Boy alerts family to chimney fire

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

An 11-year-old boy is being hailed as a hero after alerting his older brother and an adult family friend to a chimney fire that spread through the family's Pine Knob home last Thursday.

Konrad Ylvisaker, a Sashabaw Middle School sixth-grader, said he was watching the Detroit Lions football game with his brother Jon-Erick, 13, a SMS seventh-grader, and the friend, who often watches the boys while their father, Jon, is away. At the time of the fire, Jon Ylvisaker was up north.

Later, all left the living room, where a fire was burning in the fireplace, and retired to their rooms. Konrad and the sitter continued to watch the game upstairs, and Jon-Erick went to his bedroom. All were getting ready to doze off when Konrad decided to check the living room again, suspecting something might be wrong when he heard a strange sound.

"I smelled smoke and ran out to the living room. I heard a tingling sound, like something burning in the walls," he said. Konrad said the room also smelled bad, and thought maybe a spark had ignited some furniture.

He told the friend, who touched the walls and found they were hot. He called 911, at first thinking it was a chimney fire, and Konrad ran to get his brother. "I got him out of the house." When they went outside, they found it was much worse.

"The whole roof was in flames," Konrad said.

Independence Township fire chief Gar Wilson said the fire department received the two calls around

Ameritech worker injured in explosion

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

An Ameritech worker is in serious condition following a gas explosion on Deerwood Circle in Independence Township Monday afternoon.

Police and fire officials said the 52-year-old female employee was down in a 4-foot hole, using a blowtorch to "heat-shrink" two phone cable wires together, when it apparently touched an exposed gas line, triggering an explosion.

"It appears ... it melted the gas line," said Independence Township Fire Department Cpt. Mike Fahrner, who responded with firefighters after the incident occurred at 1:34 p.m. The scene of gas and flames resembled (President) "Kennedy's (eternal flame)," he said.

The woman, who was pulled out of the hole by a male co-worker, received first- and second-degree burns from the waist down on 36-percent of her body, Fahrner said. She and the co-worker were taken by

Mill Ponds Association seeking Lake Board members

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Step by step, people that live around the Mill Pond in the city are getting organized to make one of the area's nicest attractions even better.

The Clarkston Mill Ponds Association is in the midst of forming a Lake Board to help deal with issues with the pond, such as clean-up days and who has responsibility for the level of the pond.

The group will meet Tuesday night at the Independence Township Library to begin the Lake Board selection process.

Members of the association hope the board can be made up of several members of area organizations, including the Department of Environmental Quality, the Oakland County Commission, the drain commission, the city of Clarkston, Independence Township and pond-area property owners.

At its next meeting, the association hopes to begin distribution of petitions that will be sent out to pond-area property owners to set up a kind of Special Assessment District, according to city council liaison

Walt Gamble.

"We're going to go around and ask for contributions towards weed control," he said. "In the past, Hank Radcliff did all the work. But what this will do is to have all the property owners share in the cost of weed control."

The association decided that weed control was its top short-term priority after its two most recent meetings. Once a Lake Board is formed, other agenda items will follow, including setting of lake levels, dam and hydro works, dredging of the upper mill pond and duck and geese control.

The Lake Board would also assume any additional liability property owners don't already have.

The next meeting

The Clarkston Mill Ponds Association will meet Tuesday, Oct. 27 at 7:30 p.m. at the Independence Township Library. The library is located at 6495 Clarkston Road.

The News in Brief

Independence polling locations changed temporarily

The Independence Township clerk's office has announced four polling locations have been changed for the Tuesday, November 3 General Election. Those changes are:

Precincts 2 and 11, (previously North Sashabaw Elementary School), will be the cafeteria at Sashabaw Middle School, 5565 Pine Knob Lane.

Precincts 8 and 9, (previously Clarkston Elementary School), will be the cafeteria at Clarkston Middle School, 6300 Church Street.

All polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Flemings Lake Road completion date Nov. 15

Craig Bryson, public information officer of the Road Commission for Oakland County (RCOC) has announced paving of Flemings Lake Road between Clarkston Road and Walters Lake Road should be completed by November 15.

Earlier, RCOC had listed a completion date of October 31 because it was hoped the project could be completed ahead of schedule, he added.

Bryson said the road should be open to the public by November 15, which is within the scope of the contract.

City to hold public hearing on CDBG monies

The city of the village of Clarkston will hold a public hearing as part of its regular meeting Monday night to distribute Community Development Block Grant funds.

The city will decide what to do with around $8,000 in 1999 funds. The hearing and the meeting will take place at city hall, located on 375 Depot Road.

Persons interested in how the funds will be disbursed are encouraged to attend. The meeting begins at 7 p.m.

Public hearing for school district boundary realignment

The second of two community hearings for public discussion of proposed elementary and middle school boundary realignments at Clarkston Community Schools is Tuesday, October 27.

The hearing will take place at 7 p.m. at Clarkston High School in Room B-200, the Large Group Instruction Room.

Residents are asked to use the Main Office entrance of the high school. For more information, call Clarkston Schools Administration Office, 623-5400.

Church chimes in with daily bell-ringing ritual

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

*"... never send to know for whom the bell tolls;
it tolls for thee."*

-- John Donne

If all the church bells in Clarkston rang at the same time it could be one big bong -- guaranteed to wake up the soundest sleeper on a Sunday morning.

Of course, that's the intent -- to call folks to worship and to get them to the church on time for services. But no one wants to get a headache with dozens of bells pealing forth at the stroke of twelve -- especially during the week when the bells ring too.

It was that thought that prompted Church of the Resurrection Episcopal priest Father Bill McDonald to call surrounding churches that fall within his church's earshot. Lately, he's taken on a different task than the usual sermons, weddings and christenings. McDonald wants to reprogram the weekday bells to ring again, after lying dormant for several years.

"I need to decide when the bells should ring, so as not to conflict with other area churches," McDonald said last week in his office on Clarkston Road. He called several churches including Clarkston United Methodist, Calvary Evangelical Lutheran and St. Daniel Catholic. Some have bells that ring on the hour and every 15 minutes, he said.

He decided the church bells should ring twice daily -- at 12:05 p.m. and 5:05 p.m., the second "to mark the end of the work day." Since some local churches incorporate five minutes of sacred music following their bell peals, that's perfect timing.

The reason for Church of the Resurrection's resurrection of the ringing dates back to three years ago when the chimes got off track. "At one point something went wrong with the programming and the bells were played at night," McDonald says with a chuckle, adding that one woman complained to say she'd been awakened at 3 a.m. The church dropped the procedure.

Most bells seen on steeples nowadays aren't real bells at all, McDonald says. They hold "steeple speakers" that transfer sounds from a carillon, an elaborate computerized system that electronically manufactures bell sounds and sacred music.

Tones are created via synthesizer, "which is too bad," says McDonald, admitting that fact dispels the romantic picture of bells ringing back and forth with sound. "But they do a pretty good job," he says of the Verdin Co., whose system is used by many churches, including Church of the Resurrection. "They're sort of the Cadillac of the electronic carillon."

The old vision of the proverbial bell-ringer -- or "change ringing," where several pulled the ropes, "an old English Cathedral practice" -- is gone too. McDonald keeps a remote at the pulpit. With a push of a button, "the bells peal forth."

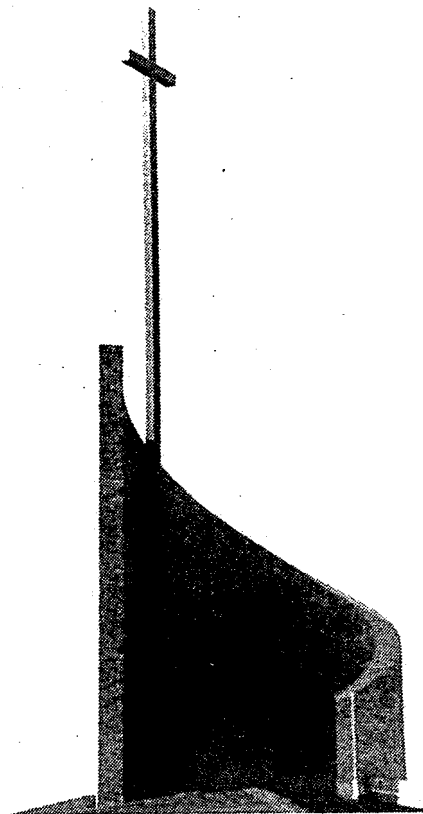

Currently, the church rings bells only on Sunday and holy days such as Christmas. During the Sunday service they ring twice, once at the beginning and a second time during Holy Communion -- traditionally at the point where bread and wine become the body and blood of Christ.

The Sunday selection is the "Angelus," a series of bell tones that invokes the story of how the angel Gabriel first hailed Mary, the mother of Christ. It's purpose is to "remember the Incarnation, that Jesus was born human," McDonald says, adding the Angelus -- "three rounds of three rings each" -- will be used weekdays as well.

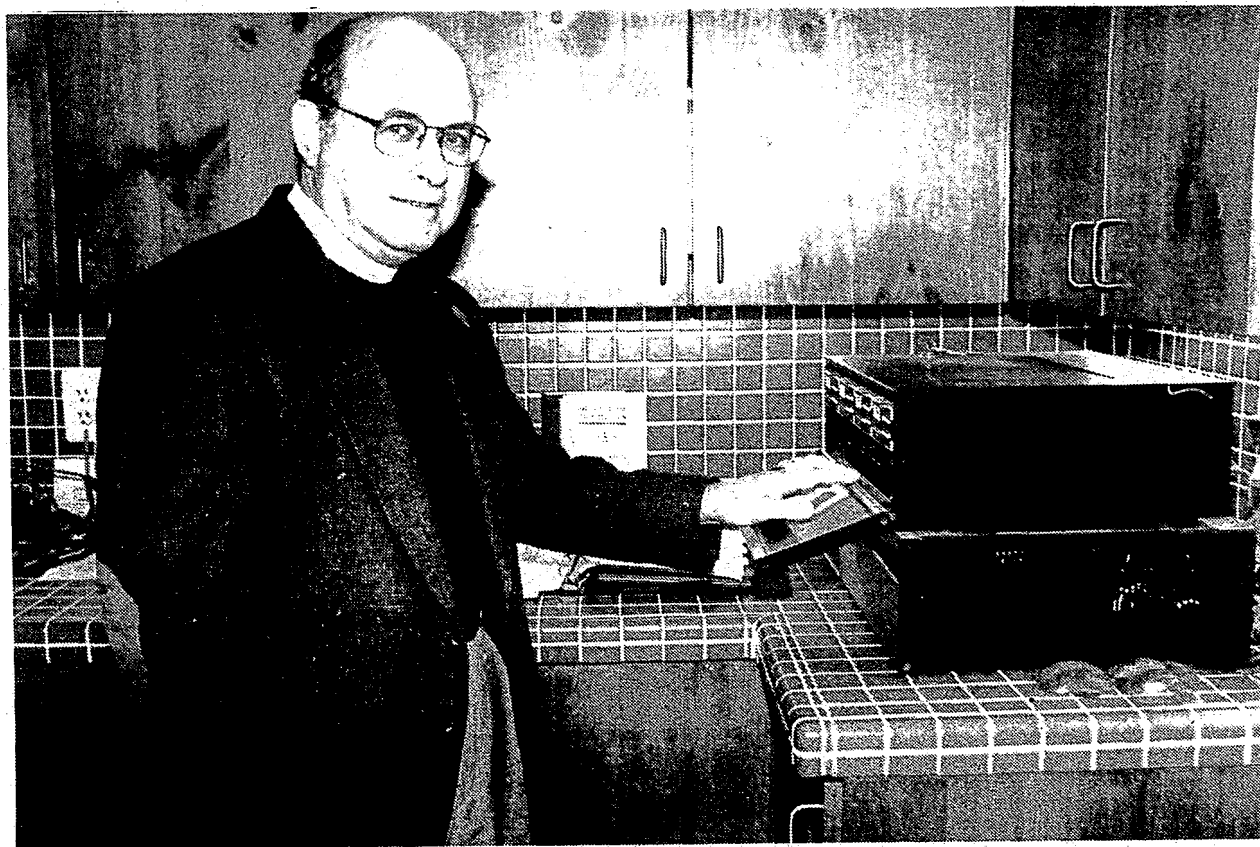

"The Angelus is a call to prayer and a call to worship or devotion. When the peal is rung in the middle (of Communion), it calls people to pause, to remember that a holy action is taking place. It marks

St. Dan's has a bell that hides a speaker.

Far from the traditional bell-ringer of yore, Father Bill McDonald, priest at Church of the Resurrection Episcopal, programs the electronic carillon system.

a holy moment."

But today's churches have many musical choices, he adds, producing a long list of bell patterns, hymns, carols and other music.

"A classic example is Big Ben in London. The tune it plays is 'Westminster,' a familiar eight-toned tune also found on grandfather clocks.

