Teachers settle for a one-year freeze

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY Clarkston News Editor

Following the example set by Clarkston school superintendent Gary Haner, the Clarkston Education Association, the 325-member teachers union, has ratified a one-year contract extension that includes a pay freeze.

The Clarkston Association of Support Personnel, the bargaining group representing 120 bus drivers, custodians, office workers and paraprofessionals who have been without a contract the last two years, ratified a three-year deal.

They will receive raises of 4.5 percent for each of the last two years, the same as other bargaining groups received, and a pay freeze for the coming

In addition, 42 employees who were not previously covered by health insurance will be now, while dental and vision coverage was reduced for all other CLASP members.

According to Duane Lewis, assistant superintendent for personnel services, about $49,000 in employee concessions were negotiated in the insurance section of the contract.

"The settlement of the CLASP agreement was contingent upon a salary freeze by the Clarkston Education Association membership," Lewis said. The offer was brought forth by the CEA ... Negotiators for both sides feel the settlement is positive and in the best interests of the school district at this

Also extending their contracts with a one-year freeze are district supervisors, building administrators and directors and central office administrators.

The settlement with the teachers comes less than one month before voters must decide the fate of an 18-mill tax question. Under Proposal A, all the expired local millage (18 mills on nonhomestead property) must be approved

Garland to build at Colombiere Center

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY Clarkston News Editor

The owners of the Garland resort in Lewiston will build a golf course on the grounds of the Colombiere Center in Springfield Township.

A portion of the 410-acre property, which is owned by the Society of Jesus Detroit Province and used as a retreat center, will be leased long-term to Garland. The Jesuits will continue to use the facility for retreats.

Dollar amounts and the length of the lease have not yet been finalized, according to Fr. Thomas McClain, S.J., treasurer for the province.

"We were not looking," he said. "We were approached by Garland of the possibility of developing the unused portion of the land. It seemed to be consistent with the type of work we are doing there."

Doug Lewan, Springfield Township's planning coordinator, said no plans have been submitted for the development but Garland representatives have met with some township officials.

Lewan said the property is zoned R-2, single family residential with oneacre minimum parcels. However a golf course is a permitted use under that zoning with a special land use permit. Such a permit requires a public hearing before issuance.

Garland was founded in 1951 by Detroit businessman Herman Otto, who owned Garland Manufacturing. The original development included a ninehole golf course but was for family use only. It was opened to the public in the See GOLF, continued on page 23A

The news in brief

Memorial Day festivities

Clarkston will remember its veterans Monday with a Memorial Day parade and graveside services.

Events begin at 10 a.m. with a parade leaving from the corner of Church and Buffalo streets. It travels to Main St., then north to Washington, west to Holcomb and then to the veterans' plot at Lakeview Cemetery for a memorial service.

Larry Perysian, commander of American Legion Post 63, has asked that no horses, autos or decorated bikes enter the parade because of the solemn purpose of the day.

In other holiday activities, Oakland County's Memorial Day observances will include two Congressional Medal of Honor recipients and the dedication of a new county veterans memorial.

Ceremonies will begin at noon on Saturday, May 28 in the courtyard on the north side of the county courthouse, 1200 N. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac.

Diamonds and Spurs, a country nightclub in downtown Pontiac, will host a Red Cross blood drive on Friday, May 27 from 6 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The event is a special effort to ensure adequate blood supplies following the holiday weekend, when supplies traditionally fall low.

FM 99.5 DJ Brian Hatfield will be at the drive from 7 to 9 a.m. For an appointment to donate call 1-800-582-4383.

Dog tags due

The deadline for purchasing your 1994 Oakland County dog license is May 31. All dogs over six months of age are required by law to be vaccinated for rabies and wear a valid license at all times, regardless of whether they stay indoors or go outside.

The cost of a new license is $15 but there is a $7.50 discount for spayed or neutered dogs. Licenses are available at local municipal offices, veterinary clinics and at the Oakland County Animal Shelter on Brown Rd. in Auburn Hills.

The county will conduct its seventh annual dog census beginning June 1. During the summer months representatives will canvas door to door Monday-Saturday to verify rabies vaccinations and licensing. They will also request information on the number of cats in a home and whether they are vaccinated for rabies.

School board candidates will speak May 31

The Clarkston PTA Council has invited all the candidates running in the June school-board election to meet with the public for an informal discussion. The meeting will be held Tuesday, May 31 at 7 p.m. in the Independence Township Library Community Room.

Early deadlines

The Memorial Day holiday will require early advertising and editorial deadlines for next week's Clarkston News.

Classified advertising will close at 4 p.m. on Friday, May 27. Display advertising will close at 5 p.m. on Thursday, May 26. Editorial submissions are due by noon Friday this week only.

Stonehedge receives another go-ahead

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE Clarkston News Staff Writer

Stonehedge, formerly known as Country Club of the North, is a step closer to becoming a reality.

On May 17, the Independence Township Board approved changes in the concept plan of the 805-acre develop that straddles Independence and Orion township east of Clintonville Road, north of Waldon Road.

Because the new plan is significantly different than the originally approved plan the land had to be rezoned. A Planned Residential Development zoning connected to a specific development plan. When the plan is changed drastically, the land must be rezoned to accommodate the new plan.

Initially proposed as a 600-unit residential/golf course development, the concept plan received by the township in 1991 was for 450 dwelling and two golf courses. Approval was made by the township to establish a PRD. The developer applied for a final development plane for Phase I in the spring of 1991. This phase included the construction two 18-hole golf courses. The applicant sought and received approval from the state Department of Natural Resources and the Wetlands Board for permits to construct ponds and wetlands crossings.

Nothing happened with the project until mid-1993 when a new development company, the Mansur Group, was introduced. The proposed changes made by the Mansur Group have become the amended PRD

The new proposal, according to a report made March 21 by township planner Richard Carlisle, consists of 495 dwellings located on 625 acres in Independence Township and 180 acres in Orion Township. All but 36 units will be in Independence Township. The project will have single-family detached and attached housing, one 18-hole golf course, clubhouse, wetland preserves recreational facilities. Six units will be used as overnight lodging in conjunction with the clubhouse and are included in the requested 495 units.

Off-site improvements for Stonehedge include extending water from the Waldon and Sashabaw roads intersection and paving Clintonville Road and Waldon Road prior to the 125th certificate of occu-

PRD criteria

Specific requirements must be met before land in Independence Township can be zoned PRD.

• When complete, the development has to have 20 percent of the gross acreage devoted to open space 120t consisting of yard areas. Stonehedge will have 493.7 acres of its 805.4 acres (53 percent) devoted to open space. Of that, 125.8 acres (20 percent) is the golf course and 205.8 (33 percent) is wetlands and other areas.

■ The density of the project will be a maximum of one unit per gross acre. The average density in the Independence Township portion will be .79 units per able burden on public service in relation to the burden which would be imposed if the land were developed for the permitted residential use. According to Carlisle's report, "We do not anticipate that the project will impose an unreasonable burden on public services and facilities provided the necessary off-site improvements are made."

● The development also can't impose an unreasonable burden upon the surrounding properties. In his report, Carlisle said, "Due to the care and sensitivity shown in the concept planning of this project, we do not anticipate an unreasonable burden to be imposed on surrounding properties." There will be a landscaped buffer, perimeter lots will be a minimum of 15,000 square feet and an additional 30-foot setback will be provided for perimeter lots.

Before each phase of the development, the applicants must bring a detailed plan to the township for approval. There will also be a second reading of the rezoning request before it becomes official.

DNR wetlands public hearing set

A Department of Natural Resources wetlands public hearing will be set for the massive 800-acre Stonehedge development. On May 16, the Orion Township Board requested the DNR to set up a public hearing on Stonehedge's wetlands application. The Independence Township development includes 180-acres in Orion. About 160acres calls for a golf course and about 18-acres will be developed with 36 housing units.

The Orion board also requested that Independence officials be in attendance at the DNR hearing. If the DNR sets a hearing date, the public will be notified.

The entire development is located adjacent to Millers Lake in Orion on Clintonville and Waldon roads.

According to owner Mansur Group Inc., of Indianapolis, the wetland projects include:

* About 1,700-cubic-yards of fill and seven 18-inch culverts totaling 340-feet in length to be placed in .25-acres of wetlands for six road crossing.

- * Construct 2,640-feet of 10-foot-wide elevated boardwalk/cart path across 18 wetland areas.
- * Create a maintenance trail across .09 acres of an existing path by placing 88-cubic-yards of fill.
- * Utilize 20 separate wetland areas as shoot-over areas along the proposed golf course.
- * Construct 15 ponds for course irrigation and stormwater detention.
- * Construct 13 stormwater outlets with discharge to existing wetlands.
- * A total of about 71,000-cubic-yards of material is to be excavated from upland areas for the ponds.
- * Place utilities adjacent to the proposed roads at each road crossing.
  - * Construct 1.03 acres of new wetland.

Hummel takes over sheriff's station

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE Clarkston News Staff Writer

From an interest in college to commander of a substation, Lt. Doug Hummel has come a long way in his 24-year career.

Hummel was put in charge of the Independence Township substation this month after Lt. John Taylor retired. Before becoming a police officer he served in the Navy and was a postal worker for one year.

