Lest we forget...

Clarkston remembers vets

The theme of Monday's Memorial Day services at Lakeview Cemetery was freedom—and just how much some have sacrificed so we may all enjoy it.

Set aside as a day of remembrance since 1868, Memorial Day has traditionally been the time to decorate the graves of those who have died in defense of their country. And in Independence Township, it is the tradition to read the names of all the veterans who have lived here or are buried here—some 500 names this year, dating all the way back to the Revolutionary War.

Independence Township Supervisor Dale Stuart made the keynote address. Noting that over one million people have died in wars fought by the USA, he said, "We have so many freedoms... Yet all too often we take our freedoms for granted... We literally stand on the shoulders of these our brothers and sisters."

Stuart then delivered the traditional reading of the Gettysburg Address, itself delivered by President Lincoln as he dedicated a cemetery to the dead of the Civil War battle where 50,000 people died in three days.

The ceremony wound to a close with a song, "Tenting on the Old Campground," which spoke of the hard times of a soldier's life and the longing for peace. After a rifle volley, two jets flew low overhead just as the ceremony was ending. "Let us not forget our real American heroes" was the final prayer.

Contract awarded for fire, EMS dispatch, services

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

No longer will Independence Township firemen be relegated to dispatch duties. From now on a professional dispatch service will take the burden off the department.

After years of research and study, fire chief Gar Wilson recommended the fire department contract dispatch services with A.M.R. of Michigan. The township's board of trustees unanimously approved Wilson's proposal at its May 21 meeting.

"What I've been having problems with is that we are having three or four runs at the same time," Wilson said, "and we still have to have someone covering dispatch. We need that extra person for runs."

Wilson said AMR, while not the lowest bidder, suits his department's needs best because they are an emergency medical service, which also dispatches for the fire departments of Franklin and Brandon, and the ambulance services of Genesee, Oakland and Wayne.

He said that 75 percent of his department's runs are medical related. AMR was the only non-police agency dispatcher that bid on the project.

The cost for AMR's service is $24,000 with a one-time charge of $1,500 for a desktop radio.

The Oxford Police Department, which owns its own dispatch service, bid $15,300 with $2,500 charge for radio installation and other costs.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department also said they could offer services, with an estimate of around $32,000.

Despite Oxford being the lowest bidder, Wilson said AMR was preferred because of several other factors. The comparisons that Wilson said tipped the scales in AMR's favor include:

- * Oxford has $5 million in insurance; AMR has $100 million. The OCSD requires municipalities to carry their own insurance.

- * Oxford uses the CLEMIS system through Oakland County, the OCSD uses the CLEMIS system and AMR uses the more flexible computer aided dispatch.

- * Personnel coverage greatly favored AMR. Oxford has two employees during the day shift and one at night; AMR has 10 employees during the day and four at night, while the OCSD has six during the day and five at night.

- * Oxford dispatches for its own police and fire, while OCSD dispatches for Highland, Groveland and Addison fire departments, and its own sheriff's department.

"It was a tough decision but I've already said some of the reasons why we should go with AMR," said Wilson.

The news in brief

School board to visit candidates' districts

The top two candidates to become the next superintendent of Clarkston schools each spent a day in Clarkston last week, culminating with 90-minute, second-round interviews with the board of education.

Members of the board will now visit the home districts of Richard Layne, of Hillsdale, and Al Roberts, of Pepper Pike, Ohio. Delegations are scheduled to visit Hillsdale on May 31 and Ohio on June 4. They will spend an entire day in each district talking to residents, school employees and others about the candidates.

Board president Bill Craig said last week the board could reach a decision by its June 10 meeting.

"We originally hoped to have a new superintendent agreed to by June 1. But it looks like we're going to miss that by about a week," he said. After choosing a new superintendent, contract negotiations will begin.

Current superintendent Gary Haner's retirement takes effect June 30.

Purse snatcher wore Roller Blades

An 83-year-old Waterford woman was knocked down Monday outside the Farmer Jack store on Dixie Highway and her purse stolen by a young man wearing Roller Blades.

The victim, who received no serious injuries, had just left the store and was pushing her shopping cart to her car when attacked from behind. A witness said the attacker was a white male, 18-22 years old, tall, thin and clean cut who had been hanging around the store prior to the attack. He was wearing a green sports jacket and a baseball cap at the time of the incident. The purse contained $40, some credit cards and identification.

Absentee ballots available

Applications are now available for absentee ballots for the June 10 school election. Voters will select two representatives each on the Clarkston and Oakland Community College boards of education, as well as vote on an 18-mill non-homestead property tax renewal.

Any registered voter who will be unable to go to the polls June 10 may request an absentee ballot from the Independence Township clerk's office. Deadline for mailing out ballots is Saturday, June 8 at 2 p.m. However, those qualified to vote absentee may vote in the clerk's office until 4 p.m. on Monday, June 10.

Dog license deadline

The deadline for purchasing 1996 Oakland County dog licenses is May 31.

All dogs over the age of six months are required by law to be vaccinated against rabies and wear a license at all times. The cost of a new license is $15; $7.50 if your dog is spayed/neutered. Licenses are available at local municipal offices, veterinary clinics and at the Oakland County Animal Care Center on Brown Rd. in Auburn Hills.

After May 31, delinquent licenses will cost $30 and a dog census will begin June 3, with door-to-door canvassing to verify vaccination and licensing.

The best game in town

By Darrel W. Cole

● In case you haven't read the rest of this newspaper yet, our own esteemed Governor John Engler came by our tiny office on Main Street to say hi and give us an exclusive chat.

OK, he was really in town to show his support for Congressional candidate Pat Nowak, a township resident. Anyway, we (meaning myself and editor Annette Kingsbury) got a chance to sit down with his stateness May 22.

While Clarkstonites everywhere were doing backflips at the Guv's visit, it should come as no surprise he came toting Nowak. In the past two 9th Congressional races, Megan O'Neill-Nini, another hometown person, couldn't muster enough support to beat longtime incumbent Dale Kildee, the Democrat and nemesis of Republicans everywhere who owns Flint-area voters.

And in our half hour conversation, the Guv got in his shots at Kildee early. But that should come as no surprise as the Guv and GOP supporters everywhere must be wondering what they have to do to beat the seemingly invincible Congressman, despite his low voter support in this area.

The GOP put its hope in hometown girl O'Neill-Nini the last two times. Now they're passing the torch to hometown boy Nowak.

● The major bit of news in the township races is all the scuttlebutt about who is supporting whom among candidates. No one is saying for sure where those alliances fall, but based on past history and relationships, some of the alliances should be obvious.

It seems supporters of supervisor Dale Stuart are drawing the most attention, with some candidates "upset" that the incumbent won't endorse them. Everyone who talks to me wants to know who Stuart is endorsing. While no official announcements have been made, we can see who won't be running by his side.

It's been written and said before that communication has been a problem between the current clerk, treasurer and supervisor, so we can be assured Stuart, Joan McCrary and John Lutz won't align themselves with one another.

And we know Mel Leroy Vaara and Stuart won't be slapping fives anytime soon because they are both running for supervisor, not to mention at opposite ends of most issues. It does seem, however, that Vaara and McCrary are aligning themselves together.

Stuart's most obvious supporter is trustee candidate Neil Wallace, a local attorney, whose several letters to newspapers unabashedly show his support for Stuart. There is also some truth to the fact that clerk candidate Sheila Hughes is another Stuart ally.

We've also heard of other alliances, but you can bet as this election moves on exactly who supports (likes) who will be more and more obvious.

● Speaking about Stuart: His challenger, Mel Leroy Vaara will — at some point — bring up the fact that Stuart is still a practicing attorney. Vaara will say he's retired and can devote all his time to the job, allowing citizens to have access to him at all times.

Stuart, on the other hand will ably defend himself. He's said before he works 40-50 hours a week as supervisor and hasn't taken one sick day or more than a few days of vacation since he's been in office.

Don't call him expressionless: Governor John Engler reacts to questions put to him at the News.

Engler stops by for a chat

Governor John Engler stopped by The Clarkston News office May 22 on his way to a Patrick Nowak fund-raiser at the Clarkston Mills building. For about a half-hour, he fielded questions from editor Annette Kingsbury and reporter Darrel W. Cole.

Covering a wide range of topics, both national and state, Engler showed he was comfortable taking on President Clinton and got in a few plugs for Senator Bob Dole, Clinton's expected challenger this fall. Though he didn't talk about becoming vice president, he mentioned spending a lot of time in Washington lately.

NEWS: ARE YOU HOPING COMMUNITIES WILL COME UP WITH MORE CREATIVE WAYS TO FIX ROADS, LIKE INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP IS DOING TO GET SASHABAW IMPROVED?

ENGLER: "I believe we need better roads in Michigan. I believe we need to fix more of the roads we have; we need to build roads that have not been completed."

During my administration we've saved $100 million a year in annual operating costs (in the Department of Transportation). That's money that's been plowed back into building more roads, fixing more roads. We've actually doubled the performance; we've been doing twice as many miles under my administration as was the goal of the previous administration. So we feel like we've made some headway.

We have a lot of roads, a lot of infrastructure getting older. So not only do we have to continue to make progress with the same dollars stretching further, but hopefully we'll make a greater investment. We've seen our fuel tax drop to about the bottom five in the nation. Tax per gallon is less here than in 45 other states. I like low taxes but we probably are going to have to look at fuel taxes.

