Officials go to school on elections

BY DON SCHELSKE Clarkston News Staff Writer

Don't call the township clerk for an absentee voter ballot for the June 9 school election.

In a switch from recent tradition, Clarkston Community Schools have chosen to administer the election rather than contract with the Independence Township Clerk's office.

Deputy Superintendent David Reschke and his secretary, Becky Kelly, have tackled the responsibility of publishing legal notices, printing ballots and supervising voting in the election that includes two school board seats, a proposal to restore the full 18-mill "non-homestead" property tax and an $83.7 million bond proposal.

While giving high praise to township officials for their past assistance, Reschke said school officials decided to go it alone this time.

o it alone this time. "We've had a great relationship with the township over the years," Reschke said. "A couple years ago we started to look at a contract that was very old and outdated. We tried to piece together a new contract and never reached an agreement."

The conflict has not necessarily been financial.

"The township wasn't unreasonable about their fees," he said. "About a year ago we thought, 'A lot of districts do their own elections; why don't we try it?' After this experience we can either go back and try to negotiate an agreement with the township or we might feel comfortable on our own."

Kelly and Trustee Ron Sullivan have attended state training for election supervision, and state law dictates the procedures to be followed. "We've confirmed that it is a lot of work," Reschke said. "The laws are very clear, and if you follow them you're in good shape, but the public doesn't understand, I don't believe, how many rules and regulations there are that we must follow." "You appreciate the work involved," Kelly said, noting a number of first-year learning experiences. "There's just a lot involved." One of those learning experiences includes the procedure for absentee voter ballots, and local resident Mary Barnes is among those concerned. Barnes said she received information on how to register to vote, but not on how to receive the absentee ballot. She called the Independence Township Hall and was directed to the school district. It took a couple of calls before she received the needed information.

Trying to park is irritating resident because... Drivers misuse handicap spots

BY JENNIFER NEMER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

One Clarkston resident is speaking out about what he feels is misuse of handicap parking spaces.

Bill Chamberlin, who suffered a spinal injury when he fell on the job as a project manager for Toyota, said too many unauthorized people park in handicap designated spots, and unfair legislation let's them do so without penalty.

"You can't be ticketed for parking in a handicap spot unless there is a posted sign," he said.

That's true, according to Michigan statute 257.941. Before 1988, parking spaces were reserved simply with a symbol painted on the ground. Regulations now require handicap spaces to be marked with a mounted sign, either by post or wall. Spaces marked with only paint on the ground no longer are considered legally reserved.

"Everybody just takes advantage," Chamberlin said. "They say, 'I only parked there for a minute,' but it's a minute long enough for me not to be able to park there."

"They abuse the sign, but also are abusing the handicap. I think it's a terrible thing," Chamberlin continued. "I feel we are a forgotten and abused

Ann Waldera, a 27-year Clarkston resident, utilizes a handicap parking spot at the Independence Township Library. She said, "I've had young people park in (a handicap spot) and just give me a dirty look when I say something. They're disrespectful, but someday they'll understand when their legs stop working. I'm very grateful for handicap parking. It saves me a long walk." Photo by Jennifer Nemer.

Lt. Dale LaBair of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department in Independence Township assured the department is ticketing when vehicles are spotted in handicap spots without a permit.

"We write 'em (tickets)," LaBair said. "We write a lot of 'em."

Briefly CHS student names student ambassador

Clarkston High School's Christina Teichman was one of a delegation of high school students from Oakland and Livingston counties to be selected by People to People Student Ambassador Program to visit Australia this summer.

These students will spend approximately three weeks learning about the government, economy and culture of Australia through activities such as briefings with local governments and visits to local towns. Each student ambassador will also spend some time in a home stay with an Australian family.

Each student ambassador is selected on the basis of recommendations, including school references and personal interviews. Once students are accepted into the program, they prepare for their overseas project by attending orientation meetings in their own area and studying background material on the countries and organizations they will visit.

Williams takes third place at competition

William Williams of Clarkston High School took third place at the Skills USA VICA State Conference in Lansing.

Williams won his award in the Principles of Technology division.

More than 1,900 regional winners participated in the technical and career related competitions. These students will go on to compete at the National Conference in Kansas City, Missouri at the end of June.

Local student selected to attend conference

Jennifer Kendrick, a student at Clarkston High School, has been selected to attend the 2003 Congressional Student Leadership Conference in Silver Springs, MD.

The CSLC is an invitational leadership program for the most academically talented and promising young leaders. Exceptional high school students who have a record of academic achievement and extracurricular or community involvement, are invited to participate from across the United States and internationally.

Students choose from several academic areas including the Congressional Forum, Business & Entrepreneurship, Defense and Intelligence and Medicine and Healthcare.

"They develop confidence and maturity while gaining skills that will help them achieve success in college and life," Founder and Executive Director of the CSLC Chris Salamone said. "Leadership begins with our young people, in their homes, their schools and their communities, as they seek knowledge and understanding and work to improve the world around them.

Fletcher named Teacher of the Year

BY JENNIFER NEMER Clarkston News Staff Writer

Kim Fletcher was shocked when she walked into her classroom Friday, May 9 to a loud, "Surprise!"

The Clarkston High School math teacher was greeted by members of the Clarkston Foundation and Clarkston Community School Board who awarded her as Teacher of the Year.

Together the Clarkston Foundation and Suburban Ford of Waterford sponsor the Outstanding Classroom Teacher Recognition Program, which annually honors teachers who demonstrate the ability to create a love of learning in students of all abilities and backgrounds, and who possess a strong sense of values, integrity and professional ethics, among other important qualities.

After being surprised in the classroom, Fletcher walked the hallway to the applause of students and staff. She was given teaching and invited to Suburban Ford where she selected a car to drive free for one year. She was also awarded a year membership to Great Lakes Athletic Club.

"I had no idea," Fletcher said of the classroom surprise.

Assistant Principal Shawn Ryan had called Fletcher down to the main office to ask a question regarding the MEAP tests, she said. Still, she had no suspicions.

"I so should've known he (Ryan) was making something up," she laughed.

A graduate from Western Michigan University, Fletcher has been teaching four years at CHS.

"I love it here and not because of this (award)," she said. "It's wonderful place. I will never leave here. It's so nice to come to a job every day you love."

Principal Jan Meagher, who

the rest of the day off from nominated Fletcher, said, "She is simply an exceptional teacher and leader."

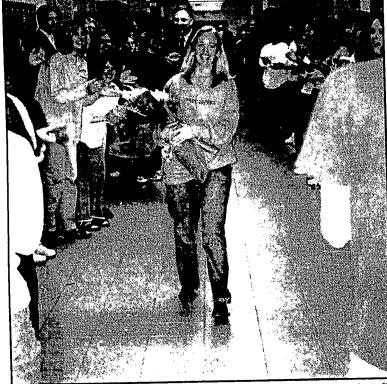

> In her written nomination, Fletcher is noted by Meagher for her knowledge level of a wide array of mathematical concepts and her ability to demonstrate the mechanics of problem solving clearly to her students.

"She is very well thought of in the math department," Meagher said.

Fletcher is said to know how to keep her students motivated, clearly communicate her expectations of her students and has a positive rapport with students.

"She's a hands-on teacher," Meagher added. "Kim has done an effective job of integrating varied approaches to meet her student's different learning styles."

Outside of the classroom, Fletcher is busy. She tutors before school, after school, during her seminar period and on Saturday mornings.

