2 ministers from Clarkston area die

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

A pair of pioneering ministers from the Clarkston area died late last week.

The Rev. Philip W. Somers Sr., formerly of Maranatha Church, and the Rev. Paul Vanaman of Dixie Baptist Church died in separate incidents. Vanaman, 63, drowned while swimming in Costa Rica Feb. 28, and Somers, 78, succumbed to an illness Feb. 27.

"By all means, my father was the single biggest influence in my life. He was my hero."

The Rev. Todd Vanaman

Both men were active community leaders, responsible for founding their respective churches and had children enter the ministry.

Somers was buried March 2 at Ottawa Park Cemetery, Independence Township. During his 45-year pastoral career, he served in several churches in the Detroit and Oakland County areas. He founded the Maranatha Church in 1967 and relocated it from Pontiac to Flemings Lake Road, Independence Township, two years later.

He retired in 1984, 17 years after forming the church. Ironically, the last service Somers ever conducted was at Maranatha's 25th anniversary celebration Feb. 9.

Maranatha's present pastor, the Rev. Glen Currie, said Somers was a man true to the cloth and his community.

"He was a very godly man and a strong leader," Currie said. "He'll always be remembered as a man who loved the Bible and preached it that way. Pastor Somers will be sadly missed in Clarkston."

During his life, Somers was also active in hospital chaplaincy, having formed programs at such area hospitals as Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and the North Oakland Medical Center-Pontiac General Hospital.

Somers will also be remembered for his inspirational recital of President Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, which he occasionally performed as part of Clarkston's Memorial Day observances.

In his wake, Somers has left a legacy of pastors. He and his wife, Jeanne, were married 55 years and, in that time, they raised four children. Each of these four children have followed their parents' footsteps into the ministry.

They include: the Rev. Philip Somers Jr. and wife Ardith at the New Castle Bible Church in Mackinaw, Ill.;

The Rev. Somers Sr. The Rev. Vanaman

the Rev. Alan Somers and wife Judith at the First Baptist Church of San Bernardino, Calif.; the Rev. David Somers and wife Robin at the Union Lake Baptist Church in Union Lake; and the Rev. Matthew Smith and wife Nancy Somers Smith at the Inter-Lakes Baptist Church of Delton.

Somers is also survived by 11 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Like Somers, Vanaman founded his own church — the Dixie Baptist Church — in 1954.

The youngest of nine children, Vanaman and his siblings were raised by their mother during the Great Depression. His father had died before Paul reached his first birthday.

After graduating from high school, Vanaman attended Bob Jones College, Tenn., and earned a bachelor of arts degree in Bible in 1949 and a master of arts degree in 1951. He later returned to receive an honorary doctor of humanities degree in 1972.

He also served as a member of the board of trustees at Bob Jones (College) University (BJU).

He married his wife of 42 years, Jeane, in 1949, and they raised six children. Five of those children chose their father's alma mater and have graduated from BJU.

Todd Vanaman, his oldest son and associate pastor at Dixie Baptist Church, said his father inspired him to

Merchants say they won't drop 'village' from business names

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Clarkston may have earned the right to cityhood, but three Main Street merchants say they have the right to retain their "village" status.

The owners of the Village Bookstore, the Village Bakeshop and the Village Muffler and Brake Specialist shop are lightheartedly refusing to change their names. According to them, cityhood can encompass Clarkston but not their business namesakes.

"There's no way we'll be known as the City Bakeshop," said Le-Lane McCarty, manager of the Village Bakeshop. "Essentially, we're still a village, and a name change wouldn't be appropriate."

Georgene Sloan, owner of the Village Bookstore, echoed McCarty's sentiments.

"There isn't a chance we'll change the name," she said, laughing. "Our name is unique. ... It fits the store and it fits the community I live in."

Village Muffler and Brake Specialist owner Gus Voss said people have brought the possible name change up before.

"You know, this issue really didn't dawn on me until after the past election," Voss admitted. "I had someone ask me the same question.

"To me, I'll always be located in the village, so my name will reflect it," he added.

Sloan mentioned that the city might possibly in-

"There's no way we'll be known as the City Bakeshop."

Manager Le-Lane McCarty

corporate the word "village" into the official name — "The City of the Village of Clarkston."

English teachers might consider this an oxymoron. Independence Township officials — who have a lawsuit pending to stop cityhood — would likely agree.

Election Monday

All candidates running in the village election, Monday, March 9, will be unopposed Republicans.

The polls at the Clarkston Village Office on Depot Road will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Village president Sharron Catallo, trustees Dominic Mauti, William Basinger, Eric Haven and village manager Artemus Pappas will be on the ballot. They are all incumbents.

In addition, Jeanne Selander Miller will be running for village clerk and Douglas Roeser for assessor.

Because of the recent vote which passed the charter for cityhood, the entire council and the manager's position will again be on the ballot June 15 in a non-partisan city council election. The clerk and assessor positions will be appointed.

become a minister.

"By all means, my father was the single biggest influence in my life," Todd Vanaman said. "He was my hero."

During his 36 years in the Clarkston area, Vanaman was responsible for a lot of changes. He renovated his church several times to keep up with the needs of his growing congregation. These projects included: building a two-story auditorium in 1959, erecting a 1,000-seat auditorium in 1963 and adding an education wing and nursery in 1969.

Perhaps his greatest achievement occurred in 1972, when Vanaman founded Springfield Christian Academy. This private Christian school is one block north of the church, with over 440 students presently enrolled in pre-school through 12th grade.

The church also financed the construction of the Referee's cause of death to be released next week

A ruling is expected next week on the cause of the sudden death of Gary P. Kubani, who collapsed and died while officiating a pony league basketball game Feb. 23.

A spokesman for the Oakland County Medical Examiner's Office said the results will be released sometime next week. The county's medical examiner needs to see the test results before he can make an official ruling on a cause of death.

Kubani, 24, was an Independence Township native. A 1985 graduate of Clarkston High School, he was employed at General Motors Corp. as a computer aid designer (CAD). He officiated weekends for the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department.

He was buried at Lakeview Cemetery, Independence Township, Feb. 27.

"He was a very godly man and a strong leader."

The Rev. Glen Currie

"Hiway Pulpit" in 1970. This large sign is located on Interstate 75, with a picture of Jesus Christ, and asks "Are you on the right road?"

In addition to his church's duties, Vanaman served as instructor, registrar and academic dean at Midwestern Baptist College in Pontiac for two decades, from 1954-74.

He was also the president of the Baptist Evangelical Missionary Association, which helped young aspiring missionaries. In working with this organization, Vanaman also helped raise money for an orphanage in Brazil.

It was the South American missionaries that led Vanaman to visit Costa Rica, where he tragically drowned. According to Todd, his father had taken three other preachers down to the region to expose them to the missionary field. It was during a relaxation period that the accident occurred.

To his parishioners, Vanaman will be remembered as a pillar of strength. In 1988, the pastor helped guide his parish through the tragedy of the Carnell family, who were members of the church. That year, 15-year-old Brandon Carnell shot and killed his father, mother and 11-year-old sister in their Springfield Township home.

To Todd Vanaman, his father will forever be remembered as a man of conviction.

"He was a soldier. He knew what he believed in, and that's what he stood for," he said. "And even though his work on earth is finished, it will be carried on by those who knew and loved him."

Vanaman is survived by his wife, Jeane, four sons,

Todd, Tim, David and Paul, two daughters, Judy McCall and Cynthia Vanaman; and 28 grandchildren.

He was to be buried in Ottawa Park Cemetery Thursday, March 5.

New Deer Lake Road sewer causes muddy mess

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

This could be the last week of a closed Deer Lake Road — and it's none too soon, according to one parent. Construction of a sewer — connecting the sewer line along White Lake Road in the Village of Clarkston to Dixie Highway in Independence Township — has caused Deer Lake Road to be closed to traffic along the southwest side of Deer Lake.

And with that closure has come problems transporting school children.

Neil McGinn's 8-year-old daughter rides the school bus to and from Clarkston Elementary School, he said.

"Normally, the bus comes right by our driveway, but

"Normally, the bus comes right by our driveway, but with sewer construction, the road is closed temporarily."

with sewer construction, the road is closed temporarily," said McGinn.

