Superintendent search is on

Reschke steps in for Roberts on interim basis

Vol. 82 No. 33 Wed., June 16, 2010

BY WENDIREARDON

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Dave Reschke is set to serve as interim superintendent for Clarkston schools, as the district searches for a new chief administrator.

"I'm not looking for work, but I am very committed to this district," said Reschke at the June 14 Clarkston Board of Education meeting.

Board President Steve Hyer insisted they make the decision that night, instead of tabling it for later.

"We need to keep the ship moving and keep kids first," Hyer said. "My feeling that would represent the least resistant path for the district while moving forward."

Superintendent Al Roberts announced his retirement, May 24, effective June 30.

"Dave Reschke will be a good fit," Roberts said. "He knows the district and he knows the community."

The school board was split on the decision, but not because of Reschke's experience or dedication to the district.

"It doesn't have to do with Dave's integrity but the process," said Trustee Rosalie Lieblang.

Former board member Sheila Hughes stood up in the audience, saying Reschke was the best hoice.

"If you don't see it, then you don't know him and should step down," Hughes said.

That wasn't the issue, responded Trustee Joan Patterson.

"There are some really hard feelings on how the board and the district operated this year – if the board asks for information, can we have it," Patterson said.

This past February, Lieblang filed a Freedom of Information Act request for budget information.

Roberts responded, defending his performance as superintendent.

"I don't understand the negativity – anything I have, Please see Search on page 4A

City budget approved, for now

BY TREVORKEISER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

With an Aug. 3 election set to make or break the Clarkston Police Department, city officials passed a balanced budget just for the next couple months.

"We have to pass a budget based on what we know now, which means we put together a proposal budget based on maintaining the current police department (and) maintaining the current millage," said Mayor Steve Arkwright at Monday night's budget hearing.

Whether or not voters choose to increase the general millage by five mills will determine if the city keeps their own police or out sources with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. The current millage, set at 13.1979, generates revenues of about $584,000. If the extra five mills were OK'd it would add an extra $220,000 to the revenue stream when first levied later this year.

While the majority of the revenue went down from the amended 2010 budget to the 2011, the total revenue went from $825,050 to $829,713. The one major area of increase in revenue from 2010 to 2011 was in the area of "other." It was roughly an $80,000 increase from fund balance in order to cover the city police.

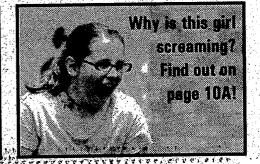

"This is not what will end up happening, I can assure you of that," Arkwright said. "We are not going to remove $80,000 from our fund equity, but in order to balance this budget based on the facts we have today that's how we have to show it."

Brueck also reassured the crowd that the $80,000 transfer

Fourth of July celebration on July 3

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Due to the Fourth of July falling on a Sunday this year, the parade and activities will take place on Saturday July 3.

The parade, put on by Independence Township Fire Department, will begin at 10 a.m. It starts at St. Daniel Catholic Church and ends at Clarkston United Methodist Church. This year's theme is "Be a Patriot."

Fourth of July activities will begin at 11 a.m. Festivities include children's games, arts and craft show, food venders, live music, canine toss and fetch competition, and fireworks at dusk.

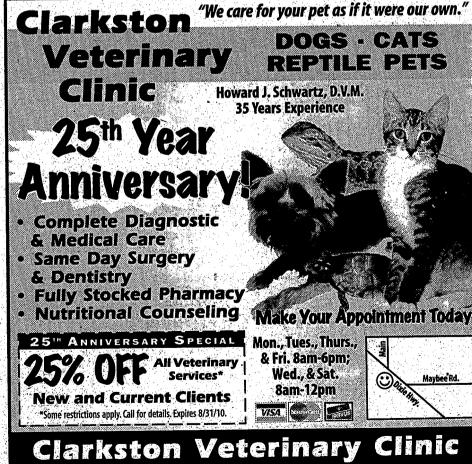

"For our community to offer something like this to our residents, it's pretty exciting since there have been a lot of budget cuts and some changes. It's still a priority to the township board and priority to our department," said Kelly Hyer, recreation supervisor. "Even with cutbacks we're still going to do our best and offer a great day for people. We're hoping to have a good turn out like the past couple years."

She also said Clarkston Community Church and St. Trinity Church will also have Fourth of July festivities going on as well and offer a space for people to watch the fireworks.

"It's kind of neat to see they're playing off our event and it's not just us," she said.

Judge dismisses Wagner's bid stop recall

BY TREVORKEISER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Independence Township Supervisor Dave Wagner's lawsuit against the Oakland County Election Commission to stop the recall effort was dismissed.

Wagner's attorney Larry Barnett filed a complaint with the Oakland County Circuit Court on July 29, 2009. Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Colleen A. O'Brien made the ruling on June 2.

The complaint consisted of two different counts. Count I: "Erroneous Determination Claim" and County II: "Unconstitutionality of statute claim. On Feb. 4 Barnett filed an amended complaint to include a third count the need for a trial) that Mr. Wagner's claim "recall petition was not based on plaintiff's officer's (Wagner) conduct during his current term of office.

