Farmer Jack buys Clarkston Food Town

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
 Clarkston News Staff Writer

The end of an era came last week when longtime grocery staple, Food Town, was sold to Farmer Jack. Amy Sanderson, director of advertising for Farmer Jack Super Markets in Detroit, said the sale was effective Oct. 4. Farmer Jack will move in and begin operating the 40,000-square-foot store, 6555 Sashabaw Road in Independence Township, Nov. 1. There are plans to remodel, but not expand, Sanderson said.

The sale will not affect Food Town employees. "(They're) being given the opportunity to work for Farmer Jack," Sanderson said. She dispensed rumors that the existing Farmer Jack on Dixie Highway will close. "That's not true," Sanderson said. Both locations are excellent marketing areas, and part of Farmer Jack's plan for continued growth, she said.

Ed Adler, vice president and owner of the Adler's Food Town chain, said he decided to end the grocery chain his late father, Ed Sr., founded over a half-century ago.

"We're not going to be in the grocery business anymore," Adler said Friday.

The decision affects 10 Food Towns in Clarkston, Oxford, Pontiac, Auburn Hills, Union Lake, Highland, Teens busted for alcohol use

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
 Clarkston News Staff Writer

Partying hearty turned out to have dire consequences for 13 local teens in the wee hours Sunday morning.

Police were called to an Independence Township apartment on Paramus when a loud party was reported around 5:30 a.m.

It took three Oakland County Sheriff's Department officers from the Independence Township substation to keep the teens reined in until they could be administered Breathalyzer tests, said Dep. Gary McClure. In all, 13 youths, ranging from 15 to 18 years of age were cited for minor in possession of alcohol. All were Clarkston High School students.

None of the teens registered .10, the legal limit considered drunk for adults, said Lt. Dale LaBair. But their blood alcohol levels were at or above the zero tolerance level for minors, he said. Four of the youths were

Board prepares to debate payoff

Thendara paving project under fire

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
 Clarkston News Staff Writer

After six years, Independence Township has finally been taken to task on how to solve the complex Thendara Park road paving issue — although it's not early enough for some officials.

Trustee Larry Rosso made a motion at the Oct. 5 meeting to place Thendara on the board's agenda within a month. That was approved 4-2, with Trustees Jeff McGee and Neil Wallace disagreeing (Trustee Dan Travis was absent). Both wanted the issue dealt with Tuesday with approximately 75 Thendara Park residents present.

Many fear they could be reassessed, even though they've paid off their special assessments for the road paving.

The motion followed a long discussion and several other motions where board members squabbled over adding or removing items from the agenda — including Thendara Park and the salary adjustments issue. Both were removed.

It was McGee, a Thendara Park resident who does not live in the special assessment district, who proposed the item be added Tuesday. Residents of Thendara said they showed up because a notice was posted in their subdivision. It alerted them to the fact that the matter might be discussed at Tuesday's meeting.

McGee said he has pressed the township for five years to solve the issue. He said he didn't expect a resolution Tuesday, but felt discussion should begin, saying it shouldn't be postponed any longer.

"I think it's time to deal with it," McGee said.

Other officials disagreed, saying it shouldn't be discussed with only one-third of Thendara's more than 254 residents present. Supervisor Dale Stuart said important issues impacting residents should be subject to public notice. He called it "grossly unfair," and wanted

Band weaves anti-drug message through music

First CD available at Harmony House

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

As they say, some people just have the gift.

That's apparent with Giftvs (pronounced Gift-us), a talented trio of young Clarkston musicians who just released their first album, "Giftvs: Surgeon General Warning."

The band's name comes from the Latin word for gift, says blonde-tressed vocalist Jeremy Lafferty, 21, frontman and guitarist for the group. Another band was already named "Gift" -- hence the unusual spelling.

The band indeed hopes to be a gift to young people and others, preaching a message that you don't need drugs to be cool. They hope "youth can relate," says Kevin Calcaterra, 21, bassist.

The "Surgeon" General Warning is a pun on the Surgeon General, as the realm of soulful to passionate. His growling vocals are reminiscent of a young Jim Morrison. Josh's skillful drumming, is snappy and infectious; and Kevin's bass lends a steady, thumping presence.

The band names The Doors, Led Zeppelin, Santana and Jimi Hendrix as their musical heroes. Manager Dennis once played with funkadelic king George Clinton, so there is that influence as well.

Two songs are currently getting airplay on two local radio stations: 103.1 FM (Flint/Lapeer) and 91.5 FM in Mount Pleasant.

The dark ode to "Autumn" tells of Jeremy's unrequited obsession for "a relationship I never had, but I wanted."

"Fish Song," a metaphor for romantic entrapment, is also getting airplay. "It's basically feeling like a fish caught inside a two-inch tank," says Jeremy.

The CD includes an upbeat version of the sixties Supremes hit, "(Love is like an) Itchin' in my Heart," penned by famed writing team Holland-Dozier-Holland.

One of the Holland brothers is a fan, and attended the group's record-release party at Detroit's Motor City Yacht Club.

Lyrics like these show love's trials haven't changed over four decades: "Love is a naggin' irritation, causing your heart palpitations... Keeps you sighin', keeps you cryin', keeps you yearnin', keeps you burnin'."

Some songs are powerful anti-drug statements, including "Cocaine Lies." World-renowned percussionist Muruga Booker (who drums on three songs) accompanies the group in a lovely, plaintive ballad that comments on the sad effects of cocaine use. Playing the Nada Drum (a bongo-type instrument), he's joined by singer Shakti on background vocals.

"Cocaine Lies" highlights Jeremy's sweet baritone. It loses its Morrison moanings to become the perfect youthful plea for abstinence.

It's also a song about choice, and the decision to hang out with the "right" friends: "I will run with the ones who take me to that better way," he vows.

Royalties from the song will be donated to Remember the Child Foundation, which seeks to prevent child abuse from cocaine users.

Giftvs started out seven years ago when the three were students at the former Clarkston Junior High School. Jeremy and Josh formed the "basement band," recruiting friend Kevin to play the bass.

They didn't rely on covers. "We started writing our own material right away. We had 300 original tunes," Jeremy laughs.

Soon, they were playing in Mt. Pleasant, where the Laffertys' older brother Frank went to school. "He made connections. He would get us into Central Michigan University when we were younger," Jeremy says. Gigs included college, tailgate, graduation and open house parties -- plus stints at Oakland County's 4-H Fair in Springfield Township.

Eventually they evolved to clubs like The Blind Pig in Ann Arbor and Rubbles in Mt. Pleasant. Other locations include Peppi's North, Wise Guys, Paychecks and Cruisers. They just finished performing at Drinks North in Waterford and are working with another Clarkston band, Absotone. Josh says they hope to use the rap group as a warm up. In addition, the band frequently performs for The Alano Club in Independence Township, a group for recovering alcoholics and drug users.

Their parents remain staunch supporters. "They're at every gig," says Jeremy.

They advise wannabes it's taken a lot of hard work to get there. There are sacrifices, of course. At CHS, the Lafferty boys had to balance band time with sports (Dad Frank is an assistant wrestling coach there).

Their goal is "to try to sell 5,000 copies in Michigan," says Jeremy. Then Holland-Dozier-Holland is going to distribute and promote our label nationally." Their next step is to achieve "regional success," adds Kevin.

They would also like to get involved in community service, saying Clarkston kids perhaps need their mentoring as strong opposers of drug use.

Giftvs would like to help CHS launch an annual show to showcase local talent. They have expressed interest in working with Clarkston Community Task Force for Youth, a youth/adult partnership that seeks to prevent drug use.

Members say they don't try to be preachy. But they'd like to be good examples for Generation X.

"I think we're just trying to take people to where we're at," says Kevin. "Try to find a balance in your life. Be happy with yourself, rather than turn to other things that are superficial."

And that "You can be cool -- but without drugs," adds Jeremy.

Visit Giftvs at their Web site: www.giftvs.com. "Giftvs: Surgeon General Warning" is available for $13 at all Detroit-area Harmony House locations, including the Clarkston store, 7073 Dixie Highway.

'You can be cool --
but without drugs.'

Jeremy Lafferty

Lafferty brothers live on Green's Lake in Independence Township. Some songs serve as a warning -- not to get hooked.

It's a real eye-opener to see the audience from their vantage point, say the threesome, who shun substance use. "When you're on stage, you can see a lot of the drunk people out there ... people who are high," says drummer Josh Lafferty, 20, Jeremy's brother.

The nine songs on the album reflect "real-life experiences and relationships," adds Kevin. "And songs about the down side of drugs, people that we've seen." But, it's a "positive" spin on taking control of your life, the band says.

Jeremy, who writes the music and lyrics, says the songs "bring out a side of myself that most people don't see -- a spiritual side. Inner peace, I guess."

The final product collaborates the talents of Josh and Kevin, who also sing background vocals. "We arrange the music together," Josh says.

The album, released by Motortown Internet Records in Detroit and produced by their manager Bob Dennis, is a mix of styles. Jeremy describes it as "classic rock and blues," although there are hints of "funk, alternative, country ..." It's filed under the "Pop/Rock" section at Harmony House.

"It's an odd style of music. It took weeks to decide what to put it under," says Jeremy, who is co-producer of the album. "Every song sounds completely different."

Board is likely to receive state certificate of excellence

School board audit shows a 'clean' bill of health

BY RENEE WIGHTMAN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The diagnosis was a clean bill of health for Clarkston Community Schools' annual audit, according to representatives of Plante and Moran, LLP of Troy.

The district received a "clean opinion" from CPA Frederick C. Hailer Jr. on the audit, which covered transactions made up until June 30, 1999. The 70-page comprehensive report was condensed into a brief presentation by Plante and Moran at the school board's Monday night meeting.

According to information from Plante and Moran, the district's general fund balance ending June 30 was $7,123,024. The budgeted amount versus the actual amount of revenue had a difference of $31,747 — making the percent difference under 1 percent.

In addition, for expenditures to the budgeted versus the actual fund, a difference of only 1.32 percent was found.

Hailer Jr. said the board is likely to receive a certificate of excellence from the state board of education based on the audit. He said there are only about 15 school districts out of more than 500 in the state which receive the certificate each year.

During the presentation, figures showed a 20 percent increase in student enrollment since 1993. Also, it was reported 85 to 86 percent of funding last year came from the annual state allowance, while property taxes on non-homestead property generated between 10 and 11 percent of the district's general fund amount.

Plante and Moran also found the per pupil allowance in Clarkston's school district was considerably less than the average allowance for Oakland County, with $5,908 per pupil in Clarkston and $7,135 per pupil as the average.

In other business:

■ A second reading of the district's expulsion policy took place, with no changes made from the first reading a month ago. The motion for approval passed 5-0. Trustee Rick Crigger and President Karen Foyteck were absent.

