Independence drops millage

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE Clarkston News Staff Writer

Once again, Independence Township residents will be paying a lower tax rate on the township portion of their 1998 taxes.

That's because of the Headlee Amendment to the Michigan Constitution, required by the state, and Truth in Taxation, invoked by the township, two factors which make it possible to roll back the millage rates.

According to township finance director Kerry Donahoe, Truth in Taxation is defined as "the inflation of housing costs within the township." If the township did not rollback according to Truth in Taxation, it would be required to hold a public hearing, he said.

The township's Board of Trustees spent the past two Wednesday nights, Sept. 17 and 24, in public hearings where the 1998 budget was reviewed and various officials' and departmental reports were pre-

Members voted 6-0 on Sept. 24 to roll back millage rates on the following funds: general fund, fire, police, additional police, safety path, 1997 library operating and 1997 library debt (Trustee Jeff McGee was absent during the voting).

It's no surprise to anyone, but Clarkston schools' enrollment jumped again this fall.

Total enrollment—the figure so far is unaudited and may be adjusted to reflect students who were absent on count day—came in at 6,786, only one off from where Director of Business Services Craig Kahler predicted it would be in his budget projection over a year ago. But he refused to take credit for hitting the

"I can't take credit for the accuracy of the data," he said. "That does come from Stanfred" (a service used by school districts) . . . I just hope my budget comes in that close."

The number is important because it helps determine just how much state aid the district will receive for the 1997-98 school year. In the past few years, counts have been taken again in the spring and the two numbers averaged to come up with a "blended" count. However this year, the legislature approved a 60-40 split, weighted toward the fall count, which could mean an extra $100,000 this year for Clarkston schools, if it holds up.

"The big issue right now is how our count is going to be determined for funding," Kahler said. Governor John Engler vetoed the 60-40 idea, but according to Kahler, attorney general Frank Kelley has issued an opinion that Engler can't veto it because the veto leaves no funding mechanism in its wake.

"Right now I'm nervous," Kahler said.

However it works out, Kahler is expecting an increase in the per pupil allotment this year of $154, for a total of $5908 per pupil in state funding.

However, "There's still a few open items with the school aid bill," he said. "That's one of the beauties of us being on different fiscal years. The legislature can dilly-dally around till the end of September. We have to have a budget approved by July 1."

Thanks to the voters, the school district will be adding more classroom space at the elementary level in the next two years. The enrollment figures show that all the elementary buildings are over their intended capacities (not counting portable classrooms). Each building saw an increase in students this year. Pine Knob had the biggest increase, 37.

Pat Brumbach, Director of Student Services, said it's important to remember the count is unaudited and therefore subject to change. "It's important for our community to understand this is an unreconciled account," she said. The state allows districts a set time period to adjust the count.

The News in Brief

Flu shot time

The return of fall means the return of flu shots in Michigan and the Oakland County Health Division is announcing some dates.

The county will begin giving flu shots Tuesday, Oct. 7 at its three offices in Pontiac, Southfield and Walled Lake. Clinic hours are noon-7:30 p.m. Mondays, and 8:30 a.m. 4:30 p.m. Tuesday-Friday. Shots will be given through Dec. 30 or as long as supplies last.

In addition, various locations throughout the county will be offered. One of them is the Hart Community Center in Davisburg, where the shots will be given on Thursday, Oct. 9 from 9 a.m. to noon. Cost is $3 for those without Medicare/Medicaid coverage.

Flu shots are recommended each fall. This year's vaccine will protect against three strains, A/ Nanchang, A/Johannesburg and B/Harbin. A pneumonia shot will also be available at a cost of $7.

For more information call the hotline at 1-800-434-3358.

New county budget drops taxes

The Oakland County Board of Commissioners approved its budget for 1998 and along with it made a pledge to return some tax dollars over the next four years.

The new budget drops the millage rate from 4.3805 mills to 4.35 mills over four years. (A mill is $1 for every $1,000 in taxable property value.) The board said it would return $1.1 million the first year and another $3.3 million over the following

The money will come from the county's Millage Reduction and Stabilization Fund, established by the board in 1995 for just such a use. It has accumulated $4.4 million since then.

The county's new $555 million budget still has room for some new expenditures, including $48 million in capital improvements, some of it going to the courts and the medical examiner for new facilities.

Condos approved for Maybee-Clintonville area

Local developer Michael Clark and Independence Township have finally called a truce.

At the Sept. 25 planning commission meeting Clark received preliminary approval for 29 detached condos at Maybee and Clintonville roads. Named "Gemini Landing" after his five-year-old twins Christopher and Alexander, Clark's project will not be developed in the traditional "postagestamp" manner with lot lines. The current zoning, suburban residential, will stay.

The irregular 10.7-acre parcel, originally a part of the Morgan Lake Classic development, has posed numerous development problems. Other proposals submitted by Clark, including a 52-apartment project, were turned down.

Clark had thought of taking legal action, but negotiations began with guidance from township attorney Gerry Fisher, planner Dick Carlisle and the zoning board of appeals, which approved the condominium plans.

In recommending approval, township planner Dick Carlisle said, "In my opinion, it's probably one of the better plans you've seen in a long time. Extremely well done," he said. The final site plan is contingent on several factors, including the distance between units and landscaping.

Alpacas in Michigan? Breeders in Davisburg love their new adventure

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY Clarkston News Editor

As a car pulls into the driveway of Woodcreek Farm in Davisburg, 20 pairs of long ears perk up.

Twenty pairs of eyes check out the visitor in silence.

The eyes and ears belong to alpacas, the love of Nancy Howarth and Al Lopez, who started the farm a couple of years ago. The gentle animals native to the Andes Mountains in South America make great pets and create a soft, lightweight fiber prized by knitters, Howarth said. And they're starting to catch on in the United States, where an estimated 10,000 alpacas now live, according to an alpaca Internet website.

Lopez had been to Peru some 10 years ago where he first fell in love with the long-necked beasts.

"He didn't see any in this country," Howarth said.
"But a couple of years ago we heard of an alpaca auction" up north. "I had never heard of them. I had seen llamas (a close relative in the camelid family) and wasn't attracted to them because they're so big. But I was willing to go along for the ride and see them. And I was taken."

Alpacas are smaller and lighter than Ilamas. According to the Alpaca Association of Western Washington website, llamas are thought to have been bred for packing. Alpacas are thought to have been bred strictly for their fiber, which is softer than sheep or llama fiber because it does not contain the coarse "guard hair" the other animals' fleece contains.

The Michigan Alpaca Fest will be held Oct. 4-5 at the Armada Fairgrounds in Armada. Admission is $2 for anyone 12 and over. In addition to alpacas there will be sheep shearing, llamas and angora goats and rabbits. For more information call 248-634-9775 or 810-387-4450.

"The baby fur is the finest," Howarth said, showing perhaps a four-inch growth on one of this year's crop of babies, called cria until they're six months old and weaned. The animals are sheared once a year, leaving behind a top knot on their heads so they can swat flies. It gives them a sort of dreadlocked look.

At Woodcreek Farm there are two fenced corrals so males and females can be separated and breeding controlled. The animals are inquisitive around people and apparently quite tame.

Unless they get into spitting off, which one does to express displeasure with another. Howarth said you don't want to get caught on the other end of the spit.

From the auction two years ago where 10 males were purchased, Woodcreek Farm has added six females imported from Peru and is now breeding its own. It's a hobby, not yet a money-making enterprise, but there is hope the fiber market will grow, as well as the market for baby alpacas, which the farm is now selling as well

"But they are pets." Howarth said in between frequent bouts of the giggles as she worked with the animals. "They're a lot of fun to be around and you see how manageable."

Woodcreek Farms will participate in the Michigan Alpaca Fest this weekend at the Armada Fairgrounds. Animals will be shown, fleece will be judged and halter and performance classes will show just how trainable alpaca really are.

"It's to showcase the fact that we have some very fine animals in Michigan. There's aren't many breeders here; I think only 12 in the state, and seven are signed up for the fair... This is a way for people to become aware of the animals and how nice they are."

In addition to the festival, Woodcreek Farm is a member of a new agricultural tourism group recently formed in the Springfield/Independence area. Brochures have been printed that will be distributed at highway rest stops.

Howarth would like to get a 4-H alpaca club going and needs five children to become officially recognized. "My hope is that at next year's 4-H fair we will have animals on display and in competition," she said.

And next spring, the farm will host its second annual open pasture day where visitors can come and see the animals up close and personal. About 100 people came last year and got to see two newborns.

