Despite parent objections... Schools to continue 'developmental days'

BY DON SCHELSKE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston Community Schools have generated concern and even "downright anger" from some parents with "developmental days" for teachers in grades K-8.

Officials believe the benefits outweigh the burdens, however, and will continue the program.

"The program does create some inconveniences, and we continue to recognize that," Deputy Superintendent David Reschke said at the Monday, April 14 school board meeting. "Our question is how do we minimize the inconveniences."

Reschke issued an evaluation report on the first-year program, similar to one which was already in place at Clarkston High School, in which class hours are shortened on some Wednesdays to allow teachers and administrators to engage in training and discussions for the stated purpose of improving education.

The district offered child care to younger students (charging a fee) and either computer lab or tutoring for middle school students during the normal class times on developmental days.

The evaluation covered areas such as student attendance, curriculum and activities, use of "guest teachers," cost considerations and feedback from teachers and parents.

The report said there was no "statistically significant impact" on school attendance on developmental days, but the need for guest teachers significantly decreased when compared with the former method of scheduling teacher training.

Although Reschke said the guest teacher reduction and financial issues were not the primary goal of the program, he estimated a cost savings of $28,000 for the first semester of this school year.

"Some parents in the report complained that students were seeing movies on that day," Reschke said, but the report showed a variety of activities in the shortened class periods, including review of previous instruction, tutorial time, class meetings and student conferences.

"It was not remarkably different" from normal instruction days, he said.

Among the benefits cited was the opportunity for teachers to discuss common issues and concerns. Reschke said this is especially important as the district strives for consistency in the curriculum.

"In our business, some of the biggest misunderstandings come from insufficient indepth discussions," he said. "This program has provided for that."

Nearly all staff members have suggested more time for building level training, district-wide training and grade level meetings, the report said, and more than half said the developmental day program has improved professionalism in the district (and that it needs to continue).

"When you have half of any group of teachers saying the same thing in concert, I think you have to take that seriously," Reschke said.

While parents have their concerns, Reschke was impressed that about 800 responded to a survey on the subject, and he said "a clear and strong majority" of parents support the effort to reduce the use of developmental days to reduce the number of guest teachers.

Citing difficulty with child care and transportation issues, however, some parents believe teachers should receive training after students leave for the day, on weekends or during school vacations, the report said.

Officials talked about teacher contract requirements for scheduling, and argued that meetings during the year are important for dealing with issues that arise during the school year.

The report offered some recommendations to lessen the inconvenience to parents. For example, officials said and all developmental days should be scheduled on a specific Wednesday of the month.

"If we're going to do it, a lot of parents said keep it predictable," Treasurer Janet Thomas said.

In addition, developmental days will be reduced from 14 to 10 in the elementary schools, but dismissal time will be shifted from 1:30 p.m. to 11:35 a.m. on those days.

An option could be offered to allow each school to apply for up to two additional days, perhaps in response to the federal "No Child Left Behind" program or the state's "Education YES" requirements, but Superintendent Al Roberts said the district should do more homework before making that final.

"The questions are really still unanswered in terms of transportation and some other details on those two extra days," Roberts said. "We have to work out a number of details."

An Egg-cellent Time

Springfield Township Parks and Recreation held its 5th Annual Easter Egg Hunt Friday, April 18 at Mill Pond Park in Davisburg. Four-year-olds and younger had their chance to gather up eggs in the morning, while five to 12-year-olds did so in the afternoon. Recreation Coordinator Lisa Goforth said they hosted approximately 250 kids, with about 9,000 eggs available. With a handful of violent outbreaks of late, an 18-year-old Clarkston man is facing serious jail time if convicted.

Already out on bond for a third degree criminal sexual conduct charge out of the 6th Circuit Court, Jonathan Red Bonot was again arrested Sunday, April 13. He stood mute at his arraignment before Magistrate Colleen Murphy at the 52-2 District Court in Clarkston Monday, April 14 on charges of aggravated assault and felonious assault with a knife. He was placed under a $20,000 bond. A preliminary exam scheduled for Thursday, April 17 was adjourned to Thursday, May 1 at 1 p.m. He also stood mute at a Thursday, April 17 arraignment for carrying a concealed weapon, a five-year felony. He received a $10,000 bond on this charge.

Prosecutors allege Bonot's recent string of violence began Feb. 25. In an aggravated assault case, Bonot allegedly attacked a 16-year-old Springfield Town-

Student Council plans charity work

This time of year means Clarkston High School's student council is busy planning their annual "Paint the Town" program.

The students remodel a house that needs a little fixing up and transform it into a brand new look. It is a day of benefit for the community, while the students have some fun in the sun. They perform tasks such as painting, caulking windows, planting flowers and building fences.

The program is set for Saturday, May 10.

The student council is asking residents for any donation towards this event. They need items such as garden tools, rakes, house paint, soil, flowers or additional essentials needed for planting.

If you would like to donate you can contact chair person Brooke Hills at BrookeLynn219@aol.com or you can call Clarkston High School at (248) 623-3600 and ask for Brian Zezula.

Fundraiser set for Community Center

Neighbor for Neighbor, a non-profit charitable organization which provides food, clothing and financial assistance to Springfield and parts of Independence Township, will hold a fundraising event.

"Treasures and Treats" will be held inside the Hart Community Center in downtown Davisburg on Friday May 9 and Saturday, May 10 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. This is a opportunity to buy home-made bake goods.

Edward Jones offers program

Scott R. Hazelton, the Edwards Jones investment representative in Clarkston, will host a free program for women on May 13 at 11:30 a.m. featuring Mrs. Fields Cookies founder, Debbie Fields.

During this one-hour educational presentation, Fields will share how planning, persistence and a positive outlook allowed her to take charge of life as a mother, wife, and successful businesswoman.

"Debbie Fields offers a highly inspirational story for women of all ages," Hazelton said.

In addition to Fields' message, guests will learn how to address the unique financial challenges women can face.

"Women tend to live longer than men and often spend some time away from the workforce," Hazelton said. "This free program will explore some of the unique financial decisions women encounter during their lifetime."

This free, interactive event is presented at Edward Jones branch offices nationwide via the firm's private video network.

For more information about the program, or to reserve your seat, call Hazelton at (248) 625-7016. If you are unable to attend at the above time, additional viewing opportunities are available.

The Second Front

May 4 event seeks lots of participants

Let's 'Walk and Roll' for SCAMP

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Time to get out those walking shoes on and Walk & Roll.

The annual SCAMP walk, to raise funds for a five-week summer camp for individuals with special needs, is scheduled for Sunday, May 4.

Walkers, bikers, wheelchair participants and even some family pets, will take over the streets of downtown Clarkston for one-mile, two-mile and eight-mile routes.

SCAMP Executive Director Donna Clancy said she is expecting at least 600 participants this year, doubling last year's attendance.

"We're hoping for a grand turnout."

Clancy said the enthusiasm regarding the walk has been spreading around town, and teachers and families have been going the extra mile in their support.

For example, more than 150 Springfield Plains Elementary students are signed up to walk. Clancy said SPE teacher and the school's SCAMP coordinator Tom Smith has been doing a wonderful job getting the students pumped up for the event; visiting each classroom and holding an assembly.

The SPE school walls are lined with paper gym shoes the kids decorated. And for four consecutive Fridays before the walk, the school is holding drawings for student walkers to win a free homework pass, large candy bars and a Walk & Roll lanyard.

The excitement has spread to families as well, Clancy said. The Spytman family, who have three children who attend Springfield Plains Elementary, recently moved to Clarkston. They have no family in the area, had never heard of SCAMP before, but, Clancy said, all family members have signed up to walk and pledged $150.

"This is the event that everyone can participate in. Everyone can come to the (Depot) park. Everyone can go on the walk. It's a family event. They can even bring their pets," she said.

Pledge sheets for Walk & Roll '03 are available at the Clarkston Schools Support Services office, 6590 Middle Lake. Call (248) 620-1882 for more information.

Registration will run from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on May 4 in Depot Park in downtown Clarkston. All ages are welcome.

Businesses interested in a silver or bronze sponsorship are asked to contact Donna Clancy at (248) 620-1882. All contributions are tax deductible within the limit of the law to this 501C(3) organization.

SCAMP has been providing summer camp for special needs individuals in northern Oakland County and southern Genesee County since 1976. The focus of the five-week camp is to build self esteem and maintain academic achievement through recreational activities and social events. The camp program has continued to grow over its 26 years, and last year hosted 350 people.

Construction on the new worship center, which will hold 800 people, will begin in May and is projected to open by late Spring of 2004. Clarkston Community Church's congregation has grown rapidly over the past few years, since the arrival of Pastor Greg Henneman who celebrated his 9th anniversary with the church, the day of the groundbreaking. The church has grown from averaging 100 in attendance in 1994 to more than 400 in 2003. This Easter, they welcomed more than 600 people. The sanctuary construction is the first phase of three future phases which will include a new education wing, youth facilities and gymnasium. The project is financed by Clarkston State Bank. # Independence to seek loan for water improvements

Clarkston News Staff Writer

There was little public comment during a Tuesday, April 15 public hearing on Independence Township's plan for $11,306,500 in water system improvements, but officials agreed to dive in.

The township government will seek a loan from the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality's Drinking Water Revolving Fund in hopes of improving the existing well system.

Tom Biehl, executive vice president of the Hubbell, Roth and Clark Inc. engineering firm, summarized the proposal, comparing it with two other alternatives.

The first, a "do nothing" approach, would place township water users in further danger of contaminants such as arsenic, not to mention decreased water pressure and diminishing supply.

"We have a well system generally that is somewhat antiquated," Biehl said, noting that new Environmental Protection Agency limitations for levels of arsenic will be effective in January 2006.

The other alternative would be to pay for expansion of and connection to the Detroit public water system, something deemed to be too expensive.

"Unless Independence Township and several other townships were to combine on the cost of transmission, the cost is just prohibitive for one community to attempt," Biehl said. "And, of course, Detroit water costs more."

That left the option of improving the existing township well and pump system, and officials reviewed the potential costs and timetable of the project, which is likely to be tackled in two phases.

"We should upgrade it for the quality and the quantity we're looking for for the future," Treasurer James Wenger said. "To me, it looks like the right road to go."

Biehl said the deadline to apply for a DWRP loan is May 1. Water main construction would take about four to six months, with an iron filtration plant requiring about 18 months. He estimated that, if the loan is approved, the grant would come this fall, bids could be let in spring 2004 and construction could begin that summer.