He was turned on to police work after a police administration class he took at Flint Community College (now Mott).

"At the time, the type of work interested me," said Hummel.

He applied at various departments and was hired by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department in 1970. For six years he covered the north end of the county, which includes Independence Township, with 13 other deputies.

Hummel has also worked for alcohol enforcement, as an investigator, a part of the Fugitive Apprehension Team and was in charge of the Springfield Township substation from 1992 - 1994.

While assigned to Highland Township he took the lead in investigating the murder of a woman whose body was found five years after she had been reported missing. In 1992 Hummel worked on the Leslie Allen Williams case after Williams was arrested in Springfield Township.

Hummel was one of the first to be involved in the Fugitive Apprehension Team which was organized in 1985. As a part of that group he located and apprehended fugitives and did surveillance on career criminals who were suspected of returning to crime.

"Probably the biggest adjustment I'll make (in the new job) will be leaving investigations behind," said Hummel, who will now oversee cases instead of being an active participant.

No surprises set for 1994-95 city budget

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT Clarkston News Staff Writer

The city of Clarkston's budget committee didn't announce many big changes in the proposed $589,185 budget for 1994-95.

While residents could see a lower millage rate if the budget is approved, paying 12.1180 rather than 12.3 mills, they will pay approximately the same amount in city taxes due to the increase in the city's SEVs.

"We decided to only levy the same amount of money," William Basinger, councilman and budget committee chair, said. "Yet we will collect more money because of new construction."

If the city had kept the same millage rate, it would have been required to hold a Truth in Taxation hearing. The $5,000 tax revenue increase resulting from new construction does not fall under Truth in Taxation guidelines.

"Even if we gained ten cents more on the same existing structure, we would have had to hold a hearing," Basinger said.

The city also anticipates a $9,000 increase over last year in state revenue-sharing money, which includes money from single business, income and state sales taxes.

"It looks good. Our revenue sharing is more," Basinger said.

The budget proposal calls for raises to some of city employees.

Art Pappas, city manager and treasurer, will receive a $100 monthly increase.

"There's going to be more book work under the new tax structure. With changing SEVs and changes in millage structures, its a modest $100 increase," Basinger said.

Department of Public Works employees and election workers, including city clerk Jeanne Selander Miller, will also see changes in their paychecks come July 1, 1994.

Election workers will be paid $75 on election day as they have been in the past. However, after 10 p.m., they will be paid an additional $5 an hour.

DPW employees, who have not receive a pay increase in five years, will start at $5.75 an hour for the first year, $6.75 the second year, $7.25 the third, $7.75 forth and $8.25 the fifth.

For the current workers, the increase will range from a 50 cent raise to a 75 cent raise.

The committee posed no big surprises in its police budget, only a different way of accounting.

"I have added additional items that were covered in the general budget; now they are in the police budget," Steve Arkwright, councilman and police liaison, said. "It looks like a 10 percent increase. While the setup changed, the numbers really have not increased."

However, Arkwright warned the council that a big expense could pop up and it should be ready.

"If the opportunity comes up, we should be ready to buy a new police car," he said.

Both existing cars have high mileage and will have to be replaced. Arkwright said he thought a new car would be best for the city.

"How do we put $12,000 into the budget," he asked.

Once Independence Township and the city settle their accounts, dating back to cityhood, the city could see a rainy day fund begin to take shape.

"At the end of the 1996 fiscal year, once we received the last of the assets and outstanding deficits cleared, we could maintain a reserve of $150,000... back to where we were before cityhood," Basinger

Those who would like a say about the proposed budget can attend the budget hearing scheduled for June 8 at 7:30 p.m. at the city hall on Depot Street.

In other council action:

• Signs regulating the number of axles allowed on trucks driving city streets will be posted. Once posted, trucks with more than five axles will not be allowed and if caught will be ticketed.

Residents will receive a village newsletter with their sewer bills, beginning in August. Proposed by Arkwright, the newsletter will keep residents updated about coming events, reminders and phone numbers. Jennifer Arkwright will put the newsletter together.

Those businesses using neon will receive a letter or a visit from city officials. The use of neon on the fronts or in windows of buildings violates a city ordinance. Those using neon will be asked to to turn the sign off or to remove it.

Losses bring rise in township insurance rate

BY CATHERINE PASSMORE Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Independence Township insurance premium was set to go up $16,000 this year, but with some adjustments it will go up only $7,000.

David Huttenlocher of the Huttenlocher Group presented the increase to the board of trustees on May 17.

According to Huttenlocher, the increase was due to exposure increases and loss of credits. The property additions of street lights on M-15 and Dixie Highway, the second water tower, a new pumphouse and a new baseball facility at Clintonwood Park, along with replacing 13 vehicles with new models, raised the premium $10,000.

The township's loss ratio has increased from 17 percent three years ago to 56 percent last year. The additional premium is $6,000.

Huttenlocher said his group reduced the premium by removing the street lights from the policy and increase the deductibles. Removing the lights from the policy would save $6,000. Huttenlocher said the township gets the money to replace the street lights from the insurance carrier of the person hitting the light

By increasing the deductibles on property and inland marine from $100 to $1,000 the premium was reduced by $2,700. Huttenlocher said in the long term it should also help improve the loss ratio since little losses won't be claimed.

The board approved the payment of the increased premium.

In other action:

● A settlement for a lawsuit which included Clintonville Road property was approved by the board. According to township attorney Jerry Fisher, "the settlement is better than a flat-out victory."

The approximately 62 acres is located near I-75 adjacent to a mobile home park. Eight acres will be given to the Independence Township Land Conservancy. Twenty-eight acres will house townhouses at 4.35 units per acre. The rest of the property (46 acres) will be a mobile home park next to the existing park. The new park will have a maximum of 132 units which will be placed end to end instead of side to side. They will have siding, shingles and will be double wide trailers.

"I'd say it would be the lowest density mobile home park in Michigan," said Fisher.

Had the township won the lawsuit the density of the land would have been greater than what was offered in the settlement, according to Fisher.

"We have labored long and hard on this lawsuit," said Supervisor Dale Stuart. "The reduction in density ... was one of the turning points to accepting the settlement."

● The township will participate in the Tri-Party funding for road improvements. The board voted to pave the approach to Pine Knob Land with Tri-Party funds so the residents of the road can continue their research into paving the road. The board will discuss specific road projects at another meeting.

Tri-Party funds are gathered from the township, county and the Road Commission for Oakland County.

● Carole Ann Lippincott was temporarily transferred from driver to driver and park maintenance. During the summer months the parks and recreation employee will drive the township van three days and work park maintenance on weekends.

● An upgrade in job description for Tom McDonald from laborer to maintenance was approved by the board. McDonald has assumed responsibility for supervising Deer Lake and the maintenance at Bay Court.

Final plat approval for Robin Hill subdivision was granted. The 16 unit development is located in the northern part of the township between Sashabaw Road and Dartmouth.

● The township attorney was authorized to draft a first resolution for a proposed Special Assessment District which would install a water main on Citation Drive. A public hearing will be set at a future meeting.

The board approved a resolution to observe the Fourth of July. By doing this, the Independence Township Fire Department can use $1,000 from its budget to help finance the parade. The department has sponsored the parade for over 50 years.

Traffic stopper

While sitting in traffic May 18, an Independence Township woman saw more than she bargained for.

According to a report by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, the woman stated a man in the truck behind her raised himself up on the seat of his vehicle exposed himself.

The woman was able to drive away from the man and got his license plate number. The OCSD is investigating the incident.

The Clarkston News

Americans have had a brief history lesson in recent weeks with the death of former president Richard Nixon and former First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis.

If you're at least 40, you've probably been doing a lot of flashing back, a lot of "where were you when" as you heard the news of their passing. Some of the memories are pleasant, some are not.

As for the Kennedys, I was too young, I think, to have been caught up in all that Camelot hype. But I do remember that feeling of pride in this beautiful First Lady. How bright and strong and happy they seemed, the First Family.

But how many of us remember she was just 31 when her husband was elected president? When Bill Clinton was elected I found myself wondering whether someone so young—my generation—was ready to take on such an awesome responsibility. The Kennedys were younger yet.

The stories we've heard in later years—about Jack's philandering, about Brother Bobby—have really not dimmed the memories of happier days. It was a different country then.

With Nixon, the memories are sharper. But I found myself wondering, as I watched his funeral, whether with age the anger diminishes.

I can remember the anguish I felt, marching in a cold rain to the front of the White House in 1969, hurling the name of a dead soldier onto a huge and ever-growing pile, as thousands protested a war that was wiping out our generation, for what reason we couldn't understand.

Now, twenty-plus years later, I found, much to my surprise, that I had difficulty summoning up the emotions of that day, though I still remember it clearly. Mostly I felt sad for this man who was so hated while ascending to our nation's highest office. A walking pile of contradictions. What will history say about him?

Chances are, now that Nixon and Onassis are gone, we'll begin to learn more about them. Already, H.R. Haldeman's diaries of his time in the Nixon White House are being published, and we're hearing things that have been suppressed since the 1970s.

I hope with Jackie O., that doesn't happen. She lived her life with such quiet class and dignity, shying away from the spotlight which ever sought her. Because of that our memories of her are mere snippets frozen in time.

Perhaps it should stay that way.

