein and Jayson Buchmann finished second overall with a 107. Trophies were awarded to the top two individual teams. The best score (104) was shot by a team from Linden.

Pete Luster and Mike Brown fired a strong 111, which tied them for third overall. Jason Jarvis and Dave Studt finished 10th with a 122.

In addition to Clarkston's 340 and Fenton's 347, Lakeland finished with a 348. Linden 353, Hartland 358, Milford 361, Holly 386, Walled Lake Central 386, Walled Lake Western 387 and Goodrich 405.

Clarkston 169, Waterford Mott 178
(Sept. 26 at Pontiac CC)

Clarkston raised its overall record to 9-0 and GOAL record to 8-0 with a 169-178 win over the Corsairs.

Senior Mike Brown earned medalist honors by shooting a 41 on the par-36 course.

Jayson Buchmann was close behind with a 42 and Jason Jarvis and Pete Luster each fired 43s (the top four scores out of six golfers count in the total team score).

Jason Head came into the clubhouse with a 45 and Derek Bildstein had a 46.

Pat Boisvert paced Mott with a 43, Matt Hemmerly and Chris Forbes had 44s and Greg Siroli shot a 47.

Clarkston 173, Brandon 189
(Sept. 24 at Spring Lake CC)

It was 50 degrees and windy, but not cold or windy enough for Brandon to stop the Wolves.

Clarkston topped the Blackhawks by 16 strokes to remain unbeaten in GOAL play.

Clarkston freshman Jayson Buchmann shot a 3-over par 39 for medalist honors. Pete Luster had a 43, Mike Brown a 45 and Jason Jarvis and Derek Bildstein tied with a 46. Brian Trebilcock shot a 52.

Aaron Elowsky paced Brandon with a 43. Chris Reetz fired a 46, John Alban a 47 and Andy Okolovitch a 53.

Clarkston presses 60-27 win over Dragons

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's Big Three scored in double figures, and guards Stacey Tinkis (six assists) and Laura Seitz (five steals) joined them to help crush Lake Orion, 60-27.

The victory gave the Wolf varsity girls' basketball team a 7-1 (1-0 in the Greater Oakland Activities League) record.

Clarkston will travel to Waterford Kettering Thursday, Oct. 3, for a key match-up against the defending GOAL champions.

Clarkston coach Larry Mahrle said his Wolves had a "sluggish first half" against Lake Orion. A sluggish first half for the tough Wolves translated into a 33-17 halftime lead.

"Our press set the tempo of the game."

Coach Larry Mahrle

The Wolves then blew away the Dragons with a 15-2 third-quarter bulge.

Courtney Whittaker scored 14, Alyson McChesney 13 and Heather Steinhelper 10 to pace Clarkston. Steinhelper also made five steals.

Seitz added six, Lesley Allen five, Heather Austin and Shannon Jenkins four, and Anne Brueck and Tinkis each had two.

None of the Dragons managed to score in double figures.

In Thursday's big game against perennial power Kettering, Mahrle said the Captains are a team full of "excellent athletes" and they "know how to win." The coach said the Wolves will especially have to be concerned about guards Laurie Wilson and Becky Swan and center Laura Renz.

Clarkston 58, Warren 29
(Sept. 25 at Warren)

Alyson McChesney defined what it means to have an "all-around" game in a 58-29 Clarkston win over Warren.

McChesney, a junior, scored 15 points, grabbed 10 rebounds, blocked three shots, made three steals and passed for three assists.

McChesney and teammate Heather

Steinhelper each scored seven points to help the Wolves jump out to a big 18-2 lead after the first quarter. The second and third quarters were about even, but Clarkston again poured it on in the final quarter with an 18-7 spread.

Warren, 2-3, had its problems breaking the Wolves' press.

"Our press set the tempo of the game," said Clarkston Larry Mahrle. "We played well as a unit."

