Snow day!

The blizzard of 2000 hit Clarkston hard Mon-

The storm, which left about a foot of snow on the ground as of Tuesday morning, caused the cancellation of classes in the Clarkston school district and left area motorists in a tough spot.

Monday's meeting of the Clarkston Board of Education was also cancelled as a result of the storm. The meeting has not been rescheduled as of press time, according to Anita Banach, public relations coordinator for the Clarkston school dis-

In addition, all after-school activities and athletic events were cancelled Monday night and Tuesday

The storm has also carsed a great deal of activity for local law endorgament officials.

Sgt. Ken Quisenberry of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Springfield Township substation said about 30 weather-related calls had come into the station as of press time.

We ve been responding to emergency calls," he said "We ve handled every call.

According to Quisenberry, four accidents have been reported into the substation, which he said is normal for any given day. However, he said he expects more to be reported in the coming days.

A lot of minor accidents don't get reported at the time," he said. "We'll probably get some

However, the situation is different at the City of the Village of Clarkston Police Department. Chief Paul Ormiston reported that things have been relatively quiet at his department Really: it hasn't been too bad," he said. "The DPW's been working hard at it. We haven't had any emergencies here.

Ormiston said that no accidents have been reported to the Clarkston police.

suspect as a white male with dark skin, approximately 5'8" tall, 175 pounds, around 30-years-old. He was wearing a black jacket, dark sunglasses and a dark cap with a small bill.

Howe said in the reports she slid some of the larger bills aside and placed smaller bills on the counter. When he grabbed the money, a large amount dropped on the floor in front of him and a couple of $5 bills fell as he hurried out. The suspect also took the note.

Howe then stated she'd been robbed and hit the alarm, reports say.

No weapon was seen. There were eight employees at the bank during the incident.

Police reports say the suspect drove off northbound on Sashabaw in a dark green mid-size vehicle possibly a Monte Carlo or Chevy Lumina, with no plates. A 1998 dark green Chevy Lumina was reported stolen from the Waterford Meijers earlier that Surfing may be a growing pastime in Independence Township with the library's expansion of an internet room and training center.

Independence Township library director Mollie Lynch said she hopes by March, the room will be ready for public use. However, that is dependant on the arrival of a content server and 16 new computers.

Lynch appeared before the Township Board Nov. 5 requesting to wave the bidding process and purchase the new computers and content server through The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation at a cost of $49,236

Holiday traditions have international flavor for the Hopper family

The holiday season is a "hopping" time of the year for the Hopper fam-

Whether it's cutting down the Christmas tree. baking Christmas cookies, or visiting with relatives, there is always something going on in the lives of Springfield Township residents Dave and Diana Hopper, and their three children, Drew, 7, and twins Shelby and Ryan, 4-

"One of our traditions would be the cutting down of the tree, which we did last weekend," said Dave Hopper, a Springfield Township trustee. "We go out to a place in Highland, Broadview Farms.

He said that during a previous Christmas, the family lost their tree on

"We didn't lose our tree this year,"

Hopper said. While growing up as a child in West Bloomfield, Hopper said skiing was the popular pastime among his family.

"I remember when I was a kid, our family was big into skiing," he said. "At Christmas, Santa always knew to bring ski equipment."

These days, the Hoppers head over to Diana's parents on Christmas Eve.

"Most of her (Diana's) relatives are still in Germany." Dave said. "We went over there and visited relatives in the summer."

Another custom centered around the feast of St. Nicholas, celebrated on Dec. 6. On that day, the children leave

Hopper predicted his children won't get quite as much sleep on the night before Christmas. That morning, he said they will wake up to find lots of goodies under the tree - provided they've behaved during the year, of

"At 10 in the a.m., Santa's been here, if they've been good," he said.

After all the gifts are unwrapped, the Hoppers will head over to his sister's home for a Christmas brunch. "Then we'll come back and play with all the things Santa's brought up," Dave said.

The past few Christmases have been special for the Hoppers, because it lets them watch their three children experience the holiday season, Diana said.

"I think the last few years have been special, because we've been able to watch our children get excited about Christmas," she said.

The Hopper youngsters, all of whom are taking part in Christmas plays at school, had a chance to weigh in with their thoughts on the holidays.

When asked what their favorite part of Christmas is, Drew replied, "Going skiing." Meanwhile, Ryan said that "decorating the tree" was his favorite part, and Shelby said, "I like the part that you open the presents.'

As for what they want for Christmas? Drew wants hermit crabs, Ryan wants Hot Wheels, and Shelby wants a Genie Barbie.

Dave seemed to sum up many people's feelings about the holidays centering around children when describing the family's decorating of the Christmas

"My job is to put the tree up in the stand," he said. "It's up to the kids to start decorating."

At Home For The Holidays

hristmas means prayer and preparation for Fr. Hindelang

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Shopping, decorating, sending Christmas cards — for many of us, these are the things we associate with this time of year.

For Fr. Joseph Hindelang, s.m., weekend assistant at St. Daniel's Catholic Church in Clarkston, holiday preparations go beyond these things.

Hindelang, who is also an assistant principal and teacher at Notre Dame Preparatory School in Pontiac, takes on a wide variety of activities in preparation for the holiday season.

As the weekend assistant at St. Daniel's, he helps out Msgr. Robert Humitz, the pastor at St. Daniel's, by celebrating two Masses per weekend (the church offers four services each weekend) as well as taking part in celebrations during holy days,

ilizi ilizionen ettiiti kalidati

"It's nice to have the opportunity to celebrate Mass and work with adults on the weekend," he said. "I also enjoy working with teenagers.

