End-of-the-year fun

Friday's weather was warm and wonderful—just perfect for a field day at Clarkston Elementary School. Children filled the playground and tried their hand at sack racing, long jumping and various other athletic endeavors.

Millage passes

Hughes, Bomier elected to school board seats

As have their counterparts around the state, Clarkston voters approved an 18-mill school tax proposal Monday that will allow the district to tax non-homestead property at a higher rate than homestead property.

By a vote of 2280 to 1195, Clarkston voters said yes to an 18-mill tax on all non-homesteads. Homesteads will continue to be taxed at six mills under the provisions of Proposal A.

The vote allows the district to proceed as it had expected to under Proposal A, a new school-funding formula approved by the voters in March. The defeat of the millage question would have cost the district nearly $2 million.

In the race for school board, incumbent Sheila Goins Hughes beat challenger Lee Rogers for a four-year seat. Barry Bomier beat write-in candidate Karen Foyteck for the remaining two years on the seat being vacated by Joe Helpert.

It was a long evening as the candidates waited through a school-board meeting that ran past 11 p.m. before the election results were learned. Bomier was immediately sworn in. Hughes will be sworn in at a later meeting. She could not be reached for comment Tuesday morning.

"I'm very pleased," Bomier said. "I think it'll help us go forward and look at areas for change."

"The knowledge the skill and the experience I can bring to the board is in communication. The challenge is to get the board to listen, and to contribute. The next step is to build credibility. I think we've got a lot of work to do."

In the race for trustee on the Oakland Community College Board, as of presstime the votes had not yet been completely tabulated, a spokesman for the Oakland County Elections Commission said.

Superintendent's contract rewritten

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
 Clarkston News Editor

Though two trustees were dead set against it and a complaint has been filed with the Oakland County Prosecutor, a renegotiated contract was approved for Clarkston school superintendent Gary Haner at Monday's school-board meeting.

The board split 5-2 on the new, three-year deal, with trustees Kurt Karlstrom and Janet Thomas voting against it.

Copies of the document were not released in advance of the meeting, but according to discussion Monday night, the contract was negotiated by Haner and the board's attorney, even though Haner's old contract was not ready to expire.

The contract replaced the old language, which gave Haner a new car every two years, with a new monthly allowance of $225. In addition, some changes to his pension and annuity raised his total compensation package above the $104,639 he received this year. The exact amount was unclear as of presstime; Haner could not be reached for comment Tuesday morning.

At the beginning of the meeting, Karlstrom attempted to delay action on the contract by amending the agenda, but the board wasn't buying it.

"I've never come across a situation where we had to vote on a contract without two to three days to look at the document," Karlstrom said. "Certain things have gone on for the last couple of months I have been uncomfortable with and it's time to make it public now..."

"The discussion that took place was in closed session. It's my concern that a decision has been made... I do not want to be held under the gun."

Resident Lee Rogers said that at a previous meeting, board president Tom Howard admitted that all the negotiating for the new contract had been done in closed session. Rogers said he filed a complaint with the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office, alleging a violation of the state's Open Meetings Act.

The news in brief

Schools explain breakfast program

During a special school board meeting June 27, Linda Nester, Director of Food Services, will provide information about Clarkston schools' breakfast program.

New state regulations require a breakfast program in districts who serve over 20 percent of their lunches to needy students. Such a program is not required in Clarkston, and districts who do not provide one are required by law to publish a report explaining why not.

The meeting begins at 7 p.m. at the school administrative offices, 6389 Clarkston Road.

Goldner appointed to historic commission

An appointment to the historic district commission booted Alma Goldner into a seat formerly held by Cindy Chiapetta who has retired. Goldner has a background in art history, said Mayor Sharon Catalo.

Lake committee to meet

The Senate subcommittee on public-access siting criteria for Michigan lakes will meet Thursday, June 23 at 7 p.m. at the Oakland County Commissioners Auditorium, 1200 N. Telegraph Rd in the county center.

Chairman Sen. Mat Dunaskiss (R, Lake Orion) said the subcommittee will take public comment regarding the siting program of the Department of Natural Resources, as well as testimony from the DNR on their criteria for site selection.

Sen. Dave Honigman (R., West Bloomfield) is also on the committee.

Last day to register

The last day to register to vote in the August 2 primary is Tuesday, July 5. Register with your local city or township clerk or with the Secretary of State. The August primary will choose nominees for offices from county commission to U.S. Congress.

Senior ID cards

A photographer from the Oakland Livingston Human Services Agency will be at the Clarkston Senior Center, 5980 Clarkston Rd., 10 a.m.-noon on Monday, June 20 to take photos for senior ID cards.

The cards offer discounts to county residents age 60 and over. For more information call OLHSA at 858-5180.

Beware of imposters

Warm weather brings out all kinds of con artists and scams, including people posing as employees of the IRS, warns Cornelius Jackson, Inspector-In-Charge of the Internal Security Division in Detroit.

Jackson said all IRS employees carry distinctive identification and must show it when conducting official business. "Generally, people who owe money to the IRS will receive written notification before being contacted in person," Jackson said.

Living with 'gypsy'

Now in the caterpillar stage, the gypsy moth threatens to defoliate oak trees

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Peggy Dryer's neighborhood is peaceful, shaded green. The homes are big, the roads winding, the vista steep and sloping. The only noise interrupting the chirping of birds is the occasional peaceful ringing of a wind chime.

But a visitor quickly feels uncomfortable. For there, hanging from branches, crawling on walls and climbing up stately oaks, are caterpillars--gypsy moth caterpillars. Dryer is wearing a hat, and with good reason. There's nowhere you can go in her heavily shaded front yard and be sure one of the hairy, black creatures won't land on your head.

Dryer and her neighbors have been fighting the leaf-eating caterpillars for the last several years. They have put burlap diapers on their trees, they have stuck sticky bands around the trunks that are supposed to keep the bugs from reaching the top. But so far, it's been a losing battle.

"Our whole neighborhood is very much infested," said neighbor Nancy Francis. "We're taking off our property every afternoon maybe 200 caterpillars off the trees."

Gypsy moths are not a new problem. Travelers to northern Michigan in recent years have seen entire areas defoliated. They've seen the burlap sacs around the trees.

But now Oakland County, the county named, ironically, after the gypsy moth's favorite food, is being hit hard. And efforts to eradicate the pest are lagging behind what some residents would like.

This spring, 2,700 acres in six municipalities took part in an aerial spraying program administered by Oakland County and paid for by the local municipalities. Those acres were found, last fall, to be sufficiently infested to merit overhead spraying of BT, a bacteria that attacks the gypsy moth in its early stages.

BT is only effective if sprayed early in the spring. The only tools now that won't kill other wildlife are sticky bands around the trunks, or burlap sacs which trap the caterpillars. Then it's up to the tree owner to remove and kill the bugs.

Several years ago Gordon Mason, an Independence Township data processor who has property up north, began to be aware of the awful potential of the gypsy moth. He volunteered to be the township's liaison with Oakland County.

In a July, 1992 interview with The Clarkston News, Mason said the county hadn't been hit too badly yet but predicted the inevitable march southward would eventually get here. He's been proven right.

"It's pretty much throughout the township," he said Monday. "Right now I'm pretty much just taking complaints, disseminating information and counting egg masses."

Peggy Dryer checks the burlap hiding band around a neighbor's tree.

"I have heard from a lot of people in outlying areas of the county, including Independence Township and Clarkston, who say they have a problem," said Carol Leuchek, Oakland County's gypsy moth coordinator.

"We do have a spray program in place," she said. "In order for people to participate, the municipality has to participate."

Once the township decides it wants to participate, field studies must be done. These are done in the fall, when new eggs are laid and leaves are off the trees, making it easier to find the eggs.

A gypsy moth caterpillar makes its way up a tree.

The standards for spraying are at least 300 healthy egg masses per acre (or 500 stressed egg masses per acre); at least 50 percent canopy coverage; a predominance of trees that are preferred hosts, such as oak; and that the infestation is in a residential area, where houses are within two-tenths of an acre of each other.

If a municipality wants to get on the aerial spraying program for next year, all the field work must be done and the reports filed by December 31. If an area is found to fit the profile, the municipality must sign a contract to fund the spraying. Otherwise, it's up to neighborhoods to hire a private firm to do it at their own expense.

"It's up to them how they want to pay for it," Leuchek said. This year, she said, some municipalities paid for it out of their general funds. Special assessment districts can also be formed.

Cost this year was $19.35 per acre through Oakland County. The county charges no administration fees, and is reimbursed for some of its costs by money from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

None of which will help the trees in the Dryer/Francis neighborhood right now.

"We're the richest county in the entire U.S.," said Francis. "I just don't believe for a second they can't come up with funds. What are funds for... It's all a matter of being a priority."

Mason said the best thing residents can do now is tie a string around the tree holding a fold of burlap over it. Then the bugs must be picked off and destroyed every day.

"Right now there is no eradication effort," he said. "The best thing I've seen happen, and it's a lot of work, is the burlap around the trees. And every morning you have to do it without fail."

Other efforts seem doomed to failure. "What really bugs you is when you remove the hiding bands and see all of them," Francis said.

Help is still needed

It's getting down to the wire.

Work at constructing the Bay Court playscape starts today, but as of Monday, volunteer coordinator Sheila Ritter said there were not nearly enough people signed up to complete the job on time.

"If we don't have enough volunteers we will just start eliminating pieces," she said.

No experience is needed to help in the project. Food and child care will be provided. Loans of tools are also being sought.

The playscape was designed by local schoolchildren. Their ideas were submitted to a company which then drew up plans and put a package together. The materials have arrived; all that's needed now is muscle.

"Unless you help, your child's dream will not be realized," Ritter said. She's hoping a lot of people who haven't signed up will just show up.

To volunteer, show up at the park, located on Andersonville Rd. between White Lake and Dixie Highway, now through Sunday. For more information call Independence Township Parks and Recreation at 625-8223.

Santavicca named CHS assistant principal

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Ronald Santavicca was named the new assistant principal of Clarkston High School by superintendent Gary Haner Monday night at the regular meeting of the board of education.

Santavicca has been a CHS teacher since 1967 and is also director of driver education and summer school. He teaches vocational auto mechanics and industrial arts, and received his administrative certification in 1993. He will replace James Goebel, who has been named a superintendent in another part of the state.

In other administrative moves to fill vacancies, Rebecca Craig was named administrative supervisor of special education and autism. Craig has been a special ed. teacher consultant with Clarkston schools since 1974. She has also served as SCAMP program coordinator since 1988.

Michael Krystyniak moves out of the kitchen and into administration as the new assistant principal at Sashabaw Middle School. He will leave Oakland Technical Center Northwest, where he taught in the culinary arts program.

In addition to a master's degree in educational administration, he is a graduate of the prestigious Culinary Institute of America and a member of Michigan Chefs de Cuisine. He's the father of two middle-school children.

In other action at Monday's school-board meeting:

- Two clerks were recalled from layoff. Sharon Gwin will fill a half-time vacancy; Janet Dean will fill a full-time vacancy.

- Fourteen teachers were granted tenure after successfully completing two years of teaching.

- The board ratified one-year contract extensions with pay freezes for the central office clerical staff and the head custodian and building maintenance workers.

- The purchase of new science textbooks and equipment for grades 3-5 was approved. The $135,648 cost will be paid for from the general fund.

- A new health textbook was approved for 12th-grade Human Relations. The book has been approved by the Community Reproductive Health Advisory Council. The cost of $2,186 is budgeted in the general fund.

- Approval was given to purchase a used dump truck up to $25,000. A truck has not yet been located.

- The board approved several paving projects at the high school and Sashabaw Middle School to be paid for out of money left in the maintenance budget. The total is about $56,000.

- The board rescinded an earlier contract for office furniture for Special Services in favor of a lower one. The move cuts about $8,000 from the cost.

School bus damaged by water balloon

A 13-year-old Independence Township boy got a little more than he bargained for June 10 when he pulled off what was supposed to be a typical childhood prank.

The youngster, who attends Lake Orion schools, told his school-bus driver he was going to hit the bus with a water balloon. According to a report filed with the Oakland County Sheriff's substation in Independence Township, the driver suggested he not do that.

The boy went home, told his mom the same thing, and got the same response. Nevertheless sometime later he filled a plastic bag with water and threw it at the bus windshield, shattering it.

Several children were on the bus at the time of the incident, and one 15-year-old boy received a cut on his knee from broken glass. No other injuries were reported, and another bus took the children home.

The alleged balloon-thrower was immediately remorseful for what had happened. According to the report, he said, "I didn't know it would do that; I'm sorry" when he saw the damage. He then went home and told his mother what had happened. The event occurred on Indianwood Rd near Eston.

Zoo welcomes special people

On Wednesday, June 22, any individual with special health care needs and a guest are invited to spend a fun-filled day (10 a.m.-4 p.m.) at the sixth-annual "Zoo Day" at the Detroit Zoo. This event is co-sponsored by Binson's Hospital Supplies, Inc.

"Zoo Day" has turned into a very popular community event, with a total attendance of more than 30,000 patrons over the first five years. This year, Binson's will welcome more than 70 groups from rehabilitation centers, development schools, senior citizen organizations and nursing homes throughout southeastern Michigan for the annual zoo adventure.

City schedules Truth in Taxation hearing

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

After a somewhat lengthy discussion, Clarkston's city council voted unanimously to adopt a $587,685 budget for 1994-95 at its meeting June 8 (Councilman James Schultz was absent).

The budget amount includes total revenues of $463,477 (budgeted income) and $124,208 in cash reserves. The slight decrease from $589,185, the originally proposed amount, comes from adjustments which City Manager Art Pappas explained.

"Because we subtracted $1,500 in income we're not going to get from the schools and added $1,500 in new expenses," Pappas said.

Some of the complications in deciding on budget figures have come from Clarkston's changing its status from village to city on July 1, 1992.

"The township owes the city $270,000 and we used it up in services for fire protection and library. We predict we will have used everything the township owes us but $9,000 by the end of this year," Pappas said, adding that the city holds the $9,000 in credit.

Councilman William Basinger said that by 1995 the city expected to be on "a regular payment schedule."