One of the issues, and why there's been a delay, is there's been a debate about where the money goes after it's raised by the legislature. For every dollar they raise, 70 percent is returned to counties and cities and villages. Only 30 cents on the dollar remains in Lansing to work on the state system and state projects. So I've argued that if any increase in fuel taxes, for every dollar raised, at least a penny must be set aside for retiring the debt, the bonds for the projects we've been building... and a penny must be set aside to work on bridges.

NEWS: SINCE SOME OF THE NEW FEDERAL GAS TAX WAS EARMARKED FOR DEFICIT REDUCTION, SHOULD IT BE REPEALED?

ENGLER: I think Senator Dole's right to cut the gas tax because the federal gas tax, 4.3 cents, never should have been raised in the first place for deficit reduction. It is a tax that has historically been for a specific purpose, building and maintaining highways and roads. To have the federal government try to use up what is largely a state revenue source because they can't balance their books, can't make the tough decisions in Washington, is absurd.

We fought the '93 tax increase because it made no sense. My only concern would be that they not repeal it temporarily, but permanently. I believe if they repeal it temporarily it's permanently repealed because they'll never let it come back.

The idea of Clinton releasing (oil) reserves, that needs to be explained to the public for what it is. We purchased those oil reserves when oil prices were very high because we thought we were going to run out of oil. Nobody's suggesting we're going to run out of oil now. We're releasing them at a loss in effect over our purchase price.

All the relief makes enough oil to run the nation for about 18 hours. Not a big deal; surely not something that's going to have any lasting impact on the price of oil or the price of gasoline, probably more significant is the negotiations the United Nations are having with Iraq to provide humanitarian aid and allow it to sell oil.

I don't think this is a big part of the deficit solution. If Bob Dole is president it's irrelevant to debt retirement. Washington could eliminate their deficit if they simply held spending to the rate of inflation. If we could get anywhere close to the same amount of money with a lot more flexibility, we could do a lot more.

NEWS: THE LEGISLATURE IS LOOKING AT CHANGING THE NO-FAULT DIVORCE LAW. WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT THE PACKAGE BEING PROPOSED?

ENGLER: Where there are children involved I think you have an interest to try to do more to try to protect the rights of the children, almost have the children be a party of interest. The legislature is

OTC students can now earn college credit

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Anyone who's bought a new car lately can tell you it's not your grandfather's Model T any more.

Today's cars have all the latest electronic components, from flashing lights to tell you when your gas is low to computer modules to diagnose problems on-board. For the driver, it's great. For the mechanics dealing with the cars, it means a lot more to learn.

Lee Johnson, who teaches the automotive electronics curriculum at the Oakland Technical Center Northwest, keeps a sign up in his classroom, right behind his desk. It points out that in 1965, a good mechanic needed to know 5,000 pages worth of material. Now, that number has jumped to nearly half a million pages. Obviously, memorizing just isn't going to cut it any more. And graduating and going directly into a good-paying mechanic job is out now too.

"Where I used to be able to get students jobs right out of high school... He's got to go two years beyond this (now)," Johnson said.

That is about to become a lot easier for Johnson's students. OTCNW has just signed an articulation agreement with Delta College, a two-year community college in Saginaw, that will allow successful students to transfer in with 27 credits—about one year's worth. Another three credits in technical math are still in the final approval stages.

"This program is the only one of its kind offered to high-school students in the state," Johnson said.

The agreement means students serious about a career in the field now have a close-to-home college to attend, instead of having to seek out far-flung, mostly private schools. And students will be able to save about $2,000 in tuition due to the transfer of credits.

Jon Keefe of Delta College said though the school has participated in such partnerships since the early 1980s in the Saginaw Bay area, this is the first time one has gone this far. Generally, students have only been offered one semester of credit through the agreements.

Lee Johnson stands in front of a row of what he calls "my textbooks"—auto shop manuals.

"What we're doing in Oakland is advanced," he said.

The new offering is made possible by the fact that national certification is now available, and is considered desirable by the state, for both the high-school and college programs. If both programs are certified by NATEF, the National Automotive Technician Excellence Foundation, it means both schools have met the same standards and the credits can be swapped.

"It's going to give additional students to Delta College for its program, and all schools want that," Keefe said. "But the real winner here is going to be the student, because the student is going to gain skills."

Keefe said that very soon other skills areas are expected to be certified, including math and English. These college credits will ultimately be transferrable to a four-year college.

"We're extremely proud of Mr. Johnson," said Mary Kay Aukee, assistant principal at OTCNW. "The key is he has continued to be updated, continued to be upgraded. He has changed his program continually to meet the standards of business."

Parents, as well as students, are expected to be excited about the new development. No qualifying tests will be required to receive the credits from Delta. Students will be able to complete college sooner and begin their careers. And parents will be able to save one year's worth of tuition. All that's needed to get in to the program is Johnson's recommendation.

"You're going to have to show me what you can do," Johnson said. "I'm looking for a well-rounded student... It takes a smarter student to work on those (newer) cars."

The reward has the potential to be great. Contrary to earlier times, mechanics make good money now, Johnson said, remembering one graduate who's now working for Saturn making $35,000 a year.

Though Johnson's classes are generally full, at about 18 per class, Aukee says they'd be happy to have more.

"We would love to have a waiting list; we would love to take it as far as we can," she said.

And she hopes that in the future, similar agreements can be made with other schools for other programs.

"Certainly our dream would be to have an articulation agreement with Lawrence Tech," she said.

Deja vu: attendance boundaries resurrected

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Julia Colpaert's daughter attended Pine Knob Elementary School last year. This year, she attended Springfield Plains. Next year, if all goes according to plans, she'll attend Andersonville. And the year after that, as a middle-schooler, she'll move on again.

Her mother, and some other parents, think that's too many moves, and they were expected to appear before the Clarkston board of education Tuesday night to plead their case.

"I think people had better go to this meeting," Colpaert said last week.

Thanks to growth that shows no sign of letting up, redistricting of elementary school students has been a more or less constant thorn in the side of the board of education of late. The district completely realigned attendance boundaries before Springfield Plains opened two years ago but since then, growth has outpaced the district's ability to keep up, and minor tinkering with those boundaries has been undertaken.

Last fall, with the blessing of the board of education, a committee of residents drew up a policy regarding attendance areas. That policy, which was adopted by the board, put top priority on students attending neighborhood schools but also stated that student populations in each school should be distributed equitably.

Since overcrowding is expected to last at least until a new school can be built, the administration has proposed a few boundary adjustments for fall, in addition to the purchase of up to 10 portable classrooms. Those adjustments, which will move about 70 students from Springfield Plains to Andersonville, have not set well with the affected parents.

At a meeting last week at Andersonville, deputy superintendent Mike LaBay and principal Bill Potvin explained the administration's plans to about 16 parents in the Maceday Lake area whose children will be affected by the change. Potvin said the meeting was "well controlled, no tempers or anything. But it was clear they have concerns about their kids having to move again."

Potvin and LaBay fielded questions about the proposal and then gave parents an opportunity to look around the school, meeting teachers and sitting in their classrooms.

"I was thankful we had an opportunity to tell about our school," Potvin said.

However, Colpaert, a 10-year resident of the school district, wasn't impressed by what she saw.

"We cannot believe Dr. LaBay when he says they'll have no problems shooting the kids through the lunchroom," she said. Citing fears about class size and the condition of the school, she noted that portables will be needed to house the children being transferred, no matter where they go. "The portables will follow us," she said.

Colpaert would prefer that the district do nothing about changing attendance boundaries until after a decision is made by the voters on a bond issue expected to be put on the ballot this fall. And she feels longtime residents are being treated like second-rate citizens so new residents in big, expensive homes close to Springfield Plains can go to the new school.

"That's what this whole story is about—out with the old, in with the new," she said. "Springfield Plains would have been over capacity even without us. We are not the reason this happened. It's all the new people moving in."

The board of education was expected to take action on the administration's recommendation Tuesday night, as well as put the finishing touches on the ballot proposal. Potvin said last week it was urgent the matter be resolved as soon as possible.

"We expect a final decision on Tuesday. In fact I pray every night for it. If they wait until June 10 (the next board meeting) it's almost impossible. Every teacher has to be notified of their probable assignment before they leave (for the summer)."

Potvin said the new students would be easily accommodated at Andersonville, the district's smallest school by far.

"There's absolutely no down side to Andersonville getting 76 more kids," he said. Yet he understands parents concerns about the constant shifting of their children.

"As Dr. LaBay said, this isn't our best decision, but it's our least bad decision."

Springfield announces school precinct changes

Residents of the Clarkston school district who live in Springfield Township may be voting in a new location for the June school election.

Where there used to be only one location for voting in school elections in Springfield, now there are three. Precinct 3 will vote at Andersonville Elementary School. Precinct 4 will vote at the Oakland Technical Center on Big Lake Rd. And Precincts 5 and 6 will vote at Springfield Plains Elementary.

The precinct boundaries were re-aligned to deal with population growth. At the June election, voters will elect two trustees to the Clarkston board of education, two trustees to the Oakland Community College board of trustees, and vote on an 18-mill non-homestead property-tax renewal.

In Focus

by Annette Kingsbury

They can't both be right

Last week in this reporter's life brought an odd juxtaposition.

