Superintendent contract on hold

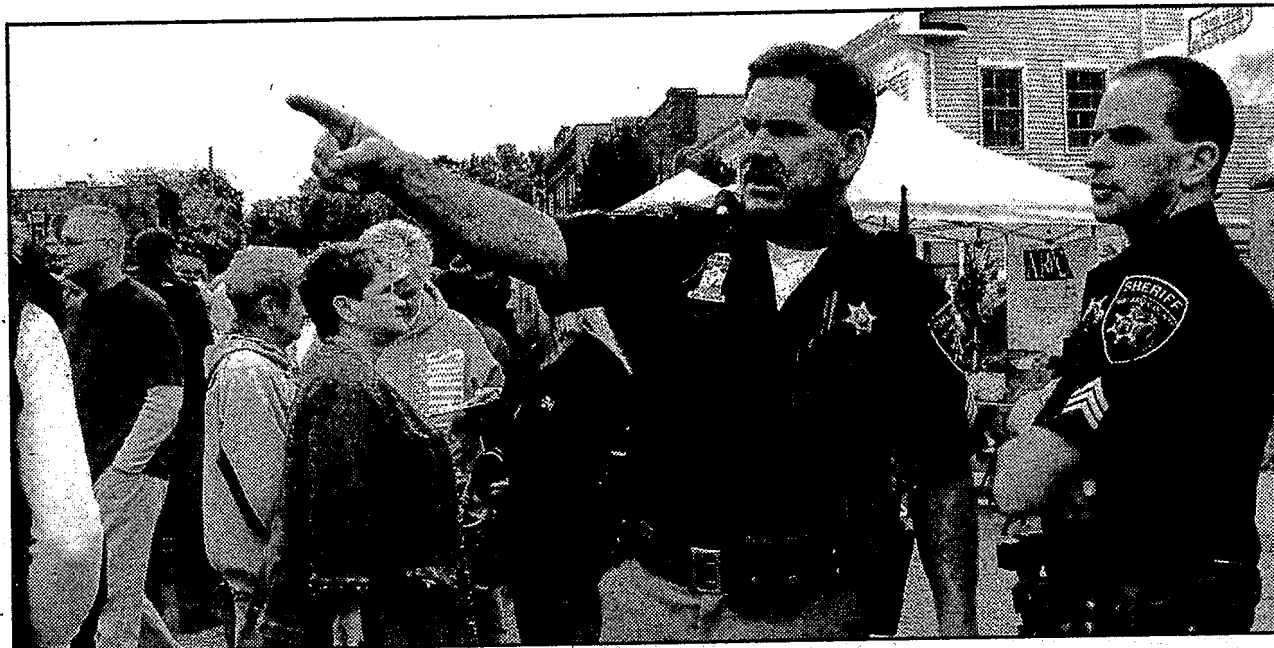

BY WENDI REARDON
Clarkston News Staff Writer

A $4,000 contract change was a deal breaker, Monday, for superintendent candidate Rod Rock. Clarkston Board of Education voted 3-3 on the contract – a majority is required for passage.

“What I see is $4,000,” said Secretary Joan Patterson, noting the base salary increased from $140,000 to $144,000 by the time the final version was ready to be voted on.

Deputies, city get reacquainted

BY PHIL CUSTODIO

Clarkston's police protection is under new management, but service remains the same, officials say. "I would encourage anybody in the public to not ever hesitate to call us," said Oakland County Sheriff Lt. Dale LaBair, commander of Independence

Township Substation. "We're more than happy to respond."

Callers reach the same county dispatch office as before, when Clarkston Police officers were on duty.

"The people you're talking to are the very same people you've talked to all along," LaBair said.

Dr. Rock would focus on district-wide collaboration

BY PHIL CUSTODIO
Clarkston News Editor

When Dr. Rod Rock was one of six finalists for superintendent, he stopped by Clarkston High School to check it out.

"It was a Friday afternoon, the football team was scrimmaging, the school was just alive," Rock said. "A custodian wondered who I was, and I said I was interviewing for superintendent. He offered to take me on a tour."

He spoke to several teachers, administrators and students as he passed by, he said.

"I visited classrooms, the robotics lab, media center – I met so many people, and they all responded with pride," he said. "It really meant a lot."

Offered the job, Sept. 13, Rock accepted and is finalizing details on the three-year contract.

Clarkston offers his first opportunity to serve as superintendent.

"I have a lot to learn," he said. "I need to do a lot of listening and build relationships – listen to people, hear what they're thinking, what they're excited about, where opportunities exist."

Rock, 41, grew up in the Millington area. As a high school senior, he served a co-op in elementary special education.

"I really enjoyed it, and I saw it as my calling," he said.

He earned his teaching degree at Aquinas College, and taught physical education, reading, and math, and coached basketball at Unionville-Sebewaing Area Elementary School for six years.

Earning his master's degree at Central Michigan University, he became principal at the Sebewaing school.

"At the school, there were some negative issues – culture, school climate, differences in philosophy and teaching style," he said. "I decided I needed to step up and take a role in leadership or move on to a different job."

He served as principal for seven years, earning his doctorate at CMU. He was then hired as director of instructional services for Saginaw Intermediate School District, where he served for four years.

He interviewed with Clarkston Community Schools Board of Education on Aug. 23, then returned for a follow-up,

Aug. 31. He turned down an offer to serve as superintendent for Caro Community Schools, Aug. 26.

Rock

"It was a very thorough hiring process," he said. "To choose me is a great honor – I have an obligation to be a good superintendent."

Clarkston is a great community with amazing facilities, buildings, and grounds, he said.

"I want to build on the great things already happening in the district," he said. "I have quite a bit of work to do. Budgets, contracts, management, school board, curriculum – all are important. At the same time, education is evolving."

Rock's teaching philosophy is based on Organizational Learning ideas of education reformer Michael Fullan. The idea rejects a top-down management style in favor of collaboration at all levels, with students and employees organized into Professional Learning Communities.

"School board, administration, principal, support, food service, we're all learners and teachers," he said. "This is an opportunity to focus on learning and build something long-term, together. I'm excited to be part of the process."

Technology also presents opportunities for more effective, individualized education, he said.

"Each student learns in a different way – build on their strengths," he said.

Short-term plans include meeting school employees, students, parents, people in the community,

"Be visible and approachable, and take every opportunity to talk about learning, thinking, and engaging to help people get to know me," he said. "Then, based on what I learn, look for opportunities down the road on how we can work together to do the best we can for Clarkston 8,200 students."

Long-term plans also include meeting with policy makers and legislators, superintendents for other school districts and universities.

His wife, Karen, and their two daughters will stay in the Sebewaing as details are finalized, he said.

Contract held for more info

"I thought we were generous with the salary the first time. With class sizes being large and schools giving up a lot last year – I do have an issue with this," she continued.

"Every dollar counts," said Treasurer Rosalie Lieblang, who requested more information as to why the $4,000 was moved from tax sheltered retirement to base salary.

"He (Rock) made a request and I said I would bring it to the board," responded Board President Steve Hyer.

Trustees Cheryl McGinnis and Elizabeth Egan voted yes on the contract, as did Hyer. Lieblang, Patterson and Vice President Sue Boatman voted no. Trustee Barry Bomier was absent from the meeting.

Hyer did not respond to requests for information on the the board's next plan of action.

Deputies back on duty in city

Deputies stationed at the Citation Road substation took over patrol of Clarkston four weeks ago, after Clarkston Police Department was disbanded.

"By and large it's gone pretty well," LaBair said. "Frankly, it was not an overwhelming vote. We thought there might be some sensitivity from people who might be a little ruffled by it."

Independence Township deputies patrolled Clarkston before it became a city, but that was in 1992 – lots of relearning is needed, he said.

"I've given a mandate to get out there and learn the town," he said. "I don't want them fumbling around if a call comes up. I want the people in the city to know us, to know exactly who they're dealing with. We've made a point to stress that very hard."

Townships may share deputy

BY TREVOR KEISER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Fresh from taking over Clarkston police services, Independence Township deputies are considering helping out in Brandon Township.

