It's lambing time

New life has been arriving in ones and twos the last week or so at Bellairs Hillside Farm. It's lambing time and Gloria Bellairs, up since 4 a.m., is never far from her intercom so she can listen for mothers going into labor. The season lasts about three weeks and the baby Romneys have been ranging in size from just over six pounds to nearly 12. For their first day of life, they are kept in special pens with their mothers. After that, they begin to mingle with others in the barn, always staying close to mom. In photo above, two lambs, about two days old, test their legs under the watchful eye of their mother. Below, Gloria Bellairs holds a two-day-old lamb for visitors to see.

Cash flow woes means schools must borrow

For the first time in a decade, Clarkston schools will find it necessary to borrow money to solve cash flow problems in 1994-95.

At Tuesday night's board meeting, deputy superintendent Steve Lenar outlined for the board why it will be necessary to borrow and still collect summer taxes.

Lenar showed that due to the schedule of expected payments from the state, (which will be different next year because of the new funding structure), the district will run out of money August 12 without borrowing.

In addition, the debt retirement fund would run short without a summer tax levy. Borrowing is not allowed for that fund and money cannot be commingled between the debt fund and the general fund.

No formal action was taken by the board. Lenar said he would come back at the May meeting for formal approval of the loan from the state school-bond loan program. Since residential property will only carry a six-mill school-operating tax under Proposal A, some districts will probably not levy summer taxes due to collection costs. For Clarkston, that will not be an option.

Lenar said he had already talked to Independence Township Treasurer John Lutz. "It's up to us now to meet with them and negotiate a price," Lenar said.

He also warned that schools may find it increasingly difficult to pay suppliers as quickly as they have been in the past. He suggested the board collect all school taxes in the summer next year.

Neighbors concerned about Morgan Lake Golf traffic

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Some Orion Township residents are expected to turn up at the public hearing Thursday before the Independence Township Planning Commission on the Morgan Lake Golf Classic development.

The proposed golf and residential development borders Orion Township near Maybee Rd. Some Orion residents who live nearby are concerned that there are two entrances planned from the development onto Rohr Rd., a two-lane residential road in

The news in brief

City to send out well survey

Clarkston city residents can expect a survey along with their May sewer bills.

The city council expects to have the final version completed by the April 25 meeting for approval.

Residents will be asked to answer questions regarding the size, depth, location and age of their well. In addition, they will be asked whether they are concerned about contaminants in their water and if they would like the council to pursue extending a water main throughout the city.

Township clean-up

Spring means cleaning and Independence Township will help residents do that with two township-wide clean-up days on May 14 and 21.

The Department of Public Works will be open both days 8 a.m.-3 p.m. for drop-offs; you must bring proof you're a township resident.

There will be a charge per vehicle for the service, with autos being charged $5 per load, pickups; and vans $10. Refrigerators and air conditioners will incur an extra charge.

No chemicals, oil drums, barrels, cars or storage tanks will be accepted.

Tickets for dumping may be picked up at the township hall, 90 N. Main, or at the site on the day of the clean-ups.

Township raises sewer fees

The Independence Township Board of Trustees voted to increase sewer usage fees for the first time since 1987.

At the board meeting April 5, the rate was increased from $40 to $45 per quarter for single-family homes connected to the Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System.

According to DPW Director George Anderson, the township will still have one of the lowest rates in the system.

Also, water tap and meter rates for new construction were increased. Since the last increase in 1991, labor costs have gone up 12 percent, Anderson said.

Under the old rate structure, charges ranged from $953 to $2,740. Under the new rate, effective May 1, charges will run between $1,144 and $3,288.

Township considers cost of new hall

A committee composed of Fred Ritter, Ann Conklin and Daniel Travis has been appointed to investigate the costs involved in relocating Independence Township Hall.

The appointment was made at the April 5 meeting of the board of trustees. The committee is not authorized to spend any money or draw up a design for a building, but only to look at possible sites, estimate costs and look for funding sources.

New businesses crowd Clarkston market

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Though new businesses open every week and the Chamber of Commerce has doubled its membership in the last couple of years, doing business in Independence Township isn't a cakewalk.

Longtime business owners say they still have to offer good service and prices to lure customers. New business owners, though optimistic about the expanding population, know they have a lot of competition and have to strive to be the best. All of them know bigger shopping areas are available outside Clarkston within a short drive.

Don Brose, president-elect of the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce, has been in business with Brose Electric in Independence Township for seven years.

"I wouldn't say commercial growth is booming in Independence Township," he said. "Basically it's a response to the residential growth, which is booming. Any time you get such a boom in residential growth as we have now, business will follow."

Brose admitted that many township residents leave the township to shop, as was confirmed in a recent survey conducted by The Clarkston News.

"I don't think people realize what's available to them here in Clarkston," he said. "I don't think a lot of people know that because a lot of people are new."

Gary Metzger, whose parents started The Print Shop on Dixie Highway almost 15 years ago as a mom-and-pop operation, said small-business owners have to prove their value every day, no matter how long they've been around.

"When we started in Clarkston it was because it was growing at the time. There were very few print shops. It was an area we liked."

Gene Metzger, chairman and founder of The Print Shop (seated), is surrounded by (from left) son Gary, daughter-in-law Linda and son Doug.

Now there are lots of print shops, but it's the overall vacancy rate in local shopping strips that worries Metzger.

"The number of vacancies in the new strip malls is hurting business," he said. "We're seeing a lot of them that do not survive because there are so many strip malls."

"It's tough; you have to be willing to stick out the hard times . . . The cost of doing business alone makes it tough for someone starting out. I think it's a lot tougher today than it was 15 years ago. But we are happy doing business here."

Print shops often supply other small businesses. Therefore the growing numbers have been good for The Print Shop. But it also means standards of quality have to be maintained to compete for business.

'It's tough; you have to be willing to stick out the hard times.'

Gene Metzger

"We're dealing with other successful business people," Metzger said. "They don't want to deal with a printer that's not going to be around tomorrow."

A brochure at The Print Shop advises customers, "The commitment to personal attention, detail and quality became not only a philosophy, but a way of life for The Print Shop."

Michele Weverstad, a longtime Clarkston resident who just opened an American Speedy Printing Center in the Farmer Jack shopping center on Dixie Highway, hopes her guarantee of "It's right, it's on time or it's free" will convince new customers to give her a try.

Weverstad, who's owned a Speedy Printing in Grand Blanc for five years, said she picked Clarkston for her second store not just because she lives here and is active in the schools through her three children.

"There's a large business count and I think I can make a go of it," she said. "I'm going to offer these people what a good print shop should be. There's no other print shop that makes that guarantee."

Though the two-year-old shopping strip she chose has a lot of vacancies, Weverstad expects them to fill up soon. The leasing agent, Lorimax Properties, did not return calls from the News.

"I picked this location for visibility," Weverstad said. "They're coming from Waterford, Davisburg, Ortonville."

Goebel leaving to become a superintendent

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Clarkston High School assistant principal James W. Goebel has been hired by the Hesperia Community Schools to be its next superintendent.

Goebel will replace Max Kessler, who is retiring, at the helm of the Class C school district north of Muskegon. He takes over July 1.

Goebel has earned superintendent certification and said that when he came to Clarkston in 1992 it was with the goal of eventually becoming a superintendent.

Goebel was hired as principal at CHS in 1992. After a search committee turned up no satisfactory candidates, he received a call from Clarkston Superintendent Gary Haner, who suggested he apply for the job. He was eventually hired after being chosen by the search committee.

He was reassigned from principal to assistant principal last year at CHS at his own request.

"The superintendent and I are not on the same page," Goebel said last week in announcing his departure. "We view the world and people differently." Haner declined comment.

The job opening will be posted within the school district. "My anticipation is that we're only going to post it internally because we have some strong candidates," Haner said. Just a year ago, a search for another assistant principal was conducted, so some candidates may be available from that pool.

Posting the job outside the district "would depend on how many people apply," Haner said.

Goebel said he leaves Clarkston with no bitterness.

James Goebel

"I do go out with positive feelings about Clarkston," he said. "There have been some terrific kids here. The Athletic Boosters are as fine a group of people as I've ever met in 28 years at four different schools."

A Farmington native, Goebel graduated from the University of Detroit with majors in economics and business. He earned an MA from Eastern Michigan University and is working toward an Ed. Specialist degree.

He was principal at Spring Lake High School for five years. He also worked as a principal in Marlette Schools and taught at St. Agatha High School in Redford Township.

A member of the Clarkston Optimists, Goebel and his wife Virge have four children. Their youngest, Danielle, is a sophomore at CHS.

Goebel had high praise for the faculty and parents at CHS. "There is a very professional educational staff at the high school," he said. "I have found the parents to be very supportive in Clarkston."

Though leaving he invited more people to get involved with the schools, especially through the boosters.

"I encourage anyone in the community wishing to get involved with a friendly group of real people to join them," he said. "There isn't a phony in the whole club. They are so giving. They are fun to be around."

Goebel said he would miss the athletic scene, especially the wrestling team and the "Jungle," a group of students who sit together and cheer loudly at athletic events.

"The world will never have enough cheerleaders and I am proud to call myself one," Goebel said. "Despite some problems here, I will remember the good times and the good people when I think of the Clarkston Wolves."

5 file for school board seats

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Five people filed petitions before Monday's 4 p.m. deadline to run for two spots on the Clarkston board of education. The election is scheduled for June 13.

Incumbent Sheila Hughes will square off against Lee Rogers for a four-year term. Barry Bomier, Karen Foyteck and Kurt Shanks will battle over the remaining two years on the term of Joe Helpem, who resigned because he is leaving the district.

Hughes, 49, of Parview, is a bookkeeper at the Clarkston Cafe. A district resident since 1953 except for five years in Roseville, she has two children in school.

Hughes was elected to the board of education in 1990. She said she decided to run again because of her experience in the last teacher contract negotiations.

"We need to settle the contract with our teachers," she said. "We need to work with our teachers and our support staff within the money we're going to be receiving. We have to manage on the money we have."

Rogers, 46, of King Rd. in Davisburg, is a self-employed businessman. He ran for school board against Halpern once before and lost. He has been an outspoken critic of the current board and supervisor Gary Haner.

Bomier, 42, of Meadows Drive, works for EDS. He has lived in the school district for two years and has two school-age children.

He said he decided to run for school board out of a "commitment for involvement in my community."

Foyteck, 52, of Phelan Drive, is a former board member and former teacher. She served as a trustee from 1989 to 1993 and has three children who attended Clarkston schools K-12. She has lived in the district for 23 years and currently owns her own business, North Oakland Office Services.

