Will Bill Knapp's be serving dinner in Clarkston?

New planner reports show Walgreen's drug store in the works at Burke Walls and All site

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
 Clarkston News Staff Writer

A public hearing for a new Bill Knapp's north of town has been scheduled for Thursday's Independence Township Planning Commission meeting.

Rezoning from single family residential (R-1A) to office service 2 (OS-2) is requested for 2.27 acres on the east side of M-15 north of I-75 in Cranberry Acres Subdivision. The property is owned by Bill Knapp's. Restaurants are a special land use under OS-2, said township planner Dick Carlisle, who is recommending the rezoning.

Dale Griffin, executive vice president of the Battle Creek company, said Bill Knapp's would develop the lot as part of a larger parcel, also requested to be rezoned from R-1A to OS-2. The other lot, owned by developer Gerald Frericks, is designed to be developed into some type of office center, Griffin said.

"The township has a plan for that entire piece," he said, referring to Vision 2020's intent to keep the area low-impact. Although Bill Knapp's, which owns 52 restaurants in Michigan and Ohio, traditionally doesn't serve alcohol, it's currently testing beer and wine at its Muskegon restaurant, Griffin said. Depending on the results, beer and wine are "a possibility, but not a probability" in Independence Township, he added.

Griffin described Bill Knapp's as family-oriented, with remodeling underway at several establishments, including the long-standing Rochester eatery. Many now include amenities like Sony Playstations to keep kids entertained while waiting, Griffin said.

He feels the restaurant will fit in well with the township. "Our places are landscaped nice and we take care of our properties," he said.

The planning commission meeting is at 7:30 p.m. in the Carriage House in Clintonwood Park on Clarkston Road.

Carlisle is offering a new feature to the township board -- monthly planning reports which outline the current status of rezonings, site plans and more. Current projects in progress include the following:

Board puts car perk decision in neutral

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
 Clarkston News Staff Writer

Independence Township officials, driven to solve a car perk option, wound up spinning their wheels at the June 1 board meeting.

The matter was eventually tabled after lengthy discussion and several failed motions. Voting to table the issue were Supervisor Dale Stuart, Treasurer Jim Wenger and trustees Dan Travis and Larry Rosso. Voting no were Clerk Joan McCrary and trustees Jeff McGee and Neil Wallace.

Current policy states the three full-time elected officials can have leased cars for either business and personal use, but they can't take them on vacations or out of state. Department heads are allowed leased vehicles for business use only.

Four department directors currently lease cars: Building Director Bev McElmeel, Assessor Dave Kramer, Library Director Mollie Lynch and Department of Public Works Director George Anderson. Two department heads -- Parks and Recreation Director Ann Conklin and Fire Chief Gar Wilson -- receive a $400-a-month auto allowance instead in lieu of a car.

The car lease was extended on a month-to-month basis after its expiration last March.

Board members debated numerous alternatives, including supporting current policy and the car lease until their terms end in 2000, whether it was fair to burden the new board with a new decision, or extending policy for another two years. Rosso suggested newly elected officials might have a few months in office before deciding on the car perk.

However, Trustee Neil Wallace, an attorney, argued, "State law says you cannot reduce the compensation of an elected official when they are in office."

That legal opinion was confirmed by township attorney Steve Joppich, following the meeting.

McCrary said later, she disagreed with that interpretation. "You could replace the car with a change in our salary -- that would not be reducing our compensation," she said.

A compensation committee appointed in 1997 to evaluate compensation packages for Stuart, Joan

'Riding for the Son'

Local couple motorcycle to share faith in God

BY RENEE LUTZ

Clarkston News Staff Writer

One Clarkston couple is taking their belief in God to the "hogs." Only these hogs are Goldwings and Harleys.

Mike and Debra Searing are members of the "Spirit Warriors" -- the Clarkston chapter of the Christian Motorcyclists Association -- and minister to motorcyclists across the state and locally.

"We support each other and minister to other motorcyclists," Mike said. "We go where we're needed."

The group is geared toward service, and will aid motorcycle event organizers in whatever means necessary, by helping with parking and registration, providing shelter and refreshments, or watching over the bikes.

The Searings, along with other chapter members, attend secular motorcycle rallies, open houses and motorcycle swap meets, where they meet other cyclists who may or may not be Christians.

"We'll move throughout the crowd. We don't approach people that often. They approach us," Mike said. "(CMA) is well respected within the motorcycle world and God blesses us with support."

The couple said while at the rallies, members may ask to hold campfire services, and they find other creative ways to share their message elsewhere, such as with a "church crash."

"We pull our motorcycles right into the church and they have us give testimonies," Mike said.

He stressed that the "church crashes" occur by invitation only; the group has been to churches in the Clarkston area, Pontiac and Hazel Park, and as far away as Farwell.

Mike, who is Clarkston's chapter secretary, helped establish the local group about two years ago after attending a Christian motorcyclists' rally in Texas, in which close to 30 different organizations were present.

"That's when I first saw CMA. I came home and within two months, someone called me about opening up a (CMA) chapter here," he said.

Mike and Debra's marriage came about with the founding of the Spirit Warriors.

The Searings first met at Mt. Zion Temple in Clarkston and were introduced to one another through mutual friends, Debra said.

They were married nearly two years ago, just after the inception of the Clarkston CMA group. Their first date -- attending a CMA planning meeting.

Before a marriage was in the works, Mike ordered name tags for them both through the national magazine. But when the tags came in, Debra's last name read "Searing."

Mike and Debra Searing, members of the "Spirit Warriors" -- the Clarkston chapter of the Christian Motorcyclists Association -- attend motorcycle rallies on their Honda Goldwing and share their message of God with other cyclists. The couple were married nearly two years ago, near the same time the Clarkston chapter was founded.

The Searings' tagalong, Rocky the bear, draws a great deal of attention when the couple is out on the road, on their way to a motorcycling event. "He's been everywhere with us. We get a lot of comments about him," Mike said.

"I said it was a sign from God. And he said, 'No, it's a clerical error,'" she joked.

"He ended up proposing to me on the motorcycle," Debra said. "I remember him saying, 'You've never sat on my bike before, have you?' and then he asked me several questions in the form of a proposal."

Mike and Debra, chapter treasurer, have been riding motorcycles since they were teenagers.

"It's what we do for recreation," he said.

Being members also gives them an opportunity for fellowship with other Christians. Mike said the group is very much a conglomerate, with members ranging from businessmen to ex-convicts.

"The diversity of this group runs the gamut. All different (religious) denominations are involved -- and we accept all denominations of motorcycles, too," he joked.

Debra said unlike several motorcycling clubs, CMA does not reject potential members based on their choice of bike or for other reasons.

"It's not the bike that is important. It's our mission," she said. "We're kind of like a big puzzle. We all fit together."

The chapter has grown from six members to close to 60 who are now on the chapter's mailing list, and 30 percent of the members are active in the organization -- a high percentage of activism, Mike said.

"We have a big turnout for events," Debra said.

The Searings and other chapter members participate in a host of activities throughout the year, including several Bible study sessions and "bike blessings." The next blessing will take place at 1 p.m. June 6 at Crapo Park in Holly, and "is a blessing for the bikers," Mike said.

The group is also part of a yearly fundraising event called "Run for the Son." Proceeds from the event provide motorcycles to CMA members in third world countries and other areas where transportation is a problem, to aid them in ministering to others, Mike said.

Funds also support the Jesus Film Project, which is shown all over the world by CMA missionaries, and monies also are used to purchase Bibles to distribute to poor nations and regions of the world, he said.

But the couple agree that there is a need for the message of God to be heard all over the world, not just in far-off countries.

"There's plenty of mission work right here," Debra said. "It's not just in Drug ed program shows K-5 kids how to 'Bee'

Editor's Note: The following article is part of our series on drug and alcohol use among teens in our area.

BY RENEE LUTZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With a nod from school board administrators, kids in grades K-5 at Clarkston elementary schools are learning a different way to steer clear of drugs.

Bee G.R.A.N.D. (or Getting Real About No Drugs), began this year and was implemented after the former drug education program, D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) ended their program in the schools, said Carla Teare, health and physical education curriculum coordinator (K-12) for Clarkston Community Schools.

The Bee G.R.A.N.D. program is a different approach to drug education. Teare said the program does not focus on the descriptions of the drugs, but instead educates the children on how to avoid them.

"What are some healthy alternatives? They have to learn how to make healthy choices," she said.

Teare and a team of other educators brainstormed the program and its goals, and created an array of activities to take place one day a week throughout the school year.

"And we involved other people as we researched this (such as parents)," Teare said. "We were given this initiative. We've created it."

However, "the kids have ownership of the program," she said.

The program's logo was designed by a fifth grade class at Clarkston Elementary School and another student created the mascot, a bee named Buster.

There are a total of 41 different lessons taught to the students in K-5, although the majority of the lessons are for third, fourth and fifth graders, she said.

"Because as you get older, more programs are needed," she said.

