Board cuts school budget by $158,000

Facing the inevitability of state aid cuts, the Clark-

3 charged in beating of California man

Three men were charged with beating a 31-year-old California man Aug. 19 at Pine Knob Music Theater.

Brian Podgorski, 20, of Clarkston; Bruce Helm, 19, of Clarkston; and Ian Morris, 23, of Dryden, formerly of Clarkston, were arraigned Aug. 20 in 52nd District Court, Independence Township.

A fourth man is expected to be arrested this week in connection with the beating.

The men were charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder — a felony punishable with up to 10 years in prison.

A preliminary exam is scheduled for three of the suspects at 9 a.m. Monday, Aug. 30, before Judge Gerald McNally. All three men are out on bond.

According to Lt. John Taylor of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, a scuffle between the victim and the four suspects occurred inside the Pine Knob Road, Independence Township, music theater. All were asked to leave. The fight began again outside, where the victim was seriously injured in the parking lot.

The man was taken to Detroit Receiving Hospital with a closed head injury, where he is in critical condition after undergoing brain surgery.

ston Board of Education severed nearly $158,000 from the 1993-94 budget Monday.

The board unanimously approved the cuts Aug. 23. The motion was contingent upon a match for the next $158,000 in cuts with money from the district's fund equity account.

The fund equity account is considered the district's "rainy day fund." This account presently holds about $1.1 million.

The 14 items cut from the budget ranged from the employee recognition banquet to a variety of departmental support services. These specific items were chosen from a $637,000 cut list originally proposed by the administration but stymied by the board Aug. 9.

Board President Joseph Helpern said these particular cuts won't affect students or the start of the school year.

"These cuts aren't something that's going to affect children's programs directly," he said. "The strategy tonight was to enter the budget reduction process slowly and with care.

"These cuts were the easiest, but, needless to say, the next round won't be as simple because we'll be getting into children's programs," Helpern added.

The board's unanimous decision to reimburse the next $158,000 worth of potential cuts with money from the fund equity account came on the heels of a failed motion to cut the original 14 items.

The measure was defeated 5-2, with trustees Kurt Karlstrom and Janet Thomas voting in favor of the motion. The pair later voted in favor of the fund equity package.

"I had no problem with Joe's (Helpern) motion," Karlstrom said. "This way, we're going to save some programs that may have been cut altogether in some future move.

"As a board, I hope we explore all our avenues and not just rely on the fund equity account," he added.

Karlstrom said the district's food budget presently (See CUTS, next page)

Two choices in athletic leagues

BY CURT MCALLISTER

It's nice to be wanted.

Just last week, Clarkston and Lake Orion high schools were on the verge of accepting membership invitations from the Macomb Area Conference (MAC). However, in a sudden turn of events, another suitor has entered the scene.

According to Clarkston Athletic Director Paul Tungate, the Metro Suburban Association (MSA) has also extended invitations to the Wolves and Dragons.

"About a week ago, we received word from the MSA that they were looking to expand, and league officials listed Clarkston and Lake Orion among its top candidates," Tungate said. "We're now in the position of choosing between two new leagues."

Prior to the MSA's invitation, Clarkston and Lake (See CONFERENCE, next page)

Orion had officially applied for membership in the 26-team MAC. Tungate cited the need for improved competition as the catalyst behind Clarkston's search for a new league.

For the past 10 years, Clarkston has all but dominated the GOAL conference. It has laid claim to a majority of the all-sports trophies, presented annually to the member displaying the most athletic prowess. This past school year, CHS won the trophy for the fourth consecutive year.

The GOAL now consists of six schools: Clarkston, Lake Orion, Waterford Mott, Waterford Kettering, Brandon and Pontiac Northern. Brandon is the lone Class B school in the division, while the rest hold Class A distinction.

holds $30,000, while the building and site fund contains about $100,000. He said dipping into these accounts could also help counteract state aid cuts.

According to Steve Lenar, deputy superintendent of business and operations, the Legislature has yet to decide how much it will withhold in state aid from schools.

In the past, the state has covered 95 percent of the costs associated with Michigan school employees' Social Security and retirement benefits, but that will soon be over.

Lenar said both the House of Representatives and Senate have penned their own versions of the bill. Under the House's plan, Clarkston would reportedly lose about $480,000 in state aid. The Senate's version would see the district lose nearly $1.3 million.

Both bodies are scheduled to meet again on Tuesday, Aug. 31.

Helpem said the board would continue contemplating ways to trim the budget until final word comes from Lansing.

The MAC league is composed totally of Class A schools, with its contingent divided into three divisions, based on the skill level of each school in a particular sport. This way, the competition level remains balanced among its members. Among the MAC's present members are Utica High, Utica Eisenhower, Romeo, Chippewa Valley Schools and Port Huron Schools.

Clarkston and Lake Orion attempted to enter the MAC two years ago but were unsuccessful. This time around, however, the GOAL powers received unanimous support from the MAC's athletic directors. Tungate said membership will be secured if a majority of the schools' principals vote in favor of the applicants' admittance.

At this point, both prospective leagues have given the Wolves and Dragons nearly 30 days to make a decision on where they'll apply. During this time, Tungate said he'll further investigate the eight-team MSA.

So far, he likes what he sees.

Correction

In a business brief in the Aug. 11 Clarkston News, Baha Beach Spa co-owner Doris Wainwright said she meant to say that she and her partner Chris Maybee had researched many flotation spas to come up with something different for their spa.

"With schools like Rochester, Troy and Royal Oak, the drive time between the MSA schools would be considerably shorter than those in the MAC," he said.

Tungate said admittance of the Dragons and Wolves in the MSA would also put Oakland one step closer to a "county league." Presently, 16 of the county's 26 schools belong to either the MSA or its sister league, the Suburban Metro Association.

"With us possibly entering the MSA, it could be just a matter of time before there's a countywide push for one league," he said.

THE MANSION has received a major overhaul since the Pine Knob Golf Course was purchased by businessman Anthony Catenacci last May. About $2.5 million is being spent to refurbish and improve the Independence Township course.

Owner hopes to lure pro tour with revamped course

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

When Anthony Catenacci purchased Pine Knob Golf Course for $5.8 million last May, he realized a portion of his life-long dream.

The other part is to see his course host a PGA tournament.

Since then, the Fraser-based AAC Acquisitions, Inc., a family-operated company owned by Catenacci, has been renovating the Waldon Road, Independence Township, course as well as the mansion and restaurant.

Fred Cervi, construction manager and cousin to Catenacci, said $2.5 million is being dumped into the site over the next two years. This includes expanding the 18-hole golf course to 27 holes and upgrading every aspect of the property.

So far, improvements have included: the addition of new sandtraps and bunkers to the existing course, adding a pro shop, renovating the interior of the mansion, adding fountains along the grounds, installing new lights outside the mansion and re-opening "The Club" restaurant, along with a new dining deck.

"After the purchase, we hired nearly 120 people to help get the property back in shape," Cervi said. "We've literally been working around the clock to give our customers a classic course. We've got another month to go before we're totally pleased with renovations."

Cervi is especially proud of "The Club," which opened a couple of weeks ago.

"The restaurant had been closed for a couple of years before we went to work on it," he said. "It was in terrible shape, with plaster falling down and rotted carpet."

"But now, it's a beautiful place to bring family or friends for lunch or dinner," he added.

Air-conditioned and equipped with a bar, the posh restaurant employs 40 workers, including four chefs.

"We've heard only good things about the food," Cervi said. "Dinner is usually the busiest time for us."

Besides a full-service golf shop, the course has a new golf pro. Doug Griffiths, who has been employed in Florida, was hired by Catenacci after the course changed hands.

Cervi said construction of nine new holes on 110 virgin acres will begin next spring. He said the layout includes ideas from officials with the United States Golf Association.

"We've had the USGA out here on a couple of occasions already," Cervi said. "They've been making suggestions on how to better the course and make it attractive for future tournaments."

Cervi said the possibility of a major tour, most likely sponsored by the Ladies' Pro Golf Association (LPGA), could be just a couple of years away. After that, the course could fall under PGA consideration.

Even though this is the first golf course he's ever worked on, Cervi is confident that it will blossom into one Discovery Fair offers 'one-stop shopping' at community ed.

Classes galore: From playing dulcimer to earning diploma,

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

If you've ever daydreamed about learning to make a craft, to play a musical instrument or maybe to use a computer, now's your chance.

The Discovery Fair on Saturday is a chance to check out the class offerings at Clarkston Community Education.

In addition to enrichment classes, community education also offers a chance to complete requirements for a high school diploma. Plus, it provides an alternative high school for teens, five preschool programs and Kids Connection (before- and after-school care for students).

Information, demonstrations and registration for all of the above — and more — is available during the Discovery Fair 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Aug. 28, at the community education building, 5275 Maybee Road, Independence Township. For more information, call 674-0993.

Also offered at the fair is fingerprinting for children, courtesy of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

The day will have a fair-type atmosphere, with food, clowns and a big tent filled with all sorts of information and demonstrations, said Jeanne Molzon, one of the fair coordinators.

The one-day program is convenient for area residents because they can select programs and register — all in the same day, said Molzon.

"It's one-stop shopping," she said.

In addition, it also solves a money problem for the facility. State budget cuts mean less money for Clarkston's community education — that means fewer hours of registration. For instance, the building won't be open for evening or weekend registration, as in the past.

It also is a chance for residents to find out in detail about the classes. For instance, before signing up for a basket-weaving class, students can see the actual basket they'll make in class. Before signing up Fido for a dog-obedience class, residents can meet the instructor. Some students will be on hand, too.

Enrichment classes include: Woodcarving, quilting, painting, dulcimer-playing, children's clowning, guitar-playing and more. About 42,000 brochures were mailed to area residents, listing the details. Call 674-0993 for more information.

