$269,000 approved for fire station

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

After numerous months of negotiations, Independence Township is about to acquire the former First Federal Bank building on M-15 near Dixie Highway.

The Independence Township Board unanimously approved the bank's purchase May 5. The decision was made after conducting closed session discussions, following the regular meeting.

The township will buy the building for $269,000 from the federal government, which owns the property rights. The purchase will be paid for from the fire department's budget — via a 15-year installment purchase plan with a bank.

The bank building is considered the initial component to the township's new $1.2 million public safety complex. It's slated to serve as an administrative building for the Independence Township Fire Department and house a new substation for the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

According to township officials, a 10,000-square-foot fire station will be built on property behind the existing bank structure. This facility will replace station No. 1 on Church Street, which was sold to Clarkston businessman John Morgan about two months ago.

The township also plans to extend Citation Drive to the west to provide public safety vehicles with paved access to M-15 and Dixie Highway.

However, these plans aren't finalized yet.

Last month, the board decided to allow all developers an opportunity to submit bids, after area residents argued that township officials hadn't considered alternative building sites.

The township mandated that all proposed sites must have frontage along M-15, however.

Prospective builders have until May 22 to submit bids and plans to the townships. These submittals will be considered by the board next month.

Even though the township is buying the bank building, Clerk Joan McCrary said developers shouldn't interpret the move as an act of finality.

"In the event the township finds a better plan, we can always sell the bank building," she said.

Local builder Dick Ayres said he was surprised by the township's move to buy the bank, and he intends to confront officials about the matter at a bidders' informational meeting May 13.

"I have no idea why they decided to approve the purchase at this time," Ayres said, "but I intend to find out."

"Perhaps, the writing's on the wall," he added.

For now, Ayres said he'll continue to push for his group's site of choice — located across M-15, next to the 52nd District Courthouse on Citation Drive.

Frightened deer breaks into real estate office

A spooked deer is being blamed for wreaking havoc at a Clarkston real estate office late Sunday night.

Witnesses told the Oakland County Sheriff's Department (OCSD) that a frightened deer crashed through a plate glass window of the Better Homes and Gardens office at 3586 S. Main May 10 and caused extensive damage to the interior. Realtor Carol Moreno said the building was vacant at 8:10 p.m., when the deer smashed through the office's conference room window.

She said witnesses blocked the window to prevent the frightened animal from running out on to a busy M-15. The cornered deer ran wildly about the office for a couple of minutes, before escaping through another plate glass window at the back of the office.

During its short-lived captivity, the deer damaged furniture, climbed walls and bled on the carpet. Luckily, the deer bypassed numerous office computers, Moreno said.

OCSD deputies attempted to track the bleeding animals, but were unsuccessful.

As of Tuesday, May 12, Moreno said the office was pretty much back to normal. The two windows, valued at about $700, had been replaced, with repairs to the furniture and new carpeting still pending.

12 employees get layoff notices from school district

Twelve more employees of the Clarkston school district have received layoff notices.

On Monday, May 11, the Clarkston school board unanimously voted to layoff a dozen non-certified personnel in June. These layoffs are part of $1.1 million in cuts the school district is making to alleviate the $1.2 million they tend to lose next school year from a statewide tax freeze.

Three weeks ago, the school board also voted to layoff 11 school teachers, saving the district about $175,000. According to Duane Lewis, director of personnel services, these additional layoffs should garner about $212,000 for the district.

However, a majority of these layoffs can be nullified if the voters approve an additional two-mill package June 8, Lewis said.

The two mills were added to the ballot, so to offset the effects of the statewide tax freeze. If this additional millage fails, however, all the dismissals will be permanent.

Fire millage renewal on August ballot

Voters in Independence Township will be asked to renew three mills for the fire department fund Aug. 4.

The township board unanimously approved the ballot language May 5.

The renewal would provide fire protection to the township for the next four years. If it passes, the millage would begin in 1993 and expire in 1997.

One mill is $1 per every $1,000 of assessed property valuation. For example, the owner of a $100,000 home assessed at half the market value ($50,000) will continue paying $300 per year for fire department service, if the renewal is approved.

If renewal fails, it will be placed back on the ballot in November, township Clerk Joan McCrary said.

Two mills is $2 for every $1,000 in assessed property valuation. For example, the owner of a $100,000 home assessed at half the market ($50,000) would pay an extra $100 per year in school taxes if voters approve the 2 mills.

The 12 non-certified workers scheduled for lay off include: Susan Jenks, building aide, Sashabaw Jr. High; Linda Ryan, building aide, Clarkston High; Karen Tinkis, building aide, CHS; Janice Downs, media professional, CJHS; Deborah Jones, media paraprofessional, CHS; Elaine Schultz, media paraprofessional, SJHS; Janet Dean, clerk, Bailey Lake Elementary; William Beeman, grounds maintenance; Sandra Dougherty, general custodian, Clarkston Elementary; Alvin Green, general custodian, Community Education Center; William Swayne, CHS; Dale Hesse, food truck driver, CHS.

Correction

The story in the May 6 edition of The Clarkston News about Oakland Technical Center-Northwest Campus building trade students constructing a home should have said the house was purchased by Sashabaw Junior High teacher Dick Swartout and North Sashabaw Elementary teacher Joan Swartout.

A PARTRIDGE follows Roy Spencer around his lawn. The bird, which perches in oak trees on the Spencers' property, appears when it hears noise, such as tractors or automobiles. Sometimes, it puffs up its chest and beats its wings.

... And a partridge in an oak tree

It wasn't the first day of Christmas or even the first day of spring, but the Spencers found a partridge in their oak tree.

Or rather, it found them.

The partridge, otherwise known as a grouse, appeared one day while Sandy Spencer was mowing the lawn at her Gulick Road, Independence Township, home.

"Just out of nowhere, it appeared," said Sandy. "It followed me up and down the lawn."

Apparently, the partridge likes noise — and people. Whenever it hears noise — a car, for instance, or the lawn mower, it appears, said Sandy.

It has introduced itself to the neighbors and, in fact, "chased the lady across the street," said Sandy. It also chases cars, but it isn't as fast as, say, a dog.

On May 8, Sandy had just returned home from working at the Clarkston Village Clinic and stood in her yard in fuzzy slippers, explaining the curious habits of her feathered friend to a reporter.

Her husband, Roy, who up to that point had only heard questionable tales about the partridge, agreed to attract the bird's attention by riding the lawn mower near the partridge's territory — the former Camp Oweki, soon to become Waldon Lake Estates subdivision.