Through the campus ministry office at the school, Hindelang said the students have been busy coordinating the collection of clothing for the poor in Pontiac, as well as taking up a food collection at Thanksgiving.

"The students seem pleased to be able to want to help," he said.

He emphasized the importance of preparing for Christmas through Advent, which for Catholics is the period of time spent in preparation for Christmas Day. "This really is the Advent season, Hindelang said. "We're getting ready spiritually for the birthday of Jesus." He said that in his day to day life, as well as when he celebrates Mass, a priority is "making more room in my own life (for the Gospel message), and inviting people to do the same."

Fr. Jos. Hindelang

Hindelang said that "rather than etting so busy that you get short with people," it is important to try and spread cheer to people on a daily basis.

During the holiday season, Hindelang prepares himself for Christmas both on a spiritual level and on a personal level.

Hindelang said that he spiritually prepares himself for Christmas by devoting more time to reading the Scriptures, as well as prayer and preparation of homilies. In his everyday life, he said he focuses on family and friendships, through sending Christmas cards and spending time with family and friends. Hindelang said that while his brothers and sisters are spread out through the country, they

Worms in the classroom--no

BY JENNIFER NEMER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

They're slimy, they're stinky and they're funny looking. But they've found a welcome home in Kathy Noble's fifth grade class.

No, it's not what you're thinking. They're worms, and the slithery guys are part of a composting project Bailey Lake Elementary students have begun.

Every other day, Noble's class, along with other fifth and fourth graders they share lunch with, contribute their trash of mostly fruits and vegetables to this unique program funded by the Clarkston Foundation.

The gathered trash is placed in the top tray of a three-tray plastic cylinder container housed in the corner of Noble's classroom. She explained the middle tray is a "bedding area" where the worms are originally placed. In time, the clammy creatures crawl through tiny holes to the top layer composting the refuse. The bottom tray catches drainage of liquid fertilizer, which is good for house plants, Noble said.

"It takes four months before the compost is ready for gardens," Noble said.

Noble, who has personally been recycling for 15 years, recently became interested in composting. Since the school does little with recycling, Noble and her "Can of Worms" kit stepped in.

The kit is reusable, adding more trays when needed, Noble said. "It's self-contained and easy to use. Very kid-friendly."

Noble added Principal Marty Chaffee, colleagues and the cafeteria staff have been accommodating and real supportive of Noble's unusual project.

Noble, a first year elementary teacher, said education is not all about reading and test taking - students should be exposed to a wide range of experi-

"It's kinda strange," said D.J. Ball of keeping worms in the classroom. "And it smells bad when you lift up the lid," he added. However, Ball feels "it's original. Other kids walk by it and say 'what's that?"

Alexa Kitson can't stand the thought of worms and trash, "it's sickening." And Kitson fears, "They might get out!"

Clarkston Cinema closed again

BY JENNIFER NEMER Clarkston News Staff Writer

The worn and sagging posters at the Clarkston Cinema say its upcoming releases are Highlander: The End and Space Cowboys. But those haven't seen the big screen since summer, an indication of Clarkston Cinema's status.

The cinema, which has brought Hollywood entertainment to Independence Township for nearly 30 years, is now "closed for good" according to the mar-

On November 28, owner Lawrence Sefa filed a report at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Independence Township substation stating various items were stolen from the 266-seat cinema. The items include movie projectors worth $40,000, a $10,000 movie screen, $2,000 popcorn maker, and over $4,000 worth of sound equipment.

The building, located at 6808 Dixie Highway, was locked and there were no signs of forced entry. Sefa said in the report that the cinema does not have insurance coverage.

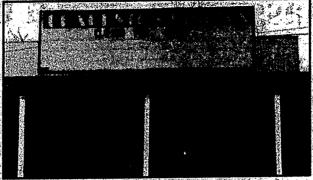

A list of key holders was given to the sheriff's deputies as possible suspects.

It was noted in the report that Sefa's personal assistant, Sue Taylor, noticed the items were missing on Nov. 24 while checking the building, but did not notify Sefa about it until the 26th. Sefa did not check the building himself until the 28th, the day the report was filed.

Taylor said it is unclear what will become of the cinema building, which also houses Sefa's Boardwalk Realty, until after Sefa's divorce is final. Sefa told The Clarkston News in August that financial problems with the cinema began during a nasty divorce.

These financial problems include, a file for chapter 13 bankruptcy in December 1997, and a temporary shut down of his business in the fall of 1999 due to a threat of foreclosure.

According to reports from the Michigan Department of Consumer and Industry Services, Sefa was fined $1,000 for failing to account for money received which belonged to others through Boardwalk Realty in September 1999. He also was required to make a restitution to the complainant in the amount of $3,000.

He is scheduled to appear in court the morning of February 28 for allegedly bouncing business-related checks, according to court records.

Sefa is also charged with failure to pay employee wages. Teenagers Cassidy Black and Jon Gilford, who were hired when the theatre reopened in May of this year, were recipients of Sefa's bad checks.

In August, their mothers Deanna Black and Kathy Nichols filed a complaint on behalf of their children to the state Wage and Hour Division of the U.S. Department of Labor.

"It's been turned over to an investigator, but nothing has happened," said Deanna. "I think it's awful how he cheated kids."

