Fire station sites pondered

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The search for a new fire station site continues, as Independence Township Fire Chief Gar Wilson attempts to get price quotes from land owners.

Presently, Wilson and a township search committee has come up with about seven options. These properties include: Citation Drive; two 3 1/2-acre parcels on M-15, north of I-75; one parcel, 2-10 acres on M-15, north of I-

75; the Galligan residence of two acres on M-15, north of I-75; the Pontiac Osteopathic site on Dixie Highway and White Lake Road; about an acre of land belonging to Dr. James O'Neill and Charles Munk on M-15; and the Ritter property, 1-2 acres on M-15 behind Bowman Chevrolet.

Wilson considers the three sites north of I-75 to be the last options because their locations could hinder the department's response time. He wants a station along M-15 with quick access to both I-75 and Dixie Highway, making the Ritter property, O'Neill's land and property along Citation Drive his top choices.

However, he's not sure when he'll be able to secure quotes from these land owners.

"It could take a while to get quotes," Wilson told the board on May 18. "The owners could be hesitant to tip their hands right away."

Fire station No. 1 was sold to Clarkston businessmen Dick and John Morgan nearly a year ago. Starting this month, the township began paying $2,000 a month plus taxes to stay in the building.

Early last year, the township planned to build a new station near the intersection of M-15 and Dixie Highway. (See LOCATION, next page)

Don't forget to vote on Proposal A June 2

Don't forget to vote Wednesday, June 2, in the statewide special election.

Polls are open 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. The only item on the ballot is Proposal A, a constitutional amendment to cut property taxes, fund schools and increase the sales tax.

For an explanation of the ballot issue, see Page 5A.

Memorial Parade honors war dead

Clarkston's Memorial Day Parade takes place at 10 a.m. Monday, May 31, in downtown Clarkston.

Members of American Legion Campbell Richmond Post 63 and Chief Pontiac Post 377 invite community members to join in honoring those veterans who gave their lives in service to their country.

The parade begins at the corner of Church and Buffalo streets, travels to Main Street, travels north to Washington Street, west to Holcomb Road, then south to the veterans' plot in Lakeview Cemetery, Independence Township.

At the cemetery, a memorial service includes the National Anthem by the Clarkston High School Band, the invocation, "America the Beautiful," roll call of deceased veterans, "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the Gettysburg Address, "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," presentation of memorial wreath, rifle volley, taps and benediction.

Post Commander Larry Perysian requests that no horses, autos or decorated bikes enter the parade because of the solemn purpose of the day and the ending of the parade at Lakeview Cemetery.

Blaze blocks traffic

FIREFIGHTERS work on a truck fire 9 a.m. Wednesday, May 19, on Maybee Road near Williamson. According to Engineer Chris Norberg of the Independence Township Fire Department, the blower motor caught on fire and consumed the entire truck. The two passengers escaped without injury, and no firefighters were hurt. Maybee Road traffic was blocked a short time. (Photo by Barbara Passmore)

'Sound wall' for I-75

The Independence Township Board encourages the public to attend its June 1 meeting, when it will discuss the possibility of placing a sound wall at the intersection of M-15 and I-75.

The board is looking for input from the community on the proposed wall, which would stand 13 feet tall and measure 1,800 feet long. This sound wall would run alongside the northbound off ramp and help shield traffic noise from nearby homes.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the township annex, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston. For more information, call the township at 625-5111.

Location of station pondered

However, O'Neill withdrew his offer to donate the land because of public division over construction of a new station.

Many residents felt the township had no right to build such a facility, when two prior issues had been nixed at the polls.

Wilson said he has $229,000 in the bank, plus land on the corner of Waldon and M-15 that he could sell to help pay for the new station. However, this money is presently used to pay rent on Station No. 1.

Wilson said the price tag for a new station would exceed $1 million. He said the township is doing its best to keep the public informed, so it will be more supportive this time around.

"We're trying to walk through this, so the public knows what we're doing," he said. "We're hoping to get their blessing instead of fighting with them again."

As of now, the township has yet to devise a financial strategy of how they'll pay for a new station once a site is secured.

Community week awards honor 7

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

Stories, humor and earnest talk about helping the community were part of the Eighth Annual Michigan Week Community Awards Breakfast last week.

The Clarkston-area program at Spring Lake Country Club was "a tribute to community service" and included state Legislature proclamations presented by state Rep. Tom Middleton, plaques and lots of applause.

Inga Girschner, citizen

A standing ovation greeted Inga Girschner of Independence Township, who received the Citizen of the Year Award.

Inga, a 25-year resident of the area, has volunteered in many civic organizations, usually behind the scenes, said presenter Don Kevern, last year's winner.

She delivers everyday "meals on wheels" to senior citizens and disabled residents in the community, volunteers for Kids Connection (latch key) at Bailey Lake Elementary School, and is a member of the Independence Land Conservancy, Clarkston Area Optimists, and Clarkston Area Youth Assistance (and CAYA PLUS Committee). Over the years, she also has helped handicapped children learn to ride horses.

As Inga approached the podium to accept her award, people in different parts of the audience spontaneously rose to their feet with applause.

Taking out her notes, Inga — a senior citizen herself — said she loved helping animals, children and seniors.

"I love this community and the beauty surrounding it," she said, adding that she did not expect recognition but now would "try to live up to this image."

Chris Lewis, young adult citizen

Mary Halpin, last year's Volunteer of the Year, presented the Young Adult Citizen of the Year Award to Chris Lewis, a Clarkston High School junior.

Lewis is president of the CHS Interact Club, sponsored by Clarkston Rotary. He volunteers for Adopt-A-Highway, has organized support for the Pontiac Soup Kitchen, has directed exchange programs with other high schools, helps with Clarkston Fun Daze, has organized clothing drives for Lighthouse North and more.

He's "very committed," said Halpin.

After receiving his award, Lewis said volunteering is important. "You can do so much by giving so little. ... It can really change your life."

Middleton said Lewis was one of "the lucky ones" who has discovered the benefits of volunteerism.

"Once you get that bug, it sticks with you," Middleton said.

Del Lohff, business person

Bob Beattie, last year's Business Person of the Year, presented this year's business award to Del Lohff, who was unable to attend the banquet because he was in Washington, D.C.

Lohff, owner of Kieft Engineering, has been involved in many community projects through church, Rotary and on his own. The projects include the SCAMP golf outing, Goodfellows, Christmas decorations downtown, senior citizens' van, Labor Day Parade and more.

Through his work as a business person and as a volunteer, he has "ensured that Clarkston is a beautiful place to live," said Beattie.

Lohff's partner, Jim Scharl, accepted the award on his behalf. Scharl said Lohff deserved the honors and mentioned some of his contributions to the community.

"He did get us involved in cleaning up (in the parade), but why is it that I have to walk behind the horses?" joked Scharl.

Pine Knob Music Theater, property beautification

Fred Ritter, a past winner of the property beautification award, presented this year's award to Pine Knob Music Theater.

"Historically, Pine Knob has brought a lot of recognition to the township," Ritter said. "It's a real asset to the community."

He noted that many people don't recognize "Clarkston" but always know where Pine Knob is.

Pine Knob has functionally improved its facilities by tripling concessions, doubling the bathrooms and adding courtesy lights. Officials also increased traffic flow by 50 percent by adding an entrance and exit drive. Plus, they padded the about 7,000 pavilion seats, which not only are more comfortable but also absorb more sound, so it won't escape and bother neighbors.

Technical improvements include new video screens and sound containment in the form of baffles, landscaping and the padded seating.

The aesthetic improvements "and the reason they're here," said Ritter, include beautiful landscaping, brick pathways, picnic areas and gazebos, fieldstone walls, pre-cast stone retaining walls and waterfalls.

The total $12 million in renovations so far was well spent and benefits the entire community, said Ritter, adding that complaints from area residents have decreased dramatically under Pine Knob's new management.

Ron Woodbridge, director of special projects for Pine Knob, accepted the award.

"Over three years ago, when we bought old Pine Knob in November of 1990, we knew we had a challenge." (See VOLUNTEERS, next page) a laugh with John Spillum (right). Kingsbury received the historic preservation award.

INGA Girschner tells listeners, "I love this community and the beauty surrounding it."

said. "We put a lot of effort into them."

Sharon Kingsbury, historic preservation

Mary Beth Huttenlocher, last year's historic preservation award-winner, presented this year's award to Sharon Kingsbury.

Kingsbury moved to the community three years ago and already has made herself invaluable, said Huttenlocher.

In the past two years, she has spent hundreds of hours working on the local history room at the Independence Township Library.

She was trained as an "accessionist," which means she is in charge of recording acquisitions in the history room. That requires classification, computerization, identification and storage of each item in an acid-free container.

The Clarkston Community Historical Society is lucky to have her help, said Huttenlocher.

Kingsbury said her work is "a job I thoroughly enjoy."

She said she's gradually getting to know the present people of the community and added, "I probably know more about your pasts than you do."

Jim and Kay Bryson, adult youth volunteers

Dale Ryan, last year's recipient of the adult youth volunteer award, said this year's winners were "extremely dedicated to youth in Clarkston."

Jim and Kay Bryson "care deeply for kids" and show it by spending hours leading and supporting youth through Clarkston United Methodist Church and Girl Scouts.

Middleton praised the Brysons' involvement. "The more you work with youth, the more you can break down that generation gap," he said.

After the honors, master of ceremonies Brent Cooley thanked organizers Buck Kopietz, Tom McCloskey and Marc Moses. He also thanked the community organizations that helped choose award recipients: Clarkston Rotary, Clarkston Area Optimists, Clarkston Chamber of Commerce, Clarkston Community Historical Society, Clarkston Area Youth Assistance, and Clarkston Area Farm and Garden Club.

"When people support one another, good things happen," said Cooley.

Tom Middleton while he approaches the podium and M.C. Brent Cooley.

Gregg's gourmet skills a treat for Clarkston palates

Gregg Ryeson's love for great food and culinary treats is exemplified by the tasty gourmet foods he offers daily.

Gregg's Gourmet Cafe, formerly Gregg's Carry-out and Catering, has a new look and a new name at its 5914 S. Main St. location, though it still offers carryout and catering, as well as seating for 35.

And the menu still reflects the owner's desire to please his patrons. Popular as ever are the daily specials and the huge assortment of regular items, such as baby back ribs, stacked subs, gourmet pizzas and chicken served any way but fried.

Gregg also has added new items to this already mouth-watering menu: skewered Gulf shrimp with wild rice, chicken marsala and pasta primavera.

The tasty gourmet foods are simply filling a need in the Clarkston area, says Gregg.

"The current franchise explosion has forgotten good old homemade quality," he says. "Everything we do is homemade with fresh natural products ... no MSG (monosodium glutamate)."

The response to his culinary offerings so far shows he's on the right track.

Highland House Restaurant, I started as a bus boy," he says.

He has also owned and operated E.G. Nick's Carry-out and Catering in West Bloomfield and worked for five years at the Appeteezer restaurant in Milford.

Gregg says his love of cooking all started with home economics classes in Clarkston schools.

"I have come full circle," he says. "I started in the restaurant business when I was in high school. ... Now I'm back in Clarkston."

Proposal A: What it says and what it means

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

On June 2, Michigan residents will be asked to vote yes or no on Proposal A -- but do you know what it means?

Proposal A is a change to the state constitution and includes five main parts. A breakdown of what each section says and means follows.

The ballot question starts off with: "Proposal A: A proposal to limit annual increases in all property tax assessments, reduce maximum school operating taxes, increase the state sales and use tax rates from 4 percent to 6 percent, constitutionally dedicate funds for local schools and set a per-pupil funding guarantee."

The specifics of the proposal are listed separately below, with the actual ballot wording in bold. Our explanation follows each portion.

Limit for each property parcel (excluding new construction) annual assessment increase to 5 percent or the inflation rate, whichever is less. When property is sold or transferred, adjust assessment according to current market value.

What it means: If approved, this means that the dollar amount used to figure your property taxes won't skyrocket each year if the property values increase in your area.

Instead, the amount will increase at the rate of inflation or 5 percent -- whichever is less. This starts with 1993 taxes.

For example, if your home was valued at $100,000 in 1992, at most, your home would be listed for tax purposes in 1993 as being worth 105,000 (and would be

Teens sentenced in crime spree

Two 18-year-old Pontiac men pleaded no contest and were sentenced for crimes committed in a March crime spree.

Daniel May and Mickey Petri were linked to robberies in Independence Township, Waterford Township, Rochester Hills and Rochester. The two also were charged with the thefts of two Independence Township cars.

On May 21, Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Rudy Nichols sentenced the men to: 3-10 years for breaking and entering, 3-5 years for larceny of a fire arm, 20-30 months for attempted unlawful driving away of a vehicle, 3-5 years each for two counts of unlawful driving away of a vehicle, 3-20 years each on three counts of armed robbery, and two consecutive years each for three felony firearm charges.

May and Petri allegedly stole a car on March 9 in Independence Township. It was later abandoned and recovered. Then, on March 16, the two allegedly stole another car and robbed Jerry's Gun Shop in Rochester and later Carl's Party Store in Waterford.