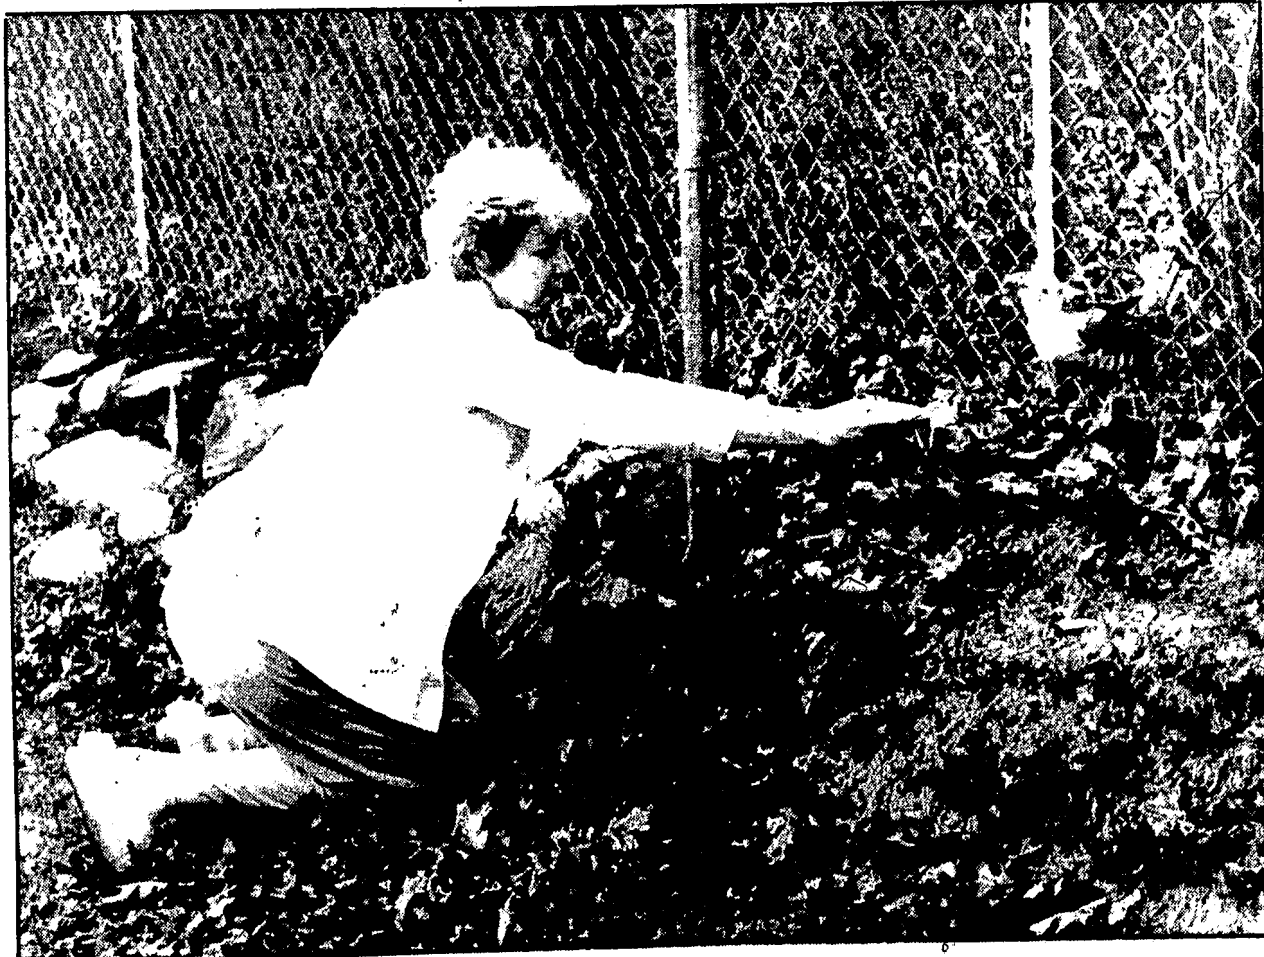

Suddenly, the partridge appeared and followed Roy across the lawn.

Roy was duly astounded. "I've hunted partridges for years, and I've never seen anything like this in all my life," he said, after he stopped the lawn mower.

The partridge, though, was enthralled and followed Roy on foot.

Then it saw Sandy's feet and made a pass at her fuzzy slippers. She laughed.

Roy noted that the partridge was a male, as was evident by its colorful tail feathers — rust, deep rust, light

SANDY Spencer offers bread to the friendly grouse, which blends into the leaf-covered wooded area it claims as its territory. The rust, gray, blue-gray, white — which blend perfectly with the oak-leaf-covered floor of its wooded territory.

Spencers and their neighbors don't know to what to attribute the bird's unusually friendly behavior.

Roy and Sandy fed bread to the bird, which accepted some from Sandy's hand and even allowed Roy to pick it up — with a struggle.

After that, it spread its tail feathers into a fan and puffed up its chest and took a few more pecks at Sandy's slippers.

Clifford Teague, the Spencers' neighbor, mused about the grouse's behavior.

"It might be that it's mating season," he said.

"Maybe he hasn't found a girlfriend yet," said Roy.

Sandy was not willing to part with her slippers for the purpose, and eventually, the partridge bobbed away.

If he's still around on the first day of Christmas, maybe she'll reconsider.

Seniors to 'go for the gold' at graduation party

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

In light of the upcoming summer Olympic games, Clarkston High School's post-graduation party has taken on the theme "Go for the Gold."

The seven-hour party follows commencement exercises June 10 and will be held at the Deer Lake Racquet Club on White Lake Road, Independence Township. It's scheduled to run from 10 p.m. until 5 the next morning.

That evening, the racquet club will be donating its facilities to the graduates so they can play basketball, tennis, walleyball or swim in the pool.

Students will also be able to participate in a variety of activities including a casino — run with "play money" — and a euchre tournament. Prizes will be awarded to the top winners of both events at the conclusion of the party.

The price of admission includes a T-shirt and numerous coupons for free goodies in and around the Clarkston area.

In the Olympic spirit, exotic and not-so-exotic dishes from around the world will be offered to all guests.

Throughout the evening, the grads will be exposed to a variety of entertainment. Local disk jockey Dick Myre will be providing guests with an array of dance music, and students are encouraged to exhibit their talents in Karaoke and air-band competitions. Prizes will be presented to the top performers.

Also, back by popular demand is hypnotist Jim Houch. His show features several feats of mind control, using members of the audience.

The administration also will provide its guests with some "surprise entertainment," during the course of the evening.

The post-graduation celebration — in its sixth consecutive year — is the brainchild of former CHS principal Robert Burek, who left last year to take over as superintendent of schools in Fenton.

The intent of this party is to provide grads with a safe environment in which to celebrate and to reduce the intake of alcohol and drugs during this festive occasion. According to the post-graduation planning committee, nearly 80 percent of all seniors usually attend this end-of-the-school-year party.

According to volunteer Geri Allison, donations for the party have been excellent so far, but the committee still needs about $2,000 to cover all the expenses. The committee is also in search of a local merchant to donate a $500 gift for the event's top raffle prize.

Tickets go on sale May 20 during all lunch hours. Seniors are required to bring a photograph, to create their own "party passport." These passports will be needed to enter the racquet club the night of the party.

For more information on the party, or if you'd like to donate or serve as volunteer, contact Karen Tinkis (625-6896) or Sally Whittaker (625-0383).

The Horrible
responds

Julie
Campe

Editor's note: My brother, Andrew The Horrible, requested that he be allowed to respond to a few of my carefully, accurately written columns that may have mentioned him.

BY ANDREW LEPERE

Am I horrible? Or was I horrible? Let me see ... I can recall being a child of about 6 years wanting to play with the "young editor" and our neighbor, Cindy.

They had a special club that met in a special "fort," as they called it. It wasn't really a fort as much as it was a shed fixed up for a playhouse.

Needless to say, I wasn't a member of the club, nor could I enter the fort. The only participation they allowed was for me to be their "guard."

So here I was in the dehydrating heat of summer, holding a play gun and "guarding" the fort, while they laughingly passed cups of Kool-Aid to each other. Of course, I didn't know this for sure. I could only surmise by the sounds I heard through the door.

There was nothing to guard from them; at least I didn't think so at the time. Looking back now, I know that I was guarding Julie and Cindy from me.

Sooner or later (I like to think sooner), I would leave to go be with all my friends, which were usually the trees I passed on the way back to the house.

On other occasions, the young editor would let me play one of her favorite games with her.

She would pin me down with her tremendous weight (she was three years older), so I couldn't move my arms or chest. Then she would let her long hair dangle into my face and tickle me to the point of screams and tears.

This was her variation on the theme of the Famous Chinese Water Torture. She was an artistic child, even then.

But later there was the time when a good deal of the neighborhood kids, kids I played with, were smoking and pushing pot. Although I never talked to her about it then, it was Julie's disapproval I pictured in my head when I didn't accept their offer.

And, yes, I do remember how we would make goodies in the kitchen, just the two of us. Sometimes it was cookies from scratch or the dough you buy, slice and bake. Other times, it would be a package of cherry turnovers where you would squeeze, fold and bake.

I don't think it was so much the food we were after (although that was and still is a great incentive) as it was the chance to play off each other's imaginations. At these times, we would sing or play act and mostly have fun.

Later, she met The Thinker. And though they didn't have a special fort to retreat to, everywhere they were was special.

To their surprise, we found ourselves doing all sorts of things together. We went to parks, to concerts and to movies, or we had evenings of long conversations.

Throughout this period of growth I came to realize something. I didn't have to be the guard anymore.

Now was that so horrible?

Steaming mad?

Jim's Jottings

Let's not get too serious

Jim

Ever since I mixed in with a small band of reporters interviewing Bill Clinton I've been trying to find a way to describe how he impressed me.

Last September we were in Little Rock at a newspaper convention. Governor Clinton had just addressed the group. It was the day before he was to announce his candidacy for president.

Clinton let reporters stop him in the hall. He avoided "candidacy" questions and gave nothing answers to other questions. I can still see his non-serious expression. It borders on a permanent smile.

Columnist Mike Royko came up with the Clinton description I've been looking for... "programmed."

In his column Sunday in the Freep Royko wrote: "Bill Clinton is so thoroughly programmed that he might be incapable of getting mad. At this point, if you accused him of eating puppies, he'd sigh and calmly respond: 'I have tried my best to maintain a balanced diet, but we all make culinary mistakes, and I will never again let a waiter suggest...'"

Two more "politics" remarks: 1. Jerry Brown says in his TV ads, "Stop the politicians!" See, even politicians think 'politician' is a bad word.

2. Remarkster Dale Salswedel says, "I don't mind Perot being in the parade, but I don't want him leading it."

THE FEBRUARY 20 issue of Copper River Country Journal, Glennallen, Alaska has a snow depth chart with the caption: "Is it time to shovel your roof?"

DOES EVERYBODY save those little margarine bowls to put leftovers in, or is it just we depression generation of "savers?"

OH, MY GOSH, we can now buy a golf ball that has hex dimples, tri-dimples and octahelix dimples. I'm so glad Jim Burke brought me the latest poopsheet on Top-Flight and Titleist.

