The quest for Clarkston's next superintendent is down to six.

Clarkston Board of Education swiftly went through 17 candidates, Aug. 16, and voted unanimously for their top picks.

Ms. Geraldine Moore, assistant superintendent, Rochester School District of Instruction hired in 2006. Prior experience includes executive director, director of curriculum, research, planning and evaluation, executive director of instruction, assistant principal and director of student activities.

"There are several things about this candidate I am impressed with," said Trustee Cheryl McGinnis. "Also, there are many various levels of achievement."

Dr. Richard Drury, former superintendent, Community Unit School, District 200, Wheaton, Ill. — experience from classroom teacher to superintendent. Until March 2010, Drury was superintendent for a district with 13,000 students and served as superintendent for a district of 5,000 students for 13 years. The candidate was a superintendent in Michigan for five years for 3,000 students and was also a middle school principal, assistant principal middle school, and History and English teacher.

"The skills and experience are what we are looking for," said Boatman. "It is worth asking questions."

Dr. Thomas Gay, corporate administrator, Quality Schools Initiative — chosen due to his experience as superintendent and assistant superintendent at various districts. He is currently a vice president of an education consultant group. The individual served as a high school principal, assistant principal and elementary teacher.

"A concern for me is it looks like a lot of jobs," Trustee

Township hires Troy consultant

BY TREVOR KEISER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

With a defeat this past February of a 1.9 mill tax increase, Troy budget officials are looking for ways to cut $4 million, closing its library, community center, and museum, and laying off dozens of employees over the next three years.

That's the kind of experience sought by Independence Township Board, hiring Troy's Assistant City Manager John Lamerato as budget consultant.

"We hope to take advantage of their recent experiences and Mr. Lamerato's expertise," said Clerk Shelagh VanderVeen at the Aug. 10 budget meeting.

The board voted 6-0 to hire Lamerato at $75 per hour. "We'd like him to take a look at our numbers and come up with ideas and put together a budget we can all live with," she said. "This will be a helpful tool to us as a board in helping us make informed decisions dealing with our budget"

Park goes to the dogs for rescue group

Paws for Life Rescue hosts its first annual Paws in the Park, 12-4 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 22, at Independence Oaks County Park, Lakeview Picnic Pavilion, 9501 Sashabaw Road.

"Independence Oaks County Park is the perfect location for our event," said Courtney Protz-Sanders, managing director of Paws for Life Rescue. "The half-mile trail is paved and goes through a wooded area, which keeps the dogs and people away from traffic."

Paws in the Park includes a picnic lunch, half-mile dog walk, bobbing for milkbones, paw art, kiss your owner contest, just-for-fun agility course, massages, and other activities for dogs, children, and adults.

"The park has a spacious pavilion and all the lawn space we need for the doggy carnival games, adoptable pets and vendors," Protz-Sanders said. "Clarkston is a pet-friendly area. We're very happy with the partnership between Paws for Life and Independence Oaks County Park."

A limited amount of canine breed identification test kits will be available for purchase, $10 microchipping available to the first 24 dogs who register at the event, and homeless animals will be available for adoption.

The event is free for dogs and children under age 13. Adults are $10 per person. All proceeds benefit the homeless pets of the not-for-profit animal welfare group.

The organization, run by volunteers, rescues homeless, neglected, abused, and abandoned dogs, cats, puppies and kittens throughout Southeast Michigan. For information, check www.pawsforliferescue.org or email info@pawsforliferescue.org.

No new millage vote for Clarkston Police

BY TREVOR KEISER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Clarkston's close millage vote will be recounted, but results will stand.

City Council voted 5-2, Aug. 16, to deny a request for a new ballot proposal. Councilmen Mike Gawronski and Thomas Hunter were the two "yes" votes.

"The will of the people — whichever way that goes, that's great," Gawronski said.

However, some voters casting ballots against the Aug. 3 charter amendment may have been confused, he said.

Resident Fred Stark said that doesn't matter.

"I think if the vote had gone the other way we wouldn't be here discussing it — I think the reason we're here is because the people who voted the other way are sore losers," he said. "I think the vote we took earlier in August should have some meaning to it."

Councilman Charles Inabnit said voters had no reason to be confused.

"This has been going on since March 22. I find it hard to believe that people didn't know what they were voting on," he said. "There was a flyer from the police department — the city sent out one."

Resident Mike McGraw said it wasn't an issue of whether people wanted police or not, but how the votes went.

"We're doing a recount and that's great," McGraw said. "If it turns out it flip flops and the police are back, then I think the people who voted no are going to accept that."

Councilwoman Peggy Roth said she talked to more than 30 citizens after last week's meeting, all of whom voted "no."

"Actually they were more concerned that somebody would suggest they did not understand what they voted on," Roth said. "It just seems to me the citizens of this city have voted and they've made up their mind."

Councilman Jim Brueck said the only reason he would support a new vote is if the Aug. 3 proposal was ambiguous or "askew, something really grievous about the way the process was followed."

Council members Peggy Roth and Chuck Inabnit and Mayor Stephen Arkwright listen intently as the crowd shares their concerns. Photo by Trevor Keiser.

It wasn't, Brueck said.

"To me, it was clear they did understand," he said. "The fact is we had almost 400 people turn out at a primary election. People wanted to be there, they wanted to voice their opinion."

The city voted 6-1 to delay signing an intergovernmental agreement with Independence Township for sheriff's services until next meeting, while they discuss alternatives such as switching to a constable. Hargis voted "no."

"I think it's a good idea to look at a constable," Hargis said. "I think that's something we can afford in the city, but we must have base services. All the people around the township are enjoying base services."

According to City Manager Dennis Ritter, Clarkston Police will remain on duty for at least a couple more weeks.

"They will be until the documents are completed and a date has been set for the transition. (Chief) Dale LaCroix seems to think it's about a two-week process," Ritter said. "What that means is a two-week process to dismantle the department, but at the beginning of that two-week period, the (Oakland County) Sheriff will be in place."

Superintendent interviews start Aug. 23

Rosalie Lieblang pointed out. "Is it someone looking for a better opportunity? I am on the fence. My initial would be no."

"It might be worth interviewing," added President Steve Hyer. "The experience is there and on paper this one stands out more than others."

Other board members agreed the diversity might be worth bringing in for more questions.

"This one really challenges us in a lot of ways," said Bomier. "We owe it to the district to see if there is a match or if there isn't."

Dr. Rod Rock is director of instructional services for Saginaw Intermediate School District.

He also has experience as an assistant superintendent for Saginaw.

"I see a lot of strengths in the profile and makes me ask what else is there," said Bomier.

Vice President Susan Boatman was concerned with Rock's lack of superintendent experience.

The final two candidates are both superintendents of small rural districts since 2007.

Dr. Gary Richards is superintendent of Inlay City Community Schools.

Ms. Cindy Weber is Durand Area Schools superintendent.

The board begins the interviews on Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 23-24. They narrow it down to their top picks on Wednesday.

The public is welcome to all the meetings and can fill out an evaluation form for each candidate to give to the board.

Interviews and selection begins at 5 p.m.

If time allows the board will ask the candidates questions from the audience. Please send them Hyer before the interview.

Clarkston School Board hired Michigan Association of School Boards to conduct the search for the district's new superintendent.

Leg Pain? Back Pain??

Having back and leg pain can bring life to a standstill.

You might not be able to play golf, work, or even sit in the car for a 30-minute drive. It's almost impossible for anyone around you to understand how you feel. You can't remember the last time you even had a restful night's sleep.

When cushions in your back joints, called discs, get injured or wear-out, they begin to degenerate and cause pain. Bulging and herniations begin to form, pressing on the nerve roots.

The most common invasive treatment for disc herniations is surgery. Even with health insurance the patient is left with their own portion of the bill, in excess of $10,000-$15,000, and sometimes more.

In addition, the recovery time and missed work can be anywhere from 3 to 6 months, not to mention the obvious severe risks associated with all surgeries.

Before You Go Under The Knife And Opt For Spinal Surgery...

You should seriously consider a less invasive approach to solving your back pain and sciatica.

