After 7 months Main Street's back in business

By JENNIFER NEMER
and MARALEE COOK

The season of orange barrels, one lane, and traffic backups is nearly over.

With only minor work left, Clarkston can rejoice—they've survived downtown construction!

Those probably most thrilled to see construction leaving town are the businesses along Main Street.

So how did it all pan out for the merchants?

Some were hit hard

For Clarkston Country Store owner Gini Schultz, losing parking out front was big issue.

"Having parking back on Main Street really helps a ton. Business has been very difficult," Schultz said. "Since the first part of August it's been pretty grim. It's all been worthwhile, but I'm looking forward to the project being done."

Clarkston Dry Cleaners owner Nick Saiz's business is down 80 percent. "We went from 150 customers per week to a couple of days when we only had three or four people coming in the door. I haven't paid myself in four months. Fortunately I have another income or I couldn't have made it."

"The biggest problem is construction took away our parking," he said. "Now that the sidewalk is back in, three or four more people per day are coming in."

Saiz said he's hoping customers will return and is offering up to 25 percent off on Saturdays, no coupon necessary.

Victorian Village owner Terry Coventry said, "I lost exactly 73 percent (of business), which is not good. But it's hard to tell what (of the percentage) is road, recession or terror. It could be all three things combined, I guess."

Advertisements and downtown functions such as the Ice Cream Social didn't even help the store, which has been located at 4 S. Main for two and a half years.

Owner Carol West of Basketfull of Yarn felt a similar blow.

"I lost business. I lost

Clarkston businesses are ecstatic construction is nearly over. Representing downtown businesses are: Kacy and Associates attorneys Dennis Kacy and Sherry Powell; Clarkston Hair Design owner David Ciapelli; Village Apparel owner David McNeven and manager Diane Brozovich; Olde Village Cafe owner Peter Berishaj; Clarkston Country Store owner Gini Schultz; Clarkston State Bank Vice President of Operations Dawn Horner; Washington Management owner Ed Adler; Village Bake Shop owners Eric and Stephanie Vo; Clarkston Union owner Curt Catallo; Chris Thomas of Rudy's Market; and Clarkston Police Chief Paul Ormiston. 'Who Let the Dogs Out?'

It was a Day for Dogs at the Halloween Howl, sponsored by the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce, at Depot Park on October 27.

Dogs of all kinds—some donning costumes—and their owners enjoyed a variety of activities and entertainment.

There was a demonstration by an Oakland County Sheriff's Association tracking dog, an agility obstacle course competition, and contests for prizes for the best doggie costume, longest tail, ugliest dog, saddest eyes, pet and people look-a-like, and the Canine Congeniality Award.

Cruella Deville, who arrived in a limo with a "passel of Dalmations," was the mistress of ceremonies.

Incumbents for city council to run unopposed

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston City Council will likely have the same look in the year ahead as it has this year.

Four council positions will be up for grabs in this year's city election, to be held Nov. 6. Three of the positions are for two-year terms, while the other is for a one-year term.

All four candidates on the ballot are incumbent council members. Dan Columbo, Walt Gamble, and David Savage will be running for the three two-year terms, while Derek Werner will be running for the one-year term.

Gamble and Savage have been on the council since November 1995, while Columbo has been on board since November 1997.

The polls will be open at 7 a.m. Nov. 6 at Clarkston City Hall, located on 375 Depot Road in Clarkston. Voting will conclude at 8 p.m.

Werner is running to fill out the remainder of former council member Karen Sanderson's term. Sanderson resigned earlier this year, and Werner was appointed by the council July 24 to take her spot. He was sworn in at their next meeting Aug. 13. The polls will be open at 7 a.m. Nov. 6 at Clarkston City Hall, located on 375 Depot Road in Clarkston. Voting will conclude at 8 p.m.

City council approves block grant allocations for 2002-03

The Clarkston City Council approved a total of $8,000 in Community Development Block Grant fund allocations for 2002-03 at its Oct. 22 meeting.

The funds will be allocated as follows: Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Camp Program, $1,400; Senior Citizens — Meals on Wheels, $1,000; Independence Township Library — Large Print Books, $600; Lighthouse Services, $1,000; Senior Center — Building Program, $4,000.

New drainage system to alleviate flooding on Almond Lane expected to be in place by winter

Heavy rains recently brought more flooding to the wetlands west of Clarkston High School and the yards of Almond Lane residents.

Independence Township Supervisor Dale Stuart said when residents complain the school is notified to begin pumping water into Clarkston Road ditches, which took place after the rains.

Stuart said the township is waiting for bids for construction and implementation of gravity drain piping that will divert water from CHS retention ponds west to the orchards subdivision and south to wetlands near Gulick Lake.

Stuart said bids are expected in about a month. He expects the piping to be constructed and installed over the winter months. Landscape restoration will be completed in the spring, he said.

The cost of the project is $312,000. Independence Township will contribute about $214,000, Road Commission for Oakland County $40,000 and Clarkston schools $58,000.

Residents have been complaining about flooding problems since Clarkston High School was completed in 1998.

Raising class size, reassigning students to other buildings, reconfiguring grade levels...

How to manage K-8 growth at Clarkston schools?

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With an overcrowded high school, and continuing population growths in Independence Township projected, Clarkston School Board members and administrators prepare for the future by addressing K-8 facility needs.

Dr. Al Roberts, Clarkston Schools superintendent, said at the October 22 workshop session that the board was only looking for solutions and guidance, and not approving any action plans yet.

"It's exciting we're moving forward," he said. "But we still don't have an actual plan."

Roberts told board members they need to rely on the advice of teachers, food servers, and others who are in the schools daily. "We need to utilize their expertise," he said.

