Independence discovers third liquor license

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It came as a surprise. There are three — not two — available liquor licenses in Independence Township.

Township clerk Joan McCrary discovered that fact last week after calling the state's Liquor Control Commission. "The reason is, we approved one years ago. The people filed their application but they never followed through with their restaurant," McCrary said.

That may or may not make the township board's job easier when it comes to selecting who will get the coveted Class C licenses to sell beer, wine and liquor in their restaurants.

The township is not under any time crunch in which to issue the licenses, and board members still have to grapple with the fact that more eateries are expected to open within the next few years.

The township learned recently it had two available licenses, based on a population increase that came from mid-decade census statistics. Since then there have been three formal applications submitted — one from the owner of an existing restaurant, the other two from applicants whose projects are only in the proposal stage.

Representatives from those three ventures appeared at the May 19 board meeting, presenting their respective reasons as to why they should receive licenses.

They include Bill Grannis, owner of Opa! (Opa!) Restaurant Coney Island on Ortonville Rd.; Global Sports Management partners Jack Leech and Kelly W. Kammer, who have proposed the Independence Superior Sportsplex for Sashabaw Rd.; and Nino Cutraro, an established restaurateur in the Detroit-metro area who would like to open an Italian eatery in Clarkston.

Grannis also has an Opa! in Lake Orion, which is operating under a liquor license, and would like one for Clarkston as well. He has owned the Orion establishment for eight years, the Clarkston restaurant for three years.

In addition, Grannis is a partner of Duggan's West, an Irish pub that opened after Christmas.

Grannis said his Opa! restaurants aren't "a bar atmosphere" but places where adults can enjoy a drink while dining with their families. He has an 11 1/2-year lease on the Clarkston building with a five-year option to renew. "So, I'm here to stay," he said.

GSM team Leech and Kammer have plans to incorporate a 150-200 seat family-style restaurant into their multi-purpose sports complex. While patrons will be able to view some sporting events while dining, they won't be allowed to carry alcoholic beverages into the arenas.

"Alcoholic beverages will not be consumed outside that area," Kammer said.

On the other hand, conventions and other groups that use the facility for special events would be eligible for a temporary liquor license, which means patrons could leave the restaurant area with their drinks, Stuart said.

GSM recently received preliminary approval for the 200,000-square-foot, year-round complex. One ice rink is expected to be completed by fall hockey season, but the owners said it would probably be January or February before the rest of the facility, including the restaurant, is completed.

Kammer said the owners would keep a close eye on restaurant operations and make sure the license stays under their ownership.

"We don't want a carpetbagger to come in and move that lease to a free-standing building," he said.

Nino Cutraro said he would like to open a 130-140 seat "white tablecloth" restaurant in Independence Township Square at Sashabaw and Waldon, pending approval of a liquor license. The restaurant would be a fine-dining establishment, but have no bar area, he said.

Cutraro, owner of three former Metropolitan Musicafes, is currently co-owner of Intermezzo Ristorante in Detroit and owner of Baci Abbracci in Pontiac. He has been eyeing Clarkston as another site.

"I saw all the development out here. I just can't believe my eyes," he said. "I would like to stay. I would

Six receive tributes at awards breakfast

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

What makes a person deserving of a community service award?

Some might say a big heart, unselfish devotion or a desire to help the less fortunate. The six people who received tributes at the thirteenth annual Michigan Week Community Awards Breakfast, held at Clarkston Creek May 20, seem to fit the whole spectrum.

Sponsored by Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce and NBD Bank, the event drew a large gathering of friends and family members who heard speeches about how these individuals give of their time, talent and energy to better the community in which they live. Rep. Tom Middleton (R-Ortonville) presented each recipient with a special plaque.

All were selected by a special committee which drew from a list of nominees.

Chamber president-elect Wendy Halsey was master of ceremonies and Pastor Joe Milosic of Mt. Zion Temple provided the invocation. The following are this year's recipients.

CITIZEN OF THE YEAR: Joyce Bleim

Bleim has been a Meals on Wheels volunteer, Lighthouse food coordinator at Clarkston United Methodist Church, a Big Sister and a member of the church's Missions Committee.

At the podium she talked about how a car accident and prolonged coma changed her life. Clarkston United Methodist Church director of support Don Kevern, who nominated Bleim, said her ordeal was "a little like the Titanic that went down. But Joyce came back."

Bleim now focuses on helping others, young and old. "There's nothing more exciting than seeing a senior's face light up on a cold winter day," she said.

ADULT-YOUTH VOLUNTEER: Maria Mark

Mark's volunteer work includes Junior Optimists, Octagons, St. Daniel Church and Columbiere Center. She created an intergenerational program with Jr. Optimists and Columbiere where youngsters are taken to the center to visit and share with elderly priests. Mark could not be present but Shannon Fell accepted her award.

Township clerk Joan McCrary provided a few comments about the Columbiere experience. "They play games, they eat pizza, they really have a grand time. This idea has mushroomed and the kids just love it." Middleton also applauded the concept, saying kids often have a hard time reaching out to seniors. "It's awful hard to understand them if we don't talk to them," he said.

YOUNG PERSON OF THE YEAR: There were two recipients this year, Clarkston High School students Jodie Barger and Dane Fife.

Jodie Barger: Jodie donated 20 percent of her income to three different charity groups last summer. She also volunteers as a summer camp counselor, teaches catechism at Our Lady of the Lakes, was in charge of props for the Clarkston High School musical, belongs to the Christian organization LIFE and plans to become a social worker.

Her nominator Elise Finch-Sophia noted her unselfishness. For many, in the developmental years of being a teenager, "It's me, me, me," Finch-Sophia said. "You want to buy CDs, clothes, go out with your friends for pizza." She said she didn't know "many adults" who would give 20 percent of their income away.

Young Person of the Year Dane Fife poses with Clarkston schools superintendent Dr. Al Roberts.

Elise Finch-Sophia nominated Jodie Barger (right) for Young Person of the Year.

State Rep. Tom Middleton presents Lubomyr Hewko with the award for Community Preservation.

Dane Fife: The CHS senior has been nationally acclaimed for his performance on the basketball court, is Michigan Basketball Player of the Year, has been selected to the USA Today and McDonald's All-American teams and was named a member of the Junior Olympic Team.

"There is more to Dane than his roundball exploits — on and off the court," said Clarkston schools superintendent Dr. Al Roberts. Dane frequently speaks out on drugs, teamwork, talent development and goal-setting to younger students. He's even invited to some of their birthday parties. "Dane's brought much pride to Clarkston," Roberts said.

BUSINESS PERSON OF THE YEAR: Robert (Bob) Olsen of Planned Financial Services.

Olsen was nominated for his work with a variety of community groups, including Clarkston Foundation, SCAMP and the Optimists. Fellow Foundation member Jim Evans said "there are some similarities between Bob and everybody on this list," but added, "I know he doesn't handle the ball as well as Dane." Evans said Olsen exemplifies the history of Clarkston's greatness because he's so giving.

Olsen said he was grateful for his family, which includes his wife Deanna, co-owner of the business, his four children and his mother. "I'd like to thank my mother, who told me to take a bath and change my underwear," he quipped. Then he got serious. "My kids inspire me to show the way to how we should act in our careers."

COMMUNITY PRESERVATION: Lubomyr O. Hewko

Hewko was honored for his work with the recently established Clarkston Community Museum Foundation, of which he is chairman of the board and president of the foundation's executive committee. The group is seeking a site for a community museum.

"Lu Hewko has a dream for a place where someday everyone can touch and feel the history of Clark-

Designs set for elementary schools

BY MARALEE COOK
Clarkston News Editor

Members of the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce took a look at architectural drawings of the new elementary school and renovations to North Sashabaw Elementary, Clarkston Elementary, and Sashabaw Middle School recently.

The presentation was made by schools superintendent Dr. Al Roberts Thursday, May 21 at the Chamber's regular monthly luncheon meeting.

The new elementary school will be built at the corner of M-15 and Hubbard Road. Roberts said the architecture integrates the Victorian era of Clarkston's history with the horse farm setting on which the school will be built.

He said the renovations to the schools will provide much more natural lighting, and added the designs will tie the schools together architecturally.

In an earlier interview, Craig Kahler, director of business services for the schools, said he was very pleased with how the projects were coming together.

Of the new elementary school, Kahler agreed with Roberts' opinion of the design. "The Greek revival architecture blends into the history of the population, which is farmland. They take on the appearance of houses in town and farm buildings."

He added this was the first time the architectural firm, Roy G. French and Associates, had designed a building with this type of appearance. "It's a unique building for our community and French and Associates."

The bid process and awarding of a contract is scheduled for June with work beginning in July, said Kahler. The school is scheduled to open fall of 1999.

Work on interior renovations at North Sashabaw and Clarkston elementaries is also scheduled for this summer. Additions will be constructed during the school year.

