Leadership Clarkston sets leadership goals

BY JENNY MATTESON
Clarkston News Editor

Members of five public bodies from around the Clarkston area came together once again on May 26 to forge a common goal for the community.

In fact, those present forged three. Leadership Clarkston – a joint meeting hosted by the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce for board members from the City of the Village of Clarkston, Clarkston Community Schools, Independence Township and Springfield Township – established three "S.M.A.R.T." goals:

- form a steering committee by July 1,
- begin a Leadership Clarkston webpage and
- find a way to offer a "daddy-daughter" dance for all municipalities without duplicating services.

S.M.A.R.T. goals are specific, measurable, accountable, result-oriented and time-framed objectives. In this case, Leadership Clarkston was forming ways for those entities present to partner for the betterment of the community.

The idea of combining and opening the "daddy-daughter" dance, currently offered by both Independence Township Parks and Recreation and Clarkston Community Schools, came from a "team" of representatives looking for a specific, short-term achievable goal.

"We were looking for a way to share resources and thought 'Where do we start?'" said Springfield Township Clerk Nancy Strole. "We didn't want to grab something unachievable now. We wanted something that would share resources, ideas and allow for us to work together on the bigger picture later."

Setting the goal for a steering committee began with suggestions from two "teams" of representatives. One team wanted to find a way for those entities present to easily share information. Another team wanted a smaller committee formed to keep Leadership Clarkston going year round. The resulting goal was a steering committee.

The steering committee would be responsible for spearheading the Leadership Clarkston goals, making the public aware of partnerships that already exist between the entities and continuing the open communication of the organization. The committee would be a liaison for sharing information, such as when services can be combined or supplies can be combined to avoid duplication and increase cost effectiveness.

Another team of representatives focused upon wanting the public to be aware of existing partnerships. The idea

Fortinberry answers complaint

BY JAMES MARTINEZ

Judge Dana Fortinberry has answered the formal complaint by the Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission and denied allegations of violating the Code of Judicial Conduct.

The response is the latest step in an ongoing process which, if found guilty of the allegations, could result in Fortinberry's removal from office.

Paul Fischer, the executive director of the Judicial Tenure Commission, said the complaint filed contains two counts consisting of charges against the district judge.

Circumstances surrounding the case date back prior to the August 2004 Primary Election. Reportedly in July 2004, Fortinberry wrote a letter to Oakland County Sheriff's Association Vice President Dave Curtis after the association endorsed Kelley Kostin rather than Magistrate Colleen Murphy, whom Fortinberry endorsed.

According to the two counts, which contain several numbered allegations, Fortinberry made misrepresentations in the July 2004 letter and earlier at a police lodge meeting in March 2004.

In Fortinberry's response, she admits writing the letter to a friend, which was never meant to become public.

In her response, Fortinberry also admits she wrote: "Kelly Ott had an affair with Robert Kostin while he was

Murder trial underway

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The trial of two Independence Township men charged with second-degree murder resumed this week after the holiday weekend recess.

Last week, with jury selection complete, prosecutor Greg Townsend and defense lawyers for both men, completed opening statements before two separate juries.

Lance Allen Schmidt, 21, and Joseph Wells Stapleton, 20, are charged with the second degree murder of Peter Richard.

In 2002, Schmidt and Stapleton pleaded no contest to assault with intent to inflict great bodily harm and received one year in jail and three years probation for repeatedly kicking and punching Richard, a Lapeer resident, after a verbal dispute near the drive-thru window at McDonald's on Sashabaw.

On March 4, 2004, a medical examiner ruled that a pulmonary embolism causing Richard's death resulted from a blood clot in his leg which formed after surgery allegedly made necessary by the assault.

Jury selection and opening statements suggested this trial will come down to medical evidence and discussion of causation.

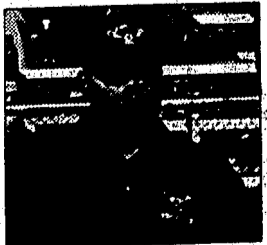

"We appear to have a good, well-rounded jury from all walks of life. From its onset many jurors who were excused

This summer's schedule includes:

- June 17 – Rich Eddy's Rockin' Oldies Band
- June 24 – Blackthorn (Irish music and comedy)
- July 1 – Fragment (Bluegrass, Folk, Country Music and More)
- July 8 – elmoTHUMM (a cappella)

On June 24, the series will host "Clarkston Idol" with concert goers being given the opportunity to perform Karaoke-style to their favorite songs.

New this year are two theme nights:

July 15 is Senior Appreciation Night with added surprises and giveaways for all senior citizens 65 years and older attending the concert.

July 22 is 50's Night in the Park. Concert goers are encouraged to drive their classic cars to the event, dress for the costume contest and enter the dance-off.

Of course all concert goers can look forward to balloon giveaways, face painting, mouth-watering concession items and a Cook's Dairy ice cream stand.

So don't miss a beat, mark your calendars and watch The Clarkston News for profiles on the upcoming performances.

CVP presents 'Friend of Percy D' Angelino'

Everyone is once again invited to join the Clarkston Village Players for another excellent performance – 'Any Friend of Percy D' Angelino is a Friend of Mine,' based on the book by Jason Milligan.

This funny Mafia comedy is about a young actor who arrives in Long Island only to find himself at the estate of a renowned mob boss.

Frankie, the boss, detests movies and determines to have the actor fitted for cement shoes, but is soon warmed to the idea of being glorified in Hollywood by his guest. The laughter abounds as Frankie tries to coach our actor friend on how to portray him.

'Any Friend of Percy D' Angelino' is showing at the Depot Theater for two nights only – June 10 and 11 with both performances beginning at 8 p.m. Tickets are $12 per person.

For directions to the theater or to reserve tickets, please call 248-625-8811. For further information, please go online at www.clarkstonvillageplayers.org.

Coming together to help SMS student

BY CHRISTINA ULAJ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Learning how to ride his bike was a great achievement for 14-year-old Cody Passmore.

However, just as this Clarkston youth grasped the skill, he was faced with a disturbing reality – Cody's bike was stolen off the front porch of his home on May 22.

"He came to school on Monday and he didn't look like himself," said eighth grade Sashabaw Middle School teacher Kim Prentice. "He told me his bike was stolen and he looked like his world was going to end."

Prentice said the SMS faculty felt terrible about Cody's situation.

"Cody is such an amazing kid," said Prentice. "We just wanted to help him out."

Through a conversation with Rick Detkowski of Clarkston Paving, Prentice arranged a new bike for Cody – Clarkston Paving teamed with Kinetic Systems Inc. to bring sunshine back in Cody's world.

"When I heard about this, I just felt like I could help," said Louise Kasl, owner of Kinetic Systems Inc. "Rick paid for part of the bike and I took care of the rest."

On May 25, Cody received his surprise.

"I told him that we were going to tour the new junior high," said SMS Assistant Principal Glen Gualtieri. "So I tricked him."

Gualtieri tried hard to assure Cody had no idea. He even went as far as driving Cody around looking for his bike.

"I asked Cody if he wanted to go to the bike store before the tour, and he said 'I don't even want to talk about bikes.'"

Eventually, the secret was revealed when Cody walked through the doors of Kinetics Systems Inc., only to be greeted by Rick Detkowski, Louise Kasl and his new mountain bike.

Cody, Katl and Detkowski with the new bike.

"I am so happy," shouted Cody.

"His reaction was absolutely priceless," said Gualtieri. "He was shell-shocked."

The bike was made to specially fit Cody. In the end, his day of sorrow turned into an unforgettable moment.

"We would like to thank the Clarkston community, Clarkston Paving and Kinetic Systems Inc. for their support," said Gualtieri.

Mural brings gift of light to home

BY LAURA WEINER
Clarkston News Intern

Milly Gates and her niece Karla Dean wanted to bring some outside light into the dining room of the Heather Pines Nursing Home. Knowing a window was not a feasible idea, they decide to paint a mural.

The mural, painted on a wall next to the dining tables, is an elaborate design imitating an outdoor scene. Framed like a window, the piece pictures birds along with trees and a variety of other outdoor things.

