SPI Tri-District Football Team

First Team offense dominated by Wolves

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer
and SPI sports staff

Statistics are difficult to judge a player by, except when it comes to a few Clarkston football players who made the first-ever SPI Tri-District football 1st team.

With the numbers some Wolves posted, their inclusion on the first team is warranted. That fact, coupled with the team's 9-2 record, helped Clarkston land 10 of the 22 spots.

Oxford had nine players on the first team and Lake Orion ended up with five.

The entire Tri-District first team offensive and defensive selections are:

OFFENSE

Mike Hendrix, Oxford, Sr., quarterback: In his first year as a varsity starter behind center, this 5-foot-8, 165-pound senior led the Wildcats to their sixth straight Flint Metro League championship.

In an offense geared around the option, Hendrix's passing game was more than enough to keep opposing defenses honest, opening up the running game.

He also proved to be an elusive runner, gaining 4.5 yards per rush over the season. A starting defensive back a year ago, Hendrix also had to fill in late this season on defense.

GPA: 3.3

Stats: 60-of-94 passing, 63.8 percent completion rate, for 759 yards and four touchdowns. He rushed for 264 yards on 59 carries and scored five rushing touchdowns.

Jason Graves, Clarkston, Sr., running back: Each game Graves played he always seemed to do something more spectacular. Whether it was running, kicking field goals, returning kickoffs, and punts, kicking extra points or making a key defensive play, Graves was the weapon of choice for the Wolves.

He never left the field, but what made him great was running the ball. After a slow start in the opener against Troy, Graves broke out. With the ability to burst through holes with speed or make his own with strength, Graves accepted the role of workhorse and always came through.

Eastern Michigan and Central Michigan universities have shown an interest in Graves, but he's not sure where he will finally decide to play football after high school.

GPA: 3.2

Stats: 267 rushes, 1,667 yards, 6.2 yards per carry, 23 TDs; 12 receptions, 123 yards, 1 TD; 2 two-point conversions; 21 extra-point kicks; 4-for-5 field goals; 21.8 average on kick returns; 10.1 average on punt returns with two TDs of 51 and 35 yards; 19 solo tackles, 3 interceptions; 193 total points scored.

Dennis Mahan, Lake Orion, Jr., running back: This talented junior showed promise as a sophomore and really hit the limelight this season, gaining over 1,400 yards rushing.

The selection process

The Sherman Publications, Inc. Tri-District teams include the school districts of Clarkston, Lake Orion and Oxford.

The inaugural selection of the Tri-District teams begins with basketball and football. Tri-District teams will be announced for all sports in the winter and spring seasons, provided all three schools offer the sport.

The three school districts are covered separately by The Clarkston News, Lake Orion Review and Oxford Leader. All three newspapers are owned by Sherman Publications.

Criteria for player selection to the Tri-District team include on-field performance, grade-point average, coaches' recommendations and other intangibles.

Information and stories were compiled by Darrel W. Cole, Clarkston News staff writer, Brad Kadrich, Oxford Leader editor, and Dan McCarville, Lake Orion Review staff writer.

great runner he was, despite nursing groin and shoulder injuries all season. He recently underwent surgery on his left shoulder, but is expected to be ready for baseball season.

Coach Rich Burrell feels Mahan's natural ability and fierce competitiveness help to make him a standout player.

"He's going to be a great one, if he isn't already,"

Burrell said. "He makes the offensive coordinator's job easier. He's the king of the cutback. He's got great vision to see the whole field, which all the good backs have."

GPA: 2.8

Stats: 237 rushes, 1,407 yards, 5.9 yards-per-carry, 16 TDs; 12 receptions, 123 yards OTD; two extra-point

Hoops: Tri-District squad features good balance between offensive, defensive players

BY SPI SPORTS STAFF

Athletic, hard nosed and tough could best describe the five selections to SPI's Tri-District Girls Basketball First Team.

The team also has some scorers (Lake Orion's Melanie Garrard, Oxford's Megan Burns) and defensive players (Oxford's Beth Wolosiewicz, Clarkston's Kerry Kelly and Lake Orion's Angie Sights). One quality they all have in common is giving 110 percent on the court.

Kerry Kelly, Clarkston sr. forward. Clarkston senior forward/center Kerry Kelly doesn't have the statistics to make SPI's Tri-District First Team, but she sure has the heart.

