New elementary gets water and sewer, barely

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A vote to extend sewer and water to the new elementary school narrowly squeaked by the township board last Tuesday -- mainly because officials differ on how Clarkston schools is handling its new cooperative venture with the township.

In February, Clarkston schools agreed to start submitting building plans to the township, a voluntary move that occurred after the annual joint meeting between Independence and Springfield townships, Clarkston schools and the City of Clarkston.

The issue was raised earlier by township trustee Neil Wallace, after an array of problems surfaced with the site for the new Clarkston High School on Flemings Lake Road.

Although it's not a state law, Wallace proposed classifying schools as a special land use for zoning purposes, thus forcing the district to come before planning officials before they could build. That move was defeated by the board of trustees.

However, at the joint meeting the schools and township agreed to work together when addressing plans for new schools -- in an effort to meet community standards.

Last Tuesday, after nearly two hours of discussion with school officials following a public hearing on the matter, the board voted 4-3 to extend water and sewer services to the new 25-acre site at M-15 and Hubbard Road, thus amending its sewer-water district out of established boundaries. Trustees Neil Wallace and Jeff McGee and clerk Joan McCrary voted no.

Several township officials, including planner Dick Carlisle, recommended the extension, saying it wouldn't tax the township's sewer and water supply because it has adequate capacity to serve the new elementary school as well as other areas.

However, those who disagreed based their concerns on the fact that the schools haven't submitted criteria for 20 development issues called for in the site plan -- especially in a timely fashion.

Some of the concerns were addressed at a June 25 township planning commission meeting, including drainage, traffic safety, driveway access and parking. Although commissioners approved preliminary plans, they asked the schools to return with amendments for the final site plan.

McCrary said it has been 45 days since that meeting and the announcement of Tuesday's public hearing date. During that time, she said, the schools made no effort to contact the township for input, although there was talk of scheduling a meeting for Thursday, Sept. 17.

She and others felt the township should with-

Fall Fun DAZE comes to town

Two big community events have been combined into one colossal gathering taking place Saturday, October 3.

The first annual Clarkston Fall Fun DAZE will include Clarkston's 11th Annual Fun DAZE Run, previously held in the spring, and the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce's Taste of Clarkston.

But that's not all. There will also be Moonlight Madness sidewalk sales (way before the moon comes out), children's games and Dancin' in the Streets.

The events take place in downtown Clarkston, at the corner of Main and Washington Streets from 4:30 to 9 p.m. Washington Street will be closed to traffic for Dancin' in the Streets.

Access to the events will be made easy with shuttle parking beginning at 3 p.m. from Clarkston Middle School, Clarkston Elementary School and the old high school, all located on Waldon Road between Main Street and Sashabaw, provided by Independence Township Parks and Recreation.

For more information, call the Clarkston Chamber of Commerce at 625-8055.

Schedule of events.

Fun Run: One mile fun run/walk begins at 4:30 p.m.

5K and 10K Run: Begins at 5 p.m. Registration ends at 3:30 p.m. Walkers are welcome.

There will be Overall and Divisional Awards for the 5K and 10K runs, and four free Taste Fest tickets for all 5K and 10K runners. Call Independence Township Parks and Recreation for registration forms and information: 625-8223.

Family Fun and Entertainment: From 5 to 9 p.m. includes an Animal Petting Farm, kids games, activities, and moon walk and Dancin' in the Streets with a DJ.

Taste of Clarkston: Sample cuisine from restaurants in the area including 221 Baker Street; The Clarkston Cafe; Clarkston Union Grill and Kitchen; Duggan's Irish Pub; Joe Bologna's; Mesquite Creek; Mr. B's; Cook's Dairy; Gregg's Gourmet Cafe; Burger King; Food Town; Olde Village Cafe; Pete's Coney Island II; Rudy's Market; Village Bake Shop and more.

Food tickets will range from 50 cents to $4 each.

Clarkston schools redistricting project on schedule

Assistant superintendent of schools Mike LeBay said last week that the redistricting committee has finished preliminary work on redistricting the elementary schools.

A report is being prepared and will be presented at the October 12 Clarkston School Board meeting.

He said public hearings on the plan are scheduled for October 20 and 27 at Clarkston High School. Further details on the public hearings will be announced at a later date.

LeBay said information gathered at the public hearings will be reviewed with a final report presented to the School Board at a regular meeting yet to be determined.

CHS hosts Marching Band Invitational

The Clarkston High School Marching Band will host the 21st Invitational Saturday, September 26 at 2 p.m. at the football field at the new high school.

Twelve high school marching bands will participate. The CHS band will play last, at approximately 8:30 p.m. An awards presentation will follow.

The new high school is located at 6093 Flemings Lake Road.

Clarkston Christian Association celebrates grand opening

It will be a busy day at the Clarkston Christian Association Saturday, September 26. An all-day grand opening celebration will incorporate many activities.

The first annual skate competition for skateboarders and in-line skaters is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Registration is $25 and space is limited. Kids between ages 12 and 18 must have waivers signed by parents. Notes from home will not be accepted.

Beginning at 3 p.m., featured events include: a school of dance class exhibition, senior stretch program; alienation youth group; coffeehouse bands playing; marriage class information; ladies' self-defense classes; computer lab; artist guild; middle school programs and much more.

CCA is located at 5529 Sashabaw Road at Maybee. For more information, call 620-4900.

Participate in the CHS Homecoming Parade

The Clarkston High School Student Council is looking for participants in the October 10 Homecoming Parade which begins at 10 a.m. in downtown Clarkston.

Student Council would also appreciate donations (non-profit) from businesses or individuals for the raffle.

Haven benefits from activities

Deer Lake Athletic Club marks 25 years

A fun-filled afternoon of activities with old-fashioned hot dog and hamburger prices were the order of the day September 13 at Deer Lake Athletic Club at 6167 White Lake Road near Dixie Hwy.

Over 500 members, patrons and visitors celebrated the club's 25th anniversary and contributed to a good cause at the same time.

By the end of the evening, over $6,500 had been raised from a silent auction for Haven, said Jacqui Milzow, who owns DLAC with her husband Forrest.

Items donated for the silent auction included hot air balloon rides, sporting goods equipment, a catered dinner at home for eight, collectible dolls, artwork, clothing and dog grooming services.

Entertainment was provided by Jimmy Fields, who has sung at the Back Court Restaurant at DLAC for two years. And, priced at only 25 cents each, the hot dogs and hamburgers went fast.

Dave and Lorna Bickerstaff, Charles and Stella Hadden, and Bernice and J.D. Powell are three couples who have been patrons since the Back Court opened, and said they were all enjoying the celebration.

"Tell him (Forrest Milzow) we want him to do it every week," said Charles Hadden.

"Everything was excellent," added J.D. Powell. Jacqui Milzow said everyone was thrilled that they raised so much money for Haven. She added the club would have the silent auction and festivities to raise money for Haven again next year.

Carolyn Birtsas of Clarkston was interested in bidding on the hand painted Kid Pins that were donated for the silent auction.

Arlyce Tague of Clarkston said she has been a DLAC member for over 10 years. She purchased a Detroit Pistons jersey at the 25-year anniversary celebration.

Jacqui Milzow, (center) celebrated the club's 25th anniversary with patrons Rochelle (left) and Marc Spindler. Marc plays defensive tackle for the Detroit Lions.

Bernice and J.D. Powell, Dave and Lorna Bickerstaff and Charles and Stella Hadden have been longtime Deer Lake Athletic Club patrons.

New downtown Clarkston bank comes closer to reality

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Sometimes, the smallest signs can be the most significant ones.

The group hoping to form the Clarkston State Bank, while waiting to hear from the state on the status of its charter, has put the process in motion for the opening of its downtown location.

Last week, it was announced that the group successfully purchased the old NBD building on Main Street for $395,000.

NBD last week pulled out its ATM terminal from the building. In its place is a letter signed by the Clarkston Financial Corporation that it would try to secure a ATM, either their own or someone else's, as soon as possible.

David Harrison, a former bank president and one of the investors in the new bank, said their goal is to have some kind of cash access for people who shop downtown, but said nothing was certain yet.

"I can't say we will, and I can't say we won't (have an ATM there)," he said. "What makes it complex is that it is our building right now, but we would be using someone else's ATM. I don't think the regulators would be too wild about that. We want to be cautious about that."

The bank will also have an open house for the public from 5-8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 2 at the downtown location. Harrison said that will be a time for the bank investors to share ideas with people.

"We want to let people know that we are moving ahead with this," Harrison said. "From now until then, it's just a whole lot of preparation."

Harrison said when the charter is secured, the group will remodel the inside of the building, come up with a sign, and give the outside of the building a fresh coat of paint.

More exterior changes could also be in the works. Harrison said he intends to go to the Clarkston city council at its meeting Monday night to discuss parking possibilities in the area.

"The city recognizes (parking) is a problem there," he said. "The city ordinance requires we have eight parking spaces for the bank, but we can only claim to two. We need six spots we don't have."

Harrison said the bank did receive a variance from the city's zoning board of appeals to the tune of $2,000 per additional parking spot.

