Rosso wants to continue work of the board

BY MARALEE COOK

Clarkston New Editor

Larry Rosso is proud of the Independence Township Board's accomplishments over the last four years. Continuing that work and completing new goals are behind his seeking another term as trustee.

A trustee since 1996, Rosso said he originally ran because of the financial problems the previous administration had with bad investment policies.

He said the current board has restructured the way investments are made, instituted quarterly reports, and with the help of a good economy, the township is back on solid footing.

"I'm proud of my participation in bringing us back, and I want to be part of the continuation of this process," he said. "I share the credit with my fellow board members. We have made great improvements and great gains."

Rosso characterized Independence Township as a bedroom community -- a quality he would like to maintain. He supports the Vision 2020 Strategic Plan used to implement the township's master plan.

He said growth should be restricted to maintian a rural backdrop for the community, and only those services which support a bedroom community should be offered.

"We have enough development along Dixie Highway. We should be cautious about development. I want to hold fast to a vigorous enforcement of the master plan," he said.

Rosso is in favor of the fire millage renewal and the additional millage to support an advanced life sup-

"(Private ambulance services) are unreliable and we can't afford that. We've got to have a four minute response time," he said, adding that victims' quality of life can be jeopardized if they are denied services beyond that. vided for the community's residents.

A former Clarkston High School history and government teacher, Rosso said he has worked to improve relations between the township and school district, and will continue to do so.

"I was previously dismayed about the relationship between the schools and township and made a flat-out pledge to help improve it. I think we've moved mountains (in the last four years). I have a wonderful relationship with (Clarkston schools superintendent) Dr. (Al) Roberts and I'm very upbeat and positive about the relationship between the schools and town-

Rosso said he believes the schools should be subject to township site plan review, acknowledging that the schools are opposed to it. He said it's important for location of new schools and infrastructure implementation.

Rosso said talks are ongoing on the township's proposal to purchase Clarkston Creek Golf Course. He said he's in favor of the concept, "provided it's advantageous to taxpayers. But things are not yet where they ought to be in terms of cost and services."

He also is in favor of a new township hall, and said a professional facility study has yet to be completed before the board can move forward on a property choice.

Rosso said he's also proud of the compensation reform the board has implemented for elected officials, adding there is still some work to be done.

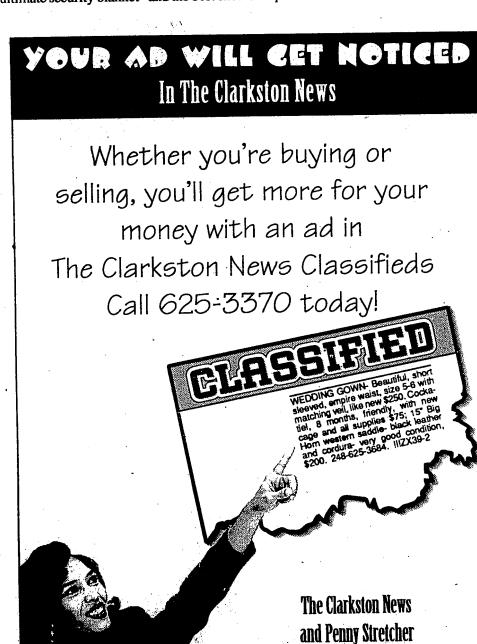

Rosso has been a resident of Independence Township for 34 years. He and his wife Mary have a son, Steve, who is a freshman at CHS.

Rosso retired from teaching in 1994 after 27 years. He is currently employed by the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, a private certification firm created by the Carnegie Foundation. He is a teacher consultant and is also a consultant for the state legislature and state departments of education with the aim of getting the state to to provide more funding for teachers to get the additional certification the company provides. The process is so rigorous that teachers who become certified can teach anywhere in the country, said Rosso.

He also works for Oakland University as a field instructor, supervising teaching interns.

Rosso said he was "busy, but it's the kind of busy I like."

He said his interest in public service as a trustee came from his background as a teacher. "All those years of teaching good citizenship in government classes -- you need to walk the walk and talk the talk."

Residents complain about number of homes planned

Planning Commission ok's sub on Clarkston Road

BY ELLY SPINWEBER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Despite protests from several Clarkston area residents, the Independence Township Planning Commission voted to approve final site plans for a proposed subdivision, Clarkston Farms, at their May 25

The site, which is located on Clarkston Road just north of Flemings Lake Road, has an overall area of 18.98 acres. Thirty-four homes will be built in the subdivision.

Labeled as a "neo-traditional" form of development, the site will include small parks in addition to its farmhouse-style homes.

Residents in attendence were displeased with the number of homes, concerned there were too many on the small site.

"To put this many homes in one area is ridiculous," said Ellen Prince of Clarkston, during the public hearing. "We have acreage there, but only half these homes should go in, if any at all."

Prince also pointed out many people move to Clarkston because "they want to live in the country." They're no longer interested in places like Rochester and Troy, where subdivisions and houses are stacked on top of each other.

The Commission had concerns with final site plans as well, due to several minor changes. Despite this, the plans were approved subject to review after these concerns are resolved.

The other notable item of business was a request of special land use approval for a daycare center on the corner of Main St. and Princess Lane in Clarkston. Petitioner Tony Leo failed to appear at the meeting, which was attended by roughly 30 residents who came to voice their opposition to the proposal.

Commissioner David Lohmeier abstained from proceedings due to a conflict of interest. His sister owns the daycare center.

Planning Commission Chairman Steve Board then motioned to deny approval of the proposal due to the petitioners' failure to attend the meeting and provide the commission with previously requested information.

Planning Commission subcommittee created to study proposed office building on Dixie Highway

BY ELLY SPINWEBER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

After much discussion and debate at their May 25 meeting, Independence Township Planning Commissioners created a subcommitte to study a conceptual site plan for an office building on Dixie Highway.

Commissioners voiced concern because the site, located on Dixie Highway north of White Lake Road near Thompsonville Furniture, is partially wetland,

This issue was a concern of the petitioner, Henry Woloson, as well.

"We are working to preserve the wetlands and incorporate existing trees into the plans and are seeking the commission's input," Woloson stated.

Several suggestions were made by both the commission and Woloson himself. These suggestions included moving the building toward the back of the property to preserve the maximum amount of trees or possibly moving the location of the parking lot and eliminating unnecessary spaces to preserve the wetland area.

The wetland, which has been previously disturbed, makes up roughly half of the property on the lot. Woloson proposed upgrading the existing wetland by attempting to restore it to its original condition in the building process.

Commissioner concerns also included the example such an approval would set for other prospective developers.

"I have a real concern with filling in 8,000 square feet of wetland — what bothers me is the precedent we might set,"said Commissioner David Lohmeier during the proceedings.

Commissioners tabled the proposal subject to setting up a meeting with all parties involved.

Congratulations to Community Awards winners and nominees

This is a volunteer-rich community.

There are hundreds of people who cheerfully volunteer their time in our schools, many service organizations, church groups, as an extension of business responsbilities, or individually in other ways.

Many of them are rewarded at yearly "thank you" functions, but many more do their work quietly, without recognition. The satisfaction they receive from the work they do is enough.

Last week the Clarkston Chamber of Commerce honored a few of these volunteers who had been nominated by others for their efforts to make Clarkston a better place. (See page 3A for story.)

Congratulations to the Chamber for recognizing them, and to all those nominated and honored for their sense of duty and commitment to a better community.

Community band talented and generous

Dear Editor,

Recently I had the opportunity to attend the spring concert of the Clarkston Community Band at Clarkston High School Auditorium.

