Hughes hangs on to school seat

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The votes are in, and the results were close. But lifelong Clarkston resident Sheila Hughes was able to retain her seat as secretary on the Clarkston Community Schools Board of Education, inching past competitor John Koval by only eight votes.

"I had a feeling it was going to be a close election. (Koval) has a strong amount of backers from the Band Boosters," Hughes said of the Bloomfield Township firefighter, 18-year Clarkston resident and long-time Clarkston schools volunteer.

Clarkston above average; show dips in writing

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

While Clarkston Community School scored above average for the Winter 2002 Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP), they saw dips in some areas.

Test results for fourth grade reading, fifth grade social studies and writing, seventh grade reading and writing, and eighth grade social studies show Clarkston district elementary and middle schools are above the Oakland County average, and well above the state average.

However, six of the seven elementary schools saw their scores decrease in writing. Three of the elementary schools saw a decrease in reading.

But Clarkston Community Schools Public Relations Director Anita Banach said the test results are incomplete.

Results for the 2002 mathematics and science tests have been held and will be available later this summer, according to the Michigan Department of Treasury, after new cut scores have been established and approved. These standards will determine the scores students must reach to exceed or meet state standards.

When all scores are in, Banach said, the schools will conduct a thorough evaluation, and present the data at a School Board meeting.

At this point, Banach noted there have been slight movements in the currently released scores, but said the schools are very pleased with what they see so far.

School administrators are always 'raising the bar' in education, and feel MEAP scores can be even better, she said. Areas where there have been decreases will be looked at to ensure the Clarkston schools curriculum is aligned with the state's core curriculum.

Overall, Clarkston recorded a 74.1 satisfactory average for fourth grade reading, down from 76.4 in 2001. In fifth grade social studies, Clarkston kids earned 32.4, up from last year's 31.9. In writing, ing, students improved overall with an 82.1, from 78.5 in 2001. Seventh grade reading went down to 64.3 from 69.5, as well as writing 83.4 from 85.6 of the year prior. Lastly, in eighth grade social studies results went up 42.7 from 40.8.

Banach explained the schools do not compare results one year to the next. With a different set of kids each year, studies are geared more to the consistency of scores within a three to five year period.

There are also a slew of reasons averages can show dips. For example, a particular question can cause a trip-up for the majority of students, or terminology can be misunderstood. At times, Banach said, teachers will have to move up textbook chapters in order to be covered before the MEAP tests are taken.

"We take the MEAPs seriously," she said, "but focus more on student achievement and curriculum regarding the goals we've set in Clarkston."

MEAP results are posted online at www.meritaward.state.mi.us.

Optimist Club awards scholarships

The Clarkston Optimists' Club has awarded three scholarships of $1,000 each to seniors who plan on going to college in the Midwest.

John Merz, chairman of the Optimists' Scholarship committee, said all three winners were highly qualified to receive the grants in competition with other seniors in the Clarkston school district.

Two of the grants are called the Optimist Foundation's Henry E. Richardson "Friend of Youth" scholarships, while the third is an Octagon Scholarship for Octagon Club members.

The recipients of scholarship money are: Laura Barnett, Stacie Goodman and Mike Prúente, all of Clarkston High School. Goodman and Prúente plan to attend Michigan colleges, while Barnett will pursue her collegiate studies at Miami University of Ohio. Goodman will attend Grand Valley State University and Prúente will go to Michigan State University.

The Optimists also named its board members for the upcoming year. The officers are: Ahdi Dasuqu, president; Mike Page, vice-president; Sue Kingsepp, secretary; Joe Barger, treasurer; Maralee Cook, Kym Parks and Harry Knitter, two-year directors.

Chamber plans summer concert series

The Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce will host the 23rd season of the Concerts in the Park series. These free concerts take place Friday evenings in June and July, 7-9 p.m., at Depot Park, which is located just west of Main Street on Depot Road in downtown Clarkston. The series begins on June 21.

The schedule includes:

- June 21: Night Shift. They are one of Michigan's premier bands in the live entertainment scene. Night Shift consists of saxophone, keyboard, guitar, bass and percussion. They play both classic rock and country music.

- June 28: The Red Garter Band. This Dixieland band has enlivened summer festivals, private clubs and grand openings over the years. The band has made appearances on major radio and television stations.

- July 5: The Voyage Band. This group plays a top 40's mix.

- July 12: Michael and Theresa Irish. This group plays a blend of contemporary, country, folk and bluegrass. Though they make their home in northern Michigan, the Irishes perform all around the state of Michigan.

- July 19: The Raisin Pickers with Step Dancer Sheila Graziano. They play everything from contemporary bluegrass to Tango.

- July 26: Randy Volin and The Somic Blues. This group plays foot stomping blues.

Sixth graders get lesson in charity

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A group of sixth graders at Clarkston Middle School have learned a thing or two about giving selflessly this year.

The Gray Wolves, a sixth grade academic team of 84 students, have helped several in need, under the direction of CMS teacher and team leader Howard Andress.

In the fall, the team sponsored the sixth grade dance, and had proceeds bring in a guest speaker to talk charities with the students. Afterwards, six students presented various charities to their classmates, who then chose what organizations they'd like to support.

In first place was PAWS with a Cause, a charity that trains assistance dogs for disabled or special needs people.

Justin Zirwes led his peers in fundraising for PAWS, and at a recent team meeting, presented PAWS with a Cause representative Cyndy DuVal, who stopped by with assistance dog Fallon, a check for $500.

Zirwes said he wanted to support this charity because, "Well, my mom told me about it. I knew I loved dogs and I feel really bad for those who are handicapped."

Now that $500 has been raised, Zirwes said, "I'm really happy. I know I've done a really good thing for an organization that doesn't have a lot of funding."

But these sixth graders didn't leave their charity to only PAWS with a Cause, they also raised $500 for Alyssa Kupper, a local five-year-old girl undergoing alternative treatment for a Brain Stem Glioma. Student Katie Smith spearheaded this fundraiser, in which money was collected through cookie dough sales, and presented the Koppers with a check on May 16.

Last but not least, the students raised $700 through a math-a-thon, to go towards research at St. Jude's Children's Hospital. Jenny Gambrel and Amanda Hoisington were the two sixth graders who raised the most amount of money, both accumulating more than $100.

"I'm really happy," Gambrel said. "I really didn't know I raised so much. It's a real shock," Hoisington added.

Teacher Andress said he wanted his students to participate in charity work like this to help the kids "develop a sense of community and giving."

McNulty next to run for district court judge seat

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Yet another has stepped up to vie for the judicial seat at the Clarkston 52nd District Court, vacant upon retirement of Gerald E. McNally.

Kevin A. McNulty of Clarkston recently announced his candidacy. "Judge McNally is an institution. It will be a challenge to fill his place."

The 48-year-old graduated from the University of Michigan in 1976 and from the Detroit College of Law in 1979. He entered private practice in Detroit with the firm Metry, Metry and Sanom and then was partner in Kurncz and McNulty, P.C. He switched to a solo practice in Troy and then in 1993 relocated to Clarkston.

McNulty's widespread general practice touched on everyday struggles in an increasing complex society. "My entire legal career has been fighting for people in crisis against powerful opponents. Helping one person at a time just isn't good enough anymore."

The Clarkston resident of nine years is also an associate real estate broker and for the past three years has been employed as general counsel for title insurance agencies. Currently, McNulty is employed at LaMont Title Corporation in Detroit which specializes in commercial transactions. "Essential to the financing of urban renewal projects is the availability of title insurance to protect the re-development of urban areas."

McNulty is married to Hazel, who teaches special education in the Royal Oak Public Schools district. They have two children, Robert, 12, and Rebecca, 16.

"People have given their lives for the principles, ideals, beliefs and freedoms America stands for, as recently as the World Trade Center. No one should abuse or disregard what so many have fought for and died to preserve," McNulty said.

"The courts are the only proper means for civilized resolution of disputes. Without access to the courts, people are left to seek justice by their own hands. Yet access has never been more difficult for the average citizen. The courts must provide prompt, equal and fair hearing to maintain law and order."

As district court judge, McNulty pledges to move the trial docket quickly, and sentencing will have a real impact on people's lives. Drunk drivers, for example, would be ordered to visit a morgue to see the effects of a car accident. Drug offenses could be sentenced in the high schools for students to see the consequences of poor choices and to bring the court into the school.

McNulty feels voters should elect him as district court judge because of his 23 years of experience. "I have experience with every kind of problem a family can have. I have patience and compassion, but I'm strict." He said he has been described as diligent, dependable, reliable, dedicated, compassionate and sincere.

Five are seeking the position in the August 6, 2002 primary including those who have formally announced their candidacy: Magistrate Dana Fortinberry, Magistrate Kelley Kostin and attorney James Houlihan.

