Wal-Mart still possible?

BY JENNY MATTESON
Clarkston News Editor

The possibility of "big box" development in Independence Township has not gone away – even with a new proposal from Orco Investments Inc. presenting a residentially-based plan.

Orco Investments Inc. owns approximately 70-plus acres at the southwest corner of Sashabaw and Waldon roads near I-75. In February, the company requested a rezoning for the area with the intent to build two regional chain stores (with Wal-Mart and Lowe's being named at one point), restaurants, hotel, shopping complex and assisted living center.

The company considers this proposal Plan A for the site and, in a letter from Robert A. Jacobs to Independence Township Supervisor Dave Wagner, stated Orco has not withdrawn the application for rezoning.

However, Orco did offer an alternative to Plan A on Sept. 6.

In a new Application for Site Specific Relief Authorization, under Section 5.30 of the township zoning ordinances, Orco Investments is proposing a plan with 6.07 acres of commercial development and 64.5 acres of residential. The company is proposing two possible residential densities: Plan B provides for 476 homes, while Plan C proposes 532.

In the letter to Wagner, Jacobs states "in the event of a denial of the application for Site Specific Relief Authorization, it must be understood and acknowledged

Clarkston says, 'Good Morning America!'

Members of the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce, staff from the Union and other residents were filmed in a spot for "Good Morning America" on Sept. 15. A news crew from ABC 12 WJRT-TV Flint/Saginaw filmed the 10 second spot where residents, led by Jason Ryan from the Chamber Board of Directors, said hello to the rest of the country from the Taste of Clarkston. Chamber Enthusiast/Planner Terri Bendes said the spot should air Wednesday or Thursday during the week of Sept. 19. The TV station approached the chamber about the Taste of Clarkston because they like to focus on events that are beneficial to the community said Bendes. The spot was part of a promotional package for the event. Photo by James Martinez

Taste of Clarkston blossoms Sept. 25

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

From its days as the Taste of Independence, the Taste of Clarkston's proliferation into a highlight of the fall season continues into an eighth year.

This year's event features 39 participating restaurants and a wide array of entertainment expected to draw people in the thousands.

"Last year we had an estimated

10,000 people and would not be surprised to hit 15,000 with good weather," said Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce Enthusiast/Planner Terri Bendes. "We've done a tremendous amount of promotion and created a buzz and the word is out."

With two stages of entertainment, an expanded KidZone, a silent auction and special exhibits set up by area businesses, the event offers much more than the area's savory cuisine.

Some unique activities highlighted by Bendes include: Thumbelina the Clown who will have a tent set up for elaborate full face painting, Clarkston State Bank's money cube where participants can catch money and coupons, and a treasure hunt in Tierra Fine Jewelers, in which participants can enter a raffle for prizes at the end.

"I'm really excited about this year. Last year was a risk to expand, but it was like a neighborhood block party. I saw neighbors I hadn't seen in awhile. This year will be bigger and better," said Chamber Executive Director Penny Shanks.

Growth of the event offers challenges to organizers who have seen 15 more restaurants sign on this year.

"We've laid it out a lot better to accommodate the larger crowd so

Lending some helping hands

The coaches and players from the CHS Varsity football team were up early on Sept. 17 to help out the family of one of their own players. The CHS Wolves arrived at the home of teammate Travis Sheffield to finish planting a new lawn. The task was left unfinished after Travis's father passed away unexpectedly on Aug. 31. A truckload of sod, which was donated by Distinctive Landscape, was quickly unloaded by the team and laid out across the lawn. Pictured above, Assistant Coach Phil Price hands off a roll of sod to Craig Alexander, while Nick Johnson waits his turn. Future fundraising events for the family are currently being planned. Photo by Andrew DuPont

Briefly

Friendly Forest tickets on sale Sept. 21

Tickets for the annual Friendly Forest at Clintonwood Park go on sale Sept. 21 at the Independence Township Parks and Recreation office.

The Friendly Forest will take place on Oct. 22. Kids ages 2-9 can walk the enchanted trail with their parents and collect goodies from their favorite cartoon and fairy tale characters. Don't forget to wear your costume!

Tickets must be purchased in advance for a specific time. Tours are every 15 minutes from 4:30-7 p.m. Ticket price is $6 per resident or $8 per non-resident and adults are free. Space is limited so get your tickets early. Call 248-625-8223 for more info.

School board meeting

Due to a high number of items on the Sept. 12 meeting agenda, a second meeting is scheduled for the Clarkston Community Schools Board of Education on Monday, Sept. 26 at 7 p.m. The board is set to discuss the new Community Education Center/Renaissance High School building, and any additional items placed on the agenda. The meeting will be held in the board room of the administration building at 6389 Clarkston Road.

FAIR president coming to Deer Lake

Dan Stein, President of the Federation for American Immigration Reform, will speak at the Deer Lake Athletic Club on Sept. 22 at 7 p.m.

During the North Oakland Republican Committee's monthly meeting, Stein will update the public about immigration legislation, mobilize the public to contact legislators and explain immigration's importance as a social issue, said NORC President Jim Runestad. According to Runestad, the committee has been in contact with Stein for over a year.

"We're extremely excited. In our organization we encourage all sides of the debate to show up," said Runestad.

Hors d'oeuvres served at 6:30 p.m. and a cash bar is available. Stein speaks at 7 p.m. and will field questions afterwards. The public is welcome. The Deer Lake Athletic Club is located at 6167 White Lake Road.

For more information on the event call 248-623-8522. More information on FAIR can be found at www.fairus.org

School open house

The Clarkston Community School District is holding an open house for the new and renovated buildings Oct. 9 between 1-4 p.m. Clarkston Junior High, Sashabaw Middle School, Pine Knob Elementary, Clarkston Early Childhood Center, Clarkston Community Education Building and the District Administration Building will be open to tour, with parents and staff members as guides. Refreshments will be served.

Completed projects include the addition to Pine Knob Elementary, the Board of Education Building, the Early Childhood Center and renovation to parts of the Community Education Center. SMS and CHS additions still require some work and final state inspections and work on the addition to the Community Education Center is expected to continue throughout the current school year.

N.O.D.R.T. looks to work with disaster victims

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Americans have rallied to support those lives devastated by Katrina. One of the unfortunate realities of a tragedy of such magnitude is that even with all the goodwill, there will be great need well after Katrina has faded from the frontpage.

Stan Garwood of Independence Township has seen the distraught faces of those touched by natural disasters during several relief trips with the North Oakland Disaster Relief Team, which plans to work in the devastated Gulf Region in the near future.

"After a disaster hits an area, there's a long term recovery before people get back on their feet," said Garwood. "People outside of the area get gun-ho and jump on the bandwagon donating money and supplies, which is good, but the supplies will be needed over the long haul."

Recently, the group registered with the National Emergency Resources Registry to set up a recovery trip to help those in need in the affected area. The ten-day trip is planned for some time between Oct. 22 and Dec. 10.

NODRT had the trip planned months before Katrina to allow members enough time to resolve scheduling conflicts before focusing on an area to work. With the tragedy in the Gulf Coast Region, the decision was made to go there.

"We're going to expand services to meet the needs of Katrina. We expect to take 35 or 40 people down versus 8 to 10 on previous trips," said Garwood.

Garwood predicts NODRT will be involved in short term disaster relief in New Orleans. He described short term relief as the initial recovery work involving throwing out debris, bringing in supplies and other functions important to victim survival.

"Down in New Orleans, all the houses that have been touched by a higher water level will need to be gutted, including the insulation and wiring," said Garwood.

Co-founder Bob Hadden said there are places he worked several years ago that are still struggling and need help after a natural disaster, and predicts a five year recovery for New Orleans.

"They're still recovering from Hurricane Floyd in parts of North Carolina where we worked in 2000. It takes five or six years to get communities back on their feet and make them able to support the infrastructure," said Hadden.

Garwood says NODRT offers unique help by dealing directly with the people in a hands-on approach, helping them rebuild and recover.

"There's not a whole lot of people who do what we do... We do hands on recovery and rehab work where we will rebuild," said Garwood.

Nearly four years ago, Garwood teamed up with Hadden to form the NODRT, which is a coalition of churches, businesses, organizations and individuals in North Oakland County who bring aid to victims of natural disaster.

The inspiration for the group came as Hadden served as the youth minister at St. Daniel Church in Clarkston and set up a mission trip for adults and youth with the National Disaster Relief Network, said Garwood. A week or two prior to the trip, the Zug River flooded part of southern West Virginia leading to an impromptu reroute to help flood victims there instead of the scheduled location. The group spent four days helping victims.

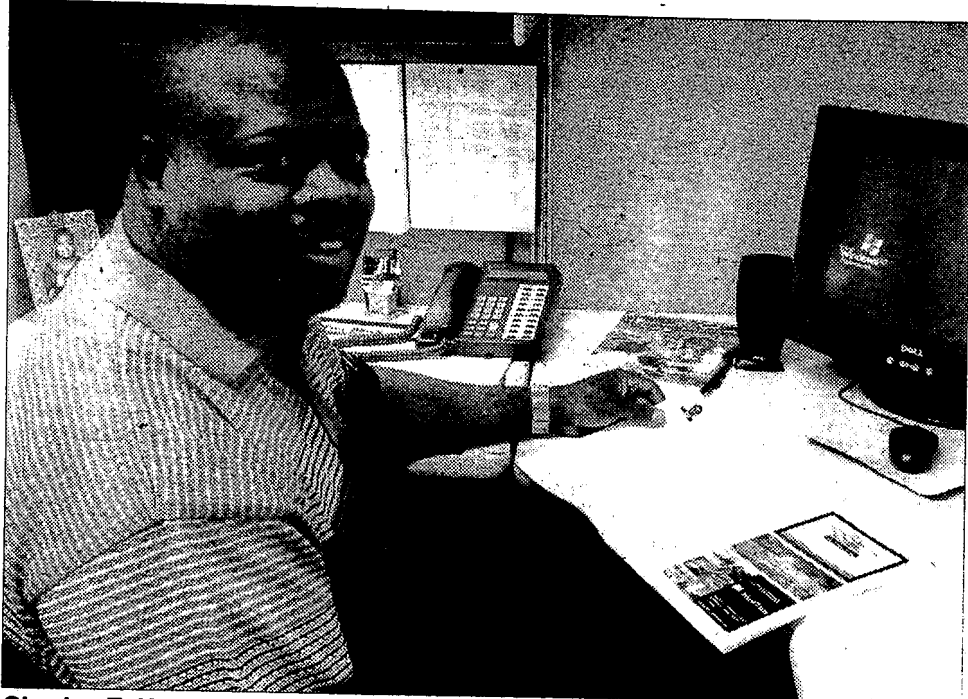

"It was amazing, I'd never seen a whole house moved over two blocks by the force of the water," said

Meet Independence's new deputy supervisor

BY JENNY MATTESON
Clarkston News Editor

Charles E. Herring, Jr. is in a new world. A world of growth concerns, development issues, financial burdens and resident needs. A world full of government.

Herring is Independence Township's new deputy supervisor.

"This is totally different from what I did before," said Herring, who recently retired from the Pontiac Police Department. "I'm looking forward to the challenge."

Herring and his wife Loretta, owner of Heaven Scent Cafe in downtown Clarkston, have been married for 19 years and lived in Independence Township since 1989. They have two children - Courtney, 18, a Clarkston High School graduate currently attending Dennison University in Ohio, and Jonathan, 14, a ninth grader at Clarkston Junior High School.

Herring said he was born and raised in Pontiac and graduated from Pontiac Central. He earned a human resources/development degree from Oakland University. In 1982, he became a police cadet with the Pontiac Police Department.

"I enjoy working with people," said Herring. "It was an obvious choice to be a police officer with where I was born and raised.

"I wanted to be an asset to the community and a positive role model to the young people," Herring explained. "It really is a pleasure to work with the young people, to help them see there are options other than the easy route of drugs and stealing. Education is the way out."

Herring became a full-time officer in January 1983. He was promoted to sergeant in 1997 and then lieutenant in 2001. Before retiring on Sept. 6, Herring spent the last year and a half of his career in charge of the internal affairs division.

Herring began work as Independence Township's deputy supervisor on Sept. 6 after an extensive interview process including two meetings with Supervisor Dave Wagner. He said he learned of the position through a notice in The Clarkston News.

"I was interested in the ability to work in the township where I live and have lived for years. Now I will be able to utilize my human resources degree more," said Herring. "I feel I'm an excellent communicator, and that truly is a large part of this job."

