Hope to stop cut-through drivers

Residents voice concerns about school traffic

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

For Ken Aho, living on Snow Apple Drive meant 20 years of quiet evenings, with the occassional residential car slowly moving by.

But the last five years, things have changed. The occassional car has become a steady stream. Soft-drink trucks and semis are no longer an uncommon site. A once-quiet suburban street is now a major cut-through to and from I-75 for all kinds of area drivers.

And residents of Walters Road may have it even worse in a couple of months.

Aho is spearheading an effort to reduce cutthrough traffic along Snow Apple Drive by gathering residents for meetings and getting advice of local lawenforcement agencies.

"This problem has been surfacing for many years,"

Football field damage results in extra security at the new high school

The football field at the new high school received about $1,000 to $2,000 in damage last week in what Clarkston schools superintendent Dr. Al Roberts called a "despicable act."

The Oakland County Sheriffs Department received the report of malicious destruction of property on Monday, June 29. Fifty yards of grass and part of the sprinkler system were damaged, possibly from a vehicle being driven in circles on the field at the site on Flemings Lake Road.

The damage is repairable, said Roberts, and won't delay use of the field for fall sports programs. But, he added, "The person or persons who did this violated the community because this is the community's school and the community's field. Thank God it's not something that will hold us back."

Roberts said as a result of the destruction, additional security measures, which he preferred not to specify, have been put in place.

He added the Clarkston Board of Education will probably discuss the possibility of offering a reward for information leading to the arrest of the persons committing the crime at their next board meeting July 13.

Roberts asked that anyone with information regarding the incident should call the Oakland County Sheriffs Department at 858-4950.

Clarkston celebrates the 4th of July

Downtown M-15 traffic improvements scheduled for completion by fall

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE Clarkston News Staff Writer

They've been a long time coming, but some traffic improvements are in store for roads around Clarkston.

Police Chief Paul Ormiston told city council at its last meeting Michigan Department of Transportation had approved major improvements for several areas long deemed headaches: M-15, north of Clarkston Road to I-75, and the intersection of Dixie Highway and White Lake Road.

"All of this came about when I contacted MDOT," Ormiston said. "We've had issues like the rest of the area with traffic flow. With the creation of development in the area, it's put a greater demand on our roads."

A 1996 traffic study conducted by Traffic Improvement Association of Oakland County showed an average of 56,000 vehicles travel through Clarkston each week.

Ormiston has met several times with MDOT and Road Commission for Oakland County, as well as officials from Independence Township, the City of Clarkston and Clarkston schools. The meetings were designed to discuss traffic issues that impact areas around the city. "The Clarkston Road-Main Street improvements came out of (those meetings)," Ormiston said

Improvements scheduled to take place within the next month are as follows. Ormiston expects minimal impact on traffic flow.

● A left-turn arrow for southbound M-15 traffic (toward town) will provide signalization for drivers making the left-hand turn onto Clarkston Road.

The section of M-15 between Miller and the I-75 overpass will be reconfigured with a center-turn lane, making it easier for drivers to turn left or right into businesses (like Mesquite Creek) on either side.

● Improvements also include reconfiguring M-15, south from Miller to north of the I-75 overpass, as one lane. "It'll stay one lane all the way past I-75, all the way into town past Miller," Ormiston said. The extra lane will allow motorists to enter both northbound and southbound I-75, as well as Bluegrass.

Up to now, drivers have been confused as to who has the right-of-way as they approach town, Ormiston said, because just north of Clarkston Road, the road narrows from two lanes to one. "It's like a funnel. It's not clear about who merges with whom ... At one time, MDOT had the pavement marking telling people to merge to the right and the sign said merge left."

A left-turn arrow for the intersection of White Lake Road and Dixie Highway has also been approved. The arrow is designated for eastbound, White Lake

Meet the candidates

Get to know the candidates runing for government office in the August 4 primary. Upcoming forums include:

July 9, Meet the Candidates at the old township hall 486 Mill St., Ortonville, at 7:30 p.m. Attending are candidates for County Commission District #1, and House of Representatives District #46.

July 15, Candidates Night at the Independence Township Library, 6495 Clarkston Rd. at 7 p.m. Meet candidates for State Senate District #16 and State House District #46.

Teen Camp schedules free car wash

Traveling down local roads can get your car mighty dirty. Why not take advantage of a free car wash Thursday, July 16, and contribute to a local charity at the same time?

Young campers from Independence Township Parks and Recreation's Teen Camp will conduct a car wash from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the grounds of Pine Knob Elementary School. Although it's free, proceeds from donations will go toward a charity and buy a tree to be planted in Clintonwood Park where Teen Camp is held.

Pine Knob Elementary is located on Sashabaw Road, between Waldon and Maybee roads.

School Board organizational meeting

Major items on the agenda for the next Clarkston School board meeting include the election of officers, setting up the calendar of meetings for the coming year and committee designations.

The meeting is Monday, July 13 at 7 p.m. at the administration office, 6389 Clarkston Rd. Call 625-4402 for more information.

Jazz it up in Depot Park this Friday

Paul Ventimiglia performs jazz music this Friday, July 10, at the second of five free Friday night concerts in Depot Park.

Coming up July 17 is folk music with One Flight Up. Moose and Da Sharks perform 50s music July 24, and 60s and 70s music will be performed by Bobby Lewis and the Crackerjack Band on July 31.

All concerts are from 7 to 9 p.m. Depot Park is located off Main St. (Ortonville Rd.) between Washington and Waldon.

The 19th season of free concerts are sponsored by the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce. For more information or to join the list of donors, call the Chamber at 625-8055.

Indie Jones spoof whirls into Depot

Hollywood might have Harrison Ford. But Clarkston Village Players' Youth Theater has "Hurricane Smith."

So says the brochure hyping this year's production, which debuts Friday, July 17 at 7:30 p.m. It continues its run July 18, 23, 24 and 25 at Depot Theater on White Lake Road in Clarkston.

Billed as a fun-filled spoof mimicking the "Indiana Jones" series, "Hurricane Smith" involves a photojournalist (CHS sophomore Annie Whittington) who investigates the jungle adventures of the title character (CHS junior Keith Chadwick).

The play features monkeys, natives — even a dinner invitation that features Hurricane as the main course. It is appropriate for young children.

The cast includes 35 young people, from ages 11-17, said producer Marlene Sewick. Director Donna Ellis said the annual production, which takes place every summer, is something kids really look forward to.

Many are involved with local theaters such as Lakeland Players and Pontiac Theater IV — but some have no experience at all. This year's kids come from all over, not just Clarkston schools, but from districts that include Walled Lake, Brandon, Waterford, Oxford and Pontiac.

'We have a wealth of talent in the community and they really enjoy it,"

Ellis said. Parents and volunteers are also heavily involved, providing lots of needed services like sewing costumes, set design and chaperones.

Like any theater production, there's a lot happening behind the scenes as well as onstage. Many youngsters are involved with sound, lighting, set design and other important activities.

For example, Pierce Middle School student Chris Vovillia, 13, is drawing and painting a huge golden monkey. A special tool will melt the Styrofoam design into the finished form.

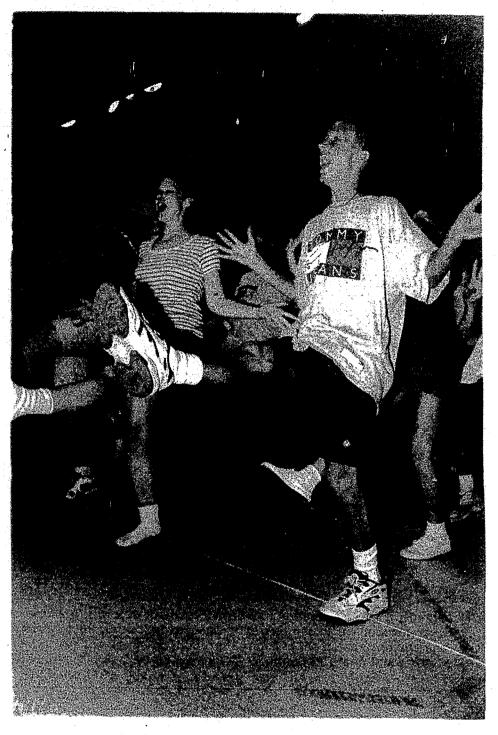

Jamie Fish, an adult Player in charge of sets, said she's amazed at the talent every year. "It's a wonderful outlet for these kids. They blossom into little Broadway stars."

