Market marks summer start

BY TREVOR KEISER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The parking lot was packed behind Clarkston Mills Mall, Saturday, as people from all over enjoyed the start of summer with Clarkston Farmers' Market.

"Today we have about 30 vendors, which is really good for this part of the season because there isn't a lot that's ready in Michigan now," said Market Manager Anissa Howard on Saturday.

Vendors sold fresh cut flowers and potted plants, strawberries, garlic tops, homemade sauces and noodles, Alpaca and Llama fibers, organic coffee eggs, and other items. The market also hosted professional photographers and a masseuse.

"An orchard came and they wanted to come back and do cider slushies, and in the cold months they'll bring hot cider and drinks," Howard said.

Market volunteer Joe Wauldron said they started off last year with around 12 vendors and had maxed out the summer with 45.

"Last year at the beginning of the market we tried to do a little flower show. It didn't excite anybody, so this year we just tried to just throw it out there and see what happens. Look what happened," he said. "We got a good, good turnout."

The market is open Saturdays from 8 a.m. to noon.

Suspects sought in armed robberies

Investigation continues into two armed robberies in Independence Township, both happening the same morning.

At 9:50 a.m., June 14, a suspect approached a clerk at the Sunoco gas station on M-15 north of I-75, saying he had a bomb in his pocket.

"That's the first use of a bomb threat in a robbery that I've heard of," said Det. Sgt. Matt Baldes, Independence Township Substation, Oakland County Sheriff's Office.

The suspect is described as a 25-30 year old man, white, about 6-feet-tall, wearing a white shirt with blue and yellow stripes and plaid shorts, beige fedora hat with dark-colored hat band. He fled north on foot. A sheriff K-9 unit tracked the suspect for about 100 yards, ending at Amy Drive where it appeared the suspect got into a vehicle.

Security video from the gas station is being reviewed, and investigation continues.

A hour-and-a-half after that robbery, two boys, 12 and 14, were reportedly approached by an armed robber at Bridgewater Apartments, at Sashabaw and Maybee Roads.

They were heading to McDonalds at 11:20 a.m.,

June 14, when they were approached by a man in his mid 20s, 6-foot-2-inches, Black or Hispanic, with scraggy beard, possibly a mustache, black dress shoes, black dress pants, and a black hoodie.

He said he had a gun and threatened to shoot them, and took a cell phone and cash. A witness saw the boys running away, called police, and tried unsuccessfully to find the suspect. A sheriff K-9 unit tracked the suspect but lost the scent in the parking lot in the southwest end of the apartment complex.

"It's an unusual thing, to rob two kids," Baldes said. "We're looking into a few leads."

Call the substation at 248-620-4970 to report any information in connection with these cases.

Clean slate in store for former lumberyard

The former lumberyard in downtown Davisburg is set to be cleared of all structures.

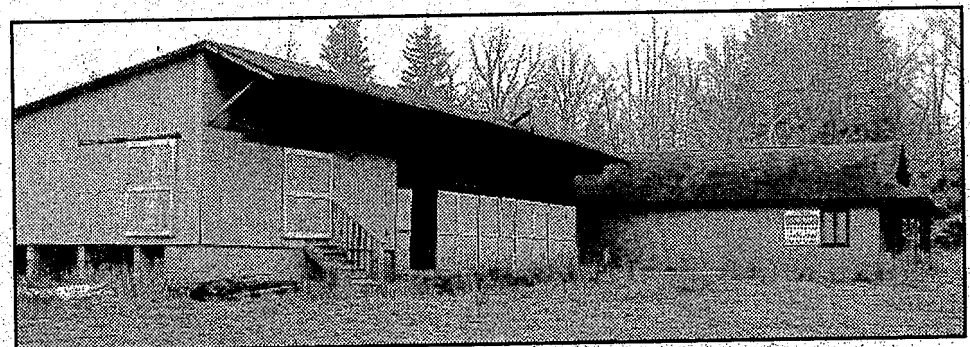

"The structure is ready to collapse - I'm glad we took it over," said Springfield Township Clerk Laura Moreau. "It's in everyone's best interest."

The Township Board contracted with Rogers Excavating of Springfield Township to demolish all four buildings at the site, Broadway and Andersonville roads, and remove foundations and concrete pads, cost not to exceed $12,000.

"Make it a clean slate, remove everything so it will be safe," said township Supervisor Mike Trout. "That's the best approach, with the most flexibility."

The township is looking into a new community septic system at the location, with a preliminary design this fall, Trout said.

"A new septic system would allow downtown businesses access to a fully functional system, improving their business," he said.

The system, possibly funded by a special assessment, would include collection pipes, treatment system, and septic field, he said.