Herring said his other responsibilities include assisting Wagner, ensuring every-

Chamber celebrates success at annual meeting

BY JENNY MATTESON
Clarkston News Editor

The Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce recently took time to recognize and honor the many individuals working behind the scenes.

The annual meeting, held on Sept. 16, gave chamber members, staff and officials an opportunity to say "thanks" for a year of success.

"I'm very proud of the chamber's unwavering commitment to enhance economic growth and community connections," said past-President Dr. Al Roberts in his closing remarks.

As his final act as chamber president, Dr. Roberts presented the President's Award to Tim Patterson of Booth Patterson P.C. and Louis J. Melone of Smith Barney.

"When it came down to it, I had to pick two folks who meant so much to me," said Roberts. "I tend to surround myself with individuals who bring the same intensity and creativity to the table that I do, and these two did exactly that."

The Business Appreciation Awards were expanded this year to include all corporate or higher sponsorships of one or more chamber events. This year, 30 companies were honored.

Other awards presented during the evening included:

- Attitude Award to Kurt Kuehn of National City Bank for "exemplifying a very positive and effective chamber attitude when volunteering for and representing the chamber throughout the year."

- Results Award to Dawn Horner of Clarkston State Bank, Desiree Heck of Max Broock Realtors and Carolyn Parcha of Standard Federal Bank. These individual's "efforts deliver a significant financial impact to the chamber's efforts."

- The TEAM Award went to the Concerts in the Park Committee, chaired by Desiree Heck of Max Broock Realtors. The committee demonstrated "the chamber model of team work, pulling together for a common cause and producing incredible outcomes because of their united effort."

- Donation of Time Award went to Deborah Paul of GMAC Mortgage. This award recognizes a member who volunteers on a committee level and whose donation of time, talent and service to chamber projects has greatly impacted the success of the event or project.

The annual meeting was capped off by the installation of the new year's officers (President Sue Jackson Welker, President-elect Steve Hyer, Treasurer Louis Melone and Secretary Dave Smith) and a word from new President Welker.

"I am honored and I'm looking forward to an exciting year," said Welker.

Welker said he theme for the year is "Wellness in the Workplace."

"We need to find some ways to relieve stress in the workplace," said Welker. "We need to encourage health and wellness."

"We need to stay member focused and work hard to meet our member's needs."

Birthday survival

Guess what – I now have a four-year-old who thinks you get as many birthday parties as your age. See, I have a somewhat unique situation with family and friends: they live far enough away that scheduling one birthday party is impossible, but close enough that at least two always seem to happen.

For example, my little Ethan turned four on Sept. 14, a Wednesday of all days. Worked well for me, the newest edition of The Clarkston News is out and on the stands, and I could vanish for the afternoon to attend one of his four, yes four, birthday celebrations.

The first party took place with Nana and Papa the Saturday before his actual birthday. Like all scheduling disasters, Grandma, Grandpa and the favorite uncle could not attend. However, Great-Grandma and Great-Grandpa had a blast at the Chucky E. Cheese's in Portage.

Party number two took place during preschool. I baked an unheard of amount of cupcakes for the event, and force-fed The Clarkston News staff the rest (confetti cake with the brightest primary colored frosting you've ever seen.) Again, no family members could attend.

The third party was Daddy and Mommy being a little selfish. Daddy wanted his little man to get at least one present on his actual birthday, and after finishing the paper for the week and surviving a cupcake bake-off, Mommy didn't feel like making dinner.

Needless to say, Ethan also expected something a little more since he was absolutely convinced a set of tools would be magically appearing on this most special of days.

Finally, party number four happened this past weekend and included those grandparents, and of course favorite uncle, who could not attend any of the other festivities.

Like I said, I now have a four-year-old convinced he gets as many parties as he is years old.

Not to mention, more gifts for one holiday than any one child should probably receive. Oh yes, I admit it, he's spoiled.

On to another Ethan story: I feel a need to share the cutest part of all the birthday parties.

As I stated earlier, Ethan was absolutely convinced he was getting tools for his birthday. Actually, the original source of this expectation began six months ago when he spotted the desired objects in a toy store.

At that time, Daddy and I said "Well, not today. But maybe you can ask for them for your birthday." Six months later, he not only remembered the tools, but expected them to magically appear on his birthday. (Kinda like Christmas, ya know?)

Well, the big day came and Daddy brought out his gifts, minus the tools. Let's just say, I have never seen anyone work so hard to be happy with his presents, but the disappointment was clearly there.

Daddy asked if anything was missing and Ethan sadly shook his head "no." Daddy asked are you sure, and Ethan said "yes." Finally, Daddy relieved his suffering.

With a scream of joy, Ethan carried the biggest present yet from the office – his tools. The shouts of jubilation lasted for several days.

Briefly to another topic:

So, the Big Box is still a possibility in Independence Township. Anyone surprised?

More views on legal defense fund

We support the idea that the local legal defense millage promoted by COG be broadened in its purpose to buy and preserve open space.

We see several advantages: By being proactive rather than only reactive to a land development issue, this could appeal to many more people. It could provide funds for parks and recreation, conservation of diminishing natural land and potentially for setting aside likely parcels before other uses.

A nominal tax for this purpose has just now been approved by a fourth township or community in the county. Let's enlarge our thinking to embrace the same preservation of remaining natural areas in Independence, and hopefully other townships, before the space is lost and we find ourselves engaged in legal conflict or the added costs for more services and resources after the fact.

Sincerely,
Tom and Loraine Hall
Clarkston

Dear Sirs,

Your reporter's articles relating to the proposed "Independence Township legal defense fund" have failed to mention the fact that Neil Wallace, the founder of the so-called "Citizens for Orderly Growth," and some of his cohorts within that organization are in fact lawyers themselves. This group should be called LOG "Lawyers for Orderly Growth."

Lawyers that have been pushing very hard to get this proposal past the citizens of Independence Township with the usual rhetorical scare tactics all to get this

Township's conduct raises questions

Dear Editor:

On Sept. 6, Michael McCord attended an Independence Township meeting. He read a letter that summarized how the Stickney/McCord farmhouse, barn and acreage came to be owned by the township and the family's reaction to the township's stewardship. This letter expressed our great displeasure with the condition of the property and with the township's irresponsible oversight. Instead of preserving this historical and architectural gem, the township has allowed the buildings to fall into ruin.

Our grandparents, Mallory and Mary Kathryn Stickney, bought the farm in 1924. In 1985, their daughters, Janet McCord and Honor Pollok, inherited the property. Independence Township took possession of this property in 1999 in exchange for a zoning change that allowed for the development of the farmland. The 1830's house, barn and 2.23 acres were donated with the clear understanding that the buildings would be restored by the township and opened to the public for educational and historic uses.

We believe that Independence Township has violated the original agreement under which Honor Pollok and Janet McCord sold this land. When they and the developer, Alexander Bruni, approached the township about rezoning the farmland, the township required that almost half of the total acreage (36.54 acres) be given to the township in order to change the zoning. The township specifically included the farmhouse and the barn in the donated land.

Our family occupied this homestead for almost 75 years. We were understandably reluctant to include the farmhouse and the barn in the donated parcel, but felt that this sacrifice was the only way to sell the acreage. It was a sad and wrenching decision, but we were happy that at least the farmhouse and barn would be maintained and restored for public use.

voted on before the voters know what happened. A stealth election comes to mind. This proposal is nothing more than a slush fund for this group of attorneys.

Those that are led to believe that this .50 millage will be collected only when the "township master plan is challenged in court" as we are now being told, must also remember that lawyers, liars, and politicians are all cut from the same cloth.

I don't believe what this group is saying and please do your readers a favor and stop giving this group of propagandist the publicity it craves without letting your readers know that the people pushing this proposal are lawyers.

Any attack on the township's master plan can and would be addressed with township officials first. The courts involvement would only be needed as a method of last resort.

Where's the need for this tax? We all know that government hasn't found a tax it doesn't like or won't collect if given the opportunity and I believe that when given the opportunity, this group of lawyers will have found a meal ticket on the backs of the taxpayers.

If given the opportunity to vote on this proposal, I urge voters to vote down this bomb of a proposal. We must consider that we are already paying township officials to uphold the integrity of the township's master plan and if they cannot defend that plan out of court, then they are not doing the job that the taxpayers of this township are paying them for.

Sincerely,
Michael L. Powell
Independence Township

Letters to the Editor

We do not know the reasons that compelled the township to ask two elderly ladies to give up a family home in order to sell the farmland. In fact, have there been any other instances in Independence township where acreage with buildings were "donated" by a developer who then had zoning regulations changed to suit his wishes? So many other farms were sold and developed without special demands made.

Has the township made commitments to restore and open to the public other historic buildings that were previously privately owned? The township denied that they initiated this "special demand," but how many elderly women in their late 70s move from the homes where they have lived their entire life without being under considerable pressure?

Both Janet McCord and Honor Stickney trusted the township to fulfill the promise to restore the farmhouse and barn and make them open to the public for educational purposes. The township has fulfilled neither.

First, instead of restoring the farmhouse and barn, the township abandoned them for six years to the elements, wildlife and vagrants. The house deteriorated under these conditions and is now virtually uninhabitable. Before the township took over, Janet McCord lived full-time in a fully functional and pleasant house.

Next, the township unilaterally changed the requirement of public use and advertised for proposals to give this property away for private residential use. We contacted the township about submitting a proposal to return this land to the family, but, although the RFP public notice contained no closing date, we were informed that the proposal period was closed on August 10.

We believe that the township has broken the original agreement regarding the restoration and use of this property. At the September 6 meeting, we asked to be considered as buyers for the home where three generations of our family lived. Because the legal notice omitted a closing date, we requested that we be allowed to submit a proposal.

The Clarkston News

15 YEARS AGO (1990)

• Friday storm thrashes Clarkston area, Buildings damaged in Springfield; wires downed in Independence: A storm that brought high winds and possibly a "little tornado" damaged three buildings and overturned a semitrailer-truck in Springfield Township about 2 p.m. Friday, Sept. 14.

• High School, college may share space: Oakland Community College and Clarkston school officials are pursuing ideas of a joint campus in the Clarkston area. The facility would be developed on a 110-acre site in conjunction with a new high school, according to Clarkston Superintendent Gary Haner.

25 YEARS AGO (1980)

• Pine Knob plans 4,000' ski ramp, 'Essentially, it's everything less the hotel' - Palulian: A ski ramp that would sit 185 feet above Pine Knob's highest peak is the latest proposal of Pine Knob Investment co-owners Gary Francell and Joseph Locricchio.

Plans for the 4,000-foot-long ski run were submitted last week to the Independence Township Building Department.

50 YEARS AGO (1955)

• Rally Day at Methodist Church: Two Rally Day services will be held Sunday, Sept. 25, at 9:45 and 11:00 a.m. with Mr. Philip R. Smith, Supt., of Church School, presiding at both services.

• Meeting Celebrates 50th Anniversary: On September 14th the Ella Van Meer Camp No. 4346, Royal Neighbors, met at the home of Mrs. Opal Beach for their regular meeting. This was a special occasion for the group was celebrating 50 years of the Camp's existence.

• A Visit To The Township Library: Have you read a good story lately? Are you interested in science, psychology, psychiatry, history? Of course you have an interest of some nature and in order to be well informed you must read and study. There is no better place to find material than at the Independence township Library.

• Seniors Purchase P.A. System: With the money left after the trip to Washington the Class of 1954 decided to purchase a new P.A. system to be installed in the High School cafeteria. Many dances and banquets are now held in the cafeteria instead of the gym. The new purchase will eliminate the necessity of transferring equipment now housed in the gym.

America owes no apology II

Last week's rant about Americans owing no apologies for their response to Hurricane Katrina by yours truly brought in lots of responses.

Most of them were of the following:

***

"Don, just wanted to tell you that was an excellent column you wrote about the apology we don't owe the folks down south. I was wondering if anyone would have the guts to talk about Oprah and how she drained precious resources to take her show down there. Well said Don, keep up the good work.

Justin Hanson

***

The way every bad news item is politicized these days, especially Hurricane Katrina, is nothing short of shameful. I've all but stopped watching the news on television and reading about it in the newspapers. Thanks for some refreshing honesty. Keep up the good work.

don rush
don't rush me

Andy Savel

Dear Mr. Rush,

I really enjoyed your column about Hurricane Katrina. I agree with everything you said. The Mayor of New Orleans will never admit that he made a mistake, that he had the ball and dropped it. Also, you will never hear Jesse Jackson or Al Sharpton bad mouth him, no matter how much he screwed up. Two of the biggest racists in this country are big Al and Jesse. I think maybe they have way too much time on their hands, I don't think that they have actual jobs. I saw Big Al on the television asking people to invite some of the hurricane survivors into their homes, I wonder how many of those survivors he is housing?