That means the bus lets children off either at the Deer Lake Racquet Club or the Deer Lake Inn, where parents are supposed to meet them.

However, one day last week, the bus arrived early after school and let McGinn's daughter off by herself on Dixie Highway, which angered McGinn.

"I think it's absolutely absurd," he said. "You just don't let a first- or second-grader off at a busy highway intersection. ... Fortunately, nothing happened, but she could just as easily be dead."

Assistant Superintendent Mel Vaara said that until the road is re-opened, the school bus driver will not drop off the elementary pupils on the highway unless a parent is waiting. If a parent is not there, the driver will continue the route and check on the way back, he said.

"I can understand how they feel," said Vaara. "We're not able to put our buses through there, ... and that makes youngsters walk farther than normal. If they're young, that makes it uncomfortable for parents."

Vaara said that road construction often causes problems for school bus routes. Last year, Sashabaw Road construction was the biggest problem, he said, adding that they work around each case to effect the least amount of disruption.

Vaara, who also is a trustee on the Independence Township Board, said the Deer Lake sewer project engineer estimated that the road would be re-opened the second week of March.

The sewer is part of the Downtown Development Authority (DDA) project. The DDA covers parts of Dixie Highway, M-15 and White Lake Road and pays for projects through tax increment financing (TIF). A TIF uses taxes that result from property value increases within the DDA on projects within the DDA only.

Haner's contract extended until 1995

The Clarkston Board of Education exhibited its confidence in Superintendent Gary Haner, Feb. 24, by giving him a contract extension.

The extension will add one more year on Haner's current three-year contract, which would have expired in 1994. Now, his contract will expire in 1995.

However, the board's vote wasn't unanimous. The measure passed 5-2, with trustees Kurt Karlstrom and Janet Thomas casting no votes. The pair was against the fact that Haner's salary and compensation package wouldn't be discussed until a future meeting. They contended that these matters should be on the table before approving the extension.

The other five board members agreed that these considerations would be discussed after they get a peek at the proposed 1992-93 budget. A possible raise for Haner would hinge on the financial condition of the district.

Haner presently makes $89,432 a year as superintendent of Clarkston schools.

DEER LAKE Road is closed at least through March 6 to allow for sewer construction, according to Mel Vaara. Clarkston school

Reporter's Notebook

Let's say you have a choice of three destinations to drive to: 1) Disney World in Orlando, Fla.; 2) New York City; or 3) your local post office.

Which is the most dangerous journey? Believe it or not, the post office.

According to the Michigan State Police (MSP), most crashes occur within a 5-minute drive of home and often at low speeds. But even in a 30-mph crash, an unbuckled driver can hit the windshield with the same impact as if he or she had jumped off a three-story building. That's why traffic crashes are America's No. 1 killer.

The MSP says you need your safety belt every time you use your car, whether you're headed only downtown or all the way to Disney World.

The Clarkston High School Interact Club held its first Lock-in Feb. 29.

About 130 students from 11 schools in southeastern Michigan and three schools in Ontario attended the event. The kids participated in activities that promoted fellowship and leadership skills.

You'll now have to press a few buttons to get certain information from the Independence Township Library. The library has recently expanded its building, and whoever calls the library will also notice another type of change.

Instead of a live voice answering the phone, a tape-recorded voice gives detailed instructions (as long as you have a touch-dial phone).

First the recorded voice states that if you're interested in hours and location, dial "3-1."

Then it says if you want information about fines, overdues, holds or renewals, press "1-4."

For any other information, you're told to hold and someone will help you.

A proposal to re-draw the state representative districts would mean that Republican representatives Tom Middleton and Willis Bullard Jr. would be thrust into the same district, leaving two districts (the Orion-Oxford area and the Milford area) without an incumbent candidate.

Middleton, who currently represents Springfield, Independence, Brandon, Oxford, Orion, Addison and Oakland townships, said he — as well as Bullard — are considering moving. However, he said, legal battles are expected over the re-districting, so the proposed district lines may change before they become official.

Jeffrey Bruce 'converses' with Clarkston clients

Jeffrey Bruce will be in town Saturday, March 7, to give makeup consultations

The nationally known makeup artist is scheduled for noon to 3 p.m. at the Glitz Salon of Clarkston in Independence Pointe, M-15, Independence Township.

For $50 (pre-paid), Bruce will "converse" with four clients at a time for 20 minutes.

Then, an individual follow-up appointment (included in the $50) takes place with a makeup artist trained by Bruce or his assistant. In that, the client will receive a makeup "lesson."

The final session (also included in the initial cost) includes a meeting with a makeup artist during which the client does her own makeup and may ask questions or receive comments from the makeup artist.

In addition, $10 of the price goes toward the makeup product, said Glitz Salon owner Cherie Barnett.

For more information, call 625-1001.

Bruce, who recently worked with the Glitz on makeovers for "Kelly & Company," said he enjoyed working with the Glitz staff.

Of the 50 locations in Michigan with whom he works, he said, the Glitz was "probably the most fun."

"They're exciting, excitable, excited," he said. "Their egos are left at home. ... We had a wonderful time."

Signs of spring

Julie Campe

The record-breaking 64 degrees on Sunday, March 1, provided the perfect setting for a warm, muddy walk through Orion Oaks — the latest of Oakland County's parks.

At this point, it comprises a small mud parking lot off Baldwin Road (between Clarkston and Waldon roads), mown grass trails, streams, ponds, swamps and a lake. (A park permit is required and can be purchased at Independence Oaks County Park.)

The Thinker and I traversed only about one-fourth of the park, but we found evidence everywhere we looked — evidence of ...

... teen parties. Bottles and cans were visible between deeply rutted trails — perhaps once used by dirt bikes? Fortunately, the new park sign at the parking lot says that no motorized vehicles are allowed now.

... farms of the past. Every now and then, the mown trail passes through a still recognizable line of towering oaks, though other trees have begun to fill in the open fields. Tumbling rock walls, covered with moss and tangled grass, follow the line of trees. I do not envy whoever cleared the field in its farming days — the steep hills would not have shown mercy to anyone hauling boulders.

... orioles. In the bright March sunlight, a lone oriole nest hanging from bare branches seemed huge against the blue sky. (This reminded me of first-grade show 'n tell, when I once brought an oriole's nest to school. For about three days, it was my most prized possession — so soft inside, as if it were made of rabbit's fur, and built like a sturdy burlap bag. How do those birds manage to hang their nests from a mere twig?)

... deer. Split-hoof prints in the soft earth and small, round droppings gave them away, though we didn't spy any actual deer. Around dusk would be a better time to see them.

... rabbits. Bits of rabbit fur on the ground didn't look good for at least one rabbit, which probably was eaten by one of its fellow park inhabitants. But signs of other, healthy rabbits were in abundance. Beneath the sumacs, where tall grass and underbrush usually is so thick it seems impenetrable, the grass was matted down, probably from a winter's worth of heavy snow. So the bunny trails were clearly visible — some seeming to be broad rabbit highways through the sumacs, others merely two-way paths, and a few simply country lanes.

... irreverence. Everywhere we looked, we saw signs of misuse of this piece of earth. A tire in a marsh; an old real estate sign in a valley; a framed, screened window, emerging from the ground; chunks of asphalt and concrete, seeming as if they were dumped atop a hill, only to crumble down the other side; coils of rusty barbed wire; plastic garbage bags, filled. Perhaps under Oakland County Parks stewardship, these thorns can be removed from the surface of Orion Oaks. And soon enough, it will resemble its more natural state — with, of course, space set aside for we humans to enjoy.

... spring. The warm smell of decaying leaves and vegetation is appealing. And the view from atop the hills in Orion Oaks is awesome. Without leaves, trees stand tall and bare — pines are the giants of this landscape.

... another awesome county park. Independence Oaks is my favorite park — I love all of the wooded trails. But Orion Oaks, with its grassy hills and flat meadows and its endless nooks and valleys could be a contender.

Jim's Jottings

Of Murphy, Gumperson, etc.

Jim Sherman

You know Murphy? She's the one who wrote the law, 'If anything can possibly go wrong, it will -- and at the worst possible time.'

The law also reads: 'Any board, wire or paper cut to length will be too short,' and 'it is impossible to make anything foolproof because fools are so ingenious.'