"I received several inquiries from people who asked if I would be interested in running again," she said. "I thought about it. I have a lot of experience."

Shanks, 36, of Wembly Court, is a former member of the Rochester board of education. After serving one year on that board, he relocated to Clarkston about a year ago because of a job transfer. He is an engineer for General Motors. He has earned certification from the Michigan Association of School Boards.

Shanks said he feels it's important for someone with experience to fill the vacancy on the board. "It's a growing district. We're now on a fixed income. We really have to plan what we're going to do within that constraint."

Board settles suit

The Independence Township Board of Trustees has approved a consent judgement with Auto City over a plan for a gas station at I-75 and Sashabaw.

At its April 5 meeting, the board approved the plan which proposes a gas station, car wash, convenience store and three service bays. Auto City agreed to restructure plans for internal traffic and lighting.

In other action at the April 5 meeting:

- A rezoning of 19 acres across Sashabaw from Pine Knob Elementary School was rezoned from multiple family to office. The property contains wetlands and only five acres is considered usable.

- Tentative preliminary approval was granted to Bridge Valley Subdivision on Holcomb, north of I-75. The land is zoned suburban farms residential. Plans call for 67 lots on 151.55 acres. Another 73 lots will be located on 145 acres in Springfield Township.

Before final approval is granted, the two sides will have to come to an agreement on paving Holcomb Rd. and installing safety paths.

- Two parcels were rezoned from planned shopping center to office. The rezoning brings both parcels, which are less than two acres each, into conformance with zoning ordinances. One parcel is located on M-15 north of Citation Dr., the other on Sasahbaw Rd. north of Maybee.

- An Emergency Operation Plan Resolution was approved and fire chief Gar Wilson was named the local liaison to Oakland County. By adopting the resolution, the township is eligible for $30,000 in state funding in case of natural disasters resulting in a state of emergency.

- The board agreed to pay for chloriding of roads at a cost of 17 cents per lineal foot.

In Focus

by Annette Kingsbury

Ollie we hardly knew ye

Since L. Brooks Patterson was elected Oakland County Executive, media types have become accustomed to the frequent press releases and almost daily faxes his office sends out at taxpayer expense.

However nothing prepared me for the breathless, two-page letter which arrived in last week's mail regarding Memorial Day.

Dated April 4, it announced that Lt. Col. Oliver North would be the special guest at the dedication of a veterans' memorial on the county courthouse grounds May 28.

North would be introduced by Brooks (of course), and would be taking a brief hiatus from his campaign in Virginia, where he is running for the U.S. Senate.

North was also slated to be guest of honor at a breakfast that morning and a news conference. "Of course some of these details may be subject to change," the letter said.

Well, I guess so.

By April 7—just three days later—Detroit Free Press columnist Hugh McDiarmid broke the news that the gig was off.

"This will be a Memorial Day event people will remember and treasure for years to come," Patterson's letter said. "All of this topped off by several thousand emotionally charged people waving tiny American flags and singing 'Gob (sic) Bless America' as helicopters appear suddenly on the horizon—and then the somber, mournful sounds of Taps being played."

You could just see the film at 11.

Now you can call me a knee-jerk liberal (I've been called worse) but I just about gagged when I read the letter. Wasn't there someone better they could have selected for this special day?

Wasn't there a veteran available who hadn't been convicted of lying to Congress, of circumventing federal law, then saying the president told him to do it? One who hadn't later shot down by his own commander in chief, Ronald Reagan?

And wasn't there someone who wouldn't take advantage of a somber national holiday, one which commemorates the hundreds of thousands who have died to save our freedom? One who wouldn't turn such an event into a political stump for the national cameras to see on an otherwise slow news day?

It's Brooks' style to want to add a little glitz and glamour to the county's Memorial Day. For that I don't blame him. But it's interesting that the letter didn't mention that Ollie was planning some heavy-duty fund raising that day as well.

So much for the "historic event," as the letter called it. It would have been great fun. But somehow I think Memorial Day deserves better.

Time to work on education reform

Dear Editor:

In the aftermath of the success of Proposal A, I would like to thank all the citizens who took time to educate themselves about the plan and made the effort to vote on March 15. Though it may bring about some short-term problems, I believe that we have developed long-term solutions to high property taxes and inequity of school funding.

As your state representative during this changing time, I had the opportunity to talk to hundreds of individuals regarding taxes and education. The clear message voiced by the taxpayers of Michigan was in opposition to an increase in the income tax. I agree with their strong sentiments in this matter and will represent this position in Lansing.

Now is the time for the state legislature to address the issues which make up the other part of education reform. In order to keep education spending within the boundaries of inflation while enhancing the quality of education, we must tackle the issues of cost containment and school quality. I will work to assure that our students are receiving as much service and instruction for the tax dollar as possible.

Don't Rush Me

By Don Rush

Cats, who needs em?

I knew there was a reason I never wanted a cat for a pet. It just took me over 20 years to figure it out.

I want to thank the folks at the Associated Press for reporting the ugly facts about cats. The bottom line: those ever-fickle felines cannot be trusted. As it turns out they can be detrimental to human health. Cats and rats can carry and transmit the plague to people.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, "cats that roam newly suburbanized areas in the Southwest are a growing source of human plague."

I knew there was a reason why cats and rats have rhyming names. How's that for a reason of putting Tabby out in the barn and keeping him there?

Recalling my world history, back in the Middle Ages rats transmitted the disease to humankind, killing some whopping percentage of the European population. Black Death swept the continent leaving waste and ruin in its wake.

Will cats be the next harbingers of death? That A.P. story warned that before 1977 domestic cats were not known to transmit the disease, but since they have been identified as carriers in at least 15 cases.

Since 1942, they report, there have been 362 cases of human plague. From 1984-93 the disease was reported in 13 states as far south as Texas and north as Montana.

Living in Michigan keeps on looking better all the time.

Get this, cats can pick up the disease from fleas or rodents and pass it on to people when they bite, scratch or lick us. What I want to know is why would anybody in their right minds let a cat lick them?

Has anybody ever felt a good cat lickin'? Eee-ooo, it feels like wet, warm sand paper on your skin.

What's worse, cats don't even have to touch you to ruin your whole day — excuse me, your whole life. If they have the disease and have lesions in their mouth all they have to do is breathe on you and you're history. Sure, they're cute when they're kittens, but is it worth the gamble to keep them as pets?

After reading the A.P. article, I can see someone, maybe Stephen King, writing a novel about man's dubious ending as brought upon by the feline faction.

It could be called, "The Cat Got His Tongue." As I see it, the main character roams the country trying to tell everybody of the pestilage and where it's coming from . . . but he can't speak 'cause his tongue's swelled and he can't write because his hand shakes too much. Will mankind be saved?

It'd sell, I tell you.

The next time you see your dog, pet and hug him. Let him lick your face — and don't worry, it's safe.

A look back

15 Years Ago

A wind storm caused half of Independence Township to lose power for more than a day. Five of the six community wells shut down.

Main Street Blues

Deborah Dziewit

Every two weeks I look forward to sitting in on the Clarkston City Council meetings.

Some might ask why.

Well for one it's my job. It's part of my beat, my territory. Since September, I have gone to every meeting except for one. Many times I sit alone in a sea of empty seats.

While the city isn't hopping with action every two weeks, it still is local government at work.

That's the other reason I like showing up every second and fourth Monday of the month — I get to see first-hand how a city operates.

Jeanne Selander Miller, Steve Arkwright, William Basinger, Doug Roeser, Mayor Sharron Catalo, Jim Schultz, Karen Sanderson and Steve Secatch sit before me with Art Pappas, city manager, who contributes from one of the audience seats. They manage this small city to what I perceive is the best of their ability.

Sure, sometimes the agenda seems thin and not very important. Other times, the topics are monumental and most decidedly will affect the residents of the city.

Right now the council has been investigating the possibility, and I say possibility, of building a city water system.

In light of several residents' wells showing evidence of contaminants, and the strong possibility others wells could very well soon show up with the contaminants too, the council wonders if a water system would be in the best interest for all.

The council has held public hearings and has presented preliminary engineering estimates for construction of a city water main as part of their on-going investigation of should they or should they not go with such a system.

In May, residents will be asked to answer to the best of their knowledge questions regarding their wells. The council would like to know how deep is the well, where is it located, what size is it, and how old is the well.

They would like to know how residents feel about the quality of their water. Do they fear that their water is contaminated or will be soon?

What they don't want is for some to jump the gun and think they are pushing for city water. While I know some of the council personally believe it would be for the best, I know they also want what's best for the city and its residents.

To help the city council do their job, fill out the survey to the best of your ability. Fill it out honestly.

Clarkston Schools were presented a minute man flag by the U.S. Treasury Department for having 90 percent of their students buy war stamps during a given month.

Shirley I. Bachi and Major Charles Harris of the U.S. Marines were married April 9.

Detroit Edison began to advertise "mechanical pigs" which grind up bones and scraps and wash them down the sink.

60 Years Ago

"It seems that about a week ago a group of ladies set out to spend the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Iva Miller. They reached the road leading to the Miller home, but found it in terrible condition. Rather than have to tow or push the cars, Mrs. Miller went to the rescue with a horse and buggy.

"When the ladies went to make their departure there were too many for the poor horse so Mrs. Miller had her son get out the team of mules and the wagon and what a time those women had! They drove through the orchard and dodged all the unpassable spots on the road."

Take the time and send it back.

And if you are concerned that the city might be trying force feed a water system on you or you want the city to seriously pursue putting in a city water system, you might try coming to more meetings and see for yourself — all they have is your best interests in mind.

Besides, not only will you see for yourself what the council does two times a month, I wouldn't feel quite so lonely.

Clarkston kindergarten orientation scheduled

Parents with kindergarten-aged children are asked to schedule an appointment for Clarkston Schools' orientation program for the 1994-95 school year.

The two-hour program will be conducted in two parts. The parent will meet with teachers and be shown the programs available. The kindergarten will meet with teachers and attend scheduled activities.

Following are the dates, places and phone numbers to call for the orientation programs:

- Andersonville Elementary on April 25 from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. or 12:45 to 2:45 p.m. Phone 625-5300.

- Bailey Lake Elementary on April 26 from 9:15 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. or 12:45 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. Phone 625-2812.

- Clarkston Elementary on April 27 from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. or 12:45 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. Call 625-4900.

- North Sashabaw Elementary on April 28 from 9:15 to 11:15 or 12:45 to 2:45 p.m. Call 674-3139.

