A flock of geese temporarily slow traffic on West Washington one day last week, until a police car comes along to shoo them out of the way. It's one of the more picturesque signs of the change in the seasons for anyone living or working around Clarkston's Mill Pond.

Will Village Players be forced out?

Theatre group looking for cash or new location

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

With just about a week to go, the Clarkston Village Players were nowhere near raising the $78,000 needed to secure their future.

Back in August, the Players were informed by Canadian National Properties that the land on which part of Depot Theater sits would be put up for sale. The theater is a former railroad depot.

The land under part of the theater will be retained by the railroad as part of its right-of-way. But the land under the northernmost side, and the parking lot, is being sold off as part of a 1.3 acre lot currently leased by the Players, Buckeye Pipeline and Continental Machine Co. CN is asking $1.50 per square foot, or about $78,000, for the land.

According to Chuck Tucker, CN land sales consultant, the railroad wanted to divide the land into three parcels and sell each part to the lessee that uses it. However, the parcel is already too small for its heavy industrial zoning, so such a split would have had to go before the Zoning Board of Appeals. Independence Township Assessor Dave Kramer said CN never applied for a split. Tucker said CN never applied for a rezoning either.

"It's just part of a program to sell off excess property," Tucker said. As of Monday, he had received no offers. The deadline he gave the lessees is Oct. 21.

Players president Al Bartlett sent a letter to subscription ticket holders and patrons on Sept. 30 asking for help. "Obviously, we do not have $78,000," the letter states. "If we lose in the bid process, we could lose our theater and be forced to shut down our operation, possibly before the end of the season."

Bartlett said Monday donations are coming in but it's unlikely enough will be raised by the deadline. The Players have talked informally to the other two firms involved, but no deals have been reached, he added.

"We've generated some revenue. I have been in contact with CN. We requested an extension beyond Oct. 21. We've been denied. We're looking at all possibilities, including getting a mortgage."

Kramer, who also happens to be a member of the CVP, said the problem dates back to 1983, when CN made some parcel adjustments without going through the township's formal requirements, including approval by the split committee and planning commission. Nevertheless, the township adjusted its records to reflect the changes, which left the lot in question non-conforming with its current zoning.

"You can't divide the parcel and leave it more non-conforming than it is," Kramer said. "In order to further divide it you must go to the split committee, then the Zoning Board of Appeals." The split committee consists of Kramer, building official Beverly McElmeel and planner Richard Carlisle.

Bond approval delayed at state

Though Clarkston schools plan to hold a bond election December 9, they still have not received permission to do so from the state Department of Treasury.

The board had planned to formally call the election at its Monday meeting, but had to postpone action when the approval from the state did not arrive.

"Legally, we are in compliance," said Craig Kahler, the district's Director of Business. Both he and superintendent Al Roberts said no problems have surfaced with the application—it just hasn't been processed. Kahler speculated the delay was caused by the fact that the state school bond loan fund will be involved.

"We are in no jeopardy," Kahler said. "We have until next Monday to approve this resolution." The board will meet Monday at 6 p.m. with the expectation that approval will come from the state in time. If it does, the election will be called for Dec. 9. If it doesn't, the election may have to be pushed back.

Trustee Mary Ellen McLean said that after next Monday's board meeting there will be a meeting of people working on the document to present to the public regarding the bond issue. The document will explain exactly what the district is asking for and why in the $52-million request, which will include additions at all the elementary schools, a new elementary school, and renovations at most existing buildings.

Both meetings will be held at the school administration building on Clarkston Rd.

Downtown parking fines set by city

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It will soon cost drivers $10 to ignore parking regulations in downtown Clarkston.

City Council passed a resolution 4-0 Oct. 14 to adopt a fee schedule that will set the fines for parking violations in the city. Council members Bill Basinger, Steve Secatch and Walt Gamble were absent.

Most parking violations will carry $10 fines; violators who exceed five fines in a year will be charged $100 for every fine thereafter. Other fines include $25 for parking in a tow-away zone, $35 for parking in a fire lane or in front of a fire hall or hydrant and $50 for parking in a handicapped spot.

Discussion also included how to mark approximately 12 parking spots that sit in the northernmost row of the Main-Washington city lot; the rest of the spots carry two-hour parking limits.

After councilman Doug Roeser's suggestion to "keep things simple," Police Chief Paul Ormiston agreed to try out all-day parking only in that row, under a 90-day traffic control order. The spots will be striped

The news in brief

Candidates to appear

Several candidates for election in November will appear at Thursday's Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce meeting at noon at Deer Lake Racquet Club.

Scheduled to attend are sheriff candidates John Nichols and Matt Hogan; 52-2 District Court candidates Dana Fortinberry and Gerald McNally; state representative Tom Middleton; county commissioner Donna Huntoon; Ed Hamilton, candidate for county executive; county clerk Lynn Allen; county treasurer C. Hugh Dohany; Independence Township Clerk Joan McCrary and trustee candidate Neil Wallace.

Preview new high school's materials

Proposed finishes for the new high school—such as bricks, flooring, tile and wall colors) will be presented to the public by architects from Greiner Inc. on Monday, Oct. 21 at the school administrative offices.

Presentations are scheduled for 8 and 10 a.m. and 2 and 4 p.m. The building is located at 6389 Clarkston Rd.

The finishes are proposals only. Final selections will be made by the board of education after the previews are completed.

Resignation costly

Clarkston schools will spend $30,000 in exchange for the resignation of a mechanic in the bus garage.

At Monday's board of education meeting, the board accepted the resignation of Paul Dombrowski, effective Sept. 27, 1996. The agreement approved by both sides states that in exchange for the money, Dombrowski agrees not to file any further claims against the district.

The agreement goes on to state that Dombrowski earlier had filed a complaint with the Michigan Department of Civil Rights alleging he was being discriminated against under the Americans With Disabilities Act. The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission investigated but was unable to reach a conclusion. Dombrowski eventually withdrew his complaint, which the district believes was unfounded. Dombrowski later informed the district he wished to resign.

Influenza shots

The influenza vaccine will be distributed at the Independence Senior Center Wednesday, Oct. 23 from 9 a.m. to noon by the Oakland County Health Division. Cost is $3 unless you are covered by Medicare or Medicaid. Bring photo ID and your insurance cards.

Thompson to speak on euthanasia

Oakland County Prosecutor Richard Thompson will speak on euthanasia at Everest Academy Tuesday, Oct. 22.

Thompson lost his job in the August primary election, some believe because of his continued and unsuccessful prosecutions of assisted-suicide advocate Dr. Jack Kevorkian.

The talk is open to the public. The school is located at 5935 Clarkston Rd.

The great leap forward

Local actress takes to the college stage

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

When she was little, Jennifer Ripari was dragged out to sing "The sun will come up, tomorrow" from the musical "Annie" over and over. The exercise may have paid off.

Now a freshman at Oakland University, Ripari, of Clarkston, snagged the lead role in the musical version of "The Secret Garden," an all-student production of the Department of Music, Theatre and Dance, which premieres Oct. 25.

Though only a freshman, Ripari already has years of performing experience behind her as a singer, dancer and actor. She's performed with Pontiac Theater IV, the Lakeland Players, in Lake Orion High School musicals and choirs and sings the National Anthem at The Palace. Now studying musical theatre at OU, she was surprised to get the plum part.

"I just wanted to get in the play," she said. "I never dreamed I'd get the lead, being a freshman."

She only had to sing two lines of "Someone to watch over me" to convince the judges she was good enough for a reading. Then, she was called back for a second reading and awarded the part of Mary Lennox, the young orphan who goes to live with relatives and ends up revitalizing their lives as well as their long-dormant garden.

"It could be considered an opera; the music is beautiful," Ripari said.

A veteran of several high school and community theatre productions, Ripari found the bar raised at OU in the level of talent, the pace of work and the accoutrements.

Calling it a "huge, huge leap," she explained, "In high school you have more room to learn, more time to get help from people who are teaching you. At college, they do all that but at a faster pace. It's so much more professional."

Perks like helpers for hair and make-up and your own costume shop are a bonus. "I came home (and said) 'I have my own hair lady!'" Ripari said with obvious glee. Props and costumes are sometimes shared with the professional Meadow Brook Theatre elsewhere on campus.

Rehearsals are every night during the week and sometimes on weekends too. "The other night I got home at 12:30 (a.m.)," Ripari said. But she admires the talents she is working with, and their dedication to their craft.

"I'm the only freshman girl... I'm not used to such a professional group... They're some of the best singers I've heard in a long time."

Ripari said she's been encouraged to go for her dream of being a Broadway actress by her family and friends. "I guess it all had to do with people saying 'Go for it. Anything you put your mind to you can do it'...

"I always get nervous before a show. My mom always tells me 'Use your nervous energy to do good.' I love when the audience stands up and they're clapping for you. I love hearing people clap or cry or laugh."

Ripari said her biggest fear, the stuff of nightmares, is hearing the wrong note come out of her mouth. It's never happened, but it haunts her just the same. "You'd think I'd be more scared about saying a line wrong," she said.

As for her dream of Broadway, "I want to real bad, and I know OU has the potential to make me do that—so many acting classes, dancing classes... I hope I can keep up the tradition of getting the big part."

"The Secret Garden" will be performed at Varner Studio Theatre on the OU campus Oct. 25-27 and Nov. 1-3 and 8-9. Matinees for high school students will be performed Oct. 31 and Nov. 6. Tickets are $10, $5 for students and senior citizens. Call 370-3300 for reservations.

Money may provide a "shot in the arm"

What to do with $150,000 left over from a previous bond issue? That's the decision the Clarkston board of education will have to make sometime this year.

The district's Director of Business Craig Kahler told the board at its meeting Monday night that barring any unforeseen problems, that is the amount that will be left to spend, now that work on the earlier bond issue is completed. The money can be used toward anything that was included in the bond language, such as building renovations and technology.

"It can't be anything outside the definition you put in that bond application," Kahler told the board. He asked the board to think about what they might like to do. Several suggestions were made, including playground improvements and a new radio device that makes it easier to hear in the classroom.

While trustee Sheila Hughes suggested the administration dust off a "needs list" it has been compiling over the years, superintendent Al Roberts said he'd like to look at giving teachers a "new infusion of innovation." He said he would be meeting with principals Tuesday and would ask for their input.

The district has until the end of the fiscal year, June 30, to close out the bond issue account, Kahler said.

"Singing is my big passion," says Clarkston's Jennifer Ripari, who will play the lead role in the musical version of "The Secret Garden" at Oakland University.

Museum or residence? Future of historic farmhouse uncertain

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

If walls could talk, those in an old farmhouse at Stickney and Pine Knob roads would speak volumes about the lives of Clarkston's earliest settlers.

But members of the Independence Township Planning Commission were surprised at their Oct. 10 meeting when they were told the farmhouse might not become a community museum as previously thought.

During a long discussion, commissioners addressed final site plan approval with developer Alex Bruni, whose proposed 73-acre development includes 42 $400,000 homes on 39 acres he plans to develop as Stonewall Farms. The remainder of the property on the east side of Pine Knob Rd. includes over 33 acres devoted to open-space preservation.