"There are a lot of different types of treatment system - we're looking at several," he said. "We're in the preliminary phase, and aren't looking to move fast. The system's failing, though, so the sooner we do it, the better off we'll be."

The township purchased the 3.3 acre property this past March for $125,000.

"This has been a great year, lots of fun," said Michelle Bennett, camp director with Mary Schleusener. "The girls cooked in their units using stoves and fire pits, making mac and cheese, walking crab tacos, and pizza."

The 142 Clarkston and Holly scouts, along with 39 camp counselors and staff, and 35 adult volunteers, also had a food drive to benefit Lighthouse Emergency Services.

"School's out, but kids still need food," Bennett said.

Hoping for best in school search

Right at the beginning of Clarkston's search for a new superintendent, and some signs are less than encouraging.

Reporter Wendi Reardon sent an e-mail to school board members asking about the timeline for the search, and what they want in a superintendent.

These aren't difficult questions. I, for one, would look for a slavish devotion to education, open communication, and common sense, with a can-do, no-whining attitude.

I expected our e-mail box to be filled with trustees' insightful responses. What we received was one e-mail from board President Steve Hyer.

And it seemed a bit testy.

"You were at the meeting when we discussed this," he wrote.

Wendi brought up the possibility of sharing the job search with Waterford School District to save costs, which is also looking for a superintendent. Hyer dismissed it.

"The Board of Education expressed great interest in being very serious about this process to find the right individual for Clarkston," he said. "We want to make this a long term appointment and not a quick fix. We are confident the process we will be firming up will be an excellent process yielding excellent results in providing us with a superintendent that can innovatively lead us into the future."

This is not a good sign.

Too much about "process." And don't voters elect the school board to "lead us into the future?"

This response, and the lack of others, indicates trustees are holding their cards close. A debate is coming over what kind of chief administrator Clarkston gets next — one exactly the same, or something new.

In a discussion on the Clarkston News' Facebook page, a commentator pointed out Austin Intermediate School District spent $192,000 on a superintendent search ("Holey buckets!" we replied). They paid a search fee of $42,000, but then an additional $150,000 in legal fees to fight open record lawsuits associated with the hire of our new superintendent.

All school business should be public, open for all to see. The search for a new superintendent should be that and more.

Keep police to avoid merger

Dear Editor,

When citizens approve a millage for the police department, it is generally for the purpose of maintaining or increasing police protection.

I must add that Clarkston is Main Street and the police have done a good job of regulating traffic on Main Street.

For Clarkston, the police controls crime and traffic but they also help give Clarkston an identity, an independence.

If Clarkston were to merge with Independence Township, the township would burp and Clarkston would be digested by it.

The police department is really an anti-merger factor. If Clarkston loses her police department, there is one less reason to remain a city.

If a merger occurred, the township would control zoning and planning and all things that make Clarkston what it is today.

Can one imagine this township board or any township board governing Clarkston?

The current township board belongs on Saturday Night Live, not governing Clarkston.

Letter to the editor

The plot thickened. Bread ties, II

So the other week I went against all things safe.

I broke out and tattled on a powerful secret society — the secret bread baker society, the SBBS. I rattled them out and what they wanted suppressed and kept hidden from honest, God-fearing Americans like yourselves. Fearing not for my safety, only caring that the truth got out, I reported on their sacredest of secrets.

Wrote I, "And, while I know I didn't just fall out of the turnip truck yesterday, when did bread tie colors start meaning something?"

"I always figured bread bakers just ordered a bunch of bread bag twisty-thingies and used whatever color was available. Now, I hear the color of the tie, means what day the bread was baked.

"And, if you break the color code, you'll be able to buy only the freshest of loaves. . . According to the 'net . . . bread bakers use different colored ties for different days, this helps the bread stocker know when to take older bread off the shelves."

Well . . . that was wrong. I jumped the gun, didn't double-check my sources; I broke no clandestine knowledge. Which may explain why I am still alive today.

Ever the reporter, I pushed on, infiltrated the society and found somebody willing, on the condition of anonymity, to speak. He approached me in an ill-lit and deserted parking garage. It was dark when "K-Man" came out of hiding. Standing in the shadows, so I couldn't see his face, he told me the horrible truth which I am about to share with you.

In a voice gravely from too many years of smoking cheap cigars, this he said, "The colors represent the 'pull date' on the bread.

"Don't be a chump, the colors ain't about the bake date. It ain't nothin' to do about no freshness. It's all a ploy, see, to make it easier for them on the inside. See, different colors mean different days which are different per distributor. Capisce?"

"By the dumb look on your Mick face, you ain't connectin' the dots. Example: yellow ties are put out on Monday, to be pulled on Thursday. Black ties are for Tuesday to be pulled Friday. Blue ties are for special orders like Saturday.

"Don't you get it? The color ties are for the breadman. Not the consumer."

