Township's vision of his land has former supervisor mad

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE Clarkston News Staff Writer

An Independence Township resident and former supervisor is challenging township officials on the picture they're painting for property north of the I-75/ M-15 interchange.

Gary Stonerock, who has been running full-page ads in The Clarkston News and Penny Stretcher for the past several months, says he will stand his ground on keeping the two acres he owns on M-15 zoned C-3 (highway commercial) — the highest commercial zoning category in the township which allows a variety of commercial use.

However, participants in the township's Vision 2020 Strategic Plan — which recently captured a state planning award - deemed that area should be developed less rigorously, as part office and office-research, because of traffic congestion, safety and other factors.

Although officials say they will meet him halfway and have proposed office service two zoning, which allows a blend of office and certain types of commercial, Stonerock says he's not budging - and has a lawyer waiting in the wings if necessary.

Stonerock argues that changing the zoning will devalue the property he paid C-3 prices for 26 years ago and, in a series of articles, debunks the township for "hoodwinking" the public overproperty owners' rights. Following his titled articles, he says it's a case of "Government Gone Amuck."

Years ago, Stonerock says, he was challenged by Continued on page 14

Manpower is the next hurdle

By Genna Cottrell Clarkston News Staff Writer

If all goes as planned, Independence Township firefighters will officially sign a new six year contract with the township by the middle of this month.

After two years of negotiations, the Board of Trustees voted unanimously to accept the contract during a special meeting at Mesquite Creek restaurant, August 18.

It is expected the 15 full time firefighters will ratify the contract without changes. "We will sign," said Capt. Ralph Przybylski, union steward for the International Association of Firefighters Local 2629.

"Boy, I hope so, for everybody's sake," said township trustee Neil Wallace.

leased until signed later this month. However, representatives from both the township and the firefighters' union have commented on several contract issues.

We had half a dozen issues we brought to the table," said Przybylski.

High on the list of the firefighters concerns, he said, was one of "duty death" benefits for spouses and dependents. Under the old contract, families of firefighters killed in the line of duty were not eligible for continued medical coverage by the township. The new agreement secures surviving family members up to five years of continuing medical benefits.

"That was a big issue for us," said Przybylski. "We did get a gain there."

Wages were also a hot topic, with both parties agreeing to what amounts to a three to four percent wage increase each year for the life of the contract. Details of the contract will not be officially re- ... The agreement, if signed, is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1997 and expires Dec. 31, 2002.

Township board members felt it was a generous offer. "With virtually no inflation as of late, it averages out to a fair amount;" Wallace said.

Przybylski said the new contract had revised guidelines for sick time. He said the old contract provided for unlimited paid sick days. The contract now limits firefighters to ten sick days a year which cannot be banked or cashed-in if not used.

Tensions reached a boiling point last month, after two years of negotiations, prompting a three-hour special meeting between representatives from the ranks, Township Supervisor Dale Stuart, Fire Chief Gar Wilson and Fire Marshal Greg Olrich That meeting centered on how the township will tackle new manpower and staffing guidelines.

More than just stamps

New post office opens in Clarkston

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The local post office is delivering more than mail these days. It's sending improved customer service and convenience to its customers.

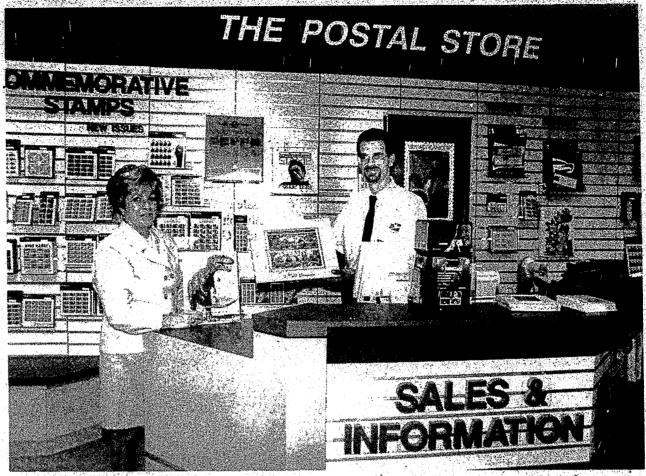

After months of construction and technical delays, a new Clarkston Post Office opened Aug. 24 at 5799 S. Main Street (M-15 or Ortonville Road) near Dixie Highway. It relocates most of the goods and services offered at the former post office further north.

One of the biggest improvements is space. At the old site, there wasn't room to display all the products the post office has always offered. Now, customers can actually shop at a large "Postal Store" within the 4,085-square-foot facility, which features items like self-sticking stamps, stamp collecting supplies, envelopes, packaging products, gifts, collectibles — even postal souvenirs.

Another improvement is increased self-service. Free items like priority mail parcels can be picked up, and contents can be weighed and mailed with little, if any, help from clerks. However, three full-service windows are staffed with help for needs like mailing larger parcels and foreign mail. And a "cash wrap" clerk will be on the floor at all times to help with store purchases.

The store concept is a national trend taking place in U.S. Post Offices, where customers can basically "shop" for items themselves, said Clarkston postmaster Gabe Viviano. The focus on convenience and improved customer service does much to eliminate those long lines of waiting in the past, he added.

Hazel Conger, supervisor of customer services, said the concept has "sort of evolved over the last 20 years" she's been an employee. As she walked through the lobby and "cash wrap" station, are excited about the new facility.

Supervisor of customer services Hazel Conger and postal clerk Rick Edwards, who manages

the new blue-gray and white facility, she pointed out several self-service areas. For instance, a new stamp machine near the front of the store dispenses either individual stamps or books. "I hope folks don't mind, but the change will come out in Susan B. Anthony dollars," she chuckled.

The "Quick Post" station, to the right as you walk in, is where folks can weigh and mail their own parcels. "It will even tell you how much postage you need," Conger said. She's happy about all the improvements and cheery atmosphere.

"The post office always provided these items. We just didn't have away to display them. The whole concept of this store is supposed to be for customer convenience," Conger said.

A large room in back holds vacation mail and larger parcels for pick-up, and a spacious hallway holds 600 more post office boxes than the old site — a big improvement. "There's always been a waiting list," Conger noted. In addition, customers can still still mail letters from their cars, with drive-through boxes.

The former post office at 5886 S. Main has been turned into a Carrier Annex, solely for mail processing, pick-up and delivery. It's for carriers (not customers) only and also holds several offices. Plans are to expand the facility to "more than double the capacity of what we have now," Viviano said, explaining the area's growth boom as the reason.

"We're real excited," Viviano said about the new post office site. "It's more convenient for customers for several reasons, including increased parking and we also have more parking for our employees. It's giving us more space; but, more importantly, it's providing a more pleasant atmosphere for folks to buy postal products and just do business with us."

Conger said the Clarkston facility is the only freestanding facility out of nine new postal stores in Oakland County. Most are in strip malls or attached to other buildings.

"Because of room and growth in Clarkston, we had to make a choice of building a new building entirely (at the old site) or to build a postal store in Clarkston. We knew it would be successful here," she said.

Retail specialist Linda Palazzolo, who activates new facilities, said the Calrkston Post Office is "a beautiful building ... Clarkston is a growing area and needs up-dated, high-tech stuff like this."

Postal clerk Rick Edwards is one of the smiling faces folks will see at the new store. As the man on the floor and lobby director, he manages the "cash wrap" station and acts as greeter. "It's the way to go, greeting all the people when they come in," he said. "You get a little more feedback."

Now, customers can weigh their packages, slap on stamps "and they're on their way ... Maybe we have a concept to make it smoother for everyone."

Clarkston resident Paul Foytack, who has visited the facility several times since it opened, couldn't agree more. "I love it," said Foytack, as he entered the building Thursday. "There's no waiting and no crowded lobby."

The new Clarkston Post Office is open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. Post office boxes can be accessed from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday, with mail delivered by 10:30 a.m. The phone number is (248) 625-0032.

