Summertime!

Bring out the shades and shorts—summer's here! These are just two of the people who participated in this year's Clarkston Fun Daze run/walk Saturday in Depot Park. The weather cooperated beautifully as runners got in some work and walkers raised funds for Lighthouse Clarkston. For more of the sights, see the back page. Photo by Angela Smith.

Parade Monday

The solemn purpose of Memorial Day will be remembered Monday in Clarkston with a parade and services at Lakeview Cemetery.

The parade will begin at 10 a.m. at the corner of Church and Buffalo streets. It will proceed to Main St., north to Washington, west to Holcomb and then south to the veterans' plot in Lakeview Cemetery.

Motorists should be advised that White Lake Rd. (Holcomb) will be closed from Washington St. to Dixie Highway during the parade. American Legion Post 63 Commander Mel Hodgins requests that no horses, autos or decorated bicycles enter the parade because of the solemn purpose of the day.

Services at the cemetery will include a performance by the Clarkston High School band, the Gettysburg Address and a roll call of deceased veterans. On Sunday, members of Post 63 will place flags on the graves of veterans in the cemetery.

Now considered the gateway to the summer vacation season, Memorial Day started out as a way to literally decorate the graves of fallen veterans. Originally called Decoration Day, it was first proclaimed as a day set aside "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country."

The name was changed to Memorial Day in 1968 by President Lyndon Johnson and the celebration was moved from May 30 to the last Monday in May to assure a long holiday weekend.

School board to consider redistricting

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Even if voters approve a new high school June 12, the Clarkston school district will run out of classroom space before it can be built.

That was the opinion of the board of education Monday night as it approved, by a vote of 6-1 (trustee Kurt Karlstrom voted no) to spend $282,000 on eight portable classrooms. Four of the classrooms will go to Clarkston High School, four to elementaries.

In his recommendation to the board, Mike LaBay, deputy superintendent for instruction, said he is looking at transferring about 75 students from Springfield Plains to Andersonville Elementary in the fall, and placing two of the portables at Andersonville. The other two he recommended be placed at North Sashabaw.

"We continue to experience increased enrollments; I don't think that's a surprise to anybody," LaBay said. "We know from experience that about 18 months after someone requests a building permit, we get about .62 elementary students and .8 overall."

LaBay said he has met with the Independence Township planner and is especially concerned about two developments, Bridgewater, an apartment complex at Maybee and Sashabaw, and Independence Woods, a subdivision in the Maybee/Rohr/I-75 area.

"The highest concentration of children we believe are going to come from Bridgewater and Independence Woods," LaBay said.

Trustee Bill Craig wanted to know how the moves would affect Pine Knob Elementary. "There could be a lot of kids. We don't really have the option of sending them all to Pine Knob," he said.

Trustee Barry Bomier suggested the district look at leasing a soon-to-be-closed elementary school in Waterford until another elementary school can be built. The Waterford district has announced it will close three elementaries—Four Towns, Donelson and Manley—at the end of the current school year in favor of larger, more efficient schools.

Clarkston superintendent Gary Haner said leasing a school from another district is not unheard of. Craig liked the idea and suggested it be pursued in

The news in brief

School bond informational meeting

An open forum on the June 12 high-school bond proposal will be held Thursday, June 1 at 7 p.m. in the Independence Township Library. School superintendent Gary Haner and Bill Craig, vice president of the school board, will answer questions.

Public transportation how-to meeting

A presentation on preserving local transportation will be held May 25 at 1 p.m. in the Commissioners' Auditorium at the county complex, 1200 N. Telegraph. Anyone interested in public transportation is invited to this free meeting.

The program will include a presentation from Gerald Fisher, Independence Township's attorney, on municipal credits, as well as Kathy Crawford, Novi Senior Citizen Transportation Coordinator; Dan Rolls of Holly schools speaking on transportation for seniors; and Marye Miller, director of the Older Persons Commission in Rochester. There will also be a question and answer period.

Alleged bank robber ordered to stand trial

Clinton James Dobson, of Lapeer, was bound over to Circuit Court Friday on charge he robbed the Clarkston Brandon Credit Union at gunpoint May 9. Dobson, 20, will be arraigned before Judge Alice Gilbert June 1. He is being held on $300,000 cash bond.

Candidates debate

The three candidates for the Clarkston board of education have been invited to a debate by the Clarkston PTA Council.

Incumbent Janet Thomas and challengers Kurt Shanks and Karen Foytec have all said they will attend.

The debate will take place at Clarkston Middle School on Waldon Rd. on Wednesday, May 31 at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

City schedules special meetings

Budget sessions and police chief interviews were rescheduled Monday night by the City of the Village of Clarkston because of conflicting dates.

The city budget hearing is now set for Tuesday, June 13. The hearing was rescheduled because on the regular meeting night, City Hall will be used for school election voting. Council will set the budget for the 1995-96 fiscal year during its second monthly meeting June 26.

Final candidates for the vacant Clarkston Police Chief position had not been announced as of presstime. Councilman Steve Arkwright said although the many applicants have been "narrowed to a reasonable number," discussion continues at the subcommittee level.

A special public meeting date of Wednesday, June 7 has been set for final interviews in City Hall. Arkwright says his target date for having a new chief in place is July 1, "in conjunction with the new fiscal year budget." Arkwright feels the new chief should be included in discussions about possible salary increases for members of the Clarkston Police Department.

Award winners love their town

Clarkston honors top volunteers

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Receiving an award for something you do out of love, not because you have to, made this year's winners of the Michigan Week Community Awards feel very lucky.

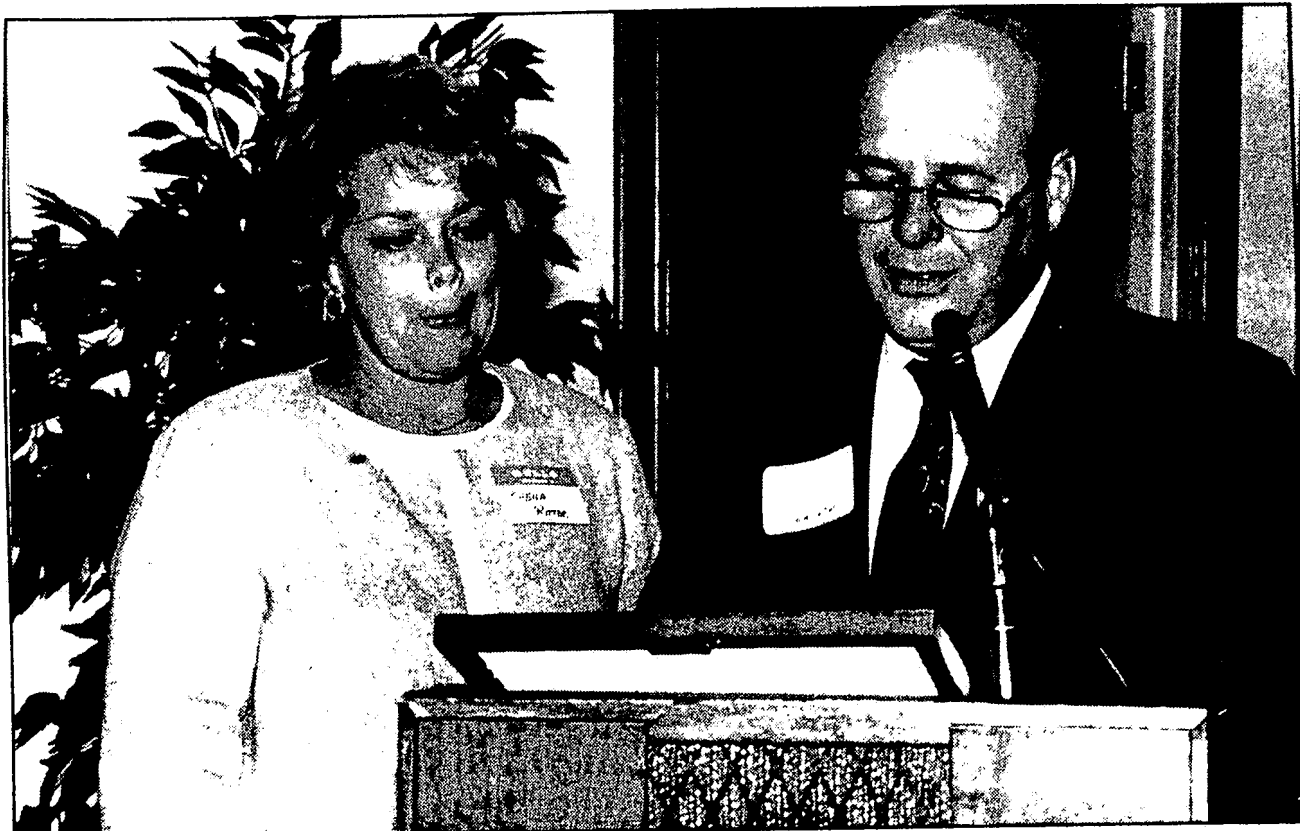

Now in their 10th year, the awards were announced May 17 at Spring Lake Country Club. And Citizen of the Year Sheila Ritter could have spoken for the whole bunch when she said, "I'm lucky because I truly love what I do . . . Not everybody has that opportunity and I'm very thankful."

Ritter's sentiment was echoed by the other winners. They were Rosemary Lewis, Julie Matthies, Bill Genshaw and Jim Russell, who won for Community Preservation for their recently published book of local history; Dwight Spiker, Adult Youth Volunteer of the Year for his leadership of the Clarkston schools athletic boosters; Bill Wint, for Property Beautification, for Lewis E. Wint and Sons Funeral Home's new addition; Forrest Milzow, for Business Person of the Year, and Brianne Kohs, Young Person of the Year.

"I feel this is an outstanding community and I'm proud to have lived here," an emotional Ritter said. "This is a great honor for me. You cannot accomplish great things without great helpers . . . We have such great resources here."

Ritter was nominated for her work in organizing and constructing the Bay Court playscape last summer, an all-volunteer effort. The nominating form also lists her work with St. Dan's Church, Independence Township's Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission and past presidency of the Optimist Club.

"She could have been nominated by the entire community," master of ceremonies Brent Cooley said in making the award. "Sheila is committed to the Clarkston community."

In honor of the occasion, Cooley read aloud a letter Ritter received from President Bill Clinton. She also received a resolution signed by Governor John Engler, Senator Mat Dunaskiss and Rep. Tom Middleton. Middleton presented resolutions to all the winners.

Brianne Kohs

Brianne, an eighth-grader at Clarkston Middle School, was honored for her leadership in the CMS Junior Optimist Club, which more than doubled its membership during her term as president. She is also president of the Student Leadership Council and a member of the student crisis team, plays basketball, track and piano.

She was nominated by Don Brose of the adult

Optimist Club, who noted that Brianne is also secretary/treasurer of the Michigan District Junior Optimist International.

"I can't wait to have that young lady at the high school," said Cooley, who is principal at Clarkston High School. "What she's done at the middle school is tremendous."

Forrest Milzow

Milzow was nominated by Clarkston Rotary for "his generosity in providing his place of business for the use of the community."

A former Pontiac teacher, Milzow is owner of Deer Lake Racquet Club as well as a builder. He is active in the Goodfellows, Rotary, sponsors a swim team and is a past winner of the Rotary Club's Paul Harris Award. An active member of the Clarkston Downtown Development Authority, he has also been an active supporter of past school millage campaigns, allowing the club to be used as headquarters.

"When I have a young person at Clarkston High School that needs a job, I can call Forrest Milzow," Cooley said. "He's appreciative of his community; he serves his community."

"It's real nice to do nice things when you're surrounded by people and an area like this," Milzow said. "It's been a lot of fun."

Historic preservation

Four people who collaborated on a Clarkston history book for school children and the community at large were honored for historic preservation.

Clarkston teachers Rosemary Lewis, Julie Matthies and Bill Genshaw and local artist Jim Russell have just seen their efforts published by the Clarkston Community Historical Society. The book will become part of the curriculum for Clarkston second-graders.

"There was a basic need for our children to learn about our history and our curriculum required it but there were no materials," Matthies said.

Lewis hinted that there will be a sequel. "There's a lot of information that still needs to be included," she said.

"We sincerely hope this book will provide chil-

Parview residents battle Mr. B's plan

Board of trustees passes rezoning, 5-2

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Residents along Parview Road came out in force to show the Independence Township Board of Trustees they were against Mr. B's Roadhouse having access to their street.

While final plans weren't required or proposed, the board passed the rezoning of 4.5 acres of land from multi-family residential to office at its May 16 meeting by a 5-2 vote. That parcel is located off Parview and will provide more parking for the proposed Mr. B's, which will be located off Dixie Highway, almost across from the Dixie/M-15 intersection.

While residents packed the township meeting and complained to board members about traffic/safety concerns on their 25 mph residential street, township supervisor Dale Stuart said the rezoning is separate from building plans or driveway access. He said those plans will be reviewed at another time by the planning commission and township board.

The rezoning approval allows Mr. B's to build a parking lot on the 4.5 acres. According to a "contract" agreement between the township and Mr. B's the area can only be used for parking lot purposes.

Many of the residents at the meeting said they don't want anything to do with what they termed "bar traffic" having access on their residential street.

Included in the opposition to Mr. B's having access on Parview is planning commissioner Steve Board, who has opposed Mr. B's at that site since the access to Parview was first proposed. He said he feels strongly that a residential street should not have business traffic flowing onto it.

"When this first came to us (planning commission) I was excited and we approved the concept plan although there were questions about parking space," said Board, who lives on Balmoral, located off Parview. "When Mr. B's came back to us for rezoning they asked for more parking and access to Parview. Then my excitement for this went right down the tank."

He chastised the board for not understanding residents' feelings about having bar traffic on their street. "I may be cooking my own goose...but I'm very disappointed with the township. Congratulations for cooking your citizens."

All you're doing is acting on this for the convenience of a developer and the interests of business only. If this same situation happened to you, you would be upset too."

Jim Scharl, the Mr. B's engineer for the project from Kieft Engineering, said people should not be worried about traffic on Parview because a "no left turn" sign will be posted and the drive would be built so left turns on Parview would be very difficult.

