City urges businesses to hook up to water now

Public hearing tonight at Independence Township Fire Hall on Citation Dr. at 7 p.m.

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The issue of whether or not the City of the Village of Clarkston will hook up to the water supply of Independence Township was the topic of discussion April 13 at City Hall.

The water subcommittee, made up of Scott Meyland, Bill Basinger, Doug Roeser and Steve Arkwright hosted a "pre public hearing" for Clarkston business owners. Roughly 20 people attended the meeting.

The point of the meeting was to help area business owners become better informed on the issue. The water subcommittee told area business owners that hooking up to the Independence Township water supply now would make good sense rather than waiting until a later date.

The first phase of the three-phase plan would see a 12 inch water main installed down Main Street. Phases two and three would be constructed in a manner that makes the most sense Meyland said.

"It depends on the needs or if there's a more cost efficient way to lay the phases out," Meyland said.

Gary Tressel, city engineer, said it makes the most sense for water to be installed while M-15 is torn up for resurfacing from Paramus Street to I-75 in Independence Township and through the City. The Michigan Department of Transportation is slated to begin work on the resurfacing project in the spring of 2001.

"It will cost a lot more if we were to do this later," Tressel said. "People should remember that the state is going to do its work on M-15 whether this passes or not. Either way there's going to be about four or five months of disruption. We're trying to coordinate other things that will help the community at the same time," Tressel said.

The subcommittee said there are several reasons why there is a need to improve the water in Clarkston. First, as the community continues to grow and develop, the population becomes more dense. Thus, there is a

M-15 resurfaced this spring

BY EILEEN MCCARVILLE

At long last, M-15 is about to see the start of some improvements.

Township Engineer Randy Ford announced the road paving project — which will include some widening at major intersections — at the April 4 Independence Township Board of Trustees meeting.

Ford told the board M-15 will be resurfaced for nine miles, from I-75 north to the Genesee County line.

Thompson-McCully, a local asphalt company on White Lake Road which has been contracted to do the resurfacing, estimates the project will take approximately five months to complete. The repaving project will begin around May 1, anticipated to be completed by the end of September, Ford said.

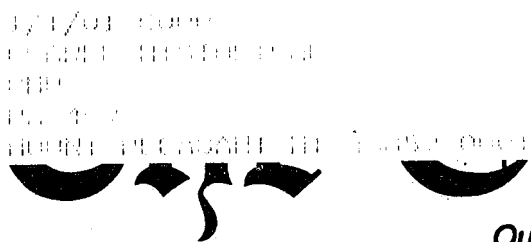

The project is being administered by Michigan Department of Transportation. The construction project

SCAMP goes silver

'A lot of good things have happened as an out-growth of SCAMP'

BY MARALEE COOK
Clarkston News Editor

Clarkston's SCAMP program, a summer camp for children and young adults with special needs, celebrates its silver anniversary this year.

Started in 1976, SCAMP has been a 25-year labor of love for the Clarkston community.

Seventy-five children participated in the first program. About 300 students from north Oakland County and south-eastern Genesee County participated last year.

It was started by a group of people who realized the need for a camp experience for kids with special needs, said Bob Brumback, who was one of the organizers of the program.

"We had a lot of help from a lot of people over the years. The community accepted the program because they could see it and feel it," Brumback said. He added the staff and volunteers told stories of their wonderful experiences, and the compassion that the student aides learned.

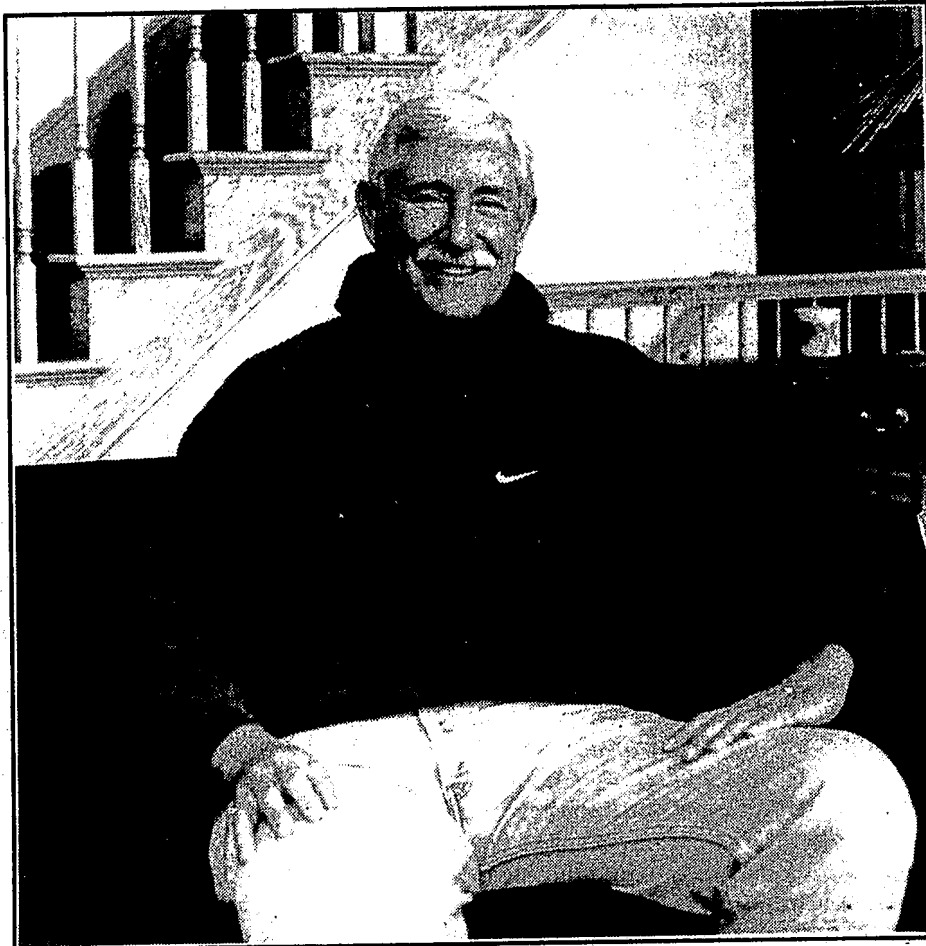

In 1976, Brumback was director of special education for Clarkston schools. As in most communities, Clarkston's impaired students were sent out of the district to centers for training during the school year. But when summer came, there were no organized activities for them to attend, he said.

"The kids were sent home in the summer, and communities didn't take to them back then. There were a lot of misunderstandings. Some people were afraid of Down's Syndrome (and other conditions). Now they understand the mentally impaired are sweet and can be good workers. It's a changing scene out there."

Brumback was also personally familiar with the challenges facing the mentally impaired and their families. His wife, Pat Brumback, currently assistant superintendent of Clarkston schools and director of special education, has a brother who is multiply impaired.

Brumback sought help from the Bloomfield Hills school district which at that time had had a summer program for five years.

"They helped us get organized. They had programs run through the schools for speech and hearing impairments and some for youngsters with emotional problems." Clarkston and Bloomfield Hills are still the only two school districts in Oakland County with summer programs for the impaired, said Brumback.

Clarkston resident Bob Brumback was one of the organizers of the SCAMP program in 1976.

Clarkston schools donated facilities at Sashabaw Middle School for the first SCAMP program, but were not able to help with funding.

Some federal and state funding was available in those days. Jack Hunt, who at 92 is still active in the program, said Brumback, had a mentally impaired grandson, and was able to get a $5,000 grant from the Oakland County Association for Retarded Children. "It made the difference in our ability to get going," said Brumback.