"It was really a delightful day. For me the idea was to introduce people to alpacas.

"It still is in the arena of exotics, but it's one that's easy enough to take care of and be around, so more people should know about it."

POH, Beaumont to join local medical scene

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Is there a doctor in the house? With a "turf war" going on in Independence Township, help could be closer than you think.

In addition to the new privately owned Mid Oakland Medical Center on Dixie Highway, several other medical facilities are getting ready to compete for local patients, especially in the southwest corner of the township, said planner Dick Carlisle.

The latest is William Beaumont Hospital which received preliminary approval from the township's planning commission Sept. 25 to build a 6,500-square-foot medical building across from the new fire station on Citation Dr. It will house four practitioners.

"They're looking for older people to visit Royal Oak," Carlisle told the commission.

POH is apparently looking for more visitors too. The Pontiac-based hospital is discussing plans for a new multi-use medical complex to be built on its 58-acre site on the southwest corner of Dixie and White I ake Rd

The question is, will it be a full-fledged in-patient hospital? Currently the state's attorney general is appealing the need for beds to the Michigan Supreme Court.

Carlisle said plans are only in the discussion stage, but POH is considering a campus-style setting in keeping with the township's concept for development within in its Vision 2020 Strategic Plan. Separate facilities could include physicians' offices, an assisted living facility for the elderly, an out-patient surgical center, a birthing center, a women's health center and/or minor-emergency or general emergency care, he said.

So far nothing has yet been proposed to the planning commission, he said. At presstime POH vice president William Moy could not be reached for comment.

In another portion of the township, Genesys Health System will build an 8,900-square-foot building on Waldon, within Waldon Village Towne Center, a multi-Gentinued on page 20A

Witnesses said she appeared to be creating her own drive-through window as she crashed her '95 Dodge Neon through the walls and regular window of First of America bank at Dixie and Maybee Sept. 24coming within inches of a desk where two women were working.

Fortunately, no one was hurt—including the car, which suffered only minor dents and scratches, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Dep. Dirk Feneley, officer at the scene.

Feneley said the accident occurred around 11:30 a.m. when the woman was attempting to park.

"Apparently she had her foot on the brake. It slid off and hit the gas," said bank assistant vice president and manager Cathy Priest, who was called away from

Assistant manager Cindy Reinelt said two employees from a Waterford branch had come down to bank-sit while she and Priest attended the luncheon. One was seated at the desk, initialing a check for the other when "the car came through."

It's amazing no one was injured, said Reinelt, pointing to the shattered glass that flew several feet across the room, some of it landing in chairs. All three women were "pretty shook up," she said.

The bank was temporarily closed last Wednesday while workers estimated the damage. The accident also knocked a cross beam off its course, damaging a portion of the roof. At presstime estimates were un-

At around 4:50 p.m. she crossed the center line and struck a semi-tractor/trailer driven by Harry Saylor, 36, of Brown City. Saylor drove his truck off the road and onto the shoulder to avoid a collision, but Clark's car hit the side of the tractor, causing the Chevy to spin out and the truck to jackknife.

The cause of the accident is still under investigation but Kress said alcohol and drugs could be a factor due to the erratic driving noted by witnesses.

Springfield sues Dixie Lake developer

BY BRAD MONASTIERE Clarkston News Staff Writer

Springfield Township has taken a step to protect its wetlands by filing a lawsuit against Zeerco Development Corporation for its failure to abide by state laws for one of its projects.

Township attorney Greg Need said the suit would be filed in Oakland County Circuit Court by Wednesday. Need said the suit alleges Zeerco violated provisions of its agreement with the township for a 32-unit, single-family residential development project along Dixie Lake, near the intersection of Dixie Highway and Davisburg Road.

"The developer cleared out a large area of the shoreline that was to be left undisturbed," Need said. "Before, there were trees and vegetation all along the shoreline. Now, they've dumped a bunch of sand there. It almost looks like they were trying to build a beach."

Springfield Township Supervisor Collin Walls said the violations were discovered Sept. 17, when after an area resident called him, he went out to inspect the site personally.

"There was sand all along the shoreline and the topsoil was stripped," Walls said. "There was also no soil erosion protection. These are all violations of state law and our agreement."

In addition, Walls said a fence used to protect the water from soil erosion was removed, enadingering fish and other wildlife in the wetlands area.

"I called (Zerrco) that day to discuss what I found," Walls said. "Our attorney also sent them a letter, and they ended up putting more sand down later. But they did go in and install a fence and some straw over the sand."

Zerrco Development Corporation did not return calls to The Clarkston News for comment.

Another runner gets the marathon 'bug'

Leukemia Society of America fuels runners' needs, funds research at same time

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY

Clarkston News Editor

What makes a woman who calls herself 'not a very good runner' decide to take on a marathon?

In the case of Jeanne Bolcer, it was the right marathon at the right time. Bolcer, of Clarkston, is currently in training and fund-raising for the Leukemia Society of America's marathon in January at Disney World in Florida.

"I got a notice in the mail and it just struck me as the thing to do at the time," the former 12-mile-a-week runner said. Though she'd never personally been affected by leukemia or even considered marathoning, "I thought this would give me a goal," she said.

Part of the reason is doing something for the greater good. Part of it is the training that comes along with the LSA's Team in Training approach. Starting with a meeting last August, LSA is providing coaches, clinics, a run schedule and fund-raising ideas to help runners make their goal. Even so, many don't.

"I don't think I'd be motivated to do this on my own," Bolcer said. "This gives me the team work and the training and a reason to do it for others."

Bolcer needs to make a commitment of $3,500 very soon, and said she's raised about half so far. She's amazed at people's generosity.

The LSA spends 50 percent of its funds on research and national programs. Only five percent goes for fund-raising costs and another four percent for management. The rest is used for patient services, public health, professional education and community service. It receives no funds from the United Way or the federal government.

For someone who's never run more than five mile at a stretch before, Bolcerhas really picked up the pace. She's now running 29 miles a week, and the total goes up about 10 percent each week. A calf injury last week set her schedule back.

"But otherwise it's going fine," she said. "It's fun. It's hard sometimes to drag yourself out."

Bolcer, who is an advance system engineer for EDS at the GM Tech Center in Warren, said she got into running after marrying a marathoner.

"When I turned 30 awhile back I wanted to get in shape for the fist time in my life," she said. She started with a treadmill, then worked her way up to running a couple of minutes during walks.

"At first I was breathless," she said. "And then it just got easier and easier. I guess it took me about six months to run a full 30 minutes. I never thought about going more than 30 minutes."

Since then she's run some races in preparation for the marathon and run as much as nine miles at a stretch. "I always wonder can I make nine miles? Can I do it? And when I finish I was so emotional. I said, 'I did it!"

Bolcer is looking for pledges for the LSA marathon. Call her at 810-492-7673 to help.

Several years ago I attended the funeral of a woman I knew who died, in her 40s, of breast cancer.

The idea is this: Tuesday, Oct. 7 has been set aside as the day for every woman to call a female friend over 40 to remind her to get a yearly mammogram.

This first-ever event in Michigan is being tried because statistics show that 25 percent of women who get mammograms do so because a close friend or relative told them to.

No one in my family needs to get this call this year. However, I know lots of women my age who aren't getting regular mammograms; some who've never had one.

For the record, it isn't painful or embarrassing. If you have insurance, chances are it's covered. You don't have to go to a hospital; many clinics are certified to give mammograms.

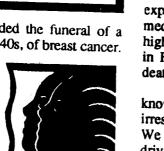

It's amazing how many women have been through breast cancer. When I broke the news to my mother, after she got over the shock she started mentioning this friend and that friend who had been through it. Then she said, "I didn't realize I knew so many women who had

For me, getting annual mammograms meant that the cancer was found before it had spread. However, its location was such that I wouldn't have felt it for a very long time, I'm sure, even with self-exams.

So consider this my phone call to you. If you're a woman over 40 and you're not getting regular mammograms, I urge you to pick up the phone sometime in the next 24 hours and make an appointment.

In addition, Genesys Hospital's Grand Blanc facility is offering free doctor-conducted breast exams during October. It's probably only about a 10-minute drive from Clarkston. Call them toll-free at 1-888-606-6556 and ask for Renee.

Varicose veins are a pain

By Jim Sherman

Myth: Varicose veins happen to old, foreign, working women who bore 22 children.

Fact: Varicose veins happen to men who spend half their life sitting at a desk.

I know, I got 'em.

I'm writing this from a Crittenton Hospital bed, September 17.