Twice a year she coordinates an all-school tutoring session that includes up to 30 teachers and 300 students. And she organizes student tutors for the elementary schools.

Fletcher is also the Saturday School administrator, for which she receives no extra compensation; co-sponsors the National Honor Society where she helps organize fundraisers, plans student activities with the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance, participates in elementary school fairs, and works after school hours' said, "I don't know all of the Board issues conditions for private school build

BY DON SCHELSKE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Cedar Crest Academy may build a new multipurpose center, if the Springfield Township private school can make the grade in several areas.

Township trustees on Thursday, May 8 approved a final site plan for the building, but only after a critique of items such as trees, parking and wetlands vegetation.

School director Betty Moen said the building will enhance programs at the campus, which serves about 200 children from "junior kindergarten" through eighth grade at the academy and another 90 at the adjacent early childhood center.

"One purpose is [for the gymnasium] to provide physical education and fitness for a lifetime," Moen said, and two studios in the building will provide for "the musical and artistic understanding that we so value at Cedar Crest." Although the applicant had already appeared before the township Planning Commission, trustees offered their own questions and suggestions. Supervisor Collin Walls questioned why two existing pine trees were targeted for removal. Although the plan included replacement with a honey locust tree. Walls argued for keeping as many existing trees as possible, even though one looked "deformed."

ordinance requires paved parking except for overflow situations, school staff allegedly had been parking in a gravel lot closer to the building and leaving a paved lot empty. Trustee David Hopper said he was witnessed as many as five vehicles parked in a fire lane.

School officials said it is difficult to get staff to park farther from the building, so Walls offered a solution.

"The easiest way to cure it is to put up a fence [around the overflow lot]," Walls said. "Just find a way to so we don't have to cite you for violation of the site plan."

Hopper said, "Don't even bring the plan back unless you show parking on the lower lot," near the early childhood center. "Basically, it comes down to we have a problem with your parking."

Clerk Nancy Strole said there is a question of whether the school has the required 20-foot "vegetative buffer" from a retaining pond on the campus. Ervin said township engineers and planners referred only to a "greenbelt," but no specifics as to the type of vegetation required.

"The older I get, the more I like it," Walls said.

Architect Jeremy Ervin said the plan was adapted based on planning commission recommendations, but he voiced a willingness to rework the plan to Walls' liking.

Walls also criticized current parking practices at the school. While township

"These are requirements in our ordinance," Strole said. "There are reasons for it."

Walls and Ervin also clashed on a fence proposed to end at a set of decorative boulders. Walls said the fence should also surround the boulders, but Ervin said that would be an eyesore and an unnecessary precaution.

"In my opinion, you have to have all 50 feet of fence or not get your plan approved," Walls said.

If all goes as planned, the 5,400square-foot building will be completed by September, Moen said.

Springfield board changes payee for Meals on Wheels

May 8 meeting of the Springfield Township Board

• The township will continue to support the area Meals on Wheels program, but not by giving money to the village of Holly.

Trustees rescinded an earlier motion and voted instead to donate $1,000 to Mercy Services for Aging and Nutrition.

Treasurer Jamie Dubre had conducted research into Holly's claim that it incurred expenses for Meals on Wheels deliveries to Springfield Township residents, but instead found that all such services were provided by MSA volunteers.

Springfield Township currently has eight residents receiving the Meals on Wheels service, thanks to a state grant and other contributions to MSA.

• It may not have mattered that the petitioner was absent, but trustees voted to deny a rezoning request from Waterford developer Larry Barnett for a parcel west of Dixie Highway, east of Nadette and south of Big Lake Road.

Barnett had requested a change from OS (Office Service) to C-1 (Local Business), but the board said there is plenty

In other business at the Thursday, of vacant commercial property available for development.

> "Nothing has been presented to show that the current zoning is unreasonable or unworkable," Supervisor Collin Walls said.

• The board adopted second reading of a new Omnibus Criminal Ordinance.

The new ordinance, designed to replace the existing disorderly persons ordinance, is seen by supporters as a way to consolidate most misdemeanor offenses in one package and as a way to give the township attorneys more control in prosecution.

When adopting first reading, the board engaged in some debate concerning the advantages and disadvantages of prosecuting offenders under local or state law.

What is Mystic Tan

The Mystic Tan™ Booth is designed to deliver a customized sunless tanning application to each customer based on their body size, skin type, and desired color. There are three tanning level options available to produce the optimal tanning results for each individual customer. Once the proper tanning level for a new customer has been determined they are shown a short instructional video, which is designed to walk them through the entire process step-by-step. This insures that each customer receives the exact same instructions on how to get the best results. Inside the Mystic TanTM room the tanner simply disrobes and enters the booth. With the push of a button the session begins with a fine mist of Aloe Vera enriched Sunless-Tanning Solution being sprayed through our proprietary patented MagneTan[®] nozzles. The MagneTan Technology insures uniform coverage over the entire body, which our proprietary sunless tanning solution instantly transforms into a quick natural-looking tan that continues to darken throughout the day.

• Students will pay more for elementary and middle school lunches next fall. The board approved an increase from $1.75 to $1.90 for elementary students, while the middle school price will go from $2 to $2.15.

A memo from Food Service Supervisor Janet Allen said food, labor and paper costs are expected to rise from 3 percent to 5 percent. In addition, revenue will be lost because of the altered class schedule on staff "developmental days."

Total expenses are expected to increase by about $50,000 next year, Allen said, with a projected revenue decrease

Recommendations from faculty and administrative teams said the new materials will better align district curriculum with state and national standards.

Approved materials include: K-5 science supplementary materials/informational text, $25,000; high school geometry, $44,700; high school algebra I, $56,000; grade 11-12 probability and statistics, $4,000.

A perfectly uniform, natural looking tan in less than 60 second

The bronzer is a water-soluble dye designed to produce an instant tan. The brown bronzer will wash off in the shower or bath but will not effect your overall tan. The DHA produces a long-term tan. When applied to the skin, DHA reacts with proteins in the skin's superficial layer to form a golden brown color. It begins to darken 2 to 3 hours after application and reaches its peak color within 24 hours. The DHA tan will begin to gradually fade through natural exfoliation, just like a tan from the sun. The Aloe Vera helps to carry the DHA deeper into the skin and promotes a softer, smoother finish. The Mystic Tan™ tanning solution contains more than 65% stabilized Aloe Vera liquid. Aloe Vera is a natural moisturizer that helps the skin draw moisture to the surface. It softens the skin and helps smooth wrinkles.

Will it turn me orange?

No! In the past, self-tanners gave many individuals an unnatural orange glow and caused streaking. Most of these undesirable results were caused by improper or ineffective application techniques.

Letters to the Editor

Editorial Let's leave no taxpayer behind

The Clarkston News is working hard to provide information on the June 9 school election.

Our news coverage has already included a basic explanation of the open seats on the board of education, and the proposals to restore the full 18mill "non-homestead" property tax and the $83.7 million bond issue for capital improvements. We'll have more in the weeks ahead.

We've also reported on efforts by school boosters to get the word out and motivate the "yes" voters to get to the polls, and we anticipate having plenty of representation from those who plan to do so.

To be fair, we want to do our best to get the other side of the story. We want to provide a voice for those who have questions and/or objections about the school ballot proposals.

A couple letter writers have already been brave enough to make their views known, but some tend to be hesitant in speaking out.