■ Geri Moore, director of research and curriculum development for Clarkston Community Schools, asked the board to approve materials for eighth grade sex and drug education, including material promoting abstinence called "Sex Can Wait" and "Healthy Sexuality."

Materials were on display for the public prior to the meeting. The motion carried 5-0.

■ During the approval of new staff and recognition of retirements and resignations, Secretary Mary Ellen McLean remarked on the recent death of Jim Koslosky, who retired from the district during the summer. Koslosky was a teacher at Sashabaw Middle School.

"He will be greatly missed," she said.

■ A motion to approve additional contracts for mechanical, plumbing and fire protection, and the replacement of a boiler, totaling $1,811,100 at Sashabaw Middle School were approved 5-0.

Clarkston Road resident raises concerns of child safety at Oct. 11 school board meeting

With school enrollment growing in the Clarkston school district, at least one Clarkston resident feels the needs of her child aren't being met.

Susan Tilley, who lives on Clarkston Road, spoke to the school board at its Monday night meeting during public comment about the "safety concerns" she and her neighbors share. Tilley said her second grader is among several elementary-aged kids who must walk approximately one mile to and from their school, Clarkston Elementary.

She said concerns have been raised due to increased traffic on the road, with the addition of Clarkston High School on Flemings Lake Road off of Clarkston Road.

Dr. Al Roberts, superintendent of Clarkston Community Schools, said two public hearings held in the spring were to have dealt with the parents' concerns. Sheila Hughes, board vice president, added the area in question was determined to be a walking district, since it falls within the village limits.

"We are taking it into advisement," Hughes said.

Dr. Roberts said he will send a letter to Tilley and other residents explaining how the situation will be further handled in about a month, after Independence Elementary School opens.

"I don't expect any changes," he said.

Later in the meeting, Trustee Janet Thomas brought the issue to the board's attention, saying she didn't understand why concerns were still present. She said boundary lines were changed twice to accommodate residents' concerns in the spring.

Crash kills township man

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

An Independence Township man was killed Sunday night, following a two-car crash on Dixie Highway police called violent.

According to crash investigator Dep. Tom Poulin of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, David Hammonds, 64, was southbound in his 1981 GMC van just after 7 p.m., when his car was hit head on by a 31-year-old Oxford woman driving a 1979 Ford van.

The woman lost control of her car near Waterford Hill. "She crossed over at least three lanes of traffic," Poulin said, adding Hammonds was in the far right lane.

Hammonds was killed instantly, Poulin said. He carried no passengers. The Ford's driver was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Oakland where she remains in intensive care. Her passenger, a 41-year-old Waterford woman, is in "serious-but-stable" condition at St. Joe's, Poulin said.

Poulin said drugs are suspected. The OCSD obtained a search warrant from the Oakland County Prosecutor to collect blood and urine samples from the driver of the Ford van. He said it would be four to six weeks before tests return from the state lab.

Police rerouted traffic on Dixie for over three-and-a-half hours, clearing the scene around 10:36 p.m., Poulin said.

A third car, carrying a 41-year-old Independence Township woman and her 12-year-old daughter, was in front of Hammonds' vehicle. Although it wasn't hit, it suffered dents and scratches from flying van parts, Poulin said.

"The impact was so severe, the debris from his vehicle damaged hers," Poulin said. "It's an indication of how violent it was." The mother and daughter were not injured, he said.

Poulin said Hammonds was a former Waterford resident who was in the process of retiring from an auto parts business. He and his wife had rented an apartment in the township for the past year. When the accident occurred, Hammonds' wife was in Georgia where "they were building their retirement home," Poulin said.

Indep. Elementary to open its doors Nov. 8

The new Independence Elementary School is nearing completion. George White, president of G.S.W. Clarkston Consulting Construction Coordination, said at the Clarkston school board meeting Monday night the opening date has been pushed back one week to Nov. 8.

Despite the delay, White said the construction crew has "no fear" the school date will be delayed further.

Independence Elementary, located on Hubbard Road at M-15 in Independence Township, will have a capacity of 600 students.

Public hearing on natural gas pipeline next week

A Draft Environmental Impact Statement (draft EIS) on the proposed TriState Pipeline Project will be the subject of a public hearing Wednesday, Oct. 20 at 7 p.m. at Pontiac Northern High School, 1051 Arlene Ave., Pontiac.

TriState has proposed construction of a natural gas pipeline from Joliet, Ill. to Dawn, Ontario. In Michigan, including Independence, Springfield, Orion and Rose townships, 450 thousand decatherms per day will be transported to an existing pipeline/storage hub in Dawn.

The draft EIS was prepared by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission on pipeline facilities proposed by TriState, including 36-inch-diameter pipeline looping through Oakland County.

It assesses the potential environmental effects of the construction and operation of facilities in Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

Closing of Food Town marks end of grocery store era

Over the last few years as north Oakland County has grown in population, we have watched several small grocery stores close.

While time must march on, it is still sad to see them go. Mom and pop stores of all kinds speak of a simpler time.

We still see friends and neighbors in the larger chain stores, but because of the crowds and time constraints, visiting in the aisles just isn't the same.

Although Food Town had grown into a chain of stores, it remained a family operation and the large stores still felt that way.

In our front page story on the sale of the Food Town at Waldon and Sashabaw, owner and vice-president Ed Adler said, "We've been in the grocery business for 56 years. We've done a little bit of everything. We've had fires, tomados, armed robberies. Thousand of people have worked for us."

The store has been sold to Farmer Jack, and that's fine. They will do a great job as they have with their Dixie/White Lake store.

But it's not the same. MKC

School construction should follow Twp. standards

Dear Editor,

Last week on the editorial page, a former Clarkston school board member attempted to defend the school district's failure to live up to its agreements with Independence Township regarding the construction of its latest school.

Because of the many significant problems caused by the lack of community oversight in the location and construction of the new high school, the school district agreed the new elementary school would be submitted to the township for site plan review and would conform to local community standards.

It is not correct that the "framers" of the state constitution exempted school construction from local community standards. That is a much more recent development. It is a result of a strong lobbying effort of the state's school administrators and school architects.

This strange new law gave the state superintendent of schools the exclusive authority to regulate the construction of schools. This is strange because the (state) superintendent does not have the staff, the budget or even the inclination to handle this task. The result is that school construction occurs in a vacuum.

Those who naturally have the exclusive power to decide about teachers, books, curriculum and the like, make errors when dealing with roads and traffic, storm water runoff, sewage disposal and other general community concerns and standards.

We are fortunate in Clarkston to have many good people running our schools and teaching our children. However, experience has demonstrated that school districts should not be exempt from local community standards for such significant developments which have such a substantial impact on entire communities.

The removal of one hundred year old plus oaks and maples from along Hubbard Rd. without notice, was likely unnecessary and more importantly, directly contrary to the school district's promise. This is unfortunately another example that school construction should be subject to local community standards and governed by those who have responsibility for the standards of development and construction.

There are simply no good reasons school construction should be exempt. This is particularly so where, as in our town, schools are among the largest developments and have a substantial impact on the character of our community.

For these reasons I will continue to work to change state law so that it makes sense.

Neil Wallace

Independence will do right by cemetery fund

Dear Editor,

It has recently been brought to the attention of the township that when the property on Flemings Lake Road used by the Independence Township Department of Public Works was purchased, $20,000 was borrowed from the Cemetery Trust Fund.

We are in the process of determining how that loan needs to be resolved.

Our citizens can be assured that the township will do what is appropriate. Our citizens also need to know that the township is responsible for Lakeview Cemetery and will maintain the cemetery whether a trust fund exists or not. Each year the township subsidizes the expense of the cemetery beyond the income produced and beyond any withdrawals from the trust fund.

Very truly yours,
Dale A. Stuart, Supervisor

From little typos to glaring gaffes

"I have egg on my face."

I wrote the above comment in quotes because even though it's a common phrase, I'm borrowing it from someone who has said it twice to me recently — Dr. Al Roberts, Superintendent of Clarkston schools.

I don't remember the first occasion, only that I thought whatever he was apologizing for was not important. Ditto the second time, which was just a couple of weeks ago.

So now it's my turn, and although he may gallantly say it's not important, I believe it is. In Dr. Roberts' last two newspaper columns we have botched the subheadings.

What is curious about last week's mistake is that his administrative assistant, Ellen Whitehead, brought the first mistake to my attention when she faxed over the second column.

Here are the official corrections: In Dr. Roberts' column of Sept. 22, he addressed only one of the six priorities designed to prepare students for the next millennium, rather than the two we printed.

In the Oct. 6 column, the third subheading should have read, "Increasing Pathways to College and Careers."

Mistakes in stories about Dr. Roberts or in his columns are especially troubling because while I respect and appreciate what he's doing for Clarkston schools, we disagree on some key issues. Can mistakes in newspapers qualify as Freudian slips?

As editor, I am responsible for all of the mistakes in

The Clarkston News. No matter how good a job I think we have done on Tuesday night when we finish putting the paper together, I am always amazed when I look through it Wednesday at noon after it's printed. From little typos to glaring gaffes, the mistakes that were obscured by tired eyes and frazzled nerves Tuesday night leap out like lions under fresh scrutiny Wednesday morning.

Being in this business is difficult for someone who hates to be humbled as much as I do.

Over the last few months I have become an expert at finding mistakes in other newspapers and magazines.

I do this not to gloat, but as a source of comfort. We are not alone. Last summer I found a mistake in a Time magazine headline and was overjoyed.

I assume because we have a small staff with decades less experience than the writers at major dailies or national magazines, it's only natural we should make more mistakes. To be expected perhaps, but no less embarrassing when they are witnessed by a few thousand people.

Anyway, enough whining. My most sincere apologies, to Dr. Roberts and all of you for our mistakes, past, present and future.

DATE ERROR

From ye olde E-mail bag

Each week I tag my column with my e-mail address, so folks can gripe, complain, vent, chastise, bemoan or tell jokes. Today, I'll share with you two.

The first was titled: You did ask what I thought, didn't you? I knew right away I was in trouble. Here's Judy McConnell's take on my getting gyped by the Canadian government when I crossed back over the Blue Water Bridge in Port Huron:

Sometimes you amaze me with your provincial thoughts, attitudes and behaviors!!! Re: Your Canadian trip.

My first suggestion is that people like you should stay home in your precious "good old US of A." You don't deserve Canada. Do you really think the exchange rate is the same when you convert $$ from Canadian to US as it is when you convert US to Canadian??

You can't really . . . can you?
Secondly, anyone with the tiniest brain knows not to convert back to US: simply keep the Ca. $$ for the next visit (which you probably shouldn't make!).

As far as Canadians paying off their health care debts with your silly 34 cents . . . now I really am ashamed and embarrassed by you the "ugly American" who the Canadians have to put up with on a regular basis.

In addition to their weak $$ (which we are lucky enough to be able to take advantage of), they pay a healthy 15% sales tax on their purchases (which we only have to pay 7%).