Anyway, keep up the good work, your column should run in the New York Times.

Deb Okolovitch

I thank Deb, Justin, Andy and the rest of the 27 regular readers of this column. But, the most intriguing and well thought out e-mail I received will follow.

(And, I am not just saying that 'cuz it's written by my very own wife, Jennie.) I state that because, as usual, she sees beyond the hyperbole. She looks past knee-jerk reactions. She makes a good argument here (one I wish I would have wrote). See what you all think.

***

I have been thinking about your column about America being "ashamed" after the hurricane.

I think the writers of those stories after Katrina are not talking about individual Americans and their generosity. It is plain that many, many people have stepped forward with cash, goods and time to help out. No doubt about that. The "Ashamed Americans" angle is about how a very, very wealthy country, and its citizens as a whole, have slowly but surely turned their backs on the underprivileged in the most general sense.

Not in terms of giving or donating, but in terms of who we elect as officials and how our voting choices affect programs and attitudes for working poor Americans. We all like to drive the big rig of supplies down with our white hat on as the hero, but do not feel motivated by statistics that show America's infant mortality rate is worse than Cuba's.

Putting $20 in a cannister at the grocery is better than electing people to legislate help for the more than 50 million people who do not have health insurance here in the good old USA. It takes a big thing to make us realize again just what our "blindness" have done.

It's easy to ignore the poor — and so as a nation we do.

It isn't until they're staring us right in the face we remember that they're still here. All children are good on Christmas Eve — but how about January 31?

We all should feel embarrassed as Americans for slowly letting our system of government (for which we are all responsible) neglect those citizens who most need our help. And hopefully, as a nation, we can use this new eye-opening experience to look to long term solutions for helping the underprivileged here in our own country. Love, Jen

Eating habits, etc. of ma'dog, Shayna

I've enjoyed a few routines of comedian Jeff Foxworthy, but it takes only a few of his closings, "You might be a Redneck if," to turn me off. Knowing this, some inebriated, low-life friends sent me a Redneck, tear-off calendar with a remark on each page. It wasn't until September 6 that I found one I could relate to.

"You might be a Redneck if the first thing you say when you come out of a coma is, 'How's my dog?'"

The way I eat, some of everything falls on the floor. That's how I found Shayna liked sweet corn. When I cook sweet corn, I cook a half dozen ears at a time, eat 2 or 3 and cut the kernels off the others for later.

Well, one set of 12 wasn't great, so I fed some saved kernels to ma'dog. But I did it with the warning, "Remember, dog, you can't digest sweet corn. Eat it if you want, but remember what I said."

She ate all I gave her. The next day, to prove my warning was right, I took her outside and let her see for herself the kernels were still intact.

I also learned from my food dropping ways that Shayna loves crab meat, zucchini and macaroni and cheese. Fried zucchini might be her favorite, but the way she chomps it's hard to pick a best.

I thought one way to test her likings was to count the number of chomps she took before swallowing. My thinking was the more she liked something the longer she would chew.

Like most of my thoughts, this conclusion was wrong. She chews everything like it's a race to her stomach. Three chews for a small piece of wiener, 16 chews for a piece of cheap rump roast. She averages eight chomps per choice, depending to some extent on whether she catches it in the air or picks it up off the floor.

Savor she doesn't.

I'm not a person who chooses the heel of a loaf of bread as first choice. It just doesn't feel right to put the bacon or tomato between the heel and next toasted slice.

Being a Depression reared boy I have to find a use for the heel, so I put raspberry jam on it and feed it to Shayna. The first time I did it the jam side was up. She twisted her head every way to get the jam to tongue-side.

Now I give her the jam side down, though some of it stays on my fingers for later licking.

I read an article recently that made real dog owners, like me, sick. What kind of person would subject their dog to acupuncture therapy and organic food? If I don't do it or eat it, neither should ma'dog.

Last year, pet owners in the USA spent $34.4 billion caring for pets, that's double the amount spent a decade earlier.

There's a bakery in Occoquan, VA that sells clothing and boots for dogs along with Barkday and Bark Mitzvah cakes for special dog occasions. It also carries Pupparoni and PNut-Butter Pudy-Tats for pet meals. This stuff must be for Poodles.

I don't think I'll be going to Occoquan, Va very soon. Talk about catering to the animal spoiling rich!

Shayna is still wondering why dog bones are shaped like bones, yet we're told to not give dogs bones. I wondered too, so I now give Shayna everything but chicken bones. We never lost a dog to bone-eating on any of the farms we lived on and we had lots of dogs.

Looting after storms and riots is well known. Practicing thieves, the overly hungry and the curious participate in this stealing. We condemn them, encourage heavy penalties and become overwrought with anger at these actions.

BUT, are the actions of these people really any different than the pork barreling practiced by our representatives in Washington, DC?

Seems like every appropriations bill has money designated for roads to nowhere, bridges over nothing but earth and airport runways with no planes. All passed by those seeking reelection, which is every one of them.

And, there isn't any stopping it.

Novi Police arrest two men suspected in gas heists

On Sept. 14, Novi Police arrested two men allegedly involved in stealing and selling fuel to southeastern Michigan gas stations for profit.

William Shannon Cox, 39, was arrested at his Waterford home and Michael Omar Malone, 34, of Clarkston, turned himself in to Novi police.

The two men allegedly stole more than 20,000 gallons of gasoline from Delta Fuels, a Novi fuel distribution company located at 40600 Grand River.

Allegedly, Cox, a truck driver, obtained the personal identification number of another fuel driver employed by SJC transport of Commerce Township. Cox allegedly used this PIN to steal more than 20,000 gallons of fuel from Delta Fuels and conspired with Malone to sell the stolen fuel to gas stations throughout metro-Detroit.

Both men were arraigned Sept. 14 by Judge Dennis Powers in Novi's 52-1 District Court on one count of false pretenses $20,000 or more and one count of conspiracy to commit false pretenses $20,000 or more. Both charges carry a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and fines up to $15,000.

Bond was set for Cox and Malone at $250,000 each. The two men should reappear at 52-1 District Court before Judge Robert Bondy on Sept. 21 for a preliminary examination conference.

The arrests are expected to be the first in an ongoing joint investigation with the Novi Police Department and Federal Bureau of Investigation that may involve hundreds of thousands of dollars in stolen gas from metro-Detroit fuel companies.

New detective hitting stride at Independence Township

Wed., September 21, 2005 The Clarkston (MI) News 11 A

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

James Taylor's "Fire and Rain" speaks of seeing the good and bad of life.

New Independence Township Detective Tim Hein, who worked playing soft rock like that sung by Taylor, can truly speak to the contrast.

As both a detective and a devoted family man, Hein sometimes sees the darker side of human nature at work only to return to home at night to a loving family.

"I'm a big family man, I love my job and I'm happy to be here," said Hein, who is excited about the new challenges and workload a detective faces.

"I made the switch to detective from the desire to go deeper into things. As a patrolman you handle things at a more superficial level as far as crimes go. In terms of investigating, you only scratch the service," said Hein.

"It's more satisfying. I'm detail oriented and think my personality is more suited to investigating crimes and seeing them through to the end," he continued.

After spending much of his career in Commerce Township, Hein is excited about working in Independence.

"I'm happy here. Everyone gets along so good. I've never seen this type of cooperation and community support. The relationship between the sheriff's department and community is phenomenal," said Hein.

With a wave of police television shows, Hein acknowledged certain things about the job are sometimes not always accurate.

"My wife and I are CSI junkies, but a lot of that stuff they do is totally unrealistic. The time frame on lab results for instance, it doesn't happen that fast. Also, I'm really into computers as they apply to law enforcement. I crack up every time they use a computer. The show has all these noises and graphics; there's no police computer programs with that type of flash and high-end graphics," said Hein.

Besides the recent jump to detective, Hein still has a few things he wants to do in his career.

"I want to land in the computer crimes division. I still have half my career ahead of me so there's plenty of time. When I retire, my 10-year-old is convinced we're going into business as a detective agency," said Hein.

Hein who joined Independence Township substation as a detective on July 10, came to Oakland County in 1990 and spent the first four or five years bouncing around from station to station as young officers often do. He spent the last 10 years in Commerce Township working as a patrolman and a high school liaison officer. He served his first two years of law enforcement in Lake Angeles, Village of Holly and Atlas Twp.

Hein was originally born in Clarkston, but moved to Waterford at a young age and has lived in the area ever since. He and his wife have been married for 13 years and have three children.

Construction company removed from national cemetery project

According to Judge Advocate Carrie Jackson of the 18th District of the American Legion, Southfield-based Edge Construction was fired from its job working on the Great Lakes National Cemetery in Holly, due to delays and poor quality. Jackson said the federal government stepped in and hopes to have the cemetery ready for fast-track burials by the end of October.

Independence Elementary helps out schools in Louisiana

BY ANDREW DUPONT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

As donations and support for victims of Hurricane Katrina continue to pour into groups like the Red Cross, the faculty and students of Independence Elementary are going even further.

According to fifth grade teacher Mary Schulte, Independence is "adopting" the seven Catholic schools in the Diocese of Shreveport, Louisiana. Superintendent for the Diocese Sr. Carol Shively said the schools recieved an influx of approximately 560 students displaced by Hurricane Katrina.

Schulte said she's been in contact with friends in the Shreveport area who are currently working with the Red Cross. Schulte said her friends asked for more direct help, and after some brainstorming it was decided that that Independence Elementary would "adopt" the schools.

"We decided to take it on as a project for the year," said Schulte. "Our staff decided that we were going to donate our 'Casual for a Cause' money, which we always try to donate to some worthy cause every year.

"We don't want this to be a band-aid," said Schulte continued. "We want to do as much as we can to continue to support them educating these kids, cause they're there on the front lines. Their lives are not normal anymore."

In addition to current donations, the school plans to donate books from an upcoming book drive to the students in Shreveport. Schulte said there's no specific goal set, and that they just want to collect as much as they can.

"These children are fifth generation poverty. We are hoping that by all of us working together we can help break the cycle of poverty by supporting their education and the people who are on the front lines caring for them," said Schulte.

The school will be accepting donations of money and school supplies in the school lobby until September 30. Requested supplies include pencils (both regular and colored), pens, scissors, glue, markers and highlighters, crayons, construction paper, colored folders and three-ring, spiral and composition notebooks.

CHS Alumni remembered

The Student Leadership Council at Clarkston High School will honor past students with a display setup at this year's homecoming game on Sept. 30.

Tents will be set up and filled with poster displays of Clarkston High School Alumni dating back to 1920. Refreshments will also be available for visitors.

The Alumni Tent will open at 5 p.m. and will close after the start of the homecoming game.

Clarkston Community Education offers lessons in using power tools

The Clarkston Community Education center, with help from LOWES of Whitelake Township, will hold two classes in power tool instruction, with a portion of the proceeds going toward Habitat for Humanity.

"Power Tools for Women" is scheduled for Sept. 24 from 1-3 p.m. "Power Tools for Men," is Saturday, Oct. 1 from 1-3 p.m. Both classes are at the Clarkston Community Education Center and cost $15.

Local teachers, students toured Europe

BY ANDREW DUPONT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Two local teachers and students had the chance to be visit Europe this summer as part of program that's not just fun, but educational.

Kathleen Noble and Stacey Rospierski, both first grade teachers from Bailey Lake Elementary, were chaperons for the People to People Student Ambassadors program, which took 42 fifth and sixth grade students from Oakland and Livingston Counties to four European countries.

The trip lasted two weeks, between July 3-16, and the group stopped in England, Ireland, Wales and Scotland.

"It (the program) was started by President Eisenhower in the 1950's to unite different countries and give children an opportunity to see different parts of the world," said Rospierski.

Rospierski said this was her first year with the program, while Noble was in her fifth. Noble also said the destination of the annual program varies, and that next year's destination is Australia.

Two Clarkston students took part in the program: Michael Culver from Bailey Lake and Cody Ramsey from Springfield Plains. The students visited Ysgol Cae Top School, which was located in Bangor, Wales.

"It was just really cool. They have a lot of the same things as us," said Michael. Michael said the students sang the Wales nation anthem in Welsh and then the American students sang our national anthem.

"The school was very diverse," said Noble.

Noble said 15 different countries were represented by the school and that many of the students spoke up to four languages fluently.