SPINAL DECOMPRESSION has a long track record in helping people with sciatica and back pain. Here's what a study said about spinal decompression therapy...

"spinal decompression therapy reported a success rate of 76.5% with complete remission of pain and disability," -Rio Grande Hospital, Department of Neurosurgery

The conditions this amazing treatment has proven successful for are:

- Herniated and/or bulging discs
- Degenerative disc disease
- Back pain
- Sciatica
- A relapse or failure following certain surgeries
- Lumbar Facet syndromes

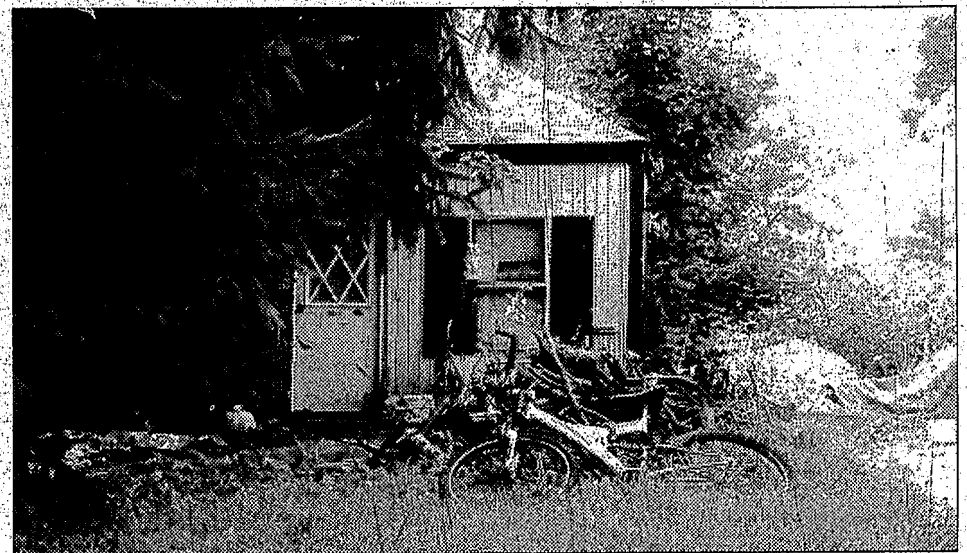

Could This Be Your Sciatica And Back Pain Solution?

For 14 days only, $37 will get you all the services I normally charge new patients $257 for!

What does this offer include? Everything I normally do in my new patient evaluation. An in-depth consultation about your health and well-being where I will listen...really listen...to the details of your case. A complete neuromuscular examination. And a full set of specialized x-rays (NOTE: These would normally cost you at least $100). A thorough analysis of your exam and x-ray findings so we can start mapping out your plan to being pain-free.

Don't live another day like this. Call my office Innate Specific Chiropractic, PC and schedule your evaluation. 248-393-1211

Springfield Township Board approved demolition of a Cherrywood Street house if the owner doesn't clean up. Photo by Phil Custodio

End of the line for house cleanup

BY PHIL CUSTODIO
Clarkston News Editor

After more than three years of blight, a Springfield Township resident has one last chance.

The township board voted 7-0 to demolish all dangerous structures at 9212 Cherrywood Street, remove debris, and clean up the property.

"It's incumbent on the board to take action of some sort - (but) I don't recommend demolishing the house and putting someone on the street," said Supervisor Mike Trout.

The public hearing, Aug. 12, was to provide homeowner Laura Burson the opportunity to explain why she did not comply with orders to clean up.

She did not attend.

"We've had very limited contact with her," Trout said. "We've had several with her family. Her daughter was there when I stopped by and I spoke to her."

Half a dozen neighbors attended the public hearing, saying the property is unsightly, embarrassing, and dangerous.

"It's gotten progressively worse over the last five years," said a neighbor. "It's taken a nose dive recently."

Tearing down the garage would only fix part of the problem, said Trustee Judy Hensler.

"I hate to put someone on the street - it's a sad situation," Hensler said.

Clerk Laura Moreau agreed.

"All structures should be removed," Moreau said. "I hate to have to make this decision, but we have to consider its impact on the neighbors. It's time."

Burson was charged with a civil infraction for violating township ordinances on Jan. 20, 2007, and consent judgment was entered, Feb. 27, 2007.

The township had a dangerous-building hearing on Dec. 18, 2009, and issued a clean-up order, Dec. 22, 2009.

"On many occasions, the township has tried to work with the owner - all to no avail," Trout said. "She's in a difficult situation, but neighbors have continued to tolerate this. We're at the point where something has to be done."

"The structure is not safe," said Treasurer Jamie Dubre. "Frankly, she may be better served if she lived somewhere else."

The board provided 60 days for the homeowner to fix the problem, after which demolition work will begin.

Burson's listed phone number is disconnected, and no one was home when visited.

Set for 10 a.m., Monday, Sept. 6, the parade's theme this year is "Celebrate Clarkston Rotary's 70 Years of Community Service."

The Labor Day parade route will be Church Street to Main Street, north through downtown Clarkston to Miller Road.

"We are still tallying the numbers, but as of right now, we are at $3,100," said Kelly Hyer, Independence Township Parks and Recreation. "We are still accepting donations and waiting for some sponsor money to come in."

Back in play

The football season has officially kicked off. The Clarkston High School gridiron heroes attacked the practice field on Aug. 9 and haven't slowed down since - taking in drill after drill, play after play.

Then, the boys showed off some of their techniques and practiced plays during Saturday's Football for a Cure, their annual intra-squad scrimmage.

Next to come - practice, practice, practice as the boys build onto their strengths and work on weaknesses before they take on Rochester Adams on Aug. 27.

What can fans expect - toughness. Even more so then when they lost to Romeo in 21-3 in the 2008 District Playoffs.

The semi-finals last year left a bitter taste in everyone's mouths from one call in the last moments - players, coaches and the fans. Even Trevor, my reporting comrade, and I were overcome by it on the sidelines. Now a handful of returners and newbies are ready to fight hard again.

The Wolves have home advantage for the majority of the season with a few away games trickled in here and there - including a new foe Pontiac High School and old rival Lake Orion. Will the Dragons step up after losing to the Wolves, not just once, but twice last year? Or will they fall on their own turf.

But no matter the team, the league or county - the goal is always the same, Ford Field for the state finals.

Now from the Clarkston community - lots of blue and gold, lots of shouting and cheering, and Athlete of the Week nominations. The nominations can be any sport, any level. They can be emailed to clarkstonnews@gmail.com, mailed to Clarkston News, 5 S Main St., or called in, 248-625-3370.

Look for more previews to come in your Clarkston News and I will see you at the game - I will be the one of the many down in front, rain or shine.

Happy Birthday to all my cousins born in August - Megan, Leslie and Brian. Leslie celebrates her sweet 16 this week. Ah, I can remember the day she was just a little girl singing to the Spice Girls. If it wasn't for Megan and Leslie, I would have never watched their movie - especially five times in a row. Thanks girls!

Rogers needs viable challenger

Dear Editor,

The Aug. 3 primary election has come and gone, and this November only one candidate for representative of Michigan's Eighth U.S. Congressional District will appear on the ballot.

A self-serving 10-year career politician will run unopposed on election day. Unless the Democratic Party endorses a man named Lance Enderle, "we the people" will have no choice, sort of like an election in Iran.

The Democratic Party endorsed a man named Kande Ngalamulume, an unknown football player from Michigan State. He campaigned for all of two months, and then withdrew from the race.

He withdrew after the filing deadline, making it impossible to remove his name from the primary ballot. This caused considerable confusion on the ballot. Lance Enderle received a lot of write-in votes, but not enough to appear on November's ballot because of the votes Kande Ngalamulume received.

Call it what you will, I am angry Mr. Mike Rogers of Mr. Mike Rogers Neighborhood on K Street will buy his way into office again.

If you feel cheated like I do, then contact the Democratic Party. Better yet, call Mr. Rogers and express your views directly to him.

Let us try to put "we the people" back into our government.