But because council members want to keep the millage rate at the present figure, 12.3 mills, a Truth in Taxation hearing is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, June 22. The hearing is required to notify the public of any tax increase. Council expects to raise taxes $5,000.

The increase is needed for new street equipment and city hall maintenance.

Property values often increase if the millage rate is left the same and "you collect more money from homeowners," Basinger said.

Councilman Steve Arkwright said that by law, a Truth and Taxation hearing is required "anytime there's an increase in dollars collected on the same tax base."

"We're talking about a minuscule difference from the 12.1180 mills (that had been discussed). You're only talking an average of about $10 (per year) per property owner," Basinger said.

A mill is equal to $1 for every $1,000 in assessed property value (SEV).

"The majority (of council members) wanted to make sure until we pass the millage, to keep pace with inflation. The way to do that is to levy 12.3 mills," Basinger said.

The council will have a second meeting on Wednesday, June 29, a week after the hearing, to make its final decision.

"We're cutting it close because the tax statements should be mailed by the first of July," Pappas said.

Discussion over the budget was somewhat split into two positions. Council members bantered for nearly an hour, expressing concern over when and how to use the $5,000 in new revenues and existing cash reserves.

"We have a lot of equipment that needs to be replaced in a short period of time," Mayor Sharron Catallo said.

"We haven't replaced a truck in 12 years," councilman Stephen Secatch agreed.

Other members stressed frugality.

"I think some felt, 'Let's wait another year until things settle down,'" Basinger said.

Arkwright, who is a financial consultant, said he was nervous about not having enough in cash reserves.

The Clarkston News

In Focus

by Annette Kingsbury

The band plays on

Attending graduation is always fun. And as a former high-school band member, listening to the bands is always high on my list of priorities.

So I was curious to hear what the Clarkston High School band would sound like at my first CHS graduation last week. And I have to say, I was really impressed. Blown away was more like it actually, especially hearing the band and choirs all together on "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Aah, I said to myself when it was over; yes, indeed, this is what a Class A band is supposed to sound like. You see, over the years, I had begun to wonder: was my high-school band really as good as I remember it?

Listening to smaller bands from smaller schools was what got me to wondering. They would go to competitions and come back with high marks, but I was—well, underwhelmed. I remembered that we too went to competitions, got high marks, and we always thought we sounded fantastic. Was that just the typical enthusiasm of youth, or were we really good?

Hearing the CHS band cleared that up for me. Yes! We were good! I could rest assured. A good Class A band has real soloists, real depth, real oomph!

Music is one of those things in school that you either really love or just have no use for. Me, I get misty-eyed whenever a high-school band goes by. If the sound is big and bold, it's all I can do to keep from crying. Something tells me it's more than just the big sound or the flashy uniforms.

Surely it must have something to do with memories of a carefree age, when a kid has nothing more important than to pour all her energy into marching and practicing and music lessons, even if it does drive the neighbors batty.

Nowadays, we often hear that music programs are the target when budgets must be cut. There are all those expenses for uniforms, band camp, trips to parades and athletic events, and overtime for the director.

But just imagine what a parade would be like without a marching band. Or imagine graduation with piped-in music. It just wouldn't be the same.

My most searing memory of my own graduation was having to return the oboe I'd been using for three years to the band director. Getting one of my own was out of the question. I'd be going on to college without one.

But the appreciation of music and the work ethic have never died. And I'm sure that's true of today's students. Whether they go on to play in college, dabble in a rock band or never pick up an instrument again, music will always enrich their lives.

Jim's Jottings

Some athletes are just people

By Jim Sherman

When I was a high school lad some fathers drove us to Detroit to a Tiger baseball game. It was a "day" when the professional players would come to the edge of the stands and talk to us students.

The only other thing I remember about that day was a fellow student's remark. He was a senior and I a sophomore. I can't recall his name, but, on the way back home, after asking me what I thought of meeting that player, he said, "They're just regular people aren't they?"

Last week I went to a media day at Indianwood Golf and Country Club. It will host the 1994 U. S. Women's Open Championship July 18-24.

The 1993 Open winner was there to meet the media, thereby promoting the event.

Her name is Lauri Merten.

We were in her midst for the better part of three hours and all during that time that comment I heard in the early 1940's kept recurring.

She's just a person who took up golf at age 14 and went on to excel in it in high school, college and on the pro tour.

Along the way she's had some of the same thoughts all the rest of us have... Am I doing the best I can?; Should I get into another profession?; Can I win another tournament?

She spoke of these things - casually, friendly, interestingly. She talked about her father working with her on her game. She talked about her coach. And, she talked about her fiance. She talked a lot about her fiance.

"He's Italian, and he a real energized person. It's definitely not boring around him. He brought me out of my shell. When I start getting too serious he says, 'You're starting to act like a golf pro again.'"

Her love showed brilliantly.

Lauri Merten we'd guess is in her early 30s. She might weigh 110. She might be 5'1". She hits a tee shot "225 to 235 yards with a 5 yard draw." I'm 6'4" and weigh 220. When everything goes well on my tee shot the ball won't get to 225 with a good roll and strong wind.

She admits to having to concentrate on every shot. At the Open in Indiana last year she failed to concentrate on one shot and hit a drive into the woods.

Hitting into the woods makes her a regular person. The concentrating on every shot makes her a winner in her chosen occupation.

I know there are prima donnas in everything, including newspapering. You know, the non-regular people. But it sure feels good to meet some professional, public figures who are just "regular people."

We look forward to seeing Lauri Merten-Capano again at Indianwood in Lake Orion July 18-24.

Star Wars or Trek, it's only a fantasy

The luncheon conversation concerned the demise of a TV show, and I was acting as though I knew what everyone was talking about. I mentioned the name of actor Harrison Ford. And the other people at the table gave me strange looks. My friend Ralph said what was apparently on everyone's mind:

"You don't know the difference between 'Star Trek' and 'Star Wars,' do you?"

Oh my. There's a difference?

From reading recent world-shaking headlines, I knew no more new episodes of "Star Trek: The Next Generation" were being made. And I'd asked if Ford were in the TV version, because I thought I recalled seeing him in the theater version.

Ralph and the other lunchers demanded to know how I could be so ignorant. How could a big-city columnist, who's supposed to know what's going on in the world, actually believe "Star Trek" and "Star Wars" were the same entertainment?

So I confessed: I hate fantasy fiction, especially when it's called science fiction. If something couldn't happen in real life, I don't want to read about it in books or see it in theaters or on television. If it's unbelievable, it's a waste of my time.

It's difficult enough trying to keep up with and understanding what's really happening. I won't be bothered with stuff that can't happen in the real world.

I flee from movies starring Stallone, Schwarzenegger and the other muscle-heads. Not because those films are violent, but because the violence -- and the hero's immortal immunity to it -- is so absurdly exaggerated. Life is not like that. Road Runner cartoons are like that.

For the record, the best fictional movie I've seen lately is "Four Weddings and a Funeral." "Schindler's List" was based on fact, of course, and was superbly wrenching. Except for the ending, when the previously cool, well-contained Schindler suddenly broke down, weeping and wailing that he should have saved more Jews from Hitler. That was as believable as "Star Trek."

Currently on TV, the only fiction that makes me put down my newspaper is "NYPD Blue." The tension is riveting. As for realistic, I'd like to believe not even one real-life cop is ever as brutally disregarding of civil rights and civilian sensibilities as is the "NYPD" bunch. But tell that to Rodney King. Tell it to those Detroit children who last week watched a big, brave policeman shoot their tiny terrier dead.

Books? I try to keep up with the fictional best-sellers, but after reading John Grisham's "The Client," I'm ready to quit. Talk about fantasy. Grisham expects readers to believe an 11-year-old boy is wiser, braver and more resourceful than any other person on Earth, even Sylvester Stallone. No sale.

Give me the facts, as in the tremendous "Truman." Or, believe it or not, Carol Burnett's autobiography. There's a woman who, early in life, overcame realities that would have floored the entire crew of the starship Compromise, or whatever it's called.

Enough of my preferences. To each his own. I think Trekkies are silly, and it's OK if they think I'm stodgy. My friend Ralph insists it's part of my job to know something about everything, and it's unforgivable that I didn't know the difference between "Star Wars" and "Star Trek."

Under questioning, Ralph learned I also didn't know or care who won this year's Kentucky Derby and Indianapolis 500. He accused me of being anti-sports, as well as anti-fantasy.

I said that was nonsense, and to prove it I jokingly observed that next season the Detroit Lions, to hide the mouth of their 6-foot-6 quarterback from opponents, will change the shape of their huddle.

Onward and Upward. It is only a matter of time before nonsense changes the shape of the world.

Don't Rush Me

By Don Rush

The long road south

I'm a traveling man, made a lot of stops . . . Last month Des and I did Tennessee. We racked up nearly 2,600 miles driving through the state, north and south, east and west (then east again). So, here are some vacation notes.

1. Why is Ohio the worst state to drive through . . . especially via I-75? Not because it is flat. Not because the state troopers like to pull you over for speeding. Not any of those things. From what we experienced it was I-75.

Seems the state of Ohio decided to work on I-75 this year. Not just a part of it, but all of it. From the time you exit the Great Lake State until the time you pull in the Blue Grass State it's lane to lane construction. No fooling.

I estimate that 90 percent of the danged highway is being worked, and it makes for some absolutely terrible driving. If any of you is planning a southern driving trip avoid I-75.

2. We had the typical mis-adventures of Don and Des. We planned on spending two days each in Gatlinburg, Chattanooga, Nashville and Memphis — in that order.

After doing the tourism-strong Gatlinburg we headed to our destination in Chattanooga. Where we were booked to stay, the Days Inn, there was one other car in the parking lot. It looked like a war zone. We cancelled our stay there and added two days to Nashville.

We drove through and past Chattanooga with visions of doing Opryland, Riverboat rides, historical tours, even the new Hard Rock Cafe they're advertising in Nashville.

Not.

We pulled into Nashville on Sunday. Looked around, found that Opry shows don't happen on Monday; neither did Riverboat rides. We decided to at least go downtown and dine at the Hardrock.

Hah!

That street, Second Street, is under construction, as was the Hard Rock. The advertisements for Hard Rock misled us. It was open, but only for buying souvenirs.

We stayed the night, cancelled the next three days in Nashville and added them to our Memphis gig.

Memphis, with the home of the King, had to be a shoe-in for good times. Guess again.

We drove down Elvis Presely Boulevard and noticed the only thing nice was Graceland. We checked into the Days Inn across the street from the 13-acre Presley estate. This Days Inn came complete with a guitar-shaped swimming pooling and nonstop, free Elvis movies.

Graceland was actually pretty nifty. We spent about four hours there — toured the King's home, bought souvenirs, watched a movie about the king and bought more hokie-Elvis stuff.

It was hot down there, about 90-something, so when we were done with Graceland we went to our room and decided to relax by the pool. We donned our bathing suits, grabbed our towels and reading material and walked out.

It was bone dry.

With nearly a week left of our Tour d' Tennessee, we did the only thing we could think of . . . we went back to Gatlinburg and truly enjoyed the Smoky Mountains.

3. A great way to pass the time while driving, we found, is to listen to books on cassette tapes. If you're planning a long drive pack some of these. Check out our local library, as they have some pretty good selections.

4. Hardening of the what? If you're going down south don't expect to eat "healthy." The restaurants down there give you a ton of butter with everything. And, it tastes great.

5. Besides God, mom, and Elvis, the next greatest life form down south is Richard Petty. Look for the 10-foot tall Petty head at the US 66/I-40 junction.

6. Next time we'll plan a little better.

Guest commentary

By James B. Kruzan, CFP

Mark Twain once said, "The rumors of my death have been greatly exaggerated." Like Mr. Twain's rumored demise, the notion that Individual Retirement Accounts are no longer a useful part of a financial plan has been greatly exaggerated. Although the 1986 Tax Reform Act did make substantial changes to the IRA deductibility rules, IRA contributions continue to be a viable financial and retirement planning tool despite non-deductibility for some individuals.

All you need to make an IRA contribution are earnings from your labor as an employee or as a self-employed person. The amount that can be contributed is the lesser of $2,000 or your earnings from your work. There is no minimum age for making an IRA contribution for tax purposes. If a 16-year-old works for the summer, makes $2,000 and blows it all at the mall, the tax code permits Mom, Dad or whomever to give him/her $2,000 to contribute to an IRA. There is a maximum age for IRA contributions. No IRA contributions may be made for people over 70 1/2, even if they are still working as hard as they were at 30 1/2.

An additional contribution of $250 is permitted if the IRA participant has a spouse who doesn't work outside the home. The total contribution in this situation is $2,250 and the spouses can divide that amount up any way they choose, so long as neither receives more than $2,000 into his/her account.

The question of deductibility is often confusing to many taxpayers. There are two questions that may have to be answered to determine if an IRA contribution is fully deductible, partially deductible or not deductible. The first question is: "Are you covered by a plan?" If the answer is "no," then the IRA contribution is deductible regardless of the taxpayers' income. Whether or not you (or either you or your spouse, if married) are covered by a plan depends on the type of employer-sponsored plan in place. If you're not sure, your employer can tell you because employers must check a box on every employees' W-2 stating whether they are covered.

If you are covered by a plan, the next question that must be answered is: "How much is your income?" For single taxpayers with adjusted gross income (AGI) of $25,000 or less and married taxpayers who file jointly with an AGI of $40,000 or less, the contribution is fully deductible. For single taxpayers with AGI over $35,000 and married taxpayers with AGI over $50,000, no IRA deduction is permitted. For those with an AGI between those levels, the amount of the deduction is phased out proportionately. There is a $200 floor to the deduction that will apply to those whose AGI is close to the upper limit.

A 8 Wed., June 15, 1994 The Clarkston (MI) News

For example, a single person who is covered by an employer's plan has an AGI (excluding the IRA deduction) of $31,000. Since that's 60 percent of the way from $25,000 to $35,000, he/she can deduct only $800 of the $2,000 contribution and the other $1,200 ($2,000 x 60%) is non-deductible.

