

Board slashes 401Ks

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With most salaries already froze for Springfield Township employees, a cut to their 401K plan is now on the horizon with discussion of other cuts lingering in June.

Springfield board members voted unanimously at their May 11 meeting to reduce the township's contribution to employee 401K plans by 2.5 percent and cap contributions to future employees to 2.5 percent. The reduction in benefits for current employees is effective Jan. 1, 2007, while the reduction for new employees takes place immediately.

According to a memo from Township Supervisor Collin Walls to the board, reducing the township's contribution from 7.5 percent to 5 percent would save approximately $20,925 in expenses in the general fund, fire department, parks fund and building department fund.

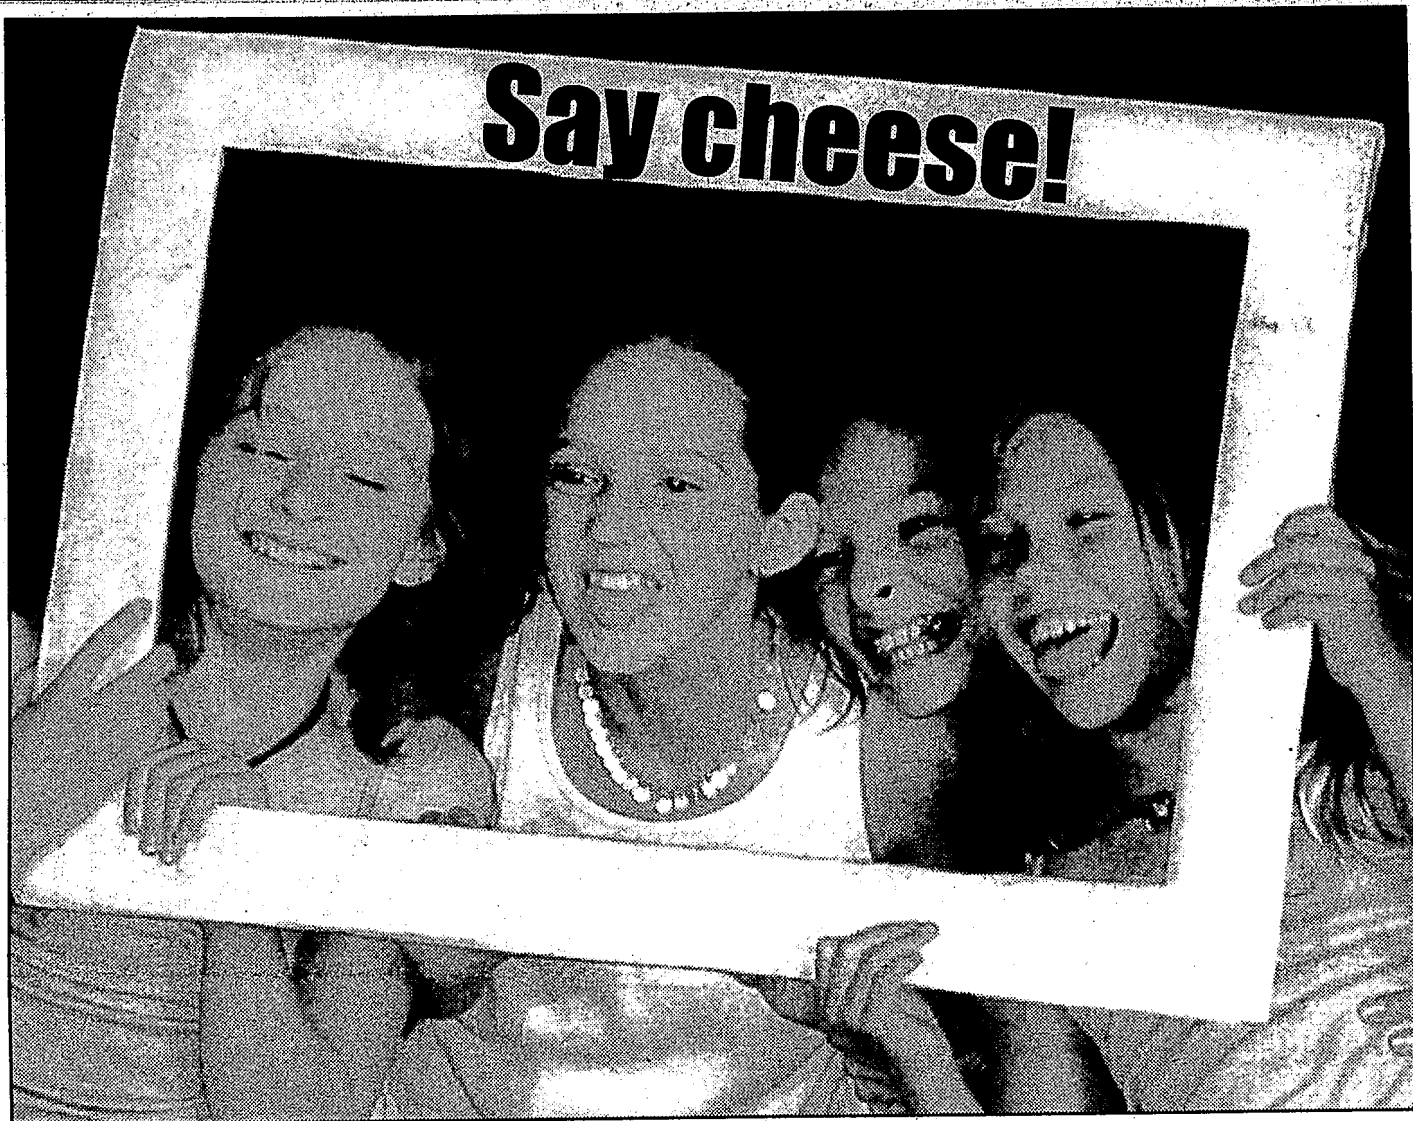

"It is a very unfortunate fact of life that the most expensive portion of the township operation where we have any control at all over expenditures is in wages and benefits. I sincerely believe that we must do something to control our costs in this area as much as possible. We have and should continue to explore opportunities for increased efficiency and cost reduction," stated Walls in the memo prior to the discussion.

During a phone interview, he highlighted not filling a vacancy in the Assessing Department and better utilizing of township vehicles as examples of efforts to reduce costs without making cuts

Springfield okays Wireless plan

BY JAMES MARTINEZ

Residents in Springfield Township should expect to have free wireless internet capabilities by the end of 2007.

After Deputy County Executive Phil Bertolini answered their questions, the Springfield Township board voted unanimously to authorize Supervisor Collin Walls to enter into an agreement with Oakland County for the Wireless Oakland project. Bertolini appeared at the board's request for a county representative to be present at a meeting. Trustee Dennis Vallad was not in attendance.

The township received a letter from the county in April asking the municipality to review an intergovernmental and license agreement to facilitate the construction of the wireless network.

The board asked several questions about how the system would be constructed and implemented and what kind and types of facilities would be located in the township.

"If nothing else, we should complement them on giving us the complete information, the agreements are very clear cut. You can understand what the responsibilities are and it was an honest attempt to put together a balanced plan," said Walls.

"The county's goal is to facilitate. We want to get this done so we take all the barriers down so the private sector can build the network," said Bertolini. "We wanted MichTel to focus on getting the service out there. So we sent all the agreements out to the municipalities and said 'Look, take a look at them and when you're ready we'll come, we'll sit down, we'll talk and ratify the agreement.' That doesn't mean we're going to come in and start tomorrow. What it means is when we're ready to start, we don't have any issues that get in the way."

The agreement states the county:

- is authorized to execute the license agreement on behalf of the municipality for use of public assets.

- must provide a map to the municipality identifying public assets to be used, with the township having approval and disapproval.

- shall not request the construction of new towers.

- shall not receive revenue
- designate an employee to be point of contact and information regarding this issue.

Responsibilities of Township include:

- providing the county with a list of public assets that can be utilized for Wireless Oakland.

- using its best efforts to assist with installation and implementation of the service including waving local permit fees associated with installation, implementation, operation or maintenance.

Scouts earn Bronze Award at Depot

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

As flowers often represent a transition from spring to summer, a group of local Girl Scouts marked their own advancement in scouting by planting flowers at Depot Park.

Junior Girl Scout Troop 1291 completed their project amid the cold and rain on May 12, earning Bronze Awards and making the transition towards Cadette Girl Scouts.

"It's the highest award they can earn as Junior Girl Scouts," said Troop Leader Sandy Turner. "After tonight they will be Cadette Girl Scouts."

As part of the project, the 13 girls from Sashabaw Middle School, most of who have been in the troop since first grade, spent about 20 hours total planning and completing the project. The work added flowers and refurbished several parts of Depot Park including the Rudy Schwartz Garden.

"It's fun. The planting, the weeding, the helping out around is just nice to do," said 11-year-old Aubrey Kenny.

The girls' work took a little extra grit and determination according to Turner, who said just about every activity completed by this group was marred by rain over the past year.

"It's always raining for our outings, so we've realized we can't cancel," said Turner. "It fits in with our motto of 'Figure it out, don't freak out.'"

"We normally deal with it, so we're used to dealing with the rain," said 12-year-old Cristina Ballough as she planted a purple hyacinth.

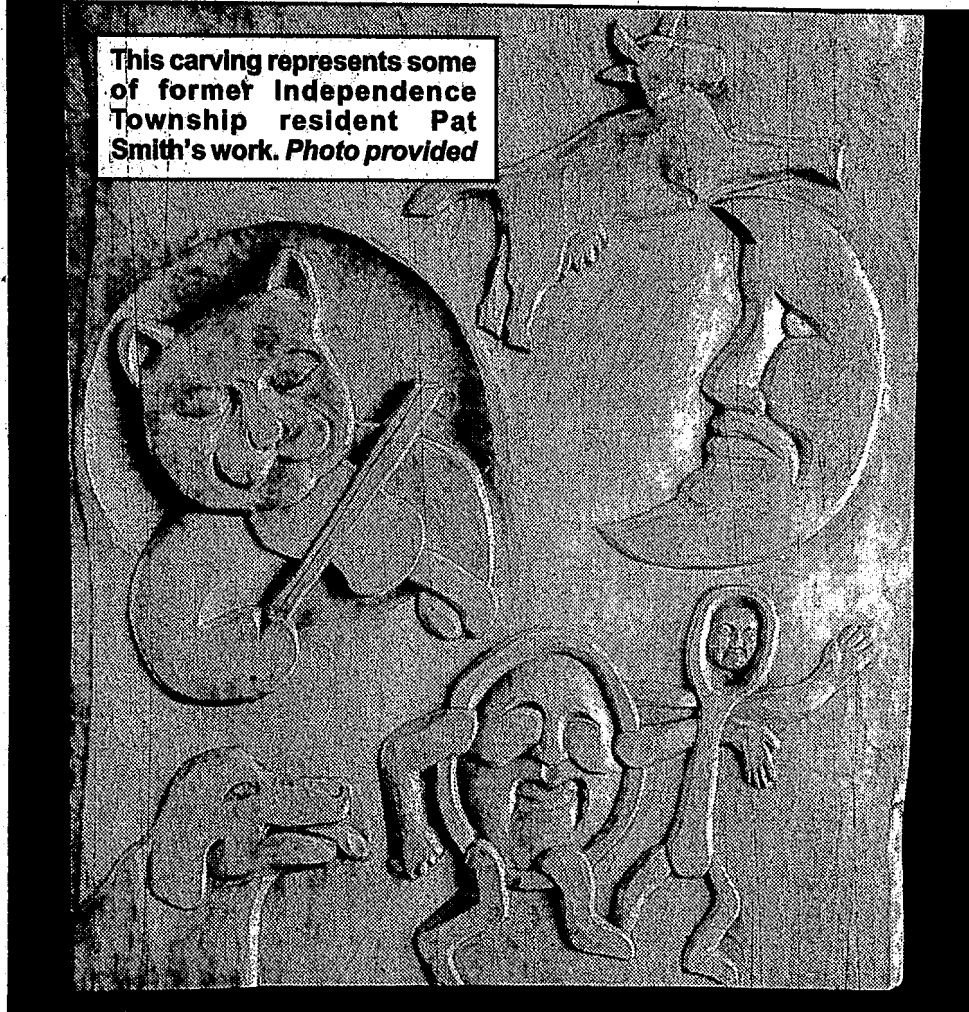

"It's been interesting to listen to their mind change as they've got different opportunities (to volunteer)," added Turner.

Following the soggy work, the girls held a ceremony marking their advancement from Junior Girl Scouts (ages 9 - 11) to Cadette Girl Scouts (ages 12 - 14).

Carving up Kalamazoo

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Patrick Smith held his first woodcarving show in Depot Park in 1979. In 2005, he was commissioned to carve a walking stick for Nobel Peace Prize Winner Desmond Tutu.

Now, with over 29 years dedicated to woodcarving, Smith's work is part of a one-man show at the Saniwax Gallery in the Park Trades Center in Kalamazoo. The show runs from June 2 - 15 and features wood sculpture, furniture, hand cast resin and other experimental pieces.

"The artwork is a process art, meaning it's a hands-on thing... It's invigorating to see how the project goes from an idea and through all the hassles of working that idea to the finished project," said Smith, who works primarily by hand using traditional wood carving techniques.

While Smith, now a Kalamazoo resident, can carve any number of items of various themes, he enjoys carving pieces reflecting Native American Art. He currently is working on a nine-foot totem pole for his display in June.