The next day at 11:45 p.m., the Clarkston Oil gas station at Sashabaw and Pelton was robbed. An hour later, a Total gas station in Rochester Hills was robbed.

Auburn Hills police tried later apprehended May and Petri in Pontiac.

Secretary of State closed for holidays

On summer holidays, all Secretary of State branch offices will be closed.

That means the Clarkston office will be closed on Monday, May 31, for Memorial Day; Monday, July 5, for Independence Day; and Monday, Sept. 6, for Labor Day.

Memorial Day

Memorial Day began as "Decoration Day" May 30, 1868 -- a day to strew with flowers or otherwise decorate the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country.

President Lyndon Johnson and Congress changed Decoration Day on June 28, 1968, to the last Monday in May to make a weekend holiday. It is now called Memorial Day.

This Sunday, May 30, members of Campbell Richmond Post 63 of the American Legion will place flags on the graves of veterans at Lakeview Cemetery. A ceremony is planned for Monday.

On the ballot assessed at half that amount -- or $52,500). In five years, in 1997, that same home would be listed for tax purposes, at most, as $127,628 (and would be assessed at half that amount -- or $63,814).

However, what if inflation rises above 5 percent in the next five years? For tax purposes, your house still would be listed as $127,628.15 in 1997. But if you sold your property in 1997 for $145,000, the number for tax purposes would jump up to its market value. So the new homeowner would be assessed at half that amount ($72,500).

Reduce maximum school operating taxes to 18 non-voted mills. Permit districts to levy up to 9 additional voted mills.

If Proposal A is approved, a local school district could levy up to 18 mills without voter approval, and up to an additional nine mills with voter approval for a total of 27 mills.

In Clarkston Community Schools, the current school operating millage rate is 38.83. So that number would automatically be rolled back to 18 mills.

For estimation purposes, assume that in 1994, voters approve a 3 percent increase over the current-year "base" funding. That means the 1994 millage rate would be 21.84 mills (adjusted for the school district's bond issue and for Oakland Community College mills).

That amounts to a 43.75 percent reduction in the millage rate for Clarkston schools.

But the school district won't lose 43.75 percent of its budget -- instead, the state will reimburse it.

Here's how: In the 1992-93 school year, the state paid for contributions for district employees' Social Security and Public School Employee Retirement System. That amount, plus local revenue from property owners, gave Clarkston $5,112 per pupil during the school year.

In the 1993-94 school year -- with Proposal A in effect -- the amount per pupil would increase by $153 to $5,266. However, if Proposal A is approved, the state will no longer pay Social Security and retirement amounts -- worth about $3.3 million in Clarkston schools.

Reduce 50-mill maximum property tax limit to 40 mills.

Right now, state law caps a community's overall property tax levy to 50 mills total for schools and township. That means that taxes for any purpose -- schools, township general fund, police coverage, fire coverage, library services -- cannot exceed 50 mills.

The new law would cap that amount at 40 mills.

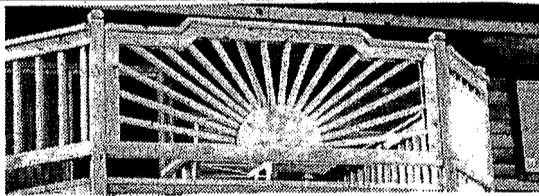

Early deadlines

Early deadlines are in place for the Wednesday, June 2, issue of The Clarkston News.

THE PROFESSIONAL CHOICE

For example, the overall total mills on the average tax bill in the Clarkston school district in 1992 for Independence Township was 48.3505 (excluding county mills). That amount could not exceed 40 if Proposal A is approved.

In the Clarkston school district for Springfield Township, the millage rate (minus county mills) is 36.4181.

Clarkston city residents pay 51.2277 mills for the school and city now but would be limited 40 mills if Proposal A takes effect.

Local township and city officials are unsure how Proposal A will affect their municipalities. It appears that there will be no direct effect, but there may be indirect effects if state legislators don't give share as much revenue with local governments as in the past.

Increase state sales and use tax rates to 6 percent. Dedicate this additional revenue and lottery proceeds to schools.

The tax increase of 2 cents would begin on July 17, 1993. Food and prescription drugs would still be tax-free. The additional money raised from the sales tax increase -- estimated at $1.7 billion in 1994 -- would be deposited in the state school aid fund.

This proposal would constitutionally guarantee that the additional tax money and 100 percent of the Lottery funds would go to schools. That means the money could not be used to pay for prisons, roads, social services or anything other than schools.

How does this affect area residents? If you bought a $10,000 car today, you would pay an extra $400 in sales tax. However, with Proposal A in effect, you would pay $600 in sales tax on a $10,000 purchase.

Likewise, if you bought a $250 television for your graduating senior today, you would pay an extra $15 in sales tax. But with Proposal A in effect, you would pay $15 in sales tax on that purchase.

Establish a minimum state/local per-pupil funding guarantee, annually adjusted for revenue changes. Provide a minimum 3 percent per-pupil funding increase in 1993-1994.

This means that schools would be guaranteed $4,800 per pupil to start, and schools receiving less than that today would receive a 10 percent annual increase until they reach that figure.

Further, for each of the nine additional mills that voters may approve in the future, the state would guarantee an additional $100 per pupil.

The per-pupil amount is guaranteed by the state, regardless of how much money is generated by the 2 percent sales tax increase.

Domestic goose chase

Julie Campe

My domestic goose chase began innocently enough.

It all started when Lorna Bickerstaff told me about an odd goose that followed a horse near her daughter's house. Then Stu McTeer told me about a Canada goose on Cranberry Lake that would be a mother any day.

So off I went with my camera. I found the horse but no goose. Next, I found the nesting Canada mother goose on Cranberry Lake, but she ducked so low into her nest, I knew the photo wouldn't turn out very well. Her colors blended a little too well for black-and-white photography.

Inspired by a wading great blue heron in the same lake, I decided to try for a few more wildlife photos.

So around the lake I went and over to Perry Lake Road, where a pond was teeming with life.

Turtles covered every log, and not many even bothered to hide under the water when I approached with my camera.

I admired them immediately. What a life! To feel so relaxed and so safe that they didn't have to interrupt their day of sunning for a mere human.

But soon my attention turned to louder things. The pond was also filled with ducks, geese and some other waterfowl that looked amazingly similar to swans. These mystery birds were making such a racket that I thought I must be near their young.

I looked everywhere but could not see any young white birds with orange beaks and feet (and an orange lump on their foreheads at the top of their beaks).

And I soon found that these birds had personality. They swam to and fro, nibbling on the grasses, ducking their heads beneath the water just as swans would. Then they came right to me, honking just as geese would. One came very close and stared into my lens, so close that I soon found myself backing to my car, the bird following and honking the whole way.

I wondered, idly, if I were being shepherded away? At any rate, I took the hint and soon left the birds to their isolated pond.

Later, I looked in my field guide book to determine the identity of the friendly white wonders. But they were not mute swans (who usually hiss instead of honk and who have black beaks), nor tundra swans (who have no lump on their beaks), nor any other swan listed. It also was not included among the geese.

That led me to check out the many field guide books while visiting a book store. There were field books on waterfowl, on North American birds, on Eastern birds, on Western birds, on Northern birds—even on Mexican birds.

Nowhere could I find these fowl. So I turned to Kathleen Dougherty at the Independence Oaks Nature Center. She determined that they were not swans but geese, probably a domestic variety. She suggested I call nature center employee Joyce Figa, who lives near the pond in question. Joyce suggested I call the Murphys, who live even nearer to the geese.

The Murphys led me to Dori Edwards, who knew all about the Chinese domestic variety of geese. She raised them, along with a few other varieties, from goslings, she said.

They're beautiful to watch, she said, adding that their only drawback was their loud honking.

And so the chase finally reached its finish, back at the very pond at which it began.

Now, on to that horse-following goose ...

Editorial

Proposal A: More good than bad

Proposal A, while not perfect, contains more good points than bad and deserves a "yes" vote on Wednesday, June 2.

The statewide proposal would change Michigan's constitution. It would roll back school operating millage rates, increase the sales tax, limit annual property tax assessments and guarantee a per-pupil dollar amount for school districts.

The Clarkston News staff was split 2-1 in supporting the proposal, mostly over the issue of who will benefit most vs. who will pay most.

Clarkston schools benefit

The obvious benefit of the proposal: Clarkston Community Schools would come out a winner. Next year, the district would receive $153 more per pupil than it receives now and would have a predictable budget in the future.

Property owners benefit

Likewise, property owners also would have a predictable tax bill, with assessments increasing each year at most by 5 percent. Though the Headlee Amendment to the state constitution already limits annual millage increases to the rate of inflation, the millage rate jumps up to its full amount each time it is renewed. Hence the shorter millage terms offered by local governing bodies at present. With Proposal A, the local millage rate would be cut by nearly 44 percent — an immediate tax benefit to property owners.

This also should help business owners, who also have paid heavily in property taxes. It may even entice businesses to move to the area or at least not to leave.

Constitutional guarantee

A change to the sales tax requires a constitutional amendment, and legislators made Proposal A guarantee that state lottery money plus the entire 2 percent increase in sales tax would go to education. That means that even years from now, with an entirely different set of legislators in Lansing, the money would still have to be spent on education.

Tourists help pay sales tax

About that sales tax increase: While it's true that we all will pay more in the higher sales tax, some of that will be paid by Michigan's tourists, so the entire burden won't be placed on Michigan's residents.

Money doesn't equal better education

Now for the bad points of the proposal. As many have pointed out, more money doesn't guarantee a better education for our children. And just because local districts are guaranteed that money, it doesn't mean it will be spent wisely.

A tax shift

Further, this is merely a tax shift, possibly even a tax increase. We all will pay 2 percent more in sales tax, including the poor, who generally can't afford to own a home and therefore don't currently pay property taxes. That means Proposal A would increase their taxes proportionately more than others.

Loss of property tax credit

Plus, homeowners would lose property tax credit on income taxes, which especially would hurt senior citizens.

Unequal property taxes

Most disturbing of all, the remaining property taxes won't be equal among owners of property of equal value. From this point forward, those who have owned their homes the longest will pay the least taxes, due to the annual cap. Once a home has changed hands, it is taxed at its true market value.

And what about those areas of the state that don't experience skyrocketing property values and thus aren't unhappy with their property taxes?

They'll be hit with an increase each year regardless. Remember that Proposal A limits the annual assessment increase to the rate of inflation or 5 percent, whichever is less. Around here, a 5 percent increase sounds pretty good. But other areas of the state might find that too high.

Townships, cities could hurt in future

And one last point to ponder ... Municipalities won't be affected directly from this proposal, but they could be affected indirectly by future actions by the state Legislature.

Legislators might in the future decide not to contribute as much to townships and cities, since their requirement to return 41.6 percent of each tax dollar collected to communities would be fulfilled mostly by the per-pupil school funding guarantee. So townships or counties might ask us for higher millage rates for things like roads, fire and police coverage.

Complicated but worthwhile

All this sounds complicated, which it is. But it also is a giant step in the right direction. Proposal A would result in a net benefit to the Clarkston community.

About staff editorials

We at The Clarkston News realize that an important duty of a newspaper is to provide more than just the facts found in news stories.

Since we're out there uncovering the news, we get an inside look at the issues. In our staff editorials, we will give our opinions on those issues, just as other writing on this page — letters and columns — also offers opinions.

We leave the editorials unsigned because we've written them as a staff. Every week, we talk about the issues and take notes on everyone's opinions. Then one of us writes it and the rest of us change it until we're all satisfied.

While our opinions aren't always unanimous, our editorials reflect the majority views of the staff. If the staff splits evenly on an issue, we'll write two editorials on the subject.

We welcome your response to our views.

Come on pastor, it's 1993

This past weekend, my wife and I attended the wedding of one of her cousins.

It was a beautiful ceremony, with flowers and frills and lace. Everything was running smoothly, until the pastor opened his mouth.

Just seconds into the service, he started drawing comparisons between the relationships of man and God and man and woman. He told those in attendance that a woman should revere her man as man reveres God. The pastor went on to say that this "respect" should supersede any personal needs that the woman may have.

I've never seen so many shaking heads and dropped jaws in my life. My wife, Tammy, and I just looked at each other in amazement.

Jokingly, I responded with a thumbs up. She returned the favor by displaying her middle digit, out of sight of those around us.

I guess I couldn't blame her. This was the second consecutive wedding we've been to where this pastoral viewpoint was expressed. During the first occasion, Tammy was a bridesmaid when it happened.

At that wedding, the pastor had the gall to make the bride say "obey." The bride, so taken up by the moment, just repeated whatever he said without taking notice.

The bridesmaids and those in attendance reacted differently. Again, there were the wide eyes and the shaking of heads in disbelief.

Come on, guys, this is 1993. Hillary Clinton's in the White House. You can't be saying things like that anymore.