Brumback said he, Hunt and Don Place, who then worked for Oakland Intermediate Schools as a consultant for mentally impaired programs, organized community resources to get the first summer program off the ground. He added the former Jaycees and Jayettes clubs were instrumental in fundraising for the event.

The $5,000 grant, state and federal funding, community fundraising and a small tuition from the families paid for the first year program, said Brumback.

The paid staff also worked for less money. "In the early years the teachers' union was working with us and allowed a different pay scale," he added.

"We didn't want the families to be burdened by the cost because there are great costs associated with raising impaired kids.

Jim Butzine, a social worker for Clarkston schools and new to the community in 1976, was SCAMP's first director and ran the program for about five years. "He had a tremendous background, was dedicated . . . he poured himself into it," Brumback said.

"We started at Sashabaw Middle School and used Independence Oaks County Park for swimming and camping. We struck up a relationship with those folks that continues today.

"I can remember the faces of the kids in wheelchairs laughing," he said. "We would all cry on the last day. My brother-in-law still squeals at the mention of SCAMP."

Over the years, "when we were recruiting teachers for Clarkston schools, some would know about the program and want to work SCAMP. Others would be hooked after the first time," said Brumback. "We started a system of teaming teachers, paraprofessionals, student aides and volunteers. Now we have people who have been volunteers, then a paid aide and have gone to college and come back a paid professional."

The field of special education has seen great changes since the 1970s, Brumback said. "We started bringing kids back in the system in the late 1970s and early 1980s. Special education kids in Clarkston stay in the district. It's more accepted and data shows it makes a difference.

"In SCAMP we saw the gains being made because they were interacting with regular kids. A lot of good things have happened as an outgrowth of SCAMP."

Now that the kids are integrated year around, SCAMP is just as necessary because the staff at community recreation programs is not equipped to handle more impaired kids, said Brumback. "Summers are difficult, because it's still hard for wheel-chair bound kids to be active."

Brumback retired as director of special education in 1994. He now is a volunteer for SCAMP. "I'm the old man still hanging around," he jokes, then seriously, "It's special in my heart."

SCAMP has grown in numbers to about 300 students. Traditionally about 90 percent of the students have one or more disabilities (autism, mental and/or emotional impairment, learning disability, speech and language delay or physical handicap.) The remaining 10 percent are identified by school personnel as students "at risk" and in need of a positive summer experience.

This year SCAMP 2000 is projected to take place from June 26 through July 27.

In 1977 the North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corporation was established. It is a non-profit, non-sectarian, volunteer organization that is committed to raising the necessary funds to operate the Clarkston SCAMP Program.

The funds for the continuation of the program depend solely on the tuition of the participants and the Funding Corporation's efforts to solicit private donations and conduct fundraising events.

The actual cost per camper in 2000 is $665. The requested tuition for Clarkston families is $250 this year. The difference is funded by the North Oakland SCAMP Funding Corp. Those who can't afford it receive full funding through SCAMPERships.

Bay Court safety path a priority

BY EILEEN McCARVILLE

Linking pedestrians to Bay Court Park was the priority of Independence Township Board members in approving the 2000 Safety Path Program last week.

Parks and Recreation Director Ann Conklin told the board at the April 4 meeting she had received many requests from residents about whether this would be a priority area.

With approximately $545,000 available, the Safety Path Committee reviewed the following areas earlier for consideration:

■ Maybee Road from Sashabaw Road to the cemetery, estimated cost $197,000

■ Greenview Road from Clarkston Road to Pine Knob Road, estimated cost $740,000

■ Clarkston Road to the Orion Township line, estimated cost $93,000

■ Maybee Road, from Pine Knob Road to Clintonville Road, estimated cost $240,000

■ Andersonville Road from White Lake Court to the Springfield Township line, estimated cost $65,000

■ Andersonville Road from Bay Court Park to Clement Road, estimated cost $504,000

Two other potential projects included Hubbard Road, from Cranberry Pointe to Hubbard Hills on the opposite side of Independence Elementary School; and Clarkston Road, from Ranch Estates to the corner.

Conklin said, after much discussion and deliberation, the committee recommended Andersonville from Bay Court Park to Clement as the priority area. Construction is expected to begin in spring 2001.

After some discussion, the board authorized engineering for the project, 7-0. Conklin said township engineers will now develop engineering plans and bid the project. Final bids will return to the board for authorization to proceed.

Construction from the park entrance to Clement will be challenging, Conklin said, "because the houses are very close to the road."

Several board members noted the safety issue, including Trustee Dan Travis, who pointed to a recent fatal accident in which a 6-year-old boy was hit by a truck as he was crossing Andersonville from Lotus Lake near Clement. "Safety is the number one consideration," Travis said.

However, although he voted with the others to authorize the project, Trustee Neil Wallace noted Clement is a little-traveled road in Independence Township — and he was concerned about "directing children" and other pedestrians there.

Although Clement is a "priority route," explained Clerk Joan McCrary following the meeting, it does not have a safety path. She and others are concerned about pedestrians using Clement as a short cut from Andersonville to the White Lake safety path.

The path connects White Lake to the corner of Andersonville. However, there is no safety path from Andersonville to Clement because of the railroad tracks, she said.

McCrary described Clement as a "dark" area. "With all the shrubbery, it would not be safe at dusk. I don't know about during the day. I would not want to walk there myself," she said.

"I don't think the safety path is going to do that much for safety ... Safety paths attract people," Wallace agreed.

In response, Conklin told the board "the exact route" has not been finalized. "What we want is a connection to the park."

On Thursday, Conklin said "Clement was the alternative that we are looking at. Committee members are exploring the options."

Conklin said she anticipates summer safety path construction to include finishing the Clarkston Road route from Eston Road to Low Meadow Road to Greenview Road, pending easement acquisitions. Clarkston Road between Flemings Lake and Snowapple roads will also be completed, pending easement acquisitions, Conklin said. Minor repairs will be completed

Kyle Hughes wins national award

Kyle Hughes, coordinator of the OSMTech FIRST Robotics Team, received the Woodie Flowers Award at the FIRST National Competition held at the Disney Epcot Center on April 6-8. The Woodie Flowers Award is the highest honor accorded by FIRST to a teacher or engineer for their individual efforts to inspire and motivate students. The award celebrates effective communication and motivation of students in the art and science of engineering and design.

FIRST, which stands for "For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology," is a national competition with the goal of generating interest among young people in engineering. This is the fourth year that the Oakland Science Math Technology Academy has participated in the competition.

"It's like winning an Academy Award," said Hughes. "Getting this award is right up there with the day I got married, and each of the days I had my three children (Troy, 5; Courtney, 2; and Cody, 9 weeks)." Hughes' husband, Dennis is a DaimlerChrysler engineer and the family lives in Clarkston.

DaimlerChrysler is the sponsor for the OSMTech FIRST Robotics Team. Cindy Hess, DaimlerChrysler Vice President for Corporate Quality said, "We're proud of Kyle and the eight teams that DaimlerChrysler sponsored this year. Kyle is representative of the many fine adults who act as coaches and advisors to the teams."

Hughes, an eight-year teaching veteran, has taught at the OSMTech Academy for the past six years. OSMTech, located on the campus of the Oakland Technical Center in Clarkston, is a specialized math, science and technology high school with students from Clarkston, Brandon, Holly, Pontiac, Waterford, Lake Orion and Oxford school districts.