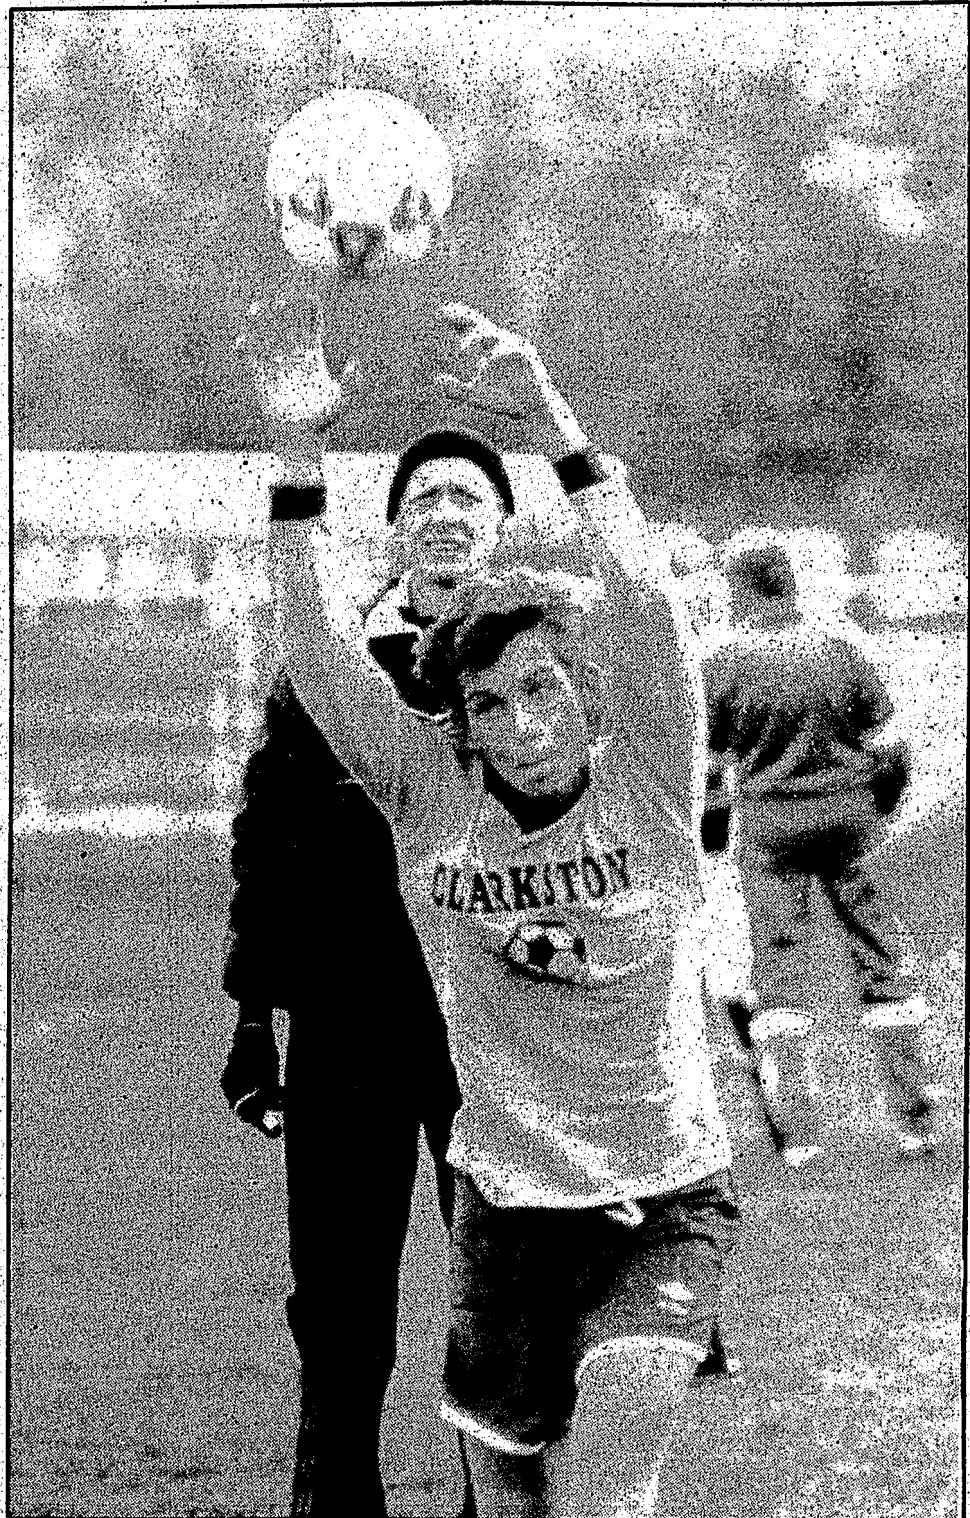

Courtney Whittaker shared top-scoring honors with teammate McChesney by netting 15. Steinhelper scored nine, Anne Brueck five (which included a 3-pointer), Heather Austin and Stacey Tinkis four apiece; and Shannon Jenkins, Amy Schroeder and Laura Seitz all had two.

Seitz also picked off five steals. Warren failed to have anyone score in double figures.

Tossing out the Captains

CLARKSTON JV soccer player Nick Blelak (above) arrives just a second too late as the Waterford Kettering goalkeeper grabs a loose ball. P.J. Sadows (right) throws in the ball from the sidelines against the Captains. The Wolves, who are coached by Brian Fitzgerald, defeated the Captains, 2-0, and raised their season record to 7-1-1. About the winner:

Three people tied by picking 15 games correctly in Sept. 28-29 football action, but M. Picker Bates Jr. of Independence Township won the $50 with the tiebreaker guess of 51 points scored in the Florida State vs. Michigan game (82 points were scored).

Clarkston varsity wrestling coach Scott Strickler of Oxford was a bridesmaid for the second straight week in the picks by losing on the tiebreaker, guessing 48 points (However, Strickler actually did get married just a few weeks ago).

Harold Marsh of Ortonville also picked 15 games correctly, but guessed 42 points in the tiebreaker.

Mark Warner (of Clarkston), Alice Churchill (of Ortonville), Scott Smith, Bob Golding and Carl Stierstorfer (of Independence Township) were right on 14 games.

Clarkston News sportswriter James Gibowski also picked 14 games correctly, and guest picker Clarkston High School interim Principal Mel Vaara chose 11 games correctly.

The win for the ninth-grade team evened its season record to 2-2.