A Look Back

From The CNews archives

15 years ago - 1995

"Richmond running to a new level" Dave Richmond, recreation coordinator for Independence Township, started his 20-week training program for his third Boston Marathon.

"Questions raised about class overcrowding" Eric Haven, representing Parents for Quality Education from Clarkston Elementary School, spoke to the school board about the importance of keeping class sizes small.

"Stepping back in time" Ron Warden of Davisburg operated a goat cart at the Michigan Renaissance Festival, giving rides to the kids. R.V. Sheldon gave dulcimer lessons to visitors.

25 years ago - 1985

"Where elk did roam" Kurt Maier retrieved his anchor in Deer Lake and pulled up the skull of an elk. Kurt's wife Tracey and father, Bill Maier, surmised the elk fell into the lake through ice hundreds of years old.

"School board shoots for Feb. bond vote" Faced with population problems, Clarkston School Board considered a bond issue in 1996. The goal would be to maintain class sizes and keep elementary schools no larger than 550 students per building.

"College bound" Clarkston High School grad Jill Attaman was looking forward to attending Western Michigan University, to study biochemical science. Steve Whittington was heading to University of Michigan-Flint to study veterinary medicine.

50 years ago - 1960

"Local resident Michigan's Lady Shotgun champion" "Candy" Becker of Independence Township won the annual championship in Davison, with a score of 58. She had been shooting only a year, and beat at least three former champions.

"Men pronounce first vows at Colombiere College" Seminarians John Dowd, Robert Hayes, Armando Galardo, John Gallagher, Gerald Gastony, James Heffernan, and Anthony Prosen took their vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience at the Springfield Township seminary.

"Clarkston locals" Blair Bullard, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Rockwood Bullard of Clarkston, returned after a lovely five weeks with friends in Bermuda. She traveled by plane both ways.

It's all the rage: cumulative voting

I didn't believe it when I watched a local FOX News video. It had to be a joke. And, I guess it still could be -- but the more I looked into it, the more information I found to back up that "one-man, one-vote" could be a thing of the past.

So the story went, this summer, in the little New York town of Port Chester, some voters were given the right to vote up to six times, while some in the same community were still burdened with the antiquated idea of "one man, one vote."

I did a little computer checking and found Port Chester's website and a message from the mayor, Dennis G. Pilla.

"We are now preparing for an historic trustee election to be held next June 15th. We will be the first municipality in New York to use cumulative voting to elect our six Trustee seats. Cumulative voting is an alternative at-large election system where all voters have the same number of votes, but gain the power to cast more than one vote for the same candidate . . . This proven method will allow any group of like-minded voters to rally behind their preferred candidates and give them a better chance to win."

And, from the Associated Press (A.P.) I read:

Arthur Furano voted early - five days before Election Day. And he voted often, flipping the lever six times for his favorite candidate.

Furano cast multiple votes on the instructions of a federal judge and the U.S. Department of Justice as part of a new election system crafted to help boost Hispanic representation.

Don't Rush Me

A column by Don Rush

Voters in Port Chester, 25 miles northeast of New York City, are electing village trustees for the first time since the federal government alleged in 2006 that the existing election system was unfair. The election ends Tuesday and results are expected late Tuesday.

Although the village of about 30,000 residents is nearly half Hispanic, no Latino had ever been elected to any of the six trustee seats, which until now were chosen in a conventional at-large election. Most voters were white, and white candidates always won.

Federal Judge Stephen Robinson said that violated the Voting Rights Act, and he approved a remedy suggested by village officials: a system called cumulative voting, in which residents get six votes each to apportion as they wish among the candidates.

He rejected a government proposal to break the village into six districts, including one that took in heavily Hispanic areas . . .

Holy Ghost of Mayor Daley . . . it's true!

Cumulative voting is also called "fair" voting . . . well, I guess if we're gonna be a namby-pamby, cumulative voting country, we might as well be fair, too. I reckon my dad is rolling in his grave, cuz he was one of those cave-men that used to say, "The world isn't fair."

Now, only in America is life "fair." Hot damn!

So, if we are to be fair, shouldn't we be really fair? If it is good for local elections it should also be good for more-bigger elections (as a highly trained and paid member of the media elite, I get to use bad English -- kids don't do this at home unless you are a minority, then it is okay). Shouldn't we evoke the fairness clause into all our elections?

For example, I think because only two-to-six percent of the American population is redheaded, all redheads should be given the chance to vote six or seven times just to make it fair. Damn them blonds for having all the fun, now we have a way to get what we deserve.

Since a Caucasian candidate has a snowball's chance in Hades of ever winning another election in Detroit, shouldn't cumulative voting be instituted for the 12% of honkeys living there?

I think all pot smokers should be given the right to vote more times than beer drinkers, because I think beer drinkers -- a majority in any community -- have harshed the pot smokers buzz for too many years. And, that ain't fair, dude.

I think all American Indians -- er, ah -- Native Americans should be given the chance to vote say, 10 times to every non-Native American-who-was-born-here's one vote.

I think smokers should be given the chance to vote five times to the nonsmokers one, because smokers are the minority and even though they pay more taxes than nonsmokers, have less representation (and that ain't fair).

I think hillbillies are getting are getting the short end of the stick, too. Let's get them some extra votes.

And, what about the KKK -- there ain't many of them dudes around any more, they need more votes, too.

Who is to say what group gets the extra rights, if we are not all equal? Who makes that call? Whomever is in power at the time? I think we are really heading fast into unchartered waters and the results will be frightening. I think in an effort to be fair for everybody, we will become unjust to all. We need to realize, we cannot change the past. We are either all Americans or we aren't. And sometimes we vote for the best person, despite his or her race. But, hey, that's just my opinion -- a minority, I know.

Time for a session of 'What's bothering me'

Throughout most of my adult life, and that's over 50 years, I've had good thoughts about Michigan's utility companies.

They've been good at what they do - supply communications, fuel and electric-ity.

Consumers Energy, Detroit Edison and AT&T.

They've been almost like family, there when we need them. I've never met a utility worker, those guys we see every day, who wasn't friendly and cooperative.

While that part has stayed the same, management has taken another route.

They've become hucksters, giving little or no thought and consideration to their customers.

The thing that prompted this writing was a phone call at 7:09 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 7,

Jim's Jottings

Jim Sherman

A weekend evening to relax and ponder.

The call was from AT&T wanting to sign me up for faster and more varied television.

With such calls I try to remember the caller is trying to make a living, making calls via a contract and not direct management. I try to be civil.

And, that's hard for me, because I'm instantly mad. I want to yell, "My television is fine. Now, get the hell off the line!"

The Consumer's Energy call earlier in the week was to sell me insurance in case my oven quit.

Detroit Edison wants to provide different, or new, or something in their after-hour call. I loudly hung up, but of course they couldn't hear me.

Here are these legislatively so-called "controlled" utilities, with practically no competition, becoming hucksters, and by my definition that's insulting, overbearing, and unacceptable

They are especially unwelcome late evenings, weekends and during news hours. If they have to call, may I suggest, make it during Oprah, Glenn Beck or soccer games.

- - - 0 - - -

My second 'bother' of the week is the growing number of retailers of men's clothing who falsely advertise 'big and tall' departments.

Our closest Kmart has such a sign over its menswear section. When I shopped there recently, the biggest in their waistline selection was a 42-incher. Since I was looking for some replacement golfing shorts to finish the season, I went to Carl's Golfland. It's a major outlet for golf associated things. They, like Kmart, stock nothing larger in shorts than 42-inches.

On my next visit to a golf course (I visit four days a week) I looked at male golfers' waists, then I looked at what they're using as a waistline.

No, wonder Big 'n Tall Stores are closing. Men no longer wear their belts on their hips, around their midsection. There's a whole lot of men wearing 42-inch waistline shorts with 48-inch waistlines. Many of these guys wear x-large golf shirts, not for width, but for length to stretch below their bellies.

I asked one of these golfers one day, "Why don't you pull up your pants?"

He said, "Because it hurts!"

Ah so! The pants/shorts makers are shortening the 'rise.' In other words, if these guys pull up their pants it makes them rise. I found my size at a Salvation Army store.