The project was done free of charge, said Dean. She explained that the pair wanted residents to be able to see outside, but since there were no windows, they created the next best thing.

"At first Milly offered to help pay for paint and things, and I said 'No way, you are helping paint.' She is very good at painting birds," said Dean.

"I wanted to do it for my aunt, Tommi Lee who was a resident here before she died," Dean added.

"Tommi always brought out the good in everyone. She always knew how to make people happy," said Gates.

Lee is remembered in the picture by the coffee cup featured at the bottom.

"She always drank with a spoon in her cup. She thought it tasted better that way," Dean said.

The painting also features a quote: "Anywhere is nice to be if you have nice company."

"We got it from a Betsy Clark card," Gates said.

May 24 was an incredible day for the students in Mrs. Comp's third grade class at Independence Elementary. After practicing diligently for over a month, the big day had finally come. These third graders put on a magnificent musical called "City Green" based on the book by DyAnne DiSalvo - Ryan.

The class did two performances - a matinee for the students and staff, and an evening performance for their families. All of these actors and actresses were extremely nervous, but managed to pull off a sensational show.

"City Green" is about a girl named Marcy (played by Dana Olsen) who, with the help of her supportive neighbors, started a petition to turn a junky old lot into a beautiful community garden.

Included in the play were also five songs, dancing and lessons on recycling and caring for our world.

"Mrs. Comp was the best teacher/director ever," said her students.

"These fortunate students will be sure to remember this awesome experience for the rest of their lives," said Comp. "I couldn't have done it without their hard work and the help of some terrific parent helpers."

The cast was made up of Mrs. Comp's third grade class.

Victory is ours...

The last time I spoke directly to the Clarkston community, I was anguished and disconcerted. My heart was taken for quite a ride as my puppy Sasha passed away on April 5.

Updating the community is one of my main priorities, especially since the community showed great support.

On May 18, I had a date with the Grand Blanc Court House; and on that same day, I achieved victory.

As the breeder and myself stood at the podium in front of the judge, I was confident my story would speak for itself. When the breeder began to discuss her side, I knew the case was going to take a while.

The breeder, we'll call her Lisa, completely misrepresented the facts under oath. Instead of defending Sasha and her misbreeding, she personally attacked me. I decided to simply let her speak.

As it turns out, the more she spoke, the better my case. She denied all allegations, but did not know what she was in for as I prepared my side of the case. I was prepared with everything to prove her statements false from phone records to vet bills.

As the table turned my way, my emotions overflowed and I began to speak - not as an angry person, but a person who lost their puppy. I became a little girl in that court room, as I looked to the judge with nothing but wonder on my face.

Why did it have to come to this? Why is the breeder arguing the facts? Am I going to achieve victory for my puppy?

All of these questions came to mind as the judge looked over the stack of documents I provided. After a couple moments of silence, the judge looked at the two of us and spoke these words:

"A puppy worth $1,000 should not have died only three weeks after the purchase. I am awarding Christina Ulaj with $1,070."

So I won.

I don't feel as good as I thought because the money was never a motivation for me. I am alive and walking around, so with time I will be better; Sasha has passed and that is something I will always have in my mind and heart.

To the Clarkston Community, my coworkers, friends, family and the Troy Veterinary Hospital, I thank you from the bottom of my heart. I feel as though we were in this together.

I do have a new addition to my family - a two pound, long-haired baby Maltese, and I call her Sasha II. Once again, thank you!

Christina Ulaj

Regarding the letter by Harry Knitter...

To the Editor,

Regarding the letter written by Harry Knitter in the May 18 edition: Although a knowledgeable man, I feel he made a couple misstatements.

The first one concerns the "sharp lady" who works at the Independence Township Senior Center. Karen Koenigbauer says, "The description of my position as senior services coordinator is entirely incorrect. I am employed through a grant from the Area Agency on Aging as outreach to seniors that may not be aware of the vital services available to them such as meals, homechore, transportation, loan closet, volunteer attorney, podiatrist, tax preparation, and prescription and housing assistance. In addition, to inform seniors of the many social and exercise/health activities the center offers. The feedback I receive about the senior center is entirely voluntary."

The second statement involves the land behind the library. The senior center people, to the best of my knowledge, have never been told the land there is unavailable to us. Independence Township Supervisor Dave Wagner and Clarkston Schools Superintendent Dr. Al Roberts are still in discussion concerning that land as well as other options. We hope to have an answer by June 1.

Yes, we wait hopefully and are told two weeks. Then another two weeks, but they continue to talk - always a good thing!

Wish us luck.

More about 'Bat Boy: The Musical'

Letter to the Editor,

I would like to compliment Elizabeth Mar for her letter in the May 11 edition of The Clarkston News in regard to the Clarkston Village Players recent production of "Bat Boy." I totally agree with her that the material was inappropriate and offensive.

Normally, we invite others to attend the benefit performances with us - this time, we refrained from doing so because the little we did know about the play we weren't sure our friends would enjoy it. Thank goodness we made the right decision!

In January, we attended the production of "Proof" and it was wonderful. As we exited the theater that evening, positive comments and compliments on the acting abound... not so this time.

Sincerely,
Kay Robertson
Clarkston

Thanks for helping recognize those who 'elevate the Clarkston community'

I'd like to take a few moments and thank everyone who helped us recognize and honor the individuals, clubs, organizations and businesses that elevate the Clarkston community experience through volunteer projects and leading by example.

As rich as the talent pool was - and equally difficult to pick through! - it was less daunting due to the fresh, multifaceted talent that made up my committee; thereby making the 20th Annual Michigan Week Community Awards Breakfast at Liberty Golf the best, most exciting to date!

Please join me in congratulating the following individuals and organizations: the 2005 Community Beautification Award went to Clarkston State Bank; the 2005 Community Enhancement Award went to the Clarkston Area Lion's Club; the 2005 Community Collaboration Award went to Bridgewater Apartments Homework Club; the 2005 Adult-Youth Volunteer Award went to Joyce Bleim; the 2005 Young Person of the Year went to 3 outstanding youths: Katherine and Sarah Julian and Bryce Thompson; the 2005 Citizen of the Year went to Steve Hyer; and the 2005 Business Person of the Year went to Tom Lowrie.

Again, wading through the nomination process wouldn't have gone as smooth if not for the team that made up the 2005 Community Awards Committee: Dr. Lanny Orr from Clarkston Chiropractic, Jenny Matteson from The Clarkston News, Erin Atkins from the Watson Group Financial Corp, Mike Mercier from PC Miracles, Scott Sheldon from the National Association of the Self-Employed, Angela Tenbusch from Clarkston State Bank, Debbie Hansen from Oxford Bank, Maureen Murphy-Boyd from GMAC Mortgage, Dr. Al Roberts from Clarkston Community Schools and the chamber staff.

In closing, I wish to also thank Pastor Rick Dake from Clarkston United Methodist Church for the invocation, State Representative for the 44th District John Stakoe, from Congressman Mike Roger's office Stuart Pigler (who drove almost three hours to attend), Independence Township Supervisor Dave Wagner, and the following local florists who gave freely their goods and services in order for us to enhance our presentations: Blossoms and Petals, Candice's Flowers & Garden Center, Clarkston Flower Shoppe, Keepsake Flowers, The Parsonage and Waterford Hill Florist & Greenhouse.

It is important to note that the florists were the only participating vendors that were not compensated at all for their part, so I ask that you please show your appreciation to these fine businesses and patronize them.

Again, thank you Clarkston for making the 2005 Community Awards Breakfast the best ever!

Luc Robert "Slick" Poirier, Chairman
2005 Community Awards Committee

Thanks Mr. Knitter

Dear Harry Knitter,

As I look back on my days at Clarkston High School playing both football and basketball, I would just like to thank not only my coaches and family who have taught me handwork and discipline, but the random people who congratulated me along the way such as yourself.

If you took the time to write about my assets, not accolades, then you must also be my same "type" as a person. I appreciate your kind words in which I am almost displayed as great. Furthermore, I want to say that all I bring is what everyone else can, and that is handwork.