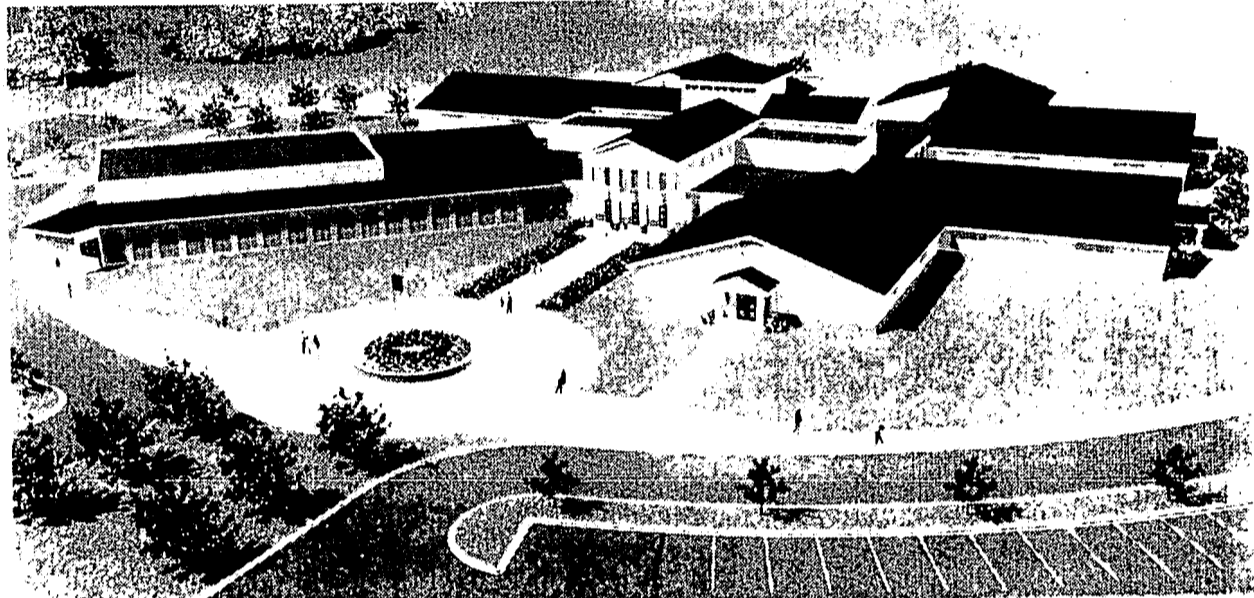

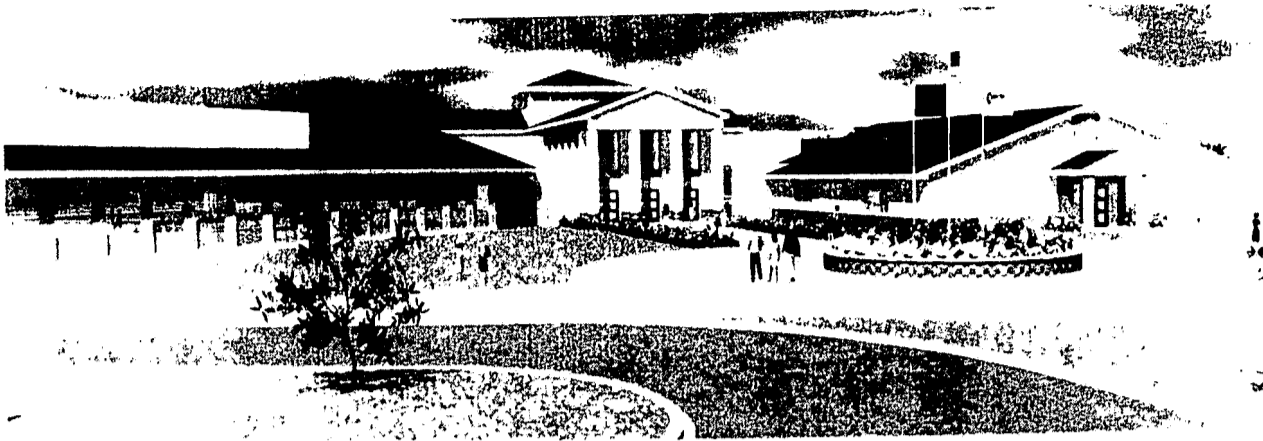

"Workers will stay out of the buildings during the school year (except for exterior additions), and go back into the interiors of the additions in the summer of 1999," Kahler said.

Students will stay at Clarkston Middle School for one more year before moving into the current Clarkston High School. Kahler said while the soon-to-be-former high school will see little construction, its mechanical system is, "at the end of its useful life."

"There is one minor addition off the cafeteria, but the rest of the work will be primarily mechanical and electrical and prepping for technology," he said.

Kahler added renovations to Andersonville, Bailey Lake, Pine Knob and Springfield Plains elementaries will start in the summer of 1999. The construction schedule for Sashabaw Middle School is still under review. All of the projects should be complete in the year 2000, he said.

Roberts also showed Chamber members pictures of progress at the new high school at Clarkston and Flemings Lake roads.

He said the new pool is being tiled and bleachers are going up around the new stadium. Roberts also showed slides of the auxiliary gym, which will include a track available to community members in the future.

"We want to open the schools to community members, but not until after they are all totally complete," said Roberts. He said while they are under renovation, extra-curricular events for students may have to take place at different schools, and the students' needs must come first.

Eventually, staff and administrators will be proud to have community members use the school facilities. "The more you see what we're doing with your kids, and the schools, the better," he said.

JIM'S JOTTINGS

By Jim Sherman

Defeated foes buying us

No one has asked me what I think of the Daimler-Chrysler marriage, but if they did I'd say, "be very wary, watch your back and trust no one that makes multi billions a year."

In the easily remembered past Japan and Germany were our enemy, and I'm, not sure they still aren't today.

Thanks to our "beat them then build them" foreign policy both countries have laid down their arms and picked up our dollars.

Then they took these dollars to buy up our land, our industry and our politicians. We continually read about the Japanese owning Hawaii and the West Coast, including the previously very American Pebble Beach Golf Course. It was OK by me when they bought Hollywood, but not Pebble Beach.

The Germans, up to now, have taken another route to conquer . . . they have made Bayer the dominate cure for headaches that most of us suffered because of their actions in the first place.

And they made many Americans believe an aspirin bottle size car, that never changed styling, and had "German Engineering" was the greatest thing since sliced stolen. Volkswagon!

Now, with the Japanese yen having lost value, the Germans have adopted the Japanese practice of buy 'em, own 'em and raise the prices. A round of golf at Pebble Beach is over $250. When it was American owned and we played it the fee was only $205.

Anyway, it's much too soon to put a stamp of approval on the Daimler Chrysler deal . . . a deal that gives further proof that money makes the difference. The top executives of Chrysler will be making enormous amounts of money because of their stock holdings. We have to wonder if this merger was made mostly to benefit them, personally.

Following the nuptials this American company, saved from bankruptcy by American taxpayers, will be run from Stuttgart, Germany by a man whose management style has been "marked by brutality" according to his predecessor Edzard Reuter.

Juergen Schrempp's Daimler also owns 20 percent of Roger Penske's Detroit Diesel Corp. Maybe Juergen, who plays jazz trumpet, took a liking to the Motown sound and bought Chrysler so he'd have another reason to come here.

Maybe he wanted to be in the Detroit area to be close to fellow countryman Heinz Prechter, the sun roof maker, who also owns Heritage newspapers Downriver. Heinz recently bought five weekly papers around Flint to go with the dozen and a half from Dearborn south, and has inquired about buying many others including ours.

Maybe the Germans have their own Zodiac and this is the year of the Acquirer.

Enough maybeing. Time for rationaling. Give this ring swapping an extended honeymoon, while keeping in mind the "death do us part" possibility.

Letters to the editor

Zoning good when done fairly

Dear Editor:

Zoning can be good if it's done fairly and not prejudicially, but what's going on in Independence Township is just the opposite of this.

For instance, when I asked our township attorney, Mr. Fisher, just exactly why they wanted to down grade our zoning he said that after we sold, there were certain uses they didn't want there. How would the township board like it, if it were required by the citizens to get permission before a new neighbor moved in, whom we might think is undesirable?

Many times a business can be a better neighbor than some people can, as we all can attest to. This could entail all kinds of reasons.

I think the board is going too far with its power. You're elected to work with people and help them not harass and intimidate them. Talk about not being fair. They want to down grade us and give a higher zoning, (O.R. Zoning, light industrial) across the street from us.

This O.R. -- light industrial -- zoning will back up to a brand new subdivision. Mr. Carlisle, the township planner, talks about keeping low density North of I-75. I sure don't see it that way. It's going "gang busters" on small lots and some larger and if he's worried about M-15 becoming too commercial, that's also a false assumption.

Most of M-15 is already residential and a business here and there along M-15 doesn't make a bad looking route. To me, continuous non-stop commercial is much more unattractive. In fact the speed limit is usually reduced when there's commercial zoning along the way.

In reference to The Clarkston News article, Mr. Carlisle only tells part of the story when mentioning the commercial zoning on the west side of M-15. He's using a light paint brush to make it look nice at our expense. In its present form, the Vision 2020 plan is blatantly taking without just compensation.

Our grass root government is just as bad as big government. We have talked to many people who the township has been very unfair to and treated disrespectfully. Your board of appeals gives large variances to undeserving situations, depending on who you are and refuses others with small requests.

I can tell you one thing, they definitely discriminate. If the board of appeals can give a board member a 44-foot variance on a very small nonconforming lot at Walters Lake and refuse a 10-foot variance on a pole barn on a five-acre parcel in the Clarkston Orion Rd. vicinity, something is terribly wrong.

Our situation could have been solved eight years ago. Our lawyer, Mr. Ginn (who drew up the Independence Township zoning ordinance) and Gary Stonerock deleted what the township board and Mr. Carlisle didn't want built on the property and presented it to the township board and Mr. Carlisle refused it and said he'd draw up his own ordinance.

Well, we refused it and they've been sitting on it ever since. As one gentlemen said he knows one thing for sure, "I like to spend my money the way I want to and they want to spend my money the way they want to." Well, now we're fighting on principle. You can only take so much.

You're living your life trying to do what's right, minding your business and along comes the dictatorial government. I believe people are getting fed up with it. You may not have been touched yet, but when you are it goes against everything American. All we're asking is to be taken out of the 2020 plan and leave our zoning alone. Wake up people. Get the board. "Grass Roots Tyranny." It will open your eyes.

Born and raised in Clarkston
Onalee Stonerock

Condition of roads is appalling

Dear Editor:

I am writing about the condition of our roads everywhere in our beautiful state.

I am appalled at the condition that Governor Engler has allowed this to happen. He neglected our roads for his entire term.

Now that elections are near, he is making a feeble attempt to fix them. I call it a feeble attempt because these roads need major restructuring and they are merely "painted." Within a year the potholes have reappeared.

Motorists' insurance premiums have gone up, because of the increase in repairs to our autos.