Most times kids get involved in productions because of their theaterminded parents. It was the other way around with CHS freshman Dan Genre. 14, a member of the cast.

In his case, he was the proverbial acting bug that bit dad Leon. "My dad, he got involved in the theater because of me. He did '12 Angry Men' last year."

Tickets for "Hurricane Smith" are $5 each. Proceeds go to the CVP's Peter Rose Scholarship Fund, given to a high school senior each year. For more information, call (248) 625-8811 or 625-

— By Eileen McCarville

The youthful cast rehearses a song-and-dance number.

Foreground, Erin Henderson, 15, works on lighting while James Sommers, 16, mans the sound system.

CHS senior Kelth Chadrick, 17, (right) hams it up as Hurricane Smith as Annie Whittington, 15, a photojournalist smitten with the character, snaps a shot.

Latozas takes the reins at North Sashabaw Elementary

One longtime Clarkston educator was replaced by another as principal at North Sashabaw Elementary School.

George White retired at the end of the 1997-98 school year after many years of service. Taking his place is Debbis Latozas (pronounced lah-toezah), who has 21 years of experience in Clarkston community education.

Latozas has won awards and been part of numerous groups. Most recently, she was named as the Clarkston Foundation Teacher of the Year for her work as Clarkston schools' K-12 mathematics ccordinator.

She has also been a part of the Clarkston Curriculum Council, the district technology advisory committee, school improvement core team for Bailey Lake Elementary, and the Oakland County community forum.

Latozas lives in Lake Orion and has three children. Recently, she sat an educational tool. It can never replace down with reporter Brad Monastiere to discuss what she sees in the future for North Sashabaw and how she incorporates her Clarkston experience into her work as principal of one of its elementary schools.

Q: What is your management

A: "I like people to be able to work with me, not for me. I want to be collaborative and have a motivational and supporting style. This gives the kids the opportunity to do their best."

Q: What does it mean to you to have served with Clarkston schools for so long, and now to become a school principal?

A: "I've been involved with Clarkston schools since 1977, and it's always been a goal of mine to become an administrator. I've taught in every elementary school except Springfield Plains, so I am aware of the kids in this community. I feel all the different jobs I've been a part of in this community definitely give me an advantage."

Q: How do you feel technology has changed education in the last five to 10 years?

A: "Technology has to be used as a living teacher. Technology is a vehicle that can be used to enhance teaching, becoming another opportunity to succeed. You can go anywhere you want to with the Internet. It gives kids the experience of being open to so much information and so wide, it will benefit them more than anyone else. Our challenge as a staff is to utilize it appropriately."

New North Sashabaw Elementary School principal Debbie Latozas.

Q: In your eyes, how has Clarkston changed in the last 20 years?

A: "The support from the community has definitely increased over the years. You can tell that from the support the bond issues have received. The last three phases of that have just been outstanding. There's been a lot of parent volunteering, and you can tell that they're committed to what's happening with the schools."

Q: What excites you about the upcoming school year?

A: "The challenge of this new position. I like the fact that I'm able to affect whole families of people. I'm also excited for all the new construction going

Rowland named principal at Clarkston El

Last month, the Clarkston Board of Education approved the hiring of Charles Rowland III as the new principal at Clarkston Elementary School.

It was the culmination of a career spent in education, with the goal of having his own building now realized. He will be entering his second year with the school district, as he served as an assistant principal at Sashabaw Middle School last year.

Prior to that, Rowland had extensive teaching and leadership experience in the Birmingham and Southfield school districts.

He was an interim principal at Bingham Farms Elementary in the second semester of the 1995-96 school year, and has taught fifth grade, middle school English, geography, and as a special education teacher. He currently resides in Southfield.

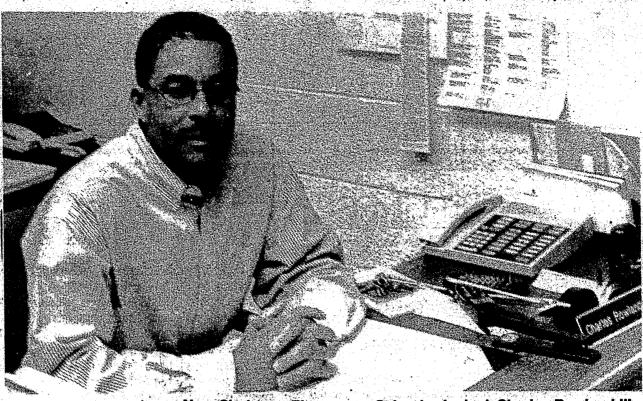

Recently, he sat down with reporter Brad Monastiere to discuss his plans for the upcoming year, how his experience will help him in his current position, and his hopes for the future education of Clarkston students.

Q: What are some of your initial goals as the new principal of Clarkston Elementary?

A: "Well, I haven't met the staff yet, and I'm anxious to do that. What I want to do here is to maintain a positive environment for the kids and the staff to participate in the learning process. Mr. Kehoe did a wonderful job of that, and I want to continue it."

Q: What is your management style?

A: "I believe in the team approach and everyone working for the common good. That is the best environment for the kids, myself and the staff."

New Clarkston Elementary School principal Charles Rowland III

Q: Why was Clarkston appealing to you?

A: "Clarkston is a great area to work in right now. There's a lot happening here, and I wanted to be a part of it. With the recent bonds that have passed, we will be undergoing significant renovations and improvements in technology, and those will represent wonderful opportunities for us. It's an exciting time to be in Clarkston."

Q: How have technological advances changed education?

A: "If our goal as educators is to prepare our students for a global economy, then technology is a big part of everything that we do. The more technology becomes an intregal part of our programs, the more of a chance the kids will have to be successful. Everything we do is affected by technology. The more experience our kids get with it, the more confident they will be to go on to the next level."

Q: How has your prior teaching experience prepared you for the job of prinicpal?

A: "The more varied your experience in teaching is, the better prepared you are to make decisions in the educational process. My varied experience has helped me to become more knowledgeable about more areas of education. It just gives you a wider perspective on how things should work."

Q: What excites you about the upcoming school year?

A: "Schools have so much energy, and I've heard that about this building, and I'm anxious to see what it

The Clarkston News

Last week I heard something cute from Clarkston Police Chief Paul Ormiston. I jokingly asked him if he had to provide backup for the Oakland County Sheriff's Department last Monday at Pine Knob Music Theatre.

The event was "Hanson," the three, fair-haired young brothers who burst to the top of charts with their hyper-cheery hit, "MMMBop."

He chuckled and asked me about "that song 'B Bop." That's "MMMBop" I corrected, laughing because he had obviously stepped back a few decades.

For those of you who don't know, I work parttime as a hostess at Pine Knob Music Theatre.

Hanson was also recently profiled in my weekly column "Knob Notes" before they appeared June 29. I didn't cop an interview with the winsome threesome, as I've been able to with been-there-done-that artists like Eddie Money and Ann (Heart) Wilson.

That's because Hanson is hot, hot, hot. They're as unattainable as the Holy Grail. Getting to them was like trying to talk to Elvis or something.

I've panned them in the past, passing them off as one-hit wonders. Up to now, Hanson has conjured up images of the Ohio Express, the Archies, 1910 Fruit Gum Company and other saccharin-loaded bands who gave us fluff like "Yummy, Yummy," "Sugar, Sugar" and "Chewy, Chewy."

Inhis "Book of Bad Songs," humorist Dave Barry would probably include Hanson in the "bubble gum" category — so named, he says, because people jam giant wads of used bubble gum in their ears to avoid hearing these groups.