When feedback is received and research is completed by committees, the board will begin work on approving a solution.

David Reschke, asst. superintendent for K-8 operations, presented data and possible facility plans, divided into short and long term solutions.

Short term solutions

Across the district, there is an uneven distribution of students between some elementary schools and the two middle schools which creates a lack of adequate instructional space at those buildings, Reschke said.

For example, Clarkston Middle School enrollment is at 1,112, while Sashabaw Middle School is only at 758. CMS has one room available, while SMS has three or four rooms available.

In the elementary world, Andersonville enrollment is at 401, Pine Knob is at 469, while both schools were designed to house around 450 students. Springfield Plains has two rooms available, while North Sashabaw is full and is using an art room for instruction.

To accommodate, the following scenarios have been considered as possible solutions:

■ Raise the class size in the elementary schools to reduce the need for additional classrooms.

■ Reassign students from overcrowded buildings to less crowded buildings during the 2002-05 school years.

Examples may include moving the fifth grade from NSE to SMS for a fifth grade wing; move kindergarten classes from NSE and PKE to SMS for a kindergarten center; or move Independence Elementary fifth graders to Clarkston Elementary.

■ Redefine the school boundary lines to more evenly distribute the population, and implement the new plan for the 2002-05 school years.

Long term solutions

If population trends continue as projected by Stanfred--an independent firm that projects school populations--and as validated by past practice, Reschke said, the elementary and middle schools will not have enough classroom space to house all students in the K-8 division.

Data, from base assumptions showing five percent growth for kindergartners and two percent for grades one through nine, indicate by 2005-06 enrollment will surpass design capacity by 106 students, and by 2008-09 enrollment will surpass maximum capacity by 51 students.

Five different grade level configurations (see chart) were discussed as possible solutions.

Roberts said of the configurations, "no single plan is better for the students or all schools would be using it. It's simply a reaction to distribution."

The preferred plan, which is used currently, would leave the schools as K-5 and 6-8 configurations. With this plan, estimated enrollment for 2004-05 is 5,314 students for K-8. With design capacity for nine buildings at 5,355 students and maximum capacity at 5,700, this allows a variance from design of -41 and variance from maximum capacity of -386.

Also considered as possible solutions:

■ Conduct a feasibility study to determine how additions to existing buildings could alleviate crowded conditions.

■ Conduct a full audit on growth expectations in Independence and Springfield townships.

■ Convene a district task force to determine grade level configurations for the district for the years 2005-13.

At the meeting, President Karen Foyteck said, "The challenge is to come up with an effective short term solution while making a comprehensive long term solution that fits well."

Roberts assured, "No other district can outwork us. The work ethic in this district is extraordinary. We'll get this done. It may take some time. It may be excruciating. But we'll get this done."

Springfield interviews six candidates for trustee

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Six candidates for the vacant Springfield Township board position had a chance to meet with their prospective colleagues Oct. 29-30.

Four of the six candidates scheduled for interviews — Robert Bishop, Mark J. Williamson, Dean Hilbert, and Roger Lamont — met with the township board Oct. 29 at the Springfield Township Hall.

The other two candidates interviewed, Dean Baker and Darcie Goulette-Moss, met with the board Oct. 30.

A seventh candidate, Wendell Trager, was not available for an interview either day.

The seven candidates are vying to fill the trustee spot vacated when former trustee Elaine Field-Smith resigned in September. Springfield Township Clerk Nancy Strole said an appointment to fill the vacancy will be made at the township board's next meeting Nov. 8.

Bishop has been a resident of Springfield Township for 3-1/2 years, and is retired from Ford Motor Company, where he worked in a number of management positions. Most recently, he worked as an area manager at the Dearborn Assembly plant.

He holds a bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering from the University of Detroit, a master's in business administration from Wayne State University, and an associate's in quality control from the University of Tennessee.

In addition, Bishop has held the presidency of a couple homeowner's associations, one in Springfield Township and the other in Dearborn. However, this is his first try at public office.

He said his experience and education make him a strong candidate for the township board.

"I have an abundance of experience," he said. "While I'm retired, I'm certainly not ready for a rocking chair. I think my experience and education could be useful to the township."

Bishop said the township could do a better job of getting information across through the use of technology, particularly cable access. He cited an example where Brandon Township's supervisor appeared regularly on cable access programming. He said Springfield could expand its cable offerings beyond the messages that are listed on the government access channel.

"I think it ought to be expanded to televising township board meetings, and getting that information out," he said.

Bishop said his primary objectives, if appointed, would be to preserve the rural nature of the township, and to work at improving the percentage of people that vote.

"I was disappointed in the last millage election for the schools," he said. "I think the township board ought to work on getting people to the polls."

He said homeowner's associations can be a good way of accomplishing that objective.

"They're a valuable source of contact with people at large," Bishop said. "It's a fine way of being in contact with a wide range of people."

Williamson, who owns a dental practice in Flushing, has been a resident of the township since 1983. He holds a bachelor's degree from Oakland University and a dental degree from the University of Detroit.

He said his practice is well-established enough that he can turn his attention to other pursuits, so he decided to submit a letter of interest in the trustee position to the township.

"Over the course of my career, I've been busy building a practice," he said. "I have other people working with me, and it frees up some of my time."

Williamson has had experience as president of a condominium association, and is currently chairman of the Harbortown subdivision. He said development is the key issue facing the township. "It's obviously grown in 18 years," he said.

He said he is qualified for the job because of his experience as president of the homeowners' association, and also said he is proactive and "knows how to get things done."

If appointed to the job, he said he would take a wait-and-see approach. "I want to meet the members of the board and see what issues are on the table," he said.