Eric Endresz broke the 0-0 score with a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Cougar quarterback Toby Evans later added to that lead with a 51-yard touchdown pass to John York.

JV gridders can't pass up chance to defeat Mott

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Quarterback Kevin Dankert left quite a first impression on the Waterford Mott defense.

On the game's first play from scrimmage, the sophomore connected with Jeremy Fife on a 49-yard corner-route pass, putting the ball on the Corsair 11-yard line.

On the next play, Joe Davis ran 10 yards. Nathan Abney then scored from the one. The PAT failed.

That was the beginning of a 20-0 first quarter and a 27-6 Clarkston JV football victory over host Mott Sept. 26, raising quarterback, who has thrown for 645 yards in four games, "looks like a little Fife."

And just as Dugan Fife has been getting excellent pass protection from his varsity offensive line, so has Dankert. The JV line hasn't allowed a sack all season.

After Clarkston's initial score, the Wolves capitalized on a bad snap to a Mott punter. Dankert hit Rusty Mitcham for a 37-yard touchdown pass.

The Wolves then made it 20-0 before the end of the first quarter when Dankert struck again, this time to Brent Bundridge for a 33-yard TD pass. Dankert passed to Fife for the 2-point conversion.

Mott got on the scoreboard in the second quarter by intercepting a Dankert pass and running it back 60 yards.

But Clarkston countered with another score, which proved to be the last scoring of the game: David Hartke caught two sideline passes to set up a 4-yard touchdown run by Abney with 36 seconds left before intermission. Brian Phipps kicked the PAT to make it 27-6.

