Specialty market will be part of classy strip mall with 'village' look

Papa Joe's OK'd for White Lk. and Dixie

BY JENNIFER NEMER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston residents will soon have another option for tickling their tastebuds with gourmet foods and specialty wines.

Papa Joe's Gourmet Market Place is bringing its delicacies to Independence Township. The 45,000 sq. ft. specialty market will find a home in a proposed development on 23 acres at Dixie Highway and Stonewood Drive near White Lake Rd.

It will be adjacent to the Parks of Stonewood residential development. Conceptual site plan approval was granted by the Independence Township Planning Commission at their Oct. 12 meeting.

Developer David Johnson of Victor International said the goal is to have a classy, nonstandard strip mall with a "village look." This would include, for example, a stone wall gracing the front of the property that would showcase the mall's signage.

The mall will feature Papa Joe's along with other individual stores, a bank, an outdoor market and more.

The Planning Commission looked favorably on the plan, saying it is what the area has been looking for for some time. Chairman Steve Board said "my compliments to the chef, this is pretty cool stuff."

Owner Tony Curtis said Papa Joe's Rochester store, in business for 11 years, is 30,000 sq. ft. The Clarkston store will be 45,000 sq. ft., a significant increase, he said.

The family run business, in existence for over 25 years, offers the "finest selection of gourmet foods. Always," Curtis stressed. "If foods are not available, then we are shopping in Australia, Asia, and flying food in from all over the world to carry the finest quality." He added that they pay top dollar to bring these specialties to their store.

Their seafood department offers every kind seafood and is flown in fresh daily. Their pastry shop features French and European trained chefs showcasing unique desserts, Curtis added.

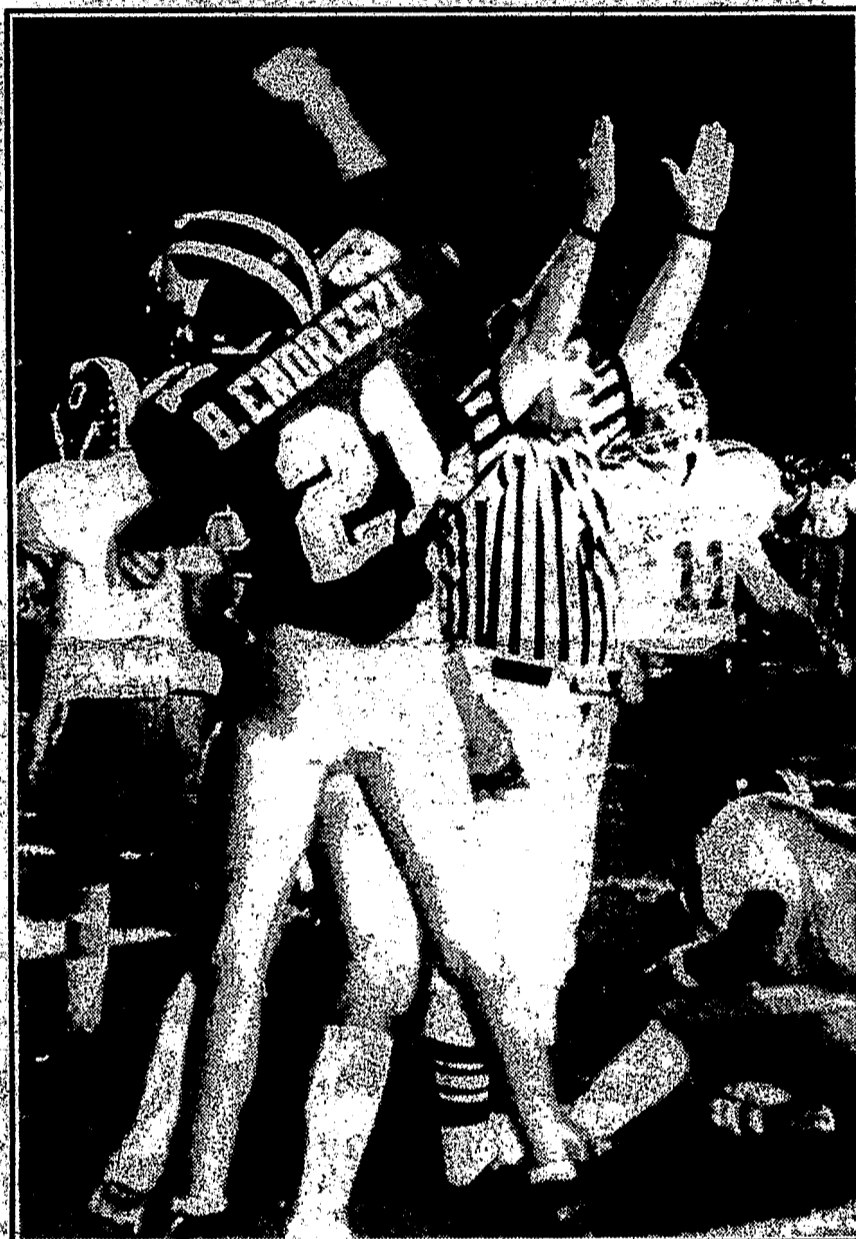

William Schwab, Papa Joe's wine specialist, has worked in the wine business for ten years and is certified from the Court of the Monneller Masters in England. "We are a fine wine retailer, the "go-to" place for wine," he said.

The gourmet market takes pride in its "phenomenal selection" of nearly every kind of wine including bottles from the 60s and 70s as well as other pristine wines in excellent condition. Each month Papa Joe's has its pick of the month of six imported and six domestic wines, Schwab said.

Curtis emphasized Papa Joe's is totally different from a typical grocery store. He said the Clarkston store will have a few surprises for its visitors. "A lot of people have tried to copy our style," he said. "To combat this, new ideas are going into the new store, including being heavily stocked in prepared foods."

Papa Joe's and the new strip mall are set to open Fall 2001. Curtis said that will all depend on township approvals, construction, and weather. "Clarkston is in for a real treat," he said.

City and planner differ on charges for services

Who's footing the bill?

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston City Council will meet with McKenna and Associates to discuss a billing dispute at its next city council meeting Oct. 23.

At the council's meeting Sept. 25, City Manager Art Pappas said he received a bill from McKenna and Associates in the amount of $19,616.58.

The city hired McKenna and Associates for design work on the city's TEA-21 downtown streetscape plan. Improvements to be made under the plan include the design of sidewalks, selection of planting boxes, walkways, light posts and benches along Main Street.

The city signed an agreement with McKenna and Associates for the proposed budget of $28,450 on July 12, 1999 which Pappas said the city already paid. This new bill for over $19,000 was something the council didn't anticipate receiving — and puts the project drastically over budget.

The council didn't receive notice that the project would cost the city in Brock Wallace, 7, of Davisburg is pictured above with Indian Springs Metropark Ranger Sergeant Mick Stiltz, after winning a new mountain bike through the Huron-Clinton Metroparks "Wear the Gear" safety program conducted this summer on its paved trails. Brock was eligible for the drawing after he was "caught" wearing the appropriate safety gear while using the Metro Parks' paved trails. Brock was wearing a safety helmet while he was riding his bike, and his mother was in-line skating. According to a Metroparks press release, the "Wear the Gear" program began in 1997 to increase awareness to wear safety equipment when in-line skating and biking. Related accidents dropped 33 percent following the program and have remained stable since.

Short term exchange programs offer local students positive experiences

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Student exchange programs often times bring a variety of emotions to those involved. The excitement of being introduced to a new culture and way of life can be a life altering and very educational experience. However, traditionally such programs have removed students from their native countries for long periods of time. But times have changed.

Niccki Jackson, of Davisburg, 16, participated in a newer student exchange program put together by the Davisburg Rotary Club. She headed overseas and visited Italy from June 22 until July 20. There, she stayed with a host family of four.

After her stay Jackson returned to the states, but didn't come alone. She brought back Valeria Valecchi, a 17 year old Italian student who then stayed with Jackson's family for a month.

The two agree that the short-term summer exchange program has been a complete success.

"Italy was a lot of fun. The country is so much older than America. The buildings were very pretty, but every house had a security gate around it and the lots were very small," Jackson said.

