Don't cross off Clarkston's July 4 parade plans just yet

Local resident trying to save this year's celebration

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

As Clarkston area residents prepare for the headache of construction on Main Street, they may have something to cheer about after all — the annual July 4 parade.

The Independence Township Fire Department, which usually sponsors the parade cancelled it this year for safety reasons.

But at its April 23 meeting, the city council listened to the wishes of Clarkston resident Gini Schultz, who hopes to organize what she calls, "The Clarkston Alternative Fourth of July Parade."

City manager Art Pappas said the preliminary route for the parade will begin at St. Daniel Church on Holcomb and head south to Deer Lake Road.

Clarkston Police Chief Paul Ormiston, said if the parade does go through, no parking will be allowed on either side of Holcomb.

Schultz said she has heard plenty of positive feedback from area residents regarding her plans for the parade.

"I've heard nothing but favorable comments from area residents about this," she said. "There's been so many bad vibes because the parade is not going to be. The only reason I really wanted to do this was so there would be good vibes for downtown

Get ready, Main Street work could start Friday

Construction and MDOT officials said work on Main Street could begin as early as the end of this week.

On Monday, Anthony Vani of VIL Construction said downtown Main Street parking could be eliminated as early as the end of this week, so that two-way traffic can be shifted to the east side of the street from Waldon to north of Independence Township hall.

MDOT resident engineer Jim Natschke said the more realistic start date would be by May 2.

Vani said workers redoing gas lines are taking longer than expected, and VIL wants to jump-start the project to get things moving. He said first priority will be installing a new water main under the creek that crosses Main Street north of Washington.

Construction was originally planned to start south of Waldon, near Middle Lake Road.

Phase One, installing a 12-inch water line on the west side of M-15 should be completed by the end of July.

Then traffic will be shifted to the west side of the street for Phase Two, so an identical water line can be installed on the east side of the street.

School board candidates know the ropes

Write-ins can file up to June 8 for the June 11 election

BY JEFF PATRUS

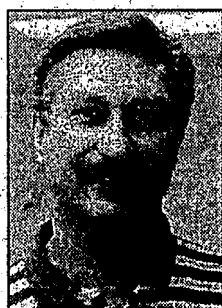

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Two candidates have announced they will seek four-year terms for the two Clarkston Community Schools Board of Education seats at the June 11 election.

School board treasurer Ron Sullivan is seeking reelection. Recent University of Michigan graduate Steve Hyer ran for the school board last year.

School board member Rick Crigger decided not to seek re-election. Write-in candidates must file a declaration of intent before 4 p.m. Friday, June 8.

Sullivan was first elected to the board in 1997. A 10-year resident of Clarkston, he works for Electronic Data Services as a database administrator. He earned a bachelor of science degree in computer science from Central Michigan University.

Sullivan said there is more work to be accomplished in the district.

"One of the main reasons (to run for reelection) is that there's still a lot to be accomplished," he said. "We want to get more focused on technology now that it's in place, as well as how to use our facilities."

Sullivan described his first couple of years on the school board as a growth process.

"The first few years, you learn how things work, and how you work with the rest of the team," he said. "Having learned a lot more will help me be more effective."

Sullivan and the rest of the board put this practice to work in February. Faced with the challenge of restoring the district's fund equity to 15 percent, it decided to reduce $1.5 million from the 2001-02 budget.

He described the recent budget reductions by the district as a proactive measure designed to make sure the district is in good financial shape.

"The way I feel is that as a board, we're trying to make sure we don't run in the red," Sullivan said. "The way the reductions were approached is that how can we implement programs in a more efficient way. Our fund equity is not where we need it to be."

He said the three biggest challenges the Clarkston district will face in the future are how to implement the current programs, how to best use existing facilities, and how to meet all students' needs.

"That's really going to be a challenge," Sullivan said of the latter point.

He said the district is doing a solid job of utilizing the technology it has in place, although it is a matter of taking the time to learn about how the

Youth take center stage at awards reception

Clarkston Area Youth Assistance celebrates volunteer efforts of over 100 area youth

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

April 10 was the night the spotlight shone on the Clarkston youth.

Over 100 students, along with family and friends, were on hand that evening at the Clarkston Middle School auditorium for the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance program's annual awards reception.

The evening featured speeches by Oakland County Sheriff Michael Bouchard and Lloyd Jackson, a newscaster for WJR Radio in Detroit.

Both emphasized the importance of recognizing the volunteer efforts of youth, and stressed the need for news coverage of the positive aspects of the area's children. In fact, Jackson said he would mention the reception and the honored students in his 8 a.m. newscast April 11.

Each award winner was greeted by a receiving line as they went on stage to receive their award from Merelyn Mallett, a member of the Youth Recognition Reception Committee.

Among the members of the receiving line were Bouchard; Frank Millard, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Commissioners; Dr. Al Roberts, superintendent of Clarkston Community Schools; Paul Ormiston, Clarkston police chief; and Detroit Lions offensive linemen Eric Beverly and Kerwin Blaise.

After the ceremony, Beverly and Blaise autographed team pictures for the students.

Two students were singled out for special recognition and awards given out by the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee: Erin McDonald and Maria Blaine.

The following is a summary of the activities that McDonald and Blaine have devoted their time to:

Erin McDonald: five years involvement with SCAMP; volunteers time at Summer Mission Program for Christ the Redeemer Church; two days of physical work with the Blight Busters Program for the City of Detroit; involvement with CYO Youth Council Program; helped with Rainbow Conference for 1,500 teens at the Renaissance Center; helped with Storm Conference for 500 teens at the Renaissance Center; helped with The Light conference at St. John Family & Youth Center in Plymouth; volunteers for March of Dimes.

Maria Blaine: visits retired priests at Columbiere Center in Clarkston; bought clothing for disadvantaged teens; volunteered time at Lighthouse North; spearheaded Oakland County's Hats Off to Cancer program; received outstanding service award from the Clarkston Area Optimist Club; involved with We Unite school events; member of youth group at Clarkston Free Methodist Church; team captain for Clarkston Relay for Life.

Clarkston Area Youth Assistance was established in 1961 for the purpose of preventing juvenile delinquency in the Clarkston, Independence Township and Springfield Township communities. Throughout the year, they hold fund raising events to sponsor area youth, such as a golf outing, a Clarkston Village Players Benefit Play, and a Pampered Chef Night.

Officers for this year are Nicole Cronmiller, chairperson; Anita Demster, vice chairperson; Jackie Fromm, secretary; and Carol Meyers, treasurer.

Staff personnel include Kal Engelberg, chief of Oakland County Youth Assistance; John Greenhill, supervisor of Oakland County Youth Assistance; Fred Morden, child welfare worker, Oakland County/Clarkston Area Youth Assistance; and Nancy Grappin, office administrator, Clarkston Area Youth Assistance.

Clarkston Area Youth Assistance is located at 5980 Clarkston Road. For more information, call 625-9007.

On-call firefighters get better insurance

Independence Twp. also approves sales of AED equipment to others

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The National Fire Protection Association estimates on average over 100,000 firefighters are injured every year.

As can be expected, insurance is very important to firefighters. And at the April 17 Independence Township board meeting, on-call firefighters asked officials to grant them better coverage.

Fire Chief Steve Ronk said the current policy with Nationwide Insurance, which expired mid-April, hadn't been updated or reviewed for the past ten to 15 years. "As we reviewed the policy...we found it to be very deficient in coverage for the hazards encountered by today's firefighters."

Ric Hardy, an on-call firefighter with the township for 13 years, said the Nationwide policy contains limited coverage related to loss of sight, exposure, disability, sickness, and the treatment of burn related injuries.

Hardy suggested the board switch to Volunteer Fireman's Insurance Services (VFIS). He said, "The VFIS policy provides a broader range of coverage as well as providing financial protection more in line with the current economy."

Choosing between three insurance proposals ranging from $50,000 to $150,000, the Township Board voted in favor of basic coverage worth $100,000. The insurance premium is a three year contract per incident requiring the township pay $2,767 per year.

VFIS representative Brian Timmer said this policy covers loss of life, permanent impairment, dismemberment, loss of sight and hearing, burns, disease exposure including HIV, spousal support, memorial benefit, and more.

However, Hardy wanted an optional 24 hour accidental death and dismemberment added to the coverage. "We ask that the Township Board and the Fire Department recognize the value of this group of public servants and provide the adequate protection that they and their families deserve. We have to consider that these employees serve and protect the community at the risk of losing their primary source of income if injured or disabled."

