Hearing set on PRD

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE Clarkston News Staff Writer

A revised plan for 285.9 acres surrounding Morgan Lake will be the topic at a public hearing at the April 14 Independence Township Planning Commission meeting.

The Classic is located north of I-75 near Mount said Cecilia Yarber.

Rudy Lazano, who spoke for the petitioners, said the new plan has a reduced density and the PRD ordinance doesn't say the lots have to be bigger than 60 feet.

Steven Board, who cast the lone vote against the public hearing, told the developers, "I will not vote yes for property with 60-foot wide lots."

Thumbs up! Proposal A wins big

Michigan voters said yes to lower property taxes in exchange for a higher sales tax Tuesday.

By a wide margin, Proposal A was declared the winner before 11 p.m. last night. And local voters went along with their counterparts in the rest of Oakland, Macomb and Wayne Counties.

In Independence and Springfield townships, voters overwhelmingly supported Proposal A. In Independence Township, nearly 78 percent of the voters said yes. In Springfield, it was 75 percent.

Rep. Tom Middleton (R, Ortonville) could not be reached for comment Tuesday night. Governor Engler, speaking before TV cameras in Lansing, said, "Michigan is back... The era of high property taxes is over. That's one promise you can mark paid in full."

Proposal A will levy a school operating tax of six mills on homesteads in most school districts, including Clarkston. It will increase the sales tax to six cents on the dollar. Other changes include hikes in cigarette taxes and real-estate transfer taxes.

Zion Temple and will include condominiums, singlefamily homes and a public golf course if it is approved.

As a planned residential development, the township requires 20 percent open space and one unit per acre. The Classic will have 72 percent open space and .83 units per acre.

The developers plan community improvements which include paving Maybee Road from Mount Zion Temple to the Orion line and bringing water up Maybee from Mary Sue Street.

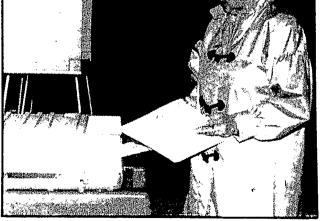

"I think the project has progressed in a positive manner. But we certainly have some details to work out," Dick Carlisle, township planner, told the board.

One of the problems the board was concerned with was 60-foot wide lots in a portion of the development. "It almost cheapens it with the lots so small," The petitioner later said that he may be willing to compromise the size of the lots.

The public hearing is scheduled at the Township Annex at 90 N. Main Street, Clarkston at 7:30 p.m. For more information, call the planning department at 625-8111 during regular office hours. In other action:

• The final site plan for Bridgewater Apartments was approved. The 48.478 acre parcel is on Maybee Road west of Sashabaw Road. Township Planner, Dick Carlisle said much of the original wetland encroachment has been eliminated and his concerns have been addressed.

• A public hearing was set for April 14 at 7:30 p.m. to consider the amendment to Zoning Ordinance #83 which deals with Research Office Districts. The planning department may be contacted for further information and copies of the proposed language.

Danny Gray sat quietly shackled in his chair while the adults in the court room decided his next move in the legal maze.

Gray, 15, is charged with the Jan. 29 attempted murder of his three-year-old cousin and could face life in prison if he is convicted. Police say the teen slit the toddler's throat with a 12-inch knife and then held his head under water in an attempt to drown him. The little boy has physically recovered.

The teen was sent to the Center of Forensic Psychiatry by the court to see if he is competent to stand trial and assist in his defense. Special Prosecutor Lisa Asadoorian told the court March 14 that, according to the center's report, Gray is indeed able to stand trail.

A preliminary exam date has been set for April 5 at 8:30 a.m. in front of Judge Gerald McNally. Gray is in jail unable to post bond.

Burn mark at cross

A possible attempted arson at St. Daniel Catholic Church on Holcomb Road was discovered March 7.

According to a report by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, a burn mark was found on the church roof at the base of the cross while a man was searching for a leak. The report stated flammable liquid had been poured at the spot, possibly a couple days before it was discovered.

Police investigated the incident and have no suspects.

City Ok's park surfacing

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT Clarkston News Staff Writer

The children of Clarkston and Independence Township may see a new play structure erected in Depot Park by the end of May.

But the refurbishing of the existing equipment and ordering new benches and free-standing play equipment might have to wait due to the reluctance of some of Clarkston City Council members to approve paying for the entire playground surface.

"I have a problem with the money," councilperson Karen Sanderson said. "I like to have all my ducks in a row."

The council voted unanimously to give the park committee $2,200 toward resurfacing where the new playground structure will be placed, but not for resurfacing the entire playground area.

Mayor Sharron Catallo and council members Steve Arkwright and Steve Secatch each said after they voted, "I wish it were more."

Depot Park Playground Committee cochair Jeanne Selander Miller presented the council Monday night with estimated costs of new equipment and surfacing and a proposed time line for the playground.

The committee has raised over $10,000 for the new equipment through Neighbor to Neighbor and business campaigns — enough to pay for the new structure. The committee was seeking a commitment from the council to pay for the surfacing, which the committee estimates could cost $6,000, Miller said.

"I see it as a maintenance issue," Miller said. "The surface of the city playground is much like the surface of the street which needs fixing or like the grass that needs mowing every week."

Last year an insurance liability agent inspected the park and found several pieces of equipment and the surface to be unsafe.

The surface required by the state is either pea gravel, wood chips specifically made for playgrounds, or sand.

The Park committee planned to use a combination of felt pads, a layer of pea gravel and then the special wood chips, which would meet state requirements.

The estimated final cost of the project is $21,000, with total equipment at $14,881 and resurfacing at $6,000.

Fund raising could bring in more, Miller said. In addition, the committee is waiting to hear from Oakland County officials on whether $5,000 of Community Development Block Grant money can be used for resurfacing.

The committee also received $430 from the Ruth Basinger Memorial Funds and asked the council to use rental fees collected from the Depot Park Gazebo for the playground.

With the council's approval of a portion of the money, the committee will begin to follow its proposed time line.

The play structure was ordered March 15 and will take 10 to 12 weeks for delivery. An engineering study should be conducted by April 1.The committee expects to have site approval from the council by April 11.

By May 1, existing equipment will be relocated or removed and repaired while excavating begins for resurfacing. By May 15, volunteers will begin to refurbish old equipment and lay footings in the playground area. They hope to install all equipment June 1.

But the quest for additional money has not stopped.

A wine tasting party and a white elephant sale will be held in April (the dates will be set next week at the committee's next meeting) to raise more money for other free-standing equipment, which includes picnic tables, waste receptacles and benches. "Not everything is for the children," Miller said. A call for volunteers has begun who are needed to install the equipment, refurbish the old and help with the resurfacing once the site is excavated. Those who want to volunteer may call city hall and leave a message at 625-1559 or call Miller at 620-2753.

Despite the council's decision, Miller felt optimistic that with more fund-raising efforts and a city council budget review, the committee will see the playground completed close to its estimated time line.

"This is not an insurmountable hurdle," she said. "The people have spoken and they want a nice playground."

Family sponsors scholarship

On June 18, the family and friends of the late Conrad J. Bruce will sponsor a memorial golf outing to raise money for two scholarships.

A 44-year-old Independence Township man was charged Friday with three counts of criminal sexual conduct (CSC) towards a female teen relative.

The man is charged with two counts of first degree CSC (rape) — a felony punishable with up to lifein prison. He also faces a charge of second degree CSC (touching) which is a felony punishable with up to 15 years in prison.

