Samantha Lowe: 'It felt like a bee stung me'

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A 6-year-old Springfield Township girl is home and resting after she was bitten by what is believed to be a Massasauga rattlesnake.

Samantha Lowe, a first-grader at Andersonville

Elementary School, was at Indian Springs Metro Park May 26 with her babysitter and a group of Cub Scouts when the incident happened.

Mary Ann Lowe, Samantha's:

mother, said the group was on a nature walk, and Samantha stepped off the trail with one foot. "She either scared it or stepped on (the snake)," said Mrs. Lowe.

"It felt like a bee stung me," said Samantha on Tuesday, when she was off from school, still recovering from the mishap.

SCAMP Home Tour 11 set for this weekend

A peek inside Clarkston-area homes is offered this weekend through the Clarkston Home Tour 11.

The SCAMP tour features five distinguished homes and two historic commercial buildings.

Patron Evening tickets for 6:30-9 p.m. Saturday, June 5, cost $50 and include a private champagne reception at the historic clapboard church on Main Street. The evening also features a silent auction in each home and a live auction at the reception. Register at Main and Washington streets at 6:15 p.m.

The Afternoon Showing noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, June 6, costs $15 and includes a luncheon at the Clarkston Cafe for the first 400 ticketholders. The Cafe is open 1-4 p.m. Register at Main and Washington streets 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Proceeds benefit Clarkston SCAMP, a summer day camp for children and young adults with special needs. For more information, call 625-3330.

The tour includes: Andrew and Laura Creamer's English Tudor-style condominium within the Pine Knob Manor complex, Nancy M. Noonan's Country French condominium in the same complex, David Bihl and Evelyn Peppler's English "cottage" (1928) in Clarkston, Mary and Steve Himburg's clapboard farmhouse-style house on Clarkston's Mill Pond (1890), Dan and Carolyn Bielak's California-style bungalow across the street from the Himburgs, Clarkston Village Post Office on Main Street (Palladian Gothic, 1911), and the Parsonage on Main Street (pre-1900s).

Clarkston's budget discussion June 15

The 1994 budget is the topic of a public hearing Tuesday, June 15.

The 7 p.m. meeting takes place at Clarkston City Hall on Depot Road, Clarkston.

The city's 1992-93 budget was $615,272, but the new budget numbers are pending the outcome of Proposal A, which could roll back the millage rate.

At the may 24 meeting, the council worked on a proposed budget for the June 15 meeting.

Councilman William Basinger said city residents don't have to worry about the higher taxes — yet.

"We (the council) don't believe in asking for tax money until we need it. ... That is why we're waiting until we absolutely need the money before we discuss any possible tax increase whatsoever," Basinger said,

Officer of year

DETECTIVE Doug Edgar of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department was presented with the Officer of the Year Award by the department May 12. Edgar, an 18-year veteran and a resident of Fenton, has worked in the Independence Township area since 1986. Officers Steve Pierson and Larry Sage and Detective Joe Duke — all of the Independence Township sub-station, also received awards May 12. (Photo by Catherine Passmore)

Girl feeling better after snake bite

After the bite, the babysitter heard a rattle, and two boys saw a snake go back into the grass.

Samantha said the babysitter took her to the nature center and then, "all these people came, and they took me to the hospital."

The little girl was given anti-venom at Huron Valley Hospital. The next day, she was transported to the intensive care unit of the University of Michigan Medical Center, Ann Arbor. She returned home Sunday.

Mary Ann said her daughter is doing much better, but they have to keep an eye on her leg until the swelling

The Massasauga, the snake suspected of biting Samantha, is native to the eastern United States and lives in wetland areas. Officials at Indian Springs Nature Center said that hikers should wear tall boots, stay out of long grass, watch where they're stepping and stay on the trails.

If you are bitten by a snake, you should immediately call 911, stay still and don't panic. If you run or walk around after you're bitten, it will pump the venom around your body and do more damage, they said.

Not swans, not snow geese

WHAT ARE THEY? These domestic Chinese geese have long, slender necks like swans, but their loud honking gives their identity away. The pair lives in a pond off Perry Lake Road, Independence Township. They were raised from goslings by Dori Edwards, who also raised a pair of African geese (with color similar to Canada geese) on the same pond. The Chinese geese "are like watch dogs," she says, explaining that they honk at familiar sounds, such as barking dogs and people getting ready for work in the mornings. "We really like them," she says. "We feed them corn, not as much in the summer because they forage." She provides fresh water and food in the winter. (Photos by Julie Campe)

A Grand Blanc woman who hit and killed a pedestrian Nov. 16, 1991, was sentenced to six months in jail.

Angie Cox, 25, was convicted of negligent homicide in connection to the death of Scott McRae, 21. Cox said that at the time she thought she had hit a deer on Dixie Highway, Springfield Township.

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Fred Mester ordered Cox to be placed on a work release program, where she will continue her job and spend nights in jail. She is also on probation for three years and must complete 300 hours of community service. For one year, Cox's driving will be restricted to back and forth to work.

Goodfellows give $1,500 to Lighthouse

Area residents who bought Goodfellow newspapers last winter have reason to be proud.

The annual sale sponsored by the Clarkston Rotary Club and the Independence Township Fire Department raised nearly $6,000 to help needy children in the area.

"This year's sale was so successful that it not only enabled these groups to donate free shoes to the needy children of Independence Township, but also there was $1,500 left over, which was donated to Lighthouse North," said Lu Hewko of the Rotary Club.

Hewko and Chief Gar Wilson of the fire department presented the check to Sherry Kaars of Lighthouse North. Lighthouse North provides emergency food, clothing and financial assistance to the needy in north Oakland County.

Hewko said the Goodfellow sale paid for 160 pairs of shoes from Kinney Shoe Store.

During Clarkston's annual Michigan Week Community Awards May 19, good-natured jibes and ribbing were exchanged between the speakers. After one volley, Brent Cooley said, "I don't know why this should be pick-on-Fred (Ritter)-time — I thought he did very well for a change." Cooley joked that Ritter praised Pine Knob Music Theater's improvements because he had received free tickets, which people could pick up "at the exit of the car wash."

Police seek suspect in abduction attempt

A Waterford teen's quick thinking may have saved her life.

The 17-year-old was the victim of an attempted abduction May 24 in Independence Township.

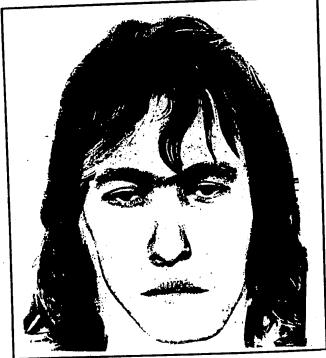

According to Detective Joe Duke of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, the girl left night school at Clarkston Community Education on Maybee Road about 9:50 p.m. last week. She walked across the street to North Sashabaw Elementary School, where her car was parked. Then five white males approached her.

Duke said one was specifically involved in the assault, and the others were bystanders. The victim told police the man grabbed her and tried to force her into her own vehicle. The girl kicked the man, got into her car, closed the door and got away.

The men followed her in an older model brown car, possibly a Monte Carlo, with gray primer on the passenger-side door. The victim lost the men in Waterford and then called the police.

The suspect has blond hair and is about 6 feet tall with a thin build. He was wearing square-shaped wire-rimmed glasses and a black leather jacket with chains and a white skull painted on one of the shoulders. He also had skull rings on the index, middle and ring fingers of both hands.

If anyone has information about the incident, they should call Detective Duke at 620-2470.

