Townships sign transportation agreement

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The bus stops here ... and now in Springfield Township as well.

Independence and Springfield townships have entered into a first-of-its-kind transportation contract that will allow seniors and handicapped persons access to both communities.

The six-month contract will not cost Independence Township more money, but will allow all of Springfield's seniors and handicapped persons transportation services that were previously limited.

"This is going to enhance what we already offer," said Ann Conklin, Independence Township Parks and Recreation Director, who headed up negotiations. "We will have more drivers and vans now ... Before, if our residents wanted to go to Springfield, we couldn't. We don't want to make a ton of money off this but we will be recouping our expenses."

The contract will cost Springfield $12,000 over the six-month time period, with an option to renew after that. It was approved by the Independence board of trustees May 7.

In addition, any "donations" by Springfield residents (a $1 donation is requested) will be credited to Springfield at the end of the term, or as credit against any extensions of the service.

The contract states that Independence will be the title holder of all vehicles, will maintain records and reports and will have complete authority regarding scheduling, service level, procedures, rules and other matters.

Payments from Springfield may come from Community Development Block Grant funds.

Qualified riders can go anywhere in Springfield or Independence. To qualify you must be a senior age 55 or older or have a disability.

In addition, the following locations will be serviced regularly:

- K-mart — Wednesday, with varied times.
- Prescription Fitness — Tuesdays and Thursdays have 11 a.m. pick up and 1 p.m. return.
- Hart Community Center — Mondays and Thursdays; pick up and return times vary depending on need.
- Meijer's and Summit Place Mall — Mondays, with pick up at 10:15, drop off at Meijer at 10:45 and a Summit drop off at 11 a.m.; returns include a 2:45 p.m. pick up at Summit, a 3 p.m. pick up at Meijer and a 3:15 p.m. drop off.
- North Oakland Medical Center, Pontiac Osteopathic and Pontiac St. Joseph's — Mondays and Fridays pick up is about 8 a.m. and return is about 2:30 p.m.
- Lunch regulars — Monday through Friday with 10-11 a.m. pickups and 1-2 p.m. returns.

To make pick-up arrangements, call 24 hours in advance at 625-8231.

Plans for local history museum are announced

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

It's a dream that has been years in the making: to have a local history museum in Clarkston, about Clarkston. And thanks to some commitment of money and dedication, it just may be coming true.

Last week the Clarkston Community Historical Society and the Clarkston Rotary Club announced they have joined forces to bring a local history museum to Clarkston. The Rotary has committed $6,000 to the effort, and the Historical Society has received a $10,000 grant from the Chrysler Corporation Fund. Both organizations have pledged further financial support for the project.

Former Historical Society president Kim Huttenlocher said the new group, which is looking for a name on its way to tax-exempt status, has a location in mind but isn't ready to announce it yet. She said she plans to write letters of introduction to city and township governments this week looking for support—both financial and moral.

No cost has as yet been established for the project.

"A lot of it depends on the building," Huttenlocher said. "If we can find a location that doesn't need a lot of retrofitting, it will be a lot less expensive."

Huttenlocher said it was by chance that she learned about the Chrysler grants. She received an unsolicited mailing from Chrysler but, never having written a grant before, she didn't expect to receive it. She turned to Mollie Lynch, Independence Township Library Director, for help in filing the application.

As Huttenlocher tells it, the Rotary Club approached the Historical Society with the idea of a joint venture in 1993. Each president of Rotary must, during his tenure, choose a community project to work on. Then-president Lu Hewko felt it was time to work on a museum and contacted Huttenlocher, who was then president of the Historical Society.

A steering committee for the venture has been formed and someday a paid director may be hired to lead the project. Planning is still in its infancy, Huttenlocher stressed.

"At this point we're looking at consultants to help us learn how to even get a museum started," she said. "This is going to be a long-term project."

As for what the museum will look like, that will depend somewhat on the structure that houses it. If it's located in an old home, it could be arranged like a home. However, the construction of a new museum will not mean the end of the Heritage Room, currently operated by the Historical Society at the library.

"All research materials will remain in the Heritage Room to make sure people still have a place to research. The library is the proper place for that," Huttenlocher said.

However, the Heritage Room, located off the lobby of the library, doesn't provide enough space for

The news in brief

Parade Monday

Memorial Day will be marked the way it was meant to be this weekend, thanks to the American Legion.

On Sunday, post members will place flags on the graves of veterans at Lakeview Cemetery. Then on Monday, a parade will depart at 10 a.m. from the corner of Church and Buffalo streets in downtown Clarkston, go north on Main to Washington, west to Holcomb, and onto Lakeview Cemetery. There a memorial service will be held. The Clarkston High School band will perform.

Campbell Richmond Post 63 Commander Mel Hodgins requests that no horses or decorated bikes enter the parade due to the solemnity of the day. The ceremonies will end at the cemetery with a memorial wreath, rifle volley, taps and benediction.

For more information call John Lynch at 625-3994 or the post at 625-9912.

Special school board meeting set

The Clarkston schools board of education will meet in a special session on Tuesday, May 28 to try to put the finishing touches on a bond proposal.

At its meeting May 13, the board heard from architects from Greiner, Inc. about the costs of additions and renovations at the elementary and middle schools. The board must formulate a ballot proposal by mid-June if it hopes to get a bond election this fall.

The meeting begins at 7 p.m. at the school administration office.

School board candidates debate

Thanks to the Clarkston PTA District Council, the six candidates for two seats on the board of education will debate on Wednesday, May 29 at 7 p.m. at the school administration building.

Incumbent Barry Bomier and challengers Peter Bertling, Richard Crigger, Karen Foyteck, Mary Ellen McLean and Robert Wyatt have all been invited to participate. Questions will be taken from the audience.

The PTA District Council has also prepared a voters guide on the election, which is available now. For more information call 620-3787.

City council meeting changed

Due to the observance of Memorial Day Monday, May 27, the regular Clarkston City Council meeting scheduled for that date will be held Tuesday, May 28. Council meetings are held the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 7 p.m. in City Hall, 375 Depot Rd. in Clarkston.

Plant exchange set

The Clarkston Farm and Garden Club will hold its annual free plant exchange on Saturday, June 8 in the city parking lot at Main and Washington streets in downtown Clarkston.

According to Jan Glass of the club, the sale is a little late this year due to the spring weather. Hours are 10 a.m.-noon.

Dear Dr. Shader,

In today's society of consumers experiencing poor product quality and service on a regular basis in every industry, it has been a refreshing experience to come across a doctor who truly cares not only about the quality of his work, but personally invests in each and every patient.

You and your staff are an exceptional group of professionals. When I came to your office upon Bob Posch's recommendation after one year of failed attempts at bridgework, I must admit that my expectations were not set that high. Based on prior experience and dental work, having any teeth that could pass for front teeth would be acceptable.

I must admit that you and your staff have given me new faith in dentistry! I was not only treated respectfully and as a professional, but you were all sensitive to the pain concerns that I had. The new bridgework looks great, and feels like my own teeth. So you have exceeded all of my expectations!

I cannot tell you how I appreciate all that has been accomplished for me. I do know that I will continue to utilize all of your services in the future!

Sincerely,
Christine Leoneth

The best game in town

By Darrel W. Cole

Candidates, roll up your sleeves and get readdddy tooooo rummmmmblille!

OK, we really don't want them to fight, but there will most likely be some grappling. As of the May 14 candidate filing deadline, 18 candidates filed for seven available seats.

Nine people filed for four trustee openings, five filed for treasurer, two for clerk and two for supervisor. If you're a Republican voter it's OK to vote straight GOP (Grand Old Party) because THERE ARE NO DEMOCRATS running.

Now that means the few (are there any?) Dems in the area looked at past elections and saw that the last time a Democrat ran for office was in 1984. Then again, they may have noticed the elephant corrals scattered around the community.

So to get a handle on this Democratic extinction I talked with Fred Ritter, the last Dem to win. He said what most are saying: The influx of new people to Independence and this county's strong GOP voting record ended most opposition beginning in the Reaganmania '80s.

But Ritter is way beyond politics now, saying he's neither Democrat nor Republican, just a car washing-Clarkstonite.

"Here's a quote for you," Ritter told me, with the usual twist of sarcasm in his voice. "I'd rather walk into traffic than be involved in local politics."

● And how about school board trustee Sheila Hughes taking on incumbent Joan McCrary, thought by most to be the surest incumbent shoo-in.

Hughes' name is known in the community, but McCrary is a people person who always comes off pleasant and very—I hope this is politically correct—ladylike.

However, insiders say our incumbent clerk is by no means as pure as most might think (then again, who is). Many people have told me she knows how to play the political game as well as anyone. And while it's true she hasn't been challenged in her past two elections, you don't serve seven years in office by not being good at playing the game.

● In case you're wondering, this is a record for Republican candidates in a primary. The 18 candidates are the most in the township's history, topping the previous mark of 15 set in the 1978 primary.

Back then there were some familiar GOP candidates, including: supervisor, Carolyn Place, now a current planning commissioner (she later lost to Dem Floyd Tower in the general election); clerk, George Anderson, now our DPW director (he later lost to Dem Christopher Rose in the general); treasurer, Norma Lussier, Michael Applegate and George Trapp II; and trustees, Dale Stuart, our current supervisor (he never made it out of the primary), Carol Balzarini, Rudy Lozano (yes that Rudy Lozano), William Vandermark, Michael Thayer, Harry Yoh (the former township constable) and four others.

In the 1992 election only the supervisor's seat was challenged. In 1988 the only challenge came when six candidates ran for trustee.

So what does this year's rush to run mean? Most likely, it means candidates see these incumbents as vulnerable. It remains to be seen how voters view them.

● As a side note, we'll be running "The best game in town" every week through the primary. Any comments or tips, call me at 625-3370.

Roarin' good time

It was scripted right out of the Roaring '20s — molls, mobsters, flappers and Keystone Cops. A classic Rolls Royce even transported guests up to the countryside mansion of Lou and Patience Beer.

In other words, the May 18 "Roaring '20s Party," a bash and membership drive to raise money for the Clarkston Foundation, was definitely a hit. Foundation president Jim Evans said around $5,000 was raised during the evening which included champagne, refreshments, jazz by the Willie George band — and some unexpected entertainment.

At one point a guest careened down the stairway "with a case of booze on his shoulder" during a mock Prohibition race and others won prizes from "Lucky Duck" and shark races in the outdoor Jacuzzi.

Some enjoyed stepping back a few decades in character.

"I don't wanna stick dis tommy gun in her neck, know what I mean?" said Chuck "Mugsy" Fortinberry about a radiant Sherry Regiani dressed in a bright red, flapper-fringed ensemble. "She might hit me where it hoits."

Said Regiani, explaining her costume was daughter Angie's Halloween outfit, "She agreed to let me borrow the boa if I would save the dress for her for when she gets older."

Chuck "Mugsy" Fortinberry and his moll Sherry Regiani pose amidst the Clarkston Foundation's mock bank vault.

Patience and Lou Beer hosted the fundraiser.

Like others, Jan Rabette and Larry Aagesen came costumed.

Revised lighting rules focus on safety

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

If you're a person who doesn't appreciate the glare of nearby lights, you may be receiving help from an ordinance amendment.

A new Independence Township amendment to the zoning ordinance targets lighting that may cause a nuisance or safety hazard to vehicles driving by, pedestrians and neighbors. The ordinance addresses preventing problems of light reflection and glare on parking areas, walkways, driveways, building entryways, off-street parking, and building complexes.