During the fair, parents can roam the building, observing a preschool class, for instance, before enrolling their children.

"A lot of people in this community do not know what goes on in this building," said Molzon.

The Discover Fair is a chance to find out.

"By the time we're done, this course will be the type to lure people from miles around."

Fred Cervi

of the county's finest.

"Between Anthony and I, we've been golfing about 40 years and visited over 300 courses nationwide, so we know what we want," he said. "And by the time we're done, this course will be the type to lure people from miles around."

Reunions

The Clarkston High School Class of 1943 is arranging its 50-year reunion in the next few weeks. Class members should call 625-3441 or 625-4942 by Sept. 2 for details.

The Clarkston High School Class of 1968 is planning its 25-year reunion for Saturday, Sept. 25, at the Holiday Inn-Flint (Holidome). Cocktails are 6-8 p.m., with dinner and dancing 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Cost is $30 per person, with a cash bar. Dress is casual.

For tickets, send a check (payable to Clarkston Class of 1968) and a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Vicki Dafoe Love, 4580 Oakvista, Clarkston, MI 48346, or Sally Radoye Hadden, 129 N. Holcomb, Clarkston, MI 48346, or Suzanne North Schmidt, 4845 Pelton Road, Clarkston, MI 48346. Deadline is Wednesday, Sept. 1.

If you don't send a self-addressed stamped envelope, you may pick up your tickets at the door.

The hotel offers a reduced room rate of $71 and will reserve rooms in a block. If interested, make reservations (313-232-5300) with the Holiday Inn and say you're with the CHS Class of 1968.

Drivers hit trees in Independence

Two drivers hit trees and suffered minor injuries this week in separate incidents in Independence Township.

The first accident happened at 1:35 a.m. Aug. 13, when Keith Denton, 18, of Leonard lost control of his 1991 GMC Pickup on North Eston Road, about 500 feet north of Whipple Lake Road.

According to Sgt. John Heiligenthal of the Oakland

County Sheriff's Department, it was foggy, dark and unlit at the time of the accident. Denton was treated and released from Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. He was issued a ticket for driving without due care or caution.

A 23-year-old Independence Township man was injured in another car-tree accident at 4:20 p.m. Aug. 18.

Michael McLeod was driving on Clarkston Road, about 3/4 of a mile west of Sashabaw Road, when he lost control of his 1982 Chevy Pickup and hit a tree. The weather and road at the time of the accident were clear.

McLeod was treated for minor injuries at an area hospital. He was also issued a ticket for driving without due care or caution.

3-year-old hits car

A 3-year-old Waterford boy was injured when he ran into a car on Main Street, Clarkston, around 2:45 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 14.

According to Police Chief Robert DeVore, who witnessed the accident, the boy was in town with an 11-year-old acquaintance. They were getting a pop, while their parents were in Depot Park watching a wedding.

On the way back to the park, the 11-year-old had his hands full and was not hanging onto the 3-year-old, who ran into the street and into the side of a southbound car.

The little boy suffered scratches and abrasions but no broken bones. He was treated and released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. No tickets were issued.

Clarkston's youngest get new style of learning

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

This year's kindergarten crop will be the first to experience "developmentally appropriate practices."

After years of research, educators have decided that youngsters learn best by "doing."

DAP takes children away from the pen and paper practices that have been used for 200 years and instead gets them physically involved in learning. By doing this, educators hope to develop the young child's motor skills and social skills.

David Reschke, director of curriculum for Clarkston Community Schools, said DAP is "not techniques but a set of beliefs and practices," which have come out of a lot of research about kindergartens and the physical, social and mental development of children in that age group.

The committee that developed the practices gleaned ideas from the Michigan Early Childhood Program, Oakland Schools consultants and area schools such as Birmingham and Brighton, where these practices are in place.

The new program emphasizes thinking skills, according to Cindy Omans, early childhood coordinator for work as a team. This prepares the child to get along with and work with others.

Education report

In addition, all children will be told that they are readers and writers. With this self-image, words on a page will not seem so mysterious. They will learn that they, too, can write stories even if they physically don't know how to form or spell certain words.

Even report cards will get an overhaul.

Omans said the new report cards emphasize the teacher's observations of the child as an individual. Inserts in the reports card will explain the new terms to parents.

For example, in the reading section of the new report cards, children may be placed in one of four categories: pre-emergent, where they retell stories and recognize letters; emergent, where children pretend to read; the early stage, when children begin to understand words; or independent, where children can read.

Educators will evaluate children through tests, assessments and collections of work. The children's learning also will be judged on portfolio assessments and hands-on demonstrations, according to Reschke.

Reschke said DAP is compatible to Outcome-Based Education in that the educators decide what they want children to do or know and develop a plan to get children to that point.

Outcome-Based Education is the formal name of goal-oriented curriculum used in 26 states.

This time next year, according to Reschke, educators will implement DAP into first grade. He said plans are in the works for second grade and possibly portions of DAP in the other grades in future years.

Reschke also said officials are looking into implementing DAP into the middle schools.

"We want kids to like learning and enjoy learning."

Cindy Omans

Clarkston Community Schools and a kindergarten teacher in Clarkston for 23 years.

Children will find that questions have more than one right answer. For example, a child could be given 15 shapes and asked to put them into five piles. A child could choose several ways to accomplish this task.

Pupils also choose some of their activities, so everyone doesn't have to do the same thing at the same time. Children could play with blocks, cut paper or play house with other children. These activities develop creativity, coordination and social skills.

"We want kids to like learning and enjoy learning," said Omans.

The new practice also changes the way subjects are taught.

Math is no longer worksheets for the youngest children in Clarkston schools. Instead, children use blocks, which teach them the concept of numbers. The blocks allow the young child to physically manipulate objects to learn a math problem.

For example, instead of merely writing "1 + 3 = 4," a child will use one block, then three more blocks, to discover that he has four blocks total.

Reading is taught using the "whole language" approach. The emphasis is taken away from using only phonics, and children are taught that they can figure out a word by looking at an adjoining picture, using context clues or thinking about the story and deciding what word would make sense.

Work in groups is emphasized, so children learn to

The chase

Julie Campe

A dog's biggest temptation seems to be my car. Every chance they get, dogs chase it.

I don't understand.

My car is quiet. When I last had an emissions test, the garage attendant twice asked me if I were sure my car was running — he couldn't hear it, he said.

It doesn't smell (except for gasoline and oil, perhaps). And it's that bright blue-green color, a "Cayman green," according to its manufacturer.

Maybe that color to a dog is like the color red to a bull?

I saw a PBS program on animals and their senses and discovered that many animals communicate without us ever knowing.

Cats, for instance, can hear higher-pitched sounds than humans. That means they can hear butterfly chirping (if that's what insect sounds are called) and moth flutters, all the better to catch and eat them.

Elephants can hear lower-pitched sounds than humans, sounds that can travel great distances on the plains of Africa. In fact, they chatter a lot, but the only time we can hear them is when they make a trumpeting sound — one of the highest sounds of which they're capable.

And dogs have such acute hearing that they can distinguish between cars, even from a distance — just by the sound of their engines. Humans, in contrast, can distinguish cars by their mufflers — or lack of mufflers — and not much else.

Perhaps my car makes a sound that only dogs can hear, a sound that says, "Try to catch me!"

The Independence Township Library has a historic preservation grant to transfer back issues of The Clarkston News to microfilm. That means all of our issues are at the microfilm company's office.

Why does it seem that I need to look something up almost everyday, now that the papers are not here? I guess I'll just have to rely on memory until they're back.

One story I remember — which is not a story I'm looking for — was with Jerry Wilford of Main Street a few years back. Wilford was studying traffic on M-15 to recommend solutions to traffic problems to the Clarkston Village Council and the Michigan Department of Transportation.

He said traffic had increased much from just a few decades ago. His neighbor, he said, had a dog that used to sleep in the middle of Main Street.

Those were the days.

And they're still the days near my house. An aged collie with sparse fur and a bad hip lies in the middle of the dirt road, where it's probably soft and warm from the sun.

This collie, which sometimes can't walk from its driveway to its front door, rouses itself at the sight of my car — far down the road. It prepares itself with little stretches and hops — I swear it smiles — and then practically pounces on my car as I go by, barking at the top of its lungs.

It sticks with me for as long as its stiff legs can stand it, then prances back to its place in the sun, looking a little prouder and taller — and a bit smug.

Though I'm tired of dogs chasing my car, I can only smile at this one. Its days are numbered, and what more pleasure is there than a good car chase on a warm summer's day?

School directories a treasure

BY VIRGINIA BLOCK

School directories are treasures when one realizes how much information can be found, if your relative was a teacher or school administrator.

In regard to last column's request for the location of Brush School, we did indeed find it listed in our copy of the 1920 Oakland County Michigan School Directory.

Located in Oakland Township, Brush School's director was Andrew C. Inwood, the teacher Wilma Cady.

Also listed alphabetically are the names of all teachers and the location of their schools, i.e., the cities.

Duties of the teachers, as well as their certification, add a clearer picture of education "back then." This information could be helpful in aiding one searching the 1920 Census records for family members, to pinpoint where — besides church, birth, death and other public records — one might find the needed missing data.

Most recently, we needed to establish the mother's position with Pontiac schools in the 1923-25 era and have been provided with classroom pictures of that era in Eastern Junior High School.

The students pictured, of course, are unidentified but certainly add to the probability that many of them are living today, as retirees, and could be helpful in naming the "kids."

We would love to hear from anyone interested in seeing these pictures, to share all this wealth of information.

It is possible that the records for Brush School can be found in Oakland County Courthouse Record Retention holdings. It's worth a try. If they are not there, then where?

Jim Meloche of Clarkston, too, is looking for someone connected with education. Seeking the parents of William Meloche, Jim states that Dorothy C. Miller, wife of William, was an educator and author who had lived her entire life in Romeo. She died in 1972, but there seems to be difficulty in reaching the Romeo Historical Society for the needed information.