An orange flicker from a wooden match briefly illuminated the hatchet face man who had spilled the beans. Soon a billowing cloud of stale tobacco smoke obscured my vision, and "K-Man" turned and lumbered away. As I watched, the trail of smoke behind him grow faint. About 20 yards away, he yelled back stressing his vocal cords, "And you didn't get this particular knowledge from me. Watch your back, word slinger."

Then he was gone.

And while a Don-sized Wonderbread bag coffin, may still be in my future, it comes with the job. So thus ends the mystery of the bread bag ties, I hope you all feel better for knowing the "truth."

There were prejudices, there will always be such

Because I've always rooted for the American League in All-Star and league championship baseball games I'm prejudiced.

And I see nothing to be gained by having the leagues play each other during the summer. The Pittsburgh Pirates were in Comerica Park recently to play the Detroit Tigers.

Some friends bought tickets to see the Tigers play a month ago, never thinking a National League team would be the opponent. They went because they love the Tigers, and they had spent their money, but they wished another American League team was playing.

This arrangement came out of league headquarters some years ago. More recently, the league management decided it was a good idea to recognize the old Negro League. The Tigers celebrated that with a game last week. But, how do you think that made Cabrera, Rodriguez, Hernandez, etc. feel? The leagues better come up with more recognition games.

There probably is money in it. Money is behind everything, isn't it?

Or, are these social movements to keep an equality? Or, is it a political statement showing fairness and love?

Or, is it just one of the continuing moves to try to eliminate prejudice?

Don't show any bias. Keep in the middle of the road. Be noncommittal. Act like Jello. Be bland.

You will probably never be as happy as when you spoke out against a politician, car company, the media, a tv show, worms, spiders and other creepy things in government.

This is what comes to mind sometimes when I'm being asked for donations. A recent 10-year study of 13,000 phone users by 21 researchers organized by the World Health Organization's International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) proved inconclusive.

However, since no conclusion was reached more money is needed for more research. The 2000 to 2010 study reported no definite links between cellphones and cancer.

Jim's Jottings

a column by Jim Sherman

I'm sure the IARC leaders will find more money to continue the study, because, dam'it, there just has to be a link!

'You're on candid camera'

Drunk driving with cell phone

A Brandon Township driver watched a Porsche cross the center line of Sashabaw Road, 10:48 p.m., June 12, swerved to the right, but was sideswiped. The Porsche driver, a 46-year-old Independence Township man, tried to drive away but didn't get far because his left front tire ripped off in the collision. He said he had dropped his cell phone and crossed the center line as he was retrieving it. With a blood alcohol level of .096, he was arrested for drunk driving.

Stealing spree

Thieves broke into several vehicle parked in the 4000 block of Fox Creek, June 16. The thief used some sort of tool to pry open one windshield, which shattered, leaving some broken glass covered in blood. An iPod and disc golf set was taken from another vehicle. A Jeep locked in a car port had its plastic side window cut and stereo pried out from the dashboard. Police found drops of blood in the Jeep. The driver's side window was smashed in a parked car, with its stereo pried out and taken. Police found an iPod in the car, which didn't belong to the car's owner. It was taken for evidence.

No tailgates no party

Pickup truck tailgates were taken, June 11, from vehicles parked at the Sashabaw Road Park and Ride at I-75, and a parking lot in the 7000 block of Sashabaw Road.

Easy grab for MP3 player

An MP3 player was taken from an unlocked vehicle parked in the 6000 block of Church Street, June 14.

Pursed off

A purse was taken from an unlocked minivan parked in the 6000 block of Church Street, June 14. The purse was found across the street with all its contents lying next to it except for an iPod.

Purse snapper strikes again

Residents found a purse with its contents all over their yard, June 14, in the 6000 block of Townview Drive. The purse's owner, who had left it in an unlocked car, reported $20 missing.

Bud out the window

A deputy stopped a 36-year-old Waterford Township woman for throwing a cigarette from her driver's side window, 10:20 p.m., June 14, on the I-75 exit ramp to Dixie Highway. She didn't have an ashtray, she explained. She did have a Friend of the Court warrant for child neglect out of Genesee County. She was arrested on the warrant, cited for driving with a suspended license, and given a warning for littering.

Lights on lights off

A neighbor reported lights turning on and off all night in an unoccupied condo in the 5000 block of Windward Court, June 16. Its realtor found no sign of forced entry and rooms all empty, but a key was missing from its key box.

Brand new season for Clarkston Farmers' Market

Wauldron said they would have over 500 people come through the market, which is good for opening day. The average is around 1,200-1,500, but they have had a high of 2,000.

"If anyone wants to see what the market is like, we're running a CPAC PSA (Clarkston Public Access Center Public Service Announcement) on channel 10 and 20," he said. "It's short blurb about the market itself from last year."