It was a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon. It is nice to see that so many of our neighbors are so talented and give of their time so generously.

The next concert is on July 4th. Come on down to Clintonwood Park.

Thanks, Clarkston Community Band!

Updates from the state House

Local Telephone Service

The state House recently passed sweeping legislation that will give every person in Michigan more options for affordable local telephone service.

I supported this measure and offered an amendment to the bill requiring local telephone companies to provide adjacent exchange toll-calling plans to all their customers with discounts within a 20 mile radius. Local service providers must also inform customers of the discount program.

Other provisions of the House bill include giving users more input on the creation of new area codes and prohibiting companies from discriminating between customers.

The measure also increases consumer protections by increasing the penalties for cramming and slamming, as well as applying the Michigan Consumers Protection Act to all providers of telephone service.

Education

I recently led an effort in the House Education Committee to ensure all Michigan children will be able to read by the third grade.

I sponosred three amendments to House Bill 5802 that require a school board or the board of directors of a public school academy to assess the basic literacy skills of students in grades one through three.

School districts would be required to offer parents the opportunity to have their child attend summer reading classes after grades one and two, and then order the reading courses at the end of grade three if the child does not possess basic literacy skills.

Safe Boating

From the State Rep.

Capitol

This week I sponsored an event at my mother's home on Crescent Lake in Waterford Township to kickoff Michigan Safe Boating week. My daughter, mother and two of my nephews helped me demonstrate some of the basic rules for safe boating.

Recreational boating is fun and enjoyable, but sometimes our waterways can become a place of chaos and confusion. I feel it is important to spread the message of safe boating, not only during Safe Boating Week, but also throughout the entire year.

Approximately 800 people die each year in boating-related accidents in the U.S., nearly 80 percent of these fatalities are caused by drowning.

Research has found a vast ma-Ruth Johnson iority of these accidents are caused by human error or poor judgment and not by the boat, equipment or environmental factors. If you choose to enjoy water activities this summer, please be aware of the risks involved with swimming and boating. Always take precautionary measures to protect yourself, your family and friends. Have a great summer! If you have any questions or comments on these or other issues, please contact my office at (800)510-RUTH or (517) 373-1798. You can also e-mail me at rujohnson@house.state.mi.us, or write to me at the State Capitol, P.O. Box 30014, Lansing, MI 48909.

Jeff becomes part of Clarkston scene

Well, it's official now -- I'm a Clarkston resident.

Last week, I moved into an apartment in the Clarkston area-as a matter of fact, it's within walking distance of the offices here at The Clarkston

However, that would mean walking to the different beats around town which I cover-and walking to such places as the Springfield Township substation and the Clarkston Community Schools building week in and week out would get tiresome after a bit.

That said, the community is growing on me.

As readers know, I had to commute from Clinton Township (where my parents live) to work here.

Now, driving up there on the weekends isn't too bad. However, having to drive back and forth every single day got to be a hassle. Getting an apartment here takes care of that problem.

After only about a month, though, the community is starting to become very familiar and has a "hometown" feel to it.

The people at Rudy's Market, for one, probably recognize me at least by face, if not by name: Lord knows I hang around there often enough, usually to buy a bottled water or other sort of reinforcement.

The Mill Pond Lake, at the corner of Main and Washington Streets, is an attention-grabber, very scenic and

What particularly strikes me about the community is the way it seems to subtly blend the old with the new.

Along Main Street, the buildings and businesses are "old style" in nature, and lend a distinctive charm and coziness to the area. It's a good area for people to hang around and take a stroll around town, as evidenced by the number of people that can be seen walking in the area.

As you hit Dixie Highway, and take a look at the various businesses in that area, the more modern aspects of Clarkston come into play. The design of the buildings and businesses in that area indicate that the area is growing rapidly and keeping up with the changing times.

This is also true once you enter Clarkston High School. The architecture and design of the building are very modern, and the features inside the high school are state-of-the-art.

However, if Tuesday night is any indication, then the Clarkston school district also has an "old-time" feel in terms of the attitudes of its teachers and other school personnel.

At a reception held that evening in the Clarkston

Sunburning and coach rebuking

Summer really is here. This I know, not because the nation got together a couple of days ago to celebrate sacrifices made by the men and women of this country's military ... but because I got my first sunburn. Wasn't Monday's weather perfect?

Yep, the old schnozola has got the summer peel started. Got to admit, a peeling red beeker is a darned good look.

"Hey, Rudolph turn that thing down - we're trying to play volleyball here."

I should worry about this sunburn problem -- the one that afflicts us with the fair hair and freckly skin tones. The Big C on the tip of a nose is nothing to sneeze at, so

My Uncle Terry had bits of his nose hacked off for that very reason. I know the dangers, heck I even glop sun-block all over my face, the back of my neck and on the tip of my ears. The above mentioned all still get pink. Maybe it's time to consider some flesh-tone latex house

Thinking about it, I guess I never really get that "savage tan" all the sunworshipers go for. I worked my way through college with a summer job at Independence Township's Lakeview Cemetery. I dug that job ... people were dying to get in . . . I had a lot of folks under me . . (Sorry, old pun habits die hard). But, even after a summer of being outside doing whatever cemetery workers do, I'd only come away with a slightly golden hue to my

The other guys would walk away with those glorious tans advertised by the tanning lotion people. Dang it. It's just wasn't fair.

Dad had dark hair and a darker complexion -- why did I have to take after Mom when it comes to skin pigmentation?.

Rats.

Of course, I probably should have heeded the advice I received about 12 years ago from Dr. Janet Koprince - she's over there at the Community Health Center in Oxford. I believe she's a dermatologist, so I interviewed her for a story on summer skin care. I can't remember her exact quote, and I'm too lazy to go back into the morgue to look it up, but what I think she really tried to brand onto by brain is: Don, stay out of the sun!

She might as well as said, "Don, read a map before you take a day trip."

Like most guys I ignored any form of wisdom given by a gal - even a doctored one.

I still get sunburned. Though at least now I don't go for the tanned look, I just take what I get.

Don Rush

Hey ... how about those Birmingham kids on the high school tennis team refusing to run laps, and then colluding to have their coach resign . . . can any guy who was ever in sports think that would have happened on their team? I think of all the coaches I had as a youth and I come up with: Not a chance in Hades. Resign, over their cold, dead bodies.

It's not that our coaches were mean, they were just coaches and we, as players were theirs. They owned us. There's justice off the field, in school, and then there's on-field coach justice.

If we would have refused to run laps Coach's head would have popped as the colorful metaphors poured out his mouth. Then the person who started the coup attempt would be promptly tongue-lashed. Then there would be double laps for the entire team. Then that person would have been summarily called a wussy, pansy, girly-boy and kicked off the team.

Then, were that person me, the belittling would start all over when I got home. Pops Rush wouldn't just make me run laps, he would make me run laps and he would follow so I could continue to hear his lecture on the virtues of sportsmanship, team work and political theory of why America is great and Communism sucks.

Gosh. It would have been ugly.

Golly. What's up with the world today?

Times change: kissing booth is gone

Jim's

Jottings

Jim Sherman

It disappeared before my time, but were it still around the County Fair Kissing Booth might be high on my list of charities to support.

Unless you've seen some 1930s movies with June Allyson, Gene Kelly and the like you are not likely to even know what a Kissing Booth is (was).