The commission voted 3-0, Jan. 21, to approve petition language calling for Wagner's recall due to bonus payments made to an employee, car allowance increases, and money spent on architectural work for a new police substation.

Citizens Against Independence Township Waste (CAITW) member Henry Woloson called Wagner suit against the county and petition drive "unfortunate."

had no merit that the State recall law was unconstitutional," Woloson said.

"Those of us supporting the recall simply want township voters to have the opportunity to decide if Mr. Wagner's mismanagement warrants his removal from office," he said. "Based on behavior, like his suing Oakland County in a now dismissed lawsuit, his concern about the outcome must be why Mr. Wagner is so opposed to allowing Township voters to decide his fate.'

Wagner did not return phone calls for

Leg Pain? Back Pain??

Having back and leg pain can bring life to a standstill.

You might not be able to play golf, work, or even sit in the car for a 30-minute drive. It's almost impossible for anyone around you to understand how you feel. You can't remember the last time you even had a restful night's sleep.

When cushions in your back joints, called discs, get injured or wear out, they begin to degenerate and cause pain. Bulging and herniations begin to form, pressing on the nerve roots.

The most common invasive treatment for disc herniations is surgery. Even with health insurance the patient is left with their own portion of the bill, in excess of $10,000-$15,000, and sometimes

In addition, the recovery time and missed work can be anywhere from 3 to 6 months, not to mention the obvious severe risks associated with

You should seriously consider a less invasive approach to solving your back pain and sciatica.

SPINAL DECOMPRESSION has a long track record in helping people with sciatica and back pain. Here's what a study said about spinal decompression therapy...

The conditions this amazing treatment has proven successful for are:

you have," he said. "This district, by any measure, is one of the best in the county right now. That doesn't just happen. It happens because of the administrators and they are the best I have worked with. It doesn't come from lack of leadership."

Secretary Susan Boatman supported having a sit-down discussion and asking Reschke a few questions.

"I am not hearing any discomfort with Dave," said Trustee Elizabeth Egan. "Where the discomfort lies is we have a superintendent job description, but don't have one for interim superintendent. We want to be specific on what we want Dave to do."

"We have no clear definition of what we expect from the interim superintendent." said Patterson. "Whoever is interim superintendent, I would like to interview that person. I think anyone going in would like to know the expectations of what we would like to do for the 2-3 months. We need to have clear ideas of what we expect."

Patterson said the board will continue to tackle the budget and asked Reschke if he would he be flexible with communication and open to discussion.

Any dialogue would be important and helpful to the board," he responded. "Conversation needs to happen.'

The board voted 6-0 to appoint Reschke interim superintendent until Sept. 30. Trustee Barry Bomier was absent.

"We have an opportunity in front of us of massive proportions," said Hyer. "If done correctly, we won't have do to it again for another 10 or plus years. It is important to put board politics aside and put kids first. We need to stand up and lead our district, our community and our employee groups."

Hyer had three recommendations for the board - select a search firm between Michigan Association of School Boards (MASB), Michigan Leadership Institute, and Hazard, Young, Attca & Associates, Ltd., appoint David Reschke as interim superintendent, and communicating the plan

For selecting a firm, Hyer said he was more comfortable using MASB and MLI.

"They are best qualified to me." he said. "Hazard and Young are a little too much overkill."

The district hired Hazard and Young earlier this year to conduct the search for new deputy superintendent and human resources director.

Both MASB and MLI are cheaper and can form a timeline according to the district's needs, Hyer said.

After a brief discussion, the board went with MASB.

MASB gave the district a timeline of 13 weeks to find a superintendent to fulfill the qualifications and characteristics the district wants.

The cost is $12,000 and the board established not to exceed $24,000 in case of extra costs.

Patterson made the motion the board accepts the MASB proposal for superintendent search and not to exceed $24,000.

The motion passed, 6-0.

Mickey Ginn requested more information be given in the future to the commu-

'Give a brief synopsis," she said. Within it she would like to see why the board is going with the firm, more about the firm as well as why go with a firm instead of the district doing the search themselves.

The final step was to inform the staff and community on the process.

Hyer asked Reschke to put together a memo to inform the community the district is moving forward and to send a letter to parent and community leaders.

Keiser's Role

A column by Trevor Keiser

She said

I took a trip to Georgia Memorial Day weekend to once again see my "Georgia Peach." The trip resulted in me no longer just being in a relationship, but now I'm engaged to get married.

I knew when I came home after my first trip in March, she was my wife to be. It was just a matter of time, to come up with the money for the ring, ask her father for his blessing, and "pop the question."

I thought I wasn't going to be able to propose until sometime in the fall when I got the ring paid off. However, the saleman at "Every Kiss Begins with Kay" was very accommodating.

I put a down payment on the ring and bought an insurance plan, so I didn't have wait until I paid it off.

Wondering how I proposed? While eating Taco Bell with a friend one night, I grabbed a few packets of hot sauce, one of which said "Will You Marry Me?"

It was there I had an epiphany and knew I wanted to incorporate the hot sauce packet into the proposal.

