Waumegah Lake residents petition for lake board

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

A petition from Waumegah Lake residents requesting the establishment of a lake board was tabled at Thursday's meeting of the Springfield Township Board.

However, the residents are still vowing to come together to counteract what they feel are a series of problems that are affecting the area.

"There's a small minority of residents that are against any measures to improve the lake," said resident Jerry Kinsey."We thought it's important to get a lake board in here. There's been nothing but hassles and stumbles. It's not a dead issue."

According to Kinsey, the taxes in the area are increasing, while the property values are decreasing. "We're trying to reverse the tide," he said. "We need to do something."

John Bistoff, another area resident, contended that an engineer is needed to analyze the situation.

"It seems to be apparent that we need to get an engineer in there to determine what is wrong with the lake," he said. "Maybe an engineering study would make the direction we need to follow obvious."

The township attorney, Gary Need, will now review and research the petition to determine if a lake board can be formed for the area.

"We've asked the attorney for an opinion on several items," said Supervisor Collin Walls, who added that the township would foot the bill for the research.

One of the questions was whether the area can be classified as a public or private lake. A private lake

Springfield car crashes investigated

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department is looking into two serious automobile accidents that took place on two consecutive days in Springfield Township.

The first of these accidents took place at 1:19 a.m. Aug. 13 on northbound Hillsboro, north of Hillman.

According to police reports, a 23-year old Clarkston resident, along with his two passengers, also from Clarkston, were injured when the vehicle he was driving, a 2000 Jeep Wrangler traveling northbound on Hillsboro, north of Hillman, went off the roadway and struck a tree.

The jeep rolled on its side, and the rear seat passenger was ejected. All three occupants in the vehicle were transported to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital for rently in serious but stable condition at POH.

The report states that alcohol may have been a factor in the crash, and that none of the occupants in the vehicle were wearing seat belts. The crash currently remains under investigation.

The second accident occurred at 1:40 p.m. Monday on northbound I-75, south of Davisburg Road. Michael Szalacinski-Desbiens, 21, of Saginaw, was seriously injured when a northbound 1994 Pontiac, in which he was a passenger, went off the left shoulder, into the median, and rolled over.

The driver, a 23-year old Saginaw resident, was slightly injured. A large amount of suspect marijuana was found near the overturned vehicle. Both subjects

Need's determination was that the area be classified as a private lake.

"We must follow private lake guidelines," Walls said.

According to Walls, the establishment of a lake board can only be done be approval of 2/3 of the freeholders in the area.

He said that there are a total of 72 tax parcels in the area, with a total of 53 people, or 69.7 percent, signing the petition. Walls said that the majority of the frontage is represented by the signatures.

Music of Aaron Copeland will be featured Marching band preps for a new season

BY ELLY SPINWEBER Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston High School Marching Band is gearing up for another season this week at Camp Nissokone near Oscoda. After spending August 14 and 15 in Clarkston, fine-tuning music and revisiting basic drill moves, the band and colorguard headed up north on August 16 to begin learning drill for their field show.

This year, the marching band will be performing the music of Aaron Copeland, said band director Cliff Chapman.

"We chose this music because it celebrates the 100th year of (Copeland's) birth," he said.

A major change fans of the marching band will be pleased to note is their new cadet-style uniforms.

State-wide competition this year should be interesting, Chapman said.

He said there have been many changes in area band directors, as some have retired or moved on to different programs. "That has an impact on the (competition)," he said. "It should be fun."

While Chapman and his team of marching band instructors put major emphasis on the musical aspects of the show, they are also trying some new things with drill moves this fall.

"It's going to be a little different in some regards," Chapman said.

Chapman is assisted by Doug Doty, band director at Sashabaw Middle School, and Mike Little, band director at Clarkston Middle School.

Leading the band on the field this season will be drum majors Becky Hart (Class of '01) and Rachel Arndt (Class of '02).

The band will perform in the Labor Day Parade Monday, September 4 at 10 a.m. in downtown Clarkston.

Their first performance at a CHS Wolves home football game is Friday, Sept. 8, followed by Sept. 22, 29, Oct. 13 and 20.

Homecoming is October 13, and CHS Band Director Cliff Chapman leads the CHS Marching Band in practice Aug. 14. Practice included a contest to see who could blow their instruments the longest. Horn players should aim for at least 15 seconds, Chapman said, noting that the first time the group tried it, some students quit after six seconds. They improved the second and third times around.

Paul Mueller (left) and Jackie LaForge take part in Marching Band practice Aug. 14. Band camp begins this week, and the team is off to Camp Nissokone for a week of bonding and fine-tuning their talents. They will have a performance for their parents on Sunday.

the band will also perform in the Homecoming Parade Sat., Oct. 14.

If the football team qualifies for play-offs, football game performances will continue past Oct. 20.

CHS hosts the first Marching Band contest -- the Clarkston Invitational --Sat., Sept. 30. Contests at other schools include the Trenton Invitational Oct. 7, Huron Valley Invitational Oct. 21, John Glenn Invitational Oct. 28 and the state championship at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Most performances are in the evening with rehearsal and travel time scheduled for the afternoon. For more information call the instrumental music phone and voicemail at CHS: 623-3518. Marching Band students are hard at work preparing for the season. They will perform at the Labor Day Parade Mon., Sept. 4. Band Director Cliff Chapman urged his students to listen carefully to his directions, "Learn to listen," he said. "Do exactly what I say. Communication is the key."