The land around the building could be in store for more changes, Harrison said. NBD said one of the reasons it left the downtown branch was the lack of a drive-up ATM. Harrison said that is something the group wants in order to make the bank the most viable it can be.

"It will give us more substance," he said. "I want the ATM somewhere in a city lot."

ATM USERS

ANNOUNCEMENT

NBD has elected to close its ATM at this location.

Clarkston Financial Corporation, a local business organization, has purchased the Downtown Clarkston Bank Building at 15 South Main Street and has filed for a charter to become the new CLARKSTON STATE BANK to open on or about January 2, 1999 as our community bank.

This 87-year-old site of the original Clarkston State Bank, was used by NBD as a branch until NBD decided to close it in 1997.

We wish to inform NBD customers that the ATM closing was not encouraged or required by Clarkston Financial Corporation.

We look forward to serving the banking needs of this community.

Clarkston Financial Corporation

Bank customers used to using the downtown NBD ATM now see this sign, put up by the group starting the new Clarkston State Bank. David Harrison, a former bank president who is heading up the effort, said he hopes to have some kind of ATM there for downtown customers soon.

Two stop signs added in Clarkston

Thanks to two new stop signs, it will be easier for drivers to stop, look and listen as they approach E. Washington from Buffalo.

Clarkston Police Chief Paul Ormiston said the signs, one for westbound traffic and the other for eastbound, were added to East Washington Street yesterday, turning the intersection into a three-way stop (there is an existing stop sign at Buffalo).

Traditionally, there has been a problem with drivers northbound on Buffalo, a residential street between E. Washington and Waldon, Ormiston said. Drivers pull up over the crosswalk to see Washington traffic because visibility is limited. This creates a hazard for pedestrians, especially children, he said.

With the new signs, drivers will be able to see both ways. "Now, you don't have to look all the way down the street for traffic," he said. "You'll see cars waiting at the stop signs."

Residents, board say no to water park -- again

By Genna Cottrell
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Who says government doesn't work for the people anymore? Certainly not the large crowd that gathered at Monday night's Springfield Township planning commission meeting.

Audience members rewarded the board with a round of applause when they unanimously denied a rezoning request for a water park in the township.

Over 30 local residents attended the meeting, some armed with picket signs, all of them ready with their comments as to why they opposed the family aquatic center at Indian Springs MetroPark.

"I don't want a waterpark in my backyard," said Springfield resident Sherry Boston. "That's not why I moved here."

Tim Karr agreed. "This goes against half of the reason I moved into this area -- it's serene, calm. That's why I chose to live in this area."

But it wasn't only the potential for noise and visual disturbances that angered some residents. Concerns regarding wildlife infringement and ecological destruction were high on the list as well.

"There are a lot of rare species and plants there. The natural beauty of the area is important to be preserved," said Sean Demers, "and inside a park is the ideal place to preserve natural areas."

Tom Setter lives across the street from nearby Crosby Lake. He also expressed concerns for native wildlife, specifically for sandhill cranes he recently spotted in the area.

No questioning White Lake resident Sean Demers intent - no water park wanted here.

Setter also said the lake was a stopping ground for white egrets during their winter migration. He said he has already counted 37 egrets this season. Setter expressed concern the water park, approximately one-quarter of a mile away from Crosby Lake residential areas, could have a negative impact on bird species.

The angry litany continued for almost an hour, with heated comments often directed at Huron Clinton MetroPark chief planner Dan Duncan.

"This is deja vu all over again," said Duncan, eluding to the twice defeated attempts of the HCMA to garner the township's approval for the 40-acre water park.

Comments from the planning commission echoed the sentiment of the residents, with those in attendance applauding as each commission member expressed their disapproval of the plan.

"This is really bad planning to try and use planned unit development to circumvent this township's master plan," said commission member Paul Rabaut. "It amounts to legal hair-splitting not to recognize it as a commercial facility. This (water park) doesn't provide enjoyment to our residents... there is no material benefit to the community."

Commission member John Moore agreed. "If this is not commercial, then why would it need rezoning? There's just not enough study done on the surrounding ecosystems."

The planning commission amended their motion to include a recommendation to the Springfield Township board they also deny the HCMA's request. According to township Supervisor Collin Walls, the township board will have the first reading on the proposal in October, with the final reading and vote coming in November.

Editorial

Communication is always the key -- especially in government

Communication between parties in any relationship is essential if that relationship is to succeed. So, is listening . . . and we hope the folks working for Independence Township and Clarkston Community Schools will:

LISTEN TO EACH OTHER . . .
COMMUNICATE.

Had these groups of professionals communicated better, tense moments at a recent township board meeting could have been avoided. Blood pressures rose during the public hearing on extending sewer and water to the future elementary school at M-15 and Hubbard Road. The township was ready for the schools' written plans -- the school's construction crews were already working on the job.

Last spring, when school officials told the township they intended to cooperate with building requirements, the schools didn't guarantee it would comply 100 percent, immediately. Nothing was in writing, and the township folks assumed all would go according to their schedule.

There is a general rule about assuming -- making you know what out of "U and ME." Those who deal in taxpayer dollars should never assume.

School Superintendent Dr. Al Roberts and township supervisor Dale Stuart say they trust each other. And, while that is wonderful to hear, good communication -- even between those who don't like each other -- can avoid all sorts of problems. Good communications is, we believe, more important than trust.

Epilogue: Roberts said school officials and their construction manager will meet weekly to iron out the details of the township's requirements.

With all of the building projects underway and those still to come, frequent and thorough communication, in writing, will help preserve trust between both groups. Each must understand what is needed and expected from the other, and when. And possibly just as important, where compromises can be found. MKC

ROLLING ALONG

By Maralee Cook

Keeping up the good work

On Thursday, September 17, Clarkston News reporter Eileen McCarville and I were guests of the Clarkston Women's Club at their regular monthly meeting.

We had been invited to make a presentation titled "Clarkston through the eyes of a reporter." We spoke of the history of The Clarkston News, talked a little bit about what we felt were the big issues in the community, and explained how we do our jobs.

We were pleased and honored to be their guests, and enjoyed the experience very much.

Over the last couple of years I have realized that I learn quite a bit at presentations like these.

The women who attended Thursday's meeting were warm and gracious hostesses. And Eileen and I also got some good story ideas that we'll share with you in the future.

One member suggested the media should do more to encourage volunteerism. She echoes the sentiments of members of all of the civic groups we speak to on a professional or personal level -- that volunteerism is declining.

I have been told several times that about 10 percent of the people in any organization will do most of the work and that's pretty much across the board.

She suggested we do a story on what would NOT happen in Clarkston if there were no volunteers. After giving that idea some thought I realized it would be one of the longest stories ever published.

Because of space constraints, I'll mention a few of the more visible events that come to mind.

All four of Clarkston's parades, which are so well attended, would not take place without volunteers.

The Memorial Day Parade is sponsored by the American Legion, the Independence Township Fire Department puts on the Fourth of July Parade. Members of the Clarkston Rotary Club sponsor the Labor Day Parade and the Clarkston High School student council sponsors the Homecoming Parade (which will be Saturday, October 4 this year).

Last weekend's 22nd Annual Crafts and Cider Festival, was sponsored by the Clarkston Community Historical Society.

The Clarkston Women's Club sponsors the Health-O-Rama each spring. And the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club members are responsible for the flowers and gardens in downtown Clarkston and at the Library.

Donations from business members of the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce and a lot of volunteer work from community members entertained 10,000 people at the Fourth of July festivities and fireworks at Clintonwood Park.

The SCAMP fun run in the spring and the upcoming Fun DAZE and Taste of Clarkston October 3 would not happen without volunteers.

Clarkston is blessed with a lot of good-hearted people who work very hard at their jobs, spend time with their families and still make time to contribute to the community.

A relatively small amount of time volunteered can do a lot of good when many people join in. There are so many organizations and activities to choose from, it should be easy to find one that complements a person's hobbies and interests.

Let us know what your group is up to. Rather than print information about all of the volunteer groups at one time, we would be happy to publish information from one or two volunteer organizations each week.

Send your information, with a name and phone number of someone we can contact during the day to The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main Street, Clarkston, MI 48346.

Dear Editor,

Are you and your family ready for some good news, some positive role modeling and the return of personal integrity? Join others in the Clarkston community for a dose of good old-fashioned family values on October 1 when Search Institute speaker Flora Sanchez arrives from Albuquerque, New Mexico to speak at Springfield Plains Elementary School, at the "What Kids Need To Succeed!" seminar.

Flora will share how a community can foster positive traits in its young people and reinforce the "resiliency" skills needed to grow up healthy, productive, and competent in an often difficult and confusing world.

Find out how you can play a meaningful role in the lives of young people who live in your house and even the ones who live across town.

Shared efforts by several community organizations, to promote this interactive workshop and to provide childcare have begun to demonstrate the collaboration process possible within a community prevention coalition. Both youth and adults are encouraged to attend, as well as folks from our neighboring communities. Tickets are available at the door, or by calling (248) 394-0252. Free admission for youth aged 18 and under; free childcare is available with pre-registration.

Reporter's Notebook . . .