"Everybody is looking at ways to cut costs," said Lt. Dale LaBair, commander of Oakland County Sheriff substation in Independence Township.

"When we started looking at this, we discussed it with a bunch of townships," said LaBair at the Sept. 21 Independence Township Board meeting. "The one that looks like it's going to probably come to fruition is with Brandon."

Independence assigns at least three officers to the midnight shift, 11 p.m.-7 a.m., and Brandon assigns two. The idea would be to take one of the Independence deputies, share that position with Brandon and split the cost.

"We would probably have one assigned that would become a district car - he would run back and forth between the two calls," he said. "Best way I can describe it, we would go from three to two and a half, and they would go from two to one and a half."

LaBair estimated it would save township's $60,000 plus a year as well as trim overtime costs by a third.

"I think they're (Brandon) looking at it very positively," LaBair said. "They have pretty serious issues going on and have to make some cuts."

Brandon Township Supervisor Kathy Thurman said they are currently working out a proposal.

"I would be in favor of pursuing a consolidation attempt," she said.

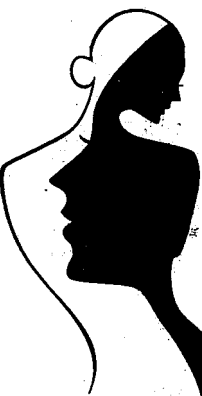

Independence Township Trustee David Lohmeier said he liked the idea.

Independence Trustee Mark Petterson asked if subcontracting with Brandon would affect the contract they have with Clarkston.

"I don't think that's going to stress patrolling the city," LaBair said. "By reducing our commitment by one half of a patrol person, and that person sharing that patrol responsibility, I don't think that's going to cause us any problems."

Trustee Neil Wallace thought it was "a step in the right direction"

"I like that you've taken this step," Wallace said. "I don't like the idea of a full-subcontract with Brandon, and I like the notion that you're continuing to explore other ways to consolidate, regionalize, and cost cut."

Recycling old technology equals learning experience

BY TREVOR KEISER
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Cars lined up Saturday at Sashabaw Middle School to drop off loads of old electronics for the third "E-Waste for Recycling" event, led by the Academic Service Learning class.

"It's a group of young leaders who take a class to focus on ecology (and) the environment, while learning about that they also serve the community," said Rodney Pierson, seventh grade teacher at the middle school.

This year they were raising money for Lighthouse North.

Student Matt Covert said he was there to volunteer and help out.

"I just like helping people and just really big into the volunteering and I really like looking at all the different electronics," he said. "I like a lot of electronics."

Matthew Wesolowski, also liked electronics.

"I like to look at electronics and take everything apart and put everything together," Wesolowski said. "While looking at everything we found one of the first apple computers."

Zachary Evans also enjoys helping people, and electronics as well.

"I find it very fun to look at all the old stuff people will bring in," he said.

Claire Galligan and Alexis Beck who were charged with collecting donations, while waiting for donors to drive up, would dance and spin in the parking lot.

"We're having a lot of fun and we're glad we're helping Lighthouse North," Galligan said.

"We hope to raise a lot of money for them," added Beck.

Pierson was proud of all the students and their hard work.

"I think if you treat these kids as young adults and young leaders what they can do, the potential is unlimited," he said. "Every time we do this we have a huge turn out and the kids like being a part of something that makes a huge difference."

Keiser's Role

A column by Trevor Keiser

Same opinion

I've had a few weeks to think about my last column about dissolving the city and making it part of Independence Township, along with considering the thoughts of those who have written letters to the editor, and various conversations I've had since then.

I still believe dissolving the city would be the best choice. No matter how you look at it, I can't justify paying twice as much in taxes for an extra layer of government who controls lawn mowing and grass cutting.

I know one letter writer said the debate "can't be just dollars and cents decision, it has to be based on us keeping our own identity."

What is your identity? If your identity is simply the historic homes and building within the village, I have no problem keeping a sign that says "Village of Clarkston" marking that people are entering the historic part of the town.

As far as votes "being swallowed up" by the township, they already are swallowed up. All critical services are controlled by Independence, and city residents have no vote. If the city becomes part of the township, every vote would be counted equally.

Another letter writer said they were all for getting rid of an extra layer of government, but disagreed with dropping the name, "Independence Township."

The issue I have with the name is the lack of originality. Mr. Joseph Van Sytle, who named it in 1834, named it after the place he came from. Pretty lame.

But naming a town after the first settlers, such as the Clark brothers, well, that's a little more original thinking and brings significance to it. Besides "Clarkston" just has a nice ring to it.

As far as both names "coexisting" I don't think that works either. Keeping both names still suggest separation, and turf war like mindedness, the idea is to become "one community."

Those interested in hearing more about it, tune into Clarkston411 on Thurs, Sept. 30 at 6 p.m., for a discussion featuring city resident and former councilman Cory Johnston and city resident and former township resident Michael Sabol, hosted by editor Phil Custodio.

Trustees' efforts not to laugh at

Dear Editor,

I watch most of the Township Board meetings on the local cable channel. Our Township Board is not the laughing stock of the entire County.

For Supervisor David Wagner to say that is his excuse for taking the meetings down off the Internet is self-serving and a gross overstatement.

To be certain, there have been many vigorous debates in board meetings which often bring out facts and circumstances that are important for residents to understand, particularly since it is our government.

Just last month a West Bloomfield Township trustee sued that township's supervisor just three months after the same trustee had filed a lawsuit against that township's police department, all arising supposedly out of the conduct of West Bloomfield Township business.

With West Bloomfield and many other communities' Boards and City Councils doing battle, ours is certainly not a laughing stock.

Those on our Township Board who are pushing for greater transparency and visibility of the township's for all the public to see should be encouraged and supported openly. The township belongs to its residents, not its government.

Reader spots missed opportunity

Dear Editor,

I sent a link to Linda Richardson of the Independence DPW and New Wallace Township trustee, to an EPA grant for $250,000 that could be used for environmental work here.

We qualified, I checked it out and we most certainly would have received the money, all that had to be done was to fill out an application and write a grant, something I knew how to do and would have done, given the opportunity.

portunity.

I would have personally benefited from this as there would have actually been work in my career field that I would have been almost guaranteed to be hired for, as the grant was to be used on local projects with local people. I can't tell you why nothing was done about it, all I know is that nothing was done. I assume they didn't think it was important.

Hang on! There's bound to be something relative

I'm going to start thinking positive, but I know it won't work.

• I know it can't be just me, but when I see a headline on an editorial page that says something like "Michigan in need of hardy dose of reality" I first check the ending. If a professor is the author, I turn the page. Our president has chosen a whole lot of these learned to run his cabinet. You know, the non- or even anti-business types, those with no business backgrounds and professional livers-off-the-doles.

Jim's Jottings

a column by Jim Sherman

• I don't know how I got over the hill without getting to the top.

• Appearing before Congress Janet Napolitano bragged that since her going to Washington, as Secretary of Homeland Security, a lot more illegals have been deported than under the previous administration. What she doesn't compare is a ratio. Like how many are being deported compared to the number then and now who are crossing into our country illegally.

• When everything's coming your way you're in the wrong lane.

• Some agency, or other guesser, says our cities are headed for disastrous explosions. The gas pipe lines are old, decaying and gonna burst. There are miles and miles of these delivery lines under, say Detroit, and explosions are inevitable. As if it wasn't enough to be concerned of fish entering our Great Lakes, over weightedness, unemployment numbers, explosion of bed bug births, and, ah, oh, maybe that's what Detroit needs is some destructive, but non-killing explosions.

• Baby Boomers then and now - Then: Acid Rock. Now: acid reflux.

• I got a note recently from a former publisher of the Owosso Argus Press that a resident of Morrice is still complaining about the newspaper on his roof that was thrown there by me in 1943. What? No complaints about those I threw in bushes?

• Hard work never killed anybody, but why risk it.

