Press for emergencies

Just one push gets you to the sheriff's department

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Since moving from Depot Street to Church Street, Clarkston Police Chief Paul Ormiston's job has not changed all that much, but area residents will notice one change at his new office.

Clarkston area residents will now be able to access the Oakland County Dispatch 24 hours a day/365 days a year with the touch of a button.

A new device, located on the front of Clarkston Police Department's new home, located at 3 East Church St., will allow area residents to contact the Oakland County Sheriff's Department for emergencies.

Ormiston said the new device has been used at least once.

However, the move has not affected the police force all that much, Ormiston said.

"Our day to day operation is basically the same," he said. "Office wise it's a little bit better."

Ormiston said he likes the new location.

"We're just up town. We're more accessible and more visible now," he said.

The police department's move to its new location is nearly complete, however Ormiston said his force has been working out of the new office for several weeks. He said only a little bit of work on the department's computers need be completed before the move is finished. In addition, Ormiston said work on the basement, which is supposed to be completed by the Department of Public Works has not been done.

Citizens continue to take extra safety precautions

Suspect jailed in area assaults

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

A suspect has been charged in a series of molestations at area trailer parks, but area residents are still taking extra precautions.

James Todd Cook, of White Lake Township, was arraigned June 18 in Rochester Hills district court on 14 different charges, stemming from four incidents of sexually assaulting young girls in northern Oakland County.

The charges range from first degree criminal sexual conduct and sexual delinquency, which are punishable by life in prison, to assault with intent to commit sexual penetration, home invasion, and second degree criminal sexual conduct, according to Deanna Kelley, assistant prosecuting attorney for Oakland County.

The last of the four incidents occurred in Springfield Township. According to Oakland County Sheriff's Department reports, the incident occurred the morning of June 13 at the Spring Grove mobile home park in Springfield Township.

Cook is suspected of assaulting a 14-year old girl after climbing through a window while she was sleeping. The officer, upon arrival, saw the window open with the screen out, and placed below the window. In addition, a lawn chair was directly below the window.

When interviewed by the officer, the victim said she had not been awakened by anything during that night. The victim's parents, who were also interviewed by the officer, said they did not hear anything that evening, and do not know where the chair outside had come from. They also said the screen was in place when they went to sleep.

The incident left several mobile home park residents, including those without any young children, saying they will be extra careful in protecting their loved ones and their homes.

James Todd Cook

"We don't have any kids — we only have grandkids," said resident Jerry Cain. "We're out here all the time when they're over. You learn to keep your eyes open."

Another resident without any young children said he would also be extra careful. "We don't have any young ones here, but we're now locking our storm windows at night," said Richard Vore. "As a rule, we'd normally leave them open."

Another resident, who asked not to be identified, said she usually takes extra care to make sure her child is safe. "I always lock my doors," she said. "I don't take any chances"

Park resident Kelley Raab said she keeps an extra eye out for her young son and teaches him to be extra careful.

"I keep an eye more on my son outside," she said. "I used to be able to sit inside and watch him play, but

The News in Brief

Public hearing for proposed school budget

Clarkston Community Schools will host a public hearing to consider the district's proposed 2001-2002 budget on June 25 at 6 p.m. at the school Administration Office, 6389 Clarkston Rd.

A copy of the budget, including the proposed property tax millage rate, is available for public inspection during normal business hours beginning Friday, June 22 at the Administration Office.

Edison trimming area trees soon

Detroit Edison line clearance crews will begin work in the area soon. Trees and tree limbs growing too close power lines will be removed to minimize the chance of downed wires and power outages.

Line clearance work is contracted to professional tree trimming companies. The tree service contractor will chip and remove small branches and debris. Larger wood will be cut to handling length and left for residents' use.

For more information call (800)477-4747 or visit the website, www.detroitedison.com

Correction

In last week's Clarkston Middle School honor roll, 8th grader Bradley Herron should have been listed as earning all As for the fifth marking period.

Shiawassee and Huron headwaters called globally significant

The Nature Conservancy, a resource protection group with the largest system of private nature sanctuaries in the world, has designated Oakland County's Shiawassee and Huron headwaters area a globally significant resource, according to a story in Oakland Focus, a planning and economic development newsletter for Oakland County.

The integrity of the river basins may be threatened by population growth in the six township area, which includes Springfield, Rose, Highland, White Lake, Milford as well as Milford Village, the article continues.

The conservancy is expected to open an office near Holly to offer scientific and organizational expertise to local groups, including township governments and developers.

The group will also help with fund-raising, property management agreements with developers, conservation easements and land-use planning in the area.

Annual pancake breakfast before July 4 parade

The annual July 4 pre-parade pancake breakfast is a go -- same place, same time.

Pancakes, sausage, orange juice and coffee will be served from 7 to 10 a.m. at the Clarkston Masonic Temple at the corner of Washington and Main streets.

Extension granted for repairs to Davisburg building

Davisburg residents Charles Moore and son Charles Jr. have been given approximately 1-1/2 months to get their property at 663 Broadway straightened out. The Springfield Township Board, at their June 14 meeting, granted the two men an extension until Aug. 1.

Previously, hearing officer John Steckling had given the two men until June 30 to make repairs. However, at the show cause hearing held at the township board meeting, everyone agreed an extension would be for the best. "We need another month; by that time, we should have the repairs completed," said Moore.

The township board saw it that way, as well. "I think the request for an additional 30 days is reasonable," said trustee Dennis Vallad.

According to a June 7 memo from Supervisor Collin Walls to the township board, Moore has received a permit for repair on the building, and has begun to repair the rubble foundation.

At a dangerous buildings hearing on Feb. 14, code enforcement officer Jack Donaldson testified that the stone foundation wall shows signs of beginning to fail along the west side near the rear of the building. He also said there are two vertical cracks in the wall, one of which extends the full height of the wall.

In addition, Donaldson said the building is open in the rear at the upper level, exposing the structure to the elements, and causing further deterioration.

In issuing his order, Steckling said the contractor in charge of performing the work must obtain a building permit to allow the township's building inspector to make the necessary corrections.

Moore said at the June 14 meeting the building inspector would be called in, but he has not been there yet.

Oui! Independence man's ancestors came to trap in the 1600s His roots go deep in Detroit history

BY MARALEE COOK

Clarkston News Editor

Jim Meloche's family history goes way back -- way, way back.

The Independence Township resident has been researching his family tree for 12 years and that tree has grown into a forest.

The group will celebrate their heritage at the height of another important summer event -- the City of Detroit's 300th birthday celebration.

Meloche has traced his ancestry back to an unnamed Meloche born around 1575 in Western France. His ancestors came to Detroit in 1729 from Montreal, Canada the typical route for French settlement of Detroit, said Meloche.

"Montreal and Quebec were stepping off points to coming west. Very few settlers came directly from France. Most went to Quebec and Montreal to seek their fortune."

Meloche said from Canada, the immigrants would travel to Fort Michilimackinac at St. Ignace in the Upper Peninsula and then to Detroit.

Francois Meloche, a fur trader, came to Montreal from France in 1696. His oldest son Pierre brought his new bride to Detroit in 1729.

"Over time, Pierre became a good friend of Chief Pontiac," said Meloche. "The chief used Pierre's farm to attack the English at Fort Detroit in 1763."

The Meloche farm was a ribbon farm (long and narrow) that bordered Parent Creek. Settlers constructed their houses close to the river and traveled by canoe. The last remaining property is now part of Elmwood Cemetery near Adair Street.

The British had to cross Parent Creek to get to Chief Pontiac's warriors and were massacred. Parent Creek was renamed Bloody Run following the massacre, Meloche said.

At the time, the French were opportunistic merchants who befriended the Native Americans to enhance their ability to Jim Meloche's ancestors emigrated from France to Canada to Detroit. His family resides in Independence Township.

trade, said Meloche.

When the United States was formed Americans made things tougher for the French, and in 1796 the French descendants began to migrate to Windsor.

"They didn't like Americans," said Meloche. "They called them Kentuckians -- long knives."

Meloche said his research prompted him to contact the City of Detroit to participate in Detroit300, the city's Tricentennial celebration.

Because of his research, Meloche knew that Detroit's first ancestors came from Canada. He also knew the importance of Detroit celebrating its history.

Meloche joined the Family Reunion Committee. The committee's goal is to get as many former residents of Detroit as possible to return for family reunions. So far 500 reunions are scheduled.

The committee is also trying to document all of the ethnic groups of the first families, which Meloche called "a huge project."

"My special assignment is to identify the city's original settlers from 1701 to 1755. Descendants fill out applications and will be recognized," he said. Meloche said his group documents and verifies the information. So far they've received over 1,000 submissions from all over the U.S. and Canada. There are from 150 to 200 names on the list of settlers in that time period, he said. The group is still receiving applications.

Meloche's family reunion will be among the group. It's planned for late August and he's expecting between 300-400 people. "I get four to five calls and e-mail messages a week," he said. He also publishes a newsletter for his relatives which goes to 2,500 people. His research will be published in a 900-page book for his large clan this summer.

