Fire station site OK'd

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Citation Drive soon could be the new address for Independence Township's Fire Station No. 1.

On Oct. 5, the township board unanimously voted to begin negotiations to purchase the two-acre parcel off of M-15, near the 52nd District Court.

"It's a good location because it stays within the locations I have picked (for future stations)," said Fire Chief Gar Wilson.

Wilson said his long-range plans for the department include five fire stations throughout the township. He said the program calls for a station in each quarter of the township and one in the center. Two future stations would be built in northern Independence Township.

Wilson asked that the new station be in the southwest quadrant of the township, between Dixie Highway and I-75, so equipment can reach the more populous areas of the township quickly.

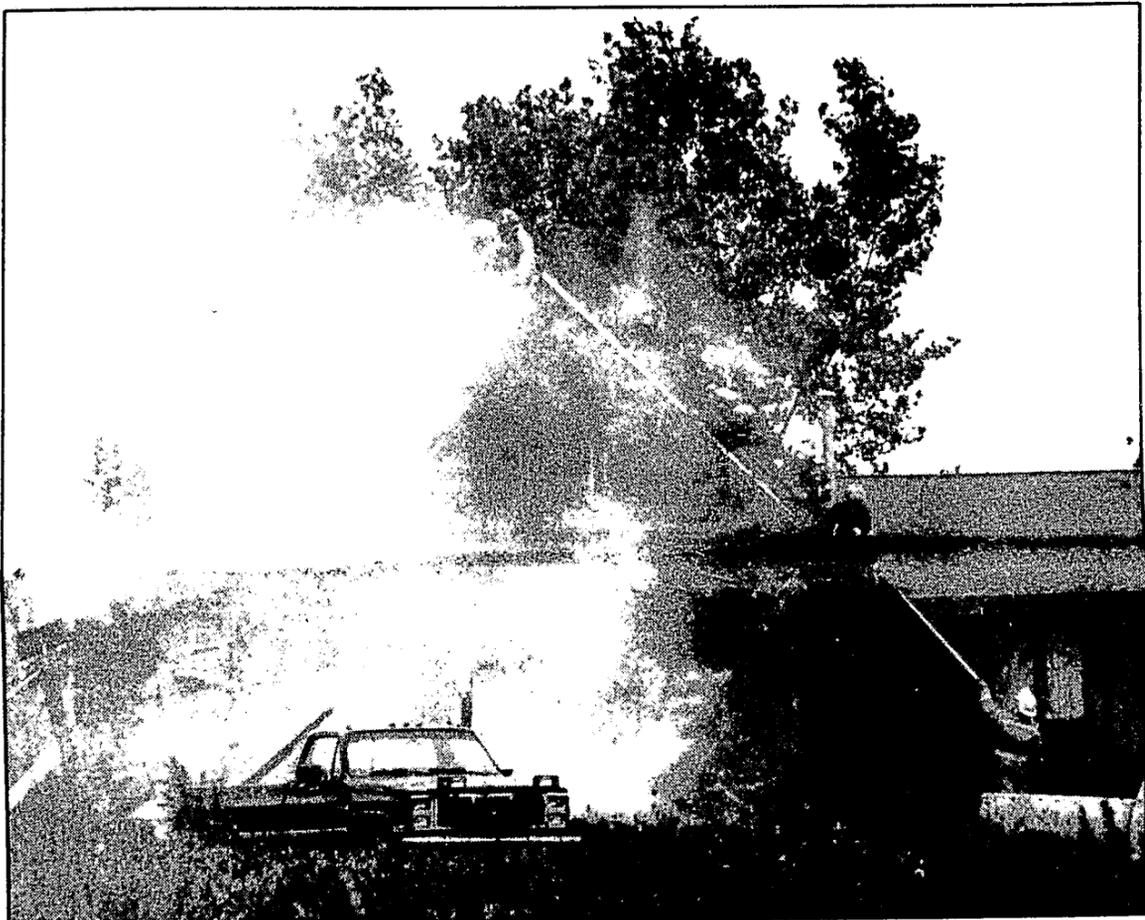

A new station is needed to replace Station No. 1 on Church Street, Clarkston, which was sold to John and Connie Morgan. The township now pays $2,000 a month plus taxes to rent the fire hall.

Supervisor Dale Stuart and the township attorney were authorized by the board to lead negotiations to buy the property. Stuart asked that Clerk Joan McCrary and Treasurer John Lutz also be part of the decision making. The group can determine the conditions of purchase without board approval.

Township attorney Gerald Fisher asked the board to decide on a clear procedure for the purchase of the land and the building of the station.

Two committees were designated by the board to make decisions about the station. Wilson, Capt. Steve Ronk, McCrary and Stuart form the committee to deter-

Oct. 1, fire on Horseshoe Circle, Independence Township. (Photo by Catherine Passmore)

Afternoon fire destroys garage

No one was injured in an afternoon fire that destroyed an attached garage and all of its contents Friday.

The fire on Horseshoe Circle, west of M-15, Independence Township, was reported at 1:17 p.m. Oct. 1.

The A-frame building was engulfed in flames that spread to the eaves, door casings and overhangs of the house, but not into the house itself.

"For the magnitude of the fire, it (the house) held pretty good," said township fire Chief Gar Wilson.

According to Wilson, the resident backed his tractor into the garage and struck a gas can, rupturing it. Fuel spilled on a working heater and started a fire.

The homeowner and his family, who were inside the house, all escaped without physical injury.

Firefighters from Brandon and Groveland townships assisted in the fire. No firefighters were injured.

The first trucks began to leave the site at 3:11 p.m., with all of the fire trucks returning to their stations at 5:38.

An estimate on the amount of damage was not available at press time.

Four injured in six-car crash

Three men and a woman were taken to area hospitals following a six-car accident Sept. 23 on Sashabaw Road.

The accident took place at 3:30 p.m., 10 feet south of Clarkston Road. According to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department report, Michael Bondra, 30, of Clarkston failed to stop for a red light when he was traveling eastbound on Clarkston Road.

A 1986 Chevy truck in the right turn (or straight lane) of southbound Sashabaw Road was driven by Ronald Long Jr., 28, of Millington. Long could not avoid Bondra and hit him.

Bondra then struck the first vehicle in Sashabaw Road's northbound left turn lane, a 1988 Ford truck driven by Fred Baudoen, 61, of Auburn Hills.

Bondra then hit the 1993 Dodge car driven by Laurie Johnson, 35, of Clarkston, who was in the right turn lane (or straight lane) of northbound Sashabaw Road.

Baudoen's car also hit a 1979 Chevy driven by Charles Fischer, 20, of Clarkston; and Fischer's car hit Alex Bruni, 46, of Clarkston. Fischer and Bruni were in the left-turn lane of northbound Sashabaw Road behind Baudoen.

Bondra and Baudoen were transported to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. Long and Johnson were transported to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. They were all treated and released.

Bondra was issued a ticket for failing to stop for a red light.

'Day in Burg'

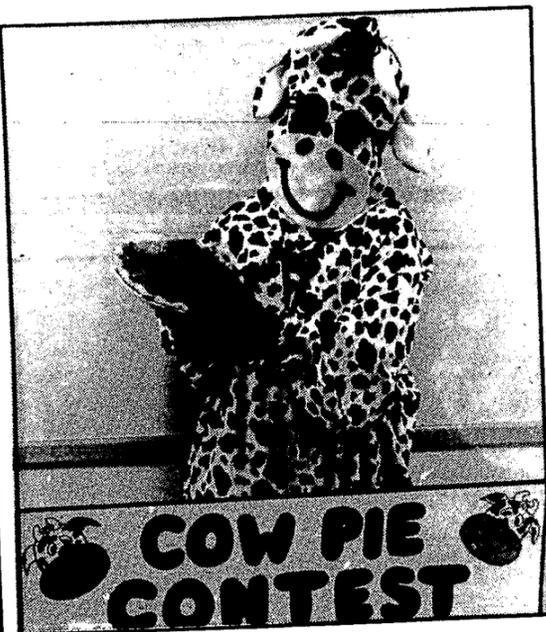

Arts and crafts, music, cars, pancakes and more planned

A "Day in the Burg" shows the best of downtown Davisburg this weekend, with arts and crafts, pancakes, sidewalk sales, classic cars and more.

Day in the Burg starts with a pancake breakfast 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, Oct. 9, at the Hart Community Center, Mill Pond Park. Cost is $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children under 11. Proceeds benefit Springfield Township Parks and Recreation programs.

Parks and rec. also hosts a car show at the Mill Pond Park, 495 Broadway. Young At Heart senior citizens offers a used book sale as well as a rummage sale at Hart Community Center.

Downtown businesses also get into the spirit by organizing the day, complete with arts and crafts, flea market vendors and music on the streets from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information, call 634-0412.

Parents plan cow pie contest

In order to beef up funds, the Clarkston Middle School Parent Teacher Association is having a Cow Pie Contest Oct. 15.

According to a PTA flier, it works like this: The tennis courts across from CMS are divided into plots. The plots are given numbers. Students and area residents can purchase a plot for $6. Then, on Friday, Oct. 15, right after school, two cows will appear on the tennis courts. The first three plots to receive a "pie" from one of these cows win a prize.

First prize is $150; second prize, $75; third prize, $50.

On the sidelines, some parents will be churning out some utterly delightful treats for sale, such as crispy treats and hot dogs with "moo" juice. Plot purchasers can also have an "amooosing" time (for free) in a milking contest (not a real cow), milk bottle toss, and pie- (fruit, not cow) eating contest.

Tickets are available after school Oct. 1-15. For more information, call 625-5361.

Woman, 77, dies in accident; two others hurt

A 77-year-old West Bloomfield Township woman died in a car accident over the weekend in Springfield Township.

June Dorothy Scott was driving her 1982 Chevette east on Holly Road at Oakhill Road around 1:10 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 3, when she turned left in front of a west-bound truck and struck it, according to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department report.

The 1992 Ford truck traveling west was driven by Jeffrey L. Caldwell, 28, of Fenton. Caldwell, who was wearing his seat belt, was listed in serious condition Monday at Hurley Hospital in Flint.

Andrew Meyers, 8, was a passenger in Scott's car when the accident occurred. He suffered a broken jaw and some bruises. He was listed in improved condition Monday at Hurley Hospital, Flint. Neither Meyers nor Scott was wearing a seat belt.

Clinton's health care plan receives mixed reviews

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT
Clarkston News Special Writer

After President Clinton unveiled his health care proposal Sept. 22, many Clarkston-area residents were left with concerns and questions.

Some believe that the president's health plan — which would guarantee basic health care coverage to every U.S. citizen — is needed in this country.

Dave Howe, an Independence Township father of two, said something definitely has to be done about health care coverage.

"I think Clinton's plan will dramatically change my life," Howe said. "I have a sick wife and two kids, and his plan could help our quality of life."

His daughter's recent bout with the flu left him with a stack of doctor and laboratory bills that was not covered by his current insurance plan.

"My daughter was real sick; she couldn't breathe. I couldn't get her in to see the doctor, so I took her to emergency. However, the insurance company did not pay for the visit because they said it was not considered an emergency.

