Independence planning tool to help schools

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A proposal to inform Clarkston schools about new residential developments and rezonings in Independence Township was adopted by the Board of Trustees at its July 6 meeting.

The proposal, pitched by trustee Neil Wallace, will include the projected number of school-age children coming to those developments, anticipated traffic concerns and other issues.

At February's annual joint meeting between the schools, City of Clarkston and Independence and Springfield townships, Wallace claimed there had been an agreement to provide information to the school board, but no formal action was taken.

"I guess the 'for instance' is we decide to plop down a trailer park in the middle of the Bailey Lake Elementary School district on land that had been zoned (single-family residential). It seems to me, that is going to significantly impact the schools," he said.

He also hopes the schools will respond to the information with specific concerns.

Officials debated the topic for over a half hour before they passed the proposal, 6-1. Supervisor Dale Stuart voted no, arguing such a process would be costly, burdensome and "useless" because the schools have to accommodate children anyway.

"I just don't see it's the kind of data that's going to make a lot of difference in our decisions," he said Tuesday.

Officials were mostly concerned how the process would be implemented. One of the problems, they

Restoration plan underway for Autumn Shores sub

BY RENEE LUTZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It looks as if Springfield Township officials' complaints about a local wetlands violation have finally been heard.

Following a show cause hearing July 12 of the township board, plans are in the works by property owners in the Autumn Shores subdivision to repair a portion of illegally dredged wetlands.

While driving by the subdivision in May, Collin

Walls, township supervisor, spotted what he believed to be a violation of homeowners association bylaws concerning wetlands use. Walls immediately made contact with the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality and reported the alleged violation.

The property owners were issued permits months before by the MDEQ strictly for dredging underwater for 40 feet from shore. However, Walls noted about 300 feet of shoreline on Wah-Me-Gah Lake's south side had been dredged.

In late June, a cease and desist order was given by a MDEQ district representative to four property owners in violation, with the stipulation they present a plan for restoring the site in 30 days.

Township officials also requested a plan, which was presented at the July 12 hearing.

"They gave a restoration plan and schedule to us. It seemed to be a spirit of cooperation for units 4-6," Walls said. Despite also receiving the cease and desist

The News in Brief

Ellis property site plans on the way in Springfield Twp.

Tim Birtsas is ready to move forward with a site plan for the Ellis farm property, but he needs to run a few more things by the Springfield Township board.

Following a meeting with the township planning commission in June, Birtsas was approved by the township board July 8 for rezoning of a final portion of land. A total of 6.067 acres still needed board approval to be rezoned from R1 (single family residential, one and one half acre lots) to R2 (one acre lots).

The motion passed 5-1, with a no vote from Trustee Elaine Field-Smith.

Birtsas said at the meeting his next step will be to submit a preliminary site plan to the board in a few weeks. He said he is unsure when construction at the site would begin.

In addition to homes, he has proposed building a shopping center, and hopes to incorporate the Ellis family's barn and house into the site plan on the 73 acres.

Honored clerk Joan McCrary

International acclaim

Independence Township Clerk Joan McCrary just received another outstanding honor — this time international recognition.

She has been accepted as a member in the Academy for Advanced Education of the International Institute of Municipal Clerks (IIMC). The Academy includes those clerks who have continued their level of education beyond the Certified Municipal Clerk Award.

At the July 6 meeting, the board of trustees passed a resolution in recognition of the honor. Supervisor Dale Stuart noted it as "very prestigious."

McCrary was also recently elected Michigan Township Clerk of the Year. She has been the township's clerk since 1989.

She is married to Del. The couple have three children, Mark, Matthew and Martha, and six grandchildren.

New projects spruce up White Lake Road

Fifth in a series on Vision 2020 Target Plans

Editor's Note: Four of the six target plans were profiled in earlier issues of The Clarkston News. They include The Sashabaw Corridor (Oct. 23, 1996); The Pine Knob Corridor (Aug. 20, 1997); The M-15/I-75 Area (Dec. 3, 1997); and The Northwest Area (May 6, 1998). The final Target Plan, Northwest Dixie Highway, will be profiled in an upcoming issue.

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

White Lake Road is humming with variety. Along the corridor — which stretches from Dixie Highway to Andersonville Road — many new uses are emerging to clean up the blight and deterioration that has existed for years.

On the northeast corner of Andersonville, a proposed shopping center will be convenient for nearby residents. And at Dixie, Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital's Clarkston Medical Campus will serve those who need medical care. The campus will also be next-door neighbor to a new 260-home development that's preserving over 80 acres of open space.

The White Lake Corridor is one of several Target Plans profiled in Vision 2020, a guide to future planning in Independence Township. Certain areas are "targeted" for specific kinds of development as the township grows through the next 20 years.

According to the Target Plan, White Lake Road includes not only industrial zoning, but commercial, residential and medical technology zones as well. Up to now, development has been "scattered," but new projects and landscaping should remedy that, says Township Planner Dick Carlisle. Those changes should improve the visual impact and provide another "attractive doorway" to the township, he said.

Last week Carlisle outlined some of the recent and upcoming changes.

Road Improvements: Federal funding made it possible to improve White Lake, south of Clement Road, and realign it with Nelsey Road two years ago. And, although plans to widen the remainder through the Downtown Development Authority were later defeated, Carlisle says major road improvements for the rest of the corridor are inevitable.

"That's going to have to be done — at least lane improvements," he said.

The township's safety path system is continuing down the east side of the corridor, and will eventually wrap around the Andersonville-White Lake intersection, linking up Bay Court Park.

The four zones existing on White Lake Road — and their present and proposed uses — are outlined below.