Indian Springs to get environmental education center

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer A proposed environmental education center, to be built by the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority, moved one step closer to reality Aug. 10.

The measure met with unanimous approval by the Springfield Township board, which praised the development of the center as a positive one for the township.

Once the center is completed, residents will be able to enjoy such amenities as a indoor/outdoor learning center, a play area, and a camp area.

The Springfield Township Board approved a special land use and a concept plan for the center at their meeting that evening.

The HCMA intends to build an environmental education center, which will include demonstration areas, a play area, and a trail, on 63 acres at Indian Springs Metropark on White Lake Road.

The park encompasses approximately 2,500 acres of land in Springfield and White Lake Townships, with approximately 1,736 acres of that land located in Springfield Township.

Sue Nyquist, supervising park planner for Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority, made a presentation on the center at a public hearing prior to the vote, which included a concept rendering of the proposed building.

Nyquist explained that the basic concept behind the proposal is to provide an outdoor/indoor learning center. She added that the HCMA would like to develop an area for use for weekend programs and weekday programs geared toward school groups.

The building would accommodate up to 200 visitors for educational workshops, banquets and similar group activities, as well as up to 86 overnight campers.

A portion of the project would include a 4,400 square foot building that would house classrooms. The HCMA is also planning a two-story building with a walkout basement that would have overnight accommodations for students and counselors.

A part of the site will have an "adventure play area" that includes a maze, and a wet playground that consists of sprays. The play area will be tied into the educational features of the park.

Nyquist had made a presentation before the Springfield Township Planning Commission at their July 17 business meeting.

She addressed three concerns brought up by the commission regarding the center.

Regarding sanitary systems, she explained that the HCMA is hoping to expand the existing septic system. She added that the HCMA intends to direct all stormwater runoff to the three ponds in the area after it passes through a filter system. Nyquist also

Clarkston Woods concept plan approved

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Despite residents' concerns over an adjacent road, the Clarkston Woods proposal has been approved by the Springfield Township board.

A special land use and concept plan for the development near Big Lake Road passed by a 6-1 vote at the Aug. 10 township board meeting. Trustee Elaine Field-Smith voted no.

"There were 3-4 stipulations which I didn't agree with," Field-Smith said in explaining her decision. "In this situation, we have an opportunity to alleviate residents from the increased traffic. The traffic is bad enough as it is. To put more traffic there would add more of a burden to the existing residents. The idea was not to burden the existing residents with the new traffic generated by the new development."

Field-Smith said that maintaining the residents' quality of life was a key factor in her vote.

"In my mind, it is important to take care of the residents," she said. "I try to sustain the quality of life."

The approval was subject to several conditions being met, including the development of wider access points to common areas.

Prior to the board's decision, a public hearing was held to discuss the matter, at which Tom Smith of Mickalich and Associates gave a presentation on the proposed development.

The proposal centers around a 28-unit singlefamily site condominium cluster development on a 96-acre site, with 57.28 acres preserved as open space.

The property is situated northwest of Big Lake, along Big Lake Road. The area has significant natural features, such as Big Lake frontage, wetlands, steep slopes, and tree coverage. A large regulated wetland is located at the east end of the site, while two smaller wetlands are located at the south end of the site.

A single point of access, off of Big Lake Road, was proposed as part of the plan. The site is bordered by the Old Oaks Condominiums to the north, and other residential properties on the other sides.

Schools discuss policy changes

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Residency concerns and recognition for school employees were among the policy issues discussed by the Clarkston Board of Education at their Monday meeting.

The board conducted the first reading of recommended policy changes at the meeting; however, no official action was taken in that regard.

A committee made up of Dr. Al Roberts, superintendent of Clarkston Community Schools, and board trustees Janet Thomas and Mary Ellen McLean, met to review the recommended policy changes.

The vast majority of policy changes were recommended as a result of changes in applicable federal and state laws, and were researched by NEOLA as part of their second half recommendations for the 1999-2000 school year.

One of the policy changes discussed, pertaining to employment of the superintendent of schools, would affect future superintendents.

Currently, policy dictates that the superintendent must maintain his/her principal residence in the district. However, no such requirement can be applied if the superintendent's spouse is subject to a similar residency requirement in another district.

The committee also noted several changes with regard to recognition of school employees; notably, they determined it was appropriate to put a lesser amount of detail in the policy and more detail in the administrative guidelines.

In determining the criteria for the employee recognition awards, the committee recommended changing the criteria in nominating a candidate to read: "An employee who is currently achieving at least satisfactory performance on evaluation standards for their normal job responsibilities."

In addition, they recommended amending one of the criteria to read "An exceptional contribution beyond the individual's normal work responsibility as evidenced by established criteria."

"We need to restore the meaning and vitality of this award," Roberts said in making the recommendation.

The committee also recommended instituting an Outstanding Service Award for community members, in which a community member from each school building will annually receive an award for outstanding service.

Depot Park may be host to walk-a-thon

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Over 80 handicapped children may be visiting Depot Park next month.

At its regular city council meeting Aug. 14 Tracy Gora, events coordinator for O.A.T.S. (Offering Alternative Therapy with Smiles, Inc.) asked permission to use Depot Park Sept. 24.