"She got treated, but I was left with the bills. Since when is it not an emergency when a child cannot breathe?" Howe said.

Under Clinton's plan, Howe would not have been responsible for the full payment of the services received.

Depending on the type of health plan that Howe would have chosen under Clinton's plan, his daughter's visit would have cost him $25, or his insurance would have paid 80 percent of the bill.

In addition, the lab fees he has to pay would have been fully covered, or the insurance company would pay 80 percent, again dependent on what kind of health care plan Howe chose.

According to Clinton's plan, small companies would form health care alliances, which would negotiate with insurance companies for medical services at the lowest possible prices.

Each alliance would have to offer identical basic coverage, and every citizen would have access, regardless of employment, income or pre-existing medical conditions.

Three plans are being considered, offering a choice in styles of coverage:

■ A) Health Maintenance Organization (HMO), with patients restricted to seeing physicians in the "network," with lower out-of-pocket expenses to the citizen than in Plan B.

■ B) Fee-for-service (similar to present-day system), with full coverage and full choice of physicians, with insurance paying 80 percent of costs for most services.

■ C) Hybrid plans, with citizens choosing a combination of Plan A and B, with a higher cost than an HMO but more choice in physicians and treatments.

For the seriously ill, this guaranteed health care

"I'm against such a plan.
... It will end up costing me money."

Ted Nelson, senior citizen could be a blessing, according to some township residents.

"For those who cannot afford health care, this plan could save people," said Ruth Wheeler of Independence Township.

"What about the parents who have a child who has cancer and the insurance company refuses to pay for treatment that is considered experimental or too new? They have to raise money to pay to save their child. It is sickening," Wheeler said.

Robert Eshhaki, co-owner of Rudy's Market, said he favors such a plan but questions where the money will come from to finance Clinton's plan.

"I think his proposal is excellent in theory, despite there being a shortage of money to finance it," Eshhaki said. "But the plan is better than what the Republicans have done in the last four years."

As a small business owner, Eshhaki said Clinton's plan guarantees a tax break or subsidy to offset the costs of providing insurance for himself and his employees.

Under the plan, premiums would be divided between the employee and employer, with the employers paying at least 80 percent of the premiums. No business would be required to spend more than 7.9 percent of its payroll for health insurance premiums.

Small business owners (those with less than 50 employees) would be eligible for caps from 3.5 percent to 7.9 percent, depending on their average payroll.

In addition, the self-employed person would pay 100 percent of his or her premium; however, it would be tax-deductible.

Clarkston Area Schools' administrator Steve Lenar said he has no idea what the proposal would cost the school district. Until he sees the plan in black and white, he will not be able to determine the impact on the school system, he said.

Others also question the plan's impact on small business owners.

Ed Zull, owner of Pete's Coney II on Dixie Highway, said he doesn't know enough about the plan to judge how it will affect him or his business.

He said he believes the plan will serve a purpose, and he agrees that there's a need for a universal health care plan.

However, he questions the eventual costs to the small business man.

"His plan is like venetian blinds that are not quite open," he said. "The sunlight is just beginning to come in."

For Ginny Pauwels, a Springfield Township homemaker, Clinton's plan is a right that all Americans should have.

"It will probably cost us more, but I agree that everyone should have health care," Pauwels said.

Leonard Smith of Smith's Disposal said the plan could possibly help his business. He pays his 17 employees' insurance premiums, which he said goes up every six months.

"This plan could be cheaper, and any relief would be great," Smith said. "Anything to reduce the cost to business owners."

Others don't agree that it could save money.

"I'm against such a plan," said retired engineer Ted Nelson from Grand Blanc. "I'm a senior citizen and it will not help. It will end up costing me money."

Clinton's plan calls for Medicare benefits to expand to include home health care and prescription drugs.

One senior citizen, who wished not to be identified, does not think much of Clinton's plan.

"It stinks. President Clinton stinks. Hillary stinks," she said.

What do you think of President Clinton's health care proposal?

"One issue I definitely do not like is the abortion clause. If an employer has to provide health care and does not believe in abortion, the employer would still be forced to pay for it despite being against his or her religious and moral beliefs."

"I generally like the idea. My wife and I have health insurance. Under Clinton's plan, we would pay $1,500 less a year. We now pay $3,000 for exactly the same kind of coverage which he proposes. However, he cannot do it without raising taxes."

14-year-old boy shot in abdomen

A 14-year-old Independence Township boy is in stable condition after he was shot in the abdomen last week.

On Monday, the youth was listed as "stable" at Pontiac Osteopathic, after his second surgery related to the gunshot wound.

Police and rescue vehicles were called to his Maybee Road residence at 5:28 p.m. Sept. 29. According to Oakland County Sheriff's Department reports, he suffered a self-inflicted wound from a shotgun.

At press time, police didn't know if the shooting was accidental or intentional. The case is under investigation. Police are withholding the boy's name because he's a juvenile.

Artist in Countryfest

An Independence Township artist is featured in a Lake Orion festival this weekend.

Landscape artist Florence Blimka of Meyers Circle appears in the Lake Orion Lions Club's Countryfest Friday and Saturday.

Blimka, who's lived in the Clarkston area about 30 years, said Clarkston-area residents may want to attend the festival.

The weekend of activities takes place in downtown Lake Orion, just off M-24. Merchants' sidewalk displays — and Blimka's artwork — are planned for 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Oct. 8 and 9.

Other weekend events include an 8 p.m. concert in the beer tent both nights by country band Southern Exposure, country line dancing, concerts for kids, children's Western bike parade, Western pet parade, pony rides, square dancers, door prizes at businesses, and more.

OBE and business: Education changes needed

Editor's note: This is the second in a series of stories about outcome-based education by Clarkston News reporter Catherine Passmore.

The Business Connection

This reinventing of K-12 education has been a joint venture of the U.S. Department of Labor and the U.S. Department of Education. (Learning a Living, U.S. Department of Labor, page xvi)

By working together, the Department of Education has developed goals for the nation's students to prepare them as workers of the 21st century.

What does the worker of the 21st century need to learn? WORKFORCE 2000, a pamphlet distributed by the Department of Labor, states 90 percent of new jobs will be service-oriented by 1995.

A spokeswoman in the Public Affairs Office of the Department of Labor said service-oriented jobs are "jobs that help people." Specific jobs include health care professionals and hotel and restaurant workers.

Some educators have said that traditional learning will become pointless in a future worker's success.

Anthony Oettinger, a Harvard professor, said teaching reading and writing to students may be obsolete.

"Do we really want to teach people to do a lot of

Education update

sums or write in a fine round hand when they have a five-dollar hand-held calculator or a word processor to work with? Or do we really have to have everybody literate — writing and reading (in) the traditional sense — when we have the means through our technology to achieve and (have) a new flowering of oral communication?" (The New American, Aug. 23, 1993)

Thomas B. Sticht of the National Institute of Education, a pro-OBE group, said, "Many companies have moved operations to places with cheap, relatively poorly educated labor. What may be crucial, they say, is the dependability of a labor force and how well it can be managed and trained — not its general educational level, although a small cadre of highly educated creative people is essential to innovation and growth. Ending discrimination and changing values are probably more important than reading in moving low-income families into the middle-class." (The New American, Aug. 23, 1993)

Joanne Stroebel, a language arts teacher for the Gifted and Talented Education program at Sashabaw Middle School, has trained people at General Motors Corp. and said future workers have to be taught different skills from their parents — as well as the traditional reading, writing and math.

"Kids need different skills than we did," she said. Stroebel's classes are learning to work as a team — a skill that she teaches.

"We can't just sit kids in a seat and expect them to work as a team," she said.

She emphasized that she doesn't teach children by focusing on future employment. Rather she focuses on what the children will be when they leave school.

(To be continued next week.)

Middleton holds forum on public education

Public education is the topic of an open meeting with state Rep. Tom Middleton next week.

Middleton invites area residents to speak at the forum on the future of public education.

It takes place at 6 p.m. Monday, Oct. 11, in the school administration building, 6389 Clarkston Road, Independence Township.

Too many questions

Julie Campe

This week begins The Clarkston News' first coverage of President Clinton's national health care proposal.

Intern reporter Deborah Dziewit began working on the story the day after Clinton's speech, broadcast nationwide.

Her goal: To find out how the plan will affect Clarkston- and Davisburg-area merchants and residents.

Her problem: Most business owners said they didn't know how it would affect them — too much information is missing.

For instance, what qualifies as a small business (and thus qualifies for a subsidy)? If businesses are required to pay 80 percent of their employees' health coverage, do they pay that amount even if a few employees don't need coverage (because they're covered by another plan, for instance)?

The plan says doctors and other medical care providers can't raise their fees — but they're businesses, too. If they're now responsible for their employees' health insurance, how will they pay for it? Will they qualify for subsidies as a small business?

If everyone's medical care is linked through employment, what about those who don't work? For instance, what about a young adult who's no longer covered by his or her parents' insurance but doesn't yet have a job?

What about seasonal employees? Part-time employees?

And what about the cost of this whole thing? Analysts say big one-time savings are possible, just as the president claims. But after the "waste" is cut (i.e. hospitals with a lot of empty beds are closed; medical offices that no longer have to deal with dozens of insurance forms lay off an employee or two), the inconveniences will set in (i.e. a longer drive to reach a hospital, a longer wait to receive services).

And — where will the money come from to pay for everything? How much money will this take? (The government is still unsure about those two.)

In reading newspaper and magazine articles about this plan, I came across an especially good point.

Medical costs take such a high percentage of this nation's gross domestic product because we're getting more medical coverage than ever before (even if some cities' infant death rates are very high). True, we may not live longer because of the medical care — but our quality of life sure is better because of it.

Consider cataract surgery. Just three decades ago, such surgery was rare, and a 65-year-old with cataracts probably would have given up driving, reading, sewing and more. Today, cataract surgery is commonplace, allowing a patient to continue his or her normal activities. Maybe the surgery doesn't lengthen the lifespan of a person, but it sure improves the life of a person.

Similar examples abound, such as hip replacement for the elderly, which allows them to play with their grandchildren and to participate in sports and home improvement projects; and braces for youngsters, which allows them to chew and bite more easily in addition to changing their appearance. Neither will add years to a life, but both probably will improve it.

In addition to Clinton's health plan, alternative plans are likely to be proposed.

For a nation with arguably the best medical care in the world, we face a lot of choices — choices that could change that care for better or worse.

But before we make these choices, we need answers.

Steaming mad?

Good news from Washington

Senator Don Riegle's press secretary has chided me about never saying anything nice about his boss in our newspapers.

Well, I'm about to.

Don Riegle announced his intention to not seek re-election.

That's good news if ever I heard any.

However, based on previous statements by Riegle, we'll hold our total applause. His word has not always been true.

In running for office in 1976 he promised to go to work every day. When he got there he missed more votes in the 95th Congress than all but one of the 17 freshmen Congressmen.

The Lapeer County Press reported Riegle was for no-fault insurance until the trial lawyers kicked in a $10,000 contribution.

Riegle got ethics in 1990 when he gave back $120,000 to the U. S. Treasury representing campaign money he received from the savings and loan industry.

He's chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, and one of five senators who faced Ethics Committee investigation. During the questioning he answered "I don't remember" to several question put to him by colleagues.