On Tuesday, I listened as Richard Layne, a finalist in the hunt for a new school superintendent, was interviewed by the board of education. When asked by trustee Tom Howard what he thinks is the most pressing issue facing American public schools today, Layne gave this answer:

"Children are not a high enough priority on the national agenda. Close to that is the problem of poverty. If children were really and truly a top priority in this country, we would not have the problem of poverty, because we wouldn't tolerate it."

The very next day, Governor John Engler visited the offices of The Clarkston News and sat for a half-hour interview with my co-worker Darrel Cole and I. Now, everyone knows by now that welfare is one of the governor's favorite topics, and he wasted no time getting to it.

"The strength of the poverty lobby in Washington, the poverty industry is so great that Bill Clinton is not strong enough to overcome it," he said.

The poverty industry.

That phrase stuck with me, and later in the evening, I began to wonder just whom Engler was referring to. Who profits from poverty? While it might make a good sound bite on the six o'clock news, what does it really mean?

Having heard both of these diametrically opposed views within 24 hours of each other, the next thing I had to ask myself was who's right? Are we ignoring the most fundamental needs of our most needy children, or are we coddling their moms, giving them amloads of money and encouraging them to keep having more kids?

Layne's answer struck a chord with me; however I understand, having worked for the former Department of Social Services for several years, the frustration with the welfare system. But trying to hang a label on it that just doesn't fit isn't going to solve anything.

In the current mode of thinking sweeping this country today, there are a lot of bad people out there interfering with you and me getting ahead in life. There are those immigrants taking our jobs, and those welfare mothers taking food out of our own children's mouths. No one stops to think about the children those people are responsible for. In fact, children make up the single largest chunk of the population receiving welfare benefits.

Perhaps states need more flexibility in tailoring their own welfare programs. Perhaps policy-makers should spend a day as a caseworker before they start tinkering with things that will drastically affect people's lives. Perhaps we should be less hung up on catch phrases than on their effect on people.

I happen to agree with Layne. Until children get the right to vote, they will be the least equal of our citizens. They will never have a guaranteed income, like senior citizens, or guaranteed health care.

Whatever comes their way, it will be totally dependent on the adults who care for them, and their status in society. And therein lies the problem. Anyone who can come up with a solution to that problem gets my vote.

Horoscopes need disclaimer

During her reign as editor of The Clarkston News Jean Saile often gathered her fellow workers around the morning paper and they'd read their horoscopes. And they'd laugh.

I know there are followers of this cult who believe in it to the extent they even let their sign direct their lives.

Psychics like Sally Brompton, Joyce Jillson and Jeanne Dixon will talk to you for a buck a minute on their horoscope 900 lines.

I frequently read Leo (July 22-Aug 22) to see what I should expect for the day, but forget it by the time I read what the Bumsteads are doing on the comic page.

Semi-retirement has given me more reading time, so I started reading what our new granddaughter, Savannah Speed, should expect each day. Born November 12, she's a Scorpio.

Savannah Speed, all dolled up for a 6-month celebration.

If didn't take many readings before I came to the conclusion these horoscopes should come with a disclaimer, unless, of course, you can put a twist to them.

Like this one. "Cancel appointments that prevent you from seeing family. In-laws, an ex and cousins bring you financial opportunities." If Savannah's got an ex, then her parents have a case against Crittenton Hospital. Call Sam.

"Bottled up emotions inhibit your creativity. Talk to intimates who offer realistic projections about your future potential," another one reads.

Dear Miss Jillson, 6-month-olds don't have any bottled up emotions. They do, of course, have emotions, and it may have something to do with a bottle. Maybe that's close enough for psychics.

Another one. "You are close to the finish line and a victory. For once, put your emotional needs first. You are more capable of standing on your own than you think. Stress ends when you speak up about your problems."

Savannah can't stand up and apparently she still has her problems because she has yet to say her first words, which will probably be, "Hi Grandpa! Read any good horoscopes lately?"

This one is so far off the mark, Savannah deserves an apology as well as a disclaimer. "Your financial struggles are over, so enjoy prosperity! A long lost love returns, but there are major problems, so be brutally honest."

Savannah eats newspapers (Not the business page, Miss Jillson), numerous toys are prosperity, I suppose, but anyone who has seen Savannah would not have left, so therefore couldn't return.

But she is brutally honest. I found that out the one and only time I changed her.

We need a library board

Dear Editor,

Independence Township needs its own public library board headed by a group of volunteers who understand what it means to be a free public library in this technological age.

We don't need the men in authority who go around making unfavorable comments and quoting opinions about something they don't understand. They may know how to order a fire truck but they don't have the faintest idea about what it takes to run a library.

Listen to the voters for a change. We are an affluent community, but we hear about our neighbors who have better libraries - better millage, more books, more staff, more appreciation. We need our own library board.

Remember Andrew Carnegie. He spent millions of dollars and established 2,509 free public libraries. He loved the library and what it stands for. He would roll over in his grave if he could hear what's being said today.

A look back

15 YEARS AGO (1981)

Firefighters battle a Friday afternoon blaze that destroys the main building of the Moon Valley Rustic Furniture Co. on Dixie Highway. Originating in the rear, the fire is first spotted by employees and furniture store owner Ed Beattie. All vacate the building and no one is injured.

It's official. A Machus restaurant is coming to the Clarkston Mills Mall. After months of negotiations, an agreement is reached between Machus Enterprises and Mills co-owners Forrest Milzow, Dr. Gary Welch and Ed Adler. If all goes well, Foxy's at the Mill could open sometime in July. Martin Kreger, Machus executive vice president, says.

The Clarkston High School varsity softball squad stretches its victory string to nine with successive triumphs over Rochester, Waterford Kettering and Walled Lake Central. They improve their league record to 6-3 and 13-6 overall.

25 YEARS AGO (1971)

Memorial Day activities are announced for Clarkston. The parade will begin at the Salvation Army Church on Buffalo and Church streets at 10 a.m. and will end at the Veterans Plot at Lakeview Cemetery. Lynn Orlick, a high school senior, will deliver Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. Special music will be provided by a vocal group and the Clarkston High School Band will perform the National Anthem and the Battle Hymn of the Republic. Children will be treated with Popsicles when they return to the village.

Tim Detkowski, a fourth-grader at Andersonville Elementary School, wins the AAU Regional in wrestling May 8 at Kennedy Jr. High School in Pontiac. Tim wrestles six times, pinning five of his opponents and decisioning the last by a score of 11-0. He is now qualified to compete in the National AAU Tournament this July in Montana. Tim is coached by his older brother Rick, who is a sophomore and varsity wrestler at CHS.

50 YEARS AGO (1946)

News from "By The Way": In spite of the cool weather many folks left this week to spend a few days in the north fishing. Real optimists, I guess ... As summer approaches traffic will get heavier and heavier. It is hoped that safety will be uppermost in the mind of every driver ... In this district where there are so many lakes, it would be good for every child to know how to swim. Now is the opportune time to let your child get instructions from capable teachers. The Red Cross will have instructors at Deer Lake starting June 19 ... A community house for Clarkston is still common talk. It is something that this vicinity needs badly and something that perhaps could be realized if the whole community would work toward that goal ... This week builders started to put the roof on Les Howe's bowling alley on Dixie. It will seem good to have some good, clean recreation so close to Clarkston.

Michigan State College's 88th annual graduation exercises will be held for approximately 650 undergraduates and 28 advanced students at 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon, June 8, in the college auditorium. President John A. Hannah announces. Among the graduates for bachelor's degree is Malvina Smith of Clarkston.

60 YEARS AGO (1936)

A public notice announces the following: The Clarkston State Bank will be closed May 30 because of a legal holiday. No definite statement can be made as to the hours of the business places in Clarkston on Memorial Day. Some will close all day, some part of the day, and some will close for the afternoon. Cheeseman's Ice Cream parlor will open on Saturday.

Featured at the Holly Theatre are Jean Arthur and George Murphy in "The Public Menace," George O'Brien in "O'Malley of the Mounted," Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Myrna Loy in "Wife vs. Secretary" and Paul Muni and Josephine Hutchinson in "The Story of Louis Pasteur."

Specials at Rudy's this week include lard, two pounds for 25 cents; hamburger, two pounds for 29 cents; short ribs, 12 cents a pound; milk, three tall cans for 17 cents; Defiance or Jersey Corn Flakes, two large boxes for 19 cents; assorted Heinz soups; two cans for a quarter; and Sweet Heart Soap, a nickel a bar.

Thank you for caring

Thank you to all our many friends who have helped us through this time of overwhelming grief, when we lost our son, Brian.

We are still receiving cards, words of encouragement and memorial gifts that celebrate Brian's life and the myriad of joys he shared with us, his family, and all that he knew.

Thank you for your support, your caring and your concern.

Confidence in Crigger

Richard Crigger is seeking a trustee position on the Clarkston School Board. As a Waterford police lieutenant, he is very aware of the temptations and problems facing today's youth. He has considerable knowledge and experience regarding child safety and prevention issues.

Rick has been active in the community and for the past two years has accompanied Sashabaw Middle School 8th-graders to Washington, D.C. This year over 200 students participated and Rick was an enthusiastic leader who didn't even have a child attending. He enjoyed the kids so much last year when his son, Matt, participated, that he volunteered to give of his time again this year. I was certainly comforted to know that my own son was chaperoned by Rick.