During her stay in Italy the two visited Venice, Verona and Milan among other cities. They also saw statues of Leonardo DaVinci and visited Switzerland.

"It was my first time overseas and I had a great time. I picked Italy as my country to visit. I would've headed to other places, but Italy was the only place I really, really wanted to go," Jackson said.

Jackson said the one month exchange was the perfect amount of time spent overseas.

"One month is plenty. I loved my time over there and want to return to Italy later on in my life. I want to study abroad," she said.

The senior at Holly High School said she plans to attend the University of Michigan and study biomedical engineering and then attend med school.

"I think people should definitely take part in the program," Jackson said.

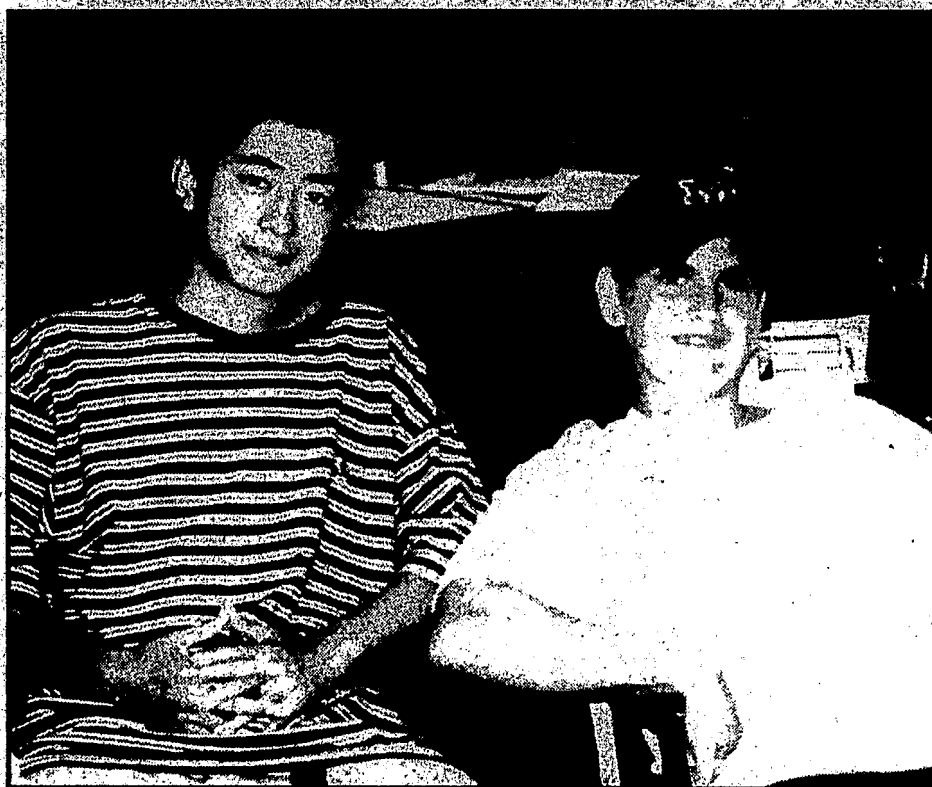

While it was the first time Jackson had been overseas, it was hardly the first time she had been involved in a foreign exchange program.

Her family has hosted students from France, Ecuador, Uruguay and Australia, all for one year durations.

"I think you learn more by going over to the other country, but we've had five different cultures in our house now," she said.

This was Valecchi's first trip overseas as well and her impression of the United States so far has been very positive.

"I like more or less everything so far, except I'd like more pasta. The cars are much bigger here, much more comfortable," she said.

One of her favorite ways to spend free time has been shopping. The two have visited Great Lakes Crossing in Auburn Hills, different areas of downtown Detroit as well as Michigan Avenue in Chicago.

When asked what her opinion of America was, she said they were friendly, talkative, open-minded people, however their reputation fell greatly during the Monica Lewinski trial.

"When we heard about Monica and the president everybody laughed," she said.

She added however that she would like to come back to America one day.

Until she heads back to Italy later in the summer she plans on relaxing and enjoying the rest of her stay in the states.

"I just want to enjoy my stay. Everything will be fine," she said.

Valeria, who has also visited

France, Switzerland and Austria said she would enjoy visiting Argentina, Portugal and Ireland as well. However, she also said she hopes to return to the states one day.

Another student who took advantage of the one month short term exchange program was Clarkston's Pete Boissonneau.

The 15 year old sophomore's country of choice as Japan. His stay lasted from June 21 until July 20. It was his first trip overseas and his first choice.

There, he stayed with the family of Hikaru Wada and learned much about the Japanese culture. Boissonneau attended one week of Japanese school with Wada and said the Japanese education system was very different from what he was used to in Clarkston.

"Students don't choose their classes and the teachers come to them. You were required to take part in an after school club, but you could choose that," Boissonneau said.

Some of the clubs available included brass band, baseball, basketball and photography.

Boissonneau said he was treated very well while in Japan and the people were very friendly.

While he did enjoy the people, the food, he said, left a little to be desired.

"I ate a lot of rice and a lot of tofu, which had no flavor at all," he said. "I did like tempura, which is a Japanese shrimp dish. The breaded pork was pretty bland, but not bad if you put ketchup on it."

While in Japan he visited Kioto, Hiroshima and Osaka, a bustling city with over 9 million people.

"It was pretty much what I expected. It was very very busy and nobody had a yard. The people were very friendly, and I may go back as a tourist. I'd like to go back in 2008 if they host the olympics then. They're campaigning for that very hard," he said.

Wada said he enjoyed his stay in America, but is looking forward to returning back to Japan.

"Americans were nice to me. I like the American cars. It is more relaxed here and there is lots of water and lots of places to fish," he said.

During his stay in Clarkston, the two visited the Detroit Institute of Arts, the Detroit Science Center, the Renaissance Festival and even attended the Buick Open for a day.

"I'd like to come back to America one day," he said. "I'd also like to visit Italy and China."

Students interested in participating in the short term student exchange program are encouraged to call Gerry Jackson at (248) 634-1305. He can also be reached via e-mail at gerry@tir.com. Students can also call Jeff Lichty, from the Clarkston Rotary Club at (248) 625-4244.

Sergeant calls his job 'exciting'

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Independence Township resident Anthony Spencer, a deputy at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, said he finds his job "exciting."

He even has something to be excited about, after being promoted to Sergeant during a ceremony celebrated with family and friends Oct. 10.

The promotion to Spencer means a lot. "It is an opportunity for me to move up in my career. As well as an opportunity to work with, and share knowledge and experiences with, people hiring in to the department," he said.

Sergeant Spencer has been a deputy sheriff for twelve years. He most recently served as an undercover narcotics detective for Technical Services at NET. Spencer left the detective bureau to return to Corrections where he began his career October 17, 1988. "It's ironic that almost 12 years to the date, I've ended back where I started," he said. Spencer has also worked in Protective Services doing road patrol.

Each position has tons of stories and all have great or certain memories that Spencer said he carries with him.

"No two days are the same. Everyday is different," Spencer said about being a police officer. He added that the lack of repetition day in and day out was a factor in his career choice.

Spencer said he became a police officer because of the challenge and to keep life interesting, on top of being greatly influenced by his grandfather, retired Detroit Police Inspector Walter Blome.

Spencer moved to Independence

Township in 1994 because he wanted to enjoy the rural atmosphere. "Troy was too hectic," he said.

In his spare time, Spencer said he enjoys his classic muscle car, snowmobiles—"I can't wait for the snow to fly"—and most importantly, spending time with his wife and child.

Civic Center groundbreaking

Oct. 23 at 3 p.m. has been set for the groundbreaking of Springfield Township's new civic center.

The board also approved site preparation for the center, which allows the township to proceed with such items as grading the site, pouring footings, and beginning actual construction as soon as the final Construction Management Agreement is completed.

Kirco, the contractor for the project, has indicated that there will be a maximum cost of $150,000 for the advance site preparation.

The groundbreaking will come nearly two years after township voters approved a $4.5 million bond issue in November 1998 toward construction of the center.