His estimates suggest about 40 cars a day will ignore the signs and make left hand turns on Parview. But that's much less traffic than was proposed a few years ago for a condominium development, which was to be located off Parview.

"Those studies showed there would be 140 vehicles trying to get in and out of Parview with no control on right or left turns," he said.

He also pointed out that Mr. B's restaurants generally serve 70 percent food and only 30 percent alcohol.

While township clerk Joan McCrary and trustee Bruce Mercado voted against the rezoning, other board members said now is not the time to dispute building details because the issue will be back.

Trustee Jeffrey McGee said, "I understand the concerns about residential street use but I will vote for this because it's a good addition for the township. I don't know if the Parview access will work or not but we do have a process to follow."

McCrary said Mr. B's doesn't need to create more parking spaces because the concept plan met township parking requirements the first time. She voted no because access onto Parview was not needed before the extra parking spaces were proposed.

According to "The Daily Palate," a Mr. B's newsletter, the restaurant/bar plans on opening in September or October of this year. Plans could include the longest bar in Oakland County, an outdoor patio that will seat 80-100 people, and indoor pool tables and dart boards.

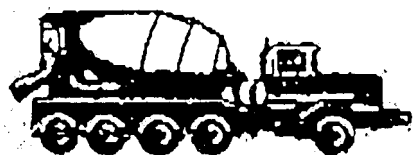

Cranberry Lake SAD hearing rescheduled

After a mix-up in the publishing of legal notices, the Cranberry Lakes sewer improvement special assessment district public hearing is rescheduled for June 6, 7:30 p.m.

The public hearing to hear comments and objections to the proposed SAD roll was originally scheduled for May 16. But township clerk Joan McCrary said the notice was only published one time, which would make the public hearing illegal under state law. Public hearing notices must be published twice.

The error wasn't noticed until the day of the May 16 hearing.

The cost estimate for the improvement is estimated at about $950,000.

Teachers ratify contract

Vote is 270-61 on second try

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

The Clarkston Education Association and the board of education have ratified a new, three-year contract for teachers, even though the current contract doesn't expire until August.

Both sides credited a collaborative bargaining process called ACCORD, saying it enabled them to achieve agreements much quicker and with less acrimony than in past years.

The new contract calls for two-percent pay hikes in each of the next three years. In addition, the school day will be slightly longer and the school year will increase by four days during the life of the contract.

The contract includes 50 minutes each morning for common planning time among teachers and a change in the teachers' insurance carrier from MESSA to Blue Cross, saving about seven percent per year, according to the district.

CEA president Tom Brown said the changes will benefit students.

"Our purpose is all the same—administration, board and teachers—and that is they are directed primarily for the curriculum," he said. "We could have bargained in a power mode if we wanted to . . . It's all a process of recognizing we can solve these problems without resorting to a standoff . . . It's much more productive."

Duane Lewis, assistant superintendent for personnel, said the common planning time "will be used for a variety of things; curriculum, school improvement. It is not expected to be used for individual teacher planning."

The issue of common planning time for teachers has sparked some controversy because the administration has said it cannot be achieved without altering building starting and ending times, which would have significant impact on bus drivers. Drivers expect their hours to be cut by at least one-third if the district converts to a two-tier system, rather than the current three-tier system. Such cuts would make them ineligible for retirement credits.

Brown said the new contract does not define how the common planning time will be accomplished. "Our contract does not negotiate two-tier bussing," he said. "Our objective is common planning time. How they get that is up to administration."

Brown said the CEA is "skeptical" about the advisability of turning transportation over to a private company but is not directly involved in the debate. Both teachers and bus drivers are represented by the same union, the Michigan Education Association.

Is the check in the mail?

So far, more than 2.2 million Michigan taxpayers have received their 1994 federal tax refunds, according to the IRS. If you're not one of them, district director Arlene Kay suggests you use the automated refund information system to find out what's holding up your check.

The IRS toll-free number is 1-800-829-4477 and can tell you when your check is scheduled to be mailed. You must have a copy of your tax return available when you call, since you will need to know your Social Security number, filing status and the exact amount of the refund expected.

Bands compete at state

Bands from Clarkston High School and Sashabaw Middle School recently competed in Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association state festivals.

The CHS jazz ensemble traveled to Romulus High School in April to perform at the MSBOA state/regional jazz festival. There they earned a first division (the highest rating), continuing a 10-year tradition at this level, according to CHS director of bands Cliff Chapman.

The CHS ninth-grade concert band performed at Farmington Harrison High school April 28 at the state MSBOA festival and also earned a first division rating.

The Sashabaw Middle School concert and symphony bands attended the MSBOA state festival at Brandon High School in May under the direction of Douglas Doty. The concert band earned a second division rating, while the symphony band earned a first division, with straight-A marks in both concert performance and sight reading.

A sad state of affairs

The phone calls have been increasingly urgent lately.

One day it's WTVS, Channel 56. They are urgently calling past supporters looking for extra donations. Even if you've already given this year, they want more. The message? We've already cut our spending by hundreds of thousands of dollars, we may be losing our federal grants altogether, can you help us?

The next day it's an environmental group, talking about action in Congress to gut the Clean Water Act. They are asking for money to help pay for a lobbying campaign. The other side has high-priced lobbyists, so if we're going to be heard we need your help, they say.

Another day it's your alma mater. The state has made a mistake and is using it to cut our funding. Can you help?

These aren't just cold calls of greedy people looking for free cash. These are groups that know you're interested in their cause (that's how they got your name, after all). They are telling you things you know are true, because you've read them in the newspapers and heard them on the evening news.

If you're a friend of culture, the environment or children, these are hard times in the good old USA. The worst part is that while all the proposals come with the promise of tax cuts, so far I haven't seen my taxes go down. On the contrary, the very survival of institutions and causes I hold dear is threatened, while, at the same time, my taxes continue to rise.

How can this be? I think it has something to do with the old bait and switch. Slashing funds in certain areas that are out of favor politically, and sending the money to other areas that are on the ascendancy or, even worse, untouchable.

Did you hear the one about how U.S. taxpayers subsidize advertising for megacorporations like McDonald's? Hey, I like fast food on occasion, but I don't think Micky D needs my help selling burgers. How many billions have they sold already?

The list goes on and on—subsidies to all kinds of industries and huge entitlement programs for senior citizens while children's spending is cut. Medicare and Social Security will never be touched because of the voter uproar such a move would ignite. But preschoolers don't exactly demonstrate when free lunches are on the block.

The Detroit Free Press reported last week that under proposed revisions to the Clean Water Act, seasonal wetlands will no longer be protected. Apparently a bunch of politicians has decided they know better how to define a wetland than all the collective scientific minds in the world. Change the definition, the problem goes away.

Likewise, the Freep reported, federal home heating subsidies are on the chopping block. Poor families whose incomes or welfare aren't enough to cover their winter bills will now have no safety net to fall back on. Guess they'll just have to lower the heat some more.

A family affair

It was truly a family affair as over 200 parents, teachers and students gathered at Clarkston High School May 8 to hear author and illustrator Jerry Pallotta and Ralph Masiello speak on non-fiction children's literature. Afterwards Pallotta and Masiello's popularity was indeed evident as the autograph line was long, some families waiting well over an hour to have their books signed.

It was truly a rewarding sight to see parents and teachers together giving positive support to reading in a setting other than the classroom or home; the result being many smiling faces — cookie in one hand and a book in the other!

Teachers appreciated

To the Editor:

Clarkston Middle School PTA would like to take this opportunity to thank the educators in our school for being conscientious, caring professionals concerned with the well-being and futures of our children. Their dedication and enthusiasm is reflected in the success that the young people in our district exhibit athletically, in their artistic and musical accomplishments, in their scholastic achievements, and as productive and responsible members of our community.

Please join us in recognizing our Clarkston staff members during Teacher Appreciation Week, May 8-11. The "thank you" you share with someone who has made a difference in your child's life will be passed on many times to the children who come in contact with people who know they are valued and appreciated.

Sincerely,

Clarkston Middle School PTA

Many helpers

A big thanks to all the parents, businesses and schools that helped make the Springfield Plains Elementary school fair and raffle a big success. The list of donors and volunteers is too long to list, but every individual and business was greatly appreciated. A special thanks to Bailey Lake and Pine Knob elementaries for the use of school fair games.

The Insider

Two-tier what?

Clarkston school bus drivers have been feeling lately like no one understands their fears of what's called two-tier busing. It appears they may be right.

One bus driver said recently she was asked by another school employee how drivers would be able to see students up on the top deck of the bus. Another employee wanted to know if trees would have to be cut to allow the double-decker buses to pass through.

In reality, two-tier bussing refers to a change in the number of runs each driver would have per day, not what kind of bus they drive.

The Insider is a humorous, behind-the-scenes look at stories in the news.

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Notes on news

My favorite 6 to 10 morning radio shows are J. P. McCarthy on WJR and Dick Purtan on Q 95. So, when I get up I turn on two radios.

J. P. gives me news and interviews with personalities and call-ins. Purtan gives me news, laughs and interviews with personality imitators.

I was closer to J. P.'s listening area in our house last Monday when he was talking to a person from the Department of Natural Resources about the proliferation of Canadian geese. All golfers and lakeside residents know geese are a problem, particularly right now when the adults are busy teaching their young how to really mess up lawns, fairways and docks.

J. P. and the DNR guy reviewed the history of Canadian geese; how they were believed to be coming extinct not so many years ago, then the DNR's efforts to capture the geese and transport them to such places as Kentucky and Minnesota in recent years.

Now no one wants them, so, what to do? J. P. asked, something like . . . What are you going to do, kill 'em?

The man from the DNR said they were going into a program of, get this, "protein conversion," thereby providing protein for soup kitchens.

I love it! We "harvest" deer and we convert geese to protein.

My next news note has to do with how different media treated an event (crime) Tuesday. Channel 2's 10 p.m. news lead story was how police arrested 17 people on charges of selling drugs at Chrysler Corporation's Sterling Heights Assembly Plant.

A reporter was at the plant, talking into the camera with this breaking, always you-saw-it-first on Channel 2, exclusive report.

WJR radio had the same story as its lead (most important) story on the 7 a.m. newscast Wednesday morning.

The Detroit Free Press Wednesday morning didn't think this story even deserved a headline. A one paragraph account of the drug bust was under a "Briefly" heading with a Sterling Heights dateline.

Who's right? Or, who's wrong? This isn't the type of story tv news is more likely to lead with . . . car crashes, fires, disaster . . . visual carnage.

I think WJR handled it right. They lead at 7:00, then dropped it to later in the newscast at 8:00.

My conclusion on the Freep handling this story is that they have become oblivious to drug busts. There are so many this one only rated 34 words.

A look back

15 YEARS AGO (1980)

Though water from the herbicide-treated Mill Pond has been flowing into Parke Lake, residents are not in any danger, says Steve Sadewasser of the State Department of Natural Resources. Chemical weed and algae killers were put into the pond when members of the Clarkston Mill Ponds Association decided to take action in cleaning up bodies of water. Clarkston Village Council trustee James Schultz, who lives on Parke Lake, said although he accepts the DNR's evaluation, he hopes council will be aware of the situation and well-informed of chemical contents.

Recent achievement and ability tests show Clarkston school district third- and fifth-graders low in math. However, overall they fare very well. The tests also reveal a need for academically gifted student programs. "There's evidence that we aren't meeting those needs (of gifted students)," William Potvin, director of planning and evaluation, says.

Tom Black and Mike Grable, two 10-year-old boxers from Independence Township, defeat three opponents en route to the Junior Olympic District Championships in Owosso.

The Independence Township Board receives a Jaycee medallion for "Service to Humanity." The presentation is made by Jaycee president Jerry Bradley who says, "Since you have helped us so much through the years, we present you with this medallion." The medallion is issued to coincide with Michigan Week and the Jaycees' 50th anniversary.

Some 1,600 residents who signed petitions asking for a rezoning vote from residential to multiple in the Clarkston Gardens area have their hopes dashed by Independence Township clerk Howard Altman. Altman was in the process of verifying the signatures when he received a court order restraining him from continuing. He says owners may proceed with development plans while court action continues unless an injunction is ordered. The next show cause hearing is May 27.

A two-run homer clinches the game as Clarkston's varsity baseball team wins over Clarenceville Friday. The score remains 1-1 until the last of the ninth when Don Brown singles, George Bennett runs for Brown and Mark Swanson hits a home run over the right field fence, clinching victory for the Wolves.

50 YEARS AGO (1945)

Dr. A. W. Emery narrowly escapes death Tuesday evening when his car is hit by a train at the railroad crossing on Clark Road near Dixie. Clark Road has many twists and turns and the railroad crossing is very dangerous as the view down the tracks is blocked by an embankment. Dr. Emery says he was surprised when he reached the crossing to see that the train was almost upon him. He applied his brakes but the train caught the bumper and dragged the car for some distance before it was thrown into a field. After Dr. Emery regained consciousness he went to a farmhouse and called his wife. Deputies who arrived at the scene were amazed when they saw the wreckage and learned the driver had escaped with a small cut on the head and a couple of skinned knuckles. On Wednesday Dr. Emery is back at work and says he's really thankful to be alive.

News from "By the Way": If you missed the school band concert Wednesday night, you missed a treat ... The children in the elementary grades at the Clarkston school will start using their new library on Tuesday. It is filled with a beautiful assortment of books ... Remember your date for tonight — it's the last school dance of the season and it will be an unusual event.

Johnny Wohlfeil, of this village and a veteran dirt track driver, takes both second and third place at the opening race at VFW Motor Speedway in Detroit April 27. On Sunday, he does even better by winning first place and setting a new track record for 100 laps at the same track. Mr. Wohlfeil has a midget car that he will race at Toronto this Friday and at the University of Detroit Stadium on Saturday.

Playing at the Holly Theatre are "Mississippi," starring Bing Crosby, W.C. Coming soon: Shirley Temple in "Our Little Girl."

Disturbing incidents almost beg for answers

In a crowded theater, for around 15 minutes, a woman struggled to stop a man from leaving the building, blocking his path and clutching him around the arms and chest.