Howard also said the "Radio Flyer" wagons are for shoppers to use especially when heavier items such as watermelons and cantaloupes come in. She also said dogs are allowed in the market, but farmers have asked the dogs not be brought in the booths or allowed near the food.

Wauldron noted it's a political season, too, but they are asking politicians to keep to the parking lot.

"If people want to come in and do their bit with their political signs and stuff like that they need to be off in the parking lot some place passing out the literature," he said. "They cannot come into the market trying to support themselves for votes."

At last year's market, they also collected

over 430 bicycles to send to Ghana.

"They all got into that big shipping container and they made it to Ghana at the end of February," Howard said. "They went to six different villages and really provided farmers all kinds of access to their fields on Ghana, and also medical workers to be able to go back and forth."

Photos will be up on their new website, which they're hoping to redo soon, so they can put up farmer's profiles with pictures. This will provide shoppers with a list of who will be at the market.

Howard said she feels great the market is in its sixth season.

"I think it's difficult to run the market. All of us have other full-time jobs or other commitments in our lives, but we seem to get a lot of really good feedback. We see it when we get all the new people signing up and the people are returning each year," she said. "It's a good indication it's working. It feels good down here and we keep returning. We have a great core, really solid core of volunteers. We're always looking for people but we have a really solid core."

To volunteer, e-mail the market at info@clarkstonfarmersmarket.org or e-mail Joe Wauldron at joe3204@comcast.net. For more information, call 248-821-4769 or visit www.clarkstonfarmersmarket.org.

"There are people to thank like the Bob and Peggy Roth (Clarkston Mills owners) who donate this property for us to use once a week during the summer time," Howard said. "That's really great and gives the farmers' market a home."

The 2010 season opened July 19 and runs through Oct. 9.

The market is closed July 3 for Fourth of July celebrations, and Sept. 18 for Historical Society's Art in the Village.

Icers back on the rink

BY WENDI REARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

Austin Morse and Brad Pizzey are getting out their ice skates as they head to the Meijer State Games of Michigan this weekend.

The two Wolves were selected to play for the South regional team, one of the eight hockey teams to compete for Gold, Silver and Bronze medals at the Olympic-style games.

"I was really excited because I would be playing with the best players around the state of Michigan," said Morse.

Pizzey was also excited when he heard the news he had been selected.

"I wanted to go to the tournament right then because I was really anxious to start playing again," he said.

Both had been approached by Clarkston Varsity Hockey Coach Bryan Krygier to tryout.

"I think it is a good opportunity for them to play against the best high school hockey players in the state," Krygier said.

"They are talented. They have good skills. They are disciplined and how they present themselves is a big part of it as well," he added. "I think they are going to contribute on the scoreboard as well."

Both will assist in their main positions - Morse as a forward and Pizzey as a right wing.

Morse and Pizzey have played hockey since they were young kids.

"When I started playing I didn't expect to play in an Olympic-type setting like the state games," admitted Morse. "I just played for fun."

"This is definitely one of the highlights of my hockey career," said Pizzey. "A lot of scouts will be there. It could get me onto a junior team or something like that."

They had practice during the weekend and a scrimmage to get ready for this weekend.

"It's going to be stiff competition," admitted Pizzey. "I am going to do my best."

"It's going to be a really good competition," added Morse. "Each team is going to be equally as strong. It's going to be a lot of fun."

Morse begins his senior year at Clarkston High School in the fall and is already thinking about his future.

"It would be nice to play college hockey," he said. "But if nothing comes around I will stick with my academic studies."

He plans to go to either the University of Michigan or Michigan State to study Bio-Chemistry or Pre-Medicine.

Pizzey is a junior in the fall and will continue to work on his game for the winter season.

Both will have their parents, Bob and Stacy

Pizzey and Randy and Susan Morse, cheering them on at Van Andel Arena in Grand Rapids at the games.

Thirty-one states are conducting or organizing statewide sports festivals known as the Meijer State Games.

The event is a Olympic-style multi-sport festival reflecting the Olympic ideals of sportsmanship, fairplay, perseverance and respect among athletes.

This is the first year for the Meijer State Games of Michigan and they offering athletes 15 sports to compete in. More than 90 sports are offered nationwide.

Like the Olympics, the State Games of Michigan will have a Parade of Athletes, Lighting of the Cauldron and experience great entertainment.

The opening ceremony is Friday at 7 p.m.

The games are held Saturday and Sunday at Van Andel Arena in Grand Rapids.

The semi-final games are scheduled for 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Saturday. The final game is Sunday at 2 p.m.

Tickets are available through Ticketmaster for $15 for adult, $10 for children ages 2-12, free for children under two.