Well, they were a way some ladies of various charities would raise money at County Fairs, celebrations and other public occurrences. "Step right over here! Get a kiss from a pretty lady for just twenty-five

Oh, the thrill, the excitement, the spirit lifting experience of kisses by pretty girls for just a quarter of a dol-

Were the Kissing Booth still around lay there would still be excitement, but it would be because you were risking AIDS, public chastisement and a remark from your wife, like, "Charity is not what's on your mind, Buster,"

And, you would probably have to cross a picket line of do-gooders carrying signs warning of your future in Hell, or "Kissing is for babies, not babes." Also, if such booths were reinstituted the cost would be $25. Another thing missing from County Fairs is the challenge of trying to reach around a fat woman. This was my dad's favorite. Actually, it was in a tie for favorite with scratching a 600-pound sow's belly.

That 'reaching' scene has as many socially unacceptable implications today as the kissing booth.

But, every July, our family headed from Shiawassee County to Ionia County for their great Fair. It was always scheduled between the wheat and oat threshing

This was a major, with a racing track, 'name' stage shows, many, many animal and fowl sheds, lots of equipment displays and huge midway, though the only thing I remember about it is the 'reaching' booth.

Dad was a pretty good size man; 6'3, 190, raw boned and with long arms and a longing.

The fat lady was huge. Mind you, not any larger than many women we see in the malls today. And, today we call these people fat only when we're alone in middle of the Mojave desert.

Lord, love a duck. We better be saying physically challenged, or some such unsubtle description when we're referring to the obese.

Anyway, my pappy would be grinning from ear to ear, obviously about to enjoy his annual challenge, as he neared the fat lady tent.

She'd be sitting (she was too fat to stand) just outside her tent, with a sign, "Try to reach around the fat lady. Only $1!"

See that, you protectors of the world, the fat lady would boast about being fat.

In the 10 or 12 years we attended the Ionia County Fair I only remember dad getting his fingers to touch once. But, I'll never forget dad's grin as he spotted that fat lady.

A Look

15 YEARS AGO (1985)

The need for condominiums in the Village of Clarkston was hotly debated before approximately 20 residents at a public hearing, Village council members unanimously recommended a proposed planned unit development (PUD) ordinance and a separate condominium ordinance be reviewed before the June meeting by the village planner.

Concerns about class sizes and split classes at Clarkston Elementary School prompted a survey of parents, and a report to the board of education. Eric Haven of Clarkston presented the letter sent to parents of next year's third- and fourth graders and the survey results.

Stop pondering the hike in paperback book prices and consider this: Textbook expenditures totaling $84,429 were approved by the Clarkston board of education. New mathematics books are coming next year for all pupils from kindergarten through grade eight.

25 YEARS AGO (1975)

A 7,700 square foot Post Office serving the Clarkston Postal District will be ready for occupancy next April, according to postal service architects Samborn, Steketee Ofis and Evans, Inc. of Flint. To be constructed of beige velour face brick accented with medium bronze anodized aluminum entrance and window overhangs, it is expected to cost from $500,000 to $1 million.

Sewer service for the south and east portion of Springfield Township could become a reality within the next five years, according to Jerry Nechal, District II coordinator for the Oakland County Planning Department.

Independence Township has added three full time firemen with the rating of 'engineer' to be paid at the rate of $10,500 a year for six months and then increased to $11,000 a year. The three are Neil Ashley, Roland (Gar) Wilson and Gordon Mason.

50 YEARS AGO (1950)

For the next few weeks the Clarkston High School Seniors will be kept busy. Next week they go on a trip to Washington, D.C. with Miss Marguerite Bennett and Mr. Leigh Bonner as chaperones. On the evening of June 11 they will hear the baccalaureate sermon preached by the Reverend George Halk at the Clarkston Baptist Church.

Arthur Heimburger, commercial teacher at the Clarkston High School, has been delegated to represent Oakland County at the National Education Association Convention to be held in St. Louis, Mo., from July 3rd through

Four out of 10 awards go to ad design students

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

A panel of representatives from the automotive industry, traffic safety, and academia have recognized the efforts of four students at the Oakland Technical Center.

Borg-Warner Automotive and the Detroit Section of the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE) sponsored its 23rd Annual Poster Contest earlier this year, based on the theme "Adding Value to Life Through Technology and Advanced Mobility."

OTC student Pat Cook was the top finisher among the four students, placing third in the contest. As a result, he was awarded a $300 college scholarship.

Leah Chartier took home fourth place, while Elizabeth Flaga finished fifth and Joe Manti ninth. All three received $100 U.S. savings bonds for their efforts.

"We did really well, because we took four out of 10 places," said Kris Minor, an advertising design teacher at OTC.

According to Minor, students at OTC have taken part in the event for the past seven years, and have done quite well for themselves during that time.

"We've always had a couple of winners," she said.

A total of 10 award winners in the contest we announced Feb. 17; the winning posters were displayed at the 2000 SAE International Congress and Exposition, held March 6-9 at the Cobo Center in Detroit.

The first prize winner was awarded a $1,000 college scholarship, while the second prize winner was awarded a $600 college scholarship.

Asthma, Allergies, Ear Infections

Joey has had asthma, allergies and ear infections since he was 12 months old. When he started chiropractic care he was 5-1/2 years old.

Joey was taking:

- Intol 2x daily as much as 4x if he had an attack
- Venolin (When needed) approximately every other day.
- Steroids Every 4 hours if attack occurred.

Chiropratic examination discovered spinal subluxations (nerve interference) in his neck, mid-back and low back. After 6 months of chiropratic care, Joey is off 90% of his drugs. His parents have also noted that he is sleeping through the night and breathing much better without as much coughing.

by Kelley R. Kostin Attorney at Law

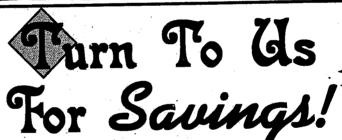

MAKING A MAJOR ASSUMPTION

When defendants are sued over negligence that resulted in another person's injury, they may defend themselves against liability by establishing that the injured party assumed the risk for the injury, Thus, the assumption of risk defense may negate the wrongdoer's negligence. To establish this defense, the wrongdoer must prove that the injured person was aware of, and understood, the specific danger involved. In addition, it must be shown that the injured party voluntarily exposed him- or herself to the danger that resulted in an injury. Then, even if risk were negligently created by the wrongdoer, he or she would not be considered proximate cause of any resulting injury, and the injured party could not recover damages.

What you don't know about your legal rights can hurt you and your family. Here at 11 North Main Street, we handle a variety of matters involving personal injury, auto accidents, slip and fall, criminal defense, business law, real estate, family law, and civil litigation in both State and Federal courts. For sound advice, call 620-1030. The initial consultation is free.

Note: For liability to exist in a personal injury case, it must be proved that the wrongdoers conduct was what led to the injury.

The fourth through tenth place winners were each awarded a $100 savings bond.

According to the contest rules, the posters were judged on the basis of originality, artistic excellence, aesthetics, and relativity to theme. The competition was held among all full-time high school students within the Metro Detroit area.

Headwaters preservation project report next week

The steering committee for the Shiawassee and Huron Headwaters Resource Preservation Project will be presenting information regarding the completion of the S&H Project at a meeting next week.

The meeting will be held Tuesday, June 6 from 6:30-8 p.m. at the Springfield Oaks Activity Center on Andersonville Road in Davisburg. It is being sponsored by the Oakland County Planning & Economic Development Services.

"The project was initiated by Springfield Township," said Springfield Township Clerk Nancy Strole. "The project is unique and has generated a lot of interest, not just in Oakland County, but in other parts of the state."

