Student enrollment up 2.3 percent

Increase smaller than in past two years

BY MARALEE COOK
Clarkston News Editor

As Clarkston school board members and administrators grapple with a growing student population, they may be glad to know that growth slowed a little this year.

The number of students at Clarkston schools climbed to 7,730 this year, up 178 students from last year's fall count of 7,551.

The numbers are unofficial, and come from the count taken at the schools September 26. A final count allowing for absences will be made in about 10 days.

The increase is about 2.3 percent — smaller than the 4 percent growth tallied in 2000 as well as 1999. Clarkston first topped the 7,000 mark in the fall of 1998 with 7,023 students.

The count is taken after the first four weeks of classes to determine the amount of state aid for the district. Per pupil funding is taken from a blend of two counts done during the calendar year. Twenty percent of this year's funding will come from the February 2001 count, which was 7,559, and 80 percent from the September 2001 tally.

The state aid this year is $6,747, up from $6,447 last year, according to Anita Banach, the schools' community relations director. Banach cautioned a cut in state

There's light at end of Main Street construction tunnel

BY MARALEE COOK
Clarkston News Editor

Pray for sunshine.

That's the recommendation from MDOT engineer Allen Schneck, who said paving on M-15 can begin next week as long as it doesn't rain.

"This week is a big prep week," said Schneck. "We're getting everything ready to begin paving the week of October 8."

Installation of the water main on the east side of Main Street is complete and crews are doing pressure checks for leaks. The sidewalk at the south end of the east side of M-15 has been replaced and crews are seeding, mulching, putting down fertilizer and cleaning up.

Installation of concrete curbs will take place on the east side, followed by installation of light pole foundations and wiring.

"Other miscellaneous things like adjustment of manhole covers for the new grades will be going on. By the end of the week the asphalt contractor will patch up some spots," said Schneck.

Residents have wondered why the lamps on the street lights installed on the west side of the street hang over the sidewalk instead of the street. Hubbell Roth and Clark Electrical Project Manager, Dave Kelley, said the lights started out to be pedestrian lighting.

"We're looking into new streetlights have been installed on the west side of Main Street. The lamps may be turned to face the street, depending on the cost.

changing that to turn the lamps 180 degrees at the city's request, but we'll have to raise them up to do that," said Kelley. He added the lamps could be hit by trucks if they were turned around now.

The light posts on the west side of the street will be left alone for now. "Until we get a price to raise and move the lights, the project's at a standstill," said Kelley.

Schneck said the target for completion of the project is still the end of October. "The contractor filed for some days of extension, but we denied them," he said.

Community works to help terror victims

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston community groups are banding together to help their fellow American citizens affected by the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks in New York and Washington.

Whether it be raising money for the American Red Cross, or holding a prayer service at a local church, several local organizations are finding ways to reach out to those in need.

Students and teachers in Clarkston Community Schools are organizing several activities toward that end.

Sashabaw Middle School principal Tom Bialk said his school, along with others in the district, will be raising money for the Red Cross. In addition, he said, a school assembly was held Sept. 14 to help students learn more about the events that took place three days earlier.

"We had a power point presentation that dealt with the Washington and New York news reports," he said. "We sang patriotic songs and did the Pledge of Allegiance. I assured them they were safe at Sashabaw Middle School, and that their parents would protect them. They were very respectful and mindful of the tragedy."

Clarkston High School principal John Diliiegghio said several student organizations, including the Octagon (or Junior Optimist) Club, and the National Honor Society, raised funds for the relief efforts, and the school's Diversity Club held a candle ceremony during the most recent home football game Sept. 14 against Lake Orion.

In addition, Diliiegghio said students and teacher used the 1-1/2 hours allocated for the school's seminar session to discuss their feelings about the attacks.

The Sashabaw Middle School and Clarkston Middle School Junior Optimist Clubs are also reaching out to help the terrorist attack victims.

The clubs will be hold a car wash Oct. 6 to help the victims of the attack. The car wash will be held at Brose Electric Shop, 5897 Dixie Highway, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Several of Clarkston's churches are finding different ways to reach out during this crisis.

Pastor Glen Currie at Maranatha Baptist Church in Clarkston said while his church is not putting together any specific events to help with the crisis, he is encouraging his congregation to help out those organizations that can help those in need.

"We've been stressing the importance of prayer for the families and the victims," he said. "We're urging people to get involved in charitable organization. We've had special prayer services, and have been drawing upon God's strength and help in this crisis. People are very fearful of what may happen."

Currie said the congregation has offered up prayers for President George W. Bush and members of the congregation who have family members in the armed services.

Pastor Russ Reemtsma of the First Baptist Church of Clarkston said the church is putting together several items to be sent to the victims.

"We're collecting goods to send over to New York," he said. "We provided addresses for people to donate to. I'm planning on taking something monetarily as well."

In addition, Reemtsma said he presented a special message at the Sept. 16 services, called "Dealing With The Unthinkable," to encourage the congregation to take a closer look at God in this time of crisis.

Sr. Barbara Jean Pelak, Christian service coordinator at St. Daniel Catholic Church, said the church's congregation has been collaborating with the Waterford Church of Christ on relief efforts. She said flashlights, batteries, and water, among other items, will be collected and donated to the victims and the relief workers.

Left, Katie Church, a seventh grader at Sashabaw Middle School, and younger sister Samantha, 9, made red, white and blue ribbons to help raise money for the victims of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks in New York and Washington. The youngsters have raised over $75 from the sale of the ribbons. Above, Jessica Lazo, 9, and James Martin, 10, joined forces and put together a lemonade stand to help raise money for the victims and have raised over $200 to go toward relief efforts.

Independence Elementary School 4th grader Erica Cale, her 11 year-old brother Sean and 9 year-old cousin Missy Sebring, with help from siblings and family members, devoted hours making ribbons and hair bows to sell to collect money to send to the Red Cross. The group has raised $290 through their efforts, selling many of the items at Crafts and Cider and Taste of Clarkston/Fun Daze Sept. 22. Photo courtesy of Nancy Sebring-Cale.

In addition, Pelak said the church will have a special collection Sept. 23 designated for the relief efforts, and also said a sheet will be included in that week's church bulletin listing individual, family, and neighborhood prayer services.

Another church involved in the relief efforts is not located in Clarkston, but is relying upon a lot of support from the area.

The Waterford Church of Christ has enlisted the support of several Clarkston-based businesses in their efforts to collect donations and deliver them to the people of New York.

The church has teamed with Daimler-Chrysler to have semis available for delivering the donations Sept. 21 to New York. The relief efforts were focused on collecting the following goods: first aid supplies, bottled water, batteries, flashlights, work gloves, masks and goggles, protein drinks and energy bars, and potato chips and pretzels.

Clarkston United Methodist Church is also collecting money and other goods to help relief efforts. All proceeds will be sent to the United Methodist Church Mission. The church is located on 6600 Waldon. For more information, call 625-1611.

Episcopal Relief and Development, the national relief agency of the Episcopal Church, is another agency that is taking donations to help in the recover efforts.

Donations, payable to Episcopal Relief and Development, may be sent to: Episcopal Relief and Development, c/o September 11 Disaster, Box 12043, Newark, NJ 07101.

For more information, visit their Web site at <http://www.er-d.org/> or call 1-212-716-6020.

School officials grapple with CHS overcrowding

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston High School is overpopulated and School Board members and administrators are beginning to whittle down options to deal with expected additional overcrowding in the future.

Opened in 1998, the school was built with an academic area for 2,000 students with classrooms able to hold 30 students. Currently, there are 2,275 students.

To compensate, specialty areas like the basketball ticket booth, custodial closet, and faculty dining room among others have been turned into classrooms, said Pat Brumback, asst. superintendent for 9-12 operations.

It is estimated by 2009-2010 the high school will house 2,769 students based on current enrollment of elementary and middle schools, and growth in the community.

Clarkston Schools Superintendent Dr. Al Roberts sought the opinions of board members and administrators at the September 24 meeting.

■ Facilities

Goals: work with administrative team to create and implement a plan to address student enrollment and space utilization challenges while examining the school's philosophical and financial base.

Strategies: the establishment of action teams to develop recommendations for each identified strategy. These considerations include:

1. Add more space--either by building a new ninth grade facility, a new high school building, adding on to the current high school; or renting additional space.

This allows the schools to divide a large population into two smaller groups, said Brumback. However, the district doesn't own land big enough for a new high school, and more space means more costs. Plus, Brumback is concerned another high school may promote unnecessary competition between the two high schools.

2. Change curriculum--reduce the number of required credits for a shorter experience for students at the high school; require distance learning; dual enrollment; or eliminate certain classes and electives.