• I've been a member, even a past president, of Oxford Rotary since 1955. Maybe because of we dress too casually (jacketless) that few of us wear our lapel pins anymore. I'm on an awareness committee that's promoting Rotary emblem exposure. So, I went through my vase of lapel buttons. There's the Lions Club, Disabled American Veterans, Masons, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Knights Templar, Michigan Press Association, Hole-in-one Club and Western Michigan University. I need huge lapels.

• Obama, et al in Washington, have banned light bulbs as we have known them since Edison. Starting in 2014 they cannot even be marketed. These bulb makers laid off about 30,000 employees in the U.S. recently. The only source for these lesslight, higher-cost lights being forced on us are made in China. So much for the "Buy American" slogan. Killed by the president, lobbyists, greenies etc.

• Not bathing - another good form of birth control.

• Refereeing and umpiring should be preferred jobs. They can be wrong, but they aren't fined. They can cheat and not be called on it. Like at the Miami vs. Pittsburgh football game last week. Pittsburgh kicked the ball out of bounds on Miami's eleven and a half yard line. That's where the ump marked it with his foot. When the ball was moved they put it on the 12 yard line. Why not the 11 yard line? Ah, a favor being played? That's cheating. That's 18 inches Miami didn't have to go for a td. Ball and strike callers are frequently shown to miss a call. I say they should be sent to bed-bugged bed early with no supper.

• Never think of reasoning with a mule, whether it has four legs or only two.

Don has got to ask: What is going on in the classroom?

Editor's Note: work pulled Don in different directions this week . . . here is a Best of Don, from 2002. We think you'll smile.

It's been about a month since nearly five year old Shamus R., entered big time education. Kindergarten has settled well with Shamus, why, just this morning he spent breakfast time showing off by reading the labels on the milk bottle, orange juice jug, margarine tub and the oatmeal box.

He can read and write and count and, he informed me one braggadocious moment not too long ago, that he, Shamus the Great, had won a medal (that was metal, by golly!) in gym for skipping, running, hopping and the like. "I could do it all," he said with bravado.

If I do say so myself, he's getting pretty full of himself. (For the life of me, I cannot understand where he gets it?) At any rate Shamus keeps us informed of what's going on in class on his own terms. I think he's decided that dear old mom and dad are security risks, and have been put on the informational blacklist. Information comes on a strictly need-to-know basis only.

That's kind of disheartening -- he always shared everything that was on his mind and every life experience. "Poppy, I even wiped my butt all by myself today."

G-r-e-a-t . . .

But not anymore, it's like we have to pry information from him. All the trendy parenting books preach about "getting involved with your child." "Interact with him or her." "Ask him how his day went." "Ask him what was the first thing they did."

Blah, blah blah -- but we were desperate, so we tried.

"Shamus, how was school today?"

"Good."

"And . . . ?"

"We played."

"And . . . (time to switch parental strategy) what was the first thing you did at school today?"

"Got off the bus."

"And . . . ?"

"It's a secret."

Criminy, what the hell's going on in that school that's top secret? What sort of diabolical programming is being perpetrated upon these young skulls full of mush? What is going on behind the closed doors of academe? Just where do the hallowed halls of education now lead?

Is there some sort of Stepford-thing happening? Are they brainwashing all the children, so they will all act and talk the same way? Will they soon all have blond hair and blue eyes? Do they have a secret society handshake?

I can just picture it now . . .

"Children of the corn, we musn't upset the parental units with the true mission of your kindergarten field assignments. Remember, it is okay to love your parents, but never trust them with the knowledge we, your leaders, will share with you.

"Should they ask you questions, tell them all is 'good.' If they continually badger you, tell them about finger-painting or gym class. This information must not get out, it is a secret! They'll find out in due course, but not until it is time!

"Now class, please turn to page 327 of your text, to the chapter entitled, Three Rs and an A: Reading, Riting, Rithmetic and Anarchy. Shamus, please read the paragraph that starts with, 'No justice, no peace.'"

I'm just a lowly scribe with no way to stop this damnable plot. So, I say, "Parents everywhere, unite!"

This may be the last chance we have to turn the tide of revolution our way. When your kids ask you something, tell 'em "it's a secret." We tried that with Mr. SmartyPants, and Shamus was visibly shaken that one of the inferiors (parents) could turn the table on him so quickly and thus a quid pro quo was started.

Reports from Clarkston Police, Oakland County Sheriff Deputies and Independence Township Fire Department

Unlocked booty

Someone took a GPS from a vehicle parked in the 10000 block of Durham Road, Sept. 8. The vehicle owner said its autolock wasn't working right, leaving one door unlocked.

A laptop computer and MP3 player was taken from a vehicle parked in the 7000 block of Dubuque Street, Sept. 22. There were no signs of forced entry.

Someone took a GPS from an unlocked pickup, Sept. 22, in the 5000 block of Greenview Drive.

Making right decisions

A 22-year-old Waterford Township man was dropping off his 2-year-old son with the child's mother, a 23-year-old Independence Township woman, when he saw she was intoxicated, 12:19 a.m., Sept. 13. She ordered him out of her Briarwood Court home, so he called police for help. The deputy explained that if there was an emergency, the boy needed someone able to drive and make important decisions, and she agreed to let the boy go with his father.

Not so good Samaritans

A Waterford Township man dropped his wallet while shopping in Independence Township, Sept. 14. Someone found it, and used his debit card to buy $127 in items from three convenience stores.

Someone picked up a credit card dropped by a Brandon Township woman at a Sashabaw Road store, Sept. 17, and used it to buy $102 in items from a Dixie Highway shop, and a dollar in gas from a Waterford service station.

Driver under influence

An 18-year-old Clarkston driver rounded a curve in the wrong lane on Crimson King Circle near Gardenia Avenue and hit another car, 8 a.m., Sept. 22. With slurred speech, he said he wasn't drinking but was on medication, and he was just driving along when the other driver hit him. Emptying his pockets for police, he dropped a large glass pipe. He refused a blood test for drugs, so deputies got a warrant. He was arrested for driving under the influence of drugs.

Don't forget the key

A purse, cell phone, and ignition key was taken from an unlocked SUV parked at a Dixie Highway restaurant, 2:18 a.m., Sept. 18. The vehicle owner said he left the key in the vehicle but took the key fob inside. He later found the vehicle key and purse, missing an ATM card and some other keys, sitting in a nearby parking lot under a light.

Close call

A 21-year-old Hazel Park man needed CPR from the homeowner and firefighters after a drug overdose, 12:59 a.m., Sept. 22, in the 5000 block of Timber Ridge Trail. Deputies found a syringe hanging from the man's pocket and a bent, burnt spoon on the coffee table, and issued him a misdemeanor ticket for drug paraphernalia.

Tatu faces home invasion charge

Michael Tatu of Independence Township, 23, was arraigned on charges of second-degree home invasion in connection with a Sept. 17 break-in in the 6000 block of Church Street in Clarkston.

Deputies from Independence Township Substation were dispatched to the 6000 block of Church Street, 4:25 p.m., Friday, Sept. 17.

Neighbors watched as Tatu rode a bicycle back and forth in front of the residence. They continued to watch as he approached the front of the house and began knocking on the front door and windows. When no one responded, he walked around to the rear of the residence, walking his bicycle with him, and witnesses called police.

Neighbors provided information on the suspect's location to the first responding deputy, who, gun drawn, entered the home, found the suspect, and held him at gunpoint as other deputies arrived.

The homeowner, who was away but summoned neighbors, arrived and identified some of her jewelry the suspect had placed in a bag.

Tatu also had hand tools used to force open the rear door, rubber gloves, and a "heroin kit," with spoon, syringes, and four pills.

Tatu was charged with one count of second degree home invasion, a felony punishable by up to 15 years in prison and $3,000 fine. Drug charges are pending lab testing.

He was arraigned, Sept. 18, in 52-2 District Court, bond set at $25,000. He remains in Oakland County Jail pending preliminary exam.

His record includes two convictions for forgery and larceny of auto parts, both in Oakland County.