Township planner Richard Carlisle of Carlisle/Wortman Associates, said this amendment "more clearly impacts light near property ... and addresses safety issues."

The township board of trustees approved the first reading of the amendment at its May 7 meeting. Final adoption of the amendment was expected at the board's May 21 meeting.

The amendment does not apply to public street lighting, but township clerk Joan McCrary did ask Carlisle if it could at some point be expanded to include street lighting in subdivisions.

Carlisle said, "This doesn't do that but it could be a first step to require street lights."

Specifically, the ordinance allows the planning commission to review the lighting of a plan or for expanded or new construction. Board member Daniel Travis, also a planning commissioner, said too often businesses or building complexes use lighting "to create a sign for the whole building."

The amendment would ensure such lighting is "essential" and not just for show, Travis said.

The following additional standards will apply to exterior lighting and glare:

- Only non-glare lighting can be permitted.

Lighting must be shielded so it won't shine on adjoining property, and won't cause glare for motorists.

- There is a minimum light intensity required.
- Lighting fixtures cannot exceed 25 feet in height. However, in portions of a site adjacent to residential areas, lights must not exceed 18 feet in height, and must be located to minimize interference with residential users.

- All lighting shall be shown on site plans to allow determination of effects of such lighting upon adjacent properties, and traffic safety. Building-or roof-mounted lighting intended to attract attention to the building and/or use and not designed for security purposes will not be permitted.

Temporary holiday lighting and decorations are exempt from the provision.

- Glare from any process (such as arc welding) which emits harmful ultraviolet rays must be performed so it can't be seen beyond the property line, to avoid creating a public nuisance and safety issue.

- The design or screening of a development must ensure that automobile and commercial vehicle headlights will not be directed into adjacent property, including residential property.

Township denies Reese Rd. project

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It's only one development, proposing five new homes. But to the residents near Reese Road, it's one development too many.

Developers of the 10-acre parcel, which is proposed for five homes on 1 1/2 acre sites, wanted to rezone the property from rural residential to suburban farm residential. But the board, with dozens of residents in the audience supporting them, voted unanimously to deny the petition.

"The people are right in saying this would be a total change from the area," said trustee Daniel Travis, also a planning commission member who was against the rezoning at that level. "This should stay as it is."

Reese Investment Group, the developers of the property which is located on the east side of Reese and north of Holcomb Road, said their proposal does fit in.

"We believe the surrounding zoning conforms for our development and the master plan allows this," said representative Cliff Seiber.

But residents of the area say this proposal does not fit into the area's character.

"Most of these homes here are on two acres or larger," said Richard Marshall. "This is a pristine area and people have worked hard to keep it the way it is. This development will exploit everyone else around it."

Reese resident Mark Jones said, "I was one of the people that went to the planning commission to object to this. We want to do the most we can to preserve this rural area and we ask you do whatever you can to constrain development."

Clerk Joan McCrary said the current master plan may allow this proposed development, but a new master plan is almost complete, and it won't.

"I just can't see this," she said. "It will all change and I cannot support this."

Board members were supportive of resident concerns, but did say the developers would, under current zoning, be allowed to build three homes and a new road to access the properties.

Police chief wants to step up enforcement

Last in a series about downtown parking

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Though she's an out-of-towner, Shellee Souligney, a representative for a reference laboratory, passes through Clarkston often.

As she was browsing in Calcote Country on Main St. last week, she complained, "I go through this town twice a month on business. This is the first time in six months I've been able to find a parking spot. I've never seen a town with a worse parking problem."

She noted Clarkston's unique retail shops and historic charm. "People ought to realize what you've done here," she said.

Clarkston Police Chief Paul Ormiston wants to enforce parking limits in the city — vigorously. He will soon ask city council for permission to do so.

In fact, he's already begun. After giving a limo driver a warning for parking over a two-hour limit, Ormiston evidently meant business. When the driver disregarded it and parked there again, he got a ticket.

Ormiston plans to return to the old way of doing things, like marking tires with chalk. But he'll also present some new, smaller laws within a parking violations bureau ordinance package he plans to present to city council — "the sooner the better," he says.

The proposal includes the following:

- A graduated violations system where the first four violations accrue $10 to $50 fines (the top fee is for parking in a handicapped spot). The fifth violation, or any violations thereafter within a year, gets a $100 fine.

- Moving a vehicle from spot to spot within a posted time limit (such as two-hour parking in the Main-Washington lot) gets a fine.

- Removing chalk marks from tires (denoting time parked over a posted limit), accrues fines of $10 per violation.

- Permit parking for business employees along the back of the city lot at Main and Washington streets. Ormiston expects to use a lottery system to select those people.

- Permit parking on all city streets for residents who can show hardship, such as not having a driveway — enforced from Dec. 15 to March 15 from 2 a.m. to 6 a.m.

In addition to the ordinance, Ormiston hopes to mark additional handicapped parking spots and develop two loading zones, even though council wasn't exactly warm about that last idea several weeks ago. He'd also like to add some angle parking on Church St.

After review by the city attorney, the proposal may be presented at the May 28 council meeting. At the same meeting, downtown business representatives are expected to participate in a brainstorming session about parking.

Ormiston, who became the city's police chief over a year ago, said he waited awhile before tackling parking enforcement.

He heard complaints and attended workshops where parking was an issue. He also met with the Clarkston Downtown Business Association, as re-grounded in his mission.

"I've gotten information on communities that are bringing back their downtowns. And there are hundreds across the U.S. that realize downtowns are important and that retail stores are the central part of the downtown. After conversations with people in the city, there are a lot of people who agree with me."

Kopietz, like councilman Dave Savage, believes that the city should have a master plan — with a future vision for the parking needs that will accompany escalating growth.

"We need to do a parking study along with a master plan," he said. "There are decisions made that could be considered arbitrary and could have legal problems."

"I think everybody is in mutual agreement that the parking problem is actually a parking management problem."

Police chief Paul Ormiston cently as last week, where he heard heated discussion on parking.

"I think everybody is in mutual agreement that the parking problem is actually a parking management problem," he said.

Robert Eshhaki, co-owner of Rudy's, attended that meeting and agrees

Eshhaki said the problem is "a matter of enforcement. It's the people in the businesses who park in the street." He believes customers belong in those spots. "A lot of the business people who park there don't realize it has an effect on our businesses."

Eshhaki said he thinks there's too much ballyhoo about a parking study proposed by the CDDBA not being completed.

"My customers come in here and tell me I have a problem — no matter what any study or engineering study says. Perception is reality," he said.

Former CDDBA president Buck Kopietz (who resigned from that position last week) said he has attended workshops on downtown development — one with Ormiston, in fact — and is now even more

Learning from the candidates

Sitting through 12 hours of interviews with the candidates for school superintendent was a grueling experience. However, by the time it was over, I thought I had some idea what the board of education was looking for in its next superintendent, and what each of the candidates had to offer.

Since completing the interviews, the board has narrowed the field to two men, who were scheduled to be in town again this week for a second round of questioning, as well as interaction with residents and the staff. I thought I'd use this space today to tell you a little about each man, as revealed in the interviews.

Albert Roberts, superintendent of the Orange City Schools in Pepper Pike, Ohio, had some innovative ideas about collaboration, not just among staff but with the outside community.

He said he has implemented a community garden in his district, in which senior citizens and fourth-graders work together to grow vegetables and then donate them to agencies that serve the needy. He's also set up a Clergy Council which, working in cooperation with the schools' theater department, presents programs on diversity at elementary schools, followed by discussion groups.

Roberts also said he spends at least one day a week in a school building and occasionally even substitutes for a teacher. He meets monthly with his teachers association, and said he's had no grievances filed in his six years there.

Roberts said he instituted a program called "Mac for the teacher" in which he promised every teacher a computer if they would agree to 20 hours of training. The deal was struck so the computers would not turn into "very expensive paperweights," in his words. Eighty-five percent of his teachers have accepted, and they are allowed to take their computers home over the summer.

Richard Lane, superintendent of Hillsdale schools, likewise exhibited strong collaboration skills. He said he wrote a grant for $100,000 which is being used to bring "intervention specialists" from the Family Independence Agency (formerly DSS) into the schools to help at-risk students who don't qualify for other programs. A student problem-solving team worked in partnership with Hillsdale's largest employer and won a state championship.

When it comes to test scores, Lane said his district does an item-by-item analysis of MEAP test results. They figure if 70 percent of the students aren't mastering a particular area, it's the district's fault, not the kids'. "Eighty to 90 percent of our problems are system problems; only 10 percent are people problems," he said.

Lane spends one full day every two weeks in a school building doing "whatever teachers want." He settled his last teacher contract in one day. "If we have a problem that's not being resolved, then we're not maximizing our potential as a district," he said.

Both candidates said they use teamwork in everything they do, from teacher evaluations to district and building committees, involving parents and staff in decision making. Though no one's said so, this is probably at least part of the reason these two made it to the top of the heap.

Letters to the editor

Vote for McLean

There are many positive changes happening in Clarkston. I hope one of these changes will be the addition of Mary Ellen McLean to the school board.

Mary Ellen is a working parent of children currently going through the Clarkston school system. She has been active in their school as a volunteer and as a result, has made many opportunities available to her children as well as the children of others.

Ms. McLean has been active in the PTA at Pine Knob and has been able to demonstrate her willingness to help when and where she is needed, as well as lead projects with diplomacy and grace. Mary Ellen has proven her ability to be both tenacious as well as methodical in researching problems and facilitating solutions; she has shown her abilities to organize compromises between her peers or stand alone on an idea if necessary.

I believe it is this sort of spirit that will help the school board deal with the tremendous growth we are experiencing as a community. The challenge of educating our children for the next century will be addressed on 6/10/96. Please vote for Mary Ellen McLean.

Sincerely,
Diane St. Peter

Vote for Bertling

Dear Editor:

Isn't it time to have a voice from the student body serving on the Clarkston School Board? With all the publicity given to drugs and crime so rampant among the youth of today, how refreshing it is to find a young man who represents good! I refer to my "chosen grandson," Peter Bertling, whom I have known since birth, and his family for more than 30 years.

Peter is a leader among his peers: class president, Eagle Scout, honor student and frequent volunteer for local civic projects. Well qualified indeed for representation on the Clarkston School Board.

He is one of my many blessings, and his late "grandfather," Ted, would, I'm sure, also proudly endorse Peter Bertling.

Sincerely,
Barbara Thomson

Vote for McNally

Dear Editor:

I moved to Clarkston in 1928, that is 68 years ago. I guess that qualifies me as an old-timer. I was employed by the Clarkston Bank for 42 years. I spent the last 25 of my 42 years as president of the Clarkston State Bank. I have seen Clarkston and northwest Oakland County grow from a sleepy hamlet located in the pastoral countryside to one of the fastest-growing and most desirable areas in the state and maybe even the country.

I have observed Judge McNally protect and serve Clarkston and northwest Oakland County for the past 27 years. I have observed Judge McNally continue to protect and serve Clarkston and northwest Oakland

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Erma Bombeck, a weekly beginning

Erma Bombeck is best remembered as a writer of humor. Her first columns were written for a weekly newspaper in the Dayton, Ohio area.

That weekly connection is probably part of the reason we have been reading her offerings for so long. She took things from everyday life . . . family, eating habits, untidy children's rooms, husband faults, etc, put them into words and made readers and listeners relate and laugh.