The farmhouse and a barn rest on the proposed development which is planned for the west side of Pine Knob. The one-acre lot is at the southeast corner of the property.

Bruni would like to offer the house, barn and open space to the township in exchange for planned unit development (PUD) approval. Currently, a resident owns and lives in the farmhouse and will stay another year, free of charge, until after the closing, he said.

During the discussion Clarkston Rotary Club past president Lubomyr Hewko, whose organization has entered into a partnership with Clarkston Community Historical Society to form a new charity called Clarkston Community Museum Foundation, stood up and told commissioners the foundation was exploring another option.

As president of the new foundation, Hewko said the museum committee was originally very much in favor of preserving "one of the last authentic farms" in the area as a "satellite museum" for school children and other visitors. However, Hewko spoke of the committee's desire to have a spot "closer to home." Plus, he added, "the township could not help us (financially)."

This old farmhouse sits on the corner of Pine Knob and Stickney roads.

Instead, explained Hewko, the structure might be refurbished and sold as a residence. Its heritage would be preserved under strict regulations that the owner maintain it as a historic site. If Independence were to go along with that idea, Bruni would "gift it" to the township, with proceeds going to the foundation for a future museum somewhere else.

Like other commissioners, Joe Figa hadn't been informed of the alternative. "It just throws a different perspective on it completely. We were under the impression that we would allow the public to use it, not just let the public look at it as they go past it. Not that it's a bad idea. But it changes the impression we were under when we approved this property," he said.

Township building director Bev McElmeel, who was also surprised, as was planner Dick Carlisle, said the original conceptual site plan called for the farmhouse to be "for historic use."

"It was never meant to be occupied. That's not in any set of minutes ... Here we are, into the final review, and this was dropped on us," she said during an interview Monday.

McElmeel said she had also been led to believe that the farmhouse would be used for a museum, or a "working farm" that could be enjoyed by the entire community, including school children who learn about the area's history through field trips.

The structure is the second oldest building in the township. "It's quite a jewel," she said. "There's nothing wrong with opinions. But we recommended approval based on the information received at that time and the farmhouse was proposed for this use ... It was a unique idea. That's why it has been sold so far."

Parks and rec. head honored

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Ann Conklin is never far from her job. As a breeze ruffles her shiny, dark hair, she is looking at the new beach house under construction in Bay Court Park. There's a ring that comes out of nowhere and she suddenly produces a cellular phone on which she engages in conversation with someone about a problem with the building's chimney.

After the short chat, Conklin ends with one of her infectious giggles and looks back at the beach house, then around to the other buildings which include the playscape, the gazebo, "the tower" and the pavilion.

"Is there some way you could get it all in?" she asks wistfully of the picture about to be taken.

That pride, not only in Bay Court and the other three parks she manages, but in all her other work as director for Independence Township's Park and Recreation Department, is the reason Conklin was named "Employee of the Quarter" during the township board meeting Oct. 1.

Township supervisor Dale Stuart said honoring a township employee quarterly "is a good way for us to recognize the very fine employees who work in the township."

A few days later he cited Conklin specifically. "I could not count the number of ways she's valuable to the community. How effective she is. How bright she is. How compassionate she is. We are just very lucky to have her."

As parks and rec. director, Conklin, 40, also manages the senior citizens program based at Clintonwood Park, the safety path program and all recreational activities offered by the township.

The perky brunette comes from a large, close-knit family that includes seven brothers and sisters.

Growing up, she and her siblings were always athletic. We did everything," she says. Like many of her staff who work at Deer Lake Beach, Conklin landed her first "sporty" job as a lifeguard at age 15.

At Central Michigan University she realized her love of being involved in the implementation of recreation for others. "You can actually plan this as a career. Central has a wonderful program, and I did."

After graduating with a bachelor's in education and a major in municipal recreation, Conklin worked as the City of Howell's assistant director of parks and rec. for two years, then as its director for eight. In December 1988 she was hired by Independence Township to be director of its parks and rec. department. In December she'll celebrate eight years.

Conklin cites growth as a major contributor to the township's astounding increase in recreational activities and points to new programs like the River Dawgs.

But, she modestly adds, it's not just because of her committed efforts. She's proud of the people who back her.

"We have been able to grow a lot with the support of the community, the township board, the spirit of cooperation and teamwork that exists with the parks and rec. staff ... 'We' have done this. Everybody is as important as any other. Everybody's got a part."

Coming from a loving family — which she doesn't get to spend as much time with as she'd like to — Conklin is particularly fond of programs that draw children and parents together, like the Haunted and Friendly forests and the Mom and Son square dances.

"I get on a soapbox all the time and they are probably sick of hearing this, but I'm a strong believer in prevention. You try to give the opportunity for a lot of choices. They can matter.

"We can make a difference. And there's no better feeling," she says with a smile.

Dana Fortinberry has been endorsed by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Command Officers Association and the Oakland County Deputy Sheriff's Association because she is the ONLY candidate for 52/2 District Court who has experience fighting today's crime. Some of our members have actually been told by criminals that they come to our community to commit their crimes because they know that the current 28-year incumbent District Judge will not hold them accountable for their illegal actions. It's time to elect a District Court Judge who will set a tough new standard for law enforcement in northern Oakland County!

As both an Assistant Prosecuting Attorney and Magistrate at the 52/2 District Court, Dana Fortinberry has championed the rights of crime victims by holding convicted criminals fully responsible for their crimes. As experienced law enforcement professionals who patrol your streets every day, we know that she will send a long overdue new message to criminals that their illegal actions will meet with swift and certain punishment in the 52/2 District Court. In Focus

'Freak' story pushes all our buttons

Last week's story about the so-called "freaks" of Clarkston High School has generated its share of controversy.

Though principal Brent Cooley denied any cross-dressers populate his halls, one parent called to say she'd seen several boys in something that looked like skirts or culottes last year at the school. And several of this year's students who call themselves "freaks" wrote letters to the editor, which are published today. Several students I talked to said this year's "freaks" are girls who dress like boys. Doesn't everyone?

I guess it wouldn't be a high school if there weren't any cliques. When I was in school, the factions were called "greasers" and "frats," if memory serves. In West Side Story, set in the 1950s, it's the Sharks and Jets.

Some things never change. Really, all that changes is the outer manifestations. In my high-school days you couldn't wear jeans to school (imagine that!). I remember wearing my first real mini-skirt to the all-night party. One of my male classmates came up and literally rubbed my legs, as if he'd never seen any before.

Today just about anything goes. It takes a lot to make you stand out.

Just last week I was at CHS and saw a bunch of kids who looked right out of the cast of "Hair." Big, curly hair, tie-dyed shirts, long, bedraggled jeans. Go to any mall and you'll see the retro '60s look is back.

So if some kids come to school wearing something that does make them stand out, it probably came with some thought and effort attached to it. When everyone is wearing jeans and baggy sweatshirts, maybe we should applaud someone who's outfit says "Look at me" rather than "just one of the crowd." But again, I guess it depends on your point of view.

If you are charged with keeping order in a cramped school of nearly 2,000 students, maybe change rocks your boat. I would submit, however, that actions speak louder than clothing. The idea that someone is bad because he or she looks different I would have thought had gone the way of bell bottoms (but hey, they're back too).

Tolerance is what it's all about. We all know it's politically incorrect to be intolerant, but have a hard time carrying it out on a one-to-one basis. Maybe it's time to bring back '60s attitudes as well. Peace and love, man. And before we go judging people by the way they look, let's all take a good, hard look in the mirror first.

Corrections

● In a story which ran in last week's paper about the reprogramming of CDBG funds, some of the ending was omitted. It should have said trustee Mel Vaara, who voted against the reprogramming, felt some of the funds should have been applied toward improvements for handicapped facilities instead of being transferred for other items.

● It was incorrectly reported in the last issue that the Vision 2020 steering committee would hold its next meeting Nov. 6. The meeting will be held Thursday, Nov. 7 at 6 p.m. in the township annex.

Letters to the editor

Don't Point Fingers

Dear Editor,

I'm very disappointed after reading Annette Kingsbury's article about the Clarkston resident's break in. The reason is because of the victim's (Cox) rude statements.

First of all, I am a so called "FREAK" at CHS. She has no right to accuse my "FREAK" friends and I; she has no evidence and she doesn't know us. I'm an Honor Roll student, in the National Honor Society, many clubs, and also participate in CHS athletics. We "FREAKS" may be together a lot, but we're not a gang and we're not into drugs. We do catch a lot of flack from other groups, and we don't need this now!

It's not fair to any of us. I just ask not to point a finger just at US!

Sincerely,

Re-elect McNally

Dear Editor:

Our Clarkston district court judgeship is up for election this November. Gerald E. McNally has held the seat for more than 25 years and is seeking reelection to his last term before retirement. During Judge McNally's term in office as the Clarkston district court has developed a reputation as the most efficient district court in Oakland County.

This election year we have a young, inexperienced opponent who hopes to unseat our popular judge by spending a lot of money and promising to get tough on crime. She pledges that there will be swift and harsh punishment on all violators, no margins of error will be allowed, there will be no second chances. During her limited stint as a magistrate she handled hundreds of contested traffic ticket hearings; nearly all resulted in findings of guilt.

None of us want crime, but remember district court handles traffic tickets, misdemeanors and civil cases. Serious criminal cases go to circuit court. Don't let this inexperienced candidate mislead you into thinking that serious criminals are getting away with something; they're not.

While this inexperienced opponent expects you and me to follow the letter of the law, she continues to skirt the law as she has been doing with these political signs of hers. If one did not know better, they would think she owns a trucking company.

Our local townships have ordinances that limit size and length of time that these signs can be displayed. These ordinances were enacted so that we don't have to look at these signs until a few days before the election. Our tough law-and-order candidate for judge has been skirting the law with her oversized semi-truck signs parked around the district. She claims the law doesn't apply to her because these are moveable signs. Why she hasn't been charged is a good question.

Her attitude appears to be, "You will follow the law but it doesn't apply to me." Perhaps this is why she was rated "qualified, but not recommended" and our current judge was rated "Outstanding."

Help me re-elect fairness and integrity to the bench. Elect Gerald E. McNally.

Jim's Jottings

I see where the Big Buck Brewery & Steakhouse is coming to Auburn Hills. If I read it right it's the same company that has a place by the same name in Gaylord. For their sake, if they open down here, I hope the service is better than our two, and last, experiences up there.

Investment advisors, Heber Fuger Wenden, of Bloomfield Hills, say the trends in family income will bring new social patterns and economic implications like: Decrease in Community Involvement - People with time available to support the infrastructure of a community is continually decreasing. In addition, community desocialization through technology is expanding.

While Randy Davisson and his 13-year-old son were riding horseback from Oscoda to Lake Michigan recently, Randy heard a story on the radio he thought would amuse me . . . and it did. He told it: A farmer back in the depression days of the 1930s asked the local newspaper publisher if he could trade something on his farm for a subscription to his newspaper. The publisher said, "Sure, I'd like a load of corn cobs." The farmer replied, "Heck, if I had the corn cobs I wouldn't need your paper."