Top-Flights have Sodium and Zinc Surlyns, and combined with the dimples their balls "obtain maximum aerodynamic performance for better control, shot after shot."

And, just to keep you further informed, the Top-Flight Plus Four model 100, when hit off a full 9-iron, revolves 9,386 times a minute, while the Titleist HVC 100 barely moves at 7,743 revolutions per minute.

However, Titleist, with their icosahedron dimple pattern, "optimizes the positive effects of lift forces and minimizes the negative effects of drag forces."

It's good to know these facts just in case you find one in the woods where you hit your XXX-out.

Special education funding affects us

BY ROBERT BRUMBACK

School districts all over Oakland County have been faced with an unexpected loss of money because of a shortfall in special education funds at Oakland Intermediate Schools.

Oakland County levies 1 mill for the operation of special education "center" programs and reimburses local districts for 100 percent of the cost of operating "center" programs. They also provide partial funding in other areas. One mill is $1 for every $1,000 assessed property valuation.

The system Oakland schools uses to determine costs of center programs takes three years to finalize actual costs. However, Oakland schools reimburses districts for an estimated 90 percent of costs during the year of operation and then makes adjustments when final costs are determined.

During school years 1986-87 and 1989-90, the county estimated revenues in excess of those actually available for distribution. Because of this error in calculation, Clarkston received $76,774 more than Oakland schools really had to distribute. Oakland schools has given Clarkston schools five years to repay the debt, so we've begun making annual payments of about $16,679 per year. Other districts in Oakland County have been hit with "pay-backs" as well.

An additional expense has surprised Oakland County school districts this year, and it resulted in Clarkston schools having to pay Oakland schools another $124,900.

Three reasons for the unexpected expense:

- General Motors reached a tax settlement in a court case with the City of Pontiac regarding property assessments. Oakland schools had to repay GM $1.3 million, $869,000 of that being from special education. All districts are sharing the cost of that expense.

- Oakland schools collected membership money from districts sending students to a center program in Hazel Park, but they spent the money on other projects and failed to pay Hazel Park for the costs of running the center. Oakland schools has repaid Hazel Park now, but all districts are sharing in that expense.

- Expenses for center programs in 1991-92 have exceeded county revenues, and adjustments have been made to offset the difference.

The County Superintendent's Association has determined that they do not want any billbacks to occur in the 1992-93 school year. To accomplish this, they have taken action to rescind the reimbursement of transportation of SMI/SXI/TMI students to center programs (saving $4.55 million) and rescinded the partial reimbursement of directors for work with center programs (saving $749,221).

The loss to Clarkston will be $14,895 for director's salary and an increased expense for center transportation in excess of $100,000. The cost for transportation of Clarkston center program students by Servicar in 1989-90 was $173,838.

Extensive work is underway by superintendents, business managers and special education directors to seek cost-cutting measures and to determine policies that will ensure future stability in special education funding.

Non-mandated costs are under review as well as new concepts involving county dollars flowing to local districts to assist with local programming for ALL students. Initial proposals for change will be reviewed in April.

Robert Brumback is director of special services for Clarkston Community Schools.

Censors turning us into clones

I am writing to you about censorship. It is everywhere. From the little "bleeps" you hear on TV to the "Parental Advisory" sticker you see when you want to buy a tape or CD. And it's not right.

The First Amendment guarantees the right to free speech and free inquiry. Censorship directly violates that right. It is a direct challenge to my natural rights as a human being. I believe that what I want to say should be heard and I should be able to hear whatever anyone else says.

Censorship is just a relatively small group of people trying to tell us what we can and can't do until we meet their approval. They are trying to turn people like you and me into clones of themselves. Well, guess what, censors? We've all got lives of our own, and we don't need you telling us how to live them.

So just butt out, censors. Go live your own life and don't try to run mine. Take your insecure little attitude and don't listen to offensive music or watch offensive TV shows. But I'm still going to listen and watch, and there's nothing you can do about it.

'If it Fitz . . .'

The $80 marital gala never stops paying off

Jim Fitzgerald

Last week I took my wife out for dinner at a restaurant three blocks from our home. In two hours I spent $125. We were celebrating the 37th anniversary of our wedding which, including a four-day honeymoon trip, cost about $80.

I eloped, which is not something you can do alone, so I took a bookkeeper named Pat with me. She kept the books at the newspaper where I sold advertising and wrote a column. I eloped because I thought the experience would furnish good material for a column. Pat had to go along because I owed our boss money for a company car I'd wrecked and he'd ordered her not to let me out of her sight.

We went to Angola, Ind., which in those days was something of an elopement capital. You could buy a marriage license, blood test and brief ceremony all in one day if you didn't mind standing in lines and sitting around waiting rooms. In case she needed evidence later, my bride took several snapshots of our wedding day. In most of them, I'm avoiding boredom by romantically reading a newspaper.

Many years later, when our daughters saw these pictures, they asked their mother why she married a clod so insensitive he read a newspaper at his own wedding. Pat said it was part of her job as company bookkeeper.

The romantic aura continued after the wedding. We ate our wedding supper - spaghetti - in a bowling alley in Muncie, Ind. Our first night was spent in a travel car containing five tiny units so close together they all used the same screen door.

During the remaining three days of the honeymoon, I led an intensive search for a lost barracks in Ft. Knox, Ky. I had lived in that barracks while learning to be a soldier in 1944. I knew Pat would tingle at the sight of the actual building from where her husband launched the military career that ultimately meant victory for the United States in World War II.

She wasn't surprised that I would use our honeymoon to revisit scenes of my glory. The reason she wasn't surprised was that she had recently learned I was so military that, nine years after my honorable discharge, I still wore khaki underwear.

Unfortunately, all barracks look alike, and I never did find the right building. Pat suggested it had been moved to Arlington Cemetery as a shrine to the Unawakened Soldier. On the drive home she took a picture of me changing a flat tire in the rain. I suggested I should have married a mechanic instead of a bookkeeper.

After the $80 honeymoon we moved into a one-room apartment about the same size of the restaurant table off which we ate that $125 anniversary dinner 37 years later. The apartment featured a combination sink-stove-refrigerator that I remember fondly as the most remarkable appliance I ever slept with my head against. It offered everything you really needed for nourishment without the effort and inconvenience of getting up and going to the kitchen. If we still had that three-way miracle appliance at our side today, we wouldn't need television commercials.

By the way, I paid that $125 tab (including tip and appropriate libations) at Opus One, and I'm not complaining. Along with the Gem and Fox theater restorations, the Opus is downtown Detroit's biggest improvement in recent years. I've tried them all and, trust me, the finest food is being served at the Opus, and the service and ambience are classy.

The only reason I'm crass enough to even mention the price of our anniversary dinner is to stress the contrast between then and now. If anyone had told me 37 years ago that someday one meal would cost me more than my entire honeymoon, including the blood test, I wouldn't have left such a generous 20-cent tip for the waitress in that Muncie bowling alley.

Also, if I'd known in 1955 that I was marrying the greatest wife a husband could possibly have, I would have eloped with her even if I hadn't needed column material.

School inclusion provides help

I saw a story on TV-news that I feel is important to address and support at a community level.

It's the story of the Shiflet family from Waterford Township, whose 20-year-old severely impaired son, Mike, suffered an overdose, severe sunburn, broken bone and knocked out teeth while in the care of an area group home.

MORC's investigation has determined these injuries as "accidents!"

Come on! If this young man received these injuries in his parents' home, would it be considered by the authorities as "accidents?" I think not.

I commend the efforts of Clarkston High School and Linc Smith in forming the awareness and support group "What's Next." I just hope that this support group also includes the severely impaired who are most vulnerable in our society and their families.

What's next for them, more horror stories like the Shiflets'?

A lot of concerns need to be addressed for the severely impaired and their families. These kids grow up, too, but are often totally dependent on others for all their needs.

What's next, when their parents are no longer able to take care of them? When they are beyond school age, where do they go, so their parents can continue to work and support them? Etc. Think about it.

Jesus said, "What you have done to the least of these brothers of mine, you have done to me also." (Matthew 25:40)

If you want to get involved and help "the least of these brothers" and their families, start writing letters to congressmen, state representatives and senators. Write to your school boards and special services departments and support inclusion.

Today's children hold the key for the cure for tomorrow. Inclusion can only bless them and make them stronger as they become tomorrow's leaders. Talk to your pastor, priest or minister. Open church doors for these families with prayer support groups, circle of friends groups, etc.

Don't turn your backs or shut your eyes. This could be a loved family member someday. These kids aren't just born that way — some are normal until an illness strikes or an accident.

Unfair to homeless

I have a question, and I hope you wouldn't mind answer it. My question is: Why does the president have a helicopter and an airplane when there are over a million homeless out there in the real world who don't have money or a home to live in?

What I don't understand is why we don't take 5 cents out of our paychecks to help pay for housing and food for the homeless in America. I hate seeing people being cheated.