We pay twice over this situation, once through the increase in our taxes and then through our premiums.

This is unacceptable. We must elect a governor who cares about the people.

Thanks for rescuing baby bird

Dear Editor:

I would like to publicly thank North Sashabaw Elementary custodian, Fred Vess, and Independence Township fireman, Bob Pursley, for taking the time out of their busy schedules to rescue a baby killdeer that had fallen into a storm drain, on school property.

What a wonderful message it sends to students of all ages that we not only need to be kind to each other, but to innocent animals as well.

Sincerely,
Peggy Lefler

MALLORY MAST: I'm going to Minnesota and I'm going to camp.

15 YEARS AGO (1983)

Pine Knob may get permission to sell beer and wine at the music theater in time for the season's opener May 27. The request is expected to be heard by the state's Liquor Control Commission May 25.

Independence Township's housing market is taking off this year, even though official statistics for 1982 were bleak. "We're doing a lot better in '83," says building and planning director Kenneth Delbridge.

A funny thing happens on the way to the coliseum ... On the way to Tiger Stadium, a lead car carrying some Clarkston High School Madrigal Singers misses its exit before the group performs The National Anthem at the start of a televised game.

25 YEARS AGO (1973)

The cost of running Independence Township this year, once the general fund budget is added to the police and fire budgets, approaches $1 million, according to township clerk J. Edwin Glennie.

A newly formed Independence Lakes Board agrees by petition to seek recourse in a Mill Pond cleanup.

Approximately two-thirds of the 19 property owners around the pond have signed the petition, which gives the township the right to create special assessment districts for pond maintenance.

The Sashabaw Cougars pound out 12 hits in their best offensive show of the season, for a 12-0 victory over West Bloomfield.

50 YEARS AGO (1948)

After 29 years, two sisters see each other again Mrs. Frederick Bishop sails the S.S. Queen Mary from England to New York to meet her sister Mrs. Alex Solley of Clarkston. They have a very happy reunion.

The Clarkston Merchants baseball team chalks up its first victory of the season, defeating Lake Orion Sunday 6-4.

News from "By The Way": Memorial Day will have double meaning, falling on a Sunday this year. Not only is it a day to remember the deceased heroes of these United States of America, but a day that could be well spent in praying that no further wars will add to the number of generations marking newly made graves.

troit and Philadelphia to satisfy my little sisters."

I've heard countless horror stories that took place in my father's family four-door. I believe this is supposed to make me grateful that I have 90's technology and am blessed enough to travel in a S.U.V. on steroids. Otherwise known as an Expedition.

I got stuck sharing a bench seat with our dog. 100 pounds of drool and long, shedding, hair pouncing on me every time I choose to drift off to sleep. The alternative seat is in between my two younger sisters. I guess the dog wasn't all that bad.

Somehow I was named the sole caretaker of my seat companion. This includes dragging the dog to the five square feet of Mickey D's grass where every poodle on this side of the turnpike is parading.

Then I must irrigate him. This entails carrying a large, stainless steel bowl into the restroom. Avoiding questioning stares as I fill it with water, and carrying it back out into the parking lot. Spilling at least half of it down the front of me. But no fear, my dog will be sure to slobber the other half all over me.

However, this summer will be my last few months tormented with family vacations so I should enjoy them while I can, right? After all, next summer while I'm partying, ahem, moving into a college dorm, I may miss these long drives....

CHS LIFE

by Meghann Smith

The family car trip

Have you ever gone on a family car trip? The unfortunate genetics teenagers are blessed with tend to support the affirmative. Some rocket scientist in our family (he will remain unnamed) decided we should drive to Philadelphia for the weekend. That translates to a 12 hour (each way) drive, straight through.

This road trip conveniently coincided with the start of Beanie Baby Happy meals. If I eat another cheeseburger my car companions don't want to know what will happen.

"What did you do this weekend?"

"Oh I visited every McDonald's between De-

DON'T RUSH ME / by Don Rush

Feel the burn, baby

Summer really is here. This I know, not because the nation got together a couple of days ago to celebrate sacrifices made by the men and women of this country's military ... but because I got my first sunburn.

Yep, the old schnozola has got the summer peal started. Got to admit, a peeling red becker is a darned good look.

"Hey, Rudolph turn that thing down -- we're trying to play volleyball here."

I should worry about this sunburn problem -- the one that afflicts us with the fair hair and freckly skin tones. The Big C on the tip of a nose is nothing to sneeze at, so to speak.

My Uncle Terry had bits of his nose hacked off for that very reason. I know the dangers, heck I even glop sun-block all over my face, the back of my neck and on the tip of my ears. The above mentioned all still get pink.

Maybe it's time to consider some flesh-tone latex house paint.

Thinking about it, I guess I never really get that "savage tan" all the sunworshippers go for. I worked my way through college with a summer job at Independence Township's Lakeview Cemetery. I dug that job (Sorry, old pun habits die hard). But, even after a summer of being outside doing whatever cemetery workers do, I'd only come away with a slightly golden hue to my skin.

The other guys would walk away with those glorious tans advertised by all the lotion people. It's just wasn't fair.

I guess that's what I get coming from that danged Irish stock. Rats.

Of course, I probably should have heeded the advice I received about 10 years ago from Dr. Janet Koprince -- she's over there at the Community Health Center in Oxford. I believe she's a dermatologist, so I interviewed her for a story on summer skin care.

I can't remember her exact quote, and I'm too lazy to go back into the morgue to look it up, but what I think she really tried to impress onto by brain is: Don, stay out of the sun!

Like most guys I ignored any form of wisdom given by a gal -- even a doctored one.

I still get sunburned. Though at least now I don't go for the tanned look -- I get the sun whenever it hits me and I don't go looking for it ... of course maybe I shouldn't drive around with the top down on the Jeep ...

... Nah, it's summer time.

Making a few more memories

Good friends, good music, hot dogs and volleyball were the order of the day at the May 16 Clarkston High School senior picnic.

The picnic was at Clintonwood Park, and was hosted by principal Brent Cooley and assistant principal Ron Santavicca, with help from Santavicca's wife Judy, and parent volunteers Cindy Brewer and Sherry Nelles.

Students also won prizes of pens, rulers, calculators and t-shirts for correctly answering questions about their four years at CHS.

Remember the four homecoming themes? Laura Pope and Barb Dean did. The correct answers were: 9th grade, "We've Got Tonight"; 10th grade, "Can You Feel The Love?"; 11th grade, "One Last Cry"; 12th grade, "Wonderful Tonight".

Varsity golfer Bob Schultz remembered the golf team won the state championship when he was in 9th grade (1995).

Jason Attaman knew the names of CHS's three parking attendants in the correct order - Jerry, Vern and Bob.

Ryan Srogi remembered last year's three parking sticker colors - red, blue and green.

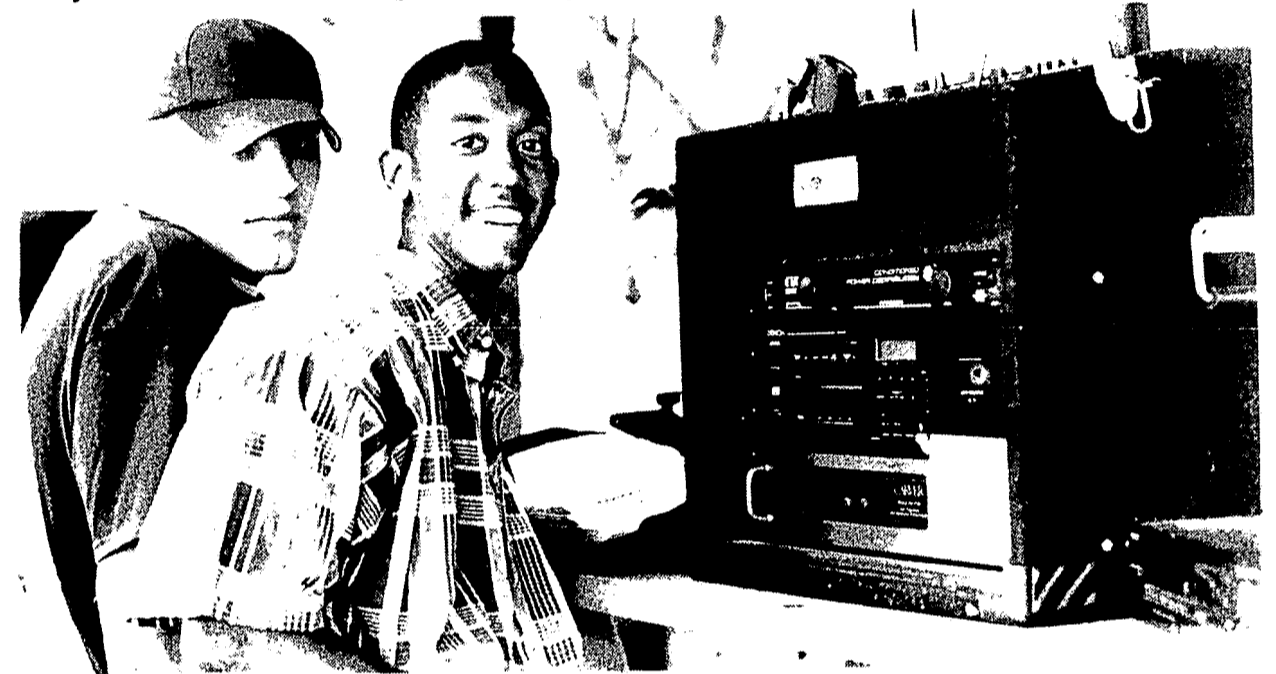

What do you get with a party sub at lunch? Nate Skipton knew - sub, soup, chips, milk and fruit.

Elaine Thompson remembered students couldn't drink the water at CHS when the seniors were in 9th grade.

Sara McKechnie knew the names of all of the assistant principals at CHS in the last four years: Mrs. Farmer, Mr. Camaiani, Mr. Santavicca, Ms. Doriean, Mr. Krystiniak, Mrs. Meagher, Mrs. White and briefly, Mr. Sage.