If all goes well, Biehl said all new facilities could be online by December 2005 in plenty of time to meet EPA requirements.

Even if there were no additional water customers (and officials believe there will be population growth and the potential of Clarkston city residents becoming township water customers), the project would cost the average customer about $220 per year over two years. Biehl said his firm is recommending that the township increase tap-in fees to help pay back the DWRP loan.

Independence Township currently operates from 11 wellfields (three of which are used only during peak demand times), with 16 water supply wells, two 500,000-gallon storage reservoirs, two water pressure boosting facilities and three pressure reducing valves.

DEQ has identified four separate water service areas for township-supplied water. The water distribution system consists primarily of the southern portion of the township (with a small area of the northeastern portion included in the Hillview Estates area) and provides water to about 60 to 70 percent of the township's residential population.

A July 2002 water study noted that all water in township public wells met existing EPA Primary Drinking Water Standards, but exceeded "secondary standards" for iron. While not a direct health threat, Biehl said it is "an annoyance."

Biehl also said a new treatment system will help allay fears of the e coli virus.

When the new arsenic standard (a maximum of 0.01 megagrams per liter) goes into effect, seven wells will be deemed in violation if treatment is not provided. While that standard has been hotly debated, it appears that it will become reality, and officials said the township must act.

"With arsenic being a real knife at our throats, and the EPA not willing to yield, as far as community health, community growth, prosperity, comfort levels of our own community well service, I don't think we can do anything else," Trustee Daniel Travis said.

Planned Water System Improvements

Guest columnist discusses the Resurrection of the Body

I believe in the resurrection of the body

This is a part of the Apostles Creed, which many recite on Sunday morning. Is it true?

Liberal theologians have disputed this, presenting their own theories and beliefs. In the past few decades, the discoveries of archeologists and searching history have been found to indicate the Biblical account is true.

In the late 1800's, Robert Ingersol, a noted orator of the time got involved. Ingersol, or "Beautiful Bob," as he was called, was often asked to speak for politicians. He was an atheist and traveled the country preaching atheism.

One evening, while on a speaking tour in a Midwestern town, he challenged God. He announced, "I am going to prove once and for all that there is not God. I am going to give God, if there is one, four minutes to strike me dead."

He took out his pocket watch, the time passed, the audience was tense, some women fainted as the watch ticked on, would God strike him dead?

"You see, I have proved there is no God," he exclaimed.

A white haired farmer in the back of the town hall, stood and asked, "Mr. Ingersol, do you really believe you can frustrate the grace of God in four minutes?"

Ingersol continued to complete his speaking tour. On the way he met retired General Lew Wallace, a literary genius.

"Wallace," he said, "you don't really believe all that preacher preaches at the Church you attend, join me and we will write a book to destroy Christianity for good."

He convinced Wallace to join him in writing such a book that would destroy belief in the Bible. They decided that they would disprove the Resurrection the cardinal doctrine of the Church, they would find evidence that it didn't happen.

The Resurrection of Jesus Christ was supposed to have happened in Jerusalem. Wallace was appointed to go there and search for the evidence that would disprove the Scriptural account.

Before the year was up he found, that rather than disprove the event, all the evidence indicated that the Resurrection had really happened, the Biblical record was found to be true.

Considering the evidence that he had compiled which proved the Biblical account, to be true, Wallace believed, and received Jesus Christ as his Savior. Later he wrote a book that was made into a movie. Many of the readers remember the book that was made into a movie. Its name, "Ben Hur."

Clarkston School district issues layoff notices

BY DON SCHELSKE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

They hope to call them back, but Clarkston school officials last week issued layoff notices to 10 teachers, effective at the end of this school year.

Linda Nester, executive director for personnel and auxiliary services, proposed the layoffs at the Monday, April 14 school board meeting, explaining that union contracts require a 60-day notification period.

The layoffs include three full-time and one half-time elementary teachers, two middle school language arts teachers, one middle school teacher each in math, science and social studies and one high school math teacher.

The move was part of a previously approved plan to trim the school district budget.

The board-approved personnel report also included four teachers whose retirement or resignation will be effective at the end of the school year.

"We had originally hoped to avoid any layoffs," said Superintendent Al Roberts. "We made a determination that's in the best interests of the school district."

Some pink slips could be rescinded if other teachers announce resignation or retirement before the end of the school year, and a successful renewal of the "non-homestead" property tax could also save jobs, Roberts said.

Among items on the June 9 ballot is a proposal to restore the full 18 mills on property which is not a primary residence and agricultural property which does not meet the "homestead" exemption.

In addition to providing more revenue for the school budget, state regulations require the "non-homestead" millage to guarantee a school district's full per-pupil "foundation" grant from the state treasury.

Seriously, where are the raisins?

Thinking out loud:

• If you have seen me around town then you must realize I am not the healthiest of individuals. My average day of consumption is Fruit Loops for breakfast, a deli sandwich for lunch and then an obscenely insensible dinner.

Although I work out about four times a week, I am not adverse to the occasional beer or the frequent hamburger. So that leaves me forever overweight and on the brink of full-fledged obesity.

However rock bottom came last Wednesday when I attempted to purchase a healthy snack. Before the Red Wings game I decided, instead of eating unhealthy, I would run up to Kroger and purchase some raisins.

Acting like your typical confused man, I had no idea where raisins would be in a grocery store. In fact, I believe this was the first time I had actually purchased raisins.

Approximately 15 minutes later, and after trips to the baking, snacks and canned fruit aisles, among other parts of the store, I found my snack. Yes, snuggled between the produce and meat section are some shelves dedicated to health foods. Funny, I would have been able to find potato chips, beer or frozen French fries with absolutely no problem.

Why didn't I ask an employee where the raisins were located? Because I am a guy, eventually I will figure it out. I mean, the Wings did not start until 10:30 p.m.

• I am happy to report that before the Red Wings began their series against the Anaheim Mighty Ducks I confidently predicted a sweep. It is funny though, I can't seem to remember who I said would win the series.

• I am officially done talking about the weather. So if you want to discuss the ever changing weather then you are going to have to sell it somewhere else, sister. After the ice storm, followed by great warm weather, followed again by a cold spell, I am going to throw in the towel.

It seems whenever there is a nice day people talk about it like we found a cure for cancer, while when we get bad weather they make a generic crack about Michigan weather and then laugh as if they are a giant Fun Fruit tree.

So I am now drawing the line and from now on will just deal with the weather instead of talking about it. Of course I will still pay attention to what the forecast says. I mean, who can cut Chuck Gaidica out of their life cold turkey? I am human, you know.

• For me the best part of being in a relationship is spill over fries. Sure some people enjoy the connection between two people, but for me the highlight is the few extra French fries from my fast food restaurant of choice.

Turk family admires wife and mother

When you marry someone you want to spend the rest of your life with, you begin that process of not knowing fully what to expect in the future to an extent.

I have come to know a special person in my life who I admire more than anyone. Her name is Shiela Turk. This lady has raised our children, maintained a household, paid the bills and put herself through college at age 42.

When you admire someone, you look at the overall character of a person and their beliefs. I have come to recognize she is the type of person who someday with the help of God I can become. She has maintained almost a 4.0 in her classes and has just finished her degree in Education. I can't fathom what dedication this takes a person with all the added responsibilities she has. She is my rock, my soulmate and my mentor.

We have three wonderful kids, due in large part to her motherly skills, who will become productive, honest and sincere citizens. They are a big part of our lives, and because she has been so dedicated at proving to herself that dreams do come true, they actually happen through hard work. Although she wanted to prove something, she already has to her family.

She will make a great teacher because she has all the ingredients. The main reason she will be successful is, she cares. That's the core of her character.

She will someday realize that success isn't in a degree; it's in the person who uses that degree for the good of mankind. We are so proud of you and what you stand for.

Visit Humane Society for pet adoption

Last week I took Buck, my family's 11-year-old golden retriever, to the Michigan Humane Society for his yearly checkup.

My mother nominated me for the job as payback because as a child the Humane Society was one of my favorite places to visit. The trips never ended well. Although I would promise not to, it was always me kicking and screaming to take one of the animals home and being very sad when I couldn't.

As an adult, I figured I could finally enter the Humane Society without throwing a fit. I was wrong. While I wasn't having a temper tantrum, I did feel just as helpless as the little girl whose mother wouldn't let her take home a puppy. The mass amounts of animals to pet and play with no longer attracted me to the Humane Society; it saddened me to no end. These poor animals all need homes so bad.

I sat in the waiting room petting Buck, his huge brown eyes looking up at me, and it nearly brought me to tears. We rescued Buck from a farm as an overweight, flea-infested adolescent, eight years ago. He wasn't much to look at then, but now he is a beautiful, active, healthy dog that eats up all the attention he can get. We could have bought the exact same kind of dog from a breeder for a couple hundred dollars, but then what would have happened to Buck?

My friend and I had this argument recently. She just spent $200 on a pure bred Blue Point Siamese cat. While the thing is beautiful, think what that $200 dollars could have done for a cat, which if not adopted, is destined to spend the remainder of its short life locked in a cage. She argued that she wanted a specific kind of cat and that she would never find one of that kind to rescue. This is incorrect. I asked a volunteer at the Humane Society if they have ever had Blue Point Siamese cats up for adoption. They have.

I can't really throw stones however, because my animal adoption only theory did not evolve until a

An American abroad returns with news

Last week I ran an editorial written by a Romanian about Americans. If you are one (American) it was positive. This week, Oxford entrepreneur Henry Gleisner (German born) reports. Methinks you'll find this interesting.

I returned last week from a month's trip to Europe. Starting in Germany, I found the anti-American propaganda overwhelming. The pacifists (now pro-fascist) in combination with the Socialist/Communist parties have been whipping up hatred against the U.S., and in particular against President Bush.

Twenty-four hours a day the German government subsidized TV networks show the "Information Minister of Iraq" making pronouncements -- mostly lies. Next they showed injured Iraqi civilians, injured babies and children and bombed hospitals. There is not one word about Saddam Hussein and his criminal record.

Even after our troops captured Baghdad, the American military is uniformly described as "The Invaders." German Chancellor Schroeder, instead of saying, "I am sorry. I was wrong," (no German EVER does this) pronounced, "We have said before and we are still maintaining there would have been a better way than making war. We hope the Americans will win quickly to avoid further civilian deaths." Of course, he has not informed anyone what his "better way" over the last twelve years was.