Parks of Stonewood gets nod from planners

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE Clarkston News Staff Writer

Dave Johnson's proposed new development, Parks of Stonewood, received a recommendation for final site plan approval, 5-0, from the Independence Township Planning Commission Aug. 27 (Steve Board and Todd Moss were absent). He will next need final site plan approval from the Board of Trustees.

In the motion, commissioners also approved Johnson's internal pathway plan, which was changed from a wood-chip trail system to a hardened surface. "We wanted to make sure it wouldn't adversely affect the ecology," said commissioner Rich Oppmann, who said plans were scrapped to build a safety path along White Lake Road because of intrusion into wetlands areas.

Johnson has been working with Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital to build a development that blends with the proposed Clarkston Medical Campus next door, featuring an internal road and pathways. Both projects are located at White Lake Road and Dixie Highway.

However, POH plans to build safety paths on White Lake and Dixie, up to Johnson's entrances. Pedestrians will be able to use both the internal pathway system and existing safety paths on the east side of White Lake to access their destinations.

Johnson also plans to realign Clement Road, currently filled with twists and turns, into a safer roadway. Township engineers will be working with Johnson in both situations. The matter won't come back to planners "unless there are questions,". Oppmann said

Deviating from the township's customary procedure of having developers build safety paths in front of their new subdivisions isn't unusual, Oppmann said. "We've done it before." For example, a new sub at Cranberry Lake Road and M-15 features an internal system in lieu of safety paths "for safety and grading reasons," he added.

Johnson's planned unit development features 280 homesites in five different, heavily wooded neighborhoods. He said prices will range from $250,000 to $1 million plus. A commercial center with several offices, retail uses and family-style restaurants is also planned.

Once the board gives the final OK, Johnson hopes to start site preparation work this fall.

'The new high school has been the community's dream for a long time'

Roberts named parade grand marshal

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The City of Clarkston is gearing up for its annual Labor Day Parade Sept. 7, which has special meaning this year.

The theme, "Living Your Dream," is significant because it ties in with the opening of the new Clarkston High School. And, fittingly, Clarkston schools superintendent Dr. Al Roberts will be the parade's grand marshal.

The theme echoes the Rotary Club's international theme of "Living the Rotary Dream," said Tom McCloskey, parade chair and member of the Clarkston Rotary Club, which has been sponsoring the local event for over 50 years.

"Living the dream certainly could be applied to the new high school," Roberts said Friday. "This has been the community's dream for a long time.

"The tradition of the Labor Day parade is important for all of us. While it's important to celebrate this country's work force, it's also an opportunity to share with our young people the significance of our American Dream.

'We need workers with more skills, better attitudes and the ability to produce. In the future we're going to need a more positive and productive work force -- and that starts at school."

OPINION

The Clarkston News

Wed., Sept. 2, 1998 6A

I know most people of a "reading age" have arrived at the conclusion, or had it pointed out to them, that the English language is inconsistent, if not totally confusing.

One of the first inconsistencies we all heard was ... one goose, 2 geese. So one moose, 2 meese? One index, 2 indices?

Some other misnomered words in the English language we haven't been exposed to have been sent by a Jotting's reader (from Morenci of all places).

The reader says, English is a crazy language. There is no egg in eggplant, nor ham in hamburger; neither apple nor pine in pineapple. English muffins weren't invented in England or French fries in France. Sweetmeats are candies, while sweetbreads, which aren't sweet, are meats.

The reader writes, we take English for granted. But if we explore its paradoxes, we find that quick-sand can work slowly, boxing rings are square and a guinea pig is neither from Guinea nor is it a pig.

And why is it that writers write but fingers don't fig, grocers don't groce and hammers don't ham? If the plural of tooth is teeth, why isn't the plural of booth beeth?

Doesn't it seem crazy that you can make amends but not one amend, that you can comb through annals of history but not a single annal? If you have a bunch of odds and ends and get rid of all but one of them, what do you call it?

The writer continues, if teachers taught, why don't preachers praught? If a vegetarian eats vegetables, what does a humanitarian eat? If you wrote a letter, perhaps you bote your tongue?

In what language do people recite at a play and play at a recital? Ship by truck and send cargo by ship? Have noses that run and feet that smell? Park on driveways and drive on parkways?

How can a slim chance and a fat chance be the same, while a wise man and a wise guy are opposites? How can overlook and oversee be opposites, while quite a lot and quite a few are alike? How can weather be hot as hell one day and cold as hell an-

Have you ever seen a horseful carriage or a strapful gown? Met a sung hero or experienced requited love? Have you ever run into someone who was combobulated, gruntled, ruly or peccable? And where are all those people who ARE spring chickens or who would ACTUALLY hurt a fly?

You have to marvel at the unique lunacy of a language in which your house can burn up as it burns down, in which you fill in a form by filling it out and in which an alarm goes off by going on.

The writer concludes, English was invented by people, not computers and it reflects the creativity of the human race (which, of course, is not a race at all). That is why, when the stars are out they are visible, but when the lights are out they are invisible. And why, when I wind up my watch, I start it, but when I wind up this essay, I end it?

Letters to the Editor

Dr. Roberts: We must abide the laws that govern us

Dear Editor

The recent acts of trespassing and vandalism at our new high school site are shocking and despicable. The Clarkston community has come to expect a standard of behavior which is rooted in traditional American values, and we are law abiding citizens. So, when the laws of the land are violated, we feel violated as well

As your Superintendent of Schools, I realize that Clarkston is not immune from the troubles facing our greater society (substance abuse, disregard for authority, etc.). As a community, we must refuse to accept the illegal acts of a few as "to be expected" or "par for the course." We must continue to expect all community members, students, employees, contractors, and those who visit our fair township to abide by the laws that govern us

It is important for the community to know that in the latest incident we avoided possible damage/injury because of the quick thinking of neighbors who noticed unauthorized persons on the grounds and reported this information to local law enforcement officers.

The African quote, "It takes a village to raise a child" has received considerable attention in recent years. The Clarkston community is fortunate that there are folks who believe in this philosophy and take their civic responsibility seriously. We are indeed a better fvillage" because of it.

Sincerely, Albert G. Roberts, Ed.D. Superintendent

Thank you for your support

Dear Editor

The Independence Township Fire Department would like to thank you for your past years of support for the Labor Day Pancake Breakfast. Unfortunately, with the drop in manpower, we are unable to continue to sponsor this event.

The following is a list of organizations that have greatly benefited from your appreciated generosity:

Jerry Lewis Telethon - Muscular Dystrophy Asociation:

University of Michigan Burn Center;

Lighthouse North - Clarkston.

There is the possibility that the pancake breakfast will be resumed by the Masonic Lodge next year. Hopefully they will continue with what has become for so many a family tradition.

Once again, the fire department wishes to extend its appreciation and we wish you and your families a safe and happy Labor Day weekend.

Respectfully, Independence Township Fire Department

DON'T RUSH ME / by Don Rush

It feels like school-time

This week feels like a back to school week. This makes sense, of course, because many kids are going back to school after their summer breaks. More than that, however, it feels like it's time to go back to school.

There is something in the air, maybe it is the air. It's not as humid — a little more crisp. Shadows are a little longer in the evening. It just feels like it is time to go back to school.

I was a normal kid and every summer I looked forward to the change of pace — get me back to class. "What time is the bus getting here, 7:30? Fine I'll be at the stop at six, just get me to school." There is only so much fishing, swimming, bike riding, lawn cutting, summer funning a kid can take.

I enjoyed going back to school, except for one year. That was the year Mom and Dad decided to move their clan from Redford Township to ... somewhere in north Oakland County. That was the year I started the third grade at Ashcroft Elementary School on West Chicago Street (across from St. Roberts Catholic Church) and ended it at Clarkston's Bailey Lake Elementary School on Pine Knob Road (next to a farm with cows and manure).