We understand why. Virtually everyone realizes the importance of education, and no one wants to be perceived as being "against" education. The phrase "for the children" has become so overused as to make even the most ardent education supporter cringe.

Some may also fear that questions or criticism of a specific proposal will be perceived as a direct attack on every aspect of the local school system's personnel and programs.

In some extreme cases, opponents may fear embarrassment from or retribution toward their children.

None of the above are legitimate reasons for holding back. Clarkston school officials are on record as wanting open communication, and we believe they are mature enough to handle constructive criticism when it is offered.

(Besides, if there were documented cases of retribution, we would be happy to report it and let the public respond accordingly...)

We invite letters to the editor from those who believe the ballot proposals are flawed and/or unfair. We urge those organizing to fight the non-homestead tax or the bond issue to bring their campaign

Of hair and men

Leader newspapers, a feature article caught my eye. Headlined, Clip Dip: Long hair no boon for Oxford Barber.

The two barbers in town, Stub Robinson and Jack Magee (both sadly, now clipping hair in Heaven) lamented on the loss of business due to the long-hairs.

Said Jack, "Hell, yes, long hair has hurt my business. And it's not just a fad, it's here to stay. In the beginning it was just the kids. Now it's the adults who are jumping on the bandwagon."

Stub, whose father before him and his father before him were all barbers of a sort, was a little more philosophical. "The long hair cycle will die out. The New Yorker and the brush styles died out. Every generation has its thing."

Before I continue, what is a New Yorker?

Well, I photocopied the page and brought it into my office. I then looked at my computer at the two blue-eyed and (short) blond haired Rush lads, that emblazon my screen.

What will be the hair style when they're teenagers?

I shivered and remembered 1971 only because that was the year my mother's brother, Jim, had long hair. Not just "long-ish" hair. He had long, straight dishwater blond hair that was below his shoulders. I remember asking Jim if he was a "hippie." Jim was 17 or 18 at the time and I was only eight years old, but I can distinctly remember asking him that question as he headed upstairs to his attic-turned bedroom with the groovy flat-black painted walls and funky fluorescent posters.

I really didn't know, nor care if Jim was a "hippie" or not. I didn't know what a "hippie" was, I just remember my father's discouraging words whenever a boy with long hair came into view.

See, my dad wasn't too "hip." I'm sure he was "cool" in his day -- but "cool" didn't involve long hair. I've been told by Mother Rush, that when I was but a While thumbing through the book of 1971 Oxford lad, I had blond, curly hair before my first haircut -which came directly after some lady at the grocery told Dad he had a "cute little girl."

To which he replied, "That's my son." And, then left the groceries and went the barbershop to get me my first haircut.

Subsequently, up until the seventh grade, I always had short hair. And, Dad was not afraid to cut my hair with the shears he picked up somewhere in Korea in the mid-1950s. If serving in the United States Army taught Dad anything, it was how to give a boy a proper haircut (and then how to teach said lad how to spit polish black, wing-tip shoes before church -- but that's a story for another time.)

When I was a teen, I had long hair. By the time I hit college I started to get shorter hair cuts. My uncle, Jim, has more hair on his face than on the top of his head these days (if only because he's folliclely challenged). About the only person I know who has the same hair he did as a kid, is my buddy Tom Roberts. Ever the fashion stallion, he's hangin' with the circa 1977, part-in-the-middle-with-feathered-bangs look.

The point is (and I keep trying to convince myself of this), besides Tom, things change. And change isn't necessarily bad. Hairstyle changes, clothes change, standards change -- I'm sure something considered Victorian erotica, would be considered prime-time, family TV viewing these days.

But . . .

Yet . . .

I have this nervous reaction when I think, "What will be the hairstyle when my boys are teenagers? "

Images of the multicolored, multi-shaved noggin of Dennis Rodman keep popping in my head. I see hair-gelled into spikes. Which leads me down the path to seeing face and body piercings. Which leads to tatoos and black-studded, leather collars, which ... I had better stop now.

Better yet, I had better stop it now. I'm sure if I look long enough and hard enough through my father's stuff I can find the haircutting implements he used on me 30 years ago. . . unless he took them with him, because he wanted to cut hair with Stub and Jack.

Do patients ask the doctor about, well?

It's got to be a generation thing, but it's embarrassing to me to see and hear commercials on the tube for products that should be closeted.

The products I'm referring to are for use after doctor consultation in the privacy of their office, not for airing to the general public. You know the ones I mean, but does the younger audience have to know they have these bodily dysfunctions to look forward to?

Do they tune them out? Do they not try to understand what the product will cure or bring relief from? Do the puberty approachers need to be exposed to these ailments and soothers?

Besides Viagra, names that now dominate in prime tube time are Zocor, Allegra, Nexium, Avandia, Embrel, Allegra, Detrol LA and Vagisil.

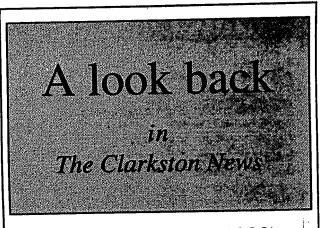

I don't think I need to know about any of those things and I'm certainly not going to ask my doctor. If I need 'em, he should tell me without my asking.

These things are being forced on me. They often make me blush, even when I'm alone.

Preparation H Medicated Wipes. Hormone Replacement Therapy. Stress Urinary. Incontinence. My daddy might have known about these things, but I don't need to know unless my physician tells me I need to know.

Even then, if I sense he's going to get too personal, I'll blush, turn my head and call for Mommy.

Of course, this exposure we're experiencing comes from our growing permissive, free thinking, First Amendment rights and uncloseting of people's ideas and practices.

The disciplinary action was meted out by three of the five Independence Township Board members at a special meeting last week, 52 days after the incident deemed to be "official misconduct" occurred. The threat allegedly was made during a telephone conversation on March 16 when Beach called Ritter at work to complain about comments Ritter had made to newspaper reporters after a township board meeting.

A 8 Wed., May 14, 2003 The Clarkston (MI) News Springfield finalizes West Nile campaign

BY DON SCHELSKE

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Springfield Township officials have agreed to work with their counterparts in Rose, Groveland and Brandon Townships on an educational campaign to help fight mosquitoes that carry the West Nile Virus.

Springfield will contribute $7,000 of an expected $9,200 Oakland County grant toward common brochures, press releases and a video production to be shared among the four townships. The remaining funds will be adequate to pay for larvacide treatment of township retaining ponds Clerk Nancy Strole has taken the lead on researching the West Nile problem, and previously reported that public education is the biggest priority. By having property owners take care of standing water, officials hope to prevent the growth of "urban" mosquitoes that carry the virus.

The challenge, Strole said, is how to reach everyone with the message.

"You can't just hit individuals once," she said. "You have to hit them a number of times. You have to give them more than one message."

To accomplish that, the planning firm of Carlisle/ Wortman Associates proposed the mailing of three brochures to educate the public on the causes of the virus, ways to prevent it and ways to protect from it.

Springfield Township will save some money by mailing the first brochure with June property tax bills, with an estimated total cost of $15,180.

Carlisle/Wortman estimated a cost of $2,915 to create a script for the video presentation.

Supervisor Collin Walls repeated the conclusion of researchers who say regular wetlands such as lakes and ponds do not generally produce the "urban" mosquito believed to carry the West Nile Virus.

The Road Commission for Oakland County has already begun cleaning public catch basins so the larvicide can be applied. Walls said the larvicide is packaged in such a way that it can be safely applied without special training.