It is also interesting to observe the very popular, but to my observation, very clownish, Foreign Minister Joschka Fischer. This is the man who stood on the barricades during the student riots in the 1970s and supported the activities of the terrorist RAF (Red Army Faction). Ulrike Meinike, one of their leaders, said the murder of the Israeli athletes during the 1972 Olympics was "just and beneficial."

At that time the German government and public were not quite as liberal as now. It is important to see anti-war demonstrations turned quickly to anti-Israeli, anti-Zionist, and anti-Semitic...

Of course, the Socialist Schroeder government has ruined not only the German international diplomatic position, but also the economy of the Federal Republic.

Don't Rush Me

Don Rush

The public has been brainwashed in favor of "Peace," not realizing this attitude favors an appalling fascist dictatorship; but they do recognize the terrible mismanagement of the economy. This is so typical of socialist governments. Since, Mr. Schroeder has lost the bi-elections in Germany, his days as Chancellor are numbered. He will not serve out his term. The Bush administration will do well to ignore this government until a change takes place.

About 100 miles south, I found myself in Austria. Although a member of the European Union, this tiny country wants to preserve the myth of its neutrality. This, in effect, makes the media wiggle back and forth and still misinform the public.

To my great exasperation a high government official made the ridiculous statement in the press that if an American military aircraft should violate the neutral airspace of Austria, they would scramble their pursuit jets to bring it down.

Continuing another 100 miles south, I was in Italy. Here, opinions were divided. A large portion is staunchly pro-American, but again, the intellectual left (university professors of all stripes, various self-appointed Gurus in TV and in the press, and above all a large number of communists and trade unions) are fervently in favor of peace. Disgustingly, they are politicizing the children, ages 12 - 18, and encouraging them to skip school to go into the streets, boulevards and city squares to protest the American war in favor of "Peace." The children, of course, have no idea about the background of current events, but are very happy to skip classes.

Now that the much-maligned Defense Secretary Rumsfeld and the military adhered to battle plans and we have almost concluded the first phase of the Iraq war, there should be a lot of egg on a lot of faces.

I deplore disinformation and malicious propaganda of France, Belgium, Germany and others. The United Nations has proved itself to be an ineffectual debating society adversely influenced by anti-American nations, (Libya heads the Human Rights Commission and Saddam's Iraq controls the Disarmament Commission!) Under no circumstances should we permit those nations or the U. N. to partake in or direct the governing reconstruction of Iraq. The U.S.A. has embarked on a history changing transformation of the atrocious politics of the Middle East. May we be successful!

So, what do you really think, Henry?

Just jotting

Many times I've told our son Jim to not spend a lot of money on my funeral. Keep it short and simple, I say. There won't be many people there and don't bore them. Don't spend a lot of money to put me away.

Well, I think Jim got a little tired hearing it. Recently he responded, "Okay, Dad, if it works out right, and you're available on a Thursday, we'll just set you out by the curb!"

* * *

More questions that bother me:

Why do I continue to take scrambled eggs at a buffet? No matter how good they look they are never cooked in butter, properly seasoned or soft enough.

Why do ducks walk to my bird feeder, but fly away? The action they have while walking can't be comfortable, and flying is faster and safer.

What's with all this campus rioting? Maybe it's understandable in Minnesota, like when they won the Hockey title, 'cause except for the ice fishing and ice carving competitions there ain't a whole lot to get excited about up there.

Had to go to Crittenton Hospital in Rochester for some nerve tests recently. While there I picked up their in-house magazine, Wellness.

Crittenton is undergoing major expansions, front and back. $86 million worth. They started it all last year and will complete it next year.

What caught my interest was that in the many, many thousand square foot additions there are no new beds. They had 290 licensed beds before the addition and none will be added.

I asked my doctor, Edward Tashjian about it. He said, "That's the way it is today. Fewer and fewer overnight stays and more and more outpatient treating."

I remember that our Governor Jennifer said recently one of her priorities (Ms. Granholm has an extraordinary number of priorities) is to reduce overnight hospital stays.

We've all seen the huge increase in the number of medical clinics in our communities. And, we've all read about the many new diagnostics machines, many portable. And, we've become accustomed to having specialists schedule patients in numerous locations.

Dr. Tashjian is only available at Crittenton part of Wednesdays. Otherwise, he's at other hospitals, clinics and offices. Kinda stretches doctor/patient relationships.

I have a dollar bill with the following writing: "If you want to buy a 1986 Mojave for $1,500 e-mail me at..." No I'm not giving you his address. For a little bit more he could probably have gotten better results from a classified ad in this newspaper.

Caught part of comedian Adele Givens' act on the Comedy Channel recently. She asked her audience, "Where was the emergency broadcast on 9/11? Must be it doesn't work, because 9/11 was certainly the time to use the test."

She was referring, of course, to all the radio interruptions that begin with a horn or whistle, followed by an announcer saying, "This is only a test. If there was a real emergency you would be notified."

I'm a major radio listener, and I, like Adele, didn't hear the emergency broadcast system break in to my program on 9/11.

The Clarkston News

15 YEARS AGO (1988)

- A somber board of education voted to lay off 38 teaching staff members, cut two administrative positions and reassigned two others in the Clarkston School District Monday night. The votes were unanimous, with little discussion except that of board member Carolyn Place, who spoke on behalf of the entire board. The teaching staff reductions include 15 positions at the elementary level, 18 at the secondary level, two in special education and three at the vocational school.

- A new sprinkler system saved a building from total destruction during a fire April 23 at Clawson Tank on White Lake Road in Independence Township. The sprinklers prevented the flames from causing too much structural damage and the firefighters extinguished the blaze in about 20 minutes. The sprinkler system had been installed about one month prior.

- The contract for Clarkston school district's new superintendent was approved at a special board of education meeting April 25. Gary Haner, who will take over the job on July 1, was in the audience when the approval came. Haner's three-year contract includes a $74,000 salary the first year. After that, he will be accorded the same percentage of increase as other administrators in the district.

25 YEARS AGO (1978)

- Clarkston school bus drivers walked out on strike last Monday when two of their drivers were suspended for refusing to cross picket lines in Pontiac. Lucille McDonald and Elva Birchette, who drive special education children to some Pontiac schools, resisted an order to drive past striking Pontiac school employees. After a temporary dismissal of two drivers by Superintendent Milford Mason, all 36 members of the Clarkston School District Bus Drivers' Association stopped work in sympathy.

- Complaints about dumping of construction waste south of the village park were aired at Tuesday night's Clarkston Village Council meeting. During the standing-room-only session, Sue Basinger said there have been deposits of concrete blocks, steel, boards and other large construction waste materials dumped south of Depot and White Lake Road.

- A recent report by the Citizen's Advisory Committee indicates Clarkston School District's classrooms are shrinking due to extra space needed for special education programs. "The Michigan Legislature mandates federal programs without giving us the money to pay for extra classrooms," chairman of the 30-member committee Robert Vandermark said.

50 YEARS AGO (1953)

- The juniors of the Clarkston High School provided two evenings of good entertainment when they presented "Love is too much trouble" last Thursday and Friday nights. There was a fine crowd at both performances and the class was pleased with the results. Miss Patricia Stites, director of the play, is to be congratulated on the success of the presentation.

- The Joseph C. Bird Chapter, O.E.S., held Friendship Night on Monday at the high school. There were about 225 present with representatives from 21 county chapters.

- Young people of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church will take their place Sunday morning, April 26, in observing the nationwide Annual Youth Sunday and Youth Project - this year to help build a Boys' Dormitory at Alejandra, Mexico, according to announcement by Rev. W.R. Hunt, Vicar of St. Andrews.

Police to use Waterford Hills for driver training

BY DON SCHELSKE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Proponents say it will likely save lives. Opponents are concerned about residents having to tolerate more noise.

By a 5-2 vote last week, the Independence Township Board approved a variance to allow the Waterford Hills Raceway to host special police driving training.

The proposal, made by field training officers from the West Bloomfield Police Department, first asked for permission to use the race track for 25 days a year, but was trimmed to 12 out of consideration for local residents, according to Officer Art Smith.

The training sessions will not be based on "high speed pursuit" scenarios, Smith said, and speed may reach up to 70 miles per hour only on one stretch of the course. Training will take place only during day-time hours, and the noise level will not exceed the township's maximum allowed decibel level, he said.

The goal, Smith said, is to teach police officers the limitations of both driver and vehicle, use of proper braking techniques, recognition of common types of curves, proper steering techniques and effects of forward inertia and centrifugal force.

"There's an importance behind this issue that can't be expressed in a proposal on paper," Smith told the board. "Every year, on average, 40 percent of all police officer on-duty deaths are related to traffic or driving problems.

"Simply by entering my patrol car on any given day, I've increased my risk of injury on duty by 400 percent. That's just for showing up for work."

While sympathetic to the goals of the project, some said the history of the relation between the race track and neighbors called for extra consideration. Supervisor Dale Stuart and Treasurer James Wenger voted against the proposal.

"This is one of the areas where we've had constant complaints from the neighborhood," Stuart said. "These uses they're asking for would be in addition to what we're already allowing. You have to remember where this is located. It's located around a residential area. Any use of that racetrack has some effect on the residents who live around there. I cannot recommend to the board that we allow that to happen."

Stuart said concerts at the DTE Energy Music Theater do not exceed the decibel limit, yet neighboring residents still complain of excessive noise.

Wenger also cited the music theater in his opposition to the race track proposal.

"I can imagine what we would do if they came and said we wanted to extend the season with more concerts," he said.

Township attorney Steve Joppich, who helped negotiate the reduction to 12 days, said the "backdrop" of the noise issue was significant, and he cited ongoing work with track officials to deal with the noise issue.

"We've been in discussions with the track representatives for quite awhile now discussing ways to address the noise issue and ways to address the amount of track usage in connection with comments we're receiving from the abutting neighbors," Joppich said. "A lot of progress has been made over the last year. The track has been very cooperative in working with us."

Track officials, however, are in support of the police training project, and said they are progressing in construction of a wall to help mitigate noise.

"The wall, in some form or another, is definitely going to happen," said Anne Roeskke, Waterford Hills facilities coordinator.

Joppich said plans are for the wall to be built along the straightaway the first year, with an extension along Pelton Road the following year, assuming that the township grants a setback variance.

"I think this is something that's really for the public good," Clerk Joan McCrary said. "I'm also pleased the noise is below what the ordinance [allows]. It's not going to bother the neighbors because it's below the decibel level. I don't see where the 12 days a year would make that much difference compared with the [race] events."