The best part of the IRA deal is the tax deferred growth your investments will enjoy inside the account. Your earnings will grow much faster when not dragged down by the weight of a current tax bill. Your financial planner can show you whether and how an IRA can fit into your retirement plan.

So many Icelanders have the same name that telephone directories list each person's occupation in addition to his or her name and address.

Dads can be great without being perfect

Fathers who expect to excel at home and on the job may be at risk for high levels of stress. According to family stress expert Dr. Richard Earle, the gap between ideal and true performance can cause too much stress for modern dads.

Today's working dad is facing new expectations and increased demands to rear children and keep house, too. Many men are not coping well with the disappointment of failing to do it all perfectly.

Earle advises fathers under stress to challenge the myth of the perfect parent. A free brochure from the IOF Foresters offers these tips for reducing pressure:

- Set realistic expectations.

The Clarkston (MI) News Wed., June 15, 1994 9 A

- Give yourself credit and appreciate yourself for the good things you know you're doing.
- If it's necessary to do less, determine the most valuable "dad things" you do.
- Get "expert" advice and feedback from your family and friends about what they think it takes to make a great dad.
- Remember, there's a big difference between improvement and perfection. No one's perfect but you can still be great in the eyes of your family, the people who count most.

Father-son team cleans up corner

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Mike Shango and his father Josif are taking care of business.

In December '93 the 26-year-old businessman and his dad purchased the plaza property at the corner of Clarkston and Eston Roads in Independence Township. Since then they have been giving the plaza a facelift, both internally and externally, by adding a new roof, cleaning the parking lot and adding fine wines and gourmet foods to the once-convenience store on the corner.

Now that store is called Heather Lakes Market, part of the new Heather Lakes Plaza, which Mike Shango says has been changed to a "family-oriented store." In addition to the market, a tanning salon moved in, joining the Pizza Peddler and plumbing business that were already established.

But picking up litter and making money are not the only ways Mike wants to clean up. He wants to rid the plaza of problems that have been rumored to be part of the corner's atmosphere for years.

Chopping green peppers in the kitchen of the Pizza Peddler where he is manager, Mike spoke about "the tons of problems with the kids around here."

Besides graffiti-writing on exterior walls, pot and alcohol consumption on the premises, usually in the evenings, and cases of alleged indecent exposure, there has been theft.

"We've been broken into four times [at the market] since we came here in December. They (the thieves) stole cigarettes, money and beer. We had a break-in each month, January, February and March. Then things toned down for awhile and we had another robbery two weeks ago."

Mike figures he has lost over $10,000 of merchandise since the break-ins. And his insurance rates will undoubtedly rise. He feels the thieves are the same in all four instances because they steal the same brands of cigarettes and alcohol -- Marlboros, Kools, Newports and Molson beer.

"It also cost me $300 to replace the glass in the front door (which the thieves hit with the same brick) -- that's $1,200 in glass alone," he said.

"The police are not doing a good job. The cops came here a second time after the the last break-in. They wouldn't fingerprint the store (the second time) -- I wanted them too."

Part of the problem, Shango feels, is the lack of officers around the area. Even though the stores are equipped with alarms, it can be a long time before police get the message.

"They're all on Dixie Highway. We're not asking for 24-hour surveillance but some help. We pay a lot of taxes to Oakland County.

"I'm sure the people who live around here don't feel safe when they hear (about the thefts)."

The Shangos, who also own the Orion Market in Lake Orion and the Oakwood Market in Oxford, have no problems there. But to help combat potential crime, Mike has installed $2,000 worth of monitors and cameras within his Heather Lake stores.

Oakland County Sheriffs' Sgt. Joe Duke from the Independence Township substation says the corner has not been a serious concern.

"There's no more trouble than in any other development in the area. I think you can drive down any main thoroughfare in Oakland County and find youths loitering with nothing else to do.

Take a look at the K-Mart parking lot on a warm Friday night.

"It's not a crime problem, but sometimes it's a nuisance. It depends on your perspective how much of a nuisance it is," he said.

Occasionally police will have to intervene when a store owner or shopper complains.

"They're there (the business owner) to operate a business, not run a playground," Duke said.

But Heatwave Tanning owner Rhonda Iliades, who owns and operates the tanning salon at Heather Lakes, sides with Shango.

"Since I've opened up in April there have been those break-ins. Some of my clients have told me. And this has been happening to people who've been here a long time.

"I heard when the alarm went off, the neighbors came quicker than the police did."

She adds that Shango shouldn't be responsible for minors sneaking cigarette and alcohol purchases.

Nor should he be responsible for the pot, cigarettes and alcohol consumed on the premises.

Duke says the police are doing the best they can. "If we get a complaint we respond. If there's a violation of the law like pot-smoking, we take enforcement action," he said.

Duke, who is also a detective and involved in the theft investigation, says he's certain it's not kids who are committing the "smash-and-grabs." He thinks the perpetrators are professionals.

"We have spent hours of manpower and investigation but so far have come up empty-handed because of lack of evidence and witnesses. In the Joslyn-Baldwin corridor and in Waterford and Pontiac, party stores were being burglarized in the same fashion."

Duke sympathizes with Shango but says the police "cannot prevent every crime." The police respond to an alarm in 3-5 minutes, said Duke.

"That's excellent response time. We think we know who'd responsible, but we don't know if we'll ever be able to prove it. I would certainly hope he (Shango) is not victimized any more."

Letters to the editor

Not convinced

Dear Editor:

The government-mandated, government-controlled health reform plans now being discussed in Washington D.C. are enough to scare the wits out of any thinking American.

Just take a look at the government-run programs now in existence (i.e. veterans hospital system, the welfare system, and even the state Department of Motor Vehicles). Is there a single one that is not riddled with waste, fraud and/or inefficiency?

How can the Clintons possibly expect us to believe that this same government will suddenly become competent with our health care decisions?

Without a doubt, some reforms need to be made. But I'm not at all convinced that more government powers would accomplish the reforms we need.

Sincerely,

Mrs Tamara Ellsworth

Supports Johnson

Dear Editor:

My heartiest congratulations to Ruth Johnson on her continuing efforts on behalf of our environment. The new state law on landfills that she supported will help us all preserve our environment. We are proud that she is Vice-Chair of our Oakland County Board of Commissioners. She is one of the best public servants I know. She listens, does her homework and gets the job done.

Sincerely,
Eugene Moore

• A story on middle-school track results in last week's paper should have said the Sashabaw Middle School 1600-meter relay team was composed of Jeff Loveless, Dan Hall, Josh Lafferty and Dane Fife. It should also have said that Liz Cook broke a school record.

The Clarkston News

Soccer's all in the family

BY LEE DRYDEN
Special to The Clarkston News

With the continuing growth of soccer in the Clarkston area, one family has done a great deal for the sport and has two budding stars of its own.

JR Kirk has just completed his junior year and Carin Kirk completed her freshman year at Clarkston High. Both played varsity soccer for the Wolves this season.

JR led the conference in goals scored this season and is close to the all-time Clarkston record for goals scored in a career. He has been chosen, along with fellow Clarkston player Derek Spires, to travel to Europe this summer to compete on an under-19 team representing northern Oakland County.

"I am really looking forward to the trip. It should be a great experience for me," said JR.

Carin Kirk was asked to the varsity during her freshman season where she played goalie. She got her start in soccer from attending a camp when she was younger.

"I saw it in my family and it looked like something I would like to try," said Carin.

JR and Carin both listed their parents, Chuck and Cathy, as their greatest influences. Chuck Kirk began coaching the teams when they were young although he had little knowledge of the sport.

"I learned to coach as they learned to play," said Chuck.

Both parents encouraged JR and Carin to get involved as kids and were pleased with the lessons that their children learned from sports.

"Sports teach kids that if something doesn't go their way, such as losing a game, they can't dwell on it. They have to bounce right back and try again. Kids need to be able to deal with both winning and losing," said Cathy.

Chuck Kirk stressed the importance of keeping kids active no matter what they choose to do.

"Kids need something to occupy their time and sports can do that for a lot of kids," he said.

The Kirks have actively tried to help soccer grow in Clarkston. Cathy and Chuck were part of the group of Clarkston parents who actually helped build the original fields at Clintonwood Park.

"We were all out there with our rakes and shovels trying to clear a soccer field for our kids to play on," said Cathy.

The Kirks also hope to see youth soccer grow in Clarkston to the heights it has reached in communities such as Livonia and Canton, but they know it will take much more support from the community.

"Soccer is not promoted in Clarkston the way baseball and basketball is and it is still popular with kids. With a little promotion, the following would double," said Chuck.

JR and Carin are not limited to soccer only. Both are three-sport athletes with JR playing basketball and track and Carin involved in volleyball and basketball.

"The kids' sports schedule gets hectic at times but it is well worth it. We are very proud of both of them," said Cathy.

JR listed his most rewarding achievement in sports as the possibility he may have to attend college on a scholarship while Carin listed hers as playing varsity sports in her freshman year.

"It's rewarding to see my hard work pay off," said Carin.

While youth soccer still has growing to do in Clarkston, the Kirks are optimistic about its future.

"If parents get involved and dedicate their time, it can really grow," said Chuck.

"People used to think soccer was just going out and kicking a ball and now they are starting to realize there is a lot more to it. It has come a long way," said Cathy.

Birdland wants school busing back

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

"Over the river and through the woods" begins a well-known childhood song.

However in the song, children were being driven to Grandma's house. They weren't walking to school. Not until now, that is.

Some parents in the Birdland subdivision behind Clarkston High School attended Monday's board of education meeting to protest plans for their children to walk to Clarkston Elementary School next fall.

As part of the district's realignment of elementary school boundaries in conjunction with the opening of the new Springfield Plains Elementary in the fall, Birdland students were switched from Pine Knob to Clarkston Elementary beginning next year.

The parents are not concerned with the length of the walk, but with safety issues. The students will have to cross a construction site, walk through a woods, by a swamp and across the CHS parking lot to arrive at school.

Some parents invited members of the board and administration to "walk the walk" recently to demonstrate their concerns.

"We are the only taxpaying neighborhood to be double-whammied with change," said parent Jean Pierce at Monday's meeting. She was referring to redistricting and the loss of busing.

"In a parking lot, I don't care where it is, there are cars coming and going all day . . . there is traffic." She called the route and the planned addition of sidewalks "unacceptable" and formally requested a board vote on the issue. The board will vote at its next regular meeting in July.

Parent Laura Hall said that as a student herself from grades 7-12, she "walked the walk" and remembers seeing signs of drinking and smoking in the woods.

"I don't want my kids walking the walk," she said.

Deputy superintendent Steve Lenar outlined a whole series of improvements that will be made, including a new sidewalk at the high school, one between two new homes in the construction area of Birdland, and the addition of safety patrols in front of Special Services.

"We're planning several items of construction to make this a safer area of walking for Clarkston students," he said. "We're trying to do it in a consistent fashion. By changing it in one fashion, it becomes very difficult . . . to be consistent in our application of guidelines, to be fair to all our students."

Superintendent Gary Haner said there is expected to be money left over in the school bond program that could be used to help pay for the improvements. But trustee Janet Thomas said improvements wouldn't remove her concerns.

"It's not the same kind of route we ask other children to walk," she said. "The area that concerns me the most was when we got along in front of Special Services, because people park in front . . . it's a driveway."

Lenar said about 35-40 students are affected, only three of them in kindergarten next year. No one could say what the cost of busing them would be.

The residents said they would accept a compromise, allowing grades K-2 to ride the bus and 3-5 to walk.

"None of us has taken a position on this issue," Haner said. "We are not opposed to busing these children or any children. Our job is to collect as much information as possible, and that decision will be made by the Board of Education."

The OMA says a meeting may be closed to the public to discuss "strategy and negotiation sessions connected with the negotiation of a collective bargaining agreement if either negotiating party requests a closed hearing."

Since Haner is not a member of a collective bargaining unit, Rogers alleges that the meetings were illegal. They were listed as sessions to discuss the superintendent's evaluation, which may be closed under OMA at the employee's request.

What came out of those closed sessions was in fact not an evaluation, but a series of goals for Haner for the coming year.

"We followed a sort of different format this year in that we don't have a written report," Howard said earlier. "The problem is every year some board members have been dissatisfied with that document. The result is we decided to go a different way this year."

However, Howard was originally under the impression Haner would be writing the board a "letter of understanding." Haner said he would not be.

"There was no scoring, no tallying, no document per se," Haner said. "This came out of some of the planning with the board and the district's attorney . . . There will not be a rating."

Haner's goals for the coming year include expanding the number of meetings he holds with community groups, increasing his visibility in the school buildings, taking a more active role in leadership with legislators, and seeking partnerships with business.

Several residents were unhappy with the outcome of the contract and the lack of a performance evaluation.

"I have to ask why excellent administrators would step down or take early retirement rather than deal with the present administration," said Sherry Kirby. "I'd like to implore the board to consider the wishes of taxpayers."

"This board abdicates its responsibility on a regular basis," Rogers said. "Administration should be following its (the board's) direction, rather than dictating to it."

Departing trustee Joe Helpert was one who disagreed with the critics. "I look at the overall cost to the district. I also look at something much broader than that. And that is the performance of the district as a whole. With Mr. Haner as a whole, he has brought administrative costs in at one of the lowest in Oakland County in the years I've been here . . ."

"This district has been on a relatively even keel. There's no justification whatsoever to take any punitive action against Mr. Haner."

Wilbur built the first airplane. The Wright Flight program is just one of the many smart-fun activities during the Summer Festival at Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, June 18-Aug. 22.

Township meets wetlands deadline

BY DEBORAH DZIEWITT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Independence Township did what many other communities had to do — comply with state wetland reforms by Saturday June, 18 or be without any local ordinances at all.

The township beat the deadline and approved the needed changes June 7. The wetland ordinances now meets state guidelines in response to a 1992 law which was a compromise between state and developer interests.

"The development community, through Portage's Senator (Paul) Wartner tried to pass legislation that would have prohibited any form of regulation of wetlands," Gerald Fisher, township attorney, said. "But there was an outcry of the community and environmental groups and the DNR too."

Instead, the new bill achieved what most developers wanted — more uniform regulation at the state and local levels.

