Property taxes on the rise?

BY PAUL KAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Independence Township residents were slated to voice their opinions concerning a proposed tax increase at Tuesday night's board meeting.

The increase of 0.0326 mills (1 mill = $1,000 taxable home value) is expected to cost the average homeowner $5.04 more on their taxes, to be sent out Dec. 1. The increase would go to the township's general fund budget, the only fund reduced annually due to cuts in state-shared revenue, said Township Finance Director Susan Hendricks.

"Township wide, it's a small (increase). It's one place we can get some back," she said.

The increase would add $52,300 to the general fund budget, which for 2006 was $5.6 million.

The forum, a hearing on truth in taxation, is becoming more common.

"We've had them in the past and we've never had an issue," Hendricks said.

"We're just trying to get back to where we were in 2002," the last year before repeated cuts were made from a general fund budget of $6.5 million.

"There may be some protest, but that's the purpose of this hearing. If there are people who feel this is unnecessary, this is an opportunity for them to express themselves if that is the case," said Township Assessor David Kramer prior to the meeting.

A report from the meeting will be included in next week's Clarkston News.

REDICO, Dixie Baptist plans at a roadblock

BY PAUL KAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Township board meetings usually come and go with a handfull of people concerned about something in their neighborhood. The number of residents at Springfield Township's Sept. 14 board meeting packed the hall.

Three items were the main focus for the evening: a proposed shopping center, "Springfield Marketplace," and the related Dixie Baptist Church relocation pending approval of that center. The board also discussed a junk ordinance revision that seemed to draw the ire of several residents.

The board had several suggestions for a special land use request for Dixie Baptist Church to relocate to property along Holly Road. The 40 acres of land is currently owned by John Davey, an attorney from Madison Heights, and zoned residential.

The board questioned the design of the proposed building in regards to its height and the signs proposed for the main entrance. They also had questions about acceleration and deceleration lanes on the road to accommodate churchgoers.

After discussing the proposal, the board voted to postpone any action.

When it came time for a representative from REDICO, a development firm from Southfield, to speak, the audience sat and watched. The behavior was much more reserved than the reaction to the proposal at the initial planning commission meeting in August.

The board, seeing the plans for the first time, had several concerns for the developer. One sticking point seemed to be that none of the company's other developments back up to a residential development. In this proposal, that would happen to residents of the Bavarian and Softwater Lake condominiums.

The traffic impact on the area and potential for strain on public services were also on their minds.

Trustee Dave Hopper was concerned with the intensity of the project because of the multitude of restaurants and stores accompanying the anchor stores.

"I have trouble with it because how do you know what area you're in, Rochester Hills, Troy," he questioned.

Trustee Dennis Vallad seconded Hopper's comments and added, "if this development is on one side (of Dixie Highway), how is that a gateway?"

Several audience members spoke in favor of the proposal, including Davey.

"I cannot understand, if this is going to create 800 jobs, why this is not in the best interest of the community," he said.

Lori Taylor of Grand Blanc Township said she has children who spend much of their time in Springfield. It would be great if they could work near home instead of having to drive to another area.

"We need a place for kids to work and be safe," Taylor said.

Couple heads to circuit court for robbery

The Highland Township couple charged with the robbery of a local bank are headed to trial in Oakland County Circuit Court within the next month.

The case against Michael Wade Carter, 43, and Aretha Deanna Carter, 31, was bound over from 52-2 District Court.

The couple will be in front of Judge Rudy J. Nichols as their trial begins on Oct. 8 at 8:30 a.m.

The pair faces charges of armed robbery, bank robbery and attempted bank robbery.

They are accused of robbing the Comerica branch location within the Kroger store at 6625 Dixie Highway in Independence Township on July 28.

Allegedly, Michael Carter entered the location and informed a teller of the robbery while his wife, Aretha, waited in the couple's vehicle with their children in the parking lot.

The couple were later caught by Clarkston Police Chief Ernest Combs who pulled over the vehicle less than a half of a mile from the store.

CHS Alumni Tent returns for homecoming game

Visitors to the Clarkston High School homecoming game can take a trip through the school's history on Sept. 29. The CHS LEAD group has worked since the beginning of the school year on the Alumni Tent, which will open at 5 p.m. prior to the start of the game.

The Alumni tent pays tribute to all Clarkston graduates with a display of photos, trophies and other memorabilia dating back to the 1920's. This year, the tent will be part of the ticket sales line so alumni can keep their place in line while still getting to visit the showcase.

"The goal of the alumni tent is to bring back memories from their high school experiences," said sophomore Eric Leichtnam, referring to visiting alumni. Leichtnam remarked that working on the tent has given him a chance to examine his own school's history.

"It's really cool to see all the changes that have gone on in this city, not just recently," he said.

Hard working dog gets a break

Tracking K-9 finds his way to retirement

BY PAUL KAMPE
Clarkston News
Staff Writer

Retirement is not something usually discussed at age 11, but for one lucky dog, it will be.

Niko, an eight-year veteran of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department K-9 Unit, will be turning in his badge when his partner on the force, Deputy Mike Carolin, signs the necessary paperwork this week.

The pair have been working together since the program started under Sheriff Michael Bourchard's tenure.

Since that time, the 120-pound German Shepherd has performed numerous drug busts for the department and forfeitures in excess of $1 million.

Unfortunately, also in that span, he has developed arthritis in his front legs.

"They're a hard-working dog, he's worked very hard for eight years now," Carolin said.

Niko came to the department as one of the first members of the K-9 Unit and travels with Carolin everywhere.

During his time with Carolin, Niko visited patients at the New Horizons Rehabilitation facility in Lower rates negotiated for library usage

BY PAUL KAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Those wallets funding the City of the Village of Clarkston may be getting a lighter work out. City officials are negotiating a new contract allowing residents access to Independence Township Library.

In 2005, Clarkston shelled out $36,292 for the services, an increase of nearly $2,000 from the year prior. And in 2003, it cost the city $32,663 to retain library access.

City Councilman Steve Wylie said the contract in the works is likely to be closer to the lower figure.

"This is a much better contract. It's equitable, fair for both us and the township," Wylie said.

The previous contract called for a 0.75 mill to be levied in Clarkston, a higher amount than that charged to township residents. The new figure, as discussed at the Sept. 4 Independence Township Board meeting, would be 0.691 mill, the same rate assessed to township residences.

"It's important to have familiar services," Clarkston Mayor Sharron Catallo said.

"I know it's important to a lot of people... the alternatives to using the library are not as simple."

'This is a much better contract. It's equitable, fair for both us and the township.'

City Councilman
Steve Wylie

The township board voted 7-0 in favor of a draft of the contract and the city will review the contract next.

Additionally, Clarkston will be reimbursed by the township for its share of state revenues.

Tasty treats

Food fest to tempt tongues Sept. 24

BY PAUL KAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The ninth annual "Taste of Clarkston" event is coming to town on Sept. 24 from noon-6 p.m. and will close off M-15 between Washington and Waldon roads.

"Taste," presented by the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce, is a showcase for restaurants both locally and from surrounding communities.

"You've got the best of the best here," said event Chairperson Carolyn Parcha. Organizers wanted to limit the number of presenters this year to 30 restaurants.

The Clarkston Union will dish up a rendition of their classic macaroni and cheese, Lobster Mac. The Hamlin Pub will serve hot spinach and artichoke dip and MacPhee's of Ortonville will bring shepherd's pie, to name a few items.

People will have a chance to judge the food not only for themselves, but for everyone. This year, vendors will have cards at their locations that may be submitted at the ticket booth indicating votes for the best items.

The event isn't just a venue for eating. There will be a special kids zone, which has relocated to Depot Park. In addition, there will be a three-on-three basketball tournament in the municipal parking lot at the corner of Washington Road and M-15. Street entertainment includes Bingo the clown, a magician and mimes from Clarkston High School.

At 4 p.m., the headlining musical acts take the stage at opposite ends of the fair. Superfakers, a 1970's rock music band, and Terrie Lea and the Mustangs, a country music act, will be opposite each other.

"We've got something for everyone, especially the kids," Parcha said.

A silent auction will kick off the day at 11 a.m. Various items up for bids include a basket full of gift certificates for area restaurants, a flight from Oakland County International Airport to Detroit and a free sitting at Winship Studios.

"We've got some really nice things," Parcha said.

"We're getting higher-end (value) ticket items."

"Taste" saw 12,000 guests in 2004

when there was good weather, but only 8,000 guests in 2005 during less than ideal weather.

"You never can tell with Michigan weather," Parcha said. "If we have a terrific day like we did two years ago, I don't see any reason why we can't have 10 to 12,000 visitors."

Organizers are banking on increased attendance after adding additional seating. They also worked to make shuttles available frequently from the designated parking areas at school parking lots on Waldon Road and from the lot at CHS.

"I think it's a wonderful event for the community," said Clarkston Mayor Sharron Catalo.

"It's nice to be able to provide that type of atmosphere."