Grades 3-5 lessons focus on drug advertising, peer pressure, decision making, refusal skills, conflict resolution, and the effects of use. In the K-2 grades, an introduction to drugs and their effects, as well as refusal skills are taught.

Det. Chuck Young, former D.A.R.E. officer for Clarkston Community Schools and Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. school liaison for Clarkston Community Schools, talks to the children about the legal penalties of drug use, Teare said.

Young said he is disappointed that he, as an of-

The Clarkston Community Task Force for Youth will sponsor three sessions on drug education geared toward parents.

From 7-9 p.m. June 15, 22 and 29, the "Parent-to-Parent" Drug Prevention Workshops will take place at the Clintonwood Park Carriage House. The nationally recognized program was created by a father whose daughter became a drug addict.

The combination video/facilitator workshops are aimed at giving parents the skills to help their kids avoid drugs.

The workshops are titled "Put Yourself in the Way - Awareness is Your Best Friend" (June 15), "Remember the Difference" (June 22), and "Never Cry Alone - Take Time for Yourself" (June 29).

ficer, will not have a steady presence in the classroom now that the new program has been implemented. He said the kids need to know he is there to help them, and they need not be afraid of police officers.

David Reschke, assistant superintendent K-8 Operations for Clarkston Community Schools, said changing over from the D.A.R.E. program to Bee G.R.A.N.D. was a district-wide decision, and is no reflection on the D.A.R.E. officers.

With the addition of health teachers at Clarkston Community Schools and cost as a factor, the switch was made, he said.

"It's been one year developing the program. We looked at the D.A.R.E. program and (Bee G.R.A.N.D.) was more in tune with what our kids needed," Reschke said. "And (D.A.R.E.) was an expensive program."

Township ponders new hall, approves remodeling

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Some changes are in store for Independence Township Hall -- now and in the not-too-distant future.

On June 1, the board of trustees unanimously approved the long-awaited remodeling of the second floor, which currently houses the supervisor's, clerk's and treasurer's offices.

The board approved spending up to $50,000 for the renovations, which will create more space for the clerk and treasurer, and move the supervisor's office to the township annex. The board also approved a $5,600 engineering assessment to see how much it would cost to remove asbestos.

In another motion, the board approved to permanently locate all regular and special township board meetings to the Community Meeting Room inside Independence Library, 6495 Clarkston Road.

That is, until the township decides to build a brand-new complex. That's a possibility it's exploring right now, said Supervisor Dale Stuart.

In a board memo, Stuart stated the township is "in contact with a developer exploring the possibility of having a new Township Hall constructed." On Monday, he explained, "We would have someone build it for us. We'd rent it for a period of time, and it would be ours at the end of that period."

Currently, the township owns two parcels that could accomplish that purpose: a 14-acre piece on Sashabaw, across from Pine Knob Elementary School, as well as acreage next door to the Department of Public Works on Flemings Lake Road. The latter could create "a joint facility" with the high school, Stuart said. The township also has an option to purchase property (first right of refusal) nextdoor to the fire department/police station on Citation Drive.

Asked to describe his vision of a new facility, Stuart said it could be campus-type with separate buildings, and include a new Senior Center.

Although the township has healthy reserves of over $1 million, Stuart ballparked a new complex at $5-$15 million.

The decision would not burden taxpayers. "At this point we desperately need to do something more for space," Stuart said. "We have to figure out if we can do it out of our (general fund). I don't want to ask the people for money to have to do that."

He had no projected date, but told board members a new facility could be "one, two, three years away -- and perhaps longer than that."

Stuart said planning commission and zoning board of appeals meetings will continue indefinitely at the Carriage House at Clintonwood Park on Clarkson Road. All three boards have met at the annex.

He expects renovations to be completed within the next few months. An earlier estimate showed costs could have reached $300,000. But, Stuart said, there were all sorts of issues, including accessibility for the disabled. "It was going to be such a major undertaking -- almost gutting this entire floor."

■ In a 4-3 vote, the board also approved Stuart's recommendation to move the dais -- a raised platform that includes a table and wraparound screen -- from

Knights rezoning approved

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Despite efforts to submit two alternatives, the Knights of Columbus have joined the recent rash of rezonings in Independence Township.

On June 1, the township board unanimously approved rezoning the Knights' five-acre parcel on Maybee Road from Planned Shopping Center (C-2) to Office Center 2 (OS-2).

Earlier, the Knights pitched two proposals to keep at least a portion commercial. The first, a split zoning, would have rezoned all but a part of their L-shaped lot. The second would keep all the property C-2. The board agreed to table the matter both times, the last of which was a month ago.

David Donnellon, architect-land planner for the Knights, said the second idea was viable to a developer for a quality shopping center.

However, that's what many residents and board members objected to originally. At an earlier meeting, Clarkston Eagles' 10-acre parcel was rezoned from C-2 to OS-2. Township planner Dick Carlisle said both rezonings were an attempt to provide transition between commercial at the Sashabaw-Maybee corner and residential further east.

Although some board members objected to the rezoning earlier, on Tuesday they were clearly aligned. Most noted only the possibilities of a PUD (planned unit development) had been discussed.

Donnellon also conceded the Knights weren't ready. "It's not easy to create an $8-$10 million development in 30 days," he said.

Trustee Larry Rosso noted it wasn't "the end of the road" for future plans. "I will be in support of the second reading," he said, before voting. "But you still have options ... a site plan proposal, a variance. It's not like you don't have other opportunities."

Trustee Neil Wallace echoed the sentiments of others who have protested more retail at the corner. "Just what we need -- another drug store," he observed. "Sometimes you can go two blocks and not see one."

'Parent-to-Parent' offers support as well as information

This month three drug education awareness workshops will be offered for parents that we urge everyone to attend.

The nationally known "Parent-to-Parent" program was created by Bill Oliver in Atlanta several years ago, after his teenage daughter had become a drug addict.

The workshops offer a wealth of information, including the fact that alcohol affects teen age bodies differently. Studies show in people predisposed to alcoholism, addiction can result after five to 15 years of drinking. If drinking begins in the teen years, the same person could be in full-blown addiction in five to 15 months.

Parents will also find they are having the same experiences with their teens as other parents, and will learn ways to change certain behaviors. They will also find support.

The Parent-to-Parent program was introduced to this community in 1995 by Clarkston schools Assistant Superintendent Dave Reschke who brought the program to the PTOs and PTAs.

The Clarkston Community Task Force for Youth has taken over the program and will host workshops on Tuesdays, June 15, 22 and 29 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Clintonwood Park Carriage House on Clarkston Road.

Our culture continues to celebrate substance abuse, making it harder for parents to keep teens on the right track. These workshops are a great place for parents to get the support they need to do their job.

You can attend one workshop or all of them and there is no charge. For more information call Cindy Dixon at the Task Force, 394-0252. MKC

Township needs places to ride ATVs

Dear Editor,

I'm a student at the new CHS, and will be graduating with the class of 1999. I try to read your paper every time I'm in our school library. I can't help but notice all the new subdivisions and new developments of businesses.

I'm a little concerned about losing places to ride my ATV in Clarkston. My friends and I used to ride off of Stickney Rd. in the 80 acres, but they're putting up new homes and we can no longer ride our quads in the woods. I noticed that some students built bike tracks and jumps along I-75 on Clarkston Rd. That's kind of what we were looking for but we can't share the same track because their track is built for bicycles.

I was wondering if there was a piece of state land that would be available for us to build a track of our own in Clarkston. I know about a couple of places to ride but they are a minimum of 45 minutes away. I was looking for a place to build a track in the area and not have to worry about getting into trouble with the police or neighbors.

I appreciate your time greatly.

Sincerely,
 Brandon M. Langefeld

New area banks accepting tax payments

Dear Editor,

There are several changes concerning the local branch of banks where residents will be able to pay their future Summer and Winter property tax bills.

In the past, residents have been able to pay their tax bills at the local branches of NBD and First of America. NBD is now Bank One and First of America is now National City. Both new banks have decided they will no longer accept tax payments. NBD also allowed customers to pay their water and sewer bills at the bank, but this practice has been dropped as well.

The decision to discontinue was the banks', not the township's. I have proposed to add Clarkston State Bank to the list of local branches of Oxford Bank and Old Kent Bank that can accept property tax payments. I hope the changes will not inconvenience our taxpayers.

You may also pay your property taxes by mail. You may pay in person at the township or you may put the payment in the drop box located at the front door of the township (do not pay in cash for this method). You should be receiving your 1999 Summer school tax bill during the first week of July. If you do not receive your bill please contact the Treasurer's office.

Those property owners who have changed escrow companies or no longer have an escrow account should also notify the office. If you pay your own taxes, it is critical that you make sure you get your summer bill in early July and your winter bill in early December. Summer bills are due by September 14 and winter bills by February 14. Interest or penalties will be added after those dates. All unpaid property taxes will be given to the county for delinquent collection on March 1.