The facility will be located at the corner of the Shiawassee basin park area, just west of Davisburg. It will be the new home for the township meeting room and library, and will serve as the central location for all township offices.

According to Springfield Township Clerk Nancy Strole, since the new facility will serve the residents of the township, they should have a chance to get in on the groundbreaking festivities.

"All residents are welcome," she said.

Kids Halloween Party

The Independence Township Library will host a Halloween costume party and magic show Sunday, Oct. 29.

The event, for students in grades K-5, will take place from 2-3:30 p.m. A separate event for preschoolers ages 3-5, the Wednesday Storytime Parties, is at 10 and 11 a.m. Oct. 25.

Students may pick up their free Halloween costume party ticket at the library.

Residents question proposed new sub

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Some came for information, others came to vocalize concerns. But on the evening of Oct. 12, an audience of nearly 20 Deerwood and The Manors residents appeared before the Independence Township Planning Commission to address an issue they feel is of great importance.

Deerwood and The Manors subdivisions sit adjacent to ten acres of land owned by Richard Campbell. Campbell, in early 1999, proposed a subdivision of eight lots on Elkrun Court to be built on the site.

The area is also occupied by The Campbell House, a senior citizen foster care facility he has owned since October 1986. It is a division of his Campbell Personal Care Homes Incorporated.

Hidden Acres Subdivision, the proposed cluster development, would surround this facility.

Campbell has run into a slew of setbacks in getting his land developed. In April 1999, a tentative preliminary plat was approved by the Planning Commission and then later approved by the Township Board.

It is currently being reviewed by numerous township and state agencies including The Department of Environmental Quality, Health, the Road Commission for Oakland County, among others.

In the process of land being approved for development, there must be

Other Planning Commission action

The Independence Township Planning Commission had a lot on their agenda when they met Thursday, Oct. 12. The following action was also taken at that meeting:

- A Nextel Communications tower was approved for co-location with Sprint's existing tower on the Mt. Zion property on Maybee Road.
- A video store has been approved for the strip mall at Clarkston and Easton Roads, next to Hungry Howie's Pizza.
- Final approval was given to another phase of the Oakhurst Development on Clintonville, with special attention given to the preservation of trees located on the north side of property.

■ The Oakhurst Development, in conjunction with the township, is expecting Waldon Road, closed between Clintonville and Pine Knob, to be paved by the first week of November. Additional paving will be necessary when a specific number of Oakhurst lots are sold.

■ A request for an approval of road closure at Fox Creek Apartments on Clintonville Road was postponed.

a unanimous agreement with all agencies before the Township Board can approve a final plat. No lots may be sold until a final plat approval is agreed upon.

However, minor issues have surfaced regarding approval on whether the home should continue functioning there as well as an issue of residency. The home previously had 20 occupants. This did not meet zoning regulation and has since been reduced to 16. Steve Board, planning commission chair, said this has caused the plan to be on hold time after time. (Campbell has appeared before the boards three times.)

At the time of approval, the plat conformed to township regulations with only these minor issues to be confronted. Zoning ordinances have changed. Now it is necessary that all lots meet a one acre minimum requirement. Campbell's lots are one acre, but plans show a few parcels under one acre.

Thursday night, Campbell appeared before the board to seek recommendation for a tentative plat approval, a waiver of the one acre zoning requirements and lastly, and a recommendation for zoning to approve the plat based on the history of the case. "This may be putting the cart before the horse, but this has been going on for a long time," said Campbell.

The approval is still being viewed as valid. But residents have said that they feel they've been left in the dark concerning specifics to the situation, have not had a fair chance to speak their concerns and are worried about the value of their homes.

"Most residents are concerned with the value of their homes," Board said. He feels the nursing home is not detrimental to the issue, saying that "if these people are willing to buy $700,000 homes around a foster care site, why wouldn't somebody else?"

Luann Dolven, who has owned a home in Deerwood for nine years, said "it would have been a gesture of neighborly friendship if we had been notified of (Campbell's plans). We're disappointed that we were not made aware of this in a timely and forthwith manner." She added that she is still unaware of what Campbell's exact plans are with the property and wants assurance that property values will not be detrimentally affected.

Dolven said she first heard of the plans in early 1999 from a letter residents received from Independence Township Supervisor Dale Stuart. She also said that she has never had a problem with the nursing home and has thought it nice to have them there.

However, when Dolven and her husband bought their property, they were made aware during a personal meeting with Stuart that the adjoining land would eventually be developed. She said they were assured that development would not take place if the home still existed there.

Concert in loving memory of Melissa Hamlet

The Clarkston High School Choirs and Clarkston Community Choir will perform John Rutter's "Requiem," directed by Michael Peterson, CHS choir director, in loving memory of Melissa Hamlet Sun., Nov. 12.

Melissa passed away Sept. 6. She was a loved member of the CHS Varsity Choir.

A requiem is a mass for the dead, letting them rest in peace. It is a large work, and there will be approximately 140 choir members onstage from Madrigals, Varsity, Barbershop, Bel Canto, Mixed Choir, Chorales and Community Choir. Professional guest musicians will play the orchestral parts.

This concert will be the Clarkston Community Choir's premiere performance. These members meet Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m.

Music is a form of expression no words can describe. We hope with this beauty, comfort can be given to the family, friends and students who loved Melissa, and they will know she rests in peace.

Teenagers are associated with so many horrible deeds these days, but here, in this mass choir, over 100 students work together, working for others and communicating through music. We hope we can share the students, professional musicians and memory of Melissa with the community who has given so much.

This concert is even more meaningful to us than most, the music is deeply close to our hearts, and the memories of a friend will always remain in our minds and souls.

The concert is at 3 p.m. at the CHS Performing Arts Center, 6093 Flemings Lake Rd. Tickets are $5 each and can be reserved by calling 623-4024.

I sincerely hope you can be part of Melissa's memory with us.

Know what candidates stand for, ignore hype

All of my voting years I've tried to be non-partisan and voted for candidates that I honestly felt would do the best job for our country. But I find it unconscionable, appalling and obscene that the Republican Party has spent almost $4 million on Spencer Abraham's negative campaign against Debbie Stabanow. Four Million Dollars!

Voters, please become informed — know the candidates' records of voting and what they stand for. Ignore all the "hype."

Do we really need candidates who are "bought" into office?

Spend money to help schools not on vouchers

I oppose Proposal 1, the constitutional amendment to create vouchers.

Some school districts are "failing" to educate their students. How can reducing their funding benefit the student left behind in these districts? Failing schools cannot hope to improve with even more cutbacks, smaller programs and even further diminished resources.

We cannot allow this. Our time and money would be better spent on ways to help the public schools — not taking money from the very districts that need the money most.

Urge a "no" vote on Proposal 1 when you head to the polls this November.

Ann Jefferies
Clarkston

Proposal 1 is not about parental choice

On November 7, Michigan will cast an important vote for children. The question is, do you care about ALL children? If you do, then a reasonable investigation of Proposal 1 will confirm that we must all vote NO on the voucher issue.

Proposal 1 is not about parental choice. It's about vouchers.

Proposal 1 is not about educational reform. It's about changing the constitution so public tax dollars can be diverted to private and for-profit schools — vouchers.

Proposal 1 is not about teacher testing. Public education teachers must already meet tough certification and recertification standards that require testing, on-going education courses and evaluations. This proposal is about vouchers.

Proposal 1 is not about accountability. And that's the big kicker. If you're using public funds then you have to be publicly accountable. Parents and the press need to have access to information through the Open Meetings Act and Freedom of Information Act, like we have with public schools. Vouchers dodge accountability while stealing tax dollars from the State.

Despite the slick advertising campaigns and the bully pulpit of the Catholic church, this proposal stinks and Michi-

Proposal 1 will help kids in failing schools

U.S. citizens regard themselves as caring and solicitous of people throughout the world who are suffering and in need. The Statue of Liberty welcomes the tired and the poor. Yet, we have turned our backs on our American children who through no fault of their own have failed to thrive in the present educational system.

Those of us who live in communities with good schools, capable teachers and educated and highly motivated parents have no less a responsibility to the less fortunate.

School choice will enable children in failing districts to turn their scholastic failures into triumphs. Successful children today mean a successful America tomorrow.