That answer probably helped the Committee decide to limit punishment to practically nothing.

But, that involvement in the S&L scandal no doubt prompted Riegle's decision not to seek re-election, if he doesn't.

This excuse is a lot more believable than his wanting to stay home and play catch with his 8-year-old daughter, as he said. JAS

Food network a great idea

Kudos to the individuals in the community who have joined in creating the Lighthouse North Food Network.

The network helps to feed the needy in the north Oakland County area by picking up unsalable food from area grocery stores and restaurants and giving it to the needy at food distribution centers in the area.

The idea — started by Clarkston Rotary — is sound. It helps the hungry; it cuts waste all around by "recycling" leftover food. It's a way that we as a community can help our own people.

Though the logistics are challenging (can you imagine coordinating volunteer schedules with schedules of 10 area grocery stores?), the outcome is well worth it.

Yes, a commercial refrigerator is still needed. And yes, a van would be helpful. But right now, in the beginning, volunteers are using their own vehicles in exchange for mileage pay to get the job done.

And that effort means needy families receive nutritious meals.

Board tries its hardest to gain citizens' comments

One local government really wants to hear your point of view.

Though it's not required, a special meeting is set in Springfield Township for a Saturday.

Yep! The board, which usually meets Thursday nights, wanted a more convenient time for citizens to express their views. While the main topic is next year's budget, citizens may address any topic they wish.

The meeting takes place at 1 p.m. Oct. 9 (during "Day in the Burg" arts and crafts festivities), and the board promises it will adjourn the meeting in time for the Michigan State University-University of Michigan football game that afternoon.

So what excuse is left for residents? By all means, go to the meeting! And congratulate the board on its consideration.

Two years in kindergarten?

Prosecutor Brooks Patterson was introducing Gov Engler at the ribbon cutting for Stan Aldridge and family's Canterbury Village. In his opening remarks Brooks said he was in kindergarten with Stan, he'd known him that long. When Gov Engler took over he said, "What Brooks didn't tell you was he waited two years in kindergarten for Stan to get there."

The other morning I saw a garbage truck coming out of a restaurant. That's better than seeing one go into a restaurant.

Picture this: The president of General Motors, AT&T, etc comes home one evening and says to his wife, "Honey, I shrunk the workforce!"

Traveling the expressways one often sees "Jesus" related bumper stickers on vehicles going 20 miles an hour over the speed limit.

Business-types take a lesson from Edward E. Hagenlocker, executive vice president of Ford's North American Automotive Operations. He led the team that developed the very successful Ford Explorer. He said the key to this success was not car passion, but a lust for information about the consumer, the market and the best way to design and build a vehicle. Change "vehicle" to your product and you've got the secret.

I'm thinking of convincing my publisher son to put this message on the front page of his newspapers every week: "Governments don't pay taxes, people do!"

Hillary and Bill have assured us we will all have to pay for their health plan. At the same time they say it will save us medical costs. And, they say business owners will pay the bulk of the medical needs. I'm sure they, and you, know where businesses get their tax money. Hillary is going to be paying more for her blue dresses.

Final comment on the president's ill-advised health plan (I don't believe there is a 'health crisis'); has anyone polled the people to ask who they think will be paying for this all-inclusive health plan?

I noted some editorializing in a recent radio news program. Four southeast Michigan school districts had an election that week. The radio person said only the Anchor Bay district was a "winner." I'll bet the majority who voted "no" in the other three districts think they are winners.

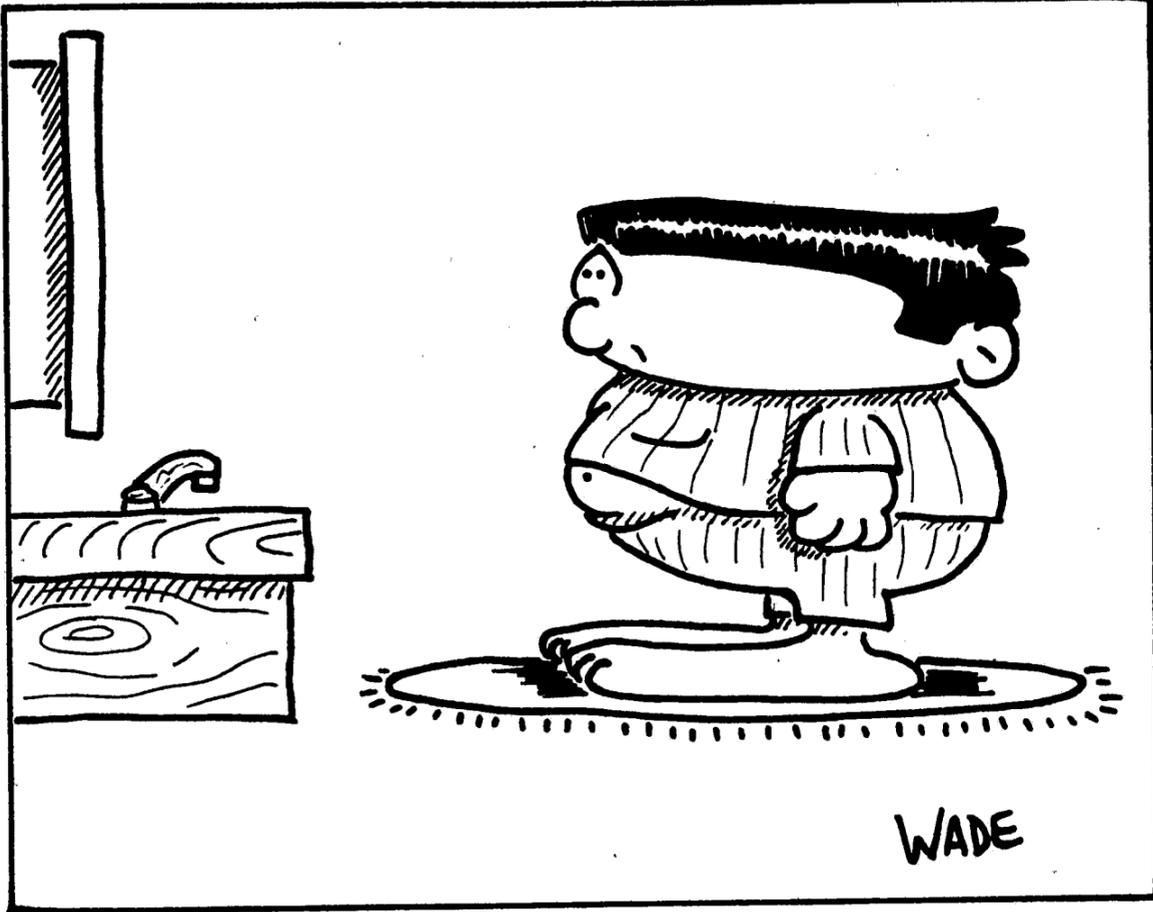

I'll also bet that when Gov Engler announces his program for changing education in Michigan he won't use the Gore word "reinvent."

I suggest the graduated income tax as the best way to finance education and all government.

Bill Patterson says he has a friend who said, "I'll never forget the day I met my wife, though heaven knows I've tried."

Bill also says the phrase "no news is good news" wasn't written by a reporter.

Promote condom use
by rhyme or reason

Jim Fitzgerald

At least one customer complained when the Perry Drug Store in Royal Oak displayed condoms near such back-to-school items as crayons and notebooks. "What's next?" a young mother wondered.

How about pro-prophylactic verses printed in large letters on signs taped to the condom counter? Such as:

*Don't be an ass
Use a little class
With your lass*

That verse is typical of the rhymed advertising that, with a regular change in programming, is part of the health and family planning display -- no school supplies included -- in my neighborhood drugstore, Richard's, in Lafayette Park. One recent sign said:

*They won't tell
They won't swell
And they'll be grateful as all hell*

Owner Jack Schiff saw the neighborhood columnist reading his counter and quickly ducked a plagiarism charge. Schiff usually writes the verses, but not that one. Benjamin Franklin wrote it, Schiff said.

Were condoms popular when Franklin was alive? According to Schiff, Franklin wasn't merchandising family planning when he penned those words, he was advising young men to lose their virginity to older women. So now you know that statesman-philosopher-inventor Franklin was also a sexist, and it may well have been an older woman who told him to go fly a kite.

When I sold condoms in a drugstore in 1940, they were usually called rubbers. I was an extremely innocent 13-year-old, and the first time a customer asked for rubbers, I directed him to a nearby shoe store.

In those days, condoms were kept in the back room of the drugstore, in a closed drawer. Today, condoms are as easily accessible as candy bars. Many drugstores' most attractive displays feature birth control. The colorfully illustrated condom packages look like the covers of romance novels.

Condoms are advertised on television and radio, on the sides of buses and in magazines and newspapers. The noun has become so commonly used it's even been perverted into a verb: On a prime-time TV show, a woman impregnated by a man named Seth said, "I should have had Seth condomized."

The big reason condoms have come so far out of the drugstore drawer is AIDS, of course, not birth control. But whatever the reason, the result is good.

Many people, like the woman upset by the Perry school/condom display, claim that condom advertising -- and any sort of sex education including birth control and disease prevention -- encourages young impressionable minds to have sexual relations outside of marriage, or outside a commitment to parenthood.

Sure. If that sort of thinking made realistic sense, we could save the world from AIDS and overpopulation by advertising chastity belts on "Roseanne" and MTV.

Of course abstinence is the wisest policy and should be highly and repeatedly recommended, especially to your children and mine. But realism is in the statistics. According to a recent state Health Department study, Detroit teenage girls are having an average of 5,400 babies a year. It's way past the time for a civilized society to quit treating sexual intercourse as though it were something dirty, to be discussed only by old people in hushed tones.

We should talk openly -- or write advertising verses -- about condoms and birth control and sexual-disease prevention. We should do it as easily and matter-of-factly as we talk about the weather.

And if rain is expected, get rubberized.

'Zachor!'

What famous uprising took place 50 years ago? If you answered "The Warsaw Ghetto Uprising," you are correct and get an "A" for World War II and Holocaust remembrance.

I don't think we even learned about the uprising in history class in high school. There was a small mention of it in college general history. The most I heard about it was in my Totalitarianism class with Dr. Arnold -- that, too, was only half a lecture time.

Remembering the 50th anniversary of this uprising is the theme of the Holocaust Memorial Center's Ninth Anniversary Dinner in Detroit Oct. 24. (Call 661-0840 for information.)

Dr. Yitzhak Arad, director of Yad Vashem, the Holocaust Martyrs' and Heroes' Remembrance Authority in Israel, will speak at the dinner.

Dr. Arad was only 13 years old in Warsaw when the war started. He and his sister escaped by crossing the Polish border into the Soviet Union. They hid in the small town of Swieciany.

In mid-1941, the Nazis overran Swieciany, and Arad wandered the countryside for two months. When he returned to Swieciany, he found that more than 8,000 Jews had been murdered in the town. He organized some of his surviving friends into an underground group and began to steal weapons from the Germans.

In 1943 Arad and his group fled the area and for a year and a half fought with a Soviet partisan unit and was instrumental in blowing up 16 German trains loaded with troops and ammunition.