Tickets for the food items will be available in $1 increments and $5 and $10 packs. Attendees will also be able to pay for them with credit cards for the first time.

A group of nearly 30 chamber members focused on preparing the event for the masses and Parcha said this could not have been done without help from the city and township parks and recreation.

Parcha said the event is also something affordable for families.

"You're going to have good fun, it's affordable and safe," she said.

Basketball players are asked to register with Independence Township Parks and Recreation prior to the event. Contact the department at 248-625-8223.

Organizers are asking that no pets be brought to the event.

For more event information, call the chamber at 248-625-8055 or visit their website, www.clarkston.org.

Pig Roast to benefit Ellis Barn restoration

The first Ellis Barn Pig Roast is Sept. 23 at 4 p.m. at Springfield Oaks County Park, 12451 Andersonville Road. Proceeds from the event go to the Friends of the Ellis Barn to pay for completion on certain barn projects.

Oakland County 4-H Fair Association General Manager L.C. Scramlin said the barn needs electrical wiring, lighting fixtures and cupolas to go on the roof.

The barn, built in 1883, was relocated from its original location on Dixie Highway in the township in 2005. The project involved deconstructing and reassembly at Springfield Oaks. New year, fresh faces

Meet Clarkston Schools new teachers and staff

BY ANDREW DUPONT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The new school year is underway, and with the new year comes new faces in the district. The Clarkston News introduces them to the community in this and following issues. This week, we would like to present the newest staff members at Bailey Lake Elementary and Clarkston High School.

Casey Kirsten of Highland is the new LRC teacher at Bailey Lake. Prior to coming to Clarkston, Kirsten worked in the Van Buren Intermediate, Kalamazoo Public, Richland Public and Portage Public school districts.

She received her degree from Western Michigan University in 2001. An honor roll student all throughout high school, she was a member of the National Honor Society and won the High Honors Cadet Award in college. In high school, she was All American Basketball and Volleyball - named MVP in both sports during her freshman and sophomore years. In college her team won the school's IM volleyball championship every semester for four straight years.

For 11 years, Kirsten was also a competitive dancer, saying she started dancing at age 3.

In her own words, "I love to play and watch sports, especially volleyball, basketball and football... I participate in a volleyball tournament every summer.

"Someday I hope to go skydiving and para-sailing! I want to travel all over the world."

Amy Olin is the new elementary AI at Bailey Lake. Prior to coming to Clarkston, she worked in her hometown district in Clawson and later in the Saline school district.

Olin graduated in 2005 from Eastern Michigan University, where she was a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Student Council for Exceptional Children, and a participant in the VISION community service program.

At Clawson high school, she was a member of the National Honor Society, played Varsity volleyball and soccer, and was awarded the Scholar Athlete award.

For fun, Olin likes to listen to music, go to concerts, festivals, and the Henry Ford Museum/Greenfield Village, and travel.

"I went backpacking in Europe for five weeks in January. We started in Ireland, flew to Amsterdam, and went all over by train including Budapest, Prague, Switzerland, Italy, Germany, and ended up in Paris. It was amazing!" said Olin.

Elizabeth Sajan, the newest fifth grade teacher at Bailey Lake Elementary, is actually a returning instructor to the Clarkston school district. A Clarkston resident herself, Sajan returned to the area after living in Alabama for a few years. Sajan previously worked at Andersonville Elementary during the 2000-01 school year and Pine Knob Elementary during the 2001-02 school year.

"I'm really happy to be home," said Sajan. "There's no place like Clarkston schools."

She graduated from WMU with a bachelor's degree, after which she attended the University of Michigan and Marygrove, where she obtained her master's degree.

Sajan's children also attend Clarkston schools.

April Killewald is new to Bailey Lake, but actually started the previous school year at Independence Elementary, where she also taught fourth grade.

A 2004 graduate of Michigan State University, Killewald participated in the Spartan Buddy mentoring program for four years and student taught third grade at Webster Elementary in the Hazel Park school district.

In her high school days at Troy High School, Killewald said she remembered competing against Clarkston when she was on the volleyball team. She was also a cheerleader and member of the National Honor Society and National Art Honor Society.

Now on Clarkston's side, Killewald said she is happy to be working in the district.

"It's a great district. There's a lot of parent involvement with their children's education."

Curtis Fields Jr. of Grand Blanc is one of two new English teachers at Clarkston High School. Prior to coming to Clarkston, Field worked at Carman-Ainsworth High School and Southfield High School.

A 2003 graduate of Michigan State University, Fields was a member of the National Council of Teachers in English, NCTE SA treasurer, and presidential scholar. He graduated from Grand Blanc high school in 1998, where he was a member of the National Honor Society and recipient of the scholarships for student excellence and the Urban League of Flint.

He played baseball and basketball in high school and continues to enjoy playing basketball. During his free time, Fields also enjoys weightlifting, traveling, reading, writing in several genres, and coaching youth sports. He also works as a mentor for youth who attend Flint Community Church of God.

"I am a person that is easygoing, easy to get along with and extremely passionate about teaching. I am intrinsically motivated and exude a zest for teaching and learning that will reciprocate onto my students," Fields said. "I look forward to expanding myself as a teacher and adding to the tradition of excellence this school has carried on for decades."

David Helder of Holland joins Fields as a new English teacher at CHS. Prior to coming to Clarkston, Helder worked at Lahser High School in Bloomfield Hills for a year.

Helder graduated from Butler University in 2004 with a bachelor's degree in English Literature. In 2005, He obtained his second bachelor's degree in Education with majors in English and Latin from the University of Michigan.

Opinion

Off the wagon

It bugs me that the same sentiment about our dependence on foreign oil seems to have only come into the limelight with the emergence of once thought impossible $3 per gallon costs.

Now our nation's leader has commented again on our dependence and said we need to cut down on our consumption.

That's strange, because I recall el Presidente is a southern oil tycoon. So he tells me to cut down on the product he and his cohorts got rich off, as if oil were a drug and I was a citizen in a nation full of addicts. Shame on you, America! Remember to buy American cars, but make sure you get something that conserves fuel.

Many people in this area utilize their "gas-guzzlers," a term I hope to use sparingly in the future.

As long as there are furniture movers, delivery trucks, construction companies and lawn care services, large diesel trucks will need to be used. The type of equipment those people need can't be carried in a Chevy Aveo.

Yes, I understand the Big 3 are working on things right now, but no one will care if gas dips back under the $2 mark. E85 is the only thing I have heard of in the realm of possibility right now with several automakers pushing "flex-fuel" vehicles. I don't know if both types of vehicles will be sold in the future.

When I see a gas-guzzler, I think of the gas-guzzler I have now. I hate that conserving to become less dependent on foreign oil is now some catch phrase. I sit here today saying that I refuse to cut my dependence on foreign oil, as I plan on driving the same 17-miles-to-the-gallon car and using the same lawnmower I have always used, which by the way only runs on foreign oil. Where am I supposed to get it from? It's not bubbling up from my backyard and I don't know of a service station that sells exclusively American oil, but maybe I didn't read the label closely enough.

Sorry, but the wait-and-see projects in the works seem to have my hands tied. Conservation may be the name of your game, but in the real world, no one can just sit on their couch and wait for better vehicles to come along. Until those come to every dealership, clearly labeled and highly advertised, I don't think there is much I can do to help cut our nation's dependence on foreign oil as a consumer.

It would be interesting also to find out what the president has done to help the conservation effort.

I refuse to feel ashamed for the machines I use that run on foreign oil until something better is readily available.

'Dear Editor' (letters from our readers)

Why was land purchased before a vote?

Dear Editor,

Independence Township voters should wonder why our township officials have already acquired land for a senior center, when the proposal to fund and build it has not been passed by voters. This was done knowing previous proposals to fund a senior center had overwhelmingly failed.

Voters should also be reminded of the 2004 declaration made by township supervisor Dale Stuart. "The current proposal to build a new senior center will not require additional taxes. The township has determined that we can pay for the new facility with the funds the voters already provide. Our research shows that we can run the new facility with the staff we have."

Now fast forward to 2006 and all of that has changed. Voters are now faced with the Nov. 7 Senior Center proposal that doesn't even address the future costs for the Senior Health and Wellness Center now being considered for the property adjacent to the proposed Senior Center.

When both are completed they would easily cost taxpayers over $100 a year more in property taxes.

Township officials should take a lesson from Auburn Hills and its beautiful new Community Center/Senior Center. Unlike Independence township, they have addressed the needs of the whole community with their center, all while saving tax dollars on unneeded duplicities. A Community Center/Senior Center makes sense and until one is proposed voters should vote down the stand alone senior center proposal.

Don't let a few rule the will of the many

Dear Editor,

I join Mr Edwards, who believes there are those who would like to see commercial growth follow the mass stampede of people who are getting away from the crowd in the south part of our county.

I suggest there are thousands who agree with him. Like Mr Edwards, I am a longtime resident of Independence Township. I have done battle with COG over the years, but I was eventually defeated.

