Independence okays study for new township hall

Residents protest possible site on Flemings Lake Rd.

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Up to $25,000 in funds were OK'd last Tuesday for a study on a new township hall. But the plot thickens concerning one of the possible sites — 20 acres on Flemings Lake Road which was once considered for a Lakeview "II" Cemetery.

The township is currently eyeing three sites — on Flemings Lake, Sashabaw Road and in Clintonwood Park — but nothing has been chosen. The Sept. 21 Independence Township Board meeting addressed the first step, approving the Independence Township Town Hall/Civic Center Space Needs and Site Selection Study Proposal submitted by Township Planner Dick Carlisle, whose firm Carlisle/Wortman Associates, Inc. will manage the project.

An architectural firm will be part of the planning process, as well as a Project Advisory Committee composed of two Township Board members, three Planning Commissioners and three citizens. The committee will participate in the study, much like the Vision 2020 process.

The proposal includes background studies to determine function and space needs, site selection, project costs and an action plan.

Carlisle estimates the study to be completed in seven months and build time at two to three years. Design work should fit the architectural "character" of Clarkston, he added.

"Another key point is to find the biggest bang for the buck for this community," Carlisle said, noting the site should include "creative opportunities" for expansions like a new senior center.

Though the board praised the plan, some were wary of putting money into layout before space constraints and costs. "I don't want to see us put money into character and appearance early on," said Trustee Neil Wallace. He stressed board input all along the way. "I just don't want to see it take on a life of its own."

Carlisle said the last thing to be considered would be the facade. But he encouraged the board to think of how it would impact the surroundings. "It's like replacing Tiger Stadium," he said.

Supervisor Dale Stuart said care would be taken

City toughens drunk driving laws with ordinance amendment

BY RENEE WIGHTMAN

Clarkston News Staff Writer

An updated ordinance with stricter penalties for drivers under the influence of alcohol or other drugs is one step closer to becoming law in Clarkston.

Ordinance 80-8, an amendment to the City of the Village of Clarkston Uniform Traffic Code, was first read by Tom Ryan, city attorney, at the city council meeting Monday night. The amendment "provides for enhanced penalties" for drunk driving and other offenses, Ryan said.

Following the June 1997 limo accident in Birmingham which paralyzed Red Wing defenseman Vladimir Konstantinov, the state's ordinance has been amended to include increased sanctions for repeat offenders behind the wheel.

Such sanctions include removing the driver's license plate and replacing it with a temporary issue, or ordering the vehicle be immobilized, according to the amendment.

Another change in the ordinance would increase the number of days spent in jail for a misdemeanor offense from 90 to 93 days, to allow for fingerprinting, Ryan said.

A second reading of the amended ordinance will take place at the council's next meeting in October. Ryan said the ordinance would then become effective following that meeting.

In other business:

■ A motion to raise city sewer rates to comply with rates for the City of Detroit was tabled until the next meeting, pending further details from city manager Art Pappas, who is on vacation. When approved, the rate would be raised $1.65 per unit.

■ On behalf of attorney Neil Wallace, Robyn Johnston requested the council approve design work to make the main level of his Main Street office handicapped accessible and barrier free. Currently, Wallace's business entrance is 12 inches from the last step from the sidewalk. The six-inch step needs to be eliminated to create the ramp, Johnston said.

Since the building is an existing building in the city, handicap ramps are not required. "He doesn't really have to do this. He wants to do this," Johnston said.

Mayor Sharon Catallo said the city engineer would look at the design. "I don't have a problem with it," Catallo said.

The News in Brief

Powder Puff game, parade highlight CHS Homecoming

Clarkston High School's Homecoming Taping Assembly on Oct. 1 will introduce this year's maids, escorts, kings and queens for the annual event.

Other events scheduled include Spirit Week dress-up days starting Oct. 4. Monday is Hat Day, Tuesday is Pajama Day, Wednesday is College T-shirt Day, Thursday is Class Color Day, and Friday is Blue and Gold Day.

For the first time in nine years, CHS will hold a Powder Puff game also on Oct. 4 at the high school, beginning at 7 p.m. A bonfire will follow in between the football field and tennis courts. Performances by the CHS Pom-Pon squads, Cheerleading squads and CHS Marching Band will occur, as well as a pep speech from the football team captains.

On Oct. 8, a football run will take place from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from Rochester to Clarkston, depending on weather. The cross-country team will run the football to be used in the Homecoming game versus Rochester Adams High School.

A Queen's Assembly also will take place the afternoon of Oct. 8, where the 1999 Homecoming Court is presented to the CHS student body. Also Oct. 8 in the CHS gym, a field day with competition between the classes will take place.

An alumni tent will be set up the evening of Oct. 8 during the football game, with free donuts and cider at the CHS football field near the concession stand.

The Homecoming Parade and Dance will be Oct. 9, with the parade beginning at 10 a.m. in downtown Clarkston. The dance is from 7-10 p.m. at the CHS cafeteria.

CVP presents music night

Local theater troupe Clarkston Village Players is expanding its repertoire of entertainment. Enjoy an evening of acoustic music Oct. 2 at Depot Theatre, 4861 White Lake Road in Clarkston.

Featured entertainers include Bob Geries, a CVP member, guitarist and vocalist; David Mosher, a singer/songwriter and award-winning instrumentalist; and Dan Hall, another talented singer/songwriter whose material ranges from the light-hearted and humorous to the deeply moving.

Tickets are $10 per person. For more information and reservations, call 625-8811. CDs of the performers' works will be available at the concert.

Trick-or-treating hour set

Once again, the begging hour for little ghosts and goblins follows past policy. Both the City of Clarkston and Independence Township approved the hour of 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. at their respective meetings. Halloween, Oct. 31, falls on a Sunday this year.

Trustee Neil Wallace was the sole dissenter in Independence, saying the time limit was "an unnecessary government regulation... One hour is kind of scary."

An 'all-around' winner

Elyse Johnson, a fifth grader at Pine Knob Elementary School, recently took the honor of Gymnast of the Year at her age level for GOB Gymnastics in Ortonville.

She scored the highest points in compulsory season (Feb. 1999) and optional season (Aug. 1999). Among her honors were first place awards for all-around and balance beam events.

Elyse has been practicing gymnastics for five years and said of all the events, the balance beam is her favorite.

"I have really good balance. I love to be up high," she said.

She also is a member of her school's soccer team, Junior Girl Scouts and her church youth group. She said she wants to continue gymnastics throughout her school years.

Elyse's mother, Susan, also was a gymnast and cheerleader at Clarkston High School. Her father, Scott, played football, and her five-year-old brother, Sven, plays hockey and soccer.

Group hopes to make "Nutcracker" a Clarkston tradition

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

For many, it's an annual event every year. Some even make the long drive to Detroit to see the production.

Now, a local ballet company hopes to make the beloved Nutcracker ballet a tradition in Clarkston at Christmas, too. Three entities have been working hard to make that a reality: Lakes Area Civic Ballet, Clarkston Foundation and Clarkston schools.

This is the company's eleventh year of performing the Nutcracker Suite by late Russian composer Peter Tchaikovsky. The beloved story concerns a little girl whose Nutcracker is transformed into a handsome prince who whisks her away to magical adventures.

Until this year, the ballet has been performed at other schools. Clarkston High School's new performing arts theater presents a seating capacity and stage that is more conducive, said Clarkston resident Terry Newman, founding director of the company. Newman also runs her own dance school, The Dance Shoppe in Waterford.

Students from many dance schools and communities participate, Newman said. Two professional dancers from a Canadian company will dance the prime parts of the Nutcracker/Prince and Sugar Plum Fairy.

Some principal parts will be danced by Clarkston students, including Karen Weil as Clara and Maggie Ness as the Rat King. Both are CHS tenth graders.

"We'd like to make it a tradition for the people in Clarkston to celebrate the start of their holidays with the Nutcracker ballet," Newman said. This is also one way area residents can be supportive of the arts, she added.

Two performances are scheduled: Friday, Dec. 17; and Saturday, Dec. 18. Tickets are $8 per person, and group rates are also available. An additional two dates, Dec. 15 and 16, will be reserved for Clarkston school children. Morning field trips must be scheduled by individual teachers, who will receive information this week, Newman said. Tickets are $5 per student. The first five schools that purchase over 100 seats will be visited by a costumed character who narrates the story.

The performances, scheduled the last week of school, "really get them excited about Christmas," Newman said.

Newman said there is also a special outreach program that will allow those less fortunate to see the ballet. Financially in-need organizations should contact the dance school at 620-1971.

Christine Bove, artistic director of the ballet company who teaches at Newman's school, said the CHS theater will allow elaborate sets that formerly the ballet company didn't have room for. "The sets are gorgeous. This is a really professional-level ballet," Bove said. Falling snow will also be a part of the scenery.

A taped orchestral score will be used this year, but in the future Newman would like a live symphony. She'd also like to see Clarkston students involved, such as the Madrigal singers and the future string orchestra.

This is a group effort to promote the fine arts in Clarkston, Newman said. She especially praised the help of assistant superintendents Pat Brumback and Dave Reschke. "The school district has been very generous in getting it worked out for us, as a way of showcasing the fine arts and exposing children to it. A lot of people have never seen a ballet."

The Friday performance will include 100 special seats, sponsored by the Clarkston Foundation, said Todd Moss, its treasurer. "We want to sponsor this

Middle schoolers get the CCA.N.G.L.E after school

BY RENEE WIGHTMAN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Dozens of middle schoolers have taken up sumo wrestling, sewing and playing air hockey after school — only it's not in their living rooms.

The Clarkston Christian Association's after school program for middle school-aged kids, CCA.N.G.L.E. (A New Generation of Learning and Entertainment) kicked off its second year this fall.

The program has a wide range of activities for kids as a source of alternative activities between the hours of 2:45 and 6 p.m.

Dan Niewoit, pastor at Mt. Zion Church on Maybee Road in Independence Township, serves as co-director for CCA.N.G.L.E. with his wife, Laura.