I just returned from a camping trip in upper Ontario and loved every minute of their scenic farms (as opposed to car factories), beautiful early turning fall colors (as opposed to excessive highway billboards, malls and trash), incredible theaters in Stratford and London (as opposed to the trite, repetitive Fisher and the mediocre to poor Meadowbrook).

We should count our blessings to live so close to such a fine place. There are those, however, who best stay at home. Judy McConnell

So Judy, what do you really think?
Here's an interesting side bar: talked to a Canadian two weekends ago (he and his family were spending a weekend in America). Jerry retired from the Canadian army with 21 years under his belt. His actual comment about life was, "I can't wait until we become the 51st state. We're being taxed to death. We're at 50 percent." That 50 percent was what the Canadian government takes from her working citizens."

Don! Rush Me

Don Rush

To which I said, "You must be the only Canadian who thinks that." He replied, "There are more than you think."

Like I said, interesting.

Here are two observations from Dave and Viv Barna:

1. What is a cat?

Cats do what they want. They rarely listen to you. They are totally unpredictable. When you want to play, they want to be alone. When you want to be alone, they want to play. They expect you to cater to their every whim. They are moody. They leave hair everywhere. They drive you nuts and cost an arm and a leg.

Conclusion: They are tiny women in fur coats.

2. What is a dog?

Dogs lie around all day, sprawled on the most comfortable piece of furniture in the house. They can hear a package of food opening half a block away, but they don't hear you when you are in the same room. They growl when they are not happy. When you want to play, they want to play. When you want to be alone, they want to play. They are great at begging. They will love you forever if you rub their tummies. They leave their toys everywhere. They do disgusting things with their mouths and then try to give you a kiss.

Conclusion: They are little men in fur coats.

What do you think? You can e-mail Don at: Dontrushme@juno.com

A Look Back

15 YEARS AGO (1984)

Barb Gibson is a very proud mother. The Clarkston High School teacher's son, Kirk Gibson, carries the Detroit Tigers to the World Championship with two monster home runs.

About 670 people put on their walking shoes and put in the miles to help Clarkston SCAMP.

Independence Township treasurer candidates John Lutz and Fred Ritter are featured in The Clarkston News. Democrat Treasurer Ritter is seeking a third term. Republican Lutz is a construction supervisor turned businessman.

Sixth-graders at Bailey Lake Elementary School offer energy-saving tips for President Ford: ride a bike or a horse to save gas. Other suggestions include using a regular toothbrush and shaver instead of electric ones.

For the first time in 20 years, Clarkston schools enrollment has dropped, according to Assistant Superintendent Mel Vaara.

50 YEARS AGO (1949)

The Hawk Tool and Engineering Co. takes possession of the former Ford factory on West Washington. A structure for manufacturing will be built.

Featured at the Holly Theatre are "Tarzan's Magic Fountain," starring Rex Barker, and "The Life of Riley" with William Bendix.

Lewis Market on Dixie Highway has a good selection of Hubbard and acorn squash, pumpkins and sweet cider.

Warren Beatty and other jottings

Actor Warren Beatty hinted he might run for president of the United States. Actress Cybil Sheppard did the same.

Mitch Albom, Detroit Free Press columnist and WJR personality, wrote: "We ought to be concerned. The fact is, the office of the president has been so bruised, wilted, insulted and demystified that we now consider it fillable by the most hollow professions: actors. People who get paid to pretend."

More than 150 reporters from around the world were on hand to hear the actor give a political speech. How do they know if it was a political speech or a script reading?

Now comes Donald Trump! E-gads!

Another political question: How many people being polled by the George W. Bush campaign say they'd vote for him because they made a mistake in not voting for his father when he ran against Clinton? I think it's a significant number.

Why is hair soap called shampoo? After all, we use the "hand soap" description.

Recently sent a letter addressed to the MacDonalds in Ithaca, MI 48847. It was returned to me with the stamping: "No such street Ithaca, N. Y. 14859".

Jim's Jottings

Jim Sherman

Mrs. MacDonald is a retired postal carrier. After seeing the returned piece, she said the address was very legible.

A postmaster told me all letters are read by a computer, then a bar code is put on them. Mine came back with four bar codes.

I well remember when zip codes were foisted upon us. Postal workers on railroads said they'd still look at town names, not zip codes.

But, the idea was in time no state or town names would even be needed. Put on a 5-digit zip code and zap goes delivery.

Whoops! Didn't work. Add four more digits and zip-zap goes delivery.

There may well be more zip codes now than there are towns, thus there may be more zip codes for sorters to know than towns, so are zip codes still the way to go? I don't believe so, since bar codes are added by the U. S. Postal Service . . . that's the U. S. Service that advertises that French bicycle race.

I want you readers to re-read the first two words of that previous paragraph. That brings me to my final jotting (complaint) this week.

Headline writers, including those at this newspaper, occasionally write one like The Free Press did last Tuesday:

"One aspirin tablet may be better than two."

Early in our school learning lifer we were told if we use the word "may" then therefore there is a "may not."

Headlines with "may" make my getting to the cartoon "Blondie" more important. Love, Dagwood.

Certain punishment sends strong message

One of our state's biggest public concerns got a fitting response this month when harsh new penalties took effect for drunk drivers and repeat offenders.

With vigorous police and court enforcement of the new laws, Michigan can go a long way toward greater travel safety.

Every year in this state, drunk drivers are involved in nearly 40 percent of all accidents and well over 500 deaths, according to the Michigan State Police. Repeat offenders — usually with multiple license suspensions and revocations of their records — account for hundreds more. A special study conducted in 1995 found drivers with five or more suspensions were involved in 209 fatal accidents.

Drivers with such records are public menaces, at least as dangerous as the thugs, robbers and rapists who already fill state prisons. The laws now treat them that way as well.

Included in the 32 new laws taking effect:

n A person causing a death while on a suspended or revoked license could be charged as a felon and sentenced to prison for up to 15 years — five years in case of an injury accident.

n A person loaning a car to an individual without a valid driver's license could be charged with a five-year felony if the unlicensed driver kills someone — two years for an injury accident.

n Anyone caught drinking and driving with children in the vehicle could be charged with child endangerment.

'Score a goal' with soccer donations

Dear Editor,

Perhaps community members have been past the former Clarkston High School football field and noticed it is now the new Clarkston Soccer Stadium.

We are very proud of the renovations that have been undertaken in order to make the stadium a beautiful and inviting place to be.

There are many long-range goals for the stadium. These goals include continued maintenance and improvements of the stadium as well as youth clinics and tournaments. If you would like to help "Score a Goal," please send your tax deductible donation to the CHS Athletic Office, Clarkston High School, 6093 Flemings Lake Road, Clarkston, MI 48346. Please make checks payable to CHS Soccer Fund.

A donation of any size will be greatly appreciated and gifts of $100 or more will be permanently recognized at the entrance of the stadium.

This is an excellent opportunity to honor a family member, colleague, coach, past or present player, student, friend or business.

Thank you for your support. We hope you'll join us for a home game soon.

The Clarkston Soccer Stadium Club

Other laws taking effect this month separate drinking drivers from their cars. Vehicles can be immobilized with a metal boot for up to six months for the first offense of drunken driving, leading to a mandatory immobilization for one to three years for a third conviction. Vehicles also can be confiscated and sold upon the owner's second conviction of drunk driving.

Some drivers are required to wear an electronic tether which will prevent them from driving a particular car. Judges can require certain individuals to install equipment that keeps a car from starting if the driver's blood-alcohol level is too high.

Police also will have the power to take license plates from a car immediately upon arresting the driver for a repeat drunk-driving offense or for driving on a suspended license.

The certainty of strong punishment can send a very different public message. Safe roads should soon follow. If you have any questions, concerns or comments, please feel free to contact me at 1-800-510-RUTH or rujohnson@house.state.mi.us.

Dear Editor,

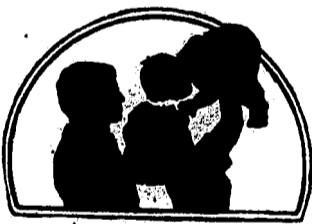

We would like to express our deepest sympathy to the family of Larry Smith. It was with great sadness that we learned of Larry's recent passing. Larry was an incredibly inspiring person and a true friend to public access television.

In honor of Larry and the many hours he spent at the studio, we will be re-broadcasting his program, Wildcat, Oct. 18-22 at 8 p.m. on Channel 65 in Independence Township.

Jim's Jottings

Wonder if the upper peninsula has gotten together with the lower on the time?

When I was up there during deer hunting season 3 of the counties had voted to go with Daylight Savings Time and the rest balked, or vice versa. Never can tell when I might want to know what time it is in Calumet, so, if you know give me a call.

How daughters get like mothers, dept. Our 6-year-old wrapped a gift to take to a birthday party. Mother saw it and gasped. It had the wrong color bow on it. There were 4 other kids that age or younger at the party and they would surely notice this mistake. I suppose mother reasoned.

How many times in your life have you seen a headline similar to: "Michigan about to open war on organized crime"? And, how many times have you seen anything come of it?

Jim Bushman, Oxford restaurateur, brought in a Free Press clipping of Dr. Messer's column. It says dads should have playtime, maybe only 5 or 10 minutes a day, with their kids.

I don't do this with any regularity and I have a feeling it will be less. A couple weeks ago I started messing around with Jim. He's 14. I'd pick him up and drop him on the floor, hit him, ripped off his night gown, and otherwise wore myself out.

Once in a while he would tear into me and get in some good licks. Couple days later I noticed my arm was sore and discolored. It delighted him.

Dr. Messer thinks this was smart of me... to let Jim hurt me. I didn't let him and I have no intention of continuing this rough housing much longer. It's about time for me to start reminding him I've been ill, that I'm too old and my bones are getting brittle, and telling him how bad he will feel should he disable me.

May the 1969 tide of fortune float you into the harbor of content.
Happy New Year.

Needy children helped by Hi-Y

"Good Will Toward Men" reigns throughout Clarkston High as the Hi-Y and Y-Teens organizations brought cheer to needy children this season.

The Hi-Y is for high school boys to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, the school and community, high standards of Christian Character; with the purpose of Y-Teens being to take a fellowship of girls, devoted to the task of realizing ideals of personal and social living.

During the Christmas season the members of Hi-Y contacted each of the six elementary schools in the district to choose approximately three needy students. The Hi-Y invited members of the Y-Teens to join their project of taking the children shopping. The parents were contacted, then each child was taken to lunch and afterwards purchased an outfit.

In order to earn money for this project Hi-Y has sponsored the faculty basketball game between the junior high and senior high, besides a play night.

Father, son killed in Waterford shooting

A Waterford man and his son died from gunshot wounds inflicted by a derringer Saturday night, December 21. Police have ruled that it was a murder-suicide.