She added previous attempts for restitution through the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office went nowhere. "We were rejected because they said they couldn't handle employee/employeer problems. They didn't give us the time of day.'

Deanna told The Clarkston News in August that Cassidy is owed approximately $1,200 and was only paid $180 for a summer's worth of work.

Sefa was not available for comment.

'Tis the season for soliciting by imposters

The holiday season is a time for giving, and sometimes to the advantage of criminals at prey.

Hedy Nuriel, President and CEO of HAVEN, announced Oakland County's only center exclusively for the treatment and prevention of domestic violence, sexual assault and child abuse has recently been the target of fraud.

An unknown group has recruited volunteers to solicit donations from patrons at local stores, said Nuriel. The "volunteers" ask patrons upon exiting the store for either a cash donation or to pledge a donation by signing their name to a donor list in the name of "Haven House." This, however, is not the official name of the organization, actually called HAVEN, an acronym for Help Against Violent Encounters Now.

Nuriel said HAVEN never solicits donations in this manner.

A HAVEN employee was solicited by a pair of young women at a drugstore at Nine Mile and Woodward and it may be happening in other places as well, said Nuriel.

Lieutenant Dale LaBair of the Independence Township Oakland County Sheriff's Department Substation said there have been no local problems or specific complaints regarding this matter, but further investigation will proceed.

"It's a sad thing," said LaBair. "There are plenty of people and organizations out there doing legitimate work, but there is always a group trying to scam."

"We've had other scams in the past, so we will check for them," LaBair added.

Bay Court Family Best awvinner

The Independence Parks and Recreation Department has done it again.

When it comes to hosting big-scale events for the community, they never fail to impress.

Whether it's organizing and installing a new play structure at Sashabaw Plains Park, or planning and hosting the multi-faceted Fun Daze/Taste of Clarkston in September, everything comes together like a well-planned recipe.

Last weekend's Family Fun Fest was no exception. The two-day event combined beautiful holiday decorations and activities for families. It also helped that Mother Nature was at her best -a little snow and crisp, not-to-cold weather.

Our holiday hats are off to Mike Turk, acting director of Parks and Rec and his very able staff.

Conservatory concert inventive, masterful

Performing in the atrium of the Clarkston Mills Mall, Kerstin Allvin, harpist, and Jeffrey Zook, flutist, entertained an audience of all ages with a program which featured their own arrangements. The pair have just released a disc, "Comfort and Joy, A Holiday Celebration of Music for Flute and Harp."

They opened on a light classical note with "Andante con variazoni" by Gioacchio Rossini, known for his operatic (Barber of Seville) works, smaller chamber and vocal works, and the familiar William Tell Overture.

"Romance, Op. 37" by Camille Saint-Saens followed. This work was originally composed for piano, containing harp-like arpeggios which are even more striking performed on the harp. The music of Ms. Allvin's graceful instrument, one specially built for her in France, filled the airy space. The resonance of the maple sounding board was shown off to fine advantage. Its sound is as sumptuous as its inlaid frame.

During the intermission guests were invited to examine the harp and Mr. Zook's new custom built 14k gold flute. Both performers were generous with their time, telling the stories of their instruments with charming enthusiasm, and commenting on each work.

Of the five holiday songs, the last, entitled "Comfort and Joy", was most inventive, being an original arrangement by Zook, which seamlessly intertwined the traditional "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" with strains of Rameau. It was masterfully done.

Closing the benefit program was "Detours" a contemporary piece written in Detroit, and of Detroit, by James Hartway. Its three movements are "you turn", "Quiet zone", and "No Exit". Ms. Allvin not only commissioned this work ten years ago, but subsequently married the composer!

Making money off the election snafu

An enterprising woman from Atlanta has found a way to make some money off our presidential election mess.

The day after the Nov. 7 election, she bought early editions of her daily newspaper, The Atlanta Journal Constitution. Like many newspapers, it had printed the banner headline "Bush is declared winner."

Our Michigan Press Association newsletter recently printed an edited story from The Baltimore Sun which reported the success of auctioning off the erroneous editions. The article said:

"As elections officials scramble to sort out who actually won, some savvy voters are turning electionnight confusion into cash by peddling what collectors. call 'error editions.'

They got up early and trolled newsracks and swung by newspaper offices for extras

'By 8 a.m. Wednesday, (the Atlanta woman) had dug up five 50-cent first editions. By noon, she had them on eBay. By Thursday afternoon, they had been bid up to $80.

Late Thursday, early editions of Wednesday's New York Post (headline: "Bush Wins!") were fetching more than $100 on the online auction site.

Never mind that Bush may still be declared the winner. The bidding is being driven by armchair collectors and history buffs who are eyeing election 2000 error editions as a potential gold mine.

s election fever grows, collectors are springing other famous news bloopers onto the auction block. Jeff Hinds, a comic book collector from Madison Wis., put a copy of the famous "Dewey Defeats Truman" edition of the Chicago Daily Tribune on eBay, one of nearly a half-dozen copies of the Nov. 3, 1948 paper to show up in recent days. Bidding on Hinds' Dewey auction has already topped $200. Others are going for double that.

"But the auction fever begs the question: What makes a newspaper valuable?

The more important to history, the higher its value,' says Rick Brown, founder of the Newspaper Collectors Society of America, which is based in Lansing."

Much of what has been going on since November 7 is history in the making. It will be interesting to see what value is placed on the newspaper editions that have chronicled these events.

