FIREFIGHTERS from four townships worked to extinguish the fire in this home Friday.

Firefighter injured in house fire

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Area firefighters battled not only a fire last Friday, they also fought sub-zero temperatures. The fire destroyed a home and injured one firefighter.

Police and fire departments responded to a house fire on Sashabaw Road, across from Independence Oaks Park, about 2:40 a.m. on Jan. 14. When they arrived flames were visible and the home was filled with smoke.

According to Independence Township Fire Chief Gar Wilson, the fire began in a basement bedroom. The source of the fire is still unknown.

Three occupants were awakened by a fire alarm and left the home. There were treated for smoke inhalation on the scene.

A firefighter, Sgt. Mike Bussell, was treated at the scene for minor burns on his jaw and ears.

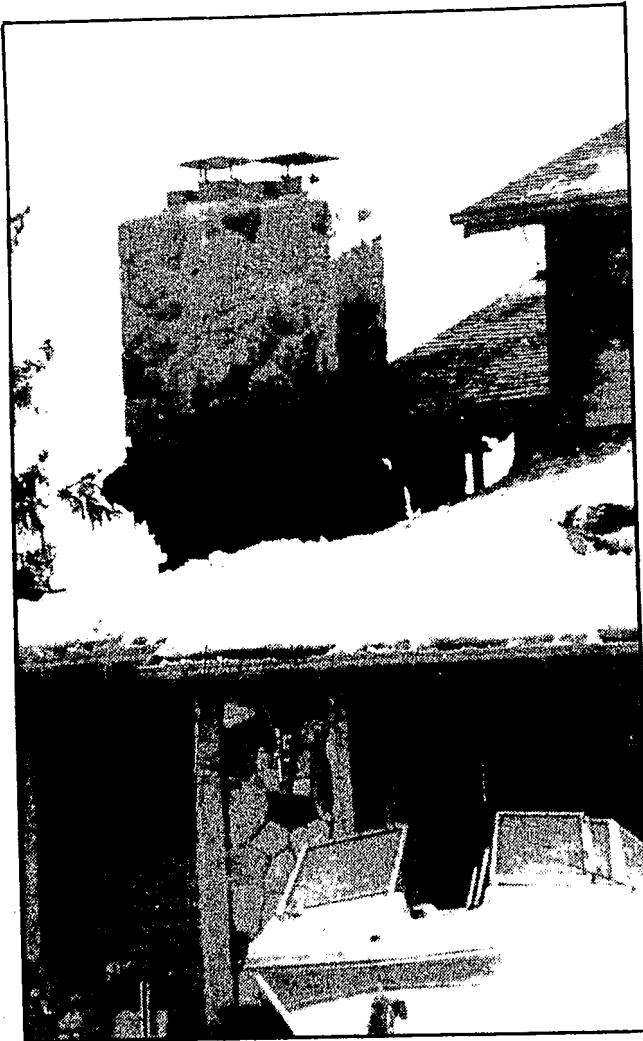

Wilson said the roof and first floor in some sections caved in during the fire; this and the sub-zero temperatures created problems for the firefighters.

"We had an awful tough time," Wilson said. He said firefighters got wet while putting the fire out and their clothes froze, hindering their movement. Water lines also froze within 15 seconds if they were shut off.

Departments from Springfield, Brandon and Orion townships assisted in fighting the fire. Firefighters began to mop up about 7:30 a.m. and cleared the scene by 10 a.m.

Wilson said part of the home was a total loss. Some of it may be livable, but with heat and smoke damage it would have to be gutted.

"We don't feel it was a suspicious fire at this time," said Wilson. The Oakland County Sheriff's Department Arson Department is investigating.

THE roof and first floor of this home caved in while firefighters worked to put out the blaze.

Rape charged while waiting for counseling Now in county jail

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A 38-year-old Waterford Township man was arrested Friday for allegedly molesting three children in Independence Township over the past two years.

Brett Michael Doyon, formerly of Independence Township, was charged with two counts of first degree criminal sexual conduct (penetration) and two counts of second degree criminal sexual conduct (touching). If convicted of first degree CSC he could spend up to life in prison.

He was arraigned Jan. 14 in 52nd District Court, Independence Township, in front of Magistrate Dana Fortinberry. His preliminary exam is scheduled in front of Judge Gerald McNally on Jan. 25 at 1:30 p.m. According to Det. Dirk Feneley of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, the three children are under 13 years old and are not related to Doyon or each other.

Doyon pled guilty to two unrelated counts of second degree CSC on Nov. 4, 1993 in front of Circuit Court Judge Denise Langford-Morris. His sentencing, which was originally scheduled for Dec. 6, 1993, had been delayed until Aug. 8, 1994.

According to court records, Doyon was to seek counseling, live in a residence approved by his probation officer, and he was not allowed to be with children under 16 unless an adult over 21 was in the room.

He is now in the Oakland County Jail unable to post $175,000 cash assurity bond.

New elementary school named 'Springfield Plains'

The building more commonly known as the "new elementary school" finally has a name.

"Springfield Plains Elementary" was unanimously chosen by the Clarkston School Board Jan. 12. It was selected from a field of 34 other names, most submitted by people living in the school district.

"Springfield Plains" was chosen on its historical value. At one time, a small school house bearing the same name resided in the area near Holcomb and Bridge Lake roads, where the new school is being erected.

This new building is being funded by a $16.1 million bond issue passed last February. It's slated to open this fall, serving over 500 students.

ANN CONKLIN, director of Independence Township Parks and Recreation, displays a brick used at Bay Court Park. Residents are encouraged to donate money to renovate the beach and construct a playscape.

Design and build a dream

A playscape designed and built by the community is planned for Bay Court Park, and you can help.

On Jan. 25 at 7:30 p.m. residents are invited to a meeting in the auditorium of Clarkston High School to add their vision for the playscape.

A representative from Leathers and Associates will visit area schools during the day to talk to children about their ideas for the playscape. He will be at the evening meeting to listen and create with residents help.

The project will be funded through community donations. People are needed to donate their time, talent and money to the project.

If you can rake, cook, hoe, hammer, baby sit or encourage you are needed.

For more information, call Susan at 625-1449 or the Independence Township Parks and Recreation office at 625-8223.

Money, help needed for new park

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

How would you like your name to go down in history?

It could, with a donation benefiting Phase II of Bay Court Park—a 50-acre Independence Township park located on Andersonville Road.

Efforts to raise $102,800 to match a $308,400 grant from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources are under way.

"We're trying to make this a real community park by getting the community involved," said Parks and Recreation Director Ann Conklin.

Residents can pave the path to Bay Court when they buy a paver for $25. These bricks are used at the entrance of the park. The donor's name or the name of a family member will be inscribed on a plaque at the park entrance for everyone to see.

For a $100 contribution, a tree will be planted in honor or memory of a family member. Conklin said a plaque will be put up near the donated tree to signify who it is for.

"It's a great investment in the future," said Conklin.

Bay Court Park will be for passive recreation—meaning no league playing. Conklin said they hope to open the park to the public this winter for cross country skiing and walking. In the spring residents will be able to picnic and use the fitness trail.

Phase II donations will renovate the beach and construct a building for concessions, restrooms, changing areas and storage. Construction may begin this summer.

If all of the funds aren't raised for Phase II there are alternatives such as borrowing surplus money from another township fund that is undesignated, or using installment purchases. Conklin is hopeful that these will not be used.

"We're really optimistic that we're going to have success in our fund raising," she said.

The implementation of Phase II is being coordinated with the development and construction of a playscape.

Residents and children will design the playscape with help from designers from Leathers and Associates on Tuesday, Jan. 25.

The designer will meet with students at their schools during the day, and the entire community is invited to a 7:30 p.m. meeting in the Clarkston High School auditorium to give their input and volunteer their help.

Donations will fund the entire project, so the size of the playscape depends on how much money is raised.

Conklin said the playscape will be built with community volunteers in early June.

Donations for Phase II and the playscape at Bay Court are tax deductible.

Contact the Independence Township Parks and Recreation at 625-8223 for information about donating your money and time.

Interim period ends for Principal Cooley

The word "interim" has been dropped from Brent Cooley's title as he takes over as Clarkston High School's full-fledged principal.

Superintendent Gary Haner reported at the Jan. 12 school board meeting that Cooley had been promoted to the post, following his exemplary performance during a six-month probationary period. Cooley took over as interim principal last June when Principal Jim Goebel stepped down.

Citing personal reasons, Goebel had asked to be re-assigned to assistant principal after one year on the job. He immediately took over Cooley's former position.

Goebel had been hired by Clarkston Schools in April, 1992, after serving as principal at Spring Lake High in northern Michigan.

Cooley, a Central Michigan alumnus and father of two, is also active in the community. He serves on the Clarkston Rotary Club and the North Oakland United Way Educational Unit campaign.

Cars damaged, teens arrested

Two Waterford teens were arrested in the early morning hours Saturday after they allegedly damaged two cars.