His positive influence on our youth and leadership abilities will be an asset and he will provide a fresh perspective to the Clarkston School Board.

I urge your support for Richard Crigger on June 10.

People Poll

By Eileen Oxley

If you could ask the governor one question, what would it be?

STANLEY WHITE, CLARKSTON: How are the girls — And aren't you glad they resemble their pretty mother?

AUDREY TANNER, CLARKSTON: What is happening with the lotto money interest? Isn't it supposed to help our schools? Why couldn't it help the homeless?

ANN-MARIE MCCAFFERTY, CLARKSTON: Why are you using more privatization? I'm really upset about that. I have children and we've had problems with the buses ever since they started this — they don't get the same bus driver, they don't get picked up on time.

PAUL MACINTYRE, ORTONVILLE: Why are you doing your best to destroy the Department of Natural Resources? You keep cutting their funding and staff. Around $7 billion comes in to Michigan for tourism each year, a ton of that is from hunting and fishing.

STAN LENK, CLARKSTON: How in the heck do you manage those three babies? I have two of my own.

Habitat sets celebrity auction for September

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News staff Writer

It's Hammer Time.

Only this year the hammers are for Habitat, not the Pistons playoffs.

The Palace of Auburn Hills will be the site for a celebrity auction Sept. 25 to raise money for Habitat for Humanity of North Oakland. The organization's mission is "to build houses for everybody," said Paul Bennett, special events chair. The goal is to eliminate private housing and homelessness.

Members decided to "tool around" a little and conduct a "Hammers for Habitat" auction featuring autographed items from famous sports, entertainment and political figures as well as signed hammers and hand saws.

"It was Paul's vision for having the first major fundraising event, that being the auction and to have tools like hammers," said Augie Fernandes, publicity chair.

Already collected are a basketball autographed by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, hammers signed by Newt Gingrich and Dick Vitale and a firm commitment by — who else? — Mr. Toolman himself, Home Improvement's Tim Allen.

Also expected are signatures from players on all four professional Detroit sports teams. The Red Wings, for instance, have signed an "alumni saw."

Another goal is to get joint signatures on some of the hammers "that would be unique," said Fernandes. Naturally, they'd like to get "Leno and Letterman" on the same mallet and he says they're working on some big-name adversaries. In addition, the group hopes to add a few rounds of celebrity golf.

Hammers for Habitat has rented the entire Palace arena for the dinner auction which will be catered by Macchus. Participation will be by invitation and through ticket sales which start at $60.

The North Oakland Habitat for Humanity branch began in Clarkston, initiated a year ago by former Calvary Lutheran Evangelical Church assistant pastor Heidi Sommers.

"She always had an interest in habitat and said if she ever moved to a community she would do something about it," said Carol Eberhardt, board chair.

Soon there was a large group of volunteers who proved their commitment. Eberhardt said they met at least once a week for a year until their affiliate application was officially accepted May 1. In order to qualify as a branch, North Oakland Habitat had to also study demographics, estimate average residents' incomes, raise $3,000 from 15 different sources, hold a community-wide volunteer awareness event and form a relationship with the 550 churches in its jurisdiction from Square Lake Rd. to the Genesee County line.

Members were visible at every opportunity. Eberhardt said they spoke at meetings and marched in parades.

Habitat volunteers "build houses rights from the ground up," she said. "We sell the houses to families for the cost of materials with a no-interest loan. We become the mortgage company," she explained. In order to qualify, partner families (those with the designated income level) must provide 250 "sweat-equity" hours and come up with a $250-$500 down payment.

"We consider we're not a charity, but a helping hand. That's why we call our families partner families. We are very much part of the process. We will do this together," Eberhardt said.

Non-sectarian, but Christian in nature, Habitat's philosophy patterns "the Jesus theory of economics," which stems from the parable of the loaves and fishes as recorded in the Bible. Because the people had faith, a humble portion of fish and bread grew to feed multitudes.

"It's very much a faith-in-action work," Eberhardt said.

"Even though we are economically advantaged, with Oakland being one of the richest counties in the country, we don't think we have poverty. The reality of it is we do," she said.

One of the donors for Habitat for Humanity is renowned artist and lithographer James-Paul Brown. Brown is the official artist for the 1996 Olympics and expects to paint "the Dream Team."

In addition he is the official artist for the American Ballet Theatre, creates wine labels for California's Creston Vineyards and has painted portraits of the last three U.S. presidents, Reagan, Bush and Clinton.

So far, he's committed to signing a 1984 Los Angeles Olympics poster to Hammers for Habitat. It's a reproduction of the original Monet-like lithograph.

"But I'll probably donate more if they ask me," he said.

Hammers for Habitat is looking for help with the auction. Call Paul Bennett at (810) 625-3328 for more information.

SKIN DEEP

by Scott Friedman, D.O.

ADULT ACNE

Adults over the age of 20 who have breathed a sigh of relief that their days of breaking out in pimples are behind them should not be surprised if acne reappears or continues. More than 60% of women in their 20s and 30s get acne vulgaris, which tends to afflict the chest, neck, back, and lower part of the face. Stress, hormones, and heredity may play key roles in triggering excess production of sebum, the waxy oil that traps skin cells in the hair follicle to create a breeding ground for bacteria. Blemishes with little or no inflammation (graded one and two on a scale of four by dermatologists) may be cleared up with over-the-counter preparations. When pimples rate a three (definite inflammation) and four (cystic acne that may lead to scarring), the dermatologist's help should be enlisted for the prescription of oral or topical antibiotics or an even stronger vitamin-A derivative medication.

Acne is not a disease limited to adolescents; a growing number of adults are also afflicted with this challenging problem. Early intervention will improve one's appearance and reduce the probability of permanent scarring. Consult with a dermatologist. We are best able to advise and treat problems relating to this and to all types of skin disorders. My offices are located at: 6330 Sashabaw, Clarkston (625-0692); 3782 Lapeer Rd., Metamora (678-3974); and 3003 Baldwin, Orion (391-9599), and we offer specialized attention to all your skin concerns.

It's easy to guess which 2 players have hit the most home runs in big league baseball history — Hank Aaron and Babe Ruth — but who ranks No. 3, No. 4 and No. 5 on the all-time home run list? The man who hit the third-most homers in major league history, after Aaron and Ruth, is Willie Mays... No. 4 is Frank Robinson and No. 5 is Harmon Killebrew.

Which sports event in America draws the biggest one-day paid attendance every year? Answer is the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race... Their attendance ranges between 250,000 and 300,000 every year, and no other sports attraction gets that many paying fans at one time at the site of the event.

Has any player ever played ALL 9 positions in one major league baseball game? Oddly enough, it has happened... Bert Campaneris did it for the A's in a game in 1985, and Cesar Tovar did it for the Twins in a game in 1968.

Teacher wins mini-grant

Jeanne Gaff (center) of Clarkston, a teacher at Children's Village School in Pontiac, recently received a $150 mini-grant from the Detroit Edison Foundation. The money will be used for a classroom environmental project. The award was presented by Carla Gibbs of Edison and LaMoine Motz of Oakland Schools. Gaff is one of 147 educators in southeast Michigan who received this year's grants, which totalled $34,000. Another Clarkston resident, Greg Kopec of Abbot Middle School in West Bloomfield, also received a mini-grant.

A whole day of art? Awesome!

Sometimes timing is everything. Students at North Sashabaw Elementary participated in a Festival of Fine Arts marathon May 24 when they traded in their regular classes for a day of creativity.

It fit right in with the new art education program added to the curriculum in all six Clarkston elementary schools this year, said Parent Teacher Organization president Terri Bendes. "We said, 'Hey, we want to stick behind it.' We really pushed to get (art education) into the schools."

Festival of Fine Arts is one of three different themes the school offers on consecutive years, said Bendes, who organized the day with teacher Linda Zittel's help. On alternate years children enjoy science or multi-cultural days.

Children were asked to pick six activities they would like to participate in from a list of 21 choices. They got some pretty sophisticated ones like calligraphy, mime and African music.

"Now, let's see ... Where's that impressionist painting?" said first-grader Erik Webber as he hurried to a room.

Bow Pointe improvements to cost $255,000

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With a bid finally approved, the Bow Pointe Drive improvement project is underway.

The Independence Township Board of Trustees approved the lowest of 10 bids, which was $255,605, at its May 21 meeting. Ajax Paving Industries was awarded the contract.

Other bids came in as high as $337,000 from other companies.

Township engineer Randal Ford of Hubbell, Roth & Clark, said Ajax, in addition to having the lowest bid, is a very respected operation, as evidenced by their countless jobs with the Michigan Department of Transportation over the last few years.

Bow Pointe Drive, currently a narrow gravel road, will be expanded paved at the property owners' expense for the purpose of accessing vacant properties which are proposed for industrial and other business operations. Bow Pointe is located off Sashabaw Road, just south of Waldon Road.

Other board action

● In honor of being named Oakland County Officer of the Year, Detective Chuck Young, who works out of Independence Township's substation, was presented with a framed resolution by the board for his "outstanding performance and dedication as an officer for" the township.

● Township Treasurer John Lutz reported that the annual DPW Spring Clean Up (May 11 and 18) was again a success. On the first day, over 395 cars dumped off items, compared to 310 on the second day.