You do not know how many people came up to me to confront me about your letter, so I just want to say thank you, and also to The Clarkston News for covering myself and many others.

Sincerely,
Scott Lyons

A Look Back

At our community's history through the pages of The Clarkston News

15 YEARS AGO (1990)

• Teachers, board ratify contract: Clarkston teachers will receive a 6.25 percent pay raise and a change in insurance beginning in August.

The elements are a part of a new two-year contract ratified by both teachers and school board in separate sessions May 29. The contract affects 298 members of the Clarkston Education Association, the teacher's union starting in August of 1990.

• Memorial Day quiet in area: Independence and Springfield townships successfully survived the Memorial Day weekend casualty-free this year.

This is quite an accomplishment considering Memorial Day weekend is one of most accident-laden times of the year. AAA authorities estimate that Americans traveled nearly 920 million miles during this three-day period.

25 YEARS AGO (1980)

• Weed killers float from Mill Pond into surrounding water: Water from the herbicide-treated Clarkston Mill Pond has been flowing into Parke Lake since day one of the May 19 treatment.

But lake residents are not in any danger, according to Steve Sadewasser of the State Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

• Priest celebrates 25th: The Rev. Charles E. Cushing is to celebrate his 25th anniversary in the priesthood with a special mass and open house Sunday, June 1.

The mass is to begin at 3 p.m. at St. Daniel Catholic Church where Father Cushing is pastor.

50 YEARS AGO (1955)

• Seniors Returned Sunday From Washington Trip: The Seniors of the Clarkston High School, 51 of them and their class sponsor, Mr. Edward Hintz and Mrs. Hintz left the Clarkston High School on Wednesday afternoon, May 25, by Greyhound bus to start the trip they had anticipated almost since they graduated from the eighth grade. When they left Mrs. Hintz was wearing an orchid that had been presented to her by Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Jones.

• Farm Bureau Has Interesting Meeting: The Clarkston Farm Bureau met at the Township Community Building on Wednesday evening of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Drake and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Theriot were hosts for the evening. Gordon Bates was the chairman and Mrs. George Perry was the discussion leader.

• Recital Tonight at Waterford High: The annual Ballet Recital will be held tonight, June 2, at 8:00 o'clock in the Waterford High School. This recital climaxes 35 weeks of classes which have been attended by about 200 students. Tickets are available at the door.

The program will be in three parts: The Bunny Ballet; The Scarecrow Frolic and The Debutante Ballerina.

There were 7 bad words, now there are six

Several years ago comedian George Carlin did a routine on the seven words you can never say on television. I didn't go, but one of his appearances was at the Fisher in Detroit. Jim Fitzgerald, now retired back-page columnist for the Free Press, went just to make sure he knew them all.

Recently someone sent some Carlin writings he composed after his wife died. Here are some of his sort of surprising excellent thoughts: "The paradox of our time in history is that we have taller buildings, but shorter tempers, wider freeways, but narrower viewpoints.

"We've learned to make a living, but not a life. We've added years to life but not life to years. We've conquered the atom, but not our prejudice. We've learned to rush, but not to wait.

"These are the days of two income homes, but more divorce, fancier houses, but broken homes. We build more computers to hold more information, to produce more copies than ever, but we communicate less and less.

"We have multiplied our possessions, but reduced our values. We talk too much, love too seldom and hate too often. Remember to say "I love you" to your partner and your loved ones, but most all mean it. A kiss and an embrace will mend hurt when it comes from deep inside of you.

"And, always remember - Life is not measured by the number of breaths we take, but by the moments that take our breath away."

By the way, only six of the seven remain unspoken on regular television channels. I've been told you can hear them all on cable.

Redneck and blonde jokes continue. My Christmas present Redneck calendar had this one, "You might be a Redneck if you have ever decorated a birthday cake with a caulk gun."

Hazel used to chide me for mowing the lawn more often than she thought it needed. I probably did, but I enjoy doing it. Recently a half dozen or more males were lined up at a rest stop urinals, when they heard me tell my travelling pal, "I love to mow lawn," in unison all said, "You can mow mine!"

Last week I broke out with hundreds of red spots on my stomach and chest. Somewhat alarmed I asked my doctor what infection I'd contacted. It took seconds for him to remind me not to fry bacon with my shirt off.

I'm well aware that the overwhelming majority (4 of my 5 readers) are senior citizens. This one is really for us:

PILLS
A row of bottles on the shelf
Caused me to analyze myself
One yellow pill I have to pop
Goes to my heart so it won't stop
A little white one that I take
Goes to my hands so they won't shake
The blue ones that I use a lot
Tell me I'm happy when I'm not
The purple pill goes to my brain
And tells me that I have no pain
The capsules tell me not to wheeze
Or cough or choke or even sneeze.
The red ones, smallest of the all,
Go to my blood so I won't fall
The orange ones are big and bright
Prevent my leg cramps in the night
Such an array of brilliant pills
Helping to cure all kinds of ills
But what I'd really like to know
Is what tells each one where to go?

Time to end this: While driving in Pennsylvania, a family caught up with an Amish carriage. The owner of the carriage obviously had a sense of humor, because attached to the back of the carriage was a hand printed sign, "Energy efficient vehicle. Runs on oats and grass. Caution: do not step in exhaust."

Death by hamster

I can't help it. I know it's not funny. I know it's not a joke. But "death by hamster" just sounds funny to me.

I am bad.
I'm going to Hades.

I can't help it. I can't stop thinking about those three folks who died because they received donated organs infected with some sort of yucky hamster disease.

The actual circumstances surrounding their deaths is sad. How and what did they die from? Read on.

According to a report from the Boston Herald of May 24, "Three critically ill patients -- including two from the Bay State -- died from what they thought were lifesaving transplants because the organs they received were infected by a virus transmitted by the donor's pet hamster, health officials said . . .

"Four people -- two from Massachusetts and two from Rhode Island -- underwent transplant surgery on April 10 and 11, after receiving the organs from a woman who died from an embolic stroke.

"The Rhode Island woman's organs were tested -- and cleared -- for several infectious diseases but not for lymphocytic choriomeningitis virus, or LCMV, a viral infection she got from an infected hamster she bought three weeks earlier at Petsmart in Warwick, R.I."

At times, I have heard folks discuss how they want to die. Most folks chuckle and throw out, "Peacefully in my sleep." Some simply say, "Quickly and painlessly." I have heard, "In battle."

I even heard, "By drowning in a vat of beer."
I have never heard of death by hamster.

Personally, I don't like thinking, let alone talking, about death. It is not in my scope of interpersonal communication topics. I mean, I feel bad when folks die. I feel sad when someone I know, and love, dies. I feel pained when I learn of people being killed in a disaster or in war.

rush
don't rush
me

I just don't think or dwell on it. There is too much to think about when it comes to life and the land of the living. There's a wife to love. Kids to raise, bills to pay, home repairs to be made . . . you get the picture.

Well, dangblab! Death never was a part of my thinking until this darned story. Here's more from the Globe article:

"The only other known incident of LCMV-infected organs causing a death occurred in Wisconsin in 2003.

"Humans become infected with the virus when they come in contact with rodent urine, feces or saliva. In healthy people, LCMV usually only causes flu-like symptoms.

"But organ recipients get drugs that suppress their immune system to help prevent organ rejection. The downside, officials said, is that they are more vulnerable to infectious disease. Officials would not identify the donor or victims, citing privacy laws."

I guess the only way to get out of this column is to change the subject . . .

Some rat frackin' blastin' body "charged" me with "aiding and abetting MDA with the intent of helping area residents with Muscular Dystrophy. It's part of the annual MDA Lock-up program.

And, while I abhor asking people I know for money, I do it when I have to. If any body wants help. Drop me a note.

Kinda wizzed off at Star Wars magnet George Lucas. The latest episode is not good for kids under 13, which is fine and dandy. This is America -- make the movie you want -- just don't merchandize it to the 10 and under with toys at every fast food chain in the world and light saber spoons in kids' cereal AND stop promoting it during kid time on TV.