Resident Kathy Houston is among those glad the township board opted against spraying to kill adult mosquitoes.

"I am very thankful there are no plans for chemical spraying," Houston wrote to Strole. "Hoping to hit a few of these "tiny moving targets" would more likely have larger human health repercussions from the chemicals."

Youth soccer night set

All area youth soccer players, including house and select teams, are invited to attend Youth Soccer Night Friday, May 16 at the Clarkston Soccer Stadium.

There will be an exhibition youth soccer game at 4:30 p.m. between the Shadows U13 girls and the Impact U13 boys. The Clarkston High School junior varsity game starts at 5:30 p.m. with the varsity contest is slated for 7 p.m. The Wolves will be taking on Lapeer East.

"We do this to promote soccer in the community," Mary Pinkos said.

Youth Soccer Night has been a Clarkston staple for around 10 years and usually brings 80 to 100 players to the game.

Also planned is a youth shoot-out contest during halftime of the junior varsity and varsity game. All youth who where their soccer jerseys get in free.

Clarkston News Editor You are never too old for a road trip.

At least that was the case for 77year-old Bill Debniak of Clarkston. Debniak joined sisters Janice Colin and Jacquie Fry, along with brother-in-law Larry DeBeau on a "geriatric cruise" from Michigan to Florida.

The entire event began as a little bit of a joke according to Debniak.

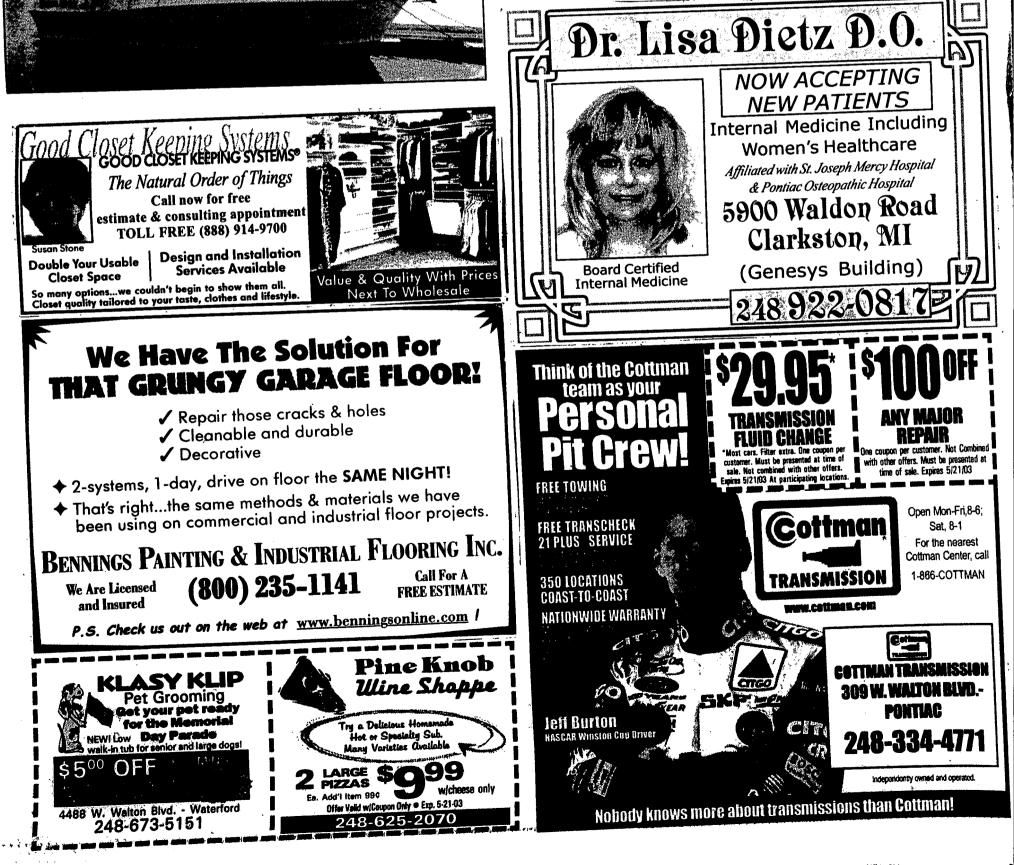

"My sister remarried her old high school sweetheart who has a home in Florida. He has a boat he wanted to get to Florida. They contacted moving companies but it was pretty expensive so in a funny way it was brought up that the four of us should take the boat to Florida in the form of a cruise," Debniak said.

The joke quickly turned into a serious plan for the seniors.

"It took about five minutes to decide to do it. I mean it was a chance of a lifetime. Everybody was very excited about it," Debniak said.

So on Sept. 16 the four took off on their adventure. The trip was supposed to take five weeks but ended up taking six. The boat was a 43-foot twin engine cabin cruiser.

If facts warrant, parents should 'bash' government ed. policies

My thanks to Don Schelske for attending the Academic Boosters of Clarkston's parent information meeting on April 29 entitled "Holding Schools Accountable is a Good Idea, but what kind of yardstick are we using? Also, important information about the upcoming School Bond and Non-Homestead ballot issues".

I thought his articles on our meeting in the May 7 edition of The Clarkston News were very informative, and correctly presented facts on some of the issues facing area parents and administrators in the Michigan Legislature and on the June 9 ballot.

The mission of the Academic Boosters of Clarkston is to be an information source for the community on issues that will impact the quality of academics in Clarkston Schools. In keeping with this mission, the Academic Boosters have sponsored numerous events and invited experts to present factual information to an open audience. If those facts raise questions, and if those audiences are motivated to act on information that they receive, then the ABC's mission has been successful.

Although the headline ("Boosters turn bond issue meeting into policy bashing session") was a bit of sensationalizing, it actually demonstrated that the ABC is reaching people and accomplishing its goals. If the participants in our discussion on the 29th reacted with dissatisfaction or did not support Michigan's new Education YES program, then perhaps those parents will become more active in overseeing what our legislators are doing with our public education system.

Since the first information on Outcome Based Education was bandied about in the late 1980s, and since Proposal A took the first step toward taking away local control of our schools in 1994. we have lost programs that were put in place to deal with the different education needs of each individual child.

The philosophy of education over the last decade and a half has changed from one that encourages each child to attain his own level of success to one that requires that every child should reach exactly the same level. This includes students who are learning impaired as well as students who are capable of learning at higher levels than their counterparts.

The Academic Boosters support the philosophy that every student in every school has the right to a personally challenging education every day. And if our newly-informed parents and community members feel that Education YES is contrary to this mission, then I hope they will continue to "bash" policy!

The ABC encourages parents to learn more about Education YES. And, when you know the facts, if you are dissatisfied with what you hear, do something about it! You are your child's best advocate and your voice, and that of your community, is needed to insure a quality education for our children.

Team Reptile has made a move

I started years ago in an effort to help educate the community about reptiles, amphibians and the many other species of wildlife that we share our environment with.

Team Reptile has worked hard over the years to build up and expand the program. We now run summer camps, do school and community presentations, and even have our own television show. Our programs have helped to increase the environmental awareness of wildlife for Team Reptile is a volunteer group that camps that Team Reptile puts on will now be run through Springfield Township Parks and Recreation at (248) 634-0412. Registration for the camps is currently being taken.

Team Reptile would like to thank Independence Township and Clarkston community members for their strong support. It was because of the community's generosity that we were able to grow. Team Reptile would also like to thank the Springfield Township officials, community, and Parks and Recreation, as well as the Clarkston Community Education for recognizing Team Reptile's potential and making us feel so welcome.

participants of all ages.