An offshoot of Meloche's involvement in Detroit300 was the opportunity for him to portray a police chief at the turn of the century last New Year's Eve. The occasion was the opening of the Detroit Century Box by Detroit Mayor Dennis Archer.

On New Year's Eve in 1900 then Mayor William C. Maybury and the Common Council of Detroit sealed a small copper box containing historical papers. The box remained unopened in the vault of the City Treasurer.

Meloche was one of five turn-of-the-century re-enactors mirroring the five current city officials who attended the opening.

"There's little information about who was there at the sealing (in 1899) -- the mayor and some aldermen (now called council members). I doubt there was a police chief there. I can't even tell you who the police chief was in 1899. A police chief character was added to match (current Detroit Chief of Police) Benny Napoleon," said Meloche.

"It was a real thrill for someone like me who's interested in family and city history to be on stage at the opening," he said.

Meloche plans to attend as many of the festivities as possible. He said the bulk of the "endless list of events" will take place in July.

"The celebration of the 300th anniversary will be July 24 with the reenactment of Cadillac's flotilla landing in Detroit. A parade of tall ships will line both sides of the river and be available for tours," he said.

Meloche, who's been president of French and Rogers, Inc., an advertising and public relations firm since 1982, has been an area resident for over 25 years, but his ties to Detroit are strong. He attended schools in the city and graduated from University of Detroit.

"I began my career working for the Detroit City Plan Commission. I walked to Hudson's, or brown-bagged it at lunch, watching freighters go by on the Detroit River. I've been involved in the city all of my life," he said.

Some places where you can research your family tree

Your local library

The Burton Historical Collection of the Detroit Public Library. Meloche says this is one of three outstanding family history resources in the midwest. The other two are the Newberry Library in Chicago and the Allen County Library in Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

The Library of Michigan is a very complete facility, with many documents on hand, and many more on microfilm, microfiche and CD-ROM. Very knowledgeable and cooperative staff.

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (LDS) (Mormons) Family History Centers. These centers offer free access to billions of vital records collected by the Mormon Church over the years. Nearby centers are at Bloomfield Hills, Grand Blanc, Flint and Pontiac.

Web sites that are helpful:

www.familysearch.org Site of the Latter Day Saints, with access to data from Family History Centers. Also offers other public-domain resources online.

www.ancestry.com Commercial site for genealogy books, databases, newsletters, etc. Also offers searches and public-domain resources like the Social Security Death Index.

www.genealogy.com Site of a genealogical software developer, "Family Tree Maker." Offers online postings of family data and other useful information.

www.ellisland.org Site of the American Family Immigration History Center. Offers access to immigration data, through Ellis Island and other ports, too.

Springfield working on 'native plant' residential area

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Another native planting development will make its way to Springfield Township.

The Springfield Township Board has given the go-ahead for the development of Hidden Ridge on a conditional basis 6-1. Trustee Elaine Field-Smith voted against the plan.

A native planting development stresses the importance of having building sites landscaped with native plants.

Earlier this year, Hummingbird Ridge, located at Eaton Road off of Davisburg, became the first native-based planting development to be approved by the township.

The approval of the development, located on Neal Road, west of Ormond, in Davisburg, was subject to the following conditions:

■The master deed and bylaw language needs to be worked out.

■A holding tank be located for greater accessibility.

■In case of a conflict between the landscaping plan and the site plan, the site plan will be the primary document.

■A stub road will go to the adjacent property line.

■A legend be added for the landscape.

"There are a few things that need to be worked out," said Springfield Township attorney Greg Need. "I don't anticipate any problems with those

The township board commended developer Steven Riga on the plan. "Mr. Riga has made a major financial commitment to that landscape," said Supervisor Collin Walls.

According to Riga, there will be a total of 58 units in the development, totaling approximately 170 acres. He said of that amount, "a significant area will be opened and preserved."

Look up! Is it a plane?

Big Boy greeted Clarkston High students on their last day of school.

No, it's just Big Boy visiting Clarkston

The Big Boy statue from the Baldwin Road Big Boy Restaurant in Orion Township mysteriously paid a visit to the top of the student entrance to Clarkston High School early on June 14.

CHS Principal John Diliiegghio said security cameras show the statue being put up around 2 a.m. The students who did the prank were unrecognizable, but Diliiegghio said it's assumed they were seniors. Thursday was the last day of finals for the rest of the students.

Orion Big Boy Restaurant Manager Toni Lesage said her staff didn't notice the statue was missing until school officials called to see if he belonged to them.

Lesage said she will not pursue identifying the students who took him.

"He goes on little trips all the time. He was chained down, but they clipped the cord."

Planning Commission splits on Independence Pointe

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

After passionate concerns were voiced earlier this year, residents near the Independence Pointe plaza were quiet as new proposals were brought to the Independence Township Planning Commission June 14.

For planning officials, though, the situation brought an unusual occurrence. With the commission a member short, the board's vote split down the middle on a conceptual site amendment for the planned unit development on M-15, just south of I-75.

Because of this, the motion failed. Building Department Director Bev McElmeel is waiting to hear an opinion from the township attorney as to how to handle the matter.

Developer John Poponea of M-1575 Associates has proposed a 13,200 square foot second story addition to the existing TCF Bank (TCF is moving) for medical offices.

Previous plans included a request to rezone and pave 9,000 square feet of a neighboring residential backyard for additional parking.

This caused concerns throughout the Northview Drive neighborhood over property values, screening, traffic and more.

But after developers met with the residents on more than one occasion, an agreement seemed to resolve the brunt of these issues.

Amended plans eliminate the encroachment, said Ron Sherman of Smith and Sherman Architects, calling for additional landscaping rather than asphalt to back up to the Cameo Homes Subdivision.

Other details of the development remain as previously presented except that the parking under the building will be assigned parking only, he said.

Poponea is offering to pave 275 feet of Northview which has been in need of repairs. He also agreed to a deed restriction to ensure the property in question remains residential, and is looking into restricting expansion of the plaza for good. He also said if trees need to be removed during construction, they will be replaced.

An appraiser in attendance assured residents the expansion would not cause a depreciation of value in their homes. And a traffic study recently done indicated there will be no additional traffic on Northview after the new construction.

However, Planning Commission Chairman Steve Board, who has been against the development since it surfaced, is still unhappy with the changes. Though plans call for landscaping instead of parking, Board still has a problem with commercial backing up to residential. He also feels the traffic study was incomplete, having only been conducted on one day from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"I think this is a tremendous mistake," he said. "Yes we are in need of more medical facilities, but there are other commercial parcels in the township."

Planning member Cheryl Karrick is against the development as well and said the two-level parking proposed might cause a domino effect in the township.

Dan Travis agrees and feels it is an urban approach to getting additional square footage and more parking.

But Commissioner Jill Palulian said the medical offices are needed in the township and voted in favor, as did Richard Oppman and David Lohmeier.

"I'm encouraged by the residents and developers working together," Lohmeier said. "I wouldn't normally approve this if the residents still didn't want it."

MDOT forces Main Street closure

Clarkston area residents faced another road closure due to Main Street construction last week and every indication says it won't be the last.

Residents were forced to detour around downtown Clarkston June 16 as part of M-15 was closed due to watermain construction. The road was reopened June 17. When the road will be closed again is up in the air at this point, and likely will remain that way during the course of the downtown construction project, Michigan Department of Transportation resident engineer Jim

Our deepest apologies

Our Clarkston High School Special Graduation Section is one of our most popular special sections.

It's the kind of section only a hometown newspaper can offer the community. The section is also one of our most favorite to produce because it's such an exciting time.

And when we goof up as we did last week, by reprinting the wrong page, it's especially troubling.

We have printed the correct page on page 8B of this week's issue. We know it's not the same, but it's the best we can do.

Years from now most of you will find it funny, we promise.

Thanks for your understanding.

Walk your bikes -- don't park on Main St.

Since The Clarkston News offices are located at Washington and Main streets in downtown Clarkston, we're smack dab in the middle of the road construction.

We're getting a bird's-eye view of the intricacies of installing a water main, and it's very interesting.

So far the construction is going very smoothly and contractors are on schedule. We've heard no major complaints.

One of the positive outcomes of construction so far is a reduction in truck traffic downtown. Truckers must be doing what city officials hoped they would — getting on I-75 at Exit 93 at Dixie Highway and getting on M-15 at Exit 91 north of town. I hope that continues after the construction ends.

Construction workers are polite and friendly, and love posing for pictures.

I'm also impressed with how polite drivers are in this area. Although there are frequent back ups on West Washington at Main Street, drivers always let people into the line up coming out of the alley behind our building, or out of the News' parking lot.

Thanks to you all, it's appreciated.

There are some drivers who still don't understand that there is no parking on Main Street, however. Every now and then we notice a car parked across the street, throwing a wrench into the traffic flow.