These stores will not go away. What they will do will be to challenge those people by exercising their rights in court, making everyone pay legal fees, even though most of those paying the legal fees really would like to see stores like these in the community.

People who live in Southeast Michigan don't live here for the rural nature. It's doesn't exist in Metropolitan Detroit. People who work for GM, Ford or Chrysler don't drive up I-75 to Clarkston in order to go to their farms. The idea of the I-75 Corridor being rural is about as real as the corn stands on M-15 or the dairy farm on Dixie Highway.

North Oakland is, in many respects, a great place to be. But in some respects it does not meet our need. It is unfortunate we have to spend precious time to find out if a hospital is going to open here, use none of the money that is being spent on the hospital. It is a waste of money. It is a waste of time. It is a waste of energy. It is a waste of resources. It is a waste of the community's money.

It is a waste of the community's money. It is a waste of the community's time. It is a waste of the community's energy. It is a waste of the community's resources. It is a waste of the community's money.

It is a waste of the community's money. It is a waste of the community's time. It is a waste of the community's energy. It is a waste of the community's resources. It is a waste of the community's money.

I am sure you will hear from COG's leader over this letter, or maybe already in this issue over Mr Edwards. But remember, he is only one person with one agenda who tries to impose his beliefs as if they were majority views. Mr. Editor, Mr. Edwards, they are not.

Fred Neumark, Clarkston

New sr. center is like 'buying a new car'

Dear Editor,

On Nov. 7, Independence Township voters will determine if our community and our seniors deserve a new adult activity senior. Two proposals will be on the ballot to fund and operate a new building that will replace the aging senior center at Clintonwood Park. For those voters asking if we need a new center, let me use a "buying a new car" analogy.

When it comes time to buy a new car, you consider the cost of keeping the old one or buying the new one. Yes, new always looks better, has more up-to-date technology, and makes you feel good. But more than that, new means you don't have to buy new tires, redo the brakes, update the exhaust, and do the many other maintenance issues with an older car.

Without a new center for Independence Township, we as taxpayers will have to spend money on the current older and smaller center to replace the roof, reinforce the foundation, update the central air and heating systems, and make the building more handicapped accessible - including bathrooms, wider hallways and doors, and more wheelchair friendly ramps.

Our seniors and community deserve to spend the money on a new center that will enrich the lives of our residents and offer more programs. Let's not spend the money on maintenance on a building that can no longer serve its purpose. Vote 'Yes' twice on Nov. 7.

The following items are from our archives

15 YEARS AGO (1991)

•“Main Street B&B wins first OK” – The Clarkston Zoning Board of Appeals voted 5-2 on Sept. 17 to overturn an 18-year-old decision that would have disallowed a bed and breakfast.

•“Township to appeal snubbed city hood injunction” – On Sept. 17, the Independence Township Board of Trustees voted 6-1 to appeal Oakland County Circuit Court Judge John O'Brien's decision not to consider an injunction, which would have halted Clarkston's city hood proceedings.

•“Residents want to slow Big Lake boat boom” – A few lakefront residents of the Springfield Township lake asked the township board to limit the number launched from a public access site and by property owners. The board took no action at its Sept. 11 meeting, and will not until the capacity of the lake is determined.

25 YEARS AGO (1981)

•“Regional police force in works” – Independence Township Supervisor James B. Smith is involved in discussions with neighboring townships on the feasibility of establishing a regional police force, ending the practice of contracting with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

•“Clarkston target for pinball arcade” – Robert Warrington of Waterford Township has plans to set up a pinball arcade in the lower level of the Max Broock Inc. real estate building at 29 South Main Street. It has been 30 years since such an establishment operated in Clarkston. According to Village Ordinance 91, no one under 12 may be inside the facility without a parent and no one under 16 may be inside during school hours.

50 YEARS AGO (1956)

•“Clarkston school enrollment soars” – Clarkston Community Schools opened this year with a 15 percent increase over last year. There are 2,648 students enrolled in the system. The delay of a new school building is due to a steel strike, forcing some elementary students to attend half-days.

•“Golf club closes season” – The Clarkston Golf Club Women's League closed its season with a dinner at the clubhouse and a round of “Scotch Golf,” with husbands, last Sunday.

Community newspaper scandal sheet of 1879

The original purpose of a weekly newspaper was to make public items that seemed important to locals, but were irrelevant to non-locals.

These papers covered local governments, but more widely they emphasized “who went where and when” items neighbors wanted to read. Weeklies had country correspondents who wrote these 4-Ws at named crossroads and real small towns.

Weeklies became THE source for news before telegraph, telephone and Pony Express.

They proliferated. It was almost like, if a person had a printing press and a few fonts of type, they'd start a newspaper.

And, so it was in Oxford, Michigan in April, 1879. Two weekly newspapers were started in this town of about 1,000 that month. They competed against two weekly newspapers that were already established.

Not only that, but two years later another newspaper was started in Oxford.

Well, you can see that something other than local goings-on had to fill these pages. After all, there's only so much Club news, school, Council and church news to print.

Along came the Oakland County Standard to fight the Weekly Journal, The Bee and The Oxford Intruder.

And, Standard publisher-editor Stephen A. Fitzpatrick had a better idea. He thought (there I go assuming, something newspaper people aren't supposed to do).

The Standard was half-tab in size, 8 1/2 x 11, three columns in width. The front page of the very first issue had a column of ads on each side and a news strip in the middle. The news strip was filled with scandal, innuendo and editorializing.

The first item read: “A Clarkston man pays about $200 a year in support of a Pontiac woman not a lady. He has a nice wife at home.”

Next: “We saw an Oxford man, who stands high in society, coming out of a house, not a church, at Pontiac a few days since. He requested us to keep dark.”

And: “Temperance people should teach their children the Lord's Prayer, Ten Commandments and Apostles' creed, and then you will have no difficulty in trying to reform them.”

The column ends with these editorial observations: “Boys, there's a great difference in the waltzing of females. A Rochester girl crooks her arm in the middle like a door-hinge, takes her fellow by the shoulders, and makes him miserable by trying to hop and step without treading on her No. 9 shoes.

“An Oxford girl takes her partner gently by the left hand and right shoulder and jumps up and down like an Orion girl.

“A Pontiac girl—yum, yum—She creeps closely and sweetly with her bright, black eyes up to her fellow, as if she would like to get into his vest pocket, and fairly melts away in Charley's arms, she is so sweet.

“But the Holly girl, with bright blue eyes and two coats of paint, throws both arms around a fellow's neck, rolls up her eyes, and as she floats away is heard to remark: “Oh, hug me tight, Jenkins.”

Some probably believe newspaper reporting hasn't gotten better in the last 127 years.

Trevor pleases grandpa, uncle, cousin

Teachers of our 7-year-old twin grandchildren sent discipline folders home with their students after the first four days of school.

Haley's teacher's comment was, “Nice job.”

On Trevor's second day, his teacher wrote, “Goofing off.” The third day comment was “Talking.”

His mother showed me the folders in front of him, and she couldn't hold back her grins of pride, which may not be the right reaction.

As for me, this proud grandpa couldn't wait to tell his uncle Jim, cousin Dan and several others whether strangers or friends.

Trevor's so normal. It's what guys do, until the vows.

Weighing in where it really doesn't matter

As I sit here at the home computer, images of my family, Jennie, Shamus and Sean flash across my monitor's screen. Those I love. And, I think about them when I think of worldwide events. I wish the world was a better place -- a place where folks ain't out to destroy other folks just because they are not on the same page in the hymnal.

History is full of crimes of horrific proportions. It doesn't matter how many times the world turns on its axis, how many times the sun rises, how many years pass, some things -- for some reason -- can't seem to change.

The news of the past few days is over the words spoken by the Pope. Words echoed from the mid-ages regarding Islam and a part it's teachings. And, I can't help but wish the Pope would not have linked Islam and violence, if only because fanatics feed on this stuff -- not because there is no link between Islam and violence. There is, but we live in a world where freedom of speech is dangerous. Especially when it comes to religion.

Christianism had its own time of wicked righteousness. The words “Crusades,” “Inquisition” and “witch-hunt” come to mind. Religion, at the hands of extremists, has been the death of a lot of folks. Talk to history's whipping boys, the Jews, about how evil people can be because of religion.

A new day has surely brought a new spin of the “In The Name of God Lunatic Fringe Wheel.” Round and round she goes, who will die, nobody knows. And, those who have a death hold on the handle these days are those killing in the names of Mohammed.

Do I believe Islam is the bane of humanity?
Nope.

Do I believe more than on tenth of one percent of the Muslim community makes up the bloody, murderous lunatic fringe?

Nope. Just as I don't chalk up bombings of abortion clinics, doctors and people to all who follow

Christ's teachings. It just means there are dangerous-minded freaks found in any group. And so, I am kinda sad that in this day of super quick communications and the ever “shrinking” world, where we all know we are really more familiar than different, that families still have to read the hate-mongers' message.