One of the most asked questions by residents is "Can I use my credit or debit card to pay my taxes?" Although I would like to offer this convenience the service charges for the township would be too costly. I am currently exploring another option that will address this issue.

Stay tuned,
 Jim Wenger
 Treasurer of Independence Township

The good and bad of traffic jams

For the last three years I have been blessed with a wonderful commute to work. Seven minutes to the doorstep of our Clarkston News office, and 30 to 40 minutes to our office in Oxford, passing some of the prettiest scenery Independence, Brandon and Oxford townships have to offer.

But I think all that is about to change.

Work has begun on the new development on White Lake Road south of Dixie Highway. The woods are being cleared in preparation for offices, retail and (yikes!) 250 homes.

A Walgreen's drug store is also proposed for the current site of Burke Walls and All at Dixie and White Lake Road.

I think I might soon be joining the ranks of the "not in my backyard" bunch.

Yeah, yeah, I know — property rights, American dream, free enterprise. I'm in favor of all of those ideals. And I know there will be lots of job opportunities, not to mention new shopping adventures and restaurants to enjoy.

But secretly, I was hoping none of this would happen until I retired. Only a gazillion years to go.

Following recent trips to traffic-plagued Pittsburgh and Ann Arbor, my husband and I realized how spoiled we are in north Oakland County.

We have lost all patience with traffic jams. No, we're not into road rage, we just travel between peak traffic hours when we can, or avoid high traffic locations altogether.

I have been amazed on my early morning trips to Oxford that while I am one of about four cars traveling northbound on Sashabaw Road north of Clarkston Road at seven a.m., there is often a steady stream of bumper-to-bumper southbounders between Seymour Lake and Clarkston roads.

My hat is off to them. They are a hardy lot.

My least favorite place to be stuck in traffic in Independence Township is Sashabaw Road between Waldon and Maybee roads.

Running a close second is the corner of Dixie and Maybee.

But the future looks bleak for the corner of Dixie and White Lake. Already it's a bear at rush hour. And trying to turn left onto southbound White Lake Road from Farmer Jack's parking lot between 4 and 6 p.m. is a real challenge.

Once the development is finished on White Lake Road and Walgreen's (or some other commercial venture) opens, the back up on Sashabaw may look like a walk in the park.

However, I do have a favorite place to get stuck in traffic, — Main Street, between Waldon and Clarkston roads.

Even though traffic build ups are happening with greater frequency, I enjoy the beauty of our historic district and watching people bustling about in town.

And after 23 years of living in this area, I still marvel at the architectural beauties that line Main Street north of Washington.

Hey, maybe there's an up side to all traffic jams.

Graduation welcomes you to real world

I see all the cars painted with slogans proclaiming the "Class of '99 Rocks" (or the like) all over the area. It's the beginning of June, the temperatures are high, as are the spirits of many high school seniors.

The day they've been waiting for -- the chance to spread their wings and fly -- is right around the proverbial bend. Graduation 1999 is upon us. As I typed that last sentence I was hit with a big, ol' fat mental two-by-four, I cussed out loud (which caused some of the ladies in the office to quickly look at me, wide-eyed). In 24 short months I will have been graduated from the now un-used Clarkston High School for 20 years.

Can I get an "amen," brother?

During commencements it was as it is this week. A hot and sticky, steamy affair. The ceremony was at Pine Knob's amphitheatre, so at least we were in the shade. What did I think back then, as a member of the illustrious Class of 1981?

The future? I really don't think so. I think it was pretty much "live day by day." The Monday after commencements I had a job to start, bright and early at 8 a.m., which meant I had to get up early and pedal my faded red, one-speed, 1959 Schwinn Hornet, with coaster brakes, the six miles to Lakeview Cemetery. The week before graduation Independence Township

Don't

Trustee Mel Vaara recruited myself, Jon Territo, Derick Place and John Hill for cemetery duty.

Was I cocky and sure that life would treat me kindly? I'm positive I was cocky and sarcastically sharp, but I honestly don't think I thought of the future. (I know I wanted to write, but where's the future in that for a guy who gets Cs to Bs in English?) Heck, life was too long to think too far in advance. And, any advice from the old timers (anyone who graduated and was working for over five years) were just more words from those not in the know.

Up until then, life had been pretty easy. Get up, get breakfast, get cleaned, get dressed and go to school. Go to football practice or play rehearsal, come home, eat and go out with friends. No bills, no worries. I had a roof over my head, plenty of food to eat, clothes to wear and in the fall, Central Michigan University beckoned. Life was good.

After I graduated from Central and got a job in the real world working at a newspaper, I tried hard to remember some of the advice the old timers had given me. I was starting to see the wisdom in learning from their mistakes, rather than from my own . . . learning from your own mistakes hurts too much.

What had they said? Too late I remembered: "The world owes you nothing" and "Shut up and listen."

It's graduation time, Class of '99, and your life is just beginning -- make the most of it, enjoy it and those around you.

Suggestions may fall on deaf grad ears

In our invitation to Tim Offer's graduation open house was a card for us to write, "Our words of wisdom to Tim Offer."

Oh, if he and other graduates could (would) only read, hear and absorb the suggestions they receive for a happy and rewarding life.

Instead, of course, the grads of '99 will do like all of us before them . . . continue in the belief they already have all the answers . . . then 25 years later know they had very few answers, and will try to give clues for good living to the grads of 2024, which will be ignored by them for the next 25 years.

Nevertheless, we with the experience will continue to give our best advice. Things like: have a firm handshake, look people in the eye, say 'please' and 'thank you' a lot and be free with compliments.

And, if you're asked to do something you don't want to do, but know you're going to have to do it, do it with enthusiasm. Remember, it often takes less time to do a task than it does to complain about doing it.

"Act enthusiastic and you'll be enthusiastic."

--Wisdom words from Dale Carnegie

Students must be meaningfully involved

In the aftermath of the horrible tragedies in Colorado, Arkansas, Oregon, Georgia and other states, school safety has skyrocketed into an issue of national importance.

Students and parents should be confident that schools will remain safe places. The community must continue to seek ways to prevent such tragedies.

Research tells us that "connectedness" is essential for a person's well-being. No child should be isolated or ignored. Families, neighbors, schools and other organizations have roles to play in reaching out and showing care for each child -- particularly those who behave poorly or hold themselves apart from activities. Children need a feeling of belonging and importance to thrive.

Schools need to be sure students are not falling into the background. All students must be meaningfully involved. Conflicts between students cannot be allowed to go unresolved.

All graduates should probably be given a copy of H. Jackson Brown, Jr.'s, "Life's Little Instruction Book." He wrote 511 suggestions, observations and reminders on how to live a happy and rewarding life.

Number 3 on his list was, 'Watch a sunrise at least once a year.' We say watch a sunset even more often.

He also says, 'Be the first to say, "Hello," floss your teeth, 'live beneath your means,' return all the things you borrow' and 'at least once in your life own a convertible.'

On the light side Brown writes: Never refuse a homemade brownie, put the cap back on the toothpaste, never mention being on a diet, whistle, eat prunes, forget the Joneses and leave the toilet seat in the down position.

For those with students attending college, 'Even if you are financially well-to-do, have your children earn and pay for part of their college tuition.' And, 'Even if you are financially well-to-do, have your children earn and pay for all their automobile insurance.'

Brown's advice to 'choose your life's mate carefully' - from this one decision will come 90 percent of all your happiness or misery, is great, but is already being ignored by half those who choose life's mate.

A lot of we adults can relate to this advice: Never ask a lawyer or accountant for business advice. They are trained to find problems, not solutions.

Well, you get the idea, so we'll close with this suggestion to graduates: "Be modest. A lot was accomplished before you were born."

Research also demonstrates that students who experience a sense of connection to their schools are significantly less likely to commit violent acts. As parents, we need to stay connected with our children. Society today offers too many conflicting messages. We need to know what our children are doing and what is bothering them. Parents need support in making sure young people do not become angry, disconnected or isolated.

Mason to succeed Greene Chosen from 147 applicants for school superintendent

by Jean Saile
of The Clarkston News
Milford Mason, 46, administrative assistant to Clarkston Schools Superintendent Dr. Leslie F. Greene for the past 6½ years, has been appointed to take Greene's post effective July 1.

He will be paid $33,000 a year. Greene resigned last winter after 25 years at the helm of the district.

Mason's selection was made official in a unanimous vote of the Board of Education Monday night during a special session called to study communications with the public.

Board President David Leak said Mason had been selected from 147 applicants, who were screened in conjunction with several placement bureaus in Michigan colleges.

Of the original applicants, he said 12 had been picked for further review and eight were selected to interview. The same questions were asked of all candidates and Dr. Greene had no part in the selection process, Leak said. Standard evaluation work-sheets helped the board make up its mind.

Four semi-finalists were chosen. That number was reduced to two, and following Mason's second interview Friday, it was determined he should be the new superintendent, Leak said.