With a mutual love for Taco Bell, Jenny and I had a "Taco Bell Picnic" in a park lined up for Saturday, May 29. Having already asked her father for his blessing earlier that morning and with the ring burning a hole in my pocket, I was ready to take a knee.

Since Jenny is pretty good at figuring things out, I tried my best to throw her off. I handed her a "Premier Jewelry" box that looked as if it contained a necklace or bracelet. Inside however was a handful of "Will-You Marry Me" hot sauce packets.

It was then I pulled the ring box from my pocket got on one knee, looked her in the eyes, spoke a few heart felt words and asked the question. She said "yes" and has made me the happiest man on earth.

If you would have told me a year ago I would have a girlfriend and two months later a fiancee, I probably would have laughed at you. God has once again shown his faithfullness to me and given a blessing beyond measure.

Dear Editor.

As a long-ago J-school grad and writer/reporter/columnist, in another life, I often frown and reread many articles in The Clarkston News, as I thumb though page by page after the paper arrives in my mailbox.

Maybe my inability to understand what is often a lack of clarity and organization of the facts in an understandable way is a result of the recently dysfunctional nature of much of your paper's coverage areas and subject matter, i.e., Clarkston City Council meetings, Independence Township Board marathons, school news and board meetings, etc.

On the other hand, I confess to almost always enjoying the wit and down-to-earth columns from Jim Sherman and Don Rush.

Reader supports state rep. candidate

Dear Editor.

I'm writing in response to "Local resident files for state representative seat," May 12 edition, announcing Richard Gutowski's campaign for state representative, 44th District.

Rick is described as "an independent, conservative, and a problem solver." His "resume" is that of a very accomplished, successful individual with "30 plus years in the real world" who is motivated to serve his community.

Many are tempted to believe our representative style of government is broken, and we must acknowledge we have all played a part. While we went about our lives, we've allowed a situation to develop not unlike the old adage of putting the fox in charge of the hen house in the township and Lansing.

Now we have a gentleman willing to step forward, place his well-earned rewards of retirement on the back burner and offer to actually employ what has become the uncommon asset of all in government, common sense. I don't really know Rick other than to wave at him occasionally, but considering his background as an engineer combined with my own life experience dealing with engineers, I would be willing to bet he did not make this decision without a great deal of thought and research. This commitment could not have been made quickly or rashly, and I am extremely grateful he made it! We must consider this gentleman who simply doesn't need the complication of public office at this time of his life. He should be scheduling tee times this summer, and yet he is essentially volunteering to go back to work, for us! He is offering to do an extremely difficult job in an extremely toxic environment for the simple reason that, while listening to the contributions of another, he asked himself, "wow, what have I done?"

I would urge us all to understand the incredible commitment and sacrifice that Rick is making and to support his candidacy for this district. Any individual willing to employ the knowledge, experience, and business acumen he has gained in "30 plus years" within our political process deserves our admiration and support!

So, what? Sew buttons! An old time comeback

The first year Hazel and I were married, she worked as a clerk in an Owosso factory. I commuted to East Lansing to college.

With no school homework, I had lots more idle time than Hazel, I took up doing (what, in my youth, was considered) woman's work around the house. You know -- cooking, washing, ironing and clothing repair.

My cooking specialty was scalloped potatoes with pork chops.

I did very little clothes washing and ironing, but I took to sewing, especially buttons.

This came to mind recently when a button came off a dress shirt. Hazel left me about 1,000 buttons, from which I found a close match.

I soon realized the makers of needles are making smaller eyes and threads are more difficult to insert in said eye.

Now I'm ready to sew on the button. No problem, except when I finished, I found I'd sewn the button on the inside of the placket. OK, cut it loose and start over. Still fussing, I found the dressmaker had sewn an extra button on the shirttail.

Oh, hum, the world went by and I missed the trip,

"Life for those at home continues and in their absence, their roles and responsibilities still need to be fulfilled," said Sievers, who offers free lawncare services with GreenCare for Troops.

His cousin is a U.S. Marine reservist who volunteered for a tour of duty in Iraq.

"He left behind his wife and family and there was no organization or support in place in the community to provide the kind of assistance the family needed simply to care for their property," Sievers said.

Sievers and Sons will donate services such as lawn maintenance, spring and fall cleanup, storm debris cleanup, lawn thatching, lawn aeration to qualifying individuals in northern Oakland and southern Genesee counties.

GreenCare for Troops is a national network of more than 2,400 volunteers providing free lawn care and landscape services to U.S. military families with loved ones currently deployed to the Middle East.

"I think it's a great cause," said Sievers, who also offers discount services to all current and retired members of the U.S. military. "People are out there fighting for our freedom. They protect us, while leaving their families behind. This is a good way to help people who protect us every day."

Reports from Clarkston Police, Oakland County Sheriff Deputies and Independence Township Fire Department

Guilty conscience

A deputy stopped a 19-year-old Waterford Township man for a broken license plate light, 10:30 p.m., May 4, at Spring Meadow Drive and Stone Gate Court. Asked where his marijuana was, the driver started to shake, and, defying his passenger who said they had no drugs, produced several baggies of marijuana. He was cited for drug possession.