Kelly was selected to the girls basketball first team with averages of 5.6 points and 5.7 rebounds in the Wolves' 9-13 season. But what can't be measured or recorded is the determination and heart she showed throughout the season.

Coach Larry Mahrle said she played in pain the entire season because of a knee injury. But rather than sit out, she endured each game, providing leadership and setting an example for her teammates.

"She was our best defender down low and is just a tremendously likeable person," said Mahrle. "She is well respected in school and amongst the team."

And, despite being at a height disadvantage against opposing centers, Kelly could play with the best and hold her own.

In addition to the efforts she puts out on the floor, Kelly also excels in the classroom where she carries a 3.96 grade point average.

Melanie Garrard, Lake Orion, Sr., forward: A tenacious player on the court, Garrard led the team in scoring and assists. She started playing basketball in the ninth grade and has rapidly excelled into a standout player, overcoming an ankle injury that caused her to miss part of last season.

Garrard's offensive bag of tricks never failed to amaze coach Gary Kibby. "Melanie manufactured some shots that even surprised me," he said.

The take-no-prisoners attitude often displayed by Garrard is one of the keys to her success, according to Kibby.

"She's fearless and not afraid to get hammered," Kibby said. "She's not afraid to go against anybody. She dares you to stop her, which is rare to find in a female."

GPA: 3.5

Season stats: (19 games) 195 points, 10.1 per game average; 130 rebounds; 43 steals; 25 assists.

Angie Sights, Lake Orion, Sr., guard: The unquestioned leader of the Dragons this year, Sights was able to make things happen at both ends of the floor.

By jump-starting the offense or making a great defensive play, Sights always had a big impact on the game's outcome.

"Angie got us going offensively a couple times by hitting some 3-pointers," coach Gary Kibby said. "She also gets a kick out of throwing a good pass."

Sights also received the top defensive player award at a University of Michigan basketball camp this past summer.

"She loves the game of defense," Kibby said. "She's improved a lot at it. She had to guard a lot of smaller, quicker kids this year."

Kibby was also impressed by Sights' ability to set the tone for the squad.

"I told her she needed to be mentally tough this year, that the other kids need to see her do that," Kibby said. "She did a real good job of that this year."

Wolosiewicz, a 5-foot-6 senior, scored just 56 points in 16 Flint Metro League games this year, but Oxford coach Ian Smith didn't ask her to score. Her mission: defense.

THE TEAMS

Clarkston Girls Basketball

The Clarkston girls basketball team finished its season at 9-13 overall, including only one win in the grueling Oakland Activities Association Division I.

The Wolves, with only two seniors on the team, continually battled against some of the state's best teams in the OAA, such as Waterford Kettering and Rochester Adams. While the young offense struggled to score points, 17-year coach Larry Mahrle said their defensive determination, hard work and desire was always present.

Oxford Girls Basketball

The Oxford Wildcats had their best season in several years, winning 16 games before falling in the second round of the districts to Armada.

Oxford contended for the Flint Metro League championship before falling off toward the end of the year. They won the inaugural Wildcat Invitational tournament and beat Fenton twice in the same season for the first time in several years.

With a talented young nucleus of players coming back, the Wildcats should contend for the

Lake Orion Girls Basketball

It was a remarkable one-season turnaround for the Lake Orion girls basketball team. The squad finished 3-18 in 1993, but worked hard to post a 12-7 record and a second-place finish in the OAA Division IV.

A senior-dominated lineup helped Orion get on the winning track. Yet the season fell short of expectations as the team lost its two games to rival Ortonville Brandon by narrow margins, and suffered a devastating 41-40 defeat by Romeo in the district opener.

Coach Gary Kibby seems to have the program headed in the right direction, as the junior varsity and freshman teams had outstanding records in 1994.

other team's top scorer. One of her top jobs was on Holly's Molly Hugan, whom some consider the FML's top player.

Wolosiewicz was awarded the Ms. Wildcat Award, given to the Lady Wildcat who "best exemplifies the Wildcat spirit," for the second straight year.

GPA: 3.8

Stats: Scored 3.5 points per game, had 33 steals in 16 league games, had 25 assists and chipped in 43 rebounds.

Megan Burns, Oxford, Sr., center: A three-year varsity player, Burns saved her best season for her senior year.

She scored 10.3 points per game, was second on the team in free throw percentage, and was second on the team in field goals.