One customer didn't get the order he expected at a local fast-food restaurant Sunday. When he pulled up inside the drive-through, he said some hamburger bun trays stacked outside the back door bun-ted his car -- leaving a dent. The store manager agreed to help him file a claim.

As for funny stories, the manager said she's got a million of 'em. Worse was the time a customer pulled up to a newspaper box two weeks ago and the entire door fell off, causing damage to his truck.

Although "he was really cool about it," she couldn't help him.

"I'm not responsible for the (newspaper) box. I'm responsible for the bun trays," she quipped.

DON'T RUSH ME / by Don Rush

Just call him, Donny MorningGlorySeed

Seeds, seeds, seeds. Boy, do I have seeds. I don't know what has gotten into me, but the last week or so I've become Donny MorningGlorySeed.

Painstakingly, slowly as not to harm the vines, I've been snipping off the little brown seed sacks from morning glory vines, shucking the papery protective sack and packing all the little black and white seeds. They are safe and dry.

Why?

Got me gardening fans.

Maybe, as a child, I was so impressed with the story of Johnny AppleSeed that in my own way I'm trying to follow in his footsteps. Come spring if you see me prancing around fields, with a brown sack on my back, sprinkling seeds behind me as I go, spreading the joy of morning glory, you'll know the answer.

Or maybe I'm just cheap.

The idea of shelling out a buck-fifty-nine on a pack of seeds seems wasteful when this year's vine is packed with seeds. I have noticed other flowers too, with seed pods and I'm getting the itch to try and recover those, too. Maybe In the back of my mind I'm laying the foundation of a multimillion dollar business. Heck, if I close my eyes, I can hear the electric buzz and see the flashing neon sign hanging above the door...

Buzz

Don's Seed Company

Buzz

Don's Seed Company

Buzz

Don's Seed Company...

Maybe it just has to do with the changing colors and cooler weather. Maybe the onslaught of fall is making me squirrely, affecting my metabolic rate or something. Maybe I must just hoard away as many seeds and nuts I can find.

Maybe.

Like I said, I don't know.

I do know I am accumulating lots of seeds and I must find out how and where to store 'em for the winter. I would hate to go through all this work, only to find next spring that the seeds were a) yucky and moldy or b) eaten by some vermin.

Got any advice for Seed-boy Rush? Drop him a line with a letter or via e-mail at: Dontrushme@juno.com

JIM'S JOTTINGS / by Jim Sherman

Jerry Reed sings of Mr. Ford

I've been a fan of Jerry Reed since seeing him in "Smokey and the Bandit" with Burt Reynolds and Jackie Gleason.

But, I never thought of buying one of his tapes until I saw one for a buck at store in Newbury. His southern twang and song selections will never get him in the top ten, but his "Lord, Mr. Ford" amuses this Michigander. Hope they do you:

"Well, if you're one of the million who own one of those gas crankin', piston clankin', air polluting four wheel buggies from Detroit, Michigan, well pay attention -- I'm about to sing you a song, son.

Well, I'm not a man to appoint a judge, prepare a will or hold a grudge, but I think it's time I said me a few choice words, all about that demon automobile, the metal monster with the polyglass wheels -- All the result of dream of Henry Ford.

Well, I've got a car that's mine alone, that me and the finance company own, a ready made pile of manufactured grief.

If I ain't out of gas in a pouring rain, I'm a changin' a tire in a hurricane, I once spent three weeks lost on a clover leaf.

Well, ain't just the smoke in a traffic jam that makes me the bitter fool I am but this 4-wheel buggy is a dollarin' me to death.

Gas and oil and fluids and grease and wires and tires and antifreeze and them accessories, not that's something else.

Well, you can get stereo tapes and a color TV and a back seat bar and reclining seats and you pay for it by the month, like you do your rent.

Well, now I figured it up and over a period of time that four thousand dollar car of mine cost fourteen thousand dollars and ninety-nine cents.

Well, now Lord, Mr. Ford, I just wish that you can see what your simple horseless carriage has become, it seems your contribution to say the least, got a little out of hand. Well, Lord, Mr. Ford what have you done?

Now, the average America father and mother own one whole car and half another, and I bet that half a car is trick to drive, don't you?

But the thing that amazes me, I guess, is the way we measure a man's success is by the kind of an automobile he can afford to buy. Well, now, red light, green light, traffic cop. Right turn, left turn, no turn, stop. Get out the credit car honey, we're out of gas.

Well, now, all the cars placed end to end will reach to the moon and back again, and there'll probably be some poor fool pull out to pass.

Well now, how I yearn for the good old days without that carbon monoxide haze, hanging over the roar of the interstate. Well, if the Lord that made the moon and stars would have meant for me and you to have cars, he would have seen that we'd all be born with a parking space.

Lord, Mr. Ford, I just wish that you could see what your simple horseless carriage has become, well, your contribution, to say the least, got a little out of hand.

But Lord, Mr. Ford, what have you done?

Come away with me, Lucille, in my smokin' chokin' automobile.

Springfield Township

Remembering a friend

Springfield residents came out September 13 to pay tribute to the late Don Booth with a tree-planting ceremony on the grounds of the Hart Community Center.

Booth was active in his community, serving as past Master at the Masonic Lodge, involved in the Rotary Club and his church. But his biggest legacy is the Neighbor-toNeighbor Program, which he helped found in 1983.

"He was very concerned about people and their needs," said lifelong friend Norris Wall.

"I think it's a nice idea that we came out to say a few special words about him today."

The Neighbor-toNeighbor program is a local resource for families in need. Acting as an extension of the Oakland County Food Bank, Neighbor-toNeighbor provides food, clothing and assistance to area residents.

"Don saw a need here and decided to do something about it," said Wall. "We need more people like that around."

Clarkston Community CROP Walk

Sunday, September 27, 1998, Calvary Lutheran Church, 6805 Bluegrass at Snowflake, one block west of M-15, 1:30 p.m. registration; 2:00 p.m. Walk/Run.

CWS TOOLS OF HOPE is helping villagers and farmers who live in extreme poverty in Ranga Reddy district, South Central India, dig wells and purchase three h.p. pumps for irrigation and for domestic use.

Most of the villagers are members of the lower caste. They subsist on low wages paid by large landowners. Many also farm public lands that have been made available to them. But the seasonal drought makes farming very risky. And, irrigation facilities in the area are controlled by the large landowners who don't share their resources.

With the assistance of CWS and local partner, the Rural Aid Mission Society, which has been working in this area for some 30 years, five wells have been dug and electric motor pumps installed. Irrigation pipes were put in and ditches constructed to allow for distribution of water. Because deep wells were required, a local commercial well-drilling business was contracted to drill boreholes. The irrigation ditches and pipes were laid by community members. The villagers and farmers pay a small fee for fuel and maintaining the pumps.

Some 250 families are taking part in the project on more than 800 acres of newly-productive land. They are now able to produce much of their own staple grains and legumes, vegetables and some fish. Though production will be primarily for home consumption, marketing of any excess will be encouraged as a means of promoting commercial production.

Wed., September 23, 1998 The Clarkston (MI) News 9 A

The goal of CROP Walk/Runs is to stop hunger "around the block and around the world." 25 percent of the monies are donated to Lighthouse Clarkston, 25 percent is used for Michigan, 25 percent is used nationally, and 25 percent is used internationally.

Be a Walker/Runner! Together we can make a difference!

For more information, please call Rev. Bonnie Laudeman, Clarkston Community church of God, 625-1323. When you walk/run, you're walking/running for the neediest children in the world, said CROP. And more volunteers will make a difference!

Water and sewer

hold sewer and water approval until those concerns are met.

"Here we are with a multi-million dollar project on a very large piece of land and we haven't even addressed the basics," she complained. "Why is there a meeting this Thursday? It should have been last year." The new elementary school is targeted for a fall 1999 opening.

However, treasurer Jim Wenger, a former Clarkston teacher, reminded trustees the schools' actions are purely voluntary.

"They are not obligated by our community standards. I think what we have done is take a baby step toward cooperation." He agreed, however, that both entities have to move forward in addressing concerns with the site plan.

Clarkston schools superintendent Dr. Al Roberts said the schools have every intention of continuing "the spirit of cooperation" with the township. "We just closed on the property two weeks ago. We're working just as quickly as we can to address those things," he said.

Roberts added that he sees the sewer-water extension and school development criteria as two separate issues. But, he agreed, "We need to be clearer with one another as to what those expectations are."

After the meeting Roberts said the district is "on the fast track. We want to go above and beyond what the requirements are."

Township supervisor Dale Stuart said he trusted Roberts and felt the district would live up to its promises. He also said the issue would be "a big test" when it comes to future cooperation with the district.

"It is such virgin territory, it is apt to find snags from time to time," he said. "I don't disagree with any of the concerns of the board, but I have a great deal of faith in Dr. Roberts when he says he will address these items in a certain amount of time."

Trustee Dan Travis chose a school-related metaphor to categorize the problem. "Shame on all of us for not doing our homework early. When I went to class unprepared, I got marked down."

School and township officials met September 17 to continue ironing out their differences. Township planner Dick Carlisle, who attended the meeting said, "It was very productive. On some of the issues we (the township) raised, they need to be given time to investigate and resolve the problems. They will be meeting Thursday, (September 25) to follow up on the issues."