The 52/2 District Court in Clarkston serves most of northern Oakland County. The court's jurisdiction currently includes the villages of Holly, Ortonville and Clarkston in addition to the townships of Holly, Brandon, Groveland, Springfield and Independence. New legislation has mandated Rose Township and White Lake become part of the 52/2 District, Jan. 1, 2003.

Pinehurst to be counted in water project

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

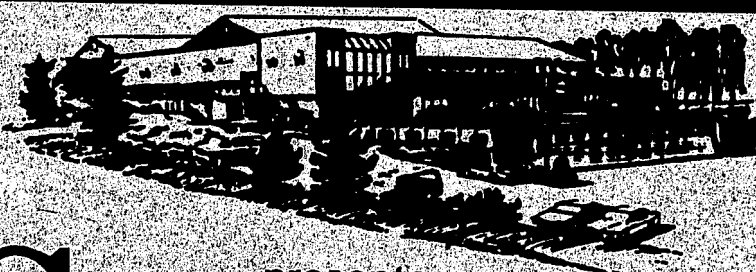

The City of the Village of Clarkston's Phase II of its water system will get a few more customers.

During the council meeting May 28, city engineer Gary Tressel of Hubbell, Roth and Clark said that three homeowners on Pinehurst Drive, off of Middle Lake Road, wished to be part of Phase II of the city's water project.

City Councilman Scott Meyland said all of the cost estimates are in line for bringing the water main along the creek. "There are agreements between the property owners and the city to make sure the appropriate easements are drawn," he said.

In addition, Meyland said Pappas and Tressel have met with the property owners on Pinehurst Drive, and there will be no additional costs or surprises.

Second annual charity rides rumbles through Clarkston

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The second annual Children's Leukemia Foundation (CLF) Charity Ride, held June 8, built upon the tradition started by last year's inaugural ride.

Approximately 200 riders made their way through Oakland County Saturday, June 8 in an effort to raise awareness for the programs and services of Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan (CLF) in the second annual Charity Ride.

The 50-mile ride, which started at Clarkston Chrysler Jeep, raised nearly $10,000 for Michigan families facing leukemia, lymphoma and related disorders.

Chuck Fortinberry, owner of Clarkston Chrysler Jeep, one of the co-sponsors for the event, said the foundation began promoting the ride a lot sooner and worked with Detroit radio station WYCD-FM (99.5) to help spread the word.

According to Fortinberry, there were a total of 50 public service announcements on the radio station to promote the event. In addition, several members of the WYCD staff were on hand at the bike ride.

The procession of bikers was led by Oakland County Sheriff Michael Bouchard and eleven uniformed members of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Motor Unit.

The ride ended at Independence Oaks County Park in Clarkston, where riders enjoyed a fully catered picnic lunch, beverages, games, live music and a raffle with great prizes, including his and hers matching Harley Davidson motorcycle jackets.

Last year's race ended up at Clintonwood Park, but it was changed to Independence Oaks this year to accommodate the larger crowd.

Fortinberry said.

The 2002 Charity Ride was sponsored by Clarkston Chrysler Jeep, ABC Harley Davidson of Waterford, Oakland County Parks and Recreation, and Country 99.5 WYCD.

Opinion

Was that out loud?

Thinking out loud:

■ If I started a petition to bring back Jello Pudding Pops would anyone sign it?

■ Is there an official age when it becomes socially unacceptable to wear a professional sports jersey? My guess is at age 30, perhaps you should put the Luther Elliss jersey away.

Face painting, however, is out after age 12.

■ Speaking of fashion, somebody give me a holler when moon boots come back in style. Although I never had a pair that the lining didn't come out when I took it off, you must admit it was a fashion statement.

■ Took my first trip to Comerica Park last week. Although the Tigers are once again horrible, it was a nice evening and I thought I should at least see one game there.

Well the Tigers lost, as usual, but that was not the worst part. I spent the entire game feeling uncomfortable. There was not a problem with my seat, rather it was the mass quantity of seagulls flying over head. I spent most of the three hours concerned a bird would mark its territory on me.

I know, I have problems.

■ I have seen every Seinfeld episode, probably at least five times, yet they continue to crack me up. For my money, it was the best television show of all time.

■ Where did comedian Dana Carvey go? I have not seen him for years.

■ Anybody who enjoys rock/funk/up-beat country music check out the band "String Cheese Incident." They are very underrated.

■ Speaking about music, I have been monopolizing my time burning music off the Internet. Bands will argue this is stealing by not paying for the CD, but I say charging upwards to $50 to see a band live is pretty close to robbery itself.

I got hooked after I bought a new computer a few months back. They have come a long way from the days of the Commodore 64 when my brother and I would type instructions for hours just to watch a black and white balloon cross the monitor.

I must say the computer train left the station without me. Most of my friends who studied them in college are knee deep in cash. Myself, I thought it would be the 90's version of the Dustbuster. Live and learn.

■ Two thumbs up on the new Vanilla Coke. While it probably will not go into my soft drink rotation, it is good every once in a while as a change of pace.

Letters To The Editor

Council member Meyland defends DPW

This letter is in response to Mr. Gargaro's article entitled "Clarkston resident concerned with dumping" from the May 29 Clarkston News.

Mr. Inabnit has spent a lot of his own time viewing the clearing behind Depot Park, voicing his associated opinions at recent City Council meetings, and even bringing in pictures (taken on his own time and with his own film) to document his concerns. His input is appreciated, as it is helpful for the Council to receive constructive feedback from our residents relating their concerns.

The City of the Village of Clarkston, its Council and its employees take the topic of wetland preservation and environmental conservation very seriously. Since the first meeting that Mr. Inabnit brought his concerns to the Council's attention, several Council members viewed the clearing (in the days following the meeting) and brought the issue to the attention of our DPW. The city has a running list of topics that are regularly reviewed with the DPW and this topic was a worthy candidate to add to the list.

Mr. Inabnit's comments regarding the condition of the clearing behind Depot Park were incorrect, and were significantly overstated. Nothing is being burned in the wetlands, wood chips are not being dumped in the swamp and the DPW has taken no action that would "destroy a lot of wetlands."

Mr. Inabnit also felt the need to comment on his additional concern that the DPW "is walking around with no supervision..." That is another inaccurate statement, which is consistent with the others he made in the article. The City is very fortunate to have a DPW that is staffed and managed by hard working, capable and dedicated personnel. Our City Manager and the Council meet with the department heads (DPW and Police Department) regularly to review issues affecting the City and their respective departments.

Mr. Inabnit's concerns are valid, in that the treatment of the clearing behind Depot Park is important to all of us. The DPW does an excellent job of managing the storage and disposal of brush, fallen limbs, parking lot curbs and various other items that they have to deal with on a regular basis.

Based on Mr. Inabnit's comments in the article, it appears that the only acceptable response by the City would be to have performed a thorough wetland restoration the day after his first appearance at the Council meeting. That simply is not necessary and is also not realistic.

The Council and the DPW are working together to make sure the City is continuing to comply with all laws and ordinances relating to the disposal and storage of various materials, and to insure that nothing is being done that will infringe upon the existing wetlands.

Resident has problem with gas pricing

The 9/10th pricing of a gallon of gasoline has got to be the most stupid thing that there is. What's the problem of just rounding it off to the nearest cent?

How in the world did this ever get started? Am I missing something where there would be a reasonable reason for it? I would like to hear comments from the readers as to what they think of this ridiculous pricing that has been going on for years.

Chamber has successful awards breakfast

Having had the privilege of being the chairperson for this year's 17th Annual Michigan Week Community Awards Breakfast hosted by the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce, I would like to thank the following individuals and businesses that were involved. This year's very successful event was sponsored by our friends at Bank One. We appreciate their continued support in honoring individuals and businesses that go above and beyond the call of duty and enhance the community as a whole.

Our very deserving recipients this year were Kathy Garwood and Janet Thomas, Citizens of the Year; Kelley Kostin, Adult-Youth Volunteer of the Year; Michael Fischer and Maria Blaine, Young Persons of the Year; Advanced Floors and Karen's Carpets, Property Beautification Award; Palace Sports and Entertainment, Business of the Year; and the Independence Township Fire Department, Community Preservation Award.

I would like to thank Fred Ritter, Chamber President, for helping to assist me as Co-Master of Ceremonies. He, along with the chamber staff, Maureen Francis, Terri Bendes and Penny Shanks were incredible to work with. Their conscientiousness and organizational skills are impeccable and all were a pleasure to work with.

I had a great group of team players on this year's committee. Many of the members have served on this committee for years and have offered to be a part of next year's committee already. This is an invaluable asset as we continue to strive to provide a quality event for the community.

This year's committee members were Karen Smith, Wendy Halsey, Joan McCrary, Becky Ridley, Al Roberts, Tim Patterson, Booth Patterson and Sheila Hughes. Many thanks to all of you for your commitment and dedication.