In a public park, near a busy playground, a perhaps thirtysomething man chased a young girl, maybe 10, caught her, threw her to the ground, and then strode off, shouting back at her: "You're pissing me off."

I've got to start wearing blinders when I go out in public. I'm sick of returning home with a heavy heart, or an angry, guilty feeling. And with painfully unanswered questions.

The first incident occurred in Detroit's Orchestra Hall on Friday morning, April 28, during intermission of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra coffee concert. The couple, casually dressed and probably in their 60s, were sitting near the stage. Actually, they were standing — and practically wrestling — when I first spotted them from my balcony seat.

He was trying to go out a nearby exit, and when she stood in front of it, he headed up the aisle. Then she grabbed him, talked to him, and dragged him back to his seat. Where he refused to stay.

At least a dozen times he tried to break free, once making it halfway through the door, but each time, although she was slightly smaller, she managed to prevent his departure. Finally, a second woman sitting nearby — a stranger? — joined the battle, and the two of them, by practically sitting on the man, managed to keep him under control until the concert resumed.

My wife and I decided the man was mentally ill. Alzheimer's? Probably he remained quiet and seated during the music, which soothed him, but couldn't handle the intermission. We told each other his wife was a saint to bring him to Orchestra Hall, despite the inevitable trouble, and no one should complain about the brief, minor disturbance.

I have no idea if our diagnosis is correct. Do you?

I'm much less hopeful of ever learning the full truth about the possible child abuse I witnessed the next day around noon in Lapeer's Cramton Park. I was there to chase 4-year-old Adam. There are swings, slides and a merry-go-round, but Adam prefers running toward the adjacent river and up the hill on the other side. He just loves to hear Grandpa pant.

We were probably 50 yards away when the man flung the young girl — his daughter? — to the ground and cursed her. I immediately recalled a column I wrote in February, about how I did nothing but boil when I saw an older woman slap a child — her granddaughter? — in a restaurant. Many of you thought I should have scolded her, or called the cops.

What would I do this time? The much younger man could undoubtedly floor me with a flick of a fist. Nevertheless, I walked toward him, hoping I wouldn't trip on my shoelace, hoping he had enough respect for his elders to listen without punching. Lucky for me, the man swiftly walked away in another direction, disappearing into a wooded area.

But was it lucky for the little girl?

I didn't chase the jerk. And I didn't call the cops.

I was comforted to see a woman — the girl's mother? — sit down beside the crying girl and tenderly comfort her.

I told myself the child was now in good hands, and perhaps I'd witnessed an isolated incident that

Time for a new school

So there I was, fighting to keep my eyes open as our driver, Roosevelt, barreled the motorcoach across the state. It was a gorgeous Friday morning, with warm temps and a beautiful blue sky.

It would have been a great day to call in sick to work (cough, cough) and work out in the yard. Instead I was invited to tour Rockford High School — Rockford, as in Rockford-30-miles-north-of-Grand-Rapids High School. This is the school Clarkston hopes to model itself after.

And, might I add, what a school. It's big. It's airy. It's state of the art. And, it has character. If voters in the Clarkston School District cast 'yes' ballots June 12, they will have voted for the new focal point of the community.

Rockford is a community roughly the same size as ours. It has a population of 21,000, with about 1,800 high school kids. The students who graduate from this high school will have a leg up on most students from other high schools in the state.

Every class has computers, monitors and a computer printer. Every student and staff member who walks in the door is given a set amount of computer memory. They can access their own files, library resources from any class in the school, or from home if they have a modem.

They have no industrial arts classes. Instead they have technology education — learning who to use and design conveyors and robotics, etc.

The hallways are 12-feet wide and not crowded. It has too much going for it and the students. They should have no problems with the 21st Century.

Clarkston wants this school, just a wee bit bigger. They want to pass a $52.175 million bond to get that school going by 1998.

The tour worked for (on?) me. I guess I'm inclined to vote 'yes' June 12 for the bond issue. If only for these two reasons:

1. The district will need a new high school in the future — it ain't gonna' be any cheaper by waiting;
2. If you're gonna' do something, do it right — that was a paraphrase from Pops Rush to his son, yours truly. If Clarkston is going to build a new high school they might as well do it right.

Doing it right means giving students here the best shot they can get at an education they can compete with.

I suppose lots of folks will disagree with me on this one, that's okay. But, I hope those who are inclined to disagree with me, look into the issue and disagree with me for something more than, 'we don't need a new school.'

CHS life by Amber Gebrowsky

Smelling the roses

"Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in awhile, you could miss it." -- Ferris Buehler's Day Off.

When I was in elementary school, I think I wanted to be Ferris Buehler. I watched the movie some thirty-plus times, and to this day I can still recite a large number of the lines right along with the actors. This being the case, Ferris' message has become firmly embedded in my mind.

As a senior in my last days of high school, that message really hits home. The year has gone by so quickly... I know I was a part of it, but really, where did it all go? After spending a recent afternoon having a lengthy telephone conversation with sophomore Jeremy Davidson, I realized the current great dichotomy of my existence.

First, my heart is filled with laughter based on the energy-filled excitement of the last month. It all started in early May with the band's trip to St. Louis. Just picture four busloads of high school students traveling across the country. From brushing our teeth at rest stops to listening to CHS paraprofessional Ms. Kristy Butler's tales about a wide-mouth frog, the bus ride to the national music festival was certainly unique.

The city itself wasn't all that boring, either. During our visit to the arch, Mandy MacLachlan threw so-called "driftwood" (a stick about six feet long) into the Mississippi River, resembling an Olympic javelin thrower as she did so.

Later in the trip, when the band visited Six Flags Amusement Park, junior Laura Witkowski spent the entire day searching for a so-called employee named Steve Mason, who had spoken enthusiastically about the park in a commercial. Unfortunately, none of the real Six Flags employees had ever even heard of a co-worker by that name. Steve Mason's autograph was never secured.

The laughter continued the next Friday morning, the morning of the AP English exam. Anxiety levels were high as a group of us gathered in the parking lot at Independence Township Library, chattering idly. We were all too nervous to go inside and face the torturous exam that was surely awaiting us.

However, our tension was eased with the arrival of two classmates. Andy Holland arrived first in a shiny red Corvette, followed by Steve Whittington on his Harley. While this was not enough to stop some of us from doing actual dances of joy in the same parking lot when the test was over, it was enough to assure us that, no matter what, there would be life after this test.

And what a life it was, for that evening was the senior prom. The pictures taken by my family and friends before the actual event set the tone for the entire evening. Armed with an arsenal of props, including toy guns, binoculars, and walkie-talkies, we strongly resembled characters from a James Bond film — 007 Visits Petruzello's, perhaps?

The evening proceeded along those same playful lines. The class of '95 was brought out onto the dance floor to do the Hokey Pokey, followed by the chicken dance. Throughout the evening, Jimmy Teritto and Dave Belch could have given John Travolta a run for his money with their amazing disco dancing ability. Disco will never be dead in Clarkston as long as these two are "stayin' alive."

Now, however, these events are all behind me, and my heart is beginning to fill with tears. Yes, life is moving by pretty fast. As each day goes by, it's getting a little harder to face the reality of saying good-bye.

As I stop to gaze at all that has been done, it's comforting, and it's not something I'm sure I want to leave. The past is a screenplay that has already been written, while the future is one I still must write. Steven Spielberg, where are you?

Of course, maybe I will get lucky. Maybe Ferris Buehler's Day Off Part II is in the works. And in any event, there's a lot more life left to stop and look around at.

Heritage Hunt II by Virginia Block

Attention has been focused on researching Canadian connections for Don and Orilla Gerue, recent visitors in our area from Milford, Calif. Here to visit Don's cousin (twice removed), Faye Donelson, the Gerues were winding up a four-week tour, from Georgia, to Michigan, with stops in many other directions in between.

Looking for documentation on his Gerue (Gireau, Giroux, Jero, etc.) line for his great grandfather, he had a marriage license showing the wedding took place in Detroit in 1866, although the bride and groom were both thought to be Canadian. The 1880 census provided more help; however, too many details were missing to allow a deeper search.

This past week, a trip to the Burton Library furnished an obituary, plus city directory information that surprisingly revealed that the 1866 Detroit marriage had taken place not in the Catholic church, as supposed, but in a little known French-American Baptist Church.

This church's existence was unknown to many staff people even in the library and provides a new avenue of research for those who fail to find marriage records for Canadian/American (USA) marriages taking place in other than the Catholic records.

We have added many new materials to the library of the Pontiac Area Historical and Genealogical Society and emphasize once more that our collection is not limited to Oakland County/Pontiac area research materials.

We realize that the busy summer ahead may not offer much opportunity for the pursuit of family history - but for your health's sake, gather information at any family gathering, on possibly linking your own health problems to those present (or past), from relatives you encounter.

You can jot information on 3x5 cards easily carried in a purse, or hip pocket, and all it takes is a name, address, phone number and identifiable disease or illness that will help you get "the facts" at a future phone call.

Invitations to 6 summer weddings will bring together more pleasant circumstances, than the sadness of a funeral and usually more productive for gathering clues. If a family reunion is planned already, be sure to seek out the family historian, and ask for a copy of her records (mailing list) for sharing with others who may not be able to attend, and start a "round-robin" letter for next year's gathering to be read to the clan.

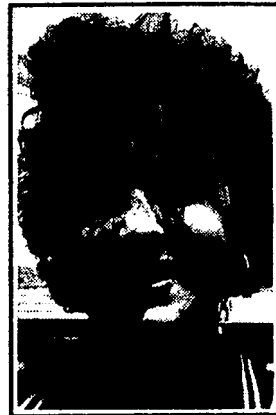

It's a time saver, inexpensive and nurturing. You'll be glad you did! Happy Hunting.

Don't leave future leaders on sidelines

Dear Editor,

Recently we've heard that our existing high school is well beyond capacity. That it has core facilities for 900 students while supporting 1,700. The fact that the athletic facilities support 40 boys and girls teams vs. 9 when it was built. And don't let us forget the impact on the 65-year-old middle school, which has long passed its day.

I, however, would like to comment on some additional pluses that a new high school would bring. That specifically being in the area of technology.

I will be the first one to state that technology in education is a tool and certainly not a cure-all. It, however, can be an incredibly valuable tool when used properly by trained teachers.

In the business world today we are constantly being told that in order to compete we must do more with less. Well, in education, our kids must learn more in less time.

Imagine all the knowledge gathered from the beginning of time and double it from the time a student enters high school to the time they graduate. In this environment, you cannot simply memorize the facts. You must understand how to gather and process these facts.

The applications of technologies such as video enhance this learning process. Recent studies have demonstrated that students retain up to an additional 50 percent of the materials taught when the traditional instruction is supplemented with video. In addition, software programs that run on personal computers in the school can help to improve students attitudes and, even more, their curiosity toward learning. The proposed new high school will allow our students to participate in this information explosion.

On June 12, we will all have the opportunity to say yes to our future leaders. Please don't leave them on the sidelines.

Sincerely,
Bill Craig

'Sensational' coverage

Dear Editor,

This letter is written to encourage your readers to read beyond the sensational story on the front page of the May 17 issue, "Bomb Suspects Are Ordered to Stand Trial."

I hope your readers noticed that, on page 8, Jessie Laycock's name was on the CHS Honor Roll. Section B, the sports section, named Brian Trollman as a winner on the Clarkston tennis team.

Throughout the past year your readers have read about Jayson Buchmann's contribution to the CHS state champion golf team, and that Eric Endrezl helped take the CHS football team to the state playoffs. Armin Michelson placed third in the state wrestling finals. Jessie Laycock was also a member of the CHS state runner-up wrestling team.

These young men are not Timothy McVeigh or the Nichols brothers, they are the sons of your friends and neighbors, they sit next to you at church on Sunday. Not so long ago, they were your newspaper boys, your altar boys, they cut your lawns, ran your errands. They were Boy Scouts and they trick-or-treated at your front door.

Now they are accused of blowing up a discarded toilet, a $7 mailbox and causing damage to an abandoned shack.

I'm not trying to minimize what these young men are accused of doing; these young men did use poor judgment. A stupid teenage prank has now turned into a nightmare for them and their families. All I ask is that your readers read beyond and between the lines of the sensationalism of the front page.

Wise planning can prevent sprawl

Dear Editor,

Many residents of the township, including myself, would like to see our area retain its rural beauty. I grew up on over fifty acres on Deer Lake and enjoyed the many miles of farm fields and wooded acres surrounding the village.

I-75 and the extension of suburbia have been changing the landscape for several years. Development is inevitable. However, wise planning can prevent the usual sprawl of residences and the endless lines of retail stores and restaurants strung out along the highways.

A very attractive way to develop large tracts of land is to use cluster housing. Putting several houses in one area and leaving acres of open land for the preservation of meadows, ponds and woodlands is much more pleasing to the eye than the usual grid of lots laid out like a checker board.

It may still be possible to prevent some of the undesirable string of businesses along commercial corridors. Designated shopping areas, off the main roads, with landscaping and sufficient parking, is good planning. However, consideration must be given to such people as Mr. Stonerock, who had every right to assume that his property, on a state highway, would not be restricted by a change in zoning.

I have a corner lot in Florida which was originally zoned for commercial usage. The city changed the zoning to residential and the requirements for building a house include a two-lot property. Consequently, I cannot build and, unless the adjoining property owner wishes to sell, the property is useless. The Supreme Court has ruled against this type of zoning but in order to benefit in any way, legal action must be taken. So much for careless zoning!

I would hope that the township would take an objective look at the master plan for development and consider such options as cluster housing and business centers. Both would preserve much of the natural beauty most of us enjoy.

Sincerely yours,
Anne Hubchen

Must new school be so costly?

Homeowners of Clarkston:

How many homes in Clarkston have assessed values of $50,000? Not very many. Well, to get a new high school means your taxes, that just went down, must go up, up, up again. As printed in our "Connections" paper that most of Clarkston residents received, if your home's assessed value is $50,000, you would pay additional $197 yearly for 20 years.