At the end of the war, Arad left the Soviet Union and traveled through Europe. He eventually emigrated to Palestine on the illegal ship Hanna Senesh. He fought in the War of Independence and remained in the Israeli army until 1972. Arad attained the rank of brigadier general and in 1968 became chief education officer of the Israeli Defense Force.

After his retirement in 1972, he was appointed director of Yad Vashem.

Also part of the remembrance of the uprising is a work of art entitled "Zachor!" 5693-5705 by Alice Frank of West Bloomfield.

The work is a tribute to the 6 million Jews who perished during the Holocaust.

The piece is made of the enameled letters of the Hebrew word zachor, "to remember," trapped behind barbed wire. The tops of the letters drip with red, a symbol of the blood spilled during the Holocaust. Beneath and through the red, the colors blue and white emerge. These colors represent the Jewish people and shine through despite the barbed wire and the blood.

Makes you think doesn't it?

About staff editorials

We at The Clarkston News realize that an important duty of a newspaper is to provide more than just the facts found in news stories.

Since we're out there uncovering the news, we get an inside look at the issues. In our staff editorials, we will give our opinions on those issues, just as other writing on this page -- letters and columns -- also offers opinions.

We leave the editorials unsigned because we've written them as a staff. Every week, we talk about the issues and take notes on everyone's opinions. Then one of us writes it and the rest of us change it until we're all satisfied.

While our opinions aren't always unanimous, our editorials reflect the majority views of the staff. If the staff splits evenly on an issue, we'll write two editorials on the subject.

We welcome your response to our views.

In memory of an angel

On Sunday, Sept. 26, Nicole Marie, daughter of Daniel and Penny Lewis of Clarkston, was born and passed on to God.

Services for Nicole Marie were Tuesday, Sept. 28, at the Lewis E. Wint and Son Funeral Home, Clarkston. The Rev. D. Walters officiated.

The immeasurable thanks of Nicole's parents, grandparents and friends go out to the Rev. Walters, Bill Wint and staff for their thoughtful care.

Special thoughts to Melinda Grix and Mary Drake for their assistance at the gathering following the services. Nicole's grandparents and family

Volunteers help playground bee

I personally want to take time out to thank those individuals who showed up at the Clarkston Elementary's Playground Work-Bee Sept. 25.

I had originally thought that six or eight of us would spend a full day accomplishing our tasks. However, 16 wonderful volunteers showed up! And because we had "new blood" showing up throughout the day, we were able to accomplish more than we had intended and were done before 1 p.m. I just wish I had gotten more parts and paint to do even more.

The following is a list of the individuals who have given their time and effort to make the difference:

Roger Bailey, asphalt cleaner extraordinaire; Joel North, hoop rejuvenator; Rick Handley, swing set technician; Robert Kusye, swing set technician; Glenn Appel, swing set technician; Steve Wylie, weeds-begone wizard; Bob McDonald, Hop Scotch engineer; Lou DeMonaco, Hop Scotch engineer; Tom Fitzsimmons, 4-Square line judge; Mary Fitzsimmons, 4-Square line judge; Carolyn Bailey, refreshment administrator; Steven Voorheis, "Go-Fore" specialist; John Merz, pea gravel redistribution technician; Brian McCallum, pea gravel redistribution technician; Kevin Voss, shrub stylist; and Val Watson, substitute.

We are truly fortunate to have individuals such as these who give their all to make Clarkston Elementary a great place to learn, work and play.

Many helped

Recently, our school kicked off a year-long theme entitled B.E.A.R., which stands for Building Esteem and Respect.

Various activities have taken place since the beginning of the school year, but our big celebration was Theme Day Sept. 16.

The efforts of many volunteers made this a very special day for the students, families and staff of Pine Knob Elementary.

We appreciate the role that a local grocery store on Waldon Road at Sashabaw Road played in helping to make this such a memorable day. Their donation of 100 helium balloons were used to decorate our building both inside and out.

We appreciate their willingness to join us as together we serve the people of our community.

Boosters' event a big success

We would like to thank everyone who helped make our recent Pepsi promotional fund-raiser at Kroger's a success. Rick Onan, the store manager; Kurt Norman, the representative of the soft drink company; and their associates deserve special recognition for their support during the 10-day event.

The coaches, parents and athletes from Clarkston High School who put in many hours helping wherever they were needed are also to be commended. A special thanks goes to our members, who labored tirelessly for the entire event. We appreciate the members of the community who supported us through the project.

The success would not have been possible without the help of everyone involved. Thank you one and all for the special effort.

Nice firefighters

We were involved in an accident Sept. 17 on Dixie Highway and would like to thank the Independence Township Fire Department.

We are grateful for the care they gave us at the scene of the accident in getting us ready for transport to the hospital and for the sound of their voices constantly reassuring us.

The next time they need our help in supporting them, let's take a few minutes of our time and stop and think of the many ways they help us.

His father gave him confidence 'to dare to dream'

Name: Michael K. Dillon
Family: My wife, Jan, and children, Kailey, 3 1/2, and Joey, 1 1/2.
Education: I graduated from Rochester Adams High School in 1974; I received a bachelor of science in mathematics from Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, in 1979 and a master's degree in school leadership from Wayne State University, Detroit, in 1988.
Job title: Assistant principal of Sashabaw Middle School Job duties: These are some of the job duties of an assistant principal in the middle school: student discipline, student attendance, evaluation of teachers and staff, special education building administrator, building athletic/ intramural director and student recognition/ awards coordinator.

Most important part of my job: I believe the most important part of my job is doing my part in making Sashabaw Middle School a positive, supportive environment where students can learn and achieve.

Favorite part of job: I have to believe the favorite part of any educator's experience is when you witness individual growth and maturation of our students. As educators, we have a wonderful opportunity to make a difference in our students' lives.

Favorite sports: Basketball and golf.

When not working, I may be found: Spending time with my wife and children or struggling around a local golf course.

If I had three wishes: I would wish for less crime in our cities and communities, an equitable and realistic public school funding plan where students come first; and, on the lighter side, I would wish for a new and improved golf swing.

Last book read: "The Middle School -- And Beyond" by Paul George

Best advice: "Winning isn't everything, but playing to win is." This advice is applicable to all facets of life, whether it is in the classroom, athletic fields or at the work place. To me it says hard work and perseverance are qualities which allow you to be successful.

Ten years from now: I enjoy my role as the assistant principal at Sashabaw Middle School, but I hope to have an opportunity to be a building principal.

Most admired person: My father -- Robert Dillon. My dad has been a wonderful role model for all my brothers (four) and sisters (two). He consistently was there for me as a problem solver and instilled confidence in me "to dare to dream" as an individual. He continues to be an integral part of my life.

Favorite saying about children: If as a nation we are concerned about our future, we must pay attention to our kids.

Your Schools: An Inside View is provided by the Clarkston Education Association-Clarkston Association of Support Personnel.

Plans underway to feed 400-450 needy families

BY JULIE CAMPE
Clarkston News Editor

While crisp fall weather means leaf raking, pumpkin carving and football watching for some, for others it means just a short time until the holidays arrive.

That's the case at Lighthouse North, a non-profit organization that helps to feed, clothe and give emergency money to the needy in the north Oakland County area. It gives special food baskets at holidays.

Director Sherry Kaars said Lighthouse North has helped 5,741 people with food so far this year — a slight increase over last year at this time. Total client requests (including medical emergencies, housing and more) equal 12,500 so far.

"There still really is a great economic need in our area," said Kaars. "There are still so many people who need help in this community — which many think of as affluent — we don't want them to be forgotten."

Preparations are underway for Thanksgiving and Christmas food baskets for the 400-450 families expected at Lighthouse North.

Volunteers

Volunteers are needed to coordinate food drives at churches, clubs and businesses all of November; to sort and pack food in mid-November; and to distribute food packages Nov. 23. To help, call volunteer coordinator Mary Halpin at 673-4949.

"We need as much help as possible to pull this off," said Kaars.

Donations

Also needed are donations of non-perishable food, such as canned sweet potatoes, canned vegetables, stuffing mixes, cranberry sauce, instant mashed potatoes, pumpkin pie filling, evaporated milk, pie crust mix, Jell-O, nut bread mixes and more.

Since Lighthouse North doesn't have refrigerated storage, it can't accept donations of perishable foods. However, it will accept cash to buy (at low prices because of quantity) fresh produce and turkeys for each family.

For more information, call 673-4949.

Clients

Those who are having money problems may register for holiday food baskets 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday, Oct. 21 and 22, at Lighthouse North, 5331 Maybee Road, Independence Township.

Residents must bring identification (for proof of residency), proof of income, and a Christmas wish list (including children's sizes and reasonable gift requests).

Kaars said that the proof of income is used as a guideline, and families won't be denied help on that basis alone.

For more information, call 673-4949.

Wolves pound Waterford Mott

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

Thirteen proved to be a lucky number for the Clarkston varsity football team as they whipped Waterford Mott, 27-12, last Friday.

This win marked the thirteenth consecutive victory for a Clarkston team over the Corsairs, since the series began in 1969. This triumph also snapped a two-game losing streak for the Wolves, as they upped their record to 2-3 overall, 1-1 in the GOAL.

The first quarter saw the Corsairs (1-4) spend nearly eight minutes on the opening drive as they pushed into Clarkston territory. However, the Wolves held tight and stymied Mott's offense on the 27, taking over after a failed passing attempt on fourth down.

In turn, Clarkston took the ball and drove all the way down to the Mott seven-yard line, but an attempted run was stuffed for no gain on a fourth-down and two situation.

Clarkston later scored on their first possession of the second quarter when quarterback Kevin Dankert hit Pat Mulligan with a four-yard scoring toss. The extra point was unsuccessful.

The Wolves would score again, after John Zamora blocked a Waterford punt which was recovered at Mott's 29. Joe Davis scored on an eight-yard run, with 2:23 left on the first half clock. Clarkston attempted a two-point conversion, but it failed.

CHS entered the lockerroom with a 12-0 advantage.

After receiving the second-half kickoff, the Wolves again marched down the field and capped off an 88-yard drive when Davis scored for one yard out. Dankert rushed in for the two point conversion, giving CHS a 20-0 lead.

Waterford Mott bounced back on the ensuing drive and scored a touchdown on a one-yard run by Jason French. The Corsairs' two-point attempt failed.

The Wolves put the game away on the next drive, however, when Davis scored his third TD of the game from 22 yards away. Kicker Brian Phipps added the extra point.

Davis ended the game with 129 yards rushing on 21 attempts. He presently ranks atop the GOAL with 664 yards on 122 rushes.

Clarkston Coach Kurt Richardson also credited the team's passing attack, which amassed 151 yards through the air. Dankert completed 12 of 19 passes that day. His top targets were Mulligan, who had four catches for 43 yards and Jamie Jones, who snared three balls for 28 yards.

Jeremy Fife, back from a foot injury, also had two catches for 21 yards.

Defensively, the Wolves were led by Darren Ginter with five tackles and eight assists and Brian Bologna with seven tackles and two assists. Mark Kulka also registered two sacks for Clarkston.

Richardson said he was pleased that his charges are back to their winning ways. "I really wanted this game for them," he said. "They've been working hard all season and they deserved it."