But Supervisor Dale Stuart said the motion stood and the policy would be reviewed and 24 hour accidental coverage may be added at a later date.

Currently, there are 20 on-call firefighters on the Independence Township roster.

Also at the meeting, an agreement allowing Independence Township to sell automatic external defibrillators (AED) to the public was approved.

Drafted by township attorney Steve Joppich, the agreement covers the ordering, delivery, purchase, ownership, and use of AED units.

The township will pay a single lump sum directly to the manufacturer on behalf of all unit owners, and delivery of the units will be to the township.

"The agreement sufficiently protects us from lawsuit," said Supervisor Dale Stuart.

At the April 3 meeting, the Fire Department received approval to order AEDs for the township's municipal buildings, Clarkston Schools, and one local church. At a later date, the department will come back to the board with AED orders for more nonmunicipal facilities and businesses such as golf courses, gyms, and others.

Cost of an AED is $2,625; a wall cabinet is an additional $178.

New scoreboards for Clintonwood

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

There'll be new stars on the softball fields this season at Clintonwood Park.

After a few years of non-functioning scoreboards on softball fields #1 and #2, and complaints from players, two new scoreboards are on their way.

Mike Turk, Parks and Recreation Director for Independence Township, received approval by the Township Board on April 17 to purchase the scoreboards from Sportable Scoreboards of Kentucky.

Turk said he called three communities who have Sportable Scoreboards and all were very satisfied.

These particular scoreboards, use Lighting Emitting Diode (LED), which is the brightest in the industry and have become the standard. They're rated for 100,000 hours and are very helpful for daytime play, Turk said. LED lights do not burn out, which saves on power and maintenance, he added.

The scoreboards are also wireless remote, and will save money in the long run, Turk said, adding no trenching to the scorekeeper bench is needed.

The total cost for both scoreboards plus battery packs for controllers are $6,540 plus shipping.

The Clarkston Rotary has pledged $1,500 to help with the purchase of the scoreboards and their logo will be placed on one of the boards.

Also at the meeting, Turk and Parks and Rec received approval to replace a portion of the fence along White Lake Road adjacent to the parking lot area and in the boat launch area of Deer Lake Beach.

Over the years, the fence has

Springfield denies rezoning for gas station

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It's back to the drawing board for a couple of property owners hoping to construct a gas station in Springfield Township.

A movement to rezone 1.6 acres of property in that area was stopped dead in its tracks by the Springfield Township Board, who denied a request to rezone the property from OS, Office Service District, to C-2, General Business District.

The movement by the township board followed the pattern of the Springfield Township Planning Commission and the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning Committee, both of whom voted unanimously to deny the proposal.

"C-2 zoning would have allowed them to build a gas station," said Springfield Township Supervisor Collin Walls.

Mike Clark of Twenty First Century Development, who represented property owners Larry Barnett and Ron Iacobelli, said the two will explore other avenues.

"At this point, we're still weighing our options," he said. "Sometime in June, we plan on going before the Zoning Board of Appeals. Once the minutes are official, then we will have a better idea."

Clark said the action by the township board came as no surprise.

"It was expected," he said. "It's no secret that they want to limit growth, both commercial and residential."

In an April 10 memo to Springfield Township Clerk Nancy Strole, JoAnn Browning, Associate Planner for Oakland County Development & Planning, said the proposed rezoning would not be consistent with Springfield Township's Master Plan, and also would not be compatible with adjacent uses.

"C-2 is not compatible with the planned future land use of Multiple Family Residential in Independence Township," she said. "Also, the C-2 zoning is not consistent with what Springfield Township's Master Plan shows for this parcel. Beyond these considerations, the C-2 is not compatible with the existing single family residential uses that are immediately adjacent to the west and south of the parcel."

Last year, a request to rezone a piece of property on Davisburg and Dixie from residential to commercial was denied by the township board. The property owners, known as Springfield Investors, had hoped to build a gas station on the property.

"It wasn't a good idea," Walls said of that proposal. He further said the reasons for denying last year's proposal were "not that much different than the reasons for denying the other one."

Walls said he has been approached within the past 1 to 1-1/2 years by developers on two different sites who wish to build a gas station on their premises and did not require their property to be rezoned.

However, no further action has been taken by the developers, according to Walls.

"We haven't had any site plans submitted," he said.

Special meeting for Civic Center

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Springfield Township residents will have their chance to hear about the state of the Civic Center at a special meeting May 1 at 7:30 p.m..

In an April 4 memo to the board, Supervisor Collin Walls requested the meeting for the following reasons:

■ Dave Tropf from Kirco Construction and David Gazzen from Minoru Yamasaki Associates will give a project update and answer questions.

■ To determine department locations and "who sits where".

■ To review operational changes and differences between the current practice and the new building.

In an April 2 letter, Tropf, project manager at Kirco, said sitework continued throughout March.

Tropf said the company lost 16 calendar days on the project schedule due to inclement weather and frost law weight restrictions.

In other Civic Center-related items at the April 12 meeting, the township board took the following actions:

■ Approved the construction of a full passing lane in front of Davisburg Elementary for westbound traffic. Walls said this lane could also serve as a deceleration lane for the Civic Center. The estimated cost of construction is $50,310.

The proposed Springfield Twp. Civic Center

■ Appointed Telecommunications Engineers, Inc. (TCE) of Lennon, Mich. to serve as consultants for technology design and phone system services for the civic center.

■ Approved a budget and authorized the retaining of a consultant to assist with furniture and equipment for the Civic Center.

The meeting will be at Springfield Twp. hall, 650 Davisburg Rd. Call 625-4802 or 634-3111 for more information.

Construction will bring a renewed downtown

Unless we have several days of rain, construction on Main Street should be underway by this time next week, according to Jim Natschke of MDOT.

Residents and visitors to other communities who've been through this say the benefits far outweigh the temporary setbacks.

Nearby Oxford is a prime example. Old-fashioned streetlights and new brick walkways have added charm and distinction to the area around the M-24 and Burdick Road intersection.

By November, downtown Main Street in Clarkston will be ready to be decked out with new holiday decorations, courtesy of the Rotary Club.

The Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce is working hard on a holiday festival that will take place the first weekend in December.

A parade, Christmas sing, woodcarving contest and many other activities are planned.

It will be the perfect time to showcase our new downtown. Clarkston will have its own distinctive charm with brick pavers at the street corners, old-fashioned street lights and more.

Let's focus on the future while we put up with the temporary inconvenience of construction.

Letters To The Editor

They enjoy reading The Clarkston News

Whoops! We've just returned home after several weeks away and have received your (subscription) notices. Please find (a check) enclosed.

We do not want to miss The Clarkston News, for a variety of reasons.

For one thing, your story on Agnes Goodrich DeNise last year when she turned ninety has renewed an old friendship.

You also keep us attuned to the changes being made to the area that has been dear to our family since the early 1900s. Much of the history you write about seems like not so long ago to all of us.

Another feature we like to keep abreast of is the crime sheet. Like to know what's going on, especially in the neighborhood of our cottage.

There are lots of interesting features and news items that we enjoy.

Thank you.

Sincerely
Mary Trof

Clarkston News makes Car and Driver

SPECIAL ADVERTISING FEATURE

The Clarkston News office goes national with an appearance in Car and Driver magazine.

Much to our delight, The Clarkston News received some national publicity recently, via Car and Driver magazine.

The Honda Accord, rated one of the 10 best cars of the year by the magazine, was photographed in front of The Clarkston News building at 5 S. Main in downtown Clarkston.

So how did photographers end up in downtown Clarkston taking pictures for a national magazine? We wanted to know, too.

The magazine's editorial department is headquartered in Ann Arbor. Last fall their staff leased Waterford Hills road racing track on Waterford Road to test drive and photograph cars and trucks.

Assistant Art Director Dan Winter said since this Accord doesn't fit the racing image, they looked for a more suitable back-drop for a picture.

The photo first appeared in a story about the magazine's 10Best picks in their January issue, and is reprinted in the May issue in a special advertising section.

Car and Driver staffer Sue Matthews said Car and Driver photographers also spend a lot of time driving around looking for interesting locations for photo shoots so that all photos do not look the same.

According to the article, the Accord has made Car and Driver's 10Best list for 15 years. Base price of the candy apple red model shown above ranges from $15,840 to $25,540.

How can a base price range $10,000?

Oh well, who cares. We're just glad the picture was taken in front of our building.

They should return next fall after construction is completed on Main Street, and we have new curbs, fancy crosswalks, old-fashioned street lights and pear trees.