At 5-foot-6, Burns was consistently battling taller centers, but held her own defensively. A fierce competitor, she is also not afraid to hit the floor in a battle for loose balls.

GPA: 3.8

Stats: Scored 10.3 points per game, grabbed 43 rebounds and had 48 steals in FML play. Burns also chipped in 46 assists.

kicks; 23.5 average on kick returns; 22.0 average on punt returns with two TDs.

Seth Crawley, Oxford, Sr., wide receiver: Crawley combined with teammate Mike Peak to give the Wildcats a potent outside threat.

He came up with numerous big catches, ran excellent patterns and was Hendrix's favorite target. He perfected the sideline route as the season progressed, showing the ability to go down low for the tough catches.

GPA: 4.0

Stats: 27 catches for 271 yards and a touchdown. Averaged 10 yards per catch and 30 yards receiving per game.

Jeremy Fife, Clarkston, Sr., wide receiver: Fife was valuable on both sides of the ball for the Wolves and played an important leadership role for his team.

Coach Kurt Richardson said Fife and second team pick Pat Mulligan are "the best receivers we've had together since I've been here."

Fife used his great athletic ability to get to many balls other receiver couldn't. He also had a knack for making the big catch when his team needed it the most. Of his 23 receptions, 17 were for first downs.

In addition to his skills on offense, Fife also called the defensive signals from his defensive backfield spot. Besides being a tough hitter he also matched up one-on-one against the opposing team's best receiver.

GPA: 3.8.

Stats: 23 receptions for 327 yards, 14.2 yards per catch, 1 TD; 1-for-1 passing, 30 yards; 31 solo tackles, 6 assists, 3 tackles for losses, 3 interceptions.

Brad Agar, Clarkston, Sr., tight end: This senior epitomized the positive, never-say-die attitude of the Wolves' senior class. Agar is a sure-handed receiver and quarterback Toby Evans' favorite target, especially on slant patterns over the middle.

Many times Agar would catch the ball over the middle knowing several defenders were waiting to hit him. He would take the pounding, jump back up and want more.

While Agar was also an adept blocker, he distanced himself from other tight ends because he always made the clutch catch. Of his 14 receptions, 12 of them came at crucial times, including eight for first downs, two for touchdowns and two for 2-point conversions.

GPA: 3.1.

Stats: 14 receptions for 156 yards, 11.1 yards per catch, 2 TDS, 2 two-point conversions.

Jim Morris, Lake Orion, Sr., center: Normally it's hard to numerically tell the story of an offensive lineman, but coach Rich Burrell has his own system for rating centers.

"I look at how many times, when an opponent puts a noseguard over our center, do we have to make an adjustment to give him help," Burrell said. "We only had to do it once all season with Jim. He could handle other kids all by himself. He was pretty consistent all year."

GPA: 3.03

Dion White and Brett Rebb, Clarkston, Srs., offensive linemen. White and Rebb anchored a solid line — nicknamed the "Hogs" — that helped open holes for Graves all season. Though undersized for their positions at 175 and 185 pounds, respectively, they used positioning and fundamentals to control their opponents. Two games in particular, against Lake Orion and Monroe, proved that size doesn't win games.

With White and Rebb leading the way, the Wolves line controlled Orion and Monroe lines that averaged over 210 pounds, helping Graves gain over 200 yards each game.

White and Rebb are both two-year starters for Clarkston. Both epitomized the hard work and solid character

The Teams

Lake Orion Football

Coach Rich Burrell put Lake Orion back on the map, at least in football terms, by leading the team to a 7-3 record and the team's first playoff berth since 1990.

The Dragons also captured the OAA Division II championship with a 5-0 record and reeled off seven consecutive victories to start the season.

Tough losses to Troy and Clarkston to end the regular season, and a 31-0 loss to Midland in the playoffs, brought an unwanted end to a memorable season.

The team was rated as high as #4 in the state in Class A during the 1994 campaign, and reeled off some impressive road victories at Southfield, Birmingham Seaholm and Waterford Mott.

Clarkston Football

Clarkston's 1994 football team finished its season at 9-2, advancing to the regional finals in Class AA where the Wolves lost 14-0 to Troy, the eventual state champion.

The Wolves were over-achievers, according to their coach, Kurt Richardson (49-25 in eight seasons).

They not only ended with a loss to Troy, but began that way also. They battled back from that opening-game loss with a determined senior-led team and won nine straight games, advancing to the playoffs for the first time since 1977.