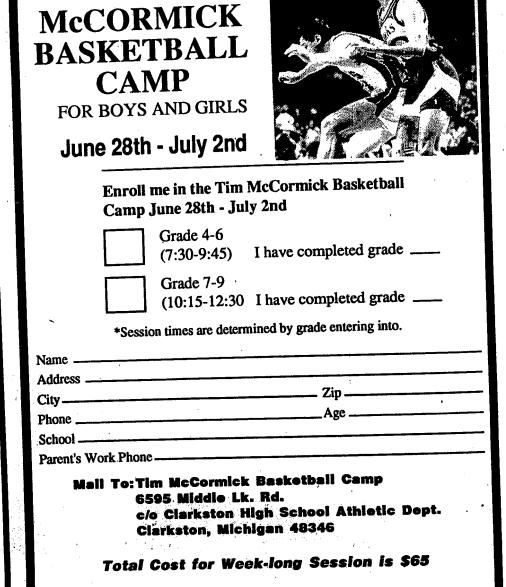

A POLICE composite sketch of the attempted abduction suspect shows a 5-foot-tall man with blond hair and a thin build.

A day to remember

Julie Campe

Memorial Day observances in Clarkston were memorable Monday, despite the rain — or perhaps because of it.

Some parade-goers still expressed surprise at the brevity of the parade itself. They must not have known that the lengthier and more moving ceremony takes place in Lakeview Cemetery.

That ceremony includes vocal music, instrumental music, a gun salute by two American Legion posts and the reading of the "Gettysburg Address."

The roll call of Clarkston's deceased war veterans always astounds me. The names go on and on and on, many of them familiar, if not for families I know personally than for families integral to the forming of this community. They ranged from: Vliet, Roberts, Yeager, Walter, Jones and Hurst to Schmude, Waterbury and Johnson.

This year, Independence Supervisor Dale Stuart addressed the gathering, speaking again of a Vliet, one who was not buried in Clarkston. In 1864, Nelson Vliet died at age 34 in Andersonville prison. He remains buried in Andersonville Cemetery, a site filled with Civil War dead, said Stuart, reminding those gathered in the cemetery of the "high cost of freedom"

More than 1 million Americans have given their lives in wars "so that you and I can write letters to the editor, travel freely and live in peace," he said.

To help grasp that number, he explained that every resident in 40 townships the size of Independence Township would have to die to equal the number of Americans killed in this country's wars.

Throughout the observances, rain sprinkled quietly on the flag-covered graves, on umbrella-cloaked people and on bare-headed youngsters, who were well behaved and respectful.

And soon the ceremony ended. Some lingered at their families' grave sites. Others walked briskly back to town or to nearby cars, back to dry quarters and to the activities of the living.

I, too, returned to the office for a few hours of work before attending my own family's gathering.

Some may not like working holidays, and I can't blame them. But for me, it was not much like work. It was a chance to observe and document one town's respect for the dead and for tradition. It was a chance to spend a few hours quietly at tasks I enjoy.

It was a chance to walk the safety paths paid for by the citizens of this community; to smell the wild honeysuckle along those paths; to see a shining Deer Lake, still sparkling despite the gray clouds; to see people from all segments of the community gather for a common purpose at the heart of the town.

And it was a chance to wonder at it all, to recall that the people of this community have been doing this for decades and will for decades hence.

And then I wasn't so sure that this was a such memorable Memorial Day afterall.

I don't know if one day I will remember that it rained on Memorial Day in 1993 and I knelt in wet grass to photograph Pastor Bob Walters giving the benediction and saw Rep. Tom Middleton bowed in prayer with Ingrid Smith at one end of the crowd and Sheila Turk at the other end.

Maybe I won't remember at all. Instead, the images and remembrances may blend with images and remembrances of Memorial Days past — and Memorial Days yet to come.

Respectful teens

This letter is to thank the young men and women who came to our home for a party after the ninth-grade dance Saturday, May 15.

Each one of these fine young adults treated our home and everyone in it with the utmost respect and consideration. No one failed to thank us for opening our home to them. It was our pleasure having them here.

We would like to thank the parents who helped provide treats for the party. And we also want to thank all of the parents who called out of concern for the well-being of their son or daughter to ensure the party would be supervised by adults. We know how difficult it is to ask the questions most parents want to know. Thanks to your concern and love, you should all be very proud of your youngster, and they of you. You did a very fine job of bringing them up.

'Stars' day great

To Clarkston Elementary Third-Grade Parents:

We want to thank Michelle Fischer for chairing our recent third-grade Reach for the Stars day.

The following is a list of the parents who presented a lesson about famous people: Sher Butzine, Irene Russell, Denise Hill, Connie Slagle, Marie Craig, Lilly De La Rosa, Sharon Cook, Tamie Lowrie, Valerie Watson, Sue Shaw, Ann Wesol, JoAnn Taylor, Joyce Grusnick, Michelle Fischer, Steve Maltrop, Denise McIntyre and Joyce Grusnick.

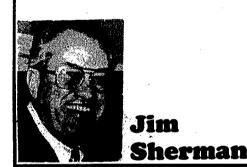

In the afternoon, our students attended an assembly with "Abraham Lincoln." They were also taught the latest country-western line dance by instructor Pauline Colbert.

The kids competed in a Jeopardy-type baseball game to determine what they learned.

A special thanks goes to all the moms who provided star cookies and lemonade. Our kids were reminded once again how they, too, can reach for the stars.

Pot-of-pourri

I've had a certain interest in organic gardening since first exposed to it as a young lad. Dad liked chemical-free growing. Actually, he liked using manure. But in the late 1940's he subscribed to Organic Gardening magazine.

It was founded by the Rodale family in 1942 and Ardath Rodale is now chairman of the board. I've subscribed from time to time and always let it expire.

But now they have my attention. The May/June issue has an article headlined, "Sexy Charantias."

Charantias are a French (what else?) melon. A Michael Maltas is growing the Alienor variety in California.

According to the magazine, the melon taste testers had this to say about Maltas' Alienor: The flavorful fruits had a kind of, well, stimulating (their italics) effect the first year it was grown--stirring up the tasters' appetites for more than just food! They tried to downplay the provocative result of the tasting, but it was too late--the word was out that Alienor may well be an edible aphrodisiac. Public interest, to say the least, was piqued.

At my age I'm still not renewing my OG subscription.

Sorry I didn't get this notice to you on time. It's from the City of Troy. Their public library had a program titled, "Why Women and Men Don't Get Along" last month.

Carol Rhodes and Norman Goldner, a couple PhD's, wrote a book on it. I'll bet it's so big'it takes a man to carry it.

I really miss reading Len Ganeway (Bob Myers) column in the Lapeer County Press. He continued to write a weekly stint for the paper he sold three years ago to Capital Cities.

But I hate the depressing way he signed off: When time, who steals our years away, Shows too, how little good we do, We know we've stayed beyond our day Our lives we can't renew.

First the license plate caught my eye. Then the car's name. It was an Arizona plate. It read, "Pearl Harbor Survivor. 010. Remember Pearl Harbor." It was on a Honda.

I still wonder at the nationality of the car/license owner.

Are there any male environmentalists without beards or excessive hair?

Reporters are sneaky (and editors sympathetic) in getting opinions into news stories. Robert Pear, writing for the New York Times, had this opinion when writing about federal government spending in fiscal 1993-94.

He wrote it "would be only, (italics are mine) about three percent more then the current year."

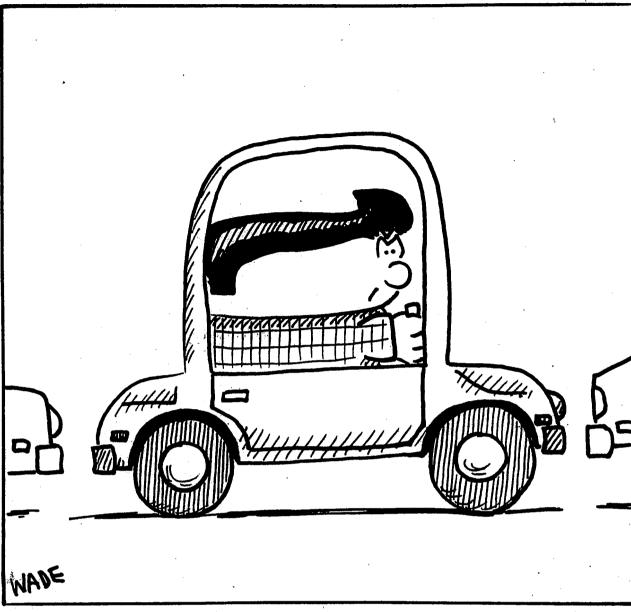

Three percent is still billions of dollars. Using the word "only" makes it sound like a bargain Congress should jump at and the public would be dumb to oppose.

