Bay Court vandalism has officials frustrated

BY KYLE GARGARO
Clarkston News Editor

A few vandals are ruining it for everybody at Bay Court Park according to the Independence Township Parks and Recreation Department.

During the summer there has been an extreme amount of littering and vandalism at the park.

"It has gotten really bad this summer. We try to stay on top of it but it is hard. It is really frustrating," Park Supervisor Roger Belcher said.

Most of the trouble centers around the disc golf course which has only been around for a couple years. In the past month there has been graffiti sprayed on buildings, electric meters smashed and a dumpster set on fire.

The problem became so bad the Independence Parks and Recreation Department decided to shut down the disc golf course for a couple of weeks. The course opened again on Monday, Aug. 28.

"It is a small group ruining it for everybody. I don't want to blame the frisbee golfers because we can't prove they are the ones doing it. There are a lot of good people who enjoy the course," Belcher said.

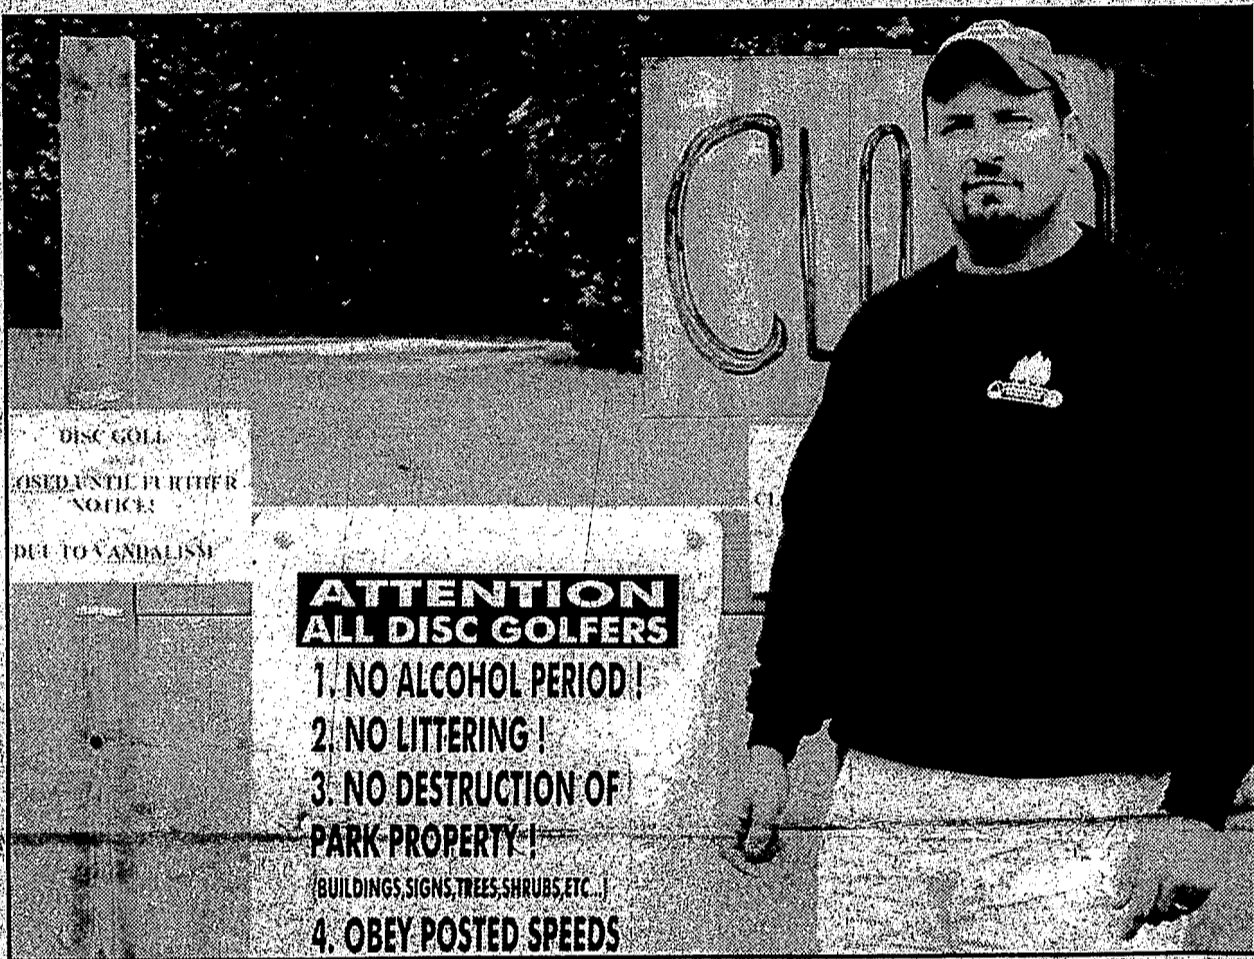

In addition to the vandalism, broken beer bottles and trash are common occurrences at the park.

"The beer bottles have gotten really bad," Belcher said. "They just smash the bottles and people are getting flat tires. We have also had some complaints of marijuana at the park."

Belcher said a few concerned individuals have approached him to discuss having volunteers sit in the park during peak hours to keep an eye on things. Belcher believes that is an excellent idea, but also feels there needs to be some police presence.

"I know they are busy but we need some police presence on a regular basis," Belcher said. "Also if we get a few people from the community to step up and keep an eye out it won't be long before we run these guys out of here."

Belcher stated after he mentions the vandalism to some of the frisbee golf course regulars it slows down for a while before picking right back up.

He points out individuals do not need to confront those doing the criminal activity, but merely need to make park officials aware.

The Parks and Recreation Department also had trouble with this last year and closed down the golf course for a couple weeks. When it reopened there was far less of a problem.

"We are looking for similar results this year," Parks and Recreation Director Mike Turk said. "We have gotten some complaints about shutting it down this year and we need to find a way to solve the problem without hurting everybody."

If anyone has any information pertaining to the vandalism or would like to volunteer to help keep an eye on the park call 625-8223.

87-year-old man resuscitated; fire personnel awarded

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Lloyd Carlton just wasn't ready to call it quits.

The 87-year-old gave his family a scare at a recent family gathering in his son's Andersonville Road home as he lost consciousness and had to be resuscitated by firefighters, who later were awarded for their acts.

About an hour after dinner Sunday, July 21 around 6 p.m., Carlton slumped over.

"We called 911 and my husband started CPR immediately," Sherrie Carlton said of spouse Fred, Lloyd's son. Lloyd's grandson, Scott Emery, also assisted in CPR.

"The volunteer firemen came in five to 10 minutes," Sherrie said.

Firefighter and Emergency Medical Technician John Murphy was first on the scene. "The family was performing CPR, which was a big positive," Murphy said. "Apparently he had been seen choking and went into cardiac arrest because of it. We did find food in his airways."

Carlton, a described "easy going" and "sweet" man, was completely unconscious, no pulse, no breathing, Murphy said.

The Springfield Township Fire Department and CPR and rescue team--which included Captain Bob Apple and fire fighters Cheryl Apple, Dave Barber, Earl Colloto, Val Garrison, Doug Parsons, Ted Rhynndress, Stan Richards and Jim Tang--had now arrived on scene.

They began to administer oxygen and the LifePak 500 Automatic External Defibrillator (AED), an advanced piece of equipment the department has only carried for about a month.

The rescuers "shocked" Carlton, getting a pulse and breath back. But the pulse and breath were soon lost, and rescuers needed to apply the defibrillator again.

Carlton, who was a volunteer fireman for 25 years in Avon Township, responded and was transported to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. The Rochester Hills resident is currently at St. Joseph Hospital in rehabilitation. "He's coming along," Fred Carlton said. "He's conscious. He recognizes people and is starting to talk."