The Pope spoke of violence and Islam, he wasn't wrong, but now the world will hold its breath while the zealots whip themselves up to a lather. They shall prove the point.

I've read of the retaliation against the Catholic Church and I see reports of a nun being murdered, churches fire-bombed, a call for the righteous assassination of the Pope. A window has been opened a wee bit and lunatics are eager to crash through. Media images of Muslim children carrying real or fake automatic weapons, screaming for the death of the Pope probably hasn't helped the cause of forgiveness and peace.

I keep on wondering, if a plane full of lunatic fringe Catholics crashed into a skyscraper, would the rest of the Catholic world be silent? I don't think so. I think they would be chastised as evil, and rightfully so. When a sick-minded Muslim tried to assassinate the previous Pope in the early 1980s, I don't recall Christianity calling for a Holy War against all of Islam.

So, maybe the Pope wasn't wrong, but he sure was ill-timed with his comments. Blown opportunity, maybe, but maybe not. Maybe now is the time leaders in the religious world will first look inward and then out to their fellow human beings. Maybe now the window has also been opened to finding common ground. Maybe now when these leaders look heavenward and ponder, “Why are we here?” and “What is our purpose” they will find the courage to hear, “Love thy neighbor . . .” and nothing more.

It is time the politically correct world, where honest dialogue is discouraged, to end. It's time for the slate to be wiped clean, where retaliation, retribution, revenge and reparations for the sins of our fathers are laid to rest. It's time we children forgive our fathers as well as their transgressors.

There, I said it -- not that it really matters.

Local support fuels Boy Scout of America programming

BY ANDREW DUPONT
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Imagine zipping along at 139 mph in what looks like a supercharged go kart with an airplane wing attached to the roof. A race with cars that fast would make NASCAR look dull.

That's exactly what they do on a regular basis, according to Jim Hanks, Jr., president of Hanks Motor Sports, Inc.

Hanks, along with Michael Feeny, constructs the cars that Michael's brother Kevin races competitively.

"I'm the older one with the brains, I don't drive them," Michael Feeny joked. Kevin Feeny started racing at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club a year ago, taking a hobby and turning it into a livelihood.

Though NASCAR usually steals the spotlight in competitive racing, the risks and the rush are nothing compared to spring-car racing, according to Hanks.

"These are the fastest short track race cars in the world," said Hanks. "It's got in excess of 800 horsepower."

Half-mile races are commonly finished in 15 seconds, but those short moments are intense and risky. Unlike NASCAR vehicles, the wheels on wing-cars are exposed. There is no such thing as a harmless bump in this type of racing.

"Open-wheel race cars, when one wheel hits another, it takes off like a rocket," Hanks said.

The HMS cars hold several track records throughout the country, but Hanks quickly discovered that their racing can be more than just fun. Several local companies, including Carpets from Georgia in Clarkston have found advertising on the side of a speeding car can be more beneficial than buying a billboard.

"My wife and I and everyone on our team decided if we ever got the power of racing... we use the power of racing to try and do good things for kids," Hanks said.

Hanks said the company hosts shows to promote races and ties them to the Boy Scouts of America.

"What we're trying to do is help the scouts attract kids," he said.

Hanks said kids are thrilled just to see the spring-cars up close, but they often let them hop into the driver's seat as well. A mini die cast version of Hanks's number 98 spring car has even been produced and sold at K-Mart stores. Through marketing such as these and hosting special "Race Day" promotion events, Hanks said he hopes to help out his sponsors, in particular the scouts, by continuing to help get their message out.

"I can tell you there's no better way to get a kid's attention than with a hot rod," he said.

REDICO development runs into township board -- tabled

"I'm afraid if we let them (REDICO) go, someone else will come in."

Kim Huppertz, a resident of Softwater Lake, was concerned over potential problems because of the developments' planned proximity to neighboring residents. She also cited potential for increased crime and the possibility of an unsuccessful store being vacated.

Alan Jesial suggested the church obtain bonds to help pay to expand and update its facility on their current property. He also said the idea of an economic miscalculation on the part of the potential tenants could doom the project.

"Companies don't know as much as people give them credit for," Jesial said.

David Feichtner praised the board for not settling for a proposal.

"Development will happen, but needs to meet township standards," he said.

"I met my wife here, I raise my family out here. This is what I want," Feichtner said about the township's current state.

REDICO President and CEO Dale Watchowski said, "I'm totally floored by the response by the board."

"Do you want us here with a development or do you want a green field?" Watchowski added, while asking the board if they wished for the company to redesign plans or leave the township.

That question came after more than an hour on the subject, which included a shortened version of the company's visual presentation.

Watchowski later said he was surprised by the number of residents who looked into the company's previous work around the metro Detroit area.

"They wanted to know who we were and what we did, and they knew and that was a good thing," he said.

Watchowski said he would be reviewing the notes and plans from the past two years of designing the project prior to deciding on the company's next move.

Junk ordinance reviewed

Finally for those who chose to stick around following a brief recess by the board, a revision of an outdated junk ordinance came to topic.

Township Supervisor Collin Walls stressed the notion that the revision would not be a change of the current ordinance. The language was modernized and several items were left on the cutting room floor.

"There are many pages being eliminated to clarify and update so everyone can understand this," Walls said.

The junk ordinance covers strictly unlicensed and inoperable motor vehicles in the township.

Prior to adjourning the four-hour meeting, the board approved the purchase of an air-conditioning and heating unit for the township fire department station number one. This will allow Chief Charles Oaks to award a contract to the bidder he recommended, Professional Heating and Cooling from Fenton, for $4,285.

Niko retires

northern Springfield Township.

"He's very therapeutic for our guys," Senior Employment Coordinator Sherry Yorkes said. "He's phenomenal with this group."

Niko goes to the center for special parties and events, as well as when Carolin responds to emergency calls in the area. The duo has been doing that routine as long as Yorkes has been with the facility, for the past five years.

The group repaid Niko for his visits with a party of his own, a retirement party, on Sept. 13. Nearly 30 patients waited anxiously for the pair to come into the facility and were ecstatic at their arrival. Yorkes presented the dog with his very own bag of doggy goodies to take home.

"It (retirement) will be interesting, I'm glad I work in Springfield (Township) so I can stop by home and check in on him," Carolin said jokingly.

Niko is trained to detect both drug and human scents. "He's found a lot of places bad guys park their cars," Carolin said.

Every week Niko and other members of the K-9 unit undergo retraining to keep up their scenting abilities.

Although much of his career has been dedicated to hard work, Carolin explained that tracking dogs such as Niko perform their job for the reward that comes after the task is done.

"The dogs do their work for fun... it's for the fun of their toy," Carolin said as Niko played happily with his tennis ball.

More Letters to the Editor

We need more choices s

Dear Editor,

Television customers need more choices than their lone cable company. The Michigan House of Representatives are considering a bill that would open up the cable market and allow more competition. This is a good thing!

Everyone knows that with more competition comes better pricing and service. Who would be against that? The only people I know would be the cable companies that are charging higher and higher rates.

Judy Klimek, Clarkston

New teachers in Clarkston

Helder attended West Ottawa high school. During his time there, he was a member of the National Honor Society, school newspaper (four years), swimming team (four years, two as captain), water polo team (four years, two as captain), Latin club (four years, two as president), and debate team (two years).

Outside of work, you'll likely catch Helder boating during the summer. He also enjoys reading, music, and films, of which he says, "the more idiosyncratic, the better."

In his own words, Helder said he has a very small family – four grandparents, two parents, one sister, two uncles, one aunt and two cousins.

"We live, believe it or not, within a half-mile of most of the extended family," he said. Helder also said he feels very fortunate to be working in such a great district.

Laura Kalinowski joins the CHS staff as a Computer Assisted Drafting instructor. Prior to coming to Clarkston, Kalinowski worked for four years as a teacher at South Lyon Middle School.

Kalinowski earned her bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University in 2002, after which she obtained her master's from Marygrove in 2006.

"I just completed my master's degree and look forward to working in the Clarkston community," she said.

Kalinowski attended Fordson High School, where she was a member of the National Honor Society and US First.

Outside of work, she is a mother. Her two daughters both recently started school. When she has free time, she spends it renovating her home in Highland or camping.

The fungus is among us

Rhystisma acerinum getting the attention of area tree owners

BY PAUL KAMPE
Clarkston News Staff Writer

An annual rite of passage is happening sooner than planned for some trees in the area. Maple tree leaves have been taken over and covered in black spots, and in some cases they started falling more than a month ago.

The fungus "Rhystisma acerinum," or Tar Spot Disease, came to the city's attention at an Aug. 28 city council meeting when Tom and Arlene Stone talked about the struggles their maple trees have faced this year.

The city resolved to distribute information from the Michigan State University Extension in Oakland County, informing residents of the disease.

"People notice this, especially if the tree is someplace they are looking a fair amount," said Mary Wilson, extension horticulture educator.

Tar spot has been accelerated by the amount of rain there has been this year, she said.