Hit and run

Deputies responded to a hit and run accident in the 9000 block of Ortonville Road, 4:18 p.m., May 23. The 23-year-old driver, an Oxford Township woman, fled on foot. K-9 Deputy Christie was nearby and responded to attempt a track. They tracked for about half a mile, found the suspect, and took her into custody. She had outstanding misdemeanor warrants out of Auburn Hills and Oakland County. She was also a suspect in a larceny and fraud investigation in Oxford Township. Follow-up investigation at an Independence Township residence uncovered two more suspects, a 23-year-old Clarkston woman, and 30-year-old Independence Township woman, both taken into custody.

Not safe as you think

Someone cut the chain and took a motor-cycle, May 29, in the 4000 block of Fox Creek.

The side door was pried open, May 31, in the 4000 block of Indianwood Drive, and television, taken.

A White Clover Lane homeowner found that someone tried to break into the garage, June 6.

Someone took an unlocked motor from a docked boat, June 8, in a lake off Parview Drive.

A drunken walk

A motorist called police to report a man stumbling from the side of I-75 onto the roadway near Clintonville Road, 2:30 p.m., May 31. Deputies found a 23-year-old Adrian man, who said he had drunk two 40-ounce bottles of beer, and had a .13 blood alcohol level.

One man's trash

An Allen Road homeowner said someone stole his trash can, full of trash, June 5. Tire marks indicate someone backed up a pickup truck to it, loaded the trash can, and drove away.

You'll shoot your eye out

Someone shot three BB's into the front window on a Oak Hill Road home, 2:50,a,m,, June 2.

Reckless driving

A 29-year-old Brandon Township man was on his way home from a Tigers game, driving more than 90 mph, weaving from side to side in his lane, with a .147 blood alcohol level, 6:42 p.m., May 31. Deputies stopped him on the I-75 exit ramp to M-15. He had empty beer cans on his back seat, but said he just drank at the game. He was arrested for drunk driving.

Drivers help another

Driving south on Ortonville Road when her car quit running, a 17-year-old driver coasted off onto shoulder, 1:33 p.m., June 2. She and a Good Samaritan decided to push the stalled vehicle into a nearby driveway. The witness pushed from the front while the driver walked next to the open driver's door, trying to steer. She couldn't get out of the way when the vehicle started rolling down the driveway incline, she slipped and fell, and the vehicle's front left wheel rolled up and on her legs and stopped. Another driver-stopped and used some boards to pry the car up and get the driver out from under it. She was taken to POH for treatment.

Dog gives warning

Residents in the 5000 block of Clarkston Road heard their dog bark and car horn beep three times, 3:57 a.m., June 7, but didn't get up to look outside. In the morning, they discovered the front passenger window of their car parked in the driveway smashed out, and purse, GPS, and laptop, missing.

It's not mine

Checking local parking lots, a deputy checked on a car parked in the 4000 block of Waterford Road, 2:24 a.m., June 5. The driver, a 20-year-old North Carolina man, said he was waiting for friends. He was found with a small bag of marijuana, glass pipe, and rolling papers. On the ground outside the car was a metal crack pipe. The driver said the marijuana was his, but the crack pipe belonged to "a guy that I drive around," and he threw it on the ground when he saw the deputy approach. He was cited for possession or marijuana and drug paraphernalia, and improper license plate, which he had altered using a black marker.

Mailbox casualties

A vehicle ran off the road and knocked down two metal mailboxes attached to a black metal post in the 7000 block of Parkcrest Circle, June 6. There might be damage to the right front side or right front fender of the vehicle.

Graduates earn ROTC scholarships to Central

BY TREVOR KEISER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Army Lt, Col. Aaron Kalloch looked on proudly as Clarkston High School Seniors Derek Booker and Matt Horowitz signed the dotted line for Central Michigan University's Reserved Officer Training Corps. (ROTC) program.

On June 9, Kalloch presented both students with a full-ride scholarship at the lacrosse banquet.

"First of all they're very impressive young men and well rounded. The key thing is they meet all the criteria we're looking for, a scholar, athlete and leader, they provide all those types of things," Kalloch said. "They've had a great experience in School and done really well here and possess the motivation to make it to the next level both in academics, but also to pick a career path that's going to get them really far in life."

ROTC is a four year program in "leadership development." Each year students will be given more responsibility and in the end be evaluated to see if they have the capability to be an Army officer.

They go from follower to running the show to prepare them to go out for the force, either for active duty or in the reserve component," Kalloch said. "It's a compliment to the traditional program. When they're in ROTC they wear the uniform in their class, laboratory and PT (Physical Training), but they're a regular college student the rest of the time."

Booker, who was on both the football and wrestling team, said he was excited about ROTC and was "going to take advantage of every second of it.'

"My older brother was in the military," he said. "It's just a better opportunity for me to be successful in life."

Booker's father Russ is proud of his son.

"He's always been a good kid, got good grades, and loved playing sports," Russ said. "He's excelled in about everything he's ever done and I'm sure he'll do that in the Army too."

His wife Victoria agreed.