Richardson admitted that the defacing of the athletic building and track with graffiti, the night before the game, was also a source of inspiration.

"I know it motivated me," he said. "The kids were also upset by it. At this point, we don't know who did it, but it was something we played up, prior to the game."

Mott Coach Walt Wyniemko also credited Clarkston with their style of play that evening.

"I think they played real well, especially their passing game," he said. "You can't spot them that many points and try to play catch-up. We let them off the hook when they started scoring in the second quarter."

Clarkston hosts Lake Orion (1-4) this Friday, Oct. 8. Richardson expects it to be another smash-mouth contest, considering it marks the return of injured Dragon tailback Kurt Dubowski, who averages nearly 10 yards per carry.

Golfers top four foes

The Clarkston varsity golf team appears to be peaking, which is good news considering regionals are just days away.

Last week, the Wolves polished off four opponents and took second place at the rain-plagued Detroit Invitational in Troy.

Clarkston, who's ranked No. 7 in Class A, beat Waterford Mott, Lakeland, Lake Orion and Pontiac Northern in a three-day stretch.

On Sept. 28, CHS topped Mott 158-171 at the Pontiac Country Club. Jayson Buchmann earned medalist honors by shooting a 38. Teammates Ryan Karlstrom and Jeremy Jenson were one stroke off the pace with 39 apiece.

Jon Dean and Corey Bildstein each shot a 42 to complete the scoring.

The next day, the Wolves participated in a tri-meet against Lakeland and Lake Orion at the Spring Lake Country Club. Clarkston shot a 156, while the Dragons scored a 163 and the Eagles came in at 164.

By beating Lake Orion, Clarkston took sole possession of first place in the standings. In early September, the host Dragons had nipped the Wolves by one stroke.

In this meet, CHS was paced by the scoring punch of Dean (36), Buchmann (38), Bildstein (41) and Myles Mosher (41).

On Sept. 30, CHS tossed a "B" team against winless Pontiac Northern. Clarkston won the match 172 to 253.

The Wolves were led by Dave Barth, who shot a 41. He was followed by teammates Tim Klimek (43), Mosher (44) and Jeff Cumberworth (44).

Over the weekend, the Wolves played in the 7-school Detroit Invitational, held at Silven Glen. Rain reduced this 18-hole tournament to just nine holes.

Clarkston shot 164, which was four strokes more than winner Rochester Adams, who's the No. 1 ranked team in Class A.

The Wolves will travel to Port Huron this Friday, Oct. 8, to participate in regionals. The top three teams from this tournament will advance to the state finals next week.

Ready to pounce

MARY SCHMIDT of the Clarkston girls' tennis team prepares to return volley against April Lange of Pontiac Northern Sept. 29. That day, she defeated her opponent 6-2, 6-2.

Huskies upend CHS

The Clarkston varsity girls' basketball team pushed Pontiac Northern to the limits last week, but fell just a couple points shy of an upset.

The host Wolves lost to the Huskies 44-42 Sept. 30. With the win, Northern raised its record to 7-0, while CHS fell to 7-3 overall, 1-1 in the GOAL.

Using a swarming defense and an array of three-pointers by senior Laura Seitz, the Wolves opened a quick lead on Northern. Yet, despite pending foul trouble on a couple of the Huskies' frontcourt players, Pontiac crept back in the second quarter to take a 26-24 lead into the lockerroom.

Both teams found scoring tough in the third quarter as Clarkston outscored their guests, 6-2, to take the lead. However, Northern used its superior height advantage in the last quarter to eventually move ahead.

With just seven seconds left, the Wolves still had a chance to win. Trailing 44-42, Clarkston attempted an ill-fated trey, and was fouled on the rebound. Shooting a one-and-one, the Wolves failed to convert the shot, giving the game to Northern.

CHS was paced by Seitz with a game-high 17 points, including three three-pointers. Senior Erin Patterson also chipped in with 15 points.

Northern was led by Raana Cole with 10 points and 11 rebounds.

Clarkston travels to Waterford Kettering on Thursday, Oct. 7.

CHS soccer team loses two of three contests

Despite losing two of its last three matches, the Clarkston varsity soccer team still finds itself perched atop the GOAL standings.

The Wolves (10-3 overall, 3-1 in the conference) beat Waterford Kettering 2-1 Monday night. The loss dropped the Captains (7-1-2 overall, 2-1-1) from first place.

The Wolves were down 1-0 most of the match until Ray Torrance scored with nine minutes left in the second half. The game remained tied at the end of regulation, sending it into overtime.

Clarkston's Nick Beilak eventually scored the game-winner, giving the Wolves a hard-earned victory.

"The team played really well," said Coach Dan Fitzgerald. "I had considered Kettering the team to beat this season, but we rose to the challenge."

This victory came on the heels of a 2-1 loss to Rochester Adams Oct. 2 and a 1-0 defeat at the hands of Waterford Mott on Sept. 29.

Against Adams, Brian Bovee chipped in the Wolves only goal, as Clarkston lost its third game of the year. Versus Mott, CHS ran into a hot goalie, Jerimy McCornack, who stopped all 19 Clarkston shots.

Clarkston's next game is Wednesday, Oct. 13, against Lake Orion.

Clarkston cross country teams race past Northern

MEMBERS of the Clarkston girls' cross country team take off from the starting line in their meet against Pontiac Northern. The Wolves beat the Huskies, who only fielded one runner.

The Clarkston cross country teams earned their first league victories of the season by topping squads from Pontiac Northern last week.

The boys' team nipped their counterparts 25-31, while the girls' squad won by forfeit Sept. 28.

In the boys' race, Pontiac Northern claimed the top two finishes, paced by winner Ellis Allums in a time of 18 minutes, 29 seconds. The Huskies' Tremain McNair took second place.

The Wolves won the meet by collecting the next five places. Curt Duca of CHS took third in 18:54, followed by teammates Steve Anderson, Torben Ernst, Matt Warner and Jeremy Lafferty. Teammate Jeff Dengate also claimed tenth place for the Wolves.

With the win, Clarkston's record rises to 4-3 overall, 1-2 in the league. The Huskies' mark falls to 2-3 overall, 1-2 in the GOAL.

Despite the forfeit, the girls' team — consisting of five healthy runners — took on one competitor from Pontiac Northern. Anna Vandermeer finished the three-mile course in 24 minutes, 33 seconds to take first place. Teammate Stefanie Burklow took second with an identical time. Stacy Iezzi finished third in 24:34, followed by Wolves Suzanne Schmidt and Mary Brewer.

The victory ups the girls' record to 4-3 overall, 1-2 in the GOAL.

Tennis team wins two

The Clarkston varsity girls tennis team stayed in the hunt for the league crown by knocking off their last two conference opponents.

The Wolves crushed Waterford Kettering, 6-1, on Monday and blanked Pontiac Northern, 7-0, Sept. 29. With the wins, CHS upped its league record to 4-1, 6-3 overall.

They trail only Lake Orion, at 5-0, in the GOALstandings.

Against Kettering, only the No. 2 doubles team of Clarkston fell to defeat. Earning singles victories were: Kristy Swartout (No. 1), Mary Schmidt (No. 2), Amanda Van Klaveren (No. 3) and Renee

Van Klaveren (No. 4).

Doubles victories included: Jody Weatherington and Kelley Wall at No. 1 and Kiley Maitrott and Carrie Ruddy at No. 3.

Versus Pontiac Northern, everyone won. Singles victories came from Swartout (No.1), Schmidt (No.2), Kristen Wicklund (No. 3), and Renee Van Klaveren (No. 4). Teams earning doubles wins included: Emily Kortge and Jocelyn Stock (No. 1), Kristy Kade and Sam Schubring (No. 2), and Maitrott-Ruddy (No. 3).

Clarkston will be playing in the league meet this Friday, Oct. 8, at Waterford Mott.

Scenic run slated for county park

The "Hidden Forest Trail Run and Walk" is set for Sunday, Oct. 10 at Independence Oaks County Park.

The event features a 2.5-mile walk and 2.5, 5.5 and 8.5-mile running races.

Age divisions include: 15 and under, 16-19, 20-24, 25-29, 30-34, 35-39, 40-44, 45-49, 50-54, 55-59, 60-64 and over 65.

All races begin at 10 a.m. Courses are the scenic trails of Independence Oaks, near Clarkston. Each course provides a challenging array of rolling hills, steep inclines and wooded trails.

The registration deadline is Friday, Oct. 1. Race fees are $12 per person with a race t-shirt and $6 per person without the shirt. The fee includes vehicle admission to the park.

Late registration is 8 a.m. on race day at the Twin Chimneys Pavilion. Late fees are $15 per person with a race shirt and $8 per person without the shirt.

Awards will be presented to the top three finishers in each age category, overall and masters champions. Spectators must pay a park entry fee of $4.50 per vehicle for Oakland County residents and $8 for non-Oakland residents.

Event sponsors are the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission, the Riverbend Striders and Dr. Richard Mach.

Independence Oaks County Park is located on Sashabaw Road, two and half miles north of I-75. For more information, call either 625-0877 or 238-5981.

Pepsi sale raises money for Boosters

A week-long soda pop benefit recently netted the Clarkston Athletic Boosters $7,982, which will help pay off a loan used to construct the team building at Clarkston High School.

The event—sponsored by the Boosters, Kroger, Pepsi, Thorn Apple Valley and Frito-Lay—ran Aug. 28 through Sept. 6. The fundraiser was held at the Kroger's grocery store on Dixie Highway, Independence Township.

During this week, volunteers sold pop and miscellaneous goodies at lower-than-normal prices and received a portion of the money collected.

The money raised eclipsed the mark of $4,400 set at the inaugural event in 1992.

Boosters' President Dwight Spiker was happy with the benefit's outcome.

"We're very pleased," he said. "By selling other items like hotdogs, we were able to make quite a bit more money this year. The weather could have been better for us, but we're happy with the results."

Up until this project, the Boosters had paid $5,000 to the Clarkston Board of Education for a $35,000 loan they acquired from the district last year.

Wint golf outing raises $10,000

An inaugural golf outing created in the memory of Clarkstonite Lewis E. Wint has raised nearly $10,000 for the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission.

The event was held Sept. 24 at the Springfield Oaks Golf Course. According to By Parrott, executive director of the Oakland Parks Foundation, the four-person scramble attracted 134 golfers, while an additional 30 people attended the post-tournament dinner party.

The winning team included the threesome of Larry Gee, Joe DeRousha and Jim Mansfield.

All proceeds raised will benefit the Lewis E. Wint Memorial Fund for the expansion of the Independence Oaks Nature Center, Independence Township. The expansion is estimated to cost $400,000.

Upon its completion in 1995, the facility will be renamed the Lewis E. Wint Nature Center — in memory of the man who served 18 years on the Oakland County Parks' Board of Commissioners and was a founding member of the Oakland Parks Foundation.

Wint was also founder and proprietor of the Lewis E. Wint and Son Trust 100 Funeral Home in Clarkston.

Parrott said this golf event will become an annual tradition with the next outing slated for Sept. 19, 1994 at the Springfield Oaks Golf Course.