In addition to the Angelus, Church of the Resurrection uses "a whole peal of bells" following weddings and other special occasions, and the somber bell toll heard at funerals. Both President Kennedy's and Princess Di's funerals included a stately five minutes of toll ringing, he adds.

On holy days like saints' days another pattern is used. "This is just called 'the bell.' It sounds like a standard church bell, a single bell ringing without any specific pattern. It tells people to rise in the pews," McDonald said. "the bell" will also ring 10 minutes before the Sunday service.

However, throughout history bells have done more than remind people of spiritual matters, McDonald points out. They've been used to tell time ("before people had watches") and to alert townsfolk to special events -- such as the case with the old town crier.

They were also used to warn of danger, for example, of storms coming to sea coasts. "Often the church bell was the bell. The use of bells is not just

Youth alerts family to fire

10:23 p.m. When they arrived at 10:28 p.m., flames were shooting "35 feet over the top of the roof. It was really going," Wilson said.

Wilson called in Orion, Oxford and Brandon fire departments for water tanker assistance. Brandon brought in nearly 10 men to help 20 firefighters from Independence battle the blaze for nearly three hours. There were no injuries to firefighters or victims, Wilson said, except for one Independence firefighter who suffered a sprained or broken ankle.

As far as damage, "two-thirds of the house was totally damaged," Wilson said. "I think we saved the garage, utility rooms, two or three bedrooms. But the living part of the house is a total loss. It burned rapidly."

The fire appears to have started in the chimney area, said Wilson, "but (investigators) couldn't tell for sure because the chimney pipes were badly damaged. There was too much destruction from the fire to tell exactly where it started."

Lynne Pallotta, a nearby neighbor, watched the fire burn till almost 2 a.m. and expressed her sympathy for the family. "They were in shock," she said of the two boys. "The younger boy didn't even have shoes on. That's how fast it burnt down."

The boys' aunt, Janey Ylvisaker, also of Clarkston, said the whole house will have to be torn down now. "It's going to be hard to start over, but at least they're safe," she said of her two nephews, who were pretty much left with "only the clothes on their backs."

Konrad, who lost his stereo, computers and "all my stuff" in the blaze, is modest about what he did. "My dad -- he was glad I got everybody out of the house."

Statistics from the Independence Fire Department show there have been 18 structure fires extinguished by the department since January, two of them involving fatalities.

Road woes halt subdivision plans

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Road problems have caused a roadblock for a proposed new subdivision west of Dartmouth between Indianwood and Oakhill roads.

On Oct. 8, Independence Township Planning Commissioners unanimously approved a special land use/cluster option for the site, which rests on a former gravel quarry. Amenities include large areas of preserved open space, a lake and an internal roadway system for residents.

Proposed as Coulter Lake Estates, the 175-acre parcel includes 75 one-acre lots, with site condos ranging from $300,000 to $600,000.

However, commissioners tabled Trinity Land Development's second request for conceptual site plan approval, agreeing they needed to set up a special subcommittee after wrestling with several road-related topics. Rich Oppmann, Joe Figa and Dan Travis volunteered.

The proposed development includes both a public road, with access points from Dartmouth and Oakhill, and a private "ring road" around Coulter Lake. Part of that private road runs parallel to Indianwood Road.

Commissioners agreed the main issue is the need for legal advice on the possibility of future road improvements to Indianwood, because it would impact both existing homeowners to the south and new Coulter Lake homeowners to the north whose homes would front that road.

Chair Steve Board pointed out the fact that those homeowners' driveways back up to the private road. Would they, therefore, be exempt from contributing to a special assessment district if Indianwood is ever paved?

"The legal question is people who live on the north side don't need access to Indianwood because they have access to the private road. But their homes front on Indianwood," said commissioner Dan Travis. If those homeowners are deemed to be exempt, "It could cost homeowners to the south twice as much."

Both motions passed unanimously, 6-0 (Todd Moss was absent), following a public hearing which drew nearby residents. Other issues included increased traffic and objections to the fact that the sub's internal roads will be paved -- and Indianwood and Dartmouth, both county roads, would remain gravelled.

"Building new pieces of infrastructure and leaving the old stuff unimproved -- this looks silly," said Mattawa resident Ross Maunders, who suggested developers pay some of the paving costs. "On my way home from work, I know I'm going to avoid this bumpy, muddy road and cut right through the subdivision," he said.

However, the board noted developers are not generally obligated to contribute to public road improvements, except for certain major projects, said township engineer Randy Ford. Oakhurst and Morgan Lake are two examples.

Efforts to pave Indianwood have failed in the past, said Maunders, who circulated a petition among his neighbors that fell "one signature short." If 51-percent had signed, an SAD could have been created.

Road Commission for Oakland County recommended the internal road system be built, said Trinity vice president Richard Ives. One reason was to alleviate traffic on surrounding roads like Sashabaw. That concept was also endorsed by township planner Dick Carlisle and himself, said Ford.

Nevertheless, commissioner Jill Palulian joined others who voiced concerns about increased traffic. "Brandon (Township) is funneling a lot of cars onto Sashabaw and this development will add to it," she said. On Friday, she noted some residents would never like to see the roads paved. "I would love to live on one of those dirt roads," she said.

Though he shared concerns, Travis praised the proposed project. "It's nice to see the rehabilitation of land to the positive good of the community," he said. "And this is very sensitive to environmental impacts out there."

Woman hits officers, damages patrol car

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A woman described as "out of control" by local police assaulted two officers and punched out the back window of a patrol car on a quiet residential street in Clarkston last Friday.

Clarkston Police Chief Paul Ormiston said the incident occurred about 6:30 p.m. after a city officer stopped a 39-year-old Waterford man for erratic driving at E. Church and Buffalo. His sister, a 38-year-old Clarkston woman, was in front of the patrol car but "backed up" when the officer detained her brother.

"She got out and cussed at the officer," Ormiston said, adding intoxicants were smelled on her breath. The man left his car, easing himself into his wheelchair and joined her and the officer called for backup from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, Ormiston said.

"He was dealing with two irate people standing in the middle of the street, of which at least one appeared to be intoxicated." According to OCSD reports, at one point the man became so irate, his wheelchair tipped over.

It took four OCSD officers to try to "investigate" for drunk driving, he added. During the attempt, the woman became combative and officers were unable to physically remove her from her car.

Eventually she "kicked the Clarkston officer in the face and bit one of the (OCSD) deputies," Ormiston said. She was sprayed with pepper spray, "the foam-type ... She took some off her face and threw it into the face of our officer, which kind of put him out of commission," Ormiston said.

"She was eventually arrested and placed in our patrol car." Though handcuffed, "she subsequently kicked the rear window out of that car and was put into the sheriff's car," Ormiston said. The Independence Township Fire Department arrived to treat the

by Maralee Cook
Invasion of the Zebra Mussels

I'd heard they were coming, but didn't realize how quickly they would multiply.

We've gone from zero to at least 100,000 Zebra Mussels in one season on Maceday Lake. That's the number my husband and stepson -- the engineer and the budding biologist -- have estimated are clinging to the bottom of our sailboat.

We noticed them for the first time Monday when we took the boat out of the water for the season. Dark, hard, and only about 1/4-inch long, the mussels were clustered together, about 20 per square inch. We were stunned to see the bottom of our 19-foot Flying Scot coated with them.

We didn't notice any last fall when we took the boat out at the end of the season, and haven't stepped on them on the lake bottom, or seen them clinging to dock pilings.

They remind me of the tiny clams my brother and I would dig for along the New Jersey shore where we vacationed as children.

They would wash in with the waves as the tide came in, hundreds at a time in pastel pinks, blues and yellows, quickly opening and closing their shells to burrow into the wet sand.

We'd scramble to see how many we could catch before they buried themselves deep into the shoreline or be pulled back out to sea by receding waves.

We usually tried to pry several open with our fingernails and finding nothing inside, toss them aside.

As a child I never once considered their purpose in the Great Scheme of things.

But I sure am wondering about the purpose of these Zebra Mussels.

Jeff Braunscheidel, a fisheries management biologist with the Department of Natural Resources said the Zebra Mussels started showing up in Maceday Lake last summer. He said he's had reports of them this summer in Greens Lake, Woodhull and Lake Oakland.

They were brought to the Great Lakes by ocean-going vessels and started showing up in Lake Erie in the early 80s, said Braunscheidel. By 1993 they had made their way into Michigan's inland lakes. He said DNR biologists are still studying the positives and negatives of their impact.

They'll grow only to 1/2 or 3/4 of an inch at maturity, he said, and can be light or dark with dark stripes.

Calling them filter feeders, Braunscheidel said they filter the water and make it clearer, so that light penetrates deeper into the water, resulting in more vegetation growth.

He said it's possible they may reduce the food supply for some organisms, but currently they seem to benefit perch.

The known problems they're causing so far come from their penchant for collecting on hard surfaces. Braunscheidel said the tough little buggers collect on native clams, making it impossible for them to open. They also clog lake pumps and boat motors.

We'll see how they hold up against a power-washer and a determined husband.

For more information about Zebra Mussels contact the Department of Natural Resources, (734)953-0241.

Letters to the Editor

PTA's hard work appreciated

Dear Editor,

The students at Bailey Lake Elementary recently took part in the yearly fundraiser for their school. The fundraiser was a "Fun Run" organized by the school PTA and was one of the most successful fundraisers in which the students had ever participated. Students collected pledges from friends and relatives in exchange for running a mile in the school parking lot.

We would like to thank the Bailey Lake PTA for the outstanding job of organizing and monitoring this very exciting event. The weather was beautiful and the students enjoyed running to the sound of music and cheers from the enjoyed volunteer PTA members. Bailey Lake is very fortunate to have such an outstanding and involved PTA. We appreciate their hard work.

Homecoming youth made Clarkston better

Dear Editor,

Homecoming weekend was filled with opportunities for the Clarkston Community to see our youth involved in positive activities.

The Homecoming game on Friday night featured our fine Marching Band, Student Council members selling balloons to support the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, the Homecoming Court with diverse interests and achievements, the varsity football team, the freshman, JV, and varsity cheerleaders, the JV and varsity pom-pom squads, and probably other groups that were not visible to fans but were very much involved.

On Sunday at the Clarkston High School dedication ceremony there were other groups showing their talents. The Clarkston High School Madrigal Singers, the Clarkston High School Jazz Band, the Clarkston High School Wind Ensemble, the student photographers, tour guides, and any other "behind the scenes" groups were an integral part of the day's program. I enjoyed all of the festivities and am proud to be a resident in this community.

I would like to commend all the youth from Clarkston that give of their time and talent to make Clarkston a better community. You are the future!

With Thanks
Maggie Maxwell

Candidates forum takes place October 27

Dear Editor,

The North Area Citizens Conference has held public candidates' interviews for the last twelve years as a service to both candidates and voters.

You are cordially invited to come to the Orion Library, 825 Joslyn Road, Lake Orion, on Tuesday October 27.

The public is invited and a question and answer period will be held.

The T.C.I. Cable Television Company will tape the interviews, which will be shown on several channels repeatedly until election time. We also plan, as previously done, to offer the tapes to the libraries and associations upon request.

THE SCHEDULE

Invited candidates should be at the library:

Oakland County Commissioners	6:30 P.M.
Michigan State Representatives	7:00 P.M.
U. S. Congressional Representatives	8:00 P.M.

Renew OCSD millage

Dear Editor,

On November 3, 1998, Independence Township voters are going to be asked to renew the current millage rate for Oakland County Sheriff's Department services.

This rate is the amount which you have approved in past elections as it has been rolled back by the Headlee Amendment or Truth in Taxation. This millage allows the township to provide you with 24 hour police coverage by fifteen (15) deputies, three (3) detectives, one (1) school liaison officer and three (3) command personnel for a total of 22 personnel.

By contracting with the Sheriff's department for this service, we are able to provide you with the most cost effective police service that is available. It also provides you with the most modern, best trained and most effective police service that is available anywhere in the state.

Your township board has also been able to stretch your tax dollars by obtaining a grant from the federal government and the state that has allowed us to add three additional deputies to what we had previously contracted, increasing your protection while saving you about $200,000 per year.

IT IS CRITICAL that this millage is approved. It represents our entire revenue to operate police services.

When you realize that the owner of a $100,000 home is paying about $.75 per day to have this valuable protection, I am confident you will agree it is a bargain.

Please vote on November 3, 1998 and vote YES on the local proposal that is located on the back of your ballot.

Dale A. Stuart
Independence Township Supervisor

Vote Republican on November 3

DON'T RUSH ME / by Don Rush

It must be an election year

It doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure out this is an election year and since I ain't no rocket scientist I figured it out.

Is it just me, or are the commercials this year different than in previous years? I haven't watched much television of late, but on the radio a large number of ads seem anonymous. "Let's retire this guy, or this gal hasn't paid her property taxes, or he's liberal or she's radical." But, at the end the ads don't say anything like, "So, vote for Blah Blah instead."