For 87, he's doing pretty good," Jim Tang, firefighter and friend of the Carlton family, said. "He definitely wasn't ready to go," fellow fire-

We want to honor those who are serving

American men and women are serving here and abroad, fighting to protect this country. And, we want to honor them.

As the community's newspaper of historical record, we'll run the names (pictures, if we get 'em) of local US military personnel serving. Proud parents and grandparents are invited to send in the names of their loved ones serving just like their grandpa did. Please mention SPC Ryan Shaull of the US Army's 10th Mountain Divi-

We don't wish to compromise national security, so all we need to know is name, rank, what branch they're serving in, hometown and name of their folks (grandparents, too!). If you have a photo for us, please send it along. Your deadline is August 31. You can send photos to the newspaper office via US Postal Service or you can e-mail us at shaull@rcub@aol.com. ## Crafts and Cider Festival set for September

The Clarkston Community Historical Society's 28th annual Crafts & Cider Festival will take place Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 21 and 22 in Depot Park in Clarkston.

This outdoor art show features more than 100 fine artists and crafters from all over the country. The festival will be open Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The admission is free for a festival which drew more than 15,000 people each year.

In addition to organizing the entire event, the Clarkston Community Historical Society provides a Cider and Donut Tent for the traditional fall snack and also designs and sells Clarkston merchandise. The society's merchandise includes a children's history book published by the CCHS for the local school district's second grade curriculum, as well as other Clarkston history books, flags, clothing, afghans and tote bags.

The Crafts and Cider Festival is the CCHS' main fundraising activity with the majority of proceeds used to operate The Clarkston Heritage Museum, founded in 1999 by CCHS and located in Independence Township Library. The museum's themed exhibits feature artifacts and interpretations that relate to Clarkston's history and change on a regular basis. The current exhibit is titled, "Pastimes and Parades: Clarkston at Play." This excellent exhibit takes an in-depth look at how Clarkston's earliest residents had fun.

Fundraiser planned for September

A total of $30,000 was collected by the 11th Annual Oakland Community College "Golf for Scholarships" fundraiser held at West Bloomfield's Shenandoah Golf and Country Club, Aug. 9. A total of 120 golfers participated in the event.

There were 22 recipients of scholarships for 2001-2002 including Angela Miles and Christopher Shea from Clarkston.

Scholarship recipients are awarded $1,000, enough to cover the cost of 18 OCC class credits during the fall and winter semesters. A total of 108 students have received scholarships via the program during the last 11 years.

"Golf for Scholarships" is an endowment fund. Scholarships are drawn from interest earned on the fund's principal. This year's contributions bring the total collected since the event's establishment to nearly $300,000.

Baptist churches to hold joint service

The First Baptist Church of Clarkston and Maranatha Baptist Church will hold a combined Memorial Service 6:30 p.m. at Depot Park in Clarkston on Sept. 11.

The community is invited to participate in this tribute to those who lost their lives on Sept. 11, 2001, because of the attack on America.

Those who are serving their country at home and overseas will also be honored and remembered. Contact Pastor Russ Reemtsma at First Baptist Church of Clarkston at 625-3380 for more information.

About seven years ago my husband became a patient at Rumph Chiropractic Clinic to treat his spine. I went to an appointment with him and talked to Dr. Rumph regarding my allergy and sinus problems. After my first adjustment I noticed I was able to breathe easier.

I have been able to cut down on my asthma medicine more than half since beginning chiropractic. Since receiving chiropractic care from Dr. Rumph he has also helped when I had shoulder pain, a result from falling on the ice. He has also diagnosed me with one leg shorter than the other. Dr. Rumph fitted me for shoe lifts, since then I have noticed a change in my balance. Without the lifts I can feel myself leaning more.

I like to keep myself busy with many outdoor activities, as well as up keep on my house, and working a full time job. Thanks to Rumph Chiropractic Clinic I have a lot more energy and been able to stay on the go.

My husband and I are very pleased with the care we have received and will continue to stress the importance of chiropractic care.

AmeriCorps graduate, Kuechle, is hometown hero

BY JENNIFER NEMER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Life long Clarkston resident Martina Kuechle is your regular hometown hero.

She's a recent graduate of the AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps, Western Region, a program encouraging young adults, ages 18 to 24, to commit to 10 months of community service.

A commencement ceremony was held Aug. 7 at McClellan Park (formerly McClellan Air Force Base) in Sacramento, Calif. Kuechle was one of 204 AmeriCorps members to be honored, and a part of the eighth year graduating class.

"It's been such a unique experience," said the 24-year-old. "I realized one person can make a huge difference. You really learn to expand your horizons, and you do things you never thought you would do."

During their 10 months of service, Western region AmeriCorps members work in teams of 10 to 15 providing support to more than 120 community service organizations in California, Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Hawaii, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, Idaho and the territories of Guam and Samoa. Members must also be on 24-hour call, if needed, to aid disaster relief efforts anywhere in the country.

Specifically, Kuechle's team of 12 was assigned to help restore National Forest trails and camps in Julian, Calif. and Sardona, Ariz. as well as provide aid at a homeless shelter in Salt Lake City, Utah during the 2002 Winter Olympics. At her Sacramento home base, Kuechle worked with the local Boys and Girls Club, the food bank, a mother/daughter program and a computer club for children.

Most recently, Kuechle served with the American Red Cross in Guam to provide disaster relief to the people affected by Typhoon Chata'an.

Hugely memorable for Kuechle was working with the American Red Cross in New York City after the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

"It was a real emotional experience. It was hard but rewarding."

She was there, on hand, for five weeks assisting those who had been evacuated from their homes, others who were hurt financially by the devastation, and more.

"It was so incredible. We got to go to Ground Zero. And we just were able to do things others couldn't."

In return for their service, Kuechle and fellow Corps members received room and board, a modest living allowance, and since successful completion of the program, a $4,725 Education Award to be used for educational advancement or repayment of student loans.

Kuechle said some times the living quarters were quite primitive. "It's kind of like Survivor but you can't get voted off," she joked.

Living closely with her team members for 10 months, brought them to a feeling of family. "Everyone is here for different reasons, but they are all here to help. It's just really amazing."

The AmeriCorps program was first brought to Kuechle's attention while studying sports medicine at The University of Detroit.

She sent for more information on the program, but held on to it for two years before she decided to go for it after graduation last August.

"It was hard to make the decision to do this. People thought I was crazy, wondering why I would work for free?" she said. "It was hard to leave my family, and I was going somewhere where I didn't know anybody. But, I wish I'd done it years ago out of high school."

However, it wasn't easy for Kuechle to find a path to follow then.

"I guess I never was positive about what I wanted to do with my life. I think (AmeriCorps) is great for anyone who is confused about what they want to do, or are trying to find their niche. Even if you know what you want to do, it's good if you like to travel or meet new people. And this is much more rewarding than just traveling."

Kuechle has a clearer idea where she's heading. "I know what I don't want to do, but I found there is a lot I'd like to do. It's a matter of doing it all."

First up, Kuechle is participating in another AmeriCorps program with the City of Detroit, assisting in the school system and with service projects.

"It's a great city if you know it. It needs improvements and I want to be a part of those improvements."

Knights of Columbus maintain history of community service

(Editor's note: This is the fifth in a series of articles on service groups in the Clarkston community.)

BY JEFF PATRUS

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Nearly 40 years ago, the Pope John Paul XXIII Council #5436 of the Knights of Columbus was formed with more than 100 members in its first year.

Today, the council is comprised of 350 members, representing four parishes — St. Daniel in Clarkston, Our Lady of the Lakes in Waterford, St. Benedict in Highland, and St. Perpetua in Highland.

The local council is a branch of the Knights of Columbus, which was formed by Father Michael McGivney in 1882 as a way to provide security for widows and orphans of Catholic parishioners. Today, there are more than 1.5 million members in more than 10,500 local councils in the United States and surrounding countries.