Yes, it happens in our papers too.

Family ties

catherine Passmore

I was sitting at the breakfast table this past weekend with my aunt and noticed we had the same hands.

It seems so strange that people, even though they're related, can have so many similar physical and personality characteristics in common.

My aunt and I have similar hands to her mother. and her mother's mother — four generations of the same hands.

My brother has the same nose as my mom's grandmother. I realized that a couple weeks ago while looking at the wall full of ancestors we have in our family room. I had always wondered where he had gotten that nose that made him look different from Diane and I, who were both blessed with the lovely Passmore nose.

I find great enjoyment from cooking and embroidering — hobbies both of my parents dislike. They are things that my father's parents liked. I guess my grandfather was very talented when it came to embroidering, and I know my grandmother could cook Julia Child under the table.

Diane observed this weekend that discussing politics with a vengeance must be an inherited trait in our family. She said that my dad and his sister were talking up a storm about Clinton and the health plan, while my uncle and mom sat in their respective places with closed lips. Diane and I can talk politics for hours and each have degrees in it.

Guy wears a hat everywhere he goes and has before it was in style — a habit my mom's dad had.

My grandfather and his brother, who saw each other about twice in 50 years, walked the same. There was a certain stride, and when they were thinking they swung their arms and made a snapping sound with their hands.

I've noticed now that my little cousins aren't so little anymore that they are beginning to have facial expressions similar to my brother and the other male cousins on my mom's side, some of whom they've never met and the rest they only see one or two times

When my grandmother died, a couple of the older relatives I'd only met two or three times in my life told me at the funeral I had an uncanny resemblance to my grandmother in my features and movements.

Sometimes I think its unnerving to act, speak and look like another person. But at least I'll know what I will look like when I'm 80 — no surprises there, and it there is some kind of security in the knowledge.

Jim Fitzgerald

Initially, my son wasn't satisfied with his vendingmachine experience, so he...

Wait. Who talks like that? Not you, I'll bet. If you put coins in a candy machine and no candy came out, you'd say the damn machine cheated you, or robbed you, or something raw like that.

You wouldn't say: "This vending machine and I just had an experience, and I wasn't safisfied with it."

If you were wondering whether you should break off a romantic relationship, you might say, or write to Ann Landers, that you weren't satisfied with a sexual or some other intimate experience you and your partner shared.

But people often kick or otherwise attack a vending machine that doesn't spit out what it was paid for. Certainly, while beating an unresponsive Pepsi machine with your fists and feet, you wouldn't holler: "YOU DON'T SATISFY ME!"

There is, however, a large candy-bar machine in the Free Press building, near my office, that bears a small, conservatively printed sign saying: "If you're not satisfied with you vending experience, phone...'

A coworker, almost in tears, called my attention to the sign. He said he'd inserted 50 cents and got nothing back, but wasn't sure just how unsatisfactory the experience had been. He was worried that a small complaint might be misunderstood and permanently damage his relationship with the vending machine. He was afraid of making a phone call he'd later regret.

I advised him to get professional counseling before making such an important decision.

The vending subject came up during a conversation with my son, Ed. He said he'd recently paused in downtown Detroit to dine at the Lafayette Coney Island. So he could read while eating, he put 35 cents in a Free Press vending box on the corner. And the box door refused to

I asked what he did to get over such an unsatisfactory vending experience. Ed said he walked about two blocks to the Free Press building, described his loss to an understanding woman at the Customer Service window in the lobby, and was graciously given a newspaper at no added cost. Honest.

Ed said it took a little longer than he'd expected, but he ended up satisfied and bearing no resentment against the vending machine. In fact, when returning to his car, he went several steps out of his way to forgivingly pat it on

That's my boy.

Except, if he were in the building, why didn't he go up three floors to visit with dear old dad? Because he was already late for a date with a gum ball machine he didn't want to disappoint.

Too bad. Ed is an editor at a small-town newspaper, and I would have welcomed the opportunity to bring him up to date on the latest advances in big-city journalism. For example, I understand the Free Press is near to perfecting the mechanical ability to refute the latest claim made by the Detroit News in the all-important Sports Statistics

You are already intensely interested in this battle for intelligent readership, of course. It began when the Free Press claimed it publishes more baseball averages than the News does. The News countered with a long listing of the purportedly exact number of Free Presses printed over a 4-day period that didn't contain the final scores of various baseball, basketball and hockey contests played the night before.

For instance, according to the News, on May 13 the. outcome of a Giants-Rockies game was allegedly omitted from 461,049 Free Presses! After all, what well-informed person wants to struggle through an entire morning not knowing whether the Rockies play baseball, football or hockey?

I sincerely believe the Free Press will quickly devise the sophisticated journalistic technology necessary to prove the Giants-Rockies score was left out of only 461,048 papers.

Even if an editor has to take a computer out to dinner and home to bed. Even if it isn't a satisfactory experience.

Pathfinders honor four for helping disabled

BY CURT MCALLISTER Clarkston News Associate Editor

The Pathfinders To Opportunity recently honored local residents and organizations for improving the lives of Clarkston's disabled citizens.

The Pathfinders was created 1 1/2 years ago to improve the quality of life and learning for the area's young, disabled residents. They held an appreciation dinner on April 22 at the United Methodist Church to honor those who'd make a conscious effort to help others.

The award recipients included: the Greenery Health Care Center, Independence Township Parks and Recreation, Clarkston student Mike Porritt and founder Linc Smith.

The Greenery was cited for providing vocational opportunities to four residents with disabilities. The parks and recreation department was lauded for creating leisure and recreational opportunities, including a new league for people with developmental disabilities.

This league features teams from Troy, Rochester, Waterford and Independence Township.

Porritt, a junior at CHS, was recognized for creating the Pathfinders' new logo. His design was chosen from 20 submitted by students in the advertising/ design department at Oakland Technical Center-Northwest.

Smith, who's employed at CHS, was recognized for outstanding leadership in the Pathfinders, who were originally known as "What's Next."

Smith said Pathfinders help develop circles of support for disabled, young people in areas of recreation, employment, education, community living and spirituality.

"We're not a program per say," he said. "Our organization is about discussing the needs of our young people, once they leave the school setting. We handle each case individually and try to accommodate the needs of that person.

"There's a lot of young adults who stay at home, walk around with nothing to do," Smith added. "We want to change this and make their lives more fulfilling in the

The Pathfinders estimate that there are 50-75 young adults in the Clarkston area, who could benefit from their support system. For more information on this organization, call Smith at 625-0900.

Spring tune-up: a good idea for pets

Pets get cabin fever just like people. When spring arrives, pets will spend more time outside enjoying sunshine and warmer temperatures.

Unfortunately, that also means they will be closer to other animals that may be ill, rabid wildlife, and other dangers that can cause disaster if precautions are not taken Springtime is the perfect time to give a pet the gift of health, a "tune-up" at a veterinarian's office. For dogs, that should include an annual heartworm examination.

A heartworm examination consists of a blood test performed by a veterinarian. Dogs should be placed on heartworm preventative medicine on a schedule prescribed by your veterinarian. This medication comes in a liquid, chewable or tablet forms and should not be given until the dog has been tested.