Some call me Don, others just say I'm cheap

The trail leading to the hunt can be brutal, so over the winter I worked out, trying to prepare myself. As the fall gave way to winter and the cold has given way to spring, so too have I honed my skills. I've sharpened my senses to a razor's edge.

It's spring and the season has opened. I can feel a tingling sensation in anticipation of making that trophy find. Ah, the thrill of the hunt!

It's garage sale season!
Bada-bing bada-boom, baby!
Let's rhumba!
And, let the games begin!

Over the course of the winter Jen and her boys (that would be the precious, elf-like Shamus and Sean and the ever-annoying but handy to have along 'cuz he can lift heavy things, Don) have tooled the highways and biways looking for flea markets and antique shops (or in Shamus-speak, those two venues can be lump together as "crap stores"). We don't buy much -- we look and see what is out there and what things are selling for.

It's fun.

Jen's great at finding treasures. She has a knack (or is it a gift?) of finding items at low prices and turning around and selling them for a profit. You go girl!

Me... well, let's just say I really don't know why I am attracted to garage sales. I am not a guy who sees an item, picks it up, sees the price and automatically thinks it can be had for less. I believe there were no horse-traders in my lineage (my great-grandfather on my mother's mother's side, used to ride a horse while delivering the mail in the Appalachians. And, even after a jealous husband shot off Great-granddad Murphy's arm, he continued to deliver mail one-armed. Does that count?).

By the way, I don't have a good poker face, either.

rush
don't rush
me

On the contrary, I see an item, look at the price and if it's reasonable, I'll buy it.

I tend to stick with the $3 and less items.

I cannot recall my father ever stopping to look or buy somebody's already used stuff. I don't know if Mom was up to the challenge of garage saling or not. Regardless, I was never schooled in the fine art of haggling -- time out! Whenever I see, say or hear that word I'm reminded of a headline from the early part of the last century. In 1907, The Oxford Leader headlined a story with: Haggled His Throat With A Razor And Dull Jack-Knife! I wonder why we don't write 'em like that anymore?

(At any rate, back to more of my shortcomings).

Never trained to spot a bargain or banter and barter, it's curious why garage sales have played any kind of role in my adult life. Why is it a kid who rarely (if never) tasted the thrill of picking through other people's discarded stuff, was an aficionado of and decorated his first apartments through first home in Early 20th Century American Garage Sale?

Maybe said lad is just cheap!

Dad, who was very proud of his Irish descent, always said I had too much Scot blood running through my veins. I told him, it was all Mother's fault.

Garage sale season is fun. It's fun to look through our classified pages, plot out a plan and attack. I went up to the front office and asked how many garage sale ads are running this week. Last week was disappointing there were only a few, but this week things have turned. There are 28 listed sales.

Hot damn!

It's time to get pumped for the hunt. I'll need to check out my equipment. Let's see, what do I need... a full tank of gas, sunglasses and a wad of Washingtons. This year, if I can get the guts, I'm gonna try bartering on sale prices. Heck, maybe I can even convince Jen to teach me all the tricks of the trade.

Good luck, hunters. May the force be with you (and don't forget to check out the want ads.)

Women libbers must change 'her' name

Monday and Tuesday, April 16 and 17 were the kinds of days that must make true liberation-thinking women cringe.

For over 48 hours, weatherpersons, newspeople, female and male, blamed "Mother Nature" for the unseasonable drop in temperatures and that white stuff falling and being blown about.

I can vision the Libbers in their think-tanks going through combinations of names they can substitute for Mother Nature on days that are not pleasing to the majority. The majority being women.

I'm sure the Mother Nature reference was acceptable the week before when the sun shone brightly and the temperature reached 70.

April 16 and 17 were days that I, too, reflected on anything resembling a reference between nature and my mother.

Grasses in my lawn, which is a mixture of crab, quack, Kentucky Blue, dandelions, catnip, clover, chickweed, Rye and Bermuda, always come up unevenly. Thus, they needed to be leveled.

Hazel frequently chided me about my frequent and early lawn mowings, and she would have a great chide-time April 16. I knew the weather report was possible snow, but you and I know predictions are based on dart-board technology.

I wasn't going out to challenge Mother Nature. I wanted an even lawn. "It" began just minutes into my joy-time. Fine, occasional bits of white floated, lazily from the sky.

Then Ma (both my mother and Hazel hated being called Ma, so that's now my bad-day name for it) Nature asserted herself. "Herself" may also have to be replaced.

Acceptable bits of white stuff was converted to a sight-shortening avalanche of crap. Then, believe it or not, Mother Nature returned, clearing the sky and bringing forth sunshine.

During the night, "Ma" came back with much lower thermometer readings. She whitened my newly leveled grasses and she drooped the heads of my daffodils. Few things are sadder than the sight of head-drooped daffodils.

April 17 was to be the day for going to the driving range to prepare for opening day of our Thursday golf league.

Now, it will be a day to clean the rings on our cooking range. My only range today will be from this computer to the frig to the sofa.

We need to come up with an equivalent to the seasonal "Bah, Humbug" for days such as Ma delivered April 16 and 17, 2001. Work on that, will you? And, don't get obscene.

Here are some "Redneck" tips that are good for you, too.

If you have to vacuum the bed, it's time to change the sheets.

When sending your wife down the road with a gas can, it's impolite to ask her to bring back beer.

A centerpiece for a table should never be anything prepared by a taxidermist.

Waldon Road to be resurfaced near M-15

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Anyone who has been to the intersection of Main and Waldon knows that corner of Clarkston needs help badly. Help is on its way.

At its last meeting April 23 the city council moved to allocate between $15,000 and $17,000 towards resurfacing on Waldon Road between Clarkston United Methodist Church and Main Street. There will also be an 8 percent administrative fee added on to the cost.

Resurfacing will begin in either June or July, but the cost of the project will not take effect until July 1, the first day of the next fiscal year.

Clarkston Mayor Sharron Catallo said she was advised by city engineer Gary Tressel to approve resurfacing now because the city was getting such a good cost on the project.

"Gary said do it. We need to do something. That road is terrible. We've probably spent half of that cost the last three or four years on patch work," Catallo said.

Councilman Scott Meyland, a member of the budget committee said the committee will figure out exactly where the money for the project will come from.

Meyland, who is also largely involved with the city's water project, added resurfacing on Waldon would not interfere with the city's water project.

"It won't harm anything with the water project. M-DOT (Michigan Department of Transportation) is working on both projects so it will be as smooth as it can be," Meyland said.

Catallo said resurfacing is not a long time solution to the bumpy road. She said she expects the road to remain in good condition for up to five years after the project is completed.

Clarkston Jaycees hold charter banquet; officers needed

The Clarkston Jaycees are starting to take shape.

Sarah Kop was elected secretary and Tim Morris was named to the board of directors.

They were sworn in at the Jaycees' charter banquet April 21, which was at Mr. B's Roadhouse in Clarkston. A total of 12 people attended the event.

In other news, the Clarkston Jaycees announced they will attend the Jaycees state convention May 18-20 at Boyne Mountain. The chapter will receive their Charter, the Green Chip Award, and recognition for being the top growth chapter for the first quarter, with an increase of 13 members.

Also, member Steve Kent said he will develop an e-mail address and Web site for the Clarkston Jaycees.

The Clarkston chapter is currently at 38 members as of press time. Anyone interesting in becoming an officer, or in joining the group, should contact Dwight Keith at (248) 725-3322.

Dixie crash takes life of Pontiac man

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department's traffic division is investigating a fatal vehicle/bicycle crash that occurred at about 9:57 p.m. April 22.

Ross Allan Hammond, a 38-year-old Pontiac resident, was killed when he was struck while riding a bicycle northbound on Dixie Highway, south of Old Pond in Springfield Township. Hammond was struck by a northbound 2001 Chevrolet Tracker operated by an 80-year-old Clarkston resident.

Hammond was pronounced dead at Genesys Hospital. Alcohol does not appear to have been a factor in this crash. The Clarkston resident was not injured.

The crash remains under investigation.

New culvert approved for Curtis Lane

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Soon Curtis Lane and neighboring residents will get the new culvert they've been waiting for.

At the April 17 Independence Township Board meeting, a bid for $64,685 from Pro Line Asphalt of Washington, Michigan was approved for the improvement of a drainage and access culvert under Curtis Lane adjacent to Van Norman Lake.

With administrative fees, the total of the project will be $99,500. Payment will be dispersed over a ten-year plan at 6.5 percent, to be paid by the residents.

Previously, a petition from the residents was signed and submitted to the Township Board seeking improvement of their culvert.