According to Detective Dirk Feneley of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, the crimes took place in May 1993 and were brought to the attention of the OCSD in December. The man was arrested March 10.

He was arraigned in front of Magistrate Dana Fortinberry and is out of jail on $125,000 personal bond. His preliminary exam is scheduled April 22 in front of Judge Gerald McNally.

The man's name is being withheld to protect the identity of the victim.

Bruce was the former assistant superintendent for Clarkston Schools and founder of Country Cords and Clarkston Stride Rite.

One $500 scholarship will recognize outstanding student athletes from Clarkston High School, the other will be given to an outstanding member of the Building Trades Program at Oakland Technical Center.

Eighteen holes of golf with cart and buffet dinner at Spring Lake Country Club will be begin at 9 a.m. for $75. It will be played in a four-person scramble format. Trophies will be awarded to the winning foursome and all golfers will be eligible to win door prizes. Players of all abilities are encouraged to participate.

Golfers, volunteers and anyone wishing to make a donation should contact the scholarship committee at 625-8042 or 620-8746 by May 1.

New shop opens

Just in time for spring, a new shop specializing in fresh flowers and crafts has opened on Dixie Highway, north of I-75.

Keepsake Flowers opened last week under the ownership of Mary Butcher and her two sisters, Jody Addison and Chris Kerby. Butcher will be running the store.

"They made this possible for me," she said of her sisters, who work for General Motors."This has been a dream I've had for a long time."

Butcher went to school to learn how to work with flowers and has been in the business for 14 years. "I just love flowers; I seem to have a knack," she said. She offers a full-service floral business, including weddings, funerals and wire-service delivery.

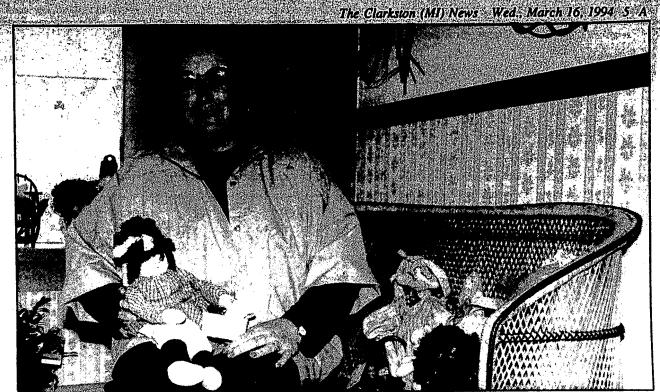

She also offers a selection of handcrafted gifts, many of them made locally. "We've had a lot of good response from local crafters," Butcher said.

Hours at Keepsake Flowers, 9355 Dixie Highway, are 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday-Friday; 9-6 Saturday and 9-3 Sunday. For more information call 625-3302.

BUFFET

Wednesday, March 16, 1994--page 6A

Whenever I travel, I always read the newspapers in the place I'm visiting. Not just to see what they're doing, but to find out what the big stories are.

Last week the Dennis and I were in Florida, and as usual I found myself wondering why people never learn from each others' experiences. For example, in the news last week in Florida were shrinking state revenues and environmental problems. Sound familiar? Believe it or not, Florida is experiencing a shortfall in tax dollars. In a state where they already have a high sales tax, lotteries, legalized greyhound racing and enormous revenues from tourists, they're beginning to talk about cutting back services.

Counties that just a couple of years ago were wealthy enough to build new baseball stadiums for professional teams for spring training are now considering privatizing those stadiums, as well as other services, such as parks and recreation.

It amazes me that they didn't exercise any foresight before spending all those tax dollars. Of course they couldn't have foreseen that foreign tourists would be murdered in Miami, which is being blamed for a drop in tourism. But it's funny now to see reporters saying nice things about tourists, instead of just grousing about the traffic.

Another big problem is water. The state which once boasted the largest resource of fresh groundwater in the country is now finding wells being encroached upon by salt water.

Even so, some farmers, who are bearing the brunt of the blame, are saying there's no problem. Until their own source of water turns to salt, apparently they won't believe the scientists, who say something must be done-now.

The debate is raging about how fast the salt water is encroaching, and therefore how soon something must be done. Scary, isn't it?

Elsewhere on the environmental front, sugar farmers are being asked to kick in some dollars for the clean-up of the Everglades. Seems the runoff from their crops is ruining the delicate balance of the Everglades ecosystem, but the farmers want the feds to bail them out. The debate in the state legislature is how much each side should pay. Do you see a pattern emerging here? Local government and private enterprise are beginning to see a new reality: cut costs or else. At the same time, they are all looking to Uncle Sam to pick up the slack. Meanwhile, President Clinton was elected because he talked frank about the budget deficit problem. It seems unlikely he's going to be willing to bail out Florida, a state basking in the revenues yearround sunshine brings.

Get a life!

Dear thieving punks,

Last week, you broke into my truck and stole all my personal tools I use to help my family when something breaks down in their home or vehicles. Some day you will become an adult with a family, wife, kids, grandkids. Why are you risking going to jail? Why? Drugs, maybe?

The next time you break into someone's house, vehicle, or rob them -- don't forget either the police might be there or a gun from the owner. Might hurt, if you live.

Someday sooner or later, you're going to get busted. Have a nice day. Get a life!

JPJ Editor's Note: The writer assumes the thieves are young people. We'd like to point out the culprit(s) may be adults.

Thanks for prayers

I would like to thank our many friends in the Clarkston community for your prayers, concerns and support of our family over the past three years that Bruce was sick.

To the Editor:

People in Clarkston and Independence Township are very generous. You deliver food and visit with homebound seniors; you-spend afternoons tutoring at-risk youth and serve as role models and mentors; and you give to United Way's annual drive for human services. Each one of you helps make someone's life brighter and help make our community a better place to live.

It was my privilege to serve as the United Way of Oakland County 1993 Campaign Chairman, and to witness first hand how your gift helps. This year you gave over $5.3 million, an all-time record high!

Because the United Way system of caring works so efficiently, one in four Oakland County residents is helped, and 88 cents of every dollar contributed goes directly to programs for people in need.

It is now my honor to thank every Clarkston and Independence Township volunteer and every contributor who keeps charity in his or her heart, and in his or her deeds. You do make a difference.

Sincerely. Bob Lent

Jim's Jottings By Jim Sherman It's been an angering campaign

There has never been an election that got to me like the one this week.

It had nothing to do with the outcome, but everything to do with the claims of the opposing sides prior to March 15.

I doubt if the rhetoric would have been any different had the legislature made their decision weeks before their Christmas Eve rollcall. But they certainly didn't have to wait until their

And the pro-sales tax people hit on the percentage of income tax increase "30 Percent," they cried. I say, watch out for anyone who uses percentages to make a point. Make them put it in dollars.

If we were voting on percentages the 50 percent in sales tax is a lot higher than the 30 percent in income tax.

Even accepting all the "tax" stories, they accounted for a small part of my anger at this election. What wasn't on the ballot . . . what was done in Lansing after December 24 and was going on right up to Mayor Archer's backing March 9 is more

Michigan can take a lesson, I think. We must live within our limits, and we must protect our environment, including the Great Lakes, the largest freshwater body in the world. If we don't, some year we'll be reading stories about ground water in Michigan becoming unfit to drink and wondering why someone didn't warn us.

Scary, isn't it?

self-imposed deadline . . . when constituents' minds and bodies were filled with the holiday joy and plans ... to pass the either/or taxing wording.