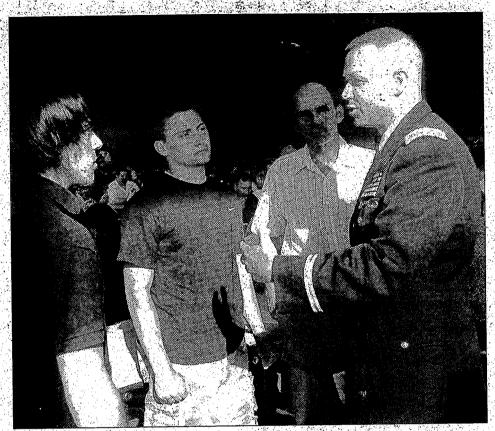

"It's a load off our mind," she said. "He'll be set and he's worked hard to get there."

Horowitz who played lacrosse, said it was a "big relief" knowing most of college was paid for.

"I figured it was a good way to pay for my college and have a sound career after college," he said. "I learned I could become an officer and get officer benefits/payments with the ROTC and figured that would be the best way to go."

Horowitz father Jon said he was "extremely proud" of his son's accomplishments.

"The recruiter told us there were 60 applicants at Central for the ROTC scholarship and he (Matt) was one of a handful of people that got it, I thought that was pretty cool," Jon said. "I'm very excited for him. I think he's got his whole future ahead of him."

Budgettalk

from fund equity was only being done on paper.

"When I first got it I was a little timid and concerned, I had a long conversation with Steve. I wanted to make sure we weren't going to back ourselves in a corner with someone thinking that we were suggesting we continue with the Clarkston Police for one more year, fund them by borrowing $80,000 from fund equity," Brueck said. "I would not support that, I would quit before I supported that."

Arkwright said if the budget proposal on the ballot fails, the city will more than likely keep the millage rate at it's current level of 13.1978 and contract with the OCSD.

"I would suspect this council on our first meeting in August would do a budget reconciliation that night based on the outcome of the election.

On the expense side, the majority of listings stayed the same or was reduced. However, increases in expenditures from 2010 include city hall by approximately $45,000, police went up 13,000, DPW gets an increase of $8,000 and highways/streets/bridges increase by $23,000. Total expenses went for $813,607 to $829,713.

Resident and former councilman Cory Johnston questioned why there was even a public hearing if the budget, which was presented, wasn't going to be used, because in August there will be other budgets.

"I could ask questions about this budget, but why would I bother if this is not a budget that will ever get used," Johnston said. "I'm wasting my time and your time for asking questions about something that I don't know what numbers are going to change with budget A or B, so what's the public hearing for?"

However, Township Attorney Tom Ryan disagreed, the public hearing and the budget was useless.

"The problem is we don't know what's going to happen on August 3 and until or unless that happens the only thing this council can deal with is the facts that exist today and those facts are number one we have a millage rate of 13.1979 and B we have our own police department," Ryan said. "The council did not act precipicely by disbanding the police department before the vote because they don't know that's going to happen. If it does happen then the police department will be off the table and that will occur."

Arkwright said budget amendments are "very common."

"Budgets are amended all the time, they're a road map. The environment changes as you get through the year and you have to adapt to it and that's all that's being done here," he said. "We have to take the current situation apply a budget and when we find out new information we'll update it and revise it to show the then current situation.".

Help for homeowners

When Renea L. Huth of Clarkston says Project Helpers home improvement services work, she speaks from experience.

"I had a really bad experience with my own home improvement contracts last summer it was a nightmare," Huth said.

Looking for solutions, she learned about Project Helpers, a subsidiary of C&L Ward Brothers home improvement company.

'I thought it was something that could really help," she said.

She looked into it further, and joined the company this past January as corporate trainer, in charge of expanding its Neighborhood Marketing team throughout Oakland County:

Their job is to link homeowners looking for professional improvement work with the right service providers.

Project Helpers screens each provider, checking for licenses, insurance, and history of high-quality work.

"We stand behind service providers and customers so both can be confident their project will be successful," Huth said. "It's a win-win."

Lady Wolves take seventh during the state finals

Katie Brozovich hits the ball in Midland.

BY WENDIREARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

Kristina Lucas and Katie Brozovich faced their emotions as they played against opponents they knew too well,

Lucas made it to the championship round in Singles #3 at MHSAA state finals for tennis after defeating Ann Arbor Pioneer in a tie

Then she came face-to-face with her best friend Sara Carlson from Novi High School at Midland Tennis Center.

"We both wanted each other to win," said Lucas, "It was hard to finish it out because I didn't want her to lose, but I wanted me to win."

Lucas focused on her goal she had set for herself - she was going to be champion like her sister Alyssa did in 2004.

"She was very determined," said Coach Becky Freeman. "She played great. She ran like no other. Kristina's style is very nonchalant and she was really running."

Lucas defeated Carlson, 6-3, 6-4.

"When she beat her, she was crying and apologizing," said Freeman. "It was a double edge sword that she would have to take the state title from her friend."

Lucas and Carlson hugged after the match and celebrated each other's great finish -Lucas as champion and Carlson as runner-up.