The Wolves also finished 4-1 in the new Oakland Activities Association Division I, second to Troy's 5-0 record.

Oxford Football

The 1994 Oxford Wildcat football team finished its regular season in a customary spot: the regional finals.

The Wildcats lost in the regional final to Marine City, after posting an 8-1 regular season and a first-round win over Mt Clemens.

The Wildcats struggled at times, but hung for wins against Mt Morris, Lakeville and Lapeer West and won their sixth straight Flint Metro League championship.

They lost their regular season finale to Farmington Hills Harrison, their first regular season loss since 1989. Harrison went on to win the Class A state title.

Heritage Hunt II

By Virginia Block

Two new books that will be of interest to those with Connecticut ancestry have come to our attention and may help solve some problems unique to those needing "D.A.R." proof of family connections.

"Apprentices of Connecticut 1637-1900" provides reference to hundreds of surnames of those "bound" to service to Connecticut families. The second book, "Connecticut Loyalists," features lists of those deposed of land they were holding in Connecticut at the time of the Revolutionary War.

Here again, with alphabetized indices, one can quickly check for your choice of missing kin.

The seminar we attended in Livonia given by the Western Wayne County Genealogical Society on Nov. 5 provided us with much information of interest to all of you, as well as giving advance data on two 1995 conferences offered by the (1) Ohio Genealogical Society (in Toledo) and (2) the Kent County Chapter of the Ontario Genealogical Society of Canada.

Outstanding programs have been chosen by the committees for both these events, and we will certainly offer details in an upcoming issue.

Vendors at the Nov. 5 presentation offered materials that were all one would need to dig, find, and possess for personal library holdings. We really lacked time to peruse all the goodies, but did find several new additions that will be added to the library of the Pontiac Area Historical and Genealogical Library.

Check us out, come January, when we will be back on a normal schedule for visits by the public. Lack of staffing has become the same problem for us that it is for all groups using volunteer help.

The "buried treasure" found in P.A.H.A.G.S. library would benefit, one way or another, every person paying a visit to our "place."

Another purchase is a small booklet of extractions from the old newspaper of Cambria Co., Pa. Since we already own the copy of the book written on the Church of Loretto, in Cambria Co., we were sure this would offer further clues to families from the same area.

We strive to keep up with new resources, and report them, for everyone then can share the results and make family history more fun for everyone! Happy Hunting.

Pick a fresh-cut tree and keep it fresh

Want a fresh tree for Christmas? Be prepared to bend a few needles.

Bending an evergreen's needles is one way to check for freshness, says Mel Koelling, Extension forestry specialist at Michigan State University. If the needles on an already-cut tree spring back to their original shape, the tree is fresh. If needles snap or stay bent out of shape, the tree is probably dry.

Another way to check for a fresh tree is to bump the base of the tree on the ground. A shower of green needles around your feet means the tree is dry.

When you get your cut tree home, remove a 1/2-inch slice off the base of the trunk and immediately place the tree in a tree stand with a container for water.

"Making a fresh cut across the bottom removes old sap and dirt that are blocking the tree's ability to take up water," Koelling explains. "Evergreens kept indoors will lose a lot of water through their foliage. If they can't take up water to replace it, they dry out quickly and soon pose a fire hazard."

Placing your tree in the coolest possible place, away from radiators, hot air registers, hot lights, south-facing windows and appliances that give off heat will help slow the drying process and keep it fresh longer.

It is nearly impossible to ignite a fresh tree, Koelling notes, but a dry evergreen will flash into flame in an instant. Buying a fresh tree and keeping it fresh is critical to preventing a holiday tragedy.

Oakland Audubon schedules Christmas bird count

The Oakland Audubon Society Christmas Bird Count (CBC) will take place this year on Saturday, Dec. 17. This will be one of more than 1,600 similar counts across the Western Hemisphere designed to help survey wintering birds. Bird counts will be taken from Hawaii to Labrador, and from Alaska to Brazil, during the period from Dec. 17 to Jan. 2.

This year marks the 95th anniversary of the original CBC, which was held on Christmas Day in 1900 by groups in 25 locations, mostly around major northwestern U.S. cities. Since then, this annual event has grown from its original 25 counts to over 1,600 and the total participants from 27 to well over 42,000. It will be the 37th anniversary for the Oakland Audubon count and participation for the club is excellent. In 1992 Oakland Audubon had 111 participants which ranked it 23rd among the 1,600 counts.