If you have been keeping some of those newspaper editions and are interested in knowing their value. you might be able to find out through Brown's Website: www.historybuffs.com

Save the whales. Collect a whole set.

Remember, half the people you know are below average.

Nationwide, statistics on the number of personal computer lemons are hard to come by, but about 1.5 percent of the PCs that Consumers Report readers purchased over a 16-month period ending April 30 this year, had three or more components replaced. That equals 238,500 of the 15.9 million sold during that period. That failure figure would be higher if Consumer Reports had called

Two personal observations that seem ridiculous to me:

The water has receded so that right now he has 1,300 feet of "beach." He says, however, the water level was even lower in the 1960s.

Another Patterson in county politics is L. Brooks - County Executive. Recently he decided he'd be a good man to lead the county Republican Party. Last week the party agreed, and they put him at the helm. He said residents were be-tor welcoming to Michigan hundreds of public officials from the United States and Canada for the Council of State Governments (CSG) 2000 Annual Meeting, Dec.

Meeting allows state, county and residents to shine

The primary goal of the meeting is for officials in all three branches of every state and territorial government to sit together and comprehensively discuss, compare and review state policies and trends. Additionally, many of Oakland County's fabulous attractions were highlighted through tours, events and activities for the conference participants.

Some of the issues the meeting focused on included:

• Learning how the boom in Internet electronic commerce affects Main Street businesses and the revenue streams vital for public services;

 First-hand insight and explanation on designing successful state programs, including winners of the renowned Innovations Awards Program;

Discussion of trends affecting regions and the

I was very honored to have been a host legisla- nation, along with what these trends hold for the fu-

Debate on higher education and how to meet the technological needs of the new knowledge economy; and

Information on health care, technology, budgeting, agriculture, higher education, economic development and all other facets of government.

The CSG meeting provides state leaders, and members of the public who can also attend, a forum to share the solutions and ideas state officials use to meet the challenges they face each day. In no other forum do a Supreme Court justice, a legislator and a lieutenant governor sit at the same table to discuss cutting-edge topics and their effects.

By sharing experiences during the conference, both successful and not-so-successful, everyone becomes better at the task of providing sound government for the people. Not only are proven ideas and initiatives shared, but the combined talent, knowledge, skill and viewpoints can foster improvements and expansion of existing programs to better serve residents.

This year Michigan benefited doubly from the meeting, because we also were the host site. This year's conference theme is "New Century State: Driving the Knowledge Economy."

We were able to treat our visitors from other states to first-hand looks at the industries that are driving our economy and the different technologies being employed in the state, as well as the numerous landmarks that have helped shape the American way of life in the last century.

All Michigan residents can take pride in the role they play every day in making our state a leader. Now, the CSG conference has given us a showcase to show surrounding states what is at the center of making Michigan so great — its people.

New news about licenses for dogs and cats

Dog tags go on sale in December at Indepenfor all dogs four months or older.

Oakland County Animal Control administers the licensing for the state. Local municipalities like Independence Township offer the dog tag sale for the convenience of our residents.

Last year the Michigan Legislature inadvertently changed the deadline to purchase tags without penalty to the end of February. That action caused difficulties for many of the 58,000 dog owners in Oakland County. I am happy to report the law has been changed to allow for the traditional June 1 deadline.

Please bring with you proof of rabies vaccination and proof of your dog being spayed/neutered when you purchase dog tags at the township. The county will send out filled-in application forms to you in the mail and you should receive the completed form in mid-December. dence Township. Michigan law requires a dog license Bringing in the form with you will save you time at the township. You may also purchase dog tags in person or by mail through Oakland County Animal Control on Brown Rd. Instructions are listed on the county form.

Before June 1 neutered/spayed dog tags are $7.50. Tags for non-neutered or spayed dogs are $15. There are senior citizen rates for dog owners 65 years old or older. All dog licenses purchased after June 1 are $30. The only exception would be a thirty day grace period for newly acquired dogs or new residents.

Please be aware the title of a letter to the editor is chosen by the newspaper staff and not the author of the letter. Readers who read my letter on winter taxes should realize I did not pick the title.

usually make it back to the Detroit area for the holidays.

In addition, he said he likes to rest up during the holidays, as well as reading and going to the movies.

Hindelang said that as part of a religious order (the Marist Fathers and Brothers, who run Notre Dame Prep), he has the opportunity to celebrate the holidays with his religious community as well as with his family.

He recalled that while he was stationed in Boston, he would often celebrate with his community, and then fly to Detroit to get together with family and friends.

Overall, Hindelang said that there are several things about the holidays that he appreciates, including the special liturgies, Christmas carols, the decorations, and the celebrations with his community and his family and friends.

"I enjoy the Christmas season," he said.

Wolves win 10 matches in league opener

'The kids are doing a good job overall and our young kids have really come along nicely. I think we'll continue to have a good season.'

There's a youth movement on the Clarkston varsity wrestling team.

Clarkston coach Mike DeGain said his freshman class has done more than pull their weight this season.

job so far," he said. "They're giving a good effort. It's been a pleasant surprise

The Wolves opened their league season with a decisive 54-23 win over Rochester Dec. 6. Even though the Falcons were picked by many to finish last in the Oakland Activities Association Division I. DeGain said it was still felt good to get the win.

"It's always good to have a decisive win in the league, but we'll get a tougher challenge in our next meet," he said.

The Wolves next dual meet will be tonight when they host Rochester Adams at 6:30 p.m.