The ads just end.

Speaking of ads, I think I am to the point of voting for the person who doesn't run negative ads. Or, in other words, even if the guy or gal I like runs a negative ad I will vote against him or her.

On the home-state front: while the Michigan Education Association -- I think -- has come out in favor of Democrat Jeffrey Fieger for governor, they haven't spent much money pumping up their man.

In past elections, the teachers' union has taken on a "holy war" mentality in attacking Governor Engler. I find it interesting that there is little or no such attitude this year because everybody knows John Engler still "hates" teachers.

And, while we're on the topic of hate...

One bit of rhetoric that has come from Washington, DC, is the push for "hate" crime legislation. I guess I hate the idea.

Politicians, ever mindful of a highly-charged emotional situation, have grabbed hold of the tragic, torture/murder of the young man in Wyoming. Gay rights activists, President Clinton and US Attorney General Reno have all come out and said something to the effect, "We need to tell those with hate in their hearts that they cannot commit crimes against (fill in the blank with the aggrieved group of choice). We must have equality."

What happens when we finally achieve "equality?" Do these laws have a sunset clause? Or will we have legislated special classes of Americans?

Interesting question, aye?

What I get out of this: If a gay person, minority person, whatever kind of person gets murdered it is more of a crime than if I get murdered. To me they are saying, if somebody's gay son's blood is spilled, it is more important than if my son or daughter's blood is spilled because he or she is not gay.

I am offended by that notion. Somebody is still dead.

We cannot legislate against "feelings." People with hate in their hearts will have hate in their hearts regardless of the law. They will torment, maim and kill regardless. It is against the law to torment, maim and kill any woman, child or man. Those who commit such crimes should pay the price.

Killing is against the law of man and it is against the law of God. It shouldn't be used as a football to be tossed around to gain politically yardage.

What do you think? You can E-mail Don at: Donrushme@juno.com

A Look Back

15 YEARS AGO (1983)

According to Clarkston pediatrician Dr. James O'Neill, there's more alcohol abuse in Clarkston schools than drug abuse -- and he has the numbers to prove it.

Clarkston Elementary kindergarten teacher Anita Davison is named Woman of the Year by the Waterford-Clarkston Business Women's Association.

The Clarkston Wolves try to come back after a badly played first-half, but fall victims to Dearborn High's football team, 24-14.

25 YEARS AGO (1973)

A $1 million lawsuit, charging violation of civil rights in Independence Township's failure to OK a site plan for the north end of Deer Lake, is filed in Detroit Federal District Court.

Sashabaw Junior High student Billie Moore heads the school's Student Council, and Betty Hitchcock becomes president of Clarkston Junior High.

Mickey Regenk is crowned Clarkston High School's homecoming queen. Her court includes Becky Zachus, Kathy Watson, Gay Stelmach, Sandy Warden and Denise Langdon.

50 YEARS AGO (1948)

News from "By The Way:" Ho hum! So this is election year! There is about as much interest in the campaign as there is in yesterday's newspaper. The only official news so far is that there will be an election Nov. 2, 1948. There may be some candidates running in local politics, but the national campaign is being carried on such a high plane that one might say it was out of this world.

Playing at the Drayton Theatre are Clark Gable and Lana Turner in "Homecoming" and John Garfield and Frances Farmer in "Flowing Gold."

60 YEARS AGO (1938)

The Clarkston football team makes the first score that has been made against Keego Harbor this season at Friday's game. Although the Keego lads win by a wide margin, the home boys are nevertheless proud to be the first to make a dent in this year's record.

Showing at the Holly Theatre are Cary Grant and Katherine Hepburn in "Holiday" and The Dionne Quintuplets and Claire Trevor in "Five of a Kind."

Specials at Barnard's Food Market on the Dixie include pure pork sausage, 18 cents a pound; medium eggs, 27 cents a dozen; pancake flour, five pounds for 19 cents; and pancake syrup, one quart for 23 cents.

Vote for Dunaskiss

Dear Editor,

When you cast your ballot on November 3, take the time to vote for a public official who has represented us and the entire state of Michigan well, State Senator Mat Dunaskiss.

Senator Dunaskiss has served us well for several years like few public officials have. I am proud to have a state senator who has consistently stood strong on issues that matter to residents of northeast Oakland county. I am also proud to have a state senator who takes the time to hold forums to meet with his constituents and get a feel for their public policy concerns. Having taken the time to listen to what the people think, he has worked closely with Governor Engler on many of the initiatives that have improved this state's economy and standard of living.

I am proud to cast my vote for a hard-working state senator who is devoted both to his constituency as well as to the welfare of Michigan. I'm proud to vote for Senator Mat Dunaskiss.

Clinton running from the truth

Only in our federal government can there be a $70 billion surplus in the treasury when the country is in debt $5.4 trillion.

I watched a live broadcast of Bill Clinton telling the world how great the American economy is and how we must give billions of dollars to the International Monetary Fund to get the economies in the rest of the world going again.

The thought kept recurring... how much of what he's saying is a lie?

Once a liar, always a liar. Bill Clinton has admitted lying to us.

His tactic now is to get out of town as often as possible, make as few appearances before reporters as possible and talk about anything but his adulterous affairs.

We suggest he review copies of the September 27th "Touched by an Angel" and October 1st "Promised Land" television programs.

In it, Angel Tess tells a little boy, "You're running away from the truth."

Clinton called Arafat and Netanyahu to Washington to work out a peace agreement. We're left wondering how many American dollars were promised by Clinton before the two decided to give it another try.

Running from the truth?

Clinton asks Treasurer Rubin and Federal Reserve chairman Greenspan to call world financial leaders to come over and talk about the crisis. Clinton says he'll attend the meeting.

Clinton has already asked Congress to approve billions of our dollars to solve European, Asian, African, etc debt woes.

Running from the truth?

Clinton has made over 90 fund raising trips to replenish the treasury of the Democratic party.

Running from the truth?

Now, of course, there is a war to become further involved in. "U.S., NATO ready to attack Serbs" the headline reads. Pictures of the dead, with reporters and politicians specifically mentioning "women and children" are becoming more and more frequent.

Running from the truth?

Hillary, too, has been out of the country, visiting schools in Uruguay.

Is she, also, running from the truth?

The lie Clinton told last January 17, the one in particular that we all know about, has made an indelible black mark on the office of president of the United States.

We believe Clinton thinks he has done nothing wrong, that he believes carrying a bible out of church each Sunday gives him the right heavenly support and that he is a great leader.

We think he's running from the truth, but he doesn't know what the truth is.

CHS LIFE / by Kevin Kosbab

Who needs sleep?

Who needs sleep?
well you're never gonna get it
Who needs sleep?
tell me what's that for
Who needs sleep?
be happy with what you're getting
There's a guy who's been awake
since the Second World War
Thus goes the chorus of the Barenaked Ladies' (a band that is neither nude nor female) song "Who Needs Sleep?", which echoed through my head for the entirety of last night-Saturday-and this morning-Sunday. I was at a lock-in at my church's senior high youth group and, well, we took the song lyrics pretty much as law and didn't go to sleep at all.

So let me warn you right now that my writing abilities may be a bit off. That, however, is only compounded by the scatterbrainedness that has seemed to plague me this year-last time I wrote, I called my present math class by the name of last year's. After almost two months of school, I still don't have it all together.

You may be wondering what thirty high school students would do all night. So do I-how did we possibly entertain ourselves for the twelve hours plus that we were there? It's hard to believe that we could find enough to talk about. And it feels like we were at the lock-in forever and at the same time barely at all. Time is a strange beast.

Some people did go to sleep; it wasn't all of us that were-well, what were we? Brave? Stupid? I think a bit of both.

The funny thing about a lack of sleep is that everything and anything can be blamed on it. If someone said something stupid, they were tired; if someone was unfriendly, they just needed sleep. One of my friends, for example, takes full advantage of this by acting as grouchy as he possibly can when he feels sufficiently tired. A quote: "I'm sick of an of you. Shut up. Don't look at me. I said don't look at me! You're dumb. Grunt. Grunt."

Because of this ability to pass the blame and since you really do do stupid things when you're excessively tired-a good chunk of the night is consumed by our complaints of fatigue. We know, though, that no one forced us to come-we came because it's fun, and the self-destruction of staying up all night and then whining about it is a large part of what makes it enjoyable.

And when high school students have that bond of a mutual exhaustion, we become idiots, and that's where the most fun is. We play music and dance like morons, and we don't care; it's fun. We drive carts down the aisle at Kroger while singing "Walk Like an Egyptian" at one or two in the morning-therefore humiliating our youth director, I'm sure-and we don't care; it's fun.

Alas, no one will be walking like an Egyptian when our alarms bellow at 5:30 a.m. on Monday morning. In answer to the question of who needs sleep, even invincible teenagers like us.

Players hold auditions for January production

Local community theater troupe, Clarkston Village Players, has announced audition dates for Oscar Wilde's classic comedy, "The Importance of Being Earnest," to be presented by the Players Jan. 8-23.

Auditions will be held Oct. 28 at 7 p.m. and Oct. 29 at 7:30 p.m. at Depot Theater, 4861 White Lake Road in Clarkston. Call (248) 625-8811 for more information.

The tale revolves around an ingenious case of manufactured mistaken identity. To avoid social responsibility, Jack Worthing invents an irresponsible younger brother named Earnest. The plan backfires when a friend actually poses as Earnest in order to woo Jack's beautiful ward. Both men soon learn the real "importance of being earnest."

Township audit picture rosy

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The good news is revenues exceeded expenditures for Independence Township last year.

During a 1997 township audit presentation conducted by Plante & Moran at the Oct. 6 board of trustees meeting, CPA consultant Jeff Mengel pronounced the $1.7 million fund balance in the general fund as "a fairly healthy fund balance." The revenue should help the township in its future budgets, Mengel said.

He and fellow CPA Shane Ferguson, two members of the auditing team that prepared the township's annual audit, whittled a 46-page financial statement down to a graph package they presented to the board.

It showed revenues have exceeded expenditures from 1995-1997, except for 1996, due to long-term debt proceeds that were spent the year before and construction costs for the new fire hall, built in 1996.

Figures show the township's 1997 expenditures at $12,264,000 and its revenues at $13,130,000. "The township is in excellent financial health," Mengel said.

From 1995-1997 the general fund balance shows growth, Ferguson said. Cash balances for water and sewer have also increased, attributed to the people who used those services, Mengel said.

However, township trustee Neil Wallace said residents shouldn't get too "elated" because much of the money in sewer and water funds goes toward maintenance and repair.

"Like I pointed out at the meeting, we're not just sockin' money away. We're planning for the inevitable need to maintain and repair the sewer and water systems," he said.

The board voted to accept the 1997 audit unanimously, 7-0.

Independence holds hearing for CDBG funds

Independence Township will hold a public hearing Wednesday, Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the Fire Station #1 training room, 6500 Citation Drive in Clarkston. The 1999-2000 budget and distribution of Community Development Block Grant funds will be discussed. Funds are estimated to be $63,947. Residents are encouraged to be present for public comment.

FIT FOR LIFE

by Heather Haepers
Exercise - The Fountain of Youth

You are never too old to begin exercising. Exercise and aging have almost exact opposite effects on the body.

Aging causes a decreased metabolism, muscle atrophy (loss), a gain in body fat, and a loss in muscular strength.

On the other hand, regular exercise can help to increase your metabolic rate, cause muscle hypertrophy (growth), a loss in body fat, and a gain in muscular strength. Exercise can also help to prevent many of the chronic health problems that occur as we age.

Cardiovascular exercise has many health benefits. It can be an important tool in lowering blood pressure, regulating blood sugar and cholesterol, reducing body fat, and preventing heart attack and stroke.

Cardiovascular exercise consists of such activities as brisk walking, biking, aerobic dance, water aerobics, swimming, and much more. As long as it is rhythmic movement that raises your heart rate within your target heart rate range for at least 10-15 minutes, the exercise is considered cardiovascular.

A good goal is 20-30 minutes per day at least three (preferably all) days of the week. Be creative - take ballroom dancing lessons or take a baby for a walk (pushing a stroller can be hard work!).

It is important to keep your muscles and bones strong. Strength training, also called resistance training, is suitable for any age. In fact, studies have shown that older adults residing in nursing homes can gain strength extremely fast from lifting two- to five-pound hand weights just a few days per week.

Older adults have responded so quickly to resistance training that many seniors can actually use much heavier resistance. Strength training is any exercise that causes your muscles to work against a form of resistance such as weights, elastic tubing, or water.

Since muscle loss increases with age, it is important to perform strength training two to three days per week for 20-30 minutes. This will prevent the weakness that occurs with muscle loss and make everyday activities, such as carrying groceries, easier. Your muscles and joints will become stronger which can increase balance; therefore, preventing falls that can lead to broken bones.