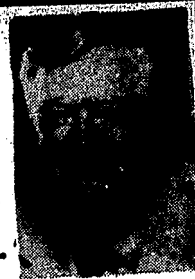

- Pine Knob Elementary on April 29 from 9:15 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. or 12:45 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. Call 625-1583.

- Springfield Plains Elementary on May 4 from 9:15 to 11:45 or 12:45 to 2:45 at Oakland Technical Center on Big Lake Road. Call Andersonville Elementary at 625-5300.

Parents are asked to bring two pieces of proof of residency, child's social security number and birth certificate. They are also asked to bring only the child registering for school to the program.

If it Fitz

By Jim Fitzgerald

Waiting-room humor as funny as falling off a porch

One morning while vacationing in an ultra-exclusive resort area on the Gulf of Mexico in Florida, I woke up in my ultra-expensive beachside condo to find an ultra-strange woman in my bedroom.

And a thief stole my money.

And there was the danger of getting squashed by a falling porch.

And I returned to Michigan to find fearful bloody smudges on several windows of my home.

But my vacation wasn't all laughs.

There was the day I was sitting in a roomful of strangers who looked a lot like me. A television was on and a newsman mentioned the birth date of a well-known actress who'd just died. The man in the next chair suddenly spoke.

"Hey, that's the same year I was born," he said. "Did they say what she died of?"

"Old age," I said.

I thought my answer was funny, but the man didn't laugh. He must have been an owner, not a renter.

All these men who looked like me -- elderly -- were in the waiting room of an auto dealership, waiting for their cars to be serviced. Vanderbilt Beach, near Naples, is full of people whose long-lived-in exteriors plainly explain why Florida often is called God's Waiting Room.

Vacationing visitors like me can make jokes about it, as though longevity doesn't count as much if you'll be leaving soon for your home and job up north. But retired permanent or half-year residents are naturally more conscious of the waiting, which might as well include all morning at a car dealership, as long as there's a television or something to read, because what's the difference?

And they're less likely than renters to laugh at a smart-ass suggestion that their wait is almost over.

They do, however, chuckle over the God-given sunset advantage that allows only owners to see a brief green flash on the water when the last of the sun disappears into the gulf. Renters lack sufficiently sensitive perspective, not to mention money.

Also, renters aren't nearly as accustomed as owners are to the hired exterminators who regularly come knocking at even rented doors to spray against bugs. My wife admitted a quick-moving female sprayer whom she thought was headed for the bathroom, not the bedroom.

I took one look at the surprise visitor, decided she wasn't my type, and pulled the covers over my head. When the sprayer disappeared, so did $30 I'd left on a handy counter.

The theft didn't make me homesick for Detroit, where I was never robbed of cash (only cars) during 18 years' exposure. However, a nearby high-rise did make me nostalgic for the boarded-up storefronts of downtown Detroit.

Each apartment has huge glass doors that slide open onto screened-in porches offering a magnificent view of the gulf. Except it was recently discovered that the porch floors were improperly constructed, so the doors were boarded up, just like the average slum building with a fancy sign in front saying Vanderbilt Beach Yacht and Racquet Club.

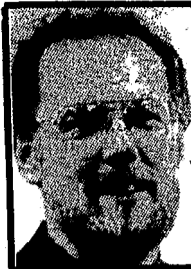

Recalling that the Coleman Young administration tried to fool GOP convention visitors by painting phony awnings and curtains on the boarded-up windows of empty hotels, I was tempted to suggest to a Vanderbilt Beach owner that statues of yachting racqueteers be erected on the weak porches. But I didn't want anyone to think I was a smart-ass again.

As for returning home to bloody windows on our little house in the woods, my wife guessed it was a reader's colorful objection to something I wrote about blood sports.

But a bird expert - Dan Hayes of Dryden's Seven Ponds Nature Center - said the mess was most likely made by robins or cardinals protecting their territory by attacking their own reflections in the glass.

Which, of course, proves waiting rooms are not for the birds.

Guest commentary

Ask the therapist / Stan Garwood, MA, MSW

I work with someone who causes conflicts with just about everyone in the office. Sometimes she's so mean, people have quit because of something she's said or done. We suspect she's an alcoholic, and it's affecting her work. (We have smelled alcohol on her breath but have never seen her drink at work.) Is there anything we can do?
Signed,

Worried at Work

Dear Worried at Work:

I perceive two issues addressed in your letter. The first one is the rules which regulate appropriate social interaction, especially in the office setting. The second is alcoholism and its effects in the work place.

Common sense and common decency govern the way we interact with our peers. Typically, we expect to be treated the same way we treat others. That is not to say we won't have an off day where we feel upset, irritable, or moody, causing us to behave accordingly. Usually, we will shy away from socializing in any form as a means of protecting our office mates and retaining their good opinion of us.

The "someone" you describe definitely does not fit this description. I'm assuming that your person fails to respond to the normal corrective measures which we humans expect of each other.

Your quandry speaks of understanding this person's behavior. You speculate that alcoholism is the primary culprit. Certainly, the behavior you reported corresponds to a chemically dependent person, e.g., mood swings, unpredictability, irritability, miscommunication, etc. Also, chemically dependent people are more likely to not respond to corrective measures.

You or whoever is closest to her could discuss your observations with her. While doing this, be sure to ask how she plans to improve her attitude toward her fellow office workers. If this plan fails, sit down with her supervisor and report what you have told me. Ultimately, it is his/her responsibility to deal with her in an effort to preserve good office morale. If it is agreed that alcoholism is the problem, she should be counseled to obtain the necessary treatment. Her behavior most likely will not improve if she refuses to get the help she needs.

Searching for Clarkston History

The Clarkston Community Historical Society has teamed up with several teachers in the Clarkston School District to bring local history to second-graders.

With financial backing from the Historical Society, Rosemary Lewis, Julie Matthies and Bill Genshaw are writing a textbook which will chronicle the history of the community from the time the first white settlers arrived to the present day. The Historical Society hopes to have the book published by October and into the schools soon after.

Much of the research so far as been done in the Heritage Room of the Independence Township Library. But now the Historical Society is looking for old photographs of the town and its people to be used in the book.

Kim Huttenlocher, president of the Historical Society, said all photos will be handled carefully and returned to their owner. Credit will be given in the book for any phot used.

If you have photos you are willing to loan, call Huttenlocher at 625-2499.

Neighbors worry about Morgan Lk.

Orion Township that was only recently paved.

The development encompasses 285.9 acres along Maybee north of I-75 near Mt. Zion church. In addition to a public, 18-hole golf course, it includes plans for 253 homes on a total of 77.91 acres and will be developed in six phases.

Of those, 74 units would be detached condos on proposed 60-foot-wide lots. Single-family homes on 90-foot lots would total 109 units. Seventy attached condos are planned.

The developers, Albert Semaan and Sam Kasab, of Bloomfield Hills, are asking for a rezoning from residential to Planned Residential Development, which requires amending the township zoning ordinance.

"Our major concern is this," said John Torrone, a Rohr Rd. resident. "Our road is going to be the shortcut to the golf course."

Torrone said Rohr Rd. residents recently taxed themselves through a special assessment district to pave their road. Now it is going to be used by construction equipment and golfers heading to the new development.

"What I'm proposing is there won't be any entrances off Ruhr Rd.," Torrone said. "There'll be another entrance on Maybee; they're going to pave Maybee."

Torrone's concerns generated a letter from Orion Township Supervisor Doug Brown (who lives on Baldwin Rd.) to Independence Township Supervisor Dale Stuart. However it appears Torrone's wishes won't be acted on by Independence Township.

"Certainly there's going to be an increase in traffic in the general area," Stuart said. "Their concern that all the traffic is going to be going into Orion is a little exaggerated. I think that is an alarm that isn't very realistic."

The development has two entrances on Maybee, two on Ruhr. The plans show the clubhouse and entrance to the course are on Maybee Rd. So in order to enter from Rohr, golfers would have to travel through the residential neighborhoods of the project.

"It's not meant for those (entrances on Rohr) to be the main entrance," Stuart said.

But Torrone, citing "human nature," figures drivers will aim for a shortcut if they can.

"One township is doing the developing but the other township will feel all the impact," he said. "My biggest concern is they're not talking to each other."

Stuart dismisses that idea as unworkable since Orion Township has no jurisdiction. "We have told them they're welcome to come to the public hearing. They may have an opinion but they don't have any legal basis."

Though some fine-tuning of the proposal may still occur, it appears unlikely the developers will be asked to make any major changes at this late date.

"They've worked very hard," Stuart said. "They've done a lot to improve a lot of things. I think we've gotten the most from them we can expect."

Depot Park closed

Depot Park will be closed until June when the new play equipment will be put in and the old equipment renovated.

City workers removed the old equipment Saturday so that Depot Park Committee volunteers and DPW workers could begin working on refurbishing the old while making room for the new equipment which is expected to arrive by late May.

Meanwhile, the committee continues to hold fund raisers for equipment and the playground surface.

On April 16, a White Elephant Sale will be held at the Masonic Temple at the corners of Washington and Main. Donated items can be dropped off the night before (Friday) at the lodge or contact Kathy Christopher at 625-0946.

On Thursday May 19, a Italian wine and food tasting will be held at the Deer Lake Racquet Club to benefit the park. For ticket information contact Jeanne Selander Miller at 625-2753, Dianne Pullan at 620-1220 or Mickey MacWilliams at 625-0070.

Walk for nature's preservation

The Michigan Nature Association will hold its first walk-a-thon to support its efforts to raise money to purchase and preserve wetlands in Oakland County.

The proceeds from the April 30 walk-a-thon will go toward the purchase of its newest sanctuary on M-15 north of Oakhill Road. Walkers will begin at the HT Bert Elementary School and walk six miles to the sanctuary and after a tour, will walk back to the school.

Drinks will be provided by the Dixie Highway and Sashabaw Road McDonalds.

Those interested can pre-register at the Village

Book Store, Greg's Gourmet Cafe and Kinetic Systems in Clarkston or Featherstone True Value Hardware and Barry Young Real Estate in Ortonville.

Walkers can also register on the day of the walk-a-thon at 11:30 a.m. at the Brandon township school. An MNA T-shirt will be given to anyone who collects $100 or more. For every $50 collected, the walker's name will go into a drawing for one of gift certificates donated by Ortonville-Clarkston area merchants.

New school ahead of schedule

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Though Clarkston schools had not expected to take possession of its new elementary school until mid-August, superintendent Gary Haner said Monday night the building may be complete as soon as July 1.

The board of education heard reports from two of its bond-issue consultants and approved some work at its regular meeting April 11. Bill Stewart of A. J. Etkin said the elementary school is ahead of schedule, with interior finish work now under way.