Wolves down Pontiac in OAA Red action

BY WENDIREARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

One-by-one the Gridiron gang stepped out of the locker room and into the brisk fall air.

A few smiled and exclaimed, "now this is football weather," as they made their way to practice on Monday.

The Clarkston Boys Varsity Football team had spent the weekend celebrating their win on Friday night in Pontiac, 20-7.

Now it was time to get back to work and get ready for week six in the season.

Reflecting back on the win, long-time Wolves Head Coach Kurt Richardson remembered the plays helping the team and elements that hurt the game.

"Defensively we played pretty well," he said. "Except for one series. We have to eliminate that one series that keeps costing us that one touchdown."

The touchdown happened eight minutes into the second half on a 3-yard run by Pontiac's Anthony Adams.

"We didn't tackle good on the series," said Richardson.

Offensively Clarkston scored on two touchdowns and two field goals during the game.

"We weren't sufficient enough in the red zone," said Richardson. "We are making strides in some areas but we have to make bigger strides in other areas."

Evan Montgomery stretches for more yards. Photos by Larry Wright

But he saw a lot of good things happening out on the field including moments leading to scoring opportunities.

"We created some turnovers," he added. "We had a couple of interceptions, fumble recoveries and we hung onto the ball very well. We aren't turning the ball over ourselves."

An interception made by Zach Collins in the second quarter started the Wolves drive for their first touchdown.

A pass to Chris Canada in the endzone from quarterback Nick Demattia put Clarkston at 10-0 with 19.6 seconds left in the first half.

"Collins had a great game," said Richardson. "Canada had a good game on both sides of the ball."

Another touchdown pass from Demattia to Joey Goss put the boys at 17-0 in the third quarter.

Alex Barta finished the night with a 30-yard field goal with 9:19 left in the game.

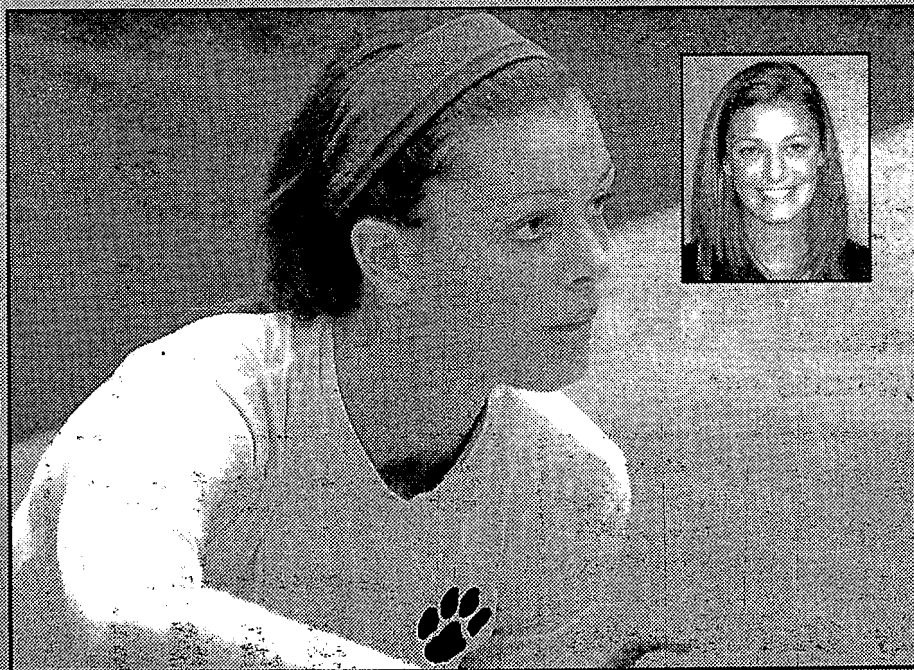

The Wolves host Rochester (4-1, 3-1 OAA Red) on Friday night.

"They are a good football team," said Richardson. "We have to play better than we have. They are going to come in here on a roll. They believe in themselves. They are going to be sky high for us."

Kick-off is at 6:55 p.m.

The freshman and JV teams also triumphed over their Phoenix foes.

The freshman team scored 42 points during their second home game and defense kept Pontiac to six points. The JV team won 41-28, adding their fifth win to their undefeated record. Both teams travel to Rochester on Thursday night.

Athlete of the Week

Reis rising above net

BY WENDIREARDON

Clarkston News Sports Writer

Senior Allison Reis struck her arm out and hit the volleyball back over the net during the second match Thursday night.

It sailed past North Farmington players and was unreturned to Clarkston, giving them another point. Another hit from Reis put the girls added a point to the board. The girls finished the night with a OAA league win.

Reis has added more height to the team, not just her 5'9" height, but with skills she has perfected since she started playing volleyball in seventh grade.

"She has put her heart and soul into the program," said Coach Kelly Avenall. "She has been steady for us. She doesn't make a lot of errors. For our two tournaments (in Grand Blanc and in Flushing), she had outstanding days."

Reis has found the perfect balance of volleyball and school during her four years of the Clarkston Varsity Volleyball team.

"It's always important to me to work hard and play hard," she said.

Reis has verbally committed to Niagara University, a Division I college in Lewiston, New York. It stood out because of the area and other important factors.

"They are really focused on academics," she said. "The team is really close and small. The coach is nice."

Reis plays volleyball all year and is on the Legacy travel team.

She currently holds a 3.9 grade point average in her first trimester. Her schedule is a mix of media, business and math classes.

"I always have math classes," she said. "It's one of my strong subjects. I am in AP Stats right now. It's my life - school and volleyball."

Her advice to aspiring athletes is to work hard and keep a positive attitude.

"You can't be hard on yourself because it definitely won't help," she added.

Her parents are Kevin and Lynn.

Tournament champs a hit

BY WENDIREARDON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Kramer Kamp and J.P. Budzinski dominated the Van Dyke Invitational for the second consecutive year - winning first place in their flights.

As a whole the Clarkston Boys Varsity Tennis team took over the annual tournament on Saturday, scoring 21 points and winning the tournament.

"They did really well," said Coach Chaz Claus. "It was really a team effort. We won by two points. In this tournament you get an extra point for winning your matches."

Also, taking first place was Doubles #4, Nico Nowik and Alex Richards.

"They had a really nice day," said Claus. Jordan Kincaid and Kevin Wieryszko finished in second place for Doubles #2 and Garrett Smigelski and Dominic Spadoni finished in third place.

"Everyone won two matches for the day. There were flights when we had a couple of tough losses," said Claus.

Andy Heuerman finished in fourth place. Matt Dahl took fifth and Doubles #2, Troy Hughes and Jake Zuzelski took fifth.

Anchor Bay finished in second place with 19 points and host Romeo finished with 17 points.

"We needed every win we got," said Claus. "A lot of last round players knew the team championship was on the line and they played well under pressure."

The boys took down two OAA foes Rochester and Lake Orion last week. Both with 6-2 scores.

"Rochester was very comparable to us. On paper it could have gone either way," said Claus. "Each flight almost everybody had better second sets than first sets. That win I was the most happiest about."

For singles, Heuerman won 6-4, 6-0; Dahl 1-6, 6-0, 6-4; Kamp 6-2, 6-3; and Budzinski 6-1, 6-1.

For the doubles, Kincaid and Wieryszko won 3-6, 6-0, 6-3; Hughes and Patrick Bemis lost 6-3, 6-4. 3. Smigelski and Spadoni won 7-6 (7-5), 6-2; and Nowik and Richards lost 6-2, 1-6, 7-5.

"Lake Orion is always tough," said Claus. "It was good to get another victory. It wasn't the prettiest match but it was a win."

Heuerman won his singles match 7-6 (7-2), 6-4; Dahl won 6-1, 6-2; Kamp lost 6-2, 6-0; and Budzinski won 6-1, 5-7, 6-3.

For doubles, Kincaid and Wieryszko won 2-6, 5-7, 6-3; Hughes and Zuzelski won 6-1, 6-1; Smigelski and Spadoni won 7-6 (7-4), 6-0; and Nowik and Richards lost 7-5, 6-7, 6-4.