Athlete of the Week

Hasselbach adds one more title

BY WENDI REARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

Just call Taylor Hasselbach Miss Softball because she was selected from players throughout Michigan for the award.

"I was really happy," she said, hearing the news on Saturday. "I feel excited all of my hard work in high school paid off."

The Clarkston High School 2010 graduate was named Miss Softball by Michigan High School Softball Coaches Association.

"It's well-deserved," said Don Peters, head coach for Clarkston Varsity Girls Softball. "She is one of the best softball players I have seen in the last four years."

Hasselbach played short stop and third base for the Lady Wolves. But she is mostly known for tearing up the diamond as the leading hitter throughout the season.

During her high school career she maintained a .569 batting average and had 241 hits which included 58 doubles, 23 triples and 35 homeruns. She also accumulated 206 RBIs throughout her four years on the varsity team. She had a .950 fielding average.

Other honors include All-State during her last three years, and All-County and All-League every season during her four years at Clarkston High School.

"My dedication, help from my teammates and coaches helped a lot," she admitted.

She will join other seniors All-State players in the MHSSCA's All-Star game on July 21 in Lansing.

Hasselbach plays travel softball during the summer. She leaves for University of Michigan in August, where she has accepted a scholarship to play.

Each of the four softball divisions nominates one senior player as a Position player and a Pitcher for Miss Softball. The nominations go to the Miss Softball Committee.

Hasselbach represented Division 1 and the three divisions were represented by Mount Pleasant, Allen Park and Petersburg Summerfield. The winner for Pitcher was Chelsea Sundberg from Olivet.

Her parents are Lisa and Todd.

Leg Pain? Back Pain??

Having back and leg pain can bring life to a standstill.

You might not be able to play golf, work, or even sit in the car for a 30-minute drive. It's almost impossible for anyone around you to understand how you feel. You can't remember the last time you even had a restful night's sleep.

When cushions in your back joints, called discs, get injured or wear out, they begin to degenerate and cause pain. Bulging and herniations begin to form, pressing on the nerve roots.

The most common invasive treatment for disc herniations is surgery. Even with health insurance the patient is left with their own portion of the bill, in excess of $10,000-$15,000, and sometimes more.

In addition, the recovery time and missed work can be anywhere from 3 to 6 months, not to mention the obvious severe risks associated with all surgeries.

Before You Go Under The Knife And Opt For Spinal Surgery...

You should seriously consider a less invasive approach to solving your back pain and sciatica.

SPINAL DECOMPRESSION has a long track record in helping people with sciatica and back pain. Here's what a study said about spinal decompression therapy...

"spinal decompression therapy reported a success rate of 76.5% with complete remission of pain and disability," -Rio Grande Hospital, Department of Neurosurgery

The conditions this amazing treatment has proven successful for are:

- Herniated and/or bulging discs
- Degenerative disc disease
- Back pain
- Sciatica
- A relapse or failure following certain surgeries
- Lumbar Facet syndromes

Could This Be Your Sciatica And Back Pain Solution?

For 14 days only, $37 will get you all the services I normally charge new patients $257 for!

What does this offer include? Everything I normally do in my new patient evaluation. An in-depth consultation about your health and well-being where I will listen...really listen...to the details of your case. A complete neuromuscular examination. And a full set of specialized x-rays. (NOTE: These would normally cost you at least $100). A thorough analysis of your exam and x-ray findings so we can start mapping out your plan to being pain-free.

Don't live another day like this. Call my office Innate Specific Chiropractic, PC and schedule your evaluation. 248-393-1211

SuperNOVA hits tourney

SuperNOVA 16 Red took third place at the AAU State Volleyball tournament.

The girls defeated four teams during the tournament for the 16-Open Division held at DeVos Center in Grand Rapids, June 5-6.

"The team's play at the state tournament was outstanding," said Matthew Marks, assistant coach. "The girls were firing on all cylinders and are peaking at the right time as they carry the momentum down to Florida for the national tournament."

The semi-final match against MVA, Michigan Volleyball Academy brought in one of the largest crowds during the tournament. They lost the match.

The team began playing at Nationals on Sunday and were still battling for the top spot at press time.

Why All the Household Dust?

I'm Keith Meadows, owner and operator of American Power Vac, Inc. For years, I've been improving our community's health one family at a time. By now we've all heard the statistics: 50% of all illness is a direct relation to dirty indoor air and our indoor air is up to 90 times more polluted than outdoor air. Yet, 90% of the calls I receive everyday are from desperate people complaining about dust. They tell me they dust the T.V. on Friday, but by Sunday they are pushing the dust out of the way again so they can watch "Desperate Housewives," and none of them know exactly where it's coming from. Well, I'm here to tell you that it's not because you're a bad housekeeper, I tell people that simply having your ducts cleaned will drastically reduce household dust, and the reason is, your cold air returns.