The Wolves almost scored in the last quarter when Dankert fired to Mitcham for 65 yards. But a Clarkston fumble negated the scoring opportunity.

Davis led the Wolves' rushing attack with 66 yards on 11 carries.

Defensively, cornerback Bundridge totaled 6 1/2 tackles (which included 2 1/2 quarterback sacks), freshman linebacker P.J. Vandermeer brought down six Corsairs and nose tackle Mike Porritt had five tackles.

Next action for the Wolves is on the road Oct. 3 against Greater Oakland Activities League rival Lake Orion.

"We're really throwing the ball this year, averaging about 180 yards a game."

Coach John Craven

ing the Wolves record to 3-1.

"We're really throwing the ball this year, averaging about 180 yards a game," said Clarkston coach John Craven. "This is the best passing team I've had in 19 years."

Dankert ended up completing 10 of 17 passes for 260 yards. Craven said the

Ernie and Paul listeners' (un)magic number

Only four games left (after Wednesday night's Tiger game against Boston) to hear Ernie Harwell and Paul Carey team up at the mike. Sunday afternoon's game at Baltimore will be the last one in Ernie's 32-year career with the Tigers and Paul's 19 years.

It was only fitting that Tom Monaghan, Bo Schembechler and Jim Campbell didn't show up at the Tigers' so-called tribute to Ernie and Paul before last Sunday's game at Tiger Stadium. Showing up would have showed some class, but why expect that from that trio. Pizza Tom hardly shows up at any games anyway (he hates to hear all those boos). Sparky "let's blow up Fenway Park, too" Anderson didn't speak either.

Where Jerks Rule radio has been starting to air its own little tributes to Ernie and Paul.

Isn't it nice that the radio station and baseball club which fired Ernie have been coming up with these sincere tributes. "Thanks for your incredible 32 years, Ernie ... now get lost."

Many of us will be lost next year when we will be unable to tune into Ernie and Paul.

But thousands of other baseball fans will be lucky next season. Some baseball club (Baltimore? Atlanta?), station or network will hire Ernie because it knows (like we know) that Ernie sounds as good as ever.

I think I'll buy a ham radio.

JV hoopsters coast to victory over Dragons

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston JV girls' basketball team wasn't a very good guest at Lake Orion Sept. 26.

The Wolves roared the Dragons with a 16-4 lead after the first quarter and then coasted to a 50-25 victory.

"We got off to a quick start and kept it going from there," said Clarkston coach Janet Swan. "We have good team play. Everybody is scoring and pitching in on the effort."

Individually, Wolf Erin Patterson did have a superior game, scoring a season-high 15 points while grabbing 12 rebounds and making four steals.

Lisa Goforth added nine points, Shawna Greene scored eight; Sadie Caruso, Amy Bishop and Sarah Antonazzo each had four, and Jennifer Wuotinen and Shannon Binkley both had three.

Antonazzo also pulled down seven rebounds and Wuotinen cleared the boards six times.

Clarkston 36, Warren 30
(Sept. 24 at Warren)

Shawna Greene was too much for Warren:

Her 3-pointer with 35 seconds left clinched a 36-30 victory for the Wolves over Warren.

But Greene didn't just hurt the hosts at the end of the game. She was the leading scorer with 13 points and hauled down 10 rebounds.

Clarkston led by four after the first quarter, three at the half and by six going into the last quarter.

"It was definitely a defensive game," said Clarkston coach Janet Swan about the low-scoring contest.

Other Wolf scorers were Sarah Antonazzo and Lisa Goforth each with six, Erin Patterson with four, Shannon Binkley and Sadie Caruso both with three and Amy Bishop with one.

Antonazzo also cleared four boards, and Caruso and Binkley each grabbed three rebounds.

Mixing, folding, tossing, whipping ...

Teens, dressed in crisp white, hustled through the kitchen at the Oakland Technical Center-Northwest Campus (OTC) Sept. 26.

Their mission: to prepare and serve food to only their second set of guests this year:

On the menu: Caesar's salad, breaded chicken wings, vegetable stir-fry and pastry.