Some ne'er-do-well asked me the other day, "Do you know why it takes millions of male sperm to fertilize one female egg?" While I scratched my head the ne'er-do-well said, "You know men, they never ask directions!"

I'd like to know who set the standard for coat hangers. Who decided the neck should be three inches long and the total height nine inches? There's no logical reason hangers can't be six inches high, besides which, it would save wire, plastic or wood. It would also give me more room in the closet if just redesigned.

John Patrell says there are two essential elements for a happy marriage, separate checking accounts and separate bathrooms.

I did a triple take on a recent news release from Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre. The headline was: "James Sherman's Hilarious 'Jest A Second!'" I realized it wasn't me when the release also read, Sherman is also the author of "Beau Jest."

I thought I was real cool back in my early-teen years when viewing a movie at the Strand or Capital Theaters in Owosso, when at a particular moment I say, rather loudly, "That wasn't in the book!" Do young people do that any more?

Parents used to tell children stories to go to sleep, now children tell parents stories that keep them awake.

A look back

15 YEARS AGO (1981)

Max Broock Realtors owner Bowen Broock pulls the plug on Robert Warrington's plan to open a pinball arcade in the Village of Clarkston. After investigating the possibility, Broock says the plan is not mutually beneficial and turns down Warrington's request to rent the lower level of his building on Main St. Broock's main concern is parking, which he feels would be a problem because of all the traffic that would be generated, both from parking and from people dropping off kids.

Clarkston's Village Council schedules a public hearing on the proposed historic district ordinance for Oct. 28 in Clarkston Village Hall. If adopted by the council, the ordinance will require residents living in the historic district to first seek approval from a five-member commission before remodeling, conducting major repair or demolishing any of their homes or outbuildings.

Both aspects — a potent offense and a pitiful defense — are evident of the Waterford Kettering Captains during a dogfight with the Clarkston Wolves varsity football team Friday night. The Wolves come out on top at 26-22 to square their league record at 2-2 and overall mark at 3-3. Beating Kettering always means something to his players, as both teams "play hard and records are thrown out the window," says Wolves coach Walt Wynnemko.

Parents of Clarkston schools students will get to vote their opinions on busing. Through the cooperation of the Board of Education and administration, the Clarkston Chapter of NAG (National Action Group) will distribute ballots, collect and count them. The balloting will take the place of the reported boycott originally set for Oct. 25.

Former village councilman Jack Hagen severely criticizes the village police with "harassing" his son. Hagen, who previously served the village as police commissioner, tells council during a village meeting that on several occasions his son has been mistreated, sworn at and told to "get out of town." He says he has told police to either ticket his son or leave him alone, "but quit harassing him ... If it doesn't stop, there'll be other matters taken on it ... Probably legal."

The Clarkston Wolves capture the regional golf championship Saturday, led by sophomore Lee Booker, who hits a hole in one. The ace is the first in high school regionals and comes on the 205-yard eighth hole. The team's total score is 329. Saturday the Wolves play in the state finals held in Midland. They remain undefeated in league play.

News from "By The Way": Next week the Clarkston News goes "on the beam" with the modern of the moderns — plastic type. Advertising agencies have found that the new type is light enough to mail inexpensively, saves on metal and can be thrown away after using. It's a great world — if you can keep up with it ... While I doubt if my activities will ever include building a bowling alley, I did invest a half hour this week watching the builders install the alleys for Howe's Lanes. Incidentally, Les has quit biting his finger nails and is looking for pin boys ... Charles Beach is busy installing a grease rack so he can grease autos at his station at M-15 and the Dixie.

Playing at the Drayton Theatre are Marsha Hunt and John Carroll in "Letter for Evie," Gary Cooper and Ingrid Bergman in "Saratoga Trunk" and Claudette Colbert and John Wayne in "Without Reservations." Showing at the Holly Theatre are Roy Rogers, Gabby Hayes and Dale Evans in "My Pal Trigger," Ray Milland, Sonny Tufts and Olivia DeHavilland in "The Well Groomed Bride" and William Eliot and Constance Moore in "In Old Sacramento."

Specials at Terry's Market include orange juice, a 46-ounce can for 47 cents; corn flakes, an 11-ounce package for 11 cents; Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour, two packages for 29 cents; mustard, a quart jar for 15 cents; Planter's Cocktail Peanuts, 26 cents a can; and Clorox, a quart for 16 cents.

Two Clarkston boys enter the University of Detroit as freshmen this fall. Clifford G. Waterbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Waterbury, and John G. Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Wallace, will major in aeronautical engineering and pre-medical courses, respectively.

The Clarkston News reports that the current outstanding event in the film world is the presentation of Helen Hunt Jackson's immortal love story, "Ramona," in the newly perfected Technicolor, coming Sunday to the Holly Theatre. Among the excellent cast are Loretta Young and Don Ameche in the leads. Others include Kent Taylor, Pauline Frederick, Jane Darwell, Katherine DeMille, Victor Kilian and John Carradine. The largest setting in the film is the Moreno hacienda, where Ramona first meets Alessandro, her love interest.

Specials at Rudy's this week include short ribs, 12 cents a pound; Boston butt pork roast, 22 cents a pound; dates, a dime a pound; Kellogg's Corn Flakes, a package for 32 cents; and peanut butter, two pounds for a quarter.

QUESTION: What should parents look for as symptoms of drug abuse?

DR. DOBSON: listed below are eight physical and emotional symptoms that may indicate substance abuse by your child or teenager.

1. Inflammation of the eyelids and nose is common. The pupils of the eyes are either very wide or very small, depending on the kind of drugs internalized.

2. Extremes of energy may be represented. Either the individual is sluggish, gloomy and withdrawn, or he may be loud, hysterical and jumpy.

3. The appetite is extreme — either very great or very poor. Weight loss may occur.

4. The personality suddenly changes. The individual may become irritable, inattentive and confused, or aggressive, suspicious and explosive.

5. Body and breath odor is often bad. Cleanliness is generally ignored.

6. The digestive system may be upset - diarrhea, nausea and vomiting may occur. Headaches and double vision are also common.

Other signs of physical deterioration may include change in skin tone and body stance.

7. Needle marks on the body, usually appearing on the arms, are an important sign. These punctures sometimes get infected and appear as sores and boils.

8. Moral values often crumble and are replaced by new, way-out ideas and values.

People poll

By Eileen McCarville

Did watching the presidential and vice-presidential debates affect the way you'll vote?

TOM WARAKSA, CLARKSTON: No. I would vote for Dole no matter what.

BOB EASTMAN, CLARKSTON: No. I don't think either Dole or Kemp came off as genuine. I'm going to vote for Clinton and Gore. I think they both presented themselves as leaders and I don't think Dole and Kemp did that.

JEFF FOSTER, CLARKSTON: No. I'm a union man and Clinton's a union man. Dole isn't a union man and he's never going to be a union man. And I don't believe anybody's going to give you a 15-percent tax cut; it ain't gonna happen.

GLORIA BOWER, CLARKSTON: No. One reason is I already have my mind made up as to who and what I will vote for. And nothing changed that.

MIJIN PARK, BLOOMFIELD HILLS: No. I go along with the party's policy I prefer. I like the Republican policy.

CHS Life

By Meghann Smith

Life with parents

What is the deciding factor in anything we do as teenagers? Whether we want to believe this or not, it's parents. What a harsh concept, to say they control what we do. After all, we want to think that we are independent and make our own decisions.

If you and your friends don't have licenses, parents control where you go and when you go there. For example, I you want to go to Somerset Mall at six o'clock and stay there until 9:30 and your parents are the chauffeurs, then you may end up going to Summit Place at three in the afternoon, getting home in time for dinner, of course.

Now, one step up is when you or a friend has a license or an older sibling has a license. First, you have to convince your parental units that whoever is driving is responsible, which can be quite a task if they've heard your friend's horror stories about her sister and the speed limit. If you have a license, but no car, you have to beg and plead to be able to borrow the "grocery-getter" for the day and that usually comes along with some restrictions on where you can go. Yes it's true that they don't know for a fact that you drove to a Canadian night club but the next morning when there are 200 miles put on their car they may suspect that you weren't at the Clarkston Cinema watching the latest Disney film. As always, they'll have some expectations as to when you and the family car will be returning. ("But seriously, Mom, the movie is over at 1:30, not 11!")

The final category of teenagers is when you have a license AND a car. How every teen in the world who doesn't fit into this category envies you. Sure you may still have an extremely unfair curfew. Having to fork over half of your spending money to Shell because your gas-guzzler can only get ten miles to the gallon isn't exactly a joy, either. You do, however, get the freedom of being able to be anywhere with anyone (providing that "anyone's" parents think you are a capable driver) and that does have its' bonus points.

Besides deciding where and when you are going places, parents also determine what you after-school activities are. If they are keen on going to parent-teacher conferences and see Yale in your future, you might be stuck at your desk working on algebra equations all afternoon. Having a job in order to pay for that previously mentioned gas-guzzler also is determined by your parents, if you aren't lucky or spoiled enough to have them pay for your wheels. You very well could be flipping burgers for what seems like centuries before getting to go out with your friends. Or you may be the child of a music major or college sports star which leaves you at school most of the day for practice.

Parents also have a pretty big say in your weekends. If your curfew is 11:30, or if they wake you at 7 in the morning to go to church on Sunday, chances are on Saturday you won't be out partying until four in the morning. If you forgot to take Spot outside on Thursday or talked on the phone rather than doing homework, which resulted in a call home to your parents, your weekend will probably be spent in entire boredom, being locked in your bedroom. Or in entire chaos because you were elected the baby-sitter of your bratty brothers and sisters and all of your parents' friends' kids for their grown-ups' night out.

Our entire teenage lives are spent worrying about whether or not we're on Daddy's good side and if we've been nice enough to our mothers this past week. None of us can wait to become 18 and get the rightful freedom we deserve, but until then we're stuck in the eternal land of buttering up for that final say of theirs.

Heritage Hunt II

By Virginia Block

Dennis Lake of Ferndale has come to us seeking help on the Lake family history that has some confusion on the two Crapo Lakes that were in Oakland County at the same time apparently. While his "first hand" information comes from a grandfather who raised him, information from the family Bible does not provide enough proof to substantiate linking up with ancestry back to the 15th century that is already documented.

Rose Township seems to be the place most likely to find any existing reference to Dennis' family of this century, and much local history can be tapped for confirmation of records at hand belonging to the right Lake line.

Dennis' Lake line came to Michigan in the 1830's.

They seem to have come from Dutchess County, New York, and are found in the I.G.I. index of the L.D.S. Mormon records.

As we check our list of resources in our home library, the book most helpful to Dennis is our copy of the "Pontiac and Oakland County Gazeteer" for 1886-87. This dandy original lists land owners of that period and location of their land for those years for all of Oakland County, arranged alphabetically. We did find 3 Lake references that fit into Dennis' family research.

We are planning to resume our monthly meetings for workshops on Saturdays in the Pontiac Library so will be scheduling registration very soon. If you want to call me at home and leave a message, you can be assured of the upcoming schedule.

We hasten to add that new films for these classes continue the series begun on researching via the Mormon/Salt Lake City Library.