There was plenty of time to reach a decision between Democrat Pollock's offering of Gov Engler's 'Cut property taxes' plan and Christmas Eve.

However, with the sales tax or income tax question ready for the people the lobbies, lawyers and people whose oxen were gored collected their thoughts, mingled their funds and set about making voters like me angry.

Tobacco people, fighting to stave off a big tax increase, never mentioned cigarettes in their ads, but instead knocked the lottery ("Haven't we heard all that before?"). And they said Gov Engler said taxes are being cut "yet schools are getting a five percent increase. How can that be?"

The anti-Proposal A people failed to mention that schools were getting the same amount of increase no matter the vote, yes or no.

angering. Some of the reasoning went like this. If it's ok with the president of the United States, as in the case of NAFTA, its ok in Lansing.

Engler said the compromise for the fallback plan had to be made to get Democrat backing for Proposal A.

Why couldn't our elected officials agree on a property tax replacement that needed no fallback plan?

I guess I'll answer my own question. Because they are politicians, all seeking re-election.

This is being written prior to March 15, and I won't be disappointed no matter the outcome of the election.

But I sure am disappointed and angered by the way the backers of each cause treated the voters of Michigan.

Johnnie Stringfield, Waterford

Some time ago when I watched that World War 2 propaganda movie-great, Yankee Doodle Dandy, I let myself go to sin -- I felt a wee bit of pride.

The scene that got me is the bit of make believe that takes place in President Roosevelt's office. As I remember it, it was kind of dark in the office. In that scene, the musical genius of the time, George M. Cohan (played by James Cagney), met with the President to stir up some political support for the war.

What set me down the path of pridefulthoughts was the line that Roosevelt said to Cohan. It went something like this: "One thing I admire about you Irish-Americans is your patriotism; you wear it like a badge of honor for the whole nation to see."

It wasn't much of a line and to most it probably meant/means nothing. But it meant a lot to me then and now. That's because I can remember my father's talks of being Irish-American. Being Irish-American meant being American first, not the other way around

I tend to think of those types of things near St. Patrick's Day. My grandma thinks about me whenever she sees something about the Irish in writing. She cuts it out and mails it to me.

Here's a little history, courtesy of Grandma Rush. tism toward the U.S.A."

Grandma Rush also sent something from a newspaper, I can only guess it to be from the late 1960s because of the photograph of the front end of a 1967 Chevrolet. Here's what it says.

The Irish and the Irish In Heart

Whether you're a Greenman or Orangeman, Or whatever clan or clique

If you've got Irish blood in your veins, Then you're a son of Saint Patrick. But if you've no Irish blood in your veins, And yet you're still Irish -- in spirit, I mean, Then you've got the right to join in the fun --So get out there with 'em and show off the green!

Raise your voice in happy hurrah! Shout up to the sky that gay Gaelic cry: "Ireland Forever... Erin go Bragh!"

What St. Patrick Taught The Irish

St Patrick did a lot for Ireland --He chased the serpents off the Isle: But the biggest thing he did was this: He taught the Irish how to Smile! Yes, Patrick did a lot for Ireland --He brought the Faith to Old Erin; But the biggest thing by far was this: He taught the Irish how to Grin!

Candy Lightner, the woman who founded Mothers Against Drunk Driving after her daughter was killed by a drunken driver in 1980, is now a paid lobbyist for the booze industry.

Representing the American Beverage Institute, Lightner lobbies state legislatures against proposed legislation that would make life tougher for people who like to drink and drive.

Does Lightner's job switch seem as unlikely -- as incongruous -- as hiring Doug Fraser to negotiate for management, or what?

What. Retired UAW president Fraser, long famous as one of organized labor's most stalwart, pay-boosting representatives, was recently hired by the City of Detroit to persuade police and firefighter unions to accept 10-percent pay cuts.

And Detroit Schools Superintendent David Snead hired two of the teachers union's top negotiators to cross over and negotiate against the teachers.

And so on.

It's certainly nothing new to pay members of the opposition to pack up and join your side of the argument. Obviously, the benefit is twofold. You get the valuable experience and expertise the new hires gained while working against you. And you create empty, hard-to-fill seats on your opponent's side of the table.

Washington and state capitals are crammed with former government employees now paid to make money for the same businesses they used to make crazy with bureaucratic restrictions. Loyalty to your boss, and a principled belief in the value and goals of your work, are admirable qualities.

And they are often for sale to the highest bidder. One of my hobbies is collecting scrap irony. Of course it is ironic when employees, public or private, take a new job that is the flip side of their old job. Certainly the irony would clank if the National Rifle Association stopped my antigun columns by hiring me as an overpaid public relations representative.

But a job switch isn't necessary for what you do or did for a living to suddenly clank ironic. Look at Catalina Vasquez Villalpando, who recently pleaded guilty to evading $47,013 in federal income taxes in 1989.

Villalpando's name was written on our money. The U.S. treasurer from 1989 to 1993 could go to prison for five years for cheating the U.S. Treasury.

For a cheaper clank, consider the state law that requires candidates to file campaign finance reports on time or face the wrath of the state attorney general. Last week, Attorney General Frank Kelley admitted his reelection committee was late filing and will pay a $300 fine.

Or, in the private sector, how about Ken Swisher, the Manistee man who planned to open a collection agency to hound parents for not making child support payments? Swisher's plans were put on hold when he was jailed for allegedly not paying nearly $19,000 in support of his daughter in Louisiana.

The irony also clanks for those whose actions grievously insult their jobs. Judges, for instance, are supposed to be wise enough to make rational decisions, right? Which brings us to the unbelievably irrational decision made by Criminal Court Judge Doug Meyer of Chattanooga, Tenn.

The Yellow Ribbon (submitted by Bill Brooks to whatever publication Grandma snipped it from) "The first recorded use of Yellow Ribbons in wartime dates back to the 'Wild Geese' era in Ireland, when due to British cruelty, many of Ireland's top leaders, soldiers and noblemen fled Ireland for service in France, Spain and other lands. Irish peasants placed yellow ribbons on cottages, village squares, etc. to symbolize the hope that the Wild Geese would someday return to free Ireland from English Colonialism.

"The first recorded use of the yellow ribbon in the U.S. dates back to the American frontier, where the wives of the heavily Irish U.S. Army Troops would wear yellow ribbons when the troops were on duty in the wild west of the 1800s. The 1940 movie 'She Wore a Yellow Ribbon,' starring John Wayne depicted the fact that the yellow ribbon was an American Irish symbol of patrioWith his staff and his mitre, And because of him we must admit This world's a whole lot Brighter!

Gem In Blarney Castle

America's got the Plymouth Rock, And Scotland's got her Scone, But Ireland, dear Old Ireland, She's got the Blarney Stone! O I'm goin' o'er to Blarney, And shan't be comin' home Until I've made that vow o' mine: To kiss the Blarney Stone! It's B-L-A-R-N-E-Y, And S-T-O-N-E, And when I've kissed it, then I shall be comin' home to ye!

--Lloyd Emerson Campbell

Instead of putting an admitted rapist in a mental hospital, as the prosecutor requested, Judge Meyer set the man free, saying he simply needed a girlfriend. "We'll let you arrange a dating service or something," the judge told the prosecutor.

Judge Meyer changed his mind three days later, after receiving complaints from several citizens who apparently have no sense of irony.

Onward and Upward. City taxpayers, including UAW members, are probably lucky that Doug Fraser flipsided at the bargaining table.