Pollution ruining our environment

I am writing this letter because I care about our environment. We are all aware of just how rapidly pollution is ruining our environment.

There have been people and organizations trying to resolve this ongoing problem, but it isn't enough. If people do not want to work toward a cleaner world for themselves, then I would hope they would work to help future generations.

We have been doing things in our community like recycling in the schools and neighborhoods, but we need an even greater community effort of both children and adults.

We need to continue using the news media to publicize the problem of pollution and to education everyone as to what they can do to help.

I feel that if we can create a greater awareness of just how serious the pollution problem has become, we will be taking a step in the right direction.

Beautiful project

Mrs. Linda Denstaedt, a Clarkston High School teacher, taught an after-school enrichment class the past two sessions at Clarkston Elementary School.

It was called Creativity Camp. My son, Will, attended both sessions.

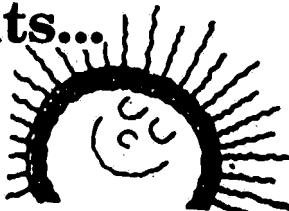

With Linda's instruction, he designed a character for a puppet, created the puppet (two-foot tall!), wrote a story about his puppet, turned it into a play, recorded the play with appropriate music, then performed it before an audience.

The process and the product were both beautiful, enjoyable and a lot of work.

Thank you, Linda, for bringing this project to the children.

Former Clarkstonite to celebrate 100th birthday

Former Clarkston area resident Florence Hubbard will be reaching a unique milestone — 100 years old — June 13.

A 1911 graduate of Pontiac High School, Florence married Joseph Hubbard of Pontiac in 1916. The pair bought a home, two barns and 80 acres of farm land on Allen Road. In those days, roads were named after farmers and eventually the couple had one named after them — Hubbard Road.

The couple eventually had three children and Joseph became president of the Clarkston school board for 16 years, presenting sons Eugene and Robert with their high school diplomas.

After her husband passed away, Florence took up traveling and visited numerous states. At the age of 80, she decided to move to Chelsea to live.

She left behind a lot of friends and affiliations. During her time in Clarkston, Florence served as matron of the Eastern Star in Clarkston, organized the Oakland County Extension Group and the Senior Citizen Club, and was a member of the area garden club.

On May 9, Florence was invited by Michigan Senator Debbie Stabenow to ride in the "Mothers' Day Michigan Parade into the 21st Century," Lansing.

Reaching 100 years isn't unique to Florence's family, however. Her mother Nettie Williamson lived to be 105 and her grandmother Lovisa Heath lived to be 102.

Race for mayor, not for council

Six-for-six. Six candidates will be on the ballot for the six open spots on the new Clarkston City Council. The June 15 election also features the mayoral race of current village president Sharron Catallo and Charles Weber.

The six who filed petitions for council seats will be village trustee incumbents William Basinger, James Schultz and Douglas Roeser, and Stephen Arkwright, Karen Sanderson and Stephen Seacatch.

Current trustees Dominic Mauti, Eric Haven and Robert Whitmer did not file petitions. The city council will open its first session in July.

Art-filled summer offered to some

Gifted students considering careers in the arts may take part in a special summer art class June 22 through July 30.

The six-week program is designed for artistically gifted students in grades 10, 11 and 12 (and post-graduates) who have a 3.0 grade point average or better in current art classes.

Cost is $30. To register, call John Tucker at 625-5202.

Lawrence Keech, advertising design instructor at the Oakland Technical Center-Northwest Campus, said the program is "six solid weeks of field trips."

"These students will be exposed everyday to various professionals in their field," he said.

For instance, the about 2-15 pupils will visit automotive illustrators, computer generated-art shops, industrial and interior design studios, photography and sculpture centers, wildlife painters, jewelry makers, advertising agencies, art galleries, and more.

"This is so rare for students, whether they're in college or high school," said Keech.

Village to interview top police candidates

The top three candidates for Clarkston's new full-time police officer position will be interviewed at the next village council meeting Wednesday, May 20, at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting was originally scheduled May 25 but was changed because of Memorial Day.

In addition to the full-time officer, the council is still negotiating to contract with other law-enforcement agencies for emergency protection.

Independence Township has told the village that it will not extend its current police contract once the village becomes a city in July.

Independence contracts with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department for police coverage.

Helping them say no

CLARKSTON High School Juniors Jennifer Baumann (left) and Amanda Peske serve as role models for fifth-graders in Star Steward's class at North Sashabaw Elementary School. The teens talked to the younger pupils May 4 about saying no to drugs, including alcohol.

The session was part of a 17-week course called Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE), according to instructor Deputy Dave Hernandez of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. (Photo by Julie Campe)

CHRISTA Hanson, left, starts the anchor leg of the 800 meter relay after getting the baton from teammate Angie Brown. The Wolves won the event and the meet against Lake Orion.

CLARKSTON freshman Leah Scharl (in front) was shadowed by freshman teammate Carrie Mead throughout the 1600 meter run. Scharl won the race at Lake Orion by finishing ahead of Mead by one second. They also finished one-two in the 3200.

Girls win own invite

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

For the past two years, the Clarkston Invitational girls' track meet could have been called the Livonia Stevenson meet.

The Livonia squad won the meet the past two years and almost won it this year.

Almost was two-thirds of a point but that two-thirds of a point extra by Clarkston was enough to win its own 10-team invitational.

Clarkston assistant coach Chris Krueger said the difference between the Wolves this year and the past two years is team depth.

"We were two deep in every event except the 400. Deep with truly quality people," said Krueger.

Clarkston finished with 120 and Stevenson had 119 1/3. They were followed by Marian with 69, Churchill 53 1/3, Lahser 32, Andover 31, Northville 27 1/3, 3, Berkley 27, Kimball 15, Waterford Mott 2.

Two Wolves broke meet records.

Angie Brown won the 100 meter dash in 12.82 and Kristin Stanton finished first in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet, 2 inches.

Krueger said he was also quite impressed with two freshmen long distance runners, Leah Scharl and Carrie Mead. Both of them finished above several competitors who had better times going into the race.

Scharl won the 3200 run and Mead placed second. Scharl took fourth in the 1600 and Mead placed sixth.

Three days before the invitational, the Wolves also had little problem with Lake Orion.

Clarkston, undefeated in Greater Oakland Activities League dual meets, crushed the host Dragons, 93-35.

The Wolves won 12 of 16 events.

Boys outrun by Dragons

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Lake Orion had the Clarkston boys' track on the run in the Dragons' 90-46 win May 6 in Lake Orion.

Clarkston, as usual, was quite strong in the field events but the Dragons only lost one running event (Wolf Steve Cohoon won the 800 meter run).

Kyle Powell, Gary Young and Paul Krause swept the discus for the Wolves and Krause, Powell and Steve Hunkele swept the shot put.

Dan Griffiths, who also took second in both the high jump and 200 dash and third in the 100, won the long jump.

The Wolves also were strong in the field events at the Oxford Relays May 9. Clarkston finished 10th out of 14 teams.

Clarkston was led by four Wolves who placed third: Powell (discus), Krause (shot put) and Steve Bennett and Steve Locher (tied in the pole vault).

Baseball team swings way to GOAL lead

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Unusual strong hitting and usual tough pitching helped Clarkston's varsity baseball team blitz Waterford Kettering in a doubleheader sweep.

"This was our best day for offense so far this season," said Clarkston manager Roy "Pops" Warner. "It's a good day when you can collect 26 hits and 23 runs."

The victories May 7 on the Captains' field improved Clarkston's Greater Oakland Activities League record to 10-1 and overall mark to 14-4.

CLARKSTON 13, Waterford Kettering 0
(May 7 at Kettering - 2nd game)

Hard-throwing Eric Ryan, 6-0, threw a 3-hitter and the Wolves pounded 12 hits to crush Kettering in a "mercy" five-inning contest.

Clarkston scored four in the second and then put the game out of reach with nine in the third.

Tom Doyon, Brent Bundridge, Matt Underwood and Aaron Phillips each had two hits. Matt Seitz, Derek Wiley, Chris Combs and Dan Eby each had one hit.

Doyon also drove in four runs and Bundridge, Underwood and Combs all drove in a pair.

Ryan, who has a 1.08 ERA on the season, walked two and struck out four.

CLARKSTON 10, Waterford Kettering 1
(May 7 at Kettering - 1st game)

Kettering led 1-0 after the first but then the Wolves, behind 14 hits, scored 10 unanswered runs in a 10-1 romp.

Pitchers Kevin Mull, 3-0, and Matt Seitz also shut down the Captains by combining on a 1-hitter. Mull struck out nine and walked six in five innings of work. Seitz walked two and struck out four in two innings.

Jason Jarvis had two singles and a double and Brent Bundridge smacked three singles.

Matt Seitz and Matt Underwood each had a pair of singles. Derek Wiley, Kevin Mull, Aaron Phillips and Chris Combs all had solo singles.