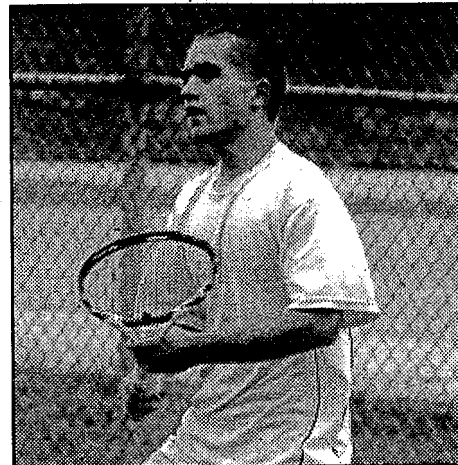

The boys lost to Rochester Adams on Wednesday, 8-0.

The weekend ended with an a 4-5 overall record for the team and 3-3 in the OAA.

The teams plays in a league tournament on Thursday at Rochester.

"We are going into the tournament to improve our standing there and beat those who beat us earlier in the year," said Claus.

They host Berkley on Monday at 4:30 p.m.

Troy Hughes practices.

Spikers lead the league, 3-0

BY WENDIREARDON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Point by point the Lady Wolves fought back in their last set against North Farmington.

They started the match three points behind the visiting team last Thursday and slowly eased their way back up until they tied at ten points.

Both teams stayed close in point until the very end and Clarkston won the last match, 25-23. They won the game 3-0 after winning the first two sets, 25-21 and 25-17.

"It is a big win for us," said Girls Varsity Volleyball Coach Kelly Avenall. "I am happy we won."

The win put the Wolves 3-0 in the OAA Red. The girls sailed through their first set against the Lady Raiders and kept their opposition to 21 points.

The next match the girls started behind points and found themselves at 2-7. They quickly moved up on the scoreboard to win, 25-17.

"It's good we can fight back," said Avenall.

In the last two matches the girls confidence helped them to come out on top, Avenall added.

"They feel like they can, which is also something we are struggling with right now. Sometimes they are too confident."

The girls didn't show off all of the talent they had against North Farmington and their game on Sept. 21 against Farmington.

"We are getting into a low," said Avenall. "We aren't as playing as hard as I would like us to play. We are taking some opponents too lackadaisical."

Senior Allison Reis agreed.

"We definitely played down a lot," she added. "But we have to get out of it. A win is a win. We definitely have to step it up and play better."

The Lady Wolves beat Farmington, 3-0, ending the three sets 25-22, 25-19, 25-20.

"We have just been doing enough to win, but not playing the way they know they can play and I know we can play," said Avenall.

Haley Barker had three aces and 12 assists against Farmington. Jessica Frakes had 12 kills and Rachel Dickerson had four aces.

Barker also did well against North Farmington adding three aces and 14 assists to her stats. Stephanie Marani had six kills and six blocks and Frakes had six kills.

The girls played Troy on Tuesday and head to Lahser on Thursday.

"Going on the road is always tough," said Avenall. "Troy is young but they have a really good coach. Lahser is also young."

They play in the Marian Invite on Saturday before heading home to host a Quad on Oct. 5, 5:30 p.m.

The girls have an 19-1-1 overall record.

Focusing on the future

BY WENDIREARDON
Clarkston News Sports Writer

Kickers are looking forward to the beginning of October after last week's games in the OAA Red.

The ended the week with a lost to Rochester Adams on Thursday, 6-1.

"We struggled," said Boys Varsity Soccer Coach Chuck Lawhorn. "It was not a very good game for us."

Lawhorn drew the loss from the team's response from their game against Stoney Creek, on Sept. 21, when the boys played against their previous coach Adam Bican and tied, 2-2.

"We had a bit of a emotional and physical letdown after the Stoney Creek game," he added. "We weren't able to pick ourselves up enough to compete with Rochester Adams. They played a very good game."

The Clarkston goal came from the foot of Drew Hopper.

The boys effort against Stoney Creek was better on Tuesday and held a tough defense against their hosts.

"It was the effort I have been expecting to see all year," said Lawhorn. "Sometimes I see it, other times it has been absent."

Stoney Creek was the first one to score in the game, putting their goal in less than five minutes into the game.

The Wolves added their point to board ten minutes later from Alex Wilson, with an assist from teammate Jarrett Kersten.

With both sides working hard another opportunity didn't open until the end of the second half.

The Cougars scored putting themselves into the lead.

"We picked up in effort," said Lawhorn. "At that point we were playing 9 vs. 9 because each team had a player get red-carded. We really played hard."

The result of their effort came with four minutes left in the game.

Wilson passed the ball to Kersten, who put it into the net for the tie.

"We played a really competitive game," said Lawhorn.

Both games put Clarkston's overall record 4-5-3 and 0-4-1 in OAA Red.

The boys played Troy Athens on Tuesday and host Oxford on Thursday.

"We need to build some consistency and put that effort out on the field everytime we are out there," said Lawhorn.

The game against the Wildcats begins at 5:30 p.m. with the JV team, varsity follows.

NOHLC Stewardship volunteer, Rick Ostrowski, demonstrates how to strip bark on dead ash logs so they will last longer at the base of newly constructed wetland walkway at Kimball Sanctuary.

Volunteers Robyn Johnston and Rick Ostrowski Sr. secure some wood planks.

Blazing a new trail

Forty volunteers accomplished 90 percent of construction goals for North Oakland Headwaters Land Conservancy's Work Day, Sept. 18.

They built a rustic wetland path at Kimball Sanctuary in Independence Township, from the parking area to the Clinton River. As soon as all the wooden planks are secured, it will be ready for the public to use.

The project was part of a joint Albion College alumni-NOHLC work-day.

Carl G. Knaus leads a Tea Party event in Depot Park this past May. File photo

Crunch time for Tea Party

Carl G. Knaus' Saving America Movement returns to Depot Park one more time, for the Last Chance Tea Party, 3-5 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 2, Depot Park

"We're heading into socialism, which is a kind of communism – it's time to be united, and come together," said Knaus, who organized two Depot Park gatherings earlier this year. "Now we know the majority of people are on the side of returning to a free market system. I hope to inspire people to go to the polls and vote to get our government back." Knaus said he voted for President Barack Obama in 2008.

"I supported him when he told he would be open, honest, unite the country, rebuild the middle class, and be for small business – he hasn't done any of those things," he said. "He's done the opposite. He is a fraud. I'm angry as hell because he conned me."

Sharing culture with University of Michigan students

BY TREVOR KEISER

Clarkston News Staff Writer

Independence Township resident Jose Aliaga, was able to return to his native country of Peru this past summer to promote more "good will of America to the Peruvian people" through the Aliaga Foundation.

This time he brought three students from the University of Michigan Flint with him.

"The students came with me as volunteers, they believe in what we do and wanted to help out," Aliaga said. "We had a lot of help from Richard Aztalos a board member of Aliaga Foundation, who helped us greatly in setting up the trip."

Two of the students Lea Christensen, and Hilary Walker are studying to be Spanish teachers, so the trip gave them opportunity to practice the language. Tobias Lerke is studying to be a microbiologist.

"At some of the schools we visited they got to teach both English and Spanish to the kids," Aliaga said. "Tobias got to speak at one of the universities we visited."

Aliaga said they visited three universities: the Universidad Nacional Enrique Guzman y Valle, Universidad Nacional de Centro, and Universidad Continental de Huancayo. All of which signed agreements between them and American universities including Wayne State University, and Schoolcraft College.

"Universidad Nacional de Centro where they sign agreement with Wayne State was really impressive university, but also they make a nice ceremony for us, Aliaga said. "They let us sing the U.S. National Anthem and present our flag. It was really formal."

The agreements signed between the schools, not only help Peruvian students come to America to study, but also send American students to Peru's universities. Aliaga said the tuition at one school is $40 per month and another is $20 the whole semester.