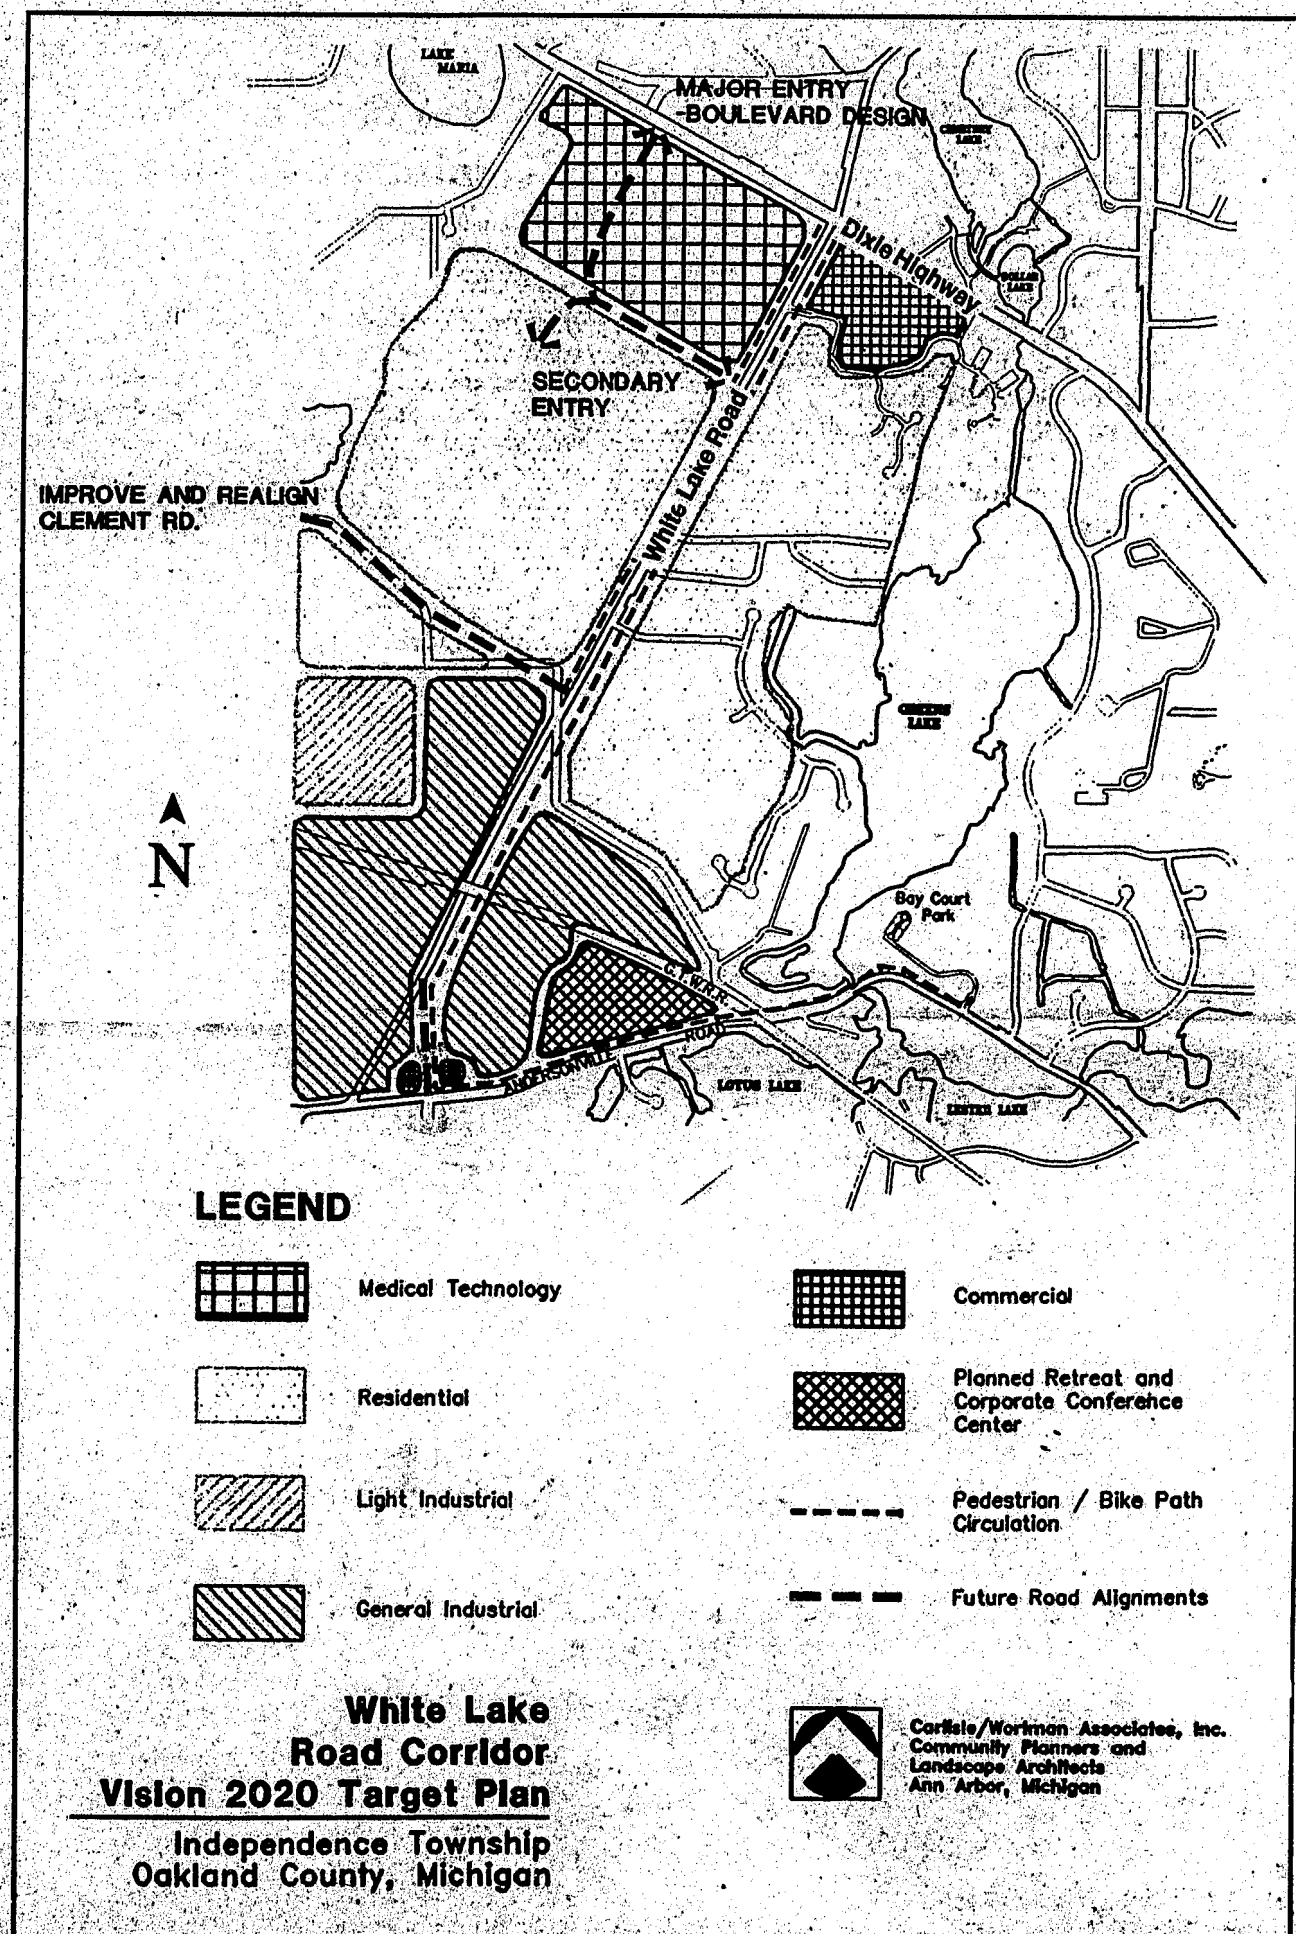

Medical Technology Zone: Planned for the White Lake-Dixie intersection, the POH medical campus includes outpatient medical care, medical offices, health care support services, senior housing and convalescent care.

The target plan says it's a prime location with easy access to major thoroughfares, including I-75. It's compatible with Victor International's huge residential project next door, and pedestrian pathways will connect the two sites.

POH is waiting for construction permits before it can commence building, Carlisle said.

Commercial Zone: The large "Gateway I and Gateway II" project at the White Lake-Andersonville intersection will feature a mix of convenience stores, offices, warehousing and light industrial. Developed by Bob Shell and Rick Detkowski, "It will be a wonderful project," Carlisle said. Final plans have been approved.

Industrial Zone: White Lake Road is the "logical" place for locating the township's industrial uses, Carlisle said, noting the master plan. "It's isolated."

(The other zone is a small area on Bow Pointe Road off Sashabaw.)

Currently, the township is considering consolidating two land uses — Light Industrial and Heavy Industrial — into one general category of General Industrial. "The term 'heavy industrial' is obsolete in this township," Carlisle said. "We don't have what many consider to be heavy industrial, although some would consider Premarc (Corp.) and Thompson-McCully (Co.) to be that."

Premarc Corp. recently received approval for concrete-pipe manufacturing at its site, which was previously used for storage. Though surrounding residents have protested the change, it will generate significant tax revenue for the township, Carlisle said.

"Let's face it — this is one of the few areas where we have some non-residential tax base," he said. "That should be a welcome relief to the residential taxpayers in this community."

Thompson-McCully, which manufactures asphalt, will be joined by another asphalt-maker on the west side of the road. Allied Construction is planning to move into an existing one-story building and transform "an old junk yard" with landscaping and other improvements, Carlisle said.

Very little land is left to develop — an 11-acre

City considering water main grant

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Since Hubbell, Roth and Clark, the city's engineering firm came through with a successful grant application to refresh the look of downtown Clarkston, the council is hoping the firm can do it again.

At the July 12 regular city council meeting, the firm was directed to submit a grant application to the state in search of financial assistance for a water main that would run along the west side of Main Street.

The grant, if awarded, would come from the state's Clean Michigan Initiative, and the city should find out if it will get the grant within two months.

For the past month, the council has examined possibilities of installing a water main along Main Street in conjunction with the TEA-21 grant it received through MDOT that would improve the quality of the road and sidewalks, and add lighting. The council feels doing the water main project along with the TEA-21 project will greatly reduce the cost of the water main project.

The council authorized Hubbell, Roth and Clark to spend $2,500 on the grant application for the Clean Michigan Initiative. Gary Tressell, the city's engineer, has until Wednesday to submit the application.

"If we get this grant, it will significantly reduce the amount we would have to finance (for the water main project)," Tressell said. "There are several hundred communities applying for this grant money, and we have to make yours the standout application."

The feeling among the four council members present was that the water main is something that would be done in the near future, although financing is still undecided.

The council voted 4-0 in support of the water main project. It needed a resolution in support of it in order to submit the grant application, as well as a letter from a certified public accountant verifying the financial stability of the city.

■ The city officially hired Hubbell, Roth and Clark to do engineering work on the downtown enhancement project at the cost of $56,450.

Tressell and the firm have six weeks to complete preliminary drawings on the project. Final drawings are due by November, with bids to start going out in December.

Hubbell, Roth and Clark will be in charge of designing the street lighting and overseeing any work McKenna and Associates, the city's planning firm, will do in coordination with the project. MDOT will take care of all the programming for the project.

The city will pay Hubbell, Roth and Clark's fee over a six-month period.

The council also hired the firm to get started on engineering services for the water main project, should it come to pass, at the cost of $7,500.

Tressell estimated the total cost of engineering for the water main project to be $52,500. The council decided to give him just enough to get started, and would decide whether to move forward with more work at its next meeting, when all seven members are expected to be present.

Dan Colombo, Karen Sanderson and Mike Kelley were absent from the meeting.

Traffic light sensors get city approval

At its July 12 regular meeting, the Clarkston city council approved an MDOT plan that would place traffic sensors in the street at the traffic light at the corner of M-15 and Clarkston Road.

The sensors will be placed in the southbound M-15 left-hand turn lane. The cost of the project is $7,953, with the city's share being $244.

The sensors will activate the green left-hand turn signal at the road, a popular intersection for traffic heading to Clarkston High School, located on Flemings Lake Road, just off Clarkston Road.

The council unanimously approved the sensor placement.

Clarification

A story in the July 7 edition of the Clarkston News stated that 26 Main Street residents were discovered to have contaminated water wells. Although 26 wells were hooked up to the Independence Township water main by the state, only five to eight wells were contaminated.

Clarkston Walgreen's gets final site plan OK

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

If you need directions to Clarkston's next drug store, use the following if you're northbound on Dixie Highway from Waterford:

Pass the Walgreen's at Walton, and pharmacies at Kmart and other grocery stores, till you come to the Rite-Aid at M-15. A few blocks more and there's an Arbor Drugs on the west side of the road.

You'll find the new Walgreen's just across the street.

Proposed for the corner of White Lake Road and Dixie, Walgreen's received final site plan approval, 5-0, from Independence Township Planning Commissioners Thursday night (Jill Palulian and Rich Oppmann were absent).

The 13,900-square-foot building is planned for the 2.64 acres that has housed Burke Walls & All for years. Robert B. Aikens & Associates, LLC of Troy has an option to purchase the property from Harold Doremus, who also owns the larger Burke's Lumber store in Waterford.

Care will be taken to emulate historic Clarkston with a "neighborhood" look, said architect Charles Fosse. The brick building will feature decorative lighting, man-made stonework, weathered shingles and wrought-iron fencing to match Lakeview Cemetery, just across the street.

There will be a prescription pickup window at the back and driveway access from both White Lake and Dixie. The developers will also wrap a portion of walkway around the corner that will connect with the township's safety path system on those two roadways.

"People will use the new Walgreen's to pick up something on their daily walk," said Township Planner Dick Carlisle, who recommended approval.

James Fielder, Vice President of Acquisitions & Marketing for the Aiken company, said plans call for the new drug store to be up and running a year from now.

