M-DOT offers phone number for motorists complaints

BY ED DAVIS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston area motorists who have added a few minutes onto their commute because of Main Street construction may be adding something else to their daily drive — a flat tire.

As construction along Main Street continues, some residents have complained of potholes and construction materials causing flat tires in their automobiles. However, many people in the area haven't heard about the problem.

Both City Manager Art Pappas and Clarkston Police Chief Paul Ormiston said they have not fielded any calls about the matter.

Meanwhile, Morgan's Service, located in the heart of construction at the corner of Main and Church Streets hasn't been doing a lot of tire replacement work either.

"No, I wouldn't say it's been a big deal or anything. Nothing's really changed for us," John Morgan said.

Michigan Department of Transportation Resident Engineer Jim Natschke said he has not fielded any complaints about the issue either, but if people have questions or concerns, they can contact the Transportation Service Center at 248-451-0005.

'If people believe they've experienced damage as a result of the project that's the number to call.'

-- Jim Natschke

"If people believe they've experienced damage as a result of the project that's the number to call," Natschke said. "But our contractor (VIL Construction) has been real good about going right in and repairing pot holes."

Natschke said construction work will continue this week primarily with electrical work for the city's new street lighting. In addition, backfilling of the Honor loved ones at Springfield Twp. library

Engraved bricks will raise funds for Friends of the Springfield Township Library

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Springfield Township residents have a chance to make themselves a permanent part of the upcoming township civic center.

The Friends of the Springfield Township Library is sponsoring a "Community Cornerstones" project, in which bricks may be purchased in honor of or in memory of a loved one.

The bricks will be engraved and placed in a paved plaza near the entrance of the new Springfield Township Library, which will be a part of the new civic center that is scheduled to open by the end of this year.

Cathy Forst, project coordinator, said the project had its roots with a former member of the Friends of the Library, Gloria Evans, who died two years ago.

"She started the project about 4-5 years ago, when they were first thinking about building a new civic center," Forst said. "She had gathered information before she passed away."

After Evans died, the Friends of the Library decided to continue with the project as a tribute to Evans, who Forst said was an ardent supporter of the library.

"Her friends felt that this was a project that they wanted to complete in her honor," Forst said. "She was instrumental in reorganizing the Friends of the Library, and she was a big supporter."

Springfield Township Clerk Nancy Strole also said Evans was actively involved in the library and supported it in any way possible.

"She was a wonderful woman," Strole said. "She was very involved in the Friends of the Library. She was a constant supporter of the library. She was a wonderful person."

Bricks may be purchased in two different sizes: four by eight inches, with a maximum of three lines of text; and eight by eight inches, with a maximum of five lines of text. The costs are $55 and $100, respectively.

In addition, those who purchase a brick receive a year's membership to the Friends of the Springfield Township Library, beginning Dec. 31.

For more information, call the Springfield Township Library at 625-0595.

Tools stolen from work site

Over $5,000 in tools were reported stolen from a building on Elk Road, near M-15.

According to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy reports, the victim said he was a self-employed contractor that does hardwood flooring work, mostly for insurance companies at private residences. It was reported on August 3.

He said he took three power sanders out to the listed address on Elk Run and after having a dispute with the contractors working at the residence, he left his tools in the garage.

He said when he called back the next day to make arrangements to come back and pick up tools, he was told he had no tools there.

He said the value of the tools was $6,800. The case was turned over to the Independence Township Detective's Bureau.

Clarkston student takes first in AAA contest

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

A Clarkston student received statewide recognition for her efforts in promoting traffic safety.

North Sashabaw Elementary School student Mary Allan received first place in the 57th annual Michigan School Traffic Safety Poster Program for 2000.

Allan, who will be entering third grade next year, received a $125 U.S. savings bond and a certificate for her artistic talent. She is the daughter of Michael and Alice Allan of Clarkston.

"I was excited," she said when she learned she had received the award.

The competition was for any kindergarten through eighth-grade student attending a public, private, or parochial school or affiliated with a national youth organization in the U.S. or Canada.

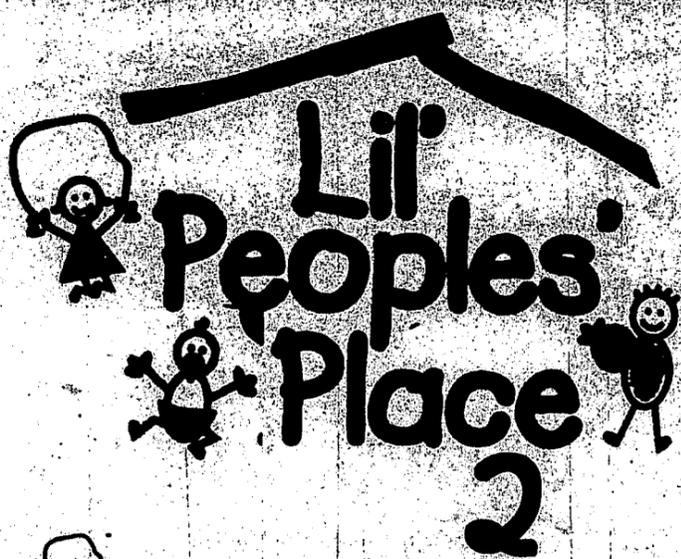

Students were judged on four criteria: relationship of the poster design to traffic safety practices, originality, artwork and execution, and visual impact of the poster design.

Allan based her poster on a theme which hits home with students her age — playing safely and staying away from traffic. She drew a picture of a playground with children playing, with the heading, "Play Away from Traffic" above the drawing.

"I put a gate around it, so cars couldn't come in or anything," she said.

The top 20 percent of entries statewide at the kindergarten through junior high level were forwarded for national judging and a chance to win a $1,500 award.

Boyhood dream comes true

Playing baseball on the field where his heroes once ruled

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

It was a Clarkston man's version of the movie Field of Dreams.

Paul Waldecker, a member of the Rochester Grangers vintage baseball team, took to the field July 24 at Tiger Stadium, the former home of the Detroit Tigers, for a throwback baseball game against the Greenfield Village La De Da's. The Grangers play in 1860's dress and by 1860's rules.

He said the team was able to play the baseball game at the corner of Michigan and Trumbull because of the work of one of his teammates.

"One of the players on the team, Bob Lytle, owns Lytle's Pharmacy in Rochester," Waldecker said. "He had a customer who was involved in putting together a college game, and mentioned the possibility of holding a vintage baseball game there."

The two teams wound up playing a 90-minute game on the field prior to the college game. There were about 16 players on the Rochester side and 10 on the Greenfield Village side, according to Waldecker.

In his first year on the team, he heard about the squad from his wife Jill, who works at the Rochester Museum with one of the team's co-captains, Pat McKay. He said his wife, who is pregnant with the couple's first child, sees him in action for about half of the team's games.

His participation on the Grangers is his first extended taste of the game in quite some time. Waldecker, an engineer at General Motors, said he played T-ball as a youngster, but nothing further.

He said it was a treat to play baseball on the same field where his boyhood heroes once stood.

"The opportunity to get down there was something else," he said. "The field was in great shape. For everyone, we were fulfilling childhood dreams by getting on the field. It was a first for everyone. I'm very excited to be able to play at the old ballpark."

He said he has many memories of going to the stadium to see Tigers games with his family.

"I remember when they had the old wooden seats, going on Family Night," Waldecker said. "In 1984, when they won the World Series, some of my family was at the final game. They brought home some of the grass from the field. There's a lot of memories from that field."

He said it was particularly noteworthy to sit in the visitors dugout at Tiger Stadium, where so many greats of the game sat when their teams visited the stadium to play the Tigers.

"All the great players that came through the stadium sat there," he said. "That was pretty interesting to think about that."

When touring the old ballpark that day, Waldecker said it was apparent the stadium had seen its better years.

"The stadium almost appeared in a mothball condition," he said. "The field was in great condition, but there are several areas being used for storage. It's pretty obvious it's an old stadium, but that disappeared once the game started."

Nonetheless, he said the stadium should be preserved for the enjoyment of people like himself to get together to play at the venerable ballpark.

"I would like to see it used for baseball," Waldecker said. "I'm sure there are a lot of people who would like a chance to get back on the field. If they do any other events there, I'd like to see more advertising."

Much like the stadium they played in July 24, the vintage baseball game Waldecker and his friends played that day has a long history that traces its roots to the game's origins.

Waldecker said the rules of vintage baseball dates back to when the game was originally founded in the 19th century.

"The game was designed for fun and exercise — that was the original game of baseball," he said.

Under vintage baseball rules, the players do not use gloves, and play barehanded. They cannot overrun first base, and are allowed to catch fly balls on one bounce, in which case the batter, also referred to as a striker, would be out, or in vintage baseball lingo, dead. A pitcher is referred to as a hurler, and the game is played in underhand slow-pitch style.