Now, I'm not going to get into any type of theological debate about the role of women in this world, but I think they deserve a little more credit than this. These types of ideals may have floated in the first half of the 20th Century, but not today.

It's funny that no one took either of these gentlemen to task after their statements. I attribute this to half respect, half fear.

Like a cop who's just pulled you over, you don't want to offend him or you could reap the consequences. With men of the cloth, I think people respect their "connections" ... if you know what I mean.

This type of message is far from healthy or modern. It reflects an archaic narrowness, which is scary when you consider the source.

A whimsical thought crossed my mind last Friday, as I left the church. It almost made me laugh out loud.

Wouldn't these guys be surprised if God turns out to be a woman? Then let's see them try to talk their ways out of that one.

So you worry about people living in neighborhoods frequently disturbed by drive-by shooting. But think about William Clay Ford Jr.

Ford is the victim of walk-by gawking! It certainly makes you wonder what this nation is coming to, when a person's home isn't safe from being looked at, God help us all.

Ford and his sister, Sheila Hamp, and their families live part-time on 2,000 acres they own in Cheboygan County in northern Michigan. For some dumb populist reason, the public Sturgeon River is allowed to flow through their private property, even though they aren't just any old Fords, they are Ford Motor Company Fords, for Lord's sake.

The problem is that sometimes some members of the public want to see their river, perhaps even touch it, or fish it. To reach the Sturgeon in the Ford neighborhood, the public must walk on a public path only about 200 yards - two lousy football fields - away from the Ford lodge, which is on top of a grassy slope.

To be sure, the Ford property is fenced off, and there are dozens of No Trespassing signs. But, still, people using the path can see what's on the other side of the fence.

The issue is not fishers, "but gawkers, people who come in with cameras and binoculars," said Ford spokesman John Spelich, who said the gawkers are also litterers. It's "like having a pathway through your backyard, with people stopping to look in the bedroom window."

So William Clay Ford Jr. and his sister have filed a lawsuit, now pending in Cheboygan County Circuit Court, against the state Department of Natural Resources. If the Fords win, they could bar the public from the three-mile stretch of river that runs through their property, although they say all they really want to do is get rid of the path that allows the snoop public to admire what Henry Ford wrought.

You might say a lawsuit is much more expensive and complicated than simply pulling down the shades against the terrible possibility of someone 200 yards away seeing you in your pajamas. But I say it's a great idea that should be more widely used to prevent crimes by passersby.

Recently, 14-year-old Naeem Banks was fatally shot in a drive-by shooting in front of his home in northeast Detroit. Three days after Naeem was buried, his 22-year-old brother John Banks Jr. was shot dead behind the same home.

According to the police, the two shootings were unrelated, and remain unsolved. To prevent further mayhem in the block, residents should file a lawsuit against the City of Detroit.

They should demand that the public be denied access to the public streets surrounding their neighborhood. The streets would remain open, and could be used by anyone born on the curbs.

But, as sought in the Ford lawsuit, the public wouldn't be able to see the Banks-block residents, which would fortuitously preclude shooting them.

Among several Cheboygan County residents protesting the Ford attempt to close the river pathway is a man who said: "But everybody stares at everybody's house around here. What's the big deal?"

And, according to a story in this newspaper, Ford spokesman Spelich says "the big deal is that the Fords aren't like everybody; their celebrity and wealth make security more compelling."

In other words, if you're rich and famous, people are more likely to be looking your way.

If you're poor and unknown, they're more likely to be shooting your way.

So, of course, it's more important to be safe from walk-by-gawking by someone going fishing than to be safe from drive-by shooting by someone going murdering.

If you're born wealthy enough to employ full-time lawyers and spokespersons, you quickly learn you'd rather be shot, darling, than build a beautiful home on a beautiful public river and then have the dratted public constantly staring at your home.

If you're born poor enough to be trapped in cross fire, you quickly learn it's better to be seen than hurt. And you learn to duck, or else.

Jim's Jottings

Some news fits USA Today

The newspaper, USA Today, bills itself as "No. 1 in the USA ... First in daily readership."

It was founded by Allen H. Neuharth Sept. 15, 1982, when he said, "USA Today hopes to serve as a forum for better understanding and unity to help make the USA truly one nation."

At the time Neuharth was president of Gannett. His ego and the fact Gannett was making a ton of money influenced the board to produce this 5-day daily.

They re-invented ink. They had paper made to their specifications. They hired designers, even for their newsstands to look like TV sets.

Many newspaper people, including many at Gannett, thought USA Today couldn't make money.

And, you know what? It doesn't. After 11 years, "The Nation's Newspaper" is subsidized by other Gannett papers.

I was prejudiced against USA Today from the start and rarely read it. I did often look at it. I could see newspapers copy the colorful format, the many graphics, the indexing, horizontal makeup and airyness.

This week I read one closely to see what they thought was making the news.

Front page: "Breast-feeding reduces ear infections." A professor from Arizona recommends four months minimum.

Oregon's Senator Packwood is being investigated because he lied to a newspaper's reporters. That made me wonder: Why investigate someone for lying to reporters and not investigate a politician who lies to everyone?

"Acerbic" Clinton, etc is another headline. There goes USA Today putting in an editorial opinion, just like the rest of us.

This paper has news from every state in the union on half a page. Each state gets a paragraph whether they need it or not. I suppose there are some people who think the one paragraph is too much.

USA Today steals stuff, too, just like the rest of us. They quote a columnist who wonders if the five million undocumented workers in this country will be covered by Mrs Clinton's health plan.

A sports section note causes me to wonder about the upcoming soccer matches at the Silverdome. It reads, "200 people were arrested for vandalism in the revelry following Mexico's victory ... at Toronto."

The "Money" section has conflicting stories, much like economists' views. One reads, "Confidence in housing market up." Another, "Consumer borrowing up." Then, "Growth slowing?"

I learned something in this section of USA Today: Avoid flying Japan Air Lines coach. Also, Air France, Lufthansa and Virgin. Their seats are only 16 and 17 inches wide. Midwest Express and Alaska Airlines have 21-inch seats.

But for real seat comfort, fly in MD-80's and 767's. Their seats are seven-eighths wider than other jets.

The 'Nation's Newspaper' hasn't won me over yet.

Guest Column

Proposal A a tax cut, not merely a tax shift

BY NEIL WALLACE

It is important that anyone who will be voting on Proposal A read the proposal and the plan for themselves rather than rely on knee-jerk anti-tax rhetoric posing as a surprised revelation of facts.

In the May 12 issue, James Brennan wrote the guest column venting his opposition to Proposal A. Although he accused the governor of deceit, name-calling is of no value in determining public policy.

In fact, James Brennan is a thoughtful, informed citizen who has often helped local governments with his insight and input. But, as I'm sure he would readily admit, he is absolutely opposed to taxes. It is my judgment that this has colored his view of Proposal A.

Proposal A and the plan it embodies is not perfect. It is a compromise. But it is a start to property tax reform and a reform of school funding. Both of these are areas where changes in public policy and procedure are desperately needed. Proposal A is a good first step.

The Brennan article said that the property tax savings do not take into account the Headlee Amendment and recent assessment increases. Actually, the plan will roll back the assessment increases, nullifying the need for Headlee to "kick-in."

Next, the assessment cap is a cap that is merely adjustable. But, importantly, it is adjustable at a controlled rate. The increase in assessments over the last decade or so have been anything but controlled. Yes, the property will assume full value when sold, but the purchaser will be aware of that and will make a decision to purchase based on the tax increase.

Such purchasers will then be paying tax based on their ability to pay. Currently, many people who have owned their homes for 20 or 30 years must sell them because their incomes, fixed or otherwise, cannot keep up with the uncontrolled assessments that increase without regard to their ability to pay.

Although it is true that sales taxes are not deductible and property taxes are, the so-called offset will not be significant. There will still be a net tax cut.

For one property in Clarkston, this plan will reduce the taxes by $1,400. This means that this family would have to make expenditures, other than food or medicine, of more than $70,000 before the government begins to collect more taxes. To have $70,000 in a year to spend on things other than food or medicine, a household would have to be earning in excess of $120,000 and then spend the money.

It is true that this limits only school millages. But school millages make up the bulk of the property taxes we pay. It is a faint complaint to say it doesn't reduce taxes enough because some taxes will still exist. Nothing in this plan takes away a local citizen's right to deny local governments' additional millage.

The school millages are reduced depending on the situation, but flexibility is given to the local district to add a limited number of additional mills of taxation.

This proposal does not destroy uniformity. The same uniform procedures will be used for taxing everyone. More importantly, the taxes will be based on ability to pay rather than on the inflation of property values because of the actions of neighbors selling, developing, or improving their property. There is no more fundamental constitutional principle in American freedom that individual control.

It is wrong to look at a sales tax increase in isolation to say that it will suppress economic activity. The plan of which Proposal A is a part is a net tax decrease across the state. More importantly, it significantly reduces Michigan's burdensome property tax, which acts as a barrier to new businesses that might otherwise bring jobs to our state.

These jobs and the increasing economic activity that will result would easily offset any perceived negative effect on the residential real estate market. Certainly, buyers would be more circumspect about paying inflated prices for homes — is that a bad thing? In the last 20 years, we have experienced unbelievable and unrealistic increases in the price of property.

If this property tax cut also brings some measure of stability in the real estate markets, that would be good.

Proposal A does not eliminate taxes. But his plan will have many good effects. It will increase local control because school boards will have the financial stability to concentrate on educational programs instead of being constantly bogged down, raising our property taxes. School administrators, teachers and others will be able to make long-term plans to increase the quality of our schools.

This is a tax cut, not merely a tax shift. In the first year alone, there would be a property tax rollback the entire year, but the sales tax will be in effect only for half a year.

Gov. Engler has done a very good job of cutting down the size of government and, at the same time, making it more efficient. There is still more that needs to be done, and he has proven to have the courage and wisdom to take the necessary steps.

He has offered us a property tax cut — we should not turn him down.

It is important to vote "yes" on Proposal A to cut property taxes and make a positive change in the way our schools are financed.

Masonic Temple helps CHS band

The Clarkston Band Boosters and the Clarkston Symphony Band would like to extend our sincere appreciation to the Clarkston Masonic Temple members for their efforts in raising funds for the Clarkston Commissioning Project.

Through the hard work of members of the Clarkston Lodge, the Project was able to realize $779 from the Benefit Spaghetti Dinner.

The commissioned work, "From the Halls of Westminster," composed by Mack Pittard, was given its world premiere by the Clarkston Symphony Band on Thursday, May 13, to a packed auditorium at Clarkston High School. This work was followed by the students from its inception to its completion, providing a unique opportunity to understand the expression of this art form. The students will never forget the experience.

The Clarkston Commissioning Project is an effort by the Clarkston Band Boosters to provide experiences for the band, involving the community in its support and the student in its creation. The Clarkston Foundation, the Clarkston Eagles and, of course, the Clarkston Masonic Temple can be proud of their participation in this incredible educational experience.

Many thanks to Pete Gannon and his staff!

When the warm weather arrived at the beginning of this month, we had our new pool opened by the company that installed it last summer (not a local company). Problems arose, and not being able to reach "Company X," I called Pete Gannon. Pete spent several days and many phone calls helping me straighten it out.

No, we didn't purchase my pool from him, so he didn't owe us any special courtesy. Still, he took the time and interest, and we really appreciate it (even though it's been a little too chilly to swim).

Thanks for keeping that small-town spirit alive, Pete. You've got a customer for life.

Proposal A helps Oakland County

Homeowners and job providers have a chance June 2 to rid themselves of an unfair, obsolete property tax system that for too long has forced homeowners to sell their homes, stifled economic growth in the area and continues to foster inequities among schools.

Under Proposal A, voters can sharply cut their property taxes, including recent assessment increases, without sacrificing crucial state funding for our schools. It rolls back 1993 property assessment increase to 3 percent, with subsequent increases limited to 5 percent or the rate of inflation, whichever is less.

In other words, property owners who received a double-digit increase in their assessment could tear up this year's assessment notice and expect to pay only a 3 percent hike. That's a tremendous savings.

In addition, basic local millages for schools would be constitutionally reduced to 18 mills, with the option by voters to levy up to 9 additional school operating mills.

This comprehensive proposal corrects current spending imbalances between districts by guaranteeing schools a basic per-pupil grant of $4,800. Districts under the $4,800 would be phased in at 10 percent annually.

School systems spending more than that would have a base grant at the level they are now spending plus 3 percent this year. For these districts, citizens will see a portion of the optional mills levied to retain this level of per pupil spending. This is education reform, which provides equity by bringing the bottom up instead of the top down.

Nearly four-fifths of all school districts will see at least a 10-mill drop without losing any money for operations. In the school communities that I serve — Brandon, Clarkston, Holly and Huron Valley — there will be a 17- to 20-mill drop. Oakland County Schools would see an end to the current system, which takes money from wealthier schools to provide for poorer districts. That is good news for area property owners and our children.