I would also like to extend a special thank you to Pastor Jonathan Heierman, Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church for delivering the Invocation. This year's event was held at the beautifully renovated Liberty Golf and Banquet facilities. Zoe and the staff of Liberty did an outstanding job, as always. I would also like to thank the Chocolate Moose for their generous donation of this year's door prize, a basket full of items from Michigan.

Last but not least, I would like to thank all of the guests who came to help honor our recipients. The great audience was a mix of many of our local organizations, schools and businesses.

I look forward to chairing next year's Community Awards Committee and ask your assistance in the following way. If you know of an individual or business that is deserving of recognition in one of the above mentioned categories, do not hesitate to call me at 625-0558 or contact the chamber office at 625-8055 and submit their name for consideration. All nominees are recognized at the Awards Breakfast.

Arbitrary and otherwise useless thoughts

Sometimes it just doesn't pay not to think about writing this column. For the most part ideas float in my head all the time, then I just sit down and elaborate on the idea (my wife says there is not elaboration going on, purely exaggeration, but that is a different story.) This week however, my mind was focused like a laser on getting kitchen cabinets, sinks, dishwashers and garbage disposals all to work with the minimum amount of leakage, electrocution and cussing.

I didn't cuss much, water isn't leaking and I wasn't bizzed hardwiring the dishwasher to the house. Heck, I even think the cabinets are lined up and square (sorta). It was a weekend with lots of accomplishments, but no thoughts to the column.

So, in that time-honored tradition of making much ado about nothing.

Question: Why do folks in these parts love the Detroit Red Wings and everything about them, but hate with a passion those damnable New York Yankees when both teams are made up of the best and highest paid athletes in their respective sports?

Answer: It's okay when your team is the golden giant but criminal when it's somebody else's.

News from my travels -- the best fresh salsa I've found hails from Addison Township. Just east of the fire hall in Lakeville, the folks at The Towne Pickup store make it fresh daily. They have the mild stuff, and some stuff that'll make you sweat. The store is located on Rochester Road in the same plaza as the Lakeville Post Office.

Any other good salsa out there? Let me know.

Up in Goodrich there are a couple of food items of interest.

1. Rick and company at the IGA Market Place keep their ears and eyes open and listen to their customers. That said, recently they completed some rearranging and have come up with an expanded produce department. For those who don't know, the Goodrich IGA is on the east side of M-15, just shy of Hegel Road.

2. A few doors north of the IGA, Tom's Coney Restaurant has opened their doors for business. Jen, the boys and I walked up there this past weekend. Here's what we found: good eats, clean building and pretty waitresses... sure to be a hit with the locals.

By the way, the next time I perk up and pretend to be This Old House master carpenter and host Norm Abrahms, come over to the office and slap me. Just rear back and let one rip across my kisser. Bring me back to reality.

Tough love.

"Don, you don't know what you're doing. For God's sake man, stop! You are not Norm, nor that other guy, Steve. You're just Don. Don."

Then slap me and walk away.

It probably wasn't a good idea to pretend to want to finish the kitchen while sneaking peeks into the living room to watch the Red Wings' triple overtime victory over the Carolina Hurricanes. It was going so badly in the kitchen around 11:20 p.m. on Saturday that dear wife Jen finally said, "You sure you don't just want to watch the game?"

Which was precisely the out I needed.

"Good idea."

And faster than a pipe can spring a leak, I was safely ensconced in the warm confines of our couch, with the dull blue glow of the television to mesmerize me.

By the time the game ended, my mind was numb enough, that I could again start to think clearly about completing the kitchen. In my mind I saw how to solve the problem. My mind worked so well, in fact, that I couldn't fall asleep until about 3 that morning.

Any good advice for that handy, salsa eating guy Don, can be e-mailed to: dontrushmedon@aol.com

News media reflects views of audience, hmm

Of a ball game or some other such "happening" a cynic once said, "It's not a matter of life and death, it's more important than that."

That's the thought that came to mind as I read the huge headline in the combined edition of The Detroit News and Free Press Saturday, June 1. (I have no idea why they make the 'and' so small, nor why they don't use &.)

The headline, Believe it!, followed the Detroit Red Wings victory in game seven of the Stanley Cup playoffs against the Colorado Avalanche.

The two words were two and a half inches high.

Since news media editors say how they treat news reflects the views of their audience I take it that this newspaper's audience is totally involved in, affected by, devoted to and thoroughly dependent on the outcome of this hockey game.

It's more important than life and death.

I've saved a few Detroit newspapers for their historical importance. I decided to compare headlines of what I view as important news events to Believe it!

U.S. Hits Baghdad -- one and five-eighths inch headline.

Nixon Resigns -- one and three-quarters inches.

Reagan Shot -- two inches.

The resigning of the president of the United States -- The shooting of the president of the United States -- neither rated the same headline strength as the winning of a hockey game to the Detroit papers.

JAPS ANNOUNCE SURRENDER

In this headline the 'Japs announce' words were two inches high, the 'surrender' two and three-quarters.

Since the surrender came in August, there was no hockey being played, thus the paper put peace ahead of pucks and balls.

Are the newspapers really reflecting the views of their audience, or do editors believe the majority of their audience want sports news ahead of all else?

Considering the editors' choices for front page news that day were Granholm vs Blanchard in politics, the cold spring hurting fruit growers and a murder story, probably hockey should win, but 2 1/2 inches worth?

I wonder what the headlines were in other major cities in the USA Saturday, June 1, 2002?

The talk after the golf league (all had bad rounds) turned to smoking and the cost of cigarettes for servicemen during World War II.

That'll tell you the age of this group. I recalled that Old Golds were a nicker a pack. Nick Ritz said he got them free. Lucky Strikes (Remember their slogan "Lucky Strike Green goes to war.") They switched to white wrapping.) and Chesterfields were mentioned.

Then someone asked, "Who gave coupons?"

Dr. David Jennings ended the cigarette talk with, "Yeah, get enough coupons and get free heart surgery."

Andy Rooney says, "The one thing that unites all human beings, regardless of age, gender, religion, economic status or ethnic background, is that, deep down inside, we ALL believe we are above average drivers."

A look back

From The Clarkston News

15 YEARS AGO (1987)

■A public hearing about the widening of M-15 in Independence Township is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Thursday, June 25, in the Clarkston High School auditorium. The widening of about one-half mile of M-15 between Dixie Highway and Paramus Road is in the planning stages and would not happen before 1989, said Philip Chisholm, public hearings officer for the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT).

■Final preparations are underway for the moving of sixth-graders from three of Clarkston's five elementary schools to Sashabaw and Clarkston junior highs. A progress report on the plan was made June 9 at the board of education meeting. The move to alleviate overcrowding in the elementary schools was approved by the board in December.

■An ongoing zoning disagreement between Independence Township and the proprietor of a car wash on M-15 may be decided in court later this year. Craig Gullede, a Goodrich resident, is the sole owner of the hand car wash and restoration business that occupies the old Randy Hosler Pontiac building on M-15. The building is owned by Don Short, also the owner of Clarkston Glass on Dixie Highway.

25 YEARS AGO (1977)

■The Clarkston School Board, with voter rejection of the millage and two bonding proposals still fresh in their minds, will be meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday, June 16 and are expected to once again ask the voters to increase the operational millage. A record number of registered voters went to the polls June 13 to turn thumbs down on a 4.79 mill increase by a 1,901 to 1,694 margin, while the two bonding proposals failed by nearly 2 to 1 margins.

■Hawke Tool property owner Marc Alan arrived at the Clarkston Village Council June 13 with a team of cohorts to plead his rezoning case before the body. He requested that Hawke's Cove be rezoned from its present light manufacturing classification (M-1) to a business one (B-1) in order to convert it to a mall development featuring stores and a restaurant.

■The Independence Police Services will soon become a 24-hour, seven day a week operation as a result of a $53,000 Comprehensive Employment Training Act grant. Director Jack McCall said the grant would allow for the hiring of two additional dispatchers, a parking enforcement officer and two more people to initiate a crime prevention program.

50 YEARS AGO (1952)

■On June 12, 53 happy, young people marched into the auditorium of Clarkston High School to receive their diplomas and to say farewell to the institution of their earlier learning. Mr. L.F. Greene, Superintendent of Schools, spoke briefly and introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Dale D. Welch spoke on the subject "Whither Bound." He advised the graduates on how to face the future.

Garwood 'angel in disguise' for grieving and suicide survivors

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Around 1989, Clarkston resident Kathy Garwood left her role as a stay-at-home mom to work as a volunteer chaplain at Pontiac General Hospital.

Although the name of that hospital may have changed — it is now North Oakland Medical Center — Garwood's commitment to counseling those who are grieving or depressed has not.