In addition, there is no spitting or foul language, and there is a cash fine for players that violate those rules.

"The group of guys have a good time," he said. "They're in it for the exercise and enjoyment."

Waldecker said a national organization, the Vintage Baseball Association (VBBA), oversees research into rules of vintage baseball, and gathers historical documents about the game. In addition, he said the VBBA has their own Web site, which lists vintage baseball teams broken down by state.

Save money in interest with early water payment

Residents, business owners who pay off special assessment for water by Sept. 14 can save big bucks

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

City property owners hooking up to the Independence Township water system will be able to save hundreds, and maybe even thousands of dollars in the next few weeks.

Those people who are in special assessment district (SAD) no. 1 who pay off their entire SAD balance will end up saving well over $100 this year alone. SAD no. 1 is made up of property owners along Main Street who hook up to the water supply of Independence Township.

People in SAD no. 1 who wish to remit the entire assessment on their property must do so by the tax due date of Sept. 14, 2001. If residents or business owners do not pay off their entire SAD balance by Sept. 14, hefty amounts of interest will soon add up.

The fixed interest rate of this SAD of the water project is 6.212 percent. Special assessments are measured in REU's (residential equivalent units) City Manager Art Pappas said

But how much money can be saved depends on how much water residents and businesses use. For instance, a person who pays off a building valued at 15 REU's will save 15 times as much interest as someone else who pays off a building valued at one REU.

One REU, which is based on a single family residential amount of water use, for SAD no. 1 equals $3,292.19. The interest for the 2001 year is $135.59. The interest for 2002 is $190.88. The increase of about $55 is because the 2002 assessment is for a full year, while the 2001 assessment was prorated, Pappas said.

The exact amount of interest for each year will vary even though the interest rate is fixed at 6.212 percent. That's because as the balance goes down, there is a smaller amount which can have interest added on top of it.

In addition, Clarkston residents who wish to hook up to water and are not part of no. 1 SAD 1, are now able to take steps in that direction.

At the city council's July 23 meeting, the council decided area residents who are interested in hooking up to water should visit Pappas at city hall, 375 Depot Street.

There, residents will be able to pick up a form which asks for signatures, tax parcel numbers, names and dates.

Residents are to ask their neighbors if they too are interested in hooking up to water.

Once signatures are gathered, and submitted to Pappas, the council will then evaluate them and discuss them with city planner Hubbel Roth and Clark make up the next special assessment districts.

In order to establish an SAD, at least 51 percent of the people must sign the form for a district or phase to be created.

"The first step is just getting people to sign the petition and from there determine how the districts would be split up," Meyland said. After the SADs are established a set of public hearings will be held to further inform residents, he added.

How much money can be saved depends on how much water residents and businesses use.

Three girls sought in vandalism

On Monday, August 6, malicious destruction of property was reported at Dixie Hwy, at Oakhill Road in Springfield Twp.

The victim said she was working in the back room when she heard three loud bangs in front of the store. When she went to the front door, she saw that the entrance glass had been broken. She did not see anyone in the area. The front door is a full glass panel, and looked to have been kicked maybe a foot off the bottom.

The responding Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy spoke to an employee at a neighboring business and he said three girls, about 14 years old, had just been in that store. They were seen walking behind a back alley. The deputy was unable to locate the three girls.

Correction

In the July 18 issue of The Clarkston News, a story on Liberty Golf and Banquet said the downstairs restaurant prices vary from $17.95 for a chicken liberty dinner to $24.95 for an eight-ounce filet mignon.

It should have said the Liberty Grille offers a luncheon and dinner menu with a variety of appetizers, salads, sandwiches, desserts and entrees. Enjoy an array of meals which range from a half pound certified angus beef hot dog for $3.95 to seared whitefish for $10.95.

We apologize for the error.

Our area has many medical offices, but some are wondering How many is too many?

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

How much is too much? Or are more needed?

Lately, questions of the sort have been raised regarding medical facilities in Independence Township.

The proposed 13,200 square foot medical office expansion, featuring radiological services, at the Independence Pointe plaza has prompted the debate.

When the proposal went before township officials at the July 24 Township Board meeting, several medical professionals and concerned citizens bantered back and forth regarding whether or not the community needs additional medical services.

Many feel the same as Beth Taylor, a director for Citizens for Orderly Growth, who said, "I just question the need. I think we have adequate facilities."

And like Pat Meeker, a Northview resident, who said, "We don't need a duplication of services we already have. And I really believe in good medical services."

Others would disagree.

Troy Purcell, of Associated Radiologists out of Independence Pointe, said 12,000 patients came through his office last year and more space is needed.

He said, a 1,600 square foot office with ten chairs in the lobby was not sufficient for so many patients. Many, at times, had to share seats, stand or sit on the floor, Purcell said.

One patient in particular, he said, troubles him: "This patient had to wait a month for an appointment. When she did get in, she had nowhere to sit. She said she won't be back now and is going to a place in another community," he said.

"If this (Independence Pointe expansion) is allowed to be built, we could virtually treat everyone in this community," he said. And so, Purcell started a petition for those in favor of expanding the site and has a total of 373 resident signatures.

"We feel we could've got 1,000 to sign if we started earlier."

Purcell asked audience and board members at the meeting, "What is the problem with this passing? Clarkston is growing. We have enough restaurants and bars, why can't we get medical offices?"

Dr. Nathan Chase, of Clarkston Internal Medicine out of Independence Pointe, affiliated with St. Joseph's Hospital in Pontiac, said all services should be located in one building.

"It's unreasonable for elderly individuals with pneumonia to go down the street to get x-rays and then have to come back for the diagnosis," Dr. Chase said.

He's also had to take a trip himself to consult with a radiologist. "It makes sense to have everything under one roof."

Dr. Chase also is concerned for the need of more CT scans and mammography since, he said, there is a three month waiting list for women to have a mammogram.

Roberta Lundgren, a resident since 1971, knows what it's like to wait. "I have had tumors and waiting that three months (for a mammogram) is especially difficult. It does everything to your emotions."

She said prior to Associated Radiologists at Independence Pointe, she had to go to Pontiac for services.

"Just having become a senior citizen, I appreciate not having to go so far," she said.

But a woman employed with North Oakland Medical Centers at Dixie and M-15 said there are no waiting lists for radiological services through that facility.

"Only a one week waiting period, if that. I want to let the people know we are there," she said. "There is no reason for anyone in the community to wait."

She added, the medical center is "an upstanding facility. We do nothing but top quality work." And for those who argued North Oakland doesn't take all insurances, she said, managed care is accepted now.

However, Dr. James O'Neill, a

Clarkston physician for 40 years with Clarkston Medical Group out of North Oakland Medical Centers, said the community does need additional medical facilities.

"We need a community health center that will supplement everything we have. That center should entail a free standing Level 3 emergency center with birthing center, operating room, and holding and intravenous beds--a little step up from what we have now."

Over time, he thinks what will happen are partnerships with area hospitals in order to provide a 24-hour facility with high level of care.

"North Oakland, St. Joe's, POH, Crittenton, Genesys, and Beaumont need to get together to put in a facility, so that we don't have five or six lesser facilities competing." He said the economy can't support several medical facilities.

Traditionally, Dr. O'Neill said, what has happened is that hospitals put in competing facilities, but now there aren't enough funds in the system to continue that trend.

And because of the geographical location of Clarkston and ease of getting to the city by I-75, M-15 and Dixie Highway, Dr. O'Neill said, "we serve a larger zip code. Now we need to design a facility for that."

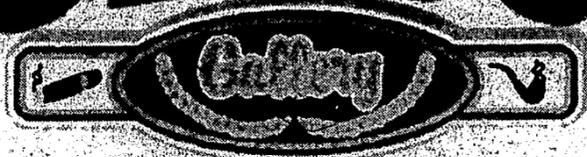

"We've never had too many good practitioners," Dr. O'Neill said.

MDOT comes to the rescue

Last Thursday we received a phone call from a downtown Main Street resident with Muscular Dystrophy.

Because of the road construction, he was unable to drive his car into his driveway. He didn't mind parking elsewhere temporarily, but because he wears leg braces, he was unable to step over the concrete curb and gutter forms recently set in the streets without assistance.

He asked us to help, which we were pleased to be able to do.

We called Allan Schneck, one of the engineers with the Michigan Department of Transportation who oversees the Main Street construction.

Within 45 minutes of our phone call, he had reviewed the site and was in our office explaining how the situation would be resolved.

By the end of the day, the driveway was restored and the area behind the gutters backfilled.

This was the response we knew the resident would receive from Schneck and MDOT. We have witnessed interactions by Schneck and other MDOT officials during the construction process. They are making every effort to be of assistance whenever problems arise.

If you have a problem, give us a call or call MDOT directly at (248)451-0005.