On average, 15 to 40 middle schoolers come to the CCA, located at 5529 Sashabaw Road, each school night, Niewoit said. The kids sign up at their school's main office each day. Transportation to the CCA is provided by the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department.

For recreation, kids can inline skate, play billiards, table tennis, air hockey and interactive games such as sumo wrestling, oversized boxing and jousting, or human bowling, Niewoit said.

New this fall, educational activities include sewing, learning sign language, drama classes and tutoring.

"It's a lot of fun," he said. "It's just a neat opportunity to direct their energies in positive ways."

Each room in the building is supervised by an adult volunteer. Depending on the number of kids each afternoon, more volunteers are on call, Niewoit said.

Healthy snacks such as fruit and raisins also are provided to kids at no extra charge, he said.

Tutors are either adult volunteers or college students. Tutoring is available "for whatever the child needs," Niewoit said.

Pat Brumback, assistant superintendent for Clarkston Community Schools, gives the program praise.

Whitney Wilder, a sixth grader at Sashabaw West Middle School, creates a pillowcase with the help of adult volunteer Bonnie Collom Thursday afternoon at Clarkston Christian Association.

"It is absolutely tremendous. I have been there, and it's a healthy, wholesome, supervised environment. They are wonderful to work with," she said.

Niewoit said when the program began, the support from school officials was not strong.

"Our whole vision is to support the community. We've been blessed."

"Originally, they didn't know how to take us," he said. "We just wanted to serve, and they've really embraced it as of late."

Niewoit said plans are in the works to take Clarkston kids to the Waterford Christian Association building, and vice versa, during afternoons for an even broader range of activities. The WCA, located at 1585 Crescent Lake Road, has basketball and wallyball courts.

Funds for both the CCA and WCA come from Outreach of Mt. Zion, although some recent funding has been provided by a grant from United Way of Oakland County, Niewoit said.

The cost for the program is $2 per day or $20 per month; a parent-signed waiver is required to participate in the program. Tours for parents also are available; call the CCA at (248) 620-4900.

Township responds to Hubbard tree removal

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Independence Township Board members have sided with residents' concerns of some trees being removed at the site of the new elementary school on Hubbard Road.

Though the topic wasn't an agenda item at the Sept. 21 meeting, Trustee Neil Wallace brought up the subject, saying it's just one more example of poor communication between the schools and township. He pointed to the fact that two trees were removed on the residents' side and many more on the school's side along 700 feet of Hubbard.

"We had pledges by the school that they would minimize tree removal," Wallace said, noting this was confirmed at past meetings. "To a lot of people trees are not a big deal. But the big deal is these trees came down without notice to us."

Trustee Dan Travis echoed Wallace's sentiments, noting one of the trees was a four-foot-diameter oak. "These are charter trees," he said. "The neighbors were terribly dismayed."

Travis is also an Independence Township Planning Commissioner. "(The Planning Commission) was very specific about retention of the greenbelt," he said, pointing out Hubbard's designation as a natural beauty road.

George White, president of G.S.W. Clarkston Consulting Construction Coordination, was present at the meeting. He argued Road Commission of Oakland County had 10 revisions for the road, among them the tree removal plan.

Certain trees had to be cut down on the school's side of the road "to minimize the impact" on the residents' side, he said. A curb-and-gutter plan was elected that moved the original center of the road closer to the school.

"We are not in the business to decimate and take down trees," White said. "I cherish trees, I cherish a rural setting. It bothers me to see those trees taken down, but we had to fall within a certain width of road."

Wallace said his main argument was that the township hadn't been notified. "What the schools didn't do is contact us. 'You say you had no choice. But we had no motive ... You should have called us. This is a horrible, horrible example the schools are setting for the children of our community.'"

On Monday, Wallace said the schools also didn't give the township the opportunity to come up with a better solution "so those trees would still be standing."

He argued the township and schools had agreed to be better communicators and work as partners when Independence Elementary School was planned. Although the schools submitted a conceptual site plan to the planning commission, they never followed through with the final site plan.

However, a landscape plan was presented this summer, which "identified these trees, saying these trees are staying," Wallace said.

Craig Bryson, public information officer with the RCOC, said Friday the original plan had to be altered. He said White's comments to the board were correct.

"The removal was necessary," Bryson said. "Our policy calls for there to be no trees within a certain distance of the edge of the road. We worked with the school district to reduce (the road width) to save some trees." A permit was issued June 16 to Nagle Paving Co. of Farmington Hills to remove the trees in question, he said.

"We understand their concerns," he said of the township. "But we also need to be concerned about safety and liability issues."

Township Supervisor Dale Stuart said, "It would have been good if they had communicated with us. The schools certainly should do something to make it right." When told the schools hope to replace the area with fast-growing trees, Stuart said they should be trees "of like maturity."

Board sets tax rates

All but two 1999 millage rates were approved by the Independence Township Board at the Sept. 21 meeting. Library Operation and Safety Path rates are subject to Truth in Taxation hearings this year. The hearings are set for Sept. 30 at 6 p.m. at the Independence Township Library. The board is expected to approve the additional rates at that time.

Township Assessor Dave Kramer, who prepared the proposal with Finance Director Susan Hendricks, said the hearings are required because the two millages will generate more revenue this year. This is because taxable value has increased in the township, due to new construction and sales.

"Truth in Taxation says you cannot increase revenue from the prior year without notifying the public," Kramer said.

Millage rates approved Tuesday include:
■ General Fund: 0.9845 mills will generate a total tax levy of $949,692.

■ Fire: 2.5379 mills will generate $2,448,169.

■ Library Construction: 0.2880 mills will generate $277,817 for the payment of General Obligation Tax Library Bonds.

■ Police: 2.6121 mills will generate $2,519,746.

Rates to be approved include:
■ Library Operation: The proposed 0.7238 mills will generate $698,209.

■ Safety Path: The proposed 0.4867 mills will generate $469,492.

If approved, a total tax levy of 7.6331 mills will bring in $7,363,221.06 to the township.

An average township resident with a home worth $193,000 can expect to pay a total of $736.59 in township taxes this year, Kramer said.

The township must submit the rates to Oakland County by Oct. 1. Township taxes are due Dec. 1, with a grace period until Feb. 14 without penalty.

After the storm, 'Rainbows' brighten broken lives

BY RENEE WIGHTMAN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Several community members are helping kids and their families see "a bright Rainbow after their family's storm."

Rainbows for All God's Children is a peer support group program for kids ages four to 18 and adults seeking support after the loss of a loved one, divorce or for other reasons.

The program began more than eight years ago with five families (and about a dozen children) in need of support, said Helen Vardon, coordinator for Rainbows. Numbers have since grown to 54 kids, she said.

Vardon said facilitators are used instead of licensed counselors for a specific reason: "To have a professional would be taking away from what the whole program is -- a community outreach." Facilitators must pledge to help "give them hope for a bright Rainbow after their family's storm."

No more than six to eight adults or children are placed in a group. Vardon deals with adults who have suffered great loss, including issues of suicide.

A Clarkston couple, Matt and Laura Sanders, meet with children, and Barb Sights, another local resident, facilitates a divorced group. Matt deals with teenagers and Laura talks with younger kids.

Vardon receives referrals to the program from the court system, teachers in the district and local attorneys.

"It's a healing that the whole family needs," Vardon said.

Rainbows originated in the Archdiocese of Detroit, and is a nationwide program for dealing with loss. The Clarkston program, held at St. Daniel Catholic Church, 7010 Valley Park in Clarkston, is open to all faiths, Vardon said.

Currently, Andersonville and Springfield Plains elementary schools are the only schools in the district involved in the program. However, Vardon said she hopes word will spread and other schools will want to become involved.

Left to right: Matt Sanders, his wife Laura, and Helen Vardon serve as group facilitators for Rainbows for All God's Children, a community-based support program for adults and children dealing with loss.

"We want to open it up and need trained facilitators," Vardon said. Facilitators use written material, "helping them get in tune with their environment."

"If we can let ourselves down, it helps the kids," Vardon said.

Facilitators need no counseling background and are trained by current facilitators, she said. Confidentiality must be maintained.

Discussions are age-appropriate and deal with types of loss. In addition, various activities including making crafts, drawings, playing music and "feelings" games take place.

"Children don't know where to put their feelings. They withdraw because they have a lot of pain," Laura Sanders said. "You're there to help them get their feelings out."

Matt Sanders said his involvement with Rainbows began following a divorce, when his son was placed into a children's Rainbows group.

"My son did a drawing. It gives you a chance to talk about things," he said. "I've been getting more involved since."

The first semester of the program begins Oct. 7 at 7 p.m. in the Cushing Center at St. Daniel Catholic Church. Meetings take place on several Thursdays through December.

A meeting will take place for facilitators, parents and children at 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 30 in the social hall of St. Daniel Parish.

Those interested in participating in a group or facilitating can contact Vardon at 394-0025 or the Sanders at 625-0121.

Letters To The Editor

AP teachers prepared students well

Dear Editor:

My husband and I want to thank the teaching staff and counseling staff at Clarkston High School for their dedication and hard work. Our two boys, Michael who graduated in 1996 and Eric who graduated in 1999, were very well-prepared to enter the fields of chemical engineering and microbiology at Michigan State University. Recently, we attended the open house at CHS and personally thanked some of our sons' teachers, but we wanted to recognize all of the CHS staff.

We also wish to praise the efforts of those teachers who teach advanced placement classes. They have much to do to prepare students for the very tough AP tests. Again, their outstanding contributions to our sons' education enabled both to enter MSU with enough credits to be considered second-year students.

We also must recognize those teachers who sponsor academic clubs such as Science Club, foreign language clubs (including trips to Europe to practice their language skills), and Youth in Government, to mention only a few. They have given our sons much experience in real life experiences.

Again, we congratulate the CHS teaching and counseling staff on a job well done! We just thought that the Clarkston community would like to know what a wonderful high school we have. Thanks to all of you!