"I understand the sensitivity of the neighbors, but this is really for the public good," said Trustee Daniel Travis, a lifetime member of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club. "Those neighbors have to understand that the police departments, well trained, can really benefit them enormously."

Trustee Daniel Kelly noted that the variance was granted only for one year. "I think it does benefit law enforcement, and it seems intrusion into the local neighborhood is limited.

We'll see how it goes. I think it's worth the risk."

Trustee Larry Rosso said people are concerned about the dangers of crashes involving public safety vehicles.

"The liability issue that [Smith] raised is the thing that scares me the most as a citizen," Rosso said. "I think that overweighs every other consideration."

Smith, who with two fellow West Bloomfield officers are certified by the Michigan State Police Precision Driving Instructor Program, said there are no suitable facilities outside the MSP Lansing headquarters, and the state program is cost-prohibitive for small departments.

Authors meet students at Clarkston schools

BY
JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News
Staff Writer

Reading Month is finished but the related activities just keep on coming.

Last week two famed children's authors, Johnathan Rand and Shirley Neitzel, made their way through each elementary school in Clarkston.

Both authors are from Michigan.

Neitzel grew up in the upper peninsula and is a former teacher with 12 titles in print such as "The Dress I'll Wear to the Party," "Our Class Took a Trip to the Zoo," and "The Bag I'm Taking to Grandma's." In addition, she has been published in various children's magazines including "Ladybug," "Humpty Dumpty," "Spider," "Child Life" and "Guide."

Rand is a former Michigan radio and television personality and motivational speaker in the broadcast industry. He is the writer and producer of thousands of radio and television commercials which air across the U.S. and Canada. He is the author of the "Michigan Chillers" series for children seven to 14. Each mystery takes place in a particular Michigan city such as "Mayhem on Mackinac Island," "Terror Stalks Traverse City," and "Kreepy Klowns of Kalamazoo." Rand has started a new series of books called "American Chillers," such as "Michigan Mega Monsters," "Florida Fog Phantoms" and "Wisconsin Werewolf," his latest book.

Jake Sims, a fourth grader at Bailey Lake Elementary said he learned a lot from the authors' visits. "I learned to not read just to read, but to be in the story."

Larry Malace, a fellow fourth grader, was excited to see Rand. "I never knew he was in the radio business or on commercials. That's cool. I've read all his books and have all his books (19). I've seen him three times: here, at a world premiere of one of his books and at Borders." Malace had Rand sign a picture that had been taken of he and Rand at a signing at Borders Bookstore.

Local expo set for May

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

It's going to be a fun-filled May 3 in Davisburg. The Holly Area Chamber of Commerce is holding their 2nd Annual Business Expo, and it is expected to be bigger and better than the inaugural event.

The event was originally planned for April 5, but bad weather canceled the expo.

Last year's expo was the first the chamber had held in a very long time, Diane Wozniak, chamber member and owner of Fountain Salon in Davisburg, said. Nearly 100 people attended the two-hour affair last June at the Davisburg Medical Center, which had been donated for the chamber's use.

This year about 500 people are expected to visit the expo that has moved to the Springfield Oaks Activities Center on the 4-H fairgrounds at 12451 Andersonville Rd. in Davisburg. The expo will run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and is free to the public.

Approximately 50 exhibitors will be on hand, including Georgia Carpet, Saturn North, the Springfield Township Historical Society, Floral Images, Home Interiors, Discovery Business Systems, Sun Structures and many more. And it isn't too late for businesses to sign up to exhibit their services.

Throughout the day, there will be entertainment such as a DJ and performances from Holly High School students; pony rides, games, raffles and door prizes; and the Fair Board Cafe will be open for refreshments.

Wozniak said the expo will have an exciting look as well, designed by Skyline Design, a premier expo design company.

Kim Scherman, executive secretary for the chamber, said, "This is a wonderful opportunity to let people know what businesses are in the area and to help get people into these businesses. It's also a fundraiser for the chamber."

The chamber serves the townships of Springfield, Rose, Groveland and Holly as well as the village of Holly. Call (248) 634-1900 for more information.

Golf outing set

The 12th Annual Kaleidoscope Foundation Benefit Golf Scramble is set for Saturday, May 10 at Heather Highlands Golf Club.

This was formerly known as Northwest Oakland Community Services but the organizations merged in 2002.

The shotgun start for the four person team scrambles begins at 8 a.m. There will be 18 holes of golf, a luncheon along with contests and door prizes.

For more information call Dennis Strelchuk at (248) 625-1570 or Dee Dershem at (248) 634-8599.

Habitat meeting set

Habitat for Humanity-Oakland County will hold a meeting for group representatives of the Clarkston Coalition on April 28.

The event will be at 7 p.m. at the St. Daniel's Cushing Center.

few years ago. Buck is not the only dog in my family, there is also Frasier. After high school graduation, I spent a ridiculous amount of money on a fawn Boxer puppy. I love him dearly, but in all honesty he is one of the dumbest animals I have ever met. He is from a breeder, but he is too tall, too fat, and his tail is too long to ever be any kind of show dog. So to add insult to injury, while visiting the Humane Society last week, there was a brindle Boxer, much better looking than mine, that needed a home.

After that experience, I know I will never purchase another animal, and I will continue picking fights with my friends if they try to do differently. All animals need love and affection, and the ones that know they are lucky to get it make the best pets.

Man guilty in Valentine's Day shooting

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

After shooting a gun during a domestic dispute on Valentine's Day in which the bullet blasted through a neighbor's home, Antonio Joseph Lucio has pled guilty to the discharge of a firearm in a building and firearm use in the commission of a felony.

The 28-year-old Independence Township man was sentenced Wednesday, April 16 at the Oakland County Circuit Court. Two other charges — felony possession of a firearm and a second charge of firearm use in the commission of a felony — were dropped from the final sentencing.

Lucio, a resident of a mobile home park on Clintonville Road, was engaged in a fight with his 25-year-old girlfriend on Feb. 14, when he fired his gun that shot multiple holes through the exterior wall and kitchen window of the neighboring home on Joy Street. The couple's two-year-old daughter lay asleep on the living room couch during the incident.

No one was injured, though a 35-year-old woman, her 15-year-old daughter and her daughter's 18-year-old boyfriend were home next door at the time.

When deputies arrived at the scene, they reported Lucio did not comply and ran and hid behind the bedroom door. When they ordered him to the ground, he did not and hurriedly chewed a handful of pills. Deputies were forced to take Lucio to the ground where they placed him in handcuffs. He was then transported for medical attention due to the pills swallowed, before being transferred to Oakland County Jail.

Booster group plans bond info meeting

BY DON SCHELSKE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Betty Reilly believes in a simple philosophy.

"The more information you have, the better decision you can make."

That's the goal of a parent information meeting scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 29 in the Clarkston Middle School Media Center concerning June 9 school ballot proposals and state and federal education requirements.

Reilly is treasurer of the Academic Boosters of Clarkston, sponsor of the meeting. ABC is described as a parent advocate group that supports challenging education for all students. The group is an official affiliate of Clarkston Community Schools, and it will be the school administrators who will present most of the information at the information meeting.

"[The affiliate status] puts us in the position where we can work hand in hand with the school district," Reilly said.

The agenda of the meeting will include:

- The federal "No Child Left Behind" program, which deals with school district accountability for student performance.

- The state "Education YES" program, which is tracking "Adequate Yearly Progress" on the Michigan Educational Assessment Program tests.

Both of the above have set a deadline of the 2013-2014 school year for all students to be successful on MEAP tests.

- The June 9 proposal to restore the full 18-mill "non-homestead" property tax for school operations.

- The June 9 proposal for a $83.7 million bond issue, to be used for building additions and renovations for the purpose of reconfiguration of grades and other moves to ease overcrowding and enhance education.

Reilly is concerned that many may not fully understand the impact of state and federal programs on local education, especially since the mandates are based on individual state standards.

"Our state has much more challenging guidelines than most of the other states," she said.

Even though the "non-homestead" tax will not affect primary residences, Reilly believes it is an ~~issue for every~~ issue for every ~~community~~ community.

"It affects all people in the Clarkston school district," she said. "If we get downgraded or something, it affects our property values."

For more information on the April 29 meeting, call Reilly at (248) 922-9134.

Grass fire

A 31-year-old woman on Mohawk in Independence Township was in her home when she noticed outside a window, grass and leaves burning in the yard. According to a police report, the fire started when the wind blew hot coals from a fire pit on to the grass causing it to burn and spread towards the home. The fire melted some vinyl siding on the east side of the home, causing minor damage. No one was injured.

Depot Road construction underway, complete by end of week

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Tried driving down Depot Road, but couldn't get far? The construction, which has the road closed to through traffic, should be completed by the end of the week, says Art Pappas, city manager.

It began last Wednesday, April 16, as part of Phase II of the City of the Village of Clarkston's water project. The road is currently ripped up from the parking lot exit on the south side of the road, west to Holcomb, in order to lay a water line there.

In conjunction, the city is making some minor changes to Depot Park. The Clarkston City Council approved at their April 14 meeting, to remove and reposition several flower boxes at the north end of the park (on the gazebo side).

The Clarkston DPW will transplant bushes, from within the flower boxes, to the berm between the Clarkston Conservatory and the parking lot. When returned to the park, the bushes will be placed in new masonry boxes. The project will cost the city $12,000 more than what was budgeted in their contract. The total cost is $89,407. The DPW is also exploring the cost of relocating seven trees.

Pappas says the work should be completed before May 4, the date of the SCAMP Walk & Roll, which starts a jam-packed summer of activities in the park including weddings, prom pictures, Concerts in the Park and much more.

However, beginning May 12, the Depot Road parking lot on the south side of the road will be repaved due to imperfections. The city is paying $13,000 for an extra inch of asphalt on top of the contractor's two inches for more stability and longevity. The resolution was also adopted at the April 14 meeting. Once begun, the work should be completed within a week, Pappas said.

Other action at the April 14 City Council meeting included:

- Gary Tressel of Hubbell, Roth and Clark, Inc. (HRC) told council members he believed the city overpaid the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) during Phase I of the water project. The council authorized an HRC representative to audit MDOT records in Lansing at an estimated cost of $2,500.

- The council approved a proposal by the Road Commission of Oakland County to retime various traffic signals in the city.

- Tressel informed council members of a recent meeting he had with Finkbeiner, Pettis and Strout Inc. regarding installation of new traffic signals at Main Street and Washington as well as Main Street and Waldon. Project proposals will be presented to the council by the above firm at a later date.