We think temporary no parking signs should have been installed along the sidewalk. We urge the police department to install no traffic signs along the west side of the street when traffic shifts next month. The temptation to park in front of Rudy's may just be too great for some people.

We also hope kids will walk their bikes on the narrow wood planking which has replaced the sidewalks. It's difficult to navigate the tippy walk-ways and get in and out of buildings, especially for older people.

The increase in visibility of Clarkston police is appreciated, too. I learned first-hand that Clarkston was a speed trap years ago.

In 1994, my then 14-year-old daughter worked in the ski rental department at Pine Knob. Everyday I'd pick her up at Clarkston High School and take her to Pine Knob and return home. I'd make a return trip about 9:30 at night.

The route from my home was White Lake Road across Dixie, where it turns into Holcomb, to Washington, to Main Street, to Clarkston Road, to Sashabaw.

Without fail, a city police car was either waiting on Holcomb just north of Deer Lake Beach, or on Clarkston Road across from the Parke Lake wetlands. It seems to me an officer caught someone speeding almost every day.

Thirty years ago, I would have thought this was an outrage. Now that I have (finally) matured, I think it's great. Residents must really appreciate this, I thought to myself when I first noticed the regularity of the traffic stops. I would think it would make them feel very safe to see police patrols so frequently.

Teacher of the Year Update: Pine Knob Elementary School teacher Phyllis Ness, last year's Clarkston Foundation/Flannery Ford Teacher of the Year said she purchased the red Ford Mustang that Flannery leased to her last year.

Ness said her family needed another car and she fell in love with her Mustang. "I loved the car and appreciated it so much. I'm just amazed they (Flannery Ford) do that."

Ness added that Clarkston Middle School teacher Howard Andress, this year's Teacher of the Year, emailed a note to the teachers that his 1997 Cavalier is for sale. Flannery Ford gave Andress use of a shiny black Ford Explorer for a year.

This and that and BBQ recipes

A couple of notes on Hollywood . . . didn't Alec Baldwin say he'd move to France if Geo. W. Bush got elected president of the United States? To answer my own question, yes, he did.

Question Two: Why hasn't he moved?

Question Three: Why would anybody think it a good idea to go visit, up close and personal, a six-foot-10-inch Komodo Dragon, as actress Sharon Stone's hubby, Phil Bronstein, did recently? Seriously, what kind of moron wants to get inside a cage with a critter sporting razor sharp claws and teeth; who eats rats, pigs, goats, horses, young buffalo, people, cats -- basically it is at the top of its food chain and will eat whatever it wants.

Adult Komodo Dragons can sprint to a top speed of 15 miles per hour, grow to 10 feet long, weighing as much as 240 pounds. They can use their long tails to smack their prey senseless. Located on four Indonesian islands (including the isle of Komodo) they are the world's largest lizard.

That's what I, merely a weekly newsguy, ascertained in one 15-minute stint on the internet. So, Question Three is still relevant: Why would anybody want to visit a caged critter that, rightly so, believes it has no predators and would love to kick some human butt?

Without proper training, that would be like going into the Polar Bear Exhibit at the Detroit Zoo, or jumping in with the lions or tigers or gorillas . . . all those animals rule their surroundings. All are much stronger, much faster, have bigger teeth and would love nothing more than a moment alone with a lone man, not packing heat.

Bronstein is the executive editor for the second largest newspaper on the West Coast. I can only hope he does not use the same judgement he used in his trip to the zoo as he does on deciding what is "news."

I recently put out the word:
SEND ME YOUR BBQ RECIPES (or there will be hell to pay!). I have a few, and will surely take don rush

don't rush
me

more and publish them for other readers to drool over.

Here's what Sara (of the Sara and Matt Ault connection) sent:

"Don, heard your plea . . . and this came to mind. It is for BBQ ribs in the oven, but the sauce works well on the grill, too!"

Sara's Sauce (as it will now and forever be called) calls for:

- 1 cup Katsup (not green)
- 1/4 cup Worcestesshirererere sauce
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 1 cup's worth of Hydrogen 2 parts Oxygen
- 1 teaspoon celery seed.

Sara says to mix the stuff together, heat 'em till they boil.

She marinates three pounds of ribs (cut into pieces) with some of that Liquid Smoke seasoning (found in the grocery). She lets the ribs sit in the marinade for 24 hours. She smothers the ribs with Sara's Sauce and bakes them at 350 degrees for one hour. She says to baste every 15-20 minutes.

If using Sara's Sauce on the grill, "put it on the last 20 minutes or so of cooking."

Sara ends her note with, "A splash of beer would be okay too, provided you grill and drink responsibly."

Which leads me to Question Four: Is the "splash of beer" for me or the food? "Splashes" are okay for meat on the grill, but rarely do the trick for me, as I prefer chugs or gulps.

What is your secret sauce, dear reader? Does it taste great? Don't be a Scrooge, share the wealth as enquiring minds with grilling tendencies want to know. Jot them down, type them up and send them to me. You'll get your due and proper recognition, too (hey, that rhymes, as my three year old would say). E-mail me at the address below, or send them to: BBQ Recipes, PO Box 108, Oxford, MI 48371. Oh, and have a great day.

Comments, questions, suggestions, etcetera can be e-mailed to Don at: donrushmedon@aol.com

I'm telling you, folks, when you see a Porcupine Press newspaper, buy and read it. You might see such stories as this:

A married couple was in a terrible accident where the woman's face was severely burned. The doctor told the husband that they couldn't graft any skin from her body because she was too skinny. So the husband offered to donate some of his own skin.

However, the only skin on his body that the doctor felt was suitable would have to come from his buttocks.

The husband and wife agreed that they would tell no one about where the skin came from and requested that the doctor also honor their secret. After all, this was a very delicate matter.

After the surgery was completed, everyone was astounded at the woman's new beauty. She looked more beautiful than she ever had before. All her friends and relatives just went on and on about her youthful beauty.

One day, she was alone with her husband, and she was overcome with emotion at his sacrifice. She said, "Dear, I just want to thank you for everything you did for me. There is no way I could ever repay you."

"My darling," he replied, "think nothing of it. I get all the thanks I need every time I see your mother kiss you on the cheek."

All those non-outdoor days we had a few weeks ago gave me time to compare the cost of blowing my nose on Kleenex vs. toilet paper.

What? You've never wondered which is cheaper? If you were a depression-era person you'd wonder about the cost of everything and save wherever you could, and that includes tissue paper.

To be really fair in this comparison usage I used Kleenex brand products in both instances.

The cost of 95, 8.5 x 8.5 inch Kleenex tissues was $1.34. That's an 'on sale' price, naturally. This is 2-ply, as was the tp.

A roll of 4 x 4.5 inch toilet paper, 340 count, was 73 cents. Staying with a comparative sheet size I used four of these non-squares.

If my math is right, and I'm not so sure it is, that makes a cost of the larger tissue .0141 cents each, and the cost of the 4-counts, .0089 cents.

Thus, a roll with 42 nose blows, costs 61 cents less than the 95-blow count.

Obviously, it costs more to box and fold the counter-top tissue, than it does to perforate and roll the other.

My next cost-comparison will be between brief and boxer undershorts. Television's news-teaser-readers have nothing on me.

Adding parking spaces, repaving and water hookup to city hall all a go after June 12 meeting

Regrading on Depot means an upgrade for city

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston city hall and Depot Street will undergo changes sooner than originally anticipated.

City hall, located at 375 Depot Street, and Depot Street were two heavily discussed topics at the city council's last meeting, June 12.

The council unanimously resolved to have city hall hook up to the water supply of Independence Township as part of the ongoing water project. Depot Street will be repaved and regraded. In addition, the parking lot in front of city hall will also be repaved.

City engineer Gary Tressel said work on Depot could begin as early as June 25.

City councilman Scott Meyland said city hall was not supposed to hook up to the water supply of Independence Township until a later phase of the project. But comments made by city engineer Tressel at the June 12 meeting changed all that.

Tressel reported to the council that portions of the storm water sewer underneath Depot Street are deteriorating, thus weakening the road.

"It may have been six months or 10 years before we saw the full effects," Meyland said. "But this is a good time to have this work done. City hall was going to hook up (to the water supply of Independence Township) in a later phase anyway."

VIL construction will do the repair work on the storm sewer.

Meyland said the city is still under budget on phase one of the project, which cost $1.2 million. He said the additional work won't cost tax payers a penny.

"When we originally set up the budget for this project we thought in a worst case scenario," he said. "We planned to have more than enough and this addition won't put us over budget. We had some reserve funds for later phases and in a sense this is one of those later phases."

City council woman Anne Clifton agreed with

After Depot Road is repaved and regraded it will be less steep, according to city engineer Gary Tressel.

Meyland's view of the financial situation of the project. "If the budget committee says we can afford to do it, then we can't afford not to," she said.

Meyland and other members of the council, planned for problems with construction. One of those was dealing with old coal bins underneath the ground. But the council has heard workers have had no problems with the one coal bin on the west side of Main Street. There are two coal bins on the east side.