She did serious, family-stuff, too. So we don't forget her too soon (she died just a few weeks ago) here's one she did I can relate to particularly because we have three children.

She titled it "Here's Why I Love Each Child Best."

TO THE FIRST BORN

I've always loved you best because you were our first miracle. You were the genesis of a marriage, the fulfillment of young love, the promise of our infinity.

You sustained us through the hamburger years. The first apartment furnished in early poverty . . . our first mode of transportation (1955 feet) . . . the 7-inch TV set we paid on for 36 months.

You wore new, had unused grandparents and had more clothes than a Barbie doll. You were the "original model" for unsure parents trying to work the bugs out. You got the strained lamb, open pins and three hour naps.

You were the beginning.

TO THE MIDDLE CHILD

I've always loved you best because you drew a dumb spot in the family and it made you stronger for it.

You cried less, had more patience, wore faded and never in your life did anything "first," but it only made you more special. You are the one we relaxed with and realized a dog could kiss you and you wouldn't get sick.

You could cross a street by yourself long before you were old enough to get married, and the world wouldn't come to an end if you went to bed with dirty feet.

You were the child of our busy, ambitious years. Without you we would never have survived the job changes, the house we couldn't afford and the tedium and the routine that is marriage.

You were the continuance.

TO THE BABY

I've always loved you best because endings are generally sad and you are such a joy. You readily accepted the milk-stained bibs. The lower bunk. The cracked baseball bat. The baby book, barren but for a recipe for graham cracker pie crust that someone jammed between the pages.

You are the one we held onto so tightly. For you see, you are the link with a past that gives a reason to tomorrow. You darken our hair, quicken our steps, square our shoulders, restore our vision and give us humor that security, maturity and endurance can't give us.

When your hairline takes on the shape of Lake Erie and your children tower over you, you will still be "The Baby."

You were the culmination.

A look back

15 YEARS AGO (1981)

In margins of nearly six to one, local voters turn thumbs down on Proposal A during Tuesday's state-wide election. The proposal is soundly defeated across Michigan in a 3-1 margin, according to press time reports. The proposal would have cut property taxes by 50 percent and increased the state sales tax by 1.5 cents per dollar.

The annual Clarkston Memorial Day Parade will begin at the corner of Church and Buffalo streets at 10 a.m. May 25 and proceed down Church to Main, north to Washington St., west to Holcomb St. and then to the veteran's plot at Lakeview Cemetery. At the cemetery a Memorial Day tribute will include the national anthem, a vocal group, roll call of deceased veterans, the Gettysburg Address, placing of the wreath, a raffle volley and "Taps."

Before the ink dries on Timothy Palulian's resignation as director of Independence Township's building and planning department, the township re-hires former director Kenneth Delbridge for the position. Delbridge worked for the township from 1971 to 1977, but quit over what he called "a disagreement with the former administration."

25 YEARS AGO (1971)

Local soldier Army Private First Class Albert A. Geoit receives the combat infantryman badge near Di An, Vietnam. The award, which was originated during World War II to recognize the role of the infantryman, can only be give to a member of an infantry unit of brigade who satisfactorily performed in active ground combat against a hostile force for a period of time. Pfc. Geoit received the award while assigned to the 3rd squadron of the 17th air cavalry. He was sent to Vietnam in October.

The basketball program sponsored jointly by Independence Township and Clarkston Community Schools ends March 13 after play on eight consecutive Saturdays. Approximately 210 boys participated in the program which was directed by five Clarkston teachers: Ken Wolven, Bob Brumback, Mort Kinser, Tim Kaul and Jim Ashmore.

A weight and exercise machine purchased by

Clarkston Athletic Boosters and the Board of Education is now in place at the High school. According to coaches, it can exercise 670 students per hour. On March 23 the machine will be taken over by the Adult Education department. An eight-week course will be offered to area residents.

50 YEARS AGO (1946)

Class of '46 seniors will receive diplomas June 12 at commencement exercises. Mr. Fred A. Miller, administrator for Ford Motor Company, will address the class on the subject, "Your Future is in Training." Seniors will be led to the stage by members of the junior class, where the Rev. Walter Ballagh will present the invocation.

Playing at the Holly Theatre are "Wildfire," starring Bob Steele and Sterling Holloway, "Getting Gertie's Garter," with Dennis O'Keefe and Binnie Barnes, and "The Madonna's Secret," with Francis Lederer and Gail Patrick.

Specials at Kroger this week include Gevaert Superchrome film, different-size packages for 23 cents, 28 cents and 32 cents; Kroger's Macaroon Nut Coffee Cake, 27 cents each; beef liver, 38 cents a pound; stewing chicken, 43 cents a pound; and sugar-sweet watermelon, $1.59 each.

60 YEARS AGO (1936)

Mrs. Charles Hutton, who is retiring from the Clarkston School faculty, is honored at a bridge luncheon at Devon Gables. She is presented with three beautiful china service plates. It seems Mr. and Mrs. Hutton have a hobby of collecting old china, so the plates make a gift that is greatly appreciated.

Featured at the Holly Theatre are Shirley Temple, Guy Kibbee and Slim Summerville in "Captain January," Wallace Beery, Barbara Stanwyck and John Boles in "A Message to Garcia" and Warner Oland in "Charlie Chan at the Circus."

Specials at Rudy's this week include Sweetheart Soap Flakes, a 5-pound box for a quarter; frankfurters, 17 cents a pound; hamburg, 29 cents for two pounds; pork sausage, 19 cents per pound; Maxwell House Coffee, 25 cents a pound; and Excell Crackers, 17 cents for two pounds.

Don't Rush Me

By Don Rush

For the loss of a slice, a gain of a hook

There's something to be said about consistency. With consistency comes a sense of security. That said, I guess it was good to see that my golf game has stayed consistent.

Bad. Bad and bad.

No Fairy Golf Maiden panged her magic putter over my head as I slept this winter. Likewise, enchanted stardust was not secretly sprinkled over my clubs.

Nothing wonderful happened. Well, I guess that is not true. Not at all, as a matter of fact. Something of significance to my golf game did happen.

By miracles of miracles I no longer slice the ball off the tee. As of last Saturday it became official: I hook the sucker.

I don't know what happened. I thought I had the same softball-chop-of-a-swing as I always had. Just dumb luck I guess. I was glad, however, there were not too many people on the course in front of, behind or next to me.

It would not have embarrassed me had there been somebody in any of those positions. For three years running I was the worst golfer (bar none) to participate in a Michigan Press Association golf tourney. That didn't bother me at all -- heck, last place slobbs like me make a killing on the prizes.

It's a sympathy thing, I presume.

No, if there had been other golfers in range I could have been put in jail for reckless discharge of a golf ball. That, my friends, would have been embarrassing.

Dream Sequence I:

"Put down your weapon. Put down your weapon! This is the police. Lay down that one iron and no harm will come to you. You are under arrest. You have the right to . . ."

Dream Sequence II:

"Hey bub, gotta' cigarette I can bum? Whatcha' in for? Me, they hauled my butt in for playin' hackey sack on the corner. My sack got away from me and hit a suit. I figure they'll throw the book at me."

Dream Sequence III:

"Mr. Rush, you may stand. A jury of your peers has found you guilty of reckless discharge of a golf ball. Do you understand the seriousness of your actions and of the jury's findings?"

"I have no recourse but to sentence you to the fullest extent of the law. Your punishment is . . ."

Dream Sequence IV (epilogue):

"Sonny, hand me my four iron, and don't count that last drop from the ruff. Dr. Smith doesn't need to know about that one . . ."

Has the increase in the price of gas affected your lifestyle?

DANNY MOORE, CLARKSTON: I'm aware of it but it really hasn't affected me yet.

FRANK GRAINER, CLARKSTON: Yes it has affected my lifestyle. I put 40,000 miles on my car every year (for work) so every time the price of gas goes up I consider it a pay cut. I go out of my way for a 3 cent or so price cut in gas

BARB WALKER, CLARKSTON: It really doesn't affect me because I'm a housewife and I live close to my kid's school.

Not to worry

A senior citizen out walking near Depot Park noticed a vine choking a tree and began to remove it. Along came a man, his wife and several others.

The man stopped to help the senior woman, who remarked, "I don't know if I should be doing this. I might get a ticket." The wife told her not to worry. "You won't get a ticket. He's the chief of police."

The couple she had run into were none other than Clarkston Police Chief Paul Ormiston and his wife Marilyn, who were walking with relatives.

A two-season state

At the 1996 Michigan Week Community Awards breakfast held at Spring Lake Country Club May 15 during yet another cold and dismal day, master of ceremonies Dominic Alessi offered some humor to lift people's sick-of-winter spirits. His words were touched with irony when temperatures reached the mid-80s over the weekend. "In Michigan we have two seasons -- winter and July," he quipped.

Prom '96

Well, it seems that everyone at Clarkston High School cleans up pretty nicely. It was so amazing being in a room with so many good-looking people. Well worth my money, I assure you.

Prom was many things: interesting, expensive, crowded, fun . . . but I wasn't sure it was going to be fun at first for many reasons. For one, 3 a.m. the night before I woke up very sick (as did my sister Laura an hour earlier, but I assure you this is a coincidence, not a "twin thing") and ended up stopping at Farmer Jack's before Prom all dressed up in formals with my friends (we took pictures, of course) to buy throat drops and Chloroseptic throat spray which I kept on my table all night and referred to when necessary.

My illness didn't really dampen my time at prom for the most part because I didn't really start getting sick until after prom, when I sounded uncannily similar to Greta Garbo.

I was scared that prom wouldn't be fun because of all the hype involved and all the money I spent. Prom in total cost me $256.49. That's $100 for the dress, $42.50 for my ticket, $20 for my hair, $19.99 (on sale!) for my shoes, $4 for nylons (I have never spent more than $2 on nylons in my life so this, to me, is worth mentioning), around $40 for food for my party afterwards, $17 for pictures, $6 for a boutonniere, and $7 for my throat remedies.

Prom was, by far, the most expensive evening of my life. Granted my parents helped pay for most of it, but still, that's a lot of green stuff no matter where it's coming from.

Was it worth that much? Definitely. I've never had so much fun at a dance before in my life and, sadly, will never have the chance again because high school will be over very soon. It's a good thing it ended so very well; otherwise we'd have to do it all over again and that would mean a lot of tampering with school records on my part in order to move the class of '96 to the class of '97. This would also involve massive amounts of brainwashing which I'm not qualified to do so, it's a good thing I don't have to.

One of the evening's highlights was when I unintentionally flashed everyone at the end of the Glenn Miller swing song. This was not my fault, however. This was all Don Downey's fault because when he told me he could do a lift at the end and hoist me up over his head I fully believed him, but told him I didn't want to do that because I was wearing a short dress and my underwear would show.

Part of this message must have slipped by Don, however, because when the song ended I found myself up in the air with my dress pulled up to my hips. Needless to say, I was not entirely pleased with Don, but I was too happy to be mad and not that many people saw anyway, though the DJ did mention it to me after the dance was over.

I wish I could do Prom over again. I wish I would've taken more pictures. I wish everything could just stay frozen in that night forever and we could all look that good all of our lives and have that much fun but without the high cost and with my hair staying in place all night long (which it surely didn't).

Student seeks grieving families

My name is Lynn Breer, and I am a Ph.D. candidate in psychology at Michigan State University. For my dissertation I would like to collect information from families who have experienced the death of a parent.