- - - 0 - - -

All is not negative this week. Playing Sugarbush golf course recently, we found ourselves being followed by young foxes, kits.

First one, then two holes later there were four. Tame and cute.

At home later that day, I looked out to see a doe and triplet fawns frolicking in our yard. Things like that continue to warm an old heart.

Church hosts second annual 'One Day to Feed the World'

BY TREVOR KEISER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

After raising $10,000 last year for non-profit national and global disaster relief team Convoy of Hope, Bridgewood Church is holding their second annual "One Day to Feed the World."

"Our goal was $6,000, and people were so generous that we were able to do that," said Pastor Sue Marquis. "I don't know if we'd be able to do that again, I understand the economy is rough, but we're upping our goal to $7,000 - $7,500."

The church is challenging people to give one day's wage toward the effort to feed the hungry around the world.

"We don't want this to be 'Bridgewood church gives back,'" said Pastor Curt Demoff. "We want this to be 'Oakland County gives back.'"

Marquis agreed.

"I want every single person to feel like they want to help feed the world. We're seeing so many tragedies and disasters around the world that I know every person who reads the paper wants to do something to help," she said. "This is a solid way they can do it."

"What Convoy of Hope will do is for every $100 that we collect, it turns into $400," Demoff said. "It costs $6,000 to fill a semi-truck, which will multiply in $50,000 worth of food."

Help fight hunger at Renaissance Fest

In addition to jousting, sword fighting and Medieval dress, Renaissance Festival visitors can help neighbors in need.

Lighthouse of Oakland County serves as an official charity of the festival, weekends starting Aug. 21 in Holly.

On Aug. 21-22 and 28-29, and Sept. 4-6, Lighthouse will collect nonperishable canned and boxed goods for its Independence Township food pantry. Patrons receive a discount on admission for donations.

Lighthouse Emergency Services, which runs the effort, also needs volunteers to work three-hour shifts to help.

All volunteers receive a free ticket and food vouchers.

Call Tricia Pulis at Lighthouse for more information, 248-920-6000.

The church is also hosting a community outdoor family movie and fun night, Aug 27, featuring the movie "Cloudy with a Chance of Meatballs," as well as inflatables.

"The event is free, but we are asking that people make a donation to Convoy of Hope," Demoff said. "The movie will begin at dark, roughly around 9:30 p.m., but doors open at 7:30 p.m."

A 5K run/ family one-mile event is set for Aug. 29, starting at 8:30 a.m. Cost of registration before Aug 21 is $20, and $25 after.

"We're hoping that this 5K, especially the family one-mile walk or run, will be an open door to talk to your children about world hunger and the different needs around the world," said Pastor Sue Marquis. "We're going to have different things along the one mile just to make it fun for the kids and then they get to come back to a really fun rally, with inflatables, and a gymnastic course they can play on and go through."

The rally will start at 10 a.m. and include special guest speaker L. Brooks Patterson.

"The rally point is just going to give us all an opportunity to come together and recognize that we're grateful for the things that we have," Demoff said. "But we do want to pay back and give back what we can."

Those interested in sponsoring, donating, or participating visit www.onedaytofeed.com or call Sue Marquis at 248-625-1344.

"We're taking on one of the biggest problems in the world. The only way to tackle a big problem is to take small steps. We're not going to solve the world's hunger problem over night, but we need to do what we can in our local communities," Demoff said. "Together we truly can make a difference in the world."

A GPS and cash were taken from an unlocked SUV in an unlocked unattached garage in the 5000 block of Woodland View, Aug. 6.

A purse was taken from a car parked unlocked inside an attached garage in the 6000 block of Canterbury Lane, Aug. 6. The garage door had been left open.

Someone took a purse, two digital cameras, GPS, and iPod from an unlocked vehicle parked in the 4000 block of Ava Lane, Aug. 7.

A Glenwood Creek resident stuffed her purse under the dashboard of her vehicle but didn't lock it, Aug. 7. The purse was stolen.

A Menominee Lane resident went to sleep without locking his car, Aug. 8, woke at 5 a.m. to check on it, and found his two GPS units stolen.

Jagermeister crash

Investigating a two-car crash, 6:55 p.m., Aug. 6, at Sashabaw and Clarkston roads, one of the drivers, a 36-year-old Dearborn Heights woman, said she took a shot of Jagermeister before getting behind the wheel. With a breath test of .138, she was arrested for drunk driving.

Illegal artillery

A 21-year-old South Carolina man was stopped, 3:57 p.m., Aug. 7, at Dixie and Maybee Road, for cutting in and out of traffic without signaling at 55 mph through 40 and 45 mph zones. He had no license, saying he lost his wallet, but had several illegal firework rockets and artillery shells. The fireworks were confiscated, and he was cited for failure to display license, speeding, and tinted windows.

Another window smashed

The driver's side window of a car parked in the 5000 block of Snow Apple Drive was smashed out, Aug. 8.

DTE scammer

A 71-year-old Deerhill Drive resident got a phone call from someone claiming to be from DTE Energy, 9 a.m., Aug. 12. She was told her bill was $1,000, and if she didn't pay, they would shut off her power. She gave the caller her credit card number, Social Security code on back, and her and her husband's Social Security numbers. After she hung up, she called DTE to ask about the charge. They said her bill was $100, and they would never ask for Social Security numbers. She cancelled the credit card.

Suspicious vehicle

A deputy noticed an SUV with a tinted piece of plastic over the license plate, making it hard to read, 4:05 p.m., Aug. 8, on Dixie Highway. He got closer to read the number, did a records check, found the owner had a warrant for her arrest out of Pontiac, and stopped her at Dixie and I-75. The driver, a 41-year-old Pontiac man, had a suspended license and two civil warrants. He was jailed on the warrants, cited for driving with suspended license, and given a warning for no proof of insurance. The passenger and vehicle owner, a 41-year-old Independence Township woman, was advised and released on her warrant.

Easy takings

Someone entered a home in the 4000 block of Menominee Lane through an unlocked garage door and stole three bikes, Aug. 8.

Sunglasses were also taken from an unlocked vehicle in the 4000 block of Menominee Lane, Aug. 8.

Drugged driving

A driver reported a minivan driving all over the road on a smoking flat tire, 2:42 p.m., Aug. 9, and stopping at Maybee and Sashabaw roads. Deputies found her there, with minivan running and in gear. Speech slurred, she said she had taken prescription drugs, and couldn't walk without assistance. She was charged with driving under the influence of drugs.

Neighborhoods targeted

Three cameras, power chop saw, and five gas credit cards were stolen from a work van, parked in the 4000 block of Spring Meadow Drive, Aug. 11. There were no signs of forced entry. Someone also stole golf clubs and bag from an unlocked car. Two GPS units, headphone set, and change were taken from two vehicles left unlocked in the 4000 block of Spring Meadow Drive, Aug. 11.

A laptop, iPod, and backpack were taken from an unlocked vehicle parked on Hawksmoore Drive, Aug. 11. A Hawksmoore Drive mail box and wooden post were stolen, Aug. 12.

Fence jumping

A 19-year-old Linden man was questioned about jumping the fence at DTE Music Theater, 10 p.m., Aug. 11. He said he would take a breath test, but when he looked at the test box, it bolted out the door. Deputies and security chased him, but he escaped into the woods. Warrants sought for escaping custody, trespassing, and underage drinking.

shortfalls, now and in the near future."

VanderVeen, Treasurer Curt Carson and Supervisor Dave Wagner sat down with Lamerato two weeks ago to discuss how he could help the township. She said they "were quite impressed with him."

"If you read the papers you know Troy's been facing financial constraints that all of us are dealing with lately and their approach has been very proactive," VanderVeen said. "They've had to make some serious decisions regarding the running of their government offices."

Trustee David Lohmeier said his goal was to get analytical help and he doesn't see them "trying to duplicate Troy."

"Why would what's working in Troy work for us (and) why would we do the same things - that's not really the win," Lohmeier said. "The win is you have somebody who plays with bigger budgets, bigger numbers, does this exclusively. We hire professional consultants for much smaller things than our budget process."