The next Clarkston City Council meeting will be Monday, April 28 at 7 p.m. at the city offices at 375 Depot Road.

Violence

ship man, and said ex-friend of Bonot, at an open gym night at Sashabaw Middle School. The alleged victim was there playing a basketball game, after which Bonot approached him stating he owed money. When the man denied this, Bonot punched him in the face breaking his nose and causing a cut above his right eyebrow that required stitches. Witnesses told deputies Bonot was wearing brass knuckles, which were hiding under a bandana he had wrapped around his hand. Detective Jerry DeRosia of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department in Independence Township said the brass knuckles have never been found.

On April 7, Bonot allegedly pulled a butterfly knife and threatened to "cut up" a 15-year-old man, also an ex-friend of Bonot's, police reports said. Bonot approached the 15-year-old, his 20-year-old brother and a 16-year-old man, while they stood in a driveway in the Independence Woods Mobile Home Park on Mann, demanding they give him money and marijuana. Reports stated, Bonot also threatened the boys with a drive-by shooting.

On April 13, while on patrol, a deputy spotted Bonot walking along Mann. He was arrested, and found to be carrying a four-inch butterfly knife, the same as described in the April 7 assault, in his boot.

While in custody, he denied both assaults, saying the April 7 incident was fabricated, and the Feb. 25 incident was the opposite of what was reported — he was the one approached for owed cash and injured in an attack.

DeRosia said the alleged victims, whose names cannot be released because of their juvenile status, are very scared of Bonot.

"He's on a downward spiral," he said.

Pine Knob Wine Shoppe, not your ordinary convenience store

Stopping into Pine Knob Wine Shoppe is not like stopping into your average, run-of-the-mill convenience store. "We're different," owner Ann said. Among the many reasons, she noted, "We give special attention to each customer."

If a customer requests an item not in the store, Ann will special order it. In their extensive collection of liquor and imported wines, particular flavors, like Cristal Champagne, valued at $269 a bottle, or Vidal Ice Wine at $34 a bottle, are purchased by only one frequenter each. Nonetheless, they are on Ann's shelves.

"That's what I mean by special attention." Located on Maybee, near the corner of Sashabaw, Pine Knob Wine Shoppe has served Clarkston for more than 25 years. In that time, the store has become a staple in the community growing a loyal customer-base of longtime residents.

With a desire to serve her community well, Ann has "special touches" to her store.

Every holiday, she has decorated Pine Knob Wine Shoppe in appropriate decor. And being so close to DTE Energy Music Theatre, Ann has a celebrity theme with a variety of related memorabilia on her walls.

"We're not like other stores you see. There's so much excitement in here."

Of course, and most importantly, that excitement spreads to the food Ann offers.

Everything is made fresh daily and Pine Knob Wine Shoppe owner Ann, with staff member Barb pictured at right, offers quality, homemade food and friendly service. And invites you to stop by today. Below, Pine Knob Wine Shoppe is located at 5726 Maybee Rd., near the corner of Sashabaw.

homemade. "That's what makes us special."

From their "famous" chili -- spicy and loaded with chunky, quality ingredients -- to goulash -- thick, creamy and delicious -- to soups, gourmet potato wedges, stromboli, calzones, and more. All are hot and ready-to-go and reasonably priced.

But that's not even the tip of the iceberg. There's still a variety of sandwiches including ready-to-go, subs, croissant and bagel; salads, anything from Greek to antipasto to garden to caesar to chicken caesar; and still more.

The selection is so broad, and ever-changing, Ann said, "People will never be bored here."

Don't worry about getting held up when you're in a rush, either. "People come in here for lunch and there out in a minute. There's no wait." The friendly and warm staff will treat you right.

Pine Knob Wine Shoppe is also noted for their delicious pizzas. Find two-for-one specials as well as single pizzas, individual, specialty, and slices. And don't forget about the bread sticks. That's right, they've got those too, including regular, pepperoni, cheese and cinnamon.

To quench that thirst, there are fountain pop, coffee, cappuccino, and slush machines.

Given away by its name, Pine Knob Wine Shoppe has an expansive selection of imported wines as well as liquor, beer and keg beer.

Several special services are offered such as catering for any party occasion, check cashing, money grams, money orders, ATM, postage stamps, copies, fresh flowers, and Lotto. All major credit cards are accepted as well.

If you haven't already been tuned into the uniqueness of Pine Knob Wine Shoppe, now's the time. And when you stop by, don't forget to check the daily specials posted outside the front door. Or look for pizza coupons weekly in The Clarkston News.

Pine Knob Wine Shoppe is located at 5726 Maybee Rd. in Clarkston. Hours are Monday through Thursday 8 a.m. to midnight; Friday 8 a.m. to 1 a.m.; Saturday 9 a.m. to 1 a.m.; and Sunday 10 a.m. to midnight. Call (248) 625-2070.

New restaurant offers flavor of the Old West

BY JILLIAN QUINLAN
Clarkston News Intern

The Chuckwagon Gourmet, located in the Tierra Emporium, is bringing a little Western flavor to the city of Clarkston.

The store, which is owned by Brad and Eva Kemmer, features fresh breads, candy and cookies. They also sell a variety of Amish products, as well as country crafts.

The store opened in December and is the couple's first restaurant venture.

"We've wanted to do something in the restaurant business for years. Things just never came to pass until the last couple of months. It all happened quickly, but we felt Clarkston would be open to the specialty items we have to offer," Eva Kemmer said.

The theme for the restaurant was easy since the couple, who has family in Arizona, has always been fascinated with the West. They sell fresh baked Cowboy cookies, Cowboy Crunch peanut brittle and sweet jalapenos. There are plans to feature a Cowboy of the Month to add a little history as well as fun.

Many of the country crafts for sale are handmade by Brad's father.

"It is nice that our family accents the flavor and feeling of what we are trying to bring across," Kemmer said.

The couple began working with an Amish canning company and decided to incorporate that into their theme as well. They carry Amish cheeses, beef jerky, breads and jams.

"A lot of people appreciate Amish flavors. They are natural, real hearty. We thought it would create a well-rounded product line," Kemmer said.

One of the store's many specialty items is homemade Chicken and Noodles. They are also starting to make something new, chocolate-covered licorice.

"We are looking to see what the community is interested in as far as specialties. We are open to what the community is looking for so we can provide them with things they could use," Kemmer said.

The Kemmers want to do more than just own a store in Clarkston. They hope to be very active in community events.

"We are not just here to see what the community will do for us. We want to provide for the community, try to give back as much as we can," Kemmer said.

The store plans to open a kitchen and will carry gourmet sandwiches, doughnuts, bagels and coffee. Although the deli will be primarily carryout, there will be limited seating inside. The hours will be 7:00 am-6:00 pm Monday through Saturday.

"We are taking dreams we've had on the back shelf and trying to put them into reality. We realize the economy has been down because of the war. We have faith in God who rules everything and we feel very strongly Clarkston will be interested in our specialty shop," Kemmer said.

The restaurant features a Recipe of the Month club. Customers can submit their favorite recipes that feature a Chuckwagon Gourmet product.

This month's recipe is the Chuckwagon Festive Spaghetti Bake.

1 cup Pastor Billy's Texas Chili Sauce

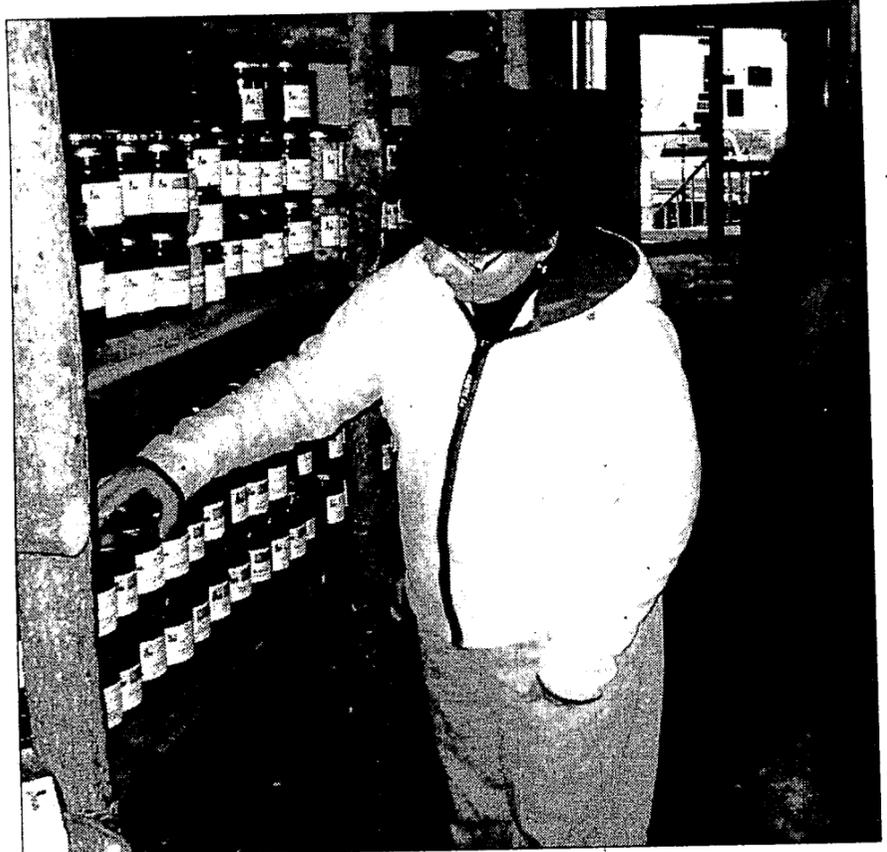

1 cup Mexican stewed tomatoes
2/3 cup tomato paste

1 Tsp. minced garlic or 2 cloves diced real fine

1 lb. Hamburger
1/2 lb. Spaghetti noodles

6 oz. Swiss cheese grated
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Then add garlic to hamburger and brown. Cook the noodles as directed on the package. In a large bowl mix chili sauce, stewed tomatoes and tomato paste. Add the hamburger and noodles and mix well to coat. Add to a 2-quart casserole dish and bake at 375 for 40 minutes. Cover and top with Swiss and Parmesan cheese. Then bake for another 5 to 10 minutes.