"They now have common definitions and reasonable requirements," said Fisher, who wrote the township's original wetland ordinances in the '70s and who worked on current legislation.

With the amendments come changes, which according to Fisher, will not impact most residents. No longer will local governments have wetland boards. Instead, cases will be brought before the planning commission for review.

That's a step some see as more economical while others see as more time consuming for an already swamped planning commission.

"Many on our planning board will not have any trouble with this. They are very familiar with our ordinances regarding wetlands. If anything, the process will be more expedited," Fisher said. "Instead of going to the wetland boards, then to the planning commission, then back to the wetland board, then back to the planning commission, they (developers) will be meeting with one board. The only change is the manner of review."

But Mel Vaara sees the planning commission taking on more work, despite some of the work being done by consultants.

"I liked the wetlands board and they did a good job," Vaara said. This could make it easier for the developer to get his plans approved, but it puts more work on the planning commission."

Fisher said the planning commission's work load will increase slightly in the beginning, but once they all become familiar with the ordinances, the time spent on reviews will decrease.

"This is not to say that our wetlands board was not competent, but now it will be easier to deal with," Dale Stuart, township supervisor, said.

The other major change brought down to the township from the state's attempt to streamline regulation deals with the 25-foot buffer zone in the wetlands ordinance.

The definition remains the same as before, but regulation will come from the zoning board and not the from wetland ordinances.

"The developers wanted to get rid of the wetland buffer zone. They did not like it because it took land that could be used for development. It's not to say it cannot be used — just not for building, and developers did not like that.

The wetlands act stays that wetlands regulation can only be in accordance with the act. And in the language, it does not permit buffer regulation.

"It looked as if we lost a battle with no prohibition on regulation of buffer zones at the state level," Fisher said.

"However, the act did not take away or undermine other law that the township could use to regulate the buffer zones."

The township added a natural features setback to its zoning ordinances in which it can regulate the areas in the same way as in the past.

But the changes brings advantages.

"The essential purpose of the act was to make municipalities consistent with each other . . . in a nutshell our wetlands ordinances are now the same as the DNR's," Bruce Mercado, township trustee, said.

IN OTHER TOWNSHIP ACTION:

● The board approved a proposal to allow the township's cablecasting studio to buy new equipment to replace old and outdated equipment.

It will buy what Amy LaValley, studio coordinator, called a check-out camera, a hand-held camera that the public could use to film community events as long as the events were non profit and non-commercial. An eight-week course is offered to teach those interested in how to operate the camera and to edit the film.

Also, the studio will buy a "video-toaster" which will allow the studio to update its graphic and editing abilities. It expects to spend $40,000 on new equipment.

● Parks and Recreation is now accepting bids for the installation of a gazebo and pavilions at Bay Court Park. Contact Ann Conklin, parks and recreation director, at 90 N. Main Street, Clarkston.

● The plan to buy property on Citation Drive to build a new fire station met with board approval, as long as several contingencies were met. Fire Chief Gar Wilson said an environmental check on the land would have to be done. In addition, architectural plans call for more space for the three-to four-bay station and 82-space parking lot planned for the 1 3/4 acre site.

"We will not go ahead until we make it fit and work. We cannot make the giant step until everything is right," Chief Wilson said.

Road gets SAD, bumps still remain

BY DEBORAH DZIEWIT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The road just got a little smoother for developers but rockier for residents who live on Bow Pointe Road off of Sashabaw Road, south of I-75.

Independence Township officials approved a resolution to set up a Special Assessment District to pay for road improvements needed by developers of the land that is zoned light industrial/office park.

"We are very happy with the board's decision and we feel they acted wisely," Emanuel Ravet, one of the developers, said.

While Ravet would not say what he and other partners have in mind for their parcels, he did say that plans would now go forward.

"We've owned some of the land since 1969 and it was a long, hard struggle to get this far," Ravet said. "We did not make any plans; it would have been foolish to do so without township approval. But now that we have it, we'll be getting together."

But not all are satisfied with the June 8 decision. One couple who has live on Bow Pointe Road for 15 years is not happy with the board's approval to make their dirt road into an industrial-sized paved road.

The road now is narrow, barely allowing two cars to travel side by side. It will be widened and paved to at least 21 feet, by county standards; however, right-of-ways could take up more space yet, according to road commission officials.

But Sandy and Tom Kell don't want to see the road widened.

"We have opposed it since the beginning," Sandy Kell said. "That road will not benefit us. We cannot sell our home and they will be taking a piece of our property when they make the road wider. They have taken our right to have a home."

Husband Tom agrees that with such a development and with his property totaling two acres, they will not benefit if they decide to sell their home.

"We cannot sell it as a residential-- as a home. And most banks will not finance a home when it is zoned office park. So who is going to buy our home?" he said. "We do not have enough land, a big enough piece to make the money to get what we put into our home. No one is going to want such a small piece."

Their two acres, once zoned residential, now zoned light industrial office park along with other parcels on Bow Pointe Road are part of the township's master plan to establish high quality office parks along the Sashabaw-Waldon corridor, according to Beverly McElmeel, director of building, planning and zoning services for the township.

Because of the Kells objections, they will not be part of the SAD tax roll and pay a portion of the $400,000-plus to be paid over 15 years.

A 1986 Michigan Supreme Court ruling states that when a SAD is designated, a determination must be made on the market value of each piece of property affected by the proposed improvements.

In the Kell's case, it was determined that the road improvements would not likely increase their value, according to township attorney Gerald Fisher.

"Then we cannot include them in the special assessment district," he said.

But developers could still face a few bump[s] in their plans.

They could be held up if 20 percent of the property owners protest the creation of the district or of the assessments to be changed. The protest must be filed with the township within 30 days of the resolution.

In addition, the township will go to the Road Commission for Oakland County for consent to initiate legal proceedings to change Bow Pointe Road's status change to a public road. If the township does not have 100 percent agreement, a suit will be filed in circuit court, Fisher said.

However, Fisher said the routine was merely routine and he foresees no problems with getting the road's status changed.

So far, the road commission has not received a proposal from the township.

But whatever happens, unless the road and land stay as is, the Kells will not be happy.

"The only people who will benefit are the developers and all we will get is the traffic and lost land. I've spent 15-16 years putting in lawns, driveway, garage and making improvements on the whole house -- now I don't know what I will have," Tom Kell said.

IRS says check withholding

"This year many taxpayers who normally receive a federal income tax refund had to write a check to the IRS for a balance due on their 1993 federal returns," said IRS district director John Hummel.

"In order to avoid that problem for the 1994 tax year, now is the time for taxpayers to check withholding and consider completing a new form W-4 to give to their employer," Hummel said.

"To avoid owing when they file, taxpayers should either claim less withholding allowances on the W-4 or request an additional dollar amount to be withheld from each paycheck," he said.

Additional information on federal income-tax withholding is available in IRS Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax, which may be ordered by calling the IRS toll free on 1-800-829-3676.

QUESTION: How do you go about setting a selling price on your house?

ANSWER: The seller or broker MAY set the price, but the buyers in the marketplace actually determine value. Price is vital. An overpriced home can become almost impossible to sell. On the other hand, with too low a price, you are not getting what it's actually worth. A trained real estate agent can be a big help. He or she can establish the value of your property based upon comparable prices of similar homes that have sold in your area. Starting out with a fair price is the most important step in selling your property. Everything else is secondary.

And she shall have music wherever she goes

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

When Sandra Yaeger lifts her arms above the keyboard, the audience is so quiet you can almost hear a pin drop. She pauses a moment, her large blue eyes centered into space, then begins to play.

"Anthem," a title befitting the setting, Cornerstone Alliance Church in Waterford, fills the heavy warm air with its haunting, lyrical strains.

But it's not only the piano piece, written by new-age composer Suzanne Cianni, but Sandra's interpretation of it.

Sandra is one of several students performing tonight in a recital, offered by her piano teacher, Melissa Dell Coe, whose studio, Keyboard Concepts, is a base for young pianists.

"She has a delicate touch," says Coe, Sandra's piano teacher since the 17-year-old was a preschooler. "And she has a good command over the keyboard. Her style is suited to certain classical pieces like Burgmuller's 'Arabesque' or Clementi's 'Sonatina.'"

But most of all it's Sandra's sensitivity that adds to her playing's effect.

"She feels the music," Coe said.

That ability to transmit sensitivity into sound is not an innate trait in many. But that plus Sandra's accomplished musicianship, slowly nurtured through years of piano playing, is probably the reason she recently received a gold cup.

Sandra accumulated six years of superior ratings from her participation in The National Federation of Music Clubs, also known as "junior festival," says Coe. The organization gives budding instrumentalists a place to hone their skills.

Its goal is "to set students up with short-term and long-term goals to achieve with their musical instruments, not just piano," Coe said.

Those goals are met by preparing two pieces, one the student's choice and another picked from the Federation's list.

This year Coe's students played their pieces at the Central United Methodist Church in Waterford, which gathered the entered musicians from the Southeast division of Michigan.

Selections are memorized and performed alone in front of a judge who gives the student a rating from 1 to 5, 5 being the highest and superior. After collecting 15 points, which can happen in three years or longer, the student obtains a gold cup.

Coe says Sandra is unique because she received not only her first gold cup, obtaining the 15 points in three years of consecutive superior ratings, but continued to rack up another 15 during the next three years.

After the recital Coe presented her many students with awards, everything from perfect attendance to the coveted cups.

Sandra, poised and quiet, walked from the other end of the long row of students who had already received their awards.

"This is the second time I've ever come this," Coe said, choking up while Sandra leaned over and pecked her teacher on the cheek. "She's special to me."

MAKIN' MUSIC: Sandra Yaeger of Clarkston gets coached by her piano teacher, Melissa Dell Coe, who owns Keyboard Concepts in Waterford.

She started when she was in preschool and now she's graduating."

Surprisingly, Sandra, a 1994 graduate of Clarkston High School, is not going to make music her career — at least not right now. She has her immediate future all figured out.

In the fall, she will attend Central Michigan University, the beginning of an extensive pre-vet education needed to become a dog obedience trainer or breeder. After two years she will complete her curriculum at a canine college in West Virginia.

"You get to take a personal dog," Sandra said, her eyes shining. "I'd like a Doberman. You spend 24 hours a day training and bonding."

Which will be familiar to the talented teenager. Besides many dogs, Sandra has owned guinea pigs, hamsters and mice.

Coe credits Sandra's mom and dad for some of her musical success.

"It's a family commitment," said Coe, adding that parents spend a great deal of time driving to lessons and festivals.

Linda, Sandra's mother, has been one of those supportive parents.

"It was kind of a drudgery once in awhile. That's when I would take a book and read or go to the grocery store. But then she could drive herself to lessons," Linda said.

Sandra's dad, Gerald, has shared that experience and through the years, when Sandra talked of quitting, he was her cheerleader.

"In ninth grade Dad gave me a choice in quitting, but I didn't. For a reward, after practicing an hour, he would take me out for ice cream," Sandra said, smiling.

A change in attitude came when Sandra decided she wanted more than Bach or Mozart. She learned a piece by one of her favorite recording artists, Richard Marx.

"It gave me the oomph I needed," she said. Sandra played more of her favorites, everyone from Russian composer Dmitri Kabelevsky to rock artists Journey, Survivor and Chicago.

"And I learned the theme to 'Somewhere in Time,'" said Sandra, a self-confessed romantic.

She hopes to keep her music at least as a hobby, by taking some music classes at Central.

And why not? Music runs in the family. Sandra's uncle is musician Marshall Crenshaw who once toured with the Beach Boys and played Buddy Holly in the movie, "La Bamba."

News about the Nuge

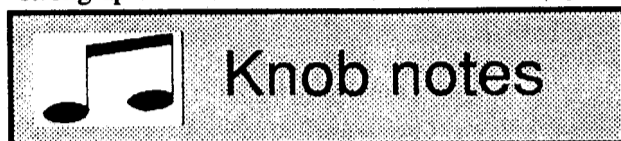

Motor City Madman still rocks

The Clarkston (MI) News Wed., June 15, 1994 3 B

Is he still crazy after all these years? Detroit-born rock musician Ted Nugent has calmed down — a little.

The Motor City Madman who has stunned audiences with such wild-man acts as swinging across the stage in a loin cloth, playing the guitar with his teeth, biting band members and shooting arrows into flaming skulls is also a do-gooder.

The Nuge teaches kids to cope in his "Ted Nugent Kamp for Kids" and is known as a national spokesperson for DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education Program). On Z-Rock (WDZR-FM) he was recently a guest DJ who conversed with listeners not only about his beloved bow hunting, but shot strong opinions about safe sex, suicide and drugs.

But on Friday night at Pine Knob, Nugent fans will probably see the same old Ted, never knowing what to expect.

But that's expected.

His new sound is closer to the primal than ever, he says.

"We are creating what I am certain to be the most volatile, fire-breathing music of my career. It's more uplifting and more fun-loving than anything I've ever done. It is intentionally designed to [anger] liberals, it is intentionally designed to make people who thrive on dependency uncomfortable. It's specifically designed to make genuflecting geeks at the church of denial squirm and lose sleep."

He defines the new Nuge-ic as "unleashed and uninhibited," much like the prey he captures.

At his new studio in Michigan called Tasmania, Nugent is in the process of recording a new album which features re-recordings of "Great White Buffalo" and "Fred Bear, The American Hunter's Theme Song," a tribute to the late Fred Bear, known as the father of bowhunting. And there will be some new licks that promise to "enhance the guttural level of the instrumentation."

"In other words, the guitar has got to sound like a ... guitar, not some electronic thing. You've got to hear it work, you've got to hear the metal strings, you've got to hear the pick hitting it, you've got to actually be able to hear the flesh against the strings when you're playing them. This was the way Tasmania was designed, to capture what it is to create."

The Nuge takes the stage at 7:30 p.m. At press time there were pavilion and lawn seats available.

Rogers-Brown

Elvis and Betty Rogers of Hardy, Ark., formerly of Clarkston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Christine Dawn Rogers of Hardy to Jeffery Carl Brown of West Plains, Mo. The prospective groom is the son of Carl Brown of West Plains and Laura Patterson of Rockford, Ill. An August wedding is being planned.