Displays and photographs from the report will be on exhibit. A light meal precedes a presentation, with a question and answer session to follow. There is no charge for the

Over the past 2-1/2 years, the committee has studied the headwaters region covering Highland, Milford, Rose, Springfield and White Lake Townships and Milford Village.

This particular area is distinguished by the topography of uplands and lowlands, along with the headwaters of the Shiawassee and Huron Rivers, which combines to form an area with unique natural landscapes.

Oakland County is home to the headwaters of five major river systems that reach as far as Saginaw Bay, Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie.

All of the above communities participated in the project, and funding for the project came from grants from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the Community Foundation for Southeastern Michigan, and Oakland County.

Incidents at Clarkston schools spur action, safety talks

Sashabaw Middle School student suspended, Clarkston El. student removed temporarily

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Two incidents involving the safety of area students prompted action by the Clarkston school district on Friday.

Dr. Al Roberts, superintendent of Clarkston Community Schools, held a meeting with members of the media at the district's administrative offices to discuss safety issues and concerns in the district.

Also on hand at the meeting were Lt. Dale LaBair, commander of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department's Independence Township substation; Deputy Chuck Young, school police liaison officer; and Anita Banach, public relations coordinator for the Clarkston school district.

One of the incidents involved an eighth grade student at Sashabaw Middle School, who was reported to have written a threatening message on a bathroom wall in the school.

"We immediately began an investigation," said Banach.

The student was apprehended and suspended for the remainder of the school year. In addition, Banach said the student will face an expulsion hearing that could impact his or her schooling for next year.

The other incident, which took place earlier this month, involved a six-year old boy at Clarkston Elementary School who reportedly threatened to bring a gun to school and kill a seven-year old girl.

The girl notified her parents of the incident, and then the parents notified Charles Rowland III, principal at Clarkston Elementary, of the threat, according to Banach.

The six-year old was removed from school last week, but was allowed to return to school Tuesday, Banach said.

"Students can return to school as soon as it is safe," she said.

Banach said that the student did not have access to a weapon; in addition, she said that the boy's parents were extremely cooperative in the matter.

She explained that since eighth graders, in general, tend to have a better understanding of right and wrong than first-grade students, the two incidents were dealt with differently.

"It was a rash statement that no adult heard," Banach said of the boy's threats. "That incident is just worlds apart from the other one."

However, she said that the district would remain consistent in terms of taking a stand against school

"It's still the same zero-tolerance policy throughout the district," Banach said.

A letter was sent Friday to parents at Sashabaw Middle School with regard to safety concerns, according to Banach, and a district-wide letter, written by Roberts, was mailed Tuesday.

In the latter of the two letters, Roberts cautioned parents how the impending summer vacation can distract students from their schoolwork, and reminded parents to monitor their children's behavior to keep them focused during the remaining days of school, according to Banach.

'Caring group of kids' honor veterans

BY ELLY SPINWEBER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Last Tuesday night, against a background of red, white and blue streamers, a banner in the Independence Elementary School cafeteria read: "You Gave Your Yesterday For Our Tomorrow." In keeping with this theme, students from the school's fifth grade classes paid tribute to U.S. Veterans with a night of performance and song.

Retired servicemen from the American Legions of Clarkston, Waterford and Oxford were in attendence, as well as family members who were veterans, invited by the students. Many took time afterwards not only to trade stories with each other, but to talk with parents and students.

"I thought it was terrific; it's great they're teaching about vets and about why we have our freedom," said Tom Phipps, Commander, American Legion Post 63 in Clarkston.

Students from Mrs. Campbell's class perform a short play for the veterans.

Phipps also said he hopes area schools continue to teach students about veterans and their part in our history.

Some of the men brought memorabilia of their service time, which was on display after the program.

The evening included two short plays, poetry readings, storytelling and a rendition of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." It was a display not only of the students' talent and appreciation, but also evidence of the initiative this particular group has shown throughout the year.

"The teachers have all said they are a really compassionate class," said Jean Giannaris, who was in attendence to watch her child perform in one of the plays.

The coordinator of the program, fifthgrade teacher Dana Pennanen, agreed.

"We talked so much about war in class," Pennanen said. "The kids were constantly bringing up stories about relatives in wars, so I asked what they thought we could do to help."

Ideas brainstormed by the students ranged from serving the Veterans a dinner to building them a statue. Eventually however, the classes settled on a performance in tribute to the services with which the Veterans have provided our country.

"This group has always been very interested in helping," Pennanen said.

In addition to last week's program, this year the fifth graders participated in Jar Wars, which raised money for cystic fibrosis, and initiated a school-wide drive to collect hygiene products for victims of Hurricane Floyd.

"It's just so nice to have a caring group of kids," Giannaris said.

past six years she has chaired the annual Rummage Sale at the Clarkston United Methodist Church.

She and her husband made all of the School Fair Games for Springfield Plains Elementary and she is an active volunteer in the media center.

The award for Young Person of the Year was also a tie, between CHS senior Blake Coe and Andersonville Elementary student Adam Weightman.

Coe is involved in Marching Band, Jazz Band, Youth in Government and Interact. He has taught Sunday School at St. Daniel Catholic Church, as well as volunteering to usher and contribute his talents to the music program.

He is also responsible for the establishment of a pep band at Clarkston High School, the Wolves Pack. A dedicated but quiet student, Coe's commitment to this project required recruiting an adult sponsor, talking his peers into volunteering their time and making presentations to the Rotary and other organizations.

Adam Weightman is an all "A" student at Andersonville Elementary and member of the Clarkston Academically Talented program. He has been a playground mediator, a kindergarten helper, a Student Council representative and a published author.

He has had poems published in two children's writing magazines and one of his stories was selected by a group of professional actors to be performed at a school assembly.

Weightman is very involved in the community. He is an alter boy at church. He helped wash and wrap toys for a toy drive, he was part of the effort in adopting a needed family for Christmas and he also participated in collecting for UNICEF, HAVEN, Toys for Tots and Lighthouse. He and his family work hard for the Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan. At the Radiothon he worked 32 straight hours, answering phones, acting as a runner and more.

He also worked at a summer benefit for Leukemia, "Kicks for Kids". Andersonville Elementary has a Service Learning Program called STARServe and Adam has accumulated 40 hours since November, nearly twice as much as any other student.

The Adult-Youth Volunteer award went to Brooke McCall, a local advocate and champion for kids who have been diagnosed with cancer.

McCall was been nominated for her tireless and selfless dedication to helping children who have been diagnosed with cancer find medical treatment.

She organizes and runs fundraising events for cancer stricken youth so that bone-marrow transplants and other expensive treatments not covered by insurance can be available to improve the odds for cancer remission and cure.

McCall is an unsung hero of the Clarkston community. She has over 12 nominations, many from families whose children are alive today because of her efforts to help families understand cancer treatments, options, find funding for medical treatments and connect with doctors and medical facilities who are at the cutting edge of cancer research.

This is the second year in a row Dave Harrison of Clarkston State Bank has been named Business Person of the Year.

The chamber's nomination form allows individuals to be renominated for new or different efforts. In 1999 Harrison was honored for his work bringing the Clarkston State Bank into the historical City of Clarkston and for his efforts to revitalize the City of the Village of

This year Harrison received this award for his work with Career Connections, a partnership between the Clarkston Chamber of Commerce and Clarkston Community Schools.

Harrison's interest in providing meaningful career exploration opportunities for Clarkston area youth resulted in leading the chamber's efforts to build a collection of career exploration initiatives.