My interest in this field stems from personal experience. Nine years ago my life changed forever when my father died suddenly from a brain aneurysm. I was 17, confused, angry, and in pain. I felt there was no one I could turn to for help. My family was also in pain and I didn't want to upset them more than I had to and there were no community resources available for me in the small town where I lived.

I never really talked with my friends about my father's death and how I felt because I didn't know how they would react, and I wouldn't have known what to do if this happened to one of them instead of me. As a result of my experience, I have decided to devote my life to helping families who have lost a loved one.

Most communities don't provide us with effective information, support, or resources when we are grieving. So my long term goal is to develop effective resources for grieving families. In order to do so, I need to know what helps grieving families and what grieving families need.

Currently, I am working on a project that focuses on families who have lost a parent within the last four years with at least one child between the ages of 12 and 18.

If you or someone you know has experienced this loss and would be willing to complete some mailed surveys, please contact me at 1-800-765-7542, or e-mail me at lbreer@aol.com. I really need your help. Everything you do will be greatly appreciated and could potentially help numerous other families who will experience the death of a parent.

Can you live on that?

The sentence is fairly short and simple. Just a few words, but those words strike fear in the hearts of many. The sentence goes something like this: "I'm sorry, but it looks like _____ (fill in the blank with: you, your wife/husband, your mother/father) need(s) to go to a nursing home." Yet, that sentence will be heard, in one way or another, many times this year. Maybe you will hear it.

Recent studies suggest that about 43% of all people who reach 65 will spend time in a nursing home before they die. One in four will spend more than a year in a nursing home; one in 11 will require nursing home care for five years or more. Those same studies put the national average cost for a year of nursing home care at about $30,000. However, many locations have average nursing home costs of $40,000 and up.

Can you afford nursing home care? Take this test and see. First, add up all your annual sources of income from pensions, Social Security and the like. If you are married, add both spouses' income. To that figure add all investment income from interest, dividends, rents, etc. From your total income, subtract the annual cost of a year in a nursing home in your area. If the difference between your income and the cost of a nursing home is a negative number, you've got a real problem. You will have to start spending your principal immediately. Principal will be required to pay both the nursing home and to pay the living expenses for the spouse still at home. If the number is positive, ask yourself this question: "Can I live on that?" If the spouse at home could not survive on the difference between your income and the cost of a nursing home, principal will be consumed to meet expenses.

If you must spend principal, how long will your assets last? Remember if you consume principal this year to pay the nursing home, there will be less to invest to produce income next year. If there is less to invest, your investment income will probably go down. If your investment income goes down, you will probably need to consume more principal next year to meet nursing home costs. This is the start of an accelerating downward spiral.

Nursing home costs have to be paid. Either you or someone else must pay them. There are only three possible sources of funds other than you: your family, the government and an insurance company. Could your family afford to shoulder the burden of your nursing home costs? Even if they are able and willing, would you ask them for help?

Contrary to popular belief, there is a national government program to provide funding for nursing home expenses. It's called Medicaid. Medicaid is a welfare program for poor people. It is unfortunate that our national policy for long-term cares requires that you either must be poor or become poor in order to qualify for help. But, that's the law.

The best way to manage the risk of an extended nursing home confinement is through insurance. Purchasing a cost effective policy requires careful planning and investigation. The quality of the policies has gone up, however, it is still possible to buy inadequate coverage.

Of course, this brief article is no substitute for careful consideration of all of the advantages and disadvantages of this matter in light of your unique personal circumstances. Before implementing any significant tax or financial planning strategy, contact your financial planner, attorney, insurance expert or tax advisor as appropriate.

everything the Historical Society has to offer. "We have a lot of things we can't display because of space," Huttenlocher said.

The Historical Society was formed in the early 1970s by a group of residents who were concerned that the widening of M-15 (Main Street) would cause irreparable damage to the historic buildings, both residential and commercial, on the street. In the 1980s, thanks to their work, much of downtown Clarkston was designated a National Historic District.

Once that work was done, the Society turned to education, collecting documents, artifacts and photographs and publishing several books.

Clarkston Rotary, with 56 members, is already active in the community through the Goodfellow Christmas newspaper drive, SCAMP, Lighthouse Clarkston, a senior citizens cookout, decorating the village at Christmas and organizing the Labor Day parade.

Annual Community Awards honor local residents

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Dominic Alessi remembered a call he got years ago.

The person at the other end asked, "Would you like to be a Jaycee?"

"Well, you know I'm Catholic. That seemed to get me off the hook," he cracked, relaying his response.

As master of ceremonies for the 1996 Community Awards breakfast at Spring Lake Country Club May 15, Alessi was making a point. He joined the Jaycees and became a volunteer, an act he's never regretted.

"There is no greater gift than to give of one's time and one's talent," he said.

Over 40 area residents were nominated for the six awards presented during the early morning ceremony sponsored by the Clarkston Chamber of Commerce. Spring Lake provided young waitstaff and table decorations were supplied by Carol Cantor of Carol's Flowers and Garden.

It was tough to choose the winners, said Rick Detkowski, who headed the five-member selecting committee. "Everybody deserved to win."

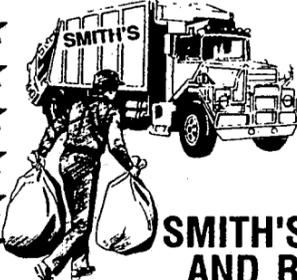

The awards went to Citizen of the Year, Gary Haner; Young Person of the Year, Lindsey Fogleman; Business Person, Don Brose; Adult-Youth Volunteer, Sue Deevey and Marla McKee; Property Beautifula-

SKIN DEEP
by Scott Friedman, D.O.

Although few people think of it as such, the skin is actually the largest organ of the human body. Unlike the vast majority of the body's organs, it is constantly exposed to the outside world. It forms a protective barrier which is essential in preserving overall health. The skin absorbs certain nutrients and expels bodily by-products. It is quite vulnerable to the sun's degradational rays, irritants, and a host of fungi and bacteria. While there is a multitude of problems that the skin can endure, most of us simply want it to look good. It is, after all, a highly visible organ. In the weeks and months to come, we will discuss in this column the unhealthy conditions and their treatments and preventive measures that can be applied to the skin, above and beneath the surface.

We hope you will find it both interesting and helpful. Dermatologists are medical doctors specializing in problems and diseases of the skin. These may range from simple cosmetic improvements to the treatment of serious skin cancers. Consult with a dermatologist if you have any questions regarding any skin condition. When it comes to your skin, don't play guessing games. My offices are located at: 6330 Sashabaw, Clarkston (625-0692); 3782 Lapeer Rd., Metamora (678-3974); and 3003 Baldwin, Orion (391-9599), to serve all the members of your family. Remember all those who gave their lives for our freedom this Memorial Day!

tion, Mr. B's Roadhouse; and Community Preservation, the Independence Township Preservation Committee, consisting of Joan McCrary, Joe Figa, Jennifer Radcliff, Steve Secatch, Richard Carlisle and Dan Travis.

Recipients were given a framed "Special Tribute," signed by Governor John Engler, State Rep. Tom Middleton and State Sen. Mat Dunaskiss. They also received another Special Tribute from Dunaskiss and an engraved plaque from the Chamber. Middleton handed out the awards.

In presenting the joint Adult-Youth Volunteer award to Sue Deevey and Marla McKee for their volunteer work with the Clarkston High School Band, CHS band director Cliff Chapman quipped, "They seem to be joined at the hip. You never saw one without the other."

Haner was honored for his career as Clarkston schools superintendent and particularly cited for his role in building Springfield Plains Elementary and passing the bond issue for the new high school.

Accepting the award from CHS principal Brent Cooley, Haner said he felt like "a designated hitter. There are many people who should be standing in this room. It takes the whole team to get all of this done."

In presenting the Young Person of the Year award to Sashabaw Middle School seventh-grader Lindsey Fogleman, Don Brose said adults should remember the "positive impact" young people have in our society.

Lindsey was honored for various activities including church youth group work, babysitting at Springfield Plains for Parent Teacher Association meetings, working with autistic children and her role as president of the Clarkston Young Optimists Club.

"She's always there and she's always a perfect example to her peers," said Brose, adult coordinator for the Young Optimists.

After a short return to his seat, Brose, who owns Brose Electric, returned to the podium to receive the Business Person award. He was honored for his volunteer work with several organizations, including Clarkston Optimists. Kathy Priest, who presented the award, said Brose "always finds time for his community; he finds time for his business and family too."

The Preservation Committee worked two years to complete a 37-page Historic and Rural Preservation Plan for Independence township. It includes 10 maps depicting natural resources, visual resources, ownership maps from 1872-1956 and current land-use trends.

"We're not finished," said McCrary, who accepted the award in behalf of the committee. "There's so much more to do because preservation goes on and on and on."

Holli Day, managing partner for Mr. B's Roadhouse, knows the rigors — and the rewards — of a never-ending job as well. She accepted the award for the new Clarkston eatery with a big smile.

"I'm happy. You all tell me you're happy too because I'm very busy," she said.

Milestones

Warner-Cole

Christain M. Warner and Paul E. Cole announce a July 1996 wedding in the Rose Gardens of Ella Sharpo Park in Jackson. The bride-to-be is the daughter of William R. and Debra K. Warner of Michigan Center and Linda S. and Bernie L. Magiera Jr. of Jackson. She graduated from Central Michigan University with a BS in biology and conservation. The prospective groom is the son of John F. Cole and Donna G. Cole of Clarkston. He is also a CMU graduate with a BS in industrial engineering. The couple will reside in the Grand Rapids area.

In service

● Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Alvin A. Crosby, son of Alvin A. and Annetta Crosby of Clarkston, is participating in operations off the west African coast of Liberia while serving aboard the USS Guam.

The ship travelled from the Adriatic Sea near Bosnia to help evacuate US citizens and other civilians from Monrovia, Liberia due to the current civil war there. The Guam is part of a five-ship task force that includes 24 helicopters and 3,400 Sailors and Marines.

● Army Pvt. Philip Walker has arrived for duty at Harvey Barracks, Germany. Walker, a quarter master chemical equipment repairer, is the son of Alleshia and Richard Walker of Waterford and a 1995 graduate of Kettering High School.

● Marine Cpl. Benjamin J. Chavez, son of Benjamin A. and Kathleen Chavez of Clarkston, was recently meritoriously promoted to his present rank while serving with Headquarters, Marine Air Control Squadron 1, Camp Pendleton, CA. The 1990 graduate of Cardinal Mooney Catholic High School joined the Marines in September 1994.

● Army Private Paul Michael Sommers, who will graduate from Clarkston High School June 12, completed light wheel vehicle mechanic school at Fort Jackson, South Carolina April 12. He graduated at the top of his class, receiving the Distinguished Honor Graduate of Class 15B-96. He is the son of Bruce and Nancy Sommers of Davisburg.

Humphreys-Bondy wed in Orion

Robert John and Michele Ann (Humphreys) Bondy were married Oct. 14, 1995 at Christ the Redeemer Catholic Church in Orion. The ceremony was officiated by Father Joseph Dailey.

The bride was given away by her parents, Jean and Tom Humphreys. She wore an off-the-shoulder gown of silk shantung featuring a sweetheart neckline, cathedral-length train and beaded lace. She carried a bouquet of white casablanca lilies, white roses and stephanotis.

The bride's attendants included Jennifer Howarth of Farmington Hills as maid of honor and bridesmaids Ingrid Humphreys of Grand Rapids, Melissa Kaspari of Royal Oak, Madeline Bondy of Elizabethtown, KY, Virginia Chambo of Royal Oak and Kim Foust of White Lake. Megan Evanson of Rochester was junior bridesmaid. All wore full-length, long-sleeved Waters suits in hunter green and carried bouquets of white roses and stephanotis.