Scien*ifically speaking, the Belgian hare is really a rabbit at the American jack rabbit is really a hare.

MEA bashing

The MEA is claiming union busting. That means they are a union not some special group for the children and schools. By claiming union busting is this a ploy to gain sympathy of other unions? I think it's union equalization. If they strike now they will lose a day's pay just like any other union member.

About the percentage of local teachers' raises: 6.24 % then 6.5 % then 5.5 % then 5.5 %. Because each year's percentage is multiplied by the previous year which includes the past year's raise the result at the beginning of the fourth year is 25.9 %.

Prom not worthy of coverage

Dear Editor:

I am submitting the two enclosed articles for your judgment. I am frankly at a loss regarding your sources for student contributions to The Clarkston News.

When there are so many newsworthy events in which our students participate, why does your paper fail to uncover them in favor of the likes of "Prom Week?" It is no wonder that the local school district has such difficulty raising funds when the voters see newspaper space devoted to such inane commentary.

While I am sure that the prom is important to the young woman who wrote the piece, I am not sure it merits the four or five column inches you gave it. I am not sure the quality of the writing merits much either, but that is another topic. However, I am sure I didn't see anything in the News about Julie's class trip nor about local student concern over the reallocation of gifted education funds. Does any of your staff cover the schools to report on such activities or concerns to the community? Or, don't you think stories about those types of activities sell enough papers? It is Clarkston's loss that you didn't get lost your prom night.

Sincerely, Clifton B. Higdon, Jr. Clarkston

Remember Memorial Day

Dear Editor:

As Memorial Day quickly approaches perhaps we should be reminded that it is more than a day off for most people, more than a day for picnics and parties and more than the "official" first day of summer in Michigan. It is also a time to reflect back on those who gave their lives that we might be able to enjoy this day and the freedom it stands for.

Soon, many members of the General Richardson Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution wil be visiting the graves of our war dead to once again decorate them in remembrance. The brave men and women who died for their country, our country, deserve to be always remembered for their selfless service to us all, and the veterans of all foreign wars, conflicts and police actions who fought to uphold our freedoms throughout the world deserve our praise and thanks.

Sincerely, Marla Shelton Rochester Hills More letters on page 7A

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Life delivers joy through generations

I'm sure it is written somewhere that parents and required to worry about their children . . . forever.

However, I'm sure many parents worry because they don't realize how well they have taught their offspring to fend for themselves.

Such is the case in the story I heard of a recent trip by a couple hundred chorus members from Oxford High who went to Toronto to perform.

I only know positively the name of one of the students, and will make no effort to learn the names of the others. That's my way for this item.

The mostly sophomore girls were kept very busy on this trip. They were, however, given a few hours of free time. Naturally, they went shopping.

"My" group gained some glances and comments from some boys of like age. "They seemed to know we were from the states," my source said.

Then an older man approached them. His comments were clear and suggestive. His motives were obvious as he referred to his male anatomy.

It didn't go on long. It was stopped by one girl firmly stating, "Look, buddy, we don't have time to organize a search party. We're busy."

The man turned immediately red and hurried away.

My favorite man to read and listen to for things that grow, that are not kids, is Jerry Baker. He's written dozens of books on yardening, answers questions on station CKLW and is a spokesman for Kmart.

He says we should catch our grass clippings when mowing and mulch them.

I happened to catch cable channel TLC recently only to see a man and wife telling us to leave the grass clippings on the lawn.

The best part of these two positions is that whatever we do with our clippings someone agrees we are right.

In the push for better health for babies is a campaign to have all 2-year-olds immunized by the year 2000.

It's called 2 by 2. Suggested immunization centers include shopping malls and major stores like Kmart, Wal Mart and Meijer.

Well, Meijer allowed themselves to be a vaccination center a few years ago. The experience wasn't good economically.

Some store managers found that when mothers returned to Meijer's stores to shop with their babies, after having appeared to have the same child immunized, the babies cried hard and put up a major fuss about going into the store.

Playscape needs you

Dear Editor,

June 15 through 19 are very important days for the Clarkston community. We will be building a playground (or "playscape" as it is called) on the grounds of Bay Court Park. This "playscape" is unique in that it was designed by all the children in our community and will be built by an all-volunteer workforce.

I am writing to invite all of our Clarkston neighbors to get involved with this community spirited project. We are in need of volunteers for just a three-hour shift or longer, if they choose. Tools are also needed to be loaned. All tools loaned will be tagged and receipted and returned in working order. Many local restaurants are donating food for the build days but everyone is welcome to bring a dish to pass. Child care will be available at the park.

This will be a real old-fashioned barn-raising and I'm afraid if you don't get involved that you'll wish you had when you see the result.

Please call parks and rec at 625-8223 or volunteer coordinator Sheila Ritter at 625-4434 to volunteer your time, talent, energy and resources. You'll be gratified.

Fred Ritter

Dear friends of music,

During the past year I have had some mishaps that have temporarily laid me up. I will be back to Clarkston soon running the conservatory.

I have appreciated all the greetings, cards and gifts people have sent.

Thank you!

Someone to belong to

With Anne-Marie I never know what her good news could be—a new job, a bargain at Hudson's, an engagement announcement. So when she said she had good news to tell me last week, my mind went searching for what could be happening in her life.

The news was something I would have never guessed. It wasn't just good it was fantastic, fabulous, amazing and super—she had found her brother John.

Anne-Marie was adopted at birth and for the past 10 years she has been searching on and off for her biological family. She found out her mother died when she was five and she discovered she had an older brother.

I was pulled into the search a year ago and have carried her brother's name and birthdate in my wallet since that time, looking for him in court records and newspapers.

When she told me she'd met her brother tears came to my eyes and all I could mutter was "Wow." They'd met and only could speak for 45 minutes, but she told me about their resemblance and what he said to her — again "wow."

They have the same nose and teeth, they're both very tall, they like to cook, they both have big hands, and she told me they have the same speech pattern and hand motions

When I was a child, there were times I wanted to be adopted.

What if I were the kidnaped child of a princess in Europe and she found me years later and I became a queen? Or, what if I had an older brother out there somewhere (I always wanted an older brother). Maybe I was a lost Osmond sibling and could get on their show (I was seven, what do you want?)

But every time I looked in the mirror I saw my parents' faces staring back, and I knew I belonged to them — which was OK since they would have had to move to Europe and live in my castle with me when I became queen.

I can't imagine what it is like to look in the mirror and wonder who I look like, to not know if there is a hereditary disease in my family, to wonder if my mom played the piano or if my dad liked becaball

Anne-Marie said finding her brother has brought an end to one part of her life and sent her in another direction

She has finally found that face in the mirror which tells her who she belongs to and I can't wait to see it too.

Notes on worry, grass and shots

My latest grandchild, Elaine Christie Smith, was born May 10 in the same hospital where her mother was born 38 years earlier. I was present for both occasions, and this time I came away totally awed by the incredible advances being made in medical technology.

I mean, that hospital is now selling fresh flowers from a vending machine. I slipped in two $5 bills and pulled out three carnations in a vase. Amazing. In 1956, I had to call the florist and withstand a backhanded insult.

Lapeer is a small, conservative town, and I was then a too-liberal, young-snot writer for the local newspaper. When I magnanimously agreed to buy my wife a $7 bouquet, the florist grudgingly conceded that maybe I wasn't a complete jerk.

"You wouldn't say that if you were a vending machine, because I'd shake and kick you," is what I would have told that florist if I could have seen into the magnificent future.

Elaine's middle name, Christie, is her mother's first name. So, naturally, I couldn't help remembering when I phoned my mother to announce the first Christie's birth. Mother was a very religious woman who firmly believed children should be named after saints. She asked her heretic son to just please tell her what saint was named Christie. And she thought I was being critical of her holy fervor when I answered:

"Christ, Mother."

My favorite family photo was taken in the maternity ward after the first Christie arrived. It shows me energetically holding the baby while my wife is lying in bed doing nothing, as though she'd just done something to be tired about. The picture was taken by a friend and we had no idea how interesting it was until it came back from the drugstore.

That's when we first noticed a fourth face had mysteriously appeared in the photo. A little girl is peeking in through the hospital window, holding her tiny hands alongside her scrunched-up face to keep the glare from the glass out of her eyes. It is our then-6-year-old daughter, Karen, who was supposed to be home.

We lived in the next block, and she had walked to the hospital, balancing a kitchen stool on her head. She needed the stool to stand on to see through the window. Karen has always been resourceful. If the maternity ward had been on the second floor, she would have called a fire truck.

In those stricter days, it was forbidden to allow children -- or almost anyone except the masked father -- into the maternity ward to see the infants. Today, everyone except the family gerbil is welcome.

Included in the crowd greeting Elaine Christie in the recovery room was 2-year-old Gracie, granddaughter of that 6-year-old peeping Tom who grew up to make me the father of a grandmother. Try that on if you want to feel like you've been hanging around the same hospital since Lincoln was shot.

Speaking of windows, after an 18-year absence, we are again living where we can look out and see the hospital that has done so much to enable our extended family to wear hand-me-downs. Or we can look out another window and see animals and birds in the woods.

It is a unique blend of rural and urban. One day I looked out and saw a groundhog and a rabbit sitting back to back. On another day, my wife looked out and saw a city trash collector peeing on a tree.