Vote yes for Kids First. Show that you care.

Sincerely,
Irene Rauth

We are not an honest broker in middle east

How many countries can you name who have been invaded by a foreign power and the indigenous population are labeled at fault? Julius Caesar who conquered extensive territory in 49 B.C. Alexander the Great who conquered Greece, Persia and Egypt 326 B.C. The Goths who invaded the Roman Empire in the fourth century? Henry VIII, Oliver Cromwell, William of Orange who invaded Ireland and from whose descendents the population still suffers? Bismarck in 1814? Hitler in 1939? The Zionists in 1947?

Only two, Ireland and Palestine! Why is this? It is greed, pure and simple. Religion is a subterfuge. An American diplomat writing in the Journal Foreign Affairs at the time of Israel's invasion of Lebanon described Zionists as motivated by insatiable greed. Labeling those who defend themselves with rocks against air borne cannon power is specious to say the least. Who dies? The unarmed!

Palestine was 95 percent non-Jewish in 1939 at the beginning of WW II, 93 percent non-Jewish in 1947. In a matter of days it was reversed through Zionist terror.

Does one evil justify another? Can the UN take any country and give it to aliens? Do those who are the recipients of UN generosity have the right to blow up

Job shadowing is a great idea

Last Thursday Oxford High School Junior, Melanie Kelley showed up at my office bearing gifts. Well, a gift. A little jar full of Tootsie Rolls and other assorted sweets.

I'm banking it wasn't a bribe for a good review. Melanie came to the office to job shadow yours truly. Which meant, of course she had to come prepared to eat morning pastries, read the daily newspaper, drink coffee, handle a few phone complaints, eat Mexican lunch, drink some more coffee, look up stuff on the Internet, follow up on a few leads and then pack it in and call it a day.

I did have to give her demerits for not wearing a Hawaiian shirt and canvas Converse (say that three times fast) tennis shoes.

Seriously, it was a good experience, at least for me. It's nice to have conversations with younger folk.

What they think of the election, of newspapers, etc. We toured the Oxford Police Department, the fire department, went out to a fire that was still smouldering, only to find out the shed that burnt belonged to an old flame of hers.

That, friends, is a lesson in community journalism. What separates true com-

Wannabe's and daily folks can come in, do the story and just like a banana, split. I think community journalists sometimes daydream about that anonymity.

"Ah, to not be recognized in the act of shoving a Big Mac whole into my mouth... just once," I have often lamented.

One of the questions Melanie had for me was: What is the hardest part of the job? The answer is reporting on an unexpected death. Having to talk to a loved one in their time of pain in a word, sucks.

Programs like job shadowing and mentoring are real world experiences, that I believe are positive for students and non-students alike.

If your school or chamber of commerce does not offer these opportunities, your school or chamber is doing a disservice to your students. If you want to be a mentor or have a student following you around for a day, call the high school or chamber of commerce in

And, don't worry, it's not a pain in the keester.

Unbraced Dan gets a salon/ grandpa treat

When our children became old enough to read this column and be embarrassed by something I might write, I quit writing about them.

Ah, but now we have grandchildren of that age. So, when one of the two readers of this column said recently they would like to see more stuff about this generation I gave it some thought.

Grandson Dan will likely regret having called this grandpa to drive him to Hairy Situation salon. It was not a trip that had even entered my mind.

Maybe dropping him off at a ball game, dance, golf course or even (it'll never happen) a library, but a ladies' hair salon?

Dan, who is now in his mid-teens, has a license to drive with adults. But not this adult. He'll be looking into pension plans before he gets behind my wheel.

Anyway, since he's been old enough to distinguish one color from another he has disliked his red hair. I think he's tried food coloring, Clorox bleach, sun lamps and shoe polish to change the red to anything else but.

A couple years ago his mother reasoned (mothers are always reasoning) "... well, he hasn't asked for rings in his nipples, strategically placed tattoos or to join a motorcycle gang, so maybe I should let him have this particular choice."

During those last couple years my eyes have been drawn from his hair to his braces. I've been an admirer of white, even teeth for many years. Mother didn't even consider any reasoning when it came to Dan's getting braces.

Her foot came down and the braces went on. My job was to remind the kid to do what the dentist said; put those rubber bands on; keep on brushing.

Recently, the braces were removed, and the gloriously even teeth were a welcome sight for all, including his somewhat less wealthy parents.

Then he called to ask his grandmother to take him to Hairy Situations. Well, grandma was working, like she's supposed to be.

"I'll take you, Dan!" I said. As he neared the car, he tried to avert any comment by breaking into a big smile and showing off his brace-free teeth.

I loved the smile, but comments were not averted.

"What fluorescent green color can I expect to see you have after this trip to the beauty parlor, Dan?" I chided. "Green sounds good," he agreed.

I remembered when I was about Dan's age and my father said of one of my friends, "I don't know whether to kiss him or kick him."

He'd have said the same about Dan with his red hair now blonde. The only saving grace Dan would have had with my dad is they both love golf.

And, on the golf course Dan fits right in with all the other former red and brunet headed teammates and opponents who are now blonde.

Residents: keep watch on Independence politics

Although I decided not to run for re-election, I enjoyed my time on the Independence Township Board. I learned a great deal about the people and the process that is creating the community.

I decided to move on for a variety of reasons, most of which relate to my belief that I have the skills to participate in other ways that can be even more effective in helping this community develop in a way that realizes its potential --- as a quality residential community.

In my judgement, the policies of a community, particularly how it will develop and what it will become, should not be decided by just seven people. I would like to draw more people into the governing process. I believe there is substantial value in a wide diversity of analysis and opinion, particularly on the issue of development.

After the vote to censure (Dale Stuart, the Independence Township) supervisor for taking improper campaign contributions, I said I hoped that we would move on to other matters. However, the supervisor has chosen to continue this debate in the newspapers, repeating the same unfounded attacks that he made at the board meeting and has made in the past. This is a familiar tactic and quite similar to the way the Clinton/Gore administration has responded to the many scandals it faced in the last eight years.

If the supervisor and his surrogates want to continue to debate this, I will oblige them as I have plenty more to say.

At the township board meeting, I said I had chosen to wait to bring this issue to the public until after the vote on Clarkston Creek because I did not want that substantive issue to be tainted by the possibility of a misinterpretation of the actions of the supervisor.

I said at that meeting and repeat that perhaps I was wrong to delay. However, once the supervisor's campaign finances were made public in a local newspaper it was time for this board to act, so it would not be left to a new board in December.

The supervisor complains no one discussed this with him in advance of the meeting. It was obvious from his conduct in the campaign, at the meeting, and in the newspapers that any approach to him would have been futile.

The supervisor wants to rely on the opinion of the township attorney. However, the township attorney works at the direction of the supervisor. More importantly, a majority of the township board rightly disagreed with the opinion that state law on campaign finances pre-empted any local law.

The reason is simple — state law deals with reporting requirements and says nothing about the source of contributions. This is particularly important in our community where, because no one runs as a Democrat, the election is effectively over at the primary in August.

This means that the reporting requirements, intended to inform the public before an election, are essentially not available in time to have any impact. If the supervisor would like to get an authoritative determination of this, he can sue the township and let a court decide this issue. I would recommend against it. It is an unnecessary diversion and expenditure of township funds. More importantly, he will lose.

Why is it important that Independence Township have a policy that precludes its elected officials from taking money from developers, suppliers and consultants? Because we need to know that our officials are not unduly influenced by the people who helped them retain their jobs, rather than the taxpayers and voters they are supposed to serve. This is particularly important because we are under substantial pressure from outside interests who will make enormous financial gains by defining the fashion in which our community develops.

Is there an alternative? Rather than this policy, we could have a rule that everyone running for elective office would state they have not and will not give any favors or special consideration to anyone who donates to their campaign. The problem with that is we still will not know whether or not it actually happens. We can never know.

Not too long ago, the President of the United States told us all "I did not have sex with that woman". We could not and will not ever know the truth about what goes on behind closed doors. Without the equivalent of a stained blue dress, we cannot know what goes on in the various conferences the supervisor has with developers.