Along with Jim's query comes a copy of his family newsletter, "Meloche Quest." It is a publication of "L'asso-ciation des Familles Meloche, Ltd." Printed in English and French, it is a great example of the way to pull together collateral lines of spousal connection, therefore benefiting everyone.

Duties of the teachers, as well as their certification, add a clearer picture of education 'back then.'

We know Jim will be happy to hear from anyone interested in learning more about his adventure in family seeking.

We are grateful for the interest, help and sharing that makes this column so friendly.

Happy hunting!

Jim's Jottings

Ring it up to honesty

Jim Sherman

I'm not big on jewelry for men except for cuff links and tie pins. Wedding bands are nice.

However, in my over six-decade life I've had a few rings for the other hand. There was a black onyx with my initial, a Knight Templar ring and one with dragons I picked up in Saipan or some such place.

Veterans of the Pacific will recall the kind . . . one size fits all and they look like lead.

Then a half dozen years ago I bought a too-expensive ring with eight diamonds. It cost a worldly amount: $600.

I wore it like a wedding band, never taking it off. Whether swimming, gardening, golfing or painting it stayed put.

Until last fall. My fingers shrink as weather cools. One day I pulled my right hand from my pocket, the ring caught and it came off. No problem, put it back on.

Stay with me now: A few years back, when I owned a newspaper in Auburn Hills I bought a house, expecting to make it an office when the newspaper was on sound financial feet.

The paper hardly got off its back, let alone getting upright. So, I rented the house. Renters came and went. It was during one of the "went" times I had to go down there, mow the lawn and clean up some fallen branches.

Maybe it was that evening, maybe the next day when I noticed my ring was missing. First thing Hazel did was call a psychic we've used for predictions in our newspapers.

Predictor Terri Shannon said she didn't know where the ring was, but it wasn't lost.

That weekend we rented a Geiger counter and covered part of the Auburn Hills property. We found lots of gum wrappers and bottle caps.

After winter passed and the snow melted I went to check an outdoor fireplace where I'd dumped some grass from an area I'd raked. I explained what I was doing to my tenant Lynn Blakely and her friend.

These two care for my house and lot like it was their own, a very refreshing situation.

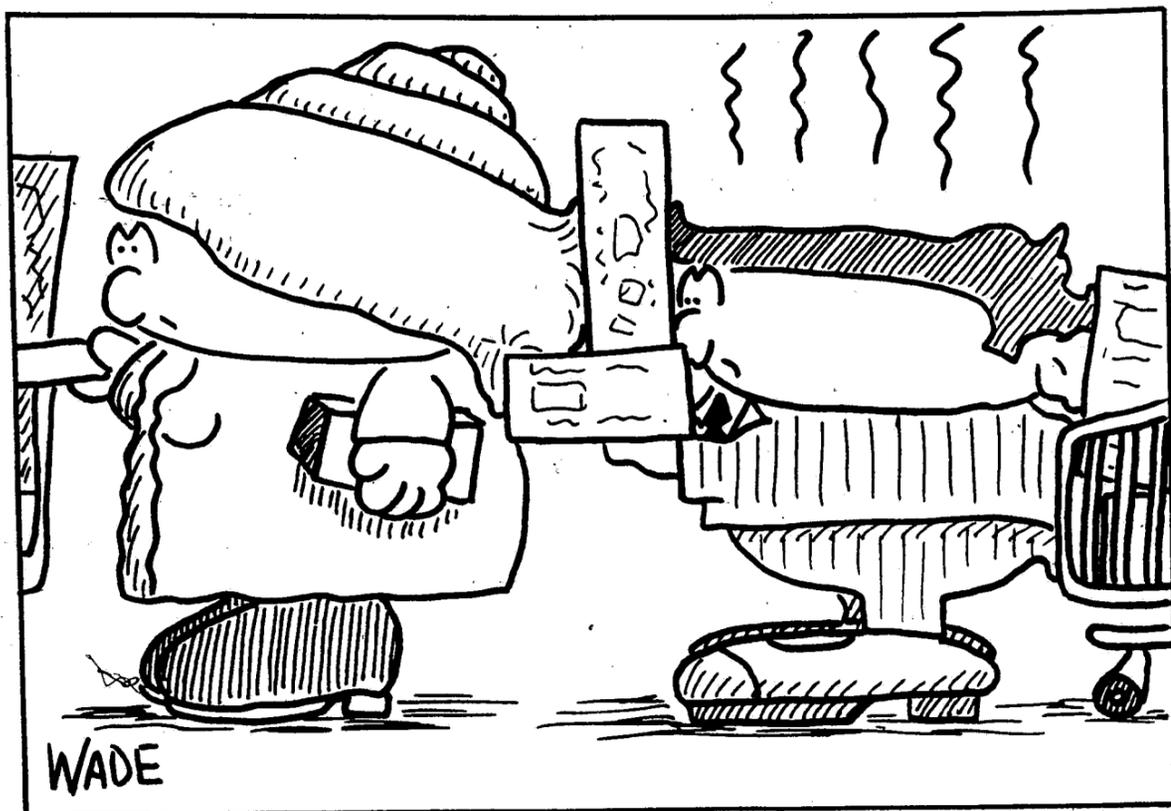

Lynn called on a recent Sunday evening to say she'd found my ring. She said, "We've had our eye out for it ever since you told us. We were raking under a little pine tree and found it."

I said having them rent my property was refreshing, well not half as refreshing as it is to know such honest people. They did not have to "find" the ring. I wasn't really sure where I lost it.

My reward was met with a look of total unexpectedness. They were truly happy just to have found my ring.

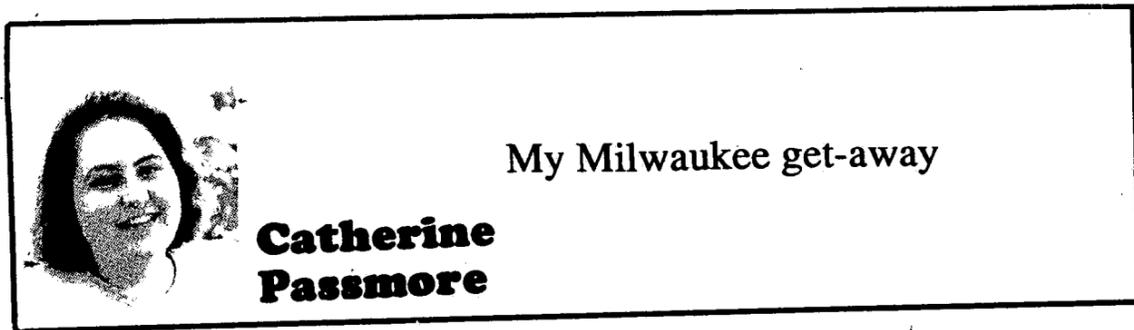

Life sure can be wonderful, especially when you meet special people.

RUDSIL'S SUBURBAN FACTS

The Christmas spirit diminishes in direct proportion to the length of the checkout line.

Catherine Passmore

I went to the great state of Wisconsin this weekend to visit the next in our group of friends to get married. Actually the trip had been planned since before the couple got engaged, but we did talk about THE EVENT awhile.

The color of our dresses may be mauve. The prospective groom cannot get it through his head that mauve is pink — not blue. It's a cause of great stress to the bride.

While in Milwaukee this weekend, I bought the book "Getting to Know You" by Jeanne McSweeney and Charles Leocha.

I have been playing this since my junior year of college, and we play it at the newspaper on Tuesday nights while we lay out the paper. Questions are asked, so you can get to know the others better.

Here are some of my favorites from the book:

#11 — If money were no object, what would you choose for your profession?

#18 — What is your all-time favorite movie?

#72 — Looking back on how you were raised, what do you and don't you want to repeat with your own children?

#81 — As a kid, I wanted to be (FILL IN THE BLANK) when I grew up.

#154 — When you're home alone, do you shut the door when you're using the bathroom?

#176 — Would you rather be famous but just comfortable financially, or extremely wealthy but anonymous? Why?

#182 — Have you been embarrassed by a date's behavior in public?

#278 — What is the best way anyone could compliment you about your work?

I've come to the conclusion my Aunt Sandie (Isaacs — she lives in Waterford and has the delusion that out of my nine aunts she is my favorite, and yes she reads the paper so this is a mention just for her — I want a good gift for Christmas) is right about the fact I can be a real air head sometimes.

As we were speeding down I-294, I was in charge of getting the change for tolls while my sister, Diane, drove. Each time, I gave her a quarter, nickel and dime — 40 cents. Then we came to the fourth toll booth and we were out of nickels, so I instructed her to go to the manual lane and wait it out. We did this twice before it dawned on me that we could have used the faster automatic lanes if we used four dimes from our stash of thousands.

Can you get in trouble if you touch a police officer's nose when he leans in the window to ask for your licence? What if you don't actually touch him but just put your finger up there and taunt — "I'm not touching you"?

I wonder what motorists would do if about 20 people all got their lawn chairs out and sat in the grassy median and just watched the cars go past. Is it against the law to do that?

An interesting thing to do: pay the toll for the person behind you — especially if you don't know them.

Diane and I did that the whole way back from visiting our friends. Some drivers stayed at the booth and argued with the operator taking the money.

We got a kick out of it and felt like we'd done a happy deed for the day.

'If it Fitz...'

How the Saturday Evening Post lost its attraction

Jim Fitzgerald

Recently I wrote, just in passing, that I once sold the Saturday Evening Post. I offered no details, and a young reader's curiosity was piqued. Kids don't sell magazines door-to-door these days. Exactly how did I go about it, and why?

I was so glad to be asked. There's a long list of things that paid scribblers turn to when they can't think of anything internationally important to write about. Boyhood nostalgia is at the top of my list.

