

Firefighters agree to five-year Independence Township contract

Negotiations between the Charter Township of Independence and the Independence Township firefighters resulted in the approval of a new five-year contract retroactive January 1, 1997.

Tuesday night's special closed session negotiations at Mesquite Creek restaurant cumulated in a unanimous vote of approval by the board, but not without misgivings.

"This contract may be too generous," said Trustee Neil Wallace. "I don't like being held hostage by the fire service."

Although terms of the agreement were not discussed in open session, Wallace did say the new contract included an increase in benefits and compensation for the firefighters. Fire Chief Gar Wilson and attorneys for both sides declined comment as of press time.

OPA! gets next liquor license

Sportsplex application tabled

By Genna Cottrell
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Bill Grannis was the lucky winner last Tuesday in the Independence Township liquor license race, and Kelly Kammer and Jack Leech's proposed Sportsplex development will remain high and dry pending further board review.

The board unanimously voted to table Kammer and Leech's request "indefinitely" until evidence could be presented to the board that solid funding for the project is garnered and the Sportsplex project will become a reality.

The board tabled the request because of requirements in the Township's newly adopted liquor license policy. The policy requires that applicants are in business or nearly so.

Although several board members expressed overall support for the proposed sports complex, Kammer's and Leech's lack of solid financial and architectural plans at this time prevented them from granting approval for the license.

"I'm not comfortable issuing a license on a project that is not yet underway," said Trustee Jeff McGee.

Trustee Larry Rosso echoed similar sentiments. "I am hesitant to vote in support of a license at this time," he said. "But I hope there is a reality to your optimism."

Instead of denying Kammer and Leech's application, the board voted to allow the Sportsplex developers to return when final plans are closer to reality. Trustees also agreed to formally notify Kammer

City cuts down on truck traffic

Eliminating truck route possible

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

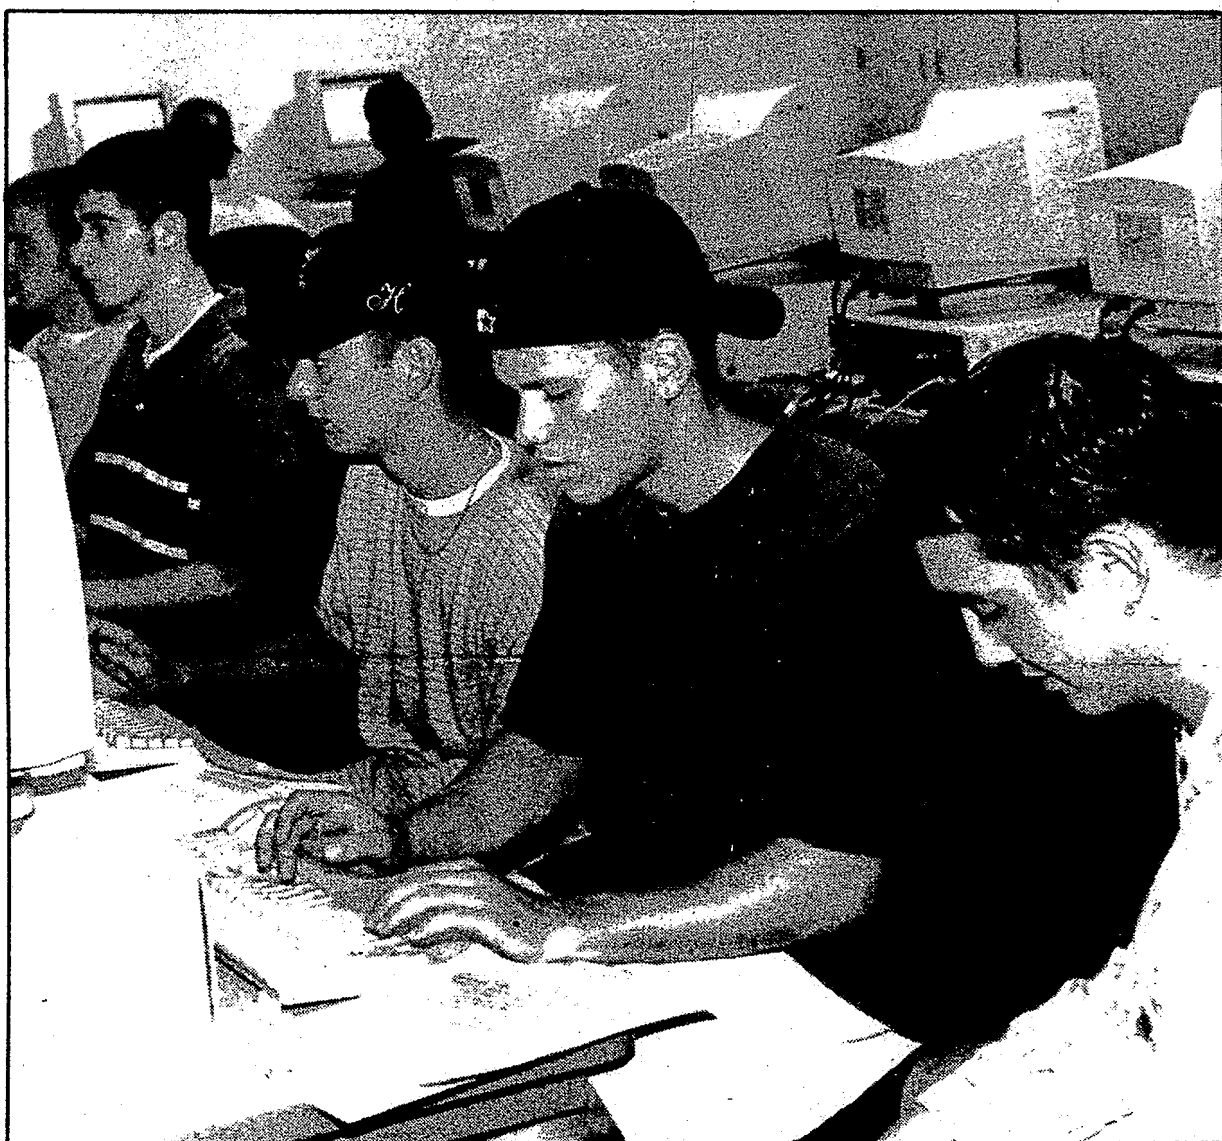

In just over two months' time, the Clarkston Police Department has put the clamps down on truck drivers who ride through the city with overweight loads.

Placing a greater emphasis on enforcing the current truck ordinance, and with possible traffic light additions in the area's future, Clarkston Police Chief Paul Ormiston told the city council that overall traffic safety improvements were in the future.

"We are doing things in the city to help traffic, and

Getting oriented

Students crowded the halls of the new Clarkston High School for the first time Monday morning at student orientation. The News in Brief

City concerned about grease buildup

A potential sewer backup in the city was averted early Monday evening, but the cause of the problem was enough to get city council members talking.

At its regular meeting Monday night, the council decided to check with city restaurants about their grease disposal methods.

Sy Stone, the city's building inspector, said the backup was caused by too much grease entering the city's sanitary sewer system.

"I would suggest a maintenance ordinance where cleaning companies would come in and clean out the grease traps and log in when they do it," he said. "I've checked with some of the business people, and they say they clean the traps themselves, but then the grease is eventually dumped into the water, which could get us into deep doo-doo."

Grease traps are designed to separate grease from water that restaurants and stores produce. If too much grease builds up in these traps, it could cause sewer backups, Stone said.

"It's time to do something about this," mayor Sharron Catallo said. "We've been quiet on this for a while."

Council person Anne Clifton said this is an issue the city has dealt with before, and should get into again in the future.

"We'll revisit this," she said.

Independence ties up loose ends

The Independence Township Board of Trustees approved filled some positions within the township at its meeting Aug. 18.

Susan G. Hendricks, CPA was hired as the new finance director in the township, filling a vacancy open since March. She begins work on Sept. 9.

The board granted permission to post a new full-time clerk's position in the treasurer's office. In a letter to the township board, treasurer Jim Wenger wrote that it is "becoming increasingly difficult to effectively operate the office with current staffing. The volume of day-to-day activity leaves little, if any time to deal with other needed functions." Wenger hopes to have the position filled by mid-September.

Susan Wagner will move from her position in the treasurer's office to become Independence Township's new finance assistant this month. She brings over 15 years of experience with the township to her new post. "We are very excited to have her aboard with us here," clerk Joan McCrary said.

Annual meeting for Clarkston Chamber

The Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting is September 24, at Clarkston Creek Golf Club, 6060 Maybee Road at 11:30 a.m. Tickets are $16 in advance and $20 at the door. RSVP to 625-8055 by Sept. 17.

The deadline to submit petitions for the board of directors is September 9. There must be 46 signatures on each petition.

Breakfast downtown

Clarkston's homespun atmosphere suits local B&B

By Genna Cottrell
Clarkston News Staff Writer

"We're here to meet our guests, not for them to meet our schedule," says Joan Kopietz. And being in tune with their guest's needs is what makes Joan and Buck Kopietz's Millpond Inn of Clarkston a bed-and-breakfast destination for folks from all over the world to come to not once, but again and again.

The Kopietzs work to make The Millpond Inn, located at 155 N. Main, a simple, homespun lodge for world weary travelers to come and rest their spirits in Clarkston's quaint downtown.

"It is homey," says Joan Kopietz. "Most bed-and-breakfasts aren't blessed with such a wonderful location as we are. The entire town lends itself to the overall experience of someone's stay here, I think it keeps them coming back."

Kopietz tells of a guest who arrived late in the evening, and had already decided that her evening walk would have to wait until daybreak.

"Go ahead, go out," I told her," said Kopietz. "Take a walk around the block — it's about a mile, you'll be back in no time." She almost couldn't comprehend being able to walk safely in a community after dark, it was just out of her realm. But that's the kind of thing we can offer our guests — that says a lot about the area, don't you think?"

But it's not just the town that keeps visitors returning. Kopietz's daily breakfast spread is filled with fresh baked rolls and muffins, fresh fruit, juices, eggs made to order and just about anything else her guests get a craving for. Simple foods for simple pleasures is their motto.

"Well," she says of her daily feasts, "it's just what's expected in an Italian home, now isn't it?"

Buck and Joan find the real pleasure of their breakfast table is the eclectic mix of guests and conversations that are shared while breaking bread together. "If you really want to get to know someone, have breakfast with them," says Kopietz. "It's the most intimate meal of the day — dinner is romantic, but breakfast is where you bare your soul."

Kopietz spares no personal touch, not even when guests call to make a reservation. "We try and match our guests to a particular room that suits them," says kopietz. "Each of our five rooms has a distinctive atmosphere, a mood. We try and match our guests tastes and pleasures to one of our rooms — and many of our guests do have favorites that they request when they come into town."

Each of the five rooms is designed around a certain theme with its own unique personality. From the romantic bridal boudoir known as the "Rose Room," to the handsome John Abbott suite, there is distinct flair to each bedroom.

The "Doll Room" is a particular favorite to the Kopietzs' younger-guests, filled with cuddly rag dolls and cozy quilts for snuggling.

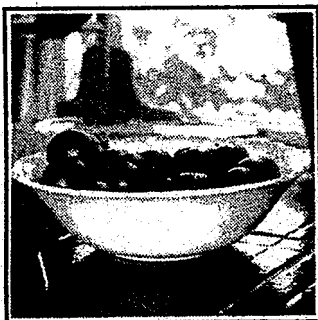

The Southwest suite and the African Keeorok

("dark woods") room reflect the innkeepers' interest in travel adventures through the years. The two rooms are filled with treasures collected on the Kopietzs' journeys abroad, lending an authentic air to the experience.