I'll have to admit I had pre-conceived notions when I arrived for work and found hundreds of pre-pubescents screaming outside the gates (before the concert even started). I thought I might need a spoonful of medicine to make the sugar go down.

Soon, I was pleasantly surprised. Hanson was playing Motown! They even did a groovy rendition of "Gimme Some Lovin" by Stevie Winwood. As my son would say — they rocked.

Lots of dads and moms were MMMBopping on the hill along with their offspring, who were holding signs like "Hanson Rules" and "Ike, let me be your chick onstage."

The Hansons proved they had talent and a whole lotta soul

Like Ormiston's comment about "B Bop" it brought me waaaayyy back, back to the days when I was just another idol-hungry kid screaming about The Beatles. They had talent too.

I didn't even get to a concert, but got kicked out of the Holland Theater for sitting through three performances of "A Hard Day's Night with my friends (my screaming is what led to the eviction).

My best friend and I walked all the way from junior high school to the downtown area during lunch hour, just so we could buy Beatle bubble-gum (there's that word again) cards. And you should have seen the smug look on my face when my father walked out angrily during the Ed-Sullivan Show.

Years later, I had the opportunity to experience the parental side when I fought to get tickets for New Kids on the Block. We had a life-size poster of "Joe," the toothsome one, hanging on our dining room wall.

A job well done

Hats off to the Clarkston area community for a fabulous 4th of July celebration!

Once again Clarkston's parade can be ranked as one of the state's best. And the dozens of other activities that took place on the fourth, topped off by the fireworks at Clintonwood Park, remind us all of the importance and rewards of community spirit.

Clarkston High School principal Brent Cooley speaks often about the high school community's challenge to remain small while it grows larger.

The communities of Independence and Springfield townships face the same challenge. Continued activities and celebrations like these will help keep our 'small town' flavor while we continue to grow.

Congratulations to the sponsors of the parade, Independence Township Fire Department, the Chamber of Commerce who sponsored the fireworks, Independence Township Parks and Rec and the businesses, civic groups and individuals for their hard work. It was a job well done. MKC

Johnson has integrity

Dear Editor

Voting is a privilege that gives each citizen in this state an opportunity to place his or her chosen representative in office.

When you vote in the primary on August 4, choose a Michigan State Representative who will stand strong and make our community a better place in which to live, work and do business. I urge you to vote for Ruth Johnson.

Johnson has the integrity, energy, and experience to get things done in Lansing. She has a solid record of achievement. She is a no-nonsense, straight talking fighter who can be depended upon to put the interests of North Oakland residents at the top of her agenda. In her ten years as an Oakland County Commissioner Johnson has:

Stopped planned landfills

Led the effort to cut property taxes four times Fought to put more Oakland County Sheriff's

Fought to put more Oakland County deputies on our streets

• Fought for — and won — road improvements

Continued to push hard to improve our education system

Johnson also values the personal concerns of her constituents and, in fact, was instrumental in helping my family cut through bureaucratic red tape in Washington. We are certain she will further the concerns of North Oakland County when she goes to Lansing.

Yours truly, Fred J. Johns Clarkston

Vote for Gallant

Dear Editor,

I am writing in support of Jeff Gallant, who is running in the 46th District for State Representative.

Jeff came walking up my 600-plus foot, snow-covered driveway in Clarkston in January. Anyone who makes it up my driveway automatically has my vote, but he didn't even ask for it until he had the opportunity to tell me what he stands for.

I will vote for him, because I believe he will analyze all legislation thoroughly before he votes, and he will stand up for individual rights and freedom.

Sincerely,
Pamela Boyd
Clarkston

Thanks for joining us

Dear Editor,

On behalf of the newlyweds, Gary and Lisa Kaul, we would like to thank all of our friends and relatives who made the trip to Rogers City, MI for their wedding on June 27. It was a beautiful outdoor wedding at the Old Presque Isle Lighthouse and were very happy that so many of our friends from Clarkston could share this time with us.

Renew library millage

Dear Editor

On August 4, 1998 we have the opportunity to renew our library millage. Please join us in renew og this millage.

Our library needs support. Libraries are one of the many great institutions in our community which serves ourselves, our schools and our children. James A. O'Neill, MD

Gallant is dedicated

Dear Editor,

We want to tell you why we're supporting Republican candidate Jeff Gallant for state representative in the 46th District, which includes Independence, Springfield, and Brandon townships.

Jeff has several qualities that will make him serve us well in Lansing. First, he is dedicated. Since the early months of the year, he has been working on going door-to-door to every home in the district, sharing people's concerns.

Second, he is an individual of principle. He has been recognized for his pro-life stance and has pledged to uphold these convictions in the state house.

Third, he has common sense. Jeff wants to make Michigan's state legislature a part-time institution with part-time compensation instead of the $60,000 a year job current legislators earn now for only 83 days work!

These are just a few of the qualities that have made us decide to vote for Jeff Gallant. And don't forget to vote in the primary election on August 4.

JIM'S JOTTINGS / by Jim Sherman

All is forgiven -- that's politics

By the time you read this President Clinton will have returned from China.

And, by the time you read this you will have been overloaded with accounts of his, Hillary's and Chelsea's trip because 350 reporters and photographers will have gone with them.

It's what has happened in the years before the trip that prompts this column's headline.

As a candidate for president in 1992 Bill Clinton once branded China's leaders as murderers. He repeatedly attacked China's government for killing prodemocracy demonstrators in Tiananmen Square, and lambasted his rival, President George Bush, for continuing to do business with China.

Six years later Clinton goes to China to bolster trade and relations, the same thing President Bush favored, with those he labeled "murders."

Talk about a 360 degree turn? But, that's OK. That's politics.

Polls indicate people believe Clinton is something less than faithful to his wife, that's OK. That's in a politician's genes.

History shows, and we don't have to go back very far in history, that we elect and reelect drunks to political offices.

Same is true with druggies. That's OK. That's Why do we elect and reelect these types? When the ballot has better credentials.

we get in that voting booth do we at the last minute decide our candidate will change? Is cured? Was duped?

I suppose we can be taken in by "political charm."

You know, the charm so many con men have.

Come to think of it, con men and politicians have a lot in common. They make promises and pledges and statements that sound so good.

"When I'm elected I'll see to it all pot holes are filled, that all schools will be made safe. I'll put an end to racism. Let me assure you I will have all unlicensed drivers taken off the roads.

"Elect me and I will return honesty to this office. Elect me and once again people will look to this government as an example of efficiency and compassion ... a government that works for you."

Just words.

Words meant to influence voters, but to be forgotten until the next campaign.

What we voters should be more aware of is that we're often listening to con-men-type politicians. People seem to be willing to say anything to be elected.

We should make moral judgements on those who choose to represent us. If they are drunks and addicts and over-promisers we should not pull their lever in the voting booth.

We can only hope the person on the other side of the ballot has better credentials.

DON'T RUSH ME / by Don Rush

Canines, cats and 'coons

After I penned the column about neighborhood cats and dogs using my garden and yard as their own personal outdoor commode, I knew one thing would happen -- well actually two or three.

One: Cat lovers would waste no time contacting me.

Two: Dog lovers would be too lazy to contact

Three: Since I'm lazy I actually get two columns out of one idea (note to would-be columnists — it is wise to think in advance when a holiday weekend is close at hand).

Here it is Monday morning and the three things I foresaw have come to light. "What, oh great seer of the future? What, dear Dondie has come to light?" I'm sure you're asking.

One: It took just 24 hours for the phone in my office to start ringing — on the end opposite of mine, cat lovers.

Two and Three: It's Monday and still no dog lovers have spoken and here I am pounding on the key board, writing this week's column. I just love it when a plan comes together.

The cat folks that called were nice and to the point. They wanted to make sure I would not trap or shoot the kitty and I assured them I wouldn't. Then, they started with helpful advice. Readers suggested putting "cheap" deodorant soap bars around my garden. The smell would keep the kitty at bay

It was also suggested to put chicken wire down on the dirt where the cat has been digging in and, well you know.

Sue Bellairs called to say, "I'm glad this newspaper is finally taking a stand on something." (Ha, ha, very funny, Sue.)