A public walk-through has been scheduled for May 1. The public is invited to see the school from 2 to 4 p.m.

"It should be interesting for those who are having their kids go to the new school in the fall," Haner said.

Tim O'Brien of O'Brien Waterford gave an update on bond work at Pine Knob Elementary and Clarkston High School. At CHS, the roof over the new media center is enclosed but weather is causing a delay in putting up concrete board. O'Brien said the boards will be put up on a weekend before school is out.

At Pine Knob, work on drainage will be completed after school is out for the summer. The work will "totally eliminate ponding" that is a problem now, Haner said.

In other action at Monday's meeting:

● The board approved the hiring of an elementary-school principal and an assistant principal at the technical center.

Mary Kay Aukee was hired to fill the vacancy at assistant principal at Oakland Technical Center Northwest. She comes from Detroit's Crockett Career Technical Center and lives in West Bloomfield.

Aukee has BA, MA and Ed. Specialist degrees from Wayne State University and teaches art at WSU part-time. She was Detroit's Teacher of the Year in 1985-86 and has also been named Administrator of the Year by VICA, the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America.

Chris Turner of Clarkston was hired to fill the vacancy as principal at Bailey Lake Elementary. He is currently principal at Jefferson Elementary in Ferndale. He holds a BS from Central Michigan University and MA and Ed. Specialist degrees from Oakland University. He is a mentor teacher and wrote a book on his profession.

Both new hires were in the audience Monday night and said they were thrilled to be coming to Clarkston.

"I can't wait until July," Aukee said.

● New textbooks were adopted for Transition to Algebra and Applied Geometry. Cost is $14,250 and is part of a five-year textbook budget.

● Expenditures for OTCNW's culinary program of $17,689 were approved. Haner said the money will be reimbursed out of a county millage which supports the technical centers.

● The board unanimously passed a resolution expressing its support for legislation pending in the Michigan House on school cost containment.

The proposed legislation supports the right of school boards to select health carriers for employees, to enforce penalties in case of strikes, and to hire non-teaching staff from the "private sector."

Parental involvement topic of speech

Michigan's 1994 Superintendent of the Year, Dr. Herb Moyer of Bedford Schools, will talk about parental involvement in the schools on April 19 at 7 p.m. at Pine Knob Elementary School.

The event is sponsored by the Clarkston PTA Council. Pine Knob Elementary is located at 6020 Sashabaw Rd. The event is free and open to the public.

Moyer will talk about what role parents have in the changing educational climate, how parents can make a difference and Public Act 25 and the school-improvement process. He will also talk about how his own school district has been successful in academics, sports and parent involvement despite limited funds.

Grief can take care of itself, but to get the full value of a joy you must have somebody to divide it with.

If you're building a house, meet your new furnace.

Geothermal: An energy source straight from the earth that is four times more efficient than conventional heating and cooling systems.

You've made the decision to build a new home. Now, it's time to discover Geothermal.

Geothermal is the most advanced, cost-effective heating and cooling system available. It uses the earth's constant temperature to create an even, comfortable temperature in your home, along with a ready supply of hot water. A Geothermal system can save you up to 60% on your annual heating, cooling and hot water costs. The system is four times more efficient than natural gas, oil or propane. Plus, it's good to the earth, using a natural and renewable energy source that's clean and safe with no open flame or fumes. Sound complicated? It's not. It's extremely easy to operate and requires virtually no maintenance.

Sound ideal? It's time to get better acquainted.

Spring Training

Long distance runner John Zamora takes many turns around the track to get ready for the spring track season which begins this week. Many of the Clarkston athletes who did not go somewhere for spring break could be found most mornings on or near the track or on a field, despite the cold weather, or in the gym.

Inexperience doesn't hinder young Wolves

Netters defeat Hartland, 4-3

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

For a young and inexperienced team, Clarkston tennis players in their first match-up did good by defeating an equally young Hartland team 4-3.

Top seed Mike Aulgur defeated Chris Morgan 7-5, 6-2. A freshman, he played well in his first match of the season and won the deciding match for the Wolves.

"He came from behind and won, but what he didn't know was that the game was the deciding factor for us," Coach Dick Swartout said.

Second seed and Clarkston's only returning senior Pat Wall beat Joe Lanave 6-3, 6-3 in what Coach Swartout called an easy match for Wall.

Mike Kopec, a third-seed sophomore, outplayed Achim Reith, 6-1, 6-3.

Freshmen doubles partners Chris Fizyta and Kyle Stout defeated Kevin Hemayer and Matt Gainster 7-6, (7-3), 6-2.

"It was nice for the freshmen who were in a pressure situation to come out and win," Swartout said.

Pat Wall, second-seed senior, and Mike Aulgur, first-seed freshman, wait for their matches to begin during the tennis teams' match against Hartland. The Wolves won 4-3.

Freshman Kevin Kopec lost his first time out to Sam Mack 6-4, 6-4.

The double partners came out winning the first set, but each lost the next two matches, which according to Swartout was good considering none of the doubles teams had played together before.

Rob Geockkel and Zac Sanger lost 4-6, 6-2, 6-3 to Dustin Hanson and B.J. Alicandro. Dan Brazier and Elliot Romig lost to Brad Charles and Keith Reynolds 5-7, 6-3, 6-2.

Both Clarkston and Hartland are beginning the season rebuilding with untried players comprised mainly of freshmen and sophomores.

"This is a brand new team and I'm happy that we won," Swartout said. "We only have two kids, Pat and Mike Kopec, who have played before."

Bats cold, Wolves drop pair to Rochester, 11-6, 5-2

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston Wolves varsity baseball team dropped a pair in the Monday afternoon home opener against Rochester, 11-6 and 5-2.

Rochester took an early lead by scoring four runs in their first time at bat against senior pitcher Brad Ryerse.

"When that happens, the offense is taken away and we tend to play safe," said coach Roy Warner. Clarkston scored its first run in the third and tried for a comeback in the seventh by scoring seven runs, but it wasn't enough.

Brent Bundridge, a senior outfielder, was two for four, Jeff Golec, a senior, was one for two and Mike Turk, a junior, was one for two in the first game.

In the second game, Rochester came out again in the first inning and scored three runs. They made it across the plate two more times in the third, for a total of five runs.

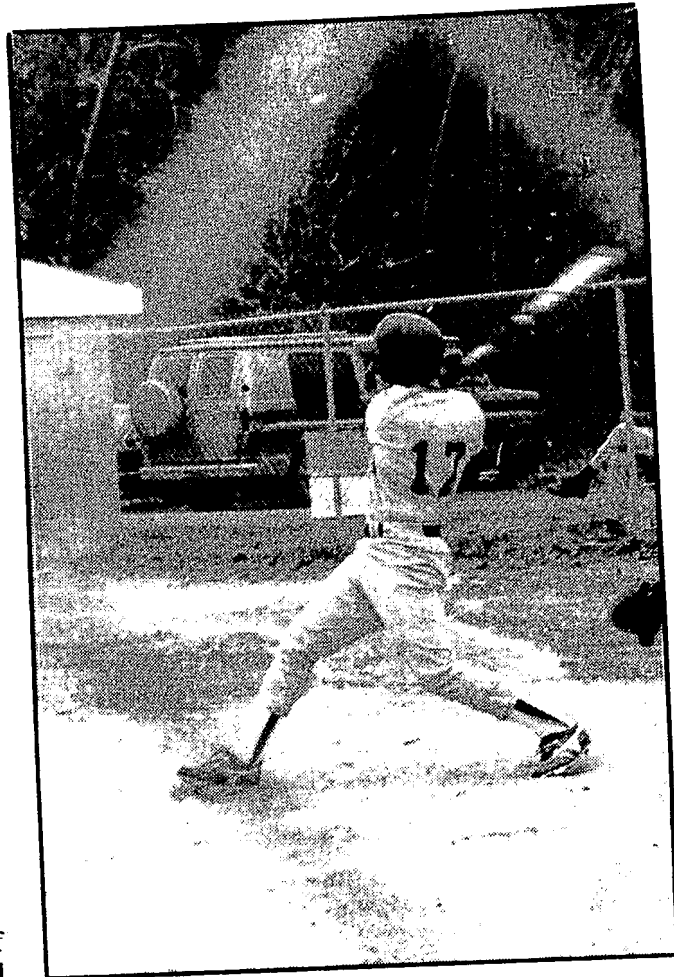

The Wolves were held scoreless until the fifth inning, when they came back with two runs. The game was called at the end of the fifth, with the score ending 5-2.

"We had the bases loaded in the fifth, all we needed was a couple of more hits and we could have won it," Warner said.

Jeff Golec hit a triple and was one for three, Jeff Mull was one for two, Joel Sanford hit a double and Matt Stutzman was one for one.

Pitcher Mike Turk got the loss for the Wolves. Spring break did the team no favors.

"We could have used a couple of days of practice after everyone got back," Warner said. "With everyone in Florida and just getting back, we needed a few days to regroup."

Kevin Covert (left) takes a swing during Monday's game against Rochester. Jeff Golec hit a triple in the second game. The Wolves lost both games, 11-6, 5-2.

Shaping up for spring sports?

It's that time of year for weekend warriors to rush out to softball parks, tennis courts and bike paths. Unfortunately, the next stop is often the emergency room or doctor's office. Why?

Most weekend athletes fail to get into shape before starting spring sports. The team physician for four Detroit professional sports teams, a member of the staff at Henry Ford Hospital, suggests starting a flexibility and aerobic conditioning program at least four weeks in advance.

Zoogle's oodles of fun

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

What were those flying neon sticks that caused children to loose arms and legs at Sashabaw Middle School last week? Zoogles of course!

Zoogle, a stick game anyone can play, was featured in gym classes throughout the school.

"We're always looking for something different to do," said teacher Sue Koslosky. "We try to do things that everyone can participate in. Regular sports are a little limiting."

Inventor Willie Caudill was on hand to demonstrate the game and tell how his experience with polio led to the development of Zoogle.

A native of Kingdom Come Creek, Ky. — population 75. Caudill came from a family of seven boys and one girl.

He went to the hospital at age three after he bruised his hip while playing and contracted polio. He stayed in the hospital until he was seven.

Since he was physically challenged by polio, Caudill was unable to participate in sports where balls and pucks were used. Zoogle is a game anyone can play, including people in wheelchairs.

Caudill said while he was in the hospital he got around just fine. He didn't know there would be sports he wouldn't be able to fully participate in since he couldn't walk on his own.

"Not only could I not walk, I had to wear a body cast," he said with a slight drawl.

The body cast made him look "like a big red-headed turtle" and hindered movement.