The fact that we would move from the only home and friends I, in my short life, had ever known didn't register until the beginning of the school year. I was a wild and goofy third grade boy and all my wild and goofy third grade boy friends were joining the scouts. Naturally I wanted to join:

I brought home the letter for Mom and Dad to sign so I could get involved — this was going to be cool (we still used that word back then). Not that I was spoiled, or always got my way, but I was not prepared for the parental veto on the scouting bill.

I was shocked and stunned. To this day I don't know the reason I couldn't join, but my recollection was it was because we were moving. I hated the idea of moving then. Oh, cruel world, why, why, why?

Sensing my dismay, the folks (bless them) quickly jumped into action and found something little sis Barb and I could join to end this urban tragedy.

Ah, youth. It's a good thing kids are resilient. While all my buddies were learning to use compasses, and jack knives I got a brand new pair of tap shoes and would be dancing with my sister.

Oh joy.

"One, two, three, one, two, three, heel, toe, heel."

The male ego is a fragile thing, and even at the tender age of eight I sensed something was amiss with dancing, when the other boys were whittling and scouting.

I think I was then ready for the move to Clarkstor and my new life at Bailey Eake Elementary School - where nobody would be the wiser of Twinkle Toe

A Look Back

15 YEARS AGO (1983)

Florida developer Conrad Wagner is pursuing his plans for the $30-million Pine Knob complex, including the golf course and two exclusive restaurants. Negotiations are underway with the current owners.

In one week 40 postcard ballots are returned to the Village of Clarkston, supporting reimplementation of the historic district ordinance.

About 3,650 copies of the Clarkston Community Schools' 1983-84 Handbook and Calendar for Parents and Students are being mailed out to parents in the district. Assistant superintendent Mel Vaara says that's a sure sign it's back-to-school time.

25 YEARS AGO (1973)

Clarkston Village Council passes a new village zoning ordinance, 3-2, which, for the most part, zones land according to its current use.

"We shook a few cherry trees, but I'd do it the same way again," he says. Stonerock is continuing his Air-Land Surveys, a local aerial mapping business.

FOCUS ON THE FAMILY

By Dr. James Dobson

Sponsored by First Missionary Church of Clarkston

Ouestion: You listed alcoholism as a marriage-killer. My husband has that problem. It has created a great deal of pain in our home, and I am concerned about the emotional welfare of my children. Can it be treated, and is there hope for families like mine?

Dr. Dobson: Alcoholism is a devastating disease, not only for the person who has it, but for his or her entire family. Research shows that 40 percent of people living in Western nations have a close family member who is an alcoholic. That incidence is even higher in Russia and other countries of Eastern Europe.

There is no way to calculate the impact of this problem on children, on spouses, and on the culture itself. Fortunately, it can be treated successfully for those who are willing to seek that help.

I discussed the issue of alcoholism with a panel of knowledgeable people on the Focus on the Family radio broadcast, including Dr. Keith Simpson, a physician who has treated this problem for 20 years.

I did not ask the panel members for a detailed analysis of alcoholism; our listeners already knew how serious it is. Rather, I wanted the panel to provide us with practical suggestions as to how family members can recognize the disease and then be of help to those they love. The answers they gave were most encouraging and enlightening.

Dr. Simpson was asked whether alcoholism can be treated successfully today. Is it a hopeless condition, or is there a way out for the victim and his family?

This was his reply:

"I specialized in the field of internal medicine for many years, but found it to be depressing work. I could help my patients with chronic lung disease and severe diabetes and heart disease, but in reality, my efforts were just a delaying action. Over time, conditions worsened and the diseases progressed. I made my rounds in intensive care each day and watched people losing their battle for life, whereas my alcoholic patients were

'That's why I deal almost exclusively with alcoholics now, and I find it to be extremely rewarding work. I see people who come in with more horrible problems than you can imagine, but they get into a recovery program, and in a few months the difference is like going from night to day. So, yes, not only is alcoholism treatable, but the medical community does better with this disorder than any other chronic disease. Alcoholics emerge from treatment programs more functionally integrated, more capable and more effective than before they 'caught' the disease."

That was the theme of the entire discussion: There is hope for the alcoholic! But before recovery can begin, the problem has to be acknowledged and treatment sought. That applies to your own family situation, I'm sure. Your husband can be helped if he has "the want to."

FITFORLIFE by Heather Haepers Proper footwear

When working out it is important to wear proper footwear. Athletic shoes are made specifically for particular sports and activities, as well as for certain orthopedic necessities. The proper shoe depends on the activity.

Walking - It is best to wear athletic shoes specifically designed for walking. Walking shoes will have the ample arch support that walkers need. There are also shoes made that help to control pronation or suppination (your foot turns inward or outward). Your other option is to wear running shoes which will again offer good arch support, but will offer more impact protection.

Running - When running it is important to wear only shoes made for that sport. Although you can wear running shoes to walk in, it is not recommended to wear walking shoes to run in.

Most of the larger footwear stores will carry a wide variety of running shoes. Typically, you can rate the shoe by the price. The more a shoe costs the longer it will last. It will also offer more support and impact protection. If you only run a few miles per week, you probably do not need the top of the line shoe. On the other hand, if you are running more than 35 miles per week, you should consider a higher end shoe.

Aerobics - Your best bet with aerobics is to wear either the shoes made specifically for aerobics or a cross trainer. If you tend to do several types of studio classes (step, low, hi/lo, box-aerobics, kick boxing, spinning, etc.), you can wear a crosstrainer or an aerobic

If you pretty much stick to the basics (step, low, hi/lo), a shoe made specifically for aerobics is recommended. Again, the more you spend, the better quality shoe you will get. If you are doing more than four to five classes per week or a lot of high impact, I would recommend a higher end shoe. When looking for the proper aerobics shoe, look for both heel and forefoot cushioning as well as ankle and arch support.

Of course we can't forget the machines that many of us work out on. If you prefer steppers, bikes, crosstrainers, etc., a crosstraining shoe is probably best for you. This will give you the versatility you need for these types of exercise.

Readiness progam prepares 4 year-olds for kindergarten

In an attempt to enable all children to be ready for kindergarten, the Michigan School Readiness Preschool program in conjunction with Clarkston schools is providing free preschool for families who qualify.

The program begins this month at the Clarkston Community Education Center, 5275 Maybee Road, under the direction of Margie Ried, supervisor of the Funshine Early Childhood Program.

Clarkston schools is funded for 33 students and Ried said August 27 there are about 10 openings remaining.

Children eligible for the program must be four, but less than five years old as of December 1. They must also be identified by two or more characteristics which place them at risk of being educationally disadvantaged and in need of special assistance.

There are 25 risk factors including: low birth weight; developmentally immature; physical or sexual abuse and neglect; nutritional deficiency; long-term or chronic illness in the home; substance abuse in the home; non-English or limited English speaking environment; single parent; unemployed parent; or a teenage parent, among other characteristics.

The income eligibility guidelines range from an annual income of $21,143 for a family of two, to $50,956 for a family of eight.

Parents must participate in some way in the program, and there will be two home visits, two parent-teacher conferences, and field trips. Grant-funded counseling is available.

The preschool program runs from Monday to Thursday, from 1 to 4 p.m. Day-care assistance for parents who work is also available.

For more information call Margie Ried, 674-4702.

Artist of the Month Lois Pety is impressed with Impressions

Lois Pety has been painting the beauty around her since she was a young girl. As artist of the month at the Clarkston Fine Arts Gallery, she shares her vision with visitors to the gallery during the month of September.

The longtime Clarkston resident is a former art teacher who adored her students. "When people asked me how many children I had, I told them I had 134 children," she laughed.

Pety said many of her students continue to keep in touch with her, which brings her a great deal of pleasure

Pety will have about 20 oil paintings in her exhibit, featuring flowers, animals and abstracts. She said she is most inspired by the Impressionist style, and counts Vincent Van Gogh as well as American painter Georgia O'Keefe among her favorites.

The Clarkston Fine Arts Gallery showcases the work of about 20 artists from Clarkston and Waterford. Sculpture, pottery, drawings and paintings in all media are featured.