Andrew Kleparek and Ross Dye, both 17, were taken into custody and arraigned Saturday, Jan. 15. They are charged with malicious damage to property over $100, a felony punishable with up to four years in prison and/or a $2,000 fine.

According to Detective Chuck Young of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, the teens allegedly broke windows out of a 1984 Blazer and a Tornado with a crowbar and baseball bat. The cars were parked in the 4700 block of Sashabaw Road. They were arrested at the scene.

The Blazer suffered about $2,500 worth of damage and a money value on the Tornado was not available.

The alleged driver, a 16-year-old from Waterford, may be charged in the incident later.

Kleparek and Dye will begin their preliminary exam in front of 52nd District Court Judge Gerald McNally on Jan. 27 at 10:30 a.m.

Pontiac woman arrested

Anita Foggan, 22, of Pontiac was arrested after she allegedly tried to return stolen merchandise for store credit.

According to Det. Chuck Young of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, Foggan attempted returning four sweatshirts that had been stolen from the Independence Township Foot Locker on Oct. 15, 1993.

She provided the store with personal identification for the return and then fled when the manager called security.

Foggan turned herself into 52nd District Court, Rochester, for an unrelated warrant and was arrested by OCSD detectives.

She was charged with receiving and concealing stolen goods over $100, a felony with a maximum sentence of 5 years and/or $2,500.

Foggan's preliminary exam began Jan. 14 in 51st District Court.

Alleged thief caught

An 18-year-old Dearborn man was arrested for stealing a $500 snowboard from Pine Knob Ski Lodge.

According to Det. Chuck Young of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, Victor Stesiak, was stopped by Pine Knob security in the parking lot of the business on Jan. 9 and was in possession of the snowboard.

He is charged with larceny over $100, a felony with a maximum sentence of four years in prison. His preliminary exam is scheduled for Jan. 21 at 9:30 a.m. in front of 52nd District Court Judge Gerald McNally.

Another suspect is also being sought

Treasurer pleads

Over two years of police investigation and court proceedings will end next month in the case of April Merrit.

Merrit, 32, of Independence Township plead guilty Jan. 5 to larceny from a building, a felony punishable with up to four years in prison and/or a $2,000 fine.

She will be sentenced by Circuit Court Judge F.X. O'Brien Feb. 9.

Merrit was charged with embezzlement Aug. 31, 1993. Embezzlement carries the punishment of up to 10 years in prison. The charges were reduced in Circuit Court.

Merrit was treasurer of the Clarkston Co-op Nursery School in 1991. According to a report by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, discrepancies were found in the bookkeeping when she was replaced as treasurer.

Don't Rush Me

I still like Michigan

Don Rush

By a show of hands, how many out there would rather live in California or Michigan?

This has been a good week to weigh the pros and cons: road wrecking earth tremors, or a trillion degrees below zero with the windchill? Round and round we go, Butch or Belindy, which will it be? (FYI: That's the line Bozo used to use when he picked a helper for his Detroit-area TV show.)

Before you throw up your hands one way or t'other here are some other factors you may wish to add into the equation.

1. Wild, out of control, pack up the kids and get the heck out of Dodge forest fires: Michigan has a few every now and then. California, well you remember what happened out there this past year. And, don't forget another problem they had in California: left-coasters (AKA environmentalist-whackos) do not want reservoirs built, even if the stored water could have saved homes.

2. Riots: the residents of this state learned their lesson in 1967. In California it's still popular to destroy your neighbor's store and steal his goods.

3. Property Investments: it's a safe bet that beach front property in Michigan is going to be around 50 years from now, and it will increase in value. Beach front property along the coast of California may become part of Atlantis before the turn of the century.

4. Federal Aid: California wins hands down. They and the folks in Florida have more disasters, therefore they get bailed out by the rest of the country more often. In Michigan you have to pay for your own home insurance.

5. Orange juice: Michigan imports it. California makes it.

6. Tan-lines: (don't get excited) three months a year in the Winter Wonderland State. In the state where Ronald Regan lives, it's pass the Coppertone and who brought the margaritas 365 days a year.

7. Death from below: in Michigan, unless a giant snapping turtle gets rabies it is safe to swim anywhere. Sharks must like the taste of Coppertone, because I've seen one too many pictures of California surfers with a bite out of them (I vote for fresh water swimming).

8. Lawn cutting: I can spend 3-hours straight cutting my lawn, spring through fall. What I saw when I visited Long Beach, California was a 10-minute, skip in the park job.

9. Drive time: I-75 can be tough, but those super highways in Southern California are a killer — and they're always full of guys wearing sun glasses in foreign cars talking on cellular phones.

10. Star sightings: you can see the Big Dipper most of the time in Michigan. Besides Jeff Daniels, even the Michigan types who make it in Hollywood move to California.

Well, what do you think? Michigan, or California, where would you rather be?

Before I forget: Nicole Gourand, broker/owner of VIP Realty, pointed out that we forgot to mention the property transfer tax when we wrote about Michigan's school tax plans. She feels a 1 percent (statutory backup plan) or 2 percent (ballot plan) transfer tax will not only hurt the seller and the economy, but also education.

Why? Because real estate sales go in cycles. Right now it is on the up side, but, she contends, what happens when it is on the down side? The money won't be there and it will have to come from somewhere else.

She urges everybody to write their representatives in Lansing to tell them you don't like the property tax transfer plans.

Guest

No excuses from Lansing

By Sen. Jack Welborn, 13th District

Many people are asking me how I'm going to vote on the school finance reform ballot proposal, scheduled for March 15. I don't know. In fact, I don't really want to think about it. It's sort of like deciding whether to call Dr. Kevorkian or use my own gun. As a taxpayer, I'm going to lose either way. I think both tax options are bad, and that's the reason I voted against them.

Accountants, lawyers, and other analysts are still trying to interpret the finer points of the tax options agreed to by a majority of the Legislature and the Governor on Christmas Eve, but the bottom line is already clear -- whether voters choose a 50 percent hike in the state sales tax or a 30 percent raise in the state income tax, the result is going to be a loss for taxpayers and another gain for government, with no reason to expect improved educational quality or a reduction in teacher union control.

Some other negative features were also built into the compromise which wiped out the historic property tax cut of last July. A vote for escalating the sales tax is also a vote for expanding legalized gambling, through the use of numbers video games in barrooms. Either way, businesses are going to have an increase of 24 mills in property taxes.

If the sales tax fails, there will also be an increase in the Single Business Tax. If the sales tax passes, the transfer tax in real estate sales will be increased to 2 percent, but if the sales tax fails the real estate transfer tax is increased 1 percent.

If the sales tax passes, residential property owners get a 6-mill tax reinstatement; 12 mills if the sales tax fails. Either way, the 3-mill Intermediate School District tax is being reinstated on all property owners. Also, the cigarette tax goes up to 75 cents a pack if the sales tax passes; 40 cents a pack if it is defeated; non-cigarette tobacco products go up 16 percent on the wholesale price no matter what happens on the ballot proposal.

If you're confused about the tax options, bear with me.

What's really confusing is the way K-12 funding increased over a billion dollars in the final compromise. I had introduced an amendment, which the Senate passed, that held K-12 spending to $9.6 billion. The House raised K-12 funding to $10.6 billion. On top of that, they threw in another $600 million for the "transition period," for a total of $11.2 billion.

If I could have foreseen the way the opportunity of a lifetime for educational reform and tax relief was going to be compromised away, I would not have supported last July's property tax cut amendment.

It has been customary in recent years for Republicans to blame Democrats for blocking tax relief and protecting the MEA teachers' union. However, it is getting increasingly difficult to hold water with that excuse. As a Michigan businessman put it in a December 21 letter to one of the Republican legislative leaders --

"It's amazing, the excuses one hears when positive change becomes impeded . . . I have heard on numerous occasions, 'Just wait until we Republicans gain control; positive change will then occur.'

"Well, sir, you are in control.

"The Republicans have a majority in the Senate. The Republicans have control of the Governor's office, and the Republicans are in the best shape that they will probably ever be in the House of Representatives. . . ."

Actually, the Republicans are in better shape today than when the businessman wrote his letter. On January 7, a House Democrat announced his resignation, effective Feb. 16, after pleading guilty to turning in a phony travel voucher while he was with the House Fiscal Agency. Last November, two House

Jim's Jottings

New Years Eve in Las Vegas

At my age midnight is something to be avoided unless nature's tug is stronger than my mental will.

That goes for New Years Eve too. However, I was awake and well for the kissing, hugging and well-wishing December 31/January 1.

So were the other estimated 175,000 visitors to Las Vegas that weekend. These invaders were expected to spend $69.9 million and that doesn't include their gambling.

Las Vegas has 10,431 more rooms this year and all were booked solid for the holiday. Total room inventory of hotels and motels in this dice-rolling, card-playing, slot-machine town is 87,300.

The 175,000 visitor total was up from the estimated 149,000 of last New Year's. Town boosters were claiming that for the first time in history the crossroads of Tropicana Street and Las Vegas Boulevard would have more people out celebrating in the street than at Times Square in New York.