Onward and Upward. Today's message is it didn't take a flower vending machine to make me realize, once again, that I'm the luckiest, most grateful grandpoop in the history of old poops.

Got a message for Fitz? Phone 222-8755 anytime.

The 51.8% Bracket

Thanks to the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993, better known as the Clinton deficit reduction program, the new top marginal tax bracket for some retirees is now 51.8 percent. Those affected are Social Security recipients who have the good fortune (misfortune?) to be subject to both the 28 percent income tax bracket and the new 85 percent inclusion rate for Social Security benefits.

Here's how it works. First, you must understand how Social Security benefits will be taxed starting in 1994. The formula begins, as it did before, with the calculation of combined income. For all practical purposes, combined income equals adjusted gross income (not including Social Security), plus municipal income, plus one half of the taxpayer's Social Security benefit.

So far, so good. If the taxpayers' combined income is under $32,000 for a married couple (or $25,000 if single), Social Security benefits are not taxable. If combined income is between $32,000 and $44,000 (or $25,000 and $34,000 for a single person), the taxable amount of Social Security equals the lesser of one half of Social Security benefits or one half of the difference between combined income and $32,000 ($25,000 if single). Up until now, the new law and the old law are the same.

Here's where the fun begins. If the taxpayers' combined income is over $44,000 ($34,000 if single), the taxable amount of Social Security equals: the lesser of 85 percent of the benefit or, the sum of 85 percent of combined income over $44,000 ($34,000 if single) plus the lesser of $6,000 ($4,500 if single) or the amount of Social Security taxable under the old rules. Nobody every said the new law created tax simplification.

Here's how we come up with that 51.8 percent bracket. In order to illustrate an increase in the marginal tax, you have to compute taxable income. Taxable income, as we all know, is net of allowable deductions and exemptions. The standard deduction (that many retired people claim), personal exemptions and the tax brackets are all adjusted annually for inflation.

Assume Hank and Winifred are both over 65, file jointly, utilize the standard deduction, have total adjusted gross income (exclusive of Social Security benefits) of $41,000 and receive $18,000 in Social Security benefits. That makes their combined income $50,000. They exceed the new threshold, so taxable Social Security equals the lesser of $15,300 (85 percent of $18,000) or the sum of $5,100 (($50,000-$44,000) x 85 percent) and $6,000. Since $11,100 is less than $15,300, the taxable amount of their Social Security benefits equals $11,100.

That makes their final adjusted gross income

$52,100 ($41,000 plus $11,100). After deducting $7,850 in standard deductions and $4,900 in personal exemptions, their taxable income is $38,950. That puts them in the 28 percent marginal tax bracket. If Hank and Winifred's income goes up by $10 of taxable income they will pay $2.80 in taxes on that $10 plus $2.38 in tax on the additional $8.50 of Social Security benefits that will become taxable. Combined $2.80 and $2.38 and you get $5.18 or a 51.8 percent tax on a $10 swing in taxable income. Bingo . . . a 51.8 percent marginal bracket.

By Anne Howarth Clarkston Area Youth Assistance

Today's youth face all sorts of problems and temptations that were unheard of just a short time ago. Drugs, gangs and violence seem to capture the headlines when reports are made about our youth. It is therefore a great pleasure to bring a report about youths who have set their own high standards and are leaders within our community!

On April 28, the Clarkston Youth Assistance Committee held their "Youth Recognition Annual Reception" recognizing 66 outstanding young individuals for their contributions to our community. These individuals volunteered their time and effort over the last year to a number of programs. Their efforts helped SCAMP, Children's Village, Lighthouse North, Sunshine and many other

Some took on the opportunity to help through school programs such as the Autistic Programs at Sashabaw Middle School and Clarkston High School, STAND (Students Taking a New Direction) and Students for a Better World. Others donated their time and effort through St. Daniel Catholic Church, St. Trinity Lutheran Church, March of Dimes and Battle Creek Veterans Hospital.

In our fast-paced society, it is easy to become individualistic and say, "I just don't have the time" for volunteering. It is very easy to become selfcentered and not make a sacrifice to help others and yet still find the time to shake our heads over the shape of our world.

Listed below are the names of our honored youths. Read the list of these leaders - take the time to thank them when you see them - and follow their example, become involved in our community!

Want accountability

Dear Editor:

We need individuals on the Clarkston school board who will put the interests of the students above all else. When the board votes to allocate funds, student needs should always come before administrative requests. I prefer education over administration for my tax dollars. I endorse Lee Rogers as trustee for the Clarkston school board because he will be an advocate for all students.

Last year, two people were elected to the board with speeches on fiscal responsibility. Both were actively supported by the local teacher union and the school superintendent.

During the past year, those recently elected trustees seemed to vote with the administration on items requested by the administration. They voted to extend the superintendent's contract for an additional year even though the previous board had refused that approval. They had not taken part in the evaluation of the superintendent's performance, but voted to extend a contract which many have said was not in the best interest of our school district.

Both voted to approve the recent purchase of a personal use vehicle for the superintendent for approximately $23,000. This was a 28 percent increase over the price of the previous taxpayer supplied vehicle. Even though the vehicle will be reused in later years by the district I don't believe that great an expense was warranted.

At the May 9 board meeting, both voted to approve a request from the administration to spend $8,000 over the lowest bid for an office furnishings package. No substantive reasons were given to the board for the 30 percent increase in expense to our district

The campaign of one of the elected board members was run by a school district contract employee responsible to the superintendent. During the 1993 school board campaign the administration asked for and received a pay increase (retroactive to July 1, 1992) of 4 1/2 percent for that employee. I find this to be an interesting circumstance.

In June, we must elect two people dedicated not to the administration, but two who are dedicated to the quality education for all of our students. Election of Lee Rogers to the school board will help to reestablish that dedication. Rogers will demand responsibility and accountability from our school administration.

Richard H. Olive Davisburg

Supports write in

Dear Editor:

On June 13, voters will be asked to choose two school board members, one for four years, one for two. In the two-year category, the ballot will only have one name listed, that of Barry Bomier.

Thanks to Mr. Bomier's tactics, I quit the PTA council and resigned as its president. I cannot see how someone so biased toward one purpose can now say he wishes to represent the district as a whole.

On the other hand, Karen Foyteck is running for the same position as a "write-in" candidate. (That's right, allyou need to do is write her name in under the two-year category, then extend the arrow to vote for her.) Although I may not always have agreed with her, I appreciate the fact that Karen Foyteck asks the tough questions and stands up to represent all of Clarkston's youth, no matter what side of town they're on.

With all the teacher and support staff contracts up for negotiations this year, her previous school board experience gives her the edge in dealing with

Yes, Mr Bomier, I'm still afraid of what you

The Clarkston (MI) News Wed., May 25, 1994 9 A might do, not just to me, but to our entire district and all its children. You see, real power comes from each vote on election day and you can bet I won't waste mine.

Join me in voting for Karen Foyteck on June 13, for all of Clarkston.

Sincerely, Sherry Regiani

Offers help

Dear Editor:

The recent death of NBA Celtics star Reggie Lewis has sparked an interest into what constitutes a healthy heart. Unfortunately, maybe now there will be more research as to what makes the heart beat properly whether heart disease is present or not.

Millions of people suffer from benign palpitations and the like. The symptoms -- an uncontrollable twitching sensation, much like a muscle spasm in your arm or leg, and dizziness -- are very frightening. Ironically, many physicians call this a "human condition" because there is no heart disease and, in turn, they send their patients home telling them not to worry. But, how do you not worry?

I'm currently in the process of setting up support groups via telephone on a national level. However, because of my age (29) I've been questioned about my credentials. I tell these people that I have more than eight years experience living with this condition and that I've written a book on the subject. This satisfies their curiosity every time!

If you would like to talk with someone in your city or town about this problem -- no telephone charges will be incurred this way -- just mail your name, address and telephone number with a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Peter John Raposa, P.O. Box 556, Tiverton, RI 02878. And, I'll be in contact with you.

But after the fund raiser hosted by the Clarkston Insurance Agency May 19, the committee's expectations and hopes were met and surpassed.

"It was a wonderful finale to fund our project," Jennifer Arkwright, a member of the committee, said.

"We wanted to help our community," Pullan said. "It (the benefit) exceeded our expectations and we're pleased and touched that so many people got together to make improvements in our community."

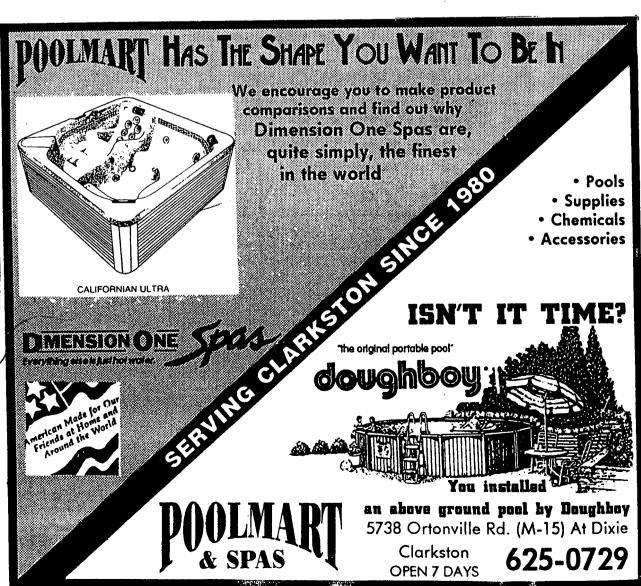

Latest tallies show the benefit raised close to their goal of $4,000. The committee was given $2,500 raised from the benefit, with more expected from those who pledged to donate and a $1,000 check from Pullan's parent company, Poyle Associates.