Other canine and feline precautions and concerns include:

Checking for internal parasites, which can be done by giving the veterinarian the animal's stool sample.

Fleas increase during the spring and reach their peak in late summer. If your dog or cat starts scratching, check for fleas. There are several effective remedies available through your veterinarian.

■ Be sure vaccinations are up to date, particularly if you take your pet to public places such as beaches, parks or dog or cat shows.

Adult dogs should be vaccinated annually for distemper, hepatitis, Leptospirosis, parvo virus, para influenze and for rabies every three years.

Adult cats should be vaccinated annually for distemper and respiratory disease, and for rabies every three years. A vaccination for feline leukemia is also available.

For more information about pet care, contact your veterinarian or the Animal Industry Division, Michigan Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 30017, Lansing, MI 48909 or call (517) 373-1077.

Are there earwigs in your well?

If you drink well water and have ever wondered about creepy-crawly things in your water, pay attention.

Earwigs seem to have undergone some kind of population explosion this year, according to Oakland County environmental health sanitarian Dick Vincent. And some of them may be ending up in your well.

"Earwigs like a dark place to hide," Vincent said. "A few fall down (in the well) and get sucked up as parts."

Earwigs are so named, according to Webster's Dictionary, because of an erroneous belief that they seek out the human ear to crawl into. As disgusting as that sounds, listen to this description of the bug itself:

"Short, horny forewings, a pair of forceps at terminal end of abdomen and biting mouth parts."

According to the October edition of Water Well Journal, earwigs have been turning up in private wells for the last couple of years, moving west from the east coast. Mild winters have helped them expand northward.

Earwigs eat decaying plant matter and thrive in cool, moist places. Vincent said anywhere you have debris stacked, you'll find earwigs.

If your well is located near such debris, including woodpiles and landscaping covered in shredded bark, earwigs are probably there, too.

The solution is simple. Your well should have a vermin-proof cap on it. Vincent said it's easy to reach into the cap on your well vent and see if you feel a screen. If not, you may want to switch what type of cap you're using. The cost is minimal.

Vincent said he is unaware of any health problem associated with earwigs. However Water Well Journal said they cause coliform bacteria problems in wells.

Chlorination may kill the bugs but leave the bodies floating around. Debris can be removed by blowing the well out with compressed air or cleaning it with a bailer.

Natural predators help control garden, house pests

Natural predators are an important part of an integrated system of landscape and garden pest control.

Ladybird beetles and praying mantises are highly promoted and even sold through gardening catalogs.

Some larger predators, however, are not only not appreciated or encouraged in their good work, but may actually be persecuted.

"Think about it," says Glenn Dudderar, fisheries and wildlife specialist at Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension. "Have you ever seen an ad for snakes or toads?"

Bats seem to be making a little headway, thanks to their well-known appetite for mosquitoes. Some catalogs—including the 1992 official Boy Scout catalog—offer bat houses, either ready-made or as kits, to lure bats into backyards.

Few people go out of their way to make their yards attractive to toads, but homeowners generally tolerate toads. They may be startled to have one jump across their path on a summer evening, but they understand that toads are harmless creatures that eat insects. They're even sort of cute, in a lumpy, froggy sort of way.

The common toad is the gardener's ally because it eats insects and other invertebrates, including snails and slugs. Like bats, toads work nights. They spend their days in damp, shaded hiding spots.

You can encourage a toad to hang around your vegetable garden or flower bed by building what National Wildlife magazine calls a "toad abode." Simply hollow out a shallow depression in the soil, line it with fine mulch or good topsoil, and upend an old clay flower pot over it. Take a chunk out of the side of the pot for an entryway. Especially if you've chosen a shaded, secluded spot, a toad is likely to take up residence.

The snakes that are likely to appear in lawns and gardens are equally harmless and beneficial, but fewer homeowners are as tolerant of snakes as toads, and fewer still welcome them, Dudderar observes.

"Unfortunately, too many people have a policy of killing every snake they see," he says. "Eliminating these

"If you tolerate snakes that come into the garden to feed on the slugs, you'll have a lot fewer slugs."

Glenn Dudderar

predators from the backyard ecosystem can lead to increased problems with such pests as slugs and rodents.

Garter snakes, Michigan's most common snake and the one most likely to turn up in lawns and gardens, consume large numbers of slugs.

"Every garden I have ever had has had slug problems," Dudderar says. "The more you mulch for week control and water conservation, the more likely you are to have slugs. If you tolerate snakes that come into the garden to feed on the slugs, you'll have a lot fewer slugs." If you want to encourage the snakes to hang around the garden, try laying some old boards, flattened cardboard boxes or discarded carpet scraps off to one side to provide snake hiding places. Snakes passing through the yard should find the combination of food and shelter quite appealing.

Garter snakes eat insects, slugs and other invertebrates. Other types of common, harmless snakes, such as milk snakes, eat mice. Leaving the snakes alone to go about their business can make a significant difference in the magnitude of a rodent problem.

"I've seen this at my mother's home in Baltimore," Dudderar says. "When I stopped the killing of the snakes around the house, the mouse problem in the house virtually disappeared. Faced with evidence that the snakes were doing a better job of mouse control than humans had managed with traps and poison, family members learned to tolerate black snakes, milk snakes and the occasional corn snake in the basement."

Some people are so fearful of snakes, of course, that they'd rather be overrun with mice or garden slugs than tolerate the presence of snakes.

"It's unlikely that the practice of encouraging insect predators even to the point of selling them will ever extend to vertebrate predators such as snakes and toads, which could also be helpful," he predicts.

"Homeowners and gardeners can preserve and protect these creatures when they encounter them, however. Over time, they may even find themselves enjoying the chance to observe them and learn about them."

Five is not a magical age where children suddenly mature and are ready for school.

Taking this into consideration, Crosshill Community Preschool in Springfield Township started an Early 5 Program this year. Director Vivian Olive explained it was an extension of their 3- and 4-year-old classes.

"We had a couple of kids with late birthdays, and they just weren't ready," she said.

Olive said that the Holly Area School District has done away with developmental kindergarten and that Clarkston Community Schools is to end its program sometime in the future. Olive hopes her preschool can pick up the slack for some children in the two school decided that this would be a good place to start a preschool," said Olive. It is housed in the Davisburg United Methodist Church, but it is a separate non-profit business. The early-5 program is a step higher than the 4-year-old program — but it's not a kindergarten.

"We are careful we don't overstep to make this a kindergarten," said Olive.

The children involved are not only chronologically young, they could also be developmentally and socially young. The main areas of learning are math, science and language arts. The pupils may use computers to reinforce concepts in math and language. Olive said the children learn from hands-on experiences in both the preschool and the early-5 programs. In the early-5 program, there are some pencil and paper activities, but not very many.

The purpose of the program is to let children gain confidence in their abilities.

As Olive pointed out, "If you can make them feel confident, when they go to kindergarten they'll be suc-

Kids should be immunized by age 2

Contagious childhood disease can be crippling, even deadly.

Yet, according to studies by the Centers for Disease Control, in some urban neighborhoods, less than half the children under 2 years old are fully immunized against polio, diphtheria, measles, mumps and several other vaccine-preventable diseases.

According to Kiwanis International, which has launched a public education program called "All Their Shots, While They're Tots," children should be immunized before age 2 for nine vaccine-preventable diseases.

At birth and 1 month, children should be immunized for hepatitis B. At 2 months and 4 months, immunizations are needed for diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis (DTP); polio; and Haemophilus influenzae.

At 6 months, boosters for DTP, hepatits B and haemophilus influenzae are needed. Finally, at 15 months, children should be immunized for measles, mumps and rubella (MMR) and get boosters for DTP, polio and haemophilus influenzae.

Brother, sister toss for the top

BY CURT MCALLISTER Clarkston News Associate Editor

Kyle and Kammy Powell really know how to throw their weight around, literally.

When it comes to the shot put, these siblings are among the best in the county for their respective ages.