"He was chosen because of his capabilities, which are second to none. He is young and energetic and he knows the schools and the community. He is still flexible enough to make the changes necessary," the board president affirmed.

Mason obtained his BA, MA and Education Specialist degrees at Michigan State University. He came to the Clarkston District as principal of Clarkston High School and served in that capacity for 8½ years.

Approval was voiced by the Clarkston Education Association, the Clarkston PTA Council and various members of the audience. Trustee Robert Walters commended the public for its patience.

While noting that Mason's selection "may look cut and dried, it was not," he said. "There was lots and lots of give and take."

Mason foresees some changes ahead, the most immediate being that of filling the two vacancies on the administrative staff. George Barrie, chief labor negotiator for the district, resigned at the same time Greene did.

Mason said Barrie's spot would have to be filled, as would the position Mason has filled -- in the non-instructional services area of administrative responsibility.

He told reporters he is also studying recommendations which include a dividing of responsibilities so that the district would have both an elementary and secondary education director, the emphasis in both cases to be on curriculum.

Mel Vaara, the only administrative assistant left from the present regime, currently has responsibility for personnel.

Much of Monday night's meeting was devoted to a discussion of annual reports, quarterly newsletters, and pamphlet handouts as a means of involving parents in the school process.

A May meeting with the PTA Council is planned to field questions in regard to school functions. Many of the questions asked and the answers given are being considered for inclusion in printed material which the district will make available to parents.

Leak also said he intended to have information for the public by the end of July in regard to various programs and their respective costs to the district.

He said he is interested in presenting the costs connected with a basic education, plus those required for such items as state mandated programs, busing, lunches, etc.

Mrs. Karen Ohrnberger, of the PTA Council said she believed educational goals and the money figures they entail are the least understood items in the district.

"People think with valuation going up, 'What does the district do with all its extra money?'" she said.

Said Mason, "The one point we cannot seem to get across is that when property valuations increase at the local level, the state cuts back on its funding level. The district gets almost no more money than it did when property valuations were lower."

Schools Superintendent Milford Mason

Springfield assessments raised 4%

Springfield Township's real property assessed valuation will be increased four percent across the board by the Oakland County Equalization Department.

Assessed valuation will rise $1,437,902 as a result of a 1.04 factor placed on Springfield assessments.

The increase given Springfield is just a little below what the township expected.

Oakland County had threatened a 17 percent increase last winter.

On its own the township came up with an overall 11 to 12 percent increase in real property -- from $32,176,775 assessed last year to $35,947,551.

After the tax rolls were submitted to the county, the four percent increase added by factoring brought real property increases up to 15 or 16 percent, the true rise which will be reflected in next December's tax bills.

According to Herman Stephens, Oakland County Equalization director, Springfield property owners got a "slight break" in the estimated assessment increases.

He said the state tax commission allows a two percent variance in the 50 percent equalized value requirement, thus letting the county stay slightly below the projected 17 percent increase for Springfield.

Totally, after factoring, the township was assessed $37,385,453 in real property.

Springfield wasn't factored for $4,924,479 assessed against personal property this year.

Personal property assessments have dropped county-wide because the state voted to exempt commercial inventories from assessments, Stephens said.

Personal property in Springfield went only from $4.5 million in 1975 to just under $5 million in 1976.

All the above figures are overall estimates, Stephens said. While some properties meet the 50 percent equalized requirement, others are under or over-assessed in Springfield.

The township has been complaining about inequality in tax assessments, and pleaded with the county earlier to hold up any increases until a reappraisal could be done.

When assessments were raised anyway, the township decided to try and reappraise the township in time for next year's roll.

Township assessor Dave Gensley will do that reappraisal with two assistants and some temporary "legmen" he is in the process of hiring.

He hopes to begin the reappraisal the first of May and wrap it up by next October.

While the reappraisal effort may make assessments in the township more equal, Springfield residents may still have to face large assessment increases, according to Stephens.

Property values have been increasing dramatically, and if the trend continues, high tax assessments will be the natural result.

Independence, a fast-growing community, may also be the victim of higher assessments next year.

That township was not factored by the county, but showed an average increase of 2.8 percent in total assessed valuation for 1976. Total equalized value for both real and personal is $119.3 million this year in Independence.

"Our Community's Award-winning Newspaper Since 1929"

It's just sun on the mirror

This is the last column you will ever read having to do with my pursuit of a driver's license. For the day has come, and I can now drive!

I took my final road test last Tuesday. I hadn't been very nervous about it up until the point when I was looking over the study guide from the state, about half an hour before I left, and realized what I thought had been a Y-turn was, in fact, not. The way I would be tested involved backing into a driveway. Now, parking has never been my strong suit, so going into what amounted to a wide parking spot backwards was not my idea of a great surprise addition to the driving test. But there wasn't much I could do this late.

The Y-turn, among a couple of other maneuvers, is tested before leaving the parking lot of the test site. I didn't do so great on it, but I did make it into the driveway and out again. All was well.

Next was the parallel parking test, which, knowing I had done okay on the worst part, I didn't really think about a lot. I had practiced parallel parking, and I wasn't fabulous, but the Tracker is small enough that it's pretty easy to handle, and the cones were high and arranged so I could see every corner and every side of the parking space with ease. I managed to park surprisingly well, and it was off for the road test.

As I was driving to the site, I had noticed the traffic was pretty heavy. I was not happy at all to be taking my road test during rush hour. But it turned out to be an advantage: being stuck in traffic for much of the test, I had very few quick decisions to make. And with a bunch of other idiots making illegal turns, I looked like I was doing a bit better.

It was all pretty painless. Two days later, I went to the Secretary of State to get my license, and I got around to making my first solo drive last Saturday. It's a strange feeling, being in the car alone after sixteen years of never driving alone. As soon as I pulled onto M-15 from our neighborhood, I saw glints of sun off of other cars' mirrors, and I thought for sure it was the police - thankfully, no one came to arrest me.

I also had to remember not to mouth the words to the song on the radio, since it would just look like I was talking to myself since, after all, I was just talking to myself. Even alone in a car, you're not alone on the road.

So that's it. Three weeks of summer for drivers' training, fifty hours of driving on my permit, one evening taking a road test. And now, never again can my mom use the excuse of not being able to drive me if she doesn't want me to go somewhere. On the other hand, I've just inherited a large part of the family driving duties, so I might need to start looking for a chauffeur's license.

Extended learning program for kindergartners a 'plus'

Fall '99 marks beginning of new afternoon program

BY RENEE LUTZ

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Extended day kindergarten may be a "plus" for parents and children alike.

Beginning this fall, parents of kindergartners can enroll their children in a brand new program being offered at three Clarkston area elementary schools.

The Plus Program enables parents to keep their children active in classes during the afternoon hours of 11:50-3:50 p.m., instead of only a half day of learning, said David Reschke, assistant superintendent of elementary and middle school operations for Clarkston Community Schools.

"The reason for the program is to provide some enrichment for the kids... and the teachers help them get ready for a school environment," Reschke said.

Andersonville, North Sashabaw and Pine Knob elementary schools will serve as pilot schools for the program, which Reschke said he hopes to expand to the other four elementary schools in Clarkston, based on the response from the community.

"We'd like to see how this works. We'd consider expanding," he said. "(Andersonville, North Sashabaw and Pine Knob) are three sites where we have a need defined."

Reschke said the idea for the Plus Program was first presented to the school board after a great deal of data on extended learning programs had been reviewed.

David Reschke

"There's been a lot of research in extending the day for kindergarten kids. We visited another district and decided to develop it," he said.

Parents interested are asked to contact the schools their children are enrolled in, to apply for the program. There is a $50 non-refundable application fee.

Reschke said the goal of at least 15 to 16 kindergartners and no more than 18 enrolled per school has yet to be met.

"It's still early. We're still giving out information to parents," he said. "We'll take enrollments through the summer."

Although the program is open to all students, children will be selected based on state guidelines for "at-risk" kids, Reschke said.

"It has to do with learning needs and care needs," he said. "It depends on the financial resources they (the parents) have available, and health issues."

The Plus Program is in a partnership with Clarkston Community Education, which offers the Kid's Connection program. The community education program, often referred to as latch key, is somewhat different in that the Plus Program keeps kindergartners with the same instructor throughout the day, Reschke said.

"That's what's different with the Plus Program — the Plus Program is tied to the morning (activities)," he said.

"It gives parents another alternative that we think may be more helpful than the latch key program. This one ties directly in with their schooling."

Each program will be facilitated by a certified teacher and teacher aide, Reschke said.

In addition to morning instruction in reading, math, language arts and social skills, the Plus Program includes several learning enhancement activities, such as art/music exploration, computer opportunities, field trips and read aloud time. There is also a community circle/sharing time, open center time (to revisit activities), and theme-related activities.

"For instance, they may have a story center, with finger puppets to tell stories, or an activity used to develop small muscles by using scissors and crayons," Reschke said.

What also makes the program unique is that "home visits" will be scheduled throughout the school year, in which teachers will meet with parents at their homes to discuss their child's progress in the program.