Dominicans will protest 'School of the Americas'

Hundreds of Dominicans from across the United States will travel to Fort Benning, Georgia to protest the U.S. Army "School of the Americas" November 16-18. The "School of the Americas" (SOA) was renamed the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation, in January. The "New Name -- Same Shame" banners will fly high this year. The institute trains soldiers in combat techniques, terror tactics, counter-insurgency and counter-narcotics.

(We believe) graduates of the SOA are responsible for some of the worst human rights abuses in Latin America, Mexico and South America. Among the SOA's nearly 60,000 graduates are notorious dictators Manuel Noriega and Omar Torrijos of Panama, Leopoldo Galtieri and Roberto Viola of Argentina, Juan Velasco Alvarado of Peru. SOA graduates have participated in human rights abuses that include the assassination of Archbishop Oscar Romero, the four church women and the El Mozote Massacre of 900 civilians.

SOA Watch is an independence organization that seeks to close the U.S. Army "School of the Americas" under whatever name it is given, through bigils, fasts, demonstrations and nonviolent protest, as well as media and legislative action.

Who will make their voices heard? End the silence. Come to Ft. Benning November 16-18.

For more information call 202-234-3440 or visit their web site www.soaw.org.

Why aren't we considering ethanol as a source of fuel?

The events of September 11 have caused everyone to reflect on needs and priorities, personal and as a nation. One concern of most of us is the future of our energy needs and supplies.

Recently, several commentators in various publications have discussed and debated the U.S. need to be less dependent on foreign sources for energy, such as oil. Some have argued for economies at home, perhaps encouraged by higher costs for fuel. Others prefer that we expand the tapping of domestic reserves of fuel, such as oil, which pose environmental challenges. One commentator suggested we plan on using hydrogen as a fuel, with unclear consequences.

Only one person, as far as I have seen, has suggested that the most sensible solution to our future energy needs might be the increased production and use of ethanol as a fuel - State Rep. Ruth Johnson.

Ethanol as a fuel has so many advantages that we have to wonder why so little is being done to investigate its use. It can be readily available and economically stimulating; it can be produced from many sources, including farm products and even household waste. It is environmentally friendly, in that it decomposes in a harmless way. Most of our vehicles and engines can be easily engineered to use it as a fuel; indeed, it is being used as an everyday fuel in racing. It could be dispensed at service stations as gasoline and oil are today, using our in-place distribution system.

There seem to be so many good reasons for considering ethanol as our fuel of choice in the future. The question is, Why aren't we?

Clarkston JV football team deserves congratulations

I would just like to congratulate my son Brendan Quisenberry and the rest of the boys on the Clarkston High School JV football team.

Nine wins, 0 losses makes for a perfect season. These boys worked so hard to achieve this. It sure would be nice if the local papers would give these guys a little consideration in the press.

You know varsity football is not the only game in town. Thanks, kids for giving all your parents great Thursday nights. We sure look forward to next season!!!

Ow! The smackin, frackin things bite!

Thank God for the arctic blast we had last week. Don, are you off your rocker? That weather sucked — (which reminds me of a joke: Scientists have figured out why the trees in Michigan tend to lean to the south — Ohio sucks.)

Anyway, I'm glad the weather turned chilly and nasty for a short spell, I'm hoping it puts an end to the infestation the land has experienced. A cleansing cold if you will.

Let me explain. . . Throughout the summer, I heard alarming reports of cute little ladybugs biting people. Brother-in-law Jeff Felker was the first to squeal.

"I was working in the yard and these ladybugs were everywhere. Then one of the little (bleepity bleep bleeps) bit me. I couldn't (bleepity bleep bleep) believe it."

Ever the reporter-type I stayed neutral, I didn't say anything. I just nodded my head as his story unfolded and handed him a green-bottled, stinky beer when he finished. Later that evening I told my wife (without embellishment, I might add) of Jeff's tales of woe and she said, "No way. Ladybugs don't bite. How many green-bottled, stinky beers did he have?"

Hmm? I thought, then changed the subject without a sharp-witted, if not pointed follow-up statement/question. Journalistically speaking, confrontation is best served to politicians, not your wife. The subject successfully changed, I shelved the ladybug question in the dark recesses of my brain. And, eventually forgot about it altogether.

But as the summer wore on I noticed those little spotted Asian Lady Beetles were everywhere. This reporter had never seen so many of the little buggers.

Towards the end of summer — maybe it was even into the early part of fall, buddy Thomas Ward Roberts was (and by the way is still) painting his newly erected pole barn — and darned if he didn't get bit by a Harmonia axyridis, too. And, what a shame it is that they bite. Harmonia axyridis sounds like such a nice bug.

About the time T.W. was professing that he too was a victim, hoards of the invaders swarmed our home — as I am sure they invaded yours, too. I didn't know what to do, except I had to protect my family from those bloodthirsty critters that always looked so cute. Damn, the truth hurts sometimes.

The gloves had to come off — it was time to get down and dirty with bugs. And before you get mad at me for smackin' around the ladies, back off. Have you ever tried to determine the sex of a ladybug? I am not about to.

But like I said, I didn't know what to do — so I contacted the experts at Michigan State University, via computer. A day later Lake Orion native Terry McLean e-mailed me back with info. After reading up on them, I guess I can't hate the spotted (bleepity bleep bleeps) anymore. The war is over, dang-it!

Anyway, here's what I learned. Why are there so many ladybugs this year? Because last year there was a population explosion of aphids — the ladybug's favorite meal.

Do they bite . . . yep: "The Asian ladybug might take a nip out of your finger if handled . . . they are not aggressive towards humans and they simply may be examining an unfamiliar substrate or they may be seeking moisture."

How did they get here? Americans introduced them in the United States in 1916. Some are red, some are orange. Some have spots, some don't.