Smoke detectors recalled

Sentrol smoke detectors with model numbers 422-CT-W, 425C, 425C-W, 425 CT-W, 425 FS-W and 425 FST-W are being recalled due to a defective part discovered by the company.

The smoke detectors would most likely have been purchased between June and October of 1993 and carry date codes of 9324-9340. Prior to installation, the smoke detectors test and work properly. However during installation the problem has surfaced.

Independence Township Fire Marshal Neil Ashley said residents who have the affected smoke detectors may bring them into the fire department, which will send them to the manufacturer for a replacement.

These kids number among the best

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Try this one:

The following sequence of numbers is formed by starting with 7 and then adding 3 to each term to get the next term: 7, 10, 13, 16, 19 ... The first term of the sequence is 7, the second term is 10, the third term is 13 and so forth. What is the 100th term?

Oh — you have five minutes to figure out the answer.

Give up?

Four Clarkston elementary school students didn't. In fact, they didn't give up during 25 grueling story problems such as this one, given to them in a series of five monthly math tests.

And they got all 25 of them right.

Fifth-graders Jonathon Thorndycraft, Ryan Carroll and Stephen Janowiak of Clarkston and fourth-grader Brian Samuel of Davisburg are students who attend Susan Banworth's CAT (Clarkston Academically Talented) classes at Clarkston Elementary School.

Although Jonathon and Ryan are from Bailey Lake Elementary and Stephen and Brian attend Andersonville, the four boys meet with Banworth three times a month during her classes for gifted children.

Fourth- through fifth-grade CAT students come from Clarkston's five elementary schools and will also include those from Clarkston's new elementary school, Springfield Plains. Besides math, they study such subjects as creative famous people, world cultures, art and geography. They also do independent study projects and conduct research.

"We try to challenge the kids in higher levels of thinking," Banworth said.

All 101 students in Banworth's CAT classes took the math tests through participating in the national Mathematical Olympiads for Elementary Schools, a nonprofit public foundation that provides opportunities for children to engage in creative problem solving. The four boys were the first Math Olympiad champions the city has seen in 14 years, said Banworth.

"Clarkston hasn't had a winner in 14 years, let alone four of them," she said.

And the four students were among 115 national winners from all participating elementary schools across the U.S. Each month, from November through March, a MOES test challenges grade school students to sharpen their skills in areas such as logic, reasoning, resourcefulness and ingenuity.

"The creative part is they don't even necessarily arrive at their answers the same way," Banworth said, adding that the children have to show their work. Then they can show other students, through demonstrating at the blackboard, their own individual ways of solving math problems.

This enables other children to see the many creative ways in which problems can be solved.

Colan Madole steps out in the sun with his special paper and his selection of leaves.

Nicole Kraus goes fishing.

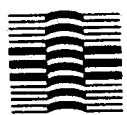

Goin' fishing at Camp Skeeter

The fish were paper. The fish hook, a paper clip. But that didn't stop the first-graders at Pine Knob Elementary School from enjoying a little fun the last full week of school. On Friday they wore their home-made t-shirts, proclaiming them all as "ants" on the back, and went to camp.

In one room, they went fishing. In another, they made paper rainbows. In yet another, they tried sun photography, in which leaves and flowers were laid on special paper, taken outside and exposed to the sun, then "developed" in a strong smelling solution. Presto! They had a colored image of the leaves on the paper.

Pastor receives call to West Coast

Tom Struck leaves Clarkston for Oregon

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Pastor Tom Struck will miss ice skating on the lakes in Michigan.

In Oregon, his home state and one he'll be returning to soon, it doesn't stay cold enough nor are the lakes shallow enough to produce ice.

The 40-year-old assistant pastor of Clarkston's Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church received a call on May 15 to be the next pastor at Joyful Servant Lutheran Church. Joyful Servant is in Newberg, a southwest suburb of Portland.

Struck, who had told his Clarkston congregation he'd be with them about five years and then evaluate what he and his family would do next, felt the decision was timely. He, his wife Windi and children, Aubree, 14, and Matthew, 8, felt a strong urge to "go home."

"When we came here in that hot summer of '88, it was a difficult process. Both our families (Struck's and his wife's) are close and we'd gotten together and done things together. We were gone from that, the kids were far from that," Struck said.

One of the people who helped Struck deal with that feeling of displacement was Karen Weaver, Calvary's spiritual director.

"He was from Oregon and had never been this far east. Part of his ministry is who he is as a person. At this point in his life he was himself responsible for moving a wife and two children. It was hard," Weaver said. She added that Struck was particularly sensitive about uprooting Aubree and Matt from their friends.

"You start to get a sense of where God wants you to be."

Tom Struck

"But we dealt with it," Struck said.

Now, after spending six years in Michigan, he feels he is making the right choice.

"I've been thinking and praying and talking to various people. You always have people you can share and be vulnerable with. They're good sounding boards.

"You start to get a sense of where God wants you to be," he said.

In January he submitted the necessary forms to Bishop Wahl of the Southeast Michigan Synod in Detroit who sent them on to the Oregon Synod. In February Struck received a call to come to the small church in Newberg where he would have an interview and meet the congregation.

All went well. Struck and his family combined business with pleasure and, in April, they wrapped a vacation around his work by traveling to Newberg. After an interview with the church's call committee and an informal meeting with congregational members, Struck and Windi were pleased.

"We both had a very good feeling about the church and the people," he said.

Then, it was just a matter of waiting. Finally, on May 15 Struck received his call to be the next pastor of Joyful Servant.

It won't be easy to leave his first church. Struck was fresh out of the seminary when he was sent to Calvary. He had his pick of several Midwestern states and, after doing "some homework on Michigan," he and his family decided it was "most like Oregon."

They have enjoyed the state's geography, which Struck said is more "subtle," the many lakes that the family loved to swim in and skate upon and the autumn colors.

"Michigan has more deciduous trees, so the color is more phenomenal," Struck explained.

At Calvary, Struck was not only concerned with daily duties such as administering sacraments, but he had other personal concerns which he shared with his congregation — environmental issues like recycling and conservation. And one of the biggest interests he has is people and their relationships with each other.

"There is such a focus on winning, being the best ... so much emotional energy and stock is being put into reaching this level we can't reach."

Struck, who wears a perpetual serene smile, brightens even more.

"Why don't we focus on our relationships with each other. Why don't we focus on being whole, healthy people rather than "I won!"

He also professes to "see the good in people, even if they don't profess a belief, enter a church ..."

"But the spirit of God is there. Hopefully the church is a place where people can be encouraged to connect with God and with each other — and with themselves."

Struck will undoubtedly miss the connection he's had with his congregation. And they will, in turn, miss his radiant glow, his warmth and sensitivity, his beautiful singing voice. They will also miss his caring for them.

"It's going to be a significant loss. But I deal with that by thinking of the joy and gift he's going to bring to his new congregation," Weaver said.

"Tom definitely made a mark on the community. And I think we made a mark on him."

IT'S FUNNY HOW UNIMPORTANT STATUS BECOMES JUST BEFORE AN ACCIDENT.

While there are those who view automobiles as expressions of status, we'd like to point out that status has never protected anyone from rollovers, side impacts or any manner of accident for that matter.

That's why the Volvo 960 wagon was designed not as a symbol of status or trendiness, but rather, a symbol of safety and comfort.

Why, in addition to spacious seating for five and a 6-speaker AM/FM stereo cassette with CD capability, the 960 wagon offers a steel unibody with Side Impact Protection System, driver and passenger side supplemental restraint system (Dual air bags) and a four year/50,000 mile new vehicle warranty.

And ultimately, why you should stop by and test drive a 960 wagon today.

Drive safely. $329 per month VOLVO

We are SIDING and GUTTER Specialists

We are not a Jack-of-all-trades. We can not guarantee you the absolute lowest price, as we will not sacrifice the quality products or workmanship that you deserve. But what we will guarantee is an honest and fair price with products and workmanship of the highest quality. We also do our own work. We don't get your job and sub-contract it out, or sell it. So if you are only looking for the cheapest way out, call someone else who claims they can beat any price. If you are looking for an honest and fair price, quality products and workmanship, dependability, and someone that will still be here after your job is completed, give us a call. Helping you make your home the one you've always dreamed of is what we do.

SMS honors 8th graders

Some kids might worry when they found out the principal had called their parents.

But Christopher Smith said he knew he'd won something when he played the messages on his home answering machine one day and heard the principal calling.

He and Nicole Buck are this year's recipients of the Principal's Award at Sashabaw Middle School. Principal Dr. Jean Lang said the award is given each year to one boy and one girl in the eighth grade who have made "a deep, long-lasting and positive impression on the principal" during their years at SMS.

Qualities she considers are good citizenship, academic performance, attendance and leadership.

Nicole Buck is the daughter of Stacie and Chris Buck. When asked to describe her, her teachers said she was an excellent student, respected by other students, polite and cheerful, inquisitive, always prepared for class, a team player. She also was active in drama.

Christopher Smith is the son of Tom Smith and Cindy Jenkins. His teachers described him as bright, active in class discussions, willing to help other students, cooperative, mature, motivated, conscientious and "a joy to have in class."

Lang described both winners as shy. "These two are probably our top academic scholars," she said. "They're chosen for their scholarship, student-ship and citizenship."

In addition, SMS honors one boy and one girl in eighth grade with the Cougar Spirit Award. This year's winners were Dane Fife and Samantha Hardenburgh.

Samantha is the daughter of Kenneth and Melissa Hardenburgh. "She is a conscientious, hard-working student who is quick to smile and is positive with others," said assistant principal Mike Dillon in making the presentation. "She is upbeat and fun to be around; a team player and a bundle of energy."

Samantha is an honor student and manager of the eighth-grade girls basketball team.

Dane Fife is the son of Dan and Jan Fife. His seventh- and eighth-grade basketball teams went undefeated. In track he won the 800 meter in the Oakland County track meet earlier this month. He is also an honor student.

"He exemplifies Cougar Spirit by being a student concerned about the total school experience," Dillon said. "He is a reliable, mature, hard-working student who excels academically and athletically."

CITY OF THE VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON 375 Depot Clarkston, MI 48346 NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

The City Council of the City of the Village of Clarkston will hold a public hearing at 7:30 on Wednesday, June 22, 1994, at the City Hall, 375 Depot, to receive testimony and discuss a proposed additional 1994 city operating millage rate.

Last year (1993) the city levied 12.3 mills (12.30 per $1,000 SEV) for city operating purposes. Because of an increase in the State Equalized Value (SEV) of existing property in the city, state law (Act 5 of 1982) provides that the base tax rate for the 1994 city operating taxes be reduced to 12.1180 mills ($12.12 per $1,000 SEV). This is .182 (18.2 cents per $1,000 SEV) lower than the 1993 operating tax rate.

The city feels that this increase in tax revenues is needed to establish reserves for new street equipment and maintenance of the city hall.

For these and other reasons, in order to fund the city's proposed 1994-1995 budget and to maintain essential city services, the city finds it necessary to restore the levy reduction. Although the city has complete authority under its charter and state law to establish the number of mills to be levied with its fully authorized millage rate, the city proposes to levy an additional millage rate on only .182 mills (18.2 cents per $1,000 SEV) above the 1994 base operating millage rate. This will provide an estimated 1.5019 percent increase in city operating tax revenues, or the sum of $5,002.34. If the 1994 SEV of an individual property tax remains the same as the 1993 SEV, there would be no change in the city tax rate for that property.

Public comments, oral or written, are welcome at the hearing on the proposed additional millage rate.

As Math Olympiad champions, the four boys received plaques or trophies and medallions to commemorate their achievements.

Brian, 9, and the youngest winner, found the questions to be posed in varying degrees of difficulty.

"Some of them were easy and some weren't. Some you had to think about for awhile," he said.

"Math has always been my best subject — I always liked it. In second grade I could do third-grade math so I went to a third-grade class."

Ryan, 11, who can do several-digit multiplication problems in his head, said he was able to solve some of the problems in about 20 seconds. Stephen, 11, felt it took him 30 seconds to come up with some of the answers.

All agreed they had done better than last year's Math Olympiads.

Eleven-year-old Jonathon, who likes math "because it's easy for me," said his mother was shocked when she learned her son was a winner.

"That's because last year I only got 17 right," he smiled.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting of the Township Board held on June 7, 1994, the Board authorized a First Reading and Adoption of an amendment to the Township's Zoning Ordinance No. 83 as follows:

TEXT AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE (Natural Feature Setback)

An Ordinance to amend Ordinance No. 83, as amended, the Charter Township of Independence Zoning Ordinance ("Zoning Ordinance") for the purpose of amending Article V by adding a new section 5.24 to provide regulations for natural feature setbacks.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE ORDAINS AS FOLLOWS TO AMEND THE ZONING ORDINANCE:

Section 1 of Ordinance

Article V of the Zoning Ordinance shall be amended by adding a new Section 5.24, reading as follows:

Section 5.24. Nature Feature Setback.

(1) Intent and purpose.

It is the intent of this section to require a minimum setback from natural features, and to regulate property within such setback in order to prevent physical harm, impairment and/or destruction of or to a natural feature. It has been determined that, in the absence of such a minimum setback, intrusions in or onto natural features would occur, resulting in harm, impairment and/or destruction of natural features contrary to the public health, safety and general welfare. This regulation is based on the police power, for the protection of the public health, safety and welfare, including the authority granted in the Zoning Enabling Act.

It is the purpose of this section to establish and preserve minimum setback from natural features in order to recognize and make provision for the special relationship, interrelationship and interdependency between the natural feature and the setback area in terms of: Spatial relationship; interdependency in terms of physical location, plant species, animal species and an encouragement of diversity and richness of plant and animal species; over land and subsurface hydrology; water table; water quality; erosion of sediment deposition.

If a greater setback or prohibition is required by other ordinance, or other provision of this ordinance, such greater setback or prohibition shall apply.

(2) Regulation.

A natural feature setback shall be maintained in relation to all areas defined in this ordinance as being a "natural feature," unless, and to the extent, it is determined to be in the public interest not to maintain such setback.