Since Andersonville, North Sashabaw and Pine Knob elementary schools are federal Title I schools, and meet state "at-risk" guidelines, some grant money has been awarded to the district to operate the program. The district funding is responsible for all facilities and instructors, Reschke said.

However, tuition costs are not covered by the federal and state funding, and therefore parents must $15 per day per child, and enroll their child for the duration of the school year, he said.

For one year, the total cost to run all three programs is $137,923, and includes tuition paid by parents. For parents needing financial assistance, a scholarship fund has been set up through the school district's budget and can provide some aid to families.

"Over time, we hope the community would donate money to needy kids (to cover future tuition costs)," Reschke said.

the township annex to the library. Board members disagreed on this motion, arguing that the township hadn't checked with library personnel on whether the dais would take up too much space. Some also noted the board's schedule might clash with other groups.

Voting yes were Stuart and trustees Dan Travis, Neil Wallace and Jeff McGee. Clerk Joan McCrary, Treasurer Jim Wenger and Trustee Larry Rosso voted no.

Among the board's comments, McCrary argued the bright-orange table top would clash with the room's color scheme. Wenger quipped people should be allowed to take "sledgehammer" shots at the old structure.

Stuart said Monday the board doesn't need the library's permission to install the dais. "It's not the library's room," he said, noting it is a public facility used for many community-wide events. He added wiring for local cable TV broadcasts would also be moved from the annex.

"The room is very heavily used by all kinds of community groups," Library Director Mollie Lynch said Monday. "We get a lot of subdivision groups; many subdivisions hold their annual meetings here. We get a wide variety of use." The board's use of the room will reduce that time for others, Lynch said.

On Monday, McCrary noted Township Hall as an historic structure, built in 1850 by Nelson Clarke, one of the Village of Clarkston's first settlers.

The two-story structure was a private school -- fittingly "Clarke Academy -- and continued as the Union School, an elementary school run by Professor Isaac Cochran. In 1862 it was sold as a public school to become Clarkston Grade School. In 1910 it was rebuilt with stonework, McCrary said.

As to the structure's future should the township leave, McCrary noted it falls within city limits and is zoned residential. She feels it would be perfect for the city to take it over for its own offices.

"They need a new place and it is such a wonderful community building," she said. There has been talk of "a condo project," she added. "But you just don't know what the future holds."

Do you know the truth about alcohol and kids?

Here are the facts:

- 35% of all wine coolers sold in the U.S. are consumed by junior and senior high students.
- About 1/3 of young people who drink (7 million) buy their own alcohol.
- U.S. college students spend $4 billion per year on alcohol.
- Older teenagers who drink usually obtain alcohol from their friends; younger teenagers usually get alcohol from their parents' alcohol supply.

What you can do:

- Choose not to provide or purchase alcohol for people under 21.

- Support law enforcement's efforts to enforce under-age access laws and impaired driving laws for youth.
- Make sure your children understand what you expect of them about alcohol.
- To change social attitudes, underage drinking must become socially unacceptable. Adults can have a dramatic effect on developing this norm.

Keeping Clarkston green -- and free of trash

The Sashabaw Middle School sixth grade team 6A, a.k.a. the Storm Chasers, recently became "trash chasers" -- for a good cause.

The 100 students, team teachers Kerri Gualtieri, Kathy Cromwell, Jackie Hoisington and Tim Kaul, plus parent volunteers, cleared 53 bags of trash during a Trash-A-Thon for Earth Week from a two-mile stretch of Maybee and Sashabaw roads for a community service project in May.

The students were interested in doing something positive, said Gualtieri. "This shows that kids can make a difference. We care about what we can do to make a difference. Hopefully they learned a lesson from this."

The students asked for pledges from friends and family members and wrote letters to companies asking for financial support.

They were able to collect $105 in pledges, plus a $50 donation from Bridge Lake Construction. Trim Pine Farms of Grand Blanc donated 120 Colorado spruce seedlings, and the students delivered them to residents in new subdivisions which had many trees removed when the new homes were built.

Gualtieri said the two most interesting things the kids found during trash pick-up was a two-year-old photo of an SMS secretary, bedsprings, and a $5 bill.

The students also received some surprise support from motorists who beeped their horns as they drove by, shouting "nice job!," she added.

Hills, Kelli Babb, Katie Wilmot, Ashley Swartz. Students collected 53 bags of trash over a two-mile stretch of Sashabaw and Maybee roads during their Trash-A-Thon. They were rewarded for their good deed with a trip to Dairy Dream on Maybee Road for ice cream.

THE BEST DEFENSE...

When the defendant in a civil case receives a notice that a lawsuit has been filed against him or her, he or she has the option of filing a counterclaim. Based on the principle that the best defense is a good offense, filing a counterclaim against the plaintiff (or even a crossclaim against a third party) serves to make the plaintiff a defendant, as long as the subject matter of the lawsuit remains the same. Although a counterclaim has no legal effect on the original claim, it may strongly influence how much is collected. For instance, if a contractor sues for an amount owed on a job, the homeowner may file a counterclaim for the amount it cost to have the job done correctly.

Fighting a civil suit can be a very challenging event and should be handled by an experienced attorney. Handling matters involving personal injury, auto accidents, slip & fall injuries, criminal defense, business law, real estate, family law and civil litigation, we offer knowledge, experience, and dedication to help you get results. To schedule a consultation, call 620-1030. Our office is conveniently located at 11 North Main Street.

A Look Back

15 YEARS AGO (1984)

Clarkston school district voters say "yes" to a 4-mill renewal with 67 percent of the votes cast. The $1.75 million bond issue for multipurpose rooms also passes, by a 54 percent turnout. Administration assistant in charge of elementary education William Neff says he is "thrilled" over the millage renewal and "ecstatic" about the multipurpose rooms.

Clarkston resident Herbert Rose of Holcomb street pedals 215 miles in two days, riding atop a 10-speed bicycle. Rose is a participant in The Tour of the Scioto River Valley in Ohio, from Columbus to Portsmouth and back.

25 YEARS AGO (1974)

So far eighty people, including two incumbents, have filed nominating petitions for elected offices in Independence Township.

The township wins round one to keep a county landfill from locating in the northwest sector. A county master plan for solid waste disposal is sent to the Committee on Public Works and also the Planning and Zoning Committee. The county plan would locate major landfills in Independence, Brandon and Lyon townships.

Independence Township officials are looking for an architect who will improve Lakeview Cemetery, hoping to see a design for a new chapel.

50 YEARS AGO (1948)

On Sunday afternoon, the Clarkston Baseball Team will play in Ortonville at 2:30 p.m. Why turn on the radio Sunday to listen to a big league game when you can have so much more fun attending one at home — and where you know all of the players?

Playing at the Holly Theatre are John Wayne and Pedro Armendary in "Three Godfathers." The Drayton Theatre is showing Dick Powell and The Andrews Sisters in "In the Navy."

Walgreen's Drug Store

& All on the northwest corner of White Lake Road and Dixie Highway. A conceptual site plan was approved in April.

Harold Doremus, who owns both the Clarkston satellite store and the main store, Burke Building Center at Sashabaw Road and Dixie Highway in Waterford, said last week he is negotiating with Walgreen's.

"It's a possibility we might sell that," said Doremus, who has owned the 2.64-acre site for 20-25 years. "But everything is tentative. Nothing has been inked."

■ Preliminary plans have been submitted to the township's building department for Regent Street, a planned unit development (PUD). The senior community is envisioned for 30 acres at the intersection of Dixie Highway and Deer Hill drive. It is proposed to include an Alzheimer's Unit, Home for the Aged, Assisted Living and Independent Living.

Car perks

McCrary and Wenger estimated the car perk as a $6,000 per year benefit. Some township officials disagree with that estimate. "They didn't consider any business use of the car," McCrary said.

In a memo to the board, Dale Stuart said he was not in favor of saddling a new board with the burden of deciding a car perk option. "I believe that any one choosing to run for one of the elected positions should know before they file their nominating petitions what the policy is regarding cars," he said.

He urged the board to make a decision quickly. "Let's put this to bed for once and for all."

Attached to Stuart's memo was a list of other comparable municipalities which have a car lease, auto allowance or both. Waterford Township, for example allows its full-time elected officials a vehicle or a $425 monthly auto allowance.

■ In related matters, the board approved Stuart's appointment of the four township trustees to a Full Time Elected Officials Compensation Committee to recommend wage and benefit packages for the three full-time elected officials. They are asked to make a recommendation no later than July 16. Salary and compensation packages have not yet been approved for Stuart, McCrary and Wenger.

A proposal to perform a Classification and Compensation Study for non-union personnel, which would be prepared by Municipal Consulting Services, was removed from the agenda. Submitted by Wallace, Stuart said the proposal was under study.

Rudy's makes life brighter for family with sick child

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Finding out their son had leukemia was quite a blow for the Stafford family of Clarkston.