The group wants to host a walk-a-thon to raise funds. Two routes have been designed, one for handicapped children and another for volunteers and supporters.

The first walk, for the handicapped children is one mile. The tentative route would begin and end at the corner of Washington and Main Street. The second walk, for volunteers and other supporters, is four miles.

Upon completion of the walk-a-thon, O.A.T.S. would like to host a "bring your own" picnic and provide entertainment for their supporters. The group would be entertained by a live band.

O.A.T.S. benefits handicapped children in Clarkston, Waterford, Brandon and other nearby communities.

Councilman Dave Savage spoke highly of the group. "This is a well known and thought of program. It's separate from SCAMP, but a lot of the same children who are in SCAMP participate in their programs," he said.

The council will allow the walk-a-thon once they receive proof of insurance by O.A.T.S. Their group must also provide rest room facilities.

City attorney Tom Ryan said because part of the walk goes through Independence Township O.A.T.S. needs to get approval from the township.

Gora said she would submit proof of insurance to the city within the week.

Influence future with your vote Sept. 12

On Sept. 12 registered voters in Independence Township will have an opportunity to influence their future community.

They are being asked by the township board to consider a unique approach to preserving open space and developing a regional storm water management program involving the current Clarkston Creek Golf Course. No additional taxes are required if the proposal passes.

The wording on the ballot proposal was simplified to include the basic approach. Details can and will be provided.

There will be two public meetings held to explain the proposal and answer questions that you may have. The first will be at Clarkston Creek August 17 at 7 p.m. Representatives from the township and developer will be present. In addition, appropriate township consultants will be available. A second meeting is scheduled at the Independence Township Library September 6 at 7 p.m.

I would imagine that most residents, if not everyone in this township, want to preserve open space. The tough part is how do we accomplish this. We can wish it or we can take action to insure it. In this particular case we are talking about over 120 acres in a densely populated part of the township. By approving this pro-

AOL and assertiveness training

There's a thin line between keeping your customers happy and harassing them. While most companies try not to cross that line, as far as I'm concerned, America Online is toeing it.

It is next to impossible to cancel an AOL account; the company's rapid-mouthed phone representatives have convinced me that trying to leave a religious cult would be a less daunting task.

I just do not like AOL, plain and simple. Because it's constantly jammed with cybergeeks such as myself, I find it to be very slow. That is, if I am on it long enough to judge speed before I am inevitably kicked off.

But my opinion of AOL is not the point of this column. The point is that effectively dealing with AOL reps requires nothing short of an assertiveness training class.

The reps are very tricky at first deceivingly sympathetic to your cancellation plight, they then spring for the kill as they launch into The other thing that bugs me about AOL reps is they sound like your typical passive and polite phone representatives until you say you want to cancel your account. Then all of the sudden, they turn into these evil cyber-jargon-spitting phone creatures and completely shatter your defense system.

This particular creature was better than most, though I was at my assertive best. He launched into a spiel immediately following a particularly apathetic reaction to my account cancellation wishes.

The spiel went on for a while and I started to play solitaire on the computer. I figured eventually he would stop talking.

When he finally did, there I was: assertive, saying thank you, but no, I'd just like to cancel it.

After several more attempts to convince me AOL was the right choice, it was all over. The man was finally in the process of account cancellation. One more trick.

"Ok, would you like to cancel it today, or let it run its course through August 6?"

"Let it run until August 6," I said, not even caring.

"Ok, just give us a call back then," he said.

about how many resources are available for a college student/housewife/lawyer/side-of-the-road flower vendor such as yourself.

After my first cancellation attempt, I accepted the offer of another month's free service because I was convinced it was the only way I would get the rep to stop talking.

I was so angry after the incident, however, that I erased AOL from my hard drive immediately and haven't used it since. Then I left myself a little note to call AOL and cancel my service before the first of August, which I remembered to do last week.

Determined not to fail in this, my second cancellation attempt, I sat down at my desk to make the call. A few deep breaths, some firm answers and it will all be over, I told myself. How silly of me. I don't think so. He'd almost had me. "I don't want to do that; cancel it now, please."

Finally, after only twenty minutes of hassle, AOL was less one very angry customer. And you'd think it would end there, wouldn't you? No! I got'a call for "Eeeelly S..s..pinweber?" the other day from a different rep, offering yet more free service time and again asking me why I cancelled. I do not want to justify this to you people...ugh! Leave me alone! However, I should point out that if, hypothetically, one was ever in need of internet service and lacked the funds, one could probably download AOL and then try to cancel it a few times. Hypothetically, one could be set for life. I don't think I'd feel bad about doing that at all. Hypothetically.

posal we are not committing ourselves to a similar approach in the future with other parcels.

The August primary, which was well advertised in newspapers and political signs, had an 18 percent turnout of registered voters. By the time the township board authorized a vote on Clarkston Creek it was too late to be placed on the primary, but waiting until the November general election would have unfairly delayed the decision. We, as a township, face the potential of having less than 10 percent voter turnout telling. the township board what the public wants.

Please study the proposal, attend the meetings, and most importantly ---- VOTE on Sept. 12. Don't let a small turnout determine your future community.

Thank you to my supporters for extending your continued confidence by reelecting me as your Independence Township Trustee. I would also like to congratulate the reelection of our incumbent board members and especially welcome the election of our incoming trustees Dan Kelly and Dave Wagner.