Asked about other competitive drug stores in the neighborhood, Fielder said, "We're sort of directed where to go, based on market research." The Waterford store, at the corner of Dixie and Walton, is three-and-a-half miles away, he said.

The new Walgreen's is a prime location, he added, especially with Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital's new medical campus planned for the other side of Dixie.

Mike DeAngelis, spokesperson for CVS in Woonsocket, Rhode Island, which owns Arbor Drugs, said the location won't make a difference for Arbor's customers.

"We compete with a lot of drug stores and a lot of markets — everything from Rite-Aid and Walgreen's to independent stores," DeAngelis said. "We're not worried about competition. Customers will make the choice."

As for Burke's Walls & All, Doremus said the Clarkston landmark existed years before he purchased it from the Clements brothers on a land contract in 1972. He made his last payment to Kenneth Clements in 1983.

Local historians could not trace its history. But, Doremus recalled the ups and downs while he owned the site.

In the early years, business was stagnant. Later, Clarkston enjoyed a building boom that "mushroomed. It became a very convenient place for builders to stop."

However, in recent years, Doremus knew he was headed for a sale. The site "became more valuable than what I could make on building material for a lumber yard situation," he said.

CSB branch opening planned for July 24-25 weekend

Clarkston State Bank (CSB), which opened last January in downtown Clarkston, will expand its community banking services to the area with the opening of a CSB Branch inside the Foodtown Store, 6555 Sashabaw Road, Clarkston.

The new CSB Branch opened Monday, July 19 and a Grand Opening Celebration is planned for Saturday and Sunday, July 24 and 25. The new branch will be open 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Dave Harrison, CSB president, announced that Doreen Schwarze, the daughter-in-law of the former owner of Rudy's Market in downtown Clarkston and cashier at the CSB Headquarters, has been promoted to branch manager of the Foodtown CSB branch.

According to Harrison, the new branch will offer consumer and commercial banking services including checking and savings accounts, competitive CDs, low interest rates for home equity loans, commercial loans and more.

A Grand Opening Celebration is planned for Saturday and Sunday, July 24 and 25 that will include balloons for the kids, free coffee, lemonade and cookies and an opportunity to win one of four $100 savings accounts.

The kick-off event also will feature a chance for consumers to open free checking accounts and take advantage of premium certificate of deposit rates of 5.20 percent for a 12 month CD and 5.50 percent for 18 months.

Many people still have old "black" Silver Amalgam fillings. These fillings, because they are metal, expand, contract, and change shape over time. They cause leakage and new decay. Doing old fillings over again is no fun! We recommend only white, bonded fill material. Because it "bonds" or locks into the tooth structure, it helps increase the strength of the tooth. Silver fillings often weaken the tooth, causing fractures and expensive crowns.

Alerting schools to new developments is a proactive policy

In a township growing as fast as Independence is, the Board of Trustees new policy of alerting the school district to future developments is certainly a plus.

Copies of the regular reports by Township Planner Dick Carlisle will be sent to the schools for their review.

The reports will include information on significant residential developments, rezonings, the projected number of school age children expected, traffic concerns and other issues.

Keeping the schools abreast of developments was first mentioned at the joint meeting of the schools and local governments in February. It was Independence Township Trustee Neil Wallace's idea to make it official at the July 6 meeting.

A lack of communication has caused problems between the schools and township in the past, and this is certainly a step in the right direction. MKC

How much news coverage is too much?

The apparent sudden death of John F. Kennedy Jr., his wife Carolyn and her sister, Lauren Bessette is certainly tragic.

I was not much of a Kennedy family "watcher" and it's been interesting to note reactions to the loss by others.

One of my neighbors, who's in his sixties, was an adult when JFK and his brother Robert were assassinated, has watched a succession of the family's weddings, funerals, trials and tribulations on TV, and watched John Jr. grow up. Because of this, he said he feels the loss like a member of their extended family.

Another friend, close to John Jr. in age and a subscriber to his magazine, "George," was devastated by the loss. She said she had a huge crush on him when she was younger and felt he was one of the more dynamic leaders of her generation.

A friend in her late twenties, another "George" subscriber, also looked at John Jr. as a leader.

Some of the people calling in to Mitch Albom's radio show on WJR Monday afternoon were critical of John Jr.'s flying his plane in poor weather.

But everyone I've spoken to or listened to has criticized the amount of coverage the event has received by the press.

The coverage has been criticized for being excessive and focusing on the melodramatic, as well as ignoring the Bessette family.

I agree.

When part of the press coverage involves showing how the event is being covered by other members of the press, it's gone over the top.

My first reaction to scenes of newspaper headlines on TV was, "Are the networks looking for justification for the saturation of their own coverage?"

Geraldo in Hyannis? Come on, now.

More coverage does not equal more respect for the families and their losses, it just means more coverage.

My own personal, unsolicited, unsubstantiated opinion is this: The networks can't think the American public wants to watch or read coverage of to the depth it's being presented. If they aren't just shooting for high ratings, then it is possible that members of the national media are feeling a personal loss of their own.

Many of them have known Kennedy family members or covered the lives of this colorful family for decades. It's quite possible they feel the loss more deeply than the rest of the population.

It's not uncommon for reporters to develop at least a fondness for, if not a friendship with, many of the people who make the news in our community. And I would consider it a personal loss if something happened to any of the people I have gotten to know through my work.

It's important to realize, however, that the American population has not had the same relationship with this family and deserves to read and hear about the news that does affect them on a daily basis.

1999 summary update from the House

As we end our spring session, we are wrapping up the last of the state's budgets, meeting our self-imposed deadline. We have approved two major tax cuts, launched the rescue of the Detroit Public Schools, divvied up the massive windfall from the tobacco settlement, enacted safer school legislation and required drug testing of welfare recipients.

In January, House Republicans unveiled a plan to put Michigan families first. We set goals to cut taxes, continue welfare reform and protect children. We are making good on all our promises.

First, we cut the state income tax from 4.4 percent to 3.9 percent, bringing the rate to its lowest level in nearly 30 years. More recently, we voted to phase out the state's Single Business Tax, reducing business costs by $120 million in the first year.

This tax cut also leads to more jobs for our state. Since Michigan is the only state in the country with this type of tax, it puts us at a distinct disadvantage in attracting businesses looking to relocate. By eliminating this tax while our economy is strong, we will improve our business climate and make job providers stronger.

We also passed legislative packages aimed at protecting children from failing schools and drug abuse. Not only do we want recipients on welfare to become self-sufficient and find jobs, we want to do all we can to safeguard their children.

From the Capitol

State Rep. Ruth Johnson

Unfortunately, children are the real victims when the state inadvertently finances their parents' drug habits. We are doing these children no favors if we subsidize the destructive lifestyles of their parents. That is why we have enacted legislation mandating drug testing as a requirement for welfare assistance. If the parent tests positive, drug rehabilitation is the first course of action.

We are also trying to rescue children from failing school systems. The Legislature decided to give control of the Detroit Public Schools to a new reform board and superintendent for a remedial period of five years.

In May, the House passed legislation establishing the Michigan Merit Scholarship program. Students who meet certain criteria will qualify for $2,500 scholarships. Every student is eligible to participate, whether they attend public, private or home school.

This program is a smart and creative move. We are investing in our children's future. No student who wants to continue their education should be limited by a lack of financial resources.

We have passed significant and historic legislation that benefits all Michigan residents. I look forward to continuing to work for more legislation that favors Michigan families, and the residents of the 46th District.

Holy labor market, Batman!

While driving through much of the area last weekend — from I-75 north to I-69, there are a lot of companies looking hanging signs up for Help Wanted. In our shopper paper last week we had 130 ads from companies looking for workers.

To the south, in the Gingellville-Auburn Hills area retail building is booming. Kroger's is putting up their third store in a 10-mile radius (do they really think they can find anymore qualified butchers, bakers and managers — they still have help wanted signs on the previous two stores?); that mile stretch between Baldwin and Joslyn roads on Brown road will be the home to a new Meijer Thrifty Acres, Target and more — this right across the highway from the region's shopping mecca — Great Lakes Crossing Mall.

All these places will and do need labor, I just don't see where they are going to get it on a long-term basis. I know there are students from Goodrich making the 40 minute-plus trek to work at Great Lakes Crossing as you read this. And, that is fine, but what happens when the school bells start ringing in the new year?

Who's gonna' work the work?

I guess this is the other side of the great economy and 2 point something unemployment rate. The only folks left not working either don't want to or can't. Ain't it great running a business in these parts?

Who's gonna' tend those cash registers and stock those shelves?

It takes an entire work team to keep the customers happy and the boss making money. You need smiling faces behind the counters and hard workers to tend to the customers needs. You can have the greatest shop in the world, but without somebody to tend the tills, your customers won't come back.

Who's gonna' watch the shop when the boss wants to golf?

Every boss worth his or her salt has worked hard to become the boss and with that comes the benefits — a little more time for yourself and family. That perk fizzles when the boss is stuck minding the store because employees are taking vacations or quitting to go to work for the higher paying burger-flipping job.

So, what are we going to do? You all came to the right guy for the answer — ship in the workers from other parts of the state. Bring 'em right in and give them a job. But, how, you ask?

By trains. There are still some rails around here (at least up to Clarkston Road in Orion Township) and train traffic isn't that congested. Area companies need to get together, approach the train folks and start making it happen.

Or skip the Tuesday golf league to work a double shift.

Ron Davis named Conservancy director

The North Oakland Headwaters Land Conservancy announces the hiring of Mr. Ronald L. Davis as Executive Director. Having begun work this month, Ron's employment was confirmed at the July 10 NOHLC Board meeting.

The hiring of Ron Davis culminates several years of growth, strategic planning, and fund raising by the North Oakland Headwaters Land Conservancy. The actual search process for the right person to be the first NOHLC Executive Director began in 1998.

Incorporated in 1972 as the Independence Land Conservancy, the NOHLC mission is to protect the rural character and quality of life in Northwest Oakland County, by conserving the woods, fields, streams, and other natural resources in the headwater areas of the Clinton, Shiawassee, Huron, and Flint Rivers.