Under the watchful eyes of instructors Mike Krystyniak (hot food and pantry), Deborah Trudeau (dining room and cafeteria) and Nancy Tilley (pastry and baking), the pupils shined.

Good-natured joking and teasing could be heard from amid the professional atmosphere. And — with confidence — the students pulled off the event.

In the food service program — one of about 17 programs offered at OTC, the students spend a half day learning about food preparation and service in the kitchen 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, the restaurant each day offers two soups, three entrees, three or four salads and a dessert cart with four choices — all for a reasonable price.

They'll even take reservations for large groups (625-5363).

The students this year — about 20 in each the morning and afternoon sessions — are responsible and enthusiastic, said Chef Tilley.

And, according to the students, the chefs are wonderful instructors.

"They're great to work with," said Pat Stamper, 18, a Clarkston High School graduate who returned for more training in the field. "The teachers — we couldn't do it without them."

He especially appreciated Chef Krystyniak.

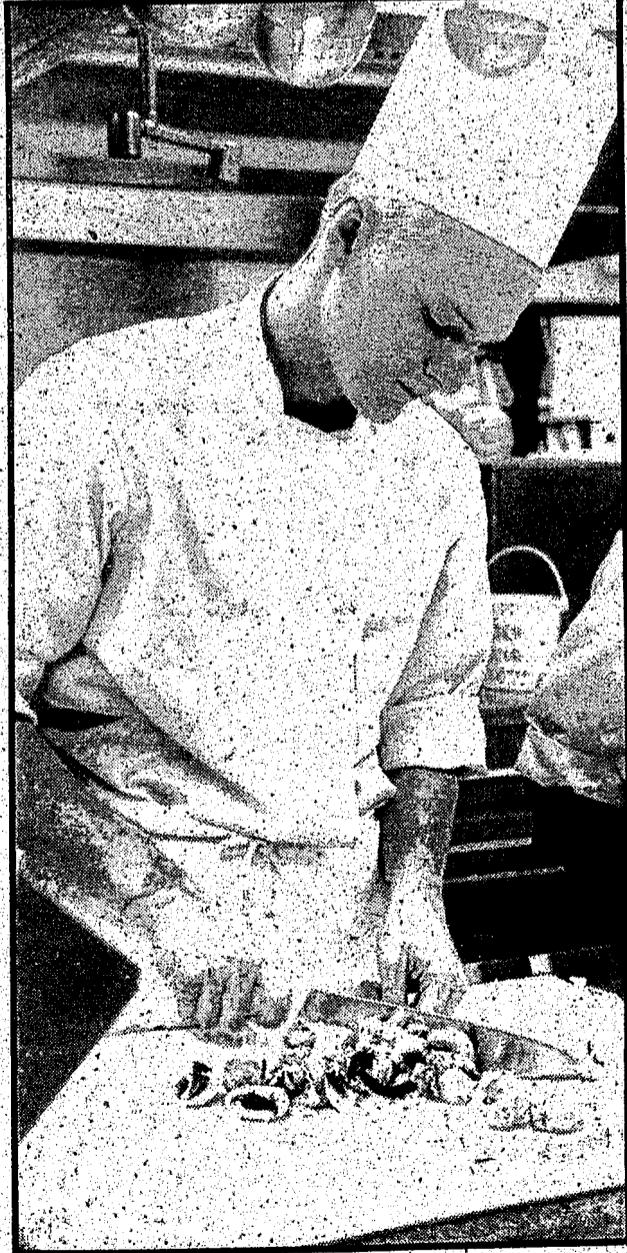

"I don't know how he puts up with us," said Stamper. "You don't have to be afraid to ask a question. He'll get right in to help."

off Big Lake Road, Springfield Township. The rest of the day is spent at their regular high schools, learning reading, writing and arithmetic.

To gain a feel for the "real world," the students operate The Northwest Inn, a restaurant and cafeteria that officially opened to the public Wednesday, Oct. 2. Open CUTTING fresh mushrooms is Dan Dowdly, 16, a second-year student from Clarkston STRIVE High School.