I was raised in Independence Township and it was there that my appreciation for wildlife started and eventually grew into Team Reptile. I have tried over the years to implement Team Reptile and other environmental awareness programs into Independence Township Parks and Recreation with very limited success and very little financial support.

Now, after 14 years or working for Independence Township Parks and Recreation I have chosen to move on. Team Reptile and its programs have now moved to Springfield Township. Although Team Reptile has moded, its programs will still available ' Independence Township community nembers. The summer

We are excited to have established relationships at places that will create and support programs that help increase environmental awareness while also promoting fun.

I personally would also like to thank Kelly Arcello, Dave Miller, Roger Belcher, Brian Doyle and some of my other former coworkers at Independence Township Parks and Recreation for their help and support over the years and during this move.

Barnes said. She is among those who supports the tax proposals, but fears some voters may be discouraged by the procedure. "The harder you make it, the more some people just want to forget it."

One difference is really no difference. While Independence Township traditionally sends AVB applications to all citizens age 60 and above, that has not been the case for school elections, even when administered by the township clerk's office.

Independence Township Clerk Joan McCrary said state law dictates a consistent policy for each unit of government. It is an extra cost to send the applications.

"The school district someplace different." makes that decision," she said.

Reschke said the school district will mail applications to those on a township-supplied "permanent" AVB list, which includes handicapped citizens and election workers, but a mailing to all senior citizens is not feasible.

"We just don't have a database to do that," he said, "and we think we have plenty of accessibility to that process."

McCrary, whom Kelly credits for continuing advice and assistance, is sympathetic concerning the change.

"It's not a change of procedure," McCrary said. "[Voters] have to call

Those interested in absentee ballots may call Kelly at (248) 623-5413. Ample time must be allowed for mailing and return of the application.

"If you want one, give us a call, and we'll get [an application] to you," Reschke said.

Those who qualify may also vote by absentee ballot from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, June 7 at both the school district administration building and at the Independence Township Hall (where staff must verify signatures for ballots to be counted).

On election day, however, Reschke expect the change to be "seamless." The district has opted to use the same 19 voting precincts used in general elections, with most of the same polling inspectors helping voters.

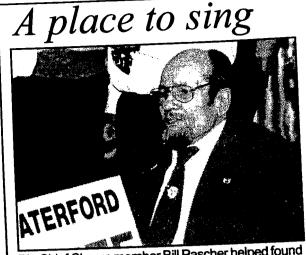

"That costs us money to do that," Reschke said. "We could eliminate some of the precincts, but for the convenience of the community we've decided to keep the same precincts. It makes it easy for the population to know where to go [to vote].

"If you're a Clarkston school district voter, you shouldn't see a difference," he said.

State law also dictates how to protect against appearances of conflict of interest, just as when a township clerk runs for reelection. Reschke said he and Kelly are totally separate from school officials working the information campaign for the tax proposals.

"We're real careful with that," he said. "They're trying to draw the line to keep it real separate. We're going to do our best to stay clean."

Overall, LaBair said, "Frankly, we don't see it (handicap violations) as a problem in the township."

But Chamberlin is wanting a change. He hopes getting the word out through the media might help.

Chamberlin would like to see some type of enforcement program go into effect. He's heard word that in a town in Ohio if a handicap person spots someone who shouldn't be parking in a handicap spot, they have authority to write that offender a ticket of the state In fact, there are places right in Michigan that do offer something similar, Michie said the idea of starting a handicap enforcement program sounds good because she is aware there are violations that occur in the township. But she said, to her knowledge, no one has ever broached the subject with township officials before.

She suggests anyone interested in starting this type of program attend a township board meeting, speak during the public forum, and ask the board for support in passing a resolution.

The group took their time and enjoyed themselves taking in the sights along the trip.

"We stopped in Port Huron, New York, Atlantic City and Florida along with many other spots throughout the trip," Debniak said. "There was a lot of pretty scenery along the way. I remember the Hudson River being very picturesque."

However, the cruise was not all fun and games for the four-member crew. The 2,800 mile trip included the navigation through rivers, lakes, canals, the Atlantic Ocean and intercoastal waterways.

"The tough part was going through the locks in the Erie Canal. It took us about six days because the speed limit was either 10 miles per hour or five miles per hour depending on the area. I mean we had people on bikes passing us," Debniak said.

Despite the bumps in the road (or water as it was) Debniak, a former Marine who took part in World War II and the Korean War, and the rest of the crew were up for the challenge.

The Clarkston resident since 1967 took on the challenge despite some health problems that included three bypass surgeries, one knee replacement and prostate cancer. But according to Debniak, "those things are in the past."

After they relaxed in Florida for awhile, Debniak and his sister flew back to Michigan. Debniak, a retired electronic technician from Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, said he would do it all over again.

"It was definitely a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity and I am sure glad I did it. It was really a lesson in geography. Living in Michigan you assume the east coast is all one long beach along the Atlantic Ocean but it isn't. It was nothing but marshland and swamp," Debniak said.

HealthFirst to offer 24-hour care in new facility

BY LISA VALENTINE

Lake Orion Review Staff Writer

Twenty-four hour care, seven days a week is coming at HealthFirst, an ambulatory care center that moved into the new Bald Mountain Regional Medical Complex and Surgical Center on May 5.

Dr. Kevin Robertson, founder of HealthFirst, said the center will double from its former size, when it was located at 1251 S. Lapeer near Dunhams.

"I opened HealthFirst in March of 1997...there was really no place in Lake Orion that you could come to without an appointment that I knew of," said Robertson, an Oxford resident. "The new facility will bring health care under one roof. Unless you need to be hospitalized, it's all there."

Construction on the facility began last fall, and will be entirely completed in the coming months. The building is 58,000 square-feet, and will include HealthFirst, an out-patient clinic that will be offering 24-hours a day, seven days a week care starting June 2.

Also in the complex will be a diagnostic center, pharmacy, 6,000 square-feet of physical therapy, a laboratory, and ambulatory surgical center for outpatient and minor surgery.

"The diagnostics center will have everything from X-ray to mammograms," Robertson said. "In addition, HealthFirst will have our own X-ray equipment. The pharmacy will service out-patient prescriptions, with the entire building being on the same phone system."

According to Robertson, even though the complex will include separate entities, it was always meant to be run as a whole.

"We'll have 11,000 square-feet of out-patient surgery...70 percent of surgeries are out-patient," he added. "That will be complete in one year."

Robertson spent nearly nine years working in the emergency room and did family practice prior to opening HealthFirst.

building (for HealthFirst), one for trauma and one for family practice," he said. "We'll also have separate registration and discharge areas. The trauma room will be divided by curtains, and will have a cardiac crash cart and monitor."

The facility has over seven examination rooms, a large conference area, an area for X-ray and an area for keeping supplies.

There is also a bed and shower area in the back for physicians, who will be on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

"It will be physician-staffed at all times," Robertson said. "We're not keying down to a tech at certain times of the night."

In addition, HealthFirst's new facility includes a call 693-9040.