And I like to think that Candy Lightner, the MADD founder, is actually infiltrating the liquor commission, spying in behalf of highway sobriety. I plan a similar strategy if the NRA calls me.

ck--the man with the too-heav

By ANNETTE KINGSBURY Clarkston News Editor

Everyone knows the Irish are the world's best storytellers. That's not blarney; folklorists there have so far collected half-a-million pages worth of stories that have come down through oral tradition.

That, plus an inherent belief in the magical, is probably responsible for the enduring yet fantastical story of St. Patrick, a man credited with so many miracles one writer called him the saint with the tooheavy halo.

Patrick is credited with making himself invisible to his enemies, throwing curses and turning them to stone, and casting all the serpents out of Ireland.

Yet he has never been canonized by the Catholic Church. So little fact exists about his life they're not even sure if he was one man or a composite of several. It seems pretty clear that the St. Patrick remembered every March 17 with masses and merriment was a hero Ireland needed at the time.

St. Patrick is thought to have been born around 389, somewhere in what is now Great Britain, but possibly in France. His father was a Roman British official, possibly already a Christian.

At the age of 16, St. Patrick is said to have been captured by Irish marauders and taken back to slavery in Ireland. There he toiled for six years, herding sheep and praying constantly but also learning to love the language and the people.

Then he heard a voice, telling him to prepare for an adventure. A ship would be waiting to take him to freedom. He escaped, traveled 200 miles on foot, found the ship and made his way to present-day France.

There he entered a monastery and eventually became a priest, then a bishop. Again he heard a voice, this one saying that the people of Ireland, the land where he had been enslaved, needed him back. History records that Pope Celestine I then named him Patricius (he had been born Maewyn) and sent him back to Ireland.

He must have been pretty good at what today would be called PR. He traveled the country, always with an entourage led by drummers announcing his revered by the locals, to do his preaching and miracle working. He appointed the sons of local kings to run his churches.

Neventheless, he was a true ascetic, not interested in personal gain or glory. He fasted extensively, slept on a stone, and immersed himself up to the neck in cold water twice a day to pray.

Historians credit St. Patrick with organizing the Christian religion in Ireland, bringing the country a written language and codifying its laws.

It is that combination of the spiritual and the practical that probably made him the smashing success he is remembered as today. Perhaps the story of the shamrock best exemplifies the gift he had for combining the two.

In an effort to explain the Holy Trinity to the Irish people, Patrick plucked a shamrock, a cloverlike wildflower that is now recognized as the national flower of Ireland. He said the three leaves represented the three persons of the Trinity, and that the stem on which they grew represented the one God. The shamrock, therefore, was a perfect example of the unity of Why smoke?

Don't you know it causes cancer and other great diseases? But smoking is on the rise among teenagers

4. 试验性 医感觉的 2

At Clarkston it's the most common problem, along with alcohol and drugs. Get a puff before school, during lunch and then regularly after the school day ends. My close friends who have parents who have been diagnosed with lung cancer continue to smoke. It's a disgusting and gross habit, but we continue to puff away.

In my advanced speech class we were asked to give a speech to inform our audience. I quickly came up with the idea of speaking on smoking in the high school. I wanted to survey male and female students and find out why they smoke. I asked myself the same question over and over again and never came up with a good answer.

Business women celebrate

In celebration of its service to women business owners, The National Association of Women Business Owners has designated March as "NAWBO Month,"

Founded in 1974 by a small group of women entrepreneurs, NAWBO was developed to provide strong and continuing voice and vision for women business owners within the economic, social and political communities.

NAWBO now has more than 50 chapters with 5,000 members nationwide. The Greater Detroit Chapter, founded in 1980, currently has over 250 members and is one of the most active chapters in the nation.

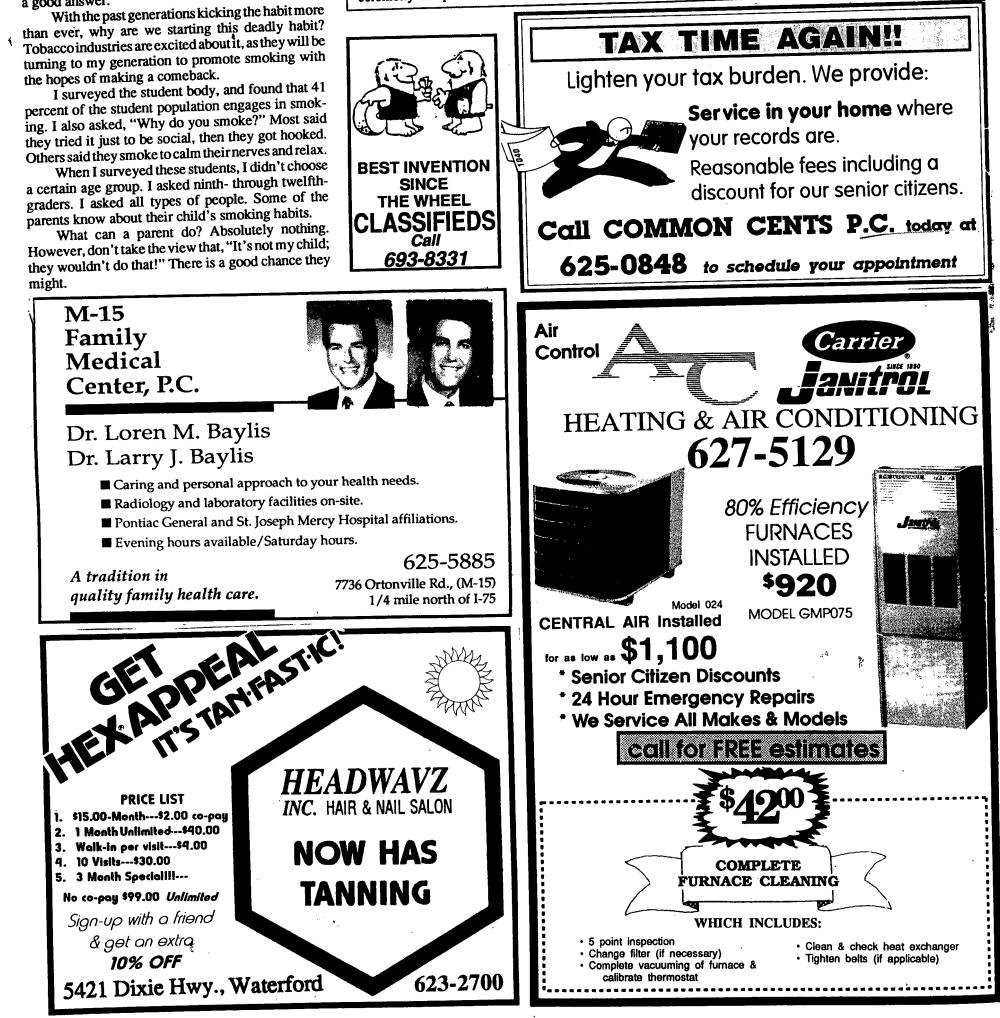

Two special events have been planned in conjunction with NAWBO month. On March 10, NAWBO will sponsor its second annual "Night With the DSO," with a reception and visit to the Detroit Symphony. Then, on March 17, Governor John Engler will help NAWBO present awards to Michigan's top 25 women business owners at a ceremony co-sponsored by NAWBO and AT&T

Commercial Markets. This gala will spotlight the contributions that the honorees have made to the economic growth of Michigan -- collectively, they have generated over $750 million in our state.