Sincerely,
Carolyn and Tom Romeln

Straighten out confusion over cemetery trust fund

Dear Editor:

A preliminary agreement dated April 28, 1962 gave the Independence Township supervisor authorization to purchase 25.7 acres of land with the legal description of the land that the DPW now occupies. It also states that $20,000 was to be taken from the Cemetery Trust Fund to pay for this land.

Mr. Anderson has told several concerned residents that if the township wishes to continue to use this land, with interest, etc., the township now owes the Cemetery Trust Fund between $200,000 and $280,000.

The Attorney General's office in Lansing continues to communicate with a concerned resident regarding this matter.

Creagh's message KO'd this crowd

Never before have I seen such a thing, that is, not in person anyway. The mood around my high school in the hours following Milton Creagh's presentation (at CHS September 23 on drug and alcohol abuse) was one of the weirdest I've ever felt.

The flow of people from class to class was all one big funeral procession. While few were wearing all black, everyone was dressed in a dark suit or dress on the inside, and the air had that feeling of solemnity that you only sense when you are dealing with the realization that someone close to you, a brother, or a friend, has just passed on.

Everyone had that air around them, the air that said, "If you came up and talked to me, what you would say wouldn't matter, because it would be the wrong thing to say." So I shut up. As did 2000 or so of my peers.

Despite Mr. Creagh making a fool of anyone who had the nerve to smile (shame on us humans for such an action), his speech and message were so strong that they had much of the effect that a boxer has when he delivers a left hook straight to the jaw of a tired opponent: he KO'd the crowd. And I do believe that Clarkston, yes, our little town in the suburbs, "safe" from the "dangers" of the city, was the most fitting town to hear it.

Growing up in Clarkston is akin to watching the paint on the buildings downtown chip away. Sure, there's sports; but not everyone plays or likes football. Sure, there's the C.C.A.; but it's only open certain nights and you get a weird air there that's not for everyone.

If a bored teenager wants to find something to do in Clarkston, he or she has to leave Clarkston, whether it be to the Star Theatres and the new mall or Royal Oak or wherever. But there's always the alternative.

That's just if you have a car, or a lot of friends with cars that have the burden of driving you around (unfortunately I'm under the latter category, but have faith, I'm working on it). So you have a bunch of younger kids, sitting around their houses, with a lot of money; their parents gone at work, and nothing to do but watch "Magnum P.I." or "Hangin' With Mr. Cooper" reruns.

Hmm. Enter drugs. Instant entertainment. And since drug dealers aren't, as is the popular belief, ravenous vultures out to ruin your kids, but businessmen (or business creatures, if you prefer), they seize the opportunity to make some extra cash.

If you're an adult reading this, I hope you went to Mr. Creagh's program for parents and adults. I also hope that you see a tape of the reaction he got from us youngsters, your kids, when he asked us how many of us had lost someone we knew, either to prison or jail, because of drug and alcohol abuse, and accidents that happened when someone was under the influence. Nine out of 10 of us, your kids, were standing. So much for it can't happen here.

I'm not blaming anyone. We can't expect everyone to stay home and watch their kids, 24-7, nor would we want them to. We can't build a Royal Oak in Clarkston overnight. We can't expect kids, our kids, Clarkston's kids, to abstain from using a drug that they've seen adults use all their lives, namely the "accepted" form of impairment, alcohol, whose effect on society has been 10 times worse than all the other illicit drugs combined.

The question I pose is this: What now? It took a seven-foot, 350-pound motivational speaker to make the kids in Clarkston accept that we have a drug problem. Do we repress and enforce, as we always have, and expect the kids of this community to all of a sudden stop being curious and forget that there is something out there to cure their boredom that they haven't tried? Or do we move on, and teach the Future how drugs make you a different person, dumber and easily pacified?

I can't answer. In a year I'll be expanding my mind at college in another state, miles away. But of what I claim to know, I do know this, because it happened and it is fact: Everyone who had D.A.R.E. in fifth grade or whatever grade they had it in promised to never do drugs. Ask a kid if that worked. Or if you want, I'll answer for you. It didn't.

On a lighter note: Shout outs to Mr. Jim Evans, who made a donation to my non-profit organization. A million auto workers thank you for the death box on wheels it's going to help me buy.

A little of this and a little of that adds up

Last week the ever-excitable Sherman Allen bounded into our office in Oxford. The lifelong Oxford resident works over at American Aggregates and has had a wonderful experience at the gravel company.

He was able to give the fourth grade classes at Lakeville Elementary School a tour of "the pits."

"I want to thank all the kids, the teachers and every body where I work," he blurted, smiling, oozing enthusiasm. "It was a neat thing and I just want to thank them."

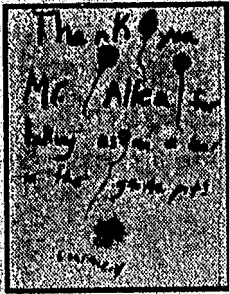

Then he opened a big manila envelope and poured out about 50 hand-drawn thank you cards from the kids. His eyes beamed with pride.

"I called the teachers and told them I'd try to get it in the newspaper," he paused. "I graduated from Oxford High School, but I'm not much of a writer. I was hoping somebody here could help."

Of course.

The field trip lasted for about two-hours, he said. The kids loved the rock hunt at the end of the tour. The adult chaperones and teachers, he added, were all fascinated with the operation.

Sherman said he enjoys conducting these tours and is proud to be a part of the American Aggregates story. He quickly went into the history of the company, "which started as a family business in 1901. Without gravel companies you wouldn't have your roads, your homes. Gravel companies are a very important part of our lives."

I got the point and told him I'd help him out. "Thank the teachers too, here are their names," he handed me a piece of paper with the names of four teachers. "These are the correct spellings, I called today to make sure."

Don Rush

The names, Mr. Peruski, Miss Maddren, Mrs. Matas and Ms. Ludeman. To them and their students, Sherman extends his thanks.

To the owners of American Aggs, The Levys, Sherman says thanks.

To Sherman, from our staff, we also say thanks for letting us get out your message.

We went across the Blue Water Bridge into Canada a few weekends ago. And, I think the Canadians are supplementing their coffers on us Americans.

Before getting back to the good old US of A, we went to the drive-through currency exchange. I gave the lady at the window all our paper Canadian cash and she did some calculations and gave me American paper cash back and some change.

We drove off and over the bridge. When I looked at the metal coins I was given -- 83 cents -- it was Canadian. I was ripped off! I think a buck was worth $1.42 when we visited Canada. If I did the math right, I was short changed 34 cents.

Thirty-four cents times all the cars coming back and I think the Canadians can start paying off their health care debts. What do you think?

We re-visit the favorite Old Farmer's Almanac

Jim's Jottings' note: This did not start out to be a series, but I needed a headline.

Last week we wrote of what to expect in the year 2000, taken from the 208th edition of this Almanac. This week, notes on some of its articles.

Like, home remedies for pets. For chronic itching, bathe Fido or Fluffy in warm oatmeal. And, "The best place for a flea collar isn't around your pet's neck but in the bag of your vacuum cleaner."

You can perform the Heimlich maneuver on animals if they are choking. Apply Aloe Vera to raw spots. Feed ground pumpkin seeds to pets with various kinds of worms.

What do you think the most important inventions of the past 2000 years are? A few Almanac suggestions are reading glasses, contraceptive pill, eraser, baskets, electric light, aspirin, clock and Social Security card.

Twelve gardening myths are also offered. It's a myth you can't grow certain plants to repel mosquitos. If you think cold weather kills bugs, you're mistaken. Do you think clay pots are better for houseplants than plastic or glazed pots? Any kind of pot is good as long as you don't over-water.

The Old Farmer's 2000 Almanac will tell you the basics on raising your own chickens, including how to produce Easter eggs that are blue green in color.

Here's one of the newest inventions. An Australian company, Bioclip, will market a protein injection that causes sheep to shed their fleece in about a week. It has already been tested successfully on more than 15,000 sheep. The wool begins to grow back within 24 hours.

There goes the sheep shearing competition from county fairs.

There's always a listing of the best days and times of day to go fishing. They like before breakfast and during the cocktail hour, but they word it during "the morning rise" and during "the evening rise." By the way, more people fish for bass than any other fish, 35 percent. Fewest fish for salmon, 2 percent. Trout is in the middle at 18 percent.

Jim Sherman

I keep The Old Farmer's Almanac close-by, year around for the events, birthdays and poetry they use in their month forecasts.

Like November, 1999. A Lor Tennyson poem is at the top: Tonight the winds begin to rise

And roar from yonder dropping day:

The last red leaf is whirled away,
The rooks are blown about the skies.

And, Nov. 1-9: Warm enough for outdoor chores, and then a blow.

Nov. 10-18: Gather in those winter stores, soon enough the snow.

Nov. 19-30: Stuff the turkey, say the blessing, pass the sage and onion dressing.

(I thought a rook was a chess piece, but in Tennyson's day it was a crow-like bird.)

the People Poll

BY RENEE WIGHTMAN

The Clarkston News asks diners at Classic Coney Cafe in Clarkston:

Are you looking forward to games next spring at the new Tigers' stadium?

"I will probably go to the new stadium. I like the neighborhood better. I'm not as discouraged to go to night games."

-- Frank Strother, Clarkston resident

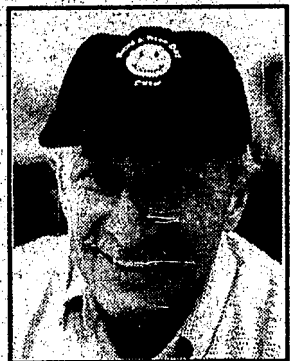

"I might go to one game, but I'm undecided. Probably what would motivate me is if they were contenders."

-- Adam Miller, Clarkston resident

"I'd rather go to the old stadium, for nostalgia. I always loved to sit behind the post -- they're the cheaper seats."

-- Richard Steinhilper, Clarkston resident

"I've been to the old stadium (but) I'd rather go to the more modern stadium. Times are changing."