● The board unanimously approved the second reading and adoption of a revised lighting regulation. The revisions allow residents and businesses to be better protected from lighting that may cause a nuisance or safety hazard. The ordinance will only apply to new construction.

● Tentative preliminary plat approval was granted to Wedgewood of Clarkston (formerly known as Oak Hill Meadows).

Owners Cedar Grove Developers have six lots on 20 acres, located on the south side of Oak Hill Road, between Perry Lake Road and Sashabaw.

Because the subdivision holds large lots and it is in a "remote" area, township consultants recommend that money which would be used for safety path construction be placed in the township's safety path fund, as allowed under township ordinance.

● The rezoning of a 10-acre parcel on Eston Road was granted a first reading. The rezoning would change the parcel from R-1R (rural residential) to R-1C (suburban farms residential) and would comply with the township's master plan.

John and Julie Burt own the two five-acre parcels with a house on each. If given final approval at the board's next meeting on June 4, there could be four additional homes built.

● The parks and recreation department is posting for a labor position, due to the vacancy left by Sandra Miller's transfer to the township clerk's office. Miller is going to replace Pat Glowzinski, who is due to retire June 14. The labor position pays about $11 an hour.

REAL ESTATE UPDATE

$125,000 TAX SAVINGS

IF YOU'RE OVER 55, you are in for a great tax break when you sell your home.

27 S. Main, Clarkston
625-9300

QUESTION: Please explain the provision in the tax code which gives home sellers a tax exemption of up to $125,000 when they sell their home.

ANSWER: This is one of the best tax breaks for homeowners to come out of Washington in a long time. The law permits a once-in-a-lifetime exclusion of up to $125,000 of profit on a home sale. To qualify, an individual must be 55 years old and have owned and occupied the house for three out of the previous five years before the sale.

The tax change does not eliminate the previous rule which permits you to postpone profit if you buy a home that costs more than the one you sold within two years.

MONDAY, MAY 20: vandalism on Surrey Lane. A car was key-scratched and a side blinker lens was damaged.

Attempted break-in on Clarkston Rd. Someone apparently tried to gain entry by prying a storm window open.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 22: Injury accident on Main at Depot Rd.

THURSDAY, MAY 23: Non-injury accident on Main at Princess.

Cruelty to animal report on Surrey Lane. A resident called police to complain that a neighbor closed his sliding door on his dog and threw out a bicycle, which hit the dog. Police questioned the dog's owner who said a friend unknowingly closed the door on the dog's paw and that he had thrown the bicycle out of a second-story window because he didn't want to walk it out the door. Because the dog showed no signs of injury, police did not report the incident to Animal Control.

SATURDAY, MAY 25: Michigan State Police stopped a Clarkston man on Dixie at Andersonville Rd. and found he was wanted on an outstanding misdemeanor warrant out of Clarkston.

struggling with the issue because there's a clear sense there are too many divorces and too many children fall through the cracks because of the high number of divorces. They're looking at what can be done on the front end of a marriage, to say are you really sure... should we be requiring more pre-nuptial counseling. Then the issue of once the marriage, once the kids, and something happens and the marriage ends, how do you divide things up. You can see some limited introduction of fault that may be a factor in terms of the benefits...

We have a Friend of the Court package... that would make the state the primary party responsible for collecting child support. It would require there be more of an emphasis of the child in terms of how custody decisions are made and how it's enforced once agreed to in the divorce settlement. I think it's administratively far, far better...

And then we think, finally, you've got to be able to track down parents. Estimates are that there is over $2 billion in Michigan uncollected. I have pushed very hard to get a package of bills enacted that would also strike at other licenses that somebody in child support arrearages has... just because I think that obligation is so important.

NEWS: WHAT'S NEXT IN EDUCATION?

I think everyone needs to catch their breath. I think there's some consolidation of some of the things that are already in place and it's necessary.

I still as a general rule support more flexibility and freedom for local boards of education and schools... It's interesting, in the last rewrite of the school code, we literally have had people say "Don't free us up".

My goal is to see education get back to the core mission of educating children... Their revenues have been increasing at twice the rate of inflation, forever. Now their revenues are increasing at about the rate of inflation, and it's causing big trauma... I mean, auto companies are telling their suppliers we want you to do a better job at a lower price. We're hardly at that point with our public schools. But I'm of the opinion they can be more competitive. How can they reduce costs for their nonclassroom, noneducation costs. Some of those need to be reduced in order to support the classroom more effectively...

There's a change taking place and you're going to see it more as we get a turnover in administrators.

NEWS: WHAT ABOUT ADULT EDUCATION; WHAT'S THE BIG PICTURE?

Even after we get the changes I've been talking about, we will be number two in the nation in per capita spending. In adult education the key thing is I believe in second chances; I believe the system ought to support second chances. So how does that work?

For a young person to leave school... we ought to have a very direct incentive to get them back very quickly. Because the data is compelling. If you get somebody back very quickly after they leave school, they'll do better; there's a greater likelihood of success.

The young hoatzin, a bird that lives in South America, has claws on its wings. These claws help the bird climb trees before it can fly.

We would support having a full foundation grant for anyone under the age of 21 that comes back to school. So all schools would have the entitlement to have those students come back. But you get over 21... they're going to have dependents, so what I want to look at for that person is how do we get them to work? I still don't mind giving them educational opportunities, but work has to be a priority... They need to be supporting their family. If then they still need education, we should have programs that wrap around the work day—distance learning, in-plant classrooms. There are plenty of different ways to do that...

If the adult education program is for a 65-year-old man or woman who's had a busy life but never did graduate from school and now kind of wants to do something interesting, then you've got to say is that the top priority for a state expenditure... I think the proposal we've made is fair, and it's productive."

Girls track team wins OAA title outright

Streak continues; state finals next stop

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

For the eleventh time in 12 years, Gordie Richardson's girls track squads have won or tied for the league/division title.

The Clarkston girls track team continued their dominance May 21 with a first-place finish at the Oakland Activities Association Division II championships. CHS scored 126 points, followed by Waterford Mott's 105 points. Troy Athens was next with 74, host team Lake Orion had 67, Berkley 60 and West Bloomfield 59.

Also last week the Wolves finished sixth out of almost 30 teams at the Oakland County Meet, held May 24 at Lakeland High School. The county champion was Troy, followed by Southfield, Rochester Adams, South Lyon and Farmington Harrison.

"It always feels good to win," said Richardson, who was just named Oakland County Track Coach of the Year in a vote by the county's coaches. "The two seniors (Lisa Herron and Stefanie Burklow) were committed and they sacrificed so they could leave as undefeated in their four years of track. And other kids stepped up and filled in where they had to. We showed some depth this season."

It's the fourth time Richardson was named county coach of the year. The last time he won was in 1993.

Richardson said his team performed well in the

- * Long jump — Michelle Erickson, 3rd, 14'6"; Kellie Christie, 5th, 14'0".
- * High jump — Michelle Wilson, 4th, 4'8".
- * 3200 relay team of Lisa Jennings, Krissy Robinson, Herron and Burklow, 1st in 10:07.7.
- * 110 high hurdles — Wilson, 5th, 17.7 seconds.
- * 800 relay team of Christie, Erin Malugin, Herron and Wilson, 4th in 1:58.1.
- * 1600 run — Burklow, 2nd, 5:14.4; Kristin Maine, 4th; Cook, 5th.
- * 400 relay team of Christie, Erickson, Malugin and Adrienne Brown, 5th in 55.2 seconds.

- * 1600 relay team of Jennings, Rooding, Herron and Plante, 2nd in 4:28.5.

There was an almost two hour lightening delay on the day of the meet.

Clarkston also had several solid performances at the county meet. Placing for CHS were:

- * Shot put — Powell, 8th, 33'1".
- * Discus — Powell, 5th, 114'6".
- * 3200 relay team of Herron, Jennings, Plante and Burklow, 2nd with a personal-best time of 9:46.2.
- * 1600 run — Burklow, 3rd with a personal-best of 5:13.1.
- * 800 run — Burklow, 2nd, 2:19.1.
- * 1600 relay team of Plante, Cook, Herron and Burklow, 8th with a personal-best time of 4:16.4.

While not placing, Cook ran a personal-best 1600 with a time of 5:27, while Maine ran a personal-best 3200 in a time of 12:09.

Girls track note

● The state finals are set for June 1, 10 a.m. at Rockford High School. Going for Clarkston are Burklow (800, 1600 and 3200 runs), Powell in the discus and the 3200 relay team.

Season's most difficult week at hand for softball

The biggest week of Clarkston's softball season is at hand.

Clarkston was scheduled to play Milford in a pre-district matchup May 28, and then set to play OAA Division I rival Brandon in a doubleheader May 30 and in a game May 31.

The Wolves beat West Bloomfield 11-6 in its only game last week on May 21. A May 23 doubleheader with Brandon was canceled due to weather.

If coach Al Land's squad wins its district opener, they will advance to a June 1 game with Waterford Mott at noon. The championship game is at 2:30 p.m. At 11-1 in the OAA, the Wolves are also one game behind Brandon going into this week's three games.

"It's a big week," said Land. "We could be done with the season Friday. Realistically, I'd like to win a game or two against Brandon but our main focus is on districts. I have a good feeling about these kids. They are focused on what this week holds and I think they are ready mentally for the challenge."