The Wolves won 10 weight classes.

Elliot at 103 is doing a good job for us:" DeGain said, "He's only lost two matches and is at 6-2.

Also getting praise from DeGain was Matt Heron (112).

"Matt only weighs 93 pounds so he's giving up a lot of weight in every match. But he's doing a good job of not getting pinned. He's been a good fighter for us," DeGain Lajoi and Turner have also started the season well for Clarkston. Lajoi posts a 7-1 record while Turner is 6-1.

The Wolves have also gotten strong performances from sophomores Landgdon, who took fourth at the Jenison Invitational Dec. 2 and Parker who took second at the Ferndale Invitational.

Clarkston is now 3-0 overall and 1-0 in the OAA I.

Cagers come up short in openers

Wolves open season with losses to league rivals Pontiac Northern and Ferndale

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

It was a marathon on the basketball court.

But after two overtimes and coming back from a 27-point deficit, the Clarkston varsity basketball team suffered its second defeat Dec. 8 at Ferndale High School.

The Wolves fell to Ferndale 96-92 in double overtime to fall to 0-2 on the season. Clarkston's next game will be Dec. 15 when the Wolves host Southfield at 7:30 p.m.

Clarkston coach. Dan Fife said in the preseason that his team's schedule would be tough early on. It has been. Clarkston has begun its season by losing two close games. The Wolves also fell in the season opener to one of the best teams in the state in Pontiac Northern 61-56 Dec. 5.

Mike Loveless

Fife said the two losses have been tough to take, but he's pleased with the effort his team has put forth.

"It's reassuring to see that we can play two quality teams and play them so close, but both games we could have won and didn't," he said.

Against Ferndale the Wolves trailed 16-12 after the first quarter and 46-29 at the half. The Eagles then put together a run which gave them a 27-point lead. But even then Fife said his team was still alive.

"We started doing the little things and got back to the basics. We started to press and play smarter," he said. "I don't think I've ever coached a team who played harder for a stretch. They gave it their all out there. I played 11 kids and I think all 11 gave it a total effort out there. Every single loose ball they were diving for. I was very pleased with the effort our kids gave."

The Wolves eventually grabbed two leads in the fourth quarter and led 73-70 before the Eagles forced overtime: Clarkston never led in the extra stanzas as Ferndale improved to 2-0.

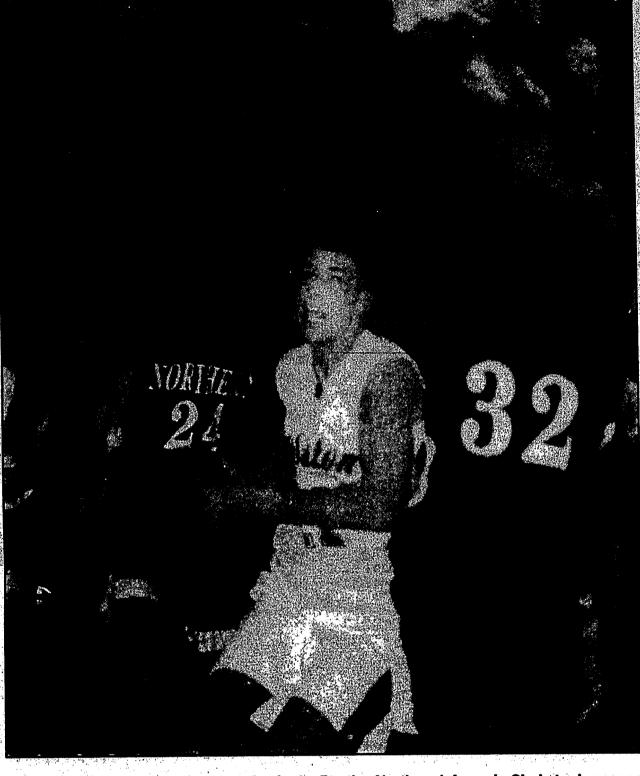

Fife said small mental lapses cost his team the game against Ferndale.

"Our effort was there, but it was the little things that hurt us. Things like not knowing when the other team was going to inbound the ball and then their kid is wide open. Other times we didn't block out. We can't afford those kinds of mistakes at this level." he said.

Ryan Kaul led Clarkston with 28 points. Ryan Briceland added 24 points, Bryan Endreszl added 15 while Mike Blicher tossed in 10 for Clarkston.

"Ryan played great for us Friday." Fife said. "He got to the free throw line for us and helped set up our Bryan Endreszi tires to find an opening in the Pontiac Northen defense in Clarkston's season opener Dec. 5.

'Our effort was there, but it was the little things that hurt us. We can't afford those kinds of mistakes at this level.'

Dan Fife — Varsity basketball coach press. Mike Loveless also played strong for us against Ferndale. It was his first varsity game and he played great on defense."

Starting the season 0-2 is not something Fife is used to. He said Clarkston fans aren't used to it either.

"We've probably had two moral victories so far, but the fact of the matter is that we're 0-2 and pretty soon nobody cares. Our goal is to compete and win the game and win the league. We're competing and we're focused; but we can't afford these mental mistakes.

We have a small margin of error and our shooting has got to get better. But our defense is what's going to win games for us. That, and our competitive spirit," he said.

"We've got to play smart, physical, mental and be strong on defense. If we do those things, we'll be fine," Fife said.