-- Matt Nelson, cafe owner and Clarkston resident

"I wasn't looking forward to it, because I'm not really into baseball. But I say, if they build it, people will come."

-- Lahona Davis, cafe waitress

Pine Knob takes ski run to court

By Marilyn Trumper

Pine Knob Investment Co. and Independence Township are facing each other in court again — but this time on a new issue.

Pine Knob contends it does not have to appear before the township's planning commission for site plan approval for a proposed ski run, and instead can immediately apply for a building permit.

Timothy Palulian, head of the township's building department, says that while the proposed ski run is a structure, its proposed use constitutes it as a new principal use which requires planning commission review.

Section 5.12 of the township's zoning ordinance is the focal point of debate between both parties.

It reads, "... site plan review and approval is required for all new principal uses, accessory buildings and additions to existing structures."

"The ski run would not be a new use," said Thomas Raguso, attorney for Pine Knob. "The land is already being used for skiing so the ski run is not a new use."

"We're asking for a building permit and we're saying we don't have to go before the planning commission for approval. The ski run is already allowed as a structure and does not require planning commission approval," he said.

Palulian disagrees.

"I equate this ski run as a new principal structure added to the site. And I consider it as a new, additional structure onto the existing ski set up," he said.

"For that reason, in my opinion, they must go before the planning commission for review.

Co-owners of Pine Knob Investment, Joseph Locricchio and Gary Francell, are charging that the township illegally and improperly denied a building permit for the construction of a proposed ski run and have taken their argument to court.

Thursday morning, Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem issued a show cause and temporary

More Letters to the Editor

Excited and awed by band family

Dear Editor:

On Saturday, Sept. 25 we attended our first band invitational at Linden High School. Not only were we impressed by the 218-member marching band of Clarkston High School, but also the dedication and hard work of Cliff Chapman, Mike Lewis, Doug Doty, Tim Jones and Heather Warner. Then there were the tireless efforts of the Band Boosters, which included pit crew, bus chaperones, food, seamstress and handyman crews (and probably some other organized people who do a great job unnoticed).

As freshman band parents, we are excited as well as awed by this wonderful new "family." It is such a supportive and involved group and we wanted everyone to know how much we appreciate all their hard work.

Covered arena needed for 4-H at Oakland County fairgrounds

Dear Editor:

A need within our community has been brought to my attention. While working with some of the children at the 4-H fairgrounds this summer, I became aware of the need for a covered riding arena at the Oakland County Fairgrounds.

Being a business owner myself I have been asked many times to contribute to different causes and I must admit I'm not always sure where that money goes. I feel very strongly the need to support the needs of our own community. Wouldn't it be nice to build something for the children's use in our community and know that we made it happen?

The Oakland County 4-H Horse Council is trying to raise enough money to build this barn at the fairgrounds and they need our help. If you could find it in your heart to contribute anything to this project, it would be greatly appreciated. Feel free to contact me with any questions you may have concerning this project. Donations can be sent to the Oakland County 4-H Horse Council, C/O Cleon Middleton, 2425 Granger Rd., Oxford, MI 48371 or if it is more convenient for you, it can be sent or dropped off here at Mr. B's Roadhouse, 6761 Dixie Hwy., Clarkston, MI 48346.

Sincerely,

Where is money for current and future cemetery improvements?

Dear Editor:

I own lots at Lakeview Cemetery and have family and friends buried there. This past summer I had expressed my concerns about the conditions at the cemetery. There are plenty of bare spots and weeds taking the place of grass. The blacktop drive needs repairs.

I was told the cemetery didn't have the money for these or any other improvements at this time. At the Sept. 21 Independence Township meeting, the board acknowledged that $20,000 was taken from cemetery funds in 1962 to purchase land on Flemings Lake Road. Eighteen years later, they built the DPW office on the land that I thought was to be used for Lakeview II. If the land was not purchased for a cemetery then the township should pay back the borrowed money (with interest) to the cemetery.

Also at the meeting, the board approved a price increase for lots and services at the cemetery. Is the township going to use this money to start a fund for a new township hall?

If they don't keep the money in the cemetery fund and they spend it on whatever they choose, then we will never have enough money for improvements that are needed now and also in the future years of Lakeview Cemetery.

Is our township misusing the cemetery funds?

Annual meeting celebrates Chamber's accomplishments

A record year for memberships, successful new projects and business awards topped the list of accomplishments discussed at the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce meeting September 23.

Outgoing Chamber president Wendy Halsey, recounted the success of new projects like Advertising Advantage, which allows members to include flyers in Chamber mailings up to six times a year.

This year also saw the start of a new partnership between the Chamber and Clarkston schools on career preparation.

"While this initiative is in its infancy, we know that with the leadership provided by people like Dave Harrison and Dr. Al Roberts, Clarkston Career Connections is going to be an effective collaboration that will make a real difference for our youth."

Harrison was honored with the President's Award, the most prestigious award given by the Chamber. Harrison chairs the Career Connections committee which has spent nearly nine months planning a Business Summit.

Clarkston State Bank is the corporate sponsor for Career Connections and underwrote costs for the August luncheon mixer as well as the business summit. The bank has also created a line of sweatshirts which spotlight area historic buildings. Proceeds from the sweatshirt sales benefit the Career Connections programs.

Independence Township Supervisor Dale Stuart and Parks and Recreation Director Ann Conklin accepted the Beautification Award for the renovation of Bay Court Park on Andersonville Road.

Six members were spotlighted with appreciation awards for their exceptional effort and loyalty to business and the community this past year:

Ron Davis, incoming Chamber president and chairman of the Golf Classic Committee brought glamour and glitz back to the Chamber golf outing, Halsey said, making it the most successful event ever for the Chamber.

Tim Wood, John Durocher, Mary Ann Parill and Maureen Murphy-Boyd of GMAC Mortgage had representation on every major Chamber committee this year. They worked hard on Chamber projects and even sold ice cream at Concerts in the Park, donating the proceeds to Lighthouse Emergency Services, Halsey added.

Beverly Gumtow of Cherry Hill Lanes North was honored for her work and support to make the Vegas Night/Dinner Dance successful.

Leah Harroun accepted an award for Oxford Bank, corporate sponsor of the fireworks. Halsey also recognized Harroun's "quick responses and solid follow-through," to make Oxford Bank a leader in community support.

Lori Herringshausen of Farmer's Insurance-Plautz Agency was honored for stepping up to chair the Taste of Clarkston in 1998 and 1999. Halsey said her enthusiasm, commitment and leadership helped make last year's event a success.

Independence Township Clerk Joan McCrary was honored for helping the Chamber increase its visibility and effectiveness through her ongoing support and leadership. McCrary serves on all of the Chamber's major committees and rarely misses a meeting, said Halsey.

Nineteen business appreciation awards were presented, recognizing businesses that provided significant financial and in-kind services or donations to Chamber programs and projects.

Each of the following businesses gave a minimum of $1,000 last year:

All Saints Cemetery; Bank One; Bank One; Cherry Hill Lanes North; Clarkston Eccentric; Clarkston State Bank; Coast to Coast Telecommunications; GMAC Mortgage; Hubbell, Roth and Clark; Independence Township; Michigan Directory Company; Oxford Bank; RE/MAX Today, Inc.; Republic Bank; Robert E. Kostin, P.C.; Saturn North; Seaver Title Co.; Smith Disposal, Inc. and T&C Federal Credit Union.

At the meeting, Halsey announced the Chamber office has restructured the office support staff positions.

Penny Shanks, former administrative assistant since 1997, has been appointed executive director.

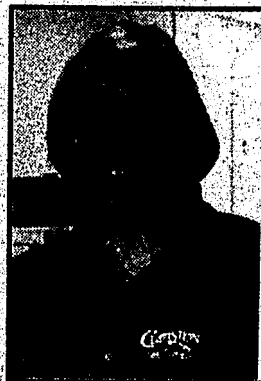

"Penny has demonstrated a degree of initiative and dependability that shows clearly she has earned the title of executive director," said Halsey. "Many of our members have assumed that we have had an executive director all along because Penny has been so efficient."

President-elect Ron Davis added, "The Chamber's growth really dictated this move." We are a much more viable, professional organization than we have ever been."

Halsey said the Chamber's membership stands at 366. Davis hopes to see the Chamber member list grow another 100 members, he said.

Halsey also made public the resignation of Chamber clerk Anne Chesley, effective November 12 after two years of service.

The Chamber will be screening applicants for the clerk's position in early October, with an intent to complete the interview and hiring process in time to help with November EXPO preparations.

Showing they care

(Above) Clarkston High School senior and Student Council vice president Jesse Rae rakes wood chips over an area outside Lighthouse of Clarkston Sept. 18. Rae and dozens of others spent the Saturday morning cleaning up both inside the building and around the grounds.

(Above) Raina and Elise Broadwater, a junior and freshman at Clarkston High School, help sort canned goods at Lighthouse Emergency Services of Clarkston Sept. 18. The two sisters belong to L.I.F.E. (Living In Faith Eternally) and were among about 50 sprucing up the building and its grounds as part of the United Way of Oakland County's Day of Caring.

Volunteers take time out to spruce up Lighthouse

On Sept. 18, community members gave something back to an area organization known for helping others.

More than 50 volunteers from the Clarkston area, including members of the Clarkston High School National Honor Society and Student Council, L.I.F.E. (Living in Faith Eternally) and the Visiting Nurses Association helped spruce up Lighthouse Emergency Services of Clarkston as part of the United Way of Oakland County's Day of Caring.

Lighthouse, a non-profit organization, will provide holiday meals to approximately 300 households this holiday season. Outreach 1999 holiday dates are:

Oct. 12 — Holiday sign-up at Lighthouse

10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Bring picture ID, social security cards for all in family and proof of income.

Nov. 19 — Last day to deliver Thanksgiving food donations to Lighthouse before 3:30 p.m.

Dec. 12 — Last day to deliver Christmas food and gift donations to Lighthouse before 3:30 p.m.