Even with a show approaching, life as an artist poses the usual challenges for Smith who spends about five or six hours a day carving. He supplements his payment for artwork, which is inconsistent and unpredictable, by painting and doing maintenance work for the Park Trades Center which hosts over 35 art studios.

"The biggest challenge is to keep believing in myself as an artist and to keep keeping on. There's no guarantees. I don't know when the next person will call. It's the great unknown. That is the biggest thrill and the greatest danger to fall prey to," said Smith.

"I run into a lot of artists here who for the life of them, they can't explain why they put so much on the line. It's not a big business."

Smith's fascination with woodcarving blossomed as he was visiting relatives in Germany over the 1977 summer.

"I was visiting my grandmother in Germany... My aunt had a nice garden I'd go sit in. I just picked up a garden stake and started carving. I just loved it and kept going," said Smith.

During his career, Smith studied under three German woodcarvers. Twice while working as a civilian in Germany for the U.S. Army in the late 1980's and once with Georg Keilhofer in Michigan for five years earlier in the decade.

The year 2005 brought Smith a career highlight, as a student organization called PEACE JAM commissioned him to carve a walking stick for the 1984 Nobel Peace Prize Winner Bishop Desmond Tutu.

"You're making a symbol for someone who themselves is a symbol. You have to get it right on the first time. It was very intimidating," said Smith.

As General Secretary of the South African Council of Churches, Tutu played a role as a unifying leader to resolve the problem of apartheid in South Africa, according to <http://nobelprize.org>.

Smith lived in the Clarkston area from 1960 to 1997. His family arrived when his father, William, became a tenured Latin teacher at Clarkston High School after several years bouncing around school districts in the state.

One of Smith's fond memories was working a cable access TV show in Clarkston with John and Shirley Lynch in the late 1980's. According to Smith, the Lynch's encouraged him to have a woodcarving show and were excellent mentors.

"(His work gave) a feeling of something solid, of being safe and having comfort. There's something about it, (the art) gives you a comfortable feeling," said Shirley Lynch. "He definitely is dedicated. I think he goes out of his way to be an honest person and honest in his work."

Taking a job in the Army again in 1997, Smith went back to Germany. While away, his mother, a widow, moved to Bellevue. After his mother died in 2002, Smith went to Kalamazoo to play harmonica in a jazz band and carve.

Track closures anger Springfield officials

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With parts of Andersonville and Davisburg roads closed while railroads are repaired, many Springfield Township residents found their main paved routes into the township gone.

The roads were closed as Canadian National Railway put in new crossings last week. The closures caused frustration among officials and first-responders.

"We have two main paved roads going into our township and they closed them both. There's nothing else," said Springfield Township Fire Chief Charlie Oaks. "Naturally it causes us problems. It adds two or three minutes in response time. It hasn't jeopardized anybody's life or property yet, but when you're talking about two minutes of not breathing, it could mean life or death."

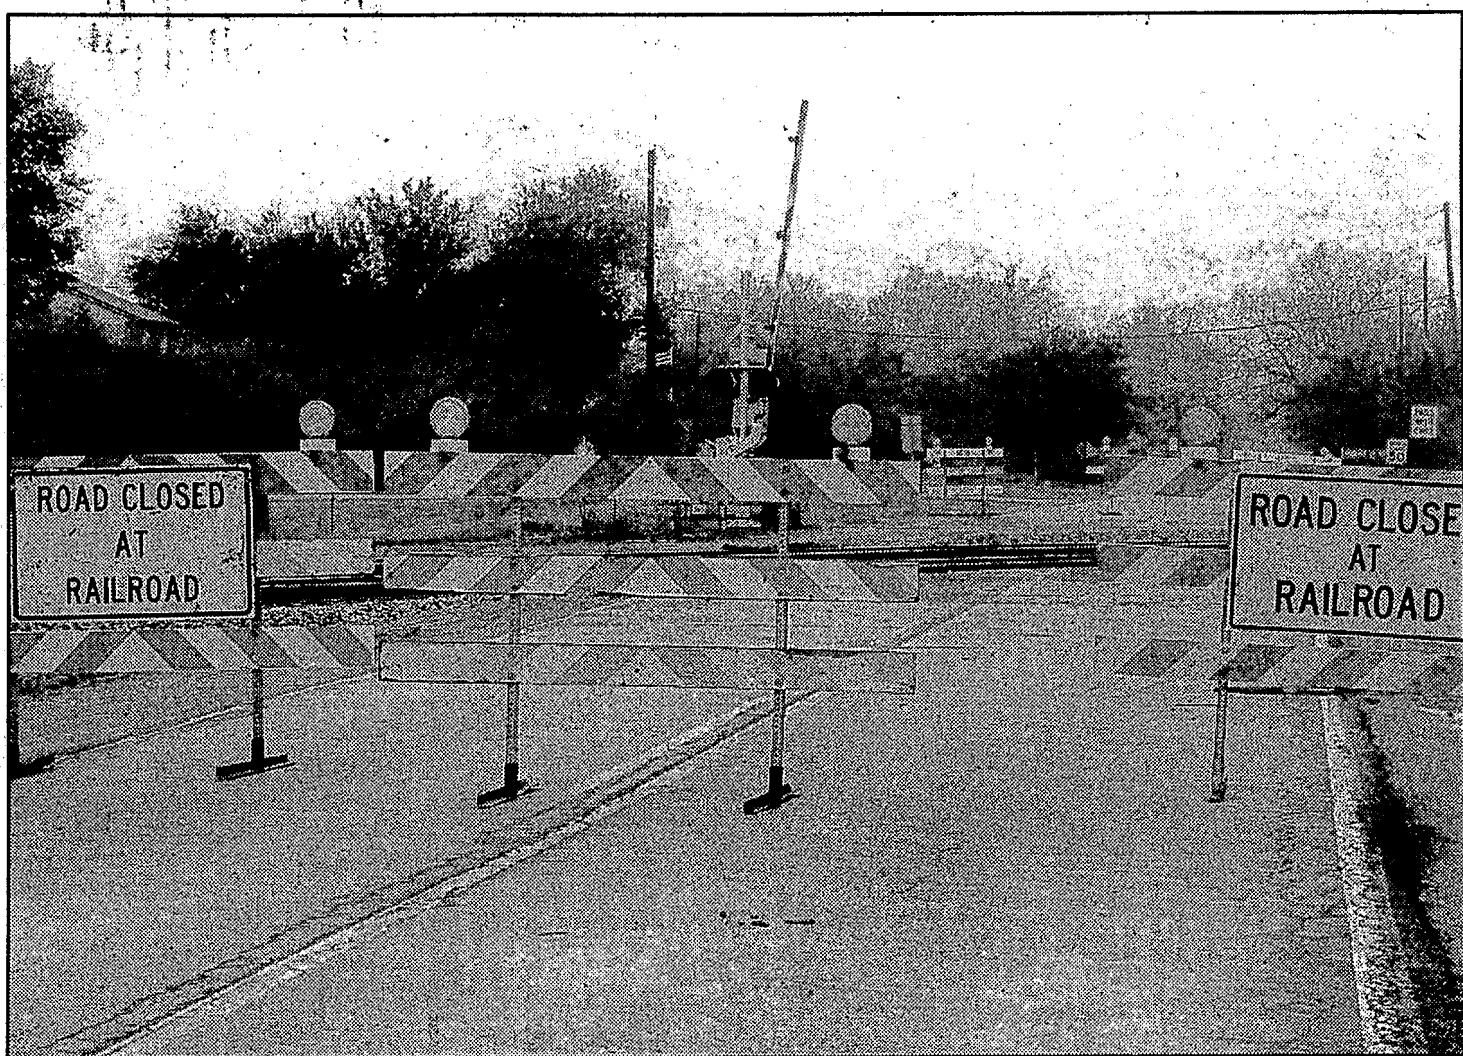

"(The closings) obviously add to our response times and then you're going on dirt roads, so there's more traffic on dirt roads making it tough for emergency vehicles because the road is only so wide. Plus, it's dumping more traffic into the neighborhoods," said Sergeant Mark Gardner of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Springfield substation.

According to Gardner, he received many complaints from residents on the dirt roads about increased traffic and speeding through the neighborhoods.

Both Gardner and Oaks questioned whether the projects could have been alternated, so as to only close one at a time.

"On Andersonville and Big Lake Road, for real emergency situations, they could have put a little bypass or temporary gate for emergency vehicles," said Oaks.

An official with Canadian National Railway (CN), who asked not to be identified, addressed the situation over the phone.

The above railroad crossing on Andersonville Road was the site of controversy for over a week in Springfield Township. Parts of both Andersonville and Davisburg roads were closed due to work on the crossings. Photo by Martinez

"It was taken into consideration. It was kind of a last minute deal. We had some machinery issues and had to (fix both crossings) at the same time due to the availability of the machinery.

"It's a safety issue. Both crossings were falling apart. We couldn't wait another year on them," added the official.

According to the CN official, a derailment in Chicago took away some of the needed machinery causing them to close both crossings. Further delaying the process, particularly for the Andersonville Road crossing which was behind schedule and not completed by deadline, additional machinery problems prevented the company from completing both projects as scheduled on May 12. The Davisburg Road crossing was open as of May 13. CN had a permit to close the tracks from May 5 - 12.

"It was kind of out of our control. I apologize. I realize these are the main arteries in that area," said the CN official, who noted additional work is scheduled in the near future on a crossing on Big Lake Road.

Road Commission for Oakland County Public Information Officer Craig Bryson said he was aware of the project, but not the specific dates on both sites until a few weeks ago.

"We did discuss it with them. They apparently had a problem because the equipment was available only for a certain window," said Bryson. "It wasn't our preference, but we have limited ability to influence their decisions. But at the same time, we wanted the work done and local officials wanted it done."

"The railroads don't need our permission and the reason is they were here before the road systems. By law, their rights supercede ours. To their credit, they try to work with us to some degree, but they can come in and close down when they need to."

Township Supervisor Collin Walls, upset with the closing of both crossings at the same time, plans to bring the issue forward at a previously scheduled meeting between all municipalities served from the RCOC garage in Davisburg soon.

Walls took issue with the notice, saying there was no "advance notice to speak of." According to Walls, he was unaware of the project until around May 2, a few days before the project started.

"Typically in the past, we've received phone calls from the permit department asking what we think of the closing. Not this time," said Walls, who has since complained to both RCOC and CN Railways.

"I would have objected vehemently because they blocked both main east/west routes into the township at the same time."

Fun with numbers

In college, I took a course called "Computer Assisted Reporting," which primarily focused on using computers to analyze raw numbers and find a story in them. Sometimes that meant taking tomes of statistics, entering them into a database and then looking for trends. Sometimes, it's as easy as looking at a short list.

Faithful readers know that for the most part, my beat is made of school coverage. Sure, there are new businesses opening, CVP productions or even the occasional car accident, but nine out of 10 of my assignments are in some way connected to schools.

For your consideration, here are some more numbers from my beat, perhaps they can give you a better idea of what I do.

10: Number of Clarkston Schools I visit or cover on a regular basis.

3-4: Average number of times I visit a Clarkston School during the week.

116: The number of items published in our paper that relate to Clarkston Schools so far in 2006 (not including this issue).

102: How many of those items either promote or celebrate an event at the schools. Roughly 87 percent.

14: Stories that examine financial issues or conflict within the district. Roughly 13 percent of our coverage.

50-50: A rough ratio of the compliments and criticisms we receive for our school coverage. Whether from comments made in person or e-mails we're asked not to reprint, I hear a lot of different opinions on how I'm doing my job, but I get the feeling the two sides never talk to each other and their conflicting views only meet in our office.

11.7 million: How much money the district expects to have in their general fund balance after posting an estimated $4.8 million deficit this year.

14: The number of teachers who received pink slips this month.

One: The number of school board members who raised objection to said pink slips.

10.3 million: How much the district would have left if they dipped into their general fund balance to prevent layoffs and avoid classroom consolidation.

2.1 million: How much the school board has cut from next year's budget already.

2.3: How many times more the Superintendent makes than the average teacher in the district.

65-35: The margin by which I predicted the district's non-homestead millage proposal would pass.

69-31: The margin by which the district's non-homestead millage actually passed.

Unknown: How many teachers, staff and volunteer parents make my job a joy by welcoming me to events, providing us with photos and talking to me like I'm a person - regardless of what they think of how I'm doing my job. The truth is, I lost count a long time ago. To them, I owe quite a bit of thanks.

So what do all these numbers mean? That is up to you to decide. Some people will think there's a clear bias, some will think the numbers are making a good point. Of course, everyone will probably think I'm just being a blow-hard and tooting my own horn.

After all, 14 is the number of times the word "I" appears in this column.

Only one solution for resident

Dear Editor,

I read with interest the column in The Clarkston News by a local pastor entitled, "What is required to have eternal life?" His answer, of course, was predictable: accept Jesus Christ as your Savior.

To this line of reasoning I must respectfully, but emphatically, take issue.

Of the dozens of major religions and religious sects in the world today, there are at least as many dozen answers to the question, "What is required to have eternal life?" But they all break down into one simple premise: Believe the way I believe.

Freely translated, it means that to the 1.3 billion followers of Muhammad in the world today, the 2.1 billion Christians are all condemned to an afterlife in Hell. No bountiful garden, no virgins there to greet you.

Letters to the Editor

But those 2.1 billion Christians know better. To them, all 1.3 billion of the Muslim faithful are condemned to Hell in a hand basket.

After all, they don't believe the way we believe.