Even though we need a new school, do we need one so costly? The board has already set aside money so it will be available when the building opens. Keep in mind the building has not been voted on yet, not until June 12, but they are so sure of this going through they are going ahead and buying the property. With what money? The paper didn't say, did it?

Well, I can tell you how. All the "cost cutting"; watch what they're cutting! Private business partnership - do you people know what this means? You get what you pay for; we all know that. I cannot see private companies coming in and running things that should be run by the school district.

I think Clarkston school employees will be affected by much more than was printed. These workers have no retirement, no medical. Some have been with this district a very long time and most all the people who work in your schools care because they all live in the district. Now the board is talking changing jobs and hiring people from out of our district to work for Clarkston.

Wake up people. Let's get out to a board meeting and speak your piece. Your voice will help and this community needs people like you.

Name Withheld

Bond is opportunity knocking at the door

Knock... knock... knock. Can you hear it? It's coming. Knock... knock... knock. Well, don't bother putting down the paper, that is not the pizza guy. It's opportunity, and it has recently been popping up in our sleepy little town.

In only a few short weeks, we will have the chance to grasp this opportunity, and turn it into several exciting realities, my personal favorite being a brighter future for myself, my peers and all future generations to come.

I would hope by now that you all know what I'm talking about, but for those of you who have been in the Bio-sphere, I would like to mention that there is this funny little vote coming up regarding a new high school.

"A new high school!" you scream with an unhealthy amount of enthusiasm, "What a great idea! That will definitely benefit every member of our community! I will vote for it as many times as I can! I don't understand why we didn't build one five years ago!"

It is unbelievable, isn't it? How could our community let an issue this big slide for so long? I guess that there are just a couple of people out there who care more about a couple of dollars than they do about our city's youth. You might know one of these people, you might even be one. Well, if you are, don't worry, because you can amend your mistake by doing the right thing this time around.

Perhaps a little bit of information about this proposed high school would persuade you to vote in favor of it. To put it simply, it will be one of the finest in the area. The academic, athletic and theatrical facilities will be second to none. I don't know about you, but I think that people tend to perform better under nice conditions; at least I do, and I want the best for my future. Of course there is an added bonus, namely the current high school, which will have a lot of time on its hands once it is replaced.

Here is an idea, let's turn that dog into a middle school, and let all the eighth graders feel big-time. Then we won't have to worry about Clarkston Middle School, and the roof, which tends to collapse. How's that for two in one?

Well, I think you know where I'm coming from, but be reminded that I am also speaking for our children's children's children. Of course, by then we'll be bucking for another new high school. But for now, the only future we have to worry about is the children's, and we know what to do about that.

dren of our community with the opportunity to look into the past and provide a foundation for looking into the future," Genshaw said.

Dwight Spiker

Recently retired from General Motors, "I think he's putting in 80-90 hours a week on behalf of the students of Clarkston," Cooley said in announcing this award. Under Spiker's leadership, the athletic boosters initiated scholar/athlete awards this year at Clarkston High School. Spiker was also instrumental in building the "team" building at the CHS athletic field so athletes would have somewhere to rest during intermissions.

"Every Saturday we have an event at Clarkston High School, Dwight is there," Cooley said. "Dwight is a person in our community who helps get things done. I cannot think of a more deserving person."

In receiving his award, Spiker made his remarks brief and to the point. "You're only as good as the group you've got working with you," he said.

Bill Wint

Wint was nominated for last year's bright, sunny addition onto his family's funeral home on M-15.

"I don't know if you've ever tried to operate a business without a front door," he said in accepting his award. "I did for three months... and the public never complained. And for that I am grateful."

Wint acknowledged that his business is an emotional one and said he has good and bad days. "Every one you bury is a severe loss for somebody," he said. He credited his wife with helping keep him on an even keel. And he credited the community where he has lived since 1961.

"Whenever you look around, you have the same 80-100 people in this community who care."

CHS students share faith at school

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

While debate has swirled about the proper way to express religious beliefs in public settings, a club called LIFE—Living in Faith Eternally—has quietly been completing its second year of fellowship at Clarkston High School.

There's been no controversy, no shouting; just a group of students, with the blessing of the school administration, offering an opportunity to students who want it.

Co-founder Matthew Leonard said, "For a long time I wanted to do this and I tried to find several different sponsors." He and co-founder Tricia Knight (who no longer attends CHS) eventually found Bernie Wright, a social studies teacher and former missionary. Once he agreed to be their sponsor (a sponsor is required for all clubs by school policy) they were off and running.

As a school club, they've been afforded all the privileges of other clubs, including having announcements read over the PA and hanging posters to advertise activities. "They (administration) have been pretty cooperative," Matthew said.

CHS principal Brent Cooley said his concern is to make sure the separation of church and state is maintained. "We are a secular institution first and foremost," he said. "But separation of church and state is not an impenetrable wall... I've been impressed by the sincerity of these kids... They focus on things that bring us together, not take us apart."

Before forming the club, Matthew knew a few people who would want to join. By the end of a month of meetings, they were bringing in 45-55 people. They're now averaging around 30.

Now nearing the end of its second year, LIFE gathered about 90 students at this year's "See You at the Pole" event, which encourages students to meet at the school flag pole for a public prayer session. On this year's National Day of Prayer, about 50 students participated, Matthew said.

"It was just incredible; people I'd never seen before," he said.

Though already active in a church, Victory

Tabernacle in Goodrich, Matthew said he still felt there was a need for some kind of religious sharing at CHS.

"There's so much non-positive stuff that goes on at school," he said. "There was no Christian foundation. I can't put it into words. I just needed a place to go to talk to people who shared a like faith."

Matthew said that of the students who have become LIFE members, about 50 percent are active members of a church. "It's definitely a mix," he said.

Meetings (usually once a week after school) include music and food, as well as either a guest speaker, sharing on a particular topic, inspirational readings or a special event. A monthly calendar has been prepared by member Christyn Oostdyk, and there is a prayer link exchange of phone numbers, so if a member has a problem he or she can talk to another member.

"I think there's a lot of kids today that have religious faith," said sponsor Wright. "They express it in their churches and religious groups. But I think they were happy to express it (at school)."

Matthew plans to attend Oakland University in the fall, then go to Bible college in Oklahoma with an eye toward becoming a youth minister. Though he's graduating, he feels the club is on a firm foundation for the future. Already, leadership roles have been filled for next year.

"What I find exciting is the majority of people who come are underclassmen. So I'm excited it's going to continue to thrive."

Despite his quiet, respectful demeanor, Matthew hasn't shied away from controversy. He's pressed principal Brent Cooley for prayer at graduation, and even though he hasn't persuaded Cooley, he sees progress in small steps.

"A few years ago we couldn't have had a Bible club," he noted. "When we started out it was something new that had never been done before... We actually have permission now that we will have a photo in the yearbook."

Club members will be more visible in future with their own T-shirts, designed by club members Jim Oakley and Phil Brewer. As a leader in the group, Matthew was always the front man, but said he never felt any hostility.

"They respected us," he said. "I've never experienced outright opposition. It's got to be God. It had nothing to do with us... Myself, I feel this is what I'm supposed to do."

addition to purchasing the portable classrooms, which were not in the budget.

Trustees Janet Thomas and Kurt Karlstrom recommended the board hold a public hearing on the redistricting plan so affected families would be aware of the potential for change.

The board agreed to have public discussion on the redistricting at its June 12 meeting. Board action is expected to come at a later date, possibly June 26.

"I don't think any of us like to buy these portables," trustee Sheila Hughes said. "We'd like to put the money into bricks and mortar. Hopefully the public is going to understand that when it comes to June 12 (the bond election for a new high school) to give us the wherewithal to build a new high school. Then we can get out of the business of buying portables."

Water protection plan begins in township

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

George Anderson doesn't want to wait for any state mandates.

Instead, the Independence Township Department of Public Works Director has received board of trustees approval to interview firms that can help develop a wellhead protection plan. Anderson believes such a plan, which identifies the township's underground water sources, will eventually be mandated by the state or federal government.

And even if it's not, he said it's important the township preserve water sources before it's too late. "This is forever because it will give us information well into the future."

The township board agreed and a subcommittee of Anderson, treasurer John Lutz, clerk Joan McCrary and supervisor Dale Stuart was formed to interview firms for the task.

"We're going to bid by invitation only and the subcommittee interviews will be open to the public," Anderson said.

Anderson said he expects the project to cost about $112,000, which is a savings of about 50 percent if the state were to require the same program. Helping save on those costs is the fact the township recently adopted a water and sewer master plan which restricts sewer line extensions to the south end of the township.

Because of the line restrictions, wellhead identification would only be required in the south half of the township.

The cost is already budgeted for in the 1995 DPW budget and some of the basic information like depth of wells has already been gathered by the DPW, Anderson said. The program will outline the general parameters of aquifers (underground sources of water) and the surface area of the watershed which contributes to the recharge of the aquifer.

"We'll gather the information we need from our own staff and from the Clinton River Watershed Council," Anderson said.

The township has 11 well houses (the buildings where the well machinery is housed) with a total of 16 wellheads.

Once the project is started he expects it to take about six months.

Anderson said the wellhead protection plan may not be difficult to complete but its implementation could be tough.

"This study is really only fact based," he said. "But when we turn it over to the planning commission it has the potential to restrict zoning and development."

The idea is to protect valuable groundwater sources from high-hazard zoning. Independence will be one of a few municipalities in the state to have such a study. Others include the villages of Oxford and Milford.

Two join Clarkston News staff

Some new faces have joined the staff at The Clarkston News.

Carol Kerney has joined the advertising staff as a sales representative. An eight-year Independence Township resident, she has two children in Clarkston schools, one at the high school, the other at Sashabaw Middle School.

Kerney spent five years in the classified department at the Oakland Press and had other selling experience before joining The Clarkston News. She will call on non-automotive accounts in the area.

A Sterling Heights native, she said she moved to Clarkston "to find a better environment and a nicer community. I love the Clarkston area. I think it's beautiful," she said.

"Carol truly cares about the Clarkston community and understands the role of The Clarkston News as the community newspaper," said advertising director Timothy Speed. "As a member of our advertising staff, Carol is sure to delight our area businesses with her experience, professionalism and positive ideas."

In addition, Angela Smith has joined the editorial staff as a summer photography intern.

Smith just completed her freshman year at the University of Michigan, where she plays clarinet in the university band. She was a top 10 graduate of Clark-

Fire station bidding next month

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Final plans are almost complete and a bid for a new Independence Township fire/police station will be decided upon June 20.

The township board of trustees voted unanimously May 16 to go out for bids on the proposed 19,000-square-foot fire station building that will include a new 3,500-square-foot Oakland County Sheriff's substation. The township will accept bids until June 15 and the board will award a bid at its regular meeting June 20.

The new station will be located on Citation Drive, near the burned down district court house.

The station's construction received board approval in November of last year, by a narrow 4-3 margin. Board members voting in the minority said future financing was too shaky to approve an almost $2 million project.

Wilson said he hopes total costs will come in around $1.8 million, not including a cost of about $307,000 for the land purchase. The fire department already has $425,000 to put towards the costs from past budgets, and expects about $200,000 more to be used as a down payment from his 1995 budget.

He said the $425,000 would probably pay for the land purchase and interior furnishings. For the remainder of the balance the township plans on entering into an "installment purchase," for a 10-year period, said Wilson. The fire department has budgeted about $200,000 for the yearly payment while the police fund will pay about $50,000.

Since the board's November approval, minor interior details have held up the project. "We're designing stuff so we can work with the equipment we have," said Wilson. "It makes no sense to build a room unless we have the right things in it."

"But after working on this thing for over five years, I just want to get it going."

Wilson said a new station has been too long in coming to the township, especially since plans were ready to go for a station about three years ago. At that time Wilson said fire station #1, located behind Morgan's Marathon Gas Station in the City of Clarkston, was sold because it was believed a new one would be built. The purchasers gave the fire department a one year free lease in order to get new station plans in order.

But for the last two years the fire department has leased the building for $2,000 a month.

"What I've done is just gone ahead and made a payment for the last few years, thinking that eventually we'd get a station," said Wilson.

"With the lease, I guess I look at it as you have to pay to be someplace. So it's not all bad we've been paying a lease all this time. On the other side we wouldn't have had to spend all that money if we'd gone with the first plans."

If all goes well, construction could be completed in May of 1996.

The new station will include many features not included in the township's current stations.

The new building will include the following: four fire engine bays; a 32x40 training room; living quarters and kitchen; administrative offices including chief's office; electrical and mechanical room; breathing apparatus room; equipment washing room; EMS equipment room, etc.

Wilson said current facilities are not as well organized and don't have the space or room to keep the various equipment separated.

"It's just going to make a whale of a difference to be able to operate and it will be an asset to the community."

The fire department will move out of the current #1 station after the new #1 station is built.

The current OCSD substation, located next to the Secretary of State's office off M-15, costs the township about $40,000 a year and about $300,000 is left to pay on that building.

Other board action:

● The board approved various 1995 budget adjustments in revenues and expenditures. According to township finance director Kerry Donahoe, the township's finances are within the already approved budget but some amendments are needed.

Expenses increased because of 1995 non-union wage increases and the board's recent approval of hiring an investment manager as part of a new investment policy.

The investment manager's cost is $18,000 and will come out of the treasurer's budget, according to Donahoe. The manager and investment policy were created because of a $5 million decrease in value of five investments. The township is currently in arbitration against the brokers and brokerage company who sold them the securities.

Donahoe also recommends the township open a separate account for drain expenditures because the township has been involved in such expenses before.

General fund appropriation increases include: Supervisor's office, $1,000; assessing office, $1,900; clerk's office, $4,165; Data processing, $1,225; building department, $3,150; recreation, $1,358; parks, $2,258; senior center, $675; and, drains $40,000.

A total of $425,000 was also transferred from the fire department's fund balance to new fire station/sheriff's station construction costs.

● The cluster housing development option is being utilized by Hilltop Estates development.

The 42-lot development, located on Michigamme Street, west of Walters Lake, received preliminary plat approval. The next step is to come up with construction drawings and then ask the township board for final plat approval.