Last July, the township board went into a closed session to discuss what was presented as "litigation". It was not really about litigation. That was just an excuse to handle the matter in closed session. In fact, the next time we dealt with this issue, it was in an open session.

The board was told that particular concession was being given to a developer to expand his project because he had been "good for the community". At that time, the board was not aware that the developer and his representatives had given $1,500 to the supervisor's campaign, representing nearly 20 percent of all the money raised.

Was this a quid pro quo ("what for what")? We will never know. The only way we can be certain there is no quid pro quo is to have a rule that there is no quid. It is unfortunate that the supervisor misses this simple point.

Throughout my tenure on the township board, my skepticism about some of the supervisor's proposals was often met by his self-serving attacks that I was merely being political. This accusation has never been backed-up. My voluntary choice not to run for reelection should be a sufficient demonstration that none of this is about my personal political ambition. These attacks are just a political tactic.

Where do we as a community go now? Some folks are already questioning the legitimacy of the current administration. At a minimum, these events mean all of us have a responsibility to more closely watch what happens within our government. We must demand openness, competence and accountability. We need not accept as inevitable this kind of conduct or the kind of burdensome development we have seen in other communities.

Sincerely,
Neil E. Wallace

Marching Band to play at Silverdome

Clarkston High School's Marching Band is one of several area high school marching bands attempting to qualify for this year's Michigan Competing Bands Association Contest.

The event will be held Saturday, Nov. 4, at the Pontiac Silverdome. The annual contest will include 40 marching bands from Michigan high schools throughout the state.

Bands qualify for the competition by participating in qualifying MCBA sanctioned contests and attaining averaged scores that rank them as one of the top ten scoring bands in one of four flights.

The four flights, based on school enrollment figures, include Flight I (1,528 or higher), Flight II (1,150-1,527), Flight

III (737-1,149), and Flight IV (736 or lower).

Tickets for the 2000 Championship Contest are $13 for adults and $9 for students and senior citizens. Tickets are available at the Pontiac Silverdome Box Office by calling (248) 456-1600.

Let's not fall victim to deceptive campaigning

The American philosopher and educator John Dewey once said, "What the best and wisest parent wants for his own child, that must the community want for all its children. Isn't this statement as true today as it was in 1899, and isn't it at the heart of the voucher debate in the upcoming election?"

As a public school employee, my view is expected to be one that opposes vouchers. The truth is, I am open to new options unless they prevent the public schools from doing the job they were created to do, or jeopardize the values that this country was built upon. You see I believe the nation's public schools are still the one organization that is charged with, and committed to helping children understand our democratic ideals. But, if our schools are to assist the younger generation to sustain democracy, we will need the support of community members who think, question, and take action based upon facts. Our students need to learn about the danger of placing the welfare of our nation in the hands of advertisers with slick slogans, and clever commercials. They must understand that it takes work to be a productive citizen; and that it isn't always easy to discover the truth.

The real danger of Proposal 1 is that it is a campaign of deceit and it is ill advised. Touted as a way to improve education through Teacher testing and guaranteed school funding, the proposal seems benevolent and sensible. The problem is that the logic is flawed and the information is misleading.

Testing teachers more, no matter how popular that concept may be, is a smoke screen.

Public school teachers already take tests in their academic area(s) and are certified only after they pass the test. They also are required to engage in professional development classes to maintain this certification, a practice that is far more reliable than a yearly quiz.

If the citizens of this state are serious about taking action to ensure all school districts succeed, strategies that really work should be employed. These strategies include:

- Reduce class size;
- Insist that teachers instruct in their area of certification;
- Teach parents how to help their children succeed;
- Get all parents meaningfully involved in the education of their children;
- Provide pre-school youngsters with a broad range of educational experiences;
- Address the issue of poverty.

The trouble with the solutions listed above is that they don't fit our "instant fix" society and they cost money! Nonetheless, these actions can lead to real improvement, while this voucher proposal has little chance of making a genuine difference. Any researcher worth his/her salt can attest to the link between poverty and poor academic performance. There are lots of reasons - health issues, poor nutrition, and absences for reasons most of us will never be unfortunate enough to know. The bottom line is that such conditions have a tremendous impact on how youngsters do in school. This voucher proposal prefers to spend taxpayers dollars on more teacher testing, rather than to use our resources on strategies that could be effective. Incidentally, if testing is the real issue, a constitutional amendment is not necessary. In addition, for those who believe that teachers are really the problem, why not just eliminate tenure for those educators who are found to be ineffective? My experience is that very few teachers need the protection of tenure. The overwhelming majority of educators, despite the claims of teacher bashers, do a great job! They are motivated by their desire to make a difference in the lives of their children, not by the trappings that rule in the corporate world.

As far as funding is concerned the "guarantee" is another example of the deceptive approach being used by the proponents of Proposal 1. There is no guarantee to fund inflationary increases in the years ahead, but there is an absolute commitment to spend huge sums to accommodate those students who presently attend parochial and private schools. The financial impact of this proposal is enormous. Even if it were limited to what supporters refer to as the "seven failing school districts," the loss of the foundation amount for each child that leaves the public school will not improve education for those youngsters left behind. By the way, this legislation already provides a process for the expansion of vouchers to successful districts. Why?

In this country, we have freedom of speech; even when the facts are debatable. We have the right to agree or disagree; but we shouldn't use these rights to mislead one another. Our forefathers were pretty clever and they understood that the constitution would serve us well. We should not fiddle with constitutional amendments just to bring financial aide to non-public schools by way of the back door. The suggestions that I have made do not require a constitutional amendment; but they do demand courage, tenacity, commitment and an understanding that education, while costly, is less expensive than letting things ride. "What the best and wisest parent wants for his own child, that must the community want for all its children," not just for the chosen few.

A Look Back

15 YEARS AGO (1985)

Working within the confines of an Ingham County Circuit Court restraining order, James O'Neill, M.D., continues to make plans for the Clarkston Surgical Center. O'Neill shared his concept of the center with the Independence Township Planning Commission. He told the commission members he was not requesting formal action, but asked their advice regarding the 80,000-square-foot, four-floor facility.

A request from a local developer to transfer a portion of the Lake Orion school district to the Clarkston School system will be decided by the Oakland Intermediate School Board. The Lake Orion Board of Education voted to deny Frederick Jacobites request to remove a portion of Clarkston Estates subdivision from the Lake Orion schools.

The Clarkston Board of Education turned thumbs down on a grievance presented by the Clarkston Education Association (CEA), but softened the blow by scheduling a work-study session. The issue involves the elimination of one recess on the two days a week elementary school pupils have physical education classes.

25 YEARS AGO (1975)

There's going to be at least one more wall bending year at Clarkston Senior High School, from the looks of official attendance reports made to the Board of Education. Assistant Superintendent Mel Vaara said the high school population could increase another 100 students to 1,800 next year when the school absorbs a large 616-member 9th grade class.

Because of State of Michigan handling of its aid to schools, Clarkston School District may have to borrow approximately $200,000 this fall to tide it through until tax receipts begin arriving in December. Dr. Leslie F. Greene, superintendent, said a split in the aid payment -- half in October and half in November plus the likelihood of further paring of the state educational budget -- will run the district close to using up its reserve monies.

More than 1,900 Clarkston elementary children in grades K-3 took part in Junior Fire Marshal programs last week as part of National Fire Prevention Week. The programs were put on by the Independence Township Fire Department.

50 YEARS AGO (1950)

The Clarkston Farm and Garden Club is sponsoring a rummage sale at the Township Hall. Some of the proceeds will be used for the purpose of getting evergreens and shrubs for the Club's little reserve garden. The purpose of this garden is to have stock which will be growing and ready to use at some future time in beautifying the village.

Byron Nolan, in charge of the program of the Clarkston Rotary Club, introduced H.P. Dendell, who gave the outlook of the petroleum industry, which proved to be very interesting. The next meeting will be held at the Community Activities Building, and Clarkston will be joined by the Ortonville and Waterford-Drayton Club to hear a talk by Major General Stanley E. Reinhart, U.S. Army (retired).