"We are very pleased and excited to have Ron join us as our first, full-time, paid Executive Director," said NOHLC President Tom Stone. "Ron brings the kind of experience and commitment to this position that our Board wants and needs."

Ron is an outdoorsman and experienced community servant. He has experience as a small businessperson and as a corporate vice president.

He is President Elect of the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce and Past President of the Clarkston Rotary Club. He has been on the boards of the Lighthouse, Lighthouse North, Independence Township Museum Foundation, and Independence Township Board of Review. Also, he is active with the Oakland County Sportsman Club and Michigan United Conservation Club. He is a Rotary Paul Harris Fellow.

For over three years, Ron was President of Cardinal Coffee Corporation. Previously, Ron spent 25 years as a banker with NBD and its predecessors in Michigan and Florida, attaining the position of Vice President of a Trust Division. His education includes completing graduate school programs in banking at the University of Notre Dame and the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

"I am very excited about this new challenge in my life," said Ron. "When I first read the NOHLC Executive Director job description, I thought it was written just for me. This organization has an unbelievable track record of getting things done and doing things right. The formula for their success has been the vision, determination, and dedication to the preservation of land on the part of every member of this conservancy. This is a group I am proud to be associated with."

"On a more selfish note, I feel that for the first time I am doing something that really counts and will have an impact. I plan to look back in ten to twelve years at what we have accomplished and I will be able to say to myself, 'Ron, you were a part of that — you made a difference.'"

NOHLC is a 501(c)(3) non-profit, tax-exempt corporation, receiving tax-deductible gifts of all kinds. Also, various membership donation categories exist, such as a renewable Life-Membership donation of $100 and an annual Family Membership donation of $25.

Fire destroys Oakhurst home, investigation pending

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

An early morning fire destroyed a home under construction in the Oakhurst Community on Clintonville Road July 13.

Independence Township Fire Marshal Greg Olrich said the 4,000-square-foot home, which was 75-percent complete, was estimated to be a $500,000 loss. If completed, damage would have been "much more," Olrich said.

The cause of the blaze is unknown and under investigation by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

The home, located on Springdale Court, was built by Wilshire Communities of Independence Township, OCSD Det. Dave Row said. A spokesperson for the company declined to comment. "Basically, this is going to take awhile," Rowe said of the investigation. "There's nothing left."

Firefighters were notified at 5:04 a.m. and arrived six minutes later to find the building engulfed in flames. "The center of the home was collapsing as we arrived," Olrich said. Flames were shooting through the roof, he added.

Firefighters had the blaze under control in an hour, but stayed at the site, checking for hot spots and mopping up water damage for nearly three more hours, Olrich said.

"We basically put large amounts of water on it from hydrants," he explained.

The fire left some exterior walls intact, but "the interior portion of the house was consumed," Olrich said.

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Writers are having a field day with snowmobiles. Are they a menace? Are they a boon to the tourist industry? Should they be controlled?

Befitting a writer who is unable to answer any of these questions, I have observed during their rise in popularity that the owners appeared to have great joy and the non-owners loud complaints.

This year we are in the first group... it is just plain fun. I spent five hours Sunday going over hill and dale, pulling young 'uns around on their saucers, etc., and putting one of five snowmobiles through its paces.

And, the best part is that today I'm not even sore. What else can anyone my age do outdoors for five hours and not be sore? Even ice fishing gets to my joints and temper.

Why are chains on trailers generally crossed?

It's never too late for a compliment. Tom Rademacher, Clarkston's pusher of Chevies and Olds, called recently to tell of his New Year's resolution. It was to say something nice to people when he felt it deserving.

Hopefully, he's sticking to his resolve, but even if he's not, I got in on an early thought. He called specifically to tell me how he enjoyed, and could sometimes relate to this column. His comments toward the Clarkston News were also much appreciated.

Wouldn't it be great if we could all stay in the frame of mind that would make us aware of others to the extent we would compliment people whenever the situation called for it.

Instead, we too often fall into the grouchy and grumble category, with the resultant depression of mind and body. The effect touches us both personally and nationally. "If we act enthusiastic, we'd be enthusiastic," Dale Carnegie once said.

Judd Arnett, Free Press columnist, goes even deeper: "The recession has been built, rather, by lack of self-confidence among millions of Americans. They have been upset by demonstrations, riots, dissent, the generation gap - the general debilitations of social unrest."

Self-confidence is a state of

Blizzard smacks area

Blizzard-like conditions and near zero visibility hit the Independence Township area at about 8:30 a.m. on January 26. Slippery road conditions and drifted, swirling snow accompanied by heavy wind gusts caused hazardous driving conditions.

According to Corporal Dorr Wiltse of the Michigan State Police, approximately 500 accidents were reported in the County between the hours of 8 a.m. and noon. All roads leading in and out of the Independence Township were reported to be dangerous.

An accident occurred on Dixie Highway and Davisburg Road that allegedly involved 17 automobiles. No details were available.

Buses from the Clarkston Schools made their regular runs in the early hours before the full impact of the storm was felt. "When the storm continued, increasing in intensity," said Milford Mason, Assistant Superintendent, "we took immediate steps to return the children safely to their homes."

"At a request of the Oakland County Sheriff's office we delayed the move until the winds abated, about noon. The lunch program was speeded up and by 12:30 all Junior and Senior High students were headed for home. We then proceeded to transport the elementary students to their homes."

"We encountered some of our most difficult problems at the Bailey Lake School. Pine Knob Road was clogged at both ends by heavy drifts, mired and stalled automobiles."

By 3:30 p.m. spokesmen for the administration reported that 99 percent of the students had been returned to their homes without incident. Six buses were on the final phases of their runs and were in radio contact with the school.

Robert Brumback

Social worker wins D.S.A.

Robert Brumback, social worker in the Clarkston Schools, was honored on the same occasion as he was presented with the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award.

This award is given to the man between 21 and 36 who most honorably distinguishes himself by outstanding service and devotion to family, job and community.

Brumback holds a bachelor's degree in Police Administration and an M.A. in mind. If we'd act like we feel, which is generally pretty good, you'll have to admit we'd have more confidence and all would be rosy forever after.

So, smile and pass the money.

social work from Michigan State University. He is a past member of Jaycee and instigated the Jaycee Swim Program in this area. The Clarkston Youth Assistance Program and the Independence Township Recreation Board have both benefited from his service.

Brumback is vice president of the Michigan School Social Workers' Association for Region E and a member of the National School Social Workers' Association.

A member of Calvary Lutheran Church, he and his wife, Judy, Scott, 9; Kelley, 8 and Rodney, 5, live on Church street.

Jaycee President Jerry Powell presented the award.

Hawk moves to close plant

Allan Hawke, vice president and treasurer of the struck Hawk Tool and Engineering Co., 20 W. Washington in Clarkston, reported that the company has sent a telegram to UAW Local 540 advising them of the company's desire to meet and discuss the discontinuance of business.

According to Hawke, Richard Wonnacott of the Federal Mediation Service has scheduled a meeting on February 1 in Detroit.

"After the episodes last week when windows were smashed at one of the plants allied with our firm and a truck windshield was broken at the home of a purchasing agent we decided that it just wasn't worth it. We'd rather not be responsible for what might happen next. We'd rather just close up."

The firm which came to Clarkston 10 years ago employs about 50 persons, 35 of them unionized under Local 540 of the UAW. They produce ordinance items for the federal government.

The workers went on strike officially on Jan. 7 after a disagreement that arose over working between the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

The last union contract expired on September 1.

Michigan winter sports centers boast more than 600 slopes and runs and more than 400 lifts and tows, including 68 double, triple and four-place chair lifts, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Planning tool for schools

argued, was giving the schools enough time to assess new projects, noting they're approved quickly by township officials.

However, Wallace said new projects undergo many stages, before both the planning commission and township board.

Wallace also noted Carlisle has already committed to including another line item in his planner's reports that would project the number of school-age children in proposed developments. The building department could simply "make another copy and ship it on to the schools.

"This is not a profound, additional expense," Wallace said.

Carlisle, who was hired by the schools several years ago to produce enrollment projections, said he will include more information than those figures. He plans to produce demographic information that's useful to not only Clarkston schools, but to the township.

"For instance, the number of people, the number of households and what the profile will be," he said. "It will not benefit only the schools. The township needs information for parks and recreation, for library services and other public services."

Some officials worried if the schools would respond when information is supplied. They noted that, although both entities have entered into a new spirit of cooperation on school site planning, the township never saw final plans for the new Independence Elementary School — even though the district volunteered to submit them.

However, during the conceptual site plan process, the township was involved. The input from township officials provided "cost savings and better traffic circulation. It just got better because we participated," Wallace said.

If the district doesn't respond each time it's notified, Wallace said that would be "unfortunate that cooperation has broken down on that particular item. But it's no reason to turn a blind eye and not try to drag the schools into this planning process as a partner — even if it's kicking and screaming."

Craig Kahler, director of business services for Clarkston schools, said the resource would be invaluable to the district for planning purposes — not only for student enrollment projections, but to plan for staffing and facilities.

"Anytime we can improve our lines of communication, we're thrilled," Kahler said. "This is one area the school district has not had advance notice on. It really affects us, short-term and long-range. It helps us to be better planners."

For example, Kahler said, the district would be notified "if there are going to be x number of kids in a new apartment complex, or a larger residential development, next year."

"We're very pleased the township has followed up on a topic that was discussed several months ago. And it's going to be very valuable for us."

Woman killed in crash

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A 28-year-old Oxford man was allegedly involved in a drunk driving accident that resulted in the death of a 22-year-old Sterling Heights woman. The incident occurred on I-75 in Independence Township near Clintonville Road around 11 p.m. Sunday night.

According to Michigan State Police, the suspect, was traveling north in his Ford Ranger and struck two vehicles.