"So if you go there to take Spanish, you get food for free, house for free and pay $20 for the whole semester and you get experience to practice the language everyday as well as experience the culture," he said. "You come back to America and you have a big savings and your Spanish is probably much better."

While visiting some of the local schools Aliaga along with the students passed out notebooks, pencils and t-shirts to the kids. Some schools only have one pencil for the entire class to use. Aliaga said "education is the key to have a better economy in the future."

"Maybe Peru or the world is missing a great doctor, a great scientist or a great professor, somebody who could change the world, but we're missing them because we didn't give them opportunity to reach it," he said. "When you visit these places you can see it in their eyes. They see its American people that are giving them opportunity."

Aliaga and the students also visited many of the poor villages that were out in the Jungles

"Some of the places were like five hours and no roads to get there," he said. "Just to see what's going on and what we can do for them."

Aliaga said they were able to provide fresh drinking water and promote taking care of the environment and with large barrels for various contaminated trash.

He said they even came across an all German Village, where the kids had blonde hair, and spoke both German and Spanish.

"I was really surprised to see in the jungle of Peru a German village," Aliaga said. "They keep their culture and traditions by style of clothing and homes."

Over all Aliaga said it was a good trip, but he hopes next year to spread what the Aliaga Foundation is doing to other countries such as Bolivia, Ecuador, Argentina, and some day maybe Mexico.

"We want to help bridge not only between schools, but bridge between two cultures."

Chamberlain's: Sell your unwanted jewelry and make a profit!

One thing Ron & Gwen Chamberlain, owners of Chamberlain's Auction Gallery would like to stress is not to be fooled by gimmicky ads or commercials by other gold-buying stores.

Chamberlain's is an honest family-owned business and the owners have lived in the Clarkston area all their lives. They have been in the art, jewelry and antique business for 30 years. They will pay top dollar for your unwanted gold and silver jewelry and you can be confident that you are getting paid what you should! Chamberlain's will test and weigh your gold right in front of you and pay you cash on the spot. NO GIMMICKS!!!

Chamberlain's will buy your bracelets, rings, necklaces, earrings, watches, gold and silver coins and bars - even your sterling tea sets and flatware sets. They will buy anything made of gold, silver or platinum even your dental gold.

Chamberlain noted that many people bought gold jewelry in the 1980's and 1990's when gold was only

Ron and Gwen Chamberlain of Chamberlain's with Kodi.

$400 an ounce. Now that the country is in a recession, the price of gold has skyrocketed and is fluctuating around $1,100 - $1,250 an ounce, the highest in history. It is a perfect time to sell your unwanted jewelry to make a profit!

Chamberlain charges nothing to tell you whether your jewelry is real or fake and what he would pay for it. The price paid varies on the gold market, but for the past year, gold prices have been consistently at a very high level. When the economy improves, the price of gold will drop, so now is the time to sell.

Chamberlain can't stress enough to take your jewelry to an honest and established business. If other gold brokers are offering 25 or 30 percent extra on certain days, they should have been paying that in the first place.

Chamberlain's is located at 6429 Sashabaw Road (next to the Hamlin Pub) in Clarkston. Chamberlain's is open from 10 a.m.-7 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday. For more information call (248) 241-6588.

Fine tuning details for New Year's Day

BY WENDI REARDON
Clarkston News Staff Writer

The corner of Washington and Main Street was filled with the sweet sounds of Clarkston High School Marching Band, Sunday afternoon.

From The Clarkston News parking lot, they played for patrons walking by during the annual Taste of Clarkston.

Besides spreading around music and fun they were spreading the word — they were raising money, $2,800 each, to go to England.

The marching band was visited by Roger Bramble, deputy Lieutenant of London, the queen's representative, in September 2009 and invited to play in the 25th Anniversary New Year's Day Parade in London.

The days have gone by quickly and now they are counting down the days - less than three months to go.

Marching band counts days until London parade

Junior Stephanie Marani had the count down to 99 days on Sept. 20.

"It happened to be that day," she said.

Now the band is heading into the high 80s and getting travel details finalized.

"They have a general idea," said Michael Lewis, Clarkston High School Band Director. "Now they are waiting for the specifics. I am sure they have been doing some checking online the places we are going to go see so they have an idea when before they get there."

For Marani and senior Zack Snyder, they are looking forward to the experience of traveling to another country and experiencing it with friends.

"I am looking forward to everything," Marani said.

"We are going to go to quite a few different places," said Snyder.

Fifty-five marching band members leave Michigan on Dec. 27 and land in England on Dec. 28. During their stay they will visit Canterbury, the Windsor Castle and take in a musical.

They perform in the parade, seen by half a million people on the street, as they walk from Piccadilly to the Palace of Westminster, the House of Parliament. Over 250 million people will watch the parade on television.

The band has not selected the music they will play for the special occasion.

"It will have a tie in with the people there watching the parade," said Lewis. "Something with a connection between the United States and Great Britain so they all recognize it and we are familiar with it."

The band will begin practice for it in October and add more practices more into November and December.

While the band members dream about visiting England, they are also thinking about the cost.

Friends, family and local businesses have shared the excitement by helping the band by donating money or lending a hand.

"The community support has been great, outstanding," said Lewis. "It has been better than I hope."

The Clarkston Schools Instrumental Music Association has held fundraisers and many have come to him for ideas on how the band can raise more money.

"It has been great The Clarkston News came up with an idea," said Lewis. "Other outside groups coming to us saying we would like to help. It has been a really big help to the kids."

And what is The Clarkston News & Penny

Stretcher doing to help with the costs? Working on a full-color section featuring our Clarkston High School Marching Band.

All the proceeds from advertising sales are split with the band, 50-50.

The section will feature a single sponsor for each member of the band making the trip. The cost for sponsorship is $600. The sponsorship will be adjacent to a photo of the student.

"The band needs to send their final payment for this by mid-October," Assistant Publisher Don Rush said. "To make this happen, we will accept half payments now and bill the remaining $300 at the end of October. The first payment will go to the program."

The section will be posted on-line and each sponsor will also be recognized individually with a photo and writeup throughout the year in the CNews.

To make sure your business is represented -- the sections will be mailed to all addresses serviced by the Clarkston and Davisburg post offices. Call the Clarkston News at 248-625-3370 to talk to a sales representative for more details.

"I am really excited," said Snyder. "It is going to be really cool to be in the New Year's Day parade."

Matthew and Melissa

A love stronger than cancer

Melissa Coppersmith, 23, and her fiancé Matthew LaFave, 30, both of Clarkston, vowed their love to each other before family and friends, Sept. 7.

The Celebration of Love at the courtyard of Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Center in Farmington Hills, followed by a reception complete with food and a wedding cake. Coppersmith wore a white flowing gown that seemed made to order. Her bouquet was of purple calla lilies, fitting for this elegant bride.

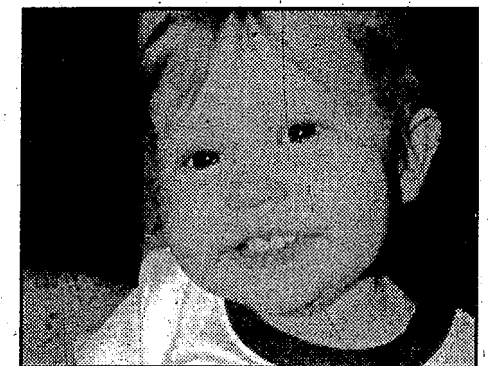

Coppersmith was 19 years old when she had surgery to treat stage four kidney cancer. She had just started dating LaFave the year before. They met through mutual friends and hit it off immediately. Matt has been with Melissa through every step of her journey.

Following initial surgery in 2006, Coppersmith received treatment at Karmanos Cancer Center. LaFave is a big source of strength for Coppersmith and has been for the past five years.

"He has been spectacular. He is my rock and my stabilizer," she said. "He's never wavered; he's stuck with me through thick and thin. I couldn't ask for a more caring and loving person to share my life with."

"Melissa has shown her strength from the beginning," said LaFave. "I want to thank Melissa for loving me, teaching me to be a better person, and for being my hero. I feel that fate brought us together and we were predetermined to spend our lives together."