Let me break in here to tell you another 'grandson' story. At his catechism lesson recently he was told about Lent, and how he should give up something for that 6-week period.

When asked about his lesson when he got home, Danny told his mother, "I'm going to give up bringing in the garbage cans."

Back to Ms Murphy. Actually, I seldom refer to Murphy, preferring to give credit for common sense conclusions to Dr. R. F. Gumperson. He is reported to have given us: 'Probability varies inversely with desirability.'

That translates -- When (not if) a half-made sandwich falls it will land jelly-side down. And, the only time you do not have a pocket full of coins is when you need them for an emergency phone call.

You've heard this one: 'Interchangeable parts won't.'

I'm going to break into this enlightening column one more time. A friend of mine had ignition troubles with his reasonably new GM car. It had been back to the garage three times.

The morning we were to meet, he came late saying the ignition had failed again. He is considering dropping Mr. Goodwrench in favor of calling Yamaha Mamawrench.

Back to Gumperson. A cut finger attracts inanimate objects. Linen tableclothes and new neckties are magnetized to attract spaghetti sauce. No matter how large the dance floor, swimming pool or parking lot, if there are only two people in them they will bump into each other.

The day you start your diet all your fellow workers will bring you cake.

Want to find a lost item? Buy a replacement! You can't find a pen or pencil until you've forgotten what it was you wanted to write down. The last piece of a jigsaw puzzle is always missing.

You can relate to this one: The first bug to hit your newly washed windshield will be directly in front of the driver's eyes.

You'll get a busy signal on every long-distance phone call, or a computer. If a road has only one chuck hole you'll hit it. If you go for a long walk it will rain at the halfway mark.

One of two things happen at checkout counters. Either the person ahead of you will have 32,000 items in a 10-item limit line, or no one in the store will know the price of one of the items. Excuse me, one of three things: Both circumstances will occur if you are really in a hurry.

Lastly, no matter what happened, it's your fault.

Letter policy

Letters to the editor must arrive at The Clarkston News office by noon Monday to be considered for publication in Wednesday's paper. We reserve the right to edit all letters for brevity and clarity and to limit the number of letters from any one individual or on any one topic. Letters are limited to 315 words. We discourage copies of letters sent elsewhere and require that all letters be signed and include an address and phone number. We may withhold names on request but will not publish unsigned letters. Address all letters to: Letters To The Editor, The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main St., Clarkston, MI 48346.

Issue: finances

I commend the Athletic Boosters for their activities in the Clarkston school district — also on their aggressiveness in securing a loan from the school board.

I would commend any organization — PTO, PTA, Band Boosters, etc. — if they could secure a loan like the one the Athletic Boosters managed. But I think, by the reaction of recent letters in The Clarkston News, that the whole point of any previous letter was lost.

The fact that the school board, with short-sightedness and lack of long-term plan, loaned many money to anyone at a 0 percent interest rate, while looking at a $2 million deficit next year is truly incredible.

I know the Athletic Boosters play a very important and obviously strong part in this community's education system, and I support their work. But, unless the leaders of this school system, the board and the administration can get a handle on their finances and develop solid long-term plans and goals, there may not be any athletics left to support.

Small-town myths shattered

In 1989, I married a long-time Clarkston native and decided to move into this area to escape the crime and violence of my former residence.

I had always heard how friendly and personable small-town residents and proprietors were. I'd figured the Clarkston area was just what I wanted.

All those beliefs were shattered on Friday, Feb. 21, 1992. I had picked up a new Ford truck only the day before and had decided to treat my family to pizza.

I parked my truck in front of a dog grooming business on M-15. The owner was out in front of his shop but said nothing.

I walked with my family down some four or five shops to the pizza parlor and ordered dinner. I kept having this nagging feeling that I should move my vehicle, which I did. It was in front of the grooming shop only three or four minutes.

I parked in front of the pizza parlor and noticed a couple of large chunks of broken mortar lying on the windshield. After further investigation, I found the scrapes down to the metal on the hood where the concrete skipped off it and onto the glass.

Needless to say, I was livid. I walked back to the dog grooming business and confronted the owner, who swore at me and challenged me to fight him. After a few verbal exchanges, I opted to call the Oakland County Sheriff and write a vandalism report.

It was then that my wife noticed a 3 1/2-foot key scratch, also down to the metal, on the right side front fender of my 2-day-old truck — obviously done by the same vandal.

The sheriff's deputy questioned the store owner, who, of course, denied everything, and I'm stuck with the body shop bill.

I, on the other hand, have lost my faith and beliefs in the myths about the kindness of small-town people. They are equally susceptible to unwarranted criminal acts and violence against others as their big-city counterparts.

The difference is, when you live in or visit a big city, you watch out for it, if not expect it. In a small town, you should, but don't.

Pom Pon girls deserve notice

I am a grandmother of a Clarkston Pom Pon girl. She has been on the team for three years — a senior — so this is her last year.

In these three years, I haven't seen one article in The Clarkston News or any other area papers about the Clarkston Pom Pon team — not even after they came in sixth place of some 50 schools in a competition at the Palace last December.

There was a very poor picture of a kick line in the Clarkston paper a few months ago, but the girls weren't named as Pom Pon, and you really couldn't tell. Yet you write about the cheerleaders and the sports. Isn't Pom Pon as much a school importance to the sports?

Clarkston as a wonderful Pom Pon team — hard-working girls who always do their best to make their school proud. They deserve to be noticed. They are good!

I am proud of all their hard work, and I enjoyed all their routines.

Congratulations, senior Pom Pons!

U.S. must leapfrog to new dimension

BY MICHAEL W. PARRY

The current hype concerning trade with Japan has brought some important issues to the forefront, but alas, I fear that we may be trying to solve some long-term problems with "quick fixes" that are in themselves going to make us less competitive in the long run.

Consumers should choose products based on quality and price and not primarily on where they are made. If every consumer in the world mainly bought products made in their own country, American companies in foreign lands might as well come home.

To be more competitive, we need to do some of the following:

- Give the customer what they want, a quality product at a competitive price. Foreign competition makes us more competitive and fights complacency.

- Have a national policy to ensure that countries who do not practice open trade with us are penalized via high import duties for goods sent to the U.S.A. The additional federal revenues generated in this manner should be set aside to fund a federally sponsored program to finance research and development.

- For foreign aid, we should make it a condition that the recipient countries spend the money dealing with their own local businesses or with U.S. companies. Giving a country financial aid to import goods and services from non-U.S. companies does not make sense.

- For each dollar of foreign aid spent, a matching amount should be paid into a federal fund that would provide business loans to "high risk" businesses that cannot get financing through regular channels. This program should be run as a for-profit organization, and interest rates should reflect the amount of risk involved.

The current Japan bashing is causing us to encourage racism while at the same time withdrawing into our shell. Many wars have been caused by nationalism. With all the fast changes in the world that have occurred in the last few years and with nationalism on the rise, we need to be opening trade borders and encouraging international trade. If two countries have a substantial investment in each other's economy, then the last thing they want to do is to destroy the other country's market, as this will be like attacking oneself.

My father was a British soldier in World War II and was captured in Tobruk. He spent four years in Italian and German POW camps. As a boy, I remember asking him why it took America so long to enter both world wars. He answered that America was the greatest nation on earth and that she was like a slumbering gentle giant. If one wanted to kill the giant, they would have to sneak up on it and slay it before it awoke. Fortunately, in both wars, the giant awoke and was angered into response.