Within the walls of Christianity it gets even more confusing. There, the 1,100,000 practitioners of the Catholic faith are certain theirs is the only answer, and all those Baptists, Methodists and Lutherans will spend the rest of their days in Purgatory, or worse. The 16 million Southern Baptists, on the other hand, are convinced those idol worshipping Catholics are bound for Hades.

In a world that cries out for unity and tolerance, we instead practice exclusion and intolerance. No wonder so many people, young people especially, are turned off by much of the rhetoric of today's churches.

The way I see it, there's only one solution. Believe the way I believe.

Dave Warner, Clarkston

Thanks for braving the rain

Dear Editor,

This past cool, rainy Saturday the local mail carriers collected an estimated four tons of food that was brought to Lighthouse Emergency Services. The Clarkston High School student council unloaded, boxed and stored the many non-perishable food items in our sorting room.

Our agency has continued to see an increase in food requests each month as more area residents become unemployed or under-employed. The food that was donated by our community and left at mail boxes on Saturday will allow Lighthouse Emergency Services to help feed families as the children end the school year and end free-lunch programs.

The staff at Lighthouse Emergency Services sends a big thank you to the Independence Township post office mail carriers, the Clarkston High student council, and the many area residents who generously donated this food.

History through the pages of The Clarkston News

15 YEARS AGO (1991)

• A Memorial Day parade and cemetery ceremony Monday, May 27, honors those who died in the defense of their country.

• Dandelion blows in with the breeze: By 9:15 a.m. Monday, May 20, about 50 people had already been treated to a close-up look at Lucky Fletcher's 29-inch-long dandelion - mounted with clear tape onto flexible glass.

25 YEARS AGO (1981)

• Ditches blamed for Mill Pond mess, Subdivision retention basin exonerated by village engineers' study: It's the opinion of Mosher-Kapelczak, Clarkston Village engineers, the Deer Lake Farms retention basin is functioning correctly - and not dirtying up the waters of the Mill Pond.

Engineers have pinpointed the ditches along Holcomb Road as the source of some of the Mill Pond sedimentation, and they lay the finger of blame on the repaving of the roadway.

50 YEARS AGO (1956)

• Sandusky Mayor To Visit Clarkston: The annual Mayor's Exchange Day, Monday, May 21st, sends us Mayor Finkbeiner of Sandusky.

• Ground Breaking Takes Place Sunday: Climax to the third great step in the development of St. Andrew's Episcopal Mission, Drayton Plains, came Monday night when All Saints Parish Vestry, the sponsoring religious corporation for the Mission, okayed the financing and building plans for the first unit of St. Andrew's new church home.

• Men's Club To Hear History Of County: On Thursday evening, tonight, the Men's Club will meet at the Methodist Church for the regular monthly dinner-meeting.

• Special Clinic For Palsied Children: Parents of cerebral palsied children who want to learn the proper treatment for their children will have the opportunity June 6-7 when one of the country's six specialists conducts a clinic here.

• Interesting Letter From Heidelberg: An interesting letter was received this week from Sylvia Petersen who is studying in Heidelberg, Germany. Sylvia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Petersen of Orion Road.

Moles, urine and cemeteries

Moles: In recent weeks, I have whined (rather unmanly like) about their existence on/in the property I pay taxes for . . . if they want to reside on said parcel, they ought to share the tax burden.

Without rehashing by moleophobic tendencies, last week I wrote (in part): Every Oct. 23, from 6:02 a.m. to 6:02 p.m. egg-heads celebrate National Mole Day. It was created by pointy-headed poindexters in academia to commemorate Avogadro's Number (6.02 x 10²³). I think mole is short for molecule?

Let me say, it is bad enough when you make a mistake and your own wife catches it and tells you. It is quite another thing when somebody else's wife jumps on for the ride. Both my very own wife, Jennie and Nicholas Kraska's wife Samantha let me know I was wrong.

And, I admit it, I was (how's that for manly?). Both wives corrected me. Here's what Sam wrote (I am very familiar with her now, so I can call her Sam instead of the formal Samantha, or Mrs. K.):

"Don, Thanks for the info about Oct. 23 being National Mole Day, but mole is not short for molecule as you thought it was. In chemistry, a mole is like a measurement. Just like you know a dozen is 12 of something, a mole of any element is 6.02 x 10²³ molecules of the element."

Thanks, gals.

Leonard resident Dan Stanko is getting really whizzed off about gas prices and I quote, "What the X#0!X!"

He further opines with the same clarity and grandeur, "I am also tired of all the excuses given. Please stop. And, to all those who at the on start of the war we are in said, 'It's all about oil . . . ' Do they still feel this way?"

" . . . I could go on but, I am beginning to work myself up. Thank you for letting me vent.

"PS: Just thinking way outside the box -- if we could turn urine into fuel, we could drop those oil producing countries like a bad habit! Sounds crazy, but you must agree, the supply is endless."

Dan, o' boy, relax. And, before you start giving out samples to more than your urologist, chew on this: Three smackin' frackin' dollars a gallon of blizen rizin gas is just the push we American's need to get us out of the family Hummer and into the family Hyundai. We all know Hummers are great, but little foreign cars are great savers of gas. Always remember, government and huge business know what is best for we sheep.

Bahhhhhhh!

With Memorial Day fast approaching, I'd like to take a moment to address cemetery etiquette. Among journalists and columnists, I think I am uniquely qualified for this task -- I worked my way through college by working at Independence Township's Lakeview Cemetery. (I dug that job . . . I had a lot of folks underneath me . . . people were dying to get it -- I've heard them all.)

Remember to help your local sexton. Clean up your lots and show respect to others, unlike what Oxford resident Margaret Stoddard reports:

"Dear Don, I feel compelled to write . . . It is with sadness that I write concerning happenings in Oxford Cemetery.

"In 2004, I put red geraniums on all 16 lots in front of the headstones. I did the same in 2005 and in less than two weeks all were stolen.

"Now, Daniel Hulick's monument has been shattered. Daniel Hulick was a prominent man and was one of the organizers of the Oxford Savings Bank, as was my grandfather, Alf Hagerman. Dan's wife was Alf's sister, Elizabeth, my great aunt.

"If apprehended, I think the persons responsible should pay for a new monument."

Dear Margaret, I concur. And, if they don't catch the scoundrels, maybe Oxford Bank could help the family and pony up for a new stone. I got 10 bucks I can contribute. Just a thought.

There they stand. Twenty-seven 5 and 6-year-olds, squirming and waving (except for our Haley and Trevor who barely moved, including their lips) until the teacher puts a finger to her mouth.

Then, total silence. Total stillness. I should have had that control over our kids at that age, or any age.

Most of the time our twin grandchildren are active. Sometimes boisterous. But before this small audience of kinfolk they were dormant. They stood next to each other on the top row of the 3-row riser, and occasionally we'd see them elbow each other.

She faced him instead of the teacher or audience. I think in anticipation for an opening to slug him. He stood straight forward doing facial expressions, rolling his eyes upward while wearing a frowned face. There was no way of knowing if either sang the songs, though once in a while we'd see a lip move.

It was the same whether it was an upbeat song or interpretive diddy, like doing the Chicken, soaring a kite or imitating McDonald's arches while singing.

Haley and Trevor had none of that, rarely showing arms above the person's head in front of them. I realize my perspective is different from yours, but their parents and I may have enjoyed their lack of participation as much as parents of the very expressive kids.

There were extenuated mouth openings, wide and narrow eye movements, nervous bodies and semi-still and some who really got into songs . . . almost like performers at Detroit Pistons basketball games.

Then the teacher, Peggy Mueller, called for them to come down from the stands and sing and dance to a Highland Reel. Our grandkids got into that.

They smiled broadly for the only time. They joined the others in the kicks with hands on hips, they hooked arms with their partners and they proved their stoic appearance on the risers was very temporary.

During this part of the performance I glanced at the teacher, 'cause it appeared none of the 27 were watching her. Her face had such a wide smile it appeared she was enjoying the dance as much as the students.

When it ended, I purposely watched Mrs. Mueller collect her discs, etc. No one approached her. A good many years ago, at a Dale Carnegie speaking course, the instructor said, always seek out the speaker and thank them.

This lady did a great job in teaching the many songs, discipline and showing she loves her job. Everyone there had to be impressed and satisfied with her work. All should have given her a pat on the back.

There are great teachers in all schools and in all subjects. You know that. When the opportunity is there, take time to say, "Thank you."

One last grandchild comment. And, another lift for old granddad. Grandson Dan, 20, joined us for a weekend of trout fishing the first weekend in May. He and his dad had a school of over a hundred trout settle in front of their shore fishing spot.

And the trout were hungry. The two just pulled in one after another, until they got their limit, then continued with a catch-and-release plan.

Considering I've caught my 5-trout limit twice in over 35 years of opening the season, it was both amazing and refreshing. Dan better remember it, because it may never happen again.

For all who kept their 48-star flag, maybe it will again be the flag for the USA. Under my plan, and that of the Mexican movement, California will go it alone in a few years and all the other states will support its resolve.

That will leave 49 states, then to balance the federal budget we'll cut ties with Alaska. They will make it as a separate country by opening their oil explorations and selling oil to the lower 48, and the lower 48 will not have to subsidize those residents.

People tell me I have way too much time.

The incident occurred around 9:50 a.m.

May 9: Two purses stolen from a locked vehicle at a business on Clintonville Road.

Domestic assault on Mann Road.

May 10: According to Lt. Dale LaBair, a death investigation is now closed following the passing of an 86-year-old Independence Township resident on Main Street. An autopsy revealed the woman died of natural causes. The woman's doctor would not sign the death certificate at the scene because she had just undergone a medical procedure at an area hospital.

May 11: Police cited a 20-year-old Clarkston woman and 19-year-old Clarkston man for underage drinking after they were found in a vehicle on Coulter Lake Boulevard. P.B.T.'s were .08 for the woman and .04 for the man.

May 12: Purse containing wallet and credit card stolen from vehicle (no force) on Waterbury Drive.

May 13: 24-year-old Grand Blanc man arrested for operating his motor vehicle while intoxicated, second offense, and violating his restricted driver's license. The man was arrested in a restaurant bathroom after he drove into the parking lot off Dixie Highway as police tried to pull the vehicle over for speeding. Two other occupants stayed outside near the front of the vehicle while the man ignored verbal demands to stop. A deputy followed the man into the establishment. P.B.T. results for the driver were .13.

Rochester Hills resident reported a pistol stolen from his car while parked on Lorac Road on May 12.

18-year-old Waterford man arrested for under 21 consumption of alcohol on Parview. P.B.T. results were .10. Police, originally in the area for another call, were flagged down by a resident who could not remove the man from his apartment. The Waterford man entered the apartment with a friend of the resident, and later told a group of people at the apartment he was hiding from police. When it was determined none of the other guests in the apartment knew the man, he fled to the bedroom.

May 14: 40-year-old Clarkston woman arrested for domestic assault on Forest Valley Drive for allegedly assaulting her husband and dousing him with peroxide. According to reports, alcohol is believed to be a factor.

Police visited the last known address of a sex offender on Ashwood Court who failed to verify his address. The address was found vacant.

Tappon Road resident reported receiving harassing phone calls since May 13 that have gotten increasingly violent.

27-year-old Clarkston man tasered twice and arrested for obstructing a police officer on Deepwood Court around 3:20 a.m. Police were called to the scene for a fight in the parking lot and were directed to the man's apartment to find an injured person from the fight. As a deputy, approached the apartment the man opened the door. The deputy observed another man lying face down with visible injuries. As the officer attempted to walk towards the injured man, he placed his hand on the Clarkston man's shoulder. The Clarkston man allegedly flailed his arm and resisted as the officer tried to handcuff him. When a back up officer arrived, they tasered the Clarkston man. After the tasing, they were able to talk to the injured man, a 32-year-old from Pontiac, with minor injuries to his head and face, and cited him for fighting.

Teen injured by drunk driver

An Independence Township 16-year-old was transported to St. Joe's Hospital for unspecified injuries after being involved in an accident on Sashabaw Road with a suspected drunk driver.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies arrested a 38-year-old Waterford man for operating his vehicle while intoxicated following the accident which occurred around 8:24 p.m.

According to reports, the man was driving a 2006 Dodge Ram south on Sashabaw Road as the teen's 1993 Jeep Wrangler pulled from a gas station. The impact of the accident reportedly spun the teen's car 180 degrees.

The teen was transported to St. Joe's Hospital for treatment. The Waterford man, who denied drinking, failed a preliminary breath test with a .10 blood alcohol level and was transported to Oakland County Jail.

The Dodge Ram suffered damage to the right front, but the air bags did not deploy. The Jeep had damage to the left front of the vehicle.

Police looking for robbery suspects

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department is looking for two men who robbed and struck an 80-year-old Independence Township resident as part of an apparent gypsy scam last week.

On May 5 at approximately 3 p.m., two men approached the Eastlawn Street resident and offered to sealcoat her driveway for $28. When she agreed, the men completed the job on the spot.

With the job done, the woman handed over a check for payment. According to a press release from the Sheriff's Office, the larger of the two individuals stepped behind her and slapped her with an open hand on the back of the head. The man told the woman the actual amount for the job was $661.

After the woman wrote the check, the suspect continued to slap her on the head and demanded she write another check for $400. The suspects took both checks and her credit card and instructed the woman to tell no one.

The following day, the woman went to the bank and tried to stop payment on the checks and was advised they were cashed.

Bank personnel were told why she wanted the checks canceled and urged her to call police. When she would not, bank officials contacted a family member who was also on the account and informed her of the situation.