Brumback said distance learning gets students better prepared for the "real world," but research regarding further benefits of distance learning are incomplete. There is also a transportation issue that would go along with this consideration. And it may not necessarily solve the space needs problem, Brumback added.

3. Use time differently--extend the day; block scheduling; year round school; or any combination of the three.

Brumback said the day could extend to ten-hours, and students may be given a more "college-like" schedule with multi-hour/intermittent-day classes.

Block scheduling would break the population in half, she said. As an example, seniors and juniors could attend in the morning and sophomores and freshmen in the afternoon.

Considerations for year round school include offering five sessions of 45 class days with 15 days off. Students would be required to complete four of the five sessions. This would lessen the population 20 percent.

Lessening the population 25 percent would be a schedule of four sessions of 60 days with a minimum break between sessions. Students would be assigned to attend three of the four sessions.

These options allow the facility to get it's maximum use and control the high school climate, said Brumback. But, she wondered how this would affect the lives of parents and students, transportation, sports, and more.

Following the discussion, Dr. Roberts concluded a new building isn't possible at this time, an extended day and efficient use of space needs will further be explored, and specific data will be collected.

The board will address facilities planning for the K-8 division at their October 22 meeting. Before then, planning committees will be initiated for a closer look the various considerations proposed. The committees will be made up of a board liaison and staff members, and may request the input of students.

Other goals and strategies which coincide with space needs were discussed at a special meeting September 22 and include:

■ Curriculum

Goals: work to develop a better understanding of the current curriculum, the alignment of course offerings and program integration.

Strategies: dedicate one workshop to the school improvement process and the curriculum goals developed at the building level.

■ Finances

Goals: work with the director of business and finance to track the budget in order to meet long and short-term goals and set up protocol and timelines for the future.

Strategies: implement a monthly informational meeting with members of the board to facilitate greater understanding of the budget process.

■ Communications

Goals: work with the communications coordinator to explore avenues of two-way communication available to the board, and help develop a board communication plan.

Strategies: establishing an E-mail network for two-way communication between board members; publishing and distributing time and informative board briefs keeping internal staff informed before each board meeting; and complete a community survey to get a clear understanding of what the community thinks about the schools--the positives, challenges and more.

Public Relations Coordinator Anita Banach said other community surveys were conducted in 1983, 1987, and 1991.

City to remove loosestrife

Sale of invasive plant banned in Michigan

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston City Council has taken action to deal with an invasive plant along White Lake Road.

The council, at its Sept. 10 meeting, authorized root removal for next year's breeding of purple loosestrife plants, as well as the release of beetles onto the plants.

Denise Prock, an Independence Township resident and member of the volunteer program Master Gardeners, talked to the board about how to control loosestrife. She said the introduction of a specific type of beetle, known as galerucella, would take place in June 2002.

According to Clarkston City Manager Art Pappas, Prock will be responsible for the introduction of beetles into the loosestrife.

Prock said loosestrife, a plant that originates in Europe and Asia, is prevalent in all of the Great Lakes and throughout much of the United States.

"It overtakes all the natural vegetation," she said. "Once it does that, it's a loss of habitat for a lot of plants and animals. It affects a lot of the insect population."

Pappas said the problem has been most prevalent around White Lake Road, behind Depot Park. "It's taken over the swamp area," he said. "It's just invasive. It's not natural to this area."

Prock said she approached Pappas about the situation last spring, and Pappas recommended at that time that Prock come and speak to the board about the matter.

Local attorney Neil Wallace was present at the council meeting, and described the problems he has had with the plant at his residence on Parke Lake.

"It is a non-native species — sort of a water plant," he said. "I don't know how it got introduced here, but it doesn't belong. It will literally invade and take over a wetland. It's very strong, tough to kill."

Prock said loosestrife is commonplace among residential areas such as Wallace's.

"I think it is on a lot of private property," she said. "Anyone on a lakefront probably has it on their property. It does invade shallow areas around the lake."

Wallace said he supports the ef-

Patriotic woodcarving stolen

'It's a sign of our freedom -- not freedom to steal.' Woodcarving owner Sandy Schudlich

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The day of the September 11 terrorist attacks on the nation, Clarkston resident Robert Schudlich put his emotions into a hobby, and in a patriotic gesture created a chainsaw-wood carving of an eagle.

The 30-inch tall, painted eagle sat on a piece of wood and held two crisscrossed American flags in its feet. "It looked real," according to Schudlich's wife, Sandy.

But it no longer graces the family's Andersonville front lawn—it was stolen.

A police report filed September 26 stated the carving, valued at $175, was stolen sometime between 9 p.m., Friday, September 21 and 8 a.m., the next day.

The Schudlichs have no idea who could have done such a thing. And the report states there was no usable evidence at the scene and no witnesses.

"We are highly upset over this, especially for what it stands for," said Sandy. "We are showing our patriotism, supporting our fellow people; it's a sign of our freedom—not freedom to come by and steal."

Sandy said she and her husband, who have both lived in Clarkston all their lives, are not so much upset with the fact that it was stolen, but rather that it was stolen at this delicate time in our country when everyone should be uniting.

"How could somebody do that?" she wondered.

Anyone with info should call the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Springfield Township Substation at 625-8531.

This patriotic wood-carved eagle was stolen from a Clarkston home, Sept. 21.

Veterans should educate students about horrors of war

Why is there so much hate in the world! It causes wars for power, greed and violence all because people, countries and even religious groups disagree.

In the beginning God never intended for mankind to be disobedient to Him. He gave them an option to choose right from wrong.

I am asking all combat Veterans of all wars to band together as a group and ask all the boards of education all over America and our own schools to have the veterans to educate all of the students about the horrors of war and other conflicts.

The true facts and experiences and terrible stories have never been revealed before. A few of us in the past have been to high schools a few times, but only to those that have history. All students should know what greed, hate and violence can do.

The disaster in New York City is an example of hate. Maybe the Veterans can speak out now to ease their feelings of the past.

This is a reminder to all of the men and women who gave their lives for freedom and peace. Freedom and peace are all races and creeds in the world living in harmony, working together to make a strong nation and alliance.

God Bless America

Faith for Tomorrow

As I look at the nation
I shudder with fear.
My heart mourns with anger,
And my eyes start to tear.

I am holding back,
Trying not to cry.
Viewing the tragedy
Watching innocence die.

The flashbacks still strike
From that shocking day.
On the news in complete horror
The images replay.

The people are screaming
As they run to hide.
The lucky ones made it --
But majority died.

5,000 still missing
So hard to trace.
The ruins are endless;
Debris all over the place

Families who have lost,
Are searching and hoping.
To them it's unreal,
As they struggle coping.

I watch at home,
From a distance safe.
I'm praying and trying
To keep up the faith.

So I ask God for mercy
For those who did die.
Why they left us so soon,
We'll never know why.

It makes me upset --
These crimes of hate.
But I feel all I can do
Is sit back and wait.

But I can't stand to sit here,
I want to help out.
It is now that I realize
What helping's about.

We can all contribute
If we rise one and all.
As a country united
There's no way we can fall.

These times have been rough,
As we are engulfed with sorrow.
But we have to keep strong
And have faith for tomorrow.

We must protect Michigan's Great Lakes

Protecting the Great Lakes is an issue of great importance to Michigan residents as well as people in our neighbor states and provinces in Canada. The Great Lakes are the largest freshwater bodies in the world. They are a source of drinking water, play a pivotal role for companies shipping goods throughout the region and are a source of recreation for millions of residents and visitors to our state.

Earlier this year, House Republicans introduced a land use strategy. Part of the plan includes protecting our lakes, and rivers. Particularly it addresses the need to work with the federal government and Canada to stop the entry of nuisance foreign aquatic species into Michigan's lakes and rivers.

The Great Lakes and inland lakes are natural treasures of the state and we must do all in our power to protect their health. I am pleased to report legislators recently introduced additional measures to safeguard our state's greatest resource.

We plan to pass a resolution urging Congress to pass a federal aid program similar to a recently enacted package for the Everglades. The Great Lakes serve tens of millions of people. We depend on them for commerce, recreation and as a source of freshwater. They deserve some federal attention.

The new legislation calls on the federal government to work with Canada to remove the natural gas drilling platforms currently in the Great Lakes. It also provides a moratorium on directional drilling except in times of national or state energy emergencies.

The plan also includes a resolution opposing federalization of the Great Lakes. We must work to convince Congress that Michigan and other Great Lakes states know how to be better stewards of this valuable resource. Governors, legislators and local elected officials are in a better position to ensure their continued health because of their proximity to the situation and extensive experience working to protect them.

The House has taken action in yet another way to protect the environment. As you know, the cost of purchasing gasoline for your vehicles has increased greatly over the last few years. People are looking for ways to maintain an adequate supply of competitively priced energy, but worry that any solution will be at the expense of the environment.