Flexibility exercise is also important. You can benefit from just five to 10 minutes a day of stretching. Just remember that stretching should never hurt - only hold a stretch to where you feel comfortable, and hold it for 20 to 30 seconds. Stretching will prevent injuries such as muscle pulls, as well as prevent muscle soreness.

Whatever type of exercise you are performing, it is important to perform it correctly and safely. I always recommend working with a fitness professional to get you started, and check with your physician before starting a new program.

CVP repeats "Bullshot Crummond"

The rollicking farce "Bullshot Crummond" has delighted local audiences in the past, so Clarkston Village Players is serving up a second helping next month.

The Players' second offering of the 1998-99 play season debuts Nov. 6 and continues its run Nov. 7, 12, 13, 14, 19, 20 and 21 at Depot Theater, 4861 White Lake Road in Clarkston. Tickets are $9 for Thursday shows (7:30 p.m.) and $10 for Friday and Saturday shows (8 p.m.). For more information call (248) 625-8811 or 625-2511 (Tierra Jewelry).

The farce, a parody of low-budget 1930s detective movies, pits Teutonic villain Otto Von Bruno and his evil mistress against famed investigator Bullshot Crummond. The diabolical duo kidnaps Professor Fenton and his diamond formula, and are relentlessly pursued by the detective, egged on by the prof's beautiful daughter. A madcap car chase ensues and Bullshot "saves the world."

Education, preventive and comprehensive care at new clinic

BY GENNA COTTRELL
Clarkston News Staff Writer

"There just wasn't any other job for me," said Dr. Narin Tanir-Avci. "This is always where I wanted to be."

And luckily for area residents, Clarkston is that place. Her new practice, Tanir Medical Center Village Clinic, is located at 5905 S. Main in Clarkston.

Dr. Tanir-Avci did her training at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in 1995 after schooling in her native Turkey, and decided then she would like to stay in the area.

"I really liked it here, I liked the system," she said.

After taking her exams and completing her residency, she joined her father-in-law at his practice in Union Lake.

Because she enjoyed the community and its residents, Dr. Tanir-Avci actively researched and sought out an opportunity to establish a practice in the Clarkston area.

"My goal was always to have my own practice," she said. "This is a nice area, very much like an old town. Everyone here knows each other, very friendly. Although Clarkston is a busy area, it's more like a small village where everyone knows and cares about each other."

Dr. Tanir-Avci's specialty is internal medicine, but as she says, "I like to see a bit of everything." She continues, "Comprehensive care is at the forefront of my practice. It's important to see the patient as a whole, and to be able to provide as many services right here as possible."

Her patient scope is broad, including family practice, minor urgent care, dermatology, health screenings and some physical therapy.

"We're not just a women's health center," said

The staff at Dr. Tanir-Avci's office includes Judy Woolley, Jennifer Mead, Narin Tanir-Avci, M.D., Abbey Mrozinski, Tansel Avci, Sarah Leonard and Carol Campbell.

Dr. Tanir-Avci. "I try to offer everything here, for men, women and children. It's everything a clinic should do for a patient and a community."

She is currently affiliated with St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, North Oakland Medical Center, Huron Valley Hospital, Detroit Medical Center and hopes to soon join with Genesys Health Systems as well.

As a member of the American medical Association, the American College of Physicians and the Michigan State Medical Society, Dr. Tanir-Avci said she prides herself on remaining up to date on current medical issues and practices.

"I'm particularly interested in preventive care concepts," she said. "There's a lot of information out there for patients, and it's important to get that knowledge out to people I believe education is foremost."

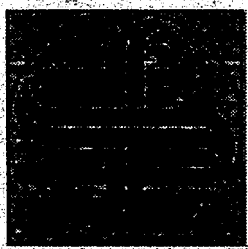

She is proud of her staff at Tanir Medical Center Village Clinic. "My staff is very good at their jobs, very caring and professional," she said. "As a whole they bring to us lots of experience, and that's something our patients will appreciate, as I do."

Dr. Tanir-Avci said she hopes to expand her clinic's services to include a physical therapy unit in the near future, including therapeutic massage. "I'd like to broaden our scope in patient access to have everything here, have it close to home."

If establishing her own practice is not enough, her two sons, ages 11 months and three years keep Dr. Tanir-Avci busy after hours as well. Her husband of eight years assists the practice in financial matters and in the implementation of a fully integrated computerized system for medical records and billing.

New sergeant returns to his beginnings

By EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Independence Township's newest police sergeant says he's made "the full circle" -- back to the same community he started at 22 years ago.

In those days the Oakland County Sheriff's Department officer shared space with the Clarkston Village Police Department in the small white building next to township hall on Main Street. The village department disbanded, and Sgt. Clay Jansson says it's ironic Clarkston started up a force again when it became a city six years ago.

Jansson started his duties Sept. 14, as one of two full-time sergeants in charge of road patrol and administrative duties. He replaced former substation Sgt. Jeff Crockett who was transferred to Pontiac. Jansson said the OCSD regularly shifts officers around and it's good experience.

His last stint was Court Services under Corrective Satellites Division, working for security and prison management for the Oakland County Circuit Court and Friend of the Court buildings, as well as security for five district courts, including Clarkston's.

At his new post, he supervises patrolmen but works in the trenches himself. Although many of his duties are administrative, Jansson has been able to expand his work into the patrol area.

"For me, this is back into police work of sorts -- back into road patrol and dealing with citizens on a daily basis. I refer to myself as a 'working sergeant.'"

A Milford resident and single parent who has two teenage sons, Jansson wears two hats. He's a police sergeant, but he's also a member of Milford's Village Council. Both fill a need to work for the citizenry, he says.

As far as police work, he's never regretted his career choice. "I love it. I wouldn't do anything else. I think it's the contact with the citizens." There are people you want to meet "and people you don't want to meet," he says with a smile. "But, day to day, we mostly deal with the citizens who are the taxpayers we're providing services for.

"This is one of our patrol areas that has been very supportive," he says of Independence Township. "And that sends a pretty clear message to us that we do what they pay us to do."

Copeman new PTA Council president

Hopes to add two college scholarships

April Copeman

Active parent volunteer April Copeman has been elected Clarkston PTA Council president for 1998-1999.

April has been a member of the PTA Council since 1996, serving the executive board as both secretary and treasurer.

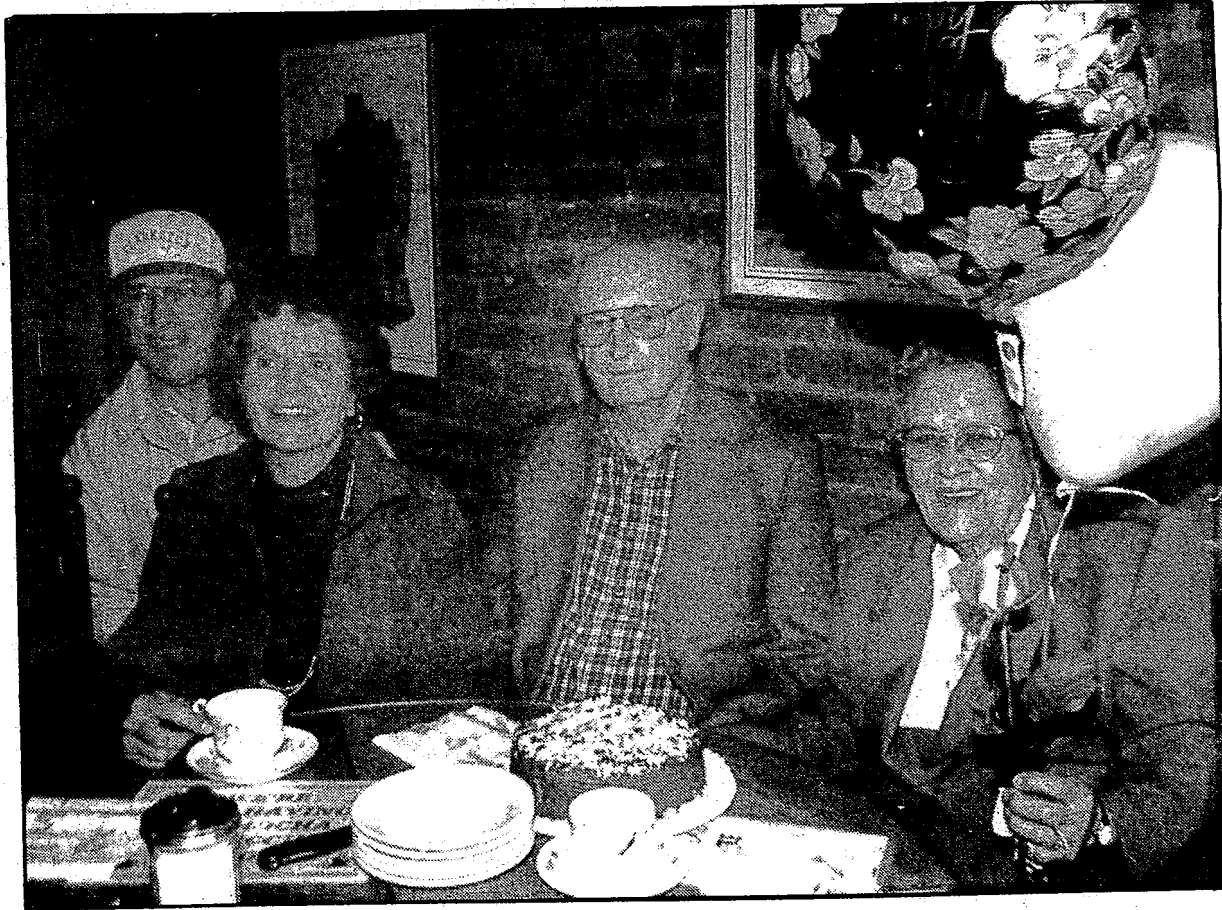

As president, she's hoping to increase to four the number of college scholarships awarded to Clarkston High School seniors. Currently, PTA Council provides two scholarships.

April said another goal is to continue preparations for hosting the Odyssey of the Mind competition in the year 2000.

At Pine Knob Elementary School where her daughter Elizabeth is in kindergarten and her son Austin attends third grade, April has volunteered in many areas. She has been part of the Reflections Fine Arts program, the school fair, silent auction, and Odyssey of the Mind coach and a classroom volunteer.

April is also a regular participant in the Michigan PTA State Convention, researching positions and speaking on the convention floor.

April's other interests include working with the youth at her church, co-leader of a Girl Scout troop and attending Clarkston Chiefs football games with her family.

Another Happy Birthday

Last year when Stanley White walked into his favorite downtown hangout, The Village Bakeshop, on his birthday, he encountered a surprise party in his honor. "I came down here in the afternoon and everybody hollered 'Happy Birthday,'" said the long-time Clarkston resident, who turned 81 Oct. 13. This year his wife Martha let him plan the event, which included inviting two former secretaries who once worked with him at ambulance to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

General Motors Truck & Coach. Martha added some dainty china cups to the festivities, which also included balloons and a rose from friend Trace O'Connor, a clerk at Rudy's Market. In addition, Bakeshop owner Stephanie Vo made a homemade chocolate cake. "He wanted coconut sprinkled on top. I got a kick out of that," said Vo. Pictured are Stan and Martha White (far right) with former secretary Midge Keller and her husband Bill.

The woman was later airlifted to University of Michigan's Burn Center in Ann Arbor. The man was treated at POH for minor first- and second-degree burns to his fingers and hands and released, Fahrner said.

Consumer's Energy officials were on the scene with shovels, trying to find the gas main so they could tie it up and shut off power to prevent further explosions, said Rod Lyons, Consumer's Energy field leader. The gas was finally shut off at 3:45 p.m.

Nearby residents were shocked by the explosion. "My whole house was shaking. I didn't know what was going on," said Julianne Appel, a Deerwood Road resident whose husband called 911. "I was scared to death."

Open house set for Springfield Twp. library, town hall

The Springfield Civic Center Committee, a citizens group formed to support the Bond Proposal to build a new public library and town hall for Springfield Township invites all citizens to an open house Saturday, October 24.

The open house will be at two separate times and locations: 10 a.m. to noon at the Springfield Township offices, 650 Broadway, Davisburg; and 2 to 4 p.m. at the Springfield Township Library, 10900 Andersonville Road.

Informational displays will be available detailing the bond proposal as it will appear on the November 3 ballot for Springfield Township residents. Refreshments will be served.

For more information, call Jean Rawe, 625-7187.

'Don't Rush Me' receives award

Independence Township resident and Clarkston News columnist Don Rush won an award in the National Newspaper Association's 1998 Better Newspaper Contest.

The Don't Rush Me column, published October 29, 1997, was given an Honorable Mention in Best Humorous Column for weekly newspapers in the nation with circulations less than 5,000.

The column, titled, "Codeword: Toothpaste," chronicled Rush's dismay of discovering swallowing too much toothpaste can be poisonous.