And there's nothing more heart-achingly nostalgic than reminiscing about the Great Depression days when a runny-nosed little boy had to sell 10 Saturday Evening Posts a week or his dad would put him in a bag with 10 kittens and throw the bag into the St. Clair River.

(I remember once when Mother tried to use Dad's bag for collecting coal along the railroad tracks. He wouldn't let her. "That's my bag," Dad said, thus becoming the world's first hippie).

When I was about 10 years old, I sold the Post for my cousin, Bobby Smith. He was only a couple of years older but already he was a neighborhood foreman for a magazine distributor. Bobby was one of those kids that a guy's mother was always pointing to and saying:

"Why can't you be like Bobby? He has two paper routes and 10 magazine routes and an Essex dealership. And you won't even get out of bed in the morning."

That's the kind of cousin I had to have, for gosh sakes. He was a real nice kid but, geez, he was always working and putting money in the bank and buying presents for his mother. One Christmas, I remember, he gave her a new coat. That was the same Christmas I gave my mother a clay ash tray I made in school - and I gave it to her in front of my paternal grandmother, who didn't know Mother smoked. Boy, merry Christmas.

Mother thought I would become more like Bobby if I sold magazines. But her plan never worked. I was the world's most reluctant salesman. I would ring neighborhood doorbells only because Mother was watching out the window. (Does anyone except me remember doorbells you twisted instead of pushed?) My sales pitch went like this: "You don't want to buy a Saturday Evening Post, do you?" I was always right.

Each week I'd pick up 10 Posts from Bobby. A few days later I'd bring back 10. The day Bobby suggested I retired was when I brought back 11. A woman had brow-beaten me into buying back a Post she'd bought downtown. One of the cartoons was obscene, she said. I never did find out which one, and I looked for six hours.

I went back to my wastrel life, but Bobby kept hustling. That kid worked hard at dozens of jobs until the day he was drafted into World War II. He was killed in the Battle of the Bulge.

I always associate the Saturday Evening Post with Bobby and the 1930s, when a nickle double-feature could turn on a boy for a week. Those were the days of simple pleasures, one of which was reading the Post, starting from the back and ending up with Alexander Botts, the incredible tractor salesman.

For me, those pleasures seemed to disappear during the war. I guess I became more sophisticated. Maybe I simply grew up, or grew bitter. Anyway, I quit reading the Saturday Evening Post. I guess I don't really know why.

But I think it had something to do with the fact that the most patriotic pictures that Norman Rockwell painted for the Post could never make me understand why my cousin Bobby, 19, had to die.

Drunken driving can be costly for everyone

It's obvious that drinking and driving can be hazardous to your health; but consider the impact on your pocketbook.

A conviction for drunk driving is very expensive. First, there are the legal fees, expenses, court costs and fines. Then, you can expect a big jump in your auto insurance rates.

A recent Michigan Association of Insurance Companies (MAIC) study found that the principal driver of a 1991 Ford Taurus who is convicted of operating a motor vehicle while impaired (OWI), will pay about 64 percent more for auto insurance coverage. A conviction for operating under the influence (OUIL) or with an unlawful blood alcohol level (UBAL) will mean an average rate increase of 80 percent--resulting in an annual premium of about $2,400 in Lansing, for example.

"Accidents which result from drinking and driving are very costly," Terry Buckles, president of MAIC, said. "This is reflected in the higher premiums which are charged to motorists convicted of drunk driving."

Cut-a-thon garners $1,000 for Kaitlyn

A local hair salon raised nearly $1,000 for a terminally ill Clarkston-area toddler Aug. 23.

According to owner Nancy Overfield, Nan's Hair Salon collected nearly a grand in donations from its eight-hour cut-a-thon. All proceeds go to the family of 2-year-old Kaitlyn Davis, who needs a liver and intestinal transplant to survive.

Overfield said thunderstorms may have dampened the cut-a-thon's business that day, but not the spirits of the donors.

Nan's Hair Salon will continue to be a donation station for the Davis family. All checks and money orders should be made out to the Kaitlyn Davis Transplant Fund and sent to: Nan's Salon, 4194 Airport Road, Waterford, 48329.

A driver with a blood alcohol concentration (BAC) of .10 percent is six times more likely than a sober driver to cause an accident, the insurance industry spokesman added. In Michigan, it is illegal to operate a motor vehicle with a BAC of .10 percent.

Stricter laws against drunk drivers and increased publicity surrounding the dangers of getting behind the wheel after drinking, have contributed to a decline in Michigan's number of fatal accidents involving alcohol. Still, over 1,200 persons were killed and another 108,000 were injured in alcohol-related crashes.

In Michigan, state law requires insurance companies to establish a plan for charging higher rates to motorists who have substantially at-fault accidents and/or convictions for driving violations. These extra charges vary by company.

However, individuals convicted of drunk driving charges normally will not be able to purchase auto insurance from regular insurance carriers, Buckles said. Michigan law also permits insurance companies to refuse auto coverage to those with such convictions during the past three years.

Most motorists with drunk driving convictions must obtain insurance from the state's so-called high-risk pool, the Michigan Auto Insurance Placement Facility (MAIPF). MAIPF is an organization created by state law to provide car insurance to people who cannot obtain or might have difficulty obtaining coverage from regular insurance companies.

The penalties in Michigan for operating while impaired (first offense) may include a fine of up to $300, court costs, a jail sentence of up to 90 days, up to 45 days of community service and suspension of driver's license for 90 days to one year.

Those drivers convicted of a first offense for operating under the influence or with an unlawful blood alcohol level may face a jail sentence of up to 90 days, a $100 to $500 fine, court costs, up to 45 days of community service and license suspension for a period of six months to two years.

MAIC is a private, non-profit organization funded by 53 property/casualty insurance companies which do business in the state. Headquartered in Lansing, the Association sponsors a number of consumer information and education programs, including the Insurance Information Hotline. The Hotline, initiated in 1979, is a toll-free information and assistance service for Michigan residents. By calling 1-800-777-8005, consumers can get answers to insurance questions and help in resolving problems. The Hotline receives 600-700 calls each month.

He Never Turns Away

They come to him for help when they need it the most. Some numbed by their loss, some shattered, they say: "This is someone we loved. We entrust him to you."

And even when he's faced with the cramped innocence of the youngest asking, "Why?"-and he has to find childlike words to answer a question that even theologians struggle with-he never turns away. He gives them the consolation of tradition. He shows them how to accept their tragedy with dignity. He helps them cope with their grief. He guides them back to the active world of the living. He is a funeral director. He practices the most emotionally demanding and least understood of all the professions. He faces up to traumas every day that most people only have to deal with once or twice in a lifetime. He would never turn away. He has earned the deepest thanks from anyone who has ever leaned on his compassion for support. Who turned to him and found that he would never turn away.

Resources abound in book

Looking for a home for the elderly? Does a relative suffer from Turret Syndrome and you don't know where to turn? Do you need information on your outdoor plants? Employment? Legal advice?

Answers to these questions and more can be found in one place — the Oakland County Directory of Human Resources 1992-1993.

The 250-page comprehensive guide to human services in Oakland County is available to corporations, private counseling agencies, attorneys, physicians and the general public for $24 per copy (includes shipping).

Many police departments order a copy for each officer. Many libraries also order copies. The next edition won't be printed until 1995.

To order, send a check or money order to: Oakland County Youth Assistance Coordinating Council, 1200 N. Telegraph, Pontiac, MI 48341-0452. Non-profit organizations can obtain a free copy by contacting the same address. For more information, call editor Dick Thibodeau at 858-0053.

The book contains information on over 500 human service agencies, giving name, address, office hours, client eligibility, description of agency services, and more on each.

The directory also features an easy-to-use service index and geographic index; special information on the HIV-AIDS crisis; and 24 special appendices, with specialized information on such topics as: employment and job training, special senior citizen services, toll-free numbers, adult and continuing education, program planning, guide to courts, service clubs, self-help and support groups, demographics and more.

The "Independence Township and Clarkston Village" index, for instance, lists 24 entries, and the "Springfield Township and Davisburg" index lists four entries.

Throughout the book, all sorts of information is available.

■ For instance, did you know that if you have an unplanned pregnancy, you can receive help with housing, medical bills, etc., from Bethany Christian Services (1-800-BETHANY)?

■ If you have any sort of crisis — depression, suicide attempt, family violence, — you can call Common Ground 24 hours a day at 313-543-2900 for help.

■ And if you need help in being a parent or in stopping drinking or drugs, you can call the Consortium for Human Development, Clarkston, at 625-9600.

■ Do you have a child with learning disabilities in grades K-12? Eton Academy in Birmingham specializes in teaching such children (313-642-1150), and financial aid is available.

■ If you've been beaten by your husband or boyfriend (or anyone else), you can call HAVEN for a secret shelter and emergency service (313-334-1274). Or call Women's Survival Center with that problem or other problems (335-2685).

■ If you or someone you love is experiencing problems related to alcoholism and other drugs, Insight Recovery Center, Clarkston, likely can help. (625-0400 or 1-800-441-5092)

■ Is someone in your household ill or immobile, and you need help? North Oakland Home Health Care in Independence Township can help (625-5865) with skilled nursing, physical therapy, speech therapy, occupational therapy, medical care, social work and more.

■ Maybe you're age 16 or older and are interested in classes in automotive electronics, floral design or advertising design. If so, call the Oakland Technical Center-Northwest Campus (625-5202).

■ Or what if you've been in an argument with your neighbor or your landlord? To settle it, turn to The Settlement Center in Bloomfield Hills (313-338-4280), which costs $12.

■ And what do you do if you can't drive but you still need to get around town? Why, you'd call the SMART Connector, of course. In the Clarkston area, call 313-332-3696 to arrange a ride.

■ Looking for licensed day care in the area? The book lists 14 centers in the Clarkston and Davisburg areas.