Michigan Department of Transportation resident engineer Jim Natschke said construction should begin on the east side in July.

"Everything on Depot will be well designed for appearance and function," Meyland said. "The construction people are already here so everything was already in place anyway." "We would have planned to do this in phase one originally, but we wanted to limit the construction to Main Street. But we just found out about those problems on Depot at the meeting," Meyland said.

As a result of the repaving and construction project, Tressel said parking lot spaces in front of city hall will increase by about 40 spaces. In addition, Depot Street will be less steep after it is regraded. All doors to area businesses which open up to Depot Street will still be usable, Tressel said.

City hall, located at 375 Depot Street, will be hooked up to the water supply of Independence Township sooner than anticipated. Parking spaces in the Depot Parking lot are reportedly increasing from 49 spaces to 87.

A Look Back

15 YEARS AGO (1986)

Pine Knob Road is again being used to relieve the traffic flow from the Pine Knob Music Theatre, said Steve Finkel, Pine Knob general manager. He decided to reopen the road after the June 15 ZZ Top concert, despite an earlier agreement with Independence Township to use only Sashabaw Road. At 12:45, several thousand cars remained in the parking lot, so the gate to Pine Knob Road was open with the concurrence of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

The proposed $22.4 million budget for the 1986-87 school year was approved by the Clarkston board of education. The board's 5-0 vote followed an expression of concern by district business manager William Jackson. For the past three years, the district has spent more money than it has received for K-12 education, he said, resulting in the erosion of surplus funds from $1.9 million to a projected $1 million in 1987.

It's three meetings down and at least two to go before the construction of the Clarkston Road condominiums can begin. After three meetings, developer Frank Walker and his partner, William Hahn, received Independence Township Board approval for rezoning of the 8.5-acre site to single family from rural residential.

25 YEARS AGO (1976)

The Clarkston varsity baseball team made a triumphant run around the field after receiving its state championship baseball trophy. The Wolves beat Owosso 3-0 in the semifinal match and went on to win the championship with a 2-1 victory over Hazel Park. The victories left Coach Paul Tungate's league champions with a 24-7 record, breaking the old record of 20 victories by the 1975 club.

Over four fifths of property in the Pine Knob complex zoned for multiple dwellings may be used for a single family subdivision. A tentative preliminary plat for a 165-acre subdivision at Pine Knob was presented to the Independence Township Planning Commission by Indusco Corp. The plat was approved, on condition that changes recommended by the township engineers be included in the plat.

John Jones of Clarkston was named Clarkston Area Jaycee of the Year in ceremonies honoring club members recently. Jim Randall was named outstanding board member; Charlie Robinson won the internal award; Bob Karp and Robinson were named sparks of the year; and Randall won the external award. The group presented its ways and means award to Ron Crites and Mike Luchenbach.

50 YEARS AGO (1951)

The District Assembly of the 222nd District of Rotary International was held in the Independence Township Community Center in Clarkston on June 18. The Rotary Club of Clarkston served as the host club. In attendance, besides several Rotary dignitaries, were the incoming presidents and secretaries from the 38 clubs in the district. In this Rotary district there are 11 clubs from Canada.

Last week, an extra large crowd attended the graduation exercises at Clarkston High School. Adele Thomas and William Ladd presided at the pianos for the processional and recessional. The invocation and benediction were given by the Reverend George Halk, pastor of the Clarkston Baptist Church. The salutatorian, Sylvia Petersen and the valedictorian, Beverly Covert, gave very impressive talks.

Specials at Terry's Market in Clarkston included the following: skinless Viennas, 49 cents/lb.; California oranges, large size, 49 cents/dozen; frozen lemonade, Coastal, two for 27 cents; butter, 69 cents/lb.; sliced pineapple, large can, 27 cents; Old South frozen orange juice, three for 67 cents; long green cucumbers, three for 20 cents; radishes, three bunches for 19 cents; Crisco, three-pound can for 99 cents.

He who is in love with himself has at least this advantage—he won't encounter many rivals.

George William 'Bill' DeQuis

George William 'Bill' DeQuis of Clarkston died June 6, 2001 at the age of 75. He was the father of Kurt W. (Shelly) of Clarkston, Daniel C. of Clarkston and Kristan J. of Burlington, N.J. He was the grandfather of Jayson and Tracy and the great-grandfather of Brendan, Tyler and Jaren. He was the brother of James, Thomas, Mary, Pauline and Helen.

Mr. DeQuis retired as principal from the Avondale school system and was a veteran of WWII having served in the U.S. Army and receiving two bronze stars.

MDOT closes Main St.

Natschke said Monday.

"Unfortunately, we usually don't know when the road will close until Thursday (after deadline) or so. So much of it depends on the weather. Things change at the last minute all the time. I can't say when the next road closure will be, but we'll probably have a few more," Natschke said.

During the road closure, MDOT completed work under the creek just north of The Country Store, located at 21 North Main St. Natschke said workers continued work on the watermain which travels down Main Street from Paramus to the north end of town. However, to make a continued line workers had to dig 20 feet under the ground to install a casing which holds the water main.

"We had to go somewhere between six and ten feet underneath the water bed," Natschke said. "But everything worked out well and the work was a complete success. It took the whole day. The guys were out there working on it from 7 a.m. until around 6 p.m.," Natschke said.

Natschke said MDOT received a permit from the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) to go under the stream because it was such a short distance. Work on the east side of Main Street will hopefully begin by mid to late July, Natschke said.

Lose Weight Safely with Hypnosis

By: Sandra Marlowe

Tania Olsson was desperate. For months her diet had consisted of chips, ice cream and soda pop. One day she sat on her sofa, watching a family video when the stark reality hit her; she was more than 70 lbs. overweight.

Lose Weight Without Dieting

Dieters who've tried everything are finally turning to the power of the mind to lose weight.

"I used food as comfort," remembers the 29-year-old customer service representative and single mom. "My weight made me crazy. I was so embarrassed, I wouldn't even eat in public."

For many of us, weight loss feels like a relentless struggle. Even with the most sincere commitment to dieting, we seem to quickly fall into old eating habits.

There are so many methods for losing weight and a variety of contradictory diet plans. High protein, carbohydrate, low-fat, no-fat, grapefruit...the list goes on. The major drawback to these methods is that none of them teach you to change the habits that caused you to put on the weight in the first place. But now local residents have another alternative that can end their battle with weight for good — hypnosis.

No one is more amazed by the power of hypnosis than Carol Hooper. Three years ago, Hooper was so overweight that she required two naps just to get through her day. Carrying around an extra 95 pounds is a lot of work," Hooper said. "I was heavy, miserable and uncomfortable."

Hooper once lost weight with medication. "I gained it all back plus 70 pounds," she laments. That's when she decided to try Positive Changes Hypnosis. Since starting her hypnosis program in April of 1997, Hooper shed 95 lbs. in less than a year. "Hypnosis made weight loss easy and automatic, like an involuntary response," says Hooper. She has easily maintained her trim figure for over three years.

Others have had similar results when they turned to hypnosis for weight loss. Stacey Harrington, a stay-at-home mom and part-time bookkeeper says, "With hypnosis I feel one hundred percent in control." Harrington took off 49 pounds in just five months.

If you've always wondered what hypnosis might help you do for yourself, Positive Changes' solid reputation should banish any qualms (a binder in the reception area displays hundreds of signed testimonials).

And whatever happened to Tania Olsson, the 70 pounds overweight single Mom? She finally made an appointment with Positive Changes Hypnosis, and is now happy to report that she shed 72 lbs. and has maintained her ideal weight for four years. "I no longer worry about eating in public. When eyes are on me, I know they're thinking,

"Hey, she's got it together."

Tree planted at Shepherd's Hollow honors family

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Next time golfers at Shepherd's Hollow Golf Course hit the 13th hole, they will encounter a piece of area history.

A tree was planted at the 266-yard mark of the 13th hole at the golf course June 10 to mark the Lowrie family's historic homestead at what is now the golf course.

According to Tom Lowrie, owner of Lowrie's Landscaping in Clarkston, about 24 members of his family attended the ceremony. A crimson maple tree was transplanted from his yard to the hole, and a plaque at the tree will mark the spot where the homestead is located.

Lowrie said the ages of his family members ranged from 2-82, with the furthest coming from Washington, D.C.

The land was first owned by John Lowrie in the 1850's. He and his wife Ann, had 11 children. James was the seventh, born May 21, 1840 in Clarkston. He and his wife, Mary Knox Lowrie, were married in November 1865. Homer, born in 1872, was one of their sons.

Homer inherited the farm when James died in 1925, and sold the property to the Jesuits in 1956. The Jesuits then turned the property into Columbiere

Center, a retreat and seminar facility.

Shepherd's Hollow, which opened in 2000, leases the property from Columbiere.

Lowrie said his family has a long and storied history in Clarkston, and he wanted to plant the tree as a tribute to his family.