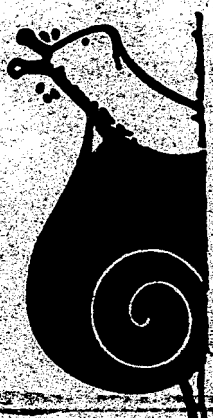

"I thought my luck ran out in '97," Rush, who graduated from Clarkston High School in 1981, quipped. "I'm glad I was wrong again -- I'm pretty comfortable with incorrectness. Is that a word?"

First Place in the NNA contest went to The Commerce News, Jefferson, Georgia; Second Place to the News Letter Journal, New Castle, Wyoming; and Third Place went to The La Veta-Chuchura Signature in La Veta, Colorado.

This is the third year in a row Don't Rush Me has been recognized in competition. Last year Rush earned a second place award for Best Local Columnist in the Michigan Press Association Contest, and in MPA's 1996 contest his column was given an Honorable Mention.

Police and fire

Sunday, October 18, harassing phone calls on Kingfisher.

A Detroit woman was arrested for drunk driving on M-15, after an officer noticed her crossing the center line. Breath tests revealed a blood alcohol level of .19 (.10 is legally drunk) and she was taken to Oakland County Jail.

Wires were down on Pear.

Saturday, October 17, someone broke out a car window on Oakhill. Nothing was taken.

Suspicious person near a model home on Glenbrook. A sales representative said a resident told her she was concerned about a person who might be living in the woods and eating a deer next to the campsite.

Loud party on Surrey Lane in the city. A group of juveniles had been drinking. Two were cited for minor in possession of alcohol and referred to Oakland County Probate Court. The adult resident, one of the juveniles' fathers, was cited for contributing to the delinquency of minors and will be arraigned in 52-2 District Court within the next two weeks.

Friday, October 16, home invasion on Reese. Several pairs of earrings, necklaces, a bracelet, watch, a camera, camcorder, semi-automatic handgun, knife and Indian medicine pouch were taken.

Family trouble on Cornell.

Larceny of a Schwinn BMX bike valued at $276 from a garage on Pine Knob Road.

Thursday, October 15, larceny of some speakers from a car parked on Cranville.

Larceny of a $700 mountain bike on Pelton.

Check fraud at a Dixie business.

Car accidents on Andersonville, Ortonville, Clarkston, Dixie, Maybee and the I-75/Sashabaw interchange.

Vehicle fires on I-75 and Main.

Fuel spill on I-75 near Sashabaw.

Wednesday, October 14, an officer stopped after seeing two cars parked on Maybee. He arrested one of the drivers, a 36-year-old Clarkston man, for drunk driving after he failed field tests, including not being able to touch his finger to his nose. His blood alcohol level registered twice the legal limit and he was taken to Oakland County Jail. The man stated he had "six beers," had graduated from high school and had no medical problems that would alter his ability to drive.

A delivery truck driver struck a building on Clintonville, causing damage to the overhang and to the top/front end of his trailer.

Tuesday, October 13, alleged indecent exposure on Upland. A Clarkston woman was on-line, talking to an unknown on her computer who asked if she were "sexually active" and invited her over to his apartment. He gave her directions and said he would be standing in front of the window naked. She reported she saw him on the second floor, nude and masturbating from the waist down. She called an officer who followed her to the apartment. The man let him in but denied the incident. He was told he would be contacted by police.

Tennis shoes and several cigarette lighters were taken from a car on Tappon. The resident later found the items had been returned to a Waterford business for a refund.

Three vehicle fires on I-75, at M-15, Dixie and Waldon.

Monday, October 12, two cars on Paramus had their windows shattered. Golf clubs valued at $1,500, a golf bag and a cell phone were taken from one car.

A passenger window was broken on a car at Middle Lake and a bow case, camouflage clothing, camouflage chair, hunter boots and bow were taken.

Two road crew workers directing traffic on Clintonville said a man driving a black Ford pickup ignored them and nearly hit them, saying "So sue me" when confronted. When an officer stopped him, the man agreed he had made that statement but said he couldn't see the sign. He was cited for reckless driving.

Phone harassment at an M-15 business.

CHS student expelled for knife possession

Although he never threatened anyone, a 17-year-old Clarkston High school junior has been expelled from school for having a knife with a 3 1/2-inch blade in his possession.

The Clarkston Community Schools Board of Education approved his expulsion October 12, according to state and federal law, said Pat Brumback, Assistant Superintendent.

Clarkston schools are a weapon-free zone and according to school policy, the board must "expel any student who possesses a dangerous weapon in a weapon-free school zone or commits either arson or criminal sexual conduct in a district building or on district property, including school buses and other school transportation."

The student was found to be in possession of the knife and drug paraphernalia September 18. He also allegedly offered to sell marijuana to students.

The student's father was offered the opportunity to attend a hearing, but declined.

Brumback said this was the first time in at least two years a student has been expelled. She added the student can make an application to return to Clarkston schools in one year. At that time the board may review the information and determine if the student may be readmitted.

Halloween fun

There are many ways to get in on the fun of Halloween in the area, both before and during the spookiest day of the year.

■On Friday, Oct. 30, the Lewis E. Wint Nature Center will host an evening of storytelling featuring animals called "Bump in the Night." The program is structured for kids ages 9-13, and tickets cost $7 per person. The stories run from 7-9 p.m. Call 625-6473 for more information.

The center will also host a guided tour of the Halloween experience with the Halloween Happenings, scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 24 from 2-6 p.m. Games and crafts will be available at the event, as well as a puppet show and costume parade. Those art skills will also come in handy, as there will be pumpkin painting as well. Tickets cost $4 per person, and children under 3 get in free. Register for the event by calling 625-6473.

■Springfield Township Parks and Rec. will have an alternative to door-to-door trick or treating with its Trick or Treat Trail. The indoor trail will feature candy and toys for kids, as well as games for kids ages 12 and under. The event will take place at the Hart Community Center in Davisburg. Tickets cost $3 in advance, and $3.50 the day of the event, which runs Halloween night from 6-7:30 p.m. Call 248-634-0412 or 248-634-3382 for more information.

■Dig out those classic costumes if you want to attend the Halloween Dinner at the Independence Township Senior Center on Friday, Oct. 23. The dinner starts at 6 p.m., and will feature the music of the Clarkston Melody Makers and will serve items ranging from pork chops and cole slaw to squash and other fall treats. Prizes will be awarded for best costumes in several categories. There is limited seating, and tickets cost $7 each. For more information, call 625-8231.

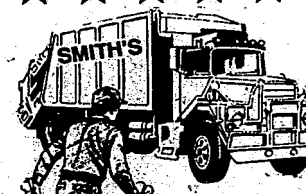

■The Springfield Oaks Activity Center will host a Halloween Hop, which includes dinner, dancing and a trick-or-treat alley. The event is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 28 from 6:30-8:30 p.m. For more information, call 248-858-7596.

■The youngsters are sure to have fun with the Friendly Forest, taking place at Clintonwood Park Friday, Oct. 30 from 5:30-8 p.m. The program is meant for kids ages 8 and under, and features attractions like Big Bird and a visit to the land of Oz. Cider and donuts will be served. Tours will take place at 15-minute intervals starting at 5:30 p.m. Tickets must be purchased in advance and space is limited. Township residents pay $4 per ticket, non-residents $5. For more information, call 625-8223.

■The Independence Township Library will be the host for some scary-looking kids. It will host a Halloween Costume Party on Saturday, Oct. 24 from 1-2:30 p.m. Kids from kindergarten through sixth grade can get all dressed up and join in the costume parade and be entertained by magician the Amazing Clark. There will also be a Ghost-A-Lottery drawing for prizes. Tickets are free, and the library is located at 6495 Clarkston Road.

■Those last-minute pumpkin shoppers can find everything they need at the Middleton Berry Farm now through Oct. 29. Everyone is invited to a Pumpkin Harvest, complete with a hay ride, pony rides and straw-covered mazes. The farm is located at 2120 Stoney Creek Road in Lake Orion. Tickets are $2.50 Tuesday through Fridays, and weekend tickets are $3. The farm is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information, call 693-6018.

Birds of prey become teachers

Did you know red-tailed hawks are the largest hawk east of the Mississippi River? That barn owls use their entire face to catch sound waves? That the great-horned owl is the number one predator of skunks? And birds of prey have a poor sense of smell?

Students from Sashabaw and Clarkston middle schools oohed, ahed and ewwed as they learned these facts and more about Michigan's birds of prey October 6 and 7.

The selection of raptors included the birds mentioned above as well as an American Kestrel and a screech owl. All have been injured or are unable to return to the wild for other reasons. They now travel throughout the state educating people about the important roles played by avian predators.

The Michigan Birds of Prey program was presented to the middle school students by Lori Neely, a wildlife education specialist with the Michigan United Conservation Club's Wildlife Encounters Program. The program was sponsored by the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club.

CHS Marching Band at Silverdome

The Clarkston High School Marching Band will be one of 40 marching bands from Michigan participating in the 1998 Michigan Competing Bands Association (MCBA) Championship Contest Saturday, November 7 at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Bands qualify for the competition by participating in MCBA sanctioned contests and attaining averaged scores that rank them as one of the top 10 scoring bands in one of four flights.

The 200-member band earned a first-place trophy in competition October 3 at Franklin High School in Livonia, and third place October 17 at Plymouth-Canton High School.

CHS Marching Band is in Flight I for student populations of over 1,430. At the MCBA competition November 7 at the Silverdome, Flight I competition will begin at 1:10 p.m. Tickets are $12 for adults and $8 for students and senior citizens. They are available at the Silverdome Box Office by calling (248)456-1600.

A limited number of tickets will be available on a first-come basis through the Band Boosters. Stop in at a Band Boosters meeting in the band room at the new high school on a Monday night to purchase them.

For more information, call Band Boosters president Hugh Murphy during the day at (810)236-2864.

ornamental. It was an integral part of the community in old times." In war times, bells were also melted down to make cannons, he adds.

Father Robert Humitz, priest at St. Dan's, says bells ring daily and at Mass. The purpose is "a summons to prayer. And in the days when society was largely an agrarian society, bells could be heard for miles around." People would stop their working in the fields and remember God.

Clarkston United Methodist music director Louise Angermeier says bells play on the quarter-hour, chiming the cheery "Westminster" theme. But at noon and 6 p.m. they play five-minute hymns, following the ritual of the hour being chimed. Bells also call parishoners to worship, five minutes before the Sunday service.

Selections are electronically programmed, according to the seasons, like Christmas and Easter. "It's really marvelous," she says of the carillon system.

On Oct. 15, McDonald said the church's new system was up and ringing. "So, the reason we do the Angelus during the week, it should call people to pause and offer up prayer -- if they remember their roots."

He pauses to answer the phone. "And then there are telephone bells," he says with a sigh.

injured, he added.

The woman was transported by ambulance under police guard to North Oakland Medical Centers, treated and taken to Oakland County Jail. Carey Wilhelm of Clarkston was arraigned Saturday before a county judge at Oakland County Circuit Court and charged with two counts of assaulting a police officer, misdemeanors that each carry a maximum of up to two years in prison, and/or a $1,000 fine. She was also charged with one count of damage to police property, a four-year felony and/or $2,000 fine.

test for drugs and alcohol, which was sent to the state lab. "She may be charged with drunk driving as well," he added.

Wilhelm's court date is pending for a preliminary exam at 52-2 District Court in Clarkston. Because both the fire department and OCSD Independence substation responded, Ormiston plans to send out letters of thanks for their help.

The Waterford man will be charged with reckless driving and disorderly person, Ormiston said.

During the incident, Ormiston was paged from his home to call another officer in to work. "We had no police department at that time because our officer was out of commission," he said.

Fall, friends and fun!

It was a full house at Independence Oaks on Saturday for folks to take part in one of Michigan's greatest annual events - autumn.

Grade-school kids and their grown-up friends gathered at the nature center for an afternoon full of crafts, demonstrations and nature hikes.