Thanks, Allan, for your quick attention! MKC

DTE not responsible for profanity of performers

I'm writing in response to an article written in the Wednesday, July 25 edition of The Clarkston News, entitled, "Area woman files police report over noise, profanity at DTE Theater."

I was bothered by the content of this article because I work backstage in the Hospitality and Catering department at both DTE and the Palace.

I personally don't believe that it is the sole responsibility of DTE to limit or even prohibit profanity or inappropriate subject matter from the concerts and shows it presents. No matter how many times authorities at DTE ask or demand that the performers leave bad language out of their show(s), there is absolutely no guarantee that their wishes will be granted by any means.

I think that DTE is very conscious of the kind of entertainment that they present, and are not to blame for other people's personal judgements.

Thank you,
Suzanne Meloche

Try another location for civic center

Of all the sites discussed at the July 26 meeting, every one had more negative points than the preceding one. However, one site that has no negative points of any kind, wasn't even discussed.

That's 12.5 acres (a house and barn are on the property) that's for sale now, and it's located on Clarkston Road, next to Clintonwood Park. It's 12.5 acres with nature walk.

It can be used as part of the park, and parking for hundreds of cars and on holidays like July 4, it wouldn't be necessary to run shuttle service. Besides that, on the front of Clarkston Road, there is plenty of space to build a "civic center" which would need "three to four acres" with extra space to spare.

It's right in the center of Independence Township and no traffic congestion on Clarkston Road. It's more than just 12 acres, it's a piece of beauty with its natural walk that can't be seen from Clarkston Road.

Now is the time for the township to acquire these 12 acres before any houses are built and the opportunity is gone. It's certainly worth discussing this at the next town meeting.

Thank you,
James Petroff

What do you think? Let us know!

Adversity shows just how precious life is Sometimes, life can seem pretty cruel, and you wonder what sense there is to be made of it.

On July 30, it was a hectic day, as it always is each Monday, with deadlines to be met and articles to be written. After spending much of the morning at the police station, and then grabbing a bite to eat for lunch, I was off to 52-2 District Court.

There, I was covering the preliminary examination of James Todd Cook, a White Lake male who is charged with the awful crime of sexually molesting several young girls. During a couple of points in the exam, one of the victims was asked to testify, and the reporters on hand were asked to leave the courtroom.

After one of the victims was done testifying, and as she emerged from the courtroom to her family, she started crying uncontrollably. That image is forever locked in my consciousness. How can someone be so cruel, so demented, as to rob a child of their innocence and cause her unimaginable torment? If Cook is proven guilty (and remember, he is innocent until proven guilty, that's how our judicial system works), they should lock him up and throw away the key.

In theory, reporters are supposed to maintain an even keel when covering their beats. However, that is near impossible to do when kids are involved, particularly under the awful circumstances that this case has to deal with.

After the exam was completed, I returned to the office for a couple of hours, to catch up on some stuff that needed to be done. I had to stay a little bit after regular business hours were completed, but that's something that everyone deals with.

Once I was done, I headed on home, and as I always do, check my e-mail messages.

It was then that I got a bit of news that left me very saddened. My mom had informed me that my good friend Megan's father had died after a long battle with cancer. After reading that, I felt a wide variety of things: sad, helpless, confused, and empty. I wanted so much to give her a hug and try and console her during this time. I left a message on her voice mail, but she wasn't home, and I knew she was likely with her family, as it should be during these times.

Throughout much of the evening, I felt like I was physically in my apartment, but mentally, I was completely out of it. Death produces such unique responses for each individual, and that happened to be mine. It's hard to want to go through the everyday routines of life when that happens...you just want to be with those you love and care for most, your family and friends.

I certainly tried to do that, as I went to her father's visitation Aug. 2, and to the funeral the following day. After the funeral, I headed to Indiana with my parents and my sister Amy to visit my great aunt, who lives in Plymouth, Indiana (about 20 miles from South Bend). I certainly cherish each moment spent with my family and with my great aunt, who is 87. Her home seems to be a never-ending stream of visitors, neighbors, family, and friends, yet God has given her the patience and love to welcome each one.

I suppose each of us has our own way of coping when times get tough. A song, a book, talking with family and friends. We each do what is best for us to cope with sad times. For me, a particular Bible verse is particularly comforting. It is found in the book of Ecclesiastes, chapter 3, verses 1-8, and begins: "There is an appointed time for everything, and a time for every affair under the heavens..."

That's for sure. There is a wide range of joys and sorrows that are a part of everyone's life, and there is a time and place for everything. God gives us only so much time on this earth, and it is up to us to make the most of it.

Life is precious. Cherish it.

What's up with that!

Jeff Patrus

The beginning of the end has begun

I reckon I knew it was going to happen sooner or later. I was just hoping it would be later. It's a sad day in Mudville, folks, because from now into the unforeseeable future, we American will be deluged a hailstorm of positive Hillary Rodham Clinton "news" pieces.

The canonization of Hillary has begun and won't stop until she becomes the first woman president of these United States. Oh, be still, my bleeding heart. It's true. I saw it with my own eyes and heard it with my own ears (which, by dear wife Jen's standards, is reason enough to cast doubts on my observation/prognostication. In her estimation I am either deaf or suffer from chronic selective hearing.)

Yeah, Rush, I hear the nay-sayers saying out there in read-land. You just can't throw wild accusations out without substantiating your claims. Where is the proof!

rush
don't rush

To which I respond, Hang on to your horses, kiddies. The lesson is about to begin

It's like this: Last week before heading to work, I caught a couple of seconds of Good Morning America -- ABC's morning TV newscast/magazine. What I heard was something to the effect that the Senate got behind the leadership of Hillary in giving President George a major defeat. The video footage showed some senators standing behind her as she spoke at a microphone. I didn't hear what she said (Maybe Jen is correct; maybe I should have Dr. Liveratos check my hearing. Or then, again, maybe I just desire not to hear Hillary.)

At any rate, I wanted to know what kind of major political upset Hillary handed the Prez. So, when I got to work I read the local daily. From page 1 to the end of editorial content, there was no mention of the senator from New York. I waited, then read the next day's paper for news of Hillary.

Nothing. I read the entire week's of daily news and found nothing on our gal Hillary. What gives, I thought. I read of the president's apparent victories in health care and energy, but nothing on a defeat. Well, almost nothing. There was a little something on the Senate rejecting the President's nomination for that bureaucratic "biggie", Product Safety Commission (had anybody heard of that commission before?).

But there was no mention of Hillary, so I discarded the piece. That left me wondering. What had St. Hillary of Illinois, er, Arkansas, er, Washington DC, er, New York, done to be given credit by the ABC "news" team?

I decided to dig and went to the Good Morning America website and do a search for Hillary. And, bingo, I found what I was looking for! "Safety Pick Rejected -- Senate Panel Votes Down Bush Nominee." I read the ABC "news" report of the 'afore mentioned newspaper story about Mary Shelia Gall being rejected for the top safety gig.

I'll quote the fourth sentence, "President Clinton, a Democrat, nominated her (Gall) to the current term, for which she was confirmed by the Senate. But that didn't stop the former first lady, Sen. Hillary Rodham Clinton, D.-NY, from leading the charge against Gall's nomination."

There were nine more paragraphs to the ABC report, none mentioned Hillary. The fifth sentence said, "The committee chairman, Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-SC, challenged Bush to find someone else."

My question is how can Hillary lead the charge, when the committee chairman is Ernest? How could Hillary hand the President a defeat, when it was Ernest "challenged Bush?"

Answer: some folks want to make Hillary the next president of the United States, and they'll take every opportunity to give her a good, hardworking, gal of the people image. Here endeth the lesson.

I did find a website called, slaphillary.com. Check it out if you want to vent your frustrations.

Government waste; is that redundant?

I'll be absent from this space next week, but the following examples of our government in action should be enough to keep you irritated until Jottings' return.

- The U. S. Department of the Interior spent $100,000 training beagles to get rid of brown tree snakes in Hawaii. Only problem was there were no brown tree snakes in Hawaii.

- In 1986 the National Parks Service spent $230,000 on some land in Washington. Two years later, the department found out they had already bought that same parcel of land in 1914.

- The U. S. Postal Service printed, at a cost of $500,000, stamps featuring a picture of the Grand Canyon. They put the wrong state name on the stamp.

- Congress gave the go-ahead for an $84,000 study that would research the question, "Why do people fall in love?"

- NASA spent $23 million on a prototype toilet for the space shuttle because the astronauts wanted a manual type toilet instead of the automatic one already in place.

- It didn't take Congress long to approve $107,000 study on the sex life of a Japanese quail.

- How about $3 million federal funded research by the Physicians Committee for Responsible Medicine that wanted to find out whether marijuana will make rabbits more prone to syphilis and mice more prone to Legionnaire's disease. Exactly what did they think they were trying to prove?

Jottings

Jim Sherman

- Efficiency experts hired by the Department of Defense managed to trim between $27 million and $136 million from the budget each year. However, these same experts are costing between $150 and $300 million each year.