Council #5436 was started when Our Lady of the Lakes parishioners Walter Rask and Thomas P. Burke contacted several local men to join the Knights of Columbus. On June 30, 1963, approximately 62 men received first, second and third degree initiation.

The group held its first meeting at a small building on Walton Boulevard near Dixie. Later they moved to the Mountain View Club on Maceday Lake before settling into their present location at 5660 Maybee Road, one block east of Sashabaw.

The local council just inducted its 22nd Grand Knight, Vince Belevender of Clarkston, who took over in July. "It is a privilege and an honor to be part of a great organization," Belevender said.

The group divides its activities into three main categories: council, church and community. One of the newer council activities is the Heroes Fund, formed in the wake of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

"Some of the victims were Knights, and we supported their families and loved ones," Belevender said. "We have donated more than $1 million to that fund."

The council also is involved in the Fourth of July and Labor Day parades in Clarkston, and sponsors children's Halloween and Christmas parties, as well as weekly fish fries, a Thanksgiving Day dinner for senior citizens, and a Mother's Day and Father's Day breakfast.

Another staple of the council is its weekly Bingo nights, with the proceeds going toward the council as well as helping the needy in the area. "We donate it to wherever needs help," Belevender said.

Church activities the Knights sponsor include religious devotions, clergy and religious recognition, financial contributions to Catholic causes, and sponsorship of religious vocations.

Among their community-related activities, the Knights are perhaps best known for their Tootsie Roll drives to benefit mentally retarded children. According to Belevender, the local council raised more than $18,000 for programs to benefit these children.

In addition, he stated that $18 million was raised nationally for the cause last year, as part of $100 million nationally that was donated last year by the Knights to various charitable and benevolent causes.

The Knights also open up their hall each Tuesday to Coffee House, a program which provides activities for mentally retarded people ages 15-45. They also sponsor the March for Life and other pro-life projects, and support Boysville, a home for troubled boys located in Detroit.

McNally honored as Grand Marshal of Labor Day Parade

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Judge Gerald McNally will leave his post on the 52-2 District Court at the end of the year — but not before he gets to ride through downtown Clarkston.

McNally will serve as Grand Marshal for this year's Clarkston Labor Day Parade Monday, September 2 at 10 a.m. The parade will be presented by the Clarkston Rotary Club, as it has been since 1942.

In 1968, McNally ran for the judge's seat on the newly established 52-2 District Court and took office in January 1969. He will leave that seat once his current term expires December 31.

During that time, McNally has seen both the Independence Township and Clarkston communities, as well as his caseload, increase significantly.

"We're busier and we're handling bigger cases," he said. "Our jurisdiction has increased. There's been a lot of change and growth." McNally stated he has enjoyed living in the Clarkston community, describing the area as "the city moving to the country."

Once he leaves office, McNally and his wife plan to travel

Europe as well as parts of this country. However, he may not be completely done with the judicial profession.

"I may be a visiting judge about 25 percent of the time if there's work," he said. "If someone is ill or overworked, then I'll help out."

McNally, who lived in White Lake before moving to Clarkston in 1968, attended the University of Michigan Law School where he achieved his Juris Doctorate in 1963. After graduation, he worked for the City of Dearborn legal staff, then left that job to join the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office. Upon leaving the prosecutor's office, he entered private law practice with Richard E. Murphy.

In addition to his judicial work, McNally has taught law and philosophy at the University of Detroit Evening Division for ten years, as well as teaching business law at Oakland Community College Evening Division for ten years.

He is currently a member of the Clarkston Optimist Club, and a founder and active member of the Clarkston First Step Program, a program for alcohol abuse and addiction.

In addition, McNally is a former member of the very organization in charge of the Labor Day parade — the Clarkston Rotary Club.

According to Rotarian Jeff Lichty, the club oversees everything that goes on with the parade.

"We put the whole thing on — we get the license, choose the theme, and pick the parade route," he said. "We're responsible for the whole thing. We do all the formal planning on it, starting in the late spring. On parade day, we'll be there at 7:30 in the morning, setting up the stage and partitioning off the streets."

This year's parade will start out at Church Street before heading down Main Street in downtown Clarkston. The parade participants will then make a left at Miller Road before ending at St. Daniel Church.

Fellow Rotarian Joel DeLong stated this year's theme is "The World's Children — Our Natural Resource," in honor of Rotary International's efforts to eradicate polio worldwide by its 100th anniversary in 2005.

Clarkston Schools prepare to sell land in Springfield Twp.

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston Community Schools are going forward into negotiations to sell land adjacent to Springfield Plains Elementary, but neighboring residents are up in arms and vow to fight any development until the end.

For sale since late May, five offers were made from potential purchasers of the 18.9 acres on Holcomb Road. Alliance Service Group came in top with the highest bid in the form of a $521,000 three-year land contract, with $125,000 down, $100,000 annually, and 7.5 percent annual interest; or $413,000 cash. Pace Companies followed, offering $415,000 cash.

These two, Bill Bowman, president of Great Northern Consulting Group, and consultant for the school district, recommended the School Board pursue further.

Subsequently, the board, at their Aug. 26 meeting, approved Superintendent Dr. Al Roberts go into negotiations with Alliance Service Group and Pace Companies.

Roberts will bring back to the board what he said "is the best offer I can get." Bowman said the board is allowed 90 days of investigative time.

Other offers included $350,000 cash from Barsh Building Company, $275,000 cash from Kirco, and $100,000 cash from Ruth and Gil Kaminsky.

But developers Steve Torres of Alliance and George Mansour of Pace were Bowman's top picks for a number of reasons.

"Both finalists share similar development plans for the property," Bowman said, explaining both are looking at building between six to eight homes. According to the zoning map, the land is presently zoned public

Community churches set to come together on Sept. 11

BY KYLE GARGARO
Clarkston News Editor

Area churches are coming together for a community prayer service on Sept. 11, 2002 - in observance of the one year anniversary of the 9/11 attacks on America.

The idea of a service began with Rev. Greg Henneman of Clarkston Community Church making a few calls a couple months ago to other churches to see if anything was planned for that day.

"At the time nobody was really planning anything but we got a good response when we brought it up," Henneman said. "So we just started making plans."

Among the churches participating so far include: Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church, Church of the Resurrection, Sashabaw Plains Presbyterian (USA), Clarkston Community Church, First Congressional Church, United Methodist and St. Daniel. Others may be joining the service.

"The first year anniversary will be an emotional time for everyone. I think we all remember exactly where we were when they happened," Henneman said. "It is very appropriate to come together as area churches and pray for healing, the country and those who lost their lives on that day. We will pray for those directly effected by losing loved ones and will focus on the message of hope Jesus Christ gives us even in the midst of tragedy."

The event is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the Clarkston High School auditorium.

Tim Graf will be the musician leading the service and has written a song for the occasion.

"I wanted to mark the occasion for I wrote a piece of music for the community choir to sing. It is a theme of hope. We invite anyone from the community to become a part of the choir," Graf said.

The group, which held a planning session for the service last week, is excited about getting many in the community to come together.

"We are expecting to fill up the place," Henneman said.

For information on being part of the choir anyone can call Tim Graf at 625-3288. For information on the prayer service call 625-1323.

Clarkston State Bank set to host celebration

Family entertainment, refreshments and games will be the highlight of the day in Clarkston on Saturday, Sept. 7 when Clarkston State Bank hosts its "Thanks a $100 Million Celebration" for the community in Depot Park from 1 to 5 p.m.

The event marks CSB's milestone of reaching $100 million in assets. CSB opened in January, 1999 and now operates five branch offices in Clarkston, Waterford and Independence Township.

"The $100 million plateau is an important milestone for our corporation, our bank, our customers, our employees and our community. Most important, it signals both acceptance of and strong support for our unique brand of hometown community banking among consumers and businesses, big and small, across northern Oakland County," Chairman of Clarkston Financial Corporation, the holding company of CSB, Ed Adler said.