Cold air returns suck in dirty air, and over time it builds up until you have the same type of debris that you would find in your vacuum bag.

Visit our website www.americanpowervac.com for an actual photo of the debris that is pulled from a typical home. Cold air returns are also the reason new homeowners are experiencing dust. While your drywall was being sanded, your cold air returns sucked all of the dust through the system and it settled on the bottom of the duct lines, where a little at a time gets blown back into your home. To prove it, take a walk down into your basement, look up at the ceiling for thin sheets of tin nailed between your floor joists. These are your cold air return lines. Give them a good pounding. You'll see puffs of dust seeping out of the edges. That, my friends, is the reason you have uncontrollable dust problems!

This debris cannot be removed without a professional. Which brings me to my next point: choosing an air duct cleaning company. Most companies use portable units, which are like a shop vac that you would vacuum your car with, obviously absolutely useless. Then there are companies who claim they have a truck-mounted system. In reality, they have a low powered portable system attached inside a van, again, absolutely useless.

Visit our website for photos of our equipment vs.

portable or truck mounted equipment at www.americanpowervac.com.

American Power Vac has the equipment that is powerful enough to get the job done right and that equipment is a Power Vac truck. It is the most powerful equipment in the industry. This is where the entire truck is the vacuum and the truck motor powers the equipment. You'll know it's a Power Vac truck because it's the size of an ambulance and when engaged twelve large air bags will come out of the roof. What makes the difference in equipment?

Power! To put things into perspective, your furnace moves 2,000 CFM's (cubic feet of air per minute), basically what you feel coming out of your register. Truck-mounted equipment only moves 4,000 CFM's. American Power Vac moves over 16,000 cubic feet of air per minute, more than quadruple the power of any truck-mounted equipment.

Beware of companies using cheap equipment and advertising cheap prices... most are unlicensed or advertise that they are licensed and are not!

Avoid scams by asking for and confirming all state mechanical license numbers at mich.gov/bclicense. Type in business name and click on "Mechanical License". American Power Vac is family owned and we're here to help. ## Volunteers help family rebuild

BY PHIL CUSTODIO

Clarkston News Editor

Nothing can replace a husband and father, killed in the line of duty in Iraq. But people can help.

"It's amazing what can be accomplished in one day," said Patricia Peterson, "Patty," of Independence Township. "We have a nice, safe deck to walk on, and enjoy the summer on."

Employees from BAE Systems' facility in Sterling Heights, local contractors, and home improvement companies all volunteered time and materials to rebuild the Peterson family's backyard deck, June 17.

"This is an opportunity to help someone out who lost a significant other in battle," said Scott E. Rutter, Strategic Programs director for BAE Systems' U.S. Combat Systems. "The employees here are all volunteering their own time."

Patricia's husband, Marine Capt. Justin Peterson, was a supply officer with 1st Tank Battalion, 1st Marine Division, on his first deployment to Iraq. He was killed in a vehicle crash, Oct. 1, 2006, in Al Anbar Province.