This year every Canadian province, every U.S. state, many tropical countries and numerous West Indian islands will submit their results to the National Audubon Society, the sponsor and coordinator, which publishes the compilation reports.

The count itself is one of the biggest birding events of the year, and for Oakland Audubon, it means weeks of planning that will yield, in a single calendar day, the most complete census of birds possible in the designated area. By tradition the count area is a circle with a unique center and a 15-mile diameter which covers roughly 177 square miles. Oakland Audubon's count area is centered at

Christmas bird count scheduled

Lapeer and Indianwood Roads in northern Oakland County.

Bird counters are organized into parties, each with a leader familiar with the section of the circle assigned to the group. Within this circle, all birds sighted are identified and counted beginning at 7 a.m. and ending at 5 p.m. After the count, all parties gather for supper and a tally. Last year Oakland Audubon counted 21,537 individual birds representing 65 different species, including a first-time sighting of a Pileated Woodpecker.

New participants are welcome regardless of birding skill level. A CBC workshop is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 3, at the Troy Outdoor Education Center, 6685 Coolidge (north of Square Lake Road). The workshop will be held from 9 to 11 a.m. and this year includes information on topographic map use, a summary of early winter bird movements and team bird identification skills. Registration for count day is held at the workshop.

For more information on the Oakland Audubon Society Christmas Bird Count or workshop, contact Nancy Tar at (810) 399-7243, or Dee Tata at (810) 641-7747.

Academic achiever

NAME: Amber Gebrowsky

GPA: 3.937

PARENTS: Midge and Gerry Gebrowsky of Independence Township.

PLANS FOR AFTER GRADUATION: Attend Michigan State University (where she's already been accepted) to major in English/secondary education. "I like working with people and high school has been one of the most fun times of my life."

She picked MSU because she has attended yearbook camp there and because they have fine journalism and music programs, which she's interested in as well. "I'd also like to have some sort of job in journalism."

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES: Yearbook editor, band, where she plays flute, color guard, writer's group, National Honor Society, Wol-f, writing a column for The Clarkston News.

HONORS, AWARDS: Freshman English and faculty awards, awards at summer yearbook camps, chenille letter, Michigan Summer Institute participant.

FAVORITE TEACHER/CLASS: "Yearbook with Ms. Nemesi. My older brother was a yearbook editor when he was in high school, which inspired me to take the class. The class combines many of my favorite things—writing, interacting with others, art and being creative. Ms. Nemesi is one of the finest teachers in Clarkston, being professional and informative, but personal and caring as well."

JOB: "None. Between my homework and after-school activities, I'm busy enough."

HEROES: "CHS band alumni Ryan S. Moore. I met him when I was a freshman in marching band, and I have always admired his talent, dedication, spirit, sense of humor and respect for others. Music is important to me, and his personality seems to sum up what band is all about." Moore is now a student at Western Michigan University.

Amber Gebrowsky

FAVORITE CAFETERIA FOOD: "Anything that comes out of my brown paper lunch bag. I haven't purchased a school lunch since elementary school."

FAVORITE MUSICAL GROUP: U2, REM.
A GOOD BOOK SHE'S READ: "Everything I Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten" by Robert Fulghum.

THE SECRET TO HER SUCCESS: "Three things: hard work, enthusiasm and my Franklin planner. The only way to achieve anything is through hard work, and having enthusiasm makes everything more fun. Of course, without my planner, I'd never remember to do anything, so it's also a key element to my achievements."

A GOOD FRIEND IS SOMEONE WHO: "When you are at McDonald's in England and spill hot fudge all over your white color guard uniform, will go with you to the bathroom and use cold water and hand soap to get your skirt clean."

IF I COULD CHANGE ONE THING ABOUT CLARKSTON: "I'd change the names of the schools so that they made sense. Right now it's actually kind of funny—Sashabaw Middle School is off of Maybee Rd, Pine Knob Elementary is on Sashabaw Rd..."

Business brief

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC MEETING TO INSTITUTE A SUMMER PROPERTY TAX LEVY FOR CLARKSTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS

Administrative Offices: 6389 Clarkston Road
Telephone No.: (810) 625-4402

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on December 12, 1994, at 7:00 o'clock p.m., at the Administration Office, the Board of Education will hold a meeting at which will be offered for adoption a resolution to impose a summer property tax levy of all (100%) of its annual school tax levy upon property located within the school district.