"There is so much of us here in this house," said Kopietz. "It's filled with mementos of our lives, and now the lives of those who come to visit."

"It's becoming almost a tradition for those visiting to leave a small memento behind. That way, they become part of the positive energies that flow here. And then when they return, it's like coming home, because a part of them has been here to share with other guests. It's really wonderful!"

Celebrity notables such as singers/songwriters Peaches and Herb and authors Betty Mahmoody, Buck Wilder and David Small have called The Millpond Inn home during their stay in Clarkston. A "brag table" sits in the front room, filled with signed works of music, art and writings, all gifts from their guests.

Recent Millpond Inn guest and actor Chad Everett couldn't agree more. "It's just like Grandma's house," he says, "you know someone's going to spoil you. It's a homebase where you're cared about and for — that doesn't happen at a big hotel chain."

For more information or to make reservations at The Millpond Inn, telephone 620-6520 or fax at 625-6108. Or check out The Millpond Inn on the Michigan Lake to lake B&B website at <http://laketolake.com/millpond/index.htm>.

Joan Kopietz, innkeeper at Clarkston's Millpond Inn welcomes guests to the John Abbott suite.

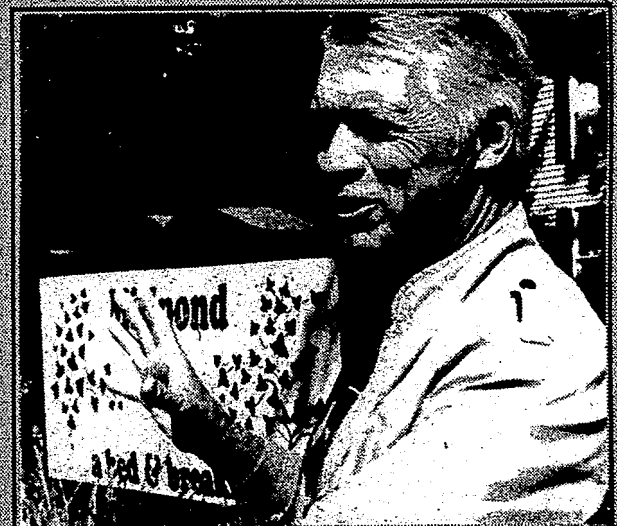

Clarkston welcomes Michigan native Chad Everett

Guests of The Millpond Inn are often greeted by a familiar face at the front door, movie and television actor Chad Everett. A frequent visitor to Clarkston, Everett was in town last week to visit with family and friends.

Growing up in Dearborn, his roots are still here in Michigan. With a sister in Ortonville and his father in a nearby nursing facility, Everett makes several trips a year back home and always makes The Millpond Inn part of his stay.

"It's a gold mine, this community," says Everett about Clarkston and North Oakland County. "It's a good place to be open, very conducive to writing and painting, its relaxed atmosphere comes through you into your work. It's magic, really."

Everett enjoys jogging through downtown — making a small stop at Rudy's Grocery to check out the wares. "They have a wonderful selection of wines there... a good selection of everything. I make it a point to stop there every time."

Chad Everett, known by his portrayal of Dr. Joe Gannon on the long-running series "Medical Center," walks through the gardens at The Millpond Inn.

For further information on reservations or rates, telephone The Millpond Inn at 620-6520 or fax at 625-6108. Check out The Millpond Inn on the Michigan Lake to Lake Bed and Breakfast website at <http://laketolake.com/millpond/index.htm>

Sashabaw Road widening makes county list

Plans to improve Sashabaw Road may come a little closer to reality next year. It's scheduled to receive funding for improvements in the Road Commission for Oakland County (RCOC) 1999 proposed budget.

According to Craig Bryson, public information officer for RCOC, Sashabaw Road between Maybee and Waldon roads is scheduled for safety widening construction, probably in 2001 or 2002.

RCOC is completing surveys and existing road condition plans this year. The 1999 budget calls for funding for preliminary engineering and right of way acquisition.

Bryson said the Oakland County Federal Aid Task Force's Funding Committee is in charge of allocating the federal funds for the project. RCOC can't schedule construction until the rest of the funds are allocated, which is "anticipated" for 2001 or 2002.

He said while the road design is not yet finalized, preliminary plans are for a four-lane boulevard between intersections, and five lanes at the intersections.

The Maybee Road intersection is already five lanes and will receive no work. The intersection at Sashabaw and Waldon Road will be upgraded to five

Three local intersections to get 'light' improvements

In the near future, RCOC will be making traffic light improvements to the intersections of M-15 and Clarkston Road, Walters and Waldon roads and Clarkston and Flemings Lake roads.

RCOC plans to install a left-turn arrow at the stop-light at the corner of Clarkston Road for southbound M-15 traffic.

Bryson said the request for the left-turn arrow was received from the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT), August 20. He added RCOC expects to make the improvement in the next several months.

The addition of traffic signals at Clarkston and Flemings Lake roads and Walters and Waldon roads should be completed in September.

Bryson said RCOC is waiting for Detroit Edison to finish installing poles, and for the completion of the paving of Flemings Lake Road.

dollar directly into repairing our pothole-riddled paved roads.

The largest single revenue source for the 1999 budget is RCOC's share of the state fuel tax and vehicle registration fees, said Bryson. This accounts for $53.6 million, or 58.8 percent of total revenues. Another $11.5 million represents federal funding, while $8.7 million comes from the Michigan Department of lanes.

There are currently no scheduled plans for widening Sashabaw north or south of this section, Bryson said. He added widening projects such as these require federal funds and must be submitted to the Federal Aid Task Force's Funding Committee, which would then rate the projects against all others submitted, to determine if funding were available and, if so, when.

Sashabaw Road is the only road in Independence and Springfield townships scheduled for funding in 1999.

The total $91.2 million 1999 budget proposal represents a 2.6 percent increase over this year's budget. RCOC's managing director, Brent Bair, said it was a "lean and mean budget. Just as we have done in 1998, for the 1999 budget, we squeezed our expenses everywhere possible so that we can put every available

Transportation (MDOT) to cover the cost of maintaining the state highways in Oakland County.

Bair said the new federal roads legislation approved by Congress this year called for a 61 percent increase in road funding for Michigan, but Oakland County expects only an 18 percent increase.

The 1999 budget calls for 58 miles of preservation overlays (asphalt caps that help to ensure the road lasts for its prescribed useful lifetime), nearly 10 miles of major reconstruction and resurfacing, regravelling 45 miles of gravel roads and $500,000 worth of concrete repairs, said Bryson.

On Aug. 27, RCOC will conduct a public hearing for its proposed $91.2 million 1999 budget. The public hearing is 7:30 p.m. at the Oakland County Board of Commissioners Auditorium, 1200 N. Telegraph, Pontiac.

Bridget Hibler, 7, points to the banks of the Mill Pond where there is litter. Brother William 9, and 4-year-old Annalise stand with their sister in saying, folks shouldn't throw trash in the water or on the ground. William had something to say to those who litter, "Just tell people to pick up the trash and put it in the trash can." The children's mother, Cindy, said their letter (to the right) was part of a writing project she had planned for them.

Don't trash Mill Pond

Dear Editor,

Recently, we went fishing at the Mill Pond in Clarkston. We saw garbage in the water and under the dock. We saw kids and adults throw trash in the pond. This made us feel sad and disappointed!

Trash in the water hurts the animals' habitat and it looks disgusting!

It would be better if people would pickup after themselves and never throw garbage in the water or on the ground. Somehow, we need to clean up the Mill Pond so it can be preserved and enjoyed by everyone!

ROLLING ALONG

by Maralee Cook
Inspired reading

I have always enjoyed reading stories about people who have accomplished great feats or displayed acts of courage.

There is nothing more wonderful than the human spirit and its attempts to overcome adversity. These stories have been a source of comfort and inspiration during difficult times in my life.

Last week I came across a magazine that has been publishing for about a year and a half, called WE. It's a very sophisticated-looking magazine, along the lines of Town & Country or Fortune.

At first glance it in no way gives any hint of its content: stories about people whose daily lives are all about conquering adversity, and how to make that easier.

The cover story profiles billionaire George Soros, a philanthropist who has donated $1.3 billion through his own foundation to a variety of people with disabilities and programs that may help them. A survivor of the holocaust, Soros now feels compelled to use his fortune to help others.

Other stories include: a 49-year-old amputee who climbed Mount Everest; a 55-year-old mutual fund manager suffering with Multiple Sclerosis for 14 years, who has brought his clients a total 39 percent average return over the last three years; and a 32-year-old musician paralyzed from the waist down after being hit by a drunk driver at the age of 16.

There are also articles on the 1998 World Disabled Sailing Championships with a list of organizations and schools which offer disabled sailing programs; amusement parks which are user-friendly for persons in wheelchairs; ditto the top 10 golf courses in the country.

A 16-page travel section on Rome, Italy, shows off its wonders and tells the disabled how to navigate the eternal city's monuments and museums, restaurants hotels and transportation on their terms.

Glamorous, expensive fashions are modeled by a former Miss Italy who is deaf, and the current runner-up who is blind.

You can also meet a few of Rome's other prominent, disabled residents.

In each article there are only one or two sentences that detail each person's disease or affliction. The stories focus on how they have become successful at their craft and how they dodge the roadblocks they face along the way.

And nowhere is there a hint of pity.

When I first saw WE in the magazine rack in the grocery store, I thought it was just another celebrity magazine. Thanks to a crowded aisle, I took a second look and learned it's a whole lot more. So are the people and their stories featured inside.

Correction

In the Aug. 12 issue of The Clarkston News, two girls' photos were turned around in "People Poll." Lyndsay York was the girl who should have been placed in picture no. 3, and Mandi Willis was the girl who should have been picture no. 4.

Showcasing students' artistic talent

Clarkston Community Schools is to be commended for their beautiful 1998-1999 school calendar. It is a lovely celebration of the artistic talents of the community's students.

Photography, 2-dimensional art and poetry selections from each school are showcased and each is a treasure.

The calendar is put together by the schools' public relations office under the direction of Barb Johns.

Johns said the choices were very difficult, and based on which would reproduce best in black and white (except for the cover), and limited space.

Over the years we have heard complaints that students' artistic accomplishments do not receive nearly as much recognition as academic or sports achievements.

We believe the publishing of this calendar is a step forward in addressing these concerns. Good job! MKC

Letters to the Editor

Day-care center not in keeping with Vision 2020

Dear Editor,

Twenty five years ago we moved to Independence Township to raise our family. We were a part of community growth and tried to assist where citizen involvement was needed.

As business people and individual planners, my wife and I were pleased when Independence Township began a process to plan the community growth establishing residential, recreation and commercial corridors. The plan was called the 2020 Strategic Plan.

A large number of dollars, a great amount of planning and public praise accompanied the plan. But what does it mean?

On August 13 we saw the 2020 Strategic Plan utilized in a questionable manner.

As you know, Independence Township has a Planning Commission that holds public hearing to discuss requests for land usage.

The first plan on the agenda was for the Garden Cafe on Sashabaw Road. Several Commissioners indicated, "... The request followed the 2020 Strategic Plan." The use was specified in the 2020 Strategic Plan and the request approved.

The next item was a "Request For Special Land Use" for a parcel of land on the nw corner of Pine Knob Road and Clarkston Road.

A number of residents from the area expressed concern and did not want to see a day care center constructed on the site. Reasons given by the residents were:

- Increased traffic volume: if you live east of Sashabaw Road and have been a part of the traffic ensnarement during rush hour, the concern is totally justified.

- Emergency vehicle usage with high traffic volume.

- Existing Bailey Lake day care.

- Most importantly, a deviation from 2020 Strategic Plan.