- The inspector general of the Pentagon released his annual report in 1989 reporting that, "We feel confident that public property valued in excess of $17 million was destroyed." Apparently the U. S. Navy was sinking its surplus ships without first taking anything of value out of them. Included in the list of items that went down with the ship were brand new mattresses still in plastic wrapping, a variety of power tools including band saws, lathes and milling machines and radio, cryptology and surgical equipment.

I'm going to fill the balance of this column with some excerpts from traffic accident reports.

- "I was on my way to the doctor's with rear end trouble, when my universal joint gave way, causing me to have an accident."

- "The guy was all over the road, I had to swerve a number of times until I hit him."

- "My car was legally parked as it backed into the other vehicle."

- "The pedestrian had no idea which way to go, so I ran over him."

- "The telephone pole was approaching fast, I attempted to swerve out of its way, when it struck the front of my car."

- "I collided with a stationary truck coming the other way."

She get's national recognition

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Only three have done it in the past--and the last to do it was in 1975.

But this year, eight-year-old Chantel Blay has brought the title back to Michigan. She recently became the fourth young lady from the state to be nationally recognized and named Junior Miss Poppy of the American Legion in recognition of outstanding service to the community.

Besides helping out with the American Legion Chief Pontiac Post 377 in Clarkston, Chantel has served in a variety of arenas.

She's a very active volunteer in veteran nursing homes and hospitals as well as with muscular dystrophy benefits, food drives and various collections, poppy days, and much more.

"I love helping people," Chantel admitted.

"You don't know how a young person can brighten up the face of someone living at a nursing home--the gratitude from someone who can't get out," said Ivy Lee Reinhardt, who has been with the Auxiliary for 32 years, works extensively with American Legion juniors, and took Chantel under her wing years ago.

But volunteering isn't new to Chantel. At two, she worked her first poppy day and at age three bowled in a muscular dystrophy charity event. It seems to run in the family, since mom Melody, was named Senior Miss Poppy in 1983. And Chantel hopes to follow in her mother's

Chantel's volunteer efforts have even been recognized in letters from former president Bill Clinton as well as several political figures including John Engler, Dale Kildee, Debbie Stabenow and others.

Later this month, Chantel will go to San Antonio, TX for the American Legion and Auxillary National Convention where she'll participate in a parade, present a speech, and receive awards for work done throughout the year.

"I'm just so proud of her," said Melody.

A Look Back

15 YEARS AGO (1986)

Student smoking has been banned at Clarkston High School. Dr. Robert Burek, principal at CHS, presented a report at the board of education meeting on the decision to add the smoking ban to the student conduct code. Burek cited three reasons for the decision: health, image, and that it is easier to enforce a complete ban rather than a partial one.

Voters in Independence Township joined forces with the rest of Michigan in selecting William Lucas to be the Republican gubernatorial candidate last week. Lucas, currently the Wayne County Executive, claimed 704 leadership votes in the Aug. 5 primary. His votes put him ahead of three other Republican candidates. Dan Murphy received 506 votes; Dick Chrysler, 542 votes; and Colleen Engler, 84 votes.

Controversy continued as the Downtown Development Authority (DDA) for Independence Township received its first official OK. At a special meeting, the township board voted to approve the DDA in a first reading. A second reading is scheduled Aug. 26. At the meeting, the proposed ordinance was hotly contested by residents of the Village of Clarkston.

25 YEARS AGO (1976)

Voters of the Clarkston School District might be deciding next June whether or not to build a new Clarkston Junior High School. Hurrying the eventual decision along is an electrical study undertaken by Richard Prince Assoc., electrical engineers, which says $33,000 should be spent on renovation in the school's two shops.

The Clarkston Village Council has accepted its planning commission's recommendation to hire the firm of Vilican-Leman and Associates of Southfield. The firm will charge $10,000 for a master plan for the village. The first installment of $5,000 will be due upon completion of the plan, the second installment, one year later.

Dr. Irving Kernis, an osteopath, has opened a pediatric practice in Dr. Jim O'Neill's office on south M-15. He plans to move across the street into a combination pharmacy-office building now being constructed by Tom Lufkin at Paramus and M-15. The building, due for completion in November or December, will house a podiatrist and a dermatologist, as well as Dr. Kernis and the pharmacy.

50 YEARS AGO (1951)

The Citizens Committee for a School Building Program for the Clarkston Community School District met to continue discussions of building needs for the district. The committee has asked Leo Heenan, architect, to attend the meeting set for Monday, August 13, for the purpose of submitting estimated costs of constructing and equipping twelve elementary school rooms and an addition to the present high school building.

A welcome to the Oakland County 1951 Agricultural and 4-H Club Fair, to be held August 14-18, was extended to the Clarkston Rotary Club by John Gray, 4-H county advisor, at their meeting. Mr. Gray gave a good program talk on what the 4-H is and what it stands for, and the clubs in this district told about what they had accomplished.

The following items were on special at Terry's Market in Clarkston: smoked picnic, small and lean, 41 cents/lb.; New Michigan potatoes, 43 cents/peck; frozen orange juice, Old South, three cans for 55 cents; butter, 69 cents/lb.; pineapple juice, 46 oz. can, two cans for 65 cents; fresh Alberta peaches, three pounds for 29 cents.

Clarkston girl wins national dance competition in Florida

One Clarkston youngster is dancing on the ceiling with glee.

Ashley Shaw who'll be entering the eighth grade at Clarkston Middle School this fall, recently returned from Orlando, Florida as "America's Junior Dancer of the Year--2001."

This award was presented by one of the country's oldest competition holders, the Massachusetts-based American Dance Awards.

Ashley's dance teacher, Terri Newman, of Terri Newman's Dance Shoppe in Waterford, said, "Ashley dances with a sincere soul, and that is rare for such a young performer."

Ashley qualified for the American Dance Awards' national event after winning a regional title competition in Atlanta in March.

She was joined in Orlando by 33 other dancers from around the country and Canada. Ashley performed a lyrical number, choreographed by Newman, entitled, "Power of One."

In addition, to performing her solo, Ashley took competition classes where she was scored on her technique in jazz, tap, and acrobatics. She won overall high scores in ballet and acrobatics. These were added to the score for her solo, giving her an overall high score that won the title.

"When the announcer called out, 'America's Junior Dancer of the Year is contestant number 20, Ashley Shaw,' I felt like I was walking in a dream," said Ashley. "To this day, it still doesn't feel real!"

This was actually Ashley's third trip to the American Dance Awards' national event. She finished as second runner-up last summer when the competition was held in Las Vegas.

In the past, Ashley, who began dancing in preschool, was named Dance Masters of Michigan's "Petite Miss Dance of Michigan" and "Junior Miss Dance of Michigan" in 1999 and 2001. The year 2001 brought Ashley additional awards including a two-week scholarship to study dance at The Edge School of Performing Arts in Los Angeles, a New York Dance Alliance convention scholarship, and an Access Broadway talent agent award.

She is a member of The Dance Shoppe's award-winning "Classy Dancers" competitive dance troupe as well as the Lakes Area Civic Ballet, and can be seen in the company's "Nutcracker," held at Clarkston High School each holiday season.

THE LAW & YOU

by Robert Kostin
Attorney at Law

WHEN BENEFITS ARE DENIED

Workers' compensation provides employees with a remedy for work-related injuries, which are usually defined as those that "arise out of and in the course of employment." The injury or illness must have been caused by the job and must have occurred while performing employment duties. The employee must notify the employer within a certain number of days after the injury or the onset of the initial symptoms, preferably in writing and on a special form. If the employer refuses to provide benefits, it is in the employee's best interests to consult with a lawyer, who can request a hearing before the state board or commission of workers' compensation. An administrative judge usually hears the case and renders a decision. If you have been injured on the job, a lawyer can advise you of the proper steps to take when filing for workers' compensation. If you have questions about this or any other legal matter contact our office at 620-1030. We handle a variety of legal matters involving personal injury, auto accidents, slip & fall injuries, criminal defense, business law, real estate, family law, and civil litigation in both State and Federal courts. Located at 11 North Main Street, we are here to assist you in understanding the system.

Note: There is also an appeal process built into the workers' compensation system.

Clarkston's list of fine restaurants is growing

Enjoy the good life at 'The Grill'

Are you looking for a new area restaurant to try.

Do you need to unwind after a challenging day on the golf course?

If you're playing the widely acclaimed course at Shepherd's Hollow Golf Course, in Springfield Township, then all you need do is step into The Grill at Shepherd's Hollow.

Like the golf course itself, which opened in July 2000, the restaurant is a relative newcomer to the Clarkston scene, having just opened this past April. The restaurant is located in the clubhouse, right next to the golf course.

Earle Webber, chef at The Grill, has something special in mind for you.