Wiley drove in three Wolves.

CLARKSTON 3, Bloomfield Hills Lahser 2
(May 5 at Lahser)

Matt Underwood's squeeze bunt in the top of the seventh drove in the winning run as Clarkston eked past Lahser, 3-2, on May 5.

The hosts held a 2-1 lead going into the last inning but Clarkston scored twice for the win.

Eric Carlson, 1-1, picked up the win in four innings of relief. He struck out five allowed two hits, one run and walked one.

Derek Wiley pitched two innings and allowed one run, no hits, one walk and struck out four.

Jason Jarvis earned a save by mopping up in the last inning. He allowed one hit and struck out one.

Underwood had two of Clarkston's seven hits. Brent Bundridge and Derek Wiley both doubled and Tom Doyon, Chris Combs and Aaron Phillips each singled.

Soccer team clinches second-place in GOAL

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Second-place sometimes is the best. The Clarkston varsity girls' soccer team assured itself of a second-place finish in the Greater Oakland Activities League with a 2-1 victory over Waterford Kettering May 11.

The finish is the best by any Wolf girls' soccer team in history.

"They're feeling happy," said Clarkston coach Dan Fitzgerald about his team, which improved its record to 5-2 in the GOAL and 6-5 overall.

The Wolves only two league losses were to a tough Brandon squad, which is ranked No. 1 in the state for classes B-C-D. Fitzgerald knew the Blackhawks were going to be strong but he also felt in pre-season that the rest of the GOAL teams would be even.

At least the Class A Wolves know Brandon will not be in their district. However, a tough West Bloomfield squad will be in that district. And, first things first, Clarkston must first get past Waterford Mott in the opening round of districts when the Wolves host the Corsairs May 18 at 7:30 p.m. The winner of that match travels to Bloomfield Hills Lahser.

Junior forward Tonya Dylag opened the scoring against the Captains with a break-away goal 30 minutes into the first half. Senior midfielder Janet Molen assisted.

Host Kettering tied the match by squeezing in a goal with 10 seconds left in the half.

The match remained even for most of the second half. But with about seven minutes left, Carrie Millen crossed the ball over to Dylag, who punched in her second goal, a goal which proved to be the difference.

Sophomore Kate Knyzewski was in goal for the Wolves and stopped about five Kettering shots. The Wolves pressured the Captains' goalkeeper with about 15 shots on goal.

Fitzgerald pointed out the play of fullback Rose Lazzari and forward Sadie Caruso.

Royal Oak Kimball 5, CLARKSTON 1 (May 7 at Clarkston)

Clarkston led 1-0 but Royal Oak Kimball struck back with five unanswered goals in the visitors' 5-1 win May 7.

Clarkston coach Dan Fitzgerald knew Kimball was talented even though it didn't immediately light up the scoreboard.

"They completely dominated in the first 30 minutes but they couldn't score," said Fitzgerald.

Clarkston forward Carrie Millen, however, did score an unassisted goal for a 1-0 Wolf lead.

But Kimball soon tied the match by getting one past Wolf goalkeeper Kate Knyzewski and then went ahead 3-1 at the half.

"You knew the floodgates were going to break. Once they got that first one, they got confidence," said the Wolf coach.

Fitzgerald said his Wolves came out tough in the second half and played strong the first 15 minutes, but he added, "Once they (Kimball) got the fourth goal, it deflated us."

Kimball then closed out the scoring with a fifth goal.

Sunday drive

THIS coming weekend the roads in Clarkston will belong to runners and walkers in the Clarkston Fun Daze run/walk. But last Sunday, the roads in Clarkston and others in scenic north Oakland County were filled with bicyclists peddling in the annual "Back 40" Challenge dirt road ride sponsored by the Kinetic Systems Bike Shop and the Flying Rhino Cycling Club. Russell Pelts of Detroit (in the above photo) gets ready to make a left hand turn from Holcomb onto Washington near downtown Clarkston. A portion of the proceeds from the event will be used to fund a Flying Rhino Cycling Club "endangered species" project, re-establishing and marking the park trails at the Ortonville Recreation Area. REAL ESTATE UPDATE

Don't Wave Red Flags

Ron Rodda
Sales Manager
"Let's discuss your Career in Real Estate Sales"

RELO

QUESTION: We are going to sell our home. We just repaired a leaky roof. Now, a yellow stain remains on the ceiling. I want to get the ceiling repainted but my husband claims we have spent enough money and showing the paid bill will suffice. Will it?

ANSWER: Don't be penny-wise and pound foolish. Each of your prospects will ask about the yellow stain on the ceiling. The receipted bill will never put their minds at ease. Your home will probably sell, but not for the price you are hoping for. The fewer apologies you have to make, the easier it will be to sell. If you have any "red flags" waving - remove them.

REPAIRING A leaky roof and not removing the ceiling stain is definitely unwise.

Mapping company aids fast-track tunnel job

The $155 million railroad tunnel proposed to go under the St. Clair River at Port Huron is right on track.

The first phase has been delivered by Air-Land Surveys (ALS), Inc., of Independence Township to Klohn-Leonoff, Ontario, Canada, a part of the team doing the project.

Gary R. Stonerock, president of ALS, announced that his company had been awarded a contract to digitally map in three dimension (3-D) this project for 4.5 miles on both sides — the U.S. side to the west and the Canadian side to the east.

The contract was awarded Feb. 21 and was flown Feb. 27. Phase I, a 4.3-kilometer (2 1/2 miles) section from Port Huron to Sarnia was delivered March 13, just three weeks using state-of-the-art methods. Aerial Photogrammetry techniques provide primary X, Y and Z values for 3-D models that make the final maps with a 0.5-meter (1.5 feet) contours.

Canadian National Railway of North America chose

ALS after visiting its facility and investigating the capabilities available. After the mapping is completed, the design and construction firms of Hatch Associates, Ltd., Mississauga, Ontario, Canada, and Mott MacDonald of Croydon, England, will do the engineering and construction.

Bridging two countries and the 1,500-foot-wide fast-flowing St. Clair River in three weeks kept this proposed tunnel right on track, said Stonerock.

Elected SAR president

Larry Blackett

In April, Larry L. Blackett was elected state president of the Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) at the Harley Hotel, Lansing.

Blackett, a 20-year resident of Royal Oak and a sixth-generation resident of Oakland County, originally was from Clarkston.

Blackett, the father of three, has been active with SAR for several years and is proud of having 15 direct-line ancestors who fought in the American Revolution.

Both sons are SAR members, and his daughter is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Blackett is a member of two local historical societies and 11 hereditary societies and has proven his family lines to the early 1600s in colonial New England.

This is an open letter to the person that TOOK our dog on Friday, May 1st, in the M15-Oakhill area. Even though this is "only" a dog, his disappearance has devastated an entire family. He was a member of our family and all he has ever known is a loving and secure home. Suddenly, all this is cruelly taken from him. If you have any feelings or decency in you at all, PLEASE return our dog. Even if your only feelings are mercenary, please return him. No questions asked. All we want is our dog. Most popular theater

Pine Knob in Independence Township has been selected as a popular outdoor music theater by readers in Michigan Living Magazine's second annual "Best of Michigan" Treasure Awards, announced in the April issue.

Statewide readers responded to a December survey that included 30 categories. Readers were asked to pick their favorite Michigan spots ranging from parks, outdoor music theaters, summer festivals and golf courses, to family attractions, restaurants, jazz clubs, wine cellars and lodging.

Michigan Living, the official magazine of AAA Michigan, is circulated monthly into the homes of 1.1 million members.

Nursery informs kids

For the second year in a row, Bordine's Better Blooms of Springfield Township is giving 5,000 white pine seedlings to hundreds of local grade school students to increase awareness and to educate children of the importance of growing trees.

The children are given a brief talk on how trees cleanse the air, add value to property, and provide cooling shade for homes.

The children also are given verbal and written instructions on how to plant their seedlings. Plus, they are given an opportunity to ask questions.

Facility accredited

The mammography facility administered by Associated Radiologists of Oakland County, Independence Township, has been accredited by the American College of Radiology.

The facility has met the necessary requirements, which include a peer review evaluation of the facility's staff qualifications, equipment, quality control and quality assurance programs, image quality and breast dose.

The accreditation must be renewed every three years. More than 3,700 facilities have been accredited nationwide.

Statistics show that one in nine women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. Early detection is the key to survival. Mammography, in conjunction with breast physical examinations, provides the most accurate diagnosis of early breast cancer.

Medical organizations recommend the following guidelines for women without symptoms:

1. By age 40, begin screening, which consists of annual clinical examination, with screening mammography performed at 1- to 2-year intervals.

2. Beginning at age 50, clinical and mammography should be performed annually.

More family events at this year's Fun Daze

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

With an emphasis on family participation, this year's Fun Daze could be the biggest and best yet, says chairman Marc Cooper.