For her contributions to the Clarkston community, she was named one of two Citizens of the Year by the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce at its community recognition breakfast last month.

Ellen Whitehead, an administrative secretary at Clarkston Community Schools, nominated Garwood for the award. She described Garwood as "an angel in disguise" and said Garwood embodies the qualities of an angel as described in the American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language: a guardian spirit or guiding influence, a kind and lovable person and one who manifests goodness, purity and influence.

Today, she works with husband Stan at Garwood & Associates, located on Dixie Highway in Clarkston. She specializes in individual and family grief counseling.

In addition, she works as an aftercare coordinator at Donelson, Johns and Evans Funeral Home in Waterford, where she heads up two support groups, Living with Loss and Suicide Survivors. Those groups are held at Central United Methodist Church in Waterford.

Garwood said she became involved with grief counseling as a result of her father's death from colon cancer in 1989. He had been in and out of Pontiac General up until his death.

"I decided I wanted to give back to the hospital, so I signed up to volunteer," she said. "I went through the full 60-hour training. This turned out to be a real avocation."

She volunteered for about six years in that capacity, working with those who have experienced a death or emergency in the family.

"At that time, my boss was doing a support group in Waterford," Garwood said. "I was asked to co-facilitate the Living with Loss group, and after a year to co-facilitate the Suicide Survivors group. I eventually took over both support groups."

Around 1995, the Garwoods took up a small private practice on Dixie Highway, where they practice today. She currently works full-time at the practice and part-time at the funeral home in Waterford.

However, her work is not limited to those two occupations. In December, Garwood organized a program called "Help for the Holidays" held at St. Daniel Catholic Church in Clarkston. Nationally recognized speaker Joyce DeShano was brought in to help those who had recently experienced losses, such as the death of a loved one, to help them get through the holidays.

In addition, Garwood also serves on a team that offers ministry to those who have been incarcerated.

The team provides services, communion and fellowship to inmates at the Gilman Correction Facility on White Lake Road.

She is also a member of the Oakland County Crisis Response Team, which deals with problems in schools throughout the county. In helping school administrators deal with crises, the team goes over the particulars of the event and then advise the administrators on how to best handle the situation.

This experience came into play following the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. After those events occurred, the crisis team met with the pastor at St. Daniel Catholic Church, Msgr. Robert Humitz, who is also a member of the crisis team.

Together, they decided to do a debriefing and help parishoners go through the whole process of how they felt, such as how they reacted and the emotions they felt. Humitz underwent this process with the parishoners, while Garwood did likewise with the church's staff.

She said the Sept. 11 attacks also impacted the support groups she works with at the funeral home.

"It brought back their own trauma," she said. "A lot of them suffer from post-traumatic stress."

One of Garwood's future projects will be coming up Aug. 17-18, when a walk for suicide survivors, called "Out of the Darkness," will take place. The walk will start out in Fairfax, Virginia and conclude 26 miles later in Washington, D.C.

"I am walking as a way to bring awareness of suicide and depression and how they are connected," she said. "I find in my survivors that they have people who avoid them because they are uncomfortable with the situation."

Garwood's daughter Karin Mitchell, who lives in Maryland with husband Steve and one-year-old son Riley, will be joining her for the walk.

She said that people whose friends come to them with serious problems should seek help for those people, and not to be afraid of being called a snitch by the person whom they are trying to help.

"Seek help for your friends if they come to you,"

she said. "Better to lose the friendship right now than to go to their funeral."

In her spare time, Garwood enjoys swimming at her home on Whipple Lake in Clarkston. "The past 4-5 years, by the end of the summer, I've swam the length of the lake," she said. "That's a good physical release from stress."

In addition to Karin, the Garwoods have two other children: Brian, who lives in Marquette with wife Sherry and son Nathan, 1-1/2; and son Gordie, who lives in Ann Arbor with wife Tammy.

Proudly and Lovingly
Serving Waterford,
Clarkston, White Lake, and Pontiac for Over 27 Years!

I first came to Rumph Chiropractic Clinic 26 years ago with terrible neck pain. The neck pain was so bad that I had to use my hands to support the weight of my head. My husband and Ivena Denny coworkers noticed that it was beginning (Pontiac, MI) to have a negative affect on my personality. They began saying such things as, "you're beginning to get on my nerves". After seven weeks of care by Dr. Rumph, my neck pain was completely gone. I was so pleased with my results and care that since then, I have been going directly to Dr. Rumph with all my health concerns.

I am currently 70 years old. I am extremely energetic, flexible, and active. I still work 24 hours per week as a lively door greeter at Meijers. Most people refuse to believe that I am 70 years old, saying, "you're way too energetic". They constantly remark that I always have a smile on my face, which is a big change in personality since I had that neck pain in 1976.

Ever since 1976 I have been a huge supporter of chiropractic and especially Rumph Chiropractic Clinic. I have recommended chiropractic to many friends and family over the years, and none have been disappointed. I attribute my increased vitality and exceptional health over the years to Dr. Rumph and chiropractic care.

Independence Township redistricts precincts due to growth

BY KYLE GARGARO
Clarkston News Editor

Due to the increase in population, Independence Township was recently forced to redistrict their precincts and polling locations.

The Election Commission, made up of Clerk Joan McCrary and Trustees Dan Travis and David Wagner had township planner Dick Carlisle conduct a study of projected growth.

There can be no more than 2,999 registered voters in any one precinct.

"Some of our precincts were already well over 2,500 voters," McCrary said. "Instead of doing some now and some later we thought we would do it all at one time."

The law states the boundaries must be distinguishable so the township needed to combine some and divide others due to population growth. The township also created a 15th precinct.

"This was a major undertaking. With the amount of growth we had since the last census it was tough trying to make it convenient for everybody," McCrary said.

Independence also made sure they changed the polling places so their would be one in each precinct.

The Clerk's office will be sending all registered voters a map with their new precinct and voter location. They need to get them all out by 30 days before the Aug. 6 election.

"We have been getting lots and lots of calls from people not sure where they should be voting," McCrary said. "We are getting the cards out and they will have an explanation."

Anyone with questions about the redistricting can call the Independence Township Clerk's office at 625-5111 ext. 233.

Independence insurance premiums skyrocket

BY KYLE GARGARO
Clarkston News Editor

Independence Township will be paying approximately 60-percent more for insurance premiums.

The Board was recently told their insurance premiums from The Michigan Municipal Risk Management Authority increased from $107,625 to $179,625. Along with the increase, the board was advised they would no longer have sewer backup insurance.

The terrorist attacks of 9/11 and huge claims paid due to sewer backups in older metro-Detroit suburbs were reasons given for the increase.

Supervisor Dale Stuart and Clerk Joan McCrary said they have shopped around for better premiums but found out all insurance companies were raising rates.

"We were shocked by the increase but there is not really much we can do,"

Treasurer Jim Wenger said.

The Township's agent, Don Althoff, was recently killed in an accident.

"He was primarily responsible for keeping the premium down," Clerk Joan McCrary said.

In other action taken by the board:

■ The board approved a resolution to install street lights in the Cranberry Pointe subdivision. The subdivision is off of Dixie Highway north of I-75.

A petition given to the board had 44 percent of the property owners signatures on it, while only 10 percent are required for street lighting.

The total assessment is $225.71 which can be paid by Oct. 1 without interest. Property owners can also pay over a five-year period with six percent interest per year.

Hughes

Results came in just minutes after 10 p.m., Monday night with Hughes garnering 511 votes and Koval 503.

"I took this election like it was the first time I was running," she said. "And when I made this commitment I didn't make a commitment to lose."

Hughes has been a member of the School Board for 12 years, and wanted to be a part of another four-year term for the good of Clarkston.

"We (the board) have set a goal to make Clarkston the best district in Oakland County and I want to see that goal through," she told The Clarkston News in May. "We have growth problems to resolve and budget constraints to deal with. These are issues that we (the board) have been working on for four to six years and to change horses in the middle of the stream could set the district back and we can't slow the pace down that we have set for the district."

Hughes, who is currently employed with the Clarkston Brandon Community Credit Union in the accounting and human resources department, felt there was "positives all around" during the election and, most importantly, no negative campaigning between the two candidates.

Now reelected, she will strive to maintain the focus on the kids. "We'll keep 'raising the bar' for everyone in Clarkston."

If you're in need of some pampering, then...

The Right Touch Body Therapy is right for you

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Just leave your stresses at the door, and with a little help you'll walk away relaxed, rejuvenated and ready to face your day.

Recently opened, The Right Touch Body Therapy offers therapeutic massage, skin care and a sure way to pamper yourself, thanks to the hands of Massage Therapists Catherine E. Madurski and Esthetician Kerry Garchow.