"My roots have been in this area," he said. "I had high hopes to do it last year, when my father (Richard Easton Lowrie) was still alive. It's something I've always wanted to do. If people don't know where they come from, how will they know where they're going?"

Lowrie said it was a great experience to have so many family members come together for the ceremony.

"It was pretty emotional," he said. "It was nice to have a common bond for something positive. A couple of my aunts couldn't make it, because they weren't well enough. It meant a lot. We don't see enough of each other. It's just like old times. I'm very fortunate with that."

A crimson maple tree was planted at the 13th hole of Shepherd's Hollow Golf Course to commemorate the homestead. A plaque marks the location of the family homestead.

IMPORTANT EXCHANGES

Whenever a motorist is involved in an accident, he or she should be sure to exchange all pertinent information with the other driver. This means getting the full name, address, phone numbers, birth date, car description, and all insurance information pertaining to the other driver. Aside from scrutinizing this information carefully, witnesses should be asked to give their accounts of the accident. This thorough approach negates any possibility that the other driver might engage in the unscrupulous ploy of assessing the damage and saying that it is not worth worrying about. Those who fall for this line may later find that the accident was reported to the police and that the other driver claimed that damage was done to his or her car for which he or she is not at fault.

At First Baptist Church of Davisburg...

You can come as you are

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Extending the invitation to the community and surrounding areas, First Baptist Church of Davisburg pastor, Marc Burnett Sr., said, "The church doors are open and we accept you as Christ accepts us."

Burnett, associate pastor with the church since 1999, was named senior pastor after members voted unanimously for him in March. Burnett replaces Pastor Dale Peterson who resigned to pursue a ministry in singing evangelism.

The doors Burnett speaks of are open specifically, he said, "to those who are lost and without hope; and Christians who have been beaten up in the name of God by churches who have abused namely because of legalism."

And this pastor said he knows what it's like to be beaten up like that. Growing up in the church, Burnett was wounded by a very legalistic one "where they feel grace is a one-time thing when you're saved, and your faith is only performance-based there on out." Burnett said he slid into sin.

"I know what it is to be consumed by sin. There's the old slogan: sex, drugs and rock and roll. I couldn't get enough of the world. But what after that?" Burnett asked. He knew what he was doing wasn't right, but he also knew Christians shouldn't be mean and hypocritical. He struggled, never truly having peace in his heart.

"I realized there was a hole in my heart," said Burnett, 40. Until he met some "grace-minded" people who led him to a church "where they lived out what the Bible says."

"The more I yielded to the Lord, the more I knew this is what I wanted to do," said Burnett, of his pastoral calling.

"Grace is not a license to sin it's freedom from it." Now, the Baptist Bible College graduate said, "I have peace in my heart knowing that I'm serving God and living His Word in a way that honors Him."

"I'm not a cookie-cutter pastor," said Burnett, who has also pastored in Texas and Missouri. "God doesn't want all clones."

Holding to that belief, Burnett searched for a church where he could be authentic, which led him to Davisburg.

Though officially it is an independent baptist church, its pastor prefers to call it a progressive church where the members are "Biblicists, in which all our faith and practice is based on the Word. We're conservative in theology, progressive in methodology."

That means the church isn't stuck in a time warp, Burnett said. "Things change, but the Word doesn't."

So at Davisburg, which averages a 150-person congregation, "you can expect a heavy dose of the Word," but a contemporary service that includes a live band. Burnett even plays the electric guitar in it.

Heard will be preaching that's expository, Burnett said. "If I start in 1 Peter chapter 1, then I go through the last chapter last verse and cover every subject in the book. It's a mixture of teaching and preaching."

Burnett said he tells others what the Bible says, but wants to challenge people to look in the Word and "see it for yourself." At the pulpit, he prefers to preach from the New International Version (NIV) of the Bible, known for its easy-to-understand language. "The greatest gift you could receive is Jesus Christ as your Savior. The second greatest gift is a Bible in your own language," said Burnett of a Bible free of "thee's" and "thou's."

He welcomes visitors to "come as you are." The 50-year-old church has Sunday school classes for nursery-age through adults.

"We want to reach the entire family," said Burnett, who with wife, Angell, has four children: Reta, Savannah, Larry and Winton.

First Baptist Church is located at 12881 Andersonville Rd. in Davisburg. Services are: Sunday school at 9:45 a.m.; Sunday morning worship service at 11 a.m.; Sunday evening worship service at 6 p.m.; AWANA on Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m., and a prayer group Wednesday at 7 p.m. Call (248)634-9225.

Parks and Rec makes improvements for Independence Twp.

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Independence Township Parks and Recreation has a busy summer planned.

At the June 5 Township Board meeting, Parks and Recreation Director Mike Turk received the go-ahead for staff to begin construction on restrooms to the existing concession stand at the softball fields at Clintonwood Park.

Three units of porta-johns, each costing $70 per month to rent, are currently used as well as a handicap accessible unit for $130 per-month. Per year, the department spends around $2,000.

"In my opinion, this is money that is not being spent wisely," Turk said. "We can recover this money in approximately ten years or less if we build additional restrooms to our concession stand."

Turk feels because of the many visitors to the softball fields there is a definite need for restroom facilities in this area of the park. He said senior softball players use the fields three days a week and bring in 500 players and spectators a week. Junior baseball players use the fields five days a week with nearly 750 players and spectators a week, and adult softball players use the fields six days per week and bring in 2,500 players and spectators. Also at Clintonwood, a Day Camp is hosted and the July 4 Festival of Fun which has between 15,000 to 20,000 people entering the park that day.

Restrooms at the Day Camp building are very small for the number of people served in that area, Turk said. "There are only two women's stalls and one men's stall in the restrooms which is far less than the standard for the number of people we have use them."

The cost for the project is planned to be kept to a minimum, said Turk, at $25,000 or less. Monies will be taken from the fund balance of the capital projects fund.

Parks and Recreation staff will do most of the work, with only sub-contracted work needed for concrete and plumbing. Township employee Dave Belcher will act as general contractor.

Turk estimates having the project done by the July 4 Festival of Fun.

Turk also received approval to put in a safety path along Clarkston Road from Lakeview to North Eston Road.

Turk said bids were sent out to six companies and three were returned from ABC Paving Company, Kenway Construction Company, and Pro-Line Asphalt Paving Company.

Hubbell, Roth and Clark, Inc., consultants for the township, reviewed the bids that ranged from $109,490 to $231,162.

Turk recommended the township officials go with the low bid from Pro-Line, out of Washington, Mich., who are currently working in the township on the Curtis Lane culvert replacement project.

Enjoy vintage blues at first Friday Concert in the Park

The free Friday night Concerts in the Park sponsored by the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce begin this Friday, June 22 with the performance of The Gray Hounds playing vintage blues.

The four-piece group consists of drums, bass, harmonica, guitar/mandolin and vocals, and have played at many establishments throughout the area.

The concerts run from 7 to 9 p.m. There will also be concession stands run by Order of the Eastern Star and Girl Scout Troop #509.

On June 29, the Taylor Brothers, identical twins, will play country music.

The Chamber has also released the Taste of Clarkston Cookbooks, with over 600 recipes from more than 160 contributors.

Residents who pre-ordered cookbooks may stop by the Chamber to pick their books up. Additional copies of the cookbook are available for $15 each. They will be on sale at the Concerts in the Park.

Sales will help support community programs and projects like Concerts in the Park, July 4th Fireworks and Taste of Clarkston, among others.

The Chamber offices are located at 5856 Main St. Call 625-8055 for more information.

Teaching is all in the family

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

In the case of three Pine Knob Elementary Educators, teaching is a family affair.

Elizabeth Gifford, a teacher at Pine Knob Elementary, has passed her profession on to son Matthew, a reading support aide at the school. Likewise, Donna Rudolph, a special education paraprofessional, has influenced her daughter Kristine Lemarbe, a substitute teacher in the district, and Ruth Powers, a 31-year teaching veteran, has passed her knowledge to son Matt, a student teacher in Flint.

All three parents and their children talked about how they have influenced one another.

In the case of Matthew Gifford, it was a matter of having passion for his work.

"I was going to Michigan State University, in business," he said. "I had an internship with DaimlerChrysler, in financial control, during the summer of 1999. I always liked kids. I worked with kids in SCAMP in high school and my last year of middle school. Business wasn't fulfilling; it wasn't any fun. I transferred to Oakland University in the summer of 2000 (to enter their education program). I love coming to work. I don't think too many people can say that."

He said he learned a lot by watching his mother in action, "watching her, and how she impacted their lives."

Elizabeth Gifford stressed to her son the importance of having enthusiasm for what you do.

"When he was trying to decide his direction, I reminded him that you have to have a passion for whatever you do," she said. "If you have that passion, you'll be successful."

In the case of Kristine Lemarbe, her role as a substitute teacher is a step on the road to another line of work.

"I have my master's in social work," she said. "I want to be a school social worker. I decided while searching for a school social worker job, to become a substitute teacher. I can continue working with kids and in school. I like working with elementary kids."