What else do you want to know about ladybugs? Well, if agitated or squashed they "reflex" bleed a yellow fluid with a bad smell from their leg joints (yuck!) This stuff stains clothing, so when smashing them to smithereens, make sure they are on a rock or something.

Terry's e-mail also revealed: They do not chew or bore holes in walls like ants or termites and they do not have sex nor do they lay their eggs in your home. Basically they're nice guests who come in, fly around the lights and die.

"The practical solution for homeowners in the fall and winter is to vacuum and discard invader lady beetles as they appear."

Thanks for the memories

This is the last column I will write as editor of The Clarkston News. For this job to be done well it takes 40-plus hours per week, and it's time for me to cut back.

I hope to stay active with the company doing special projects. The Clarkston News is a great newspaper, and I've been a fan for over 20 years.

My grandfather and father were in the newspaper business and over the years I've learned a newspaper is a living thing. It draws its life not from its staff, but from the people of the community it serves.

Chronicling the history of Clarkston and Independence and Springfield townships is an important function of The Clarkston News. But sharing the milestones in the lives of our readers is equally important.

For instance — on the morning of Wednesday, October 17 I received a phone call from a woman about flooding (still!) on Almond Lane from the retention ponds at Clarkston High School. I muttered to myself that Almond Lane flooding was the first story I wrote as editor in March of 1998 and three and a half years later, it's still going on.

Hmmm. Coincidence or providence? Then, on the morning of Wednesday, October 24 I received a phone call from a woman asking when the middle school honor rolls would be published, and would I make sure to spell her son's unusual last name correctly.

I understand. My kids were on the honor roll, and I wanted their names spelled correctly. (Actually, I am shameless enough to have wanted their names circled in red).

Here's the connection. We've been publishing honor rolls and stories about Almond Lane flooding for 3 1/2 years and we've received many more phone calls about the honor roll than Almond Lane.

And for every person who buys an extra copy of The Clarkston News because of a news story, six come in to buy extra copies when a friend or family member appears in the paper, or they want a reprint of a photo.

The Sherman family has owned and published our paper since 1966 and understands this very well. The Clarkston News does this better than any other paper and will continue to do so, long after I'm gone (and several of my successors.)

I have wanted to be a part of the editorial part of this newspaper ever since I watched former editor Jean Saile at work in the 1970s, and I'm grateful to the Sherman family for giving me the opportunity to be a part of their company (again).

I will be forever thankful for the mentorship and friendship of our publisher, Jim Sherman, Jr., and Assistant Publisher, Don Rush, and for the support of our staff. I'm also indebted to the many local officials, business people and individuals who've answered an endless parade of questions patiently and to the point. They're not even cranky on deadline.

I've been very privileged to have been one of many reporters and editors to tell your stories and I've enjoyed every minute of it. You are an extraordinary group of people.

Hope to see you around town!
And you can still reach me at clarkstonnews@adni.net

Clarkston resident Dan Ziegler and his "best friend," Reid, a St. Bernard disguised as a leprechaun this Halloween.

Terri Bendes, of the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce, played the devilish Cruella Deville. She was mistress of ceremonies, arriving in a limo with a "passel of dalmations."

Denise Myers gets in the Halloween spirit, donning a witch costume with dog Liz.

Q: My knees are painful. Could I have arthritis?

A: Arthritis is the most common type of joint disease. It affects approximately 60 million Americans, mostly over age 50. The signs and symptoms are:

- Slowly developing joint pain
- Stiffness, mornings and after sitting
- Swelling of joint and decreased range of motion

Your physician can help diagnose this disease through blood testing and x-rays. Treatment varies and may include applying heat to the area, anti-inflammatory medication, weight reduction or surgery in advanced cases.

Despite the cold weather, Independence Township Parks & Recreation's Friendly Forest was still a success on Saturday, Oct. 27 at Clintonwood Park. Over 1,500 adults and children enjoyed the Halloween event. 853 tickets were presold to children only. Children walked the friendly trail to 14 stations in order to collect different treats. The stations varied from Sesame Street to Toy Story. Every year, both the Independence Township Fire Department and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department bring their flashing vehicles to participate in the event as well as donate trick or treat bags. The trail ends with cider and donuts as neighbors and friends gather together at picnic tables. Photo courtesy of Beth Walker.

A Look Back

15 YEARS AGO (1986)

Almost 50 percent of Independence Township's 13,000 registered voters went to the polls Nov. 4, approving the police millage and supporting the reelection of Gov. James Blanchard. The additional 1.5 mills for the police fund for three years passed with 2,666 "yes" votes and 2,141 "no" votes. The millage is to take effect in December 1987 unless the state legislature grants special permission to begin collecting this year.

In an effort to combat speeding cars and loud trucks, the Clarkston Village Council plans to hire an Oakland County Sheriff's deputy to work a few hours a week on a trial basis. The village is to subcontract a deputy from Independence Township, which contracts for police officers from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Elizabeth Ronk is guest of honor at a tree-planting ceremony planned Nov. 8 at Clarkston's Depot Park. The planting of the flowering crabtree is in tribute to Mrs. Ronk's 36 years as Clarkston's Postmistress and to service as honorary chairperson of Independence Township's 150th birthday celebration this year, said Fontie ApMadoc, chairperson of the Village Beautification Committee.

25 YEARS AGO (1976)

Independence Township Supervisor J. Edwin Glennie was unseated handily by Floyd Tower, and Springfield Township Supervisor Donald Rogers hung onto his seat by only a two vote margin in unofficial election returns Nov. 2. The Independence upset includes Clerk Robert Lay, who lost to Democratic challenger Christopher Rose by only 12 votes, after a quick but unofficial count of absentee votes.