Religion

Keep in mind spiritual foundation when voting

In about five weeks, we will be holding our mid-term elections for federal office; we will also be electing our main term choices for statewide offices.

It is expected to be a time when the incumbents will fare badly because the electorate is so frustrated with the affairs of our country.

Although the incumbents are going to be the targets of most of the frustration, the polls actually indicate that most people are not too excited about their replacements.

Congressional approval ratings are at historic levels of disapproval, however, those alternatives are not popular either.

I believe this indicates the fact that the general population knows full well that we are on the wrong track, but unfortunately we have been on the wrong track for so long that looking back does not provide much encouragement for the future.

Many of the difficulties that we face today are the result of choices we made a long time ago—those choices will not be easily reversed.

The Bible tells us that if we want to understand the invisible God, we should look at the visible things because they demonstrate the attributes of the Creator.

One very good example of this is the concept of seedtime and harvest. In the book of Genesis, it says that the seedtime and harvest cycle will last as long as the earth remains.

This principle is obviously true; when you sow a seed and give it the proper care, in time, it will grow and produce fruit.

Oftentimes, the choices in life are seed planting choices because they set the stage for future results.

In our country, we planted and nourished many seeds, or choices, without consideration of the long-term impact of those choices.

As a society, we were encouraged by our contemporary influences to think about our temporary satisfaction; hence society became the fertile soil for our national choices.

Many government programs were started without thinking about the long-term costs, as were many business and labor agreements. We have experienced the failing of many of our businesses and without dramatic changes our government will follow closely behind.

The greater issue is not what specific agenda we will follow, but what character motivations will we follow.

In order to reverse the seeds of the past, a spiritual renewal must take place to form the basis for the changes that we need.

If we do not have spiritual change, our choices will not have the fertile soil that will allow them to grow to the point of producing the long-term changes that we need.

As the election draws closer, I certainly have specific policies that I would like to see instituted, so I have chosen candidates who I will vote for.

However, as a pastor and Christian, I also realize that I have an even more important role.

That role is to bring about a change in people, and in the greater society, that can only take place with God's help.

It is great that so many Christians are becoming actively involved in politics.

As Christian Americans, our stewardship from God means that we should vote and be in the public square, but we must also be very committed to an even more important role in the transforming of our society—spiritual renewal.

Finally, we must understand that the building blocks of a society are the families and individuals who comprise its individual parts.

We must make our own individual choices that will enhance our future, and also lay the proper spiritual foundation that will give the seed fertile soil to grow in. If your choices are seeds, are you considering how powerful those choices are? Are you taking your future seriously?

Answering these questions has truly become the most important issue for today.

The Rev. Loren Covarrubias is pastor of Mt. Zion Church.

Stouts bring justice to Clarkston

BY WENDI REARDON
Clarkston News Staff Writer

Brad Stout knew since he was a little boy he wanted to be a professional baseball player or an attorney.

He figured out early baseball wasn't going to work out and was happy to follow in his father's footsteps and practice law.

Stout studied Pre Law at Michigan State University and went to Law School at Wayne State University, where he received his Juris Doctor Degree in 1987 and got his license to practice law the same year.

After working in Bloomfield Hills for 22 years as a general practice attorney, he decided it was time to move the business into Clarkston where he opened Brad Stout Law, off of Citation Drive.

"My wife, Heidi, and I lived here since Spring 2002," he said. "Clarkston is a great place to raise a family. We are looking forward to being part of the business community."

He wanted to be closer to home and his clients have also moved into the area.

"The drive is five minutes opposed to 35, which is very nice," Brad said. "I have the advantage to go home for lunch and come in during the weekends easily."

His primary areas of practice are family law, business litigation, criminal defense, personal injury and probate estate litigation and administration.

"I do anything someone might have to go to court for," he said. "I do a lot of family law and criminal defense work like misdemeanors and felonies in the Clarkston's district court."

Heidi works as his legal assistant and has her business in the same office, Heidi Stout and Associates.

She is a licensed court reporter and handles depositions for attorneys.

For more information or to schedule a free consultation, call 248-620-2233 or visit www.bradstoutlaw.com

His office is located at 6401 Citation Drive, Suite C, off of M-15 in Independence Twp.

The Rule of 72

"How long will it take my investment to double?" This is a common question many may have concerning their investments and think a calculator is needed to provide an answer. But a calculator may not be needed, at all.

The tool to use is called the Rule of 72 and, best of all; it is simple and free. This is how it works. If an individual has an investment they think will grow at an assumed rate of return per year, then simply dividing that rate of return into 72 will provide a rough estimate of the number of years it will take for the investment to double in size.

For example, let's assume an investment is assumed to grow at an average rate of return of six percent each year. Simply divide six into 72 will give a rough estimate that it will take 12 years for this investment to double ($72 / 6 = 12$). This formula assumes a fixed annual rate of return and the reinvestment of all earnings. Keep in mind that very few investments offer a guaranteed rate of return and that an investment's past performance does not guarantee future performance.

The rule of 72 may also be used to show the negative power of inflation. This may be an especially handy tool to those individuals in their retirement's years and, also, for those approaching the retirement decision. Using this tool an individual can estimate the number of years it will take for his or her cost of living to double. Or put another way, how long before an individual's purchasing power is cut in half.

For example, let's assume an individual is retired and forecasts an inflation rate of five percent per year. An inflation rate, in general terms, is the rate of increase in the prices of goods and services individuals purchase over time. Forecasting an inflation rate of five percent means the individual is assuming the prices of the goods and services he or she will purchase in the future will increase at a rate of five percent per year. Using the rule of 72, simply dividing five into 72 will provide a rough estimate that the individual's cost of living will double in 14 to 15 years ($72 / 5 = 14.4$).

Getting to know you

Barbara Rollin, Independence Township's new senior center coordinator, got acquainted with local residents at an Open House, Sept. 22.

"The folks I have met so far have been very friendly and open with me," Rollin said. "All of them would like to see the center move forward and several of them are planning on coming more often."

She worked as senior center director in Highland Township for 10 years, and was hired by the Independence Township Board, Aug. 25.

"I am impressed with our staff who work really well with the seniors," she said. "Mary Melega is our programmer and she has developed a great program with classes and senior sports on and off site."

Goals include morning socializing and other programs for seniors, she said.

"We do have a great turn out for our gourmet lunches on Thursdays," she said. "Right now I am looking at the programs we offer and see where changes or enhancements need to be made. Our Senior Advisory and Friends group have been very supportive and I am looking forward to working them more."

Too much rage?

Are we ignoring politeness, kindness, patience and courtesy to thoughtless rage behavior?

In previous communication I have addressed "respect and responsibility" critical components of human evolution.

Rage must be like temporary insanity, when done too often it could become a habit. In the process of taking power from another, the sanity of self-awareness is compromised. To access self-responsibility with self-truth leads individuals free to choose sanity.

Guest viewpoint

Maria Rotondo-Mark

I continue to probe what continues to afflict human beings with our current state of economic confusion. Hardships could be medicine to lead us toward balanced co-existence. We speak of recovery, we speak of a turnaround economy; what does this mean? Do we simply cover up what was intentionally intended to harm the livelihood of others; to more complex solutions that may breed new greed for later clean-up?

Is rage a green light to grow fear to those who are fed up with being polite, kind, patient or courteous to name a few? Has anyone questioned the long term affect of such conduct? The next question could be, is rage more powerful than courage or faith? Rage definitely seems to get immediate re-action; yet, does it have long term effectiveness or feasibility contributing to harmonious existence?

The best possible outcome from bringing these awakening thoughts to you is to bring hope for a more commonality connection. If rage is a separator, then politeness could be a connector; respect could be a green light to continue on the journey toward productive, respectful, bountiful planet for all to build upon.

An all-time role model comes to mind: "Jesus Christ". How did He respond to rage in his time? Did He take rage seriously? Did He use rage as a defense? Was He rage immune? We can go on and on with examples of His teachings.