Can't wait to break the news to 7-year-old Shamus and 5-year-old Sean that they can't go to the show to watch Star Wars.

They've only been talking about it for six months -- when they first saw a preview for it at a showing of some movie like Robots or Finding Nemo.

Man sentenced on CSC charges

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

David N. Benton of Springfield Township was sentenced on May 17 for charges of second degree criminal sexual conduct, possessing child sexually-abusive material and committing a crime with a computer.

The sentences for the two counts of second degree criminal sexual conduct are both three to 15 years. On the eight counts of possessing child sexually-abusive material, Benton received sentences of 15 months to four years. A penalty of 18 months to 7 years was given for the eight counts of committing a crime with a computer. All sentences run concurrently.

Benton was arrested in November 2004 after a woman employed to clean his home came across evidence of pornography.

Investigators later found evidence of pornography on Benton's computer and then interviewed two children who were allegedly victims of sexual assault.

Woman charged with resisting arrest

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Reports stated a 40-year-old Independence Township woman resisted police arrest when officers attempted to pick her up for a felony warrant.

According to the report, the woman tried to close her front door on sheriff's deputies when officers grabbed her arm and attempted to pull her from the apartment. Reports said a man inside the apartment attempted to help the woman resist by holding her other arm.

The report states that police eventually pushed the man aside and gained control of the woman. According to reports, the man assisting the woman was actually assaulted by her with a beer bottle prior to this incident, which resulted in the warrant in the first place.

According to the sheriff's report, officers placed the woman in a patrol car and asked if she needed medical attention, to which she responded "yes." As the deputy called for medical assistance, the report states the woman kicked out the safety screen of his patrol car.

Officer's stated in the report that upon arriving, medical responders opened the squad car door to assess her condition. Reports state at this time the woman tried to escape, and kicked several officers as they restrained her.

Charges of obstructing and resisting police arrest have been filed against the woman.

Springfield Plains Elementary students learn about newspapers

BY JENNY MATTESON
Clarkston News Editor

Right now there are 62 elementary students running around Clarkston with a whole new way to torment their parents – newsprint tattoos.

On May 25, I headed over to Springfield Plains Elementary for Festival Day. This year's theme was communication and your very own local editor was given the opportunity to shape the minds of some of Clarkston's brightest, including teaching them how to get a newsprint tattoo.

What is a newsprint tattoo? Simple, a tattoo you can put on your skin from newsprint. Here, try – moisten your thumb, pick a small face, object or group of words, press down, hold and lift. Voila, newsprint tattoo.

Okay, seriously now, the students did learn a little bit about newspapers and communication during my workshops.

To begin, we discussed the role of a community newspaper, what reporters do and why newspapers contain advertising. We talked about layout, stories and pictures.

Then we really got down to business, literally. In each workshop, I selected a volunteer reporter and photographer. The students in the workshop then went through the "newspaper" process step by step.

Their goal – to communicate to area residents who participated in my workshops while learning about being a reporter for a newspaper.

First, my volunteer photographer set up the students in each workshop for a picture. The kids learned about how much time this takes (especially when doing a sports team such as football) and how difficult grouping those in the photo can be.

Second, the student photographer then took the picture themselves with my digital camera. Let me take a moment to give my youngest Clarkston News photographers one more thank you: Brooke Henney, Devon Ducharme, Edward DeWitt, James Mann, Haley Maloney and James Russell.

Third, my volunteer reporters then gathered everyone's names in order. The students learned about reporter's courtesy and to always double check the spelling of someone's name. They also learned that not everyone likes to be in the newspaper or be cooperative.

Thanks to all my guest reporters: Isaac Mansour, Sarah McCallum, Brendan Greenlee, Karoline Holsbeke, Gage Cleaver and Elisabeth Wolf.

After collecting the names, the young journalists assisted me in laying out an actual picture page for this week's edition. They wrote the headline, the cutlines and decided whose picture would be where.

At the end of each workshop, the kids asked great questions: How long does putting a newspaper together take? Why does ink get on our hands? What is an ad?

Thanks to everyone for a great day!

We're Helping Doris Biscoe Live Life to the Fullest!

My back has bothered me for years. The pain caused me to miss work, miss family functions, and plan life around my back pain.

I had tried several forms of treatments seeking relief, even hospitalization. Some gave me temporary relief, some, not at all. The pain was consuming my life.

After completing the 10 week program at POH Medical Back Care and Pain Management Institute, my back problem are simply a memory. I haven't felt this good in years. I also have the knowledge to prevent the symptoms from recurring. THE PAIN IS GONE!!

I highly recommend the program at the Back Care and Pain Management Institute. The professionals listened and then treated the cause of my symptoms — not just the symptoms alone. All of these great results — and their located in my hometown too!

Wolves slugging their way to Districts

BY NOAH PURCELL

Clarkston News Sports Writer

The Clarkston Wolves waited until the absolute last minute of the season to register a victory over the OAA Division I leading and No. 8 ranked team in the state, Farmington – a feat Clarkston accomplished on May 25 with a 5-4 victory.

With the game tied in the bottom of the seventh Frank Davis drew a two-out walk and was doubled home by Steve McIsaac, whose game winning RBI also netted him the win on the hill.

“We had nothing to play for but pride and our boys came through,” said Clarkston Coach Phil Price.

The Wolves had already had two meetings (April 27 and May 23) cancelled with Farmington this season, a team which behind a 22-4 record barnstormed through the league after moving up from Division II a year ago.

McIsaac’s seventh inning heroics were set up by Eric Ogg’s solo home run in the fifth inning, which tied the game at 4-4. McIsaac entered the game as relief in the second inning and pitched six innings for the win.

The victory against Farmington caps a five game winning streak for Clarkston to finish the season 19-10.

On May 24, Clarkston won both games against Waterford Kettering, 6-3 and 2-1. Mike Navarre was the winning pitcher in the first game and the Wolves rode Josh Hall’s two-hitter to victory in the nightcap.

“(This season) we have not had just one kid step up for us,” said Price, speaking to his team’s depth.

Clarkston’s first round district match up with Pontiac Central on May 31 finished too late for this edition of The Clarkston News.

Should the Wolves advance they will face Waterford Kettering again in the district semifinals on June 4 at 10

Mott and Pontiac Northern district semifinal at 2 p.m. the same day for the district crown.

Soccer hopes road untraveled flows downhill

BY NOAH PURCELL

Clarkston News Sports Writer

The Wolves soccer team definitely ground some gears on their way to a 4-9-5 record this season, but the wheels came off in the last week of the season as Clarkston failed to register a goal in its last three games.

Clarkston lost to Stoney Creek 5-0 on May 20, tied Grand Blanc 0-0 on May 23 and lost to Dondero 3-0 on May 24.

An anemic offense has bothered the Wolves all season, but, in a match which finished too late for this edition of The Clarkston News the team got a chance to mend their scoreless ways on May 31 against Davison in the first round of Districts.

One thing the Wolves may have going for them is the severe level of competition in the OAA Division II may make the Flint area teams which populate Clarkston’s district draw seem tame by comparison.

“I would hope so, but I wouldn’t bank on (having an easier time with Flint area schools). They are going to be very pumped up,” said Clarkston Coach Annette Richardson.

Should the Wolves advance they will face Carman Ainsworth in the district semifinal on June 2 at Grand Blanc at 3 p.m.. The District final is scheduled for June 4 at Grand Blanc at 10 a.m.

Athlete of the Week – Liz Mengyan

BY LAURA WEINER

Clarkston News Intern

The Athlete of the Week is Liz Mengyan, who in addition to that title, also received an award from the Clarkston Athletic Department that made her Athlete of the Year.

Mengyan runs cross country and track, and is a four time All-State Dream Team selection. According to Head girls cross country coach and Assistant Coach for the girls track team Jamie Labrosse, Mengyan is also All League, Region, Country, and State over the past few years.

“She is the most decorated runner I’ve ever coached,” said Labrosse.

“A lot of kids tend to get senioritis. She’s looking to have her best year this year,” Labrosse said.

Labrosse continued to say that Mengyan is not only a great runner, but also the owner of a great spirit.