Kyle, a senior at Clarkston High School, has been the Wolves most valuable special eventsperformer this year. During the course of the season, he usually gave the boys' team a quick lead by posting victories in both the shot put and discus.

He's qualified for both events at the Class A state meet in Grand Rapids this Saturday. Kyle earned this dual invitation by taking second in the discus (143'5") and third in the shot put (50'5") at the May 22 regional meet.

Since that time, he's added to his list of post-season accomplishments. They include topping both events at the GOAL Meet, and winning the shot put (52'7") at the ultra-tough Oakland County Championships last weekend. Kyle also took third in the discus at this countywide meet.

Kammy is an eighth-grader at Sashabaw Junior High School, who's on the verge of finishing her first season of track. This year, she broke the school record for the girls' shot put with a throw of 35'10".

At nearly ever meet this season, she usually eclipsed her nearest competitor by at least seven feet. She's preparing for the junior high version of the Oakland County Meet, slated for June 2.

The siblings say their affinity for track is a family tradition.

"I got into it because my brother, Keenan, and sister, Keecia, did it," Kyle said. "I remember coming to the track meets and watching them, when I was younger. It seemed like a fun thing to do."

Both Keenan, who graduated in 1988, and Keecia, who graduated in 1986, threw the shot put and discus at CHS.

KYLE and Kammy Powell are among the best in their class when it comes to the shot put. These siblings come from a family with a rich track and field heritage.

Kammy said their dad, William, was also a big influence on their decision to try track and field. An alumnus of CHS, William Powell was a former school-record holder in the 100, 200 and long jump.

Kammy attributes alot of her success this season to Kyle.

"He's helped me get better by offering tips and working with me," she said. "The track coaches at Sashabaw Junior High didn't have a lot of shot put experience, so most of what I've learned has come from Kyle."

Kammy believes she's got a good shot of winning the shot put at the county meet, as does her coach.

"I think Kammy has a real good chance of winning," said Amy Beattie. "I can't remember the last time I saw a girl, her age; throw like she can."

Likewise, CHS Coach Walt Wyniemko believes Kyle can do equally as well at the state meet.

"I think Kyle has a good chance to place in the discus, but crazy things have been known to happen at this meet," he said. "He's capable of throwing 52 of 53 feet in the shot put on any given day, which could also put him into contention.

"He's good in both events, so it could go either way or both ways," he added. "We're hoping for both ways."

Man poised to shine at Special Olympics

BY CURT MCALLISTER Clarkston News Associate Editor

After countless hours of training, the week that Jim Diegal has been eagerly awaiting is finally here.

From June 3-6, he'll be competing in the 1993 Michigan Special Olympics State Summer Games at Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant. This year marks the 25th anniversary of Special Olympics International, which provides arenas of competition for children and adults with mental retardation.

This will be Diegal's seventh summer competition. The 32-year-old, Clarkston-area resident has qualified to compete in the 100-meter dash, the running long jump and the softball throw.

Diegal is hoping to bring home a medal in each event.

"I'm hoping to get a first-, a secondand a third-place medal," he said, optimistically. "The softball throw is probably my best event, but I'm getting better in the 100

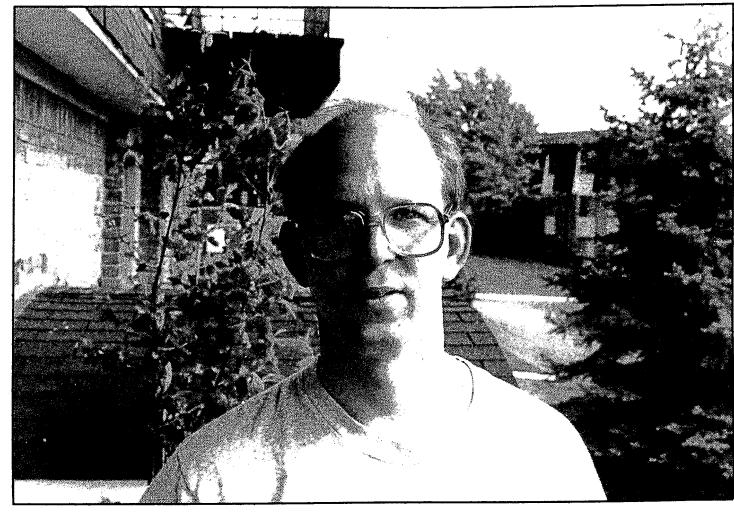

John Kinkle, his coach and staff contact, said he's steadily improving in all his events. Besides tutoring him in sports, Kinkle visits Diegal eight hours a day as part of a countywide independent living

"Jim is among many retarded citizens who we oversee," he said. "He, like many others, have proven that they can get along in the outside world, with a small degree of assistance."

Diegal presently holds down two jobs. He works part time as a helper for Buckingham Community Services, Drayton Plains, and full time as a bagger at Food Towne, Independence Township.

During his career as a Special Olympian, Diegal has accumulated an impressive collection of medals. They include a gold medal in the 50-meter dash, a silver medal in the standing long jump and a bronze in the softball throw.

Diegal also collected a gold medal at the past winter games in the 200-meter snowshoe race.

In preparing for the summer games, his training includes running around the neighborhood and practicing his events at the Clarkston High School track. He considers "speed work" to be the toughest part of his training.

"There's always room to pick up my speed," he said," but I think I'm getting Kinkle said he's seen vast improvement in Diegal's sprinting.

"He recently ran the 100 meters in 14.5 seconds at the local summer games' qualifying meet," he said. "It was good enough for third place in his age division.

"If there's one thing Jim needs to work on, it's his stretching," Kinkle added, smiling. "Regardless, if its practice or a meet, he just wants to get out there and get it over with."

To Diegal, the best part of the games is making new friends and seeing old ones.

"It's all about making friends," he said. "It gives you a chance to get reacquainted with a lot of people you've seen in the past. It's a great time.'

Besides Diegal, other Clarkston-area residents scheduled to participate in this year's summer games include: Arley Hedden, Christian Chambers, William Squires, Mike Holliday and Susan Mc-from hapless Pontiac Northern on May 27, then topped West Bloomfield the next Against Northern, the Wolves put up football-style numbers as they crushed the Huskies 18-4, 20-8.

Clarkston walloped six homers in all against Northern, with two in the opener by Jeff Golec (3-3). Aaron Phillips also went 3-for-4 with a homerun, Scot Matusz tripled and homered and Matt Underwood, Brent Bundridge and Chris Simko had two hits apiece in the first game. Pitcher Mike Wood earned the win.

In the nightcap, Underwood hit a grand slam as Jeff Marshall went 4-for-5 with a homerun. Tom Doyon, Scott Jenkinson and Matusz also chipped in with West Bloomfield proved to be tougher competition, the following day, but they couldn't hit the "Erics." The Wolves (21-7) won 4-0, with Eric Ryan tossing a onehitter through six innings. Eric Carlston came on in relief to complete the shutout.

Girls win sixth straight GOAL track title

Boys take third at meet, fourth overall

The dynasty continues.

On May 25, the Clarkston girls' track team won its sixth straight GOAL championship by taking top honors at the league meet. Coupled with a perfect 5-0 conference mark, the Wolves were able to secure yet another league trophy.

Clarkston blew out their competition by scoring 205 meet points. Lake Orion came in a distant second with 97 points.

The Wolves grabbed eight first-place finishes that day. They winners included: Kristen Stanton (high jump), Michelle Wade (shot put), Rachel Seifferlein (discus), Derenda Howard (110-meter hurdles), Leah Scharl (1600 meters and 3200 meters), the 1600-meter and 800-meter relay teams.

The 800-meter relay team consisted of Nicki Winn, Carey Haven, Stanton and Angelic Brown. The 1600-meter relay team was comprised of Melissa Lozon, Haven, Stanton and Winn.