On September 17, Roberts said school officials and one of their construction managers would meet weekly to address the issues raised by the township.

Trucks and trailers up for sale through township

Independence Township is currently accepting bids for three trucks and a generator trailer through its department of public works.

Bids will be taken on the following: a 1986 GMC pickup truck, a 1986 GMC four-wheel drive pickup truck with plow, a 1951 fork lift, and a generator trailer.

The vehicles may be inspected through the DPW, located at 6050 Flemings Lake Road Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Sealed bids will be accepted at the township's clerk office until 10 a.m. Sept. 30. Bids will be awarded at the township's regular board meeting Tuesday, Oct. 6. The bids must include a cashier's or certified check. Checks will be returned to unsuccessful bidders.

Equipment will be sold as-is, with no guarantees. The township reserves the right to accept or reject and or all bids.

Art imitates the real world in 'Deathtrap'

"Deathtrap," Clarkston Village Players' first offering of the season, which premiered Friday at Depot Theater, takes its audience on a journey filled with twists and turns -- not unlike a mad fun house where you're never sure what's around the next corner.

Just when you think you've solved the mystery of Ira Levin's clever little play, another one begins -- so don't get too comfortable.

Perhaps it should be retitled "Audience Trap."

Patrons are cued at the onset there's a rocky road ahead. The chief character Sydney Bruhl (Win Likert) is a once-prominent playwright of murder mysteries, who's suffered a string of miserable failures (he calls himself "Four Flops Bruhl"). Props from past successes are displayed on the living room walls -- an eerie assortment of weaponry, torture devices and handcuffs.

Hope breaks when a play manuscript submitted by Clifford, a former student (Greg Wilson), is seen as a way to revive his flagging career. With the help of his neurotic wife Myra (Linda Van Natta) -- who has a bad heart and jumps at every sound and shadow -- Sydney devises a way to bump off the young man and steal his sure-fire hit.

But that's just the first in a steady stream of surprises. Like I said, don't sink into your seat; you should be sitting on the edge of it.

The threesome -- Wilson, Likert and Van Natta -- play well against each other. Wilson, a professional actor (see related story) -- delights in alternating his character between boyish charm and malevolent glee. (When he's good, he's very, very good, but when he's bad, he's downright scary.)

There are good turns by Linda Killewald as a hilarious Swedish psychic and Rick Shaw as Sydney's lawyer.

The production is fun to watch and a good attempt by Player director Bruce Bishop, who adds a background storm (flashing lights, rumbling thunder and blackouts) to add to the suspense.

He leaves it up to the actors to define their parts. A seasoned actor himself, Bishop, who once played juvenile delinquents in "Youth Bureau," a Detroit television show in the fifties-sixties era, leans on the philosophy supplied by his former director Granville Ryan.

Seasoned actor returns to his roots

He's played a mobster, donned a bug suit and squared off as the golden-hearted Fred against miserly Uncle Scrooge in Meadow Brook Theatre's yearly masterpiece, "A Christmas Carol."

And now, Clarkston Village Players is lucky enough to have him too. Clarkston resident Greg Wilson, a professional actor, is stepping into the spotlight as Clifford in "Deathtrap," which opened Friday at the Depot Theater.

Director Bruce Bishop says it's rare to see a gifted, professional actor in a local theater production. "He's exceptional. He's a great find. And when I got him on the stage, I was thrilled."

Wilson, 33, says the role is a great opportunity to hop back onstage -- something he gets to do far too little of these days. He's spent the last four years touring on the Auto Show circuit, which takes him through 10 states a year. The six-month stint is "a nice lucrative gig."

"It's given me a great opportunity to see the country. I've been everywhere," he says, displaying an ultra-bright smile. He lowers his voice to demonstrate the lines thousands hear him recite every year on the turntable at Cobo Hall: "Welcome to the 1998 Detroit Auto Show."

Ironically, Wilson started out in the same location he's acting at this fall. At 14, he read for the part of a newsboy for a CVP production. He didn't get it -- perhaps because of a lack of confidence. "It was only five or six lines. (The director) asked, 'Do you think you can handle the part?' I said, 'I don't know.' I learned from that."

Next time, he'd respond differently. "Of course, I can ride a horse!" Then you go out and take lessons," he cracks. But a year later, he landed the part of the grandfather in the Players' production of "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory."

"I was stooped over, had a cane, did the voice and stuff. It was a great opportunity to see how things worked. And I found out (acting) was one of my loves."

After graduating from Clarkston High School in 1984, Wilson moved to New York and studied at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, renowned for turning out talents like Spencer Tracy, Katherine Hepburn and Kirk Douglas.

For the last 11 years, he's spent 10 seasons with "Christmas Carol," where he played a variety of roles, and has out of the way."

When he read Levin's work, Bishop said the first surprise "hit me in the face." In his estimation, "Deathtrap" is a play that teases the audience and doesn't let up in slapping them with the unexpected.

"It's really a twisted mystery," he said.

But "Deathtrap" is more than that. There's some sly social commentary about us humans that's less than flattering. "Deathtrap" is the perfect example of how we're greedy for the most horror-laden and salacious of stories -- how fact is often a far better read than fiction.

As Clifford notes, "Just look around you. All the news is fit to print and show ... Nobody gives a (rap) about who did what or who they did it to. They just want to be in on it."

"Deathtrap" continues its run Sept. 24, 25, 26 and Oct. 1, 2, 3 at the Depot Theater, 4861 White Lake Road in Clarkston. Tickets are $9 for Thursday shows (7:30 p.m.) and $10 for Friday and Saturday (8 p.m.). For more information call (248) 625-8811 or 625-1826. also worked with Greenfield Village Theatre Company in productions that include "The Rainmaker" and "Little Foxes."

In his resume are also stints as a businessman for a Delphi Automotive industrial film, a product trainer for ISUZU and a salesman in a New York Carpet World commercial.

Another role wasn't quite so dignified. He squeezed into a bug costume, playing "Izzy" in five cities on the Auto Show circuit, promoting the 1996 Summer Olympics as its mascot.

"I was in the background, basically jumping up and down in this goofy costume while people like Brandy Johnson and Kurt Thomas did their routines."

The local theater experience affords him the opportunity to indulge in his love of acting. "I love it. I started there. It makes me feel like I'm giving back to the community. The arts are very important and without supporting them, there won't be institutions like CVP."

Being on the road six months each year, he can't be committed to the demands of full-time performing. But that doesn't mean it couldn't eventually happen, he says, adding that he plans to join the Actor's Equity Association, an actors' union. He has already completed membership requirements.

Perhaps he should listen to the voice of experience, he chuckles.

He remembers the words of Booth Colman, famous for playing Scrooge for years at Meadow Brook. While understudying for the role of Fred, Wilson must have been a natural. "I locked myself in the dressing room, bought three packs of cigarettes and learned the lines in three or four hours."

After the show, Colman ran up to him and said, "Young man, you should consider taking this up professionally."

Local and national artists, nearly 100 in all, converged on Depot Park for the event, sponsored by the Clarkston Community Historical Society. The juried art exhibits ranged from wood carvings and watercolors to photography and jewelry.

Winning works from the Historical Society's childrens art contest were on display as well.

Soothing harp and recorder music filled the air, courtesy of the Collecting Consort, and a fine array of food and drink were available to the large crowds that filled the park. Profits from all food sales benefitted local charities and church groups

Buzzer beaters stay unkind to Clarkston

Troy Athens 57

Clarkston 56

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

For the second time this young season, the Clarkston varsity girls basketball team was done in by a shot at the buzzer.

On Sept. 1 against Oakland Christian, the Wolves lost the game on a baseline jump shot as time expired.

In Tuesday's game at Troy Athens, the situation was a little different, but ended up having the same frustrating result for the Wolves as they dropped a 57-56 decision to the Red Hawks.

Clarkston fell to 4-3 overall and 0-1 in the OAA Division I. The team will try to recover from its first two-game losing streak in two years Thursday when it hosts Rochester Adams. The JV game tips off at 5:30 p.m.

Coach Ann Lowney had a simple explanation to the question of what is wrong with the team.

"Composure," she said. "We have to learn to do the things we don in practice in games. Until we all get on the same page, we're in for a long year."

Senior Deana Kanipe capped a near-miraculous comeback by Clarkston by banking in a 3-pointer from the right wing with less than two seconds left to bring the Wolves to within a point of Athens. She made the shot with three defenders draped all over her, and although Lowney and all the players jumped up and down for a timeout after the shot went in, the referees neither called a foul, nor awarded a timeout. The game then ended with stunned expressions on the Clarkston side, and relieved ones on the Athens side.

But it was neither officials' calls nor missed timeouts that cost Clarkston in this game. After seizing an 18-11 lead early in the second quarter, the Clarkston offense collapsed in a heap of turnovers and bad shots.

Athens' outstanding duo Janelle Olson and Julia Wartchow played excellent games, scoring seemingly at will and dominating the Wolves on the boards. "No one stepped up to stop them," Lowney said.

The Red Hawks, now 8-0 and Oakland County's top-rated Class A team, slowly built their lead through the second and third quarters. Athens ended the first half on a 13-5 run, turning a six-point deficit into a two-point lead at intermission.