He first hit a 1993 Jeep driven by a 26-year-old Harper Woods man, then struck a 1995 Jeep head on, driven by a 23-year-old Shelby Township man. The Sterling Heights woman was a passenger in the second car.

She was taken to Pontiac Osteopathic and died later that evening, said State Trooper John Duffy, who arrived at the scene. At press time, Duffy said he was awaiting a coroner's report to determine the cause of death.

The Shelby Township man was taken to North Oakland Medical Centers, where he remains in serious condition. The suspect was also treated at NOMC for injuries. The Harper Woods man was treated at POH for minor injuries and kept under observation.

Duffy said the suspect admitted he had been drinking. "We suspect alcohol was a factor," Duffy said. The man has not been charged.

parcel and two-acre parcel zoned light industrial, and a two-acre piece zoned heavy industrial.

"The overall intensity is pretty low," Carlisle said of the industrial zone. "The whole of it surrounds a railroad track."

■ Residential Zone: The middle of the corridor is mostly small-lot residential. However, Victor International received approval for a substantial PUD (Planned Unit Development) on the southwest corner of White Lake and Dixie. Phase I is under construction.

Called Parks at Stonewood, it includes over 260 homes in five themed neighborhoods, a commercial convenience center, and a total of over 80 acres of preserved open space throughout, featuring nature trails. The area will be accessible to the public, said developer Dave Johnson, president of Victor International.

Two parcels — 22 acres and 30 acres — have been dedicated to the North Oakland Headwaters Land Conservancy, said NOHLC executive director Ron Davis.

Johnson says Phase I of the project is underway. Village Park homes will range from $300,000-$400,000; Peninsula Park homes will range from $400,000-$650,000; and Park Ridge homes will range from $800,000 to $2.5 million.

Johnson hopes to acquire "a gourmet produce market and some formal-dining restaurants" for the commercial piece. "We're very excited about it," he said.

When the entire project is completed, "It will be a showpiece in Oakland County," Carlisle said.

On Thursday, Johnson said Victor International recently acquired a vacant 60-acre parcel north of the railroad tracks. Currently zoned residential, it's long been used as a dumping ground and freeway for motorists.

"We're not sure what we're going to do with it," Johnson said. "But we're tired of everyone dumping stuff in there." Johnson said he will build a road to access the site.

Gradually, plans envisioned for White Lake Road are becoming reality — like the rest of the Target Plans.

There's little land left to develop, Carlisle said. Available property includes an 11-acre parcel south of Thompson McCully and a two-acre piece west of White Lake, both zoned light industrial. There is another two-acre lot zoned heavy industrial adjacent to the railroad tracks.

"I think the community is going to see a real transformation of White Lake Road over the next few years," Carlisle said. "From an eyesore to something we can all be proud of."

MEAP scores show progress, room for improvement

BY RENEE LUTZ

Clarkston News Staff Writer

MEAP scores are out — and the results from Clarkston Community Schools are "not bad," according to one administrator.

"They're not bad. We've still got some work to do," said David Reschke, assistant superintendent for K-8 operations at Clarkston Community Schools.

Boys and girls in grades 4, 5, 7 and 8 were tested in the areas of math, reading, science and writing.

In total, math scores dropped from 91.6 percent proficiency in 1998 to 88.8 percent in the district, for boys and girls in fourth grade. In seventh grade, however, math scores rose from 78.8 percent to 84.9 percent.

In the category of reading, fourth graders' proficiency in the district increased from 72.6 percent to 77.2 percent, and for seventh graders, figures also rose from 61.9 to 68.4 percent. Science scores in grade 5 declined from 55.7 to 54.1 percent, but rose from 29.9 to 31 percent for eighth graders.

Writing scores also showed improvement. Fifth graders scored higher than the year prior with 83.1 percent, versus 82.7 percent in 1998, and eighth graders' proficiency jumped from 79.6 percent to 83.8 percent.

Reschke said he submitted a report of all the scores to Dr. Al Roberts, school superintendent, last week, and the board should present the results sometime in September or October.

"It is typical to give a report for teachers to make sense out of (the scores) and develop a strategy for it," Reschke said.

He said principals of Clarkston schools have already received copies of the results, to determine how curriculum and other matters should be changed or improved.

Reschke said he noticed uneven scores for boys and girls in several areas, and hopes to see progress toward making those figures balance. He also said some of the scores in the science category were not what he'd hoped.

"I'm a little nervous about the science scores. (But) I'm very pleased with the science scores at Andersonville (Elementary School)," Reschke said.

'I wanted to get back to where my heart was'

Newly-hired Bailey Lake Elem. principal excited for first school year

BY RENEE LUTZ

Clarkston News Staff Writer

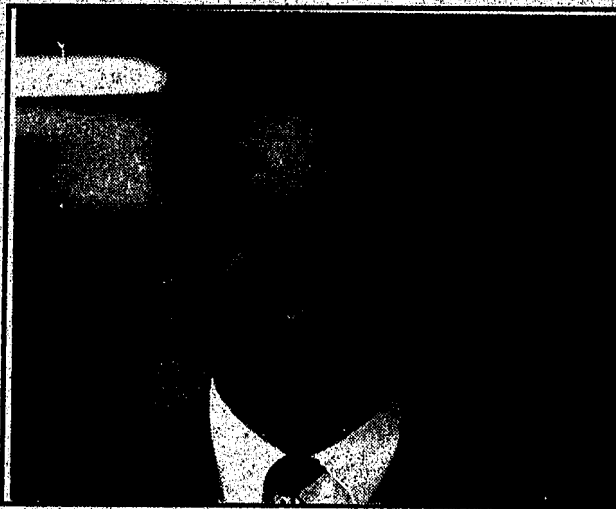

Marty Chaffee may not be permanently settled in Clarkston yet, but he's more than ready to get started at his new job.

Chaffee is the new principal at Bailey Lake Elementary and was introduced to the Clarkston schools Board of Education at its June meeting. Although he is working out of a portable next to the building and his family is still living in Holland, Mich., he's already working full time.

For the last six years, Chaffee, 39, has served as an assistant principal of Waukazoo Elementary School in Holland and more recently, as director of staff development and instructional technology for the West Ottawa School District.

"I've been in education for 17 years, and I loved that job (as an elementary principal). I missed the kids," he said. "I wanted to get back to where my heart was at."

He also worked in Zeeland as an assistant middle school principal and was a band director in both Texas and Grand Rapids. Prior to starting off his career, Chaffee received bachelor and master degrees from

Bailey Lake Elem. Principal Marty Chaffee

Western Michigan University.

Chaffee will move into Bailey Lake, located on Pine Knob Road, Aug. 17. Construction will continue through the school year as three new classrooms and a media and computer lab will be added.

Chaffee said he dealt with a similar situation at Waukazoo.

"We'll be working really hard this year to forget about construction," he said. "I just have a real desire this summer to build relationships."

Chaffee said in the next few weeks, his goals are limited to filling some spaces that have opened up for new staff. He is also planning several staff luncheons to get to know teachers.

"At this point in time, I want to try to learn a lot, to see where my skills and talent can go. This building has a great reputation," he said.

Chaffee said he feels comfortable in his new district and is looking forward to the coming months.

"When you think of a district with 7,000 students. Everyone immediately acts like they're your best friend."

Chaffee's family, still living in Holland, are excited to move to the new district. His wife Jill and two children, Carrie, 11, and Andrew, 9, are looking forward to concerts at Pine Knob Music Theatre and athletic events at the Palace of Auburn Hills, he said.

"We're moving at the right time for them," Chaffee said of his children. They will also be moving closer to family in Clawson and Trenton, he said.

New Oakland Child-Adolescent & Family Center

In all families, there is conflict to some degree. However, in some families, the conflict may be so severe and destructive that it prevents the family from growing and relating to one another in healthy ways. The mental health professionals at New Oakland Child-Adolescent & Family Center, located in nearby Davisburg, are experts in helping children, adolescents and adults deal with life stressors, depression, substance abuse and serious emotional and mental illness. The focus at New Oakland is on pro-active approaches to empower the family with the tools to meet life's challenges.

Executive Medical Director Dr. Ismail B. Sendi of New Oakland has created a unique service for those whose personal crisis may not be adequately addressed in a weekly or bi-weekly counseling session. Face-to-Face, a less restrictive, less costly, alternative to psychiatric hospitalization has been successfully treating children, teens and adults since 1994. The client attends daily therapeutic programming for seven to ten days. Intensive work on the crisis is done through daily individual and group therapies, milieu activities and twice-weekly family sessions. Additionally, there are two to three meetings each week with the child-adolescent-adult psychiatrist to explore medication options. order, a fourth property owner, for unit 7, did not attend the show cause hearing.

Walls said a letter from the unit 7 property owner claiming no violation had taken place and a copy of a soil erosion permit were sent to the board prior to the meeting.

Walls said all three in attendance claimed they had not read the association bylaws prior to the dredging.

John Chalmers, one of the three property owners in attendance, presented the group's plan for restoration to the board.

The board accepted of the plan, but have asked for more details on restoration in an attempt to recreate the site's former state, Walls said.

"It was a very brief report, the beginnings of a restoration plan," he said.

Chalmers was unable to be reached for comment Thursday as to specifics on the proposed restoration plan for the site.

Also at the hearing, the homeowners association made a presentation, with discussion on modifying and amending their bylaws "to minimize the potential of this thing happening again," Walls said.

Dale Frenkel, Autumn Shores developer, said at the hearing he would take action against the property owners in violation if necessary.

However, Walls said he was not pleased with the association's overall handling of the situation.

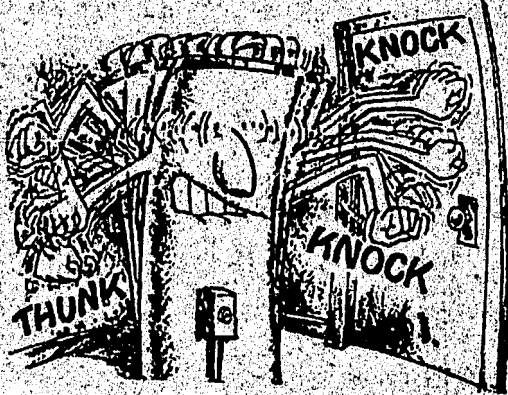

"The association's intention was to have someone else handle it," Walls said.