Man gets ace

A Clarkston-area man was credited with a hole-in-one, while golfing at the Marsh Ridge Resort Sept. 11.

Paul Dodds sunk the ace on the 17th hole, which is 147 yards long. He used a nine-iron on the shot.

Witnessing the gem were: Al Clark, Flatrock, John Glass, Clawson and Brian McLain, Clawson.

McCormick placed on injured reserve

Clarkston native Tim McCormick will begin the 1993-94 NBA season on the injured reserve list of the New York Knicks.

The reserve center has reportedly had problems with his right knee, which he had operated on in July. It's the second such surgery for this knee.

McCormick, a nine-year veteran, sat out all of last season trying to rehabilitate his ailing knees, while employed as a commentator for the Detroit Pistons on the PASS network. Last week, he was replaced by former Piston Greg Kelsner on PASS.

CHS grad helps FSU

Steinhelper

Heather Steinhelper of Clarkston has been seeing some action with the Ferris State University volleyball team this season.

The freshman middle hitter has played in four matches so far, recording six kills, one assist and three digs for the Bulldogs (5-9 overall, 3-4 in the GLIAC). Steinhelper is a 1993 graduate of Clarkston High, where she earned all-state honors her senior year.

Ferris travels to Hillsdale College Oct. 8 for a conference show-down.

Loose ball

AMY STEWART (41) of Sashabaw Middle School's eighth-grade basketball team battles a bevy of Clarkston players for a loose ball Sept. 29. That evening, the Wolverines thumped the Cougars by nearly 20 points.

QUESTION: As a home buyer, what are the major documents I will have to sign and how does the transfer take place?

ANSWER: There will be two important documents - the mortgage and the deed. You will be signing two papers for the mortgage. One is the bond (or note) and personal promise to pay back the debt. The other is the mortgage itself. Then the lender will give you a big check. You get to hold it just long enough to endorse it and turn it over to the seller.

Transfer of the property takes place when the seller signs the deed and hands it over to you. Recording the deed promptly is of utmost importance.

Budget hearing set for Springfield residents

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT
Clarkston News Special Writer

To make its township meetings more user friendly, the Springfield Board planned a special board meeting and Public Budget Hearing for 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 9. "Our primary goal is to have feedback from the residents," said township Clerk Nancy Strole.

Man sentenced for rape

The Independence Township man who pleaded no contest to raping an area woman this summer and molesting a boy last year could spend 50 years in prison.

Delbert Breeding, 31, was arrested Aug. 8 for allegedly raping a 41-year-old Independence Township woman in her home. At the time of the rape, he was out on bond in connection with a sexual crime allegedly committed against a child in 1992.

He pleaded no contest to eight charges and was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Robert Templin on Sept. 28.

Sentencing ranged from 6 to 50 years in prison. The eight sentences will be served concurrently. He was credited for the 57 days he had already spent in jail and must pay $1,766 in restitution to the state.

mine station design. Wilson, Stuart, Lutz and Kerry Donahoe will work on the financial aspects of the project.

Both committees are to inform the board about progress and decisions.

"I think this will give us the framework to begin," said Stuart.

Wilson agreed. "It's been a long uphill battle, and I'm happy to see that steps are being made to get the project started."

Usually the township's budget hearing is held in conjunction with its regular monthly meeting on the second Tuesday of the month.

"Our township's regular scheduled meetings usually have a very full agenda, and because of that, it does not lend itself for residents a full opportunity for discussion," Strole said.

"We hope to provide them with a more convenient and relaxed forum for participating in Springfield Township government," she said.

At the hearing, residents may comment on the board's proposed budget, which includes such services as police and fire protection, road chloriding and graveling, and parks and recreation facilities and programs.

The Saturday session also serves to update residents on the township's growth and development.

Residents may raise questions or comment on any township government topic of interest to them, according to Strole.

And those who fear that they will miss the Michigan State University vs. University of Michigan football game — have no fear.

"We promise to adjourn in time so that residents can watch the game," Strole said.

Concert set for Sunday in Mills Corridor

Ivan Rouse likes to share his love of music.

Director of the Clarkston Conservatory of Music, Rouse not only teaches young musicians but also plans concerts for the community.

Now in its 34th season, the Conservatory plans its next concert at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 10, in the Clarkston Mills Corridor.

The Mills is between Depot Road and Washington Street, just west of Main Street, Clarkston — across the street from the Mill Pond.

Featured are John Fredrickson on violin and Dolores Fredrickson on piano.

"The program is varied," says Rouse, pointing to the list of music, which includes selections from Mozart, Sowerby (a Grand Rapids native), Corigliano, Copland, Khachaturian and Stravinsky.

Tickets are $10 for adults — but only $5 if they're accompanied by children, who are admitted free. Senior citizens are admitted for $5.

Such concerts take a lot of organization and work. So why does Rouse do it?

"It's a high joy," he says, adding, "If you have a hamburger shop, what are you going to sell?"

Rouse, of course, has a "music shop" — so his product is music.

Youth assistance helps stop potential problems

BY DOUG CARLSON

We all shudder when we hear about unbelievable crimes committed by individuals who are barely in their teens.

The recent murder of a mother of three children at an ATM machine is an extreme example.

While we'd like to think such incidents are confined to the big cities, the truth is they're really not. Even Clarkston has had its share of tragedies.

What can we do as individuals to stop this carnage? How do we reach those who are heading for trouble before it's too late?

Fortunately, throughout Oakland County, there are Youth Assistance Committees staffed by volunteers who are dedicated to helping potentially wayward youth before they get too far down the wrong road.

Established in 1961, the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee has taken on the task of helping prevent juvenile delinquency and neglect. Primary prevention consists of programs and projects put on by various committees of volunteers. One such effort is the shoplifting prevention program, which is offered to Clarkston schools and any other interested organization.

Secondary prevention consists of helping youngsters who are referred to the Oakland County Probate Court. Such children are considered "at risk" or pre-delinquent by the referral services. These clients and their families are provided with assessments, short-term individual and family counseling, and referral services. During 1992, nearly 25 percent of new referrals were children 12 years of age or younger.

How successful are the local Youth Assistance programs?

According to a four-year study recently completed by Michigan State University, fewer than 8 percent of the offenders require additional Juvenile Court contact. In some cases, involvement in some other segment of the court is needed to address the needs of the youth for the family. Less than 2 percent have Circuit Court contact.

If you'd like to become involved in this worthwhile group, or if you'd like more information on the programs they offer, call Teresa Blundell, Clarkston Area Youth Assistance social worker, at 625-9007.

Doug Carlson of Independence Township is a member of Clarkston Area Youth Assistance.

Four officers named to Youth Assistance

Four new people became officers of the the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee Monday.

During the annual luncheon, John Lutz, Marion Emery, Merelyn Mallet and Beth Ladd were installed as officers for 1993-94.

The organization was established in 1969 to prevent juvenile delinquency and neglect in the Clarkston community.

In the past year, CAYA handled 100 referrals from police, school officials or parents. Reasons for the referrals included shoplifting, truancy, alcohol and drugs, according to Teresa Blundell, a caseworker for the program.

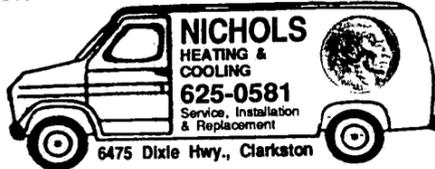

At the luncheon, judges from Oakland County Probate Court thanked CAYA for its work in keeping Clarkston youths out of the court system.

The Oakland County Probate Court oversees 26 county programs, which are funded primarily by the Oakland County Board of Commissioners. Additional money comes from Independence and Springfield townships, the City of Clarkston and Clarkston Community Schools. Businesses and organizations also donate to CAYA.

CAYA also holds fund-raisers during the year to help pay for programs for families and children it tries to help.

A Nov. 14 a bowl-a-thon will raise money to send 60 children to summer camp at the Camp Oakland Adventure Center in Oxford. For more information on it, call 625-9007.

From traffic stops to wounded duck calls, policing Clarkston never a boring job, says officer

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Drive-by shootings may not take place in Clarkston, but being a police officer here is no walk in the park — or is it?

Mark Ladetto, 26, grew up in Waterford and has been a police officer in Clarkston since it became a city in 1992. He is now the afternoon officer at the station.

Last week, a reporter spent a few hours on duty with Ladetto (see related story) and found that a typical day may include: patrolling, helping accident victims, checking on homes when the owners are on vacation, answering "wounded duck" reports and making sure special activities (such as the recent crafts and cider festival) in Depot

Park don't have any trouble.

Ladetto talked about his experiences while patrolling the city.

Upon graduating from Grand Valley State University, Allendale, Ladetto worked for the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office. Then, he decided to become a police officer and went to an academy.

"I wanted to go to the toughest police academy I could," said Ladetto.

He chose a 12-week academy that had would-be officers training for 16 or more hours a day.

He worked for the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Marine Division for one boating season and then joined the Clarkston Police Department full time.

"I wanted to do road patrol more than the marine work," he said about his job change.

Ladetto is one of two Clarkston officers who ride a bike in town while patrolling.

For the record, he's not allowed to ride his bike on the sidewalks of downtown Clarkston. Neither is anyone else, per city ordinances.

He said that bike patrol gives him the chance to get to know the citizens of Clarkston, since he appears more approachable than when he is in a car.

So far, he's enjoying his duties in the city of about 1,000 residents. But his experiences in the city have removed his rose-colored glasses about some aspects.

"I always had the concept that (Clarkston) was a sleepy little town," said Ladetto. He noted that even little towns have crime, though it may not be as high profile or at as high volume as bigger cities.

For example, one night, a man called police to tell them he had a gun and was going to kill some people.

"I thought, 'This is Clarkston,'" said Ladetto, explaining that it was difficult to believe.

He responded to the call, with backup from other officers, and no one was hurt.

Serious incidents such as that are rare, said Ladetto, adding that he has had his gun out of his holster only three times in Clarkston.

In fact, most of the complaints he hears are about police traffic stops.

But traffic ticket complaints usually are not valid, he said.

"We are probably the most lenient police department I've ever known," said Ladetto.

When he first started working in Clarkston, he gave five or six tickets a day to people who were going 20 mph over the speed limit, he said. But citizens are beginning to adhere to the speed limits.

"For the most part, people are driving much better now (than last year)," he said.

He said the strangest calls he answers are wounded duck calls. He has yet to find injured waterfowl, however, because they apparently leave the area before he arrives.

Ladetto said variety helps him to enjoy his job with the Clarkston Police Department.

"I'm not at a desk. I'm not stuck in one general area. I get to move around. It's never truly a boring job," he said.

A day in the life of Officer Ladetto

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

This reporter rode along with Officer Mark Ladetto in a police car on Sept. 17 to observe a routine day for him. In two hours, I compiled the following list of events.

4 p.m. — A lock-out call comes in. I wait in the station while he helps the citizen get into the car.

4:30 p.m. — Officer Ladetto comes back to the station. We take photos, and then he changes from his bike uniform to his patrolling uniform. He checks equipment begins to fill out his log sheet.

4:50 p.m. — We are off on patrol. We drive back and forth. Back and forth. Around and around town. Ladetto says the more bored you are the better, because then nothing bad is happening in your area. I was glad I was interviewing him, because it could have been very boring riding around like that.