She also promised to bring her cat, Baby, to the office to meet me. She's certain upon meeting her beloved feline — PWANG — I will be magically transformed into a cat lover. We'll see.

Gail Kersey wanted to let the world know of her plight, that of the unwanted, half-tamed raccoons roaming her neck of the woods.

"I was shaking a box of cat food for my cats and out of the woods ran 10 raccoons. They're half tame, not afraid of people, but still wild. I'm worried for the kids because raccoons can get rabies."

She added that in the past four years they have live-trapped at least 100 critters from their property, "Some skunks and squirrels, but mostly raccoons."

Since March of this year the Kersey's have caught 42 raccoons.

If any reader has any suggestions for Gail, write me at PO Box 108, Oxford, MI 48371.

(Now that Dear Readers was an easy column—and there may be more to come. It's great to be an American!)

But, thank God, most bands like The Beatles, NKOTB and Hanson are pretty good role models.

Although, if my father saw Hanson, like The Beatles, he'd be running for a pair of scissors.

Vote for Pat Woods

Dear Edito

The differences between the candidates in the race for State Representative of our 46th District begin almost immediately when each explains their qualities and experience. With term limits in place, it only makes it even more imperative that our district be represented in Lansing by someone who is not only a proven leader, but most importantly, someone with local township experience.

The only candidate in this race with the experience, knowledge, and leadership necessary to represent us in Lansing is Patricia Woods.

Yours Truly, Nancy Beal, Highland.

Remember Ruth Johnson when it comes time to vote

Dear Editor:

Because of term limits, the Michigan House of Representative will be full of fresh faces next year. Ruth Johnson will be among those running on the Republican ticket for state representative. She has the proven leadership experience that will allow her to hit the ground running, putting the values and interests of north Oakland residents at the top of the agenda.

Ruth is committed to protecting the unique quality of life the North Oakland area provides for our families, whether it be strengthening education, fixing roads, or lowering taxes.

She has strong community roots, living in Oakland County for more than 40 years. During that time she has taught school, run a family business and gained legislative and leadership experience while serving as vice-chairman on the Oakland County Board of Commissioners for five years.

She listens and takes action and has fought for accountability and efficiency in county government while doing an outstanding job of representing the interests of her constituents.

Ruth deserves our vote and we deserve a person of her exceptional ability to represent us. Please remember Ruth Johnson when it comes time to vote.

Support good candidates like Tom Middleton

Dear Editor:

I am writing to support state representative Tom Middleton as our Republican candidate for the 16th District senate seat because I believe that Tom possesses the character and integrity that is badly needed in this very important office. I have known Tom Middleton for many years and am confident that he has the high moral standards and values necessary to be an effective leader.

As a local public official I have worked with Tom for eight years. He is very aware of the problems in northern Oakland County brought on by the tremendous growth in the area. His knowledge of the issues and his proven character are valuable assets to the community. We need to retain his services in Lan-

The electorate should not be satisfied with mediocrity in public office. We need to encourage and support good candidates such as Tom Middleton, whenever they are willing to serve. I urge you to vote for Tom Middleton for the 16th District Senate on Au-

> Sincerely, Joan M. Buser Oakland Twp.

Vote for Pat Woods

Dear Editor:

We write today in support of Patricia Woods as she seeks the Republican nomination for the 46th District State Representative seat. With term limits in place, the district needs someone who understands the issues, unfunded mandates, and ramification of legislation that will effect our home communities.

It is imperative that our district elects a state representative with local experience - a representative who can hit the ground running. Pat Woods is the only candidate with township experience.

Join us in voting for Patricia L. Woods on August 4.

Raguso named magistrate

Longtime attorney glad people have forum for complaints

A long-time area resident and attorney has been named magistrate at the 52-2 District Court on Citation Drive in Independence Township.

Thomas Raguso was appointed in June to fill a vacancy left by the departure of Steve Allen. Raguso joins fellow magistrates Kelley Kostin and Lisa

The magistrates perform weddings, hear civil infractions, minor traffic violations and small claims, one day per week. They are also on 24-hour call to sign. search or arrest warants, said Raguso.

He was appointed by 52-2 District Judge Gerald McNally. Raguso said over the years, McNally had appointed him public defender, and he had received letters of commendation to the court administrator for his work.

His varied law practice has also been an asset. Raguso said he's been practicing law since he was sworn in, in 1966. "I've done almost everything, from murder trials to civil cases."

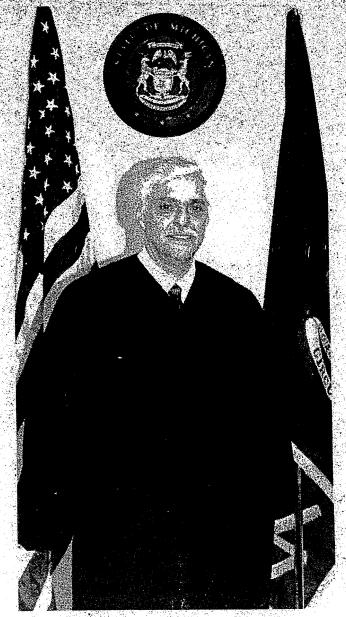

McNally said he appointed Raguso because he is 'conscientious, sympathetic, fair and firm. Tom has a lot of good experience behind him and works well with the public."

His general law practice, located on Main Street in Clarkston since 1990, includes auto accidents, criminal cases, wills, real estate, divorce and family law.

Raguso said training for his new post included reviewing manuals on arraignments and informal hearing procedures, formality of documents and riding in a police car with an officer to see how radar works.

So far he's performed a wedding, heard small claims complaints, issued arrest warrants, and set bond, among other duties. His docket includes about 20 cases in one day.

'I really enjoy it," Raguso said about his new position. "If people feel wronged, at least they have a place to have their complaints heard."

He wasn't retired long

White heads school construction

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE Clarkston News Staff Writer

George White didn't sit in his rocking chair long.
The former North Sashabaw Elementary principal, who retired at the end of the school year after serving the district for 30 years, has a new job with Clarkston schools.

White will work with the district's Phase 3 construction project as head of construction coordinator services, a $57 million project of renovations and additions planned for all six elementaries, both middle schools and the old Clarkston High School. The new elementary school at M-15 and Hubbard is also part of that phase

The construction package was approved through a bond election last year. White's role covers two subphases, or "tiers."

Tierone will provide major additions at Clarkston and North Sashabaw elementaries and the former CHS, set to become the new Clarkston Middle School. The old CHS building will receive a new boiler, rewiring and other updates.

"The building is 38 years old, so it's a matter of bringing the infrastructure to meet the demands of the future," he said.

The two elementaries will be equipped with new media centers, classrooms, discovery/science rooms, art and music facilities and new cafetoriams.

The focus is on "a strong technology component" with voice/video data supplied to all classrooms, White said. This will enable each school to produce its own TV programming, thus hooking up to Clarkston schools' network and those worldwide.

"Let's say there was a special presentation at Andersonville Elementary," White said. "It would be broadcast to any other classroom in Clarkston schools. And it also opens the idea of distance learning, where you can link on with other classrooms anywhere in the world."

For example, kids in Clarkston could hook up with school children in Japan, he said.

Tier one is set to be completed a year from now, by Fall 1999. Tier two completion is targeted for Fall 2000. Those plans call for similar improvements to the remaining elementaries and Sashabaw Middle School, as well as construction of the new elementary school.

White said he will act as a liaison between Clarkston schools and architect Roy French & Associates and construction manager A.J. Etkin. His new post will take some of the heat off the district's business manager, Craig Kahler.

Kahler oversaw Phase 2, the new high school, and has taken Phase 3 under his wing as well. Phase 1, construction of the new Springfield Plains, was headed by deputy superintendent of secondary schools Dr. Mike LaBay.

"He (Kahler) said he's going to get back to number-crunching and the business function and let me handle the construction projects. He's wom many hats during the last several years," White said.

Clarkston schools superintendent Dr. Al Roberts said while White will not be an actual employee of the district, he will act as consultant for the project. Kahler is still in charge.