Next up will feature locating material and information in the National Archives. Following those will be films on researching in England and Wales. If you need any help in these areas, regardless of your present success in previous research, we urge you to get in touch for attendance in the workshops.

With the arrival of Fall colors, preparation by many of you are preparing to head to summer climates for the winter, but for all others, give us a try to start your "family health historian" role. We have lots to offer to anyone willing to get in touch with us. Happy Hunting!

Lights out

During a recent Clarkston City Council meeting, lights in the council room flickered and then went out. The reason? A police officer had entered the building hurriedly and groped for the wrong switch. When they came back on, DPW supervisor Bob Pursley was a little disoriented. "Whoa! I thought I passed out or something," he quipped.

Photo disrespectful

To the Editor:

As a former resident of the Clarkston/Springfield Township area from 1980-1990, I still enjoy reading the Clarkston News to keep in touch with what is happening in the area.

Anyone who knows me will tell you that I am not an old prude, and actually I prefer off-beat and off-the-wall humor.

However, I felt that the photo taken at the Lakeview Cemetery of the Clarkston High School Football team by Beth Sayles Richards on the front page of your October 2, 1996 issue was in very poor taste.

It wasn't very long ago that I recall reading about break-ins and vandalism at the cemetery and the mausoleums. I was horrified to read about it, and could only imagine how the families that were affected must have felt.

But maybe I shouldn't be so surprised that this "photo opportunity" was allowed to take place at the Lakeview Cemetery. Three years ago my husband and I attended the Memorial Day Parade in town, and we followed it into the cemetery for the special services that are held there. Although the service was a fine tribute to our fallen heroes, I was distracted and disgusted by all of the people who brought their dogs with them to the cemetery. I don't think I need to tell you what these "status symbols" with 4 legs and fur did to the gravesites while the names of the dead were being read. I did not see one person attempt to clean up after their pets, or even show concern over what they were doing. We have not returned for your Memorial Day services since that time.

This lack of respect for our cemeteries strengthens my decision to be cremated when my time comes.

Responds To Article

Dear Editor,

After I read the article by Annette Kingsbury about the break-in of an Independence Township family, I was appalled. The statements Jamie Cox said about the "FREAKS" astonished me.

I happen to be a "FREAK" at CHS. I am an Honor Roll student and on the yearbook staff. I am friends with all of the "FREAKS" and know that they are not "into drugs very much so." We are not a gang, or are we violent. We are just a group of friends that enjoy each others company.

We stay to ourselves and try to ignore others people's remarks, but when people accuse us of breaking into someone else's home, just because of our choice of clothing, I have to speak out. We expect this from kids at school, but not a mature adult. We get a lot of threats and often get beat up, but we would never inflict the pain we get onto someone else.

I believe Cox should be open to any suspects, not just us "FREAKS".

Sincerely,

Anonymous "FREAK" at CHS

Players seek cash on a new site

If such a split had been approved, the Players would have been offered a one-fourth acre lot to buy. Now, if none of the three lessees makes a successful offer, the entire parcel will go up for sale to the general public.

As to whether the land is worth $78,000, opinions differ. Kramer thinks not. "The buyer has to deal with leases and easements," he said. "Somebody out there wouldn't find it very appealing."

Its market value, according to the township, is closer to $27,000. It's situated right next to a working railroad line, but is strategically important to all three of its lessees.

"That's an asking price," Kramer said. "I find it unlikely the land is worth that kind of money."

Bartlett disagrees. "Land in Independence Township is a hot commodity," he said.

The situation has thrown the 36-year-old CVP into a siege mentality. Bartlett hopes enough money can be raised to make the Players—well, players—in any deal that's worked out.

Moving the building is a consideration, but no one knows right now if that's physically possible. Bartlett wouldn't rule it out, if a new site could be found.

"That would be wonderful but the thing is, we don't have money. Because this happened in August, we got caught completely off guard."

"We're the only live arts entertainment group in Clarkston. If we had a fairy godfather that wanted to come along and say 'Here's some land'... We'd be hard pressed to say no. Even if we had land donated, even if we get displaced for a while, that would be better than losing the whole thing."

Depot Theatre sits hard against a working railroad track on White Lake Rd. Because of its tiny size, the Players' revenue from performances is limited. Shows generally sell out.

You can do anything with children if you only play with them.

A very special night for middle-schoolers

Middle-school age children and their parents are invited to a very special evening, courtesy of the Family Education Committee of Clarkston Area Youth Assistance and the middle school PTAs.

The groups will bring to Sashabaw Middle School Crossroads Productions of Southfield and their play, "My name is Pam Rogers and I have AIDS." The 90-minute program uses live theater and a facilitated discussion to help teenagers and adults understand AIDS and its impact on their lives.

The play follows the story of a young college student who discovers she has AIDS. How she became infected with the virus and how she and her friends react to the situation are the main elements of the plot.

Discussion will follow with medical personnel. The goal is to have everyone go away understanding that AIDS does not discriminate. Anyone can get it.

According to Merelyn Mallet, chairperson of the Family Education Committee of CAYA, the program is aimed at middle-school students and their parents. Children should be accompanied by a parent or guardian. The program is offered to public and private school students, middle-school or high-school age.

Mallet said Youth Assistance presented this program six years ago. Coincidentally, it was the night basketball superstar Magic Johnson went before the media to announce he was infected with the HIV virus, the virus that causes AIDS. The turnout that night was big, and Mallet hopes to repeat it this time.

The program will be held at Sashabaw Middle School at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 7 at 7 p.m. For more information call Youth Assistance at 625-9007.

Learning outside the textbook

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

What is the Clinton River Watershed and why is it important?

That's part of what students around the Detroit metro area, including some from Clarkston High School, are learning, not just from textbooks but from hands-on testing of the watershed's waters.

CHS students who are members of the Earth Vision class and the new Web Club went out in wet, chilly weather Oct. 9 to sample water from three sites: the headwaters, located in Independence Oaks County Park; on a channel between Lake Oakland and Woodhull Lake; and at the head of Woodhull Lake on Dixie Highway.

In addition to taking water samples, teams of students observed the water and its surroundings, looking for aquatic life, the color of the water, any odors, algae or litter and much more. Testing of the samples will reveal the amount of solids in the water and whether any E coli bacteria are present, among other things.

The results from 18 such testing sites will be shared among 700 students from 14 schools expected to attend a student congress hosted by the Clinton River Watershed Council Oct. 22 at the Pontiac Silverdome.

According to Jennifer Derby, an environmental specialist with the CRWC, a non-profit organization formed in 1972 to preserve, protect and defend the Clinton River and its watershed, the voluntary monitoring was begun in 1991.

"It's designed to give students real-world, hands-on scientific experience," she said. Students test at their appointed sites on the Clinton River or one of its tributaries in spring and fall.

"We compare data over time to compare trends in water quality at their site as well as at all the other sites the students monitor," Derby said. In addition, it's hoped the students will be motivated enough by the experience "to take action in their communities," she said.

Adrian Basset, a tenth-grader enrolled in CHS's first Earth Vision class, said it's had that effect on him. "It's amazing what kind of stuff you can learn," he said. "It makes you want to do more and more for the environment."

As part of the Earth Vision team, Basset was one of five students who spent much of the past year learning about scientific research and putting together a proposal to study the chloride level in the Clinton River. CHS was awarded a computer by the Environmental Protection Agency because of their work.

"This is basically the swamp where the Clinton River system starts," Adrian said as he and his fellow students gathered at Independence Oaks. The river empties into Lake St. Clair.

Jeremy Parrot goes into the chilly Clinton River headwaters to sample water quality and look at the area up close.

"This river was one of the causes of the shutdown of Lake St. Clair due to high fecal coliform," he said. "Most of Oakland County is in the basin." It also includes parts of Macomb, Lapeer and St. Clair counties.

According to CHS teacher Holly Stephens, previous testing by the CHS science club turned up pretty clean water at the headwaters. By the time the water reaches Mt. Clemens, however, it's a different story. However, not all the news is bad.

"What's interesting is how much better it's gotten over the years," Stephens said.

Tell that to the folks who live on Lake St. Clair, who have seen their beaches closed and their economy suffer the last two summers. Junior Genevieve Benson, also a member of the Earth Vision class, said what happens to the river affects us all.

"All of this contributes to the life the river supports. So if the water is bad it's going to affect the life around it."

Both Genevieve and Adrian have well water at home. They see the connection between the watershed and their own everyday lives.

"Some of the stuff in the water is good for you, like iron," Genevieve said. "People complain about how it tastes but it's good for you."

As Adrian's first group of Earth Vision students continue to work on their chloride study, Genevieve and the second group have yet to decide what research project they will undertake. And the students in the Web Club have a different job altogether. According to Stephens they will enter the results of the local testing onto the Internet via the CHS home page as part of the Adopt a River program. There it can be read by everyone else involved in the program.

Derby, of the CRWC, said most schools are not as involved, or as advanced, as CHS in her project. Nevertheless, it's hoped all students will feel involved in important work.

"Overall the project is to give students an educational viewpoint of the watershed ... give them a sense of ownership, that they can make it better," she said. "It directly affects our drinking water, our bath water, fishing, recreation and activities."

Audit OK'd Village Towne Center moves forward

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston school district passed its audit with flying colors, auditors from Plante & Moran told the board of education Monday night.

With about a $40 million operating budget, the district came in within one percent of where it had planned to, said Mike Walsh of Plante & Moran. "It tells us the board and district were able to manage their operations," he said. "It's a very positive feat for the board to accomplish."

Walsh showed figures that indicate Clarkston spends less than the average per student in Oakland County, but of that more than average goes toward instructional costs. However, he noted that some county districts spend thousands of dollars more per student than anyone else in the state, throwing the county average out of whack.

Walsh noted the growth in the district's fund equity—that is, the amount in savings at the end of the year. The fund equity has grown from $1.3 million in 1987 to $3.4 million as of June 30, 1996.

However, board president Bill McGregor pointed out that of that, $800,000 is set aside from the sale of the district's bus fleet when it went to a private contractor. The board agreed to hold the money aside in case the deal didn't work out and it needed to repurchase the buses. Some other money represents unused sick pay, McGregor said.

"We would recommend the fund balance be maintained," Walsh said. "I think all of you would agree with that. There will be a need for it in the future."

Plante & Moran's representatives pointed out that due to changes in state funding under Proposal A, future revenue growth will be wholly dependent on enrollment increases. Districts can no longer go to the voters for money, unless its for bond issues.

Superintendent Al Roberts said he was pleased with the audit process and the results.

"The comment I've heard since I arrived here is cost and value," he said. "The other thing it points out is the administration is going to have to bring reality to bear. There isn't going to be that growth (in revenue)."

The Waldon Village Towne Center planned unit development edged a notch closer with wetland and natural feature approval at the Independence Township Planning Commission meeting Oct. 10.

Commissioners voted 5-0, with Dan Travis absent, to make their recommendation subject to a state Department of Environmental Quality permit which is still needed. The matter then moves to the Board of Trustees for a final vote.