I don't know if there were or not. I was busy kissing, hugging and wishing well at the San Remo hotel a block away.

I do know streets were closed downtown and on the strip by police to allow more room for the out-of-doors merry makers.

The absolute, unqualified biggest reason for the extreme influx of visitors was the appearance of Barbra Streisand at the new MGM Grand Hotel &

Theme Park.

Her shows were sold out more than a month before the "happening." A second coming couldn't have brought more publicity, interest or revenue.

A reported 34,000 people (17,000 for each of two nights) paid $400, $500 or $1,000 for seats. Scalpers were asking up to $5,000. People running classified ads in the Las Vegas Review-Journal were asking $800 and $1,000 for a ticket and you can bet they weren't for the front few rows.

I talked to one man from Oregon who said his wife was on the phone hitting 'redial' for six hours before she got two $500 tickets.

He didn't react kindly when I said, "Really, for Barbra Streisand?" I didn't say that. He was ecstatic about the show. Poorer, but ecstatic.

We, that includes Drumhellers, Lees, Leannais, Foleys, Schaibles, Dick Buechler and Laura VanMeter from here, were guests of the San Remo New Years Eve.

We didn't need two bands to entertain us, but it helped. We dined on Aquatic Adventure hors d'oeuvres, symphony of wild mushroom consommé, intermezzo bienville, medley of filet mignon, French quarter salad and dessert royale.

Dessert royale, get this, was a baby grand piano of chocolate and when you lifted the lid there were four strawberries.

Pick up great deals while losing eyesores

Jim Fitzgerald

Abandoned tires are a huge problem. Bad guys dump old tires on the handiest vacant property, piled high, making countless neighborhoods and countryside ugly forever, or until some genius like me comes up with a brilliant idea.

My brilliant idea is used tires should be handled the same way Michigan handles empty beer and pop bottles and cans. When you buy a tire, pay a mandatory deposit, say $10. When you're done with the tire, return it and get your money back.

Tire shops could recover some of their redemption costs by transporting the returned tires to recycling centers operated or privatized by an environment-friendly government.

I know this isn't a new idea; it's undoubtedly been suggested and rejected as impractical a million times. Let's consider the reasons for rejection.

Tires are already expensive, and customers would balk at paying extra dollars they wouldn't get back for 50,000 miles or so. No good. Forty more bucks for a set of tires won't break anyone who can afford a car. Tell the objectors to ride rims, or take the bus. Any change that increases business for public transportation should be welcomed in a nation full of clogged highways and 6-seat cars with only one seat occupied.

Tire dealers and manufacturers would gripe about scant storage space, processing costs, and so on, the same as the beer and pop industry does. But some improvements are well worth the costs and hassles, and there's no denying Michigan is a better-looking state since the bottle refund law passed. Just think of the environmental improvement an equally successful tire refund law would make.

Yeah, but used tires are dumped helter-skelter by slob -- individual and corporate -- who obviously don't mind violating the law. What if they decide the refund law isn't enough to turn them into good citizens? We'll still have to figure out how to clean up after them, won't we.

Maybe not.

You've seen street people searching trash cans and curbsides for bottles and cans. I've heard several food store operators complain about having to refund bottle deposits to "shiftless bums" who didn't pay the deposits in the first place, dammit.

But hey, the purpose of the refund law is to get the empty containers off the streets and beaches and out of the parks, for everybody's benefit. There is no rule saying each deposit must be returned to the original beer buyer.

When a trash picker cashes in someone else's discarded container, there could be a double benefit. The Earth becomes less of a contaminated eyesore, and maybe a hungry person makes a few cents to buy a sandwich.

I know discarded tires would be more difficult to retrieve than bottles and cans. But I've seen street people pushing a bent shopping cart containing an incredibly large load of containers and other valuable stuff. I like to think they'd be equally enterprising in figuring out how to get tires to the tire shop. Even if they had to borrow a bent moving van.

End of long brilliant idea.

I read that Detroit Lions running back Barry Sanders signed a four-year contract paying between $2.57 million and $3.82 million base salary yearly, plus a $400,000 bonus for each year of the four years he shows up to collect the base salary. Which is similar to getting a bonus for agreeing to go to heaven.

I also read that many players and coaches were angered when some Giants fans dared cheer when an opponent was injured. But the idea of football is to entertain the audience by knocking opponents down as completely as possible. So my brilliant idea is that fans be allowed to cheer injuries in direct proportion to the number of dollars the hurt player is outrageously overpaid compared to, say, Mother Teresa.

And if this idea should ever result in party hats being worn at funerals, what the heck, it's only a game. Got a message for Fitz? Phone 222-8755 anytime.

The Clarkston Elementary P.T.A and principal would like to thank Gail and Rice Productions and GMC Truck for bringing Up With People to Clarkston Elementary! The staff and students were awestruck by the energy and talent they display. What a fabulous performance they gave us. By taking time to visit 3rd, 4th and 5th grade classrooms and talk with students, Up With People cast members made a positive and lasting impression.

It's been over a month since I began my "television career" on TCI cable channel 65 and I have to admit it's been an eye-opening experience.

"Clarkston Sports Talk," a bi-weekly program highlighting the exploits of the local sports scene, premiered in December and public reaction has been positive. Fortunately, we've had some excellent guests in the way of coaches Mike DeGain and Gordie Richardson and basketball player Jeremy Fife.

Yet, I still find the preparation that goes into one of these half-hour programs a bit astounding. Fellow co-host Jason Nellist, a TCI employee who dreamed up the show, has a bevy of things that he has to do before we go on the air.

They include everything from assembling the set, editing and preparing highlight footage, lining up camera people and preparing a time schedule. Myself, I usually prepare a quick capsule of the past week's event, citing the accomplishments of Clarkston's various sports teams.

Prior to taping, Jason and I also go over our questions for the guest and how they should flow with the conversation. Luckily, we haven't had to prod any of our guests for lengthy answers so far -- just to kill air time.

Considerable time and effort is also taken to edit the finished product before it airs, but luckily I'm not involved in this process. I'm just a reporter talking about sports.

Even after a month, "butterflies" are still abundant every time the little red light goes on, but I'm getting better. I think it's the fear of dead air or a possible Freudian slip that scares me the most.

I'd long believed that my journalistic counterparts in the television field had it easier than we print-minded sorts, but perhaps I've judged them too hastily. Their preparation time has to be voluminous, and when they make mistakes thousands of people are there to point fingers.

We "print" people can write a correction the next day or following week without too much public embarrassment.

All in all, I still prefer the print world over the televised one, even though TV is much more lucrative. I never aspired to be the next Bill Bonds or Don Shane any how.

But I have to admit that $1 million a year to read a teleprompter and make silly jokes is quite tempting. I've got the silly joke part down cold, but I know better than to give up my day job.

Campfire girls let the boys in

One of the nation's leading organizations has changed its name to emphasize the organization's commitment to coeducational youth development and empowerment. Camp Fire, Inc., is now Camp Fire Boys and Girls, according to a vote of delegates attending the organization's biennial congress in Denver.

Camp Fire was founded in 1910 as the first nonsectarian organization for girls in the U.S., but the members of Camp Fire voted to include boys in the organization 18 years ago at the 1975 Camp Fire Congress. The organization's legal name, however, was not changed to reflect the coeducational focus. As a result, says Emerson Goodwin, director of communications for Camp Fire Boys and Girls, many people still believe that Camp Fire serves only girls and the organization is often incorrectly called "Camp Fire Girls." Today, boys account for 35 percent of Camp Fire's total membership of more than 700,000.

"Our organization is proud to be an inclusive organization serving boys and girls with progressive youth programming," said Margie Williams, executive director of the Camp Fire North Oakland Council. "It's important to include both sexes in positive activities that build self-esteem and promote the understanding of individual differences. One of Camp Fire's goals is to provide opportunities for children and youth to be part of groups where males and females share equal responsibility for decision-making."

Camp Fire was founded by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick. Now based in Kansas City, Mo., Camp Fire currently serves 700,000 youth from kindergarten through high school with its clubs, camping and environmental programs, self-reliance courses, child care and youth leadership opportunities. Nationally, Camp Fire has been ranked as one of the top youth development agencies in Parenting and Money.

For more information about Camp Fire programs and volunteer opportunities, call the North Oakland Council at 377-2888.

On-the-Job Training money is available through the Clarkston Career Center, a department of the Clarkston Community Education Center.

The money, which is available through the Federal Job Training Partnership Act, can be used to offset the cost of training new employees up to 50 percent.

With On-The-Job Training an employee may work 30 or more hours per week at a wage determined by the employer. During the training period the employer is reimbursed for 50 percent of the cost of extraneous training expenses. The money

Excuses

Democrats won mayoral elections, leaving Republicans with a 55-52 advantage in the House until special elections are held.

At a recent meeting with constituents, a Republican member of the House made mention of the new Republican majority, saying, "Now we can get to cost-containment issues" in education. I look forward to that. Forgive me, though, for being skeptical. Only a small handful of Republicans opposed the final tax-increase bill which passed the House. As four of them said in a joint statement, "Lansing is saying to the people: accept one set of taxes or we will force you to accept another set of taxes -- without substantial school reform, without cost containment, and without budget cuts in all areas of state government . . ." Quoting Shakespeare, they noted, "There's small choice in rotten apples."