"We had hoped for $2,000," Jeanne Selander Miller said.

The play structure, ordered two months ago, now sits in the city hall waiting to be erected. Benches, garbage cans and the caboose have been ordered.

BY LEE DRYDEN Special to the Clarkston News

Youth hockey is an extremely popular winter sport in this area. Yet, some Clarkston area youths are proving hockey can be a worthwhile summer activity for kids as well.

Six Clarkston area boys--Hank Passmore, Pat Cook, Rob Chism, Brian Chism, Chris Pomazanko. and Brad Passmore--are currently playing on a peewee hockey team for 11-12 year olds in a spring league at Lakeland Ice Arena in Waterford.

As opposed to the winter leagues, the spring and summer leagues are non-competitive and include no checking. There are no tryouts; anyone who signs up will be placed on a team.

"The spring and summer leagues are just for recreation and learning. The important thing is that the kids all have a good time, which they all seem to," said Dave Passmore, coach of the local boys.

In order to even the teams out in the spring leagues, the players are rated individually by the coaches at the beginning of the season. League officials then make sure each team has an equal mixture of beginners and experienced players.

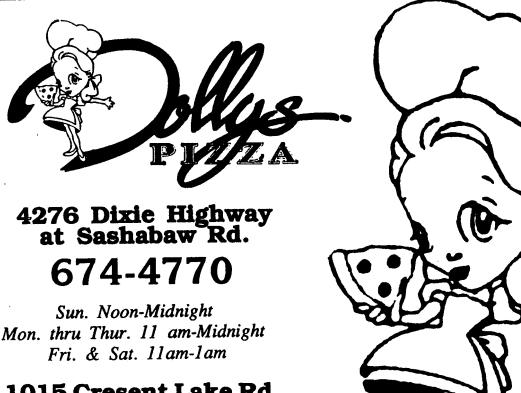

The spring and summer leagues have 12 games each in the seasons. While spring season is winding down, the summer season will be starting soon. There are waiting lists to play in the leagues and returning players get first opportunity.

While youth hockey has already reached great popularity with its regular winter leagues, the yearround play can only increase its popularity with kids.

"Youth hockey is really growing. It's becoming a big-time sport," said Passmore.

Scientists estimate quintuplets occur only once in every 85 million births.

●Thursday, May 19: After Waterford Mott scored six runs in the first innings, Wolf Coach Al Land gave the girls softball team two choices—give up now or go round and get some runs back.

While they punched out four runs and left runners on base, it wasn't enough as Mott won 7-4 in the first game May 19.

Crystal Lemke walked and made second on a bad pitch and stole home. Laura Seitz walked and scored on a controversial throw to second. The run counted but the inning was over.

In the second game, the Wolves did not give anything away.

"We were not going to lose two," said Land of the 5-4 victory.

When GOAL leader Waterford Mott came to Clarkston for a doubleheader May 19, the Wolves' varsity baseball team faced superb pitching that virtually silenced their offense.

The Wolves lost the first game 5-0. The second game was suspended because of darkness with the game tied 1-1 after 11 innings.

In the first game, Clarkston could manage only three hits against Mott pitcher Jerimy McCornack who threw a complete game. Brent Bundridge and Jeff Golec each went one for two.

In the second game, the Wolves received an outstanding pitching performance by Mike Turk, who went 10 innings and gave up only one run. Kevin Covert relieved Turk and pitched a scoreless elev-

Clarkston scored its only run in the fourth when

Joel Sanford, who went two for four, drove in Brent Bundridge with a double. That was Clarkston's only offense in the game despite numerous scoring chances.

"It seems like we had opportunities to score in a few different innings but many of our chances were when there were two outs. We just couldn't get the big hit," said Roy Warner, head coach.

The second game was suspended at 9 pm because of darkness. It will be continued where it was left off only if the result will have a significant impact on the final GOAL standings.

With the opening game loss, Clarkston fell to 12-11 overall with a 4-7 record in the GOAL.

• In an earlier game on May 16, the Wolves defeated Lake Orion at home by a score of 7-2. Kevin Covert registered a complete game victory allowing six hits with four strikeouts. Brent Bundridge led the offensive attack, going three for three with two doubles. Jeff Mull and Chris Carpenter each went two for four.

But Fitzgerald hopes to turn that around.

"If we play very well and keep it close and get into the second half, we definitely have a shot a winning the game and the district."

He will benefit from having some of the JV players and a whole varsity team together.

"This is the first time we've had everyone together at the same time," he said. "We had people out for injuries... now everyone is ready to play."

Three to go to state

After the regional on May 19, the Wolves will send three to the state track meet in two weeks.

Representing the boys track team, JR Kirk compete in the long jump after his leap of 21'1" placing him in third place.

'He had a great day," Coach Walt Wyniemko said.

Kirk tied for fifth in the high jump with he sailed 6'2" over the bar. He also ran a 15.2 in the high hurdles for a sixth-place finish.

The mile relay team of John Zamora, Matt Wenger, Jason Graves and Rich Bevins came in seventh with a 3:33.9 time.

"It was a close race and the places decided at the finish," Wyniemko said.

Zamora made it too the finals in the 200-meter dash and finished seventh. Graves placed sixth in the 400 dash with a 52.6.

"Overall, their performances were good and I'm proud of the kids," Wyniemko said. "Many topped their personal bests.'

Graves, Zamora and Kirk will represent Clarkston at the Oakland County Track Meet at Bloomfield Lasher on May 27.

"For 25 years, the best athletes who are the best of the county will compete," the coach said.

The girls team will be represented by Leah Scharl and Kristin Stanton in the high jump. Each sailed 5 feet over the bar and placed second and third respectively.

Angie Brown missed going to state by fractions of seconds.

"She ran as well as anybody — in all the events, she missed in one race by two seconds, in another one second and in the 400 by two tenths of a second," Coach Gordie Richardson said.

The four-by-eight relay team of Scharl, Lisa Herron, Stephanie Burklow and Brown finished fifth. But it was the time that most impressed the coach.

"They were 25 seconds faster than they were the week before," Richardson said. "They ran a 10:04.9 the best time din the last two to three years."

In the 1600 relay, Stanton, Lisa Gebus, Nickie Winn and Brown placed fifth.

Clarkston Cobras learn to win

BY LEE DRYDEN Special to the Clarkston News

With the World Cup coming to Michigan next month, area soccer fans know they will get a chance to see the world's greatest players in person. However, they may not know that there is a very successful soccer team to watch right here in Clarkston.

The Clarkston Cobras are members of the under-12 boys division of the Michigan Youth Soccer League. The team includes fourteen 11- or 12-yearold boys, all from the Clarkston area.

The Cobras were formed in the fall when an open tryout was held to make up the team. The 14 boys on the team were chosen from over 50 who tried out.

"I've coached many different teams and these boys are the nicest group of kids I've ever been associated with," said Milan Manojlovich, head coach of the Cobras.

The MYSL season is split into two parts, one in the fall and one in the spring. After having a difficult time in the fall with only two wins, the Cobras have improved dramatically in the spring, going undefeated so far with six straight wins, including a 9-0 home victory on May 15 over the Fraser Arsenal.

"These kids have come a long way; they have really worked hard," said Manojlovich.

The Cobras defeated the Arsenal with a wellbalanced attack. Eight different players scored goals in the victory.

"Our hard work is really starting to pay off," said Bill Kalush, team captain.

The game against the Arsenal was also exceptional for the Cobras because it was only the second one in the spring not played in adriving rain. Several players mentioned spending earlier games wrapped in blankets on the sidelines.

But the Cobras are learning other lessons from

The Clarkston (MI) News Wed., May 25, 1994 17 A this experience besides winning.

"This is a great experience for the boys. They are learning about competition and working together as a team," said Vanessa Glova, whose son Matt is on the team.

"We play hard all the time, but we still have fun out on the field," said Nate Sari, a Cobra player.

For the success of the Cobra program in its first year in Clarkston, Manojlovich thanked the team parents for their support. "The parents are great. They do everything the boys need," he said.

Manojlovich also thanked the Coach's Corner store in downtown Clarkston which donated personalized gym bags for every player.

The Cobras play all of their home games at Clintonwood Park. They have six remaining games with their next one on Sunday, May 22 at 2 p.m. against the Fraser Panthers.

The Clarkston Cobras' players are Dan Burke, Matt Carlson, Dustin Coleman, Matt Glova, Bret Gove- assistant captain, Brandon Guelde, Adam Hamilton, Bill Kalush-captain, Jay Manojlovich, Andy North-assistant captain, Mike Renda, Nate Sari, Brian Scully, and Josh Thompson. Milan Manojlovich and Rob Carr are the coaches.