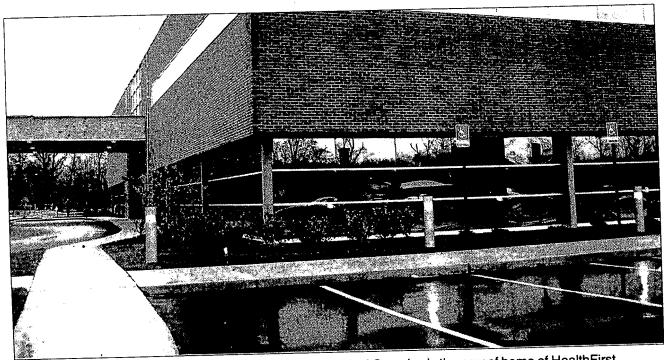

pediatric room and an ENT room, for ears, nose and throat.

"We'll have a laboratory in the building, so we'll process all the labs on site," said Robertson. "Blood gets drawn here and processed here ... the more complicated stuff will be sent out and back the next day."

No expense was spared on the building, according to Robertson, which includes extensive landscaping including a "living" pond in front of the building that will include two waterfalls.

"Everything is of the best quality," he said.

Wolves go 1-2 in tourney

BY KYLE GARGARO Clarkston News Editor

The Clarkston softball team finished 1-2 at the Pieper Tournament last weekend.

"After playing the league games during the week and the North Star Tournament the weekend before I wanted to make sure everyone got in and played this last weekend," Clarkston softball coach Al Land said. "We were also missing a couple of starters which made it difficult."

The Wolves lost the first game of the weekend against Bloomfield Hills Lahser 4-2 with Courtney Bollman taking the loss. Clarkston soundly beat Mount Morris in the second game 15-0 and Kelly Robinson notched the win on the mound. In the final game of the weekend, Robinson was the losing pitcher as Flushing beat Clarkston 6-0.

"Our sticks were real quiet during the tournament," Land said.

Leading the way offensively for Clarkston was Heather Giroux with four hits, while Missy Parsons and Suzie Giroux added three hits each.

Earlier in the week, the Wolves dropped a 3-1 contest to North Farmington. The game was tied at one in the sixth inning but a throwing error by Clarkston led to two unearned runs for North Farmington.

Robinson took the loss for the Wolves.

"It was a well played game by both teams," Land said.

The second game of the doubleheader was suspended in the seventh inning with the score tied at 5.

Clarkston is currently 11-7 on the season.

Clarkston lacrosse shows improvement

BY KYLE GARGARO

Clarkston News Editor

The Clarkston High School lacrosse team has shown noticeable improvement over last year.

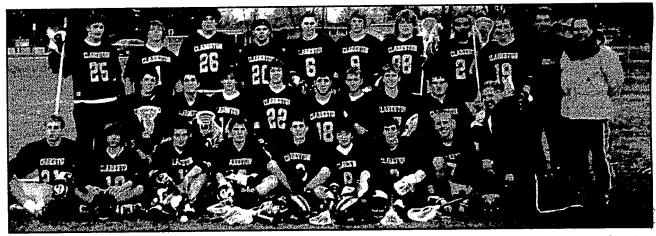

The team, which is only in its third year of existence, is 4-5 on the season with four games to play. Last year the team won only two games.

"The team has made a dramatic improvement," Coach Jack Shader said. "When you get down 10 they start a running clock and last year there was a running clock in about four or five games. This year we have yet to have a running clock against us."

The squad is paced by leading scorer Kyle Sickman who has more than 20 goals this season. The second leading scorer is Matt Corey.

"Corey is a really dedicated guy. He comes in all the way from Fenton to play," Shader said:

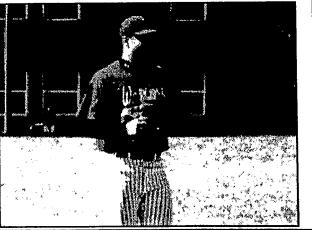

Other key players on the team include goalie Nick

Athlete of the Week - Brett Crawford

Brett Crawford, a 2000 graduate of Clarkston High School, just competed in the 2003 United States Col-Burnash and defensemen Brandon Anderson and Ryan Elliot.

"Brandon gives us some real senior leadership while Elliot is just relentless on defense. He is such a terror on defense the none of our offensive guys like to play against him," Shader said.

Lacrosse is not an official sport at Clarkston High School. It has just recently been accepted by the Michigan High School Athletic Association as a sport for the 2004-05 year. The team will need to petition the athletic department to make it an official sport before it can compete in the MHSAA.

"Most the schools we play have a middle school program which feeds their high school program but we do not have that so it is tough," Shader said. "We have a lot of kids who pick up the stick for the first time and get three or four weeks of practice and they are going against kids who have a year or two under their belts."

Clarkston has a total of 45 players combined on the varsity and junior varsity but are always looking for more players.

lege Athletic Association National Baseball Tournament with Rochester College.

Rochester finished 3-2 and in third place in the tournament which took play in Florida May 5-9.

Crawford was voted honorable mention All-American and finished the tournament with a .400 batting average which included two singles, one double, two triples, a homerun and nine walks.

Crawford is also a scholar athlete who carries a 3.56 grade point average majoring in sports management, business and marketing.

Do you support Clarkston Schools' $83.7 million bond proposal?

"Yes. I used to be a teacher. I'm just retired. The schools are always in need of additional money and space. The needs are constant, I'm in support as long as they are cautious with the money they receive and it benefits students and teachers, not the administration. I'm opposed to administration raises."

— Minnie Koplin

"Yes. I think it is an absolute need. I have two kids in the district -- one going into the high school next year and one at Pine Knob Elementary where they're going to be doing an addition -- and I know how overcrowded it is." -- Jill Hokanson

Milstream A section dedicated to showcasing all the reasons this is a great area to live and work! Couple celebrates 60 years of marriage, even more as friends

BY JENNIFER NEMER Clarkston News Staff Writer

Little did they know when junior high student Bob Howey delivered Rosemary Button's family newspaper on his route, the two would celebrate 60 years of marriage in 2003.

"I was her paper boy," Bob, 82, said.

"He was a smart alec," Rosemary, 80, revealed, with hand shielding her comment from Bob. "He still is. My dad was real tall and when Bob would come to the door to collect his pay, my dad would say, 'I'll take care of this,' so he could give Bob a hard time."

Both born and raised in Pontiac, Bob lived in Rosemary's neighborhood, but on different streets. Bob lived right behind Rosemary's sister and brother-in-law's home.

"We were friends for a long time," he said. "We didn't date until high school."

"We played ball and used to hang under the street light. My mother let us stay out after dark. We thought we were hot stuff," Rosemary remembers.

They can't recall what they did on their first date, but Bob says, "We probably went to Ted's Trailer," a hot dog stand, and popular hangout, at the corner of Woodward and Square Lake.

On May 22, 1943, the two married in West Monroe, La., where Bob was in training with the Army Air Force. He served as a navigational instructor from 1943 to 1945 and was in the Reserve Corps for 10 years following.

At the time, cadets were not allowed to be married. So Bob had to seek permission with his commanding officer who had to seek permission from Congress to bless Bob's marriage to Rosemary.

Early on in their marriage, and in the midst of World War II, Bob and Rosemary were often apart because of Bob's commitment to the Army.

Rosemary would often come back to Michigan, where she worked for the draft board in Pontiac.

She would travel a 36-hour train ride from Detroit to Monroe to see Bob. "Back then, they had old steam engines. You'd be a mess by the time you got there; just so dirty."

They moved around a lot for the service from Louisiana to Georgia to Massachusetts to Washington.

"We moved from different places. We'd stay wherever we could find a room," Rosemary said.