■ How about immunization for your child? Free care is available to some at Clarkston United Methodist Church (858-1311).

■ Career counseling is available in the Clarkston area by calling 674-4791.

■ Private professional tutoring is provided in the Clarkston area by Carolyn Place (625-2390).

■ The book lists day camps, special education camps, Head Start programs, senior centers and nutrition sites and nursing homes.

■ It lists state parks, county parks, metroparks and some local parks; art councils and galleries, orchestras and local theater groups; and civic groups (and descriptions of each), libraries and more.

Band Boosters given license

The Clarkston High Band Boosters have been given the green light to hold a raffle.

On Aug. 17, the Independence Township Board granted a non-profit raffle license to the Boosters, so they could give away a 1994 Chevrolet Camaro at an upcoming event.

According to the Boosters, this license would be valid only for the Nov. 5 raffle. Proceeds from the raffle go toward sending the CHS Marching Band to London on Jan. 1, where it will perform in the Lord Mayor of Westminster's New Year's Day Spectacular.

About $250,000 is needed to send 175 band members and their chaperons, free of charge.

Still time to enter Labor Day Parade

There's still time to sign up for this year's Labor Day Parade — and there's no fee to register.

The parade, sponsored by the Clarkston Rotary Club, takes place at 10 a.m. Monday, Sept. 6, in downtown Clarkston. This year's theme is: "Special Thanks to Joe Saul." Judging takes place 8:30-9 a.m. at Clarkston Junior High School, where the parade begins. To register, call 625-9260.

Other activities that day include a corn roast following the parade at the Campbell Richmond Post 63 American Legion Hall (M-15, north of I-75), and a Fair and Antique Car Exhibit at the First Congregational Church of North Oakland (5449 Clarkston Road).

Look for details in next week's Clarkston News.

Hearing on property tax hike in Springfield

Citizens of Springfield Township will have a chance to voice their opinions on a proposed property tax increase in September.

In accordance with Public Act No. 75 of 1991, the township board has set a public hearing for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 9, at the township hall on Broadway, downtown Davisburg. The hearing is part of the board's regular monthly meeting.

Teens face felony charges on bombing

Police have filed charges with the county prosecutor against two juveniles.

The two 15-year-olds — one from Independence Township and one from Rochester — are suspects in the July bombing of a mailbox in Independence.

They face felony charges of placing explosives with intent to damage property, with damage resulting, in Oakland County Probate Court in September.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department interviewed many potential suspects for weeks before gaining enough evidence to file the charges.

The incident took place at an Oak Park Drive residence, off Maybee Road. The homeowner — whose son has been charged with rape — said last week that police were out to "get" her son and that they didn't respond to her complaint about her mailbox being bombed.

Wolves to rely on speed over height in '93

Fall sports preview

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

After losing its three top scorers to graduation, the Clarkston varsity girls' basketball team is undergoing what could be termed a "rebuilding year."

Yet Coach Larry Mahrle, in his sixth year with the Wolves, is comfortable with the makeup of his 1993 squad.

"For the most part, we lost our offense when (Alyson) McChesney, (Courtney) Whittaker and (Heather) Steinhilber graduated," he said. "Their height allowed us to muscle most teams and control the boards."

"This year, we'll have to use our speed to create opportunities," Mahrle added. "Even though we're short, we'll be just as tough to match up with because of our players' quickness."

Mahrle will rely heavily on his four returning seniors for leadership. Spearheading this quartet is Laura Seitz, who's the only returning starter for the Wolves.

"We'll be pressing our opponents as soon as they leave the lockerroom."

Last year, Seitz averaged 4 points, 4 assists and 5 steals per game. She was most effective when dishing off to her taller teammates.

CLARKSTON'S varsity girls basketball team is led by four seniors this fall. They include: Anne Brueck, Erin Patterson, Laura Seitz and Shawna Greene.

The three other seniors include guard Anne Brueck, guard Shawna Greene and forward Erin Patterson. Also expected to see plenty of action are junior frontcourt players Kerry Kelly and Sarah Antanazzo and freshman guard Elissa Shires.

Mahrle said his squad will run a patient, half-court offense when they're not pushing the ball. Strategywise, he's counting on his defense to spur his offense.

"We'll be pressing our opponents as soon as they leave the lockerroom," he said. "We intend to get a lot of turnovers by pressuring teams' ballhandlers."

Looking ahead to conference play, Mahrle sees a wide-open race for the GOAL crown.

"At this time, it appears that Waterford Kettering will be the team to beat," he said. "They're huge up front with a couple of quick guards. Brandon and Pontiac

Northern also have some good players coming back.

"Of course, I'm not counting us out because we're the defending champions, and teams have a tendency of remembering that," Mahrle added of last year's 19-3 record. "When looking at the league, I see strengths at every school. This could very well be the most balanced league we've had in years."

Cross country teams look to improve over '92

THE CLARKSTON High cross country teams features about 22 runners for the 1993 season. They're a combination of seasoned veterans and newcomers.

Fall sports preview

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The Clarkston boys' and girls' cross country teams are two squads heading in opposite directions.

The girls' team is listed as one of the favorites to dethrone GOAL champ Lake Orion, while the boys' squad looks to build a foundation for the future.

"Our girls are really going to be tough this year," said Coach Mike Taylor. "Our boys' team, on the other hand, lost eight of its members to graduation. With them, we're hoping to get some help from our freshman class."

Last year, both teams garnered overall records of 4-2, as well as taking second place in the GOAL.

The girls' squad returns five varsity letter-winners this season. The team is spearheaded by two-time individual GOAL champ and all-stater Leah Scharl. The junior, who qualified for the state meet as a freshman and sophomore, took 22nd overall in Flint last year. The top 25 overall runners earn all-state status.

Also back is sophomore Stephanie Burklow, who took second place at the GOAL meet in 1992. Just missing state qualification by two seconds last year, Burklow and Scharl should give Clarkston the league's most potent 1-2 punch.

Taylor also expects big things from sophomore Anna Vandermeer, who took 11th at last year's GOAL meet, and senior Michele Schroeder, who came in 20th place overall. Junior Stacy Patterson, who finished 22nd in the GOAL meet, also returns for CHS.

These five veterans are joined by three newcomers this fall.

The boys' team has had a little better turnout with 14 runners. Three of these participants earned varsity letters last year. They include senior Curt Duca and juniors Andrew Holland and Jeff Dengate.

Looking at the league races, Taylor expects Clarkston and Lake Orion to battle it out in the girls' division. He said the Dragons should also cruise to a boys' title.

The Wolves' first meet of the year is Sept. 1 when they host Lapeer East and Lapeer West high schools.

Linksters look to 3-peat as league champs

Fall sports preview

BY CURT MCALLISTER

With a majority of last year's league championship squad back, the Clarkston varsity golf team is thinking "three-peat."

"We were pretty much a sophomore-oriented team last year, so we've only lost a couple of key players to graduation," said Coach Jim Chamberlain, whose teams have won back-to-back GOAL titles. "We've got the ability to play even better this year, but it's too early to make predictions."

This fall, the linksters will be paced by a quartet of returning lettermen. They include senior Ryan Karlstrom and juniors Jayson Buchmann, Jon Dean and Myles Mosher. Last season, Dean and Buchmann earned all-conference recognition for Clarkston.

Dean, who travels the country playing on amateur junior teams, recently participated in the Raymond Floyd Turnberry Isle Junior Classic, Miami, conducted by the American Junior Golf Association. He shot a three-round 246 and finished 33 strokes off the pace.

Other players expected to shine for the Wolves are juniors Jeremy Jensen and Corey Bildstein. The rest of the roster includes: Gary Bujdos, Brian Daly, Armin Michelson and Brandon Schieb.

Looking ahead to the GOAL race, Chamberlain sees parity across the board.

"Lake Orion is always good and, like us, they should be in the thick of things," he said. "Waterford Kettering and Mott should also be improved this season."

The Wolves are to play in the Troy Invitational this weekend.

THE CLARKSTON varsity golf team will rely on the play of its four returning lettermen this fall. They include Jon Dean, Jayson Buchmann, Myles Mosher and Ryan Karlstrom.

Mortgage shopping important when buying home

With the spring home buying season upon us and local mortgage rates at a 20-year low, many area renters are looking to buy their first home.

First-time buyers are bound to have many questions about the home financing process, including how to apply for and select a mortgage.

According to the North Oakland County Board of Realtors, there are basically two major types of mortgage loans — those with fixed interest rates and monthly payments and those with adjustable rates and payments. These common mortgages include 30- and 15-year mortgages.

The 30-year mortgage usually offers the lowest monthly payment of fixed-rate fixed-payment schedule loans. The 15-year, fixed-rate mortgage enables you to own your home in half the time and for less than half the total interest cost of a 30-year loan, but will likely require higher monthly payments.

Mortgages with adjustable interest rates and/or adjustable monthly payments are known as adjustable-rate mortgages (ARM). The ARM usually offers interest rates and monthly payments that are initially lower than fixed-rate mortgages. But these rates and payments can fluctuate, often annually, according to changes in a predetermined index — commonly the rate of return on U.S. Government Treasury bills

Some adjustable loans contain a provision permitting you to convert later to a fixed rate loan. Another type of mortgage loan carries a fixed-interest rate for a number of years, often seven, before adjusting to a new market interest rate for the remainder of the loan.

A "buy down" or a "discounted mortgage" is another type of loan with an initially reduced interest rate, which increases to a higher fixed rate or to an adjustable rate usually within one to three years.

When mortgage shopping, the single most important factor to look for is probably the annual percentage rate. The APR includes all the costs of credit, including such items as interest and "points" (fees charged when the mortgage is closed). In general, the lower the APR, the lower the cost of your loan.

Other questions to ask a lender include whether private mortgage insurance is required, how long a rate can be locked in, the length of time before an oral or written approval can be given and the application fee and what it covers.