The groom's attendants included Wayne Bondy of Elizabethtown, KY as best man and groomsmen Tom Humphreys of Grand Rapids, David Smith of Memphis, TN, Jim Kaspar of Royal Oak, Joe Locricchio of Lake Orion and David Levy of Paris, France.

Special readings were given by Sister Janet Lemon, Karen Brenner and Steven Wandmacher. The recessional was performed by bagpiper Craig MacDonell who played "Rab's Wedding."

A reception for 280 relatives and friends followed at Deer Lake Racquet and Country Club in Clarkston. Family members included grandmothers Ina (Rouse) Powell of Clarkston and Caroline Humphreys of Lake Orion.

Michele is the daughter of Tom and Jean Humphreys of Orion. She is a graduate of the dental hygiene program at Oakland Community College and is employed as a dental hygienist.

Robert is the son of Wayne and Cathy Bondy of Romeo. He is an Oakland University graduate and is employed as a computer consultant.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bondy

The couple spent a two-week honeymoon in San Francisco and the Napa Valley. They reside in Rochester.

New grad

Dennis H. Felker graduated magna cum laude from Michigan Technological University May 18, 1996 with a BS in mechanical engineering. He is a 1991 graduate of Clarkston High School. Consistently a Dean's List student, he began his college education at GMI, where he was a member and officer of Alpha Tau Omega. He has accepted an engineering position with MC Aerospace in Lake Orion. He is the son of Dennis and Denise Felker and the brother of Adam Felker, all of Holcomb Rd.

Business briefs

● Coldwell Banker The Michael Group was recently named among the top five offices in listings sold for first quarter, 1996 for the Midwest Region of the company. In addition, Mark Peterson was named among the top 10 sales associates in the state for gross commission income and listings sold for first quarter, 1996.

School news

● Staci Hill of Clarkston, a senior at Alma College, has been selected for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, a national leadership honor society. New members were announced April 11 at Alma's Honors Convocation.

● Deborah Demster of Clarkston received an MS in biology from Northern Michigan University at spring commencement April 27.

● Antonya Werner Godbold of Clarkston was a candidate for a doctor of medicine degree from the University of South Carolina in Columbia. Commencement is May 3-4.

● Timothy Szykula made the fall term Dean's Honor List at Columbia University. A freshman in the engineering program, he is a 1995 graduate of Clarkston High School and the son of Bill and Pennie Szykula.

● The following students from Clarkston are among prospective freshmen selected to receive academic scholarships from Western Michigan University: David Bilbey and Stephanie Sanders, of Brandon High School; Jaime Dyball of Kettering High School; and Jason Craven, Adam Gilreath, Michael Kopec, Stephanie Seltzer, Lisa Vallad, Kristen Wicklund and Christina Williams, all of Clarkston High School.

● Matt Harlton has been accepted to the Center for Creative Studies' College of Art and Design in Detroit for fall semester. He will be pursuing a BFA in applied arts, photography concentration and has received a Merit Scholarship for his photographic portfolio. He is currently studying audiovisual technology at Oakland Community College and is the son of Bruce and Kathryn Harlton of Clarkston.

Home tour returns June 1-2

Five distinctive homes plus a bonus of two homes built by Oakland Technical Center Northwest students will make up this year's Clarkston Home Tour 14, sponsored by the North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corporation June 1-2.

The tour opens up some of Clarkston's most interesting homes, both old and new, to visitors who get a chance to enjoy the architecture as well as the landscaping and interior design. Past tours have included everything from million-dollar mansions to turn-of-the-century farm houses.

This year the tour kicks off with a private champagne reception at a Deerhill Drive home following the premiere showing of the homes on Saturday, June 1 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Reservations for that event are $50 per person and are available in advance from the SCAMP office or at 6:15 the night of the preview at Main and Washington streets in downtown Clarkston.

The tour continues on Sunday, June 2 from noon to 5 p.m. Tickets, at $22 per person, include a light lunch at Mesquite Creek and are tax-deductible. To order, send a check or drop in to the SCAMP office behind the high school at 6590 Middle Lake Rd., Clarkston, MI 48346.

Walk-in tickets will also be sold from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. that day, also at Main and Washington. Lunch will be available to walk-ins if space allows. A shuttle will transport visitors to the homes.

This year's tour includes the homes of Pam Ford Morgan on Main Street, the Hadden house on North Holcomb, the Moultrup house, also on North Holcomb, the Swanson house on Perry Lake Rd. and the Bentley house on Morning Mist Drive. Two of them are historic farm houses. The village homes were originally cottages, one of which has been extensively remodeled. The fifth home is newer, with beautiful oak trim and a huge walk-in closet.

The bonus houses, those constructed by the OTCNW students in the Waldon Woods Subdivision, are sold but not yet occupied. Each year students in the building trades program build at least one house. Students in the landscape design program then complete the landscaping.

SCAMP is a non-profit organization whose sole purpose is to fund a summer day camp for children and young adults with special needs living in northern Oakland County. For more information call 625-3330.

Sheriff's log for Independence Township

MONDAY, MAY 13, a window was broken with a rock at the library.

The trunk of a 1995 Neon parked in a Cottonwood lot was scratched.

Two store windows on Dixie Highway were found with holes in them, probably from a slingshot.

An M-15 resident reported that about a month ago, someone cut a fence on his property, releasing six deer into the wild. The deer have not returned.

A mountain bike was stolen from a bicycle rack at a Waldon Rd. golf course.

A Suzuki motorcycle was impounded after it was found, apparently abandoned, on Indianwood.

A 37-year-old Auburn Hills man is under investigation for allegedly intentionally ramming his ex-girlfriend's car on Pine Knob Lane and then trying to run another person down with his S-10 truck.

TUESDAY, MAY 14, a window was smashed on a 1987 Ford Ranger parked in the Sashabaw Park and Ride lot. A CD player and 30 CDs were stolen.

A cellular phone was lost at the Sashabaw Park and Ride lot.

Two vehicles on Cecelia Ann were entered and items stolen. At one house, a purse containing credit cards and a payroll check was stolen from an unlocked car. At another house, the thief was apparently able to get into a convertible top on a 1989 Dodge Dakota, stealing a CD player, speakers and 60 CDs.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, a door was kicked on a 1991 Chevy pick up parked in an Independence driveway.

A window was shot, apparently with a slingshot, at the same business on Dixie which reported a similar incident Monday.

A showroom window on Dixie was found with a hole in it.

A dog was picked up by a deputy on Greenview after a neighbor found it barking outside his house and couldn't get a response from the owners. The neighbor said it was an ongoing problem. The dog was turned over to Oakland County Animal Control.

A 16-year-old Clarkston girl was treated for injuries after she was allegedly assaulted in the face by an 18-year-old Pontiac woman on Flemings Lake Rd. The two women know each other. The victim's car was also damaged in the altercation.

THURSDAY, MAY 16, a window on a 1995 Pontiac was broken while parked on Dixie Highway and a radar detector was stolen.

FRIDAY, MAY 17, a house on Reese Rd. was hit with paint balls. Earlier in the evening, deputies had been dispatched to the same area on a report of juveniles shooting paint balls.

An officer on Sashabaw was approached by a 12-year-old Clarkston boy who said his bicycle had just been stolen at a gas station. The boy had only left the bike unattended for a few minutes.

Breaking and entering of a barn on S. Eston Rd.

SATURDAY, MAY 18, a Clarkston woman driving on Mann Rd. reported that someone from another vehicle threw something at her 1988 Plymouth Voyager, damaging the windshield. She thought the act was intentional.

A small window was broken on an office on White Lake Rd. but entry was apparently not gained.

Mail tampering on Pine Breeze. A resident found some of her outgoing mail scattered about.

The arson squad was called in after a shed was found fully engulfed in fire at Sashabaw Plains Park.

SUNDAY, MAY 19, three girls, ages 12 and 8, said they were followed by two men in a vehicle on Mann Rd. The girls fled to the home of an acquaintance, where they were given a ride home.

Larceny of four quarts of beer from a gas station on Sashabaw. The clerk said the man got in line as if to pay, then fled to a waiting car.

A baseball-sized rock was thrown through a window on Pheasant Run.

A 27-year-old Detroit man was arrested on an outstanding warrant at a Sashabaw gas station. The man had left his car at the gas station overnight and was repairing it when deputies arrived.

A hole was found in a glass pane at a store on Dixie. Later, a fishing sinker was found in the parking lot. It is thought to have been the weapon.

Three tires were flattened and the front and rear windows smashed on a 1980 Chevy parked on Crestview.

Neighborhood dispute over a loud radio and barking dog on Mary Sue. The offending neighbor was warned.

TOTAL CALLS THIS YEAR THROUGH MAY 19: 4,858.

REAL ESTATE UPDATE

PRICING FOR SALE

CHECKING REAL ESTATE ADS for comparable homes is no way to set a price for YOUR house.

27 S. Main, Clarkston
625-9300

QUESTION: How do I go about putting the right selling price on my house?

ANSWER: You can check the real estate ads to try to find what comparable houses are selling for, but that won't tell you what YOUR home is worth.

For this vital decision you need the help of a Realtor. Overpricing would delay a sale. Underpricing would be a pity. We know the local market and what would be the best price for your home. Its location, condition of the house and property and extra features will all play a part in determining the asking price.

Selling price is the most important part of the sale. Make sure it is made properly.

CHS senior Jeff Lund can't avoid the tag at third base in his team's loss to Troy Athens May 15. Aulgur is first tennis finalist in 30 years

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It wasn't an easy road but Mike Aulgur knew a state finals berth was within his reach.

Playing in peak form, the junior playing #1 singles for the Clarkston tennis team, became the first Clarkston boys player to qualify for the state finals in 30 years. The 1967 and 1968 squads both won regional titles and everyone qualified then.

"I'm elated," Aulgur said. "It was the best tennis I played all year, but it was a goal I set at the beginning of the season."

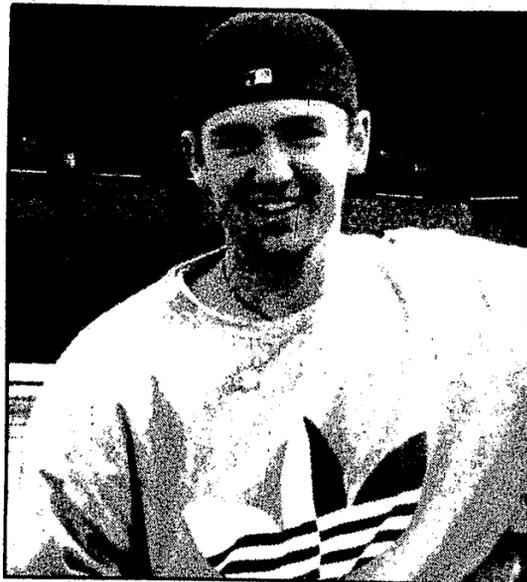

Aulgur tied for the third seed going into the regional but advanced past the semi-finals when his opponent, the #1 seed from Birmingham Brother Rice, injured a wrist and was forced to default. Aulgur was ahead 2-1 at that point.

In the true spirit of sport, Aulgur promised teammates at the beginning of the season he'd shave his head if he qualified for states. So when the state finals come May 31-June 2 at Midland Community Tennis Center, Aulgur will have already fulfilled two promises. One to himself and one to his teammates.