Snow and winter sports are here

I don't think anybody needs to dream of a white Christmas this year. One look outside the office window on this blustery Monday afternoon and it looks like we'll have a white Christmas for sure.

So it's official — winter is here. But not necessarily because of the half a foot or so of the white stuff that was dumped on us this week. But rather, because from a sport fan's perspective, certain things have happened around C-Town, and in metro Detroit, that only happen in the winter time.

A packed gym at CHS—It brought back memories for me. A varsity boys basketball game was the first event I covered when I started here almost a year ago. The Wolves suffered a heartbreaking loss to Pontiac Northern, but it was a great effort. Clarkston had another tremendous effort last Friday at Ferndale, but again came up just short. Even though they're 0-2 they could be 2-0. A team with this much heart and desire can't stay winless much longer.

On the mats — Clarkston made quick work of Rochester last week in its league opener. The Falcons are no powerhouse, but Clarkston looked good, winning 10 matches, six by pinfall. The Wolves have gotten great support from their younger wrestlers this season. Good luck tonight against Adams

On the ice — Bryan Krygier's team stands tall atop the OAA I and still hasn't lost a league game. If you haven't made the drive up to Lapeer to see these guys play you should. They're a fun group to watch and they play their last home game in over a month tonight when they take on Birmingham at 7 p.m.

Gordie's Crew — Gordie Richardson and his volleyball team put forth a tremendous effort over the weekend at a tournament at Lansing Waverly. The girls lost in the finals, but beat four other teams to open the season with a 4-1-1 record. Congrats to Gordie and his team for an excellent debut. Unfortunately, because of Monday's snow, their match against powerhouse Birmingham Seaholm was cancelled so I didn't get a chance to see them play. Their next match is Dec. 14 at Troy Athens.

The Heisman Vote — I'm no fan of Floirda State, and I only watched a couple of the Seminoles games this season, but I have no problem with Chris Weinke winning the Heisman Trophy. Many people feel he's too old to win the award at the age of 28. If he's eligible to play college football, then he's eligible for any award that goes with it. If the NCAA wants to put an age limit on its players that's one thing. But as long as there is no age limit, to say Weinke shouldn't win it because of his age is silly. Personally, I was hoping Drew Brees would win it because I like watching the Purdue offense.

From 8-4 to 8-6 — I predicted in August that the Lions would finish the season 9-7 and not make the playoffs. Now with the loss to Green Bay and another one probable this Sunday at the New York Jets, a 9-7 no playoff season doesn't seem too far fetched.

What will probably end up happening is what happens most other years. Detroit will win its last game, get the help it needs from other wildcard hungry teams and then go on the road and get killed in it round of the playoffs.

The biggest difference in this team between Thanksgiving and now can be attributed to two plays. Watch the dive into the end zone Charlie Batch made against New England. Then watch his

Wolves start season 4-1-1

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

To say the Clarkston varsity volleyball team had a long day would be an understatement.

The Wolves left for the Lansing Waverly Tournament at 6:30 a.m. Dec. 9 and returned to Clarkston High School after 11 p.m. But after battling six other schools the Wolves post a 4-1-1 record. They came up just short in the finals against DeWitt, losing the match 9-15, 16-14, 13-15.

Coach Gordie Richardson said his team had a great afternoon and emphasized a total team effort from the Wolves.

"The kids played very well and we did a nice job playing as a team out there," Richardson said. "We had a lot of kids step up and play consistent volleyball for us."

The Wolves began the day taking on Davison and beating them 15-7, 15-9. From there, the Wolves took on East Lansing and beat them 15-10, 15-6. The Wolves third round was opponent was Charlotte, but the Wolves stayed focused and defeated them 15-7, 15-12.

Lisa Ferguson

In their fourth match the Wolves tied Lansing Eastern 7-15, 15-13.

"Against them we tried to play some other kids and we just weren't into it in the first game. But in the second came the kids put forth a good effort," Richardson said.

In the semifinals the Wolves took on Eaton Rapids who won the first game 8-15:

"They got on us in the first game and did some nice things. I think we were a little lethargic in the early going," Richardson said.

But the Wolves battled back in the final two games and won both by a 15-3 margin.

"In games two and three our kids really stepped it up and they couldn't block us. We just took advantage of what they were giving us," Richardson said.

In the finals the Wolves lost the opening match 9-15, but fought hard in game two as they came back from a 9-2 deficit to win 16-14.

However DeWitt edged out Clarkston in game three 15-13.

"We lost in the finals, but it was a good game and either team could have won. It was a long day for us and I think after the semis we were settled and relaxed and it was hard to get that emotion back. But the effort from the girls was very good throughout," Richardson said.

Lyndsay Vincent had nine aces for Clarkston while Lisa Ferguson and Mary Warchuck each had six. Vincent led Clarkston in digs with 34 and Kristen Falck had 31. Falck also had 10 blocks. Tricia Brewer had 12 kills for Clarkston.

The Wolves resume action Dec. 14 at Troy Athens at 6 p.m.

Athlete of the week: Mary Warchuck

Senior Mary Warchuck has bounced back from a mediocre junior year to become one of the best all around players on the volleyball court.

The three year varsity player is the team's only left-handed player and is an asset as a right side hitter, coach Gordie Richardson said.

Richardson said Warchuck has many qualities on the court including her ability to see the floor.

"She's our only consistent jump server and she's got a good touch with the ball. She's grown into a leader on our team pretty nicely. I think she leads with friendly persuasion," Richardson said.