"Our massages and body treatments are intended to reconnect your mind, body and spirit in order to create a state of healing and wholeness," Madurski said.

Their private, quiet location aids in this, and feels as if you've left the busyness of it's Dixie Highway location, hidden amidst the trees and complete with a peaceful stream.

Madurski and Garchow, business associates for nearly seven years, take pride their business is more of a practice than a salon saturated with strong, unpleasant smells of nail and hair products.

And they assure it isn't a "production line massage place." Clients won't be rushed out the door, but rather can sit and take their time before

At The Right Touch Body Therapy, guests can choose from Therapeutic/Relaxation massages customized to the needs of the client; Deep Tissue massage for very deep specific work; Pregnancy massage to increase energy and relieve discomfort; Hawaiian Bodywork Lomilomi, where the therapist acts as a conduit for healing energy; and Hot Stone massage, using smooth Basalt Lava Stones to ease tight muscles and relieve stress.

All massages are 50 minutes, except the Hot Stone which lasts one hour and 25 minutes. Therapeutic/Relaxation, Pregnancy and Hawaiian Bodywork Lomilomi massages run $55, while a Deep Tissue massage will cost $65 and Hot Stone massage, $80.

Dryden resident Madurski said massage has been used for more than 1,000 years as a simple, effective method of attaining and maintaining good health. "The benefits of massage have been recognized in many cultures throughout the world."

Staying connected with Clarkston

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Community is important to Tom Beattie.

And so, the owner of Infinity Wireless in Clarkston felt it necessary to bring his business back into his hometown, opening this past January.

The Beattie name isn't new to the local business scene, in fact it's been around since 1930. Following in the entrepreneurial footsteps of his father, who owned Beattie Interiors furniture store; and his grandfather, who ran the Beattie Ford car dealership; this Beattie found the cellular world to be his forte.

The Clarkston resident and Clarkston High School grad had previously been employed with a company refurbishing business phones. Needing a separate cellular division, the business recruited Beattie to oversee the undertaking. He hired his brother, Brad, for sales, and over three years, the brothers got the division up and running.

Beattie thought, "Why are we doing this for someone else?" Shortly after, the two began their own refurbishing company.

"Brad and I wanted to branch out into retail to diversify the business." They operated Infinity Wireless in the Lake Orion and Oxford area until Tom recently set up shop back home.

Beattie now operates the store with his wife Amy as well as an outside sales person. They offer wireless service through Verizon, AT&T and Nextel and stock a full line of wireless accessories for car, home and business use.

And if unable to, Beattie is honest about that and will send customers to a cellular store across the street, feeling it important to support other local businesses.

A member of the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce, Beattie said he will focus on building relationships with members of the community through providing great products and excellent customer service.

"We want people to know there is a wireless store where someone will take the time to answer your questions instead of only trying to sell you a product," said Beattie, who'd like to have a second store opened by the holiday season.

Beattie wants to be your "go to cellular guy." Infinity Wireless is at 5655 Dixie Highway in the Waterfall Plaza. Hours are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Thursday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Call (248)922-3733.

CHS S.A.D.D. group happy to take a stand

BY JENNIFER NEMER

They simply want to make a difference.

And the S.A.D.D., Students Against Destructive Decisions, chapter at Clarkston High School seem to be doing just that.

Several of the members recently created videos for The 2002 Courageous Persuaders Awards, a scholarship contest for high school students to create their own television commercial with an anti-drug/alcohol message.

Winners were selected based on the persuasiveness of their ideas, and the grand-prize winning commercial actually runs on television. The 30-second videos aimed at middle school students were shown to that age group who gave their feedback and chose the winners.

CHS's two videos were both selected as finalists. Those behind the videos—including Cheyenne Albarkat, Emily Audette, Lauren Bendes, Heather Burger, Nick Curdy, Kelly Katnik, Beth La Monda, Kati La Monda, Jacqui Leach, Juliana Martin, Dana Phillips, Wei Sun and Carrie Trapp—were recognized with certificates at a Hollywood-style celebration banquet May 3 at the San Marino Club in Troy, where WJBK Fox 2 news anchor Huel Perkins emceed.

Most recently, the S.A.D.D. members were honored with certificates from the Oakland County Board of Commissioners.

Student member Kati La Monda described the video she worked on, with seven of her peers, entitled "The Dance."

"It's about these girls (played by La Monda and fellow member Kelley Katnik) who are going to a dance with the two hottest boys in school. But the guys show up drunk, and the girls slam the doors in their faces and refuse to go with them."

La Monda said they chose this storyline because of the amount of drinking typically associated with Homecoming and events of the sort.

Cheyenne Albarkat said the video she made with others through S.A.D.D. was called "Little Brother," about a young boy neglected by his older sister who has started drinking with her friends.

S.A.D.D. advisor Trisha Carter believes the making of the videos has been a rewarding experience for the students and is very proud of them all.

"This is a dynamic, excellent group," she said of the 25 students who year long promote among the student body the development of making healthy choices. "I feel fortunate to be their advisor, and am inspired by these kids."

Carter has led an anti-drug program for 15 years in schools, mainly a Just Say No outreach for elementary students. This is her first year with the high school group. Carter said by starting drug and alcohol awareness at such a young age, she would hope students follow through with that type of healthy living.

It's been true of the president of the CHS S.A.D.D., Lauren Hunt. She was a part of Carter's Just Say No group in third grade.

"She's watched me grow," Hunt said. "Mrs. Carter has been the best. Without her this club wouldn't have happened. She's put so much in to the group."

Fellow members all agree.

The S.A.D.D. chapter at the high school only consisted of four students last year, Hunt said. "We've grown. We're spreading the word and I think we're making a huge difference."

The group especially targets major school events like Snowcoming, Homecoming and Prom, and even held an alcohol-free drive where half the senior class pledged to be wise during their senior festivities.

"I'm really proud of this group," Hunt said. "People assume all teens are bad. That they are out to party and be a menace to society. We're proving that wrong. You don't have to do drugs or drink to be cool."

Cheyenne Albarkat agreed. "We don't care about whether we're thought of as cool or not. We're just being ourselves. I joined because I thought there was way too much hate going around Clarkston. We can get out there and help. There's so many negative things in the world and I want to help society become a better people. You can still have so much fun with your friends without getting drunk."

The group also wants to give a special thanks to media teacher Scott Banks for videotaping the contest commercials.

Dennison declares candidacy for 2nd district commissioner

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Roy Dennison is looking to branch out from the theater into elected office.

Dennison (D-Fenton) has announced his candidacy for the 2nd District Representative on the Oakland County Board of Commissioners. The 2nd District includes the townships of Highland, Rose, Holly and Springfield.

He said he is running because he hopes to counteract the influence of what he describes as "professional" politicians, and to help small business owners.

"I'm sick of professional politicians and their manipulative shenanigans and partiality to big business, big insurance, etc.," Dennison said. "I think small business should get some breaks, too. I want to help broaden the base of the Democratic Party in the so-called Republican strongholds. I believe in bipartisanship wherever it is possible, as witness the war effort and the recent Pro-Voter petition drive."

Dennison, a professional actor, has performed primarily in theatrical work, although he has taken part in commercials and industrial, training and feature films.

He is a member of four unions — the Screen Actors Guild, Actors Equity Association, American Federation of Radio and TV Artists, and Detroit Typographical Union, Local 18, where he was an 18-year executive officer.

Since he retired from the printing industry, Dennison has divided his time between theater and Democratic Party affairs.

Among his Democratic Party activities are the following:

■ Member of the Community portion of the Oakland County Democratic Party Executive Committee.

■ Was active in the recent Pro-Voters petition drive in which Michigan voters overturned a ban on the right to vote a straight-party ticket.

■ Organized the Holly-Rose Area Democratic Club.

■ Was active in the Stabenow for Senate campaign, and will campaign to reelect Senator Carl Levin, elect a Democratic governor, and gain back Democratic control of the State House and Senate.

Dennison's former wife Myra died in 1993. His daughter Myra runs a perfume business; son Brian is a captain in the North Oakland County Fire Authority; and son Sean is a musician and operator of heavy construction equipment.

In addition, grandson Michael runs a drywalling company and grandson Steve is a Flint police officer.

Club participates in Adopt-A-Highway

The Clarkston High School Interact Club launched its participation in the annual Adopt-A-Highway program on Sunday afternoon, May 8.

Four adults and four Interact members braved the hot sun to complete the two mile cleanup. During the few hours of work, the volunteers provided civic pride to the community by picking up roadside trash and saving Clarkston taxpayers money. Their work served as a reminder to not litter, but also proved that adults and youth can work together.

The volunteers successfully filled more than 15 bags of trash found along M-15. The Interact Club is planning on participating in this event for many years to come. Next year they hope to have more volunteers from their club and the adult Rotary club. All in all it was a memorable experience.