“She is a distance runner, but we’ve run her 200 when we needed someone there. She has run races back to back and has never complained,” Labrosse said.

Mengyan will head to the University of Illinois on a cross country scholarship next year. She will pursue a degree in kinesiology.

Girls track team tuneup for states continues

Come within inches of league title, boys take stock in personal victories

BY NOAH PURCELL
Clarkston News Sports Writer

The Clarkston girls track team came within five points of stealing a share of the league title from Troy on May 24.

One part of the Wolves winning formula was realized when Troy (7-0) finished in third place at the OAA league meet with 81 total points. The Wolves (5-2) could not manage to vault over Pontiac Northern to satisfy the other part of the league winning equation, finishing with 104 points to Northern's tally of 108.

In the meet Clarkston's Jenny Morgan won the 3200 and the 800, Gillian Nordquist won the 1600 and the 3200 relay team of Liz Mengyan, Nikki Kraus, Lisa Sickman and Lyndsay Smith also finished in first place.

Having seen his team go all out at the OAA league meet and on May 20, on their way to winning regionals, Clarkston Coach John Yorke did not want to risk any injuries to any of the Wolves state qualifiers at the County meet on May 27.

Clarkston still managed a fourth place finish, which featured one of the fastest times in state history with a 9:14 in the 3200 relay by Morgan, Mengyan, Smith and Sickman. The division 1 state record is 9:13.83 set in 2000 by a team from Rockford. Smith also won the 800 at the County meet with a time of 2:16.

Representing Clarkston at the state finals on June 4 will be Morgan (1600, 3200) Mengyan (1600), Sickman (1600), Smith (800), Nordquist (3200), Oltman (3200) Stephanie Parkin (100 hurdles, long jump) Stephanie Thorstad (long jump), Taylor Rademacher (high jump) and Autumn Touchstone (100 hurdles).

The boys team did not enjoy the same success as their female counterparts over the course of the season or the past week. While Clarkston's girls team has looked to win meets like regionals and qualify mass amounts of the team for states, the boys have lived their coach Walt Winiemko's ethos of improving, competing and enjoying each meet.

The most notable performance for the boys team came at the county meet as the 800 relay team of Nick Devault, Pedro Matos, Jesse Kessler and Greg Knappe made the finals and finished in seventh with a time of 1:31.8.

Softball saves best for last

BY NOAH PURCELL
Clarkston News Sports Writer

While navigating through a regular season fraught with learning experiences derived from many tough opponents and losses, the Clarkston baseball team finished on an positive note - getting their first shutout of the year against North Farmington, 5-0 on May 25.

All things being equal once again now that the district tournament has arrived, Clarkston Coach Don Peters likes his team's chances.

"The girls have been in a lot of tournaments. It's a different feeling, getting ready for districts ... it's possible we can win (the district tournament)," said Peters.

The Wolves will match up against Waterford Mott at the Clarkston softball field on June 4 at 10:30 a.m. in the opening round of districts, which due to Pontiac Central's ineligibility this year will also be a semifinal game. Should Clarkston advance they will face the winner of the Waterford Kettering and Pontiac Northern tilt, later in the day.

Looking back on his team's 10-21 season, Peters feels the foundation has been laid for success for the Wolves next season and beyond. This year's iteration lacked any seniors and at times started several freshmen.

"With health and experience, all of the things which went wrong for us this year should go right next year," said Peters.

According to Peters, Junior Katy Kleinedler provided leadership for the Wolves, both behind the plate from the catcher position and with a bat in her hand. Peters also raved about Junior Megan Sperry, who pitched the shutout of North Farmington, who also displayed tact at the plate and speed on the base paths. Peters also felt freshman Katie Smith was described as "coming around offensively and defensively" as the season progressed and learned a great deal from Kleinedler.

Improve yourself through healthy curiosity

By Ernie Harwell

I've always believed that one of the best things a person can do, from a mental perspective, is to develop a curious mind about life.

One of my favorite hobbies is asking people about their families, where they grew up, their jobs, where they grew up, their jobs, whatever. I joke that I'm the biggest busybody around, but the truth is that I like finding out about people, what experiences have shaped them, what makes them tick. It's great fun and a wonderful way to learn and build relationships with people.

There are other things we can do, too, to exercise our minds. Next time you come across a word you don't know, instead of skimming by it, find a dictionary and learn about it. What does it mean? How did it originate? How is it used? It might just stick in your head for the next time you're searching for that perfect word or phrase.

Traveling is another great way to expand your horizons and see how other people live. Our country is so beautiful and diverse, and full of learning opportunities. I also highly recommend traveling abroad, if you're able, because it can really give you a new perspective on the world and life.

When we cultivate our minds, we improve ourselves and become more well-rounded. And that's a healthy way to be.

And remember, take care of your health before it's longggg gone!

Ernie Harwell, "the voice of the Detroit Tigers" for more than four decades, retired after 55 years behind a major league microphone. Today, at age 86, Ernie's days are filled with serving as a health and fitness advocate for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, public appearances, writing, traveling and taking long walks with "Miss Lulu," his wife of more than 60 years. His latest book, a collection of his baseball columns titled "Life After Baseball," is available at local bookstores or by calling 1-800-245-5082.

SMS students thank seniors with ice cream

Students from Sashabaw Middle School invited seniors from the Independence Township Senior Center to an ice cream social event on May 18 to cap their service learning project on the Great Depression.

The students not only researched textbooks, but also were fortunate enough to hear real life stories.

"I think the students learned more this way than just reading about the 'Depression' in books," said Margaret Bartos, Independence Township Senior Center director.

"I think this is an excellent generational program."

Bailey Lake students perform play on stage

BY CHRISTINA ULAJ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Take note substitute teachers – students at Bailey Lake Elementary School have you pegged.

The staff and students at Bailey Lake enjoyed a production of "Substitute Play" on May 24. The play is about a substitute teacher coming into a new classroom of plotting students.

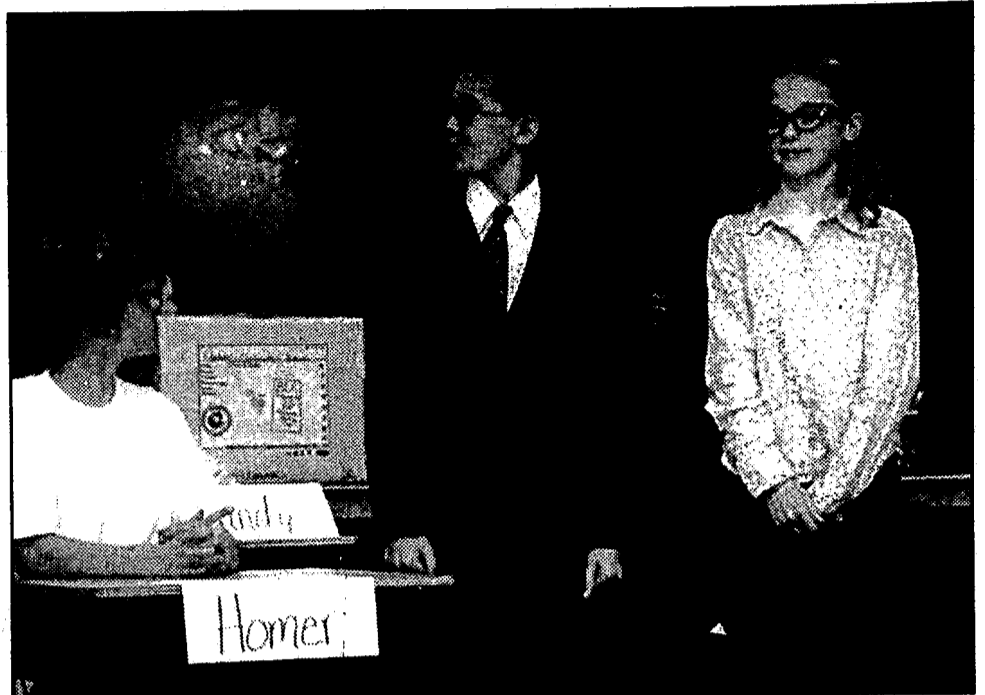

The youngsters know their would-be target – substitute teacher Mrs. Savitiski – is on her way and conspire to be mischievous. They plan pranks and name changes in the hopes of having the teacher right where they wanted her.