"This year, we've decided to focus our attention on the needs of the family," he says. "We've added more family-oriented activities, so it should be more of a fun day for everyone involved."

Fun Daze festivities will kick off with a series of walks and runs in the morning. All racers and walkers must be registered by 8:30 a.m. in Depot Park in order to enter. Participants are encouraged to show up early because 500 walkers and runners are expected that day.

Two separate starting times are slated for five different races and walks.

Starting at 9:30 p.m., contestants will be able to enter either a one-mile fun run or a one-mile walk, which require a $4 race day registration fee.

On the same walking and running enthusiasts will take to the road at 10 a.m. for the 5-kilometer walk and the 5-kilometer and 10-kilometer road races. Registration fees for all three of these events are $14. T-shirts will be given to all participants in the 5K and 10K runs.

These events will also be filled with several door prizes, including two pairs of running shoes from Runnin' Gear.

Numerous awards also await the top-finishers of these two running events. Prizes will be awarded to the overall first-, second- and third-place finishers of the 5K and 10K runs, as well as the top three finishers in each division.

The overall champion of the men's and women's 5K race will be also awarded a $100 savings bond.

In the 10K race, the top finishers in both the men's and women's divisions will be presented with $300 savings bonds. Second- and third-place finishers will also be (See FAMILY, next page)

Pleasant run

HILLS and pretty scenery mark the courses for the Sixth Annual Fun Daze. The running and walking events begin in Clarkston's Depot Park, just off Main Street. The one-mile Fun Run or Walk circles the Mill Pond. The 10K and 5K runs travel south to Middle Lake Road and then circle back north, where the 5K returns to the finish line and the 10K continues through a Deer Lake area subdivision. During the race, onlookers may take part in games (lots for children) or visit the Healthy Lifestyles Fair.

Fun Daze, in the beginning ...

BY JAMES GIBOWSKI
Clarkston News Staff Writer

There are two starting lines to this Saturday's Fun Daze runs and walks.

The most obvious one is on Main Street in downtown Clarkston, where hundreds of athletes will hear the starter's pistol.

But the actual start of the sixth-annual race began back in September when a small group of people held the first organizational meeting for the run. This was followed by monthly meetings beginning in January.

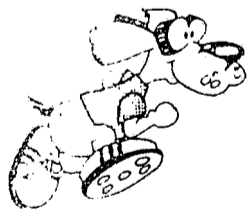

That small group comprised Ann Conklin, Marc Cooper, Mike Mosharo, Mike Hennessy, Drew Creamer, Brent Cooley, Mike McIntyre, Bill Dickey and Bob Rigonan.

The group planned all the necessities that are important before, during and after the race: contacting the sheriff's department to secure the roads, making sure there are enough road marshalls (mostly Rotarians and members of the Clarkston High School Interact Club) to help steer the runners in the right direction, maintaining four aid stations to provide athletes with water, having ambulances nearby if necessary, contacting local business sponsors (12 this year), getting out publicity about registration (5,000 flyers were mailed), marking the course, tabulating race results and having a clean-up crew.

McIntyre and his son Colin even ran the course a few times before the race, placing information in newspaper (See VOLUNTEER, next page)

Mascot-naming contest

Clarkston Fun Daze has a new mascot this year, but it's lacking a name.

So the Fun Daze organizational committee is offering a free Fun Daze T-shirt to the person who can come up with the most imaginative moniker. To compete, cut out this story and drop it off at the race registration desk, Depot Park, May 16, prior to 9 a.m.

If not present when winning name is chosen, the winner will be contacted at home.

given $200 and $100 savings bonds respectively.

After the races are completed, guests can walk about town and take in numerous performances and contests. Scheduled activities include: Healthy Lifestyles Fair from 9-11 a.m., Dunk Tank, Kiddie Moon Walk, Magic Act, Kiddie Games, Coloring Contest, Clarkston Elementary School Participation Challenge, Dance, Gymnastics and Karate exhibitions.

Kids, 10 years old and under, are invited to Depot Park to participate in Bike Safety Day, conducted by the Clarkston Area Optimists. The event runs from 9 a.m. to noon. Festivities include: a bike safety skills test, bike rodeo, "slow race" and an obstacle course.

Children, 5 and older, must provide their own bike and safety helmet. Big Wheels will be provided for kids 4 years old and younger.

Besides this event, a Red Cross Blood Drive will also be conducted in Depot Park from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Fun Daze is possible by the following major sponsors: Independence Township, Clarkston Dairy Queen, Video Game Master, Runnin' Gear, Spring Lake Golf Course, Dairy Dream, NBD-Clarkston, physician Cynthia L. Cookingham, Women's Health Care Center, Oxford Bank, Clarkston Rotary Club and dentist Michael E. Hennessy.

Helping out in the Healthy Lifestyles tent will be Advance/Metpath of Auburn Hills and physical therapist Ed Fahey of Independence Township.

For more information on Fun Daze, call the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department at 625-8223.

Many help in Daze

The Sixth Annual Fun Daze includes contributions from the entire community.

Businesses have donated money and prizes, and many non-profit groups also have helped with volunteers or money or expertise.

Contributing community groups include: American Red Cross, Clarkston Area Jaycees, Clarkston Area Optimists, Clarkston High School Interact, Clarkston Rotary, Independence Township Fire Department, Independence Parks and Recreation Department and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Volunteers ready for big day

boxes of the houses that line the course. The information tells residents when the race takes place, asks them to be careful when backing out of the driveway, etc.

Of course, the nine people who first met in September know that the race would not become a reality without the delegation of responsibilities to about 80 volunteers (and even more volunteers for the non-race festivities of Fun Daze).

Last year those volunteers helped 456 entrants in the race, including 164 who ran the 10K, 154 who walked or ran the 5K and 138 who walked a mile.

Conklin, director of the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department, said last year's 456

Runners this weekend will also be competing for $1,400 in cash prizes.

Conklin likes the current number of entrants and hopes the race doesn't get too big.

"We want to maintain a local flavor," said Conklin, who previously helped organize runs in Howell before taking the job in Independence Township.

The one-mile fun walk begins 9:30 a.m. Saturday and the 5K walk/run and 10K run take off at 10 a.m.

But Conklin and her volunteers know the real start of the event, lining up the course, begins at 6 a.m.

RUNNERS of all ages enjoy Fun Daze. Last year, Patrick Heber (above) of Clarkston finished second overall in the one-mile Fun Run, with his family looking on.

Walk to help county's hungry

Walkers in Lighthouse's Hunger Walk '92 may designate their pledges to Lighthouse North this year.

The 10th annual walk to fight hunger takes place Saturday, May 16, in Pontiac. To join Lighthouse North in the walk, simply meet at the Lighthouse North parking lot at 8:30 a.m. and be escorted by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department to the walk site. Or show up at the walk site on your own.

The 10-kilometer walk begins at 9:30 a.m. at 109 Williams Street, downtown Pontiac. Pledge sheets are available from Lighthouse North.

Lighthouse North, which provides emergency food, clothing and money for residents in north Oakland County, is at 5331 Maybee Road, Independence Township.

Sherry Kaars, director of Lighthouse North, said hunger is a serious problem in the area.

By March 31 this year, Lighthouse North had provided 1,921 people with food — a 50 percent increase over all of 1991.

"That gives us concern," said Kaars. "We hope that churches and other organizations continue with food drives over the summer," she said.

She attributed the increase to two factors — more people experiencing economic hardship and more who know about Lighthouse North's services.

For instance, she said, more clients now come from the Orion-Oxford area, for instance, than did last year.

In addition to food, rent and mortgage assistance funding is another high request. And since winter is over, utility assistance is a high priority because winter bills are due.

Also needed are summer clothing, particularly for children, and household items such as blankets, sheets, towels and small appliance. Items may be dropped off to the clothing closet 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

People looking for clothing may browse 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

For more information, call 673-4949.

Strong second

WOMEN and men from the surrounding area participate in the annual Fun Daze run. Last year, Laura Murphy, pictured here, finished second in the female division of the 10K run with a time of 35.42. Mindy Rowand-Schmidt placed first in 34.34, while Kathy Kubicki finished third in 36.47.

Beware of hazards to prevent falls during chores

Chances are that few people go out to do landscape or gardening chores intending to fall off a ladder or slip on wet grass. Falls do happen, however, and serious injuries may result.

The key in preventing falls, says Howard Doss, Extension safety specialist at Michigan State University, is to recognize situations and conditions that may be hazardous. Then it may be possible to avoid the situation or change it or alter your behavior to reduce the danger.

The two categories of falls are same-level falls — slipping on slick mud, for instance, or tripping over a hidden obstacle — and different-level falls — falling down steps, off of ladders or out of trees, for example.

Different-level falls have potential for greater injury, Doss points out, simply because the distance fallen must be sturdy, too. And enough of the ladder should extend beyond that support to guarantee that it won't slip off under your weight.