There's really no reason for my being here. I think it has something to do with quotas or the harvest moon or personality conflict. Maybe the surgeon took offense when I said I had a grandchild newer than his office magazines.

This varicose vein discovery is not a recent sighting. A dozen years ago a vein guy told me to wear stretch socks the rest of my life.

Supp Hose and Gold Toe stretch socks made my birthday list, replacing argyles and Disney character ankle heights. Unless I wore black or brown clothing with these higher hose my socks didn't coordinate.

You know that's bad.

Also gone for 12 years were walking shorts and tanned legs. In August it looked like my brown upper body was supported by white goal posts.

To me 12 years was enough of my life to give to vein squeezers. I went sock and short shopping, ing navy, khaki, olive. brown, green and denim.

Mosquitos loved having more skin to stab, I got to nurse more scratches made while looking for errant golf balls and I got to message my legs - - with sunburn medicine

My varicose veins are (were) not where the sunshine shines. They are in the lower ankle. I ignored unhealing sores in that area through most of golf season . . . having to get in one more outing.

The day after Labor Day was professional opinion time. September 3 was professional operating time. Dr. Mansoori did his thing.

This ignorant had ignored the problem too long. Blood circulation was minimal to zip. Bacteria found new living quarters. Oral antibiotics didn't work at home, so I'm in Crittenton.

There's no pain. It's just that my ankle looks like recent road kill. I'm sure the stuff being dripped into the back of my hand will kill the germs.

I'm also sure I'll be pulling on Supp Hose and Gold Toe stretch socks another dozen years. I wonder how dorky I'll look in shorts?

The financial blow of losing nearly 272 kindergarten through twelfth-grade pupils is offset somewhat by a dramatic increase in adult education enrollment in the Clarkston school district. Tentative figures show 6,026 K-12 students, 100 adult education students and 48 preschoolers, says Mel Vaara, assistant superintendent of schools. Last year, he adds, there were only 29 adult education students.

Local store shelves are stripped of Extra-Strength Tylenol capsules following the news that some were found laced with cyanide in the Chicago area. But other than people talking about the scare, public reaction has been quiet, according to merchants. Pine Knob Pharmacy owner Jim Lowery says only one bottle of Tylenol has been returned to the store, and most customers say they have dumped their Tylenol down the toilet. People say "there's a sicky on the loose," says Lowery.

The Clarkston News wins eight awards in the Michigan Press Association's 1982 Newspaper Contest. Sister papers the Lake Orion Review and the Oxford Leader also win awards. The very modern and the very old will be shown during the Clarkston Women's Club Home Tour Oct. 8. Among the homes are the Donald Beach residence on Reese Rd., a 100-year-old farmhouse rebuilt to include modern conveniences; a remodeled barn belonging to the Arthur Roses on Dixie; the Ronald Fallis home on Scenic Ridge, whose modern style includes a domed skylight and view of Deer Lake; and the Tom Bullen home on Kingfisher, a colonial filled with antiques.

Despite recent concentration on the perils of drug use within the Clarkston school district, a survey completed by the Community Resource Committee shows alcohol to be by far the number one problem in junior and senior high school.

Notes and observations from my pocket

I've gotten into the habit of writing notes down on cards I keep in my shirt pocket. If I get a thought, see something that catches my eye, or if I need a reminder to buy something at the store, I whip out that card and jot it down.

A memory is a terrible thing to forget, so it is safer for me to write things down than to try and remember them. The next problem I face more times than I care to mention is to remember: a) to look at the cards to see what I wrote; b) where I put the cards after they're taken out my pocket.

Here's from the note pocket . .

1. "Don't forget to mention Alley Christine"
Oops (I should have looked at my cards last week)...
baby-sister Nancy and her hubby Alex had their first child, Alley Christine Piper on Wednesday, Sept. 17, 1997, around 6:30 a.m. Little Alley was 7 pounds and 15 ounces. Both Nancy and Alley are doing well.
Al looks a little worse for the wear. Hang in their dad, you'll do fine.

2. "Ox cop helping driver" The other week, while driving south on M-24, I saw long-time Oxford policeman Jim Flores helping out a pedestrian parked in the Country Chopping Block parking lot. He was on his knees, inspecting a car's rear tire or wheel. It looks like he was getting his hands dirty, so smiling Jim deserves a "that-a-boy." There you go, lim

3. "Nice intersection..." It's always nice to look at the intersection of M-24 and Odanah in Lake Orion. Jacobsen's Flowers & Garden usually has a nice roadside display and across the street I look forward to the time when I can see the Orion War Me-

4. "NNN" It took me a while to remember what I meant by this. It stands for "nice new neighbor." An area school teacher moved into a home down the hill from me this summer. Don't know her name but I drive by the house every day and I'm impressed because not only does she have a big American flag flying on a pole from her porch, but she has a number of little ones sticking out on the porch also. I'm embarrassed to say that I haven't got my pole fixed. I should get on the ball and fix my flag and tell her in person how nice the front of her home looks. It's the neighborly thing to do.

5. "Is this is the same President Bill Clinton proposing easier access to our health records who would disclose nothing as a candidate in 1991?"

6. "Kiss of death" It has got to be tough to be the Clarkston High School varsity football team after USA Today went ahead and ranked them nationally. Every other team in the hemisphere has got to be geeked about knocking the Wolves off their pedestal (if ever they were on one).

So much for pocket notes.

Countdown to Homecoming

Homecoming is quickly approaching, as if any odd bystander wouldn't know. Just by eavesdropping throughout the town you'd have to have some clue. But just in case you're one of those polite people who simply ignore nearby conversations, let me fill you in on the goings-on prior to Clarkston High School's Homecoming.

In the school cafeteria, dates argue over the value of Italian and Mexican or local and Rochester. Guys complain over the girls' anxiety about eating before the dance; we still want to fit in our dresses when pulling into the good old Clarkston High School parking lot. Girls complain about the guys' fixation with eating before the dance, after all what's the difference with eating at six or eating at eleven. After all in Spain eleven o'clock would be dinner time, and when in Rome, um I mean Madrid... But any boy would be quick to point out that Clarkston is about as far from Spain, Rome, or wherever as you

If you have been in any mall or type of shopping structure within the past week and haven't realized that Homecoming is right around the corner, I seriously suggest you seek mental help as soon as possible. Walk into any given store and you will experience pure frenzy. Girls deciding that the lack of dresses is a sign that their date wasn't meant to be; girls arguing with mothers about just how short short can go; and girls grabbing any and every last dress in their size, following the guideline that it always looks better on than it does hanging on a rack.

For some strange reason I disagree with that guideline, but that could only be because I tried on at least 20 dresses before finding one that looked, on me, at least equal to what it did on the rack. Finding a dress that doesn't look like it belongs on VH1's '80s Flashback Weekend is a hard enough challenge in itself.

After awhile you begin to wonder if it is all worth it. When that brand new dress is hung in the closet, it's right along side 10th grade's super short, 9th grade's shimmery silver, and 8th grade's off the shoulder, none of which have been worn more than a staggering one time. You seriously begin to doubt yourself when the black strappy heels are tossed in next to the "opposite of white" platforms, charcoal flats and midnight pumps. Finding yourself purchasing yet another pair of cubic zirconia studs can be the last straw. Then again you could just see it as another reason to pierce your ears a fourth time.

It's only going to be as much fun as you want it to be. I'm aiming for a blast.

Independence reduces taxes again

Township prepares to adopt 1998 budget year's total millage rate for the township is 7.9154 mills (A mill is $1 for every $1,000 of taxable property value). Total taxes levied for the township — 1997 tax bills used for 1998 fiscal year operations --- come out to $6,229,649 and will be collected by the middle of Donahoe said the township is collecting $272,338 more this year because of new construction of homes and businesses. "We're collecting more money this year due to growth," he said. Because of the rollback, he added, "There should be no increase to the township tax bill on the whole."

The total SEV (state equalized value or taxable value) in the township climbed from $726 million last year to $787 million this year, Donahoe said.

According to township assessor Dave Kramer, the average residential SEV in the township is $79,111. The average homeowner will have to pay about $626.20 in township taxes. Without the rollback he would have to pay about $675.88, Kramer said.

But, reminded appraiser Bonnie Watson, "Even though the tax rate went down, those who own homes under construction may see a related increase."

Currently the township has a healthy $290,850 in its capital projects fund. "We had favorable revenues the last couple of years due to building permits and the special census money," Donahoe said. The township received about $276,000 in state-shared revenue from the 1996 mid-decade census, which has been allocated for various purposes.