The restaurant's specialties include club sandwiches, salmon salad, seafood dishes, and tenderloin, which he said is so far is the favorite dish of his customers.

Webber described the restaurant's decor as "traditional Southern plantation design," with leather-tufted chairs, and cherrywood tables. He said the dress is "golf casual," with collared shirts and khaki pants.

The Grill is open to the public, not just Shepherd's Hollow members, according to Webber. "We are a public facility," he said. "A lot of people are coming in strictly for dinner, without golf. We take reservations, and they are recommended on the weekends." Webber, a graduate of the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, NY, said the restaurant got off to a slow start when it first opened, but as recognition grew, so did its business.

"We started out pretty slow, then we had an article about us in AAA Magazine, and then we joined the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce," he said. "Once we did those two things, we slowly got busier. We have a regular crowd that comes in 3-4 times a week."

The wine list at The Grill consists of 40 different wines, including 12 wines served by the glass. In addition, Webber said there are a minimum of three selections for each type of spirit at the restaurant.

Although the golf course may be shut down once winter hits, Webber said The Grill will still be open, albeit with an adjusted schedule.

"We are definitely going to be open year-round," he said. "In the winter, we'll be open just for dinner, instead of for both dinner and lunch."

Webber said The Grill offers parties, and reservations for groups. The restaurant is wheelchair-accessible, and is a non-smoking facility.

The Grill restaurant is located at Shepherd's Hollow Golf Course, located at 9085 Big Lake Road in Springfield Township. The Grill is open seven days a week for lunch and dinner and seats about 120. Lunch is served from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and dinner begins at 4:30 p.m. The restaurant stops seating for dinner at 9 p.m. For more information on the restaurant, call 922-0300.

Preschool, child care demand growing

BY JEFF PATRUS
Staff Writer

Much like the community they serve, child care facilities in Clarkston are facing the challenge of keeping up with growth.

The area has many child care and preschool centers to speak of, and they often run from the time parents leave for work (as early as 6:30 a.m.) until they get home from work (about 6 p.m.).

However, parents may have trouble finding a center with space available. Many of the child care administrators questioned said their centers are at or near capacity.

At least one area facility has decided to add another location in Clarkston to keep up with the demand for child care.

Lil People's Place, currently located at 6521 Citation Drive in Clarkston, has opened a second facility at 6475 Waldon Center Drive. They opened for business Monday, Aug. 6.

Kim White, director of the Citation Drive facility, said the population growth dictated that a second facility be built in the community.

"We had parents that wanted to have after-school care," she said.

The current Lil People's facility is filled to the maximum capacity of 76, and accommodates children from infant to 5 years old. Meanwhile, the new center will hold 268 children, and will be open for children up to age 12 to accommodate the after-school program that will be held there.

White said the after-school center at the Waldon Center facility will have a room for students to do their homework, and computers will be available for the children's use.

Clarkston Community Schools offers another preschool alternative in the community. The Funshine Early Childhood Center, based at Clarkston High School on Flemings Lake Road, offers a preschool program for the district's parents.

Other area child care centers, while they may not be building additional facilities, are still packed to the maximum capacity and have to turn away potential customers for that reason.

According to Delores Imbruone, director of Cedar Crest Academy's Early Childhood Center, she receives approximately 525 inquiries per year inquiring about placing children in the center, even though they can only take 100 children at a time.

She said the center's years of experience in the community are a key reason why parents are interested in their services.

"We've been here 16 years," she said. "Education is our business... We have the education and experience to support the children's needs."

She said the center has a summer preschool program for students ages 3-4

Another child care center facing a great deal of demand for its services is Planet Kids Children's Center on Clarkston Road. Owner Regina Thomson said the center first opened in 1999 with a capacity of 112. After a renovation to the center in August 2000, the capacity was expanded to 126.

She said the waiting list at the center is approximately 200-300 long. Despite that, she said there are no current plans to expand or have another Planet Kids facility in Clarkston.

"Not at this time — I don't really see that," Thomson said.

Another alternative in child care is the Christian-based child care and preschool facility. Clarkston offers several.

Children's Ark on Dixie Highway, which is affiliated with Springfield Christian Academy, has been a mainstay of the community for 15 years.

Champ chainsaw carver heads up competition

By Jason Pace
Special to The Clarkston News

When Bailey Lake Elementary students return to school this fall, their beloved bulldog mascot, carved in wood, will be waiting for them in the lobby. Gary Elzerman, known in the area for his intricate chainsaw carvings, carved the bulldog and donated it to the school this past spring.

Mosily known around the Clarkston area as "the chainsaw guy on Baldwin Road," this 35-year-old chef-turned-wood-sculptor is making quite a name for himself.

The quietly confident Elzerman said he prides himself on being the fastest and quite possibly the best wood chainsaw sculptor in the world.

One of only about 150 chainsaw wood carvers worldwide, Elzerman placed fourth at the International Invitational Championships in Reno this spring. Even though he has never taken an art class, he is the two-time reigning champion of Michigan's State Chainsaw Carving Championships, held in Oscoda, the second weekend in September each year. Elzerman has also won five People's Choice awards at various shows around the country.

Elzerman will grease up his chainsaw for Clarkston's first annual Chainsaw Sculpting Competition, December 1, in Depot Park. The Chamber of Commerce approached Elzerman about organizing the contest. With professional judges on staff and chainsaw carvers coming in from around the world, Elzerman said that it will be a world class show. "I have a feeling that in the years to come, the Clarkston Competition will grow to be the best chainsaw wood sculpting competition in the world," he said.

In the past four years, Elzerman has created over 4,000 chainsaw sculptures. "For me, carving animals is pretty easy. I could carve a three-foot-tall bear in 20 minutes," he said. "I find replicating the human body to be, by far, the most difficult form to master." He says he enjoys the satisfaction that people get from his work.

Although passers-by can often see Elzerman sculpting outside, he said that most of his work is commissioned and about 70 percent of it is done on-site.

Elzerman said he can create practically anything anybody would want. The largest piece he ever created was a 47-foot-tall eagle for a golf course. He charges $100 a foot up to four feet, and $250 a foot to 10 feet, and $500 a foot above that.

Although he primarily works with pine, he also works in hardwood. The raw materials that Elzerman uses can weigh a half-ton or more. "Occasionally I borrow my neighbor's tractor but for the most part all I use is a dolly, my truck and my muscles," Elzerman said. He gets the wood from local tree cutting services.

According to Elzerman this art form can have its drawbacks. He said that chainsaw carving is by far the most dangerous art medium. "I've had quite a few close calls but besides 87 stitches in my finger I haven't been hurt."

Elzerman never planned on being a wood carver. After graduating from the New England Culinary Institute in Vermont, Elzerman discovered that besides cooking he enjoyed ice sculpting. He honed his ice sculpting skills while working as executive chef for Machus Corporation restaurants.

Elzerman soon started his own gourmet food shop,

Autumn Crest, in Canterbury Village, but in the end, sales were too seasonal. It was at this point that Elzerman decided to leave cooking for sculpting.

After seven years of ice sculpting, Elzerman, who was a regular at the Plymouth Ice Sculpting Competition each winter, quit ice sculpting altogether. He was persuaded by a friend to try his hand at wood sculpting. "It was a totally different medium," he said. "I found out that I preferred the permanence of wood." Now after four years of chainsaw wood sculpting, Elzerman said he would never go back to ice.

Elzerman's humanitarianism shows through by the 40 pieces a year he donates to children's organizations. "Kids today have it harder than ever," he said. "That is why I only donate pieces to organizations having to do with children."

Elzerman lives in Oxford with his wife Paula and his two children, Conner, 5, and Nicole, 2.

'I have a feeling that in the years to come, the Clarkston Competition will grow to be the best chainsaw wood sculpting competition in the world.'

A larceny from a building was reported at Independence Elementary School, on Hubbard and Ortonville. The victim said sometime between July 27-30, someone gained entry into the school by using a ladder to get onto the roof. They entered the building through an unsecured roof door. Once inside, the victim played with the computers and moved some musical instruments around. The only item reported missing was a radio.

A larceny from a vehicle was reported at Pine Knob Road. The responding officer reported the following items were stolen from the victim's motorcycle at DTE Energy Music Theater: a leather jacket, valued at $1,000, and leather chaps, valued at $250. No suspects have been reported.

A malicious destruction of a vehicle was reported at Pheasant Run. The victim's vehicle was parked, locked in his driveway, and the automatic alarm was on. He reported going to bed about 12:30 in the morning and hearing glass breakage and an automatic alarm go off. The victim said he did not think anything was stolen. No suspects have been reported.

Friday, Aug. 3, a larceny of a trailer was reported at South Shore. The victim said he left a construction site at approximately 3:30 p.m. Aug. 1, leaving behind an equipment trailer with miscellaneous equipment for roofing. Upon returning to the site, he discovered the trailer and its contents were missing. No suspects or witnesses have been reported.