Shirley M. Terry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Terry of Clarkston and Howard P. Altman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Altman, of Petoskey, Michigan, spoke their nuptial vows to the Reverend Frederick J. Delaney at Our Lady of the Lakes Church in Waterford.

If no two people are alike... why should their funerals be?

They shouldn't, at least we don't think so. To be truly memorable, a service should reflect the tastes and preferences of the person who has died. Which is why we believe in offering a boundless variety of service options. You can even add your own personal touch. Ask to speak with our preneed specialist who can help you with your advance arrangements.

Stylist is bringing glamour to Clarkston

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

"To look good is to feel good," could be Shelly Kovach's motto. The hairstylist from Jan's Finishing Touch Salon at 9474 Dixie Hwy, has had her clients walking away looking and feeling good in the Clarkston area for the past 16 years.

Kovach has quite the bio. A Redken educator and regional platform artist, she frequently travels the midwest teaching color and cutting techniques to other professionals. This includes speaking at haircolor and design shows that feature "the latest and greatest" (Kovach recently spoke to 300 people at a show in Toledo). She also makes visits to New York City several times a year to be trained in the modern trends.

With her resume circulating through Redken, Kovach is often selected among her fellow educators for special assignments. In 1999, Kovach went to Chicago and did makeup for one of the hottest pop acts these days, the Backstreet Boys, for their television interviews and concert.

Kovach just returned from Las Vegas where Redken gathered every educator for a four day trip. The educators turned students were updated in today's fads and informed on the new Metrocolor—a product soon to be launched that features the Whisper, Talk and Shout color looks. Kovach explained that Whisper is a subtle, shiny color that can be applied in 20 minutes, while the Talk is a vibrant color, and Shout even more vibrant. Kovach will be a part of the Redken Metrocolor launch at the Have a Nice Day Cafe in downtown Pontiac on Oct. 8.

Formerly of Glitz in Clarkston, Kovach moved to Jan's in August and is finding she enjoys the country life.

"I want to thank my guests for their support in my move and in my new venture and I want to thank my friends from Glitz who have helped me service my clients," Kovach said.

Everyone employed at Jan's is considered a sub-contractor, "basically it's like owning your own business," Kovach said. Success in this field starts with the guests, Kovach feels, adding "its all about them," with a progression following through to the employee, then to the manager and finally the owner. Three keys to a rewarding business, Kovach said, is creating a comfy atmosphere for guests, good customer service and using her skills to the best of her ability.

The 3-year-old nail boutique offers pedicures, manicures and acrylic nails. Jan's guests can also receive facials, body wraps and waxing. Custom specialties for cut and color are featured. "Quick and easy color techniques, taken from the runways of New York are applied to those in the chair (if they wish),

THE LAW & YOU

by Robert Kostin
Attorney at Law

WHEN PROSECUTION IS MALICIOUS

Defending yourself against a lawsuit can be a draining experience in terms of both finances and emotion. This is especially true in cases where someone files a civil lawsuit or makes a criminal complaint against you without "probable grounds" to do so. In either case, you can sue the person for the tort of malicious prosecution. A person cannot sue for malicious prosecution until the original unfounded case is terminated, and then only if the case ends in your favor. If the person who brings the suit wins, the law presumes that there was sufficient evidence to bring the case in the first place. This remains so even if the case is reversed on appeal and you prevail in the end. In matters involving criminal law or other legal issues, we assure our clients the most professional legal advice. For results call our office at 620-1030. We handle a variety of legal matters involving personal injury, auto accidents, slip & fall injuries, criminal defense, business law, real estate, family law, and civil litigation in both State and Federal courts. Our office is located at 11 North Main Street. Note: As long as you tell your attorney all the facts of the case before being advised to file a lawsuit, you are deemed to have probable cause to file the suit.

Deerwood and The Manors

ors for the past three years, said Campbell has been a good neighbor. She has never had a problem with him and wants to wish him well in his venture.

She is, however, concerned with the high density of development, considering a lot of the land is under water and it is not a flat piece of land, said Pejsa. She explained that Campbell's lots 2, 3 and 4 are under water and lots 5, 6 and 8 (the foster care home resides on lot 7) are all on a slope of a hill. At the top of that hill are Manors homes. She said, these homes are worth $700,000 each with glass backs and privacy would be a concern.

Pejsa said she wished the planning commission had walked the property to see the condition of the land first hand. "Shame on them for not looking," she said.

Pejsa is also concerned that the residents have been allowed to speak at only one meeting in April. She said that the township has not done a good job in making the people aware of meeting dates and times. One meeting was held the day after Labor Day, when numerous people were out of town. And Pejsa's husband, David, who is on the Home Owner's Association board was not made aware of the meeting.

Thomas and Loraine Hall, who have lived there for 35 years, own 20 acres of land left for natural preservation. They said, at the Thursday meeting, that they do not oppose the Campbell land development project but have concerns with the what the future holds for their acreage.

"We and the North Oakland Headwaters Land Conservancy are the most affected adjacent land holders," Thomas Hall said.

"Our concerns along with the NOHLC is the preservation of the natural environment adjacent to their lots and the new access road(s). This subject has not been addressed in prior meeting minutes, to our knowledge," Hall added, "there have been many incursions from the other adjoining developments and the traffic they have brought to our property in 30 years of preservation efforts. Last year, a three-acre fire was started by casual smoking. We have no objection to walking with pets, etc; but no motor bikes, ATV's, yard waste depositing, wood cutting and rock removal for landscaping," he said.

While emotions run high for the residents, it is unclear of what the outcome of Campbell's development project will be. "We shall see, what we shall see," said Pejsa.

City and planner disagree over billing additional funds until last month's meeting. Dave Savage was one of several council members who found the billing both a surprise and a problem.

"There's confusion on the billing and we're not pleased with the billing. The council's opinion was that it wasn't to exceed that amount ($28,450)" Savage said.

Savage said that Pappas and Mayor Sharron Catallo, who was absent from the meeting, had met with members of McKenna and Associates to discuss the billing. But Pappas refused to comment on when that meeting took place and what was said.

Terry Croad, a member of McKenna and Associates said on Oct. 12, "I have no comment, except to say I plan on attending the meeting and answer the questions of the council then."

Councilman Dan Columbus said at the meeting, "I think we were misled in how we were billed. I was stunned that they tried this."

Councilman Scott Meyland, who is also on the city's budget committee, said he hopes the two parties clarify the details of the cost overrun at the Oct. 23 meeting.

"We need to find out why we weren't notified and then find out what we're going to do next," Meyland said.

Meyland also said the city needs to keep a careful eye on its planning budget because last year it was over budget.

"We don't have a checking account waiting around for emergencies. The city doesn't have a significant amount of available reserves for cost overruns. We try to follow the budget as close as possible," Meyland said.

Jennifer Radcliff, who is a TEA-21 subcommittee member, also attended the Oct. 9 council meeting and said she didn't know where McKenna and Associates came up with the billing.

"I don't know where they came up with it. It's a huge firm with so many clients that you really have to be alert," Radcliff said.

Councilwoman Anne Clifton said when municipalities and developmental firms agree to a budget and the firm spends more than was originally allocated, the firm usually accepts the burden of additional cost.

Homecoming blowout

The Wolves celebrate after their 48-14 win over Rochester at Clarkston High School last Friday.

Second stringers make memories in homecoming win

Wolves put up 27 first-quarter points and blow out Rochester in eighth straight win

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Coach Kurt Richardson is a hard man to please.

The varsity football team has won their last two games by a combined score of 90-33. The most recent win was the 48-14 dismantling of Rochester. His response Friday — "We're getting there."

But even Richardson, who is always looking for improvement, couldn't help but smile after the Wolves stayed perfect on the season. They have bumped their record to 8-0 overall and 6-0 in the Oakland Activities Association Division I.

Not even a Hollywood script writer could have come up with a better scenario for a homecoming football game.

Perfect weather, packed stands and returning alumni came together as thousands of Clarkston fans saw Richardson's team play its best game of the season. This came just seven days after a 42-19 victory over Troy.

"That was fun. You couldn't ask for anything more. All the kids got in, the second teamers scored. It was just about perfect," Richardson said.