At least twelve people spoke against the plan. There were many others residents against the plan that were not permitted to speak. One person spoke in favor of the plan although she did not live in the area or have children that would use the facility.

You can imagine the surprise of the residents in attendance at the meeting when the 2020 Strategic Plan was not followed. 2020 calls for the area to be residential. Areas surrounding this parcel are residential. Houses with people.

Please note that if the proposed day care center fails, the facility could be turned into a half-way drug rehabilitation house or worse. 2020 says residential. The motion was passed by the Planning Commission on a 4-3 vote. The 2020 Strategic Plan was put aside.

This poses a question for Independence Township residents. Why was a plan worked on, touted and put in place only to be cast aside? What does the plan mean? When is the plan followed? When is the plan not followed?

It was very apparent to meeting attendees that since this proposal had been defeated once previously, the petitioner found a way to bend the plan, the cornerstone of township development, and receive approval for something none of the immediate residents want or will use.

Outsiders from the township will clog our roads, potentially leading to endangerment of township resident and create potential havoc by deviating from a well thought out plan for the community.

Three commissioners, Dan Travis, Jill Palulian and Joe Figa showed determination in voting against approval. Our hats are off to those individuals.

To Steve Board, Cynthia Lohmeier, Todd Moss and Richard Oppman, Shame on you. Your actions did not follow the residents' views, did not follow the 2020 Strategic Plan and most importantly could jeopardize the health and safety of the community in the area.

Residents need to be aware of misrepresentation by our township officials.

The 2020 Strategic Plan will be worthless if special interest groups from outside our area are permitted to disrupt the wishes and desires of the residency.

Sincerely,
Jim Carlson

Remember to take down directional signs

Dear Editor,

I am very disappointed in the group that posts WBC directional signs all over the place, especially in Springfield Township.

The signs sure look awful after they are faded out.

Evidently this group does not consider it important to clean up their mess after their program is over, this is a repeat of prior years.

Maybe this article will catch the eye of the Mastermind who thought up the idea of cluttering up our roadways and take responsible action to remove them when their program is completed.

For Shame,
Elmer

We need a leader to come forward now

Dear Editor,

We can speculate about President Clinton's motives, however, the bottom line is we need someone now, a real leader amongst our elected officials to come forward and lead this country with credibility.

The United States cannot and never should be placed in a position in which our motives are second-guessed. The very fact that President Clinton was given a memo six days earlier, supporting military action prior to the strike and our allies, including Boris Yeltsin, were not extended the courtesy of a telephone call during that six days, is evidence our president is not able to focus on the matters of state for which he was elected to do so.

The Republicans may believe it is easier to win the next election with President Clinton (rather than Vice President Gore) in the Oval Office and the Democrats may not want to cross their party, but the fact remains, no matter how painful, for the good of our country, it is past time we do the right thing.

DON'T RUSH ME / by Don Rush

The Prez, drugs and e-mail me

Not going to spend too much time on the state of the union -- except to say, it is a shame. It is embarrassing so many Americans, if only for an instant, dallied with the thought, "Did the President bomb those North African sites to steer peoples' thoughts from his philandering."

It's embarrassing that as a nation, we have come to this. While everybody loves to espouse their opinion, how many vote? It's embarrassing we can barely muster 50 percent at the voting booths for a presidential election, about 20 percent for primary elections and a lot less for local issues.

It is a sad day in Muddville, USA.

I have noticed more pharmaceutical companies advertising on television, pushing one drug or another. And, while the drugs are different for different problems, the commercials are all the same. With nice elevator music in the background the commercials show what an active, normal life a person can have by using this or that drug.

The minute long commercials spend about 15 seconds on how wonderful the drug is, 40 seconds of disclaimers ("If you blah, blah, blah, this drug may blah, blah, blah." "The use of this drug has been known to effect some men sexually, blah, blah, blah," etc.). The last five seconds the soothing voice over tells us to ask their doctor if the drug is right for us.

Why all the disclaimers? Are lawyers taking over everything? It would seem to me that both your doctor and pharmacist would let you know side-effects. How much more money is spent on those commercials because of a lawyer's worry list, and how much more expensive is the drug because of the legal bill?

Have I had my head stuck firmly in the sand, or is this a new drug-pushing phenomenon?

Hey -- I'm finally taking Don't Rush Me into the 1980s; I've set up an e-mail address. Now, all 12 of this column's readers can write me via electronic wizardry. Any time you read the column and I really cheese you off, you can zip me while the thought is still hot on your mind. Please no pornography or death threats.

If you want what you send to appear in a column, or not, please say so. Drum roll, please ... here it is: DontRushMe@juno.com.

JIM'S JOTTINGS / by Jim Sherman

He lied

My mother warned: "Never trust a liar!"

A Detroit Free Press editorial reads: "Our president looked us all in the eye and lied. Boldly."

Another saying: "Cheat me, but don't lie to me."

How many times since January have we heard, read and seen Bill Clinton say, "I did not have sexual relations with that woman, Miss Lewinsky?"

Then last Monday evening he said he lied, that he did have "relationship ... that was not appropriate," with Miss Lewinsky.

For seven months he has let a lie stand, causing the Grand Jury to expend considerable time and our money to get the president of the United States to tell the truth.

For seven months, during which time the president could have fired prosecutor Kenneth Starr at any time, Clinton has tried to give us the image of a church-going, faithful husband holding hands with his wife.

Monday night he gave excuses for his infidelity. He said his January answers to the Grand Jury were "legally accurate."

He said he kept the lie alive "by a desire to protect myself from the embarrassment of my own conduct."

He excused, "I was also very concerned about protecting my family."

And, "I had real and serious concerns about an independent counsel investigation."

Final excuse, "It's nobody's business but ours."

Again, from the Free Press, "Beyond the breach of trust, the man's lack of judgment is frightening. Even if you are inclined to forgive, it will be impossible to forget. This presidency is effectively over."

Clinton delayed by just about every means possible to avoid a confrontation with prosecutor Starr all the time saying he would cooperate fully with the investigation. Another lie.

Often the office of the president of the United States is referred to as the "the most powerful office in the world," and our president is "the leader of the free world."

From this highest office and from our leader we expect and deserve a person above reproach, an honest person, an individual we can trust.

We now have a president who will have every statement questioned. The remark, "You can tell a politician is lying if his lips are moving," will be heard whenever Clinton appears at a microphone.

"This presidency is effectively over."

How do you handle your children's exposure to questionable behavior on TV?

YVONNE DAVISON, CLARKSTON
"I don't know, it's difficult. I have grandchildren, and I know their mother closely monitors what they watch. I'd do the same."

LOIS HARDIN, CLARKSTON
"I have grandchildren, and my daughter has taught them what not to watch. If something like Jerry Springer comes on, we just turn it off, and they understand."

TERRI LAWSON, HOLLY
"I just try to stay out of all that. I would like to let kids form their own opinions of the Clinton thing. Smaller children, yes, I would monitor what they see, but older kids should be more independent."

LAURA SMITH, WATERFORD
"I wouldn't let any of my kids watch Jerry Springer. With regards to the President, I would let them see it, and teach them morals of what is right and wrong, and there's no peer pressure to get involved in things like that."

DAVID HUGHES, FLINT
"If they have questions, I would just explain things in a manner that's easy to understand. I would also tell them what's right from wrong in those cases."

Day camp organizer and counselor Nichole Maier keeps the kids busy with art projects on rainy days.

Young entrepreneurs set up day camp

"Mom, we're bored!"

It wasn't a phrase heard around the Birdland subdivision off of Maybee Road, thanks to the inspiration of ten year olds Nichole Maier, Rachel Hurley and Kelley Orlando. The three best friends set out to make their own fun, and fun for local youngsters by starting their own day camp for kids.

Inspiration hit early and the young entrepreneurs started planning their activities and filling their rosters last February.

"We like babysitting," said Nichole. "And there's lots of little kids nearby - a lot of them are our own cousins, too."

"We bought the stuff we'd need and started planning for stuff to do," said Kelley. "We do something every year, like a talent show. We wanted to do something different this summer."

And different they did. Eight children attended the two-week camp - and found their days filled with activities conceived and directed by the young ladies. Story time, an obstacle course, coin hunts, sleepovers and trampoline time filled their time, and a big talent show was planned for the finale.

"I hope we can do this again next year," said Rachel. "It's been pretty hard, but fun, too."

City truck ordinance under review

we are trying to get things done outside of the city that affects us also," Ormiston said.

Two traffic improvement projects have been going on simultaneously, each with the goal of lightening the heavy traffic that currently rumbles through town every day.

Studies will start soon to determine the need for a traffic light at the I-75 off-ramp to M-15 north of the city. Also, a left-turn arrow at the corner of White Lake Road and Dixie Highway is hoped to ease congestion during the late-afternoon rush hour.

Ormiston said northbound traffic in the evening gets backed up on Washington Street, to Holcomb and past Miller, coming from Dixie.

"My belief is that if there is a left-turn arrow at that intersection, it will move traffic through more quickly," Ormiston said. "Make drivers more willing to make the turn to get onto I-75."

Love is a great beautifier.
—Louisa May Alcott,
Little Women

There is no cosmetic
for beauty like happiness.
—Anonymous.

That light could then create another traffic jam on M-15 at the I-75 off-ramps. Ormiston said a light there would help move traffic along, creating a quicker flow of traffic through the area.

Currently, there is a truck route that directs gravel haulers from Dixie to White Lake (becoming Holcomb) to Washington and out to M-15. Ormiston said he hopes the addition of the lights will eliminate that truck route.

"We may be able to eliminate the truck route through the city," he said. "It should never have been a truck route to begin with. Trucks shouldn't have to go across center lines to make turns, and that's what's been happening. But we won't do anything until the lights at White Lake and M-15 are done and we can give people a nice route around the city."

The council also decided to have a second reading of the revised truck ordinance at its Sept. 14 meeting. This ordinance would redefine what constitutes a truck.

The original ordinance, drafted six years ago, stated a truck was anything with five more more axles. If adopted, the revision would redefine a truck as to include any vehicle used to transport property with a gross weight of more than 10,000 pounds. The ordinance would also prohibit those types of trucks on local streets.

"We want to regulate where the trucks can go in this area," Ormiston said. "They do quite a bit of damage on local streets."

Loss of her pet a sad time

Dear Editor,

I had two dogs up until a month ago, then one died.

I've heard that when one dog dies, the other sometimes mourns.

I just lost my beloved lab, Thunder, that I had for 16 years. I will never forget him. I have a border collie who was his best friend for 10 years.

No jealousy, they were always together. I never realized how much my border collie loved my lab. You can see the heartache in her eyes.

She doesn't play, and the mention of the lab's name sends her running through the house to find him.

Yesterday, my collie put her head on my lap and I swear if she could talk she would want to know what happened to him.

Of course for me it's harder, 16 years of love I had to give up and it's not easy. My heart hurts.

Sincerely,
Terri Rivenburgh
Clarkston

For Thunder,

My friend, where did you go? We've been together 24 hours a day, then you left me without a goodbye.

Everytime Mommy took you away, you came back. I was so happy to see you walk through the door. I ran around you, tried to give you my ball and we ran together for a minute, happy to see each other. But now, 15 days later, I wait for you to come through the door. I'm not hungry, I'm not happy, something's wrong.

Where are you? I miss you. We've been side by side for 10 years, why won't you come back to me.

Mommy cries a lot and she hugs me when she does. Where are you, I love you.

Brandy

Editor's note: Mrs. Rivenburgh called us Tuesday to say Brandy died suddenly on Sunday.

A Look Back

15 YEARS AGO (1983)

Florida developer Conrad Wagner offers Pine Knob Investment Co. a $2-$3-million loan to buy Borg Warner's interest in the Pine Knob golf course. The property includes two prestigious restaurants: the Hamburger Mansion and La Veranda.