The gallery is in an office building located at 7151 Ortonville Road (M-15) south of I-75. The gallery is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays. For more information, call 625-8439,

Manpower the next battle ground in fire debate

As contract talks wind down, the debate still rages between the township and its firefighters on issues of acceptable manpower and staffing levels in the township's three fire stations.

New OSHA regulations regarding acceptable staffing levels on fire scenes and search and rescue operations will put pressure on both the firefighters and the township to comply with the new federal and state laws.

The emotionally charged issue holds promise for continued tensions between the two parties, and has already resulted in widely differing opinions on the township's response to the matter.

Supervisor Dale Stuart and firefighter Larry Wormnest write to The Clarkston News editor this week with their line of sight on the manpower de-

Fire service important

In a recent issue, The Clarkston News ran a story and editorial regarding the Independence Township Fire Department. Obviously, providing quality fire protection services is an important function of local government. For that reason, I am taking this opportunity to provide additional information and assurances to the citizens of Independence Township.

Since I was first elected township supervisor in 1992, Chief Wilson and I have been discussing the manpower and equipment needs of the Township. However, it was not prudent to announce or begin implementing those plans until we could settle the labor negotiations with the firefighters union which have been going on for almost two years. The demands of the union would have resulted in substantial increases in the cost of running the Fire Department. Obviously, until we knew what the settlement would cost, we could not take on the burden and additional cost of additional personnel.

Now, the contract has been settled. Although the agreement is generous to the firefighters, it will not break the township budget. More importantly, we now know our costs and can move to implement our plans. This settlement was reached using the services of an arbitrator at a meeting that was planned weeks ago.

The Clarkston News suggests we need .9 firefighters for 1,000 residents, based on some national statistics. That would mean a total of 26 people, 11 more that the current 15 full-time fire suppression personnel. This could well require doubling the current three mills of tax which generate $2,500,000 per year. If that occurred, the Fire Department budget would be larger that all other township departments combined.

Independence Township fire protection services compare very favorably with townships with a similar tax base and population with regard to facilities, equipment and manpower. Rather that relying on national statistics, our plans (on hold pending resolution of the union contract) are specifically designed to meet the needs of our community.

Dale A. Stuart Independence Township Supervisor

Who will pay the price if we're not ready?

This letter is in response to the statement made by Mr. Neil Wallace, a trustee of Independence Township who referred to himself as a hostage of the fire department.

Strange Mr. Wallace should say that.

Tell me Sir, when was the gun drawn and put to your head? I thought the vote was unanimous when the contract ratification was held during your special closed session as was stated in this paper. Why did you feel you have to say we are "holding you hostage?" Isn't that what terrorists do? Are you calling us terrorists?

According to the dictionary a terrorist is: to fill or overcome with terror; to dominate, coerce or subdue by terror or intimidation.

I don't think we used any of those tactics while negotiating this contract. As you were nor a part of the township negotiating team, I am curious as to which one gave you this idea. All we wanted was a fair contract from our employer and to know that they were supporting us. I guess that is too much to ask from this board.

You talk like our new contract is going to put the township in the red. I hardly think so. All we ask is to make enough money so we can live in the community in which we work.

Unfortunately that is not the case. Fortunately, my family and I bought our home in 1974. If I had to buy in this community today I could not. I could never afford one of the homes being built today. Not on my salary.

When you talk about the subject of being held hostage, we are the ones that should feel this way by this board. It has been brought to the attention of Supervisor Dale Stuart numerous times on our shortage of manpower within the fire department, but we are just ignored. The officers of the Fire Fighters Association, (the on-call personnel) have voiced their concerns as well. He still won't act.

Funny there also appeared in the same issue of this paper that the fire department will no longer sponsor the annual Labor Day breakfast because of manpower shortages.

This decision was made by the officers of the oncall ranks, the Independence Fire Fighters Association. They can see the problem we are in, why can't the board? How can we be expected to handle the emergencies within this community when we can't even serve a breakfast? Do any of the board members have any ideas?

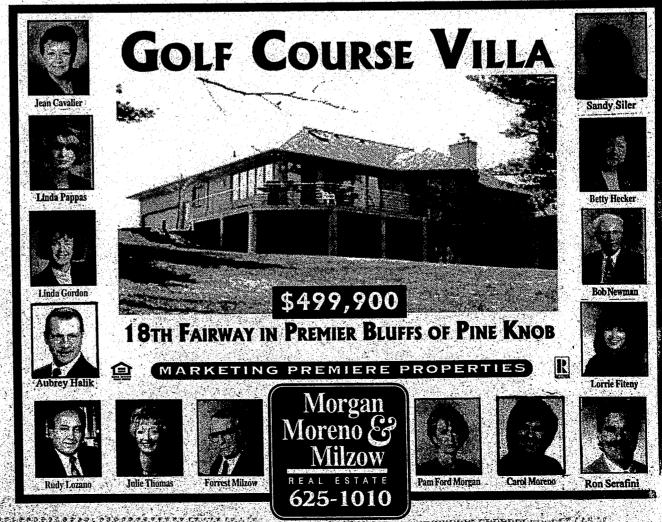

I'm not holding a gun to your head, just asking for advice. Will we next discontinue the Fourth of July parade? Or will we cut back on some of the more critical services we provide this community?

In the not too distant future it will become a real problem. When the new O.S.H.A. law comes into effect October 1 of this year, the manpower problem will really be felt.

Are we trying to prepare for this so when the time comes we will be ready? Not that I have seen. It seems that Mr. Stuart's plan is just to bury his head in the sand and maybe it will go away. At least that is how it looks from here. Unfortunately though, who will pay the price?

Engineer Larry Wormnest Independence Township Fire Department International Association of Fire Fighters Local 2629

the township when he tried to operate his arial photogrammetric mapping business, Air-Land Surveys, Inc., from his home, located elsewhere. He moved his business and family to the two-acre commercially zoned parcel on M-15. Since then, he's moved as a resident again, but his office still stands.

"I was driven there, but it really turned out to be a good investment. I plan on selling it," he said. "It's my retirement plan." In a letter to the editor, which appeared in the May 27 edition of The Clarkston News, Stonerock's wife Onalee agrees it's a matter of "grass roots tyranny." The phrase comes from the title of a book which argues local government control.

Onalee Stonerock says the township is indeed controlling. "Zoning can be good if it's done fairly and not prejudicially, but what's going on in Independence Township is just the opposite of this ... Talk about fair. They want to downgrade us and give a higher zoning."

She says one problem is light industrial could be permitted under office/research and, if that happens on the west side of M-15, it will back up to residential neighborhoods.

Although he hails Vision 2020 as basically "a good plan," Gary Stonerock takes issue with his own situation. "What I'm fighting is a taking without compensation," he said. "I lose value."

In his last ad published June 24, Stonerock included a tear-out portion to be sent to the Independence Township clerk's office, urging people to print their names and "go on record as opposing the Vision 2020 Plan and large light manufacturing development at I-75

Township clerk Joan McCrary said she has received 404 responses but, because they weren't signed, she's unsure whether they're valid. Stonerock did not seek permission to send them to the clerk's office, she added.

Lance Baylis, who co-owns a health care business with his mother Maria just north of the interchange, says the family also disagrees with the proposed zoning in that area. The Baylis family, which includes his brother Larry, a doctor whose office is also located in the building, owns six acres — also zoned C-3, which was purchased by their late father many years ago.

While he sympathizes, even agrees with Stonerock, Lance says the Baylises are going about their dispute differently. They also sold 25 acres on M-15 to Clarkston schools for the new elementary school.

"Here's where we stand. We just got done working with the township and school on the 25 acres of our (former) farm and the question about the barn remaining there. We worked everything out. Dale Stuart, Dick Carlisle. (township attorney) Gerry Fisher—these are very reasonable people," Baylis said.