Doctors would put the little boy on the floor and let him drag himself around the hospital.

"I dragged myself into the laundry room one time and fell asleep under a pile of dirty laundry. It took them five hours to find me — they thought I dragged myself down the street."

When he was five years old the doctor gave him a compact stretcher to use "and I was flying around everywhere."

"I thought I was a great athlete," Caudill said. After all, he and his "wheels" could out run any nurse, doctor or janitor in the hospital.

Then, at age seven he was sent home — minus the wheels.

"I (had) those six brothers aggravating me all the time. I had to out-smart them."

Caudill was suppose to use crutches, but found he was able to move faster using a chair. He walked alone for the first time after a little brother pinched him and ran out the door.

He was able to play with his brothers, but since he couldn't move as fast he was at a disadvantage. A game without running and jumping was needed to even the sides. The idea for Zoogle was finalized in 1978.

Zoogle is a 2 1/2 foot long foam tube thrown from one opponent to another. It can only be caught on the black end. Players are not allowed to lift or slide their feet during play and penalties are given for bad throws.

If the Zoogle is caught in the colored part, or if the colored end hits the leg — that leg is not to be used through the rest of the game.

Points are given is your opponent misses a throw, it hits him in the "Zoogle Zone" (head and torso), the color part is touched or for wild throws.

You win if your opponent looses both arms or legs, or if you earn seven points.

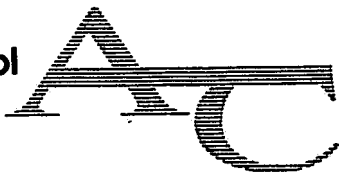

Caudill has been traveling for five years introducing his game throughout the nation, in Japan, England and Australia. He has been to 452 schools and 82 colleges. Caudill said he has covered 30,000 miles in Michigan since October.

What's new in business

Mother, daughter specialize in dreams

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

For most, their wedding is the most memorable day of their lives — and the most hectic.

"We really want to help the bride with everything to make her day special. We wanted the bride to have one place to get many things done," said Thelma Wright who owns Brides & Dreams with her daughter, Cassandra Hill.

Brides & Dreams is a sort of one-stop shopping for the bride-to-be. Gowns, undergarments, shoes, bridesmaid and mothers' dresses and tuxedo rentals are housed in one store.

Wright said they offer all clothing needs for the bride since they had a lot of running around to do for Hill's wedding. They found a gown but had to go to another store for undergarments before they knew what the dress really looked like. Then, they had to go somewhere else to buy all the accessories.

The idea for a business came to the pair after Wright lost her position of 21 years with Comerica after a merger.

"I asked Cassandra 'If I opened a business, what would you want to do?' If you have to go to work, it might as well be something you enjoy," Wright said.

Wright, of Springfield Township, and Hill, of Lake Orion, opened their store, located in Independence Square on Sashabaw Road, a week ago.

"I like Clarkston. I like the area and the people. There aren't any specialty stores like this in the area. So now you don't have to travel 20 miles to find (a bridal gown)," said Wright.

The pair has hired a consultant who assists them in obtaining good and reliable merchandise with gowns averaging between $600 and $700. They have gowns for larger women and hope to get a designer who makes dresses solely for those sizes.

"I think there's a need for dresses in those sizes," said Wright. Currently their dresses go up to size 30.

There are two small dressing rooms for prom dresses, mothers' gowns and bridesmaid's dresses. Two large rooms with three-way mirrors are for the bride-to-be. A large showroom with another mirror can be used by the bride to show her dress to many people.

Just because you don't see exactly what you want at the store doesn't mean the pair can't get it for you.

"We like special requests," said Hill. "We don't want to be limited to what is in the store. We want to be here for the bride. It's her day."

THELMA WRIGHT and her daughter, Cassandra Hill in Brides & Dreams. The new store located on Sashabaw Road sells every piece of clothing needed for weddings.

Opinions vary on fire insurance rates

Best bet: talk to your agent

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

When Independence Township received its new fire protection class rating March 1, some Clarkston residents thought they would see their rating drop too; thus their home insurance rates would decrease.

However, while the township's rate went from a Class 8 to a Class 5, Clarkston remains for the most part a Class 9.

The Insurance Service Organization determines the ratings which are used by insurance companies to help them calculate the amount a homeowner will pay for an insurance policy.

Independence Township was re-evaluated by the ISO last fall. ISO results gave the township a reduced rating because of its improved water system, which includes an increased number of fire hydrants, and the improved capabilities of its fire department, Gar Wilson, fire chief, said.

"ISO spent two weeks on-site evaluating the departments' wells, water flow capabilities, the equipment and manpower available," Wilson said.

For those living in the township within 1,000 feet of a fire hydrant, insurance premiums could begin to show a reduction upon renewal time.

However, city resident Robert Suran of Overlook Drive, lives in a house less than 1000 feet from a township hydrant. But according to ISO ratings his home remains a Class 9 by ISO standards.

"I paced off how far I was from a hydrant," Suran said. "It's about 620 feet from my house."

If he lived in the township, his rating would have dropped to a Class 5. However, because he lives within the city borders, he receives a Class 9 rating as a result from the ISO ratings.

"The village, at the last time of an evaluation, had no hydrants directly in the village, so it gets a Class 9," Rodger Wesch, ISO field representative said.

If Clarkston residents were to approve the construction of a water main throughout the city and would include hydrants, ISO ratings would more than likely go down to a Class 5, Wesch said.

As of now, 26 residents along North Main Street could see the benefits of a reduced rating. Construction will begin on a water main for the residents because of contaminated water. Through a state grant, the residents will be tied into the township water system.

But according to insurance agents in the Clarkston area, city residents like Suran and those along North Main Street could see a reduction in their rating and thus their premiums; however, savings will not be high.

"If we're looking at a $130,000 brick home, the homeowner could save $1. For a frame home, the savings could be $20 to $40," said an agent who asked not to be identified because of company policy.

Another agent said that the jump between a Class 8 to a 5 in insurance terms is only a drop of one, not three. His company groups the ratings 4, 5 and 6 together and 7, 8, and 8a (a 9 to other companies). They base their premium calculations on the different groupings.

One local agent said that while his company begins with ISO class ratings, it deviates from the standard.

He predicted residents going from a Class 8 to a Class 5 could see a $40 to $60 difference in their premiums.

Another agent said the saving could be more. "On an 150,000 home which is rated a 9, who spends $627 a year on insurance could go down as much as $400 a year on insurance if rated a 5," said one local insurance agent.

But many agents said that many Clarkston residents are already being charged at a lower rate than the Class 9 designated by ISO.

On the other hand, non-residential buildings might see a larger savings with a drop in a class rating.

If the building is brick and has an approximate value of $150,000, the premium could drop from $747 to $564 — a $183 savings. If the building is worth $250,000, the premium savings would be $365 with it dropping from $1,123 to $758.

For those who lease office space in a brick building and claim $50,000 in value, can save $30. Those with $100,000 would save $75.

City residents who question their ratings are advised to check with their insurance agents, since insurance companies don't have to follow the standards exactly, ISO's Wesch said.

"Those homeowners might check with their agents. They may deviate from ISO recommendations and may give them within the distance a better rate," he said.

When ISO publishes its June 1 report, a few areas of Clarkston could possibly receive a lowered rating, he said.

Home Base is for special kids

If your child is not able to attend Head Start for whatever reason, another program called Home Base may be an option.

The Oakland Livingston Human Services Agency is now accepting applications for the Home Base program for the 1994-95 school year in communities including Clarkston.

Home Base is for families who may not be able to involve their children in a Head Start center-based program. Its basis is on the parent as the primary teacher of the child.

A Home Base teacher will visit the home once a week and provide learning activities. Larger socialization activities are provided twice a month. Home Base also assists parents in obtaining other services, such as immunizations, dental care and counseling.

For more information regarding enrollment, call 858-5162 or 858-5185.

Free pumpkin seeds

Halloween Jack-o-lanterns are about eight months away, but it's not too early to think about planting pumpkins, especially if you want to enter the first southeastern Michigan Giant Pumpkin and Vegetable Contest.

Although judging isn't until October 15, the sponsors, Van Houtte's Market in Armada, and the cable television program, "See How They Grow," are kicking off the contest with an offer any reader of garden catalogs will surely jump at.

According to "See How They Grow" producer and contest co-sponsor Larry Gavette, beginning April 1 anyone sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the sponsors will receive two free Giant Pumpkin seeds and instructions on how to grow them. Pumpkins from any seed source can enter.

The source of the free seeds is co-sponsor Don Van Houtte, regional winner of the World Pumpkin Confederation competition in Lansing last year with a 692-pounder. Van Houtte's son, Mike, took second with a 666-pound specimen.

"The contest is an effort to introduce people to the world of the large pumpkin. There will be cash prizes for the three heaviest pumpkins, the best decorated pumpkins as well as the biggest vegetables brought to the judging site the day of the contest," Gavette says.

Children under 16 can enter painted, carved and adorned pumpkins in the decorative category. Older entrants in the decorative category will have to rely solely on etching the skin of the pumpkin to enter the decorative category.

"Pumpkins will scar if the skin is cut or scratched," Gavette says. "Our contest will just be bringing that healing tendency and people's imaginations and artistic talents together to make a living, growing masterpiece."

To aid in the growing of these monster vegetables, the cable access program, "See How They Grow," will be giving hints throughout the growing season.

"There is no reason, except maybe lack of space, that anyone can't raise a Giant Pumpkins," Gavette says. "Hopefully, my program will make it even easier, but like other vegetables, it really is just a matter of planting the seeds and waiting."

"See How They Grow" is shown weekly on TCI Cable in Clarkston.

REAL ESTATE UPDATE

NEW OR EXISTING HOME?

FIRST-TIME-BUYERS
should look at existing homes for greater selection

Should I go into Real Estate?
"ASK RON"

QUESTION: We are ready to buy our first home. Would you advise buying a new or an existing home?

ANSWER: For starters, you will probably find a wider selection of older homes for sale. Also, when you compare living space, location, construction materials, and other factors, you may be getting more for your money if you buy an older home.

Older homes tend to be closer to established shopping areas, churches, and other neighborhood attractions. Homes in established neighborhoods also have a more "settled" look, with mature trees and shrubbery. However, new houses have obvious maintenance advantages.

Sheriff's log for Independence Township

FRIDAY, APRIL 1, breaking and entering of a residence on Mary Sue. A back door was forced and a TV and VCR were reported missing. The crime lab was notified.

Malicious destruction of a mailbox on Lancaster.

A 24-year-old Highland man was arrested on an outstanding warrant after being stopped for speeding.