Prior to the hearing, Walls said he was unsure as to what role the MDEQ would have in the matter. He said he was under the impression a restoration plan would be implemented by the organization for the site, but learned differently when no MDEQ representative showed for the meeting.

Walls said as a result the township board has agreed to aid the property owners in their restoration project, by sending a qualified staff person to the site to determine what species need to be added back to the area.

"The township board has agreed to an extent to help with getting it done," he said. "All in all, I think it went well. The overall spirit was, 'Let's make it better.'"

Youth Theater brings myth to life in patriotic musical

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Before there was Austin Powers, there was Kilroy — mythically speaking, of course.

Though "Kilroy" was a fictional symbol for U.S. servicemen during World War II, Clarkston Village Players' Youth Theater members are bringing him to life on the Depot Theater stage.

The patriotic comedy/musical "Kilroy Was Here" premieres this weekend. It casts 33 young people, including Clarkston High School freshman Chris Allen in the title role as American super spy and GI "Joe" — Joe Kilroy.

The Youth Theater puts on one production each summer. This is the fourth consecutive year, said Director Donna Ellis, who is assisted by Amy Seaman and CHS graduate Laura Murphy, recipient of the Players' Pete Rose Scholarship this year.

Ages range from 10-17 and kids come from all over, Ellis said — not only from Clarkston, Brandon and Waterford, but from as far away as Birmingham and Canton. Extra parts had to be written in this year because so many children auditioned.

According to a synopsis, the setting is a Brooklyn USO club during World War II. Ships leaving a nearby navy yard are being sunk by enemy U-boats. Kilroy, a U.S. soldier who leaves his mark — a cartoon face — everywhere he goes, is suspected of supplying the Allies with information. The enemy will stop at nothing to learn his secrets.

The musical builds to a rousing finale during a wild radio broadcast. There are numerous song-and-dance numbers — including lots of jitterbugging — that provide plenty of opportunities for kids to show their talents.

For example, Marion High School freshman Maria Khoury, a tap dancer, gets to "tap out" Morse code. And WAC-y singing trio the Riveters — Julie Hershberger, Ashleigh Rotondo and Kourtney McLean — evoke the Andrews Sisters.

CHS sophomore Nic Thompson — who shone in this year's CHS musical "Camelot" as the evil Mordred — also lent his talents as a hooper. Thompson, who has set his sights on Broadway, choreographed many of the dance numbers. Maria Khoury's mother Rae also supplied some steps.

There are plenty of laughs too. Not to be missed is a hilarious scene where three GIs, including Kilroy, are hypnotized (or are they?) by "The Professor," CHS freshman Kevin Murphy.

Ellis also provided a history lesson, asking kids to research the era. Many of them don't have grandparents who can share the memories, unlike baby boomers who have heard the tales from their own parents.

During a break in Saturday's dress rehearsal, she had the cast share their findings.

■Sisters Lauren Hunt, a Sashabaw Middle School eighth-grader, and Elizabeth Hunt, a CHS freshman, dressed their tresses 1940s style. Lauren said she talked to their grandmother and perused old pictures. "They wore it up in big curls." The girls said the look was achieved with bobby pins (pin curls) or "rag" rollers.

■CHS sophomore Sandy Kessler learned people contributed "everything" to the war effort. She also noted people put up different-colored stars in windows to represent their soldier's status: alive, missing or killed in action.

■Nic Thompson said he watched "a lot of old musicals" with Gene Kelly, Judy Garland and Fred Astaire. "Singin' in the Rain" was a favorite.

■Pierce Middle School sixth-grader Andrew Taylor, who plays a civil defense officer, learned, "My guy would direct people to the shelters when the sirens went off."

■Kids giggled when Ashleigh Rotondo, a ninth-grader at Canton's Pioneer Middle School, explained what might have been a forerunner of the mini skirt: "Women's skirts got shorter 'cause they didn't have enough material."

"Kilroy Was Here" premieres Friday and continues July 24, 25, 29, 30 and 31. All performances are 7:30 p.m., except for Sunday's matinee at 2 p.m. Tickets are $5 per person. For more information and reserved tickets, call Marlene Sewick at (248) 363-0188.

The show is mostly sold out for this weekend, but tickets are still available for next week's (Thurs.-Sat.) performances.

Sportsmanship is the rule for this team

Winning is nice, but playing and having fun are what counts for Terry Machine

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Gary and Nancy Hanna kept a watchful eye on the baseball field at Sashabaw Middle School. Their 14-year-old son Kirk plays for Terry Machine, a team they describe as being in the "middle of the pack" in its Independence Township Parks and Recreation baseball league.

Kirk's team is wearing the bright red uniforms and is playing defense. Nancy is keeping careful track of the game through her baseball scorebook. But when Jay Martello, Kirk's opposition this night and wearing the maroon uniforms, slams a triple into right field, one of the first to applaud the hit is Nancy.

Shattering the stereotype of the over-competitive baseball mom, Nancy says giving encouragement to players on both teams is an important part of the little league baseball experience.

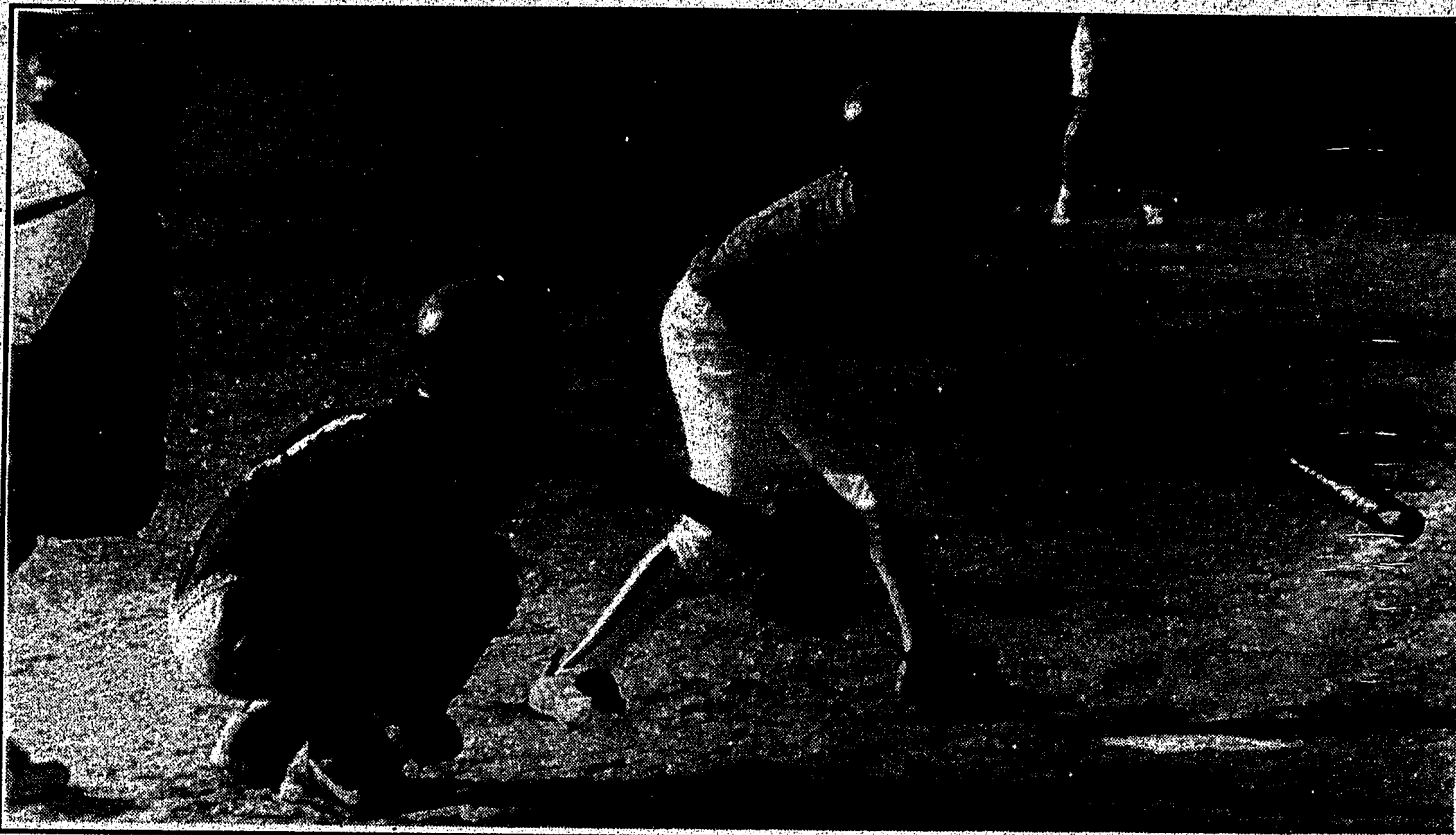

"Sportsmanship is the most important thing going on out here, and the best way to encourage that is to be supportive to everyone," she said. "I'm a teacher and I know that it's the best way to be."

The Terry Machine team is coached by Bill McGregor, who has coached little league baseball for six years. While he acknowledges he wants to see his team win as many games as possible, he recognizes many other worthwhile lessons that can be learned from little league baseball that can't be measured in a final score.