The group's visit to London came one week after the subway bombings on July 7.

"We were in Wales when the bombings occurred," said Noble. She added the group was on a ferry traveling between Ireland and Wales when they heard about the bombing on television.

"We (the chaperons) were obviously a little more concerned than the children were at that point because a lot of them didn't even know," said Noble.

Noble said the students took the news of the bombing well, and that the planned trip to London would have been canceled if there was a problem.

Rospierski said the group eventually did visit London and took part in a moment of silence. Noble said the only part of the program that was canceled was riding the subway and coaches in London.

"Other than that though, I felt really safe," said Rospierski. Noble mentioned that a lot of guards were visible when they were in downtown London.

"I liked London just because it was cool seeing all the different cars," said Michael. "It's a city, so there's a ton of cars driving on what we think is the wrong side of the road. But after a while you get used to it."

While in London, the group met with Sir Andrew Bowden, a retired member of Parliament, who Noble said talked to the children about the British reaction to the bombing.

"He was really cool. He had really cool views on life and everything," said Michael.

Michael said his favorite country was Scotland, where he visited a castle and watched bagpipe players.

Sandy Culver, Michael's mother, said Michael liked the bagpipes so much he bought a small version of them, which he is now learning to play.

"It's an incredible experience," said Sandy, referring to Michael's participation in the program. "One that I don't know if he would have been able to have if it wasn't for People to People inviting him."

"It's just so different from here and I wanted him to experience that," said Sandy, who has traveled in Europe herself. "And I was very comfortable with these two teachers."

Noble said the children attend an initial meeting in Michael Culver practices on a set of souvenir bagpipes he purchased while in Europe on the People to People Ambassador program. Photo provided.

September and are interviewed to see if they would make good candidates for such a trip. After the initial meeting, the group meets once a month at Oakland University in preparation for the trip. Noble said all the children had monthly homework assignments and they were required to keep an academic journal before and during the trip. In addition, each student had researched some aspect of their destination and gave a presentation before leaving.

"They have to work, it's not just all fun," said Sandy. "And actually they get credit for that."

Students who participate in the program earn a high school credit.

Rospierski said the group usually had to wake up around 7 a.m. every day and tried to have three or four big events every day.

"The day is jam packed, we're busy all the time," said Rospierski.

"I just thought it was the coolest experience," said Michael. "Some people, they've never been to Europe in their whole life and it's really cool that I got to go when I'm 11 years old."

Flying discs of glory for Clarkston pair

BY NOAH PURCELL

Clarkston News Sports Writer

Dolly Ross does not know how good her stock in life is. She has a loving family, personal freedom, and success in a career she loves.

As an individual, Dolly is easy to please, enjoys the company of loved ones, dislikes being alone and loves getting treats for catching a frisbee in her mouth.

Dolly, a lovably rambunctious two-tone border collie, and her doting owner Claire Ross of Clarkston, burst onto the dog disc catching scene this summer, winning two junior handler titles.

"I was excited to see how well (Dolly) did. Ever since she was young, we have played (frisbee) together," said Ross.

For Dolly, playing with frisbees was a backyard pursuit until a disc catching event caught Ross' eye at this year's Festival of Fun in Clarkston on July 4.

"We saw the competition on the schedule and went back home for Dolly," said Ross.

Dolly's backyard frisbee pursuits easily converted into competitive success as Claire was named the top junior handler at the Festival of Fun.

Having enjoyed success locally, Claire and Dolly sought out a larger stage at the Michigan Disc Dog Club's State Championships on Aug. 21 in Howell. At the end of the day, the Clarkston tandem were at the top of the junior handler class again, this time out-pointing around 50 other participants.

Dolly was unfazed by the crowds while competing, but there was a small adjustment period for Claire.

"Usually, I'm nervous in the first round, but after that, in the second round, I realize it's just for fun," said Claire.

Ever since they brought Dolly home, the Ross family has enjoyed the dog's playful nature, but Claire seems to be a kindred spirit with her disc partner.

"Before any of us get up in the morning, it's not unusual for (Claire) to be outside with Dolly at 6:30 or 7 in the morning," said Carmen Ross, Claire's mother.

From the start, Dolly has been Claire's dog. She is responsible for walking and feeding, along with playing with her. In fact, Claire made the decision for the family to look into a border collie in the first place.

"I had to do research. I found a border collie would be best for our family because we have a lot of land," said Claire.

Dolly's natural sheep herding instincts are what makes her such a good disc catching dog, but they have got her in trouble too. At siblings' softball games, Claire now has to restrain Dolly so she does not try to fetch a ball in play.

"It killed her that she couldn't fetch the softball," said Claire.

With the winter months on the horizon, Claire has no immediate competition agenda, but she will look to take part in more contests next spring and summer.

Claire lives with Dolly and her mother, father Mike and siblings: Thomas, Maria, Julia and Paul.

Kittle's feet feats carry Clarkston past Colts

Two 59-yard touchdown runs by Mike Kittle, seen here in action earlier this season, sparked Clarkston to a 26-7 victory over Troy. Photo by Noah Purcell

BY NOAH PURCELL

Clarkston News Sports Writer

During a rainy second quarter against Troy High on Sept. 16, lightning struck twice for the Wolves as senior quarterback Mike Kittle ripped off remarkably similar and spectacular 59-yard touchdown runs in an eventual 26-7 Clarkston victory.

"Mike Kittle's big play ability was the difference. I think they played harder than us," said Clarkston Coach Kurt Richardson.

Kittle's first show stopper came at the start of the second quarter with Clarkston trailing 0-7. With no passing options downfield and the pocket breaking down around him, Kittle out raced his pursuit to a small vein of sideline, which he rode to the twenty-yard-line where he deftly started and stopped to circumvent a would-be tackler, and with a small hop over the now prone defender continued unabated into the end zone.

"Nobody gave up on the play and the (offensive line) kept blocking until they heard a whistle and I found a hole and went with it," said Kittle.

Following Kittle's first score at 11:41 of the second quarter, Clarkston and Troy each fumbled away drives and a Colt possession ending in a punt, the Wolves once again had the ball on their own 41-yard-line. On their first play of the drive, Kittle showed that a great showman can always upstage himself with an even more ridiculous 59-yard touchdown run.

"Mike Kittle was the difference. He broke those two big plays and broke their backs ... one time they had him tackled for a two-yard loss, that's not only a touchdown, but it deflated (them)," said Richardson of Kittle's second run in which he broke a defensive lineman's tackle in the backfield and vaulted over another defender before weaving his way downfield and into the end zone.

"We've been watching Kittle make plays since he was 14-years-old and he's a man out there, there's no question about that," said Troy line coach Nick Deane. "On the one play we stopped him twice and hit him four times."

Kittle's second run made the score 14-7 with 6:44 left in the first half after junior Mike Breen's extra point kick. The senior quarterback's brilliance did nothing to ease Richardson's ire at a Wolves team which on their first drive of the game committed two penalties and had a punt blocked. The Colts recovered the snuffed punt at the 17-yard-line and five plays later found pay dirt on a 6-yard touchdown run by sophomore quarterback Branko Hamilton.

"You have to come to play every Friday night in this league. Anybody will jump up and get you if you come out flat, and we came out flatter than a pancake tonight," said Richardson. "Winning ugly, that's all that was. But it's better than losing, I guess."

Clarkston held Troy scoreless the rest of the game and the Colts offense to 169 total yards.

Senior running back Nick DeVault scored on a 2-yard run with 1:16 remaining in the half and added some insurance points on a 1-yard run with 11:53 remaining in the game to finish out the Clarkston scoring.

Clarkston's offense piled up 333 yards for the game, 288 on the ground, but turned the ball over three times. Kittle finished with 130 yards rushing on six carries and 45 yards passing to go with his two touchdowns. DeVault complemented his pair of touchdowns with 94 yards rushing on 19 carries.

The week of practice ahead for the Wolves will undoubtedly feature extensive work on special teams with a massive underline on punt protection.

"I've been having nightmares about our punt team forever," said Richardson.

Clarkston entertains Troy Athens at home on Sept. 23.

Athletes of the Week Darylann Trout and Nicole Janek

Number three single Darylann Trout and number four single Nicole Janek are the Athletes of the Week as both are undefeated at 19-0 going into the Clarkston varsity tennis team's dual match on Sept. 20 against Troy Athens.

"I don't think I ever did this good at number four singles," said Trout, a junior who last year made the quarterfinal round of the state tournament's four singles flight.

Trout credits her unblemished individual record to hard training over the summer.

Trout began playing tennis competitively in sixth grade at Deer Lake Athletic club. She was originally spurred to take up the sport by a friend - in a way.

"One of my best friends started playing and I didn't want her to be better than me," said Trout, who claims to have never lost a match to the friend in question.

Trout enjoys water skiing and her favorite subject in school is math. She has lived in Clarkston since she was in sixth grade with her parents Mike and Nancy and brother Evan.

Janek, like Trout, is taken aback by her dominance so far this year.

"I thought I wouldn't do as good as I have," said Janek, a freshman who has effortlessly stepped into Trout's vacated number four singles slot this year.

Janek attributes much of her success to a fluid on court strategy.

"I just go out and play. If what I'm doing doesn't work, then I adjust," said Janek.

She feels that the "balance and concentration" learned from dance lessons over the years help on the court. Janek also plays the piano and enjoys math in school.

Janek began playing tennis with her mother Laura. She said the sport steadily grew on her; she began playing competitively in fifth grade.

She has lived in Clarkston since she was five years old and lives with her mother, father Nick and brother Christian.

Freshman Nicole Janek and junior Darylann Trout are both 19-0 this season for Clarkston's tennis team. Photo by Noah Purcell Holding their last two opponents to 37 points a game, shows Clarkston's girls basketball team is holding down the defensive end of the floor. A 1-1 record in those games though, points out a deficiency on the offensive end though.

Clarkston lost at Stevenson 37-30 on Sept. 13, but rebounded on Sept. 15, beating Waterford Kettering on the road 47-37.

"We're playing pretty solid defensively and we're getting more shots than our opponents. Offensively, we've had a tough time," said Clarkston Coach Tim Wasilk.

In the Wolves win, Chelsea Kouri had the hot hand, nailing four three pointers and finishing with 16 points. Clarkston's defense was the difference in the game as the Wolves held Kettering scoreless in the second quarter.

Wasilk was happy to see his team score on the inside against Kettering as he has preached offensive balance since the start of the year.

With a 2-3 record to start the season, Clarkston enters a tough stretch of games. The Wolves' crossover game against OAA

Division II Southfield High at home on Sept. 20 finished too late for this edition of The Clarkston News. Wasilk expected a tough match-up against Southfield's quick 2-3 zone.

But Southfield is not the biggest fish to fry for the Wolves in the coming week as OAA Division I and state power West Bloomfield comes calling on Sept. 22. The Lakers' inside-outside combination of Randall Hurst and Brittany Jones are a tough match-up for any team in the state.

Wasilk plans to use senior Amanda Kaltz on Hurst and hopes she can stay away from fouls. Senior guard Melissa Martinez will draw Jones on defense.

Golf wins 2nd OAA tourney

BY NOAH PURCELL
Clarkston News Sports

With Clarkston golf's win at the second OAA Division I league tournament, the league title is so far up in the air it is having trouble breathing.

The Wolves posted a team score of 310 at Heather Highlands on Sept. 15, out shooting defending league champion Rochester Adams, second place mark of 312. Adams was victorious at the first OAA tournament on Aug. 26 by four strokes over the Wolves. Had the Highlanders taken the second tournament as well they would have had the inside track on the league title.

"We started very slowly. We didn't play well on the first nine. The kids did a nice job of finishing strong," said Clarkston Coach Tim Kaul.

"Balance has been the key. Please see Golf, page 20A

Horizon Hoops league ready for cagers

Join first year Varsity Girls Basketball Coach Tim Wasilk, his coaching staff and current CHS varsity players at the Horizon Hoop League. Participants are placed on a team and play competitive games each week.

The league begins on Sept. 24 with instruction and follows with six weeks of Saturday games in the Clarkston High School gym running through Nov. 5.

The Horizon League is open for girls from kindergarten through eighth grade and boys from kindergarten through third grade.

The league will divide into the following sessions: K-second grade and third-fourth grade session run from 10-11 a.m. Fifth-sixth grade and seventh-eighth grade sessions run from 11-noon.

Entry forms are available at the Clarkston Athletic Department. The cost of the Horizon League is $75 and checks should be made out to Tim Wasilk.