M-15 resurfacing to begin this spring

will be done in stages, with traffic shifted to one side of the road and construction taking place on the other side, Ford said.

The contract calls for two-way traffic to be maintained, utilizing a paved shoulder, but occasionally one lane will be closed with "flagmen" and warning signs to control traffic, Ford said. Most of the work will be done when traffic is lighter, including after the late afternoon rush hour. "The men will be working evenings and through the night," he said.

The following two intersections will see widening improvements:

■Cranberry Lake Road will be widened to six lanes with two through lanes, a center left turn lane and right turn lanes. A traffic light will be installed at the intersection.

■The Rattalee Lake/Hadley Road intersection will be widened to four lanes with one through lane, a center left turn lane, and right turn lanes.

There are no improvements scheduled for the Oakhill Road intersection. Also, no improvements will be made to the Hubbard Road intersection as this was redone a year ago, Ford said. The asphalt paving will be eight inches thick. Lanes will be 12 feet wide, with a seven-to-eight foot shoulder on each side of the road.

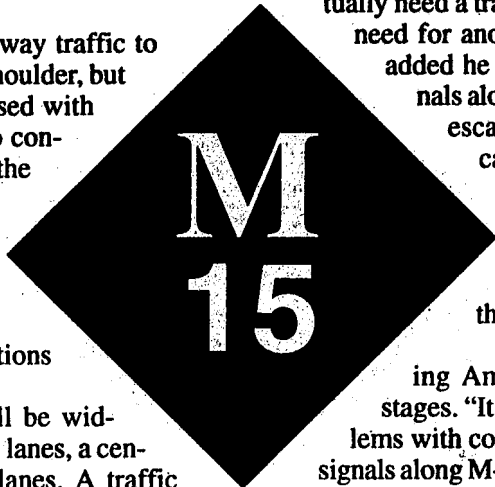

Ford said the project will be sensitive to residents who live along M-15. He said contact has been made with affected communities like Ortonville to alert them about the project.

Trustee Dan Travis noted Amy Drive, which is proposed to be extended west of M-15, will also eventually need a traffic signal. "There's going to be a need for another light there," he said. But he added he worried that, with additional signals along M-15, traffic congestion would escalate. "Traffic will be stalled because of the lights," Travis said.

In response to Trustee Larry Rosso's concern about existing safety paths, Ford said they would be "shifted" back from the road.

Ford said the concept of extending Amy Drive is only in the proposal stages. "It's not a done deal." Possible problems with congested traffic due to more traffic signals along M-15 "is something MDOT will have to look at," Ford said. "They would look to see if that signal (at Amy) is warranted."

'If MDOT continues to procrastinate in (major) improvements, it will become a self-fulfilling prophesy, and it will become too expensive.'

-- Township Planner Dick Carlisle

"We hope to get federal monies from Kildee in conjunction with MDOT," she said.

Township Planner Dick Carlisle said, while this is all good and fine, meanwhile the dollars are rising.

"On M-15, particularly north of Cranberry Lake Road which is, at this stage relatively undeveloped, we are at the point that, if plans were put in place immediately, this project could be done at an affordable cost. However, the longer they wait, the more development is going to occur and the cost will go up, particularly due to right-of-way acquisition," Carlisle said.

"To say a parkway or boulevard concept is too expensive, frankly I don't buy that," he added. "But if MDOT continues to procrastinate in improvements, it will become a self-fulfilling prophecy and it will become too expensive."

on Sashabaw Road to Independence Oaks County Park. Finally, the Perry Lake safety path will be completed to I-75.

Trustee Jeff McGee asked about hooking up the township to the Orion Township line on Clarkston Road. Conklin said Orion hasn't decided its priorities including on "which side of (Clarkston Road)" it wants its path located. "We didn't feel it was smart to put a path down at this date in time," she said. That issue will be back "when Orion and Independence determine their priorities."

Township voters approved a half mill in 1998 for the safety path program for a 10-year extension. Conklin said. "But the 10 years didn't start until 2000. The current millage expired with the levy of 1999. We are in the first year of the second renewal," she explained, adding the Safety Path Program is now in its twenty-first year.

Clerk Joan McCrary said later, like others, she is hoping for additional improvements along the congested roadway. McCrary is a member of the M-15 Corridor Improvement Task Force.

McCrary said a $5 million federal grant was secured by U.S. Rep. Dale Kildee (D-Flint) for preliminary engineering work to prepare M-15 for future widening from I-75 to I-69. As slated in Vision 2020's Target Plan, a boulevard or parkway concept is eyed. McCrary said it will take an estimated $40 million to complete the whole project.

Happy 25th anniversary to SCAMP

The SCAMP program, a 5-week summer camp for children and young adults with special needs, celebrates its silver anniversary this year. (See story on page 3A).

It has offered a wonderful experience for impaired children, and one they probably would not receive otherwise. This is evidenced by the fact that there are only two such programs in Oakland County -- Clarkston's and one in Bloomfield Hills.

That is hard to believe, given the growth of knowledge and awareness about the ability of many impaired to be trained and educated.

The SCAMP program has been well-received in Clarkston and the community should feel proud to have such a fine program.

One way to show that pride will be to participate in the SCAMP Walk and Roll Sun. May 7 to raise funds for the program. Registration is at Depot Park. See page 23A or call 620-1882 for more information.

Each year students from Clarkston elementary schools visit businesses in downtown Clarkston. They kids are always well-behaved and full of charming questions. This year at The Clarkston News we were only able to accommodate one class from North Sashabaw. The kids enjoyed sports writer Ed Davis' tales about WWF, but apparently even he couldn't compete with Chief Paul Ormiston of the Clarkston Police Dept. (See People Poll, page 7.)

New Clarkston News reporter says 'Hello'

Editor's Note: This week The Clarkston News introduces a new reporter, Jeff Patrus. He comes well-recommended and we hope you'll enjoy and respect his work. Call Jeff at 625-3370 with your story ideas.

Goood morning, Clarkston!

For those of you old enough to remember the 1980s movie, Good Morning, Vietnam, that phrase (actually, a paraphrase), should ring a bell. That movie happens to be one of the favorites of this newcomer to the Clarkston scene.

My name is Jeff Patrus. I am 29 years old, and I have just started as a reporter at The Clarkston News. I am excited about the chance to work in the area, and am looking forward to meeting as many of you as I possibly can.

I currently live in Clinton Township, which is about 40 minutes from Clarkston. It's somewhat of a hike, but that's no big deal.

I have two younger sisters. One of them, Amy, 25, is working as a long-term substitute teacher in the Oxford school district, and is engaged to be married in June 2002.

My other sister, Jenny, 20, is a junior at Oakland University, where she is majoring in elementary education.

My beats here will include Clarkston Community Schools, Springfield Township, and police and fire news.

I attended high school at Notre Dame High School in Harper Woods, graduating in 1989. From there, I was on to the metropolis of Mt. Pleasant, where I attended Central Michigan University.

While at CMU, I majored in psychology and minored in journalism, and had the chance to work at the campus newspaper, Central Michigan Life, for a while. I graduated from CMU in 1994.

Before I came here, I worked as a reporter at the Union City (MI) Register-Tribune from 1997-99. Union City is a small village located about 20 miles south of Battle Creek. I covered all aspects of community life-government, schools, features.

From there, I moved on to C & G Newspapers in Warren, which is a chain of 12 community newspapers, mainly targeted at the Macomb County area. My responsibilities there were twofold: covering Harper Woods and the northeast part of Detroit for one newspaper, and then covering five Warren-area school districts for another newspaper.