Randy Ford, consulting engineer with Hubbel, Roth and Clark, said the culvert is "in bad state of repair." He said it would take three weeks for delivery, but the culvert should be installed by Memorial Day weekend.

Ford assured residents, "we will make every effort to get it in as soon as possible."

July 4 parade

Schultz told the council she had spoken to the Independence Township Fire Department and the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce regarding the parade.

"I talked to the fire department and it's my feeling that they don't want to do it this year. I also spoke to the chamber and they said no," Schultz said.

The council was receptive to Schultz's ideas, however its main concern revolved around the city's insurance liability and having the township get proper approval from the county.

Independence Township Fire Chief Steve Ronk said the township's decision not to sponsor the parade this year was strictly based on safety.

"We didn't feel it was safe to put 10,000 people in a construction zone. We looked at other options, but we could not honestly put the type of parade we wanted on Main Street. The alternative route she (Schultz) has planned may work fine. But we didn't look at a neighborhood type of parade like they're looking at," Ronk said.

Ronk added that the fire department will participate in the parade and will support the alternative route if it is approved.

"They're welcome to anything we have. We didn't shut the parade down to be the bad guy here. It was merely a safety decision. We'll be back next year," Ronk said.

Schultz said the fire department has been supportive in her quest to put together the alternative parade.

Pappas said because traffic would be rerouted during the parade the township would have to get a permit from the county, but that is usually not a problem. North Holcomb is a city road, but South Holcomb belongs to the township.

Pappas said the city's insurance, through the Michigan Municipality Liability and Property Pool and administered by Meadowbrook Insurance, needs to cover parades especially because there would be a change of the parade's route. He said he'll call the company to clarify the city's coverage this week.

Schultz said she is optimistic the parade will continue its annual tradition. "I really think we can pull it off. It's going to be smaller this year. But there are some things in the past that we won't have this year. I mean, who needs a flyover and who needs a grandstand?" she said.

For more information or to volunteer, call 625-3122 between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Or visit her at The Clarkston Country Store at 21 North Main.

Sullivan, Hyer run for school board

"With regard to school districts, we go out and get technology, then we figure out how to use it," he said.

He said the district's recent decision to eliminate driver's education for the summer leaves private firms as the most viable option for parents wanting to send their children to driver's education.

"Their only option is to go to private firms," Sullivan said. "Even when they were going, the summer programs could only accommodate so many students. Hopefully, the district will look for other options that can help with that."

He said that Clarkston Superintendent Dr. Al Roberts has been very visible throughout the district, and makes a concerted effort to see how each school is doing, leading to a better relationship with the school community.

"I think Dr. Roberts has brought a lot to the district," Sullivan said. "He gets out to all the buildings. He will go and substitute teach in the buildings. He's visible to students, staff, and administrators. I think it helps to build a more trusting relationship with the superintendent."

Four years ago, Steve Hyer was roaming the halls of Clarkston High School as a student.

Now, he hopes to make a positive impact on the Clarkston district as a member of the school board.

Hyer, a 1997 graduate of CHS, seeks a spot on the Clarkston Board of Education for the second straight year.

He graduated from the University of Michigan in December with a bachelor of science degree in biology. He is also president of IGD Solutions Corporation, an Internet services company based in Clarkston.

"In mid-1999 I started my own company," he said. "We concentrate on Web site design. We have several educational Web sites that supplement traditional education."

Hyer said while the Clarkston district is doing well for itself, it has the chance to become even better.

"The school system is important all-around for the community," he said. "I want the system to be as good as it is now and better in the future. I think it's time to get a fresh perspective."

Hyer is a member of the district's Business Advancement Committee for Technology. "We've discussed a lot of extracurricular issues," he said. "I think it's very valuable that they ask where the industry is going."

He said the district has a good technological foundation, and needs to look at how it can use that technology for its benefit.

"I think the district has a real strong infrastructure in place," Hyer said. "Now we're at the point where it's time to support it efficiently. I think it's real important that we follow that up and examine our current computer offerings."

When asked about the budget reductions approved by the board in February, Hyer said the measures were a proactive approach by the board to improve its fund equity.

"There's no red ink," he said. "We're taking the right steps to take care of our fund equity. We're moving programs around to be more efficient. We should always try to be as efficient as we can with regard to teaching and learning. I think the administration's done an excellent job."

Hyer said the two primary challenges facing the district in the future are growth and communication. He addressed each of those issues:

■Growth: "It's real important to use our space effectively, and come up with new space in creative ways. Clarkston is a growing community."

■Communication: "The budget cuts are a great example — the community needs to know what's going on with the school district. I think it's important to develop those partnerships. The Pepsi contract is a hot topic because of lack of communication. Nothing that exciting is going on with it. It's a matter of having good, correct information and transmitting it."

Hyer said another example of making sure the district gets its message across has to do with the recent decision by the district not to offer driver's education for the summer.

He added there are several logistical issues behind the decision, including leasing cars, staffing classes, and finding a location to hold the classes.

Hyer said he is confident the district will work with the community to help find other avenues students can use to take driver's education classes.

"I think they'll put together the necessary information so that students who are looking to take driver's training will have alternative methods," he said.

Hyer said Clarkston superintendent Dr. Al Roberts has done a good job involving himself totally with the school community.

"I think Dr. Roberts has done an excellent job," he said. "He works long hours. I think Dr. Roberts is the most involved superintendent I've seen. He goes the extra step to show up at extracurricular activities. He works with the staff and board very well. I think it's important to continue that."

A recent example of that cooperative approach, according to Hyer, was the recently concluded negotiations between the Clarkston district and the Clarkston Education Association.

"This contract was a breath of fresh air," he said. "It shows the willingness of the teaching and learning staff to work with him as well."

THE LAW & YOU

by Kelley R. Kostin
Attorney at Law

INJURED AT WORK

Workers' compensation is a no-fault system by which employers guarantee payments to employees injured on the job, while employees relinquish the right to sue employers for work-related injuries. When employees suffer work-related injuries, they should notify their employers as soon as possible and ask for a claim form to fill out. If the claim is accepted, benefits should commence promptly. If the claim is partly or completely denied, an employee can have it reviewed by the Worker's Compensation Bureau of Magistrates. In the event an employee is not satisfied with the decision of the Bureau of Magistrates, he or she can appeal said decision to determine the extent of his or her disability and the amount of benefits to which the employee is entitled.

If you have questions about or have experienced a work related injury, contact a lawyer. We would be happy to assist you with these and other legal matters. Located at 11 North Main Street, we handle a variety of legal matters involving personal injury, auto accidents, slip & fall injuries, criminal defense, business law, real estate, family law, and civil litigation in both State and Federal courts. For experience and one-on-one service, you can reach us at 620-1030.

NOTE: An employee should certainly hire an attorney if problems arise in the processing of workers' compensation claim, or if he or she plans to appeal the claim.

Eastern Star celebrates chapter's 100th birthday

On March 10 the Joseph C. Bird Chapter No. 294 Order of the Eastern Star of Clarkston celebrated the Chapter's 100th birthday in conjunction with a reception for Jackie Wethington, a Grand Committee Person of the Grand Chapter Order of the Eastern Star of Michigan.

The affair was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Clarkston United Methodist Church with a delicious luncheon served to 130 people, including the Grand Officers of Michigan's Grand Chapter.

The tables were decorated with an oil lamp typical of the lighting used in the early days of the Chapter's meetings. Each table was also adorned with pansies, a favorite flower of Jackie's. A generous piece of wrapped homemade fudge and a jar of homemade jelly made delicious table favors at each place setting.

Gail Hess gave a reading of the Chapter's history with highlights of happenings and events from the Chapter's beginning and throughout its 100 years of existence.

Jackie's daughter Rene Simmons gave a beautiful and humorous tribute to her mother during the reception. Jackie's family was well attended to pay their respects and her grandchildren came to the microphone to give their little sincere tributes to Jackie.

It was a beautiful affair enjoyed by everyone.

A Look Back

15 YEARS AGO (1986)

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital (POH) officials are investigating a move of their Pontiac-based hospital to Independence Township, according to Jack Whitlow, hospital administrator. Developers have been attempting to locate a 100-bed POH satellite on Dixie Highway near White Lake Road for over a year, but have been frustrated in their efforts.

The number of preschoolers screened by the Clarkston school district for kindergarten readiness, vision and hearing increased this year. Last year at this time, about 299 children were enrolled. Following the final screening scheduled this year at Pine Knob School, the kindergarten enrollment for Clarkston's five elementary schools was 322.