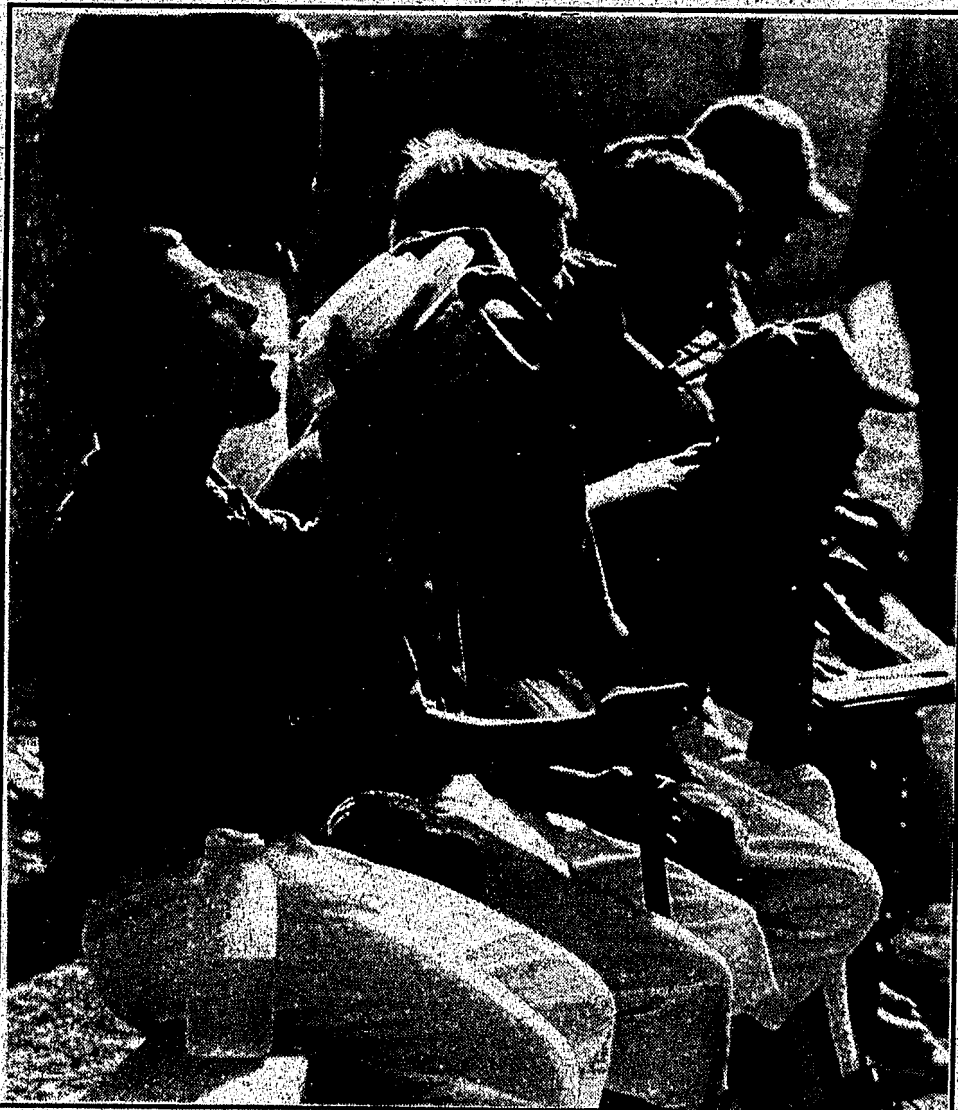

"There are a lot of kids on the teams that go to different schools, and it's great to see them come together and be a team," he said. "There's no doubt, winning is a good feeling, but this is a game that can teach you how to be a good winner and a good loser, and those are things I try to teach the kids."

With 15 kids on the team, one of McGregor's challenges is to get as many kids as much playing time as possible. In watching the game, some skills from the players are obvious. Kenny Porritt's speed around the basepaths that help Terry score the game's first run. Kirk Hanna's vocal leadership, encouraging other players on the team. Jay Talbot's quick bat. Through all this, mistakes still happen that can frustrate players and aggravate coaches. So how does McGregor deal with all this?

"I count to five and say positive things," he says with a smile. "Because this game helps you to learn a lot about life and success."

Kirk Hanna takes a swing at bat for Terry Machine.

Brendan Qulsenberry takes a refreshing drink of water in the early evening heat at the Sashabaw Middle School baseball field.

While success is an acknowledged goal, Gary Hanna says seeing his son grow is the biggest victory of all.

"If you win it all, so what? There's not a big pile of money waiting for the winner. They play for the fun of it."

Fife camp teaches basketball the Clarkston way

College and high school players help teach skills to 66 young athletes during camp's second year

This is the second year for the Dan Fife Basketball Camp, but the first year that the camp's namesake can run it the way he envisioned.

With 66 youngsters enrolled in the camp, Fife can take full advantage of the large Clarkston High School gym, with as many as four courts simultaneously holding free-throw shooting contests, one-on-one drills and team scrimmages.

Fife, the CHS boys basketball coach, said the camp is intended to allow kids to learn the game through making mistakes, and then making adjustments.

"It's a good environment for players to work, learn and have fun," he said. "In a smaller way, we offer everything the big camps offer, only you don't have to spend $400 to get it."

All types of basketball skills are taught by Fife and several college and high school basketball players. Dane Fife, a sophomore on the Indiana University basketball team, spoke to the campers on the first day. Chris Shephard, a player for St. Mary's College, and Tim Wasilk, a junior for Aquinas, are among the CHS basketball alumni coaching teams at the camp.

This year, the camp runs for two weeks. With individual skills emphasized, Fife said the camp presents a unique opportunity for its players.

"This gives them the chance to think 'I'm the man' if they want to," he said. "But within that, they will make mistakes, and they can make them without consequences. It's not about wins and losses. It's about learning what it takes to get better."

In search of: a leader for the rudderless Lions

Any day now, I'm expecting our receptionist Pat to get a phone call from an anonymous power broker at the Pontiac Silverdome, placing a help wanted ad in The Clarkston News. It should go something like this:

Wanted: one football player to play for the Detroit Lions. Experience necessary. Qualities include being a leader, being a leader, and being a leader. That's because we have no leaders on the team, and haven't had any leaders on this team for five years. References acceptable, Super Bowl rings preferable. Please call Bill Ford Jr. for interview time.

Well, maybe seeing that want ad in our paper maybe akin to wishful thinking, but it's still one that needs to be placed somewhere. The Lions open another training camp nine days from now, just a few miles from my parents house at Saginaw Valley State University.

Once again, optimism will be high, playoffs will be spoken of, and dreams of knocking off teams like Minnesota, Atlanta and San Francisco will dance through the players' heads.

There's one problem: this team has no leadership. Leadership is something that begins in the front office, and is passed down through the coaching staff to the players on the field.

My man Jonathon often spits out the words through clenched teeth: "Why can't these guys play up to their capabilities?" It's because they don't have a leader.

The last true leader the Lions had was Chris Spielman, whom they stupidly let walk away for nothing to the Buffalo Bills after the 1995 season. When

In The Penalty Box

with Brad Monastiere

Spielman reached his prime, from 1991-95, the Lions had a combined record of 46-34, making the playoffs four times in those five seasons. Since 1996 however, the Lions have a combined record of 19-29. The only winning season in the last three the Lions have had was 1997, when Barry Sanders rushed for 2,053 yards, and even then, the team barely squeaked into the playoffs with a 9-7 record.

It's painfully obvious that the Lions lack leadership, and Sanders should be the first one to step up and accept responsibility for this.

Whether he likes it or not, the truly great teams forge leaders out of their best players. The Denver Broncos have won the last two Super Bowls, and their best offensive player - John Elway - and their best defensive player - Bill Romanowski - are also the team leaders. Leaders are those who inspire others through actions, words, or a mere presence.

Sanders has more physical gifts and can do more with them than anyone I've ever seen. But his mentality has always been, just because I'm a good player, does that mean I have to be a leader too?

Teams can never have too many leaders. When a team sees its best player pushing himself to the limit every day, taking time for his own game, but showing care for others' that is what makes them want to do even better.

Leaders inspire people to reach beyond what they believe their capabilities are. The Lions seem like a team that has always settled, believing it was the best they could do. The Lions have done a nice job of drafting, filling some holes through free agency. But what they need more than anything is a guy like Chris Spielman.

■ When I think of a leader, as defined above, the first local person that comes to mind is Dan Fife.

I spent a couple hours last week at the high school gym, watching 66 youngsters at the Dan Fife Basketball Camp practicing free throws, doing agility drills and competing in games.

Dan and I spoke briefly about the kinds of things he wants to teach at his camp, and some of the lessons he wants the kids to come away with. I later saw him sprint up and down one of the courts, enthusiastically blowing his whistle, directing all the action during one of the scrimmage games.

Dan Fife is a leader, and has been for a long time. He is one of those leaders that inspires by words, action and presence. Kids know what he is about, what he has done and what he can do for them. Perhaps the biggest testimonial to his leadership can be found in his three sons. Dugan Fife was acknowledged as a team leader from his freshman year, a luxury rarely handed out to first-year players. A couple years later, Jeremy Fife came along and showed that you don't have to be the leading scorer, or a high-flying dunker to be the one everyone looks up to. And Dane Fife brought fire and moxie to his style of leadership, instilling confidence in teammates no matter how hopeless the situation.

Although his boys have all moved on from Clarkston, Dan continues to teach those values and skills to the next generation of Clarkston athletes. I have seen teams Dan has coached reach beyond their capabilities, defeating teams with far superior athletic skill. This can only be achieved by a leader with a vision, and the ability to pass that vision on to those who are willing to listen.

I know last year's 14-10 basketball team was difficult for him and his players. But I believe in order to achieve greatness, suffering is a necessary step. The team went 5-0 at the Michigan State camp recently, defeating teams like Detroit Cody and Jackson Lumen-Christie. With Dan's leadership, and a squad that could boast as many as 11 returning varsity players, last year's suffering could very well lead to greatness in the upcoming year.

Summer hockey league keeps icers sharp

BY BRAD MONASTIERE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

After a steaming hot day in the 90-degree July sun, how do a couple hours in a chilled ice hockey arena sound?

For around 30 local hockey players and their families, nights in the Royal Oak Ice Arena mean more than an escape from the heat.