Against West Bloomfield, Land received another strong hitting performance from the entire team, led by junior Sue Naboychik's three hits, while junior Stephanie Vogler and sophomore Aimee Giroux each had two.

The Wolves were down 3-1 going into the fourth but managed to come through in the later innings for the win.

Making good on a promise

Junior Mike Augur sits to take his punishment last week as senior Dan Brazier, left, and coach Kevin Ortwine, right, each take a turn at giving Augur a buzz. The junior promised his teammates at the beginning of this season that if he made it the state finals, he'd shave his head. And of course, his teammates, who helped in the buzzing May 21, didn't let Augur forget it. For a preview of the tennis finals and Augur's chances, see page 2B.

Senior Scott Hill motors around third base on his way to scoring Clarkston's first run against Adams May 22.

Baseball team battles Adams, but falls short in 7th inning

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston baseball team lost 9-2 to Rochester Adams May 22, but put up a fight up to the final inning.

CHS, now 6-11 overall, played well, but couldn't stop the Adams bats from connecting. The game was scoreless until the fourth inning when Adams led off with two hits that scored a run.

The Wolves got out of the inning after a pop up to senior David Barth in left field and a pinpoint throw to second from catcher Jeff Bemis, nailing a base stealer.

In the fifth, Adams slowly built its lead up by scoring two runs on two doubles and a single off Clarkston pitcher Justin Morgan, who was solid on the mound.

The Wolves threatened in the fifth when senior Ryan Knake, recently moved to shortstop, and Bemis walked. Senior Andy Everingham then laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt that advanced the runners to second and third. But CHS failed to capitalize with a strike out and a ground out.

Morgan came back strong in the sixth inning and threw a runner out when he fielded a bunt, and then forced a pop up. But an error on a hard hit grounder by the infield gave Adams new life. They took advantage, and two walks later scored another run before the third out.

Clarkston scored its first run in the sixth when senior Chris Carpenter smashed a double down the third base line, scoring senior third baseman Scott Hill, who walked to start the inning. Carpenter advanced to third base on a passed ball.

After Morgan took a walk, Bemis hit into a ground out, but Hill still scored, making the score 4-2.

In the seventh inning, Adams started hitting the ball with consistency and put the game out of reach by scoring five runs. Clarkston, meanwhile, couldn't come back, despite senior Nate Manuel's lead-off double in his team's final at-bat.

The Wolves were scheduled to play in a pre-district game May 28

Class A tennis finals preview

Aulgur's confidence, matchups are a plus

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Considering Mike Aulgur will be one of Class A's 31 best tennis players, no match will be easy.

But then again, the Clarkston junior is used to tough matches. His coach, Kevin Ortwine, expects Aulgur to fare pretty well against the competition because he's used to playing the best.

Aulgur's first match in the May 31 to June 1 finals at Midland Community Tennis Center is against Grosse Pointe North's Ryan Oloski. If he wins that match, he'll face either Catholic Central's Steve Haithcock or Holt's Jeremy Eagle, seeded #7 in the tournament. If Aulgur wins there he will most likely meet up with #1 seeded Matt Bere of Midland Dow in the quarterfinals. Bere is also the defending state champ.

But Ortwine said Aulgur, who is the first CHS tennis player to make the state finals in almost 30 years, has faced the best before and he won't be intimidated.

"He's just not going to be intimidated by these guys," said Ortwine, voted last week by his peers as regional coach of the year. "If you look at who he's played, he's had only a few easy matches."

Aulgur's 15-9 record may not be spectacular, but the Wolves play in the OAA with some of the state's strongest tennis programs, including Birmingham Groves, Bloomfield Hills Lahser, Bloomfield Hills Andover and Rochester.

Three of Aulgur's losses came to Andover's #1 singles player Brad Adams, who is seeded #3 in the Class B state finals. Other losses came to Groves' Adam Cohen in a tie-breaker and Rochester's Jeff Grimm.

But Aulgur also has his share of "big" wins. He came back and beat Cohen in their second meeting and Ortwine said Aulgur seems to play his best against the best competition.

"As the season went on he got better and better, although his record doesn't really show it. But now he's getting to the point where he's serving real well and knows he can play with anybody."

also beat Lahser's #1 singles player Mark Thomas, who is nationally ranked, in an early-season match. Thomas' teammate Eric Berg has since moved up to #1 and defeated Aulgur in the regional final in close match.

Thomas, meanwhile, was a regional champion at #2 singles.

Accounting for a 15-9 overall record

- Wins in giving up four or less games: eight — over Lakeland's Shane Collins, Lapeer West's Matt Hotchkiss, default by Lake Orion, Royal Oak Kimball's Ryan Webb, Birmingham Groves' Adam Cohen, Waterford Kettering's David Golden, Hemlock's Kevin Dailey and Farmington's Wade Clark.

- Wins giving up six, seven or eight games: five — over Farmington's Wade Clark, Troy Athens' Seth Culp, Port Huron Northern's Mark Walker, Lapeer East's Dan Courser and Bloomfield Hills Lahser's Mark Thomas.

Boys track comes a long way

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Considering where they started from, the Clarkston boys track team finished strong, according to coach Walt Wyniemko.

The Wolves finished the season last week with a strong performance at the Oakland Activities Association Division II meet May 21. Although CHS didn't win, they took fourth in a tight meet. Troy Athens won the meet with 111 points, followed by Lake Orion with 94. Waterford Mott was next with 92. Clarkston scored 85, West Bloomfield 67 and Berkley 43.

"Even before this season started some said we wouldn't do this well," said Wyniemko. "We knew we didn't have a lot of seniors and we depended on a lot of the younger kids who ended up coming through for us. We went down fighting and got a great effort from all the kids."

CHS had strong efforts from many kids at the OAA meet. Placing for CHS were:

* 110 high hurdles — junior Chris Evans, 2nd, 14.7 seconds; sophomore Curt Brewer, 5th, 16.5.

* Long jump — sophomore Marc Venegoni, 1st, 19'1/2"; Evans, 2nd.

Deevey, 3rd.

* Discus — junior Jason Olafsson, 3rd; senior Eric Leigh, 6th.

* 800 relay team of sophomore Ron Grinold, Venegoni, sophomore Jeff Long and senior J.D. Zuchelkowski, 5th.

* 400 relay team of Grinold, Venegoni, Long and Evans, 3rd.

* 400 run — Zuchelkowski, 4th.

* 300 low hurdles — Evans, 2nd; Brewer, 4th.

* High jump — Venegoni, 2nd, 5'8".

* 1600 run — Deevey, 6th.

* 800 run — Burklow, 4th, 2:06.5; Josh Holst, 5th, 2:06.6; junior Matt Gifford, 6th.

* 1600 relay team of Burklow, Brewer, sophomore James Holst and Zuchelkowski also placed.

Wyniemko didn't expect his athletes to do much damage in the May 24 Oakland County Meet, held at Lakeland High School. But the Wolves still saw three finish in the top eight places, including:

* Evans, 5th in the high hurdles (14.8) and 6th in the low hurdles (41.3).

* Zuchelkowski, strong 6th in the 400 run with a time of 52.6.

* Venegoni, 8th in the long jump with 20'1/4".

The boys team does not have any qualifiers for the June 1 state meet.

Soccer out of playoffs

It was no big surprise the Clarkston girls soccer team lost 6-0 to state power Rochester Adams in the second round of districts.

In fact, CHS coach Brian Fitzgerald was just hoping to keep things close. His team didn't quite do that, but he was still proud of their effort throughout the entire season.

And it was that effort which was the main reason this young Clarkston team finished 7-8-1 overall, better than most thought was possible.

Next season, however, the Wolves should be even better. They will return 14 players, including six freshmen. Players graduating this season are Brynn Allyn, Alison Grieme and Nicole Tolliver.

Correction

● Four Clarkston students set records in the annual Lift-A-Thon, which raises money for the football program. In addition to Troy Eaton and Ryan Kulka setting records, Brent Deuel and Jason Monroe also set records.

Deuel lifted 280 pounds in the 149-pound division, breaking the old record of 275 pounds set by Brian Phipps in 1993. Monroe lifted 320 pounds in the 159-pound division, breaking the old record of 315 pounds set by Matt Davis in 1995.

Jv sports

By Michael Romein

JV softball

The season was supposed to be over by now for the Clarkston JV softball team, but due to the weather they will play again.

The Wolves won the only game they were able to play to completion last week. That came on May 21 against West Bloomfield in a 15-4 mercy.

Sam Hardenburgh pitched well, picking up her 13th win of the season. Corinne McIntyre led the Wolves with four hits, four runs and three RBI's. Emily White and Amber Mitchell each had three hits; Liz Hariton, Tracy Tomkiewicz and Tami Angel each had two hits and Tomkiewicz stole three bases.

On May 20 the Wolves played three innings against Troy and were leading 4-1 when the game was called due to rain. The Wolves took the lead on a two-run home run by Hope Manuel in the second inning.

The Wolves' record now stands at 21-3. They play a doubleheader against Brandon May 30, a make-up from last week's cancelled doubleheader.

JV baseball

The Wolves finished the season by losing a game and having another one finish in a tie.