SATURDAY, APRIL 2, a 39-year-old Livonia man who tried to change a tire while intoxicated was arrested on an outstanding warrant on Dixie.

Malicious destruction of a mailbox on Chapelview.

Possible breaking and entering of a residence on Wellesley. A large foot print on the front door showed where entry had been gained, but nothing appeared missing and two people were home asleep at the time.

An egg thrown from a passing car on Maybee caused some damage to the paint of a 1994 Toyota.

A camera, coat and rosary were stolen from a car parked on Tucson.

SUNDAY, APRIL 3, a 47-year-old Clarkston man was arrested on an outstanding warrant after police were advised they could find him on Ascension St.

Nine homes on Misty Hill had their lawns maliciously damaged overnight.

Three Clarkston boys, ages 14 and 16, were released to their parents after police found them loitering and in possession of marijuana. Juvenile petitions are being sought.

MONDAY, APRIL 4, an 18-year-old Clarkston woman was found to be in possession of a slingshot and ammunition for it while bike riding on Andersonville Rd. However since no damage had been reported, she was released to her parent.

A Waldon Rd. resident found his door unlocked and a TV and VCR missing.

Three Pontiac residents, ages 17 and 18, were found to be in possession of open containers of alcohol when stopped in traffic on Mann Rd.

A Hillsboro resident reported a missing license plate was believed stolen.

A woman reported she left her purse in a shopping cart at a Dixie Highway shopping center. When she returned it was gone. The purse contained $400 in cash, plus credit cards and checks.

TUESDAY, APRIL 5, a spare tire was reported stolen from a pick-up truck on Greenview.

Malicious destruction of a home under construction on Wagoner Circle. Holes were punched in drywall, and a microwave, light and screens were broken, as was a lock on the garage door. Kerosene was dumped and the walls were scrawled with obscenities.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, $2,800 in cash and credit-card receipts were stolen from a Dixie Highway restaurant. The thief pried the back door and the office door.

A 27-year-old Mt. Morris man was turned over to deputies on an outstanding warrant for driving with a suspended license.

Renee says

BY RENEE KOLENDA
CLARKSTON HIGH SCHOOL

When they say your senior year is the most memorable, they left out saying it's the most stressful and expensive.

I am a senior at Clarkston High School this year and as it's coming to a close, with about two months left, it's getting more expensive every day.

It started with senior pictures. This is an exciting event. You get to have all these beautiful pictures taken of you in any way you like. This will set you back about $500. My parents were real excited about that. But in return, you receive some very nice photos to hand out to your family and friends.

Then comes your senior trip. You have to plan and get with a travel agent in October. You have to know who you're going to go with.

Usually by the time March rolls around you're in a huge fight with the person you're sharing a hotel room with and you never want to see or speak to that person again, let alone spend spring break with them!

Then come all the jobs you'll have to have to get the money for the trip, unless you're lucky enough to have your parents dish out the dough. It all comes up to about a thousand dollars, depending on where you want to go.

We can't forget prom. This is a very memorable event as well. It's a time you'll never forget and neither will your pocketbook. Dress, tuxedos, flowers, limos, Cedar Point, and you can't forget to get your nails and hair done. It's a small fortune.

The graduation announcements, your graduation party and the senior party are very costly as well. If you choose to have a party, this takes a lot of planning: guest list, food and other trinkets to make your party fun.

On top of all the expenses and the good times, you have to make a decision that will affect you for the rest of your life. You have to know if and where you're going to attend college. You also need to be looking into an occupation. Maybe you need to figure out how you're going to pay for college.

It's on our minds and can be overbearing and stressful. I personally am very confused. The questions that run through my mind are should I stay home or go away? Should I go to CMU or OCC? They are all big decisions that will affect me forever.

How can I, an 18-year-old girl, make this decision when I don't know the first thing about life and the real world?

Post Office open late

The Clarkston Post Office will collect mail till midnight April 15 to give last-minute income-tax filers a chance to meet the IRS deadline.

After regular office hours end at 5 p.m. the Post Office will collect mail hourly until midnight and guarantee an April 15 postmark, according to Beverly Jemison, supervisor of customer service.

The lobby will be open until midnight for drop-offs of mail only. Mail will also be collected at the outside mailboxes in the Post Office parking lot.

The Michigan Group is proud to announce that Joan Falk has joined their Clarkston Office as Sales Manager.

With 9 years in Real Estate and over 25 million dollars in sales, her professional experience brings The Michigan Group the leadership and qualities that are needed to help their company reach top rankings in the area. Joan is available to discuss how a career in Real Estate can lead you to financial independence and how the Michigan Group is the right Real Estate Move.

Job means more than just a paycheck

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Just about a year ago, James Diegel was looking for a job.

A developmentally disabled adult, he knew he could get some help filling out the application. But he needed to find an opening.

He found one on the bulletin board at the Food Town grocery store in Independence Township. He got an application, and the rest, as they say, is history.

Diegel has been so successful, Food Town has gone on to hire other developmentally disabled adults. According to store director John Ostrander, they're fantastic employees.

"You can't say enough good about them," Ostrander said about Diegel and his roommate, John Devitt, both age 32 who both work at the store as baggers and "courtesy clerks."

"The big advantage has been they've just been very reliable employees," Ostrander said. "I don't want to sound patronizing, but they're very grateful to have the opportunity to be independent."

Ostrander said he gives Diegel and Devitt jobs he wouldn't give high-school students. In addition to bagging groceries, they help with stock, bottle-sorting and maintenance. Their added duties have earned them raises.

John Devitt rounds up shopping carts in the Food Town parking lot.

On a recent sunny Monday morning, Diegel bagged groceries while Devitt collected shopping carts in the parking lot. It was slow at the checkouts, so Diegel, the only bagger on duty at the time, roamed from cashier to cashier as needed.

Diegel and Devitt, who knew each other from many years of school together, share an apartment in Independence Township. They both try their hand at cooking and participated in the winter Special Olympics.

Diegel said he's learned to use the store's new bottle return machine and has had to show customers how to use it. "People say, 'We don't know how to use that,'" he said. He mentions that promotion has been "talked about" and indicates he would like to do stock work.

Most of all he likes his job because of the independence it affords him.

"It allows you not only to live in your apartment but have other people help you do the billing (pay the bills)," he said. He said he and Devitt "both teach each other" how to cook. The two have been helped all along the way by Buckingham Community Services, which has a contract with Macomb Oakland Regional Center to provide job services for MORC clients.

"They're treated like any other employee," said Maureen Peterson, program director at BCS. "They are employees of Food Town."

BCS' services started with employability training—teaching clients how to conduct a job interview, fill out an application, etc. Devitt and Diegel are transported to and from work by a driver and visited by a job coach and supervisor to make sure they're doing OK. There's also help in paying bills and sticking to a budget.

"They (BCS) came in and asked me if I'd be interested in hiring a developmentally disabled person," Ostrander said. "I was a little bit apprehensive about it initially but they brought in a full-time trainer who stayed a considerable length of time . . .

"Jim worked out so well that I mentioned to the supervisor I could use more and that's when they brought in John. They're both excellent employees."

And that's in an entry-level job classification that generally has 40-50 percent turnover per year, Ostrander said. No special tax benefits have been sought by the company, and they are bound by some government red tape which limits Devitt's working hours. Even so, Ostrander said the effort has been well worth it.

"They're pretty much self-directed. They know what needs to be done.

"It's worked out very well."

ABWA honors woman of the year

The local chapter of American Business Women's Association has named Karen Thibodeau its Woman of the Year.

Thibodeau, of White Lake, is an instruction technician with Waterford Schools and co-owns Waterford Craft Shows. She received the Distinguished Service Award for the Michigan PTA in 1991.

Thibodeau is secretary of the Inde-Spring Chapter of ABWA. She was chosen Woman of the Year from among 10 candidates. She is now eligible to compete for the 1994 Top Ten Business Women, who will be announced at ABWA's national convention in October.

The chapter will announce its Business Associate of the Year at the April 26 meeting, at 6 p.m. at the Hilton Suites Hotel in Auburn Hills. A spring enrollment event is scheduled for Monday, April 11 at the Independence Township Library at 6 p.m. All working women are invited to join.

ABWA is an educational association dedicated to the professional, educational, cultural and social advancement of business women. Over 100,000 women belong to 2,100 chapters nationwide.

Locally, dinner meetings are held monthly at various locations in northern Oakland County. For more information call Barb at 797-4974.

Thomas Boyns

Thomas S. Boyns of Waterford died April 4, 1994 at the age of 94.

Mr. Boyns and his late wife Sybella directed the Epworth League for Youth at Clarkston United Methodist Church, where they also enjoyed singing in the choir. He retired from Fort Motor Co. in 1965 after 30 years of service.

Mr. Boynes was preceded in death by his wife. He is survived by three children: Muriel Spencer, of Waterford; Doris Storer, of North Carolina; and Leslie Boyns, of Lapeer. Three grandchildren, Tom Storer and Jim and Ken Boyns, and six great-grandsons also survive.

Funeral services were Friday at Lewis E. Wint and Son Trust 100 Funeral Home with Rev. Jon Clapp and Don Kevern officiating. Interment was in Lakeview Cemetery.

Memorials may be made to Clarkston United Methodist Church Memorial Fund.

George Gelow

George Louis ("Louie") Gelow of Waterford died April 5, 1994. He was 64.

Mr. Gelow was retired from Pontiac Motor and had owned several businesses in the Waterford area. He was a veteran of the Korean War, having served in the U.S. Army.

He is survived by his wife, Joan; children Gregory . . (Denise), Geoffrey, Gina (Dale) Dobbins, Wendy (Dennis) Dobbins, and Stacey; grandchildren Gregory, Stephanie, Kelly and Daniel; brother Willis (Barbara); and sisters Betty Koop, Jean (Jerry) Miller and Ginger (Duane) Miles. Many nieces and nephews also survive.

Funeral services were held last week at Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford, with Rev. Richard C. Nelson officiating. Arrangements were by Lewis E. Wint and Son Trust 100 Funeral Home.

Memorials may be made to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Cardiac Care Unit.

Richard Migrants

Former Clarkston-area resident Richard Wayne Migrants of Sheridan, Wyoming, died suddenly April 4, 1994 at the age of 49.

Mr. Migrants served in the 82nd Airborne Division as a paratrooper during the Vietnam War. Following his discharge, he worked for General Motors until 1988.

He then received his nursing degree and pursued a career in nursing. He moved to Wyoming from Clarkston in 1990 to be closer to his family and was employed as a nurse at Sheridan Manor at the time of his death.