Earning second-place honors were: Shannon Binkley (long jump, 100-meter hurdles), Scharl (high jump), Wade (discus), Nicki Hard (300-meter hurdles), Winn (400 meters), Haven (800 meters) and - Anna Vandermeer (3200 meters).

Collecting third-place medals were: Becky Moore (long jump), Seifferlein (shot put), Brown (400 meters) Nicole Bauer (300-meter hurdles), the 400-meter and 3200-meter relay teams.

The boys' squad took third place at the GOAL meet with 99 points. They finished behind Pontiac Northern and league coupled with their fourth-place league record of 2-3. Waterford Mott, who finished third, edged CHS by just a couple of points for the No. 3 slot.

As usual, the Wolves were paced by their field events specialists. Kyle Powell took two first-place medals in the shot put and the discus, while J.R. Kirk won the long jump.

Steve Locher (pole vault) and Steve Cohoon (800 meters) also garnered fifthplace medals that day.

The girls' team took 11th place, behind the strong performances of Rachel Seifferlein. The senior took third place in the discus and fifth place in the shot put.

Angelic Brown earned a fourth-place medal in the 200 meters and anchored the third-place, 1600-meter relay team of Kristen Stanton, Carey Haven and Nicki

Wolves win three of four

The Clarkston varsity softball team ended the regular season on a high note last week by winning three of its final four games.

With the wins, the Wolves pushed their overall record to 20-11.

On May 24, they lost their final conference game of the year to Brandon, 8-1. The Blackhawks won the league title this season, with CHS finishing in second with a 9-6 mark.

That day, the Wolves were held to just four hits as Blackhawk pitcher Jessica Schilling collected seven strikeouts in her complete-game victory.

The Wolves bounced back the next day, however, as they defeated visiting Troy Athens, 5-0.

Junior Erin Patterson tossed a one-hitter and struck out eight batters to pace Clarkston. The Wolves' 12-hit attack was led by Stephanie Giroux who scored two runs and had three steals.

On May 27, Clarkston traveled to Rochester for a doubleheader and swept their hosts, 18-1, 6-0.

Patterson spun a two-hitter in the opener and followed with a four-hitter and nine strikeouts in the nightcap. Giroux, Lisa Goforth, Shawna Greene and Heather Austin had three hits apiece in the first game. Chrystal Lemke had three hits and Missy Phillips two triples and three RBIs in the second contest.

The Wolves opened district play at Walled Lake Western on Tuesday, June 1. If they defeat West Bloomfield, they'll play Waterford Mott on Saturday, June 5.

Walk/run attracts 33 entrants

Thirty-three people turned out at Springfield Township's Mill Pond Park May 22 to participate in the "Walk/Run For Fun and Fitness."

Eight runners braved the four-mile course, 19 people participated in the four-mile walk and five people engaged in the one-mile walk. The four-mile course took runners and walkers from Davisburg Road to north on Eaton Road, to east on Rattalee Lake Road, to south on Tindall Road and west on Broadway to the finish at the Mill Pond Park.

The winning runners and walkers were awarded ribbons for each age category. The top finishers were:

1 Mile Walk — Ryan McCaskey,

Holly, first; Kimberly Hascall, Davisburg, second; Jessica & Jamie Cobb of White Lake and Jennifer Howarth, Davisburg, tied for third.

4 Mile Walk — Ages: 19-29 — Kim Guibord, Dearborn, first; Ages: 30-39 — Sandi Walters, Holly, first; Jim Walters, Holly, second; Carolyn Patterson, Davisburg, third; Ages: 60 and over — Maureen Losh, Davisburg, first.

4 Mile Run — Ages: 30-39 — Scott Harper Davisburg, first (men's); Patricia Smith, Gaines, first (women's); Dan Stencil, Clarkston, second; Ken Hoover, Holly, third; Ages: 40-49 — Larry McCaskey, Holly, first; George Atkinson, White Lake, second; Gary Thornthwait, Goodrich, third.

Carryout-delivery restaurant opens

Clarkston-area residents could benefit from a new carryout and delivery restaurant on Dixie Highway.

Good Food Express was set to open May 15 at 5433 Dixie Highway, south of Andersonville Road, in Waterford Township.

Owners Tom LaBonty of Pontiac and Chris Cryderman of Ferndale own a full-service catering company, geared to the entertainment market.

They said the Waterford-Clarkston area needed an alternative to fast food, so they opened their store to provide meals ranging from a quick lunch to gourmet dinner for 2,000.

The menu features baked foods, not fried, with favorites such as chicken and ribs. The restaurant also offers a vegetarian menu and a low-cholesterol menu, as well as all sorts of microwavable foods that have no chemicals or preservatives.

Good Food Express is the exclusive outlet in the area for Leon's Pastries, which supplies three-star and fourstar restaurants in the area.

Orders for lunch and dinner may be faxed to the Oxford Bank reports 9.3 percent increase

Oxford Bank Corp., the holding company for Oxford Bank, today reported net income of $435,000 or $2.72 per common share, for the three months ended March 31.

This figure represented a 9.3 percent increase over earnings of $398,000, or $2.49 per share, reported during the same period in 1992.

Randall G. Fox, president and chief executive officer of both the holding company and the bank, issued the report and added, "The principal reason why first quarter earnings were up is that we have had a healthy improvement in loan demand. Even though many banks are having a difficult time keeping their loan portfolios from shrinking, ours is now more than 5 percent larger than it was at this time last year."

The bank has full-service offices in Oxford, Lake Orion, Clarkston, Oakland Township and Ortonville.

Dinosaurs!

NICOLE THRIFT, a student in Mrs. Smith's fourth-grade class, adjusts the leaves on one of the class murals. The class at Pine Knob Elementary, made dioramas and wrote reports about dinosaurs for their reading class. They decided to make a museum out of their work, complete with a cave and an archaeological dig for fossils. Children from a Pine Knob first-grade class visited the museum.

In demand

CHILDREN'S clothing are in demand at garage sales in the Clarkston area, according to Janice Swartz of Cramlane Court. She timed her garage sale with the neighborhood sale. Advertising the sale well in advance lured shoppers to the entire subdivision off Maybee Road. Swartz said her neighborhood organizes a combined garage sale each spring. (Photo by Julie Campe)

Health pedigree useful, interesting

BY VIRGINIA BLOCK

With Memorial Day observed this week, we place emphasis on the need for everyone reading this column to begin a family health history, so your descendants can enjoy a better idea of how to live healthier.

Several years ago, the Daughters of the American Revolution requested their current members to update a four-generation pedigree chart with information found in death records. This data was turned over to research teams at Vanderbilt University in Tennessee to study and hopefully provide answers regarding genetically inherited

We need to stress the importance of getting a death record, rather than a death certificate. Oftentimes family bibles, letters or obituary notes will contain additional important information that has been overlooked previously. The need to compile their information is vital to your own health as well.

Memorial Day, once celebrated to honor our departed family members, has lost its meaning as a day of tribute celebrated the 30th of May each year.

Instead, like all the others, commercial marketing has literally destroyed its reverence in encouraging the public to gear up for a long, three-day sojourn to relax, with Pepsi, Coke and beachwear headed to the nearest

We deplore any such ways of taking away the honor

due our departed ones and remember with deep love. especially our only brother, Herman Douglas Clark, who died in pre-invasion practices for D-Day in World War II, and our father, Stephen Herman Clark, who won the Purple Heart for battles fought in World War I.

Both lie in the National Cemetery in Springfield, Mo., with only a few rows of graves separating their resting places.

On Memorial Day, a new American flag was again placed on each veteran's grave to honor all who died serving their country. Rest in peace, and than you for saving our country, which stands proudly today because of your sacrifice. You gave your all.

Happy hunting.