Athens dominated the third, outscoring Clarkston 20-12 while building a 10-point lead. Through three quarters, the Wolves shot 6-for-13 from the free throw line and still couldn't find consistent offense. This was a fact that bothered Lowney after the game.

"We're not in the proper positions on offense," she said. "Everyone has their own agenda. Until we all get on Ann's page, we'll keep struggling."

In the fourth, Kanipe and freshman Kaye Christie each made two free throws to start the Clarkston rally. Junior Rachel Uchman later added three points from the charity stripe and a block on defense to cut the Athens lead to 53-49. As a team, Clarkston shot 9-for-11 from the line in the fourth quarter.

Kanipe led the team with 21 points, including the last seven. Uchman had 12 and Christie 11.

Senior Deana Kanipe whips by the defense on another drive to the basket in Thursday's game against Madison Heights Bishop Foley. The 44-39 loss by the Wolves was the team's second to a top-10 ranked private school so far this year.

Bishop Foley 44

Clarkston 39

It was a comeback that was as unlikely as it was surprising.

But in the end, the Wolves fell just five points and a couple minutes short, losing to Madison Heights Bishop Foley 44-39 at the new CHS gym Thursday night.

Playing one of the best teams in the state, Clarkston fell behind early and was down 43-28 entering the fourth quarter. But a more aggressive approach on offense and defense were the ingredients that nearly led Clarkston on an amazing comeback.

"In the fourth quarter, we played with more intensity," Lowney said. "We dug ourselves a big hole, and we came up short because of some missed opportunities."

Bishop Foley, ranked second in the state in Class B behind Detroit Country Day, has a habit of building a lead through the first three quarters, then running a stall offense in the fourth to preserve its lead. That game plan nearly backfired. Foley missed a number of layups, and Clarkston forced many more turnovers and converted them into points.

The Wolves outscored the Ventures 11-1 in the fourth, holding them scoreless for 7:46.

Clarkston's comeback got started on field goals by Candace Morgan and Corinne McIntyre. Kaye Christie, who seemed to be everywhere in the fourth, scored four and dished out two assists in the run, and was a central figure in the game's key play.

With 1:52 remaining, she cleanly stole a pass near the top of the key and appeared to have an easy layup at the other end. But a Foley defender raced downcourt, jumped over Christie and knocked her and the ball out of bounds.

The official closest to the play had a foul called on the Foley player, but the official trailing the play by 30 feet, called it a clean blocked shot and said the ball went off Christie, awarding the ball out of bounds to Foley.

Foley then went into its stall offense again, holding the ball for more than a minute before Clarkston could regain possession, but by that time, it was too late.

"Kaye's play, and a charge called on Deana were turning points," Lowney said. "But it's hard to say that's the reason you lose when you miss opportunities like we did."

"These girls have grown up so much already this year," Lowney said. "I wanted to play a tougher non-league schedule to get us ready for the league, and I think we've done that."

Kanipe led the team with 10 points, four rebounds, five assists and six steals. Candace Morgan tossed in nine points, while Christie scored eight for the second time in three games.

Wolves grease Athens

Jenks runs and throws for TDs, defense comes up big in road win

It's a good thing for the Clarkston varsity football team that wins and losses aren't determined through style points.

But style was the last thing on the layers' minds after pulling out a come-from-behind 16-13 win at Troy Athens Friday night. The win boosts the Wolves to 3-0 overall and 2-0 in the JAA Division I.

Despite the win, Clarkston coach Kurt Richardson was not a happy man after the game.

"That was terrible football," he said, shortly after giving his team a tongue-lashing in the end zone. "We made way too many mistakes, but I'll give our kids credit. With all the negative things that happened, we were able to get the win."

A week after Clarkston made a big fourth-quarter defensive stand to beat Rochester, it did the same thing against the Red Hawks (1-2).

Senior QB Eric Jenks scored the game-winning touchdown on a 1-yard sneak with 2:40 left in the game. Jenks was aided by a big push from the offensive line, which drove the Athens defensive line two yards into the end zone, clearing the way for Jenks' score.

"I could have scored from the six or seven-yard-line on that play, the blocking was so good," Jenks said. "I just followed Klint (Powell), Bubba (Clement) and Jon (Robinson), and I didn't get touched."

Then, it was the defense's turn. After consecutive runs of 15 and nine yards, Athens appeared ready to tie or take the lead with its late drive. On a second-and-five play at the Clarkston 48-yard-line, junior linebacker Jeremy Williams found a path through the Hawks' huge offensive line and sacked QB Bill Sharkey for a seven-yard loss.

On the very next play, Williams recovered a botched snap from center to kill any hopes Athens had of coming back.

Clarkston was able to recover from a sloppy first half when it only made two first downs and allowed Athens 12 and was down 6-0. On the first play of the third quarter, junior TB Chris Mitchell broke off runs of 12 and 29 yards on consecutive plays, breathing life into the team for the first time. Senior Chris Himburg, who had an outstanding day punting, kicked a 25-yard field goal to cut the lead to 6-3.

However, Athens snatched the momentum right back, scoring on a 75-yard touchdown pass just two plays later, giving it a 13-3 lead.

Ever the resilient bunch, the Wolves put together a seven-play 67-yard drive that ended with Jenks connecting with junior TE Andy North for a 19-yard touchdown pass.

Richardson said the team received a big boost from Jenks' ability to pass. He completed four passes for 83 yards and a touchdown, and also ran for 43 yards

Clarkston's Matt Baker (2) delivers the big hit to a Troy Athens running back during the first quarter of Friday's game. Baker and his defensive teammates have played very well for the 3-0 Wolves, allowing an average of 10 points per game this season.

The Monster's Game Ball

Jeremy Williams

A junior linebacker, Jeremy Williams came up big when his team needed him most in Friday's 16-13 win at Troy Athens. After the Wolves took the lead for the first time in the game with 2:35 left, the Red Hawks responded with two runs of 15 and nine yards. But on a second-and-five play, Williams tossed aside two Athens offensive linemen and sacked QB Dustin Weber. On the next play, Weber fumbled the snap from center, and Williams pounced on the loose ball, stopping Athens' last drive and clinching Clarkston's third win in a row.

"Jeremy has come a long way for us," said coach Kurt Richardson. "He is getting to the ball much better, and his blitzing technique has improved."

and a score.

"That was a big boost for him," Richardson said.

The Clarkston JV girls basketball game Tuesday night eerily mirrored the varsity's, but not in the way Wolf fans wanted.

Clarkston broke out of a three-quarter funk to nearly pull off a big win at Troy Athens, but fell short 44-38. The loss drops Clarkston to 4-3 overall.

Entering the fourth quarter with a 15-point deficit, the Wolves stormed back thanks to better offense and an aggressive defense, but could never get closer than five points down.

Coach Jenny Warren said she was frustrated because the team doesn't play the whole game like it did in the fourth quarter.

"It's not like we don't have talent. We have a lot of talent," she said. "We consistently get down 10 to 13 points and have to claw back like that."

"We have to come out and play with the kind of passion early in games like we have in the fourth quarter."

Jen Karstensen had an outstanding game for Clarkston, scoring 11 points, and adding eight rebounds, seven steals and four blocked shots. Mary Warchuck had nine boards and six steals for the team in defeat.

Thursday, the Wolves got back to some of the things that made them successful in a 33-24 win over Madison Heights Bishop Foley.

Warren said the key to the team's success was its ability to play a transition game, where the players take advantage of their athleticism.

"When we push the ball, so many good things happen," she said. "But when we set up, we start standing around. As quickly as we did things well, we broke down again."

Clarkston (4-2 overall) was able to overcome an up-and-down three quarters with a solid all-around fourth quarter. The Wolves went on an 8-0 spurt to start the period, extending a four-point lead to 12.

Emily Butzine, whom Warren credited with much improvement this season, led the team with 14 points and seven rebounds in the win. Mary Warchuck collected seven rebounds, while Nicole Thrift had another strong effort with four steals and four rebounds. Clarkston held a 38-21 advantage on the boards in the game.

The Wolves return to action Thursday night with a home game against Rochester Adams starting at 5:30 p.m.

Athlete of the Week: Tim Loveless

Salut, Tim: The warrior with the scratched up helmet and temporarily white jersey stalks up and down the sidelines. He squeezes a water bottle in the general direction of his face mask, then throws it aside. His feet get taped up so tight, he can barely feel them anymore. With generous portions of eye black on and hands clenched into barely contained fists, he is ready for battle. Thirty minutes before kickoff. This is the picture senior Tim Loveless paints in his pregame routine as a member of the varsity football team. A very intense competitor, Tim has taken on a leadership role for the 3-0 Wolves in several ways this season. He willingly moved from halfback to tailback so junior Chris Mitchell would get the carries he needs to help the team move the ball. Loveless certainly does his share of damage with the ball also. He rushed for 104 yards and the game-winning touchdown in Clarkston's 17-14 win at Rochester Sept. 11, and plays a key role defensively at the "Wolf" position. The Wolf is a hybrid of a linebacker and safety, stepping up to contain the run, and on pass plays, dropping back into coverage. He's been scouted by Albion College for football, but is still undecided if he wants to play at the collegiate level. Tim also played on last year's regional-champion varsity basketball team.