Partnering with the schools, Dave has supported this issue not only with his leadership and interest but with financial support. In August 1999, he bought lunch at the chamber mixer so that more chamber members

Career Connections is just now beginning to launch programs including the May 22 Employment Fair at Clarkston High School, Career Speakers, Community Talent Base, Boy Scout EXPLORER posts, and a Senior Internship project.

The Community Preservation award went to the Clarkston Rotary Club, accepted by Mark Deacon, president.

The Rotary was nominated for their quiet, behindthe-scenes efforts to maintain the Clarkston community "hometown" identity. With volunteer work, donations and personal commitment, the Rotary makes many things in our community "just happen."

This award recognized the Rotary's good works such as: the purchase, maintenance and installation of holiday decorations for the City of the Village of Clarkston; Labor Day Parade; Independence Day fireworks annual co-sponsorship; Bay Court Park, major site improvements; Sashabaw Plains Park, major site improvements.

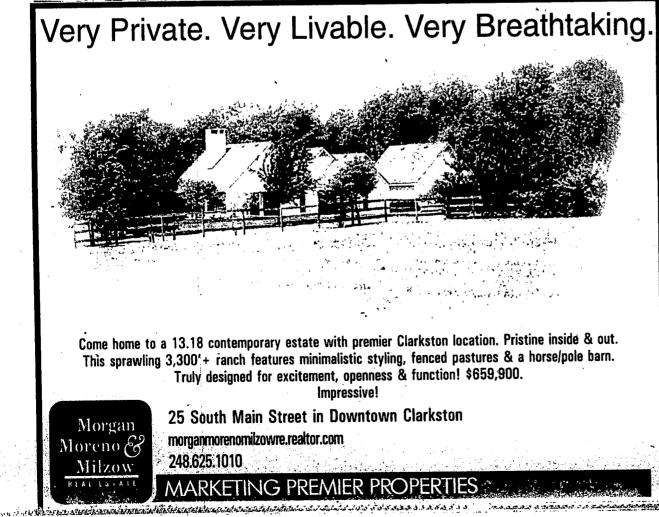

Ann Conklin, Independence Township Parks and Recreation Director received a special award from Independence Township Supervisor Dale Stuart. The award was in appreciation and recognition for her service and dedication over the last 11 years.

Dave Hopper makes his first attempt at Springfield Twp. trustee

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Springfield Township resident Dave Hopper will be making his first attempt this fall at an elected office.

Hopper, a Republican, has filed as a candidate for Springfield Township trustee, hoping to represent the area where he has lived for eight years.

He noted that since he is the only trustee candidate that is not an incumbent, he considers himself to be the underdog.

Nonetheless, Hopper, who has served on the township's Planning Commission for over five years (including two as chairman and two as co-chairman), believes that he can contribute to the board.

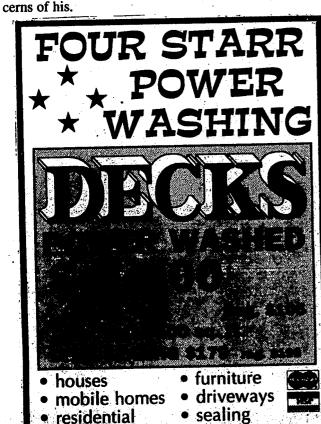

He believes that the small-town character of the area can be maintained, despite the recent upswing in development.

"I really think it's a wonderful little community, but it's not going to be little too long," Hopper said. "With that development will come headaches, but I think we can plan for them."

He stated that the township must continue to monitor the area to deal with the growth in the area.

"Growth is inevitable," he added. "We've got to adequately deal with it. We'll have to keep on that. The status quo might not be enough."

In addition to the development issues, Hopper said that visual and traffic improvements on Dixie Highway, obtaining funding for public services, and the development of the township's civic center are all key con-planning commission, has served as president of the Springfield Preservation Committee since 1997.

It was a natural offshoot to try and work with land conservancy;" he said. "We liked dealing with the people who were there. I think they were farsighted; if you work with these communities, they will not be against you."

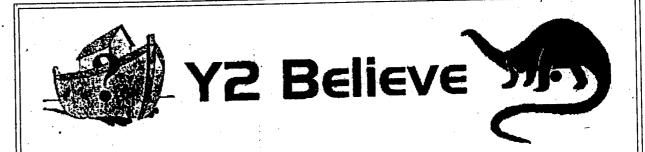

Before moving to Springfield Township, Hopper lived in White Lake for three years. He and his wife, Hopper, in addition to his work on the township's Diana, have been married for 11 years, and have three children: Drew, 7, and twins Shelby and Ryan, 4.

Hopper stated that the nature-oriented atmosphere and the open spaces in the township is what attracted him in moving from Walled Lake eight years ago.

"That's something that even with the development, I hope we can maintain," he said. "The majority of the areas left to develop are suburban estates. I would still like to see open space, so that we still have wildlife. I think that really improves the quality of life."

Come and unearth the answers to these questions:

- Did dinosaurs roam the earth millions of years before man?
- Was the world created in six days?
- What is the truth about Carbon Dating?
- What can I tell people who are evolutionists?

Professor Rick Chromey will be at Clarkston Free Methodist Church June 2 and 3 to explore these questions and more!

Don't expect a lecture as dry as dinosaur bones here - Rick has a few tricks up his sleeve and there will be enough variety in the two nights to keep you interested and talking about it for weeks to come.

Parents - we have nursery for children infant through three years available at each session. This is a good session for children fourth grade and up. You will walk away better able to answer your children's questions about evolution, dinosaurs, and how they can logically stand up to what they are taught in school.

Memorial Day ceremonies honor Clarkston vets

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Before firing up the barbecue grills and turning on the TV to watch the ballgame, Clarkston residents turned out in droves Memorial Day to pay their respects to the area's war veterans.

Hundreds of people made their way onto Main Street Monday morning to open the day's festivities.

A pair of jets flew overhead to kick things off, and from there, the Clarkston chapter of the Veterans of Foreign Wars made their way down the street, followed by a performance from the Clarkston High School marching band.

At that point, the crowd dispersed and made their way to the Lakeview Cemetery to honor those who lost their lives in service to their country.

Among the speakers at the ceremony were Pastor Bob Walters, outgoing pastor at Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church in Clarkston, who recited the Gettysburg Address, made famous by President Abraham Lincoln during the Civil War.

Also on hand was Independence Township Supervisor Dale Stuart, who addressed the audience about the importance of remembering those who lost their lives so that we could have the freedom that we currently enjoy today.

A wreath was laid near the cemetery's flagpole to honor the area's veterans.

Members of the community honor area veterans at lakeside Cemetery on memorial Day.

The Wolves don't have a shot at the Oakland Activities Division I title, but they had a history making season nonetheless. Al Land's team has won 27 games this year, the most since he's been coaching Still, even with 27 wins under their belts this season Land and his team are hoping for more, much more.

The Wolves wrap up their regular season this afternoon with a double header against Rochester Adams at 4 p.m.

The Wolves strength all season has been rock solid defense and clutch hitting. Their strong infield play and the pitching duo of Candace Morgan and Lisa Ferguson have troubled opposing teams all season long. The Wolves lost Ferguson to an ankle injury earlier during the Pieper tournament the weekend of May 13. Since then, Morgan has been doing the vast majority of the pitching and has done an excellent job Land said.

"Candace has been doing great. She's 7-1 since Lisa went down. She's been solid and has really helped us out. She's very competitive and a great team player," Land said.

Land said Ferguson is at about 80 percent and hopes she plays today against the Highlanders. She had been batting second in the lineup before the injury, but now bats ninth.