There are thousands of specialized receptors in the skin, she said, and massage can trigger the release of endorphins, the body's natural painkillers, and induce feelings of comfort and well-being.

Therapeutic massage is more vigorous, and stimulates the circulatory system, improves the supply of oxygen and nutrients to body tissues and enhances skin tone. "It helps stretch tense and tight muscles while easing stiff joints and improving mobility and flexibility," Madurski said.

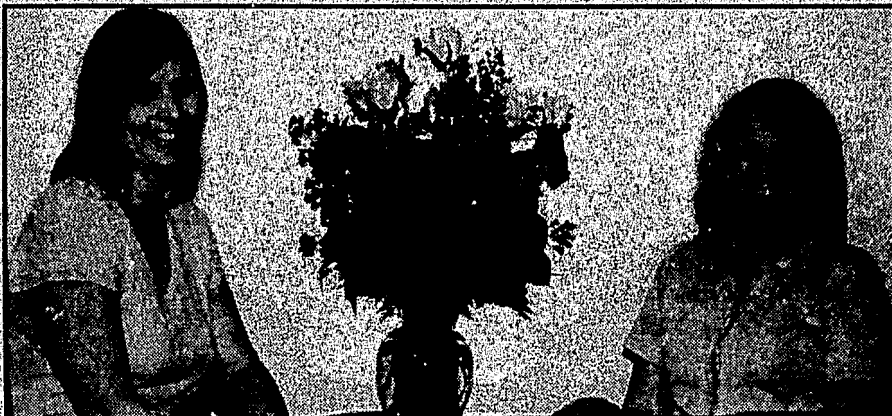

"Massage stimulates the lymphatic system to improve the elimination from our bodies lactic acid and other chemical wastes that can lead to pain and stiffness in muscles and joints. This allows you to feel calmer and better able to cope with life's stresses," Madurski said. "Besides it just feels good!"

Clients can also feel good at The Right Touch Body Therapy, with a 45-minute Reflexology session can treat the feet and hands, otherwise known as "mirrors of our body." Pressure is placed on specific reflex points that correspond to areas of the body to stimulate natural self-healing powers and promote well-being. Essential oils or a Paraffin Dip may be added to the $45 treatment, and run an extra $5 to $10.

Aromatherapy takes another sense and relaxes you even deeper. An Aromatherapy/Raindrop Technique treatment runs for $50. This technique, lasting 45 to 50 minutes, uses nine highly antimicrobial essential oils designed specifically for use on the spine along with massage. The oils are dropped directly on the spine and then are worked into the spine using light strokes with fingers. Madurski said. This stimulates energy im-

Huna principles of the Hawaiian culture at the Pacific Northwest Center for Hawaiian Healing Arts, where Madurski completed 500 hours of training.

The Right Touch can also come to you, performing a "chair massage," good for local business "appreciation days," senior citizen "wellness days" and more.

Prior to becoming a certified massage therapist in 1995, Madurski worked in the health care field as a registered respiratory therapist for nearly 18 years. "Through my training at the Health Enrichment Center of Lapeer, I changed to a more holistic approach to health care."

Three years ago, she began studying Lomilomi massage, a type of Hawaiian bodywork that includes researching the

"I work with my clients individually to allow a safe, nurturing environment in which to receive massage and body treatments, thus helping the client to maintain his or her own good health."

For Garchow, her massage therapy career began in 1996. "I was fortunate to find a teacher in which I was given private instruction for six months," she said. "I continued my studies at Irene's Myomassology Institute and graduated in 1997." Certified by the National Certification Board for Therapeutic Massage and Bodywork, Garchow managed the Troy Center for Massage Therapy for three years.

She is also licensed in Esthetics, and received her training at the Michigan College of Beauty in 2001.

"I continue to take many continuing education classes both in esthetics and massage therapy and have found that these two modalities compliment each other in my work," Garchow said, a Lapeer resident born and raised in Clarkston.

"Our approach to skin care is to bring out the natural beauty in all skin types," she said. "Stress, sun damage, environmental pollution, improper skin care and poor diet all contribute to premature aging of the skin. We are here to help balance and beautify the skin of both men and women."

Body and skin care treatments offered include a 50-minute European massage facial for $60, a 50-minute De-stress facial for $60 and a 10-to 20-minute Aromatherapy Steam Treatment for $25.

Add-on a Paraffin Hand/Foot Treatment or a Collagen facial/Paraffin mask for $10. Paraffin dips are deeply hydrating treatments that increase moisture to areas of dry skin, increases circulation and often increases mobility in stiff joints.

Waxing services for the eyebrows, upper lip, chin and underarms are also available.

The Right Touch Body Therapy is located at 6825 Dixie Highway, Suite D in Clarkston. Hours are Monday through Friday 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Saturday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday by appointment only. Regional title 26 years in the making

Munce picks up victory against Brother Rice in championship game; Taylor Kennedy next

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

One inning was the catalyst for the Clarkston baseball team to capture their first regional title in 26 years.

The Wolves scored three runs in the first inning of the regional championship game against Brother Rice June 8 at Memorial Park in Royal Oak. Pitcher Ben Munce shut down the Warriors from there, allowing only one run on three hits while striking out seven as the Wolves defeated Brother Rice 4-1 to capture the regional crown.

Clarkston (23-12) advanced to take on Taylor Kennedy (21-10) Tuesday, June 11 at Flat Rock in the Division I state quarterfinals. The baseball state finals begin Friday, June 14 in Battle Creek.

Sam Palace opened the game with a single and was sacrificed to second by Chase Morris. Derek Ranck singled in Palace, then Aaron Powell hit a two-run homer to give the Wolves a three-run lead.

Clarkston later scored a run in the sixth inning as Munce tripled to drive in Ryan Weiss. Bobby Slaughter relieved Munce in the seventh to close out the game.

In the regional semifinals, Clarkston defeated Walled Lake Western 8-2, as Palace notched two hits in the contest. As in the game against Brother Rice, the Wolves benefited from a big first inning, scoring four runs in the opening frame against Western.

Members of the team are: Matt Brady, Chris Cutler, Kirk Hanna, Josh Herzog, Eric Kammeyer, Tony Melki, Chase Morris, Ben Munce, Matt Oris, Jared Ostrom, Sam Palace, Aaron Powell, Derek Ranck, Brandon Rosengren, Bobby Slaughter, Addison Turk, Ryan Weiss and Chad Zelinski. Clarkston assistant coach Pete Gallagher said it was important for the Wolves to start quickly in both games.

"We have to set the tone for the game," he said. "It gives our kids confidence."

The Wolves allowed a total of one earned run in the two games combined. Gallagher said the pitching staff is seeing the results of the work they began in January and February.

Softball season ends against Walled Lake Western

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's softball team was close to putting away Walled Lake Western and advancing in regional competition June 8 at Royal Oak.

However, Western rallied from a 4-0 deficit in the sixth inning to tie the game, and eventually won the contest 6-4 in nine innings, ending the Wolves' season at 25-11.

The key juncture in the game came in that fateful sixth inning, as Clarkston managed to get the first Western batter out before the floodgates opened.

"They had four runs before we had the second out," Clarkston coach Al Land said. "They had four hits and four runs and tied it."

With runners on second and third, Clarkston pitcher Kathi Wiegand pitched the ball right where she wanted it, and Land thought that pitch would have been enough to put the Western batter away.

"She hit it late, and it landed just inside the foul line, and they scored two runs," he said.

Despite the Walled Lake Western comeback, the Wolves had a chance to win the game in the bottom of the seventh. Suzie Giroux singled with one out, and was sacrificed to second. However, the Wolves' next bat-

Underclassmen figure to power girls track in future

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's youth-laden girls track team will be looking to take it to the next level next season.

The girls finished their season June 1 at the state track meet in Rockford, with eight team members representing the Wolves at the meet.

Clarkston placed in two events at the meet: Kim Wilson tied for seventh in the high jump with a jump of 5'5", and the 3200 meter relay team of Mo Kuhta, Anne Oltman, Gillian Nordquist and Liz Mengyan finished fifth with a time of 9:31.9.

With that showing, the Wolves capped off a season which featured several notable accomplishments. Clarkston finished second in Oakland Activities Association Division I to perennial champ Rochester Adams, and also took second to Adams in the regional meet May 17.

The girls also took first place at the Clarkston Invitational as well as the Oakland County and Pontiac Northern freshmen meets, and finished eighth in the Oakland County Track Meet at Lake Orion May 24.

The team set two new school records this season — Casey Bolten in the pole vault with a jump of 10', and Liz Mengyan in the 800 meter run with a time of 2:17.3.

With only three seniors graduating from this year's team — Allison Spinweber, Carla DelVecchio and Lindsey Hawley — Coach Gordie Richardson will be leaning on this year's freshmen and sophomores to be the foundation for next year's team.