Mr. Migrants was preceded in death by his parents, one sister and two brothers. He is survived by his wife, Janell (Ash), and two children, Richard Migrants II of Farmington, New Mexico and Tracy Migrants of Sheridan.

Funeral services were held April 7 in Sheridan. Cemetery services were held April 11 at Ottawa Park Cemetery in Clarkston with Director of Support Donald Kevern officiating. Local arrangements were by Lewis E. Wint and Son Trust 100 Funeral Home.

Memorials may be made to the American Heart Association of Michigan.

Spring cleaning? Don't throw furniture away

The chair in the attic. The bureau in the spare bedroom. The sofa in the family room.

We all have pieces of furniture that we'd love to replace, and every spring, we vow to get rid of them. And guess what? They're still sitting in our house.

What if you could have someone pick up that piece of furniture, after which it would be donated to a worthy cause, you'd get a tax deduction and a 20-percent discount off a new piece of furniture? Sound too good to be true?

Workbench Furniture has a plan to do just that. The Furniture For Families program, sponsored by St. Vincent De Paul and Workbench, is a three-week furniture drive for families in need around metro Detroit. The effort takes place April 11-30.

"St. Vincent de Paul makes great use of donated furniture by providing it, at no cost, to families and individuals in need throughout our community," said Linda Lenehan, president of Workbench.

"Also, they are able to generate much-needed funds by selling surplus furniture in 17 St. Vincent De Paul Thrift Stores to support 15 food depots and run youth camps and an employment agency."

To participate, call St. Vincent De Paul at (313) 567-1910 during weekday business hours to arrange for a pick-up. Furniture must be in usable and safe condition, since St. Vincent De Paul doesn't make repairs.

Artrain to visit April 21-24

The nation's only traveling art museum, Artrain, will make a stop in Waterford April 21-24.

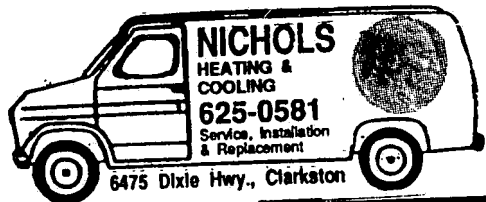

Artrain will park behind Burke Building Center on Dixie Highway. Access will be through Shell Park. School tours will visit on Thursday and Friday and the public is invited on Saturday and Sunday. There is no admission charge.

The visit is the premiere event of the newly established Waterford Cultural Council, formed in 1992. The weekend's events will include a 100-car parade of antique cars on Saturday and other art exhibits and shows.

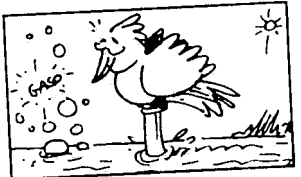

The exhibit will feature about 75 works of art from public and private collections, including painting, sculpture, photography and prints on the theme "The Romance of Transportation." Artists include Andy Warhol, Thomas Hart Benton, Claes Oldenburg and Romare Bearden.

Founded in 1971, Artrain is owned by a non-profit group and supported by donations and grants. It charges a fee to visit, which is being raised by the Waterford Cultural Council for this stop.

There are five cars, including three gallery cars dating back as far as 1924. A studio car features demonstrating artists and a gift shop.

With your free time, make time for others. Make a difference. Volunteer. American Red Cross Call 1-800-552-5466

Divers probably began using snorkels made of hollow reeds about the A.D. 100s.

"The outside is decorated with graphics to match the theme on the inside," said Nancy Coumoudouros, of Artrain's promotional staff. "It's just a beautiful thing to look at."

About 5,000 visitors are expected during the Waterford stop. At the ribbon cutting on April 20, the Detroit Chamber Winds will perform and two car clubs will cruise the area.

"I feel this will be a valuable experience for Waterford and the surrounding community," said Waterford Township Supervisor Dennis Ritter.

For more information, call the Artrain hotline at 674-5958.

Whether it's a fire or a prestigious award, we want to hear about it. Just give us a call at The Clarkston News. 625-3370

Science Day returns to OCC

Math, technology and science will be the entertainment of the day at the fourth annual "Science Day for Kids."

Held on the Oakland Community College Highland Lakes Campus May 14, the day-long event features more than 40 hands-on workshops for parents and children ages five to 13.

A presentation of Detroit Edison's Enviro-Magic show, starring Louie the Lightning Bug, kicks off the event at 9 a.m. Participants choose three one-hour workshops and then Yo-Master Zeemo will demonstrate experiments in gravity, friction, matter and energy for the finale.

Registration must be made in advance. Tickets are $10 per person. For more information or to register call 360-3186.

Wine and dine Italian to help Depot Park

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Two Clarkston business women wanted to make a difference in their community and chose Depot Park as a means to that end.

Mickey MacWilliams and Dianne Pullan decided to pull in the community to help the Depot Park Playground Committee in its campaign to raise money for play equipment renovation and to buy new play equipment.

They organized a "Taste of Italy" night to be held Thurs. May 19 from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the Deer Lake Racquet Club. A $20 donation per person will go towards the playground.

"We became Park Pals during the Apple and Cider Festival. We felt it was a great and worthwhile project," MacWilliams, president of Metro Media Associates, Inc., said.

With the Italian wine and food tasting, the two hope to raise $4,000 for the city park.

"We thought this was a way to generate some attention for the park," said Pullan, sales director of the Clarkston Insurance Agency. "You have to work within a community to become part of the community."

As mothers with young children who use the park, they each saw for themselves some of the dangers the park held such as the cement sticking out at the base of the slide. They also saw a need for new equipment.

"Communities need good parks because they breed community spirit," Pullan said.

Good parks benefit not only the families that use them, but also businesses.

"For businesses to have a nice park is great. Kids can play in the park and businesses are only a block away," Pullan said.

Rudy's Market's Robert Esaki is donating all the wine for the event. For the Italian food, contributions are being accepted to cover the costs.

Pullan and MacWilliams said they still need volunteers to sell tickets at the door, to help with food service, and to man a booth to take donations for the park.

The pair has also organized a "Depot Dreamin' Art Contest" for area elementary-aged children.

Children will be given the entry forms at school and are asked to draw a picture of what they see as the "perfect park" using pens, crayons, pencils or paints.

Entries will be hung the night of the wine-tasting and judged. Winners will receive their names on the plaque board at Depot Park and the winners' classes will be given a pizza party.

They hope this event brings the community together to raise the money needed by the committee to complete its plans for the park.

Tickets can be purchased at Rudy's Market on Main Street, Metro Media Associates at 7164 Deer Lake Court, Clarkston Insurance Agency at 36 S. Main or contact Jeanne Selander Miller, co-chair of the Playground committee, at 620-2753.

'Take Our Daughters to Work Day' is April 28

The second annual observance of "Take Our Daughters to Work Day" is scheduled for April 28. And if you are planning to participate, The Clarkston News would like to know about it.

If you are a woman who works in Independence Township or the City of the Village of Clarkston who is planning to take her daughter to work April 28, please call News editor Annette Kingsbury at 625-3370. The News would like to visit your worksite to see how the day goes.

If you'd like more information about "Take Our Daughters to Work Day," a free pamphlet is available from the Ms. Foundation by calling 1-800-353-2525.

Your movies could make state history

If you have home movies from the 1920s, the Michigan Historical Museum would like to see them.

The museum's exhibit on the 20th century is now under construction, and movies are being sought that will show life in the '20s.

"We are interested in films from families of factory workers, wealthy industrialists, small-town proprietors, farm families and other Michiganders," said Secretary of State Richard Austin.

Suggested topics of interest include downtown Detroit, motor vehicle traffic, the prohibition and suffrage movements, delivery trucks, immigration and schools.

Films should be in good physical condition. If you're interested in loaning films to the museum, write a letter describing who and what the movies show, the year taken, the format (8 mm, etc.) and your name, address and telephone number to Movie Search/Scott Peters, Michigan Historical Museum, 717 W. Allegan St., Lansing, Mi. 48918-1847.

A child's first vehicle; The dangers of bicycling

By ROSALIE E. STEPHENS
Michigan Head Injury Alliance Chair

Bicycling is the fastest growing sport in America. People of all ages do it but it's best loved by kids.

From the time they're toddlers and well into their teens a bike is often their best friend and constant companion, affording them mobility for all the energetic activities that only the very young seem to possess.

A youngster hardly learns to walk before he or she graduates to navigating a tricycle. Learning to ride a two-wheeler is a real landmark, a sign that a child is growing up.

Yet the same bike that gives a youngster hours of pleasure can, in an instant, bring pain, injury, possible long-term disability and even death.

A bicycle, though used by all ages for many things, including racing, is generally considered a toy. As innocent as it may seem, it is nevertheless a major cause of head injury for children. More than a fourth of all significant brain injuries in children 14 years and younger are bicycle related.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, 1,200 bicyclists are killed each year, and over half-a-million bicycle-related injuries are treated in hospital emergency rooms. More than half of these deaths occur between the ages of 5-17. They are predominantly male, and 75 percent of them die from head injuries. In Michigan in 1992 there were 40 bicyclist deaths reported.

Although most bicyclist deaths result from bicycle/motor vehicle collisions, a large number (95 percent) of bike accidents don't involve automobiles. Most children are injured when they fall from their bikes, collide with fixed objects (like curbs or trees), or lose control due to problems with their bikes or poor road surface conditions.

Head injuries generally occur not because of a vehicle's speed, but because of vertical distance - how far your head travels to hit the pavement. A study done at the University of California showed that a fall from only three feet-10 inches at about 11 mph can cause fatal brain damage.

Concerned parents and adults can reduce the risk of injury and death for our youth: first we need to recognize the seriousness of the problem and realize that although the majority of us rode a bike and it didn't happen to us, it can and does happen. Next we need to make efforts at teaching safe cycling so children know the "rules of the road." Helmets are a must for head protection, and when worn can significantly reduce the risk (by up to 85 percent) of head injury, brain damage and death.

Children need to be trained to use their bikes properly, with limits set by parents on where children ride according to their age.

Rules of the road are:

- Ride with traffic.
- Stop and look both ways.
- Stop at all intersections, marked and unmarked.
- Look before turning and use hand signals.

Bikes need to fit children. A bike that's too big is an accident waiting to happen. A child must be able to reach the ground with his feet. Bikes need check-ups periodically just as motor vehicles need occasional tune-ups to make sure they're safe. It's especially important to make this check after winter storage.

A child's introduction to a first vehicle, generally a tricycle, should be coupled with that of a helmet used to protect the most vital organ in their body. Children learn best by observing and it's a wise Mom and Dad who set examples.