Roberts agreed White's role will take a big load off Kahler, who has been doing "double-duty" for more than a year. "Nobody could find anyone more loyal than George White to the Clarkston school district," he said. "We feel he's a very, very good fit."

White hinted earlier he probably wouldn't leave the district. He's really looking forward to his new role, which includes conducting final inspections with the architect, construction manager and contractors. He signed the agreement June 26 and starts work August 1.

"Basically, it's exciting for me, being a part of every millage and bond issue campaign over the last 30 years," he said. "It's very exciting for me to be a part of the final completion project, seeing it to fruition — a long-time dream come true."

feels like. I'm excited to get to know our staff and the parents and kids. That's what makes this enjoyable. It's sort of dull in the building right now, but starting in a couple of months, there's never a dull moment."

Q: What do you find rewarding about being in education?

A: "Seeing the youngsters growing and learning. As they get older, they start to become more independent in the learning process, and when you can see it happening, it's very enjoyable. I love the fact that I can play a part in helping the kids get prepared to be successful in life. The better prepared they are, the better off we'll be in the future."

traffic (toward Clarkston) turning left onto Dixie.

Ormiston says he expects improvements to be completed before the new school year starts. But he's hoping for more — including a traffic signal at the southbound exit ramp just north of town.

"Once the improvements on M-15 and I-75 are done, MDOT is going to do another study, to put a signal at the ramp from southbound I-75, just like on the northbound side."

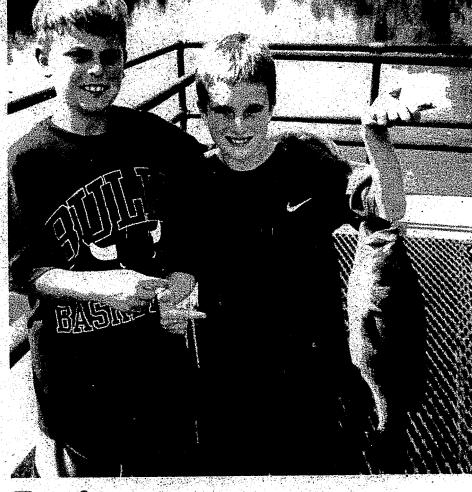

Next, Ormiston says, he will ask MDOT and RCOC for signage in order to create a bypass around Clarkston. The route would be as follows: north on Dixie to south on I-75, then either north or south on M-15.

"If that's approved, I will next Sunday morning."

request approval for elimination of the truck route that currently goes from White Lake and Dixie into town, then onto South Holcomb to Washington and then to Main," Ormiston said.

For years, downtown residents, including those who own historic homes on Main Street, have complained about truck traffic weakening their foundations. The bypass would help alleviate some of that problem, he added.

The improvements will definitely make things easier, Ormiston said, especially for those north of town. "There's a lot of horn-blowing, people arguing on who has the right-of-way," he said, of the Miller-Main area. "We had two men come to blows in the middle of the road while they were on the way to church

After thirteen years of building a successful cartooning career among international colleagues, and establishing his name known for sharp wit and bold style with national readerships, political cartoonist Bill Day, has decided to return to his southern roots.

The Clarkston resident has been with the Detroit Free Press since 1985 and syndicated nationally by Tribune Media Services since 1983, and is recognized as one of the top political cartoonists in the nation.

"I love the city of Detroit and the state of Michigan and I'll miss the wonderful readers who have been with me all these years. The opportunity to return to the South is one that I can't pass up," said Day, who grew up in Lake Mary, Florida.

Bill Day cartoons depict international developments, social crusades, and politicians and their plights in an engaging manner. He takes great pride in his cartoons for social justice.

Day and his wife Susan, along with their three sons, Sam, 4, Robby, 17 months, and Zack, two weeks old, will move to Memphis in early June where Day takes on the position as Editorial Cartoonist for the Memphis Commercial Appeal. Susan will pursue graduate study at the University of Memphis.

Top, members of the 1998-99 Clarkston High School band get in some early marching experience in the parade. Right, the CHS JV cheerleading team brings some more school and community spirit to the event.

The Fields family from Sterling Heights made the trip up to Clarkston just for the parade, they said. Babe the dog also got in on the spirit of the Fourth of July with a red-white-and-blue bandana.

A main feature of the Fourth of July parade was the floats. Top, the Knights of Columbus float. At right, the Bailey Lake Elementary Cub Scouts pack 341 won the award for Best Child's Entry.

Farmington Hills man has finger bitten off in front of party store

Two men who assaulted a 21-year-old man from Farmington Hills have been caught and arrested.

Gregory Donald Lemcool, a 24-year-old from Prescott, and Noah Staft, an 18-year-old from Saginaw, were both arrested and arraigned for aggravated assault, ethnic intimidation stemming from a June 22 incident at a party store near the intersection of Andersonville and White Lake Roads.

The victim had the tip of his left middle finger bitten off during the assault.

According to police reports, the victim was at the store visiting his girlfriend who worked there, and went outside to smoke a cigarette. While he was outside, he noticed two white males standing in the parking lot. They began yelling at him about the Ku Klux Klan and the militia. They then attacked him with beer bottles and a six-pack of beer, hitting him in the head.

Staft was caught outside of a building on White

Lake Road a short time later. He was arrested and lodged in the Oakland County Jail. He was arraigned in front of Magistrate Kostin in 52-2 district court and has a $5,000 cash bond. He also has bench warrants out of the 34th circuit court.

Lemcool was caught a few days later at his home in Prescott, near the Rifle River. Deputies from Oakland and Ogemaw Counties chased him down in the woods behind his house. He was identified by a military ID picture hanging fro his neck.

As a key piece in the Alice in Chains bracelet for the past 11 years, Jerry Cantrell decided it finally was time to sever the link.

The singer-songwriter-guitarist recently struck out with his first solo effort,"Boggy Depot," named for an area around Oklahoma where his father, Jerry Sr. (subject of the Chains' hit "Rooster"), grew up.

The CD features a variety of contrasts, ranging from bouncy rockers ("Keep The Light On") and country-style tracks ("Between"), to jazz-influenced cuts ("Cold Piece") and tuneful ballads ("Settling Down").

Additionally there are some pieces like "Jesus Hands" that echo the eerily beautiful harmonies of the

The CD's first single, "Cut You In," features Cantrell's clear, pleasing tenor and the infectious guitar licks show nothing's been lost in the transformation

"Boggy Depot" won raves in a recent issue of Guitar. "Should it have ever been in question,' Boggy Depot' confirms Cantrell's status as a genuine '90s guitar hero ... what marks this album is the depth of Cantrell's work ... the songs, the arrangements, the singing, and the playing are all equally weighted," writes reviewer Buzz Morison.

Helping out on the album are several veteran musicians, among them Chains drummer Sean Kinney, Primus bassist Les Claypool, Pantera bassist Rex Brown and Fishbone hom player Angelo Moore.

"These are guys that I know very well," Cantrell says in a March issue of Billboard magazine. "And I really dig their playing in their respective bands, so when it came time to jam, I put some calls out and they were all interested."

Cantrell is one of two opening acts for Metallica this Friday and Saturday at Pine Knob.

As a pioneer in the rock-alternative genre, the Seattle-based singer says he's "not scared" to be leaving Alice in Chains, which has a doubtful future. Nor is he worried about the fact that the "Seattle sound" which turned grunge acts like Pearl Jam and Soundgarden into bonifide legends — has kicked back into a regional music scene.

He's got potential. And he knows it. With songwriting hits behind him, like the shimmering "No Excuses," "Would?" and "Down in a Hole," he's confident about the road ahead.

"In a way, it's nice to have the spotlight off of this town," he says about Seattle, in an interview in Guitar. "It was definitely a lot different before the big thing happened, and it was really crazy while it was going on. It was pretty special to be a part of that. But there's a natural evolution. It has to go full circle: to rise, you're going to have to fall and complete the circle again.

"Hopefully you get another shot. Some people get more shots than others."

Nevertheless, fans wonder what's going to happen to the group that might be unplugging itself from rock history forever, especially with frontman Layne Staley's rumoured drug problems.