There is also $200,000 that would have gone toward widening White Lake Rd. if the township had decided to extend its Downtown Development Authority, but that action was recently defeated. Township money that would have been captured for that purpose will now stay in individual departments and funds.

During the hearings, the board discussed several large capital projects for the future, which it could start planning for now because of its healthy financial status. They are a new township hall, which could include a community center, a new senior citizens center and renovations to the old Bay Court Park lodge. The board is also talking about a web page.

Because of the township's excellent financial status, Stuart pitched his idea to establish a "preventative" general maintenance fund, where money would be set aside for maintenance items like roof repair and painting of township buildings.

The township is in "an enviable position" because of growth and should take advantage of it, he said. "We're 10 to 15 years away from an end to growth," he said, explaining that he predicts the township will be almost fully developed at that time. "Then we will have to rely on inflationary growth," he said. The current rate of inflation is 2.8 percent, according to Donahoe.

Nearly every item in departmental "wish lists" reflects growth, with requests for increased personnel and other special needs like trucks, soccer fields and equipment, Stuart said.

For instance, both the fire and police departments are asking for additional officers. Oakland County Sherrif's Independence substation commander Lt. Dale LaBair said the Clarkston school district wants anadditional DARE officer, but the township is already paying approximately half the funds for the current DARE officer.

Last year some board members were disappointed over the way Stuart had handled the budget talks. Some trustees felt they didn't have enough information, and so Stuart set up three more nights of discussion.

This year board members seemed pleased because there was more communication.

McGee, who called last year's budget hearing "an exercise in futility," said, "The format presented this year and the dialogue — what this means — and information like contingencies and capital expenditures, helped more. It helped both the new people (on the board) and me ...

"I think he (Stuart) realized, though he understands situations, the people reading those budget sheets might notget it."

McGee said he saw the vast potential for the township because of its excellent financial status.

"Let's begin to visualize the future more than just put Band-aids on the present," he said.

The board expects to adopt the 1998 budget by either its Oct. 7 or Oct. 21 board meeting. The deadline for adoption is Nov. 1.

Construction information

"A nation is never finished. You can't build it and leave it standing as the pharaohs did the pyramids. It has to be recreated for each new generation."

--John Gardner I guess the same could be said for a school system. Here in Clarkston we are currently in the process of recreating ourselves. The new high school, a remarkable building, is well underway. In fact, we anticipate moving in supplies and equipment by late spring, and the building will open to students in August. But the renewal hasn't stopped there! The remodeling of our elementary and middle schools is in the planning stage; and a new elementary building will also become part of the Clarkston landscape, all within the next few years!

In the meantime, it is important to keep our citizens informed. They need to know what to expect from their school administration and from the board of education. One of the most important decisions to be addressed is the schedule of remodeling and construction work. Recent meetings with architects and the construction team have made it obvious that all building projects cannot be successfully tackled at the same time. The complexities of each project, and the scarcity of quality construction crews make simultaneous improvements impracticable. It is worth noting that school remodeling is particularly intricate and requires many tasks not typically associated with the type of construction projects most readers have experience with.

Still, we remain undaunted. While all the variables must be carefully considered, we know that we need to move quickly and surely. Technology, for instance, waits for no one! We need the labs; the software and hardware; and Internet access yesterday! Remember, time is the one resource we can't replace. Opportunities missed this year will be forever lost in the life of a child.

In order to reach decisions which will move construction along as quickly and fairly as possible, the school board is reviewing objective criteria which will be used to measure the worth of proposed timelines. At a recent public meeting, the following guidelines were established (in no particular order):

Safety of students; building core capacity; size of the site; budget; the ability to maximize construction dollars; the age and condition of existing structures; the limits placed upon curriculum/teaching; neighborhood impact; the number and conditions of portable; and classrooms.

Obviously the best option is one which addresses the issues listed above; and positively impacts the greatest number of students in the shortest amount of time. We are committed to this end!

But, we're not done yet. This is the time to be creative, to think of every possibility which could help make our schools the best they can be. You may read or hear about a variety of possible plans in the weeks ahead, but the final decision will be based upon how well a particular plan fits the established criteria.

The participation of our citizens is important to us, but we do need to move with deliberate speed. So, please review the above list. If you think of an item which is not listed above, call the district hotline (620-7350) with your suggestions. Clearly stated criteria will result in better schools and community.

Dr. Lepere retires after nearly 40 years

'I feel like I'm leaving things unfinished,' he says of career cut short by Parkinson's disease

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY
Clarkston News Editor

Abbey Mrozinski's eyes begin to cloud up as she talks about the retirement of her boss of the last five years, Dr. Ronald LePere.

"When patients talk about it we say 'Don't do this; don't do this to us,'" she said. "He's going to be missed, more than anyone can imagine."

LePere, a family practitioner who's been in practice in Clarkston since 1959, retired Sept. 30. He'll be moving to Florida and has sold his practice to St. Joseph Mercy-Oakland.

LePere has known for the last several years that he has Parkinson's disease, a degenerative disease characterized by tremors and muscular rigidity. Doctors from St. Joe's have been helping out at the clinic on M-15 near Dixie and will take over permanently soon.

"My hands are not doing what they're supposed to be doing," the soft-spoken LePere said last week. He said difficulties in palpating and writing, among other things, were aggravated by the stress of his workload.

"I'm on medication to control the symptoms," he said. "Without stress I don't have too many symptoms, but with the stress of working 12-hour days..."

After ruling out a reduced schedule, LePere decided to retire and move to Florida, where the weather won't affect his illness but "will affect my mind," he said.

Dr. Ronald LePere is surrounded by some of the staff that's going to miss him in his retirement; (front, from left) Peggy Schlaud and Candee Nellenbach; (back, left) Judy Woolley, Abbey Mrozinski, Carol Odorizzi and Marsha Peters.

LePere and his wife Peggy have six children, four of whom live in Michigan and two in Florida, where he also has one grandchild. "We will be able to around him more," he said.

Some of LePere's patients have been coming to him for over 35 years. "It's hard for me; I feel like I'm leaving something unfinished," he said. "Their records

Springfield accepts new budget, sets millage rate for 1998

BY BRAD MONASTIERE Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Springfield Township Board of Trustees will be taking taxpayers to the limit for the first time in a while, after approving the 1998 budget and setting the new millage rate Sept. 23.

Saying that it hasn't charged the maximum millage rate in years, the township board of trustees unanimously voted to set the new rates for 1998 as follows: general fund - 1.1072 mills; fire - .9926 mills; police -2.1336 mills.

'It's prudent for us at this time to collect the maximum rate we can," Trustee Denny Vallad said at the meeting. "We have to keep up with all the projects we have going right now and put some money away for future use.

'We haven't charged the maximum in the eight years I've been on this board, but it's time now."

A mill is $1 for every $1,000 in taxable property value. In reality, the millage rates are the same as last year. Supervisor Collin Walls said the Headlee Amendment rollback, which has been a factor in previous years, is not this year.

'There doesn't have to be a rollback if the rate of inflation does not exceed the change in the township's taxable value." Walls said. Walls declined to say tax bills would not go up, however.

After approving the new millage rates, the board separately voted to approve budgets for the general fund, police, fire, parks, cable, the Shiawassee basin and cemetery for 1998.

Among the notable changes from last year's budget figures, township supervisor Collin Walls pointed out that the township has $100,000 in prior year fund balance. "We need to start using some of those funds," he told the board. That figure is up from $35,000 in 1997.

Revenues from building permits rose from $72,000 in 1997 to a proposed $90,000 in 1998. Walls said this reflects the growth in the township.

On the expenditure side, the township plans to add a fourth full-time appraiser in the assessor's department. This person will draw a $21,000 salary in 1998.

Salaries for township officials stayed very close to 1997 levels. Trustees will pull in $11,600, compared to $11,000 last year. The supervisor's salary inches up to $47,600, a $2,500 increase from last year. Salaries for the clerk, assessor and tresurer all stayed the same as last year.

Other additions include a second part-time employee in the tresurer's department for clerical work. The inspection department has added a $22,000 mechanical inspector's position for the new year also.

Public works expenditures went up from $218,500 in 1997 to $335,000 in 1998. Walls said this was because of increased road repair work going on in the township, notably Oak Hill Road.

In all, Springfield Township projects $1,637,725 in revenues and $1,637,715 in expenditures.

Other funds in the township projected either breaking even or in the black. The cemetery fund will collect $500 with no expenditures, just like last year. The fire fund has allocated $343,250 in both revenues and expenditures, with a small increase in tax collection from the August 1996 millage renewal.