CHS grad a final pageant contestant

Pellayia Lazaris of Clarkston was selected as one of the final candidates for this year's Miss Michigan USA Pageant.

Lazaris, 18, a Clarkston High School graduate, attends the University of Michigan-Flint. After graduating, she plans to pursue a career in anesthesiology.

Should Lazaris be crowned Miss Michigan USA, she will represent Michigan in the 1994 Miss USA Pageant, a nationally televised live CBS special.

This year's Michigan pageant takes place at 4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 28, at the Holiday Inn Crowne Plaza, Romulus.

Activities for the pageant include rehearsals and photogenic judging, as well as the final event.

Miss Michigan USA will receive an all-expense-paid trip to the national Miss USA Pageant, an interview with a top modeling agency, and a photo session with a top fashion photographer.

Tickets for the Miss Michigan USA Pageant are available by calling pageant headquarters at 216-779-3248.

Two babies triply blessed at Calvary Lutheran

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

Baptisms may be the same the world over, but other aspects of worship and life itself are different, found two visiting clergymen from Germany.

The two clergymen helped to triply bless two babies recently. Baptized were: Joshua Andrew Robenault, son of Sheryl and Mike Robenault of Waterford Township, and Brent Raymond Cotter, son of Carol and Kevin Cotter of Springfield Township.

The special event July 11 took place at Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church, with the Rev. Bob Walters. Assisting were his guests from Boeblingen, Germany: the Rev. Eberhard Goehner of Paul Gerhardt Church and the Rev. Anton Hirschle of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church. Each participated in the ceremony by reading, giving the blessing and pouring water.

The babies didn't cry during the ceremony, and only one cried afterward — like many services in Germany and America.

Walters, Goehner and their families have exchanged visits for nine years. This year, Goehner brought Hirschle,

"I'm still of the generation that experienced the war. ... To throw away bread — we just can't do it. It's unholy."

The Rev. Eberhard Goehner whose parish is just down the road from Goehner's Lutheran church.

The babies' baptism makes it an inter-denominational, international event — a first for the three clergymen involved.

Goehner and Hirschle also took part in services in other parts of the country during their stay in America. Along with Walters, they — and Goehner's wife and daughter — talked about their impressions of American after the special baptism ceremony.

One memorable event took place during a tour of Clarkston. They met school teacher-herbalist Judy McConnell of Washington Street, Clarkston.

When she saw the three in religious collars and discovered their identity, she said, "For heaven's sake, come in," and gave them a tour of her herb garden and house — one of the oldest in Clarkston's historical district.

And that is typical of the reaction to Hirschle and the Goehner family, said Goehner's wife, Ursi.

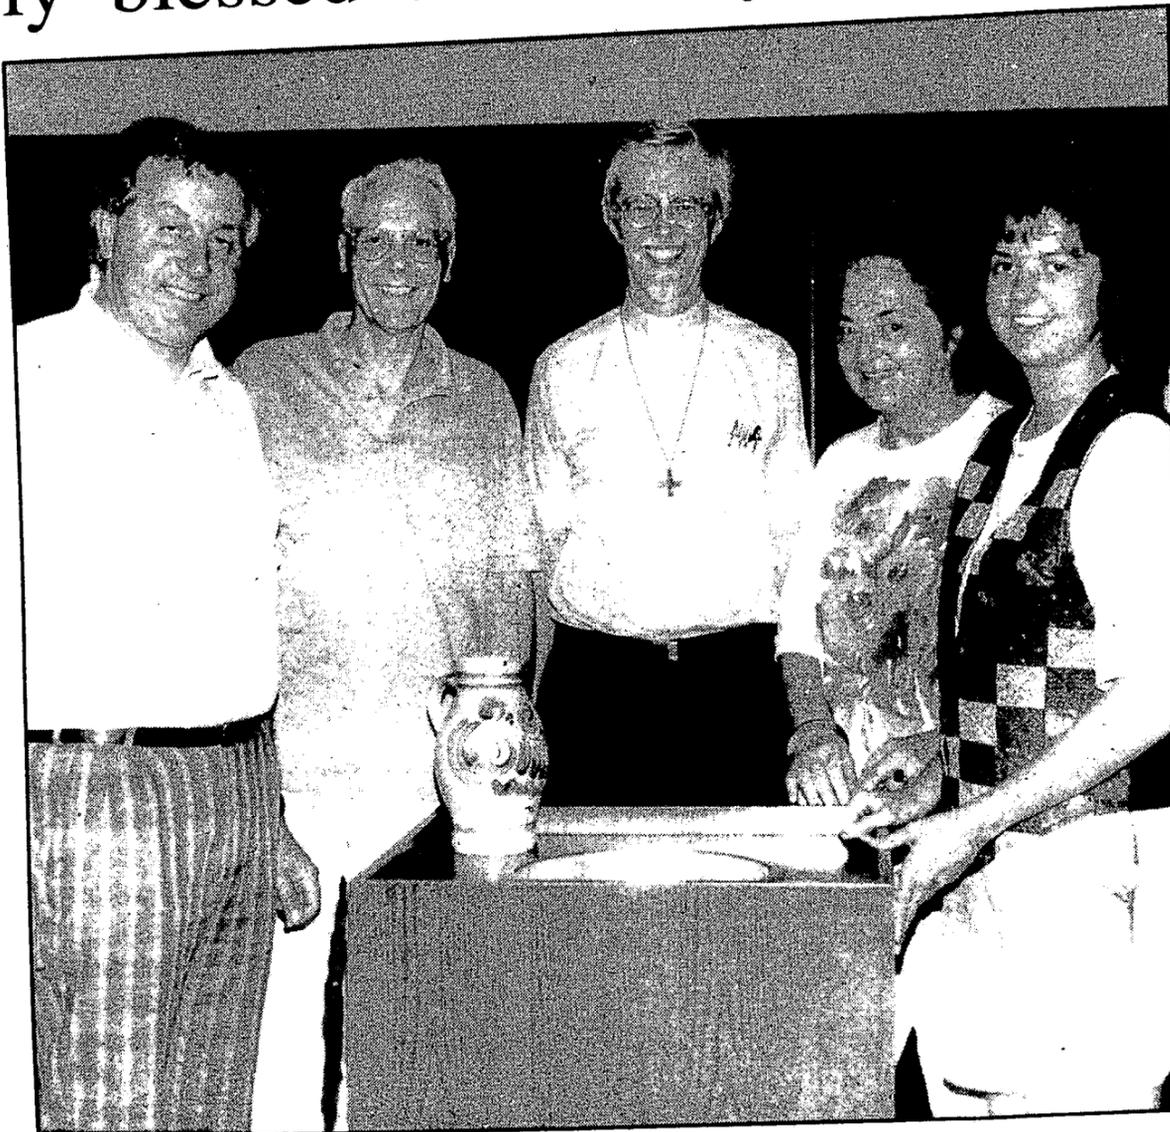

"Almost everybody takes us in and hosts us," she said. "We are strangers to most of them, and they take us in."

She mentioned the families in the Clarkston area with whom they stayed, their visit up north at Gail Selvala's house, picnics and other activities.

In fact, that attitude is what Hirschle likes best about the Clarkston area — "the friendly connection of the congregation of this church," he said.

Goehner agreed. "They don't make much ado — they just take you in. ... They say if you're hungry or thirsty, help yourself."

This visit to the United States, the first for Hirschle,

A HANDMADE pitcher from Germany is part of the Baptism ceremony at Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church. The pitcher, the type used for 200 years in Germany, is made of a special kind of salt glaze, with a traditional blue and gray design. Originally,

also revealed some unexpected aspects of America.

"Everything is big and great — even the ice cream. You must order the baby scoop because it's so huge," said Hirschle, after a trip to Cook's Farm Dairy.

The Goehners noted that houses are bigger, have bigger yards, and are less expensive in America.

Walters pointed out that much of the cost of houses in Germany and Europe can be attributed to the materials, such as stone.

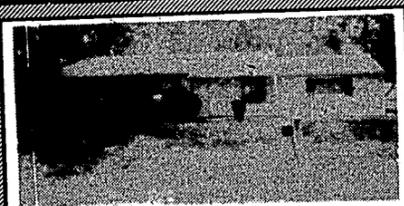

"Their houses are built much better," he said.

Ursi Goehner said Europeans expect their homes to last longer. "Once we buy a house, we're likely to stay. Here, you exchange it like a handkerchief."

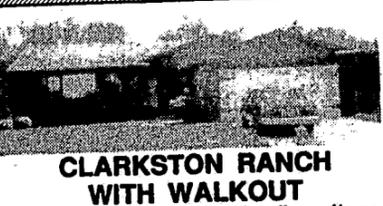

Goehner noted other differences — the church community, for instance.

"In a Christian congregation here, people really go to church and are active," he said.

Cultures combine for blessings

"Most Germans are more law-abiding," Walters said. "Fast cars are only in the left-hand lane. They're more disciplined."

Transportation is another difference. Bicycles and walking are common modes in Germany, as is public transportation. But Midwestern U.S. is another story.

"We ride bicycles for exercise, not to get somewhere."

The Rev. Bob Walters

"At home, you don't have to have a car," said Ursi Goehner. "You have to be 18 to drive."

Walters said paved bike paths connect many towns and villages in Germany and noted that bicycles are not used for real transportation in the United States.

"We ride bicycles for exercise, not to get somewhere," he said.

Walters noted that Germany is more developed in other areas. "We're not as careful of our environment, not as aware of what we throw out. We're not concerned about that."

"What you don't eat, you throw away," said Goehner's daughter, Gudrun, explaining that even at church picnics in Germany, real dishes are used, rather than paper or plastic.

"Our attitude of throwing away food ... I'm still of the generation that experienced the war," Goehner said. "To throw away bread — we just can't do it. It's unholy. ... We can't throw a pie in the face of someone that's without food."