To make up for lost revenue, Proposal A includes a 2-cent sales tax increase. I believe it's the most fair and equitable solution, especially since an aggregate tax decrease is a part of the deal. Our current 4 cents sales tax is the lowest in the Great Lakes region, while Michigan's property taxes are third highest in the country.

Since raising the sales tax can only be done by changing the Constitution, requiring a vote of the people, there is an added measure of trust included in the proposal. Legislators will be unable to change the method of funding once it is set in place. Additionally, sales tax is collected directly through retailers, so now tourists and visitors will also help invest in our children's education.

I encourage everyone to closely examine Proposal A. It is the best vehicle for improving fairness and excellence in our education system while providing property owners with genuine tax relief.

Tom Middleton,
State Representative

Tell Washington how you feel

I wonder how many readers know that the new confiscatory tax bill proposed by the Clinton administration will be effective Jan. 1, 1993, regardless of when it is passed and implemented.

That means that if it is implemented Sept. 1, 1993 (as they plan), you will not only have higher withholding taxes, energy taxes, etc., for the last three months of 1993, but you will have to pay an additional amount to "make up" for what you did not have withheld the first nine months of 1993!

I also wonder how many readers truly believe that the deficit will be lower at the end of the Clinton administration than it was when Bush left as opposed to a bigger, more expensive government with an even higher deficit?

It's time to let your elected representation in Washington know how you feel. If you want a bigger tax bill paying for more and more government — tell them. If you want more freedom to carry on with your life with your hard-earned money rather than pay for layer upon layer of people making decisions for you — tell them!

Neighbors opt for SAD

Independence Township has agreed to consider a neighborhood's petition for a special assessment district. The township board unanimously passed a resolution of support at the May 18 meeting.

This SAD petition was filed by the residents of the area east of Almond Lane to Patrick Court on Waldon Road. They are asking for extension of water and sanitary sewer lines.

The $92,500 project gained approval from 100 percent of the residents, according to township officials.

The township will schedule a public hearing on the matter, so all viewpoints are heard.

Dinner kicks off board cooperation

Three local governing boards met April 22 to form cooperative efforts and acquaint themselves with each other in a social setting.

Members of the Independence Township Board, the City of the Village of Clarkston Council, and the Clarkston Board of Education met for dinner — at each member's own expense — and informally agreed to new levels of cooperation.

Although the three boards transacted no business, they made a commitment to work together whenever possible on mutually beneficial projects. These could include legislative issues and joint purchasing efforts to cut costs.

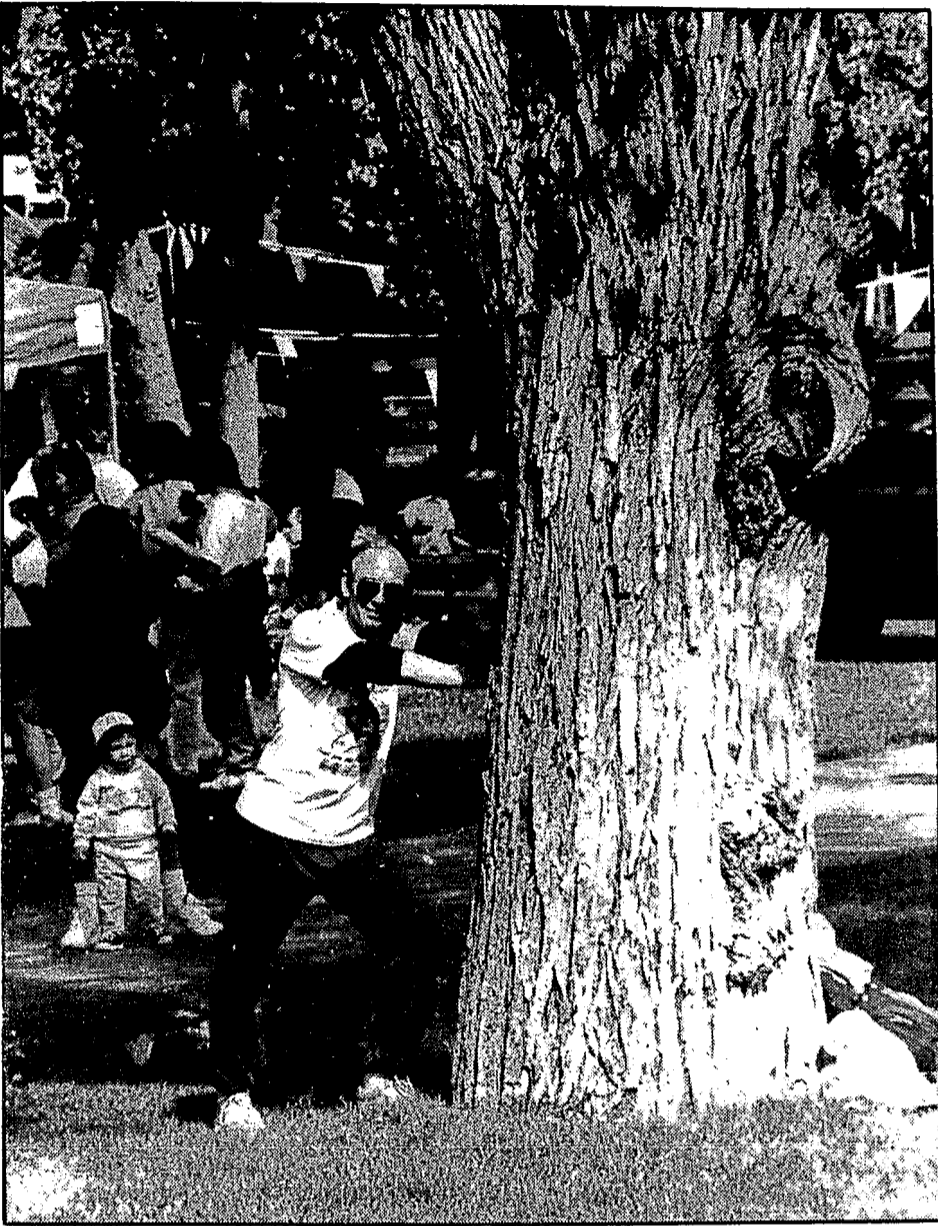

Oakland Technical Center students prepared and served the April dinner in the OTC Northwest restaurant, under the supervision of teachers Nancy Tilley, Debbie Trudeau and Mike Krystyniak, who volunteered their time for the event.

Students who participated included Steve Dowdy, Angela Wells, Caroline Freeman, Tawyna Gould, Subrena Powell, and Christopher Lee.

The boards plan to repeat their cooperative move with a mid-summer potluck dinner.

Township man leads Easter Seals merger

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

John Cocciolone is beginning a new phase of his life, and he's taking Oakland, Macomb and Wayne counties with him.

Cocciolone, 38, who lives with his wife and two sons in Independence Township, has been appointed the head of Easter Seals Society of Southeast Michigan, Inc.

What is so different about Cocciolone's new job is that ESSSM doesn't even exist — yet. The organization won't become a reality until Sept. 1, 1993.

ESSSM combines the Easter Seals programs in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties under one director. Cocciolone said this move will cut administrative overhead, help in fund-raising and improve programming.

"The staff is really excited about it," said Cocciolone, noting that no one will lose jobs because of the merger.

Cocciolone has worked for Easter Seals for nine years. He previously was program director and deputy director in Oakland County and has been executive director of Macomb County Easter Seals for the past three years.

In his present job, Cocciolone manages the operations and fund-raising for Macomb County Easter Seals. He said the therapy room across from his office means he never loses sight of who they're there to help.

"I get to know the family and I get to know the kids, so when I go to corporate sponsors I know who the money is going to," said Cocciolone.

He'll help even more people in his new job. When the ESSSM becomes a reality, the Easter Seals for Oakland and Macomb counties will be dissolved, and Wayne will leave Easter Seals of Michigan. Then they'll become one big organization. Instead of answering to the state organization, they will answer to the national Easter Seals Society.

With the merger of the three programs, Easter Seals can offer a greater variety of programs and therapies, he said.

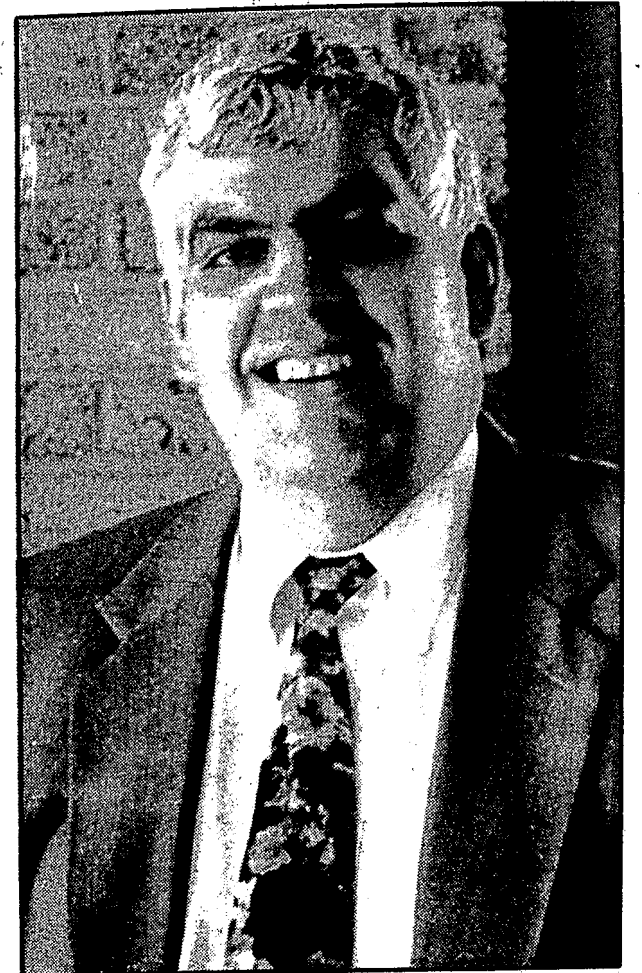

"One strength Easter Seals has always had is we develop programs based on local needs," said Cocciolone.

Cocciolone said Macomb County serves mostly children and has a wide base of pediatric therapists and programs. On the other hand, Oakland County deals mostly with adults and their problems. The merger will give the counties immediate access to the various specialists and therapists who weren't available previously.

Another advantage to the merger lies with the corporate sponsors. When a state- or nationally known company raises money for Easter Seals, people are sometimes weary that the money won't go to their neighbors who need it. By putting the three counties together, getting the money to its respective area will be much easier.

Cocciolone starts his new job June 1 and will walk the organization through the miles of paper work it takes to merge the counties. It will take a lot of time but, for Cocciolone, it is worth it.

"I love (my job)," he said. "I do it because I enjoy it."

JOHN COCCIOLONE of Independence Township has been named executive director of Easter Seals Society of Southeast Michigan, Inc. ESSSM will merge the operations of Easter Seals of Oakland, Macomb and Wayne counties into one entity Sept. 1, 1993.

Chemical weed control OK'd for Susin Lake

Susin Lake residents will receive help in weed control this year.

The Springfield Township Board voted unanimously May 13 to approve a $2,175.50 weed control allowance for Susin Lake, which is near Dixie Highway and Davisburg Road.

The proposal covers the administrative and supervisory duties associated with notifying affected residents and monitoring the actual lake treatments. The proposal is based on the original plan submitted by Aqua-Weed Control.

The treatment includes proposed applications of Aquathol, Copper and Hydrothol, chemicals that will control the weeds.

Family history book makes great baby gift

BY VIRGINIA BLOCK

One simple bit of family memorabilia can be the source of a family history being brought to life for your "future" family yet to come. Walk with us down memory lane.

Baby book

The arrival of our first great-grandchildren caused us to bring out our "baby book," lovingly written over 70 years ago by Mom.

In this long-ago kept record, pictures of Dad in his "national guard" uniform also provided a record of the battles he fought in World War I and an army serial number, making it easier for the location of military records for Dad.

A "Tin-type" photo of Granddad shows a picture of him as a man of about 33 years old, and in copying this relic of 120 years ago, it is clear to us who is responsible for the "lazy eye" problem that we find three generations later.

Will it appear in new baby Jacob? His mother had to start wearing glasses at the age of 18 months.

Another entry details the "shortening of our baby dresses, white in color, hand embroidered, in cloth called 'dimity.'"

What would today's market research do to enhance sales if we still wore handmade clothes?

If you are not keeping a diary or journal to give to the next new arrival of your kin, it's a great baby shower gift, and unique in the fact that one size fits all, is custom made and grows with the baby.

Query from California ...

A query from California seeks the burial place of the Rev. Samuel Jones and his wife, Mary Lucy Benson.

Lacking an exact death date, we started with only the knowledge that they appeared in the 1850 census, but not in the 1860.

We found them buried in Brookins Cemetery in Rose Township, and further digging from information gleaned from the cemetery records showed that "Lucy" died 1851, and Rev. Samuel is listed in the mortality records for 1860, having died in October of 1859.

The minister started his church in Rochester, Mich., soon after coming to this state in 18—

Much history of the family can be found in many local history books to photocopy and send along, but most of us find very little available to make our searches fruitful.