Often times that meant with other military couples.

After the war, the Howeys returned to Pontiac and began raising their family. Soon their place couldn't hold them and they relotors language arts for the disabled.

"All are assets to society," Rosemary said, who worked 20 years with Independence Township, retiring as Director of Elections in 1992. "I've always felt that way about our kids. They're very conscientious, and are successful with their jobs. We put three people into society that have improved it." The Howeys also have three grandchildren:

Barbershop chorus includes many Clarkston residents

BY KYLE GARGARO

Clarkston News Editor

Some Clarkston residents are singing with a purpose. A total of 11 locals are members of the Pontiac-Waterford Big Chief Barbershop Chorus who recently kicked off their 60th year.

The group has a total of 63 members.

"We are just a group that believes in good fellowship and good singing," Clarkston member Walt DeNio said. "We really have a good time doing this."

The chapter was started by a small group of employees at the General Motors Engineering Building. Men used to gather during lunch in the lobby and sing old songs. They learned to harmonize by ear and eventually recruited the necessary 20 members to form a chapter. They were granted that charter on April 17, 1943. The group was formerly known as the Merry Motormen, but was renamed the Big Chief Chorus in 1998.

Bill Pascher, one of the original founding members, is still active after 60 years and sings with the group every week.

DeNio has only been a member since 1997, but enjoys it nonetheless.

"One of my friends invited me into the group and I have been hooked ever since," DeNio said. "There were only about 15 members when I joined. We have grown a lot in the past few years."

The chapter meets every Tuesday evening from

Barbershop chorus names executive board

The Pontiac/Waterford Chapter of the Barbershop Harmony Society recently installed its Executive Board for 2003.

Individuals included Pete Mazzara, president; Jeff Doig, secretary; Zaven Melkonian, member-atlarge; Dick Johnson, treasurer; Chris Miller, chorus director; Chuck Murray, member-at-large; Irwin (Doc) Mann, vice president of chapter development; John Smith, vice president of music and performance and Gene Downie, past president.

7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. at Crary Middle School in Waterford. However beginning June 3, the chorus will be meeting at the Fellowship Hall at Central United Methodist Church at 3882 Highland Road in Waterford. DeNio said visitors and new members are always welcome to attend.

"Previous experience or training is not needed. A lot of people who did not believe they were great singers are amazed at how good they sound when they sing with the group," DeNio said.

The group keeps itself busy throughout the year. They hold an annual fall show in the first week of November at the Clarkston High School. The show last fall included performances by the Chapter Chorus and its quartets as well as performances by the CHS barbershop chorus, a community chorus and a championship quartet. This year's show is set for Nov. 8

"It is always a great show," DeNio said. "We put a lot of time into it. We meet once a week but a lot of the singers meet separately with their quartets along with practicing by themselves throughout the week."

The group also holds Christmas season concerts at The Summit Place Mall and offers singing valentines throughout the Oakland County area giving those being serenaded a flower, a photograph to remember the special occasion.

We are a not-for-profit organization and we spend time visiting nursing homes and senior centers as well as businesses in the community over the holiday season. We are often called upon by various groups and individuals throughout the community to perform at various functions," DeRio said.

The chapter recently competed in a competition with Michigan's other 32 chapters and took fifth place. The finish was the highest the chorus has had in its 60 years.

"We had a springtime retreat and had a guest coach who really put us on the right track," DeNio said. "The improvement we made from the previous year was great. We really got rave reviews from the judges about our performance."

Clarkston members in addition to DeNio include Bill Auquier, Walt Bachmann, Neil Braun, Tom Ford, Jan Graham, Roger Holm, Al Monroe, Art Ripley, Dennis Robinson and Jeff Spires.

Information can be obtained by calling (248) 922-9090 or checking the chapter website at www.pontiacchapter.com.

Day of prayer

The first Thursday in May has been declared a National Day of Prayer for several years, and local communities have hosted events to commemorate the day.

Area churches organized a prayer event outside the Springfield Township Library at noon Thursday, May 1, with local ministers and laypeople offering specific prayers for national, state and local government leaders and the armed forces.

Earlier in the day, the faithful from the Clarkston area enjoyed a prayer breakfast at the St. Daniel Catholic Community Cushing Center with syndicated columnist and former WDIV-TV investigative reporter Mike Wendland as special speaker.

Rev. Marc Burnett offers prayer for national government leaders. Other area ministers and laypeople joined in praying for elected officials as well as other civic leaders.

The courtyard of the Springfield Township Library drew a small crowd at noon Thursday, May 1. The day began with rain, but skies cleared for the hour-long prayer event. Photos by Don Schelske.

Beth Williams sings "America the Beautiful" to open the National Day of Prayer event at the Springfield Township Library, with Eladio Quintanilla Jr. accompanying on guitar.

doesn't have to be cool riter believes

"Thought church was boring? So did we." I passed this message on a sign in front of a church in Genessee County, who boasts their contem-Just Jen phasis?

The focus should be Christ, but many churches seem to downplay this and highlight something of less importance. I've seen so many churches today try to use "hip' to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God's will is -- his good, pleasing and perfect will." (Romans 12:2 NIV)

We, as believer of God, are to be the light of the world. "You are the light of the world. A city on a hill cannot be hidden. Neither do people light a lamp and put it under a bowl. Instead they put it on its stand, and it gives light to everyone in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before men, that they may see your good deeds and praise your Father in heaven." (Matthew 5:14-15 NIV) Many churches and Christians seem to be just a flickering light, afraid to truly shine for the glory of God because we're so concerned about what others think of us. Oh, they might look down upon us because we've "found God" and church. But church isn't something trendy we do. God isn't someone we get to know because He's the latest fad.

porary services.

Another time, the sign read, "The Good News in a contemporary service."

It comes across to me as though the contemporary service aspect is more important to this church than the "Good News."

It sounds as if they're saying, 'We can't attract new members with just the Good News, that's boring. We need something else to get them to come.'

It's almost as if they're embarrassed to be a church, to be identified with Christ, and hopefully will sound "cooler" by advertising their contemporary ways.

I'm really not trying to pick on this church, any church or any one for their contemporary worship preferences. I don't think contemporary is bad. (And I can find problems with traditional church services

A pastor once showed me an advertisement a church sent out that featured an "Absolut" bottle of alcohol on their flyer, but replaced the liquor's name and referenced "Absolute truth." I also saw a recent ad for a church that uses the word "cool." We have nightclubs for Christians, which advertise all the fun of the world -- music, dancing, meeting the opposite sex, etc. -- but without the alcohol.

It's so frustrating and saddening to see this.

With advertising like this, churches seem to be saying, we're acceptable in today's society. People won't think your a loser or a nerd if you come to our church, because we're "cool," contemporary or whatever the gimmick.

Why do churches, church organizations and Christians feel they have to be like the world to attract the world to their functions or beliefs? As followers of Christ, we are supposed to separate

The thing that concerns me is: what is the em- ourselves from the world. "Do not conform any longer

Let's not be afraid to stand for what we believe. or Who we follow.

Let's, as churches and Christians, truly be the light the Lord intends us to be, regardless of what everyone else might think.

Recipe Corner By Lorna Bickerstaff

Sharing her recipe this week is my neighbor, Shirley Klepacki of Brandenton, FL. She originally was from Staten Island, NY and sold advertising space for the New York Times. She has two daughters and two granddaughters. Walter, a policeman in New York, passed away two years ago.