Judy Santavicca serves up a hot dog to senior Neil Castle.

FOLLOWING INSTRUCTION

While there is no substitute for a formal will as a legal guide to the distribution of your estate, it is also beneficial to have a less-formal letter of instruction to facilitate your survivors' execution of your wishes. If it is made available immediately after your death, a letter of instruction will help with such matters as identifying those whom you wish to be notified and making known the existence and location of bank accounts and safe deposit boxes and keys. It may also contain information about loans and discuss the disposition of small heirlooms that are not mentioned in the will. The more information that you have available to heirs and executors, the more you spare them stress and uncertainty.

Our office handles a variety of legal matters including personal injury claims, auto accidents, slip & fall injuries, criminal defense, business law, real estate transactions, family law, and civil litigation in both State and Federal courts. For further information or to schedule a consultation, call 620-1030. We're conveniently located at 11 North Main Street.

HINT: Once you have had a will drawn up, review it frequently to make sure that it reflects present circumstances.

Ben Folds Five

Beware, teenagers. Ben Folds Five is a band even your parents might like.

Imbued with storytelling lyrics and catchy instrumentation, the Five (actually a trio — "alliteration just sounds better," says frontman Folds) have been compared to Elton John and Billy Joel.

They also took part in a recent tribute to upbeat poet Burt Bacharach. BFF's contribution was a rendition of the blissfully optimistic "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head."

Decidedly not your angst-ridden, alterna-hit of today.

However, the group scored big on modern rock stations with its first hit single "Brick," an honest look at the aftermath of abortion told from a guy's point of view.

"The word numb is in there, because that's usually how guys tend to react when hit with too much emotion."

For months, before fame and fortune hit them, Folds' five-foot-two-inch-long Baldwin baby grand was carted around the country in a yellow Ryder van. The challenge became how to move it onstage.

Though it's since been replaced with a Steinway (and band members now kick back and let roadies do the work), the group endured a lot of ribbing.

"The premise of the band was how to move Ben's piano," says bassist Robert Sledge. "We'd rest part of the piano on a chair and the end on the drum riser. We were like, 'Yeah, we win!' because we got the thing onstage."

Drummer Darren Jessee says they became obsessed with proving a point. "Because there were so many people who would walk in and go, 'You guys are fools. Have you ever heard of the synthesizer?'"

Standing out from the crowd seems to have paid off. Their new album "Whatever and Ever Amen" has sold more than 350,000 copies in the U.S. and climbed from Number 126 to Number 42 in "Billboard's" Top 200 in just three weeks.

In a recent "Rolling Stone" article, Folds was asked if guitars would ever be a part of BFF. He thought for a moment. "If we can think of a use for them," he said, then added with a playful sneer, "I don't know. Maybe some feedback."

Ben Folds Five performs next Tuesday, June 2, with Beck and Sean Lennon at 7 p.m. Tickets are $20 pavilion/$12.50 lawn. Call The Palace at (248) 377-8200 for more information.

Oppmann appointed planning commissioner

In the wake of Independence Township planning commissioner Carolyn Place's recent resignation, the township's board of trustees voted unanimously May 19 to approve supervisor Dale Stuart's recommendation for a new commissioner.

Township resident Richard Oppmann will serve out the remainder of Place's three-year term which expires December 1998.

Oppmann, who served previously on the commission from 1987-1995, is a good choice, Stuart said, adding that the township needs an experienced person with all the growth that's going on.

Place resigned for "personal reasons," Stuart said. He noted her outstanding dedication. "She's had a passion for what she's doing." Place served on the commission for at least five years and during an earlier period as well.

Along with the late Lew Wint, Place led the Bottles for Building project in the '70s. But Stuart praised her as an activist before and after that role.

"She contributed in every way, shape and form. Our hearts go out to her," he said.

Members of Pine Knob's student council, with co-sponsors Lisa Giacobone and Kim Tyler, helped spearhead the penny drive for the CairnsIRIS system. They presented their donations to Fire Chief Gar Wilson May 20, along with PTA treasurer April Copeman. Fire marshal Greg Olrich, not pictured, was also present at the assembly.

Celebrate the Clinton River at River Day '98

Twenty-two community groups in Oakland and Macomb counties will sponsor activities across the Clinton River watershed June 6.

In Independence and Springfield townships those activities are:

Bridge Valley Wetlands Walk: A walking tour of protected wetlands, guided by a biologist at Bridge Valley Subdivision on Holcomb Rd., west of Miller. Meet at the Bridge Valley info center at 1 p.m. For more information, call (248)680-7180. Co-sponsored by Springfield Township and Kirco Development.

Paddle and Tracks: A canoe and hiking tour through wildlife habitat at Independence Oaks from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Bring your own canoe, or groups of 10 or more can call to arrange canoe rental. Meet at the Boat Rental at 9 a.m.

Independence Oaks is on Sashabaw Rd., 2-1/2 miles north of I-75. For more information, call 625-6473.

Students donate pennies - lots of them - for thermal imaging system

Pine Knob Elementary School students and the Pine Knob PTA received a round of applause from members of the Independence Township Fire Department and Pine Knob staff at an assembly May 20.

The occasion was the presentation of $735 from the students and $500 from the PTA to help pay for the fire department's CairnsIRIS thermal imaging systems.

The CairnsIRIS is a heat-sensitive system with a video camera mounted to helmets worn by firefighters. It helps them find victims in darkened, smoke-filled rooms.

The students began a penny drive earlier this year to help firefighters pay for their two systems, which cost $25,000 each. Members of the PTA offered to chip in funds as well.

At the assembly, students and teachers were treated to a demonstration of how the system works. After a video presentation on using the system in actual fires, fire department driver engineer Phil Williams, suited up in fire-fighting gear with the CairnsIRIS. The system includes a computer and battery worn backpack style, making it useable for one-and-one-half hours.

The lights were turned off in Pine Knob's multi-purpose room, Williams turned the camera on the audience, and the kids oohed and aahed as everyone showed up white or various shades of pale gray on the screen.

Fire Capt. Steve Ronk explained the CairnsIRIS system was developed for the Gulf War, and transmits images according to temperature. The hotter an object is, the whiter the image.

Chief Gar Wilson said the donations are being used to start a fund for four more CairnsIRIS systems. His goal is to place two systems in each of the stations. He added he's hoping other Clarkston schools will pitch in their pennies to help purchase future systems.

Chief Wilson added anyone interested in donating to the fund can reach him at 625-1924.

One of five interesting homes on Clarkston's 16th SCAMP Home Tour

The Scafe home is a blend of old and new

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The first thing that strikes you about Joyce Scafe's historic home is the bright scarlet front door. She wanted the color to be just so, sending her brother to the paint store for a specific mix that can only be described by Joyce as "Chinese, fire-engine red."

There are other touches of individuality in the nearly 150-year-old house at 11 Buffalo St. in Clarkston — from the pine-paneled back porch with its matching wooden shades, to the recessed wall that holds an heirloom dresser, to four beloved pets who scurry down the hallways and keep their mistress on the go. The house is a striking blend of both old and new, although its clean, exterior lines resemble "your basic farmhouse — very utilitarian," notes Joyce.

As you pass through the front door, you are immediately confronted with the original structure — a dining room and back office/library, which holds Joyce's old book collection. It's possible the rooms were built well before 1850 with their post-and-beam construction.

"This house has been here a long time. You can tell from the stonework in the basement."

The first addition came around 1870, Joyce estimates. The two-story structure includes a living room and bedroom, and a second bedroom and a bathroom upstairs. This portion was not constructed nearly as well as the first, and required extensive restoration when Joyce moved in four years ago.

For one thing, the basement featured a 16-inch "crawl space," if you can call it that. The living room floor sloped badly and conditions indicated it would worsen if nothing was done.

To halt its caving in, the floor was hoisted with poles, dug into the cement below. The mission was accomplished gradually. "Every few days, someone would go down and jack it up. You could hear the house creak and groan," Joyce notes.

At the same time, the old floor was torn up to repair the heat ducts, which had stopped working. The downstairs was freezing, she says.

Other improvements included restoring windows that had long been boarded over. Some were enlarged, upon permission from Clarkston's Historic District Commission. A new double-sided window now spills more light into the first floor bedroom. "It made a big difference," notes Joyce.

Joyce also added high-gloss oak floors throughout the house and up the narrow staircase that leads to the second floor. More delicate wallpaper graces the rooms and hallways, and Joyce has added country-type borders in some of the bedrooms.

The upstairs was especially challenging. A bedroom was turned into a spacious, green-marbled bathroom. Joyce is very proud of this transformation, noting it was once very difficult to go up and down the stairs at 2 a.m. when nature called. But she can't have a tub, only a shower, because the old floor just couldn't handle it.

A third addition, Joyce figures, provided a back kitchen, which has since been remodeled into a new bathroom, closets and hallway.

Joyce enjoys all the history that has been handed down with her purchase of this old house. Much of her family has deep roots in Clarkston — names like the Beardslees, Baileys and Porritts. Lots of old photos grace the walls.

Her great uncle, Bradley Miller, owned the Miller farm and was a postal carrier in Clarkston. And "my

Homecoming hopes to round up old alumni

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Evelyn Walz Riddle has many fond recollections of high school days in Clarkston. Back in the '30s, she'd walk to Kroger's after lunch with her friends. In those days, the grocery store stood on Main St.

"Candy bars were three for a dime," mused the soft-spoken senior, now 77.

Those sentimental memories are part of why

Riddle hopes to hear from her old school chums. Since graduation and through the years, she's lost track of all of them, except for one, Betty Chamberlain, who lives in Walled Lake. There were 26 students in her 1937 senior class.

But, thanks to a gala event Clarkston schools is planning for this fall, some of those members — as well as those in other yesteryears — may be reunited.