On May 10, deputies were dispatched to the woman's residence and a complaint was filed.

One suspect, a 30-year-old Hispanic male, was described as a "larger" Hispanic male. Their vehicle was described as an older model, small brown pickup truck with seal coating equipment in the back. The truck was reportedly parked on the street near the woman's home.

Both checks were recovered from the bank and were written to the same person. The bank that accepted the checks took down information from a Florida driver's license.

Persons with information regarding this incident should call 1-888-TURN-1-IN (1-888-887-6146).

A 53-year-old Thendara Road resident died from injuries after she was discovered in her home by police following an apparent fall down the stairs.

Police arrived on the scene around 9 p.m. as the Independence Township Fire Department were treating her. According to reports, CPR was unsuccessful due to her injuries. A doctor at Genesys Health Park officially pronounced the woman dead at 9:25 p.m. According to reports, the woman smelled of intoxicants and was discovered by her son.

May 15: 58-year-old Newport man ticketed for disorderly conduct in a bank parking lot on Dixie Highway around 1 a.m. Police responded to the bank after receiving a radio call for an alarm there. They discovered the man sitting in a vehicle in an unlit part of the parking lot. When deputies asked the man to step from his car, he became mad and slammed his hands on the hood of the car when asked to place his hands on the vehicle. After police secured the building and tried to explain to the man why they were there, he allegedly continued to yell at them and pointed in a deputy's face.

Sheriff's deputy assaulted

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A man who escaped a group home on May 9 was arraigned on felony charges after allegedly punching an Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy who was looking for him. The officer eventually restrained the man by tasing him.

The 28-year-old Independence Township man, was arraigned in 52-2 District Court on May 10 on a charge of assaulting a police officer with injury. The charge is a four year felony, according to Lt. Dale LaBair of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Independence sub-station.

Bond was set at $100,000 before Judge Kelley Kostin. The man next appears on May 19 at 8:30 a.m. before Kostin.

The alleged assault took place on Main Street near Waldon Road after a driver flagged down the deputy around 11:43 p.m. The motorist was from a group home on Wealthy Street looking for the man after he fled the home.

Driving up Main Street, the officer saw the man walking on the west side of the street and pulled over about 20 feet behind him.

As stated in reports, the man turned around and approached the patrol car spitting at the officer. The officer was struck by spit through his open window. The man yelled unintelligibly at the officer, who tried to roll up the patrol car's window.

"He actually charged the car. The deputy had the window open and (the suspect) started spitting at him and reached through the window punching the officer," said Lt. LaBair.

Eventually, the officer was able to open the door and create distance between himself and the alleged assailant. According to reports, the officer pulled his taser while ordering the man to the ground. The suspect then allegedly yelled something else and charged the car. The officer deployed the taser on the man's chest causing him to fall down and roll over on his stomach, leading to his arrest.

Following the incident, the officer was treated by the Independence Township Fire Department for injuries to his nose which was scratched and bleeding. He later drove to North Oakland Medical Center for treatment.

"He's back to work. Because of the scratch from a person with an unknown origin and history to us (he was checked out). It's standard practice these days if you are injured in anyway where the skin is broken, we'll have it cleaned and checked out," said LaBair.

The same officer encountered the man earlier this month during a similar call, where the man left the group home.

"The guys had contact with him on (May) 5th," confirmed LaBair.

According to reports, the man climbed out the window of the group home triggering an alarm.

While on scene, dispatch received a call from a resident on Main Street reporting someone tried to break into her house. The woman was asleep when she woke up to yelling and banging. As stated in reports, she heard a male voice, but never got a look at the man.

Police discovered a broken glass candleholder and pieces of a wood chime on the porch. They also found a missing chair in the roadway bent backward to the point it could not open. Both screens on two front windows were moved upward about four to six inches.

Reports state the suspect fled from people from the group home who state in reports they saw him try to bust out the residence window with the chair, which he later threw at their vehicle prior to their flagging down police.

Liquor sting nets two stores

BY JAMES MARTINEZ

Clarkston News Staff Writer

With prom and summer vacations just around the corner, law enforcement officials nationwide strive to make sure establishments with liquor licenses don't sell to minors. Not everyone gets the message, though.

Two stores in Springfield Township sold alcohol to a minor during a liquor inspection conducted by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department substation on May 8.

A 17-year-old volunteer working with Sergeant Mark Gardner and a detective arrived at seven area stores, selecting alcohol and taking it to the counter. The volunteer produced identification if asked.

"We did seven stores and two got caught. On that scale it's pretty good. We used a 17-year-old decoy and went in there like anyone else," said Gardner.

According to Gardner, one of the stores failed to ask for identification from the minor, while the other asked for identification, but sold the alcohol to the minor anyway.

The operation was spurred on by a complaint received by Gardner from the Liquor Control Commission on stores in Springfield Township and a resident complaint. Gardner also felt the need to make area stores aware of not selling alcohol to minors with prom and other spring events around the corner.

"I would like to do it more, but that depends on time and how things go. If we went three times a year that would be great," said Gardner. "We didn't do the bars this time, just focused on grocery and party stores."

Fines for selling alcohol to a minor can be as high as $1,000 and multiple offenses can jeopardize the liquor license for an establishment, states a brochure posted on line by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission (MCLC) at www.michigan.gov.

The MLCC provides the following contact information to report underage sales and service: www.reportunder21.com or 1-866-893-2121.

'Click It or Ticket' begins May 22

BY JAMES MARTINEZ

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Many things can be purchased for $65. Motorists could fill up a tank of gas, take that special someone out to a nice dinner or pay a fine for not wearing a seat belt.

Drivers should keep this in mind as the statewide "Buckle Up or Pay Up, Click It or Ticket" safety belt enforcement mobilization begins May 22 and runs until June 4.

Federal traffic safety funds for law enforcement agencies in 55 of the state's 83 counties are provided from the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning (OHSP) to pay for the program.

According to Eileen Weisse, Director of Traffic Safety Programs for the Traffic Improvement Association, local safety enforcement zones include: M-15 at Dixie Highway, Holly Road at Grange Hall Road, Sashabaw Road at Clarkston Road and Dixie Highway at White Lake Road.

"For the two week period you'll see signs up and a number of officers in that area. They will be writing safety belt violations. So if you buckle up, you don't have any problems," said Weisse.

Safety enforcement zones are conducted on roadways with crash problems or where belt use is low. As stated in a OHSP press release, special portable signs will alert motorists they are entering an enforcement area. One officer serves as spotter, communicating via radio unbelted motorist information to nearby marked patrol cars or motorcycles.

"A lot of it is about making people aware (the officers) are going out there... We want the drivers to know," said Sergeant Lynne Walker of the Michigan State Police Groveland post. "There's some people who don't believe in seat belts and don't wear them. We hope to change their opinion. Some people are of the opinion it will not affect them. We have proof from the compliance rates that (seat belts) do work."

"We know the fusion of enforcement and advertising has increased safety belt use and saved lives in the past," said Michael L. Prince, OHSP division director in the press release. "Expanding enforcement efforts to new counties and running ads statewide will help make sure that everyone gets the message that they need to wear safety belts."

Safety belt enforcement is expanding because of the state's goal to reach 95 percent safety belt use, a two percent increase from last year's totals, states the press release.

"Seat belts save lives and the fatalities in Michigan I know have gone down since people have been wearing seat belts more," said Walker.

This year's program adds two new counties, Barry and Cass, after five new counties joined last year. As stated in the OHSP release, safety belt use in Michigan increased from 90.5 percent in 2004 to 92.9 percent in 2005. The number of traffic deaths in Michigan fell from 1,159 in 2004 to 1,129 in 2005.

Benefits

to current employee benefits.

"I think that 7.5 (percent) is very generous. I think 5 percent is still very generous," said Treasurer Jamie Dubre at the meeting. "I do think we need to give fair notice to our current staff."

"For most people, the 401K is a future kind of thing. Most people don't think about the retirement benefit until they get to retirement age," said Walls, noting the 7.5 percent was high in his opinion, for a small employer like the township.

"It's also the most equitable," said Clerk Nancy Strole at the meeting. "I think we should focus on trying to get our reductions primarily through the 401K. We can talk about medical. I'm open to that especially with new hires, but if you get in situations where by our current employees are either asked to pay for the second person, be it a spouse, or pay a flat (fee)... It's like taking a pay cut... What do we do about those employees not affected by that?"

"As far as I'm concerned, it's a mistake for the township board. We have a lot of township contractors who haven't taken a pay cut. They're not asking them to take cuts, so why ask me," said Fire Chief Charlie Oaks during a phone interview.

"Every time they ask for a cut, it's always the little person. If they want to cut for new employees that's fine."

"I try to run as tight a budget as I can. I've never asked for any pay increase from the township... They should cut some outside expenses (instead)."

While the board discussed medical benefits as well, action was only taken on the 401K plans.

Discussion on employee medical benefits were tabled, but Walls said the topic will be on the next meeting's agenda on June 8.

"We're throwing out a lot of good ideas. For me there's no rush, these are significant decisions. I'd like to sleep on it," said Strole before the issue was tabled.

"If something doesn't change with the cost of medical insurance, we'll have to begin at some point having employees contributing to the cost of insurance," said Walls.

While Walls and the board stressed concern about making cuts to affect current employees, they were more open to making restrictions for new employees.

"I do not see a problem changing the township cost for medical in the manner in which we do that with employees for new hires because when they are hired they know exactly what they are getting into and (we're) not changing the rules of the game," said Walls.

The next township board meeting is at the Civic Center on Davisburg Road on June 8 at 7:30 p.m. (Note: Trustee Dennis Vallad was not present at the meeting.)

Wireless

- there shall be no costs associated with the implementation and operation of the service to the municipality from the agreement.

- the township will receive no money, revenue or in-kind services from the service.

The agreement is for six years, but the municipality may terminate or cancel the agreement upon 60-days written notice if the county defaults in any obligation and fails to cure the problem in 60 days.

When asked about the technology, Bertolini discussed how the project consists of two pieces of the wireless network: one located at around 250 feet above ground on structures like radio towers and one piece at street level 15-20 feet off the ground using structures like utility and light poles creating the mesh network.

Bertolini explained access points are pieces of equipment about the size of a piece of paper (8 inches by 11.5 inches, but several inches thick) mounted 15-20 feet high run on electric power. The signal will talk to a citizen's equipment from the access point.

"All you'll see on the pole is something about (8 inches by 11.5 inches) and it will have electric power to it. Technically, nothing will be constructed. There will be no towers constructed, there will be no large buildings constructed to house equipment. None of that will happen, it's all existing infrastructure," said Bertolini.

"We anticipate the signal will penetrate an exterior wall of a home. So that means someone can put another wireless router by their window or wall and pull the signal through their home and use it around their house. We don't expect it to permeate the entire structure. The reason being, to do that you'd need a lot of signal," said Bertolini, who explained he doesn't expect the signal will penetrate a basement, entire building or through larger commercial structures.

Currently, Oakland County is working with private sector partner, MichTel Communications L.L.C.

"People are wondering how they are going to earn their money. One of the ways we've done that is made all those assets available to them at no charge," said Bertolini.

"What we're looking at is making those (assets) free of charge and in return for that we want free internet for everyone in the county. The speed that will be out there free to everyone is 128K up and down, which is about four times faster than standard dial up."

Customers who want higher speed can purchase the service from MichTel, which can also sell advertisement on the welcoming web page to Wireless Oakland.

"One other piece of good news is as the fee side, where people buy, ratchets up with technology and technology changes, (the free service) gets faster. It is a requirement of the contract that the free side go up as well. So it won't be 128K forever," said Bertolini.

According to Bertolini, 30 municipalities signed up to go first with the initiative. The seven communities selected as pilots include the City of Troy, Birmingham, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pontiac, Royal Oak and Wixom. The construction of those pilots fell behind a few months due to unexpected issues trying to secure assets like utility poles.

"It'll go very fast once construction starts. And there's some talk it could be a couple of weeks and you could have a pilot done," said Bertolini.

"We are planning to have a plan for the entire county very soon... Our anticipated goal is to roll out the entire Oakland County by the end of 2007," said Bertolini.

"It'll go very fast once construction starts. And there's some talk it could be a couple of weeks and you could have a pilot done," said Bertolini.

Wireless Oakland was an initiative launched by Oakland County Executive L. Brooks Patterson in 2005 with the following goals: to "blanket the county with wireless internet service," address the county's digital divide, and provide low-cost or no-cost personal computers and technical training to underserved population groups, and develop a telecommunication and planning tool kit to support high tech investments in government and promote integration of these investments with local community character and quality of life.

City also agrees

At the May 8 meeting the City Council also voted unanimously to accept the Oakland Wireless agreement with the county.

The Independence Township board agreed to the terms with the county in January.