James D. Miller, 59, of 6185 Waterfront, Waterford, and his son, Ronald A. Miller, 24, of the same address, had been drinking alone in their home Saturday evening.

For some unknown reason, Ronald apparently shot his father in the head at close range and then turned the gun on himself, police said. There was no sign of a struggle or violence in the house previous to the shooting.

The bodies were discovered by a neighbor while the rest of the family was out.

James Miller

James D. Miller was employed at Auto Pallets and Boxes in Rochester.

He is survived by his wife,

Area lawyer named recount supervisor

A young Clarkston attorney, James J. Blanchard, has been named to the team of supervisors who will oversee the recount of the controversial Daylight Savings time proposal which appeared on the November 5 general election ballot.

Blanchard, the son of Mrs. Rosalie Snyder, of Royal Oak and Ferndale, was recently admitted to the Michigan Bar. He is married to the former Paula Parker of Clarkston.

The supervisors are a team of experts who will oversee the recount procedures in many communities for the Michigan Elections Bureau of the Department of State. Blanchard has served as an intern in the elections bureau and has been an election supervisor.

He was graduated from Ferndale High School and holds a bachelor of arts and a master of business degree from Michigan State University. He was also awarded his JD degree by the University of Minnesota earlier this year.

Fire destroys shed

A fire broke out in a shed at 5140 Eastview about 11:30 p.m. Monday, December 23. The shed belonged to Louis Carpenter.

The cause of the fire is unknown. Damage to the shed and its contents was total, estimated at $1,000, reported the Independence Township Fire Department.

Car fire

The Independence Township Fire Department was called out to extinguish a car fire at the Waterford Hill Shopping Center at 6:05 p.m. December 20.

A 1969 Grand Prix, owned by A.E. Starkweather, 8358 Fox Roy Drive, Union Lake, had stalled and was being pushed. When he pushed the starter, the engine caught fire, according to the fire report.

Short weight

Clarkston's A & P supermarket, 5785 Ortonville Road, was fined $50 with $15 in court costs by Justice William Stamp for listing more weight on its pre-packed meat than the package actually contained.

Dick Oliver, the meat manager at the market, pleaded guilty to the charge December 12, according to a Michigan Department of Agriculture report.

1969 should be a most interesting year

By Jim Sherman

Perhaps the headline should read "1969 will be a most interesting and expensive year". The interesting part comes from day to day developments with far reaching results. The expensive part will be in the form of increased taxes and paying for sanitary sewers.

Sewers will be the big event of the new year. They will not be installed in 1969 but contracts will be let probably in both the village of Clarkston and township of Independence to permit the installation.

Final plans should be ready in the next few months that will show exact routes, areas to be included, and cost estimated among other things. The Clinton-Oakland interceptors are under contract and if the schedule doesn't get thrown off too far they will be ready to accept sewerage about May, 1970.

Another thing we can be sure of in 1969 is more land will be turned over to developers. They have been busy in Independence the past few years building multiple dwellings and single family subdivisions and this trend will continue.

This land development makes one wonder... the common man is complaining bitterly about the increases in taxes, yet the developers are investing more and more, apparently not concerned at all about the buyers or renters being able to afford the increases in taxes that are sure to come.

Another thing on the immediate horizon of Independence is the establishment of the District Court here. This will bring more employment, plus bringing additional attention to this community.

Three new public buildings will be completed here this year and a third might be. About August the new township library on Clarkston-Orion road will be completed and occupied. The new bus garage south of the high school will be done soon and the new junior high school on Maybee road will be ready for the fall enrollment.

The other building possibility is a new school service building being planned on the school property near the new library.

No elections are scheduled for township officials this year, however, there will be one in the village in March. We've had no indication if the incumbents are going to seek re-election or if there will be opposition. There doesn't seem to be many rumors of dissatisfaction with village officials.

Whoever sits at the Council table will have some far reaching decisions to make. The greatest decision will be on sewers, which, according to previous indications, seem inevitable in the eyes of both the officials and citizens.

The Councilmen may also decide on a new water system in 1969. Too, a decision on whether to sell the village parking lot may come up, along with it the decision on future parking in the downtown area. We can expect the village fathers to also continue working to get a new post office located within the village.

One announcement sports fans await is the naming of a new football coach to replace Ralph Kenyon who has moved into the administration.

Reaching beyond our borders, the next three higher governmental units are coming under new direction. About all we know about the new board of supervisors is that it will be Democratically controlled.

In the next month or so we will have a new governor in William Milliken. We look forward to his state of the state message and early requests from the legislature to learn if his directions might differ from those of Governor Romney.

And, higher up the ladder, we have a new president of the United States, Richard Nixon. Expectations run high, however, there have been printed reports from those who anticipate recession, inflation, peace and war.

Whatever comes, we can be sure 1969 will be...

Household Hazardous Waste Day Saturday Oct. 16

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Load up that stash of paint cans.

Independence Township is hosting its second annual Household Hazardous Waste Collection Day Saturday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. The location is the Department of Public Works building, 6050 Flemings Lake Road, across from Clarkston High School.

Township and City of Clarkston residents may drop off a variety of items considered too hazardous for normal household pickup. The DPW says items like paint, oils and chemicals should never be dumped down the drain or in the trash.

Resident verification (driver's license, recent tax bill) is required. No commercial vehicles are allowed.

The list of items includes:

■Kitchen/Bathroom: floor care products, nail polish, furniture polish, oven cleaners, scouring powders, spot and stain removers, chlorine bleach, toilet cleaners, grout sealer/primer, moth balls, aerosol cans and mercury thermometers.

■Garage: antifreeze, brake fluid, metal polish, motor oil, transmission fluid, fuel oil, kerosene, engine cleaners and gasoline.

■Garden: bug spray, ant and roach powder, weed killer, fly strips, herbicides, insecticides, fungicides and rat poison.

■Workshop: paint (oil- and water-based and latex), turpentine, primer, varnish, solvent-based glue, mineral spirits, wood stain and preservatives, photographic chemicals, household batteries, lighter fluid, Fiberglass epoxy, and upholstery and carpet cleaners.

■The rate structure for liquids (gallons), bulk (pounds) and solids per item is 1-5, $3; 6-10, $5; 11-15, $10; 16-20, $15; 21-25, $20; 26-30, $25; and over 30, $50. A filled, plastic grocery bag is considered one item. Types of items should be separated.

Clarkston residents will be charged $45 per load. For small items, "They'd be better off grouping with neighbors," said Linda Richardson, DPW assistant director.

Other hazardous material like motor oil, household, auto and marine batteries can be taken to the DPW Recycling Center during regular hours: Monday-Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m. to noon.

■The DPW cannot accept commercial or industrial waste, smoke detectors (radioactive), radioactive material, explosives and ammunition. However, ammunition and explosives can be taken to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Independence substation, 6560 Citation Drive.

Waste processing is being handled by USL City Environmental, Inc. For more information, call the DPW at 625-8222.

True 'Vision'-airies

(Left) Autumn Weathers and Ryan Leininger, both seniors at Clarkston High School, perform an E. coli test at the home of their biology instructor, Holly Stephens, Sept. 29. Stephens' students are members of EarthVision, a group designed to study local environmental issues. The water was taken from the Clinton River and incubated to find the number of E. coli colonies present, Leininger said. Although the sample was later contaminated, Stephens said the experiment served its purpose -- being a challenge to the students. "The point is not getting perfect results. They're beginners," she said.

(Far right) Allison Olinger, a senior at Clarkston High School and member of EarthVision, checks the temperature of the Clinton River. The students will report their information to the Student Congress in the Macomb County Intermediate School District Oct. 28, said Stephens. The students information will be contrasted against findings from students who tested downriver. CHS was one of 12 schools that participated in the water testing.

CHS television show brings 'magic' to the classroom

BY RENEE WIGHTMAN

Clarkston News Staff Writer

While students were settling into their seats at Clarkston High School Monday morning, a small group of their peers were busy editing film, setting up cameras and preparing for another day's morning announcements in their own TV production studio.

Scott Banks, facilitator and instructor at CHS, conducts two classes each morning in a room equipped with hardware capable of producing professional television broadcasts. The broadcasts are aired at the beginning of the students' third hour, Banks said, which gives his TV crew a chance to create a new broadcast each morning.

Each student focuses on a specific area, whether it be as an anchor, film editor or camera technician. Banks says the process gives the kids a chance to learn firsthand how a TV studio operates.

"We're integrating classroom technology, and infuse computers and video. No one person could run the whole studio. There's so much to know," he said.

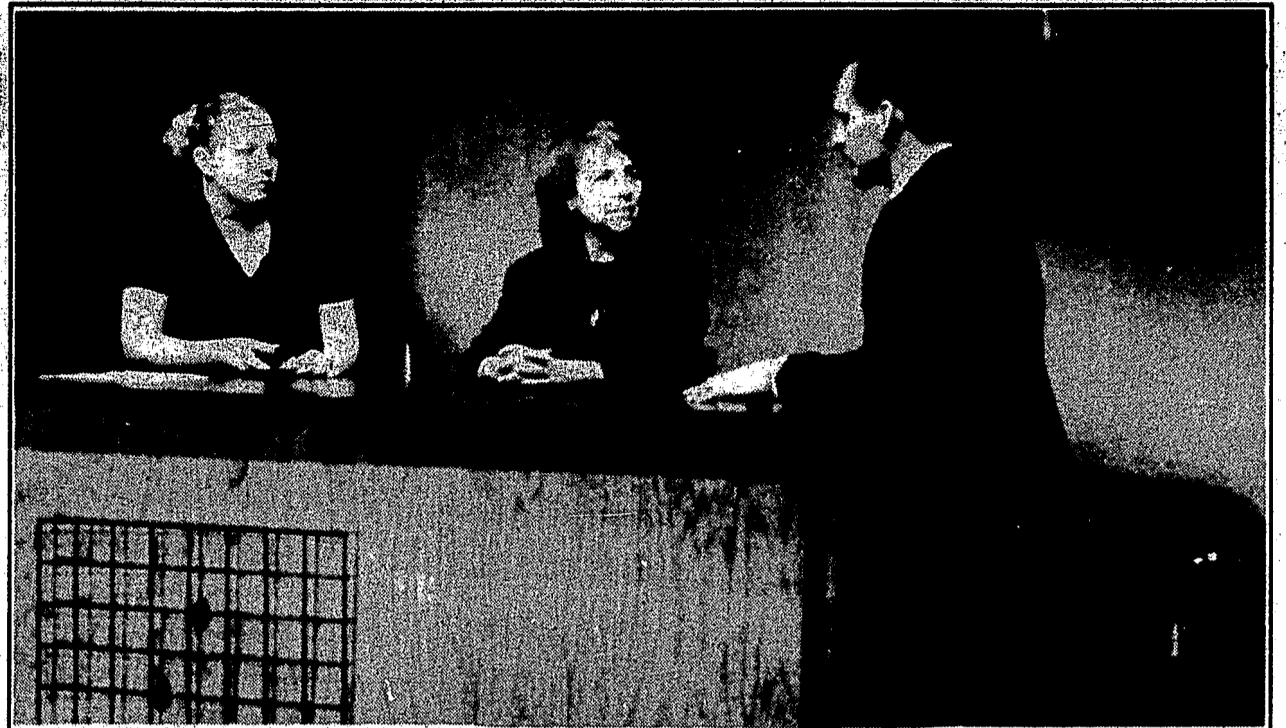

The students create their own "video inserts" to run as commercials during the show, such as video clips taken from CHS football events which promote an upcoming game. Public service announcements also run during the show, and student clubs can create their own inserts as well, Banks said.