Believe it or not, I do have a life outside of the newspaper business!

Like many guys my age, sports is one of my favorite pastimes. I am an unapologetic Detroit sports fan (even though, with the exception of the Red Wings, they haven't given anyone much to cheer about recently).

I had a chance to visit the Tigers' new home, Comerica Park, on April 15, and it more than lived up to the hype.

Although I hated to see Tiger Stadium go, the time had come to say goodbye to the corner of Michigan and Trumbull and move on to a new chapter.

From the statues of five Tiger greats (Ty Cobb, Hank Greenberg, Charlie Gehringer, Hal Newhouser, and Al Kaline), to the huge scoreboard in the left field area, to the liquid fireworks in center field, the park is first-class all the way.

Unfortunately, the Tigers lost that day to the Tampa Bay Devil Rays, 7-0. The more things change.....Hopefully, the Tigers will get their act together soon and put together a team worthy of their new park.

Since 1987, the year they won their last division title, the Tigers haven't provided fans any reason to get fired up about baseball, and, as a result, a city with a great deal of history and baseball tradition to offer has grown apathetic toward the sport.

At least the Wings offer some chance for a championship team in the city. I just wonder if I'll have the chance see a Lions team make it to the Super Bowl in my lifetime. I'd like to think they have a decent shot, but the way things have gone for them in recent years, I'm not that optimistic.

Well, that's about all for now ...

Pharaoh, fear, guilt and Easter

Fear and guilt.

Guilt and fear. It has been said that these two feelings rule our lives. They say fear and guilt are what moves our species — from primordial swamps and muck to land; from caves to castles then to cottages and condos.

That's what they say. Of course I haven't figured out who "they" are yet, so I'm hedging my bets. I will say this about "their" theory of motivation: I don't buy it.

Well, not all of it. I'm not much on fear anymore — not since Dad cured me of being afraid of the dark back in the fourth grade. But, I can testify to the power of guilt.

Guilt owns me. Guilt has me by the . . . let's just say I know about guilt. I don't know how it got a hold of me, nor do I know how to lessen its grip. I guess I'll just notch it up to being an Irish-American raised in the Catholic faith. Catholics know about guilt.

Guilt is my Kryptonite. I can be flying high, leaping over tall buildings and running with the locomotives and somebody can whip up a tear, tell me a sad story and I'll crash and burn right there on the spot.

At least I know this about myself — self awareness is a good thing. It's just a damn shame. I know guilt is strong within me, because for the first time I can remember, I did not watch Moses (aka Charlton Heston), grow a gray beard, part the waters or mess with Pharaoh's life.

"Forgive me father for I have sinned. It's been 780 weeks since my last confession and I did not watch the annual airing of the Ten Commandments last Sunday night."

I didn't watch the Ten Commandments when it aired, and with God as my witness, I felt Puppet Master Guilt pulling my conscious strings. This is ridiculous.

I know if God is going to send me straight to Hell when I die, it won't be for not watching a smackin' frackin' movie . . . if anything it would be over that little transgression in the 1970s.

Actually, upon further contemplation, the 1970s was the decade of "little transgressions." If you were around back then, you probably have your own to confess. So, just back off. Don't get down on me for what I'm about to say . . .

When I look back at "it," I still shake my head in disbelief. Back in the days of yore, in the 1970s, yours truly donned the hallowed, white robes worn by altarboys. My passport to Heaven was looking pretty good back then. Then there was that moment when my brain cramped.

What got into our heads that day (it had to have been the devil) I really can't say. And, for the record, I won't narc on the other altarboys who were my accomplices. They have to make their own peace. What did we do? What was "it?" Read on . . .

As all altarboys know, we knew where the priest stored the communion wafers. Father Weingardt at St. Dan's in Clarkston kept them at altarboy eye level. One day we each grabbed a stack of wafers and . . . (here's why the P in my middle name stands for Purgatory and not Patrick) . . . ate them.

Yep. I gulped my three-inch stack in one bite. Amen. None of us thought about washing them back with the wine. So, at least we have that going for us.

The thing is I didn't feel guilty back then. I feel guilty now. The question I want answered is this: When did I get a conscience? And, while we're at it, when was I transformed in to this blubbing guilt-ridden freak?

(Hopefully Sister Joan at St. Mark's doesn't read this and use "guilt" to get me to mow the church lawn, or scrub the church floors or, God forbid, to go to Mass every week.)

It is Easter time (why else would they air the Ten Commandments?). New beginnings and forgiveness. Maybe I'll make it yet. Cross your fingers, but don't hold your breath. I'm not.

Almost every night I watch the "news" on channel 4 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Almost every night I wonder why.

On a 6 p.m. health report the news reader said vitamin C was bad for a form of cancer. Whoa! Better lay off the vitamin C.

On the following 6:30 NBC health report the reader said vitamin C was good for osteosclerosis.

What's a body to do? I suppose if we drink half as much milk we can die of both diseases.

Having been born with and acquired no imagination, I've come to admire people who can create with paint, style and words, particularly a play on words.

I have a small collection of northeast Oakland businesses who use "words" to get their business message across.

Lake Orion Roofing - "Above all, customer satisfaction."

Dunlap Collision - "We take the DENTS out of accidents."

Hamilton Propane - "Our customers are warm friends."

Woodcrafters - "We're on the level."
Pine Tree Lighting - "We turn on interiors."

Turner Septic Service - "Nobody sticks their nose in our business."

Someone said they saw this classified ad in one of our community papers: "For Sale: Mixing bowl set designed to please a cook with round bottom for efficient beating."

Recently The Detroit News carried a story about how automakers are retooling for young buyers. It tells about Ford hiring a 29-year-old woman to direct a major marketing campaign for youth.

Julie Roehm is quoted as saying, "We have to understand how they live and what they want. Young people today are too savvy, they can see through you if your product and message aren't authentic."

Well, Julie, my dad and his dad and his dad's dad would have said the same thing . . . at your age.

Something to ponder. If all the world's a stage, where is the audience sitting? If you're born again, do you have two bellybuttons?

How about, if the #2 pencil is the most popular, why is it still #2? Give a man a fish and he will eat for a day. Teach him how to fish and he will sit in a boat and drink beer all day.

Kevin finally gets to go away for spring break

The time has finally come when I am not the only kid sitting at home while everyone else is on vacation in some marvelous place.

It's never happened before: spring break has never been a time of travel in our house. If we had a vacation, it was during GM Shutdown, those two hallowed weeks of summer in which my father could bring himself to escape work. Since the whole company stops working, he has no choice but to stop along with them. And for those two weeks, he really relaxes, not getting out of bed until the leisurely hour of six in the morning.

Even on the GM Shutdown vacations, though, there is still the ever-present family. No matter how fun the destination is, the long freeway hours in the minivan never add (unless there's an amusing parental dispute).

But this spring break, thanks to the infinite generosity of my parents, not only am I going away, but I'm going without any family being present! I thought the day would never come. Not that I don't like them, but a few days away is nice. And I might as well enjoy every aspect of this trip that I can, since it will more than likely be my only spring break venture.

Where am I going, you ask? Maybe you didn't ask. Anyway, I have friends going all over the place: of course there are those headed to beaches somewhere, and there's a class trip to France and Spain. I'm not really into the beach thing, and France and Spain would be fine, but I'm going to the one place in the world I'd really like to see: England.