Lighthouse will provide Thanksgiving and Christmas turkeys or turkey roasts and all the trimmings to area families in need in the north Oakland county area.

Those who would like to be a part of this effort are invited to provide non-perishable Thanksgiving foods, Christmas foods or gifts (new items only) to be included in the distribution or send a monetary contribution to be spent on the purchase of turkeys or turkey roasts. Those who wish to volunteer also can help out at one of the sorting and distribution sites.

For more information, call Lighthouse at 673-4949.

A run for funds

Scores of kids outside Bailey Lake Elementary took part in the school's Fun Run fundraising event all day Thursday. The program is used as part of the school curriculum, said Marty Chaffee, school principal. "It's great to see the parents and kids really rally around this," he said.

Laurie Eller, physical education instructor, agreed. "It's a way to get away from the candy sales and do something a little more involved," Eller said.

More than 500 students participated, running in 15-minute intervals. In addition, more than 100 parents volunteered. Kids either pledged for moneys per lap or donations were accepted.

Local businesses Kroger Co. and John Bowman Chevrolet also donated to the fund raiser. Last year, $24,000 was raised to benefit programs including book fairs, Science Day, groundskeeping and computer media.

THE LAW & YOU

by Robert Kostin
Attorney at Law

SHOWING PLAINTIFFS THE MONEY

Once a civil case is completely over (including appeal), successful plaintiffs have the right to execute on the defendant's assets if he or she does not pay. This means that an officer of the law can take whatever of the defendant's assets that can be found, and sell them to satisfy the judgement. If this search proves to be insufficient to satisfy the judgement, the plaintiff can subpoena the defendant's records and take his or her deposition in an effort to discover assets. Plaintiffs who follow this course of action are entitled to take everything of the defendant's that is needed to get the money owed, subject to exemptions that allow the defendant to keep some property.

The success of our law practice is a result of a commitment to providing prompt, knowledgeable assistance to our clients in a friendly and courteous manner. For matters involving personal injury, auto accidents, slip & fall injuries, criminal defense, business law, real estate, family law, and civil litigation in both State and Federal courts, call 620-1030. Our office is conveniently located at 11 North Main Street.

HINT: If a defendant simply does not have the money needed to pay damages, then the plaintiff will not get paid.

Board sets new rules and rates for Lakeview Cemetery

The Independence Township Board has set a new policy that limits the number of gravesites an individual can purchase at Lakeview Cemetery.

At the Sept. 21 meeting the board unanimously passed a resolution that states no individual shall be permitted to purchase more than 12 grave spaces (an average two lots), but exceptions can be granted in special cases.

Supervisor Dale Stuart said the new rules were initiated when a local resident wanted to purchase 90 gravesites to donate to people who can't afford them. Although she has "a generous heart and a kind idea ...

We have limited space for burial," Stuart said.

The board also approved 7-0, new cemetery rates. A list of prices is available at the DPW, 6050 Flemings Lake Road or at Lakeview Cemetery, 6150 White Lake Road. Rates for infants and tents were not increased.

Nutcracker

because one of our goals, as the Clarkston Foundation, is to support artistic endeavors," Moss said. "We want to present it to the community as an art."

The ballet has always been a tradition for his family. Daughter Allison, 16, a CHS junior, has been dancing in the production for years.

This year she's featured as Clara's mother. Wife Marcia is on the board of directors.

It's even more of a family affair this year. Moss is playing Clara's father.

The role includes no ballet — just a little acting, which includes sending Clara's naughty brother Fritz to his room.

The goal is "to pack every performance," Moss said. "Like everybody knows the Fox Theatre, I think that everybody north of Eight Mile will know Clarkston has the Nutcracker."

Tickets will be available at The Dance Shoppe, 7330 Highland Road in Waterford, in November. A local location will also be announced. Call 620-1971 for more information.

BAD BREATH

Bad breath is more involved than you might think. We just took a class to learn THE LATEST on fighting this nasty problem. Clean teeth and healthy gums are your first line of defense, of course, but many people still suffer. Gum, breath mints and most mouth washes provide a short term cover-up. Like many dentists, we used to prescribe chlorhexidine (Peridex) to our patients. While it kills bacteria, it tastes bad, stains teeth dark and doesn't fix bad breath. Now we have NEW ANSWERS to cure your bad breath, so you can be close.

SPECIAL NEEDS

We can handle complex problems. People who need expertise in areas like implants, converting removable teeth to permanent, different bridge work, can find answers to tough questions. We can help you look and feel better than you thought possible. We also provide sedation treatment. Most Insurance Plans are accepted. Be sure your insurance lets you choose your own dentist. We welcome all major insurance plans which allow you to choose your own dentist. ## CHS senior takes life experiences to the classroom

BY RENEE WIGHTMAN

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Although they're half his age, fifth graders at Springfield Plains Elementary School felt at ease listening to 17-year-old Kenny Leonard speak on the sensitive subject of acceptance.

Leonard, a senior at Clarkston High School, spoke to a group of about 150 kids at Springfield Plains Friday afternoon about the importance of accepting others. During his talk, Leonard used props such as M&M's and a $20 bill to grab the kids' attention.

As a hands-on example, he separated the M&M candies into different color groups, then asked three children to pick their favorite bag. He explained that even though there were differences in color, the inside remained the same.

"It's what's on the inside that counts," Leonard said.

By crumpling up and stepping on a $20 bill, Leonard also showed the children how a person's value doesn't change.

"People start out brand new, like this $20 bill," he said. "You get stomped on, but does that mean you lose that value?"

In another example, Leonard asked a teacher to come forward, and explained to the kids how even though they see her as their teacher, others see her in different roles, such as mother, sister, et cetera.

"Every person plays a certain part in someone's life," he said.

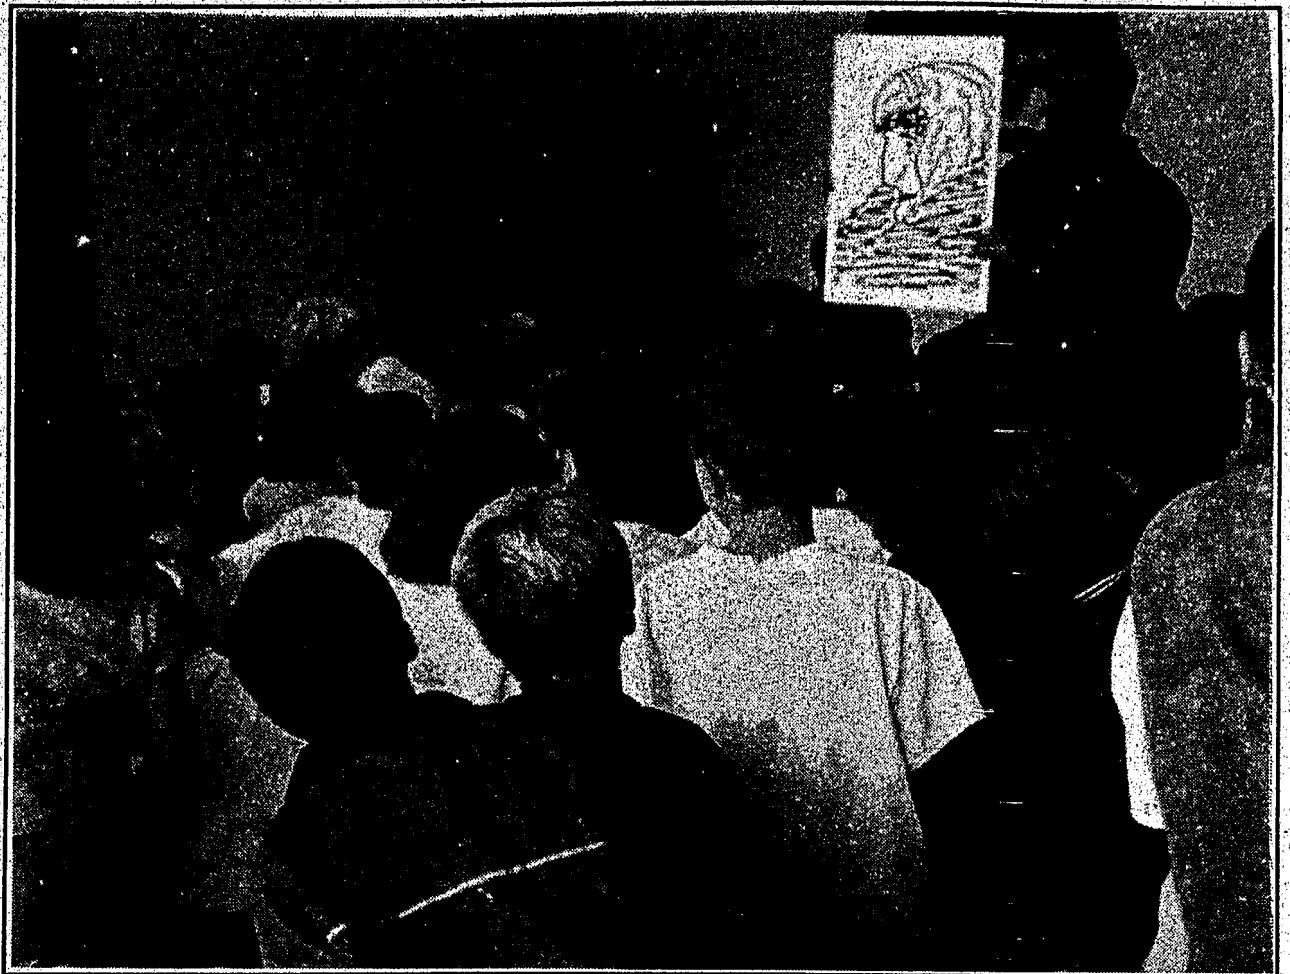

Leonard also told the group of how he was caught embezzling close to $4,000 from The Gap last year, when he worked there as a part-time cashier.

Aside from a night spent in jail, he was forced to pay about $3,000 in court costs and has a permanent felony on his record. He said the incident had a marked effect on his life.