The cluster housing option can be used in single-family and two-family residential zonings and, in summary, is designed to allow developers a creative approach to development, allow more desirable use of land through preservation of natural features, encourage open space provisions for the residents, and restrict encroachment on natural features.

A minimum of 20 percent of cluster site areas must be designated and preserved as open space

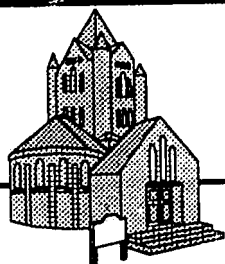

"Developers using cluster options is a wise effort," said trustee Daniel Travis. "This helps create and use open space in the best way possible."

● Putts for Kids received permission for a 50/50 raffle in conjunction with a golf outing fundraiser at Spring Lake Country Club July 15. The non-profit organization will donate proceeds of the event to various county organizations that assist families with children who need items not covered by government assistance.

● Pine Knob Bluffs, a 49-lot subdivision located north of Waldon Road, on Pine Knob Road, had a small area of its property rezoned.

Due to an error in the township's zoning map, township planner Richard Carlisle said a small south portion of the irregularly shaped boundaries had to be rezoned from R-1R to R-2. The entire subdivision was supposed to be R-2 when it was built.

Carlisle said no one is directly responsible for the zoning error and he is not sure when it was made. "We are following up looking at that area and trying to get all the zoning boundaries consistent."

Between now and the June 12 election, HUG will answer questions about the upcoming school millage election. If you have a question you'd like to see answered, call The Clarkston News.

QUESTION: Is this high school bond issue really necessary?

ANSWER: Without the success of this bond issue, the school district will still be forced to address problems related to overcrowding and inadequate facilities. Building conditions at the middle school would increasingly restrict instruction at levels competitive with other districts. At the high school, several scenarios might be considered. Class sizes could increase, with possible elimination of smaller enrollment classes like Advanced Placement. Additional portables (trailer-like classrooms) may be added, purchased with operating funds. Half-day sessions are a possibility, as are large "holding pen" study halls for students who can't fit in classrooms. These alternatives run counter to demands on education to provide more class time and improve student performance.

QUESTION: Will we have to raise taxes after the new high school is built to operate it?

ANSWER: No — this isn't allowed by law under the current school financing system. Clarkston's schools receive a set amount of money per student from the state which can't be increased through local taxes. The projected increase in student enrollment at the high school will adequately cover any additional operating costs for the school and all its facilities. The board of education has also begun setting aside funds to ensure that the needed operating money will be available when the building opens. There will be no increase in taxes to run the new high school.

Prepared by the HUG (Help Us Grow) Committee - Kurt Shanks, chairman. Readers with questions or who want to help with the campaign can call the HUG Hotline at 975-6479.

In Focus, from 6A

It reminds me of the Reagan years. Back then, Reagan took the "Happy Days are Here Again" Republican theme song literally. I guess he was happy, so he figured everyone should be.

Nowadays, Newt and his partisans apparently figure there's no need for home heating credits, so off they go. Wetlands? Who needs them? They have been officially redefined.

Trouble is, all of this is so short-sighted. It's just another example of billing future generations for our prosperity today. Will anyone look back in future years and remember on whose watch the destruction of the environment became politically correct? Or under whose care impoverished children were cut off from hot meals and even home heating, under the rallying cry of "less government?" I wonder.

FITZ, from 7A

actually wasn't as terrible as it appeared to a passing stranger in a public park. Maybe the girl didn't live in the same home as the jerk, and I didn't have to worry about how he treated her in private.

When Adam asked what was wrong with the girl, I said she'd be OK, but there was plenty wrong with the man who mistreated her.

And I'm still wondering if there is something wrong with me.

Vets get job help

The Michigan Employment Security Commission and several veterans organizations will sponsor the Employ A Vet Expo at the Detroit Light Guard Armory May 25.

"These fairs are intended to help the men and women make the transition into the civilian labor force as the military goes through downsizing," said MESC director F. Robert Edwards.

The expo is free but open only to military veterans. About 100 employers are expected to attend to recruit for openings they expect to have in the next 90 days.

MESC still has space for additional employers. Call (810) 589-1600 or your local MESC office to reserve a space.

Hours for the event are 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m. The armory is located at 4400 E. Eight Mile Rd. Veterans should bring several copies of their resumes and dress appropriately, MESC said.

CHS bands wow 'em in St. Louis

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

One of the posters in Clifford Chapman's office says it all: "Music is my Life."

At least it seems to be when you examine the Clarkston High School Band's itinerary.

In the fall it's a full season of marching band. District, state and solo/ensemble festivals arrive during the winter semester. And an extensive concert season takes place all year.

"There's tons and tons of stuff," says CHS Band Director Chapman, shaking his head and smiling.

Actually Chapman conducts two groups: the Symphonic Band and the Symphonic Wind Ensemble, where students play music that has "a greater degree of difficulty." He has been CHS's instrumental music director for 10 years.

On the basis of their superior performance rating received at the district and state festivals this year, both groups received an invitation to participate in the Regional National Adjudicators Invitational. CHS band students attended the event in St. Louis May 5 and 6, combining business with pleasure.

"It was great," said Joel Sanford, a trombone player. "We visited the Gateway Arch and Six Flags — And we did really well. We got the best brass group out of the whole festival. We got second place in our division."

The event is sponsored by Dixie Classic Festivals, a professional education organization for instrumental music groups. The NAI provides an excellent opportunity for concert groups to sharpen their skills and receive recognition for their outstanding music programs by performing for composers and university directors. The qualification process includes the band's festival performance record and first division ratings at district and state levels, said Chapman.

Both CHS band groups received superior ratings at the NAI. Some of the comments from judges included "excellent musicianship" and "a very fine band!"

Chapman says his students have had "a standing invitation for the last four years." As a result of their fine performance at the Regional NAI, they are eligible to participate in the 1996 Grand NAI I in Chattanooga next year. A letter informing them was recently sent to CHS principal Brent Cooley from Joseph Simpkins, executive director of the Dixie Classic Festivals which sponsors the NAI.

A part of the letter reads: "The dedication demonstrated by Mr. Chapman is recognized and appreciated by everyone associated with the group. But beyond that, the remarkable conduct, attitude and attentiveness displayed by your students is the memory that I shall cherish. They displayed to me a professionalism and maturity which one expects only at the professional level."

Ask CHS band students what they attribute their "remarkable-ness" to and they'll tell you "Mr. Chapman."

"I'd say basically it's Mr. Chapman," said Sanford. "He's outstanding. He always pushes us to do our best — to practice at home and to rehearse as a group."

But ask Chapman and he'll tell you it's his kids — and others.

"They're good kids — great. And I think (it's) the parents of the kids too. This is a wonderful community for support. I think students here are fortunate. They have strong programs, from middle school on. In Clarkston, you'll find it's not just band. I think there's an emphasis on everything, athletics, vocal music, academics. It's not just the band, it's all of it."

Today the band is rehearsing music from "Miss Saigon." Though only half the band is present, the sound swells, full and rich.

Percussionist Ryan Bauer especially likes it because he gets to bang the big Chinese gong.

"That's my favorite thing to play," he admits.

Chapman apologizes for the small turnout, which he attributes to "prom time."

"Oh, you know. They have to get their hair done, their nails done, rent a tux ..." he says, as students titter.

Later he refers to his students with obvious affection.

"I always tell them they clean up real good."

The cure for the summertime blues

Clarkston Foundation to offer summer academy

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Most kids can't wait for that last bell that signals the end of the school year.

But after the novelty of vacation wears off and they mope about the house complaining, "I don't know what to do," most parents can't wait for that bell to ring.

If you're a bored kid or a frazzled parent, the Clarkston Foundation may have the answer for those summertime blues.

This year the Foundation has provided summer daytime opportunities for youth by offering two two-week day camps for grades 3 to 11 within a Clarkston Foundation Summer Academy. Children who have completed grades 3 through 8 will be offered a Fine and Performing Arts Academy session from July 11-21. They will meet daily Tuesday through Friday from 8:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. and choose four areas from a list of six that includes skits and acts, middle school jazz band, vocal music, visual arts, dance and expressive movement and ceramics. The session will be coached by Clarkston teachers and college students. Children enrolled in the Academy pay $195 if their parents are Clarkston Foundation members and $210 for non-members if they register before the deadline of May 31.

"After May 31 it's open enrollment for anyone at $235," said Sherry Regiani, Clarkston Foundation secretary and director of the Fine and Performing Arts Academy.

The Clarkston Foundation's second summer offering is the Chrysler Technology Academy for Clarkston students who have completed grades 9 through 12. It's directed by Jim Evans, Clarkston Foundation president. The Chrysler Technology Center is underwriting the costs so no fees are required.

The goal of this two-week session, which will meet on the same days and hours as the Fine and

'Clarkston doesn't have a program for fine and performing arts and sciences for older children.'

Sherry Regiani

Performing Arts Academy, is to introduce students to various elements of technology associated with automotive manufacturing. Students will meet at Clarkston High School each morning and take a bus to the Chrysler Corporation Technology Center in Auburn Hills where they will be taught by Chrysler Tech instructors. For those who don't meet the registration deadline, final selection will be based on grade point average and leadership skills.

Regiani said the Foundation decided to offer the Academy because "it's just been an issue that's been brought up that Clarkston doesn't have a program for fine and performing arts and sciences for older children ... I'm really impressed what they (the Foundation) are doing."

"We want to give (students) the opportunity to explore those areas they are interested in or fine-tune them."

No experience is necessary, she added.

"It's just to provide kids with these interests with the avenue to do it."

Regiani also has a personal stake in the program. Her daughter Angie, a third-grader at Clarkston Elementary, took part last summer in a similar session offered by Oakland University.

"It's an all-day camp at OU," she said. Though noting it's worthiness, Regiani said many children are "beat" at the end of the day.

"It does get hot and sweaty in the afternoon and they want to go to the beach. By starting and getting out earlier, it still gives them a chance."

"But in the middle of the summer when they're bored, (the Academy will) give them something to do in their interest areas."

For more information, call (810) 625-7500. Class size is limited and divided according to age groups. All children who participate will receive Academy T-shirts.

City turns down asset settlement

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Although Independence Township approved an asset division with the City of the Village of Clarkston last week, the city isn't satisfied.

The long-running settlement, which was expected to be passed by Clarkston's City Council at its meeting Monday night, still has flaws, according to Councilman Bill Basinger.

"Although (the contracts) are generally in order, the asset agreement has errors in it," he said.

Basinger said the biggest problem, besides some minor disagreements, is the fact that figures were based on 1993's SEV (state equalized value) instead of 1992 figures.

"The SEV figures were a year too late," he said after the meeting. "The 1993 figure should have been based on 1992 SEV and 1993 on 1994 ... That is the figure taxes would have been levied on."

After scrutinizing the settlement, Basinger found figures were off and composed a new spreadsheet. He made corrections and sent them to City Manager Art Pappas but said "the figures weren't picked up" by the township.

Council discussed four areas that were still "in the gray" — fire and library services, safety paths along White Lake and Waldon roads, and Deer Lake Beach. Council members basically agreed with the township's assessment of fire and library services, but decided clarification was needed concerning the beach, which the township leases from the city, and both the Holcomb/Waldon and White Lake safety paths.

"When (the White Lake safety path) was first brought up, (formertownship supervisor) Tink (Frank) Ronk said it was an important link between the village and the township. The township said, 'We'll build it, you can pay us $5,000 a year for 10 years with no interest,'" Pappas said.

But Councilman Steve Arkwright said the safety path was not a part of the original settlement.

"The original agreement had nothing to do with the safety path. These contracts have changed a ton," he said.

Because of the discrepancies, Arkwright suggested that a joint meeting between the city and township be established. Two Clarkston City Council members will meet with representatives from the township to iron out difficulties. Council wants city attorney Tom Ryan and township attorney Gerald Fisher present.

Council unanimously passed a motion to establish a committee to meet with the township and bring back changes to council. Councilmen Basinger and Arkwright were appointed.

"Let's get this thing completed. This is crazy, this is ridiculous. This is almost three years," Arkwright said.

Basinger said he felt the remaining problems with the intergovernmental contracts within the asset settlement were not intentional. He chalked them up to "a misunderstanding" between the city and the township.

In other council action:

● Council passed a resolution 7-0 to send a request to the state legislature about school district crossing guards. Presently the city and school district each pay half. The city feels the expense should be incurred by the schools.

● A public hearing for the reallocation of 1991-92 Community Development Block Grants was attended by one resident. Balances from 1991 and 1992 were reported to be $1,870 and $1,735. The city will reallocate funds at its next council meeting June 12.

Besides discussion about designating funds for continued areas such as Youth Assistance and senior citizens, Councilman Steve Secatch suggested funds be used for a barrier-free rail for access to the Depot Park gazebo.

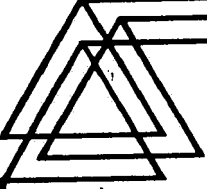

● Clarkston Downtown Business Association president Buck Kopietz reported that he talked to Dick Beaubien from Hubbell, Roth & Clark. Beaubien will send questions for the parking survey to Pappas. Kopietz is currently doing research about similar situations in other communities.

● The procedure for burn permits was discussed. Though a new fire prevention ordinance was recently adopted by the city, it does not allow Clarkston residents to burn leaves as the township's ordinance does. Pappas will check with Independence Township fire chief Gar Wilson.

● Council unanimously passed a motion to increase bond fees for building renovations from $50 to $100. Bond fees for new construction are $200.

● Council passed two motions 7-0 to establish new pay rates for DPW workers. The first action increased workers' salaries each time they move up a level; the second resolved to bump up the supervisor's salary to $9 per hour and $50 each pay period. The DPW supervisor's salary is currently $8.25 per hour.

● Council decided not to schedule leaf pickups in the fall. The pickups were done because "the big thing was to keep (leaves) out of the landfill and out of open burning," Pappas said.

Bridgewater nearing completion

Federal program helps working families

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Inexpensive yes, cheap no. With over 50 percent of Bridgewater Apartments complex almost complete, working families can begin hoping they become residents.