(3) Definition of "Natural Feature."

A natural feature shall mean a wetland, as defined in the Township Wetlands Ordinance, and shall mean a watercourse, including a lake, pond, river, stream or creek.

(4) Authorization and Prohibition

(a) The natural feature setback shall be an area or feature with boundaries and limitations determined in accordance with the standards and provisions in this section in relation to respective types of natural features.

(b) In conjunction with the review of plans submitted for authorization to develop property or otherwise undertake an operation in or on, or adjacent to, a natural feature, applicable natural feature setbacks shall be determined, and authorizations and prohibitions established, by the body of official undertaking the plan review. In the event an activity is proposed within a setback area as designated under subsection 7(a) or 7(b) below, but such activity is not proposed in conjunction with an activity within the natural feature itself, review under this section shall be conducted by the Township body or official reviewing the proposed activity, or, if no other review is required, review shall be undertaken by the Planning Department. The body or official undertaking the review shall, if determined necessary or appropriate by such body or official, utilize the services of a wetland consultant, and, in such case, the applicant shall establish an escrow and shall be responsible for the fees of such consultant.

(c) Within an established natural feature setback, unless and only to the extent determined to be in the public interest by the body undertaking plan review, there shall be no construction, removal or deposit of any structures or soils, including dredging, filling or land balancing. This prohibition shall not apply with regard to those activities exempted from this prohibition, below.

(d) In determining whether proposed construction or operations are in the public interest, the benefit which would reasonably be expected to accrue from the proposal shall be balanced against the reasonably foreseeable detriments of the construction or other operation, taking into consideration the local, state and national concern for the protection and preservation of the natural feature in question. If, as a result of such a balancing, there remains a debatable question whether the proposed project and/or operation is clearly in the public interest, authorization for the construction and/or operation within the natural feature setback shall not be granted. The following general criteria shall be applied in undertaking this balancing test:

(i) The relative extent of the public and private need for the proposed activity.

(ii) The availability of feasible and prudent alternative locations and methods to accomplish the expected benefits from the activity.

(iii) The extent and permanence of the beneficial or detrimental effects which the proposed activity may have on the public and private use to which the area is suited, including the benefits the natural feature and/or natural feature setback provides.

(iv) The probable impact of the proposed construction and/or operation in relation to the cumulative effect created by other existing and anticipated activities in the natural feature to be protected.

(v) The probable impact on recognized historic, cultural, scenic, ecological, or recreational values, and on fish, wildlife and the public health.

(vi) The size and quantity of the natural feature setback being considered.

(vii) The amount and quantity of the remaining natural feature setback.

(viii) Proximity of the proposed construction and/or operation in relation to the natural feature, taking into consideration the degree of slope, general topography in the area, soil type and the nature of the natural feature to be protected.

(ix) Economic value, both public and private, of the proposed construction and/or operation, and economic value, both public and private, if the proposed construction and/or operation were not permitted.

(x) The necessity for the proposed construction and/or operation.

(5) Exemptions.

If and to the extent the Township is prohibited by its ordinances and/or law from regulating the proposed activity in or on the respective natural feature, regulation under this section shall be exempted. In addition, the following activities shall be exempted, provided, it is not the intent of this provision to exempt regulation by other ordinance provisions relative to the natural feature itself:

(a) Installation of a fence within a setback area.

(b) Maintenance of previously established lawn areas.

(c) Grading and filling necessary in order to conform with express requirements imposed by the Township Engineer.

(d) Installation of seasonal recreational structures for watercourse use.

(e) Planting of trees and other vegetation, but not the use of fertilization.

(6) Application form.

Application shall be made under this section on the form approved by the Township Board and provided by the Department of Building and Planning.

(7) Setback standards

Unless otherwise determined by the body undertaking the plan review, the following setbacks shall apply:

(a) A 25-foot setback from the boundary or edge of a wetland, as defined and regulated in the Township Wetland Ordinance.

(b) A 25 foot setback from the ordinary high water mark of a watercourse.

(8) Appeals

(a) An interested person who is aggrieved by the determination under this section may request an appeal to the Township Board.

(b) A request for appeal must be filed within ten (10) days following decision. If an appeal is requested during such 10-day period, the effectiveness of the permit shall be suspended pending the outcome of the appeal.

(c) The Township Board shall determine whether to consider the appeal based upon the minutes of the body making the initial decision (if minutes are kept), or based upon an entirely new hearing. If a new hearing shall be conducted, notice of the time, date and place of the hearing shall be mailed to the owners of property, based upon Township records, within 600 feet of the property, and also mailed to all persons, subdivision associations and lake associations registered with the Township to receive such notices.

(d) If the Township Board determines to consider the appeal based upon the minutes of the person or body being reviewed, the applicant and other interested parties as allowed by the Township Board shall be entitled to be heard by way of argument and citation of authorities prior to the Board's determination.

(e) The Township Board, based upon its appellate review, may reverse, affirm or modify the determination and/or permit issued.

Section 2 of Ordinance

Amended only as specified above, the Zoning Ordinance shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 3 of Ordinance

The provisions of this ordinance are hereby ordered to take effect immediately upon publication in the manner prescribed by law.

Respectfully submitted,
Joan E. McCrary
Township Clerk

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

At a regular meeting of the Township Board held on June 7, 1994, the Board authorized a First Reading and Adoption of an amendment to the Township's Zoning Ordinance No. 83 as follows:

AMENDMENT TO WETLANDS ORDINANCE

An ordinance to amend Chapter 21, Article II of the Charter Township of Independence Ordinance Code for the purpose of amending the provisions of the Wetlands Ordinance in order to conform with state law.

The Charter Township of Independence ordains the following for the purpose of amending the Charter Township of Independence Code of Ordinances:

Section 1 of Ordinance

Chapter 21, Article II shall be amended to read as follows:
Chapter 21

WETLANDS AND WATERCOURSES

ARTICLE II. WETLANDS AND WATERCOURSE PROTECTION Sec. 21-16. Definitions.

Aquatic vegetation shall mean plants and plant life forms which naturally occur in, at, near or predominantly near water.

Board shall mean the Independence Township Planning Commission, sitting as the wetlands board under this Article.

Bottom land shall mean the land area of a lake, stream or watercourse which lies below the ordinary high-water mark and which may or may not be covered by water.

Channel shall mean the geographical area within the natural or artificial banks of a watercourse required to convey continuously or intermittently flowing water under normal or average flow conditions.

Contiguous shall mean any of the following:

(1) A permanent surface water connection or other direct physical contact with an inland lake or pond, a river or stream.

(2) A seasonal or intermittent direct surface water connection to an inland lake or pond, a river or stream.

(3) A wetland is partially or entirely located within 500 feet of the ordinary high water mark of an inland lake or pond or a river or stream, unless it is determined by the Township in accordance with Rule 281.924 of the Administrative Rules adopted by the Department of Natural Resources, land and water management division, wetland protection that there is no surface or groundwater connection to these waters.

(4) Two or more areas of wetland separated only by barriers, such as dikes, roads, berms, or other similar features, but with any of the wetland areas contiguous under the criteria described in paragraphs 1, 2 or 3 of this definition.

Deposit shall mean to fill, place or dump.

Director shall mean the director of building and planning, for the Township of Independence, or the director's designate.

DNR shall mean the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Material shall mean soil, sand, gravel, clay, peat, debris and refuse, or any other substance, organic or inorganic.

Official maps shall mean the official watercourse and/or wetlands map of the Township, as amended, or updated from time to time, which maps shall be on file in the office of the Director.

Operation shall mean the making of additions or deposits, performing any construction or excavation activity, removing, improving and/or developing land in any manner, or any combination thereof.

Ordinary high-water mark shall mean the line between upland and bottom land which persists through successive changes in water levels, below which the presence and action of the water is so common or recurrent that the character of the land is markedly distinct from the upland and is apparent in the soil itself, the configuration of the surface of the soil and the vegetation. On an inland lake which has a level established by law, it means the high established level. Where water returns to its natural level as a result of the permanent removal or abandonment of a dam, it means the natural ordinary high-water mark.

Owner shall mean any person who has dominion over, control of, title to and/or any other proprietary interest in designated wetland and/or watercourse areas, or title to an obstruction, natural or otherwise, to wetland and watercourse properties.

Remove shall include to dig, dredge, suck, pump, bulldoze, dragline or blast.

Runoff shall mean the surface discharge of precipitation to a watercourse or low area. Delayed runoff can occur from sudden warming after winter precipitation accumulated as snow and/or ice.

Seasonal shall mean any intermittent or temporary operation which occurs annually and is subject to interruption from changes in weather, water level, or time of year, and may involve annual removal and replacement of an operation, obstruction or structure.

Soils:

(1) Poorly drained soils are those soils from which water is removed so slowly that the soil remains wet for a large part of the time. The water table is commonly at or near the surface during a considerable part of the year. Poorly drained conditions are due to a high-water table, to a slower permeable layer within the soil profile, to seepage, or to some combination of these conditions.

(2) Very poorly drained soils are those soils from which water is removed from the soil so slowly that the water table remains at or on the surface a greater part of the time. Soils of this drainage class usually occupy larger or depressed sites and are frequently ponded.

Structure shall mean any assembly of materials above or below the surface of the land or water, including, but not limited to, houses, buildings, plants, bulkheads, piers, docks, rafts, landings, dams, sheds or waterway obstructions.

Temporary shall mean a time period as specified in the use permit, or if unspecified, shall mean an uninterrupted time period less than one year in duration.

Upland shall mean the land area adjoining a lake, stream or watercourse, above the ordinary high-water mark, uses for which are essentially nonaquatic.

Watercourse shall mean any waterway or other body of water having well defined banks, including rivers, streams, creeks, and brooks, whether continually or intermittently flowing, and lakes and ponds, or as otherwise shown on an official watercourse and/or wetland map.

Wetlands shall mean land characterized by the presence of water or a frequency and duration sufficient to support and that under normal circumstances does support wetland vegetation or aquatic life and is commonly referred to as a bog, swamp or marsh. For purposes of this ordinance, a "wetland" must be two acres, or more, in size, including the area of any contiguous inland lake, pond, river, or stream. If the land area is less than two acres in size, it shall nonetheless be considered a "wetland" if it is determined that the protection of the area is essential to the preservation of the natural resources of the state from pollution, impairment, or destruction and the owner of the property has been so notified.

Sec. 21-17. Findings.

(1) It is recognized by the Township Board that wetland conservation is a matter of township concern inasmuch as a loss of a wetland, and, particularly, in combination with other losses of wetlands, will deprive the people of the Township, or others, of flood and/or storm control, wildlife habitat, protection of subsurface water resources and provision of valuable watersheds and recharging groundwater supplies, pollution treatment, erosion control and sources of nutrients, and it is further recognized by the Township Board that rapid growth, the spread of development, and increasing demands upon natural resources, have resulted in the shrinkage of the critically necessary domain of nature, wetlands and watercourses, and have had the effect of encroaching on, despoiling, polluting or eliminating many watercourses and wetlands, and other natural resources, and the public trust therein, and that preservation of the remaining wetlands and watercourses in an undisturbed and natural condition shall be and is necessary to maintain important physical, aesthetic, recreational and economic assets for existing and future residents of the Township and of this state. (Ord. of 4-3-84)

(2) The Township Board adopts the legislative findings set forth in Section 3 of Act 203 of the Public Acts of 1979, as amended, being MCL 281.703.

(SEC. 21-18 THRU 21-20, NO CHANGE)

Sec. 21-21. Reserved for future use.

Sec. 21-22. Prohibitions.

It shall be unlawful for any person to do or assist in any of the following unless and until a written permit is obtained from the Township pursuant to this Article:

(1) Deposit or permit to be deposited any material, including, without limitation, structures, into, within or upon any wetland or watercourse area.

(2) Remove or permit to be removed any materials from any wetland or watercourse area.

(3)-(11) (No change.)

Sec. 21-23. Activities not requiring a permit.

The following uses shall be allowed in a wetland without a permit subject to other applicable laws and ordinances and the owner's regulation:

(1) Fishing, trapping or hunting.

(2) Swimming or boating.

(3) Hiking.

(4) Grazing of animals.

(5) Farming, horticulture, silviculture, lumbering, and ranching activities, including plowing, irrigation, irrigation ditching, seeding, cultivating, minor drainage, harvesting for the production of food, fiber and forest products, or upland soil and water conservation practices. Wetland altered under this subsection shall not be used for a purpose other than a purpose described in this subsection without a permit from the department.

(6) Maintenance or operation of serviceable structures in existence on the effective date of this ordinance or constructed pursuant to this ordinance.

(7) Construction or maintenance of farm or stock ponds.

(8) Maintenance, operation, or improvement which includes straightening, widening, or deepening of the following which is necessary for the production or harvesting of agricultural products:

(a) An existing private agricultural drain.

(c) A drain constructed pursuant to other provisions of applicable law and ordinance.

(9) Construction or maintenance of farm roads, forest roads, or temporary roads for moving mining or forestry equipment, if the roads are constructed and maintained in a manner to assure that any adverse effect on the wetland will be otherwise minimized.

(10) Drainage necessary for the production and harvesting of agricultural products if the wetland is owned by a person who is engaged in commercial farming and the land is to be used for the production and harvesting of agricultural products. Except as otherwise provided in this Ordinance, wetland improved under this subsection after the effective date of this ordinance shall not be used for non-farming purposes without a permit from the Township. This subsection shall not apply to a wetland which is contiguous to a lake or stream, or to a tributary of a lake or stream, or to a wetland which the Township has determined by clear and convincing evidence to be a wetland which is necessary to be preserved for the public interest, in which case a permit shall be required.

(11) Maintenance or improvement of public streets, highways, or roads, within the right-of-way and in such a manner as to assure that any adverse effect on the wetland will be otherwise minimized. Maintenance or improvement does not include adding extra lanes; increasing the right-of-way; or deviating from the existing location of the street, highway or road.

(12) Maintenance, repair or operation of gas or oil pipelines and construction of gas or oil pipelines having a diameter of six inches or less, if the pipelines are constructed, maintained, or repaired in a manner to assure that any adverse effect on the wetland will be otherwise minimized.