"It's cool we both made it that far," said

Brozovich faced her cousin, Rae from Port Huron Northern in Singles #2 in her first match for the finals. She beat her 6-1, 6-0 for the first time the two have played each other.

Katie continued to beat two more foes, including a battle against Saline's Mary Hanna. Both had won a set and had tied the third set.

"She battled," said Freeman.

Katie won the third set 7-6 (6) and went into the championship round against Andrea Calhoun from Midland Dow.

Katie lost the first set 6-0 and won the sec-

Both were tied in the final set at five. Calhoun pulled ahead to win the championship, 7-5.

Katie finished runner up and lost her first match for the season.

The team finished in seventh place with 14 points, missing sixth place by one points and fourth by three points.

"They did very well," said Freeman.

Gabby Spindler in Singles #1 and Abbey Hubreson in Singles #4 went 1-1 during the "Abbey would have done better," said Freeman, "Based on the draw she played the #1 seed in her second round. She could have beat a ton of the other girls if she hadn't played her. Some of the draws were tough."

Double teams Erica Zentner and Jordan, Monique Zentner and Alaina Nido, and Anna Gencoy and Amy Wozniak lost their first

Kelsev Crawford and Allie Wilson won their first round against Troy-Athens, 7-0, 7-6 (3). They lost the next round to Northville, 6-0,

After Clarkston's performance talk has already began between other teams the Lady Wolves is who to look out for next spring.

The majority of the team is back next year after three seniors graduated on June 7 and incoming freshman Lexi Baylis will start on

"We are looking forward to next year," she said. "Being better and stronger for another season."

Athlete of the Week

BY WENDLREARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

A goal was etched in Kristina Lucas' mind while she prepared and headed to the state finals.

She was going to bring home the championship in Singles #3 like her sister Alyssa. She battled throughout the two days in Midland and came back fulfilling her goal.

"It felt really good," said Lucas. "I was really scared and nervous but excited to win like my sister.

She faced tough opponents including Jennifer Liu from Ann Arbor Pioneer, who she hadn't beat before, and Sara Carlson from Novi, her best friend.

Going against Liu was a long match lasting three and a half hours when both tied with winning one set each.

'Kristina won the last match and it was a good match," said mom, Lisa.

"I always knew I could beat her," Kristina admitted. "I lost to her last year we split sets I was so fired but I had to push myself for another half hour.

Another push were the cheers coming from the sidelines.

'She had really great support from her teammates and parents from Clarkston," said Lisa.

"When I came off I was kind of upset. I was so tired," said Kristina between her sets against Liu. "Mr.(Marc) Spindler came up to me during break and told me to go have fun while I was out there, to try my best and I did. It wasn't easier, but better."

Her sister was also on the sidelines rooting for Kristina.

'She was cheering her on big time,' said Lisa. "She told me 'I don't know how you have done this all these years. I feel like I am going to be sick right now. I am so neryous because I want her to win so bad.""

Kristina also beat her best friend, Carlson. When they intially saw the draw both thought it would be neat if they met in the finals.

"We both wanted each other to win. It was hard to finish it out because I didn't want her to lose but I wanted me to win,

She is now playing for United States Tennis Association before her senior seabut they were really close matches. When son for Clarkston begins. She is trying to get her Midwest ranking back up.

'I had it really high when I was 14, but then I let it drop because I wasn't playing a lot of tournaments," she said.

She is researching colleges to go to in 2011. Though her grades are already good. she plans to raise them a little higher.

Lucas reigns on the court

Kristina is also looking for colleges with an art program.

'I like art a lot," she said. "I started late in art but always like it. I would like to go to art school but they don't have tennis.

Kristina has played tennis since she was a little girl. Her dad already played and got her and Alyssa started in it.

"Then my sister started playing tournaments and I started playing tournaments," Kristina admitted. "My sister is now playing in college so I am kind of following in her footprints.

After college she plans to play for fun and not professional.

"It's a cool life, but not for me," she shared.

She also enjoys swimming and hanging

Kristina loves a lot of things," said Lisa. "She has a lot of fun with everything she is doing. She works hard, but she plays hard."

receive everyday are from des-perate people complaining about dust. They tell me they dust the T.V. on Friday, but by Sunday they are pushing the dust out of the way again so they can watch "Desperate Housewives", and none of them know exactly where it's comingfrom. Well, I'm here to tell you that it's not because you're a bad housekeeper, I tell people that simply having your ducts cleaned will drastically reduce household dust, and the reason is, your cold air returns.

Cold air returns suck in dirty air, and over time it builds up until you have the same type of debris that you would find in your vacuum bag.

Visit our website www.americanpowervac.com for an actual photo of the debris that is pulled from a typical home. Cold air returns are also reason new the homeowners experiencing dust. While your drywall was being sanded, your cold air returns sucked all of the dust through the system and it settled on the bottom of the duct lines, where a little at a time gets blown back into your home. To prove it, take a walk down into your basement, look up at the ceiling for thin sheets of tin nailed between your floor joists. These are your cold air return lines. Give them a good pounding. You'll see puffs of dust seeping out of the edges. That, my

I'm Keith Meadows, owner and friends, is the reason you have uncontrollable dust problems!