Eva Kemmer selects some of the specialty items at the Chuckwagon Gourmet (above), then sets out to create a gift basket with some of the fine offerings available at the new Clarkston business. Photos by Jillian Quinlan

Clarkston student joins national hockey team

BY KYLE GARGARO

Clarkston News Editor

Sixteen-year-old Brandon Gentile is already thinking about a career in professional hockey.

The Clarkston High School sophomore is well on his way after recently being named to the USA Hockey National Team Development Program.

Gentile is one of 22 kids from around the country who will be participating in the under-17 team which is based in Ann Arbor.

"I am really excited about this. It is the biggest honor you can have to represent your country. It is a real big deal," Gentile said.

The NTDP's goal is to prepare student-athletes under the age of 18 for participation on U.S. National Teams and in future hockey careers. Its efforts focus on high caliber participation on the ice and creating a well-rounded individual off the ice, according to a release from the NTDP.

The team will be going against some top-notch competition. They will compete against 18-21-year-olds in the North American Hockey League. They also will get the opportunity to compete against 20 of the nation's top college teams in premier facilities around the nation. This is combined with one of the toughest international schedules against the top players in the world.

Gentile will live with a family in Ann Arbor and go to school at Ann Arbor Huron High School.

"I am looking forward to playing against the top competition. We will be playing all over the United States against some great players," Gentile said. "I first started to realize this was something I wanted to do a couple of years ago."

The defenseman has played hockey for the Little Caesar's team for the last six years.

"That team is really competitive so I think that prepared me well," Gentile said. "This team will really gear us to competing internationally. It will help us a lot."

Gentile is looking to the NTDP to be a springboard for his hockey career. Approximately 95 percent of individuals who participate on the team earn hockey scholarships to Division I schools.

"That is probably what I will do too. My long term goals are to play minor league hockey and then eventually earn a spot in the National Hockey League," Gentile said.

Brandon Gentile is set to participate in the USA Hockey's National Team Development Program. Photo provided.

Now in its sixth season, USA Hockey's National Team Development Program is beginning to have an impact on the NHL. Four NTDP alumni are now on NHL rosters, while numerous other former players are among the top ranks of the American Hockey League. Because the program's oldest alumni are just 22-years-old, the true impact of its efforts in player development is just coming to fruition.

Good deeds taught young

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

She's been dubbed a "good little samaritan."
Three-year-old Andrea Joyce was riding her bike with seven-year-old sister, Tara, inside the tennis courts at Clarkston High School Monday, April 14, when she found a wallet with more than $50 inside.

"It's a safe place for them to ride their bikes," dad Sean said, who was looking on as the girls rode their bikes that evening.

Andrea, being the curious one she is, took a break from the riding to explore the courts. That meant peeking into the holes that hold the poles from the tennis nets. Inside one of them, she found the wallet.

"She's always looking in holes," Tara said. "She looks for pennies."

Andrea, who's a Funshine preschooler, picked up the wallet and went running to dad, "I found a real wallet!"

"I said, 'no you didn't.'" Tara, an Independence Elementary student, recalled. "She said, 'yes, I did!'"

Inside was $54, which belonged to Sohail Balasubramanian, an 18-year-old boy and senior at Farmington High School.

Since Andrea found the wallet, it was her responsibility to return it. Sean called Sohail right away to arrange a time to return the wallet.

Sohail had just returned home after his varsity tennis match against Clarkston, when he got the call from Sean.

"I didn't know I lost my wallet. I had just got back from my tennis game. I was surprised when her father said he wanted to make sure I got my wallet back."

On Wednesday, April 16 Andrea, Tara and mom Kathy drove out to Lake Orion High School, where Sohail's school was having a tennis match, to give him back his wallet.

"It was very nice of them to drive all the way out to my match in Lake Orion. I should've been the one to drive out to them," Sohail said.

According to Michigan High School Athletic Association rules, Sohail couldn't step off the courts once his match began, so he couldn't meet with Andrea and her family.

"I feel bad I couldn't step off the court for a couple minutes," he said. "I really appreciate what they did. I was very lucky."

Kathy said, "We just wanted to teach them the right thing. That it's not finders keepers."

"(Andrea's) our good little samaritan. We're proud of her," she said.

Local gymnast takes gold

Clarkston gymnast Alyssa Delke, 15, brought home three gold medals from the Level 7 State gymnastics competition. Delke became the all-around state champion as well as state champion on bars and floor. She also won bronze medals on vault and beam. The competition took place March 29-30 in Traverse City. ## Athlete of the Week — Anna Trim

BY KYLE GARGARO
Clarkston News Editor

Clarkston basketball player Anna Trim will be continuing her career at the college level next year. The guard recently signed a letter of intent to play with Northwood University.

Trim is getting a full ride scholarship to the university.

"I am excited and I am nervous," Trim said. "I know it will be a lot of hard work. Hopefully my school work will not be too hard."

The Wolf looked at some other smaller schools in the area, but Northwood was her first choice.

"I thought they were stringing me along for awhile but then they offered me the scholarship. The coach is a lot like Ann (Lowney). They have similar styles and I like that," Trim said.

The guard said playing college ball did not seem like a realistic goal as recent as last year.

"I did not start thinking about playing college ball until my senior year," Trim said. "Regardless of what Ann kept telling me I did not think I had a chance. But I decided to go for it because it was something I really wanted to do."

Trim says the Northwood program is in the building phase. The team had a lot of injuries last year which prevented them from having a lot of success. However, the team did come on at the end of the season and is hoping to build upon that success.

CHS students pledge for a safe Spring Break

The Clarkston High School S.A.D.D (Students Against Destructive Decisions) group sought out pledges from peers to have a drug and alcohol free Spring Break, which runs, April 18-25.

The S.A.D.D group are recent recipients of the Youth Leaders Award from M.A.D.D of Oakland County. They've been busy this school year promoting drug and alcohol free life styles by doing such things as pledging, holding a school-wide assembly, and much more. Before prom, they'll have a crash car on campus, which will show students the consequences of making poor choices. And they are planning on holding a car wash to raise funds for Tricia Taylor, an 18-year-old Clarkston girl, who lost her legs after being hit by a drunk driver while walking in downtown Pontiac.

The CHS S.A.D.D are 40-members strong, an increase from last year's 15 members.

Junior Brandon Whiteman pledged to have a safe Spring Break. S.A.D.D member Isaac Calhoun holds pledges, which read "Smile...and be safe for Spring Break. No drugs. No alcohol." In two days of pledging during lunches, S.A.D.D members had collected more than 200 signatures, out of a student body of more than 600. Photo by Jennifer Nemer.

"I Ate A Pound Of Candy A Day!"

Debi Stewart Reveals How She Conquered Her Sugar Cravings and Shed 30 Lbs.!

Hi! My name is Debi Stewart. I am an Office Manager. I was once a candy-holic. I would eat a pound of candy a day! I was out of control. Then I discovered an amazing weight loss secret that ended my sugar cravings. I melted off 30 pounds effortlessly! Next, I found myself on the Sally Jesse Raphael Show telling my amazing story. I was astounded! What follows is my true and utterly remarkable story...

"After years of buying candy, I suddenly stopped." Debi Stewart

For 17 years my weight hovered near 150 lbs. I couldn't lose an ounce. Then, in one short year, I gained 15 pounds. That upward climb was a real eye-opener!

I had tried everything to lose my weight. I took off 20 lbs. once on an all protein diet. Two weeks later, I was 30 lbs. heavier! Nothing worked.

"Out of Control"

My sugar cravings were out of control. I was spending as much as $10.00 a day on candy. I rarely ate regular meals; a bag of licorice would suffice for breakfast or lunch. I binged on candy morning and night. Then I would exercise for 3 or 4 hours a day to compensate for the sugar. It was crazy!

One day I heard a friend talking about losing weight with hypnosis. It got me curious. I asked if he thought hypnosis could end my sugar addiction. He said he had met some people who had amazing results. I was skeptical. Sheer desperation made me give hypnosis a try.

I was astonished with

my results! Hypnosis instantly ended my sugar addiction. It was amazingly effortless. I didn't even think about it. After years of buying candy I suddenly stopped.

Sugar Cravings Vanish Instantly!

Hypnosis eliminated my sugar cravings and candy binges. I now have an appreciation for healthy food. I can taste the flavor and enjoy the texture of everything I eat. Sugar does not even interest my mind. I now have strange cravings for fresh fruits and vegetables. I don't even think about food between meals.

Hypnosis also eliminated those grueling exercise routines. I exercise like a normal person, 2-3 times per week, instead of 2-3 hours per day. It gives me more time for myself. I have a sense of well-being. I no longer stress out over little things. That's why I don't think I will ever go back to my old habits. I'm convinced that my success is for life.

When my father was diagnosed with diabetes, it frightened me. I knew sugar was bad for me. I simply couldn't give it up. Now that hypnosis has extinguished my sugar cravings, all that fear is gone. Without sugar, I have more energy. My memory improved dramatically. My complexion is clear and my skin feels supple. I am just sorry that it took so long for me to find hypnosis.

Sleek & Sexy

One sunny afternoon while vacationing in Aruba, my husband commented on how sexy I looked in my bathing suit. "When is the last time you ate candy?" he asked.

'You know what?' I said, 'I can't remember!'

After I returned home, I stepped on the scale and was flabbergasted! I was back to my high school weight-a feather-light 125 lbs.! I was amazed! Especially after spending the last 17 years exercising obsessively and never getting anywhere. I had all but given up. Yet with hypnosis I had melted off 30 lbs. without even realizing it!

My Sally Jesse Story

I was the most skeptical person in the world. Hypnosis seemed hokey to me. Now that I have experienced such amazing results for myself, I am a true believer. Hypnosis works!

I was thrilled when Sally Jesse Raphael invited me on her show to tell my hypnotic story. My family was floored! They always knew me as the one who ate candy and junk.

I will always be grateful that I discovered hypnosis-and that's why I felt honored that Sally chose me to talk about hypnosis on national television. I feel like a winner and you can, too.

You Can Win, Too!

My hypnosis program was the smartest investment of my life! In fact, it was unexpectedly affordable. Plus, I'm saving at least $10.00 a day by not buying candy! What a bonus!

As Seen On Sally Jesse Raphael!

I recommend Positive Changes Hypnosis to anyone who wants to lose weight. If you're ready to take back control in your life, hypnosis is the only way to go.

Take my advice. Call and schedule your free hypnotic screening and demonstration. It takes only 20 minutes and it's fun.

Then do what I did. Enroll in their weight loss program and uncover the real you hiding beneath all those unwanted pounds. Don't hesitate. Don't even think about it. Call NOW Then you will have your own remarkable success story to tell!