The police fund predicts collecting $69,000 more in revenues than in expenditures this coming year.

Dr. LePere continues to provide Ambulatory Care as well as Family Practice, as he has for the past 36 years.

Four generations of the Church family are patients of Dr. LePere, beginning with Davisburg resident Ora Diericks' first visit nearly 37 years ago. As for the staff of 17 women LePere leaves behind, they figure they'll have to retrain whomever takes over. "He has a certain way of doing things and we all know what that is. And the patients like it," said Mrozinski. "We'll train the new guy."

"We have an excellent staff," LePere said. "Probably the big reason I've been able to remain . . . is because they've been so helpful. They know what they're doing."

In retirement LePere plans to do some fishing and continue his hobbies of raising orchids and gardening, as well as getting back on an exercise regimen that has been neglected.

"I hope to catch up on some pleasure reading I haven't had a chance to do in 30 years," he added. That and spend some time with his wife. "Without her full support it would have been impossible."

Volunteer killed in racetrack accident

For the second time this year, a serious accident took place at Waterford Hill Raceway. This time, someone was killed.

Peggy Pawlowski, 37, of Waterford was a volunteer at Saturday's races at the Independence Township course where she was working as a starter, someone who gives a flag to drivers to tell them when they can go in and out of the pit area, according to Dep. Dennis Wandrie of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Mrs. Pawlowski was off the track in an area that is supposed to be low speed, Wandrie said, when a driver lost control of his car, went over the barrier and struck her. Wandrie estimated the car was travelling about 60 miles per hour. Mrs. Pawlowski was taken to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, where she died.

The driver, a 46-year-old Livonia man, will most likely not be ticketed, Wandrie said. Since the accident occurred on private property, it would take criminal action to bring charges, "which there doesn't appear to be," he said.

Chamber of Commerce celebrates growth

Annual meeting finds membership up from 170 to 250 in past year

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY

Clarkston News Editor

It was a celebration of success and a passing of the torch to new leadership that the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce celebrated Sept. 24.

Some 100 members and guests of the Chamber met for its annual meeting at Deer Lake Racquet Club and over a lunch of steak and pasta heard outgoing president Carrol Cantor of Carrol's Flowers talk about what a great year the past one had been.

"It's been a real busy year; we've gotten a lot accomplished," she said. "Everything was in place for some new programs."

Cantor said that though she never thought she'd want the job of president, "It's been a lot more fun than work."

The biggest accomplishment of the year was the jump in membership, she said. After setting a goal of 200 for her year, the Chamber hit than number in February.

"The amazing thing about this is we did not have a membership drive," she said. "They came to us."

Cantor credited the programs of the Chamber with the heightened interest. Monthly luncheon meeting attendance hovers around 50, and the Chamber got involved in a big way with the community last year by making big contributions to the senior all-night party and the library. And the annual business expo continues to be a hit.

Marc Cooper of Impressive Type, was introduced as the new Chamber president. "We're going to have a successful year again and we're going to continue to grow," he said. "One thing we're going to try to work on this year is to get the word 'area' out there. Because we have a lot of businesses that aren't in Clarkston... That's how we grew this year."

Cooper invited each member to be active in the Chamber via committees and attendance at events. "Anyone can be a member, but if you don't take part in it, why be a member?" he said. "The more you give, the more you get."

In a later interview, Cooper said keeping membership will be part of the challenge.

"The key to keeping members is having programs to help businesses grow," he said. One of the new items the Chamber is planning to issue is a community calendar, which Cooper said will be useful information for the community as well as a way for businesses to plan advertising and promotions. It is being funded jointly by the Chamber and Independence Township.

"We're going to keep expanding with more programs for business," Cooper said. "Our goal is to keep businesses, not just add numbers... All businesses can grow. It doesn't matter if there are four print shops in the Chamber, they can all grow. Or four flower shops. That's the reason so many businesses are joining the Chamber, because they're seeing the benefits we can give."

Lisa Burdick, owner of Creekside Salon, said she joined the Chamber for all the above reasons. A new entrepreneur since June, she said, "I wanted my salon and the people in the salon to be more involved in the community. And they (the Chamber) offer so many opportunities to work on Concerts in the Park, the allnight party."

Burdick was urged by another Chamber member, Dr. Bruce Mercado, to join. She also appreciates the business-helping-business attitude.

"It's also an opportunity to be with area business owners and discuss how their business is going," she said. "It's a great group of people."

POH, Beaumont to join local medical scene

used development planned near Sashabaw. That facility will house four doctors with various specialties, including obstetrics. It will also include its own lab and x-ray facilities.

Genesys executive vice president Jerry Vogler said the new center will be "only 15 minutes away" from the Grand Blanc hospital.

Other medical centers already existing in the Clarkston area include Dr. LePere's Clarkston Clinic, Dr. O'Neill's Clarkston Medical Group and Clarkston Ambulatory Care Center, and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Mercy Care, owned by St. Joseph Mercy-Oakland. All four are located on M-15, within a short distance of each other.

LePere, who is retiring after nearly 40 years in the medical practice, said the latest news is not surprising.

"Clarkston is a real growing area and Independence Township is probably the fastest growing area right now—the Pontiac/Flint corridor," he said.

For an individual, it's tough to set up a new practice. The trend is toward hospital-based ownership of doctors' offices, LePere said.

"For a new physician to start a practice on their own without a helpful organization like a hospital—it's not impossible but it's helpful." But, speaking of Beaumont, he added, "It seems a little ludicrous to come this far away when we have excellent hospitals half the distance away."

Annette Kingsbury contributed to this report.

Doctor, patient must both do exams for early detection

BY ANNETTE KINGSBURY Clarkston News Editor

For years, American woman have been told they need to give themselves monthly breast exams to search for changes that may indicate cancer. But how many of us actually know how to do it?

We may have picked up a pamphlet from the American Cancer Society or a plastic card to hang in the shower, but is it any substitute for a doctor-performed exam?

According to Roger Rohr, D.O., a radiologist with Genesys Health Systems, the two kinds of exams are meant to work together.

"Self breast exam is extremely, extremely important," Rohr said. "We want to reinforce that women should be conscious that it's very important to have a capable physician do annual breast exams, and also follow the ACR (American College of Radiology) guidelines for mammograms" in addition to the monthly self-checks.

For that reason, Genesys is offering free physician-conducted breast exams Fridays in October, which is Breast Cancer Awareness Month. The exams will be offered Oct. 10, 17, 24 and 31 by appointment between the hours of 8 a.m.-noon and 1-4 p.m.

In the U. S. every three minutes a woman is diagnosed with breast cancer. However, when detected in its early stages the survival rate is over 95 percent.

During the free exams, patients will be taught how to give themselves an effective self-exam. If any abnormalities are discovered patients will be given a mammogram and even ultrasound if indicated, Rohr

"The majority of breast masses are probably detected by women on self-exam," he said. "If a woman is to be very responsible and do self-exam and have a physician do a thorough breast exam once a year and follow up with mammography guidelines, chances are we're going to pick up early cancers. And the best treatment is early detection."

When it comes to mammograms, both the American Cancer Society and the American College of Radiology now agree that starting at age 40, women should have the tests annually. To that end, the ACS and Henry Ford Hospital are promoting Tuesday, Oct. 7 as "Tell-A-Friend Tuesday," to encourage women to call their friends and make sure they have a mammogram.

Statistics show that 25 percent of women who get mammograms do so because a close friend or relative urged them to. The ACS hopes to reach 10,000 women this way in Michigan. Mammograms are a form of x-ray which can often detect cancer long before it can be felt in an exam.

"Our hope is that all of our efforts will result in a significant increase in the early detection of breast cancer and that will lead to a reduction in breast cancer deaths," said Ray Demer, MD, Director of Henry Ford Health System's Cancer Center.

More than 6,000 women in Michigan will be diagnosed with breast cancer this year. Of those, about 1,500 will die from the disease.

Routine Pap Smears: The Key To Cervical Health

(NAPS)-Routine Pap smears can save lives from cervical cancer. Yet, half of the women diagnosed with cervical cancer in the United States have never had a Pap test. The overwhelming majority of women who have Pap smears on a regular basis will have any abnormalities detected at a stage that can be readily treated. If cervical cancer is detected in its earliest stage, the likelihood of survival is almost 100 percent with timely and appropriate follow-up.