Passage of the proposed resolution would result in the annual levy of all (100%) school property taxes on July 1 against property located within the school district. The Board of Education, under Act 333, Public Acts of Michigan 1982, may impose a summer tax levy of either one-half (50%) or all (100%) of annual school property taxes. Currently, the School District has imposed a summer property tax levy at the one-half (50%) level. If a summer property tax levy is imposed, the school district may enter into agreements with each city or township in which it lies, or a county treasurer, for collection of the summer taxes, or may collect such taxes itself pursuant to said Act 333.

This notice is given by order of the Board of Education.

OTC hosts open house

Beautiful Christmas decorations fill the greenhouses and work rooms at Oakland Technical Center Northwest as students in the floral/greenhouse program prepare for the school's open house Dec. 4.

The fresh and silk arrangements of the students will be for sale to the public during the open house, which will also include student demonstrations in each of the school's technical programs. Door prizes, poinsettias, baked goods and gifts will also be available.

Open house hours are 1-4 p.m. The greenhouse will be open after the sale as well during normal school hours.

One day last week students were putting the finishing touches on some elaborate swags, boxwood topiaries and rosettes made of large green salal leaves. They will be available to make custom designs on wreaths during the open house so customers can pick out a plain wreath, then have it decorated in their own colors.

"The students design the wreath right in front of them," said teacher Donna Papatheodoropoulos, called "Mrs. P" by her students.

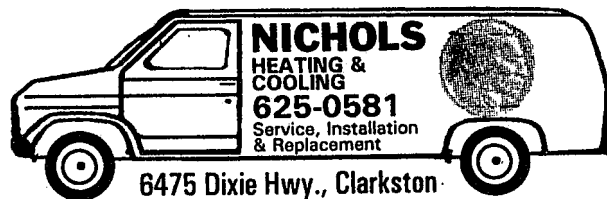

"And also we have spring things and seasonal items as well. The public is welcome to walk through the classroom any time."

The technical center is located at 8211 Big Lake Rd. For more information call 625-5202.

THE SOME GOOD USE TREE

There's a dog-ugly Christmas tree in our lobby. We tried lights, ornaments, garland, heck... we've even played it music but it's still ugly. This year we decided to put that tree to some good use... by decorating it with MITTENS, SCARVES, GLOVES, SOCKS and HATS. All items donated to decorate the tree will be turned over to organizations who will see that those who need any of these things will receive them. We hope this will put our dog-ugly tree to "SOME GOOD USE." LX49-1c

Have you seen this spud?

Tuber's tall tale continues

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

In the midst of the holiday season a cloud of gloom hangs over Sashabaw Middle School.

Assistant principal Mike Krystyniak says he is distraught after not being able to locate his beloved mascot — a battered Mr. Potato Head who has been his friend for years. The spud was a birthday present from his two children.

"I'm in denial," said Krystyniak last Wednesday. He is presently seeing Dr. Jibba-Jabba, a stuffed psychiatrist who doesn't do much for him except spew psycho babble when shaken. However, Krystyniak says the doctor may soon write him a prescription for his depression.

Head's disappearance from Krystyniak's desk Oct. 6 during parent-teacher conferences threw the school into an uproar.

"It was a day of infamy," SMS principal Jean Lang said Wednesday.

Soon after, Krystyniak received "a traditional kidnap note" compiled from newsprint. It was signed with the sole name of "Clinton." The note said not to contact police, but the school has acquired the services of Det. Spud, a local potato police officer who is trying to get to the root of the problem.

'Please save me. They are making me watch and cheer for U of M.'

Mr. Potato Head

Over the past few weeks, Head has been spudded in a variety of locations and all eyes are upon the case. The school's bulletin board is covered with pictures of the traveling tuber from Las Vegas to Switzerland. One picture shows a plateful of mashed potatoes with eyes, nose and mouth which reads:

"I hope you realize that we are serious about you not calling the police. If you do, this is what Mr. Potato Head will look like."

Another shows Head up to his neck (?) in a Michigan mug with a tiny U of M stocking cap upon his head. It says:

"Please save me. They are making me watch and cheer for U of M."

Others who have been implicated are eighth-grade math teacher Jeff Peariso, The Tossed Salad Group, Principal Lang and eighth-grader Bryon Beutler, who was seen rolling away from the assistant principal's office with Head on the tray of his wheelchair.