My biology teacher told me last year that if we could get six people to go, she would take us on a London theater trip, so we did. I've been counting down the days for about three months, and by the time this is printed, there will only be one day left until we leave.

My excitement peaked last week at a meeting we had for the trip when we were given a map with our hotel marked. Lo and behold, what was this only a few blocks away? Could it be Bloomsbury Square, former home to Virginia Woolf? Yes! Is it weird that I can't wait to see the stomping grounds of a dead writer? It seems perfectly normal to me, but my tripmates seem to think I've lost my mind.

Before I can drag them kicking and screaming to Virginia's dwelling (I'll owe them; I can only guess where they drag me in vengeance), I've gotta get myself together. That means packing, another delightful inevitability of travel. I'll manage.

The only disappointment is that I have nothing to complain about - I'm not gonna be bored or stuck at home. No siblings to wince at. No household chores to keep me busy. No filling in at work for all those slackers that took spring break off. No lunches of frozen chicken patties day after day. Hmm . . . I think I can suffer through. How sad for me.

greater risk of groundwater containments. Secondly, by going through with the proposal area residents have the potential to have lower fire insurance rates. Other advantages of connecting to Independence Township water supply are an estimated cost savings of $750,000 of the entire project, minimal disturbances to area businesses and providing stubs for future extension of the mains to service the entire city.

Phase one of the project, or the installation of the 12 inch water main down Main Street would be funded by an $800,000 general obligation bond, with assessment beginning in July of 2000. Another $400,000 would be funded by special assessment districts. The $400,000 SAD would only be assessed to those who would get a direct benefit of the water, mainly those residents and businesses on Main Street. The city will borrow no more than $3 million and issue its general obligation tax bonds.

The estimated millage to be levied in 2000 is 1.4 mills ($1.4 per $1,000 of taxable value). The estimated simple average annual millage rate required to retire the bonds is 3.87 mills ($3.97 per $1,000 of taxable value).

The remaining construction and general obligation bonds would be assessed at the time they are borrowed.

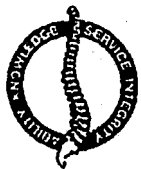

The committee also said if Clarkston would ever hook up to Independence Township's water supply, the cost savings of doing it in correlation with the M-15 improvements is a bonus. There would be cost savings from building in large segments instead of street by street special assessment districts. Also going ahead with the plan now saves the expense of boring Main Street in the future. It will also allow immediate access to an alternate water sources.

The informational public hearing on the issue will be held tonight at 7 p.m. in the Independence Township Fire Hall at 6500 Citation Drive.

The election will be held May 9 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at City Hall, 375 Depot Road.

SLIP AND FALL

When a person falls and is injured on someone else's property, the liability of the property owner may hinge on whether he or she knew about the dangerous condition and had time to warn others of its existence. Thus, if a shopper slips and falls on a loose floor tile, the ability to sue for damages largely depends on when the tile came loose and whether the storeowner knew of the dangerous condition. If it appears that the tile had been loose for some time and the storeowner did nothing to make repairs, there is good basis for a personal injury suit. If the injured shopper was the first to notice the loose tile, the storeowner may not be liable. We have dedicated our professional careers to helping our valued clients get the justice they deserve. We're known for our caring approach, our good listening skills, and the results we get. If you've been injured, call 620-1030. Our law office is conveniently located at 11 North Main Street

NOTE: Even though someone else's negligence may have resulted in your injury, there are several available defenses that can relieve the defendant of having to pay damages.

You've seen and heard them at Clarkston High School sporting events, rallying the teams and crowds at home and away games. Now you will be able to listen to the Wolves Pack whenever you need a boost to your CHS spirit.

That's right, folks, the half-time favorites are coming to compact disk.

About 30 of the 45-member Wolves Pack pep band recorded 15 half-time favorites on April 1, said Wolves Pack student director and CHS senior Blake Coe.

The script was taken from last fall's half-time show of the quarter-final football game at CHS against Macomb Dakota High School.

The title of the cd is Halftime Favorites. Some of the selections include the CHS Fight Song, Let's Go Blue, Eat 'em Up!, Louie, Louie, Eye of the Tiger and the theme song from Hawaii 5-0.

Coe said the songs were recorded in the choral room at CHS and editing and finishing touches are taking place now. He added the cd's cover will include comments about the Wolves Pack from basketball coach and Athletic Director Dan Fife, Principal John

It's time to be thankful

By Pastor Robert B. Nogalski
Victory Baptist Church

(Scripture Portion; Luke 17:11-19; Commendation: verse 19)

Luke is the only evangelist to record the incident of the lepers who were cleansed by the Lord as He journeyed to Jerusalem. Normally these 10 men would not have been together, for some were Jews and some were Samaritans (look up John 4:9); but people who are in the same kind of trouble are often thrown together, which is exactly what happened. These leprosy men stood "afar off" (verse 12) and when they saw the Lord, they cried to him for mercy (verse 13). He commanded them, "Go show yourselves unto the priests," and as they obeyed they were cleansed. One returned to give thanks to the Lord (verses 15-16), but the other nine were not heard of again (verse 17). The man who returned received a special word of assurance and commendation from the Lord (verse 19).

(1) No one has ever called on the Lord Jesus Christ for help in vain.

Their cry was earnest. They were leprosy, but even a leper may be sure of the Lord's help. Thank God, no one is too sinful, too diseased, or in too great a difficulty to call upon Him. Christ is no respecter of persons. Sin is as leprosy, "for all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." We're all sinners in God's eyes, but GLORY TO GOD, He has the cure! Religion cannot provide it, money cannot buy it, there is not enough water in the whole world to wash you clean. God's precious BLOOD, which was shed for all at Calvary, will wash all sins away for those who cry out to Him for salvation. (Acts 20:28, John 3:16, Romans 10:11-13; Hebrews 10:19-22).

Have YOU accepted the Lord as your Savior? Are YOU born again? If you are, are you thankful? Do you display this at home, work, school? Or are you the "others," unthankful, undercover, living and acting like everything rises and falls on your actions?

I believe the greatest hinderance to our homes and society, in general, is the lack of gratitude. The children are just copying their parents and we wonder why our country is going to Hell in a hurry! God hates ingratitude! All through the Bible, His judgment fell on His disobedient children. I'm addressing His children today, those Blood-bought, born again believers. You know, those folks that should be the most thankful people in the world! Has God blessed you so much that you have forgotten Him? How is your children's attitude toward life? Why should they choose the Lord, if you look like the devil and act like it, too?

(2) Spiritual blessing only comes in the pathway of obedience.

Verse 14 tells us that our Lord said, "Go . . . show yourselves . . ." and when they did, they were cleansed! We need to take the Lord at His Word, without doubting. Like the song says, "Trust and obey, for there's no other way, to be happy in Jesus, but to trust and obey!"

(3) When we consider all that the Lord has done for us, the very least we can do is be thankful!

In verses 15 and 16 it was natural to return and give thanks for the cure, but nine did not! Have YOU ever thanked Him for leaving the Ivory Palaces for you? (II Cor. 8:9); for coming to Bethlehem's manger for you? (Luke 2:7); for spending those silent years at Nazareth for you? (Luke 2:51); for standing in Jordan's waters for you?