A 10 Wed., March 16, 1994 The Clarkston (MI) News

NAWBO is the only national organization that exclusively addresses the needs and interests of women entrepreneurs. The local officers include Linda Jolicoeur of Target Equipment Leasing, President; Barbara Kasoff of Voice-Tel of Michigan, President-Elect; Geralyn Nassar of Cinnabar Telecommunications, Treasurer, Patricia Pitts of Alpha Mechanicals, Secretary; and Barbara Stanbridge of Change Human Resources Development, Immediate Past President.

The March 17 "Michigan Top 25 Women Business Owner" event will be held at the Marriott Hotel in Southfield, with 5:30 p.m. networking and a 6:30 p.m. dinner, followed by the awards presentation. Tickets are $40 per person. For registration information, call (810) 851-8270.

Ways to protect kids from second hand smoke

Members of the Michigan Academy of Family Physicians, in addition to working toward a smokefree society by the Year 2000, are extending their smoking cessation programs to include educating. patients on the need to protect children from secondhand smoke.

The Academy has joined the Michigan Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics, the Michigan 4C (Coordinated, Community, Child Care) Association, and the Michigan Department of Public Health in producing an educational brochure, "A Note for Parents on Smoking Around Children," encouraging parents to protect their children from exposure to secondhand smoke. Dr. Tom Annan of the Academy states; "Since family physicians are many times the physicians of first contact and treat a wide range of medical problems for the entire family, we believe we are positioned to discuss the concerns of secondhand smoke and children with all members of the family, including parents, grandparents and siblings.

"Parents and family members need to know the dangers of secondhand smoke to children, and that it contributes to many health problems, including bronchitis, pneumonia, ear infections and upper respiratory infections. In addition, with the increased number of patients we are treating for asthma, parents need to know that secondhand smoke makes asthma worse. It can be life threatening."

The new brochure, available soon through family physicians' offices around the state, provides parents with practical advice on keeping children away from secondhand smoke. Parents may also obtain the brochure by calling the Michigan 4C at 800-950-4171.

On to regionals

Wolves ready to tangle with Huskies

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT Clarkston News Staff Writer

Tim Wasilk's three-point basket freed the Wolves from playing overtime and gave the team the district championship.

The sophomore's three pointer sailed through air as the the remaining microeseconds rushed toward zero and as the buzzer sounded, the ball arced through the net, giving Clarkston the win over the Romeo Bulldogs, 50-47.

With the victory, Clarkston (20-2) moves to regional play at Waterford Mott against the Pontiac Northern Huskies - a team the Wolves have beaten twice in Greater Oakland Athletic League play this year — Wednesday night at 7 p.m.

With 2.2 seconds left; it looked like the bruised and battered teams were headed for a duel of strengths in overtime as the scoreboard read 47-47.

It wasn't to be. The Bulldogs packed in the key and the keen eyes of junior Jeremy Fife picked out what the Bulldogs' coach had seen, Wasilk free and open. With a completed pass and a jump and a perfect three-point basket, the Wolves got the victory and the championship.

"I'm proud of the way they played," Fifesaid."We're known as the Cinderella team with our great record; however, anything could have happened."

Wasilk's 15 points, with two three pointers and three from the line, made him high scorer for the night.

"Our game was like dueling banjos. We played hard and did everything possible -- but so did Romeo."

Dan Fife

"The games were extremely close and difficult," Coach Dan Fife said of the two previous Northern matchups.

"We both play the same kind of game and there are not a lot of differences. Anything could happen, but it will be intense.

The game against Romeo didn't come easy for the Wolves.

'Our game was like dueling banjos," Fife said. "We played hard and did everything possible --- but so did Romeo."

The first quarter left the teams tied, 10-10. At the half, the Wolves led, 26-

Rick Vollmar scored 12 points, making two of four from the line.

Rusty Mitcham scored 10, with two points from free throws. Brad Agar made a basket and four from the line. Fife ended the afternoon with four points with two from the line.

Clarkston's 69-62 win last Thursday over Lapeer East gave the Wolves a chance at grabbing the district championship.

Despite the seven-point victory, Coach Fife worried if his team had the mental intensity to beat Romeo. The team that had beat them last year.

"If we're ready to play mentally, I

Rick Vollmar goes up for two against Lapeer East last Thursday night. The Wolves beat the Eagles 69-62 and clinched the district championship. They will play the Pontiac Northern Huskles at Waterford Mott High School tonight at 7 p.m.

21. By the end of third, they were down by one, 38-37.

The Wolves didn't give up and continued to play the type of game they are known for — defense with a lot of heart and intensity.

"We took whatever offensively and rearranged it," Fife said.

And rearranged it they did as they grabbed the lead back from Romeo with two minutes left to play.

don't care if we're playing Flint Northern, Pershing or Romeo, I'll take my chances. But if we're not ready, I don't care who we play, they're capable of beating us and right now I'm worried," he said at the end of Thursday's game against the Eagles.

Despite Fife's worries, the team came out with the victory, shooting 91 percent from the free throw line.

Vollmar scored 24 points, Wasilk and Agar each had 17. Fife scored six points, Jason Graves made three points and Mitcham made two.

Grapplers place high

Hells Antherest States and States and

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT Clarkston News Staff Writer

Oakland County sent 51 wrestlers to the state individual finals over a two-day period in Kalamazoo, last weekend.

Three Clarkston varsity wrestlers advanced to the semifinal mats on Saturday — juniors Corey Grant, Armin Michelsen and sophomore Joe DeGain.

The two juniors and sophomore were pitted against some of the best wrestlers in the state and came out of semifinals with two thirds, which meant they were one loss away from the state title, and a fourth.

"We wrestled the creme of the creme," Coach Mike DeGain said. "Of the 300 Class A schools in Michigan, we placed in the top four in the different weight divisions."

Grant (44-3) weighing in at 125 pounds, battled to a third place finish after a close match which he lost in the final seconds to Saginaw's Frederick Lincoln, 7-6.

Michelsen, a 152-pound junior, with a 42-10 record won his first match but lost to Michael Olsen of Ferndale, 7-1.

DeGain, a 189-pound sophomore, grappled to a near win, having to go to double overtime to Troy's Garrett Gould, 11-7.

Coach DeGain is far from feeling disappointed with the boys efforts at state.

"To place period is an honor," he said. "It's a heck of an achievement to place so high and for their first time at a state meet. These guys have a lot going for them."

The coach now is looking toward the future with a team that, except for one senior, will be back next year.

"We have big possibilities, but the kids grow and we'll have to see what happens," he said. "If we spread out in the weights then we will be a very hard team to beat.

Lady Wolves drop two

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Wolves' varsity volleyball season ended Friday night after the ladies lost to Birmingham Marian 15-6, 15-8 in regional play. Coming in to the regionals well prepared after last week's match against Waterford Kettering, which snared the team a district championship, the Wolves made a couple of early errors and never made it back. "We scrimmaged the night before and looked good," Coach Gordie Richardson said. "We were tight, nervous and it showed early in the first game." Christa Herron made five kills with Carey Haven driving in three. The junior also lead the team in solo blocks with seven. Lisa Goforth was three-for-four in serves with three aces. Stephanie Giroux was 10 for 10 and Lisa Herron was 7-7. Nickie Winn, a sophomore, made 10 assists and was 45 of 49 for setting. Lisa Herron turned in seven digs, Haven and Giroux each had four.

to the Wolves loss.

"Our defensive team allowed too many easy kills," he said. "You cannot afford to give too many kills to win the game."