"Of course we'll see the value go down," he admitted, regarding the possible rezoning. "It's like playing a basketball game, and in the fourth quarter they change the rules."

Unlike Stonerock, the family is willing to compromise. "We're going into this with an open mind; we're not going to get in a big tizzy. We want to do something that's amenable to everybody," Baylis said.

Township planner Dick Carlisle said the concept for the interchange is only a vision; it's not carved in stone. Supervisor Dale Stuart calls it "malleable," as a guide for future planning.

However, "Vision 2020 is going to be adopted as part of the township's master plan," Carlisle said. Participants in the Vision 2020 process had two primary concerns with the M-15/I-75 interchange area, he added: traffic and developing the frontage on the west side of M-15 so as not to adversely affect exisitng residents.

Carlisle said certain types of uses, such as the "light industrial" permitted under office/research, can only come about with special land use approval. He says highway commercial (C-3) uses would be much more disruptive because fast-food restaurants and other intense uses would not only prove objectionable to residents, but multiply traffic congestion.

"The issue is the potential of a very intensive impact on M-15 with traffic conditions and on the surrounding residential uses," he said. "Plus, you have properties that are not large enough to deal with access. You don't have a lot of room to deal with access to M-15, curb cuts, joint driveways, etc."

Ironically, the area has been master-planned for office for years — and that's just what has happened there, Carlisle said. Office developments like the Prudential Building have trickled in, indicating those uses are appropriate for the area, he said.

Carlisle sees them as a boon, not a detriment. "If you look at buildings like the Prudential Building, how could that do anything other than enhance people's values?" he said.

Carlise noted in the early '90s officials met with Stonerock several times, willing to work out a compromise. In exchange for nixing his plans to develop the lot commercially, they proposed two new zoning categories (office service one and office service two), that allowed Stonerock to blend office and certain kinds of commercial, excluding "fast-food, gas stations, convenience stores" and other uses.

However, Stonerock proposed his own zoning category, more intensely commercial. The matter was never resolved.

McCrary and Stuart said Stonerock's public attack has come "out of the blue." Both agreed there were past attempts at compromise. The proposed office zoning was given a first reading, also in the '90s, "But there was such an outcry from residents and threats of lawsuits, it was never brought up for a second reading," McCrary said.

"We're doing what we think the public wants, the 2020 plan and the northwest part of the township with a rural ambiance to it. And it is developing along those lines... They agreed to not let it become commercial like Dixie Highway." McCrary said "There will most likely be a public hearing regarding the zoning change."

Meanwhile, Stonerock says he will put his parcel up for sale—at the current C-3 zoning. "If they try to rezone it and squelch a deal, I'll file a lawsuit. I have everything in place to do that," he said.

He said it's strange he's having this problem, when he won his former seat as supervisor on land-use issues, including the defeat of a proposed Kmart on Dixie Highway.

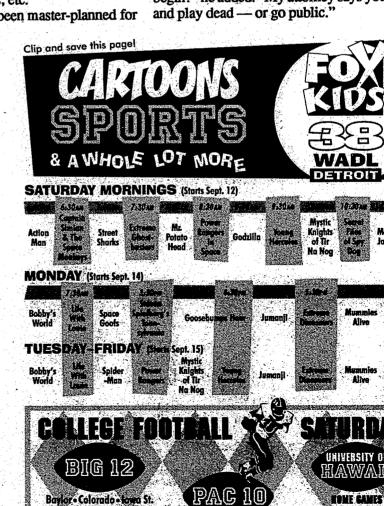

"Where does one person's right end and another's begin?" he added. "My attorney says you can roll over

Tajikistan -- Church World Service is appealing for $20,000 to assist people affected by severe flooding in Tajikistan. Heavy snowfalls and rain in April caused a series of avalanches, floods and landslides in the eastern and central parts of Tajikistan that destroyed villages, dikes, canals and reservoirs. Also destroyed were 15,000 hectares of farmland, roads, electric power and communication lines, and sewage systems. Heavy rains continued in May and June throughout the country. CWS funding will assist programs of the Russian Orthodox Church and Hungarian Interchurch Aid, which are providing rehabilitation and continuing relief assistance to vulnerable flood survivors, including widows and orphans. Our partners are distributing food, cleaning supplies and clothing, as well as construction materials for rebuilding damaged houses. Local emergency response capacity-building courses are also being planned. The program will last six months -- through January 31, 1999.

CWS will channel funds through Action by Churches Together for rehabilitation needs ion Tajikistan. CROP Walk dollars help meet the special needs of refugees and assist after disasters.

You will make a difference by walking/running or sponsoring a walker/runner.

Registration begins at 1:30 p.m. at Calvary Lutheran Church parking lot, 6805 Bluegrass, west of M-15.

"Grand Poobah" by his administrative assistant Ellen Whitehead, chuckled and indicated he will be more low-key than the Flintstones persona, in acting as parade marshal.

"I suppose I'll be in the convertible and wave to the folks. And I'll have to hand something out to the crowds," he said.

According to the parade committee, goodies will indeed need to be hand-outs only. The throwing of candy has been hazardous in past processions. "(It) has a potential for disaster," McCloskey said. "As an example, throwing hard candy is similar to throwing small stones." Participants are asked to abide by those rules, preferably handing out candy at curbsides.

The parade begins at 10 a.m., proceeding west from Church Street, down N. Main and west on Miller, until it ends at St. Daniel Catholic Church. Floats, the Clarkston High School Marching Band and "lots of people" are all part of the atmosphere, McCloskey said.

He asks that participants arrive at Clarkston Elementary School between 8 and 9 a.m. to insure they'll be organized and ready to march; and that everyone completes the parade route. In past years, some participants have dropped out by the turn at Miller, which "creates a very dangerous situation," he McCloskey doesn't have the number of entries tallied yet, but says folks who are still interested should fax their requests to him at (248) 625-8721. "That way I can send them back a fax with the information they need," he said.

Rotary secretary Harold Wiederhold, who is in charge of floats, said folks should play down the advertising and politics, keeping the theme of Labor Day uppermost in their floats and displays. According to the parade committee, Labor Day is observed as "a celebration of American workers."

"After all, that's why it got started in the first place," Wiederhold said. "That's what Labor Day is."

Football team united for new season

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The formula for the Clarkston varsity football team's success in the past has been simple.

The players band together as one unit. Make the whole greater than the sum of its parts, and defeat more talented opponents.

Head coach Kurt Richardson believes that formula could be used by his team once again in 1998.

"These kids are pretty tight," he said. "When we scrimmaged (Farmington Hills) Harrison, things didn't go our way, but the kids were very suportive of each other. They hung together, and that was a good test for

The preseason testing is over as of Friday. The Wolves kick off their season against Waterford Kettering at 7 p.m. The game will be played at the old CHS field. Richardson said the decision on when the team will play home games at the new field will be done on a week-to-week basis. The next home game is Sept.

25 against Brandon.

This year's football team has a much different offensive look than in recent years. Senior Eric Jenks takes over as the starting quarterback, where he will run the option. The option is a running-based attack, requiring the quarterback to have good speed, quickness and decision-making skills. Jenks has all those, as well as a deep stable of running backs to pitch the ball to.

"We're getting much better running our offense," Richardson said. "Jenks is improving all the time, but my only worry is that we're a little banged up in the backfield right now."

Senior Tim Loveless shoud see a ton of playing time, both at halfback and fullback, in addition to his duties as a linebacker on defense. Junior Chris Mitchell - the JV team's leading rusher last season - has also impressed in preseason at halfback. Junior Rocky Lund also figures into the mix. Lund is an excellent athlete, who combines good strength and speed.

Seniors Nick Upchurch and Dave Smith expect to shoulder much of the fullback responsibilities, along with Loveless.

Richardson said he is excited about the development of the offensive line.

"As the Hogs go, we'll go," he said. "They are a very intelligent group and make all the right calls. They understand everything we do, and I feel very good about our line."