The Department of Natural Resources denies the Edward C. Levy Co.'s 20-year plan to mine 300 acres near the headwaters of the Clinton River.

Springfield Township will soon be home to many seniors, with a new senior condominium development proposed by developer Thor Olafson. He receives the OK for a cluster option to build from the township board.

25 YEARS AGO (1973)

Independence Township learns it will receive federal funds for purchase of a 35.04-acre parcel off Clarkston Road north of I-75, destined to become a township park.

Dan Fife pitches three innings Saturday night for the major leagues and is "real enthused about the way he pitched," according to his father, Duyane Fife of Dvorak Street. A member of the Tiger farm team who played in the Southern Association last year, the 1967 Clarkston graduate was traded to the Minnesota Twins last spring, in exchange for ace pitcher Jim Perry.

50 YEARS AGO (1948)

The Clarkston Merchants win a loosely played game over the Rochester team in one of the first playoffs of the season. Getting 10 hits, with two errors and two bases on balls, give the local boys ten runs.

Playing at the Holly Theatre are Roy Rogers and Andy Devine in "Under California Stars" and Bud Abbott and Lou Costello in "Buck Privates Come Home."

Specials at The Village Market include pork loin, 49 cents a pound; baby beef liver, 49 cents a pound; peaches, $2.95 a bushel; and Dairy Belt cheese, a two-pound loaf for $1.09.

60 YEARS AGO (1938)

The doors of the Clarkston school will again open on Tuesday, Sept. 6, for registration for the coming year. The superintendent is D.M. Winn and R. C. Waters is principal. Teachers include Ralph Thayer, Virginia Walter, Dorothy Cohen, Marjorie Strait, Orlo Willoughby, Alice Wellington, Ruth Vliet, Susie MacLaren, Emily Beardslee, Thelma Dunham and Alice Wade.

Featured at the Holly Theatre are Lewis Stone and Mickey Rooney in "Judge Hardy's Children" and Joan Bennett and Randolph Scott in "The Texans."

Specials at Rudy's include brown sugar, a nickel a pound; rolled rib roast, a quarter a pound; and oleo, a dime a pound.

Michael Prunte, Jr.

Jr. Optimists raising funds to fight cancer

Area kids are hoping to raise money for a good cause this year: to help children with cancer.

Junior Optimist Club member Michael Prunte, Jr., of Clarkston, said the national organization of Junior Optimists hopes to raise $25,000 for the National Children's Cancer Foundation (NCCF) this year.

Prunte, a freshman at Clarkston High School, said the NCCF was chosen to receive funds from the Optimists because they demonstrated the greatest need.

"It struck us by surprise how many kids have cancer," Prunte said. "About 550 children die from cancer each year."

Prunte said he likes being part of the Optimists because of what they do for the community. Last year the Clarkston Junior Optimists raised $4,000 for NCCF.

He added the Michigan Optimist groups totaled about $12,000. "It's one of the strongest groups in the country -- the hardest workers," he said of the Michigan Optimists.

If you would like to make a donation to the NCCF, make your check out to Clarkston Middle School Junior Optimists, and send it to Brose Electric, 5897 Dixie Hwy., Clarkston, MI 48346.

She cuts her golden locks for a good cause

A young Clarkston resident has cut off her long red hair for a good cause.

Nine-year-old Courtney Boucher is donating her hair to Locks of Love, a non-profit organization which makes wigs free of charge for children who've lost their hair due to illness.

Courtney, who will attend Pine Knob Elementary School this fall, said she got the idea from watching a Discovery Channel program about the organization three years ago.

"I felt bad for the kids that didn't have any hair," she said. Courtney decided to let her hair grow, and didn't cut it again until two weeks ago., when a stylist cut off 13 inches.

Locks of Love provides wigs for children under the age of 18 whose families can prove financial hardship.

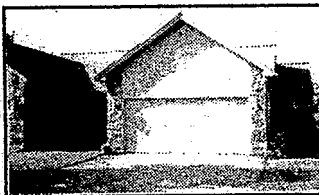

They accept 10-inch long hair in a ponytail or braid that is clean, unabused from chemicals and has not touched the floor.

For more information, contact Locks of Love, 1729 E. Commercial Blvd., Ft. Lauderdale, FL 33334. You may also phone (954)491-8004 or fax (954)525-8347.

SKIN DEEP

by Scott Friedman, D.O.

A NEW BALDNESS TREATMENT

Aside from the topical treatment minoxidil, men with male-pattern baldness have a new way to treat their hair loss. It comes in pill form and goes by the name finasteride. This drug was originally approved for the treatment of enlarged prostates, but researchers began studying its potential for hair growth after some patients with male-pattern baldness noticed hair regrowth while they were taking the drug. In clinical studies, 80% of the men who took finasteride noticed either slight-to-moderate hair regrowth or a cessation in hair loss. Unfortunately, the drug is not appropriate for women with thinning hair because it causes birth defects. Finasteride must be taken indefinitely to sustain its effects.

If we can provide you with additional information on today's topic, please call us. Dermatologists are medical doctors, specializing in skin problems and diseases of children and adults. We are best able to advise and treat problems relating to all types of skin disorders. Our offices are located at 6330 Sashabaw, Clarkston (625-0692) and 3003 Baldwin, Lake Orion (391-9599), and offer specialized attention to all your skin concerns.

P.S. A small percentage of the men who took finasteride experienced diminished sexual drive and impotence as side effects, which disappeared once they stopped taking the drug.

When Irish eyes are smiling...

The staff at Duggan's Irish Pub in Clarkston say they have a blast every night. From left, Sandra Schaeffer, Sue Cummings, co-owner Kristin Grannis, Laura Harrell, Sheila Dilldine, and Shannon Smith are among those who make dining a Duggan's an enjoyable experience.

Duggan's West has a taste for success

The middle of the afternoon is usually a slower, quieter time of day for most restaurants. It's too early for the dinner crowd, and most of the late-lunch crowd has moved on.

But that's not the case this day at Duggan's Irish Pub West, located at 6722 Dixie Highway. Despite the mid-afternoon time, a steady stream of people come through the doors, an indicator of the success the restaurant has enjoyed in its first year, according to co-owner Kristin Grannis.

"It's just been tremendous since we opened," she said with a wide smile. "We couldn't have picked a better spot to be in, and the community support we've received has been wonderful."

The restaurant, which opened in February, is the second of Duggan's to open in the metro Detroit area. The first is in Royal Oak on Woodward Ave. Both Duggan's offer some favorites from the 1950s Woodward Ave. era, including Suzy-Q fish and Big Chief Burgers.

While both places are known for having some of the best hamburgers around, Grannis says the Clarkston location is aiming for a high-quality menu all the way across the board, with daily specials from Chef Jeff La Pointe. Early-bird specials are served Sunday to Thursday, from 3 to 5 p.m. When you buy one meal, you receive the second at half-price.

"People think we're just a burger place, but we want this one to be so much more," said Grannis. "We have blue-plate specials for lunch, and we have heart-smart menu choices. We offer crab and shrimp fettucini specials also."

Grannis emphasized that she wants Duggan's to be more of a restaurant than anything else. One that caters to families and the over-30 crowd. A way it does that is through its live entertainment.

"Entertainment is tough, because you can never please everyone," she said. "We'll have the bands play dinner-type music early in the evening, and then we'll speed it up around 9 or 9:30. We have a dance floor area that we clear out for people also. But with our music, we definitely cater to the over-30 crowd. We want to encourage those people to come in and enjoy our atmosphere."

The atmosphere is a big part of the Duggan's experience too. From tube neon signs, to the Route 66 markers, Duggan's keeps up a very automotive theme. A pair of big-screen TVs, several regular TVs, video games, pool tables and a wave runner simulator machine make for a wide variety of entertainment.

"We want to be a place for everyone to come and enjoy what we have," Grannis said. "We have a lot of promotions planned for the summer, and we want to do a lot with

Monday Night Football. Then with the Red Wings, we offered 10-cent wings and dollar drafts every time they scored during the playoffs.

"Everything has just worked out so well for us," she continued. "This is my baby. We have a tremendous staff here, and they're a big reason for our success. We're also looking at opening another restaurant in the Lake Orion area in the future."

Meadow Brook Theatre announces auditions for children and dogs for the play "The Miracle Worker," Sun., Aug. 30. Children will be seen from 1 to 6 p.m. and dogs from 6 to 8 p.m. The plays runs Oct. 21 through Nov. 15. Roles being cast are for the characters of Helen Keller (female age 8-12); Percy (African-American boy, age 8-13); Martha (African-American girl, age 8-13), blind girls at Perkins Institute (ages 8-13); and Jimmie (male, age 6-9).

Children should prepare a one-minute memorized monologue or poem of their choice and be prepared to do a physical improvisation. The dog will perform the role of Belle. It must be nice, quiet and calm enough to allow the Helen Keller character to formulate letters with her finger on his paw as well as allowing his paw to be dipped in water. The dog must also behave well with children. Children auditioning who wish to bring their dogs can arrange to have their pets seen before 6 p.m. Auditions are appointment only, call (248)370-3310.

A brand new experience

New kindergarteners got their first taste of school recently at a kindergarten orientation held at Pine Knob Elementary.

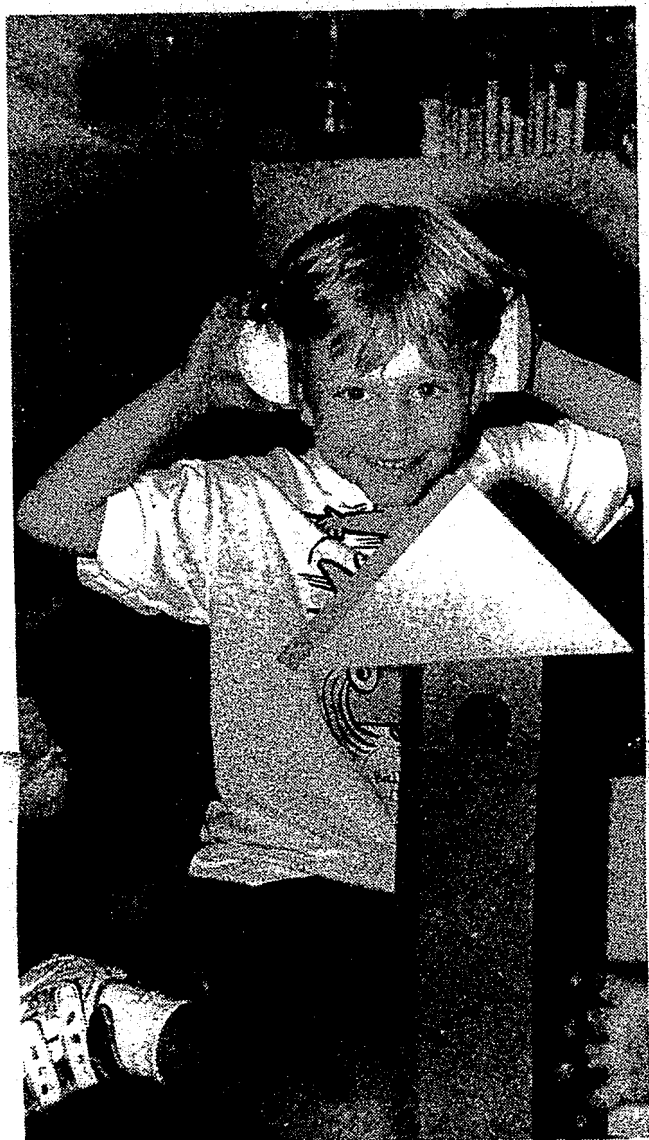

Parents and their children were welcomed by Bailey Lake Elementary principal Chris Turner, representing all the principals in the district. Turner talked to the parents, while their children broke into small groups to color, play with new toys, snack and hear stories.