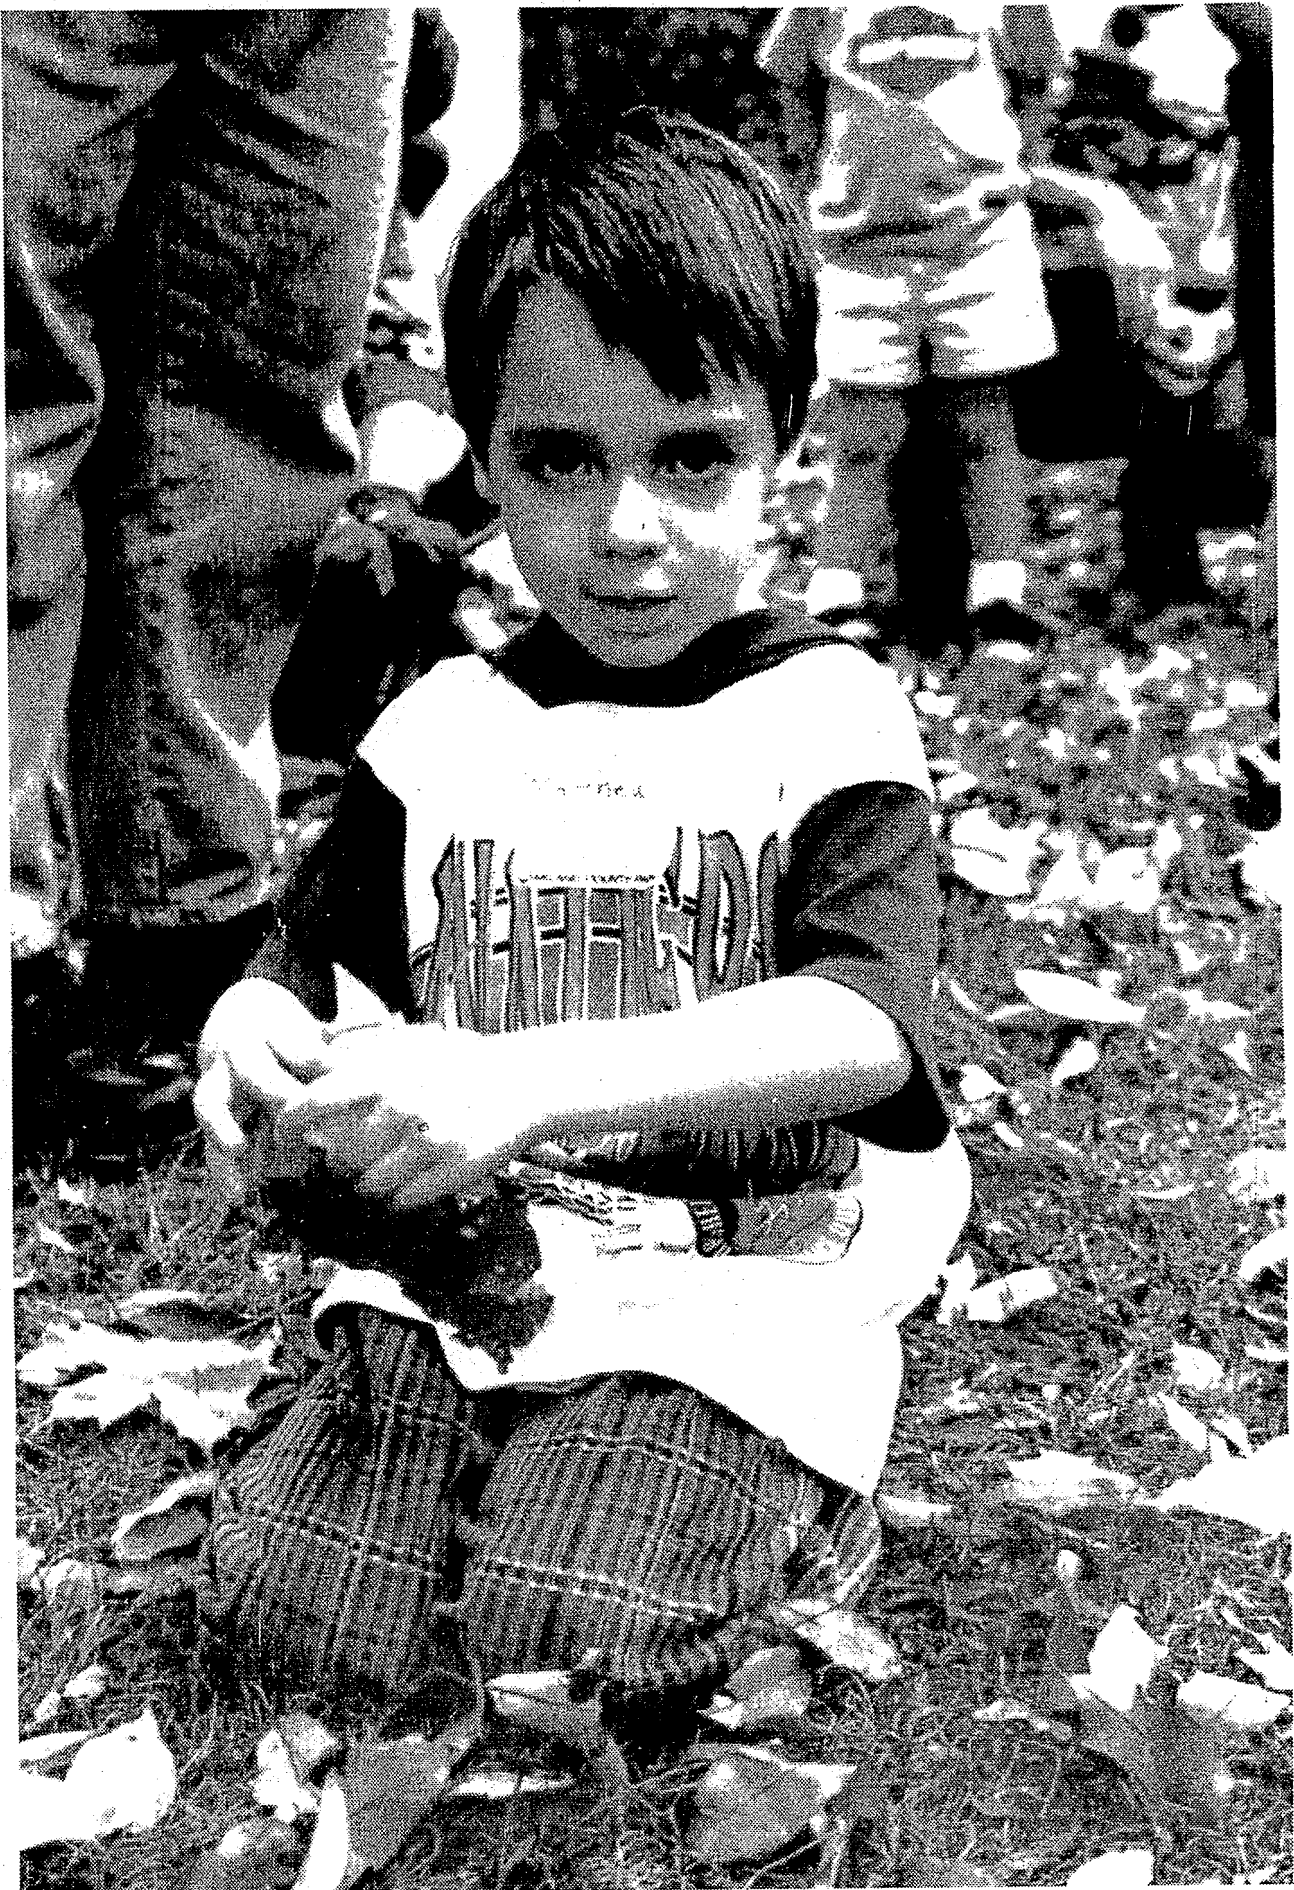

The unseasonably warm 70 degree temperatures brought out visitors from Troy, Holly, Canton and throughout the area.

The children made woolly-bear caterpillars from pipe cleaners, complete with wiggly eyes, glued on with just a little help from a grown-up friend. The kids also cut and colored their very own fall leaves, and blew them into the air with drinking straws.

But the fun didn't end inside. A round of nature bingo waited outside - a chance for the youngsters to use their keen eye to discover where birds lived, spiders built nests and plants budded along the center's nature trails.

Lewis Martin helps his son Scott, 4, with crafts projects.

Matthew Junglas, 4 enjoys playing in the leaves.

Seasonal naturalist Märlsa Rinkus gives youngsters an up-close look at a pin-tail duck model.

Kids get ready to play nature bingo Saturday.

Junior David Sage runs in his customary spot near the lead during Saturday's Oxford Invitational. Sage finished third overall in the race and helped the Clarkston boys cross country team to a third place team finish.

Clarkston's Dan Burke and Chris Weber head this pack of runners at Saturday's Oxford Invitational. These two juniors will play key roles in determining if the boys cross country team can win the league meet Thursday.

Runners preparing for crunch time

OAA I meet, regionals are the big tests for Wolves

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

All the extra miles cross country runners silently log in during those oppressive summer days are now paying off.

At least that's what the coaches and members of Clarkston's boys and girls cross country teams hope for, as the biggest part of the season rapidly approaches.

Thursday, the teams head to Bloomer State Park in Rochester - the third time this season - for the OAA Division I meet. The teams then have nine days to prepare for the Class A regional meet, starting at 11 a.m. Oct. 31 at Springfield Oaks County Park.

Girls cross country coach Deb Zonca said the league meet is a tough one to call, because no team has established itself through the topsy-turvy regular season.

"Anyone can beat anyone in that race," she said. "We beat Troy Athens, who then beat Troy, and they might have the best team. If our girls run to their capabilities, we can win it."

Zonca is hoping the league meet results don't mirror those of the Oakland County Meet, where the team finished behind league foes Troy Athens, Troy and Lake Orion.

Senior Jennifer Rooding and junior Nicole Fischer have been consistent 1-2 runners for the Wolves all fall, but reinforcements are on the way. Zonca said she's been pleased with the improvement senior Kristin Orris has made this season. The team could also be helped by the return of two previously-injured runners, Amy Hopcian and Lissa Lukens.

Lukens has been out the entire season, while Hopcian has missed a few weeks. Both will run the JV race at the league meet, and could be ready for varsity action by regionals.

The addition of Lukens could be a big help, because she is an experienced runner. She qualified for the state cross country meet the past two years, and went to the state track meet last spring as part of the 4x800 relay team.

"It's going to be a very tough meet," Zonca said. "If I had to guess, it would be Troy, Troy Athens and Rochester contending, followed by us and Adams. We'll see what we can do."

The boys got a tuneup for the meets coming up by competing in Friday's Oxford Invitational held at the Oxford Hills Golf Course.

Clarkston finished third as a team with 55 points. Two teams the Wolves will see in regionals - Lakeland and Lake Orion - were the top two with 33 and 43 points, respectively.

"Finishing third was a bit disappointing," coach Mike Taylor said. "The gap between us and Lakeland is growing bigger, and that's a team we need to catch for regionals. And Lake Orion beat us by two points at the county meet and by 10 at Oxford. That's not a good sign."

Turnovers kill Clarkston in loss at Adams

Adams	20
Clarkston	14

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Almost all football coaches will say that a key to winning any game is avoiding turnovers.

That philosophy was on display on the negative side for the Clarkston varsity football team, as Rochester Adams was able to take advantage of six turnovers and get a key 20-14 win at Adams Friday night.

The last turnover was also the one that decided the game. Senior QB Eric Jenks was directing the team on another fourth-quarter comeback drive when Adams' Matt McCoy stepped up and picked off the pass around the Adams 15-yard-line with 36 seconds left in the game. He took the ball back 76 yards to the Clarkston 11. The Highlanders killed the clock from there.

An angry coach Kurt Richardson said Clarkston miscues decided the outcome of the game, not plays Adams made to win.

"Turnovers and special teams play," he said. "We talked about it all week. You can't just spot someone 20 points like we did. We just gave it to them, and they're not that good."

Seventeen of Adams' 20 points came directly off Clarkston turnovers. On the last play of the Wolves' second possession of the game, Adams cashed in on a blocked punt to score a touchdown.

Luke Lazzo blocked the Chris Himburg punt, and his brother Mark - both of whom are standouts on the Adams wrestling team - scooped the ball up and ran 30 yards to give the Highlanders a 10-0 lead near the end of the first quarter.

The Wolves didn't wait long to strike back. Jenks took the team 78 yards in seven plays, thanks mainly to his passing, to make the score 10-7. The score came on a beautiful pass to junior tight end Chad Booker, who made a leaping catch behind two Adams defenders. Jenks completed two passes to senior Erich Poley for 41 yards on the drive that led to the touchdown.

But the Wolves couldn't sustain the momentum. The team fumbled on its next drive, which Adams promptly converted into a field goal.

Just three plays into its next drive, Clarkston fumbled again. This time, Adams only needed four plays and 23 yards to score a touchdown and take a commanding 20-7 lead into halftime. Adams gained just 23 yards in total offense leading to its two touchdowns in the game.