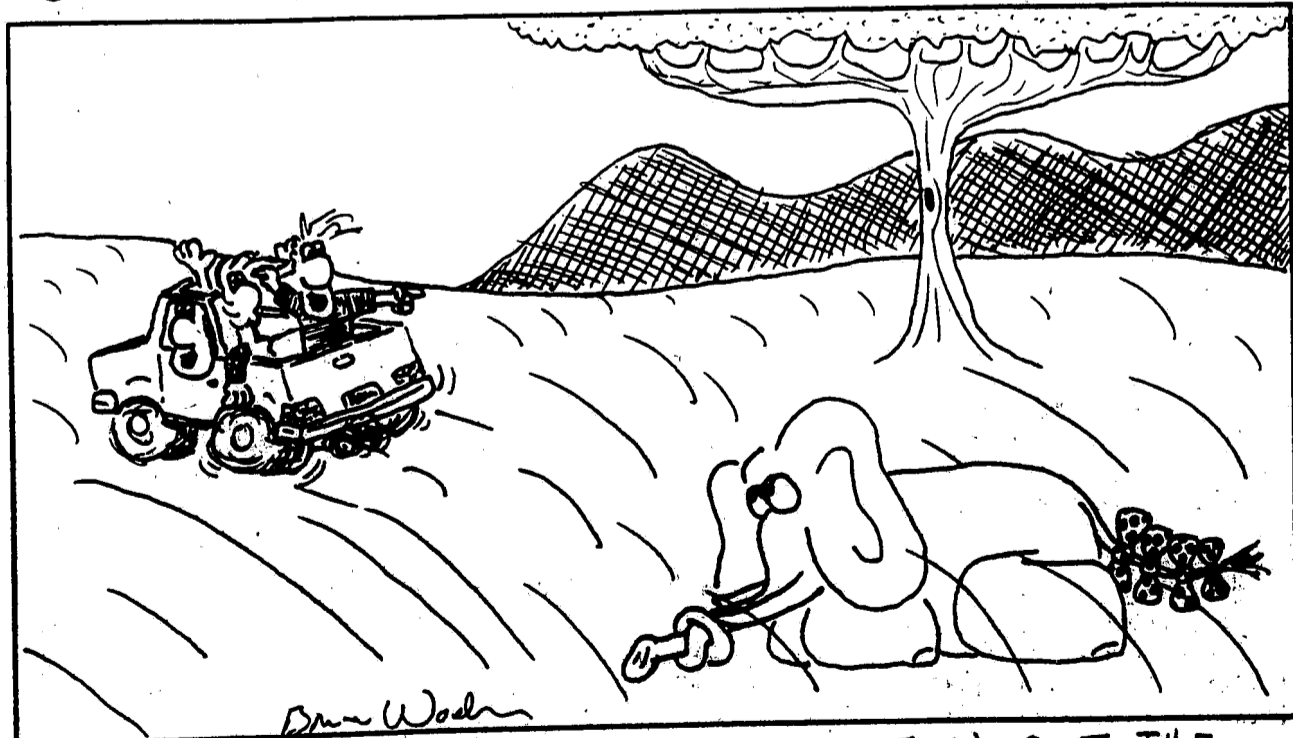

Thank goodness prominent comments have been made to slander our work ethic. The giant is awakening and getting angry. However, we must make sure its energies are spent wisely. To respond by racist action or to discourage international trade will come back to haunt us. As in sports, to go on the defensive when you are behind means you cannot win. To go on the offensive is the only way forward.

Let's map our strategy, fuel our planes, set our sights and join the fray. We may not win every battle, but we have to win the war. Numerous countries have been fighting an economic war with us for many years, and we now need to stem the tide, beat them at their own game and leapfrog into a new dimension.

OFF TRACK

THEY THOUGHT THEY WERE JUST HAVING FUN, BUT THE YOUNG CALF GOT THEIR LICENCE NUMBER ... AND YEARS DOWN THE ROAD, THEY WOULD COME TO REALIZE THAT AN ELEPHANT NEVER FORGETS.

From Our Perspective

Appreciating fine arts ...

Doug Carlson

In last week's Clarkston News I printed a condensed version of an article from Fortune magazine entitled "What Our Kids Must Learn." This is the second segment of that article. The remaining will appear in following weeks.

3. An understanding of the principals of higher mathematics, including the ability to apply those principles to daily life.

Not surprisingly, there is less controversy over what constitutes a proper math education. A board of directors in this discipline agreed that students should be able to use statistical information and algebraic equations for everything from revamping a production system to ordering the right amount of paint for the living room.

4. Knowledge of the physical sciences, including how these disciplines relate to the environment.

As with math, the most important element here is practicality. Even for people whose careers have nothing to do with science, knowing how the physical world works will be crucial to decisions of all kinds, from how to spot and develop a hot new product to when to mulch a garden.

A feel for science will also make your kids better consumers and, in a world where the environment seems to grow increasingly fragile, better citizens.

5. Mastery of at least one foreign language and culture.

Educators say language training carries a double benefit. Practically, the ability to understand another language gives youngsters an advantage in the global marketplace.

In broader terms, the diligent study of a foreign language and culture serves to discipline the mind while also making people more receptive to new ideas. Dianna Lindsay, principal of New Trier High School in Chicago, says "Don't always look for absolute relevance. The whole idea of education is to open the mind to how people everywhere live, speak and handle problems."

6. Enough familiarity with computers and other technology to retrieve and use information easily.

Saying your kids must be computer literate doesn't just mean they can run a word-processing program or boot up videogames. They should be able to use computers as tools to solve problems and to marshal information on a sophisticated level.

Technology with enormous educational potential will be invading the classroom over the next decade. IBM, for example, has developed new software that combines various media and interactive technologies.

A program on Columbus includes an explanation of his life, a review of events in Europe during his lifetime, a perspective on the world economy at the time, taped interviews with his descendants, reproductions of pages from his travel journals, and an analysis of how his journey to the New World affected various ethnic groups. Teachers and students can stop the show at any time to seek more detailed information, get an explanation, or move to another subject.

7. An appreciation of the fine arts.

Even if your children are bent on becoming doctors or investment bankers, they won't be at work all the time, or shouldn't be. If they're to avoid burnout and enjoy life in richer and more complicated ways — a time honored benefit of education — their schooling must do more than prepare them to fill a job slot. As the Trinity Schools' Carol France puts it: "You are going to be in trouble if you don't have the arts to nourish your soul. This is an increasingly difficult, technical world."

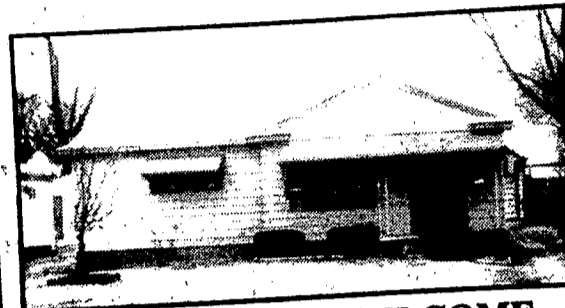

(To be continued next week.)

CMU scholarship named for CHS grad

An endowed memorial scholarship has been established at Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, by the family of a former Clarkston resident.

The Linda Jaye Masak Memorial Scholarship, approved by university trustees on Feb. 28, will provide an annual award to CMU juniors or seniors majoring in accounting.

"It is the intent of Linda's family to help deserving students who may have encountered the same financial burdens Linda did and to assist them with their education," said Connie Behm, director of scholarships in the university's development office.

A 1982 graduate of Clarkston High School, Masak enrolled at CMU to major in accounting.

Financial concerns prompted Masak to work during her schooling and all of her vacations, Behm said.

"While home for the Christmas holidays in Royal Oak, Linda died in a tragic snowmobile accident on the evening of Dec. 27, 1985," Behm said.

Masak's parents, Jay and Jeanie Masak, established the Linda Jaye Masak Memorial Prize in 1990. Masak's parents donated an additional $5,000 in December 1991 to convert the fund to an endowed scholarship.

The annual spendable income from the more than $10,000 fund will be used for one scholarship each year to be awarded by CMU's accounting department.

Boys slip to 7th at state ski finals

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston boys were fourth after the giant slalom but ended up seventh overall at the Class A state ski championships Monday at Sugar Loaf Resort in Cedar.

Traverse City, skiing on its home slope, won its fifth-straight state title.

There are about 70 ski teams in the state and only 10 qualify for the finals (top individuals whose teams did not qualify also qualify for state). The Wolves earned the trip by finishing first at the Mt. Holly regional.

After the strong start in the G.S., three Wolves did not finish in the slalom (the top four places of six skiers count in team standings).

"It was a mini-Kettering. They didn't stand up," said Clarkston coach Judy Roeser, referring to a regular-season meet when Clarkston was upset by Waterford Kettering after several Wolves fell.

Roeser, who called the course "somewhat slushy" because of warm temperatures, said some of her skiers had "dreams of medals" (the top 10 individual skiers in each event received medals).