Lohmeier said the township is about $13,000 under in its professional services budget for this year. No one knows how many hours he will work.

"To me, it's get in, get out," he said. "Take

VanderVeen

"Let him more or less direct what he needs and where we're going to go - he's the expert."

advantage of all you can out of somebody with some good track record and then if we end up spending $3,000-$5,000 on this, we've made a pretty good investment."

Carson's concern was to "keep the scope limited," and to make sure it was the board providing the budget.

"We're the decision making board," Carson said. "So, he (Lamerato) could offer some suggestions and so on, (but) we're going to be the one's who actually make the decisions."

Trustee Neil Wallace said previously, he was "impressed that he was not the sort that would run hog wild."

With Wagner absent from the meeting,

Trustee Mark Petterson asked if the supervisor "fully understood the limits of what they want him (Lamerato) to do."

"I spoke again to Mr. Wagner late this afternoon," VanderVeen said. "(I asked him) 'do I have your blessing to come out and say this?' He said 'absolutely.'"

Petterson also asked if Lamerato would be working with the Finance Director Susan Hendricks, or if the board would work with Hendricks to get the budget together and give it to Lamerato.

"I want a budget and I want a budget right now," he said. "I'm very anxious to get this taken care of. I don't want this going into Christmas."

VanderVeen suggested giving Lamerato what they have.

"Let him more or less direct what he needs and where we're going to go," she said. "He's the expert."

Wallace agreed he didn't really see any reason for Lamerato to work "in any integrated way with the finance director."

"I wouldn't want anybody making a decision about what our budget is going to be other than this board. That ultimately is our responsibility and I think he understands that," Wallace said. "He deals with the city council down there and if you watch the wrestling matches that were the Troy City Council over the last year, they make us look like pikers"

Lamerato could not be reached for comment.

Wolves battle in the end zone for cancer

BY WENDI REARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

The boys left the post game pep talk still dressed in their array of pink and blue jerseys, Saturday night.

Though the scoreboard read 27-10, everyone left as a winner during the second annual Football for a Cure event by the Clarkston Wolves Football Program.

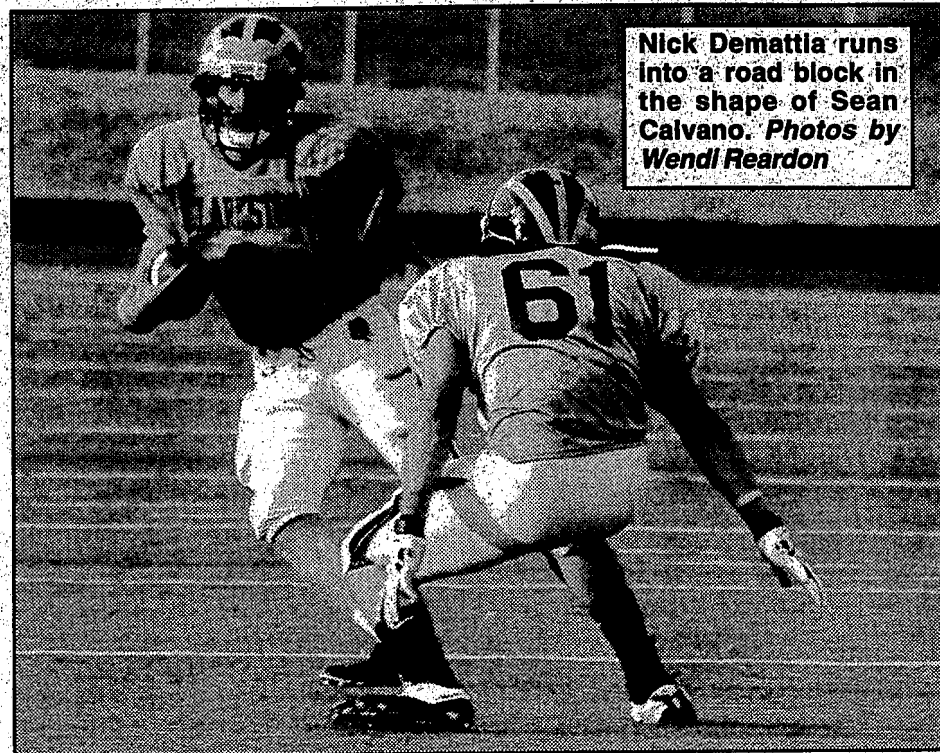

"It's amazing," said Noreen Dyczkowski, of Lake Orion. "It's so good to see young people fighting for a cure because it affects everyone of all ages."

The boys divided into two teams, pink and blue, and proudly announced who they were playing for at the beginning of the game.

A handful of players represented their loved ones on the field – Brett Eberle wore #76 for his Grandma Dean and Nick McNally wore #98 for his Grandpa McNally, while other played for entire families or varsity coaches' family members.

The game began with the pink team in possession of the ball and starting on the 22-yard line after C.J. Gozdor caught the kick off.

The pink team's edged closed to the other side of the field but their chances dwindled down. Brian Benway kicked a 29-yard field goal on the fourth down to put pink on the board.

Nick Demattia runs into a road block in the shape of Sean Calvano. Photos by Wendi Reardon

The tides turned at the end of the first quarter when the blue team's Mike Henige scored a touchdown. Alex Barta kick for PAT was good, leaving the pink team behind.

The next quarter brought two touchdowns, one from Max Collins and another from Matt Dellinger.

The blue team kept the lead until the end-scoring two touchdowns in the last quarter.

Fans in the stands wore their own pink and blue in support for the event wearing T-shirts and bracelets.

Wearing the pink and blue also helped as all proceeds from the event went to Great Lakes Cancer Institute and McLaren Breast Center in Clarkston.

"Cancer isn't a game, but it is a battle," said Dyczkowski, sharing her story of fighting metastatic breast cancer.

When she had her biopsy, it showed she had cancer in her bone, and the cancer had traveled from the breast.

"It's like football," she continued. "It takes a good team and my doctor assembled an offense and defense."

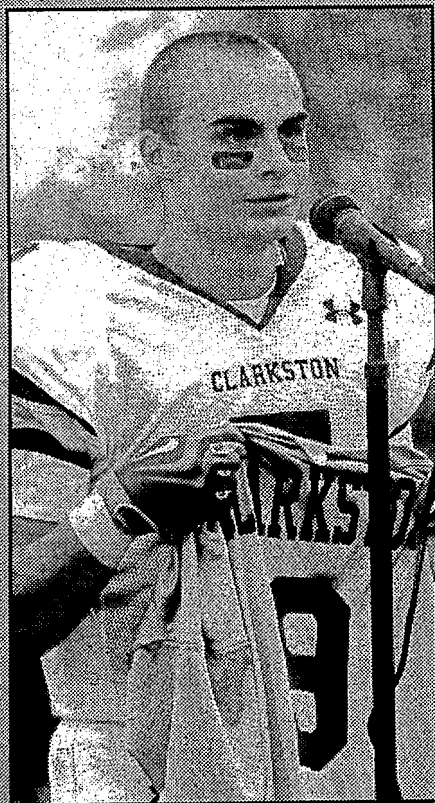

She had coaches helping her along the way and cheerleaders on the sidelines in her husband, Jerrome, children, grandchildren and everyone she passed at the clinic.

"The team carried me from fourth down to first down. We even had a field goal," she said.

Now she is going for the big play of the game, the touchdowns of all touchdowns and is trying a new chemotherapy.

"They are looking for it to take me to the next level which would be remission," Dyczkowski said. She was happy about what the doctors expect from her and all the fans supporting the Wolves for their event.

"I can't believe all the wonderful support they were able to drive," she added.

Joey Goss

Athletes of the Week

Look out OAA foes

Max Collins and Joey Goss represented two of the many standouts during Saturday's intra-squad scrimmage for Clarkston's Football for a Cure.

Wearing a pink jersey, Collins, a senior fullback and linebacker scored the first touchdown for the pink team.

He delivered when his team needed the points after the Blue team pulled ahead of the Pink team's field goal with a touchdown.