She said colleagues around the state have noticed the disease also and there are usually more than a hundred calls per year inquiring about the problem.

"It seems like it has been worse the last couple years," Wilson said.

The fungus can infect a tree by the springtime and affect the leaf tissue and rupture the epidermal cells of the leaves within two months.

Homeowners see the affected leaves turn to a yellowish color in the summer and by the end of the season they turn black.

Fortunately, the disease is not fatal for the tree, but will be an eyesore.

Wolves able to dodge bullet against Troy

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Clarkston football coach Kurt Richardson described his team's 14-11 victory over Troy as "Ugly" with a capital U.

"We weren't very good anywhere," Richardson said. "We better learn a lesson. I told them all week Troy is a good football team and I don't think they believed me. We knew they were going to come in here and give us everything they can handle. I'm going to tell them the same thing about Athens."

Richardson said the Wolves had several chances to seal the game, but let Troy hang around. The Colts had a chance to send the game into overtime, but missed a 33-yard field goal as time expired.

Junior running back Jimmy Popp led the Wolves offense with 124 yards rushing and a touchdown.

"We won and that's what matters," Popp said. "We have things we have to work on, but it's a win. It's a wake up call. We should have a better week of practice and play better next week."

With the win, the Wolves improve to 4-0 and remain tied for first place with Lake Orion. Clarkston will travel to Troy Athens on Friday night.

During their victory over Troy, the Wolves trailed 3-0 at halftime, but scored on their first two drives in the second half.

Quarterback Eric Ogg threw a 10-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Badgley with 5:57 left in the third quarter to give Clarkston a 7-3 lead. On their next drive, Popp broke an 18-yard touchdown run with 3:07 left in the third quarter to extend the Wolves' lead to 14-3.

Troy was able to respond when quarterback Branko Hamilton connected with Nick Gallina for a 74-yard touchdown pass with 43 seconds left in the third quarter. Hamilton ran in the two-point conversion to cut Clarkston's lead to 14-11.

In the fourth quarter, Clarkston turned the ball over on downs with 1:52 left. The Colts were able to advance to the 16-yard line before missing the potential game-tying field goal.

Badgley and Ryan Kennerson led the Wolves defensively with five tackles each. Badgley also caught three passes for 41 yards.

Athlete of the Week — Alyssa Vela

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Junior Alyssa Vela was one of the original Clarkston Sea Wolves when she was in third grade. She dreamed of one day breaking the school records she saw on the wall at the pool.

Vela's dream became a reality on Sept. 14. She broke two pool records during Clarkston's 101-85 victory over Stoney Creek. She finished the 50-yard freestyle in 24.99 seconds and the 100-yard freestyle in 54.3 seconds.

"It was really exciting because it was something I've been striving for since I started swimming here at Clarkston High School in third grade," Vela said. "I've been looking at that record board for so many years now and it's great to finally get my name on there."

Vela already qualified for the state finals in both events and helped the 200-yard medley relay team qualify for the state finals.

Last year, she qualified for the state finals in both freestyle events and finished in 15th place in the 50-yard freestyle.

Just over a year ago, it was hard for Vela to imagine she would be having this much success. Vela started swimming competitively when she was in second grade, but overuse of her shoulders caused her to have to sit out her entire freshman year.

"When the high school season started last year, I had not swam at all in over a year," Vela said. "Honestly right now I'm not going as fast as I did when I was 13 and in eighth grade. I'm still working on getting back to where I was. I'm hoping in the next few meets I will be ahead of where I was back then."

Alyssa Vela broke two CHS school records.

Kouri seals second straight overtime victory

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

The Clarkston girls basketball team won its second consecutive overtime game by defeating Pontiac Central 46-42 on Sept. 14.

The Wolves outscored Central 5-1 in overtime to earn the win. Jessica Palace scored the first hoop in overtime to give Clarkston a 43-41 lead.

Senior Chelsea Kouri sealed the game when she hit a pair of free throws with 16.9 left in overtime.

"We just found a way to win again," Clarkston coach Tim Wasilk said. "Our girls believe when it's the fourth quarter or the game is tight we can win and make the big plays."

"I'm hoping our conditioning came into play a little bit. We work really hard in practice. We have been practicing hard since the first day of practice. Our girls are in pretty good shape. Maybe that had something to do with it. When you are in good shape at the end of games, mentally you are more on top of things."

Kouri led the Wolves with 15 points, Palace added nine points and Taylor Daugherty finished with eight points.

Stephanie Rosado led the Chiefs with 14 points. Rosado scored 12 of her 14 points in the first half.

"She was unstoppable in the first half," Wasilk said. "I know at halftime we said a big thing for us was to make sure we kept fronting the post and not let her get the ball. Our guards sagged down on her and made her give the ball up."

With the win the Wolves remain undefeated at 4-0. Wasilk said he is happy with the team's play so far, but there are still a few things that need work.

"We have to work on our offense," Wasilk said. "We need to be more fluid and clean some things up. That's our biggest thing. In practice we look very good offensively, but when the games come I think we are thinking too much or rushing too much. We have to be patient and run the offense."

Clarkston faced Troy in its final game before the start of the conference season on Tuesday, which finished too late for this edition of The Clarkston News. Clarkston kicks off the OAA I season when its hosts Auburn Hills Avondale on Sept. 26.

Horizon Hoop League

Join Varsity Girls Head Coach Tim Wasilk, his coaching staff and current Clarkston varsity players for the Horizon Hoop League. Bring your friends and come be part of a team. When you sign up, you will be placed on a team and play competitive games each week. Last year, the league had over 100 players and is looking for more participation this year.

The Horizon Hoop League is forming 4th and 5th grade teams by elementary school. Kindergarten-3rd and 6-8th graders will be placed on teams according to grade level.

Come join Wasilk and company on Saturday Sept. 23 for one week of instruction and six weeks of games for $75, which also includes a basketball T-shirt.

Do You Have a Plan to Provide for Loved Ones?

You work hard to provide a comfortable living for your family. But you also need to think about what might happen to them after you're gone or if you become incapacitated. That means you need to start planning. And the best time to begin is now, no matter what your age - because the future is not ours to see.

To properly provide for your family, you'll need to take quite a few steps. Here are some of the most important ones:

- Purchasing adequate life insurance - You may already have life insurance - about three-fourths of Americans do, according to LIMRA, a research and consulting organization serving the life insurance industry - but do you have a sufficient amount to pay off your mortgage, send your children to college and meet other key needs? A financial professional can help you determine if your coverage is adequate.
- Lowering taxes - Some of the individual assets you leave behind may generate income taxes, which can be considerable. A tax advisor may be able to help you reduce this potential burden.
- Designating beneficiaries - You should periodically review the beneficiary designations on your life insurance contracts and qualified plans, such as 401(k)s and IRAs. It's essential to update these designations if remarriages and stepchildren are part of your family picture. Keep in mind that beneficiary designations will even supersede the instructions in your will, so, if these designations are out of date, your true wishes may not be carried out.
- Writing a will - If you were to die intestate - without a will - your assets might be distributed by a court. This could lead to a great deal of problems within your family.
- Creating a living trust - Even if you have a will, your assets will have to pass through probate - which can be time-consuming and expensive. But with a properly established living trust, your assets can pass directly to your beneficiaries without court interference, legal fees, lengthy delays and public disclosure.
- Drafting a general power of attorney - This document allows you to appoint another person to conduct your business affairs if you become physically or mentally incapacitated.

Clearly, trying to accomplish all these steps can be somewhat daunting. But you don't have to do it alone. By assembling a qualified estate-planning team, consisting of a financial professional, a tax advisor and an attorney, you can get the help you need to achieve your goals.

Of course, you're never really "done" with your estate planning. Why? Because, over time, your life can change in many ways. Your family or job situation may change, or you may become involved in charities that you wish to support. Consequently, you'll want to revisit almost every aspect of your estate plan every few years.

But you won't want to wait a few years before you begin your planning. You don't have to get all your plans in place at one time, but you do need to start the ball rolling. Estate planning can take a lot of work - but all you have to do is look at your family to know that the effort was worth it.

* Edward Jones, its employees and Investment Representatives are not estate planners and cannot provide tax or legal advice. You should consult with a competent tax specialist or attorney for professional advice on your specific situation.

Wolves qualify for state finals in six events

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

The Clarkston girls swim team defeated Stoney Creek 101-85 on Sept. 14 to remain undefeated, but the win was secondary.

More important than the win was the Wolves' times qualified them for the state finals in five individual events and one relay.

The 200-yard medley relay team of Christine Seiple, Molli Simpson, Michelle VanderVoord and Alyssa Vela won their event with a time of 1:56.07, which qualified them.

Vela also qualified in the 50-yard and 100-yard freestyle events.

Seiple qualified in the 100-yard butterfly and the 100-yard backstroke. Simpson also qualified in the 100-yard breaststroke.