"They were a little upset with themselves," said Roeser. "But I'm still very proud of them. They worked so hard for the chance to get to state."

The coach said the steepness of Sugar Loaf was a factor and always is for "southern" teams, who ski on flatter slopes during the regular season but only spend a few days on the steeper state-final slopes "up north."

Clarkston senior Bryson Menke had the best finish of the day for the Wolves, placing 13th in the giant slalom with both of runs clocking at 43.38 seconds. Senior Justin Whittaker placed 26th (44.43), junior Scout Trim was 39th (46.01) and senior Dave Studt 58th (56.98). Sophomores Mike Kozlowski and Dave Hartke "DQ'd."

Leelanau's John Cook won both the giant slalom (41.05) and slalom (48.94).

Menke also had Clarkston's top time in the slalom, finishing 29th at 59.10. Kozlowski wasn't far behind in 32nd (59.78), Studt was 39th (61.96) and Hartke 47th (65.39). Trim finished 51st (72.82) and Whittaker, falling for the first time all season, was 56th (87.57).

Traverse City took first with 66 points, followed by Leelanau with 80, Marquette 116, Cadillac 164, Iron Mountain 171, West Bloomfield 186, Clarkston 204, Manistee 231, Flint Powers 273 and Brighton 291.

Girls 10th at steep Sugar Loaf

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Some falls hurt a young Clarkston girls' ski team as the Wolves finished 10th at the state finals.

Petoskey successfully defended its title in the 10-team finals at Sugar Loaf Resort in Cedar March 2.

About 70 schools compete in skiing, with only 10 making the finals (top individuals whose teams do not qualify can also earn spots at the finals). Clarkston earned a spot at state by finishing second at the Mt. Holly regional.

Before the season, Clarkston coach Judy Roeser said her girls' team was "rebuilding." So even though the Wolves placed 10th and could have finished a little higher without some falls, she was happy about her team's efforts this season.

And she knows the Wolves will have a strong nucleus returning (only two of the six starters were seniors and two underclassmen shared one starting spot).

"I'm assuming they'll be back. They'll need to find a sixth skier," said Roeser.

Three Wolves did not finish in the slalom, junior Courtney Whittaker, senior Becky Rumph and sophomore Lisonn Hutchinson (the top four of six skiers count in overall team standings). Rumph had injured herself in practice before the meet.

Clarkston junior Jenny Curd finished both of her runs in 66.86 seconds to finish 41st overall. Junior Carrie Millen took 44th (67.49) and senior Kim Carpentier was 52nd (73.25).

Petoskey's Libby Kuticpal finished first at 52.23.

Coach Roeser said Sugar Loaf is quite steep, especially compared to the Wolves' home course, Pine Knob. The "southern" skiers usually only get a few days to practice on the steeper state-final slopes which are always held "up north."

The northern teams usually dominate the finals and they did again in 1992.

"I'd love to see them ski at Pine Knob," added Roeser.

The Wolves did have stronger finishes on the giant slalom. Carpentier placed 37th at 50.03, Whittaker was 42nd (50.73), Millen 52nd (52.72) and Hutchinson 57th (55.22). Sophomore Kristi Stuetzer placed 60th (56.06) and Curd did not finish.

Gaylord's Anna Estelle won the G.S., finishing at 44.04.

Ex-Wolf makes saves for WMU

Clarkston High School graduate Rob Laurie, a goalie for the Western Michigan University hockey team, made 26 saves in a 3-3 overtime tie against Miami University Feb. 29.

The tie gave WMU the one point it needed to clinch home ice for the first round of the Central Collegiate Hockey Association playoffs March 13-15.

Laurie, a senior, is 2-2-1 this season with an .865 saves percentage and a 4.08 goals against average.

WMU, ranked 12th in last week's NCAA poll, is 16-10-6 overall and 14-10-6 in league play for fourth place.

GOAL title will be decided after battle with Huskies

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde both made another appearance at a Clarkston varsity boys' basketball game, this time Feb. 28 at Waterford Kettering.

Mr. Hyde suited up in the first half as the Wolves led only 36-30 against the 4-13 Captains.

But Dr. Jekyll took over in the second half as the Wolves turned into a scoring machine (and stepped up its patented pressing defense), outpointing Kettering, 45-14.

The 81-44 win improved Clarkston's overall record to 16-2 and Greater Oakland Activities League mark to 9-0.

Clarkston and Pontiac Northern (whose only GOAL loss was to Clarkston) square off at the Husky gym March 6.

"We tie for it with a loss, but the kids want to win it outright," said Clarkston coach Dan Fife about the key GOAL game which will decide it all.

Year after year it usually comes down to the battle of Wolves and Huskies.

"If you play at Clarkston, you better always think about Pontiac Northern," said Fife.

But last Friday, the Wolves first had to think about Kettering.

Fife said his team was "gambling" too much defensively in the first half and gave credit to the Captains.

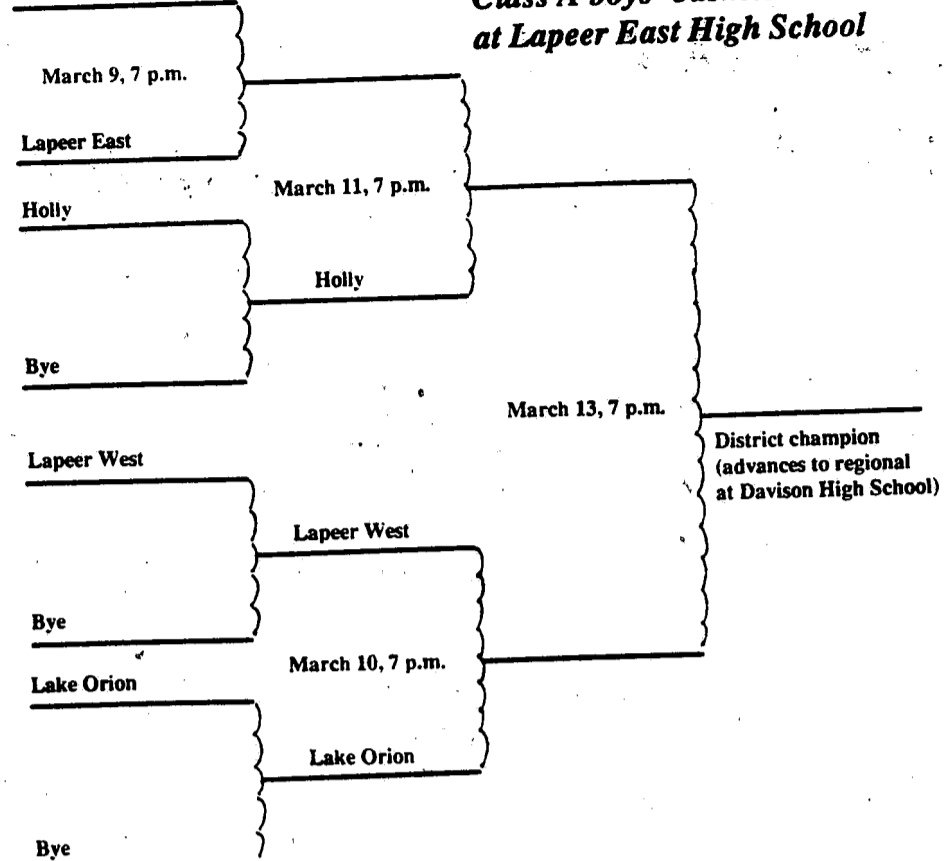

"They were getting all the loose balls. They were taking the game to us," said the coach.

But Clarkston quit gambling on defense in the second half and all bets were on the Wolves, who started the third quarter with an 11-4 run and finished with a 57-36 bulge at the end of the quarter.

The Wolves didn't let up in the final quarter, outscoring the hosts, 24-8.

Clarkston's Dugan Fife sank five 3-pointers and finished with a game-high 29 points. Luke Fedio and Derek Wiley also hit for double figures with 13 and 12, respectively.

Jon, Wyniemko scored eight, Sean Halleran seven (all in the first quarter), Eric Ryan six (one 3-pointer), Nick Shires four and Jeremy Fife two.

Chad Suter scored 13 for the Captains and Tim Tenbusch added 12.