Coach Kurt Richardson on Tim: We're counting on Tim to have a big senior year for us. He's a little different. He has a rebel streak in him, which is something this team needs a little bit of. Mitchell gets a lot of yards, but he wouldn't get nearly as many if it weren't for Timmy blocking for him as well as he does.

Tim on Tim: The team this year is totally together, and that makes us better than anyone thought we would be. Before games, I get into a zone where I think about nothing but football. I love the way our team is thinking right now. We talked about the goals we have, and one of those was to win together, as a team."

Tough times, tough team

Things I've been thinking about while stuck in traffic:

The record shows the Clarkston varsity girls basketball team at 4-2 entering the start of the OAA Division I schedule, but records can be deceiving.

This team has been through enough ups and downs already this season to make Cedar Pointe blush. Between sickness, injuries, off-the-court trouble and a very tough non-league schedule, a 4-2 record is something the players and coach Ann Lowney should be very happy with.

The fourth-quarter run the Wolves made against Bishop Foley Thursday spoke volumes about the maturity level this team has reached. Down by 15 against one of the best private-school teams in the state (how's that for a stacked deck?) heading into the fourth, it would have been only natural for the players to tread water, get the game over with, and start thinking about Troy Athens.

Instead, they pushed themselves to reach further than they had before, clamping down on defense and becoming more aggressive on offense.

As I was watching the fourth quarter, this is how my line of thinking went:

"They're down 15. It's over."

Two minutes later:

"Yeah, but they're still down 11."

Two minutes later:

"Whoa! They're within six!"

It all happened that fast. With Foley's offense in stall mode, it was not looking to take shots it normally takes in the flow of its offense. Clarkston's perimeter quickness forced the Ventures into some forced shots and bad turnovers.

On offense, the play of freshman Kaye Christie, sophomore Sarah Morgan and senior Deana Kanipe was impressive. They took the ball right into the teeth of the Foley defense, either scoring or getting fouled every time.

I like Christie's no-fear style. As a freshman playing varsity competition of this caliber, it seems logical that she would look and feel intimidated once in a while. But if this basketball season has taught us anything so far, it's not to depend on logic. She is aggressive with the ball and is one of the team's best passers.

Morgan has been a revelation for the team. She gives Lowney consistent low-post offense and has shown the rare ability to effectively pass out of the double-team to get her teammates open shots. She may be quiet off the court, but Morgan's play on the court speaks plenty.

As good as Kanipe is, it still seems like she doesn't get her due credit. She is the glue that keeps this team together through tough stretches in games. Her slashing style of offense gives the team the spark it needs to snap out of dry spells, and she's improved considerably in her point-guard skills.

"This team has shown so much heart this year," Lowney said. "We've lost so many starters this year, 4-2 is not all bad. Now, we're ready for the league."

Look for this team to take the OAA Division I by storm this year. It has maturity, been battle-tested, knows how to win, and is full of versatile players.

I've always believed adversity is the best teacher a team can have. Between injury, sickness and suspension, Clarkston has fielded a 100-percent available, healthy team only twice through six games; a 21-point win over Oxford and a 41-point win over Lapeer West.

In Thursday's game, the Wolves were without starting small forward Lindsey Prudhomme, who is getting over a nasty bout with the flu, and starting power forward Corinne McIntyre was not yet fully recovered from her injured foot and was battling a cold of her own. Add these two outstanding players to the current lineup, and you have a dynamite basketball team. Let the teams in West Bloomfield, Waterford and Troy beware of the killer tees. This team is tough, has been tested, and is talented.

Tennis team gets some well-deserved rest

With Berkley win, Wolves now 7-1-1 on season

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

If any team has deserved a little time off because of its frequency and quality of play, it's the Clarkston girls tennis team.

The Wolves finished a stretch of five dual meets and one tournament in six days Sept. 14 with a rain-delayed 6-0 triumph over Berkley, considered Clarkston's toughest challenger to the league title.

The #4 singles and #4 doubles matches were suspended because of rain, but the matches that were completed were a showcase of how far the team has come this year.

Of the six matches completed, four went to three sets, each one with Clarkston winning the first set, losing the second, and winning the third.

"It was a good challenge for us," said coach Melissa White. "We came back in a lot of those matches and got focused and it showed on the court."

White leading tennis team to successful debut season

After a short stint at #2 singles, junior Courtney Schubering returned to the #1 singles spot and recorded a 6-3, 6-7, 6-3 win. Senior captain Lauren Bogart, who swapped spots with Schubering, did so with similar success, winning 7-6, 4-6, 7-5.

Kim Lytle was the only singles player to finish her match in two sets, winning 6-3, 6-4.

The #1 doubles team of Kristen Atkinson and Alaina Dodds faced their toughest test of the dual meet season. After playing the first two sets dead even (6-4, 4-6), the combo stormed back in the third and left no doubt, winning handily 6-0. Lauren Stout and Jenny Claus were also tested, but passed with a 6-3, 4-6, 6-2 win.

Michelle Klotz and Allison Olinger stayed in their season-long groove with a 6-0, 6-4 win at #3 doubles.

White said she wasn't ready to be surprised by the team's success this season, partly because the season isn't over yet.

"This is a very talented team," she said. "For some of the girls, it's hard to stay focused during practice because we have so many people out here. But I like what we've done so far."

Wednesday, the team travels to Troy Athens for a tough dual meet against the OAA Division I Red Hawks. Thursday's match with West Bloomfield has been postponed because of scheduling problems, but White says she hopes to reschedule that sometime before regionals.

"They are in our region, and I know a lot of the girls want to play them," she said.

Another plus this season has been the play of the "unofficial" junior varsity team. White says with so many girls out for the team, it solidifies the short and long-term future of the program.

"It's incredible how far some of them have come," she said. "Next year, we will have lost seven seniors, and we'll need people to step up and take their places. We will play full JV matches against Athens and Berkley, and that will be good experience for us."

Youth soccer night coming up

For Tuesday's home Clarkston varsity boys soccer game against Waterford Kettering, a jersey is just as good as a ticket.

In an effort to help promote high school soccer, any Clarkston youth soccer coach or player who wears their jersey to the game will get in for free.

In addition, the U-13 Verlinden boys soccer team will play the U-12 Welbourn soccer team in an exhibition game at the old CHS field at 4:15 p.m.

For the rest of the home games this season, there will be a youth soccer exhibition game taking place before a high school match.

There will be games and prizes at the game. Also, there will be a shootout contest at halftime of the varsity game.

THE LAW & YOU

by Kelley R. Kostin
Attorney at Law

ASSUMING THE WORST

When defending themselves against plaintiffs' complaints, that their negligence led to plaintiffs' injuries during a recreational activity, service providers must establish that the injured parties subjectively appreciated and accepted a particular risk of injury associated with the activity. Thus, a primary component of an assumption-of-risk defense is the establishment of a participants' actual knowledge of a particular risk. The exculpatory agreements known as liability releases and waiver agreements spell out the participant to take part in a recreational activity in return for a waiver of any personal injury claim that may arise from the future negligent conduct of the recreation service provider.

If you've been injured, you owe it to yourself and your family to determine whether you are entitled to receive compensation for the pain, suffering, and any loss of income incurred. Here at 11 North Main Street, we have the experience, the knowledge, and the resources to help you reach a successful conclusion. To schedule a consultation, call 620-1030.

HINT: Assumption of risk is a voluntary encounter with a known danger.

SKIN DEEP

by Scott Friedman, D.O.

TREATING SERIOUS BURNS

Each year, about 51,000 Americans are hospitalized for burn treatment. While a first-degree burn affects only the epidermis, and a second-degree burn usually heals without serious scarring, a third-degree burn destroys the skin's full thickness. This requires special treatment and skin grafts to obtain complete healing and reduce scarring. Thus far, the patient's own skin most often provides the best wound covering. When healthy skin is transplanted from another part of the body, it is referred to as an "autograft." Donor sites, however, are limited and autografting is not always possible. In such cases, the burned area may be covered with an interactive wound dressing that actively promotes wound healing until a graft can be set in place.

Dermatologists are medical doctors, specializing in skin problems and diseases. We are best able to advise and treat various conditions ranging from rashes and irritations to shingles and skin cancers. Our offices are conveniently located at 6330 Shashabaw, Clarkston (625-0692) and 3003 Baldwin, Lake Orion (391-9599) and we provide full dermatology services for the entire family.

P.S. It is not possible to grow a patient's own skin under special tissue culture conditions.

Rivalry renewed

Football team welcomes Brandon Friday for first meeting in 7 years; field location TBA

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Friday night, the Clarkston varsity football team may begin a new era by welcoming a neighbor it hasn't seen for a while.

The Wolves intend to open their brand-new home field by taking on the Brandon Blackhawks at 7 p.m. As of Tuesday afternoon, no decision had been made as to which field the game will be played at. Call the CHS Athletic Office at 623-4050 to find out where the game will be played.

Brandon is a former league rival of Clarkston in the days of the Greater Oakland Activities League, a league that was disbanded when the Oakland Activities Association was formed before the 1994-95 school year.