To the students' surprise, the sub had her own little plan – to teach the students the art of girning, making a face while reading a passage.

Bailey Lake students were involved with every aspect of the play from costumes to props, invitations to programs.

"I think the kids did awesome," said Holly Kornas, talent development specialist.

Trial

had initial difficulty with the timeline and causation of the injuries," Arnold Weiner, attorney for Stapleton, said.

At the request of defense lawyers, there was a severance of the jury, so that each defendant will have their own jury.

Before the jury for Schmidt and later for Stapleton, Assistant Prosecutor Greg Townsend discussed the prosecution's theory of causation behind the pulmonary embolism. Townsend explained how a fracture to Richard's back was identified by an x-ray but suggested that a herniated disc would not have appeared from the x-ray and was only diagnosed after an MRI conducted well after the original incident.

The herniated disc Richard was having operated on is what the prosecution claims led to the clot and his death.

"When you're stomping the L3 (the fractured area of Richard's back), you're crushing the entire area. No one checked. If they had done an MRI they would have found the herniated disc with the fracture," Townsend said.

Near the end of Townsend's opening statement, jurors saw the surveillance tape of the two defendants beating Richard near the McDonald's drive-thru.

As Townsend has stated before, there is little doubt in his mind that the juries will come to a guilty verdict on the second degree murder charge.

Both defense lawyers questioned the linking of the herniated disc to the beating their clients were involved in.

Michael McCarthy, Schmidt's lawyer acknowledged his client was on the tape and addressed the medical debate in his opening statement to the jury.

"This is not a case about who done it. It's about why Peter Richard died in 2004."

Weiner questioned the validity of the surveillance tape in regards to location of the blows Richard received.

"Only four or five of the punches and kicks shown in the tape come from Joey. The tape does not show where."

The trial will continue this week before Circuit Judge Denise Langford-Morris.

Leadership

was put forward for a website, and Clarkston Schools Superintendent Dr. Al Roberts said he would speak with school board member Steve Hyer, who owns a webpage design company, about donating his expertise for the project.

Chamber of Commerce Director Penny Shanks suggested connecting the page to the chamber website and offered her services as well.

In addition to these three goals, Leadership Clarkston approved the following vision statement:

"The Clarkston area will be a community of choice to live, do business and to work in; where an active and involved citizenry enjoy progressive living in a timeless setting."

Finally, representatives talked briefly about the idea of an annual two-day retreat for those participating in Leadership Clarkston. Nothing definitive was decided on this matter at the close of the May 26 session.

Fortinberry

married to Judie, Judie found out about the affair shortly before her death, and the police investigation was conducted 'quietly' by the White Lake Township Police Chief." She also admitted the police investigation was inconclusive and the case closed as a suicide and sealed.

Fortinberry's statement denies she wrote Judie Kostin's death was a murder with a cover-up involving Robert Kostin, Kelley (Ott) Kostin and local police officials.

The formal response also states a neighbor, Fortinberry, said Kelly Ott moved into Kostin's house less than a month after Judie Kostin's death.

Fortinberry acknowledged she did not attempt to independently verify the truth of the representations and under the circumstances, had absolutely no reason to disbelieve or question the truth of the representations.

A law enforcement officer and a fellow member of the Bar were cited in the response as providing the statements she admits making.

Fortinberry also admitted she had no firsthand knowledge the police investigation had reached an incorrect result. Fortinberry admitted statements presented in her letter raised questions about the moral fiber of Mr. Kostin and Kelley (Ott) Kostin, but she denies having stated either or both were involved in the Judie Kostin's death.

Fortinberry's response cites the First Amendment of the Constitution and Article I, Section 5 of the Michigan Constitution as evidence to bar the complaint against her for engaging in political and/or protected speech.

The response also references Michigan Supreme Court case In Re Chmura, 464 Mich. 58, by stating "the complaint does not sufficiently allege that Judge Fortinberry's purported representations were false, the Judicial Tenure Commission cannot sufficiently establish the falsity of the purported representations, and/or the purported statements on which the complaint is based are, in large part, statements of opinion."

The Judicial Tenure Commission requested the Michigan Supreme Court appoint a master to hear and take evidence in the matter and report to the commission.

According to Fischer, the Supreme Court holds jurisdiction for naming a master. Fischer would not speculate on a time frame for the hearing or naming of the master, but said masters are often retired judges.

According to the procedural guidelines from the Judiciary Tenure Commission's website, (<http://jtc.courts.mi.gov/>) the commission may recommend disciplinary actions against Fortinberry to the Michigan Supreme Court if a preponderance of the evidence shows misconduct.

Matthew F. Leitman, attorney for Judge Fortinberry, was contacted, but did not wish to be quoted.

Lacrosse takes over at CHS

Sports Illustrated recently featured lacrosse as the fastest growing sport in America. It is also Clarkston's fastest growing sport - this year an unprecedented 80 boys tried out for the Varsity and JV teams.

A Junior Varsity "B" team, primarily composed of freshman, was added to feed the passion these boys feel about their sport. For the first time ever, there is a middle school lacrosse program in Clarkston.

Significantly, this is the first year state playoffs were sanctioned by the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA).

Longtime CHS football Head Coach Kurt Richardson is the faculty sponsor for the lacrosse teams and this year, for the first time, Clarkston played all their home games at the CHS football stadium or the CMS soccer stadium. Players have earned their Varsity letter for participating in lacrosse for the past few years.

Second year Head Coach Ken Martin said, "On paper, this is the best team to ever play for Clarkston."

On May 25, the Clarkston team completed a successful regular season (8-5) with a 14-3 drubbing of Royal Oak Kimball. Next up is the Division 1 playoffs, where Clarkston will travel away to take on 10th ranked Novi on May 31 (the results were too late to appear in this edition of The Clarkston News).

Jack Shader, who was instrumental in starting the lacrosse program at Clarkston five years ago, is continually trying to improve the program. This year he recruited Assistant Coach Drew Walkotten who played lacrosse at Birmingham Seaholm and for three seasons at Oakland University. Drew played for what is arguably the best public school team in Michigan. Birmingham is the only public school to ever win the state championship. Drew is a defensive specialist and set up the defensive schemes that helped Clarkston give up only 6.6 goals a game.

The Clarkston team was led by a group of 12 seniors (see Senior Profiles) including five that played lacrosse for four years: midfielders Dan Walsh, Brad Welbourn, & Drew Spencer; attackman Aaron Ehrmann; and defenseman Tom Garavaglia.

This year featured home and away wins against Brighton, Romeo and Grand Blanc and wins on the road at Royal Oak Kimball and L'Anse Cruese North.

Losing a talented group of seniors will be tough for next year's squad, but they retain a talented nucleus including the top two goal scorers, juniors Brent Fisher (25 goals) at attack and Matt Ullrich (18 goals) at midfielder.

Junior Steve Johns played every game in goal and improved steadily throughout the season. He saved 138 shots on goal in 13 games. Returning defenders with plenty of valuable game experience this year were Colin Dabrowski, Brennan Haasse and Ian Schnorak.

Returning letterman on attack will be Justin Blouin, Dave Lawrence, Mike Sasse, Brett Shader and Anthony Swartz.

Returning midfielders include: Scott Cooley, Marcus Craft, David Isaac, Jordan Jennings and Jimmy Tanner.

A talented JV squad that went 10-2 will bring several playmakers and defenders to fill-in for the departing seniors.

As a parent, a fan and the team's official statistician, a position that I created and filled, this season has been exciting as I've watched the team's steady improvement. We invite all to come out next spring at the newly renovated CHS football stadium and become a fan of lacrosse.

[Robert C. Ullrich has been a resident of Clarkston since moving from New York in 1991. A father of 3 Clarkston school age children, his son Matthew plays for the CHS Varsity lacrosse team and his son Daniel plays for the JV B team..]