Only one of the eight Wolves represented at the state meet (DelVecchio) was a senior, which leads the coach to believe things can only get better for the team.

"We're very young, and that leads us to being excited over next year's possibilities," Richardson said. "We have potential, yet potential doesn't mean anything if you don't do anything with it."

He said the team will have to work diligently in the offseason, both physically and mentally, if they are to challenge for league and county supremacy. He is optimistic they will meet the challenge.

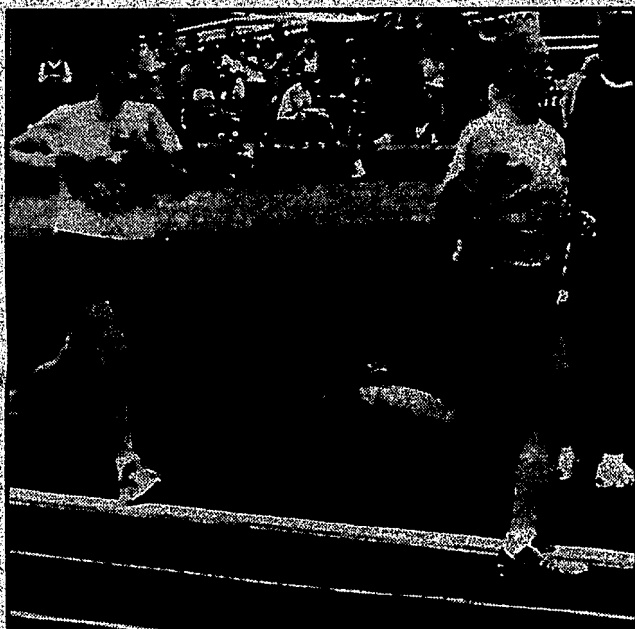

"We're really excited about what next season will bring," he said. "If everyone stays healthy, I think some good things will happen."

Bright future — Clarkston girls track coach Gordie Richardson says as long as the returning members of the team remain committed, they should be a force to reckon with in league and county action next season.

Thomas off to Seattle to start pro baseball career

CHS graduate picked by Mariners in 11th round of amateur draft June 4

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston High School graduate Jared Thomas will be traveling to the West Coast to begin his professional baseball career.

Thomas, a junior left-handed pitcher at Oakland University, was selected by the Seattle Mariners in the 11th round of the major league baseball amateur draft June 4.

OU baseball coach Mark Avery said he was happy for Thomas, who was one of the team's captains this season. "I'm extremely excited for the kid," Avery said. "He's worked extremely hard, and it's paid off."

Thomas played at Wayne State for two seasons following his 1998 graduation from CHS, then transferred to Oakland University. He sat out last year after his transfer.

This year, he was selected to the All Mid-Continent Conference first team and was chosen Newcomer of the Year in the MCC. He started 12 of 16 games this season and finished with a 4-4 record and 4.82 ERA, and was 3-1 with a 3.78 ERA in MCC competition.

Thomas was among the nation's leaders in strikeouts this season, and set an OU single-season record in that department, finishing with 103 strikeouts on the season.

Ken Madea, a Mariners' scout who covers Michigan, Ohio and Canada for the club, has followed Thomas for the past 4-5 years since he suited up for CHS.

"He's got a good body and a loose arm," Madea said of Thomas. "There are a few minor things that need to be cleared up."

Avery said Thomas impressed scouts from the Mariners and other organizations at a recent workout. "He had worked out for them earlier in the week and threw extremely well," he said.

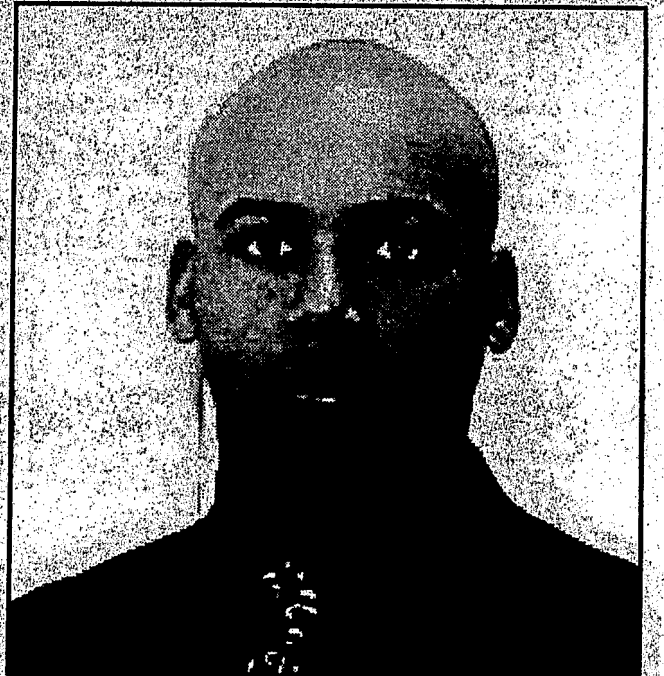

At CHS, Thomas was a pitcher and first baseman, and hit .451 his senior year while hitting six home runs. He also went 3-2 on the mound for the Wolves that year.

One of Thomas' teammates at OU will join him in the Mariners organization, as right-handed pitcher David Viane was selected by Seattle in the 20th round.

This marks the second year an OU pitcher has been selected in the major league draft. Last year, Adam Sokoll was selected in the 22nd round by the Atlanta Braves.

According to Madea, if Thomas signs with the Mariners, he will probably be sent to Everett, Wash., which is in the short-season Rookie-A league. At that point, Madea said the Everett coaching staff will determine whether he is used as a starter or reliever.

Avery is optimistic about Thomas' chances of making it to the majors.

"I think he's going to do great if he can continue to do what he's done," he said. "As a lefty, he can move up quickly in the organization."

Clarkston Riverdawks baseball team opens season

Clarkston's 12-year-old travel baseball team, the Clarkston Riverdawks, have started their season with success in the tuneup tournament and league play.

In addition to playing in the North Oakland Baseball Federation (NOBF), they are also playing in the Macomb Travel Baseball League. To date, the 12-year-old team has beat two of its Macomb opponents by beating Team Smash on April 29 9-8. On May 15, they beat the Macomb Saints 11-2.

The team is inviting everyone to attend a Golf Outing Fundraiser on Monday, June 10 at Heather Highlands in Holly. The outing will have a shotgun start at 8 a.m., and will feature a four-person scramble, longest drive, closest to the pin contest and a Las Vegas Hole.

The fundraiser will assist with expenses such as uniforms, equipment, field usage, umpires and tournament fees. The cost is $90 per person and $360 per foursome, and includes 18 holes, cart, lunch and fun.

Athlete of the Week — Stacie Giroux

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

It's all in the family for Stacie Giroux.

The recently graduated senior, a member of the Clarkston softball team that took part in regionals this past weekend, is just the latest in a long line of family members to take up the game.

Older sisters Stephanie, now a teacher in Lapeer, and Aimee, who is working and attending college at Oakland University, played on the Clarkston softball team. In addition, Stacie has a younger sister, Suzie, who is a sophomore at CHS and a member of the team. Father Al Giroux is an assistant on the varsity softball team.

"My older sisters all played softball, so I'm following in their footsteps," Stacie said.

She has been on the varsity all four years in high school, and says she has improved her mental approach to the game. "I think I have a more positive attitude toward the game," she said. "I take it a lot more seriously."

She said coach Al Land has been a positive influence. "He is a really good coach," she said. "He understands us and teaches us a lot."

Next fall, she will be attending Western Michigan University, where she will study secondary education and major in French. She is the daughter of Sue and Al Giroux of Clarkston.

their pitches for strikes," Gallagher said. "Bobby Slaughter's been a bulldog all year. He just flat out knows how to win. Munce, in his last 4-5 starts, has been outstanding."

Gallagher said the team's main starters — Munce, Gallagher and Matt Orris — have benefited late in the season from the team's strength and conditioning program.

"I think that's what's paying off," he said. "No one has a dead arm."

The Wolves started out mediocre this season at 8-9, but have since won 15 of 18 games to put themselves where they're at now. Gallagher said the Wolves are just now starting to live up to their potential.

"We're not playing above our heads," he said. "When we were 8-9, we were underachieving. We're playing the way we're capable of."

ter, Courtney Robinson, couldn't get Giroux home, and that ended the Clarkston threat.

Even though the Wolves' season came to an end, Land said this year was a successful one for two reasons.

"We had to replace a lot of girls from last year," he said. "They did an exceptional job. We were a pretty consistent ballclub. I thought we were very competitive. The other thing was the kids' attitudes were just outstanding. They enjoyed coming to practice, and I enjoyed being their coach."