This debris cannot be removed without professional. . Which brings me to my next point: choosing an air duct cleaning company. Most companies use portable units, which are like a shop vac that would you vacuum your car with, obviously absolutely useless. Then there companies who claim they have a truck-mounted system. In reality, they have a low powered portable system attached inside a van, again, absolutely useless. Visit our website for photos of our equipment vs. portable or truck mounted equipment at www.americanpowervac.com.

American Power Vac has the equipment that is powerful enough to get the job done right and that equipment is a Power Vac truck. It is the powerful most equipment in industry. This is where the entire truck is the vacuum and the truck motor powers the equipment. You'll know it's a Power Vac truck because it's the size of an ambulance and when engaged twelve large air bags will come out of the roof. What makes the difference in equipment?

Power! To put things into perspective, your furnace moves 2,000 CFM's (cubic feet of air per minute), basically what you feel coming out of your register. Truck-mounted equipment only moves 4,000 CFM's. American Power Vac moves over 16,000 cubic feet of air per minute, more than quadruple the power of any truckmounted equipment. Beware of companies using cheap equipment and advertising cheap prices... most are unlicensed or advertise that they are licensed and are not!

Wolves claim second place in league finals

BY WENDIREARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

Hitters fought through the hot and humid Saturday for their chance to grab the MHSAA Regional title.

Both Clarkston and Rochester Adams made it to the final round at Oxford after each defeated OAA foes in the semifinals.

Adams took the lead at the bottom of the first inning scoring two runs.

A team effort from Clarkston brought the Wolves into the lead.

Chris Mocerino hit a home run bringing in two runs. A few more key hits from Chase Toth and Matt Rodgers brought the boys to 5-2. Adams took their lead back, scoring four runs at their turn at bat in the second.

"I think that took a lot of wind out of our sail," said Wolves Head Coach Phil Price.

The Highlanders claimed the regional title after finishing the game, 7-5.

'I don't think we played our best baseball for the season but our boys competed and bounced back. Sometimes in baseball you don't always have your good stuff," said Price. "I am proud of the kids. They did well."

Matt Rodgers pitched, trying to keep Adams in the dugout.

"Matt has been our bull dog all year. When he pitched well we had a good chance of winning. It just wasn't his game," said Price.

The boys beat Avondale High School in the semi-finals, 9-8.

"Jarrett Coy pitched a great game for us," said Price. "He gave us a chance at the end. Tyler Scarlett came in and relieved us."

But really standing out was Andrew

"He had a torn ACL and he wanted to go out there and pitch," said Price. "He did a great job for us."

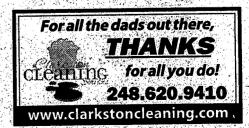

Toth batted 3-for-3, had two triples and two RBIs at the leading hitter.

The Wolves finished the season with an overall record, 22-9. They finished in second place in the OAA Red league with a 9-5 record.

Scarlett, Mocerino, Rodgers and Coy were named All-League for the season.

The team loses eight seniors and will see a lot of the team back next year ready for more.

"The experience of playing regionals and winning districts will help them," said Price. We wanted that for a while. It's been a while since we won our league and that will be our main focus. We will go from there."

Local Girl Scouts go for Gold (Awards)

BYLEAHYANUSZESKI

Lake Orion Review Intern

A Clarkston High School senior, along with two seniors from Lake Orion High School and one from Notre Dame, received the highest honor one can receive from being a scout. No, not the coveted 'Eagle Scout' honor awarded to Boy Scouts. Instead, these four Girl Scouts recently received the Gold Award—the final chapter in their Girl Scout career.

Julia Vela of Clarkston, Nicole Kudla and Laura Hessen of Lake Orion, and Jenny Vyskocil from Notre Dame High School added a gold pin to their vests at a May 2 banquet symbolizing their completion of a lengthy service project, ending with the Gold Award. The project's subject, decided by the girls, discussed the dangers of abusing prescription drugs and the growing recreational drug usage of normally doctor-prescribed medications. The girls logged over sixty hours throughout the project's duration. Job shadowing and over 160 hours of community service was involved as well. "It's kinda like homework," said Hessen.

A four-year-long homework assignment, to be correct. Troop 175 started the Gold Award project four years ago, however the four girls mentioned above were the only ones to continue with the lengthy service project. The girls got the idea from the increase in deaths due to abuse of prescription drugs. Hessen described one of the main motivators for this topic—a 'pharm party.'

"You take a bunch of meds and dump them together, and you take whatever, and you don't know what's what," she said.

Raising awareness and letting parents know about the dangers, the girls said, was the project's overall goal. The finished product, titled 'Stay Off the Pharm,' included a video, produced by and starring the four scouts. "We interviewed someone from Star EMS, a pharmacist, and a school nurse," explains Vela.

Vela and Vyskocil have been in Girl Scouts for eight years, Hessen for twelve, and Kudla for thirteen. All agreed to be relieved to have the work done, after staying with Girl Scouts for so long. "It was definitely worth it," states Kudla. The four recipients of the Gold Award receive a 'Membership for Life' to the Girl Scouts.