Just about perfect indeed. The Wolves put up 27 first quarter points and led 34-0 at the half. Clarkston's defense stymied the Falcons all night and didn't allow a point until the final quarter.

Clarkston's Rob Conley and Nate Davis each finish with over 100 yards rushing. Quarterback Ryan Kaul had another solid night completing eight of 12 passes with one touchdown.

The defense forced and recovered fumbles, and Mike Loveless made an interception in the end zone late in the first half to keep Rochester from scoring.

But what made this night special was the success of players who normally don't get much playing time. They are the players who go home with clean jerseys on Fridays, but work just as hard Monday through Thursday. And while they played with the game's outcome already decided they made plays and memories that will stick with them for a lifetime.

Reserve halfback Blake Fields made the most of his chance late in the game by scoring a 90 yard touchdown run with 2:27 to go in the game. His run brought cheers and smiles to everyone wearing the blue and gold on the Clarkston sideline. Richardson was as happy as anyone for the senior.

"Here's a kid who is a senior. He's been second team. He gets the crap beat out of him all the time in practice and gives you a great effort. He was hurt all last year. I was very happy for Blake Fields," Richardson said.

Another play by a Clarkston reserve late in the game was a forced fumble by senior Rick Greene that was recovered by Jason Setla.

"Ricky Greene — that's a huge moment for him. Twenty years from now (he'll be saying) 'It was a championship game and the score was tied and I knocked the ball out and ran it in.' That was a big moment for him," Richardson said.

In addition first string, running back Nate Davis had his best game of the season. He scored two touchdowns on 10 carries. The first was from 22 yards for Clarkston's first score of the game. His other touchdown run was only from one yard, but his run of 48 yards on the previous play capped off Clarkston's two-play scoring drive.

The Wolves quickly put together another two-play scoring drive. Kaul connected with Bryan Endreszl on a 21 yard pass play. It was followed by a 23 touchdown run by Conley to put Clarkston ahead 27-0. Endreszl caught five passes for 64 yards.

Just to mix things up the Wolves started the second half by taking their time finding their way to the end zone. They put together a nine-play 71-yard

Offense struggles as cagers fall to Troy

The second half of the season hasn't gotten off to the kind of start the girls varsity basketball team was hoping for.

Clarkston went through the first half of the season, boasting an impressive, and surprising, 9-2 overall mark, and only one league loss. But the Wolves have dropped two straight league games, and now trail first place by Kettering by three games.

Clarkston's most recent game (at press time) was a 35-32 loss to Troy. After the game, coach April Kosin explained that her team just couldn't finish its offensive opportunities.

"We had good shots on the inside and they just weren't falling. Our girls did get inside and get good shots. They just couldn't finish," Kosin said.

Not finishing may be an understatement. The Wolves shot ten for 40 from the floor and missed key free throws down the stretch that could have given Clarkston the win.

"If we make those shots we win. We've hit a lull right now. The shots just aren't falling," Kosin said.

Clarkston's high scorer was senior forward Sarah Morgan, but she only had eight points. Clarkston usually has two scorers in double digits, but Kosin credited Troy with dictating the style of play.

"Troy dictated the tempo the whole way. They didn't turn the ball over. They were confident going to the whole," Kosin said.

Clarkston led 15-12 after the first quarter, but only managed five points in the second and led by two at the half.

Clarkston's offensive troubles continued in the third quarter. While the Wolves couldn't find the bottom of the net, the Colts started the third quarter with a 5-0 run. Jenn Carlson's 3-pointer late in the quarter pulled Clarkston within one heading into the fourth.

The Colts opened the fourth with a 3-pointer of their own. But the Wolves answered with two free throws by Kaye Christie to keep them within two.

After the Colts made two free throws of their own, Kira Karlstrom nailed a jumper with 4:30 remaining to put the Wolves back within two.

Tovah Bazley drew a foul and hit two free throws to keep Clarkston within two at 32-30 with three and a half to play and had a chance to tie. But Morgan missed both of her free throw attempts.

Moments later Karlstrom drew a foul and got rewarded with two free throws, but she missed both.

At the other end, Troy completed a three-point play of their own and went ahead 35-30 with 1:41 to

Harrison advances to golf state final, team falls short

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Last year the Clarkston varsity golf team fared well at the county meet, but not so well in the regional. This year was the opposite.

After finishing in the middle of the pack at the county meet on Oct. 2, the Wolves came back with a strong showing at this year's regional held at Pontiac Country Club Oct. 13.

The Wolves tied for third at the regional. The top three teams advance to the state finals, but unfortunately for Clarkston a third place tie is not good enough.

It was the fourth time the Wolves had gone to a tie breaker this season, but the Wolves fell short and will not advance to the state final.

Even though the Wolves won't be headed to the state final as a team, they will be represented. Matt Harrison, who shot a team best 74, will be going on an individual basis. The top five individual golfers from teams who don't qualify for state advance to the state final.

Other top Clarkston scores went to Ollie Olinger who shot a 77, Dustin McMillen who finished with an 81 and Matt Getty who ended the day with an 84.

Coach Tim Kaul said his team played well at the regional, and even though his team didn't qualify for state, has a lot to be proud of.

"The kids played good golf at the regional. They played steady. We've been knocking on the door of the state final for two of the last three years," Kaul said.

The state championship will be held at Forest Akers West Golf Course in East Lansing on the Michigan State University campus. The course is a 6,313 yard par 72. Finals take place on Oct. 20 and 21. Action begins each day at approximately 10 a.m.

'The kids played good golf at the regional. They played steady. We've been knocking on the door for two of the state final for two of the last three years.'

Fisk, relay team set records

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Two records were set by the Clarkston girls varsity swim team in their win over Lamphere Oct. 12.

The 49-29 win improved Clarkston's record to 5-6 overall and 3-1 in the Oakland Activities Association Division IV.

Katy Fisk's time of 1:08.94 in the backstroke set a Clarkston school record. And the 200 meter relay team of Fisk, Sarah Zerba, Elizabeth Koblinski and Meghan Williams combined for a first place time of 2:11.42, which also set a school record.

Coach Kenwyn Chock said the relay team had been struggling.

"We were having a hard time with that relay," Chock said. "But they dropped their time by about two seconds. They finally got their act together."

Other Clarkston first place finishes went to Sarah Mehaffey, who won the diving competition with a score of 169.1. In addition, Zerba won the breaststroke competition with a score of 1.24.49.

Chock said the current focus of the team is to find out who will fill out the roster for the OAA league meet, which Clarkston hosts Nov. 1-3.

"Right now we're focusing on finding out who our no. 5 and no. 6 swimmers will be. We've got three meets left (at press time), but that's what the girls are focusing on right now," Chock said.

Boys cross team prepares for regional

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston boys cross country team has done better than expected this year, posting a 4-1 dual meet record. They'll get a chance to show their stuff to the league once more Oct. 19 at the league meet in Lake Orion.

The Wolves exceeded the expectations of many this year. This was supposed to be a rebuilding year as the Wolves lost their top five runners due to graduation and two others to other fall sports. And coach Mike Taylor will be the first to admit this year's success has come as a bit of a surprise.

"The kids have run better this year than I thought they would. They've worked hard and ran well this year. I was pretty worried about this season coming in," Taylor said.

Instead the Wolves have run away with victories over every team in the Oakland Activities Association I but Lake Orion which boasts a 5-0 dual meet record.

The Wolves and Dragons headed into their dual meet Oct. 10 boasting perfect 4-0 dual records. But in a battle of undefeated teams, the Dragons came out on top and captured the league title by winning 22-35 Oct. 10.

Four Lake Orion runners finished in the top five.

The only Wolf to finish within the top five was Derek Coe, who returned from injury and took fifth with a time of 17.19.

Taylor said the Dragons are the heavy favorite at the league meet, but he has some high expectations for his own team.

"If we run well we should be able to beat the other teams," he said.

CHS Athlete of the week: Matt Harrison

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

He set a goal and accomplished it. Now senior Matt Harrison will be going to Lansing for the state golf finals.

Making it to the state finals was a goal he set back in August, said Harrison. He's been on the varsity team for two years and played JV for two years.

"This was my goal for the season," Harrison said. "Whether the team made it, or I made it, I wanted to go to states."