(13) Maintenance, repair or operation of electric transmission and distribution power lines and construction of distribution power lines if the distribution power lines are constructed, maintained, or repaired in a manner to assure that any adverse effect on the wetland will be otherwise minimized.

(14) Operation or maintenance, including reconstruction of recently damaged parts, of serviceable dikes and levees in existence on the effective date of this ordinance or constructed pursuant to this ordinance.

(15) Construction of iron and copper mining tailings, basins and water storage areas.

(16) In cases where a permit is not required under Section

6(3) of Act 203 of the Public Acts of 1979, as amended, being MCL 281.706(3), involving activities permitted under Section 404 of Title 4 of the Clean Water Act of 1977, 33 USC, Section 1344.

Sec. 21-24. Application for permit.

Permits required under this article shall be issued only following the submission of an application to the Township Building Department as provided below, and review in accordance with this article.

(SUBPARAGRAPHS (1) THRU (21) OF SEC. 21-24 ARE DELETED.)

(1) Application for a Township wetland permit shall be made on the form supplied by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

(2) Each person applying for a Township wetland permit shall make application directly with the Township, through the Department of Planning.

(3) Upon receipt, the Township Department of Planning shall forward a copy of each application to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

(4) The Department of Planning and the Wetland Board, with the assistance of its consultants in those cases deemed by the Township to be appropriate, shall review the application pursuant to this ordinance.

(5) The application shall be modified, approved or denied within 90 days after receipt, subject to the following provision.

(6) The applicant for an approval required in conjunction with site plan review or subdivision approval shall, at the time of submission, elect to have the application processed under either subsection (a) or subsection (b) below:

(a) The wetland application shall be reviewed immediately, either prior to or concurrent with the review of the site plan, plat or other proposed land use submitted by the applicant, with the understanding that the land use review may not be completed at the time the decision is rendered on the wetland application. Election of this alternative may require a re-opening of the wetland application if the land use approval is inconsistent with the wetland approval; or

(b) The wetland application shall be reviewed and acted upon concurrent with the review of the site plan, plat or other proposed land use submitted by the applicant, and the 90 day review period limitation specified in Section 6(6) of Act 203 of the Public Acts of 1979, as amended, shall thereby be extended accordingly.

(7) The denial of a permit shall be accompanied by a written reason for denial. The failure to supply complete information with a permit application may be reason for denial of a permit.

Sec. 21-25. Application review.

(a) General review procedure.

(1) For all proposed projects and/or activities not reviewed pursuant to subsection (b), below, and in cases where a hearing has been requested pursuant to the provisions of subsection (b), below, the following review process shall apply.

(2) Upon receipt of an application, or upon request for a hearing, as the case may be, the Director of the Planning Department shall forward the application to the board after verifying that all required supporting material is available. If it appears to the Director that the expertise of the Township Engineer or other consultant shall be necessary in order to review the application, for purposes of expediting the review, the Director shall be authorized to obtain an escrow for consulting fees from the applicant and retain the Township Engineer or other wetland consultant for such purpose.

(3) The Board shall set a date for hearing on the application, and shall send notice of the time, date and place of the hearing to the owners of property, based upon Township records, within three hundred (300) feet of the property on which the proposed project or activity is to take place. Such notice shall also be sent to all Township Board members, and to all persons, subdivision associations and lake associations registered with the Township which are contiguous to the property and/or wetland affected. The notice shall include a summary of the proposed project or activity, or a copy of the permit application. The Board may further direct that notice of the hearing be published.

(4) At the scheduled hearing, the Board shall consider the application, provide an opportunity for the applicant to address the Board, and provide an opportunity for interested persons to address the matter. The hearing may be adjourned from time to time, as deemed necessary by the Board, and, if it appears that impairment, pollution and/or destruction of a wetland or other natural resource may result, and that technical expertise is required, the board may require an environmental impact study to be provided by the applicant, or may submit the application to the Township Engineer or other consultant as deemed appropriate for examination and investigation upon payment by the applicant of the monies projected by such Engineer or other consultant to be reasonably necessary to make an examination and investigation of the application and provide a report thereon.

(5) Within a reasonable time following the completion of its consideration, the Board shall make a written determination to issue the permit, issue the permit with specific conditions, or to deny issuance of the permit.

(6) If the permit is issued, conditions imposed shall be for the purpose of insuring that the project or activity complies with this Article and/or results in minimum impact upon natural resources. The permit shall also specify a time period for commencement and completion of all activities. Additionally, the permit may require the posting of a cash bond or irrevocable letter of credit in a reasonable amount to insure compliance with the permit.

(7) Effectiveness of a permit shall be conditioned upon a signature of or on behalf of the applicant attesting to the following:

All operations permitted or approved by this permit shall be conducted in such a manner as will cause the least possible impairment, pollution and/or destruction of natural resources.

(b) Special review procedure for certain projects and/or activities.

(1) If the project and/or activity is not otherwise reviewable by the Independence Township Planning Commission under any provision of the Zoning Ordinance or Ordinance Code, review shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of subsections (a)(4) through (a)(7), above, and in light of the standards and criteria set forth in subsection (c) of this section.

(2) If the proposed project or activity is found to conform with the standards and criteria of subsection (c) of this section, and with all of the requirements of this article, a notice of intent to issue a permit shall be sent by first-class mail to the owners of property within three hundred (300) feet of the property on which the proposed project or activity is to take place, based upon the records on file at the Township. Such notice shall also be sent to all members of the Township Board and; the board and to all persons, subdivision associations and lake associations registered with the Township which are contiguous to the property and/or wetland affected. The notice shall include either a copy of the permit application or a summary of the proposed activity or project, and a specification that it is the intent of the Township to issue a permit unless a written request for an appeal is received within thirty (30) days from the date of mailing. The Planning Director may also publish a summary of the proposed activity and intent to issue a permit in a newspaper of local circulation, specifying the required date within which a hearing must be requested, which date shall correspond to the end of the thirty-day period from the date on which the aforementioned notices were mailed. Any person interested in the activity and/or project may request that the application be reviewed pursuant to subsection (a) of this section. Such request shall be forwarded to the Board, and the Board shall either proceed with the application under subsection (a) of this section, or return the application for administrative review under subsection (b) of this section.

(c) Review standards and criteria. In arriving at a determination with respect to the issuance of a permit under this article, the Director of Planning and/or the Board shall take into consideration at least the following standards and criteria:

(1) A permit shall be issued only if the proposed project or activity is clearly in the public interest, and is otherwise lawful in all respects.

(2) In determining whether the activity is in the public interest, the benefit which would reasonably be expected to accrue from the proposal shall be balanced against the reasonably foreseeable detriments of the activity, taking into consideration the local, state and national concern for the protection and preservation of natural resources from pollution, impairment and/or destruction. If, as a result of such a balancing, there remains a debatable question whether the proposed project and/or activity is clearly in the public interest, a permit shall not be issued. The following general criteria shall be applied in undertaking this balancing test:

a. The relative extent of the public and private need for the proposed activity.

b. The availability of feasible and prudent alternative locations and methods to accomplish the expected benefits from the activity.

c. The extent and permanence of the beneficial or detrimental effects which the proposed activity may have on the public and private use to which the area is suited, including the benefits the wetland provides.

d. The probable impact of the proposal in relation to the cumulative effect created by other existing and anticipated activities in the watershed.

e. The probable impact on recognized historic, cultural, scenic, ecological, or recreational values and on the public health or fish or wildlife.

f. The size and quality of the wetland being considered.

g. The amount and quality of remaining wetland in the area.

h. Proximity to any waterway.

i. Economic value, both public and private, of the proposed land change to the general area.

j. The necessity for the proposed project.

(3) A permit shall not be issued unless it is shown that:

a. An unreasonable disruption will not result to aquatic resources; and

b. The proposed activity is primarily dependent upon being located in the wetland; and

c. A feasible and prudent alternative does not exist.

(4) The manner in which the activity is proposed to be undertaken will result in the minimum negative impact upon the wetland and attendant natural resources under all of the circumstances. (Ord. of 4-3-84)

Sec. 21-26. Permit issuance and appeal.

(1) A permit issued by the Board after hearing shall not be effective until ten (10) days following the date of issuance.

(2) Following approval of a wetland application, a wetland permit shall be issued upon determination that all other requirements of ordinance and law have been met, including site plan, plat or land use approval, as applicable, and including issuance of a permit by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, if required under Act 203 of the Public Acts of 1979, as amended. In cases where a Michigan Department of Natural Resources permit allows activities not permitted by the wetland approval granted under this ordinance, the restrictions of the approval granted under this ordinance shall govern.

(3) An interested person who is aggrieved by the determination of the Board may request an appeal of the Board's decision to the Township Board.

(4) A request for appeal must be filed within ten (10) days following the Board's decision. If an appeal is requested during such ten-day period, the effectiveness of the permit shall be suspended pending the outcome of the appeal.

(5) The Township Board shall determine whether to consider the appeal based upon the minutes of the Board, or based upon an entirely new hearing. If a new hearing shall be conducted, notice of the time, date and place of the hearing shall be mailed to the owners of property, based upon Township records, within three hundred (300) feet of the property, and also mailed to all persons, subdivision associations and lake associations registered with the Township to receive such notices.

(6) The procedure for the hearing shall be the same as set forth in Section 21-25(a), above, governing the procedure before the Board.

(7) If the Township Board determines to consider the appeal based upon the minutes of the Board, the applicant, and other interested parties as allowed by the Township Board, shall be entitled to be heard by way of argument and citation of authorities prior to the Board's determination.

(8) The Township Board, based upon its appellate review, may reverse, affirm or modify the determination and/or permit issued by the Board.

(SEC. 21-27 THRU 21-29, NO CHANGE)

Sec. 21-30. Property Tax Assessment.

If a permit is denied for a proposed wetland use, a land owner may appear at the annual Board of Review for the purpose of seeking a revaluation of the affected property for assessment purposes to determine its fair market value under the use restriction.

Sec. 21-31. Wetland Mapping.

(1) The Township Board has adopted a wetland map, showing an inventory of wetland within the municipality.

(2) Upon amendment of the wetland map, the Township shall notify each record owner of property on the property tax roll of the Township that the wetland map has been amended, where the map may be reviewed, and that the owner's property may be designated as a wetland on the inventory map, and that the Township has an ordinance regulating wetland. Such notice shall also inform the property owner that the wetland map does not necessarily include all of the wetlands within the Township that may be subject to the Wetlands Ordinance.

(3) The wetland map shall not create any legally enforceable presumptions regarding whether property that is or is not included on the inventory map is or is not in fact a wetland.

Sec. 21-32. Mitigation.

(1) Mitigation under this Article shall be permissible only in an instance where it is determined that if a permit is not issued there would be no viable use of the property. Mitigation shall not be permissible when it is feasible and prudent to avoid impacts on the wetlands and concurrently make viable use of the property.

A finding shall be made that all feasible and prudent efforts have been made to analyze a use of the property without the necessity of the issuance of a permit which would require mitigation.

(2) If mitigation is permissible, as specified under Paragraph

(1), above, the Board or the Director, as the case may be, may require mitigation as a condition to the issuance of a permit, as contemplated under Section 21-25(a)(5).

(3) Mitigation shall be designed to remove an impairment to the wetland benefits, to mitigate the impact of a discharge of fill material, or otherwise improve the water quality. Mitigation may be designed for the improvement of the existing wetland resources or the creation of new wetland resources to offset wetland resources lost as a result of the proposed project.

(4) As part of the authorization or direction of mitigation, financial assurances may be required in order to ensure that mitigation is accomplished as specified by the permit conditions, and that the mitigation remains successful for a reasonable period of time in the future.

(5) The mitigation plan shall be prepared by a qualified wetland consultant retained by the applicant and shall be reviewed by the Township's wetland consultant utilizing the monies escrowed for such purpose by the applicant.

(6) If the Board or the director, as the case may be, determines that it is practical to replace the wetland resource values which will be unavoidably impacted, the following criteria shall be utilized when reviewing the applicant's mitigation proposal:

(a) Mitigation shall be provided on-site where practical and beneficial to the wetland resources.

(b) If on-site mitigation is not practical and beneficial to the wetland resources, mitigation shall be provided in the immediate vicinity of the permitted activity where practical and beneficial to wetland resources. When possible, this means within the same watershed within the township as the location of the proposed project.

(c) Only when it has been determined that mitigation as specified in subparagraphs (a) and (b) would be inappropriate and impractical may mitigation be considered elsewhere.

(d) Any proposal shall assure that, upon completion, there will be no net loss to the wetland resources.

(e) The proposal shall give consideration to replacement of the predominant functional values lost within the impacted wetland.

Section 2 of Ordinance

All proceedings pending and all rights and liabilities which are vested at the time this Ordinance takes effect shall be, and the same are hereby, saved, and may be consummated in accordance with the law and ordinance in effect immediately preceding the adoption of this Ordinance.

Section 3 of Ordinance

Except as expressly provided above, the Charter Township of Independence Code of Ordinances shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 4 of Ordinance

The provisions of this Ordinance are hereby ordered to take effect immediately upon publication in the manner prescribed by law.

CITY OF THE VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON

CITY COUNCIL MEETING MINUTES

JUNE 8, 1994

The meeting was called to order at 7:40 p.m. by Mayor Catallo followed by the Pledge of Allegiance.

Roll: Present: Arkwright, Basinger, Catallo, Roeser, Sanderson, Secatch.

Absent: Schultz

Moved by Arkwright, supported by Sanderson, "That the minutes from the meeting on May 23, 1994 be approved as submitted." Motion carried.

Moved by Arkwright, supported by Roeser, "That the agenda be approved as submitted." Motion carried.

Resolved by Roeser, supported by Basinger, "That the bills for the month of May totaling $29,975.85 be approved for payment but that the bill for the playground equipment be held until the structure is assembled." Roll: Yeas-6, nays-0. Resolution passed.

Mayor Catallo opened the Public Hearing to discuss the 1994-95 budget at 7:45 p.m.