Krystyniak feels the spudnapper may be Peariso. "Mr. Peariso certainly seems to be a prime suspect because of the heavy activity around his room. Several of my informants have told me he's heavily involved," Krystyniak said.

Peariso is suspected for several reasons, including Lang's accusation that "He's cashing in on the pins" he has designed which feature Head in a variety of seasonal costumes. They have been sold to help fund "Paws With a Cause," an organization that trains dogs for the handicapped and blind. And because he's heading the eighth-grade trip to Washington which takes place in May, Lang and Krystyniak feel the whole potato napping may be a set-up.

Meanwhile, the search for the spud continues as Head's photo is displayed upon four-ounce cartons of school milk and missing-person mail flyers. Head is described as brown, blue-eyed, with the distinguishing birthmark characteristic of "a hole in the top of his head."

Updated announcements of current spud spottings are occasionally made over the school's PA system.

'I'm in denial.'

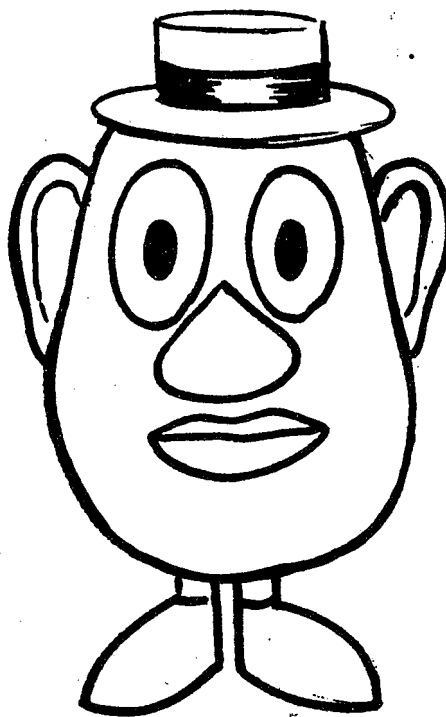

Assistant Principal Mike Krystyniak

But recent messages have indicated Head is perhaps the only one who hasn't gotten himself into as stew.

"He went to Acapulco for Thanksgiving and is going to Aruba for Christmas," Peariso said.

Meanwhile, the school waits, hoping to find Head before it's too late and he disappears into a Ruffles bag. But his adventures might nip that in the spud.

"The story has a life of its own," Lang said.

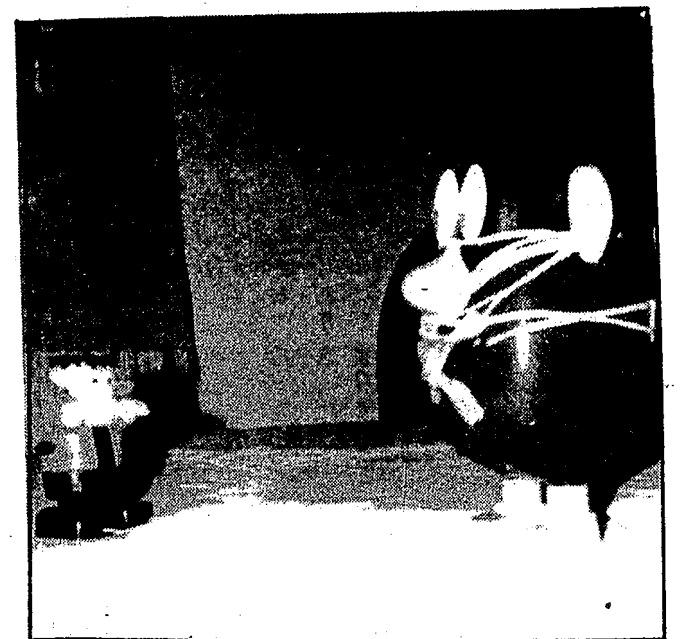

"If he ends up in high political office we'll know something's up," Lang said.

But Peariso was quick to defend himself and feels the two administrators' accusations are half-baked.

"I just want to help out. I'm the middleman between the detective and the school," he said.

Lang is also suspected because Head turned up in her office a few weeks ago bound and gagged. After Krystyniak rescued him Head was gone again.

When asked about this, Lang hashed up.

A photo of Mr. Potato Head bound and gagged appeared with this note: "Dear Mr. K, We are thinking about doing a brain transplant ... to help out our friend ..., (signed) Frank N. Stein."