Register now for one or more summer sessions that will "reinforce" your child's math and reading skills. Your child's current teacher must complete forms on student's academic level, so register soon. Sessions: July 12-22; July 22 to Aug. 5; Aug. 9-19. Times: 9-10:30 a.m., 10:30 a.m. to noon, or 9 a.m. to noon. Rates vary with amount of time; payment is due two weeks prior to start of session. (Jeanne Molzon, 674-0993)

Funshine preschool registration

Registration for summer and fall Funshine preschool is underway. Preschool and extended care are offered by the program, which is accredited by the National Academy of Early Childhood Programs. Registration forms are available at the Community Education Center. Family registration fee is $25 per school year.

Summer Kids Connection

Registration is underway for the eight-week summer program for children who have completed grades K-5 covering hours from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. June 28 through Aug. 20. (Call 625-8223 or 674-3141)

STEP

Clarkston Career Center offers the Summer Training and Education Program (STEP) for teens ages 14-15 who are entering ninth grade this fall. It's designed for those who are at least one year behind in reading or math. The six-week program combines classroom learning with actual work experience, and participants are paid $4.25 per hour. Eligibility depends on family income level. (Judy Monroe, 674-4791)

Fall Kids Connection

Registration for Kids Connection for the 1993-94 school year begins June 1 at the Community Education

For more information

Clarkston Community Schools Department of Community Education operates out of a building at 5275 Maybee Road, Independence Township. To register, to obtain a brochure, or for more information, call 674-0993. Visa or Mastercard may be used to pay enrichment class fees.

Summer likely cooler and wetter than normal

The hot, steamy dog days of summer may again skip Michigan this year.

A University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, scientist predicts that this summer's weather may not be much different from last summer's cool, wet weather.

Scientist Peter J. Sousounis used five weather factors for this prediction, but he said a higher-than-normal amount of moisture in the soil is the most important factor.

"If there is a lot of moisture availability in the ground, then a lot of that solar energy is going to go purely into evaporating the water," he said. "That's going to actually cool the ground. In other words, the ground is not going to warm up as much."

The wet spring in Michigan so far is an extension of a winter-like weather pattern that has affected the entire nation, Sousounis said.

A chart shows the factors contributing to a cooler, wetter summer.

Parks rent tents, buses

Tents and passengers may be rented through Oakland County Parks by calling 858-0916.

Tents rent for $200 to $250, depending on size, with a $50 discount offered until July 1. Buses are $215 for groups traveling to the park, $245 outside the park. Discounts are offered Aug. 9 through Sept. 17.

Host families needed for foreign students

Foreign high school student will soon arrive in the area, and they need a place to stay.

According to Pacific Intercultural Exchange (PIE) Executive Director, John Doty, the students are between ages 15-18, have their own spending money, and are fully insured.

For more information on becoming a host family, call 1-800-245-6232.

DON'T FEEL GUILTY

OWNERS pay less taxes than renters in the same price range. Ownership is a great tax shelter.

27 S. Main, Clarkston 625-9300

Ron Rodda Sales Manager Career in Real Estate? "ASK RON"

QUESTION: I am a homeowner and my friend rents an apartment. We both earn the same amount of money, buy I pay considerable less taxes. I feel a little guilty.

ANSWER: Don't feel guilty. The difference in taxes will always favor the homeowner. For starters, most of the monthly mortgage payment for a home is tax-deductible interest. This runs over 90% in the early years of the loan.

If you sell and buy another within 2 years for as much or more than your old one, you defer paying any tax on the gain. Also, if you are over 55 and sell, you can deduct up to $125,000 of the profit and never have to pay any tax on it.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Timulak of Clarkston announce the engagement of their daughter, Denise, to Mark DeConinck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael DeConinck of Waterford.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Clarkston High School and is employed as a receptionist at Lourde's Nursing Home, Waterford.

Her fiance is a graduate of Mott High School and is employed as a machinist for F.M. Cassel Sales, Inc.

The couple plan a July 1993 wedding at Our Lady of the Lakes Church in Waterford.

In service

Marine Pvt. Laura L. O'Dea, a 1990 graduate of Clarkston High School, recently completed recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C. She joined the Marine Corps in August 1992.

Grads

Kristin Allison recently earned a bachelor of arts degree in education from Boston College, Chestnut Hill, Mass. She has been accepted into the Jesuit Volunteer Corps and begins service in August in California. She is a 1989 graduate of Clarkston High School.

Heidi B. Vines of Norman Road, Springfield Township, graduates in May from Michigan State University, East Lansing, with a master's degree in counseling. Heldi, a 1987 graduate of Clarkston High School, also received her bachelor's degree from MSU in 1991. She held the position of resident assistant for two years as an undergraduate and has been working in the MSU Service Learning Center for the past two years.

Mother 'hoods' daughter at MSU

A family tradition began in May when Margaret Hollar was graduated with a doctor of osteopathic medicine degree from Michigan State University, East Lansing

Margaret follows her mother, Nedra Downing, D.O., as the second member of the family to graduate from MSU's School of Osteopathic Medicine. Downing "hooded" her daughter during graduation ceremonies.

Another daughter, Laura Kovalcik, just completed her first year at MSU's College of Medicine. Downing, however, got a much later start in her medical career. She entered medical school at age 46 and became the oldest medical student in MSU's program.

Her interest in medicine evolved over the years. The working mother, a registered pharmacist, managed her own pharmacy and became intrigued with natural alternatives to traditional drug therapy. She enrolled for a master of science degree in MSU's College of Human Nutrition. From there, she entered the College of Osteopathic Medicine and completed her internship at Flint Osteopathic Hospital. She is now in a private practice in the Clarkston area with an emphasis on nutritional and environmental medicine.

"It's encouraging to note that women in professional careers are finding their daughters following in their footsteps, which has been the case for men for some time," Dr. Downing stated. "And I'm so proud to be participating in another stage of my daughter's life as she graduates."

Margaret Hollar's observation of her mother's medical school and internship experiences helped to change her career into medicine. She plans to complete her internship at Metropolitan Hospital in Grand Rapids, specializing in radiology.

Prize-winning dancers

FIRST-PLACE and all-around high point trophies were awarded to the "Betty Boo" competition number Sunday, May 2, at the Radisson Hotel in Flint. From left are Heather Chojnowski of Clarkston, Tiffany Beecher of Holly, Angela Pomazanko of Waterford, Emily Boose of Clarkston and Casey Bolten of Clarkston. The 6- to 8-year-old group danced at On Stage Dance Studio in Holly, owned by Richael Harris. The prize-winning dance was choreographed and taught by Cindy Brendel. The group is now eligible to compete at the national level. (Photo by Cindy Brendel).

Honors

Steven Dowdy, a Brandon High School senior, won a silver medal in the Michigan Restaurant Association's annual state competition April 25 at the Manor of Fairlane, Dearborn. He entered a rolled fondant cake with gum paste flowers.

Steve, a student in the culinary arts program at Oakland Technical Center-Northwest, also passed the advanced placement exam for Johnson and Wales. He will complete his associate's degree in one year and three months.

He recently entered a similar competition at Mott Community College in Flint and won a silver medal there, too. He participated in the above competitions under the direction of his OTC-NW instructor, Nancy Tilley.

Renny Abraham, a Hope College, Holland, freshman who was graduated from Clarkston High School, received the First-Year Chemistry Book Award during the annual honors convocation April 29.

The award is presented to the freshman student who, in the estimation of the chemistry faculty, has demonstrated outstanding performance in general chemistry. The award is the handbook of physics and general chemistry donated by the chemical rubber publishing company.

Shonn R. Cobrunn of Clarkston was among the 35 Hope College, Holland, juniors inducted into Mortar Board, a national honor society that recognizes students for scholarship, leadership and service.

Theresa J. Evans of Clarkston was among 32 students inducted into Lawrence Technological University's honorary society — Lambda Iota Tau — at the annual student government awards banquet May 1 in Southfield. Lambda Iota Tau honors baccalaureate students achieving outstanding academic success and exceptional participation in student activities.