Don't Get Caught Up in Real Estate Frenzy
If you've owned your home for a while, you know that it's probably worth a lot more than what you paid for it. In fact, over the past five years, U.S. residential property has increased in value by almost 50 percent, according to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. That's a pretty impressive appreciation - but it doesn't mean that real estate is a "can't miss" investment.
Of course, you wouldn't be alone in thinking that now is a great time to become a "person of property." Some 23 percent of all homes purchased in 2004 were for investment, and a further 13 percent were vacation homes, according to surveys done by the National Association of Realtors. And the number of chapters of the National Real Estate Investors Association jumped from 44 in 2002 to 170 in 2005.
Clearly, real estate investing is hot. Over the past few years, the combination of low interest rates and high demand for housing has pushed prices up, up and away. But how long can they continue to soar?
Not for much longer, according to some experts. Yale economist Robert Shiller, in his book Irrational Exuberance, writes that the real estate "bubble" may soon burst, and he supports his claim by showing that median home prices are now six to nine times greater than median income in some areas of the country. He also shows that U.S. home prices, when adjusted for inflation, have not constantly risen in value.
And there's certainly historical precedent for housing prices to fall quickly and sharply. Many areas of the country have experienced "boom and bust" cycles in their housing markets.
Does this mean you should avoid real estate entirely as an investment possibility? No. But before you sign on the dotted line, keep these two rules in mind:
• Don't expect huge returns. - From the start of 1980 to the end of 2004, home sales prices increased 247 percent - which looks pretty good, until you see that, over the same period, the S&P 500 rose more than 1,000 percent. In other words, don't anticipate that real estate is going to constantly beat out your other investments; because it probably won't happen. Do keep in mind that past performance is not a guarantee of future results.
• Don't "leverage" yourself too heavily. - With interest rates still so low, it can be tempting to buy more and more property if you've got at least enough cash for down payments. But it's never a good idea to go heavily into debt for any type of investment.
Consider REITs if you're going to invest in real estate, you may want to look at real estate investment trusts (REITs), which provide diversification by property type and location. You can purchase REITs in appropriate amounts, without borrowing, and they offer greater liquidity than individual properties. Also, most REITs provide attractive current income, which can prove valuable should real estate prices decline or remain stagnant for a long period of time.
But whether you buy REITs or other types of real estate, don't go overboard. As a general rule, you should probably have no more than 5 percent to 10 percent of your portfolio in real estate. By sticking to that level, you can help avoid a lot of problems - and you won't get drenched if a "bubble" pops.

Track team ends regular season undefeated

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Nobody in the OAA I has been able to derail the Clarkston girls track team.

The Wolves have barreled through the competition so far this season and finished the dual meet season undefeated by toppling Rochester and West Bloomfield last week.

At 7-0 the Wolves are in the driver seat in the OAA I. The dual meet season counts as half of the overall championship, with the OAA meet counting as the other half.

"We are excited," Clarkston Head Coach John Yorke said. "Regardless of how it affects the final standings, I know they wanted to go undefeated for their own confidence. They wanted to beat everybody. Winning is always a good thing."

The Wolves closest meet of the season was against West Bloomfield on May 9. Clarkston defeated the Lakers 69-59 thanks to a victory in the 1600-meter relay. If the Wolves failed to win the 1600-meters, the meet would have been a tie.

Clarkston won the opening event against the Lakers, but then lost the next three before Jenny Morgan won the 1600-meters and the 400-meter relay team took care of business.

West Bloomfield won four of the next five events before the Wolves were able to clinch the victory in the final event.

Clarkston did not have as much trouble with Rochester on May 11. The Wolves defeated the Falcons 76-52 and won 10 of the 16 events.

Autumn Touchstone delivered in four events for the Wolves. Touchstone won the long jump, the 110-meter hurdles, the 300-meter hurdles and was a member of the winning 800-meter relay team.

"Autumn Touchstone had a good day," Yorke said. "She sticks out in my mind. She was solid in all of her races. In the long jump and both hurdle races she did a real nice job, and she probably ran the best leg I've seen all season in the four by two."

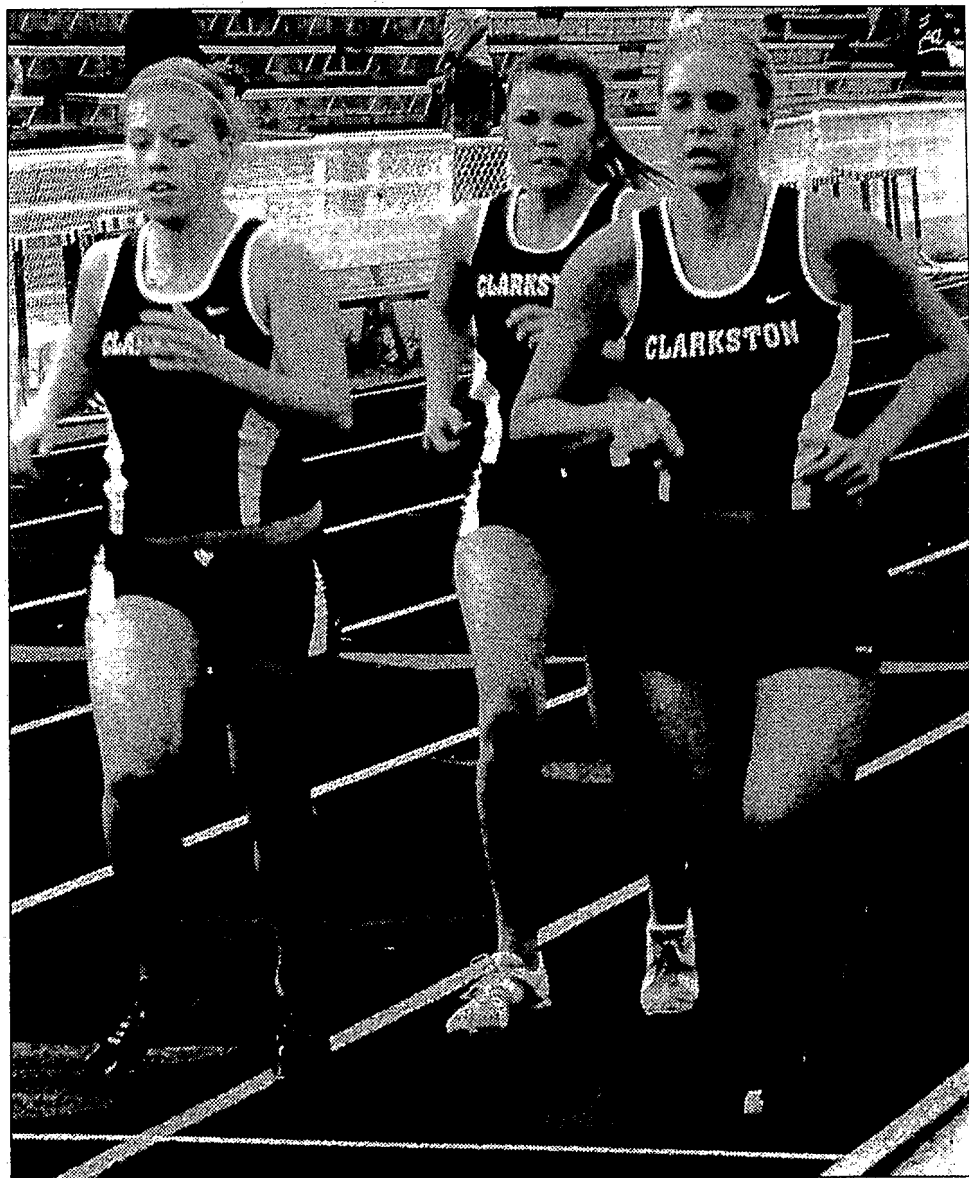

With the dual meets wrapped up, the Wolves can now concentrate on the postseason.

Clarkston will begin the postseason on May 19 when they head to Holly for regionals.

Clarkston won regionals last season and would like to repeat as champions. The Wolves main competition will be Grand Blanc, Lake Orion and Rochester Adams. Yorke said the team wants to send as many kids as possible to the state finals.

"Hopefully in all the distance races we have some girls who qualify," Yorke said. "We would also like to qualify for the hurdles, long jump, high jump and we are really hoping for our sprint relay teams to qualify this year. Honestly, we would like to qualify for every event. Realistically, out of 17 events I think we could qualify for 15 of those."

The Wolves will attempt to reclaim the league title on May 23 at the OAA meet and then will take part in the Oakland County meet at South Lyon on May 26.

Athlete of the Week – Andrea Forst

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Andrea Forst's joined the Michigan State Water Polo club team because her roommate Krista McComas talked her into it. A year later, Forst is a national champion.

Forst helped Michigan State defeat Florida 5-4 to win the 2006 Collegiate Water Polo Association Club Championship.

The national championship was the Spartans third in the last six years. MSU also defeated Notre Dame, Rice and Fresno State in the CWPA tournament.

"The Florida game was amazing. It was the closest game we had in the tournament," Forst said. "My favorite memory will be singing the Michigan State fight song in the water after we won. We last won in 2002 and it was time for us to win it again."

The championship capped off a memorable year for Forst and the Spartans. MSU went 41-9 and won its sixth straight Big Ten championship. The Spartans also had an impressive 12-8 record against varsity teams and won the prestigious Red Hawk Invitational.

Forst never planned on joining the team until McComas encouraged her to. McComas knew Forst played water polo for one year while she was at Clarkston for the Clarkston-Lake Orion combined team. Forst enjoyed the game in high school so she gave it a shot.

"The team aspect of water polo is the reason I joined," Forst said. "I love being on a team and working as team. We are also a team outside the water. We do everything together."

Forst had to adjust to the level of play at first, but was able to handle it.

"It's a more physical game in college," Forst said. "Because it's a club team there is no age limit. You just have to be enrolled at the school to play. Grad students are eligible."

Forst, who will be a senior in the fall, said next season will be her last so she wants to win the national title again and continue the string of Big Ten titles.

"I want to go out with a bang," Forst said. "We will have a great team again next year and we want to keep the tradition going. Michigan State has a tradition of excellence."

Boys track ends duals with a win

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

The 1600-meter relay team of Nick Lamora, Matt Alexander, Brad Kolano and Jesse Kessler were able to deliver a key victory in the final event against Rochester to give the Clarkston boys track team a 66-62 victory.

It was the third time this season the Wolves had a dual meet come down to the final event, but the Wolves lost the first two times.

"We had a tough season with those first two losses," Clarkston Coach Walt Wyniemko said. "Everybody played a key role in the win against Rochester. To get to that point, where it came down to the last event, we needed everyone to perform well and they did."

The Wolves entered last week at 2-2-1, but were able to get a victory over the Falcons and tie a tough West Bloomfield team on May 9.

Brad Gail continues to be a force for the Wolves. Gail won both hurdle events at the two dual meets and was a member of the 800-meter relay team which won against Rochester. Gail also won the 110-meter hurdles event at the South Lyon Invitational on May 12.

Wyniemko said Gail has had a great season, but he has his eyes set on the regionals at Holly on May 19. Last season, Gail missed qualifying for the state finals by 0.1 seconds and he is determined not to let that happen again.

"I really want to go to states in both hurdle events," Gail said. "My goal was always to make it to states and maybe possibly get a school record. I'm pretty close in the 300-meter hurdles. I was a half of a second away against Lake Orion."

Kessler also ran well against Rochester. In addition to being a member of the winning 1600-meter team, Kessler won the 200-meter dash and was on the 800-meter relay team with Gail, Eric Thompson and Reed Body.

Other key victories were Nick DeVault in the 100-meter dash, Lamora winning the 800-meters and Kyle Radenburg winning the high jump.

Wyniemko said the team is battling some injuries and hopes his runners are healthy before regionals.

"Right now our goal is to get healthy," Wyniemko said. "We didn't have anybody qualify for the state finals last season. We have been hurt all season and hopefully we can get healthy and compete. We have some people, who have the ability to qualify."

Clarkston tennis takes fourth at OAA and Holly tournament

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Clarkston was not able to capture any of the flight championships at the OAA II tennis tournament, but did manage to capture fourth place.

The Wolves finished with 33 points, six behind third place Troy Athens. Rochester Adams won the event with 48 points. Clarkston also finished in fourth in the overall standings, which counts both the dual meets and the league tournament.

Clarkston Coach Chas Claus said he was okay with the results.

"We hoped to finish better," Claus said. "We had a few matches I think we could have pulled out. A match here or there wouldn't have really affected the outcome in the standings, but we would have liked to have won them."

The No. 3 doubles team of Thomas Beattie and Derek Boatman took second place at the tournament. The duo went undefeated in dual meets, but lost a tough three set match in the championship.

No. 1 singles player Chris Graczyk and No. 2 singles player Erik Maesch each took third place in their flights. Claus was really pleased with Graczyk's play.

"He's played really well lately," Claus said. "He's on a role and he's learning to play No. 1 singles."

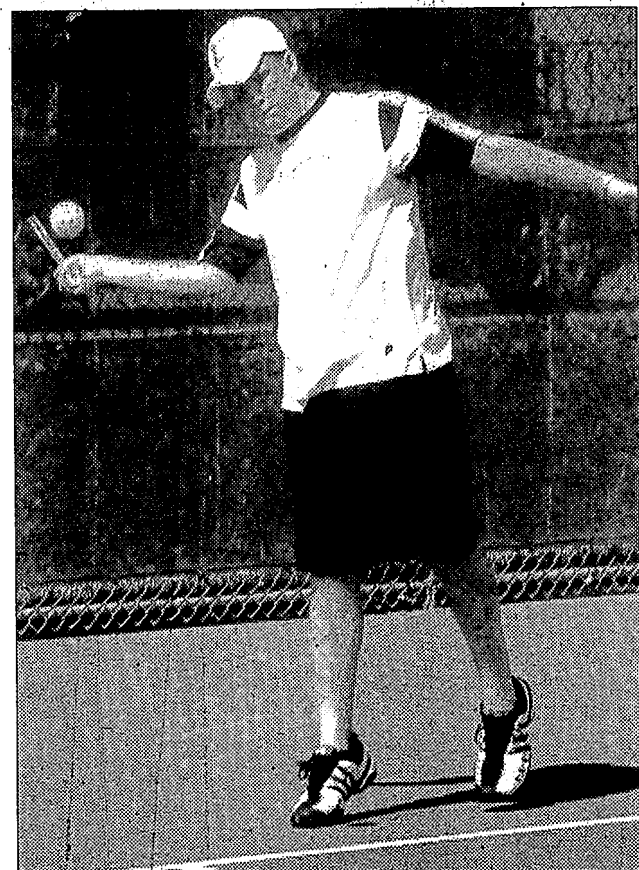

Graczyk also reached the championship match at the Holly Invitational on May 13. No. 3 singles player Zach Kerr won the back draw at the invitational as did the No. 3 doubles team.