"Well, Alice has been together for 11 years now, and that's a long time," Cantrell admits. "That's a good run, and we've had a better run than many ... It's just time—it's been time for a while—to grow and do other

He dispels the notion that Alice has gone through the looking glass.

"As far as Alice goes, we're — what's the word? we're on hiatus, I guess. We're not history."

Jerry Cantrell opens for Metallica this Friday and Saturday, July 10 and 11, starting at 6:30 p.m. Days of the New also performs. The first night is sold out; tickets are still available for the second

Oxford Bank Corporation announces dividends

The board of directors of Oxford Bank Corporation, the holding company for Oxford Bank, has declared a semi-annual cash dividend of $0.50 per common share. This dividend will be paid on July 10, 1998, to shareholders of record at the close of business on June 26, 1998.

This dividend is 11.1% more than the cash dividend of $0.45 per share (as adjusted for 640,000 stares outstanding) that the company paid in July, 1997.

Randall G. Fox, chairman, president, and chief executive officer of both the holding company and the bank, announced the board's action and remarked. "We are pleased with the direction of the bank, and the board's action to increase cash dividends reflects its view that the bank will register a strong performance for the first half of 1998."

Oxford Bank Corporation is a registered holding company. Its subsidiary, Oxford Bank, is the oldest commercial bank in Oakland County and operates full-services offices in Oxford, Lake Orion, Oakland Township, Clarkston, Ortonville and Dryden, The bank has operated continuously under local ownership and management since it first opened for business in 1884.

A SENSE OF FINALITY

Once a contract is signed, it is presumed to include all the preceding oral arguments and details that were discussed prior to drafting the formal contract. Under the parole evidence rule," parties are prohibited from returning to the negotiating table to argue that, despite what has been written, certain oral agreements exist that were not included in the final agreement. The rule also save that, if the parties to a contract intend the written agreement to be final for their entire agreement, they cannot use evidence of earlier agreements to add to the contract. Because the parole evidence rule limits parties to the terms of the written conract, it should be reviewed carefully to make sure its terms and conditions are correct.

Snow Apple

Aho said. "It's gotten worse with the growth we've seen in the area the last five to seven years. Snow Apple has become the 'in' cut-through, like Main Street."

Snow Apple Drive is a tight, twisting road that connects Clarkston Road with Waldon, a popular route to get to and from the old Clarkston High School and I-75. With these two major destinations so close together, Aho said Snow Apple has had to endure more than its fair share of through traffic.

"The street is marked with a no thru sign," he said. "Our statistics show that a car goes through here every 45 seconds. There are 43 residences on the street, with one under renovation right now, so you know just from that there's too much traffic."

Aho's efforts began when Independence Township officials decided to close off Almond Lane to prevent through traffic when the new Clarkston High School opens in August. The new school is located on Flemings Lake Road, which lies east of Snow Apple. Almond would have been a popular short cut to get to the new high school, but with it being closed, Aho said he anticipates Snow Apple will once again bear the brunt of this traffic. He added that Snow Apple receives a lot of cut-through traffic to and from the Pine Knob Music Theater also.

"No one has given me a logical reason why Almond Lane should be closed and not Snow Apple," he said. "If they decided not to close Almond, I wouldn't have a problem. But they did, and I'd like to know why Almond was closed and we weren't."

Aho said he is attempting to raise money among the street residents for a retainer for an attorney to pursue possible legal action into the matter.

Although not happy about his situation, Aho recognized that Walters Road would likely see the biggest increase in traffic, mainly because the high school's bus routes run through that road.

"If (the township) close off Snow Apple, the people on Walters Road will have a fit," he said. "I feel sorry for those people over there."

Debbie Clement is a resident of Walters Road. While she was pleased that the road would be paved to accomodate all the new traffic, she said it was going to come at the sacrifice of part of her yard and some trees along the road.

"I have huge concerns about the road here," she said. "The road commission is going to have to cut into our yard about eight feet, and we're going to lose some beautiful trees because of the deceleration lane that has to go in."

Walters Road runs north and south and is the closest connecting road between Waldon and Flemings Lake Roads. Walters figures to have much of the incoming and outgoing school traffic including buses.

"I leave for work at the same time the buses will be coming through here," she said. "The school has been a very good neighbor to us. They're making a good effort to make this as easy on everyone as possible by paving the road and not assessing us for it."

"I honestly believe that what I'm doing is right," Aho said. "I'm not causing trouble for anyone, and if people knew what was going on here, we would get some positive action going on. If this road gets closed off, it would solve everything."

Local spots have the answer to summer boredom

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE Clarkston News Staff Writer

Looking for interesting and unusual activities to keep your kids occupied for the rest of the summer?

Independence Township has lots of ideas to keep children busy, from arts and crafts and special events to parks, beaches, camping and more.

School's been out for just a few short weeks but, so far, John Guest and David Dik say their summer's been pretty cool — despite the temperatures.

"We go to a day camp," said John, an earnest 8year-old, as he swings on a glider at the Bay Court Park playscape. "It's fun."

Both boys are spending the week in a variety of activities, including crafts, nature lore, and that daily refreshing swim at the beach.

• Swimming lessons: Lessons are offered at both Deer Lake and Bay Court Park beaches, for little ones to teenagers. Several sessions are still available.

Sports activities include in-line skating, soccer, tennis, track and field, football, tumbling, hockey, karate, baseball camps and clinics, basketball tournaments, a golf league and a junior golf clinic,

Bowling activities include Cosmic Bowling (glow-in-the-dark bowling with music and lights), doubles bowling and Pee Wee Bumper Bowling, for kids ages 3-6, at Cherry Hill Lanes. # Learn a new sport; cool off with scuba diving

When it comes to beating the oppressive summer heat, water is your ally.

You can take a shower, a dip in the pool or stage a water balloon fight. But one Lake Orion business uses the water in a much different way.

Diver's Den, located at 604 S. Lapeer Rd., offers wide-ranging diving instruction and holds its classes at many different area lakes, including some in Clarkston.

"We teach all the basic skills through our classes, with an emphasis on safety," said owner David Lohr. "We also have a diving club twice a month on Wednesdays, and we use places like Parke Lake and Maceday Lake for those in the Clarkston area. Those are very nice and clean lakes, great for visibilty when diving."

Lohr said scuba diving is an activity that's not limited to age, sex or ability. All you need is the right equipment and a desire to have fun.

"We have people in our classes from ages 12 to 70,"Lohr said. "It's something everyone can enjoy, and you don't have to get anything renewed every year."

Through the club and classes he offers, Lohr takes people on general exploration around some of the area lakes.

Area residents can take classes on scuba diving through the Diver's Den, located on Lapeer Road in Lake Orion.

Safe summertime food tips for hot-weather cooking

"Warm weather is upon us. Cooking out and picnicking are favorite summer activities," says Sylvia Treitman, Home Economist for the MSU Extension, Oakland County. "When you take food on the road, however, certain precautions are necessary to keep your food safe." Tips:

• Pack perishable food in a well insulated cooler and use lots of ice.

Freeze everything possible before packing (meats, water, juice packs, etc.)

Store cooler in shade, but not in the car. Keep cooler closed as much as possible to maintain cold temperature.

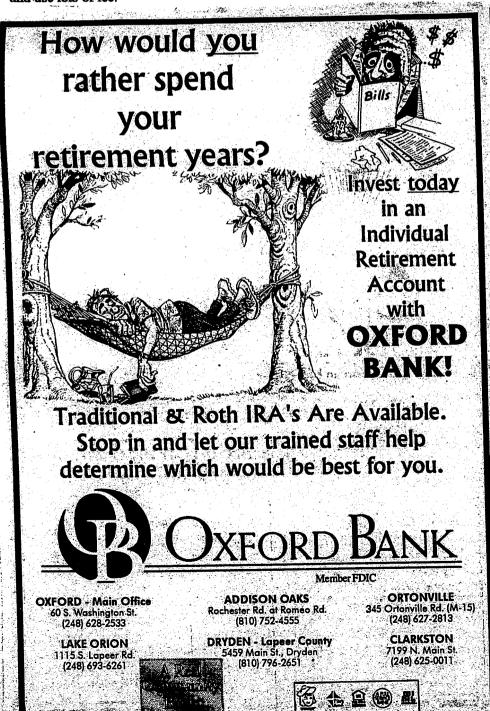

Wash hands for 20 seconds with soap and water before handling food. Best steps to prevent food borne illness - always wash before and after handling raw leats and before eating

Perishable leftovers are safe to it if -

Food is not out of cooler for more than 1 hour.
 Ice is still in the cooler after you return home.