"I told the guys I'd do that if I made it," said Aulgur, laughing about it now. "I'm shaving my head and that's all I have to say."

He was expected to do the deed May 21.

Aulgur's goal of qualifying began long before he made a promise to go bald. The junior has played #1 singles at Clarkston since he was a freshman and in the past off-season he worked hard on every part of his game, always with the dream of qualifying for states.

Junior Mike Aulgur made CHS history last week when he qualified for the state finals.

Aulgur worked this summer to lose weight and stay in shape. He helped his cause by working out with the varsity boys basketball team. Last summer he took lessons, practiced all the time and competed in tournaments.

He says the hard work he's put into tennis is the biggest reason for his success. But Aulgur also said he's received great coaching from head coach Kevin Ortwine and assistant Mike Kopec (the Kopec brothers' father).

"My goal now is to win at least three matches at the finals and if I get a good draw I could do pretty well," he said.

The junior, 15-9 on the season, started off with an easy win over Waterford Kettering 6-0, 6-0, then beat a good Farmington player 6-1, 6-3.

After he won by default against Brother Rice, Aulgur was matched up with Lahser's Eric Berg, a freshman ranked in the top 30 in junior nationals.

While Aulgur outhustled the younger player, his bad shoulder wasn't cooperating. He lost 7-6, 6-2 and hopes he's at full strength for states.

While Aulgur was Clarkston's biggest star on the day, the rest of the Wolves also performed admirably. Including Aulgur, CHS had three seeds at regionals, the most in the last 15 years, according to former coach Dick Swartout, who coached boys tennis from 1980 to 1994.

Senior Mike Kopec, the all-time career win leader with a 53-26 record, was seeded #4 at #2 singles while sophomore Jim Kyle was seeded #3 at #4 singles.

Mike Kopec made it to the semi-finals before he lost a battle to Bloomfield Hills Lahser in three sets.

Kyle lost his first match.

Junior Kevin Kopec, the #3 singles player, was unseeded but close to the fourth seed. He lost a hard fought three-set match to the #3 seed.

The other CHS players to win a match were the #1 doubles team of senior Paul Wolven and junior Kyle Stout. They beat Southfield in the first match but lost to Lahser in the next.

Coach Kevin Ortwine said while he thought his team should have won more matches, he is proud of their effort and accomplishments.

Wolves win 5 with defense

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

While allowing less than two runs per game, the Clarkston softball team won five straight games last week, improving to 23-7 overall.

The Wolves are also 10-1 in the Oakland Activities Association Division I, one game behind undefeated Brandon. The two teams square off in a May 23 doubleheader at Brandon and then again in a game May 31. Rochester Adams is in second place, three games behind CHS.

Clarkston also begins districts on May 28 in a 3 p.m. game with Milford at West Bloomfield. If they win that game they advance to a June 1 game against Waterford Mott at noon. The championship will be at 2:30 p.m.

In five games last week, the Wolves performed on defense the way coach Al Land knows they can. They gave up only seven runs in five games and the team's hitting was once again strong.

A May 20 game against Troy was canceled after the second inning due to rain.

On May 14 the Wolves won a doubleheader over Lapeer West 10-1 and 15-2. Junior pitcher Allison Prudhomme, recently called up from the JV team to step in for injured Rachel Fuller, threw a three-hitter in one game.

Against Lake Orion on May 15, the Wolves came through when they needed and won again, 9-3.

Defense again proved the deciding factor in beating Waterford Mott in a May 16 doubleheader. In the first game Clarkston won 6-0, as Fuller pitched her first game after sitting out with a shoulder injury.

In the second game, Prudhomme continued her strong varsity stint and got the win on the mound in a 12-1 victory.

"On defense we played real well and that was the key for us this week," said Land, pointing to the solid play of his infield. "It was a nice week for us because all the kids are playing well, fitting into their positions and playing to their potential.

Senior Nicki Hard, who bats leadoff and plays right field, regroups after taking a pitch in Clarkston's May 15 game against Lake Orion.

"These kids are a treat," he said. "They all want so bad to be successful. To be honest, I think some are overachievers because they really play above their talent level."

Soccer ready for next playoff foe

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With a clutch 1-0 win over Waterford Kettering May 20 in the first round of districts, the Clarkston girls soccer team moves on.

Thanks to a strong defense and the solid play of recently recruited senior goalkeeper Brynn Allyn, Clarkston will now face state-ranked Rochester Adams on May 23 at Rochester Adams.

Clarkston, 7-7-1 overall, split its final two regular season games last week. They lost to Lake Orion May 14, 1-0, and beat Kettering 5-1 on May 16, in a district preview.

In the districts against Kettering, Allyn made six saves for the shutout, despite playing the position for the first time in her career just a few weeks ago.

"She's doing well," said coach Brian Fitzgerald. "and is getting better each game. She has a feel for it and has come through for us big time."

The Wolves played tight defense the entire way and finally broke the deadlock with about 10 minutes to play on freshman Jenny Kerney's first varsity goal.

Coach Fitzgerald said he was pleased with how his team played and won a game they were expected to win.

Despite two spectacular Allyn saves against Orion, the Wolves couldn't score and took the loss. That didn't slow them down a few days later against Kettering in the final regular season game.

Clarkston dominated and got two goals from freshman Alaina Dodds, and one each from freshman Beth Whittington, junior Natalie Vaughn and Allyn, after she moved out of goal for a chance to score.

Fitzgerald admits he was worried after beating Kettering so easily, but his team came back with focus and beat them again in districts. He said it won't be so easy against Adams in districts, where he plans on utilizing a "defensive" game plan.

Regardless of what happens May 23, Fitzgerald said he's been pleased with his team's efforts each game.

"They know if they don't play hard they get pulled," he said. "Against Adams we're hoping for the best but we've still had a good season no matter what happens."

The Wolves have played better as of late thanks to an improvement on defense. He said players like freshman Charity Brown, sophomore Jackie Tripi, freshman Kara Bergkoetter, junior Colleen Stumpf and Kerney continue to improve the team's defense.

Burklow's dominance helps team to twelfth straight undefeated track season

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Next season might be different, but the Clarkston girls track team is taking some pleasure in finishing the dual meet season undefeated for the 12th straight year.

The Wolves, under 12-year head coach Gordie Richardson, continued that streak May 14 with a 47-81 win over Lake Orion. The victory puts the Wolves at 6-0 overall and 5-0 in the Oakland Activities Association Division II, heading into the May 21 OAA meet. If CHS wins, they will win the title outright.

Richardson said he's proud his team came through once again this season, despite having only three seniors (Stefanie Burklow, Lisa Herron and the injured Liz Murphy), but next season the team will be moved up to Division I where the road will be tougher.

This season, Clarkston's five division dual meet wins were by an average of almost 40 points.

The most dominating performance of the season came from Burklow as she won all three of her running events at the May 17 regionals.

She ran her two best times of the season in winning the 800 and 1600 runs and won the 3200 run nine seconds ahead of second place.

Her 5:16.7 time in the mile was about three seconds off the school record, but three seconds ahead of second place. In the 800 she ran a 2:19.3, just missing the school record by about one second. In the 3200 run she clocked in at 11:35, but she already holds the school record of 11:24, which she set at Lake Orion.

"She's really one fine athlete," said Richardson. "She works hard all year long so when it's time to relax and let it all go she can. But she's also just a real tough kid who knows what has to be done."

As a team the Wolves finished a respectable fourth overall with 46 points. Pinckney won with 74 points, Brighton was second with 53 and Pontiac Central was third with 52. Rochester Adams took fifth with 37 points.

Junior Kammy Powell also continued her strong season by finishing fourth in the discus with a throw of 115'8." The only other state qualifier for Clarkston was the 3200 relay team of junior Kristin Maine, sophomore Liz Cook, Herron and Burklow. Their time of 9:48 was good enough to qualify, but was only good enough for fifth place.

Richardson also said the 800 relay team of Kellie Christie, Michelle Erickson, Michelle Wilson and Amanda Worden ran its fastest time of the season, as did the 400 relay team. In addition, Erickson had her best long jump of over 15 feet.

In comparing other Class A regionals from around the state, Richardson said his looked like it was the toughest. He said many of his runners would have placed in other regionals.

"Lisa (Herron) would have been second in the 800 in most others, Maine and Cook would have placed in the 3200 and 1600 runs and the 3200 relay team would have been first in a few," said the coach. "We were in a real tough one."

Dateline ... Clarkston

● Everyone agrees adding another sport to Clarkston's sports program is great. But you can bet most CHS coaches don't like the idea of private funding to get it started.

While I've said before I don't like it either, coaches are very concerned this sets a precedent and crosses the line of a touchy, delicate issue. Again, their concern is not about the sport or the people involved. It is based solely on the private funding of a public school's sport.

By allowing this, the Clarkston Board of Education has opened the door for a practice previously discouraged. These are some of the concerns several coaches told me.

* So this means we all can go out and raise as much money as we want for our programs?

* Over the years the athletic department has even shied away from allowing businesses to sponsor the athletic field's scoreboard. Now we're going to full private funding for a single sport?

* One coach wanted to have businesses sponsor certain sporting events, but that was denied.

* What good is the Clarkston Athletic Boosters, if now every sport can simply go out and get their own money? Normally if a sport needs extra equipment or funds for a trip, the boosters club donates. For example, the ski team received a bunch of new stuff this year from the boosters, not from private donations.

Here's a point several people made. Now that private funding is allowed, do you really think it would be hard for the basketball team, with its wide following, or the wrestling team, with its excellent teams, to go out and raise money as easily as they do wins?

Because of the board's approval, scenarios like this are now unlimited. Coaches say we have entered into an area never before tread upon at CHS. They warn that guidelines must be laid down ... and fast.

● If you haven't jumped on the bandwagon of the Clarkston varsity softball team, start hopping now.

They may have lost Stephanie Giroux but this squad is as talented and hard working a team as you'll find.

I've said before Giroux, shortstop Crystal Lemke and catcher Amanda Jenkinson are a show fans shouldn't pass up.

It's no different this season as Lemke has sparkled at SS, making great plays seem easy, while A.J. is the consummate fiery leader, making clutch plays and scaring teams into not stealing second on her. All that despite not being 100 percent due to illness.

But this season it doesn't just end there. Giroux's absence has not been as damaging because the team has depth, balance and a determined attitude.

Senior Nicki Hard has developed a strong defensive game, brings a hard-nosed all-out confidence and excels in the leadoff spot, made vacant by Giroux.

Sophomore Tiffany Honey plays third like a perennial All-Pro, while junior Sue Naboychik is as determined an athlete as you'll ever see.

Aimee Giroux moved from second to centerfield and has been solid on defense. She's also adjusting to a switch from batting lefty to righty.

Along with that crew, pitchers Rachel Fuller, the sophomore with loads of potential, and Alesha Ulasich, the senior workhorse, are gaining confidence and are two major reasons for the team's early success.

● Too bad the 1996 tennis season ended so quickly. Just when you get into the season, it's already over.

While the squad matched last season's overall record, they were in most matches right to the end, unlike the last few seasons. They gained some ground on the Andovers and Groves of the world and, if some young tennis junkies can come into the program next season, they could move closer to the top echelon.

They'll have three of their singles players coming back, but the key will be to have the doubles players come through.

The squad was fun to watch this season because they never quit on themselves or their teammates. Watching Clarkston compete against some of their highly ranked opponents, it's obvious these Wolves know that giving an effort is priority #1.