The Wolves sank 17-of-23 free throws (74 percent) while Kettering made 9-of-17 (53 percent).

CLARKSTON 86, Brandon 47 (Feb. 25 at Clarkston)

The Wolves took a 30-point lead into intermission and then coasted to an 86-47 win over Brandon.

Clarkston, undefeated in the GOAL, jumped off to a 25-7 lead after the first quarter and increased its advantage to 50-20 at the half.

The onslaught continued in the second half as the Wolves outscored the Blackhawks 22-16 in the third and 14-11 in the fourth.

Dugan Fife led all scorers with 31, which included five 3-pointers. Luke Fedio scored 12 (one 3-pointer), Sean Halleran eight, Derek Wiley, Nick Shires and Jon Wyniemko each with six, Chris Combs, Eric Ryan and Jeremy Fife all with four, Dave Smith three (one 3-pointer) and Jeremy Burke two.

Brent Rodak scored 13 to pace the Blackhawks, who dropped to 6-12 overall and 2-6 in the GOAL.

Clarkston converted on 23-of-35 free throws while Brandon made 10-of-17.

Netters 2nd in GOAL, get set for district

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's varsity volleyball team ended its regular season with two 2-game wins over league opponents, including a victory over Greater Oakland Activities League champion Brandon.

The Wolves ended their regular season with an 8-2 GOAL mark (second-place) and a 20-13-6 overall record.

Clarkston next faces Lakeland Saturday, March 7, at 10 a.m. in the opening round of the districts at Lakeland High School. The Wolves haven't won a district championship since 1987.

"Obviously, we did not win the league. So the district is something special, especially for the seniors," said Clarkston coach Gordie Richardson.

The coach said his team has been playing well lately.

"Our team defense has improved tremendously. And the players have a good attitude," said Richardson.

Clarkston defeats Waterford Kettering 15-8, 15-13 (Feb. 27 at Clarkston)

Clarkston topped the Captains in two games, 15-8, 15-13.

"We made a few more mistakes than we did against Brandon and didn't return serve as well. But we played pretty well," said Clarkston coach Gordie Richardson.

The Wolves were tough on defense. Heather Austin had 11 digs, Tracey Ortwine and Caroline Allison each had 10, Deanna

Lisle eight and Stacey Tinkis seven.

Heather Steinhelper had five blocks. Tinkis returned 14-of-14 serves and Rachel Seifferlein returned 3-of-3.

Offensively, Steinhelper was 20-of-23 in attacks with seven kills, Laura Garlitz was 16-of-18 with five kills, Ortwine had four kills and Allison pounded two kills.

Austin had eight assists and Steinhelper added five.

Tinkis served 9-of-9 with three aces, and Steinhelper served 7-of-7.

Clarkston defeats Brandon 15-10, 15-5 (Feb. 26 at Clarkston)

Clarkston didn't win its second-straight GOAL title this season, but it made sure Brandon didn't finish undefeated.

"The kids were disappointed," said Clarkston coach Gordie Richardson about the Wolves not winning the GOAL title. "But they were pretty determined not to let Brandon remain undefeated."

Richardson called the 15-10, 15-5 35-minute win over the tough Blackhawks "near perfect."

"We just didn't make many mistakes," said the coach, whose team only made three service errors in 40 attempts. "The kids were focused and committed to do whatever it took to win."

Heather Steinhelper had another well-rounded performance, converting on 19-of-20 attacks with nine kills, blocking five shots and getting six digs.

Caroline Allison was 7-of-7 in attacks with two kills. She also served 9-of-9 with two aces, had five digs and returned 8-of-9 serves.

Laura Garlitz was 5-of-6 in attacks with two kills and Jenny Oliver was 3-of-3 with one kill. Setter Heather Austin had six assists and Stacey Tinkis served 12-of-12 with three aces.

Defensively, Deanna Lisle paced the Wolves with eight digs and returned 6-of-6 serves. Tinkis had six digs and blocked two shots. Tracey Ortwine added five digs.

3 advance to finals in Battle Creek

Snap, crackle, pop

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's Jerry Anderson, Jason Roughton and Brian Davis have earned a trip to the Class A state individual wrestling championships March 13-14 in Battle Creek.

Juniors Anderson (130-pound division) and Roughton (140) each won regional championships at Bay City Western High School Feb. 29 and senior Davis (189) finished third.

Wolf senior Nathan Smith (171) also wrestled at regionals but failed to place in the top six, which qualify for state.

"Jerry and Jason have proven they'll be a force to reckon with at state. Both wrestled like they're on a mission," said Clarkston coach Scott Strickler. "I'm extremely proud of Brian. Up until this year he hasn't had much varsity experience. Plus he gives away 8-to-10 pounds every time he wrestles."

Strickler also had plenty of compliments for Smith, who wrestled in all-stater Damon Michelsen's shadow last season at 171.

"Truthfully, I'd say he went beyond our expectations," said Strickler about co-captain Smith, who finished the year 30-7-1. "He won some key matches for the team this year. He's been one our most consistent wrestlers."

Anderson, 36-2, had no problems at the regionals. He pinned Mount Pleasant's Matt Singleton in 28 seconds in the opener, pinned Swartz Creek's Chuck Richards in 1:59 and topped Bay City Western's Brian Beaver in the finals, 8-2.

Anderson finished third in the state last year (at 125) and fifth his freshman year (at 119).

"That means fifth, third, first," said a hopeful Anderson, who will face Muskegon's Mike Roberts in the opener at state.

Overall Roughton, 34-2, breezed through his regional by first crushing Bay City Central's Dan Shaheen 16-0, pinning Bay City Western's Chad Cnudde at 3:21 and demolishing Clio's Curt Fournier in the finals, 16-0.

Roughton, however, did have one scare against Cnudde.

"He had me on my back," said Roughton, who quickly got out of the jam.

Roughton, who qualified for state last season but did not place, will meet Muskegon's Joe Garris in the first-round of the finals.

Davis, 31-9, crushed Midland Dow's Nate Brink 11-2 in his first match, lost to Grand Blanc's Kelly Chisholm 12-5, pinned Clio's Chris Grosch at 4:35 and then edged Davison's Rob Gould, 5-4, for third place.

Davis is happy he will be in Battle Creek for his first individual finals but pointed out, "I'd rather be there for the team finals."

The senior won a key match last year against Temperance-Bedford when the Wolves won the Class A state team finals.

Davis' first opponent March 13 will be Oak Park's Roger Kakos.

JASON Roughton had no problems with Clio's Curt Fournier in the 140-pound regional finals. Roughton won on a 16-0 technical fall.

LOCATION COUNTS

RELO

QUESTION: Just how important is location to the purchase price of a home?

ANSWER: Any Realtor will tell you that the three most important factors concerning the value of a house are: "Location, Location, Location". Unfortunately, most home buyers ignore this important advice.

Location is especially vital when buying a house for maximum resale value. Statistics say that you will be reselling your home long before the final mortgage payment is in the mail. Therefore, take a long, hard look, not only at the present, but the future prospects for the community and immediate neighborhood. Remember, you can always change a house, but you can never change a location.

Facts on mammography, breast care

Within the past month, radiology and other doctors' offices throughout the Clarkston area have been besieged with calls on mammography and the reliability of their mammogram machines.

These inquiries stem from numerous newspaper and TV reports on statewide tests conducted by the Michigan Department of Public Health. The tests attempted to measure how well a machine performs a simulated breast exam and the amount of radiation emitted from the machine during this test.

The staff at the Women's Health Center of Clarkston have provided answers to some of the most frequently asked questions.

1. Should I be re-tested if I have any questions or doubts about my mammogram?

Not necessarily. If the mammogram was done over six months ago, there should really be no concern. Women should just continue to get their mammogram tests as indicated by their physicians. Of course, it's a personal physician's prerogative to request that his or her patient submit to another test.

2. How does a mammogram machine work?

The low-dose mammography unit uses lower amounts of radiation than prior machines did. It's a unit only dedicated to doing X-rays of the breast. It involves applying compression to the breast in order to thin the tissue and separate the different structures. This allows the radiologist to get a very clear and precise X-ray of the breast.

All the components are designed for the density of the breast tissue, as opposed to bone, where most other X-rays are used.