Bread and Butter Microwave Pickles Ingredients:

- 2 large cucumbers-sliced .25" thick
- 1 large onion-sliced
- 1 cup sugar 2 teaspoons celery seed

- 1/teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon mustard seed
- 1/2 teaspoon turmeric (pickling spice)
- $1/2 \operatorname{cup} \operatorname{vinegar}$

Mix all ingredients together in a microwaveable dish. Microwave for seven minutes (stir half-way). Put in jars and keep in fridge.

If you have a recipe you would like to share or request, please leave it at The Clarkston News with your phone number. Next week I have a request for "Vinegar Pie."

WHERE DO I GET A CLAIM NUMBER?

Claim numbers are issued by your insurance company at the time you report your accident. Just jot it down and bring it in with you when you come in to begin the repair process, we will do the rest.

Hello,

CAN I GET A RIDE HOME WHEN I DROP OFF MY CAR?

Yes, We want each customer's visit to be a positive experience and will work diligently towards that goal.

HOW CAN I GET A RENTAL CAR?

If you need a rental car, we offer on-site rental service at a discounted rate. Insurance companies will only pay for a rental car if you have that option on your policy or if you are the claimant. Check your policy and/or call your insurance company to find out if you have rental coverage and what your specific limitations are.

RECOMMENDATIONS AND PRECAUTIONS

WILL THE PARTS BE ORDERED BEFORE I DROP OFF MY VEHICLE FOR REPAIR?

Absolutely. We generally order your vehicle's parts at the time that we write the estimate and schedule your vehicle for drop-off a couple of days later unless your vehicle is found unsafe to drive, then we would help you arrange for a rental vehicle as soon as possible. This enables us to provide quicker turnaround time.

Well, here we are, all moved into our BRAND NEW dealership, just 4 miles north of our old location (1 mile north of I-75). We are better than ever with new State of the Art Collision Center equipment to handle any and all of your collision repair needs. Our collision center is an I-CAR Gold Class certified ship, the highest rating in quality and training principles. Our technicians are all I-CAR, ASE and state certified to repair all makes and models of cars and trucks.

From the smallest ding to complete body repair and refinish, Randy Hosler Collision Center will get your leased or purchased vehicle looking great and back on the road ready for spring in no time at all. We also offer on site rentals as well as shuttle service for all of our customers. Making us your one stop shop for all of your automotive needs. If you have any question please don't hesitate to call me (248) 942-2225 or stop by and take a tour of our new facility.

Have a great day,

Collision Center Manager Randy Hosler Pontiac-Buick-GMC 9603 Dixie Hwy Clarkston, MI 48348 (248) 942-2225

CAN YOU MATCH THE PAINT COLOR?

Today's modern factory finishes incorporate multiple layers of highly specialized paints. We have made a major investment in the finest paint system available and constantly upgrade its technology and equipment to ensure that each vehicle's paint matches. We take special pride in our ability to match factory finishes as the final step in the restoration process.

DO I HAVE TO PAY A DEDUCTIBLE?

The amount of deductible that you will be responsible for is determined by your insurance policy. If you carry broad collision, and you were not at fault, your insurance company most likely will waive your deductible. Insurance companies determine fault by your account of the accident when you make the claim, and by reviewing the accident report filed with the police department. If you aren't sure about your deductible, you can call your agent and he/she can tell you whether your insurance company has waived your deductible or whether you will be responsible to pay this when you pick up your vehicle.

CAN I GET OTHER SERVICE WORK DONE ON MY VE-HICLE WHILE IT IS IN THE BODY SHOP?

Yes. Just let your advisor know what other work you would like done so that he or she can make the necessary arrangement.

RECOMMENDATIONS AND PRECAUTIONS IN

IN THE FIRST 30 DAYS

DO · Wash the vehicle by hand with cool water and a very mild car wash solution using a soft cloth or sponge.

 \cdot Always use clean fresh water. \cdot Wash your vehicle in the shade DON'T · Do not use a commercial car wash. Stiff brushes or sponges could mar the finish and damage the surface. \cdot Do not "dry wipe" your vehicle. Dry wiping can scratch the finish. · Do not drive on gravel roads. Chipping the finish is easily done in the first 30 days. · Avoid parking under trees and utility lines which are likely to attract birds. Bird droppings have a high acid content and will damage a freshly painted surface. Also, tree sap can mar or spot a freshly painted surface. • Do not spill gasoline, oil, antifreeze, transmission fluid, or windshield solvent on the new finish. • Do not scrape ice or snow from the newly painted surface.

Visit Our Website at:Hosleronline.com All Major Credit Cards Accepted

THE FIRST 90 DAYS DON'T · Do not wax or polish the vehicle. This will allow the finish to dry and harden completely. Hours: Mon • Thurs: 8:00 - 7:00 Tues • Wed • Fri: 8:00- 6:00

Couple

Throughout their marriage, they say they've had no major arguments. "We've had our disagreements," Rosemary admits, "but no knock down drag down fights." Except, if Rosemary gets in Bob's way when he's cooking in the kitchen.

"He does all the cooking. He's a wonderful cook. If I did the cooking all we'd have is soup and sandwiches. With him, we have fresh fruit, two to three vegetables...which is probably why we're still here." Both our healthy and active.

Though, in 1977, Bob — who was "in the car business" before retirement with two used car lots in Pontiac among other ventures was told he only had five years left to live. He has had two heart attacks since then, but he keeps bouncing back. The Howeys' children call him "Miracle Dad."

So, as they approach 60 years, what do they attribute to having such a successful marriage?

"When people ask that," Bob said, "I tell them 'None of your damn business."

"I say, 'Because he gives me my own way," Rosemary said. Joking aside, "One of the most important things is respect for each other;" Rosemary said, adding, "and respect for each other's space." For example, she explains, she has her own space in the house with her Web TV and VCR. While, he has his own space where he does his crossword puzzles or watches television.

"If you have these two things, I don't know how you can miss," she said.

"There is one other facet," Bob said, "trust."

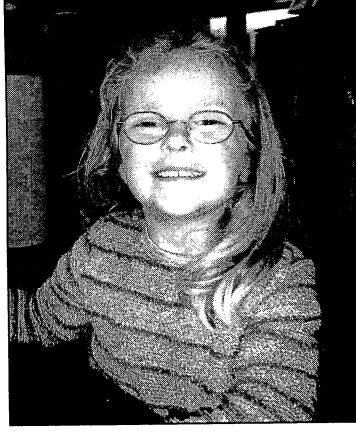

"Oh, I guess I just took that for granted," she says to Bob.

"I knew I would never meet another girl like this one."

Smile of the week

"Respect" and "trust" are two things Bob and Rosemary Howey say have helped them thrive in 60 years of marriage. Photo by Bob Flath.

Drama club got audiences laughing with 'absurd comedy'

The Clarkston High School Drama Club presented Ken Ludwig's "Moon Over Buffalo," May 9-10 at the CHS Performing Arts Center.

"Moon Over Buffalo" follows the antics of George and Charlotte Hay, (played by Dan Howard and Elizabeth Hunt), two aging actors with a second rate theatre company in Buffalo, N.Y. in 1953, who are given one last stab at stardom.

When word gets out that film director Frank Capra is coming to catch the Hays' matinee performance, complete chaos unfolds.

The fast-paced show is full of misunderstandings, mistaken identities, misplaced costumes and mayhem. Throw in a deaf grandmother and family feuds, and the result is a delightfully absurd comedy.