She said her mom is a big factor in her career decision.

"Just seeing her work with special education students, that led me to want to get into social work," she said.

Rudolph said her daughter's interest in social work is an extension of her personality.

"Kristine was always one of those kids that was going to save the world," she said. "She's always been interested in children, even as a child. Seeing her with an interest in trying to help out underprivileged children, that led me to ask her about social work, and then she took it from there."

Outgoing third grade teacher Ruth Powers, who has spent 31 years at PKE, has passed the baton to son Matt. "I've always shared a passion for sharing my knowledge with others, being with kids," he said.

He said his mother has taught him about discipline, orderliness, organization, and reliability.

Ruth Powers said her son made a wise career choice.

"I always felt that he had a good way with children," she said. "He's got a lot of patience, and you need that today."

Assault suspect jailed; area residents say they continue to take extra safety precautions

now I stay outside. I've talked to my son about watching for people, educating him a bit more."

The Sheriff's Department also issued reports for the other three incidents in which Cook is charged, which involved the assault of three female children, ages 5, 8, and 8.

On June 12, at approximately 4:30 a.m., in the Clarkston Lakes Mobile Home Park in Brandon Township, an 8-year-old child was attacked.

The suspect entered the trailer through an unlocked bedroom window, and, once inside, molested the child. The suspect reportedly heard one of the adults in the home walking toward the victim's room, and he fled through the same window that he entered.

A canine unit was called to the scene and tracked the scent to a location where a vehicle may have been parked. During the course of the track, the dog went by several other trailers where sleeping children could be seen through the windows.

At 5:45 a.m. June 9, the suspect removed the bedroom screen and entered through an open window of a residence in the Stratford Village Mobile Home Park in Commerce Township. Upon entry, the suspect assaulted a 5-year-old female. When the girl woke up, she screamed and the suspect fled out the window.

A tracking dog followed the suspect's scent down to Wixom Road, approximately 1/4 mile before losing it. The victim was treated and released from Huron Valley Hospital that same morning.

At approximately 6 a.m. that day, a neighbor directly behind the victim's residence was awakened by an unknown male voice outside his residence that said hello to another unknown person. Sheriff's Department officials are attempting to locate the person speaking who might not have been aware that he was talking with the suspect.

On June 7 at approximately 3:30 a.m., an 8-year-old girl was assaulted inside her residence in the Highland Greens Mobile Home Park in Highland Township. The suspect entered the residence through an unlocked bedroom window and began touching the victim. She awoke and the suspect fled to a vacant lot, where it is believed he had a vehicle waiting.

Cook is scheduled to appear in 52-2 District Court at 11 a.m. June 28 in connection with the Brandon Township incident, and is also scheduled to appear June 25 in Novi district court in connection with the other three incidents.

Cook was also arraigned June 14 in Waterford Township for two incidents of indecent exposure in Waterford earlier this year.

Cook was charged with one count of home invasion and two counts of sexual delinquency in 51st District Court. The sexual delinquency charges are punishable by up to life in prison, according to James Halushka of the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office.

According to Halushka, the two incidents in Waterford for which Cook was charged occurred within four days of each other.

The first incident, on May 31, occurred when Cook climbed into the bedroom of a Waterford Township girl. "He had been stalking the victim," Halushka said. "On May 31, he climbed into the bedroom of a six-year old girl and exposed himself. She ran to her parents."

The next incident occurred at approximately 3:30 a.m. June 3, when Cook climbed into a bedroom where two 11-year-olds were sleeping. According to Halushka, one of the girls then screamed to her father that there was a man in her bedroom.

Enchanted Castle...

A 'halfway kingdom for homeless ferrets'

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

You have to have a keen eye when you stop for a visit at Carolyn Distel's Clarkston home. If not, you may find your car keys stolen, a shoe missing, or a furry critter crawling up your pant leg.

You see, Distel owns and operates Enchanted Castle, a ferret care home, out of her finished basement.

And, let's say, the little guys are a bit curious.

"They're terribly strong," she said, even though a female ferret typically weighs only one to two pounds and a male, two to five pounds.

So what if "they'll sass you, are nosy, pesky, sometimes vain, and their Latin name means 'little fur thief.'"

According to Distel, "ferrets are an addiction. They're like potato chips you can't just have one." In fact, the addiction can be so strong, she admitted, she knows others with 25 ferrets just for pets.

Distel only claims three as her own—Misha, Taurus and Micah—but currently cares for 25 through Enchanted Castle.

These ferrets come to Distel unwanted, lost and found, or homeless after a breeder closes down business.

One ferret was found in an air conditioner vent of a vacant apartment, another in a dumpster.

"Micah was one of my first rescues," Distel said, "He was abused."

Seven year old Misha, an albino, who Distel calls the "sweetest thing," was another rescue.

She was the pet of an 18 year old boy who ended up losing interest in the animal and rarely took care of things like cleaning her cage. Misha's body became so irritated by the filth she became sick, Distel said.

In Peaches' case, she was turned loose from an owner in a parking lot.

However, Distel said, ferrets can't survive in the wild. They risk heat stroke if exposed to temperatures over 80 degrees and "they can't fend for themselves. Even though they are carnivorous, you can give them a piece of meat and they won't know what it is," she said.

But in the comfort and safety of Enchanted Castle, ferrets have the luxury of roomy cages, cozy hammocks, play time, and good food. (Distel swears by Iams kitten food for their high protein, high fat diet; and Ferretone, a skin and coat supplement.)

Over 100 ferrets have graced the cages of Distel's care home since it all began in 1993.

Only a year earlier, Distel knew nothing about ferrets. Today she could tell you anything you could ever want to know—that the first recorded ferret was in Egypt, that they're the third most popular pet in the U.S., and that they're related to the mink and muskrat family but thought to be a hybrid of a variety of animals.

"I could talk for hours on ferrets," she said, also noting that ferrets are real popular in Australia and New Zealand, are extremely intelligent, average a life span of five to eight years, and come in 36 different colors and patterns like cinnamon, light chocolate, and sable.

Not so long ago, though, she had never even seen a ferret. Her nephew owned pet ferrets which had a litter and Distel, so intrigued, had to check them out for herself. Becoming attached, she took one home.

The next thing she knew she was on state capitol steps fighting for legalization of the domestic ferret in Michigan. Distel said before legislation was passed in 1994, destroying ferrets was a major problem, especially through DNR and Animal Control.

Now, Distel is vice president of the Great Lakes Ferret Association, educating the public about ferrets and ferret ownership.

After the legalization, business at Enchanted Castle escalated, she said. Mainly, business has spread from word of mouth through area vets and pet stores, ads over the internet, and ads in Ferret Magazine.

With only six other ferret care homes in Michigan, the trend seems to be dying, Distel said. "It's very expensive, one year I put up $4,000 of my own money for vet bills."

It isn't easy, either. Out of the 25 ferrets Distel is caring for now, only two are adoptable since, she said, one is a biter, and the others are either old or ill.

Healthy ferrets, when available at Enchanted Castle are $65 for one and $100 for a pair. Pet stores typically charge over $100 for one, Distel said.

Adopting a pair is best because ferrets are typically very sensitive and need companionship, she said.

And for their owners, ferrets are "good quality company. You develop

The SS Clarkston High School sails to the Caribbean

The Clarkston Christian Association was transformed into the cruise ship, 'Cruisin' the Carribbean' June 6 by a dedicated crew of parents and students.

Clarkston High School students, attending their Post Graduation Party, were greeted by palm trees, a volcano, an octopus, native masks, a waterfall and a night to remember, thanks to hard work and donations from the community.

The students were hypnotized, played a giant version of the game Operation, became Sumo wrestlers, took a turn in the boxing ring, played pool, enjoyed music, good food and other fun activities, and took home some special gifts.

Members of the community who donated to the party, as well as others, were able to view the facility from four to six p.m., as hard-working volunteers were finishing up their tasks.

Tim McDonald, whose daughter Erin, will graduate next year, joked, "I think my daughter should appreciate all the work going into the party next year." He and his wife, Nine, were helping out senior parents, who were on their way home to get ready for graduation.

Pine Knob Elementary School teacher Phyllis Ness started her volunteer shift about 5 p.m. She said her daughter, Maggie will graduate next year.

Noreen Manuel, who co-chaired the decorating committee with Sue McEvoy, said, "We had the most fantastic group of people to work with. They did everything we asked. It wouldn't have gotten done without such a nice group of people."

CHS Principal John Diliiegghio said the Post-Graduation Party went very well. "It's a compliment to the parents, because they moved the event to CCS, a very nice facility. The kids were able to move around, and they had more activities."

The schools are provided with a list of students who've purchased tickets for the party, and administrators call the homes of each student who does not show up. Only four students who purchased tickets did not show, because they were sick, said Diliiegghio.

Post-Grad Party Co-Chair Kathi Valeri Carroll said the students were surveyed about the event and the committee is thrilled with the results.