"Kerr played very well," Claus said. "He's started to win matches he would have become frustrated in and maybe lost at the beginning of the year."

As a team Clarkston tied for fourth place out of eight teams at the Holly Invitational and was one point behind third place Holly. Grosse Pointe North won the event.

Clarkston will now focus on the regional meet on May 19 at Rochester. The Wolves hope to qualify for the state finals, but will face some tough competition including West Bloomfield, Brother Rice, Rochester and Utica Eisenhower.

"I feel like we can make a run at it," Claus said. "We would like to avoid West Bloomfield in the first round, but beyond that nobody really scares me at all."

Clarkston soccer players take game to Europe

BY DAVE PEMBERTON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

Seven Clarkston soccer players had the opportunity to play on the international stage over spring break. The group was part of a 19-player team that traveled to Europe to play teams from Italy, Germany and Austria.

The seven players included Clarkston High School's Jake Przybycien, Jared Roan, Robbi Zielinski, Evan Dougherty and Joel Parrish and Clarkston residents Eric Kaltz and Collin Karchon, who play for Pontiac Notre Dame Prep.

The team also included players from Milford, Fenton, Grand Blanc and Windsor.

Soccer coach Franco Pertot, who has won state championships with DeLaSalle and Bishop Foley, takes a group to Europe each year. Pertot started doing the annual trip 23 years ago.

"I took my own son the first time," Pertot said. "We had a good time so I decided to keep doing it. I'm involved with a lot of soccer teams and it's good for the players."

Przybycien plays club soccer for Pertot's Bloomfield Force and jumped at the chance to go to Europe when Pertot asked him to. Przybycien also helped recruit some of the players to go on the trip including Roan.

Przybycien introduced the Clarkston players to Pertot, who watched them play and asked the ones he liked to come on the trip.

The team practiced a few times a week to prepare before heading to Europe for two weeks on April 11. Przybycien said once they got there they didn't know what to expect. Their first game was against a team from Austria.

"They came out really cocky, but we beat them 7-3," Przybycien said. "They were upset after the game about it. The officiating was rough and a couple of their guys got hurt. It was a good opening game for us. It helped us learn what the other games would be like."

"We were nervous when we saw them warming up. They were doing crazy moves. They ended up not being as good as we thought. If we just played our game we could beat them and we did."

The team ended up going 4-2 on the two week trip and showed the European teams they could hang with them. Pertot said it was one of the best groups he had.

"They all did very well," Pertot said. "Jake played great. He's very quick and well coordinated for being such a big guy. The other teams were surprised. He's a good defender and a very good athlete. I think he is a college bound player."

Przybycien said the European teams were all good and didn't expect the Americans to compete with them.

"Most of the teams we played against thought we were going to be bad," Przybycien said. "They just wanted to beat us really bad and prove European soccer is better. We won four of the games. They were surprised they lost to an American team and they were mad. They were still friendly after, but they were surprised. We gained their respect."

The trip also helped the players improve. They got a chance to play some tough competition, including a semi-pro team from Italy. Roan said he really enjoyed the trip and was glad he decided to go.

"It's hard to describe what it was like," Roan said. "It's like a whole different world over there. It was worth the time and the money to go. It definitely helped to play against kids that are at a higher level. I came back here and I'm a lot more confident playing against kids my own age."

The team didn't just learn about soccer. For many of the kids this was the first time they were in Europe so the trip was nice learning experience.

"I had never been there before," Przybycien said. "It was cool going through all the towns. The towns are really old. There is nothing really like that here. We also got to go up in the mountains. Waking up in mountain was cool and we went to a few castles. It was fun, but there were more things I would like to do that I didn't get a chance to."

Przybycien, who is a junior at Clarkston, said he would like to go on the trip again next year and he wouldn't be surprised if some of the other players went again.

"I think everyone enjoyed it a lot," Przybycien said. "Some of the guys were going for the second time. They said the team was better this year and it was a lot more fun. The team got along really well and the guys I recommended were glad they came."

Slow start costs Wolves against first place Seaholm

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Clarkston was two different teams against Birmingham Seaholm – and Clarkston girls soccer Coach Sarah Smith was not happy about it.

The Wolves came out sluggish in the first half and allowed the Maples to take a 2-0 lead. The Wolves played better in the second half, but could not overcome the two goal deficit as they fell 2-1.

"We had the worst first half I've ever seen," Smith said. "Fundamentally, we didn't take care of the ball. The second half was much better. We got our composure. We made passes and looked up. We played good fundamental soccer. We were also much more aggressive in the second half."

Seaholm Coach Mike Thomas agreed with Smith and was surprised by Clarkston's play in the first half.

"The last game we played them they were much quicker," Thomas said. "I expected them to be much quicker the first half. They just stood around and let us control the ball, which I found unusual.

In the second half, they came out and were the Clarkston team I expected to play against."

Afton Delvecchio netted the first goal for the Maples and Akli Delvecchio made the score 2-0 when she sent a free kick into the net from about 35 yards out.

Clarkston was able to create some quality chances in the second half and cut into the Maples lead when Lauren Humphreys scored with 28:14 left to play.

The Wolves stayed aggressive, but Seaholm was able to hold on. Smith said she was pleased with the team's effort in the second half, especially Humphreys.

"Lauren Humphreys had an amazing game," Smith said. "She played aggressive. She made good runs at the ball, took her shots and got back on defense. She played an all around aggressive game and kept her composure. A lot of players made really good plays, but we just didn't make them together. It can't be three or four people. It has to be the whole team. I don't know what it is, but they didn't come to play today."

With the win, Seaholm (8-1-2, 6-1-1

OAA II) remains in first place in league play. Clarkston drops to 2-8-2 and 0-6-1 in the conference. The loss to the Maples was Clarkston's second straight one goal loss. The Wolves lost to Farmington 2-1 on May 9. Smith said she was really happy with the way the team played against the Falcons.

"We played great on Tuesday," Smith said. "We had several quality chances, but we couldn't find the net on (May 9). We were aggressive and we moved the ball. There was a lot of good things that came out of that game. (Against Seaholm), we played like that in the second half, but you can't play one half of a soccer game and expect to win. We are making improvements everyday. I see that as a team and as individuals. I'm happy about that, but I want my girls to show up and play."

The Wolves will hit the field again on May 17 when they host Royal Oak Kimball. Clarkston's game against West Bloomfield on May 16 finished too late for this edition of The Clarkston News.

Sperry's pitching leads Wolves to two victories

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Birmingham Groves could not touch Megan Sperry on May 10. Sperry had 17 strikeouts in 11 innings to help the Clarkston softball team defeat the Falcons 7-1 and 10-0.

Sperry allowed just two hits in the first game and none in four innings of work in the second game.

"She's comfortable throwing and has shown patience," Clarkston Coach Don Peters said. "She doesn't get rattled when she gets behind in the count. She knows she can still get the better out and usually does. She is also throwing harder, which is unusual, but it has helped."

Clarkston's offense supplied Sperry with plenty of run support. Katie Smith had three hits and two RBIs and Jessica Palace had two hits and one RBI in the first game.

In the second game, Sperry had four hits and scored two runs, Amber Giroux had four hits and four RBIs and Caitlin Morris had two hits and four RBIs.

"We are hitting the ball well and running the bases well," Peters said. "We made only two errors in the two games against Groves. Their enjoying the games and working hard to improve their fundamentals. I feel we are getting better everyday."

The Wolves game with Utica on May 12 was cancelled due to weather conditions and their game against Troy on May 15 was called in the bottom of the first because of rain. The game had not been rescheduled at press time.

Clarkston's next game is against Troy Athens on May 22. The regular season ends on May 23 when the Wolves travel to Fraser.

Dancing Queens

BY ANDREW DUPONT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Dancing captures the spirit of music and reflects a dancer's soul. The fluid motion of a dancer's body expresses emotions for which the mind has no words.

Honing one's skill in this art takes years of practice and devotion. Students at dance schools become friends, and team members become a family.

Now in their 25th year in the community, the staff and dancers at Terri Newman's Dance Shoppe know that better than anyone.

"You could look inside (the studio) and every single one of those girls I have a relationship with, I have a bond with and I have for a long time because I've grown up with them. They're like a whole other family for me," said student Sophie Ness.

Ness, 16, is a junior at Clarkston High School and has been dancing for 12 years at The Shoppe.

Though Ness, like many of her fellow dancers, is nearing graduation, she knows she will continue dancing throughout her life.

"It's one of those things you can't give up. You can't stop doing it because it's your passion," said Ness. "I can't tell you if I'm going to be a professional dancer or a dance teacher. But I know whatever I do with life, I've learned lessons from dance and those are things you never grow out of and you never lose."

Many of the older students who are ready to graduate have danced together since they were barely old enough to walk. Whether they have a love for ballet, tap, jazz, voice or even hip-hop, the students spend at least eight hours a week at the studio located on Airport Road in Waterford.