During negotiations, you couldn't tell the difference between the Democrats and the Republicans in the House leadership. The Republican leaders pushed House conservatives aside and dealt directly with the Democrats. Nevertheless, I was pleased to hear a House Republican say, "Now we can get to cost-containment issues," even though he was not among the handful who opposed the "rotten apples" legislation, because now Republicans have the clear majority and nobody else to blame.

I think the Michigan businessman who is tired of excuses spoke for many citizens when he wrote to the Republican leader -- "I hope you will take this opportunity to heed the words my dad often expressed to me, 'Boy, quit giving me excuses and give me a job well done.'"

School board hammers out new plan

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

After months of deliberation and public input, the Clarkston Board of Education unanimously approved a redistricting plan Monday night.

The plan represented a slightly revamped version of the original, which drew opposition from nearly 200 parents Jan. 12. The most vocal contingent belonged to parents of Bailey Lake and Pine Knob elementary students, who felt the administration's recommended plan didn't alleviate overcrowding sufficiently at their buildings.

The new plan, which was hammered out in a special, eight-hour session on Saturday, consisted of three major changes. They included:

■ Adding parcels east of Perry Lake Road between I-75 and Clarkston roads (Chapel View - Snowapple) and properties on either side of I-75 between Waldon and Clarkston roads (Walters-Flemings Lake) to the Pine Knob Elementary attendance area. These parcels were listed among Bailey Lake Elementary's new boundaries in the previous proposal and are currently in the Pine Knob attendance area.

■ Re-assigning parcels bounded by I-75, Waldon Road and Clintonville Road to the Pine Knob attendance area. These areas are currently in the North Sashabaw Elementary jurisdiction, but were assigned to Bailey Lake in the previous redistricting plan.

■ The new elementary -- Springfield Plains -- now includes the Maceday Lake parcels. Under the previous proposal, this area was slated for the Pine Knob attendance area, which presently serves as its designated school.

By re-shuffling these areas and correcting a computer glitch that gave the district an erroneous overage of 130 students, school officials were able to reduce the number of students projected to attend Bailey Lake by roughly 175 for the 1994-95 school year. New school projections now have about 525 attending Bailey Lake next year, compared to December's headcount of 708. The previous administration plan would have seen a projected 627 attend the school.

This new, approved map should also alleviate crowding by nearly 130 at Pine Knob, when comparing present figures to projections under the new plan. Andersonville is also expected to go from 415 to 340 in 1994-95, while Clarkston Elementary drops to a projected 471 from December's tally of 534. North Sashabaw also expects to see a drop from its latest count of 519 to a projected student population of 441 next year.

Under the new plan, Sashabaw Plains will house around 579 students, compared to the 499 proposed under the administrations now defunct Jan. 13 concept.

Mike LaBay, deputy superintendent of instruction, who headed the realignment effort, said the new school should be able to handle the extra students. However, he's uncertain if specialized classrooms for music, science and computers will temporarily be used for regular classes.

Dr. Devereaux (Springfield Plains principal) and I will heavily examine the space question, but, right now, we're not sure if or where we'll open another two to three rooms, he said. We would like to open with three classes per grade level, but we ultimately may have to go with a four class per grade format in some cases.

LaBay said areas like the gymnasium and cafeteria could also be used to handle a possible influx of students.

Prior to the board's vote, Trustee Sheila Hughes voiced her support for the plan, even though she knew its boundaries still angered some parents.

I know it's not a perfect plan, but we've tried the best we can at moving the least amount of students at a time, she said.

Despite the passage of the new boundaries, school officials say that students may still remain in their respective schools, especially those entering the fifth grade next fall. Superintendent Gary Haner said such a stay is possible as long as there is ample space available in the requested building. These parental requests must be made by filling out an open enrollment application available in the front office of all school buildings.

Looking back at the plan, LaBay said it was good compromise for everyone.

It's the best plan of the school board, administration and public to date, he said. I think it'll serve the purpose for the next three years.

MSU reviews The Clarkston News and Reminder

'Reminder reminds readers to turn to the News'

Ed Wendover, publisher of the (Plymouth-Canton) Community Crier, taught Michigan State's Journalism Review class "Media Criticism" the fall of 1992.

As part of the course, journalism seniors and graduate students critiqued 74 Michigan newspapers and wrote reviews. Following are excerpts from their review of The Clarkston News and Clarkston Reminder.

By Helene St. James, Jeff Parrott, Gisgile Davila, Michelle Robinson, Karen Twigg.

With 63 years of experience under its belt, the Clarkston News is as familiar to its readers as the town's mill pond.

In contrast, The Clarkston Reminder - a 15-year-old new kid on the block - has yet to define itself as well as its competitor.

Although both papers focus their attention on community news, they greatly differ in their approach. From photos to layout, the Clarkston News has an edge over the less-than-effective Reminder.

Front Page:

The Clarkston News, on the other hand, has learned the art of tasteful layout.

Photos:

Photos throughout the Clarkston Reminder generally appear posed and could use more innovation.

News:

Only stories on the Clarkston Reminder's front page carry a byline, leading to a question of credibility.

The Clarkston News' Millstream is an even more in-depth look at community events.

Opinions:

The News has a large editorial section including plenty of letters to the editor. Additionally, several writers have feature opinion columns. The News states it wants to give an inside look at the stories the reporters cover, hence the staff editorials, while the Reminder only has opinion columns by publisher Joe Kent.

Sports:

The News does a solid job of covering local sports, including plenty of half-page photos.

A glaring deficiency in the Reminder is the virtually complete absence of sports coverage.

Conclusion:

The Reminder should remind people to turn to the News for best coverage of local news and sports. While the Reminder does offer certain sections the News doesn't, such as the "sight and sound" entertainment section, this does not atone for its other shortcomings.

What to know

So you want to start your own business

You need more than a good idea to launch a small business. To join the ranks of successful entrepreneurs, the Michigan Association of CPAs says you need a good business plan, marketing savvy and sufficient capital, as well as a lot of self-discipline and energy.

Find your niche

With the right skills, in the right business, in the right location, you can be successful in hundreds of businesses. However, you should make sure the business you select suits your personality, interests and experience. If you don't enjoy what you're doing on a day-to-day basis, it will be difficult to put in the time and energy necessary for your business to succeed.

Once you come up with a list of businesses you are qualified and interested in operating, consider the market's need for your services as well as the competition you may face. If you're thinking about opening a dry cleaning business, for example, but there are already three dry cleaners in your chosen locale, you'll have little chance of being successful. On the other hand, if you're thinking about opening a small print shop, even if there are no others in the area, you'll need to determine whether there are enough businesses and organizations that need and can afford your services.

Select a location

Once you've identified your niche, carefully research the best site for your new business. The primary consideration in locating your business should be potential customer traffic. A business that may thrive in a shopping mall may flounder in a suburban main-street location, or vice-versa.

Have a plan

A business plan can help you organize your thoughts and observations, point out potential problems that require more thought and analysis, and guide you through a maze of business decisions. Your plan should include a detailed description of the business, an inventory of your skills, an explanation of your market, information about your competition, management policies, marketing and distribution strategies, and financial information.

Raise cash

Raising the capital you need to get your business up and running is often the most difficult and frustrating step. For starters, banks seldom lend anyone start-up capital for a new business. The few that do usually expect you to raise at least 50 percent of the money you need on your own. In fact, most potential lenders will expect you to put some of your own money on the line.

If you don't have enough savings, you may have to cash in some of your investments, borrow against the cash value of your life insurance policy, take out a home-equity loan, or even refinance your mortgage to obtain the equity in your home.

You may also need to turn to family and friends for capital. You can either borrow the money or offer these people a stake in your business. Also, consider seeking out private investors - businesspeople who have the financial resources to assist you and perhaps a personal interest in the nature of your business.

If you still can't raise enough money on your own and your loan requests have been turned down by banks, you may be able to obtain funds from the Economic Development Authority in your state. You can also look to the Small Business Administration for help.

Other considerations

Even after you obtain the financing you need, CPAs say you'll be faced with a host of other decisions - such as how to structure the business, obtain adequate insurance coverage, secure appropriate licenses, set fees for your products and services, and establish bookkeeping and accounting systems. Advice from professionals, such as CPAs and attorneys, will help you launch and nurture a thriving business venture.

Go figure . . .

Sub-zero temperatures and new snow made driving hazardous Monday.

According to Oakland County Sheriff's Department reports, there were 24 snow related incidents in 24 hours. These incidents included accidents, road run offs and road hazards. There were no major accidents.

The majority of the problems were on I-75 near M-15 and happened from 7 a.m. until noon.

Clarkston slays Dragons, wins tournament

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

The Clarkston wrestling team pushed its GOAL record to 2-0 by thrashing Lake Orion, 47-8, last Thursday.