The free entertainment includes: Disc jockey Brett Koronowski from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.; clowns from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.; magician from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.; moonwalk from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.; orbitron and climbing wall from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.; face painting from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Got mustard for that hot dog?

My memories of Little League Baseball are vivid ones. I remember gathering with my friends, playing an intense third base and getting frustrated when I couldn't poke the straw into my Capri-Sun.

What I don't remember is the hotdogging, taunting and excessive celebration I have seen at this year's Little League World Series being broadcast on ESPN and ABC.

Now I don't mind celebration and showcases of emotion if it is not intended to disrespect the other team. Being in the Little League World Series must be very exciting and the players have a right to enjoy every moment. However, the taunting of other teams is unacceptable.

Many people have blamed professional athletes for influencing the younger generation to taunt. The theory goes that children watch their heroes show-up and taunt on television, so they think it is okay.

I say that is crazy talk. There is a lot of stuff on television that 12-year olds shouldn't be doing. To say it is professional athletes fault is a cop out. I don't mind seeing professional athletes taunt during their games. Sure I don't do a dance after every column I write, but I realize their jobs focus on energy and momentum.

However, in terms of children, how about looking at the parents of these players? If I was acting like an idiot and being disrespectful to the opposition on the baseball diamond, I guarantee you Papa Gargaro would have something to say (or do) about it and it probably would not have waited until the car ride home.

That is because my father knew there were more important things than winning the game. Don't get me wrong, he taught me to compete and work hard to win, but not without also teaching the values of teamwork, respect and playing fair.

The problem is some of these parents of Little Leaguers feel the final score is the only important item of the game. It is not just in the World Series either. I was a sports writer before coming to Clarkston and was floored by some of the antics of parents I witnessed when giving Little League baseball a little bit of coverage. Screaming at umpires, talking negative about players on the team and swearing seemed to be par for the course. It was quite disgusting and many times left kids feeling embarrassed by their parents. And that is not the type of embarrassed I had as a kid when my dad infringed on my moments of feeling 'cool' with my friends.

I am all for using youth sports to teach children about winning and losing since that is an important lesson. If they go through their youth not learning this lesson, and it happens when sports leagues don't keep score to make sure everybody wins, they are going to struggle as adults.

However to some of the parents I must say, get a life. You are not on that playing field, your kids are. The self worth of yourself and your child should not be tied into whether they can turn a double play.

Use sports as a vehicle to teach your children lessons. What they learn not to do is just as important as what they learn to do.

Board needs to take action on proposal

Tuesday night the Independence Township Board received a petition to take action, but did nothing.

More than 1,400 voters asked it to do something to stop the impending condominium development on the 25-acre Ritter property at the corner of Maybee and Dixie. Many residents also spoke at the meeting. Among the major concerns were that the proposed 132 condos will exacerbate traffic congestion and lower property values.

Instead, Supervisor Dale Stuart told the petitioners he would refer their concerns to the Planning Commission where final site plan approval is pending.

This is a political cop out. Although the item was on the Board's agenda for discussion, there was none forthcoming from the Board Members. At the very least a board member could have moved for study of the alternatives available. A board member might even have suggested the developers be approached to delay the project or even option it until purchase money could be found.

Even more boldness could have resulted in a motion to study how condemnation proceedings to take the parcel for a park might be started if the developers didn't cooperate.

Responding to a question from the audience, Supervisor Stuart said the township didn't have any money to buy the parcel. This ignored available grant funds. This is ironic too, coming from a board who puts multi-million dollar bond issues on the ballot for new offices, among other things.

There is good reason for the township to buy this parcel and make it a park. But even in the face of an alarmed citizenry, does the board "get it"? Are the developers, who are local businessmen, putting profit ahead of the public good? Do they risk business decline? Unless the board wakes up and takes action, their next petition will be for a recall election.

Concerned Citizens of Independence Township

(A total of 18 residents signed this letter)

Supervisor explains ballot issues to citizens

Personally and on behalf of the Independence Township Board of Trustees, I want to thank everyone who voted in the primary election held on Aug. 6, 2002.

On Aug. 7, 2002 the Independence Township Board of Trustees met for their regular board meeting. One of the issues we had to decide was whether any ballot proposals would be submitted to the voters on Nov. 5, 2002, at the general election. After more than two hours of thoughtful debate, the Township Board made its decision.

You may be aware the township is prohibited from promoting any ballot proposal that is submitted to the voters. We can inform, but no more. The board attempts in all of its decision to make reasoned decisions that are in the best interests of the general township and match the desires of the community.

Pursuant to a split vote, the board approved ballot language for the November election as follows:

- A $26 million bond proposal to build a 25,000 square foot Township Hall, a new 80,000 square foot recreation/senior center to include a community pool, gymnasiums, weight room, walking track, senior facilities, meeting rooms and administration offices for parks/recreation employees.

- A millage proposal of 1/2 of one mill for the operating expense of the new recreation/senior center for four years.

- Neither the bond proposal, nor the millage proposal will be effective unless both are passed.

The Township needs a new township hall to better serve the community, if not now, certainly within the next few years. We never will be able to build it cheaper.

A recent professional survey tells us the community wants and would support a recreational/senior center. The problem is that it is not clear that the recreation/senior center can pay for itself with user fees. User fees may cover the expense, but we can't be for sure.

The Township Board has espoused the policy that the millage will only be levied if user fees don't cover the cost of operations. User fees will be established for families, individuals, seniors, youth and non-residents. It is the township board's plan to cover the cost of operations with user fees. For the year prior to opening the recreational/senior center, the township will have to levy enough millage to cover start-up costs. Thereafter, only enough millage will be levied to cover the prior year's shortfall, if any.

Over the next three months the township will attempt to share facts, figures, plans and rationale for these proposals. Then you will decide.

Several letters to the editor have accused the township board of not listening to the voters and of trying to shove these tax increases down your throats. The recreation center/senior center and township hall projects have been brought to the township board many times by citizens as needs we should address.

The township board takes your vote on Aug. 6 very seriously. We have a responsibility to present to the citizens what we see as needs for the community.

The new proposal is not the same proposal you turned down on Aug. 6. It is significantly different. It is not due to lack of concern for you that this new proposal is presented.

Please consider these proposals carefully and then vote.

Dale Stuart
Independence Township Supervisor

Labor of love or the love of labor?

The last hoorah of summertime bliss, the Labor Day weekend, is upon us. Time to get the boats out of the water, pack up the summer cottages or just get away for barbecues and a long weekend with family and friends.

And I suppose it is time for work stoppages, strikes, evil business owners, pure as the wind-driven snow unions and baseball players.

First, can anybody reading this newspaper relate to, or feel for Major League Baseball players as they prepare to stop the nation's pastime? While the owners of Major League Baseball (a true nation-sanctioned monopoly) have created the sport's woes -- can anybody out there really have sympathy for, or agree to, a strike by men/boys who make millions of dollars a year? I read somewhere that an average ballplayer makes $2.3 million a year.

Two million a year equals non-fair wages and/or poor working conditions? Is this what the men and women from the early 1900's labor movement fought and died for? To say, "they're entitled to what they can get" is the flawed logic. That, coupled with the notion that employers are inherently evil, has caused many in this nation to doubt the validity of the modern worker's union.

Which brings me to a John Cusumano editorial in the Oakland Press about the National Education Association. The NEA suggests its members can commemorate September 11 by discussing with our children, "our past mistakes and intolerances, such as our treatment of Japanese-Americans during World War II, as possible motivating factors behind the attacks."

Cusumano editorialized, "Missing from that logic is the simple fact that 3,000 people died on Sept. 11 only because they were Americans, something more intolerant of one's race and nationality than anything the US has ever done."