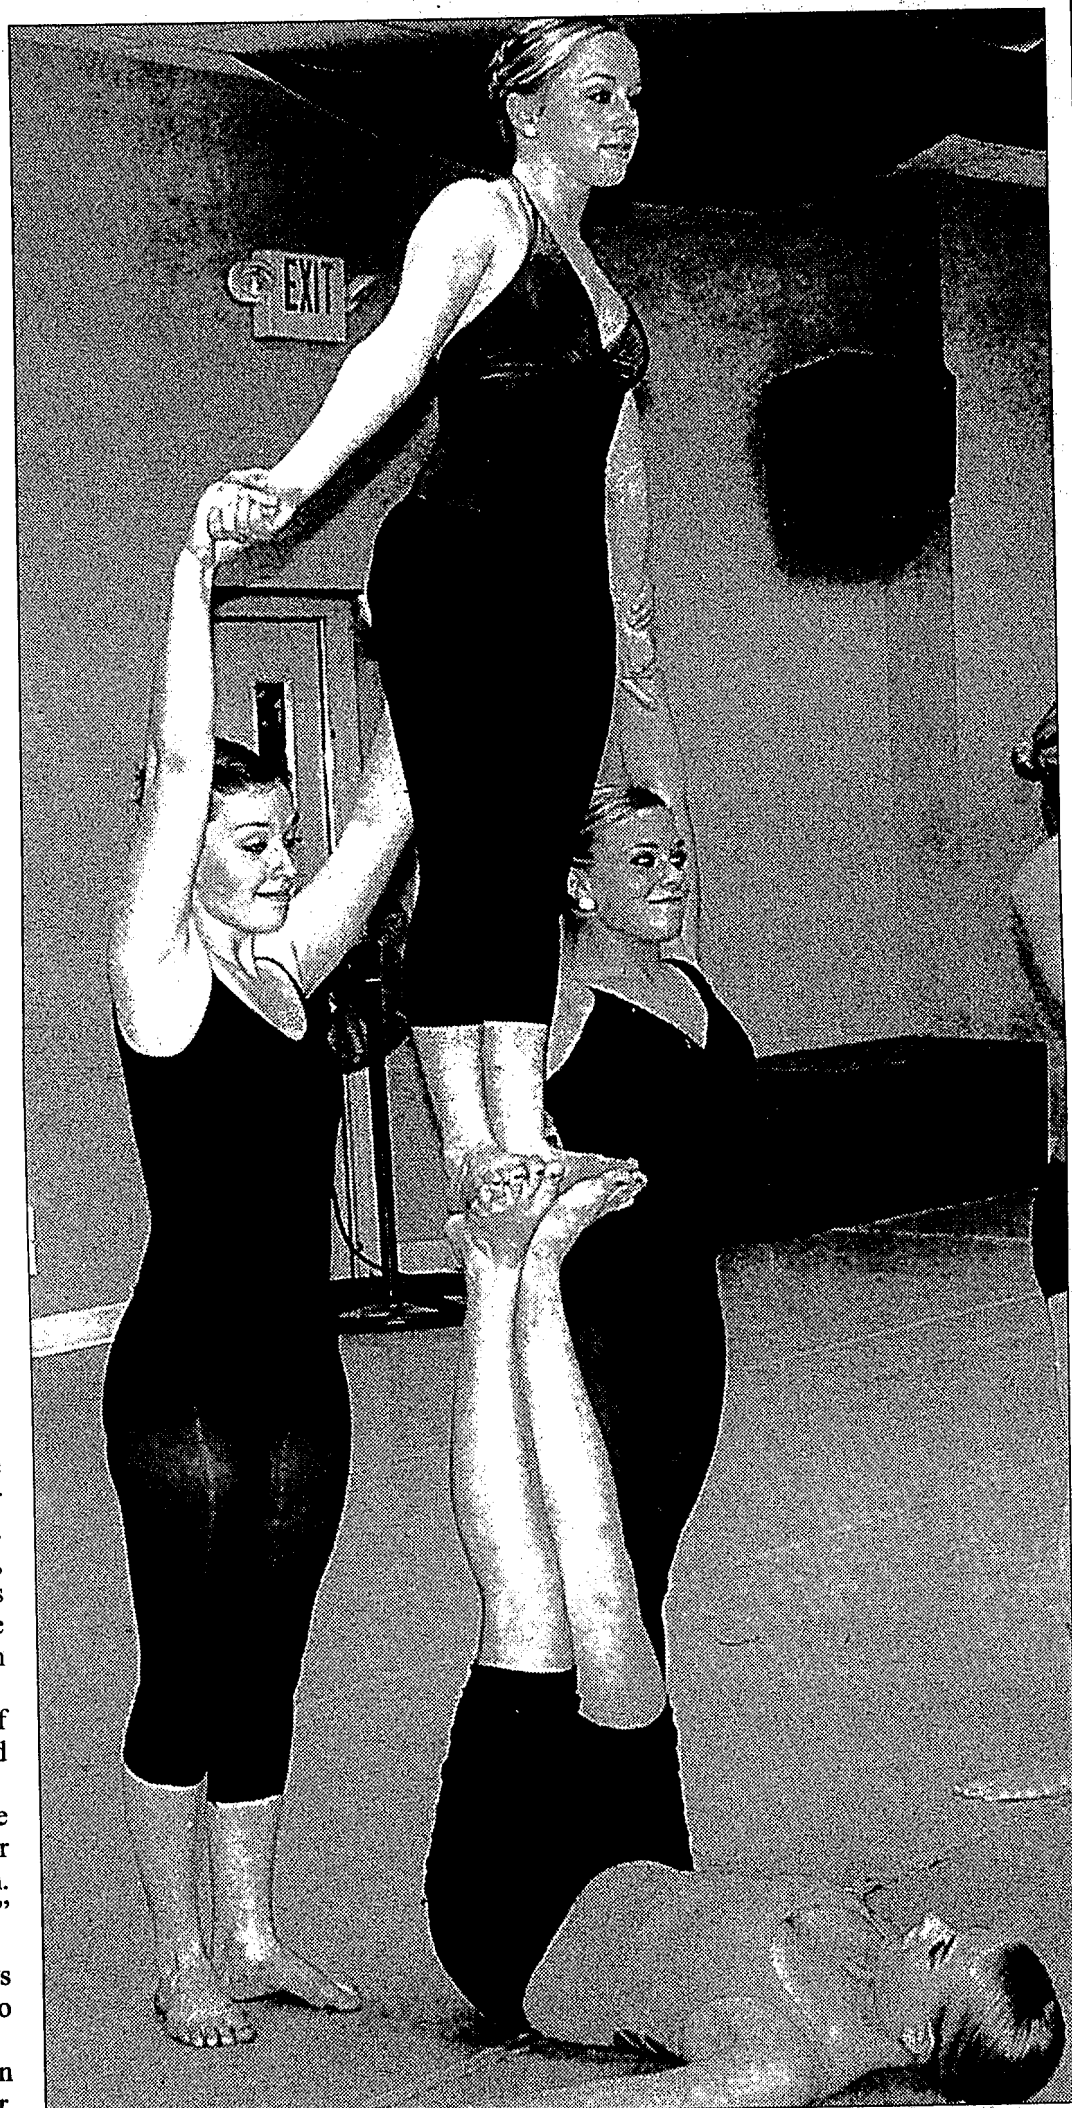

"They've made dance, outside of school, their number one priority," said owner and instructor, Terri Newman.

Newman is certified through Dance Masters of America and is the former president of Dance Masters of Michigan. Newman founded the "Classy Dancers" group through her studio.

Currently, 43 girls from Newman's shoppe are hard at work preparing for two big challenges ahead of them.

Dance Masters of America hosts an annual national competition in the summer. This year's competition runs from July 7-

Stretch and strengthening

BY JAMES MARTINEZ
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Few people would want to thank the motorist who ran them over. For Barbara DeLongchamp, P.T., C.S.C.S., being hit by a car as she crossed the street at age 12 was somewhat of a blessing.

The incident left DeLongchamp with injuries that eventually guided her to a career as a physical therapist.

"I had to work on a lot of strengthening so I could walk normal again. I had a lot of orthopedic injuries," said DeLongchamp. "I think overall it had a positive impact on my life because I found a career I love."

DeLongchamp, a physical therapist and certified strength and conditioning specialist, opened the Rehabilitation Institute of Michigan Clarkston Center inside Powerhouse Gym on Sashabaw Road in April. She provides physical therapy, sports medicine and orthopedic therapy from that location.

"I just love working with patients and watching them progress and giving them new things to strengthen their bodies and help them return to sports," said DeLongchamp.

Working with a variety of therapists through the Rehabilitation Institute of Michigan (RIM), DeLongchamp has acquired 16 years of experience. Even with plenty of hours logged providing therapy, DeLongchamp understands the importance of continuing education beyond the bachelors of science degree she earned from the University of Michigan-Flint in 1989.

"It's challenging because there's always something to learn," said DeLongchamp, who will soon complete certification in Pilates soon to enhance her ability to help patients strengthen and stabilize their core.

"(Sports medicine) is not simple anymore. It requires treating the whole person. If they are a basketball player and have a knee injury, they will have to use their arms too."

DeLongchamp credits the advances made in sports medicine as playing a role in how quickly some athletes return from injury.

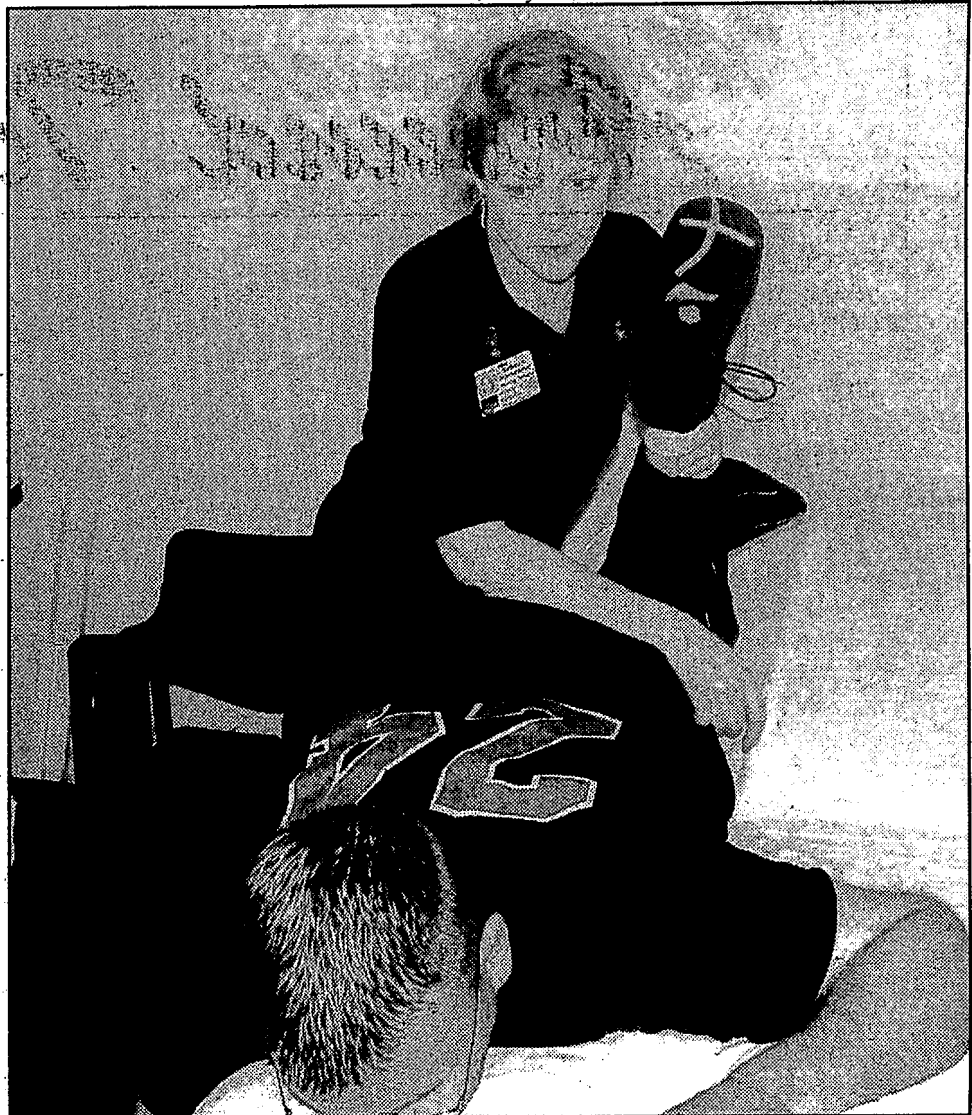

Being located inside Powerhouse Gym is an added bonus, says DeLongchamp, who can use the equipment easily when treating patients.

"At the gym, we have a lot of access to the equipment. I'm definitely excited to be here. The members of the gym are really great. The people with Powerhouse are very friendly," said DeLongchamp in describing the relationship between the physical therapy offices and gyms as symbiotic.

Setting up an office in the Clarkston area was important for DeLongchamp who splits time between there and an office in Franklin.

"I grew up in Oxford and have always liked this area," said DeLongchamp, an Independence Township resident for the past 13 years. She enjoys having an office near her home where she raises two children Amanda, 10, and Ryan, 6.

Snacking, napping your way to better health

By Ernie Harwell

You know, it seems most people are convinced that improving your health has to be all hardwork and sacrifice. But the more we learn, the clearer it becomes that getting, and staying, fit involves some of life's more pleasurable activities.

Take eating for instance. Some medical experts are increasingly advising patients to eat five or six small meals a day, rather than the traditional "three squares." Recent studies have shown that eating several small meals daily may lower blood cholesterol and reduce insulin levels, both of which can cut the risk of heart disease - even when total calories aren't reduced.

Some call it "grazing." Some call it snacking. Whatever you call it, eating five or six meals instead of three doesn't sound like "a sacrifice" to me. The same can be said for naps. While admittedly not possible for everyone, the latest research indicates that even a 20-minute nap promotes greater alertness and a more positive attitude - especially for people who keep late hours or have trouble sleeping at night.

During my broadcaster days, I was faithfully up by 7 a.m., but I always tried to fit in a brief nap before night games especially those two-night doubleheaders.

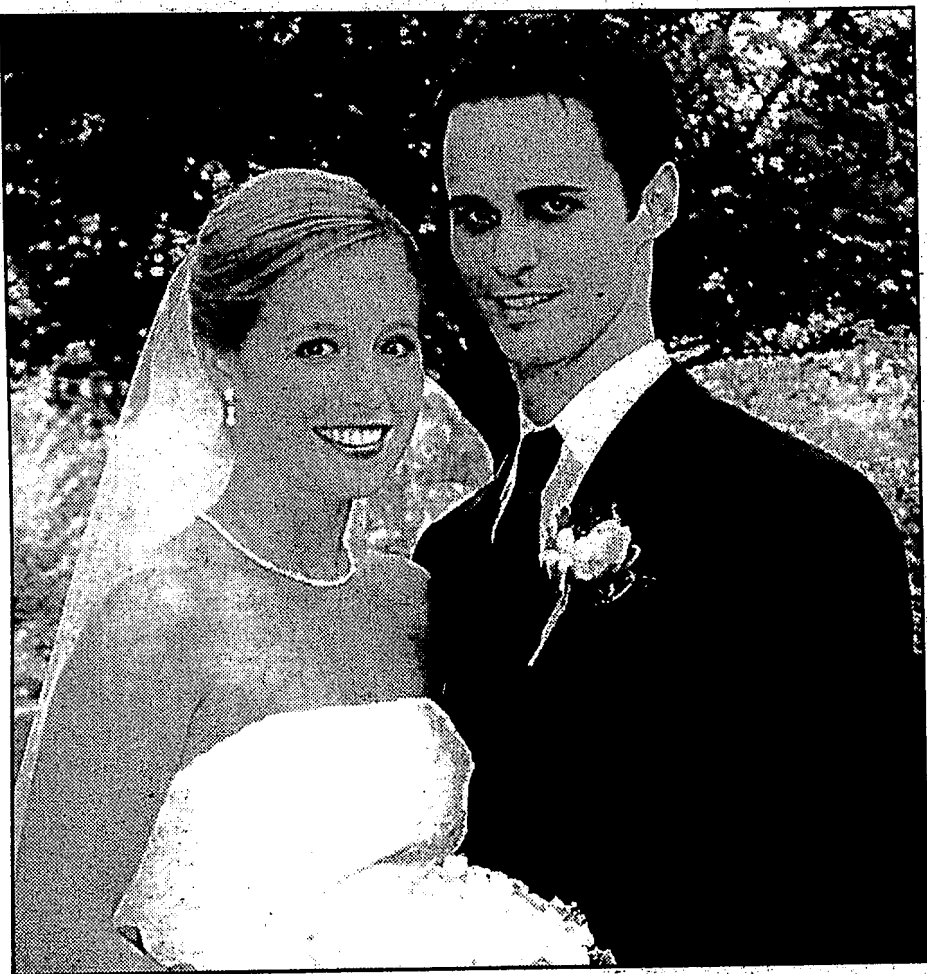

Thomas Edison, Winston Churchill and Albert Einstein all faithful nappers - were alert and positive enough to suit me.

So if you're serious about reaching greater fitness and want to do more than regular exercise, Consider snacking and napping along the way. And please remember to take care of your health before it's loonnnggg gone.