Senior Profiles by Position

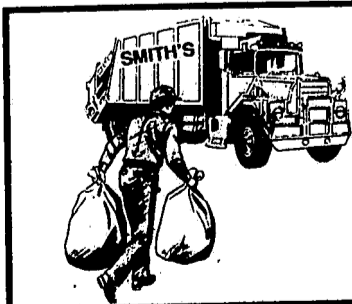

Midfielders run the entire field and play both offense and defense:

Dan Walsh was the team's face-off specialist, gaining possession of the ball nearly two-thirds of the time for Clarkston. Dan was the assist leader on the team setting up 11 goals and scoring 14. Dan is heading to University of Michigan - School of Engineering and will try for the Michigan lacrosse club team.

Brad Welbourn is an accomplished soccer player who used his superb conditioning to play the demanding midfielder position. Brad led the team with 56 ground balls (gaining possession of the ball by picking up a loose ball or intercepting an opponent's pass). Brad scored 10 goals and had five assists. He will attend Central Michigan in the fall.

John Williams was part of the senior midfield 3-W's (Walsh, Welbourn, Williams) who played extensive minutes

Store opening is family affair

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Sandy Timulak worked in a bookstore when a customer suggested she try listening to audiobooks

While Timulak did not like the mystery genre of her first selection, she was intrigued enough to try another. After listening to Envy by Sandra Brown, Timulak was hooked. Ever since then, she has thought about opening an audio bookstore.

That dream became reality on April 29

Great Lakes Audio, located at 6315 Sashabaw Road, provides membership and purchasing options for customers looking to rent or buy audiobooks.

Most books are available on compact disc, but cassettes are also an option. Book topics include everything one would expect in a bookstore. The most popular features currently are business and personal growth themes.

Timulak said she keeps an eye on the future by pursuing MP3 options. She feels keeping pace with technology is important.

So far, various customers with different interests have visited the store. Timulak credits the convenience of audiobooks with being the key to the store's business.

"I listen in my car and at work. I walk around with headphones doing household chores - the audiobooks are hard to put down."

For Timulak, there was no question where she wanted to open her store.

"I grew up here with Clarkston schools and churches," she said. "I like the community. It's a great place to work. I've been all around Michigan. When I had the chance, there was no hesitation. This is where

I wanted to be."

Store hours are from 10 a.m. - 8 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Expect to see Sandy Timulak and various members of her family working - especially since Timulak said she couldn't have started this business without them.

According to Timulak, her family helped ready the store while she worked another job. Her father, Patrick, helped with painting and maintenance. Her mother Rita, sister Denise and daughter Ashley set up. The family also brainstormed to name the shop.

For more information on Great Lakes Audio, please call 248-625-3001.

Star Wars Spirituality

Grab your Darth Vader mask and light saber, the final installment of the "Star Wars" trilogy has arrived! Undoubtedly, the "Star Wars" trilogy has incredibly affected our culture. The impact can be seen from toys and game play, to catch phrases (i.e. "the Force is with you") and gaggles of crowds who are willing to camp out for weeks on end to be the first in line to see "Revenge of the Sith." But does the double trilogy draw a spiritual parallel to our everyday lives? Maybe more than we know.

The story is simple: good guys versus bad guys, a princess in distress, and a boy (actually a boy and his father) who must make the choice of which path their lives will take. This is the basis for thousands of age-old fairytales and bedtime stories that we wish were more than just stories. There is a desire inside us all to experience the excitement and adventure. Perhaps this is what made the "Star Wars" franchise a billion dollar industry. Or is it because there may be something familiar in our lives with the story?

Whether or not George Lucas intended for his intergalactic space opera to have a real life theme of spirituality, there are some powerful lessons and principles that we can take with us from his galaxy far, far away.

The underlying theme of good versus evil is seen within the first moments of the original series and takes the audience on a rollercoaster ride from one side of the universe to the other—much like the Bible. A long time ago, in a heaven far, far away, there was an angel named Lucifer who, much like Anakin Skywalker, make the wrong choice between the forces of good and evil. That single decision has altered the course of human history and put all of mankind in a place of decision between right and wrong.

Is there a real Force? Hold on to your spiritual light sabers because the Bible says there is! Albeit, it may not be an ambiguous source of power that binds the galaxy together, instead the Bible tells us that Jesus sent his comforter, the Holy Spirit, to guide us through our decisions and give us power. Sound familiar?

In the "Empire Strikes Back," we find Luke Skywalker deep within the swamps of Dagobah where his space ship has crashed. An exhausted Luke sits on the bank of the swamp after a failed attempt to raise his ship from the water using the Force. Yoda, the two-foot tall Force guru, merely raises his hand, squints his self-like eyes and raises the ship to safety—all without breaking a sweat. An amazed Luke comments, "I can't believe it!" To which Yoda replies, "That is why you failed."

In the test of rescuing his space ship, Luke was caught in the trap of relying on his physical senses rather than the power of the force. This is also true in our spiritual lives. The Bible says, "We walk by faith and not by sight." We must rely on the power of the Holy Spirit to guide us through our everyday decisions.

In the story of "Star Wars," the conflict of good and evil comes to a climax in "Return of the Jedi," a mirror story of "Revenge of the Sith," in which order is restored to the imbalance of light and darkness. This is also true of our world and future. Although darkness is a current force prevalent in every day life, the Bible says that one day the darkness that has fallen on our world from Lucifer's decision will be snuffed by the light and truth of Jesus Christ.

Today, millions around the world stand in lines to see the fall of Anakin Skywalker and the birth of Darth Vader. But one day, billions around the world will bow on bended knee to see the final fall of Lucifer and the return of Jesus Christ. What a day that will be! Instead of walking out of a darkened theatre and adjust

ARE YOU MISSING TEETH?

Does your mouth feel uncomfortable when you are out at a restaurant? Are you unhappy with your smile? Implants may be the answer. Dental implants are a substitute tooth root, providing same functions as natural tooth root, including stimulating the bone, and thereby preserving it. Since the jawbone forms a bond with the dental implant, there is a stable foundation for replacement teeth that look, feel and function like natural teeth. Come visit us to see if implants are right for you.

"Well Alright!"

CHS student recognized

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Some people sit around and let things happen. Others are bothered by problems, but do little more than complain.

At Clarkston High School Senior Awards night, the community found out what students and teachers at CHS already knew. Sarah Julian is not one of those people.

Julian was presented with an engraved bronze medallion recognizing her selection as a Distinguished Finalist in the 2005 Prudential Spirit of Community Awards program.

"I was pretty surprised. It wasn't something I really expected," Julian said.

Julian was honored for co-founding and leading a peer listening group that supports other students and helps them cope with grief and other problems. Julian and a friend worked with a faculty sponsor to set up the guidelines, goals and training for the group's activities.

Julian discussed the most rewarding aspect of her volunteer work: "Seeing the people that came in to talk to us in the groups. Getting to know them over the year and seeing them change and work through whatever they needed help with."

All middle and high school students in the United States, as well as members of groups like the Girl Scouts or 4-H, were eligible to select a student or member for the award last November.

After being nominated, Julian's selection was reviewed by state-level judges who chose two State Honorees and a number of Distinguished Finalists based on criteria like: personal initiative, creativity, effort, impact and personal growth.

Julian, a senior at Clarkston High School, plans to attend Albion College in the fall and is considering psychology as a major.

Bailey Lake welcomes visitors

BY CHRISTINA ULAJ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Remember having a pen pal? Someone from a far away place, a different culture, almost a different world?

Thanks to telephones, the internet and e-mail, the world has become a lot smaller. Pen pals are not what they use to be.

However, second graders from Bailey Lake Elementary have been holding onto the age old tradition with students from the Arts and Technology Academy of Pontiac.

On May 26, the year-long pen pals met at Bailey Lake for a day of picnicking, activities and playing on the swings.

"This is one of our ways to promote diversity in Clarkston," said Mrs. Iveson, third grade teacher. "This brings the most positive energy when you see the kids interact without prejudice."

The students have been pen pals for the entire school year. Writing a letter a month, the students were able to learn all about their new friends. Then, they were able to put a face with a name.