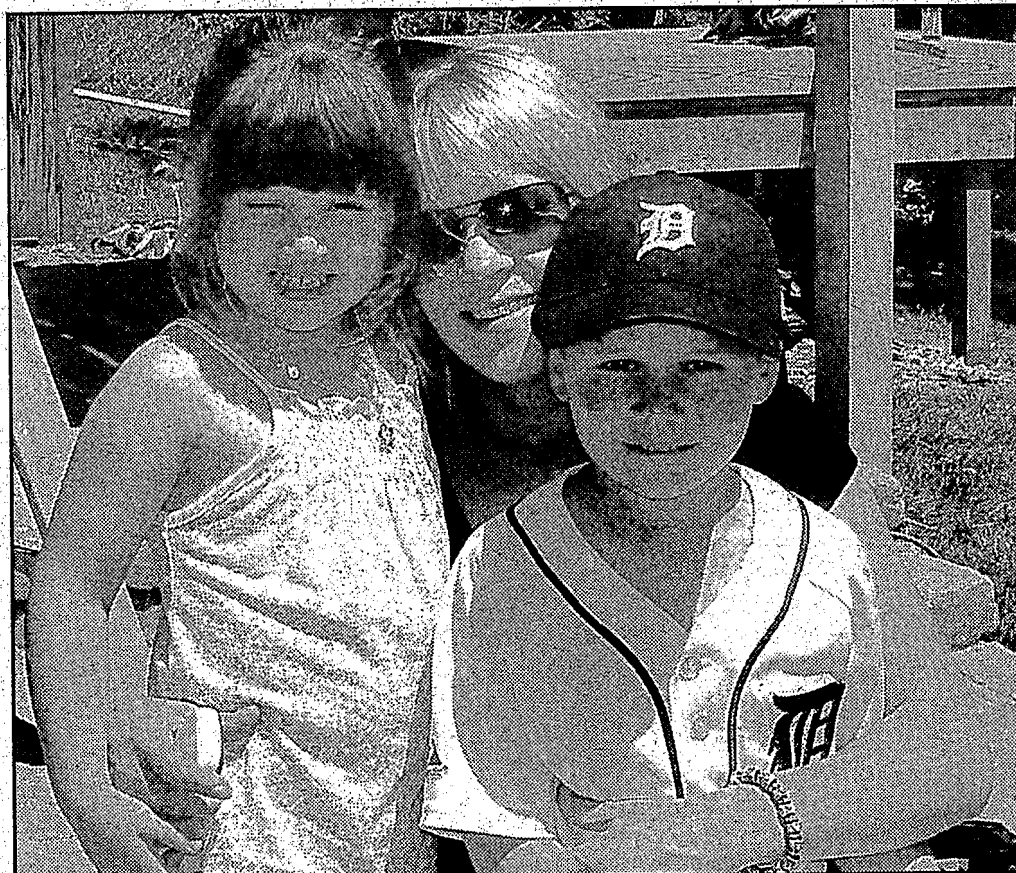

For a while, Patty handled things mostly by herself. That lasted about two years.

"My son started saying, 'I miss dad,'" she said. "That's something I'm not really equipped to deal with. I was looking for something to help with the kids."

Jayden, 6, and sister Caitlin, 4, are too young to remember their father — what they know about him comes from their mother, as well as photographs and videos. But they see friends and classmates in school with their dads and know something's missing, Patty said.

She turned to Tragedy Assistance Program for Survivors, or TAPS, a nonprofit veterans service organization based in Washington, D.C.

"It's very good for all of us," she said. "They reach out to help as many groups as possible, and they do it well — wives, husbands, children, parents, aunts, uncles. They have one support group just for fiancés."

BAE Systems, a global defense, security and aerospace company, works with TAPS to arrange service projects for local families.

"BAE Systems has a deep-rooted and corporate-wide philosophy of giving back to the communities where our employees live and work," said Joe McCarthy, vice president and general manager of Heavy Brigade Combat Team Systems for BAE Systems. "We are honored Patty agreed to let us build a new deck for her and her children."

They contacted Patty this past February.

"They asked, 'what can we do,' and we figured it out. Please see Service on page 3B ured out this project," she said. "The workers have been great — their generosity has had such a tremendous impact on our family and others. My children and I are so grateful."

The Petersons previously lived at the Marine base in southern California. Patty, pregnant with Caitlin, and Jayden moved back to Michigan when Justin's unit deployed.

"He wanted me to stay with my parents (Ken and Sherry Goss of Independence Township) while he was gone," Patty said. "We've stayed in the area ever since."

She and the children recently moved into a house in Independence Township, where they are still adapting to life without Justin.

"All the little things he used to do, those become bigger," Patty said. "My Christmas and birthday lists for my parents, and brother and sister are to-do lists, not presents. The kids and I learning to live our new life. It's not what I thought I'd be doing, but I'm doing what I have to."

She attends regional TAPS seminars, participated in the Marine Corps marathon and volunteered at the 2010 National Military Widow Seminar. Most recently, she enrolled in the TAPS Peer Mentor program to support newly bereaved military family members.

"They connect people with shared experiences, so you don't feel out there by yourself. It's a very good thing," she said.