(Matt. 3:13-17); for triumphing in the wilderness for you? (Matt. 4:11); for His three-year public ministry for you? (Acts 10:38); and for all that He endured in Gethsemane and accomplished on Calvary for you? (Luke 22:44, I Peter 2:24)? Have you ever thanked Him that He rose from the grave for you? (Rom. 4:25, Rev. 1:18) That He ever lives to make intercession for you? (Heb. 7:25, Rom. 8:34). Have you thanked Him, not in word only, but in dedication of your life to His service? Apostle Paul was thankful for redemption (II Cor. 9:15); kindness (II Cor. 8:16); obedience (Rom. 6:17); and fellowship (II Tim. 1:3). Have you asked the Lord to forgive you of your unthankful heart? As the world celebrates Easter, don't you think we that are His should regroup and receive from the Lord a new renewal of assurance and dedication so our family, friends, and community know that our God is real? To get His commendation, is worth more than money. The thankful leper that came back received not only cleansing, but also a special assurance from the Lord!

Francis Hodges (No. 12) celebrates with his teammates after the Wolves victory over Troy April 14.

Wolves beat no. 1 Troy

BY ED DAVIS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

How quickly things change. After getting blown out in a double header against Grand Blanc April 13, Clarkston stormed back and beat Troy, who was ranked no. 1 in the state the following day.

It didn't start out well for the Wolves as they fell behind 3-0 in the first inning, but that's all the runs the Colts scored as Clarkston smothered Troy 12-3.

"That was a big, big, big win for us today," Clarkston coach Phil Price said. "I sat the kids down after Grand Blanc and asked them if they wanted to be 17 individuals, 10 individuals and one group, or one group altogether. I think we showed good composure out there today."

After the Wolves fell behind early, it brought back memories for their starting pitcher, senior Chris Mitchell.

"It started out the same as last year and I was scared. The coaches just told me to have faith and hang in there," Mitchell said.

Hanging in there he did. Mitchell pitched all seven innings of the win, six of which he held the Colts scoreless. As if his pitching performance wasn't enough, add in to the equation a 4-for-4 day at the plate including two doubles and three RBI.

"We've never beaten them in the four years I've played in Clarkston. This is the sweetest thing that's happened to me as a pitcher," Mitchell said.

The Wolves didn't trail for long. A four run first inning of their own gave them the lead for good. Hits by Bret Crawford, Derek Casper and Ryan Marino all helped the Clarkston cause, but the biggest boost came from Francis Hodges, a senior, who belted a three-run homer.

"We looked to this game early and maybe we overlooked Grand Blanc, but this is the best thing that's happened to me since I've been on varsity," Hodges said.

Four runs wasn't enough for Clarkston who quieted what started out as a very vocal Troy dugout. But the Colts didn't have much reason to cheer the rest of the game.

An RBI single by Crawford drove home Trevor Manuel and Mitchell added to the Wolves lead by bringing home Crawford on an RBI double. An RBI single by Josh Rigg scored Hodges and the Wolves enjoyed a 7-3 lead after two innings.

Clarkston's most productive bats didn't quit half way through the game. Gove led off the fourth inning with a single and scored on an RBI by Crawford. Crawford then scored on and RBI single by Mitchell and Hodges scored as well.

"This is the biggest win for us. We had a discussion after Grand Blanc. We're a lot tighter as a team now. We're contenders for this league. We really got up for this game," Gove said afterwards.

The senior plans on attending either Grand Valley State University or Saginaw Valley State University next fall. He said he'll major in either business or education.

As strong as Clarkston was offensively, their defense wasn't too shabby either.

One of the Wolves most potent defensive weapons is senior catcher Derek Casper who has made a habit out of throwing out opposing base runners attempting to steal bases.

"I've been catching for 10 years. Our pitchers and infielders help out a lot," said the four-year varsity player. "This is the greatest win ever."

Casper's hate of stealing may come in handy next year when he attends Adrian College to study criminal justice.

The win improved Clarkston to 8-2 overall and 3-0 in the Oakland Activities Association Division I.

Crawford said the Wolves played with plenty of emotion during the game.

"We were fired up and didn't come out flat. If we keep playing like this we'll win the league," Crawford said.

The Wolves are off until May 1 when they play Davison.

Tennis team dominates Warren Mott Invitational

BY ED DAVIS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

How ironic. After winning only one match during the Seaholm Invitational April 8, the Clarkston tennis team lost only one match during the Warren Mott Invitational April 15 as the Wolves crushed the competition to take first in the event.

Eight teams competed in the tournament including Lapeer East, Lapeer West, Warren Mott, Macomb Dakota, Lakeview, Farmington and Notre Dame Prep.

The Wolves won 23 of their 24 matches and won every flight except for one doubles.

Clarkston coach Kevin Ortwine had plenty of good things to say about his team after the tournament.

"The tough competition we scheduled earlier in the season really paid off for us. Our singles guys have continued to play great and our doubles teams are becoming more aggressive," he said.

Even the losing Clarkston match was looked at as a positive by Ortwine.

"Paul O'Connor and Brent Griffith had what may have been the best match of the day against Lapeer East. They were right there," Ortwine said.

The two-doubles team of Dustin Kring and Eric Herzog had a good day. They lost the first set 5-7, but then won 7-6, 10-8 and 6-3.

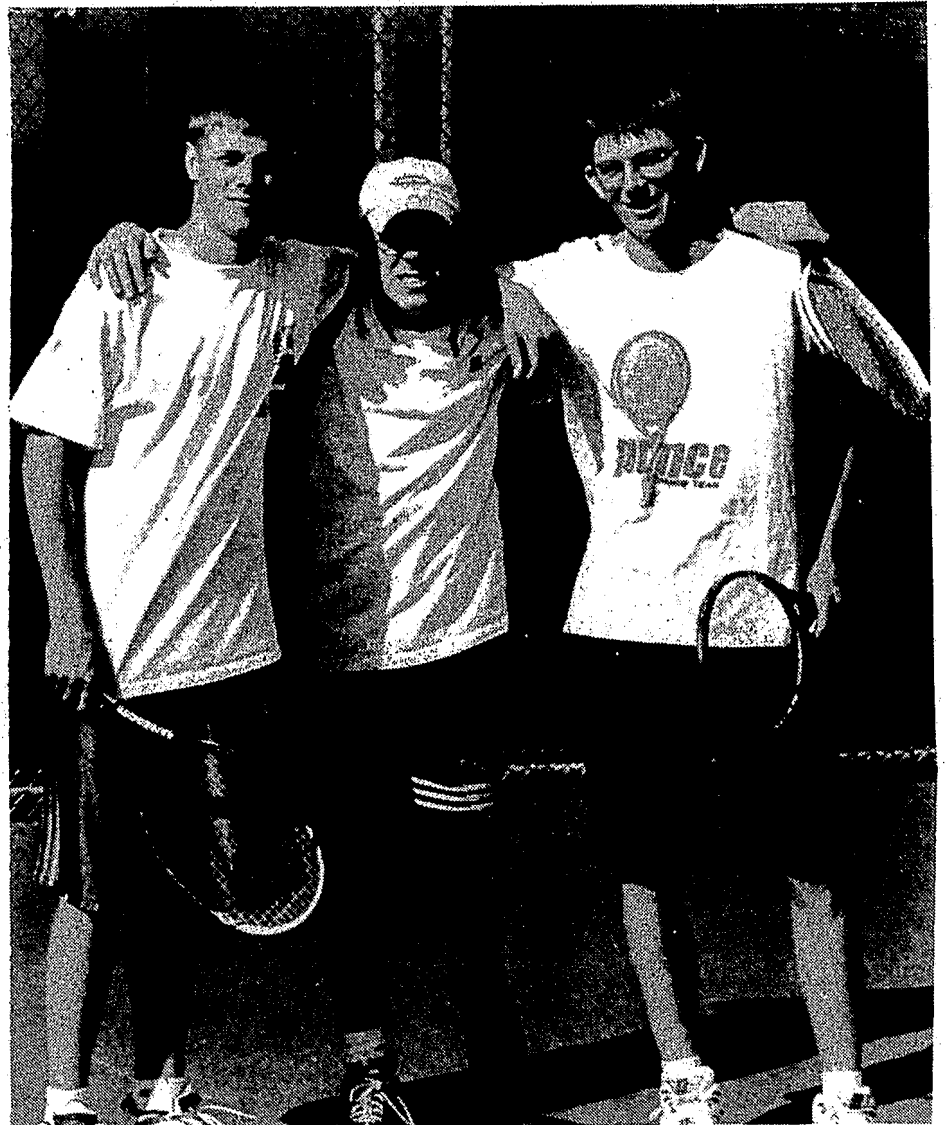

Clarkston's four doubles team of Grant Gilford and Jon Szilvagy also had a strong showing Ortwine said.