A completed form and payment should be brought to the CHS gym on Sept. 24.

Talk to your doctor if you can't shake those blues

By Ernie Harwell

From time to time, we can get down and just not feel like ourselves. It happens to all of us. You don't live on the mountain all your life, you have to come down in the valley. For most, it's a temporary thing and we "play over it."

But for others, it's not that simple. For them, feelings of hopelessness can last much longer and have a big effect on their lives. Experts can't put their finger on it, but they think depression is caused by things like our genes, chemical imbalances in our brain, stressful events in our life, or a combination of these.

If you're feeling blue and it's just doesn't seem to be getting better, talk to your doctor and ask if you might be experiencing depression. If you are, your doctor can work with you and give you the help you need, so you can start feeling like yourself again.

And remember, take care of your health before it's longgg gone!

Ernie Harwell, "the voice of the Detroit Tigers" for more than four decades, retired after 55 years behind a major league microphone. Today, at age 86, Ernie's days are filled with serving as a health and fitness advocate for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, public appearances, writing, traveling and taking long walks with "Miss Lulu," his wife of more than 60 years. His latest book, a collection of his baseball columns entitled "Life After Baseball," is available at local bookstores or by calling 1-800-245-5082.

Wolves continue to dominate hardcourt

BY NOAH PURCELL

Clarkston News Sports Writer

Having played five dual matches and two tournaments between Sept. 6 and Sept. 20 Clarkston tennis needs a break — even if they don't want one.

"Playing this much is making us better. Everyone's improving," said Clarkston's number two single, junior Alyssa Lucas.

Clarkston has enjoyed success in the face of a busy schedule. The Wolves dual meet with Troy Athens on Sept. 20 finished too late for this edition of The Clarkston News, but going in Clarkston was 5-0-2 (5-0-1) and have finished second twice in tournaments this year.

"It will be good to give them a little time off to rest. You want them to get that fire back," said Clarkston Coach Kyleen Cunningham.

But before Cunningham could give her charges the rest they deserved the Wolves had some business to take care of last week.

Clarkston did not show signs of fatigue either, finishing fourth at the Ann Arbor Pioneer Invitational on Sept. 17 and beating Rochester High 6-2 in a dual match on Sept. 14.

Against Rochester, the Wolves singles players, senior Stephanie Parkison, Lucas, junior Darylann Trout and freshman Nicole Janek all won in straight sets. To seal the victory against the Falcons, Clarkston also got straight set victories from the number three doubles tandem of sophomores Kayla Sweeney and Kelli McKay and the number four doubles duo, senior Katelyn Brown and Jasmin Olinger.

At the Ann Arbor invite Trout, who won the number three singles flight, and Janek, victorious in the number four singles flight, were major factors in Clarkston's fourth place finish. The tournament was marred by extensive rain delays and darkness towards the end of play, but Clarkston did manage to finish one point ahead of rival Farmington Hills Mercy.

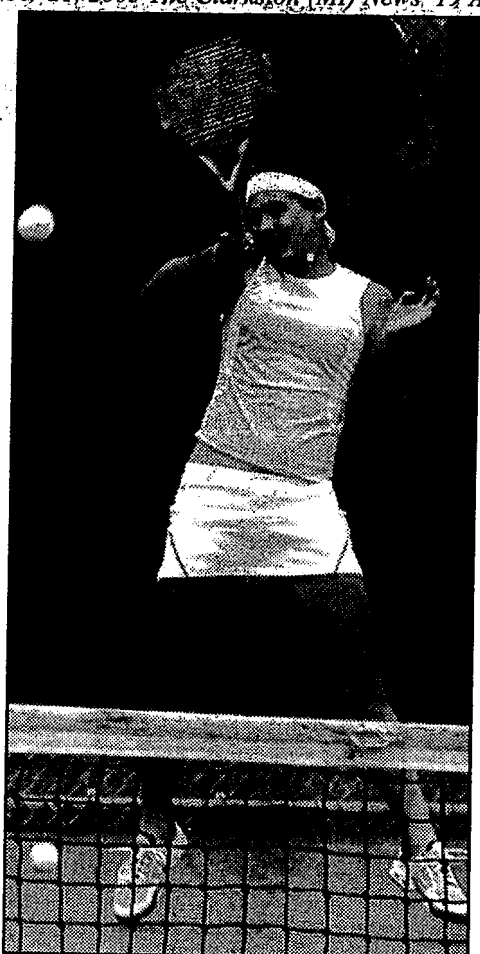

"Most people don't understand how hard it is to sit for four hours and then go out and play three matches," said Lucas.

Sitting around indoors waiting for rain to stop is one thing but Clarkston will surely put the six days off before their next match, against Marian at home on Sept. 26, to good use.

Marian, a talented team, will help snap Clarkston's attention back to competition as shortly thereafter, on Sept. 28, Clarkston is set to take part in the league tournament.

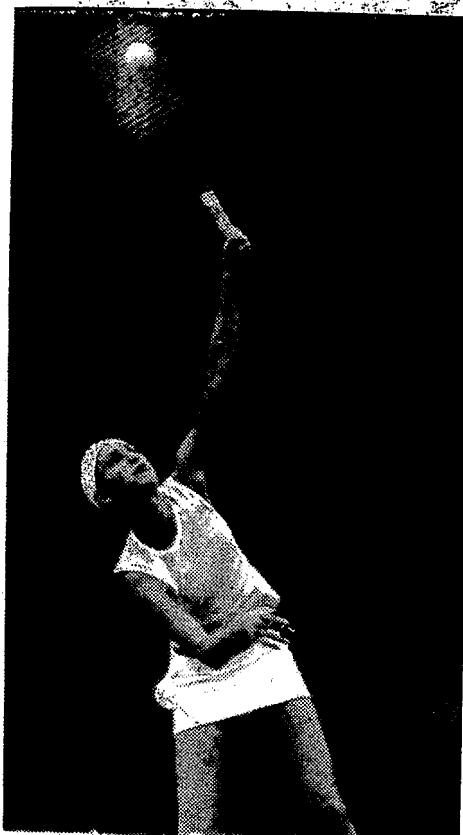

"We're going to have a good chance to do well at the league meet," said Cunningham.

Cunningham is less than thrilled that the meet is being held at West Bloomfield as the Lakers are Clarkston's strongest

Nicole Janek, Clarkston's number four single, is also 19-0 this year. Photos by Noah Purcell competition this year. The Wolves would like to win the league title outright this year instead of splitting it with another team — like they did last year with West Bloomfield.

Darylann Trout, Clarkston's number three single is 19-0 on the season.

Their crown to lose

Girls cross country starts season strong in pursuit of 3rd title

BY NOAH PURCELL

Clarkston News Sports Writer

The Clarkston varsity girls cross country program is not like other teams across the state.

For other programs, winning the Michigan State University Invitational on Sept. 16 would be a coming out party — for Clarkston, the victory featuring three runners in the top ten was business as usual.

"We ran really well at MSU," said Clarkston Coach Jamie LaBrosse. "This is the fourth year in a row we have won it."

At the MSU invite, which featured strong competition from around the state, Clarkston finished with 93 points. Saline's runners were second in the standing with 126 points followed by Rockford with 143.

Senior Jenny Morgan led Clarkston and the field, finishing in first with a time of 18:13. Morgan's younger sister, freshman Stephanie, finished in fourth place with a time of 18:29. Another integral element of Clarkston's dominance at MSU was senior Lyndsay Smith's time of 18:46, good for ninth overall. Senior Lisa Sickman (27th) and junior Jenna Leach (52nd) finished out the scoring for Clarkston.

A first place finish at MSU would be more than enough to sate most programs competitive appetite, but with a dearth of varsity level runners, LaBrosse had his eyes on two weekend titles. Clarkston's B team took part in the Holly Invitational on Sept. 17 running against other school's varsity squads.

"The point of the meet was to give (the B team) experience. Our team is better now with them having run at Holly," said LaBrosse.

The B team managed an eighth place finish with a score of 191. Standing out for the Wolves was freshman Kristen Smith, who finished seventh overall with a time of 20:12. Freshman Angela Haight (31st) and sophomore Rachel Blenc (36th) were medalists for the Wolves.

With Clarkston chasing their third straight State championship, the team has set the bar higher than the programs running against them in the OAA Division I this year.

For example, most teams in the state would not view their first inter-league action of the year as a "training day," as LaBrosse referred to the tri-meet on Sept. 20 with Seaholm and Rochester High. LaBrosse's confidence in regard to the tri-meet, which finished too late for this edition of The Clarkston News, is based on the hard work his team put in over the summer.

"The hard part of the season is over. We've done all the work to get in shape," said LaBrosse.

Clarkston's next action is Sept. 24 at the Jackson invite, another meet featuring top teams in the state, like Saline.

"(Saline) is a tough team and they are looking for us. We have a little bit of a target on our backs," said LaBrosse.

Sweet league win followed by bitter chaser for kickers

Clarkston soccer did not even have 24 hours to revel in their first league victory, a 2-1 win at Kimball on Sept. 15, before Eisenhower High School bested the Wolves 2-0 at home on Sept. 16.

"We gave (Eisenhower) both goals. Those were two really bad goals we gave up," said Clarkston Coach Mark Whitcomb.

The Wolves have struggled early in the season going 3-6-1 (1-3-1) and defensive lapses have been a problem.

Additionally, Whitcomb feels his team is too easily discouraged by goals scored on them and by missed chances on the offensive end.

But even with the slow start, the team is not without bright spots.

"(Senior goalie Barak Thomas) has been playing great," said Whitcomb.

Thomas stopped four shots against Kimball for the win, only allowing a goal on a penalty kick.

Senior forward Joel Parrish gave Clarkston a 1-0 lead in the opening minutes against Kimball.

"(Kimball) couldn't handle him," said Whitcomb of the energetic Parrish.

In Whitcomb's eyes, Parrish's seemingly boundless energy helped draw defenders in the second half, clearing space for senior Greg Knappe's game winning goal.

On the defensive side of the ball, Whitcomb felt senior Brett Shader's performance, especially against Kimball, stood out.

"(Shader) works and works and works. He is smart and doesn't bite on a lot of moves," said Whitcomb.

Clarkston's destiny in the league is out of their hands with league losses to Rochester Adams, Rochester High and Troy Athens, but Whitcomb still thinks his team has an outside shot at the title.

"There's a lot of season left and there is a ton of parity," said Whitcomb.

With two league games this week, Clarkston will know their true standing in the OAA Division I soon. The Wolves game at Lake Orion on Sept. 20 finished too late for this edition of The Clarkston News. On Sept. 22, Clarkston will entertain Rochester High at home. The Falcons claimed the teams' first meeting of the season 2-0 on Aug. 30.

In CHS soccer news away from the pitch, $9,000 was raised for both the girls and boys soccer teams at the programs annual golf outing on Sept. 17 at Liberty Golf Course.

Swimmers generating serious wake

While hosting last year's OAA Division III champion, Farmington Hills Harrison, on Sept. 13, Clarkston Swim Coach Kenwyn Chock felt many swam scared during the meet. Fortunately for Clarkston, jitters during the meet did not lead to a defeat afterwards as the Wolves bested the Hawks 97-89.

"They are the defending league champions. I knew it was going to be a tough meet for us," said Clarkston Coach Kenwyn Chock.

"(The victory over Harrison) is big looking down the road. I don't see anyone stopping us," said Chock. The girls are confident but we are not looking past any meet."

Against Harrison, junior Kandice Keen finished first in the 200 IM with a time of 2:19.56; and also won the 500 freestyle with a time of 5:34.47. Sophomore Alyssa Vela also won two events for the Wolves, posting a 25.47 in the 50 freestyle and a 55.72 in the 100 freestyle. Vela has qualified for states in both events.

Clarkston's other individual state qualifier, freshman

Molli Simpson won the 100 breaststroke with a time of 1:11.19. Had Simpson not already qualified for states in the breaststroke, her time against Harrison would have made the cut. Simpson and Vela teamed with junior Amanda Hassett and freshman Christine Seiple to win the 200 freestyle relay against Harrison as well.

The prevailing theme of Clarkston's season this year is the Wolves new found legitimacy as a program. Clarkston will be represented by swimmers at states for the first time in the program's six year history this year. The Wolves have also qualified their 200 medley relay for states in addition to Vela and Simpson's berths.

Chock feels that Keen is on the verge of joining Simpson and Vela as an individual state qualifier.

"It's just a matter of time with her. Kandice Keen is ready for a break out meet," said Chock.

The next chance Keen and the rest of the swim team have to raise their own bar is Sept. 22 at Berkley.