Although the two schools are just nine miles apart, Clarkston and Brandon haven't met on the gridiron for seven years. In their last meeting, Clarkston destroyed the Blackhawks 53-3 in a game the Wolves led 34-0 at the end of the first quarter. In the last four meetings between the teams, the Wolves have outscored the Blackhawks by an average score of 35-9.

However, plenty has changed since then. The GOAL was dissolved in favor of the four-division, competitively-balanced OAA. Clarkston football teams qualified for the state playoffs three straight years from 1994-96.

Brandon, after suffering through an 0-9 season in 1995, has become a force to be reckoned with, putting together a 21-game regular-season winning streak, two straight OAA IV titles, and a stunning 30-27 win over Orchard Lake St. Mary's in the first round of last year's playoffs.

Clarkston coach Kurt Richardson said Brandon has done an excellent job of turning its entire program around, starting with its pre-high school teams.

"The last three or four years, they've been as good as anybody," he said. "We have all the respect in the world for them."

The Blackhawks were hit hard by graduation, losing their entire starting backfield and a total of seven starters on offense. But Brandon has developed strong JV and freshman programs over the last two years, and runs the Wing-T offense very well.

"The key to defending the wing-T is discipline," Richardson said. "You have to read your keys and tackle everybody."

Brandon's head coach Jim Watkins is in his second year after coming from Inlay City. He's coached the Wing-T for years, and now has a team that runs it as well as anyone in the state.

"It's a good rivalry now, because we're only eight miles apart and we're both undefeated," Watkins said. "Clarkston might be as good as they were last year, and they've got a couple of fire hydrants running the ball."

Last week, the Blackhawks improved to 3-0 on the season with a 31-26 win over Pontiac Northern, a team that beat Troy Athens by 26 points two weeks ago.

"That was a big win for us," Watkins said. "It gave us some momentum into this week, which we'll need because they're dedicating their new field."

Football

There wasn't much for Clarkston JV football coach Doug Colling to complain about after his team's performance Thursday night.

The Wolves played excellent football on offense and defense, whipping the Troy Athens Red Hawks 35-16 at the old CHS field. Clarkston visits Brandon Thursday night.

Colling said the execution was very good by the team, as it racked up yards on offense and shut down the Hawks on defense.

"The kids did a real good job," he said. "Our offensive line really reduced their mistakes. They aren't real big, but they're quick and intelligent and they did an outstanding job for us."

Evidence of the line's good work came in the team's rushing totals. Rob Conley ran for a season-high 140 yards on just 10 attempts and two scores, one coming on a 10-yard reception from QB Ryan Kaul. Matt Pearsall also rushed for a new season-high, going 54 yards in eight attempts and a touchdown. Kaul completed just four passes, but three of them went for touchdowns. Bryan Endreszl and Pat Davis caught Kaul's other two scoring tosses.

"I like what I see out of our team right now," Colling said of his 3-0 team. "We're going to be in for a tough game with Brandon. They run a lot of traps and they run them well. I don't want to get beat, but I would take getting beat by the pass by them, because you don't want to get burned by their runners."

"Now, this should take a little heat off of him."

"I always knew I could throw," Jenks said. "I was glad we called more pass plays, because against teams like Brandon and Troy, we won't be able to run all day long on them."

Jenks delivered key throws on both of Clarkston's scoring drives of more than 25 yards, and helped to set up North's touchdown with a 28-yard bootleg run that put the Wolves at the Athens 14-yard-line.

Mitchell finished with 134 yards on the ground on 19 carries, his third-straight 100-plus yard rushing game.

Golfers victim of another hot opponent

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Even though some members of the Clarkston golf team can shoot good rounds at tough courses, a player on the other team decides to do his best Tiger Woods impersonation.

Captain Ben Ness shot a 38 Thursday against Bloomfield Hills Lahser at Katke-Cousins Golf Course. Normally, that score would be good enough to give him the overall win and put his team in a position for a victory.

But once again, the Wolves were victimized by an opposing player who made every shot. Lahser's Ryan McDonald scorched the course for a two-under par 34 to help the Knights to the win.

Clarkston coach Tim Kaul said his team has always had a tough time at Katke-Cousins, and this match was no exception.

"There's good length to the course and all the holes are set up differently," he said. "My kids are - shall we say - free swingers. And on that course, you need to be on the left side of the fairway to get to the greens the easiest way. Accuracy is not our strong suit."

The rest of Clarkston's team kept up pretty well with a Lahser team that beat third-ranked Rochester Adams at a recent tournament. With McDonald's eye-popping round putting him four shots ahead of Ness, the rest of the team only finished a total of four shots behind the Knights.

Jeff Walters shot a 42 for Clarkston, followed by a 43 for Derek Hool and a 44 by Mark Churay.

Kaul said the meet was another notch in the experience belt for Clarkston.

"So much of this game is confidence, and if a team thinks it can come in here and beat someone, they probably will," he said. "We've had three kids shoot exceptional rounds against us this year, and that's a little unusual. But no one's looking past us, either."

The Wolves, now 2-4 overall and 1-3 in the OAA Division I, take on West Bloomfield Thursday at Clarkston Creek, a match Kaul said Clarkston can win.

Cross country wins at Chesaning it was the placing of the next four runners that pleased Taylor. Kevin Breen, who finished 14th, and Brett Quantz, who took 19th, were two of four Clarkston runners finishing close together. The other two were Dan Burke (16th) and Chris Weber (18th).

"When we go to that meet, we work on something different every year," Taylor said. "What I liked was that the guys were thinking and not just running. Those are the kind of things you have to do to be successful."

On Sept. 15, Clarkston opened its league schedule with a pair of wins, over Rochester (24-32) and Lake Orion (24-31). However, the Dragons' all-state runner Jordan Desilets was not at 100 percent at the meet. As a result, Taylor said the team didn't get a true indication of where it stands against Lake Orion.

"We expected a stiff challenge, and it was a closer meet than the score indicated," he said. "I wasn't comfortable until it was over."

Haver was the team's biggest surprise, finishing first on the team and second overall with a time of 16:25. Sage took third, just nine seconds behind and five seconds ahead of Desilets. Burke finished seventh overall with a time of 17:09, and Breen was ninth overall (17:24).

"We were fortunate to come out with a win," Taylor said. "The thing I was happiest with was that our guys showed some good sportsmanship. There was a little trash talking going on before the race started, and the boys just ignored all of that. I've always thought trash talking worked better for the team receiving it, instead of the team that gives it."

The Wolves enter another key week, with a dual meet against Rochester Adams scheduled for Wednesday (today) at Bloomer Park. Saturday, the team heads to East Lansing for the Spartan Invitational.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Because the People Want to Know
INDEPENDENCE TWP.
CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE

At a regular meeting of the Independence Township Board held on September 15, 1998, the Township Board authorized a Second Reading and Adoption of the Right-Of-Way Regulation Ordinance as amended to the Township's Zoning Ordinance No. 83 as follows:

The motion to approve this amendment was offered by Wallace, supported by Rosso. The vote on the motion was as follows: Ayes: McCrary, McGee, Rosso, Stuart, Travis, Wallace, Wenger. Nays: None. Absent: None. The motion carried. The ordinance amendment is effective immediately upon publication.

SUMMARY OF ADOPTED RIGHT-OF-WAY REGULATION ORDINANCE

On September 15, 1998, the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence adopted an ordinance to regulate and manage the disruption to and use of the Township's rights-of-way, easements and/or public places by those persons and/or entities seeking to undertake any activity that disrupts the Township's rights-of-way, easements and public places and/or those persons and/or entities seeking to use and/or occupy the Township's rights-of-way, easements and public places.

Following is a summary of the ordinance:

A new Chapter 16.25, entitled, Right-of-Way Management, shall be added to the Independence Township Code of Ordinances, providing as follows:

ARTICLE 1 - IN GENERAL

Purpose/Legislative Findings.

Pursuant to Section 29 of Article 7 of the Michigan Constitution of 1963, the Township of Independence has the authority to exercise reasonable control over its highways, streets, alleys and public places. The Township of Independence finds that, in the furtherance of control and to ensure and protect the public health, safety and welfare, it is appropriate for the Township to monitor, review and approve requests by persons and other entities seeking to disrupt and/or use and/or occupy the Township's rights-of-way, easements and public places.

This Ordinance is further intended to minimize the disruption, disturbance and/or damage to the Township's rights-of-way, easements and public places, and also to exercise reasonable control over, and monitor the use of the same, as well as to maintain aesthetic, quality, and property values by requiring those parties or entities who seek to disrupt the Township's rights-of-way, easements and public places, and those parties who seek to use the Township's rights-of-way, easements and/or public places by constructing, installing, locating, operating, using and/or maintaining improvements, including telecommunications, gas and/or electric transmission systems therein, to obtain a disruption permit and/or a use permit and pay fair and reasonable permit fees.

The Township further finds that requiring the payment of the permit fees will assist in protecting the Township's interests in its rights-of-way, easements and public places by allowing the Township to cover the fixed and variable costs of maintaining, monitoring, and ensuring quality control with regard to its rights-of-way, easements and/or public places.