A public hearing for the discussion of a proposed Boron Oil gas station and car wash has been delayed a third time. The hearing on the facility, planned for the corner of Sashabaw and Maybee roads, was tabled by the Independence Township Planning Commission. It will be continued after the township and Boron Oil attorneys have had a chance to confer about the matter.

25 YEARS AGO (1976)

There'll be a fife and drum corps and Rotary Ann members on bicycles and even a hot air balloon flying over the crowd as Clarkston launches its bicentennial observance with a big parade. Air planes from Selfridge Air Base are expected to fly overhead as three local bands plus the Brandon High School band perform for the crowds.

The Springfield Township Bicentennial Committee is in the process of forming a choral group to perform at bicentennial functions during the week of July 24-31, with hopes that it will remain in existence after the celebrations are over. The committee planned a number of programs which will mark the country's 200th birthday, among them a children's art contest for first to sixth graders.

In an effort to raise $3,000 for Independence Center and Clarkston SCAMP, the Jaycees are planning a 16-mile walk. Bikers as well as walkers are urged to participate. The walk will begin at Clarkston High School, traveling through town to Holcomb to Allen Road, across Oakhill to Reese Road, back to Holcomb, then back to the school.

50 YEARS AGO (1951)

It's here again -- the spring fair sponsored by the Sashabaw School P.T.A. Under the able direction of general chairman Mrs. Gerald Urick, it promises to be the most exciting event of the year. Mrs. Urick has gathered a hard working and capable committee to assist her. Mr. Victor Kutchins is chairman in charge of display booths and other properties.

A large crowd attended the annual Clarkston School Carnival. Through the fine cooperation of the teachers and students, the event was very successful. Pat Jewell was the general chairman and he did a wonderful job. There was something going on every minute. Last year's king and queen, Ronald Dawley and Mary Lou Althouse, crowned the 1951 king and queen, Vern Carmen and Elaine Porritt.

Specials at Terry's Market were as follows: smoked picnics, 39 cents/lb.; Booth strawberries, 12 oz pkg., 37 cents; Florida oranges, two dozen for 69 cents; butter, 68 cents/lb.; pork and beans, two large cans, 29 cents; garden fresh cucumbers, two for 19 cents; Armour's banner sliced bacon, 45 cents/lb.; green peppers, four for 25 cents.

A Simple Way to Invest in Stocks

$100 or more per month

It's called dollar cost averaging. You simply invest a regular amount of money into stocks each month. Although this can't guarantee a profit or prevent a loss, your money buys more shares when prices are low and fewer when prices are high.

Dollar cost averaging is a long-term strategy, so you should evaluate your ability to continue investing through up and down markets. Stocks are subject to market value fluctuation, and if sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost.

rusted, been damaged, and is need of replacement, Turk said.

A concern for Turk is patrons climbing the fence to fish in the winter months. The installation of a higher fence would eliminate this problem and help to solve this safety issue, he said.

In the past, there have been problems with sand washing up in the launch area making it difficult to open and close gates. With installation of slider gates, as well, patrons won't experience this problem anymore, said Turk.

The lowest bid Turk received for new fencing portions was $5,988 from Griffin Fence in Lake Orion. Parks and Rec has $10,000 budgeted in their Bay Court Park Land Improvement fund and is borrowing from it to support this project.

Township officials suggested Turk come back to the board with quotes to replace all the fencing for Deer Lake Beach.

Wolves dominate Oxford Wildcats

Giroux, Warchuck power offense as Wolves, host league champion Kettering Wednesday

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Sports Editor

Mother nature was on the side of the Clarkston varsity softball team as the Wolves picked up two more victories April 23.

The Wolves improved to 6-2 overall and remain 4-1 in the Oakland Activities Association Division I after downing Oxford 14-4 and 10-5 in a non-league double header at Clarkston High School. The first game ended in the fifth inning because of the 10 run mercy rule and the second game ended right before thunderstorms hit the area.

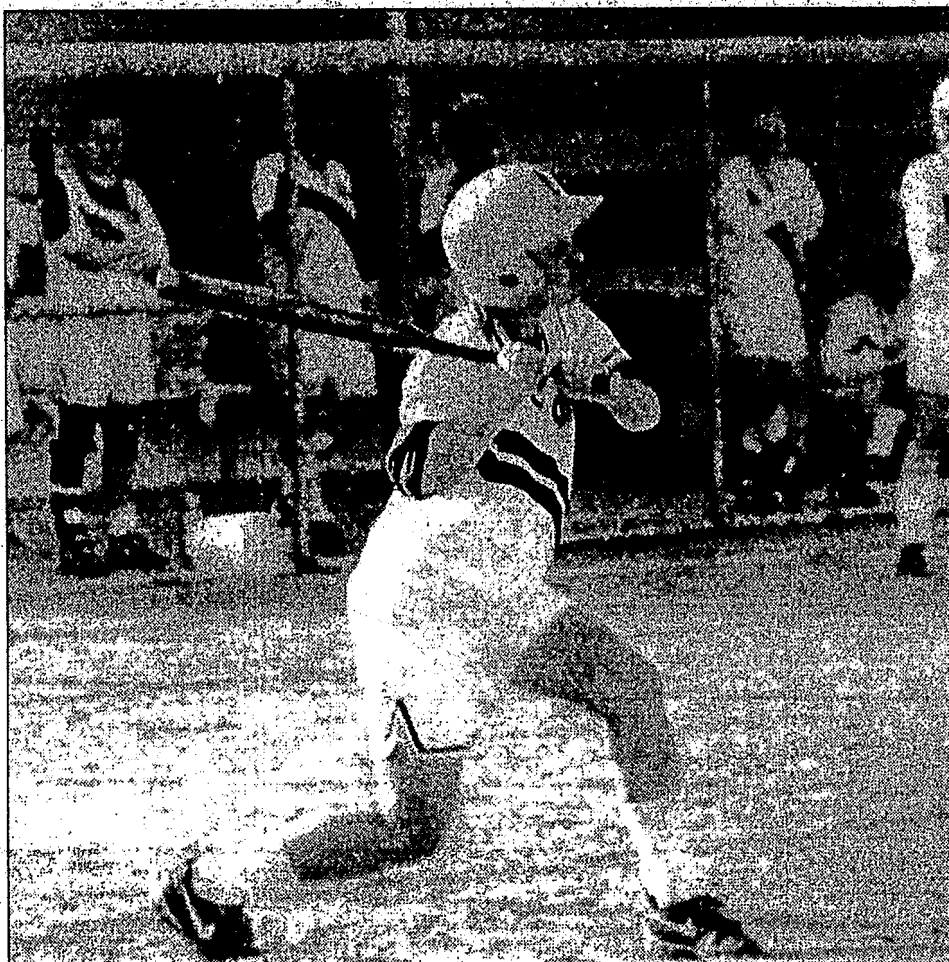

"We were lucky to get out of there just in time with the wins," Clarkston coach Al Land said. "As soon as we were done shaking hands the rain came."

Lisa Ferguson pitched both games for the Wolves who were powered by a nine run second inning in the game one win.

Oxford took a 2-0 lead after one inning, but the Wolves second inning set the tone in what turned out to be an offensive highlight reel for the Wolves, Land said.

"We really hit the ball well all day. The two games kind of blended together. It's almost hard to remember how many kids had how many hits. Defensively, I think we were a bit up and down, but that's to be expected with the layoff," Land said.

It was the Wolves first game since April 11, when they downed league rival Rochester in a double header. The Wolves haven't lost a game since April 4 when they dropped one of two in a double header against league rival West Bloomfield.

The Clarkston varsity softball team exploded for nine runs in the second inning in Clarkston's 14-4 mercy win over Oxford April 23.

The offense was powered by Suzie Giroux, who hit two triples, a double and three singles. Ferguson and Mary Warchuck also hit well for Clarkston, as each contributed five hits.

"We had a lot of girls hit the ball well for us today. Nicole Thrift is also coming along well and had some nice hits in game one," Land said.

The Wolves play their biggest game of the young season today, when they host defending league and regional champion, Waterford Kettering in a double header at 4 p.m. The Captains

Lisa Ferguson won two more games on the mound for Clarkston April 23.

Local resident keeps workers safe as Ford Field construction continues

Clarkston News Sports Editor

Leech is the safety director for White/Olson, the firm that has been contracted out to build the new home of the Detroit Lions, Ford Field-Warehouse project.

Ford Field is scheduled to open in July of 2002 when the Lions host their first preseason game of the year. However far before opening kickoff, Leech has been hard at work making sure none of the well over 500 workers on the site are injured.