Warchuck credits her improved play with an increase in confidence.

"I think my defense has gotten better. I'm more confident overall and it's helped in all aspects of my game," she said.

"The biggest challenge as a volleyball player is to get everybody to play as a team when we're down. But I think we've surprised ourselves through our first couple of practices. I think we'll be pretty good this year," Warchuck said.

Richardson said Warchuck has really come around in her final year on the varsity team.

"She's playing the best volleyball I've seen her play I'm very pleased with Mary," he said.

Warchuck, who also plays varsity softball, maintains a 3.2 grade point average. After graduation, she is interested in playing softball at the collegiate level and may pursue studying education.

Krygier said his team is coming together and playing within the system. He added he doesn't know how his team, which has 11 new players, will react to the second half of the season.

"I don't know what our players expect in that stretch. We'll find out how they do when we get there against those tougher teams. As a coach you can only do so much to prepare them, but they're coming along well," Krygier said.

Krygier said he has continued to see good things from Hall and Tuner.

"Eric's a sophomore and is playing very well for us at both ends of the ice. He's got two goals and four assists for us," he said. "Nick is also playing well. He's played in only three games, but has three assists," Krygier said.

Icers tie Royal Oak, remain in first in OAA I

Wolves let 3-1 lead slip away, host Birmingham tonight

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston varsity ice hockey coach Bryan Krygier said any time the Wolves score three goals they should win. That didn't happen as the Wolves scored three, but ended up tying Royal Oak 3-3 Dec. 8 at the Polar. Ice Palace in Lapeer.

The Wolves remain in first place however in the Oakland Activities Association Division I. They are currently ranked sixth in the state and post a 5-1-1 overall record. Clarkston is 2-0-1 in the OAA I.

Clarkston scored all three of its goals in the second period. Andrew Johnston, Jon Bemis and Eric Hall tallied the Wolves goals. Steve Janowiak, Nick Turner and Mike Abrams drew the assists:

Brendan Czarniecki stopped 12 of the 15 Blades

After Clarkston grabbed a 3-1 lead, the Wolves let Royal Oak back in the game by giving up two goals within 20 seconds of each other.

"We played very well in the second, but then we got into penalty trouble in the third. We knew coming in that Royal Oak would be our first big test in the league. But we were up 3-1 and we didn't finish them off," Krygier said.

Even though the Wolves let a 3-1 lead slip away, Krygier is very pleased overall with the performance

"We're making progress and improving. There's still more room for improvement obviously, but our only loss was to Buffalo," he said.

The Wolves have picked up league wins over West Bloomfield and Waterford Mott. They've also beaten OAA II teams Waterford Kettering and Bloomfield Hills by a combined score of 14-0.

Adam Peters heads down the ice in recent action at the Polar ice Palace.

"It's big that we haven't suffered a loss in the league so far. We're doing good heading into Christmas." Krygier said.

The Wolves schedule has been favorable so far this season. Their first six league games were all played at home. But their schedule will get more difficult after Christmas. After the Wolves face Birmingham tonight at home, they visit Troy Dec. 20.

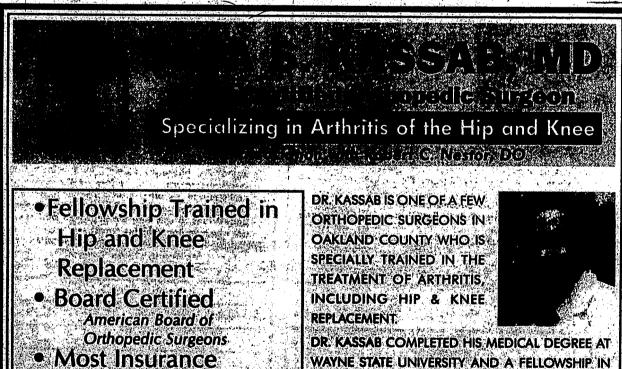

They take on some of the state's best teams in the Alpena Christmas Classic Tournament. They'll play Alpena (no. 3 in the state) and either East Kentwood (no. 7) or Negaunee.

Further down the road the Wolves will take on Port Huron Northern (no. 8), Catholic Central (no.1), Trenton (no.2) and Cranbrook (no. 2 in Division 3) and Brother Rice (no. 5 in Division 2).

INDEPENDENCE

At a regular meeting of the Independence Township Board held on December 5, 2000, the Township Board authorized a first Reading of an Amendment to sidewalk and Safety

Path Regulation Ordinance as follows:

AMENDMENT TO SIDEWALK AND SAFETY PATH REGULATION ORDINANCE

An Ordinance to Amend Section 17.5-22 of the Charter Township of Independence Code of Ordinances to amend the definition of the terms "sidewalk" and "safety path" THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE OR-

DAINS AS FOLLOWS FOR INCORPORATION INTO THE TOWNSHIP CODE

Section 1 of Ordinance Chapter 17.5 of the Ordinance Code shall be amended by deleting the existing separate definitions of "safety path" and "sidewalk" in Section 17.5-22, and adding a new combined definition of "sidewalk and safety path" to Section 17.5-22, reading and inserted alphabetically as follows; Chapter 17.5

ARTICLE II. SIDEWALK AND SAFETY PATH REGULATION Section 17.5-22. Definitions

(1) For purposes of this Article, the following terms shall have the meanings ascribed to them below:

Condition of disrepair [unchanged]. Sidewalk and safety path shall be synonymous in terms of their basic substantive meaning, being a constructed surface located in a public right-of-way, but separate from any improved portion of a roadway or highway, dedi-cated primarily for pedestrian usage. For purposes of regu-lation under this Ordinance (only), sidewalks and safety paths shall be broken into two sub-classifications as fol-

(a) A safety path shall mean a certain type of sidewalk constructed for the benefit of the general public in the Township, as shown on the official Safety Path Map maintained by the Township. The use of the term "safety path" itself does mean, and shall not be construed or relied upon in any way as meaning, that such safety paths are inherently safe or in a safe condition. In stead, the reference to "safety" in the labeling of such paths is nothing other than a reference to the fact that such pathways are typically considered to be safer for pedestrians to use than the improved portions of roads on which motor vehicles travel.