I Stopped Smoking in 1 Session!

I left a pack of cigarettes in my truck and went into Positive Changes Hypnosis. When I came out, I threw my cigarettes away. I haven't smoked since.

I was smoking 3 to 4 packs of cigarettes a day. A friend of mine, who was a client of Positive Changes Hypnosis, recommended I call and schedule my appointment. Hypnosis made it very easy to atop. I tried the patch. I tried smoking cessation classes. I tried quitting cold turkey and even timing myself between cigarettes. Nothing worked for me. Yet my success using hypnosis was fast, easy and effortless.

I noticed a change in my behavior immediately I no longer needed or wanted a cigarette. Hypnosis totally eliminated my cravings. I know that I will never go back to amoking.

My health has improved. I am more energetic. I get twice as much done in a day. No more brown fingers and yellow teeth for me!

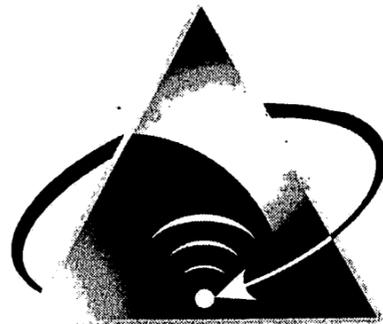

I would tell anyone who is thinking of coming to Positive Changes, don't wait. I feel great about myself and I give Positive Changes Hypnosis 100% of the credit. I've also met other clients going through the program who have had the same great success as I have. Ben Banks, Performance Machinist

Detective enjoys 'well-rounded' career

BY JENNIFER NEMER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

He doesn't know exactly what drew him into law enforcement, but Detective Jerry DeRosia of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department in Independence Township is pleased with the career choice.

"It's something I always wanted to do." But, he said, there wasn't one person that inspired him, and he wasn't following in anyone's footsteps. He just sort of fell into the line of work.

Now with 18 years of service, and seven years to retirement, DeRosia's career, which has included work with the Narcotics Enforcement Team (NET) and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has been, what he calls, well-rounded.

He started as a civilian service agent, basically another name for a prison guard, at the Oakland County Jail in 1986.

According to DeRosia, 40, it's the job nobody wants. It's the low man on the totem pole, so to speak.

But, he defends, "The jail is a great place to learn. Your schooled real quick in the ways of the streets."

After a few years, his job title was changed to Deputy I. Then, in 1989, he was promoted to Deputy II, acting as a supervisor in the jail.

He worked in Road Patrol from 1991 to 1994, before going undercover in various street narcotics cases with NET.

"Every time we did a dope deal in Pontiac, there was always the potential for violence. Every time you got into a car with someone you didn't know, you were putting yourself in danger. You don't know what drug dealers are capable of."

After a year and a half with NET, DeRosia was approached to start up a special team of law enforcement officers in a collaboration with the State Police and Sheriff's Department. It was a new concept for Oakland County. The goal was to jurisdiction and contacts with federal databases."

DeRosia, who has been labeled the "resident computer geek" at the Independence Township substation, was the technical support man for the FBI team.

"During that time we developed hundreds and hundreds of informants to tell of us drug couriers, other than that everything is classified."

What DeRosia can say is the FBI narcotics team used thousands of the money seized on drug raids for law enforcement such as training equipment for officers, the sheriff's helicopter and more.

And the overall effort was geared to developing new and innovative ways to track drugs.

DeRosia was involved with the FBI until 1999. Job burn out took over.

"It was time to move on after five years undercover. It started to get to me. I had to work targets out of state regularly," DeRosia said.

Family is important to DeRosia, who has been married for seven years and has one daughter. "I lost so many years while undercover, I like to spend as much time with my family as I can now. I missed birthdays, holidays and family functions."

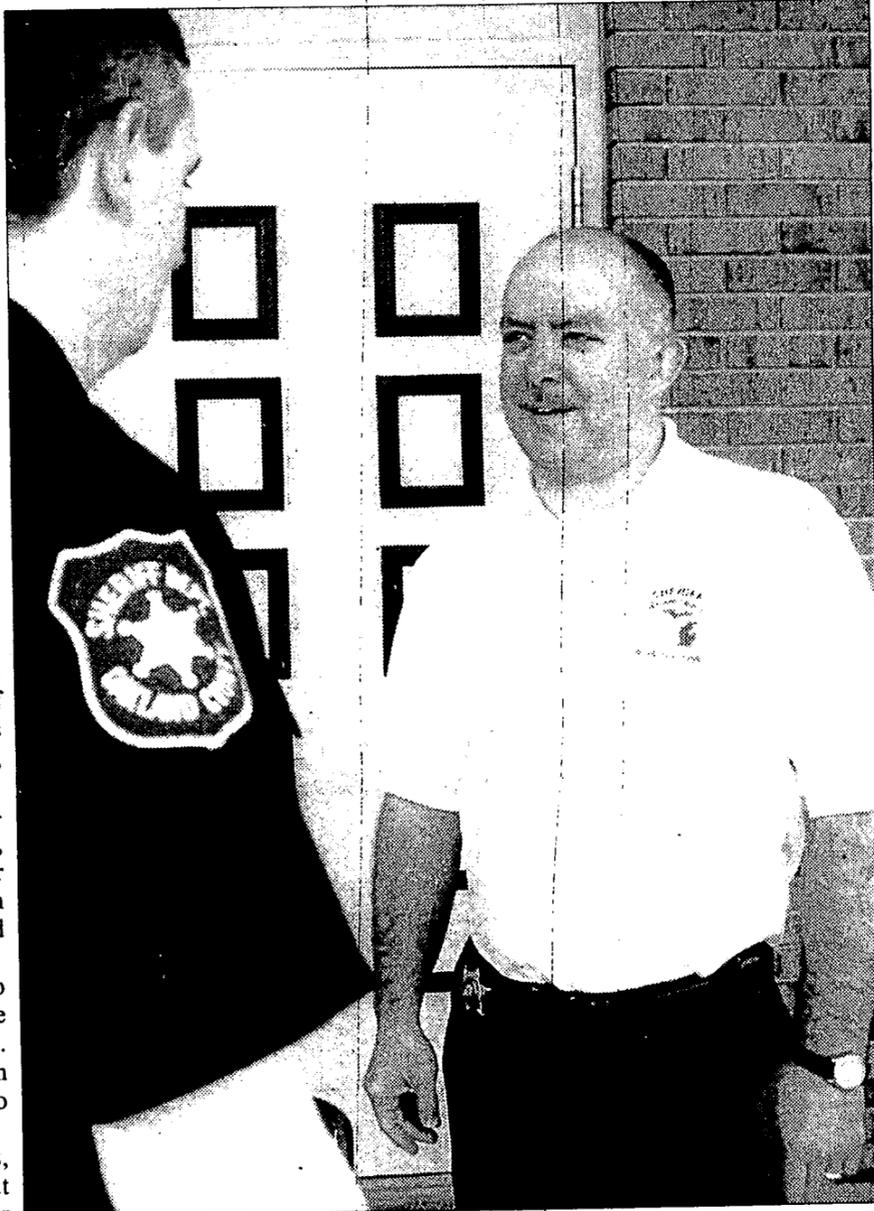

Also, acting as a different person undercover, took a toll on DeRosia after time.

"You start to become a different person when you're taking on a different persona regularly."

He came back to Road Patrol for Oakland County, did a stint as deputy in Springfield Township, until a detective position opened up in Independence Township.

Lt. Dale LaBair sought out DeRosia. "He was highly rated as a patrolman, and his reputation continued as skilled investigator. We got what we expected to get."

"I try hard to do my job the best I can," DeRosia said, who is hoping to start a private investigation business. "In a few years when I retire I won't say I haven't had a good career."

target high level, international drug couriers who were bringing drugs into the state.

DeRosia was sent to Florida to train with the Florida National Guard, their Department of Law Enforcement, he explained, for a closer look at how the drug world operated.

As the team, called the Oakland Macomb Interdiction Team, was starting up, they were approached by the FBI. They were sworn in as special agents and deputy U.S. Marshals.

"That gave us federal credentials to go anywhere in the U.S. It gave us federal

Lessons from an ice storm

Anybody who lives in the Midwest accepts cold weather as a "given." Life gets chilly between the end of September and the middle of April. Like it or not, winter rules, and even though the calendar said it was supposed to be springtime, an icy blast strangled power lines and deprived many of us of heat, running water (if you have your own well) as well as other basic creature comforts.

While this storm may have given us much fodder for the "complaint department," it also gave us another opportunity to look at life the way it really is. Whether you fled for a motel, hooked up a generator or "shivered it out," you couldn't ignore the inconvenience of it all.

Convenience has almost become a necessity in our culture. We are accustomed to having everything immediately accessible. A hot shower is, to many, an inalienable right, next to life and liberty. Not all that long ago people were using pot-bellied stoves, lanterns and those narrow little outhouses. Running water meant a quick jaunt from the outside pump to the house with splashing buckets.

Nobody wants to give up on the conveniences, but in our abundance, we have to admit that we can become a little self-deluded. We Midwestern Americans are a hardy bunch, thank you very much. Yet we forget that we are really dependent creatures. Like all of creation, we still must look for food and shelter. We still must look to the One who supplies it all. When God was ready to move the ancient Israelites into the promised land, He warned them about assuming a false sense of self-sufficiency. He warned them not to forget Who had brought them there and Who it was that provided all the good things for them. He also reminded them that it was He who gave them the ability to acquire wealth.

This ice storm had its own way of making us thankful people. After four days of no power, I finally greeted utility workers in our neighborhood with a "thumbs up" and a deserved "thanks a lot." If those who repair and restore are worthy of thanks, how about the One who provides it in the first place?

A column from:
Pastor Russ
Reemtsma,
First Baptist Church of Clarkston

As I type this, I am sitting in my office with the window open. The weather is in the beautiful 70's and tomorrow it's supposed to be in the 80's. Last week, we were driving under crystallized trees and looking out for falling branches. By the time you read this, it could be cold again. When we think about our schizophrenic weather we're reminded of the little phrase we hear so often, "If you don't like the weather, stick around. It will change in five minutes."

Like the weather, our lives are unpredictable. We can load up our daily planners and handheld computer devices, but we really are dependent on Someone Who holds and knows the future. King David acknowledged the control of a greater King when he exclaimed, "My times are in Your hands." Even if you are a believer that your destiny hangs on mere fate, you too must accept the reality that all the time we have is simply "now." We function from breath to breath and in the full landscape of human history, the brevity of our lives is like a puff of breath seen in the winter air only to quickly dissipate. The unpredictable inconvenience of the ice storm showed us that in spite of all our nifty inventions and gadgets, we are not in control of everything.