While I'm all for recognizing mistakes you also have to move forward. Looking to blame Americans for others flying planes into buildings is wrong. Part of today's society is the blame-game. "It's not little 40-year-old Johnny's fault that he raped and murdered all those girls. It was his next door neighbor's 4-year-old daughter's fault for beating him up in kindergarten."

There are some in America -- and, it appears in the NEA -- who do not believe in evil, or "bad" or "damaged" people. There are only evil, bad or damaged governments, Republican leaders and business. The people are never at fault, just the big, bad meanies.

Here's a suggestion for the NEA -- what about asking your members to discuss why people of all colors and creeds still risk their lives for a chance to live in America?

For the higher-developed minds and classes, how about these questions: Would you rather be a minority living in Africa or America? Would you rather be a woman living in Arabia or America? Can things be better in America for minorities and women? You bet your sweet bippy, Big Brother. But, how do you get to there from here -- accentuating the positive and taking advantage of the opportunities here or by telling every young person who will listen, "you are a victim and America sucks?"

For some reason, I do not believe my questions will be asked -- maybe they're afraid of the answers.

***

Note to the evil owners of Major League Baseball: You need to create ownership among your employees. For too long you have groomed and courted the hired-gun mentality of today's ball players. You want somebody to stay with your team and do his best... give him stock options in the franchise that can only be cashed in after 10 years, retirement from your team, or if he is injured working for you.

It's just an idea... maybe somebody will pass it on to Detroit Tigers' owner Mike Ilitch.

15 YEARS AGO (1987)

■ Persistence paid off for Jimmy Territo. The Independence Township 8-year-old wanted more than anything to have a chance to see Pope John Paul II during his upcoming visit to the Silverdome Sept. 19. He was chosen as one of 30 youngsters from the Archdiocese of Detroit to perform for Pope John Paul II at Hart Plaza in downtown Detroit the morning of his visit.

■ A failed coup attempt trapped a former Clarkston High athlete in the Philippines on Friday. Tim McCormick, a center for the Philadelphia 76ers, was traveling with a group of players from the National Basketball Association for some exhibition games and clinics. Because of the military action, both of the scheduled all-star games were cancelled.

■ Jet skis on Deer Lake were the center of a sometimes heated discussion at a Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) public hearing last week. About 20 of the nearly 80 people in the audience spoke at the Aug. 25 hearing in the Kirschgessner Theatre at Clarkston High School.

25 YEARS AGO (1977)

■ Clarkston schools resumed classes Tuesday on a day-to-day basis without a new teacher contract and without an extension of last year's Board of Education agreement with the 327-member Clarkston Education Association, which represents teachers. The decision to work was made by most of the membership at a meeting early Monday morning at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Maybee Road.

■ Everybody's getting into the act for Clarkston's big four-day Labor Day Weekend celebration. Built around a traditional 10 a.m. Monday parade, sponsored by the Clarkston Rotarians, the event will include sidewalk sales, a carnival, various entertainment, crafts displays and plenty to eat.

■ A proposal that could hike taxes in much of Independence and Springfield Townships is now under consideration by local municipal units. Proposed by the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board, the plan calls for a fixed millage split of what has been the constitutionally guaranteed 15-mill ($15 per $1,000) limit on the unvoted tax levy apportioned between the county, schools, and the townships.

50 YEARS AGO (1952)

■ A big event that practically closes the summer season in Clarkston is the Labor Day Parade sponsored by the Clarkston Rotary Club. With Labor Day weekend being the last long holiday weekend for some time, it is expected the highway traffic will be heavy. So plan to stay in town and enjoy fun with your friends and neighbors.

■ Plans are now being formulated for the United Fund Campaign. This campaign will include the Cancer Fund and the Red Cross Fund. No other drive will be conducted in Independence Township. In making your donation remember there is one drive for all funds. Mrs. Robert Waters will be the chairman for Independence Township this year.

■ The following items were on special at Terry's Market in Clarkston: beef, choice round or sirloin, 99 cents/lb.; Frozen Libby's strawberries, sliced, 47 cents/package; bananas, two pounds for 29 cents; Banquet chicken, 5-1/2 ounces, boneless, 38 cents/can; butter, Remus, 77 cents/lb.; Armour banner bacon, 47 cents/lb.; celery, 19 cents; nine-inch paper plates, package of 40, 39 cents.

There's shopping and there's buying

Friday, August 16 dawned rainy, and it stayed rainy until I realized there was nothing else to do but go shopping.

I've heard and read throughout my life that lots of people go shopping. I've never been one of them, but, what the heck, it's worth a try.

I'm a buyer, as opposed to shopper. When I need underwear or potatoes, I go to the appropriate store and buy it (them). I've never gone to a store to look, feel, price, compare, or see what's new.

I go, I buy, I come home and mow the lawn or shovel snow. That's the way it is in Michigan for all the men I know except Jim Fitzgerald.

August 16 I broke from my tradition and went shopping for short-sleeved, sorta dress shirts to wear playing golf. I'm tired of knit pullovers.

They mess my hair and I don't like to comb it more than once a day. Every time I comb my forehead gets higher.

Since golf (short sleeve) season is nearly over I speculated I could get some really good buys on some really great name-brand shirts at the usually too-rich-for-my-purse Somerset Collection in Troy.

Let me digress -- I had previously used this same logic in shopping at bankrupt Jacobson's in Rochester. There I saw that all the men's suits had been removed from the store, and the 20 percent off on $135.00 shirts was 80 percent more than I wanted to pay.

Jim's
Jottings

Jim Sherman

On to Nordstroms. They had a rack of ugly shirts at 40 percent off, and another marked down 50 percent. The Salvation Army suggests we not donate any clothes we wouldn't wear. The SA would not have gotten these shirts from me.

I did get exposed to what $152.00 golf shirts look and feel like, though I thought for a while I might have to pay for the privilege.

Might as well try pascal Marshall Fields. Two sales ladies were comparing catalog prices with Coldwater Creek when I asked about shirts. I was dressed good, had my hair combed and fly zipped, but their impression gave me a ghetto feeling.

I got out of there and headed for my element - J.C. Penney's. Picked up a fine, silk shirt, was $39.95 for $19.95, another $54 shirt for $24.

I didn't need these shirts. I just counted my closet. I now have eighteen short sleeve, golf-type shirts.

But I now have that shopping experience, which further proved to me the Troy Somerset Collection is much too expensive for me, and that it takes a whole lot of walking to do some shopping.

I saw three 6-8 year-old boys recently playing barefoot. It's a rare sight these days. All the boys I knew when I was that age seldom wore shoes between school sessions - Spring to Fall.

The things missing with this trio were bib overalls, the kind that had a watch pocket on the bib, just like my railroad-working Daddy wore. His watch-pocket watch, tied to a button hole atop the bib with a leather shoe lace, kept perfect time.

I swear every time we were together and a train whistle could be heard, Dad would pull out that watch and check to see if the train was on time.

Susan K. Basinger

Susan K. Basinger, 57, of Clarkston died Wednesday, Aug. 21.

She was the beloved wife of Bill Sr. and son Bill (Kim) Basinger of White Lake; dear grandmother of Heather. While husband Bill practiced law, Susan pursued an interior design business. After Bill's recent retirement, they turned her business to antiques so they could pursue an activity together.

After their son Bill Jr. and their granddaughter Heather, the love of Susan's life was their home. She and husband Bill spent 30 years gradually restoring their downtown Clarkston home which had originally been saved from demolition by Bill's parents. Their home was her pride and joy and she was constantly improving it to reflect her sense of design as well as designing all the outbuildings which she and husband Bill built together. Their home's interior was featured in The Clarkston News, Oakland Press and Free Press. Susan delighted in opening her home to guests. She and Bill held numerous dinners and fundraising events for family and friends over their 30 years in Clarkston. Susan was an avid gardener and offered her house and garden for tours by several garden clubs and other organizations over the years.

Susan was a direct descendent of Major Oliver Williams, one of the first settlers of Oakland County.