Additionally, I am very gratified for the overwhelming support you provided in the renewal of our fire millage and the much needed ALS emergency service. I anticipate the board and our Fire Department will begin the implementation process of this service in the near future.

Additionally, please be mindful of the informational sessions and material that will soon become available for the September 12 special election involving the Clarkston Creek property transfer. The first informational meeting will take place Thursday, August 17 at Clarkston Creek club house beginning at 7 p.m.

I look forward to serving the needs of all our citizens for the next four years.

Thanks for faith in Fire Department

I would like to thank everyone who got out last Tuesday to vote for the Independence Township Fire Department's millage proposals.

We were asking for a yes vote for a renewal of the general millage that has been collected for fire service within IndependenceTownship for the last four years. We were also asking for a yes vote for a 1 mill increase to provide paramedic services, and hire the necessary personnel to provide this service.

The only reason this proposal was a success was due in large part to the efforts of everyone involved, and the understanding of the need for this service to our community through our Fire Department.

It is my most sincere feeling that this will be a premier service to this community. We will be able to offer a level of care to the citizens and visitors not ever offered before through the Fire Department. We will be able to offer this care almost immediately, and we will not have to rely on private providers except on rare occations. Hence, limiting the wait time for advanced care and transport to the hospital except for those rare occasions.

We hope to have this service in operation by early 2001 — it'll take that long to begin collecting the millage approved, and acquiring the necessary personnel, equipment, and licensing.

Again, thank you for having the faith and understanding that your Fire Department can better serve this commuity than any outside entity.

Pick up pine cones before mowing. Mow the lawn. Weed flower garden. Water potted plants. Repair one lawn mower. Pick wild black raspberries in yard. Sweep down and chlorinate pool. Clean eaves at the office. Go to the bank. Sweep out garage. Plan a rock placement for Hazel. Vacuum car.

An assault and battery was reported at Maybee Road. The victim said her son and two friends were at the fence line bordering the area when an unknown male, riding in a green golf cart with an unknown female, verbally abused the boys, threw golf balls at them, and held an object in the air that might have been a handgun and fired several rounds in the air. The manager checked the area for possible suspect(s). The bar was checked by the officers, and employees were questioned. None of the three victims were injured nor required medical attention. The case was forwarded to the Detective's Bureau for review.

A larceny of a bicycle was reported at Oakvista and Clarkston. A week earlier, she had found a rarely used door in the rear of the greenhouse unlocked and left ajar. Nothing was missing from the shop, except the cash register and about $15-20 in change. The case was forwarded to the Independence Township Detective's Bureau.

A breaking and entering of a business was reported at Dixie Highway, south of Rockcroft Blvd. An unknown person(s) reportedly smashed out a double plate glass window on the north end of the property. She said her husband noticed a new weed whip missing from the garage when he got home; the item was found laying on cardboard inside an open garage door. The victim suspects it was taken by one of the contractor labor people working in the area. She noticed a dark blue pickup truck parked across the street, and walked over to find it. The truck contained two TV's and a lamp, which struck her as odd. No physical evidence was reported at the scene.

An assault and battery was reported at Mann. The victim said she was intentionally lured out of her home and led to the common area of the trailer park to be purposely attacked. The case was forwarded to Youth Officer Det. Young for review.

Wetland concerns grow with increasing density of township

(Editor's note: This is the first of two articles about wetland preservation in northern Oakland County.) BY ELLY SPINWEBER Clarkston News Staff Writer

Independence Township's efforts to buy development, storm water management and wetland mitigation rights to Clarkston Creek Golf Course underscores a heightened concern for the more than 250 acres of diminishing wetlands within the township.

These areas are being depleted due, in part, to the rapid population growth of Oakland County, said Dr. Tom Stone, former president of the North Oakland Headwaters Land Conservancy.

Both Stone and Robert Inskeep, current president of the Land Conservancy, have voiced their approval of the township's Clarkston Creek proposal. Not only has Independence Township agreed to exercise wetland mitigation rights and build a storm water management system on the property, it has done so in a way takes the golf course and area development into consideration.

Though the township is taking large steps to improve and preserve area wetlands, this is just the tip of the iceberg.

Wetlands are "more complicated than the 6-12 inches of dirt and muck people see," Stone said. They drain standing water into underground aquifers, creating natural reservoirs and filtration systems. When, for example, a subdivision is built, a wetland is often indirectly affected. Oftentimes, the lack of open space prevents water from reaching those aquifers.

Effects of the diminishing wetlands can be seen around the county in pools of standing water that form after a storm and the number of dry wells in the area, Stone said.

"(Water) doesn't have the natural protection it once had and we're going to pay a price," he added.

Even community residents often inadvertently affect the wetlands; herbicides, insecticides and fertilizers used for lawn and garden work seep under the surface of the ground and flow into the areas, Stone said.

Certain common ground covers affect the wetlands, particularly non-indigenous plants. The purple loosestrife is one of these plants. When planted near a wetland, its effect is similar to that of the zebra mussels in Lake Michigan.

"The plant goes in and takes over, depriving other plant and insect life of nutrients, which kills them off," Stone said. "It's a domino effect."

The Land Conservancy works with communities in Oakland County to preserve these open spaces and retain a community's specific character.