Ursi Goehner recalled that as a child during the war, there was not much to eat. Bread was dropped from airplanes to help the hungry — and she received her first orange from an American.

She said she remembers hiking for half a day up a hill for a bowl of potato soup.

"It's a kind of feeling that we don't throw food away," she said.

Walters, who has visited his ancestral home in Germany, said, "It blew my mind that as a child I was taught to hate the Germans ... and they were my family."

He recalled that in grade school, when he first learned the Pledge of Allegiance, the pupils held their hands out to the flag. However, after Christmas of 1945, pupils who returned after the holiday break were told not to hold their hands out. Walters later discovered that the outstretched hand meant, "Heil, Hitler."

Ursi Goehner — who attended college in the United States as does daughter Gudrun — said exchanges such as this improve relations between nations, important to her especially since her city of Boeblingen rests in the former East Germany.

"To us, it's unbelievable that there could be another war between our countries because we have friends, and who would want to fight our friends?" she said.

Businessman charged with bad checks

Carl Rouse of Oxford was arraigned in 52nd District Court, Independence Township, Monday on charges he wrote and cashed checks on an account that was closed.

Former employees and suppliers of Rouse's brick-laying business appear to be the victims. One check, for $250, was allegedly given to an employee at Rouse's Oxford home. Another was allegedly cashed by Rouse and a friend in Independence Township. Police in both Oxford and Independence Township are investigating.

Rouse was released on $15,000 personal bond, and a preliminary hearing was set for Sept. 17. The other person involved has not yet been located.

"Any businessman who has a check from Rouse Building Co. that has been returned marked 'account closed' should contact their local police," said Oxford Sgt. Ron Crichton.

Township to buy land

Geese, ducks and red-winged blackbirds may want to thank the Independence Township Board.

The board has applied to buy a small wetlands lot in Heather Lake Meadows subdivision from the Department of Natural Resources. The subdivision is north of Clarkston Road, in the northeast quadrant of the township.

On Aug. 17, the township board voted 6-0 to apply for the purchase. Trustee Daniel Travis was absent from the meeting.

The land became available after the non-payment of taxes.

If approved by the DNR, the township would pay $75 for the parcel. In turn, Independence would turn the property over to the Clarkston Land Conservancy, a private non-profit group that preserves property "forever" in the township.

Fresh blueberries make tasty summer dishes

With summer blueberries available, here's a few berry recipes from Weight Watchers.

The recipes are from Weight Watchers Favorite Homestyle Recipes Cookbook.

BLUEBERRY HOTCAKES

Makes 2 servings

- 1/2 teaspoon cornstarch
- 1 1/2 cups fresh or frozen blueberries
- Granulated sugar substitute to equal 4 teaspoons sugar
- 1 1/2 ounces quick-cooking oats
- 1/3 cup buttermilk powder
- 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon granulated sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup egg substitute

1. To prepare blueberry sauce, in small saucepan, combine cornstarch and 1/4 cup cold water until smooth. Add blueberries; cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until thickened, about 5 minutes. Stir in sugar substitute; set aside.

2. Heat non-stick electric griddle or 2 medium non-stick skillet until hot.

3. In large bowl, combine remaining ingredients until just blended.

4. Drop batter by 1/2-cup measures onto hot griddle, making 6 hotcakes. Cook until golden brown, about 3 minutes. Carefully turn and cook until other side is golden, about 3 minutes. Serve immediately with blueberry sauce.

Per serving: 286 calories, 15 g protein, 3 g fat, 52 g carbohydrate, 318 mg calcium, 761 mg sodium, 14 mg cholesterol, 5 g dietary fiber.

BLUEBERRY-ORANGE MUFFINS

Makes 12 servings

- 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 2/3 cup granulated sugar
- 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup reduced-calorie tub margarine
- 3/4 cup plain nonfat yogurt
- 1 small orange, peeled, seeded, and finely chopped, with juice
- 2 teaspoons grated orange peel
- 2 large eggs, beaten
- 1 1/2 cups fresh or frozen blueberries

1. Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Spray 12 2-1/2-inch non-stick muffin cups with non-stick cooking spray, or line with paper liners; set aside.

2. In large bowl, whisk together flour, sugar, baking powder, baking soda and salt; cut in margarine until mixture resembles fine crumbs.

3. In small bowl, combine yogurt, orange and orange peel until thoroughly blended. Stir in eggs.

4. Make well in center of flour mixture. Pour in egg mixture and stir until just combined; gently fold in blueberries.

5. Spoon batter evenly into prepared muffin cups, filling each about two-thirds full. Bake 20 to 25 minutes, until lightly browned and a toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool on rack.

Per serving: 199 calories, 4 g protein, 5 g fat, 34 g carbohydrate, 78 mg calcium, 327 mg sodium, 36 mg cholesterol, 1 g dietary fiber.

BLUEBERRY SALAD

- 1/4 cup nonfat sour cream (10 calories per tablespoon)
- 1/4 cup plain nonfat yogurt
- 2 tablespoons plus 2 teaspoons granulated sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 ounce shelled pecans, chopped

1. In medium bowl or 4-cup decorative mold, combine gelatin and 2 cups boiling water. Stir until gelatin is completely dissolved; add pineapple, blueberries and 1 cup cold water. Chill until set, about 4 hours.

2. In blender, combine remaining ingredients except pecans; blend until smooth.

3. Unmold gelatin onto serving plate; pour cream cheese mixture over top; sprinkle with pecans.

Time

By Tom Erickson

The advancement of illusion,
Through the drifters of time.
The myth of true love,
That comes within due time ...
Handicapped thoughts,
Beacons that beckon a want.
For I think I'll love you,
Throughout all time ...
A progression of the advancement of,
Illusion ...
Through the drifters of time.

Tom Erickson resides on Hubbard Road, Independence Township.

Widening starts soon

Despite rumors to the contrary, the widening of the Maybee and Sashabaw roads intersection in Independence Township will begin soon.

Brent Bair, managing director with the Road Commission for Oakland County, told the township board Aug. 17 that the Michigan Department of Transportation is considering bids. He said the bids should be awarded soon, so construction can start sometime after Labor Day.

Bair said the project's paving should be in place by Nov. 1.

Grilled chicken tip

Even a culinary flop can be "grillmeister extraordinaire" with some quick grill tips from the experts.

For example, the best way to avoid an overcooked, dried out chicken is to grill it longer on the bone side and then flip it over and cook it for a few more minutes, according to one executive chef from a Michigan restaurant.

Governor signs bill banning tobacco on school property

Gov. John Engler recently signed a bill prohibiting the use of tobacco products on public school property. "This bill is yet another step to make Michigan a healthier place for all to live," Engler said. "Students need a positive, healthy environment in which to learn, and this legislation gives them and non-smoking adults the opportunity to be in a safe, smoke-free environment while on school grounds."

The bill (SB 459), sponsored by State Sen. Dan DeGrow (R-Port Huron), amends the Michigan Penal Code to establish tobacco use on school property as a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than $50. It doesn't apply to school property consisting of outdoor areas, especially open-air stadiums, on Saturdays, Sundays and other days on which there are not regularly scheduled school hours, or after 6 p.m. on days with regularly scheduled school hours.

The law goes into effect on Sept. 1.

Clarkston schools had already adopted a no-smoking policy on its grounds.

Family donates memorials to Clarkston park

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Over 80 years ago, Josephine Stewart Snover played

JOSEPHINE STEWART SNOVER poses for a picture as a child. Mrs. Snover was born on a farm on Clintonville Road, Waterford Township 85 years ago and grew up in Clarkston.

MRS. SNOVER, here at 80, died in August. The family asks that any memorial donations be made to the Depot Park Playground Fund, which will replace or improve equipment in Clarkston's Depot Park.

in and around the Village of Clarkston.

Now memorials in her honor will allow future generations to make playful memories in the town, now a city of about 1,000.

The family of Mrs. Snover, who died Aug. 7, 1993, at age 85, has asked that memorials be made in her honor toward improving and buying playground equipment for the Depot Park playground.

Relatives explained Mrs. Snover's family history and her connection to Clarkston.

Mrs. Snover was born on Sept. 5, 1907, to Fred and Gertrude Stewart at the family farmhouse on Clintonville Road, Independence Township. She was the granddaughter of David and Frances (Beardsley) Miller and Peter and Joanna (Earle) Stewart, who also farmed in the Clarkston area. The Beardsley family (sometimes spelled "Beardslee") settled the Sashabaw plains portion of Independence Township in 1826.

When her father began working at the Clarkston Grist Mill in 1916, the family moved to the house on the northwest corner of Main Street and Miller Road, now occupied by the Tower family.

In a small schoolhouse at Walton Boulevard and Clintonville Road, Waterford Township, Mrs. Snover was taught her first three years by her older sister, Ivy. Her other sister, Elm, was her seventh-grade teacher at the Clarkston School, which is now used as the Independence Township Hall, on Main Street, Clarkston.

Mrs. Snover and 11 other classmates graduated in 1925 from Clarkston School. After a year at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, where she studied to be a math teacher, Mrs. Snover completed her formal education at the Pontiac Business Institute.

Her first job upon graduation was as a secretary for the Snover family's building business. There, she met her future husband, Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Snover were married at her parent's home in Clarkston on Thanksgiving Day 1933.

The Snovers owned and operated the Farmer-Snover Funeral Home in Pontiac for many years. After 1978, Mrs. Snover spent most of the year in Florida and permanently moved back to Clarkston in 1992.

Her daughter, Barbara Longpre, said the family decided to request memorials for the park because Mrs. Snover liked her hometown of Clarkston and especially liked the park.

"She enjoyed going to the park to watch her great-grandkids," Longpre said.

Mrs. Snover was a member of Bethany Baptist Church and P.E.O., Chapter AW. She was preceded in death by her husband, Paul.