Working too high on a ladder — either a step ladder or an extension ladder — is very risky, Doss points out. The higher you go, the more top-heavy the ladder and the more prone it is to tip. Also, if your foot slips or you begin to lose your balance, you can't lean against the ladder or grab onto it to prevent your falling.

"Another common cause of falls from ladders is trying to reach out to the side instead of coming down and moving the ladder," Doss observes. "This is especially hazardous if the ground underneath the ladder's legs is soft and the side with the weight on it starts to sink. There's almost no way to prevent a fall in that situation."

Sturdy, no-slip footwear is an often overlooked safety factor, he suggests. Anyone climbing a ladder, working in the lawn or garden, or doing other home or landscape chores needs footwear that will protect and stabilize the feet and provide good traction.

You don't have to be working on a ladder to fall, Doss points out. Uneven ground, steps, wet slopes and hidden objects can also cause falls, especially if you are carrying a large object and you can't see your feet.

"Start avoiding this sort of fall by not setting traps for yourself," Doss suggests. "Store your supplies and tools away from travel and access routes. Keeping tools hung on shed walls will organize them and reduce clutter that you can trip over or tangle your feet in.

"If you have something large and heavy to move up or down hill, don't try to carry it — find a way to slide it or put wheels under it, in the form of a utility cart or a child's wagon. If it has to go up or down steps, consider renting a dolly for a few dollars rather than risk serious injury in a fall. The costs of a fall, no matter how you measure them, would be much higher."

(The above information was provided by Outreach Communications, Michigan State University, East Lansing.)

You don't have to be working on a ladder to fall. Uneven ground, steps, wet slopes and hidden objects can also cause falls, especially if you are carrying a large object and you can't see your feet.

is greater. Falls from ladders typically result from careless placement of the ladder, using the wrong type of ladder or poor judgment by the user.

"One thing to keep in mind is the angle between an extension ladder and the ground," Doss says. "The base of the ladder should be about half the length of the ladder away from the wall, building or other support. A ladder placed at a much steeper angle may fall over backward with you as you climb it."

Check, too, the surface on which the ladder's legs are resting. If the ladder is on soft ground or if one leg is on a hard surface and the other isn't, the ladder is likely to tip sideways as you climb it. This is true of both extension and step ladders, Doss notes.

German youth choir seeks host homes

A 45-member German youth choir's tour of the country includes a stop in the Clarkston area in July. Organizers are searching for area residents who are willing to host one or more members during the three-day visit July 26, 27 and 28.

About half of the Schaumburg Youth Choir — based in Buckeburg, Germany — members are already matched with a family, said Laura Biegan, host chairwoman.

"It's amazing how much interest there is," she said.

The members, all of whom speak English, range in age from 10 to 24.

While in the Clarkston area, they will be performing at the First Church of God at 6 p.m. Sunday, July 26, and in Clarkston's Depot Park on Tuesday, July 28.

The appearance in the United States is part of Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp's International Exchange Program, which includes about 16 international bands, orchestras and choirs that will perform in Michigan this summer.

The Schaumburg Youth Choir, in addition to Clarkston, will tour Chicago, Washington, D.C., New York and Philadelphia. Since 1980, the choir has appeared in every country in Europe and in Russia and Japan.

Ed Biegan, who is helping to coordinate the Clarkston visit, said the Clarkston area should make for an interesting visit for the choir members.

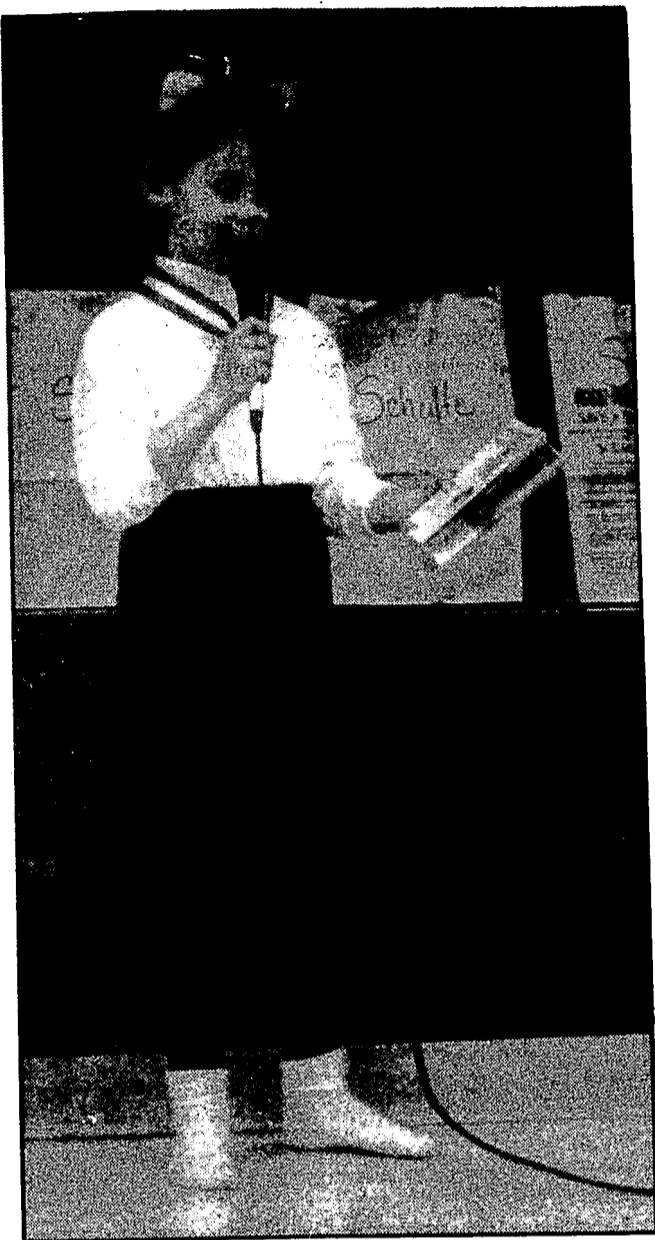

"What better representation of Americana than Clarkston?" he said.

One big part of the reason I enjoy being a Family Physician is every patient represents a whole new situation, which certainly keeps things lively. I really enjoy people. I like being able to make people smile and laugh. Just as important, I know when I see a patient that my knowledge, training and experience can help them no matter what is bothering them. It is a nice feeling to realize, even when people feel ill, that I can usually do or say something to make them feel better when they leave.

One reason I don't like to wear a lab coat is I see quite a few children. When you enter the room wearing that loose, white coat, I found that some children see you almost like a "ghost." When I come in without it, they don't think that they're seeing "the doctor" so much. There are so many things that have an impact on the way people feel that I do everything I can to make all of my patients comfortable. As a Family Physician, I try to offer people that extra attention which can make a difference.

Made in U.S.A. theme of parade

It's not too early to begin thinking of float ideas for the Fourth of July Parade in downtown Clarkston.

Sponsored by the Independence Township Fire Department, the parade theme this year is: "Made in the U.S.A." in celebration of all products invented, designed and manufactured by American minds and hands.

Merchants are asked to donate prizes in the form of cash or merchandise to be awarded for the following categories:

- 1) Best decorated entries (first, second and third place)
- 2) Best decorated resident along parade route.

CHS concert May 20

Music will fill the air on Wednesday, May 20, during the annual spring vocal music concert at the Clarkston High School Kirchgessner Theater.

"Sounds of Success" takes place at 7:30 p.m. and features the Girls Select Ensemble, Barbershop Ensemble, Chorales, Varsity Concert Choir and Madrigal Singers. Donations will be accepted.

The evening honors the graduating senior class choir members, according to Director Grayce Warren.

Awards and scholarships also will be presented for the outstanding musician, most valuable musician, most improved musician, un-sung hero award, "sunshine" award, and college scholarship.

A reception for choir members and the audience follows the concert in the lobby.

A mulching mower slices a small strip of grass, blade and a corolla shaped deck. This unique design allows air suction to lift the grass upright and the cut and recut into fine particles. These particles are then forced back into the turf near the soil level.

Mulching returns the clippings to the soil where they decompose within 14 days. This returns the valuable nutrients to the soil giving you a healthier lawn. Mulching also reduces the evaporation of water from the soil.

Clarkston's bands among the finest in the state

It looks as if Clarkston's instrumental music program is among the best in the state.

Bands representing Sashabaw Junior High, Clarkston Junior High and Clarkston High received superior performance ratings at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association (MSBOA) District and State festivals.

In addition, the CHS Jazz Ensemble earned a top rating in a jazz festival.

At the district festivals March 8 and March 15, eight bands from Clarkston schools participated, with six bands earning superior ratings and qualifying for the state festival May 1 and 2 and North Farmington High School.

Following are the results.

DISTRICT MSBOA FESTIVAL:

CHS Wind Ensemble: First Division Rating at Pinckney High School.

CHS Symphonic Band: First Division Rating at Kimball High School.