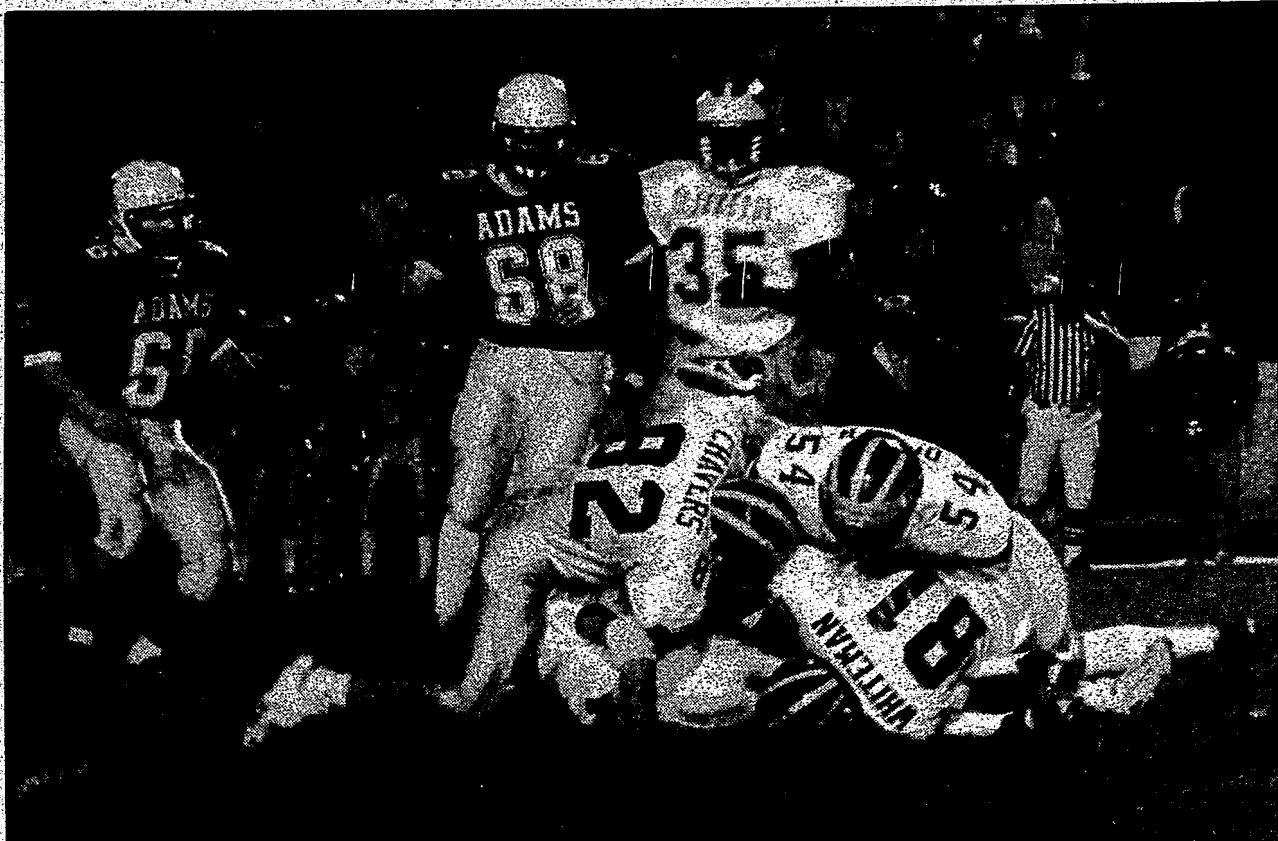

In the second half, the Clarkston defense stepped up, shutting out the Highlanders while holding them to only four first downs.

"Defensively, we were very good in the second half," Richardson said.

Clarkston closed the gap midway through the third quarter, thanks to a turnover by Adams. Derek Tegler recovered a muffed catch on a punt, giving the Wolves the ball at the Adams 20-yard-line. Senior Tim Loveless punched the ball in on a third-and-goal from the one-yard line.

Neither team could string a long drive together, until Clarkston's last shot. The drive started with 1:46 to go on the Clarkston 44-yard-line. After driving to the Adams 20, Clarkston committed a delay of game penalty on a second-and-10 play, setting up the final interception.

Loveless played a gutsy game, carrying the ball 31 times for a career-high 161 yards. Dave Smith made the most of his opportunity at fullback, rushing for 63 yards on 10 attempts. Jenks completed seven-of-14 passes for 100 yards. Poley caught five of those passes for 48 yards in the game.

The Clarkston defense made a habit of stuffing Rochester Adams through most of the game, as shown in this second-quarter pileup. Defending on the play were Dave Chavers (82), Jeff Oliver (54), Mark Whiteman (81), Matt Baker (2), and Jeremy Williams (35).

Clarkston played the game without the services of leading rusher Chris Mitchell, who still hadn't recovered from a bruised shoulder suffered in the second quarter against Troy. Mitchell said he expects to be ready for the Wolves' next game Friday at Berkley.

The loss hurt Clarkston in a couple of different ways. The Wolves are now 5-2 overall and 2-2 in the OAA Division I. The loss means any shot at winning the league is all but eliminated, and making the playoffs a 50-50 proposition. Clarkston entered the game fourth in the region - the top four teams in each region qualify - but this loss will set them back further.

On the positive side, Clarkston's two losses have come to teams ranked high in their own region - Adams and Troy. Last year, Adams made the playoffs with a 7-2 record, with losses to Clarkston and Troy counting in its playoff total.

Friday, Clarkston heads to Berkley to take on the Bears. Should the Wolves win, it would set up a huge game Oct. 30 at home against the 6-1 Lake Orion Dragons. Both teams are in the same region, and the winner would likely make the playoffs, while possibly eliminating the opponent.

Cross country teams ready for postseason

Junior David Sage was Clarkston's top runner once again, taking third overall with a time of 16:12. Matt Haver finished sixth (16:44) and Kevin Breen was eighth (17:10), but it wasn't enough to help Clarkston win the meet.

Lakeland placed three runners in the top five overall to help win the meet. The Dragons used good distribution of talent, putting five runners in the top 15, including first-place finisher Jordan Desilets.

Taylor said the team as a whole is running better than it did earlier in the season, but the competition has improved to a greater extent, making for an even bigger challenge for his team.

The Monster's Game Ball

Upchurch

Spend just a little bit of time around the Clarkston varsity football team, and the team's leaders jump out at you. Or knock you over with an encouraging slap on the back. One of the guys delivering those goods is senior co-captain Nick Upchurch. Called "Mr. Intensity" by coach Kurt Richardson, Upchurch plays almost every down on the defensive line, and will get an occasional carry as a fullback on offense. His size - 5-9, 175 lbs. - may be seen as a drawback when grappling with 250-plus pound offensive linemen, but Upchurch has been able to use his quickness and unlimited determination to consistently make plays for Clarkston. He played a big role in Clarkston's defense holding Adams to no points and four first downs in Friday's 20-14 loss.

"We aren't as good as we need to be right now," he said. "We may have overrated ourselves and underrated the competition. But nothing is determined yet."

The boys team went through the regular season undefeated in dual meets, but the nature of multi-team meets could have Clarkston depending on fourth or fifth place runners from other teams to help it win.

"It's hard to tell what's going to happen at the league meet," Taylor said. "Scores can change along the way, depending on where other teams' runners are. The real meet should be between us and Lake Orion, but the way fourth or fifth men from Rochester or Troy run could determine the outcome."

Making adjustments

The first half of the OAA Division I schedule hasn't been easy for coach Ann Lowney and the varsity girls basketball team.

Five losses in six games, with a couple of near-misses and one throw-away game mean a new level of frustration for the coaches, players and their fans.

But do not despair. These struggles may seem like a distant memory a month from now, and here are a few reasons why.

Lowney has recognized that this year's team isn't last year's team. The 1997 Wolves were tremendous at being able to play an up-tempo offense and play smothering defense at the same time, a tough thing for any team to pull off. When the game bogged down, Clarkston struggled offensively, losing to Birmingham Seaholm in an ugly game, and squeaking by Troy and Pontiac Central in similar-style games.

But a lot has changed since last year. The team lost stable, veteran leadership in Tiffany Honey and Georgia Senkyr, both of whom are getting into the practice routine at Northwood University as we speak. Both players were rocks defensively, and excelled in a fast-paced offense.

The team also lost future college star Lori Wild in a way that affected the team emotionally for a time. Wild was also a player who had improved defensively and was a joy to watch in the open floor on offense.

Very few teams could lose players like that and not skip a beat. After going 4-1 in the non-league schedule, Clarkston tried to keep playing the up-and-down style that Lowney likes, and was losing by double-digit margins to teams like West Bloomfield, Troy and Rochester.

But Tuesday's breathless 49-47 win over Oak Park may have been the first step in a new, winning direction. Clarkston had success with a more controlled tempo on offense, getting players in spots where they are most effective. Corinne McIntyre and Kristen Falck particularly showed big improvement in those areas.

"This will be the best way for us to play," Lowney said. "It just took me 13 games to figure that out."

One overlooked aspect of this team is how young it really is. It has eight first-year varsity players, including two sophomores and a freshman who play consistently. McIntyre, Rachel Uchman, Deana Kanipe and Candace Morgan are the only hold-overs from last year's team that saw consistent playing time. Also keep in mind that Lowney is just in her second year of building this program. Even the second-year players are still learning about the coach, and vice versa.

I can see a successful second half in the cards for Clarkston. The OAA appears very well-balanced this season. It seems like when one team starts to emerge from the pack, it suffers a loss and comes back down.

The Wolves' chances of winning the OAA are - let's face it - slim. But what the team can do is get back to winning, and build some positive momentum heading into districts. This year's district roster includes Clarkston, Oxford, Lapeer East, Lapeer West, Holly and Romeo. It's a very winnable district for the team, and should the team's first Michigan-shaped trophy in 22 years come to the high school, a lot of these frustrations will be left behind.

Churay shoots 82 at state golf meet

Although Mark Churay's name wasn't on the leaderboard at the end of Friday's first round of the Division I State Golf Meet, it didn't diminish what the CHS junior accomplished this year, and what it means in the future.

Churay, the lone representative from the Clarkston varsity golf team at the state meet, shot an 82 and failed to qualify for the second day of competition at The Emerald Golf Course in St. Johns.

Coach Tim Kaul said Churay's score was very respectable, considering his disastrous start.

"Mark shot five-over par on the first two holes. He was a little nervous starting out," he said. "But he held together real well and shot a five-over on the last 16 holes."

Kaul said Churay would have needed a score of 76 to qualify for the second day of individual competition.

"I was happy with the way he was able to react to adversity. He kept his composure, and was able to play well afterward. That's very commendable," Kaul said. "He did a solid job and I was proud of him."

Birmingham Brother Rice won the Division I team competition, with Clarkston rivals Rochester Adams (second) and Troy (eighth) finishing in the top 10.

Churay will be one of several returning golfers to next year's team, and the experience he gained at the state meet will be valuable to a team that appears to be on the rise.

"The thing I was most pleased with is that we didn't have one tournament where we were a terrible disappointment," Kaul said. "As a team, we were more consistent than I thought we would be. The kids coming back next year should feel more confident about themselves."

JV Sports

Football

At this rate, opponents of the Clarkston JV football team would do well just to put some points on the board.

For the second straight week, Clarkston shut out the opposition, this time turning the trick against Rochester Adams 21-0 Thursday night at the CHS field. Last week, Clarkston pitched a 21-0 shutout over Troy.

The Wolves, who are now 7-0 overall, overwhelmed the Adams wing-T offense, allowing very few first downs and all but stopping the passing game.

"Our defense is just awesome right now," a happy coach Doug Colling said. "We held them to a lot of three-and-outs, and kept stuffing them the whole game."

Colling said players like Ian Ramsey and Ramzy Dasuqi sparked the defense against the Highlanders while the offense got untracked.

After a 0-0 first half, the Wolves put long drives together and cashed in on their chances. Rob Conley ran for 114 yards and a touchdown, and Blake Fields rushed for 53 yards and a score. Ryan Kaul scored a touchdown on a quarterback keeper, and ran for 15 yards.

Ramsey and Matt Carlson each recorded four tackles and a sack, while Fields picked off an Adams pass. Dustyn Swendsen led the defense with six tackles.

Clarkston plays its final home game of the season Thursday night against Berkley.

Soccer

Simply, it was one of the best Clarkston JV soccer teams ever.

That was the assessment of coach Brian Fitzgerald, after his team completed a 12-5-1 regular season, going 8-2 in league games, coming in first place.

Clarkston hovered around .500 the first month of the season, then just turned it on. The Wolves won eight of their last nine games, with the other game being a tie.

"This was one of the best teams I've ever had," said Fitzgerald, whose brother Dan coaches the varsity team. "We had guys who worked hard and played with a lot of heart. They were just unbelievable in those last nine games."

The 12 wins also set a new standard for teams Fitzgerald has coached. He said he's had six or seven teams that have won 11 games, but with this team, he was able to reach an even dozen.

One of the team's strengths was a balanced scoring attack. Josh Thompson led the team with 11 goals, while Mark Zerba and Pete Klemm each scored 10. Several players notched between five and nine goals, keeping defenders guessing all season.

"The guys were a close group and had a good time," Fitzgerald said. "It was a pleasure coaching these guys."

Basketball

If it's fast, it's good for the Clarkston JV girls basketball team.

Tuesday, the Wolves were able to dictate a quick tempo and mixed in improved passing in getting a 54-38 win over Oak Park at the CHS gym.