CHEF Nancy Tilley explains the making of fresh pastry to Chris George, 19, a post-graduate student at the Oakland Technical Center-Northwest Campus.

During the month of October, people who adopt pets from Michigan Humane Society shelters will receive a Pet Supplies Plus gift certificate for dog or cat food, dog shampoo, pet odor eliminator, food additive for cats, food bowl, jug of litter and litter pan for cats, pet toys. Plus, a nylon collar for puppies and cats and a nylon leash for dogs will be given.

Workshop shows how to cut waste

In slow economic times, businesses often try to find ways to cut waste.

A special workshop in Springfield Township addresses waste reduction as a way to help the environment and a way to make a business more competitive.

Sponsored by the Davisburg Rotary Club with the townships of Springfield and Independence, the workshop begins at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 16. A 6 p.m. dinner also is planned.

The program is presented by Resource Recycling Systems, Inc., of Ann Arbor.

Covered in the Business Waste Reduction and Recycling Workshop are the following:

- How recycling can make your business more competitive

- Why preventing waste is a solid waste disposal option for everyone.

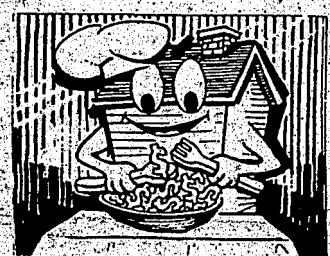

- How to conduct a waste audit at your business.

- What recycling collection opportunities are available locally.

For more information or to reserve a dinner (deadline Oct. 11), call Susan Wallace at 634-1945.

Ron Rodda
Sales Manager
"Let's discuss your Career In Real Estate

QUESTION: Why has real estate proven to be such an excellent investment over the years as compared to other investments?

ANSWER: Housing prices have gone up steeply since the mid-60's for two basic reasons. First, the number of new housing units built each year was far below that which it should have been. Since there is a steady growth in population, this puts pressure on our housing reserves and prices rise.

Second, there have been inflationary increases in land, labor and material costs that go into building a house. Historically, real estate values have always increased faster than the cost of living.

The Clarkson (Mich.) News, Wed., Oct. 2, 1991, 3 B

Is your number up? It's important

You and your husband are home alone one evening when he doubles over in pain, exhibiting symptoms of a heart attack.

You run to the phone, dial "911," stammering out the nature of your emergency and your address.

You drop the phone and run back to your husband, whose breathing has become erratic and then stops.

You begin to administer mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, drawing on your limited knowledge of the procedure from having seen it in various movies.

Meanwhile, the emergency team dispatched by the fire department is driving up and down your street in the dark, looking for your house.

Is your number up? ... your house number, that is. Could you, your spouse, your children or an elderly parent be found in an emergency? Could emergency teams find your home when it counts?

The North Oakland County Board of Realtors asks you to think of the safety and well-being of your household members and act now.

Through Oct. 5, local merchants will be asked to support the Board of Realtors' campaign to make homeowners aware of the importance of displaying their house numbers so that they are clearly visible from the street.

We will ask the merchants to display posters reminding homeowners of the importance of legible house numbers and request that they offer special prices on their inventory of house numbers during that week. We've also asked school districts to participate by educating children about the importance.

We all need to support our emergency services, helping them be more effective in the community and insuring our own well-being at the same time.

Is your number up? If not, do something about it ... now.

Harvest, dry gourds properly for fall decoration

The first step in drying and preserving gourds is timely harvest.

"Gourds must mature on the vine," says Tom Stebbins, master gardener specialist at Michigan State University, East Lansing. "Immature gourds tend to rot rather than dry."

Small gourds have a shorter growing season than large ones, such as bottle and birdhouse gourds, he notes, and so have a better chance of maturing before frost.

When you harvest gourds, the skins should be hard and the stems brown and dry.