Summer school expands to middle schools

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY Clarkston News Editor

Though most kids are focusing on the end of school, Clarkston schools are ready to offer summer programs for students who need a little extra credit.

This year the district will introduce summer school at the middle-school level, said coordinator Ron Santavicca.

"We're offering it because we feel there is a need," he said. "There have been requests."

A math lab and English skills development will be offered to students in grades six, seven and eight, whether they are enrolled in the district or not. Tuition is $70 per class.

Math will be offered in the morning (8:30-10:30) and reading at 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Classes run June 27-July 28 with no classes on July 1, 4, 15 and 22.

Many students will want to take the classes in order to meet grade requirements to advance in the fall, Santavicca said.

At the high-school level, the academic offerings include U.S. history I and II, government, social studies, story writing, environmental science, prealgebra I and algebra I, II, III and IV.

"There are no elective courses offered," Santavicca said. Students can take the required courses in which they may not have gotten a good grade during the regular school year.

In the case of story writing, that class is not offered during the regular school year. But it does count toward the English requirement needed for graduation.

Tuition for high-school classes is $85 per class.

Textbooks are furnished for all the above classes. Registration continues through June 15 with late registration June 16-27 if space is available. Students must see their counselors before June 15 if they are planning on enrolling.

"We urge people to sign up as soon as possible," Santavicca said. He said tuition prices are kept as low as possible.

"I try to keep tuition reasonable. We want people to attend that need to attend. We don't want to price them out. We barely meet expenses."

Summer courses are also offered at Oakland Technical Center Northwest, according to assistant principal Douglas Pierson.

"We get students from all over north Oakland County," he said. "Sometimes they're regular highschool students who can't fit (vocational classes) in during the school year." The courses are also open to high-school grads and other adults.

There are two sessions, June 20-July 8 and July 11-28. Tuition is $20 for three weeks (one-half credit) or $30 for six weeks (one credit).

Classes offered include Meet the Mac, Careers in Landscape and Horticulture, Electronics of the Future, Foundations of Building Trades, New Techniques in Auto Body Repair, Metal Machining Magic, Marketing Careers, The Art of Advertising, Creative Culinary Arts and Exploring Building Construction.

Enrollment has already begun for students. Graduates and adults may register beginning June 1. Contact your high-school counselor or call 625-5202 for more information.

Perhaps the most popular summer school subject is driver's education, which is only offered by Clarkston schools in the summer.

Through a lease arrangement with local car dealers Bowman Chevrolet and Randy Hosler Pontiac, the school district leases driver training cars only when needed and "at a very reasonable rate," Santavicca said.

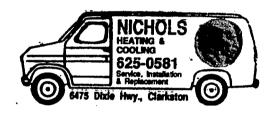

Two sessions are offered, June 20-July 9 and July 11-29. Students may enroll in an early class 7-11 a.m. or a later one, 11:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m.

Though enrollment is currently full, students who get on a waiting list have a good chance of getting in, Santavicca said.

"Kids are busy now so our enrollment has been dropping. I urge anybody interested in driver training to get on a waiting list."

Preference is given to older students for the classes, which are free and required to receive a driver's license at age 16. Students who don't take driver's training can't get a license until age 18.

Students spend 30 hours in the classroom at CHS, about six hours on the parking-lot driving range, and the balance of their time on the road. Santavicca, who's been involved in the program for about 25 years, said he's never had a serious accident

Candidate suggests organized giving

A non-profit corporation that would receive surplus goods from the business community and recycle them to schools and libraries is the brain child of a local man running for the Oakland Community College Board of Trustees.

Henry Woloson of Clarkston said the corporation could be run by OCC business students and eventually lead to an institute for charitable giving through OCC.

Woloson got the idea from actual experience. Two years ago, while controller of an automotive supplier, his company donated excess tape products to local schools for use in art and sports programs.

"Given the budget constraints school districts, libraries and charities are now facing, a local nonprofit corporation could serve as a clearing house so that all participating non-profit organizations could obtain the available items they need." Woloson said. "This would free up more of tight operating revenues for other purposes."

He said that if elected to the OCC board, he would seek to establish the corporation using business student interns.

"Using student interns would not only keep operating expenses low, but would also provide practical experience for the student interns in such areas as inventory control, public relations and personnel management," he said.

Woloson, an investment consultant and attorney, is one of 11 candidates running for a six-year, unpaid term on the OCC board.

The Clarkston Family Health Center was evided from its offices at 5825 South Main St. in Clarkston last week for non-payment of rent.

Engelmann did not return calls from the Chickston News. However an employee answering his phone said new quarters had been secured in Waterford and the staff was temporarily working out of the doctor's home.

The big BANG

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT Clarkston News Staff Writer

Television can dish up much more than junk food for couch potatoes.

Tenth-grade students enrolled in the physical science classes of Clarkston High School use it as a tool for learning as they watch a program called "Tune in Math and Science."

But a group of students from Holly Rupprecht's class could be watching themselves on TV soon after Disney productions came to town to film TIMS teacher Stu Schultz in action.

The West Bloomfield teacher, who teaches the class from the General Motors Institute studio in in Flint, is nominated education award.

Clarkston was one of 60 stops on Disney's list as they film 60 teachers nominated for their "The Disney Channel Salutes the American Teacher," segment which will be broadcast at the end of November on the Disney channel.

Schultz chose Clarkston as the filming site because of Rupprecht's and Mike Taylor's successful use of the program.

"Clarkston has great teachers at the receiving end of TIMS," Schultz said.

The TIMS program is videotaped at General Motors Institute and broadcast by satellite to schools all over Michigan and to schools in other states.

Students not only watch but can interact by asking questions by telephone as the show is being taped.

the "QuarkGame." Students were led step by step through the theory of how the universe was created.

"Its purpose is to conceptualize and the goal to understand as we go through the process of when the universe was created," Schultz told the class."Now we need the Bang and we'll have the particles for the universe ..."

Terror at the church

Two 12-year-old boys on their way to school were allegedly grabbed by other students and kept in a dumpster near a church for over an hour.

According to a report by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, the boys were biking to school on Maybee Road when some males they knew told them to come over to where they were, near a church.

One of the boys told police he was grabbed by the waist and put in a wooden dumpster; the second victim was also put in the dumpster. They were there a half hour before it was opened again. He said the lid opened and he was punched in the head. He said pop and another liquid that he couldn't identify were poured on him and splashed on the other boy. He also said someone pointed a gun at him.

After over an hour the boys were let out of the dumpster and went home. One of the boys developed a red irritation where liquid had been poured on him and his parents were seeking medical attention. The case is being investigated by the OCSD.

TOO OLD TO BUY HOME?

YOU'RE NEVER TOO OLD to qualify for a home loan. There are many other considerations

27 S. Main, Clarkston 625-9300

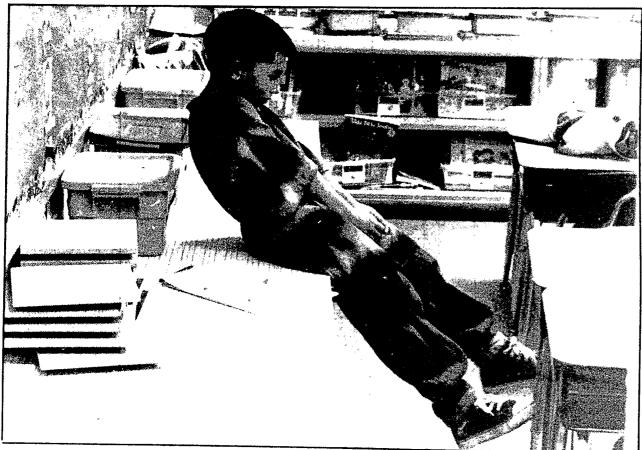

"ASK RON"

QUESTION: I am 71 years old and want to purchase a home rather than move in with my children. Will there be any problem getting a mortgage because of my age?

ANSWER: You should not have any problem getting a mortgage as long as you pass the credit requirements of the bank. The law is on your side. The equal Credit Opportunity Act prohibits lenders from any type of bias in the area of AGE, marital status, sex, or income from public assistance programs. You, as a mortgage borrower, are well covered.

Your mortgage must be evaluated on the value of the property desired and your credit worthiness.

OBSERVING his second-grade class was part of the work of principal Justin Greene.

Justin was able to drink pop and eat a McDonald's on the day he ran the school.

JUSTIN GREENE, 7, sits at his desk at Andesonville Elementary. Justin was principal for a day May 13 as a reward for selling 310 raffle tickets fo the school fair.

Just kiddin' around

Friday the 13th was a lucky day for Justin Greene — he was in charge at Andersonville Elemen-Justin, a second-grader at the school, was principal for a day as a reward for selling the most raffle tickets to the school's fair. His day included his own homework and reading class, but he enjoyed the perks of being the

"I got my own office. I got a soft chair instead of a hard chair like they use in the classroom. And I had four recesses," he said with a smile.

Justin got a pop from the machine in the teacher's lounge and ate a McDonald's lunch there with the rest of the staff. He was able to look at the school's new year book before any of the other students. He went to classes and observed teachers and students and was called Mr. Greene by the whole school.

"Some kids called me by my real name and the (playground supervisor) got on to them for that," he

Justin said his friends were a little jer an of the honor. "They said, 'Can I be your secretary or some thing?" he said.