"I'm gonna carry that with me for the rest of my life. It was a bad choice," he said. "But it had one of the greatest impacts on me."

Sharon Devereaux, principal at Springfield Plains, said the response from the kids was tremendous.

"The body language showed they were right with him. And at 3 p.m. on a Friday afternoon, that really says something," Devereaux said. "The staff was very enthusiastic about it, too."

Leonard said he also was impressed by the children's reactions.

"It was great. Actually, the bell rang and they were still asking questions," he said. "Being in school, I know what it's like (for kids)."

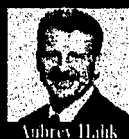

Leonard is in the process of writing a book called "Life's Potpourri," in which he describes the pressures of adolescence and the importance of responsible actions and decisions.

Springfield Plains was Leonard's first public speaking event. He said he hopes to continue speaking at other schools, both within and outside of the school district, in coming months. To schedule a talk at your school, call (248) 245-1686.

After high school, he said he may continue to speak to groups at the college level, while also attending college.

Independence Township approves $25,000 for new township hall proposal

to address items like square footage and accessibility. "This is a blueprint for how we're going to proceed," he said, noting the study would be conducted "one step at a time."

The unresolved cemetery matter

Carlisle also addressed the importance of public input. "This is the type of process there should be a lot of participation in. The results will be held accountable by the public who will use it."

That process started Tuesday night. Residents of Flemings Lake Road are already opposing the idea of a new township hall in their neighborhood. About 25 residents turned out to protest the possibility.

"We don't want to see another public building on our road," said Vivian Bowden, a retired school teacher.

Others expressed dismay after the meeting. Traffic problems have gone from "bad to worse" with the placement of the DPW, then the new Clarkston High School on their road, said Mari Ann Staley.

"As far as I'm concerned, they messed over us enough," said Gail Hess. With the recent repaving of Walters Road, "They go faster. They do not stop. Buses don't stop. They just round the corner." If a new township hall is added, "You're talking a lot more people (and) a lot more traffic," Hess said.

During the meeting, residents unearthed another concern. Why didn't the township ever build a new "Lakeview II Cemetery" on the other side of Flemings Lake Road.

Records from the township clerk's office show the township purchased 25.7 acres fronting on Flemings Lake in 1962. The township borrowed $20,000 from Lakeview Cemetery's trust fund — but never paid it back. The acreage was never developed into the intended cemetery. Instead, the Department of Public Works was built on five acres, leaving the remaining 20 acres vacant. Now that acreage is one of the sites being considered for the new township hall.

Neighbors want to know two things: will the cemetery be built, and will the township reimburse the trust fund.

Township Clerk Joan McCrary doesn't know why the cemetery wasn't built. "I think that we just didn't need it, and we still don't need it," she said, noting "there is little information about it in our office." However, she confirmed the 1962 purchase.

She explained the cemetery trust fund includes payments for grave plots and fees the cemetery uses for upkeep. What isn't spent stays in a "perpetual fund" used for improvements.

DPW Director George Anderson estimated the original cost of $20,000 for the Flemings Lake site has grown to over $200,000, due to accumulated penalties and interest. He said approximately 2,000 lots are left in Lakeview Cemetery for gravesites. At 100 burials a year, that would be space for another 20 years.

The question is, should it again be considered for a cemetery. Anderson says no. "Cemeteries are better left to private business" is his opinion.

However, "The neighbors feel we should keep it for future cemetery needs, not for a new township hall," McCrary said. The township's general fund has subsidized some of the maintenance costs and should also be reimbursed, she said. It would have to be "an equitable amount," McCrary added. "We would have to determine how much that would be."

Staley calls conditions at Lakeview Cemetery, 6150 White Lake Road, "deplorable." She says individuals have to take care of their loved ones' lots, even planting grass seed.

Anderson said there was a substantial loss of ground cover, due to a grub problem. The DPW has corrected that, sowing new grass seed, he said.

Residents are also upset that the Walters Road safety path stops short of the high school's access drive, south of Flemings Lake. Stuart said the rest of the safety path is the school district's responsibility.

The township paid for construction up to the school's property line. Its obligation stops there. "It's the school's responsibility to put in the rest of it if they want to," Stuart said.

♦The board unanimously approved a resolution from Oakland County's Board of Commissioners, supporting the E-9-1-1 Service Plan. The plan will improve communication between police, fire and emergency medical service personnel.

City revises traffic ordinance

■ During Mayor's Comments, Catallo said she met recently with Dale Stuart, Independence Township supervisor, regarding the township's possible involvement in installing a water main through downtown Clarkston. "Now is the time and we need to do it," she said.

Catallo said Stuart will discuss the matter with George Anderson, director of the township department of public works.

■ The council recognized an extension letter received by the Michigan Department of Transportation regarding the decision of whether or not to install a water main through downtown. Catallo said the council has told MDOT it will have a decision by January 2000, although the extension is until June.

■ Results from a phone survey about revitalization of downtown were positive, said Dan Colombo, city councilman. The survey centered around shopping habits and the overall condition of the downtown business area, he said.

"It went very well. The responses were very interesting. People had a lot of opinions," Colombo said.

About 80 were surveyed; the results will be available Wednesday, Colombo said.

SKIN DEEP
by Scott Friedman, D.O.

CHILDREN AND ECZEMA

Eczema is an allergy-related skin rash that affects 10% of infants and 3% of the overall population, according to the American Academy of Dermatology. While its cause is unknown, eczema seems to result from a combination of heredity and environmental factors. If one parent has it, the child has about a 25% chance of developing it. The skin condition also tends to occur among families with other atopic (allergic) conditions, such as asthma and hay fever. In children, eczema usually develops within the first five years of life, appearing at the creases in front of the elbows, behind the knees, behind the ears, and under the neck. In infants, the rash commonly affects the face, neck, chest, arms, and legs. Taking care of your children's skin can prevent or reduce problems later in their lives. If any skin problems, such as eczema, should occur seek professional treatment by a dermatologist. This and many other uncomfortable conditions can be simply treated in most cases by a combination of topical and oral medications. Our offices are conveniently located at 6330 Sashabaw, Clarkston (625-0692) and 3003 Baldwin, Lake Orion (391-9599).

P.S. Other skin conditions that can look like eczema include contact dermatitis, seborrhea, and heat rash.

Boys keep up winning ways

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

This year's boys cross country team understands its true goals can't be achieved until the postseason.

But that doesn't stop it from dominating in the regular season, and the Sept. 21 dual meet against Rochester Adams was another example of that domination.

The Wolves took the top three individual places in a 19-41 win over the Highlanders.

Senior David Sage, a runner used to the view from the front of the pack, enjoyed it again against Adams, finishing first overall with a time of 16:11. He was followed by seniors Matt Haver (16:45) and Kevin Breen (16:55) in Clarkston's win.

The boys improved to 3-0 on the season, and hope to continue their winning ways Tuesday with a home meet against Troy. The running starts at 4 p.m.

The girls fell to 0-3 overall and in the OAA Division I with a 19-37 loss to Rochester Adams.

Senior Nicole Fischer, the team's top runner this season, finished second overall at the meet with a time of 19:37. Adams's Katie Boyles, the defending Class A state cross country individual champion, won the meet with an impressive time of 18:55. The girls also take on Troy Tuesday afternoon at the CHS cross country course.

Dustin Coleman was a lonely man Wednesday night.

The senior goalkeeper for the Clarkston varsity boys soccer team didn't see much action in his team's game against West Bloomfield, and it was the best kind of non-action for the Wolves.

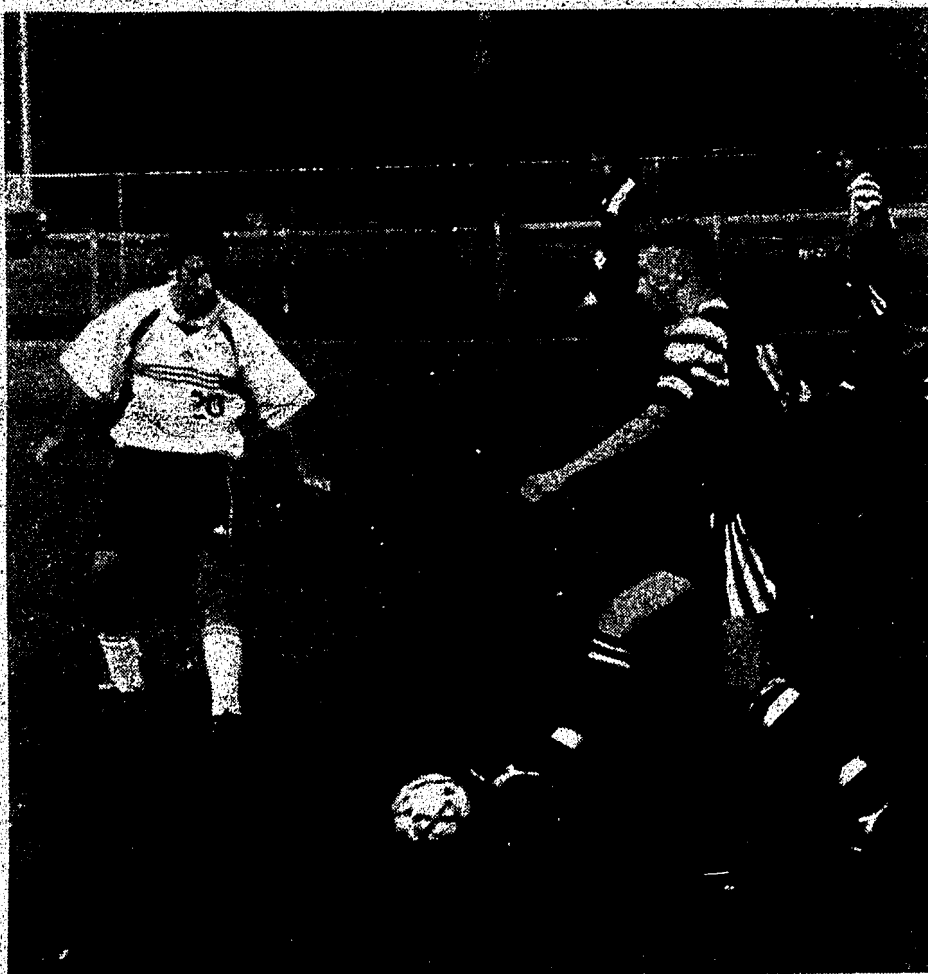

Clarkston improved to 4-3-2 overall with a 4-0 win over the Lakers. The Wolves stand in second place in the OAA Division II with a 3-1-1 record.