Boys hope strong running continues

With a tough league season looming, the Clarkston boys cross country team has a nice feather to stick in their caps — a first place finish at the Chesaning Invitational on Sept. 15.

"We wanted to use (Chesaning) as a tune-up. It's always better to go in off a good performance," said Clarkston Coach Mike Taylor.

Clarkston finished with 48 points total. Leading the way for the Wolves were Hazen Brennan, who finished in third place at 16:41 and Nick LaMora, who took fifth and set a personal record with a time of 16:57. Rounding out Clarkston's top five finishers were Matt Inch in 11th, Chris Anderson in 14th and Edward Brennan in 15th.

"We did a good job. We stuck with the top runners and my fourth and fifth men put the meet away," said Taylor.

Taylor hopes the early spirited competition carries over into the league season, which began on Sept. 20. Clarkston hosted Seaholm and Rochester High in a tri-meet which finished too late for this edition of The Clarkston News.

"Seaholm is just as good, as we are if not better," said Taylor. "But we will be alert and ready to go with our eyes wide open."

Clarkston's next action after the tri-meet is Sept. 27 at Lake Orion. Taylor expects the Lakers to also challenge for the league crown.

for us. We never have the player that wins the tournament, but we have had seven players break 80 in tournaments this year," said Kaul.

Clarkston's depth was especially important on Sept. 13 as Clarkston slimly defeated Troy High 159-162 in their first dual meet of the year.

Ronk led Clarkston and was the medalist with a score of 36. Clarkston got a 38 from Fuller, a 41 from senior Zach McDonald and a 44 from Horn to stave off Troy.

"I knew we were a better team than Troy but they had several strong dual match scores coming in," said Kaul.

Adams and Clarkston do not have long to wait for another shot at one another, the teams will battle on Sept. 21 at Katke Cousins at Oakland University.

The Highlanders are the meat in a dual match sandwich this coming week. Clarkston's dual with Rochester High on Sept. 20 finished too late for this edition of The Clarkston News. The Wolves square off against Lahser at Forest Lake Golf Course on Sept. 22.

Don't Get Caught Up in Real Estate Frenzies! If you've owned your home for a while, you know that it's probably worth a lot more than what you paid for it. In fact, over the past five years, U.S. residential property has increased in value by almost 50 percent, according to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. That's a pretty impressive appreciation — but it doesn't mean that real estate is a "can't miss" investment.

Of course, you wouldn't be alone in thinking that now is a great time to become a "person of property." Some 23 percent of all homes purchased in 2004 were for investment, and a further 13 percent were vacation homes, according to surveys done by the National Association of Realtors. And the number of chapters of the National Real Estate Investors Association jumped from 44 in 2002 to 170 in 2005.

Clearly, real estate investing is hot. Over the past few years, the combination of low interest rates and high demand for housing has pushed prices up, up and away. But how long can they continue to soar?

Not for much longer, according to some experts. Yale economist Robert Shiller, in his book Irrational Exuberance, writes that the real estate "bubble" may soon burst, and he supports his claim by showing that median home prices are now six to nine times greater than median income in some areas of the country. He also shows that U.S. home prices, when adjusted for inflation, have not constantly risen in value.

And there's certainly historical precedent for housing prices to fall quickly and sharply. Many areas of the country have experienced "boom and bust" cycles in their housing markets.

Does this mean you should avoid real estate entirely as an investment possibility? No. But before you sign on the dotted line, keep these two rules in mind:

- Don't expect huge returns: From the start of 1980 to the end of 2004, home sales prices increased 247 percent — which looks pretty good, until you see that, over the same period, the S&P 500 rose more than 1,000 percent. In other words, don't anticipate that real estate is going to constantly beat out your other investments, because it probably won't happen. Do keep in mind that past performance is not a guarantee of future results.
- Don't "leverage" yourself too heavily: With interest rates still so low, it can be tempting to buy more and more property, if you've got at least enough cash for down payments. But it's never a good idea to go heavily into debt for any type of investment.

Consider REITs

If you're going to invest in real estate, you may want to look at real estate investment trusts (REITs), which provide diversification by property type and location. You can purchase REITs in appropriate amounts, without borrowing, and they offer greater liquidity than individual properties. Also, most REITs provide attractive current income, which can prove valuable should real estate prices decline or remain stagnant for a long period of time.

But whether you buy REITs or other types of real estate, don't go overboard. As a general rule, you should probably have no more than 5 percent to 10 percent of your portfolio in real estate. By sticking to that level, you can help avoid a lot of problems — and you won't get drenched if a "bubble" pops.

people don't get too cramped," said Shanks. "This is an example of our working partnership between Independence Township's Park and Rec, the chamber and the village."

A free shuttle van will run from Clarkston High School (6093 Flemings Lake Road), and Clarkston Elementary and Clarkston Junior High (6595 Waldon Road), to deal with parking issues and bring the attendees downtown.

Entry into the Taste of Clarkston is free, but food tickets must be purchased at the Ticket/Information Booth located at Main and Church Street. Tickets are sold in $10 and $25 dollar packets, or individual tickets, with one ticket equaling $1.

The Taste of Clarkston is hosted by Independence Township, the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce and the City of the Village of Clarkston on Sept. 25 from noon-6 p.m. in downtown Clarkston.

With Main Street closed, City Manager Art Pappas suggested the following detours. If heading north on M-15 turn on Waldon to Walters Road to Flemings Lake Road to Clarkston Road to M-15. If traveling south on M-15 take Miller Road to Holcomb to Dixie Highway.

See The Clarkston News' special section on the Taste of Clarkston for more information.

Taste's Kid Zone keeps little ones happy

While Taste of Clarkston has food, fun and entertainment for the whole family, the KidZone keeps the children in mind.

The KidZone features activities for children of all ages, many of them free of charge.

Included in the KidZone's free fun is: a climbing tower and bungee run provided by Oakland County Parks and Recreation; a moonwalk, clowns and other entertainment; an assortment of games featuring candy prizes; and some interactive learning and group activities.

There are also some pay as you go activities in the KidZone this year. Show Off's Body Art is painting faces; Glitz salon is doing henna tattoos; and Plasterworks has activity stations.

Outback Steakhouse's Hummer will be onsite and open for kids to climb in.

The KidZone is sponsored by Desiree Heck and Max Brook Realtors and is primarily located in the Washington Street parking lot by the Mill Pond. Some activities are on Main Street and in The Clarkston News' parking lot.

The KidZone is open throughout Taste of Clarkston from noon-6 p.m. on Sept. 25.

Battle of the Bands

"Live & Local Americana," the battle of the bands competition is set to take place Sept. 25 at the Gazebo in Depot Park during Taste of Clarkston at 1 p.m. The event, sponsored by Independence Township Parks and Rec., was originally set for July 4, but was cancelled due to weather.

The following bands are scheduled to play with the first band starting at 1 p.m. and the fifth at 3 p.m. (in order of appearance): Marty Shafer and the Blue Suede Shoes, Of Arms, Root Beer Chaser, Sporadic, Sam Van Wagoner.

The first place band receives a trophy based on a three judge panel who will look at music, stage presence and audience participation and reaction. There was no fee to enter, but bands did try out.

CMS Principal's Award winners show excellence

BY ANDREW DUPONT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The 2005 winners of the Clarkston Middle School Principal's Award are Jenica Dabrowski, 14, and Calib Barr, 14. At the end of school year, the two students, from the former middle school were chosen by the school's principal, Shawn Ryan.

Ryan said those students selected represent the "top of the top" achievers in their class. He added that the selection process is a difficult one because there are so many high achieving students to choose from.

According to Ryan, nine candidates were recommended by teams leaders. Those nominated showed excellence in academics, extracurricular activities, and community-minded activities with an underlying element of school spirit. After interviewing the candidates individually, Ryan selected Dabrowski and Barr as the winners.

Jenica is the daughter of Tom and Katie Dabrowski. She has three siblings; older brother Colin, older sister Marina and younger sister Quinn.

Besides excelling at school, Jenica volunteers her time towards charity work and educational programs. When summer comes along, most students are happy to take a break, but Jenica keeps working, spending most weekdays at Bower's Farm in Bloomfield where she was up in the early morning to work with farm animals. Jenica said she is thinking about being a veterinarian or a marine biologist in the future and the farm work was good experience toward that goal.

"I've always been interested in working with animals," Jenica said.

Jenica has taken a variety of dancing lessons for the last 11 years, piano for the last seven and two years ago started snowboarding.

Calib is the son of Gerald and Denise Barr. He has two older sisters, Shaunna and Janean, and two older brothers, Matthew and Nathan.

One thing Denise notices about her son is that he's always happy.

"He always smiling. I've heard that since kindergarten," she said.

Calib was named Student of the Month and Student of the Semester during the last school year, and has been a member of the student council and the Optimist Club for several years.

For the last five years he played football, and is still playing as wide receiver and defensive back. Outside of school, Calib said he likes to golf, ski and go hunting with his dad and brothers. This year Calib said he harvested his first whitetail deer.

When he was first notified about being nominated for the Principals's Award, Calib said he was nervous because the notice came on a blue slip, which is usually an indication of being in trouble.

Calib said he hasn't decided what he wants to do in the future, but he's interested in studying civil engineering or business.

"I've heard from other people that I'd be a good person to start a business," said Calib.

"He's just a very responsible kid," said Denise. "We're very proud of him."

Starting on the right foot

Sponsored by the Clarkston Area Optimist Club, motivational speaker Michael Karpovich stopped by Sashabaw Middle School and Clarkston Junior High to help start the school year in a fun way. Karpovich spoke to students about the hardships of school and how such experiences can make them stronger. In addition to Karpovich, a hired DJ played music and members of the Optimist Club grilled a picnic lunch for the students at CJH. Photo provided

Wildcats close books on super season

The Michigan Wildcats 16 and under Baseball Team completed another memorable season in the North Oakland Baseball Federation posting a 36-10 record. They were the USSSA State of Michigan Champions; back-to-back USSSA Ivor James Memorial champions; Mayors Battle Creek Invitational runner-up champs; finished sixth with a 5-2 record at the USSSA-AAA-World Series in Knoxville, Tenn.; and were invited to the prestigious Black Swamp Classic at Bowling Green University.

Wal-mart

by both sides that the next steps would be an immediate processing of Orco's prior rezoning proposal for retail and commercial use, which Orco believes is the best use of the property, along with immediate consideration of any planning and zoning action that may be initiated by the township on the Sashabaw corridor.

"Only in the event such considerations did not produce satisfactory land use authorization for Orco's property would Orco initiate litigation (which we certainly hope would be unnecessary)."

"I'm not surprised by any of this," said Neil Wallace, a local attorney and Citizens for Orderly Growth representative.

"This plan dramatically violates the master plan and our ordinances," he explained. "Compare it to the master plan, and it does not come anywhere close in density."

Wallace emphasized the impacts the high density housing requested in Plans B and C could have on the community, especially schools, traffic and infrastructure.

"I'm not surprised (by the attorney's letter). That's basically reminding everyone what their rights are," said Independence Township Trustee Dan Kelly. "What I'm focusing on is how far we have come with them in meetings. We went from Wal-Mart to a proposal that is mainly residential."

Kelly explained that this is the first official site proposal Orco Investments has presented; the previous application was for a rezoning and included no site plan information.

"What they've submitted is a far cry from what was submitted six to seven months ago," said Kelly. "The proposal in front of us now does not include a Wal-Mart. What that letter basically says is it's in the hands of the township whether or not we approve this proposal."

"Our priority right now is this specific proposal," said Kelly.

Wallace, however, is uncomfortable with Orco Investment's use of the Site Specific Relief Authorization. He said the ordinance is not used to request a rezoning, but to act as one more "remedy" before moving into a court case. He also does not believe Orco presented enough information in their application.

The planning commission is holding a public hearing on Orco's Site Specific Relief Authorization on Oct. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Clarkston High School Auditorium.

The hearing is for comments on the plan's overall development concept, proposed uses and four criteria for approval of the site specific use authorization. The meeting is open to the public.

thing runs smoothly in the supervisor's office and communicating with residents over their concerns.

"My job is to make sure Dave looks good," joked Herring. "The job is broad, but challenging. My main goal is to learn as much as I can, as quickly as possible."

"This has been my first full week and I've met a number of people. Sharon Howard (secretary for the supervisor) has been instrumental in helping me work through the process. She's made sure I'm where I should be and helped schedule meetings and such."