Thirty or so residents around Deer Lake appear favorably impressed with plans for a proposed consent judgement in regard to development at the north end of the lake. They were in attendance at a public hearing Oct. 29 called by the township board to review a proposed court agreement between Hubert Garner, agent for the developer, and the township board.

The Independence Township Planning Commission has recommended to the township board that a parcel of land just south of the gas station at Sashabaw and Waldon Roads be rezoned from commercial to light industry. Contingent upon the rezoning is the purchase of the property by Paul Verhey of Cramlane. He would like to construct facilities for an auto body repair shop.

50 YEARS AGO (1951)

The Independence Township United Fund Campaign, with a quote of $3,700, is underway. On Oct. 30, the committee met and chose Floyd Andrews, chairman; Mrs. R.E. Spohn, secretary and R.L. Jones, treasurer. Solicitors were chosen for about twenty districts, and they and whomever they choose to help them are due at the Township Hall Oct. 29 to receive their supplies.

It is expected that the Hutchinson Restaurant Cafeteria at 4541 Dixie Highway will open Nov. 5, according to Gene Shaw, the manager. This will be in a new building built especially for it and will cater to banquets and parties, as well as serving the public. The interior has been trimmed two walls in bubonnet and two walls in dove gray, forming a beautiful, restful contrast.

The following items were on special at Terry's Market in Clarkston: smoked picnics, small, 41 cents/lb.; Florida oranges, full of juice, 39 cents/dozen; frozen peas, two packages, 49 cents; butter, 73 cents/lb.; pineapple juice, 46 oz. can, 28 cents; pure pork sausage, 14 oz. pkg., 49 cents/lb.; fresh tomatoes, two packages, 37 cents; Scot tissue, three rolls for 29 cents; bananas, two lbs., 29 cents.

After seven months, downtown Clarkston back in business money," she said. "I bet I lost 50 percent. It was very very slow."

West's business is starting to pick back up now. But for most of the summer, she said, "there were a lot of lonely days in here."

She advertised, had special sales, and increased the number of beading and knitting classes she offers, but had to shorten her hours because of the lack of traffic in her store. "A lot of people just didn't want to come," she said.

Some were hit only a little

"We have our own parking here, so we were very fortunate," said Ann Stevenson, owner of the four-year-old Union General. "But, occasionally, I would hear from customers who'd say, 'I really needed something, but couldn't get down Main Street.' Luckily they came back."

Any trouble caused by construction, Stevenson said was worth it. "It's looking great," she said. "I'm really pleased."

Rudy's Market owner Chris Thomas admitted, "It affected us a little, we probably lost five or ten percent. We took our lump and prepared for it. I think we handled it fairly well."

Terry Tracey of Tierra Fine Jewelry said she noticed the biggest drop in business over the last month, and the staff put extra time into mailings and calling customers at home.

"It's going to be beautiful when it's done," she said, adding "The Chamber (Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce) has done such a beautiful job with helping out with so many things."

Some weren't affected at all

"It didn't impact us," said Suzanne Hendry, assistant manager of Village Apparel and Gifts. "We have our regulars."

"I mean a woman came in the other day carrying her shoes because she had just walked through the wet cement," said Hendry. "She said, 'I just had to get in here!' Women will shop, no matter what. And if you know certain places and like them, you're gonna go."

Hendry said the store did a variety of things to attract customers amidst the construction such as having a jewelry show, opening the back door, and having a sign up front pointing towards parking in the rear. They even tried to promote business throughout all of downtown with a special 20 percent discount if a patron showed a receipt from another Main Street merchant.

"We knew we would do well. We were always upbeat," said Hendry. "We might have done better without the construction, you don't know. But we didn't sit here day in and day out with no business."

Claudia Jakus, owner of Clarkston Travel, just north of Washington on Main Street, said her business was not affected too badly by downtown construction.

"So much of our business is done over the phone, the construction wasn't really a hardship. And if people wanted to come, they found a way to come in," she said.

Others hit can laugh at it

"We're ready to start handing out hats and horns," laughed Realtor Karen Wilkenson, of Morgan, Moreno and Milzow. "It's been a good summer for manic depressives."

Joking aside, fellow Realtor Mary Ann Allen said the summer of construction was difficult. There were days the office building would shake from the work outside; and the noise level made it difficult to talk on the phone, she said.

But both feel it was worth it. "We're happy to see it finished; happy to have Main Street back to normal. It's looking very good," said Wilkenson.

Anita Turnbull, a stylist at Clarkston Hair Design, said, "It did affect our business, but the loyal customers came back. We will survive."

Owner David Ciapelli joked, "My customers have been driving bulldozers to get in here."

Plus, customers had to park in the lots off Depot and make quite a hike to get to the 16-year-old salon.

"They've had to park over at grandmother's house and come over the river and through the woods to get here," Ciapelli kidded.

"Clarkston people are tough; our customers are tough," he said. "They'll beat a path to your door if they have to."

Ciapelli's attitude has remained positive through it all. "It can't get any worse, it can only get better."

"It's like hit me with your best shot—tear out the sidewalks, tear up the street, take away our parking—is that all you got?" Ciapelli teased. "We gotta laugh at this, you can't cry."

Clarkston Elementary second graders are learning about one of the many ways to help make our world a wonderful place. Teachers Mrs. Minton, Mrs. Oak and Miss Patel share with their class during their science lesson the importance of recycling to help our environment. Miss Patel's class decided what a great way to help the world and their class party fund. Each child has been bringing in cans that have the ten cent Michigan deposit refund. Each child counts their cans by tens and then turns the number into a money value. The Halloween party Oct. 31 is planned with a special craft, making caramel apples, and lots of other activities. These activities are all funded by the children's hard work of recycling. Miss Patel is very proud of her class and the kids' involvement in this project. The class will also be working on a clothing drive for Clarkston Lighthouse next month.