Justin didn't take advantage of his position as principal, but blamed his baggy outfit. "I couldn't run in the halls; my pants would have fallen down," he laughed.

He said that if he could really take over the school as principal there would be some changes at

"I'd ride my dirt bike in the hall and run down the hall. I'd wear a hat in school and chew gum and have recess all day," he said. "The kids could take over. There would be no rules and we'd have gym or play outside all day."

"The settlement and extensions are unique and innovative in that they respect the integrity of the district's financial constraints, ensure that students will be the key benefactors, and recognize the teachers, administrators and support staffs for their contributions to the students of the Clarkston School District," Lewis said.

The early settlement also comes in the last year teachers could have struck for economic reasons. Under a new state law effective next year, such a strike will be illegal and heavily fined.

"We kind of did it for the good of the district," said Bill Curtis, CEA president. "My discomfort with it is there's always the belief to improve schools on the backs of the employees. We're not prepared to do that, but we thought for one year we could do this."

In the last four years, Clarkston teachers received salary increases of 6.24, 6.5, 5.5 and 5.5 percent. Those contracts drew criticism from some residents, who pointed out that private industry was seeing freezes and decreases in benefits during those years.

Curtis said his members approved the settlement by about a 10-1 ratio.

"I can't say they're happy with it but the vote was overwhelming," he said. "We're very happy the board has seen this as a positive thing."

Approval by the board of education did not go off without a hitch, however.

A special meeting was scheduled for Monday night. Haner said that as usual, the meeting agenda was posted on the administration office front door.

However resident Kurt Shanks, who attended

Monday's meeting, said the posting was not up over the weekend or on Monday. When he protested, action was postponed until Tuesday.

"The reason I asked for a postponement was it was in violation of the Open Meetings Act," Shanks said. The OMA, a state law passed in 1977, requires that meetings be posted at least 18 hours before the start of the meeting.

Haner said the notice was posted and he doesn't know when or why it disappeared. Shanks was unmoved.

"They need to keep it up; it's their responsibility," he said.

The fact that the contract ratifications hadn't been mentioned at the previous board meeting when the special meeting was scheduled didn't help either.

"Adding on all these items really isn't in the spirit of open communications," he said.

in the early '60s and over the next 20 years, three more 18-hole golf courses were added.

In 1985 a gas explosion and fire destroyed the clubhouse. It was rebuilt into the largest log lodge east of the Mississippi and sits on 3,500 acres.

The resort is now owned by Otto's son, Ron Otto, who will appear at Colombiere at a press conference Thursday afternoon to discuss the proposed development of 36 holes of golf. Fr. Joseph Daoust, S.J., Provincial for the Detroit Society of Jesus, is also scheduled to attend.

Chamber honors Clarkston's doers

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY Clarkston News Editor

If there's one thing the people honored by the Chamber of Commerce last week have in common, it's that they are busy people.

Whether you're talking about high-school student Robert Brazier, businessman Richard Ayres or supermom Sherry Regiani, these are people who take their work, and their community, very seriously.

For their dedication to doing good for their community, six people were presented May 18 with the ninth-annual Michigan Week Community Awards. The Clarkston Chamber of Commerce took nominations for the awards, which were subtitled "A tribute to community service."

ANN CONKLIN, director of Independence Township Parks and Recreation, was named Citizen of the Year.

Conklin has held her job for five years after working in Howell for 11 years. She has a BS in education with a major in municipal recreation from Central Michigan University.

She said she was "overwhelmed, stunned, surprised and humbled" to receive the award. "I'm just doing my job," she said.

She was nominated by Dan Stencil, who noted in his nomination that she has managed to expand programs even while staffing and budget are shrinking. He credits her team-building and community relations skills.

Richard Ayres in his surgical suite.

But Conklin refused to take the credit. "We have a great department," she said. "If the community wants to have something, they're going to support it."

While admitting that recreation is not deemed essential by many taxpayers, Conklin pointed to Fun Daze, which she was working on last week, as an example of what can happen when people are interested.

"That's why we have this stuff," she said. "They're willing to pay to have a program."

Conklin is also past president of the Clarkston Optimist Club, involved at St. Daniel's Church, a former president of the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association and a recent recipient of the MRPA Fellowship Award.

Robert Brazier

'I want to make a difference. Not just use words, use action. And I want to hopefully influence other people to help.'

THOMAS BULLEN was honored for historic preservation. Bullen is one of the founders of the Independence Land Conservancy, a non-profit group which, for over 20 years, has been preserving land in its natural state.

The Conservancy accomplishes that either by acquiring land outright or by means of a conservation easement. All donations are tax deductible.

The former Chief Financial Officer for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, Bullen is now an attorney in practice in Clarkston. He said he was originally inspired by a book he read in the late 1960s called "The Last Landscape."

"My efforts have been to get Clarkston proactive in acquiring sites," he said. "Ail you have to do is drive the roads of the township to see what is

Of the properties currently protected by the ILC, about half are owned outright, the other half under easement. The ILC is always seeking new members ($10 per year, $100 for a life membership) and donors.

Bullen said he's recently become active in the ILC again after a hiatus. About his award, he said, "It was an award for all of the idealists in the world who are often frustrated because their ideals never became reality...

"The preservation of land is a particularly significant occurrence because it is in perpetuity...

There has been a plethora of organizations start up and that's even more pleasing."

BRUCE HARLTON won the award for property beautification for replacing his old veterinary clinic on M-15 and putting up a new one two years ago.

The site where Harlton has worked for about 16 years has now been newly landscaped as well, an employee said. Harlton could not be reached for comment.

He was nominated for the award by John Priebe who said in his nomination, "This new construction really has enhanced the business area where his business is located."

SHERRY REGIANI received the award for adult-youth volunteer of the year. The mother of three children, ages 13, 11 and 8, she has nearly a full-time job as a volunteer around her children's activities. She was nominated by Clarkston Elementary Principal Dr. Elaine Middlekauff and by Fred Ritter.

Regiani has worked so hard she's had what she called two "cardiac episodes" in the past year. Her doctor, she laughs, told her to stay away from "saunas, hot tubs and school board meetings."

However she's been unable to do the latter. "I couldn't not do anything," she said. "I guess I've been more selective. I guess I do less of the small things (now)."

Regiani's big wish was to start a PTA Council which would unite all the school PTAs under one organization.

"It really bothered me that we were five separate

Publisher moves to Davisburg

A book publisher which recently moved to Davisburg specializes in writing on local history.

Wilderness Adventure Books was recently purchased by Erin Howarth, who moved the company from Fowlerville. The company currently has 42 titles. About half are Michigan history, the rest are outdoor books, Howarth said. The books are available in stores and by mail order.

Six of the titles are by a historian from Brighton, Bernice Chappel. A teacher for 19 years and school social worker for 10, Chappel has published historical fiction as well as books on education and for children.

In "Bittersweet Trail," Chappel takes on the Civil War from a Michigan point of view. Using soldiers' letters home, she shows the human side of the war. Chappel does extensive research on all her

In "Reap the Whirlwind," she tells the story of a man who worked on the Erie Canal, then moved his family to Michigan after its completion. In both books, Chappel includes the stories of the women left behind.

Other Chappel titles published by Wilderness include:

"Blowing in the Wind," the story of a German family crossing the Atlantic to settle in the Minnesota Territory;

"Frontier Footsteps," the story of travel by wagon train to California;

"In the Palm of the Mitten," Chappel's childhood memories of farm life; and

"Lure of the Arctic," a story of Eskimo life. For more information call Howarth at 634-1595.

Spring brings poisonous plants

Buttercups may make a beautiful border but they are a poisonous plant which can be very dangerous.

According to the University of Michigan Medical Center's Department of Emergency Services, you should know the names of all the plants in your home and yard because poison centers can't correctly identify plants from a telephone discription.

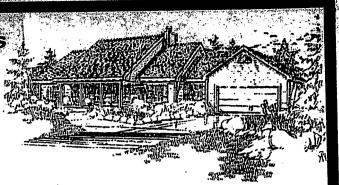

Some of the most toxic common plants, according to UM, are bittersweet, cherry pits, crocus (autumn variety), daffodil, holly, iris, English ivy, lily of the valley, mistletoe berries, narcissus, philodendron, poison ivy, rhododentron and tulip.

Collecting toys: not just kid stuff

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT Clarkston News Staff Writer

When most people think toys, they think kids almost in the same millisecond.

But that's not always the case. For the members of the Flint Area Toy Collectors Club, toys are not only fun but serious business.

"Actually we're just a bunch of big kids that never grew up," Cheri Korkus, Independence Town-

Collector and president of the club Sue Valentine admits she too is a big kid at heart and keeps everything, including the toys she played with as a child.

"I never part with anything," the Clarkston native said.

The club started over 10 years ago with six members and now boasts 25 members who come from Flint, Royal Oak, Ortonville, Burton and Clark-

Its members pick a theme each month and they usually try to bring toys that fit the theme. For May's theme, the collectors brought their kit toys.

Korkus, a collector of dolls and a keeper of her toys from the past, showed her "Jewel Chest" to fit the theme.

"Everything is still in good shape," she said of the case that still had every wooden spool of thread, needles and beads — all of it intact.

While she keeps many of the toys in the basement in storage, many of her collectible dolls - new and old - stand in display cases.