Goss, a junior running back, quick feet kept him out of reach of Pink's defense men. When faced with one block he whirled around and escaped. The momentum got Pink closer.

The Pink team did manage to catch Goss was caught a few times but quick thinking and zig-zags led him out traps.

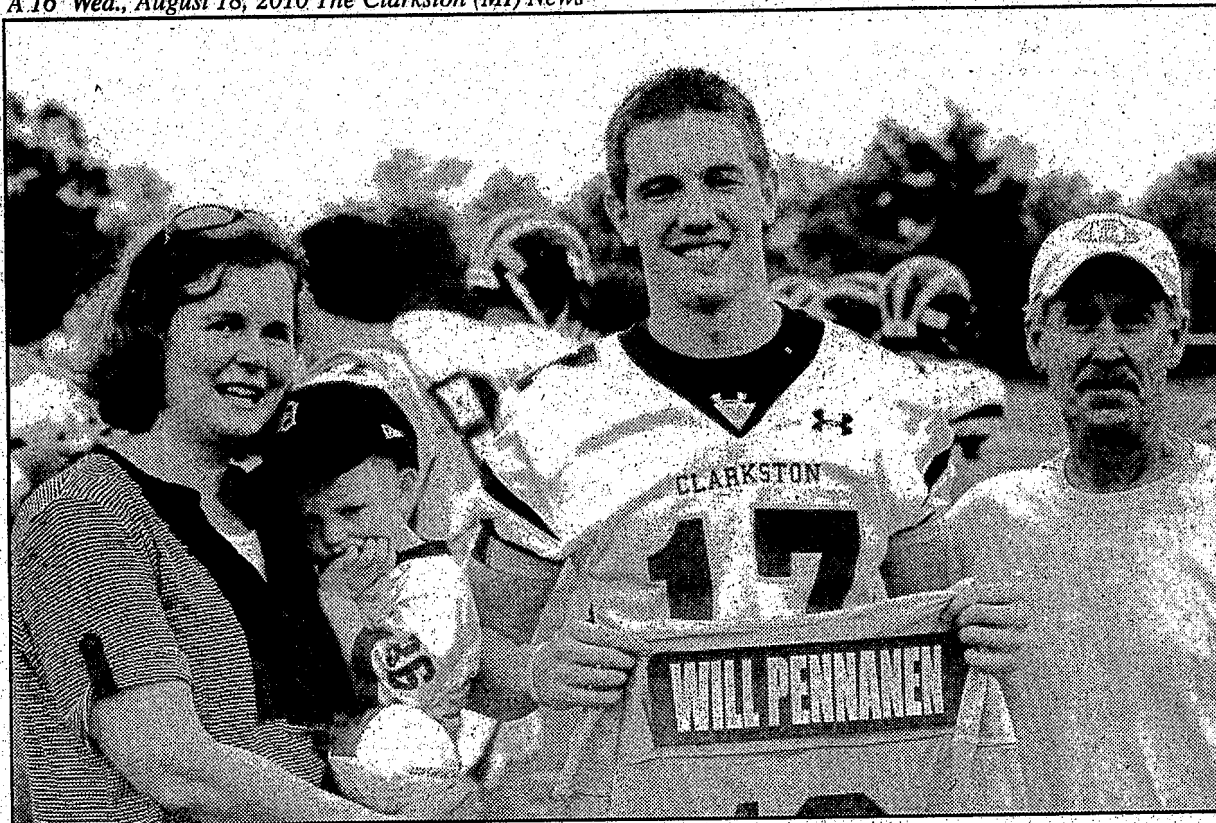

The boys practice the next week to get ready for their home opener against Rochester Adams on Aug. 27.

Crown your tooth in one day - it's easy with Dr. Greenfield

Feeling a little down in the mouth about multiple trips to the dentist for a crown or other restorative work?

At Lake Orion Family Dentistry, Dr. Brad Greenfield has the solution. Using CEREC technology, Dr. Greenfield can provide patients with a high-quality restoration of a tooth damaged by decay or fracture.

And it only takes one visit.

"In a couple of hours we're able to complete the work, start to finish, and check everything on the spot," said Dr. Greenfield. "People rave about it."

In the past, he explained, that a crown, onlay or inlay would require two visits to the dentist—not to mention the hassle of wearing a temporary crown in the interim.

"They fall out all the time," said Dr. Greenfield. "But, of course, they don't fall out at the dentist. They fall out at dinner, they fall out during the family vacation. They're hard to deal with."

CEREC, he said, is a better option. So how does it work?

An acronym for "Chairside Economical Restoration of Esthetic Ceramics," CEREC is a state-of-the-art dental system used to produce ceramic restorations through digital imaging. Images are loaded into a computer and processed with specialized software to create a model.

A precision, computer-controlled milling machine then carves the actual restoration from a ceramic block. When complete, the restoration is bonded to the tooth using a resin.

Dr. Brad Greenfield and the team at Lake Orion Family Dentistry offer quality, innovative care and a warm, friendly atmosphere.

"It's a very conservative restoration, but it can make the tooth almost as strong as it used to be," said Dr. Greenfield, noting the tooth-colored ceramic used in CEREC has properties similar to human enamel.

In addition to the time-savings aspect of a one-visit restoration, CEREC offers other advantages over the conventional process, as well, Dr. Greenfield explained.

For example, more conservation of tooth structure. Often, a partial-coverage restoration can be completed rather than a full conventional crown.

"We prepare only the damaged portion of the tooth," Dr. Greenfield said. "Others prepare the whole tooth, cutting it down to a nub, even though a significant portion is still good. It can be quite uncomfortable."

CEREC restorations tend to be less sensitive to hot and cold than a standard filling, and high-fear patients are glad to come in, get the work done and go home without the anxiety of a return trip.

"It's also great if you don't like goo, or have a gag reflex," Dr. Greenfield said. "With CEREC, you don't have to sit there with that goo in your mouth like when you get a regular crown."

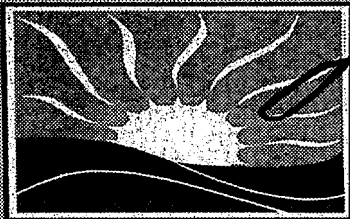

Dr. Greenfield also has the expertise and technology to safely remove old mercury fillings.

"This is where CEREC really shines," he said, noting a staunch advocacy against the use of mercury. "The metal-free restoration is very beautiful and feels good in your mouth."

Whatever the reason for choosing CEREC, he said, the results are the same: A strong, attractive restoration that blends seamlessly with your smile and feels like a natural tooth.

Established in 1960, Lake Orion Family Dentistry offers a wide variety of preventative, cosmetic and general dentistry for children and adults, as well as a state-of-the-art—yet warm and welcoming—facility.

Familiar face, new role

BY WENDI REARDON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Seventy players kicked the soccer balls across the green last Thursday afternoon. Charles Lawhorn watched the players as he did every August for the last five years. But this year was different he was looking for varsity players.

Lawhorn was named head coach for the Clarkston High School Boys Varsity Soccer team in June when Adam Bican stepped down from the position for family.

During the last four years he coached the JV team. He came to Clarkston when his sister said the position opened.

"I met with Adam. He liked what I had to say and hired me," said Lawhorn.

Being with the Clarkston Soccer Program has allowed for a smooth transition over the last few months.

Lawhorn isn't a stranger to the varsity team. He helped throughout the last four seasons being on the bench and assisting when it was needed.

He also already knows the players from coaching them on the JV team. He admitted only a few he hasn't coached but knows them.

Lawhorn noted it does help knowing the programs and the players.

"It has been a smooth transition," he said, adding he has no plans for changes to the program. "We have been a winning program for years and we will continue it."

Lawhorn

Another dynamic helping him and the players in the transition is the family closeness in the program.

"One thing we do stress is family," he said. "Between the coaches, the kids and the parents everyone is close."

"We have an opportunity to be very competitive this year," said Lawhorn.

The boys are aiming for the OAA Red league title and a district title.

"Our expectations are always high in Clarkston and after districts we aim to do the best we can," said Lawhorn.