Coleman only needed to make five saves in recording his third shutout of the season. The Wolves kept constant pressure on the Lakers all night, with 15 quality scoring chances.

Coach Dan Fitzgerald said the score of the game did not indicate how one-sided it was.

"In the first half, our intensity level was not so good, and if we had converted on more of our chances, the game would have been over a lot sooner than it was," he said. "The kids were kind of tired, having played the night before. But then in the second half, we picked it up."

West Bloomfield threw an offside trap defense at Clarkston, drawing forwards in behind the defenders. This is an offside call, and one that gives possession of the ball back to the defending team. Clarkston was drawn offside four times in the first 20 minutes of the game.

Senior Bill Kalush broke the scoreless tie with 16:31 left in the first half when he knocked the ball loose from the goalkeeper, jumped to the side and popped it into the open net for a 1-0 lead.

The play was set up by good passing and communication by the team, a trait it carried through both halves.

"Defensively, I thought we played pretty well," Fitzgerald said. "Mike Tharrett and Brandon (Guelde) shut their guys down. They do a good, solid job for us in the back."

The first half ended with the score still 1-0, even though Clarkston was in firm control. The scoreboard started to reflect that control in the second half.

Mark Zerba tapped in a shot from the left side with 16 minutes left in the game, putting Clarkston up 2-0. Zerba's offense has been a pleasant surprise for the Wolves this year, and his goals have been timely for the team. He scored the lone goal in Clarkston's upset win over Grand Blanc.

Less than three minutes later, Kalush noted his sixth goal of the season and second of the game when he scooped up a rebound and blasted it into the goal.

Senior captain Jared Bauer finished off the scoring with 1:04 left when he tucked a shot into the upper-center part of the net.

Soccer team notches third shutout of year

Fitzgerald said he'd like a little more consistency out of his team, but is pleased with the progress it's made to this point.

"This game is the end of the first half of our league schedule," he said. "We tied Bloomfield Hills Lahser, who is a good team, and lost a game to Kimball that we could have won. We need to be more consistent over an entire game in the second half."

Before the league schedule resumes, the Wolves have a date with an angry team. Thursday, Clarkston travels to Rochester Adams for a crossover game against the state's top team. Last year, the Wolves pulled off the biggest upset of the state soccer tournament when they defeated Adams 2-1 in the district finals on Adams' field.

This year, Adams has been ranked as high as 12th nationally, but is coming off a recent loss to Troy Athens and a tie with Lake Orion.

"They want us bad," Fitzgerald said. "But hey, it's a non-league game, and we aren't going to make a big deal over it. We won't treat it any differently than any other game."

Waterford Kettering 2 Clarkston 1

On Sept. 21, the Wolves were unable to spoil the perfect season of the Waterford Kettering Captains, who notched a 2-1 win.

"We played great for 30 minutes," Fitzgerald said. "In the first half, we outplayed them. But then we came out flat in the second half, and they took it to us."

Golfers take second in county meet

BY BRAD MONASTIERE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston golf coach Tim Kaul was a bit miffed at his team's preseason ranking. The Wolves were not ranked anywhere in the top 10 in the county despite finishing eighth in the county meet and returning all but one starter from last year's team.

Consider Kaul and the Wolves vindicated.

Led by county champion Mark Churay, the Wolves finished third at Monday's Oakland County Meet, held at the Pontiac Country Club. The Wolves finished with a team score of 308, just four strokes away from first place. Walled Lake Central, who Kaul pinned as a darkhorse going into the meet, won with a score of 304. Defending OAA Division I champion Rochester Adams was second with a 306.

"I felt at the beginning of the season, we should have been up there," Kaul said. "But I never thought we would finish as high as we did."

The Wolves finished ahead of county powerhouses Cranbrook, Birmingham Brother Rice and Troy, while playing its best team golf since the state championship season of 1994.

Churay fired a 2-under par 70 to take first overall. He was Clarkston's lone state qualifier last year, and had to miss last season's county meet because of an injury. He finished three strokes ahead of Adams' Dave Nichols, considered the best golfer in the state.

Senior Dave Benner finished tied for ninth overall with a round of 75, also his best golf of the season.

Wolves travel to Troy Friday with lots on the line

	Clarkston 17

BY BRAD MONASTIERE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

For the second straight season, the Clarkston varsity football team slugged out a close win over Pontiac Northern to improve to 5-0.

And once again, the undefeated Troy Colts stand as the Wolves' next roadblock. The teams collide Friday night at the Troy field.

"We gotta win the war in the trenches," said Clarkston coach Kurt Richardson. "Our big guys have to outplay their big guys."

The Colts come into the game off a 34-13 win over Ferndale. Troy is led by RB Sheldon Sofer, who has a pair of 200-yard rushing games this season.

"He fits the mold of the kind of backs they've always had," Richardson said of Sofer.

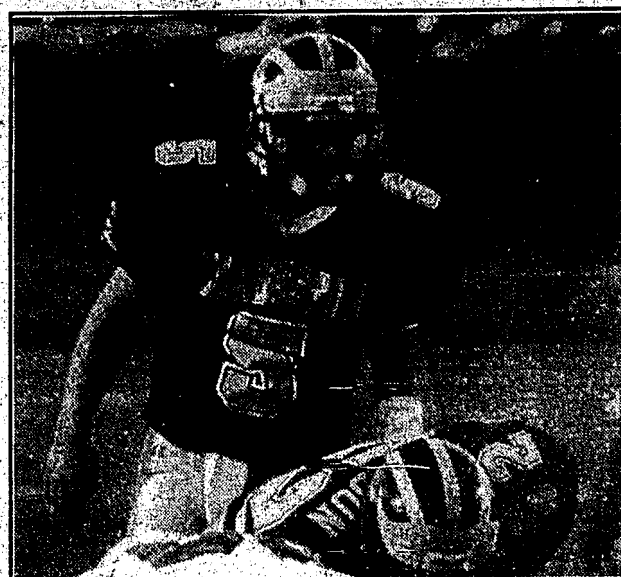

Clarkston won its fifth game of the season by methodically defeating Pontiac Northern 17-12 at the CHS football stadium.

Against Northern, the Wolves scored first on a typical long scoring drive - 15 plays, 71 yards in 7:12. Junior QB Ryan Kaul scored from one yard out to put Clarkston up 7-0.

That was all the offense in the game until the fourth quarter, when Clarkston showed just how versatile it can be on offense.

Kaul effectively mixed in passing with the running game and capped a long drive with a 6-yard scoring run by senior TB Chris Mitchell, putting the Wolves ahead 14-0.

Kaul had his most prolific passing game of his career, going 11-for-15 for 129 yards. Richardson said the performance was good for the entire team, not only against Northern, but looking ahead to Troy.

"I hope they believe in our passing game," he said. "Ryan can throw it, and we've got good receivers this year, and we haven't seen all of them yet."

Kaul's favorite target against Northern was senior Steve Schornak, who had six receptions for 84 yards, many leading to key first downs.

"Steve made some great catches for us," Richardson said.

Schornak, who checks in at 6-foot-4, 195 pounds, made a pair of leaping grabs on Clarkston's first drive, which set the tone for the team and the game early.

Senior Rocky Lund added a 25-yard field goal sandwiched around a pair of Northern touchdowns to finish the scoring.

Cagers crash back to earth with tough losses

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

After its 5-1 start, the Clarkston varsity girls basketball team had visions of throwing a monkeywrench into the OAA Division I race, where it appeared clear who would be at the top and on the bottom.

However, a pair of tough losses have put the Wolves at 1-2 in the tough league, losing 34-31 to Rochester Adams Sept. 21, and 57-47 to West Bloomfield Thursday night in a pair of road contests.

Clarkston, now 5-3 overall, hosts the Troy Colts Thursday night at the CHS gym. The JV game starts at 5:30 p.m.

Last season, the Wolves never came close to the Lakers, losing their two meetings by an average of 17 points per game.

Thursday's matchup was closer, if not more frustrating for Clarkston, who had a 36-35 lead on West Bloomfield heading into the fourth quarter. Then, the Lakers cranked up the offense, outscoring the Wolves 22-11 in the final frame to win the game.

Candace Morgan led the Wolves with 12 points.

■ Rochester Adams 34 Clarkston 31

The Wolves played one of their best defensive games of the season against the sharpshooting Highlanders, but one shot in the waning seconds made the difference for Adams.

Adams' Erin Kuhl swished a 3-pointer from the top of the key with four seconds left, providing the final difference in the game as the Highlanders beat the Wolves 34-31 in a defensive struggle.

"In the second quarter, the game got away from us," Lowney said. "We were playing a zone (defense) and switched to a man-to-man, and I wasn't smart enough to get us out of it."

Clarkston started off strong, finishing the first quarter with an 11-5 lead.

Then the Wolves suffered through a severe offensive drought in the second and third quarters, attempting a total of nine field goals and scoring just 12 points. Adams finished the third ahead 31-23.

Then, the veterans nearly led Clarkston to a comeback win. Senior Lindsey Prudhomme canned a pair of baseline jumpers, and senior Rachel Uchman made one free throw tying the game 31-31. Then, Kuhl stepped up and killed the Wolves.

"I told my veterans they would have to take us the rest of the way, and they did a fabulous job," Lowney said.

Prudhomme played her most aggressive game of the season, scoring a team-high 11 points while snagging four rebounds. Junior Sarah Morgan scored seven and collected a game-high 12 rebounds. Uchman scored five and had six boards and four steals.