A larceny from a vehicle was reported at Springfield Circle and Dixie. The victim discovered a bracelet missing from the center console of the vehicle. No damage to the vehicle was reported. No witnesses or suspects have been reported.

Thursday, Aug. 2, a larceny was reported at Hummingbird Ridge and Eaton. The victim said he is the owner of a subdivision located west of Eaton and south of Rattalee Lake. He said a numbered site marker marked each lot. One of his business partners discovered July 25 that someone had removed seven of the markers from the posts. The partner removed the remaining markers. No suspects or witnesses have been reported.

Wednesday, Aug. 1, a malicious destruction of property was reported at Dixie and Davisburg. The victim said she parked her vehicle at approximately 12 a.m. July 31. She returned to her vehicle approximately 12 p.m. the same day and found the front windshield shattered on the driver's side. A vent visor was also damaged. The victim does not know who did the damage. The neighbors she contacted did not see anything either.

Mt. Zion Theatre Company announces 2001 season

The Mt. Zion Theatre Company of Waterford will produce four theatrical production runs for their 2001-2002 season. All of the plays will be held at The Mt. Zion Center for Performing Arts, 4453 Clintonville Road.

Artistic Director Monika Christensen of Waterford directs all the plays ("The Fourposter" is co-directed with Cara Brock of Lake Orion, who also acts in it, as Agnes).

Season passes are $28 (a 30 percent savings off door sales) and are on sale now. Tickets for the first production go on sale August 13, reserved seats are $8 each in advance, and $7 for student, seniors and groups of 15 or more. At the door, all seats are $10.

The second Saturday of each show will be interpreted for the deaf (except "Earnest" which will be interpreted on Sat., May 4) Shows, dates and times are as follows:

"The Fourposter" by Jan De Hartog
Show dates: Sept. 7, 8, 14, 15, 21, 22

A charming and moving chronicle tracing the life of a husband and wife, from their wedding night until they pack and move 35 years later. Join them as they fret and quarrel, and laugh and cry in the same room in which they began their married life; growing from youthful love and infatuation to mature love and friendship.

"See How They Run" by Philip King
Show dates: Nov. 2, 3, 9, 10, 16, 17

A sidesplitting farce set in 1940s British vicarage. American Penelope Toop is the unconventional former actress-turned-wife of the very proper Reverend Lionel Toop. While Lionel is away, a former acting partner, Clive, calls. While the two are repeating one of their theatrical scenes, unbeknown to them one of the parishioners sees them and draws the wrong conclusion.

The two slip out for an evening of dinner and theater unaware of the mayhem unleashed back home.

"Refuge of Lies" by Ron Reed Show

dates: Feb., 22, 23, March 1, 2, 8, 9

A 72-year-old Mennonite man is accused of having been a Nazi collaborator in Holland during World War Two. The play, which is loosely based on actual historical events, explores the effects on him, his wife, and their community.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde

Show dates: May 2, 3, 4, 9, 10, 11

This is Wilde's last play and generally regarded as his best. This masterpiece of social comedy revolves wittily around the most ingenious case of "manufactured" mistaken identity ever put into a play. It tells the tale of two young men who have taken to bending the truth to get what they want.

Jack has invented an imaginary brother, Ernest, who he uses as an excuse to escape from his dull country home to frolic in town. Algernon uses a similar technique with an imaginary friend to provide a convenient escape route to adventure in the countryside.

Their parallel deceptions eventually collide in a series of crises which promise to foil their amorous pursuits.

Day care waiting lists sometimes 300 names deep

Director Thea Thompson said the center, which has capacity for about 120 students, takes an average of 3-4 calls per day from interested parents. She said the program is accredited through the state of Michigan.

Thompson said the program has openings for the preschool program for babies and toddlers.

Another option is the Clarkston Christian School & Child Care Center, located at 6300 Clarkston Road.

Program administrator/director Bonita Laudeman said the center targets children from ages 2-1/2 years to fifth grade students. She said the center offers music, art, and gym programs.

"We've been around for 34-35 years," she said. "We started in Pontiac and moved here. Most of the time, our programs are full. Our location is very handy."

She said there are currently "very few" openings available for the upcoming school year. "Most of our child care is filled," she said.

Another Christian-based center is the Calvary Child Care Center, adjacent to Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church on Bluegrass.

Executive director Jeanne Santala-Rose said the center serves about 54 children on a full- and part-time basis, with 35 families taking part in the program. She said the center serves students from infancy (about 6 weeks of age) until they go to kindergarten.

A new feature of the center this year is the kindergarten latchkey program, where kindergarten students who attend school in the morning stay at the center during the afternoon, or vice versa.

Santala-Rose said the staff at the center had not planned on the kindergarten latchkey program this year, but are nonetheless happy with how it turned out.

"It wasn't something we had planned to do," she said.

Other activities offered at the center are games, stories, songs, arts and crafts, and chapel time with the church's pastor and music director.

She said the center has a maximum capacity of 50 children per day, but with some students only attending on a part-time basis, the center is at or below capacity each day.

Santala-Rose said the facility currently has space available for all age levels, particularly at the infant and preschool levels. However, she also said space is limited for toddlers ages 12-30 months.

Everest Academy, a Catholic school in Clarkston, offers preschool programs for three- and four-year olds.

The three-year old program is held Tuesdays and Thursday mornings from 8:30-11 a.m., while the four-year-old program is held Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings from 8:30-11 a.m., and in the afternoons from Monday-Thursday, from 1-3:10 p.m.

"The preschool is similar to others in that they have carpet time and different activities at the table, such as coloring and writing," said Nancy Van Ryswyck, assistant principal of girls and the elementary school at Everest. "They begin learning numbers, letters, days of the week, those types of things. They even learn some of those in Spanish."

She also said the classes offer a phonics-based language arts program, and learn how to count and put things in order.

In addition, Van Ryswyck said the students learn several things related to the Catholic faith, such as Bible stories, the saint of the day, and Christmas stories during that time of year.

She said because of the size of the classrooms, class size is limited to 16 people. Van Ryswyck said openings are available for the three-year-old morning class and the four-year-old afternoon class. Interested parents should contact Everest Academy at 620-3390.

curbs should begin this week. Curb and gutter work on the west side of Main Street is nearly complete, Natschke said.

He said hopefully by next week work will begin on sidewalks, behind the curbs and also some work has to be done on retaining walls near Waldon Road.

Work on the east side of Main Street should begin around Labor Day, Natschke said.

However, before work switches sides, Main Street will be milled and resurfaced. That portion of the project should last only a few days, Natschke said.

Traffic will be continually open in both directions along Main Street and no road closures are currently planned, Natschke said.

If no two people are alike... why should their funerals be?

They shouldn't, at least we don't think so. To be truly memorable, a service should reflect the tastes and preferences of the person who has died. Which is why we believe in offering a boundless variety of service options. You can even add your own personal touch. Are football players safe in the heat?

Trainer, coach say Wolves take all the necessary precautions

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The MVP of Monday's opening practice didn't have pads, a jersey number or even a position. It didn't make a catch, kick or tackle. But everyone on the Clarkston varsity football team seemed to enjoy its company. The new team member — a mist machine.

The new machine, which was donated from Independence Township Fire Department, made its debut on Aug. 6, which was the first day of two-a-day practices for football teams across the state. The Michigan High School Athletic Association mandates that schools must have three days of practice before players can put on the pads for full contact practice which begins Thursday.

But the mist machine about the only change in practice this year — even after Minnesota Vikings All Pro offensive tackle Korey Stringer died Aug. 1 from heat during and NFL training camp.

Temperatures on Monday morning's practice were in the mid 80's and the sun was unrelenting. But even after the tragedy in the NFL and scorching temperatures it was business as usual for the most part at Clarkston High School Monday.

Hundreds gather at Depot Park for annual fundraiser

Event makes over $5,600 for SCAMP, second most in history

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Jaguars, Ferraris and all kinds of rare and exotic automobiles were admired by hundreds of people last week at Depot Park.

The annual SCAMP fundraiser, Concours in the Park, was held Aug. 3 with all proceeds benefiting the summer camp which benefits children with special needs in the area.

Jeri Batt, Executive Director of North Oakland Scamp Fundraising Corporation, said the event drew quite a crowd and had an excellent turnout.

"We had a great day," she said. "I'd say there were about 100 cars there and we did quite well (financially)."

Batt said $5,600 was raised for SCAMP, the second highest in its history. Last year's event drew under $5,000, Batt said. 1999 was the event's highest year with over $6,000 going to SCAMP.

Even with the changes, the Lions will go 5-11

Last year I picked the Lions to go 9-7 and not make the playoffs. Guess what the Lions did? They went 9-7 and didn't make the playoffs. This year I pick the Lions to go 5-11.

I know, on paper there's no reason they should do that bad. They've got a new coach in Marty Mornhinweg, a new president and CEO and a real football man in charge running the place in Matt Millen.