"Her pitching seems okay, but she's

Boys track team finishes second in county meet

The varsity boys track team finished second with 62 points in the Oakland County track meet May 26 at Clarkston High School.

The Wolves finished behind Pontiac Northern.

Highlighting the meet for the Wolves were the usual standout performances of the 4x800 and 4x400 relay teams which have both qualified for the state meet June 3 in Rockford.

The 4x400 team of Matt Carlson, Brett Quantz, Kevin Breen and Adam Gebus combined to take second place and set a new school record with a time of 3:24.9.

The 4x800 team of Breen, David Sage, Quantz and Matt Haver also set a Wolves record with a first place time of 7:54.80

Sage took first place in the 1600 meter with a time of 4:20 and second place in the 3200 with a time of 9:42.60.

The Wolves did very well in the 800 taking the second, third and fourth

Soccer team eyes tough district action

(Editor's note: At press time the first round district game between Clarkston and Birmingham Seaholm hadn't yet been played).

In a season of ups and downs the girls varsity soccer team can take refuge in one thing — their real season is just starting.

The Wolves finished the regular season with an overall record of 7-8-3 and were 1-6-3 in the Oakland Activities Association Division II, but coach Tami Mitchell thinks her team could've had a better division record.

"We let some games slip away. We didn't win all the games we should have won," she said.

Still, the Wolves finished the regular season with five more wins than they amassed all of last year and are coming together at the right time Mitchell said.

"Spring break hurt us this year, but we practiced over the Memorial Day weekend and the girls seem focused and ready to go. They're motivated and upbeat," Mitchell said.

A lack of offense has been a concern of Mitchell in recent weeks. The Wolves were shutout at the hands of both Kimball and Troy this month by a combined score of 9-0. The bleeding stopped however in a recent 2-0 win over Brandon. While the win gave the Wolves a much needed boost, they lost sophomore Lauren Welbourn to a broken leg during the game.

"Other than Lauren, we're pretty healthy. We've got everybody going at least 80 percent," Mitchell said.

Mitchell said she hopes Brooke Petrinec's improved offensive play helps Clarkston find the back of the net.

"We need to finish on our chances. We've been working a lot on crossing and shooting. Brooke has really been shooting well," Mitchell said.

If the Wolves defeat Seaholm, they'll then play host West Bloomfield in round two at 7 p.m.

The Wolves tied the Lakers twice this season. Both games ended 4-4.

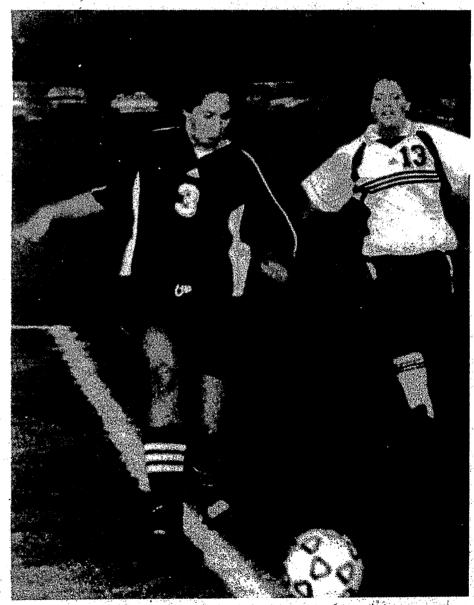

"It's going to be competitive. There's always lots of energy and a lot of fun when we play them," Mitchell said.

If the Wolves get past West Bloomfield they would most likely play Troy in the district final at Clarkston High School at 7 p.m. on Friday.

"Troy is the team to beat in the district," Mitchell said.

The Wolves lost to the Colts 6-0 in their only meeting this year, but that was at Troy, and that concerns Troy coach Henry Steinwascher, whose team finished the regular season at 9-2-2.

"I think any time you play on the road it gives the other team an advantage. We'll have to adjust to their field and anything can happen in districts. You never want to take anybody lightly. Clarkston never quits. They show a lot of tenacity. Our strength is our defense and we've got lots of returning players. We're expecting to take on the winner of the Clarkston vs. Seaholm game in the district final," Steinwascher said.

Brooke Petrinec (13) has been improving on offense as of late.

Girls track team finishes fourth at Oakland County Meet

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston girls track team finished fourth in the Oakland County track meet held at Clarkston High School May 26.

Southfield took home the first place finish while Walled Lake Central took second place. Pontiac Northern finished third and South Lyon rounded out the top five spots. Thirty-one schools competed in the meet.

"Our girls ran well. Everybody really came to compete. It was one of our better days," girls varsity track coach Gordie Richardson said.

Highlighting the meet for Clarkston was the first jump, which gave her a seventh place spot. place finish of the 4x800 relay team of Nina Zamora, Rachel Uchman, Karyn Erkfritz and Nicole Fischer who finished with a time of 9:35.70.

The Wolves also dominated the 800 meter, as they took the top two spots. Fischer won the event with a time of 2:20.54. She was followed closely by Uchman who ended up with a time of 2:21.04.

Meanwhile, Clarkston's 4x400 relay team of Brittani Brewer, Lindsay Brandt, Fischer and Uchman still pretty careful when she runs. She needs to get some work in before districts," Land said.

Clarkston's district action begins June 3 at 10 a.m. at Lake Orion High School. The Wolves will play the winner of the Oxford vs. Grand Blanc game and Land said he fully expects to see the Bobcats of the Big Nine Conference.

The Bobcats are 16-16 this season and are powered by strong defense and timely hitting head coach Bob Mitchell said.

"We expect a tough, close game against Clarkston," Mitchell said.

The Wolves split with the Bobcats earlier this

Mitchell said is team his anchored by senior pitcher Jenny Payne, who will get the start against the Wolves, and junior catcher Lauren Holland, who is a second year starter.

Land said Holland and the top of the Bobcats batting order could give his club some trouble.

"They've got a great catcher so it's tough to steal on them. Plus, They're hitting is pretty good, especially in the top of the order," Land said.

If the Wolves get past Grand Blanc, they'll then get ready for the winner of the Lake Orion vs. Lapeer West game. Land said he expects the Dragons to be waiting for the Wolves.

"I'd say us and Lake Orion are the teams to beat in the district with Grand Blanc being the dark horse,"

The Wolves were a perfect 3-0 this season against Lake Orion (21-8), but all three wins were one run decisions and Land knows how tough the Dragons can

"They were all close games. One run games don't really mean anything. I'm sure they'll have a revenge factor on their minds, but I'm hoping that because we went 3-0 on them our girls have some added confidence. It should be a close district," Land said.

The Wolves lost to the Dragons in the district final in 1999 4-3 and but won 3-2 in 1998 in nine Lake Orion coach Denny Davis expects a very competitive game assuming the Wolves and Dragons meet in the district final June 3 at 2:10 p.m.

"We're very, very close teams and fully expect to see them in the final. We're the two best teams. We enjoy playing them. Whatever team shows up will win," Davis said.

· The Dragons feature shortstop Melissa Wilson who is batting .489 and have a dangerous third baseman in Katie Lewis, But Davis knows the Wolves have some dangerous weapons too.

"When we think of Clarkston we immediately think of their great leadoff hitter Melanie Arnold. She's probably batting around .750. We've got to keep her off base," Davis said.

'Our girls ran well. Everybody really came to compete.'

Gordie Richardson — Girls track coach took fourth, as it finished with a time of 4:11.75.

Uchman's leap of 16'5" was good enough for a third place finish in the long jump.