Township engineering consultant Randy Ford of Hubbell, Roth & Clark told commissioners that township environmental consultant Derek Stratelak had "identified all specific impacts" in the wetlands areas.

Waldon Village is a multimillion-dollar, mixed-use development that will spring up behind the Independence Commons shopping center at Sashabaw and Waldon roads. Its plan incorporates homes, condos, an office building, restaurants, specialty shops, a park, gazebo, fountains and may also include a medical facility run by Genesys Regional Medical Center, as currently proposed.

It also features a pond, wetlands and woodland preserves—items valued highly by its neighbors. This portion of the project addresses the wetlands area and a five-acre man-made pond where banks will need to be properly sloped "to create a softer shore," commissioner Joe Figa said.

Plans will need to also include a sound drainage system to keep the water free from sediment, salt and petroleum products.

A second area in the northwest portion that features a smaller pond was also scrutinized and a proposed road was moved to the east for less impact, township building director Bev McElmeel said.

Like other neighbors who voiced concerns during the public hearing, Lake Waldon Ct. resident Judy Bopp said she worries about aesthetics. She told commissioners she's concerned about the "crystal-clear" pond and doesn't want to see it turned into "a brown slush."

"This is some of the prettiest water we have," she said.

Her neighbor, Bill Cooke, said he was also there to find out about the effects of runoff products and future plans for increased safety. "Right now, kids slide right down into it," he said, in talking about the pond after discussion ended.

In other commission action:

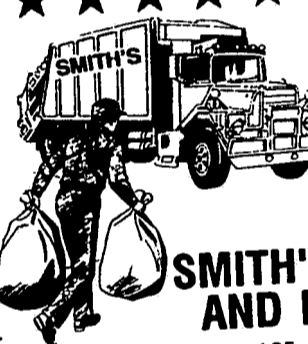

- Reconsideration of a special land use for a second wall sign for Family Video at Sashabaw and Maybee roads was approved, 4-1.

- Commissioners also voted 4-1 to grant a special land use request for a second wall sign for Konfetti Kids on Dixie Highway. Commissioner Todd Moss voted no in both cases.

- The commission voted 5-0 to grant final site plan approval for Billy Bob's and Ameritech stores on Dixie. In a second motion, they voted 5-0 to have a commissioner meet with the owner of Clarkston Oaks Shopping Center to discuss a path between the two businesses.

- Moss was appointed vice chair by other members of the commission to replace Dave Lohmeier who has resigned.

from some of our staff members.

from the kitchen of:

One-Pot Lasagna
Eileen McCarville, Clarkston News Reporter
Feeds an Army!

Sauce:

- 1 lb. ground beef or turkey
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 clove garlic
- 2 1/2 c. tomatoes (or 1 lg. can)
- 1 small can tomato paste
- 1 T. parsley
- 1 T. oregano
- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/3 c. water

Brown beef, onion and garlic together. Add rest of ingredients.

Cook 10 oz. egg noodles. Drain and place in a casserole, alternating with sauce and the following cheese mixture:

- 1/2 lb. mozzarella cheese
- 6 T. parmesan cheese
- 2/3 lb. Velveeta (sliced)

Layer noodles, then meat, then 1/2 mozzarella, 2 T. parmesan and 1/2 of Velveeta. Top with rest of sauce and 2 T. parmesan cheese.

Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes.

from the kitchen of:

Panocha
Patricia Battishill, Clarkston News Office

- 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1/3 cup light cream
- 1/3 cup milk
- 2 Tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup broken walnuts or pecans

Butter sides of heavy 2-quart saucepan. In it combine sugars, cream, milk and butter. Heat over medium heat, stirring constantly till sugars dissolve and mixture comes to boiling. Then cook to a soft ball stage (238 degrees), stirring only if necessary. Immediately remove from heat and cool to lukewarm (110 degrees) without stirring.

Add vanilla. Beat vigorously till fudge becomes very thick and starts to lose its gloss. Quickly stir in nuts and spread in buttered shallow pan or small platter. Score in squares while warm. Top each with nut half. Cut when firm.

from the kitchen of:

White Chili
Eileen McCarville, Clarkston News Reporter

- 1 1/2 lb. boned skinless chicken breasts
- 1 large can chicken broth
- 1 large jar Northern white beans
- 2 c. chopped onion
- 1/2 bulb garlic or more (may use canned garlic cloves)
- 1 4 oz. can green chili peppers chopped (may omit)
- 2 heaping tsp. ground cumin
- 2 tsp. ground oregano
- 1/4 tsp. white pepper
- 1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper

few drops Tabasco sauce (may omit) olive oil for sauteeing

1. Saute onion and garlic in olive oil.
2. Microwave chicken until done.
3. Simmer chicken broth and beans.
4. Add onion, garlic, chicken and seasonings to broth mixture and slow cook 2-3 hours.

from the kitchen of:

Easy Caramel Apple Pie
Steve Leaver, Advertising Consultant

Filling:

- 5 - 6 Granny Smith Apples, cored & peeled and cut up
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup cornstarch
- 3/4 cup Marzetti's Caramel Apple Dip
- Frozen Pet Ritz Pie Crust

Slowly bring to boil apples, sugar & cornstarch. Add water as necessary.

When apples begin to soften, pour mixture in frozen pie crust. Drizzle caramel (pre-warmed) on apples.

Topping:

- 3/4 cup flour
- 3/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup butter

Cut butter into flour and sugar until crumb consistency. Sprinkle crumb mixture on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes on cookie sheet - cool and forget your diet.

Salmon Burgers
(adapted from Bon Appetit)
Annette Kingsbury, Clarkston News Editor serves 4

- 1 lb. Salmon, cut in chunks
- 4 Green Onions, chopped
- 1 Tbsp. Lemon Juice
- 1 tsp. Dijon Mustard
- 1 tsp. Horseradish
- 1/4 tsp. Salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 c. bread crumbs

Combine all ingredients gently in food processor. Sauté in 1 Tbsp. butter. Serve on a hamburger bun with tomato and mayonnaise.

from the kitchen of:

Strawberry Shortcakes
Shirley Rush, Clarkston News Office
6 servings

- 2 pints strawberries, sliced
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 2 1/3 cups Bisquick Original Baking Mix
- 1/2 cup milk
- 3 tbsps. sugar
- 3 tbsps. margarine or butter, melted
- Sweetened whipped cream

Sprinkle strawberries with 2/3 cup sugar; let stand 1 hour.

Heat oven to 425 degrees. Stir remaining ingredients except whipped cream until soft dough forms. Gently smooth into ball on board lightly dusted with baking mix. Knead 8-10 times. Roll 1/2-inch thick.

Cut with 3-inch cutter. Place on ungreased cookie sheet.

Bake 10-12 min. or until golden brown. Split shortcakes; fill and top with strawberries. Top with whipped cream.

Drop Shortcakes: After stirring, drop dough by 6 spoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheet. Bake 10-12 min or until golden brown.

Loading zones to be tried downtown

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The discussion on where and how to put loading zones downtown continued at Clarkston City Council's meeting Monday night, with some temporary solutions decided upon.

Clarkston Police Chief Paul Ormiston said he will mark two zones in the alley between Washington and Depot streets, west of Main. Both will be flush to buildings; one behind Rudy's, the other behind NBD Bank. Ormiston said he will do this immediately and is authorized to do so as the city's traffic engineer and because of a provision in the state's motor vehicle code.

The zones will be tested for 90 days under a traffic control order. They will then be reviewed and perhaps permanently implemented.

An area on Main St., on the east side south of Church, is another possibility for a loading zone but poses problems because of poor sight distance, Ormiston said. Gary Tressel, of city engineering consultant Hubbell, Roth & Clark, suggested moving the location farther south to improve visibility for cars turning from Church onto Main.

Council agreed to petition the Michigan Department of Transportation for permission to implement a loading zone there. Authorization is needed because Main is a state trunkline, Ormiston said. MDOT may require that Church be made one-way, east from Main, he said. If that needs to be part of the deal, Ormiston and the city will decide whether it's worth changing the currently two-way street. If not, the street will stay the way it is, he said.

Dick and John Morgan, who own Morgan's Service at the corner of Main and Church, are not in favor of the change because they say it will affect their business.

Meanwhile, Tressel will continue to look for possibilities for downtown loading zones elsewhere.

Ormiston says the zones are needed because "We've not created any legal place for any delivery trucks to make a delivery in this town," other than a current spot on E. Washington that is not very practical for workers.

Parking improvements might include some strings

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Cooperation may finally be established between the City of Clarkston and a prominent local business owner.

But not without some tradeoffs.

Clarkston Mills Mall owner Ed Adler told council Monday he is prepared to offer the city two options concerning a new parking lease and improvements on Depot Rd.

One choice is to end the parking arrangement he presently has with the city whereby he leases about 15-17 spaces in the city's right-of-way for Mills parking on the north side of Depot. Though not a part of that agreement, Adler has let people park on his property for years. Adler's attorney Jon Gaskell said the lease is more of "a license" because either party can pull out of it.

Under the first plan, Adler would not make any parking improvements for the city, but would build a retaining wall along his side and reconfigure his own parking area closer to a river that runs through the property.

The other, which he and city attorney Tom Ryan are encouraging the city to strongly consider, is to implement a joint plan that would create additional city parking on the south side of the road. Under the deal — which means Adler gets a new, 30-year "non-cancelable lease" — Adler would foot the bill for all improvements on his side of the street, including a sidewalk from the alley downwards, gutters, curbing and landscaping. The cost would be somewhere between $45,000 and $75,000, Gaskell said.

The city would spend about $45,000, the amount stashed in its major road improvement fund, to improve the south side. The plan could include grading the land that backs two Main St. businesses, Dunlap Realtors and an office building, which Adler owns, to create more parking. Additional spots could be implemented in the grassy strip at the bottom of the hill.

Detroit Edison lines and poles that intrude into the area would have to be moved, but Adler says the city could do that at Edison's cost.

If Adler gets site plan approval for the addition he wants on the back of the Mills Mall, the fill dirt from excavation could be used toward the grading, he said.

City engineer Gary Tressel presented council members with copies of the blueprint for the proposed reconfigurations, the fruits of his laboring with Adler, attorneys, the city planner and council members at a recent study group meeting. They were also given copies of the proposed lease agreement.

Adler said he wants a solid deal. "I'll do my side. You do your side. But I want a lease, and it won't be cancelable ... If I spend all this money, I want a new shake."

Gaskell said the plans are not contingent on Adler getting his site plan approval. "But if he doesn't build the addition he probably would not make any improvements," he said.

Adler plans to meet with the city's Zoning Board of Appeals in December to consider 12 variances he needs for his site plan. The matter will go to the planning commission and then to council for a final vote.

Ryan urged the city to consider the "food for thought" as a mutual benefit to the city, its residents and Adler.

"You've got an opportunity to do the whole thing," he said of Depot Rd. "You've got all the players involved. It's got potential. And it won't hold Mr. Adler up."

Another study group meeting is scheduled before the next council meeting Oct. 28.

City manager Art Pappas said Tuesday he supports the second concept.

"It would definitely open up a lot of parking and that seems to be the major topic of conversation around here. And I think it would be a break for a lot of people who work downtown," he said.