Two days later, they took first-place honors at the Lansing Sexton Invitational, which featured three Class A teams ranked in the state's Top 10.

Enroute to winning the 12-team tournament, the Wolves had 10 of its wrestlers earn medals. They included: Corey Grant (130 pounds), first; P.J. Vandermeer (160), first; Joe DeGain (189), first; Ryan Mick (103), second; Jesse Laycock (119), third; Chad Auten (125), third; Armin Michelson (152), third; Bob Lipinski (heavyweight), third; Brett Rebb (171), fourth; and Jack Dyer (145), fourth.

Coach Mike DeGain said his team definitely came through in Lansing, considering the competition included second ranked South Lyon and fourth ranked Owosso.

"I'm really happy with the way everyone wrestled," he said. "Whenever you get 10 guys to medal, you've got a good chance at winning the tournament."

A number of junior varsity wrestlers also picked up medals in Lansing at Sexton's JV tournament. They included: Jay Richardson (130), first; Scott Labrie (145), first; Dave Ziemann (103), first; Scott Hund (140), second; Gordie Golec (171), third; and Mark Runkle (152), fourth.

Against Lake Orion, the Wolves lost only two matches all night, while recording five pins. Earning wins for Clarkston were Lipinsky, Mick, Jason Tiefenbach, Laycock, Grant, Joe Roy, Jeremy Lafferty, Dyer, Michelson, Vandermeer and DeGain.

Coach DeGain said his team's performance against the Dragons was definitely a treat.

"Everything went about as good as you could expect in that sort of meet," he said. "The only thing possibly better would have been a shutout.

"Seriously, the final score wasn't indicative of how close some of those matches really were," DeGain added. "Our kids had to work for their wins." Clarkston hosts Brandon Jan. 20.

LAKE ORION coaches had to congratulate a lot of victorious Wolves last week.

Ski teams begin year with opposite results

BY CURT MCALLISTER
Clarkston News Associate Editor

With three meets already under their belts, it's evident that Clarkston's two ski teams are going in opposite directions.

The boys' team presently sits atop the Pine Knob Division standings with a record of 3-0, while the girls' have struggled to a 1-2 start.

"I've been very pleased with the way the boys have performed so far," said CHS ski coach Judy Roeser. "There have been a couple of surprise meets so far like the win over Cranbrook-Kingswood. I felt they kind of self-destructed against us because they're a very good team, who doesn't make a habit of disqualifying very much. We were just there at the right time."

In regards to the girls' team, Roeser said their slow start has been compounded by some pretty tough competition.

"Rochester Adams and Cranbrook both went to the state finals last year, and with who they have returning, we knew they'd be tough," the coach said. "Losing to them was no great shock, but we've got a couple of skiers who've gotten off to unusually slow starts. This team has the capability of rebounding, but we've got a lot of work to do first."

The boys' squad started the season by tying for first at the Giant Slalom Tournament Jan. 4. The Wolves and Cranbrook both scored 34 points, topping the other three competitors in the

"A" pool.

Sophomore Paul Rumph took fifth place overall with a two-run combined time of 39.98 seconds. Seniors Mike Kozlowski and Dave Hartke rounded out the top-10 finishers for Clarkston by taking seventh and tenth places respectively.

On Jan. 11, the Wolves opened the dual meet season with a 17-19 win over Rochester. Clarkston was paced by Kozlowski's first-place time of 39.87 seconds. Hartke took third (41.98) and Rumph finished in fifth place (43.79).

The next day, the Wolves triumphed over Cranbrook 10-30. Kozlowski again paced CHS by taking first at 40.10. Hartke took second, while Brian Bovee finished in third place. Rumph and Eric Bauer also chipped in by taking fourth and sixth places respectively.

On Jan. 13, the Wolves nipped Adams 16-22. Hartke took first with a time of 45.63 seconds. Other top-10 finishes included: Theron Shaw, fifth; Bovee, sixth; and Bauer, seventh.

Following a fourth-place finish at the season opening Giant Slalom Tournament, the CHS girls' team defeated Rochester 15-21 on Jan. 11. Senior Carrie Millen took top honors with a combined time of 48.76 seconds. Teammate Lisorn Hutchinson took third place (50.11), while Kristi Stuetzer came in fourth (52.05).

The following day, the Wolves fell to Cranbrook 10-31. Top-10 finishes were turned in by Millen (sixth), Hutchinson (seventh), Stuetzer (eighth) and Andrea Vasald (tenth).

Clarkston lost by an identical score to Rochester Adams the next day. Hutchinson's sixth-place time of 56.72 seconds provided CHS with its highest individual score. She was followed by teammates Vasald (seventh) and Heather Unsworth (eighth) in the standings.

Both teams will host Detroit Country Day on Jan. 25.

MIKE KOZLOWSKI takes a pole in Clarkston's meet against Rochester Adams last Thursday.

Shooting for two

JASON FRACK, a member of the Clarkston High freshmen basketball team, launches a shot against Lake Orion Jan. 7. The Wolves beat the Dragons 47-43 that evening. CHS is 2-4 this season.

Hoopsters top Mott

The Clarkston varsity basketball team recorded its fourth-straight victory with a 69-50 win over Waterford Mott Friday night.

The Wolves held a slight lead of 12-9 after the first quarter, before exploding for 22 points in the second period against the Corsairs. However, Mott refused to wilt by tossing in 17 points of their own.

Holding a 12-point halftime lead, CHS put the game out of reach by outscoring their guests 20-10 in the third stanza. This win raised the Wolves' conference record to 2-0, 6-2 overall.

Mott fell to 1-1 in the GOAL, 4-4. Offensively, Clarkston was paced by Rick Vollmar with 18 points, with Tim Wasilk pumping in 16. Teammates Jeremy Fife and Rusty Mitcham also chipped in with 12 and 9 points respectively.

This win streak almost came to an abrupt end against Saginaw Jan. 11, as the Wolves found themselves down 27-15 at the half. However, CHS outscored their guests 18-6 in the third quarter to even the score at 33-33.

A topsy-turvy fourth quarter resulted in a few lead changes, with the Trojans holding a two-point advantage with less than 10 seconds to go in the contest. Vollmar came up big by hitting a hook shot with two seconds left on the clock and drawing the foul.

He dropped the free throw, winning the game for Clarkston, 44-43.

Vollmar scored a game-high 18 points in the victory. He was the only player for Clarkston to score in double figures.

Clarkston visits Waterford Kettering this Friday, Jan. 21.

Spikers lose opener

The Clarkston varsity volleyball team opened its defense of the GOAL championship last week by being unceremoniously dumped by Lake Orion.

CHS lost 15-3, 15-5.

Coach Gordie Richardson said his team lost to a superior squad Jan. 12.

"We were obviously beaten that night by a much better team," Richardson said. "There wasn't a whole lot they didn't do wrong, primarily because we didn't give them any difficulties."

"We just went in unprepared and were never able to get on a roll," he added. "They were in control of the match from the start."

Statistically, Clarkston was paced by Andrea Slavin who was 11-for-12 attacking with one kill. Carey Haven chipped in with two kills of her own. Serving-wise, Megan Jones was 4-for-4 with one ace and Nickie Winn recorded three assists.

Clarkston travels to Grand Blanc this Saturday, Jan. 22, for the Bobcat Invitational.

AAU team wins trophy

In its first ever tournament, a local Clarkston AAU team brought home a second-place trophy from a competition held at the University of Michigan-Dearborn this past weekend.

The "Clarkston Huskies," consisting of local middle school girls, advanced to the finals after winning the first four games of this round-robin tournament. They eventually lost to a Detroit-area team in an overtime thriller. This was the second overtime game the Huskies were involved in at this three-day tournament. The first contest was a divisional win over the Motor City Cobras, who finished second in the 1993 AAU state finals.

The Huskies' roster includes: Cathy Eby, Becky Neal, Aimee Giroux, Kristy Phippen, Amy Vaughn, Ashley Perna, Kathy Kopec, Corinne McIntyre, Stephanie Jackson and Debbie Reamer.

The team is coached by Tammy Pugh, with Dave Muczynski acting as organizer.

School News

Board OK's new language at CHS

Clarkston High School can add Japanese to their language department next year, as soon as they find a corporate sponsor.

That was the decree of the Clarkston school board Jan. 12, as it unanimously granted conceptual approval to the new language proposal.

The proposed program would be broadcast via satellite from the University of Kansas for the first two years, said David Reschke, assistant superintendent of curriculum and staff development. After this time, an instructor, who's presently being trained for the position, would teach at CHS.

Presently, the high school offers Spanish and French.

Reschke estimates that the Japanese program will cost the district about $10,000 per year in the way of satellite hook-up fees and class materials. He's hoping that CHS can land a corporate sponsor or a state grant to help defray the costs of this 12-pupil course.

The school board said it would reconsider the proposal after a sponsor or grant money had been secured.

Two administrators announce retirement

Two long-time Clarkston Schools administrators have announced that they'll retire from the district this June.