But now, little Joshua is doing much better, thanks to the help of doctors, family and friends — including the new friends they've made at Rudy's Market.

The Main Street grocery-and-deli anchor supplied the family with meals for five consecutive weeks while Joshua underwent intensive treatment at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The idea started two months ago, when Gary and Connie Borton, who live in Gowen, a small town near Grand Rapids, found out Joshua, 7, had been diagnosed with leukemia. They wanted to help their old friends, Mike and Theresa Stafford, who grew up in their community.

They thought one of the best ways would be to supply the family with food, while Mike and Theresa — who have three younger children, including a new baby — spent nearly "full-time" with Joshua.

"The young lad's (Joshua's) grandparents and parents are good friends of ours. So we wanted to do what we could to make their life easier," Gary said.

But they didn't know a local grocer, so they called Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce for ideas. That's when Penny Shanks of the Chamber put them in touch with Rudy's and co-owner Chris Thomas.

"I called the Chamber and said, I know I could get a Meijer's, but I wanted somebody who would deliver," Connie said. Penny said, "Now, there's this great little deli downtown ..."

Chris and Connie arranged the meals by phone, which were delivered by Rudy's employees, Gary said. "Our end was arranging it. Chris did the work," he added, praising Chris for his "cooperative and friendly" spirit.

"Typically, what would happen (in this situation) is somebody would run over a tuna casserole at night," Gary said. "So Chris was our surrogate tuna-fish-casserole giver." He chuckled. "Course his meals were probably a bit more appetizing."

"That's how your little towns work," he added, comparing Clarkston to his own community.

One week Chris planned a turkey dinner "with all the trimmings. And Jello for the little ones," Gary said. Another week it was ham, then pizza, and home-baked cookies were usually tucked inside. Chris exceeded their expectations. "Connie would say, 'Do you have such-and-such?' Chris would say, 'No, but I'll make it.'"

Occasionally home from the hospital, Joshua's appetite was always a concern. Chris would call to make sure Joshua was feeling OK. If not, he would amend the menu. For example, "one week Josh wasn't feeling good and Chris made pudding." Normally, he doesn't keep that in stock. "I can't tell you how accommodating he was," she gushed.

She also mentioned how, the first week, she asked if Rudy's carried flowers. Chris told her no, "but I'll just run across the street and get some." Thus, a pot of beautiful tulips was added from The Parsonage. One week a six-pack of Mike's favorite "cold, dark beer and herbal tea for Mom" arrived as well.

As many as 13 other families, all old friends of the Staffords, financially contributed to the effort. Each week, Chris would include a card and a list of their names, the Bortons said.

Mike said his family moved from Orchard Lake two years ago to be closer to Everest Academy, their children's school. Plus, they fell in love with the area — its wide-open spaces and homespun charm.

Joshua will have to undergo chemotherapy for the next three years to insure all the cancer cells are gone, he said. Currently, he's doing great, Mike added. And the prognosis is very positive.

In the '70s the survival rate for children afflicted with leukemia was five percent. Now it's 95 percent. "It's the big success story in treating kid cancers," he said.

He described those who helped from Rudy's as "really super people. I've always done business with Rudy's because I love their food."

Now he has another reason to think those folks are special.

He marveled that the delivery people "wouldn't take tips. That really impressed me."

"(Chris) would even call in and say, 'When would you like it?'" Theresa added. "At one point we got two deliveries and we still had food," she laughed. "They were just incredible. That's one thing you don't want to have to think about when you have a sick child — cooking dinner. And then to have plenty of leftovers ..."

Joshua and Chris enjoy the sun in front of Rudy's, along with two of Joshua's siblings: Sarah, 8 months, and Anna, 2.

Asked about his generosity, Chris was modest. "We're just trying to take care of the customers' needs. (The Bortons) were from out of town. They didn't know anyone," he said.

He said he was willing to make "whatever they requested." Amidst Rudy's busy clatter of life at 4:30 p.m., he added, "Ask and you shall receive, you know."

Concert to benefit afflicted children

Those who know the Tudors of White Lake know life hasn't been easy with two children afflicted with Ataxia-Telangiectasia.

The rare genetic disease affects Jason, 11, who attends Clarkston Middle School and Michelle, 8, who attends Andersonville Elementary School. Both children are confined to wheelchairs and require round the clock assistance. The disease also commonly causes immune deficiencies resulting in a deteriorating ability to fight off infections, especially pneumonia. Currently, there is no known cure, and government monies for research are minimal. Note: The family's story was told in the Dec. 9, 1998 issue of The Clarkston News.

Despite good insurance coverage, additional items not covered are needed, such as a van with a lift for wheelchairs. Though Bob works full-time, Linda has had to give up her job and stay home to take care of rising medical needs, and to minimize health care costs.

To help alleviate those pressures, a summer concert is planned for this Sunday, June 13, from 1-5 p.m. in Clintonwood Park, near the Senior Center on Clarkston Road. Performers include The Shivers, The Red Ryder Band and Cliff Erickson. The event is being sponsored by the Tudor Family Benefit Committee of Clarkston United Methodist Church.

Free-will donations will be accepted as admission to the concert. Tickets for children's games, activities and refreshments will also be sold.

For more information, please call Mary Monroe at (248) 625-6319. If you would like to mail a contribution, make it payable to CUMU—Tudor Family Benefit and send it to P.O. Box 1205, Clarkston, MI 48347, Attention: Mary Monroe.

Dragons turn tables on Wolves in district victory

1999 District Finals
	Lake Orion	5

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

In the end, there were no more late-inning comebacks left for the Clarkston varsity softball team.

After rallying from two deficits in the district semifinal game against Grand Blanc, Clarkston could not do the same against a tough Lake Orion team, losing 5-3 in the district finals Saturday at Lapeer East High School.

The Wolves end the 1999 season with a 26-18-1 record. The Dragons move on to play the defending state champions Waterford Kettering in the regionals Saturday at Utica High School.

Clarkston showed heart in coming back from a 3-0 deficit to tie the game 3-3 in the bottom of the third, and despite strong performances from the pitching and defense, it could not hold off the red-hot Dragons.

"We played well enough to win today," coach Al Land said. "We came off a long first game, and we were confident enough that we could win. I thought we had turned the game in our favor with that comeback."

The Dragons took advantage of a misjudged line drive in the top of the seventh inning to get the go-ahead run. An error by Clarkston in the next at bat gave Lake Orion the two-run lead that made up the final score.

1999 District Finals
	Lapeer West	18

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Contrary to what was shown on the scoreboard, Saturday's district final game between Clarkston and Lapeer West was played on a baseball diamond, not the gridiron.

And despite scoring more than two touchdowns worth of runs, the varsity baseball team saw its 1999 season come to an unexpected end, losing to the Panthers 18-15 at Lapeer East High School.

The loss ends Clarkston's season at 21-11, the team's first 20-win season since 1993, when it compiled a 21-8 record.

Distance runners place at states for Wolves

BY BRAD MONASTIERE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Once again, the Clarkston boys and girls track teams sent a solid group of distance runners to the Class A State Track Meet, and brought home a little hardware from the trip.

The girls' 4x800 relay team and 3,200 runner David Sage each finished fifth overall at the state meet, held Saturday at Midland High School.

Sage - Clarkston's only boy at the event - finished in fifth place in the 3,200 run with a time of 9:35.64. He finished 19 seconds behind state champion Dathan Ritzenhein of Rockford, who won with a time of 9:16.16.

Clarkston coach Walt Wyniemo said he was happy with Sage's performance.

"It wasn't his best, but still a very good time," he said. "When you can take fifth in the state, that's not bad. Not bad at all."

Junior Kevin Breen, who had qualified in the 800 run, was unable to compete at the meet because he contracted mononucleosis.

The girls sent some distance runners of their own, and had a very good day, according to coach Gordie Richardson.

The 4x800 relay team of Jennifer Rooding, Nicole Fischer, Lissa Lukens and Rachel Uchman finished in fifth place with a personal-best time of 9:33. Rooding ran the best split, clocking in at 2:19.8. Fischer ran a 2:20.9 for Clarkston.

The team finished in second in its heat behind Ann Arbor Pioneer, and all members of the team registered their best splits of the year.

"Deb (Zonca) has worked with the kids all year on setting goals, and allowed them to understand they can achieve them," Richardson said. "We just wanted to run our best and hoped the time would hold up. It ended up being the best finish in the county."

Rooding also finished ninth, but did not medal, in the 800 run with a time of 2:20.3. The eighth-place

*The 1999
Class A State
Track Meet*

time at the meet was 2:20 by Lindsay Janisse of Walled Lake Western.

"She was in the slow heat, and it's hard to do anything different in that heat," Richardson said. "But it was still her best time of the year."

"We ran very well," Richardson said. "Four of the kids came home with medals, and because three of them had grade points of 3.5 or better, they will be named Academic All-State."