As children grouped to become "choo-choos," on the way to their future classrooms, Turner reassured them. "Don't worry, your mom and dad will be here ... But they're going to listen to all that boring stuff adults do."

Kaul in charge of young Clarkston golf team

BY BRAD MONASTIERE

Young and inexperienced.

Those are the words that can best describe the 1998 Clarkston varsity boys golf team. With only one senior and the potential for several first-year scorers, this group will learn as it plays.

The same might be said for first-year varsity coach Tim Kaul, who takes over the program after serving for 11 years as the JV golf coach. Longtime coach Jim Chamberlain retired at the end of last season.

"With only one senior and so many others that will be new to the varsity, hopefully we'll get good experience as the season goes on, and we'll come around by the end of the year," said Kaul, who is also the JV boys basketball coach. "I'm not putting much pressure on them because they are so young. I just hope we can continue to improve."

The team got the earliest start to competition this year, already having two tournaments under its belt. On Aug. 13 and 14, the Wolves participated in a tournament in Traverse City, with mixed results.

On day one, the team "didn't play very well," according to Kaul, shooting 344. Low-scorers for Clarkston were junior Mark Churay with a 79, senior Ben Ness with an 83, and Trae Moreen with an 84. Churay's 79 was a solid score, because breaking 80 at the High Point Golf Course is very respectable, Kaul

The second day saw the team's overall score improve to 330. Ness shot a 78, including a 34 on the back nine. Churay and David Benner each came in with 84s.

On Aug. 17, Clarkston headed west, to Milford's Mystic Creek Golf Course and finished fifth out of 12 teams. The team once again shot 330, led by Ness with an 82, Moreen with an 83, and sophomore Adam Petrus with an 83.

"It was a pretty good performance," Kaul said.

Wolves hang tough with Adams before losing

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Despite opening the 1998 season with a loss, most everyone associated with the Clarkston varsity boys soccer team was pleased Friday night.

The Wolves played hard, but lost 3-1 to Rochester Adams, ranked second in Oakland County behind defending Division I state champion Troy Athens.

"I was very, very happy with the effort," coach Dan Fitzgerald said. "They've got two real good players up front and Russ (Parrott) and Mike (Tharrett) did a nice job of marking them."

The biggest surprise came in the performance of senior goalkeeper Jeremy Fecteau. With starter Dustin Coleman unavailable, Fecteau came in and made several point-blank saves and turned away several Highlander scoring opportunities.

"I was nervous at first with Jeremy in there, but he played really well," Fitzgerald said. "After that performance, I'll have to think about starting him more in the future."

The first half ended in a 0-0 tie that saw both teams come close to scoring. At the 23-minute mark, junior Mike Renda barely missed a goal after tapping a shot on a 2-on-1 break. Senior Mike Lenhardt set up the play with a pass that split two defenders.

But with seven minutes gone in the first half on this hot and humid night, Adams' Ben Walker scored on a header shot off a corner kick to put the Highlanders up 1-0.

Adams went up 3-0 after two goals in a five-minute span halfway through the second half. Senior Tom Dews put Clarkston on the board with a goal off a direct free kick with 7:30 left in the game.

Senior Russ Parrott (21) chases down Rochester Adams' Ricky Strong during Friday night's season opening game at CHS. The Wolves played an elite Highlander team very tough before losing 3-1.

Fitzgerald said he was happy that not only could the Wolves hold a team as explosive as Adams to three goals and limit their chances, but that his team got some of its own as well.

"We created some chances, which isn't easy against a team like that," he said. "If Renda's shot had gone in, that would have been great, but overall, we had a real nice effort out there."

The Wolves started a busy week Tuesday night with a game at Rochester. Home games against Utica Ford II and Royal Oak Kimball follow the next two days, giving the team three games in three days. The games Wednesday and Thursday are at the old CHS field. The varsity game starts at 7 p.m.

JV Sports

Soccer

The Clarkston JV boys soccer team lost its opening game of the 1998 season Friday night, 5-1 to Rochester Adams at the old CHS field.

Clarkston's Josh Thompson scored the Wolves' lone goal with under three minutes left in the contest.

Coach Brian Fitzgerald said Adams would be the best team Clarkston would see all year, and that wins would come more down the road.

"We're a team that should score a lot of goals, but not against that team," he said. "But hey, we'll be all right. We've got some good players, and it was a good non-league game for us."

Fitzgerald joked that he was sick of seeing Adams all the time. In his last game as varsity girls coach, Adams eliminated the Wolves from the playoffs in the district finals in May.

Basketball

The Clarkston JV girls basketball team got off to a strong start Tuesday night with a 64-18 win over Lapeer West.

Frist-year head coach Jenny Warren said despite the wide margin of victory, the team still has lots of room for improvement.

Athlete of the Week: Tom Dews

Salut, Tom: The unquestioned quiet leader of this year's varsity boys soccer team, senior Tom Dews is a player who commands respect from his opponents, teammates and coaches. Entering his third season for the Wolves, Dews was the lone player to score in Clarkston's hard-fought 3-1 loss to Rochester Adams Friday night. His goal came on a direct free kick when he fired the ball in a small opening between Adams defenders. He played for coach Dan Fitzgerald during the spring on the North Metro Rangers, and has traveled across oceans playing soccer. Two years ago, Tom traveled to the Netherlands with the Michigan Magic team, an experience he says helped him improve greatly as a player.

Coach Dan Fitzgerald on Tom: "When I coached him this spring, Tom held his own with some of the best players in the area. He's a very good one-on-one dribbler with the ball, and is excellent at the center-midfield position. He's much stronger than he was a year ago, has always been a good goal scorer, and doesn't panic when he's under pressure out there."

Tom on Tom: "I learned a lot in the Netherlands that's made me a better player. It's a very different style of play, where you wait for an opening, then move the ball upfield. The team did great (in the first game). They got up on us, but we kept playing hard and didn't hang our heads. We have to be more aggressive in taking shots, but when we do that, we'll be pretty tough."

White brings girls tennis team into new era

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

For this year's Clarkston girls tennis team, learning will be a two-way street.

Players new to the varsity level will learn about improving individually while helping the team win collectively.

First-year head coach Melissa White sees herself learning about coaching just as much as the players learn about playing early on.

"What's helped me out a great deal is having Wayne Gilbert back as an assistant," White said. "He's been great, getting here early to work with the varsity players. He's coached here forever and teaches lessons at Deer Lake (Athletic Club)."

White, a foreign-language teacher at Clarkston High School, could have several good things in store for her first year.

She said the team will play on the brand-new courts at the new CHS likely starting with its Monday, Aug. 31 match with Waterford Kettering. The team's home opener Tuesday was scheduled for the old CHS courts.

The new facility has eight courts, allowing for all the matches to be played simultaneously instead of having half the players wait until other matches were completed.

In addition to the new courts, White has a team that is top-heavy in veteran returning players that could make it the team to beat in the OAA Division II.

Junior Courtney Schubert returns as the likely #1 singles player. White calls her a very talented player who has taken up a strong leadership mantle in her second full varsity season.

Senior Lauren Bogart received valuable experience last season as a #1 singles player, and returns as one of the most consistent players the team has.

"Lauren is very tough mentally, and that helps her a lot," White said. "She controls everything really well, and she doesn't back down from tough opposition."

Bogart and senior Kim Lytle are locked in a battle for the #2 singles spot. Lytle is in her second year with the Wolves after transferring from Pontiac Notre Dame Prep High School before last season. "She works very hard and helps to get everyone going," White said of Lytle.

Starting the season in the #4 singles spot will be senior Alaina Dodds. She is one of the top athletes in her class, and along with good friend Kristen Atkinson, won a regional championship at #1 doubles last year.

White said Dodds will start at #4 singles because she's still recovering from a summer illness.

"It's a tough adjustment, going from doubles to singles," White said. "She and Kristen were good friends, and they could be together on the court, but now Alaina is out there by herself. She is a very good player, and she could move up for us as the season goes on."

Atkinson, who will be a top contender for a state skiing title this winter, is still rehabbing an injured knee, and might not be available to play for another month.

Despite the top doubles team from last year being temporarily broken up, White will still have a top-flight #1 doubles team. Seniors Jenny Claus and Lauren Stout are both strong all-around players who work well together on the court.

"They are a fun team, with a lot of enthusiasm, and no one's been able to beat them in practice," White said.

Another pair of experienced returning players fill the #2 doubles slot, as juniors Emily Tate and Allison Olinger take over. Senior Michelle Klotz and Jennie Lienger are penciled in at the #3 doubles spot.

The #4 doubles spot is wide open at this point, White said. She will be looking for two players to emerge out of the nearly 20 remaining that came out for the team.

"We have a lot of new kids out this year, and we're counting on some of them to help us," she said.

The OAA Division II has been owned by Troy Athens in recent years, while Royal Oak Kimball should also field a very competitive team. But White's expectations are high for this team.

"There's no reason we shouldn't win the league, with the players we have here," she said. "We have four very strong singles players, and I feel we can beat anyone in our league."

Big numbers could mean big season for runners

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With another huge turnout of athletes, the 1998 Clarkston boys and girls cross country teams are in position for another strong run at league titles, and possibly, beyond.

Boys

Coach Mike Taylor doesn't beat around the bush when talking about this year's boys cross country team.

"The junior class is the heart and soul of our team," he said. "It's the best class of kids I've ever been around. They have very high expectations for themselves, and they have a lot of talent."

Entering their third season together, this year's junior class figures to make it tough on their teammates for anyone to crack the top five times that count for team scoring.

David Sage returns after a very successful sophomore season and was consistently among the top finishers at every meet the Wolves had. Matt Haver and Kevin Breen were each state meet qualifiers last year, along with Sage. Taylor calls junior Chris Weber a hungry runner, who is anxious to improve on a strong finish to the 1997 season. Dan Burke "is a much different person than last year," according to Taylor, and that should translate into consistently improving times.

A newcomer to this already-loaded junior class is Brett Quantz, who last spring in track helped to set a school record in the 4x800 relay. After some adjustment to the cross country running style, Taylor said he expects Quantz to step right in and make a solid contribution.

Other runners to watch include senior John Drallos, who's had impressive workouts in his first season in cross country. Freshman Eric Sweeney, who excelled in distance events at the middle school track level, appears to be ready to do the same at the high school cross country level.

Lake Orion joins the OAA Division I this year and features Jordan Desilets, one of the top three runners in the state last year. The Dragons, along with Troy Athens, figure to give the Wolves their toughest competition in the league.

The 1998 Clarkston boys and girls cross country teams.

"We respect everyone in the league, but we feel like we can beat all of them," Taylor said. "We lost a couple dual meets early last year, but came back to win the league meet at the end of the year. Our goal is to beat them all again this year."

For the second straight season, the team will only have one home meet, set to take place September 29 against Athens at Independence Oaks County Park.

Taylor said he was hoping a new course at the site of the new high school could be set for this season, but it is not ready.

"If we got a good rain before the meet, the kids would be running in six inches of mud," he said. "There is room at the starting area at the new high school for a six to eight-team meet, and there will be one there, but probably not until next year."

Girls

Coach Deb Zonca enters the 1998 season with the certainty of some top returning runners, with the hope of the emergence of a few new standouts.

"We've got 14 seniors, and they have the roles of team leaders," Zonca said. "The three Rooding girls all look good and have put in a lot of mileage this summer."

Zonca is referring to the only triplet athletes at Clarkston this year, Jennifer, April and Christina Rooding. Jennifer has been a top runner in cross country and track the past two years, but her sisters have made big strides this summer, Zonca said, and are ready to be consistent scorers for the Wolves.