The impending retirements of Doug Pierson and Bob Brumback were announced by Superintendent Gary Haner at the Jan. 12 school board meeting. The duo will be among several other district employees who'll be lauded at the district's retirement dinner this spring.

Pierson has served as assistant principal at the Oakland Technical Center-Northwest since 1984. He began with the district as a teacher in 1966 and also served as assistant principal at Clarkston Junior High for five years.

Brumback has served as director of special education since 1972. He joined Clarkston Schools in 1967 as a social worker.

Two principals to swap schools in fall

Two elementary school principals will have to adjust to new surroundings next fall.

William Potvin, principal at Pine Knob, and Bailey Lake Principal Doris Mousseau will be switching schools. Potvin will be going to Andersonville Elementary, filling the vacancy of Sharon Devereaux who's transferring to the new elementary school. Mousseau, in turn, has been re-assigned to Pine Knob Elementary.

According to Superintendent Gary Haner, the vacancy at Bailey Lake Elementary has been posted.

Haner said the switching of principals is part of a plan that began six years ago when he took over as superintendent. This plan calls for the random transfer of elementary principals every five to eight years so to provide each person with a "fresh" environment.

It is easy to love when we feel that we are worthy of love, impossible otherwise.

-Coventry Patmore

Clarkston High gets new phys. ed. course

Come next fall, students at Clarkston High School will have the opportunity to sign up for a new type of physical education course.

The class "Sports Technology" will give pupils a chance to delve into the study of particular sports like football, volleyball, baseball and softball. Its addition to the curriculum was unanimously approved by the Clarkston school board Jan. 12.

This elective class will be offered to students who've already completed two years of study in the physical education department.

"Sports Technology" concentrates on the study of sports strategy as well as the necessary conditioning, muscle development and agilities need to perform. It will be offered as a one-half credit course.

According to Dave Reschke, assistant superintendent of curriculum and staff development, this class will be offered to all students and not just interscholastic athletes. He foresees the class as being very popular at CHS.

Financially, the class shouldn't cost the district any additional money, Reschke said, because it will be taught by existing staff members.

The first anesthetic, ether gas, was discovered by two Americans—Crawford Long and William T.G. Morton—in 1840.

"ASK RON"

QUESTION: When is the best time to buy a home - when interest rates are going up or coming down?

ANSWER: The best time to buy is when you have to and want to buy. The reason is that home PRICES work in tandem with interest rates. They tend to neutralize each other's directions. When interest rates go up, home prices tend to level off. When interest rates go down, demand increases, and prices inevitably increase.

If there is one thing that most experts CANNOT predict, it is where interest rates will be a year from now. If you try to wait and hedge, you may be losing out on a good investment.

Volunteers sought to improve foster care

In an effort to improve children's foster care programs throughout the state the Foster Care Review Board program was established in 1984.

Volunteers are needed to serve on the Oakland County Foster Care Review Board.

The group meets the third Tuesday of each month to review a representative sample of cases of children who are placed in foster care as the result of abuse or neglect.

The purpose of the review is to determine if efforts are being made to establish and carry out plans for a permanent placement of the child in a timely manner.

Board members will be selected to reflect a cross-section of the population. Volunteers must live in Oakland County and can not work for the Department of Social Services, Juvenile Court, or a child placement agency. Minorities are encouraged to apply. Volunteers will be expected to meet one day a month in Oakland county and attend an initial two-day training program in Lansing in March 1994. The expenses for attending the monthly reviews and training sessions are reimbursed.

If you are interested in volunteering write the Michigan Foster Care Review Board Program, 1000 Long Boulevard, Suite 3, Lansing 48911 or call (517) 334-6403.

The deadline for accepting applications is Jan. 31.

43 N. Main will soon look like new.

THE SAGGING front porch will receive a lift once the Olafsson's begin work on the exterior.

Lead glass windows were removed but will be restored and replaced.

Facelift for 43 N. Main

Work began on what was once known as the Lambert house,

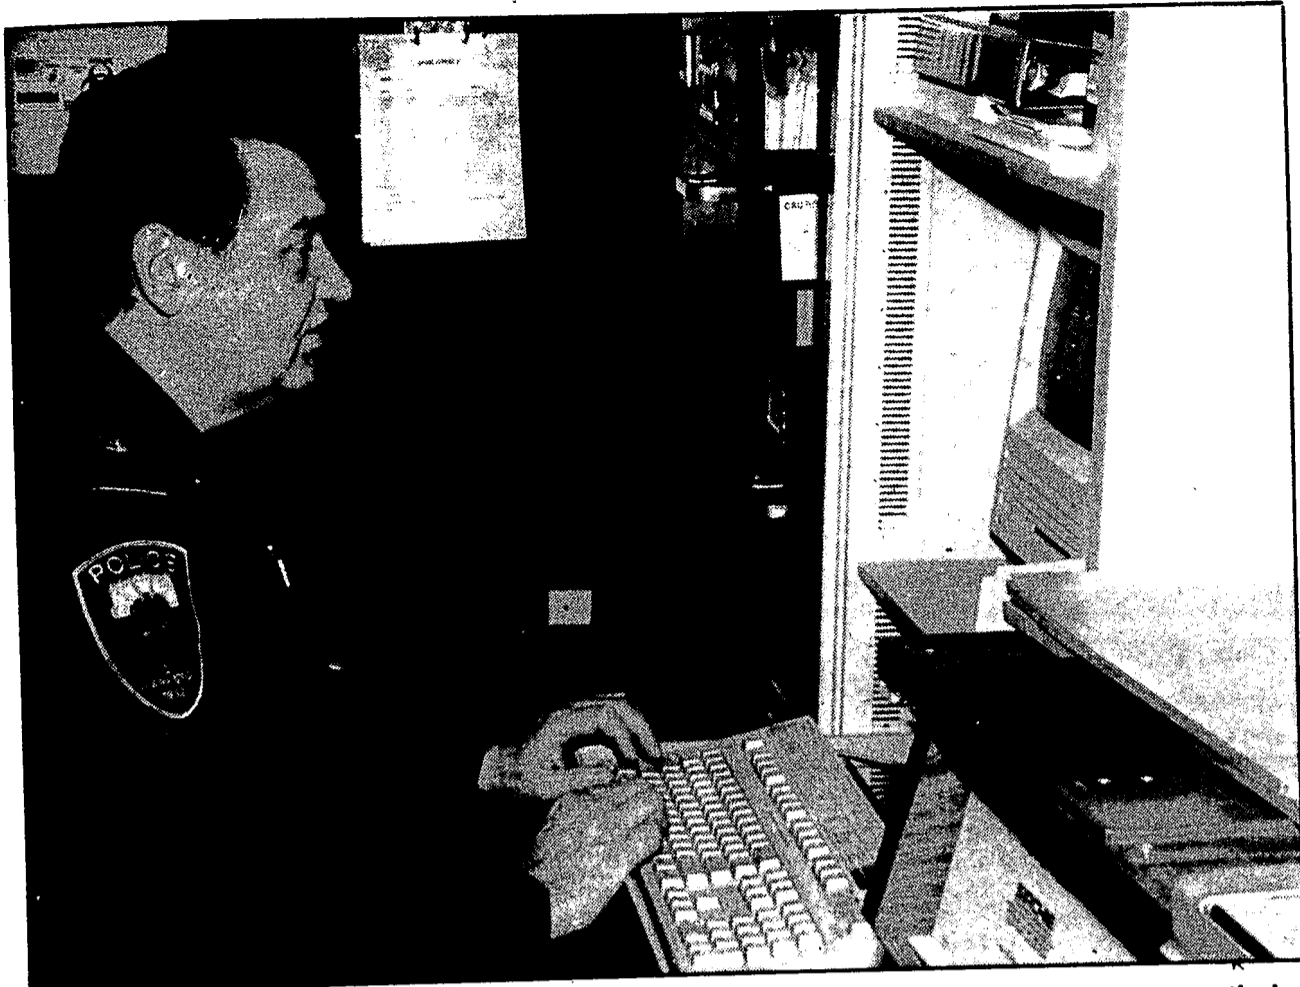

Bud and Glenida Olafsson bought the house last fall. They intend to bring "light and life" back in to the nineteenth century home when they move in Jan. 20 with their three children, Jason, Heidi and Andrew. They have stripped wallpaper, knocked down old plaster, replaced dry wall.

They are building a three car garage and an addition which will be the the family room and kitchen.

Glenida said that they will not be putting any wallpaper up soon and will be satisfied with a fresh coat of paint. They intend to keep the exterior as it is, with the exception of paint.

BY JAN. 20, a fire could be burning in the fireplace in the living room of the old Lambert house.

CHIEF Robert DeVore works on his first crime prevention newsletter in which he offers tips on what to do when residents leave their homes for extended periods of time.

Crime prevention Is your house safe?

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT
Clarkston News Special Writer

We all like to think our homes are secure. If leaving for a weekend ski trip or a month somewhere hot, we pack our bags, lock our doors, and we're off. But as we turn the key in our doors, have we considered how burglar proof our homes are?

For many who live in this community, the answer is no.