"We had a pretty productive evening," Clarkston swim coach Kenwyn Chock said. "They are really coming around. They trained well and we are looking forward to the OAA championship meet and states. I just hope they stay healthy. If we stay healthy this year we should do really well."

The Wolves also had 18 individual and relay teams qualify for the Oakland County meet.

The 200-yard freestyle relay team of Vela, Simpson, VanderVoord and Amanda Hassett qualified. Amanda Hassett was also a member of the 400-yard freestyle relay team with Seiple, Megan Zelinsky and Kaitlyn Hassett, which qualified.

Amanda Hassett also qualified for the 100-yard freestyle. Kaitlyn Hassett qualified for the 200-yard and 500-yard freestyle events.

Julia Vela qualified for four events, the 200-yard IM, 100-yard backstroke and two relays.

Clarkston will attempt to remain undefeated in dual meets when it travels to Farmington on Sept. 21.

Singles lineup leads CHS to two ties

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

The Clarkston girls tennis singles lineup continued their strong play this season. The Wolves' singles players went 7-1 in two matches to help the squad tie Birmingham Seaholm 4-4 on September 13 and tie Troy 4-4 on Sept. 14.

No. 1 singles player Alyssa Lucas defeated Seaholm's Lauren Acker 6-1, 6-3 and Troy's Hana Suckstorf 6-2, 6-3.

No. 2 singles player Darylann Trout and No. 3 singles player Nicole Janek won both their matches in two sets.

The Wolves doubles lineup struggled in both matches and won only one out of eight sets.

"We are behind and we are catching up," Judd said. "We are behind where we need to be, to be successful at states. We are going to have to step it up a notch, particular in doubles. We have to earn some points in doubles. Our year is going to depend on improving and get points at doubles."

Clarkston is near the mid-point of the season and has just two conference dual meets left. Clarkston faced North Farmington on Tuesday, which finished too late for this edition of The Clarkston News. Clarkston will take on Birmingham Groves on Thursday and compete in the Pioneer Invitational on Saturday.

Adams hands Clarkston first loss

BY DAVE PEMBERTON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Rochester Adams handed Clarkston its first loss of the season in a convincing 4-0 victory on Sept. 4.

The Highlanders' Justin Peterson scored less than eight minutes into the game to give his team a 1-0 lead. Adams added three more goals in the second half to take home the win.

"I think we got outworked," Clarkston coach Adam Bican said. "I think this might not necessarily be a bad thing. When you are 8-0 you can let complacency set in and I think that's what we did. I think the boys will learn from this. I told them to remember what it feels like. They don't want to ever feel that again. I think this group of young men are extremely resilient. I think they are going to bounce back from this."

The game against the Highlanders was the Wolves last during the first half of the OAA I season. Clarkston went 5-1 and remains in good position to win the conference title.

"During the second half of the season I would like to match the first half," Bican said. "I think it's going to be hard the second time around to play some of these teams. What we are going to have to do is work twice as hard. Our goal is to win every game, but also not to fall asleep at the wheel. We have to get back to what brought us to this point and that's hard work, being disciplined and never taking a minute off."

Clarkston will attempt to rebound from the loss when it faces Waterford Mott on Wednesday. The Wolves then kick off the second half of the OAA I season when they take on Stoney Creek on Thursday and then host Lake Orion on Tuesday.

As a way of saying thanks for their dedication, and to remember fallen firemen from Sept. 11, 2001, Jagar, 8, and Addison, 6, Smith gave cookies to local fire officials. The Springfield Township residents are here visiting with officers of Independence Township stationed at Citation Drive. A big thanks to all the dedicated safety personnel and to the children's mom, Jill, for sending us the photo!

"It's hard because people always want to do something," Wilson said.

MSU recommends the removal of the leaves by raking and disposing of them either by garbage or incineration, if that is permitted. Spraying trees is not a course of action and the practice is "atypical" if necessary, Wilson said.

"There are some companies where people are not as knowledgeable and some people prey on customers' concerns," she said.

The Stones noticed the infections of all eight maples on their property for the first time nearly six weeks ago.

"It seemed odd they were browning," Tom Stone said.

The couple lost an ash tree to the Emerald Ash Borer and two elm trees to Dutch elm disease.

Stone noted the importance of removing the leaves because the spores on them can be absorbed by the roots, perpetuating the problem.

"I think most people aren't aware and think this is a normal thing... this is not typical," he said.

Tar spot can occur on woody plants, but maples are the most common. Of those, Norway maple trees are the most susceptible type. For more information, call the MSU Extension Plant and Pest Hotline at 248-858-0902.

Clarkston News Staff Writer

On the way home from one of their many weekend house hunts, Dawn and Bill Horner stopped off on I-75 exit 91 in Clarkston to get something to drink. Then they fell in love with the community after a quick visit to Rudy's Market.

"It's almost like bringing the country to the city," Dawn Horner said of the area. She said she had heard good things about the Clarkston Community Schools, an important factor for the couple, whose children were very young when they moved.

"It's a great community, there's a lot of people and activities," Horner said. "Everybody is very friendly."

Her daughter Elyse is now a 21-year-old senior at Oakland University in Rochester. Her son Jarred is 16 years old and a junior golfer for Clarkston High School. Now Clarkston State Bank President and CEO, Horner gives back more than compounded interest to the community.

She is involved in different activities, two in the community. She has been a part of the Clarkston Area Chamber of Commerce board since 1999, and served as the president in 2000-2001.

On Sept. 9, Horner was presented the Chamber's President's Award, given by the out-going President Sue Welker. The award is for members who have made a huge impact.

She has also been a member of the SCAMP board since January 2005 and serves as the secretary.

Horner participates in committees involved with the banking world: sitting on the Payments Authority Board, for a second term, and the Michigan Association of Community Bankers.

She said she got her work ethic from her days on a vegetable farm in Essexville, near Bay City. She met her husband, Bill, in high school and married in 1980.

If someone was describing her, she hopes they might mention her dedication.

"I would hope they would say I was hard working and that I cared a lot about people," she said.

Horner said she likes golf, running and spending time with her family.

"I don't have much free time," she said.

She likes running because it helps clear her mind. Horner will be participating in the annual Detroit Free Press and Flagstar Bank marathon in a five-person relay team.

At the time of that fateful visit, the couple was looking to find a place to settle in between both of their jobs, hers in Royal Oak and his in Saginaw. The couple had looked into homes in the Rochester Hills area, but it was getting too congested for her liking. At that time, Clarkston was far

On Sept. 17 Sashabaw Presbyterian Church and Peace Unity celebrated the beginning of the fall season with a joint "Old Fashioned Family Picnic." Activities included face painting, crafts and a show performed by a professional magician. Sashabaw Presbyterian is a "transformational" church with roots in the community going back 150 years.

Peace Unity is a "new church development" and is holding services to welcome guests in the Presbyterian Church. This event celebrated the two congregations diversity in beliefs and commonality in service to the community of Clarkston.

Influenza: Vaccination, Testing, Treatment, and Transmission

Article written by: Timothy O'Neill, D.O.

Many of us have experienced the symptoms of "The Flu". These generally include:

- sudden onset of body aches and chills
- dry cough, runny nose, and sore throat
- headache and fatigue
- nausea, vomiting and diarrhea (typically occurs only in children)

However, the side effects of the flu can be much more serious and include severe dehydration, pneumonia, and worsening of chronic illnesses such as Congestive Heart Failure, Diabetes, and Asthma.

VACCINATION: Vaccination is suggested for anyone who does not wish to contract Influenza.

Vaccination is highly recommended among the following at risk groups which are given first priority in years where there is a shortage in supply:

- any person >65 with or without chronic illness
- residents of long term care facilities
- persons 2-64 with co-morbid conditions (diabetes, asthma, immune deficiency)
- children aged 6-24 months
- pregnant women (cannot have the live attenuated vaccine)
- healthcare workers who provide direct patient care
- household contacts and caregivers of children less than six months

Usually within two weeks your immune system will have "converted". This means your body has developed antibodies to the flu strains contained in that year's flu vaccine. The vaccine developed for current flu season does not battle the bird flu (avian-flu).

Generally the influenza vaccine is very safe. It may not be given to anyone with an allergy to eggs or prior allergy to the influenza vaccine, anyone with a fever, or those patients who experienced Guillain-Barre syndrome within six weeks of previous vaccination. The side effects are usually very few but may include a sore arm, fatigue, muscle aches and low grade fever for a couple of days.

For completeness there is an intranasal "live" vaccine available that has different benefits and contraindications; please ask your doctor about this if you have questions.

TESTING:

There are several testing types available. Some are rapid and can tell you while you wait and others require a several day incubation period. Many physicians feel testing is only helpful to confirm the beginning of an outbreak and the end. Also testing may be useful to confirm exposure to the virus by certain at risk people like a nursing home. These people would benefit from prophylaxis with antivirals and treatment.