One solution is to develop alternate fuels like ethanol. Ethanol is an environmentally friendly, renewable fuel made from corn.

The manufacturing of ethanol is responsible for more than 55,000 American jobs and saves the government more than $555 million annually in reduced unemployment, reduced farm deficiency payments and increased taxes paid.

The United States imports 60 percent of its petroleum. The use of ethanol has reduced demand for imported oil and gas by 98,000 barrels a day. It is a renewable energy source that reduces dependence on foreign oil and assures both a stable supply and low price for consumers. It is made from corn grown and processed right here in Michigan and

Revenge of the soccer moms

I've read about this Michigan Fathers' Conference for the last couple of weeks. From what I have gleaned, dads across these fruited plains are coming together in Birmingham this Saturday for a big group hug.

To share experiences in fathering, acknowledge the importance of dads in parenting, and to tell each other it's, "Okay to love your kids."

Sounds like Revenge of the Soccer Moms, to me. Now, not only do we guys have to show our caring and sensitive sides, we have to talk about it, too. Where will it end, fellas? Pretty soon, we'll be admitting we actually like to drive the family mini-van versus a real truck.

One of the dudes in connection with the Father's Resource Center (which isn't in a hardware store, go figure), was quoted in a daily newspaper as saying, "Fathers have a particular way of dealing with children . . . My presentation will emphasize it's okay to be a dad and dads do parent in their own way . . ."

Later in the article, "Men haven't got support in society . . ."

Boo-hoo, hoo.

So, now we men have been reduced to whiners, too! ARRG! Gu-u-u-ys — stop crying in and start enjoying your beer. I'm a dad and I understand I do things differently with the lads than does their dear mother, Jennie. What's more, Jennie understands that I do things differently than she — that I have my niche and she has hers.

She also knows, as CPO (Chief Parenting Officer) she sits atop the parenting hierarchy and therefore is also CMP (Chief Minister of Propaganda).

rush
don't rush
me

She can fill the boys' heads with whatever she deems necessary to rear two productive members of society.

And, right now she has her hands full as the boys have spent the better part of two straight weeks under the pappy's tutelage, while mommy convalesced. She'll need to whip 'em in shape and bring them back to the real world of their existence. I am sure the deprogramming continues at this writing.

"No, Sean. Salted pretzels do not a balanced lunch time meal make."

"Yes, boys. It is okay to play with your dolls."

"Yes, I know you are a big boy, Shamus, but even if you know how, you cannot go downstairs and use the power mitre saw. Nor the band saw, nor the table saw."

"No, Sean. You cannot have salted pretzels for a snack. And, stop running around with that screw driver."

"No Shamus. It is not okay to wear two different colored socks even if you're only going out to play in the backyard."

"Sean, dinner's in 10 minutes. You don't need any salted pretzels now."

"No Shamus. It is not okay to wear the same pair of underwear you did yesterday . . . even if they don't smell that bad."

"Boys. Turn off the TV. It is not okay to sit and watch cartoons all morning, despite what your father may say."

"Sean, stop your whining about those damn pretzels!"

I'm sure, once she's feeling 100 percent better, she'll have a few good words for me, too.

"Don. Do not bring salted pretzels into this house again!"

As the PTP (Part Time Parent), I get to see the lads in the morning, before work and then wrestle

When is a trout fin a single digit?

When in Engadine our radio is tuned to WNBX, Newbury, 93.7 on the FM dial. That way we can keep up on the Engadine Eagles, who, by the way, did not have enough boys available for football this season, thus more attention goes to the girls basketball team, who lost that week to Rapid River, 73-45.

We also get the "In Fisherman" report, which includes major feeding phases of the day and night. There is always a night "right" time. This particular day the times were 1 to 3 a.m. and the same p.m. times.

Our "home" in Engadine is at the Hiawatha Sportsman's Club, a 35,000 acre outdoor playground with trout-planted ponds, but drying lakes, deer (hunted by endangered wolves brought in to make deer endangered species) and a divided membership.

One of the stocked (read that "guaranteed success") ponds was in my plans this particular Tuesday. I missed the major feeding phase, arriving pondside at 4, that's p.m. The pond was quiet, no ripples except for one turtle that lost its balance and fell off a log.

A Sandhill Crane honked loudly as it flew the length of the pond. I realized later it was telling the trout of my arrival. "Fast while Sherman's here," yelled the sentry. I heard him/her.

It was a dark day, which calls for silver lures. Oh, yeah, because there are so many easy-to-catch trout in this pond, the Club has limited people of my age to two trout under 15 inches and just one over 15 inches, and we can only use artificial bait.

Might as well catch one right away, thus the very dependable silver Rapala, I reasoned. One trout nudged it, and two swam by as I retrieved the lure.

That was it for at least a half hour. Not even a sighting, let alone a hit. Now, I'm an impatient fisherman. About eight casts with one lure, with no results, calls for trying another lure.

In that 30 minutes the trout saw (I think) my colorful Dardevles, Little Cleos, jointed Rapalas, Mepps spinners and a South Bend Super Duper.

Then the trout started rising. Just breaking the pond's surface at first, then, like a Broadway show, they increased in volume, their performances became more spectacular and their rainbow costumes more brilliant as they came closer to their audience.

It was exciting to watch.

But their challenge had to be met. Surely somewhere in my fishing treasure chest of never-fail lures there is one that a trout will find irresistible.

Let's see, the flatfish didn't work, nor did the bargain-bin, no-namers. How about this bass bait pro-fisherman Tom Bates talked me into buying? A silver, rattling, treble hooker.

Right away, a trout hit it. Ah, my skill was paying off. No it wasn't. The 'hit' was another tease by a smarter-than-me colorfully finned swimmer.

What caused me to pack my tackle was the finale of the production. I swear the lead dancer in the show, jumped high out of the water and flipped me with a fin. And its grin became a full smile.

I didn't applaud.

An open letter to all cancer health care professionals

Because October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month, it seems an appropriate time to acknowledge with gratitude and respect the unsung heroes of the struggle with cancer -- oncology professionals.

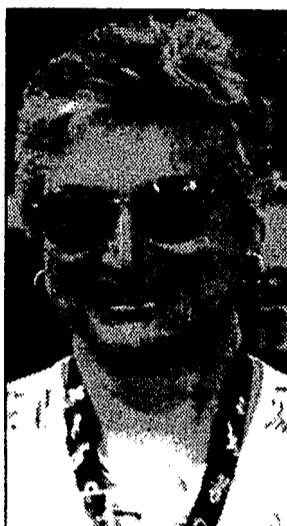

From experience, I know all of them. The nurses aids, medical assistants, radiation technicians, nurses, surgeons, radiation and medical oncologists are all professional, kind and compassionate.

This field is probably one of the most emotionally draining vocations. Dealing with people who are frequently gravely ill and are emotionally, physically and spiritually challenged by their experience has got to be challenging for you too. Because the treatments are given over a long period, follow ups continue for years and, you come to know your patients well. When you lose one of these people who think of you as a friend as well as a professional, it is difficult for you. Saving lives is your goal and, ostensibly, the point of your careers.

There is, however, an alternative goal when saving a life is impossible. That goal is to help the patient die with dignity, acceptance and with his spirit intact. Your strength, kindness and acceptance of patients with all the ramifications of their disease help some of them achieve that final phase of life. When you lose a patient, it must be a distressing time for you.

Be heartened by the fact that you probably have helped that patient keep his self respect and dignity through that final point in life. Remember too, the joy of those of us who have survived with your help to live fuller, happier lives because of the experience. Besides, the rest of your patients are relying on you to help them face their challenges.

Marti Newsted

These patients will never forget you, your kindness, your compassion and your respect for our human dignity and spirit. By your actions you have helped them reclaim that dignity when they thought it was lost. For all of this they will always be grateful.

One of the challenges of cancer is the uncertainty it causes. Patients are uncertain if they will be able to cope with the rigors of the treatments, of what side effects the treatments will cause, and most of all, if they will survive. Once treatments are completed, patients are uncertain if they are cured. Every ache and pain becomes a cause for concern that "it" has returned.

The knowledge that if the nightmare of recurrence becomes a reality, you will still be there -- as friendly, kind, and compassionate as before -- is the only certainty for many cancer patients. So please take care of yourselves physically. Get your own mammograms and prostate tests. Take care of yourselves emotionally -- take time for fun and relaxation. Take care of your spirit -- knowing that faith will help you continue to do your difficult job.

And always remember how grateful your patients are! I know. Four years ago I was diagnosed with breast cancer.

Land Conservancy plans two big events

Save the wetlands! Save the wild things! Save the date of October 19, 2001, for "A Wild Night Out," an evening to benefit the North Oakland Headwaters Land Conservancy at the Holly Hotel.