THE LAW & YOU
 by Robert Kostin
 Attorney at Law

COLLECTING DUST

It can sometimes be very difficult for winning plaintiffs to collect jury awards for intentional injuries. This is due to the fact that most insurance policies provide exclusions for coverage for intentional injuries. The reasoning goes that, if you can insure yourself against assaulting others, the threat of a financially ruinous lawsuit will not stand in the way of your carrying out your destructive intentions. This is rightfully considered to be contrary to the best interests of the common good. Thus, the insurance company will not have to pay the judgment returned against its insured. For this reason, attorneys usually do not try to prove that the injury was caused intentionally, unless the defendant is wealthy.

An experienced lawyer, knows the nuances of the law, and the best way to obtain what his or her client deserves in a case. Located at 11 North Main Street, we have the experience you're looking for. We can be reached at 620-1030. Come to us for the professionalism you deserve.

Note: If there is no insurance coverage, plaintiffs must try to collect from the individual, which can be difficult, time consuming, and expensive.

Above, Davisburg Elementary School was severely damaged by a tornado October 24. Students were scheduled to return to classes this week. No one was hurt when the building was hit. Right, Davisburg resident Debbie Hagen, her daughter Katie and son Mike (not pictured) were keeping watch on the storm from inside their Davisburg Road farmhouse while Debbie's husband Tom was working in their barn. Debbie's niece called her to tell her sirens were going off in Clarkston and that reports said a tornado was on its way to Davisburg.

Shortly after that the power went out and Mike, who had been watching out the window told his mother and Katie to, "hit the basement," said Debbie. Shortly after that Tom ran in the house. "I asked him later why he told us to go to the basement," said Debbie. "He said everything outside had been blowing sideways and all of a sudden began to blow upwards. He had his head pressed against the window and he could feel the glass begin to vibrate, and then he said he heard a sound like a freight train, just like everyone who's seen a tornado says. Then we heard the loudest crack ever." and the family's big pine tree went down. The Hagens live a few hundred yards from Davisburg Elementary School.

Wolves defeat Grand Blanc to advance to regionals Oct. 30

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer
Clarkston soccer coach Dan Fitzgerald said before the start of districts that the team was capable of taking the district title.

On Oct. 26, the Wolves proved him right, upsetting sixth-ranked Grand Blanc, 3-1, to win the district title and advance to regional competition Oct. 30 against Traverse City Western at Saginaw Heritage.

The win improves the Wolves' record to 14-7 overall, while Grand Blanc finishes up the season with a 16-3-1 record.

The Wolves used a three-goal barrage late in the first half to seize command of the game.

Clarkston spotted the Bobcats a 1-0 lead with about 11 minutes left in the first half, when freshman midfielder Mike Holody caught a pass from junior forward Edgar Grech-Cumbo to tie the game.

About three minutes later, junior forward Sean Gardner scored off an assist from Holody to give the Wolves a 2-1 lead. Clarkston added an insurance goal

Out with the old, in with the new. The Clarkston girls' basketball team, which clinched the Oakland Activities Association Division I title with a win against West Bloomfield Oct. 19, soundly defeated visiting Waterford Kettering, 48-33, in an Oct. 26 contest.

The Captains had won the OAA I title the past two years before Clarkston's rise to the top this year. On Oct. 2, the Wolves beat Kettering on their home floor, 49-25. The Wolves are currently 11-5 overall and 10-1 in league action.

The two teams played it close during the first half, as Clarkston grabbed a 10-7 lead over the Captains at the end of the first quarter. Kettering managed to keep within striking distance of the Wolves, trailing by only three points, 20-

Wolves qualify for states with third place at regionals

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston girls' cross-country team will have their chance to see how they measure up against the state's best.

The Wolves finished third with 94 points in Region 8 competition held Oct. 27 at Springfield Oaks County Park in Davisburg. That finish assures the Wolves a spot at the state meet, which will be held Nov. 3 at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn.

Rochester Adams won the meet, while Romeo was runner-up. The top three teams in each region, as well as the top 15 individual runners, automatically qualify for the state meet.

Anne Oltman was the leading runner for the Wolves, finishing 10th overall. Liz Mengyan placed 15th, followed by Carla DelVecchio at 20th, Gillian Nordquist at 24th, and Mo Kuita at 25th.

Clarkston coach Jamie LaBrosse said Oltman and DelVecchio, in particular, ran very well at the meet.

Overall, LaBrosse said while the team could have done better, the bottom line is they qualified for states.

"I don't think we raced as well as we could have, but the thing is, we qualified for states, and we have next week to redeem ourselves," he said.

Two-team defending state champion Rockford looks once again to be the team to beat at the state meet, according to LaBrosse.

"After that, it's pretty wide open," he said.

He said there are approximately six or seven teams, Clarkston included, that figure to be in the next group of finishers behind the defending champions.

Athlete of the week: Case Bannasch

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

From the time he started playing football in eighth grade until now, Clarkston senior Case Bannasch said he has learned to become more aggressive on the field.

That was evident this year, as Bannasch emerged as the go-to guy in Clarkston's offense, giving the Wolves a consistent pass-catching threat. Bannasch, who also plays outside linebacker, was one of the Wolves' captains this season.

His consistency, not to mention his ability to play with pain, was noted by Clarkston coach Kurt Richardson.

"He played hurt all year for us," he said. "He played both sides of the ball and was our leading receiver. He was one of our captains. He did some good things for us all season long."

For his part, Bannasch said the Clarkston coaching staff has emphasized being mentally tough. "They just keep pushing the whole team to get better," he said. "They don't let us quit."

Bannasch said he first became interested in football at the middle school level.