Brewer, meanwhile cleared 4'10" in the high

Julie Burke cleared 7'6" in the pole vault and Carla Del Vecchio's time of 12:07.14 gave her an eighth place finish in the 3200 meter run.

Four freshmen: Marley Brown, Amanda Sawyer, Kim Wilson and Beth Randall all placed in their events as well.

Wolves who will be heading to the state track meet June 3 in Rockford will be the 4x800 team, Fischer in the 800 and the 4x400 team.

Freshman track results

The Wolves took third in the Oakland County freshman track meet May 27 with 43 points.

Milford took first place with 100 points while Walled Lake Central took second with 50 points. Brother Rice and Pontiac Northern rounded out the top five

Higlighting the meet for Clarkston was a first place finish in the 800 meter relay thanks to the team of Brian Oltman, Rocky Vanchioa, Matt Tolbert and Paul Mesi at 1:25.30

Oltman took second in the 200 meter dash with a time of 23.80. The Wolves ended with the third place finish of the 3200 meter relay team who finished with a time of 8:59.40. Oltman took fourth in the 100 meter dash with a time of 11.60.

The Wolves also took fifth in the 400 meter relay with a time of 48:40 and second place in the 400 meter dash as Mesi finished up at 53.70.

Another standout performance for Clarkston was Mark Sitko's fifth place finish in the 3200 meter with a time of 10:45.10.

Rounding out the top showings for the Wolves was Vanchina, who took sixth in the 800 meter with a time of 2:13.10.

Athlete of the week: Chris Mitchell

Senior first baseman and pitcher Chris Mitchell has been one of the most important players on this year's varsity baseball roster. The reason — he's consistent.

In a season of ups and downs for Phil Price's team, Mitchell has stepped up and delivered game in and game out.

One of his best performances this season came against Rochester Adams in the regular season finale. The Wolves lost the game 4-3, but Mitchell only gave up four hits in the loss.

"He's been solid for us this year," Price said. "He's been a great player and he always gives us a full effort out there."

Mitchell said his pitching has improved over

"I think I've developed some pretty good pitches. My curve is my best pitch. I'm gaining confidence with it. I'm also gaining more control on my changeup."

Mitchell said the highlight of the season for him was the 12-3 win over Troy on April 14. The Colts were ranked no. 1 in the state at the time. He said the key to that win was that the Wolves played with lots of emotion, something he'd like to see more of.

"We were so up for that game. We need to be more vocal and enthusiastic as a team. We've shown flashes this season of being great," Mitchell

Mitchell also played varsity football this season for the Wolves and had a tremendous season at running back, picking up nearly 2000 yards on

"I like baseball more. It's more laid back,", -

After graduation Mitchell will attend either Grand Valley State University or South Georgia where he'll play pitcher and outfield.

In his spare time he enjoys watching football and baseball, hunting and fishing.

spots respectively. Taking second was Quantz with a time of 1:58.8. Third place went to Breen who finished at 2:00.1, while Haver ended up with a time of 2:00.2

The Wolves finished seventh in the Tong jump thanks to Breen's leap of 20'1.5".

Haver took seventh place in the 1600 with a time of 4:27.5 while Eric Bauer's shot put throw was good enough for an eigth place finish.

Bill Kalush took eigth place in the pole vault, as he cleared 11'6".

The Wolves will be well represented at the state meet, but who exactly will compete in the 4x800 and 4x400 relay teams has yet to be decided. The teams that competed at the Oakland County track meet may stay together for the state meet, or Clarkston coach Walt Wyniemko may tweak things around a little. He may put Jon Chinet in the 4x800 team and he may instert Cody Senkyr to the 4x400 team and take out Adam Gebus.

Both Quantz and Breen qualified for states in the half mile. In addition, Sage will compete in the one and two mile.

Golfers win league meet

'It's because they worked hard, had fun and learned from each other' — coach Larry Sherrill

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston girls varsity golf coach Larry Sherrill had plenty of reasons to smile after the Wolves finished in first place at the Oakland Activities Association Division III league meet at Lincoln Hills in Birmingham May 23.

The Wolves finished with a score of 187. Birmingham Groves took second place with a 201 mark while Auburn Hills Avondale rounded out the top three spots with a score of 205.

Clarkston's best rounds came from Anna Trim who shot a 43 and Kira Karlstrom who finished with a 45. Lauren Benner ended the day with a 49 while Krista Roscheck shot a 50. Taylor Wiburn and Alison Olinger also competed for Clarkston.

The Wolves finished second overall in the OAA II this year, one point behind first place Avondale. The Wolves went 8-2 in dual meets, losing to Avondale and Groves in their first meets, but beat them both the second time around.

Sherrill said the success of the first year program is a tribute to his team's dedication.

"Because golf is an individual game, it helps a lot that all of our girls were friends and helped each other out. It's not a tribute to me. It's because they worked hard, had fun, learned from each other and became more and more comfortable playing competitive golf as the season went on," Sherrill said.

The Wolves did well enough this season to give Sherrill hopes of moving up to the OAA II next year, but that decision won't be made until June 7. All the coaches of OAA golf programs divisions I, II and III will then decide who moves up or down within the divisions.

"I think we've got a shot at going up to division II, but usually it works out that teams who have been in the division longer would move up before a first year team would," Sherrill said.

Part of the reason for the Wolves success on the course this season has been Trim, who Sherrill said has been one of his most consistent golfers all season.

"Anna's been playing good for us all year. So has Kira (Karlstrom). She works hard and is very focused. She's played very well, especially when you consider she's brand new to the sport of golf this year," Sherrill said.

Sherrill also noted sophomore Taylor Wilburn and junior Kelly Haggard as having good seasons this year.

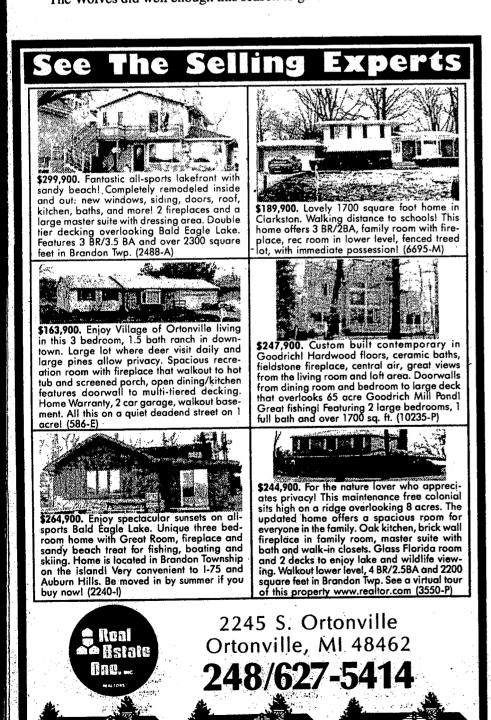

"They exceeded my expectations this year. I didn't think we'd do as well as we did. I just tried to give them solid fundamentals. They took that and wanted to get better," he said.

The Wolves only had three seniors on this years team: Ashley Moran, Olinger and Roscheck. Seven players can return next year from this years team.

"I think we'll be in good shape next year. We've got some good young players and we really got better as the season went on," Sherrill said.

Taylor Wilburn tees off in recent Clarkston golf action.

Banking can be a very rewarding career, especially if you enjoy working with the public and helping people achieve their financial goals. Entry-level job opportunities within the banking industry are varied and include not only teller, but clerical and administrative support workers as well. Higher level positions may include opportunities in accounting, finance, investment services, and loans.