The NOHLC Benefit will feature live and silent auctions, a strolling gourmet dinner and a cash bar. With limited capacity and business attire, the evening begins at 6:30 p.m. and costs $75 per person.

L. Brooks Patterson, Oakland County Executive, will serve as the celebrity auctioneer.

The auctions will feature such items as guided tours of nature areas (by foot, boat, and air), original art work, autographed books, golf package, and NASCAR collectibles.

"Special Places: What Have We Got to Lose?" is featured Saturday, October 20, at the NOHLC annual fall membership meeting at the Independence Fire Station #1 located at 6500 Citation Drive in Clarkston. Overflow parking is available at the First Baptist Church next door.

A short business meeting will begin at 9:30 am followed by a presentation by Erica Choberka, of the Michigan Natural Features Inventory. Ms. Choberka will speak about the characteristics and importance of the wetlands ecosystem.

She will tell us how to identify high-ranking areas, explain how that process is determined, as well as explain the importance of protecting these areas. With much of northwest Oakland County being comprised of wetlands, the NOHLC recognizes the importance of this topic to the greater community and strongly encourages the public to attend. Light refreshments will be served.

Incorporated in 1972 as the Independence Land Conservancy, the North Oakland Headwaters Land Conservancy (NOHLC) has worked in and for the community for 29 years. Currently, the Conservancy has stewardship of 35 parcels of land comprising nearly 800 acres, some properties totally owned and some protected by conservation/scenic easements.

NOHLC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, tax-exempt corporation, receiving taxdeductible gifts of all kinds. Various annual membership categories exist, such as an Individual Membership donation of $25, Family Membership donation of $40, and Life Membership donation of $100.

Questions for the Conservancy may be directed to North Oakland Headwaters Land Conservancy (NOHLC), P.O. Box 285, Clarkston MI 48347; e-mail at NOHLC@hotmail.com; or by calling NOHLC Administrative Director Susan Topping at 248.620.4700.

THE LAW & YOU

by Robert Kostin
Attorney at Law

THE FAILURE TO DO NO HARM

A recent report notes statistics on the monetary details of malpractice payouts. Analysis of 176,000 jury awards and out-of court settlements from every state in 1999 reveals that, between 1998 and 1999, malpractice payouts increased from an average of $750,000 to $800,000. During those same years, settlements rose more sharply, from a median $500,000 to $650,000. The largest award for any type of malpractice case involved negligence in childbirth. Such cases resulted in awards averaging $2 million. That was followed by a median of $636,844 for cases involving medication errors, $625,000 for misdiagnosis cases, $300,000 for surgical negligence cases, and $230,000 for cases involving sexual improprieties committed by a physician. If you are the victim of medical malpractice, consult an attorney.

A Look Back

15 YEARS AGO (1986)

Bids for road improvement projects in Independence and Springfield townships have been let by the Oakland County Road Commission. Roadwork bids accepted Sept. 29 from Weisel and Weisel Inc. of Clarkston included $18,886 to pave the approach of Norman Road at Dixie Highway in Springfield and $60,645 to pave the approach of Oakhill Road at M-15 in Independence.

Parents of junior and senior high students in Clarkston schools, an estimated 2,400 families, have the opportunity to sign a "Safe Homes Pledge" sponsored by Clarkston Area Youth Assistance and its subcommittee, Clarkston Area Chemical People. In September, pledge sheets were included in school newsletters mailed to all families with students in Clarkston and Sashabaw junior highs and Clarkston High School.

A relatively sparse public turnout gathered at Springfield Oaks to discuss proposed rezoning changes in Springfield Township Sept. 30. The public hearing was designed to receive input on a significant number of proposed changes throughout the entire township. According to Supervisor Collin Walls, about 75 people showed for the meeting. Of that total, about 25 spoke up.

25 YEARS AGO (1976)

Independence Township planner Larry Burkhart has resigned to take a position with a Southfield real estate company. Burkhart surprised board members and department heads with the announcement, which came at an executive township board township board meeting Oct. 5. The township board said it will have to determine whether Burkhart will be replaced by another full-time planner or by a consulting firm.

Springfield Township residents whose homes lie in the Clarkston School District can now use the Independence Township Library for a $5 membership fee. The Independence Township Board decided to make the library service available, since Springfield does not have a like service as yet. Springfield's plans to develop the old Andersonville School into a library are still in the implementation stages.

Residents of Thendara Park subdivision in northeast Independence Township have asked that $20,000 of an expected $70,000 in Community Development Act (CDA) funds be used to make private road improvements. The residents asked for permanent improvements such as drainage culvert installation, instead of graveling and grading, as suggested by Independence supervisor Ed Glennie.

50 YEARS AGO (1951)

The Clarkston Firemen are looking forward to seeing you at their Fifth Annual Ball on Oct. 6 in the gym at the Clarkston School. L.D. Hemingway, general chairman, and his committee have planned and worked for the past few weeks to make this the outstanding event of the fall season. Everything will be in readiness that evening for your dancing pleasure. The firemen will give a defense bond as a door prize.

A meeting of the executive board of the Clarkston Community Schools PTA was held Sept. 27. The project for the year was discussed. On Oct. 11, the regular meeting of the PTA will be held in the high school gym. William Janton, music instructor, will have charge of the program and a very special band concert will be presented.

Second Lieutenant James C. Fodsick Jr. of Pontiac, a 1946 graduate of Clarkston High School, is with Fifth Air Force's 67th Tactical Renaissance Wing at an advance airstrip in Korea. The 23-year-old officer's daily assignments call for evaluation of visual and photographic recordings made of Communist fortifications and troop encampments north of the coveted 38th parallel. Upon his arrival in Korea, Lieutenant Fodsick was assigned to the 67th Wing.

Halloween happenings Around Town

St. John Episcopal Church in Holly, on the corner of East Holly and Falk Roads, will have their fourth annual Scarecrow Festival on Sat., Oct. 6 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Sun., Oct. 7 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. There will be boutique booths, kids games, 50/50 raffle, a "gently used" booth, a haunted house, pumpkin painting, silent auction, face painting, nail painting, pumpkins for sale, prizes, food, beverages, and more. For details, call Elizabeth at 623-9832. Everyone is welcome.

First through fourth-grade children, along with their parents, will be treated to an evening of skits, games, activities and goodies at the "Kid's Halloween Party," Fri. and Sat., Oct. 12 and 13 at 7 p.m. at the Nature Center of Indian Springs Metropark near White Lake. Tickets must be purchased in person at the Nature Center. No tickets will be sold at the door. Tickets are $6 per child, $2 per adult. Call 625-7280 for details.

Trick or Treat Trail: Springfield Township Parks & Recreation is once again offering the Trick or Treat Trail for children 12 years and younger at the Hart Community Center. On Oct. 27 and Oct. 31, from 5-8 p.m., you can enjoy this safe alternative to door trick or treating. Walk through this haunted trail and collect candy and gifts along the way from the many ghosts and goblins stationed throughout. Juice and snacks are provided. A resident rate of $3 per person applies to those residing in Springfield Township. For non-residents, there is a $5 per person rate. Pictures of your children in their costumes can be purchased for $3 each. For more information, please call Springfield Township Parks & Recreation at (248) 634-0412.

Tapping kicks off week of Homecoming activities

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston High School's Homecoming king, queen, maids, and escorts from each grade were chosen Sept. 28. The Student Council and Media Class teamed up to turn the "tapping" ceremony into a video production broadcast into each classroom.

Candidates for the Homecoming court included freshmen Taylor Hosner, Renee Flores, Jackie Kaminski, John Williams, Adam Briceland, and Brad Flaughter; sophomores Lauren Hunt, Autumn Garrison, Mallory Przybylski, Cam Darrow, Mike Bottiaux, and Nick Blackstone; juniors Ashley Lambert, Alex Heinrich, Siri Zimmerman, Nate May, Rick Faulk, and Andrew Breen; seniors Olivia Lowrie, Lauren Welbourn, Clara Webster, Ryan Weiss, Pat Brookes, and Matt Mahrle.

The tapping ceremony kicks off a list of Homecoming festivities this year:

■ On Oct. 3, junior and senior girls will go head to head in the annual Powder Puff football game at 7 p.m., while junior and senior guys cheer during the game and perform a dance at half-time.

A bonfire, performances by the pom-pom squads and cheerleaders, and speeches by the fall sport captains will follow.

■ On Oct. 4, student bands will perform in front of spectators in the CHS cafeteria at 3 p.m. at the Battle of the Bands. The winner will perform at a field day assembly the following day.

■ Oct. 5 is a busy day for CHS. The cross country team will get the ball rolling at 9 a.m. with a Football Run from Troy High School to CHS.