If all the wetlands are built around, the reason most people moved here in the first place will be gone, Stone said. "I don't think, as a community, anyone is doing enough," he added.

State laws deal with wetlands on a very general basis, and communities such as Springfield and Independence townships often want to do more, Stone said.

"There isn't as much coordination and shared understanding about

Chiropractor celebrates 25 years in business

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

What was supposed to be a temporary thing for Dr. Paul Rumph has turned into a 25-year stay and many lasting memories.

An anniversary party was held July 22 at the Rumph Chiropractic Clinic, which is located on Williams Lake Road in Waterford.

Rumph, a Clarkston resident, said the event was held to celebrate a different approach to medicine.

"We had about 100 people in attendance," he said. "It was celebrating with the patients a shared vision for natural health through chiropractic. It's like body ecology. Most people will treat various symptoms. We realize that the symptoms are the tip of the iceberg. We treat from the inside out."

He said the big day could not have turned out any better from a weather standpoint.

"We were very fortunate weatherwise, especially compared to last weekend," Rumph said. "We needed a day where we had no rain. We were extremely blessed with a perfect day."

The party featured such attractions as caricature artists, magicians, face painters, hot air balloons, and a disc jockey. Several local politicians also made their way down, including Oakland County Commissioner Bill Caddell.

"The highlight of the day was when we presented patients that have been with us for 15 years or more with special certificates," Rumph said.

Rumph's history in the chiropractic field dates back to 1974, when he graduated from Pullmer. He and his wife moved in with his father-in-law and mother-in-law, and for several months, he would commute to Utica, thinking that was where he was meant to practice.

However, he decided to change his course after a while, setting up shop in Waterford.

"Out of desperation, I decided to open up here temporarily, until I found the place where I really belonged," he said.

As it turns out, he didn't need to find another place in order to find a place where he felt he belonged.

He said the 25 years spent in his practice have gone by "like 25 months." "I'm looking forward to the next 25 years," he added. To illustrate the passage of time,

Rumph pointed out that he opened up his practice on his daughter Rebecca's first birthday.

These days, Rebecca has graduated from the Life University of Chiropractic in Marietta, GA, and will be joining her father's practice in September.

Rumph is assisted at the practice by Dr. Alexandra Kitchell and Dr. John Manson, who have been at the practice for two years each, and Dr. David Stone, who has been at the practice for a year.

"I've been blessed with probably some of the finest doctors," he said. "This is almost like a tight-knit family. Even our patients are friends."

Rumph said he will continue to stay involved in the chiropractic field.

"I've dedicated my life to this," he said. "It's given my life lasting purpose. My life has been extremely fulfilling. There's nothing I'd rather do."

needs along governmental lines," he added.

As for local government, the Independence Township Planning Commission addresses wetland concerns in many of their proposed site plans.

Typically, the planning commission works with the township engineer, the developer, his engineer, and a wetlands consultant, said planning commission chairman Steve Board.

"If you are dealing with large amounts of land, there will usually be wetlands." Board said.

He added the commission often recommends developers use a cluster option to preserve not only wetlands, but also any other natural elements in the area.

"The intent of the ordinance is to protect natural features of a property; it allows for and protects natural terrain,' he said.

The planning commission also seeks out the opinion of the Land Conservancy from time to time concerning parcels which are deeded to the township. Several times, the Conservancy has given their advice about land use at commission meetings, Board said.

"I think what you see now are many parcels that haven't been developed yet, and people are looking for more creative ways to develop them," he said.

With the development of these parcels comes concern on the part of the commission for natural features, including wetlands.

"Wetlands are the community's natural storm drain," he said. "If we allow one developer to alter them, it might effect other developments or create a different set of circumstances altogether."

Both Stone and Board agreed community awareness of wetlands is more noticeable today than it has been in the past.

Stone added, however, wetlands must remain a concern to the community in the future.

"Future loss (of the wetlands) will not be avoided unless the community is willing to be active," he said.

One of the area's recently completed developments, The Parks at Stonewood, was built around an estimated 60 acres of wetlands, according to the development's civil engineer, Bernie Feteke.

"We try to integrate as much as we can any natural features into our plans; wetlands are one of those features we try to preserve," Feteke said.

He explained the developers did not choose to use the cluster option, but instead grouped "tighter areas of homes to leave broader areas of green space."

Feteke said when the developer was in the process of buying the land, wetland surveys were updated and a field crew flagged the land so developers knew exactly where the limits were. One whole side of the property was left undeveloped in an attempt to preserve the natural features of the site.

"We decided early on it would be best to preserve all that," he said.

Feteke also added the Parks at Stonewood development team talked to members of the community about the Land Conservancy and worked with them on the development process.

"We decided to work with the conservancy because it is a plus for us and for our buyers," he said.

Stone said the Conservancy is more than happy to lend their services to developers and also to communities. In fact, contact is often initiated by townships and developers themselves, he said.

"We don't target specific communities," Stone said. "We are invited to come in and we work a grassroots program, with concerned people in the community."

Stone maintained wetland preservation is an ongoing process and future measures must be taken to ensure the wetlands are preserved.

"It is important to change community mentality now," he said. "The closer it impacts us personally, the more likely we are to get involved."