She was an early member, board member and past president of The Clarkston Community Historical Society and initiated its original historic education program. She served as chairperson for the Village of Clarkston Historic District Commission from 1986 through 1989. During the last several years, her interest in historic preservation led her to spend months researching and recording information about Clarkston's historic district structures. In conjunction with the Independence Township Library this extensive material has been made available on the Web for use by the community. She recently enjoyed doing history presentations for local grade school children at her home.

Susan had a very keen interest in politics at all levels and served as a delegate to the state Democratic presidential nominating convention. She had a very active role in the successful drive of the Village of Clarkston to become a city.

Susan loved reading. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Independence Township Library memorial book fund. A private family memorial will be held. Arrangements entrusted to Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Pontiac.

Dog owner frustrated by insurance company

Imagine having the same major insurance company and the same Clarkston agent for more than 10 years.

Imagine paying your auto, home and life insurance on time for more than 132 months (over $55,000 in premiums) without as much as filing a claim.

Imagine moving into a new home and seeing your elderly dog attacked by a neighbors dog which is a much larger and aggressive animal. What would you do?

A house guest staying for a few days knew what to do, he placed himself between the neighbors dog and my "golden girl," stopping the dog fight before she ended up like some of the carcasses I've witnessed this beast drag out of the woods adjacent to my home.

Imagine your kind hearted houseguest suffering from dog bites to both arms.

Imagine your good samaritan not having medical insurance. Subsequent trips to the clinic for treatment and missed work came to a total of $1,350 for which I was covered. The claim was paid quickly and just as quickly I was being dropped as a "loyal" State Farm customer.

Sound like a Grishom novel? It's not, it's true. Imagine this happening to you.

land, but within the Springfield Township Master Plan is zoned R-1, residential.

"Both live in the area within a few miles of the site. Both intend to build homes for their immediate family on the property, which further guarantees this will be a nice project," Bowman said.

Both have real estate development experience, he said, and have indicated they are willing to provide financial information to substantiate their financial ability.

Choosing between the two is up to the board, Bowman said, but he offered some thoughts.

Pointing out the differences, he said, "George Mansour intends to utilize a cluster design, and has more development experience in Springfield Township." On the other hand, "Steve Torres has offered $521,000, or $106,000 more than the highest cash bid, and has indicated a willingness to increase his cash bid. If the land contract bid is accepted, Torres has indicated a willingness to submit to an audit."

"If judged on purely financial terms, the land contract offer is the most attractive." The associated risk, Bowman said, is the school district would be financing the project, offset by a $125,000 down payment.

Trustee Steve Hyer told fellow board members he preferred taking a cash offer. "Money now is worth more than money later." Bruce Beamer, director of finances, also suggested the board go with a cash offer.

But Treasurer Janet Thomas and Trustee Sheila Hughes felt the land contract was the better choice because of the 7.5 percent interest.

Trustee Mary Ellen McLean didn't like either route. "I don't think what they have offered us is fair because of the location. This neighborhood is beautiful. It's a fine piece of property."

Roberts said he agreed. "I want more money up front to make this more palatable for the board."

Residents in attendance, most who live on Peaceful Valley near the property in question, were displeased the board approved to go into negotiations. "I suggest you keep the property," resident Larry Miracle said. "This land is going to get nothing but more valuable and if you sell now, you'll lose it forever."

The residents all feel this natural habitat should be left as an asset to the students education.

"I grew up next to an elementary surrounded by woodlands," resident Bill Butzler said. "My parents fought the School Board to keep the land as an ecological study. To this day, I can point out the difference between a monocot and dicot plant. If I was just sitting in a classroom, I don't think I'd be able to tell you the difference between those two words."

Harry Branca told School Board members he had several concerns including possible flooding or drying up of wells with the construction of new homes in the area.

"I feel rebuffed and left out of this decision. I didn't know it was up for sale until I saw a sign," he said. "I'm afraid this will go to the zoning board, and more homes will be put on the site. This is what (developers) say now, but the School Board is not the one who gets the final approval on what will actually be put on the property."

"This new development will impact us in a negative way," Meggie Sznaza noted. She and her husband recently relocated from Grand Rapids to build a home on Peaceful Valley. "I know every area will eventually be built upon; it is inevitable. The School Board needs to be very careful. If we grow too quickly for a quick buck, we'll outgrow ourselves and have a real problem. I think the board should hold on to this as an investment."

Other residents said they were told by various others when moving to the township, the land would never be built upon.

"I moved here 11 months ago," Gary Tilson said. He told board members if you sit in his sunroom off the back of his home, he has a great view. "Now I'm going to be looking at the side of somebody's house. I feel betrayed by this community."

But President Kurt Shanks said the Clarkston Community School district has never indicated they would not sell or build on any of its land, and he apologized if others told the residents the land would not be built upon.

"As the School Board, we have the right and responsibility to deal with our land in the best interest of the public, and it is necessary for us to do what we can to maximize our resources for our students," Shanks said.

"This is a School Board that does care about all the kids, protecting buffer zones..." Roberts said, adding board members have never acted on a motion without discussion and research. He assured residents this wasn't an act intended to hurt the community.

Also at the meeting, the Board of Education approved the purchase of approximately five acres with buildings at 6800 Hubbard Rd., adjacent to Independence Elementary, for $750,000. The sum will be paid with $250,000 at closing and $166,666 at the first, second, and third anniversary dates with interest at six percent.

Residents fight to stop condos

BY KYLE GARGARO
Clarkston News Editor

The residents of Birdland and Chestnut Hills subdivisions continued their quest to stop a proposal to build condominiums in the area of Dixie Highway and Maybee Road, behind Bank One.

This time they were in front of the Independence Township Board of Trustees to plead their case against the proposal known as Trillium Village. The proposal includes the development of a 132-unit condominium complex on a 25-acre parcel formerly known as the Ritter property.

The area was originally proposed to house a senior living building but has since been changed to the current proposal.

A number of residents from the neighborhoods spoke in front of the board. Among the items of concern which were raised included traffic, disturbance of environment/wetlands and the amount of noise due to the reduction of a buffer between the neighborhood and Dixie Highway.

Marian Emory, who has helped lead the charge against the development, turned over to the board 1,405 signatures of Independence Township residents who oppose the proposal. One-third of the signatures came from neighborhood residents, while two-thirds were from other township residents.

Resident Tom Bullen urged the board to take action on the issue.

"What can you do? There are two things. The least you can do is to propose to the developers that they option the parcel to the township. As some of you know, there are State Grant funds available that would pay for 75 percent of the cost, if not more," Bullen said. "We would hope the developers, as local businessmen, would put the public good ahead of their profit. To date they have done well by the public. The public deserves to do well by them."

However, the board took no action since at this time it is a Planning Commission matter.

The Planning Commission also heard from the residents at a public hearing in July. They tabled the issue until a traffic study, wetlands study and landscaping information could be worked out.

The board revisited the issue of the flooding problems on Paramus Drive near Clarkston Middle School. Some residents in the area have approached the board to help pay for the extension of the M-15 drain.

The township, which says it can not afford to pay for the construction, is attempting to secure funds and to help lessen the cost the homeowners would have to pay.

"We wouldn't want to put a penny into it because we didn't do it," resident Joe Rehfus said. "Whoever caused the problem should be liable."

The board tabled the issue until they receive a report from Hubbel, Roth and Clark explaining how much the drain would cost and what the cause is for the drain problem.

Holly teens believed to have destroyed F.A.A. property

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Two 16-year-old Holly boys are suspected to be responsible for the malicious destruction of property that occurred Aug. 6 on government property on White Lake, Sgt. Frank Schipani of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Springfield Township substation said.

An 18-year-old man, a friend of the suspects, saw a story and a picture of the suspected vehicle, a two-tone blue Chevrolet pickup truck, in the news and contacted police, stating he knew who knocked down the 200 feet of fence surrounding a Federal Aviation Administration transponder.