How do you start? By taking your birth certificate and working back.

A death record (not certificate) of either parent will also be important to provide clues to previous members of your family.

You must always begin with yourself, working back, and anyone can do it. Won't you let us help? All you have to do is let us know when you are ready.

HAPPY HUNTING.

Clarkston runs away with regional title

Wolves send six girls, one boy to state meet

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The Clarkston girls' track team captured its first regional crown in seven years this past weekend.

The Wolves garnered 64 points, which was six better than runner-up Flint Kearsley, who hosted the 18-team meet.

Besides winning the crown, the girls' squad will be sending six athletes to the June 5 Class A state meet in Grand Rapids.

They include: Leah Scharl and Kristen Stanton (high jump), Michelle Wade (discus), Angelic Brown (200 meters), and the 1600-meter relay team of Stanton, Carey Haven, Nikki Winn and Brown.

The 1600-meter relay team took first-place at Kearsley with a time of 4:11.4. Brown, who anchors this team, also won the 200-meter dash in a time of 26.6 seconds.

Wade took third in the discus with a heave of 111'3". Usually, the top two finishers in each event advances to the state meet, unless they meet state meet qualifications. Wade's throw was good enough to qualify.

Stanton and Scharl also qualified for the state meet in the high jump by clearing five feet. They ended up tying for third.

Also earning medals at the meet for Clarkston were: Wade (fourth-shot put), Rachel Seifferlein (fourth-discus), Derenda Howard (fifth-110-meter hurdles), Shannon Binkley (sixth-110-meter hurdles), Scharl (1600 and 3200) Winn (third-400 meters), the 3200-meter relay team (sixth), the 400-meter relay team (fifth) and the 800-meter relay team (fourth).

Coach Gordie Richardson said his team went in optimistic and rode a wave to the title.

"We felt we could be among the top three teams, so we tried to keep score along the way. We had some terrific performances, so we rode them all the way to the 1600-meter relay, which we won," he said. "We did it with depth. We kept the pressure on in every event. These girls definitely deserve to win. They've worked hard all season."

The boys' team also earned a state qualifier with senior Kyle Powell, who advanced in both the shot put and discus. He took second in the discus with a heave of 143'5" and grabbed third place in the shot put with a toss of 50'5". This throw met the state standard for shot put qualification.

Sophomore J.R. Kirk also took home two medals with fifth-place finishes in the high jump (6'1") and the long jump (20'4"). Kirk also advanced to the finals of the 110-meter high hurdles, but didn't place.

THE CLARKSTON girls' varsity track team brought home the regional crown from Flint Kearsley May 2. The Wolves scored 64 points to overcome an 18-team field. It's been seven years since a Clarkston girls' track squad has captured a regional title. (Photo by Curt McAllister)

Cougars top Clarkston in track showdown

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The Sashabaw Junior High track teams earned bragging rights for a year by whipping their crosstown rivals May 20.

The girls' team topped their Clarkston Junior High counterparts 83-40, and the boys' squad pounded the Wolverines 85-38.

With the win, Sashabaw's girls' team pushed its record to 5-1 on the season. Coach Amy Beattie said she's happy with her team's progression throughout the season.

"I'm extremely pleased with the way the girls have performed lately," she said. "Their performances have improved with each meet. We just keep getting better and better."

Against CJH, the Cougars won 11 events.

Sashabaw's winners included: Jackie Tripi (3200 meters), Lisa Jennings (800 meters), Tracy Warner (1600 meters), Katie York (100-meter hurdles), Lisa Gebus (70 meters and high jump), Amanda Warden (200 meters), Kammy Powell (shot put), Susan Naboychik (long jump) and the 800-meter and 1600-meter relay teams.

Jennings, who won the 800, also tied her own school record with a time of 2:36.

The Wolverines collected four first-place finishes that day. They included: Tracy Pope (55-meter hurdles and 100 meters), Heather Locher (400 meters) and the 400-meter relay team.

Sashabaw's boys' team raised its record to 4-2 with the victory. The Cougars won all but three events against Clarkston Junior High.

The individual winners were: Nick Chaffin (3200 meters), Kyle Russell (800 meters), Dennis Busch (1600 meters), Jeremy Roughton (100 meters), Pat Jones (100-meter hurdles and long jump), Eric Knake (200 meters), Ryan Kulka (shot put) and Jeff Loveless (high jump).

The Cougars were also successful with all three relay teams (400, 800 1600).

The Wolverines were paced by the first-place finishes of Todd Bauer (55-meter hurdles), Keith Medland (400 meters) and Ryan Schlaff (70 meters).

Both schools are scheduled to participate in the Oakland County Meet on June 2.

Wolf netters take second at league meet

The Clarkston varsity boys' tennis team earned the distinction of bridesmaid as they captured second place in the GOAL.

The Wolves took second place at the GOAL Meet May 19. They scored 31 points, but Lake Orion captured top honors with 38. This also marks the third consecutive undefeated regular season for the Dragons.

Coupled with a second place finish during the regular season, CHS stayed put in the standings. The Wolves finished the season with a conference record of 7-3, 10-4 overall.

At the GOAL Meet, the No. 2 doubles team of Brendan Kelly and Mike Babcock took top honors in their division. Second-place finishes were captured by Pat Wall (No. 3 singles), Jon Tan and Marc Chamberlain (No. 1 doubles) and Mike Kopec and Jeremy Doty.

Eric Bauer (No. 4 singles) and Bobby

Brazier (No. 1 singles) earned third-place distinction, while Craig Coxen (No. 2 singles) took fifth-place.

Brazier was among 10 players to be named all-league, while Kelly picked up all-GOAL academic team honors.

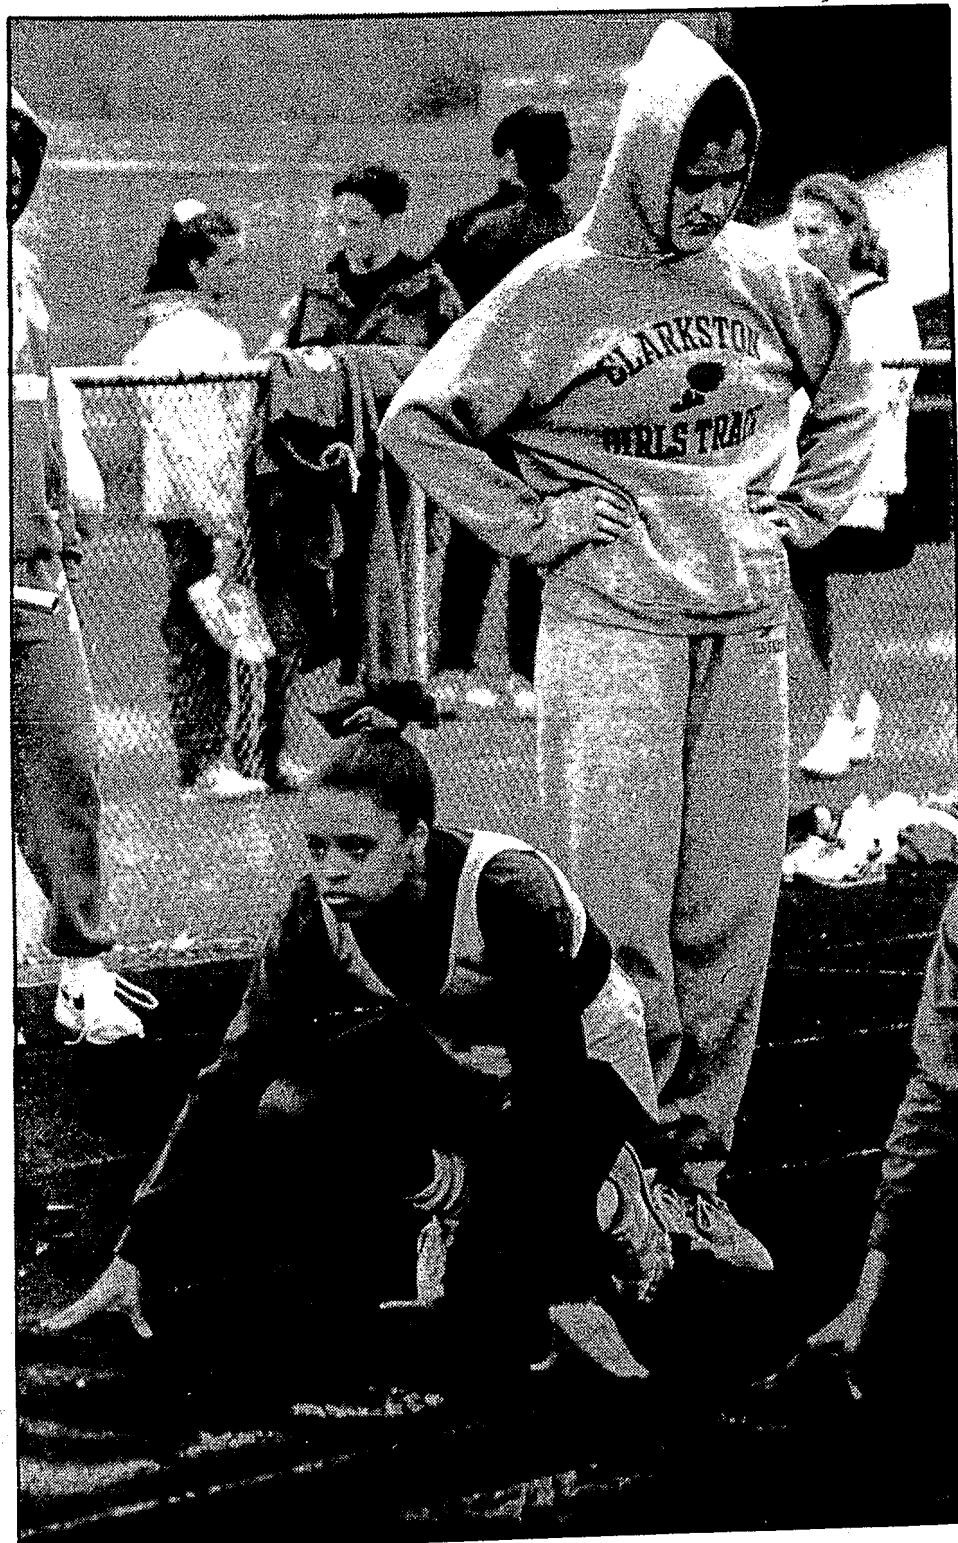

Three days later, the Wolves season ended at the regionals. CHS took seventh place out of 15 teams, with Brother Rice earning the crown.

Wall, Bauer and the doubles teams of Babcock-Kelly and Tan-Chamberlain each picked up one point by beating their opening round opponents.

CHS Coach Dick Swartout was pleased with his team's performance this season.

"I'm happy. No one wants to finish second in the league every year, but the kids played up to their abilities," he said. "Ten wins is a terrific accomplishment and something we can be proud of."

Ready to spring

ANGELIC BROWN prepares to blast out of her blocks in the 100 meters. The junior took second to Jamika McPherson of the Huskies.

Kickers win district game

The Clarkston girls' varsity soccer team won in the opening round of districts Monday by edging Waterford Mott 1-0.

The game appeared to be heading for overtime, tied 0-0, but freshman Brynn Allyn scored the winner with less than three minutes to go. Goalie Michelle Schroeder stopped six shots for the shutout.

The Wolves (4-7-2) had handily defeated the Corsairs twice during the regular season, but this contest proved to be a struggle.

"Teams always have a tendency to play tougher during playoff time," said Coach Dan Fitzgerald. "We had a lot of scoring chances in the first half, but we kept coming up empty. We didn't really have that many chances in the second half, so we were lucky to score when we did."

The Wolves will host powerhouse Grand Blanc this Wednesday, May 26. The game will start at 7 p.m.

Last Friday, CHS completed its regular season with a 2-2 tie at Lapeer West.

Lisa Brosofske and Andrea Vasold paced the Wolves with a goal apiece.

Girls whip Northern; boys lose

The Clarkston girls' track team kept its league record unblemished with a convincing 95-33 win over Pontiac Northern May 18.

The boys' squad fell to 2-3 in the GOAL with a 83-54 loss to the Huskies.

The guys started out strong with three wins in the field events. Steve Locher won the polevault while Kyle Powell captured both the discus and shot put.

From that point on, however, the Wolves only claimed two more first-place finishes. They included Brad Patterson in the 1600-meter run and the 3200-meter relay team of Patterson, Mark Deevey, Matt Wenger and Steve Cohoon.

The girls' team (5-1, 5-0 GOAL) claimed 12 first-place finishes that day.

Individually, the winners included: Rachel Seifferlein (shot put), Michelle Wade (discus), Kristen Stanton and Shannon Binkley (tie - long jump), Stanton (high jump), Derenda Howard (100-meter hurdles), Leah Scharl (1600 and 3200 meters), Nicki Hard (300-meter hurdles) and Carey Haven (800 meters).