Harrison qualified for the state championships by shooting what coach Tim Kaul, called his best round this year — a 74 at regionals Oct. 13.

Kaul said the best thing about Harrison is his demeanor, his ability to keep a round together even if one or more parts of his game is struggling.

"The good thing about Matt is that he's steady," Kaul said. "There's been very few rounds where he hasn't been a factor for us. He's not spectacular, but he can hold a round together."

Kaul and Harrison agree that his strongest part of his game is the short game. However, Kaul said if Harrison wants to do well at the state meet he'll need better control off the tee.

"He needs to hit more fairways. He can really hit the ball far, but he'll need to be more accurate at states. It's a pretty tight course," Kaul said.

Harrison will be competing against roughly 120 other golfers in the Class A championships.

"I don't expect too much," Harrison said. "But I would like to finish in the top 10. I just love the competition and the challenge of golf."

Harrison maintains a 3.4 G.P.A. and may attend Central Michigan University after graduation. However, he hasn't decided on a major.

'The good thing about Matt is that he's steady. There's been very few rounds where he hasn't been a factor for us.'

Erkfritz, DelVecchio power girls cross team

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

When the Clarkston girls cross country team competes in the Oakland Activities Association Division I league meet it will have some stiff competition.

The Wolves will race Oct. 19 at Lake Orion High School.

The top 15 runners will be named all-league and coach Jaime Labrosse is hoping the Wolves can get three runners with that distinction.

"I hope to have three all leaguers. Lea (Polczynski), Karyn (Erkfritz) and Carla (DelVecchio) can all make it I think," Labrosse said.

The Wolves are 1-4 in duals this year and fell to Lake Orion 25-31 Oct. 10.

However the Wolves did have the first place runner in DelVecchio who finished with a time of 20.33. No other Wolves finished in the top five.

Labrosse added that Erkfritz and DelVecchio have been two of his best runners this season.

"Karyn's really running well lately," he said. "She had some setbacks earlier this year with a bad hip, but she's a tough kid. She's strong, she's a senior and she's due for a good race."

"Carla is also running very well, but she's ran well all season. She's just one of those kids who is very mentally tough. She usually runs very well in these types of races," Labrosse said.

Wolves look to finish regular season a perfect 9-0. They host Kettering Friday drive that was capped off by a 16-yard touchdown run by Conley.

Richardson decided to give Kaul a rest late in the game and put in second string quarterback Eric Kieras. He completed one pass for 15 yards.

Defensively the Wolves were as sound as ever. Loveless had a tremendous night finishing with eight tackles, one assist and the interception. Mike Atkinson finished with three tackles and two assists while Andy Kleinedler and Ryan Baker each added three of their own. Derek George also had three tackles and two assists.

Now the Wolves look to go a perfect 9-0 on the season. Only a struggling Waterford Kettering team stands in their way. Last week the Captains fell 24-3 to Royal Oak Kimball. However, Richardson is still looking for his team to improve every week.

"Absolutely there's things we can get better on, but that's always going to be the case," Richardson said with a smile.

The final regular season game kicks off at Clarkston High School Oct. 20 at 7 p.m.

Running back Nate Davis leaves a Rochester defender in the dust. Davis finished with over 100 yards rushing and scored two touchdowns.

Wolves keep on rolling

It's been another busy sports week in C-Town. Which means it's time once again to give a quick take on the the season's varsity teams.

Football — All I can say is Rochester must have been saying thank God for a running clock. That game was over eight minutes into it. But it was great to see everybody get playing time. I faxed in a request for my media credentials for the Silverdome on Monday. The way this team is playing, I think I'll need them.

Ed Davis

The Bottom Line

Cross Country — The boys and girls team will compete in their respective league meets on Thursday. Coach Jaime Labrosse is hoping to have three runners make all league. Meanwhile, boys coach Mike Taylor said if his team runs well it should take second. Good luck at Lake Orion.

Golf — Coach Tim Kaul's team had been very fortunate in tie-breakers this season. But their luck ran out at regionals as the team won't be going to states. But Matt Harrison made the cut and will be going as an individual. Good luck in Lansing Matt.

Swimming — Two more school records were set in their win over Lamphere. This is a young, hard working team that is looking forward to hosting the league meet in early November.

Soccer — They had been on a hot streak, pulling off three straight wins. But things turned sour on Monday as the Wolves lost a 2-0 lead with eight minutes to play and fell to Rochester.

Basketball — The first half of the season was a great way to get out of the gate. But they struggled against Troy and haven't looked like the same team lately. Hopefully they can turn things around. It's not time to panic, especially with this team's roster.

Meanwhile in the college ranks, the Wolverines put on a show for the UofM alumni at homecoming by destroying Indiana. I guess that hard week of practice Lloyd Carr put his team through sent a pretty strong message.

The Spartans troubles continued as they remain winless in the Big 10. After a 3-0 start, the Spartans have fallen on hard times. I usually think the Spartans stand a chance when they play Michigan. Not now. The line is Michigan by 15.5 points. I know I wouldn't take those against Michigan.

The Lions had the week off, but still lost. One of their best offensive weapons in Germane Crowell broke his foot in practice last week and will be out for several weeks. I guess all that talk about Herman Moore getting more involved in the offense hits home now. Big game tomorrow at Tampa on ESPN.

Carlson pulled the Wolves within three, but they were forced to foul late in the game sending Troy back to the free throw line. However, the Colts missed their chances and Clarkston had one last opportunity after Kosin called a timeout with 19.9 seconds left.

The Wolves got a good scoring chance, as Kristen Falck had a good look at the basket from three-point range. But the shot bounced off the rim as Clarkston fell to 9-4 overall.

Kosin gave her team Oct. 13 off saying, "I'm giving them Friday off, but I hope they're ready to go when they come back."

They'll need to be ready. The Wolves next action is Oct. 24 when they play Kettering, the first place team in the state in Class A. The last time the two teams met Clarkston put up two points in the second quarter and fell 52-34.

FOOTBALL CONTEST WIN $50

It's Easy. . . Here's How

You can win $50.00 in cold, hard cash in The Clarkston News Football Contest. Here's how:

Check each sponsor's advertisement for the teams listed there. Write the name of each sponsor on the official entry blank below, followed by the name of the team you select as the winner of the game listed in the advertisement. The entry with the most winners wins $50.00 that week. It is that easy!

Please print your name, address and telephone number clearly on the entry form and mail to: Football Contest, 5 S. Main St., Clarkston, MI 48346 or drop it off at The Clarkston News Entries must be received or postmarked by 5:00 p.m. Friday.

* In case of a tie, a tiebreaker game listed on this entry form will determine the winner. Guess the total number of points you think will be scored in the game by BOTH TEAMS.

* If multiple tie - breakers win, $50 prize will be split.
 Good Luck!

• LIMIT 5 ENTRIES PER FAMILY •

Winner can pick up prize money on Friday afternoon at:

lowest price, as we will not sacrifice work. We do not sub-contract it out, or sell it. So of you are only looking for the cheapest way out, call someone else who claims they can beat any price. If you are looking for an honest and fair price, quality products and workmanship, depen-

Clarkston Shadows soccer team wins tournament games

The Clarkston Shadows Girls U-10 select soccer team got off to a good start by winning their division at the Romeo Peachfest Tournament on Labor Day weekend.

Despite being a new team, the Shadows won all three of their tournament games.

Assistant coach Mike Verville said of his team, "This will give the girls a lot of confidence going into their first season of league play. As the girls get to know each other, they'll continue to improve."

Coach Ted Rozwadowski also spoke highly of the Shadows.

"Most of the girls are new to select soccer and we're trying to give them the whole select soccer experience including higher-level training, tournaments and fun activities like team parties," he said. "Select soccer now begins at the U-10 level in Clarkston and many parents weren't aware of this so we tried to spread the word. We have a young, enthusiastic team and we encourage the community to come watch our games and support our select soccer teams."

The Shadows play their home games at Clintonwood Park. Contact Beth Walker at 625-8223 for more information on Clarkston Select Soccer. Call Ted Rozwadowski at 394-1244 for more information on the Clarkston Shadows U-10 Team.