Athlete of the Week: Jon Robinson

Salut, Jon: Jon Robinson has a lot of things going for him in his life, but there's one thing he doesn't have: A neck. The six-foot, 240-pound offensive lineman and linebacker is one of the anchors of Clarkston's offensive line, using his bulk, intelligence and quickness to protect QB Ryan Kaul and clear running lanes for RB Chris Mitchell. Although Jon doesn't have a neck, he brings many other valuable qualities to the 5-0 Wolves. He was elected co-captain of the team in his third year on varsity, and is a key two-way player. In addition to his work on the football field, Jon is also Oakland County's top heavyweight wrestler, having posted a 40-9 record last season and qualifying for the state meet. He was the county, league and district champion last season, each time beating arch-rival James Pack from Rochester Adams. As good as Jon is in athletics, he is just as good in the classroom. He carries an overall grade point average of 3.78, and has been recruited by Ivy League schools for football, as well as Albion and Hillsdale.

Coach Kurt Richardson on Jon: "The thing I like about him is, he's so intelligent. He is super smart in the classroom, and having him out there is like having a coach on the field. He's a pretty important player to us, playing on offense and defense. He is an excellent captain and sets the pace for us on and off the field."

Jon on Jon: "We've done alright so far, but there's definitely room for improvement. We have to have solid weeks of practice before our games, and when we do, we play well. I like playing both ways because you are always involved in the game and I like being on the field all the time. Football is my first love, and I would like to play it in college."

Golf team surprises foes with third-place county meet finish

The other scorers for the Wolves were Jeff Walters (81) and freshman Dustin McMillan (82).

"When you can have your lowest score be an 82, you will be in good shape," Kaul said. "I figured we would finish between seventh and eighth, and I would have been very pleased with that. But this shows our guys what they can do if they play well."

Monday's effort was a continuation of the team's dual meet win Friday over Troy Athens, 151-167. The score was the Wolves' lowest of the season in a dual meet. Benner led the way with a 35.

"They Ryder Cup shows how streaky a game golf can be," Kaul said, referring to the comeback by the American team from four points down on the last day of competition against the Europeans. "We had our best dual meet of the year against Athens Friday and our best tournament on Monday. Hopefully, we can get the streak to last a little longer."

Churay became the second Clarkston golfer in school history to win the county meet. Steve Craft, who played in the 1970s, was the first.

"Mark birdied two of the first three holes, and just went from there," Kaul said. "I'm happy for our whole team. It's one of the best finishes we've ever had at the county meet."

Pom pon team continues to see success

BY BRAD MONASTIERE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The faces may change, but the trophies keep piling up for the Clarkston varsity pom pon squad.

The team enters the new season already with a nice collection of accomplishments from summer competitions. And it's doing it with its third coach in three years.

Harmony Hunt is the new varsity coach, taking over for Jenn Rossman, who spent one season on the job. Rossman took over for Gina Shore, who guided the girls to a Class A state championship in 1997-98.

Hunt had been the JV pom pon coach for three years before moving up to the varsity level.

The girls started their season with the Silver Circle of Winners Dance Plaque at Oakland University July 22-25. Clarkston finished first out of 12 teams in the competition.

The team also earned a Superior trophy at the National Cheerleading Association Dance Camp, the best honor the camp has.

"It means we were the most talented team the NCA had at camp," Hunt said.

On Aug. 29, Clarkston finished second out of nine elite teams competing at the Michigan State Fair.

Regional and state competitions await the team in the fall and winter seasons.

This year's team captain is Kacie hynes, and the co-captains are CourtneyBrewer and Laura Barnett.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

What do you get when you purchase a product or service from a local business?

You get personal service from people who know you as a person and not as a number.

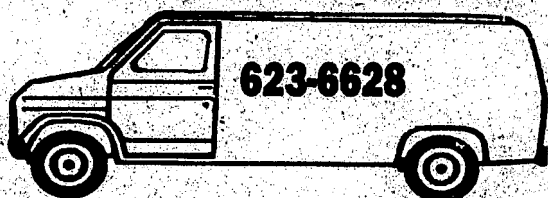

You get prices that are often lower than discount chains.

And you get the knowledge that you are dealing with people that are actively serving the community through many charitable donations and volunteer hours. These are the men and women of the Clarkston Chamber of Commerce.

When you're shopping for a product or service, we hope you will think of us first.

"She Dropped 55 lbs. Without Dieting!"

"Sometimes I'd munch half a bag of cookies while planning my next diet."

Melinda Russell
Before Shedding 55lbs.

"I know how 'fat' feels. The struggle to get up off a sofa. The sting of unshed tears. The burn of embarrassment in my cheeks. No one deserves to be that unhappy. That's why I'm sharing my weight loss discovery with you."

My story will reveal what I believe to be the safest and most effective strategy for getting thin and staying thin. I lost my weight without dieting or grueling exercise routines. I am amazed by how simple it was to lose my weight. I was the most skeptical person on earth. I thought I was destined to be forever fat. Then I made my astounding discovery..."

By Melinda Russell

My weight skyrocketed about six years ago. That's when I married my husband, Ray. I fell into the comfortable married lady routine. I knew Ray was concerned about my weight gain. He could see the changes in my disposition. Ray became my comfort and support. "You're the most beautiful woman I've ever seen," he told me. I was consoled by his kind words. But I was still miserable!

My weight made my life a chore. One day I needed to get some band-aids from under the bathroom sink. I couldn't even squat down! I had to sit on the floor and scoot forward to get into the cabinet. That's when I started avoiding parties. I stopped dressing up. My self-esteem had hit rock bottom.

My Warning Signal

I tried losing weight on my own. You know the routine. I'd drift to sleep each night with a promise. Tomorrow I'll start my diet. I'd awaken with the burn of hunger pains. Maybe I'll get me a biscuit. I'll do better at lunch. I'd be starving by 10:00 a.m. I couldn't get through the afternoon without a snack. I'll do good at supper.

Day after day the same old routine. Sometimes I'd munch down a half bag of cookies while planning my next diet! One night I woke up at 3:00 a.m. I was starving. I tried to fight it off, but couldn't. That was my warning signal. My eating was out of control.

Hope

One day I overheard my mom and sister talking about an ad in the newspaper. My Mom said these were local folks who had lost 35, 71, even 105 lbs. with hypnosis. That got my attention!

"If you go, we'll go," said my mother. "What have we got to lose, but a lot of fat?" I picked up the phone and called.

The free screening was full of surprises. I never got a sales pitch. Never felt pressured. Our consultant was friendly and professional. She made us feel at home. I told her about my past failures. How I wanted to lose my weight for good. She understood my needs.

Two days later I called back and signed up. I lost 7 lbs. the first week. That's when my skepticism vanished. 6 1/2 months later I had lost my entire 55 lbs! It was easy. My dress size dropped from a plump 22 to a trim size 12. Losing my weight with hypnosis was the smartest decision of my life.

Permanent Change

My habits started changing right after my first session. That night my husband was hungry for pizza. Without a thought, I picked up the phone and ordered a veggie lovers. My husband was astonished. "Did they send the wrong pizza?" All I could do was giggle. Later he said, "You're not eating much?" I laughed again and said, "I guess my hypnosis is working!"

I stopped craving soft drinks instantly. My snacking habits vanished after my first session. I wasn't hungry or cranky at any time during my program. I no longer feel like my stomach's gnawing at my backbone.

Thanks to hypnosis I uncovered the cause of my weight and conquered it! Losing weight has transformed me into a happy, pleasant person. I can't imagine ever going back to my old eating habits. That's why I'm certain that I'll stay thin for good.

How It Works

Truthfully, I can't explain how hypnosis works. During the session, I feel like I'm awake during a peaceful dream. Hypnosis put me back in control. My appetite returned to normal. I have no desire for food between meals. My cravings for those greasy biscuits are gone for good. Thank goodness!

It's like my new eating habits are on autopilot. Even through Thanksgiving and Christmas I didn't gain an ounce. I didn't deprive myself of anything.

I'm satisfied in every way.

"My husband no longer asks me out to dinner. He asks me out on a date!"

Melinda Russell
After 55lb. Weight Loss

OUR EXCLUSIVE DOUBLE GUARANTEE

*SATISFACTION GUARANTEE*

If you fail to attain hypnosis at your first session we will refund your money in full. You can leave the building. No questions asked. Your satisfaction is 100% guaranteed. You risk nothing.

WE STAY WITH IT GUARANTEE*

We evaluate your needs, then determine a fee. Once the fee is paid there are no additional charges, regardless of how many sessions you may need to attain your desired results. We stay with it until you are happy.

100% Improvement

When I was overweight I suffered from cold after cold. I never felt healthy. I was always tired. Thanks to hypnosis, those days are long gone. I'm active and energetic. I get more done because I'm sleeping less. That leaves more time for me!

I get a tingle of joy every time I see myself in a mirror. My husband says he's thrilled because I'm so happy. He no longer asks me out to dinner. He asks me out on a date!

Side Benefits

Thanks to hypnosis, I'm saving a lot of money every week. I no longer waste money on junk foods. Expensive fast food is a thing of the past.

I feel 100% better about myself. I had almost forgotten what it was like to have a stranger give me a look or whistle. I used to think they were jerks. Now I just smile and think to myself, "Thank goodness for hypnosis!"

I met lots of other folks who were getting results just like me. My Mom and Sister both signed up two weeks after me. They lost all their weight too. That makes three living, breathing success stories. I can't begin to say enough about my amazing experience with hypnosis.

About Your Happiness...

That's my story. Everything I said is the honest to goodness truth. I shared my story with the hope that, in some small way, I will help someone who is suffering like I was.

Now what about you? What about your happiness? If you're where I was, overweight and unhappy, for goodness sake call today. Schedule your free hypnotic screening. You'll find honest, caring people who have your best interests at heart. Their fees are reasonable and they treat you like royalty.