The 2001 Homecoming court will be presented to the student body at the Queens Assembly at 1:30 in the CHS Gym.

A field day will bring competition between all four classes as well as teachers. Volunteers from each class will compete in a series of silly contests, races, and other games.

An alumni tent will be set up at 6:30 p.m. at the CHS Stadium with free cider and donuts compliments of the Student Council, before the big game at 7 p.m. versus Troy High School. The half-time show will highlight the Homecoming court.

■ On Oct. 6, the Homecoming Parade will stroll along Holcomb Road beginning at 10 a.m., and the Homecoming Dance that night—with this year's theme, Kingdom of Enchantment—will conclude festivities for 2001.

Clarkston Foot and Ankle Clinic...

Doctor aims for 'honest, gentle care'

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Dr. Clifford LaLiberte, a Springfield Township resident for ten years, has brought his podiatry practice to Clarkston and is extending an invitation to everyone who could use his help.

"The foot is a very mobile organ and it will shut you down if it's not functioning," said Dr. LaLiberte. "I try to keep the patients going."

Opened almost a year ago, Clarkston Foot and Ankle Clinic offers relief for those with athlete's foot, bunions, corns, callouses, hammertoes, ingrown toenails, fungus nails, and warts on children and adults. He helps with heel pain and heel spurs, which Dr. LaLiberte noted, is rampant in Clarkston right now.

"We treat that with orthotics, different strapping, padding and medications," he said.

The clinic also handles care for individuals suffering from poor circulation in the feet; neuroma, a trapped nerve in the foot; minor foot and ankle fractures, sprains and strains. Dr. LaLiberte performs minor ankle surgery.

"I don't push surgery," Dr. LaLiberte said regarding foot care. "I do things conservatively first."

Diabetics can receive foot care, treatment for ulcers, and receive tests annually, or every six months, for the neurological status of the feet.

Senior care is also available.

And everybody gets a whirlpool foot treatment during their appointment.

Dr. LaLiberte can also take care of hand warts and ingrown fingernails. He said it varies state by state in what podiatrists are able to treat. In Wisconsin, for example, podiatrists can treat up to the knee and in Florida, he said, up to the hip.

The doctor revealed, "I'm very gentle, and I take my time with the patients." In fact, he books an hour for new patients.

X-rays are taken at the clinic when needed which allows Dr. LaLiberte to go over the films with patients the day of their visit.

He added he takes great care in instrument sterilization and tries his best to communicate with family doctors.

Dr. LaLiberte, who has a bachelor of arts in biology and a bachelor of science in pharmacy from Wayne State University, graduated from podiatry school in Chicago in 1983. In 1984, he graduated from his residency at Genesee Memorial in Flint.

"I enjoy my work," he said. "People come in with pain and I help them."

Before opening his own practice November 28, 2000, he had been on staff at a multi-office practice in Davison, Frankenmuth, and Grand Blanc for ten years. And prior to that practiced for two years in Tennessee.

Currently, Dr. LaLiberte devotes his time once a week to work at the Urgent Care Center in Grand Blanc where he sees lower extremity minor trauma.

At Clarkston Foot and Ankle Clinic, Bobbi, Dr. LaLiberte's wife, is also on board. A teacher by profession, she is now is mom to two sons, 13 and 15.

Business Briefs

Two local attorneys, Ted Kedzierski, CPA and Henry S. Woloson, will conduct a free seminar on the impact of provisions in the recently enacted Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001.

The seminar is open to the public and will be Tuesday, October 30 at 7 p.m. at the Independence Township Library at 6495 Clarkston Road.

Topics to be discussed at the seminar include: the reduction of personal income tax rates, the gradual repeal of Federal Estate Taxes, and higher permitted retirement plan contributions to 401 (k)s, 403 (b)s and IRAs (Traditional, Roth and Education).

According to Kedzierski, "Individual tax payers benefit from several of the provisions of the new tax law which include greater tax credits for children, more assistance to support higher education, marriage penalty relief and the gradual elimination of estate taxes at the federal level."

Woloson, president of Security Financial Management, Inc., said, "Retirement planning was given a tremendous boost by the new tax since, starting in January, 2002, individuals will be permitted to save more for retirement through their company sponsored 401(k) plans as well as in IRAs. Given the current economy, now is an excellent time for individuals to examine the new retirement options to determine the best vehicles for their longer-term savings."

The seminar will also address current investment conditions and how the new tax act could impact the stock and bond markets.

Seating is limited and reservations are recommended. For more information contact Woloson at 625-6736 or e-mail: henrywoloson@earthlink.net. Kedzierski can be reached at (313)875-9844.

Independence approves office building for Dixie Hwy.

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

An 8,064 square foot office building will be a new addition along Dixie Highway soon.

Final site plan approval was granted unanimously to petitioners for Valenti and Chicetti Holdings, LLC at the Independence Township Planning Commission meeting, September 13.

The proposed office building will sit on a wedge-shaped, .96-acre parcel, on the east side of Dixie, 600 feet north of Waterford Hill. Approximately 4,000 square feet of office space will be available for lease.

Noted on the plans for the exterior of the two-level building is brick veneer, with colonial coach lights fastened to the building, a chimney decorated with limestone medallions, and clay flue pots.

Landscaping will include a mixture of shrubs, evergreens, and deciduous trees, but Planning Consultant Dick Carlisle said the site percentage of landscaping is unclear. Landscape screening will also need to be addressed.

An existing safety path, in poor condition, will be resurfaced, and an existing driveway will be improved, said Carlisle.

A detention basin, at the rear of the site, will separate residential homes in an adjacent subdivision from the parking lot area, where 38 spaces are proposed.

A six-foot chain link fence will partially surround the basin, and a more aesthetic three-foot high rail fence will be provided between the parking and basin.

In attendance Thursday night was resident Cathy Simmons who spoke on behalf of her neighbors. She said the developers and owners worked very closely with the residents to address their concerns.

"We've been burned before and it doesn't look like we will be this time. We are very pleased with the results," she said.

At past meetings, residents voiced their concerns over privacy, aesthetics, and water runoff.

Simmons said, overall, the detention basin was the number one concern in regards to the safety of the several children in the area, but was met by the addition of the fence.

Earlier in the year, the Planning Commission rezoned the parcel to O, Office, from C-3, Highway Commercial. (Highway Commercial is the most intense zoning and allows for developments like fast food establishments, for example.) An R-1A portion that extends into the subdivision was also rezoned to Office.

Planning members concluded, although not in compliance with the Master Plan, it made good sense to reduce the intensity of the zoning. Since the area is primarily residential, and mixed with office-zoned property, existing land use patterns made it well suited for office use. Plus, rezoning also protects the residents from a potentially detrimental C-3 development.

Also at the meeting....

■ Conceptual and final site plan approval was given to a Nextel Communications request for an eight-foot antenna collocation on an existing Detroit Edison High Tower at the north side of Whipple Lake Road, east of Pine Knob Road.

■ Final site plan approval and recommendation to the Independence Township Board was granted to petitioners for the Liberty Golf Planned Unit Development. The 175-acre mixed use development includes an 18-hole golf course with clubhouse and banquet facility, condominiums, restaurant, and retail on the west side of Sashabaw and north side of Maybee Road.

■ An Everest Academy request for an amendment of special land use to include a high school on the 40 acres off of Clarkston Road was tabled to a later date. The petitioner was hoping to get permission to begin constructing ball fields, but will come back to the board with plans that include the high school building.

A reduction in petroleum imports by 233 million barrels a year, combined with the earnings from ethanol by-product exports, means a reduction in our foreign trade balance of $5.4 billion annually.

Because ethanol has such a promising future, the Legislature recently approved $5 million in funding to aid in the construction of a new ethanol plant in Michigan. When the plant becomes operational, more than $88 million would be added to the economy each year.

Michigan residents are concerned about the environment. The state Legislature is responding to your concerns and working to ensure a clean and healthy environment is available for this and future generations. Protecting the Great Lakes and reducing harmful emissions into the air are just two ways we can do this.

Dr. LaLiberte admitted there are great podiatrists in this area. "I'm not trying to steal away any patients," he said. "But this is a big area."

"I try to give honest, gentle care.

with them after work and on the weekends. Which means I'm also the CMF (Chief Minister of Fun). I get to wind them up, roll them around, tickle 'em, pick 'em up twirl them around and throw them on the bed. I get to scream and grunt with them — to teach them how to make sound effects. I get to tell them to take some deep breaths and calm down; to "rub off that boo-boo."

Jen gets the hard part. The daily, in and out, task of teaching them to be humane, kind and caring.

Sure dads are important parts of the parenting team, but thank God, for moms. By the way, I won't be in attendance at Saturday's Dadfest 2001.