Definitions.

"Township Right-of-Way" means any and all public rights-of-way, streets, highways, roads, sidewalks, alleys, thoroughfares, public easements and public places located within the Township, including, but not limited to, rights-of-way, public easements and public places within and/or under the jurisdiction of the Township, as well as the curbs, shoulders, landscaped areas and/or other areas incidental and/or appurtenant thereto.

"Disruption" means a physical change, modification, alteration, disturbance, injury and/or damage to the Township's right-of-way, including, but not limited to, construction, installation, location, maintenance, modification, alteration, replacement, and/or repair of improvements in the Township's right-of-way, and/or the renewal or alteration of a right-of-way surface grade or material, tree, sign, marker, hydrant or other material or object preliminary to or in connection therewith.

"Improvement" shall mean any appliance, conduit, facility, pipes, poles, structures, wires, cables, fibres, buildings and/or any other man-made object and/or item, including, but not limited to, telecommunications system facilities, gas and/or electric transmission facilities, and other facilities.

ARTICLE 2 - DISRUPTION OF TOWNSHIP RIGHTS-OF-WAY

Disruption of Right-of-Way.
Generally, Except as otherwise provided herein, no person shall undertake and/or perform any activity which causes and/or results in any disruption to any Township right-of-way unless a disruption permit is first obtained from the Township and the activity is performed in accordance with the disruption permit and in the manner provided for in this Article. No person shall place any improvement or obstruction in any Township right-of-way, except under the conditions permitted in this Article.

Exceptions. This section shall not prohibit those temporary obstructions which are incidental to the expeditious movement of articles and things to and from abutting premises, the lawful operation and parking of vehicles within the part of the Township's right-of-way, nor the lawful and customary use of property by adjoining homeowners for such things as landscaping. In the event of a disruption emergency, including, but not limited to, a natural disaster, war and/or severe weather condition a person and/or a permittee may disrupt the Township's right-of-way without first receiving a disruption permit from the Township, provided that the Township Supervisor and/or their designee has approved the emergency disruption before the emergency disruption takes place.

Permit Application Procedures.

A person that wants to undertake and/or perform any activity which causes and/or results in any disruption to the Township's rights-of-way shall apply to the Township for a disruption permit pursuant to this section. Every applicant must complete and file an application with the Township Clerk's office on forms that will be provided by the Township Clerk.

Disruption Permit Fee.

In addition to the nonrefundable application fee set forth in this Article, and any other applicable fees for permits or approvals required by Township Ordinances and/or other applicable laws, the permittee shall pay a disruption permit fee in an amount which will cover all of the Township's administrative costs, inspection costs, consulting costs, plan review costs, monitoring costs and all other costs incurred by the Township in conjunction with the permittee's disruption of the Township right-of-way.

Permit Terms and Conditions.

There are a number of permit terms and conditions stated in this ordinance.

Restoration of Property.

The permittee shall promptly restore, at permittee's sole cost and expense, any portion of the Township's right-of-way that is disrupted by the permittee. The disrupted right-of-way shall be restored and returned to a condition that is as good as that which existed at the time the disruption occurred. The time period and the manner in which the restoration is to take place by the permittee shall be established by the Township, and, in the event that the permittee does not complete the restoration in the time period specified by the Township and/or does not undertake the restoration in the manner approved by the Township, the Township may, upon written notice to the permittee, complete the repair and restoration and apply the bond posted by the permittee with the Township toward the Township's cost of restoration and repair. In the event the bond does not cover all of the costs incurred by the Township, the permittee shall immediately pay the outstanding balance of the costs to the Township, and shall be liable to the Township for the same until paid.

Indemnification.

The Township, and its officers, employees, agents, representatives and contractors, shall not be liable and/or responsible for any damages and/or injuries that occur to and/or are suffered by any person, property and/or other item which is caused by or results from the permittee's disruption of the Township's right-of-way, and as a condition to the permittee being issued a permit by the Township, the permittee shall execute and deliver to the Township an Indemnification Agreement.

The permittee also agrees to indemnify and hold the Township and its officers, employees, agents, representatives harmless from any claims or other encumbrances which may be imposed as a result of any indebtedness or amounts owing by the permittee to any contractors, subcontractors and/or any other persons providing services, labor, materials and/or other items to the permittee.

Revocation of Permit.

In addition to any other rights and/or remedies that the Township may have pursuant to this Ordinance and any other applicable law, which rights and/or remedies the Township may pursue in its sole discretion, the Township Board, if it finds the existence of an imminent threat to the public health, safety or welfare, may order a stoppage of work pending a hearing before the Township Board, or, the Township Board may also revoke a permittee's disruption permit for any of the following reasons, subject to undertaking the revocation procedure in the ordinance.

ARTICLE 3 - USE AND OCCUPANCY OF TOWNSHIP'S RIGHTS-OF-WAY

Use Permit Required.

Except as otherwise provided in this Article, no person shall use and/or occupy the Township's rights-of-way for the purpose of using and/or operating any improvements within said rights-of-way unless a use permit has first been applied for and issued by the Township pursuant to this Article. For purposes of this Article, a person providing local exchange service or other local telecommunications services shall be considered to be using the Township's rights-of-way if such person is the owner of the improvement or obtains the use of the improvement from another party under a lease, contract, interconnection or other similar arrangement.

Failure to obtain a use permit under this section shall constitute a violation of this Article and shall subject the violating person to the penalties provided for in this Ordinance, and a person who violates this section shall pay the required use permit fee, as well as an additional charge to be established by resolution of the Township Board for that period of time that the person did not have a valid permit pursuant to this Ordinance.

Exemption.
The terms and provisions of this Article shall not apply to any person that currently has a valid, effective and unexpired franchise from the Township to use and occupy the Township's rights-of-way for the use and operation of improvements, and, further, shall not apply to those telecommunication carriers who have continuously used and occupied public rights-of-way under a claim of entitlement based on an alleged grant of authority by the state predating the Michigan Constitution of 1909 and have provided universal services for many years and/or provided telecommunications services within the Township pursuant to MCLA 484.4 prior to the enactment of the Michigan Constitution of 1909. Provided, however, this exemption shall not be applicable if and immediately when a Court of competent jurisdiction in any action in Michigan determines that the Township is not required to exempt a person purportedly granted rights in this section.

Permit Application Procedures.

A permit application procedure is spelled out in the ordinance.

Use Permit Fee.

In addition to the nonrefundable application fee set forth in this Article, and any other applicable fees for permits or approvals required by Township Ordinances and/or other applicable laws, the permittee shall pay for each year that the use permit is in effect on or before the last business day prior to January 1 of each year an annual use permit fee to the Township in an amount established from time-to-time by resolution of the Township Board. The amount of the use permit fee shall be fair and reasonable, competitively neutral and nondiscriminatory and shall not exceed the fixed and variable cost to the Township in maintaining the Township's rights-of-way used and occupied by the permittee. The amount of the annual fee shall be presumed to be in the amount of $.15 per lineal foot for aboveground improvements and $.30 per lineal foot for underground improvements. All applications shall be reviewed on a case-by-case basis for the purpose of determining whether the improvements of a permittee create any more or less impact upon the fixed and variable costs to the Township. In making such determination, the Township Board shall take into consideration the factors stated in the ordinance.

Use Permit Term and Renewal.

The first use permit granted to the permittee shall be valid from the date the Township Board grants the use permit through December 31st of the tenth year following the date the use permit was granted. Thereafter, the permittee may apply to the Township for ten-year renewals of its use permit, which renewal periods would run from January 1st to December 31st of each ten year term. Unless earlier terminated by the permittee and/or the Township, a permittee must file an application for renewal of its use permit with the Township Clerk not less than 120 days before the expiration of the current valid permit, and pay a renewal application fee to the Township Clerk in an amount established by resolution of the Township Board. The Township Board shall, by November 1st of the year in which the renewal application is filed, hold a public hearing on all requests for use permit renewals, and shall not later than December 1st of each year approve and/or deny all use permit renewal requests. The Township shall have the right to impose additional reasonable conditions on those use permit renewals it grants.

Although permits are to be granted with a ten year duration, as specified above, the Township Board shall also conduct an interim review at the end of the third and sixth years of a permit, for two purposes: The review shall first determine whether the fee schedule then in effect is adequate. If the Board determines that it is inadequate, a new fee shall be established and shall be effective for the balance of the term of the permit. The second purpose of the review shall be to require the permittee to demonstrate matters stated in the ordinance.

If at such review the permittee fails to make the demonstration specified above, the Township Board may impose further conditions upon the continuation of the use permit, or, if the failure represents a material breach of the terms and intent of this Article, the Township Board may terminate a use permit.

Indemnification. (substantially same as above)

Revocation of Permit. (substantially same as above)

ARTICLE 4 - MISCELLANEOUS

Violations/Penalties

Any person and/or entity violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment not to exceed 90 days in the Oakland County Jail, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court, plus costs of prosecution.

Underground Installation.

Except those improvements that must be established on or above the surface of the ground, and except to the limited extent that an applicant/permittee is exempted by law from this requirement, all installations of improvements shall be underground. It shall be the burden of the applicant/permittee to establish that an exception applies.