"I think all three of them really wanted to be on the varsity this year," she said. "April and Christina were

What teams are all about

Clarkston has shown me time after time what a great sports town it really is.

I'm not just talking about the turnaway crowds for boys basketball games, or the unanimous parent support all teams get. Two high school squads understand the word "team" as well as anyone.

I'm talking about the boys and girls cross country teams, coached by Mike Taylor and Deb Zonca, respectively.

Now, understand my personal background in cross country. At my high school, a total of five people ran for the boys and girls teams. There weren't enough runners to represent a team, so they ran at competitions as individuals, making the school ineligible for any kind of league recognition.

It's a slightly different story here. The boys and girls teams combine to number around 55, making it very comparable in size to the varsity football team.

But a big difference is that cross country meets don't draw thousands of people on Friday nights. Hot dogs and popcorn aren't sold at concession stands outside of the course. Pep rallies aren't held before the team ventures into postseason competition.

Despite all this, all these athletes willingly run as many as 35 miles per week to stay in top condition. Keep in mind, that out of the 55 total competitors, only the top seven get their times counted for the team.

Here's a perspective on just how difficult that could be. For the 1998 season, Taylor has the luxury of an outstanding junior class that includes runners like David Sage, Kevin Breen, Chris Weber, Dan Burke and Matt Haver.

Zonca has a solid core of seniors that includes Jennifer, April and Christina Rooding, Lissa Lukens and Jenni Gifford. Underclassmen Nicole Fischer and Karyn Erkfritz come off terrific track seasons and should be consistent scorers for the team.

With all this talent, that means between 25 and 30 runners will be competing for one or two varsity spots, or spots that can be counted for team points.

Sports cliché artists at this point would talk about how any runner at any time could have a great performance and squeeze into one of those last spots. But let's be realistic. Around half of those runners this year, will never get within shouting distance of finishing in the top five. Yet, knowing all this, the teams still draw that many people every year.

"A reason for that is running can be a lifetime sport," Taylor explained. "You get a real sense of achievement when you look at times you ran last month, and see the improvement. We have a lot of coordination between the boys and girls teams, and I think the only other sport you see that with is skiing."

A good example of the fun of participation comes in senior John Drallos. Without a doubt, baseball is his game. He will be entering his third season on the varsity next spring and will be counted on to continue his steady play in the infield along with a consistent bat. He recently completed a very good summer with the Michigan Rams baseball team that qualified for World Series competition in Cleveland. He's never run cross country before, but there he was on picture day August 19, anxious for a workout.

Clarkston High School is very fortunate to have so many quality programs with coaches who care and athletes who work hard. Perhaps the best symbol of this comes from the cross country teams. Athletes who are just as excited when a teammate runs well as if he or she ran that well themselves. Kudos to Taylor and Zonca for keeping these programs as popular as they have been, and here's hoping for another successful season.

●Congratulations to 1997 CHS grad Marc Mazur, who learned Monday he'd earned a full-ride scholarship to the University of Detroit-Mercy.

Mazur played last year at Wayne State, then transferred to U-D. He'll still have to sit out the 1998-99 season because of NCAA rules on transfer eligibility.

With U-D making the NCAA tournament last year, a Clarkston showdown between U-D and Dane Fife's Indiana Hoosiers isn't out of the question in 2000 or beyond.

Wolves bury Panthers in opener

Clarkston 69
Lapeer West 28

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It didn't take long to decide a winner in Tuesday's girls basketball game between Clarkston and Lapeer West.

Like eight minutes.

The Wolves used a first-quarter blitz of the Panthers to run away with a 69-28 win at the old CHS gym. It was likely the last basketball game ever played at the gym. Clarkston's next home game is scheduled for Sept. 15 against Madison Heights Bishop Foley. The gym and locker rooms at the new high school are expected to be ready by then.

Clarkston (1-0), eager to get started on the new season, was unstoppable in the first quarter, when it took a 30-8 lead. The 30 points are the most scored by a Clarkston girls basketball team in years in one quarter.

"We were changing up our defense and getting in their face," coach Ann Lowney said. "It was a good first game to have. I got a chance to see some young players and get them some playing time."

Senior co-captain Deana Kanipe, who led the team with 20 points, said the first-quarter explosion was a result of the team remembering it got off to slow starts in games last year.

"We wanted to come out fast, and we did that," she said. "This was a stepping stone game. A lot of people got to play, so it was good for everyone."

Eleven of the thirteen available players scored in the game. Junior Lindsey Prudhomme, getting her first varsity start, played a terrific game at both ends, with 13 points, five steals and two assists.

"Lindsey had a great game, and I knew she would," Lowney said. "That's what she did all pre-season, and it's nice that she did it with a uniform on."

The Wolves did have a lull in the third quarter, when West started with an 8-1 run that cut the Clarkston lead to 40-22. But a quick change in defensive strategy by Lowney sparked the Wolves to a quarter-ending 12-1 run and put the final nail in this game.

"In the third quarter I didn't mix up our defenses, and we got lackadaisical, so I'm partially to blame for that," Lowney said. "But the game gave me a chance to see some of our strengths, which is the transition game."

Clarkston's rebound totals as a team were down a little, but that's because the team forced so many turnovers and created steals in the backcourt. Kanipe led the thievery with six steals. Freshman Kaye Christie had a strong high school debut with four steals, while junior Jennie Winn had three.

Senior co-captain Corinne McIntyre led the team with eight rebounds. Junior Heather Combs had six points and five boards, while sophomore Sarah Morgan tossed in eight and grabbed five rebounds.

The Wolves take on a strong Oakland Christian team Tuesday at the Oxford Invitational at Oxford High School. The tournament also includes Oxford and Lake Orion. Play starts at 5:30 p.m.

● Junior Lori Wild will not play for the Wolves this year because she and her mother moved out of the school district last weekend.

"I wish her the best of luck," Lowney said. "She's a great young lady. She has a new life ahead of her, and so do we."

Wild started classes at Utica High School earlier this week. She had been voted co-captain by her teammates late last week, along with McIntyre.

Thank you for your support!

The Independence Township Fire Department would like to thank you for all your past years of support for our Labor Day Pancake Breakfast.

Unfortunately, with the drop in manpower, we are unable to continue to sponsor this event.

The following is a list of organizations that have greatly benefited from your appreciated generosity: Jerry Lewis Telethon; Muscular Dystrophy Assoc.; U of M Burn Center; Lighthouse North.

There is a possibility the pancake breakfast will be taken over by the Masonic Lodge next year. Hopefully, they will continue with what has become for so many a family tradition.

Once again, thank you all for your past years of support, and may you and your families have a safe and happy Labor Day weekend.

Respectfully,
Independence Township

New Oakland Child-Adolescent & Family Center

In all families, there is conflict to some degree. However, in some families, the conflict may be so severe and destructive that it prevents the family from growing and relating to one another in healthy ways. The mental health professionals at New Oakland Child-Adolescent & Family Center, located in nearby Davisburg, are experts in helping children, adolescents and adults deal with life stressors, depression, substance abuse and serious emotional and mental illness. The focus at New Oakland is on pro-active approaches to empower the family with the tools to meet life's challenges.

Executive Medical Director Dr. Ismail B. Sendi of New Oakland has created a unique service for those whose personal crisis may not be adequately addressed in a weekly or bi-weekly counseling session. Face-to-Face, a less restrictive, less costly, alternative to psychiatric hospitalization has been successfully treating children, teens and adults since 1994. The client attends daily therapeutic programming for seven to ten days. Intensive work on the crisis is done through daily individual and group therapies, milieu activities and twice-weekly family sessions. Additionally, there are two to three meetings each week with the child-adolescent-adult psychiatrist to explore medication options. Program options include Face-to-Face Days from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., and Face-to-Face Evenings from 3:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Face-to-Face also includes intensive specialty programs for the treatment of substance abuse, eating disorders, bedwetting and assessment for Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD).

If you or someone you know is struggling with life's challenges, give the professionals at New Oakland Child-Adolescent & Family Center a call at (248) 634-6303. They are located in Davisburg at 12731 Andersonville Road.

Young golf team swinging into action

"Troy ended up taking second with 323, so we were only seven strokes out of second place."

Defending state champ Hartland easily won the Mystic Creek tournament with a score of 301.

Taking fifth place at the tournament represents a step forward for this young group, but Kaul still expects a good deal of growing pains for the team this fall.

"We need someone to step forward and shoot consistently in the 74 or 75 range," he said. "Ben has been a key player for us, and Dave Benner was consistent last year, but beyond that, we're very young. If we can ever have a meet where we shoot 320, I'll be thrilled to death."

As with nearly every other sport, the OAA Division I in golf is top-heavy with state-ranked teams and solid individuals. Kaul said Rochester Adams is the class of the league. Bloomfield Hills Lahser, who has moved up from Division II, already has a tournament win under its belt, and Troy has an excellent, consistent program.

"We might end up in a fight with West Bloomfield for last," Kaul said. "We've beaten them at both of our tournaments, and they haven't performed as well as they were expected so far."

"They key for us is to keep improving and the kids not to get down on themselves when they don't play well," Kaul continued. "We're in a tough league, but we can't be worried about competing with teams like Rochester Adams. We only need to worry about ourselves."

Juniors lead boys cross country team; Rooding triplets spark girls really dedicated to putting in the mileage and it's shown."

Joining the Rooding Three among top returnees are junior Nicole Fischer, senior Lissa Lukens and Katie Bills. Fischer was a big surprise for the team a year ago before getting injured, and Lukens is a very experienced runner who has been to the state finals before.

The OAA Division I is shaping up as a tough league, with perennial power Troy Athens entering the season as the favorite. Rochester Adams, who has fielded very strong teams lately, was hard hit by graduation, and Troy brings back the coach that guided it to the 1993 Class A state title.

"Athens has six of its top seven returning, so they have to be the favorite," Zonca said. "Troy came on strong at the end of last season, and their coach did an excellent job with them before."

INTENTIONAL WRONGS

Apart from seeking to recover damages resulting from another person's negligence, injured parties may also seek to hold wrongdoers liable for their intentional acts, which typically include libel and slander of reputation, assault and battery, false imprisonment, or intentionally inflicting mental distress. In all such cases, the wrongdoers intentionally causes injury. And, while certain types of these torts (such as assault and battery may constitute criminal activity, aggrieved parties seeking to legally address these wrongs in civil court do so with the intention of bring compensated for their injuries. Recent cases have brought national attention to the fact that a person can be found not guilty of an act in criminal court, but still found responsible in civil court. Here at 11 North Main Street, we handle a variety of legal matters including cases involving personal injury, auto accidents, slip & fall injuries, criminal defense, business law, real estate transactions, family law, and civil litigation in both State and Federal courts. If you're the victim of someone else's intentional wrong doings, call 620-1030. We'll evaluate the circumstances and determine whether you have a viable case, taking legal action only in your best interest.

Hint: Loss of consortium is an element of damages that can be recovered in a wrongful death case brought by a surviving spouse.

They rushed for food

Friday night, the Clarkston football program had the day off of practice. They put that excess energy to good use by collecting canned food and other items for Lighthouse North. The players pulled in around 2,000 lbs. of food and other items to Clintonwood Park. Senior QB Eric Jenks (far right, #14) pitches in by bagging up some of the thousands of canned goods players collected from the community. Debbie Clement, one of the event's organizers, called the food drive a great success. "All the food on the truck was quite a sight," she said. "The boys had fun and it all went very well for our first time out."