2) Ice is still in the cooler after you return none Remember when in doubt throw it out.

Call the Food and Nutrition Hotline for all your food and nutrition, food safety and food preservation questions 858-0904.

The Palace, Frankenmuth, and a visit to the state capitol coordinated with a Lansing Lugnuts baseball game. Whirly ball and laser tag are also part of the fare.

Kids will also be involved in some community enhancement activities, such as planting flowers in parks and charity car washes. One car wash is already scheduled for July 16 at Pine Knob Elementary School, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. It's free but donations will go to alocal charity and buy a tree to be planted in Clinton wood Park

Keeping teens busy — and entertained — is important, notes camp director Mike Stefanski, a teacher at Sashabaw Middle School. Any student attending middle school this fall is eligible for Teen Camp.

"I think it's an age where kids are maturing. They're not little kids anymore or adults. It's a very important age. And, I think, the more we can offer kids to do than staying home and watching TV is healthy. We have a variety of activities to keep their summer full."

Call Parks and Rec. at 625-8223 for more information. (Note: Deer Lake Athletic Club, at 625-8686, also has swim programs, including swim teams.)

Independence Oaks County Park

If you think your local county park is just beaches and trails, read on:

• "The Ban-Joes" musical group combines the sound of 12 banjos in old-time tunes and singalongs (Aug.19).

• Get away from bugging Mom and Dad and bug your six-legged friends instead. Insectorama includes make-and-take bug collectors, live insect displays, bug Olympics, tips on bug rearing and more (August 8).

● A Garden Tea Party in the Jean Rubach Sensory Garden includes "tea," crafts, puppet shows, Irish music, etc. (July 19)

 Summer Star Party/Meteor Madness features the Perseid meteor shower and seasonal constellations viewed through telescopes (not suitable for preschoolers/weather-permitting Aug. 15).

• Junior Naturalist/Fishing is for kids ages 9-13. They'll learn some basics about fishing, in addition to fish biology, other aquatic life and their place in Crooked Lake's food chain (June 17-19).

● Eco-Explorers; Discover Nature's Music Makers is for children ages 6-8. Each session includes demonstrations, experiments, crafts, games and snacks that relate to sounds in nature (Aug. 5-7). Call 625-6473 for more information.

Clarkston Christian Association (CCA)

Located at the corner of Sashabaw and Maybee roads, the Mt. Zion Temple-run youth club has some great activities planned for the summer.

● In-line skating is offered for middle-schoolers several days of the week, as well as skateboarding, pool and arcade games.

• A coffee house for young adults from 18 to older on Friday nights includes live entertainment, billiards, arcade games and movies on the big-screen TV

• A variety of children's dance classes are held at CCA.

● CCA and Clarkston Community Task Force for Youth have collaborated on a free Summer Recreational Workshop on T'ai Chi, an ancient Chinese system designed for wellness and self-defense. The non-combative slow-motion form of martial arts, offered for youth 14-16 and their families, focuses on balance, form, posture, concentration, flexibility and skill-building.

This summer CCA also plans to open outdoor skating in the parking lot, which should be starting within the next week, according to Laura Niewoit, director.

"So kids can come out here if they don't have anything to do." she said. Call CCA at 620-4900 for more information.

David Dik, 7, and John Guest, 8, enjoy the playscape in Bay Court Park.

Independence Township Library

If you think the library is only about books, you'd be surprised. So far, summer activities for kids include outdoor water games, an in-line skating program (outside, in the parking lot) and a special effects workshop where kids get to apply "monster makeup" and reinvent themselves as aliens, Godzilla or other creepy critters.

Young adult librarian Julie Meredith is excited about the goings on, which also include turning a former study room into a teen lounge. A recently established Teen Advisory team composed of teens from grade 7 and up is working on that, as well as improving the young adult section with books, magazines and other items. Team members will also have a voice in choosing their own programs.

Meredithis looking formore volunteers. Applications are available at the library.

Here's a run-down of other summer fun (Call the library at 625-2212 for more details):

• Making pizza from scratch: an enthusiastic hit, Meredith notes, "because kids get to create their own; some make little faces on them."

• A day of T-shirt designs, using a variety of techniques which include tie dye, fabric paint, markers, iron-ons, etc.

● A "dino-mite" summer of Storytime for little ones age 3 to 5 runs from June 15-August 5, at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. This year stheme is "PREhiSTORYTIME" with tickets, take-homes, dinosaur stories, puppets, songs and more. New kindergarteners are included.

A special event takes place during regular Storytime on Sept. 16. Called Startime, it will acquaint children with the stars, the moon and other sky phenomona through stories and music.

● CAMP READ is a summer reading club for kids from grades 1-5. It takes place Thursdays from June 25-August 6. Dino-Diggers (grades 1-3) meet 10:30-noon; Stego-Stompers meet from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.

Jenna Ehde, 7, makes fingerprints at Bay Court Park.

Most of the above are described in more detail in Parks and Rec's 1998 Summer Activity Brochure. But don't forget that family fun is also a fun and important addition to children's summer schedules.

And don't forget the simple things — ice cream cones, bicycling, walking and picnicking in your own back yard.

"There are all kinds of opportunities to explore different lakes in this area," he said. "You've got Loon Lake, and then we always go to the St. Clair River by Port Huron. It's so clear up there, and you can see tons of fish. It makes it just that much more fun."

Lohr said his diving classes run year round, with sessions during the day, at night, and on the weekends through the summer. Nearly 400 people sign up for classes through Diver's Den each year, and the store celebrated its 20th anniversary last year.

"Scuba diying is a great way to travel to different places without having to leave your hometown," Lohr

Detroit Edison expects hot summer; gives tips on how to keep cool

The effects of El Nino are expected to bring a hot summer and a high demand for electricity in Southeastern Michigan, but Detroit Edison says customers can keep cool and control their energy costs by following some energy-saving tips.

Closing blinds, shades and draperies keeps the sun out and helps fans and air conditioners cool more efficiently. If you use a window fan, make sure draperies are secured for better air circulation and safety.

Set the thermostat for the central air conditioner at the highest comfortable setting, but when leaving for five hours or more, raise the setting five to 10 degrees Raising the temperature just two degrees will reduce cooling costs by 5 percent.

Refrigerators work harder to keep food cold in warm weather. If you have an extra refrigerator in your garage, consider unplugging it or using it only when necessary. A refrigerator in an uncooled space uses more energy.

Insulation not only keeps cold winds outside but also prevents warm outside air from entering spaces you cool in the summer Check weather-stripping and caulking around doors and windows, and close storm windows and doors to keep hot air out and cold air in.

Other tips include:

• Regular maintenance will help air conditioners last longer and work better. But before doing any maintenance work, remember to disconnect the electrical power. Keep the outside of air conditioners free of dust and debris, clean fan blades annually and clean or change air filters every 90 days during the cooling season. Seal any leaks in air ducts and basement registers.

When using a window air conditioner, close doors leading to uncooled parts of your home for more efficient cooling. Eliminate air leaks between the air conditioner and the window with foam insulation or weather-stripping.

• If you use fans for cooling, blades should rotate clockwise in the summer months. Most ceiling fans have a switch that controls the direction of the blades. Use fans to draw cooler air inside during the night and circulate air during the day.

Control humidity in your home by doing chores that produce moisture - like dish washing and laundry - early in the morning or late in the evening.

• On hot days, minimize the use of appliances that generate heat such as stoves and clothes dryers.