Herring said he is looking forward to the point when he will be able to immediately address and find answers for citizen concerns, as much as possible. He added that he's grateful for this opportunity and excited to begin serving the township.

"I look forward to doing the job and providing the people of Independence Township with the best service available," Herring concluded.

NODRT

Garwood.

"They showed us pictures of what it was like with the flood. It was difficult to see how the house had been turned down to bare bones. But the conditions for the people is the most difficult thing to deal with, even though they had a positive outlook despite the place being in shambles," said wife and group member Kathy Garwood.

NODRT usually stays with churches near the disaster area and counts on its members to pay for gas. Equipment is usually donated by stores or borrowed from people going on the trip.

"We saw a huge number on the side of a house in West Virginia, which meant the house was condemned. We saw a house broken in half by the flood. There was a van that had traveled down the river and it came out looking like it'd been through a cement mixer," said Garwood.

In Garwood's experience with flood recovery, a lot of people don't have insurance to rebuild the home. Often, FEMA will provide money for supplies but only if you move your home out of the flood plain. In one example Garwood remembers, FEMA required the house to be moved back on the lot and up ten feet on a cement slab of concrete to get it out of the flood plain.

"I imagine FEMA might say 'If you want to rebuild on your lot in your neighborhood, you may have to raise it out of the flood plain,'" said Garwood referring to Katrina recovery.

NODRT is looking for more people and funds to expand. While the organization is still church-based, anyone can join.

"At this point, they're inundated with supplies. We don't know yet what they need now. We will know later. We need manpower and money for building supplies," said Garwood.

School psychologist continues helping students after 40 years of service

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Working in schools can be controversial. Parents send their children to school expecting a safe environment filled with professionals who not only teach, but identify any problems or ailments their children might have.

Dr. Richard Brozovich has worked as a school psychologist for Oakland Schools, a regional service agency, for most of his career since 1966. Students are referred to Brozovich after being evaluated once in their local school district.

People in the area should be familiar with Dr. Brozovich through his column for The Oakland Press called "The School Psychologist," which serves as a public service to promote development and the well-being of the children.

Serving on the educational front lines for so many years, Brozovich has a close up view of what is going on in schools. Over the last six or seven years, he said he has seen more selective mutism over the years, which he described as a social anxiety disorder where kids won't speak in school.

"It's always been around, but people are recognizing more that there needs to be intervention. They're usually thought of as shy children. People think they'll be okay and outgrow it. You really want to get in there and intervene as early as you can because it holds them back academically and socially," said Brozovich.

Few other problems facing children are receiving more attention recently than the behavioral disorder autism, which Brozovich has also observed over the years. Based on his observations, Brozovich points to the diagnosis of symptoms as one cause for increased rates.

"With any condition, when you're looking at severity of behavior, if you move your criteria up slightly you will include a lot more people," said Brozovich.

"I've been diagnosing autism for many years and what we used to consider autistic used to be a very severe condition... There's no question in my mind we've widened the criteria. There may be other outside factors though," said

Brozovich.

With the increased diagnosis of other disorders like ADHD, medicines are a hot-but-ton topic in Brozovich's line of work.

"I'm conservative with the use of medicines. There's two sides to that. I've seen both. Parents sometimes medicate quickly and probably over medicate. It's a method of controlling behavior that's disturbing, but there are many behavioral things and environmental changes and adaptations you can try, that could make things better, but they're hard work," said Brozovich.

"I think there's too quick a tendency to put kids on medicine. At the same time, I've seen parents so anti-medication that despite cases of what we'd call classical cases of ADHD, they wait too long, which can have damaging effects. My solution is you need a good evaluation team to tell if the condition is present. Then you need a good intervention team and you should consider all the options, medication being one of them," said Brozovich.

Another problem Brozovich has seen in schools is over-scheduled students who are constantly on the go, sometimes following a daily itinerary of their actions.

"You're taking away an opportunity children have to use their own imagination, and develop their own abilities to interact and entertain. With over scheduling, everything is being adult supervised and children are feeling a lot of pressure. Children are expected to excel in sports, academics and music and there's a lot of pressure on kids at a tender age," said Brozovich.

"I would caution parents to give your

Cookies with style: Lisa's Confection Connection arrives

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The challenge posed by special birthday requests from those eccentric uncles and imaginative young children just became a little easier in Clarkston.

Lisa's Confection Connection, which opened last April, offers custom-made cookie bouquets and cakes to personalize a holiday for nearly any request.

"The bouquets are a good alternative to flowers because they can be custom made. People bring in a theme or hobby and I can duplicate them," said owner Lisa Smigelski.

The idea for the cookie bouquet came while putting together a birthday treat for her son Garrett to take to school. With Easter being close to his birthday, Smigelski cut cookies in the shape of eggs, frosted on student names and placed them on a stick. After receiving positive feedback, Smigelski did some internet research to further explore the idea.

"I've always been into baking. The cookies came last year and it's just such a neat thing. The possibilities are endless with the cookies," said Smigelski.

One of the more unique requests Smigelski recalls was a cookie bouquet with a Harley Davidson theme. She also takes pride in having produced a 50-cookie bouquet for a wedding anniversary where guests took home a cookie to commemorate the event.

Bouquets consist of 3, 5 and 7 or a custom number of sugar cookies in a terra cotta pot with balloons.

Interest in baking started early for Smigelski, who took a cake decorating class in eighth grade and has spent most of her working experience in the restaurant industry before opening her store. Part of that time, she worked decorating Machus desserts, laying a firm foundation for her new store.

Smigelski says the response to the bouquets and custom cakes has been wonderful.

"The best part of the job is people's reaction."

— Lisa Smigelski, owner
Lisa's Confection Connection

"They say it's so cool and neat. The best part of the job is people's reaction. When they say 'It's perfect,' that's worth a million bucks," said Smigelski.

In the future, Smigelski hopes people will be able to place orders on-line and have them shipped, but realizes that may take some time.

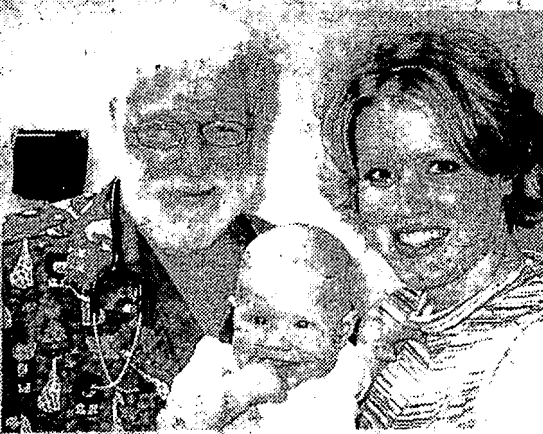

Besides cookie bouquets, the store offers wedding cakes, all occasion cakes, homemade cinnamon rolls, Machus desserts and party favors.

Currently, Lisa's Confection Connection, located at 6 E. Church Street, is open Tues. through Fri. 9 a.m. – 5 p.m. and Sat. 9 a.m. – 3 p.m. Customers wishing to place orders during nonbusiness hours can call 248-730-3519 or e-mail at lisasconfectionconnection@comcast.net. More information can be found at lisasconfectionconnection.com.

Bee Sting Allergy

Article written by: Carl Palffy, M.D.

This summer, a number of us will experience the stings of insects. For most of us, this will involve mosquito bites or bee stings and it will be a nuisance, but not a significant medical problem. For about 13 million people in the U.S., a sting from certain insects could be life threatening. The insects that are commonly associated with a venomous sting that can trigger severe allergic reactions include the bee, hornet, yellow jacket and wasp. Ants, especially fire ants, are becoming a more common cause of allergic stings. While most of us will only encounter stinging ants while traveling down south, these creatures are migrating north!

Most people who come to see a doctor about insect stings are concerned about an allergic reaction, but are not really having one. It is normal to have pain, swelling, itching and redness surrounding an insect sting. Depending on the amount of venom, and the number of stings, it can get fairly severe. When a person has a bee sting allergy, he/she is prone to have an anaphylactic reaction, which includes these features:

- Rash and itching all over, not just at the location of the sting
- Abdominal cramping and diarrhea
- Shortness of breath
- Tongue and/or throat swelling
- Dizziness and/or fainting
- Nausea/Headache
- Low Blood Pressure

For people with allergy to bee stings, even those with previously mild allergic reactions, a sting may result in anaphylaxis and death within a few minutes.

Preventing the sting in the first place is the key. Keep picnic food and garbage covered so the smell will not attract bees and other flying insects. If you intend to be outdoors, avoid wearing fruit flavored cosmetics, strong perfumes and using floral scented shampoos and conditioners. Wear shoes to guard against stepping on ants. Keep arms and legs covered during lawn work, gardening and hiking. Try to stay away from areas where insects have nested, and do not swat or crush insects. The dead bee or ant may provoke swarming behavior in other nearby creatures. While it is important to use insect repellent to reduce mosquito bites, it usually will not prevent bee or ant stings.

If you are stung by a bee or ant, the area should be cleansed with mild soap and water. You may apply a topical antibiotic, such as bacitracin, or first aid cream. If the wound is itching, an antihistamine such as diphenhydramine, may help. Please do not operate a vehicle or take alcohol while you are taking over-the-counter antihistamines. If the redness or swelling is severe, or if you experience symptoms of anaphylaxis (the "bullets" above), then you should seek immediate medical attention. In case of extensive rash, shortness of breath, tongue/throat swelling, or fainting, emergency medical services ought to be summoned. Bear in mind that some patients will have delayed hypersensitivity reactions, or may develop a skin infection in the area of the sting, so symptoms that start a day or more after an exposure, should be brought to a doctor's attention.

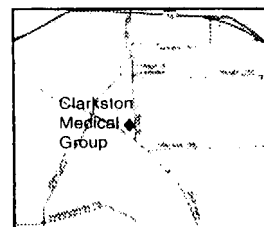

There are allergy shots that can effectively prevent insect venom associated allergic reactions. If the sting has already occurred, adrenaline (epinephrine) shots are made for consumer use, and should be used by the allergic patient as soon as the sting has occurred. If you are chaperoning children on a camping or hiking trip, make sure you know of any allergies, and, if they have been prescribed medication, familiarize yourself with the use of that medication, including how to give injections, before leaving on the trip. If a person falls unconscious because of a bee sting, bystanders must inject that person's adrenaline. Even if a person improves after receiving adrenaline, he/she should seek immediate medical attention.

Try to avoid those stinging insects this summer, but if a sting does occur, or if you are concerned that you may be allergic, see your doctor for advice and treatment.

Dealing With Conflict

For many of us, the first memory associated with conflict is negative. After experiencing a major conflict with someone they love, most people feel hurt, anger and frustration. The most frequent response to the word association suggests that conflict is bad.

Certainly conflict can be negative and destructive. It can lead to feelings of complete hopelessness, and there are clearly unhealthy ways of dealing with conflict. At the same time, there is such a thing as constructive conflict.

Conflict is a major theme of the Bible. From Genesis to Revelations we see people in conflict with God, themselves and others. Conflict is the process we go through and price we pay for intimacy. Intimacy is always achieved at the price of facing our differences and negative feelings and resolving them. I personally believe that all conflict is solvable if we approach it the right way.

Why is there conflict? Because we are all different. And we are different because God, in His infinite wisdom, chose to make us different.

In I Corinthians 12-14 and numerous other passages of scripture, it is clear that God designed differences. The strength of a marriage, a family and especially an active church is largely related to the diversity of those individuals.

As we strive to accept one another, we find at times our differences produce problems. They can lead to disagreements that may result in conflict. Relationships aren't destroyed by differences. They are destroyed by the immature, irresponsible and unhealthy ways in which we view those differences and our unwillingness to take them to God and ask for His wisdom and guidance.

The real problem is not that we are different, nor that we disagree and have conflict. It's that most of us automatically view conflict as something negative, rather than a tool God can use to help us better understand ourselves and one another. When you experience conflict, it means that someone has a different value or opinion than you do. Most of us assume our position is the correct one, and we try hard to help the other person see things as clearly as we do.

Rather than listening and understanding, most of us attempt to change the other person. I've worked with many conflicting couples who weren't too sure what the real issue was, but they were sure that whatever the issue; their position was the correct one. This leads to problems in marriage and family.

There is a big difference between families with problems and problem families. All families experience stress and problems that lead to conflict, but healthy families value conflict and have the ability to handle problems in a constructive way. Families that don't face and deal with problems become problem families.