Harvest the gourds carefully, using sharp shears or a knife to cut the stems, and leaving a few inches of stem attached to each gourd. Handle the gourds gently to avoid bruising, denting or breaking the skin.

Most small gourds that mature on the vine can be used during the fall without any special preservation treatment, Stebbins says. For longer-lasting gourds, follow these tips:

■ Wipe the gourds with a soft cloth dampened with a disinfectant (rubbing alcohol, Lysol, vinegar and water, or a solution of two tablespoons borax in 1 quart water).

■ Spread the gourds in a single layer on newspapers in a dry, well-ventilated room. Turn them every day, making sure they don't touch one another, and change the newspapers daily. Remove immediately any gourds that shrivel or develop soft spots. After a week of this, surface drying is complete; the outer skins are hard and the colors set.

■ Final drying takes another three to four weeks in a warm, dry, dark area. Again, spread gourds in a single layer and check them every few days, turning them and discarding any that have started to deteriorate.

"Don't worry about mold," Stebbins says. "It's normal for gourds at this stage to become covered with mold or a crust."

Properly dried gourds should retain their natural colors for three to four months. Waxing with a paste floor wax may help preserve colors somewhat longer. You may also paint or stain gourds, varnish them, or decorate them with a wood-burning tool.

The above information was provided by Outreach Communications of Michigan State University, East Lansing. For more information, call Stebbins at 517/353-3774 or L. Johnson at 517/336-1555.

Keep house looking lived-in while away

One sure way to heighten your anxiety about leaving home on an errand or vacation is to be reminded that your house will be unoccupied and vulnerable to intruders.

Fortunately, a household timer can reduce this anxiety. Timers give a home a "lived-in" look no matter how long the owners are gone. Some models of timers even slightly vary the time that they turn a lamp on or off each day, which helps eliminate a predictable "timer-controlled" appearance to outsiders.

Residents should also leave their answering machines on but should not mention on the message that they're not home.

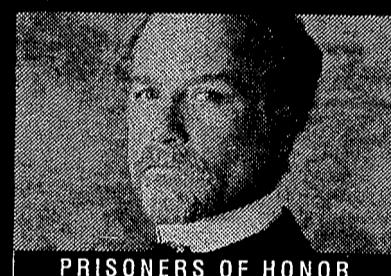

It's a good idea to leave a car parked in the driveway if you're going away. Also, notify the police department that your house will be empty.

In addition, ask neighbors to pick up your newspaper and mail every day. However, don't tell too many people how long you will be gone.

We are not a Jack-of-all-trades. We can not guarantee you the absolute lowest price as we will not sacrifice the quality products or workmanship that you deserve. But what we will guarantee is an honest and fair price with products and workmanship of the highest quality. We also do our own work. We don't get your job and sub-contract it out, or sell it. So if you are only looking for the cheapest way out, call someone else who claims they can beat any price. If you are looking for an honest and fair price, quality products and workmanship, dependability and someone that will still be here after your job is completed, give us a call. Helping you make your home the one you've always dreamed of is what we do.

THE ENTIRE sophomore class tries their luck at flying paper airplanes from their seats into a waste basket at the CHS gym floor Sept. 27. In the first row, just left of the basket, is Shawne Greene, who managed to squeeze one more toss before the time period ended. The sophomores placed second in the contest, behind the seniors. The classes competed in such categories as the banana race, pillow-case stuffing and bat race. Overall, the seniors scored the most points during the Homecoming field day.

SENIORS win the game of musical chairs between classes at Clarkston High School last Friday when Dan Griffiths ends up with the only chair during the final round. The Homecoming court included sophomores Heather Schaffer and Tony Lucca, juniors

Jenny Gill and Nathan Forbes and seniors Erin McMullen and Brian Miller. Princes were Dugan Fife and Devon Dupree, while princesses were Missy Irish and Stacey Tinkis. Queen was Emily Livieratos; king was Dave Smith.

Class struggle

BRAD EICKHORSE, a junior, successfully transports an empty shoebox across the gym floor by hitting it with a potato inside some pantyhose tied to his waist.