Hey, if there is one point opponents discovered this season it's this: Win or lose, no matter what the score, Clarkston tennis players battle for every point, every game, every set, every match. That you can count on.

● The girls soccer team has performed well this season, considering they have a new coach and many new, young players.

Coach Brian Fitzgerald must be ribbing his older brother Dan (whom he took over for this season). The big brother, who coaches the boys varsity team, had only four wins in his last two seasons as girls coach. The little brother already has seven

Be gentle, Brian.

● How about that Burklow kid, huh? Stefanie, the senior record-setter in track, has performed this season like the veteran she is, knows her goals and is determined to see them fulfilled.

Most impressive, however, is the fact she is always at her best in the most important meets, as evidenced by her three first-place finishes at regionals last weekend.

Watch out state finals.

Boys runners wind down season

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston boys track team had only one top-five finisher at the May 17 regional meet, but some others came real close.

Junior hurdler Chris Evans took third in the high hurdles (15.3 seconds), but just missed qualifying for the state meet.

However, coach Walt Wyniemko said several other athletes also gave strong performances at regionals, including Curt Brewer in the hurdles, the 3200 relay team of Brian Ginn, Josh Holst, Jeff Deevey and Jon Burklow, the mile relay team, and Burklow in the 800 run (2:07).

The Wolves came close once again in a May 14 dual meet against Lake Orion. CHS lost 70-58 but with four events left the score was 53-52.

Taking first for Clarkston were Eric Leigh in the shot put, Jason Olafsson in the discus, Marc Venegoni in the long jump and high jump, J.D. Zuchelkowski in the 400 and 200 races, and the 400 relay team of Evans, Jeff Long, Ron Grinold and Venegoni.

The Wolves hope to keep improving in the May 21 OAA Division II meet. CHS, Waterford Mott and Lake Orion are all tied for second place in the standings, so a lot rides on who finishes where.

Freshman meet

While no scores were kept at the county freshman boys meet, held at Pontiac Northern, Wyniemko said his squad was strong in many events.

The Wolves had several finishers in the top five, led by the strong discus crew of Steve Bradford (97 feet), Ron Tolbert (94 feet) and Klinton Powell (91 feet).

Other top placers were:

- * Steve Himburg — 4th in the two mile run.
- * Mile relay team of Bradford, Mitchell Grusnick, Powell and Matt Baker — 4th.
- * Nick Holland — 5th in the 200 dash.
- * Eric Klemm — 5th in high hurdles and 6th in the low hurdles.
- * 3200 relay team of Himburg, Mark Gohl, Bobby Curtis and Grusnick — 5th.
- * 400 relay team of Baker, Ricky Williams, Bradford and Holland — 6th.
- * Powell — 4th in the 400 dash.

Shadow Box

Under 12

The Under 12 Clarkston Shadows girls soccer squad rebounded last week with two wins, improving to 3-1-1 overall.

The U12 squad beat the Oxford/Orion Lobos 1-0 May 19 and defeated NMSA Vitesse 7-0 May 18.

Against the Lobos, Lauren Welbourn scored the game's only goal but a strong team effort led to the win. Kalin Thomas was strong on defense and Jenn Carlson and Megan Renda combined in goal for the shutout.

In the shutout against Vitesse, the Shadows got goals from five players. Lauren Hosler scored three times, while Lauren White, Christina Roeder, Carlson and Brandy Knapp each scored once.

Championship wrestler

Thirteen-year-old Luke Markell won his third-straight youth wrestling state title May 10 for the Clarkston Youth Wrestling Club.

Markell, a Greco (upper body only) champ in 1994 and 1995 as well, won his 95-pound Group IV title by winning five straight matches at Battle Creek's Kellogg Arena. He moved his state finals record to 19-0.

Markell will be in eighth grade next year at Sashabaw Middle School. Next year he will look to defend his state title again before moving on to high school wrestling.

In addition, Markell won the MMWA state championship earlier this year.

The SMS youth is an example of the strong tradition that has made the Clarkston area a hotbed for wrestling talent.

The Clarkston Wrestling Club welcomes newcomers to the sport from elementary age to 14 years old, while the Sashabaw and Clarkston middle school teams are also dominant.

SMS and CMS both were undefeated against other conference schools, but CMS beat SMS in two head-to-head battles.

Both the middle schools and the wrestling club provide a solid foundation for the high school's varsity program, among the top four teams in the state the past two seasons.

Football staff in training

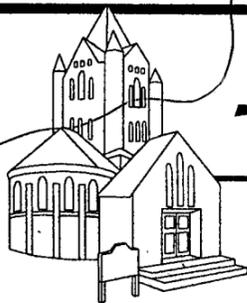

The Clarkston football staff of varsity, JV, freshmen and middle school coaches took time out last month to attend a coaches clinic at Penn State University directed by Nittany Lions coach

Defense helps BB to two wins

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With some strong pitching and a few timely hits, the Clarkston baseball team won two of five games last week.

But with less than two weeks of the regular season left, the Wolves have played only 16 of 23 scheduled games (as of May 21) and are 6-10 overall.

Last week the Wolves beat Ferndale 5-2 on May 13 and then went on to defeat Lapeer West 8-6 in the second game of a May 14 doubleheader.

The losses came to West in the first game of the doubleheader, 2-1, to Troy Athens 9-0 on May 15 and to Rochester 5-1 May 17. A May 20 game against Birmingham Groves was canceled due to weather after the fourth inning, with the Wolves down 1-0.

In Clarkston's wins last week, the team got strong pitching and committed few errors. But in the losses, the hitting didn't come through and the squad gave up too many errors.

Against Ferndale, senior pitcher Jeff Mull, who is heading to Eastern Michigan University next fall on a baseball scholarship, dominated batters with 10 strikeouts while giving up only two hits and two walks. Senior Andy Everingham had a two-run double and went 1-for-3 on the day, while senior Marcus Teague added two RBI and went 1-for-2.

The Wolves lost a close one to West in the first game. Senior Scott Hill was solid on the mound (four hits and five strikeouts in the complete game) and the defense committed only two errors. But CHS could manage only two hits.

In the second game, it was a different story. The pitching wasn't great but the Wolves defense once again was tough and some players came up with clutch hits.

Four pitchers did the job for Clarkston, including junior Travis Pegg who got the win in 1 2/3rds innings of work. Senior Ryan Knake started the game and went 3 2/3rds innings and Teague went the final 2/3rds.

Senior Justin Morgan went 2-for-3 on the day, while senior Nate Manuel and Mull each went 1-for-2.

Against Athens, Clarkston managed to get eight hits but also committed eight errors.

Senior Jeff Lund went 2-for-2 while senior Jeff Bemis, junior Dennis Busch, Everingham and senior Rob Hukka added one hit each.

Clarkston couldn't keep pace with Rochester, despite Hill's 3-for-3 batting performance and Busch's complete game on the mound.

Mull and Everingham added one hit apiece.

The leaders

Hitting:

- * Sr. Dave Barth, .333 with 8 RBI.
- * Morgan, .333.
- * Lund, .310.
- * Mull, .289 with 13 RBI.

Pitching:

- * Mull, 3-2 record, 32 1/3 innings with 51 strikeouts and a 0.43 ERA.
- * Hill, 31 innings, 19 strikeouts and a 4.02 ERA.
- * Barth, 11 innings, 11 strikeouts and 3.81 ERA.

Oakland County qualifiers

The county meet is set for May 24 and the Wolves have the following athletes who qualified to run in the event: The 3200 and 1600 relay teams, Burklow in the 3200, 1600 and 800 runs, Herron in the 800, Maine and Cook in the 3200 and 1600 runs, Erickson in the long jump, and Powell in the shot put and discus.

Freshman girls meet

With only five of eight freshman girls healthy,

Clarkston still took second in the Oakland County Freshman Meet.

Top finishers were:

- * Wilson — 1st in the low and high hurdles, 2nd in high jump.
- * Erickson — 1st in the long jump, 5th in the 200 dash and top five place in the 100 dash.
- * Lauren Leigh — 5th in discus and 5th in 3200 run.
- * Krissy Robinson — 3rd in 800 run.
- * Jennifer Rooding — 6th in long jump and 3rd in the 400 dash.
- * 1600 relay also placed in the top five.

JV softball

The Wolves won eight games last week, while losing only once.

On May 13, Clarkston mercied Waterford Kettering 12-1. Sam Hardenburgh was the winning pitcher, striking out seven, while only allowing one walk and two hits. Beth Tuttle led the Wolves at the plate with three hits, including a grand-slam home run. She finished with five RBIs.

On May 14, the Wolves took both games of a doubleheader with Lapeer West, 8-7 and 5-3. Hardenburgh was the winning pitcher in both games. Corinne McIntyre was the offensive leader for Clarkston, collecting six hits and three RBIs.

On May 15, Clarkston defeated Lake Orion in a tough 6-5 game. Again, Hardenburgh picked up the victory for the Wolves. However, the win was not without drama. Entering the bottom of the seventh, the Wolves trailed 5-3. After Liz Harlton singled, Amber Mitchell homered to tie the score at 5. The game was decided when Lake Orion walked in the winning run a few batters later.

On May 16, the Wolves swept the Waterford Mott Corsairs, winning both games of a doubleheader. In the first game, Clarkston won 2-0. Carmen Lund and McIntyre accounted for five of the Wolves' nine hits, and batted in both of their runs. In the second game, the Wolves came out on top 7-2. Emily White's single to right center sparked the Wolves' three-run first inning. Nicole Buck batted in two more in the fifth on a single to right.

On May 18, the Wolves finished in second place in Pool K of the Viking Tournament in West Bloomfield.

In game one, the Wolves mercied Marian 10-0. Hope Manuel, Allison Prudhomme, Tuttle and Lund each had two hits. In game two, the Wolves were mercied by Brighton 10-0. The game was close at 2-0 in the fifth when Brighton broke it open with 8 runs on 6 hits. The Wolves stranded 8 baserunners.

The Wolves won game three over Rochester 11-4. Angie Thompson, Tracy Tomkiewicz, Tuttle and Lund each had three hits, while Hardenburgh picked up the win to improve to 12-3 overall.

The Wolves are now 10-1 in the league, and in first place. Overall, they are 20-3 with four games left. They play Troy, Brandon and West Bloomfield this week.

JV baseball

The Wolves won three and lost two this week, bringing their record to 9-5 overall.

On May 13, the Wolves crushed Ferndale 14-0. Josh Clark was the story of the game, pitching a no-hitter while striking out 11. Nick Upchurch led Clarkston with three hits and three RBIs, while John Drallos had two doubles and three RBIs. Phil Johnston and Jared Thomas had two hits apiece.

On May 14, the Wolves split a doubleheader with Lapeer West. In the first game, the Wolves lost 10-2. Clark, Thomas, Jeff Oliver and Mike Little got the Wolves' only hits, and Ryan Dudek got the only RBI. The Wolves walked 13 batters and walked in five runs.

"We made some costly errors and couldn't get the ball over the plate," said Coach Jerry Ostrom.

In the second game, the Wolves won 5-1. Jeff Drolshagen got the big hit, a bases-loaded double driving in three runs. Clark, Nick Giroux, Spencer Hynes and Eric Jenks had the other Clarkston hits. Matt McInnis was stellar on the mound, striking out the first eight batters he faced and only allowing one hit.