Aside from the morning show students, other classes use the studio during the afternoon hours. Social studies classes are making their own TV advertisements, and psychology students are conducting research on human behavior, which they will edit and analyze later, Banks said.

Others use the studio to film skits, televise experiments or work on "at-large projects," he said.

Banks said the set, which was ready for use just a few weeks ago, will be fully operational within a month. "When we're up and running, you're going to see a really professional setup."

For example, instead of just one camera used to show the anchors, two cameras will be used to show one anchor at a time. In addition, all audio equipment currently housed in the same room as the anchor desk will be moved out into an adjacent room, allowing for a more soundproof facility, he said.

Missy Rupert (at left), a junior at Clarkston High School and anchor on the CHS morning show, is given direction by Scott Banks, CHS facilitator and instructor (far right), while State Sen. Alma Wheeler Smith (D-Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti) is interviewed on camera. Smith was invited to discuss state legislation that will enable students to attend two years at a community college without tuition costs.

The studio also will be decorated with the school name and mascot, and depending on the holiday, the set will also have a theme, Banks said. In addition, a three-dimensional cartoon graphic is in the works for the show's opener, he said.

Banks said in the future, sports and weather also will become separate segments of the morning show. "A lot of that stuff will evolve," he said.

Before the TV show was created, students would read announcements over the school's PA system. The students who participate as TV crew members say the new way is highly beneficial to them.

"I like the technical aspects of it. It's where the magic happens," said Adam Hamilton, a senior and TV anchor. "I want to go to school for telecommunications."

Missy Rupert, a junior, said she also sees a future in media.

"I still don't know much about it. I'd like to go into radio -- to be the next Howard Stern."

In Clarkston, optimism wears a baseball cap

BY RENEE WIGHTMAN
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Junior optimism abounds in Clarkston -- at least that's what members of the Junior Optimist Clubs of Clarkston are trying to promote in the community.

The kids recently began the "Hats Off for Cancer" program, which provides baseball caps for Michigan children who have lost their hair due to chemotherapy treatments for the illness. Maria Blaine, a seventh grader at Sashawbaw West Middle School, serves as her school's club president and helped organize the charity event.

Blaine asks that those interested in making a donation stop by the middle school between 9 a.m. and noon Oct. 23. The school is located at 6300 Church St.

The group's goal is to collect at least 500 new hats, in a variety of sizes. Soft winter hats also will be accepted. Blaine encourages other organizations and community businesses to organize hat drives.

The hat drive is part of "Make a Difference Day" and all hats will be distributed to area facilities with pediatric oncology units or clinics, as well as to the American Cancer Society for distribution. Blaine also will appoint team leaders across Oakland County in each school that show interest in starting a hat drive.

For more information on "Hats Off for Cancer," visit the National Web page at <http://www.geocities.com/Heartland/Flats/1603/>.

Players present 'kid-friendly' Halloween show

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

'Twas the week before Halloween and instead of a boo, all the good creatures were stirring, like Count Batula and Witchypoo. . . .

That's the non-scary scenario Clarkston Village Players are presenting with The Frankenstein Follies, a musical spooktacular at Depot Theater Oct. 24.

It's the perfect way for young children to celebrate Halloween, say CVP members Dave Nelson and Nancy Penrose. The two, along with Nelson's wife Beth Wingert-Nelson, don body puppet suits to play several characters: Witchypoo, Swanky Franky, Count Batula, Witch Hazel, Fuzzball and Merlin the magician. The plot concerns "good witch" Witchypoo getting ready for the holiday with the help of her spooky friends.

The show includes special effects like flying brooms and smoke, plus plenty of humor. For example, as Witchypoo tries to bring Swanky Franky to life, she yells, "On the count of three, throw the switch!" Of course, the Frankenstein-like monster pulls the switch off the wall and throws it.

In another skit, Witch Hazel can't get her broom revved up. "She leaves. Then the broom starts without her and she chases it," Penrose says.

Nelson says the 40-minute show is perfect for short attention spans. The musical is "a revue" and includes audience participation. Penrose compares it to "Sesame Street Live."

"Frankenstein Follies" is just one show Nelson and his wife produce through their company, Off Broadway Productions. They also perform for corporations like Hudson's and The Detroit Zoo and do mall shows.

Penrose is a frequent performer. Last Christmas, for instance, she played Cindy Lou Who in "The Grinch Who Stole Christmas."

Nelson and Penrose admit their love of the theater -- and comedy -- began early. Penrose, who hails from England, loved playing with her dolls, doing "Gene Kelly musicals" and the like.

As a theater major at Trent Polytechnic, she took a puppetry option and loved it. After graduating with bachelor's honors in creative arts, she began making her own glove and rod puppets. Soon, she was touring her own puppet shows.

Farmer Jack buys Food Town

Hartland, Rochester and two in Waterford, Adler said. All have closed except the Oxford and Hartland stores, which will close Oct. 17. Farmer Jack also bought the Hartland store but not the Oxford store.

Adler currently has no plans for the 28,000-square-foot Oxford building, which is liquidating its contents. "Probably before the first of the year, we'll be submitting a site plan to Oxford Township," he said.

The Clarkston sale will not affect Clarkston State Bank, which moved a second branch into the store this summer. Adler, who is the bank's founding chairman, said the bank has "a long-term lease."

Adler recalled how his father built the first store, Adler's Market, in 1944 at the corner of Baldwin and Columbia in Pontiac. It was later renamed Food Town. "I was four. I went to the elementary school (Owen) next to the store," Adler said. "So, I've been hanging around supermarkets all my life."

Clarkston's Food Town was established in 1967 at the corner of Sashabaw and Maybee roads, which now houses Clarkston Christian Association. The current location, on the corner of Waldon and Sashabaw, was built seven years ago, Adler said.

He nixed plans for an expansion, including a cafe, deciding the move was too costly. "One of the reasons we decided to get out of this business is the cost of everything is so humongous," he said. "It really has precluded people of our means."

He still plans to develop the 11 acres he owns in back of Food Town into a day care center and offices.

"We've been in the grocery business for 56 years," Adler estimated. "We've done a little bit of everything. We've had fires, tornadoes, armed robberies. Thousands of people have worked for us."

Adler also owns the Clarkston Mills

mall on E. Washington, which houses his corporate headquarters. It will relocate to office space across the hall. He plans to rent out the old office and concentrate on his other businesses: Lehman Investment Co., a real estate business, and Harley-Davidson partnerships in Waterford and Ft. Wayne.

Adler said he soaked up his strong work ethic from his parents — especially his mother Margaret. "She ran the place for 50 years," he said.

He won't miss the business, but "I'll miss the people," Adler said.

KELSI Employee Leasing Services, Inc.

"Experts In The Extras - More Companies Out-Source Benefits"

New York-based human resources consultants Buck Consultants, Inc., found that 47% of U.S. Business out-source at least some functions of their human resource and employee benefit plans. The trend is indeed strongest at big companies, but regulations have developed to the point where it's hard to keep current unless you are full-time in that business (i.e. Workers' Compensation and health care), and many companies find that activity only peripherally related to their core business. Yet they are profoundly volatile high-risk kinds of activities for companies to just dabble in.

Small and large companies alike can benefit from the services of KELSI in the areas of payroll, unemployment, Workers' Compensation and health care benefits. KELSI, unlike other employee leasing services, is backed by a board of directors/officers that are experts in those fields of operations—accounting, operations management, benefits, unemployment and banking. This is a deliberate action on the part of the owners to provide the finest quality of services in the PEO marketplace.

Call Doris Clarkson or Scott Kelly at KELSI, located in Waterford at 4000 West Walton Boulevard, phone (248) 618-8793, to get the details of how they may assist you in the efficient management of your company's resources.

New Oakland Child-Adolescent & Family Center

In all families, there is conflict to some degree. However, in some families, the conflict may be so severe and destructive that it prevents the family from growing and relating to one another in healthy ways. The mental health professionals at New Oakland Child-Adolescent & Family Center, located in nearby Davisburg, are experts in helping children, adolescents and adults deal with life stressors, depression, substance abuse and serious emotional and mental illness. The focus at New Oakland is on pro-active approaches to empower the family with the tools to meet life's challenges.

Executive Medical Director Dr. Ismail B. Sendi of New Oakland has created a unique service for those whose personal crisis may not be adequately addressed in a weekly or bi-weekly counseling session. Face-to-Face, a less restrictive, less costly, alternative to psychiatric hospitalization has been successfully treating children, teens and adults since 1994. The client attends daily therapeutic programming for seven to ten days. Intensive work on the crisis is done through daily individual and group therapies, milieu activities and twice-weekly family sessions. Additionally, there are two to three meetings each week with the child-adolescent-adult psychiatrist to explore medication options. Program options include traditional outpatient services, intensive outpatient services, medication, review and monitoring services. It also includes Face-to-Face Days from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., and Face-to-Face Evenings from 3:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.; Face-to-Face also provides intensive specialty programs for the treatment of substance abuse, eating disorders, bedwetting and assessment for Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD).

If you or someone you know is struggling with life's challenges, give the professionals at New Oakland Child-Adolescent & Family Center a call at (248) 346-1100 for information on services. The center is located in Davisburg at 12051 Fountain Square Drive, Suite 106.

Halloween show

"If you watch some of the Muppets, the rod is what can make the head and hands move," Penrose explains. Today, she designs caricatures in polymer clay for her fellow Players, and presents them as keepsakes after shows.

As a child growing up in America, Nelson was doing much the same thing. He recalls the plays and puppet shows he put on in his parents' basement.

Capitalizing on his love for Broadway, Nelson would write his own scripts for shows like "Annie" and "Mame" and enact them with his marionettes. Sometimes his creativity got him into trouble. With a chuckle, he relays the time he was "grounded" because he used his mother's Tide for falling snow.

He was in trouble again when he used a Lazy Susan for a revolving stage in his puppet production of "Flower Drum Song."

After graduating with a bachelor's in theater design from Wayne State University, he met his future wife while both were working at Michigan Opera Theater. After marriage, they founded Off Broadway Productions.