The Planning Commission, by a 6-0 margin, voted to approve the plan at the July meeting. Commissioner Faye White was absent from the meeting.

The approval is contingent on the HCMA complying with the following conditions:

■Reduce disturbance to the existing woodland area by aligning trails along the existing trees.

Clarify size and location of existing wetland and stream at final site plan review.

■Look at reducing impervious surface for both parking and walkways.

Address comments regarding educational opportunities as proposed by Carlisle/Wortman in the June 30, 2000 review letter and Orchard, Hiltz, McCliment in their July 3, 2000 review letter.

The education center must be compatible in architectural style with the existing nature center.

Township board members voiced their support for the project at Thursday's meeting.

"I consider your plan a real asset," said trustee Elaine Field-Smith to Nyquist. "I think you're heading in the right direction."

Clerk Nancy Strole agreed. "I think this is a wonderful, creative undertaking," she said.

Depot Park home to new wildflowers

Clarkston Depot Park in downtown Clarkston is lovelier thanks to a joint effort from the Cranbrook Auxillary and the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club.

The Cranbrook Auxillary made a large donation of wildflowers and plants to the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club recently, which have been planted behind the gazebo in the park.

The donation came from the Cranbrook Auxillary wildflower rescue progam. Their members dig up wildflowers from acreage slated for development, put them in pots and replant them.

They donated about 75 trillium, 30 wild perennial geraniums, wood poppies, violets and ferns, said Clarkston Farm and Garden Club member Christine Gonsalvez.

Auxillary member Ann Howell decided where the plantings would go, said Gonsalvez. Then Gonsalvez, who is a master gardener, said before the wildflowers were planted, she sent a soil sample to the Michigan State University Extension Center for testing to make sure the area was appropriate for the plantings.

The area was also enhanced with three yards of hot compost, paid for by the city. Gonsalvez said "hot compost" means it has been heated enough to destroy any seeds left in the compost.

No date set for Planning Commission meeting Independence gets revised Holiday Inn plan

BY MARALEE COOK Clarkston News Editor

A new plan for a Holiday Inn Express at M-15 and I-75 has been submitted to the Independence Township Building Department. But another plan may still be in the works before the controversial issue returns to the Planning Commission.

The company currently is requesting special land use and conceptual site plan approval for a 70-room hotel — downsizing from the previous submittal of 81 rooms.

Building Department Director Bev McElmeel said it's her understanding that another revision may be in the works. She added the applicant will also be discussing the plan with the planning department prior to its placement on the agenda. No date has been set for the issue to return to the Planning Commission, she said.

A plan for a Holiday Inn was first submitted to the township last year, to substantial opposition from homeowners in the area.

The six-acre vacant property is located on the east side of M-15 north of the interchange, overlooking Little Walters Lake and wetlands.

The property was rezoned from C-3, Highway Commercial to OS-2, Office Service-2. Motels and residence hotels are permitted as a special land use in the OS-2 zoning district. In his review of the current plan, Township Planner Dick Carlisle said, "The general area is zoned for office service use. While we have previously indicated a hotel may be appropriate for an interchange, measures need to be incorporated to ensure compatibility with surrounding uses, specifically the transition of the site to the residential uses to the rear, and the impact of the project on the wetlands and Little Walters Lake."

Carlisle expressed concerns about the plan, including setback requirements; landscaping; traffic; stormwater management; wetlands protection; water quality of Little Walters Lake.

Eagle Investments' first plans to build a hotel were nixed by comissioners. The Shelby M. Baylis Profit-Sharing Trust, Robert A. Barron and Ann Rita Barron, are the titleholders.

Nearby residents voiced opposition to having the hetel in their back yard. They also cited increased traffic problems, and the possibility of more crime like drugs and prostitution.

Several plaintiffs, including Eagle Investments and the titleholders, sued the township after the property was rezoned from commercial to office, but the township's position was upheld in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The plaintiffs were told they could submit a new or revised site plan.

Popular play 'Bus Stop' comes to Clarkston

The Clarkston Village Players will present the classic play "Bus Stop", by William Inge, in association with Dramatists Play Service next month.

A young, would-be nightclub singer, the Montana cowboy who's pursuing her, a middle-aged scholar with a secret, and the locals, spend the snowy night discovering the truth about themselves and each other.

The show runs September 8, 9, 14, 15, 16, 21, 22 and 23. Thursday show time is 7:30 p.m. with tickets at $10 each.

tion, of freeholders," he said. "It's unclear as to what the township expects of us."

According to Clerk Nancy Strole, the township received 12 petition sheets, requesting that the board establish a lake improvement board for Waumegah Lake.

Strole said that before the township's assessing department can begin to verify the petitions, more information is needed regarding the printed names of the signatories, and the property identification numbers.

Kinsey said that more petitions are on their way to the township offices. "We do plan on turning in more signatures sometime this week," he said.

Strole questioned whether it would be appropriate for the township to table the matter and keep the current petition intact.

Several of the trustees on the board stated that tabling the issue would be in the best interests of the township, and would allow the attorney to get a better grasp on the issue.

"It sounds like the most appropriate action is to table," said trustee Dennis Vallad.

Walls agreed, stating that "there isn't anything that could be lost by tabling."

Walls said that the potential effectiveness of the lake board, if it were established, would not be affected by the tabling of the petition.