The boys begin the season on Saturday at the Traverse City Invitational. They host their home opener on Tuesday against cross town rivals, Lake Orion.

JV begins at 5:30 p.m., varsity follows.

How's the 'summer of recovery' going for you?

"It's pretty stagnant - not much has changed yet. I just retired from General Motors, from the plant that just closed down. I got out just in time."

- Tom Chaput

"I'm retired. The recovery is fine for me, but not for everyone else. It's still pretty slow."

- Paul Barriger

"I've been going out of town to work the whole summer - it's better in other places. At least I'm working."

"It's a very slow recovery. People still don't have jobs. But it's been a wonderful summer. We take the grandkids to Cook's and the spray park."

Hasselbach named All-American in softball

BY WENDI REARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

Taylor Hasselbach learned some exciting news at a softball tournament with her Finesse Fastpitch 18U team - she was named All-American.

Hasselbach, a 2010 Clarkston High School grad, earned the honor of being named to the 2010 Louisville Slugger/National Fastpitch Coaches Association All-American first team.

"I was kind of surprised," Hasselbach admitted. "I was definitely excited about it."

Forty-eight student athletes from 40 different high schools were chosen. Hasselbach was the only athlete from Michigan to receive the honor.

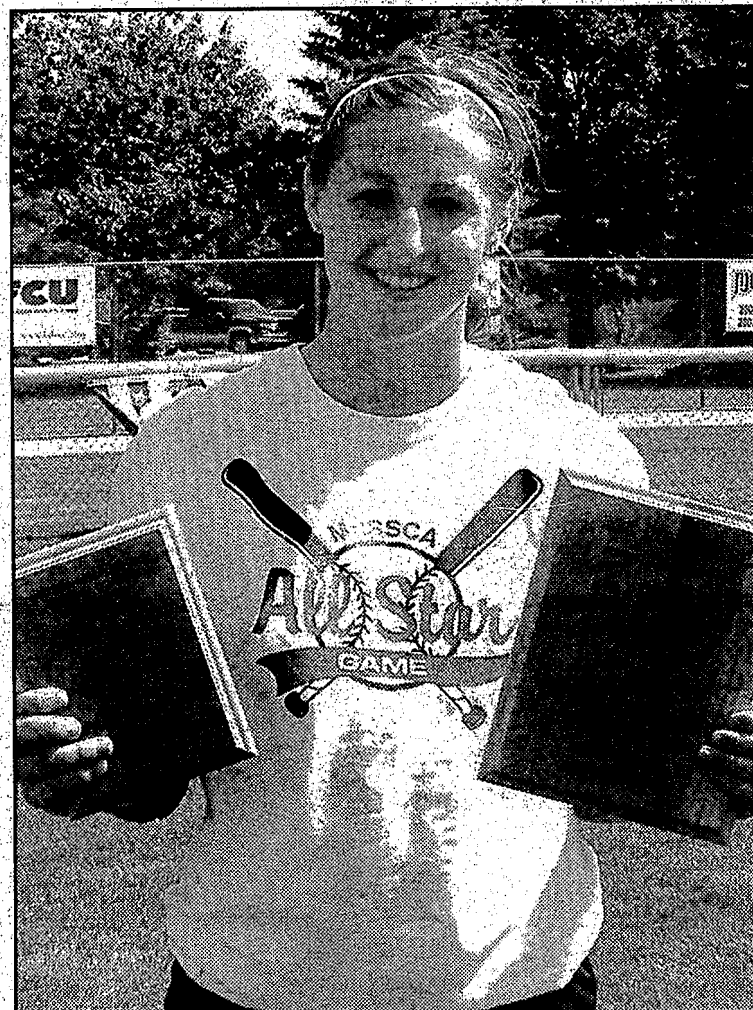

"Most of the players are from Texas, California, and Arizona," said Don Peters, head coach for the Lady Wolves Girls Varsity Softball team. "It's a very prestigious honor."

Hasselbach represents one of the shortstops chosen for the first team. The other shortstop is Tammy Wray of Somers, New York.

Though known for her quick work on defense, Hasselbach also brought fear to pitchers on the plate. She scored 59 runs off 67 hits during her senior year. She hit 18 doubles, four triples and 10 home runs.

Throughout her high school career, Hasselbach maintained a .569 batting average and had 241 hits and 206 RBIs.

Peters added he would look at her slugging percentage and batting average throughout the spring season and was amazed.

"Her phenomenal slugging percentage, well in the 1,000s, and batting average has helped," said Peters. "Her statistics are as good as anyone in the country, and softball states traditionally noticed are out west and in the south."

Hasselbach was named Miss Softball by the Michigan High School Softball Coaches Association in June - a first for a Clarkston player. She was named to the All-State first team for third base.

She said her passion for the game helped her receive her honors.

"I always want to get better and I have motivation to keep improving," she added.

Hasselbach has played softball as long as she can remember.

"My dad really got me involved with sports and played softball with me out in the yard," she recalled.

She continues her career in the fall as she becomes a Lady Wolverine for University of Michigan.

It was a childhood dream to go to the university, and she accepted a scholarship last fall.

Hasselbach is currently getting ready to leave in September and is running and conditioning to keep herself in shape.

"It's good for her, the softball program and Clarkston High School," said Peters.

Honors throughout her high school career include All-State during her last three years, and All-County and All-League for the last four years.

Since her freshman year the team has won two district titles.

"It's a fun game to play and your hard work through the year pays off for you," she said for future Lady Wolves.

Youth Theatre students learn stunt secrets

A University of Michigan student with Ring of Steel Action Theatre demonstrates a fire stunt.

BY PHIL CUSTODIO
Clarkston News Editor

Young actors got a crash course in advanced stagecraft at several theater workshops this summer. A workshop earlier this month included stuntmen crashing through a window.

"The man on fire, doused in protective gel, trampoline stunts – it was one of those, don't-try-this-at-home things," said Sona Lalji, director of Mt. Zion School of Performing Arts in Independence Township. "They showed us how it's done."

Mt. Zion offers a performing arts program every year, with a Youth Theatre Program added a few years ago. This is their first stunt workshop.

"We'll continue that," Lalji said.

Their youth theater group is preparing for their first live show, "Aladdin," in October.

"Part of that development was to bring in outside people," Lalji said.

Ring of Steel Action Theatre performers from University of Michigan demonstrated the fire stunt, high falls, fire whips, running through a window, as well as stage makeup and other theatrical techniques in a two-day workshop for more than 50 Mt. Zion students.

They'll use their ideas for stage makeup,

Mt. Zion Youth Theatre students watch a stuntman jump through a window. Photos provided but not the fire, broken glass, falls and other advanced stunts, she said.

Ring of Steel was one of several workshops this past summer on Broadway, stage combat, voice and accent development, improvisation, and other theatre disciplines.

Established in 1986, Mt. Zion School of Performing Arts begins its 18th season this September. Registrations are also accepted for classes in theatre, dance, and music, for students as young as 3 years old.

Their annual open house for new families is Friday, Aug. 20, 5-8 p.m., at the church, 4900 Maybee Road. For more information, call 248-393-1407 or visit the website at www.mtzionarts.org.

Religion

There is still hope for our country in Jesus

Well, I purposely held off writing this column so that we could see the results of the elections held earlier this month.

For some there were a lot of surprises, for others they saw just what they expected to see. Yet, no matter how you look at it, it was not business as usual.

What do I mean by this?

Well, let us look to Matthew 22:36-39 where we read: "Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law?"

And He [Jesus] said to him, "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.

This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: "You shall love your neighbor as yourself."

Over the past several weeks, we have heard countless campaign ads that have told us nothing of what the candidate will do for our state or local government, but we have sure heard all about how the "other guy" has done us wrong or will do us wrong.

Best construction or a smear campaign?

My mother always told me that if I could not say something good about someone else, then I should not say anything about them. So in an election, how would we campaign? Well, of course, we would tell everyone what we would do!

Such a novel idea don't you think?

I have heard that negativity sells and in a campaign, the candidate wants the biggest bang for his buck.