The 4x400 relay team of Rooding, Brittani Brewer, Fischer and Uchman ran a season-best time of 4:10.1, but also took 10th overall. The time was five seconds out of the eighth-place time, registered by Cadillac.

Uchman also participated in the long jump, but did not place because she was called for jumping fouls.

"We didn't have the best angle, but a couple of those looked like good jumps," Richardson said. "One of her jumps would have been good enough to place."

Uchman's best jump of the season was 17 feet, five inches, which would have placed her fourth at the state meet.

Uchman, Brewer and Fischer are all juniors, and the experience they gained from being in the state-meet atmosphere is something that will help them in their general athletic lives in the future, Richardson said.

The handoff is clean, and the runners are on their way. Senior Lissa Lukens completes her leg of the 4x800 relay team, and sends junior Nicole Fischer on her way. Lukens and Fischer combined with senior Jennifer Rooding and junior Rachel Uchman to help the relay team finish fifth in the state with a season-best time of 9:33. Photo by Don Schelske of the Davison Index.

"We just wanted to run our best and hoped the time would hold up. It ended up being the best finish in the county."

Girls track coach Gordie Richardson

"There is always a carry-over when you have that experience and do well," he said. "They will be able to let the others know what it was like to be there, and it will help them in their preparations for meets in the future."

Softball season ends with district loss to Lake Orion cost us the game, no question," Land said. "There was a ball we should have had in rightfield that we didn't get to."

The Wolves, led by speedster Melanie Arnold, made one last comeback attempt in the bottom of the seventh. Arnold reached first with a one-out bunt single, but was stranded there when Lake Orion pitcher Jodi Dempsey got the last two outs of the game.

Clarkston played the districts without sophomore Tracey Honey, who was out with an injured ankle. Her glove in leftfield and big bat on offense were missed.

The Wolves beat Lake Orion in all three of their regular season meetings, but it was the non-regular season meetings where the Dragons came out on top. Lake Orion beat Clarkston in the semifinals of the Fred Pieper Tournament in Royal Oak last month.

In the district finals, the Dragons led off the game with three straight hits and a suicide squeeze bunt to take a 2-0 lead. The Dragons extended to a 3-0 lead in the second when a fielder's choice play led to a run.

Morgan's pitching and a couple of good defensive plays by senior shortstop Mandie Harrison kept the Dragons off the scoreboard for five innings. Then, Lake Orion made its seventh-inning push that ended the season for Clarkston.

Land said he was very optimistic about next year, when the Wolves will return seven starters, including both starting pitchers and the entire outfield.

"All our young kids played full-time, and they got some very good experience that way," Land said. "Our freshman, Stacie Giroux, has been hitting the ball well, and that's why she's been in the lineup more."

Harrison and senior catcher Corinne McIntyre are the only graduating starters. Harrison played for four years, while McIntyre donned the mask for three.

"When you coach players for that long, you get attached to them," Land said. "You spend a lot of time with them, and watch them grow. It's hard for them and for me to realize this time is over."

District Semifinals

Clarkston 9 Grand Blanc 8

Like their friends on the baseball team, the softball team needed a high-octane offense just to advance to the district finals.

The back-and-forth district semifinal went to the Wolves, who scored with one out in the bottom of the seventh to beat the Grand Blanc Bobcats 9-8.

The pendulum-swinging contest ended thanks once again to Arnold's blazing speed. She reached first on a bunt single, then motored all the way to third base on the subsequent overthrow. Simko's groundball was bobbled by the Bobcats, allowing Arnold to score easily on the next play.

The Wolves had a 3-1 lead entering the fifth, but Grand Blanc quickly came back to take a 4-3 lead.

Giroux drove in a run with a bases-loaded single tying the game at 4-4, and junior Sarah Klijndetler was hit by a pitch, getting an RBI the hard way to give Clarkston a 5-4 lead.

The Wolves held a 6-4 lead before the Bobcats responded with four runs in the sixth, taking an 8-6 lead.

In the bottom of the sixth, Warchuck singled home a run, and Morgan beat out a throw at home to tie the game 8-8, setting up Arnold's heroics in the seventh.

Baseball season over

Coach Phil Price, upset over the loss, said he had a hard time explaining a loss where his team scored 15 runs.

"When you score 15 runs, it's usually good enough to win," he said. "I don't know what else we could have done differently. We threw our best pitchers out there. But we had a small strike zone, short fences, a hard infield, and the wind was blowing out."

The 33 runs scored in the game was the most in a Clarkston baseball game since the Wolves outslugged Hartland 22-19 in a pre-district game on May 14, 1992.

Against the Panthers, Clarkston managed to lose a six-run lead and come back from a six-run deficit, all within two and a half innings.

The Wolves scored three runs in each of the first three innings to carry a commanding 9-3 lead into the top of the fourth.

Then, West scored an amazing 12 runs in the fourth, sending 15 batters to the plate, going through four different Clarkston pitchers in the process.

When the dust settled, a 9-3 Clarkston lead had turned into a 15-9 deficit.

To their credit, the Wolves didn't stay down for long. They responded with a six-run fourth inning tying the score at 15-15. Senior John Drallos and junior Derek Casper each hammered two-run homers in the inning, slicing into the Panther lead.

West belted a two-run homer of its own in the top of the sixth, completing a three-run rally that dashed Clarkston's hopes.

A total of seven home runs were hit in the game. West belted back-to-back solo home runs in the second inning, which cut a 6-1 Clarkston lead to 6-3.

"I anticipated we would need 8-10 runs to win, but never anything like this," Price said. "West did a good job of putting the ball in play, and at that field, routine fly balls turned into home runs."

The game not only ended Clarkston's season, but the high school careers of several terrific players, including Eric Jenks, Spencer Hynes, Drallos, Mike Simko, Nate Jerdon and Adam Leech.

A pensive coach Phil Price looks on.

Jenks went 3-for-5 in his final game, with three doubles and three runs batted in. Hynes went 2-for-2 with a pair of RBI, and Drallos completed an outstanding offensive day with a triple and a home run, driving in three and scoring two.

Junior Bret Gove, who did a solid job as the starting third baseman and leadoff hitter, went 4-for-5, including two singles, a double and a triple, with three RBI and three runs scored.

But all the offensive firepower wasn't enough, and West is the team advancing to take on Rochester Adams at this weekend's regionals at Utica High School.

Price also wrapped up his first full season as varsity head coach, and he says he learned some valuable lessons.

"I was very happy with how things went," he said. "The biggest thing I learned is that these are high school ballplayers. You can't throw strikes every pitch, and you can't strike every batter out. I think I had some unrealistic expectations for them, and at times, I put too much pressure on them."

"But these are good kids, and we have some very good ones returning next year. I am already excited about it."

District Semifinals

Clarkston 13 Grand Blanc 12

In a game that nearly matched the district finals in terms of offensive output, the Wolves overcame a nine-run third inning by the Bobcats to pull out a 13-12 win.

The Wolves jumped all over Grand Blanc early, scoring six times in the bottom of the second to take a 7-1 lead. Leech, Mitchell and Hynes had consecutive run-scoring hits to sustain the rally, and Drallos smacked a two-run double in the inning.

After Grand Blanc's explosion, the Wolves were faced with a 10-7 deficit. In keeping with the unpredictable theme of the day, an innocent-looking pop fly by Hynes turned into a three-run error for Clarkston in the third, tying the game at 10-10.

Drallos and Mitchell knocked in runs in the fifth to give the Wolves a 12-10 lead, which was quickly wiped away by the Bobcats a half inning later.

Simko scored the game-winning run on a wild pitch with Mitchell at the plate. Jenks struck out two batters in the top of the seventh to end any comeback hopes for Grand Blanc.

Spotlighting more deserving Clarkston athletes

In my continual (and sometimes hopeless) desire to give recognition to as many people as possible, I am reprising a column I did last year.

I enjoy doing my weekly Athlete of the Week feature very much, but I cannot spread the wealth around to as many people as I would like. Here, I want to recognize one senior athlete from each sport whom I could not give that honor to.

The Athlete of the Week is selected by the teams coach and I.

■ Football: Nick Upchurch. Nick was a fun player to watch because he played the game with such determination and heart. A 4.0 student, he will play for the University of Central Florida next year, and that team will get a player small in size, but immeasurable in heart.

■ Girls basketball: Nicole Colosimo. Nicole played her best basketball at the end of the season. She started the team's dramatic win over Troy at the point guard position. She played well enough to allow fellow senior Deana Kanipe to play at her natural shooting guard position.

■ Boys soccer: Rob Allyn. Rob is one of the guys I always enjoy seeing at school and at games. His bright personality is duplicated by his hard-nosed determination on the field. He was instrumental in the team's solid season, culminated by the 2-1 win over Rochester Adams in the district finals.

■ Boys Cross Country: John Drallos. Clearly, baseball is John's best sport, and he will play for Valparaiso University next year. But part of his commitment to the team came through his participation on the cross country team last fall. At first, he just wanted to stay in shape. But as the season moved along, he became a solid contributor to a very good team: He played his best baseball at the end of the season.