Pelvic exams and Pap tests allow the doctor to detect abnormal changes in the cervix or pre-cancerous cells that can be treated before they become malignant. All women, age 18 and older, should have both of these exams on an annual basis. Twenty-five percent of cervical cancer cases and 41 percent of cervical cancer deaths occur in women age 65 or older. This is perhaps because women who are beyond childbearing age are less likely to have regular gynecological checkups.

Each year, 470,000 women are diagnosed with cervical cancer worldwide. In the United States alone, 14,500 new cervical cancers will be diagnosed and 4,800 women will die from the disease during 1997. With the nearly 100 percent survival rate for cervical cancer that is detected early, it is tragic that any woman dies of this disease. Spread the word: routine Pap smears save lives.

Local Sweet Adelines to compete internationally

They didn't have to sing for their supper. But the Thumb Area Chorus of Sweet Adelines did have to warble a few bars to win the 1996 regional championship.

Now all 108 members are getting ready for the international Sweet Adelines competition to be held in Salt Lake City Utah this October. The Thumb Area Chorus is the only Michigan ensemble to compete, said member and Clarkston resident Carolyn Place. Her chorus beat out 16 others at the regionals; now it will face 27 Sweet Adeline groups from around the world. It's very exciting, she said.

A special send-off celebration will be held this Sunday, Oct. 5 at 2 p.m. at the Kearsley High School Auditorium, 4302 Underhill in Flint. The Thumb Area Chorus will present its competition package and several other numbers in full costume. The concert is free and open to the public.

The group practices Tuesdays from 7-10 p.m. at Stone Hall Banquet Center in Davison. Any woman who likes to sing is encouraged to become a new member, Place said. For more information call her at 625-2390.

Oakhurst moves forward

A new clubhouse is one of the amenities in store for future residents of the Oakhurst development at Clintonville and Waldon roads.

A conceptual site plan and special land use request were approved for Phase III, a 10,000-square-foot clubhouse, by the Independence Township Planning Commission at the Sept. 25 meeting. Residential and golf course phases were previously approved.

Upcoming phases will include a pool, tennis courts and other additions. Commissioners approved the clubhouse project contingent on several factors, including preservation of some old cobblestone foundations existing on the site. The materials may be incorporated into some sort of memorial or rock rows, said planner Dick Carlisle.

Commissioners were adamant about the structures, asking developers to contact local historian Jennifer Radcliff and have a plan in place before they return for final approval.

A de-watering problem in that area, where some surrounding residents had their wells go temporarily dry during Oakhurst's development, has apparently been resolved. Developers are reimbursing those residents for certain out-of-the-pocket expenses.

Clarkston senior Georgia Senkyr has opponents singin' the blues

BY BRAD MONASTIERE

state cen't have a favorite sport. She doesn't busy herself accordes, either than watching not classifiates play to themselves.

2000 hat is it there makes Clashston Finih School of Georgia Schkyr deserving of a story about her?

Spure expellence on the number of athletic fields.

In the 1996-97 school year. Senkyr pulled off a rare triple crown achievement - three postscason awards in three sports. She was voted the most improved player on the varsity basketball and volleyball teams and the most valuable player on the varsity soccer team last spring.

Watching her play whatever sport she's in, the natural athletic skills are obvious, a 5-foot-10 frame that can be as graceful as it is quick and striking. But somehow, she doesn't get as noticed as some of her teammates on the court or on the field.

"I guess I'm more of a silent leader on the teams I'm on," Senkyr said after a recent basketball practice. "I try not to show that I'm working through talking out loud. If I want to talk to another player, I do it privately."

Leading is something that comes naturally to Senkyr, given the positions she plays in her sports. In this basketball season, coach Ann Serra has taken her on as the team's point guard, handling the ball in transition and igniting the set half-court offense. This allows lightning-quick and smaller players like Tiffany Honey, Jenny Bauer and Deana Kanipe to break down defenders off a pick or to spot up for 3-pointers.

Girls basketball coach Ann Serra said there has been some adjustment for Senkyr at the point guard position, but she's picking it up quickly.

"Georgia is getting a lot more comfortable out there," Serra said. "She just does so many things well for us. She is very consistent and delivers for you every game."

The normal stat line for Senkyr after a basketball game this season reads something like this: five points, eight rebounds, six assists and five steals. Certainly, an all-around threat.

In soccer, Senkyr was the team's leading scorer from the forward position, along with Bauer. Teammates knew that if they wanted to get ahead of the other team, Senkyr would be the one to get the ball to.

Girls soccer coach Brian Fitzgerald said with only one senior on the team last year, Senkyr took a leadership role and excelled in it.

"She really helped get the girls ready to play," Fitzgerald said. "Her attitude is very good and she is real serious when she's out there. A very focused kid."

Volleyball was a bit different. When the season started last December, Senkyr was a first-year varsity player after not playing as a sophomore. But by March, she had become the catalyst on the team that won the district championship for the fourth time in five years. Varsity volleyball coach Gordie Richardson gave Senkyr much of the credit for that team's late-season improvement and says when it comes to volleyball, she can be as good as she wants to be.

Clarkston High School senior Georgia Senkyr looks to pass during the Rochester game Sept. 18. Last year, she did something no other Clarkston athlete did by winning postseason awards in three different sports. She was the most improved player in basketball and volleyball, while taking team MVP honors in soccer last spring.

"Georgia has a chance to be one of those players who can make plays all over the court," Richardson said. "She reads the court well and has good quickness for someone her size. She is good at the stuff you can't teach, like vertical leap and long arms. She has a lot of innate ability she hasn't even tapped yet."

Senkyr certainly has the family genes working in her favor also. Her father Chuck played two exhibition games with the NFL's Cleveland Browns in 1977 after four years at the University of Minnesota-Morris. He is currently a single-handicap golf player and along with his wife Jody and son Cody, is a frequent fan at many Clarkston sporting events, even ones where Georgia isn't playing.

"I know other parents who don't have kids playing come to Georgia's games, and we just try to reciprocate that," Chuck Senkyr said. "We appreciate the dedication of the Clarkston kids in all sports. Athletics is very important in our lives, especially in the discipline it teaches."

Jody Senkyr has her own background steeped in sports. Her father coached high school track in Minnesota for 42 years, while she took third at the Minnesota state finals in the 400 hurdles in high school.

With all this sports stuff, academics must get lost in the shuffle, or does it?

"In our house, grades are number one," Jody Senkyr says. "Chuck and I have never pressured Georgia into sports, but I think she's kind of felt it

Wolves go to wire with Adams again

Fife leads gridders to thrilling 34-30 win

BY BRAD MONASTIERE Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston	34
Rochester Adams	30

Heart, character, determination, execution.

Those were just some of the qualities the Clarkston varsity football team showed during Friday night's come-from-behind 34-30 win overthe Rochester Adams Highlanders.

For the second straight year, this game came down to the final play, and just like last year, the Wolves came out on top.

With the win, Clarkston improves to 3-1 on the season, 2-0 in the OAA Division I.

With 1:17 left in the game, senior QB Dane Fife capped a brilliant night with a tough, three-yard touchdown run to give Clarkston its first lead of the game at 34-30. Fife broke five tackles on the short run, using his quickness and athleticism to his fullest advantage.

But Adams, which played a tremendous game, would not give up. Starting on their own 38-yard-line, quarterback Matt Danielson led his team all the way down the field. With eight seconds left, a pass interference penalty was called on Clarkston, giving Adams the ball at the 14 with two seconds left.

Then, junior defensive lineman Mark Whiteman sacked Danielson to end the game and spark a wild celebration among the players and coaches.

"This is the kind of game that can propel you through the rest of the season," a hoarse coach Kurt Richardson said after the game. "We still needed something to bring us together as a team and I think tonight did it."

Fife played by far his best game of the young season, completing 10-of-22 passes for 210 yards and two touchdowns. He also ran for 47 yards and two scores and made all the big plays a team needs its quarterback to make in crunch time.

"We know teams are gunning for us and we will have a lot of close games," Fife said. "We are getting better as the season's going on and we'll have to continue that."

"Dane has been average for us to this point," Richardson said. "But tonight, he was a great one for us. He played the way we expect him to play, and the way he expects himself to play. But hats off to Adams. They played a heckuva game."

Indeed, Adams came right at Clarkston all night, mixing the running of the wing-T offense with short, over-the-middle passing that Clarkston couldn't solve until the fourth quarter.

The Highlanders put together 15 plays that gained 10 or more yards. But a key factor was that only four of them came in the second half. The Clarkston defense stepped up to stuff the run more and do a better job in ass coverage in the second half, holding Adams to only seven points after scoring 23 in the first.