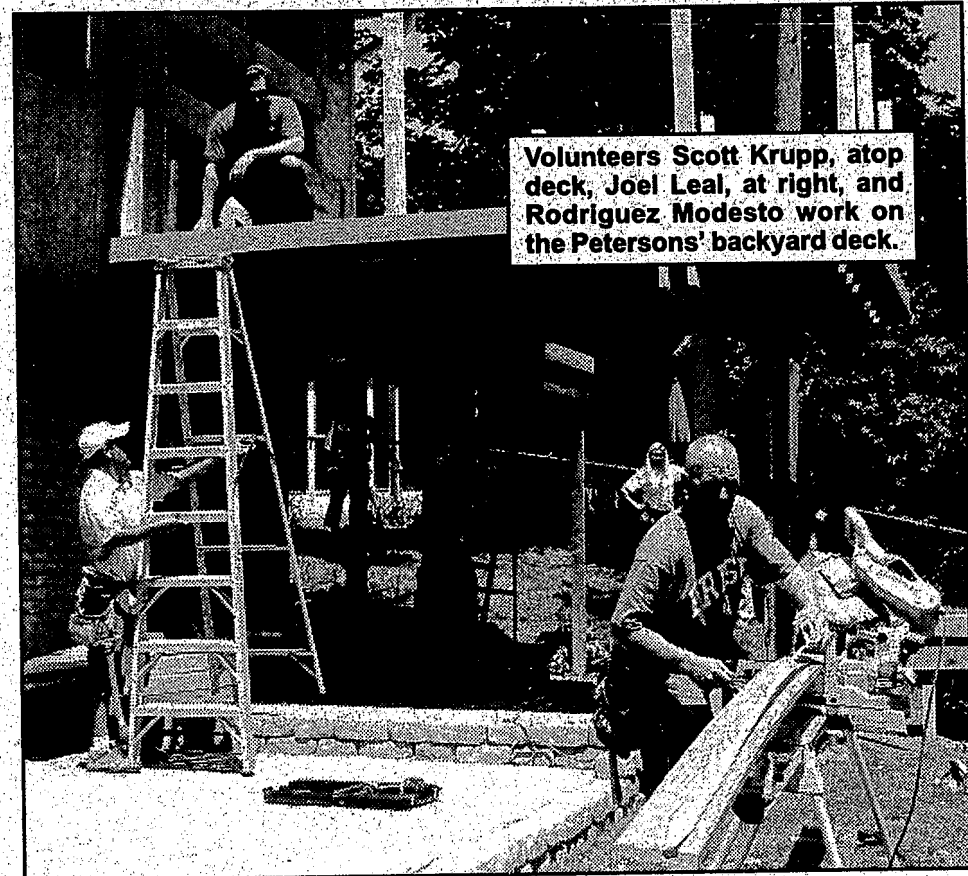

Founded in 1994, TAPS provides peer-based emotional support, grief and trauma resources, seminars, casework assistance, and 24/7 crisis intervention care for those affected by a death in the Armed Forces. Services are free.

"There are a lot of survivors out there — children, parents, siblings," said Rutter, retired lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army and TAPS volunteer. "We reach out to local communities and work together to help them build a new life."

Justin joined the Marines in 1992, serving in the reserves while in college, then active duty as an officer.

"Justin always wanted to be in the Marine Corps — when I met him at 17 years old, he'd already signed his enlistment papers," Patty said. "That was who he was, what he wanted to do. He was one of those people who knew what he wanted to do and had fun getting there."

For more information on TAPS, go to www.taps.org or call their toll-free crisis line at 1-800-959-TAPS.

Heavenly father shows the way

When I was younger my children gave me a T-shirt that I grew very fond of. It said: "Anyone can be a father but it takes someone special to be a daddy."

Many people might wonder about the difference between the two. Turning to the Word of God it becomes evident to us what the difference is.

Three times in the New Testament, Mark 14:36, Romans 8:15, and Galatians 4:6 we find the words "Abba, Father" used together.

The three usages, while referring to the same thing, are used in quite different circumstances. What strong words of God to us, especially when used together.

In Mark Jesus knows His death is eminent. He is in the Garden of Gethsemane, kneeling in earnest prayer, seeking God's Will and the strength to face what is before Him.

As Paul writes to the Roman Christians, he reminds us that, in Baptism, our old sinful nature is put to death and we are given new life as children of the same Heavenly Father, our Abba.

He also tells us, as he writes the Galatians, that in this new relationship with our Heavenly Father we have become heirs with the promise and certainty of the inheritance placed before us in Christ Jesus.

Father is a word that has a stronger biological sense in our world today. The Father is the male parent.

Thus, when we think of God, our Heavenly Father, we remember that He is the One Who brings all things into existence. Without Him, nothing is.

Abba, on the other hand, is a relational word. Today we might translate it with the word "daddy". God wants us to remember that He has established an important relationship with us.

He leads and guides us with a love that reaches out through His Son from the cross and brings sinful mankind back into the familial relationship with Him.

We, the prodigal, the rebellious children, are made one with Him, are made heirs of His Heavenly Kingdom. This comes to us through Jesus' loving act — dying on the cross and rising from dead to defeat death and the devil.

How did you celebrate Father's Day this year? By gathering with your father? How about your daddy? Or, maybe more importantly, with your Abba, Father, in worship to celebrate His loving forgiveness to you.

Be blessed to be a blessing to others!

The Rev. Kendall Schaeffer is pastor of St. Trinity Lutheran Church.

Helping the library grow

Since May, the Independence Township Public Library has looked a little different - new plants cover Peter Rabbit's garden near the main entrance.

Second-graders from Springfield Plains Elementary helped the Clarkston Garden Club with the changes.

On May 27 they arrived at the library for their Academic Service Learning project - bringing seedlings with them to plant. They weeded the garden and planted their seedlings. Also, they learned more about the gardens, invasive weeds and about different plants.

The Clarkston Garden Club provided a snack for the students - muffins made with marigolds and refreshing lavender lemonade.