"About 100 kids responded, and it was unanimous that the gift, a CHS blanket, was a big hit. They also liked the CCA. It was big, spacious Rohan and Manel and Saparamadu put the finishing touches on the entrance to the S.S. Clarkston High School a.k.a. the Clarkston Christian Association June 6. Their son, Shane, graduated in 2000, and their younger son, Shawn, will graduate in 2003. The couple was also part of the decorating committee last year.

Kathi Valeri Carroll, left, and Marti Bolten co-chaired the event. They'll be back to help out in 2003. Reading the nice comments in the student surveys made the hard work worth it, said Carroll.

One wall was covered with baby photos of the seniors inside life rings.

Sharon Miller, a math aid at North Sashabaw Elementary School, and outgoing Clarkston school board secretary Rick Crigger try out the booths decorated with portholes. "We've been on a few cruises, said Crigger, and they did an excellent job. Miller's son Kevin graduated this year. Crigger said he was visiting the facility as a parent and a school board member. His son, Matt, graduated in 1999, and his daughter, Erin will graduate in 2002. "We've been on a few cruises, said Crigger, and they did an excellent job.

A tired Noreen Manuel, who co-chaired the decorating committee with Sue McEvoy, shows off some of the palm tree decorations Wednesday afternoon. She then rushed home to get ready to watch her son, Trevor, at graduation ceremonies at DTE Energy Theatre.

Clarkston Christian Association was transformed into a cruise ship June 6.

Albee and math add up to success

Clarkston Elementary fifth grader takes high honors in Math Olympiad program

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston Elementary fifth grader Josh Albee can solve some pretty complicated math problems for his age. But the reason he likes math so much is pretty simple.

"I can finish it fast and I don't have to bring it home," he said.

Albee was rewarded for his work in math when he competed in the Math Olympiad program June 6. The competition was a series of tests, each taken at Clarkston Elementary, from November to March. Albee scored a 24 out of 25 on the test, giving him the highest score in the district, as well as a trophy. A total of 80 Clarkston students participated in the competition and 135,000 students worldwide.

"Math has always been my favorite subject," he said. "Last year I got a 24 out of 25 and won a gold pin."

Sue Banworth, one of Albee's math teachers, is very proud of Albee.

Banworth teaches Albee, and 14 other Clarkston students in an advanced math class where students work on more challenging problems.

"The work that Josh and the other kids do is meant for fourth and fifth graders, but it's really made to challenge them," Banworth said.

Albee works with Banworth for about the equivalent of one school day per week to help him enrich his math skills.

"The class is a lot harder, but I like the class a lot because we don't do the same thing every day," Albee said. "Plus, I get to know some of the other kids (in the school) because they have different teachers than I have."

Albee also works with Dr. Karen Yakmalian who teaches regular fifth grade math. Together, Dr. Yakmalian and Banworth have given Albee a good math background.

"Dr. Yakmalian gives kind of what you could call foundation math skills. And then Josh works with me and things a little more advanced," Banworth said.

Some of the more challenging fifth grade work Banworth is referring to includes pre-algebra and story such a relationship with them you become a fanatic," she said.

Distel added, "I was a dog person, but I'd take a ferret over a dog any day."

and there was lots to do. The kids appreciated everything, including the decorations," said Carroll. She added many of the students added thank yous for the party.

Carroll said she was very pleased with the production, and the number of students who attended. "There were 474 students in the class and we sold well over 400 tickets. We met our financial goal, even though donations from the community were down," she said. Because donations were down, the committee added fundraisers and increased ticket prices.

Over 100 volunteers served on 14 committees, and there was also a secretary, said Carroll. "It definitely was a team effort. The chair (persons) worked well together."

Carroll, her co-chair Marti Bolten, and fundraiser chair Henry Woloson have students who will graduate in 2003, and they will be back to serve for that Post Grad Party.

Next year, they will be content to help out as junior parents. Now the group is looking for parents of next fall's seniors to take over. If you'd like to help, call Carroll at 620-8906.

Team Reptile hoping for new home at Baycourt Park

Parks and Recreation club hoping for donations to help build nature center at Bay Court Park

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

An old building which reads "keep out" on the front of it may be the new home of Team Reptile.

The building, located in Bay Court Park on Andersonville Road may be renovated and become a nature center for the Independence Parks and Recreation Club, Team Reptile.

However, the old building may also be torn down and then a new building would be built to house the club for Clarkston area teens and preteens. The building will include a pond, which will house live animals as well as a classroom and aquariums inside to provide a hands-on experience.

Whatever the fate of the building, Team Reptile Director Rich Ashley said he is hoping for a nature center which will be open year round. He said he envisions a nature center which could be a destination for school field trips and help inform anyone in the area who is interested learning more about reptiles, amphibians and other wildlife native to the area.

"The county has a nature center and that's nice, but we'd like one specific for this area," Ashley said.

Team Reptile is a nonprofit organization made up of volunteer lifeguards. Members of the club go on "reptile hunts" throughout the summer looking for reptiles and amphibians. Their efforts are shown on their television show, which can be seen locally on channel 65. In addition, animals caught on the hunt are displayed in many exhibits during the year including the July 4 Festival of Fun and school presentations.

Mike Turk said the Parks and Rec department is hoping to raise approximately $13,000 from the community. He said when the department reaches that goal, he will approach the township board and ask for additional funding to match those donations.

"It's just in the initial stages right now," Turk said. "We want a building for day camp and hope to incorporate Team Reptile," Turk said.

Turk said he does not think the nature center will be built this year.

"I haven't spoken to Rich (Ashley) about it yet," Turk said. "We have an existing building at Bay Court that we could either fix or tear down. We'll have to get

Independence Township

Monday, June 18, an incident of driving with a suspended license was reported at Dixie, south of White Lake Road. A vehicle was stopped on Dixie for driving left of center, and a check found the driver to have two prior convictions for driving with a suspended license. The driver's vehicle was impounded.

A malicious destruction of property was reported at Sashabaw and Oakman. The victim said two white males threw his ski tube on a bonfire. The men then swam across a lake.

Saturday, June 16, a malicious destruction of property and damaged property was reported at Waldon. The vehicle was parked at that location, and when the victim returned, she found the left rear passenger's window and door damaged. The window was busted and there were scratches on the door. No known suspects have been reported.

Friday, June 15, an arrest was made for marijuana use and possession, malicious destruction of property, reckless driving, and possession of a warrant from another jurisdiction. The suspect, a 21-year-old Clarkston male, admitted to willfully driving over a person's lawn without due regard for their property. While driving across the lawn, the suspect's vehicle sank into the wet lawn and became stuck. He and a passenger then fled the area, then turned himself in to authorities. An inventory of the vehicle led to discovery of two marijuana cigarettes in the ashtray. The responding officer discovered the suspect has an outstanding warrant from the Lansing Police Department. The suspect was transferred to the Oakland County Jail to await transport from the Lansing Police Department.

Thursday, June 14, a breaking and entering of a house under construction was reported at Oakhurst Ridge and Clintonville. The victim said someone entered the house between June 13-14 and removed the following items: a Lennox air conditioner condenser, valued at $800; a humidifier, valued at $600; and a refrigerator, valued at $750. The victim said the last persons on the site on June 13 were painters, and the stolen items were discovered by the painters on that date. He also said the painters had left the front door unlocked by accident. The case has been turned over to the Independence Township Detective's Bureau, and no witnesses or suspects have been reported.

Citations were issued for a minor in possession/consumption of alcohol, reckless driving, and leaving the scene of an accident at Old Cove and Timber Ridge. The suspect was driving recklessly on Old Cove, lost control and had a collision with a trash can. The minor was administered a PBT, and registered a blood alcohol content of .132.

A vehicle fire was reported at I-75 at Sashabaw. An automatic alarm was reported at Royalwoods.

Wednesday, June 13, a larceny in a building was reported at Waterford and Maybee. The victim said someone had entered the unlocked maintenance building and stole three gas power weed whips. One of them was an older edition, while two were new. The total value of the items was estimated at $640. The responding officer advised the victim to obtain the serial numbers of the two newer weed whips. The case has been forwarded to the Detective's Bureau.

Tuesday, June 12, a malicious destruction of auto glass was reported at Avalon, east of North Eston Road. The victim reported an unknown person smashed the rear window with a hammer. The glass had hammer strike marks and a hammer head mark. No witnesses have been reported, and an unknown suspect has been reported.

A larceny of vehicle parts with force was reported at Oakvista and Sashabaw. The victim said a full-size spare tire to his vehicle, valued at $500, was stolen. He said this happened sometime within the last two weeks. He said the spare tire was attached underneath the bed of his vehicle by a cable, and the cable was cut and the spare tire taken. No known suspects have been reported.

Springfield Township

Sunday, June 17, larcenies from two vehicles were reported at Detroit and Dixie Highway. The victim said sometime after 1 a.m., someone broke into his vehicle and stole his CD player, valued at $200. He said another vehicle, driven by another person who had spent the night at the trailer, had also been broken into, and two 10-inch subwoofers, valued at $350, and a 500-watt amplifier, valued at $300, were stolen. Both victims said their vehicles were locked.