5:44 p.m. — An accident on M-15 in front of Little Caesars Pizza needs Officer Ladetto's attention. He calls for the officers from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, directs a little traffic and tries to calm one of the people involved in the accident. She just received her driver's license nine days ago.

5:59 p.m. — He continues to take reports and interview people after the accident debris has been cleared off of the road.

6:16 p.m. — We are off on patrol once again.

6:18 p.m. — The driver of a van runs the new stop sign on Miller Road and is stopped.

6:22 p.m. — We patrol once more.

6:30 p.m. — We return to the station — he has paper work to do and dinner to eat. I have to get home.

OFFICER MARK LADETTO has been working for the Clarkston Police Department since it began in July 1992.

Grant may help children understand others

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Children learn early that others look, speak and act differently from themselves. They also learn early to respect or hate those differences.

Libraries in Independence, Brandon, Addison, Springfield, Oxford, Orion and Waterford townships and the City of Pontiac have joined together to apply for a $34,000 grant that will shed a positive light on cultural diversity.

The libraries applied for the federal grant under the Library Services and Construction Act.

The program targets more than 10,000 children in grades 3-5 in these eight areas. Since these areas, except Pontiac, have low minority rates, most children living there have limited contact with people of other cultures.

The five cultures to be explored through children's programs are: Afro-Americans, Asians, Hispanics, Native Americans and Europeans. Each program will be repeated in at least two libraries.

Mollie Lynch, director of the Independence Township Library, said regional and local storytellers will introduce children to folk tales of a specific culture. She said the libraries hope to schedule at least one nationally known author for the series.

The program won't be limited to storytellers, said Lynch. Other activities include crafts, artifact displays and story writing.

Lynch said a video project is possible, with children interviewing authors or storytellers.

Also included is money for each library to buy 50 books of folk tales or stories from different cultures.

"We're really excited about this. I think we have a really good chance at getting funded," said Lynch.

If approved, the cultural diversity program will be offered June 1, 1994, through May 31, 1994. The government is to inform them by April 1994 of grant approval or disapproval.

Two programs are tentatively planned for October and November 1994. The other three programs would be February-April 1995.

Beardsley scholarship one of many local awards offered at Clarkston High

Clarkston High School seniors have a chance to win more than a dozen scholarships offered by local residents and organizations.

Vic Hart, counselor at CHS, said $22,550 in local scholarship money was awarded to 1993 graduates. Total scholarship money awarded to CHS students last year was $250,840, he said.

Hart said it's not too early to check out the requirements. A meeting for CHS seniors interested in scholarships is planned during the day on Wednesday, Oct. 20, he said.

For instance, one local scholarship is offered by the Raymonds, who live part of the year in the Clarkston area and part of the year in Florida.

Mrs. Raymond's family, the Beardsleys, founded the Sashabaw Plains area of Independence Township. So she and her husband established the Beardsley Scholarship, worth more than $1,000 toward tuition at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

To qualify, a student has to be a five-year resident of the Sashabaw Plains area (bordered by Waldon Road to the north, Clintonville Road to the east, Walters Road to the west, and Mann Road to the south and including Lake Oakland and Woodhull Lake).

The student has to attend a public school in Independence Township for two years and graduate from it. And the student must use the money to attend EMU.

Any student who plans to attend EMU and who lives in the Sashabaw Plains area should see Hart for the details.

Last year, Janice Pelath, a 1989 Clarkston High School graduate and previous Beardsley Scholarship winner, received the money. Since no new student had applied for the scholarship, Pelath's award was simply renewed, said Hart.

For more information, talk to a high school counselor, or call 625-0900.

National Merit award test Saturday, Oct. 16

Students have a chance to take a preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test this month.

The test — for high school juniors — is planned for Saturday, Oct. 16, in the Clarkston area. Students should see their high school counselors about registering for the test, said Vic Hart, counselor at Clarkston High School.

Students throughout the nation are being honored for their outstanding performance on the 1992 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

At Clarkston High, three students placed among the top 5 percent of the more than 1 million students who entered the scholarship competition. They are Janae Cooley, Sara Klopfer and Ryan Moore.

Leaf pickup scheduled

Colorful autumn leaves in the Village of Clarkston signify leaf pick-up time in the city.

Curbside leaf pickup is planned for 8 a.m. Saturdays, Oct. 23 and Nov. 6, in the city, so residents should rake and ready themselves before then.

Leaf bags may be picked up at city hall, 375 Depot Road, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday, Wednesday or Friday.

The city council is to select a third pickup day at a later date.

Bible gives gift of family

BY VIRGINIA BLOCK

The gift of a Bible, printed in German language, but produced in the United States before the turn of the century, contains handwritten records of interest to anyone with Danielson, or Ellsworth lineage from the Buffalo, N.Y., area.

We thank Lloyd McBeth for sharing this beautiful old Bible and zeroxing the records therein, that all may be preserved, as we seek interested researchers of these lines. Hopefully someone needs it.

From the Prodigy genealogy bulletin board, a tidbit that may be of interest to Eleanor Hunt, of Waterford: Polli Turner shares information that her William Chambers married Ellen Barrett in 1833 in Decatur, Ind. His father, John, she believes was born in North Carolina in 1790, and grandfather, David Chambers, came from Scotland about 1740. While there is probably no connection to E.H.'s lines of that name, it serves as another contact with a chance to locate valuable information about that date, having been born in Kentucky.

An obituary for his mother, Maggie Adah Elliott, states she was born in Ottawa, Ill, but the father was a resident of Fulton, Ky., at the time of his decease. James had a sister Leah Hite, and a brother William P. Elliott of Beloit, Wisc.

The written request for descendants of James indicates that he lived in Pontiac many years and possibly would still have family in this area.

With fall coming up on the horizon, we are planning to offer "Armchair" genealogy once again before the snow birds flee to warmer winter abodes.

Toss your questions our way now, and include a winter address along with your S.A.S.E. and request, and we can keep in touch.

So many genealogy-family history centers can be found in any area that supports programs in local libraries such as ours, that it's never difficult to find help wherever you travel.

The Genealogical Helper publication annually lists locations of societies by name and state that make it easy to keep up on any action you seek.

We look forward to hearing from many more of you, now that the kids are back to school, or summer chores outside, and company and family reunions are over for awhile. Include a S.A.S.E. and a phone number where we can reach you (if more information is needed to clarify) and we'll help any way we can.

Happy Hunting.

(Genealogist Virginia Block may be reached by writing to Heritage Hunt II, Sherman Publications, Inc., 666 Lapeer Road, Oxford, MI 48371.)

Good news report

God's gift of salvation

The Rev.
Glen Currie

One of the members of our church suggested that I name this column "Good News Report."

It seemed like a great idea. With so much bad happening in the world, it's nice to get some good news. Some very good news, in fact, the best news in the world is found in God's gift of salvation. We call this the gospel. It is interesting to note that gospel means "good news."

What is the gospel? I Corinthians 15:1-4 clearly states, "Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand; By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I have preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain. For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures."

Jesus Christ came to earth nearly 2,000 years ago with the expressed purpose of dying for us and paying the penalty for our sins. In the greatest act of love ever demonstrated to the human race, he offered himself as a sacrifice for us.

How can a person be saved and know that he or she has eternal life?

As this passage teaches, we must receive Christ as our savior. We must believe that he died for our sins and rose again on the third day. The exciting thing is that salvation is a free gift. "For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6:23).

God's gift of salvation comes by faith alone. "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast" (Ephesians 2:8-9). "But without faith it is impossible to please him ..." (Hebrews 11:6).

There are many beliefs, philosophies and ideas of how to get to heaven, but Jesus clearly stated in John 14:6 that he is the only way to eternal life, "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." Acts 16:31 also says, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."

This indeed is good news! When I accepted Christ as my savior, it was the greatest thing that ever happened to me. If you have never trusted Christ as your savior, I urge you to do it today. If you have any questions about God's wonderful gift of salvation, please write me at the address listed below.

The Rev. Glen Currie is pastor of Maranatha Baptist Church, Independence Township. He may be reached by writing to him in care of The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main St., Clarkston, MI 48346.

CHS marching band competition Saturday

Music-lovers who also like autumn are in for an evening treat this weekend.

The 16th Annual Clarkston Invitational Marching Band Competition takes place Saturday, Oct. 9, at Clarkston High School's football field.

It begins with the National Anthem at 4:40 p.m., followed by performances from nine marching bands. Clarkston High's exhibition performance is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., with the awards ceremony planned for 7:45 p.m.

Admission is $4 for adults, $2 for students. Concessions are available.

Band Boosters are selling raffle tickets for a 1994 Camaro from Bowman Chevrolet, as well as tickets to its dinner-dance auction fund-raiser Friday, Nov. 5.

Proceeds help pay for the Clarkston High Marching Band's trip to England this winter. The band was invited to perform in the Lord Mayor of Westminster's New Year's Parade.

For more information, call Marla McKee at 625-7067.

Country Jubilee set

Country music lovers should mark their calendars for Sunday, Oct. 24.

The Oakland Country Jubilee is planned for 2-8 p.m. that day at the Hart Community Center, at the Mill Pond Park, in downtown Davisburg, Springfield Township.

The Jubilee features live bands, door prizes, food and dancing.

Admission is $2 (free for children age 12 and under).

The event is a fund-raiser for Springfield Township Parks and Recreation. Country music groups interested in performing should call Carl Myatt (park volunteer and event organizer) at 625-4469. For more information, call 634-0412.

Winning logo

CHRIS ALLEN, a third-grader at Clarkston Elementary School, was recently cited by the State of Michigan for his first-place entry in a sports logo contest that he entered last year. He beat out several hundred entries from kids his age. Chris was presented with a $75 check and a certificate of accomplishment at an awards banquet in Lansing in September.

New arrival

David and Peggy Wright of Independence Township are thrilled to announce the arrival of Natalie Jane. She was born at 11:56 p.m. June 7, 1993, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. She weighed 7 pounds, 12 1/2 ounces, and measured 20 inches long.

Natalie was greeted by her grandparents, Donald and Barbara Wright of Ortonville and Frank and Jane Schmid of Birmingham. She was also welcomed by her great-grandfather Bernard Jones of Southfield and great-grandmother Estelle Thompson of Bloomfield Hills.

Proud aunts and uncles include Lynne, Debra, Janet, Frank, Steven, Paul and John.

Grads

James Petherbridge of Clarkston was among the 456 students who completed requirements for degrees during the summer quarter at Ferris State University, Big Rapids.

Petherbridge earned a bachelor of science degree in hospitality management.

Club notes

Five Sashabaw Plains Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, members attended the 93rd Michigan DAR State Conference in Troy, Sept. 23-25.

They were Chapter Regent Dorothy Lowe, Vice Regent Charlotte Maybee, Registrar Rebecca Gruber, Frances Stewart, Jennifer Gruber and Karen Lowe. 1993 marks the centennial year of the Michigan DAR.