On May 15, the Wolves defeated Troy Athens 4-3. Drolshagen, Bryan Herzog and Upchurch had two hits each for Clarkston. Hynes pitched 6-2/3 innings, giving up seven hits and striking out five. Jared Thomas came in to get the save, striking out the final batter on three straight pitches.

On May 17, the Wolves lost to Rochester 5-0, in a game in which the Wolves made eight errors. Little had two hits for Clarkston, and Drallos, Oliver and Hynes had the others. Thomas pitched, allowing seven hits, and striking out six.

The Wolves are now 9-5 with a team batting average of .302.

Freshman softball

The Wolves lost their only game last week to Waterford Mott 10-0. Anne Underwood and Meghan Hodges collected the only two hits for Clarkston. Hodges pitched for the Wolves, who are now 4-6 with their last game this week against Lake Orion.

Freshman baseball

The freshman baseball team played solid in games May 7 and May 9. They beat Brandon May 7 16-6 and West Bloomfield May 9 in a rain-shortened 8-2 game.

Against Brandon, Dan Friedline relieved Andy Hemming in the first inning and finished the game with eight strikeouts while giving up only six hits. Tim Loveless was 6-for-6 at the plate and Jason Brososke went 3-for-6 with four RBI. Nate Jerdon also had four RBI.

Against West Bloomfield, Jake Noel took the mound and allowed only two runs on two hits as the squad piled up six runs in the third inning. In the top of the fourth inning, however, the game was rained out with the score 8-2.

Brings You 10 Tips
On...

HEALTHY HABITS FOR SPRING GARDENING

The best preparation for spring gardening is a back properly conditioned by exercises and good posture all year 'round, advises Dr. Deehl. When you garden let your legs and arms do the work instead of your back. This accomplishes three things: helps reduce your chance of causing back pain and injury, strengthens your arms and legs, and makes your gardening easier.

1. Warm up with a brisk walk or light running to loosen your muscles and increase your musculoskeletal systems flexibility.
2. Know your strengths and limitations. Do not overexert.
3. When weeding, get down on your knees rather than bending or twisting from the waist. Don't stand and bend over repeatedly.
4. Keep your back straight when you stand up from a sitting or crouched position.
5. Lift dirt and debris by letting your arms, legs and thighs carry the load. Keep your back straight and bend your knees. Handle only manageable loads at a time.
6. Use long-handled tools to keep you from stooping while raking, digging or mowing. Don't stoop when pushing a wheelbarrow.
7. Switch hands frequently when doing prolonged raking, hoeing or digging. Repetitive motion on one side can bring on low back pain and shoulder spasms.
8. Don't work too long in one position, especially one that is awkward or unusual. This can cause muscle imbalance.
9. Carry objects close to your body, so as not to risk straining your neck and lower back.
10. Don't overexpose your self to long periods in the sun without protection of the head and body. Take frequent breaks.

A funeral service was held May 21 at Shirley Brothers Mortuary in Indianapolis, IN. Interment was at Memorial Park Cemetery, Indiana.

Arrangements were made by the Lewis E. Wint & Son Trust 100 Funeral Home in Clarkston.

Memorials may be made to the American Heart Association.

Rev. Edward Dowling

The Rev. Edward J. Dowling, S.J., 89, of Clarkston, died May 18, 1996 at the Colombiere Jesuit Community Center in Clarkston.

Father Dowling was a Catholic priest and a member of the Chicago province of the Jesuit order. He was born Sept 19, 1906 in Rockford, IL and graduated from Loyola Academy in 1926 and Loyola University of Chicago in 1930.

Father Dowling entered the Jesuits in summer 1930 at the Milford Novitiate, Milford, OH and concluded his priestly studies at West Baden College in West Baden, IN. He was ordained at West Baden in 1940.

Before joining Colombiere in 1993 as a teacher of health care, he taught engineering graphics at the University of Detroit Mercy for 30 years. He had expected to teach the subject only through World War II, but was there for at total of 51 years as a full-time, then part-time teacher.

As a child Father Dowling was taken with a toy boat on wheels which grew into a love of shipping. His father took him to see the big boats on Lake Michigan. That fueled his interest to eventually become a well-known authority on the history of travel and commercial shipping on the Great Lakes. He wrote a book, "Lakers of World," published by the University of Detroit Press in 1967, and numerous magazine articles on Great Lakes shipping.

He is renowned for his paintings which reflect the ore boats which plied the waters between the iron ranges of Minnesota and the steel towns along the lakes.

At the time of his death, he was also known to have the largest personal collection of Great Lakes shipping memorabilia, now housed at the University of Detroit Library. He was presented with the American Merchant Marine Museum's Nathaniel Bowditch Maritime Scholar Award in 1993. Father Dowling was the first Great Lakes scholar to receive the award, which is given to those who have made a major contribution to the field of maritime scholarship.

Visitation is today (Wednesday) from 6 to 9 p.m. in the Colombiere chapel. Mass of Christian burial will be May 23 at 10:45 a.m., also in the chapel. Interment will be at the Colombiere Jesuit Cemetery immediately following the Mass.

Ruth McMillan

Ruth A. McMillan, 74, of Davisburg, died May 20, 1996.

Mrs. McMillan was a member of Waterford Township Church of Christ.

She was preceded in death by her husband Floyd. She is survived by three sons, James (Helen) and Jerry (Lorrie), both of Rochester Hills, and John (Diane) of Davisburg; six grandchildren, Bobbie Sue (James) Stevens, Steve (Christina), Becky (Chuck) Butkovich, Mike (Jill), Michele (Joe) Kirts and Jennifer; 15 great-grandchildren; and a sister, Pauline Green of Indiana.

A funeral service was held today (Wednesday) at the Lewis E. Wint & Son Trust 100 Funeral Home in Clarkston with Dave Parks officiating. Interment was at Ottawa Park Cemetery.

Rozeta Simion

Rozeta Simion, 95, of Clarkston, formerly of Dearborn, died May 19, 1996.

Ms. Simion was a past member of St. Peter & Paul Romanian Orthodox Church in Dearborn.

She is survived by a son, Robert (Mary) of Clarkston; two grandchildren, Evan (Laura) Simion and Grete (Thomas) Martin; two great-grandchildren, Jeffrey and Emily Martin; and four nieces.

A funeral mass was held May 23 at the Lewis E. Wint & Son Trust 100 Funeral Home in Clarkston with Father John Mahout officiating. Interment was at Woodmere Cemetery.

Memorials may be made to the Michigan Humane Society.

Knob Notes

By Eileen Oxley

Honest Money

Two tickets to Paradise — that song of the same name and "Baby, Hold On" — were enough to catapult Eddie Money to a smash debut in the '70s.

And with it came the price that often follows instant success — drugs, booze, wild living.

But the tough, no-nonsense but refreshingly introspective singer, who often rakes hair from his tortured brow while performing, has matured. Once known for his antics as much off stage than on as a member of the "bad boys of rock" club, he's now a devoted family man. "I peeled the potatoes before I left this morning," he quips.

He and his wife Laurie are looking forward to their fifth child and he takes dares with surfing and mountain biking, not drugs.

Raised in a New York working-class home, Money wove his raw, street-wise ways into his lyrics and music which have continued to be tinged with honesty. After his 1977 breakthrough the hits racked up — "Shakin'," "Think I'm In Love" and "Gimme Some Water." His albums "Can't Hold Back," "Life For The Taking" and "Playing For Keeps" went gold and platinum.

He followed with a Greatest Hits package, went acoustic with "Unplug It In" and dedicated his last album "Right Here," which featured the single "I'll Get By," to his late manager Bill Graham, founder of Wolfgang Records.

Eddie Money

Money opted to leave long-time label Columbia Records and return to Wolfgang where he recently recorded his new CD, "Love & Money." As always, his songs reflect an autobiographical bent but are open to subjective interpretation.

Says the rocker, who once eeked out a living selling bell bottoms and did a brief stint with Big Brother and the Holding Company after the death of Janis Joplin, "I made it because I feel that I still have something to say. It's just different than what I had to say four or eight or twelve years ago."

Eddie Money takes the Pine Knob stage Saturday, May 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Ever wonder why baseball games consist of 9 innings instead of say, 8 or 10 or some other number?... In the early days of baseball, teams played any number of innings... The winner of a game then was the first team to score 21 runs, regardless of how many innings were played... That rule wasn't changed until 1857 when it was decided to limit the game to a specific number of innings... Nine innings were picked to represent the 9 men on a team.

Here's an amazing pitching feat... It happened in a minor league game in 1952 when Ron Necciai of Bristol in the Appalachian League not only pitched a no-hitter, but struck out all 27 men!... He got all three outs in every inning by strike outs!

What are the most runs ever scored by one team in one big league baseball game?... The record is 36, by the Cubs in a game in 1897.

I bet you didn't know... Oxford Cinemas has three auditoriums, showing first run movies and Tuesdays are Bargain Days!

ANNUAL SCHOOL ELECTION

NOTICE OF ANNUAL ELECTION OF
THE ELECTORS OF
CLARKSTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS
OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN
TO BE HELD
JUNE 10, 1996

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE SCHOOL DISTRICT:

Please Take Notice that the annual election of the school district will be held on Monday, June 10, 1996.

The polls of election will open at 7 o'clock in the morning and close at 8 o'clock in the evening.

At the annual school election there will be elected two (2) members to the board of education of the district for full terms of four (4) years ending in 2000.

The following persons have been nominated to fill such vacancies:

Peter J. Bertling
Barry D. Bomier
Richard J. Crigger
Karen E. Foyteck
Mary Ellen McLean
Robert J. Wyatt

TAKE FURTHER NOTICE THAT the following proposition will be submitted to the vote of the electors at the annual school election:

OPERATING MILLAGE RENEWAL PROPOSAL NON-HOMESTEAD AND NON-QUALIFIED AGRICULTURAL PROPERTY TAX

This millage will allow the school district to continue to levy not more than the statutory rate of 18 mills against non-homestead and non-qualified agricultural property required for the school district to receive its revenue per pupil foundation guarantee.

Shall the limitation on the amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property, excepting therefrom homestead and qualified agricultural property as defined by law, in Clarkston Community Schools, Oakland County, Michigan, be increased by 18 mills ($18.00 on each $1,000.00) on taxable valuation for a period of 10 years, 1996 to 2005, inclusive, to provide funds for operating purposes; the estimate of the revenue the school district will collect if the millage is approved and levied in the 1996 calendar year is approximately $3,342,820 (this being a renewal of millage which expired with the 1995 tax levy)?

OAKLAND COMMUNITY COLLEGE REGULAR BIENNIAL ELECTION

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that the Regular Biennial Election of Oakland Community College, Michigan, will be held at the same time and at the same voting places as the annual school election on Monday, June 10, 1996, and will be conducted by the same school officials for those electors of the community college district residing in this school district.

At the Regular Biennial Election there will be elected two (2) members for the office of Community College District Trustee for full terms of six (6) years ending June 30, 2002.

The following persons have been nominated to fill such vacancies:

A night for glamour

Winter finally ended Friday, just in time for the 1996 Clarkston High School prom. And as is the custom here, prom-goers gathered in Depot Park for photos before the big event.

As predicted by the fashion experts at Hudson's, dresses were shimmery, silhouettes were classic, and long dresses dominated. And as always, elegance ruled the night. Think Audrey Hepburn.

Judging by our photos, upswept hair was in for the girls. All in all, it was quite a contrast from the daily school grind (for boys and girls alike) of baggy jeans, loose-fitting T-shirts or sweatshirts, and athletic shoes.