The low point for Clarkston came late in the first half, when senior Ron Grinold chased down a high snap on a punt and took a safety. This play came after Adams had taken a 21-13 lead and held the Wolves to three straight incompletions. A wild Adams crowd saluted its team, taking a 23-13 lead into halftime.

Coming off its worst half of the season, the Clarkston defense came out of the locker room with a new determination, holding Adams to three-and-outs on its first two possessions of the half.

Then, the offense got into gear, as Clarkston took only three plays to pull to within 23-20. The first play of the drive was a 50-yard flea flicker from Fife to junior WR Erich Poley that brought the team to Adams' 10yard-line. Two plays later, senior RB Brad Phalen took a Fife dumpoff pass into the end zone.

But Adams seized the momentum right back, taking the ball 70 yards on 10 plays to go up 30-20. The key play came on a 16-yard Danielson shovel pass on a second-and-eight that kept the drive alive.

Clarkston struck back at the start of the fourth quarter, when a fourth-and-one play turned into a 35yard touchdown. The play was designed for Fife to rollout left and either hit an open receiver, or try to run himself for the first down. Senior TE Justin Dionne sneaked into the flat, caught the pass and rambled in for the score. The Wolves were flying now, buoyed by a standing ovation by their fans.

But Adams still wouldn't die. Ahead by three, the team drove all the way to the five, when senior Nick Upchurch recovered an Adams fumble. The play seemed to deflate Adams, as slumped shoulders and bowed heads were a common sight on the sidelines after the

Two drives later, Phalen worked his magic some more, going 38 yards on a screen pass from Fife and 26 yards on a cutback play to set Clarkston up for the final

Senior FB Jeff Long also had a big game, so pering 55 yards to set up Clarkston's first touchdown, which he then scored in the first quarter. He also made his presence felt at halftime in the locker room.

"I played a lot better in the second half, but at halftime, Jeff Long chewed me out," Fife said after the game, steam rising from his head "That hepled me a lot to come out more focused in the second half."

A grand week of Homecoming festivities gets capped off by the game Friday night, when the Wolves host Waterford Kettering. Kickoff is at 7 p.m.

Football notebook

Welcome back Mike

Senior WR Mike Maitrott saw his first action of the season in Friday's 34-30 win at Rochester Adams. Maitrott suffered a punctured liver and bruised ribs during the first day of practice Aug. 11.

Clarkston coach Kurt Richardson showered Maitrott with compliments after his 3 catch, 32 yard performance.

"It meant a lot to us just to have him out there," Richardson said. "As a coach, it was nice for me to have him out there too."

In a class move, the Adams P.A. announcer welcomed Maitrott back during pregame warmups

Dane Fife, cornerback?

Yes, that was number 12 playing in the secondary during the last series of the game defensively for Clarkston. With Adams moving the ball through the air and needing a touchdown to win, Richardson inserted senior QB Dane Fife to play a free safetytype of position to try to stop the Highlanders.

"Dane can cover a lot of ground back there and we're dealing with some injuries with our defensive backs," Richardson said. "It's something you'll see again."

This year's Homecoming foe comes to us from Waterford, where the Kettering Captains sport a 3-1 record, including a 33-7 win over Berkley last

"Kettering is a very tough, physical football team that will give us all we can handle," Richardson said. "They've got good size on the lines, but they're a little slow. They will try to eat up the clock and win

No letdown from Wolves after two big wins

Showdown with Dragons looms on the horizon

BY BRAD MONASTIERE Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston	59
Berkley	39

After seeing the ease with which the varsity girls basketball team won Thursday, nine words come to

"We're not worthy! We're not worthy! We're not worthy!"

Coming off a pair of breathtaking games against Rochester and Waterford Kettering, the Wolves showed no letdown at all in dispatching the Berkley Bears 59-39 before the home crowd.

Clarkston, now 7-1 overall and 2-1 in the OAA Division I, took three quarters and systematically dismantled the Bears in every phase of the game. On offense, Clarkston moved and passed the ball around as well as it has all season. Shot selection was outstading

The defense also befuddled the Bears, as the Wolves did a good job of playing the passing lanes and converting steals. Clarkston also outrebounded Berkley 38-25 in the game.

"We are starting to get used to playing together as a team," a smiling coach Ann Serra said after the game. "We were a little upset with our slow start at Kettering and we wanted to come right out and play well from the Indeed, before Berkley players could hasten a glance at the scoreboard, Clarkston had already built a 17-4 lead.

Looking more and more confortable in her new surroundings, junior transfer student Deana Kanipe led Clarkston with 18 points, including a pair of 3-pointers. The dart-quick point guard got off to a flying start, scoring nine points and getting two rebounds in the first five minutes of the game.

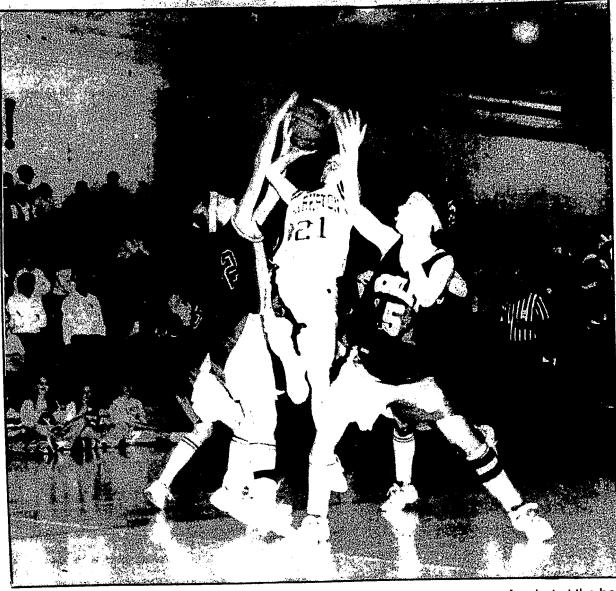

"I am getting more comfortable in the offense, but I'm getting good passes too," Kanipe said. "We have shown that this team has a lot of heart and we will just keep going at it, no matter what."

Also finding the shooting touch was sophomore guard Candace Morgan, who scored 11 points and played with a lot of confidence offensively. Serra said Morgan started to do different things when she got the ball, a sign of a very good player.

"When Candace would get the ball at first, she would take a dribble, then shoot. That made the defense play her for the drive," Serra said. "Later, she got the ball and shot without taking a dribble. That catches the defense off guard and is a sign of an excellent player, which Candace is."

Serra was able to get all 14 players some playing time in the first quarter and rotated the whole bench through the game. Senior Kelly Hanna came through with season-highs of six points and three rebounds.

Other top performers for Clarkston were sophomore center Lori Wild (seven points, eight boards, two assists), senior point guard Georgia Senkyr (four points, six rebounds, four assists) and junior forward Corinne McIntyre (five points, nine rebounds).

Senior guard Tiffany Honey is too tough to let two defenders get in her way of a shot at the basket, as seen here during Thursday's 59-39 win over Berkley. Honey and her teammates get a chance at revenge when they host Lake Orion Thursday in a rematch of last year's overtime district game, won by the Dragons.

56 Clarkston Waterford Kettering

The issue: at the end of the third quarter in this Sept. 23 contest, Serra impatiently paced the sidelines, trying to come up with a way to bring her team back from a 37-32 deficit on the road.

The solution: rotate 10 players, turn up the defense and hit some threes.

The result: an incredible, come-from-behind 56-46 win for the Wolves, a win that could be key in the team's rise from OAA I darkhorse to contender.

"I thought that in the fourth, (Kettering) got tired and we broke their press easily," Serra said. "We took care of the ball and took it upcourt to get some easy baskets."

Clarkston outscored Kettering 24-9 in the fourth, capping an incredible comeback that saw the Wolves trail by as many as 10 points in the second half.

Instrumental in the win were senior guard Tiffany

Honey, who scored all 11 of her points in the quarter, and Wild, who threw in 10. Wild also showed some Continued on Page 11B

Athlete of the Week: Bob Schultz

Salut, Bob: In his third year on the varsity golf team, the senior has linked together a splendid season for the Wolves in 1997. Schultz has been a consistent top-two finisher at the team's dual matches. He has averaged a 39.7 for a nine-hole course in the team's dual meets this year, with a low score of 38 Sept. 9 against Rochester Adams. Bob has also improved his hitting percentages in almost every category from 1996. He hits the fairway 44.5 percent of the time, up from 41, and he has shaved two strokes off his 18-hole average - 78, down from last year's 80. At Monday's Oakland County meet, Bob finished in a fourth place tie overall with a Coach Jim Chamberlain on Bob. "Bob has been our most consistent golfer this year, mainly because he's been our most practiced. He played more during the summer than anyone else and it's showed in his game. Bob is a hyper kid, who only wants to get better. He used to just hit the ball as far as he could, but now he's learning that there's more risk involved there. He has just become a much better all-around player."