And Clarkston Police Chief Robert DeVore would like the residents to change their thinking about home security.

The police department now offers residents a home security survey free of charge. If called, an officer or DeVore will meet with the resident and inspect the home.

"We will go through a home and look it over. If needed, we can suggest that the homeowner consider changes for security," DeVore said.

Doors and windows will be inspected for types of locks or latches. Garages also will be considered for security upgrades.

"In older homes, I would guess that 85 to 90 percent of homes do not have adequate dead bolts," DeVore said. "They have little one half inch dead bolts and put a key in the knob — they have to realize that the door is not secured. It's a latch not a lock."

The type of locking system is important; however, size should not be the only consideration when looking at dead bolts to secure a door.

DeVore emphasizes the importance of how a lock is installed. He said 80 percent of home burglaries begin by kicking in a door. A door may lock by a key or an inadequately installed dead bolt.

"They think by having a big heavy oak door and a big dead bolt their home is secure," DeVore said. "But I have seen the site after a burglary. The big door is fine. The dead bolt is still attached to the door yet the casing is in splinters."

He suggests that dead bolts be installed with longer screws into the first stud 2 by 4 near the door instead of the thin pine casing surrounding the door. That way, the strength of the lock is increased.

There are also other ways to increase the security around homes.

Windows can be secured by nailing or screwing the top window to the bottom.

"There are many types of lock kits for windows out there that are inexpensive and easy to install," DeVore said. "One thing I often suggest is to put plants or knickknacks on window sills as a cheap alarm system."

For those who intend to spend months away, DeVore suggests making arrangements with police and neighbors to periodically check the home.

Those who want police to make regular inspections on their homes will be asked to fill out a questionnaire.

It will tell police whether timers are used on lights, if mail will be collected or stopped, if anyone has access to the driveway. It will also list telephone numbers of neighbors and relatives who can be reached in case of an emergency.

Officers will walk around the home every second or third day and drive by daily.

"Last year on one of our walks we discovered an outdoor gas leak and we reported it immediately," DeVore said.

Whatever type of security system a resident chooses, DeVore said it should be one that makes it inconvenient for a burglar to break into a home.

"These guys don't have Ph.D.s," he said. "It's easier to prevent than to try and solve a break in later."

DeVore would like to share his many years of experience with Clarkston residents. A quarterly crime prevention newsletter will go out with the February water and sewer bills.

As the seasons change, so will the topics. He said he intends to cover in upcoming newsletters tips about street safety, auto theft and self defense.

"We don't want to frighten anybody, we just want to prevent crime," he said.

Over 80 years of memories, stories

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Two hills north of the corner of Clarkston and Sashabaw roads there used to be two buildings on two farms. Ted Cleveland was born in the building on the left.

Mr. Cleveland, 88, of Waterford Township was born to Everst and Ella (Horn) Cleveland in April 1905, the sixth of their seven children. He remembers what life used to be like during those early days of this century.

When he was almost two the family moved to a 70 acre farm on Waldon Road. Their farm buildings were located at the entrance to the former Hamburger Mansion.

His first school was on Pine Knob and Maybee roads, where Fire Station 3 now stands. "At that time we didn't have pre-school. I think I was 7 years old when I started school," he said.

The one room school house was a place of fun for Mr. Cleveland. He learned the "Three Rs" and played childhood games of Ring Around the Rosey, Fox and Goose and ball games.

Of course, he also had chores to do at home. "All my life I've had chores. I wasn't exempt because I was a kid. Dad had chores for all of us to do," he said with a laugh.

His earlier chores included milking the family cow, Pat, emptying the slop pail from under the sink and filling the wood box.

Mr. Cleveland said his family had no electricity, indoor plumbing, telephone, radio or television when he was young. He said his brothers and sisters had a buddy system for night use of the outhouse so no one had to be in the dark alone.

The Cleveland children started their days early — they had a 1 3/4 mile walk to school. He said they got rides if there was a lot of snow.

Neighbors used to hand shovel the roads if there was a blizzard, and they used horses for transportation during the winter.

Mr. Cleveland's parents bought their first car in 1916, but couldn't use it after the snow fell. "We always figured we'd lay up the car at Thanksgiving," he said.

During the cold winter months the Clevlands played games like dominos, Flinch, hide-and-go-seek, and hide the thimble to pass the time. In the summertime, the family broke out the croquet set.

"We entertained ourselves really well," he said.

He said he remembers ice cream socials at Grant Beardsley's home during the summer. At Christmas time children put on a play in the church that now houses Lighthouse North.

Parents brought gifts for their children and placed them on the tree. Mr. Cleveland's uncle played Santa Claus and after the performance he passed the gifts around.