Goforth was nine for nine in serve receptions, while Christa was 7-7, Andrea Slavin was 8-9 and Giroux was 12-14.

It was the defense that Richardson attributes

Those numbers pleased the coach.

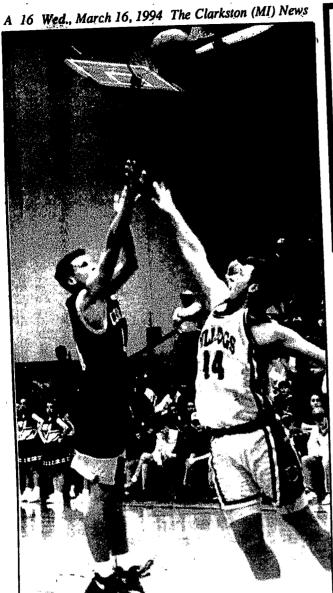

"This was one area that we really improved over the year," Richardson said. "It was an outstanding effort, considering where we started at the beginning of the year. We ended with a very successful season."

With the season done, except for the awards banquet Thursday night, Richardson will turn toward the future.

As seniors, Slavin, Christa Herron and Goforth won't be back next year.

"We will miss the three seniors," the coach said. "Christa Herron is leaving with her 294 hitting percentage. And those big kills when we needed them will be missed. Lisa GoForth lead the team in aces and received in the 300's. Andrea Slavin, whether she started or came off the bench to serve added to the team. Her enthusiasm is nice to have."

NO. 5 SENDS one over the net Friday night against Marian.

RUSTY MITCHAM rises above Romeo's No.15

The rites and signs of spring have begun to bang at our back door.

We all look for or do something that says SPRING.

I look for the first robin. I look for the purple, white and yellow crocuses popping their heads out of the cold earth. I watch the trees for thickening buds. I plan my spring cleaning list. Wash windows, inside and out. Go through closets. Organize the barn and toss out the stuff I will never use again. Make a list of new plants and flowers I would like to add to our landscape.

For some of us, we begin to dream of unhindered movement. No more putting snow pants in the kids' backpacks. No more zipping up the heavy winter coat. No more gloves or mittens to lose.

Sometimes our spring ritual begins with the first bike ride or walk around the block.

While others might think spring begins with the start of a campaign to get rid of the few extra inches or pounds accumulated during the winter hibernation.

But for the Clarkston schools, spring means one more thing --- March Madness.

Volleyball, wrestling and basketball teams clean the slate and begin anew with tournament play. Parents and fans travel from school to school watching the teams compete against the toughest in the district, the region or the state.

Clarkston wrestlers finished their season with two third places and a fourth place. Over 80 plus fans and family showed up at the individual state meet in Kalamazoo to watch Corey Grant and Armin Michelsen become the third best wrestlers in the state in their weight division. And Joe DeGain fourth place finish makes him fourth in the state at 189 pounds. Great for two juniors and a sophomore.

The girls varsity volleyball team became district champs and lost to the tough Marian team at Lakeland last Thursday night. Again fans and family were present to cheer them on and give them support. Now we have one more annual spring rite to get through or to rejoice in — basketball playoffs. Clarkston won at the sound of the buzzer Saturday afternoon making the Wolves the district champs. Fans and family flooded the gym floor to congratulate the team.

The Wolves' next game against Pontiac Northern tonight (Wednesday) will be no less intense than the one played against Romeo.

Spring's like that. Intense. Dramatic at times. And, oh so cruel too. She teases us and then pulls the rug out.

So too with the Clarkston sports teams. Win or lose, they all have given us the ray of sunshine, the intensity, the drama we all need to reaffirm that spring is close. See you at Waterford Mott for more one affirmation that spring is knocking at our door besides that robin out pecking for worms in our yard.

1994 summer adult softball leagues

Team sponsor fees for men's, women's and corec teams are being accepted now for returning teams; registration for new resident teams (teams with at least 8 residents of Independence Township) will begin March 7; and "open" registration will begin after March 11. Leagues are scheduled to begin the week of May 8. If you would like to receive a Calendar of Events and league information flyer, call the office.

1994 youth baseball/softball

Registration is currently underway! Early Bird registration runs through April 1, regular registration from April 4-22. Regular season games scheduled to begin June 4. Most age divisions have two leagues to choose from: "minor" is less competitive, more instructional; "major" is more competitive. Registration books distributed through the schools, and available at Parks and Recreation office.

The Clarkston (MI) News Wed., March 16, 1994 17 A

1994 Federation team tryouts

Tryouts for these highly competitive teams will be conducted on Saturday, March 12, and Saturday, March 19 as follows: 11 & 12 year olds, 1-3 p.m.; 13 & 14 year olds, 3-5 p.m.; 15 & 16 year olds, to be announced at a later date. Those interested are encouraged to attend both days. Federation teams will travel to other communities and compete for league and playoff championships. Detailed information will be included with the youth baseball/ softball registration book.

Your beef recipe could win $25,000

Show your friends that you are an innovative beef cook by entering your original beef recipe in the 1995 National Beef Cook-Off.

Contestants must be non-professional cooks at least 18 years old who have original beef entrees with eight ingredients or less (excluding salt, pepper and water). Judges will look for convenient and delicious recipes families would enjoy.

Creators of the top 15 recipes will meet and prepare their recipes for a panel of judges in Little Rock, Ark. Sept. 21-23, 1995. They will compete for a $25,000 cash prize.

Entries must be post marked by June 1, 1994 for consideration. For entry information, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Michigan Beef Industry Commission, 2145 University Park, Suite 300, Okemos, MI 48862.

Many alternatives exist today to fund a college education for your children.

Among the options are to:

• Pay as you go: This might have worked when college students were wearing tie-dyed T-shirts the first time they were popular. Now the cost of four years of education at some private schools approaches the cost of a home. Only the very wealthy can pay tuition bills as they arrive.

Let the kid pay for it: Well, it will help them learn self-reliance, but what lawful part-time job pays enough to offset the $10,000 to $20,000 it now costs to go to school?

Get a scholarship: This plan works well if you qualify for aid or your child is a great athlete or student. What do you do if your child is none of these or if he/she is too young to display their talents? While scholarships, grants and the like may not be a viable solution for everyone, do not discount them entirely, Many scholarships and awards are available and some go unclaimed because eligible students do not seek them out.

• Borrow it: This worked really well when the government was happily making below-market loans not based on financial need. Rules have tightened considerably, although loans may be a viable option for those who refuse to plan. However, remember that Baby Boomers had children later in life. If Mom and Dad are going to borrow the money, do they really want a new long-term debt obligation when they may be in their 50s?

• Get the money from Grandpa and Grandma: Works well if Grandpa (or Grandma) has the money, doesn't need it to live and is willing to give it to your • Pay now learn later: Several states have adopted programs under which parents can make lump-sum payments to a trust fund and guarantee that tuition, and sometimes other costs, will be paid at an in-state school for four years. On the surface it sounds great. But what if the kid wants to go to school out of state or you move or he/she just doesn't want to go to college? These and other drawbacks need to be examined.

• Save now pay later: A systematic program of savings and investment may be old-fashioned, but it in the parents' name or the child's. There are numerous tax and non-tax ramifications to that decision. Once that is settled, the risk management aspects can be addressed (i.e., what if you die before junior goes off to college?). Next, consider your investment alternatives: zero coupon bonds (taxable and nontaxable), municipal bond mutual funds, growth stocks, or whatever suits your style and risk profile. No one solution will work for everyone. You're going to have to pick and choose from the foregoing to find the solution that fits your situation.