Until recently helmets haven't been trendy. We're starting to see changes, however. Many states, recognizing the seriousness of the problem, have mandated the use of helmets.

You can make a difference by making yourself aware, being a good role model, and enforcing rules for your children.

We need to protect our head when we are doing things that put us at risk or we are putting our future in jeopardy. Broken bones heal but once the brain is damaged it cannot be repaired.

Members of the Michigan Head Injury Alliance know the devastating effect of brain injury. Actual costs of survivor's care exceed $25 billion annually, and no price tag can be put on the emotional costs that affect not only families, but loved ones, friends, neighbors, classmates and co-workers.

That's why we developed the "Head Smart" program which is being offered to all schools in Michigan. If you are interested please check with your local elementary school to see if they are participating.

For further information please contact Rosalie Stephens, Prevention Chair, at (906) 885-5672 or the Michigan Head Injury Alliance at 1-800-772-4323.

We are SIDING and GUTTER Specialists

We are not a Jack-of-all-trades. We can not guarantee you the absolute lowest price, as we will not sacrifice the quality products or workmanship that you deserve. But what we will guarantee is an honest and fair price with products and workmanship of the highest quality. We also do our own work. We don't get your job and sub-contract it out, or sell it. So if you are only looking for the cheapest way out, call someone else who claims they can beat any price. If you are looking for an honest and fair price, quality products and workmanship, dependability, and someone that will still be here after your job is completed, give us a call. Helping you make your home the one you've always dreamed of is what we do.

Members of the Yankee Air Force and Chief Pontiac Post begin to take apart the RF-84K airplane that has "flown" in the post's park since 1968. The plane will be restored, which members predict could take three years.

'50s bomber departs

Park will no longer house memorial to vets

A landmark since the late 1960s at the American Legion Chief Pontiac Post 377, an RF-84K airplane is being dismantled and taken to the Lapeer Dupont Airport for restoration.

One of only 25 of its type built during the early 1950s, the plane was carried in the belly of a B-36 bomber where it would be dropped in the North Pole area, said Ralph Gilpin, a member of the post.

"They were considered reconnaissance planes," he said. "Windows were built into the nose where the camera was located and there were guns in the wings.

"Pilots would fly it over sections of Russia and China to take photographs."

Because of improved technology, the RF-84K was discontinued and reassigned to other duties by the late 1950s.

The post's plane was assigned to the American Air Force base in Misawa, Japan and then to the Michigan Air National Guard where it was used for reconnaissance training. The plane was decommissioned in 1962.

The American Legion acquired the plane around 1968 and it was seen as a memorial to veterans, Gilpin said.

It rested on stilts in the American Legion Park on Mary Sue Street, until members of the Mid-Michigan Division of Yankee Air Force began dismantling the plane three weeks ago.

Members of the group intend to volunteer their time to restore it to "almost new condition," said Jerry Niazzy, a member of the American Legion post in Oxford and the Yankee Air Force.

Automobile	$5
Auto w/single axle trailer	10
Pickup truck or van	10
Pickup truck w/single axle trailer	25
Flatbed single axle truck	25
Dual axle trailer	25
5 yd. dump truck	25
Tires (limit of 10)
Passenger car & truck tires	1 each

Refrigerators and air conditioners will be allowed at a charge: NO COMMERCIAL. RESIDENTS ONLY.

The following material will not be allowed to be dumped: Fuel oil drums, barrels, propane cylinders, or storage tanks; automobiles or vehicles of any kind; no chemicals of any kind.

Tickets for dumping may be obtained at the Township Treasurer's Office, located at the Township Hall, 90 N. Main Street, Clarkston, MI. Tickets will also be on sale at the dump site the days of the clean-up.

Students compete at state solo and ensemble

On March 26, students representing the Clarkston High School bands participated in the State Solo and Ensemble Festival held at Howell High School.

Each event entered first qualified by earning a First Division rating at the District Festival in February.

Students earning First Division Ratings at state were:

- Michelle Mason, Clarinet solo
- Ryan Bauer, Snare Drum solo
- Michael Schorsch, Snare Drum solo
- Todd Bauer, Trumpet solo
- Kelly Biegan, Piano solo
- Angie Smith, Clarinet solo
- Cristina Hernandez, Stephanie Higdon, Emily Kowalski, flute trio.
- Heather Moore, Rachel Janowiak, Kate Higdon, Tricia Frericks, woodwind quartet.
- Angie Smith, Paul Wolven, Tara Stolnicki, Regina White, Rebecca Bartlett, woodwind quintet.
- Amanda Mack, Karen Leininger, Michelle Mason, Laura Witkowski, Sarah Tumblom, woodwind quintet.

Jim Simonson, Steve Whittington, Brad Bailey, Joel Sanford, trombone quartet.

Angela Garey, Dareth Flannery, Steve Bernard, Stephanie Seltzer, Allisa Gadiant, clarinet quintet.

Matt Bjurman, Brant Blomberg, Ryan Bauer, John York, Christy Colbrunn, Angie Hackbardt, Carrie McAlister, Jason Morgan, percussion octet.

Also earning a First Division Rating was a woodwind chamber choir under the direction of teaching intern Stacy Kohl: Jennifer Myers, Kellie Griffin-Sasse, Regina White, Angie Smith, Danielle Smith, Jennifer Drallos, Maraisa Fifelski, Karla Schweitzer, Kristen Eberle, Leslie Maki, Paul Wolven, Allison Haight, Joe Dakroub, Evette Atkin, Ryan Moore, Matt Hicks.

Students earning second division ratings at state are:

- Rebecca Bartlett, flute solo
- Heather Walker, flute solo
- Kellie Griffin-Sasse, flute solo
- Regina White, oboe solo
- Jenifer Myers, flute solo

Chris Lewis, Brant Blomberg, Erin Orive, Colin McIntyre, Joel Sanford, Ryan Seaman, Steve Whittington, brass septet.

Leslie Maki, Kelly Arcello, Angelique Ledwell, Julie Gerardi, Jill Wyatt, clarinet quintet.

Also earning a Second Division rating was a woodwind choir under the direction of teaching intern Richard Brown: Jenifer Myers, Emily Kowalsky, Stephanie Higdon, Ben Montney, Danielle Smith, Ember Gilbert, Julie Gerardi, Anne Druskinis, Leslie Maki, Holly Neville, Roxanna Fuentes, Allison Haight, Elizabeth Smith, Serenity Brain, Joe Dakroub, Matt Hicks.

Young pianists in competition

Seventeen area Keyboard Concepts piano students participated in the annual southeast division of the National Federation of Music Clubs' Junior Festival March 5.

Hundreds of students from all over Oakland County took part. To receive a superior rating, the highest score, each student had to achieve 91-100 points categorized by memory, accuracy, rhythm, technique, musicianship, musicality and general effect on the piano.

The following students received superior ratings: Katie Rock and Sandra Yaeger, of Clarkston; and Rebecca Bass, Dustin Kring, Nick Higgins, Lee Ann Pearson, Kate Ridley, John Turk and Kristen Manneback, all of Waterford.

The following received a Gold Cup Trophy, for receiving a superior rating for three years: Rebecca Bass, Kendra Brewer, Kristen Manneback, Kate Ridley and Sandra Yaeger. Yaeger, a senior at Clarkston High School, received her second Gold Cup.

Receiving "excellent" ratings were Kendra Brewer, Jodi Brown, Erin Hunt, Amanda Needham, Mary Beth Rock, Brandon Yuille and Lauren Yuille. Anthony Haddad received a "very good" rating.

The students are under the instruction of Melissa Dell Coe of Keyboard Concepts of Waterford.

CMS choirs continue quest for excellence

Clarkston Middle School choirs have received Division I ratings at choral festival for five years, but this year's choir was different.

For the first time, two choirs that rehearse separately were combined at the festival to perform as one. Forty-eight seventh- and eighth-grade students met together to rehearse once before going to competition.

"Both choirs not only held their own in solid three-part harmony, but sang with understanding and interpretation," said Danielle Blanchard, Director of Choirs at CMS for the past five years.

CHS band earns top marks at competition

Seven bands from the Clarkston School District competed in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association District Festivals March 11, 12 and 19.

The high-school festivals were held at Southfield Lathrup and Walled Lake Western high schools. The Clarkston High School symphonic band, wind ensemble, and concert band all earned first division ratings.

As a result, the CHS bands will be traveling to the state festival April 30 in Grand Rapids.

The Sashabaw Middle School eighth-grade and seventh-grade concert bands under the direction of Douglas Doty also earned first-division ratings at the district festival held at Farmington Harrison High School March 19.

The Clarkston Middle School seventh-grade concert band earned a second-division rating; the eighth-grade concert band earned a first-division rating at North Farmington High School. The CMS bands are under the direction of Julie Mathews.

The middle-school division of the state festival will be May 6-7 (site to be announced). Any band receiving a first-division at district is eligible to participate.

Make your mom a Cinderella

This Mother's Day, children can give Mom the royal treatment by making her Cinderella for a weekend.

In honor of Mother's Day and Michigan Opera Theatre's production of Prokofiev's "Cinderella" ballet May 6-8, MOT, Hudson's and The Ritz-Carlton, Dearborn will sponsor a write-in essay contest for children.

Children from ages 5 to 12 are asked to express in 150 words or less why they think their mom deserves to be treated like Cinderella this Mother's Day weekend. Included with all entries must be the mother's name, child's name and age, address, telephone number, grade and location of school.

In true Cinderella fashion, the winner's mother will begin this well-deserved pampering by selecting a dress and shoes from Hudson's (limitations apply) suitable for a big night on the town. On Saturday afternoon, May 7, Mom will be whisked by limousine from The Ritz-Carlton to the Hudson's Hair Salon at Fairlane Town Center for a complete hair and make-up make-over.

"Cinderella," her "Prince Charming" and the rest of her immediate family (up to six people) will enjoy dinner in The Grille at The Ritz-Carlton, and will be chauffeured to and from the Masonic Temple by the hotel's limousine for a performance of the ballet Cinderella by Sergei Prokofiev.

The Ball doesn't end at midnight! After a wonderful night at the ballet, Mom and her family will return to The Ritz-Carlton, Dearborn for deluxe overnight accommodations in a suite of rooms. The following morning, the family will be feted to The Ritz-Carlton's special Mother's Day brunch.

Entries should be mailed to: Michigan Opera Theatre, "Cinderella for a Weekend," 6519 Second Avenue, Detroit, MI 48202. All entries must be post-marked by Friday, April 22. Selection will be made by a panel of judges from all three sponsoring organizations and the winner will be notified by Wednesday, April 27.