TREATMENT:

Treatment with one of several antiviral medications effective against influenza has been successful in shortening the duration of illness in those who catch their symptoms early. It is generally only useful if you have had the symptoms for less than 24 hrs or are trying to prevent close contacts from becoming ill. Some of these medications may actually reduce the risk of close contacts becoming ill by up to 70%. Talk to your doctor about which might be right for you if you become ill or have been exposed.

TRANSMISSION:

Influenza spreads through respiratory secretions when infected people cough or sneeze. The virus may be passed from the aerosolized secretions or may be passed by close physical contact. Generally people are able to transmit the virus one day before the symptoms start and 5-7 days after symptoms begin. Unfortunately children may be able to transmit the virus for several days longer than adults. Usually symptoms will begin within one to four days of exposure to the virus.

Lastly, remember to never give children aspirin for any viral illness so we can avoid risk of Reyes Syndrome, a very serious illness. Instead use Motrin or Tylenol for fever control. To find out more ask your doctor or visit the CDC website.

Spiritual matters close to home

Never too late to learn

I love to learn and grow – I think that's the way God made us. So each day I try to learn something new and grow deeper in some way – maybe in a relationship or in knowledge about something or maybe getting to know myself, or God better. It seems to me that as people we are both learning and growing, or we are closing ourselves off and slowly dying. I know that I will always try to be open to new things and new learning – I want to keep on growing until the day I die.

Just this past week at Calvary Lutheran we gathered as people of faith for funeral worship at the passing of one of our charter members, Marion Edith Johnson. It was a sad day as we will miss Marion greatly, but even more it was a day of celebration of her 85 years of life on earth and of her eternal life. Marion was one of those people who never stopped learning. At 74 she took up rug weaving, and with her husband Les made and sold many beautiful painstakingly made rugs. When she was 79, she heard that we needed some help counting the offering and she let us know that she had always liked numbers and accounting, and asked if she was too old to learn – “of course not,” we replied. Just a few years ago she joined in some small group Bible studies and read the wonderful book by Pr. Rick Warren, “The Purpose Driven

Spiritual Matters

Pastor Jonathan Heireman

Life: What on Earth Am I Here For” – she still wanted to find out more. Even through she struggled with the cancer, she continued to learn and grow especially in her faith, love and trust in God. Marion continued to learn every day of her life, through the good times and the challenges. Thank you Marion, for showing us how to live, and even to die, learning.

When asked what is the most important thing to learn and do, Jesus summed up the Christian way of life in the Great Commandment – love God with all your heart and soul and mind and strength; and love your neighbor as yourself (Mark 12:29-31). Of all the great things there are to learn, I believe that learning about God's love for us and learning to return that love and extend it to others, is far and away the most important. I also know that I've still got a lot to learn about love and that I need help along the way – from God and from you.

Often our greatest learning about love and about ourselves comes in the most difficult and challenging situations and relationships. Do you recall the teacher or coach that taught you the most? Most likely they loved and cared about you deeply, but probably they also challenged you to a point you didn't like sometimes – but you learned and grew. Life is like that as we learn to love. Our greatest teachers often come in the form of things we would rather avoid, like challenges, painful circumstances, and difficult relationships. Someone once said, “God never wastes a hurt.”

Downing Clinic guidelines for living long & well

The goals of living long and well are to keep or enhance what we have, such as maintaining muscle strength, our memories, good energy and most importantly, reducing or reversing symptoms of chronic illness.

Here are some tips for enhancing longevity

Eat Fewer Calories

Longevity studies have shown over and over again that reduced calorie intake is associated with living longer. Overindulgence in food, more than any other factor, shortens the lifespan and increases risks of developing chronic illness, like.

Food and Genes

Each bite of food we eat speaks to our genes. Food can alter and influence the fulfillment of the genetic blueprint we inherited. This is a far more vital and powerful role for food than previously was known. Natural nutrients have known receptors, pathways, and roles to play in a healthy body. But chemicals, altered fats or denatured proteins, man-made substances deliver different and potentially harmful messages that may alter our genetic game plan.

Eat A Mediterranean Diet

Probably the single most important thing you can do, along with moving and using your body, is to eat a Mediterranean diet. Eat lots of fresh fruits and vegetables, whole grains, nuts, beans and some fish. A little poultry, dairy, and eggs are included, but very little red meat and sweets are eaten.

Exercise

Exercise can extend life and prevent or reverse disease. We need about 80 minutes per day, with about 15 minutes the minimum for making a difference in health outcome. James Hill, Ph.D., director of the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center in Denver states recommends walking 2,000 more steps and eating 100 fewer calories per day. Visit his website at www.americaonthemove.org

Reduce Stress

Our ability to cope with stress affects our longevity. Stress changes metabolism from a fight or flight response to a threat by increasing blood pressure, heart rate, and breathing rate to provide more oxygen, and glucose is mobilized for use by muscle. Digestion, sex drive, and the immune system are suppressed as they are not needed in an emergency situation.

Low sugar, regular meals with a 4:00 PM snack are help keep daytime stress low. Eat alkaline foods and water to combat the acidity caused by stressful living. We have handouts on alkaline foods and books discussing alkaline diets.

Regular exercise, drawing, writing, listening to good music, Tai Chi, yoga, meditation, massage, religious services, breathing techniques, posture and movement work help rid stress from our bodies.

Get Enough Sleep

Lack of sleep increases stress and reduces healing time. More people are gradually reducing hours of sleep by staying up later more often. The body repairs itself during sleep.

Hormone Support or Herbal Choices

Reduced levels of adrenal, thyroid, and sex hormones play a role in aging.

Many herbs and homeopathic remedies have a balancing effect on our hormones.

Use of estrogen, progesterone, DHEA, pregnenolone, testosterone, human growth hormone (HGH), thyroid hormone may help slow aging when used properly. Testing and regular follow-up with your doctor are important for these interventions to be successful.

Living long and well depends upon how well you take care of yourself over a lifetime. Following a Mediterranean style of eating, reducing stress, getting enough exercise and sleep, keeping social contacts and spiritual ties are all things you can do that make a tremendous difference.

Fall is the time for an orthodontic evaluation

The Clarkston News apologizes for the printed unedited story 9-06

Fall is the perfect time of year to have an orthodontic evaluation! With so many treatment options available, there is no reason not to have a beautiful, straight, healthy smile. Dr. Charles F. Munk and Dr. Charles W. Munk would welcome the opportunity to discuss all orthodontic options available with any new patient considering treatment. Our office is always ready to welcome new patients. The initial evaluation is provided at no charge. To help accommodate everyone's busy schedule the doctors offer a variety of appointment times at the three office locations.

As a reminder, the American Association of Orthodontists (in which Dr. Charles F. Munk and Dr. Charles W. Munk are both members) recommends that all children have an orthodontic check-up no later than the age of seven. This early screening is indicated for a variety of reasons:

* An orthodontist can spot subtle problems with emerging teeth and jaw growth, even while some baby teeth are still present.

* To answer patient and/or parent questions of concern.

* To treat orthodontic problems if early treatment is indicated.

* To monitor growth and development for optimal treatment timing if early treatment is not appropriate.

A timely orthodontic evaluation can lead to significant treatment benefits for the patient.

Being an orthodontic specialty practice, we utilize the latest technologic advances. This allows us to diagnose and treat patients earlier, in less time, with more options, and greater patient comfort. Our goal is to provide patients with long-term health care as well as cosmetic tooth alignment.

Never underestimate the power of a great smile. Straight teeth are not only beautiful, they also promote good health. Straight teeth can also help reduce the incidence of heart disease, gastrointestinal disease, and other health conditions. Teeth that are properly aligned chew more efficiently, aiding in proper digestion. Also, teeth that are straight and properly aligned create a more perfect bite, and that helps to avoid excessive stress, headaches, and strain on the supporting bone and tissue.

At our office, it is our mission to improve and enhance people's lives through orthodontics. Our office provides quality and service in a lighthearted, honest, and friendly environment. We do orthodontics for our patients and with our patients; instead of doing orthodontics to our patients. We treat each patient as an individual with his or her own goals, concepts of self-image, dreams, and aspirations. By combining the right mix of personal attention, the latest technology, and continuing education, we maintain a commitment of excellence to our patients in every facet of our practice.

We want to change the way people think about orthoodontics. For instance, orthodontics are not just for children and teens. We work with people of all ages interested in enhancing their smile. Adults can benefit greatly from orthodontic treatment. Today, one in five orthodontic patients is an adult. Orthodontic treatment changes looks and outlooks. Orthodontics has boosted the self-esteem of countless patients, whether they had braces as children or sought treatment as adults.

Invisalign and OrthoClear are wonderful treatment options especially for adults. These products provide an advanced way to straighten teeth and improve smiles. Using the latest medical imaging technologies, clear aligners are manufactured that rapidly straighten teeth. Each aligner is worn for several weeks, and can be removed to eat, brush, and floss. During wear, the teeth are gently moved to their desired position. The length of the process depends on the patient's individual needs. Both Dr. Charles F. Munk and Dr. Charles W. Munk have completed training in the use of these specialized products, and can assist patients in determining if they would be an appropriate method of treatment for them.