This reminder definitely puts choice into the equation, versus reaction to harm another.

To ignore courtesy, kindness, politeness or patience toward self and others, is to prevail with ignorance. Education cannot be a curse; it is definitely the conductor toward peaceful co-existence when lessons are realized.

With faith and courage I continue to make individual choices for the good of self and the common good of my fellow humans and all life as we know it.

How To Get Rid Of Knee Pain Once And For All... Without Drugs, Shots, or Surgery

Now, in Lake Orion, MI, one doctor is helping local residents with knee pain live more active, pain-free lives.

Living with knee pain can feel like a crippling experience.

Let's face it, your knees aren't as young as you used to be, and playing with the kids or grandkids isn't any easier either. Maybe your knee pain keeps you from walking short distances or playing golf like you used to.

Nothing's worse than feeling great mentally, but physically feeling held back from life because your knee hurts and the pain just won't go away!

My name is Dr. Frank Iulianelli, D.C., owner of Innate Specific Chiropractic. Since we opened sixteen years ago, I've seen hundreds of people with knee problems leave the office pain free.

It Promotes Rapid Healing Of The Injured Tissues.

Before the FDA would clear the Class IV laser for human use, they wanted to see proof that it worked. This led to two landmark studies.

The first study showed that patients who had laser therapy had 53% better improvement than those who had a placebo. The second study showed patients who used the laser therapy had less pain and more range of motion days after treatment. If the Class IV Laser can help these patients, it can help you too.

Could This Non-Invasive, Natural Treatment Be The Answer To Your Knee Pain?

For 10 days only, I'm running a very special offer where you can find out if you are a candidate for cold laser therapy.

What does this offer include? Everything I normally do in my "Knee Pain Evaluation". Just call before September 27, 2010 and here's what you'll get...

An in-depth consultation about your problem where I will listen...really listen...to the details of your case.

A complete neuromuscular examination.

A thorough analysis of your exam and any previous MRI or X-Ray findings so we can start mapping out your plan to being pain free.

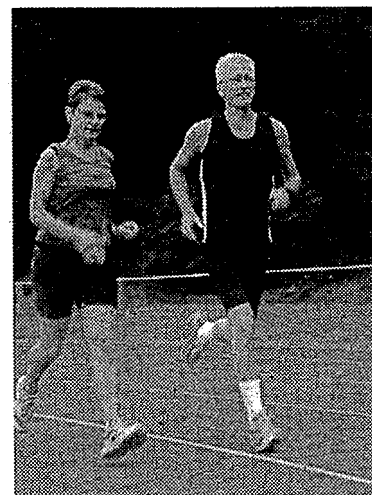

You'll see everything first hand and find out if this amazing treatment will be your pain solution, like it has been for so many other patients.

Until September 27, 2010 you can get everything I've listed here for only $37. The normal price for this type of evaluation is $200, so you're saving a considerable amount by taking me up on this offer.

Remember what it was like before you had knee problems. When you were pain free and could enjoy everything life had to offer. It can be that way again. Don't neglect your problem any longer - don't wait until it's too late.

Here's what to do now:

Due to the expected demand for this special offer, I urge you to call our office at once. The phone number is 248-393-1211.

A new treatment is helping patients with knee pain live a happier, more active lifestyle.

Call today and we can get started with your consultation, and exam as soon as there's an opening in the schedule. Our office is called Innate Specific Chiropractic and you can find us on Lapeer Rd (M24) across from the Home Depot. Tell the receptionist you'd like to come in for the Knee Evaluation before September 27, 2010.

Sincerely,

Dr. Frank Iulianelli, D.C.

P.S. Now you might be wondering...

"Is this safe? Are there any side effects or dangers to this?"

The FDA cleared the first Class IV Laser in 2002. This was after their study found 76% improvement in patients with severe pain.

Their only warning - don't shine it in your eyes.

Of course at our office, the laser is never anywhere near your eyes and we'll give you a comfortable pair of goggles for safety.

Don't wait and let your knee problems get worse, disabling you for life. Take me up on my offer and call today 248-393-1211.

Do You Have Any of the Following Conditions?

- Arthritis
- Knee pain
- Cartilage damage
- 'Bone-on-bone'
- Tendonitis
- Bursitis
- Crunching and popping sounds

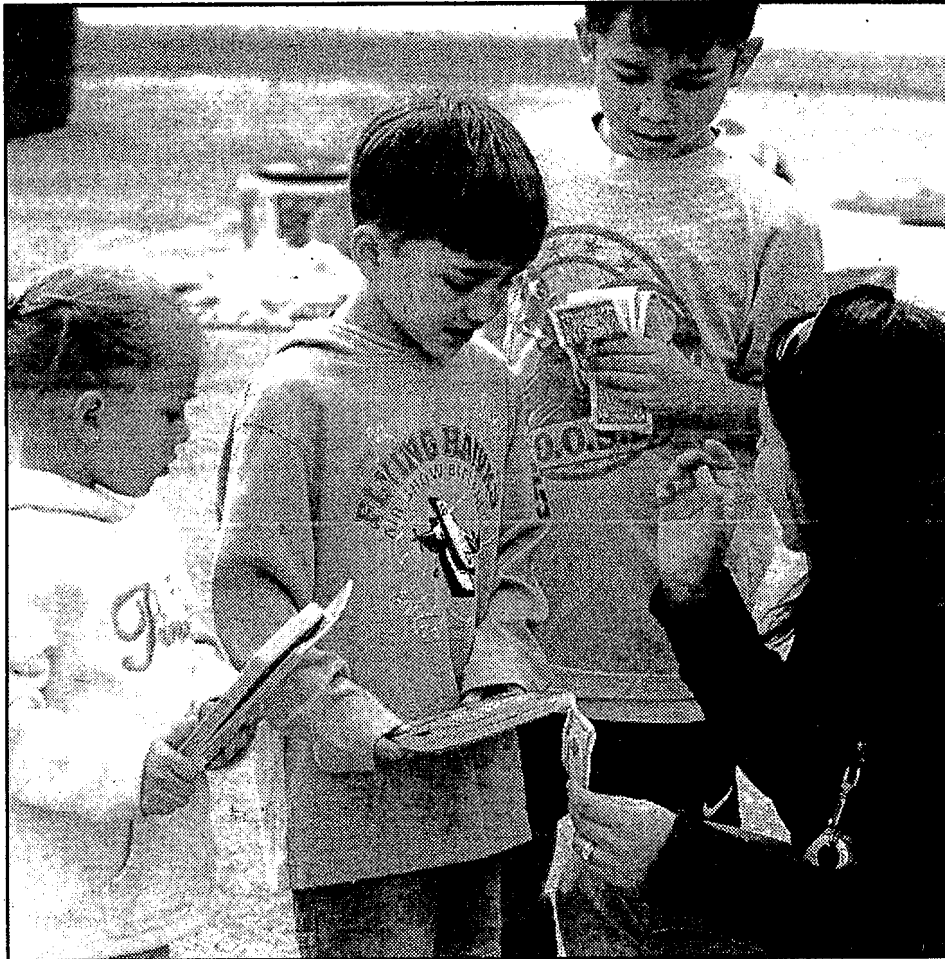

If you're suffering from these conditions, a new breakthrough in medical technology may completely eliminate your pain and help restore normal function to your knees.

Finally, You Have An Option Other Than Drugs or Surgery

New research in a treatment called Class IV Laser Therapy is having a profound effect on patients suffering with knee pain. Unlike the cutting type of laser seen in movies and used in medical procedures, the Class IV therapeutic laser penetrates the surface of the skin with no heating effect or damage.

Laser Therapy has been tested for 40 years, had over 2000 papers published on it, and been shown to aid in damaged tissue regeneration, decrease inflammation, relieve pain and boost the immune system. This means that there is a good chance laser therapy could be your knee pain solution, allowing you to live a more active lifestyle.

Professional athletes like Lance Armstrong and team members of the New England Patriots and New York Yankees rely upon laser therapy to treat their sports-related injuries. These guys use the laser for one reason only...