Valentine brought her bridal sewing kit. She had sewn each outfit that was provided in the kit. A wedding party of four was dressed with the handi-

Not every toy needed to be from the past. John McKim, from the Flint area, showed off his Mud Buster that he made from a kit.

From left, Ken Bush, Chuck McKim, Cheri Korkus, John McKim, Ron Mitchell and Sue Valentine stand beside their collectibles. The group meets the third Wednesday of every month with members bringing toys that usually fit a theme decided the month before. This month's selection was kit toys - past and present.

"It took me a week to make," he said as the other members looked at the kit's part book. "It has fourwheel drive and four-wheel steering."

Chuck, John's brother, shares his passion for collecting.

"We collect anything with wheels," he said. Each owns thousands of trucks, cars and "anything with wheels."

A collector of patriot and Cracker Jack toys, Ken Bush drew out of a cardboard box his contribution for the night. He passed catalogues from the 1940s of kits one could buy. He also showed a 1950s car kit that remained intact.

"My prize is this 1971 Harley motorcycle," he were doing too many things separately... That was the one thing I was willing to devote an awful lot of time and energy to."

Her other accomplishments include Clarkston

Sherry Regiani

Elementary PTA president and volunteer coordinator for two years; volunteer catechist at St. Dan's; Boy Scout co-den leader, district secretary and day camp director; Optimist Club, the Clarkston Foundation Board of Directors. The list goes on and on.

"Nowhere did I work alone; it's all been the result of many efforts and many team players," she said "If enough people care about Clarkston and the kids, it'll carry on. It shouldn't be just my dream.

"Everybody came to Clarkston for a reason. We should all kind of work together for Clarkston."

RICHARD AYRES, owner of Mr. G's Hair Care on Dixie Highway, was named business person of the year. In business for 25 years, he started in the field right after high school. He went into hair replacement early on and owns another location in Livonia. He's lived in Clarkston for 20 years.

"It was a very nice honor to be recognized and to be put in the category of some of the people previously," he said. "I was surprised; you always feel there are a lot of people who are more deserving than you are."

Ayres is a past president of Clarkston Rotary and former member of the Chamber of Commerce board. He is currently the chairman of the Downtown Development Authority.

"I really believe you get a lot out of it when you do community service," he said. "I think people think—'Where do they get the time?' There's a secret out there. People who do it enjoy it."

ROBERT BRAZIER would probably agree with that statement. A senior at Clarkston High School, he was named the young adult citizen of the year by the Chamber.

Brazier was nominated by CHS principal Brent Cooley for his volunteer activity, including president of the CHS National Honor Society and the Blue and Gold Club, a club dedicated to volunteerism. Brazier also tutors, teaches tennis and has worked for Lighthouse North and the Knights of Columbus.

"I just do it to do it," he said. "Everyone talks that

The Clariston (MI) News Wed., May 25, 1994 9 B they can do it. I want to actively do something. I want to make a difference. Not just use words, use action. And I want to hopefully influence other people to help."

Brazier plans to attend Michigan State University in the fall. He's unsure of his major. He's the son of Bob and Terri Brazier of Independence Township. While acknowledging that the CHS administration recruits students to get involved, he said, "There are a lot of opportunities. Anyone can do it if they have a lot of motivation. I still have fun too, and work and everything. It can be done."

Heather Derr signs autographs

Author

One story was about a bike; one about a dog. Another told the true story of someone who died.

Whatever the subject, the first-graders in Beth Gifford's class at Pine Knob Elementary School are finding out what it feels like to be an author, complete with public readings, autograph parties and teas.

Each Friday for the last few weeks, several students have taken turns reading their very own works. The books are bound in colored paper and are complete with cover, dedication page and illustra-

While most students dedicated their books to their families, Robbie Clark, who wrote about his favorite sport of basketball, dedicated his book to all basketball players.

"We have worked all year for this special day," Gifford said. Describing the brainstorming, writing and rewriting, she said, "We have gone through the same process an author goes through."

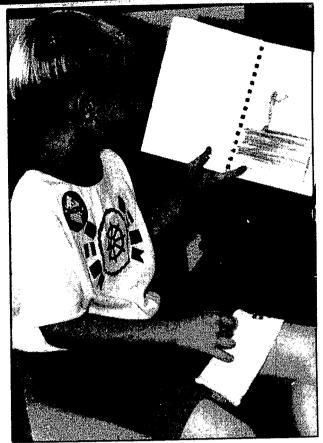

Each child's book even had a gold medallion, which looked suspiciously like the Caldecott Medal, which is awarded for the best children's literature each year. "It's our version," Gifford said.

With Gifford standing close by, each author read his or her creation. She sometimes had to remind them to show the pictures to the audience, which consisted of classmates, parents and siblings.

When the readings were done, each author went to a different table to sign autographs. Then cookies and punch were served, authors first.

"We are all authors in this room," she said. "And we treat them as authors."

Until they start taxing common sense, it's the ideal car.

It's still pretty hard to believe. A car with over 50 standard safety features, excellent fuel economy (28 city MPG/37 highway MPGt) and a sterling reputation, for only $10,795*. Folks keep telling us to raise the price up through the rafters, but we think it makes perfect sense just the way it is.

Michigan Senate Bill 378 (now out of committee can pass this summer, if and when scheduled for debate in the House of Representatives. It needs two kinds of letters from rank and file family record searchers: (a) Requests in writing to the representatives who scheduled the debates, addressed to Rep. Pat Gagliardi, P.O. Box 30014, Lansing, MI 48909; (b) Requests to each of our local representatives expressing our individual concerns in keeping Michigan's Vital Records open to the public for years to come addressed to: Rep. (your own legislator), (numeral) Michigan Representative District, State Capitol Building, Lansing, MI 48916.

It is an urgent matter for everyone reading this to spread the word, whether you are into family history or not. It is a violation of our civil rights to be unable to access birth and death records of our own, or family members who have preceded us. Gentle prodding prior to election time may be of interest to those seeking your vote come November.

As the lazy days of summer approach, everyone's mind is set on vacation, leisure time fun and enjoying it all, while it lasts.

Family historians focus on trips that will increase their knowledge and acquirement of pictures, documents or location of that which pertains to their family of interest.

Reunions bring much "matching" of family tales, but proving dates, localities and needed documentation requires visiting cemeteries, churches and courthouses, libraries or even fraternal organizations for the "local" historical collecting needed.

For those not traveling, the research library of Pontiac Area Historical and Genealogical Society will remain open during the summer to serve you, and the courthouse will certainly be available in the record retention section.

Support the programs of your own area with supplying and sharing family group sheets and pedigree charts of your family, whether you are a member of local societies or not -- somebody somewhere is looking for your surname.

Two "cousins" found each other in our small library, in class last week, by exchanging one name in lineages of both that list back to the Mayflower. If you or anyone you know needs to add to information on the COLE line, check us out.

May your summer be blessed with success,

NOTICE OF PROPOSED

ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting of the Township Board held on May 17, 1994, the Board authorized a First Reading of an amendment to the Township's Zoning Ordinance No. 83 as follows:

To rezone Parcel No. 08-24-200-002 located on east side of Clintonville Road and north of Waldon Road from PRD (Planned Residential Development) to PRD (Planned Residential Development)

Fun Daze

They called it Fun Daze, but this time they could have called it Sun Daze.

The weather couldn't have been better for Saturday's annual run/walk through the streets of Clarkston. About 350 runners, plus an unknown number of walkers participated in mile, 5K and 10K events.

In the 5K race, 202 runners finished. In the 10K, 148 finished.

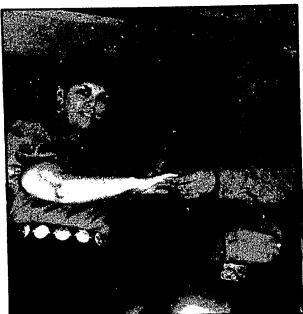

Besides being a good reason for a morning run, Fun Daze was a fund raiser for Lighthouse North. The Clarkston Rotary and Optimist clubs made it a competition among their members. Figures were not available as of press time as to how much money was raised.

Other events included a petting zoo, music, country-western dancing by the Hooked on Country Dancers, and of course refreshments.

Ann Conklin, Independence Township Parks and Recreation Director, said the day went "great. Probably the best one. We had perfect weather and great cooperation from the city police and the sheriff's department."

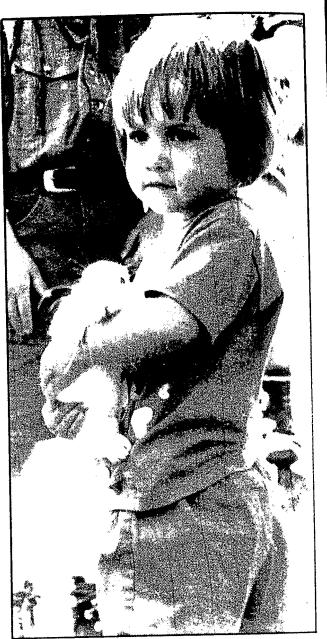

Though putting on Fun Daze is a lot of work, Conklin said it will be back next year by popular demand.

"It's become a tradition in this community," she said.

The Hooked on Country Dancers entertained while runners ran the course.