Detroit Edison customers use more energy in the summer months than during other times of the year. Detroit Edison encourages customers who foresee bill-payment problems to contact the utility at 1-800-477-4747. The utility will help customers make payment arrangements and may be able to direct low-income customers to sources of bill-paying assistance.

Michigan Rams win diamond title at Shores/ Gator Classic

The Michigan Rams 17-year-old baseball team went 5-1 in the inaugural 17/18-year-old Shores/Gator Classic in St. Clair Shores, and defeated Tennessee Sausage 3-2 in the championship game to win the tournament.

Mike Ciulis (DeLaSalle) pitched a six-hit gem for the Rams in the championship game. With the score tied 2-2 in the bottom of the seventh inning, Chris Mitchell led off with a lined single to center. Justin Robinson (Rochester) laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt to move Mitchell to second.

George Maroulitsas (Lamphere) and Matt Mitchell (DeLaSalle) each walked (Maroulitsas intentionally). Tim Clouse then singled with a drawn infield to score the game winning run for the Rams.

John Drallos (Clarkston) and Steve Seargeant (L. Orion) each had a double, single and RBI in the championship game.

In other tournament action, the Rams pitching staff was outstanding as Eric Jenks, Spencer Hynes and Chris Mitchell (Clarkston), Jason Pawlak and Mike Ciulis (DeLaSalle) and Brad McCloskey (Brother Rice) all pitched complete games.

Not one pitcher allowed over two earned runs or over six hits in any of the games.

Offensively it was a different story, as the Rams outscored tough opponents 52-16 with 58 hits in the 6 games of the tournament.

Leading the way, Eric Jenks (7 hits/1 HR/6 RBI), Matt Mitchell (7 hits/6 RBI), Chris Mitchell (7 hits/4 RBD, John Drallos (6 hits/6 RBI), Spencer Hynes (5 hits/1 HR/4 RBI), while Tim Clouse, Steve Seargeant and Mike Ciulis (HR) also had 5 hits.

Brad McCloskey had four hits as did George Maroulitsas and Justin Robinson. Maroulitsas and Robinson did an outstanding job catching the entire weekend.

In league action at Oakland University last week. the Rams gave Livonia Travel its first loss of the season 9-8. With Livonia ahead in the sixth inning 8-7, Tim Clouse beat out an infield single, then with 2 outs, John Drallos hit a curve ball over the left center field fence to give the Rams the victory.

Jason Pawlak and Matt Mitchell shared the pitching and limited the Livonia teams' offense to 7 hits.

Great Lakes - great fish! Many of us enjoy fishing on the Great Lakes and enjoying our catch at the dinner table as well. It is important to know which fish are safe to eat, for which members of the family, and in what quantity and frequency to make sure eating fish is delicious and safe.

Michigan has had a fish advisory program since 1970 when many chemicals were banned after fish showed high levels of contamination. While chemical contamination of Great Lakes fish is far below the original level, it is critical to know which fish may be dangerous particularly to women and children and how to cook fish to make it the safest for everyone. For a copy of the Michigan Fish Advisory, call 1-800-648-6942 or view it on the Internet at:

www.mdch.state.mi.us/pha/fish/index

Summer league tours

In pro sports, the top athletes are fond of saying that their improvement does not come during their seasons, but in the offseason.

The offseason gives them a chance to improve their conditioning, get a perspective on their games, their team and where they fit into the big picture.

Two high school varsity teams are taking advantage of these endless July days and evenings to do just what those pros do. The varsity girls basketball team, coached by Ann Lowney, is in the middle of a five-date summer scrimmage schedule with some of the top high school programs in the state.

In addition, the hockey team is taking part in a seven-team summer league out of Royal Oak's Lindell Arena, next to Kimball High School. Jack Leech and Mark Postal are coaching the Wolves until new, permanent coaches are hired later this month.

Both of these leagues feature some of the top programs in the state and are indicative of these teams' willingness to put in the work to be counted among those elite teams.

Basketball

Last week, I had the chance to watch Lowney and the Wolves compete in scrimmages against a who'swho of girls basketball in the state: 1996 state champion Birmingham Marian. 1996 state runner-up Howell. Perennial county power Farmington Hills Harrison. And an always tough squad from Madison Heights Bishop Foley, also a 1998 opponent for Clarkston.

Watching Lowney pace up and down the sidelines yelling instruction and encouragement, you'd never know this was basically a glorified practice for her team. She understands that this is the best environment for her younger players to learn, at least better than one played in a stuffy gym in Rochester with throngs of fans yelling with less than a minute left and the score tied.

The big thing for us is playing against the top teams in the state," Lowney said. "Our kids think they're good, and after we play teams like Canton, Marian and (Flint) Powers, we realize how far we really have to go.'

Lowney has taken a smart approach with these scrimmages. She splits playing time pretty close down the middle between starters and younger, less experienced players. She has even mixed lineups here and there, playing starters like Candace Morgan and Lori Wild with JV players from a year ago like Mercedes Combs and Sarah Morgan.

It's hard to accurately gauge these summer games into what could happen in the fall, but I really like what I see in this team. The players have responded to Lowney's constant coaching, and when the effort is there, they blow away their opponents. By my semiaccurate count, Clarkston has defeated Harrison and Howell, with narrow losses to Bishop Foley and Marian. In a scrimmage with Rochester Adams, Lowney put an all-JV team on the court for the last 15 seconds in a twopoint game, giving them the invaluable experience of playing under pressure. Those situations, while the team may not always come out on top, will be excellent learning tools for them and make them better players in the future.

The players on the team truly believe they're destined for great things this fall, and I don't doubt it for a second.

Hockey

This is a team that's endured more than its fair share of turmoil in its up-and-down two year existence.

Between player discipline issues, cheap shots delivered from other teams like Grand Blanc, a regional championship and the dismissal of coaches Rick Rowden and Glenn MacDonald, it's been quite a ride for these Wolves through their two seasons.

Heading into its third season, the team may have its best collection of talent yet. The team could have 18 returning players next season. Along with newcomers like Ryan MacKinnon, a transfer student from Texas, and freshmen like goaltender Adam Rath and forward Adam Postal, Clarkston has a chance to be among the top two or three teams in the state in the 1998-99

Jack Leech and Mark Postal, both of whom have extensive coaching experience in the past, have temporarily taken the reins of the team through the summer league, matching up with top programs like Birmingham Brother Rice, Livonia Stevenson and Royal Oak.

The Wolves' success this season will hinge on who comes in as coach. If this person can install a little more discipline and defense, this team could be unbeatable. Another factor will be the health of senior Ronnie Wells. He's recovering from a broken ankle, and should he heal in time for the season, will give the team a big presence on defense, its most pressing need. With Wells, the team would be complete and ready for a run at the high school Stanley Cup.

Clarkston's 18 and under American Legion baseball team participated in the Grand Ledge tournament over the 4th of July holiday weekend and ended up with a 1-3 record. Even though their tournament record was disappointing, the team played some good baseball and was only one game away from playing in the championship round.

Grand Ledge's Gorman Field is ranked as one of the top five high school fields in the Midwest. A picturesque backdrop of colorful outfield signs rimmed the ballpark that was located in a sunken corner of the high school grounds. Family and friends watched the excitement from a wooden deck area built up behind homeplate as the action unfolded down below.

In the first game, Clarkston faced a tough pitcher from Mt. Pleasant who mixed up his pitches well and they lost 6-0. Travis Boyd had a solid effort in the loss and Jeff Oliver, Adam Leech and Nate Jerdon had the only hits.

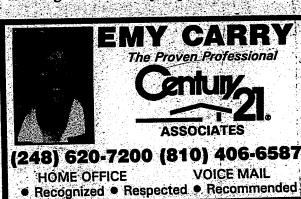

In the second game victory, Phil Johnston went the distance in one of his best outings of the year, winning 8-3 against the host Grand Ledge team. Hitters again including Oliver (2 for 3), Leech (2 for 3) and Jerdon (3 for 4), Adam Petrulis also had two hits, both doubles. Johnston pitched a four-hitter with seven

The third game was a heartbreaking loss to