"No matter what had happened in relationship of the lake board actually doing something...We're not losing any time," he said. Wed., August 16, 2000 The Clarkston (MI) News 19 A

During the public hearing, a number of residents in the area expressed concerns regarding what they feel is the poor condition of Big Lake, which was duly noted by Supervisor Collin Walls.

"Most of the comments from residents were extremely appropriate concerning Big Lake Road," said Walls.

Nonetheless, he said that the developer would not be forced to make any changes to the area, citing the small number of parcels on the property.

Kurt Richardson gives an inside look at his 2000 football team

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer Clarkston football coach Kurt Richardson said the saying of this year's team is, "Climb a little higher." If they do climb a little higher than last year, they'll be playing at the Pontiac Silverdome. Last year the Wolves enjoyed the best season in school history, by posting an 11-2 record and making it to the state semifinals. The result — very high expectations for this year's team. "The expectations are higher, but I don't feel any pressure. I'm just having fun," Richardson said.

Richardson got a closer look at his team over the weekend when Clarkston hosted its annual Blue-Gold game. The varsity squad of 67 players was split into two teams. The Blue team won 19-15.

Both offenses looked sharp during the game, mainly starting senior quarterback Ryan Kaul. However, the defenses could have been better, Richardson said.

"It wasn't that sloppy and there was some good hitting. But our secondaries weren't very good. Ryan was the high point of the whole thing," Richardson said.

While Kaul brings with him a strong arm, mobility, a year of experience and strong leadership, he loses four of his five starting offensive linemen from a year ago. Only center Scott Gordon returns from last year's group. And while last year's offensive line averaged about 270 pounds, this year's group, while not as strong or big, is quicker, Richardson said.

Most everyone expects Clarkston to throw a little more this year. And for good reason. The Wolves return a good portion of their skilled position players including running back Rob Conley and wide receivers Adam Gebus and Ryan Briceland. Tight end Ian Ramsey will give Kaul another target to throw to and the Wolves are also welcoming the addition of running back Nate Davis, a transfer from Waterford Kettering.

"Rob will be more of an outside back for us this year. Nate is more of an inside power back," Richardson said.

Even with Kaul having a year of experience under his belt, and a variety of experienced receivers coming back, Richardson will be careful not to rely on the passing game too much.

"You don't want to throw too much. We want to keep a good balance and be sure to keep defenses honest," he said.

On defense, the Wolves are anchored by outside linebackers Mark Carlson and Ramsey. Also at the heart of the Wolves defense will be Matt Pearsall and Cody Senkyr who both play defensive back.

"Ian and Matt are two of our biggest hitters. Sometimes they lay a hit on somebody and our entire sideline will hear the crunch and cheer," Richardson said.

This year's team is captained by Pearsall, offensive tackle Shawn Miller and Gordon. The captains are voted on by the players.

"Ian is also a good leader for us. He's a quiet leader, but he's been working very hard," Richardson said. If there's one aspect of this

It's not often that a high school freshman catches the eye of a major league baseball team. But that's what's happened to Clarkston's Sam Palace.

Palace, who hopes to play varsity baseball this spring for the Wolves, has been playing baseball since he was 4. But has only been playing his favorite position, catcher, since he was 12 years old.

"My grandfather told me that playing catcher is the quickest way to get into the major leagues," Palace said.

According to his assistant coach, Joe Palace, Sam has been invited to three major league tryouts including the Chicago White Sox, the Colorado Rockies and the Milwaukee Brewers.

Palace recently was part of two Little League World Series teams in the 14 and under division. One team, the Oakland Bulldogs, took home a fourth place finish in Oakland County. During the World Series Palace hit .833 had two homers and eight triples. The Bulldogs are made up of 12 players from Brandon, Oxford, Holly, Avondale, Rochester and White Lake.

He is also part of a Continental Amateur Baseball Association World Series team. There he batted .367 and had 11 hits. Although catcher is his favorite position, he also pitched and played short stop.

"I think my hitting and my leadership are my best qualities," Palace said. "I give 110 percent all the time."

Palace models himself after Ivan Rodriquez, a catcher for the Texas Rangers.

"If I keep working hard I think I can play in the big leagues," he said. "I'm good because I work hard."

During an extra inning game in the CABA World Series, Palace homered, doubled and scored the winning run in a 2-1 victory.

Palace also plays JV football for Clarkston.

"I want to be the best I can. I want to play for the Yankees someday," he said.

Palace's teammate, and close friend Addison Turk, has also enjoyed his share of success on the baseball diamond.

Turk, who also plays several positions including pitcher, catcher and third base, said pitching is his specialty. He considers his curve ball and 70 mph fast ball his two best pitches.

"I have a good arm and I consider myself a power hitter" he said.

Sam Palace

Turk said his favorite professional baseball players are Ken Griffey Jr. and Ted Williams.

He plans on trying out for the Wolves varsity team this spring, but whether or not he makes the team depends on his speed — something he knows he must work on.

"My speed needs help. If I can run a mile in less than six minutes than I should be able to make the team," he said.

Turk was Palace's teammate on the CABA World Series team, and although he said the competition there was tough, he anticipates the varsity level to be even tougher.

Addison Turk

"The varsity level has faster pitchers. It'll be harder to hit off them," he said.

Turk also plays JV football for Clarkston and brings his 5-foot-9, 184 pound frame to the linebacker and offensive guard positions.