She is survived by her daughter, Barbara Jo and her husband Dick Longpre of Clarkston; grandchildren, Suzy and Bob Fluck of Brandon Township, Paula Jo and Martin Rathsburg of Independence Township, and Lynn and Faron Brooks of Waterford; great-grandchildren, Emily Jo and John Fluck, and Marty, Amy Jo and Danny Rathsburg; sister, Ivy Bird of Plymouth; and brother, David Stewart and his wife Fran of Rogers City.

A memorial service took place Aug. 23 at the Christ Redeemer Church in Gingellville.

Memorials can be made to the Depot Park Playground Fund, Clarkston City Hall, Clarkston, Michigan 48346.

WHEN Josephine Stewart Snover was a child, her family moved into this house on Main Street and Miller Road, Clarkston. She was married in this house on Thanksgiving Day 1933. The home is now owned by the Tower family.

Teens find work, friendly people in Costa Rica

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Two 17-year-old girls from Independence Township swam in the Pacific Ocean, visited the rain forest and got their picture taken at the edge of a volcano during their summer vacation.

They also got up at 5 a.m. to work, had a nest of roaches fall on their table in a restaurant — and one even lost her purse to a thief.

Nikki Greene and Amy Flores — both Clarkston High School pupils — were two of 31 people from the United States who spent 12 days in Costa Rica in July.

The workers were part of a mission trip through Young Life and the Clarkston Community Church of God that went to Costa Rica to build a camp for youth.

The two girls lived with a Costa Rican family for part of the time. The family spoke no English, so it was helpful that both Flores and Greene had taken three years of Spanish in school.

Even then, they had problems communicating what they needed to say.

"We would talk in English for about five minutes about what we were going to say (before they spoke in Spanish)," said Flores.

The two had some interesting observations from their trip. Costa Rica has really big lizards, frogs and bugs — all over the place. They noticed that the woman didn't work with the men when it came time to build the floor of a house. Greene said the American girls were working right along with the men while the Costa Rican women played hand games or watched.

"They cleaned our shoes a lot, too," said Greene, not really knowing why.

Neither of the girls said the trip met expectations — it was better.

"The people in Costa Rica are the nicest people I've ever met," said Greene.

Both girls would like to return sometime soon.

AMY FLORES (left) and Nikki Greene, both of Independence Township, spent time in Costa Rica this summer on a mission trip, where they helped to build a campground.

QUESTION: What is the relationship between the length of time a property is for sale and the price you can get for your property?

ANSWER: If you offered your average house for sale at $2 million, it probably would never sell (or would remain on the market until inflation caught up with your price). If you asked $10 for the property, you'd have a sale before your ad ever hit the newspapers. TIME and MONEY are very much related in real estate sales.

If you are working under a deadline, a nonsense price, slightly under market value, will bring faster action than a higher than average price.

How to have peace
in the midst of turbulence

The Rev.
Glen Currie

War rages in Bosnia. Will American troops be called again to settle an international dispute?

At home, the entire nation gave a collective sigh of relief as Los Angeles remained quiet last spring. Yet violence has become a way of life for many Americans. Every year, thousands of Americans are slain in the street of our cities. The murder rate is appalling in this country.

How can a person find peace and relief in such turbulence? The Bible, in Philippians 4:7, says, "The peace of God, which passes all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus."

For the Christian, there is an abundant peace that defies explanation and even human understanding. The key to finding true peace is through Jesus Christ. Romans 5:1 says, "Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Because of our estrangement from God, a great quest for peace abides within the soul of every person. The culprit is sin. Since we are all sinners (Romans 3:10, 23), God, in His infinite love and mercy, sent His son, Jesus Christ, to pay the penalty for our sin. The gift of salvation and, ultimately, peace comes through faith in Christ. "For by grace are ye saved through faith." (Ephesians 2:8). Of the many great benefits of salvation, one is an everlasting peace with God — a peace that "passes all understanding."

Peace is possible in a turbulent society. War rages on. The fires of hatred burn hotter today than they have during anytime in my lifetime. Yet God has placed an abiding peace and contentment in my heart. You can have that same peace, but it can only come through the Lord Jesus Christ.

Columnist to give moral, spiritual teachings in The Clarkston News

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

Sometimes, a little extra help goes a long way. That's why the Rev. Glen Currie of Maranatha Baptist Church volunteered to write a column for The Clarkston News — to give a little help.

"There is a great need for moral and spiritual teaching in our society, which has become valueless," said Currie, adding that Clarkston is no exception.

"Clarkston is a reflection of greater society. Clarkston is just as needy as other areas," said Currie, whose church is on Flemings Lake Road, off Sashabaw Road, Independence Township.

His twice-monthly "Good news report," which debuts this week, will mostly use Bible scriptures to help people and will talk about the word of God and "how it relates to our lives," he said.

"I see it as a ministry, an outreach to people who don't attend church and people who are searching for Bible answers. I believe most people, even though they won't admit it, are searching for answers."

He said he plans to keep opinion out of his column as much as possible and instead focus on scripture and Church, resides in Brandon Township with his wife, Sue, and their children: Scott, 15; Kristin, 13 1/2; and Laura, 10.

Prior to serving as pastor in Independence Township, he was youth pastor at Inter-City Baptist Church in Allen Park. He holds a master of divinity degree from Detroit Baptist Seminary, Allen Park; a bachelor of arts degree in Bible from Bob Jones University, South Carolina; and a high school diploma from Inter-City Baptist High School, Allen Park.

He said Clarkston is a beautiful community. "I've found people in this area much friendlier — there's more of a community spirit here. It seems in this community that there's a stronger belief in traditional values than in some other communities."

He said the title of his column — an idea from a church member — is fitting since "gospel" means "good news" and since he plans to use the space for the good of people.

"I believe most people, even though they won't admit it, are searching for answers."

interpretation. Some may disagree with the interpretation, and they're welcome to respond by writing to Currie in care of The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main St., Clarkston, MI 48346.

"We do disagree with other churches' beliefs — that's what makes all the different denominations," he said.

But the column should help give the Biblical perspective to readers, he said.

"I believe the people and the churches have forgotten that our main mission and goal in society is to know the Lord personally and to serve him and that we are spiritual people, and we have spiritual needs.

"If we don't care for our spiritual needs, we're going to be empty and devoid of the basic truths that built this country."

Currie, pastor for six years at Maranatha Baptist

THE REV. Glen Currie will give readers a Biblical perspective in his twice-monthly column, "Good news report," debuting this week in Section B.

Healthy dessert

Looking for a low-fat, low-cholesterol dessert recipe that also tastes good?

Strawberry and Cream Crepes fill that order. Plus, they're delicious and nutritious.

STRAWBERRY AND CREAM CREPES

(Low-Fat Version)
Makes eight servings

Egg substitute equivalent to 1 egg

1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 cup skim milk

Filling:

1 cup low-fat cottage cheese (1 percent or less)
3 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sliced strawberries

Place egg substitute in medium bowl. Add flour and sugar, mixing well. Add milk gradually and beat with a whisk or electric beater until batter is smooth. Heat 7-inch crepe pan or non-stick skillet. Pour in 2 to 3 tablespoons of batter, then lift pan above the heating unit and tilt in all directions, allowing batter to coat bottom of pan. (This must be done quickly, before batter sets.) Return pan to heating unit and cook on medium heat until lightly browned on bottom and dry on top.

Carefully loosen edges of crepe and flip it over. Cook on opposite side for about 20 seconds. Remove crepe from pan and place on paper towels to cool. Repeat until all batter has been used up. Makes about 8 crepes.

For the filling, combine cottage cheese, sugar and vanilla and whip with electric mixer until smooth and creamy. Fold in strawberries.

Place a crepe on plate and spoon filling along center of crepe. Fold one side of the crepe over filling. Then fold over the other side so that it overlaps the first. Fill remaining crepes in same manner. Serve immediately or chill until ready to serve.

Reunion set for pupils of 'old' Bailey Lake School

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Forty years after the old Bailey Lake Elementary School closed its doors for good, a plan for a reunion is in the works.

Pattiann Rhyndress and her mother, Doris Rhyndress, both of Independence Township, attended the old school, and have planned the reunion for next summer.

The old Bailey Lake Elementary was built in 1889 on property owned by E. V. Bailey. It was on the corner of what is now Whipple Lake and Pine Knob roads.

The one-room school house housed kindergarten through eighth grades, with all students learning together. In 1930, Doris' father helped to build indoor bathrooms. A second little room was added on the back of the big classroom around 1941.

Doris, who attended the school from 1928 to 1935, said pupils were sectioned off by grade, and the teacher moved from section to section to teach the children. She noted that it wasn't difficult to concentrate on her own work while the teacher taught the others.

Doris remembered that sometimes running a school was hard for teachers. One year, three teachers quit before Christmas. According to Doris, a "man teacher" was then hired, and he quickly brought the students under control.

Pattiann, who attended the school from 1947 through 1952 and then 1953 to 1954, said she wanted to have a reunion because she thought seeing the people she and her mother went to elementary school with would be more interesting than seeing those in a graduating class.

Anyone who attended the school before it closed in 1954 is invited to the Aug. 27, 1994, reunion at the Independence Township Senior Center in Clintonwood Park, Clarkston Road. The times are to be announced later.

They ask former school pupils to share photos and memorabilia with others at the reunion. Pattiann said they plan to set up a photo album, mentioning whose pictures are displayed and a brief history of the pictures.

One piece of memorabilia on display will be the dictionary that Doris won in 1935 in the sixth-grade spelling bee.

The Rhyndresses and others are planning fund-raisers to cut costs and possibly pay for the entire reunion. The details on the fund-raisers have not been worked out yet.

For more information about the reunion, former students are asked to call Pattiann at 683-4126 or Doris at 625-2472.