Schipani said the man told police the suspects drove to his home the night of the incident and told him what they had done. He later drove to the site to see for himself. He most likely will not receive any charges, since he came forward with information, Schipani said. Police reports stated it appeared the vehicle impacted locations of signage stating "U.S. Government Property" and "Property of the F.A.A."

The suspects also forced entry to a box on the property and were able to unplug an antenna.

The case is still being investigated, and Schipani is unsure if there will be any additional charges for causing disruption with F.A.A. flight plans.

fighter Douglas Parsons added. Fred, a resident of Clarkston for 18 years, said, "We want to thank and commend all the good and kind people that responded to the 911 call. From the 911 dispatcher to the Springfield Township firemen, Oakland County Sheriff officers and the EMS ambulance response team. All the responding men and women were professional and efficient, they went over and above by showing caring concern. Even the children received special attention."

Sherrie explained, "Two Oakland County Sheriff's Department deputies (Gary McClure and Mike Houck) were very nice and entertained the kids outside."

The 10 that responded from the Springfield Township Fire Department received their due honors, recognized Aug. 11 with the CPR Save Award at an in-house ceremony and annual picnic.

"It's always nice," Murphy said of the award. "This is everything you've trained for. Sometimes you see it go the other way, so this is nice. This was the first time I saw the AED work. It's starting to pay off good." The AED is a new component for public safety in Springfield and can be seen around town at the Hart Community Center and Township Hall as well.

Born and raised in Dexter, Mo., Carlton relocated to Michigan to find work in the factories. The retired General Motors employee, loves golf and enjoys spending the winters in Florida. He was married 50 years to Ola, who passed away five years ago, and has two children, Fred, and the late Pamela Emery, three grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

"When something like this happens you just react, then help comes and you step back and it hits you," Fred said. "As we all are created in the image of our caring and loving God, we should never forget to be thankful for all of the caring and loving people of His creation. We feel it is important for the community to be aware and feel safe and secure, knowing we are protected and cared about."

A saving force--Springfield Township Fire Department personnel including Captain Bob Apple, fire fighters Cheryl Apple, Dave Barber, Earl Colloto, Val Garrison, Doug Parsons, Ted Rhyndress, Stan Richards, Jim Tang and John Murphy helped revive 87-year-old Lloyd Carlton and were awarded for their efforts Aug. 11. ## Church fair set for Labor Day

Clarkston News Staff Writer

For even more fun on Labor Day head to the First Congregational Church in Clarkston for their Annual Country Fair and Classic Car Show, an event that typically draws up to 4,000 people.

"Our fair is the place to go after the parade," chairperson Susan Aulgur said. "We try to bring summer to an end in a special way for the community."

The 10th annual event, Monday, Sept. 2 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., will feature a variety of family entertainment including a giant garage sale, kid's Mid-Way games, arts and crafts, bake sale, clowns, antiques and collectibles, live auctions, dime auctions at 1 and 3 p.m., and 1950s music with D.J. Mark Farnsworth. "He always adds a lot of spirit," Aulgur said.

Last year the Classic Car Show featured 80 cars with 15 trophies awarded. Aulgur said this year should be even better with dash plaques, goodie bags and more trophies to give away. "The guys just love it."

Special to the fair this year is the Snack Village. Several members of the church worked hard in creating and building 8' x 8' booths in the shape of oversized apples, popcorn boxes, Eskimo igloos and more. Related grub like caramel apple slices, popcorn, ice cream and more, will be sold at each booth by Sunday School age children along with their parents.

The church will also pass out keys to children at the 10 a.m. parade, for a chance to unlock a treasure chest at the fair and win prizes.

Aulgur invites the community to stop by Sept. 2. "It's a really nice family affair."

First Congregational Church is located at 5449 Clarkston Rd., near Pine Knob Road. Admission is free.

Mead, Parkison shine for netters in early going

If the first couple of tournaments this season are any indication, the Clarkston girls' tennis team will be very solid in singles competition.

At a tournament Saturday, August 24 in Holly, the Wolves' top two singles players, Colleen Mead and Stephanie Parkison, both won their brackets. The Wolves took fifth place overall out of eight teams.

Mead, at #1 singles, defeated Almont's Laura Spencer in the finals of that bracket, while Parkison, at #2 singles, defeated Angela Kaza of Farmington Hills Mercy to capture the title in that category.

Mead and Parkison also led the charge for the Wolves in their first tournament of the season Wednesday, August 21 at the Troy Invitational.

Clarkston came in fifth place with 13 points at the invite. Troy took first in the tourney, edging out Farmington Hills Mercy for the top spot. Troy Athens took third place, while Marysville finished fourth.

Mead made it all the way to the finals at #1 singles before losing to last year's state champion, Troy's Carlin O'Keefe, while Parkison again defeated Kaza in the finals at #2 singles.

The Wolves will head into the thick of Oakland Activities Association Division I competition in the upcoming week. After traveling to West Bloomfield Tuesday, August 27, the Wolves return home to host Birmingham Seaholm at 4 p.m. Wednesday, August 28.

The latter matchup should be especially challenging for the Wolves, according to Coach Beth Manojlovich.

"They have a very tough team, from what I understand," she said.

Fitzgerald: Soccer team needs to step up

Wolves need late goal to tie Lake Orion, 3-3, in Aug. 26 contest

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston boys soccer team had to rally from behind to manage a 3-3 tie against visiting Lake Orion Monday — and coach Dan Fitzgerald was not too pleased about it.

Billy Weaver scored first in the contest to put the Dragons up 1-0 in the first half, but Clarkston's Sean Gardner answered with two goals in the half to put the Wolves (1-0-1) up 2-1 at the conclusion of the first half.

The Dragons notched a goal five minutes into the second half to tie the game at two, and then scored again with 20 minutes remaining to take a 3-2 lead.

Sober more, midfielder Mike Klemm scored with about five minutes remaining in the game to salvage the tie for the Wolves.

Clarkston coach Dan Fitzgerald was not pleased with the Wolves' effort against the Dragons.

"Yesterday, I don't think we played very well at all," he said. "We got outthustled and the other team had more determination than we did. We let in some weak goals."

In their first game of the season, the Wolves easily defeated visiting Lapeer West August 23, 10-0. Sean Gardner scored two goals in that game, while Nick Munchiando, Edgar Grech-Cumbo, Mike Holody, Mike Klemm, Guy Lima, Charlie Kraut and Aaron Verlinden added one apiece.

The Wolves return to action Wednesday, August 28, when they host Oakland Activities Association rival Troy Athens, beginning at 7 p.m. Fitzgerald hopes the team will display a better effort in that game.

"I think we have to play with a little more intensity, especially when we don't have the ball," he said. "We can't let in weak goals."

Senior cagers look to make this season memorable

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

This season will be the last hurrah for five seniors on Clarkston's girls basketball team — and they want to go out in style.

Starting guards Jenn Carlson, Kira Karlstrom and Anna Trim, along with forward Megan Renda (who will be sidelined for the early portion of the season while recovering from ankle surgery) and guard Laura Richards make up the senior core of this year's team, which is coming off a 14-7 season and an Oakland Activities Division I championship.

They are joined by sophomore Stephanie Parkin and junior Suzie Giroux as returnees from last year. They will be joined on the varsity by sophomore Jill Kouri, freshman Sarah Mahrle and sophomore Leigh Christy, a transfer from Carmel, Ind.

Coach Ann Lowney plans to use that experience to the team's advantage this season. "I think it's huge," she said of having five seniors. "Experience is something you just can't discount."

Lowney noted it is rare for one school to have three quality guards like Carlson, Karlstrom and Trim. Even though the OAA I features several quality guards in West Bloomfield's Samantha Mahoney, Rochester's Sarah Potts and Waterford Kettering's Chaz Miller, she will take her chances against any team in the league.