According to Barbara Johns, public relations director for Clarkston schools, the district hopes to hold some special activities for alumni only during Homecoming weekend, Oct. 9-11. Tentative plans include a "sock hop," a buffet dinner and a tour of the new Clarkston High School, which opens this fall. vices of Harris Publications. The directory will go back as far as possible, Johns said.

"It's a tremendous job, they've been working nine months already and probably won't be finished for another five months. We hope to contact the people they've found and invite them to our gala in October."

Johns said the district has accessed class lists that date back to 1923, but prior to that records are "iffy."

 "We know there were some 20 years of graduates going back before 1923," she said, adding the district is seeking the public's help. Anyone who has information or class lists should call Johns at Clarkston schools' administration office at 625-4402.

Because the first seniors graduated in 1901, Clarkston schools would be celebrating its 100th anniversary this year.

"We became a 12-year school (first grade through twelfth grade) in 1898, so technically we are 100 years old. However, we didn't become Clarkston Community Schools until 1949, which would make us 50 years old next year," she said.

The year 1949 was a turning point, because that was the year in which all the rural districts were consolidated into Clarkston's, Johns explained.

Homecoming will be extra special because of those milestones, and the older alums should really enjoy kicking up their heels in the old CMS gym. Other than a few coats of fresh paint, "it hasn't changed much," she said with a laugh.

The site for the sock hop will no doubt be a sentimental one. Plans are to hold it at Clarkston Middle School. Built in 1929, it was the first high school in Clarkston. "We thought the old gym would be a real hit," Johns said.

The weekend will be a bit more festive this year, in celebration of the new high school. Gov. Engler may even pay a visit. "We've invited the governor. We're hoping to hear from him, for either Friday night's game or Saturday for the parade," Johns added.

Traditional CHS Homecoming events include the football game Friday night, a parade down Main St. Saturday morning and a dance for high school students Saturday evening.

Meanwhile, the district hopes to round up as many alumni as possible. In addition, a Clarkston Alumni Directory is being compiled through the ser-

Public hearing set on Susin Lake SAD

The Springfield Township Board of Trustees set Tuesday, July 14 as a public hearing regarding the weed control for the Susin Lake Special Assessment District.

Township supervisor Collin Walls said the board will discuss a one-year agreement with those within the district. He said he also hopes to establish a lake board that will take on some of the weed control responsibility from the township.

The hearing starts at 7:30 p.m. at the township hall in Davisburg.

ston," said nominator and fellow Clarkston Rotary Club member Jeff Lichty. "The older generation to talk about what happened at the turn of the last century is almost gone. And Lu has a way to capture that."

Hewko noted others who have been a part of the effort. "This would not have been possible without the work of the preservation-minded people of the community," he said. Being able to visit a museum where you can touch and see historic objects "creates a different perception of history than just reading about it," he said.

Creating a museum is imperative, he added. "There has to be a place to store things with the arrival of new generations and school children."

Clarkston High School's Solid Brass Quintet opened the breakfast. Pictured are Jeff Hopcian and Kathryn Zarzycki.

Liquor licenses

like to be a benefit to this community."

The board unanimously tabled making a decision on the issuance of two licenses (known at that time), agreeing there were a variety of issues to be studied. Trustee Jeff McGee said the board should be prepared to make "an educated choice."

Trustee Dan Travis, also a planning commissioner, noted the number of proposed restaurants in store for Independence. "Three are geared for Dixie, three in Waldon Village Towne Center if it all comes to pass. As many as five could be here in the next 12 to 15 months."

The board also discussed whether tavern liquor licenses, which allow a restaurant to serve beer and wine only, might be attractive to some applicants.

McCrary said she checked with the LCC and found Independence could also issue those kinds of licenses. But, she added, "We've never issued a tavern license. Why would we issue that when the applicant could have it all?"

There are currently 19 liquor licenses in Independence Township. Two of those are resort licenses, owned by Outback Steakhouse and the Clarkston Union. Whereas municipalities have the power to issue Class

A and B licenses (for hotels) and Class C licenses (for restaurants) the state has the authority when it comes to granting resort licenses, McCrary said. Unlike the others, they are not based on population.

It is anticipated more Class C licenses will be available after the next federal census, in the year 2000. McCrary reiterated that the township is hesitant to grant licenses to entrepreneurs who don't have established facilities. In that light, only Grannis would truly be eligible, she said. "He has an 11-year lease," she noted.

"Why should we still be holding them then," she said. "It's going to take these other facilities a year or more to get on line — and we'll have more licenses in 2000."

In other board action:

- Travis reported a recent public meeting on Parks and Recreation's updated master plan had been fruitful, with a variety of input "from 17-year-olds to seniors."

- The board unanimously approved the second reading and adoption to rezone 1.35 acres on Sashabaw, south of Waldon, for the purpose of establishing a coffee house and the relocation of a pipe company.

- A rezoning request from suburban farm residential to rural residential for a proposed horse farm and riding facility on Baldwin Rd. was approved 7-0.

grandfather was the constable out here. My father remembers him picking up warrants at the old justice of the peace house at Church and Buffalo, and passing them out to people in the community."

Joyce says she would like to know more about the earlier occupants. Ironically, when she moved in over the Memorial Day weekend, "This lady turned up and wanted to see it. She said she grew up in here."

In the confusion of moving, with boxes piled up all over, Joyce never caught her name. But, as she led Joyce through the hallways, she gave her a peek into the past.

One story concerned an old closet that once stretched across the top of the staircase. Joyce removed it and found another hidden window.

But in those days, it was a walk-in closet that could be accessed from both upstairs bedrooms. The woman went on to provide a charming tale about how, as a young girl and budding photographer, she had used the closet as a darkroom. She went on to say she and three sisters shared the two bedrooms. But an often-disagreeable sibling was exiled to the second — alone — whenever necessary.

It's always a pleasure to uncover new discoveries, Joyce adds. A walk through the backyard one day revealed what looked like ancient muskrat traps. They disintegrated when touched.

A trip downstairs revealed old doorbell wire strung across the basement walls. It was unusable, and Joyce had to install a new system. She smiles. "We left it here ... I guess, because it's part of the history."

Soccer season ends at hands of Adams

Wolves achieve goal with dramatic 1-0 win over Lakers

1998 Girls Soccer Districts

Rochester Adams	9
Clarkston	0

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston varsity girls soccer coach Brian Fitzgerald was realistic regarding Friday's district final game against Rochester Adams.

He's said all season that his goal for the team was to get to district finals. Thanks to a 1-0 win over West Bloomfield, the Wolves achieved that goal.

Then, the second-ranked team in the state brought Clarkston's season to an end Friday night with a 9-0 win at the CHS field.

Adams, who boasts of two players trying out for the U.S. National team, scored five goals in the first 21 minutes of the game to remove all doubt from the contest.