South of the border fiesta

Two celebrations with 'south of the border' themes are planned for the Clarkston High School Class of 1994.

A senior "Fiesta" June 5 will be at Mitches II and includes dinner and entertainment. This party is for seniors only and promises to be a nostalgic way to begin a memorable week.

The all night post graduation party is at Deer Lake Racquet Club June 8 following commencement. In it's eighth year, this party gives the new graduates a safe way to celebrate. Games, live entertainment, swimming, racquet sports, food and prizes will fill the night.

Bruce Baxter of the Ways and Means Committee said the committees hope to give something worth at least $25 to each student and have a super drawing for bigger gifts. Gifts will be displayed at CHS in April and May. Baxter said they are still in need of money and gifts for the party.

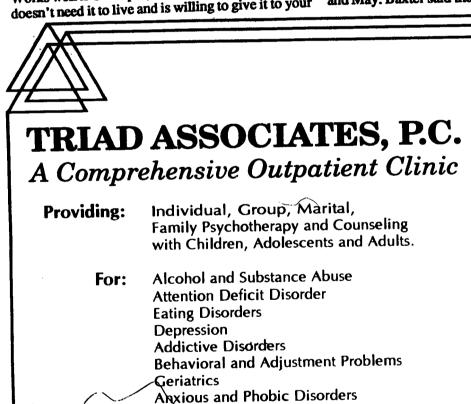

If you are interested in contributing in any way toward the party or dinner, please contact Clarkston High School at 625-0900.

Global ReLeaf needs helpers

Global ReLeaf of Michigan, Inc. seeks neighborhood organizations throughout Michigan interested in planting trees on public property in their communities.

A statewide non-profit volunteer tree-planting group, Global ReLeaf can meet up to 50 percent of tree costs - $1,000 or 20 trees. Local volunteers plan the event and plant the trees with help from a Global ReLeaf planting coordinator.

Applications must be submitted by March 30 for this spring. For information, call Fran Sandoval at 1-800-642-7353.

Clarkston Area Youth Assistance

Guest commentary by Doug Carlson

· 如何是你。"他是我的问题,你是我的一个。" - "你们的你,你们就是你们的你?"

A very important activity in the entire Clarkston Youth Assistance program is called PLUS (People Listening, Understanding and Sharing).

PLUS was established in 1978 and involves volunteers who spend time with youngsters who are lonely, needy or neglected. Such volunteers provide these young people with a role model of the same sex, which they don't have at home. They establish a one-to-one relationship with kids who have either had run-ins with the police, been shuffled through the juvenile court system, or whom the teachers feel need a little listening to.

Typically, the volunteers spend time with these youth simply running errands, washing the car, watching TV, or going out to lunch together. J Expenses are kept to a minimum - taking a walk is all that's necessary.

Ideally, volunteers make contact on a weekly basis to let the child know they're interested. Hopefully, they will get comfortable so the kids can let problems they wouldn't otherwise talk about be known.

Volunteers for this program complete an application and go through an informal interview process. A police check is done and references are called. They then go through training sessions before they are matched with a youngster.

A one-year commitment is required, but it is not unusual for some of these matches to last several years. Some volunteers have been involved in the PLUS program for 10 years or more.

A major goal of PLUS is to have more than enough volunteers to match with children currently on the waiting list so new referrals of children can be sought. Unfortunately, it is more difficult to find male volunteers and there are always more male children waiting than there are volunteers.

Clarkston Youth Assistance also needs adulis to work on screening, interviewing, training and matching adults with children ages 5-17.

If you're 18 or older, have a few hours a week that you could spend with disadvantaged youth, and would like to do something really worthwhile, Clarkston Youth Assistance would like to talk to you.

Needless to say, knowing that you've had a significant impact on the life of someone in need can be a very rewarding experience.

If you're interested in becoming involved in this program IN ANY WAY, please call Teresa Blundell at 625-9007. Terry, and the children she counsels, would really like to hear from you.

mists are true 'friends of youth'

Basketball, essays and speeches are some of the reasons Clarkston-area youngsters know about the Optimists.

These activities and others let kids know that they have friends in the Optimist Club.

The Optimists — a Clarkston-area service club with a motto of "Friend of Youth" - sponsor all sorts of activities for youngsters of all ages. The purpose of the club is to help area youth, which is accomplished in many ways, according to the club's president, Sheila Ritter.

"There are good kids in Clarkston," said Ritter. "I see our role as supporting the goodness in our kids. We don't brag enough about kids who are not our own."

A little attention and encouragement go a long way, said Ritter, mentioning some of the club's works throughout the year. In addition to offering a basketball skills contest, an oratorical contest for middle school kids, and an essay contest for high school kids, the club also sponsors a holiday party for youngsters in December, a holiday gift party for teen mothers and their children, and all sorts of activities planned by other organizations.

New this year is an Optimist youth club - one each at Clarkston Middle School and Sashabaw Middle School. That age group was targeted mainly because so many children wanted to be involved, said Ritter.

"Junior high offered very little to youngsters who wanted to get involved in civic activities," she said.

The club gives kids a chance to get to know their peers and an opportunity to learn skills in such areas as fund-raising, organization, leadership and cooperation. The year-round club also gives the kids something to do in the summer, she said.

"This club can make kids aware that there are needs in the community other than their own," said Ritter, adding that the charter members of the new clubs are top rate. "These kids are already aware because they had ideas of what to do --- they want to get money and donate it."

By helping the kids, the Optimists are helping them to help the community, said Ritter.

And that sense of community is what the club is all about, she said.

"When I was growing up, we all knew what every other child was doing. ... We respected our neighbors. It was a general sense of community," she said.

However, with a growing community in which both parents usually work, resulting in very busy schedules, "we've lost some of that sense," said Ritter.

"As a club, we want to show a concern for young people in the community, not only as students, but as members of the community. ... Every little thing that we do makes this a better place."

The club, which is open to new members, meets 7:30 a.m. Wednesdays at Spring Lake Country Club, Maybee Road, Independence Township. Ritter invites anyone interested to attend.

"I love this club — we have a wonderful group of diverse individuals," she said.

Ukrainian Easter Eggs a tradition at St. Dan's

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE Clarkston News Staff Writer

For the third year in a row, area resident of every background became a little Ukrainian for an afternoon.

Dolly Schenk of Independence Township and assistants Fran Shirley and Donelle Vogal instructed about 40 people in the art of making Pysankas — Unkrainian Easter Eggs.

The March 12 class at St. Daniel Catholic Church was sponsored by the church's Christian Service

"I like teaching because people are amazed (the eggs) come out so beautifully. I just love it when people find they can do it."

Dolly Schenk

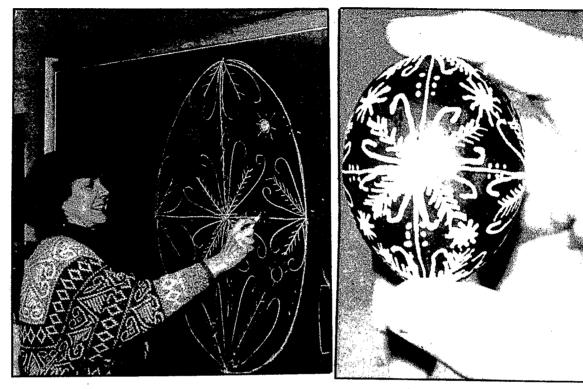

Committee, which is chaired by Arlene Moore.