CJHS Seventh-Grade Band: First Division Rating at Berkley High School.

CJHS Eighth-Grade Band: First Division Rating at Berkley High School.

CJHS Ninth-Grade Band: Second Division Rating at Berkley High School.

SJHS Eighth-Grade Band: Second Division Rating at Berkley High School.

SJHS Symphony Band: First Division Rating at Berkley High School.

SJHS Ninth-Grade Band: First Division Rating at Berkley High School.

STATE MSBOA FESTIVAL: (All bands performed at North Farmington High School.)

CHS Wind Ensemble: First Division Rating.

CHS Symphonic Band: First Division Rating.

CJHS Seventh-Grade Band: First Division Rating.

CJHS Eighth-Grade Band: Second Division Rating.

SJHS Symphony Band: First Division Rating.

SJHS Ninth-Grade Band: First Division Rating.

MSBOA REGIONAL JAZZ FESTIVAL: (Held April 11 at Farmington Harrison High School.)

CJHS Jazz Ensemble: Superior Rating (First Division) in concert performance.

Cliff Chapman, director of Clarkston High School's instrumental music, said it was a first for Clarkston schools in that bands from all three schools received superior performance ratings at the state level.

He said the junior high programs — directed by Doug Doty at Sashabaw Junior High and Juile Mathews at Clarkston Junior High — deserve credit.

"Both schools are standing on their own merit, through the strength of the faculty and the commitment and enthusiasm of the students and parents," he said.

For the state festival, more than 20,000 band and orchestra students from 321 Michigan junior and senior high schools performed. They were judged by 60 experts in panels of four on performance ability and sightreading.

The bands qualified for the state festival by receiving superior ratings at district festivals, which were attended by more than 1,300 bands and orchestras from over 1,200 schools in 16 districts throughout the state.

Spring concert set for May 14

If you haven't heard the award-winning Symphonic Band and Wind Ensemble from Clarkston High School yet, you're in luck.

The final concert of the season is planned for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 14, in the CHS Kirchgessner Theater — and it's free. A reception follows in the CHS cafeteria.

Both ensembles will present a varied program of wind and percussion music, including performances by two soloists and the CHS Percussion Ensemble.

Shane Brown, a CHS senior, will perform a baritone solo with band entitled "Beautiful Colorado." Shane currently is student director of CHS bands and will be attending Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, as an instrumental music major this fall.

Guest artist for the evening will be Prof. Carter Eggers of Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, performing the Jean Baptiste Arban version of the "Carnival of Venice." Eggers is in demand as a trumpet clinician and soloist throughout Michigan and the Midwest, having been on the EMU faculty since 1968.

The CHS Percussion Ensemble will perform Aram Katchaturian's popular "Sabre Dance" in addition to both bands presenting works by Ralph Vaughn Williams, Percy Grainger, John Barnes Chance, Clifton Williams, Karl L. King and John Phillip Sousa, among others.

Final buffet May 21

The last day to try the tasty meals prepared by students at the Oakland Technical Center-Northwest Campus is Thursday, May 21.

The final buffet is planned for 11:30 a.m. that day at the Northwest Inn. Price is $6.95. The menu includes an array of appetizers, salads, entrees, accompaniments, breads and pastries. Call 625-5363 for reservations.

Youth job openings

Those ages 14-21 may get a little help in job hunting this summer.

Applications are now accepted for Clarkston schools' Summer Youth Employment and Training Program.

Funded through the Department of Labor, the program provides employment opportunities to youth who meet certain income guidelines or have a disability or handicap.

Jobs available include clerical aides, library aides, maintenance positions, SCAMP aides, and positions with the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department.

Each candidate will be interviewed to determine if he or she is eligible for the program, and an effort will be made to match jobs with interest.

For more information or to apply, contact the Clarkston Career Center, 5275 Maybee Road, Independence Township, (674-4791) 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

Gardeners, take note

If your sedum or English ivy is out of control, or if you have an empty spot in your yard, you may want to take part in the Fourth Annual Plant Exchange on Saturday, May 23.

Sponsored by the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club, the exchange takes place 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, May 23, at the corner of Main and Washington streets, Clarkston.

The idea is to share surplus plants with others or to add a few specimens to your own collection. And, best of all — you need not bring plants in order to take plants, says Gini Schultz.

For more information, call Schultz at 625-3122.

Energy and enthusiasm

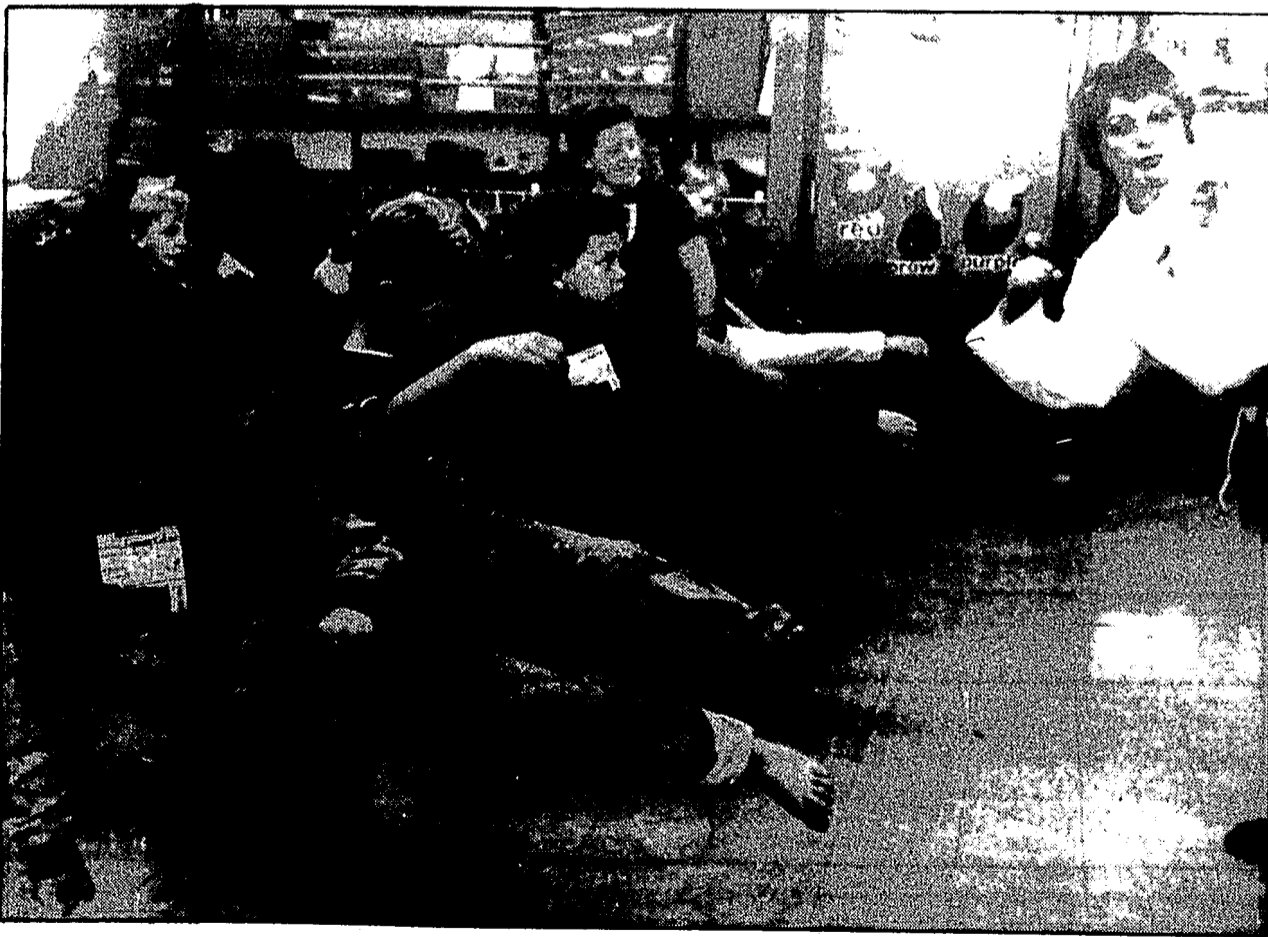

TERRI Bedes (kneeling at left) prepares the face mask of Monica Rivera, while the other children wait for theirs to dry. The event was part of Festival of the Arts at North Sashabaw Elementary School. (Photos by Julie Campe)

DURING origami instruction, pupils such as Elliott Ashwell made colorful folded-paper art, such as a Japanese warrior hat. Other art options for the day included copper foiling, street dancing, calligraphy, Karaoke and more.

BRADLEY Cohoon (front) and classmates shout when they perform a Karate move, as demonstrated by their instructor for the day. The class showed much exuberance.

TAKING a turn at the potter's wheel is Derek Pritchard, 7, a first-grader. He received a few helpful tips from potter Edwin Grix.