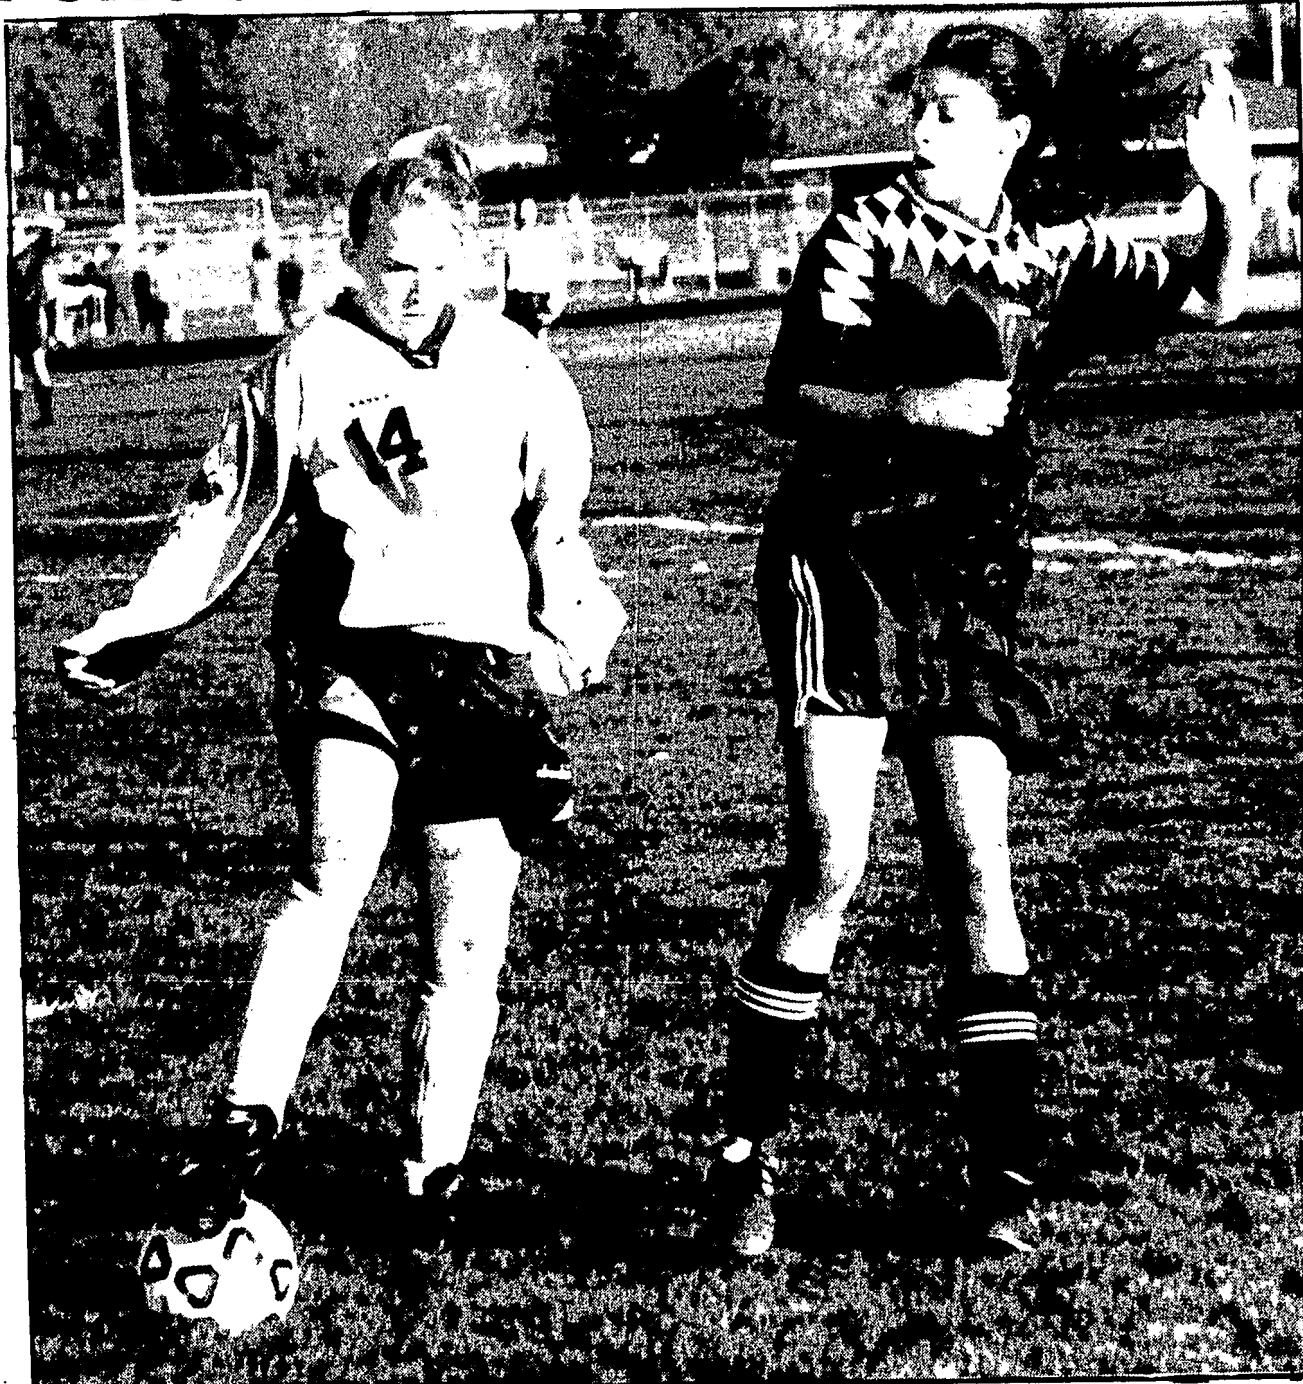

"There just isn't much to say," a disappointed Fitzgerald said. "They can pass and move the ball real well and we didn't do anything about it."

Clarkston's season ended with a 5-12-2 overall record, and 4-8-2 in the OAA Division II.

The high point of the season came in Thursday's district semifinal win over the Lakers, an OAA Division I team. Junior Jennifer Kerney scored the game's only goal on a 20-yard blast off a broken corner kick play.

"We were just all over them right from the start," Fitzgerald said. "Kerney's goal was the best one we've had all year. She just blasted it and put it in a perfect spot where their goalie couldn't get it."

Freshman Sarah Morgan played beyond her years, recording her first solo shutout of her career in her first playoff game. She didn't face many shots, but turned Senior Megan Schroeder fights off a West Bloomfield defender during Thursday's district semifinals at CHS. Schroeder and six other seniors saw their CHS careers come to an end with Friday's loss to No. 2-ranked Rochester Adams in the district finals.

Junior Alaina Dodds moves the ball upfield during the first half of Clarkston's 1-0 win over West Bloomfield Thursday night. Dodds is the team's leading scorer among returners next year.

'We were just all over them right from the start. (Jennifer) Kerney's goal was the best one we've had all year.'

Coach Brian Fitzgerald

away the Lakers on two golden scoring opportunities late in the first half.

Clarkston held control of the game throughout the second, thanks to constant offensive pressure from players like Alaina Dodds, Brooke Petrinich, Sarah Voss and Georgia Senkyr.

Despite the loss, next year's team could be a tough one. The Wolves lose only three senior starters, return both goalkeepers and should receive a number of talented players from this year's solid JV squad, such as Angela Humphreys, Heather Combs and Meg Medina.

Richardson honored at county meet

With enough championships to fill a room and a slew of college track athletes who have come through his program, Friday was Gordie Richardson's day for recognition.

Richardson, the Clarkston girls track coach, was the meet honoree at Friday's Oakland County Track Meet in Hazel Park. He was recognized with a plaque before the start of finals at the meet.

"I was really touched by it," he said. "It's special for me to be known with so many great people. The list of previous honorees is a who's who of Oakland County track."

Richardson's teams have won league titles 14 of the last 15 years and haven't lost a league meet in all that time. This year, nine of his athletes qualified for Saturday's state meet at Bay City Western.

Richardson has also coached varsity volleyball for more than a decade, and serves as the Deserving of recognition

This week marks the last installment of Athlete of the Week for the 1997-98 season. If someone asked me what my number one favorite thing to do each week was, I would say doing the Athlete of the Week.

It gives me a chance to sit down with a coach and student-athlete for a few minutes and get to know them and what they hope to accomplish in their lives.

I've enjoyed doing this feature every week, but there are some very deserving athletes who I was not able to single out this year, mainly because of a lack of available time and space. I'd like to tell you about some of those athletes who deserve this recognition.

Girls basketball: Jenny Bauer. She played on the varsity team for three seasons and was part of the glue that kept the team's experienced and younger players together. Deana Kanipe. She stopped being known as a "transfer student from West Bloomfield" about two days after she started playing for the Wolves. Her combination of speed, quickness, shooting and intensity make her one of the best players in the county next season.

Football: Brad Phalen. In a season many of the players would rather forget, Phalen had one to remember. He was the team's offensive MVP, and broke the 200-yard rushing mark twice. He will take his liquid-style of running to Wayne State University next season. Nate Skipton. A hard-hitting safety, Nate was always one to keep the team together through adverse times. He was very supportive of his friends through his active membership in "The Jungle" and his enthusiasm will be missed.

Boys soccer: Brian McGeough. One of the girls soccer "groupies," Brian played steady all season for the district-champion Wolves. On a team filled with emotional players, Brian kept an even keel and played a major role in that team's success last fall.

Girls tennis: Jenny Claus. Small in size, but big in heart, Jenny kept her teammates believing in themselves throughout the season. She was also one of the most improved players in volleyball, excelling defensively.

Girls cross country: Lissa Lukens. I got to know Lissa's name in my second week on the job when she managed to break her leg at the 1996 state cross country meet at MIS. But she was able to overcome that and had an excellent fall, and will run with the 4x800 relay team at the Class A State Girls Track Meet Saturday at Bay City Western.

Boys cross country: Scott Watson. Injuries kept Scott's senior season from being everything he expected, but you never heard him use it as an excuse. Every time I saw him, he was talking about improving his times and getting better, not his bad wheels.

Boys basketball: Ahdi Dasuqi. A two-year senior on the varsity team, Ahdi was a joy to watch because no matter how much or how little playing time he got, he always went all-out 110 percent. I will always remember him diving on the floor for a loose ball during a 30-point win at Rochester Adams in January.

Volleyball: Kelly Hanna. Kelly, the team's setter, had the toughest job on the team, but improved as the season went along. She played spectacularly in the team's district final win over Waterford Mott, and will attend Oakland University next year. Hope Manuel, the team's other setter, played with passion and heart every time she stepped on the floor. She was also one of the most cheerful people I've been around in my time here, with her bright smile and wealth of tie-dye t-shirts. She's a great girl, even though she's going to Wetsem Michigan University next year!

Hockey: Bill Kalush. Billy had the tough job of accepting a move from center to defense, and gave the team much-needed depth on the blue line. He was one of the top leaders on the regional-champion Wolves and is an outstanding student. D.J. Thomas. You won't hear D.J. excellence on the ice, but you'll see it. He plays much like the Red Wings' Nicklas Lidstrom, just all-around solid.

Wrestling: Aaron Sailor. The fourth-year senior was caught in a numbers game with one of the state's best teams, but Aaron's hard work and leadership were valuable to the team that handed state-champ Rochester Adams its only loss of the season.

Baseball: Jared Thomas. A very gifted player, Jared has provided some memorable moments for Clarkston in its successful season. He's come in with some nice pitching performances and was the team's leading hitter for much of the season.

Softball: Carmen Lund. On a team of - how do I say this politely - loud voices, Carmen's ranks with the best. She always takes the lead in the team's chants and is a very good offensive and defensive player at first for Clarkston.

Girls soccer: Jenny McCue. Another excellent student-athlete, Jenny plays with an intensity that makes it easy to notice her in volleyball and soccer.

Boys tennis: Loren Deacon. Loren was a big part of this team's season-long improvement, all the way through the league meet. With the team losing its No. 1 singles player again next year, Loren will be a key member of next year's squad.

Boys track: Nick Holland. Nick was a key cog in the team's back-to-back OAA II championships and gave the team valuable points in the 110 hurdles. Watch out for this guy in football next fall also. He and his team might just surprise a few people.

Girls track: Heather Brown. Like Scott Watson, injuries kept Heather's senior year from being everything she hoped. Always ready with a smile, Heather takes a strong work ethic and a level head to the University of Toledo. Just one question. If she does well in her science classes, will that make her a Rocket scientist?

Thank all of you for the memories, and to the seniors: best of luck next year and don't be a stranger!