The line won't be at 100 percent this week, as senior Ron Tolbert will miss the game with an injury. The rest of the offensive line includes: juniors Ryan "Bubba" Clement, Jon Robinson and Brent Schermerhorn, and senior Klinton Powell.

Although the team will stress the running game, Richardson was quick to point out that Jenks will be expected to throw the ball well. Two of his primary targets will include senior Erich Poley - the team's most improved offensive player last year - and sophomore Ryan Briceland.

"They run good routes, and Eric throws well on the run," Richardson said. "We'll call more rollout passes to take advantage of that."

Defensively, the team will stick with its 50 setup, and will emphasize a more attacking style this year. Upchurch anchors a defensive line that made a habit of making big plays a year ago.

"Our linebackers are not real big, and the secondary is scrambled right now," Richardson said. "We've got seven kids fighting for playing time, and we've got some injuries that have to get better."

Another defensive standout is senior Ronnie Wells, who Richardson said is 95 percent recovered from an injured ankle.

The Monster's prediction of the OAA Division I for football

- 1 Troy
- 2 Clarkston
- 3 Lake Orion
- 4 Rochester
- 5 Rochester Adams
- 6 Troy Athens

Stop if you've heard this before - Troy is expected to be a top contender in the OAA Division I this year. Despite losing all-everything RB Jim Essian, QB Mike Clinton returns, and he's got his usual Zeppelinsized offensive line to work behind.

Lake Orion returns QB Darren Tooley, WR Adam Eldridge and RB Steve Sergeant to an already-potent offense. Rochester has excellent athletes all over the field, while Rochester Adams made it to the state quarterfinals last year.

"The league is more balanced than it was last year," Richardson said. "Troy Athens got a couple of real good transfers, so they're more optimistic over there. The league will be a real dogfight this year.

"We're not as physical as I'd like to be right now," he said. "We need to pick that up."

The Hogs' show why it's a group that has as much fun as anyone on the varsity football team. Coach Kurt Richardson said this is a line that is bigger than in the past, and very intelligent at calling plays. The Hogs are made up of players that play on the offensive and defensive lines.

Not just pigs in a blanket

'The Hogs' a big part of football success

BY BRAD MONASTIERE Clarkston News Staff Writer

They don't get their name read over the loudspeakers. Their uniforms are the muddiest. Their helmets the most scarred. And their bodies sport the most bruises, cuts and other badges of honor.

Yet, no group of players may be more important to the success of the 1998 Clarkston football team than the offensive linemen, part of a group known as "The Hoes."

Getting their nickname from the tough offensive lines of the Washington Redskins that won three Super Bowls from 1982-91, "The Hogs" are the team's entire group of linemen, offensive and defensive, as well as tight ends.

What are some of the qualifications to be a Hog? A big body doesn't hurt, as does the appreciation of things like muddy fields, grass stains and eye black that gets smeared all over one's face, all 30 minutes before kickoff.

Junior Ryan "Bubba" Clement says the linemen are the closest-knit group of players on the team.

"Any of us would do anything for the other linemen,"he said. "When we go out, we go out together. People don't talk about individuals with the line. When they say the line, they're referring to the entire group."

Clement is the only junior on the team with two seasons of varsity experience. He was brought up to the varsity early in his freshman season of 1996, when the Wolves went undefeated in the regular season and won the OAA Division I.

One of the annual rituals of the Hogs has been the Hog Dinner, held a few weeks ago at Clement's house. After a steady "diet" of hot dogs, hamburgers, chips and pop, the players gathered in the basement to keep up a fine Hog tradition: watching professional wrestling.

Varsity football coach Kurt Richardson said the line may play a more prominent role on this year's team because of the style of offense he will run.

"We will be a more running-oriented team, winning games 14-0 and 21-7," he said. "This is the best size on the lines we've had in a long time. We'll be able to run the power game a little more, but we'll throw the ball too, so they need to give Eric (Jenks) time to throw."

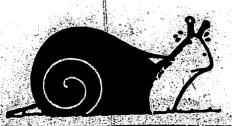

It's not easy to measure statistically the contributions an offensive line makes to a team. In recent years, some teams have recorded "pancake" blocks - ones where the offensive lineman so thoroughly dominates a defender, he flattens him to the ground, like a pancake. Another stat could be sacks allowed. This is one area where the fewer the number, the better.

But still, these stats aren't as clear-cut to fans as passing yards, catches or touchdowns. Clement said the linemen actually thrive on the lack of statistical recognition, and get it in other ways.

"As linemen, we can see the whole field, so when one of our guys makes a big play, we notice it and pat him on the back,"he said. "When one of us pancakes someone, it's the greatest thing in the world. It's something we notice ourselves, and that's good enough for us."

Richardson paid the line a great compliment when talking about its role in the upcoming season when he said "We'll go as the Hogs go." A constant feeling coming from this year's team is the unity and close-knit feeling among all the players. Clement echoed this.

"This is the closest team I've seen since my freshman year,"Clement said. "We are a team that mixes real well, and we're looking to do the best we

Cheerleaders a group that sticks together

BY BRAD MONASTIERE Clarkston News Staff Writer

Watching the Clarkston varsity cheerleading team is like seeing a nice painting. The finished product looks smooth, but doesn't do justice to the amount of work that went into it.

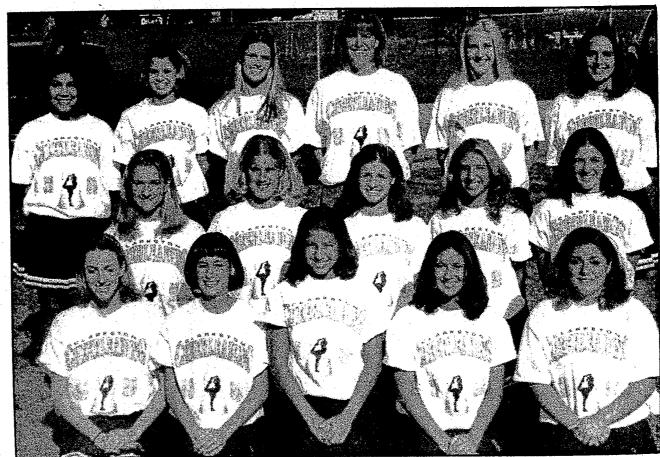

Cheerleaders are a major presence at football and boys basketball games. They make every game, home or away, and add an irreplaceable bit of spice to the rich high school sports atmosphere.

Coach Debi Hool, entering her 11th year as the varsity cheerleading coach, says she is excited about this year's team, which returns six members of last year's squad.

"We have a very good mix of girls this year," she said. "We have no attitude problems, either. Everyone works well together, and is running very well right now."

The returning members of the team are: Michelle Wilson, Suzin Vagts, Tesia Rezmer, Jenni Szilvagyi, Jenny Pasfield and Constance Webb. Wilson draws oohs and aahs at many games with her runs and flips down the track or basketball court. She is also one of the top track athletes in the school.

Hool said one of the best things about this team is how equal everyone has been in their relationships with each other. She has decided not to have a captain of this Continued on Page 6B

Rossman now in charge of varsity pom pon squad

BY BRAD MONASTIERE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The 1997-98 Clarkston varsity pom pon team was one of the best in school history, winning a Class A state title.

While former coach Gina Shore left her position to start a "team" of her own, first-year coach Jenn Rossman is hoping to build upon last year's success.

"It's always been my goal to coach a dance team," she said. "This is a good opportunity with an improving program, and I'd like to get a more positive atmosphere with the team."

The team lost 10 four-year veterans to graduation last year, but some of this year's returning girls have their own list of accomplishments as well.

At the team's summer camp at Oakland University, Clarkston was awarded the all-around superior trophy, won technique awards and earned a number of blue ribbons. Individual all-stars named at the camp included Tara Matkowksy, Allison Turner, Nikki Pattison and Jenny Carline.

Matkowski, Turner, Britt Detkowski and Erin Przybylski were named all-Americans in the National Cheerleading Association competition, also held at OU last month.