The four girls, along with troop Leader Mary DeWitt, reflected on their years in Girl Scouts. The five took a 'farewell trip' to Savannah, Georgia and saw where Girl Scouts first began. The troop also held two Lock-Ins for other Girl Scouts, as well as trips to Mackinac Island and Cedar Point. "I feel truly fortunate to be a part of such an important and awarding program," comments Vela. The girls plan to continue being a part of Girl Scouts, even though their Gold Awards signified their completion as a Girl Scouts.

Boy Scouts earn Eagle

Boy Scout Carson Johnston, Troop 199 of Clarkston, was awarded his Eagle Scout at a May 22 Court of Honor.

In Boy Scouts, Carson was a Scout, Tenderfoot, Second Class, First Class, Star and Life Scout. He earned 33 merit badges, served in several leadership positions, won the World Conservation Award and the American Trails Gold medal. He also earned the Jimmy Stewart Leadership Award.

In scout service to his community, Carson volunteered more than 500 hours, assisting in nursing homes, homeless shelters, food pantries, the neighborhood elderly, a tutor for younger children, environmental projects, trash clean ups and recycling.

His 2009-2010 Eagle Project collected more than 1,000 pounds of dog and cat food for the Oakland County animal shelter. He planned the project, carried out marketing and led a team of scouts and community volunteers. Carson and his friends worked more than 220 hours to complete the project and want to make it into a yearly campaign.

Carson is a 2010 graduate of Notre Dame Preparatory in Pontiac. He is headed to college later this year at Grand Valley State. He, along with his brother Alan are the third generation of Boy Scouts in the Johnston fam-

Bible offers insight into relationship with God

Spiritual

Matters

Cheryl Smith

Let's pretend that you have never heard of the Bible. Someone hands you a copy and lends it to you promising that it's "a really good read."

It's summer, and you have the time, so you settle down with a tall glass of lemonade and open the book...

"In the beginning..." What a lovely start, you think. Almost as good as "once upon a time."

Clearly this has all the indications of a good novel. By the time you get to the Book of Leviticus, though, you're ready to put an end to this investment of your time since your eyes have grown bleary with all the prescriptions, legal language and unfamiliar obligations that seem to be being imposed upon the people in the story.

It's starting to read more like a textbook, so you put it down. The end.

Now let's pretend that you do know something about the Bible.

You know that it isn't a novel, something meant to be picked up and read from beginning to end, necessarily.

It's a collection of books, with many litthors were gifted with the spiritual insight necessary to reveal truth by writing in a style that appealed to the people of the Want a funny short. story? Try the Book of Jonah.

Want to read a really good debate? Look to the Book of Job.

How about some religious history? Move toward the center of the collection and read through the Book of Kings.

Letters? No one did it better than Paul.

Poetry? Try Psalms.

Even myth, understood correctly, as an imaginative and symbolic story about a reality that is beyond our comprehension, is present in the book of Genesis.

Knowing something about the Bible opens us up to understanding something about mystery.

The Bible reveals a two-thousand-year rience and on the significance of their experience in the context of their relationship with God. And to make it even more interesting, these insights increased as the years went by.

This makes a lot of sense to me and helps me put in perspective some of the stories, especially in the Old Testament, that don't necessarily put God in the greatest light.

Reading the Bible with an understanding of the beliefs of the people of the time, an understanding of the type of literature I am reading, and knowing that the Bible developed as a process of revelation is a big help. Back to that lemonade.

When read as a collection, the Bible becomes your own personal banquet of inspiration!

And so, I return to the beginning and the truth revealed in the book of Genesis, that everything that exists is here because a loving God created it.

Lately I've been pondering this truth and have come to the rather blatant reality that this includes everyone, including me! Rather obvious, you might say, but I would erary forms from which to choose its au- process of people reflecting on their expe- counter that at times we sell ourselves short and forget how special we really are in God's eyes.

I've also centered on the word "beginning" and allowed it to work upon myheart. Have you ever considered that beginnings and endings seem to blend to the point where it's hard to know which is

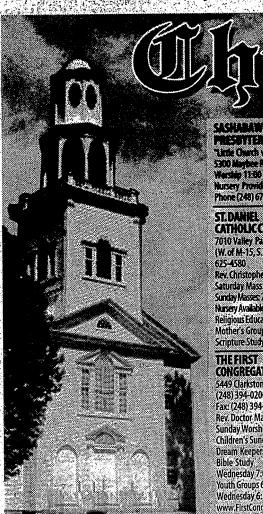

This is the last article I'll write for the Clarkston News since I'm ending my position at St. Daniel.

Thanks to all of you who have not only inspired me, but have affirmed me in this work. But sometimes endings are stirred into being by beginnings, and this is the case for me.

I'll continue to write because I have faith that this a Godly purpose for my life. Where it will lead I can only imagine, but I find comfort in the words of Jesus at the end of Matthew's gospel, "I am with you always, until the end of the age."

Have a great summer, and happy read-

'To date, several hundred people have taken advantage of the PMAC Intro Pilot/Learn to Fly program," Demster said. "Many of these people have become club members and are enjoying the sport of flying radio controlled aircraft.'