■ Girls Cross Country: Amy Hopcian. There are few athletes who are more spirited or supportive of their teammates than Amy. Her cross country training came in especially handy when she donned the Wolf costume at home football and basketball games.

■ Girls Tennis: Kim Lytle. I know coach Melissa White could not have been more pleased with the progress Kim made for the team, which surpassed many expectations this year.

■ Boys Golf: Mark Churay. Yes, I know Mark is only a junior. The team's only senior this year was Ben Ness, and we already featured him as Athlete of the Week. Mark was the team's lone state qualifier and will be a leader on next year's up-and-coming team.

■ Boys Basketball: Scott Davis. Scott had a tough year, battling injuries on an inexperienced team. But like his teammates, Scott did much better as the season progressed. He gave the team much-needed stability off the bench as the backup point guard, and came through with several clutch shots.

■ Volleyball: Kate May. Although Kate only saw action for the varsity team for one season, everyone on the team will tell you she played a role in the team's OAA II title. She made key contributions to the team in the regular season, and kept the atmosphere with this team fun.

■ Hockey: D.J. Thomas. This guy is so good, it's almost hard to notice him on the ice. He plays with such skill and grace, he almost glides on the ice. His steady play on defense was a main reason the team had such a successful season. One of the team's captains, he will be a hard player to replace next year.

■ Wrestling: Chris Labrie. He wasn't one of the guys at the state finals, but he was one who helped them to get there. His tough-as-nails style helped his team to another extremely successful season.

■ Boys Skiing: John Arcello. An excellent slalom skier, John put everything he had into the skiing and football teams through his career. He's a guy with great character, and much success ahead of him.

■ Girls skiing: Kristen Atkinson. Amazingly, we never had Kristen as an Athlete of the Week. She set a standard for girls skiing that will be tough to beat for anyone. I am looking forward to hearing more about her exploits on the slope in the future.

■ Baseball: Eric Jenks. Here's another athlete with a lot of character. Eric has been a very enjoyable guy for me to cover the past two years, and whichever college gets him for baseball, will get a player who gives all he's got.

■ Softball: Kathy Kopeck. I give Kathy a lot of credit. She knew up front that she wouldn't play much for the team, but she still wanted to be a part of it. She is amazingly positive with everyone, and I know she is much appreciated by her teammates and coaches.

■ Girls Track: Jenni Gifford. Another 4.0 student, I'm sure Jenni could find many better things to do than to run endless miles on hot and cold days in the spring. But she values the time with her friends, and the life experiences she gains by being on the team.

■ Boys Track: Ron Tolbert. Not as swift as some of his teammates, Ron knew where he could help and that was in the shot put. He made it to the finals of the event at the Oakland County Meet, and was a member of the football team's offensive line last season.

■ Boys Tennis: Lorne Deacon. A hard-working and witty person, Lorne solidified Clarkston's lineup at the #2 singles spot. He was one of the vocal leaders on the team, which contended for a league title all season.

■ Girls Soccer: Katy Piechura. For three years, Katy has danced to her own tune, especially during pregame warmups. She has been a tough, aggressive player for the team, and her enthusiasm on and off the field will be missed.

I also want to congratulate every member of the Class of 1999. I'm not one to preach, but if I had one message for all of you, it would be this: Don't ever be afraid to reach for your dreams.

Spring JV sports wrap up

Soccer

His first year of coaching soccer in Clarkston had its ups and downs, but JV girls soccer coach Damon Rocho still saw some great progress by his team in the 1999 season.

The team ended the season with a 10-8 record, and finished the season playing its best soccer, wrapping up with a 3-0 win over Waterford Mott.

"That last game was just awesome," Rocho said. "We just went out and played the game like it was meant to be played."

Many of the Wolves' wins were lopsided. They recorded three 10-0 mercy-shortened wins, and two 9-0 wins and an 8-0 win. Another season highlight came with a 1-0 win over a good Auburn Hills Avondale team.

"Our goal was the only shot we had at them," Rocho said.

Rocho said the team improved at the mental aspects of the game the most.

"Our communication, and basic awareness of the game improved tremendously," he said. "We could anticipate moves each player would make on the field, and we learned to take our time."

The team's leading scorers for the season were Megan Medina and Lindsay Lambert, and one of the defensive leaders was sweeper Meredith Losicki.

Rocho said he learned plenty in his first season, much coming from his talks with each player after the season's final game.

"I asked each one what they enjoyed most about the season, and almost all of them said they had fun," Rocho said. "And I was glad to hear that. We didn't have a great won-loss record, but they had fun spending time with each other, and that's what counts."

Softball

The 1999 Clarkston JV softball season ended at the wrong time.

After a difficult first half of the season, when the team was just 6-9, coach Mike Prudhomme and the Wolves ended the season strong, winning 13 of its last 16 games to finish with a 20-12 record.

"It was a very enjoyable year with this team," Prudhomme said. "It was a great group of young ladies, and I hate to see the season end."

Clarkston finished its season on a five-game winning streak, notching wins over several good teams, including Rochester Adams (5-2, 11-4), Royal Oak Kimball (11-1, 15-1), Brandon (15-5) and Troy (7-2).

Prudhomme said he saw dramatic improvement in all areas of the team, and the freshmen on the pitching staff showed gradual improvement.

Rochelle Donahoe was the team's top pitcher, compiling a 15-8 record with 111.1 innings pitched. She struck out 105 batters on the season.

Offensively, the team was led by sophomore Lindsey Talbot, who hammered four home runs and had a .495 batting average. She had a team-high 48 hits, followed by Kristen Falck and freshman Diana Doyle, who had 40 each. Talbot also struck out just seven times in 97 at bats.

Falck and Talbot were named the team's co-MVPs, and Donahoe was named the team's most improved player.

Looking for adult touch football players

Anyone looking to form an adult touch football team in the fall, please call Rich Moffat at 623-9052. Games are scheduled to take place on Monday and Wednesday nights in September and October. A coach is also needed.

Riverdawk Update

The 11-year-old team played a pair of exciting games recently.

The team defeated the Rochester Wildcats 14-3 on May 21. Dominic Carino went 3-for-3 and scored three runs, and Bobby Cadeau also scored three runs. Andy Friedline and Nick Potter split the win on the mound for the Dawgs, with Mike Powell keeping up his good work behind the plate.

The team then lost a tough game to the Troy Cardinals 10-8. The Cardinals scored four runs in the final inning to win. Carino fanned nine batters in four innings pitched, and Jason Sherman had two hits and scored two runs.

The 12-year-old team lost to the Brandon Braves 7-5 and to the Michigan Rams 10-3. Brian Chase allowed only one hit against Brandon, and Mike Holody, Robbie Hoff and Matt Dudek each had two hits for the Dawgs. J.J. Lange recorded nine strikeouts in six innings against the Rams.

Why is a 1999 Saturn the best Graduation Gift?

- 1) SAFETY. It's the first light passenger car to earn a Five-Star Rating for both the driver and passenger safety in frontal crash tests. (You did want them safe, right?)
- 2) LOW COST OF OWNERSHIP. The car experts at IntelliChoice selected the Saturn SL series "The Best Overall Value, Compact Class Under $15,000" (You did want Low Insurance Rates, High Resale Value, and Low Fuel Costs, right?)
- 3) SPORTY LOOKS AND FUN TO DRIVE. Your Saturn's good looks will stay that way thanks to dent and rust resistant polymer body panels. The 3 coat paint process flexes with the panels and resists stone chips too. (You did want them looking good for years to come, right? The big grin on their face comes from the fun to drive thing, no extra charge!)

Total amount due at signing. Includes down payment, if any, and first month's payment. Acquisition fee of $495 is included in capitalized cost. Chlorine: You Really Can't Live Without It (NAPS)—The good news is chlorine is our friend. There is also good news of progress against cholera, a gastrointestinal infection caused by the bacterium Vibrio Cholerae in drinking water. Symptoms are severe diarrhea and vomiting which can cause such acute water loss that death results in hours. Because the disease can also be spread by food that has been washed with infected water, many communities in countries such as Mexico and Costa Rica are taking precautions by ensuring the purity of their water supplies.

Fortunately, chlorine kills the cholera virus on contact. Chlorination—the introduction of elemental chlorine into the water supply—is a sure way to eliminate the cholera virus and is considered absolute protection against the disease. Of the three methods of chlorination in common use today—gas chlorination, dry powder and liquid—gas chlorination is the safest, and generally the most economical and effective.

To help prevent the spread of cholera in South and Central America, communities throughout Costa Rica, Ecuador, and Mexico have installed Regal Gas Chlorinators, manufactured by Chlorinators, Inc., of Palm City, Florida. The gas is available in safe steel cylinders, that can be drawn off under a vacuum and is introduced into the water supply with the moderately priced chlorinators. The Regal Chlorinators are widely used because their design makes them inherently safe and they require little or no maintenance under adverse conditions.