On May 20 the Wolves were tied 1-1 with Birmingham Groves in the sixth inning when the rains came. Jared Thomas had the big hit for Clarkston, a home run. Jeff Drolshagen had the only other Clarkston hit. Matt McInnis pitched for the Wolves, going six innings and allowing only one run on two hits. He struck out two and did not walk anyone.

On May 22, the Wolves lost their last game of the season, 8-2, to Rochester Adams. Thomas had two hits for the Wolves and Bryant Caudill, Jon Drallos, Drolshagen, Eric Jenks, Nick Giroux and Nike Upchurch each had one.

The Wolves stranded many runners and were lousy defensively, making many costly errors. Josh Clark pitched the first four innings, allowing seven runs on seven hits but only one run was earned. Thomas pitched the final three innings, allowing one run on one hit.

The Wolves finished their season at 9-6-1.

Freshman sports

By Michael Romein

Freshman baseball

With five freshmen moved up to the junior-varsity squad, things were expected to be tough for the freshman baseball squad. However, they responded to the challenge, posting an 8-5 record overall and gaining valuable experience that will make them even better next year.

The Wolves dropped their final two games of the season last week, 12-11 and 13-4 to Rochester Adams.

The pitching staff did very well. Jake Noel led the team with a 1.64 ERA. Dan Freidline had a 3.33 ERA and Chad Kareus had a 3.89 ERA.

Tim Loveless was the offensive leader for the Wolves, leading them in all categories of note. He finished with a .656 batting average, 21 hits, 18 runs and 10 stolen bases. Kareus and Brian Bartley were the offensive standouts.

Playing solid defense this season for Clarkston were John Arcello, Nate Jerdon, Adam Leech, Mike Simko and Mike Lenhardt.

"The team has a lot of potential," said head coach

Rod Hool. "They can look forward to another successful season next year at the junior varsity level."

Freshman softball

The freshman Wolves finished the season with a win but it was not without its dramatic moments.

After three innings, the Wolves were up 14-0 over Lake Orion. However, Lake Orion came within one before Clarkston eventually won, 18-16.

Jessica Moore and Meghan Hodges pitched for the Wolves. Kathy Kopec and Ingrid Zimmerman each had a triple and Anne Underwood, Daisy Manti, Ashley Perna, Jenny Alexander and Moore all had doubles.

The Wolves finished with a record of 5-6.

In-line skating coming to Clintonwood

Community demand puts proposal in motion

BY DARREL W. COLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department is keeping up with the times.

In the next few weeks some outdoor courts at Clintonwood Park will undergo a conversion to an in-line skating rink, for open use and league formations. The $10,500 redesign was unanimously approved by the township's board of trustees May 7.

Parks and rec director Ann Conklin said in-line skating, or Rollerblading, is a popular sport among teens and adults.

"We are consistently asked about places to skate and safe places for in-line hockey," Conklin said. "The safety path system does provide some areas. However, there is no place to conduct leagues and/or formal lessons."

The township board was enthused about the idea and even more enthused that Conklin secured a $5,000 grant from the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association. It means the cost to the township will be $5,500, coming out of the 1996 capital improvement fund.

The costs are for resurfacing the area with a special material and for the purchase of borders and nets for hockey.

Conklin admits that residents often request various services from her department, but this is one time when she had the budget and facilities to comply.

In addition to open rink time, Conklin said youth, teen and adult in-line hockey leagues will be offered, as well as lessons for all ages.

There is one large multi-purpose court, previously split up into three courts, at Clintonwood that will be converted to the in-line rink. The rink will take up about two-and-a-half courts while the other half court will be used for three basketball hoops.

Two of the old courts were set up for volleyball and shuffleboard, but never used. With a little bit of work, Conklin said, they can still have three half-court size basketball areas and the rink, which will measure 140 feet by 180 feet.

Conklin hopes to have the rink in operation by June 1. If anyone is interested in joining an in-line hockey league, call the parks and rec office at 625-8223.

The Wolf Den

By Jack Leech
Clarkston Wolfpack
Hockey Club

May 9: The Clarkston Wolfpack Hockey Club's 10-4 win over Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes' club team was over after the second period as the Wolfpack scored eight goals.

Ryan Peters and Andy Cote scored a hat trick (three goals), while Anthony Facione scored twice and had an assist. Other point scorers were David Vogt (goal, assist), Adam Leech (goal, assist), Hank Passmore (two assists) and Kean Kammer (two assists).

May 12: The Walled Lake Western club team was next to fall prey to Clarkston in a 8-0 win. Cote (2 goals, assist) led the way, while Peters, Passmore, Ron Wells, Todd Myers, Josh Babe and Leech scored one each. Steve Badger was flawless in net to earn the shutout.

May 16: The Wolfpack tied a tough Milford squad 2-2. Ryan Peters scored in the first period on a pass play started from Marcus Johnson to Babe, who laid the centering pass to Peters for the redirected score.

May 18: In an exhibition game played at Glacier Point Arena in Marysville, the Wolfpack came away with an 8-7 triumph against the Port Huron Americans. Clarkston had only 11 players for the game against an all-star squad made up of players from five different travel teams in that area.

Peters dominated with four goals and an assist while Bill Kalush scored two goals and had two assists. Wolfpack Captain Brett Postal opened the scoring in the first period on a pass from Jay Manojlovich. Myers scored the game-winner midway through the final period.

SMS and CMS end track seasons

The Sashabaw and Clarkston middle schools' girls and boys track season ended last week, but not before the teams picked up more wins.

On May 21, the SMS girls squad beat the Mason Mariners 85-38, to finish 5-0-1, while the SMS boys won 107-21, to finish 5-1 (the lone loss was to Clarkston Middle School).

The girls team took first place in 11 of 15 events, while the boys dominated by taking first in all 15 events.

The CMS squads fared just as well in a dual meet against Brandon May 23. The boys won 103-25, taking 15 of 16 first place finishes, while the girls won 93-8, with 15 of 15 first place finishes.

While athletes from both schools showed their depth, determination and balance, some set records in the process.

CMS' David Sage broke the 1600 meter run record with a time of 5:04.5 against Brandon. The old record was 5:07, set way back in 1974. In addition, Sage also set the 3200 meter run record of 10:41.6 at a meet earlier this season, breaking the old record of 10:57.

CMS' 3200 meter relay team also set a school record earlier this season with a time of 10:02, breaking the old mark of 10:03.2. The relay team consists of Kevin Breen, Chris Weber, Ryan Thomas and Sage.

Knob notes

By Eileen Oxley

Double dose of country

Two great country artists perform at the Knob Friday night.

Tim McGraw

It was instant stardom for Tim McGraw who hit the highest hayloft with the March 1994 release of his second album, "Not A Moment Too Soon."

"When I recorded (it) we thought we were onto something — that we had a good album with a good variety of songs. But I don't think we had any idea of what we actually had," says the young Lousianan.

"Not a Moment Too Soon" has sold over five million albums to date, booting out favorites like Mariah Carey, Pink Floyd and Garth Brooks to become Billboard's sixth best-selling album of 1994.

The super-charged singer followed with "All I Want" in 1995 which includes "I Like It, I Love It," a featured track for the movie "Something to Talk About." Both albums have earned McGraw a slew of awards, including American Music Awards' 1994 Best New Country Artist and Academy of Country Music Awards' 1995 Top New Male Vocalist.

But McGraw won't rest on his laurels and hints of more to come. "I don't want anybody to get bored with me. I don't want to be three albums down the road and everybody's heard all I can do."

Faith Hill

Faith Hill is an artist who has something to say. And she won't stop talking.

Her debut album "Take me As I Am" went platinum with three number-one singles in 1993. And with it came a reputation for honesty and a fierce, independent spirit.

But that's the path all true country artists should follow, says Hill, who feels country music is about communication, truth-telling and lack of pretense. Those creeds continue in her latest album, "It Matters to Me."

"Communication is one of the most important things in life to me and the issue of communicating is a thread that runs throughout this album," says the artist who was voted Academy of Country Music's Top New Female Performer in 1994. "In my mind, whenever you can admit something, then you are growing."

Even when it comes to getting gutsy and kicking out a promiscuous boyfriend who doesn't know the word "commitment," says Hill about one of the tracks, "Bed of Roses."

"It is one of those tough girl songs ... You wake up in the morning and have a strong attitude toward the guy you think you love, but he has been treating you bad. So you go, 'I don't need him. Throw him out like an old shoe.'"

Nurses peddle bike safety program

BY EILEEN OXLEY
Clarkston News Staff Writer

School's almost out and you know what that means. Lots of kids — and bikes — on Clarkston roads.

Nurses from William Beaumont Hospital's Rehabilitation Unit hope to lessen the dangers. In fact, every spring they present a bike safety and head injury prevention program to elementary schools across the Detroit metropolitan area.

This year students at Clarkston Elementary learned rules of riding on the road. First, during the May 15 afternoon session, they were treated to a video which featured "Sam Sprocket" and a lot of punchy rap music to drive lessons home.

As teacher Betty Kozma's second-graders watched in one classroom, Sprocket and some young friends educated and entertained them.

Though the video played that funky music, the clever rhymes would linger.

"No groovin' while you're movin'" warned Sprocket about listening to music while riding. "Always be alert to what's going on around you."

"Give 'em a sign and you'll be fine" referred to making hand signals when turning. And "Stop, stop, look all about. Wait till the road clears, then move out," was just another way of saying "Stop, look and listen."