They've got a new offense and just about everybody returning, no holdouts before camp, nobody retiring before camp and overall most of their guys should be healthy for the opener.

So why the pessimistic attitude?

It's the Lions.

Can't you already hear the post game discussions after the last game of the season?

"This team is cursed!"

"I'm done rooting for the Lions!"

"All they did was change the guys who wear suits and headsets, they didn't change anybody who wears a number!"

The Lions defense should be better, or just as good as last season.

The offense should be better, or at least different. But that new west coast offense is asking a lot of a young offensive line. If that unit can gel and stay healthy and give quarterback Charlie Batch time to set and throw a 5-11 season won't happen. But this is my gut feeling here folks. Sorry — I love the Lions as much as anybody, but here's a quick breakdown of what's in store for all of us Honolulu Blue and Silver backers this fall.

Week One — Sept. 9 at Green Bay 1 p.m. Anything can happen in the season opener, but this one doesn't bode well for the Lions. Detroit gives up four sacks and Charlie Batch is out 3-4 weeks with an injury. Enter Jim Harbaugh.

Week Two — Sept. 16 vs. Dallas 1 p.m. The Lions open their final season at the Silverdome with Captain Comeback under center and he wins this one against a lowly Cowboy Club.

Week Three — Sept. 27 1 p.m. at Cleveland. The Lions are weak on the road, but not this weak. They improve to 2-1 and get people a little optimistic.

Week 4 — Monday, Oct. 8 vs. St. Louis 9 p.m. Batch returns from his injury and leads the Lions to an inspiring win as Detroit moves their record to 3-1.

Week 5 — Oct. 14 at Minnesota 1 p.m. Detroit's three-game winning streak comes to a halt in the Metrodome. The Vikings are still the team to beat in the division, even without Korey Stringer.

Week 6 — Oct. 21 vs. Tennessee 1 p.m. The Lions beat a legitimate contender for the Super Bowl and get the fans back on their side as they improve to 4-2.

Week 7 — Oct. 28 vs. Cincinnati 1 p.m. The Bengals win only a few games a year, but this one comes at the expense of the Lions. This is the game Detroit is supposed to win, but instead, well we know the drill by now.

Week 8 — Nov. 4 at San Francisco 4 p.m. A homecoming of sorts for Mornhinweg, but it's not a nice one. The Lions lose bad on this west coast trip to Jeff Garcia and company.

Week 9 — Nov. 11 at Tampa Bay 1 p.m. Even if the weather is good, the Lions lose here as Mike Alstott and Warrick Dunn have career days to drop the Lions to below .500 at 4-5.

Week 10 — Nov. 18 at Arizona 4:15 p.m. The Lions shouldn't lose to both the Bengals and Cardinals in the same year, but they do this year and fall to 4-6.

Week 11 — Nov. 22 12:30 p.m. (Thanksgiving) The Lions win on Turkey Day. It's a given as they bump up to 5-6 and get back in the playoff hunt.

Week 12 — Dec. 2 at Chicago 1 p.m. The long layoff doesn't bode well for Detroit as an improved Chicago team makes a statement at Soldier Field. Playoffs look grim as Detroit falls to 5-7.

Week 13 — Dec. 9 vs. Tampa Bay. In a must win game the Lions fall apart and continue to their tradition of having terrible Decembers. Only a miracle can give the Lions a playoff bid now as they fall to 5-8.

Week 14 — Dec. 16 vs. Minnesota 1 p.m. Randy Moss lights up our secondary again and Cris Carter stops the game because he has to cry for 30 minutes after catching yet another pass. Playoffs are out as Detroit falls to 5-9.

Week 15 — Dec. 23 at Pittsburgh 1 p.m. This is the one game Kordell Stewart looks like a legitimate NFL quarterback as he throws for 300 yards against an uninspired Lions club.

Week 16 — Dec. 30 vs. Chicago 1 p.m. Detroit had everything to play for last year in its season finale against the Bears, but instead lost to a group which came in at 4-11. This year the roles are reversed as Chicago is fighting for a playoff bid and the Lions have nothing to play for. The last game ever played at the Silverdome ends in a disappointing loss. A fitting end to a facility which hasn't seen many big wins in its history. Only long lines at the bathroom, overpriced concessions, and heartbroken fans are left at the end of this one.

But in 2002 the offensive line will have a year under its belt and Batch will be used to the West Coast offense! Plus Ford Field opens up. Better hurry for those 2002 season tickets. But personally, 2001 just isn't shaping up all that great in my mind.

Mesi takes first at Duke

The Detroit Cheetah Track Club 3200 meter relay team consisting of Amber Hay, Alexandre Cunningham, Lauren Mesi (Clarkston) and Kelly Sampson, ran a 9:44.61 for first place at the 2001 Russell E. Manors of Deerwood brings luxury, comfort

New development north of I-75 just off M-15 offers beautiful homes, great location

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

An award-winning residential builder has made its way to the Clarkston area.

Robert R. Jones Associates' newest community, in the final phase of The Manors of Deerwood, is located just north of I-75 off of M-15, north of downtown Clarkston. The new development offers 24 homesites, ranging in size from just over a half-acre to over two acres.

Pat Hansen, Robert R. Jones Associates sales counselor said the location is one of the biggest strengths of the new development.

"It's secluded, yet very convenient. Buyers will quickly forget how close they are to the expressway because of the neighborhood's natural beauty, rolling terrain, and quiet, wooded setting," Hansen said.

"You get that 'up north' feeling in this community. It's very peaceful."

Two model homes and one spec home are currently available. Homesite premiums vary in price based upon their location and size.

The two model home plans include the following:
The Galleria 203 — Second floor master suite, four bedrooms, four full baths, tow half baths, formal

Lil' Peoples' Place stresses learning to little ones

New location near Sashabaw and Waldon still has openings for fall

BY ED DAVIS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

There's a new place in town for youngsters to learn.

Lil' Peoples' Place opened a new location at 6475 at Waldon Center Drive Aug. 6 because their other location on Citation Drive has been full for three years, owner and director Jean Dasuqi said Monday.

Dasuqi hosted a grand opening for parents and youngsters to get a closer look at the new facility Aug. 3. There, people could meet with teachers and get a hands on feel as to what makes Lil' Peoples' Place a special place for youngsters, Dasuqi said.

"It's not play based here," Dasuqi said. "We're learning based. We really stress the individualism of each child."

Lil' Peoples' Place offers care for youngsters from infant age all the way to before and after care for elementary school children, Dasuqi said.

Fall enrollment is still open on a limited basis. Dasuqi said there has been a positive response to the new center.

"We're about three-fourths of the way full," she said. "We have about 150 kids for the fall already."

Two new programs Dasuqi is excited about are the all day kindergarten and young 5 programs.

Lil' Peoples' Place is open from 6:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. For more information contact Jean Dasuqi at 248-620-8600.

living and dining room, expansive kitchen/nook open to family room with fireplace, large library, two staircases, upper computer/study area and four car garage. Approximate square footage is 4,135 and the plan's base price is $619,000.

The Fairfield — First floor master suite, four bedrooms, three and one-half baths, two-story foyer and great room, kitchen/nook open to gathering room with fireplace, computer loft and four car garage. Approximate square footage is 3,650 and the plan's base price is $565,000. There are several other plans for buyers to choose from. All Robert R. Jones Associates' plans are copyrighted, protecting each home buyer's investment, Hansen said.

Hansen noted several special features within the homes which set Robert R. Jones Associates' Manors of Deerwood community apart from other new developments in the area. She noted the full brick exteriors, dramatic, free-floating staircase in the foyer of the Galleria, intricately detailed crown moldings, 8-foot solid core interior doors with detailed moldings, oversized master baths, his and hers walk-in closets, large walk-in pantries, and 9-foot-4 inch ceilings as well as two story ceilings.

Among the most popular features in these luxury homes are the spacious kitchens, many with oversized islands, which open up into gathering rooms with fireplaces.

"These homes are great for entertaining," Hansen said. "People really appreciate the way the kitchen and nook adjoin the gathering room. The homes are ideal for holiday and other family gatherings. Because of our unique designs, the homes have a custom feel without the custom price."

Children who live in the Manors of Deerwood will be in the Clarkston school district. They will attend Independence Elementary, Clarkston Middle School and Clarkston High School.

Football

"For the most part we haven't changed anything," McClellan said. "The new mister is about the only thing that's different. Kids can take off their helmets if they get too hot which is kind of a change, but we make sure kids get plenty of water out here."

McClellan said while she hasn't changed her routine much, parents have taken more of an interest in her job since Stringer's death.

She said about four or five parents have asked questions about conditioning and what precautions she and other members of the Clarkston staff are taking.

"That's four or five more than usually have questions," she said. "But we sit down with the kids and we talked to them all last week during conditioning and stressed how important it is to keep hydrated. We've been talking about that even before Stringer died."