Today, it's evident Nelson's love for Broadway flourishes. In Frankenstein Follies, for instance, Witch Hazel has the same breathy purr as one of his favorite musical stars, Carol Channing.

Nelson and Penrose guarantee children will be enchanted with the production. They're already planning another puppet show for Jan. 29 and 30. "Jack and the Beanstalk" will be performed with an original musical score. The production will feature rod puppets and a body ("human") puppet for the giant -- much like the techniques in "The Muppet Show," Penrose says.

Future goals include touring puppet shows to local schools, and creating a "portable" puppet stage for Depot Theater. The company would like to produce at least one puppet show per year.

Getting more use out of Depot Theater is something the Players have talked about for a long time. Recently, there was a music ensemble, and comedy and variety nights are also planned.

Meanwhile, "Frankenstein Follies" is a good option for youngsters this Halloween, says Penrose. "It's funny and kid-friendly."

"Frankenstein Follies" takes place Sunday, Oct. 24, at Depot Theater, 4861 White Lake Road in Clarkston. There are two performances, at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m.

Tickets are $5 at the door. For more information, call 625-8811.

THE LAW & YOU

by Robert Kostin
Attorney at Law

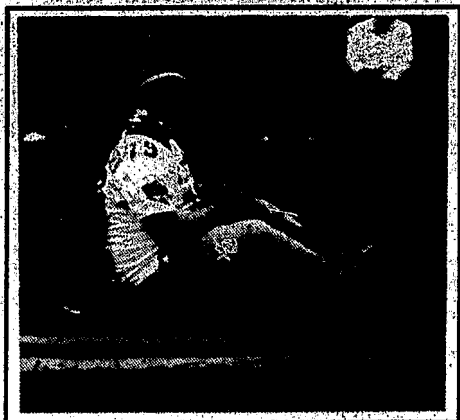

AS A MATTER IN-FACT

The written document known as a power of attorney enables a person to appoint someone to manage his or her personal affairs in the event that he or she should become ill or incapacitated and cannot act for him or herself. Known as an attorney-in-fact, this person can be a spouse, child, or anyone else of the principal's choosing. The attorney-in-fact, however, need not be an attorney. Nor is he or she required to undertake law-related transactions. The attorney-in-fact is, however, the person designated by the principal to pay bills, make banking transactions, and even initiate a lawsuit in the principal's name. As such, the person so designated should be notably trustworthy.

Today there are more attorneys than ever to choose from, and we want you to know why you should choose our law office. Here at 11 North Main St., we try to treat clients the way we would want to be treated if we were the client and not the attorney. With the complexities of the law and society, it is a good idea to seek a periodic legal review to better understand your rights as well as responsibilities. For matters involving family law, real estate, business law, civil litigation, personal injury, and criminal defense, call 620-1030.

HINT: Unlike the durable power of attorney, power of attorney does not survive the death or disability of the principal.

School board audit 'clean'

Craig Kahler, director of business services, said completion of the renovations at the school should be in August of 2000.

Change orders for Pine Knob Elementary totaling $41,312 for replacing copper pipes in the water system, and Independence Elementary totaling $36,646 for a storm water management system were approved 5-0.

During his monthly technology report, Matt McCarty said all personal computers which need replacing in Tier 1 elementary schools will be replaced within the next couple of weeks.

A presentation was given by Bill Potvin, principal of Andersonville Elementary School, on the Teacher Assistance Team initiative. The project has been installed at Andersonville since 1994, and consists of teacher and parent feedback on a particular child's needs.

"It provides an open forum for discussion and an opportunity for collaboration. I get another snapshot of the child in my class," said Kathy McEwen, a first grade teacher at the school.

Potvin said a child's history is reviewed, allowing for brainstorming on how best to find goals and objectives for each child.

He said Bailey Lake and Independence elementaries will begin the program at their schools, and other area elementary schools also are showing interest.

"It has a tremendous impact on our school. I've seen the direct benefit to kids," Potvin said.

Kitchen staff at Clarkston Middle School were recognized for efforts beyond the call of duty when they managed to serve hot meals to the students despite delays with food service equipment. Those recognized were Betty Smith, manager; Lola Armstrong, Ann Collier, Sharon Chamberlain, Teresa Horn, Theresa Jenkinson, Judy Vickers and Lula Wilson.

Upcoming meetings include: Oct. 18 from 6-8 p.m., the board will hold a special session to discuss a public relations/communications plan for the district; Nov. 1 from 6-8 p.m., a special board session to discuss board operations/responsibilities; and Nov. 17 at 6 p.m. the board will attend the OCSBA dinner meeting at Clarkston High School.

Also from Oct. 21-24, the Michigan Association of School Boards Annual Fall Leadership Conference will take place. Although board members said they will attend the conference, they have signed a draft letter that disagrees with the admission of vendors such as Richard DeVos, "a prominent proponent of vouchers in the State of Michigan," according to the letter.

The letter states the board disagrees with the use of vouchers, tuition tax credits, and "other schemes that undermine public education."

Clarkston Road versus busing

Dr. Roberts said concerns with the district's growing student population and bus driver absenteeism have "compounded" the situation.

"We need to make sure all kids get to school safely," he said.

Tilley said Tuesday she was unhappy with the response.

"No one ever notified us as parents about the spring meetings," Tilley said. She said in the past two years, her child was able to ride a bus to and from school.

She added that in recent weeks, the bus which used to pick up her child arrives at the school half full, and makes stops very close to her home.

"In my opinion, I don't think they're really concerned. No one gives you the same story every time."

SKIN DEEP

NICKEL ALLERGY

The exact mechanism by which people become allergic to nickel is unknown. For some, the allergic reaction occurs after only brief contact with the metal, while others develop an allergic reaction after years of contact. Piercing of the ears, or other body parts, and wearing jewelry alloyed with nickel sometimes initiates the allergy. In any case, a nickel allergy may be determined by virtue of a patch test administered by a dermatologist. This involves the application of tiny bits of allergens to areas of skin on the patient's back to determine whether there is an allergic reaction to nickel. If so, the redness and itching can be treated with topical steroid cream, after which nickel should be avoided.

Dermatologists are medical doctors, specializing in skin problems and diseases. We are best able to advise and treat various conditions ranging from contact allergies, rashes and irritations to shingles and skin cancers. Independence Township prepares to debate Thendara Park paving assessment to deal with the matter at the 2000 budget hearings, Oct. 11 and 12.

According to Clerk Joan McCrary, the $2.4 million Thendara Park road paving project took place in 1990. The subdivision residents decided to finance the project through a 15-year SAD. The bonds are scheduled to be paid off in 2004. However, the township is projecting a $430,000 deficit, due to the following reasons.

- A $102,000 loss to the Thendara Park SAD fund is due to the derivatives investment loss suffered under former township treasurer John Lutz.

- Construction overrun costs came to $200,000-250,000. "The terrain and drainage was much more extensive than we thought," McCrary said.

- There is a projected $100,000 loss in interest because some of the residents paid their assessments off early.

- There was an accounting error, due to a miscalculation in bond payments.

However, McCrary added, the township has been contributing approximately $17,000-$34,000 to the Thendara Park fund for several years. She confirmed the issue would be on the Nov. 2 board meeting agenda.

Following the discussion, concerned Thendara residents gathered in the Independence Township Library's hallway.

"They're not getting another penny over the $10,000 I paid off," said Laura Keenan. "What really angers me is they knew about this for six years and I'm finding out about it now. I'm not paying for their mistake."

Karol Massacesi of Huron Street said residents selling their homes were required to pay their assessments off first "so no new homeowner was responsible for it. We chose to pay ours off."

However, Rick Crigger of Michigamme, a Clarkston School Board member, said he thought the board made the right decision to wait until more homeowners could be present. "I give them credit for that," Crigger said.

Stuart suggested two options for payment. The township could foot the entire bill, which means all residents would pay for it through taxes in the general fund. Or, Thendara Park residents would be reassessed.

Stuart said he planned to make a recommendation at the budget hearings, but declined to name it. "This is an issue we are going to deal with," he said. The board is scheduled to approve the 2000 budget at its next meeting at the library, Oct. 19, following a public hearing.

■ Asked why the salary adjustments issue for the top three officials was pulled from the agenda Tuesday, Stuart said he, McCrary and Treasurer Jim Wenger are in the process of preparing a response to the salary committee. McCrary said that matter is also expected to be part of the Nov. 2 meeting agenda.

Teen party raided by police early Sunday morning

CHS athletes.

The 18-year-old resident who hosted the party, while his parents were out of town, was cited for MIP, as well as host ordinance violation and disorderly conduct because of the loud noise. He has been cited for two prior alcohol-related offenses, police said.

Reports said it took all three officers to force their way into the apartment, where teens were pushing on the other side.

Two girls, 15 and 16, were released to one of the girls' mothers, police said. Parents should be aware that police aren't obligated to notify parents of children who have been drinking if they are 17 or older, LaBair said. That goes for other misdemeanors like marijuana use, traffic violations and driver's license suspensions.

At 17, teens are considered by law to be adults. "That's the magic number," LaBair said. "Under the state's criminal statutes, you're responsible for your actions." Calling parents is a "courtesy" gesture, not required, he added.

"It is a crime to drink below the age of majority. But if the limit reaches the legal limits of intoxication, we normally wouldn't be bound to do that," he said.

There's no guarantee the youths can simply pay their fines in 52-2 District Court and that's the end of it, LaBair said. All could face possible restrictions — or even suspensions — of their driver's licenses if they have prior alcohol-related offenses. This falls under Michigan's new sanctions for minors who consume alcohol. They don't even have to be behind the wheel, LaBair said, for those sanctions to take effect.

A spokesperson at the substation said several parents called about their children. Although he's not obligated, McClure said he plans to return every call.

"Parents are the most important part of the puzzle (when it comes to alcohol use)," he said. "They should be with their kids in court. That party last night represents a wide spectrum in the community" of teen alcohol use."

The purpose of citations "is not to issue them a ticket. We're writing these tickets because we want to change your behavior," McClure said. "We want to send the message that alcohol is a dangerous activity."

The road to the Class A State Cross Country championship has passed through Oakland County the past three years.

If the Clarkston boys cross country team has its way, that streak will be extended this year.

The Wolves captured their first Oakland County title in school history Saturday with a first-place finish at the Oakland County Meet, at Kensington Metropark. Clarkston's 80 points were five better than runner-up and defending state champion Novi. Milford was a distant third with 120 points.

Senior Kevin Breen said the race was a matter of the team coming together and running well as a group.

"We trust each other," he said. "We had very good grouping, and Dave (Sage) led the way up front. We all dropped our times, except for me. We wanted to win this real bad, and to beat last year's state champs."

The Wolves placed five runners in the top 25 overall, led by Sage's third-place time of 16:09. Matt Haver took

Wolves bring home win, playoff spot

The bitterness of the Oct. 1 loss to Troy was spat out, erased, and replaced by the same time the following week.