What is good news, in spite of the discomfort of being reminded that we are dependent creatures who don't control our destinies, is the great fact of Easter; the resurrection of Jesus Christ. God made hope possible for us to have eternal life because of this great event. "Hope," as taught in the Bible, is not merely a longing or wish. It is a certain confidence we may have. Because of the great sacrifice at Calvary, we now have the opportunity to accept God's free gift of forgiveness and life. We must own up to the fact that we are dependent and cannot earn our own way to heaven. Once we've admitted the hard part, and trust Jesus' sacrifice as our only foundation for forgiveness, we have a lasting (everlasting) hope.

Does this sound too simple? After Jesus blessed the little children, He went on to illustrate to the following crowds that true faith is childlike. He said, "Assuredly, I say to you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God as a little child will by no means enter it." (Mark 10:15). Once we realize the truth about true forgiveness and simple faith, we have hope.

We may not be able to control the weather or even our own destiny. But we can truly know the One who can.

From the Bulletin

Starting Wednesday, April 30, Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church will resume the Wednesday evening FEAST. The evening begins at 6 p.m. with a catered dinner, followed by praise and worship at 6:45 p.m., and classes for all ages at 7:15 p.m. Class offerings include studies on spiritual gifts, stories from the life of Abraham, learning about what makes Jesus weep, drama for teens, worship geared for children, and many special focus small groups. Call (248) 625-3288.

The National Day of Prayer will be hosted this year at the St. Daniel Catholic Community Cushing Center on Thursday, May 1. This year's guest speaker is Mike Wendland, a syndicated news columnist and former WDIV-TV investigative reporter who has been leading Bible studies around the Detroit Metro area for more than 15 years. Special music will be provided and a full breakfast served. This is a nondenominational event.

Reservations can be made at the Independence Township offices. Call Rita Burdick at (248) 625-5111. Reservations can also be made with the Clarkston National Day of Prayer committee. Call Stephanie Huber at (248) 625-7894. Seats are $15 per person or pre-sold table of eight for $100. Doors open at 7 a.m. with the Boy Scout Color Guard opening the event at 7:25 a.m. Day care will be provided on a reservation basis, please contact Karen Geno at (248) 625-1482 to reserve a spot for your child.

Superman beware: STAND Ministries is coming to Dixie Baptist Church and bending steel with the best of them. This group will be power lifting, crushing cement, lifting logs and bending steel Wednesday, May 7 at 7:30 p.m.

"We use power lifting to bring the gospel of Jesus Christ to young people and to teach them they're special, important, loved and can be used by God right now," STAND founder Terry Nahon said.

This performance will have an extra punch of power with James Henderson, the current Guinness Book's "World's Strongest Man." While you might not see people breaking cement blocks in church every Sunday, STAND uses feats of strength to demonstrate Biblical truths and hold their teenage audiences captive. For example, they crush cement clocks to show God's ability to crush through drug and alcohol addiction, depression, loneliness or any other obstacle. The event is free to the public, and is for all ages.

Dixie Baptist Church is located at 8585 Dixie Hwy. in Clarkston. Call (248) 625-2311.

CLARKSTON

CITY OF THE VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON
375 DEPOT ROAD
CLARKSTON MI 48346

SUMMARY CITY COUNCIL MEETING APRIL 14, 2003

Meeting called to order at 7:04 p.m. by Mayor Catallo.
Roll. Present: Clifton, Catallo, Gamble, Meyland, Savage, Werner.

Absent: Colombo.
Minutes of March 24, 2003, accepted as presented.
Agenda accepted as presented with additions of Surrey Lane, Richard Olsen Property, and Cleanup of 29 East Washington to New Business.
Bills in the amount of $74,773.92 approved for payment.

Combs reported that the recent power outage caused a state of emergency whereby a second police vehicle was patrolling on the Friday night of the storm. Three reserve officers rode with the vehicle checking on houses and buildings. The Police vehicle was used to light up the side streets with side lights from the vehicles. There was a Clarkston Police Department patrol on three nights. John Morgan, police reserve, worked five shifts and Combs praised Morgan for his efforts.

Pursley added his thanks to John Morgan's assistance during the storms as he rode with Adam Frank and helped in clearing the roads on Friday. The City is utilizing the Clarkston Tree Service for clearing fallen limbs. On Saturday, Pursley inventoried hanging limbs and had Clarkston Tree Service remove dangerous-looking hanging limbs at a cost of $1,200. Another list will have to be made as more hanging limbs appear.

Finance Committee will meet on Tuesday, April 15, at 6:00 at the City Hall for review of the current budget and work on the 2004 budget.

Forrest Milzow, owner of Surrey Lane, will present a formal proposal to be reviewed by the City Attorney for recommendations to City Council regarding the City's vacating Surrey Lane and an additional hydrant in that area.

Tressel discussed a recent meeting with representatives of Finkbeiner, Pettis, and Strout, Inc., regarding installation of new signals at Main Street and Washington as well at Main Street and Waldon. Proposals will be presented to the Council by the above firm.

Resolved that the City accept the offer of the contractor to add one inch of asphalt to the two inches proposed for the Depot Street parking lot at the City's expense of approximately $13,000.

Moved that the City Engineer seek an easement from the owner of 107 Wompole for water service to 109 Wompole.

Tressel reported that a temporary Certificate of Occupancy was being awarded to 200 North Main, unit 1 of the condominiums being built on the north end of the City. When the initial settlement occurs, the final certificates will be issued. The rear units will not be addressed until the settlement issues are resolved.

Resolved that the City authorize Hubbell, Roth and Clark to send a person to MDOT offices for a cost of approximately $2,500 for an audit of Phase I Water System costs.

Moved that the request of Richard Olsen for fill at 6123 Overlook be tabled until the next meeting in order for the Council to review this matter and discuss this with Mr. Olsen in person.

Tressel reported that what was to take two weeks to restore the property at 29 East Washington after storm sewer construction has taken seven months. Tressel is to have the contractor complete this work to a satisfactory condition or have the work completed at a cost to the contractor.

Resolved That the City Council accept the bid of $89,407.30 for the planting boxes on Depot Road, and further have the City D.P.W. explore the cost of relocating trees prior to the contractor relocating the trees.

Resolved That the City Council of the City of Clarkston hereby supports and approves the proposal by the Road Commission for Oakland County to retime various traffic signals in the City through a 100 percent CMAQ funded project.
Meeting adjourned at 9:20 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Artemus M. Pappas, Clerk

Clarkston Financial Corporation Q4 Earnings Jump 316%, 12-month Earnings rise 89%
 Clarkston Financial Corporation posted record results for the fourth quarter and 2002.

"Clarkston State Bank faced significant challenges in 2002 with the soft economy and low interest-rate environment, however, our team worked hard and produced record earnings," Dawn M. Horner, Bank President said. "Our growth continues to drive net interest income and we have seen tremendous improvement in noninterest income, as well. The loan growth for the year was strong. We have entered the mortgage sector in 2003, which has set the stage for this to continue. In July 2002 we celebrated a milestone of achieving $100 million in assets in just 3.5 years after opening. We are optimistic about 2003 and expect our results to meet or beat 2002's results."

Poetry Corner

It Better Rain

If a rainy day doesn't come soon
 I'll never get into this room!
 It need a cleaning and right now
 But if you can, please tell me how
 I can clean a house on such a sunny day
 I'll just putter in the sun forget the things that should be done.
 I found that worry doesn't pay
 I'll clean it on a rainy day

--An original poem by Florence Blimka

Moon light on my seed

I planted a seed, it wouldn't grow
 So all the neighbors told me so.
 I watered it each night and day
 Your drowning it the neighbors say.
 I let it go completely dry
 Then neighbors said why do you try?
 To grow a plant from scratch?
 It's like a baby chick to hatch,
 impossible to do.
 I listen but I could not believe,
 I could not grow a little seed.
 But looking at the ground one night,
 the moon shown down its magic light.
 So I could see a tiny sprout, so I was thrilled was I
 I had to shout to all the world.
 A little loving care each day is all it takes to make it's way about the ground.

--An original poem by Florence Blimka

Rotary members take a road trip

BY MARY SLOAN

Special to The Clarkston News

Once again, Rotary Club members Jeff Lichty and Mary Sloan went on an eye care mission.

Last summer they went to a small village in Peru, while on this trip they went to the island of Grenada in the West Indies. The trip was in conjunction with a group called Volunteer Optometrists in Service to Humanities.

The group took about 4,000 pairs of eyeglasses to the people of the area. Because Dr. Nelson Edwards, the VOSH member who organizes the trips, is a Rotarian, other Rotary members learn of the projects and become involved.

On this trip the team was made up of three doctors, six student doctors, two opticians and six lay people. Working with the Grenada East Rotary Club, the team serviced four clinic sites around the island over a period of seven days. In addition to the adults who came to the clinics, school children were screened and examinations were provided to those who needed them.

For those who even remember, our knowledge of Grenada is usually limited to the news coverage of the invasion (or "intervention" as they prefer to call it) in 1984, and the "rescue" of the medical students at St. George's medical school.

It is a lovely island and the people are wonderful. Tourists usually are only exposed to the capital city, St. George's, where the cruise ships dock. The rest of the island is beautiful but quite poor for the most part, but offers waterfalls and beaches for those who care to find them. It is called "The Spice Island" because of its nutmeg, (the world's second largest producer), mace, cinnamon and cloves. The delicate smell of the spices hangs in the air.

It's a beautiful place to visit. For Jeff and Mary, getting to know the people has been one of the best parts of the trip. Mary first went to Grenada in 2000 on her first eye care mission. It was then she first got to know the Rotarians, since they accompany the team to all the clinics and ensure that their leisure time is filled with quality activity, often in the home of local Rotarians.

The experience made such an impression, Mary retired from her teaching position so that she could participate in more world community service activities through Rotary. She says she didn't realize how much could be accomplished club to club, people to people on an individual, rather than at a government level.

This year it was an especially wonderful experience for these two Rotarians. At the home of one of their host Rotarians, Mary and Jeff were married amidst the bougainvillea and in the company of people sharing their same ideals of bringing peace to the world through love and understanding.

Mary and Jeff are married at the home of a Rotarian friend.