"The coaches are trying to coach and not dwell on it (Stringer's death). I feel I'm doing the same stuff I've always done here. You have to watch the big kids and make sure all the kids are doing alright, but I haven't changed much of what I'm doing. Not at all," McClellan said.

Kurt Richardson, varsity head coach agreed with McClellan by saying for the most part it was business as usual at camp.

"We always take care of the kids out here and make sure we're doing everything possible to keep them in good shape," Richardson said. "We're going to try that mister for a few days and we'll probably end up buying one."

Temperatures are forecasted to remain in the high 80's the rest of the week which means the mist machine will continue to get a workout and water bottles won't be without company for long.

There's a good chance the Clarkston opener will have a heat index in at least the 80's if not the 90's. The Wolves open the season at home Aug. 24 vs. Utica Eisenhower at 7 p.m.

Clarkston trainer Gail McClellan stands with assistant trainer Luke Prudhomme, another youngster and the new mist machine which was donated by the Independence Township Fire Dept.

"That's the thing. You have to get them ready to play in the heat somehow," McClellan said.

If temperatures continue to stay above normal, that may mean afternoon practices will be switched to evening workouts to avoid the hottest parts of the day.

But regardless, the pads go on Aug. 9 and the mist machine will probably have another busy day on the Clarkston High School practice fields.

Proceeds from the entree fees, ice cream, pop and water and items purchased at silent auction all benefited SCAMP. About $2,000 in entree fees, $2,100 from the silent auction and $1,500 from food sales were generated, Batt said.

"We had a strong crowd and sold over 600 dishes of ice cream," she said. "All the money goes to SCAMP."

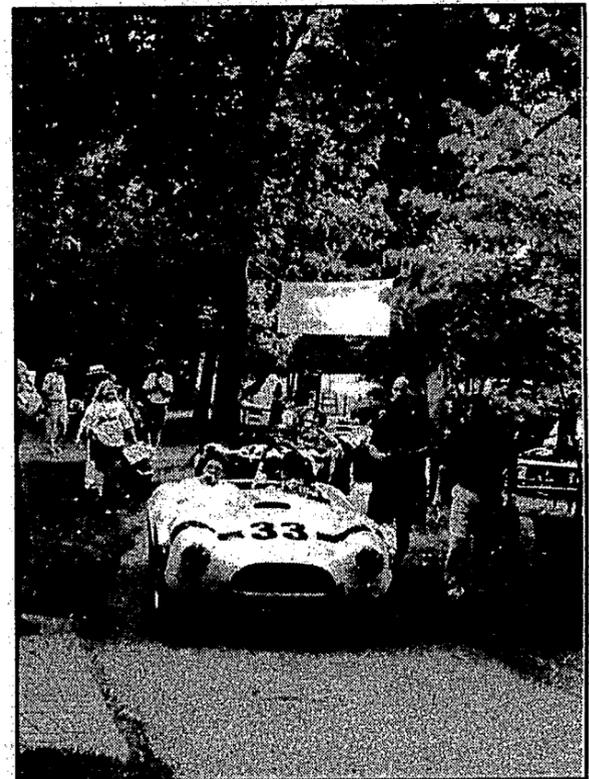

The ice cream was purchased from Crook's Dairy Farm on a discounted rate, Batt said.

Batt said the construction didn't seem to hurt the event's turnout any.

"Car owners came from all over and I don't think a lot of them knew about it (the construction)," she said. "But most of the walk-in traffic from people in town didn't seem to have any problem with it. I didn't hear of anybody having a hard time finding a place to park."

"We had a great time and it all went to SCAMP," she said.

(Right) Exotic cars of all kinds filed into Depot Park on the afternoon of Aug. 3. These racing cars drew the attention of many onlookers as they revved their engines on their way to the park.

The event drew quite a crowd as people from all over the Metro Detroit area came together at Depot Park to admire each others cars. Entry fees, food sales and money made from the auction all went to benefit SCAMP.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR DRINKING WATER

Monitoring Requirements Not Met for Waters Edge, WSSN 06915

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a regular basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. During the month of May 2001 we did not collect the required number of follow-up samples within twenty-four hours of notification of a positive sample result. The violation does not pose a threat to the quality of the supply's water.

What should I do? There is nothing you need to do at this time. This is not an emergency. You do not need to boil water or use an alternative source of water at this time.

What happened? What is being done? Follow up samples collected in May and June 2001 revealed the water was in compliance at that time. The facility is taking steps to assure monitoring will be provided as required in the future.

For more information, please contact Ms. Linda Richardson, at 248-625-8222 or the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality at 734-953-1472.

COUNTY OF OAKLAND

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE AMENDMENT TO

THE WATER SUPPLY SYSTEMS REGULATIONS

An Ordinance to amend Chapter 20, Article II of the Charter Township of Independence Code of Ordinances, the Water Supply System regulations, to add water usage regulations, to regulate water supply emergencies, and to allow for mandatory alternate day lawn watering.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE ORDINANCES:

Section 1 of Ordinance

Chapter 20, Article 11 of the Ordinance Code, shall be amended by adding a new Section 20-28 to read as follows:
Chapter 20

ARTICLE II, WATER SUPPLY SYSTEMS

Section 20-28. Water Usage Regulations; Water Supply Emergencies; Alternate Day Lawn Watering.

(a) A water supply emergency shall be deemed to exist whenever the Township Supervisor finds on the basis of drought conditions, depletion of water supply, reduction in water pressure or other reasons, that there is a threat of loss of water supply to the community or any portion of the community, and the Township Supervisor causes a declaration of such water supply emergency to be publicly posted and announced, published or mailed in the manner set forth in subsection 20-28(c). A water supply emergency may be declared when the Supervisor receives notification from the Independence Township Department of Public Works Director or the offices of the Oakland County Drain Commissioner or the State Department of Environmental Quality that the supply or pressure demand for water cannot be satisfactorily accommodated and general welfare is likely to be endangered in the community or in any portion of the community.

(b) A declaration of water supply emergency shall designate the particular areas of the Township affected by the water supply emergency, and as to such areas, may, among other related actions or prohibitions:

- (1) Prohibit the watering of lawns and landscaping and all outdoor water use, except on an alternate day basis permitting such use on even-numbered days solely for properties with even-numbered addresses and on odd-numbered days solely for properties with odd-numbered addresses; or
- (2) Prohibit all watering of lawns and landscaping and all outdoor water use, when a prohibition under subsection 20-28(b)(1) is deemed not sufficient.

(c) The Township Supervisor shall cause such declaration to be posted at the Township Hall. Additionally, the Township Supervisor shall, to the extent feasible, cause such declaration to be publicly announced by broadcast from a radio or television station, with a normal operating range covering the township published in a newspaper of general circulation throughout the township or mailed by certified mail, return receipt requested, to all property owners within the area identified in the declaration as being affected by the water supply emergency at the address listed on the Township tax rolls for such properties.

(d) The Township Supervisor shall make or cause to be made a record of each time and date when any declaration is announced to the public in accordance with this Section.

(e) A water supply emergency shall be deemed to exist irrespective of whether notification to provided under subsection 20-28(c), as to persons otherwise provided with direct notice of such a water supply emergency.

(f) It shall be unlawful for any person to utilize water from the Township water supply system for any type of outdoor use, in contravention of a declared water supply emergency, other than responding to a fire emergency. The prohibition shall remain in effect twenty-four (24) hours per day, seven (7) days per week until the water supply emergency is declared ended by the Township Supervisor. The Township Supervisor may, if requested in advance provide exceptions to the restrictions of this Section in cases of new lawn or landscaping installations, or where necessary to prevent imminent financial loss to the water user.

(g) Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be responsible for a municipal civil infraction and subject to the provisions of subsection 1-9.5(2).

(h) In addition to, but separate from, the penalties provided for in subsection 20-28(g), any violation of the Township may commence an appropriate civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction for an injunctive order abating or enjoining the violation, and for any other appropriate relief.

Section 2 of Ordinance

This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency ordinance, adopted by the Township Board on an emergency basis due to an immediate emergency circumstance in which Township residents serviced by the Township water supply system are experiencing significant losses of water pressure due to the combination of increased demands being placed on the Township water supply system, weather conditions, and deterioration of existing isolated wells within the system.

Section 3 of Ordinance

The provisions of this Ordinance are hereby ordered to take effect immediately upon publication as provided by law.

Section 4 of Ordinance

All ordinances or parts of ordinances, conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance are hereby repealed, however, such repealer shall be to the limited extent of express conflict, and shall not terminate the full force and effect of an ordinance to the extent that it regulates subject matter outside the scope of this Ordinance.

CERTIFICATION

The foregoing Ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of the Charter Township of Independence at a meeting of the Board duly called and held on the 7 day of August 2001, to be effective upon publication as provided by law.