Clarkston also had three winning relay teams. They were the 3200-meter (Sara Tredor, Carrie Mead, Lisa Herron and Beth Fletcher), the 400-meter (Melissa Lozon, Binkley, Howard and Stanton) and the 1600-meter (Stanton, Haven, Nikki Winn and Angelic Brown) squads.

Both teams will compete at the Oakland County Meet on Friday, May 28.

Recreation Roundup

HERSHEY TRACK & FIELD

This four-week conditioning program, designed for kids ages 9-14, helps them prepare for the upcoming Hershey Track and Field Local Meet at 9 a.m. Saturday, June 26. The conditioning program, led by an experienced track coach, begins May 29 at Clarkston High School's track. Winners of the local competition qualify for state and possibly national track championships.

ADULT SOCCER LEAGUES

Adult soccer leagues are forming.

The seven-week season begins the week of June 14. Women play on Wednesday nights, and men play on Thursday nights. Team fees are $200.

SUMMER ADULT VOLLEYBALL

Registration is underway for adult volleyball leagues. These sand volleyball leagues are played at Clintonwood Park. Women's leagues are on Monday nights, men's leagues on Tuesday nights, co-rec leagues on Wednesday nights, and men's doubles on Thursday nights. Call for registration and fees.

Clarkston woman named OCC coach

With only three players returning, Oakland Community College's women's basketball team will start the 1993-94 season with virtually a new roster — including the coach.

Clarkston resident Ann Serra, 26, has been named head coach of the team. She replaces Larry Hojna, who had coached the team for the past 12 years.

A familiar face on the local high school and college courts, Serra has experience at both levels. She served as head assistant coach at Oakland University, Rochester, and coach and athletic director at Our Lady of the Lakes High School, Waterford.

Under her leadership, WOLL produced a winning record, including two league championships.

Her coaching honors include Detroit Free Press Catholic Coach of the Year, Associated Press Special Honors Class D Coach of the Year, and Oakland Press 2nd Team All-County Coach of the Year. In 1990, she was named Coach of the Year by the Catholic League Coaches Association.

Serra has also earned recognition for her playing skills on the court. As a player at Oakland University, she gained national attention when she was featured on ESPN for coaching high school and playing college ball in the same season. She also continues to hold the Pioneers' record for assists in a career.

Under Coach Hojna, the OCC women's basketball program racked up an impressive record — seven conference championships, including five consecutive titles from 1986-91. Athletic Director Prentice Ryan expressed confidence in his new coach's ability to continue the tradition.

"We appreciate Larry's contributions over the years and are delighted to have someone with Anne's high school and college background as our new coach," Ryan said. "We look forward to the upcoming season and feel confident she will continue OCC's winning tradition."

Ohio team plays baseball the old-fashioned way

Baseball season is here again, and the Detroit Tigers are doing well — but they're not the only game in town.

The Ohio Historical Society has taken baseball back to its roots. Their team, the Ohio Village Muffins, plays the game of "base ball" according to the rules used during the 1860s, when the game was considered a "gentleman's sport."

Sliding, base stealing and bunting are not allowed. The ball is delivered by the "hurler" (pitcher) to the area requested by the "striker" (batter). Players may not spit or swear, and a hit ball caught on the first bounce is considered an out.

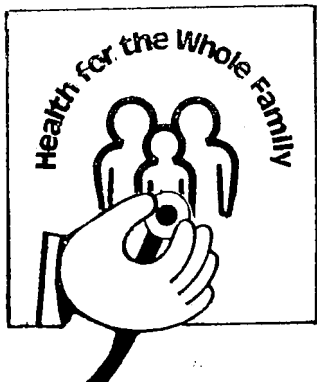

The Muffins' 19th-century equipment includes bats shaped like ax handles and balls made of leather or rubber wrapped tightly in cloth. Ball gloves are not used. The players' uniforms are fashioned after those pictured in an 1866 Currier and Ives print called "The American National Game" and consist of dark trousers, scarlet cravats, striped caps, and shield-front shirts emblazoned with a scarlet letter "M".

The Muffins play opponents from other historical societies (including the Livonia, Michigan, Historical Society), as well as teams from Columbus, Ohio-area businesses and clubs.

For more information about the Muffins, or for a 1993 schedule of their games, call the Ohio Historical Society at (614) 297-2663.

Heave-ho

JOHN LOCKWOOD of CJH tossed good enough for a third-place finish in the shotput May 20.

CHS wins GOAL crown

Lightning struck twice May 20 as the Clarkston varsity baseball team claimed its second consecutive GOAL championship.

The Wolves peppered Waterford Mott 14-4, 11-5 to clinch the title.

In the opener, CHS scored six runs in the first inning and received three hits from Aaron Phillips and two each from Scot Matusz, Scott Jenkinson and Brent Bundridge. Eric Carlson tossed a complete game four-hitter for the victory.

In the nightcap, Eric Ryan and Phillips combined on a four-hitter to beat the Corsairs. Matt Underwood hit a two-run homerun and Jeff Golec and Jenkinson each had two hits for the Wolves.

On May 22, the Wolves split with Jackson. They lost the opener 8-3, but won the second game 3-2.

In the nightcap, Bundridge drove home pinch runner Jeff Marshall to cap a two-run seventh-inning for Clarkston. Tom Doyon, who was 2-for-3, knocked in the tying run.

Mike Wood threw a complete game three-hitter to earn the victory.

Two days later, the Wolves lifted their league record to 12-1 with a 9-2 win over Brandon. Chris Simko had four hits and Underwood had two with three runs scored and an RBI. Jenkinson also went 2-for-2 with three RBIs. Jeff Mull recorded the win with a two-hitter, while striking out nine batters.

Clarkston hosts West Bloomfield on Friday, May 28.

Wolves sweep Waterford

The Clarkston girls' varsity softball team laid claim to second place in the league by downing Waterford Mott in a doubleheader.

The Wolves topped the Corsairs 8-3, 4-1 on May 20. With the sweep, CHS pushed its conference record to 9-5 overall. Brandon clinched the GOAL title last week.

In the opener, Lisa Goforth had three hits and Stephanie Giroux added two to pace Clarkston's 8-hit attack. Pitcher Erin Patterson tossed a four-hitter to hold the Corsairs to just three runs.

Patterson came back in the nightcap to toss another four-hit gem, while allowing only one Mott player to score.

The game-winning hit came in the second inning when Alyson McChesney smacked a two-run double.

Coach Al Land was pleased with the sweep and the way his team continues to evolve.

"By taking both games from Mott, it guaranteed us a second place finish behind Brandon," he said. "To finish ahead of Mott and Kettering in the league was a stepping stone to our development."

Over the weekend, CHS pushed its overall record to 17-10 with a third-place finish in the Bay City Tournament.

The Wolves lost a tough, eight-inning game to Bay City All Saints in the opener, 6-3, but they bounced back to beat Grand Rapids, Midland and DeWitt in consecutive games.

Clarkston's next game is Thursday, May 27, at Rochester.

Board approves retention pond

A car dealership, slated for Big Lake Road, was given the green light to use a retention pond on the Oakland Technical Center-Northwest campus.

On May 24, the Clarkston Board of Education unanimously approved a request from Clarkston Motors, a Clarkston Chrysler, Plymouth, Jeep and Eagle dealership.

This proposed adjacent facility is to drain only a portion of its surface water into OTC-N's 100-year retention pond, said dealership officials. A majority of the site will drain to either Clarkston Motors' retention pond or Big Lake Road.

The drainage approval was needed before Springfield Township could consider issuing building permits.

Clarkston Motors is presently located at 6673 Dixie Highway but is to relocate because it has outgrown the present facility, dealership officials said.

Portable bids tabled

The Clarkston Board of Education has decided to hold off on buying a single four-unit portable classroom for Clarkston High School.

The board unanimously tabled the matter May 24, after the school board questioned the administration's recommendations of a potential vendor.

The school board approved the purchase of four portable classrooms on April 26. These classes are needed to accommodate the ninth-grade move to CHS this fall.

On Monday, the administration recommended buying a single four-unit trailer from Insulex Panel Systems for $176,712. However, this bid was the highest of five submitted to the district.

The lowest bid was $110,916 from R.J. Taylor.

Steve Lenar, deputy superintendent of business and operations, recommended the Insulex unit because its perks exceeded those covered under the district's specifications. Board members felt this top-of-the-line submittal was unfair to the other bidders, who met the district's specification package.

So they directed Lenar to obtain bids from the other vendors for units similar to Insulex's proposal, if they exist. The matter is expected to be discussed at the board's June 14 meeting.

Host families wanted for exchange students

Families willing to host foreign exchange students for a few weeks this summer are wanted.

Alice Anderson, coordinator of International Education Forum in this area, said she still needs four host families for students and one for the young adult escort.

The youth, ages 14-18, are from Spain and speak English. They have their own spending money, as well as liability and medical insurance. Their stay is July 1 through Aug. 12.

The obligation of the host family is to make sure the kids are in a safe home, give them room and board, provide them with their own bed (they may share a bedroom), and provide transportation for the kids to pre-planned activities that start in White Lake.

Those interested should call Anderson at 698-9651 as soon as possible. Deadline is June 1.

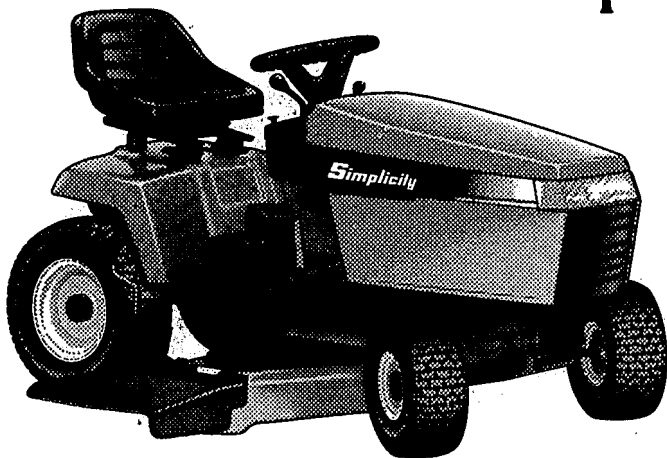

Last dance

WAITING to make the first move to the dance floor are ninth-grade students from Sashabaw and Clarkston junior high schools. After commenting on fancy clothes, press-on nails, and dates, the freshmen hang around in gender-segregated groups before moving to the dance floor. The ninth-grade dance is a traditional end-of-the-year function that allows the incoming high school students time to get to know their one-time rivals. This was the last ninth-grade dance in district history, since freshmen will attend Clarkston High School next year. (This photo was reprinted this week because the caption did not appear in last week's Clarkston News.) (Photo by Catherine Passmore)

He Never Turns Away

They come to him for help when they need it the most. Some numbed by their loss, some shattered, they say: "This is someone we loved. We entrust him to you."

And even when he's faced with the crumpled innocence of the youngest asking, "Why?"-and he has to find childlike words to answer a question that even theologians struggle with-he never turns away.

He gives them the consolation of tradition.

He shows them how to accept their tragedy with dignity.

He helps them cope with their grief.

He guides them back to the active world of the living.

He is a funeral director. He practices the most emotionally demanding and least understood of all the professions.

He faces up to traumas every day that most people only have to deal with once or twice in a lifetime.

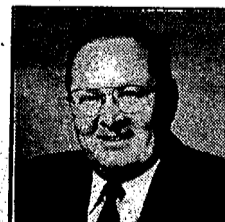

He would never turn away.

He has earned the deepest thanks from anyone who has ever leaned on his compassion for support. Who turned to him and found that he would never turn away.

Board OKs connector road for new subdivision

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The Road Commission for Oakland County flexed its muscles May 18, forcing the Independence Township Board to approve a plat with a controversial connector road.

The board voted 5-2 to approve a final preliminary plat for the Spring Lake North subdivision. Clerk Joan McCrary, Treasurer John Lutz and trustees Jeffrey McGee, Dan Travis and Mel Vaara voted in favor of the motion.

Supervisor Dale Stuart and Trustee Bruce Mercado voted no on the 33-acre, 104-lot development.

The plat was tabled from the May 4 meeting when five board members couldn't agree on the viability of a connector road from the proposed Spring Lake North development to Lake Waldon Village subdivision, which is under construction. The road would allow Waldon Road traffic to reach Maybee Road by connecting to a third subdivision, Spring Lake South.

A 125-acre site development, Lake Waldon Village, is south of Waldon Road, north of the proposed Spring Lake North, which is off Maybee Road.

Residents from the adjoining Spring Lake South subdivision oppose the connector because it would more than double traffic flow through their neighborhood, endangering the safety of its inhabitants. Together with their developer, the Selective Group, the residents asked that this access road be "gated off" and used only in emergency situations.

However, on May 18, representatives with the Road Commission voiced disapproval of this proposal. Road Commission official Dennis Acre said, "A connector would be a requirement to further development to the north."

Road Commission officials also rejected a mid-block traffic circle in the subdivision, as proposed by Hubble, Roth and Clark, the township's engineering consultant.