"In seventh grade, my coach, Mr. Himberg, came up to me and asked me if I wanted to play eighth grade football, and I said yes," he said.

Since he first started playing football, Bannasch said he has improved the level of his play. "I've gotten a lot more aggressive," he said. "I knew I had to step it up."

In the winter, he will take to the hardwood as a member of Clarkston's varsity boys' basketball team, where he will play forward and center.

Bannasch is the son of Jim and Lisa Bannasch of Clarkston. He has an older brother, Derek, who attends Central Michigan University, and a younger brother, Jake, who attends Clarkston Middle School and is on their seventh grade football team.

Sitko, Elmore advance to state finals

Boys' harriers barely miss qualifying for state meet with fourth place finish at regionals

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston boys' cross-country team just missed out on going to the state finals — but two of their runners will make the trip.

The Wolves finished fourth overall at the Region 8 meet, held Sept. 27 at Springfield Oaks County Park in Davisburg, with 119 points. The top three teams in each region advance to the state finals, to be held Nov. 3 at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn.

Utica emerged from the meet, while Lake Orion finished second and Rochester Adams took third.

Despite being edged out of the state title picture, two of Clarkston's runners will be making the trip to the state meet for finishing among the top 15 finishers at regionals. Max Sako took fifth place overall, while Jared Elmore finished 11th.

This will be the second trip to the state finals for both men. Last year, they were members of the boys' cross-country team that qualified for the state meet, and wound up finishing 23rd in the state.

Other Clarkston runners placing at the meet were Derek Coe, who placed 16th overall; Jack Kinsey, who placed 40th overall; and Evan Schneider, who placed 47th overall.

Clarkston coach Mike Taylor said Schneider, in particular, "ran a real good race."

Overall, Taylor said he was happy with the team's performance, despite the fact they lost out in their bid to make the state meet.

"We ran pretty well," he said. "I was very pleased with the effort. We ran about as well as we expected. We just missed qualifying for states, but to their credit, the top three teams ran well. I'm disappointed that we're not going, but the other teams ran well."

17, at the end of the first half.

However, a second-half run by the Wolves proved to be the difference in the contest.

Clarkston coach Ann Lowney said the Captains were a much improved team from the last time the teams met, and it showed at the start of the game.

"We started out a little slow," she said. "They handled our press a little better."

Kira Karlstrom led the Wolves with 14 points, while Jenn Carlson added nine.

Clarkston wrapped up their regular season Oct. 30 at home against Rochester. After that, the Wolves will compete in the OAA tournament, which begins Nov. 1 and concludes a week later.

The Wolves will play the Oakland Activities Association Division II fourth-place team in their first game of the tourney. Clarkston's opponent, as well as the game's location, has not been determined as of press time.

McMillan, Wood named to OAA I all-league golf team

Two Clarkston golfers made the Oakland Activities Association Division I all-league team.

Junior Dustin McMillan and junior Robert Wood were both named to the team. To be selected, golfers must place in the top 13 once the averages for the two league meets are calculated. McMillan finished seventh in those standings with a 77 average, while Wood tied for 12th with an 80.5 average.

In addition, the team gave out their awards for the 2001 season. McMillan was named most valuable golfer, Zach Shook was named most improved golfer, and Carlos Galaviz won the coaches' award.

The first license to broadcast regularly went to station WBZ in Springfield, Massachusetts.

Richardson named assistant coach for all-star game

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston varsity football coach Kurt Richardson will have the honor of coaching some of the best high school players in the state next summer.

Richardson was named an assistant coach for the East team at the 22nd annual Michigan High School Football Coaches Association (MHSFCA) All-Star Game, to be held Aug. 3, 2002 at Spartan Stadium in East Lansing.

At that game, the state's best high school players from the previous year will compete against one another. Players who will be attending service academies (i.e. the Army, Navy, or Air Force) are not eligible to play at the game.

The East team's coaching staff will be comprised of head coach Jeff Stergalas of Dearborn Henry Ford and assistant coaches Richardson, Robert Jones of Redford, and Jim Scarcelli of Clintondale.

At the game, they will oppose the West team, which will be led by head coach Gasper Giarmo of Byron Center and assistants Jack Wallace of Fowlerville, Jim Galvin of Sparta, and Mike Holmes of Muskegon Catholic Central.

In last year's game, the East team beat the West team, 38-14, to take the series lead, 11 games to 10.

Richardson said he found out about the honor last spring, when Troy coach Gary Griffiths, a member of the MHSFCA, told him he'd been selected to the staff.

He said while he is thankful he was selected, the honor belongs just as much to all the members of the Clarkston coaching staff.

"It's a great honor," Richardson said. "There are a lot of outstanding high school football coaches in Michigan, and I was honored to be selected. They picked me, but I'm representing the Clarkston football staff."

Three former Clarkston players — John Wyniemo, Jason Graves, and Ryan Clément — have played in the game during its 21-year history.

Junior varsity gridders complete perfect season

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's junior varsity football team overcame some early obstacles and finished the year with a perfect record.

The Wolves went 9-0 this year, and achieved coach Doug Colling's objectives of buying into the Clarkston program and learning to overcome adversity.

Colling said the team was tested early, but battled its way back.

"I think the biggest key was the beginning of the year," Colling said. "Eisenhower was leading, 14-0, with seven minutes left. We scored 20 points in seven minutes. It served as a springboard for the rest of the season."

He said from that point on, the team started to believe in the Clarkston football program and believe they could win.

"It lifted the spirits of the kids," he said. "They started to believe in what we were trying to do. I think that was the defining moment."

Another key moment of the season, according to Colling, came in the team's last road game of the season Oct. 4 at Troy, when both teams came in the game at 6-0. Troy was winning the game, 8-7, at the onset of the fourth quarter, but the Wolves came back to win the game, 23-8.