A tight game late in the third quarter was busted open by the Wolves in the fourth thanks to improved defensive rebounding and converting several fast-break opportunities.

"Oak Park is a very physical and aggressive team and we had to adjust to that," coach Jenny Warren said. "We did a decent job of rebounding and our passing and taking care of the ball helped us win too."

Lindsay Simko led the team with 12 points, and Jennifer Karstensen added eight. Katie Jerge was tops on the team with eight rebounds, and was credited by Warren for showing team leadership in the game.

Thursday, Clarkston fell to a team not used to losing any games at all.

Waterford Kettering held off a late rally to beat the Wolves 45-35 at the CHS gym. Kettering is 12-1 this year after back-to-back 20-0 seasons in 1996 and 1997.

Tricia Brewer had one of her best offensive games of the season with eight points. Katie Jerge led the team with five rebounds.

"We played timid, like we didn't want to lose by too much," Warren said. "We also missed a ton of layups. If we would have even made half of those, it would have been a tie game at the end."

Clarkston, after an off day Thursday, begins the second half of the league schedule by hosting Troy Athens at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Golf

In his first year as coach of the Clarkston JV golf team, Larry Sherrill wasn't sure what to expect from a team made up of six freshmen and four sophomores.

What he got was a very talented group that finished with a dual meet record of 14-4, estimated to be the second-best record in the league behind Rochester Adams.

Sherrill said working with this group of players was fun because of their dedication and improvement over the season.

"It was just a great group of kids," he said. "We averaged around 170 for a match, which is around 42 or 43 per player that is counted, which is pretty good for a JV team."

Sherrill mentioned sophomore Matt Harrison as the team's most consistent player this season. Other standouts included Dan Holody, who shot a 37 against Birmingham Seaholm, and freshmen Adam Groh and Ollie Olinger.

"Both of them averaged 45 at our tournaments, which is outstanding for freshmen."

Joe Regiani, who split time between the varsity and JV teams, was also recognized by Sherrill.

"Interest is very high for golf right now," Sherrill said. "We had 55 kids try out for the varsity and JV teams, and that just brings up the level of play for everybody."

IT COMES WITH THE TERRITORY

Property owners can be held liable for injuries if the injured party can show that injuries stemmed from the negligence of the owner. To a large extent, the status of the injured person dictates what is owed. For instance, trespassers (individuals who enter someone's property without the consent of the owner) must prove that the owner acted willfully in causing the injury. Licensees (those who are allowed to remain on the property with the consent of the owner) must show that the owner failed to warn of a hidden danger or peril. Finally, business invitees who are invited to enter the property to conduct business must show that the owner knew of, or created, the condition that caused the injury.

If you have been injured, call our law office at 11 North Main Street (620-1030), to schedule an initial consultation. We'll discuss the facts of your case, and how the law enables injured parties to receive appropriate compensation for all pertinent damages. We handle a variety of legal matters involving personal injury claims, auto accidents, slip & fall injuries, criminal defense, business law, real estate transactions, family law, and civil litigation in both State and Federal courts.

HINT: The standard of care that property owners owe to business invitees is higher than that owed to a licensee, and substantially higher than that owed to a trespasser.

Schools benefit as MHSAA tournament hosts

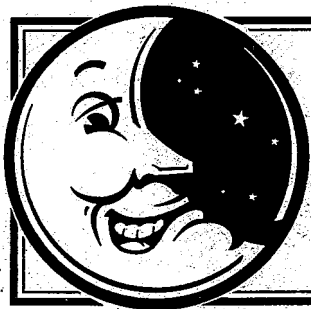

The phrase, "home court advantage" means more than one thing to the member schools of the Michigan High School Athletic Association. And in 1998-99, it has an even greater meaning financially.

During the 1998-99 school year, the MHSAA will pay its member schools an unprecedented amount of money to host its post-season tournament event as a result of action by its legislative body, the Representative Council, last March.

The association has always reimbursed schools for their expenses to host MHSAA tournaments, and paid a stipend to all tournament managers," said Executive Director John E. "Jack" Roberts. "In 1998-99, the MHSAA will begin to share gate receipts and guarantee minimum payments to sites in all sports, not just selected sports; and the MHSAA will be doubling the guarantee in the most work-intensive tournaments."

Hosts' shares range from 10 percent of the net gate receipts or a $300 minimum in pre-regional football playoff games to 30 percent of the gross gate receipts for girls and boys district and regional basketball tournaments. Schools hosting high effort, low revenue

Sophomore Sarah Morgan pump fakes her opponent into the air before going up for a shot. Morgan's offense below the foul line will be a key to success for the varsity girls basketball team in the second half of the league schedule.

Wolves' 'new season' begins with thrilling win

	Clarkston	49
	Oak Park	47

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The schedule might say the Clarkston varsity girls basketball team has played 14 games, but the players and coaches saw Tuesday as the first game of its "new" season.

That new season got off to a terrific start for the Wolves, thanks to an exciting 49-47 win over the Oak Park Knights at the CHS gym.

After the game, senior co-captains Deana Kanipe and Corinne McIntyre talked about this being a much different team than the one that has lost several close games earlier this season.

"This win was very important to the team," Kanipe said. "Oak Park has beaten everyone in our league except for West Bloomfield, so this game shows we can beat good teams like that."

"We needed this game real bad," McIntyre said. "This was a great way to start our new season."

Clarkston's new philosophies of running set plays on offense and better composure down the stretch worked out to perfection in this game. Coach Ann Lowney said every player on the roster helped to get this win.

"This was a 14-player effort," she said. "I told the kids that we would win if we took care of the details, and boy, did we."

The Wolves, now 7-7 overall, had to battle from behind most of the night to get their most exciting win of the season. They trailed 24-18 at halftime and 35-32 entering the fourth quarter. Then, several players stepped up when it counted most.

McIntyre played by far her best game of the season in the first three quarters, but was able to save some heroics for the fourth as well. She made two steals in the final 50 seconds that stopped Oak Park offensive sets, and made two free throws that pulled her team within one point with 1:46 left in the game.

Clarkston's free throw shooting was the offensive difference in the fourth. The team shot a combined 13-for-15 from the line in the quarter. The points helped Clarkston chip away at the lead, then build it to as many as five points late in the game.

Kanipe made two free throws after stealing an errant pass at halfcourt that gave Clarkston the lead for good at 45-44 with 1:24 left.

Then, freshman guard Kaye Christie stepped up. She made four straight free throws and made a key steal in the last 36 seconds of the game to extend the Wolves' lead to 49-44.

Then, Oak Park's In'Fini Robinson nailed a 3-pointer from the top of the key to pull the Knights within two with 14.9 seconds left. Clarkston turned the ball over on the next possession, giving the Knight the ball.

Unable to get a quick shot, the Knights had to take more time in setting up a shot. This gave sophomore guard Kristen Falck her shot at making a big play. She forced a jump ball with 1.9 seconds left, meaning the Knights had time only for an inbounds pass and a shot to tie or win the game.

Thanks to McIntyre, that shot was never taken. She stepped up and stole a pass to the paint as time expired, clinching the well-deserved win for the Wolves.

"Making those plays definitely helped me, because now I know I can make them in those situations," McIntyre said.

Lowney said the clutch play of her seniors and young guards was a good sign that this team could be turning the corner.

"Kristen did a good job of the fake and make," she said. "If you do that versus an aggressive team, you'll be in business."

"The thing with Corinne is that we want to get Deana the ball in the middle of the floor, and (Corinne) is such a good passer, she can get her the ball. She was back in her comfort zone tonight."

McIntyre's terrific all-around game is shown in her stats. She finished with nine points (one short of her career-high), five rebounds, two assists, five steals and two blocks. Kanipe led the team with 20 points, adding five assists and three steals to her great effort. Junior Rachel Uchman scored nine and had five boards, while all of Christie's points (six) came from the free throw line in the fourth quarter.

	Kettering	48
	Clarkston	34

It was another loss for the Wolves, but the team, coaches and fans could see the beginnings of a turnaround.

Clarkston dropped to 1-5 in the OAA Division I with a 48-34 loss to Waterford Kettering at the CHS gym Thursday night. It was the team's fifth loss in seven games, but Lowney recognized a change in strategy was in order.

"We have to slow the pace down and run more set plays," she said. "We will switch Rachel and Corinne, putting Rachel on the inside and moving Corinne back outside. That should help us get better shots."

Clarkston had been attempting to play the same up-tempo game it had last year, and found itself near the bottom of Oakland County in points allowed. Thursday, Lowney put the team's new strategy into play, and it resulted in a game much closer than the final score indicated.

The Captains never trailed after the first quarter, but could not put the Wolves away until the last two minutes of the game.

Clarkston quickly cut a seven-point deficit to three, after a long 3-pointer by Kanipe that made the score 36-33 with 3:30 to go.

But after a Kettering steal and layup, it went into a stall offense, forcing Clarkston to foul. The Captains drained seven of eight free throws as a team early in the fourth, when the game was still in doubt, to help pull away and get the win.

Kanipe led the team with 12 points. Uchman turned in another strong performance with six points, six rebounds and three steals. Lowney complimented the play of her starting forwards Uchman and McIntyre after the game.

"Our post defense was much improved tonight," she said. "Corinne played like the Corinne I remember, where she was active on defense."

Rams baseball teams announce managers

The Michigan Lake Area Rams Amateur Federation Travel Baseball Organization announced its managerial staff for the 1999 season.

George Drallos, a Clarkston resident, will head up one of the five Connie Mack teams, for players ages 17-18.

Drallos coached a Rams team last year that included Clarkston standout players John - his son - Eric Jenks and Chris Mitchell.

Get The Word Out! Guaranteed...

Our pledge to you: if after 30 days you don't get any inquiries on your want ad, we'll refund your money (less a $2 service charge. Automotive specials not included).

We guarantee it.
Here's how it works.
1. Run your want ad with us for at least two weeks and pay within one week of the start date.
2. If no one contacts you within 30 days after the ad's stop date, fill out a refund application and mail or bring it to us.
3. We will refund the cost of the ad (less the $2 service charge) within 7 days of receiving your refund application.

Or, we'll run that ad again for the original number of weeks. The choice is yours, a win-win situation all the

Athlete of the Week: Kristin Orris

Salut, Kristin: It's always a good feeling to see your hard work pay off in a way you can notice every day. That's been the reward for senior Kristin Orris in her second season on the girls cross-country team. Kristin admits she spent much of her junior season near the bottom of the time charts on the JV team, but her summer training program helped to turn that around. She ran between five and six miles per day, then went to the gym for strength training. The result has been a meteoric rise in team standings and a significant drop in her times. Her season best time was 21:10, but is still short of her goal to break 21 minutes. In addition to all her running in this area, Kristin lived in Indonesia for 4 1/2 years before moving back to Michigan before last school year. More traveling - of the local nature - is in store for Kristin next year. She has been accepted to Michigan State University and Western Michigan University, and will attend one of those schools next year.

Coach Deb Zonca on Kristin: "Kristin has consistently been our number three or four runner all year, and it's because of all the time she put in during the summer. Her mileage was around the highest of anyone on the team. I use her as an example to the other kids about what summer training can do for you. I'm very proud of everything she has been able to accomplish."

Kristin on Kristin: "I worked on my mental strength a lot last year, and that's helped me a lot this year. I was in the back on the JV team last year, but with my improved mental attitude, I'm doing a lot better this year. Living in Indonesia has helped me just talk to people easier. I'm more open-minded now, because over there everyone's from different countries."

CHS cheerleaders make 'all-state team'

CHEER! Michigan has selected its first all-state team, and Clarkston High School was very well-represented with the group.

Michelle Wilson and Susan Vagts were named to the 22-member squad, and besides four girls from Sterling Heights High School, were the only teammates to make the team.

The team will perform at the Cheerleaders of America national competition in March, an exhibition scheduled to be telecast on ESPN.

Wilson and Vagts made the team over around 40 others who tried out.

Clarkston cheerleading coach Debi Hool said the accomplishments of the two girls should help the sport of cheerleading in the area.

"It's the first year for a team like this, and it shows that yes, we are a sport," she said.

Only two other girls from Oakland County teams made the team, Katie Vitasinki from Waterford Mott, and Andree Ferguson from Rochester Adams.

Benefits for hosting playoffs

tournaments, such as Regional meets in cross country, track and field, tennis, individual wrestling and girls gymnastics, will now be provided a $600 minimum payment in addition to expense reimbursement.

Total payments by the MHSAA to member schools will be approximately $1.1 million more than their local cost of administering those tournaments. "That's more than a $1 million subsidy by the MHSAA for local programs," Roberts points out.

In addition, MHSAA tournament host schools retain 100 percent of concessions and parking fees, and a portion of merchandise and program sales. Host sites also avoid travel expenses for their teams and spectators. "In very many ways, it pays to host MHSAA tournaments," added Roberts, who also pointed out that membership in the Association does not require a school to pay dues to tournament entry fees.