In other council action:

● Karen Sanderson volunteered to learn how to work cable video equipment so city council meetings can be taped.

● The SMART agreement was continued where the city gives money to SCAMP and Senior Citizens.

● Council voted 4-0 with Bill Basinger, Steve Secatch and Walt Gamble absent, to allocate $2,600 for city sidewalk improvements needed before winter. DPW Supervisor Bob Pursley will need about $1,000 more in the spring to finish.

'You've got an opportunity to do the whole thing. You've got all the players involved.'

Stuart elected to state workforce association

What "works" for Independence Township supervisor Dale Stuart is helping folks climb a few rungs higher on the job ladder.

Stuart was elected Second Vice President of Michigan Works! during its annual meeting held at Boyne Highlands in Harbor Springs Sept. 30.

Michigan Works! is a federally funded workforce development program that aims toward getting disadvantaged youth and adults into the job market. One of its functions is to help people, who have had financial setbacks and are on welfare, find work that lifts them out of dependency.

The program "receives federal funds to conduct training programs and help people get jobs," Stuart said.

In Michigan there are 26 different service delivery areas or agencies that work with their Workforce Development Boards to develop services in local communities. The boards administer funds and target programs like School-to-Work, Work First, Job Training and Placement and others related to workforce development.

Stuart was first elected to the association's Executive Committee in 1995, representing the Greater Pontiac Area Consortium, where he is currently chair. When first elected township supervisor he was serving as a member of the consortium's policy committee. Other local consortiums are located in Auburn Hills, Orion, Independence, Highland and Waterford.

The statewide program is expanding considerably, Stuart said. And though most folks wouldn't think the township has a lot of people who fit the profile, the service is badly needed here as well, he said.

Dale Stuart

"It's an important function to the whole area. It involves our people in Independence — people who need the assistance as well as in other communities. It provides a valuable service."

an Travis absent, to recommend final site plan approval, McElmeel said the proposal would be presented to the Board of Trustees in "the same fashion as it was originally approved. As the legislative body, the township board will decide what's to be done here."

Called Friday, township supervisor Dale Stuart said the township is currently exploring the two options for preservation. But he cited the structure's "remote" location and said the township might not be able to afford the funds needed for renovation.

"One of our concerns is that it might take a lot of money to restore it to its original condition. The township doesn't have (the) money," he said.

During a phone interview, Bruni did not indicate he would be the one to fund renovation work. But he said he told the CCHS he and his partner would be happy to serve as general contractors, free of charge. "And I would serve as head of the finance committee to renovate it."

CCHS president and CCMF first vice president Kim Huttenlocher said Friday that she figures the old farmhouse was built between 1850 and 1875, although it's not described in the CCHS's local Heritage Book. While she argues the importance of its architecture, she agrees it might not be the best location for the "general" museum the committee really wants.

"Our goal is to have a museum in Clarkston. Where, we don't know yet."

Huttenlocher said when members of the the committee heard about the farmhouse, they thought it might be a good prospect.

"It is part of the township. The township's heritage is farming," she said. However, renovations would be extremely costly. "It would have to be climate-controlled, barrier-free ... The developers has talked to several architects but we don't have any final quotes."

Huttenlocher agreed that there are no firm plans, only discussion. Both she and Hewko agree the foremost concern is preservation. If sold, strict covenants would have to be written into the deed, she added.

Bob Beattie, a member of both the museum committee and the Independence Land Conservancy, said he had been present at meetings with Bruni, Stuart, the museum committee and the conservancy. He said plans to donate the farmhouse and land to the township were "the necessary trade-off for the approval of the density ... We were told if the project went through, the township would own the house and barn on that corner."

The Clarkston (MI) News Wed., October 16, 1996 21 A

The conservancy has an avid interest in the preserved open space. "I guess we'd like to see protective easements to guarantee it would be kept in its natural state," he said.

Land conservancy secretary Tom Bullen said Tuesday that the conservancy had also proposed a concept to Bruni and he was surprised that it had not been addressed at the planning commission meeting.

"We thought it would be an ideal home for a parsonage, if you will, for our soon-to-be-hired, full-time executive director." The director could live in the historic landmark and maintain it, with office space for the conservancy, he said.

Bullen also said he was sure that at one time Bruni said he would "provide some funds toward renovation."

Discussion about the development also included input from members of Bailey Lakeview Subdivision, particularly those who live on Sally Rd. which borders the property.

While subdivision association president Bob Bjurman agreed that Stonewall Farms would be "a spectacular neighbor," he and other neighbors voiced concerns about drainage, increase traffic, tree preservation and other factors.

Carlisle suggested that those residents be included in the final decision-making process for the development.

Sheriff's log for Independence Township

MONDAY, OCTOBER 7, a Maybee resident found a window shot out by a BB around 4 a.m.

Door glass was shattered on a 1997 Explorer and a phone stolen on Sugarloaf Trail.

A 26-year-old Pontiac man who came to the substation to pick up property from an auto accident was arrested on outstanding warrants.

A 20-year-old Holly man driving on Dixie hit a light pole, then fled the scene. Once apprehended he said his brakes had failed. He was ticketed for leaving the scene of an accident, having no drivers license and having improper license plates.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 8, a 17-year-old Clarkston boy was ticketed after he trespassed in a car at Sashabaw Plains Park. He claimed ignorance of the trespassing. Police found drug paraphernalia in his car.

The windshield of a 1994 Jeep was broken overnight while it was parked in an Ashwood parking lot.

A Mann resident found a two-way radio in bushes in his yard.

A phone left in a coat pocket on Dixie was reported lost or stolen.

A phone fell from a car somewhere on Dixie.

A tire was punctured and two hubcaps stolen from a Taurus parked on Lancaster Lake Rd.

Larceny of two guns, a speaker and 25 CDs from a car parked, unlocked, on Pine Knob Trail overnight.

Deputies tried to arrest a 31-year-old Clarkston man at his home on Ennismore on an outstanding warrant. He fled on foot but was captured moments later.

An earth mover being driven on Oakhill stalled and started to roll backwards. The driver tried to steer off the road and hit and broke a utility pole in the process. No injuries.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9, a 23-year-old Clarkston man was arrested for drunk driving on Mary Sue after a deputy noticed his erratic driving on Maybee. When pulled over he refused roadside sobriety tests, then suddenly started walking on his hands. He tested .18 on a preliminary blood-alcohol test; the legal limit is .10. He was also ticketed for driving on a restricted license and speeding.

A woman walking on Oakhill said she was struck above the eye, probably by a BB.

Injury accident on Maybee. A 45-year-old Clarkston woman was taken to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital after she drove off a curve, rolled her car and hit some signs. She told investigators a truck had run her off the road but witnesses reported seeing no second vehicle.

A purse was stolen from a 1988 Buick parked on Fowler.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, a 1991 Pontiac parked in the high-school parking lot had its windshield cracked, possibly with a rock.

Deputies were called to check on the welfare of a child on River Burch.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11, harassment on Upland.

Possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia on Clintonville. During a traffic stop a deputy found a marijuana pipe, marijuana cigarette, a car radio, several CO2 cannisters and shotgun shells and a runaway in a car driven by a 16-year-old Clarkston boy. The driver admitted the radio was stolen and he had inhaled the CO2. The pipe and cigarette were confiscated; the case remains under investigation. The runaway was returned to his parents.

Harassing phone calls on Snowapple.

Several juveniles visiting a home on Mary Sue damaged the house and some appliances. House keys also turned up missing.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, two Clarkston boys, ages 13 and 14, were caught trying to steal cigarettes from a Dixie store around midnight. They told deputies they had gone to church together, then walked to the store to steal cigarettes. They were released to their parents.

A 1990 Honda automobile loaned to a 25-year-old Clarkston woman was never returned.

Harassing phone calls on Mann.

Four tires and wheels valued at $2,000 were stolen from a 1996 Chrysler convertible parked on Tuson.

A license plate was reported lost or stolen on Pheasant Run.

A 16-year-old boy was reported to have run away and taken the family car on Old Cove.

A 24-year-old Clarkston man was not injured when he drove his car off Sashabaw and into a mail box, spun and hit a tree and another mail box.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 13, a garage door was pried on Tappan and a number of car parts and tools were stolen.

Two credit cards and $120 cash were stolen from a purse while the owner worked at a Sashabaw business. The owner said when she called to report the credit-card thefts she was told $4,000 had already been charged.

Deputies responded to a call about a loud house party on Mann and broke it up. Shortly thereafter, residents reported a number of cars broken into and several items stolen along the same road.

Malicious destruction to several mail boxes overnight on Caribou.

The hasp on a shed on Oak Park was pried and several power tools valued at over $4,000 were stolen. Tracks indicated the thief wheeled the tools to a waiting truck.

A woman came to the substation to report her son had run away. In the process of the report they saw the boy walking on Dixie. The deputy gave chase and the boy fled, jumping into a pond, where he was eventually caught.

Three garage door openers and a phone were found inside a missing tool box returned to its owner on Genoa. A neighbor had found the box in the bushes.

REAL ESTATE UPDATE

DON'T PASS UP A GEM

DON'T LET NEGATIVE FIRST Impressions deter you from buying a gem of a home.

QUESTION: How much stock should I put into negative first impressions when looking for a home

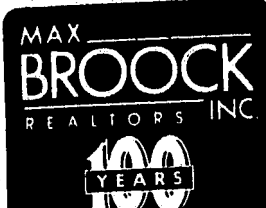

ANSWER: First impressions are important, but don't let them keep you from buying a real gem of a home. Does the place need just a few cosmetic improvements to feel right? Would new carpeting, appliances, contemporary hardware, different light fixtures or some fresh paint and paper make the place feel like home? These are fairly minor changes and are relatively easy alterations to make.

Interior spaces can be reworked, walls removed, and spaces reoriented to make a chopped-up floor plan flow like magic.

Prize-winners

The images appearing on this page are the winners in a contest sponsored by Independence Township Parks and Recreation and The Clarkston News in two divisions, adult and child. They now advance to the state level in the Focus on Michigan competition sponsored by the Michigan Recreation and Park Association.

To qualify, amateur photographers had to submit work shot at a Michigan public park, recreational facility or public fair or festival.

In the children's division, 7-year-old Tiffany Yarnall won first and third places. Her mother, Tamara, won third place in the adult division. It appears the love of photography runs in the family.

Tiffany "wanted a camera for Christmas," her mom said. The other youth winner, Matthew Prunte, 10, also got a camera for Christmas.

"Basically it's his first time around and he's pretty excited," his mom said.

Third place, youth: Girls on the Bridge, Tiffany Yarnall.

Gridders crush Athens, 45-0, raise record to 6-0 on year

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Special to The Clarkston News

Playing the 10th-ranked team in Class AA on the road for its Homecoming game would seem like a difficult task, right?

Well, the Clarkston varsity football team made it look easy in a 45-0 win over the Troy Athens Red Hawks Friday night.

The Wolves, now 6-0 overall, and 4-0 in the Oakland Activities Association Division I, capitalized on Athens mistakes and used a well-balanced offense in cruising to the win.