Primarily found on the West Coast, these traffic circles are created to slow traffic in busy areas. However, Lee Liston of the Road Commission said he opposed this option because it would be located in an unlit area and would cause "a tight squeeze for buses and other large vehicles."

McCrary said she liked the idea of a connector road

"My wife and I have finally built our dream home, and now one of its most appealing aspects is being taken away. I don't understand why our township isn't supporting us on this."

between the two developments.

"It's good planning for the entire area, and our own planning commission has spoken. I don't think we have any other choice than to approve this plan," she said.

A couple of trustees blasted the Selective Group for originally promising its residents that their development would remain an enclosed one.

"The Selective Group should have leveled with the people on the possibility of a connector road before they purchased their homes," said Trustee Daniel Travis.

Mel Vaara concurred.

"I agree with Dan that these people were steered down the wrong path," he said.

Mercado opposed the plan because he didn't see the connector road as necessarily serving the public good.

"I think it's pretty obvious that this decision had already been made prior to this meeting," he said. "I believe each individual situation must be taken into consideration."

Stuart said he voted no because he considered the traffic circle as a feasible alternative, despite its dismissal by Road Commission representatives.

About 30 Spring Lake South residents attended the meeting and were angry at the strong-arm tactics of the Road Commission, whose representatives vowed to reject any internal road plans, excluding the connector.

"I'm really disappointed in the township board and the Road Commission," said Duane Gardner of Horncliff. "My wife and I have finally built our dream home, and now one of its most appealing aspects is being taken away. I don't understand why our township isn't supporting us on this."

Liston said the connector wouldn't be built until the Lake Waldon project is completed. He estimated that construction of this road would begin in two to three years.

After the meeting, subdivision spokesperson Anne Howarth said the decision has left a bad taste in her mouth.

"To say we're disappointed would be an understatement," she said, "but I don't know how to fight the Road Commission."

She said, however, that the residents and their developer have come up with another option to help curb speeding vehicles. Howarth said they've discussed adding two 45-degree turns to their internal road system.

They intend to bring this revised plat plan back to the township board for approval.

10-acre rezoning gets first OK in split vote

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The controversial rezoning of a 10-acre parcel near Clintonville and Maybee roads was approved by the Independence Township Board May 18.

The board voted 4-3 in favor of the first reading of rezoning the property from single family residential (R1A) to suburban residential (R1B). A second reading and adoption is necessary before the rezoning takes effect.

Voting in favor of the motion were Supervisor Dale Stuart, Clerk Joan McCrary and trustees Mel Vaara and Dan Travis.

Voting no were Treasurer John Lutz and trustees Bruce Mercado and Jeffrey McGee.

This property is owned by local developer Michael Clark, who aspires to build 19 homes on the site, under the R1A designation. R1A allows for a residence to be built on a lot with a minimum of 15,000 square feet.

R1B, on the other hand, requires a 33,000-square-foot minimum lot size. This rezoning would cut Clark's total number of units from 19 to 11.

The board's approval also eliminated a short-term deferral on the property, which had been in effect since November 1991. The deferral left things status quo until the township could make land in this area adhere to approved master plan revisions.

These revisions include rezoning certain properties in Sections 25 and 36 to suburban residential to preserve the area's rural appeal.

Originally, Clark was granted preliminary plan approval on a different project, called Clintonwood Condominiums Subdivision, in February 1991. However, this plan expired a year later.

Clark would like his new plan to be the "cornerstone" project to a larger 300-acre development to the east, The Morgan Lake Golf Classic, which he intends to develop.

Stuart said the R1B rezoning was appropriate because he didn't want this "cornerstone's higher density" to exceed that of the proposed Morgan Lake project.

The land slated for this project is also master-planned R1B. However, the owners are vying for planned residential development (PRD) status.

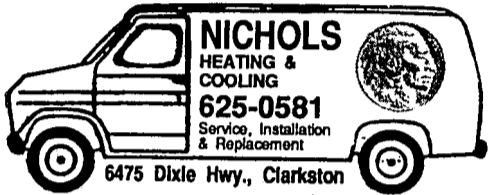

A PRD is a rezoning tied to a specific site plan larger than 160 acres. It requires planning commission and township board approval.

The three board members to vote against the rezoning cited varying reasons for their disapproval. Mercado voted no because he said he's traditionally against master plan and rezoning changes. Lutz said he was opposed because he felt these revisions were creating a "little pocket of R1Bs" among surrounding properties zoned R1A.

McGee said he opposed the rezoning because he felt the township shouldn't be taking away the present zoning privileges of a previously approved site plan, even though it expired over a year ago.

Second-reading consideration has been scheduled for the June 1 meeting.

Camp Fire day camp at Independence Oaks

Children in the area have another option for summer fun.

Camp Fire Boys and Girls offers a day camp at Independence Oaks County Park, with such activities as swimming, sports, games, archery, boating, nature studies, crafts, cookouts and more.

Camp is offered 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, with extended hours offered 7-9 a.m. and 3-6 p.m. for the convenience of working parents.

Extended hours fees are $2 per hour for the first child and $1.50 per hour for each additional child.

Each camper receives a free camp T-shirt, and financial aid is available for low-income families.

This year's themes and dates are as follows: Teen Day, July 26; Mini-camp, July 27-30; Around the World in 5 Days, Aug. 2-6; Summerfest, Aug. 9-13.

The park is at 9501 Sashabaw Road, Independence Township. For more information, call 338-4036.

Tax Freedom Day

On May 5, Michigan residents reached "Tax Freedom Day" — the day the average state resident stopped working to pay federal, state and local taxes and began bringing home wages for food, clothing and housing.

Michigan ranks 13th in the nation by taking 125 days for the average resident to earn enough money to pay federal, state and local taxes.

New York and the District of Columbia rank first because May 22 is their Tax Freedom Day, taking 142 days to earn enough money to cover the year's taxes.

South Dakota is last, with 105 days required. Its residents mark Tax Freedom Day April 15.

Summer school set

Math, English, science and social studies classes are offered this summer to students in grades 9-12.

Elective and enrichment courses also may be offered. All classes take place at Clarkston High School, off Waldon Road.

Attendance dates are June 28-July 30 (excluding July 2, 5, 9, 16 and 23). Morning classes meet 8-11; afternoon classes meet 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 a.m. Students may earn up to one full credit (1/2 credit in the morning and 1/2 credit in the afternoon).

It's possible that regular school year report cards will not be received by the starting date of summer school. It's important that students make all summer school arrangements through their counselor before the end of the regular school year.

Specific class information is available after June 1. For more information, call Ron Santavicca at 625-0900.

Children's group forms

A special group just for certain children is to meet beginning June 19.

The group for children ages 6-12 is for those who have been diagnosed with attention deficit hyperactivity disorder. It is led by clinic director Susan Einheuser, who centers her practice on children and families.

Topics to be covered include socialization skills, peer relationships, decision-making skills and anger management.

The eight-week series, offered by the Consortium for Human Development, takes place 9-10 a.m. Saturdays, beginning June 19, at the Consortium's office at 5645 Sashabaw Road, Independence Township. Fee is $120 for the series.

For more information or to register, call 625-9600.

Reunions

A family reunion is in the planning stages for anyone related to the late Robert Whitney Smith or the late Boqueen Cook Smith, who resided in the Pontiac area.

The event is planned for Labor Day weekend. For more information, call Penny or Jill at 313-557-5511.

A reunion is planned for the 7th Field Depot, USMC, which served in the Pacific during World War II and was involved in the invasions of Saipan, Tinian and Okinawa.

Organizers are looking for any former members, especially Gerald M. Hendrick, who lived in the Clarkston area many years ago. They ask that his friends or relatives send his (or other members') whereabouts to: Art Manwaring, 1444 East Street, Crete, IL 60471.

For more information, call 708-672-5811.

Grosse Pointe South High School Class of 1973 plans its 20-year reunion at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on July 17, 1993. For more information, call Class Reunions Plus at 886-0770.

Recipe corner

Cool, easy entree

Here's an easy-to-prepare shrimp salad recipe that makes a great lunch or dinner entree.

ORIENTAL SURPRISE

(Makes four servings)

- 3/4 pound cooked, peeled, deveined frozen shrimp
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen peas, cooked and drained
- 1 cup finely chopped celery
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/8 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 can (3 ounces) chow mein noodles
- 1/2 cup salted cashew nuts

Salad greens

Thaw shrimp. If large, cut shrimp in half. Combine first eight ingredients in large bowl and mix well; chill. Add noodles and nuts; toss lightly. Serve on salad greens.

QUESTION: I am 71 years old and want to purchase a home rather than move in with my children. Will there be any problem getting a mortgage because of my age?

ANSWER: You should not have any problem getting a mortgage as long as you pass the credit requirements of the bank. The law is on your side. The equal Credit Opportunity Act prohibits lenders from any type of bias in the areas of AGE, marital status, sex, income from public assistance programs. You, as a mortgage borrower, are well covered.

Your mortgage must be evaluated on the value of the property desired and your credit worthiness.

New arrivals

It's a boy for Scott B. and Kristin Tiahrt Smith of Allegan.

Jencen Walter Tiahrt Smith was born at 9:53 a.m. March 14, 1993, at Allegan General Hospital. He weighed 6 pounds, 15 ounces, and measured 20 1/2 inches long.

Proud grandparents are Warren and Barbara Tiahrt of Clarkston and Clarence and Mary Smith of Allegan.

Dr. John and April Cowan of Clarkston announce the birth of Nathan Alexander. Nathan was born at home on Sunday, May 2, 1993, at 2:59 a.m. He weighed 7 pounds and measured 21 inches long.

Nathan was welcomed home by his brothers, Nicholas Aaron, 1 1/2; Jason, 15; and Jeremy, 20.

Grandparents are Marlan and Norma Hillman of Davisburg and Ken and Joyce Bratt of St. Clair Shores. Great-grandmother is Josephine Hillman of Davisburg.

Joe Stefani and Linda Wagner are proud to announce the birth of their new daughter, Margaret Sarah Stefani.

Meggie was born April 24, 1993, at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. She weighed 7 pounds, 15 ounces, and measured 19 inches long.

Proud grandparents are Sam and Margaret Miller, formerly of Clarkston; Richard and Linda Wagner of Holly; and Jack and Karen Stafani of Luzerne.

Club notes

Rob Keen of Springfield Township was among the 123 adults and teen volunteers who spent 3 1/2 days in Lansing in March in the 4-H Capitol Experience Program.

Participants met with state legislators, lobbyists and representatives of community and state agencies to find out how government deals with key social issues chosen by participants.

The program is sponsored by Michigan State University Extension, the MSU Department of Resource Development and Michigan 4-H Youth Programs.

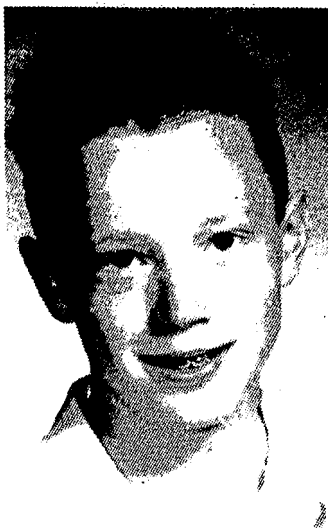

Kristen Wilcosh of Davisburg placed first in the fashion design category for 12- to 14-year-olds at the Oakland County 4-H Style Revue recently.

4-H members first attended personal appearance workshops to learn the basics of clothing construction and fashion coordination. Then, they created outfits, which they later modeled on stage. They each met with judges to be evaluated on workmanship and coordination of details at close range. Winners were chosen on the basis of neatness, fit, color coordination and use of appropriate accessories.

At school

Robert Sloan, son of Gorge and Kristen Sloan of Clarkston, pledged the Gamma Gamma chapter of the Sigma Nu fraternity. Sloan, a 1992 Clarkston High School graduate, is a student at Albion College, Albion.

Honors

Colin McIntyre, 14, is among the 84 Michigan residents selected to tour Germany, France and Belgium this summer as part of the Blue Lake Fine Arts International Choral Ensemble. The Clarkston Junior High eighth-grader will perform with the group June 23 through July 14. He is the son of Denise and Mike McIntyre of Princess Lane, Independence Township.

Lisa Brinn of Clarkston has been selected for membership in Phi Beta Kappa, a scholastic honorary society. Brinn, a 1990 graduate of Clarkston High School, is the daughter of John and Susanne Brinn of Clarkston. She is a junior majoring in biochemistry at Alma College, Alma.

Shea Rogan Kammer of Perry Lake Road, Independence Township, was among the 557 top high school seniors throughout the state to receive Regents-Alumni Scholar merit awards for "outstanding academic achievement, scholarly promise and potential contribution to the University community."

Kammer, who was selected to receive the award based on his grades, class ranking and test scores, will receive a $1,000 scholarship when he enrolls in U-M at Ann Arbor in the fall.

Kammer is a Clarkston High School senior.

Karrie M. Springer of Gibbs Road, Springfield Township, is among the 845 students earning honors at Saginaw Valley State University, Saginaw, last winter. Karrie was named to the dean's list for winter semester, which ended May 7.