So, how do you deal with conflict? Throughout this next week, choose to consider the potentially positive side of difference and conflict. Remember that each conflict provides a unique opportunity to better children some downtime to relax and do what kids do," he continued. "Often, kids rate their self worth tied up on how well they perform, instead of what we all probably want, which is unconditional self acceptance."

Please see Conflict, page 12B

Brozovich

Brozovich says signs a child is over-scheduled include: being temperamental, outbursts, high anxiety, preoccupation with achievement and feeling self worth through what they are good at.

In addition to some of the aforementioned trends in child development and education, Dr. Brozovich looks at a different home structure as one of the biggest change in his years of work.

"I think people are fundamentally the way they've always been. I have seen a change in the family structure from when I've started to now though...I used to have no trouble calling home and getting someone. Now, a big problem is communication and setting up appointments," said Brozovich.

Dr. Brozovich earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan in math and psychology. He earned his masters and Ph.D. at Peabody College of Vanderbilt University.

Brozovich's work has not gone unnoticed. He was recognized by his peers when the Michigan Association of School Psychologists named him as the 2003-2004 School Psychologist of the Year.

During his career, Brozovich has authored and co-authored several booklets and pamphlets, some with well-known names in the field including Dr. Orlando Villegas, who Brozovich says helped start the nationwide ADHD discussion. The pamphlets are designed to help advise parents, educators and other relevant people about issues facing students and education like ADHD, foster children, Ritalin and many other topics.

Brozovich recalls early interest and aptitudes that helped his career during which many children have been treated.

"I always had an interest in psychology going back to high school. It seems people liked to talk to me and confide in me," said Brozovich.

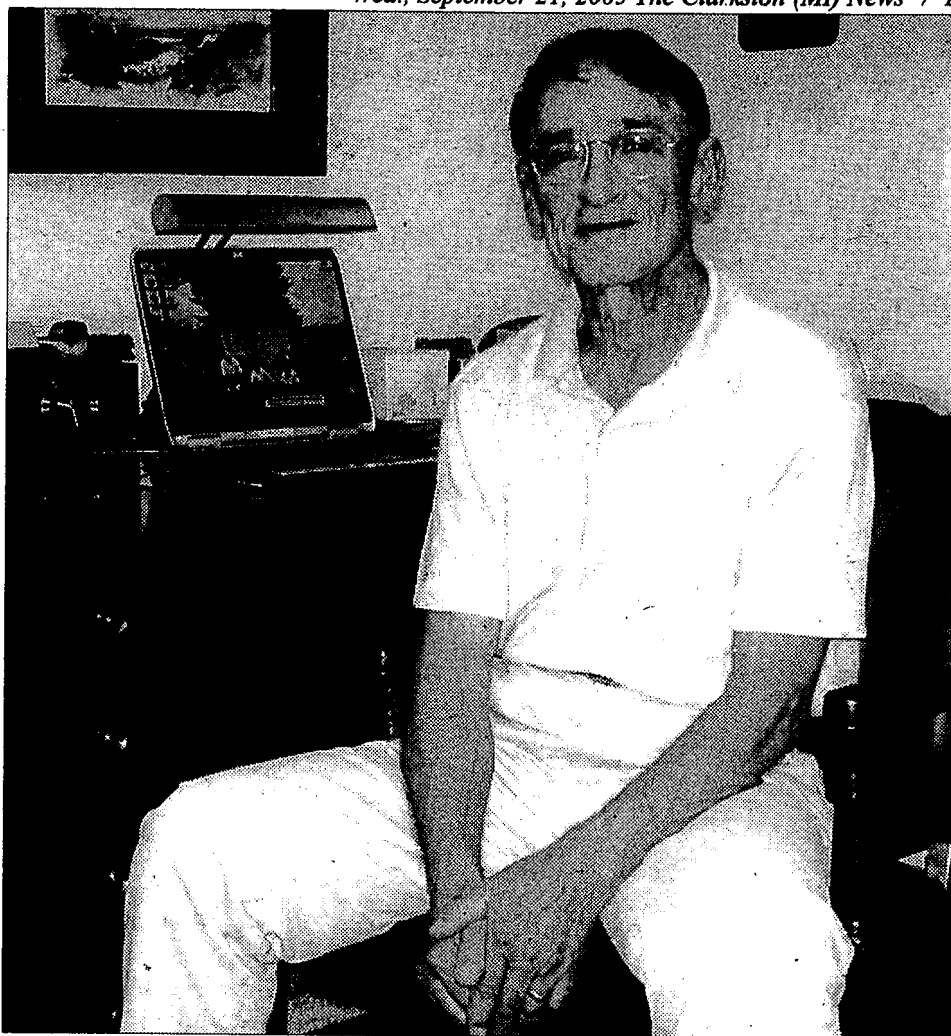

"I'm most proud that I always took the side of the child. Sometimes I took some heat for that from the school or the parent. I tried to say this is what the child needs and the parent may not like hearing it. You try to do it in a gentle way and if they're not accepting, you have to be persistent. That might make some people not think too kindly of you, but you have to think about what the child needs," said Brozovich.

Outside of school, Brozovich enjoys his family, biking, playing tennis and cutting wood. His wife, Diane, and he have spent the last 25 years biking along trails which were converted from railroads by the Rails-to-Trails conservancy program around the country. The Brozoviches also garden; Diane focusing on flowers and Dr. Brozovich on vegetables and things you eat.

Diane is a well known face around Clarkston. She worked at Village Apparel and Gifts for 31 years and says the village has become busier with more shoppers over the last three generations.

The Brozoviches moved to Independence Township a year ago from Waterford.

"We wanted a one level house and

Dr. Richard Brozovich, at the desk in his study, moved recently to Independence Township. Photo by James Martinez have always been attracted to the area. We like to go to the library, use the bike trails and walk down to the high school for games," said Brozovich.

The Brozoviches have been married for 42 years and have three children James, Susan and Tom. James and his wife Missy live in Clarkston with their children Kaitlin, 10, and Amy, 7. Susan is married to Ed Kaleel and their children are Eddie, 7, and Jamie, 5. Tom is married to Karen and they have Rachelmery, 10, Elizabeth, 9, and Franklin, 7.

(Note: Dr. Brozovich works with colleague Jayanne Roggenbaum in writing "The School Psychologist.")

CLARKSTON CITY OF THE VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON 375 DEPOT ROAD CLARKSTON MI 48346 SUMMARY CITY COUNCIL MEETING SEPTEMBER 12, 2005

Meeting called to order at 7:03 p.m. by Mayor Catallo.
Roll. Present: Catallo, Colombo, Gamble, Meyland, Ottman.
Absent: Savage, Wylie.
Minutes of August 22, 2005, accepted as presented.
Agenda accepted as presented with the removal of Police Radio Contract and Polling Site Kit from New Business.
Bills in the amount of $203,882.02 approved for payment.
Meyland expressed his thanks to Ginny and Jim Schultz and other organizers and volunteers for the second annual picnic.
Meyland noted the passing of City resident Floyd (Whitey) Tower on August 27.

Ottman expressed her appreciation for the second annual picnic and stated that residents like Ginny Schultz and others involved in the picnic make Clarkston a better place to live.
Ottman felt that the radar speed monitor worked effectively in controlling traffic and asked that more use be made of this tool.
Chief Combs asked for funds to purchase batteries for the unit that was donated to the City as well as some minor repairs needed for that system.

Resolved That the City Council authorize expenditures of an amount not to exceed $300 for batteries and repairs to the speed trailer to get it up and running.

Ottman was also concerned about the condition of the planting areas in the upper parking lot and at Depot Park. Signs that had been placed at these areas were vandalized. Pappas was instructed to contact Distinctive Landscaping to determine if that company would still maintain these planting areas.

Gamble stated that he would discuss the issue of trees in the Mill Pond at the next Mill Pond Lake Improvement Board meeting to determine if anything could be done by that group.

Mayor Catallo stated that the picnic was very successful and complimented the Fire Department and City D.P.W. for exhibiting equipment that could be viewed.

Chief Combs reviewed the Police statistics and reported that motorcycles had been ordered. New models will be coming within a week or two and will require being broken in for Taste Fest use. Chief Combs will try to get an auxiliary patrolman for the Arts in the Village week end.

Pursley reported that the D.P.W. was readying for Art in the Village week end, and the D.P.W. garage will be used for storage. Main Street will be closing for the Taste Fest on Sunday and setup will begin at 5:00 a.m. Pursley is in search of a part-time D.P.W. employee and is advertising in the Clarkston News. Pursley reviewed the Meteorlogix equipment and was asked to research other methods of weather reports.

Ginny Schultz expressed her thanks to the Council for funding the City picnic, and especially to Kristy Ottman for her help as well as Robyn and Corey Johnston who picked up the coolers and ice cream, and for the Coventrys assistance.

Mr. Bondy asked that he be allowed to conduct yard sales during week ends in October, selling pumpkins and corn stalks. Pappas was instructed to contact the City Attorney for his recommendation on this issue.

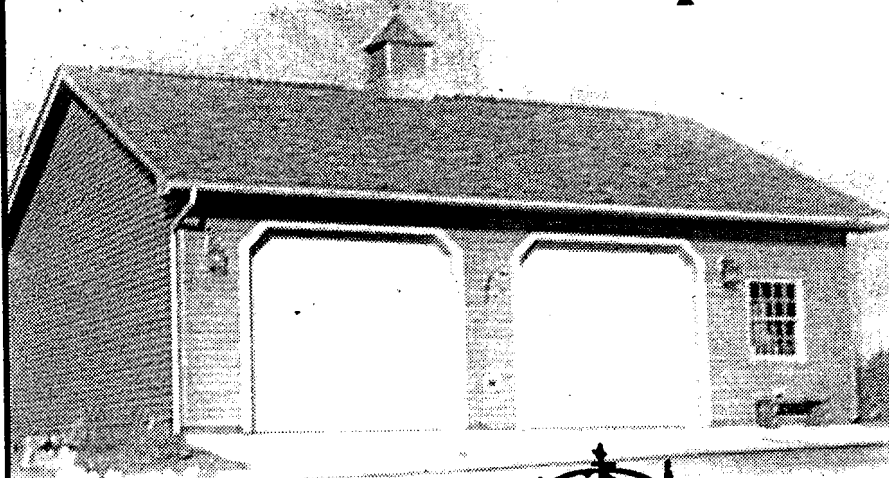

Moved That Derek Werner be appointed to the Planning Commission to fill a vacancy for a three-year term ending in 2008. The proposal of Carlisle Wortman, Planners, was tabled until there was full attendance by the City Council.

Moved That the City Council approve the site plan for the Deer Lake Farms sign at the corner of North Holcomb and Valley View Drive.

Meeting adjourned at 8:43 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Artemus M. Pappas, Clerk

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE PLANNING COMMISSION PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE DATE: OCTOBER 6, 2005 TIME: 7:30 P.M.

PLACE: CLARKSTON HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM
6093 FLEMINGS LAKE ROAD
CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that, on October 6, 2005, at 7:30 p.m. in the Clarkston High School Auditorium, 6093 Flemings Lake Road, Clarkston, Michigan, the Township Planning Commission shall conduct a public hearing for the purpose of receiving comments on conceptual development plans that have been submitted by Orco Investments, Inc., for the development of approximately 70 acres of land situated in the southeast quadrant of the intersection of I-75 and Sashabaw Road (north of Waldon Road).

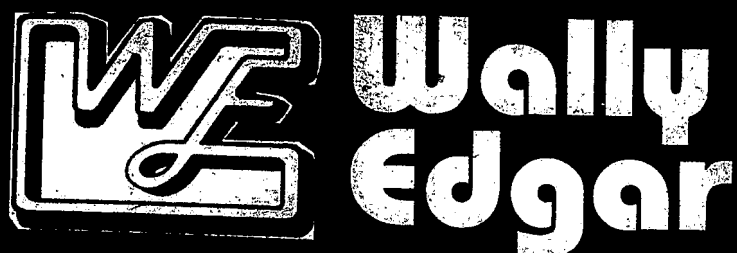

The hearing is to receive comments on the following aspects of the development plans:

1. The overall development concept presented.
2. The proposed uses.
3. The four criteria for approval of a site specific use authorization.

The development plans have been submitted in connection with an application for approval of a Site Specific Use Authorization under Section 5.30 of the Independence Township Zoning Ordinance. The plans reflect a proposal for approximately six acres of commercial development and approximately sixty acres of residential development. The residential portion of the property is proposed to be developed in three forms of housing: single family detached, town homes and twelve-plex units. A copy of the plans are on file at the Township Building and Planning Offices 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, Michigan, for public examination during normal business hours.