The apartments, located near Maybee and Sashabaw roads, are high-quality, but only residents meeting certain income qualifications can live there. Bridgewater is a 248-unit development that was built under the federal program call "low-income housing tax credit."

That means the apartment developer, C.E.D. Construction, receives a federal tax credit for helping make quality apartments available to low-income working people.

In order to qualify for residency in the apartments, which will rent for $470 for one bedroom, $560 for two bedrooms/two bathrooms and $650 for three bedrooms/three bathrooms, applicants must meet federally regulated income guidelines. Yearly incomes must not exceed $19,740 for one person, $22,560 for two people, $25,380 for three, $28,200 for four and $30,480 for five.

Tenants of Bridgewater do not receive any government subsidy or tax break.

The features are not those you'd expect to find in a reduced-price development. Bridgewater's complex includes electronic privacy gates, a deluxe clubhouse, swimming pool, fitness center, play areas, special programs for seniors and 24-hour on-site management.

The apartments include a patio or balcony, fully equipped kitchens with ice maker and dishwasher, discounted cable TV, blinds, etc.

Once residents move in, their incomes may increase without any ceiling or additional rent penalty.

C.E.D. has built more than 6,000 such apartment complexes throughout the country since 1987. Similar complexes are under construction locally in Wixom (Meadowood Park), Orion (Walden Lakes), Sterling Heights (Northview Park) and Van Buren (Green Meadows).

Free preschool vision screening offered by county

Ten thousand children with inadequate vision will enter Michigan schools next fall, according to the Oakland County Health Division. Will your kindergarten be one of them?

In order to try to head off the problem, the OCHD will offer free vision screening to all county residents entering kindergarten in the fall. Such a screening is required for school enrollment.

In Pontiac, the screenings will be offered June 19, 5-7 p.m., and June 20-22, 9-11 a.m. No appointments are taken; this is a walk-in service during the listed hours. For more information call 424-7070.

New at the Knob

Theatre begins its fifth season under Palace ownership

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

What do Hootie and the Blowfish, Johnny Cash and The Four Tops have in common?

Not much, maybe, in the way of style.

But they're all a part of Pine Knob Music Theatre's 1995 season.

And, as the popular outdoor venue launches into its summer concert series, it promises to offer patrons much more than entertainment. The 1995 season involves a $3.5 million, guest-oriented improvement project along with its 70-80 show repertoire.

Highlighting the new season are expanded restroom facilities, three 9' by 12' video screens for people on the grassy knoll, more concessions, parking and landscaping, additions to the Macchus-run restaurant, improved accommodations for tour vehicles and an elevated viewing area for physically challenged guests.

But that's not all. Patrons who arrive early and have to wait in hot, uncomfortable cars or stand in front of gates waiting to be opened will now have another option. The area known as "Arbor Park" or "Parents' Park" will give guests a little respite before showtime.

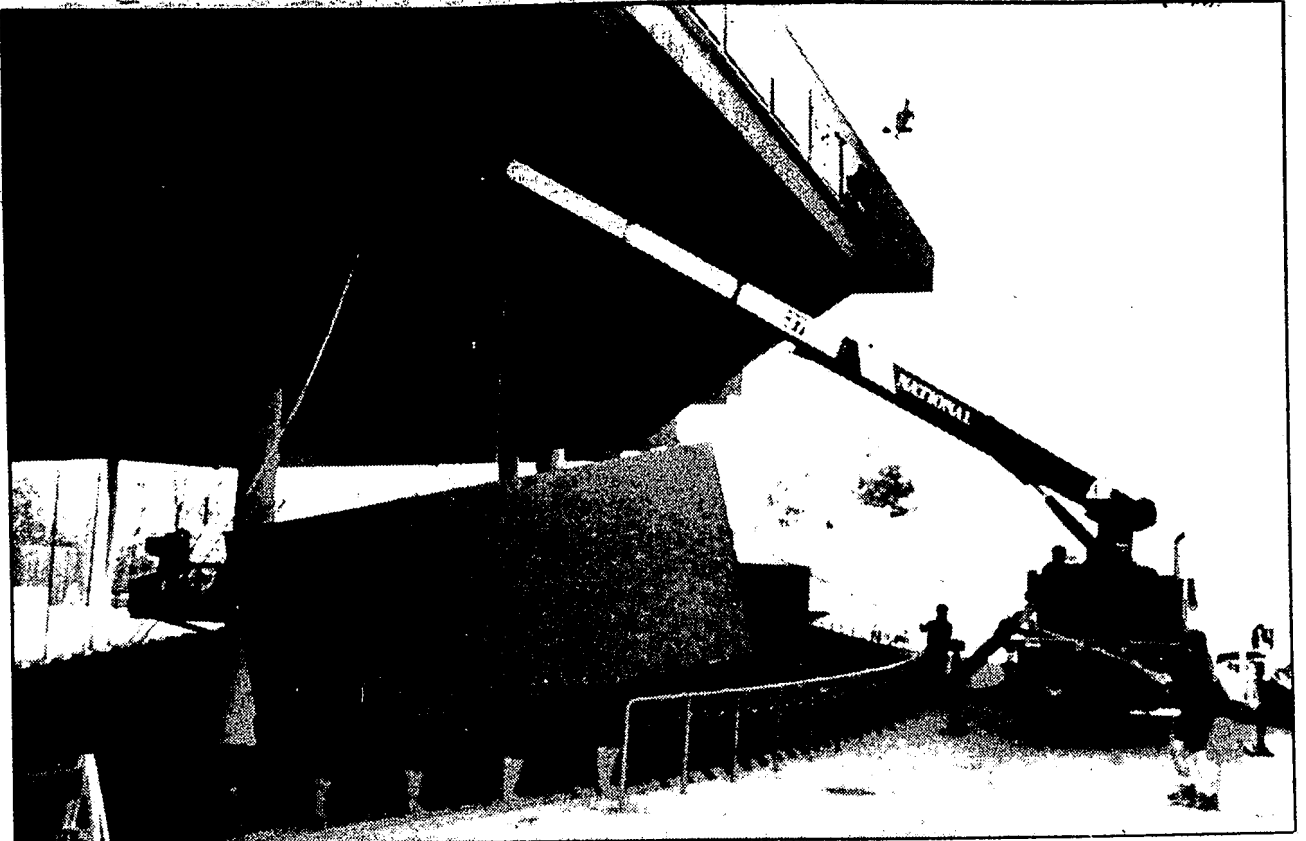

New walkways, upgraded picnic sites and a commons area will allow full concessions service to the area. Guests can begin their evening a little more refreshed as they have something cool to drink, munch on snacks and relax within the shady atmosphere that includes a new water feature.

"We really wanted to spend time on that as the focus before a show. People can hang out there before the gates open and enjoy food and drinks," says Jeff Corey, Palace publicity coordinator. He is especially proud of the new water feature.

"There are falls, a pool and bubbly water."

Corey also refers to the expanded concessions and restrooms at stage left, next to a winding bridge that offers patrons a scenic exit to the west parking lot. He said there has always been a great deal of congestion at stage right with its busier concessions area that attracts more patrons.

"They've really needed something over here for a long time. Now we can get people to come this way also — so it's not like a cattle stampede."

This is the fifth season the popular venue has been owned and managed by Palace Sports and Entertainment, who took it over in 1991. Last year Pine Knob Music Theatre saw 20 sellouts and more than 752,000 guests and was named the nation's busiest amphitheater by "Amusement Business" for the third straight year. "Performance" and "Pollstar" magazines have also given "The Knob" highest ratings during the past three years it has topped the nation in number of shows and total attendance.

Is it any wonder Pine Knob is a hard act to follow? Tom Wilson, president of Palace Sports and that will provide better viewing for those on the hill.

REAL ESTATE UPDATE

PRIVATE ZONING

PRIVATE ZONING LAWS known as restrictive covenants are designed to benefit property owners.

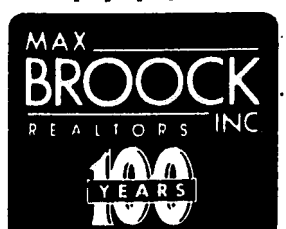

QUESTION: I am familiar with local municipal zoning laws. Is it true that there can also be other types of "zoning?"

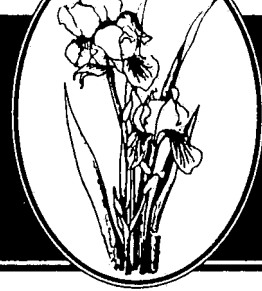

Ron Rodda
Sales Manager
Should I go into Real Estate?
"ASK RON"

ANSWER: Often, real estate developers write a document containing conditions called restrictive covenants. These restrictive covenants impose limitations on the use of all the property within the development, such as house size or fence limitations.

Generally, restrictive covenants are designed to benefit property owners, however, there may be a restrictive covenant preventing you from using the property as you would like. Check it out carefully.

On Monday, workmen prepare to dig into a huge pile of wooden trusses waiting at the site

New courthouse slated for fall

Ground has been broken for the new 52-2 District Court on the spot where it burned to the ground last year.

On Monday workmen were preparing to begin installing wooden trusses. A cement floor had been poured and a few metal beams were already in place.

Owner Richard Ayers said he expects the courthouse to be up and running by early fall. It will eventually be surrounded by two other new buildings, the Independence Township police/fire offices and an 8,000-square-foot office building.

Ayers said the new courthouse will be a one-story building of colonial design with dormers. The court will occupy all but 1,700 square feet of the 13,000 square-foot building. That's smaller than the previous building, and not all the former tenants will be able to return.

Those who will be returning include the Clarkston Chamber of Commerce and counselor Barry Breidenbaugh. One small suite was still available as of presstime but Ayers thought it would probably be spoken for soon.

"Virtually all of the building is rented," he said Friday.

The new building will have a brick exterior and will be connected to city water, which became available after the previous courthouse was constructed.

Ayers said he was excited to have the courthouse and the other two structures underway.

"After all these years to get three new buildings up there is unbelievable," he said.

Section B

Corner defense

Third baseman Tiffany Honey readies to throw out a Mott runner at first base during the varsity softball team's May 18 game. The Wolves split the doubleheader against Mott and struggled to win close games all last week. For the complete story, see page B4.

District battle

After falling out of division title contention, the Clarkston baseball team will focus on improving for districts.

The Wolves moved their record to 7-10 overall and 3-5 in the Oakland Activities Association Division I. They began this week with a doubleheader loss to Rochester May 22 by scores of 6-0 and 1-0.

Coach Roy Warner said those two losses were an example of what his team has struggled with all season. "We played 14 innings, didn't score any runs and had only four hits," he said.

While Warner said his pitching staff has been solid for the past several weeks, the offense needs to produce and the defense must stop making crucial errors.

He said this week will be important because his Wolves need to go into districts with a few wins.

CHS hosts the districts at Clintonwood Park. The Wolves play Lakeland in a pre-district matchup May 30 at 4 p.m. The winner of that game plays Milford on June 3.

"We just have to play each game to get better for next week," Warner said.

Eleven-year win streak intact for girls track

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A convincing win over division rival Lake Orion propelled the Clarkston girls track team to a solid regional finish last week.

The Wolves dominated Lake Orion May 16, 82-46, and then finished a strong sixth out of 17 teams at regionals May 20.

The victory over Lake Orion meant much more than a 5-0 dual meet record for the Wolves in the OAA Division II. It also kept the string of undefeated league or division dual meets alive at 11 straight years under Gordie Richardson.

Clarkston competed in the now-defunct GOAL for 10 years and never lost a dual meet. Now the Wolves end the first season of the OAA with a perfect record also.

Richardson said his team has worked hard from the first day of practice and it's that effort that has made them better each meet.

They were surely better against Lake Orion. Winners were Stephanie Bradford in the shot put (32-3, qualifying for county meet), Leah Scharl in the high jump (4-10) and 400 dash (61.5), Liz Murphy in the 110 hurdles, Stefanie Burklow in the 1600 run (5:35) and 800 run (2:27.9), Erica Holman in the 200 (27.8), the 3200 relay team of Liz Cook, Lisa Jennings, Lisa Herron and Jennifer Bauer (10:16.9), the 800 relay of Heather Brown, Holman, Renee Staley and Scharl (1:53.9), 400 relay of Kellie Christie, Bradford, Holman and Staley (54.3), and the 1600 relay team of Jennifer Bauer, Herron, Burklow and Scharl (4:17.4).

Richardson said most of his kids ran best times and gave strong efforts.

He said Murphy, a junior, was especially strong with a 16.8 in the 110 hurdles, her best time ever. "That was a pleasant surprise and she could have run even faster because she chopped her steps at the end," the coach said.

Others with strong efforts include Staley, a senior, and Holman, a freshman, with their best runs in the sprints.

The Wolves scored 33 points in the regional meet, behind first-place Brighton with 77 points. Pontiac Central was second with 61, Rochester Adams had 57, Northville 39, and South Lyon 35.

Clarkston qualified four girls for the June 3 state meet but many girls gave personal-best performances.

Scharl, a senior, qualified for states with a high jump of 5-1, good for fourth, and a second-place finish in the 400 dash in a time of 61.7. Burklow, a junior, ran a 2:23 800, good for fourth, to qualify.

But the most inspired performance came from the 3200 relay team of Burklow, Herron, Bauer and Scharl. They ran a blazing 9:39.2 for first place, thanks in large part to a gutsy final leg run from Scharl.

"Leah ran a 2:19 on that 800 and had to come from behind to beat the Adams runner by about one meter," Richardson said. "It was a great run."

Richardson said his 3200 team possibly has the best relay time in the state.

Other girls running strongly include:

- Senior Carrie Mead's 12:39 3200 run, her best time by almost 30 seconds.

- Holman's and Staley's efforts in the 200 dash where they both made it to the semi-finals. Staley also made it to the semis in the 100 dash.

- Cook's personal-best time of 5:31 in the 1600 run, which was good for sixth place.

- The 1600 relay team's personal-best time of 4:12.1, which includes Burklow, Scharl, Cook and Herron. They finished third.

- The 800 relay team of Holman, Gretchen Pitser, Staley and Christie ran their best time of the year with a 1:55.