Joshua Nathaniel Surre of Clarkston is among 20 of the state's top high school students who have accepted Centralis Scholar Awards to attend Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, this fall. The four-year award, worth more than $30,000, covers tuition and fees, room and board, and $500 for books and supplies each year. Surre, son of Mark and Laura Surre of Clarkston, attends Clarkston High School, where he is drum major of the marching band and a member of the National Honor Society, varsity tennis team and Drama Club. CMU selected the winners based on high school grades, standardized test scores, interviews, leadership qualities and a competitive exam. Surre said Clarkston High School teacher Clifford K. Chapman had the greatest influence on his education. "Mr. Chapman has shown me the energy with which I should pursue my dreams and has given me a never-ending love for music," he said.

Four Clarkston-area students were honored recently by Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo.

Erik Butz of Kier Road was named to the dean's list for the winter semester of the 1992-93 academic year. The son of David H. and Evelyn A. Butz, he is majoring in psychology.

Also named to the dean's list was Andrew Michael Byrne of West Church Street. A music education major, he is the son of William J. and Judith E. Byrne.

Maria F. Rovere of Walters Road also was named to the dean's list. She is majoring in art.

Amy Lynn Schmaltz, an aviation science major, has been awarded a renewable internship with the Upjohn Co. in Kalamazoo. Amy, who will be working as a line service intern at the Upjohn facility at the Kalamazoo Airport, was one of two chosen on the basis of their academic performance in their aviation major, past work history, and professor recommendations.

Amy earned her private pilot's license in August 1992 and is a member of the Sky Broncos, Western's flight club; and Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Eta Sigma, honorary academic fraternities. A 1990 Clarkston High School graduate, Amy is the daughter of Richard and Pamela Schmaltz of Ashwood Court, Independence Township.

Jill Catherine Pilarcik was awarded the Comer-Reynolds Memorial Funds Award for Best Student in Statistics and the Robert F. Cissell Memorial Fund Award at Xavier University, Cincinnati, Ohio, April 24. She is a Clarkston High School graduate.

Staci Hill, daughter of Sharyn and Bill Hill of Deer Ridge Drive, Independence Township, is the recipient of two scholarships from Alma College, Alma, for fall 1993. She received Alma's top academic award, the Trustee Honors Scholarship, which is worth $6,500 annually. And to recognize her dancing skills, she received Alma's highest Performance Scholarship Award, worth $1,500 annually. That award is offered to top performers in art, dance, music or theater. Staci intends to major in biochemistry within the pre-medicine curriculum at Alma. She also intends to continue to pursue dance, which she started at age 6. Staci also plans to apply the $500 scholarship she won as second runner-up in the 1992-93 Clarkston Young Woman of the Year competition to her studies at Alma. Staci previously applied, was accepted and received top scholarship offers totaling $11,500 annually from: Kalamazoo College, Western Michigan University and Oakland University. However, she has decided that Alma College offers the greatest opportunity in the pursuit of her goals. She intends to go to graduate school following her education at Alma.

Grads

Jennifer Bruce was graduated cum laude May 22 from Michigan Technological University, Houghton. She earned a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering. While at MTU, she was a member of Chi Epsilon National Civil Engineering Honor Society and was vice president of Student Entertainment Board.

The 1987 Clarkston High School graduate is the daughter of Sandie and the late Conrad Bruce of Clarkston and Hilda and John Sporing of Holland.

Lesley Seddon of Crabapple Drive, Independence Township, was graduated from Pontiac Business Institute, Oxford, in April 1993.

Memorial tributes may be made to the American Heart Foundation of Michigan.

Marie Krogol

Marie Krogol, 75, of Waterford died May 18, 1993. She is survived by her daughter, Linda Faught of Clarkston; grandchildren, Kelley, Todd and Sean; great-grandchildren, Shaun and Ariel; and brother, Joseph Wierzbicki of Ecorse.

Liturgy of Christian Burial was May 20 at the Lewis E. Wint and Son TRUST 100 Funeral Home, Clarkston, with the Rev. Jerome Krieg officiating. Burial was at Holy Cross Cemetery.

Edna M. White

Edna M. White, 82, formerly of Ferndale, died May 24, 1993. She was preceded in death by her husband, Joseph White.

Mrs. White is survived by her children, David White of Culleoka, Tenn., Karen White of Clarkston, Dennis White of Ann Arbor, and Nancy White of Bellevue, Washington.

She is also survived by 11 grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren; and two sisters, June Murray of North Port, Fla., and Maxene Gray of Fort Myers, Fla.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Washtenaw County Hospice.

James Hoyt Wood

James Hoyt Wood, 59, of Auburn Hills died May 22, 1993. He was preceded in death by his wife, Pauline, and father, Solomon.

Mr. Wood was employed at General Motors Truck and Bus. He was a member of the Fraternal Order of the Eagles Aerie No. 1230, Pontiac; and the American Legion, Auburn Heights Post No. 143.

He is survived by his daughter, Donna and her husband Gary Bass of Clarkston; mother, Mary Wood of Waterford; grandson, Chad Chandler; and brothers and sisters, Helen Trayhan, Paul, Harace, and Pearl Hunnicutt.

The funeral was Tuesday, May 25, at the Lewis E. Wint and Son TRUST 100 Funeral Home, Clarkston. Burial was at Ottawa Park Cemetery, Independence Township.

Memorial tributes may be made to Hospice of Southeastern Michigan.

Tent, discount offered by parks

If you're planning a graduation party, company picnic or family reunion, you may want to see what Oakland County Parks have to offer.

The park system — which includes Independence Oaks on Sashabaw Road and Springfield Oaks on Andersonville Road — rents tents for $200-$250, depending on size, with a $50 discount offered until July 1.

The white canvas tents require a flat, grassy surface, and removable sides are available by request. Tents will be assembled and dismantled by Oakland County Parks' staff in your backyard, your company's yard or other surface that will accept the tent steaks.

The park also offers four passenger buses of varying sizes — one even accommodates wheelchairs. Available year-round, prices are $215 for senior citizens, youths and adult groups visiting and Oakland County Park and $245 for adult and family groups traveling outside the park system. Buses can be reserved for up to eight hours.

Special discount rates for rental buses are offered Aug. 9 through Sept. 17. The reduced $175 fee includes bus service to Addison, Groveland or Independence Oaks County Parks. Free passenger entry is included in the rental fee.

For more information, call 858-0916.

PUBLIC NOTICE
"BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW"

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE
PUBLIC NOTICE

You are invited to attend the Regular Independence Township Board Meeting, Tuesday, June 1, 1993 at 7:30 p.m. We will be receiving public comments on the proposed construction of a noise wall. This concrete noise wall is proposed to be 1800 feet in length, 9 feet above the northbound M-15 exit. The scenic easement and trees in that area are at risk.

Respectfully Submitted,
Joan E. McCrary
Township Clerk

PUBLIC NOTICE
"BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW"

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE
NOTICE OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting of the Township Board held on May 18, 1993, the Board authorized a first reading of an ordinance to amend Ordinance No. 83, as amended, for the purpose of amending the zoning map.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE ORDAINS:

Following recommendation of the Planning Commission, and submission to and receipt of favorable recommendation from Oakland County Planning, as provided by law, the Township Board has determined it to be in the interest of the Township to amend the Zoning Ordinance of Ordinance No. 83, as amended, by re-classifying the following.

This proposed ordinance amendment will be voted upon at the next regular meeting of the Township Board, to be held on Tuesday, June 1, 1993, at 7:30 p.m., at the Independence Township Annex, 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, Michigan.

Community education at a glance

Hanging moss basket

In this class, participants learn to plant their favorite annuals in a moss-line wire basket. Class takes place 6:30-9:30 p.m. Thursday, June 3, at Sashabaw Junior High School. Class fee is $12; materials fee, $21.

STEP

Clarkston Career Center offers the Summer Training and Education Program (STEP) for teens ages 14-15 who are entering ninth grade this fall. It's designed for those who are at least one year behind in reading or math. The six-week program combines classroom learning with actual work experience, and participants are paid $4.25 per hour. Eligibility depends on family income level. (Judy Monroe, 674-4791)

For more information

Clarkston Community Schools Department of Community Education operates out of a building at 5275 Maybee Road, Independence Township. To register, to obtain a brochure, or for more information, call 674-0993. Visa or Mastercard may be used to pay enrichment class fees.

July 4th parade deadline nears

Parade-lovers can prepare now for their Fourth of July Parade entries.

The Independence Township Fire Department plans the parade for 10 a.m. Saturday, July 3, in downtown Clarkston.

This year's theme is "Volunteers for America." Deadline to enter is June 11, including the $10 entry fee.

First-, second- and third-place awards will be presented, as will be a judges' award.

For more information, call the fire department at 625-1924.

SCAMP home tour tickets still available

Tickets are still available for those interested in Clarkston Home Tour 11, offered by SCAMP on June 5 and 6.

The hour tour includes visits to five homes and two historic commercial buildings in the Village of Clarkston and surrounding Independence Township.

A patron's premiere showing 6:30-9 p.m. Saturday includes a private champagne reception at the Historic Clapboard Church on Main Street. Tickets, which are tax-deductible, are $50 per person and available in advance from Clarkston SCAMP, 6590 Middle Lake Road, Clarkston, MI 48346, or at 6:15 p.m. the night of the preview, at Main and Washington streets, in the village.

Tour hours on Sunday are noon to 5 p.m. Tickets are Proceeds benefit Clarkston SCAMP, a summer day camp for children and young adults with special needs living in northern Oakland County. For more information, call 625-3330.

Madrigals perform for Tigers, Pine Knob

Clarkston High's Madrigal Singers have the spotlight at two special events.

The Madrigals were invited to sing the National Anthem at Tiger Stadium on Wednesday, May 26.

On Thursday, June 3, the Madrigals are to perform backup vocals for Kid Fest at Pine Knob Music Theater on Pine Knob Road, Independence Township.

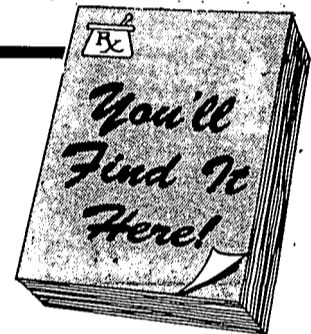

The high school singers were invited by Bob McGrath (alias "Bob" from "Sesame Street").

The students, who learned the music and arrangements in class, perform at 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Thursday, June 3, at Pine Knob. Some of their songs include "Rubber Duckie," "It's a Hard Knock Life," "Consider Yourself," and "Sing."

Vocal Music Director Grayce Warren said the high school's production of "Wizard of Oz" prepared the Madrigal Singers for performing for children.

"They're very excited about it," said Warren. "I was quite pleased they thought of us. Bob McGrath was personally very impressed with what the students are able to do."

WHO IS ON THE LORD'S SIDE? II Chr 20:20 Let Him hear that hath an ear! Worship God in Spirit and in truth! 7th Day Adventists advocate living by law and that the Sabbath of Sunday is the Mark of the Beast and that you must keep the Sabbath of Saturday or be damned. This doctrine is a result of turning from the truth of God to vain jangling and traditions of men because of Sin and unbelief. Acts 15:1, Gal 6:12,13, Gal 5:4-6, Gal 2:16, Rom 3:20, Gal 3:11,12, Gal 4:4,5, Gal 1:14, Rom 10:3,4. Note Col 2:8,14, Col 2:16,17... Note the word Sabbath! Listen to Christ's words in Matt 12:2-8 and Mk 2:27,28! Furthermore Mk 7:6,9, Jn 10:10 (first part).... Thief... which are the so called Churches, Pastors, Priests... Priests who hate to do and speak God's truth! Jn 10:4,14,16, Jn 10:27, Matt 16:23, Jn 8:43,47, Jn 9:39,41, Evil heart of unbelief. (God's righteousness-faith) Mk 10:42-45 (Self-righteousness- law), (holiness vs sin), II Tim 6:3,4, Phil 3:3... No confidence in law- self-righteous works- sin. Phil 3:9, Phil 3:18,19. Bottom line for denominations or not. II Cor 10:12, nickels- noses- numbers and self-justification rather than truth-faith! Evil heart of unbelief! This is the anti-Christ system! I Jn 2:18... note the word many!! Not one. God's commandment is the just shall live by faith. Repent!! IILX22-2c

FAMILIES, pets, senior citizens and more are off to a quick start in the Clarkston Fun Daze one-mile fun run May 22. About 500 people signed up for the three races, which also raised money for Lighthouse North. Proceeds benefit the needy in north Oakland County.

WALKING toward the 5K finish line are Elizabeth Moye (left), 10, of North Main Street and Amber Sage, 10, of Lancaster Lake Court.

They're off

RUNNING STRONG at the 10K finish line are Paul Rice (left) and John Nemens. Rice, 20, finished third in his age group and fourth overall, with 32.34. Nemens, 21, finished second in his age group and third overall in 32.32. Complete results are to be listed in next week's Clarkston News, according to parks and recreation officials.