Basinger went through the proposed 1994-95 budget with the Council indicating where there were changes from the 1993-94 budget. The proposed budget assumes a 12.118 millage rate. The budgeted expenses are $454,694 and the projected revenues are $463,477 and the reserves are projected at $132,991. There was discussion among members of the Council about what the millage rate should be and how much reserves are needed for future projects. There will be an increase in revenues, $805,250, in the 1994-95 budget because of an increase in the SEV.

Mayor Catallo closed the Public Hearing at 8:50 p.m.

Resolved by Roeser, supported by Basinger, "That the proposed 1994-95 budget be adopted with budgeted expenditures of $454,694 and projected revenues of $463,477 and reserves of $132,991 and a total of $587,685 for expenditures and reserves." Roll: yeas-6, nays-0. Resolution passed.

Resolved by Basinger, supported by Roeser, "That the Street budget for FY 94-95 where the funds are available are $104,736 and the expenditures are $104,736." Roll: yeas-6, nays-0. Resolution passed.

Moved by Arkwright, supported by Secatch, "That a Truth in Taxation Hearing be held on Wednesday, June 22, 1994 at 7:30 p.m. to discuss setting the millage rate at 12.3 mills.

The meeting notice will be published on June 15, 1994, the Truth in Taxation Hearing will be held on Wednesday, June 22, 1994 and the millage rate will be voted on Wednesday, June 29, 1994 at 7:30 p.m."

Discussion: Basinger felt the Council should analyze how we are currently funding our street repairs. He indicated that he felt there were adequate reserves to only levy a millage rate of 12.11 and that we could wait a year to restructure taxes. Secatch felt this would be a good time to look at what upcoming expenditures we might expect. Catallo indicated that she thought it was fair to the public to keep some money in reserve if we were expecting to need more money in the future.

Roll: yeas-Secatch, Arkwright, Catallo, Roeser, nays-Sanderson, Basinger. Resolution passed.

Forrest Milzow approached the Council on behalf of his clients the Reinbolts regarding the old stone carriage house in Village West. Milzow indicated that it will cost the owners an additional $20,000 to keep the old stone structure rather than demolishing it and building an entirely new structure with new materials. He would like the Council to reconsider the request to maintain the existing structure and to incorporate it into the new construction because of the associated costs. The Council indicated that all the historic homes in town require greater expense to maintain, and to renovate than new construction. That this was part of the charm of this community. The original condo site was approved with the contingency that the old, stone building would need to stand. Milzow's request was denied.

The Community Development Block Grants were approved. Pappas discussed the procedure that must be followed for purchasing if the CDBG funds are to be used. Selander Miller will get the bids to Arkwright for the playground resurfacing which will make the playground compliant with the American with Disabilities Act. Arkwright will discuss this with Mr. Mitchell at Oakland County to determine if our obligations have been fulfilled.

Roeser will be developing a policy for planting memorial trees in Depot park.

Resolved by Arkwright, supported by Roeser, "That the DPW supervisor hire and supervise one person to help with general maintenance in the park. This person will be hired at $4.25 per hour." Roll: yeas-6, nays-0. Resolution passed.

Resolved by Roeser, supported by Basinger, "That a post hole digger and an electric garage door opener be purchased. Payment is not to exceed $1,100." Roll: yeas-6, nays-0. Resolution passed.

Pappas will check with other communities to determine what rates they charge for construction deposits. There was a consensus that our rates are too low.

Pappas will talk with Brock Realtors about moving the dumpster off of Main Street.

Moved by Sanderson, supported by Basinger, "That Alma Goldner be appointed to the Historic District Commission to replace Cindy Chiapetta for the 1994-95 term." Motion carried.

There was some discussion about a lot split on Laurelton. The majority of the property in question is in the Township but a small portion of the lot is in the City. The Village will consider the request for a lot split after the Township acts on the question.

Resolved by Roeser, supported by Arkwright, "That the fee for grass cutting be $50 plus $25 per hour for property which is not mowed within 5 days of notification by letter that it has become too long." Roll: yeas-6, nays-0. Resolution passed.

Resolved by Basinger, supported by Arkwright, "That the Clerk be compensated $1,500 for state and national elections." Roll: yeas-6, nays-0. Resolution passed.

Resolved by Basinger, supported by Roeser, "That on July 1, 1994, the following salaries will go into effect: Treasurer-$8,200; Manager-$22,900; Sewer Billing-$2,000." Roll: yeas-6, nays-0. Resolution passed.

Moved by Roeser, supported by Basinger, "That the meeting be adjourned." Motion carried.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:05 p.m.

Take me out to the ball park

BY LEE DRYDEN
Special to The Clarkston News

A baseball fan's dream: spending three weeks of a summer travelling to seven different major-league parks to enjoy the national pastime. A Clarkston man has lived this dream and is sharing it with three young baseball fans this summer.

Jim Brashear and teenagers Jamie Garrison, 15, Nick Pinazzo, 16 of Clarkston and Keith Pratt, 15, of Toledo, Ohio are leaving for a 17 day trip on June 22 that will take them to major league stadiums in Chicago, Milwaukee, Minnesota, Miami, Atlanta, and Cincinnati.

"We're all really excited. We've been looking forward to it all year," said Brashear.

This is the third consecutive summer Brashear has taken such a trip. In 1992, Brashear and Garrison, who Brashear has known since he was an infant though Garrison's mother, visited parks in St. Louis and Cincinnati.

"That trip was just enough to wet our appetite," said Brashear.

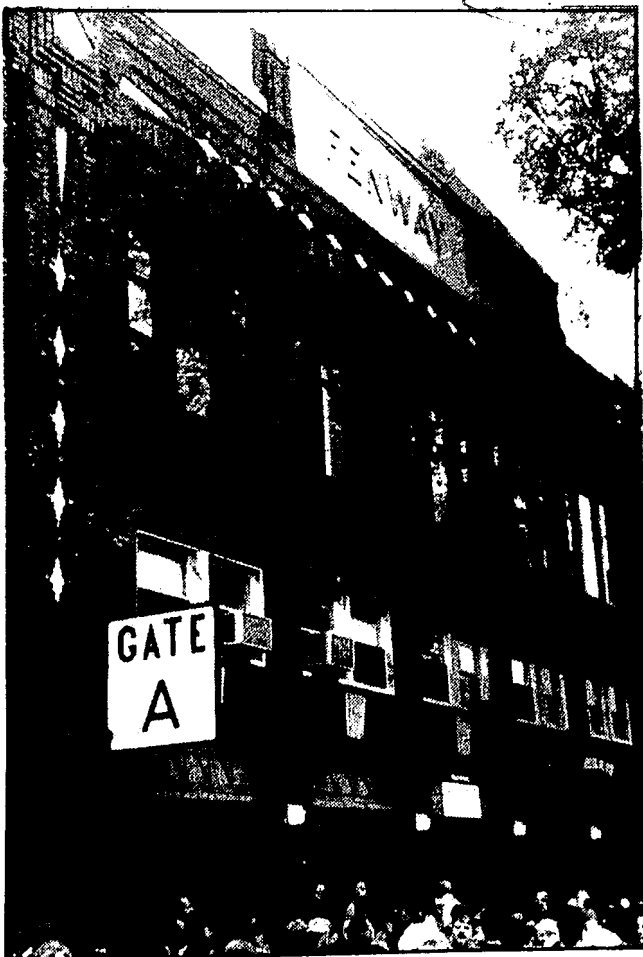

The following summer Pratt, who is formerly of Clarkston and has kept a friendship with Garrison since moving to Ohio, joined the pair for a seven-city trip which included Cincinnati, Cleveland, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, and New York.

Brashear listed the highlights of the trip as seeing historic stadiums such as Fenway Park and Yankee Stadium.

"It was an absolute thrill seeing Yankee Stadium. I enjoy being in the old style ballparks and imagining all of the legends that have played there," said Brashear.

Brashear also mentioned more unusual memorable moments of the trip including giant pretzels in New York, a fireworks display in Pittsburgh, and the incredible traffic in the Bronx, N.Y.

The trio didn't just go to baseball games though. They visited several historical sites in Boston, Philadelphia, and Gettysburg. Brashear said a highlight was seeing the Statue of Liberty.

Fenway Park, Boston

As for this summer's trip, for which the trio will be joined by Pinazzo, vacation plans include stops at several amusement parks in Florida including MGM and Universal Studios.

"Seeing other sites besides baseball makes it a really complete vacation for us," said Brashear.

Of course, this type of trip takes a great deal of planning. Brashear plans the trips as far as a year in advance and collects all tickets and hotel reservations months before the actual trip.

"We plan exactly where we are going and what we are doing long before the trip. That way everything goes smoothly," he said.

When asked about taking a trip with three teenagers, Brashear stressed that they were extremely enjoyable company.

"I couldn't imagine any better kids than these. They are all well behaved and they all love baseball. Spending time with Jamie and his friends is very rewarding for me," said Brashear.

Brashear stated the parents of the kids are very supportive of the trips and trust him with their kids because of the precautions he takes.

"We never stay in big cities and are careful where we park. I don't take any chances with these kids," said Brashear.

As for the long hours in the car, Brashear and the boys pass the time by asking each other sports trivia questions and making small stops at sports stores or baseball card shows. The group rents a brand new car for the trip to make it as comfortable as possible.

Future plans for the group include a possible trip out west next summer with visits to western major league parks and a stop at the giant Redwood trees.

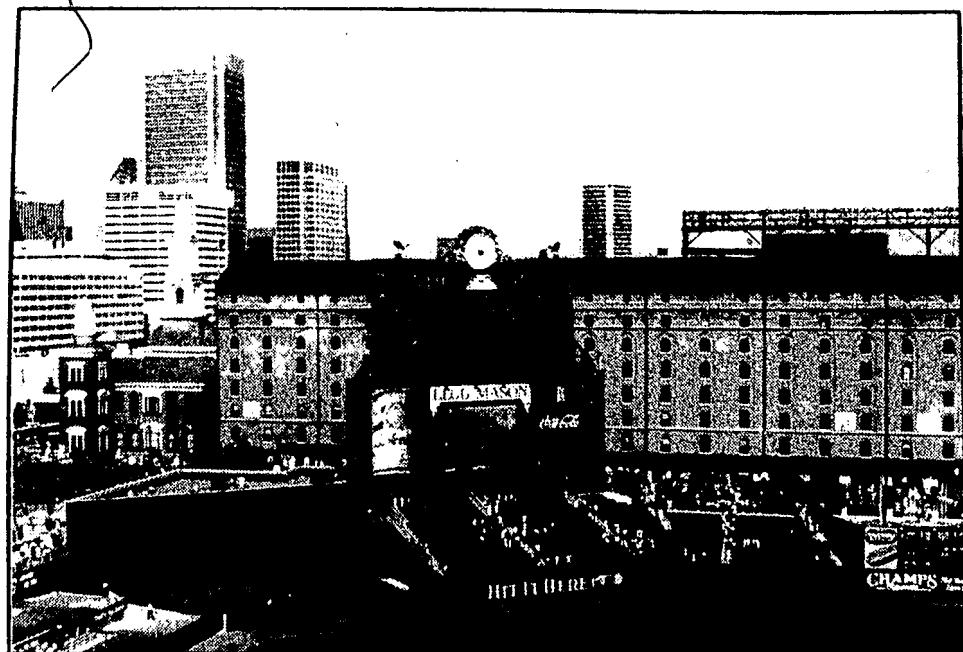

"It's still in the planning stages but it would be great to fly out West and see parks that we have never seen before," said Brashear.

Despite all of the driving involved and the time away from home, Brashear considers it well worth it. "The kids save their money all year and we all look forward to it. Thinking about the trip keeps me going during the cold, winter months," he said.

As for baseball fans who have found Brashear and the boys' story interesting and something they might like to do, Brashear highly recommends it.

"If you love baseball and you love kids, it's a great vacation. I grew up wanting to be a major league baseball player and this is the next best thing," he said.

Clarkston High School Class of 1994

A very special supplement to The Clarkston News

Wed., June 15, 1994

Waiting: Most grads couldn't resist looking expectantly into the pavilion before the ceremony started.

A night for smiling, a night for tears

As the opening bars of "Pomp and Circumstance" rose over the Pine Knob Amphitheater, a whoop and a holler suddenly charged the warm evening air.

Now there would be "no more pencils, no more books,"—and no turning back either. The future was about to begin.

Then hundreds of dark blue caps and gowns descended the stairs, two by two, for the moment they'd all been waiting for.

"Graduation can be looked at as an ending," said school superintendent Gary Haner. "But as you know, we call this a commencement exercise, and commencement means a beginning."

The excitement was palpable; tears flowed and there were lots of smiles and hugs. Clearly, though everyone wanted graduation to happen, they knew they were seeing many classmates for the last time. Their world was about to change.

"We learned education was more than facts; it was people," Christopher Lewis said in his address to his classmates. "Through learning we turned the clean page of childhood into the first volume of our lives. Now that volume ends and a new volume begins—the future."

"We've been looking forward to this day since we found out we didn't have to go to school forever," said Robert Brazier in his commencement address. "We can learn from the past, live for the present and prepare to author our future in the pages of our lives."

The third commencement speaker, Cassandra Friedl, brought a giant hourglass to the podium with her to dramatize the passage of time.

"The winner always seems to have a plan, while the loser always has an excuse," she said. "Time is going fast, so start planning your future today."

As each grad walked across the stage to receive a diploma, principal Brent Cooley stood in the middle, looking scholarly in his own black cap and gown. He turned from side to side, trying to at least shake the hand of each of the 300-plus grads. Back and forth, back and forth he looked, like a proud papa surveying his brood, not wanting to miss a one. He gave and received many hugs.

After commencement was over, the grads took part in the traditional all-night party at Deer Lake Racquet Club. The next afternoon, about 50 of them were hanging out at their former high school, turning in their caps and gowns and apparently, for at least some of them, finding it hard to say goodbye for the last time.

When young wild eagles come of age, they are pushed from their cliff-side nests into empty air. They fall. Tumbling toward the ground, they must quickly combine instinct with everything they've learned so far. It's scary at first, but, like you, they'll struggle, adapt, and eventually soar. We know you've got it in you. Because you are the young eagle, and now's your chance to fly.