Richardson said his team continues to get better and hopefully they can continue that heading into the division meet, where he expects a tough battle. In order to take first, the Wolves must finish ahead of Troy Athens.

The county meet is scheduled for May 26 at Bloomfield Hills Lahser.

Tennis finishes 8-4 overall Three wins, strong regional in final week

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

"It was about everything I expected in the first year and it really helped having the group of guys I did," said Clarkston boys tennis coach Kevin Ortwine about his first season as head coach.

With a young team (only three seniors) Ortwine had meager goals coming into the season, but the Wolves continued to impress him every week with their determination and hard work. It translated into an impressive 8-4 overall record and a third-place finish in the Oakland Activities Association Division II standings.

"Taking third in the division had to be the most gratifying part of the season," Ortwine said. "We didn't have any real big upsets but we had some big moments, like beating Athens on Rob's (Goeckel) final match," in the OAA tournament.

The Wolves continued to impress last week as they won three matches and played strong in a tough regional. On May 15 they beat non-division foe Lapeer East 6-1 and then went on to trounce division foes Lake Orion (May 16) and Waterford Kettering (May 17) by 7-0 scores.

While none of the Clarkston athletes were seeded in the May 19 regionals at Northville, Ortwine said they all gave great efforts, led by the #3 doubles team of juniors Zach Sanger and Dan Brazier.

That crew, which has been consistent all season, advanced to the semi-finals by beating the Milford #3 doubles team in the first round and upsetting Novi's team, seeded #4, in the second round in three tough sets. Sanger and Brazier lost in the semis to Northville's #2 seeded team.

Winning in the first round was #1 singles player Mike Aulger, a sophomore, #2 singles Mike Kopec, a junior, #3 singles Goeckel, a senior, and the #1 doubles team of freshman Jim Kyle and junior Paul Wolven.

Sophomore Kevin Kopec, #4 singles, drew the regional's #1 seed and lost in the first round.

Ortwine said Mike Kopec played strong during the day, beating the regional's #4 seed in the first round in three sets, then losing in three sets in the second round. He was up 5-1 in the third set before his opponent came back and won.

Against Lapeer East, Lake Orion and Waterford Kettering, Aulger, Kevin and Mike Kopec, Goeckel, Kyle and Wolven and Sanger and Brazier all won three times. Sophomores Charles Claus and Kyle Stout won two times.

With the season over, Ortwine said he told his team to work hard on getting better during the off season. The Wolves will lose three seniors but only Goeckel played on a consistent basis.

"We'll miss Rob but he's the only regular we're losing. We should be better next season if the guys play. In order to get a step on these other teams we need to improve."

Mike Kopec winds up to nail this service return against a Waterford Kettering opponent May 17. The junior won his match.

Boys lose tough meet

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It doesn't get any harder than losing a possible title by four points.

And that's just what happened to the Clarkston boys track team May 16 in a showdown with Lake Orion. The Wolves and Dragons were tied at 3-1 going into the Oakland Activities Association Division II dual meet. Despite a solid effort Clarkston lost 66-62, meaning they needed a winning performance in the division meet May 23 to tie for a title.

"Our guys gave us a heck of a meet," said coach Walt Wyniemko. "I'm so proud of them for what they did against Orion and for the effort they've given all season long."

That loss wasn't the best way to head into the May 20 regional meet at Milford, but Clarkston's J.R. Kirk and Jason Graves still qualified for the state meet June 3.

The team finished ninth with 30 points out of 17 teams led by the scoring of Kirk and Graves. The regional winner was Milford with 64, followed by Pontiac Central with 62, Pontiac Northern with 54, Rochester Adams with 48 and Waterford Mott with 47.

Against the Dragons, Clarkston received strong performances from several athletes. Winners were: Kirk in the high jump (6-2), long jump (21-11) and 110 high hurdles, Jason Graves in the 400 (50.6) and 200 (22.7), the 3200 relay team of Jeff Dengate, Matt Warner, Josh Holst and Matt Wenger, the 800 relay team of Dan Slavin, Rich Bevins, Shane Collier and Graves, and the 1600 relay team of Bevins, Holst, Wenger and J.D. Zuchelkowski.

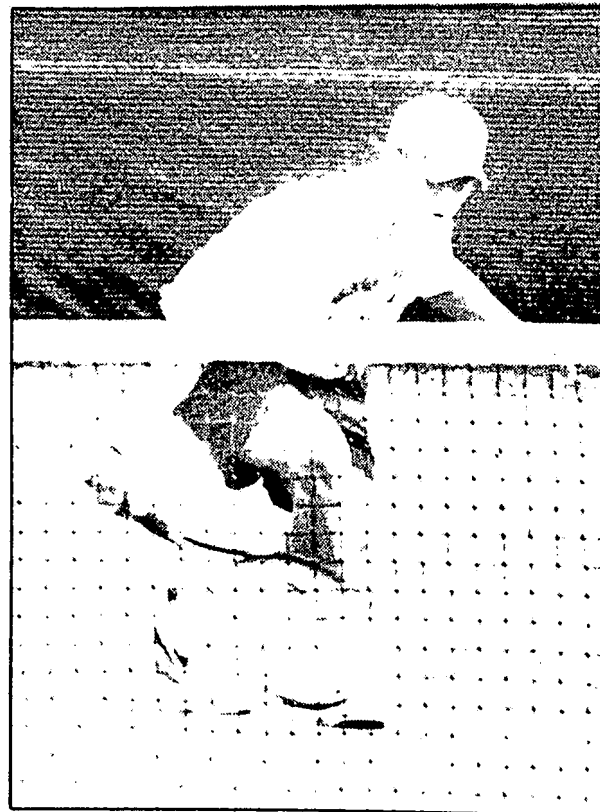

"I always tell the kids if you give it your best shot, then what else can you do? We knew Lake Orion would be tough and we gave it a good shot," the coach said.

Although only Kirk and Graves qualified for the state meet, Wyniemko said Wenger ran a strong 800 run in 2:04, good for seventh place.

Kirk qualified for the states by winning the high jump with a jump of 6-3, and finishing second in the long jump (21-9). He also took third in the 110 high hurdles but didn't qualify for states in that event.

Graves also qualified in the long jump, taking fourth, but just missed qualifying in the 400, finishing fifth.

After the division meet the Wolves will compete in the county meet May 26 at Bloomfield Hills Lahser.

Mike Aulger, a sophomore, goes low to return this shot against his Waterford Kettering opponent May 17.

Rochester too much for CHS

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A difficult Clarkston girls soccer season ended with a 7-0 loss to Rochester May 22 in the first round of districts.

According to coach Dan Fitzgerald, his squad was just overmatched against Rochester, rated #7 in the state. "We did OK but Rochester was really on a roll coming into the districts," the coach said.

While the back row of seniors Kelly Raup and Audrey Schlaff played well, the team couldn't generate any offense and couldn't stop Rochester's scoring.

Fitzgerald said of all the teams in the districts, Rochester was the toughest. "It would have been nice to draw Holly or Waterford Mott because we could have beat them."

The soccer team's final week began May 16 with a 2-0 loss to Lake Orion. They lost by the same score to Waterford Kettering May 18.

Clarkston was in the Orion game most of the way and was down only 1-0 going into the game's final minutes.

Against Kettering, the Wolves gave up a few early goals and couldn't come back. "They got a penalty kick early and except for that it was a pretty even game," the coach said. "But we struggled to score again and have trouble coming back when teams get up early on us."

With a 1-13 season over, Fitzgerald said he encouraged all his players to work hard during the summer.

"We have to keep playing in the off season," he said. "In order to compete we have to get the kids to work all summer on their skills."

The team soccer banquet is scheduled for May 30.

Track star bound for SVSU

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

He never figured it would happen, but Clarkston senior J.R. Kirk is now headed to Saginaw Valley State University on a partial track scholarship.

"I never really thought I would go to college on a track scholarship," he said, before signing a National Letter of Intent to attend SVSU. "I figured maybe as a walk-on, but this is great."

Kirk shouldn't be too surprised, especially after the setting CHS' all-time long jump mark of 22-11 earlier this season, which is also tops in the county. In addition, he is one of the best high jumpers (best of 6-4) in the county and routinely wins the 110 high hurdles and 300 low hurdles.

Since the beginning of the season, Kirk said quite a few colleges and universities have expressed interest, including several others in the state and a few in Ohio. But what attracted Kirk to SVSU was the fact they have an incredible indoor physical education facility and a good academic program.

While Kirk said he isn't sure what his major will be, he knows he can help the Cardinals' track team right away next season. "They have a good high jumper already but I can jump farther than the long jumper they have now."

Despite his accomplishments so far, Kirk knows he must get better to prepare for college. "I know I need to get faster and lift weights to get stronger. There are a lot of technical things I need to improve on too."

While at SVSU Kirk will also try and walk-on to the football team as a kicker. While he didn't play for the Clarkston football team last fall, he can kick field goals with distance.

Part of that kicking prowess might come from his successful four-year soccer career at CHS. Kirk, at 6-5, is an all-around athlete who is Clarkston's all-time leader in soccer scoring. He also played varsity basketball for the Wolves this past winter.

Bad innings lead to loses

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

In nine games last week, the Clarkston softball team lost five thanks to one bad inning.

It's been a trend for the Wolves this season and a 10-22 overall record is proof. Last week Clarkston went 2-7 and coach Al Land said his players just have to start believing in themselves, because they have the talent and ability.

"In this sport I've found that one week you can look like we can't beat anyone and the next you beat everyone," Land said. "Lately it seems like even if we play a good game we have one bad inning where we falter. Our leads are just never big enough."

Five of those games last week were lost in the final inning. Land said despite the team's record his players are talented and still work "extremely hard."

"They do give great efforts and we have the ability to make some outstanding plays. I'm pretty proud of how they are sticking with it and not giving up."

Clarkston's inconsistent play was evident in the doubleheader split with Troy May 22. In the first game the Wolves were ahead until the final inning where Troy came back and won 5-4. The Wolves exploded on offense in the second game and won 22-9.

"I'm finding out that we're giving up an average of six to eight runs a game, so we really have to score to win now," Land said.

Junior catcher Amanda Jenkinson dominated Troy with two homers, including one that Land described as the longest he's ever seen. Junior center fielder Stephanie Giroux and junior outfielder Nicki Hard also played exceptionally and clubbed one homer each.

Senior Kristen Peterson was strong in both games and had five hits total.

In the first game of the week, Clarkston lost 4-3 to Orion on May 17, once again in the final inning. CHS was ahead 3-1 going into the seventh but couldn't hold on.

Senior Kiley Maltrott, left, takes a short lead from third base during her team's first game of a doubleheader against Mott.

The Wolves split a another doubleheader, this time against Waterford Mott, losing 5-4 in extra innings in the first game, and winning 6-3 in the second.

A trip to the Bay City Tournament wasn't much fun for the Wolves as they lost all four games they played in. Two of the losses were in extra innings.

On the whole, however, Land said the team played well. "We kept the scores low enough but just didn't hit well, and we played some real tough teams."

Land said his players know they can perform better but it's just a matter of doing it. He hopes they can get some wins this week in order to head into the districts on a roll.

The Wolves start districts with a May 30 matchup vs. Lakeland at 4 p.m. Districts are being held at Clarkston's home field at Clintonwood Park.

By Michael Romeln

Freshman Softball

The freshman softball team won one and lost their first game of the year last week.

On May 17, the Wolves defeated Holly in extra innings, 22-21. Natasha Curtis, Danielle Facione, Carmen Lund, Angie Thompson, Stacy Tegler and Courtney Krull all doubled for the Wolves, and Krull added a triple. Sam Hardenberg and Amber Mitchell pitched for the Wolves.

On May 18, Clarkston lost to Waterford Mott, 7-6. Thompson doubled for Clarkston, but the bats were quiet for the Wolves.

Freshman Baseball

The freshman baseball team raised its record to 5-5 last week with two victories.

On May 17, the Wolves defeated Holly 2-1. Matt MacInnis pitched the complete game and had 12 strikeouts, while not giving up any walks. In addition, he only allowed three hits.

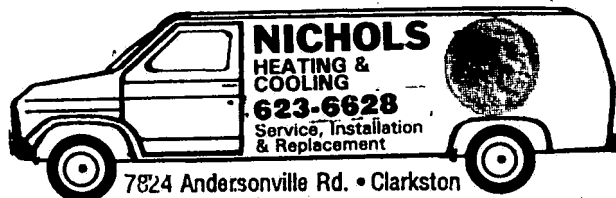

MacInnis also helped himself with a 1-for-2 day at the plate, and scored a run. Phil Johnston, Jason Coryell, Mike Little and Brian Herzog all had hits, and Nick Giroux came through with a double, scoring the game-winning run.

"We played a very good defensive game also," said head coach Rod Hool.

On Thursday, Clarkston defeated Waterford Mott 11-1. Jared Thomas was the winning pitcher, pitching the whole game while striking out nine and only allowing two hits. Dan Caputo and Josh Clark both went 2-for-2 at the plate, and everyone contributed. Most of the lineup had at least one hit.

Coryell had two stolen bases in the game to help the Wolves. For the season, he leads Clarkston in hitting with a .600 average.

On May 15, the Wolves beat Birmingham Groves 9-3. The Wolves scored three runs in the first inning, and never relinquished the lead. Dennis Busch pitched the complete game and picked up the win. He allowed only four hits and struck out eight. Most importantly, he allowed no runs in the last four innings.

Chad Bailey went 2-for-2 in the game with three RBI, and Jason Frack went 2-for-3 with a triple, a two-run homer and three RBI. Jason Ramsey was 1-for-2, and Travis Pegg, Mike Gray and Jason Ostrom were all 1-for-3.

On May 17, Clarkston lost to Royal Oak Kimball 3-1. Marc Teague pitched the whole game, allowing only two hits and one earned run.

On Friday, the Wolves beat Troy Athens 4-0. Pegg pitched a complete game shutout, allowing four hits and striking out nine. Although he walked six, he got the big out when he needed it.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE

RESOLUTION AMENDING WATER DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM AND

SANITARY SEWER SYSTEM MASTER PLAN

RECITATIONS:

At its meeting of April 18, 1995, the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence adopted a Water Distribution System and Sanitary Sewer System Master Plan, in the form revised February 1995.