Clarkston is one of the teams involved in the 1999 Summer Conditioning Hockey League that runs out of Royal Oak. The Wolves take on some tough competition in the league, including Troy, Livonia Stevenson, Royal Oak, Walled Lake Western, Berkley, and state semifinalist Birmingham Brother Rice.

Forming the team is a next step in the development of the three-year old program. Thirteen of the team's 30 players were on last year's OAA Division I championship team.

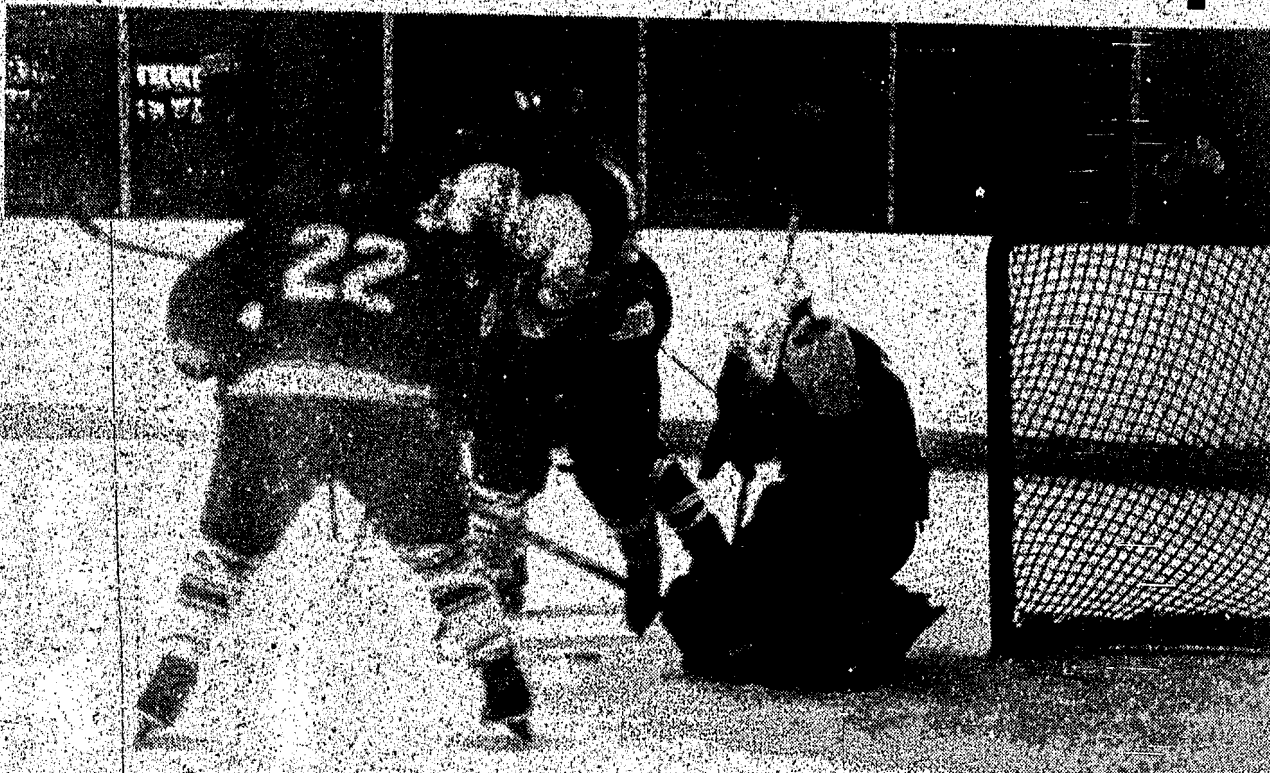

The summer league is not designed to be as competitive as the high school season, and is a way for players to keep in skating shape, while not burning them out on hockey.

"There's no pressure on them in this kind of league," said Clarkston hockey coach Bryan Krygier. "They practice every day during the season, and in this league, they only play games, which makes it more fun for them."

The summer team is coached by Rod Hool and Steve Keenan, brother of Mike Keenan, two-time NHL Coach of the Year.

Keenan, whose stepson Miles Purdy is one of many young players on the summer team, said this league gives a good opportunity for younger players to get plenty of experience playing at the high level of high school hockey.

"We've got 30 on the roster, and they all get plenty of ice time," he said. "This gives some of our younger kids a chance to see what high school hockey is like, but without the pressure."

Jay Manojlovich crashes the net during a July 7 summer hockey conditioning league game between Clarkston and Livonia July 7 in Royal Oak. Manojlovich is keeping his hockey skills sharp by participating in the league with 29 other current and future Clarkston hockey players.

The Clarkston team is helping to cultivate its future through this league. With 17 players on the team with no high school experience, these players are getting an early taste of the high school level of hockey.

"One, it gives the kids a better picture of the level of play they will see in high school," said team manager Jack Leech. "And two, it gives the coaches the opportunity to view this young talent in a game situation."

"The younger players can get a good idea of some of the competition they're going to be up against next year," Krygier said.

Krygier, who because of MHSAA rules is forbidden from coaching the team in the fall on a regular basis, said he gets a unique view of the players when he takes a seat in the stands for the summer league games.

"There are different things you can see from here," he said. "You can see the play develop a lot more, and it's good to take a step back like this. It helps me to learn more about the players because I see them from a new perspective."

Rams win July 18 at 'Mayor's Invitational'

BY GEORGE DRALLOS

Special to The Clarkston News

The Michigan Rams took the win Sunday at the 'Mayor's Invitational' Baseball Tournament in Battle Creek, with the Rams defeating Livonia Travel 3-0 in the championship game. The Rams went 6-1 during the tournament, held at C.O. Brown Stadium.

Brad McCloskey pitched his second shutout of the tournament. McCloskey allowed only two hits and struck out four.

Eric Jenks had a two out, bases loaded single that knocked in two runs.

The Rams played outstanding defense throughout the tourney and pitching was tremendous. Five players batted over .450; the team now prepares for the AABC Tournament in Saginaw this weekend.

In a recap of games prior to the tourney:

Thursday, July 15 -- The Rams succeeded over the Brampton, Ontario team 6-0, with McCloskey pitching a one hit shutout for the Rams. Steve Seargeant had a two run home run, while Spencer Hynes, Chris Mitchell and John Drallos added RBI hits.

Jason Pawlak scattered nine hits and allowed two earned runs as the Rams defeated rival North Oakland Stars 12-8. Drallos added a single, home run and three RBIs. Mitchell and Hynes added three hits and Dave Alexander had two hits and two RBIs.

Friday, July 16 -- Jenks pitched a one hit gem as the Rams won their third straight game, this time against Battle Creek Body Shop 11-1. Alexander had three hits and Mike Ciulis added two; both had three RBIs. Seargeant added two hits and two RBIs.

The Rams continued on their winning streak as Robinson pitched a six-hitter and struck out seven batters, as the team defeated Livonia Travel 11-2. Hynes had four hits with two RBIs. Drallos, Mitchell and Seargeant added two hits and two RBIs.

Saturday, July 17 -- The Rams continued playing great baseball as Matt Mitchell allowed three hits and one earned run, when they overtook Chicago's Archer Manor 15-3. Drallos had his second home run of the tournament and Alexander added two hits and three RBIs. The Rams are now 5-0 for the tourney.

However, in the second game of the night, the Rams were defeated by the Cleveland team McDonald & Co. 6-0. The Rams, who had already clinched first place in their bracket, showed continued effort as Tim Clouse of Lake Orion, Alexander and Ciulis added hits for the team.

SKIN DEEP by Scott Friedman, D.O.

LOOK IN THE MIRROR
 In addition to having your skin checked annually by the dermatologist, it pays to check your own skin regularly. According to a study recently published in the Journal of the American Medical Association, 55% of cases of melanoma (the most dangerous form of skin cancer) were found by patients. While physicians were far more likely to find early melanomas, which are treatable, patients were three times more likely to detect melanomas on readily visible parts of their bodies such as arms, legs, chest, and face. Everyone is encouraged to take a careful look at his or her skin in the mirror for signs of a mole that changes shape, color, or size, as well as sores that fail to heal.
 Self examination of your skin, on a regular basis, is a must in detecting the growing incidence of melanoma. Any skin disorder should be brought to the attention of a dermatologist to ensure successful treatment. Our offices are conveniently located at 6330 Sashabaw, Clarkston (625-0692) and 3003 Baldwin, Lake Orion (391-9599). Call to arrange a consultation. We practice "state of the art" dermatology, geared to prevention as well as treatment.
 P.S. A persistent patch of irritated skin or small growth both warrant an appointment with the dermatologist for evaluation.

THE LAW & YOU

by Kelley R. Kostin
Attorney at Law

DO IT YOURSELF?

In this era of self-help books, it is not uncommon to see do-it-yourself divorce kits, wills, and the like. These may help people guide themselves through divorce if there are no children, or if neither spouse demands significant amounts of money or property. And, people can write simple wills for small estates with uncomplicated assets and straightforward dispositions to beneficiaries (not trusts), if the witnessing instructions are followed carefully. However, if these or other situations involve any significant alteration to suit the circumstances of the person (or people) involved, an attorney's services are strongly recommended. It pays to have knowledge and experience on your side if failing to do so might put you at a distinct disadvantage.

Don't go it alone! Even if you are knowledgeable of the law, it is still to your benefit to let an objective professional serve as your lawyer. You'll find that a lawyer experienced in your specialized case law will save you both time and money. For matters involving personal injury, auto accidents, slip & fall injuries, criminal defense, business law, real estate, family law, and civil litigation, call our office at 11 North Main Street (620-1030).

Hint: There is an old saying in the legal profession: "Anyone who represents himself in court has a fool for a client."

Don't Delay... Decide Today.

Christmas or Hanukah? Too often, intermarried couples put off any decisions regarding religion. And quite often, the decision they make is no decision at all.

That may work today, but what about later? What about the rich Jewish traditions that can provide you with a sense of belonging, of comfort in times of need and of identity for your children? Think about it, and when you're ready, give us a call.

Make the connection...
We're here for you.