Bob on Bob. "I got my first set of clubs when I was 6 years old and I've been playing ever since. I've played at places like Treetops Resort, Kent, Ohio, Kalamazoo and Grand Valley State. I think my short game has gotten a lot better since last year, and it's now the best it's ever been. I don't know where I will go to college, but it will be Bob Schultz someplace warm."

Also, any youth soccer player wearing his or her team jersey to the game will get in for free. Many other activities, games and prizes are planned for the day of Members of the Clarkston High School Blue and Gold Club are asking Homecoming fans to help the needy as they support the football team.

A collection of canned foods will be taken up during the first quarter of Friday's Homecoming football game against Kettering. In exchange for donations, fans will receive a raffle ticket. Then, during the second half of the game, the club will announce winners of two CHS baseball caps and a sweatshirt, donated by the athletic boosters.

Lighthouse Clarkston needs all the help it can get. A General Motors strike this summer caused an extra drain on the organization, which is now gearing up for the big holiday season.

SERVING UP A POWER DIET - Birds require these types of concentrated high-energy foods for daily activity and for keeping warm on winter nights. Black sunflower oil seeds are preferable to the larger striped seeds for this, and peanut products are another good high-calorie-per-weight alternative. The classic concentrated food is animal suet. This can be fed in a wire mesh cage on the side of a tree or post, in a hanging plastic onion-net bag, or in a hanging log specially bored for plugging with this hard, waxy fat.

FEEDERS THAT WELCOME BIRDS - AND KEEP THEM. Feeding stations should be placed where you can see them from the house, but also near shrubbery or other bird shelter. Remember the importance of wind shelter in the design of the feeder itself, too. Pole-mounted types, hanging types, window-mounted teeders, ground-level stations like a horizontal windowscreen on legs can all be successful.

anyway. Georgia is a very focused person and she tries to do all the little things that make a team work. She will do whatever is necessary to help the team."

That quality is called being coachable, a quality appreciated by Richardson.

"It's nice to coach people with talent and Georgia is someone who picks things up very easily," he said. "She's a young senior and needs more time to grow into her body and get stronger. But when she does, she can go as far as she wants to."

Jody said she and Chuck had a tough decision to make before Georgia started kindergarten in 1985-86. Georgia won't turn 17 until Nov. 3, making her very close in age to many juniors she has as teammates.

Outside of the athletic field, Senkyr said she spends most of her time watching the boys play their sports, like football and basketball. She says she tries to to learn skills from them also.

"It's fun to watch the guys going out and being successful," she said. "I feel like by watching them, I can improve myself also.'

What does the future hold for this humble - almost shy-but extremely talented athlete? Well, more success for Clarkston to be sure, but what about next year?

"I want to play in college. I don't know what or where, but I want to play something," she said. "I would like to be close to my family, but I haven't narrowed anything down yet."

That's OK, Georgia. You don't have to have a favorite anything yet. But when it comes to Clarkston athletes, you definitely rank among the favorites.

Go Lions, Go!

Bobcats ruin kickers' undefeated season

BY BRAD MONASTIERE Clarkston News Staff Writer

Grand Blanc Clarkston

As the bell at the Clarkston United Methodist Church struck 9:00 Monday night, so did the death knell on the Clarkston boys varsity soccer team's undefeated season.

In a hard and physical contest, the Wolves came out on the short end of a 3 1 decision to the Grand Blanc Bobcats in a non-league game.

Clarkston, now 6-1-4 overall, put together a solid first half, highlighted by a goal from senior Brian McGeough to tie the game at 1-1.

But two Grand Blanc goals in the first 15 minutes of the second half sealed the loss for Clarkston, one where it played well, according to coach Dan Fitzgerald.

"I'm not at all disappointed with how we played," he said. "We hit the post with a shot there and it kind of took the wind out of our sails. But we got some good chances and played well."

Clarkston was frustrated by the patient passing attack employed by Grand Blanc. This prevented from Clarkston defenders rushing the opposition in their preferred counterattacking style.

But the loss doesn't hurt the Wolves in the OAA Division II standings, where they remain tied with Lake Orion. The two teams square off in the biggest game of the season Monday at the home field. The winner of this game will likely walk away with the league regular season championship, something the Dragons have owned recently. Game time is 7 p.m.

Clarkston Berkley

If the soccer rules were changed to count goals for shots that hit the post or crossbar, the final score of this game Sept. 24 would have been around 10-0.

But a win's a win, and the Wolves remained in Dondero Sept. 23. first place in the OAA Division I while completing a season sweep of the Berkley Bears.

Shawn Verlinden scored the game's lone goal on a beautiful, arcing shot from 20 yards out just 15 minutes into the game.

Dan Jackson also played a solid game up front, using his blazing speed and good dribbling skills to create opportunities for Clarkston. His play has picked up throughout the season, something that didn't escape Fitzgerald.

"Dan is fast and very strong with the ball. He doesn't lose it easily," Fitzgerald said. "We don't really have a 20-goal scorer up front, but Dan does his part very well."

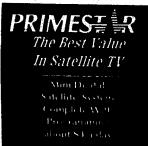

Clarkston Royal Oak Dondero

Another game, another tie.

For the fourth time this season, the Wolves played to a deadlock, this time with OAA II foe Royal Oak

JV Soccer

The JV soccer team had a great week, beating Royal Oak Dondero and Berkley.

The Wolves had an easy time with Royal Oak beating them 9-1. Junhee Kwak led the team with 2 goals. Chris Lenhardt, Pete Klemm, Brandon Goelde, Mark Zerba, and Nate Sari each scored a goal.

The Wolves had even an easier time with Berkley, shutting them out 10-0. Mark Zerba and Jermey Fecteau led the team with 2 goals each, Nik Falkenbury, Andy Chester, Craig Verlinden, Nate Sari, Junhee Kwak, and Brandon Goelde each added a goal.

JV Golf

The JV golf team played well last week. Last Monday the Wolves lost to undefeated Rochester Adams, 187 to 172. Derek Hool had the low score shooting a 42; Trae Moreen followed with a 45.

Tuesday, the Wolves played Andover and beat them in match play 5-0-1. Joe Owens and Ryan Brown had the low score on the team with a 45.

Friday the Wolves beat Rochester 173 to 187. Derek Hool led the team with a 42, Joe Owens had a 43, Bryan Anderson had a 46, and Adam Petrulis had a 47.

"On Friday, we played the best golf of the year. We haven't beaten Rochester in a couple of years," said Coach Tim Kaul.

JV Basketball

The JV basketball team had a pretty good week. Although they lost to Kettering they came back to beat Berkley. Christine Salck, Heather Combs, and Brittany Brewer all played well.

"We are working very hard towards a successful season," said Coach Gary Kaul.

clutch free throw shooting down the stretch, going 4for-6 in the quarter on her way to 18 points on the night. The two combined for 21 of Clarkston's 24 fourthquarter points.

"Lori's free throw shooting was very big for us," Serra said. "She became more aggressive in the quarter and it showed. She was getting to the basket and was either making the shots, or getting fouled."

Kanipe also chipped in with 11 points and 11 rebounds in the contest.

B 24 Wed., October 1, 1997 The Clarkston (MI) News

Heather Tarvestad ties a shoe before the run.

It was a perfect day for a walk—or a run—and students at Springfield Plains Elementary School took full advantage of it.

Friday was the annual Fun Run at the school, to benefit the PTA, and Mother Nature cooperated brilliantly. Students circled the parking lot at their own speed for 20 minutes, then were treated to drinks and cookies.

Principal Dr. Sharon Devereaux brought her dog, Barnie, a golden retriever who has been coming to school periodically since he was a puppy. He was one of the most popular walkers.

"The kids have seen him since he was a pup and really enjoy being around him. And he's good with kids," Devereaux said.

Though students were warned to go slow since they had 20 minutes of exercise ahead of them, some took off at breakneck speed. Others walked and talked. When the Macarena came on, a buzz went through the crowd and it seemed the pace picked up momentarily. Kids still enjoy that song.

-By Annette Kingsbury

After the race, it was punch and cookies for all.

Principal Dr. Sharon Devereaux and her dog Barnie attract a crowd of walkers.

Two fflends hold hands and socialize during the fun run.