"They dominated. They lost only one game in three matches. They won 36 of their 37 games," Ortwine said.

Ortwine said he thought the Wolves had a good chance to win the tournament, but never expected to do as well as well as they did.

"I think we were probably the favorite going in, but to do as well as we did is beyond anything I expected. To lose only one match during the whole day is pretty unheard of. I think it's a tribute to how strong tennis is in Oakland County. The next best teams were Lapeer East and Warren Mott, who both usually win their leagues," Ortwine said.

Even though Ortwine was pleased with the way his doubles teams have come along, the strength of his tennis team early in the season was his singles players. And perhaps nobody has en-

Sage breaks 30-year record in win at relays

Wolves have great weekend on the track

BY ED DAVIS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Mansfield Relays

While the boys and girls track teams were joining forces at the Andover Relays, Clarkston was represented for the first time in school history at the Mansfield Ohio Relays.

"It's a top of the line meet. We were excited about it," Wyniemko said. "It's not for your usual track programs."

Clarkston was represented by David Sage, Kevin Breen, Brett Quantz and Matt Haver.

Sage broke a long-standing Clarkston High School record in the mile. Sage's time was 4:19:05 and broke the old record of 4:22.1, which was set by Fred Syler back in 1970.

"I felt good and never struggled in either the mile or the relay. Coach Mike Taylor has really been helping out with my workouts," he said. "Breaking the mile was my biggest accomplishment as a varsity runner. It took a lot of hard work to break that record," he said.

The Wolves made their mark as the 4x800 relay team came in first place with a time of 8:05.

Breen, who also competed in the 400 said of the relay, "We expected to be challenged, but we weren't. Not at all."

In the 400 Breen finished with a time of :51, which was not one of his better races he said.

"I was disappointed. I didn't run my best. Overall it was a good experience though. I'm looking forward to future meets so I can redeem myself," he said.

Quantz meanwhile took fifth in the 800 with a time of 1:58. Breaking the two-minute mark was a goal he was happy to accomplish.

"There were about 70 guys there and it was a good race for me. There was lots of good competition there. I'm more confident in my running now and think I can break the school record," Quantz said.

Haver, who led off the relay was happy with the result.

"I felt fresh and good out there. I got the guys off to a good start and they kept the lead the rest of the way," he said.

Wyniemko was all smiles after the weekend. A weekend, he said, that was great for the Clarkston track program.

"We didn't expect that kind of success at the Mansfield relays, especially not in our first showing. I'm excited, the kids are excited, it's just great for our program. The kids had a great weekend all the way around everywhere they competed," Wyniemko said.

Andover Relays

One of the most anticipated track meets all year is the Andover Relays, which took place April 15. Clarkston tied for fifth in the meet out of 13 schools.

Rochester Adams came in first, followed by Milford, Pontiac Northern and then Rochester.

The meet is unique in that the boys and girls teams compete together.

Boys track coach Walt Wyniemko said the Wolves had a good day.

"Everybody scored except for our 4x800 relay team. It was a great day for us. We dropped the baton in the 4x800, but those things happen," Wyniemko said.

The Wolves were without the services of some of the fastest runners in Sage, Breen, Quantz and Haver who

Wolves split with Mercy

Clarkston 8, Mercy 1

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The games were almost mirror images of each other.

In Clarkston's double header April 12 against Mercy, the Wolves left runners on base and made careless fielding errors in game one. But in game two, the Wolves turned things around and came out on top.

"We were a little unenthusiastic in the first game. That's one of the things we talked about between games was getting our energy level up and being more aggressive," Land said.

Game two was showcased by great pitching by Lisa Ferguson who went three innings before giving up a run.

The Wolves started clicking offensively in the second inning as singles from Stacie Giroux, Missy Parsons and Ferguson all helped Clarkston score their first runs of the afternoon. Giroux was driven home by a Nicole Thrift double and Morgan picked up three RBI by driving in Parsons, Ferguson and Melanie Arnold. Clarkston led 4-0 after two innings.

The Wolves kept the bats going in the third inning as Warchuck opened the inning with a leadoff single and later scored on an RBI triple by Giroux. Thrift then drove in Giroux to make the score 6-0 Clarkston.

Clarkston continued its offensive attack in the sixth inning thanks to singles from Morgan, Warchuck, Giroux and Thrift. Giroux's single drove in Jen Fredrickson and Warchuck to give the Wolves a decisive 8-1 edge after six innings, which ended up being the final score.

"Lisa had a strong game for us and Nicole Thrift who played DH for us today really hit the ball hard. Scoring first in these games is a big advantage," Land said.

Warchuck said the Wolves are strong in a lot of areas.

"We're starting off a lot stronger than we did last year. At the rate we're going we're going to do well this year," Warchuck said.

Mercy 5, Clarkston 1

The Wolves put Morgan on the mound in game one. She struggled early giving up three second inning runs.

Clarkston put the ball in play and got on base in the first few innings, but couldn't drive any base runners home. Jen Winn, Giroux and Morgan were all left on base in scoring position in the first three innings.

"We had too many runners on base in the first game. We had runners in scoring position, but just couldn't drive them home," Land said.

Clarkston 8, Rochester Adams 1

Clarkston improved to 5-5 overall and 2-3 in the league with a decisive win April 17.

The Wolves scored in six of the seven innings.

Clarkston got good hitting from Arnold, Ferguson, Thrift and Morgan, who had two hits each. Thrift added 3 RBI.

Ferguson had six strikeouts while pitching a four hitter. She is now 4-3 as a pitcher.

"Everybody hit the ball well. We played very well. Adams is a tough team, but we played good defense. It was our game the whole way. We were never really threatened," Land said.

"My Son Has Crooked Teeth!"

Hi! I live in Clarkston, and I work for a dentist in Walled Lake. My son's smile is really important to me, so I'm concerned that his teeth are crooked.

I had heard about Dr. Shader from my friends in the dental business. I know that pediatric (children's) dentists, orthodontists, and general dentists can all do braces, and all three must have the same high standards. Dr. Shader has done braces for over 20 years.

We went for a free consultation. My son and I were both impressed and comfortable with Dr. Shader & his staff. Our cost was about $1,000 less than I thought we might pay.

When someone in your family needs good dental care, I recommend Dr. Shader.

Soccer team alive and kicking

BY ED DAVIS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Success breeds success, or so the old saying goes. If that is the case, the Clarkston girls varsity soccer team will be in good shape for some time to come.