Leech's number one priority is safety on the job site. Hard hats, protective eyewear, safety harnesses and other devices are worn by construction workers on site. Leech's goal — to maintain worksite safety.

"So far we haven't had any bad accidents with the guys. There are a lot of precautions we have to take, especially with a project this size. To reward those who work safely we hold safety luncheons for the guys if they do well." Leech said.

Leech was working over 80 hours per week when he began working on the project in June of 2000, but since then his workload has dropped dramatically to less than two days per week.

Ford Field is much more than simply a football stadium, Leech said.

"It's not called Ford Stadium. It's called Ford Field. It's going to be the most unique stadium in the NFL, if not the world. It's going to pay for itself in no time," he said.

The former GL Hudson's warehouse in downtown Detroit, will be integrated into the stadium. The building has been completely stripped and gutted and will be redesigned into a seven-floor entertainment and shopping complex, Leech said. The building was previously six floors and will now feature over 1,000,000 square feet where patrons will be able to enjoy restaurants and shopping. Offices will also be in the building.

In addition, floors five and seven will house luxury suites and skyboxes. The stadium will seat approximately 64,000 fans. To help alleviate parking problems downtown, Leech said two parking structures, the height of the stadium, will feature easy access to area freeways.

With a job this size, Leech has been very busy keeping everyone safe. In turn, he has to be prepared for anything that could go wrong including how to fight fires, how different chemicals interact with each other and making sure all employees are properly equipped with protective gear.

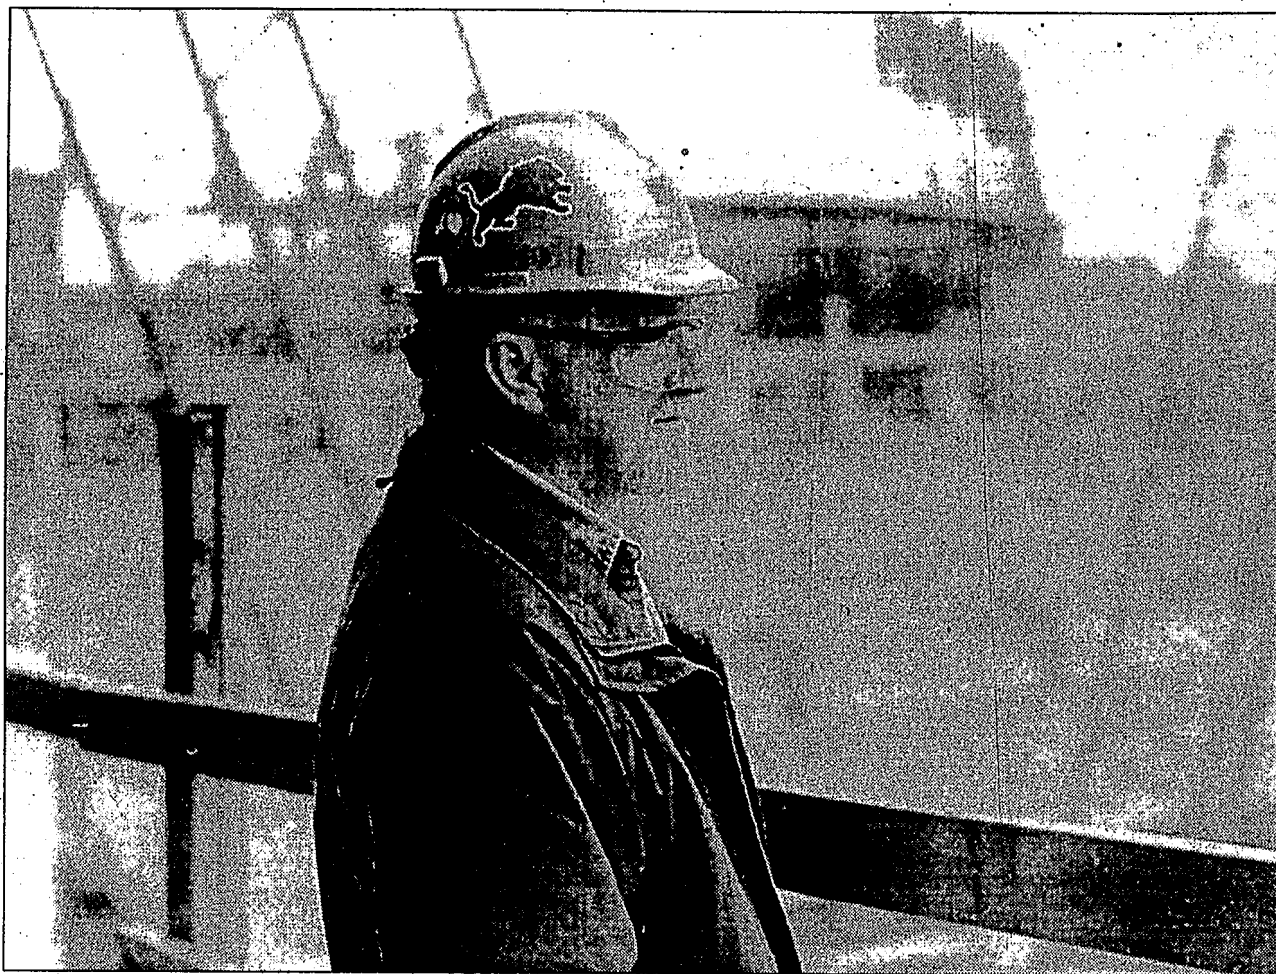

"All of our first-aid is treated here right here on the site," Leech said. "We also have an EMT on site. We can actually respond to calls faster than if somebody called 911."

In addition, Leech said there are 8.5 miles of safety perimeter cable with toe boards to prevent workers, and debris from falling. Over 300 miles of wires and piping are expected to be installed in the future, Leech said.

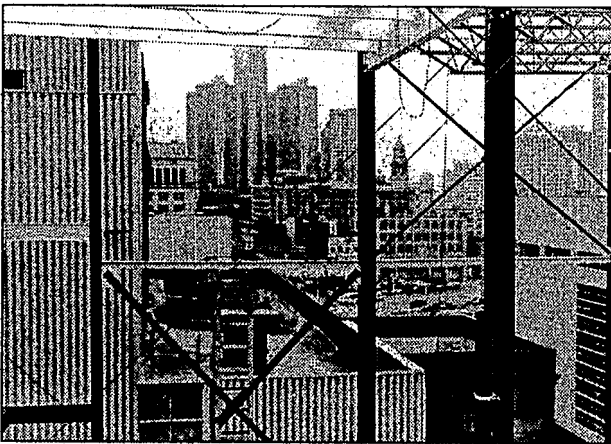

When asked how he thought the Lions would do in their new home Leech simply said, "I don't know. We just build the place. It's up to the marketing people to find a way to fill it."

(Right) Leech said currently over 500 workers are working on the project. His main duty is to make sure the work site remains safe. Photos by Ed Davis.

Local people, local stories, local interest. Read it each week in The Clarkston News!

Jack Leech has been keeping a watchful eye over the construction of the new home of the Detroit Lions, Ford Field.

Leech is hoping Ford Field will help to revitalize downtown Detroit. The new stadium will also be integrated to the seven-floor GL Hudson's warehouse where over 1,000,000 square feet of restaurants, shops and offices will be available.

Ford Field will be right next door to the new home of the DetroitTigers, Comerica Park.

Clarkston Riverdaws ready for action

The Clarkston Riverdaws will host the 7th annual Clarkston Classic Tune-Up Baseball Tournament on May 4-6. Two age groups will play. The younger age group of 11 and 12 year old teams has openings available for seven teams. The 13 and 14-year-old openings are filled.

The tournament will be played at Clintonwood Park. For additional information contact Independence Township Parks and Rec at 248-625-8223.

A Round Robin format guarantees each team will play at least three games. Rosters signed by the league or club representative must be turned in by April 27. Copies of birth certificates must be on hand at the tournament. All North Oakland Baseball Federation (N.O.B.F.) rules except for a select few will be enforced.

A manager's meeting and tournament draw will be conducted on Wed. May 2 at 7 p.m. in the Clintonwood Park Senior Center. Cost to enter the tournament is $145 per team plus $105 cash for the umpires payable on the fields.

A Riverdaws Baseball Club golf outing fundraiser will be held Friday, June 15 at Heather Highlands in Holly. An 8 a.m. shot gun start will launch the 18-hole best-ball scramble. Each foursome must submit their $360 entry fee and registration by June 8. The outing is limited to 36 foursomes. Prizes will be issued to first, second and proximity winners. Hole sponsors can purchase a large tee-box sign with corporate logo for $100.