3. What is mammography?

Mammography is a relatively new method, when you consider that X-rays have only been around for 100 years. The first mammogram was done in 1913. They only became usual and popular in the early 1960s.

The original mammogram was a huge, industrial film unit that basically took pictures of anything. Specialists just had women lay down and take a breast X-ray as they would for the examination of a bone. They weren't that accurate, and radiation was much higher.

As technology advanced in this area, the Xero mammogram came along. It provided a physician with a "Xerox copy" of the breast.

Now, we've evolved to the point where low-dose film screen mammography is very meticulous and accurate. But it's taken a lot of years for the mammogram to reach this level of competence.

Statistically, mammograms account for 70-85 percent of all breast cancer detection.

4. What are the various aspects of breast care besides mammogram testing?

Answers provided for often-asked questions

There are several components, not only mammography. They should include: an annual, physical breast exam from your physician, a monthly self-breast examination and the mammogram.

The mammogram examination should be performed on a dedicated mammography unit by a registered technologist. The film should be interpreted by a board-certified radiologist who specializes in reading mammograms. This doctor must read a minimum number of films per year.

Follow-up care includes notification of results, physician consultation and the patient knowing when her next mammogram appointment should be. Ultrasounds of the breast are also used to increase cancer detection.

5. Could you give some insight into the Michigan Health Department's process of testing a mammogram machine?

The grading in past newspaper articles refers to the exact time that state inspectors took a "snapshot" of the "phantom," which is a fake breast that resembles a large plastic cube. Inside this Plexiglas cube lies a number of programmed test samples, which provide the mammogram machine with the simulation of breast abnormalities. The picture taken allows the state to see a number of these samples and is graded accordingly.

This process can be compared to a person maintaining his or her car. Not unlike a mechanic, the health department shouldn't tell you that your car is bad. In fact, the service person will tell you what is faulty and, in turn, you make the appropriate adjustments. The key is that the machine ultimately meets the minimum state guidelines or better. This is usually the case.

At many radiology clinics, qualified service people will come in every two to four weeks to inspect and maintain machines.

6. What is accreditation and how is it acquired from the American College of Radiology?

Accreditation is recognition for meeting the necessary requirements as dictated by the American College of Radiology.

It's acquired through an application process that covers the type of facility, the qualifications of the mammographic technologists, the technical aspects of the mammographic equipment and the qualifications of the radiologist.

A physicist, who is familiar with mammography, comes in and examines the machinery. Phantom test radiation levels and film processing are then examined thoroughly by accreditation officials.

Gaining accreditation is difficult. Many facilities that apply don't pass the first time around. They are asked to make various changes and then are re-tested.

Accreditation shouldn't be confused with state testing, which is done yearly. Conducted by the Michigan Department of Health, these inspections gauge the accuracy and dependability of equipment.

Over 1,000 facilities are accredited nationally and are re-evaluated every three years.

7. What is a patient's role in breast care?

Patients should always have her mammogram tests compared to those done in years past. Each person's breast looks different from the next. It's a woman's own personal signature.

A doctor looking at an individual's set of films can get a concerned reading, when in fact it could be normal for that specific person. However, if a technologist has other films to compare them to, it could be seen as just part of that person's anatomy. Also, smaller abnormalities can be found if prior films are compared.

Women who move or go to another clinic should send for their old films, so their new clinic has something to compare to her new tests.

8. Should mammograms be a little uncomfortable?

Yes. Patients should allow a technologist to apply the appropriate amount of compression. They should be uncomfortable.

If it's not uncomfortable, there probably isn't enough compression, and the appropriate amount of compression allows the radiologist to get the clearest possible picture of the breasts.

9. Are mammograms perfect?

No, they're not 100 percent perfect. It's a new and evolving science, but the accuracy can be anywhere between 70-95 percent. It does occasionally happen that a woman has a negative mammogram and yet may have a breast cancer found by exam of the patient, the doctor or by the technique of ultrasound.

10. Is it true that the more mammograms done at a facility, the better the quality?

No. This doesn't make sense. The only way to have good mammograms is to have good technique by the mammographic technologists, an accurate and well serviced mammographic machine, a qualified and board-certified radiologist and a team approach and a commitment toward quality breast care.

Volume doesn't always make the tests more accurate.

Middleton gives state back $4,000

Citing the continued sacrifices of Michigan residents during lean budget times, state Rep. Tom Middleton has returned to the state just over $4,000 of his 1991 postal allotment.

The Brandon Township Republican, who represents Independence and Springfield townships, achieved the savings by cutting back on the number of newsletters printed. Middleton's unused $4,004.24 has been returned to the House coffers.

"Ensuring that tax dollars are used economically and efficiently is an obligation I do not take lightly," said Middleton. "I cannot justify spending all available printing funds simply because they are budgeted. If the public can be served in a more cost-effective fashion, we as lawmakers are compelled to pursue that avenue."

Middleton said that maintaining communication with district residents remains a priority. He noted that his community office hours and many personal meetings with citizens of the area has allowed for personal communication, which proves to be very beneficial.

In the Clarkston area, he can be seen on cable-TV Independence-Clarkston Channel 65 periodically.

Pupils sing their way to top district ratings

Top vocal music students at Clarkston High School showed they're among the best in the area when they earned first- and second-division ratings in a district festival Feb. 8.

Director Grayce Warren took the pupils to the District 4 Solo & Ensemble Festival in Royal Oak.

She and directors Danielle Blanchard and Becky Linder also took their pupils from Sashabaw and Clarkston junior high schools to the competition, and those vocalists, too, fared well.

Those receiving First Division ratings (the highest awarded) are eligible to compete at the state festival in spring.

Choirs show their stuff March 12

If you enjoy music and would like to see firsthand the talents of young Clarkston vocalists, you have a chance next week.

A free Pre-Festival Concert is planned for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 12, at Kirchgessner Theater, Clarkston High School.

The program features the Ovarions from Clarkston Junior High, directed by Danielle Blanchard; the Encores from Sashabaw Junior High (SJH), directed by Becky Linder; and the Sashabaw Singers of SJH, directed by Grayce Warren.

It also features the following choirs from Clarkston High School directed by Warren: Choralaires, Girls Select Ensemble, Barbershop Ensemble, Madrigal Singers (guest performance only) and Varsity Concert Choir.

According to Warren, the purpose of the performance is to ready the choirs for the Michigan School Vocal Association choir festival March 19 and 20 at Novi High School. The district competition means that Clarkston vocalists will demonstrate their ability in performance and sight reading.

"We are most fortunate in Clarkston to have so many participants in this event," says Warren. "The students work very hard to prepare for this, and I know that, once again, we will all represent our school and the music department well."

Musicians qualify for state festival

Instrumental musicians from Clarkston schools swept a district competition Feb. 1 and 8 with a high number of pupils receiving the two highest ratings.

During the District 4 Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association Solo and Ensemble Festival at Farmington Harrison High School, each student event was evaluated on tone, intonation, rhythm, technique and interpretation.

Those receiving First Division ratings (the highest possible) qualified for the March 28 state festival, according to Director Cliff Chapman.

Need help with federal tax forms?

Michigan taxpayers are filing their federal income tax returns earlier this year, and more of them are filing electronically, according to IRS district director John Hummel.

"So far, almost 1 1/2 million Michiganians have filed, and nearly 304,000 have already received their refunds, averaging about $1,000 each," Hummel said.

More than 4 million returns are expected, said Hummel, adding that IRS personnel are available for help.

During business hours, taxpayers may ask questions by using a toll-free number: 1-800-829-1040. In addition, tax information is available 24 hours a day through a pre-recorded system called TELETAX, which has information on over 150 tax topics: 1-800-829-4477.

To order free forms and publications, call 1-800-829-3676 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Plus, taxpayers may visit an IRS office in person to receive help. The nearby Pontiac office at Pontiac Place Building, 140 S. Saginaw, Room 101, is open 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Archbishop to visit new school in April

Roman Catholic Archbishop Adam Maida will be visiting the Clarkston area April 5.

He will be on hand as part of Everest Academy's eventual grand opening. Still under construction, the parochial school is located on a 40-acre site on Clarkston Road, Independence Township — across from Clintonwood Park.

The private school caters to students in kindergarten through eighth grades.