Clarkston will lose three players to graduation — Kathi Wiegand, Stacie Giroux and Jen Frederiksen — but will return a solid nucleus of players that figures to improve with a year's experience under their belts, according to Land.

"We're going to have a chance to be a little better," he said. "We have some experience coming back. Kathi will be difficult to replace. If we can get our pitching replaced, I think we'll be a nice team."

Water polo makes a splash at CHS

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

A new sport has made its way to Clarkston. Students from Clarkston High School have teamed up with their counterparts from Lake Orion to form a water polo team. Although not an official varsity sport, team members have to be approved by the Michigan Water Polo Association.

Melissa Matthews, a Lake Orion resident who spearheads the program, first thought up the idea while attending Michigan State University. She said the team made a real good showing in their first season, particularly at the East North District in Grand Blanc May 13. "I played at MSU several years ago," she said. "I have always been interested in starting up a program. The girls did well—they ended up sixth in our district out of eight teams in their first year. That is awesome. They were determined. I was very proud of them. They came to practice and learned every day."

A couple of Clarkston High School students were referred to the water polo club by Clarkston swim coach Kenwyn Chock despite not having played the game before, and they are glad they took up Chock on her offer.

Junior Teresa Kuhta, for one, likes being a part of something that's never been done before at CHS.

"It's awesome," she said. "It's just cool because it's a new thing and no one's done it before here in Clarkston."

Kuhta said the water polo team played a lot against teams from across the state, such as Lansing and Rockford, and would go to places such as Grand Rapids during weekends to compete in tournaments.

Meanwhile Andrea Forst, also a junior, likes water polo because of its physical nature.

"I like it because it's aggressive game and it takes skill and strength," Forst said.

During the season, they competed in tournament play and traveled to different schools. They returned to Clarkston April 12-13 for a home game and scrim-maged March 28 at Lake Orion.

Water polo in the area won't go away for the summer. Matthews said the two communities will have a summer program beginning June 4, divided into groups for those under age 18 and those 18 and older.

"We will be running practices at the same time," she said. "The experienced players will be able to teach the younger ones."

Class of 2002 gathers one last time for commencement

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The weather may have been overcast Wednesday, June 5, but the spirits of the Clarkston High School Class of 2002 were anything but gloomy.

The 474-member graduating class, along with their families and friends and Clarkston school district faculty and administrators, took part in commencement exercises that evening at DTE Energy Music Theater in Clarkston.

After the graduates processed into the theater, the CHS combined symphonic band and choirs performed the national anthem and the Battle Hymn of the Republic. The choirs then performed the song "Seasons of Love."

Senior Brian Samuel asked the crowd to observe a moment of silence in honor of the victims of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. Afterward, the combined symphonic band and choirs reemerged to perform "Hymn to the Fallen."

CHS senior Andy Barrett introduced the members of the Clarkston Board of Education, and Principal John Diliegghio introduced the Clarkston district administrators and CHS staff.

Class advisors Tamera Conwell and Anita Gallagher then told the audience about the Class of 2002 motto ("Life is not measured by the breaths we take, but by the number of moments that take our breath away"); the class song ("Time of Your Life" by Green Day); the class color (baby blue) and the class flower (Aladdin Tulip).

They then presented the class executive board: Jessica Arsenault, Andy Barrett, Katharine Douglas, David Griffith, Kendra Harlow, Olivia Lowrie and Brian Samuel.

From there, five members of the executive board -- Arsenault, Griffith, Douglas, Lowrie and Harlow -- offered their reflections on their high school years.

Senior Nic Thompson, who has performed at several CHS athletic events, offered his classmates one last musical performance with his rendition of "This is the Moment."

From that point, senior Kayla Baker, who returned from an Aug. 16 heart-stroke, gave a special thank-you message to her classmates and implored them to keep trying and never give up.

Laura Barnett, selected by her classmates to speak on their behalf, talked about the importance of the seniors striving to be the best they can be and leaving their mark in the world. Guest speaker Marke Gilbert challenged the students to maintain their individuality and not settle for the ordinary.

Dr. Al Roberts, superintendent of Clarkston Community Schools, told the students not to forget those people who helped them get to this point in their lives -- parents, family, friends, teachers and

Graduates reflect on time at CHS and look to future

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

To the members of the Clarkston High School Class of 2002:

Congratulations, you've just completed four years of high school and have just received your diploma. What are you going to do next?

Well, none of the seniors questioned at the senior all-night party June 6 said they were going to Disney World, but they all have new adventures coming their way, whether it be returning to their native countries or moving on to college.

Two of the students there, as a matter of fact, headed back to their native countries following graduation. Arina Cretu, a native of Moldova, was here for the entire year but headed back June 9.

She said "meeting new people" was a highlight of her stay at CHS, and said she enjoyed her time at the school. "It's a big new experience," she said.

Cretu will be heading back to Moldova to study computer science.

Another exchange student, Nikloay Golikov, a Ukrainian native, has been here since August and returned to his homeland June 11 to study engineering. He said the highlight of the year was the second semester, with all the different senior activities.

"There was more stuff going on," he said. "The very beginning was pretty good, too."

Michelle Dodge said "it feels really awesome" to have graduated from Clarkston. She said the senior activities were the highlight of the year -- "all the stuff at the end, senior walk, graduation and prom."

She said she will miss all the friends she has made here at the high school, and will be going on to Kalamazoo Community College next year.

In contrast to her friend's outlook on graduation, Andrea Gibson said "it doesn't really feel any different" now that she's graduated from CHS.

She said she has enjoyed a wide variety of activities during her senior year, such as tennis season, all the dances, and getting to know her classmates.

Like Dodge, Gibson said she will miss all the people she has met through the years. "Everyone's going in their separate directions," Gibson said.

Gibson will be attending Michigan State University next year and majoring in education.

Liz Koblinski was in a state of disbelief when she talked about her feelings of graduating from CHS.

"It's surreal," she said. "I've watched it (graduation) for three years and to be the one in the cap and gown, it's just surreal."

Koblinski said the highlight of her time at CHS involved learning about different cultures.

"We had a class with 10 foreign kids that moved to Clarkston, and a language arts teacher (Mr. Swartout) from ninth grade," she said. "We had a lot of fun learning different languages."

She said she will miss the relationships she's developed with her teachers. "They weren't just tools for learning -- they were my friends," Koblinski said.

Koblinski will be attending Michigan State and hopes to become a pediatric neurologist.

Like Koblinski, Jessica Businski has pleasant memories of Mr. Swartout's class. "I liked the donuts he bought us every Friday," she said.

She said graduating is "the best feeling I've felt in the last 18 years," and will miss the familiar surroundings of the school, the staff and her classmates. She is heading to Oakland University next year to major in elementary education.

Tony Melki, a member of the CHS baseball team that competed in regional action this past weekend, said his favorite memories involving playing baseball. "I enjoy that a lot," he said.

He said he felt about the same after graduation as before -- "It feels about the same; it's not really a big change" -- but also said he would miss all the people he's known for the past four years.

Next fall, Melki will be attending Oakland University and hopes to get involved in business with his family. "We're purchasing a cafe," he said. "If it goes through, I'll be working there."

other school staff members.

Afterward, Dilegghio introduced the audience to a very special guest -- World War II veteran and Clarkston resident Donald Steiner. Dilegghio talked about how Steiner was called to duty in the war at about the same age many of the students are now. He also talked about what receiving a Clarkston High School diploma meant to Steiner.

Then, the big moment arrived -- the presentation of diplomas by the Clarkston Board of Education. Fittingly, Steiner was the first one to receive his diploma, as he made a walk that was 60 years in the making. In all, a total of 474 students received their diplomas that evening.

After the diplomas were awarded, the CHS Madrigal Singers sang "A Parting Blessing" to the Class of 2002. The senior executive board then led their classmates in the tassel ceremony, signifying that they were now officially graduates of Clarkston High School. The new graduates tossed their caps in the air as the ceremony concluded.

However, the night was just beginning for the Class of 2002. They headed over to the Clarkston Christian Association building on the corner of Sashabaw and Maybee for the annual Senior All-Night Party.

The party lasted from 10 p.m.-5 a.m. and included free food, caricatures, and games for the graduates, as well as a hypnotist that appeared during the party. In addition, a raffle drawing was held, and several items were given away, including a microwave, bike, college-size fridge, DVD player, stereo and television.

Good Times at Senior Picnic

What rivalry? — Despite their differing collegiate allegiances, graduating Clarkston High School seniors Stacey Mercado (left), who will be attending Michigan State University, and Amy Kinney (right), who will be attending the University of Michigan, are leaving CHS as the best of friends. The car they traveled in to the CHS Senior Picnic May 31 at Clintonwood Park displayed a split personality, with half decorated in MSU colors and the other half in U-M colors. Photo by Jeff Patrus.