Schenk, who is part of the Christian Service Committee, learned to make Pysankas in a class in 1971.

She said she is able to complete about six eggs decorated in traditional and original designs in a year. She was able to make more when she was working at Chevrolet — Schenk and her co-workers made Pysanka during their lunch breaks.

Although she is too busy to make an egg during class, she doesn't seem to mind.

"I like teaching because people are amazed (the eggs) come out so beautifully. I just love it when people find they can do it," she said.

Schenk said she has been interested in art since she was a child. She takes classes at the Birmingham/ Bloomfield Art where some of her work, including a sculpture, is on display. She hasn't narrowed her artistic scope to one art form yet.

"I find that I like variety. I like seeing what you can do with different media," she said.

The egg class has become a tradition for St.

Supplies and instructions for the eggs can be found locally at Tierra Fine Arts.

Schenk and her husband, Frank, have lived in Independence Township since 1981 and are members of St. Daniel's parish. They have a son, Frank, who is in the service stationed in Hawaii.

Raw eggs to beautiful pysanky

1. Prepare dyes as directed on each package

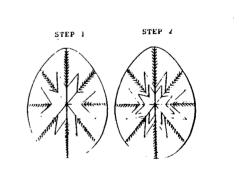

2. Select white, unblemished eggs. Rinse carefully (don't rub) in a solution of one quart warm water to one tablespoon white vinegar. It is traditional to decorate raw eggs, they take the dyes better and keep indefinitely. Work on eggs that are at room temperature.

3. Draw a design lightly on the egg with pencil. If

6. Apply green to the design with a cotton swab by dipping it into the blue dye and brushing it in the areas as shown in STEP 3. Pat dry and cover the green part with wax.

7. Dip the egg into orange dye and draw the lines which are to be orange (STEP 4).

8. Dip in red dye. Apply the wax where indicated in STEP 5 then dip into the last color (dark red, purple, blue, green, wine, brick, black or royal blue). All the areas not covered with wax will be this last color. When the egg is the desired shade, remove from the dye and dry thoroughly.

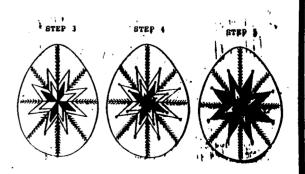

you make a mistake do not erase the line as this causes smudging.

4. Heat the head of the kistka (writing tool) in the flame of a candle. When hot, scoop a little bees wax into the funnel and begin to write (STEP 1), keeping the kistka at right angles to the egg. (Over heating the kistka or too much wax can cause blots.) As soon as the kistka stops writing smoothly reheat, add wax and continue.

5. Dip the egg into yellow dye with a spoon. Start with the lightest color and work to the darkest. After about five minutes, remove the egg and pat dry with a soft paper towel. Draw the lines which are to be yellow (STEP 2). 9. Dip a soft cloth or paper towel in turpentine and gently blot the wax off the egg (do not rub). Use your finger nail to remove heavy blots of wax.

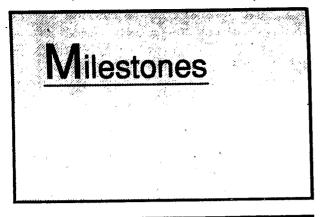

10. Thinly coat with a clear, fast drying varnish, polyurethane, high gloss. Spray varnish can be used. A second coat can be applied if desired. Let the egg dry over night.

Congratulations, you have made your first pysanka! (Patterns and directions from Luba Perchyshyn's Ukrainian Easter Egg Kit)

Family fun

About 150 people turned out for Family Day March 12 at North Sashabaw Elementary School.

The three-hour-long event offered parenting workshops and activities for children from pre-school to 11 years. Some of the workshops available for parents were Family Fun, Healthier Meals for Busy Living, Tips for the Single Parent and Raising a "Can" Do Kid.

The event was presented by Clarkston Community Education, Clarkston Special Services, Clarkston Area Youth Assistance, Clarkston Optimists and Clarkston PTAs.

Organizers hope to make this an annual event.

symbols and their meanings

Over 2,000 years ago, people decorated eggs believing that the egg embodied powers. The egg symbolized the release of the earth from winter and the spring with its promise of new life.

With Christianity, Easter eggs symbolize the Resurrection and a promise of eternal life. Legend has it that as long as Pysanky are decorated, goodness will prevail over evil throughout the world.

Here are some symbols used on the eggs, and the meanings behind the pictures:

A line encircling the egg without a beginning

Deer and horses represent prosperity.

Pine needles symbolize youth and health.

Birds represent fertility and the fulfillment of wishes.

Triangles represent the trinity and netting which is used to remind us that Christ was a fisher of men.

Three dots represent the tears of the Virgin Mary at the Crucifixtion.

or an end represents eternal life.

Help for veterans

If you're a veteran of American military service, or are currently on active duty, and want to find an old buddy, there is help.

A new organization call Registry of American Veterans (ROAV) will be able to help you locate friends you served with in the Armed Forces.

ROAV is designed to be the largest private database of American veterans and military personnel in the United States. Its purpose is to alleviate the problems veterans encounter in searching for one another and putting former military friends back in touch with each other.

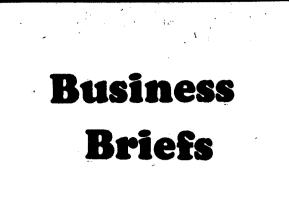

ROAV gathers information from veterans and computerizes their name, current residence, military units they served in and the time periods served in each outfit. People who join ROAV will receive an initial and annual printout of the database information of all veterans who served in the same unit during the same time frame as the joining member. The printout will show the current address and phone number of surviving unit veterans.

The service can assist in finding veterans for military associations that are planning to hold reunions. However, it is expected to primarily aid longlost buddies in locating each other. The user will be someone who thinks back on times of strong friendship in the military and wants to know what happened after military service. Maybe the friends shared hopes and dreams while passing long hours together on duty, or on stations far away from home.

Veterans are encouraged to write to ROAV for information on how to get themselves registered. ROAV will then send them the proper form to complete and become part of the database. For more infomation, write Registry of American Veterans, P.O. Box 51148, Riverside, Calif. 92517.

Precautions to prevent poisoning accidents

Poison prevention will be taking center court March 20-26 when the country is asked to remember: Children act fast . . . so do poisons.

National Poison Prevention Week is intended to raise awareness of the dangers of accidental poisonings and of the measures needed to prevent them from happening.

In light of this event, the Southeastern Michigan Society of Hospital Pharmacists wants the public to be aware of housekeeping rules to prevent poisoning accidents.

Keep all household chemical products and medicines out of the reach and sight of youngsters. These items should be locked up when not in use.

• When these products are in use, NEVER let them out of your sight. If you must leave the room for some reason, either take the product with you or store it out of the reach of children.

• Store all medicines separately from household products and store all household chemicals away from food items.

 Keep all medicines and chemical products in their original containers.

• Leave the original labels on all products and read these labels before using.

• Always leave the light on when giving or taking medicines. Avoid taking medicines in front of children, since youngsters tend to imitate grown-ups. •

Refer to all medicines as "medicine" and not •

Clean out the medicine cabinet periodically. candy Safely dispose of all unneeded medicines when the illness for which they were prescribed has terminated. If you have questions about disposal of medicines, ask your pharmacist for help.

• After using, always secure packaging properly. If a household chemical or medicine has been swallowed, follow the first-aid instructions on the label and then seek medical advice. This can be done by calling the local Poison Control Center, whose number is located on the inside cover of the tele-