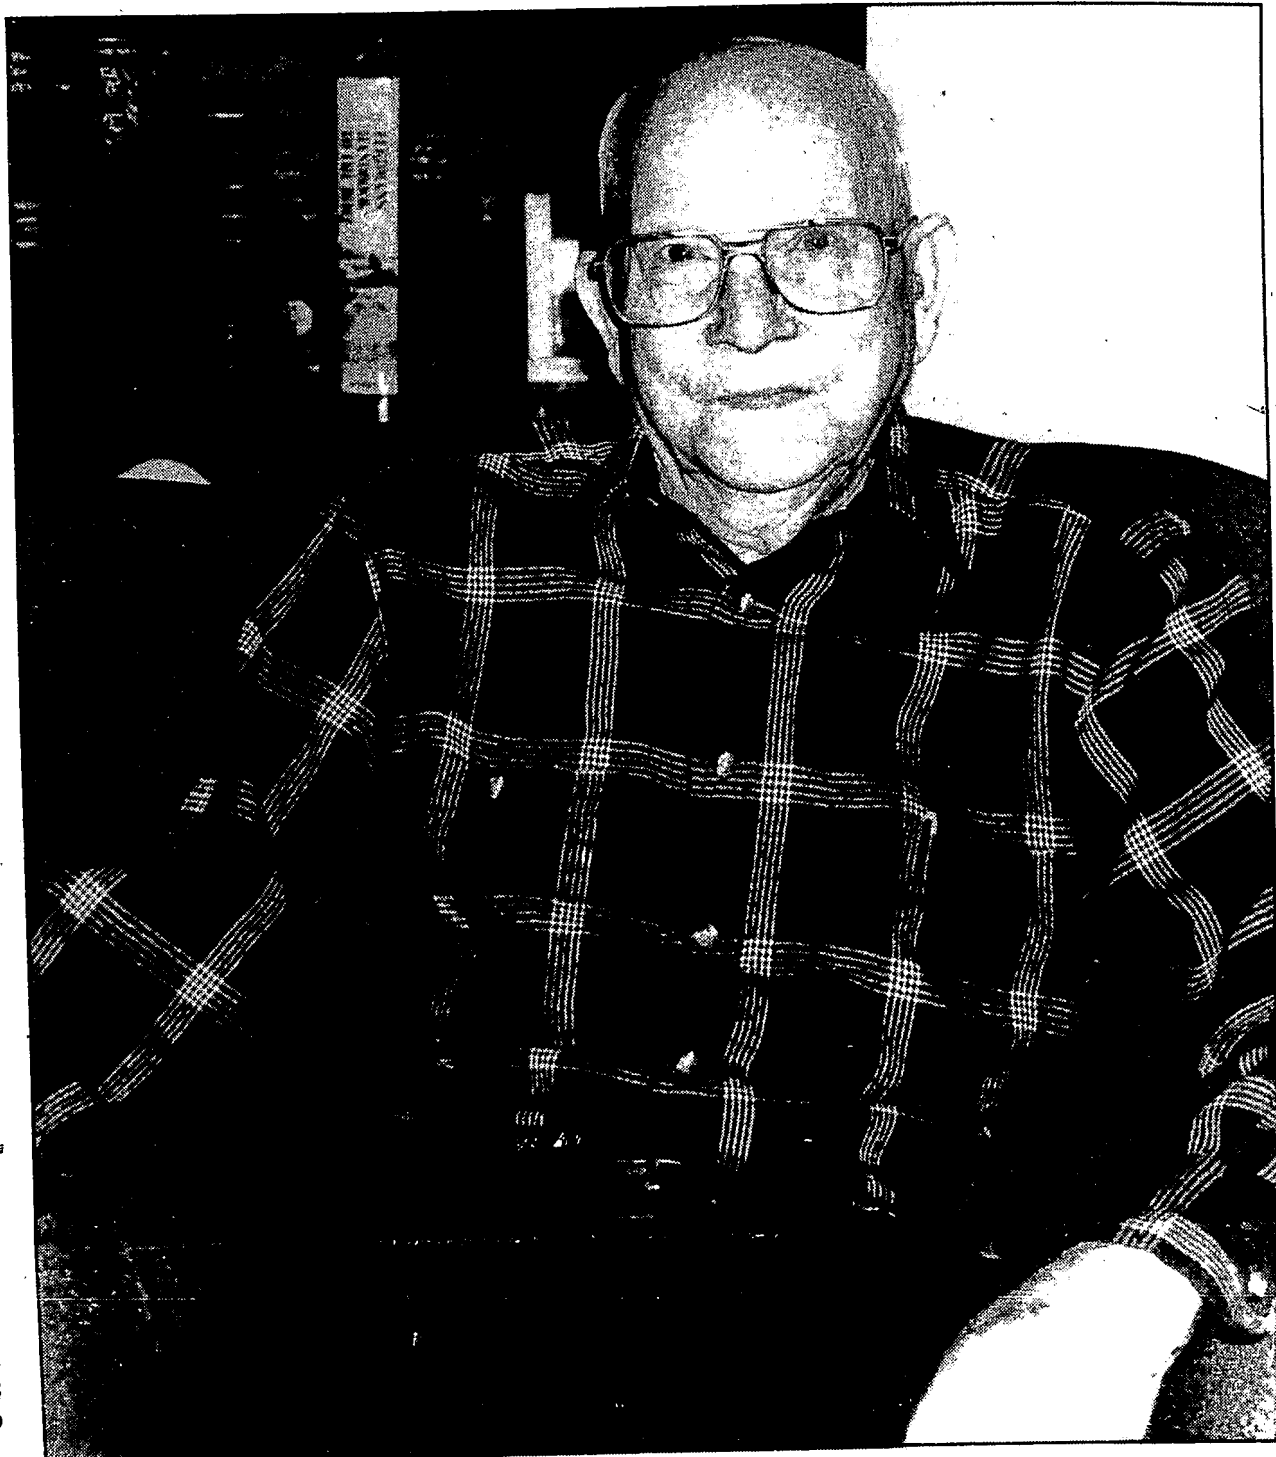

"That used to be a great thing for the kids," he said.

Around 1916, the family moved into Mr. Cleveland's grandmother's home at "Clarkston Station" in present day Springfield Township.

Then, in 1918 they moved to Millersburg in Presque Isle County in northern Michigan.

The Clevlands bought 240 acres and began clearing the woods. "I enjoyed it," he said enthusiastically.

In order to move the household, family belongings (including two horses and a wagon) where put into a rented boxcar. Mr. Cleveland said they lost their Collie dog on the way when their train was bumped by another train. The car door was jarred open and the dog got out.

It took two or three days by train to get to their destination — about 6 miles south of Onaway.

They cleared three acres by hand the first year, and then built a seven room home for the family. Mr. Cleveland's father and uncle were carpenters and did most of the work themselves.

The area they lived in was mostly woods and

"All my life I've had chores. I wasn't exempt because I was a kid. Dad had chores for all of us to do."

Ted Cleveland

swamps.

"I like it up there. I like the wilderness of it," said Mr. Cleveland.

There were about 10 homes in the Rainy Lake Settlement where the family lived. "It was just like family," he said.

The community had Thanksgiving dinner together each year while he was growing up. After dinner the men would go home to do chores and then return for a square dance that lasted till dawn.

Mr. Cleveland helped build about one-third of the roads in that area. The roads were "corduroy," when the streets were dirt lanes and hitching posts lined downtown Clarkston.

meaning fence posts were laid across the roads and dirt was piled on top so horses wouldn't get stuck in the mud.

He said families worked off part of their tax bills by working on the roads for the township.

Mr. Cleveland married Margaret, a schoolmate and neighbor on Nov. 24, 1927. They have two daughters, Helen and Lillian, eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Margaret died in 1949.

In August 1956 he married again to Ethel, who passed away in 1983.

From 1927 until 1941 Mr. Cleveland farmed his father's, his own and other's land. He sheared sheep for extra money, hauled timber during the winter and became a teamster at the biggest dairy in the area.

He said he liked to hunt deer and jackrabbit, and fish. "We didn't let it interfere with farm work, but when the time was available it was a good sport," he said.

In 1941 the young Cleveland family moved back to this area. He worked for General Motors from 1941 until he retired in 1965. He worked in the pressed metal plant and did spot welding. During World War II his department made tank parts.

After retirement Mr. Cleveland and his wife Ethel raised a large garden. He said they would harvest it and give produce to relatives and friends. He kept busy mowing the yard of his sister and the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church where he is a member.

Mr. Cleveland still lives on his own and is able to drive. He had triple by-pass surgery in October and is taking it easy right now while he heals.

Two sided research

BY VIRGINIA BLOCK

"There are two sides to everything," today applies to genealogy, where the family history is deemed complete, yet in many instances, only one line (paternal or maternal) is researched.

Often, in speaking with someone, we find that a contact with a distant relative brings forth a "family history that's been done." In many cases, one collateral line is all that has been sent to our friend, and because it includes their family at some point, is considered complete. Not so!

One always begins a family group sheet by starting with themselves.

In listing their parents, immediately the process divides "lines" with concentration being centered on either

"Mom or Dad," but seldom do we find anyone completing both sides simultaneously.

Much of the searching has been reduced by use of "computer genie" methods. We personally miss the joy of visiting libraries, the meeting of old friends, and simply making a discovery that cinches our "connection." (Some folks insist on saying "documentation.")

Plans for the 1994 International Year of the Family celebration by different organizations offer a great opportunity to genealogical societies to zero in on "whole family" record gathering, and one of the best workshops offered will come on April 23 when the annual Grand Blanc stake of the L.D.S. church once again is offered.

("Stay tuned for details" applies especially for this workshop, with attendance limited to about 200 folks.) Surname index files found in most genealogical societies are keys to locating others working on lines that are mutually significant to "yours."

In the past week, over 1,000 index cards have been prepared for filing by the extraction of surnames found in just two family ancestral charts, by list in the co-lateral lines. These will be added to the currently existing file in the library of the Pontiac Area Historical and Genealogical Society library. It is anticipated that the completion of listing the hundreds of names found in over 350 applications for the Societies' Pioneers certificate will make this collection one of the largest in Oakland County.

This Pioneer Certificate is offered with documentation of your family's residence being located in Michigan prior to 1887, and will be offered as a special way to celebrate the International Year of the Family. At only $5 per certificate, it's a gift that will become an heirloom, proving the legacy you leave to your family! Let your family pride show to everyone. Applications available by requesting them from us, and enclosing an S.A.S.E.
Happy Hunting.

Ask the therapist

Newlywed
holiday blues

Stan
Garwood

Dear Mr. Garwood:

I am a newlywed, and we have just had the first big fight.

As the holidays approached, my husband and I tried to decide where to go. He announced that we were going to his family's house for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

My parents died when I was younger, and he said that having Christmas or Thanksgiving with aunts and uncles isn't as meaningful as having it with parents.

I think he is being mean and selfish, and I would like to spend at least one of the holidays with my family -- even if they aren't my parents. How can I change his mind so I can see my family for one of the holidays.

Blue Christmas

Dear Blue Christmas,

As customary for those newly married, a gradual, slow process of psychologically leaving home and your family develops. You and your husband have many ties with those who raised you. However, as time elapses, the marriage takes on a more central part in one's life while at the same time the old, family involvement slowly becomes diluted. This is accelerated with the arrival of children.

Since you and your husband find yourselves at this particular developmental stage, both understand the need to occasionally check in at home. This is especially true during the holidays, a time for family closeness. This closeness, rooted in positive family memories, requires re-energizing from time to time.

Therefore, it is imperative that the both of you spend time with your families, especially in your case. The prior death of your parents brings to the fore specific "grief issues." Holidays are notoriously tough for survivors of loss! I am sure I'm not telling you anything new.

Holidays have a way of reminding us of those who had gone before us together with the feelings of sadness, loss and frustration. This can be triggered by any tradition, song, event, date or the like. I would expect a certain closeness between you and your surrogate parents, aunt and uncle and an underlying need to rekindle this.

Surely, a compromise can be reached where a portion of the day spent with his parents and part with yours. Or perhaps, the eve can be spent with one family and the actual holiday with the other. You and your husband's ability to rectify this situation is important to your relationship and future problem solving.

For $4.75 a week, you can reach 42,500 people in over 18,500 homes every week with an advertising message on these pages.

We are not a Jack-of-all-trades. We can not guarantee you the absolute lowest price, as we will not sacrifice the quality products or workmanship that you deserve. But what we will guarantee is an honest and fair price with products and workmanship of the highest quality. We also do our own work. We don't get your job and sub-contract it out, or sell it. So if you are only looking for the cheapest way out, call someone else who claims they can beat any price. If you are looking for an honest and fair price, quality products and workmanship, dependability, and someone that will still be here after your job is completed, give us a call. Helping you make your home the one you've always dreamed of is what we do.

Up With People gets down

Students at Clarkston Elementary got a special treat Thursday when Up With People performed at the school.

"Its nice that we can bring such a professional group in for the kids," said principal Dr. Elaine Middlekauf.

Up With People is a group of young adults who commit one year to traveling and performing. They appeared courtesy of GMC Truck and Gail and Rice Productions. They are performing at the North American International Auto Show in Detroit.

After the show, the group spent the morning talking to third through fifth graders.

Dancing, singing and a little acrobatics entertained the troops Thursday at Clarkson Elementary.