Coach Kurt Richardson said the team came out roaring and ready to play from the opening quarter.

"We just came out and dominated for four quarters," he said. "We converted two early turnovers and it just snowballed for them."

Clarkston's Jeff Long was a spark on both offense and defense in the win. Long recovered a fumble and picked off two Athens passes. Out of his three forced turnovers, two were converted into scores in the decisive second quarter.

After staking an early 6-0 lead, the Wolves poured it on, scoring 19 points in the second, thanks to three short touchdown blasts by Long, Brad Phalen and quarterback Dane Fife.

In addition to the touchdown run, Fife also had a big day through the air, passing for 235 yards while completing 15 of 18. His two touchdown throws both came in the third quarter, one a 13 yarder to Travis Pegg and another 50-yard bomb to Jason Frack.

"Dane was outstanding," Richardson said. "He had all day back there to throw, thanks to our offensive line. They did just a terrific job of protecting him."

Jared Thomas added a one-yard TD plunge in the fourth quarter to finish the scoring.

Phalen once again sparked the running game, ringing up 103 yards and two touchdowns, including a 4-yard run in the first quarter.

Richardson also credited the Wolves' defense in the shut-out of the previously unbeaten Red Hawks. He said bench production and playmaking were the difference.

"We had a bunch of kids hurt back there, but we had other kids step up and play awfully well for us," he said. "Brad Bailey was outstanding, and Danny Newbeck had an interception and knocked a couple of passes down."

Indeed the defense was stingy, allowing the

Kickers fall to Brandon

BY MARALEE COOK
Special to The Clarkston News

Clarkstons' girls basketball team enjoyed two pretty wins last week, beating Lapeer West at home 61-34 Oct. 8, and Royal Oak Kimball away, 31-24 Oct. 10.

Coach Larry Mahrle said the 61 points scored against Lapeer are a season high for the team. "We shot well from the floor (25 for 50). That was the big difference."

Kammy Powell led the team in scoring with 12 points - a season high for her - and Georgia Senkyr scored 9 points and had 8 rebounds. Aimee Giroux totaled 7 points, while Tiffany Honey and Candace Morgan each supplied 6, and Carin Kirk scored 5. Sue Naboychik, Allison Richards and Abby Wiley each scored 4 points and Jennifer Bauer and Allison Prudhomme each contributed 2.

Mahrle said the contest against Kimball was a "tough defensive game." Team captain Sue Naboychik had 7 rebounds. "She just wants the ball," said Mahrle. "There's no substitute for hard work. She's the shortest player on the team and leads the team in rebounds."

Georgia Senkyr and Jennifer Bauer each scored 6 points, Tiffany Honey scored 5 and Abby Wiley and Carin Kirk each scored 4. Kammy Powell scored 3 points, Allison Richards scored 2 points and Aimee Giroux scored 1.

The Wolves faced Rochester Adams, a tough Div. I opponent Tuesday, and are at Lake Orion Thursday.

Golf team in regionals

The boys golf team finished 9th out of 18 teams at Friday's regionals held at Pontiac Country Club. The boys shot 330 over 18 holes.

Low scorer for the day was Bob Schultz, who shot his average at 81 and has played steadily all year, said coach Jim Chamberlain. Bryan Haggard shot an 82, his average score for the year, and while he shot 44 on the first nine holes, came back nicely on the second nine to shoot 38, Chamberlain said. Tim Klimek shot an 83 for the tournament, Jeff Cumberworth shot an 84, and Ben Ness shot 86. The team is 4-1 in dual meets and faced a second league meet Tuesday at Heather Highlands.

Schubring makes regional semi-finals

The girls varsity tennis team earned eight points and placed sixth out of 13 at Friday's regional competition at Troy High School - the best finish in about 10 years, said coach Dick Swartout.

All but one of the players won their first round matches. Courtney Schubring, at #2 singles made the semi-finals, losing 6-1, 6-2 to the #2 seed girl from Rochester High School.

Becky Olsen and Jocelyn Stock beat #2 seed Rochester in the second round, 0-6, 6-0, 6-2 before falling to the #4 seed team from Warren Cousineau in the third round of the semi-finals, 7-6, 7-5.

Swartout said it's been a good year. "We finished the year third in our division (up from fourth place last year), 7-5 in dual meets, and it was a successful finish in regionals."

Looking ahead to next year, Swartout said he will have two juniors, seven sophomores and two freshmen coming back. "I have 11 players out of 16 returning, which is pretty good."

Golf

The JV golf team only had one match last week, losing to Brother Rice 180-205.

Dave Benner shot a great game with a score of 47, followed by Ryan Anderson with a 52. The Wolves played at Oakland Hills Golf Course, which is very difficult.

This week will be a very busy one for the golf team, which has three matches and one invitational coming up. This is the very last week for regular season play.

"Oakland Hills was a very difficult golf course. The boys are just learning to play on private courses. I had hoped to play better, but I was not surprised at the outcome," said Coach Tim Kaul.

JV GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Wolves added two more victories to their overall record this week, beating Lapeer West and Royal Oak Kimball.

Last Tuesday, the Wolves had an overwhelming victory over Lapeer, 51-33. Heather Combs, Lindsey Prudhomme, and Corinne McIntyre each had 8 points. Kara Bergkoetter and Mandie Harrison each played outstanding defense.

Last Thursday, the Wolves won again, beating Kimball 37-24. Kelly Hanna led the team with 9 points.

"We played well. These were two great victories, because we are coming into a very tough part of the season," said Coach Gary Kaul.

This week the Wolves play Rochester Adams and Lake Orion.

Football

The JV football team played very well last week, beating Troy Athens 56-26.

Eric Jenks and Mike Simko each had solid nights in the passing game as QB's. Eric was 7 for 11, passing for 80 yards and Mike was 2-2, passing for 35 yards. Tim Loveless led rushing with 10 carries for 210 yards and two touchdowns, along with 2 two-point conversions. Many other people also scored in the game. Ronnie Wells, Nate Jerdon, Andrew Stuzman, and Erich Poley each had a touchdown. Along with a touchdown, Dave Chavers also added a two-point conversion. Brent Deuel also ran the ball in for a two-point conversion.

Although the defense made some mistakes, they still played rather well. Spencer Hynes led the team in tackles with 6, followed by Nate Jerdon with 5. Jeff Oliver, Tim Loveless, and Eric Jenks each had 4 tackles.

"We played very well. Our offense was very solid. I was proud of the team. We are going to face some very tough teams coming up, mainly Troy and Rochester," said Coach Doug Colling.

The Wolves are now 5-0.

Kickers beat Brandon

Nick Falkenbury (# 15) of the JV soccer team gets off a head shot in the game against Brandon Friday. The Wolves won the game, 7-0.

Shadows soccer

The Clarkston Shadows U-15 girls select soccer team improved their record to 5-3-1 on Sunday by defeating the NMSC Scorpions in Romeo. Heather Combs, Beth Fletcher and Sarah Voss each scored a goal in the 3-2 victory.

Standouts in the game included Jody Back and Amy Warbington at midfield and Katie Tripi on defense. Allison Barth contributed another strong performance as goalkeeper.

Seniors to series

A Clarkston-area senior softball team recently competed for the third straight year in the Senior Softball World Series in Canton, MI.

Some 2,500 players on 139 teams converged on Canton to determine the best team in the USA in five age categories—over 55, 60, 65, 70 and 75. The Clarkston team competed in the over 70 division.

In addition to that team, 25-30 of Independence Township's senior ballplayers participated on teams that qualified to play in the World Series.

This year, Independence Township Parks and Rec. had six teams playing in the Northwest Oakland County Parks and Rec. League, by far the most of any area teams.

The Clarkston Saturn team played in the Senior World Series this year in Canton.

SKIN DEEP

by Scott Friedman, D.O.

LASER TATTOO REMOVAL

There is certainly nothing new about tattooing, the art of injecting dyes into the skin to create permanently etched words or designs. For thousands of years, tattoos have been used as a form of tribal design or tribal marking. More recently, tattooing has been primarily associated with seafarers and bikers. Now, tattoos are viewed as something of a fashion statement by young people. For some, however, there comes a time when a tattoo might fall out of fashion or is no longer deemed appropriate. Fortunately, science has come up with a way to remove tattoos with lasers. By using short pulsed lasers, including the Q-switched ruby, Nd:YAG, Alexandrite, and 510 manometer pulsed dye laser, both amateur tattoos and black tattoos entirely. Multi-colored professional tattoos are more difficult to remove, requiring several different wavelengths for the different colors.

For information on just about anything related to your skin, including the removal of tattoos, call us. Dermatology offers effective treatments for many conditions. When something happens to disturb the condition or appearance of the skin, consult a dermatologist for a professional diagnosis. Our offices are located at 6330 Sashabaw, Clarkston (625-0692); and 3003 Baldwin, Orion (391-9599).

P.S. The color of the light that a laser emits determines what kind of skin problem that can be used to treat.

Runners prepare for regionals

BY MARALEE COOK
Special to The Clarkston News

Clarkston's girls cross country team is 5-0 going into Thursday's league meet, following its' win over Troy Athens and West Bloomfield October 8 at Independence Oaks Park.

Kristin Maine won the race in 20:22, followed by Liz Cook, 4th in 22:20; Jenny Rooding, 5th in 22:39, Emily Hogan, 6th in 23:02; Gretchen Pitser, 7th in 23:04; Christina Rooding, 8th in 23:14 and Jenny Gifford, 10th in 23:34.

"Athens was a good win," said coach Debbie Zonca. "Some of the girls held back, while others like Jenny (Gifford) and Gretchen (Pitser) stepped forward to fill the void. The league meet will be tough. Adams could beat us on paper, and will be our toughest competition. If they do beat us we will share the title with them. We won Div. II last year, so this win is really crucial."

Oct. 11: Oxford Invitational

Because the girls had three important races in one week - County, Athens/West Bloomfield and the Oxford Invitational, coach Zonca decided to rest most of the varsity team in preparation for the league meet and regionals, and did not run them at the invitational. Except for Pitser, Zonca raced girls who had not run a lot.

The girls had a fine showing, placing 7th in the meet. "This shows what kind of depth we'll have next year," said Zonca. "This should be a real confidence booster for the girls."

Jenny McCue was 27th, in 23:15; Jenny Gifford 31st, in 23:36; Gretchen Pitser 32nd, in 23:46; Heather Warner 42nd, in 25:11; Yanin Garcia, 47th in 25:24; and Kristina Geno, 62nd in 26:39.

Boys third at Oxford Invite

BY MARALEE COOK
Special to The Clarkston News

The boys cross-country team continued its' excellent showing last week with a third-place finish at the Oxford Invitational Friday, and a split decision at a meet against West Bloomfield and Troy Athens at Independence Oaks Oct. 8.

With 130 points, Clarkston followed winner Lakeland at 23 (their 10th Oxford Invitational win in a row) and Lake Orion with 91 points. Rochester followed with 137 points and Brother Rice at 140.