Clarkston CROP Walk/Run September 27

Behind the headlines of famine, disaster, war and desperate poverty, Church World Service /CROP (CWS) in Michigan has been one of the international relief agencies working to feed and shelter those in need and to lift people out of poverty for the past 50 years.

For 1997, Church World Service/CROP in Michigan had a record total income of $2,270,465, leading the USA in Walk income for CWS regions for the twelfth consecutive year.

The total included 145 local community hunger Walks raising $1,916,680 with 30,016 volunteer participants, reported David C. Bower, Michigan Director of CWS/CROP in Lansing. The 1997 Clarkston CROP Walk raised $5,455 with one quarter of the amount remaining in the community.

Eight churches in the community are sponsoring the 1998 Clarkston Community CROP Walk/Run. Twenty CROP Walk/Run events in Michigan are scheduled on September 27th.

For further information please call Rev. Bonnie Laudemann, Coordinator (625-1324) or Arline Moore, Public Relations (625-4583).

Registration is at Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church, 6805 Bluegrass, Clarkston, at 1:30. The Walk/Run begins at 2 p.m.

BBB says to investigate all contracts and agreements

Many Southeast Michigan residents will be looking for home waterproofing services after waking up to flooded basements from the recent huge downpours. Before hiring a contractor, the Better Business Bureau of Detroit and Eastern Michigan suggests that consumers take time to investigate before signing any contracts or agreements.

The recent heavy rains will likely increase demand for basement waterproofing services," said Carmel Weems, a spokesperson for the BBB. "While there are many reliable contractors in the area, severe weather events tend to attract a few unscrupulous people that try to take advantage of other peoples' misfortune, and quickly get large sums of money for poor quality work," she added.

There are no "fool proof" basement waterproofing methods," said Ms. Weems. "Don't take their word for it, follow the BBB Tips."

Before hiring any basement waterproofing contractor, the BBB suggests the following:

- 1) ALWAYS obtain at least (3) customer references, and verify each one.
- 2) Remember that price is not the only factor in choosing a contractor.
- 3) Verify if the contractor is licensed with the Michigan Department of Consumer & Industry Services: (900) 555-8374.
- 4) Be sure to have a contract which includes the contractor's name, address and telephone number (it's not sufficient to have a pager number or a number to an answering service). Be sure your contract includes both a start date and completion date.

5) Be sure to carefully read and understand ALL terms and conditions of the contract before signing.

6) Call the BBB to check on the reliability of any home waterproofing company.

BBB offers a free pamphlet, "Tips on Basement Waterproofing," which is available by contacting the BBB: Telephone: (248) 644-9100; Fax: (248) 644-5026; Mail: 30555 Southfield Road, Suite 200, Southfield, Michigan 48076-7751; E-Mail: info@detroit.bbb.org music's rootsy — the Wallflowers are more '90s than '60s.

Two years ago, on the brink of fame, Jakob told The Los Angeles Times he's not a link to his father's private world. He said he wanted to be considered a serious musician on his own.

"People expect me to just come along and give away all the information that he has spent his career defending and protecting," Jakob said of his dad. "Plus, that kind of talk just turns articles into personality pieces, and I'm not selling my personality. I just write songs and play them."

A year later, when the band became a household word, Jakob told USA Today people might naturally assume it's been "a cakewalk" for him. He just blows those comments off, because he knows it was about hard work and not the famous name. "I don't spend any time being defensive or trying to convince people that I did it my way," he said.

The fact that he was charting his own course impressed Andrew Slater, who is now the group's manager. Slater first heard them via tape, at a 1990 party. He signed them soon after.

"I don't know what I expected, but it turned out they were rehearsing in this dive with some of the crummiest gear I had ever seen," he said. "That told me that he was serious and trying to do it on his own — not relying on his parents."

The fact that the group tried to sell itself on its own merits might be why their first album sold a modest 25,000 copies.

But their second, "Bringing Down the Horse" marked them as a bonafide new band in their own right. It spawned a number of successful singles, including "6th Avenue Heartache" and "One Headlight," the hit that catapulted them to fame.

One thing's for sure. Jakob has inherited his famous father's individual spirit. In 1996 he was asked if he'd ever considered doing harder-edged rock, including grunge, which was in its heyday at the time.

"No," he said forcefully, in between sips of coffee. "I think I've always known the music I wanted to make ... When we started out, every other band in L.A. was trying to be Jane's Addiction, and I've got nothing against that style — or grunge. It's just not what I'm interested in."

"I was never interested in just being in fashion. I was never the kid on Melrose who wanted to grow the dreadlocks and put on Doc Martens."

The Wallflowers take the stage this Sunday, as part of Planetfest 1998. Other acts include Duncan Sheik, Grant Lee Buffalo, Agents of Good Roots, Patty Griffin, The Why Store and more.

Other upcoming shows:

- Blues Music Festival, with B.B. King, Neville Brothers and more (Sept. 2)
- Van Halen, Kenny Wayne Shepherd (Sept. 3)
- Wayne Newton (Sept. 4)

when you purchase a product or service from a local business?

You get personal service from people who know you as a person and not as a number.

You get prices that are often lower than discount chains.

And you get the knowledge that you are dealing with people that are actively serving the community through many charitable donations and volunteer hours. These are the men and women of the Clarkston Chamber of Com-

130-IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORY OF RUTH BURNELL (Williams), 1928-1994. God saw she was getting tired and a cure was not to be. So he put his arms around her and whispered "Come with me..." With tearful eyes we watched her suffer and saw her fade away. Although we loved her dearly, we could not make her stay. A golden heart stopped beating, her little hands to rest. God broke our hearts to prove to us he only takes the best. Missed by her family and friends. IILX36-1dhf

Krygier named new Clarkston hockey coach

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Entering its third season, the Clarkston High School hockey program has its second head coach.

And if everything goes as planned, it might be the last coach for quite some time.

Monday, CHS Athletic Director confirmed that Brian Krygier was named as the Wolves' new coach. Krygier takes over for coaches Rick Rowden and Glenn MacDonald, who were let go earlier this summer.

Krygier comes to Clarkston after a year coaching the "B" (junior varsity) team at Cranbrook-Kingswood High School.

Fife said Krygier will fit right in with the Clarkston athletic community, and he's excited to have him take over the program.

"I'm very excited about Brian coming here," Fife said. "He played for four years at college, and when you do that in a sport, it's like getting your master's degree. He will be a role model for the kids, and he's looking to be here for the long haul."

Krygier, who's brother Todd plays for the NHL's Washington Capitals, said he's looking forward to building a program at Clarkston where a high level of success happens year in and year out.

"I saw (Clarkston) play a few times last year, and they have a lot of talented players," Krygier said. "What they need here is some structure. I have high expectations, but realistically, there's a developmental stage that takes place. But I'd like this team to be consistently at the top and maintain that throughout the years."

Krygier, 29, has an impressive playing background. After playing at the AAA level in the Detroit and Buffalo areas, he went to the University of Connecticut, where he is the hockey team's all-time leading scorer. After graduating in 1992, he went to training camp with the Boston Bruins. He was sent to the minor-league Nashville Knights, where he was named by the team's booster club Rookie of the Year in 1992-93.

But a nagging shoulder injury forced him to retire after a stint with the Hershey Bears, a top minor league team for the Philadelphia Flyers.

He coached in the Little Caesar's hockey organization in 1995-96 before going to Cranbrook.

In his one year with the Cranes, Krygier said he learned much from varsity coach Andy Wiedenbach about how to have a complete program.

"I learned all aspects of the game while I was there, on and off the ice," he said. "I learned what are the best drills to use in practice, and how to implement those skills into real-time situations during games."

Krygier described his coaching style as one that stresses fundamentals and positional play.

"We will be a disciplined team," he said. "First, we will clear up the defensive zone, then move to offense. I want my players to be in the right place at the right time and use the basic fundamentals of the game. I want to dictate the play of the game and have the other team react to us instead of us reacting to them."

CHS LIFE

by Kevin Kosbab

It's that time of year again

The end of August is not a happy time, due entirely to every student's dread: the return of school.

It is during these last few weeks that we realize how much we've enjoyed our three months without the on-the-bus-by-seven routine.

Has it really been three months? With drivers' training and two weeks of vacation, it seems like I've had closer to three weeks off. But already I'm making the trek through the mall to get new clothes.

The mall always has its share of mishaps, with my mom being shocked and disgusted at how much she paid for my pants and insisting that they don't fit (this isn't the zip-'em-with-a-coat-hanger Seventies—pants are supposed to fit low and drag on the ground), but this minor confusion is nothing compared to the pandemonium of the Birch Run outlets. My dad said that people must check their brains at the door.

From the moment you pull into the left turn lane to get into the parking lot, you're surrounded by idiots. A person at a stop sign backed into the car behind him. Cars were parked wherever there was room, including in the aisles.

That's all before you enter the stores, where more people than can comfortably fit in the space rifle through discounted clothes. I suppose I shouldn't say that, though, since discounts at many of the outlets are minimal at best. The Tommy Hilfiger store, horribly cluttered with customers and merchandise, was one of these, but the mystical power of their blue, red and white logo seems to sell the clothes regardless of price.

Speaking of cluttered buildings with a lot of people, the new high school comes to mind (by cluttered, I just mean the unavoidable clutter that comes with moving). This week I will go to my sophomore orientation to have my mugshot taken, get my schedule, and tour this new facility. From what we've been told, it should be quite the improvement.

Improvement over the old high school, yes, but over summer? I'm not so sure. No matter how many computers and TVs they have in every classroom, I'd still rather sleep in until eleven in the morning and be able to lounge around all day, or go on the occasional trip to throw up at Cedar Point. The three months waiting for school to end seemed much longer than these three months of summer.

You'd think I'd be used to it now that I'm going into tenth grade. I know summers are short; I know school will start again. And the cycle will continue until college is over, at which point I'll have to get a full-time job that probably won't stop at all for the summer. Unfortunately, my parents are threatening that that day may come sooner: this may be my last summer without a job.

Would you like fries with that?

PUBLIC NOTICE

Because the People Want to Know

INDEPENDENCE TWP. CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE

At a regular meeting of the Independence Township Board held on August 18, 1998, the Township Board authorized a First Reading to the Township's Zoning Ordinance No. 83 regarding Right-of-Way Regulation as follows:

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED RIGHT-OF-WAY REGULATION ORDINANCE

On August 18, 1998, the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence introduced for further consideration an ordinance to regulate and manage the disruption to and use of the Township's rights-of-way, easements and/or public places by those persons and/or entities seeking to undertake any activity that disrupts the Township's rights-of-way, easements and public places and/or those persons and/or entities seeking to use and/or occupy the Township's rights-of-way, easements and public places.

Following is a summary of the ordinance, which will be considered at a future meeting of the Township Board:

A new Chapter 16.25, entitled, Right-of-Way Management, shall be added to the Independence Township Code of Ordinances, providing as follows:

ARTICLE 1 - IN GENERAL

Purpose/Legislative Findings

- (1) Pursuant to Section 29 of Article 7 of the Michigan Constitution of 1963, the Township of Independence has the authority to exercise reasonable control over its highways, streets, alleys and public places. The Township of Independence finds that, in the furtherance of control and to ensure and protect the public health, safety and welfare, it is appropriate for the Township to monitor, review and approve requests by persons and other entities seeking to disrupt and/or use and/or occupy the Township's rights-of-way, easements and public places.
- (2) This Ordinance is further intended to minimize the disruption, disturbance and/or damage to the Township's rights-of-way, easements and public places, and also to exercise reasonable control over, and monitor the use of the same, as well as to maintain aesthetic, quality, and property values by requiring those parties or entities who seek to disrupt the Township's rights-of-way, easements and public places, and those parties who seek to use the Township's rights-of-way, easements and/or public places by constructing, installing, locating, operating, using and/or maintaining improvements, including telecommunications, gas and/or electric transmission systems therein, to obtain a disruption permit and/or a use permit and pay fair and reasonable permit fees.
- (3) The Township further finds that requiring the payment of the permit fees will assist in protecting the Township's interests in its rights-of-way, easements and public places by allowing the Township to cover the fixed and variable costs of maintaining, monitoring, and ensuring quality control with regard to its rights-of-way, easements and/or public places.