The screen kids also had to pass through an obstacle course with a silly clown who tried to distract them, a cow in the road and a jogger. It's not only courteous to say "Excuse me" when you pass a runner, it also alerts him to your approach, Sprocket said.

After the video, kids looked at the bike helmets they'd brought from home and watched nurses demonstrate how important a good fit is. One lucky child even won new headgear.

Some students said they'd averted disaster by wearing a helmet.

Beaumont RN Carrie Stover fits second-grader Brad Culpepper with a safety-approved helmet, while RN Kim Cameron examines one.

"I hit a mailbox, hit my head and skinned myself," said one child, who admitted the situation could have been worse if he hadn't been wearing one.

Clarkston resident and Beaumont RN Joan Munchiando, who has two elementary-age children in Clarkston schools, said she and fellow nurses developed the program six years ago. They now present it, free of charge, to more than 5,000 school children each spring.

The object is to raise people's awareness about bike safety, she said.

"About 900 people die every year in bike-related accidents and one-half-million are injured each year." Wearing a helmet reduces the risk of serious head injury by 85 percent, she added.

"We rehabilitative nurses deal with people who have head injuries and we see a lot of families who are devastated." The repercussions of a head injury "not only affect the child, they affect the whole family," Munchiando said.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE

At a regular meeting of the Township Board held on May 21, 1996, the Board authorized a First Reading of an amendment to the Township's Zoning Ordinance No. 83 as follows:

To rezone Parcel 08-12-200-001 & 002 Easton Road from R1R to R-1C.

Respectfully submitted,
Joan E. McCrary
Township Clerk

Bike safety rules for parents

- Don't push children to ride two-wheeled bikes until they are ready, preferably at about age 5 or 6. Consider the child's coordination and desire to learn to ride. Stick with coaster brakes until they're older and more experienced.

- Take your child with you when shopping for a bike. The value of a proper fitting far outweighs the surprise of receiving a birthday present.

- Buy a bike that is the right size, not one your child has to "grow into." Oversized bikes are dangerous.

- Test a bike for proper fit in the following ways: One, with hands on the handlebars, a child must be able to place the balls of both feet on the ground. Two, straddling the center bar, a child should be able to keep both feet flat on the ground with a one-inch clearance between crotch and bar. Three, when buying a bike with hand brakes make sure the child can comfortably grasp the brakes and apply sufficient pressure to stop.

TEXT AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE (Lighting Regulation - Exterior Glare)

An Ordinance to amend Ordinance No. 83, as amended, the Charter Township of Independence Zoning Ordinance, as amended, for the purpose of amending Article V, Section 5.18, to provide amended regulations relative to exterior lighting.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE ORDINANCES AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1 of Ordinance

Article V, Section 5.18, Subsection 9, shall be amended by deleting the current text and inserting the following:

ARTICLE V - GENERAL PROVISIONS

Except as hereinafter specifically provided, the following general regulations shall apply:

Section 5.18: Environmental Performance Standards

9. Exterior Lighting and Glare

a. Exterior Lighting from Direct Sources - Subject to the provisions set forth herein, all parking areas, walkways, driveways, building entryways, off-street parking and loading areas, other outdoor pedestrian ways, and building complexes with common areas shall be sufficiently illuminated to ensure the security of property and the safety of persons using such public or common areas.

Exterior lighting shall be located and maintained to prevent the reflection and glare of light in a manner which creates a nuisance or safety hazard to operators of motor vehicles, pedestrians and neighboring occupants and land uses. This provision is not intended to apply to public street lighting.

The following additional standards shall apply:

1) Only non-glare, color-corrected lighting shall be permitted. Lighting shall be placed, directed and shielded so as to direct the light onto the site and away from adjoining properties. Lighting shall be shielded so that it does not cause glare for motorists.

2) The light intensity provided at ground level shall be a minimum of 0.3 foot-candle anywhere in the area to be illuminated. Light intensity shall average a minimum of 0.5 foot-candle over the entire area, measured five (5) feet above the surface.

3) Except as noted above, lighting fixtures shall not exceed a height of twenty-five (25) feet. In portions of a site adjacent to residential areas, lighting fixtures shall not exceed a height of eighteen (18) feet, and shall be located so as to result in the minimum with residential users.

4) All lighting, including ornamental lighting, shall be shown on site plans in sufficient detail to allow determination of the effects of such lighting upon adjacent properties, and traffic safety. Building or roof mounted lighting intended to attract attention to the building and/or use and not strictly designed for security purpose shall not be permitted. Temporary holiday lighting and decorations are exempt from the aforementioned provision.

b. Light and Glare from Indirect Sources

1) Glare from any process (such as or similar to arc welding or acetylene torch cutting) which emits harmful ultraviolet rays shall be performed in such a manner as not to be seen from any point beyond the property line, and so as not to create a public nuisance or hazard along lot lines.

2) The design and/or screening of the development shall ensure that glare from automobile and commercial or industrial vehicle headlights shall not be directed into any adjacent property, including residential property.

3) Exterior doors shall be located, operated and maintained so as to prevent any glare and light from creating a nuisance or safety hazard to operators of motor vehicles, pedestrians and neighboring land uses.

Section 2 of Ordinance

All other regulations of the zoning ordinance, except those set forth above, shall remain in effect, amended only as provided above.

Section 3 of Ordinance

The provisions of this ordinance are hereby ordered to take effect immediately upon publication in the manner prescribed by law.

Respectfully submitted,
Joan E. McCrary
Township Clerk

Downtown house has that at-the-lake appeal

A SCAMP home tour preview

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

When Clarkston Real Estate broker Pam Ford Morgan moved into her 1890 cottage on Parke Lake in the village of Clarkston, it still looked like a cottage. It's hard to imagine that now.

In the three years she's owned the house, she's doubled its square footage, even adding a partial basement, and thoroughly modernized the house. Only a stone chimney gives a hint that this is an old house.

Morgan's house will be featured in the "Clarkston Home Tour 14" this weekend, a benefit for the North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corporation, a non-profit organization whose sole purpose is funding a summer day camp for children and young adults with special needs.

In addition to Morgan's house, the tour will include visits at two cottages on N. Holcomb, two historic farm homes and a newer home on Morning Mist Drive, as well as two homes recently built by students in the Oakland Technical Center Northwest's building trades program.

A 'little green cottage' gets updated

"When I found it, it was a little green cottage about 1,000 square feet, no garage," Morgan, a partner in Morgan, Moreno and Milzow Realtors, says.

"When I bought it there were two distinct opinions. One was 'I can't believe you paid that much for dirt.' The other opinion was 'What a steal.'" and moved in with her two teenage daughters. "It was darling, but with two growing girls I had to do something," she says.

The three had moved from a condo and decided to stay put during renovations. "On paper it sounded like a good idea," Morgan said. The reality was otherwise.

"It was awful. We had dirty feet for a long time. The only bathroom we had that was operational was in the basement. We had to go outside in our bathrobes."

From her real-estate perspective, the renovations had to pass the "good investment" test, as well as livability. "Location is everything," Morgan said, and she used the lakefront to full advantage.

With plans drawn up by an architect friend, she added a detached garage on the street side of the house's narrow lot, then extended the back of the house toward the lake with a master suite and walk-out basement.

When renovations began, the house quickly became known as "the money pit."

"My business partner's a builder and when he came over he said, 'You should just take it down,'" Morgan said. "He was probably right." She can laugh about it now.

After enlarging the house's footprint, the old rooms began to be shifted. What was once the kitchen is now one of the girls' bedrooms. The bathroom they share was always a bathroom, but has been updated in the white and off-white that dominate the house. The new kitchen sink has a great view of the lake.

The rear of Pam Ford Morgan's house faces the lake and sports a new master suite (right).

"I don't spend a lot of time in here but my kids do," Morgan said.

The living and dining area remains pretty much as Morgan found it, with Anderson windows already in place. However a wood stove was replaced with a fireplace. An abundance of natural light and the bare wood floors help reinforce the cottage-at-the-lake feel.

"I wanted to make it casual for the kids," Morgan said.

The master suite is a bright, elegant, adult retreat. French doors open onto the patio and a larger-than-expected dressing area is hidden next to the bathroom. The picture window makes this truly a room with a view.

"I didn't want to put anything on the window but I had to," Morgan said, struggling to open the heavy, wide, wooden blinds that rise to hide behind a deep cornice.

From the master bedroom, a large evergreen can be seen cozying up to the dock at the bottom of the lot. It's all overlooked by the patio. The landscaping is low-maintenance and a work still in progress.

"Landscaping was another thing I didn't factor into my equation," she laughed. "There's a little piece of sod down by the lake I didn't touch."

Her daughters still use the old basement (which is reached from an outside door) as a cabana of sorts, changing in and out of bathing suits there. The new part of the basement boasts it's own full bathroom too and a door facing the lake.

"The feeling you get is you're on a peninsula," Morgan said. "It's like being on Golden Pond."

Tickets for the home tour, which include lunch at Mesquite Creek, are $22 per person for Sunday and are available at the SCAMP office, 6590 Middle Lake Rd. (behind Clarkston High School). There will also be a preview and champagne reception Saturday from 6:30-9 p.m. Tickets for that event are $50 per person. Tickets will be available the day of the tour on a first come, first served basis. For more information call 625-3330.