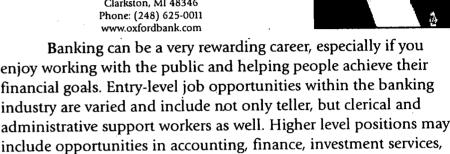

To work for a bank, especially Oxford Bank, you must be a people person, have a commitment to the community in which you work, and possess a willingness to learn new jobs. It is also important that you are a responsible individual.

Experience is not required for all positions, but sales experience is always beneficial. Accounting and finance courses are also helpful. However, courses and seminars are offered to employees as a way for them to gain additional training and knowledge.

When working in the banking industry, it is imperative to maintain a strong knowledge of all the products and services offered by your bank. This will enable you to identify the best way to meet the needs of your customers. Another thing to keep in mind is that all information you receive about a customer is to be kept confidential.

If you decide to explore the banking industry, good communication skills are a must, followed by a strong desire to provide customer service. The ability to establish relationships with your customers is an important aspect of any job in the banking industry.

Wolves chances at OAA title fall short

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

In a season full of ups and downs, one thing is certain for this year's varsity baseball team - inconsistency.

The Wolves have looked great at times and terrible at others. They pulled off a string of six consecutive wins this season. They demolished Troy 12-3 back on April 14.

They had a chance at the Oakland Activities Division I title outright provided they beat Lake Orion and closed the season with a win while visiting Rochester Adams. However, a terrible fourth inning helped the Dragons to a 12-8 win.

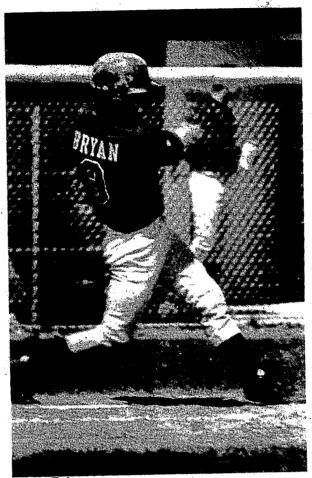

Clarkston coach Phil Price said a lack of mental focus is a big reason why the Wolves have let games slip away this season.

"It's mentally frustrating because they let one mistake compound into another. You can't make mistakes in this league. With the competition here there's no let up. We've beaten ourselves a lot," Price said.

One of the reasons why the Wolves season has been so up and down is because of late game rallies. The Wolves have come from behind a number of times this season, but have come up short at others.

After getting the best of Oxford in a non-league double header earlier this season, Clarkston coach Phil Price said, "I think they want to give me gray hairs and a heart attack. Our kids battled, but they need to start battling in the earlier innings.'

That's exactly what they did in their next game. The Wolves came out on fire in the opening inning against Lake Orion May 22. Back to back homers by

Chris Mitchell and Bret Crawford helped the Wolves build an early game lead. But the lead didn't last long, and neither did Clarkston's chances of clinching the Oakland Activities Association Division I title.

Some of way a not a tite bearing to the feeling of the A.K.

"Sometimes I forget that these are high school kids and that mistakes are going to happen. I just want them to play a fundamentally sound game,"

The Wolves fell on hard times again May 24 when they fell to Rochester Adams 4-3 in their regular season finale. The loss dropped Clarkston's record to 18-9 overall and 7-5 in the OAA I. That gave the Wolves a third place finish in one of the state's toughtest baseball divisions. Last year Clarkston finished 22-11 overall.

The next stop for the Wolves will be Lake Orion High School, where they'll play the winner of the opening round game between Oxford and Grand Blanc June 3 at 10:00 a.m.

In the other half of the district bracket, Lapeer East will play the winner of the Lake Orion vs. Lapeer West matchup at 12:05 June 3. The district final game will be June 3 at 2:10 p.m. at Lake Orion

Price said he doesn't care who the Wolves play in districts, but did say Lake Orion is the team to

"I'll take our chances with anybody in the state. If we play our game and stay mentally focused there's no reason we can't win," Price said.

Last year the Wolves lost 18-15 to Lapeer West in districts.

Memorial Day makes me think of Dad

Maybe it's just me, but has the true meaning of Memorial Day been lost in recent years?

Now when people gear up for the big three day weekend — the "official" kick off to the season of summer, I think they often forget the true meaning of the holiday.

It isn't about racing up I-75 at light speed to get to a lake or cottage. It isn't about going fishing for the first time of the season, grilling up burgers on the grill or laying out on some white sandy beach. On the contrary, we, as Americans are treated to this three day weekend to remember those who died for our country's freedom and paid the ultimate price so that we could enjoy all that is good in life here in

Perhaps I'm a little more patriotic than your average kid one year out of college. Maybe that's because my father, the man I admire most, served his country when many others fled for the borders of Canada. My father was a first lieutenant in the Vietnam War.

He doesn't talk about it very often — if at all. If he does, it's usually to his class. He's a government and social studies teacher at North Farmington High School.

I remember one family vacation when we took a trip to Washington D.C. During the trip we saw many landmarks and historical sites; but none of which made a more lasting impression on me than the Vietnam Memorial. Thousands.

and thousands of names are engraved on the landmark. Each one of them was a hero. Each one of them was somebody's son, husband, brother, uncle, friend, teacher, lover, nephew or grandson.

My father, like so many others over there, lost a dear friend. The part that I remember the most however, is that he couldn't remember his friend's name. He could remember his rank, platoon number, commanding officer and every other army fact about his dear friend, but couldn't remember his fallen friend's own name.

After cross referencing all the information given to him, a man working the information booth was able to tell my father the name of his friend who was killed in action

That's what I think of every Memorial Day. My father asking that man working the information booth to help find the name of my father's friend who was killed in Vietnam.

So while Memorial Day, like just about every other holiday, has taken a turn towards commercialism, I remember that sunny day in our nation's capitol.

see on television advertising a memorial day sale. In my view, it's just another excuse for some money hungry business tycoon to make a quick buck in "honoring" those who have died for our freedom.

Well, I instead choose enjoy a quick bit of silence remembering those who have died and paid the ultimate price.

So while many Metro Detroiters raced on I-75 and continued their usual Memorial Day weekend traditions, I thought back to that trip to Washington D.C. and give thanks for my father and the millions like him who have fought for this great

Haver gives boys track team big contributions

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Nobody can argue with the success this year's boys track team has enjoyed in its second year in the Oakland Activities Association Division II.

The team won the league outright by placing second at its regional at Port Huron High School May 23. The Wolves were a perfect 6-0 in dual meets this year and just missed a first place finish at the meet, as Pontiac Northern edged out the Wolves 111-110.5

One of the big reasons for the Wolves success on the track this season has been senior Matt Haver.

The four year varsity track and cross country runner has been an integral part of the Wolves 4x800 relay team which has been rock solid this season. The team, made up of David Sage, Kevin Breen, Haver and Brett Quantz took first place at the regional with a time of 8:00.60. Haver also competes in the 2 mile and the mile.

Haver's consistently run times of under two minutes in his leg of the 4x800 relay. Haver is the leadoff man in the team and takes great pride in giving the Wolves a strong initial push.

"I always try to run the best I can and give the other guys a good start and put them in position to win. They depend on me to get them out strong," Haver said.

While Haver has enjoyed being partners for two years on that very tough 4x800 relay team, he has also enjoyed plenty of individual success in his senior year. He's metaled three times at the league meet and did very well at the Saginaw Valley Invitational. There, he ran a 10:02 two mile and finished the one mile with a time of 4:30.

"I had two good races back to back, since then I've been pretty consistent," Haver said.