A great benefit to patients utilizing more traditional braces, is our use of self-ligating brackets. These "Breakthrough brackets" offer an advanced micro design which require fewer appointments, provide greater comfort, and better hygiene.

As we continue to incorporate new products into our practice, it is all with one purpose in mind; the creation of beautiful, straight, healthy smiles that will last for a lifetime. Be sure to check out our website at www.munkorthodontics.com for additional information about our practice.

Life-long learning is what God has planned for us

If we are open to letting him use it to grow us. I've also heard that when we are struggling to love in a difficult relationship it can mean for us that "school's in session" and it's time to learn, not just talk about, loving God and others.

This October at Calvary we will embark as a congregation on a 40-day spiritual journey called "Training for Life" in which we will intentionally engage in some activities to help us learn and grow in love as God's people. We will do this by spending time in the Bible, in prayer, in serving others, in solitude and slowing down, in discovering and celebrating joy in our lives, and more. I believe that the only way I can live and love as God intends is to be a life-long learner and to "train for life!"

(Jonathan Heirerman is the pastor of Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church in Clarkston)

A Partnership Between Genesys Health System and POH Medical Center

Take steps to help kids maintain healthy weight

By Ernie Harwell

It disturbs me to hear about the growing obesity problems among children. Today, one out of every five children in our country is overweight and the number keeps getting bigger.

That's bad news, not just because of the effect on kids' health today, but because overweight kids tend to become overweight adults with increased chances of heart disease, high blood pressure, diabetes and the like.

Here are some things you parents can try to help prevent their kids from becoming overweight:

- *Don't insist that your child clean his or her plate all the time.
- *Get active with your children by walking or going for a bike ride with them.
- *Try to keep TV watching and video game playing to a minimum.
- *Avoid rewarding kids with sweet desserts like candy and cookies.

It turns out that the best way to help your kids is to set a good example. This way, you develop healthy habits to benefit you, and your kids see a good role model for healthy living.

Like a double play at the old ballpark, it's two for the price of one! And remember, take care of your health before it's longgg gone!

Ernie Harwell, "the voice of the Detroit Tigers" for more than four decades, retired after 55 years behind a major league microphone. Today, at age 86, Ernie's days are filled with serving as a health and fitness advocate for Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, public appearances, writing, traveling and taking long walks with "Miss Lulu," his wife of more than 60 years. The horrors of outsourcing, Version 2.0

By Luc Robert "Slick" Poirier

Co-Founder, President & CEO

Slick and Bubba's Elite & Expeditious Websites

The chill of October creeps through my office walls, aided by swirling midnight gusts as I toil late into the moonlit evening. I get up from my desk and walk to the java machine near a window that overlooks Main Street. Jack-o-lanterns, some funny and others frightening, line the steps of many homes and businesses, reminding passersby that Halloween is on its way.

Luc Poirier, co-founder, president, CEO Slick & Bubba's Elite & Expeditious Websites

I get my fix of caffeine when I hear something behind me. Heart pounding and hair (well...if I had any...it's a metaphor!) standing on end, my eyes race across the office to identify this terribly wrong sound. I hear it again. It's coming from ... my desktop!

It's 12:15am and someone ...perhaps something...

is sending me an e-mail.

It's not an e-mail from Christopher Lee or Stephen King, which would be alarming enough, but from a sinister, vile source, darker than the screenplay logic from M. Night Shaliman's latest cinematic farce. It's from Jack Lang and it reads as follows:

"Komron Technology is a leading China software company focused on delivering the best and most cost-effective solutions to our clients in areas such as professional website design solutions, web development, e-commerce web applications, contract web designers, IT outsourcing, graphic design, flyer design, etc. Rates start as low as $15US per hour."

Aargh! It's the invasion of the Offshore Outsource Solicitors!

All kidding aside, the e-mail is both funny and frightening. What's funny is the various inconsistent font styles and sizes throughout the text, looking less professional (even though they offer "flyer design") and more like it was cut from other sources and pasted together. Also laughable is Lang's direct e-mail: website.service@yahoo.com. Now "Jack Lang" is the "project manager" of a leading Chinese software company, yet his e-mail address is from a free source and not through his company's domain. Hmmmm?

What's frightening is somewhere a company's decision maker will look at the attached price list and actually do business with this enterprise located in the city of Shenzhen of the Guangdong Province of China.

Regular readers of my column may recall the June 2006 story on outsourcing (Bob's Bruised Business...or the True Cost of Outsourcing) where I had elected to do dry cleaning business with a new company and ended up losing 3 shirts (2 where lost and 1 destroyed). When I challenged the dry cleaner about this, their excuse was that they "outsourced the cleaning and it must've happened at the other facility." I tried to save time and money but it ended up costing more in the end.

Thus, the vicious cycle begins: You're challenged to cut costs, and more often than not the most competitive bids come from offshore sources, But how much do you really save? Consider the following from an entrepreneur who learned the hard way:

"The contract house gave us a very competitive fixed-

Trini and Carmens bringing restaurant to Springfield

By Paul Kampe

Local Restaurateur Teresa Boyd hopes to bring her lifetime experience to Springfield Township in less than two months.

Boyd will open Trini and Carmens Springfield, following the completion of the sale for the property from the current owners. The sale is contingent on the approval of a liquor license transfer by the township.

The 2,308-square-foot building is at 10063 Dixie Highway, north of Davisburg Road. 221B Baker Street, a French fine-dining establishment is in the building now; however, the sale of the property is likely to be completed within the next month, Boyd said.

Boyd does not anticipated staying closed for more than two weeks to make the change over to the her restaurant, the third current location of that namesake.

"I don't want to be closed for long," Boyd said.

Trini and Carmens, a restaurant founded by Boyd's family, was started in the late 1950's. There are currently two locations in Waterford Township. The main spot is along Telegraph Road, southwest of Dixie Highway. The other, a carryout location on Elizabeth Lake Road, Boyd sold to her brother five years ago. Those locations serve Mexican cuisine.

"I knew I wanted to go north and I found that," Boyd said. "I knew it was going to be far enough away from our other locations.

"It's really, really growing, I'm excited about that," she added.

Boyd's family members who live near Holly said to her, "There's nothing out here."

"Not for long," Boyd told them. "This was my chance to be myself and be the owner." Boyd said.

Boyd said she wants to put her own touch on her restaurant. She said she wants to have a rounded menu that may include things such as prime rib, chicken dishes and hamburgers. Food that is not necessarily from a Mexican cuisine menu.

Boyd said that she is looking forward to the change, "I want something for everybody."

She said the current owners took exceptional care of the building and the biggest change will be the paint that she plans to add.

"I'm going to brighten it up," Boyd said.

Boyd remembers being in the restaurant business as a child: "I remember being in the kitchen with my dad experimenting" with different recipes.

Boyd said all the recipes that Trini and Carmens uses are passed down from her grandparents.

Boyd's son Randy has been getting training as a cook at the Telegraph Road location and will bring that knowledge with him when he moves to the Springfield location.

Her daughter Michelle, also from the Telegraph location, will also move to the Springfield restaurant, serving as the dining room manager.

less developed, and she felt there were more opportunities for growth and advancement because the area had more open space.

The Horners moved to Clarkston in 1992.

Dawn Horner said the congestion the area sees today differs from when she moved to the area.

She would hate to see a large retailer move to the area and take away the small businesses that comprise the area.

Dawn started her banking career through a co-op at her high school with the People's National Bank. She later worked for First of America Bank in 1975 starting as a branch manager. After 23 years, she was senior vice president of the bank's operations division. She left the company after National City had begun to take over.

Horner attended Central Michigan University and earned her bachelor's degree in business management in 2002, after attending off-campus locations.

Horner started for Clarkston State Bank in November 1998. After sending her resume to founding President and CEO Dave Harrison she did not hear back on any position immediately.

Harrison told Horner she was overqualified and he did not have a position for her... initially. The two had a discussion to find her a position in the bank and Harrison said if she was willing to come on board, he would find a spot for her. Horner started as the vice president of operations.

Harrison died four years ago. The bank purchased an engraved stone planter, outside the bank's central location on Main Street, to preserve his memory.

"We didn't want to lose sight of our founder because he was such a wonderful individual," Horner said. "He was very supportive of the community."

Horner said she notices a difference in the number of activities one sees and tries to be involved when they are in the area in which they live.

"It's funny, when you don't work in the community, you miss a lot of thing... I really believe in the things these groups want to do," Horner said.

She volunteers for the annual Taste of Clarkston event. This is her third year with the event, as the chairperson for the past two she is now the co-chair.

"It's a great event," she said.

Horner feels Clarkston State Bank's sponsorship and involvement with the city is a two-way street.

"We're a community bank, we need to give back to the community. We try to support people who do business with us and the organizations in the community, that's what it's all about," Horner said. "If you give back to the community, they'll give back to us."

Horner said the bank has donated close to $14,000 since its inception but, "the time donated is priceless," she said.