Not that the idea is a bad thing, I'll be too busy being Dad and I just don't need anybody except my Jen and boys to tell me I'm doing an okay job.

'Bad Girls of the Bible'

Three area churches come together to teach about the Bible's naughty women

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

"Now Joseph was well-built and handsome, and after a while his master's wife took notice of Joseph and said, 'Come to bed with me!'" Genesis 39:6-7

Oh yes, even the Bible can get a little racy.

Whether it's Potipher's wife's adulterous beckon, "Come to bed with me," Delilah's deception, or Sapphira's selfishness--there are plenty of bad girls in this Book.

And there are plenty of lessons women today can learn from these historical accounts.

Pastor Jill Zundel from Clarkston United Methodist Church and Rev. Bonnie Laudeman from Clarkston Community Church understand this and have teamed up with The Episcopal Church of the Resurrection to bring to the community a study for women of all ages, based on the "Bad Girls of the Bible."

"Usually we learn mostly about the men in history," said Pastor Zundel. "This time it's about the women."

"We always think of the Bible as a man's book," said Rev. Laudeman. "But the women are very important. It's neat to learn from them. We can be redeemed. There's nothing He won't forgive."

The study, which began September 13 and runs for ten weeks, follows the book written by Liz Curtis Higgs and tells the stories of Eve ("the first bad girl"); Jezebel, Delilah, and Potiphar's Wife ("all bad to the bone"); Lot's Wife, Sapphira, and Michal ("all bad for a moment"); and Rahab, the woman at the well, and the sinful woman who anointed

Rev. Bonnie Laudeman of Clarkston Community Church, left, and Pastor Jill Zundel of Clarkston United Methodist have joined with The Episcopal Church of the Resurrection to teach women lessons from the "Bad Girls of the Bible." "It's wonderful the three churches are coming together," said Rev. Laudeman. "We may be different denominations, but we love the same God." Photo by Jennifer Nemer

Jesus' feet with her tears ("all bad for a season, but not forever").

With Higgs's humor and spiritual insight, each chapter begins with a contemporary, fictional version of the woman's story, and is followed by a verse-by-verse commentary.

Lessons and discussion questions are reviewed together in the study group Thursday nights at 7 p.m. The atmosphere is relaxed, fun, and open. Women are encouraged to share experiences, opinions, and lessons learned if they feel moved to do so. There are also refreshments to enjoy, a special something to take home each week, and silly homework assignments.

For those apprehensive about attending a Bible study, Pastor Zundel lends some encouragement. This is the first Bible study many of the women attending have come to, she said, and the "Bad Girls of the Bible" author writes so all women can benefit from the lessons. Pastor Zundel said in Higgs's book she wrote with four kinds of readers in mind including the former bad girl, the temporary bad girl, the veteran good girl and the aspiring good girl.

"A lot of women are coming to church because of what has happened in our country," added Rev. Laudeman. "What a better time to find out about ourselves, to be in a setting with other believers, and to find acceptance amidst the pain

The study group meets at The Episcopal Church of the Resurrection at 6490 Clarkston Rd, across from the Independence Township Library. Each class is independent of one another and can be attended at random. Call 625-2325 for more information.

Student population grows by 2.3 percent

aid of up to five percent is expected to be announced this fall.

Banach said the interesting trend to watch is the number of students coming into the high school. There will be a graduating class of 502 in 2002, and graduating class sizes will continue to grow. According to current figures the 2003 graduating class will total 567; 2004, 594; 2005, 615; 2006, 642; 2007, 603; 2008, 619. (See related story about high school growth on page 4A.)

Additionally said Banach, "Everest Academy, (a catholic school on Clarkston Road), has a full-day kindergarten, which means we get a big jump in enrollment at first grade."

The total number of students in the seven elementary schools is 3,482, up 26 students from 2000. The breakdown is as follows:

Andersonville, 399, up 7
Bailey Lake, 548, up 25
Clarkston Elementary, 432, up 7
Independence, 596, down 6
North Sashabaw, 444, down 21
Pine Knob, 465, down 11
Springfield Plains, 598, up 25

There are 1,864 students in the two middle schools, up from 1,767 last year. Sashabaw Middle School tallied 758, up 67; Clarkston Middle School totaled 1,106, up 30.

Clarkston High School totaled 2,278 students, up from 2,246. Renaissance High School (housed at the Community Education building) totaled 105, up from 82.

Loosestrife

forts by Prock to combat the problem naturally, as opposed to using pesticides or other chemical means to kill off the plants. He said those chemicals would eventually make their way to Big Lake and infect the water.

"It seems like they know what they're doing," he said.

Prock also said chemical use is not the way to go when dealing with loosestrife.

"Especially in the water, I don't think you want to use other chemicals," she said. "There is no way to control them other than through the use of beetles."

She said the goal of the introduction of beetles is to keep the problem in check and eliminate most, if not all, of the loosestrife population.

"The project will never completely eliminate it," she said. "The goal is to get it to 10 percent of what it is today."

However, Prock also said the project would take some time, citing a report by Michigan State University that estimates it will take approximately 5-15 years to get the population down to that figure.

For more information on Michigan State University's loosestrife study, visit their Web site at www.msue.msu.edu/seagrant/pp.

Soccer gears for title run

Wolves impress in OAA I wins over Kettering, Mott

BY JEFF PATRUS
 Clarkston News Staff Writer

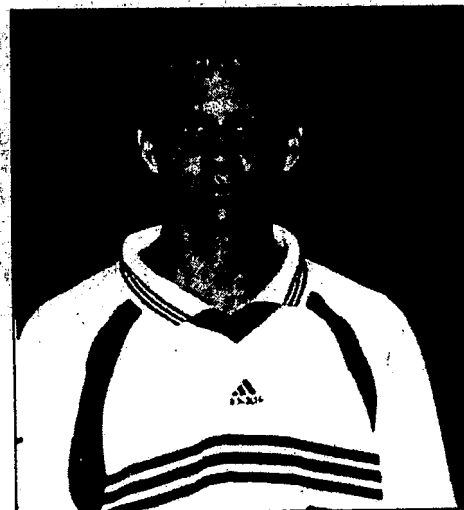

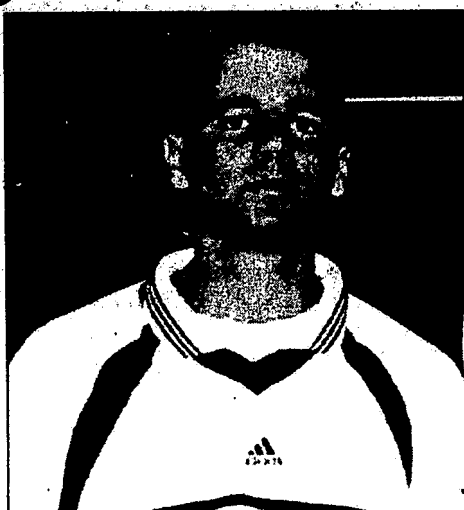

Clarkston's soccer team is hitting on all cylinders heading into the home stretch of the season.

The Wolves earned decisive victories over two division rivals last week. Their most recent triumph came at the hands of visiting Kettering, 4-2, on Sept. 27.

Sean Gardner scored two goals, and Mike Holody and Mike Klemm added one apiece for the Wolves, who are now 7-4 overall and 3-2 in the Oakland Activities Association Division I.

Clarkston coach Dan Fitzgerald said his team played a solid game from start to finish. "We kept possession throughout the game," he said.

The win came three days after the Wolves defeated host Mott, 4-2, on Sept. 24. The goal scoring list was the same as the Kettering game: Gardner scored two goals, and Holody and Klemm added

Once again, Fitzgerald said the team played solid throughout the game. "We were winning comfortably, 4-1, and they scored a goal in the last minute of the game," he said.

Clarkston continues the interleague part of their schedule in the upcoming week. They travel up M-15 to take on host Brandon Oct. 2, then return home Oct. 4 for a key matchup with Seaholm.

Fitzgerald said the latter game will be a key one for his team in their quest for the OAA I title.

"I think we need to beat Seaholm on Thursday," he said.

Although Fitzgerald said his team played well in their two wins this past week, he also said they need to maintain that effort if they are to contend for the division title.

"We need to play more consistently, not give up any silly goals, and I think we'll be okay," he said.

Girls' cagers fall victim to fast start

BY JEFF PATRUS
 Clarkston News Staff Writer

Before they knew what hit them, the Clarkston girls' basketball team found themselves in a hole at the beginning of their Sept. 27 game with Saginaw Arthur Hill.

The Wolves settled down after the Lumberjacks' game-opening scoring barrage, which saw Arthur Hill take a 15-0 lead. However, Clarkston couldn't get over the hump, losing to Arthur Hill, 63-54.