Riverdaws baseball is coordinated through Independence Township Parks and Rec. For additional information call 625-8223.

Athlete of the week: Cody Senkyr

Cody Senkyr has been running track for four years. But if he can run well for 37 seconds he'll end up running for a Big 10 school.

The four-year varsity hurdler has his eyes set on finishing the 110 meter hurdles in less than 38 seconds. If he does, he said he'll be awarded a full ride to the University of Minnesota.

"I'm a hard worker, but my mentality is kind of to be a slacker. But I take care of business when I have to," Senkyr said.

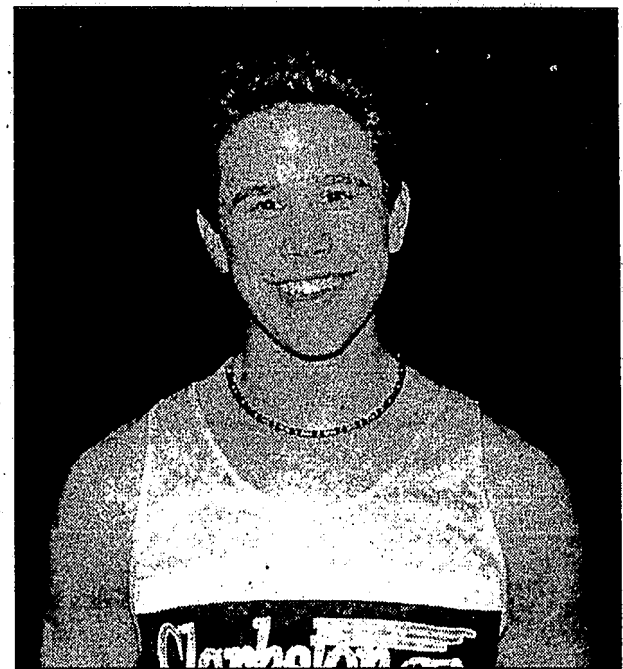

Senkyr also competes in the 300 hurdles and leads off Clarkston's 4x400 relay team, which usually features Matt Tolbert, Jon Chenet and Paul Mesi.

Last year, Senkyr set personal bests in the 110 and 300 hurdles at the county meet. He finished with a time of 15.02 in the 110 and 40.5 in the 300. However, this year, he feels he's running even better.

"I'm making better time this year. Everything's been going pretty smoothly so far," he said.

Senkyr began running since he was 8 years old as a member of the Hershey nationwide youth track program. But it was his efforts in the sixth grade when he finished second in the 400 in a national competition when he knew he was a gifted runner.

"That's when I felt I was a good track athlete," Senkyr said.

His coach, Walt Winiemko, spoke highly of the four-year varsity athlete.

"He's a hard working, enthusiastic individual. He likes to compete and he hates to lose," Winiemko said.

Senkyr maintains a 3.6 grade point average and is interested in studying biology and dentistry after graduation.

Independence Township resident inducted to hall of fame

Steve Szabo's love of football lands him a spot among football greats

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Sports Editor

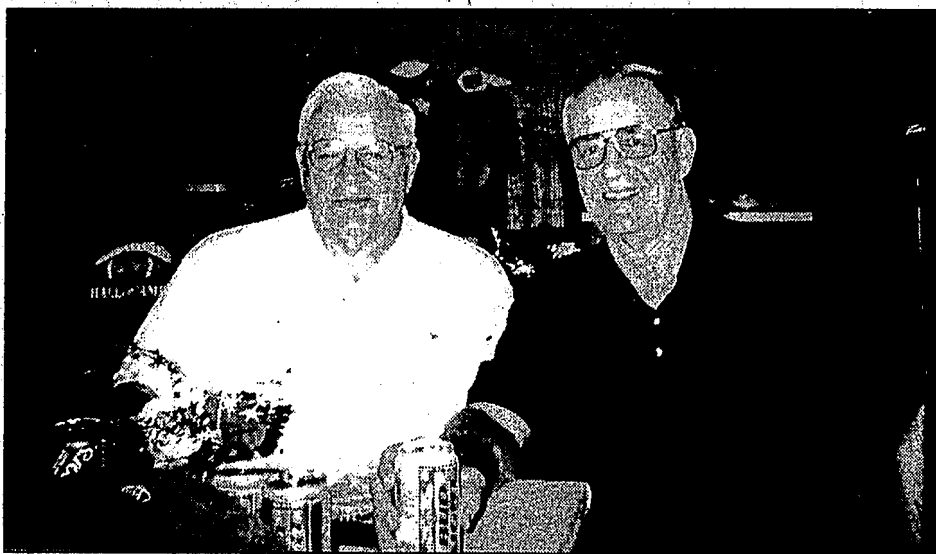

Independence Township resident Steve Szabo's love and knowledge of the game of football has landed him in the hall of fame.

The former member of the Illinois fighting Illini won't be making a trip to Canton, Ohio however. Instead, Szabo was inducted to the Flag and Touch Football Hall of Fame in September of last year.

Szabo, who also coached football and wrestling for a combined total of over 60 years in the Pontiac School district, was honored in the fall of 2000 for his efforts as a middle linebacker as a member of the Motor Mart Bandits from 1961-1968. He was named all-league in six of his seven years.

"The coaching experienced really helped me as a player," Szabo said. "There were things I saw as a coach that I could use to my advantage as a player. A lot of the time if I just watched a lineman's hand I could tell what type of the play the offense was going to run."

The touch/tackle league Szabo participated in during the 1960's has changed a lot from his playing days, he

"When I played we had to give our jerseys back at the end of the season. But now the league has changed a lot. It still holds state and national competition and everything has been upgraded. But we were the originators of the league," he said.

Szabo was playing in the league at the age of 40 and was competing against other players who were only in their 20's. Some of them he had coached in football and wrestling during his days in Pontiac.

"We just played and had fun with it and enjoyed it," he said. "It was funny lining up against guys I had used to coach."

However, Szabo's organized football days were not limited to his eight-year run in the touch football league. He also was a member of the Pontiac Red Arrows, a semipro full contact football team from 1962-1970. The Red Arrows played a schedule of around 10 games per season, but the salaries left a lot to be desired, Szabo said.

"We played for $20 a game and some bologna sandwiches," he said.

As a member of the Red Arrows, Szabo was a two-time league champion.

One game in particular however, stands out as a lasting memory in Szabo's mind.

"I lost 22 pounds in one game. It was 90 degrees one game when I played in the semipro league and I returned an interception 85 yards for a touchdown.

"The older I got, the better I was. I'm 69 years old, but nobody fools around with me still."

Steve Szabo — Fomer Big 10 football player who was recently inducted into the touch football hall of fame

It was the only touchdown I ever scored and I can remember being so excited on the return that I just kept running sideways. The return was for 85 yards, but I know I ran a lot more than that," he said.

In comparing his playing days between playing touch/tackle and his run with the Red Arrows, Szabo said he surprisingly suffered more injuries playing touch football more so than the other two.

"I took seven stitches in the mouth after one game of touch football," he said. "I think I was more banged up there then when I played in the full contact league."

"The older I got, the better I was," Szabo laughed. "I'm 69 years old, but nobody fools around with me still."

Szabo will serve as master of ceremonies at the next Flag and Touch Football Hall of Fame induction ceremonies Sept. 15 at Clarkston Eagles on Maybee Road.

ANNUITY OWNERS, READ THIS!

Many fixed annuity owners can lose 70% of the value of their annuity when it pays off! Will this happen to you?

It's true. Annuities and IRAs can be double-taxed assets (subject to income taxes PLUS estate taxes). After estate taxes and income taxes there can be as little as 30% of the value remaining. You can learn how to avoid the loss in the FREE educational booklet "Annuity Owner Mistakes." The booklet is free and shows how to avoid double taxation and get more benefits from your existing annuity value.

lost their first game of the season April 23, a rare 3-2 loss to Troy. That sets up a Clarkston vs. Kettering matchup with both teams only having one league loss.

"I would have liked to play Kettering before the break," Land said. "We're going to have to be at our best for them. But for some reason we go into games with Kettering the same way Orion comes into games against us. We have to have the mentality that we can go out there and beat them. We've got a solid softball team," Land said.

As important as today's game is for the league race, Land emphasized the overall importance of the season still rests in the playoffs.

"Kettering is in our district. We lost to them in the regional final last year. But by the time we meet in the playoffs I think we'll be a much better team. But then again, they probably will be too," Land said.