The Clarkston varsity football team treated a large Homecoming crowd to a 35-14 win over the Rochester Adams Highlanders Friday night. The win not only clinched Clarkston's first playoff spot since 1996, but also vaulted it back into a first-place tie in the OAA Division I, thanks to Troy's 38-24 loss to Rochester.

The Wolves, now 6-1 overall and 3-1 in the OAA I, host Berkley in the last home game of the regular season Friday night. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

The conclusion of the Homecoming win was a time for smiles and high-fives for the Wolves, knowing one of their preseason goals has been achieved. But the players and coaches remained focused on the bigger picture after the game.

"We have to keep doing what we're doing and concentrate on playing well heading into the playoffs," said senior Andy North. "We have to focus on doing the fundamentals well and keeping our heads together."

Junior quarterback Ryan Kaul, who had his best game of the season, said it isn't good enough for the team to rest on its six wins and automatic playoff spot.

"We want to finish 8-1," he said. "And we want a home game for the playoffs. We know we have to keep going strong the last two games."

Friday's win was as complete a victory as Clarkston's had all season. Despite the constant mist that floated down from the sky, Clarkston's passing game clicked from the opening drive. Kaul finished the game completing 11-of-17 passes for a career-high 165 yards and two touchdowns.

Senior TB Chris Mitchell, held in check in the first half, pounded the final nail in Adams' coffin with a 60-yard touchdown sprint early in the fourth quarter after the Highlanders closed a 21-0 deficit to 21-14. Mitchell finished with

Tough Captains sink cagers; Lathrup up next

Oakland County's top team too much for Clarkston

	Wat. Kettering	51
	Clarkston	32

BY BRAD MONASTIERE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Regardless of where each team stands in the rankings, Clarkston and Waterford Kettering always seem to produce competitive basketball matchups.

In their latest meeting Thursday night, Kettering made a statement early and was rarely threatened in a 51-32 win over the Wolves. The loss drops Clarkston to 6-6 overall and 1-5 in the OAA Division I. Kettering, ranked as the best team in Oakland County, is now 10-1 on the season.

The Wolves have played the good teams tough this season, leading Rochester at halftime and being tied with Oxford in the third quarter of games earlier this season. However, a good start was not in the cards for the Wolves at Kettering.

The Captains, led by All-County candidates Andrea Hillsey and Devon Hillstrom, jumped out to a 30-17 halftime lead and never looked back. Kettering outscored Clarkston by six, seven, and six points in the first three quarters before the fourth was played to a 10-10 tie.

Senior captain Rachel Uchman, Clarkston's most consistent player all season, led the team with 10 points, including her first 3-pointer of the season. Senior Candace Morgan tossed in nine while sophomore Emily Butzine scored four.

Clarkston gets a break from the tough OAA I schedule Wednesday when it hosts Southfield Lathrup. The Wolves are off until Oct. 19 when they travel to Oak Park.

■ Clarkston 40 Pontiac Central 14.

Senior Lindsey Prudhomme looks for an open teammate during the first quarter of the Oct. 5 game against Pontiac Central. The Wolves host Southfield Lathrup Wednesday.

The Wolves broke a four-game losing streak in an emphatic way Oct. 5 at the CHS gym with a big win over the Chiefs.

Clarkston was in complete command of the game throughout, carrying a 27-10 lead into halftime and easing to victory from there.

"We were motivated in this game," coach Ann Lowney said. "With everything we've been through, we came out and worked on different things and executed. There was no letdown, and we played hard for 32 minutes."

Nine out of the team's 12 players scored, led by Uchman's 10. Senior Lindsey Prudhomme was aggressive, scoring nine points, seven coming in the first quarter, to go along with two rebounds, two assists and a steal. Freshman Kira Karlstrom scored five, and Candace Morgan added five and had two boards and two assists.

136 yards on 21 carries, and a career-high three touchdowns. He scored Clarkston's final two touchdowns in the game.

Clarkston coach Kurt Richardson clinching a playoff spot was a nice feeling, but knew bigger challenges await his team.

"This is our primary goal," he said. "But just because we're in the playoffs doesn't mean we can let down now. I want us to finish 8-1 and have a couple playoff games here.

"I don't want to look ahead too far, but I'd sure like to see Troy again."

The Clarkston defense turned in an outstanding effort as well, forcing five Adams turnovers and making a key stand early in the game, which forced an eventual missed field goal with five minutes left in the first quarter.

On the next drive, Kaul connected on three straight passes, the last a 36-yard rainbow to senior WR Steve Schornak that put Clarkston up 7-0 near the end of the first quarter.

Kaul then fired four straight completions on the next drive, all to North. The scoring pass on that drive was actually intended for Ryan Briceland, but Kaul was hit as soon as he threw the ball, ending up hitting a wide-open North perfectly in stride for a 25-yard touchdown strike.

caught fire. Ian Ramsey recovered a fumble, and Ryan Thomas picked off a pass, killing Adams' next two drives after running a total of seven plays.

Mitchell scored on a fourth-and-goal play with 16 seconds left in the half, giving the Wolves a 21-0 lead.

Wednesday night was Senior Night at the CHS natatorium, as the team honored its first group of senior swimmers.

Those seniors have seen the Wolves go 3-4 in their first seven meets, while making impressive strides each time.

Clarkston lost to Lapeer 105-81 in its most recent meet, despite setting four school records in the process.

Coach Kenwyn Chock said she's been particularly pleased with the improvement the team has made in the freestyle events.

"Most high school events are based on freestyle, and if you have a team who does that well, it will be successful," Chock said. "We struggled early in that, but we have been coming around and are very competitive in all the freestyle events."

The Wolves set three more school records against Lapeer, which is a consolidated team between Lapeer East and West High Schools.

Senior Krista Roschek was a part of two of those freestyle records, setting a new mark in the 200 free with a time of 2:24.99, shattering her own mark. She was also a member of the 400 free relay, along with Danielle Buzzo, Megan Williams and Katie Osterhage, who finished with a time of 4:45.7, an eight-second improvement.

Kelly Orris broke her own school record in the 100 breaststroke with a time of 1:24.71. The 200 free relay team of Teresa Kuhta, Diana Doyle, Williams and Buzzo also set a new mark with a time of 2:08.

"The girls swam really well, but Lapeer has an all-star team," Chock said. "They went 1-2-3 in diving, and that was a factor in the meet."

Clarkston wraps up regular season action Tuesday when it travels to Southfield Lathrup. The Wolves will be in a four-way relay meet with Farmington Mercy, Troy and Southfield on Oct. 28. The OAA III Meet is scheduled for Nov. 3-5 at Lake Orion.

Athlete of the Week: Mike Licata

Salut, Mike: A dart-quick forward on the varsity boys soccer team, senior Mike Licata has been one of the catalysts for the Wolves this season. He is one of the team's top goal-scorers this season, and tallied two in the team's gutty 3-1 win over Waterford Mott on Oct. 4. Licata is in his third season on the varsity team and has played roles in Clarkston's two consecutive district championships. He gives the team solid leadership as well as a player who can take care of the ball in the middle of the field, among traffic. His experience against tough competition will be needed when the Wolves gun for their third straight district title later this month at Rochester Adams. Mike carries a 3.25 grade point average and is considering attending either Central Michigan University, or Western Michigan University.

Coach Dan Fitzgerald on Mike: "Mike's a guy who is a good passer, a good dribbler, and can hold the ball while the rest of the team catches up to him up the field. He has a lot of composure with the ball, which is an important skill to have. He has shown good leadership for us and is a good guy to have on the team."

Mike on Mike: "I try to set a good example for the younger players through my play. I think I use my body well in positioning the ball away from the defenders, and I like stopping other people from advancing with it. I think we have been an inconsistent team this season, and we need more consistency as we had into districts. If we keep playing hard and playing as a team, we will do well."

Golfers struggle to 8th place at regional meet

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It was an end that did not do justice to the beginning and middle.

After a strong season, highlighted by a third-place finish at the Oakland County Meet, the Clarkston golf team struggled at Friday's regional meet and finished a lower-than-expected eighth place.

Coach Tim Kaul said he was disappointed in the finish, especially after how competitive Clarkston had been in many of its previous tournaments.

"We just didn't play well at all," he said. "I'm almost at a loss to explain what happened and why it happened. We were psyched out entering the tournament, and we didn't do a good job of adjusting at all."

Senior Mark Churay, who played his best golf at last year's regional and qualified for the state tournament, struggled to a final score of 86. Freshman Dustin McMillan was a bright spot for Clarkston, finishing first on the team in his first regional meet with a score of 83.

Jeff Walters was second on the team with a score of 85. Matt Harrison shot an 88 and Dave Benner finished 91.

"The other teams sucked it up and played well," Kaul said. "It's a shame we didn't come up bigger than we did, because we did so well in spots during the year."

The Wolves finished 7-4 in dual meets on the season, and played in the second OAA Division I Meet Tuesday.

The Clarkston News - 625-3370

The Wolves are in the playoffs - now what?

This year, the MHSAA has adopted a new football playoff system, allowing twice as many teams to qualify for the postseason as before. It's a complex system, and one that does not tell fans much until after the regular season is over.

Q: How did Friday's win clinch a playoff spot?

A: This year, all teams with six wins or more automatically qualify for the playoffs. The win over Adams improved Clarkston's record to 6-1 overall, clinching the spot.

Q: Who is in Clarkston's region?

A: That won't be known until Selection Sunday, Oct. 24. All teams in the state with a record of 6-3 or better will be put on a list, and they will be divided into eight divisions of 32 teams each. Those 32 teams will be divided into four regions, with teams being aligned according to geography as much as possible.

Q: When will we find out who Clarkston plays and where?

A: The MHSAA's selection show will air on Fox Sports Detroit on Sunday, Oct. 24 at 6 p.m. The matchups and sites will also be revealed at that time. The home team has the option of whether to play the game Friday night or Saturday afternoon.

Q: What is Clarkston's playoff history?

A: This is the fourth time in school history Clarkston will be going to the playoffs. The team is 1-3 in previous games, splitting games with Monroe (1994 and 1995) and losing to Troy (1994) and Dearborn Fordson (1996).

Beware the Bears

What: Clarkston Wolves vs.

Berkley Bears

Where: CHS Stadium

When: 7 p.m. Friday.

What to Expect: A tougher-than-you-think game. Berkley enters this week's contest one of the hottest teams in Oakland County and on a five-game winning streak. The team's most impressive win came two weeks ago, a 34-20 win at Waterford Mott.

The Bears have clinched at least a share of the OAA Division II title after struggling to sub-.500 finishes each of the past four seasons.

Last Week: Adams struggled, but defeated Royal Oak Kimball 21-14 to keep the OAA Division I undefeated in non-league play.