Clarkston is now 4-4 overall, and 3-0 in Oakland Activities Association Division I play. Arthur Hill, ranked fifth overall in Class A, is now 7-1 overall.

The Wolves didn't score for the first 4-1/2 minutes of the game, but still found themselves trailing by only four points, 16-12, at the end of the first quarter. Clarkston was able to pull within one point during the second quarter, as Jenn Carlson's basket trimmed the Arthur Hill lead to 18-17 with about four minutes in the half.

However, that was as close as the Wolves would get all game. The Lumberjacks went on an 11-4 run to end the

Swimmers avenge losses in league action

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's girls' swim team earned a measure of revenge last week for two of last year's losses.

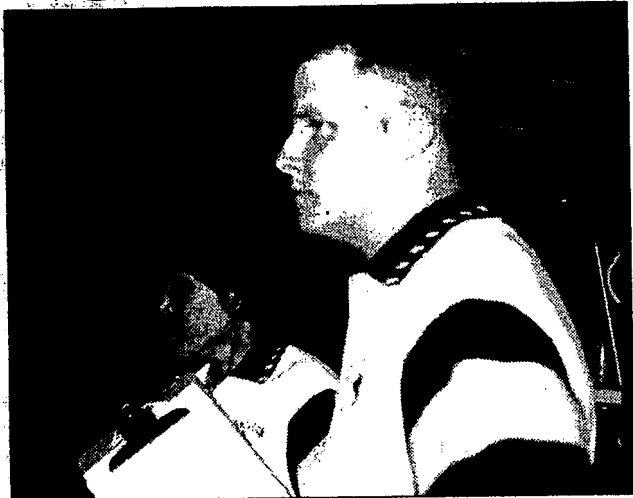

The Wolves soundly defeated Oakland Activities Association Division IV rival Avondale, 125-61, in a home meet Sept. 27. Two days earlier, they knocked off Dondero, 120-66, in an OAA crossover meet.

Clarkston is now 4-2 overall and 3-0 in league play.

The Wolves set seven school records in the win against Avondale. The 200-yard medley relay team of Sue Fisk, Sara Zerba, Teresa Kuhta, and Chelsea Hassett opened up the meet for Clarkston, winning that event with a time of 2:05.22.

Andrea Galaviz took second in the 200-yard freestyle, setting a school mark with a time of 2:15.95, then Teresa Kuhta finished second in the 200-yard IM, with a time of 2:37.24. Kuhta also finished first in the girls' 100-yard butterfly, with a time of 1:10.16.

Galaviz set another school mark in the 500-yard freestyle, with a time of 6:15.34, finishing second in that event. The 200-yard freestyle relay team of Sara Zerba, Chelsea Hassett, Sue Fisk, and Kelly Keil finished with a time of 1:55.13, and the 400-yard freestyle relay team of Galaviz, Hassett, Keil, and Fisk finished with a time of 4:17.34.

Other Clarkston team members taking first in their events at the meet were Hassett, who won the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 28.17; Casey Bolton, who won the platform diving event with a score of 202.30; Keil, who won the 100-yard freestyle with a time of 1:04.28; and Fisk, who won the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:09.26.

Clarkston also set four school records in their win against Dondero Sept. 25. The 200-yard medley relay team of Fisk, Zerba, Kuhta, and Hassett opened the meet by winning the event with a time of 2:07.15.

Galaviz then set a record in the 100-yard freestyle, finishing second in that event with a time of 1:03.09. The 200-yard freestyle relay team of Galaviz, Hassett, Meghan Williams, and Fisk won with a time of 1:57.01, and the 400-yard freestyle relay team of Fisk, Sabrina St. Peter, Amanda Nichols, and Christina Bauer took second in that event with a time of 4:35.17.

Other Clarkston team members winning their events were Nichols, who won the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 2:24.84 and the 500-yard freestyle with a time of 6:27.75; Kuhta, who won the 200-yard individual medley with a time of 2:40.20 and the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 1:11.83; Bolton, who earned first in diving with a score of 199.55; and Alex Beck, who won the 100 yard backstroke with a time of 1:26.31.

The Wolves return to action Oct. 11 at Lamphere High School.

Boys' harriers take fifth at Hanson Invitational

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A familiar face led the Clarkston boys' cross-country team to an upper division finish at the Hanson Invitational Sept. 29.

Mark Sitko finished fourth overall to power the Wolves to a fifth place finish among 18 teams at the invite, which was held in Sterling Heights. Utica Eisenhower took first place overall in the invite.

Clarkston coach Mike Taylor said Jack Kinsey and Derek Coe "have been running pretty steady" and helped the team. He also said Jared Elmore, Evan Schneider, and Scott Linville have been solid contributors throughout the season.

Elmore led the way for the Wolves Sept. 25, taking first overall as Clarkston defeated Oakland Activities Association Division I rival Rochester, 23-32. Sitko took third overall in the meet, while Coe placed fourth, Kinsey fifth and Schneider tenth.

Next up for the Wolves is another OAA division test, as they host Rochester Adams Oct. 2.

Waterford Mott did something Sept. 26 that it hasn't done in over 20 years — defeat the Clarkston football team.

The Corsairs did so in resounding fashion, soundly defeating the Wolves, 42-0, on Mott's home field. The loss drops Clarkston to 1-5 overall and 0-4 in Oakland Activities Association Division I, while Mott improves to 4-2 overall and 2-2 in the conference.

The second quarter proved to be Clarkston's undoing, as Mott rolled up 21 points after a scoreless second quarter, essentially deciding the game.

Senior quarterback Eric Kieras struggled for the Wolves, completing eight of 16 passes and throwing two interceptions before being replaced by junior quarterback Kirk Hanna, who completed one of five passes.

Senior running back Chris Moore led the Wolves on the ground, with 63 yards on 10 carries, while junior running back Ryan Talbott caught three passes for 30 yards to lead the Wolves in receiving.

Defensively, Clarkston was led by junior defensive back Myles Purdy, who finished with six tackles. Senior defensive back Mike Loveless added four tackles and two assists, while junior defensive back Andrew Breen had three tackles and three assists, and junior linebacker Derek George had two tackles and five assists.

Clarkston returns home for its final home game of the season Oct. 5, as they play their homecoming game against the Troy Colts. The Wolves wrap up their season on the road against Rochester Oct. 12 and against Waterford Kettering Oct. 19.

Eighth-ranked Wolves win Hanson Invite

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's girls cross-country team continues to establish itself as one of the top teams in the state.

The Wolves took first place out of ten teams this week at the Hanson Invitational, held in Sterling Heights Sept. 29. Clarkston actually finished in a tie with Romeo, with each team earning 38 points.

However, Clarkston coach Jamie LaBrosse said the tiebreaker used to determine the winner of the invite was the sixth place finisher on each team. In this instance, the Wolves' sixth-place runner, Anna Kerr, finished 15th overall, while Romeo's sixth-place runner finished 40th overall.

Gillian Nordquist led the Wolves with a third-place finish in the invite, while three other Clarkston runners finished in the top ten: Lauren Witt placed seventh, Carla Delvecchio eighth, and Anne Oltman ninth. Mo Kuhta rounded out the Wolves' top five, finishing 11th overall.

For the second straight week, the Wolves are ranked among the top ten teams in the state. This week, they move up one spot to eighth overall.

LaBrosse said the team defeated some quality competition to win the invite, outdistancing three top ten teams in Romeo, Milford, and Sterling Heights Stevenson.

"I think we ran well," he said. "One of the strengths of our team is our sixth runner, Anna Kerr. For most other teams, she'd be a first or second runner. She's always there to pick up the slack if anyone lets down."

On Sept. 27, the Wolves earned another Oakland

Athlete of the week: Kalin Thomas

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Kalin Thomas has overcome several setbacks to become a strong contributor to this year's Clarkston tennis squad.

Thomas, a senior, has been a key member of the team in doubles action. Teamed with partner Alex Heinrich, she has helped the team solidify themselves as a top contender for the Oakland Activities Association II title.

Thomas, the daughter of Denny and Janet Thomas of Clarkston, has excelled despite having jaw surgery July 18, and having her jaw wired shut. She had the wires removed Sept. 17.

She had to face adversity even before the jaw surgery, though. According to her father, Denny Thomas, Kalin was in a car accident around this time last year that left her with multiple injuries and ended her tennis season.

"She was involved in a very serious accident around the end of September," Denny Thomas said. "It ended her season right before districts."

Kalin Thomas' courage in the face of tough circumstances earned the praise of Clarkston coach Beth Manojlovich for her fighting spirit.

"She's had to overcome a lot of adversity,"

Clarkston tennis player Kalin Thomas.

Manojlovich said. "I really admire her for the amount of effort and determination that she's played with."