JV softball tops at Walled Lake Central

The Clarkston JV softball team brought home some hardware of its own at the Walled Lake Central Tournament May 16. The JV Wolves took first place, defeating arch-rival Brandon 3-2 in the finals. To celebrate the team's win, coach Mike Prudhomme made good on a bet he had with the team and got his left ear pierced. He said he was a little embarrassed by it, but it was worth it since the team won. The team stood at 24-8 overall after the tournament. Team members are: (not pictured) Tracey Honey, Lisa Ferguson, (pictured) Tiffany DeClerk, Nicole Thrift, Megan Hodges, Kathy Kopec, Ashley Perna, Sara Mohney, Kristin Falck, Lindsay Talbot, Lindsey Prudhomme, Hanna Serra, Ann Underwood, Kiley Banycky and Lindsey McCleary.

Female Athlete of the Week: Latisha Hawley

Salut, Latisha: On a team as successful as the Clarkston girls track team, you have the veteran leaders, unsung heroes, and athletes who fill in the gaps. Senior Latisha Hawley fills all of those roles for the 1998 OAA Division II champions. Latisha, a four-year veteran of the program, has been the team's best thrower this season. She improved throughout the season enough to break the 30-foot barrier in the shot put and the 100-foot mark in the discus throw. Her best in the discus was a toss of 104 feet, 6 inches in the team's win over Waterford Mott. A 3.2 student, Latisha hopes to get into special education, and has a job already lined up working with elementary schools in the areas, as well as taking classes at Oakland Community College.

Latisha Hawley

Coach Gordie Richardson on Latisha: "Latisha has let our younger throwers know that there's a tradition here that they have to live up to in the future. She's been very good with the other kids and has been a good mentor for them. She has been everything we've wanted her to be as an athlete in our program."

Latisha on Latisha: "The most fun for me has been competing and improving. I remember when I was a freshman and I just couldn't do much of anything. But I kept working and got better each year. Discus is hard to get into because you can't muscle it. There's a lot of technique involved."

CHS to host retirement party for departing coaches

Four coaches with a total of nearly 100 years experience between them will be honored next week for their service.

Dick Swartout, Gina Shore, Roy "Pops" Warner, and Jim Chamberlain will all be honored for their service to Clarkston High School athletics Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. at the CHS Media Center.

All four will retire at the end of the school year from coaching their respective teams; Swartout, boys tennis, Shore, varsity pom pon, Warner, varsity baseball, and Chamberlain, boys golf.

This group of coaches leaves CHS with quite a few accomplishments under their collective belts. Warner was an assistant on the 1976 baseball team that won the state championship. Chamberlain guided the golfers to a state title in 1994, and Shore was at the helm of the 1997-98 pom pon squad, winners of two team state titles, the most successful such group in school history. Swartout also guided several individuals and doubles teams to regional championships and state tournaments in his 29 years as coach.

Male Athlete of the Week: Jon Burklow

Salut, Jon: A silent but deadly distance runner for the boys track team, senior Jon Burklow is gearing up for the biggest meet of his life this weekend. Jon shrugged off the hot and hazy conditions at regionals and qualified in the open 800 meter run and was part of the regional champion 4x800 relay squad with Matt Baker, Brett Quantz and Kevin Breen. Jon has been a key part of Clarkston's deep and successful corps of distance runners this season. In addition to the regional hardware, Burklow helped the 4x800 relay team to the league title with a time of 8:35. The team's first place mark was just what it needed to edge Lake Orion 128-123 to win its second straight league title. As focused as Jon has been on the track, he carries that over into the classroom as well. He carries a 3.5 grade point average and will attend Northwood University in the fall and major in automotive aftermarkets.

Coach Walt Wyniemko on Jon: "Our seniors play a key role for us, and Jon in the open 800 and 4x800 has filled those roles. He is a very hard worker and is a no-nonsense type of guy. I also like that he's a very strong competitor and hates to lose. He leads for us, but he's a doer, not a talker."

Jon on Jon: "This year, I've just tried to let our sophomores know that they have a lot of ability and have a lot going for them. Being in states is a great accomplishment, and I anticipate we'll all run PRs (personal records). The competition will bring out the best in us."

Venegoni sets new mark at county meet

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

All season, senior Marc Venegoni has been trying to break the 21-foot barrier in the long jump. He's jumped just a hair over 21 feet a couple of times, but never to his satisfaction.

At Friday's Oakland County Meet at Hazel Park, he burst through that barrier.

He jumped 21 feet, 5 1/4 inches, the best of his career, to take second place behind Toddree Turner of Bloomfield Hills Lahser, who beat him by an inch.

Venegoni and Clarkston's strong group of distance runners helped the team to a fifth-place finish at the meet with 38 points. As expected, Pontiac Northern won the meet going away with 87 points. Lakeland, Rochester and Walled Lake Central followed.

Coach Walt Wyniemko said he was happy with the team's performance, placing so high in such a tough meet.

"We went out there against some real tough competition and ran some of our best times," he said. "It was a tough meet, a good challenge for our guys, and they responded well."

The Wolves showed their might in the 4x800 relay with a third-place finish at 8:07.5, four seconds behind state-favorite Lakeland.

Senior Curt Brewer capped his four-year career with a career run in the 300 hurdles, taking fourth at 41.3 seconds, by far the best he's ever had.

"He's been gearing for a run like that," Wyniemko said. "He's been trying to get that time down all season, and he's been frustrated. But Friday, he went after it and that's what it's all about."

Also scoring for the Wolves were sophomores

David Sage and Kevin Breen, in the two mile and 800 runs respectively.

With the county, league and all other meets done, now the team's attention turns to those heading to states Saturday. Wyniemko said the team's objectives are only to run their best, regardless of the competition.

"Everyone knows where they stand time-wise at states," he said. "Our real objective is to give it our best shot. If we go up there, give our best times, that's all I can ask for."

Wyniemko said this year has been special for him for a couple of reasons. It was the last season run at the current high school track, and the team won back-to-back league titles for the first time in his coaching tenure.

"It's fun that we've had the opportunity to close out the current high school on a winning note," he said. "It's nice that this being the last team to run on that track, and we came out of it with a league championship."

Softball team not looking back; districts Sat.

	Kettering	10-13
	Clarkston	6-3

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Wednesday's doubleheader against Waterford Kettering ended in a very sour note for the varsity softball team, but some sweet tastes of victory could be in the team's future.

Clarkston lost its home finale to the Captains 10-6 and 13-3, dropping the team to 21-13 overall and 10-6 in the OAA Division I.

The Wolves play a previously unscheduled game Thursday against the Oxford Wildcats at Clintonwood Park. The game was added because of an open date, and coach Al Land's desire to get the team some positive momentum going into districts.

After the loss, the team's 15th game in 14 days, Land said the rest over the holiday weekend would do the team some good.

"We need a day or two to regain our focus," he said. "This is still a very good team with a lot of talent, and we can't forget that."

The team that played Kettering did not resemble the group that had played well all year. The Kettering bats pounded Clarkston pitching, and forced the normally sound defense to start committing errors by the bushel.

The Wolves did show a spark in game one, scoring four runs in the bottom of the seventh. Carmen Lund, Corinne McIntyre, Lindsay Simko and Mandie Harrison hit consecutive hits with the team down 10-2. Clarkston had the bases loaded when the third out came, ending an entertaining game.

Senior Carmen Lund knocks out a base hit during Wednesday's doubleheader against Waterford Kettering. Lund's offense at the plate and defense at first base will be key ingredients in Clarkston's chances at districts that start Saturday at Lapeer West.

Season-bests fall for girls at county meet

1998 Boys and Girls Oakland County Meet

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

In its last preparations before Saturday's state track meet, the Clarkston girls track team found time to set a few new standards for itself.

Friday, the team finished fourth overall at the Oakland County Meet in Hazel Park. The Wolves racked up 45 points, two behind third-place Pontiac Northern. Southfield won the meet easily with 90 points, while Novi took second with 74.5 points.

Clarkston coach Gordie Richardson said he was happy with the way the girls ran, especially against top-notch competition like it saw at the meet.

"We ran really well and placed a lot of kids," he said. "Our mile relay team ran a 4:25, which is very good, but they got disqualified."

All of the Clarkston athletes who will run at the state meet also placed at the county meet. The 4x800 relay team took first with a season-best time of 9:38.4, six seconds ahead of Novi. Two members of that team - Megan Plante and Jennifer Rooding - finished 3-4 in the open 800.

Softball districts kick off Sat. at Lapeer West

Clarkston enters district play in its worst slump of the season, losing three in a row, all of them "ugly" losses, according to Land.

"Until the Brandon game, we were playing really well," he said. "This has been as poorly as we've played all year, but hopefully the break will do us some good and we'll come back with the energy we had before."

And what better way to bring some excitement to the team than districts. Clarkston starts its postseason Saturday at Lapeer West High School. The Wolves face the winner of the Lake Orion-Lapeer East game that took place Tuesday, with the Dragons the likely winners of that matchup. The other semifinal pits Grand Blanc and Lapeer West at noon, with the finals set for 2 p.m.

Lake Orion is the toughest team in Clarkston's path right through regionals. The teams the district champion is likely to see include Rochester, Rochester Adams, Waterford Kettering (all in the same district), Romeo, Port Huron Northern and New Baltimore Anchor Bay. Regionals are at Port Huron Saturday, June 6.

Also notching points were freshman Amanda Chicalas, taking third in the 300 hurdles, tying her career-best with a 48.3. She beat that time at the freshman county meet the next day.

Sophomore Brittani Brewer was sixth in the 100 hurdles, checking in at 17.0. Senior Erica Holman blazed to a fourth in the 400 at 1:00.2, and the 4x400 relay team took third with a 4:05.8.

This weekend, the team travels up to Bay City Western High School in Auburn for the Class A State Track Meet. Richardson and the team will travel to Bay City Friday night, enjoy some of the atmosphere, and be ready for a fun day of track Saturday.

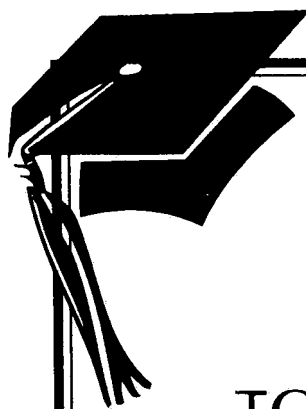

"Our goals are one, to have fun, two, to eat well, and three, to just run and see what happens," he said.