Ernie Harwell, "the voice of the Detroit Tigers" for more than four decades, retired after 55 years behind a major league microphone. Today, at age 86, Ernie's days are filled with serving as a health and fitness advocate for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, public appearances, writing, traveling and taking long walks with "Miss Lulu," his wife of more than 60 years. His latest book, a collection of his baseball columns entitled "Life After Baseball," is available at local bookstores or by calling 1-800-245-5082.

Summer break!

Summer is America's favorite season: homemade ice cream, sandals and shorts, cooking out on the barbeque, swimming at the beach and the kids welcome no school.

From September to May it seems like the average family's life revolves around the children's school activities. Summer has become for most of us a breathing space for some much needed rest and relaxation.

If the earth's axis were not tilted at the right angle in its rotation around the sun, there would be no seasons on our planet. When the earth tilts toward the sun, it's summer. When tilted away, it's winter. If the earth's axis were perfectly vertical, we would only have one season all year long. As for my family, we love the dazzling colors of fall, a cozy fire in the winter, beautiful landscape in the spring, and the refreshing water of the beach in the summer.

While summer is a season, it's also a state of mind. We go through periods in our life that are just plain good, like summer. We don't always plan the arrival of summer seasons or know when they may leave, but everyone experiences times of prosperity and goodness. This raises a very important question we must all consider: Where does our focus go during the good times of life?

When experiencing times of sickness, financial pressure, rocky relationships and other anxieties, we seem to be focused on God, never letting him out of our sight as we cry out for help and strength.

What does it mean to walk with God in the good times? These are questions that truly shape the nature of who we are and what we will become.

How do I know when I'm in a spiritual summer season? During the school year, life revolves around clocks and calendars. But in the summer, we often break those disciplined routines and become more apathetic. We tend to become careless with our commitments and revert to a more relaxed approach. Often we find ourselves thinking more about the blessings than the "Blessor" and enjoying the gifts more than the Giver.

The Bible speaks about the summer seasons of our lives when it says, "Beware...do not forget the Lord...when you have eaten and are full, and have built beautiful houses and dwell in them...and all that you have is multiplied; when your heart is lifted up" (Deuteronomy 8:11-14).

The greatest danger in the summertime season of life is forgetting who is responsible for the good life we are enjoying. Our attitude should be one of gratitude for the blessings of God. "When you have eaten and are full, then you shall bless the Lord your God for the good land which He has given you" (Deuteronomy 8:10).

If you are in a summer season of life right now, don't forget God who blesses our lives with every good and perfect gift (James 1:17). Remember the earth's tilt, there is no such thing as an endless summer, literally or spiritually. So stay close and stay grateful to God in the summer seasons of life. Have a fun and safe summer season!

We're all here!
It's nifty fifty, all the way
A light bulb or two, just for you
To brighten up those blues away...
We'll all be here to see you through
Halfway here, or halfway there...
Birthday time is the best time
To sing your praise...
Nifty, fifty, Don Brose is 50!
Hear Ye, Hear Ye, that can't be...

This year's competition runs from July 7-14 in Las Vegas. All student attending the competition are members of the school's intensive or pre-professional program, ranging from third graders to seniors in high school.

One of the youngest students going is 9-year-old Kendall Huizenga.

Huizenga, is in the fourth grade at Andersonville Elementary and has been dancing since she was 3-years-old. Already, she knows dancing is not going to be a profession for her, but said she likes to do it for fun, exercise and to meet new friends.

Huizenga said she will perform in solo and group dances in Las Vegas, and is not nervous about her or her teammates performances.

"I think we're going to do really well, she said. "We always do well."

Newman herself has been to several national competition in the past.

"I've been fortunate to have some title holders for a lot of consecutive years," she said. This year, however, Newman is bringing the entire high-level company with her.

"We only attend the nationals every other summer...because financially it's an obligation to their parents... so the kids are very excited," Newman said.

Regardless of how the girls perform in Vegas, Newman said a vital part of their training is to not let the spirit of competition overtake them.

"We're always about, individually, our best. It's not what the judges say. If you're doing a solo... and we're all excited because you just had your best performance ever, you've won as far as I'm concerned," Newman said. "When they truly believe that they're not threatened by other good dancers, they feel like 'I'm an outstanding dancer, and so is she.'"

"You want to do your own personal best and you want to out do your last performance rather than beating the girls standing next to you," said Ness.

Prior to the summer's competition, the girls will show off their skills to the Clarkston community with their June production, which Newman described as a combination of a recital and a play.

"It's like a play, but through movement the story is told, rather than vocally" Newman said.

This year, the girls are literally going above and beyond previous June productions with "Wendy's Story." The performance tells the tale of Peter Pan through the eyes of Wendy as an older person.

Setting this performance apart from all the others is the addition of wire technology from Foy Flying Experts made famous by movies like "The Matrix." The Foy Flying Experts are the same crew that helped Peter Pan fly when he debuted on Broadway. With nearly invisible wires, several dancers will literally have a chance to fly across the stage.

"Interestingly enough, all four of the lead girls go to Clarkston High School," Newman said.

Huizenga plays Tinkerbell in the production, but will not be flying. Jenna Bartholme, however, who is playing Wendy, will have the chance to soar above her co-stars.

Bartholme, 16, started dancing when she was two and is a previous Miss Dance of Michigan winner. While performing on stage is not unnerving for her, the idea of flying is a little different.

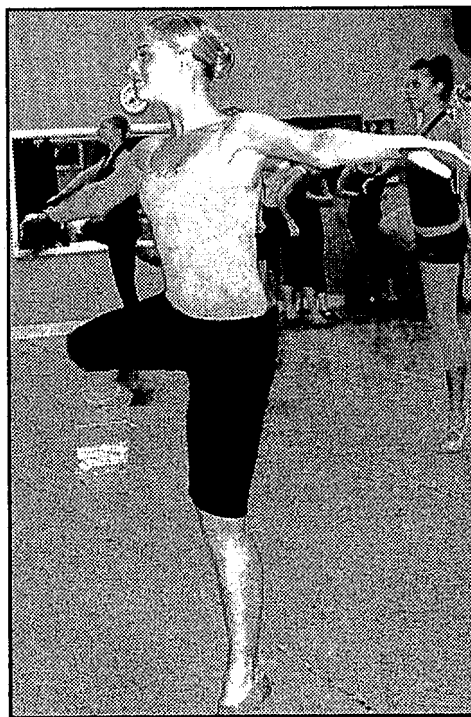

"When she first told us, I was kind of nervous because I am a little bit afraid of heights. It's a once in a life-time opportunity and I'll probably never get to fly again," Bartholme said. "I'm really excited about it now."

Agreeing with the other students in her troupe, Bartholme said he has stayed with Newman and her friends at the same studio all these years because dancing is only half the lesson.

"They teach us more about life in general," she said. "Every single person that has graduated here has been a great person and such a good role model. More and more younger kids see what good role models all the older girls are. (Parents) want their kids to grow up like that. It's a great place."

The performances of "Wendy's Story" are scheduled for June 15 and 16 starting at 7 p.m. in the CHS Performing Arts Center.

For more information or to purchase tickets, contact the dance shoppe at 248-623-1950 or visit www.terrinewmansdanceshoppe.com.

Thanks also go to the Clarkston High School Student Council who unloaded, sorted and stacked the food items at Lighthouse Emergency Services.

Pursley reported that D.P.W. employees will be assisting on Township cleanup days with the City's front end loader. Wages and expenses will be reimbursed by the Township.

Pursley has notified the County about the need of cold patch repairs at Miller and Main. Since cold patch is available in one ton units only, Pursley is reluctant to obtain that much to do the job as it is the County's responsibility.

Pursley is meeting with Independence Township D.P.W. Director Linda Richardson to determine if it is feasible for the City to purchase gas from the Township. This will have cost advantages for the City as well as the Township.

Pappas reminded the Council that the Michigan Week Community Awards evening will be on May 17 and the City has purchased tickets for this event. Pappas reminded the Council that Cleanup Days are May 13 and May 20.

Resolved That the City Council authorize the City Attorney and Building Inspector to proceed with legal action to enable the Building Inspector to inspect the property at 160 North Holcomb and determine what violations are to be cited.

Les Haight of 99 North Main was present to request that speed signs be moved on North Main. The 30-mph speed limit sign had been moved south after the paving of Main Street, and Mr. Haight felt it should be placed at the north City limits. Pappas was instructed to contact MDOT with this request.

Mr. Haight further requested that the Oakland County radar trailer be obtained and placed on North Main Street. Mr. Haight volunteered his yard for placement. Chief Combs was asked to request a trailer for North Main Street. Mr. Haight stated that he has been requesting radar coverage on North Main street for over a year, but has not seen any coverage yet. Mr. Haight feels the speeds are in excess of 50 miles per hour and the traffic gets heavier and heavier.

Johnston stated that he felt the lights at Clarkston Road and M-15 were not timed properly, and the traffic at this intersection is improperly directed.

Pappas was instructed to contact the Road Commission for Oakland County and MDOT regarding speed limit signs and traffic at intersections in the City.

Council asked that the Police Department increase patrols and conduct traffic surveys and obtain radar trailers from either Independence Township or Oakland County.

City Attorney Ryan conducted a second reading of Ordinance 129-1, amending the Zoning Ordinance for Parcel 08-20-376-001, 5 South Holcomb.

Resolved That Ordinance No. 129-1, Zoning Map Amendment, be adopted.

Resolved That the City of the Village of Clarkston participate in the Wireless Oakland Agreement as presented by Oakland County (copy on file).

Meeting adjourned at 8:55 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Artemus M. Pappas, Clerk

Charter Township of Springfield

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF SPRINGFIELD
NOTICE OF HEARING ON SOFTWARE LAKE IMPROVEMENT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN:

1. That the Township Board of the Charter Township of Springfield has tentatively declared its intention to have Software Lake improved during 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011 by the eradication or control of aquatic weeds and plants in selective locations of the lake, as needed.
2. That plans as described in item #1 were prepared by the Township Supervisor, at an estimated $16,000.00 cost of improvement for the first year and tentative combined second, third, fourth and fifth year cost of $69,000.00, and are on file with the Township Clerk.
3. That the Township Board does tentatively designate the Special Assessment District against which the costs of the improvements are to be assessed to include all lakefront units within Lake Front Manor Condominiums, Software Lake Court-yard Condominiums, Software Woods Condominiums, Stonehaus Court Condominiums, excluding any access common areas within those condominiums, and the following waterfront parcels within Software Lake Condominiums: 07-24-103-002, 07-24-103-003, 07-24-103-004, 07-24-103-005, 07-24-103-006, 07-24-103-007, 07-24-103-026, 07-24-103-027, 07-24-103-028, 07-24-103-029, 07-24-103-030, 07-24-103-031, 07-24-103-032, 07-24-103-033, and parcels 07-24-101-093, 07-24-101-009, 07-24-101-014, 07-24-101-015, 07-24-101-100, 07-13-351-002, 07-14-478-012 and 07-14-478-036.
4. That the Township Board shall meet at the Springfield Township Civic Center, 12000 Davisburg Road, Davisburg, Michigan on June 8, 2006, at 6:30 p.m. to hear and consider any objections to the improvement and to said special assessment district.
5. That the owner of or party in interest in property to be assessed, or his or her agent, may appear in person to protest or object to the improvement or special assessment, or may protest or object by letter filed with the Township Clerk at or prior to the date and time of the hearing, in which case appearance in person is not required. Written comments should be submitted to: Springfield Township Clerk, 12000 Davisburg Road, P.O. Box 1038, Davisburg, MI 48350.
6. That the Township Board may, after consideration of any objections, proceed to carry out the improvements, unless written objections to the improvement are filed by the record owners of land constituting more than 20% of the total land area in the proposed special assessment district at or before the hearing on June 8, 2006.
7. If the Township approves the making of the improvements, a special assessment may be levied against properties that benefit from the improvements. Act 186 of the Public Acts of Michigan, 1973, as amended, provides that the special assessment must be protested at the hearing held for the purpose of confirming the special assessment roll before the Michigan Tax Tribunal may acquire jurisdiction of any dispute involving the special assessment. The hearing for the purpose of confirming the special assessment roll will be held, if at all, at some time in the future pursuant to notice given as required by law. Appearance and protest at such hearing is required in order to appeal the amount of special assessment to the Michigan Tax Tribunal.

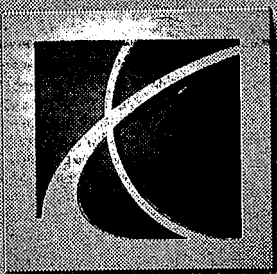

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that records pertaining to the proposed lake improvement may be examined at the Clerk's Office, Charter Township of Springfield, 12000 Davisburg Road, Davisburg, Michigan during regular office hours, Monday through Friday, until the date of the Public Hearing. Anyone needing a special accommodation should contact the Township Clerk at least two (2) business days in advance of the meeting. 248-846-6510.

380 CARD OF THANKS

PRAYER TO ST. JUDE
Most holy apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the Church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things almost despaired of. Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Make use I implore you, of that particular privilege given to you, to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations, and sufferings, particularly (Here make your request) and that I may praise God with you and all the elect forever. I promise, O blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favor, to always honor you as my special and powerful patron, and to gratefully encourage devotion to you. Amen. J.D.

Prayer To The Blessed Virgin
(Never been known to fail). Oh most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel! fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven. Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me you are my mother. O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times). Holy Mother I place this prayer in your hands (3 times). Say this prayer 3 consecutive days. Publish it, it will be granted to you. In loving gratitude, N.F.