The Wolves have improved to 5-2-2 overall on the season, which more than doubles the win total from all of last year.

The most recent Wolves action saw them fall to Kettering April 13, 2-0, but then rebounded with a 2-1 win over Lapeer East the following night.

Clarkston goals came from Kelly Plante and Megan Medina. Goalie Sarah Morgan made 16 saves in the win.

Clarkston coach Tami Mitchell said her team is getting contributions from everybody on the roster.

"Angela Humphreys played great for us Friday. She stopped an All-Stater on their team all night long. Meggan Mutz has been doing a good job for us. So has Jessica Thomas and Brooke Petriner. Kelly Plante has been playing great too," Mitchell said.

"We're playing better than we were. We've been passing the ball better. It was a tough loss against Kettering, but we didn't get down on ourselves," she said.

The Wolves are 1-1-2 in the league.

Medina, who scored her second goal of the year, said the Wolves have improved every week, much in part due to a solid contribution from the team's four freshmen: Kristen Brundage, Jenn Carlson, Mutz and Megan Renda.

"We're doing awesome and a lot of it's because of all the talent that's on the team. The freshmen brought in a lot of talent to the program. Everything's been falling into place for us," Medina said.

The junior midfielder is only in her first varsity season, but already has bold predications for what the future may hold for Mitchell's crew.

"We'll be good for a long time," she said.

But this season is far from over and Medina has already focused in a few upcoming games.

"I'm looking forward to playing Kettering again, even though it was a disappointing loss the first time we played them. Beating Lake Orion was a big deal for us this year," she said.

The midfielder said even though she is not an imposing player, at only 5-foot-2, that aggressiveness was her biggest strength on the field.

Medina said the team's additional focus on defense has helped bring on some of this season's success.

"We really concentrate on the defensive end. Sarah has done a great job in net and Katie Tripi and Jen Yeager are both very fast and aggressive. Jen (Carlson) is really great at controlling the ball. Megan Lutz has been doing good too," she said.

It's apparent that there's newfound life and enthusiasm on this year's girls varsity soccer team. But like any spring sport, a big question is whether or not the intensity will resume after spring break. If so, the Wolves could be smiling even bigger than they are now.

Their next action will be May 2 when they host West Bloomfield.

Sign up for soccer camp

The Clarkston girls varsity soccer team will host a girls soccer camp May 6.

The camp will be for girls ages 5-13 and will run from 9 a.m. until noon at the soccer stadium on Waldon Road.

The camp costs $25. Sign up brochures are located at Clarkston Middle School or on site.

Golfers keep up with the best

BY ED DAVIS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

In only their first season, the girls varsity golf team has already shown they can compete with some pretty established programs.

The Wolves took part in a combination league/county meet April 17 at Pontiac Municipal golf course. Clarkston competed against 11 other schools and took fourth in the event.

"I'm really pleased. I think the kids were pleased too. We took on some pretty established programs and did well," Clarkston coach Larry Sherrill said afterwards.

The Wolves were led by junior Lauren Benner who shot a 94, which was good enough to take fifth out of the 52 golfers who competed.

"I think that's a heck of a score, especially when you consider the conditions," Sherrill said. "It was cold and windy. For her to shoot a 94 was something else."

Clarkston also got a strong game from Krista Roschek who finished up with a 99. Freshmen Anna Trim shot a 104, Allison Ollinger shot a 107 and Kelly Haggard ended the day with a 116.

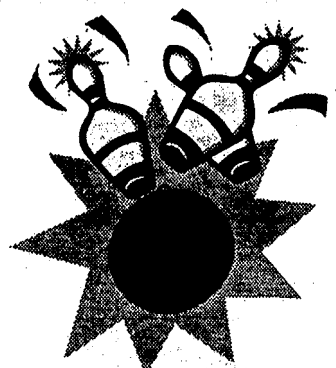

"I think the kids feel good about themselves. There's a lot of sand and water on that course and our kids shot well," Sherrill said.

Avondale won the meet, taking first in both the league and the county.

Future meets for the Wolves include Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central.

"We should be okay in those meets," Sherrill said.

were competing in the Mansfield Relays.

Girls track coach Gordie Richardson said his team has found some speed.

"Our strength usually is in the distances, but Kristy Walford and Lindsay Brandt have gotten faster. We're still not a huge threat in the sprints, but we're at least going to keep everybody honest," Richardson said.

"Andrea O'Dea ran well in the 4x100 for us and Nina Zamora, Carla DelVecchio and Nicole Fischer all did a nice job for us. Allison Spinweber has gotten better also," Richardson said.

Richardson said another notable performance from the Andover Relays came from Walford and Brandt in the 4x200 relay.

"They both ran around the 27 second mark. That's not blazing speed, but it's good for us," Richardson said.

Tennis

joyed more success on a Clarkston tennis court than senior Patrick Heber.

Heber broke Clarkston's school record for wins with 54 during the tournament. He broke the record after serving an ace in the championship match.

"This is the best thing that's happened to me as a varsity tennis player. I only had seven wins to go this season, so I knew I could do it. I've just stuck with tennis and had a lot of fun with it. Coach (Ortwine) uses very useful drills in his practices," Heber said.

Heber, who's been playing since he was 9 years old said playing against older players while he was younger helped him develop his game. He said he's become a successful tennis player because of his quick feet and defensive playing style.

The senior plans on going to Michigan State University in the fall to study either music or engineering. He plays the piano and plans on playing intramural tennis when he becomes a Spartan.

Another standout player on this year's team has been Andrew Brown.

Though only a freshmen, Brown has already made his mark on the varsity team by playing two singles.

"So far the season has gone really smoothly for me. When you have fun and don't worry about winning or losing that's when you usually do well and I think that's why the team is doing so well. We have fun out there," he said.

Brown has been playing tennis since he was 10 years old and said playing at the Seaholm invitational was his best highlight so far this season. But he is also looking forward a few key matches later in the season.

"Rochester and West Bloomfield will both be huge matches. Both of those teams have lots of great players and I'm looking forward to playing them," he said.

Another standout performer this season for Clarkston has been junior Scott Barnett.

The three year varsity player has been playing at the three singles spot this season, but would've like to play one singles as a senior.

"With Andrew playing the way he is that's not going to happen, but I think that shows just how strong we are. We've got a lot of good players on our team," he said.

"We have a good season so far. We've had some tough losses this year, but our league is a little weak so we should win it," he said.

Barnett's season highlight so far has been the Warren Mott Invitational, but he is also keying in some matches down the road.

"I'm really looking forward to playing Rochester. They're always tough, but they've lost some seniors so I think we'll win," he said.

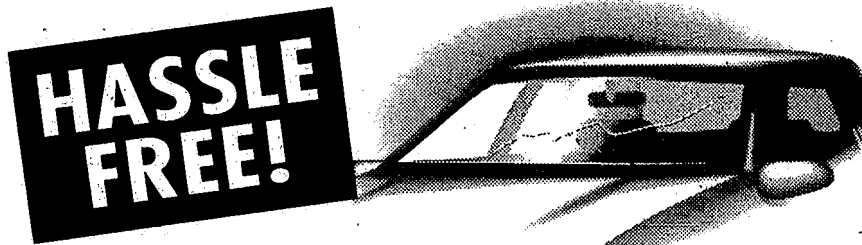

The team is now 3-1 overall and 2-0 in the league.

"We don't have much to complain about. We've gotten a lot better since the Athens meet. Groves will be tough. We've never beaten them before. If anybody's going to knock us off it's them," Ortwine said.