(b) Sidewalk shall mean and refer to all other constructed surfaces located in the public right-of-way dedicated primarily for pedestrian usage, not including those sidewalks being referenced above as "safety paths," and constructed primarily as dedicated pedestrian paths within subdivisions or adjacent to street lots.

Street lots (unchanged). Subdivision (unchanged). (2) (unchanged)

Section 2 Of Ordinance
The provisions of this ordinance are hereby ordered to take effect immediately upon publication as provided by low.

Section 3 of Ordinance

All ordinances of parts of ordinances conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed, however, such repealer shall be to the limited extent of express conflict, and shall not terminate the full force and effect of an ordinance to the extent that it regulates subject matter outside

Community band is family affair for Metzgers

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer.

This coming Sunday, the Metzger family will resume a family tradition -- playing music together.

Father Gene, son Gary, and father-in-law Bob Jackson will be part of the 40-member Clarkston Community Band's Christmas concert, to begin at 3 p.m. at the Performing Arts Auditorium at Clarkston High School.

The community band was formed in 1996 for adult musicians who have no other outlet in which to perform. Musicians in the group range from 17 to over 80.

"Jeanne Pierce started it all five years ago," said Gary Metzger, who owns The Print Shop on Dixie Highway, along with his father. "She got involved with Independence Parks and Recreation. They told her they had to have 18 musicians to make it feasible. We (Gary and Gene) were part of the 25 (original members). Then we convinced Bob, who hadn't played for 50 years, to play."

Today, Pierce still directs the band, with the help of assistant director Jeff Laity.

"It's full of musicians that had nowhere else to play," Gary said, adding that the band allows the people in it "to relearn and feel a part of something."

Gene recalled that he started playing the trombone when he was in the fourth grade, and that tradition has since been passed to Gary and grandson Steven, who is currently attending Ferris State University.

"I played through grade school and high school, then joined the Army special service band." Gene said. "After I left the Army, I joined the Naval reserves. Our band was in a Jerry Lewis and Dean Martin show. They made a series of movies for the service during the Korean War."

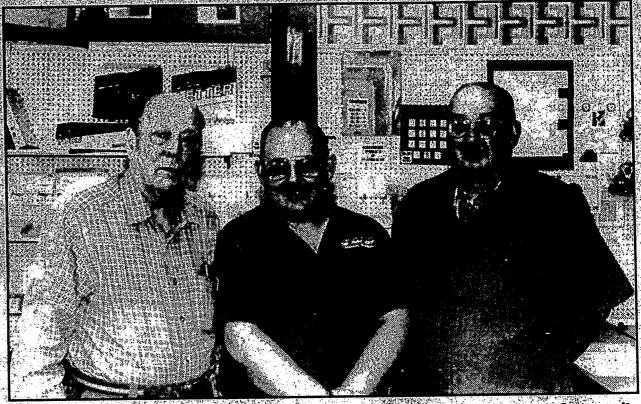

Jackson recalls playing in a variety of bands from elementary school all the way through college.

"I played in jazz bands at junior college and the University of Michigan," he said.

Gary also played in band through his college days, at Michigan State University, where he took part in the jazz, marching, and concert bands. In fact, he currently participates in the MSU Alumni Band.

He started his professional band experience as a high school junior, when he joined up with a professional dance band, The Satin Brass.

Gary said it is common for potential community band members to wonder if they should join up, since they haven't played for a while or may not have a lot of experience.

"The reaction is universal—I haven't played for so many years," he said: "Then they get hooked. There are amateurs and there are professionals in the band."

He added that current Clarkston High School members are encouraged to join the community band to get some additional experience.

Gene said the atmosphere of the band is very friendly and easygoing.

"It's a very relaxed rehearsal," he said. "Everybody's willing to learn. Nobody will put anyone on the spot."

"We're always learning from each other," Gary added. "Most of the musicians have a very open mind to music."

The Metzgers, along with Don Brose, owner of Brose Electric, have a unique way of capitalizing on the Michigan-Michigan State football rivalry and raising money for the community band at the same time.

The Friday before the big game, the two businesses provide food and music for an all-day tailgate party. The two businesses donate a dollar for each person that shows up. After all is said and done, half of the money is donated to the Clarkston Community Band, and half to the Clarkston Junior Optimist Club.

"We usually raise $150-200 per group," Gary said.
During Sunday's concert, a memorial selection will be played for Manley Fry, the band's French hom player who recently passed away. Fry, an original member of the band, was a former band director and school teacher.

According to Metzger, the band dedicated last year's concert to Fry while he was still alive. Metzger said the band will be playing an Irish folk song during this year's concert, as well as traditional Christmas music and popular music.

"It's really a clean, fun, family thing to do," he said.