"I think Jenn, Kira and Anna are three of the best guards in the state," she said. "I think that is an advantage for us."

While the guard positions are locked up for Clarkston, Lowney will rotate her post players from a combination of Parkin, Renda, Christy and Mahrle.

"I'll use them depending in part on the personnel we're playing, so you'll see a change throughout the year," she said.

The Wolves figure to be challenged throughout the season in their quest to retain the OAA I title. According to Lowney, West Bloomfield, Rochester and Kettering will be competitive this season, and returning OAA I members Troy Athens and Rochester Adams figure to add to the mix.

Nonetheless, Lowney plans to cherish this season and the seniors who have left their mark on Clarkston.

"This is a special senior class," she said. "They have taken this program to a new level. I'm going to

Golfers looking to make their mark in wide-open league

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's golf team is setting their sights on the upper division of what should be a balanced Oakland Activities Association Division I.

The Wolves finished 4-4 in dual match league competition last season, good for fifth place in OAA I. They already gained a head start for this year, placing 16th out of 25 teams in a Traverse City tournament August 14-15.

"We played very poorly the first day," coach Tim Kaul said. "We shot a 338. We improved by 10 strokes the next day with a 328. The highlight was Dustin McMillen shooting a 151 and making the all-tournament team."

On August 20, the Wolves took part in the first dual meet of the season against Rochester at Liberty Golf Course. The Wolves won that match 162-171, as McMillen medaled with a round of 37.

Kaul predicts more big things from his top golfer.

"Dustin is our senior leader and I'm looking forward to him really having a stellar season," he said. "I think he's going to be a really good player."

The Wolves return one other player from their top six last year, senior Robert Wood. In addition, two other players competed on last year's varsity: senior Matt Baker and junior Adam Peters.

Five other players round out this year's team: senior Eric Hurg, juniors Bill Haun and Brandon Hampton and sophomores Colin Madole and Mike Fogg. Haun shot an 80 during a round at the Traverse City tournament, and Hampton shot 41 at the Rochester dual meet to pace the newcomers.

There are no clear-cut favorites for this year's title, according to Kaul, which means the Wolves have as good a shot as anyone to capture the OAA I title.

"The league should be fairly wide open this year, because Lahser and Adams both graduated quite a few seniors," he said. "They were the two strongest teams (last year) along with Troy. The league should be very competitive this year."

The league features two newcomers to the Division I scene this year in Lake Orion and Waterford Mott.

"Lake Orion could be the strongest team in the league," Kaul said. "They had the lowest round of the OAA teams that went to Traverse City, and they probably have the most returning varsity experience."

Kaul stated he has two hopes for this season: to see the Wolves move up in the OAA I standings, and for McMillen to earn some recognition for his efforts.

"I would like to see Dustin continue his good play and be eligible for some postseason honors," he said.

Gridders searching for consistency this season

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The Clarkston football team is aiming to return to the playoffs after missing out last year, and they'll attempt to do so with a new twist to their offense.

Coach Kurt Richardson has installed the option in the Wolves' offense to utilize the talents of junior Sam Palace, who takes over as Clarkston's starting quarterback this season.

"We want to take advantage of what Sam Palace does best and that's running the football," Richardson said. "I've been really pleased with him. He runs well and throws well. He's going to be a good high school quarterback."

So far, Richardson reports the offense has done a good job of adapting to the option. "Our offensive line has picked it up well, and for the most part, they've handled it pretty well," he said.

Coming off a 2-7 season, Richardson emphasized the importance of offseason conditioning to the team, and he thinks they've responded well.

"Overall, I was pleased with our offseason," he said. "We brought in a speed coach, and I think he's helped us, especially our big fellas."

The Wolves have taken part in a couple scrimmages to prepare for their season opener Thursday, Aug. 29 at Birmingham Groves. One was the annual Blue-Gold game Saturday, Aug. 17 at Clarkston High School, and the other was a scrimmage involving Utica, Detroit Osborn and St. Clair Shores Lakeview Thursday, Aug. 22 at CHS.

As far as Richardson is concerned, the Wolves accomplished their main goal of the scrimmages, which was not to obtain any serious injuries. However, he is still looking for steadier play on the Wolves' part.

"The most important part is we got out injury-free," he said. "We thought we had one big injury (to senior tight end Mike Ellsworth), but it turned out to be a bruise. Overall, we played good, but not consistently good.

Clarkston will face a new team in Oakland Activities Association Division I competition this season, and it's a familiar one to local high school football fans — defending state champion Farmington Hills Harrison, whom the Wolves travel to for an Oct. 18 contest.

"They're one of the best, if not the best program in the state of Michigan," Richardson said. "Obviously, it adds a lot of quality to our league."

In addition to Harrison, other teams to watch for in OAA I this season are Rochester Adams, Troy and Lake Orion, according to Richardson.

He thinks the Wolves will be right in the think of things, as long as they stay healthy and the second-team players step up to help some of the first-team players concentrate on playing one position.

"I think we're going to be pretty good," Richardson said. "The league will probably be the best it's ever been. Obviously, our number-one goal is to win the league and make the playoffs, and play with consistency and intensity."

He stated the Wolves will be counting on contributions from a number of players this season: Palace, senior tailback Ryan Talbott, senior captain Derek George, a linebacker/guard; senior wide receiver/de-

Girls tennis moving ahead despite loss of top player

BY JEFF PATRUS
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's girls tennis team will make the next step to Oakland Activities Association Division I this season.

However, they'll have to do so without their top singles player from last year.

Lauren Little, who made it all the way to the state finals last season as a freshman, suffered a foot injury a couple weeks before tryouts and will miss the entire 2002 season, according to coach Beth Manojlovich, who is in her fourth year at the helm.

In Little's absence, junior Colleen Mead, who played in the #2 singles slot last season for the Wolves, will step up to the top slot. "She played #2 last year and #1 as a freshman," Manojlovich said. "She is a complete player. She'll do fine at that spot."

The Wolves, who went 5-3-3 in dual meet action last season, figure to be strong in the other three singles slots.

Freshman Stephanie Parkison will inherit Mead's #2 singles slot. "She's a tournament player," Manojlovich said. "She's going to help the team a lot."

Rounding out the singles spots for Clarkston are senior Katie Manvel at #3 singles and senior Katie Woloson at #4 singles.

On the flip side, the Wolves are inexperienced in doubles action, according to Manojlovich. Senior Katy Manojlovich and sophomore Jen Aenlle will comprise the #1 doubles team, while sophomores Emily Aldrich and Maureen Weiland are slated to be the #2 doubles team.

The other two Clarkston doubles teams are seniors Ashley Rettig and Lauren White at #3 doubles and junior Jen Ley and senior Lindsey Tigie at #4 doubles.

Despite their inexperience, Manojlovich believes the doubles teams will surprise some observers this season.

"They're very aggressive and very coachable," she said. "I think they'll do better than expected."

Manojlovich and junior varsity coach Linda Knott will lead the Wolves into their first year in Oakland Activities Association Division I action. According to Manojlovich, Rochester Adams, Birmingham Groves,

High school sports record book updated on MHSAA Web site

The latest version of the Michigan High School Sports Record Book, available on the Michigan High School Athletic Association's Web site (www.mhsaa.com), is now available for downloads for handheld personal digital assistants (PDA's) and in its traditional PDF format.

The record book went online two years ago, available as a downloadable file which is updated annually, and as Web pages in each sport maintained by MHSAA Historian Ron Pesch of Muskegon. Pesch updates the Web pages on a regular basis, and some of the lists kept online are deeper than the lists which appear in print. The Record Book home page of the MHSAA Web site is one of the popular features, with an average of more than 6,000 visits monthly.

Visitors to the MHSAA Web site can click a link on its home page called "Record Book" to go to a menu where they can click on the sport for which they wish to view records.