Upon such adoption, the Township Board expressly anticipated that an amendment would be prepared and adopted, providing standards for determining whether to modify the district boundary line contained on the Master Water Main and Sanitary Sewer Plan ("the Plan").

The Township Board now adopts this Resolution for the purpose of providing such standards.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE TOWNSHIP BOARD OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE RESOLVES to amend the Water Distribution System and Sanitary Sewer System Master Plan, in the form adopted by the Board on April 18, 1995, by adding a new Part VI, reading as follows:

VI. STANDARDS FOR DETERMINING WHETHER TO MODIFY DISTRICT BOUNDARY LINE ON MASTER WATER MAIN AND SANITARY SEWER PLAN.

A. In General

1. When a request is made to modify the district boundary line on the Master Water Main and Sanitary Sewer Plan, as set forth in Part V, and as such Plan may be amended in the future, the Township Board shall initially determine whether to consider a review of the request within the context of the limited area which would be directly impacted by the modification, or to consider the request within the context of a broader area which may include a region of the Township, or the Township as a whole.

2. The person or entity requesting the district boundary line modification shall be responsible for all costs and expenses of the Township's review. However, if the Township determines to undertake the review on a Township-wide basis, the Township may determine to require the person or entity requesting the modification to be responsible for only a part of the costs and expenses of the review. Payment shall be made by escrowing in advance with the Township Treasurer the amount estimated by the Township to be required for the review. If the actual costs and expenses are greater than the estimate, additional escrow shall be required, and if the actual costs and expenses are less than the estimate, all excess amounts shall be returned to the person or entity posting the escrow.

B. Standards and Criteria

Upon review of a request to modify the district boundary lines on the Master Water Main and Sanitary Sewer Plan, and with the advice of Township consultants deemed appropriate within the reasonable discretion of the Township Board, the Township Board shall consider the following standards and criteria in determining whether to adopt a resolution modifying the district boundary line:

1. The Township Board recognizes that a change in the boundary lines of the Master Water Main and Sanitary Sewer Plan would effectively alter or critically impact land use planning in the Township. Consequently, as a matter of policy, it is the objective of the Township Board that the boundaries of the Plan shall remain consistent with, and shall promote the objectives contained in, the Township Comprehensive Master Plan adopted by the Independence Township Planning Commission. As a matter of further policy, it is the objective of the Township Board that the Plan shall remain consistent and harmonious with existing land uses, and with land uses authorized in the Township Zoning Ordinance, as amended.

2. Any proposed modification of the boundaries of the Plan shall be evaluated in terms of environmental impact. The interests served by the proposed Plan modification shall be weighed against any anticipated environmental degradation, and the Plan modification shall not be approved unless the result of such weighing process reflects that the Plan modification would be in the clear public interest.

3. The Township Board shall review the assumptions made and considered, and the circumstances in existence, at the time the Plan was adopted on April 18, 1995, and at the time of any relevant amendment of the Plan. A modification of the Plan shall require a demonstration by the person or entity making the request that an assumption relied upon was erroneous and/or that an important and relevant circumstance has changed.

4. It is now recognized as a matter of policy, financial capability and land use planning that sewer service shall not in the foreseeable future be provided to the entire Township. Accordingly, modification, if any, made to the Plan should defer to areas determined to be of relatively higher priority, considering the types and intensities of land use, the concentrations of population, the nature of soils and water tables in relation to the ability to support on-site sanitary sewage disposal systems, and the long-range planning which has been done in the Township.

5. It is the policy of the Township Board to favor sanitary sewer disposal service which may be accomplished by natural gravity flow, and to avoid the need for the pumping of sanitary sewage. Accordingly, a modification in the Plan which would require the pumping of sanitary sewage shall not be permitted unless a clear demonstration is made that the failure to modify the Plan would result in a very serious adverse health consequence.

6. It is the policy of the Township Board that a modification of the Plan shall not be permitted unless a change in land use intensity permitted by expanded sewer and/or water service shall be physically and financially accommodated by the ability to provide services and facilities by the Township and other public entities concurrent with the onset of expected demand for such services and facilities, including, without limitation, police service, fire service, emergency medical service, school facilities, park facilities, transportation infrastructure, utility service and the like.

7. A proposed modification shall not negatively impact upon the ability to provide for, and continue the provision of, sewer, water and all other services and facilities to other areas within the Township which are within the Plan boundaries.

8. A proposed modification shall not have the effect of altering the character of any area of the Township as such area exists at the time of the request, unless said alteration is contemplated in the Master Plan, and the timing for such alteration is determined to be appropriate.

C. Procedure

1. The Township Board shall initially determine whether to consider the requested Plan modification within the context of the limited area which would be directly impacted by the requested modification, or consider the requested Plan modification within the context of a broader area, as contemplated under paragraph A.1., above.

2. It is expected that property owners, governmental entities and others shall utilize the Water Distribution System and Sanitary Sewer System Master Plan in the formulation of plans and construction of projects. Therefore, after completing an initial analysis, but prior to making a determination on the requested Plan modification, the Township Board shall conduct a public hearing on whether the proposed Plan modification should be made. Notice of the public hearing shall be given in the same manner as a public hearing required for the adoption of the Township's comprehensive master plan by the Township Planning Commission. In addition, school districts and utilities shall be given notice by regular mail.

3. Following the public hearing, and any further review determined to be necessary or appropriate by the Township Board, including further review by Township consultants, the Township Board shall determine whether the district boundary line of the Master Water Main and Sanitary Sewer Plan should be modified, and shall make findings consistent with the Standards set forth above.

FURTHER RESOLVED that, in all respects other than as set forth above, the Water Distribution System and Sanitary Sewer System Master Plan, as adopted by the Township Board on April 18, 1995, shall remain in full force and effect.

Ayes: Lutz, McCrary, McGee, Mercado, Stuart, Travis, Vaara.

Nays: None.
Abstentions: None.
Absent: None.

CERTIFICATION

IT IS CERTIFIED that the foregoing Resolution was duly adopted by the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence at a meeting duly called and held on the 16th day of May, 1995.

We are SIDING and GUTTER Specialists

We are not a Jack-of-all-trades. We can not guarantee you the absolute lowest price, as we will not sacrifice the quality products or workmanship that you deserve. But what we will guarantee is an honest and fair price with products and workmanship of the highest quality. We also do our own work. We don't get your job and sub-contract it out, or sell it. So if you are only looking for the cheapest way out, call someone else who claims they can beat any price. If you are looking for an honest and fair price, quality products and workmanship, dependability, and someone that will still be here after your job is completed, give us a call. Helping you make your home the one you've always dreamed of is what we do.

WATER DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM

AND SANITARY SEWER SYSTEM

MASTER PLAN

REVISED FEBRUARY, 1995

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE

OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN

I. Scope of Study

The Charter Township of Independence continues to face ongoing development pressure consistent with the current growth pattern being experienced in this region, particularly in Oakland County. One of the key elements in controlling growth is the availability of public infrastructure.

The purpose of this study is to examine the existing water distribution and sanitary sewer systems for expansion potential factoring in relevant information such as current system capacities, anticipated growth, topographic data and zoning patterns. This study endeavors to demonstrate consistency with the community goals and planning objectives as outlined in the Township Master Land Use Plan, as amended.

The district lines, as indicated on the Master Water Main and Sanitary Sewer Plan included in the Appendix, have not been established on a parcel by parcel basis. Serviceability of properties outside the district lines will be determined by the Township Planning Commission and/or Township Board as site plans for new development are submitted to the Township for consideration or special assessment districts are created to serve already developed land. The Master Plan is intended to be used as a planning tool for both the Township administration and general public by identifying the ultimate service areas for both public water distribution and sanitary sewer systems.

II. Water Distribution System

The Independence Township public water distribution system has undergone significant expansion in recent history. The Township currently owns, operates and maintains twelve (12) active well sites. Recent system improvements include construction of several miles of transmission mains along Dixie Highway, M-15, Maybee Road, Sashabaw Road, Clarkston Road, Flemings Lake Road, Walters Road and White Lake Road. Also connected to the system is a recently constructed 0.5 million gallon elevated water tower located at White Lake Road and Dixie Highway. In addition, a 0.5 million gallon ground storage reservoir has been constructed at the D.P.W. Yard and is in service. The interconnection of a number of well sites with these recent system improvements provides a more reliable public water system for many customers in the central and southern portion of the Township. Currently in the planning stages is the Morgan Lake PRD which would involve construction of a water main along Maybee Road from the Sashabaw Elementary School, and installation of a well in the new development. In conjunction with these system improvements, controls have been installed at the Township D.P.W. to monitor system pressures.

The only existing well systems not to be integrated into the overall Township distribution system include the Deerwood area, Hillview Estates and Pine Knob. These systems are in higher pressure districts and cannot be controlled off the two water storage reservoirs. Further study may be warranted at a future date regarding a connection from the Pine Knob well site to Waldon Road when a main becomes available at that location. Such a connection would provide a back-up source of water to the Pine Knob area. However, due to the different pressure zones, an in-line booster station is likely required. The cost effectiveness of such a scenario would have to be explored. The appropriateness of constructing a feeder main along Perry Lake Road to the Deerwood area was examined. However, due to the different pressure zones involved, facilities such as an in-line booster station or pressure reducing/sustaining valves would be required. There are two (2) active well sites serving the Deerwood area thereby providing more system flexibility and as a result, making such a connection unnecessary. A sub-district line has been identified on the Master Plan to separate the Deerwood area from the balance of the Township service area. Due to the distance involved from the overall distribution system and different pressure zones, it is not recommended that Hillview Estates be interconnected to the Township central system, but rather remain as a separate subdistrict.

The Master Plan provides for service to most of the more densely populated areas within the Township. The Plan does, therefore, appear consistent with the existing Township Zoning Map and Master Land Use Plan. The only significant areas of exception based on higher density zoning (i.e. R-1A) would be the Thendara Park, Sunny Beach, and Whipple Lake areas in addition to the aforementioned Hillview Estates. However, these areas are either at or separated by higher topography preventing them from being part of the overall system. Based on historical and anticipated growth patterns within the Township, it is not anticipated, at least in the foreseeable future, that there will be any demonstrated need to interconnect well sites creating a municipal distribution system in the northern part of the Township.

III. Sanitary Sewer System

The boundaries delineated on the Master Plan for the ultimate sanitary sewer service area are the same as for the water distribution system. The controlling factor in establishing the limits of the sewer service area, as in the case with the water system, is topography. Independence Township is a member community in the Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System. Township sewer customers are served via a network of lateral and collector sewers with sewage pumping stations at various locations within the system. This network of local sewers connects at several locations in the Clinton-Oakland Interceptor. The Independence Township 1971 Clinton-Oakland Engineering Report prepared by Johnson & Anderson, Inc., subdivided the Township into thirteen (13) sewer districts. The boundaries of these subdistricts were determined based on topography. Also evaluated in this report were existing and projected populations at various control points throughout the subdistricts.

The Township sanitary sewer system has expanded over the years in accordance with design criteria contained in the referenced engineering study. It is important to note that at the time of the study, rather liberal population projections were utilized for undeveloped areas of Oakland County. In particular, the ultimate population projection for Independence Township, per the 1971 study, was 106,934. Of this total, 82,563 people were to be served by the 1971 Clinton-Oakland Interceptor System. These numbers contrast rather significantly from the 1990 SEMCOG Regional Development Forecast of 31,380 for Independence Township (reference Master Land Use Plan) for the year 2010. Although the Township may not experience ultimate buildout by the year 2010, it seems highly unlikely that the Township will realize the level of growth projected in the 1971 study.

Therefore, although the Clinton-Oakland Interceptor has adequate capacity to provide sewer service to all areas of the Township, anticipated growth patterns do not warrant a master planned sewer service area being defined on those terms. The district line as identified on the Master Plan factors in zoning in the northern portion of the Township which consists of vast areas of recreational zoned property, wetlands and large lot residential zoning categories. There is invariably less of a demonstrated need for extending public sewers to large lot residential areas than in more densely populated areas. Residents will tend to replace failed septic system tile fields given adequate land area to do so, rather than invest in public sewers.

The only existing public sanitary sewer system north of the delineated district line on the Master Plan is in the area of Heather Lake. This area, in contrast to all other sewered areas in the Township, outlets to another community, Orion Township, before entering the Clinton-Oakland Interceptor System. Although, topographically, it may be possible to serve localized areas by adding on to the Heather Lake sewers, the potential for expansion is limited by the capacity of the existing system. Due to the R-1A zoning, the Thendara Park area would at first glance appear to be a viable candidate for public sewers. However, it should be noted that there are severe topographical variations in this area which would make sewer construction a difficult and, therefore, costly proposition. With the use of sewage pumping stations, sewer districts can be expanded where they couldn't by development of a conventional gravity system. However, due to the relative high costs of such installations, the cost effectiveness of expanding sewer systems with the utilization of pumping stations must be considered.

IV. Summary

The existing public water and sanitary sewer systems have adequate capacities to serve Township customer needs. In the case of water supply, although geological conditions vary widely throughout the Township, there is, in general, a good groundwater aquifer providing adequate yields for community wells scattered at various locations throughout the Township. Accordingly, it is anticipated that the public water system can be expanded within the Master Plan district lines as customer demands increase due to the overall availability of adequate groundwater supplies. Likewise, the existing sanitary sewer system has adequate capacity to accommodate growth within the Township. Topography dictates where currently unsewered areas would have to outlet to so as to become part of the overall system. Taking into account cost and maintenance considerations, it is desirable to develop an overall sanitary sewer system which minimizes the use of sewage pumping stations. The Master Plan appears to be consistent with that objective.

The district lines depicted on the Master Plan were arrived at by considering such factors as population growth, zoning and topography. Should future growth patterns change in the northern part of the Township thereby increasing the demands for public services, the Township Administration may deem it appropriate to alter the overall service areas through adoption of Master Plan amendments as conditions so dictate.

Joan E. McCrary
Township Clerk