Everest Academy was slated to open March 1, but the 28,000-square-foot main building has yet to be completed. So far, 15 students have enrolled in the private school and are attending classes at either the United Methodist Church or St. Daniel Catholic Church.

It's uncertain when the new school will officially open its doors to pupils.

The non-profit school is operated by the Legion of Christ, a 50-year-old religious order currently operating more than 50 schools in the United States, Mexico, South America and Europe. Though the school is operated under authority of the Detroit Archdiocese, it's not affiliated with a particular parish.

Future phases will eventually see two buildings on the site, with boys and girls housed in separate facilities.

His adoption fee is $35.

To see Tyson, visit the Michigan Humane Society, 3600 Auburn Road, Rochester Hills, 852-7420. Hours at the non-profit shelter are 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

'Canterbury Tales' theme for gala

With a theme of the "Canterbury Tales," Cedar Crest Academy's Fourth Annual Cedar Crest Gala is set for Saturday, March 14.

Proceeds from the event benefit Cedar Crest's library development. Cedar Crest, in Springfield Township, is a private, independent school for junior kindergarten through eighth grade.

"We are enthused about the annual support this event generates for our computer-automated library," said the school's educational director, Bette Moen. "We are grateful for the effort of our school's parents and so many others who make it possible to improve upon our growing library."

The event will feature live music, dancing, a cash bar, gourmet hors d'oeuvres and desserts.

A committee of Cedar Crest parents is organizing the Gala at the Mansion at Pine Knob.

Reservations can be made by sending a tax deductible donation of $35 per person to: Judy Shader, 6396 Simler, Clarkston, MI 48346.

Those attending the event are encouraged to dress in period attire and immerse themselves into the medieval opulence of the evening.

Students at the school will also be raising funds with a raffle. Prizes donated by area individuals and merchants include: a guitar, Red Wing tickets, two limited edition Native American art prints valued at $600, a gift certificate to Waterfall Jewelers, a floral arrangement, a stone carved Native American sculpture, wearable art, two Mikita drills, haircut and manicures. Tickets may be purchased from any Cedar Crest student or at the Gala.

For more information, contact the school at 625-7270.

Showtimes Week of Mar 6th-12th
HELD OVER

"The HAND THAT ROCKS THE CRADLE" (R)

(When the bough breaks, the cradle will fall. But when the nanny snaps, the whole household is rocked. This tidy little psychological thriller about an evil nanny (Rebecca De Mornay) is neither original in conception nor unique in execution. But it's actually not bad and more than a little entertaining. Rated R; violence, vulgar language.)

1:00-3:00-5:00-7:15-9:15

HELD OVER

"Adventures of the Great Mouse Detective" (G)

Sherlock Holmes a rodent? Elementary, although this diminutive detective, who lives beneath those famous Baker Street digs, is named Basil. What isn't elementary is that this movie would be so watchable. Released before, in 1986, this Disney feature is an entertaining, fast-paced animated cartoon that, though aimed at kids, will not bore their parents to death. Rated G; nothing objectionable.

1:00 - 2:30 4:00 - 5:30

STARTS FRI. 6th

MICHAEL DOUGLAS
MELANIE GRIFFITH

"SHINING THROUGH" (R)

SHINING THROUGH: At its best, this handsome, richly detailed movie set in wartime Berlin is a cleverly manufactured romantic thriller with Michael Douglas as a Harvard-educated lawyer, officer and spy. At its weakest, it's more like a TV miniseries with a big budget and Melanie Griffith as a half-Jewish secretary who infiltrates Hitler's Reich. Whichever, it never quite shakes its artificiality. Rated R; sexual situation, partial nudity, shooting, stabbing.

Rush Road Reports

By Don Rush

Cavalier's a dependable first car

The Chevrolet Cavalier line is the right line of automobile for the first time buyer, or anybody on a budget (that includes just about all of us these days).

I test drove the four-door sedan, no frills model. It had power door locks, but those are standard on all Cavalier models nowadays. It had an AM/FM stereo, complete with clock. No cassette player. The radio comes with the Group #1 options package that also includes: color-keyed front and rear carpeted floor mats, power driver's side mirror, and manual right side mirror, tinted glass and body side moldings. This package upped the $8,999 base price by $550.

I say all that, to say this: just because it ain't expensive as some other cars, doesn't mean it should be overlooked. On the contrary, all the Cavalier models, from the Z-24, to the convertible to the station wagon to the coupe -- they all look respectable. They look better than a tin box with wheels. The Cavalier has sporty looks.

The car was equipped with Chevy's new 2.2-liter L4 engine. Folks from the car company say it is more powerful than previous four-cylinder engines available. It has 110 horse power. It's not a tire melter at take off, which is good. Those who are trying to save money don't need to be replacing tires any sooner than need be. The car does get up to speed respectfully. It didn't shake or shimmy doing highway speeds either. It handled safely. I put close to 500 miles on the car and really couldn't find anything poorly designed. With the three-speed automatic transmission, the estimated gas mileage ranges from 23 to 32 miles per gallon. Another cost saving factor. Official documents state the car can seat five passengers. Yeah, I guess this is true if you have two parents up front and three pre-teen kids in the back. I'd say a better guess for adults is four, rather comfortably. There's just over 42 inches of leg room up front, passengers in the rear have to get by with just over 33 inches.

Another standard for the Cavalier is the four-wheel anti-lock brake system. The ABS VI senses when any of the four wheels start to lock and modulates the brake pressure through a electronic controller -- this minimizes wheel lockup during a hard brake.

The model I tested priced out at $11,579, which included destination charges. That price could have been dropped by $745 by not purchasing the air conditioning unit this one had. It could have been further reduced by going with a manual trans over automatic.

What can I say, it was a no frills car. If you want frills, try the Z-24 and convertible models with the V6. Those are really fun to drive.

Highlights: base priced under $10,000, looks better than a Chevette
Lowlight: no cassette player
Base price: $8,990
Model Tested: $11,579
Estimated Gas Mileage: 23, city; 32 highway

HOW TO WRITE A CLASSIFIED AD THAT WORKS...

BE COMPLETE.

Put yourself in the reader's place. If you were considering buying this item, what would you want to know about it? Give the item's age, condition, size, color, brand name and any other important information needed to describe it completely and accurately.

DON'T EXAGGERATE.

Misleading information may bring potential buyers to your home but it will not help you make the sale. You'll lose the prospect's trust and faith as well as the sale.

AVOID ABBREVIATIONS.

A few accepted and recognizable abbreviations are OK, but an ad full of them just confuses the reader. They will go on to the next ad rather than decipher yours. A good rule of thumb is, "Spell it out or leave it out."

INCLUDE PRICE.

Price is one of the biggest concerns of classified shoppers. Ads that list prices will get their attention first. Including price also helps you avoid inquiries from callers not in your price range.

BE AVAILABLE.

List your telephone number or address so that the potential buyer will know how to contact you. State the best hours to call so they'll know when to reach you. If you're not home the chances are the prospect will not call back.

Feel free to ask for help because help is free for the asking and that's why we're here!

GORDON BARDELL and Carol Davis rehearse their parts as siblings "Greg" and "Laura" in the drama "I'll Be Back Before Midnight." Here, Laura exhibits some non-sisterly affection toward her brother, much to the consternation of Greg's wife, "Jan," who's played by Sandy Sanford. The Clarkston Village Players production takes place at Depot Theater, White Lake Road, Independence Township.

A young couple moves to the country for a new start on life but is plagued by an overbearing relative and stories that their new home is haunted.

Performed by the Clarkston Village Players, this two-act dramatization runs Fridays and Saturdays, March 6, 7, 13, 14, 20 and 21, and Thursday, March 19, with each show starting at 8 p.m. "I'll Be Back Before Midnight" is directed by Verne Vackaro and produced by Julie Vackaro.

The four-member cast includes: Gordon Bardell, Sandy Sanford, Carol Davis and Bryan Taylor.

The play may be seen at the Depot Theater at 4861 White Lake Road, Independence Township.

Tickets — $6 for Thursday shows and $7 Friday and Saturday performances — are available at Tierra Arts, 64 S. Main Street, Clarkston, or by calling Marlene Sewick at 363-0188. They also may be purchased at the door on performance dates from 7 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.