"As an athlete I want to succeed and get on the coaches' good side. I want to have a good reputation," Turk said.

Wigman remembered by friends, family at Clarkston Creek

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

They say that golf can be a beautiful walk spoiled by a little white ball. However, last weekend at Clarkston Creek those little white balls helped raise well over $10,000.

Aug. 13 was the first annual John Wigman Memorial Scholarship Golf Scramble and Dinner. The event was held at Clarkston Creek Golf Course.

Nearly 300 friends and family members turned out to help raise money for the John Wigman Memorial Scholarship Fund.

John Wigman, known as "Wig" was from Waterford. He was shot to death on June 17. The primary suspect, who is in custody and awaiting trial is 17 year old Independence Township resident Curtis Frye.

Wigman was a graduate of Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic School and was looking forward to attending Michigan State University where he planned to study golf course turf management. Wigman was crowned homecoming king his senior year, ran track and played basketball. He was employed at Shepherd's Hollow Golf Course until the time of his death.

In a written statement by the John Wigman Scholarship Foundation, it was John's love of golf that inspired the idea for the golf scramble and dinner.

Pictured above are Mike Ryan, Ryan Felice, Dave Rinalda and Kevin Altenburg. Mike and Kevin are from Clarkston, and all four went to Our Lady of the Lakes. They were four of the over 150 golfers who participated in the golf scramble. "Wig was an avid golfer and had been excepted for the fall 2000 class at Michigan State University for a major in turf grass management. There is no better tribute to Wig's memory than a memorial golf outing."

Over 150 golfers took part in the event and over 80 attended the banquet that followed.

Kathy Ryan, who was one of the Foundation's officers said of the event, "It was a very successful evening. There was a lot of family there and a lot of people who went to school with John. We didn't advertise the event a whole lot, but word of mouth worked very well. About a third of the people who were there just heard about it and wanted to participate," Ryan said.

Other officers of the foundation were Patrick Ryan, Dennis Strelchuk, Janice Tedder, Kevin Altenburg and Mary Anne Altenburg.

Scholarships were given out to John's siblings, his sister Cindy and his brother Mike.

The event was put together in about five weeks Ryan said. She added that it will be an annual event.

After the banquet, raffle prizes were awarded. Prizes that were auctioned off included Detroit Tiger tickets, Richardson it's the kicking game.

"It's always a concern, but Adam is starting to come around for us. He may be our starting kicker. He's getting better and better," Richardson said.

Richardson said he hopes to have Shane Bennett, a junior who played JV last year, return punts and kickoffs for him this season.

The Wolves will host a four-way scrimmage Aug. 17 at 5:30 p.m. Visiting Clarkston High School will be Marysville, Plymouth Salem and Farmington Harrison.

"We'll know a lot more about how our team stands after that scrimmage," Richardson said.

The Wolves compete in one of the toughest divisions in the state in the Oakland Activities Association Division I. Alongside Clarkston is Troy, Troy Athens, Rochester, Rochester Adams, Waterford Mott and Lake Orion. Last year the Wolves went 8-1 in the regular season and winning the league is at the top of Richardson's list of priorities for this season.

"My top three objectives for the season are to win the league, then make once we're there," he said.

Making the playoffs was made easier last year when the Michigan High School Athletic Association expanded the playoff format so that teams with six wins were guaranteed a post-season berth and teams with five wins could still qualify.

"I love the new playoff system. I think it's great," Richardson said.

Richardson added another reason why the Wolves are successful is because of his assistant coaches: Phil Price, Mike Stafanski, Gordie Richardson, Steve Pearson, Rich Poritt and Tom Hurley.

"I think the reason Clarkston football is so popular is because we put out a good product and it's a great complex all the way around. It's almost a college atmosphere. A lot of teams that come here say it's more exciting than a small college team," Richardson said.

The Wolves kick off their season Aug. 25 at Sterling Heights Stephenson. A team Richardson said will give as big a challenge as anybody on the schedule. Richardson is entering his 24th year as a coach for the Wolves, 14 as head coach. Last year he said was the most fun he's had during his stay in Clarkston, but he's in no hurry to quit coaching. "As long as I'm having fun and we

"As long as I'm having fun and we have all the administrative support that we have I plan on continuing coaching. It's going to be a fun year," he said.

It'll be even more fun if the Wolves climb just a little higher than they did last season.

report that Adam Gebus has been improving as a kicker, and may be the starter at that position. Add in the speed of Shane Bennett on kick and punt returns and the Wolves are looking pretty impressive, in what is often times the most overlooked part of the team?

Expectations - After posting the best season in school history, going 11-2 and making it to the state semifinals I'm hoping the Wolves can play far into November, Richardson said the expectations are higher this year, but that he feels no pressure.

"I'm just having fun. As long as you prepare the kids well and they give a solid effort that's all you can ask," he said.

To have as much success as last year would be a pretty tall order, but this year's slogan is after all, "Climb a little higher."

big time. I didn't think we'd get 18 hole sponsors, but we ended up with 63 hole sponsors. Each one was $100 per hole. I know we made at least $10,000," she said.

Ryan concluded by saying she plans on starting preparations for next year's event very soon.

"This year we had a lot of sympathy factors, but hopefully we'll get a lot of returnees for next year," she said.