"The challenge is to stay as successful as we've Continued on Page 19B

Kenneth Dooley

Kenneth L. Dooley, 79, of Clarkston, died August 29, 1998.

He is survived by his wife Helen; daughter Carol (Ray) Kasat of Waterford; sons Michael (Lynda) of New York, Richard (Dena) of Waterford and Timothy (Kathleen) of Milford, grandchildren Kelly McClain, Paul and Julie Kasat, Laura Weintraub, Mark and Stephen Dooley, Jerry and David Pittman, and Brendan Dooley; four great-grandchildren; and sister Ellen (George) Jones of Waterford.

A funeral service took place Wednesday morning at the St. Trinity Lutheran Church with Rev. Klafehn officiating. A graveside service followed at Glen Eden Cemetery in Livonia. Memorials can be made to the church.

Geraldine Feltes

Geraldine V. Feltes, 73, of Clarkston, died August 29, 1998.

Mrs. Feltes volunteered at the Independence Township Senior Center, Parks and Recreation, and the Library.

She was preceded in death by her husband Raymond. She is survived by special friends Randy and Sarah Jidas.

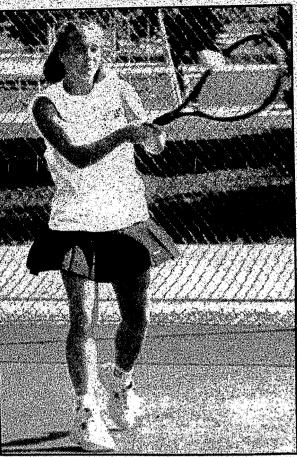

A funeral service took place Tuesday at the Lewis E. Wint and Son Trust 100 Funeral Home in Clarkston with Rev. Douglas Trebilcock officiating. Interment was at Oakland Hills Cemetery.

Athlete of the Week: Lauren Bogart

Salut, Lauren: No, she isn't related to that actor who owned the bar in Casablanca, but senior Lauren Bogart has dispatched many foes in her career the same way the Allied Forces took care of the German Army. Bogart is a veteran of the girls tennis team and is off to a good start at the #2 singles position. She breezed to a win over Brandon Thursday, and played perhaps her best match against Nada Abu-Isa Masternick of highly ranked Rochester Adams, losing 3-6, 7-5, 6-4. With so many young girls on the team, she is also being looked to for leadership. She was voted captain by her teammates, and sets a strong example with her work ethic, athletic skill, and supportive ways with her fellow tennis aces. Assistant coach Wayne Gilbert called Bogart one of the best female athletes he's ever been around.

Coach Melissa White on Lauren: Lauren is a very headstrong player, never anxious or nervous on the court. She is real consistent, stays strong and is very fast. She was at the front of our conditioning runs all the time in the offseason, even though I knew she didn't want to do that. She's just an all-around great athlete who never complains."

Lauren on Lauren: "Being a leader is good, because now, more is expected of me than just playing tennis. It's a much bigger responsibility. Last year, we had some seniors, so I wasn't expected to be a leader, I just kind of did it. They set a good Lauren Bogart example forme, and I'm trying to do the same for our younger players."

squad, because in a way, it's a team full of captains.

"There isn't one person that stands out," she said. "There are some, like Michelle, Jenny and Marie Fahmer, that the other girls look up to." Fahmer was voted the MVP of the JV cheerleading team last year.

In addition to their tireless work fans see on the field and in the gyms, the squad takes a lot of time for volunteer work. Hool said the team will volunteer at Special Olympics events throughout the state this year, and will work with kids at skiing events at Pine Knob in the winter. The team also particiapted in its annual Adopt-A-Road program this sumer, cleaning up a section of Waldon Road near the old high school. At least, as much cleaning as can be expected of an area under so much construction.

The team plans to cheer at a Detroit Lions home game once again this season. Last year, the team performed in front of more than 80,000 fans at the Pontiac Silverdome as the Lions upset the defending Super Bowl champions Green Bay Packers 26-15.

The team doesn't get into shape to do those flips, throws and tumbles just by putting on the uniform and showing up to games, as Hool pointed out.

"At practice, the girls run for two miles, then we do 30 more minutes of conditioning," she said. "We've got six girls who have the same kind of gymnastics background as Michelle has, so it's good that we can get different ideas for different areas."

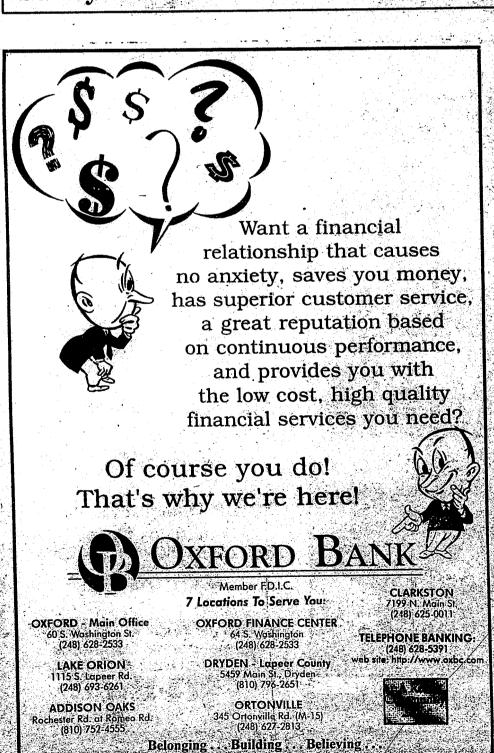

The team did well in summer competitions at Camp Nahelu in Ontonville, and will participate in eight competitions starting in the late fall.

Back to back

The Chase Plastics 11-12 year old Independence Township Parks & Rec baseball team has had big-time success the past three years. With many of the players staying together through the 9-10 year old leagues, the team completed back-to-back playoff championship seasons this summer. The team members are: (back L-R) sponsor Kevin Chase, coach Craig Medlen, assistant coach Bob Hoff, assistant coach Tom Johns, (middle L-R) Danny Walsh, Jack Kinsey, Tom Garavaglia, Kyle Shepherd, Brian Chase, Keith Boatman, (front L-R) Scott Medlen, Trevor Johns, Bryan Morin, Robbie Hoff, Alec Sanger, and Franklin Kramer. 5 points in 6 seconds gives Wolves crushing loss

Oak. Christian 55

Clarkston

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Losses don't get much more gut-wrenching than this.

The Clarkston varsity girls basketball team lost a game in heartbreaking fashion, 55-53 to Oakland Christian Tuesday night in the first round of the Oxford Invitational at Oxford High School. The Wolves play at 5:30 p.m. Thursday against the loser of the Oxford-Lake Orion game in the tournament consolation game.

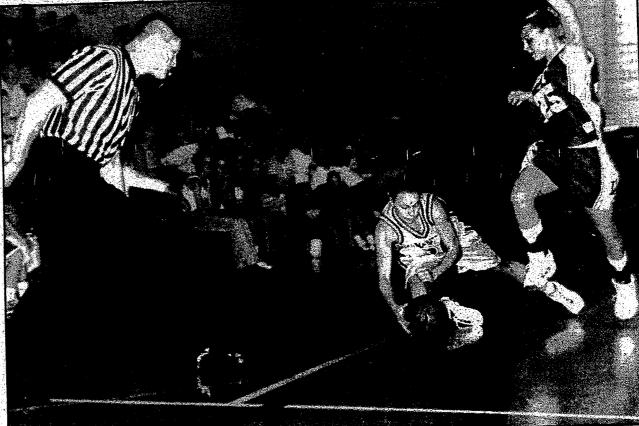

Oakland Christian's Becky Neal made three straight free throws, stole the inbounds pass, and sank an eight-foot baseline jumper in the last six seconds of the game to give the Lancers the win.

After the game, Clarkston coach Ann Lowney said Neal was the kind of player who can win games like that.

"Oakland Christian deserved to win that game," she said. "They outplayed us for 30 minutes, and we outplayed them for two.