In fact, just about everyone wants the biggest bang for their buck. And that brings us to my very point: that in our society, we really don't care how we do it, just give us what we want.

The ends always justify the means. Well at least that is what we want to believe. We believe that it justifies us and makes us feel good about what we have done

Spiritual Matters

Father Kelly Todd

and about ourselves.

Sounds pretty selfish doesn't it?

It follows right with the corporate idea of making the bottom line all important. I can remember a day when a young person would take their first job while in high school, and unless it were delivering newspapers, they might well retire from that job, and with a pension.

Over the years this has changed dramatically. Some of the latest government information states that the average person will have 12 jobs in their life time.

And today, that does not even mean that they will have a retirement to go with it. This points to corporate greed. The corporations only care about themselves.

Actually, greed is one of the biggest issues that we have in our world today. It is not about what is right or wrong, as I said earlier, it is all about the bottom line.

Can you imagine a world that followed God's plan "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. And you shall love your neighbor as yourself."

Yet, this is what God desires: for us to treat everyone with love and respect, not just our children, or our spouses, but also those we work with, buy from and sell to, and anyone with whom we interact.

We are all sinners and we all have fallen short of God's will, but by His grace and mercy, He gives us a second chance and even a third and fourth chance.

His will for us is to trust and believe on Him, forsaking all others, and to share His word with others so that they too may know Him as their Lord and Savior.

There is still hope for our country, and for us and that hope comes from none other than Jesus Christ.

For He alone suffered on the cross for our sins, died, descended into hell, rose from the dead on the third day, and ascended into heaven to live eternally!

And His desire is to share this heaven and eternal life, with all who believe Him as their Lord and Savior.

The Rev. Kelly Todd is pastor of Christ Lutheran Church.

Is Your Retirement Safe and Secure?

"...The real problem starts only a decade or so from now, when Social Security begins to take in less cash than it spends!"

- Fortune Magazine, October 2008.

"The ugly truth is that the 401(k) is a lousy idea, a financial flop, a rotten repository for our financial reserves."

- Time Magazine, October 9, 2009.

"The huge loss of value in those accounts caused by the stock market decline has imperiled retirements for older workers and caused younger workers to wonder whether they should have participated at all."

- PBS, May 2009

Team 6, front to back, Troy Hughes, Evan Wolfert, Paul Lafata, and Michael Gapczynski, was the Champion Team, earning $350 towards their annual dues.

Racers learn life lessons at Regatta

Racers stayed mostly dry at this year's RUSH Regatta, as their homemade boats stayed together even after multiple heats.

Not bad for cardboard and duct tape.

"These kids are getting the idea, it's very cool," said Kyle Hughes, Team RUSH leader, at the Aug. 14 event. "They were more competitive with each other this year."

Students designed and built boats, contacted local businesses and community groups for sponsorships, and prepared presentations for volunteer judges on what they learned.

"The kids worked really hard," said Wendy McFalda, judge. "The presentations were more polished. They seemed to have started much earlier."

"Overall, very high quality this year - they look good," said judge Curt Carson. "They really went out into the community. They got as much in sponsorships as last year, even in this economy."

Family and friends lined the shore of Deer Lake for the races, including Paula Lafata, whose son, Team RUSH student John Lafata, passed away in 2007.

"We keep in contact with the team

- they've become family," said Paula, who now presents a John Lafata Heart Scholarship to a graduating senior each year. "John was going to be in the first one - his brother took his place."

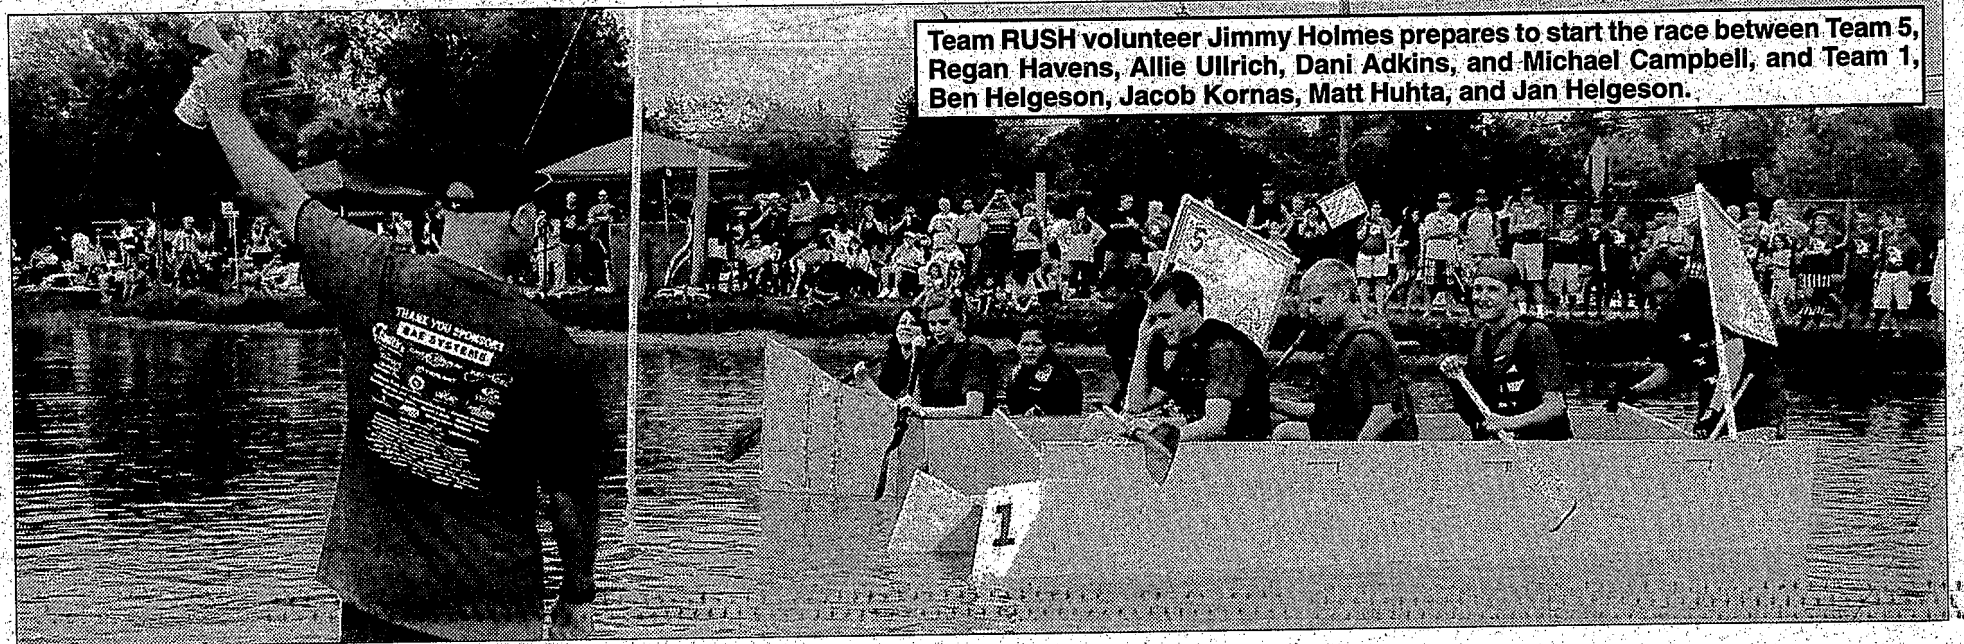

Race finished, Team RUSH students are working on sponsorships for their "back to school supplies" event for students in need in the district, Sept. 1. They provided supplies to more than 100 students last year, Hughes said.

For more information, check www.teamrush27.net.

Boat Team 7, Gabby David, Nick Lee, Jonah Sementkowski, and Mitchell St. Amour, battle Team 2 around the bend.

Team RUSH volunteer Jimmy Holmes prepares to start the race between Team 5, Regan Havens, Allie Ullrich, Dani Adkins, and Michael Campbell, and Team 1, Ben Helgeson, Jacob Kornas, Matt Huhta, and Jan Helgeson.