Liberty Golf and Banquet tees off in championship style

Course formerly known as Clarkston Creek, features new banquet, restaurant facilities and greener course

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Liberty Golf Course, formerly Clarkston Creek, isn't even finished yet, but the new banquet and golf center is already taking reservations — for 2002.

The new course and banquet center, which was scheduled to open for play April 13, features one new hole, and many updates to the inside.

Business partner Joe Locricchio discussed some of the biggest changes golfers, and non-golfers alike, will be able to enjoy when they visit Liberty Golf Course this spring.

Locricchio said the downstairs will feature a full bar, restaurant and locker rooms. Capacity for the downstairs restaurant will be 150 people.

"It's going to be a clubhouse atmosphere where golfers and non-golfers can come and enjoy themselves," he said.

George Henney, director, said the downstairs portion of the banquet center will offer American cuisine year round such as steak dinners and fish and chips. The restaurant will also offer breakfast seven days a week during golf season and off-season lunch and dinners.

Sit-down style dinner menu items vary from 12 ounce New York strip steak to fettuccine marinara with shrimp to broiled whitefish. Prices range from $17.95 for their chicken liberty dinner to $24.95 for an eight ounce filet mignon. All entrees include choice of fresh garden, Caesar or gourmet salad, vegetable, potato, rolls, butter, coffee, hot tea or milk. All prices are subject to a 6 percent sales tax and 18 service charge.

The upstairs banquet facility at Liberty Golf Course can cater for groups up to 250 and offers buffet and sit-down style dinners.

"We have a very experienced banquet staff," Henney said. "We're already taking reservations for 2002."

In addition to fine food and drink, Locricchio noted the casual atmosphere he hopes guests of the facility will enjoy.

"The upstairs restaurant is going to be very nice with tables overlooking the 1st and 10th tees," he said. "We're also going to have outdoor seating. Inside, we'll feature a big screen TV and other sets around the bar so customers can watch golf, or other games. We hope to pack them in here for the Wings playoffs this spring," he said.

When golfers tee off on the first hole, Locricchio said they should immediately notice a more lush, beautiful course than it was a year ago. The biggest reason for the change, he said, was the new irrigation system within the course.

"Everything is going to be much more green here than it was a year ago, from the fairways to the rough," he said. "I think people are going to see a much more beautiful course. We really tried to take advantage of the natural surroundings."

The course itself features one new hole, no. 16, a long par three which features the back tees 212 yards away from the pin. Holes 12 and 13 will be replaced next year, Locricchio said.

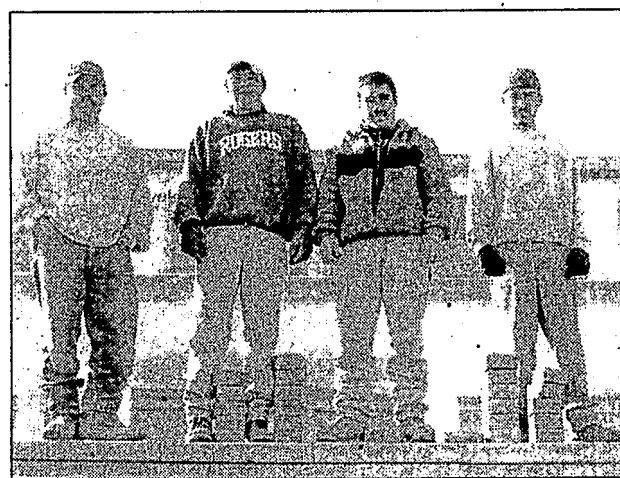

"I think the course this year will be more interesting than it was last year. I'm not sure if it will be any more difficult, but it will be a lot more enjoyable to play," he said.

In addition, Locricchio said cart paths from tee to green have been added this year.

Locricchio said the exterior construction work on the building will be an ongoing project, which he hopes will be completed by the end of May. On the interior, he said the outdoor patio was scheduled to be completed April 13 and he is hoping the restaurant, bar and banquet facilities will be completed by May 1.

Golf rates for 2001 range from $12 for nine holes on a weekday to $30 for 18 holes on a weekend holiday.

Liberty Golf and Banquet is located at 6060 Maybee Road in Clarkston. Call 248-625-4660 for more information.

Wings in five? I meant 2005

My Stanley Cup pick is officially out the window. Wings in five I said. I meant 2005. That's probably how long it will take Ken Holland to put together another cup-contending team.

I didn't stay up to watch the season come to an end April 23. I figured if Detroit won I'd watch game seven and if they lost why bother to stay up until the wee hours of the morning to see the season come to a close?

I woke up early on Tuesday morning, clicked on Sports Center and was welcomed with the 3-2 overtime loss. I wasn't surprised.

I was surprised to see Darren McCarty score such a pretty goal. Not since the 1998 finals have I seen McCarty put together that kind of highlight reel play. But I wasn't surprised the Wings bowed out early — not after the last few games. I didn't think they'd win this series heading into game six. I did think they'd win it heading into game one. But who didn't?

Sure, the Wings were without their Captain Steve Yzerman and without sharpshooter Brendan Shanahan. But for all intents and purposes they were without much more than those two. They were without Martin Lapointe, who went the entire series without a goal. McCarty, until game six was nearly invisible, as were Chris Draper and Sergei Federov after game two. Even Nick Lidstrom, a Norris Trophy candidate again this year had a subpar performance.

After a city council meeting April 23, I had a talk with Clarkston Mayor and Red Wings season ticket holder Sharron Catallo. She blamed much of the Wings problems on goalie Chris Osgood. I disagreed. I think Ozzie may have been the only reason the games were as close as they were.

One thing is for sure. This group of Red Wings we've all come to know and love since 1997 will be picked apart this summer. And there are no guarantees that Scotty Bowman will stand behind the bench next season either.

The other NHL playoff picks I made in our April 11 issue aren't looking as good as they once did.

I had San Jose upsetting St. Louis in six games — oops. I also had Ottawa taking out Toronto in six — double oops. Nothing could have been further from the truth as the Leafs turned plenty of heads by sweeping the East's no. 2 seed. However, my upset pick of Buffalo over Philly and calling Pittsburgh over Washington were both good calls. My pick of Colorado sweeping Vancouver was right on and I also called New Jersey and Dallas advancing, but I had the Devils winning in four and Dallas in five.

With the NHL talk out of the way, I can move to the NFL Draft. The Lions picked up Michigan's Jeff Backus, an offensive lineman with their first round pick and beefed up their lame excuse of an offensive line even more with their second round pick, Dominic Raiola, a center out of Nebraska. I wonder how long it will take those two to get into some heated discussion about who the "real" national champion was back in 1997. Now, if only they can keep these guys, hopefully they'll do a better job up front than Aaron Gibson and Stockar McDougle did last season.

Other picks from the Lions included Shaun Rogers, a defensive tackle from Texas in the second round, wide receiver Scotty Anderson from Grambling, Mike McMahon, a reportedly cocky quarterback from Rutgers and Jason Glenn, a linebacker from Texas A&M taken 173rd overall.

I heard two interviews April 22 on WDFN featuring recent Detroit draft choices. One was with Raiola, the other with McMahon.

Raiola is originally from Hawaii. He spent four years at Nebraska, a football powerhouse known for great running games and producing solid linemen. He seemed very happy to be drafted (who wouldn't?) and put forth the official cookie cutter interview with such phrases as, "I'm happy to be here (insert team who drafted me). I'm excited and can't wait to make a contribution to the team."

Further in the interview, Raiola was asked by the radio host who he rooted for growing up and what he knew about the Lions. His response featured the words consistent, winning and Lions all in the same sentence. Sorry Mr. Raiola, I realize you may be from Nebraska, and originally from Hawaii, but you don't know a thing about the Lions if you put them in the same sentence with the words consistent and winning.

McMahon's interview was pretty similar, and he seemed fairly aware that playing quarterback in Detroit is, well, no easy task. When asked if he knew how tough it is to play quarterback in the motor city, he responded with, "Well, I don't think playing quarterback in any NFL city is easy."

That may be the case Mr. McMahon, but this is a town that has had to stomach the following names in recent history: Andre Ware, Rodney Pete, Scott Mitchell, Erik Kramer, Eric Hipple, Chuck Long, Charlie Batch and Gary Danielson. Can you tell why we're starving for a bonafide superstar under center? I don't think McMahon will do much more than carry a clipboard this year, but if Batch doesn't play well and Harbaugh gets hurt McMahon may get an opportunity in the city that treats quarterbacks as tough as it does its goalies.