Thomas said her experience has helped her become a more patient player. "I don't get too mad at myself. I think I work better with people on the court."

first half, taking a 29-21 lead into the locker room at halftime.

Carlson led the Wolves with 19 points, while Jenn Karstensen added 14.

Clarkston coach Ann Lowney said she was pleased with how the team kept its composure after withstanding the Lumberjacks' opening-game run.

"Obviously, it's hard to catch up, but I think the girls kept their composure," she said. "They just couldn't get over the hump. I was pretty happy with everything but the first five minutes of the game."

The Wolves resume OAA I action Oct. 2 when they travel to Waterford Kettering, then hit the road again Oct. 4 when they take on Rochester at Stony Creek.

Lowney said she is optimistic that the first-place Wolves will hold up as they make their way through the thick of the division schedule.

"I think we're in pretty good shape," Lowney said. "If we can get through this week with two wins, we'll be in good shape."

She said West Bloomfield, led by one of the top players in the state, Samantha Mahoney, looms as the Wolves' top competitors for the division crown. The Wolves host the Lakers Thursday, Oct. 11, and then travel to West Bloomfield Friday, Oct. 19.

The latter game was originally scheduled for Sept. 11, but was postponed in the wake of the terrorist attacks in New York and Washington that day.

Netters earn second in league meet

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston girls' tennis coach Beth Manojlovich would have liked to see her team take first at the league meet last week.

But, she said she was pleased with finishing second to a deep Andover team at the meet, which started Sept. 26 and resumed two days later.

Andover won with 44 points, while Clarkston finished right behind at 42.

Manojlovich said the meet was stopped until Friday so the players of Jewish faith competing in the meet could observe Yom Kippur, which began at sundown that day.

At the time the meet was stopped, Andover was in the lead, with Clarkston in second place and Lake Orion third.

"I think we did pretty well," Manojlovich said of the team's performance. "Andover had a little more depth than we did, and that proved to be the difference. We're pretty happy with it. Obviously, we would have liked to take first."

The Wolves earned wins in two singles brackets and two doubles brackets during the meet.

At #1 singles, Lauren Little defeated Stephanie Nicholson of Andover, 6-1, 6-0; at #2 singles, Colleen Mead defeated Lisa Orr of Andover, 6-0, 6-0; at #1 doubles, Michelle Dodge and Andrea Gibson defeated Lindsey Thruswell and Evann Eisenberg of Andover, 6-4, 5-7, 7-6; and at #2 doubles, the team of Kalin Thomas and Alex Heinrich were victorious for the Wolves.

In addition, the Wolves' #3 doubles team of Sydney Bassett and Lisa Hopcian made it to the finals of the meet before losing to Andover's Erica Grand and Marci Applebaum, 6-4, 7-5.

The Wolves had two other matches scheduled for the week. One of them, against Berkley, was slated for Sept. 25, but was rescheduled to Tuesday, Oct. 10 because of the rainy weather.

The other match was slated for Sept. 24 at Troy Athens, but again had to be rescheduled because of the weather. The two teams were able to make that up Sept. 27, and the Wolves battled to a 4-4 tie with the Red Hawks.

Manojlovich said that was an impressive accomplishment, considering Athens plays in the Oakland Activities Association Division I.

"The Athens meet was good for us," she said. "We were ahead in the meet, 4-3, and the last match was a three-setter."

The Wolves earned wins in three singles brackets and one doubles bracket during the meet.

At #1 singles, Lauren Little defeated Holly Smith, 2-6, 6-0, 6-3; at #2 singles, Colleen Mead defeated Megan Lamothe, 6-0, 6-1, and at #3 singles, Katie Manville defeated Stacy Darozenski, 7-5, 6-4.

In the #3 doubles bracket, the Wolves' Sydney Bassett and Lisa Hopcian defeated Jamie Canavan and Swapma Zemuri, 6-3, 6-1.

The Wolves host Rochester Adams Oct. 2 before traveling to Bloomfield Hills Lahser Oct. 3 and to Holly for a scrimmage Oct. 4.

Manojlovich said the team is coming together at the right time, and also said the latter part of the schedule will help the squad prepare for regionals, which will be held Sept. 12 at Troy High School.

"We purposely scheduled our strongest matches toward the end," she said. "These are all Division I schools...They're starting to come together. The doubles are getting stronger. The tough ones at the end are going to help us for regionals."

Activities Association Division I meet victory, defeating Rochester, 22-34. Liz Mengyan took first place overall to help lead the Wolves to the win.

Clarkston is now 3-0 in league dual meet action. LaBrosse said he rested some of the varsity runners for that meet, and called up two runners, Marlee Brown and Whitney Bomier, from the junior varsity team for the meet. Both runners posted personal best

"We have a strong junior varsity team — it allows us to rest some runners," he said.

The Wolves will face a key OAA I league test Oct. 2 as they host Rochester Adams, who is Clarkston's main competition for supremacy in the league. "Whoever wins this one will likely win the league," LaBrosse said.

Clarkston then travels to Kensington Park in Milford Oct. 6 for the Oakland County meet.

McMillan, Vanicelli lead golfers to fifth at Hartland

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Wolves, along with the other 13 teams in the invite, played under a 27-hole, best-ball system, in which golfers play with a partner for each hole, and the best score is counted toward the duo's overall score.

Clarkston did well under that format, placing fifth out of the 14 teams at the tournament. Dustin McMillan and Josh Vanicelli were the leading team for the Wolves, shooting a 108, good for one under par.

Other teams placing for the Wolves were Ollie Ollinger and Adam Groh, who shot a 114, and Carlos Galaviz and Zach Shook, who shot a 115.

Clarkston coach Tim Kaul said the team's finish at the invite was roughly where he had expected.

"I thought Dustin played really well," he said. "He had five birdies.

We placed about where I thought we would."

Before traveling to the invite, the Wolves competed in a dual meet with Oakland Activities Association Division I rival Waterford Kettering at Pontiac Country Club Sept. 27. The Wolves edged their division rivals, 164-165, to improve their dual meet record to 4-2.

Kaul said while the win wasn't pretty, he'll take it. "We didn't shoot the ball real well against Kettering, but it was good enough to win," he said.

Adam Groh came through for the Wolves, earning medalist honors with a score of 38. "That's his best score of the year, and we needed it," Groh said.

Galaviz contributed a score of 41, while Ollinger added a 42 and Dustin McMillan and Robert Wood each added a 43. Kaul said McMillan's round was not as good as he has shown in the past.

"Dustin struggled a little bit," Kaul said. "He hasn't played as well as he has been."

Three former members of the Clarkston High School pom-pom team, (l-r) Danielle Facone, Whitney Renz, and Britt Detkowski, met recently at a Milwaukee, Wisc. dance team camp. Facone and Detkowski are members of the "Motion" dance team with Michigan State University, while Renz is the captain of the dance team at Grand Valley State University. ## Fall sports teams distinguish themselves

The fall sports season in Clarkston is about a month old, and so far, my first month covering the sports beat has provided plenty of highlights.

Granted, the football team has struggled this year with a 1-5 record, but the other fall sports have made up for it.

Here's a birds-eye look at each sport:

Soccer: The boys' team garnered a couple of impressive wins against Kettering and Mott last week, improving their overall record to 7-4 and 3-2 in league play.

Girls' basketball: Against fifth-ranked Saginaw Arthur Hill, the Lumberjacks raced out to a 15-0 lead before the Wolves had a chance to catch their breath. The team showed poise in withstanding that early run, even though they wound up losing, 63-54.

Football: What can you say, except some years aren't meant to be? The Wolves, after dropping their opening contest against Utica Eisenhower, showed promise in a win over West Bloomfield. However, they haven't won since. Their 42-0 loss to Waterford Mott Sept. 18 dropped the Wolves to 1-5 on the season.

Girls' cross-country: It's been a groundbreaking season for coach Jamie LaBrosse and his team. The girls' squad has earned respect from their peers, as they are ranked eighth in the state this week.

Boys' cross-country: The boys' harriers have also enjoyed a solid season, defeating Rochester Sept. 25 and then placing fifth out of 18 teams at the Hanson Invitational.

Tennis: It's been a team effort for the Wolves all season, as they have battled with Bloomfield Hills Andover all season for Oakland Activities Association Division II supremacy.

Swimming: After a slow start, the girls' team has shown every sign of competing once again for the Oakland Activities Association Division IV title.

Golf: The Wolves have done well for themselves since a two-week respite earlier in the year. They scored a narrow win over Kettering in a dual meet Sept. 27 to improve their dual meet record to 4-2, and then placed fifth at the Hartland Invitational, which was contested under 27-hole, best-ball rules.

What's up with that!

Jeff Patrus