Bailey Lake Elementary and Arts and Technology Academy of Pontiac are pleased with the outcome, and look forward to participating next year.

Clarkston Post Office: 'Stamp Out Hunger' a success

The annual U.S. Post Office "Stamp Out Hunger" food drive held in the Clarkston area on May 14 was a huge success collecting over 18,000 pounds of food for Lighthouse Emergency Services of Clarkston.

"The Clarkston Post Office extends a thank you to the community for their food donations," said Postmaster Jane Haugen.

Thanks are also extended to the Waterford Harley Owners Group

(H.O.G.) and the ninth grade civics class from Clarkston High School. Volunteers from the Waterford H.O.G. loaded, transported and unloaded the non-perishable food items while the ninth grade volunteers from Clarkston High sorted and stacked the food items at Lighthouse Emergency Services.

"It was a great team effort and your letter carriers thank you for caring," said Haugen.

Postmaster Jane Haugen had nothing but nice things to say about the volunteers who helped the food drive. Photo provided

Garden dedication

BY CHRISTINA ULAJ

Clarkston News Staff Writer

The view behind Andersonville Elementary School is looking bright and prosperous.

The school recently received a new garden, donated by the family of Sue Cattin, former Andersonville kindergarten teacher.

The family left a $9,500 donation in Cattin's memory for the creation of a garden for classroom instructional use. With the help of Andersonville staff, parents and volunteers, the garden is now complete.

The garden is used daily by classrooms for reading, writing and science lessons, not to mention a social gathering spot.

At the May 23 board of education meeting, members recognized the Cattin family with a dedication plaque.

Sashabaw Plains NSDAR honors Dorcas Wolf

On May 11, members of the Sashabaw Plains Chapter NSDAR, located in Clarkston, made a trip to Freemont, Ind. to mark the grave of Dorcas Wolf at The Old Cemetery.

Ms. Wolf, who was a member of the Sashabaw Plains Chapter, passed away on Oct. 8, 2003. The chapter traveled to her resting place to add a DAR marker to her gravestone. According to members who participated, the rainy, windy day cleared long enough for members to hold a prayer service and add the DAR marker.

Following the ceremony, those in attendance gathered at The Herb Garden Restaurant in Freemont to share lunch and personal memories of the beloved friend.

Ms. Wolf was accepted into the DAR on Oct. 27, 1936 as a member of the now disbanded Ann Gridley Chapter of Hillsdale. She transferred in 1977 to the General Richardson Chapter where she served as Regent from 1985-1987.

In 1986, Ms. Wolf was admitted to the Fifty-Year club and was a life member and past president. The Sashabaw Plains Chapter was please to welcome her into membership when she transferred in Oct. of 1991. She was a member of the DAR for nearly 67 years. She devoted many hours to genealogical research.

Those in DAR will remember Ms. Wolf for her gentle kindness, sense of humor and dedication. She will be remembered as a dear friend and she will be missed.

Stars and Stripes gym shines in Junior Olympic competition

BY NOAH PURCELL
Clarkston News Sports Writer

After two years of existence, Stars and Stripes Gymnastics Academy leapt into Junior Olympic competition this year.

The three competition teams not only met owners Becky Foster and Cassie Davis' modest expectations, but vaulted past them.

"We wanted to be successful, but we didn't know what to expect," said Davis. "(Last year) we would compete against five teams. Now we go to a (Junior Olympic) meet and there are 15 teams.

Stars and Stripes fielded teams in Levels 4-6. During their ten season events, Stars and Stripes garnered five first place finishes, three third place and one blue ribbon day.

"(The Junior Olympic) competition is more of a college bound program. This will get them to the level they need to be at for competing on the college level," said Davis.

The members of each Junior Olympic competition team put in 14-16 hours a week during the season, which ran from October to May.

"Coach Nathan (Davis) and Cassie (Davis) poured their heart and soul into the teams," said Brian Foster, co-owner of Stars and Stripes.

Individually, the girls' stars shined just as bright as the teams.

On the level 4 team, Emma McLean, 8, had a season high vault score of 9.75; Haley Ferer, 9, was number one all-around gymnast in every meet except for one; Emilee Incammicia, 9, helped the team on the balance beam; and Brook-Lynn Rudolph, 9, who only participated in one meet, but took second in the all-around.

The Level 5 team featured the largest number of competitors from Stars and Stripes and took eighth place at the state competition in Traverse city on May 13-15.

Jacquelyn Yates, who at age 7 is the youngest competitor for Stars and Stripes, was eighth in the state all-around and fifth on the bars for her age group; Leah West, 9, was eighth in all-around and ninth in bars at states for her age group; Madison Orr, 9, was second in her age group in the vault and fourth in the all-around; Melissa Vanderwege, 10, was second in her age group on the bars and third in the all-around; Carlin Delisi, 11, ranked fourth on the bars at the state meet amongst her peers and seventh in the all-around; Kristina Poore, 11, was second in her age group at states in the all-around standings and finished third in the vault; and Kendra Lampier, 12, was a state champion in the vault and finished third in the all-around standings for her age group.

The Level 6 team from Stars and Stripes took ninth place overall in the state finals held on May 1 in Southgate. Unlike most of the teams they faced, the Stars and Stripes Level 6 did not have the luxury of picking which scores represented them as they only had three competitors.

Paige Locher, 13, was the state champ in the floor exercise and finished fourth in the all-around for her age group; Dannielle Benway, 14, finished second in the floor exercise, which helped her finish second in the all-around standings at states for her age group; and Ashley Raschke finished eighth in the all-around standings thanks to a fifth place finish in the vault.

together. John is a player who hustles on every play, provides excellent defense, and looks to set up his teammates. He recorded 10 assists and five goals. John plans on attending MSU.

Justin Tanner played one year for Clarkston as a midfielder. He was a great team player who was up for every game. He will attend Oakland Community College next year.

Defense - In Lacrosse, like many sports, the glory goes to the offensive players. Defender's efforts in lacrosse don't show up in individual statistics, but the senior group of strong defensive players certainly can be credited with keeping the team's goals against average to less than seven. Next year's team will have a big gap to fill on defense since five senior defenders are graduating this year.

The CHS lacrosse team saw a drastic increase in numbers this past season. A total of 80 youths tried out for the teams. Photo provided

Alex Handley used his superior stick-handling skills to grab loose balls after face offs as the "long-stick middle" and in the defensive half of the field. He played lacrosse for three years at Clarkston. Alex will be playing junior hockey for the Alpena Ice Diggers next year.

Justin Anderson played three years for Clarkston and was a team leader. He played both defense and midfielder. He will be attending Western Michigan to study business.

Chad Gilbert played defense for two years. Chad will be working full time with his Dad this summer and attend Central Michigan in the fall.

Michael Cumper played defense and long pole middle for three years. Mike will join several teammates at Oakland University next year.

Andrew Spencer played for four years at Clarkston as a midfielder and chipped in with one goal and three assists. He will attend Oakland University.

Thomas Garavaglia was the heart of the defense and took personally if anyone was near the goal. His forcefulness led to a team high 10 penalties this season (in 13 games). Tom will be attending the UM Flint studying business and communication.

Anthony Calaman played the "wall" in front of the goalie with his six foot, four inch, 270-pound size. Smaller players frequently bounce off him when trying to check him. Anthony will attend Oakland University to study Engineering.

Attackman stay in the offensive end of the field and are specialists in dodging, shooting and passing.

Aaron Ehrmann is the only senior attackman. In playing only part of the season, he scored seven goals with two assists. His season highlight was four goals against Grand Blanc.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
 You make me see everything and show me the way to reach my ideals. You give me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrongs that are done to me and you are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones, in your perpetual glory. Amen. Persons must pray this prayer 3 consecutive days without asking for your wish. After the 3rd day, your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this dialogue as soon as your favor has been granted. dc

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN
 (Never been known to fail). Oh most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven. Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me you are my mother. O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times). Holy Mother I place this prayer in your hands (3 times). Say this prayer 3 consecutive days. Publish it, it will be granted to you. In loving gratitude, dc