"This was a pretty good meet for us," said coach Mike Taylor. "It's the second time we've beaten Rochester this year, and the third-place finish is the best in about 6 years. We know we can depend on (Dave) Sage to be consistent, (Matt) Haver and (Jeff) Deevey have closed the (time) gap, and (Curt) Brewer, (Jay) Scheiderer and (Chris) Weber can be competitive."

Sage, Haver and Deevey were medalists with Sage finishing 12th in 17:28; Haver 16th in 17:58; and Deevey 19th in 17:59. Brewer was 40th, in 18:28, Scheiderer 43rd in 18:33 and Weber 44th in 18:34. Dan Burke's asthma acted up because of the cold air and he did not finish.

The boys are 3-2 going into Thursday's league meet at Bloomer State Park. They are currently in a 3-way tie for second place with Troy Athens and Rochester Adams, all having lost to Rochester which is 5-0.

Oct. 8: Clarkston hosts Athens, W. Bloomfield

Clarkston crushed West Bloomfield 17-46, but lost to Athens 33-24. Taylor said Athens had done poorly in the beginning of the season and he underestimated their current abilities.

Sage won the race with a time of 17:22, followed by Deevey in 17:54; Haver in 18:07; Brewer in 18:38, Weber in 18:47; Burke in 18:53; and Scheiderer in 19:02.

Singing for SCAMP

The noted philosopher Kahlil Gibran said that "You give but little when you give of your possessions. It is when you give of yourself that you truly give."

The women of the Oakland Shores Sweet Adelines will give of their musical abilities when they present a benefit show for Clarkston SCAMP Sunday, Oct. 27 at 2 p.m. at Clarkston Creek (formerly Spring Lake).

Tax-deductible tickets are $20 and include entertainment, hors d'oeuvres, coffee and tea. There will also be a cash bar.

Included in the show will be Fandango and Impulse, two Sweet Adelines quartets; Vocal Gentry and the Oakland Shores Chorus.

Now celebrating its 20th year, Clarkston SCAMP is a summer camping program for children and young adults with special needs. Residents of north Oakland County and southern Genesee are served.

According to SCAMP director Geri Batt, 300 children attended the two-week program last summer.

Members of the Sweet Adelines stopped by the Clarkston Rotary meeting Oct. 9 and sang a few bars to promote their upcoming benefit concert for Clarkston SCAMP.

It takes about $500 per person to provide the experience, which includes an overnight campout at Independence Oaks.

Other SCAMP fund-raisers include the annual Clarkston home tour and a fun run/walk. Sweatshirts will be sold at the concert. For tickets call SCAMP at 625-3330, Carolyn at 625-2390 or leave a message at 698-6957. Or send checks, payable to Clarkston SCAMP, to 6590 Middle Lake Rd., Clarkston, MI 48346.

Business briefs

Dennis Pawley, executive vice president of Chrysler Corp. and a Clarkston resident, has been named unit chair for Chrysler for the 1996 UnitedWay Community Services Torch Drive. In this volunteer role, Pawley will oversee solicitation from Chrysler for the annual Torch Drive. The Torch Drive has a goal this year of $58.8 million to provide services to the needy in the tri-county area.

Several Clarkston-area business leaders have been chosen to serve on an Oakland Community College Environmental Systems Advisory Committee. They are: John Keedling, building and grounds supervisor at Colombiere Center; Bud Millmine, retired former owner of Automatic Stoker Service; and Jess Riojas, HVACR instructor/mechanical contractor at Oakland Technical Center Northwest.

The objective of the committee is to advise OCC regarding course content and selection of instruction equipment so the program provides students with the training they need.

Mark Crawford of Clarkston has been named managing director at the Troy-based accounting firm Doeren Mayhew. Crawford, 42, has been with Doeren Mayhew since 1976. He heads the firm's practice in litigation support and has extensive experience in closely held corporations. He is a member of the American Institute of CPAs, Michigan Association of CPAs and a board member of Associated Accounting Firms International. Doeren Mayhew is ranked as one of the top 10 public accounting firms in southeast Michigan by Crain's Detroit Business.

Coldwell Banker The Michael Group has named Susan Bara-Kosmalski manager of the company's Waterford/White Lake office. She has 12 years of real-estate experience and is a Certified Relocation Specialist.

In addition, the company announced that Marilyn Moir was ranked sixth in the state of Michigan for the second quarter of 1996 among Coldwell Banker Residential Affiliates. The Michael Group was also named among the top five offices in listings sold in Michigan for the same quarter.

Linda Garrett of Clarkston has joined McNabney Property Management as assistant director of property management. She has worked in residential property management for 10 years and will be responsible for the organization and development of the residential division at McNabney.

Dr. Ibrahim Abdul-Rahman has joined Drs.

Swapping smiles

Laurel Peterson of Clarkston gets a T-shirt and a smile from shoe designer Kennet Cole Aug. 29 at Hudson's Somerset North. Cole presented his fall shoe lines at the store that day, one of several designers to visit as the store continues its grand opening celebrations.

O'Neill, Amin, Kernis and Yee at The Clarkston Medical Group, PC. Dr. Abdul is an internist and pediatrician.

Mavis Shaw of Clarkston (pictured) was named a Service Star by the management of Hudson's for outstanding customer service. One employee is selected at each Hudson's store each month. Shaw received the honor at Northland for February. In addition, Sandra Corbett and Sarah Lehmer, both of Clarkston, received Service Stars for Summit Place in March and June, respectively.

Dan Stencil of Clarkston was awarded the Alumni Service Award by Northern Michigan University at the annual President's Homecoming Brunch and Alumni Awards Program Oct. 5. Stencil is a 1976 NMU grad with a bachelor's degree in park management/recreation. He also holds a master's degree in administration from Western Illinois University and works as chief of park operations for Oakland County Parks. In 1989, Stencil started the Rusjalewicz NMU Memorial Scholarship Golf Outing, named for a teammate killed after graduation. This annual event has raised more than $29,000 for the NMU Development Fund and awarded eight scholarships so far.

For the second year in a row, Chapel Hill Homes of Clarkston has been named one of America's best builders and remodelers in Better Homes and Gardens' 1996 Editor's Choice Home Plans magazine.

Chapel Hill was one of only 188 builders nationwide selected by Code Plus, a national program that recognizes builders and remodelers whose construction practices exceed local requirements. Steve Williams is president of the company, which has been in operation since 1976.

Edgar Torres, MS, PT has been named supervisor of athletic medicine with the Henry Ford Center for Athletic Medicine. In his new position, Torres, of Clarkston, manages the day-to-day operations of athletic medicine rehabilitation at the new center in Detroit's Medical Center, which provides team physicians for the Red Wings, Tigers and Rockers. Torres came from Hurley Medical Center in Flint and has also worked as a health and fitness specialist for the Pentagon. A licensed physical therapist, he earned a bachelor's degree from Rutgers, a master's in health and fitness management from the American University in Washington, DC and a master's in physical therapy from the US Army Baylor program at Ft. Sam Houston. He is also a certified strength and conditioning specialist.

Tom Meszler of Davisburg has been promoted to director of the Central Operations Department for the Road Commission for Oakland County. Meszler joined the road commission in 1972. In his new position he will supervise 74 employees and is responsible for purchasing, equipment repair and maintenance, buildings and grounds and capital building projects. A registered professional engineer and a graduate of the University of Detroit with a degree in engineering, Meszler is married and has two children.

Mary Bass

Mary E. Bass, 75, of Clarkston, died Oct. 9, 1996. Mrs. Bass was a member of Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church and a volunteer for Lighthouse Clarkston.

She is survived by her husband Gerald; three sons, Thomas (Margaret) of Hadley and Gary (Donna) and Richard (Dee), both of Clarkston; seven grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; and a sister, Helen Cabable of Livonia.

A funeral service was held Oct. 12 at the Lewis E. Wint & Son Trust 100 Funeral Home in Clarkston. Memorials may be made to Hospice of South-eastern Michigan.

Ruth Rollison

Ruth Rollison, 85, of Waterford, died Oct. 12, 1996.

Mrs. Rollison was a longtime member of Emmanuel Baptist Church in Pontiac.

She is survived by her husband Russell; three children, Dixie (Fredrick) Kinser of Clarkston, Sharon Malone of Clarkston and Ron (Jan) of Troy; four grandchildren, Barry Kinser, Kevin Barnett, Cindy (Aaron) Hundley and Kelly Breault; two great-grandchildren, Matthew and Taylor; and a twin sister, Ethel Slating of Arizona.

A funeral service was held Oct. 15 at the Lewis E. Wint & Son Trust 100 Funeral Home in Clarkston with Dr. Tom Malone and Pastor Tom Hampton officiating. Interment was at White Chapel cemetery.

Memorials may be made to Emmanuel Baptist Church.

Elaine Huntwork

Elaine M. (LaPointe) Huntwork, 70, of Davisburg, died Oct. 12, 1996.

Mrs. Huntwork was an active member of Roaring 20's, a member of Andersonville Community Church, active in Scouts, 4-H Club, PTA and Clarkston Youth Assistance. Most recently, she worked at the Independence Township Senior Center.

She was preceded in death by her first husband Elmo and husband Charles.

She is survived by seven children, Sharon (Mike) Turner, Cathleen (Don) Benway and Amy (James) Maxson, all of Davisburg, John (Renee) Huntwork, Doreen Moss and Michael (Cindy) Huntwork, all of Waterford, and William (Carol) Huntwork of Tennessee; 20 grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren; a sister-in-law, Beverly (Stanley) Fay of Clarkston; two brothers, Don (Sue) Pennell and Tom (Mary) Smith; and many nieces and nephews.

A funeral service was held Oct. 15 at Andersonville Community Church with the Rev. Kenneth J. Simmons officiating. Interment was at Lakeview Cemetery.

Arrangements were entrusted to the Lewis E. Wint & Son Trust 100 Funeral Home in Clarkston.

Memorials may be made to Michigan Heart Foundation.

high-powered Athens offense a meager 176 total yards, while the offense churned up 424 yards.

Up next for the Wolves is a home date with Rochester Friday. Although Rochester is just 2-4 on the season, Richardson said his team needs to focus on this game and not look ahead to the showdown with undefeated Troy on Oct. 25.

"We have to make sure we're focused on Rochester," he said. "Yes, Troy is undefeated, but we still have to be ready to go Friday."

PUBLIC NOTICE

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE

Registered voters may vote absentee ballot in the November 5, 1996 General Election if they qualify in one of the following categories:

I expect to be absent from the community in which I am registered for the entire time the polls are open on election day.

I am physically unable to attend the polls without the assistance of another.

I cannot attend the polls because of the tenets of my religion.

I have been appointed an election precinct inspector in a precinct other than the precinct where I reside.

I am 60 years of age or older.

I cannot attend the polls because I am confined to jail awaiting arraignment or trial.

Independence Township residents who qualify and wish to vote absentee ballot should call the Clerk's Office at 625-5111 ext. 233 or write the Clerk at 90 North Main St., P.O. Box 69, Clarkston, 48347 for an application which must be signed and returned before a ballot can be issued.

The deadline for ballots to be mailed is Saturday, November 2, 1996 at 2 p.m. However, those qualified to vote absentee may vote in the Clerk's Office until 4 p.m. on Monday, November 4, 1996.