"Ishould have called timeout (before the inbounds pass), because it's easier to score from halfcourt."

The loss spoiled a tough effort by several of Clarkston's young players like freshman Kaye Christie, sophomore Sarah Morgan and junior Candace Morgan. Christie played tough at both ends, finishing with 11 points, four rebounds and three steals. Sarah Morgan overcame foul trouble to convert key fourth-quarter baskets. Candace Morgan (no relation) played a terrific full-court game, with 14 points and a career-high five rebounds.

Senior Deana Kanipe dives on the floor for a loose ball, a very common sight at Clarkston girls basketball games. Kanipe led the Wolves with 20 points in their season-opening 69-28 win over the Lapeer West Panthers Aug. 26.

Lowney said the team will learn from the loss, specifically in raising their practice intensity level.

"Our practices have to be like games,"she said.
"We're a young team, and we need to grow up a little bit. We made turnovers in practice, and we turned the ball over tonight."

The Wolves started sluggish, falling behind 17-8 after the first quarter. Senior Deana Kanipe picked up two early fouls, and was unable to spark the team defensively like she normally does.

Down eight entering the second half, Clarkston came out with more energy and went on a 14-3 run that gave the Wolves their first lead of the game, 36-34. Christie played big, scoring six and dishing out two assists in the run.

Under Lowney, Clarkston has lost four regularseason games, by a combined total of nine points, going back to last season.

Tired kickers manage tie with Knights; Berkley next

BY BRAD MONASTIERE Clarkston News Staff Writer

There was a lot more than meets the eye when it came to the week the varsity boys soccer team had.

With six players unavailable - three due to injury - the Wolves had to play three games in three days, each against excellent teams.

The exhausting run ended Thursday night, when the team tied Royal Oak Kimball 2-2 in an emotional, well-played game at the CHS field.

Clarkston, after a weekend to recover, plays at Bloomfield Hills Lahser Thursday night. The Wolves then head to Berkley Tuesday for a game with the Bears. The JV games start at 5:30 p.m.

Coach Dan Fitzgerald said getting the tie against Kimball was a positive for the tired, shorthanded team.

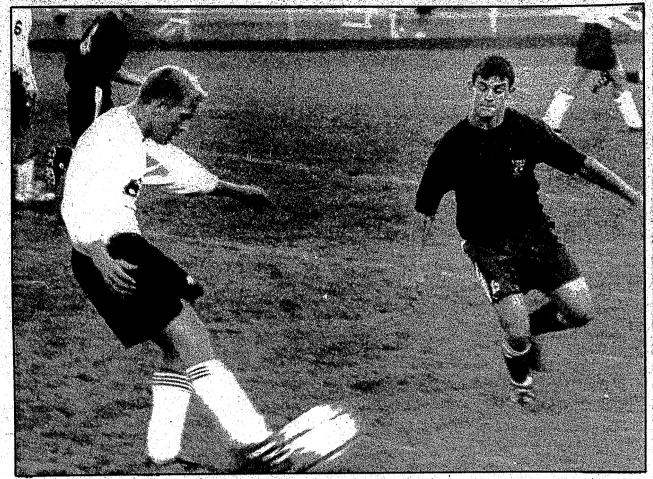

"We battled hard tonight, and getting the tie was probably the fair result," he said. "Three games in three days is tough, but next week, we have more of a normal week."

Against the Knights, the Wolves came through with maybe their best team effort so far this season. The midfielders controlled the play through much of the game, while senior goalkeeper Jeremy Fecteau made three point-blank saves, continuing his strong play early in the season.

Senior forward Eric Klemm opened the scoring by sneaking a shot past the Kimball goalkeeper with 9:49 left in the first half. He beat the keeper to a loose ball, and got just enough leg into it to put it into the net.

Kimball scored off a free-kick play 5:09 into the second half, tying the game 1-1.

Football playoff expansion plan outline announced

A plan for expanding the Michigan High School Athletic Association's Football Playoffs has been developed over the summer, and will be presented in detail to member schools this fall for their approval, with a final vote to be taken by the group's Representative Council at its fall meeting in Traverse City on Decem-

Ideas for playoff expansion were initially reviewed in June by a focus group of coaches and administrators. A plan was further refined from that meeting, and then reviewed at the summer workshop of the Michigan Interscholastic Athletic Administrators on July 22; the board of directors of the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association on July 30; and at the summer meeting of the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals on August 4.

Using the input from those meetings, MHSAA staff will present at its annual Update Meeting series throughout October a plan which will include these fea-

 A 5-week, 256-team playoff of 8 divisions, each with an equal number of schools, still ending Thanksgiving weekend;

No teams with losing records would qualify;

 All teams with 6 or more wins would qualify. Some teams with 5 wins may qualify on the basis of their playoff point average, with a nearly equal number of additional qualifiers being selected from Classes A, B, C and D;

· A nearly equal percentage of schools sponsoring football, approximately 40 percent, would qualify from each of the four classes, up from 18 percent in Class A, 17 percent in Class B, 19 percent ion Class C, and 38 percent in Class D, when compared to 1997 qualifiers:

• The selection of the 256 teams, their classification into 8 divisions of 32 schools each, and their assignment into Regions and Districts would all occur on "Selection Sunday" at the conclusion of the regular season. Playoff point averages, with no changes from the current point system, would be used to seed teams within their geographic districts and to determine District pairings and hosts.

Following the presentation of the plan to school administrators at the Update meetings, a mail survey will be sent to football sponsoring schools so that by the Representative Council meeting in December, the final plan, its rationale and the membership's reaction can be used to make a final decision.

This plan incorporates a number of changes from how the MHSAA Football Playoffs have been conducted in the past, including the classification of schools for the tournament and how playoff points are used in the process," said John E. "Jack" Roberts, executive director of the association. "Many people who opposed previous playoff expansion plans see this as a way of getting quality teams into the tournament, and at the same time, relieving some of the pressure on leagues and conferences, and on schools which historically have trouble scheduling opponents."

The plan would allow, but not require schools to begin practices and regular-season play a week earlier. The classification process of teams for the tournament would not occur until Selection Sunday, when all of the 6-win teams have been identified and additional teams have been added to fill out the bracket. (NOTE: In the past 10 years, no more than 241 schools had 6 or more wins during the regular season) Schools would become aware of pairings Sunday night or Monday the first week of playoffs, the first three weeks of which would be conducted at the host schools based on district and regional alignments and playoff point averages. Semifinal sites would continue to be arranged by the MHSAA office.

The MHSAA Representative Council voted last May to expand the football playoffs, but not to the extent of a 6-week, 512-school format; and it directed the staff to develop a plan for its consideration at its

"Those who have opposed football playoff expansion because it might dilute the playoffs and cause more early round mismatches may be pleased with this proposal," said Roberts. "Those who didn't want games or practices to start earlier may be less pleased because schools will be able to maintain a 9-game regular-season schedule only if they start games a week earlier and begin practices 2 days earlier in 5 of the next 7 years."

The proposal would allow schools to schedule games and practices earlier in 1999. Expansion to the 5-week playoff is scheduled to occur in 2000 under this proposal.

nating in a pretty goal by junior Bill Kalush off a corner kick. After the ball bounced around, Kalush got the ball with his back to the goal, spun on one leg, and delivered a strike into the top part of the net.

The lead didn't last long, Kimball took the ball when play resumed and took 13 seconds to get into the Clarkston box. A tackle in the box resulted in a penaltykick goal for the Knights tying the game at 2-2.

The game ended in a furious exchange of end-toend rushes by both teams, each one coming up dry.

Four games into the new season, Fitzgerald said the team still needs to get healthy in order to put the lineup on the field he thinks can make the team success-

"Dustin Coleman has been playing in the back, but I'd really rather have him play in goal," he said. "Jeremy has been a nice suprise in goal, and has played very well. Dustin has played tough in the back, and Mike Licata and Jared Bauer have played pretty good too."