Alma College, Alma, classmates picked David Woodruff of Clarkston for the Class of 1993's Outstanding Senior Leadership Award.

A proven leader, Woodruff served as senior class president and as general manager of WQAC, a 100-watt FM station he worked for four years to get approved by the Federal Communications Commission. WQAC officially went on the air March 27, 1993, just four weeks before Woodruff was graduated.

In addition to the Outstanding Senior Leadership Award, Woodruff was among the 29 Alma College seniors who received 1993 Senior Leadership Awards sponsored by Alma's Alumni-Student Association. He then was one of eight selected from the 29 to receive Campus Leadership Awards and be presented to the senior class as nominees for the Outstanding Senior Leadership Award, which was presented to him during Alma's annual Honors Convocation. Woodruff was nominated both by the senior class and WOAC.

Woodruff, a 1989 graduate of Clarkston High School, is the son of Nancy Woodruff of Kingfisher Lane, Independence Township. Woodruff received bachelor of arts degrees in political science and economics from Alma April 24.

Steven M. Thompson of the Clarkston area was named to the academic honors list at Spring Arbor College, Spring Arbor, for fall semester 1992.

Thompson, a senior psychology major, is the son of Clancy and Doris Thompson of Clarkston.

Tips help prevent lead poisoning

Lead poisoning is one of the most common health problems of children living in the United States.

However, parents can prevent problems by following a few safety tips from the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

According to Sylvia Treitman, home economist for the Extension, many sources of lead can cause serious illness, especially in young children. Major sources include food, water, soil, dust and air.

Safety tips include the following:

■ Make sure children's hands are clean before they

cat. ...g leaded crystal ware for drinking, do not use daily.

■ Do not store liquids in leaded crystal.

■ Pregnant women and young children should avoid using leaded crystal.

■ Lead crystal baby bottles should not be used for infant feedings.

■ Keep older or imported ceramic dishes and pottery for decorative use only.

More information is available in "Lead and our Environment" Bulletin #E-2416, available through the cooperative extension service. To order, enclose $1.25 to cover handling and include your name, address and correct city and ZIP Code — and specify bulletin number. Mail requests to the Cooperative Extension Service, 1200 N. Telegraph, Dept. 416, Pontiac, MI 48341-0416. For more information, call 858-0904.

When spring cleaning, do the pantry, too

While your cleaning out your closets and drawers this spring, you may want to spend some time cleaning out your pantry.

Canned foods that are stored for several years may become very poor in quality and nutritional value," said Sylvia Treitman, home economist for the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service. "Spring is a good time to check the pantry shelves, to see what has been forgotten and is no longer good to keep.'

Generally, canned foods have the best shelf life of one year stored in a cool dry area of about 67 degrees. The nutritional value of canned goods lessens with time, so it is wise to use canned goods quickly and not keep them for may years. If you suspect a can is bad - do not taste it - it could be very dangerous.

To use canned foods wisely here are some safety

■ Store canned foods in a clean, dry place below 85 degrees — 67 degrees is ideal.

■ Date canned goods when purchased and rotate supply, using oldest first.

■ Never store canned goods near stoves, radiators or furnaces or areas where temperature goes over 100 degrees.

Do not leave canned goods in car, camper or basement where temperatures may allow cans to freeze.

If you need help with storage times of canned foods or have other food and nutrition questions, call the Food and Nutrition Hotline, 858-0904, Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

MINUTES OF THE REGULAR MEETING MAY 24, 1993

Meeting called to order by mayor Catallo at 7:35 p.m. followed by the pledge of allegiance Roll: Present: Arkwright, Basinger, Catallo, Roeser, Sanderson, Schultz, Secatch.

Moved by Sanderson, supported by Schultz, That the minutes of the meeting on May 10, 1993 be accepted as presented." Yeas 7, Nays 0. Motion carried.

Moved by Schultz, supported by Sanderson, "That the agenda be approved with the following additions: New Business: Vintage Construction and Pigeons." yeas 7, Nays 0. Motion carried.

Ryan indicated that the lot split ordiance can require the installation of sidewalks as a condition of the lot split. Pappas will discuss this with the builder of the Madison Ct. properties.

Ryan indicated the current trash removal ordinance does not deal with the issue of when trash can go out for pick-up and when cans have to be returned to the house. These issues will be addressed in the future as part of a solid waste ordinance.

Basinger made a presentation about the budget. The Budget Hearing to discuss the 1993-1994 Budget will be held on Tuesday June 15, 1993 in the Village Hall at 7:00 p.m. Discussion was held by Council regarding areas in the budget which could be cut. Arkwright presented the police budget as well as a Police Procurement Policy. This policy would be based on a purchase order system. The decision whether to endorse the Citizens for Open Housing will be discussed at the next meeting. Pappas will check to see if CDBG funds can be used to fund Youth Assistance. The use of CDBG funds for a Minor Home Repair program will be looked into next year.

Council decided not to participate in this year's Forth of July

Schultz and Roeser will meet with Pappas regarding street supervision. Memorial procedures, trees and markers, will be discussed at the next meeting.

David Bihl met with the Council representing a citizen's group called a Balanced View. The goal of the group is to improve communication between the Council and the residents. The group requested information on the FY93-94 Budget to be better prepared for the Budget Hearing.

Pappas received a call indicating that Vintage Construction of Village West Condominiums was putting a dock on Deer Lake with boat slips. Pappas will contact Vintage Construction to determine if this indeed is taking place. Ryan will review the Master Deed as the Council is of the opinion that this issue has been previously addressed in this document and that docks on the lake were not

There apparently is a problem because of the number of pigeons on Main Street. This has been a problem in the past Catallo will investigate possible solutions.

Moved by Roeser, supported by Arkwright, "That the meeting be adjourned." Yeas 7, Nays 0. Motion carried. The meeting was adjourned at 10:45 p.m.

UMBRELLAS helped many parade-goers keep dry during Monday's Memorial Day Parade in downtown Clarkston. The weather may have contributed to fewer parade-watchers than normal. However, only sprinkles of rain fell during the actual ceremony that day.

Raining on their parade

CLARINET players are part of Sashabaw Junior High School's band, which helped provide music Monday, as did Clarkston Junior High School musicians.

WHO IS ON THE LORD'S SIDE? II WHO IS ON THE LORD'S SIDE? II Chr 20:20 Let Him hear that hath an earl Worship God in Spirit and in truth! 7th Day Adventists advocate living by law and that the Sabbath of Sunday is the Mark of the Beast and that you must keep the Sabbath of Saturday or be damned. This doctrine is a result of turning from the truth of God to vain jangling and traditions of men because of Sin and unbelief. Acts 15:1, Gal 6:12,13, Gal 3:4-6, Gal 2:16, Rom 3:20, Gal 3:11,12, Gal 4:4,5, Gal 1:14, Rom 10:3,4. Note Col 2:8,14, Col 2:16,17... Note the word Sabbath! Listen to Christ's words in Matt Listen to Christ's words in Matt 12:2-8 and Mk 2:27,281 Furthermore Mk 7:6,9, Jn 10:10 (first part)... Thief... which are the so called Chur-ches, Pastors, Priests... Priests who hate to do and speak God's truth! Jn hate to do and speak God's truth! Jn 10:4,14,16, Jn 10:27, Matt 16-23, Jn 8:43,47, Jn 9:39,41, Evil heart of unbelief. 130-IN MEMORIUM

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JANE WOLFE My loving wife who passed away June 6, 1991

To us you were someone very special
And we miss you more each day
The saddest day in our life
Was the day you passed away
We think of you in silence
And we often speak your name
But all we have are memories
And your picture in a frame
But though we cannot reach you
And your voice we cannot hear
We know you walk beside us
Never absent, but always near

Dearly missed by your husband, daughter & grandchildren