Engagement

Mike and Joyce Stringfield of Grosse Pointe announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen of Independence Township, to Leon Grogg Jr., also of Independence Township. The bride-to-be is a Clarkston High School graduate and attended college for 2 years. She is employed as a nanny. Her fiancé is the son of Leon and Nancy Grogg of Clarkston. He is a steel salesman for Pontiac Steel. A wedding is planned for October 1993 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Romeo.

An experience never to forget

(This is the last of a three-part series.)
Saturday morning, we packed up our bags, loaded up, and were ready to hike during yet another adventure in World Youth Day. Destination: Cherry Creek State Park in Colorado. The 15-mile hike took off early that morning, but most of the people who went hiked only three miles — that was us.

After breakfast, we were shipped out to the place where the hike started. The buses were parked there for the night, and we relentlessly hiked the three miles it took to get there. Everyone had to bring some sort of bag, warm clothes, a sleeping bag, lots of water, and our McDonald meal tickets.

The meal tickets played such a significant part in our trip because we had to purchase them in advance. It just happened that McDonald's had won the bid to provide all the pilgrims with food. Various tents were set up at such places as Mile High Stadium and Cherry Creek.

The food they served consisted of a very small salad, chicken sandwiches with just chicken and the bun, and a quarter-pounder with just the meat and the cheese. The scrumptious meals were served with a bag of chips, a choice of pop, and a complimentary napkin. These were our meals for five days straight.

The two-hour hike to Cherry Creek took place on a long dusty road with people covering every square inch. They carried various banners from their countries and sang as they walked, some in different languages. The chants ranged from "We've got spirit, yes we do" to "Ninety-nine bottles of holy water on the wall."

After we reached the top and looked back, we could see the long string of people stretching for miles. In between our gasping breaths was the question, "We walked all this way?"

My group was separated from the rest of the group shortly after we left the buses. So we sat at the entrance of the park for about 20 minutes, trying to pick them out from the crowd as people approached the top, but we had no luck.

When we got to the entrance, we received a "9-1" sticker, designating our "section." After we got in and to the point where we could see, the sight was just amazing. Over a half-million people were gathered in this giant field. People said it was like Woodstock, only bigger. I wouldn't know.

Our group all stuck together, and we went out to find our spot. Each section was blocked off with rope and was identified with a tall flag.

Our section was packed. We managed to find a space that accommodated us pretty well, and we laid down a tarp and placed our bags around it to declare our spot. Some people stayed, while others went off to search for the rest of our groups or prepared for another food run to the infamous McDonald's food tents. (I'm still having nightmares of Ronald McDonald.)

A couple hours later, some survivors from the other groups managed to move in with us. The Pope flew in later, but we weren't close to the stage at all. We didn't

AFTER BREAKFAST, our group posed for a photograph in front of the Rocky Mountains.

The scenery in Colorado was beautiful, and Mother Nature even gave us two rainbows.

really pay attention because it was no use if you couldn't hear nor see.

We did, however, find our Argentina friends. Their site was closer to the Vatican (also known as Port-A-Johns). From our site, it was quite a hike. By the time you went and came back, you had to go again!

That night, some of us went to their site, while the rest stayed back and caught up on their sleep. With the Argentinians, we stayed up all night talking, singing and dancing. It was cold, and they weren't prepared for that kind of weather. We shared our blankets and sleeping bags, along with some more jokes.

That morning at 5:30, a woman's voice on the loud speaker announced: "Good morning! Welcome to the last day of World Youth Day '93!" (That worked better than my alarm clock in the morning.)

After 7:30 a.m. mass, we split into different groups, each with an older Youth Group member in charge, and started on the return hike.

When I first arrived home from the trip, people kept asking me if anyone in our group had become sick in the extreme heat. I am glad to report that of the 2,500 people who needed medical attention, not one was from our group. Greg Flynn, 19, an emergency medical technician, made sure we all drank plenty of water. Greg helped many people along the way back, including a woman who was having a heart attack.

After we struggled through the last mile, seeing that Cardinal bus in the distance made my backpack seem a lot lighter. From there, we were shipped to a nearby hotel, where they opened up several rooms for our showers. We were limited to 15 minutes per shower — not too popular with the girls.

They had food there for us, so after we ate, we were on the way. The ride home wasn't very eventful — we slept most of the way and arrived home about 12:30 a.m.

Trying to put this trip all in a few paragraphs is really hard to do. A trip that started out to be a disaster turned out to be an experience to never forget. I would like to thank everyone who made this trip possible, especially Mrs. Ruthmarie Hovanec for all of her hard work as our youth group leader.

And I look forward to World Youth Day '95 in the Philippines. Our youth group already is planning that trip.

THE CITY OF THE
VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON
CITY COUNCIL MEETING
September 27, 1993

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Catalo at 7:39 p.m. followed by the pledge of allegiance.

Roll: Present: Arkwright, Basinger, Catalo, Roeser, Sanderson, Schultz, Secatch.

Sanderson asked that the minutes of the last meeting be amended to reflect the fact that she was uncertain how the safety concerns on the playground were to be remedied not that she was against making the playground safe.

Arkwright stated the minutes should state that it was Mr. Dave Huttenlocher who met with the Council regarding a Master Plan for the Village.

Moved by Arkwright, supported by Sanderson, "That the minutes of the September 13, 1993 meeting be approved with the afore mentioned changes." Motion carried.

Moved by Schultz, supported by Secatch, "That the agenda be approved with the following additions: the West Church Street Lot Split, the Agreement for Dispatch Services, and a Closed Session at the end of the meeting to discuss pending litigation." Motion carried.

Secatch indicated that the unsafe toys had been removed from the playground and that further maintenance of the playground would be done when the grass cutting was completed this fall. DPW has cold patched many of the roads. The Plum House has a new roof, new siding and has been painted.

Sanderson indicated that she spoke with Kevin Bickerstaff of Clarkston Schools regarding rerouting buses off of Church Street, Buffalo and Washington. Apparently the buses have a problem turning at the corner of Waldon and M-15 because of a pole on the northeast corner. Bickerstaff agreed to look into the problem. Sanderson will follow-up with him and check into getting the pole moved.

Schultz requested that DPW paint the crosswalks. Pappas will contact the ADA Consultant about the specifications required for handicapped parking spaces. When this information is obtained DPW will designate handicapped spaces in the Depot Park Lot.

Catalo indicated that she had spoken with the Township Supervisor, she and Pappas and the Supervisor will meet within the next few weeks regarding contracts for services.

Moved by Basinger, supported by Arkwright, "That a committee will be appointed to work out an intergovernmental water main agreement prior to the next meeting." Motion carried.

The committee will consist of Basinger, Secatch, and Attorney Ryan representing the Village. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, September 29, 1993 at 6:30 p.m. in the Village Hall. Brent Blair of the Road Commission for Oakland County made a presentation.

Theresa Blundell of the Youth Assistance Program met with the Council to thank them for their support and to provide an update on programs and services provided by that program.

Sanderson inquired as where things stood on the Deer Lake boat dockage issue. Ryan recommended that the issue be addressed again by the Council at another meeting when any interested Deer Lake residents could be present.

Arkwright did an informal poll of the Planning Commission regarding their feelings on the lot split on West Church. Dave Huttenlocher was out of town and could not be reached and Geraldine Hunter was not familiar enough with the plans to make a decision before this meeting. The remainder of the Planning Commission did not have a problem with the lot split.

Resolved by Roeser, supported by Arkwright, "That the plans presented for the proposed lot split on West Church be approved contingent upon remeasuring of all involved lots by the building inspector and his approval." Roll: Yeas-7, Nays-0. Resolution passed.

Resolved by Basinger, supported by Arkwright, "That the Agreement for Dispatch Services between the County of Oakland and the City of the Village of Clarkston be approved with the stipulation that reimbursement for dispatch services will not exceed $625 for the length of the contract." Roll: Yeas-7, Nays-0. Resolution passed.

The leaf pick-up dates will be October 23, 1993 and November 6, 1993.

Resolved by Schultz, supported by Secatch, "That Pappas will submit a closed bid to the Independence Township Fire Department for a Stihl chain saw which requires a $300 minimum bid if he determines this to be a good value after checking into the cost of purchasing the equipment new." Roll: Yeas-7, Nays-0. Resolution passed.

Resolved by Basinger, supported by Roeser, "That the council will go into closed session to discuss pending litigation." Roll: Yeas-7, Nays-0. Resolution passed.

The meeting went into closed session at 9:05 p.m. Resolved by Roeser, supported by Arkwright, "That the meeting be re-opened." Roll: Yeas-7, Nays-0. Resolution passed.

The meeting was re-opened at 9:47 p.m. Moved by Roeser, supported by Arkwright, "That the meeting be adjourned." Motion carried.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:50 p.m.

Conflict resolution for moms, daughters

Mothers and teen-age daughters who struggle with their relationship might find help with a conflict resolution group starting Oct. 14.

Cost is $15 per session for mothers and daughters and $10 per individual. Sessions take place 7-8:30 p.m. Thursdays at the offices of Dr. James O'Neill at 5885 M-15. For more information call Garwood & Associates at 625-3123.

The group, which meets for eight weeks, is facilitated by Anne Milko-Delpier, who has worked with adolescents and parents struggling with substance abuse, delinquent behaviors and sexuality. She has been in-involved with programs for spouse abuse, child abuse, traumatic loss, sexual abuse and delinquency and foster care.

If any of the following applies, the group could help mothers and daughters (ages 15 to 17) who want to work on developing a family situation that works for both:

Are you arguing as much or more than you are talking? Are you feeling blamed and misunderstood by other family members? Are you tired of feeling like the loser in daily power struggles? Are you feeling miles apart during discussions on sexuality? Are you clashing with each other on topics such as education and life direction?

Gifted education forum on Oct. 14

An open forum on gifted education in Clarkston is 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 14. The meeting takes place at the Clarkston Board of Education offices at 6389 Clarkston Road. The organization SAGE (Support and Advocacy for Gifted Education) hosts the forum for parents whose children are or may become involved in the gifted education program in Clarkston schools.

David Reschke, director of curriculum and staff development, and teachers from the gifted program will be on hand to describe their roles and the program's curriculum. Parents may ask questions about gifted education and the programs currently offered, as well as those planned for the future.

For $4.75 a week, you can reach 42,500 people in over 18,500 homes every week with an advertising message on these pages.
 COPY DEADLINE: 5:00 p.m. Friday preceding the week of publication.

We are not a Jack-of-all-trades. We can not guarantee you the absolute lowest price, as we will not sacrifice the quality products or workmanship that you deserve. But what we will guarantee is an honest and fair price with products and workmanship of the highest quality. We also do our own work. We don't get your job and sub-contract it out, or sell it. So if you are only looking for the cheapest way out, call someone else who claims they can beat any price. If you are looking for an honest and fair price, quality products and workmanship, dependability, and someone that will still be here after your job is completed, give us a call. Helping you make your home the one you've always dreamed of is what we do.

Parade mania

CHS Principal Brent Cooley served as the parade's grand marshal.

MIMES from Clarkston High entertained the crowd and themselves as they strolled down the middle of main street.

GIRL SCOUTS were among the many local groups represented at Clarkston's Homecoming Parade. The youngsters attracted a lot of attention, especially when they'd toss candy into the crowd. (Photos by Curt McAllister)