"It's always exciting to see kids compete against the best in the state. Hopefully, we are well-prepared enough to do well whether we place or not. There is so much good competition there, that's all you can hope for."

Richardson said the participants have talked about numerical goals they would like to achieve. The 4x800 relay team would like to get down into the 9:20s, and Holman wants to run a 58.2 in the 400, which would be very close to the school record. Rooding and Plante are the only members of the team who have been to a state track meet in the past.

"The experience all our underclassmen will get from this will be invaluable next year," Richardson said.

Wolves mount big comeback to dethrone Knights

	Clarkston	6
	Kimball	5

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Awards of the most-improved variety are usually reserved for individuals.

But after Friday's comeback win over Royal Oak Kimball, you could make the case that the Clarkston varsity baseball team could be the most improved team in the area.

The Wolves, down early 4-0 to the Knights, never panicked and held off a late rally to win 6-5 at Clintonwood Park. The win improved the Wolves to 16-10-1 overall and 8-9-1 in the OAA Division I. The team plays one last doubleheader, Wednesday at Linden.

Retiring Clarkston coach Roy "Pops" Warner said the game was "scary" to watch, but still fun to see the team win.

"I was more worried about the 4-0 deficit than they were," Warner said about his team. "Earlier in the year, that's a deficit I don't know that we come back from. But now, it doesn't seem like so many runs."

Sophomore Chris Mitchell checks his swing during the team's game against Royal Oak Kimball Friday. Mitchell and his teammates have a legitimate shot at the district championship when competition begins Saturday at Lapeer West.

Assistant coach Phil Price gives Spencer Hynes a pat after his solo home run against Rochester Adams May 18.

The Knights scored in each of the first three innings to take that 4-0 lead. In that time, Clarkston hadn't sent a runner past first base. That would change in the bottom of the third.

Catcher Derek Casper got things going by getting hit by a pitch. In this case, "taking one for the team" was literal, as he scored on a long double by senior Mike Little. Junior Eric Jenks followed up with a sacrifice fly that scored Little to cut the lead in half to 4-2.

After a rocky start, senior pitcher Jared Thomas settled down and dominated the Knights from there. He struck out two and forced four groundballs in his final two innings of work, giving the team a chance to come back on the scoreboard.

The rally continued in the fourth, when Thomas sent a two-run home run over the left-center field fence, scoring sophomore Chris Mitchell to knot the game 4-4.

In the fifth, junior Spencer Hynes got in on the fun with a one-out single that brought home Little to give the Wolves their first lead of the game at 5-4.

Junior Nick Upchurch drove in the game-winning run in the sixth. The score gave Clarkston a 6-4 lead, and seemed like an insurance run until Kimball started a comeback in the top of the seventh.

Senior Josh Clark worked out of a jam where there were two on and one out. He forced an infield flyball and a groundout to end the game.

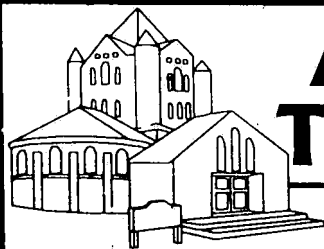

"I wanted to get Josh in for a couple of innings before districts," Warner said. "Jared settled down nicely and gave us a good performance."

Saturday, the team heads up to Lapeer West High School for district play starting at 10 a.m. The Wolves play the winner of the Lake Orion-Lapeer East game, played Tuesday night. The other semifinal pits Grand Blanc and Lapeer West in the noon game. The district finals take place at 2 p.m.

Clarkston enters districts on a nice streak, having won five of its last seven games. Included in that stretch is a 4-4 tie against a very strong Rochester Adams team.

"In districts, we have to play with a lot of momentum, and play every game like it's our last," Warner said.

The district champion advances to regionals at Port Huron Saturday, June 6. The favorites from the other districts in the region include Rochester, Port Huron Northern, Romeo and Utica Eisenhower.

At School

● Brian Balloid, Scott Marlinga, Jayson Weatherington and Kimberly Wicklund, all of Clarkston, all received degrees from Western Michigan University at the end of fall term, 1997.

Balloid received a BS in engineering graphics and design. Marlinga received a BBA in marketing. He is the son of Don and Janice Marlinga. Weatherington received a BBA in integrated supply management. He is the son of Ronald and Sue Weatherington. Wicklund received a BA magna cum laude in Spanish and French.

Kristin Alkire of Clarkston received the Rev. Joseph Dabrowski Award during Orchard Lake St. Mary's College commencement exercises recently. The award goes to the student who best exemplifies the commitment to service and learning portrayed by Fr. Dabrowski, an immigrant Polish priest who founded the college in 1885. Alkire, who graduated summa cum laude with a B. A. degree in English, was lauded for her faith in God and community service. "God is so real in my life that I feel a need to share the love of Christ with other people," she says. A member of Mt. Zion Temple in Clarkston, she fulfills her need by ministering to others: teaching Sunday School, participating in healing prayer and nursing home ministries at her church, and helping family and friends.

Jacob and Kathryn Dearborn

● Mike and Kathy Dearborn of Pipersville, Penn. announce the arrival of their twin children, son Jacob Paul and daughter Kathryn Ann. The two were born Feb. 27, 1998 in Doylestown, Penn. In memory

Perhaps Monday's gray skies were a grim reminder of why we celebrate Memorial Day. The light rain seemed a fitting backdrop for the annual parade through Clarkston and ceremony at Lakeview Cemetery.

People stood solemnly, some under umbrellas, as they listened to a series of patriotic readings and music. Highlights included the reading of the roll of deceased veterans and a 16-gun salute from American Legion Chief Pontiac Post 377.

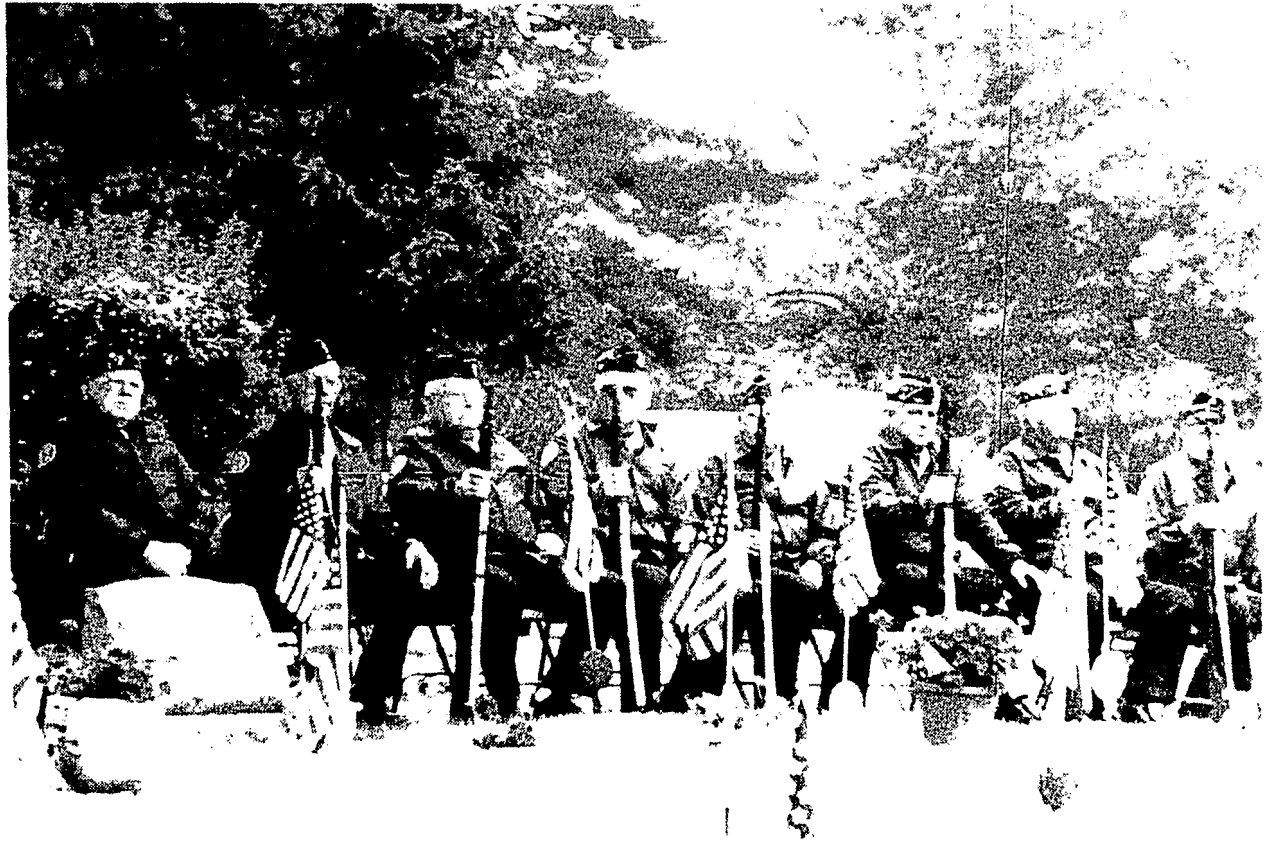

In his speech, Independence Township supervisor Dale Stuart said the number of soldiers who lost their lives in Vietnam equals four times the township's current population.

He said we should remember the soldiers who gave their lives in all past wars, so people today can live "in peace and prosperity."

— By Eileen McCarville

From left, Clarkston High School Marching Band members Mary Ann Treder (trumpet) and Alicia Findora (cornet) join the group in "America the Beautiful."

Members of American Legion Chief Pontiac Post 377 listen quietly as words and music pay tribute to the memories of soldiers.

A tearful John Kosiba kneels at the grave of his father, who fought in World War II. "He put his life on the line," Kosiba said. "He always tried to do the best."

Corey Burson, 2, watches the parade - safely, from under a big umbrella.