Friday, June 15, a malicious destruction of a tombstone was reported at Davisburg Cemetery. The victim said sometime between June 11-14, someone had damaged the headstone of his deceased wife. The victim said the headstone had an 'eternal light' attached to the top of the stone and that the person(s) had forcibly snapped the light off.

A malicious destruction of property was reported at Green Lake Park, located at Northbay and Farley. The responding officer met with Jennifer Tucker, Springfield Township Parks and Recreation Supervisor, who said someone had spraypainted the cement on a basketball court in the park.

A breaking and entering alarm was reported at Cedarvalley Lane. The responding officer was dispatched to a breaking and entering alarm. He found the garage door open, and checked the house. Nothing seemed disturbed or out of place. While the officer was at the residence, the alarm company called. The door was resecured.

Thursday, June 14, a larceny of a bicycle was reported at Earl and Dixie Highway. A purple bicycle, with yellow and black trim, was stolen from the residence.

Tuesday, June 12, a burglary was reported at Lewis Court and Dixie Highway. The victim said sometime between June 10-12, someone pried the lock off his storage shed, located next to his trailer, and stole numerous power tools and building materials that he had stored inside for his business. The victim said his business rents out the tools to builders in the area, and stores them in the shed. The victim said he does not know who may have done this.

A plethora of thoughts on summer

Rather than stick to one topic this week, I thought it would be fun just to pour out some random thoughts and ramblings in this edition of The Bottom Line.

I have caught up on my sleep after being stuck over night at the all night party. But it was a good time and I hope you enjoyed the pictures in last week's issue.

Mother nature has finally given us the gift of decent weather, which allowed my wife and me to head to Cedar Point last week. We rode a number of coasters, but the best one without a doubt was Millennium Force. If you haven't ridden it, put it on your list of things to do this summer

I have completely lost interest in baseball thanks to our beloved boys who wear the old English D. I was actually moderately interested in baseball in the beginning of the year, but I have written off yet another season. I doubt if I'll watch ten innings of major league baseball the rest of the season — playoffs included.

My team didn't win the cup, but the New Jersey Devils had a great season. I doubt many of you watched the NHL finals, but it was a good, hard fought seven game series.

Detroit looks like it may lose the Grand Prix. Personally, I couldn't care less, but I'm not much of a problems. Following is the type of question Albee was tested on:

The five members of a computer club decided to buy a used computer, dividing up the cost equally. Later, three new members joined the club and agreed to pay their fair share of purchase price. This resulted in a saving of $15 for each of the original five members. What was the price in dollars of the used computer?

Each test was made up of five questions like the one above and was also timed.

But Albee never felt very pressured during the testing because of his thorough preparation for the problems.

Banworth said she and Albee went through practice problems which were similar to the testing questions before the test. Albee paid close attention during racing fan. The only time I watch any form of auto racing is when someone else is holding the controller when playing NASCAR on Playstation 2.

I'm happy to see Herman Moore back in a Lions uniform after a lengthy contract debate, but I'll be more happy if he has a season made up of 65 catches and ten touchdowns. Last year was a terrible one for the Lion great. I hope he bounces back.

The University of Michigan and Michigan State are attempting to break the world record for hockey attendance this fall when the Spartans host an outdoor game at Spartan stadium. I hear they need 30,000 fans to attend just to break even. Wouldn't it be something if they put more fans in there to see Ron Mason's crew than to see Bobby Williams' team?

Tiger Woods finally lost a major. I guess that proves nobody is perfect, but he comes pretty close.

Did anybody not have the Lakers picked to win the NBA title? Game one gave us sports fans something to think about, but after that it was business as usual for the Lakers and another ring for Phil Jackson. Pretty soon he's going to need to grow a few more fingers to find room for all those rings.

One of my best friends, Chris Polsinelli is getting married this weekend to fiance Mellisa Roosen and I am honored to be standing up for one of my best friends. This wedding holds a special meaning to me because I met my wife through Chris. Melissa is my wife's former college roommate. Should be a great time this weekend.

E-Mail Ed your summer thoughts and plans to clarkstonnews@adni.net or aedavis11@aol.com.

that preparation.

"I listened well before the tests. Sometimes I didn't even have to read the questions before I started to figure out how to solve them," he said.

Albee said he does not spend any extra time outside of the classroom honing his math skills. Instead, he does things most any fifth grader would do once the bell rings.

"I like to watch TV and play Playstation 2," he said.

Albee said Mrs. Lisa Crawford, who teaches him in English, spelling and reading, said Albee would make a good engineer or artist.

"Maybe one day I could make my own video games," he said smiling. "That way I could make the game I want to."

Banworth said Albee is a gifted student.

"He's a bright kid across the board. He's an incredible kid," she said.

the building assessed and go from there."

However Ashley said he's already looked into the building and said it would cost more to fix it than it would to build a new one.

"We've done a few fund raisers already and we'll do some more, car washes and things like that," he said.

Ashley said contributions of any amount will be appreciated. Organizations who donate will have their name listed as a sponsor at the end of every Team Reptile television show, along with a graphic advertisement placed on Team Reptile t-shirts. Team Reptile's Float in the July 4 parade will include a listing of all sponsors and once the building is completed, the building will display plaques of various sponsors.

Team Reptile's season is already underway. Ashley said the first reptile hunt took place the week of June 11-15.

"We found some leopard frogs. I didn't even think they were around in this area," Ashley said.

Team Reptile's members are usually 11 years and up, but Ashley is also hoping to plan some events for children between 7 and 10 years old.

Area covered by The Clarkston News, Penny Stretcher, Advertiser, The Oxford Leader, The Lake Orion Review and The Citizen. Over 50,900 homes receive one of these papers each week. Delivered by mail and newsstands.

5 PAPERS-2 WEEKS-$11.00
10 WORDS (30¢ EACH ADDITIONAL WORD)
(Commercial Accounts $9.00 a week)

YOU WILL GET RESPONSE!

Guaranteed . . .

Our pledge to you: if after 30 days you don't get any inquiries on your want ad, we'll refund your money (less a $2 service charge. Automotive specials not included).

We guarantee it.

Here's how it works.

1. Run your want ad with us for at least two weeks and pay within one week of the start date.
2. If no one contacts you within 30 days after the ad's stop date, fill out a refund application and mail or bring it to us.
3. We will refund the cost of the ad (less the $2 service charge) within 7 days of receiving your refund application.

Or, we'll run that ad again for the original number of weeks. The choice is yours, a win-win situation all the way around.

(We can only guarantee that you'll get inquiries-- not that you'll make a deal.)

This guarantee applies to individual (noncommercial) want ads. You can pick up a refund application at any of our offices. In Oxford, at 666 S. Lapeer Road. In Lake Orion, 30 N. Broadway Street. In Clarkston, 5 S. Main Street. The refund must be applied for between 30 and 90 days of the want ad's start date.

All advertising in Sherman Publications, Inc. is subject to the conditions in the applicable rate card or advertising contract, copies of which are available from the Ad Dept. at The Oxford Leader (628-4801) or The Clarkston News (625-3370). This newspaper reserves the right not to accept an advertiser's order. Our ad takers have no authority to bind this newspaper and only publication of an ad constitutes acceptance of the advertiser's order. Tear sheets will not be furnished for classified ads.

It's easy to put an ad in our 5 papers

1. Phone us 625-3370, 628-4801 or 693-8331 and our friendly ad takers will assist you in writing your ad. (After hours dial 248-628-4801.)
2. Visit one of our conveniently located offices, The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston, The Oxford Leader, 666 S. Lapeer Rd., Oxford or The Lake Orion Review, 30 N. Broadway, Lake Orion.
3. Fill out the coupon in this issue and mail it to The Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston, MI 48346, The Oxford Leader, P.O. Box 108, 666 S. Lapeer Rd., Oxford, MI 48371, or The Lake Orion Review, 30 N. Broadway, Lake Orion, MI 48362, and we will bill you.
4. FAX your ad before 9 a.m. Tuesdays (248) 628-9750.
5. For $5 extra get into The Citizen, covering Brandon-Goodrich area.

Please publish my want ad in the CLARKSTON NEWS, PENNY STRETCHER, AD-VERTISER OXFORD LEADER & LAKE ORION REVIEW Ads may be cancelled after the first week, but will still be charged for the minimum

Specialists

We are not a Jack-of-all-trades. We can not guarantee you the absolute lowest price, as we will not sacrifice the quality products or workmanship that you deserve. What we will guarantee is an honest and fair price with products and workmanship of the highest quality. We also do our own work. We do not sub-contract it out, or sell it. So if you are only looking for the cheapest way out, call someone else who claims they can beat any price. If you are looking for an honest and fair price, quality products and workmanship, dependability, and someone that will be here after your job is completed, give us a call. Total customer satisfaction is our only acceptable standard. Helping you make your home the one you've always dreamed of is what we do.