Definitions

"Township Right-of-Way" means any and all public rights-of-way, streets, highways, roads, sidewalks, alleys, thoroughfares, public easements and public places located within the Township, including, but not limited to, rights-of-way, public easements and public places within and/or under the jurisdiction of the Township, as well as the curbs, shoulders, landscaped areas and/or other areas incidental and/or appurtenant thereto.

"Disruption" means a physical change, modification, alteration, disturbance, injury and/or damage to the Township's right-of-way, including, but not limited to, construction, installation, location, maintenance, modification, alteration, replacement, and/or repair of improvements in the Township's right-of-way, and/or the removal or alteration of a right-of-way surface grade or material, tree, sign, marker, hydrant or other material or object preliminary to or in conjunction therewith.

"Improvement" shall mean any appliance, conduit, facility, pipes, poles, structures, wires, cables, fibres, buildings and/or any other man-made object and/or item, including, but not limited to, telecommunications system facilities, gas and/or electric transmission facilities, and other facilities.

ARTICLE 2 - DISRUPTION OF TOWNSHIP RIGHTS-OF-WAY Disruption of Right-of-Way

- (1) Generally, Except as otherwise provided herein, no person shall undertake and/or perform any activity which causes and/or results in any disruption to any Township right-of-way unless a disruption permit is first obtained from the Township and the activity is performed in accordance with the disruption permit and in the manner provided for in this Article. No person shall place any improvement or obstruction in any Township right-of-way, except under the conditions permitted in this Article.

- (2) Exceptions. This section shall not prohibit those temporary obstructions which are incidental to the expeditious movement of articles and things to and from abutting premises, the lawful operation and parking of vehicles within the part of the Township's right-of-way, nor the lawful and customary use of property by adjoining homeowners for such things as landscaping. In the event of a disruption emergency, including, but not limited to, a natural disaster, war and/or severe weather condition a person and/or permittee may disrupt the Township's right-of-way without first receiving a disruption permit from the Township, provided that the Township Supervisor and/or their designee has approved the emergency disruption before the emergency disruption takes place.

Permit Application Procedures

A person that wants to undertake and/or perform any activity which causes and/or results in any disruption to the Township's rights-of-way shall apply to the Township for a disruption permit pursuant to this section. Every applicant must complete and file an application with the Township Clerk's office on forms that will be provided by the Township Clerk.

Disruption Permit Fee

In addition to the nonrefundable application fee set forth in this Article, and any other applicable fees for permits or approvals required by Township Ordinances and/or other applicable laws, the permittee shall pay a disruption permit fee in an amount which will cover all of the Township's administrative costs, inspection costs, consulting costs, plan review costs, monitoring costs and all other costs incurred by the Township in conjunction with the permittee's disruption of the Township right-of-way.

Permit Terms and Conditions

There are a number of permit terms and conditions stated in the ordinance.

Restoration of Property

The permittee shall promptly restore, at permittee's sole cost and expense, any portion of the Township's right-of-way that is disrupted by the permittee.

Indemnification

The permittee must indemnify the Township, and its officers, employees, agents, representatives and contractors according to the terms of the ordinance.

Revocation of Permit

In addition to any other rights and/or remedies that the Township may have pursuant to this Ordinance and any other applicable law, which rights and/or remedies the Township may pursue in its sole discretion, the Township Board, if it finds the existence of an imminent threat to the public health, safety or welfare, may order a stoppage of work pending a hearing before the Township Board, or the Township Board may also revoke a permittee's disruption permit for any of the following reasons, subject to undertaking the revocation procedure in the ordinance.

ARTICLE 3 - USE AND OCCUPANCY OF TOWNSHIP'S RIGHTS-OF-WAY

Use Permit Required

Except as otherwise provided in this Article, no person shall use and/or occupy the Township's rights-of-way for the purpose of using and/or operating any improvements within said rights-of-way unless a use permit has first been applied for and issued by the Township pursuant to this Article. For purposes of this Article, a person providing local exchange service or other telecommunications services shall be considered to be using the Township's right-of-way if such person is the owner of the improvement or obtains the use of the improvement from another party under a lease, contract, interconnection or other similar arrangement.

Failure to obtain a use permit under this section shall constitute a violation of this Article and shall subject the violating person to the penalties provided for in this Ordinance, and a person who violates this section shall pay the required use permit fee, as well as an additional charge to be established by resolution of the Township Board for that period of time that the person did not have a valid permit pursuant to this Ordinance.

Exemption

The terms and provisions of this Article shall not apply to any person that currently has a valid, effective and unexpired franchise from the Township to use and occupy the Township's rights-of-way for the use and operation of improvements, and, further, shall not apply to those telecommunications carriers who have continuously used and occupied public rights-of-way under a claim of entitlement based on an alleged grant of authority by the state predating the Michigan Constitution of 1909, and have provided universal services for many years and/or provided telecommunications services within the Township pursuant to MCLA 484.4 prior to the enactment of the Michigan Constitution of 1909. Provided, however, this exemption shall not be applicable if and immediately when a Court of competent jurisdiction in any action in Michigan determines that the Township is not required to exempt a person purportedly granted rights in this section.

Permit Application Procedures

A permit application procedure is spelled out in the ordinance.

Use Permit Fee

In addition to the nonrefundable application fee set forth in this Article, and any other applicable fees for permits or approvals required by Township Ordinances and/or other applicable laws, the permittee shall pay for each year that the use permit is in effect on or before the last business day prior to January 1 of each year an annual use permit fee to the Township in an amount established from time-to-time by resolution of the Township Board. The amount of the use permit fee shall be fair and reasonable, competitively neutral and nondiscriminatory and shall not exceed the fixed and variable costs to the Township in maintaining the Township's rights-of-way used and occupied by the permittee. The amount of the annual fee shall be presumed to be in the amount of $.15 per lineal foot for aboveground improvements and $.30 per lineal foot for underground improvements. All applications shall be reviewed on a case-by-case basis for the purpose of determining whether the improvements of a permittee create any more or less impact upon the fixed and variable costs to the Township. In making such determination, the Township Board shall take into consideration the factors stated in the ordinance.

Use Permit Term and Renewal

The first use permit granted to the permittee shall be valid from the date the Township Board grants the use permit through December 31st of the tenth year following the date the use permit was granted. Thereafter, the permittee may apply to the Township for ten-year renewals of its use permit, which renewal periods would run from January 1st to December 31st of each ten year term. Unless earlier terminated by the permittee and/or the Township, a permittee must file an application for renewal of its use permit with the Township Clerk not less than 120 days before the expiration of the current valid permit, and pay a renewal application fee to the Township Clerk in an amount established by resolution of the Township Board. The Township Board shall, by November 1st of the year in which the renewal application is filed, hold a public hearing on all requests for use permit renewals, and shall not later than December 1st of each year approve and/or deny all use permit renewal requests. The Township shall have the right to impose additional reasonable conditions on those use permit renewals it grants.

Although permits are to be granted with a ten-year duration, as specified above, the Township Board shall also conduct an interim review at the end of the third and sixth years of a permit, for two purposes: The review shall first determine whether the fee schedule then in effect is adequate. If the Board determines that it is inadequate, a new fee shall be established and shall be effective for the balance of the term of the permit. The second purpose of the review shall be to require the permittee to demonstrate matters stated in the ordinance.

If at such review the permittee fails to make the demonstration specified above, the Township Board may impose further conditions upon the continuation of the use permit, or, if the failure represents a material breach of the terms and intent of this Article, the Township Board may terminate a use permit.

Indemnification

The permittee must indemnify the Township, and its officers, employees, agents, representatives and contractors according to the terms of the ordinance.

Revocation of Permit

(substantially same as above)

ARTICLE 4 - MISCELLANEOUS

Violations/Penalties

Any person and/or entity violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment not to exceed 90 days in the Oakland County Jail, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court, plus costs of prosecution.

"We still have to work on our passing, and we're struggling mentally right now," she said. "Our defensive intensity was quite high, and we did a good job of picking up our rebounding in the second half."

Sophomore Mary Warchuck led the balanced scoring attack with 10 points. Nicole Thrift and Tricia Brewereach scored nine, while freshmen Emily Butzine and Jennifer Karstensen and sophomore Katie Jerge each scored eight. Sophomore Lindsay Simko collected a team-high four rebounds.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Because the People Want to Know

INDEPENDENCE TWP.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE

At a regular meeting of the Independence Township Board held on August 18, 1998, the Township Board authorized a First Reading of an amendment to the Township's Zoning Ordinance No. 83 regarding Electrical Code as follows:

Section 1 of Ordinance

That Sections 7-61 and 7-62 of the Independence Township Code are amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7-61. National Electrical Code - Adoption.

The 1996 Edition of the National Electrical Code (NFPA-70), as promulgated by the National Fire Protection Association, being a nationally recognized model and standard code, is adopted by reference as an Ordinance of the Township, to be known as the Township Electrical Code.

Sec. 7-62. National Electrical Code - Amendments

The Township Electrical Code is supplemented and amended with the Technical Amendments approved and recommended by the Reciprocal Electrical Council, Inc. (REC) as Rules 1 through 9, attached to and part of this Ordinance as Appendix A.

Section 2 of Ordinance

The amendment to Section 7-61 of the Independence Township Code shall take effect immediately upon publication of this Ordinance. The amendments set forth in Section 7-62 of this Ordinance shall be effective after publication, on the 90th day after adoption of this Ordinance.

REC 1996 NEC TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS

RULE 1. CIRCUIT INTERCONNECTION.

Section 210-11 is added as follows:

210-11. Circuit Interconnection. Neutral and ungrounded circuit conductors for two, three, or four-wire circuits shall originate at the same outlet or panel. Neutral and/or ungrounded conductors for circuits, shall not be tapped or spliced from different locations in the wiring system.

RULE 2. SERVICE ENTRANCE CONDUCTOR SETS.

Section 230-40 is amended to read as follows:

230-40. Number of Service-Entrance Conductor Sets.

Each service drop or lateral shall supply only one set of service-entrance conductors.

Exception No. 1: Buildings with more than one occupancy shall be permitted to have one set of service-entrance conductors run to each occupancy or to a group of occupancies.

Exception No. 2: Where two to six service disconnecting means in separate enclosures are grouped at one location and supply separate loads from one service drop or lateral, one set of service conductors shall be permitted to supply each or several such service equipment enclosures.

Exception No. 3: Deleted.

RULE 3. GROUPING OF DISCONNECTS.

Section 230-72(a) is amended to read as follows:

230-72(a). Grouping of Disconnects.

(a) General. The two to six disconnects as permitted in Section 230-71 shall be grouped. Each disconnect shall be marked to indicate the load served.

Exception No. 1: One of the two to six service disconnecting means permitted in Section 230-71, where used only for a water pump also intended to provide fire protection, shall be permitted to be located remote from the other disconnecting means.

Exception No. 2: A service disconnect(s) for separately metered outdoor electric space conditioning equipment for one and two-family dwellings, shall be permitted to be located immediately adjacent to the outdoor meter cabinet. A permanent plaque or directory shall be installed at each service disconnect location denoting all other services, feeders, and branch circuits supplying that building or structure and the area served by each. The feeder or branch circuit permitted by this exception shall not enter or pass through the structure or building served.