Recent History: Sept. 27, 1996: Clarkston 20, Adams 13; Sept. 26, 1997: Clarkston 34, Adams 30; Oct. 14, 1998: Adams 20, Clarkston 19.

Just Because: The Highlanders got off to a 3-0 start this season, outscoring its opponents by a combined score of 120-6. However, those three teams now have a combined record of 2-16.

eighth overall with a time of 16:51. He was followed by Brett Quantz (20th, 17:17), Breen (24th, 17:18) and Dan Burke (25th, 17:22).

Breen credited the team's mental toughness and experience to winning the county title.

"If you aren't mentally tough, then you're done," he said. "At least 20 percent of the race is mental, and that's something we are good at."

And as far as being the next team to go from Oakland County champs to state champs? Breen said the guys are aiming as high as they can.

"We were all over at my house after Homecoming, and we saw the names on the trophy," he said. "All those teams were state champs, and if we stay healthy and keep working hard, I think we can do it."

Boys tune up with win over Troy

The Wolves prepared for their victory at the county meet by stuffing Troy 19-40 in an OAA I dual meet at the CHS course Oct. 5.

Sage led the way with a 16:14, followed by Haver (16:53), Quantz (17:15) and Breen (17:15). With the win, Clarkston improved to 5-0 on the season. The Wolves can wrap up the league title with a victory at the OAA I Meet Thursday, Oct. 21.

The girls had a tougher time with Troy, losing 11-35, despite another terrific race from Fischer.

She finished in first overall with a time of 19:48. The Wolves were doomed by Troy finishing 2-3-4 in the race. Fischer also led the way for the Wolves in the county meetin, finishing seventh overall, helping the team to a sixth-place finish.

Clarkston's Carla Delvecchio was fifth overall with a time of 21:04.

The girls dropped to 1-4 this season.

Tennis team takes fourth place at regionals

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston girls tennis team headed to Troy High School Friday morning for the regional meet and found the hosts to be anything but courteous.

Troy beat Clarkston in four out of seven flights at the regional tournament, which saw the Wolves finish in fourth place with a team score of eight points. The Colts won the regional title with a score of 20, followed by Farmington Mercy and West Bloomfield.

The meet concluded Clarkston's 1999 season, the first for head coach Beth Manojlovich. She said she was impressed with how hard the players worked from the start of the season.

"Playing at the Division II level (of the OAA), you can't take anything for granted," she said. "But these girls worked as hard as the girls in Division I did and I am really pleased with that."

All four of Clarkston's singles players - Courtney Schubering, Lauren Stout, Allison Ollinger and Emily Tate - won their first matches at regionals, but three of the four lost to Troy in the semifinals.

Schubering avenged a regular season loss with a win over Troy Athens. Stout and Ollinger breezed past Southfield in the first round, while Tate beat Walled Lake Western 6-1, 6-2 before losing to Troy. Ollinger was defeated by Farmington Mercy in the semifinals.

The number one doubles team of Becky Knott and Michelle Dodge eased to victory over Walled Lake Western 6-1, 6-1 before losing to - you guessed it - Troy in the semifinals.

The three doubles team of Andrea Gibson and Sarah Sweeney whipped Waterford Mott in the first round 6-1, 6-0, and fell in a grueling match to Troy 4-6, 7-6, 4-6.

"That was the highlight for us," Manojlovich said of Gibson's and Sweeney's match.

For the third straight season, the Wolves finished just short of capturing the OAA II title, losing one league dual match all season - to Troy Athens - and finishing in second place in the league meet, just one point behind the Red Hawks.

The OAA will change its divisions before the start of the 2000 season as part of its annual two-year realignment. Should Athens get bumped up to Division I, the door would be open for the Wolves to win the league.

"Our doubles teams really started clicking towards the end of the season," Manojlovich said. "They became more aggressive and started putting teams away."

JV Football

Clarkston's JV football team is bringing back memories of last year's 9-0 team in more ways than one.

The Wolves have found ways to win games in many different forms on their way to a 7-0 record. The latest dramatic chapters in the 1999 season were written with a 21-0 win over Rochester Adams Oct. 7, and a 21-20 win over Troy Sept. 30. It marked the first time Clarkston has defeated Troy two years in a row.

Coach Doug Colling credited the mental toughness of his team for finding ways to win.

"We've shut out Adams for two years in a row, and I think it says a lot about this football team," he said. "We have been playing excellent defense, and that's going to carry us through the rest of the season."

Against the Highlanders, the Wolves were able to shut down the wing-T offense thanks mainly to the efforts of Mike Vercauteren and his defensive teammates. Vercauteren recorded a sack, fumble recovery, and eight tackles from his nose guard position.

Quarterback Matt Mahrie played a strong all-around game, running 66 yards for a touchdown, and throwing a 13-yard scoring strike to Mike Blicher. Shane Bennett added a rushing touchdown, while Eric McKnight converted all three extra-point attempts.

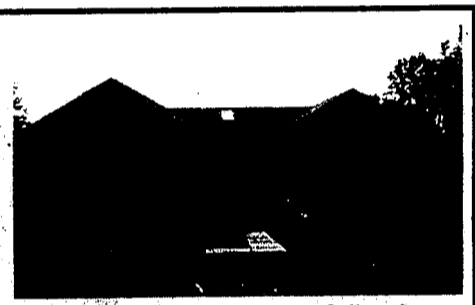

"I would have bet my paycheck that we wouldn't be 7-0, if you asked me at the start of the season," Colling said. "We can't look past Berkley, but it looks like we're headed for a game with Lake Orion the last week of the season with both teams undefeated."

Richard W. 'Dick' Longpre

Richard W. "Dick" Longpre died suddenly Oct. 8, 1999 at age 72. Mr. Longpre retired from 7-11 after 23 years of ownership and was recently employed by Pinkerton Security. Prior to that, he served in the Navy during WWII.

He was the loving father of Jill (Chet) Morrison, David, Suzy (Bob) Spring Fluck, Paula (Martin) Rathsburg and Lynn Spring Brooks. He was the loving grandfather of Marty, Amy and Danny Rathsburg, Britton and Kelli Morrison, Emily, John and Heidi Fluck and Kyle and Michael Brooks.

Mr. Longpre was the brother of Larry (Sharon) Longpre, Peg (Dave) Luebbert, Tom (Nancy) Longpre and Sharon (Ray) Smith.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Barbara. Mr. Longpre also enjoyed flying, traveling and was an avid reader.

Visitation with the family will be at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 14, with Memorial Mass at 10 a.m. at St. Daniel Catholic Church in Clarkston. Memorials may be made to Lighthouse North of Clarkston or the American Heart Association.

With playoff spot in hand, greater goals await Wolves

The scene: the Clarkston High School cafeteria, around 9:45 p.m. Friday night. Sweaty football players wore big, natural smiles. Enthusiastic students hopped from table to table, discussing plans for that night and the Homecoming Dance the next night. Parents sat back, satisfied with the effort their sons put forth on the football field.

It was a fun time to be involved with the Clarkston football program. The Wolves defeated Rochester Adams 35-14, clinching their first playoff spot in three years. A time like this is always one worth soaking up, rolling around in, but the team wasted little time in such pleasures.

Right after the game, talking to coach Kurt Richardson and several players, thoughts immediately turned from clinching a playoff spot, to playing well the last two weeks of the regular season, and hosting a playoff game.

"We want to go 8-1 and have a playoff game at home," said QB Ryan Kaul, who had a tremendous game against Adams.

The last time the Wolves were in the playoffs was a time that holds no good memories for anyone involved. It was a cold November Saturday afternoon, and the Wolves were subject to injury and insult, losing 34-20 to Dearborn Fordson.

That loss has tugged at the players and coaching staff ever since. While it's too early to try and forecast who Clarkston's first-round opponent will be, it's not too early to apply the lessons learned from that game.

All season, this team has been very goal-oriented, and the first big one is out of the way. Now the focus turns to playing well and beating a hot Berkley team and an outstanding Lake Orion team. Here's hoping we get the treat of hosting a playoff game in the new stadium. Anyone ready to stand in line for tickets?

■ Congrats to the boys cross country team and their terrific accomplishment of winning the Oakland County title Saturday at Kensington Metropark.

I like what this team has done this season, and the way it has gone about doing it. For two years, everyone in the cross country community knew Clarkston would be good. A group of sophomores nearly led the team to the OAA Division I championship, but arch-rival Jordan Desilets and Lake Orion kept getting in the way.

Last season saw a sixth runner join the "Fab Five" of David Sage, Matt Haver, Kevin Breen, Chris Weber and Dan Burke. Brett Quantz joined the team after a couple excellent seasons running long distance events for the boys track team.

The Wolves gained their biggest victory as a group when they beat Desilets and Lake Orion at last season's league meet, overcoming a big physical and mental hurdle.

This season, I have been very impressed with the team's confidence in itself, and the way it has delivered the expected results. There are few tougher things in sports than living up to high expectations. But this team has done that, a testament to their mental toughness, confidence and coaching by Mike Taylor. None of the league dual meets have been close, and the Wolves can finish it off with a good performance at the league meet Oct. 21.

To put the county title the team just won into perspective, consider this. The last three teams to win the county title - Novi in 1998 and Lakeland in 1996 and 1997 - went on to win the Class A state title. And the runners are not shying away from talking about it.

"I think we can do it," Breen said. "If we work hard enough and stay healthy, we will be right there.

Rockford and Grand Ledge are tough, but we believe in ourselves."

"We know every time we come into a meet, we are preparing ourselves for states," Sage said. "All the guys have been running well, and we want to take this all the way."

The Wolves have been victims of near-misses in the past two regional meets, missing out on qualifying for the state meet by a handful of points. Don't count them out this year. A team with talent and confidence in itself can go a very long way. Let Rockford and Grand Ledge be warned.

■ Poor Tom Tippen. After three years of sticking out his chest - usually covered with something maize and blue - he will have to deal with Spartan Pride coming from Mike Prudhomme for the next year, after Michigan State's 34-31 win over Michigan Saturday.

There must be something about me watching this particular game that causes Michigan to play awful and State to have the best game of their collective lives. I was in Spartan Stadium in 1993 when Tyrone Wheatley suddenly forgot how to run and carry a football at the same time, rushing for six yards in a 12-6 MSU win.

I did not see the game in 1994, because it was the infamous Central-Western weekend. Of course, Michigan was in top form, winning 40-20.

In 1995, I watched the game at my friend James' apartment as Tony Banks rallied MSU twice in the fourth quarter to win 28-25.

Because of other commitments, I didn't catch much of the games in 1996, 1997 and 1998, of course all easy wins by the Wolverines. So you see, Michigan was doomed from the moment I plopped on my couch at kickoff.

While Tippen has spent much of the past week cursing Plaxico Burress, we now get to find out what a good singing voice he has (see last week's column).