He said the team was "a great group of kids" who worked hard to accomplish the goals they set at the beginning of the season.

Colling said the offseason will be key for the junior varsity players to make the transition to the varsity next year. "They seem to have the motivation and drive to do the little things," he said.

Clarkston graduate sees action for Albion College

Jeff Long, a 1998 graduate of Clarkston High School, is now a starter for Albion College's varsity football team.

Long, a senior who is the starting fullback for the Britons, caught a pass from Albion quarterback during Albion's 29-19 Homecoming win over Alma College Oct. 13. The game was the first Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association contest of the season for both teams.

four minutes after that, as Grech-Cumbo scored off a Holody assist.

Fitzgerald said he knew, based on a close 1-0 loss to the Bobcats Sept. 19, that the Wolves could compete with their state-ranked opponents.

"We had played them in the regular season, and played pretty even with them," he said. "It's a good win. We didn't give them an opportunity to score in the second half. Our guys stepped it up a couple notches."

The winner of the Clarkston-Traverse City Western contest will take on the winner of the game between Sterling Heights Stevenson and Flint Carmen-Ainsworth for the regional title.

Fitzgerald said there is no clear-cut favorite to win the regional title.

"I think if we play well, we can win this region," he said. "Some of the better teams in this region have got knocked off, so it's up for grabs."

Clarkston won a couple of close contests before reaching the championship game. The Wolves held off White Lake Lakeland, 3-2, in their opening district match Oct. 23.

The Wolves scored first when junior forward Sean Gardner punched it in about ten minutes into the game. That would be the game's only scoring in the first half.

In the second half, Daniel Gutierrez scored two goals, the first coming 10 minutes into the game and the second one five minutes later, to give the Wolves a 3-0 cushion.

That lead almost did not hold up, as Lakeland scored twice in the second half, but the Wolves held on for the win to advance to the semifinal match against Kettering.

"It was a game we were winning 3-0 with 20 minutes left," Fitzgerald said. "Then we let in a couple of silly goals and had to hang on to win the game."

The Wolves made it to the district finals by defeating Kettering, 1-0, in overtime Oct. 24. The win marked the third time Clarkston has defeated Kettering this year.

The Wolves' Steve Alle, a junior midfielder, scored in overtime to notch the win for Clarkston after a scoreless 80 minutes of regulation.

Fitzgerald said the team may have been tired playing two games in a row, coming off their win against Lakeland. He also said the strong winds that night had an effect on both teams.

"It was a game that the wind had quite an effect on," he said. "We had the wind in the first half. We had a lot of chances, but we didn't score. They got a few chances in the last 20 minutes, but weren't able to score."

After regulation, the teams played two 15-minute halves for the overtime session. During the first half of that session, Kettering got the wind, but wasn't able to cash in. The Wolves received the wind for the second half of overtime, and were able to notch the game-winning goal.

Travel baseball team wins league title

BY G. BENSON LANGE

Special to The Clarkston News

After losing only three regular season games to arch-competitors NFWB Cobras and the Michigan Hitmen, Clarkston's 14-year-old travel baseball team took their competitors by storm during the playoffs.

Clarkston's Red Dawgs recovered from an 0-2 record at the beginning of the season; and the rallied back from 2-0 deficits in each of the final playoff games. During the semifinals on Oct. 13, Clarkston scored nine runs in the second inning in response to the Cobras' first-inning lead. Ace pitcher Brian Chase held the Cobras scoreless through the remaining five innings, striking out six. The Red Dawgs rallied again in the bottom of the sixth inning to crush the NFWB Cobras, 15-2, at Powers Field in Novi. During the fourth inning, shortstop Bryan Morin fielded a hot grounder, pitched in underhand to second baseman Michael Powell, who made a spectacular barehanded catch and diving throw to first baseman Steve Shiel, in turning the game's only double play.

When the Red Dawgs stepped onto the field for the championship game, they remembered the Michigan Hitmen as formidable opponents. Clarkston never beat the Hitmen during the regular season. The Hitmen scored immediately in the first inning, putting Clarkston behind, 2-0. Clarkston used their trump-card closing pitcher, J.J. Lange, against the Hitmen. The "Comeback Kids" from Clarkston rallied in the second inning, racking up eight runs in response. Lange thwarted the Hitmen's offense by striking out 10 during the next four innings. Lange's breaking pitches caught five Hitmen looking when the umpire called them out. Clarkston's Red Dawgs played flawlessly to beat the Hitmen, 17-3.

During the two-game pair, Lange scored five times on two hits and drove in four runs. Steve Shiel drove in a run, hit two singles, and scored three times, once by stealing home. Devin Fuller produced two RBI on two hits and scored twice. Brian Chase drove in five runs on six hits and scored five times; he also retired the last four batters during the championship game as a relief pitcher for Lange. Scott Medlen scored five runs on four hits and drove in four. As catcher, Medlen gunned down pairs of baserunners in each game. Robbie Hoff hit Clarkston's only triple for the day, scored four runs, and produced three RBI on three singles. Bryan Morin scored three times and drove in three runs.

Matt Hoffman drove in a run and scored three times on three hits. Michael Powell produced three RBI on three hits and scored twice during the final two games. Mark Brady produced an RBI and relieved Chase in the semifinal game, striking out two. Head coach Doug Brady received Total Baseball's three-foot trophy on behalf of the Clarkston 14U baseball team whose "Fall-Ball" record finished at 14-3. Brady's record for the year with this group of traveling baseball players ended at 45 wins and 23 losses for a winning percentage of .662, including a first, second and third place finish in tournament play, and the 14-year-old NOBF championship.
